Head on collision kills Kemptville mother, son

WINCHESTER (Staff) - A 29-year-old mother and her nine-year-old son lost their lives Monday in a head-on collision with a van on Highway 31, south of the Country Kitchen Restaurant.

Ann Williamson and her son Micheal, were killed instantly when their car headed southbound, collided with a business van driven by Louie Maisonneuve, said a spokesman for the Winchester detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Two more of Mrs. Williamson's children, a boy Steven, 12, and a girl, Sherrie, 5, were also seriously injured in the crash. Both are in critical condition in the Eastern Ontario Sick Children's Hospital in Ottawa.

The driver of the van suffered minor injuries. After being taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital he was released.

The accident occurred at approximately 12:30pm on the top of the overpass crossing the railway just south of Winchester.

Winchester Fire Department was called to the scene to use their extraction equipment to remove the bodies from the mangled car. Fire Chief Dalton Kenney says he believes the mother and son were dead when the fire fighters arrived.

Mrs. Williamson's husband, Wayne, is a boat mechanic in Kemptville.

According to news reports the couple were striken by a car accident two years ago when their seven-year-old daughter, Tammy was struck and killed by a car near Kemptville. Monday was the Williamson's 13th wedding anniversary.

Winchester OPP report no charges have been laid.

Chesterville man killed instantly

KANATA (Staff) - An Ottawa militia corporal has been charged with impaired driving following a four-vehicle crash in a driving rainstorm here Tues., Aug. 4 which took the life of a Chesterville man.

Cpl. Roy J. Postma has been charged with driving with a blood-alcohol level exceeding 0.08 by the Bells Corners detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police and is scheduled to appear in court Wed., Aug. 12.

Brian G. Forrester, 42, of 94 Queen St., Chesterville, was killed instantly when his Datsun pick-up truck was struck in the rear by Postma's ¼-ton Canadian Forces vehicle and thrown into the path of an oncoming ¾-ton truck.

Forrester was northbound on Eagleson Side Round and had stopped to make a left-hand turn onto Kakulu Road at about 6:20pm last Tuesday. He was being followed by a 20-year-old Kanata man, Earl Ward Kelly, who was unable to stop because of the wet road conditions. There was a heavy downpour at the time according to the OPP.

Kelly's vehicle swerved onto the shoulder to avoid Forrester's truck and in so doing Kelly lost control of his car, which continued off the road, hitting a utilities pole. After striking the pole, Kelly continued on and left the scene of the accident.

Kelly was being followed by Postma, who said his view was blocked by the rain and by spray being thrown up from other vehicles.

He was unable to avoid a crash and slammed into the rear of Forrester's small truck, being used to deliver parcels for a courier company, and sent it into the path of a southbound ¾-ton four-wheel-drive truck driven by William Hall, RR3 Stittsville. The Hall vehicle struck Forrester's truck on the passenger door. Hall, 29, escaped serious injury.

Kelly, who was unaware of the fatal accident at the time, was arrested the following day and charged with failing to report an accident. OPP Const. Gary Rylott said he was charged only with leaving the scene after striking the utilities pole. He faced a $28 fine.

Osnabruck Township reverses sidewalk decision

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - Osnabruck Township council here, last week, reconsidered an earlier motion and resolved to install sidewalks along Hoople Street in Ingleside, excluding the area in front of the park.

Last month a delegation of concerned homeowners from Hoople Street attended a meeting to request council not construct sidewalks in front of their property.

A motion to take a survey of all the ratepayers involved was defeated. Subsequently a motion to construct no sidewalks on the first seven lots (98 through 104) and relieving the township of further responsibility was passed.

At last Tuesday evening's meeting, that motion was rescinded and the decision taken to install sidewalks the length of Hoople Street with the exception of the portion adjoining the park.

Clerk-treasurer Tom Melesky said a delegation were expected again for the meeting yesterday, August 11.

Jim Bancroft appeared before council to advise them of the formation of a committee to co-ordinate a 25-year reunion for Osnabruck District High School in 1982.

Orin Zummach notified council he is satisfied he owns the property upon which the township dump is situated. Council has always been under the impression the township owned the land.

Mr. Zummach said he would not like to see the township rushed but he would appreciate their looking around for a new dump site.

The township solicitor has been instructed to investigate the matter.

Rita Wert appeared before council to ask the township's participation in a walkathon on Terry Fox Day, September 13. Council asked Mrs. Wert to meet with the recreation director, Mary Margison to make plans for the day.

Mrs. James Hutchinson also attended the meeting to seek the township's support for the Osnabruck Tropical Gardens. Mrs. Hutchinson was informed a meeting of a county committee, including Osnabruck reeve, Stewart Hart and deputy reeve, Garnet Ezard, had been set up.

Norma Barker of the Cornwall Township recreation association brought the preliminary plans for the proposed Cornwall Township arena to the meeting. Mrs. Barker was asked to meet with the recreation director who will report back to council.

Morris Nadler requested a zoning changed recently for his property along Highway 2 in order that he could operate a restaurant on the site. The proposed zoning change is now being circulated to residents inside 400 feet of the site. The change was already complete on the official plan.

Five compete for Dundas County sash and crown

(Staff) - Five young women in Dundas County will be competing for the title of Dundas Dairy Princess at the South Mountain Fair this Saturday.

Heather Hart, Carol Johnson, Eileen Rose, Theresa Schoones, and Rachel Thurler, will be interviewed at Nationview Public School next Saturday before supper by three judges - Nora Clancy, former dairy princess in Stormont County, Bill Nibbelink, head of the milk industry branch of OMAF, and Ruth Shaver, vice principal of the Home Economics branch of Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

After the interviews the contestants and judges will dine at the Stage West Restaurant in South Mountain. Then they will head on to the South Mountain Fair grounds for their public speeches. While the judges are making their choice the fair dance will have begun. During the first break in the dance, probably about 10:30pm, the 1981-82 Dundas Dairy Princess will be named.

Cloverdale Cheese house donated the supper to the competition, and the Toronto Dominion Bank in Chesterville donated a new trophy to the competition. The old trophy, by Delbert McMillan, hasn't room for any more names.

This will be the last appearance of Ellen Blaine as Dundas' Dairy princess before she goes to Toronto where she will compete for the title of Ontario Dairy Princess. The competition begins August 26th and lasts more than a week.

Finch township files no action on three quarry amendents

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township council voted to take no action on four amendment requests put forward by planner Larry Cotton, at their regular meeting held here Mon., Aug. 3.

Mr. Cotton proposed council support a zoning change and an amendment to the Lower St. Lawrence official plan changing part of Lot 11, Con. 2, from rural to special rural. Special rural allows for the operation of a rock quarry. The property is owned by William McLean.

Mr. Cotton also put forth requests to rezone Lot 2, Con. 2 and part Lot 3, Con. 2 to special rural, the Lang and Heagle properties. These amendments had already been refused township support at the official plan level.

The zoning bylaw is a township decision while the amendments to the Lower St. Lawrence official plan must go through the planning board. Both organizations refer disputes over amendments to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Notification was received from the Ministry of Housing that the township was approved as a spearate planning area. This will mean the township can proceed with the formation of its own official plan. Daphne Wretham of J.L. Richards and Associates will be meeting with council next Mon., Aug. 17 to consider the plan.

Council also decided to notify Stidwell and Associates, the township engineer, part of the Komesch-Logtens drain creates a hazard situated on the road allowance.

To eliminate the hazard, council would like the drain moved or filled in and tiled. The drain is nearing completion.

An unused road allowance just outside Crysler was closed and conveyed to the adjoining owners, G. Cloutier, and M. Gibeault.

Council also concurred with a resolution passed by Roxborough Township asking the South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA) to reconsider making the Payne River one of their projects.

Work is expected to begin next week and finish in three to four weeks.

The gift of life

(Staff) - The Winchester District Memorial Hospital will be holding a blood donor clinic in the Conference Room next Wednesday, (August 19) from 2 to 5pm and 6:30 to 8:30pm. Organizers including the Women's Auxiliary, have been canvassing for donors. They would like to remind everyone that giving blood is giving the gift of life.

Correction

(Staff) - A story in the July 29 edition of The Chesterville Record concerning a protest by the Morewood Fire Fighters' Association to Winchester Township council contained an error. The story erroneously reported the Morewood Fire Fighter's letter to council stated that if the Winchester Township Fire Fighters were charged rent to hold their annual fund raising dance in the Chesterville Arena then the Chesterville Fire Fighters' should also be charged rent. Actually the letter said that if the Morewood Fire Fighters' were continued to be charged the arena rent of $250 then Winchester Township council should withhold $250 of the annual grant given to the village for the arena operation. The Morewood Fire Fighters noted that when canvassers came around seeking donations from township residents to build the arena donations were given generously.

