Rental Agreement Reached For OPP Winchester Office

It is official now, and it could be the start of an over-all change in the policing of Win-Winchester and the area. A letter from the Department of Public Works states that a rental agreement with the town for a portion of the municipal Hall has been reached at a price of $1800 per year.

The part of the Town Hall in mention includes the new office of the police chief, town engineer and the larger room which has been used regularly by the Department of Transport.

After January 1, 1968 this entire section of the building will be taken over by the Ontario Provincial Police as the office of the Winchester detachment. It is expected that the force may be enlarged to three officers and there is much speculation that this is only the start of a much larger detachment in the years ahead.

What it means in local policing is still vague. A province-wide policy will probably eliminate most police forces with a personnel under five, to be replaced by the Provincial Police. Winchester and most other towns fall into this category.

Council feels that the first major step towards an eventual changeover has been taken. To this end it is expected a meeting with provincial police officials will be called the first part of the new year.

It is understood that the Department of Transport Training Centre will continue to operate from the new OPP headquarters until new quarters are arranged.

Officially Open South Dundas

Thomas H. Houghton, Assistant Superintendent of Secondary Education, of Toronto, spoke to the people of Iroquois and district on the occasion of the official opening of the two-million dollar addition to the Iroquois High School.

Mr. Houghton said that this new addition will insure that the students of the district will insure that the students of the disrict will now have facilities equal to those of any city system.

The speaker reviewed the changes in the educational system over the years and told of things to come, including the new school board system, and he said: "The impact of new proposals will be immense. School districts will reduce administrative units and costs will be equalized."

Mr. Houghton was introduced by Mervin Lever, Area Superintendent of Schools, and thanked by A. J. Bray, Principal of Seway District High School.

F. M. Cass, M.P.P. for Grenville-Dundas, addressed the gathering and pointed with justifiable pride to the two excellent schools in the county.

School Board Chairman Dale Beckstead, who was also chairman for the evening, presented the keys to the new building to the school principal. Rev. D. W. MacDonald, St. Mary's Church, Morrisburg, delivered the invocation, Rev. J. J. Hibbs, Iroquois Presbyterian Church, conducted the dedication, and Rev. F. L. Howald, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Morrisburg, read the Scripture.

Planned for the future, with an expected enrolment of 900 by the year 1970, the new addition includes 14 classrooms, 2 laboratories, shops, occupational centres, business and commercial rooms, library, with the area of the gymnasium doubled and the cafeteria enlarged.

The original school and the new additions now surround an interior court which, when completed will make an ideal location for undisturbed study.

At the present time the attendance at the school is slightly over 500, with a staff of 40 teachers.

BUSY COUNCIL SHOWS

Where The Money Goes

In some circles, money may still be the root of all evil. But to Winchester Municipal Council members it is a important commodity necessary in the proper functioning of the village. Monday evening's busy December session of council was a prime example of "where the money goes."

With less than a month running in the current year, Clerk-Treasurer C. R. Robinson roughed out briefly the financial status of the town and said that he would present a more accurate picture up to December 1st. With fingers crossed it now looks as though Winchester will get through the year with at least a balanced budget. "But everything will have to work out right" the clerk told council. Referring to the collection of taxes. Mr. Robinson said that he was pleased with the improvement which had been made this year but emphasized that there were still several thousand dollars in outstanding taxes which must be collected. He said every effort will be made to gain these needed revenues from the delinquent taxpayer.

Dealing in cold hard cash, council passed for payment the following: $7500 to Sullivan Brothers, contractors, for installation of new culverts. This is a part payment only. $5300 to S. B. Simms and Sons Ltd. for the multi-purpose tractor recently purchased from this firm. This represents payment of the tractor as it stands to-day. However, more auxiliary equipment is planned which will up the price another seven or eight hundred dollars. Municipal accounts were $18,765.38; water, $4,535.64, and hydro, $7,485.86. Several other minor accounts were looked after and the accounts payable department including the high school levy of $49,000 were discussed thoroughly. Council also revealed that volunteer firemen's wages for fighting fires in Winchester and other areas totalled $2500 for the year.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business Council breezed through smoothly a heavy agenda which included: the granting of permission to Summers Bakery and Vice Furniture to erect new illuminated signs at their premises; a grant of $100 to Winchester Public Library; the passing of an $18,000 supplementary by-law to the Department of Highways for construction, maintenance and new culverts; refusal of a request by the Curling Club to use town flags; half payment with Chesterville for a special water tapping device, $42.00, at the same time issuing Chesterville an invoice for half cost in a coupling pusher used in water system maintenance; clarification of a deed dealing with the Marquette property; a letter to the Department of Municipal Affairs to assist in the clearing up of certain technicalities in the proposed new Lannin subdivision; decision not to take an option on the old Royal Bank building; announcement that the water tank (without interruption to service) would be inspected early in the new year; review of a request to improve drainage facilities from the Top Valu Gas Mart (it is expected work will be carried out on this project in the near future) and an announcement that the final meeting of council for 1967 would be held on Saturday, December 30, at 1.00 p.m.

Reeve Elliott was in the chair, all councillors were present in addition to Clerk C. R. Robinson, Town Engineer Reg. Freeland and Police Chief Les Whitteker. It was a busy and productive meeting.

Scouts Selling Christmas Trees

First Winchester Scout Troop will be selling Christmas Trees this year to raise funds for the coming year's campouts and other expenses. The outlets will be located at Fabrics Unlimited and Elliott's Store, from December 8th on, with members of the Venturers looking after sales for the next two week-ends.

So if you are in need of a tree, come out and support your Winchester Scout Troop by purchasing a tree.

POWER PURCHASE COSTS UP

Hydro Rate Increase Possible Next Year

If you are a betting man the odds on favourite for next year is an increase in hydro electric power rates to all customers in Winchester. It's not definite but the handwriting on the wall in the way of increased costs as outlined in a brief from the Commission to Winchester Hydro System all but verifies the application to increase rates.

