Objection to marina withdrawn clearing way to proceed

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

Iroquois Council dealt with a light agenda at an earlier than usual regular meeting February 3. The scheduled date coincides with the ROMA Convention in Toronto (Rural Ontario Municipalities Association) and most of the elected body plan to enrich themselves by attending.

Mr. George Jackson withdrew his objection to the proposed Marina in Matilda Township. He also revoked his request to refer the matter to the Ontario Municipal Board. These being the only concerns to be dealt with and their being resolved: the O.M.B. will not need to sit on this and the Ministry of Municipal Affairs recommends approval of the amendment to proceed. This should clear the way for the proposed Marina along the old canal south of the boat houses and running west to the Carman Road as it runs up to the Seaway Locks Lookout.

A letter from St. Mary's, St. Cecilia's Catholic Women's League was read requesting lapel pins advertising Iroquois to be distributed at their 1987 Diocesian Convention to be hosted in the area later this year. Council believed the price of 225 pins to be prohibitive but will provide buttons to the ladies.

Minister of Municipal Affairs, the Honourable Bernard Grandmaitre reminded Council of Local Government Week coming up in April. Councillor Lorraine Fader suggested that the young people of the Village be involved. An election at local elementary schools (separate and public) to choose a reeve and four councillors will be initiated by Mrs. Fader.

Those students elected will sit in on a regular Council meeting, go over the agenda and ask questions in place of their adult counterparts. Reeve Rooney was most receptive to the idea of sharing his chair with two capable youngsters, as were other Council members. The schools should be receptive to the idea and it will provide a real learning experience.

Councillor Joyce Fader will begin work on an evening during the same week for an open house night for the general public to enjoy, circulating with and questioning their elected members could be most instructive to all. A "meet your Reeve and Council" night may well be welcomed in Iroquois.

Notification from the Ministry of the Attorney General advised Council that the By-law concerning the burning of grass, leaves or debris as prohibited would carry a $50.00 fine will be read by the Chief Judge and he'll send an order to enact it in due course.

The Golf Club executive have been asked to let Council know when they are to meet. The Directors of the Iroquois Golf Club Incorporated will meet on February 10. Council will notify them there will be no one able to attend.

Civic Centre Hall Rental Fees have been referred back to committee to decide on what options there are. Councillors Joan Savor and Joyce Fader will report at a later meeting.

Matilda Township has passed a By-law concerning the Jackson Drain. The Village is assessed in this drainage scheme and so passed a By-law of their own to correspond.

The Ministry of Transportation approved the re-location of Bouck Street as the Village requested thus making it eligible for subsidy.

Public Work Superintendent Ray Delegarde reported on work at the site of the new apartment complex north of the Post Office (former Texaco Service Station site).

He reiterated Councillor Lorraine Fader's pleasure at the usethe outdoor rink has been receiving. No problems have bee i encountered, upwards of 200 skaters on the ice on one day, last year's employees rehired and some re-decorating all add up to a successful season.

The next regular meeting of Iroquois Council is scheduled for Tuesday, February 24, at 7:00 p.m.

Morrisburg Council asked to shed light on businesses along Highway 2

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

Harland Veinotte presented Morrisburg Council with a petition signed by the merchants who own/operate business ventures along Highway 2. Acting as spokes-man for the group Mr. Veinotte (who himself owns a business on the north side of the highway) stressed the point that all other streets in the Village are properly lighted so the business properties on them are well lit. It is felt that these businesses pay enough taxes to warrant street lights to enhance and help protect their buildings. He emphasized the fact that Council should be proud of the growth in this area, it is better for everyone to see businesses established, "Instead of vacant lots you have a group of people willing to take a gamble." "I don't think it is too much for these people to ask for lighting," stated Harland.

All the business ventures plus the Seniors Apartment dwellers along this strip are interested in brightening up their properties. Because most entrances are on the north side Mr. Veinotte felt this the logical place to position the light standards. He made reference to the fact that there are existing at present from Paddy's Inn to Crowder's Monuments" and three other business have installed their own lights, Strader's Motors, Chan's Restaurant and Billy Dillabough (Morrisburg Motors).

Mr. Veinotte told Council that his previous experience was that underground wires, while more esthetically pleasing were not practical. He suggested to avoid sewer and frost breaks that the wires go overhead on the poles. He said that spacing of the poles about every 200 feet would be suitable to all concerned, necessistating eight or nine new poles.

Councillor Al Belanger inquired as to whether the onus for lighting a property was not on the owner. Mr. Veinotte countered with the fact that merchants in the Shopping Centre and along other Village streets have the advantage of lights and were not responsible for putting them up. "All we want along Highway 2 is the same afforded others in Morrisburg," stated Harland.

Council member Gerry Rosenquist wondered if this could or should be looked at as a local improvement and questioned whether it was up to Council to light up entrances?

Mr. Veinotte emphasized that the petitioners were concerned with lighting up the Highway.

Councillor Peter McCooeye felt this was a legitimate request from taxpayers and suggested council get an estimate on the project, see what the price tag looks like and go from there." Maybe it

Eh, What? I can't hear you Sonny!

Now you see him/now you don't! Jason Fisher, a Grade 8 student at Iroquois Public School gets a 'hands-on' experience at the live Theatre performance of 'Superfudge'. Once he had the mannerisms, it was time to don the mask and get into the character of Fudgie's grandma - and Jason certainly showed he has acting potential. The audience involvement is an added feature of these shows and well liked by all.

Heritage Week activites lacking

The week of February 16 to 22 has been declared to be Heritage Week in many communities, including Cardinal Village, but it may pass us by in Iroquois.

The week is intended to give us a chance to reflect upon the past, and also to give us an awareness of what the future may hold.

The observance of Heritage Day was first proposed to the Government of Canada by the Heritage Canada Foundation in 1973. The first celebrations - municipal declarations of the Day, local heritage events, and widespread publicity - occurred in 1974. Then, in 1975, the Prime Minister and the Governor General issued declarations of support for heritage conservation. Premiers of five provinces and the mayors of many cities across Canada did the same.

It is a chance for us to recognize the history of our Village, and the area. A reflection of our past will assist in the enrichment and development of our mutual understanding of our origins and the history of our area.

Theatre production at Iroquois Public School a great success

Last Friday the pupils at Iroquois Public School were amused and thoroughly entertained by "Larry" and "Kerry", two actors with the Erewhon Theatre of Canada, from Toronto.

The Theatre Company has been established for eleven or twelve years now. They have three small groups of two actors each who do three different shows. These tour the province doing classical children's stories to encourage youngsters to read and to enjoy what they read. Bringing to life characters met by the readers and doing so with few props and lots of energy encourages the boys and girls to see more live performances.

These young actors have been to Iroquois before and so have an established rapport with the higher grade levels.

The performance they gave this time was entitled "Superfudge". The majority of students have read this book and so could better appreciate the dramatization. It is the hilarious sequel to "Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing" and shows the Hatcher Family a few years later, with a new addition to the family. Judy Blume's immensely popular novel deals with growing up in the 1980's, using humour and sensitivity to point out the problems of modern family life.

The amazing thing is, all the characters in the story are played by the same two young actors.

The various age groups present (including teachers and parents) had a great time. The younger girls and boys wanted to help "Fudgie" and "Tootsie" when they felt it was warranted. Their teacher had a hard time convincing them that everything would turn out okay.

The world of theatre is a unique experience and many of our community do not get enough because it simply is not available locally. (Upper Canada Playhouse has made gigantic inroads here in the summer months). The local library presented one of these performances a while back, "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe". This classic fantasy - adventure dealt with the battle between good and evil, using mythological characters to make a clear statement about right and wrong.

Gigantic puppets and masks created a aura of magic and throughout the audience was able to participate whenever the children, the Witch or the Lion needed help.

The attentiveness of children and the way they followed the characters, anticipating every move showed how they truly were fascinated with the performance. If other parents re-lived the performance as we did at our house many times over the weekend, then they too know how well received it was.

The Theatre group has completed two stories on Video Tape; Alice in Wonderland and the Brer Rabbit stories. These video versions of live presentations are an entertaining educational tool to be used in creative drama classes. The techniques seen on the tape can be practised by the students.

As with the taped stories the live performances use realistic masks, costumes and natural

Hot lunch at Benson

Some students at Benson Public School received a lunch time treat Wednesday. Volunteers from the school committee have started selling hot dogs once a week for students to enjoy. Students are seen here lining up for their franks and, judging by their reactions, the hot lunch program should be a success.

Fund raiser for Dulmage family

It has been settled; the Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club will host a fund-raiser for the Ross Dulmage family who are suffering due to an automobile accident in Quebec a few weeks ago. It will be held Saturday March 7 at Matilda's Community Hall in Dixons Corners. (watch for advertisements, later).

Ross arrived home last Friday (February 6) and told us everyone is looking forward to being home in the near future. His wife, Nancy wears a neck collar at night to immobilize her neck so it can heal and no further damage can result. She is able to get up and walk with help and the use of a special brace affair.

Over at the Children's Hospital in Montreal wee Sarah (four years old) has been measured and is awaiting the completion of her brace so she can do someting more than lie flat on her back in bed. Ross says she does not complain too much now so her pain must be subsiding to some extent. Friday the thirteenth should be lucky for Sarah and her brace is to be fitted on her then. "She seems quite fine", states her dad, "Maybe just a bit lonesome!"

Mary has had her surgery rescheduled to Tuesday February 10. A steady stream of visitors, including her sister Martha and brother Matt, her hockey coach Ken MacDonald and members of the Huntingdon (Quebec) girl's hockey team as well as cards and phone calls are seemingly keeping spirits high. Going to the operating room with a positive attitude should help the situation.

Ross thanked us on behalf of his family and himself, for us to express to everyone who in any way have done anything to help in

South Mountain IOOF hold interesting meeting

The South Mountain Oddfellows meeting on February 3, 1987 proved to be quite interesting.

Visiting brothers from Cornwall and Osgoode were in attendance. The buying of an electric wheelchair for Miss Maggie Keech has been put in motion. The chair at a cost of $4,400.00 will be delivered in 4-6 weeks. A 50/50 Draw on May 6, 1987 will help to pay for the chair. Anyone wishing to donate towards the chair may do so by sending their donations to IOOF Lodge 428, South Mountain, c/o Gerald St. Pierre.

Other points of interest, a bowling party at South Mountain Lanes will be held on February 14th. All members of IOOF Lodge 428 and their families are invited. Two teams will represent the IOOF Lodge 428 at the curling bonspiel in Napanee, Ontario on March 7th. Good luck guys!

Three new members were installed in the Lodge of Oddfellows.