Fire damages Mill St. house

(Staff) - Fire, Sat., Aug. 1, gutted one room of a residence on Mill Street, Chesterville, sending the occupant, Morris Bailey to hospital with third degree burns.

The alarm was turned in at approximately 9:30pm by Jean Labre who saw the flames licking out several windows in the small house.

Captain Arie Oosterman of the Chesterville Fire Department said there was extensive smoke damage to the house as well as the gutted room.

The nine volunteers fought the blaze for about one and a half hours, said Mr. Oosterman. They had little trouble preventing the fire from spreading.

He credited the early alarm with helping firefighters and minimizing damage.

Mr. Bailey also suffered from smoke inhalation, said Mr. Oosterman.

The house is owned by James Sullivan of Chesterville, who is Mr. Bailey's employer.

Mr. Oosterman said he does not expect an investigation will follow.

Courville out in the cold

CORNWALL (Staff) - Claude Courville, former chairman of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Separate School Board is now neither chairman, trustee nor applicant for the position of assistant director of education.

Mr. Courville resigned as chairman of the board, and as trustee to apply for the post which was created to facilitate the changeover period when Charlemagne Lamarche retires as director of education next year.

But now the board, as a committee, have recommended the abolition of the position for which they have received 10 applications.

Board vice-chairman Peter Van Moorsel said at the time the trustees felt the creation of the post was the best way to promote continuity and a smooth changeover but now they don't feel it is the best route to use an intermediary.

He also explained the reason the committee was made up of all the board members yet was not a board meeting was based on a technicality.

It seems, without a chairman, the first thing a meeting of the board must do is elect a chairman. Instead, the board sat as a committee and will submit the recommendation to themselves subsequent to the election of the new chairman at the September 1 meeting.

The board are expected to discuss the possible legal ramifications of the canellation of the position at that meeting.

Mr. Lamarche's contract expires August 31, 1982 and he has expressed the desire to retire at that time.

Mr. Van Moorsel noted that all applicants will be invited to apply again if and when the position of director is advertised.

South Mountain Fair starts Saturday

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - Among the new attractions at the 1981 South Mountain Fair are a Peruvian horse show, a motorcycle jump, a new midway and a street dance.

The Laura York Peruvian Classical Paso horses will be presented in conjunction with the Western Horse Show, Sun., Aug. 16.

Saturdays events include a pet show for the children, the dairy cattle shows and harness racing with para-mutuel betting.

The exhibits will be on display in the new hall throughout the day and the midway will operate both Saturday and Sunday.

An oldtimers ball tournament is scheduled to run both days, as is a chicken barbecue.

Motorcycle jumping and a street dance are slated for late Saturday. These are both new events.

Sunday begins with the beef cattle show and leads into a goat and sheep show beginning at 1 and 2pm, respectively.

The Western horse show gets underway at 8:30am and the heavy horses follow at noon.

A local horse show will be held Saturday from 9am. Entrants must live within a 15-mile radius of South Mountain, may not have won ribbons in more than two recognized shows in 1981 and must be 18 years of age or less as of January 1, 1981.

Finch Township

They also resubmitted a request to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to designate the Winchester-Finch Township boundary road as a development road for 1981. The road had been turned down for the 1981 year.

At the same time, council resolved to ask Winchester Township to submit the request to MTC also.

Tenders have been called for three drains and will close Mon., Aug. 17. The three drains are the McConnell-Stephen, Dennis McMahon and McIntyre-Lagrove drains.

Subsequent to the dismissal of the Lorne Johnston appeal on the McKenzie-Price drain by the drainage tribunal, council read the drainage bylaw a third time.

Tenders have not yet been called for the work since the landowner has a period of 10 days during which he could appeal to the drainage referee. Mr. Johnston indicated at a previous meeting he intends to go the to referee.

His appeal was dismissed by the tribunal in view of his absence from the proceedings.

Council will also meet with Crysler landowner, Mrs. Dolorie Brisson, who has requested council take over a road adjoining her property. She submitted plans for upgrading the road to MTC standards at Monday evening's meeting.

Horse club judges

by Robbie Stephenson

The July meeting for the Stormont 4-H Horse Club was held at the farm of Mr. Frank Dupuis. A total of 17 members were in attendance.

Members were asked to judge a class of horses and a class of hay. This was in preparation for Judging Day which was held on July 22.

Then, everyone went inside and the business part of the meeting began with the 4-H pledge. Beverly Eamer was president for the meeting. A major topic for this meeting was the float for the Holstein Centennial Parade which was held at Newington Fair Grounds.

Afterwards, a snack was served.

The next meeting was held at the farm of Mr. Frank Dupuis on Aug. 11 at 7:30pm.

College graduates successful

(Special) - The success achieved by Ontario Community college graduates in finding employment related to their field of study has been outstanding, according to recent study.

Of the 16,270 graduates from full-time programs at Ontario's 22 community colleges who sought work last year, more than 91 per cent (14,849) found jobs, and more than 84.6 per cent obtained employment in areas directly related to their course of study.

These employment figures are calculated on the number of community college graduates who actually sought full-time work.

The annual Graduate Placement Report for community colleges prepared jointly by the Ministry of Colleges and Universities and the College of Applied Arts and Technology Placement Group for the academic year 1980-81 shows that 1,690 grads continued on to further education.

An additional 858 graduates had not sought full-time employment by the time the figures were gathered in mid-November, 1980. The latter, of course, included students who married and became homemakers, who took time off to travel or who became involved in other non-employment pursuits.

The median salary reported by the working grads was between $12,000 and $13,000 per annum. That is an across-the-board calculation which includes all graduates from one-, two- and three-year programs.

The College of Applied Arts and Technology Graduate Placement Report was designed to help students in selecting college programs and in making career choices by giving them a program-by-program job placement record. It also helps the individual colleges and the Ministry to monitor the success of their programs, and to make changes when required.

In a note to guidance counsellors the report states that "There is a widespread belief that civil, electronic, mechanical, industrial, electrical and other technology will be experiencing rapid expansion in the near future. Hospitality and fields relating to data processing have grown faster than expected and are expected to continue to provide many opportunities for qualified graduates."

The report adds that "careers which are connected with the development, production and consumption of energy are also expected to require large increases in the numbers of young workers. Health-care programs and business-related programs such as accounting, managing, marketing, advertising and word processing should continue to show high placement rates.

"The figures in this year's report are typical of those recorded over the last several years," says Dr. Bette Stephenson, minister of colleges and universities. "The placement records reflect the fact that community colleges are providing effective job training and that they are meeting industries' needs."

Two men with shot guns hold police at bay eight hours

HALLVILLE (Staff) - Members of the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) from detachments in Winchester, Morrisburg, Manotick, Kemptville, and a tactics and rescue unit from Perth were held at bay last Thursday night north of Hallville by two men carrying guns.

The incident began when Kenneth Dillabough, 46, of South Mountain and Gerald Marrat, 38, of Smiths Falls, shot out the windows of Mr. Dillabough's brother Stans residence

A spokesman for the Winchester detachment of the OPP said the men were in dispute over an unpaid debt. The police were called and first went to Stan Dillabough's residence. From there they went on to Ken Dillabough's where they were held at bay by the two men who had shotguns.

Reinforcements were called from Morrisburg, Manotick, Kemptville, and a tactics and rescue unit from Perth was called.

The police held negotiations with the two men from approximately 9:50pm until 6am - a total of eight hours. At 6am the two men gave themselves up and were arrested.

They were placed in the county jail in Cornwall and appeared in Morrisburg court yesterday for a bail hearing, and the setting of a court appearance.

Ken Dillabough has been charged with dangerous use of a firearm, mischief, threats by telephone, and acquiring a firearm without a firearm acquisition certificate.

Gerald Marratt has been charged with dangerous use of a firearm and mischief.

Council approves drain funds

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Winchester Township council passed two by-laws to maintain municipal drains at their regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

The James Black Drain, in the north west section of the township, will cost $2,400 to clean, and the Durant-Anderson Drain, north of Chesterville, will cost $24,000 to maintain.