Winchester Hydro System is not "desperate" for funds. It is well organized and the town distribution system is in good shape. If this were not the case the increase would probably become effective the first part of the new year. As it stands, the local System can pay the difference for a limited amount of time because the cost of purchasing power, which really is the yardstick for increased rates to the user, is going up.

The Commission attributes increased costs to municipal hydro systems to such things as higher wages and operational costs, higher water rentals higher taxes, higher prices for fuels, higher maintenance, in short higher!

What it really means is that the average customer "may" be tagged with an eight per cent. increase "sometime" next year if a new schedule can be implemented. The incerase rates will be made to simply cover the additional costs of purchasing power for this town which, by the way, is a better than average user of Hydro electric power.

Still on Hydro, arrangements have been made to have a number of meters changed in the village, and assistance has been gained in the reading of meters. It was also revealed that Hydro would again look after the installation of Christmas lights and decorations in the village in co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce.

Safe Driving Week!

This is "Safe Driving Week," but then, every week should be Safe Driving Week for Canada's 7,659,728 licensed drivers. . .

Following are "10 Steps To Safe Driving", as suggested by the Dominion Automobile Association:

1. Keep both hands firmly on the wheel — at ten and two o'clock — and both eyes on the road.
2. Never tailgate — allow at least one vehicle length for every ten miles per hour of speed — use the Timed Interval Formula.
3. On wet, snowy or icy roads reduce speed — by at least 20 m.p.h. below posted speed limits, depending on the severity of conditions.
4. Always signal intentions—turns, lane changes, passing.
5. Curves require special attention — slow down before entering, then apply power to wheels. Be alert for oncoming cars; they often cross the centre line.
6. Never pass on hills or curves. On straightaways pass only when positive the way is clear.
7. Don't drive after heavy drinking. After moderate drinking, allow one hour for each ounce of alcohol consumed, before driving.
8. Keep the car in good operating condition, especially brakes, tires, steering and front end suspension, front and rear lights, turn signals, wipers, muffler and exhaust pipe.
9. Always fasten seat belt and lock car doors.
10. Drive defensively: be ready for the unexpected; know what to do to avoid an accident; react in time.

Gordon Lannin Dies Suddenly At Chesterville

Residents of Chesterville, Winchester and district were shocked to hear of the sudden death of William Gordon Lannin, last Friday.

Mr. Lannin, long time garage operator in Chesterville, as well as the owner of a school bus service, suffered a severe coronary and died before a doctor could be reached. He was in his 54th year.

Son of Mrs. William Lannin (the former Nellie Suffel) and her late husband, of Winchester, he is survived by his wife, the former Georgina Mae Clark, and two sons, William Robert and John Harold. Also surviving are three brothers, Harold, Dwight and Wilfred, all of Winchester.

Mr. Lannin was born in South Mountain and received his education at Winchester Public and High Schools. He was a member of Chesterville Council, the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce, and the I.O.O.F.

The funeral was from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville on Monday at two p.m. where the service was conducted by Rev. L. Ferguson of Chesterville United Church. Pall-bearers were Gordon Cumming, James Fyke, Keith Graham, Duane Whitteker, Harold Armstrong and John Hehir. Interment was in Knight's Cemetery.

Walter MacDonald Heads Riding Grits

"The people of Winchester and surrounding area join with me in congratulating Walter on his fine showing on October 17. In winning 16 polls on that day in various parts of the riding, in spite of a short two-week campaign, he showed us what hard work can achieve."

These were the words of Winchester Reeve George Elliott, directed to Walter C. MacDonold, the Liberal standard-bearer for Genville-Dundas in the recent provincial election.

The occasion was the Annual Meeting of the Grenville-Dundas Liberal Association, which was held in Winchester Town Hall, and it was noted that this was the first time the annual meeting had ever been held in the municipality of Winchester.

Reeve Elliott went on to say. "We hope that this aggressive

Federation Asks Further Study Of Board Re-Organization

Schools should be administered on some other basis than by counties, said the Ontario Teachers' Federation in a statement issued recently. They were commenting on an announcement by Premier Robarts that counties will be the school administration units by 1969.

The teachers contended that in many instances counties no longer have any economic, geographic or sociological entity. Miss Nora Hodgins, OTF secretary-treasurer, said that among counties there are great disparities in sizes, populations and numbers of pupils and schools.

Miss Hodgins said that detailed studies by both government and private authorities . . . "indicate that the present county organizations are not adequate for either managing municipal or school board affairs. Counties such as Hastings, Leeds, or Waterloo, to name but three, do not necessarily have the components required to organize a board of education for each of their areas.

"The Premier's announcement raised the question of the conflict between the program of regional government studies undertaken by the Department of Municipal Affairs and the program of developing larger educational units undertaken by the Department of Education.

"We also question whether sufficient research has been done on this matter. The Federation would welcome the opportunity to study the material prepared in connection with the Premier's announcement," said Miss Hodgins.

The Federation asks why the government was directly involving itself in a consolidation move that was already accelerating in the past few years:

1945, 5,649 school boards; 1960, 3,676 school boards; 1967, 1,490 school boards.

The 1967 figure is made up of 988 Boards of Education, Public School Boards, and 502 Separate School Boards.

"The Federation requests that the Premier prepare a white paper outlining the reasons for and the details of his proposed reorganization," concluded Miss Hodgins.

District Election Results

Monday was "Election Day" in many municipal areas throughout the district, but in Winchester Township all offices had been filled by acclamation.

MOUNTAIN TOWNSHIP

However, in neighbouring Mountain Township, although Reeve Harry Williams and Deputy Reeve Ewart Simms had been returned by acclamation, five were nominated to fill the three council seats, and two of the old council were returned.

The final count showed John Loughlin leading with 233 votes; Ray Guy, 207; Hugh Blaine, 197; John Nelson, 175, and Alton Casselman 152. For the next two-year term one new face will appear at the council table with Hugh Blaine replacing Alton Casselman.