Two members, Barry McDonald and Tony Iacovitti were installed in Lodge 428, and one Mr. Alguire in Lodge 163 Cornwall. Congratulations to the new members. A spaghetti lunch was served after the meeting. It was prepared by Chef Claude Brisebois.

The next meeting will be held on February 17, 1987. All members are welcome

Bird Notes

by E. G. AVERY

The "ill winds" over the weekend blew in some good bird-watching, and that is probably the only positive thing to be said for such stormy weather.

Sunday afternoon was spent, for the most part, watching the coming and going, and refilling the small feeders. Many records were broken as the birds entered the race to empty the feeders in the shortest possible time.

This seem to be the year of the Redpoll; everyone we speak to has had some of these small Finches. Everthing about the Redpoll is tiny, except the appetite. We had an excellent close-up view of one as he ate breakfast at the door-feeder. Those pink feathers are so soft and fluffy, they look like fur. In the bright sunlight of Monday morning, the red cap was like a jewel, and the eyes, so bright and so small, one wonders how he can see where he is going.

A black chin-spot below the bright yellow beak, and white wing-bars complete a most attractive winter outfit. Redpolls are quite friendly, and this one did not object to our watching his every move from a distance of about two feet.

Exciting news from the Broken Second again: a surprise visit from not one, but two Pileated Woodpeckers one day last week. They were described as huge, about the size of a Crow. The spectacular thing about this bird is the large bright red crest (which gives it the strange name) and the out-sized bill. When perched it appears to be all black, but when it flies, the large white wing-patches can be seen.

Reports from around town include a few Purple Finches, lots of Goldfinches, Grosbeaks and a few Juncos; every-lovin' Sparrows are always with us.

Cardinal and District Resource Centre active

Cardinal Council wants to stay abreast of all community activities and so Deputy-Reeve Jim Borrett asked Sandra Burchell, Resource Centre Administrator to report at the last regular Council meeting.

A community based support and resource organization of Cardinal and district serving Cardinal, Iroquois, Edwardsburgh and Matilda Townships, it is an activity centre in Cardinal, a Drop-inCentre for citizens, a Program Headquarters as well as an Information Centre. It began as a result of a recommendation from Cardinal's Fall Family Forum in November 1983.

Upwards of twenty programs and activities are run by or through the Centre. Seven full-time employees are helped in their work by volunteers. To ensure that the Centre operates effectively. Your help may be just what is needed. A Board of Directors consisting of twelve members keeps the Centre's varied areas operating.

The programs administered or sponsored by the Centre are funded by various Ministries with minimal funds available for Administrative and secretarial support. Ministry of Community and Social Services will fund up to a maximum of $15,000.00/year. This amount must be matched by other sources in order to qualify. The support of Service Clubs, Villages and Townships help here as does the revenue from the Clothing and Craft Centre. This month will see the Centre become accepted by the United Way of Leeds and Grenville as a member agency.

The Community Resource Program has available to the community, support and resource. To enable people to recognize their problem, plan how to overcome it and put the plan into action as well as to aid interested individuals in developing resources and support within the community are most worthwhile purposes.

The Youth Employment Services work for Youth between 15 and 24 who are unemployed and searching for a plan of action. Providing the guidance and support to help these people make wise choices, will prepare them for the realities of the work place. Matching the right youth with the right employer benefits both parties.

A large selection of good quality used clothing and numerous crafts made by local artisians is available at the Centre.

Sponsored by the Ministry of Health and Welfare, the New Horizon's is a Seniors' Group which provides visitations, outings, Bingo, cribbage, monthly potluck dinners, a drop-in centre, a transportation network and telephone reassurance when and if needed.

At a minimal fee of $3.00 per year, a family can become a member of the Toy Lending Library. meeting other parents is good for most moms and dads and new toys can be borrowed to stimulate play at home without the cash outlay.

For those of us a bit heavier than we want to be a weight loss clinic is run under the name M.E.L.T. Join and learn what the letters stand for!

A teacher is available for supervision and marking of credit correspondence courses, as well as non-credit programs to help adults learn to improve their reading, writing, math or spelling skills.

The "Futures" program accounts for the bulk of the total budget the Centre runs on. This program is funded by the Ministry of Skills Development and is designed to give unemployable young people the work experience to make them employable. The program pays the trainees' wages and the employer must provide consistent disciplined, on-the-job training. To be eligible you must be under 25, out of school with less than a grade 12 education and out of work at least 12 weeks or out of school with grade 12 or more and out of work for 20 weeks. Two programs are offered; a basic 4 month one or a one year program with at least three hours per week of schooling provided.

A success rate of 70 per cent is enviable. There is certainly a very real need in this area and the numbers well over one hundred that have been counselled, found the C.D.R.C. a bountiful source of energy and information or found the answers to best help them are proof of that.

In addition to all these; summer day camps, children's activities, a stamp and coin club, teen dances, a monthly health clinic, and a newsletter to keep residents abreast of all the goings-on keep everyone involved busy.

Reeve Jim McLaughlin thanked Mrs. Burchell for her time and effort in preparing and presenting the report. "Council is proud to be associated with this worthwhile project," he said.

Seaway to host Youth Band later this month

Promotion and Publicity Co-ordinators, John McAllister and Shelley Bentley-Tatton have reminded us that Seaway District High School will host the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Youth Band February 26 - March 1 this year. This annual event, initiated in 1978, is convened by one of the high schools in the Board area and assembles the best musicians from all high schools in the three United Counties.

The selection of the student-musicians was determined by auditions held November 19. These musicians will benefit from three days of workshops with specialized clinicians in their musical field. The culmination of these workshops in a series of concerts by the Youth Band as well as by visiting musicians. Featured this year will be the Woodroofe Community Jazz Esemble and the McGill Wood Ensemble.

St. Joseph's Secondary School plans graduation

On June 26 St. Joseph's Secondary School will be celebrating the first graduation in its history. I believe that we must mark this occasion in a manner that will fittingly indicate the contribution these students and their families have made to the success of Catholic secondary education in our area.

Parents are needed to assist in preparing the details of these ceremonies. We would like to form a Graduation Committee of parents, teachers and students who would help in the following areas: 1) Deciding on the type of awards to be given and their description. 2) Obtaining sponsors for these awards. 3) Planning the detailed program. 4) Decorating auditorium and other areas to be used. 5) Providing refreshments following the ceremonies.

We have already arrived at the following general outline: June 5th p.m.: End of year Eucharistic celebration. Evening Graduation dance. June 26, Evening Graduation in school's auditorium.

Regional changes coming?

Will the late 1980's be a time for change on the regional scene?

Over the past few years it has become more apparent the Regional Municipality of Ottawa-Carleton is suffering.

It is losing the golden glow of youth and the lustre of the two-tier system of government is beginning to tarnish.

The process of time has not been kind to the region and now with internal stirrings of discontent the wear and tear is becoming more marked.

There are rural areas, that are tired of their Oliver Twist stereotype of hands and empty bowls held upward asking for more, there is the issue of, "to be or not to be," over the appointment/election of a regional chairman and of course there is the ever present problem of the duplication of services.

The townships want to start taking responsibility for themselves, laying odds that the chances of governing and representing the townships are better if they are on their own.

And let's all face another issue...it's not as if there's a large contingent of representatives from places like Rideau, Goulborne and Osgoode on Regional Council. (As compared to the City of Ottawa who seems to have representation for every street intersection.)

The question of the election of the Region Chairman is in jeopardy of being decided by eight councillors rather than by the some 74 per cent of voters who approved a referendum on direct election during the last municipal election.

Isn't that something like allowing municipal councillors to appoint a mayor?

Then, on top of all of the above there is the rather gargantuan project of putting the administration of the Region in the Teachers' College...a move that was met with opposition by some.

Perhaps the unrest and uncertainty are signals that 1987 may just be the year of change on the regional scene.

There is an impending provincial review of the region, which may deal with the increasing power of the region and the duplication of services at the municipal level.

Although no one is quite sure what the review will encompass, the fact the province is being asked to step in and play diagnostic doctor is a sign the problems plaguing the regional municipality are working their way to the surface.

Perhaps it is time for all members of the Regional Municipality to sit down and decide what their priorities are...it might save a lot of guesswork and might even put the region back on the track of addressing some pertenant issues.

Heritage Day

Last summer, Ottawa-Carleton residents as well as planners, architects and heritage organizations from across North America banded together to stop the proposed construction of a 17-storey hotel in Ottawa's historic Byward Market.

As fund-raising coordinator for the Save the Byward Market Campaign, mine was an easy task.

The vast majority of those contacted strongly opposed Ottawa Council's decision to allow the hotel and the financial and moral support for our campaign to stop the project was overwhelming.

The level of opposition came as a surprise to nearly everyone involved and, although we were prepared for a long fight, under intense public pressure Ottawa Council quickly found an excuse to reverse its decision on the matter.

Fortunately, the Byward Market was saved but it was a close call.

Ottawa Council will now think twice before it allows future developers to ruin the character of one of the country's most unique heritage areas but other less-known Canadian landmarks might not be so lucky.

It isn't possible to fight every development on an individual basis and it shouldn't be necessary.

Had Ottawa Council been aware of the level of concern for the city's heritage before agreeing to the hotel, the project would probably never have received serious consideration.

That's one reason why February 16 is such an important day.

The 16th is Heritage Day, a chance for all Canadians to acknowledge the importance of our roots and to learn about the people, architecture and traditions that have brought us to where we are today.

First celebrated in 1974, Heritage Day has become more and more widely recognized and the Heritage Canada Foundation is hoping that one day it will be recognized as a national holiday.

Through our participation in the numerous events and activities planned by various heritage organizations throughout the region, we can give a clear signal to both the developers and the town planners that we care about our heritage and won't stand by to see it obliterated.

Child care important national concern

by Norm Warner, M.P.

The issue of child care is an important national concern and the government is currently planning a "fast-track" approach to conclude negotiations with the provinces.

Health and Welfare Minister Jake Epp met last month with his provincial counterparts and as a result of that conference progress is being made towards a national child care policy.

In November 1985, the government established a Parliamentary Special Committee on Child Care, chaired by MP Shirley Martin, to gather public opinion in Canada on the issue. The committee's report is due March 31 and will serve as the basis for the development of a federal policy on child care.

As minister responsible for the status of women, Honourable Barbara McDougall has noted that child care is crucial because it gives women freedom to make choices,to be volunteers, to work or to take training courses.

Currently, 60 per cent of Canadian women with children under the age of five are in the work force. Lack of adequate child care services is a major obstacle to women's equality in the labour market. Licensed child care facilities can handle only about nine per cent of the requirement in Canada.

TAX AVOIDANCE AND UPPER INCOME EARNERS

As part of its planned agenda the government is acting to reduce opportunities for tax avoidance and to reform the tax system.