The township will receive a grant from the Ministry of Agriculture for the work up to one-third of the total cost. The rest of the cost will come from the pockets of those benefitting from the drain.

Council also passed a resolution to ask the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to help off-set the cost of purchasing the Norman Bell property along the South Nation River, west of Chesterville.

The township purchased the property and resold it to the South Nation River Conservation Authority and Gary Derks. The net cost to the municipality was $3,000. The purchase eliminated any property owners requiring the use of the old Nation Valley Bridge and also eliminating the need for the ministry to maintain the bridge.

The request from the township was for the usual rate of subsidy.

Township council also approved tile drainage applications totaling $18,500.

Florida pastor in Morrisburg

MORRISBURG (Special) - There is a real air of excitment, and anticipation, among a special committee working at Lakeshore Drive United Church, Morrisburg.

Gladys Bayne, Willa Johnston, Mae and Floyd Fisher, and Elizabeth and Bill Marshall, are putting the final touches to plans, which will see the popular pastor, of the Daytona Beach, Florida, Drive in Christian Church, Wally Pomplun, and his lovely wife Helen, visit Morrisburg for special services this Sun., Aug. 16.

The Pompluns are well known, to a large number of area inhabitants, who regularly make their home in the warmth of the Florida sunshine, while Canada turns into the deep freeze.

It has been many years since the Pompluns visited Canada having travelled widely in Ontario in 1963 when they received an all expense paid, three week tour of the province as the result of an essay submitted to a "Visit Ontario Contest".

There is a special warmth and bond which unites those who regularly worship, at the Drive in Church in Daytona, and a unique "Hands Across the Border", theme is strengthing with the years.

One of the reasons the committee is so anxious to encourage full attendance at the "Pomplun Day", in Morrisburg, is that it will bring together large numbers of Florida people, who usually only see one another while south of the border. The day is also meant to show appreciation to Wally and Helen for their dedicated and inspirational ministry.

Literally, hundreds of Canadian residents, join with the local members of the congregation of the Drive in Church, and others from numerous states and countries during the winter months. The Pompluns have laboured in their ministry for the past 27 years, acting as loving and thoughtful host and hostess.

The Drive in Church, which really means Wally and Helen, explains Bill Marshall, arranges to provide coffee and doughnuts and plenty of time, both before and after each service of worship, for sharing and fellowship. It seems this winning combination draws upwards of 1,000 people weekly to their church.

If you have questions, or wish to make arrangements of any kind concerning this wonderful fellowship opportunity, please call or write Elizabeth and Bill Marshall at Box 45, Morrisburg, Ont., KOC IX0, telephone number, 613-543-3200.

Connaught farm sports trout pond

CONNAUGHT (Staff) - Tommy Grady has had a fascination with the fish pond on his home farm since he was just a young boy; his mother always knew where to find him when it was dinner time.

Now, some 30 years later, Mr. Grady has made the pond something more for his six young children. After a $4,000 investment and a 1,000 fingerling trout purchase, the pond is approximately 220 feet by 80 feet.

The spring at the far end of the pond has always kept a wet spot near the barn, explained Mr. Grady, but only mud minnows and pollywogs inhabited it.

Last year, though, the Grady family decided to make it into a trout pond. With a Hi-hoe and a sump pump they cleared the small area to four times its size.

The sump pump drained the area for two weeks solid, said Mr. Grady, into a tile drain located some 300 feet from the barn. It was done in two halves in order to preserve the mud minnows which will later provide food for the trout.

A dam was constructed at one end to restrict the flow of water and drain the excess.

Trees have been added along the sloping banks and says Mr. Grady, in a few years it should be a lovely spot.

After the preparatory work was complete, the pond was stocked, this past April, with 1,000 fingerlings. The one to one and a half inch rainbow trout have grown to double or more their original size, he said.

The pond is approximately 10 feet deep and although the fish will grow to six inches by next spring, he explained, they would probably not attain a length of more than 14 inches during their life span. Their size is directly related to the volume of water in which they are housed.

At this point they are eating mosquitoes and other water bugs but by next spring they should be devouring the mud minnows the Grady family worked so hard to preserve.

The Ministry of Natural Resources, many books and other fish pond operators were consulted in the planning, design and construction of the pond, said Mr. Grady.

Opinions on many aspects of the facility differed greatly but he tended to lean toward the ideas put forth by other, established and successful operators, he said.

The fingerlings were purchased from Thistle Creek Springs trout farm at Ashton, said Mr. Grady. Thistle Creek allow fishing for grown trout at a rate of 15 cents per inch.

At present, although there are tentative plans for expansion, the Gradys play to keep the small pond private. The younger Grady's swam all through haying and now keep a small rowboat at the shore for periodic paddles, said their father.

Although the Gradys have been told rainbow trout have a high mortality rate, they believe they have lost only one fingerling to date.

In Memoriams

IN MEMORIAM
MCLEAN — In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle, Ronnie, who left us suddenly August 7, 1976.
He had a nature we could not help loving
And a heart that was purer than gold,
And to those who knew and loved him
His memory will never grow old.
Sad is the heart of your sister
Yet brave as you'd want her to be
Consoled by the thought of meeting
On the shore of eternity.
Sadly missed and
Always remembered by Sister Jean and Family

IN MEMORIAM
DINGWALL — In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle, Robert Dingwall, who passed away August 1, 1979.
Good took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
Ever remembered by
Donnie, Eleanor and Family

Rotary News

We were privileged at the meeting of July 27 to have as guest speaker Miss Lelia Sponsel, President of the Greenbelt Riding Association for the disabled.

This organization was formed in 1975 to try and help disabled children through therapeutic recreational riding. Miss Sponsel outlined the program, its success and the fact its run by a volunteer organization.

Riders are disabled children who were the victims of celebral palsy, poliomyelitis and arthritis and each rider must have two volunteers to assist.

The program while still in its infancy, has had some most encouraging results. An appropriate cheque was given to the organization by the club.

We were also happy to welcome Rotarian Jan Broekkamp from Keemskerk-Littgeest, Holland, who was on a visit to Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Chesterville and Algonquin Park.

We hope he enjoyed his visit with us and also his visit to the big cities. Incidently Jan is a member of the Rotary Club that our own Jan Roosendaal belonged to in Holland, prior to coming to Chesterville.

On Monday last the meeting welcomed our district governor Lorne Conick and his wife Suzanne. The governor outlined the district objectives and the world objectives for the 1980-81 year. He stressed the need to grow in membership and in attendance.

We were also pleased to welcome Ches Rohn from the Escondido California Club, Dalton Cleary and Jim Zeran from the Ingleside Osnabruck Club and Phil Schissler past president of the Kemptville club, visiting Chesterville on make-ups. We are always delighted to welcome our fellow Rotarians and hope they all enjoyed their visit. The evening was made even more pleasant by the presence of the ladies.

St. Lawrence Loyalists plan annual meeting Oct. 18

(Special) - Genealogy, or family tree seekers, is on the increase in the Seaway area. People are coming from all over Canada and the USA searching for their roots. In the past 10 days people from New York City, Kitchener, Ont., Lachute, Que., Watertown, New York, Deep River, Ont., and Michigan have visited the headquarters of the St. Lawrence Branch of the United Empire Loyalists Association of Canada, in Morrisburg.

The branch records are kept at the home of the Head Genealogist of the St. Lawrence Branch, Miss Lynne O'Brien, 3 Augusta St., Morrisburg. The records consist of church records of Stormont and Dundas; land records; some census records and wills; and a tombstone record. The branch has over 25,000 tombstones copied in the area.

The St. Lawrence Branch applied for a Young Canada Works Program in 1978 and 1979, and Summer Canada 1981. College students were hired to copy church records in Stormont and Dundas and this information is at the Branch headquarters available to people doing research.

This summer, Madeleine Chenier and Joanna Fobert of Cornwall, and Heather Whitteker of Williamsburg copied over 40 notebooks from three Cornwall Churches to add to the records previously gathered. They are also compiling a book list, covering area books of genealogy, history and Loyalists.

The branch is setting up an index card system listing each baptism, marriage and burial, and tombstone with the source on top of each card. A person may be listed in two or more churches and have more than three cards each: ie., baptized Iroquois, married Morrisburg, second marriage in Ingleside, and burial record in Cornwall, and tombstone maybe back to Iroquois. The students have been busy for the past nine weeks typing and writing cards, copying new records, copying two cemeteries and seeing the public as they arrive looking for information.

