NOV. 1 DEADLINE FOR OVERSEAS PARCELS

Faced with the task of moving more Christmas mail to more Canadians in more corners of the world than ever before, the post office department has announced the deadline for parcel mailings will be Nov. 1.

Parcels mailed by that date—unless there is a mad rush at the last moment—will be delivered to Canadians in Sicily, Italy, Ceylon, North Africa, the United Kingdom, the Aleutians, the West Indies or wherever else Canadians may be.

The mailing deadline is set 10 days earlier than in 1942.

Important Broadcast Tomorrow Evening

Premier George Drew, following a Cabinet Meeting held last Friday, announced that he would give an account of the stewardship of his Government to the people of Ontario in a radio address on Friday night, September 24th The Premier, whose Government has been in office a little over four weeks, has created a precedent and a great deal of public interest by the announcement of his radio address.

Prompt action has been taken by the Government to implement the twenty-two point programme announced by Premier Drew during the election campaign. It is anticipated that the address will deal with matters vitally affecting the affairs of by the Premier and his Cabinet in the Province. No time has been lost gettnig to work. The conference of four hundred farm leaders held in Toronto two weeks after the Drew Government took office demonstrated that the Province is going to get immediate action.

The address will be carried over the Ontario Regional Network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and will include coverage of the entire Province. The address will be carried locally by CBO, Ottawa.

Metcalfe Fair Was Largely Attended

Fair weather prevailed for the 87th Annual Exhibition, held at Metcalfe last Friday and Saturday, and the Fair was a marked success. The crowd on Saturday was as large as usual, with many from this district in attendance.

Features of Saturday's program were the judging results in the Carleton and Russell counties' "Black and White Day," and the judging in the catte, horses, sheep and swine departments. Other attractions were the livestock competitions and horse-races.

Another highlight of the day was a band concert, given by the band of the 2nd Battalion Governor General's Foot Guards, of Ottawa, which was enjoyed by many visitors.

Among the prize winners in the livestock classes were many exhibitors from Winchester district.

YOUNG MAN GETS SIX MONTHS' TERM ON THEFT CHARGES

A young man giving his name as Donald McRae and who has been somewhat of a wanderer, pleaded guilty to two charges of theft before District Magistrate Wright in police court at Morrisburg on Friday. He drew a sentence of six months definite and two months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory. In Winchester village he got away with $45 and at a point east of Morrisburg he made a haul of $65. In each case the money was stolen from private residences.

Tanks Like These Often Seen In Winchester

More Donations To Park Fund Needed

The canvass in connection with the local 100 Club's Park Fund is still in progress, and donations are being received daily. Among the latest out-of-town subscriptions to the Fund was a $100.00 donation from Mr. Peter Gagnon, of Durham. Pete is an old Winchester boy, who, although he has been absent for several years, never loses interest in Winchester, where he has many close friends. The Club is also pleased to acknowledge a donation of $25.00 from Mr. George McCaffrey, wholesale tobacconist and confectioner, of Russell. George is not an old resident of Winchester, but he is keenly interested in the town's welfare,—hence the donation.

Just how far the 100 Club can go in transforming the Fair Grounds into a Community Park and Recreational Centre, will depend largely on the amount of money subscribed by local and former citizens of Winchester. Already more than sufficient funds have been subscribed to purchase the property. What counts now is the amount the Club will be able to raise by subscriptions for making the necessary improvements and providing facilities for recreational purposes. The more money the Club has at its disposal for developing the property, the better it will be. It's a scheme that every citizen, young or old, should be interested in, and one that should be of great benefit to Winchester in post-war years. True, there is the odd person who will knock the undertaking — every community has these perpetual knockers—they knock everything that comes along if they are asked for a donation, and if the truth were known, many of them have probably never contributed a cent to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Federated Charities, Churches, or other worthwhile cause—probably they haven't even purchased a War Savings Stamp or Victory Bond since the war started. It's these kind of people who make it difficult for the more progressive type of citizen to give of his best in the line of community service.

In the purchase of the Fair Grounds, the 100 Club is showing leadership towards progress, and that's what Winchester needs if it is to hold its place as a progressive community in the years to come. It is only one scheme the Club has in view for making Winchester a better place in which to live—if it goes over, there will be other objectives advanced by the Club.

If you have the town's interests at heart, if you care whether Winchester progresses or declines, if you want to do something for yourself and your fellow-citizens, get behind the 100 Club and give the organization some financial support. A donation to the Park Fund is a good start. Former citizens, or friends of Winchester, may send their contributions to the Press if they desire and an official acknowledgement will be sent to them. Donations, large or small, will be thankfully received.

Help Urgently Needed For Fruit Harvest

With large amounts of fruit and late vegetables still to be harvested, the call has gone out from the Ontario Farm Service Force for hundreds of men and women, boys and girls, to make this last great effort to save these crops which will be completely wasted unless the necessary help is forthcoming. All secondary school students who have been in farm camps will be going back to school next Monday, and volunteer workers to take their places are wanted at once.

For the camps in the Niagara Peninsula some 500 girls and young women are required immediately. They will be housed in splendid camps under supervision of the Y. W. C. A. and will be able to earn good wages at fruit picking.

For fruit and vegetable camps in various parts of the province between 300 and 400 men and boys are wanted at once. Their camps are under the Y. M. C. A. supervision and that number can be placed immediately if the necessary volunteers are forthcoming. One hundred boys are wanted for the vegetable camp at Holland Marsh, and the growers state that if 100 boys are available they can save $20,000 worth of vegetables each day for six weeks. If they are not forthcoming, these vegetables will have to rot in the ground, which would be disastrous from the standpoint of food supplies.

In addition, from 200 to 300 day workers are needed on fruit and vegetable farms in the area just west of Toronto. They will be transported to the farms daily and brought back when the day's work is finished.

If the required number of workers can be secured the fruit and vegetable camps will be kept in operation until the middle of October, by which time it is hoped that all of the crops will have been harvested.

Any men or women, boys or girls who can spare any time for this important national service are asked to apply at once, either in person or by letter or telephone call to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. The need is urgent.

FUELWOOD PRICES INCLUDE DELIVERY

Reports have reached the Prices Board of farmers having demanded maximum prices for fuelwood without being prepared to deliver it except at an extra charge. This is contrary to the fuelwood order which sets such prices with delivery included.

Local Baptist Church Held Interesting Anniversary Services

Last Sunday the Winchester Baptist Church observed its Anniversary Services. Floral decorations were all that could have been desired, attractively arranged and lending an air of festive beauty to the services. Special music, furnished by members of the choir, as well as their combined efforts in leading the congregational singing, was much appreciated.

Rev. S. S. Stock, of Madison Ave. Baptist Church, Montreal, brought two messages of marked spiritual power and penetration. The morning subject: "Lessons learned from life in God's School," was based on Deuteronomy, 8:2. He spoke of the discipline of the powers of memory, and the resulting treasures stored for encouragement and profit. An undisciplined memory can poison and poverish a life, whereas one schooled to retain the lessons God tries to teach us as we journey through life can greatly enrich and strengthen. So it is that a church can be greatly helped today by memories of the providence of the years since it began to function, to count as a factor in shaping the life of a community.

In the evening, a strong Gospel message, based on Math. 27:36, set forth the varying attitudes of people to the fact of Jesus' death as the Saviour of mankind. Some view it with apathy as the soldiers who felt the crucifixion little more than a job to be done. They could look on the suffering One with complete indifference. There were also those who looked on with antipathy. His pure life and searching teachings infuriated them—the sooner He was dead the better. Their ingenious cruelties were born of this hate. So there are some today who resent any interference with their way of life, particularly the thought that Jesus is one to be reckoned with. There were those looking on with sympathy. To them then, as now, He means much. Many, whose hearts have been so moved, have received Him as their Saviour from sin and rejoice in the consequent life resulting from that relationship. There were some of the first (apathetic) group who became sympathetic and believing as the centurion. In the second group, whose attitude was antipathy, there was at least one who had a change of heart and entered into a blessed relationship with Christ as he prayed "Lord, remember me . . ." Jesus replied: "This day thou shalt be with me in paradise." So it is that all may be transformed by the Holy Spirit into believers, regenerate ones, the delight of the Saviour's heart.