For instance, effective in the 1986 tax year, a minimum tax will limit the ability of upper-income earners to avoid paying taxes.

New rules for salary deferrals will ensure that taxes cannot be unduly deferred by delaying the receipt of compensation. The ability to defer taxes by claiming deductions for unpaid remuneration will also be limited.

New at-risk rules restrict limited partner's claims to tax credits and business losses to the amount of their investment that is actually at risk.

The government has restricted tax-shelter financing of property such as yachts, recreational vehicles and hotels. As well, the advantages of splitting income between family members through low-interest or interest-free loans, a practice primarily of benefit to higher-income families, has been ended.

BRIEFLY

Payments made into a Registered Retirement Savings Plan up to and including March 2 may be claimed as a tax deduction for 1986, extending the normal deadline. Normally, contributions must be made within the first 60 days of a year in order to be deductible from the income reported for the previous year. Because the normal contribution deadline this year falls on a Sunday, the extension is provided.

Multilateral negotiations in the latest round of GATT began last week and include a comprehensive segment on agriculture. International Trade Minister Pat Carney said the current round offers an excellent opportunity to attack medium and long-term agriculture problems and reduce barriers to agriculture exports.

Challenge for '87

by John Aldham

We are moving into a lifestyle that causes us to search the scriptures for the truth of the Word of God, and its authority towards us. Sounds stupid to me! Has God not spelt it out loud and clear the things that He requires of those that are His? How often does He have to tell us? "In the beginning, God created the heaven and the earth," There is no date specified so we must accept the time as written.

The purpose of this creation is also clear, "To create a people for His name's sake, (Christian). But those people had a mind of their own, resulting in a flood of destruction to all believers, only Noah and family were saved.

The new products were not much better, but our God who is merciful, willed that none should perish, but that all should have a fair opportunity of being part of His family. Jesus said, "Come take up your cross and follow Me, I am come that you might have life, and that you might have it abundantly." I do believe we have no cause to doubt the authority of the Word of God considering Who He is, and in spite of which a careless person might find a more suitable translation to his particular need. Our God has told us who He is, and what He wants of us, and best of all, that which He has prepared for us who come to Him.

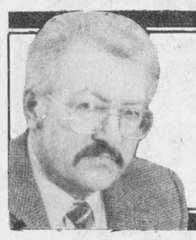
Of love and other four-letter words



Peter Hessel

St. Valentine, the old sage, is a good friend of mine. He and I have had many a heart-to-heart talk. It is a rare privilege to communicate with someone who died hundreds of years ago, and I can only do it if I walk down the concession line between midnight and 1 a.m. on February 14th. Sometimes I'm unable to get through to Val - when there is a lot of interference from satellites and space junk. But when the reception is good, I can pick up an awful lot of practical advice.

Since St. Valentine lived in Asia Minor, his native tongue is Turkish. We therefore use the newest version of the instant digital interpretation oscillator-transmitter, a device that is still far from perfect (hence the acronym IDIOT), but it's the best we've got.

St. Valentine was a bishop, and he tends to be somewhat sanctimonious. He has kept up with current issues, however, and I value his advice more than anyone's. What I like about him is his simplicity. I guess in the Middle Ages it was still possible for a learned man to know everything, and Valentine applies his knowledge of a simpler time to our complex world.

He insists that all we have to do to overcome our numerous difficulties is to learn the meaning of a few four-letter words, and to live accordingly. He claims that our problems began when we allowed our words to grow in size. Their meaning becomes obscure, which in turn befuddles our minds. He suggests that we scrap all words that are longer than four letters.

Love is his favourite word, and this is, of course, appropriate for the patron saint of lovers. He says that love can cure almost everything, and that love should rule throughout the year, not only on February 14th.

Another word he concentrates on is hope. He tells me that love without hope is futile. He claims that the world was created out of hope, and that it will exist only as long as there is hope. And then he says that to love we must be pure, just and true. By pure he means without malice, by just he means without prejudice or intolerance, by true he means without falsehood.

All these four-letter words have taken on the wrong meaning in our world, he maintains.

When we say love, we mean self-love, or desire. When we say hope, we think of expectations. When we say pure, we do not think of our hearts, but our food. When we say just, we think how others should treat us, not how we should treat them. And when we say true, we think of politics and money instead of truth within us.

This saint has many more treasured words that he likes to share with us. When my little electronic gizmo translates them into English, they often come out as ancient, Anglo-Saxon four-letter words that we use every day without thinking. Good, fair, dear, kind, fine...the list is long and distinguished.

The latest lecture - or sermon - that St. Valentine delivered in the bush, during my walk down the line in the dark of midnight, concerned itself with the little word free. There are fancier words expressing the same thing: liberty, independence, emancipation...But free, he argues, says it all. Ask a prisoner, he says. Ask a man without legs. Ask a woman locked into a loveless marriage.

My encounter with St. Valentine never lasts long enough. He makes me think and wonder about a word or two, and then disappears. He is gone like a dream, and maybe he is only a dream.

I have an oid Valentine card from the 1920's that shows a little boy sleeping beside a puppy dog, and the caption begins: "If dreams came true...", and it ends with a silly little verse about being as happy as the King and the Queen.

But what if dreams come true? What if love really ruled the world? Can you imagine what it would be like?

Happy Valentine!

EDUCATION IS THE KEY TO THE PREVENTION of underage drinking, and impaired driving, a deadly combination in today's society.

A NEW PROGRAM IS SCHEDULED FOR A TRY-OUT in area schools next fall, a program aimed at Grades 7 & 8 pupils and sponsored by the Lions Clubs.

SEVERAL GROUPS SUCH AS SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) are helping teenagers and young adults recognize the dangers of drunk driving and alcohol abuse.

THE NEW LIONS PROGRAM IS DESIGNED to complement such programs, and to follow-up on the V.I.P. and V.E.P. programs which have enjoyed success in Grade 6 classes.

AWARENESS OF THE DANGERS OF DRUGS AND ALCOHOL will also be highlighted by the Matilda Pastoral Charge next month.

BRINSTON UNITED CHURCH MINISTER, Rev. Alan Tysick will be hosting an evening on March 25 to raise the level of public awareness to the problem.

Accident at Carman Road

Just plain livin'

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

Have you had one of those mornings lately? You know, when you reach out and turn the alarm off, slip out from under the bed covers and peer out of the window in anticipation. If fluffy flakes are whirling down ever so slowly and erratically being tossed about in the glow of light left-over from the florescence on the pole -- you want to stretch slowly and crawl back under the blankets.

Just think: to nestle back into the mess you made during the night, put your cold feed against your hubby's back and sleep for another hour or so . . . wouldn't that be great? All the while, outside winter is reborn: the branches of the great hardwoods become slivered with crystal or flocked with snow, and the bare, black water colour strokes of tree trunks leap freshly alive as the winter woods out back and to the east whiten silently. The kind of day to later light the fireplace and have the roar and crackle of its' beginnings and the whispering snicker of its slow dying accompany you through your day. To get through another winter day, to see the red conflagration of dawn and know that in this new day there will be the wonderful extras that come only on a brilliant winter day after a storm. There will be the shattering yell of blue jays at the feeder, and the delicate hieroglyphics of the squirrels, the dogs and cats that co-exist around the yard. It will certainly be a day to clear the path, put out seed and suet and withered apples (resembling old ladies cheeks) for the impatient birds.

It is under such conditions as I sit to do my writing for this week's paper that the light spills in a pool on the paper, the radio pours out the golden oldies of years gone by, the coffee pot chuckles and hiccups and the house cat makes a velvty semi-circle of contentment at my feet.

I've put on a pot of home-made soup (a compulsion that strikes whenever 'frozen preciptation' occurs) and the rich, languorous smell of it curls into me and writing seems easier. Two small people very precious to me have had popcorn and hot chocolate and waddle outside so swathed in layers of toques, boots, scarves and mittens that their knees don't bend and their arms stand away from their bodies. They whoop, prance and rejoice in the snow as only the young can and do for quite some time, only to produce themselves, looking a lot like tiny versions of the abominable snowman, at the front door. It seems more snow is now on the rug at the entrance than on the lawn but the rosy-red cheeks and laughter about their fun off-sets the mess I have to dry and clean-up.

Why, it was only yesterday that Dad washed both car and truck to get that ugly salt, sand and grime off and I helped the sons build a snowman, a snowdog and a snowcat to grace the yard for a while. The O.P.P. have put out a road advisory and are asking us to all stay inside and off the roads unless absolutely necessary to travel. There is a grateful silence outdoors, broken only by the odd snowmobile, the snowplows and the salt units. The clicking of branches down in the swamp as they hit together, touched by the wind are not hardly noisy because it is not cold enough. As I peer out at the winter wonderland, this is it's full furry for sure; I somehow relish the flurry and adrenaline occasioned by what winter throws at us (the small sufferings don't bother me too much.)

Now that the renovators have moved on the town cuzzins have both got some pretty nifty kitchens - the food should be more tantalizing than ever. Only the finishing touches are left to do; the painting, papering, carpeting and of course the clean-up.

It seems that gyprock, tiles, panelling, paint and hard work (spasmodically done at times) can transform an ordinary basement into pretty elegant living quarters, eh neighbours?

I saw the theatre performance at the public school and thoroughly enjoyed myself.

Helping someone out of the snow infested ditch is not, definitely the way to spend a Friday night, but "a friend in need is a friend indeed" and so I guess we have a new one to add to our list. (we did see J.R. take it like a man before we shouldered shovels and ropes.)

Thanks to everyone who inquired, some less than delicately; my derriere is coming along quite nicely thanks. So well in fact that we were out to dinner along the mighty St. Lawrence the other evening. The blazing inferno lighting the hearth was a nice added touch and much appreciated as we enjoyed a savory repast, with good company to boot!

Enjoy winter's glory - stay warm; it won't be long before a warm wind blows in and winter will be on its' way to March.

Saturday is Valentine's Day men and we don't want long faces of disappointment at our houses - do we? Just remember, it's the thought that counts.

Keep safe and happy - Glad to hear the Dulmages are all on the mend - catch yuh here next time.

Masquerade skating planned

There will be Masquerade skating at the Cardinal and District Community Centre in Cardinal on Friday, February 20 from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., sponsored by the Benson Public School Committee.

Children are asked to come in costume, and "Blessed" the clown will be there to interview the children on the ice. There will be free gifts for the first 150 costumed children, and several draws during the evening.

Children are encouraged to use their imaginations and think safety first; remember you must skate in your costume, said Mrs. Nancy Vernon a member of the School committee.