The biggest problem is getting the word around to local people and agencies that there are records for research and help available. We get people referred to us by local ministers, clerks offices, post office, libraries. If they can find the information in the area they usually stay several days, and of course, tourist dollars are distributed throughout the area.

Last year a man flew from California to Ottawa, rented a car arriving in Morrisburg on Friday, leaving on Monday. He of course, rented a motel room, and ate at a local restaurant, all because he was looking for information on his family, and found what he was looking for at the St. Lawrence Branch Genealogical Headquarters.

The St. Lawrence Branch received its Charter May 14, 1977 and has progressed to 150 members. The Bicentennial of 1983-84, the landing of the Loyalists, will bring more people to the area searching out their ancestors.

The Third Annual Charter Night Dinner is to be held Sat., Sept. 12 at Trinity Memorial Anglican Church, Cornwall. Our guest speaker, Dr. Elinor Senior, Department of History, McGill University, is currently writing the history of the City of Cornwall. Tickets are available to members till mid-August, then open to friends and interested persons.

The Annual Meeting will be held at Old Stone Church Hall at St. Andrew's West, Sun., Oct. 18. Guest speaker will be Mr. Charles Humber, 1st Vice President of the United Empire Loyalists Association. Meeting to be followed by a pot luck supper.

Quilts galore!

These quilts (above) are part of the quilt collection by Canada Packers Ltd. for display at agricultural fairs throughout Ontario. This year, after being on the waiting list for two years, the Russell Fair hosted the collection. The quilt, above, right, is one done by Lynda Gunnell of RR3 Russell. The young woman took Grand Champion with the entry. From Russell Fair the quilt will be entered in the competition for that district of the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies in which Russell is included. The quilts winning in their district will enter the final competition and have the opportunity to be bought by Canada Packers and displayed throughout the province. One of the categories which makes Russell Fair unique from other fairs is the one for Japanese Embroidery, below right. Committee member (left) Naomi Eadie, and fair director, Mona Saunders, display the entry in the embroidery category which took first place. Make the effort and prepare a resume

By Gary P. Wasylow, CA

Before you start looking for a job, take the trouble to prepare a first-class resume, or curriculum vitae. It may not ensure that you get the job, but it certainly will keep you from eliminating yourself before you enter the race.

If you're applying for a job with a particular company, your resume should naturally emphasize features of your work experience and education that apply specifically to the position you are seeking. At the same time, you'll want to play down aspects of your background that have less relevance.

In preparing this kind of resume it would help to make a trip to your local business library to do some research on the company and its line of business.

Another approach is to send out a large number of unsolicited job applications. This scattergun method frequently produces results, especially for young people looking for their first permanent job.

Here, the resume should be drafted in more general terms. Information that might be of special interest to one of the employers on your list can always be mentioned in your covering letter.

Even with a general mailing you should make a point of finding out who will be receiving your resume at each company and then make sure you get the name and spelling right, as well as the correct title. It all helps to show you've done your homework.

Don't hesitate to mention aspects of your personal background that have no direct bearing on your job qualifications. If you're an ardent skier or president of the local cat fanciers' club, say so. It will show that you have a well-rounded background with varied interests and you may be fortunate enough to contact a prospective employer who shares your intereats.

By the same token, don't talk about heavy involvement in controversial matters. You might mention on a civil rights group or political party that the employer is antagonistic to.

If you're lucky, you might land an interview with as many as 10 per cent of the companies on your mailing list - especially if you follow up your letter with a phone call or visit. And before going on those interviews make sure once again that you've done some research on the company. Information helps to put you in the driver's seat in an interview.

In addition to sending out applications, don't be afraid to knock on doors. If you are a secretary and you walk into an office 10 minutes after the old secretary got mad and quit, you are obviously miles ahead of others whose applications may be languishing in a filing cabinet. Being in the right place at the right time is an aspect of job-hunting that's often overlooked.

Aid not enough, says OFA

TORONTO - The provincial government's $30 million program to aid beef producers is a real help, but it doesn't go far enough, Ralph Barrie, President, Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) said last month.

Mr. Barrie said the program, which will pay farmers $40 for every animal sent to market in 1980, (a minimum of 10 per farmer) is good news for the province's feed lot operators. Many of them have been losing over $100 on every animal sold.

Mr. Barrie said he is disappointed the program wouldn't apply to those who sell cattle to other farmers. "Many of the cow-calf and short-keep feeder producers are in desperate straits. They need help too."

He said he is especially disappointed that nothing has been done to help farmers in other commodities, or to help farmers deal with high interest rates.

Earlier in the month, provincial treasurer Frank Miller said that Ontario could afford to spend $50 to $100 million to help Ontario's hard-pressed farmers.

"Farmers are grateful for this program, but we were hoping for something much broader. We need a shot in the arm and we need it now", Mr. Barrie said.

He said the OFA will continue to demand additional programs at both the federal and provincial levels.

Record Recipes by Chris Brown

By now everyone is starting to wonder what the heck they are going to do with all those millions of tomatoes coming out of the garden. And well you might! It's been just an excellent year for them.

It had never dawned on me that not everyone knows how to put their fruits and vegetables by, other than freezing them. So I felt much better when one of my friends (who is so very accomplished in many other ways) said she would have to invite me over to show her how this mystery operates.

The sad truth is, there's very little mystery about the procedure and even less operating to be done.

The equipment required is simple and can be purchased for only a small investment (or borrowed for the novice who isn't sure he or she will ever do this thing again).

You will need either a canner or a large, large pot, a rack for the jars or put knives in the bottom of the pot, mason jars and a place to keep all your wonderful fruits of labor.

I have heard of two ways to can tomatoes: either pack them in tomato juice or the way I do it, in their own liquid.

Keep a pan of water boiling on the stove in which to dip your tomatoes so the skin will peel off easily and pack the tomatoes tightly into the mason jars.

(During this time have your canner, filled with water to the level recommended by the manufacturer, coming to a boil).

Push the fruit down tightly so their own juice comes out to fill in the air spaces in the jar. Use a knife if necessary to allow air to escape.

When you have as many jars ready as will go in your canner at one time (probably seven) put the lids on the jars till they are just tight but do not overturn them.

Process for 35 minutes. The boiling water surrounding the jars completely in the kettle is the process which kills the bacteria and hence the use of the word.

When the time is up, lift out your rack and tighten the lids any extra they will go since they will have loosened somewhat in processing.

As they cool, the centre section of the lid will pop downward and you will hear a small noise.

Check the jars carefully before you put them away. Any that have not popped should be unscrewed, wiped clean at the lid and a new lid liner used when you reprocess it with the next batch.

Peaches and pears are treated in much the same fashion but are packed in a sugar syrup. Your favorite cookbook will have recipes for varying strengths of syrups.

Dear Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I know you talk to experts all the time, and I wish you would ask them what happens to a child when he receives no affection at home. I am writing about my next-door neighbors. I don't know why, but they give all their children hugs and kisses and smiles - except one boy. He gets nothing but criticism. Don't get me wrong. His parents don't beat him, but it hurts my heart to see him so emotionally isolated and unloved.

He is a good boy and I have never seen a child so desperate for affection. The poor kid gets absolutely no attention whatsoever. He is a friendly person and in my eyes quite lovable. I can't understand it.

I worry about how this treatment might affect the lad. Can I so something to help without making his parents angry? I don't want to make matters worse.

If you print my letter please withhold the name of the city. Just sign me

-A Concerned Neighbor

Dear Concerned: A child who grows up without love is unable to give love. This emotional deprivation is truly child abuse, but an outsider would have a hard time making the charges stick.

My advice is to open your heart and your home to this child. Invite him to a ball game or a movie - or just a visit over a glass of lemonade. Establish a relation ship of trust. It could be extremely rewarding for you - and a life-saving thing for the boy. (P.S. Write again soon. I would be thrilled to hear that you took my advice and it worked.)

Dear Ann Landers: My husband plays softball Monday and Thursday, bowls on Tuesday, plays cards on Wednesday and his lodge meets on Friday. He thinks this is normal behavior for a married man.

I used to go to the games with him and bowl, too, but now I have a teaching job and two small children. It's all I can do to grocery-shop, fix supper, grade papers and fall into bed. Our sex life is practically zero. I can't remember the last time.

I think I made a big mistake in marrying this man. I see signs of homosexual tendencies and alcoholism, too. He pays absolutely no attention to the kids. Do you have any advice for me? Lord knows, I need it. My family is 1,000 miles away and I have no friend to confide in.