Assisting in the evening service were neighbouring pastors, Dr. T. A. Halpenny, Rev. Wallace McKinnon and Rev. P. D. Augustine, of Ormond. Representative groups from each of their congregations were present, well filling the church.

THANKSGIVING DAY, OCTOBER 11th

Thanksgiving Day in Canada will be observed Monday, October 11th, this year, it was announced recently by the Secretary of State's Department.

100 Club Held First Autumn Meeting, Friday

The local 100 Club resumed its luncheon-meetings on Friday evening last, after a suspension of such events during the months of July and August. There was a good turn-out of members and much business was discussed.

Centurian Albert Johnston presided, with Centurian Chester Robinson at the secretary's desk. Leading in a spirited sing-song was Centurian Chester Timmins, with Centurian John Burke as pianist.

Interesting reports were given during the evening, when it was revealed that the net proceeds from the two Street Carnivals, held recently, amounted to $613.00. The Park Finance Committee reported that subscriptions were coming in fine and that to date approximately $3,000 had been subscribed.

A donation of $25.00 was voted to the Women's Institute for the use of their dishes, and a further donation of $15.00 made for providing contents for 5 ditty bags for the sailors' relief fund. It was also decided to purchase a new pair of glasses for an underprivileged girl, on the recommendation of the Child Welfare Committee.

After discussion, it was decided to purchase some lumber and make a number of tables for use at the Luncheons, and also some frames for stands at the street carnivals.

Mr. W. J. L. Boyd, a new member, was introduced to the Centurians, and was given a hearty welcome.

On behalf of the local Boy Scout Troop, Centurian Walter Moffat thanked the Club for a recent donation made to that organization.

During the evening, a prize boost was conducted by Centurian W. A. Rowat on behalf of Centurian Harold Lannin. The winners were: Centurians Rev. Wallace MacKinnon, Ed. Libera and W. J. L. Boyd.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Mr. Carl Melvin, President of Melvin's Agencies Limited, Winnipeg, Man. He was introduced by Centurian Harry Flora and delivered a very interesting address on "Service Clubs, their Aims and Objects." During the course of his remarks, Mr. Melvin pointed out that the Service Club was the only organization whereby men of all races and creeds could sit down and plan things for the benefit of those less fortunate than the members, without being prejudiced by religious beliefs, political or fraternal affiliations or racial differences. He outlined some of the things achieved by Winnipeg Service Clubs, of which he is a member, and lauded the local 100 Club for the work it had already done and at present was undertaking. He said he was proud to retain his status as a citizen of Winchester. His frequent visits to the home town had made this possible, and he hoped to be able to continue his visits in the years to come.

Mr. Melvin said that every community should have its service club. Church organizations and Fraternal Orders are all very fine, but they do not reach out to the masses in the same sense as do service clubs, said the speaker. What does a man benefit if he has wealth and social security, and does not devote some of his time and money for the welfare of those less fortunate than he, through the efforts of the service club, said Mr. Melvin.

Mr. Melvin's address was very interesting and his remarks left plenty of food for thought. As he rose to speak, the Centurians joined in singing: "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow," and at the conclusion of his address Centurian W. J. Cass expressed the appreciation of the Club, paying high tribute to Mr. Melvin for the splendid manner in which he had outlined the need and work of the service club.

Thanks to the ladies of the Red Cross for a delightful meal was voiced on behalf of the 100 Club by Centurian Rev. Wallace MacKinnon. Those who assisted in serving were: Mrs. H. L. Flora, Mrs. Albert Johnston, Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Mrs. Leonard Porteous, Mrs. Wm. Seryage and Miss Helen Elliott.

Pat had bought a watch guaranteed for 12 months. At the end of nine months, however, he re-appeared at the shop and complained that the watch had stopped six months earlier when it had fallen into the pigs' trough.

"But why didn't you bring it back at once?" inquired the jeweller.

"How could I?" replied Pat. "We only killed the pig yesterday."

Heads Education Ass'n

DR. V. K. GREER NAMED PRESIDENT OF EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Dr. V. K. Greer, chief inspector of public and separate schools in Toronto, was recently chosen president of the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association, concluding its 21st convention at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec City. He succeeds Dr. W. P. Percival, director of Protestant education for the province of Quebec, who assumes the post of past president. Dr. Greer was a former resident of Winchester, and at one time was Inspector of Public Schools for Dundas County. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of the latest honour bestowed upon him.

WEDDINGS

GARLOUGH—CURRY

The Kenmore Baptist Church was the setting for a pretty double wedding on Saturday, September 11th, 1943, at 2.30 o'clock, when Misses Lulu Mae and Elva Martha Curry, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Curry, Kenmore, became the brides of Messrs. Carl Simon and Earl Dixon Garlough, eldest sons of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Garlough, of Winchester. Rev. L. H. Vail, of Kenmore, officiated.

The church was prettily decorated with cut flowers and white and blue ribbons. The organ was presided over by Miss Jennie Carkner, of Kenmore, and the vocalist, Mr. Arthur Carkner, gave a beautiful rendition of "Love Never Faileth."

The brides were attended by their sisters, Mrs. Earl Snider, of Ottawa, and Miss Lillian Curry, Kenmore. Messrs. Charles and Ralph Walker, of Winchester, were best men. The ushers were Mr. Glen Warren, of Ottawa, and Mr. Bert Garlough, of Winchester.

The brides wore wedding gowns of white embroidered satin with sheer. Their only trimming was orange blossoms on the shoulders. With full skirts and finger-tip sleeves they wore shoulder-length veils and carried bouquets of pink and white gladioli. The bridesmaids wore pink and blue net over taffeta with a wreath of pink roses in their hair, and carried bouquets of yellow and pink gladioli. The brides' only ornaments were gold lockets, gifts of the grooms.

Mrs. Curry, mother of the brides, wore black crepe with black and white accessories. Mrs. Garlough, mother of the grooms, wore navy with navy and white accessories. Both wore corsages of mixed flowers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the brides, where a buffet luncheon was served to 80 or more guests. Later, the young couples left by motor on their honeymoon trip to Kingston and points further west.

One of the brides travelled in a biege suit with black accessories, the other in a black pencil-stripe suit with beige accessories. On their return they will reside in Winchester.

FOUR YEARS OF WAR

We look back with amazement on four years of war—Canada's remarkable production record, her decisive part in holding the lifeline of the Atlantic and in gaining mastery of the air, her troops in the spearhead of the assault on the Fortress Europe. Finally, as a climax, the most momentous conference of the war has just been completed on Canadian soil. Almost overnight Canada has been thrust into the status of a world power.

What does this fifth year hold for us?

These last years have tested both our defences and our offensive power. In every instance we have come out on top. Now in the coming year we have other severer tests to meet, more dangerous ones perhaps unless we see what is at stake.

First of all, on the home front there is still a battle to be won. Have we the honesty and discipline which will hold off inflation? Can we, under increasing strains and pressures, maintain and step-up our industrial teamwork? These defences must be held by every employer, worker and consumer at home.

There is a further test, larger in scope and more difficult to recognize. Already one dictator has gone, and piece by piece, from without and from within, the structure he built is being torn down. One ideology is on the way out. What will take its place? We cannot leave Europe in the state of the man in the biblical parable—swept and garnished and ready to be taken over by seven other devils.

A blue print is needed for the post-war world, worked out not on paper only but in the life of a nation, which has proved what honest teamwork means between race and race and between industrialist, worker and farmer, a nation which uses its resources for the good of all and the exploitation of none.

