HELP FOR MUNICIPALITIES

New Act Will Reduce 1968 Residential Tax

Legislation designed to reduce municipal property taxes on every self-contained residence in Ontario has been introduced in the Legislature by Municipal Affairs Minister Darcy McKeough.

The new Act will provide for $150,000,000 this year in provincial Government assistance toward property taxes on an estimated 2,500,000 households in the province.

Nearly 1,200 municipalities and school boards in unorganized territories will benefit from the program, which Mr. McKeough described as an innovation in the field of realty taxation unique in North America.

"This constitutes the most massive transfer of funds by a new program to municipal taxpayers in Ontario's history," he said.

Under the residence tax reduction plan, the provincial Government will pay an average of about 15 per cent. of the property taxes of each residential taxpayer in Ontario. This will work out to between $45 and $65 on the vast majority of the residential properties in the province.

The Act imposes a duty on landlords to pass on the full amount of the tax credit to tenants.

Mr. McKeough said in the Legislature: "This technique brings benefit to all residential property taxpayers and it brings the greatest benefit proportionately to those who need it most."

This will be accomplished, he said, by a system of tax credits applied on the 1968 municipal property taxes.

The tax credits are based on an "equalized mill rate" because the local mill rates of the municipalities reflect wide divergence in the relationship between real property assessment and market value in the different municipalities.

To determine the amount of credit, a local assessment of $2,000 is multiplied by "equalized assessment" and this is applied to an equalized factor set down by the Department.

"The owner of a humble residence with a very low assessment may have to pay almost no taxes — the residence tax

A Landmark Disappears

Long a familiar landmark in Winchester was the big stately looking balcony at the entrance to Hotel Winchester. Announcement two weeks ago that Hotel owner Hy Bessin would change the building into a professional and business complex spelled the end to the hotel balcony. It was first on the list of many alterations and last week, after more than 50 years, the old landmark was torn down.

Work is now proceeding on the interior of the building. Plans call for large and small offices on both floors as well as several bachelor and one room apartments. The west side of the hotel will have a street level entrance. The old balcony in its most popular era was used by hotel patrons and especially for Saturday night band concerts. If you remember these band concerts you are getting old . . . but it's a nice memory of the street lined with cars, people milling about happily, kids sucking on the once a week ice cream cone and the Winchester Citizens Band thumping out the sounds of gay tunes and invigorating marches.

Now the balcony is gone, paving the way for a new era.

More About Planning

With both Winchester Chamber of Commerce and Municipal Council continuing to talk up town planning, Monday night's meeting of the village government continued right in line with the important theme. Meeting with land surveyor Bill Johnston, council heard a reply from the Attorney General's office outlining what could be done to update the official village map and to bring the overall plan of the village up to modern day demands.

Mr. Johnson outlined several pertinent points to council for their decision and said that such a plan would be registered under the Land Titles Act which would, when in effect, eliminate many of the delays currently in existence when the searching of a deed becomes necessary.

It was also explained that the Attorney General's department would make grants available up to 25 per cent. of the cost. Mr. Johnson also said that grants would probably become available for such work from the Department of Lands and Forests and the Department of Municipal Affairs. Because it is such a complex undertaking council will continue to work with Mr. Johnson and at the Monday meeting again emphasized that they intended to have the work completed as soon as possible.

In other business Monday night council appointed a new recreation committee by by-law consisting of Councillor Roy Fawcett, Robert Porteous, Sam Ault, Harold Lannin, Walter MacDonald and Keith Carkner.

Permission was also granted to Fabrics Unlimited for the placing of a new neon sign on their Main Street West premises. Discussion was also given the acquisition of property along Beach and Victoria Streets, and the erecting of new lights in the area of the hospital.

FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Lions Plan 25 Mile Walk April 27th

The first major project of the newly-formed Lions Club of Winchester will be an effort to raise money for crippled children of the area in the form of a March on Saturday, April 27.

The continued success of the OXFAM "March for Millions" has prompted the Lion members to plan a similar march here in Winchester district. The officials have designated a 25-mile route, beginning at the 100 Club Park in the village; north on Highway 31 to Morewood Road; east to Morewood; south to Chesterville, and up Highway 43 to Winchester Public School, the finishing point.

Entry forms have been given to the schools, but this does not necessarily mean only students can walk. Those who have two strong legs and would like to use them to help unfortunate children who do not, may pick up entry forms at any of the following locations: Winchester 5c to $1.00 store; Country Kitchen Restaurant, Vice Furniture, High School, the Winchester Press Office, or from any member of the Lions Club. Those who will not be walking are encouraged to "sponsor" the walkers, who will be soliciting your kind assistance.

The event has been scheduled for Saturday, April 27th, with the first group of "walkers" leaving the starting point at 8:00 a.m., and it is expected there will be a continuous line till the last one gets underway at about ten.

Six check points have been established along the way and the last tired marcher is expected to reach the school about 7:00 p.m.

Cars marked "Winchester Lions Club" will patrol the route to offer assistance if required or to pick up those who "tire" along the way.

"Walk carefully" — or "sponsor generously."

100 Club Meets To-Night

To-night (Thursday, April 18) is Guest Night at the 100 Club and the special guests on this occasion will be members of Winchester Women's Institute and the young hockey players of the "Midget" class who have just completed a very successful season. There will be other interesting guests as well.