-Lonely In Carbonadale

Dear Carb: You have a pack of trouble, Honey. You have no husband and your children have no father. Get some counseling through the YMCA, the Salvation Army or Family Service Assn. If the word is "get out," I hope you will do it promptly and not invest any more time or energy in what seems like a hopelessly unrewarding relationship.

Dear Ann Landers: I was voted the best-looking girl in the graduating class, and my husband was selected most likely to succeed. We believed we were the ideal couple. That was eight years ago. He started to run around the first year we were married and was very open about it.

What does a woman say when her husband announces, "You can have the kids (we have three), but I want the dogs"?

-Humiliated In Hartford

Dear Hart: Why say anything except "good riddance"?

Don't be surprised if you get the dogs, too This clown doesn't sound mature enough to accept responsibility for anything.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex - Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Chesterville's past

61 — July 31, 1941

A farmer from the Morewood area dropped in on the Record, Monday morning chuckling over the stories of tall grain and heavy crops broadcast by Andy Clark in his Sunday morning Neighbourly News.

This farmer have may been stringing us along but he said, "You know I always have good crops of alfalfa. I have a good crop this year and something a little extra. Out among the high bush cranberries, the other day I came across a tuft of alfalfa more than six feet tall and believe it or not a bird had begun to build its nest in it."

Grahame Miltimore, four-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Miltimore fractured his right elbow when he fell from the verandah of his home Friday evening. He was attended by Dr. H.W. Justus.

Mrs. John Sutherland is reported resting comfortably in the Brockville General Hospital after undergoing a major operation Monday morning.

Mon., Aug. 4 has been declared a Civic holiday by the village council so householders beware and lay in their supplies on Saturday for all stores and business places will be closed from Saturday night until Tuesday morning.

With exactly one dozen persons present, George H. Barkley was named reeve and Robert J. Barrie as councillor at a special nomination meeting held in the Community Theatre on Monday evening.

The nominations to fill the vacancies on the village council were required following the recent death of reeve W.H. Casselman and from the resignation of G.H. Barkley from the Board to accept the nomination for reeve.

As no other nominations were filed within the appointed hour, the seats were filled by acclamation.

As defined in the special war measures act proclaimed by the Ontario government, the term of council bodies so wishing to was set at two years commencing in the 1941 term. This gives the present council almost a year and a half yet to run.

Police Constable W.J. Hunsburger is the new office patrolling our streets and bywavs these days. He replaces Constable Gordon Jack who has been transferred to Rockland.

This morning shortly nine, the fire siren echoed over the town, and the brigade sprang to action. A blaze was busily eating its way to the outside of Percy Jackson's back workshed opposite the Nestle plant.

Mr. Jackson had been working with a blowtorch when the fire started and it gained rapid headway. It was only two jumps and a skip to the new alarm box at that corner of the street.

The wail of the siren started help arriving in a matter of minutes. The flames had started to lick the back of the residence by the time the water was turned on but the sprays stopped the hungry red tongues in a minute.

Confining to the interior of the shed, the damage has not yet been assessed but the inside of building will be a dirty mess of charred wood and sooty water.

We have remarked on other occasions on the promptness of the volunteer brigade in answering the call of the siren. This morning was no exception with the capable leadership of firechief Sidney Morris, a serious blaze was again averted.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Pollock of Berwick opened their home and facilities last Thursday evening to over 200 crop enthusiasts of the county of Stormont for the Third Annual Stormont Crop Improvement Association Twilight Meeting. The well-appointed Pollock farm leant itself admirable for the various features of the evening's program and the comfort of all present.

Mr. Pollock welcomed all to his home and farm. At the conclusion of the evening, Rossie Rupert of Northfield thanked the Pollock family for their hospitality.

The clerk-treasurer of Finch township, Arnott Empey has just completed a three-year course at Queen's University. It was called the clerk's and treasurer's course and had an initial enrollment of 250.

Mr. Empey is to be congratulated on his high standing. He came up with an average of 72. The highest was 75.4.

The total who started the course, 40 have completed it this year.

They will all receive a diploma in Municipal Finance and Administration from the university.

The feed, seed and fuel business of M. Durant and son has closed its doors this week and gone out of business. Haldane Durant has announced the sale of his stock and equipment to Allan Clement, local feed dealer and the Clement business will now take over the rented premises formerly occupied by the Durant firm.

Durant's have occupied the back store and grinding room of the Gillard block for over 60 years.

The second false alarm this summer called out the fire crew at about 7:30pm Tuesday. The double blast was set off from the College St. signal box and the crew arrived in jig time.

They were actually working with the equipment at the time.

The other alarm in the middle of June had been set off at the Main North box.

In each instance it is presumed minors were responsible for the signals.

The village is charged with at least $60 every time the crew is called out on the signal. Some thought is being given to a method of collecting from the guilty parties if they are found or their parents if the offenders are minors.

An advertisment warning the public is carried in this issue under the signature of the village officials.

The Editor's Notebook

Is Ontario's premier William Davis just improving his public image? Or are his recent public statements part of a larger scheme? A letter written by the premier to Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau August 5 was released to the public on Monday. In it the premier urges Trudeau to use the approaching first ministers' conference in September to lay the groundwork for a future conference on the economy rather than through a series of bilateral meetings as Trudeau suggested in June.

Davis told Trudeau national anxiety over the economy, fuelled by record high inflation and interest rates, has never been higher.

He said vigorous economic growth must become Canada's major priority, and uncertainties in federal competition policy and the Foreign Investment Review Agency must be cleared up to ease growing concern and uncertainty in the business community.

He also suggested that Ontario's Board of Industrial Leadership and Development program for the province's economic recovery might serve as an "evolution of a national economic approach as well."

The premier is certainly correct in asking the federal govenment take a stronger stand on the Canadian economy. The stand right now has the consistency of a wet noodle; anything would be an improvement.

However, to believe the premier is solely interested in spurning the prime minister onto looking after our economic problems is politically naive. While Ontario was strong economically, before it began to teeter on the "have not" province brink, it's strength was a result of Premier Bill (everybody's bud) Davis and the mighty blue machine in Queen's Park.

Now that Ontario is not so strong economically, and now that she seems to be following other provinces rather than leading responsibility for the province's financial depression is no longer the provincial government's.

Suddenly, the federal government is the cause, and the only cause of the problem, It's simply not true. The provincial government is being less than honest with the electorate. They must agree that they have done little to reduce their own spending, thus helping to ease the tax burden. Whatever happened to reducing the sales tax, the hidden gas tax, or the numerous other methods used by our Ontario government to slip a little money out of our wallets.

Bill Davis would be helpfully advised to become more of a leader in these economic hard times. The image always looks better than that of an adviser. - mary macdonald -

Ah, our beloved inside postal workers are back on the job. When you stop and examine the situation you wonder if you should shout for joy or cry with anger.

The feeling of finally being able to carry on business in a normal manner without having to make special provisions for the lack of mail delivery is a relief.

However, the thoughts of 23,000 postal workers holding Canadian businesses as hostages for six weeks makes the blood boil, and tears well up in your eyes.

Without the courier services the affects of the six-week strike would have been more severe. With the taste of revenge for the feeling of helplessness the postal workers gave the Canadian public being so sweet, businesses would be advised to consider the post office a last resort mail system - used only for the most unimportant mail. Perhaps a strengthening of courier services and a weakening of the post office will make the next strike almost ineffective. - mary macdonald -

Isabel Wegg

Isabel Wegg is Director of Consumer Relations for The Canadian Life & Health Insurance Association Inc.

Would you willingly spend one-third of your life doing something you hate?

Plenty of people do, you know, at a place they euphemistically call 'the rat race', 'the old grind' or 'the merry-go-round'; a place better known by the offensively explicit term 'work'.

Why do so many people work at something they detest?

To find out, I spoke to personnel consultant Meg Mitchell. She said an unhappy work life usually begins when people are at the job hunting stage and they forget the first - and by far the most important - step of their job search: deciding what it really is they want to do for a living And so, they accept a job they don't want and the years slouch by and they spend the rest of their lives wishing"...if only...'.

According to Meg, most people take a haphazard approach to finding work. She says they phone a company and ask what jobs are available. Of course, the answer to that type of query is usually 'none'. But if there is a vacancy of some sort, and the person decides to apply for it, they often do so with no regard to their personal needs or happiness, content only in the knowledge that "...well, it's a job."

Meg said, "You first have to analyze what you enjoy doing and what particular skills or background you may be able to sell to a company."