Hawks solidify hold on third

Winchester Hawks managed a win and a tie over Alexandria Glens last week to solidify their hold on third place in the Alex English Division. They also posted a 6-1 win over Clarence Creek. In the Junior B standings, Winchester now has 30 points to Alexandria's 19.

In a game last Thursday, February 5, Winchester lead by a score of 4 to 2 after the first period. But the score was tied 6-all after 2 periods, and 9-all at the end of regulation time. And that is how it ended, after a scoreless 5-minute sudden-death overtime period.

Mark Smith lead the Hawks with 3 goals and 3 assists. Trevor McClatchie was 3 and 2; Mike Sargent 1 and 2; Todd Byrnes 1 and 1; and Don Larocque had a single. Leonard Seguin lead the Alexandria team with 4 goals; Glen Campbell and Mike Daniels each scored twice; and Andrew Meth scored a single.

In the Friday game, it took another overtime period, but with 2.36 left in overtime Trevor McClatchie came up with the winner to give Winchester a 7 to 6 margin over Alexandria. Alexandria lead 3 to 1 after the first period; Winchester had the lead at the end of the second, and it was tied 6-6 after 3 periods.

Trevor also led the attack with 4 goals; Scott Dexter had 1 and 2; Todd Byrnes 1 and 1; Mark Smith had 5 assists.

On Sunday, Winchester got rolling, taking Clarence Creek 6 to 1. The Hawks were ahead 3 to 1 after the first period of play, and 4 to 1 and after 2 periods. Again, Trevor McClatchie led the offence with 4 goals and 2 assists for 6 points out of a possible 6. Scott Dexter scored a pair for the Hawks. Marc Levac scored the lone goal for the Clarence Creek Beavers.

Volleyball hard on the knees!

South Dundas District High School played host to both Junior and Senior Girl's Volleyball teams on their way to the semi-finals in County Playdowns, Friday, February 6. Here an unidentified young lady from the St. Joe's Panthers Junior's - Cornwall might well be saying a prayer in their game against North Dundas District High girls!

Seaway curlers go to Pembroke

Last Saturday, February 7, Seaway curlers were in Pembroke for the Gore Mutual School Boy Regional Playdowns. Winners there go on to London, Ontario to complete in the Provincial finals. SDHS curlers had advanced to Regional play after competing in the Zone playdowns in Morrisburg.

In play at Pembroke, Seaway won their first game over Peterborough 10 to 5, but in the next two games against Pembroke they lost 5 to 3, in each game. Those two losses eliminated or team from further play.

Pembroke is ranked as one of the top teams in the Province, and it was only through the luck of the draw that Iroquois had to play such a tough team twice. In all it was a good experience for the youngsters.

This coming weekend, two teams from Seaway District High School will be trying their skills at Gananoque in Bantam curling, as part of the Ontario Winter Games. Bantam play is for youths under 16 years of age.

One team will consist of lead Laura Rosenquist, 2nd Ian Wilson, 3rd Martha Dulmage, and skip Tim Rosenquist. The other team will have lead Stephanie Fisher, 2nd Nikil Chande, 3rd Alex Potter, and skip Jason Ball.

The team have been practicing, and they should be in top shape this coming weekend.

Top notch hockey action runs all day Friday and Saturday at both the Bob Turner and Water Street Arenas concluding with the Championship games Sunday afternoon at the Water Street Arena.

Everybody is invited to come out and watch Cornwall Royals and N.H.L. players of the future! Previous tournaments have seen N.H.L. stars like Guy Lafleur and Marcel Dionne competing while many former Cornwall Royal stars such as Bill Snelgrove, Mike "Crusher" Conway, Dav Ezard and Marc Crawford also played.

The highlight of this year's tournament will be a special Exhibition Hockey Game between the Cornwall Bantam Team coached by Si Miller who competed in the inaugural tournament playing host to the C.J.O.H. NO STARS, featuring such famous T.V. personalities like Brian Smith, Les Lie and Max Keeping. Great hockey fun for the whole family!!

Special Family Passes will be on sale to the General Public for the tournament at a cost of $10.00 which includes admission for the Entire Family to all tournament games including the C.J.O.H. NO STARS contest as well as a chance to win a VCR, TV and Microwave. Tickets can be purchased in advance from the Cornwall Civic Complex, Huron Hockey School, Carl's Smoke Shop and local area sports stores or while at the tournament.

Let's help the Cornwall Minor Hockey Association play host to this very special 25th edition of the Bantam Tournament by attending the many great hockey games that will beheld over the weekend of February 6, 7 and 8, 1987. Come on out and lend your support to our local area competitors - they certainly deserve it!!

Lions manage win and tie in overtime

In Rideau-St. Lawrence Junior B hockey, Morrisburg Lions managed a win and a tie, both games going into overtime.

The Lions took a 9 to8 decision over the Cardinal Broncos, with Danny Bruyere scoring the winner with 1.31 remaining in the overtime period.

But the Lions could manage only a tie with the Kemptville 73's ending with a 4-4 tie in overtime.

Lions led 3-1 after the 1st period, and 8-3 after 2 periods, and then fell asleep while the Broncos fought back in the 3rd period to tie the game with 20 seconds remaining in the period 8-8, with 5 straight goals.

Bruyere led the Lions with 3 goals, Mike Casselman and Donald Black with doubles, singles by Sean Baker, and Jim Bennis. Don Nesbitt led the Broncos with 2 and 1, Brent Murray 1 and 3, Dan Davy, Jody Merkley, David Lapier, Henry Brunton and Reggie Francis with singles.

It was tied 1-1 after the 1st period, and 3-3 after the 2nd period, with the overtime period going scoreless. The 73's 2nd & 4th goals were power plays, while the Lions last 3 goas were power plays.

Scoring for the Lions were: Bobby Jack Hart 3 goals and 1 assist; Mike Casselman, 1 goal and 1 assist. Bruyere and Morrow had 2 assists each. Scoring for Kemptville were 2 goals by Ken Matura, 1 by Jamie Ogilvie, and a single by Gavin Corbeil.

RESULTS OF
IROQUOIS MIXED DART
TOURNAMENT
held January 31, 1987

First Place - Mel Typhair's Team, Kemptville.

Second Place - Keith Wereley's Team, Riverside.

Third Place - Roger Bishop's Team, Cardinal.

Fourth Place - Larry Mill's Team, Iroquois.

Ladies High Score - Sheila Holmes, (Iroquois) 121.

Men's High Score - Dennis Keeler, (Iroquois) 137.

Larry Mills and Dennis Keeler were awarded $25.00 each for their "perfect scores" of 180.

The draws were won by Monica Hitchinson holding ticket number 348638; Joe McDonald, ticket number 348678 and Rick Sayeau with ticket number 348672. The 50-50 Draw was won by Jim reid of Cardinal.

The dart committee wishes to thank all the players for a well played tournament and congratulates the winners.

Fish and Game Club draws are proceeding again

The Cardinal Fish and Game Club are within the law once more. The Club had been advised some time ago that their 50-50 draws were not legal as they were not a charitable organization. The same ruling applied to the Broncos and their fund raising 50-50 draws.

However, Wes Baldwin, Clerk Treasurer of the Village of Cardinal has received a clarification of the ruling, and has determined that the draws are legal after all.

The Fish and Game Club will be going ahead with their two current draws, being held under their existing licence, and these will be made on February 14 and again on February 28. The next draw after that will probably be in conjunction with their week-long derby in July.

At the Club's meeting on Monday evening, it was decided to do away with the membership fees for Juniors. Up until now it cost $3.00 for anyone under 16 years of age to join the Club. What this really means is that persons under 16 will be able to take part in future Junior Derbies without being a member of the Club. Derbies will be open to anyone whether they live in the area or not.

Otherwise, the Derbies will be operated as before, with trophies being awarded for each of the three junior age groups.

Cardinal Ice Fishing Derby

The Cardinal Fish and Game Club are organizing an Ice-Fish derby for the weekend of February 21 and 22. Tickets will be $3 for members and $5 for non-members. Tickets must be purchased by midnight, Friday, February 20.

Weigh-in will be at the boat ramp east of the Cardinal Legion from 5 until 5:30 p.m. each day. First prize will be $50 plus a $25 gift certificate from Robbies Marina. Second prize is $30; third prize is $20. One prize per person is the rule.

Please note that this is for seniors only, with no juniors being allowed in this Derby.

Skiing is fun at Seaway District High School

Skiing instruction is part of the physical education program at Seaway District High School. Here a group of students, under the direction of teacher Don Fairweather practice the special skills required to navigate a slope. Remember, perfection comes with practice!

Former resident turns author

A former resident of Iroquois is a successful author. But it isn't light fiction. Dennis Ord, who taught in Iroquois before the Village was relocated, has turned out a text book which is called Exploring Chemistry. The text is being used in some high schools at the Grade 12 level.

But it isn't a dull text. There is a section on forensic chemistry (crime detection), and there are case studies which add an element of intrigue to keep the student's interest up.

There is also a Food and Nutrition section which is aimed at having students eat proper diets. This was brought about by Mr. Ord's concern at seeing students lunching on junk foods.

Each chapter of the chemistry text starts out with a series of experiments. This is so the student may test the theories that are outlined in the book.

The motivation to write the text sprang from a World War II injury, the result of which was the loss of all hearing in one ear. After that shock, Mr. Ord decided that he must prove himself, and in conjunction with some colleagues set out to produce the textbook. The idea was to produce a text that was educational but also entertaining.

However, it wasn't all smooth sailing. First, some of his confreres dropped out of the project. And changes that were required along the way delayed production. It was almost ready when the switch to metric meant changes had to be made. Then the question of safety in the laboratory arose and some of the experiments had to be revised.

Work began in 1970, and 15 years later McGraw-Hill published the textbook. Upon publication the book was submitted to the Ministry of Education for their perusual, and it ended up on the Ministry's listing of approved texts. Schools may chose from the titles that are listed in the circular, for use in the classroom. Mr. Ord's book is now in use in several high schools.

Now, with his first science textbook behind him, he is preparing a Grade 13 science text. His original idea was to make a supplementary text to his Grade 12 book, but the Ministry of Education didn't see things his way and he has been forced to re-write part of the new book.

The Grade 13 text should be ready within the year, and then he intends to turn his attention to a completely different subject. Mr. Ord intends to publish a book which will deal with various aspects of famous peoples' lives.

Mr. Ord attended Islington Public School as a child and went on to Etobicoke Collegiate.

Back in 1947, Mr. Ord was teaching in the high school in the old Iroquois townsite.

During his stay at Iroquois High School he taught science subjects and also physical education classes; he was one of five high school teachers at the time. He began his Iroquois teaching career in September of 1947, according to some of his former students, and left for Belleville about 1952. During his stay in Iroquois he married a local girl, Freda Johnson, who was an employee of the Bank of Montreal at that time.