The Fathers of Confederation have shown us what we can do. They built a nation when they were brought together by a vision and a faith which overarched all differences of race, political creed and economic interest. With that vision and faith rekindled in us today, we can produce that blueprint—a pattern every other nation will covet for itself. This is our essential task in the building of a new world.

This is the test which the fifth year of war is calling Canada to meet.

INSURANCE OR TAX?

From a small Ontario town comes the story of one phase of unemployment insurance. An elderly man, retired some years ago, has been induced to help out the labor shortage by taking a job in a local shop. Inspectors of the Unemployment Insurance Commission have insisted that he take out an insurance book and make his contributions weekly. His intention is to return to retirement as soon as he can be spared, so that he will not be eligible for insurance benefit, even if he makes a sufficient number of contributions to qualify for it.

The incident illustrates one fallacy of the unemployment insurance plan. With fire or life insurance every individual is free to choose whether he wishes to be insured or not and to fit his insurance program to his own needs. Insurance agents are loath to admit that anyone is ever carrying enough insurance, but they would be equally loath to work for a company which had one form of policy only, even though every citizen had to buy one.

In the case cited, the weekly premium paid by the elderly employee is nothing but a tax on his right to work. The compulsory payments made by many other employees fall in the same class. Married women who have taken war jobs, stenographers who plan to get married as soon as they can manage it, will probably never receive any benefits from their premiums. The beneficiaries will be the men who are now earning good wages at war work, and are or should be putting something aside to tide them over possible unemployment when their jobs come to an end.

The tax may be necessary, since the appetite of the Department of National Revenue is insatiable, but calling it insurance does not make it more attractive to those who have to pay it.—Printed Word.

COL. DREW RESTORES DIGNITY

Col. Geo. Drew, who began his premiership reign in Ontario by avoiding the time-honored vulgarity of wholesale dismissals of his predecessors' appointees, has added to good sense the dignity of an attempt to secure co-operation with the province of Quebec. In Quebec City and Montreal to confer with Premier Godbout and his ministers, he says:—"My purpose in coming to Quebec is to discuss our mutual problems, having particular regard to the necessity for collaboration in post-war plans in which our interests coincide."

Had there been more of this spirit in the government of Ontario during the past eight years, a lot of trouble and bitterness would have been avoided. Instead, and most unfortunately, we had government dictated by public and private vendettas, and invariably accompanied by vulgarity.

In his effort to restore dignity, the public respect which government must have if it is to enjoy confidence, Col. Drew is to be commended, says the Ottawa Journal, and the Press is of the same opinion.

YESTERDAY — TODAY — FOREVER

Let us forget the hurts of yesterday,
Its sorrows and mistakes;
The lowering clouds, that lengthened out the hours,
The failures and heartaches.

For this new day, let good an entrance gain,
That love may fill some need,
Forgetting self—that through the shining hours,
We do some kindly deed.

Glimpsing the vastness of the path we tread,
Earth's values fade and flee;
The dawn is near of God's Eternity,
"The best is yet to be."

It has been announced by the Ontario Department of Highways that no new metal markers for automobiles will be issued in the coming year. Instead, windshield labels will be used similar to those which now denote how much gasoline a man is entitled to. This is a great saving in labor and in material, both of which are badly needed at this stage in our war effort. An accurate check of automobile or truck operators will still be possible through the current year's records and the Government's license fee can be collected just the same.

A farmer was in urgent need for a manure spreader, and filled out the lengthy application form of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the last line of which said "What is the implement to be used for?" As he had mentioned the name manure spreader a couple of times higher in the form, the farmer didn't think it necessary to fill in this blank.

After waiting a week or so, back came the form with the statement that he had neglected to fill in what the machine was to be used for.

The farmer was so angry at the delay that he worte "To go to church in" and sent it back. The permit to buy the spreader came along in a few days.—Picton Gazette.

The churches are likely to be given some attention by the Fuel Controller as he has already intimated that a scheme should be worked out in the various towns and cities to curtail the use of unnecessary fuel in order that there may be sufficient to take care of the homes. We recall, says an exchange, that during the last war four of the town's churches united for one winter and held union services in the town hall, thereby saving a very considerable amount of fuel. It is quite possible some scheme such as this may be considered again this winter. Certainly homes cannot go without fuel, and the saving provided by union of services in the town hall would take care of quite a number of homes.

A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

By Jim Greenblat

At 12.20 p.m. on Sept. 8, in the Prime Minister's office in the East Block your representative was among those gathered at one or the most momentous press conferences since the outbreak of war. The text of statements to be braadcast ten minutes later by General Eisenhower to the world, telling of Italy's exit from the war, to be followed by Mr. King's radio statement to the Canadian people were distributed. Then the P. M. made the announcement to the little gathering, mainly members of the press gallery. From that office, redolent of Canadian political history and haunted by shadows of Macdonald, Laurier and others—went the gladsome tidings to you out on farms, ranches, fishing smacks,

* * * *

The news came little more than a day after Finance Minister Ilsley's annoucement of Canada's Fifth Victory Loan opening October 18th with a minimum cash objective of $1,200,000,000. Thrilled with the dismemberment of the Axis, realistic newsmen present at the conference, nevertheless commented they hoped Canadians wouldn't let the news lull them into any false sense of security insofar as the war is concerned, and affect their contribution to the objective's attainment. They as well as the government are convinced that a severe and costly struggle still lies ahead. The remaining enemy is still powerful. The appeal goes out to readers of weekly papers, who by and large make up the much sought after "smaller subscribers" to assure ultimate victory by supporting the Fifth War Loan.

The other night late I passed the National Research Council Building. Lights were glowing in windows. Geared to much hush-hush war research, this outfit gets little publicity these days but those who know say a very tremendously important job is being done within those grey walls, and much of it by young men and women who grew up in rural areas. Only some of the results attained are given out, about things which will affect our post-war living. For instance, in connection with Irish moss (seaweed) a processing procedure has been developed producing odorless, tasteless, light colored preparation giving a strong jelly incanning. Several million pounds of Irish moss is harvested on the East coast annually. In drying pork they found ways of getting an excellent product retaining 75 per cent. of the natural B1 vitamin content after cooking and drying. Astounding things they have evolved in aircraft production, leather substitutes, plastics, too.

The new ration allowance for jams, jellies, etc., and new regulations pertaining, are really important concessions to the rural people of Canada, who for the most part do their own preserving. As country stores were rarely well stocked with those commodities—of recent years—there was a cry of "inequality" and probably with justification. The new order means, in effect, sugar for the folks out there for their fall apple sauce and more particularly sugar with which to sweeten preserves which they put up earlier without sugar.

Ration book distribution is about over completely. It was the largest single printing order ever placed in Canada. Proper precautions had to be taken in connection with proper dyes, designs, on account of possible counterfeiting, etc. . . . each month an average of 5000 Canadians lose their ration books . . . 48 million coupons are handled each week by merchants, wholesalers and banks.

Have seen a reproduction of the new sticker which in future will go on all shipments of goods from Canada to the United Nations. It is in gold, blue and red, centered by a maple leaf and the word "Canada" in English, also in Chinese and Russian. Very attractive. In connection with the new Canadian Mutual Aid Board, it is understood that Canada's allies will furnish Canada with supplies or services in return if they can, or may assure the return after the war of any supplies or equipment which may appear to have post-war use. Meanwhile, there will be no piling up of huge war debts by the sale of supplies to the United Nations for payment after the war or the institution of indefinite and uncertain post-war obligations.