The meeting will, of course, be at Henderson Hall and all Centurians are urged to attend and welcome the youngsters who may some day be hockey stars and "Centurians."

H. P. Stel Named Vice President Nursing School

H. P. Stel, hard working Administrator of Winchester District Memorial Hospital, has been elected Vice President of the Board of Directors of Cornwall Regional School of Nursing. The election took place at a meeting held at Cornwall on Wednesday, April 10th.

With all fields of administration and learning turning toward centralization, the School of Nursing is also turning in that direction, and consequently many young girls training at Cornwall receive some of their instructions and put in many hours of work at the local hospital.

Mr. Stel's contribution to the nursing profession is well known in hospital circles and he will be an able asset to the Board of Directors.

Library By-Law Passed

Winchester Public Library will become municipally owned next January 1st, it was revealed at a special meeting of Council Monday night. Decision by council for the village to take over the ownership and operation of the Library was reached following discussion of changes in the Public Library Act with Larry Eshelman of Ottawa and members of the Winchester Library Asscciation.

Mr. Eshelman appeared before council representing the Eastern Ontario Regional Library System. He explained that under revision to the Library Act the new Library system legally owned the existing facilities including all liabilities and assets unless a by-law was passed by council stating that the municipality would take over the local facilities. Mr. Eshelman pointed out that the Eastern Ontario Library system would continue to act as a reference point for the library and suggested that a municipally-owned organization would have advantages over the present structure.

He pointed out to council and board members that certain grants would be made available in the operation of the new library after the effective date of next January 1st.

As a result of the meeting council gave final reading to By-law 68-11 officially setting up Winchester Public Library. New fee structures and other details will be announced at a later date. The new board will be appointed by council and will consist of one council representative and four other members.

92 Years Old

Mrs. George S. Earl, Iroquois, will be celebrating her 92nd birthday on Tuesday, April 23. Mrs. Earl is well known in Winchester having formerly been a resident of the village, where she was a devout member of the United Church, and still attends many of the services when she is in the area. The Press joins the host of friends who extend greetings.

"In Your Easter Bonnet . . ."

"In your Easter bonnet, with all the frills upon it . . ." And even in the space age of today the words of that famous song "Easter Parade" still has magic. Sunday was a perfect setting for Easter. The sun was shining, the record temperature was shooting the thermometer up to 80 degrees, and the lovely ladies were out in abundance. Following church Sunday morning the village streets were adorned with young and not so young females in a colourful array of Easter outfits. Two of the lovelies talked (maybe conned) their "daddy" into taking their picture. At left is Lizebeth Ann Workman all deked out in a two-piece shocking pink suit, featuring pleated skirt, white knee stockings, suede shoes, an Easter bonnet with all the frills and matching accessories. The cutie beside her is her younger sister who will tell you if asked: "I am Victoria Lee Workman, I am three years old and I live in Winchester." Vicky also sports a new Easter outfit, with all the accessories — like her sister — naturally! And they were rather typical of a beautiful Easter Sunday in Winchester. "Daddy," by the way, has been known to frequent the premises of The Winchester Press.—Press Photo.

Easter At 80 Degrees

Record breaking temperatures with the mercury soaring to 80 degrees, ushered in the Easter week-end in Winchester.

The warm sunny weather brought out members of the fairer sex in all their Easter finery, and gave the male of the species an opportunity to visit his favourite fishing haunts, as well as have a few practice swings on the fast-drying fairways. Children, of course, were more interested in the antics of the fabulous "Easter Bunny."

Although weather was ideal for any type of outdoor activity people did not forget the real meaning of Easter, and attended the church of their choice in capacity numbers to joyfully commemorate the triumphant Resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Local clergy, Rev. G. T. Churchill, Anglican; Rev. W. C. Inglis, Presbyterian; Rev. A. J. MacDonald, United; Rev. G. A. Cawfield, Baptist, and Rev. W. R. Schamehorn, Wesleyan, all expressed great satisfaction with the many acts of faith demonstrated at this solemn, yet joyful time in the church calendar.

At the United Church, the choir was under the direction of Mrs. F. M. Cass with Mrs. Howard Fetterly at the organ, and the topic of Mr. MacDonald's sermon was "What Happened At Easter." The church was filled to capacity.

Attendance at the Wesleyan according to Rev. Schamehorn, was double the usual morning attendance with over 200 faithful enjoying the beautiful selections by the 30-member Junior Choir. Nearly a hundred were back for the evening service when the music was presented by the Senior Choir.

Junior and Senior choirs combined at the Presbyterian Church and an exceedingly large crowd attended in the evening for the Easter Evensong and Lily Processional.

Emphasis was on youth at the Baptist Church when teenagers, directed by Mrs. Nelson Docksteader, presented the play. "The Empty Tomb" at Ormond Church, while the church was filled for the morning service in the village.

An impressive service was held at the Anglican Church.

Pen Pals For 20 Years — They Meet!

"Pen Pals" for the past 20 years met for the first time in Winchester this week when Mrs. Alwyn Stockley paid a visit to her long-time "correspondence" friend, Mrs. Roy Fawcett.