Another teacher of that era but now deceased would also be remembered by many, George A. Young.

Tracey Gilmer named to Dean's list for fall

The President of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences has announced that Tracey Gilmer, daughter of Mr. Ron Gilmer, 139 Lakeview Dr., Iroquois Ontario, has been named to the dean's list for the fall quarter.

To qualify for the dean's list, a student must have completed at least 12 quarter hours of credit with a minimum 3.40 average.

The Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences was founded in 1823 and awards undergraduate degrees in pharmacy, chemistry, nursing and nuclear medicine technology, and a certificate, upon completion of the one-year hospital pharmacy technician program. The College also offers postgraduates and graduate study.

Resource Centre receives funds

The Ministry of Community and Social Services is providing more than $70,000 a year for the operation of Naomi's Family Resource Centre, which was officially opened February 2 in Winchester, Ont. The ministry also provided $170,000 for purchase and renovation of the centre.

Bev Lever, Manager of Community Services for the ministry, attended the opening ceremony on behalf of John Sweeney, Minister of Community and Social Services. Keith Fawcett, Warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry said he's pleased to have "such a welcome facility" in his area and added that residents of the centre will be eligible for financial assistance.

Naomi's is designed to serve women and their children victimized by family violence in the United Counties. It will also serve women in need from other parts of Ontario. The centre can house up to 10 residents and will provide counselling and referral services.

Naomi's President Barbara Guffroy said the centre will be ready to receive residents beginning tomorrow. She added that the opening of Naomi's will mean that women in the United Counties who are victimized by family violence will no longer have to travel the many kilometres to Ottawa or Brockville for shelter.

Ms. Guffroy said the name of the new family resource centre is biblical in origin. "There is a passage in the Bible that cites Naomi as one of the first women who suffered at the hands of an abusive husband."

In Memoriams

FAIRBAIRN: In memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Gladys Fairbairn, who passed away one year ago, February 9, 1986.
We often sit and think of her,
When we are all alone;
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
Gordon & family F11-1tc

FOSSITT: In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Graham Fossitt, who passed away February 10, 1984.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just in all his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
Always remembered and sadly missed by family - Dorothy, Jonas, Marnie, Arthur & Linda and Grandchildren Julie & Colin.
F11-1tp

McKEE: In loving memory of a dear husband, Hugh, who passed away February 8, 1971 and my son Leonard who passed away February 12, 1983.
Sunshine fades and shadows fall,
But sweet remembrance outlasts all.
Ever remembered by wife and mother Annie McKee and family
F11-1tp

MARKELL: In loving memory of a dear father, who died on February 5, 1985, Robert W. Markell.
Farewell, dear father, thy work is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more,
A loving father, kind and ture,
No one on earth we'll find like you.
The Family F11-1tp

MARKELL: In loving memory of a dear husband, who died on February 5, 1985, Robert W. Markell.
He is gone but not forgotten
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us.
Many think the wound is healed,
but they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.
Always remembered by wife Maude. F11-1tp

SEELEY: In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Elsie Mae Seeley, who passed away February 15th, 1980.
Surrounded by friends we are lonesome,
In the midst of our joys we are blue,
With smiles on our faces we have heartaches,
Longing dear Mother for you.
May the winds of Heaven blow softly,
On the quiet and peaceful spot,
Where the one we loved is sleeping,
And never will be forgot.
Sadly missed and remembered always by the family. F11-1tp

any way.

No one ever knows how great the community they live in really is until they find themselves in a tight position. We live in one of the best when it comes to rallying to the support of our neighbours when the need arises. The account at the Royal Bank is alive and well in Ross and/or Nancy's names and they are most appreciative of this show of encouragement.

Mental attitude is so very important when down and out in body. Keeping the spirit elevated and working through things methodically will bring about the best of results. We all hope and pray for this family who seems to have been dealt a rough hand in life's game.

More next week when more is known and reports are conclusive from Montreal.

settings to make simple, yet endearing stories; through effective dialogue, narration and music come alive before your very eyes!

At the conclusion of the story on Fudgie, his Mom, Dad, sister Tootsie, brother Peter, grandma and Peter's friend (all played by the two young actors) the actors fielded questions from the floor. The students were interested in how the various characters came about, if it was fun to do two shows every day of the week and when the company would return.

In order to demonstrate the birth of a character in a story they asked Jason Fisher a senior student to come and join them in the centre of the group. Everyone was assembled on the gymnasium floor around the portion with props, backdrops and used as a stage. Jason had a chance through coaching from Kerry to become a actor and portray Fudgie's grandma. Introducing him to methods of walking and talking through mannerisims and a mask, Kerry transformed Jason into a little, old lady before our very eyes. Jason was most impressive and made it look quite easy. Maybe he has found a calling when he is older and out job hunting.

The entire "set" was made by the two actors and packs into a trunk to be carried out and taken to the next stop. These troubadours provide their own background music (guitars) and narrate as necessary tothe story.

Everyone at Iroquois Public look forward to seeing them again soon.

could be phased in over several years is the tag seems a bit too healthy," he said.

While Reeve Bill Dillabough and Deputy-Reeve Bill Shearing felt the cost would most certainly be prohibitive: Mr. Shearing had worked along with Mr. Veinotte (when he was Deputy-Reeve in Morrisburg) to get something going in this direction several years ago, they agreed obtaining a ball park figure from outside contractors could "shed light" on this situation.

Mr. Veinotte stressed that he wouldn't let this go by the wayside and wanted to be kept informed on the matter.

A request from Morrisburg Public School concerning exchange students as well received but a request to tour Council's Chambers on Tuesday May 5 has to change since this is court day.

A letter of compliance will be sent to the Morrisburg Golf Club From Council regarding a L.L.B.O. Licnece Amendment for the addition of a second outdoor partio area.

Surplus monies from 1986 Village operation is to go into the campital reserve fund.

Resolutions were passed pursuant to the M.T.C. Subsidy Allocation for 1987 in the amount of $114.600.00 and to request M.T.C. supplementary money for the year.

A letter from Hazen Meldrum Ltd. confirmed that there is an excellent change that Morrisburg will be included in the forthcoming year's Ontario Basic Mapping Program.

Reeve Dillabough and Deputy-Reeve Shearing will formulate a plan of action for Local Government Week in April. Suggestions ranged from a levy to an appreciation night for volunteers who contribute to the good life in the Village. At next months' meeting Council will make a decision on what to do.

Councillor Rosenquist and the Reeve will represent Morrisburg at the Good Roads Convention late this month in Toronto.

A seminar on February 24 coincides with the above but the members felt the idea of cost-saving programs on Energy was most worthwhile and so forwarded the letter with details to the Hydro Commission.

Council agreed that the Reeve should write a letter of support for the new theatre for Upper Canada Playhouse, including such pertinent points as the urgency of the project (tent is in deteriorating condition) and the impact on the local economy of the theatre. Councillors Gerry Rosenquist sits on the Theatre's Board so declared his interest in the matter.

Morrisburg Hydro wanted Council to be aware that as a final authority for any sub-division agreement within the confines of the Village rests with Council, that it is imperative that the sub-division policies by the Commission be a part of the agreement to ensure continuity of agreements. Thereforme they would like to be informed when a developer approaches Council so all phases can be co-ordinated. (Bell Canada, easements etc.)

Councillor McCooeye expressed interest in attending the Organization of Small Urban Municipalities April 29 - May 1.

Morrisburg Council meets next on Monday, March 9, at 8 p.m. in Council's Chambers.

Cardinal

and Costa Rica Projects, also at the centre.

That evening, between 9:30 and 11:00 p.m., the Seaway Pirates will take on the Spencerville Hotel at the arena.

On February 18, there will be minor hockey action at the arena as Tyke 1 teams take to the ice between 5:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. and Tyke 2 teams play between 6:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.

That night there will be a Winterfest Queen Contestant dinner at the Coach House starting at 7 p.m. After the dinner, which is being sponsored by CASCO, the contestants will be questioned by the judges.

Over at the arena, the Cardinal-Iroquois Pee-wees will be taking on a team comprised of their fathers and brothers between 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

The Queen's pageant and talent show will be held at Benson Public School on Thursday, February 19, starting at 7 p.m. Contestants are asked to be there by 6:30 p.m. Admission will be $2.50, if wearing a Winterfest button admission $2.00.

In hockey action, the Dundas County Flyers will take on the Brockville Oldtimers between 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Broomball playoffs will take place at the arena between 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

On February 20, the Resource Centre will hold a Bake Sale at 9:30 a.m. while from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. the Benson School Committee will hold a masquerade children's skating party. A teen dance is planned from 7:00 p.m. to midnight at the Anglican Church Hall. The D.J. will be Captain Audio and the event is sponsored by the Resource Centre.

The Community Centre Board will sponsor the final event of the day, an adult skating party from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The Cardinal Fish and Game Club will hold a pike fishing derby for seniors on Saturday, February 21 and Sunday, February 22.

Tickets for the derby will be on sale for $3 for members and $5 for non-members and they must be purchased by midnight February 20. Weigh-ins will take place each day between 5:00 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. at the boat ramp east of the Legion in Cardinal.

On February 21, Jean's Tea Room will host a pancake breakfast from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. and there will be a breakfast special at Tammy's Variety from 9:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Queen contestants will eat free.

WHY DO WE NEED LAWYERS?

The same reason why we use doctors, dentists, real estate firms, psychiatrists, etc., is the reason why we need lawyers... to give us their expert advice and services to solve our problems or prevent us from having a problem when it comes to real estate transactions.

No matter how well versed a layman might be with real estate or any other legal transaction, the law keeps changing and lawyers must keep updating to keep up with these changes. Individuals seldom have the information available to them to keep up with law changes and so are treading on dangerous ground doing their own legal work.

While one may be able to fill in the forms for a land severance application, few people would know what to do when it comes to checking the validity of a deed to land or clearing encumbrances from a parcel of land by deed.

When presenting an offer for property through a real estate firm you will be asked the name and address of your lawyer and the firm will offer to see that your solicitor gets a copy of the offer you have made. The lawyer will first check to see if the closing date leaves enough time to check all the details that must be looked after.

The real estate firm will have written the document to leave adequate time under normal circumstances and unless something unforseen comes up, the deal will transpire by the time stated. If not, the lawyer will contact the lawyer for the other party to the transaction and arrange a date suitable to both sides.

The lawyer for the purchaser will have to check to see if the deed is clear by searching title at the registry office. He/she goes to the registry office and asks for the file on the particular piece of property and looks back until everything proves to be clear and valid.