CHESTERVILLE

The Village of Chesterville will hold another Nomination Meeting this Friday night. This second nomination meeting was made necessary since all nominees at the original nomination meeting declined to qualify. However, there was a "vote" at Chesterville. Chesterville voted on the Sunday Sports Issue, and voters were asked to vote simply "Yes" or "No" on the question of whether or not Chesterville should have Sunday Sports with paid admissions. Less than 30% of the eligible voters appeared at the polls, but four of every five that did favoured Sunday Sports. The result means that Chesterville will now be in a position to conduct Sunday sports and charge admission to the public.

RUSSELL TOWNSHIP

The Township of Russell also had an election, and Reeve Ernest Burton and his Deputy Reeve Gaston Patenaude both received strong votes of confidence. Mr. Burton defeated his rival, Edgar Brisson by 855 votes to 358, and Mr. Pattenaude had 860 votes and his opposition, Sylvio Pilon received only 220.

The three council seats will be filled by Rene Brisson, Keith Dugdale and Mrs. Robert McCallum.

Final Tribute Paid Memory Stanley Nesbitt

Stanley Jay Nesbitt of Winchester died on November 30. Mr. Nesbitt, who was in his 66th year, was the son of the late Jay W Nesbitt and his wife, Desdimona Suffel.

He is survived by one brother, Wm. R. Nesbitt, of Brockville. A sister, Tressa Everts and a brother, Harvey, predeceased him some years ago.

The funeral was from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home where the service was conducted by Rev. A. J. MacDonald of Winchester United Church, on Saturday at two p.m.

Pall-bearers were Ron Freeland, Willis Robinson, Eldon Fennell, Rowat Jones, Wilfred McKercher and Leroy Boyd. Interment was in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Saturday Date Here With Santa

Seventy years ago, eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon wrote to Frank P. Church of the old New York Sun and appealed for an answer to the age-old question: "Please tell me the truth, Mr. Church, is there a Santa Claus?"

People the world over have read and re-read Mr. Church's beautiful answer — but residents of Winchester, although having read the answer, have living proof of the existence of the "Jolly One" from the top of the world, for each year at this time he leaves his Arctic home and pays a short visit to one of his favourite towns, Winchester.

Despite the huge increase in the population of the world, which naturally means a tremendous step-up in toy production, Good Old Santa, whose helpers apparently are not yet unionized, keeps up the pace and still finds time for his Annual Pre-Christmas visits. Saturday, December 9th, is the big day, and only this morning The Press dialed the frozen north and heard the familiar ring of Santa's voice confirming the date.

Santa's means of transportation has not yet been clearly defined, but it is certain that he will arrive at the Public School at 2.00 p.m. and is assured the usual resounding welcome. Understandably, Santa's' time at any one stop is very limited, so immediately following his official welcome by town dignitaries the great parade will get underway with jolly old Santa in the lead, and the parade this year should be one of the best staged in the town. Merchants have done a splendid job of decorating their store fronts and residents along the route will, no doubt, have their homes suitably decked out for this very special occasion.

Parade Chairman Bill Collins and his able "right hand" man, Ron Workman have spent many long hours in preparation for the big day, and have released the following parade route:

Leaving the school the colourful floats will move north along St. Lawrence Street to Main; East on Main to Centre Street and then proceed north on Centre to Dufferin. At Dufferin the course will swing west to Gordon and thence out Gordon Street to the rink where Santa will distribute hundreds of gifts to the children. The Merry Man will then say farewell to his little friends and the parade will again form up and proceed out Gordon Street to Main, west on Main to St. Lawrence and thence back to the school, and from there Santa will start his long journey back to the "Pole."

The early fall of snow this year should do much to create the true spirit of Christmas, and the ringing of the sleighbells and rollicking band music will all add to make Winchester's Centennial Christmas Parade a fitting prelude to another joyous Christmas for local residents.

Businessmen have carefully prepared for this season of giving and have suitable gifts for every member of the family. Why not take time after the parade to visit the friendly stores, brouse around and undoubtedly find solutions to many of your gift-giving problems.

One Stop Shopping Centre

With the emphasis to-day on huge, colourful, shopping plazas, it is refreshing to note that the same results can be accomplished on a slightly smaller scale away from the noise and the traffic "snarls" that always hinder and frustrate the big city shopper.

There is a shopping centre on Highway 31, in the quiet little residential village of Vernon—"Porteous I.G.A."

This shopping centre is not something new, for most likely your grandfather shopped there. The name "Porteous" first appeared over the door of the Vernon store in the year 1900 when the owner-operator was J. K. Porteous. In 1913, a brother, W. J., who had worked in the store for some seven years, took over the business and it became known as W. J. Porteous and Sons, and although now best recognized as Porteous IGA, it is still owned by W. J. Porteous and Sons Ltd.

The "sons" of course were the well known twins, Wilfred and Howard, and another son, Murray, who died in the early 1930's.

Now, in 1967, the "sons" act mainly in an advisory capacity and the business is carried on by two grandsons of the original "W. J." Another brother combination, Bill and Roy, and what was once a little corner grocery store has developed into one of the most modern shopping centres in the Ottawa Valley.

Many shopping centres use a common slogan which goes something like "one-stop shopping" and this is exactly what can be found in Vernon. There is ample parking space (no meters, no limits!), and here are some of the services that are available at the Porteous Corner: Food; Hardware and Paint Dept.; wearing apparel; shoe dept.; appliances, as well as an up-to-date television show room; dry cleaning depot; Post Office; and the Bell Telephone Company also has an outlet at this location.

This week a new section of the store was officially opened, and friends are invited to "drop in" and see rural Ontario's answer to modern metropolis shopping extravaganzas.

School Programmes Designed To Produce Trained Citizens

Occupational Training Programme

The purpose of the Occupational Training Programme is to provide a measure of education and training which will interest, stimulate, and satisfy the needs of students who are fifteen years of age or over and who have been transferred from Grade VIII to secondary school.

The programme can be considered to have three aspects: academic instruction, shop activities, and work experience. The overall evaluation is based on all three phases. Even within each of these phases, however evaluation is based to a large extent upon progress achieved, rather than upon the attainment of fixed goals

The enrolmnt in the four occupational classes at N.D.D.H.S. is 80. Of this number, 37 are enrolled in the second-year programme. Upon successful completion of the school year, these students may leave the School at Easter to take employment.