It all began in 1948 when Mrs. Gilbert Raistrick, aware of the shortage of food in England in those postwar years, sent off a parcel of goodies. The recipient in England, a Mrs. Pickford, was so moved by the generosity of her Canadian benefactor that she had her granddaughter, Margaret, write to Mrs. Raistrick's daughter Shirley, and so began a long exchange of letter — an exchange that saw the girls keep one another informed of their day to day activities through school days, romance, marriage and motherhood.

Mrs. Stockley, the former Margaret Pickford, is now the mother of a 9-year-old son Paul and a 7-year-old daughter Julia. Mrs. Fawcett, wife of Councillor Roy Fawcett, the former Shirley Raistrick, is now the mother of four: Julia 12 (note both girls have a daughter Julia); Robbie 10; Tom, 7, and John 5.

Mrs. Stockley teaches French at Buttershew Comprehensive School in Bradford, England, and her husband is a lecturer at the University of Bradford, although he is spending this term lecturing at the University of Indiana. Mrs. Fawcett is in business with her husband in Winchester.

As this edition goes to press, Margaret, with her two children is on her way, by air, back to her home in England, but a pen-pal relationship begun a generation ago has blossomed into a real and lasting friendship.

"TAX"

credit will cover most of the amount. On the other hand, the owner of a very large and expensive home, even though he gets the same dollar credit, will be paying a much larger percentage of his taxes himself."

The Bill Mr. McKeough tabled in the Legislature implements a recommendation of the Ontario Committee on Taxation. The Committee recommended a basic shelter tax exemption in its report last September.

Mr. McKeough said the intent of the new Act is to implement this recommendation of the Committee — and in this way to reduce the burden of municipal taxes on residential property, especially on those least able to pay them.

The municipalities will be paid the full amount of the tax credits by the Province. Taxpayers who have already paid their taxes will be refunded an amount equal to the credit by the municipalities.

Municipalities will make claims to the Department for these credits and refunds.

Mr. McKeough said that no jurisdiction has found a feasible way to pay tenants directly on a tax credit basis, "short of a nightmare of bureaucracy and red tape."

A direct payment system would require annual door to door enumeration, cost about $5,000,000 to establish and nearly double the number of departmental staff.

The tax credit system introduced by Mr. McKeough will cost about $850,000 to administer this year. The cost will be reduced substantially next year.

Mr. McKeough will meet municipal officials in nine provincial cities and towns in the latter half of this month to explain the new system and its implications. In this area the meeting will be held at Perth Collegiate Institute on Wednesday, April 24th, at 8 p.m.

Cover Busy Agenda Presbytery Meeting

The Pesbytery of Brockville, of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, met recently in Knox Church, Iroquois, for its regular April meeting.

Devotions were conducted by the Rev. A. Newton Reid, of Prescott, after which the Moderator, Rev. W. J. Murray, of Westport, constituted the Court and presided over the proceedings.

At the outset the Presbytery was shadowed by the reference to the death of one of the members, Mr. Wilbert E. Purvis, Representative Elder from the Caintown and Lansdowne charge —who had been killed on his way home from a special meeting of Presbytery in Morrisburg on March 27th. Mr. Purvis had been a valued member of the Kirk session of St. Paul's Caintown, and of the Brockville Presbytery.

As a special order of business a call from the Kemptville and Oxford Mills charge to Rev. Jonathan H. Greene, at present minister at Hanover, was approved. A provisional date was set for the Induction of Mr. Greene at St. Paul's, Kemptville, on May 3rd.

Plans were made for the annual Sunday School Rally to a new format. A workshop type of Rally was envisaged, in September instead of May.

In the course of the Report of the Stewardship and Budget Committee a strong plea was made for an Every Person Canvass in each congregation in the interests of the General Assembly's Budget — the fund from which resources are drawn for such things as Home and Overseas Missions, Colleges, Indian work, etc.

Approval was given to the plans of First Church, Brockville, to proceed with an addition to the church building and to give increased parking facilities.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortner, Smiths Falls, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie Dolores, to Mr. John Matthew Michael Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle, of South Mountain. The marriage will take place on Saturday May 18th, at ten o'clock in St. Francis De Sales Church, Smiths Falls.

Pretty Spring Wedding

Easter lilies flanked the altar of Winchester United Church on Saturday, April 13th, when Rev. A. J. MacDonald united in marriage Sandra Jean Lannin and Clifton Earl Cheney, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lannin, Winchester; the groom is the son of Mrs. James Cheney and the late Mr. Cheney of Morewood.

Mrs. Howard Fetterly, organist, played appropriate wedding selections. Adriaan Van Breugel was best man, and the ushers were Robert Lannin, Doug. Cheney and Doug. Berry. Mrs. Brenda Ennis, maid of honour. Miss Patti Lannin, Miss Fran Lannin and Mrs. Barbara Berry, sisters of the bride, were bridal attendants.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length A-line slipper satin bridal gown with detailed chapel-length train flowing in back. A coronet of seed pearls held her tulle illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses and carnations. Her only jewellery was a sterling silver pin.

Her attendants were beautifully gowned in shades of green crystalette and pastel pink chiffon and lace; they carried cascades of deep purple heather and tinted carnations.

The mother of the bride chose a pale pink silk linen ensemble, matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Cheney, mother of the groom, was attired in a beige linen sheath with matching lace overlay and a corsage of pink roses.

