Special Meeting of Village Council Discusses Fire Hazards in Chesterville

Meeting in special session last Friday night the village council passed some by-laws and made some motions that will have effect on the village scene.

Opening with a meeting of the Chesterville Hydro-Electric Commission, it was pointed out by Commissioner Turner that two houses on Howard Street, newly constructed, were still without hydro, in spite of a long patient wait. On the motion of H. J. Hamilton and seconded by Carl McMillan, the village electrician, Chas. Marcil, was to be ordered to install the necessary poles from the end of the present line to the new houses and connect up the service rather than have the owners wait till Winchester Hydro could do it. It was pointed out by Mr. Hamilton that the Chesterville service man might do this work rather than pay the regular Hydro construction gang to do it.

A wiring condemnation was on hand for discussion, and it evoked quite a bit of oratory. The Baldry block has been inspected by the Hydro inspector and the wiring has been condemned. It was pointed out by the Chief Constable and Deputy Fire Chief that a building located in the centre of the town, as it is, constituted too great a fire hazard to be disregarded.

Council felt that some action must be taken, and on a motion by Hamilton, seconded by Phillips, it was moved that the Fire Chief present an order to Mr. Stanley Coughlar, the present owner of the building, that the wiring of the building must be put in a shape satisactory to the Hydro inspector, that fire hazards be remedied and that fire-escapes be provided. This was to be done within a three month period from the serving of the order.

By-law 713 dealt with the usual office holders of the village. When the appointment of the assessor came up, Mr. E. B. Lynch was re-appointed and in line with the usual raise he was advanced $100 for the current year on the motion of Hamilton, seconded by Turner. The assessor's stipend is now $375. Sidney Morris was appointed Fire Chief with P. C. A. Baker as Deputy Fire Chief. Mr. Morris is to receive $200 for the year and Mr. Baker was hired at the agreed rate. Mr. Fred Smith was appointed sheep valuator and Mr. B. Bailey is the pound keeper.

The Fire Commission is to wait on the Winchester and Williamsburg councils to determine what arrangements can be made to pay the municipality for the services of the fire truck and firemen when their services are needed in country fires. It was pointed out that the two recent fires in the country have run up a fire account of $95. and it is hoped that the townships will be able to work out a suitable arrangement with the Commissioners so that the financial burden of outside fires can be met n a more suitable manner. The volunteer firemen are to be paid immediately for their practise drills.

The Community Theatre came in for a lot of discussion. In answer to a question by Councillor Hamilton it was shown that the present tenant of the theatre pays the Community Hall $4.25 per night for the use of it. That makes a yearly rental of $884. plus the added amount when more than four shows a week are shown. Mr. Maxwell was interviewed by council at this point and he said he would consider putting on six shows a week if the theatre ceiling were insulated against noise that could come from upstairs. After extensive discussion it was decided to investigate the cost of insulating the theatre and to bring the matter up again at the next council meeting

The meeting adjourned. Present were Reeve Chas. McMillan, Councillors Carl McMillan, Turner, Hamilton and Phillips.

Funeral services were held in St. Patrick's Anglican church, Hudson Bay, on Thursday, January 15th. Rev. Gilmour Beattie officiating. Hymns were. "Rock of Ages" and a solo, "In the Garden" was rendered by Mrs. Beattie.

Rotarians See Travelogue By Frank Stevens

Illustrated with photographs, Mr. Frank Stevens of the High School staff, gave the Rotarians a very interesting and informative travelogue of a canoe trip in Algonquin Park at their regular meeting Monday night.

Starting at The Algonquin Lodge Mr. Stevens and his companion set out on a journey that was to end on the Oxtongue River, some fifty miles from their starting point. Encountering the usual hazards contingent on a canoe trip, the pair made famous time and covered the distance in ten days, rather than the two weeks as expected. They disregarded the map's advice to take 13 portages, and only made three. The rest of the rapids they ran, most of them successfully, but taking a ducking occasionally. The photographs taken on the trip showed in great detail the country and the river.

The speaker was introduced by Milton Phillips and thanked by Keith Graham.

Harrison Allen Bereaved By Death of His Mother

Tribute was paid by many relatives and friends over the past week-end to Mrs. David Allen, the former Helena Ida Cross, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Cross, who passed away quietly at her home Friday morning after a short illness in her 74th year.