As part of the regular school curriculum, N.D.D.H.S. has established a Work Experience Training Programme. It consists of actual work done by the students in actual work situations. Each second year student is required to work for two weeks, one week at a time, in the world of work. Each placement is made in respect to the student's interest and ability. During the week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 1 the second-year occupational classes will participate in the first part of the work experience programme of the year.

The following are the teachers and their respective subjects in the occupational classes:

Mr. J. E. Bowman, B.A., M. Ed., Co-ordinator of Occupational classes, History and Geography.

Miss V. Bentley — Mathematics.

Mrs. L. Casselman—Girls' occupations which include waitress training, foods, hospital services and basic retailing. This year, for the first time at N.D.D.H.S., two classes of boys are taking instruction in cooking. They are learning mostly the work of short order cooks.

Miss C. Cornwall—Library.

Mr. A. Earnshaw—Woodwork and boat-building, welding, sheet metal work and wrought iron work.

Mr. H. Edwards—Small gasoline engine service, auto service and driver education.

Mr. J. Fisher, Technical Director—Electricity.

Mrs. R. D. Forgues — Typewriting.

Mr. T. D. MacLean—Mathematics, English, and remedial reading.

Mr. G. Maharaj, B. Soc. Sc.—Typewriting

Mrs. B. Quinn — English and remedial reading, Physical and Health Education.

Mr. B. Robinson—Electricity which includes appliance repair circuitry, house wiring and electrical theory.

Mr. K. Rowley, B.Sc.—Science

Mr. P. Severn, B.A., B.P.H.E., Physical and Health Education.

Mr. D. Wallace—Welding and auto body serivce.

Mrs. J. Ward, B.A.—Physical and Health Education.

. . . And Skilled Workers

SCIENCE TECHNOLOGY AND TRADES PROGRAMME

The Science, Technology and Trades Programme (S.T. and T.) was set up to enable the student to acquire a basic technical skill and to become familiar with other skills which are related to his main interest. Technical instruction will also help him to understand the importan nd need of useful, efficien ork to the community. His character will be developed; he will learn the value of doing things well and the satisfaction that comes from finishing a task which has been started.

The aim of technical education is to develop a pupil to a level where he is ready and willing to apply himself in a chosen field of endeavour.

Both the Five year S. T. & T. course and the Four year S. T. & T. course are offered at the school. The Five year S. T. & T. course is designed for the student who intends to eventually take an engineering course at the University level. The subjects taken are exactly the same as those taken by the Five year Arts and Science students with the exception of the option subjects. The Four year S. T. & T. program has been designed to fit into the Ontario apprenticeship scheme. Credit is given in many apprenticeships, particularly Auto Mechanics, for subjects completed in the high school. Many four year graduates will go on to further their education at the Community Colleges. This programme can be a stepping stone to a very successful future.

The courses offered in grades 9 and 10 are Auto Mechanics, Building Construction, Drafting, Electricity and Agriculture. In grades 11 and 12, Building Technology, Electrical Technology, Auto Mechanics and Drafting (mechanical and architectural) are offered.

MR. JACK FISHER

Twelve staff members are responsible for the teaching of practical and applied subjects to approximately 270 students enrolled in the Science Technology and Trades Program at N. D. D. H. S. Mr. Jack Fisher is Tehcnical Director and is responsible for the S. T. and T. Department. Mr. F. Brown is Assistant Technical Director and teaches Electronics.

Also teaching, other than the required academic subjects such as English and History are: Mr. G. Garlough, B.S.A., Agriculture; Mr. W. James, Building Construction; Mr. J. Jordan and Mr. L. Trillo, Drafting; Mr. K. Morrow, Auto Mechanics, and Mr. B. Robinson, Electricity.

Hospital Restrictions Relaxed

The Board of Governors of the Cornwall General Hospital, at a recent meeting voted unanimously to accept the recommendation of the nursing and hospital staff that the hospital restriction against visitors under fourteen years of age be removed for a trial period of three months.

Effective immediately, children of all ages will be allowed to visit patients in their rooms if they are accompanied by an adult and observe a minimum of common-sense regulations.

Visiting children, however, will be required to check with a nurse at the desk for permission to visit, and be guided by her decision as to how many visitors a patient may have at one time.

It is emphasized that children's visits should be short and positively not at meal time.

Hospital authorities now agree that visits of children when a parent is in the hospital can be most beneficial to both patient and child, and that children under fourteen years are no more likely to bring infection into the hospital, or to be infected during a visit, than are the visitors who are admitted to the hospital under present regulations.

Under this new arrangement par may now visit friends when before the lack of a babysitter made this impossible.

The Board of Governors hope this new arrangement will encourage the kind of visits which are truly helpful to patients—visits which are cheerful, relaxed and brief.

OTTAWA REPORT

Outlines P. C. Leader's Policies

The Honourable Robert Stanfield was led up to the Mace on Wednesday, November 15, 1967, and introduced to the House of Commons as the duly elected member for Colchester-Hants.

The Prime Minister in welcoming him mentioned that he had assured Canadians on television that he was anxious to make Parliament work more effectively. The Prime Minister said that he looked forward to working with him in every way in the achievement of this important goal.

There is no doubt whatsoever that Robert Stanfield has firm goals and his planning towards these goals is sure and steady. Most impressive are his priorities. He seems to be devoid of any modern confusion as to values. He makes up his mind after due consideration as to what must be done first, and that he sets out to do in an organized, methodical way.

He meets every morning with those of his party responsible for current issues and any other interested members. These sessions are invaluable for preparation of House of Commons debates and becoming increasingly popular. Mr. Stanfield not only says he is anxious to see parliament work more effectively, he takes practical, positive steps to bring this about. He believes in, and practises, preparation, brevity and common sense.

Publicity, the bogey of political life, is not a factor, the inference being that a good performance will automatically get the attention it deserves.

No wonder the straightforward, no nonsense, young people of Canada like this man.