Guests from Ogdensburg, Rochester, Ottawa, Toronto, Whitby, Brooklyn, Chesterville, Berwick, Morewood and Winchester enjoyed the wedding reception held in Chesterville Legion Hall following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney are honeymooning in North Bay. Mrs. Cheney travelled in a two-piece boucle suit, dark accessories and a corsage of white carnations. On their return they will reside in Winchester.

Prior to her marriage, Sandra was honoured at showers held in Winchester Legion Hall and at the home of Mrs. Murray Summers, Winchester. Hostesses were Mrs. Brenda Ennis, Mrs. Helen Coons and Mrs. Lois Scott. Miscellaneous gifts were also presented to Miss Lannin from staff members of Mutual Press, Ottawa, where she is employed.

Easter Theme At St. Paul's WMS Meeting

St. Paul's Presbyterian W. M. S. met in the S. S. Rooms with 19 members present. Miss Mary Brown was guest soloist, and as usual everyone enjoyed her solo, "Alone."

Mrs. Wilson welcomed all present and gave a meditation "Resurrection Running" followed by prayer. Roll call was in keeping with the Easter theme "Risen."

Mrs. Alex Summers was presented with her honorary Life Membership by Mrs. Wilma Ledgerwood. Mrs. Summers' generosity was greatly appreciated by the members.

Following the treasurer's report by Mrs. Ledgerwood, Mrs. Robert Carlyle, Miss Clara Anderson and Miss Ida Knowland had charge of the devotional. Mrs. Carlyle opened with a reading on Easter, followed by Miss Anderson with Scripture and prayer. The subject for missions taken by Miss Knowland was Dr. Barnardo and his work among the English slum children and the different homes he still has in his name although he died in 1905.

Mrs. Carlyle read "Beneath The Cross" and gave a lot to think about concerning the different words Jesus used on the cross: "Father, forgive them," "Woman, behold thy son." Miss Clara Anderson gave the theme chosen for the year, "Faith."

Mrs. Wilson thanked the devotional and Miss Brown for the appropriate solo she had chosen, and closed the meeting with prayer.

ASK YOUR CHIROPRACTOR

HOW TO DEAL WITH A NERVOUS CHILD

J. A. Laquerre, D.C.
Alta Vista Chiropractic Centre
Near Bank & Heron Rd., Ottawa South

If your child can't sit still, he isn't necessarily nervous. Every normal child is active to some degree. The child who is nervous is irritable, excessively emotional, easily tired, more or less self-centred and very susceptible to suggestion. Often he is noisy and bothers or interrupts his parents or others near him with demands for attention.

The first step in correcting nervousness is a thorough examination of the child by your chiropractor. This will determine whether any physical complaint is contributing to the difficulty.

In many cases the child's nervousness may be the result of conditions under which he lives. A definite routine for the daily life of the child should be instituted. Children need rest quiet and freedom from unusual stimulation. Because the child quickly acquires habits of nervousness by imitation, the parents should be calm in his presence.

Beware of too much attention to the nervous child, or he may easily become a spoiled child, wilful and noisy. A child who is seeming obstinate, mischievous and selfish, may just be exhibiting symptoms of nervousness. It may take the form of temper tantrums or nervous furies. Perhaps home discipline is needed to correct this. Perhaps the child is not being provided with something suitable to occupy his time.

Don't neglect your child's posture and his need for exercise. Plenty of free play, indulgence in the normal games and activities of childhood will help in the effort all parents wish to make — toward bringing up a child who is healthy, happy and well-adjusted.

Carleton County FOA Directors Seek Two Delegates To R.L.A.

The Director of the Carleton County Federation of Agriculture endorsed the efforts of the 16-man committee set up to develop one farm organization and also voted $500 to help finance this committee. While this committee was named by the farm income committee, no finances are available for its use except through donations of interested groups.

The president, Carl Speaker Richmond, introduced Ernie Seabrooke, North Gower, the newly appointed representative from the Marlborough Federation of Agriculture.

The directors of the county federation are looking for two young people, one girl and one boy, to attend the R.L.A. for two weeks in Alberta. Twelve persons will be sent from Ontario and the County Federation is attempting to sponsor two. For further information contact the secretary, Mrs. E. L. Macartney, Ramsayville.

Reports were heard from the president, Carl Speaker, Pat Carroll and Mrs. Macartney on the recent Ontario Federation of Agriculture Winter Conference dealing with one farm organization.

It was decided that the county federation would meet regularly on the fourth Monday evening in the Board Room of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The next meeting on April 2nd will deal mainly with a questionnaire circulated among directors recently.

Gordon Morrow Elected Head Metcalfe Club

Gordon Morrow, Metcalfe contractor, was elected President of Metcalfe and District Lions Club at their meeting last week. Although new officers do not officially take over their new duties until July 1st, elections are always conducted in April.

Other officers elected for the 1968-69 term included: First vice president, Roy Porteous; second vice president, Harold Cowan; third vice president Mel Vice; secretary, Donald McKenna; treasurer, Willard Cumming; two-year directors, Donald Bleeks and Graeme Hardy; one year directors, Peter Smygwaty and John Crogie.

In other business committees were set up for the C.N.I.B. campaign and the annual Baby Beef Draw.

One member of the club, Warren Snider, will be taking part in the OFFAM walk and most of the club members are backing him with dollars.