If a mortgage is being arranged the lawyer must make sure the monies are ready to be paid on time, the mortgage documents prepared for signing, the new deed readied, and adjustments for taxes owing or paid in advance, fuel oil tank filled, survey prepared, and many other details ready for the day when ownership changes hands.

The vendor in selling wants to know that the money is in the lawyer's hands, while the purchaser wants to know that a clear title has been obtained for the money paid.

As with many professionals, lawyers are chastised if something goes wrong with a deal, even if there was nothing they could do about it. There are times when we wonder if lawyers aren't treated a bit like God... we call on them when in need of help! And forget them the rest of the time when everything is fine.

Real estate firms do not "guide" vendors and purchasers into specific law firms. In the case of local firms and a stranger in the community it is fitting to point out that there are two local legal firms in the community and after naming them, hand them the telephone book or point the way to the offices.

Most people entering transactions already have a law firm they are dealing with and there is not reason to suggest, nor is it proper, that a local firm be used.

Our job is to get listings and sell property, not be selling the services of any other professional group. Lawyers, especially are well able to look after their own affairs.

Losing weight the sensible way

The new year always brings back the national pastime of Weight Watching.

It's a simple matter of calories in, calories out. When we eat less calories than we burn, we lose weight. Easier said than done!

What do you eat while cutting down on fat, sugar and salt? The answer is complex carbohydrates.

Carbohydrates have always had a bad reputation. White sugar, potatoes and bread have been the dieter's enemies. Today's dieter differentiates between simple and complex carbohydrates. Simple carbohydrates, (in table sugars, honey, syrups and molasses) are to be avoided when dieting. They offer little except sweet taste, dental decay and calories. These sweet tooth cravings are best satisfied by fruit.

Complex carbohydrates found in breads, pasta, rice, cereals, potatoes, root vegetables, corn, peas, dried beans and lentiles are the preferred source of food energy. They are absorbed into the body in ready to use form and help to ward off hunger by maintaining more stable blood glucose levels than sweet sugars. These foods also supply a nutritious blend of vitamins, minerals, fibre and some protein while containing virtually no fat.

A good rule of thumb for increasing complex carbohydrates in your diet is to cut in half your portions of fatty foods and double your servings of bread, cereals, pasta, rice, potatoes and other root vegetables, dried beans and lentils. Whenever possible, choose the unrefined products over the refined counterpart. For example, instead of donuts, danish or croissant, choose toast or english muffins.

Above all, remember to use common sense and moderation in dieting. There is no miracle solution for losing weight.

Farmer's Week features events

This week of February 9 to 14 is Farmer's Week in Eastern Ontario and to mark the special week, days were and are being held at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology. Those of primary interest in our readership area were Dairy Day held on Monday, Beef Day on Tuesday; Money Matters on Wednesday (today) Crop's Day is tomorrow (Thursday) and of particular interest to the ladies, "Home Management Day".

A keener interest by women in outlining their role on the farm has transpired in the last few years. Farming has always been a family affair, but it is now being realized that women are full partners in farming. In addition to carrying the house work, they take on a full work load on the farm itself. There is no doubt in the minds of most men on the farm that the women are indeed equal partners and that they deserve recognition in operating and planning the farm's future.

When we think of the importance of the farmer to our way of life it boggles the mind. In a lighter view I came across a letter lying in the gutter at a friends' barn and would like to share it with you:

"Dear Santa", it starts, "We know that you're pressed, but the cows at the barn have a special request, We've worked every day just as hard as can be, Making milk is no picnic, we know you'll agree. I guess that we're frequently misunderstood, But really and truly, we've tried to be good. The day that we trampled the garden and lawn, The gate was left open and the family was gone! And the vet who got kicked, the fence that we broke; These are things that could happen to any old folk. Yes, Santa, we're sure that you really exist. So we're sending a letter, a cow's Christmas list. Just a world of advice, to put all this across, We'd really suggest that you talk to our boss. With Christmas and shopping and parties and such. He hasn't been down at the barn very much. The feed that we're getting is not very great, Our alfalfa hay was put up awfully late; A little more protein would certainly pay, We'd all give more milk on the very next day. Or, how about putting the whole herd on test? He sure doesn't know who is milking the best. There's no way to tell with the pipoeline in place. If a cow is a star; or a total disgrace. And the bull that he's using may be debonair, But only third prize at the South Mountain Fair? Why, the A.I. technician, without any fuss, Can brin us a sire with a thousand pound plus. Minerals served in some manner of fashion; It might even help just to balance the ration. And, one final gift that would really delight us Is a "dipper for udders to control the mastitis." Find what you can, Santa, don't bring it all, Our stockings are hung at the front of each stall. Tell Donner and Blitzen and all of the rest To sopt for some grain and some hay, be our guest. Thank you dear Santa, guess that's all for now - Merry Christmas! Sincerely your friend "the Cow".

A light touch often helps in the day to day grind. Hope it gave you a chuckle and look carefully at your herd, anytone still got the pen tucked in their right, front hoof?

Friday is the day the Pork producers get together and as well Maple Sap processing will be discussed by those in that line of business.

Sheep and Goats will be the topics on Saturday.

Registration is $10.00/day and includes a meal at noon. Special exhibits are featured all week long and a facility for child care ($5.00/child/day) is available on Thursday.

With topics ranging from "New Approaches to Products and Marketing" to "The Fashion Forecast for Spring '87" to "Practical Management of Common Diseases in the Herd"; there was not a furrow unturned; certainly there was something of interest for all farmers, all ages, even those of us who wish we were farmers.

A salute is small applause for our local farmers but you are appreciated - know it's true.

Farming is a complex, big business to operate requiring skill and education. Such learning situations as this week at K.C.A.T. prove invaluable to those who have time to attend.

$1 BILLION SPECIAL CANADIAN GRAINS PROGRAM.

A Helping Hand for Grain Farmers

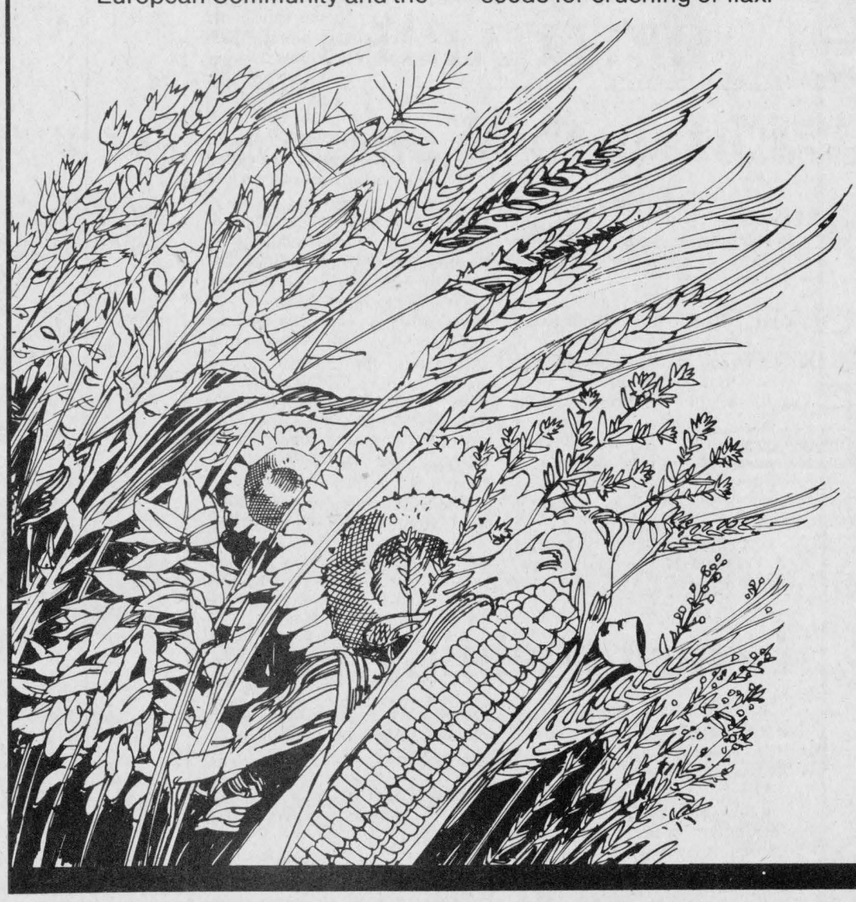
The Special Canadian Grains Program is assisting farmers with $1 billion. This initiative, announced by Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, is the largest of its kind ever undertaken by any Canadian government on behalf of farmers.

It is a national program that responds to a national need. It will help offset low grain and oilseed prices resulting from the subsidy war between the European Community and the United States.

The first $300 million will be in the hands of grain and oilseed farmers this winter. Another $700 million will be paid out in the spring.

The details of this historic program are as follows:

1. You will benefit if, in 1986, you grew wheat, barley, oats, rye, mixed grains, corn, soybeans, canola, sunflower seeds for crushing or flax.



Pedigreed seed, high moisture corn, high moisture barley and farm fed grain are also covered.

2. The first cheques are being mailed directly to Western farmers based on Canadian Wheat Board permit book data.

3. If your crops are not included in permit book data, or if you are a qualifying producer who doesn't receive a cheque, you can pick up an application at the following places:

- Offices of Members of Parliament
- Grain elevators
- Grain producer organizations
- Agriculture Canada offices and research stations
- Farm Credit Corporation Offices.

You can also have forms mailed to you by contacting the Administrator,
Special Canadian Grains Program,
Agriculture Canada,
Ottawa K1A 1J3.
Phone (613) 957-7078.

APPLICATION DEADLINE IS MARCH 31st, 1987.

The Government of Canada is committed to ensuring that agriculture remains a strong and vibrant part of our country's economy. The Special Canadian Grains Program is a part of that commitment.

CRIME STOPPERS ÉCHEC AU CRIME

Thieves working in the Nepean Business Park took the moto "Go With Michelin" to heart. During the past couple of months several trucks have had tires stolen.

During the night of January 9 - 10, someone cut a lock off of a gate to the yard of Dalmacija Forming at 11 Gifford St. They then cut a hole in the wire fence separating this yard and that of the Freightliner Company of Bentley Avenue. They then jacked up two new trucks, and used blocks of wood they brought along to prop the vehicles up while they removed the wheels. Stolen were 8 Michelin XDA, 275/80R x 24.5, 14 ply tires and rims, and 2 Goodyear Uni-Steel, 11 x 22.5, 14 ply tires on rims. Total value $5,000.00. A similar theft occurred at the Eastway Tank Co. 1995 Merivale Road on December 12, 1986. Again in this case a new truck was jacked up, blocked with wood, and again 8 Michelin 225 Tubeless Lug Tread tires on rims, plus four other rims were stolen; value: $5000.00. Several other similar thefts have been reported from around the Capital area.