His answer to the House of Commons welcome was characteristic: "Though I have been accustomed to sitting in a legislature or parliament of somewhat greater antiquity, nevertheless I am aware of my great privilege in being finally in this house."

The emotion that rises first in this unusual man is his laughter. Time and again the twinkle starts in his eyes and erupts in a flash of wit. He is a deep thinker, but not heavy, always ready to offer another side to a question. He offers opinions in a jocular way, as if they may not be worth mentioning, although they always hit the vital point.

The Leader of the NDP, Tommy Douglas, gave the new Conservative Leader a rather untraditional welcome. Full of fun, often very witty, on this occasion his remarks were unexpectedly barbed. Mr. Douglas said: His very easy admission to this house is not to be taken as a precedent, and that we will endeavour to make his next entry into the house more difficult."

"With the closing of coal mines and steel plants in Nova Scotia we thought it would be better to get him out of the province before he wrecked the joint.

"We thought it would be preferable to get the honourable gentleman into the House of Commons where the only things he could wreck would be the Tory party; and in that endeavour he will have our wholehearted co-operation. He cannot expect any help from the government, because they are busy wrecking the economy of the country."

Not usually open to criticism for poor taste, Mr. Douglas was criticized by some Conservatives. They did not find his remarks fitting to the occasion.

Not so Mr. Stanfield, who expects political barbs. He tosses back the political ball with an unhurried, practised swing, and exactly the same force as it was aimed at him. His answer to Mr. Douglas was typical:

"He (Mr. Douglas) omitted to refer to one service which I often claim to have performed in Nova Scoita. I was a little surprised that when referring to my wrecking activities he did not refer to the manner in which we had succeeded in wrecking his party in that province."

A Timely Gift For Christmas

For those who include auto accessories in their Christmas Gift lists, the Ontario Safety League has a timely suggestion. Why not, says the League, something with some safety value, and goes on to recommend the officially-approved advance warning signal.

This is a reflective red triangle to be placed well behind an accident scene, or stalled car, to warn other traffic of the obstruction. In some European countries drivers are required by law to carry a triangle. It gives substantial extra protection to anyone changing a wheel on the highway, for instance. When folded it takes up little room in the trunk. The cost is $4.00. The saving could be incalculable.

Make it a Bright Christmas for HIM

ST. LAWRENCE JUNIOR B HOCKEY

Metcalfe Team Takes Lead

The Metcalfe entry has taken the lead in the St. Lawrence Junior B League by virtue of their Sunday win over the Maxville squad.

The Metcalfe boys are playing their home games on Morrisburg ice until such time as the Metcalfe rink is ready, and on Friday night defeated Maxville 4 to 3 on goals by Gay Ford, Larry Robinson, Brian Robinson and Allan Duncan.

In the return game at Maxville on Sunday afternoon, the Metcalfe team dropped behind in the first period, but surged ahead in the final frame to take the game 7 to 4.

Gay Ford and Gord Reaney led the winners with two goals each, and Larry Robinson, Allan Duncan and Terry Holmes each scored once.

The St. Lawrence League is made up of teams from Metcalfe, Prescott, Maxville, Cardinal and Morrisburg, and the Metcalfe entry is coached by former Inkerman Rocket star Erwin Duncan.

It's been ten years or more since Metcalfe has had a team entered in a league, and local supporters are showing a keen interest in this young team. All the boys are from the immediate district; including Russell, Osgoode, Vernon, Kenmore, Manotick and Marvelville.

Credit for the apparent success of this new venture in the hockey wars must be directed to Leslie Robinson of Marvelville and Erwin Duncan of Vernon, both of whom have worked tirelessly to groom this young team.

The boys will meet the Morrisburg team in their next outing on Friday night at the Morrisburg arena.

Achievement Day Held At Shanly

A World of Food in Canada, the 4-H Homemaking Club's Centennial project, was completed on Saturday, November 25th, at the Achievement Day at Shanly. For the past few months the girls have been studying Canada's food heritage by seeing how other countries' food habits have influenced our Canadian customs. People from other countries who throughout the years have chosen to make Canada their home, have brought their food customs with them, adapting them to Canadian foods. The girls prepared many foreign food recipes at their meetings.

At the Achievement Day the clubs exhibited displays and presented demonstrations and skits on the topics studied.

County Honours for the completion of six projects were awarded to Irene Finicum and Sheila Ounsworth, both of the North Augusta West Club; Patricia Seguin, Oxford Mills; Karen Wallace, Shanly, and Sharon Irving of Ventnor Club.

Provincial Honours for the completion of twelve projects was awarded to Marie Byrnes of North Augusta East Club. Mrs. John Seguin of Oxford Mills received a leaders' certificate for being a 4-H Homemaking Club leader for five years.

Elaine Seguin received the Ottawa Citizen Award of $125.00 to be used towards her education.

Comments were given on the girls' work by Home Economist Mrs. Marion Arnold. Home Economist Mrs. Anne Lindsay conducted the Achievement Day program.

God knows how much I miss her,
He counts the tears I shed;
And God whispers, hush, she's only asleep.
Your wife is not dead.
Some day, some time, my eyes shall see,
The face I loved so well;
Some day, some time, her hand and mine will clasp,
And never say farewell.

—Sadly missed by husband Stanley. 31p

EDGERTON, Maud—In fond and loving memory of a dear and loved friend who died December 8th, 1963.

—Inez and Billie Beaton. 31c

LEVERE—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Alexander Levere, who passed away December 6, 1963.

The midnight stars are shining,
Upon a silent grave;
There lies beneath the one we loved.
The one we could not save.
We speak your name so often,
And wish that you were here;
But the laugh we loved and your happy ways,
Will always keep you near.

—Always remembered by wife, family and grandchildren. 31p

FADER—In loving remembrance of a dear husband, father and grandfather, John M. Fader, who departed this life on December 11th, 1966.

A light is from our household gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
Some may think you are forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
But in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.

—Wife Katie and family. 31c

WYLIE—In sad and loving memory of a dear husband and father, Cecil J. Wylie, who was killed on December 7th, 1954.