Delegates were selected for the Quebec Convention in May and the meeting concluded with a film on auto races.

Give Assistance To Formation Public Library

Metcalfe and District Lions will assist the Public Library program now in its formative stages. This decision was reached at the regular meeting of the club last Wednesday night. Archie Stewart, who has been an active campaigner for library facilities in Osgoode Township for some time, spoke to the club members, explaining the progress to date. Mr. Stewart, who is also a Charter Member of the Lions Club, explained that he and Herb Coulson had completed much research and working closely with the Township Council had learned what assistance is available at government levels. They alsa had been in communication with the Ontario Municipal Board regarding the figure that might be raised thrugh direct taxation. This, Mr. Stewart said, would be half a mill.

Housing facilities for such a venture had always been a major problem, but the club members learned that recent innovations in the Township Hall have left available space at the rear of the building.

Mr. Stewart hastened to explain that this would not mean the small library at Osgoode Village would be abandoned as it has served that area faithfully for many years.

In seeking assistance from the serivce club he requested a donation of $400.00. Lion President Jim Rowan called for an open discussion on this important issue and the club members voted unanimously in favour of helping this very worthy project.

Mr. Stewart, in thanking the members, further explained that since the library was still only on the drawing board, this type of encouragement would greatly assist the library board, and pointed out that the donation be in the form of a pledge till such time as the new library became a reality.

IN MEMORIAMS

SULLIVAN—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Joseph Sullivan, who passed away April 16, 1967.

Day by day our thoughts do wander,
To a grave not far away;
Where they laid our dear Joseph,
Just one year ago to-day.

—Father, mother and sister Margaret. 50p

RICHARDS—In loving memory of a dear friend, William (Billy) Richards, who departed this life, April 21st, 1966.

None knew him but to love him,
None named him but in praise.

—Jim and Eva Lee. 50p

MARTIN—In loving memory of a beloved husband, Byron Martin, who passed away April 17, 1965.

The heavenly gates were opened,
Three years ago to-day;
With goodbyes left unspoken,
You gently passed away.
You couldn't say goodbye to us,
Perhaps it was just as well;
We never could have said goodbye,
To the one we loved so well.

Farm Brain Drain

One of the sad realities faced by most farm families is — you can't keep them happy down on the farm.

Most children will have to go to the city to find their place in the sun — even though some might prefer the farm life. Unfortunately, too many parents have accepted this rural brain drain without putting up much of a battle.

It is true that automation, improved production techniques and high operation costs have forced farmers to cultivate larger acreages (cutting down the number of small farms). Never before has the farmer needed to be so multi-talented businessman, costing expert, carpenter, mechanic, able to read and digest technical material, as well as being thoroughly grounded on crop and feeding techniques.

Canadian farmers need the help of their young people who have grown up in a rural environment. Their built-in understanding makes them useful in farm-related fields. Youngsters who graduate in other fields such as medicine, home economics, social work and nursing should be encouraged to come back to the farm communities to make their contribution.

Provincial departments of agriculture are crying out for agricultural technicians, agrologists, engineers and economists. Private industry in the farm marketing, distribution and machinery fields also needs more bright young farm people.

To let the young people know what opportunities are open there must be a constant flow of information about agricultural college professional and short courses available — with more publicity about the scholarship and bursary assistance. Private industry must begin to offer student-worker programs where a young man can learn on the job. Rural municipalities and taxpayers will have to face up to the necessity of paying more to entice the young professionals back into rural communities.

In The Radar Field

Drivers who have learned to "smell" a speed trap miles ahead may have to devise new detection methods, according to a release by a manufacturing firm.

A miniature radar trap that can be held in the hand and "fired" like a gun at speeding drivers has been developed in Britain. It could easily be used by a mounted Mountie, or equally hidden under a policewoman's jacket.

Government researchers at the Royal Radar Establishment, Great Malvern, say this newly invented miniature radar is "small, simple and cheap enabling sets for burglar alarms, automobile speed measurement, ship docking and other domestic and professional uses."

The hand-size speed-trap looks rather like a space age pistol — with a squared funnel-shaped barrel protruding from a meter which instantaneously records a vehicle's speed.

According to engineers who have been studying this new "driver's" torment, its range is 50 yards on a man and 200 yards on a large vehicle. Cost: it could be as low as $50.00 subject to quantity production.

The release goes on to explain that a policeman operating the microwave Doppler gun would simply have it wired to a small battery in his pocket. They say there is a good potential for this new device. Unfortunately they may be right.

Oh, To Fly Once More

We used to have a superstition in my air force days about things happening in three's. Everything would go along well for a week or two, then the roof would fall in. We'd lose three pilots in one day.

Or one pilot would have three extremely hairy experiences in a row: a bail-out, a crash-landing, a fire.

It happened often enough so that you began to believe in it. In war-time superstitions tend to become principles. It happened to me. One day I was hit by everything but the kitchen sink and came home with 32 holes in my aircraft, including one about 18 inches in diameter, and just two feet from my seat. I had to land without flaps and brakes. Nothing much left except a chewed-up piece of metal, almost useless, and a white-faced pilot, almost equally useless.

Next day, one of my bombs developed a hang-up and I had to land with the thing, detonated and ready to blow, dangling under my left wing. This didn't improve my morale much, either.