On Sunday afternoon at her late home, friends and neighbors met to pay final tribute to one who was beloved by all who were privileged to know her. Her genial smile, her ready handshake and a type of generosity and hospitality with which we seldom meet, are all characteristics which will live long in the hearts of those who knew her. The very beautiful flowers received were strong evidence of the admiration felt for one who had lived such a full and kindly life. The service was conducted by Rev. Wm. Reid of Trinity and Barb United churches. A beautiful solo "There'll Be No Night There" was rendered by Mrs. Gordon Anderson accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Cunning. The Hymns were "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages".

The pallbearers were Harry Cass, Harry and Russell Hunter, Harrison Cross, Wm. Cunning and Ernest Cunning.

Mrs. Allen leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Charlotte (Mrs. Angus Simpson), Mary (Mrs. Edison Simpson); five sons, Cecil, Lyall, Clifford, Harrison and Ewen; ten grandchildren, Darrell, Patsy, Barbara, Shirley, Ruth and David Allen; Allan, Joan, Lois and Lyall Simpson; one brother, A. G. Cross.—Vankleek Hill Review.

Fred Broder, Reeve Of Morrisburg, Is Counties' Warden

Reeve of Morrisburg for the past ten years, Fred H. Broder was elected warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry at the inaugural meeting of counties council. Warden-elect Broder's name was the only one submitted in nomination for the office held last year by Kenzie MacGillivray, Finch township.

Nine new reeves and six new deputy-reeves were welcomed to the 32-man council board by Perley S. Boyd, who was appointed clerk-treasurer last Fall. Mr. Boyd presided prior to election of the warden.

Mr. Broder was nominated by J. A. McArthur, reeve of Lancaster village and Orvil Seeley, reeve of Matilda township. He was installed in a brief ceremony in which the clerk-treasurer, his nominator and former warden Oscar Beckstead, reeve of Williamsburg township, participated.

The warden-elect has been in municipal politics for 13 years, serving in Morrisburg village council as councillor before being elected reeve. He is a veteran of World War I in which he was severely wounded. He is a past president of Morrisburg Canadian Club and operates a foundry in that village in partnership with R. M. Morash.

Before council adjourned to meet in committee to name standing committees, for the year, Reeve J. E. U. Rouleau, Cornwall township, pointed out that the City of Cornwall was attempting to annex certain sections of Cornwall township. If the city's application is granted, Reeve Rouleau said, there would be a loss in assessment of $3,000,000 to the township and $5,000,000 to the counties.

ENGINE AND FENDERS RIPPED OFF CAR AT FINCH

Provincial police reported Monday that four district residents escaped uninjured when the car in which they were passengers was struck Sunday by a fast freight train at a level crossing at Finch.

Police said the speeding train hit the front of the car, ripping off the engine and fenders, but leaving the rest of the vehicle intact.

The car was driven by G. Brisson, of Crysler, who was accompanied his wife and two children. The car had stalled on the tracks.

FORESTRY CONTEST PLANNED FOR 1948

J. A. Carroll, Secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Association, announces that the School of Forestry Competition which has met with much success during the last two years will again be held in 1948, with the co-operation of J. E. Carter, Guelph; the Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association, the Department of Lands and Forests and the school authorities. For this contest, the Province has been divided into six districts, each of which will have a separate contest, with $50 in prize money donated by J. E. Carter and the Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association. The first prize winner in each district will then be eligible for the provincial competition, for which J. E. Carter has donated $100 in prize money.

Each school entering is required to plant and maintain a plantation of not less than half an acre, the trees for which will be supplied by the Department of Lands and Forests. To qualify for the donations, there must be a minimum of five schools entered in each district. The plantation should be as near the school as possible and on a travelled road. The actual planting must be done by the school pupils, but assistance may be given by others with the heavy work. The plantations must be protected from live stock. Entries must be made to the local school inspector not later than February 14, 1948, accompanied by an application for the trees required. The judging will be done as soon as possible after October 1st, 1948.

NEW ZEALAND REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT ONTARIO

The Women's Institutes of Ontario, for the month of January, are to have an interesting visitor in their midst in the person of Miss Amy Kane, representative of the Women's Institute organization of New Zealand. Miss Kane was in Ontario in June, and attended the 50th anniversary celebration of the Ontario Women's Institutes at the O.A.C. Guelph. Since then, she has been in Britain and Europe, and attended the convention of the Associated Countrywomen of the World in Amsterdam, Holland, in September.

Miss Kane has been in Britain since then, but arrived in Toronto on January 9, to spend the rest of the month in this Province, conferring with Women's Institutes here, and making a study of the Institute work in Ontario. Several functions are already being planned for her, but the bulk of her programme of visits to Women's Institutes will be arranged to suit her convenience.