Next, she says you have to identify and list your personal needs. These may include how much money you need to make; whether you're a 'people person' or one who enjoys working with things; what industries interest you; whether location is important to you or not; in short, the kind of working environment you require to be happy.

But there's a catch:

"You have to be honest with yourself or you're not going to be able to sell yourself in an interview," she said.

In addition to the usual sources of information like help wanted ads and recruitment firms, Meg suggested that job hunters visit their local library where they'll find numerous books, trade magazines and journals that describe new developments and opportunities in any industry they choose.

These publications will also provide an up-to-date Who's Who in the industry that can be used as a contact list of prospective employers and by reading them, one can ingest the latest industry jargon to help in talking the same language in an interview with a prospective employer.

I think the inference is clear: If you're looking for a job, you'd better do more than just shine your shoes.

It takes planning and a lot of soul-searching to make the right choice and to avoid a lifetime of drudgery.

Real Estate proves reliable

by Micajah Pickett, CA

Historically, moving up to a better house has been a good investment for Canadian families. Real estate prices have proven to be one of the most reliable hedges against inflation over the years, and trading up in the housing market has the effect of placing more of a family's resources behind that hedge.

But there are moments when trading up, or changing houses at all, is a risky bet. This is one of those moments, marked by a combination of high housing costs, a relatively slow market, and painfully high mortgage rates.

Start by working with what you have now. A family that wants to improve its housing would do better to spend the money on renovating the existing home - especially if the mortgage rate is low. The house can always be sold later when interest rates have fallen and the market has perked up, and the improvements can then be reflected in the asking price.

If for some reason you as a homeowner feel forced to change houses anyway, market conditions notwithstanding, proceed with extra caution. Above all, don't make the mistake of putting in a purchase bid on a new house before you've made sure you can sell your existing one. You can sometimes get away with that kind of gamble in a brisk market, but it's very risky when conditions are slow. You might well find yourself carrying two houses - a potentially ruinous proposition at a time of 18-per-cent-plus mortgages.

US Marines plan visit to Old Fort Henry

KINGSTON (Special) - A display of colour, precision and synchronized movement comes to Old Fort Henry, in Kingston, again this summer, with the visit of the United States Marine Corps. The members of the Fort Henry Guard and the Marine Corps Silent Drill Team, Colour Guard and the Drum and Bugle Corps from Washington, D.C. will be together for a week of colourful ceremonies, spirite competition and international friendship.

The two units have been alternating visits between Washington and Kingston since 1954, providing an impressive program of military pageantry. Shortly after the Marines arrive in Kingston on Sat., Aug. 22nd, there will be a public welcoming ceremony at the Fort's drawbridge at 2pm.

Special joint ceremonials will take place on the evenings of Sat., Aug. 22nd and Sun., Aug. 23rd at 7:30pm at Old Fort Henry. The Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, the Honourable John B. Aird, will be the reviewing officer on Saturday evening. Lieutenant General Edward J. Bronars, Deputy Chief of Staff for Manpower for the U.S. Marine Corps, will be the reviewing officer for Sunday evening's performance.

Saturday's presentation will include the relief of the Old Guard by the New Guard. In this ceremony, the Fort Henry Guard entrusts the custody of the fortress to the Marines. On Sunday evening, the Marines will return the custody of Old Fort Henry to the members of the Fort Henry Guard.

As well, both programs will include displays and performances by the Drums, Drill Squad and Artillery of the Fort Henry Guard and by the Silent Drill Team and Drum and Bugle Corps of the Marines.

Closing the program, both evenings, will be the spectacular East Battery Ceremonial Retreat.

In addition to the Saturday and Sunday evening performances, there are a couple of other occasions when the public can see the Marines in action. On Tues., Aug. 25, at noon, the Drum and Bugle Corps will present a musical program at Confederation Park on Ontario Street in Kingston.

That same afternoon, there will be a special program at Old Fort Henry At 2:30pm the Drums of the Fort Henry Guard will perform, followed at 3pm by the traditional Armstrong Gun Races. That event involves competition between the Marines and the Fort Henry Guard for the coveted Gunner's Gun Award.

Then, at approximately 3:40pm, there will be a display of battle tactics and precision drill by the Squad of the Fort Henry Guard.

Bruisers on the verge of an upset in town ball hockey

(Staff) - Playoffs are said to be a new season. This is especially true as far as the Bruisers are concerned.

Putting a dismal regular season behind them, Steven Ball's team appears to have hit their stride at a very opportune moment.

In their best-of-three quarter-final series against the Lions, each team has won a game and with a win tomorrow night Wed., Aug. 12 at the Chesterville Arena, Bruisers can swiftly put an end to the pennant winners year.

Chargers are the first team to take a quarter-final set as they swept the Odd Squad in two straight games.

Meanwhile the Knights-Green Machine series is tied 1-1 and anything could happen in the final game.

LIONS vs BRUISERS

Game 1 - Greg Beckstead fired in two goals to lead the Lions to a 4-1 victory.

Lions got the only goal of the first period when captain Lyle Servage beat Bruisers goalie Doug Carruthers at 12:10. Beckstead then counted his first of the evening at 4:16 of the second period from Dan Kelly and Dave Carruthers putting Lions up by two.

Bruisers hit for their only marker at 18:30 of the stanza when Barry Elliott found the target from Dan Moriarity and Tony Kelly. However that's as close as the underdogs got.

Greg Beckstead put the game firmly into the Lions grasp at 5:30 of the third after being set-up by Gary Elliott and Lyle Servage. The contest's final goal was scored at 8:46 by Barry Fulton from Johnny Vanderveen.

Game 2 - Bruisers clipped the Lions paws with a stunning and decisive 5-0 win. Doug Carruthers helped turn the series around with shutout goaltending and Randy Elliott chipped in with four points.

Bruisers sent the Lions reeling with three first period goals. At 4:59, Ken Shay earned what proved to be the winning goal when he scored from Richard McMillan and Randy Elliott.

Exactly a minute later, Neil Beckstead clicked with help from Shay and Elliott. Randy then popped one in himself at 9:16 from McMillan.

Elliott notched the lone goal of the second period with the assist on the play belonging to Ken Shay. Tony Kelly administered the final bruises to the Lions at 13:58 of the third frame from Beckstead and McMillan.

GREEN MACHINE-KNIGHTS

Game 1 - Knights molded the makings of an upset when they took a one game lead in the series by tripping up the Machine 3-1.

The teams traded first period goals. Knights got on the scoreboard first at 2:04 with Don Richards being the marksman from Ron Richards and Jack Hoogeveen.

Green Machine counted near the end of the frame with Rudy Grisel doing the honors from Kevin Shaver.

Neil Kittle collected the winner at 4:05 of the second frame from Hoogeveen and Jack was in on the game's final marker by Peter DeRooy in the third period.

Game 2 - Green Machine fought off elimination when they squeaked by Knights 2-1.

The defensive struggle was anchored by the two goalies; Ed Witteveen for Green Machine and Knight Steve Droppo.

Jeff VanMoorsel was the Machine's savior as it was his goal with a mere 1:46 remaining in the game which lifted Bill Fyke's team out of the woods. Assisting VanMoorsel on the play were Don Thompson and Shawn Chambers.

Green Machine slipped out in front 1-0 at 12:25 of the first period when John Sharkey whipped in a goal from Pat Kelly. Knights Jack Hoogeveen continued to be a dominant force when he found the target at 12:23 of the second period from Steve Droppo and Sid Vanderveen.

CHARGERS-ODD SQUAD

Game 1 - Chargers needed big performances out of scorers Dave Arnold and Lambert Joldersma in the playoffs and that's exactly what they got in their two-game sweep over Odd Squad.

Arnold, who finished first in the scoring race notched four goals and one assist in the series while Joldersma, who ended up second behind his teammate in the points derby picked up two assists. Doug Hough garnered three points.

The first period was scoreless in game one but Chargers broke the ice at 9:15 of the second period when Arnold scored from Joldersma and Andy Windsor.

Chargers increased their lead by two at 14:20 of the third period when Doug Hough found the mark from Arnold and Brent Theede. Odd Squad scurried back into contention later in the stanza on Gary Gallinger's goal from Noel Lalonde and Mike Hoogeveen but Arnold put the game out of reach as he clicked with the help of Lambert Joldersma.

Game 2 - Odd Squad put up a game battle but were knocked out of further playoff action following a 3-2 loss.