People started avoiding me. The third day I was shot down and taken prisoner. Met Paddy Byrne of Dublin, one of the few survivors of my squadron, in a London subway station after the war, and he told me the boys were running a pool on when I'd get it.

But that was in the old days, when men were men, and boys were terrified. At least I was. However the war was peaceful compared to present days. Now things don't come in three's, but in sixes and sevens.

Same pattern. Things go along OK for a while and then the gods clobber you with everything they have.

The other night, for example, Kim and I were preparing for one of our exotic dinners. It was a peaceful, domestic scene. She was playing the piano. I was right on top of the dinner. The rainbow trout were crisping nicely, the baked potatoes were baked, and I was just giving the canned corn that extra little stir that makes it so delicious, when the doorbell rang.

It was our neighbor. The one on the left, where the bank robbers were caught last year. It was about 30 degrees outside, and his internal temperature was around 212. He wanted to use the phone. He was about to kill the man on the other side of his house because he was needling him. He phoned his Mom asking her to come and stop him.

It's rather difficult to avoid hearing this sort of thing when you are five feet away, poking the potatoes and flipping the fish. Anyway, two hours and a couple of beers later, I hadn't had my dinner, but my neighbor had and he was cooled out enough to go home to bed.

Well, that's the way things went all week. Next morning I almost murdered myself, putting out the garbage. The cans are in a little stoop, with a lid over it made of two-by-fours. I pushed back the lid and started to wrestle out one can, which was frozen to the bottom, when the damn lid fell, clunked me on the forehead almost knocking me senseless. Dripping blood, I staggered off to work.

That weekend I was caught in one of those last-kick-of-winter storms and died a thousand deaths, creeping through wind and snow and drifts, a four-and-a-half-hour trip that normally takes two hours.

Had a fight with my daughter, which she won. My wife is having an operation. My piles are screaming. The back-yard, because we didn't get the leaves raked last fall, looks like Hiroshima. Ten people want me to have a committee meeting about nothing. We had a cloud-burst and my cellar's full of water. Half the light bulbs in the house are burnt out and you need a ladder to replace most of them. I nearly cut my entire upper lip off when I slipped on soap while shaving. And I haven't paid or even thought about my income tax.

I wonder whether they take old guys back into the air force, where things only happen in three's.

Spring is here

The First Step

The Last Step

SPRING AND FARM SAFETY

The Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food releases a few timely tips on "Farm Safety."

First, with reference to spring seeding time they remind all farmers that the hum of a farm tractor can tend to dull the senses and recommend getting off the tractor, at least every hour, to check the equipment. In this way, says a department spokesman, you'll know your machine is operating properly, but more important, you're getting a break. To stay fresh is to stay alive.

Another important thing to remember is that gasoline is liquid dynamite and must be handled carefully — never refuel a tractor with the engine running.

Pesticides are very important in their proper place, but since they are designed to kill, empty cans should not be left lying around.

Soon, too, electric fences will be going up and the Department emphasizes this one — "Never make a home-made unit to run off your hydro lines. It could be fatal."

Last, but by no means least, the Department draws attention to "Fatigue." Fatigue is a common feeling with most of us. It's nature's warning that our muscles have reached their limit of endurance. It's a warning to slow down or take a break and recuperate. If you continually drive yourself so that you are always tired, you may get plenty of time to catch up on sleep in a hospital — by accident.

The Seventh Column

Actually, it is not necessary to comment on the beautiful Easter week-end. The weatherman blessed us with his very best and words could not adequately describe the three days which made up the Easter holiday week-end——1968 style. But next year when we say "Remember last Easter" we shall mean absolute brilliance and record temperatures hovering in the 80 degree bracket. Quite unusual, but most appreciated the weather on the week-end provided a time for fishing, golfing, going to the cottage, cleaning up around the home, attending church, and just plain loafing. And it was ideal for all the gals who this year got a chance to show off their new Easter outfits.

And the combination of holidays and excellent weather brought out the wheels in almost overwhelming abundance. The traffic on Sunday in particular was endless, and if this is a sign of things to come look for a record travel year. The boys who performed the projected outlook for highway 31 had better take another look at the situation. This highway is busy, and Sunday's example indicates that traffic between Ottawa and Morrisburg via Winchester and Williamsburg during the warmer months will far surpass anything the experts suggested. More people with more time and more cars are travelling...what else, MORE!

The above analysis of the congested traffic problem is just one more reason why that by-pass becomes more significant with each passing month.

Roberto DeVicenzo is probably the unhappiest guy in the world this week. After tying Bob Goalby for first place in the world renown Masters Golf classic at Augusta, Georgia on Sunday Roberto found that he had unintentionally made an error in signing his official score card. On the 17th hole he carded a birdie three. He inadvertently marked down a four. The judges, adding up the scores following the exciting finish, found that Roberto's score card tallied 10 under and not 11 under which had given him a tie. The rules as such had to be followed and Roberto was placed second. It was an agonizing few moments for a great golf champion and certainly an embarassing time for the Masters officials. But it seems to us that this classic golf tournament, along with others on the professional tour, should learn something from this unusual mess. Surely there is a better way of tallying the scores than the method currently being used. And surely there must be something written into the rules and regulations whereby a similar unfortunate situation will never, never occur again. There can be no words to describe the feelings of this man, one of the most likeable on the tour, and in our opinion there should not be an allowable area for this to happen in what has been ~~kkk~~-termed the world's greatest golf tournament. Sunday, because of the foul up, it was far from the greatest and because of rules which should have been changed years ago a much liked man and an exceptional athlete had to suffer through the most frustrating and most agonizing moments of his life because of one simple technicality. It was DeVicenzo's birthday. What a present!