Notes for you and you: In studying the consistency of soils, agricultural scientists note whether a soil is crumbly, friable, mellow, soft, firm, tough, hard, compact, cemented, plastic or porous. The friability of soil, its capacity to be easily crumbled into small pieces, has often a great influence on the productivity of soil . . . September is the best time to divide and transplant peonies, but they should not be moved more often than once in five years unless a special reason exists for doing so . . . Parcels for your boys or girls overseas to catch Christmas delivery have a deadline of November 1, according to the Post Office Department which faces a gigantic task this year—help yourself by cooperating . . . Ottawa recorded over 9 inches of rainfall during August.

One keeps marvelling at the figures which keep coming out about Canada's part in producing for the war. An example: in the year 1940, we produced three types of small arms to the value of four and a half million dollars Do you know that for the first four months of 1943 we were producing twenty types valued at $23,000,000 and there were 30,000 working in the arsenals and plants, half of them women.

Not gone and not forgotten! Dr. J. H. Keith, Naitonal Secretary of the League of Nations, speaking to a service club in Ottawa the other day said in part: "the League of Nations is not dead; it is carrying on its work in a way which will be useful and beneficial to the future of Canada and to the future of the world." He said that in the Atlantic Charter we have the promises of idealism to be worked ou in years to come—that the League stands for just that.

Bureau of Statstics estimates on Canadian fruit crops have been revised since July, showing apples upward, but an 8 per cent. drop from 1942; pears are down a third from 1942; plums some down; peaches will show a decrease of 70 per cent. over the previous year; grapes will be well above the five-year average.

Army Public Relations gives a story out giving us an idea how troops in Canada are looked after to keep them from getting too bored in off hours. Such organizations as the Canadian Legion, Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus do a grand job in this direction. During the first week in August, for instance, 69,804 books were in circulation, 65,277 magazines and 10,948 papers were distributed; 1,464 motion pictures were shown in camps, with an attendance of over 380,000 men. In July they had more than 400 dances for the lads, with an attendance of 150,000. There are about 175 civilian concert parties on the go and more than 4,000 individuals giving one or two nights a week to assist them—which all goes to show that even if the boys are 'a-wearying for you' they do and see things.

After standing bare for three years, the flag pole which juts out from the former Italian Consulate's offices in Ottawa carried a fluttering Union Jack on the afternoon the news came of the capitulation. The supernitendent of the building hurriedly did the trick to celebrate. The Italian colony here were jubilant, even a bonfire in the middle of the street resulted from one jamboree.

The Canadian cost-of-living index was up 118.2 to 119.2 in July, the sixth consecutive month with a rise, which is not viewed with satisfaction in official circles. This affects cost-of-living bonuses for workers in most industries and if continued bonuses would have to be increased effective November 15, if October's index had a rise of this nature. The bonus is adjusted quarterly, based on the index. Increased cost of living does not run parallel with the best tenets of price control.

Our Column

The post-war world will be just the same as the pre-war world if the post-war people are.

We can't imagine why the Nazis went to so much trouble to kidnap Mussolini unless it is to salvage the waste fat.

Now they tell us that the back of the neck is the safest place to kiss a girl. We never had any hint that safety entered into the matter at all.

Work is a grand cure for all the maladies and miseries that ever beset mankind—honest work, which you intend getting done.—Thomas Carlyle.

Never a tear bedims the eye that time and patience will not dry; Never a lip is curved with pain that can't be kissed into smiles again.—Bret Harte.

If you are inclined to be impressed by the peope who shout the loudest, remember that an orchestra is guided by the conductor's baton, and not by the big drum.

It is proposed to pool church services during the coming winter to save fuel. With it there will arise the problem of pooling the collections as well.

Some people are just terrified of feeling deeply about anything. They spend years training themselves not to exercise their emotions. Then they wonder why they are bored to tears.

Rommel attended the funeral of King Boris of Bulgaria. However, he was absent from the funeral of his armies in Tunisia. Rommel gets around but he doesn't seem to get any place.

The Seven Ages of Ambition are: To be like dad; to be a fireman; to fly an airplane; to be famous; to make a lot of money; to make ends meet; to hang on long enough to draw an old-age pension.

Most of us would get a shock if we realized exactly why our friends liked us. We should find that they hardly noticed virtues of which we were proud, and thought that weaknesses of which we were half-ashamed were lovable.

DISPOSITION TELLS

(Guelph Mercury)

It is not the weather, nor where they live nor whether they are poor or rich, that makes people grouchy. It's their disposition.

WHEN THE BOMBS FELL

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

Where were Hitler, Goering, Himmler, et al., when the British raiders descended on Berlin? It is a good guess that some of them wished they had gone to Britain with Rudolf Hess.

HERE'S ONE FOR THE BOOKS

(Canadian Cigar & Tobacco Journal)

A man bought several hundred very expensive cigars, and then had them insured against fire. After he had smoked them all, he put in a claim that they were destroyed by fire. The insurance company refused to pay and the man sued.

The judge decided that as the company agreed to insure the cigars against fire, and had given the man a policy, it was financially responsible.

As soon as the man accepted the money, the insurance company had him arrested on the charge of arson.

FEW SEE IT

(Editor and Publisher)

Among the casualties on the home front in this war are the tempers of small-town editors who find it necessary to draft high school boys to replace printers, some gone into the armed forces, others to better-paying jobs.

One of these neophytes was setting ads in the office of Somerset American the other day. The copy called for "1-2 inch of white space all around."

"What's white space?" asked the pseudo-printer of the plant superintendent, who took the count, almost.

REMOVING THE RESTRICTIONS

(Brockville Recorder & Times)

Everyone will say "Amen" to the contention of Edgar G. Burton, retail trade administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, that wartime restrictions should be removed as speedily as possible and perhaps "even before the Germans are knocked out of the war."

Canadians on the whole have accepted these restrictions in the best of spirit, but there can be no sense whatever in prolonging them beyond that time when they are really needed, and there are now a good many signs that the government is very much of the same mind.

MOVE IN RIGHT DIRECTION

(Almonte Gazette)

There are signs the powers that be are at last taking the bull by the horns in the announcement that Canada's military force—for home defence—will be reduced by some 20,000 men.

This is a move that is overdue and will be received with favor. There has been a growing murmur all across Canada against the apparent waste of money on the reserve army and on the (onlies) those who signed up for service in Canada only. As the possibility of attack on this country recedes, their usefulness diminishes.

If physically unfit for military service overseas, they could serve their country better by helping to relieve the man-power shortage in necessary industrial work.

IT COULD BE

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

Taking the text, "What's wrong with Democracy?" and adding to that our observation that "the seats in these public halls are too hard," as an explanation of why electors prefer to remain at home, Newton Kendall, The Sideliner in the Toronto Telegram, has this to say:

"But we doubt very much if conditions could be improved by cushioning the seats. A more dynamic appeal is needed than loud-speaker language drifting in off the impersonal air-lanes. Yesterday's candidate for office aroused much mirth by his baby-kissing technique, but can one deny that he got closer to the people than does the vote-seeker in a remote broadcasting station? Our idea is, the man who bent over the perambulator made the better impression."

ONE FREEDOM TOO MANY

(Prescott Journal)

We get terribly confused at this business known as Selective Service. We read last week where "press gangs" of policemen were combing pool rooms, bowling alleys, lunch bars, and such hang-outs in search of draft dodgers and loafers who should have been in war industry long since. That was swell. But right on our main street we bump into a couple of ne'er-do-wells who had been called up in the latest draft, had been found unfit, and promptly turned loose to return to their pool hall haunts, only doing a bit of work when they can no longer mooch another smoke.

We may be wrong, but it seems to us that the Selective Service ought to have a little more purpose than it has shown. If a young fellow is found unfit for the various armed services, and is not engaged in some essential industry, then he should be placed there by the Board. If not in industry, then at farm labor, and if he still is inclined to shirk, then place him with the conscientious objectors at road building. At any rate, there should be no such freedom from responsibility such as these idlers enjoy.

School Doctor: "Were the glasses prescribed for you or your mother?"