Chargers got off to a fast start taking a 2-0 lead in the first period. Andy Windsor led off the scoring at 3:07 from Dan Clement and Dave Arnold tallied at 8:58 from Doug Hough and Neil Fyke.

Odd Squad rallied back to within one at 14:39 of the second period when Larry Gallinger scored from Pat Imrie and Gary Gallinger.

Arnold earned the winning goal at 13:10 of the third period from Hough. Odd Squad received a flicker of hope when Gary Gallinger tallied at 16:20 but it wasn't enough.

Ladies tournament off

(Staff) - There will not be a Ladies Fastball Tournament in Chesterville in 1981.

The Annual Labor Day fixture is in danger of being scrapped permanently if new tournament organizers cannot be found. Bob Miltimore and Edythe Cameron, who were the convenors for the tournament's nine years, decided to let someone else take up the reins.

Mrs. Cameron said after nine years of putting the tournament together it was time to step aside.

"People don't realize how much work goes into putting on a tournament", she said. Organization starts in June when the teams have to start being lined up.

When the big weekend arrives, accommodation has to be found for the teams and so forth.

Although she has not completely ruled out the possibility of lending a hand in the organization of a tournament in 1982, Mrs. Cameron said she would have to look at the situation as it arose.

Crysler Western Week

Heavy rain didn't stop the Gymkana Barrel Race from being held on time in Crysler on Sunday afternoon. Despite the less than ideal track conditions John McTeer (left) aboard Texas Hombre went around the course in 15.400 seconds, good enough for first place. Bob Trudeau on Kojak was second at 15.432 while Paul Binks riding Billy the Kid finished third with a line of 15.535 seconds. Nancy Perry (right) had a little more difficulty but still managed to complete the course in 17.748 seconds. The race was part of Crysler Western Week. - staff photos -

Labatt Grand Prix

MONTREAL - The annual transition from flowers to Ferraris will be taking place on Montreal's famous Expo islands again next month.

The closing of the international Floralies flower exhibition on Labour Day weekend is a signal to thousands of motorsports enthusiasts that the arrival of the world's fastest drivers is not far off.

The Labatt Grand Prix of Canada, one of 15 races in 14 countries counting toward the world driving championship, is scheduled for September 25-27 on the 2.7 mile Ile Notre Dame circuit.

"We're expecting a sensational race," remarks Labatt Grand Prix organizer Normand Legault. "The world championship is very competitive this year and any one of half a dozen drivers could wind up on top."

After 10 Grand Prix events, Carlos Reutemann of Argentina leads the standings with 43 points driving a Williams car followed by Nelson Piquet of Brazil with 35 points in a Brabham, Jacques Lafitte of France with 25 points in a McLaren and Canada's Gilles Villeneuve with 21 points driving a Ferrari.

Villeneuve, who won the Labatt Grand Prix three years ago, has recorded two wins this year despite handling problems with the powerful Ferraris.

Interest in this year's event is building early, according to Legault.

"Tickets only went on sale in mid-July," he comments, "but advance sales have been running considerably higher than usual. We're expecting a lot of spectators from Ontario and the United States as well as Quebec."

Tickets are on sale at Ticketron outlets across the country and are priced from $75, for the best reserved seats on all three days, to $15 general admission on the day of the race.

The Grand Prix is scheduled for 2:15pm on Sunday, September 27 after two full days of qualifying and supporting races.

A full week of festivities in and around Montreal will lead up to the race.

Three club champions crowned last week at Cedar Glen course

(Special) - The highlight of this week was the ceremonial crowning of this year's Club Champion Gary McMillan.

McMillan went into the final round carding a 75 which was just ahead of Mike 'Round' Guy's 77 and Barry Casselman and Rick Barkley's 78.

The final round of 18 started early Sunday morning despite the threat of rain. After some excellent golf, Gary McMillan matched his qualifying round score with another 75 for a total of 150.

Rick Barkley totalled 154 after firing a 76 which was not quite good enough to catch McMillan. Mike Guy destroyed any chance he may have had of winning when he revealed a disappointing score of 51 on the front nine. His back nine score of 45 gave him a round of 96.

Barry Casselman also fell short of the winners circle after shooting a 79 for a total of 157.

"Sigh' Casselman swept to victory in the B Class Club Championship. Casselman carded an 80 on the final day for a total two-round score of 159.

Competition in C Class was exhilarating as Brooke Leightizer dazzled all spectators with an 83 in the final round including a super 37 in the front round. Brooke's total of 175 distinguished him as C Club Champion.

Al Fraser finished with a 182 followed closely by Bruce Whitteker who chiselled a score 184.

A men's Night crowd of 62 took to the Cedar Glen links on Thursday Night. In A Class, Fred Harper amassed a score of 39 which tied him with Gary McMillan. However, after an extra hole Harper earned first low gross. First low net went to Curtis McMillan with a 32½ which just edged out Brent McIntosh's 33.

Bert McIntosh fired a 42 to win first low gross in B Class. Bert recovered from his enormous 18 on the par three, 13th hole last week. Charlie Ault took second low gross with a 44. Bill Lloyd zinged a 31½ for first low net while Wally Baker hammered out a 35 for second place.

C Class play saw Pete Monast emerge as the winner of first low gross with a 47. Brian Kipping also fired a 47 but lost on back holes. First low net was won by Dale Beckstead with a 28½ ahead of Pete Van Kessel's 32½.

The A and B Class lady golfers were rewarded for their talents on Wednesday night.

Sheila Crowder took home the first low gross prize in A Class with a 55. Jessie Summers was second after carding a 62. The Hidden Hole Prize belongs to Muriel Walsh by playback and the Most Honest Award went to Marilyn Cinnamon.

Cedar Glen's junior players emulated the senior counterparts by holding their own Club Championship as well. Leaders going into the final round are Barry Whitteker and Eric Cormier who have both stroked 79's. Chris Casselman follows closely with an 83.

Chips and Putts

- All ladies are invited to Morrisburg for a two-ball tournament on Tues., Aug. 18. There will be no Ladies Night on Wed., Aug. 19.

Minor softball week to resume on August 21 with a revised schedule

MOOSE CREEK (Staff) - One of the unfortunate flaws of the game of softball is it can't be played in the rain.

Thus, when inclement weather rolled into the area on Saturday morning organizers of Minor Ball Week, which began here at the Recreation Grounds on Wednesday evening, decided to postpone the tournament until Fri., Aug. 21. The tourney will now run until Sun., Aug. 23.

Thirty-two games were completed in the six divisions until the rains moved in. More than 30 games are to be completed when action resumes in 10 days time.

In the Squirt Girls division one more game has to be played in the round robin leading up to the final on Sun., Aug. 23 at 2pm.

All the round-robin games in the Squirt Boys division have been played. Winchester-Russell, Finch-Cornwall semi-final contests will be played on Sat., Aug., 22 in the afternoon. The final game is scheduled for Sunday at 1pm.

In the Bantam Boys division, the semi-finals in both the championship and consolation rounds are to be played. Finch is still in the running on the A side while Ingleside and Moose Creek remain in contention on the B ledger. The A title match will be contested on Sunday at 4pm with the B game the same day at 3pm.

The preliminary round is completed in the Bantam Boys division. Quarter-final and semi-final matches in both the A and B sides were not completed. Newington is alive in the championship round, as is Berwick in the consolation.

The Bantam Boys B final is set for 4pm on Sunday with the A final scheduled for 5pm.

In the Peewee Girls round-robin only three games were played before the rains swept in. The remaining four first round matches have to be contested as well as two semi-final games which will go on Saturday afternoon, and the final slated for Sunday at 2pm.

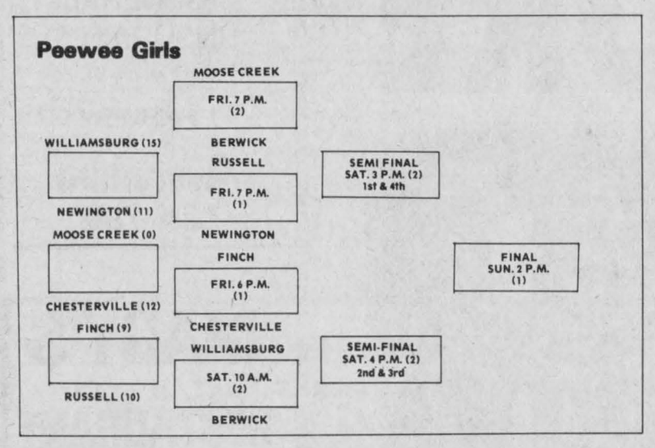
Chesterville Peewee Boys squad have made it to the championship final in their division which will be played on Sunday at 3pm. Chesterville's opponents in the big game will either be Newington, Cornwall or Winchester.