Nepean Police are attempting to locate a suspect vehicle: a 1971 - 72 Chev or GMC 4 x 4 half ton truck. It has a plow harness on the front, and is red with primer paint on the front fender.

Crime Stoppers will pay $1,000. 00 for information, that if received this week leads to the arrest of the persons responsible for these thefts. If you have information about these, or any other serious crime, call Crime Stoppers at 233-8477 or 1-800-267-8477. You don't have to reveal your identity, and should your tip lead to an arrest, you qualify for an award.

Iroquois apartment building underway

Well, not quite underway, but the first steps are being taken with the rehabilitation of the water main across the property. And the surveyors were also busy last week, marking out the corners of the property. If the snow ever melts away construction of the 5-storey apartment building should start early in the spring. Chieftain Photo - D. Moore

Edwardsburgh Council holds regular meeting

Edwardsburgh Council heard two presentations during the course of a regular meeting held Monday evening in Spencerville.

Helen Ervin of the Edwardsburgh Co-Operative Playgroup approached Council asking for funding for the playgroup for 1987.

Over 15 children participate in the group and council was funding the organization at a rate of $4.00 per child.

On Monday, Council increased the rate to $5.00 per child.

Council also heard a request from the Johnstown Snowmobile Club. It was asking for permission to use a building located in the Township as a clubhouse and use of the building was approved by Council.

With regard to the hiring of extra administrative help, Council agreed that another person was required to help with administrative duties and said the choice would be determined next week.

The next meeting of Edwardsburgh Council will be held on February 16th at 7:30 pm in Spencerville.

The staff of The Iroquois Chieftain would like to cover your community event! Just call the newsroom at 652•4395 or 652•4576. All we ask is that you give us a week to ten days notice so that we can arrange our schedules accordingly.

Notes on astronomy

by Jack MacLaren

Some time in the future astronauts may land again on the moon, also plans are made to land astronauts on Mars and perhaps Europa, a moon of Jupitar in the more distant future.

But our twin (as it is often called) Venus will not have people walking its surface. The reason being, the immense atmospheric pressure, about ninety times the pressure of our planet at sea level.

The atmosphere is made chiefly of carbon dioxide gas, with cluds of sulphuric acid, and the temperature is about 470 degrees celcius - the hottest in the solar system. If some how a person could be transported to the surface of Venus and step out on to the red hot soil he would be, cooked, poisoned, and crushed all at the same time.

According to legend, Venus, the goddess of love, was the daughter of the sky-god Uranus and entered the world by rising from the sea. She had many amorous conquests, due to a magic girdle which made the wearer desirable to all men.

The planet called after her is anything but a pleasant place. In the past Venus was thought to be a wet planet with steamy jungles, to a desert, hot and dry. The first true pictures to emerge was during the mid 1950's. The new radio telescopes were pointed to Venus which suggested that Venus was hot enough to melt lead on its surface.

In 1962 it was noted for the first time that Venus had a day that was as long as 243 earth days.

It was also discovered that Venus spins backwards, in the opposite direction to the rest of the planets.

Most of what is known of the planet has come from the Russian Veneras landing probes. The Russians have more or less established Venus as "their" planet for exploration and scientific investigation. And they have done a good job. Their first probes stopped operating about half way down through the clouds. The scientists soon realized that the probes were crushed by the terrific pressures of the Venus atmosphere.

The next probes were built to withstand the pressures and made it to the surface. Thanks to Veneras - 9, 10, 13 and 14 we have a knowledge of four different landscaped of Venus. All four sites has shown complete desolation, boulders and flat areas stretch as far as to the horizon.

Also the cameras aboard Veneras 13 and 14 showed that the planet is bathed in organe light. The atmosphere filters out the blue wave lengths, so everything is orange-green on the surface or yellow-orange. Even the clouds are orange.

One feature that the probes discovered is that the atmosphere rotates about Venus in only four days. But the winds on Venus surface is very calm, less than one mile per hour. Venus has been completely mapped by radar both from space probes and from the arecibo telescope, in Perto Rico. The Russians have the Vereras 15 and 16, mapping the surface from orbit along with the Pioneer orbiter probe which was launched in 1978. In 1986 the Pioneer was used to investigate Halleys Comet when it was at its closest to the sun.

When Vereras probes 13 and 14 were descending to the surface they probed the atmosphere to discover what the clouds were composed of.

The instruments had very sophisticated detectors on board and found that atmosphere had isotopes of argon, neon, krypton, and xenon from 60 kilometers down to 42 kilometers, micron-size drops and crystals of a yet unknown substance as well as chlorine and sulfur was discovered. The atmospere of Venus is Carbon Dioxide with traces of oxygen and nitrogen with clouds of sulpheric acid floating above.

The sulphuric acid rain seldom reaches the surface because it is swept up again by convection before it completes its fall.

On earth, from the bottom of the ocean floor to the continents on the average, is about 13000 feet. By contrast Venus is very much on the level. There are only three major highland regions covering in total about one tenth the area of the whole planet. These elevated regions are called Aphrodite Terra, Ishtar Gerra and Beta Regio.

Evidence suggests that Volcanoes had a large part in shaping Venus. Not only in the past but recently also. Nearly all parts of Venus show some signs of volcanic activity. The flat plains seem to be covered with lava flows.

When U.S. probe Pioneer Venus arrived at the planet in 1978, it registered extremely high concentration of carbon dioxide and sulphuric acid particles above the clouds. The probe continued to moniter this discovery and found that by 1983, the levels had dropped by ninety per cent. This led scientists to believe that an enormous volcanic eruption had taken place just before the Pioneer probe had arrived.

A question as why Venus is so hot, when it should be somewhat closer to resembling our planet. Some believe that it is because our planet being farther from the sun the water vapour was able to condense as rain and covered our planet with oceans. Carbon dioxide slowly vanished from the atmosphere or was disolved by our oceans.

Venus being thirty per cent closer to the sun was always too hot. Water vapour may have condensed. There may have been rivers at one time, but never enough to dissolve the carbon dioxide, so it built up in the atmosphere with each volcanic eruption.

Carbon dioxide has the same effect as a pane of glass in a greenhouse. It lets light through but does not allow heat to escape.

There is evidence that the volcanic activity on Venus may be responsible for keeping Venus from becoming even hotter than it is at present. As sulphuric dioxide gas is shot up into the atmosphere it reflects back into space four fifths of the sunlight there by acting as a solar screen.

Some may argue that money spent on research of the planets is wasted. However planet research tells us very much about our own planet that otherwise we wouldn't know.

If this enables us in the long run to safeguard what we have, it will be worth every dollar being spent. There are lessons out there to be learned which will benefit us. Let's go on and explore and learn.

Eastern Star performs a lot of community services

Teachings of the Order of the Eastern Star, based on the morality of brotherly love, relief and truth, and exemplified by ritualistic ceremonies portrayed through stories of biblical heroines also leads the organization into other community pursuits. In Iroquois area, as well as across Canada, the O.E.S. joins with their Masonic brethren in such projects as the Burns Division of the Children's Hospitals (sponsored by the Shriners), the Cancer Society, the Heart Fund, Muscular Dystrophy, Cystic Fibrosis, and the Mentally Retarded to name a few.

During this "The Carousel Year", the O.E.S. has embarked on a special project to bring to public attention the needs of the Ontario Association for the Learning Disabled Children and Adults. While learning disabled are sometimes perceived to be unable to learn, this is far from the truth.

Learning disabled can learn if they have the necessary skills offered to them.

Common signs of learning disabilities include difficulty or failure in reading, writing, spelling or arithmetic; restlessness, short attention span, hyperactivity, poor coordination, frequent anxiety, frustration or anger because of the inability to cope well at school, at work, or in social situations; difficulty in keeping a job, and, in short someone who might be described as "he could do better if only he tried harder".

These indications of learning handicaps are as real to the afflicted as are the losses of arms and legs to others in their disability.

Keeping in mind that learning disabled children grow into learning disabled adults unless they are taught to cope with their problem, the Eastern Star is determined to bring about a better understanding of the needs of these fellow Canadians through an educational program. The support of this newspaper is appreciated by the Ontario Eastern Star in its search for means to assist in this worthwhile endeavour.

The project in this area comes under the sponsorship of the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Vera Heffel, Ottawa, supported in Iroquois by Moonlight Chapter 224, under Worthy Matron Verla Perrin.

The A.C.L.D. has over 40 chapters in the Province of Ontario alone and membership is open to anyone.

Branching out more into the community and the needs of its peoples, the Order of the Eastern Star is bringing to public attention several of that organization's per projects. This year's Worthy Matron's project is on behalf of the Kidney Foundation and Moonlight Chapter O.E.S. W.M. Verla Perrin has adopted this as her project for her term of office, backed by all members of the organization.

There is always a need for kidney organ donations and many stories can be told of family members donating a kidney on behalf of another family member.

Mrs. Perrin's keen interest stems from a sister's donation of a kidney to a son, giving the youngster a new lease on life and a future that seemed to be previously denied the youngster.

Many readers know of youngsters and adults whose lives could be enriched and perhaps even saved, if a suitable kidney was available. It also costs a great deal of money for research and related expenses and there never seems to be enough to meet all the demands. The O.E.S. is determined to make this year a banner year in our area in bringing to public attention this one phase of medial care and need for area residents.

Whether it means the replacement of a damaged kidney or the addition of another kidney, the recipient still has to be careful in the future. Whatever is done to assist a patient, it can be a long time before the patient is considered "out of the woods". Some medications leave the patient more vulnerable to other diseases, restrict the patient's activities, but also can mean the difference between life or death.

If one's health is excellent and the donor's kidney can match a recipient, there is no doubt a great deal of soul-searching before a donor gives consent for a donation. If it is a family member in need, it can seem easier to donate.

There is, however, another way in which all Canadians can help. Not only kidney donations but other organ donations. Talk over your wishes with your immediate family so that in the event of a future possibility of organ donation, doctors will have an easier time talking to family members and family members will know they are carrying out your personal wishes.

Worthy Matron, Verla Perrin 543-3423; Worthy Patron Ambert Brown 652-4590.

Be sure dogs have adequate shelter

It is a sad and unacceptable fact that every year thousands of dogs suffer through long and harsh Canadian winters with inadequate shelter at all. These dogs cannot obtain shelter and are forced to endure terrible weather conditions. Tremendous cold spells, vicious blizzards and freezing rain can prove fatal for even the hardiest of dogs. Most of us would not even consider being out in these elements, even for a short period of time, so how can we expect dogs to live in these conditions? What kind of existence is this anyway?