Peyton: "Neither one, doctor. They are dad's."

CUT 2 CENTS A BUSHEL OFF YOUR FEED GRAIN BILL

Dominion Government offers 2c per bushel reduction on Western feed grain if orders placed in September, plus free freight from head of lakes.

To encourage production of urgently needed beef, hogs and poultry the above offer is now made by the Government to Eastern Canadian farmers. If your order is placed in October the reduction is 1½c per bushel; in November 1c per bushel; and in December ½c per bushel. Last winter deliveries were held up because of weather and other causes. Order your feed grain now, play safe and save money.

LOANS TO FARMERS — Should you need cash to finance the immediate purchase of feed grain the Manager of your local Royal Bank branch will be glad to discuss a loan with you.

Urgent Appeal For Knitters.

The monthly packing and executive meeting of Mountain Township Red Cross was held in Mountain on Monday evening, Sept. 13th. The treasurer reported the following receipts: South Mountain Unit, $98.13, from sale of Tags on Fair Day, and $23.47 from Booth; Vancamp Unit, $64.86, returns from raffle on quilt, and Inkerman Unit, $10.00.

Correspondence was read, containing a very urgent appeal for sweaters and gloves. The calls for them are overwhelming. Newfoundland is in urgent need of navy and grey turtle neck sweaters. Every woman should endeavour to knit at least one turtle-neck sweater. Mountain Township has 51 sweaters on their quota. If you can possibly knit a sweater, speak to your convenor for yarn. One of our convenors had had word from her son who is in England, telling her the necks of the sweaters are much better knit either a high neck or a round neck, in preference to a V-neck sweater. Another convenor who has a sister working in a distributing centre in London, said she had received a letter telling her to thank the women of her Branch for the lovely knitted articles and comforts received from Canada. These reports are encouraging. Let us each and every one do our utmost to help sew and knit for our local unit.

The following aticles were forwarded to Toronto: 11 quilts, 1 crib quilt, 9 dresses, 5 undervests, 8 pr. underpants, 19 officers' shirts, 3 pr. 26-inch seamen's socks, 1 pr. 18-inch seamen's socks, 2 ladies' sweaters, 2 girls' sweaters, 3 long sleeved sweaters, 3 pr. khaki gloves, 17 pr. socks, 1 helmet, 3 turtle-neck sweaters.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Willowware

To clean willow-ware scour with a brush, using a strong solution of salt water.

Tough Meat

When pounding meat that is tough, pound flour into it to retain the juices which would otherwise be lost.

Candles.

Candles will burn and last much longer if they are placed on ice for about twenty-four hours before using.

Mucilage.

To make a good mucilage mix equal parts of gum arabic and tragacanth. Dissolve in hot water to the desired consistency.

Labelling Tins.

When putting up fruit or vegetables in tin cans, moisten the gummed label with glycerin and it will make it adhere to the tin.

Ink Stains.

Fresh ink stains can usually be removed if the spots are soaked in cold milk and the milk changed as fast as the ink discolors it.

Sweet Butter

Always cover the sweet butter carefully to prevent it from absorbing odors and flavors from other foods in the refrigerator.

To Clean Marble.

Marble can be cleaned by mixing two parts soda, one part pumice and one part salt. Then powder and mix to a paste with water, and scour.

Grapes

When preserving grapes, select the best clusters, pick off all the decayed ones, drop a bit of sealing wax on the ends of the stems and hang up in the cellar.

Potatoes

When storing potatoes discard all that show any sign of decay or sprout. Pile the potatoes in the basement and cover well with straw, or with burlap.

Sponges

Sponges can be cleaned thoroughly if they are soaked in milk for three or four hours, then wrung out until perfectly dry. Finish by rinsing well in hot water.

Ventilation.

The room can be ventilated at night without soiling curtains if bags of muslin are made and the curtains slipped into them, pinning the bag to the top of the curtain.

Tennis Racks.

Before putting the tennis racket away for the winter, cover the strings with vaseline. This will prevent snapping of the strings during the time the racket is not in use.

Large Buttons

If a dress has large buttons, use several thicknesses of Turkish towels, or a blanket, on which to iron them. The buttons will sink into the padding and leave a smooth surface for the iron.

Plant Fertilizer.

One simple and beneficial fertilizer for the plants is a little ammonia mixed in with the water used to sprinkle the plants. This not only fertilizes the soil but tends to keep away many insects.

Coffee Pot

To sweeten and clean the coffee or tea pot, put a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in it, fill with water and let it boil for a few minutes. Then rinse in several changes of warm water.

Satin

To renovate satin material, rub over the soiled spots with a cake composed of magnesia and prepared chalk. Follow the grain of the goods. Let it remain for several hours and then rub off with a soft cloth.

Mildew.

Mildew can be removed from clothing by the use of soft soap with powdered starch, half as much common salt and the juice of half a lemon. After applying the solution lay in the sun to dry. If the mildew is on linen use four tablespoons of peroxide to one quart of water, using enough water to cover the garment, then boiling until the stains come out.

THE SHUTTLES OF ETERNITY

Ever life flows on about us,
And we are made to choose
What form the lasting pattern favors,
The dark or brilliant hues.

Not till the loom is silent
And the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall Time unroll the canvas,
And explain the reason why.

The dark threads are as needed
In the Weaver's skilful hand,
As the thread of gold and silver
In the pattern He has planned.

—Dorothy Sproule.

BLINDNESS

Dear Lord, she prayed, please help me find
Someone to whom I can give aid,
Someone to whom I can be kind,
For I have failed; 'tis thus she prayed

Today she passed upon the street
An urchin loathesome to behold,
In ragged clothes and shoeless feet,
Yet inside he'd a heart of gold.

She saw a blind man, tall and slim,
Heedlessly she heard his sigh,
She cast a sidelong glance at him
And with the Crowd went rushing by

Unanswered by the Lord, she thought
Was her so earnest plea
Unanswered though her prayer was not,
She hadn't eyes to see.

PAPER STICKERS TO BE MARKERS FOR CARS IN 1944

Instead of new 1944 steel automobile license plates, Ontario motorists next year will be supplied with windshield stickers, Hon. George H. Doucett, Minister of Highways, announced last week. He intimated that the stickers would be about two and a half by six inches in size, but said the design and color had not yet been determined. Their place on the windshield also is yet to be announced, dependent on decision of the Oil Controller as to gasoline ration stickers on windshields.

Mr. Doucett explained that the stickers are to be issued in place of steel markers because the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has prohibited the use of steel for license plates. He warned, however, that the 1943 marker now carried on the rear of automobiles is to be retained and advised all motorists to preserve present plates.

The license number on the new stickers, Mr. Doucett said, would not correspond with the present license number, but both would be entered on the driver's license.

Though the use of stickers is expected to result in a saving for the Department of Highways, Mr. Doucett was not prepared to estimate at present how much this would be. Place of manufacure also was not stated. Present steel markers are produced at the Guelph Reformatory.

OBITUARY

LATE MRS. JAMES FRASER

The many friends of the late Mrs. James Fraser will be sorry to hear of her death at her home in Oakland, California, on September 15th. The former Lovina Euphemia Cameron, she was born at Scottsville, N. Y., seventy-six years ago, coming to Canada with her parents at an early age and resided at Winchester Springs, later moving to Vernon.

Her marriage to James Fraser took place at Vernon in 1890, where they resided for many years, later moving to Osgoode Station. Seventeen years ago they moved to Oakland, Calif., where Mr. Fraser passed away in July, 1936.

She is survived by one daughter and three sons, Ina, Maynard and Hamish, of Oakland, Calif., and Kenneth, of Tacoma, Wash., also three brothers, Angus, of Pickering, James, of Vernon, and David, of Wettock, Wash. A sister, Mrs. Jas. Kennedy, of Vernon, and a brother, John, of Russell, predeceased her.