Biccum Trophy Winners

Competition is always keen when the Winchester lady curlers stage one of their inter-club bonspiels, and the Biccum Trophy Spiel was no exception.

After a day's curling in which each team played two games, the big final and the consolation final were played in the evening.

Mrs. Jessie Fetterly skipped her rink to a convincing win over Miss Ina Thompson to take the coveted Biccum Trophy.

In the consolation event, Mrs. Kathy Fluke downed Mrs. Mabel Ogden.

Mr. Howard Biccum was on hand to present his trophy to the winning team made up of Mrs. Pat MacDonald, Mrs. Jen Lloyd, Mrs. Phyllis Workman and skip Mrs. Jessie Fetterly.

Runners-up were: Mrs. Doris Holmes, Miss Doris Folkard, Mrs. Pearl Empey and Miss Ina Thompson, skip.

Personnel of the consolation winners were Mrs. Tena Hutchinson, Mrs. Olive Cass, Mrs. Marg. Anderson and Mrs. Kathy Fluke, skip. Runners-up in this event were Mrs. Willis Davidson, Mrs. Stella McGregor, Mrs. Amy Holmes and Mrs. Mabel Ogden, skip.

The lady curlers are looking foreward to another "battle of the brooms" when the date for the Fetterly Bonspiel is announced

DOWN THE ALLEYS

CORNER LANES

The best bowler at the Corner Lanes last week was Arnold Stobo. Playing in the Community League, Arnold's 770 cross was the best scored by any bowler last week.

The best single of the week was rolled by Jack Plummer of the Fireside League, a 334.

COMMUNITY LEAGUE

Arnold Stobo was "top boy" all around in this league. Rolling singles of 268, 302 and 200 gave him his high cross of 770, and his 302 single proved enough to be tops in his league. His closest competition came from Don Holmes with 672-256. Carol Holmes had 659-244. George Watson 616-282, and Don Levere 584-268.

FIRESIDE LEAGUE

A high single of 334, combined with singles of 200 and 210 for a cross of 744 gave Jack Plummer top position last week. Competition was very keen, however, with five other bowlers scoring over the 600 mark. Bill Casselman rolled 713-299, Maynard Cinnamon 649-246, Lloyd Guy 648-291, Lorne Pemberton 620-316, and Norm Utman 609-249.

GLAMOUR GIRLS

Girls in this league are starting to prove that Glamour and Bowling can be a successful combination. Five of the girls crossed over 500 last week. The leader was Joyce Levere who combined scores of 194, 262 and 250 for a high cross of 706. Cathy Price dropped to second place last week but was successful in rolling the highest single, 665-269. Other leaders were Marlene Douglas 580-211, Ruth Pemberton 580-230, and Helen Coons 514-248.

GAY TWENTIES

Larry Sayant, who led all bowlers last week, found the going a little tougher this time and was outclassed by Bruce Acres who rolled strings of 181, 273 and 188 for the high cross, 642. Bruce's single of 273 also proved the best. Harold Dillabough scored 612-208 to take second place, and third highest rating had to go to Larry Sayant with his 596-208. It was almost a "photo finish" for the next "five" — Marg. Dalgleish 560-211, Elsie Thompson 557-210, Doris Kennedy 555-211, Marie Mattice 553- and Stewart Dalgleish 553-200.

HAPPY GANG

Louise Freeland took command in this league with consistent strings of 205, 212 and 201 for the high cross of 618. Florence Helmer rolled the best single, 253, and crossed 556. Doris Kennedy had 600-232, Elsie Thompson 584-251, and Edith McDiarmid 560-221.

Morrisburg Junior B Enters Season Play

The Morrisburg Junior "B" hockey team has been allowed entry into the St. Lawrence League to replace the Spencerville team which has withdrawn.

This decision was reached at the league meeting last Wednesday night when it also became known that the Morrisburg entry would be sponsored by the Morrisburg Recreation Commission which was represented at the meeting by John Rice and Ken Morrow.

Information was released that two Maxville players, Rocky Martin and Ken McDonald have been released by Maxville to play for the Cornwall Royals in the "A" League. The required payment was made to Maxville by Cornwall.

The Junior "B" schedule is already under way and Maxville defeated Cardinal by a score of 7 to 4, while Metcalfe and Prescott played to a 5-all tie.

The Cardinal team is playing home games in the Spencerville arena, while Metcalfe will be using Morrisburg as their home base until such time as the Metcalfe ice is ready. Metcalfe had planned to have the artificial ice plant in operation, but a delay in the final approval, which was not received till November made it virtually impossible to proceed with plans until the spring of 1968.

Santa And Winchester

One of the biggest days of the year for a variety of Winchester and district youngsters arrives this Saturday, December 9th, when Santa Claus makes his annual pre-Christmas visit to this town.

The Santa Claus parade, the visit and the village decorations have not only become quite a tradition in the area, but also a pace setter for other communities to follow. From what this newspaper can learn, the Saturday afternoon show this year promises to be as good as similar days in other years.

A lot of work goes into this day by quite a goodly number of people. The parade organizers and the parade entrants are chiefly responsible for the success of the day. But the over-all show is made possible by a grouping together of talents, ideas, and monies by the bulk of Winchester business people and the Chamber of Commerce.

It is their way to wish you a Merry Christmas. Certainly the Santa Claus day has a two-fold objective. Primarily it is designed to provide fun and entertainment for all the youngsters of all ages in the immediate area. Secondly, it is designed as a good promotion piece to stimulate the Christmas shopping business in this town. This year Winchester stores have gone all out to make their shelves and their displays as attractive as possible for all potential shoppers. The selection of gifts and the variety of prices to meet all budgets is excellent. The service is genuine and if the gift you desire is not immediately available, everything possible will be done to have it here by Christmas.

Winchester merchants, like the merchants in every other community, are dependent on a vigorous Christmas shopping trade. Often the dollars taken in at this time of the year spell the difference between a good and a bad year.

Throughout the year most if not all of these business places are the same ones who support Agricultural societies, Cancer society drives, 4-H club work and a host of other worthwhile projects.