While winter emphasizes the need for adequte shelter, "outdoor" dogs also need adequate housing the rest of the year to protect them from the intense heat of the sun as well as the rain. Under the Criminal Code of Canada all dogs are, by law, required to have "adequate" shelter. A doghouse should be large enough for the dog to stand up, sit down, turn around and stretch out comfortably to the fullest extend of its limbs. It should be insulated, have an interior windbreak, exterior door flap and be elevated 6 inches off the ground, facing away from the prevailing winds. These are the minimum standards the Ontario Humane Society has set regarding a doghouse.

Realizing that not all dogs are "indoor" dogs, the Ontario Humane Society has published a pamphlet detailing how to construct an "ideal" doghouse. The pamphlet, "Ideal Doghouse for Ontario's Outdoor Dogs", provides the dog owner with all the necessary information to construct a "custom fit" doghouse that will if constructed properly, provide an outdoor dog with good shelter. Copies of this pamphlet can be obtained by simply contacting the Ontario Humane Society at: 620 Yonge Street, Newmarket, Ontario, L3Y 4V8.

Lots of snow for snowman

The 17 cm. of snow that fell on this area over the weekend has made things just right for outdoor enthusiasts whether your interest lies in skiing, snowmobiling or just getting the family outdoors on a Sunday afternoon to make a snowman. Even though Iroquois missed some of the really big snowfalls experienced in different parts of Canada recently, there is still hope in some quarters that our turn will come and we'll get a good snowfall reminiscent of the storms of a few years ago. *Chieftain Photo - S. Chieftain Staff Reporter

Last year's yearbook has arrived. Instead of black books, the yearbook committee decided to add a bit of life to the books. They did so by changing the colour of the yearbooks to orange.

The yearbooks contain pictures of last year's graduates, students in their various homerooms, sports teams, activities, fundraisers, clubs and photos of students in the halls. For the past week all I have seen are people walking down the halls with the yearbooks. I'm sure the teachers love trying to teach when the whole class is fighting to get their fellow classmates' signature in their books.

Last week there were tables set up outside of the cafeteria to collect money for the Winter Carnival Acitivity Day which is scheduled for February 17. Hopefully enough people will have brought their money for the activity in which they have chosen to participate or the Activity Day events will be cancelled.

Seaway will host a Patio party Dance on Friday, February 13, 1987. Don't know what a Patio party Dance is. All you do is wear beach apparel such as shorts, summer dresses and pastels. Those who don't get into the spirit have to pay $4.00. Those who dress accordingly only have to pay $3.00 to get into the dance. The doors open at 9:00. The dance ends at 12:00. Listen to announcements for bus schedules.

In sports action the boys midget basketball team went to Alexandria to compete in a tournament. In the first game Seaway beat Glengarry High School 16-10. In the second game Seaway was defeated by LaCitadelle 24-10.

This weekend three of Seaway's curling team played other various teams. The junior men's team lost two games to Pembroke with scores of 5-3. They were eliminated from the provincial playdowns. Two Seaway teams attended the Utica International teenage bonspiel. Each team won three games. On Friday the senior girls volleyball team played against North Dundas and Rothwell-Osnabruck. They lost their game against North Dundas. The girls finished with a win by defeating R-O 15-3 and 15-3 in their two final games of the day.

My English class is studying Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet". We have put a new perspective on the story and some of it's dialogue.

See you next week.

Rebekah Lodge meets

Matilda Rebekah Lodge held its regular meeting on January 20, 1987, at which Wellington Rebekah Lodge Number 108 Prescott conferred the degree on a class of four candidates.

They were as follows: Darlene Riddell, Annette Turner and Joan Bass, joined Matilda Number 342 and Stella Smith joined St. Lawrence Number 373 Morrisburg. The new members were warmly welcomed into membership.

Following our meeting, Sis. Betty Hutt, Noble Grand invited all to lunch in the dining hall. This being the 39th birthday of Matilda Lodge a birthday cake made and beautifully decorated by Sister Barbara Smail was enjoyed by all.

At our last meeting Sisters Rita Cooper and Verna Beckstead reported on the Pilgrimage for Youth programme. These members will be visiting North Dundas and Seaway High Schools to inquire about students who wish to participate in this interesting and educational trip. The speaking contest is open to students between the ages of 16 and 18. Any eligible student wishing to compete in the speak off may obtain further information from the school office.

These all expense paid trip is to New York and United Nations for two weeks in July. This project is supported by both Oddfellow andRebekah Lodges across Canada. The last student from Seaway to proudly represent us was Catherine Whittaker.

Depositing snow on road illegal

Once again we are in the snow season. The time when getting about requires care, concentration and preparation. An integral part of your ability to reach your destination is the road crew.

The Counties has 16 such crews (each operating a plow/spreader combination unit worth $90,000. each) on its 735 kilometres of road each storm. Each snow storm has three clearing phases: One - plowing the road open; Two - melting any ice or packed snow; and Three - cleaning up, including pushing snow back to make room for the next storm. The eventual result is a clear, ice-free pavement closely approximating summer driving conditions, except where unthinking people blow, throw or track snow back onto the road.

It is an offence (section 157 of the Highway Traffic Act) to deposit snow or ice on a roadway. It is also potentially dangerous. This snow or ice causes an unexpected slippery spot on an otherwise clear road and it is the surprise element that could cause a road user to have an accident. The Counties' Roads Department asks those abutting its road to plan their entranceway clearing so that snow is not pushed onto or tracked across the road. This co-operation will make the road system safer for all.

Surviving with Style 4-H Club holds their first meeting

4-H has finally started. The first meeting was on Saturday, February 7, 1987, at 1:00 p.m. at Rina Groniger's house, Connie Pepers is also our leader. We also have a Acting New Leader Beatrice Patterson.

The member's of this club are Laura Fawcett (new member), Judy Charlebois, Beatrice Patterson, Brenda Schaafsma, Gloria Cutler and Helen Cutler. We had the election of officers: President - Gloria Cutler, Vice-president Judy Charlebois, Secretary Brenda Schaafsma and Press reporter Helen Cutler.

This club is called "Surviving With Style". We started our meeting by saying the 4-H pledge. Then we answered the Roll Call: Why Did You Join This 4-H Club? Some of the members said "to learn more about surviving with style", "continue the club", and "to learn how to live alone". This project is written to help members learn the basic skills needed to live as a member of a family, or when living on their own. We also talked about, what skills do you need to look after yourself? Some member's said "learn to cook, pay for bills, do your own laundry, pick up after yourself, and household repairs." Some of the topics we will be talking about in this project are: keeping yourself secure - at home, the key of staying safe is to trust your own judgement.

We looked at some of these tips. We also read about blown fuses, cartridge fuses, and tripped circuit breakers. We also read about what if the pipe under the sink started to leak and if the toilet keeps running - what do you do?

We also read about what if the drain is clogged in the sink, chemical drain cleaners, plunger or plumber's friends and prevention of clogged drains. We answered questions how to handle strangers at the door, how to handle phone calls? We also read about being alone and answered questions that said "there are better ways to spend time alone."

Some of the members said, reading, hobbies, homework, cleaning house, baking, and start the meals. We read about moving to a new area. We answered a couple of questions that said "There are many ways to meet people and learn about your new home. What are some of them? If a new person moved into your area, how could they meet people and make new friends? Then we talked about the Home Activities. Next the president - Gloria Cutler adjourned the meeting at 3:50 p.m.

St. Joseph's open house was a success

Examinations are over at St. Joseph's Secondary School and things are getting back to normal.

Mr. Labossiere, our Principal reports that visits to our feeder schools were very successful and as a result, Open House which was held before the exams was highly successful as more than 250 parents and students attended the information sessions. "Response was fantastic" report the students, teachers and members of administration.

In sports, February will be a very busy month for the Junior and Senior Basketball teams who will play four games each before the Basketball play-offs which will be held during the week of February 23rd.

Tuesday, February 3rd, the Junior Boys' defeated Char-Lan 49 to 47. Bryan Murphy with 25 points and Rodney Lalonde with 13 were top scorers. Despite the efforts of J.P. Pilon and Mike Pare who respectively scored 25 and 24 points, the Seniors were defeated by Char-Lan by a score of 66 to 63. Both our Junior teams and Senior teams will see action again this week. Meanwhile, the Boys' Midget Basketball team will be participating in a tournament at Rothwell-Osnabruck on February 19.

Still in sports, the Jr. and Sr. Girls' Volleyball teams will be playing in three tournaments, with one slated on the 6 at Seaway another on the 11 at N.D.D.H.S. and with the final one on the 18 at Char-Lan.

And now, on with Carnival Week activities which will take place from February 16 to February 20. Included in the many activities which will be held at lunch time are: Monday: Tobaggan Races; Tuesday: Tricycle Races; Wednesday: Nerd Day.

Thursday will be Activity Day as students will participate in one of the following activities: Downhill Skiing at Morin Heights, Roller Skating in Montreal or Bowling and Movie here in Cornwall. Friday, there will be a Jello Eating contest and a dance in the evening.

To finish on an academic note, second semester brings something new to St. Joseph's as Co-Op Education will be offered for the first time at the school. Eleven students are taking part in this new program.

Another first for the school is Driver Education which started Tuesday, February 3rd. Seventeen students are enrolled in the course which is being taught by Mr. Oscar Cashion.

In closing, we would like to remind our readers that Mass is celebrated daily in the school's Chapel at 11:55 hrs. Everyone is invited to attend this celebration of the Eucharist.

Have a nice week!

Rabies clinics to be subsidized by county

Leeds and Grenville county councillors came to a decision last week about subsidizing rabies vaccination clinics.

Pet owners in the counties will pay $8 to have their pets vaccinated later this winter and in the spring.

Taxpayers will pay a $4 subsidy for every animal inoculated. They are not sure what final costs will be for the counties. The cost worked out by counties administrator-clerk-treasurer George Brown with local vets will be $3 less than normal.

The county first became interested in providing rabies clinics last year when the disease went into epidemic proportions which experts said will continue this year.

The program met wide approval but there were some oppositions raised. One member to question the clinics was Kemptville Reeve Pat Maloney. He asked why would they okay something when they don't know the final cost.

Westport Reeve Bill Thake commented on whether they were going to worry about the rabies situation or about spending money.

Clinic dates for Gananoque, the Front of Leeds and Landsdowne, Rear of Leeds and Landsdowne, Rear of Yonge and Escott, Front of Escott, Front of Yonge and Athens are February 18 and 20 and April 1 and 3.

Westport, Newboro, North Crosby and area will have clinics on April 22 and 24.

The remaining clinics to be held in municipalities in Leeds and Grenville Counties will be on April 1, 3, 8 and 10. All times are between 1 and 4 p.m.

All veterinary practices in the two counties will be participating.