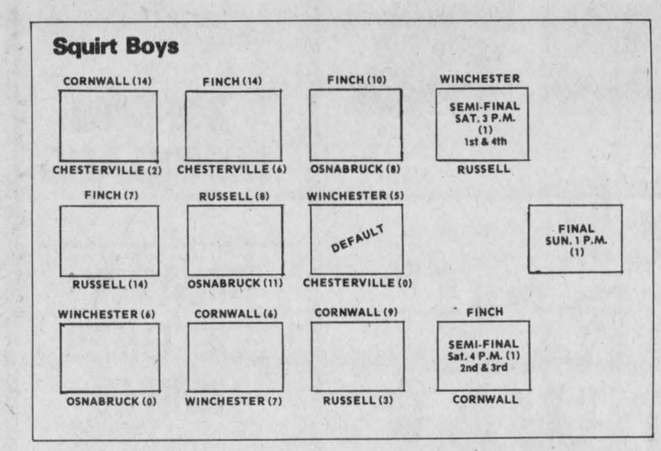
Over on the B side three quarter-final, one semi-final have to be played before the consolation championship on Sunday afternoon at 2pm. Teams still in contention include Finch, Ingleside and Moose Creek.

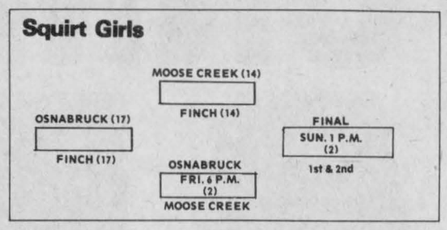
Two diamonds will be in use throughout the weekend. Trophies will be presented to winning clubs and medallions will be handed out to outstanding players.

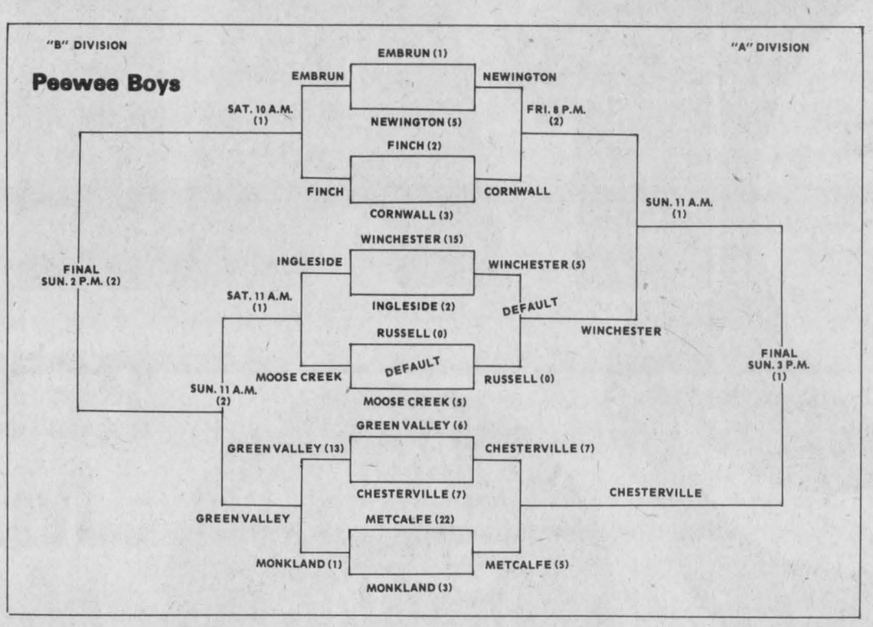
Parking and admission to the grounds is free of charge. If you want more information on this tournament contact Art Buchanan at 938-0735 (Bus.) or 538-2539.

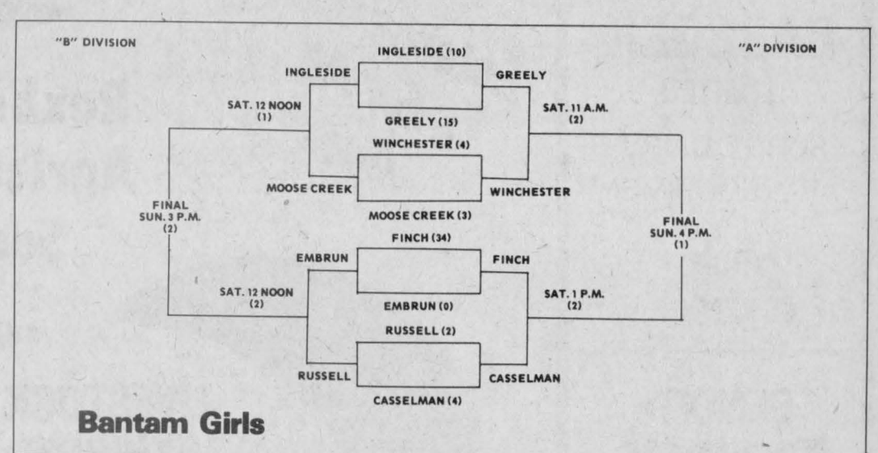
THE RECORD SPORTS

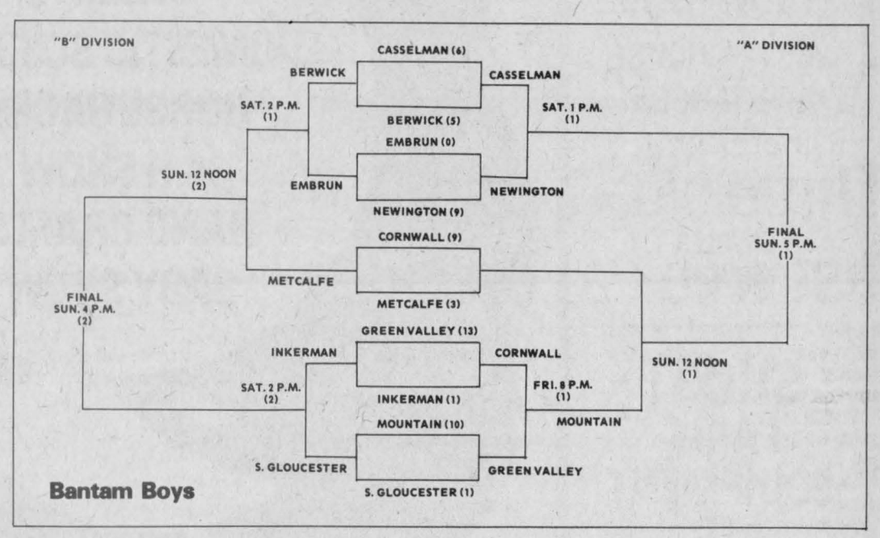












Hockey at Queen's this month

TORONTO - The Bank of Nova Scotia, in conjunction with Hockey Ontario is sponsoring a hockey development camp in Kingston later this month.

Making the announcement recently was Don Robb, Executive Director of Hockey Ontario Development and Len Woolsey, General Manager of Marketing in The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Sixty-eight top amateur players and 20 referees from across Ontario will participate in the camp to be held at Queen's University starting August 15 and ending on August 22. The week-long camp will combine training skills and competition together with classroom sessions.

Heading the nine-man coaching staff is Tom Watt who is the head coach of the Winnipeg Jets. Mr. Watt brings vast experience in amateur hockey development having coached the University of Toronto Varsity Blues to numerous collegiate championships as well as being behind bench of the Canadian Olympic team which competed at Lake Placid in 1980.

His coaching staff will provide both on and off-ice instruction.

The referees will be handled by a five-man staff which includes former National Hockey League official Vern Buffey. Mr. Buffey, who has recently written a book on his experiences in the NHL, is the Referee Technical Director for Hockey Ontario.

Don Robb said the 1981 Hockey Development Camp is designed to develop leadership and playing skills among players and referees who will take part.

"These individuals have the potential to make an outstanding contribution to hockey as well as their community. We must provide them with the chance to reach their potential," he said.

Len Woolsey added that "Scotiabank believes the leadership instruction that will be provided to young people through the Hockey Ontario program is important for the future of hockey in this country.

Equally important is the profound effect this type of program can have on our future leaders in sports as well as society."