Consumers in the area who call Winchester "home" have the opportunity this Christmas, indeed every Christmas, to keep the dollars circulating in this area where they will do the most good. A quick tour of the Winchester business district will dispel often unfounded beliefs that the gifts cannot be purchased here. They can ! Often more conveniently with better service and at a most competitive price.

This Saturday take a look around. Then when the busy time of greeting Santa Claus is over make a point to come back and do a little Christmas shopping.

You will be most welcome!

An Alarming Note From The OPP

The featured article on the front page of the last issue of this newspaper entitled "OPP Alarmed By Underage Drinking," produced some rather startling information. The fact that some minors will take a drink, even one too many, is not particularly news. What is even more important is that the rate of minor drinkers is increasing and that the age of these same drinkers is dropping.

The Ontario Provincial Police are, indeed, alarmed. And so should every conscientious citizen regardless of age. The plea in last week's issue was directed primarily to the parents. We repeat a part of the Provincial Police request here because we think it is urgent and important: "You, as a parent, can help too. Pursue your children's activities, know their friends, know where they go to dances, where they hang out, and what time they come in at night. A policeman or a school teacher can help your children, but you alone are responsible for raising them."

Sound advice which has been repeated before. But in this case each time such a plea is made it becomes even more important, because it has to do with the youngsters of to-day, the men and women of tomorrow.

The kids are getting their kicks out of booze if you want to hear it in the most crude form. But, as the OPP explains, what will happen when there are no more kicks from the bottle? Will it be LSD, glue sniffing, even narcotics?

Let us as parents not be so smug to suggest that it can not and will not happen to our children. It can happen, it has happened, and it will happen if many of us continue to ignore the important ingredients of bringing up a family in this jet age. Communication, love, respect, discipline are just words if we continue to simply use them and not understand them.

With Christmas and New Years just around the corner, it seems a particularly good time to discuss this crucial matter. The useless point of trying to mix the liquid in the bottle with the petrol in the tank has never worked. It is a reminder for each of us that these young people not only need an example, they need guidance and in some cases a firm but understanding hand from the parents.

Hurry home, honey

I'm beginning to realize what a widow with children goes through. It's tough being both a momma and a poppa. I'll be glad when my wife finishes her college course, gets home, and can fight it out with Kim on the old basis, no holds barred, recriminations aplenty, ferocious threats, and tears enough to wash the kitchen floor.

Last weekend I nearly gave my wife a heart attack. After spending most of the weekend screwing up my courage, I gritted my teeth, took a good, stiff pelt of Walker's Special Old nerve tonic, and announced gravely:

"Dear, I've got something to tell you about Kim. Now don't get all upset. Everything will probably work out for the best."

"She's not!", she shrieked. Oh, my God!"

"I'm afraid she is," I said, sombrely. "But you've got to face the facts. You can't keep a kid in the nest forever. These things happen in the best of families. There are some things in this day and age that we may not approve of. But . . . "

Well, with hindsight, I'll admit I was pretty stupid. But after my wife had flown three times around the living-room, without ever lighting, it emerged that we were talking about different things.

She thought Kim was pregnant. All I was trying to do was tell her something even worse, that Kim had, after giving me a real feminine, logicless, charming con job, joined a "group." She's been invited to play the organ and sing in one of those shouting, belting, deafening groups that are driving every adult over 30 out of his little old square mind.

This is just a sample of the troubles I have. My wife thinks that classical music is it, and groups are for the well-known birds. Kim thinks a young person is missing a vital, terribly important experience if she doesn't ever belong to a group. I think — well, never mind.

But my point is that in the good old days, Kim and her mother would have fought it out, with frequent appeals to me from each side, and both sides ignoring my rational compromise. Now, I have to take the decisions, lay down the law, designate "getting-in" hours, and try to force the kid to eat some breakfast.

Not to mention cheering her up when she's down, cooling her down when she's all uptight, telling her to pick up her clothes, and roaring at her to put the lid on the jam bottle and put it away, after breakfast.

And she'll read this column and say, "You don't like me, do you Dad? I'm just a nuisance to you. I wish Mum was here."

And I'll say, "Stop feeling sorry for yourself. Did it ever occur to you to do the dishes? I wish Mum was here too. She'd straighten you out, you little bum."

And she'll say, "Oh, you think I'm a little bum, eh? Well, thanks a lot. That certainly makes a person feel wanted."

And I'll say, "Bum, schlum. Get the carrots ready for the stew and then get at your homework."

And she'll snap, 'That's all you think about. Carrots. You're getting more like a school-teacher all the time. Pompous and arrogant."

And I'll shout, "You get upstairs and get at your homework and stop being so lippy or I'll give you a thick ear."

Knowing I wouldn't dare, she flounces out, goes up and works off her repressions with the guitar and a couple of shouted freedom songs. And I work off mine by getting the carrots ready and inviting her down to dinner.

But we get along fine. She knows her place — head of the household, and I know mine — foot of the household.

I'll be glad when Mum gets home. At least she knows a head from a foot, which is something in these troubled times.

LIVE IT UP

The other day I heard a radio broadcaster on an open-line show, jokingly urge his listeners to live it up; to go spend their money on a trip around the world, or on whatever frivolity that appeals to them. He said that this is a country in which you will be helped and coddled skilfully if you are broke and destitute. Welfare will not only feed you, it will retrain you, psychoanalyze you, fuss over you in countless ways, if you are broke enough. But if you have any money — watch out! Society will rob you blind, bleed you, tax you, and damn you as a crook and scoundrel.

He said all this in fun. He didn't really mean it, for he is one of the leading exponents of welfare, a fighter against slums, capitalists, landlords and so forth. Most of his popularity is based on his unrelenting attacks on drug prices and slum landlords.

The tragedy is that he is so right. We have developed a society in which success is a crime, hard-earned money is plunder, where enterprise is scorned and thrift is senseless because governments who encourage thrift at bond-issue time discourage it the next year with inflation.

Only one thing saves us. Most of the rest of the world has gone just as crazy as we have, and can use inflated money to pay our inflated prices. But Japan has not gone crazy; Russia and some of the other Communist countries are crazy but like foxes. If we continue, in the Western world, to blunder along in a fool's paradise, we must be prepared to pay the penalty.