When Passion is on the throne, Reason is out of doors.—Henry.

Danger! Keep Out!

A certain energetic Yankee farmer went to visit his distant cousin, who cultivates a large plantation down in Alabama. He was scandalized at the slack, easy-going ways of his Southern relative and was particularly concerned about the large, well-filled tool-house the door of which stood open day and night without latch or lock.

"Henry," he protested, "why do you follow such shiftless ways? Look at that tool-house. Don't you want to protect your equipment from prowlers and pilferers?"

"Heck, no!" retorted Henry. "Do you think there's anybody down in this country fool enough to steal anything to work with?"

A good disposition is more valuable than gold.—Addison.

TESTS WITH FEEDS FOR WEANING PIGS

One of the problems in successful swine raising is to keep pigs growing steadily after weaning. Unthriftiness often occurs at this time including scurfiness and slow growth, causing a severe setback to the pigs. Studies have been made by the Animal Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, with various kinds of feed.

In one experiment testing different feeds for weaned pigs, one lot was fed a mixture plus one and one-half pounds of skimmilk for each pound of grain. Another lot was fed only one-half as much skimmilk, while a third lot was fed a mixed protein supplement instead of the milk. The results indicated that milk is not essential for weaning pigs if a protein supplement of good quality is fed in sufficient quantity. The lot on mixed protein supplement made the fastest and most economical gains. Of the two milkfed lots, the lots receiving the greater quantity of milk proved the more satisfactory. The pigs in all lots were healthy and vigorous, but in the higher protein lots(high milk and high protein supplement) they appeared somewhat more thritfy as shown by more fat and healthier skin and hair.

Score! Two Score!

Mrs. Lester could not endure the thought of remaining uncaptured, so when she countered Mr. Telverson, single and quite cheerful about it, she could not avoid archly remarking:

"Forty years old, Mr. Telverson, and never been married? It's really too bad. But surely you have not given up hope."

"Oh, no indeed," rejoined Mr. T., "I hope I am safe for another 40 years, anyway."

Garland Hall, New President Russell Horticulturalists

The annual meeting of the Russell Horticultural Society was held Monday evening in the offices of the R. M. Warner Company with Mrs. George Brown in the president's chair and a representative gathering of local horticulturists in attendance.

The financial statement showed a bank balance of $423 and from every angle it was considered that the past year had been a success.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of the Ontario Horticultural Society's Award of Merit to Morgan Warner by Mrs. Kenneth Boyd on behalf of the local society in recognition of his help in the furtherance of the aims and ideals of horticulture.

It was the unanimous opinion of the gathering that a closer co-operation between various civic bodies would result in a more concerted effort in civic improvements and to this end the society would bend every endeavor as part of the 1948 program.

The slate of officers for 1948 follows: president, G. Hall; first vice-president, Mrs. George Brown; second vice-president, Mrs. George McCaffrey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. A. McEwen; directors, 1st year, Mrs. A. Sheld, Mrs. E. J. McEwen, Mrs. Gladstone Warner, Mrs. Stanley Stephenson, Mrs. A. A. Fraser; 2nd year, R. M. Hay, Mrs. Wm. Loucks, Morgan Warner, G. E. McCaffrey, Mrs. Thomas McNaught; auditors, F. G. McKimm, E. Rawson.

Garland Hall, the new president, has been a horticulturist for many years and in the field of hybridization has successfully provided a number of fine garden irises as well as two new varieties, bush and climber, of garden beans, the latter having been on test at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottwa.

Besides newspaper articles on horticulture, his booklet on the history, varieties and cultivation of garden iris won recognition from the Department of Agriculture and was distributed to the various branches of the Plant Protection Divison throughout Canada.

A BOY

The plant department's "Western Area Safety Pilot" recently published the following apt and humourous description of a boy, which we hereby reproduce for the benefit of those who may not have seen it. Can any reader come forward with a similar description of a girl?

"After a male has grown out of long dresses and triangles, and has acquired pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives don't care to kiss it between meals, it becomes a boy.

"A boy is Nature's answer to the false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy can run like a deer, swim like a fish, climb like a squirrel, balk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, act like a jackass, according to climatic conditions.

"The world is so full of boys that it's impossible to touch off a firecracker, strike up a band, or pitch a ball without collecting a thousand of them. Boys are not ornamental; they're useful. If it were not for boys, the newspaper would go undelivered and unread and a thousand picture shows would go bankrupt.