The funeral was held in Oakland, Calif., on Saturday, September 18th.

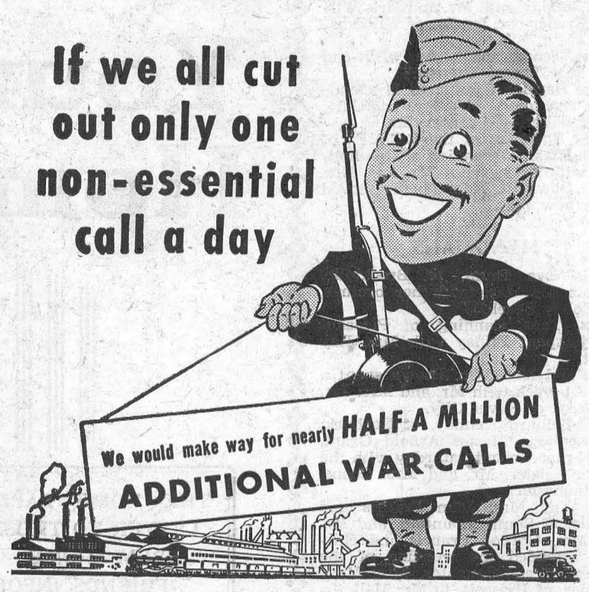
BINGO PRIZES NOT ALWAYS SUITABLE TO THE WINNERS

At a bingo party in the Morrisburg skating rink, sponsored by the Morrisburg Lions' Club, recently, 21 games were played and as many prizes distributed. Sometimes the prize failed to meet the needs or desires of the winner, as, for instance, a permanent wave fell to Robert Loucks, Collegiate student and athlete, while a smoker went to Miss Audrey Fraser, youthful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fraser. Harry Street was winner of 1,000 pounds of coal, while Harold Coligan, Morrisburg, and David Mulligan, Cardinal, won each $5 worth of war savings stamps.

Wife: What did you ever do that benefited any fellowman?
Hubby: I married you, didn't I?

Be kind to people and then, when you have been as kind as you possibly can, be a little kinder still.

If we all cut out only one non-essential call a day



War calls must come first . . .

which means that we should reduce our non-essential use of the telephone to the minimum. Present facilities cannot be increased; your co-operation is needed if war calls are to go through promptly. ¶ Please remember that the wasteful use of telephone time can hold up war business —and that every second you save counts.

PUMPMEN URGENTLY NEEDED

The Department of National Defence (Air Service) is asking for applications for enlistment in the category of Pumpman for Public Works and Buildings. The need for such men is urgent. Here are the qualifications necessary for pumpmen:

Candidates must have a satisfactory knowledge of the operation, care, and maintenance of all types of pumps, accessories, etc., used in connection with water fuel and sewage systems. Applicants must also have a working knowledge of power equipment normally employed in the operating of pumps. A good knowledge of water chlorination and sewage disposal systems, is desirable but not essential. Should be familiar with the reading of meters, water line testing, and have ability to take daily tests of sewage offluent, and make out reports.

Men wishing to place an application for this particular trade, should apply at No. 12 Recruiting Centre, R.C.A.F., 132 Queen St., Ottawa, Ont.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 3 - 9.

The week of October 3-9 has been set aside by Royal Proclamation as Fire Prevention Week for the purpose of impressing upon the public consciousness the enormous waste of life and property occasioned by fire and the means to be taken to reduce this tragic and unnecessary wastage.

When it is considered that Canada's loss by fire in 1942 was 304 lives and over $31,000,000 property damage, it is easily apparent that something must be done about it. Fire is a disease that annually saps our national wealth and every citizen should resolve to do his bit to wipe out this menace to our happiness and prosperity.

Every citizen can be a soldier in this campaign by simply being careful with fire, by disciplining himself in his smoking habits, by seeing that every fire hazard in his home, store or factory is removed and by knowing what to do should a fire start. Our soldiers, sailors and airmen are battling a grim enemy on far-away fronts. Let us battle that other enemy—the Fire Demon—on the "Home Front." We too can help to win the war by preventing fires. Every fire is small in its incipiency but it might reach the proportions of a conflagration. Our duty is to see that a fire does not start.

Shortly, in the press, over the radio, in theatres and from the platform, John Q. Citizen will be exhorted to use every care with fire, not only during Fire Prevention Week but every week in the year. It would be well for him to take this advice to heart and to make Canada a fire-safe country in which to live. We need only to call to mind two holocausts which have occurred during the past year in order to show the tragedy which can follow in the wake of fire. These are the Cocoanut Grove Night Club fire in Boston in which 491 people lost their lives, and the Knights of Columbus Hostel fire in St. Johns, Newfoundland, in which 99 lives were snuffed out. We can't be too careful with fire.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

1. Is it all right for the bridegroom to give his bride something for the home as his wedding gift?

2. Is it obligatory for a guest at a christening to bring a gift for the baby?

3. Is the dessert at meals considered a separate course?

4. Should a woman refer to her husband as "Mr. Jones" when talking with an acquaintance?

5. In what way can one acquire the art of listening to another person's talking?

6. Should the fork or the spoon be used for eating peas?

Answers

1. No; even if he cannot afford to spend much, it must be something for her own personal adornment. 2. It is not obligatory, but is customary. 3. Yes. 4. It would be better to say "my husband" even when talking with a stranger. "Mr. Jones" can be reserved for the servants and employees. 5. The only way is to train one's self to concentrate closely on what the other person is saying. 6. The fork should be used.

"Excuse me, constable," said the meek-looking little man, "but I've been waiting here for my wife for over half an hour. Would you be good enough to order me to move on?"

TOMATOES ARE A GOOD SOURCE OF VITAMIN C

Hello Homemakers! Tomatoes are our second-best source of Vitamin C (Ascorbic Acid), which we must have in adequate quantity in our daily diet to keep the mouth and gums in good condition and aid in building sound bones, teeth and blood vessels. Citrus fruits—oranges, lemons, grapefruit, tangerines, are the best. In case supplies of these may be curtailed, we who live outside the citrus belt should eat raw tomatoes and juice generously, and can all the surplus home-grown and market-bought tomatoes possible. Then we will have an inexpensive source of Vitamin C for the winter and spring months. It is likely that commercially canned tomatoes and tomato juice will be available for those unable to can at home.

Luckily, tomatoes and tomato juice are easier to "put down" than most products. Although some vitamin C is lost in home canning, the following methods will prevent the loss of the least number of Vitamin C units.

RECIPES

Canned Whole Tomatoes

Wash the tomatoes in cool water. Scald a few tomatoes at a time to loosen the skins. Remove the cone-shaped core and any green portions of each tomato and slip off the skins. Remove the small black spot at the blossom ends. Cut the tomatoes into quarters or leave them whole, and pack them into the containers. Press them down just hard enough to form enough juice to fill the spaces and cover the solids. Fill containers to within 1-4 inch from the top, adding 1 teaspoonful of salt to each quart of tomatoes. Add no water, seal all jars completely, then loosen 1-4 inch. Process in a boiling water bath (pint jars 35 minutes; quart jars 45 minutes). If tomatoes are heated and packed boiling hot, process them 10 minutes.

Tomato Juice

Wash, trim and quarter the tomatoes, but do not peel them. Put the pieces into a pan, crush them slightly to set free enough juice to start the cooking. Cover the kettle, and simmer the fruit gently until the tomatoes are soft but not mushy. Force the pulp while hot through a sieve remove the seeds. Bring the strained or colander which is fine enough to tomato juice just to the boiling point. Transfer the boiling hot juice to the hot fruit jars or bottles. Add 1 teaspoon of salt to each quart of tomato juice and from 1 to 3 teaspoonfuls of sugar, if desired. Seal the jars or cap the bottles and process them in a boiling water bath for ten minutes.