The "pot" parade in Ottawa schools is reaching record proportions according to the latest survey in the nation's capital. And that's close enough to the district high schools to cause a lot of people to wonder when marijuana will invade the area. Perhaps it already has, and at best it seems almost inevitable that smoking the grass "just for kicks" will reach out its dirty, greedy claws. Let's hope that it does not come this way. But if it does may we suggest to our younger friends this little message: What is wrong with getting your kicks out of just being alive? We can think of a lot of people who would give more than their right arm to be in your position——no booze, no grass, no LSD, just a great enthusiasm out of living. Okay?

And on the enthusiasm bit may we enthusiastically suggest your support to the April drive for funds by the Cancer society. It is not too late to make a donation, and your dollars DO help!

Bike Riders Beware!

In case you've forgotten during the winter while your motorcycle was in storage, new safety regulations came into effect in Ontario last October 1. Because unusually high handle bars can hinder a driver's control of his bike, they must now be no more than 15 inches above the uppermost portion of the seat provided for the operator when the seat is depressed by the weight of the operator. The new Ontario Department of Transport regulations aim at passenger safety too. A passenger may ride on a passenger seat behind the driver only if it is securely fastened, if there are foot rests and if the passenger sits astride the seat with feet on the foot rests. Sidecars are still permitted.

Tax And Reformation

The final week's sitting of the Legislature before the Easter recess was a most spirited one. Debates were acrimonious and long and the division bells summoned the Members for a recorded vote several times each day. The two opposition parties engaged the Provincial Treasurer in heavy and wordy battles on each of his bills to provide for the new taxes announced in the recent budget. The main contention of the opposition was that any increase in taxes should have been by way of an increase in personal and corporate income taxes. The Provincial Treasurer in turn was most definite that our whole Canadian tax structure must be reformed and brought into modern focus; that the additional Provincial aid to householders, the increase in Provincial aid to education budgets and the Provincial takeover of the administration of justice, while desirable aid to the municipal taxpayer, had to be refinanced; and that until wide reforms so necessary were effected, standard sources of Provincial revenue must bear the added burden. Of course, the tax bills were all passed by the Legislature and given Royal Assent before the House rose at Easter.

There was also a prolonged attack on the bill to set up authority for the Beef Producers of the Province to regulate their industry; the legislation attacked by the New Democratic Party speaking for the Farmers Union was passed with the support of the Liberal and Conservative members with the backing of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and several other important farm organizations.

The week was also one of debate in the House between the opposition parties and the Speaker over interpretation of the Rules and Procedures of the House. This is always a difficult area since the Ontario Legislature Rules are very strict and confining and over the years by the custom of the House a great deal of latitude had always been given by succeeding Speakers in the interpretation of the Rules of Debate. Of course, the end result of this would be, as in fact many Members now seem to believe is accomplished, that the Rules would be completely ineffective —and then the business of the House and of the Province would be most difficult to get done. During the latter part of this week, the Speaker brought in several rulings designed to promote orderly conduct of business and return debates in the House to a more reasonable level of observance of the Rules.

On Thursday, April 11th, the House recessed until April 22 and all the Members went home to catch up on local affairs and take a needed rest from the daily round of Committee meetings and House Sittings.

"Youth And His World" Scout Jamboree Theme

Although still four months away and no definite plans have been made in this area, there is little doubt that some local boys will be at the Kelso Conservation Area on August 17th for the Ontario Scout Jamboree. On that date 3,500 residents will move into a huge 1000-tent town at this location, which is near Milton, some 32 miles west of Toronto.

Planning has been under way for two years. Services provided include medical, sanitation, post office, telephone, shops, a tent supermarket from which residents will procure daily needs. Electrical power will be distributed via a half mile specially installed line. Thirty-five thousand gallons of water will flow daily through a three-quarter mile water line to quench the thirst of working and playing Scouts who will be enjoying an experience in brotherhood.

For one week Scouts and leaders from across Ontario, from each province, the United States and some Caribeean countries will have an opportunity to participate in Scouting skills, field sports, hobbies, tours, demonstrations, water sports and many other boy centred activities.

A highlight of the Jamboree will be "'Youth and His World," an Expo approach to interest boys. They will be able to explore their many interests and concerns. "Youth and His Ambitions" will feature vocations of the future. "Youth and His Dreams" will depict some thrilling aspects of education. Another pavilion will feature "Youth and His Leisure." ''The Brotherhood of Man" centre will allow the Scout to explore his faith and provide an opportunity for him to mix with some of Canada's interesting ethnic citizens. "Youth and His Music" will be a real swinging corner.

The jamboree will be open to visitors from 2:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. daily. Two questions uppermost in the mind: How many will attend? Where are they from?

Here are the answers: 2,350 from Ontario; 35 from each other province of Canada; 200 from the United States; 300 service staff; 150 from the West Indies and Latin America.

Boys will be in attendance from all ten provinces in Canada, and from Canadian Armed Forces Personnel in Europe. It is also expected that representatives will come from Bermuda, Bahamas, Jamaica, Guatemala, Barbados and Mexico.