When everyone has lived it up and spent his money, where will we go for the welfare money then? The government will print lots more money, but it will be paper stuff of no real value, and farmers won't go on forever growing parsnips for pennies. And you can't eat paper money, and it has no nourishment in any event.

So take your choice. Live it up, everybody; or cool it, man, cool it! I hate to be a stuffy old reactionary, but I think we ought to cool it, fast, so we'll have a chance to live it up again one day. And our children will have a chance. If we go on as we are, our children will spend their lives trying to rid them of the debt we've left to them.

The Seventh Column

Just about every page in The Press this week has something about Santa and Merry Christmas shopping. And why not? It's that time of year again. The weather is right (if you like winters) and more important the old boy makes his annual pre-Christmas visit to Winchester this Saturday afternoon. It shapes up as a gay and colourful affair, and if you are over two months and under 102 you do not need an invitation. Come along, enjoy Santa and the parade and the gift laden stores. And a reminder here that it is also time to dig out the Christmas decorations and get them up as soon as possible. There is nothing, to this writer's mind, which brings out the real beauty of this village like the lights and other decorations which make their presence known during this most important of all seasons.

Well, the Grey Cup bally-hoo is over for another year. The nation's capital will never be the same and the Hamilton Tiger Cats proved once and for all that there is absolutely no doubt as to their football supremacy in Canada. They have a tremendous team, one of the best ever to take to the gridiron in Canada. City of Ottawa Grey Cup planners deserve a heap of credit. It was a good show and unlike many other Cup affairs the celebrants maintained a fair amount of order throughout the country's biggest annual bash. Next year to Toronto, and remembering what this Tiger Cat team did this year we are not about to say that they will be weakened one little bit when the '68 season rolls around. One thing which must be kept in mind is the lateness of the Grey Cup date. The end of November or first part of the 12th month seems to be pushing the luck a little too much. Ottawa was lucky on Saturday, the snows came Sunday. Although we haven't much use for football in July the CFL may have to revise the schedule to fit Grey Cup in not later than mid-November. The conditions a little later can be deplorable to both the players and the fans. And shirt sleeves were always more convenient than hooded parkas and fur lined boots.

The following verse, patterned after a well known Psalm, came to our attention recently. Although it did not have a title we are satirically calling it "The Affluent Society." You call it what you wish..it goes like this:

Society is my shepherd; I shall not work
It alloweth me to lie down on a feather bed,
It leadeth me beside the still factories,
It destroyeth my ambition
It leadeth me in the paths of goldbrick for politics' sake
Yea, though I walk through the valley of inflation and deficit spending
I will fear no evil, for the welfare agencies and unemployment insurance commissions are with me,
Their generosity and their staff, they comfort me
They prepareth the requisitions that filleth my table
By mortgaging the earnings of my grandchildren
My head is so filled with mirth
That my cup runneth over without effort,
Surely, the taxpayers shall care for me all the days of my life
And I shall dwell in the house as a parasite forever.

Fall's a colorful time of year all right. I'll be black 'n blue 'till Christmas !

Rink Season Starts Soon

When the weatherman gives the signal, the South Mountain Rink Committee is ready to go into action. At their last meeting Garth Workman was hired as caretaker, and final lighting arrangements were appoved.

Since this is the first year the rink will operate at the new site, in the Fair Grounds, it has become necessary to cover the concrete floor of the rink house, and the committee has also purchased new hose, benches, clothes hangers and other incidentals.

Co-operation always spells success in any small community endeavour, and those in charge urge all South Mountain residents to make a special effort to help in this very important part of the winter recreational pogram.

A Work Meeting has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 1.30. Many willing hands are needed.

B of M 150th ANNUAL

Assets Reach New Peak, Top Loan, Deposit, Earning

Bank of Montreal assets reached a new peak of $6,132 million at the October 31 year-end and loans, deposits and earnings also attained record levels, according to the bank's 150th annual statement, published last Friday.

The report is the first under the revised Bank Act and incorporates revenue and expenses figures for the first time.

B of M assets moved well over the $6 billion level and showed the largest growth in the bank's history, with an increase of $642 million over the 1966 figure.

Loans outstanding were $3,829 million, up $485 million from a year ago, while deposits rose $613 million to $5,608 million. Personal savings rose $246 million to $2,553 million from the comparable 1966 figure of $2,307 million.

Net earnings after taxes for the bank's 1,030 offices at home and abroad were also at a record high of $20,720,444, an increase of 4.1 per cent. over 1966 earnings and equal to 68 cents on each par $2 share, versus an equivalent of 66 cents last year.

Securities holdings increased by $138 million to $1,185 million during the year. "Quick" assets were $2,236 million, against $2,096 million, maintaining a high liquidity ratio.

"Accumulated appropriations for losses," which represent the "inner reserves" of the bank now disclosed, show a net increase of $7 million to $75 million after provision for losses on loans and for valuations of securities.

Further new features of the 1967 report indicate total B of M revenue for the year at $432 million against $300 million in 1966, and total expenses of $290 million against $249 million in 1966. Components of the revenue total (with 1966 comparisons in brackets) are: income from loans $238 million ($215 million); income from securities, $56 million ($49 million); and other operating revenue, $48 million ($36 million).

Areas reported under expenses are: interest on deposits, $148 million ($124 million); salaries, pension contributions and other staff benefits, $87 million ($75 million); property expenses, including depreciation, $23 million ($21 million); and other operating expenses, including provision for losses on loans based on five-year average loss experience, $32 million ($29 million).

Dividend payments for the year have amounted to $15,795,000, or 52 cents on par $2 shares. The dividends represent an increase of 9.5 per cent. over 1966.

After payments of diivdends, the balance of earnings for the year is $4,925,444, to be added to the balance of undivided profits of $1,944,801 carried forward from 1966. From this total of $6,870,245, an amount of $5 million has been transferred to rest account, which now stands at $173 million, leaving a balance of undivided profits carried forward of $1,870,245.