Canned Tomato Soup

1 peck ripe tomatoes, 6 large onions, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 1 large head celery, 3-4 cup flour, [illegible] salt, 1-4 teaspoon cayenne pepper.

Wash tomatoes, cut in pieces, add onions and celery washed and cut. Boil these until very soft. Press through a sieve. Put again on the stove and add sugar, salt, butter, flour and cayenne pepper. When blended, slowly mix with the strained tomato. Heat to boiling and let cook until thickened. Pour into sterilized jars and seal, and sterilize 10 minutes.

Chili Sauce

1 six-quart basket tomatoes, 8 onions (chopped), 4 green peppers (chopped), 2 cups cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt. 2 cups corn syrup, 4 tablespoons mixed pickling spices (tied in a bag).

Peel the tomatoes and cut in pieces. Chop onions and peppers. Put in large preserving kettle. Cook slowly, uncovered, for 3 hours or until thick. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once. Yield: approximately 7 pints.

TAKE A TIP:

To dry herbs for winter use, gather on a dry day just before they begin to flower. Dry them quickly in the warming oven or near the range. Then strip leaves from stalk. Dry in a moderately hot oven and rub between palms of hands until reduced to a powder. Pass through a fine sieve and put in hot, perfectly dry bottles, cork tightly and store for use.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. E. D. says: "How can you prevent tomatoes boiling out of jars in oven canning?"

Answer: Place the jars in two cake pans with an inch of water in pans (jars one inch apart). Do not use broiling pan unless the bottom is flat. The electric oven is preheated to 300 degrees, then the jars are put in and reset to 275 degrees. If the temperature falls lower (as indicated by the oven light) notice the time when temperature is again 275 and calculate 35 minutes cooking time. Do not open if there is a space at top—this is a vacuum.

Miss M. A. says: "Remind folks that a clove of garlic is a small section of the garlic bulb."

Mr. E. H. asks about dill—see drying of herbs.

Answer: Substitute 2 sprigs of dill for 1 1-2 tablespoons dill seed.

Mrs. C. M. D. asks: "Will the salt solution destroy flavour of peaches to be canned open-kettle method?"

Answer: Use the proportion of two teaspoonfuls salt to each quart of water and do not allow peaches to stand in the solution over 30 minutes, oven canning for 20 minutes in electric oven at 250 degrees after.

MacIntosh Clan Held Annual Picnic

The 4th annual MacIntosh picnic was held Monday, Sept. 6th, Labour Day, at the camp grounds of Dr. P. A. MacIntosh, Doran's Point, one mile east of Iroquois. By noon about 300 people had arrived, and as a real Scotch picnic would not be just right unless the skirl of the bagpipes were heard, Piper Calvin Gordon was on hand with his famous band. They were assisted later by Bob McVey of Prescott. After stirring pieces were rendered, all sat down to dinner, and by appearances many a hen roost was invaded the night before. During the afternoon a program was given. Dr. P. A. MacIntosh acted as chairman and gave an interesting talk on the history of the MacIntosh family, exhibiting a large piece of the original MacIntosh Red apple tree which was discovered in 1811 and killed when a house burned near it in 1894. The fame of this apple has spread around the world wherever apple trees grow or apples are eaten. A monument to the tree was erected at Dundela by the Horticulturists of the district and stands on the original MacInosh farm near where the apple tree grew.

A unique exhibit was an old rocking chair brought over from Scotland about 1776 by Janet MacIntosh, mother of the pioneer John MacIntosh, for her comfort on the old sailing ship during the long voyage. It is in possession of Mr. James Keeler, Rexford, N. Y., who, with his wife, took time off to motor up to the picnic, bringing the chair along. It is of the style with a short rocker, bark seat and ladder runner back but built very strongly.

Rev. L. M. Somerville, of Spencerville, was first on the program and spoke kindly of the members of the clan who died during the past year. These were: Mr. Edward Hodge, of Iroquois; Mrs P. A. McIntosh, of Spencerville; Mr. C. E. Bennett, of Round Lake, N. Y., and Capt. Dwight VanAllen, of Morrisburg, who was killed overseas. Two minutes' silence was observed by all standing after which the band played the MacIntosh Lamment.

Three new arrivals in the clan—Baby Baldwin and Babies Cassidy, received their names, being baptized by Rev. Mr. Somerville. The water used in the baptisms was first brought from Jerusalem, some six years ago, and second by water from Loch Moy in Scotland. This loch lies along the MacIntoshes' chief residence, Moy Holl in Invernesshire in Scotland, and the water was sent by the late Chief Alfred Donald Mackintosh, of Mackintosh.

Mr. Wilfred Coons delighted the picnickers with humorous songs, monologues, and mouth organ music.

Bob McVey, of Prescott, rendered a bag-pipe solo of his own composition, which he has named "Farewell to Lansdowne Park." During all intermissions, Col. Gordon's band supplied numerous pieces.

The award for the oldest person on the grounds was given to John Wilson, of Shanly, 92. Octogenerian Edward Foster, of Morrisburg, was also present, as was Mrs. Marcia Strader, of Winchester, one of the older members of the clan.

At the election of officers it was decided that those of last year be re-elected.

AMMUNITION NOW IN SHORT SUPPLY

Farmers who have been accustomed throughout the years to the use of guns for the purpose of destroying crows, groundhogs, gophers and similar pests are now being reminded that the recent restrictions put on the sale of small-arms ammunition apply to them as well as to ordinary hunters. In a recent announcement the Wartime Prices and Trade Board made it clear that the pests mentioned above can be controlled by other methods than by shooting, and farmers and other citizens for this reason are asked to refrain from applying for permission to buy ammunition for this purpose. However, ammunition will be supplied to meet the menace of coyotes, bears, foxes and other predatory animals that destroy livestock, and also often destroy large areas of farm land.

SO FRANK (Humpty Dumpty) SINATRA PUT HIMSELF TOGETHER AGAIN

Read how . . . as told by columnist Louis Sobol in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Sept. 26) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times . . . croon king Frank Sinatra, with grubstakers and agents about to foreclose a mortgage on his singing career, got himself out of hock for $50,000. Get Sunday's Detroit Times.

Curious One: Why do sailors wear such loose-fitting uniforms?"

Sailor: Oh, that's to allow for shrinkage when we fall overboard.

MY SANCTUARY

This is my home, with spacious windows wide,
And snow-white curtains, fluttering with the breeze;
Geraniums deck the window-sills with pride
And in my garden with its towering trees,
Green carpets lay with patches of flowers gay;
Exotic perfume, as from a foreign land
Enchants me into dreams of yesterday.

And you were here, remember how the days
Here filled with enchanting beauty for you and I;
We laughed like happy children, glad and gay,
This was our garden, filled with its glad array,
Of flowers, birds, and happiness complete.
And now I stand here, aching just to hear,
Your footsteps as I wipe away my tear.

My Sanctuary, now this garden fair,
Brings to me peace, I could not find elsewhere;
Each path, each flower, seems to breathe your name
And as the Lark flies upward, I can see,
Your plane again, as it soared out of sight;
Answering your country's call, remember dear?
Here in my Sanctuary, I pray each night.

A DANGEROUS CROSSING

(Chesterville Record)

The white crossing a mile or so west of Chesterville station has again been the scene of another serious accident. Several lives have been lost at this crossing as the years have rolled by. Many times the Record has drawn attention to the advisability of changing the road at this point, but it has not brought any results. The suggestion made to eliminate this death trap is that the road instead of crossing the tracks at that point, should be re-routed eastward across McElroy's fields to join the river road at the corner of J. C. Hummel's woods and come into town by way of Queen Street. It is not a matter of more than three or four hundred yards of new construction, and would reduce the level crossings between Chesterville and Winchester by two, the other being just west of the station in Chesterville. It is just possible that the township council may make some recommendation to the Provincial Minister of Highways in the matter and have Highway 43 made safe at this point.