Complete information is available from all Scout leaders.

CONSTABLE JEFFREY

Morrisburg Posting

B. L. Jeffrey was born in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, and received his education in Cranbrook, British Columbia. At the age 16 he joined the Royal Canadian Electrical Mechanical Engineers as a soldier apprentice. While in the army, he completed his high school education and became an instrument technician. For the latter part of his term in the army he was stationed at Montreal with an instrument inspection team.

In 1965 Constable Jeffrey joined the O.P.P. and after a three week orientation course in Toronto, was posted to Morrisburg. In 1966 he successfully completed a 12-week course at Ontario Police College, Aylmer, and has been engaged mainly in traffic enforcement at this detachment. Constable Jeffrey for the past two years has been the sports officer at Morrisburg Branch, Canadian Legion, and is also very active in Boy Scout work. # Factories May Close Eastern Ontario cheese factory operators threaten to close their doors unless the government raises the support price of cheese. This was an agreement reached when more than 35 operators met at Alexandria last Wednesday.

Such a move would bring about hardship to many area farmers since Eastern Ontario produces about 50,000,000 pounds of cheddar cheese annualy, more than twice as much as the rest of the province. The United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry and the counties of Hastings and Prescott-Russell produce among them almost 40,000,000 pounds.

The operators explain that for each pound of cheese they sell, 40 cents goes to the farmer for the milk, leaving the factories with only two cents a pound after May 17, 1969.

Many farmers in the area are geared to supply milk to factories and would suffer greatly if factories were closed.

Want Crop Protection

A farmer forced to have animals destroyed to stop the spread of disease receives compensation from the government and the Ontario Federation of Agriculture feels that farmers should also be compensated for crop losses. In a brief to Agriculture Minister W. A. Stewart, the Federation says the grain farmer "has no control over whether it will rain than the beef farmer has over whether some can of corned beef coming into the country will bring hoof and mouth disease."

The brief says most cases of disease of infestation are traced to the irresponsible actions of a person or agency.

The public underwrites the loss. "Society has evidently decided that losses like this should not fall on the owner of the animals." "In loss of crops from weather, society has traditionally taken the opposite stand. The farmer takes the risk."

The Federation says it isn't asking for a hand-out or an alternative to comprehensive crop insurance. But it says the current program is too narrow and premiums are too high for it to protect the farmers adequately.

Federation President Charles Munro said the Federation will ontinue to press for reduced overage at lower costs until it is available.

The brief presented to the government follows two years of bad weather in much of southern Ontario. It says farmers "who were dried out in 1966 were drowned out in 1967."

It says the farmers appreciate the $5,000 loans the government offers to help weather damage victims. But it says many farmers can't afford one such loan, let alone two.

BELL LINES

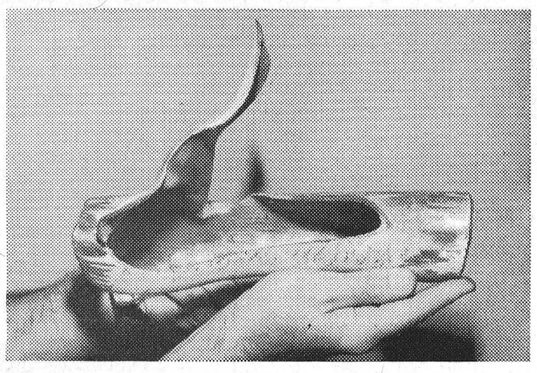
by R. R. PEARSON
your telephone manager

Each year about this time I ask for your help. Help in keeping telephone service uninterrupted to you and your neighborhood. You see, to protect our telephone cable from most hazards, we bury much of it underground. Some of it could be buried on your real estate. With the spring months many of us start home improvement projects—planting trees or shrubs; erecting fences or patios. Before you swing into action with any such plans, could I ask you to give us a call at Bell Canada? We'll be happy to check, free of charge, to see if any cable is located on your property. Just give us a call at Repair Service and we'll get the information to you as quickly as possible. All it takes is a hefty thrust of a shovel or a well-sunk fence post to damage buried cable, if by chance, you should chose a spot above that cable. This damage could disrupt regular telephone service, long distance, data-sending facilities or even emergency communications that might be transmitted by telephone wire. Just to show you what can happen to our carefully buried cable I'm including a photograph this month.



Although it looks like a piece of modern sculpture, there was nothing very artistic about the mangled and torn wires left inside when a corn binder sliced into it. A shovel or fence post might not complete as pretty a job — but, it would be just as effective in disrupting communications services.

Names make news as they say and if that's the case, one of the newsiest items of the year is on its way to area residents. It's your new telephone directory, of course. Although the cover is new and fresh looking, it is really the new and changed listings that are most important to you. I find that it is always a good idea to double check my presonal list of frequently called numbers against the new directory listings. We have a handy new Personal Directory to help you make and keep a list of those numbers you call most frequently. It has room for more than a hundred addresses and numbers; a section that lists Area Codes in Canada and the United States; a section with a four-year calendar. Plus a section that doesn't list anything at all. You can use it to keep track of birthdays, anniversaries and special events. What's more, it is free. Just call our Business Office and we'll send you one. It's a handy little book to have around.