The cutting down of a tree near the fence of the right-of-way would make better visibility when driving from the east. As a driver swings to the right side of the road in preparation to make the crossing, his vision is limited to about one hundred yards to detect the approach of a train from the west.

PLEASURE RIDING IN TRUCKS IS OUT

There is no law against a farmer's wife riding to town or to market with her husband in a truck operated by him if the truck is carrying produce or other freight. Since a farmer was fined for having his wife as a passenger in a truck, considerable confusion has arisen among rural residents. According to the regulations, farmers or anyone operating a truck may carry two passengers in the cab when the truck is on a business trip. Pleasure riding in trucks is out for the duration in order to prevent any abuses which may arise because of the fact that trucks are permitted greater allowances of gasoline than pleasure cars.

Confused thinking doesn't come from muddled minds. It comes from muddled morals.

EXPERT SERVICE

YOUR Duro Pump, like any other piece of machinery or equipment, requires regular lubrication and attention to ensure satisfactory performance and long life.

The motor and other working parts, such as the diaphragm and control switch, should be checked regularly. Parts do wear and require to be adjusted or replaced. The Duro Dealer whose name appears below is well qualified and experienced to do this for you.

Keep your Duro in good running condition for long and efficient service. This year our production is limited and sales are restricted to farmers who can qualify.

If you are a farmer without running water, the Duro Dealer may be able to secure a pump for you, provided it will help you increase production, but you must first secure approval of its purchase from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Emco Bathroom Fixtures and Fittings are still obtainable. If you are remodelling your Bathroom or Kitchen, your plumber will be glad to show you the range of styles available in the Emco line.

BARKLEY FAMILY MEET IN ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER

Recently, 50 members of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Barkley met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linden Barkley, midway between Williamsburg and Morrisburg, for the annual get-together. Their family consisted of 12 children, and all are living but one son, Dalton, who passed away several years ago.

Eight children were present, including Mrs. Kenneth Lennox (Sarah), Mountain; Mrs. Frank Perrault (Mary), Chesterville; Mrs. Chesley Schwerdfeger (Hattie), Aultsville; Mrs. Wm. Scott (Lillian), Winchester; Preston Barkley, Chesterville; Silas, Newington; Linden, Williamsburg; Milton, of Winchester.

Mrs. Floyd Carr, Potsdam, N. Y., a sister, was unable to be present owing to illness, and at noon a letter was read from Thomas, of Saskatoon, and John, of Springwater, Sask., expressing regret at their not being able to be present, owing to the shortage of help.

At one o'clock all sat down to well laden tables and all did justice to the abundance of eats.

With dinner concluded, all gathered on the lawn under the maple trees and enjoyed a general visitation and an old-fashioned sing-song of hymns.

After supper, Mrs. Schwerdfeger extended hearty invitation to all to meet at her home next year, and she also moved a vote of thanks to Linden and Vera for their kindness extended to all on Sunday. This was seconded by Mrs. Perrault and an enjoyable day was brought to a close.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT NEWS

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Irene Hazel, daughter of Mr. Frank Strutt and the late Mrs. Strutt, of Inkerman, to Walter Ernest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marriner, of South Mountain. Marriage to take place early in October.

Mountain Couple Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Andrews, of Mountain, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Catherine, to Melvin Douglas, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Christie, of Mountain. Marriage to take place in St. Andrew's United Church, Hallville, on Saturday, October 2nd, 1943.

Underwent Serious Operation.

Mr. Jas. E. Jackson, local egg dealer, who has been in ill health for several months, underwent a serious operation at the Ottawa Civic Hospital on Saturday, and according to latest word, is doing as well as can be expected. To undergo a major operation at the age of 71 is quite a shock to the system, and Mr. Jackson has by no means recovered from the ordeal. All will hope for his speedy and complete recovery.

Will Join Reserves.

Captain F. S. Broder, O.C. "A" Company, S., D. & G. Highlanders, Reserves, Morrisburg, reports that some 20 business men of that town hope to enlist with their local platoon within the next few days. This is mst encouraging, and will result in the Morrisburg Platoon being the strongest in the Company (Dundas County). Among the men who have signified their intention of signing up are all members of Morrisburg Municipal Council.

Taken To Hospital.

Following the birth of a baby son on Sunday, Mrs. Gordon Rice was rushed to the Ottawa Civic Hospital in Dixon's Ambulance, in a very weakened condition. A minor operation was performed and two blood transfusions were necessary to strengthen her. While several local citizens were on hand to donate their blood, only her husband's was the proper type and he gave about three pints, or over 800 cc's. The loss of this amount of blood left Mr. Rice rather shaky for a few hours, otherwise he suffered no ill effects. Less than three months ago Mr. Rice donated his blood at the local Red Cross Clinic.

At present, both Mrs. Rice and her baby are doing fine.

Telephone 21, The Winchester Press, when you need any printing.

Condition Improved.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Sherman Merrill, of Morrisburg, (nee Ethel O'Neil), is progressing favourably, following an operation which she recently underwent at Cornwall General Hospital.

Will Raise Ferry.

Efforts are now under way, through the use of pumps, to raise the ferry steamer Waddington, which sank at her wharf at Morrisburg last April 4. It is proposed to place the vessel in drydock at Cornwall for the duration.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Aden Casselman, of Winchester Springs, wish to announce the engagement of their second daughter, Georgena Gertrude, to Mr. John Russell Ault, son of Mrs. Ault and the late William Ault, of Iroquois. Marriage to take place early in October.

Still In Hospital.

The many friends of Mr. Earl Gordon, popular young business man and undertaker, of Chesterville, is still a patient at the Ottawa Civic Hospital. He underwent an abdominal operation last week and his condition is only fair, according to hospital authorities. Earl's many friends in Winchester will wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

Appointed Hospital Superintendent.

Dr. Charles A. Cleland, a native of South Mountain, and a former student at Winchester High School, has been appointed Superintendent of the Ontario Hosptal at Fort William, Ont. Dr. Cleland has been attached to hospitals at Brockville, Hamilton, Kingston, and New Toronto, since his graduation from Queen's University in 1930.

To Train As Nurses.

The following seven district girls have enrolled as nurses at the training school at the Brockville Ontario Hospital: Miss Betty Marie Adams, Cardinal; Miss Margaret Adams, Westport; Miss Beatrice Landry, Merrickville; Miss Doris McDermott, Brinston; Miss Vivian Cook, Spencerville; Miss Evelyn Froats, South Mountain, and Miss Marjorie Jackson, South Mountainn.

Found Dead In Field.

A sufferer from heart trouble for several years, William Redmond, aged 80 years, was found dead last week in a pasture on his farm at Dekalb Junction, N. Y. It is believed he suffered a thrombosis. A native of Mountain, Dundas County, and a son of Ira Redmond and his wife, Louisa Strader, he had been a farmer all his life. His wife, formerly Miss Rachel Seeley, also of Dundas County, died in 1924 and he is survived by a family of several sons and daughters, as well as by brothers and sisters, including Mr. Lemuel Ault, of Iroquois, and Mr. John Redmond, of Winchester.

OUR FAMILY went through hard times once. It taught us that you can't keep your independence without foresight and sacrifice. We learned what we could do without when we had to. So we know that a real nest-egg means more than just compulsory savings. It means all the War Savings Stamps and Certificates we can lay our hands on.

They're safe. And they're an investment every Canadian should make. Why? Because they help equip our fighting men to protect everything we've got. And because, too, they pay back $5.00 for every $4.00 we put aside now. We've got to win this war no matter what it costs — and we've got to prepare against the time when the boys come home.

Buy War Savings Stamps from druggists, banks, post offices, telephone offices, department stores, grocers, tobacconists and other retail stores. Certificates may be purchased for immediate delivery in denominations of $5, $10, $25 from Banks, Trust Companies and Post Offices.