"The boy is a natural spectator; he watches parades, fires, fights, football games, automobiles and planes with equal fervour, but he will not watch a clock.

"A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite. However, he eats only when he's awake. Boys imitate Dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners. You can absolutely rely on a boy if you know what to expect.

"Boys are very durable. A boy if not washed too often and if kept in a cool, quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets' nests, swimming holes, and five helpings of pie.

"Boys love to trade things. They'll trade fish hooks, marbles, broken knives and snakes for anything that is priceless or worthless.

"When he grows up he'll trade puppy love, energy, warts, bashfulness and a cast-iron stomach for a bay window, pride, ambition, pretense and a bald head and will immediately begin to say that "boys aren't what they used to be in the good old days."

The Elusive H

"Not long ago," reports an American diplomat, "I dined with an English farmer. Whe had ham for dinner —baked ham—and most delicious, too. The farmer's son soon finished his portion and passed his plate for more. 'More 'am, father,' he said.

"The farmer frowned: 'Don't say 'am, son; say 'am.' 'I did say 'am,' the lad protested. 'You said 'am,' cried the father fiercely. ' 'Am's whot it should be. 'Am, not 'am.'

"At this juncture the farmer's wife turned to me with a little deprecatory smile. "They both think they're saying 'am!' she said."

A Revised Relationship

A Denver lady waited what her neighbors considered an indecently short length of time after the death of her husband to marry his brother.

She did have the kindness to hang a picture of her departed mate in the parlor, and this somewhat mollified her friends—that is, until they overheard a remark she made to a stranger who came to her house.

"Tell me,' said the stranger, with a nod toward the picture, "who is that distinguished-looking gentleman?"

"Oh," said the remarried lady, "that's my poor brother-in-law. He passed away recently."

Safety First

A couple of Scotsmen were walking along the road together and one was jingling something in his pocket. His pal asked, "Jock, you must have plenty of money in there."

"Oh, no," said Jock, "that's my wife's false teeth ... you see, there's too much eating between meals in our house."

PHEASANTS WEATHERING WELL

Pheasants are weathering well this winter, according to officials of the Department of Lands and Forests, who point out the lack of heavy snow in southern Ontario is allowing the birds to reach their feeding grounds without difficulty. Last winter, they recall, numerous sporting organizations chartered airplanes to drop grain and other feed from the skies to birds which were starving because of the deep snow.

"As clear as if you were here!"

THROUGH THE YEARS, neither time, effort nor expense has been spared to give you clearer, better telephone service. Indeed, today's telephones are actually four times as clear and free from noise as those of not so many years ago.

You get more service, too. We're completing unfilled orders — just as fast as we can get the necessary equipment. And as more telephones are added, it means more people whom you can call—more service, clearer service, and always at the lowest possible cost. Altogether, telephone users today get greater value than ever before.

"PRECIOUS BANE" by Mary Webb

Dear Readers: Mary Webb, who was to die such an untimely death, says in the foreword of her book, "Precious Bane", 'We are tomorrow's Past". It is not a recent book, she having written it in 1924, but it is one of my treasures.

The scene is set in Shropshire, England and while there is no specific date it seems to be in the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

It is a story of farm life and the name of the family is Sarn, and all the property is so called, including the mere, (which is Saxon for pool) this latter being a dark and dreary place, and is to play a sinister part in the story. The main characters are Mr. and Mrs. Sarn, their son Gideon and daughter Prue who unfortunately has a hare lip and in the language of the day is known as "hare shotten".

If you like to read of ancient legends and customs, this book will have special appeal.

The bees swarming in a dead bush is viewed with alarm as of bad portent, and a little later Sarn senior is stricken with a stroke. Immediately the son Gideon reports to his mother "that he has told the bees of the death of the Master and they be well content the son should carry on."

You will read of the funeral procession with oxen drawing the waggon used as a hearse, and each mourner carrying sprigs of rosemary and a torch because it was customary to bury in the evening.

The rite of "sin-eating" is here described it being usual to pay a "lamentable posie raskell" a sum of money to eat a piece of bread and drink a measure of wine placed on the coffin, "to give easement to the soul of the departed."

In this case Gideon begrudged the fee paid to the "sin-eatee", and he went through the ritual, a deed heretofore unknown, that a son should so do. In England the rooks nest in the elm trees, and set up a clatter with their cawing. (There is a charming legend that these birds sit quietly and meditate on Ascension Day). When Gideon inherited the farm he also told the rooks on his property that he would treat them well, so after a great flapping of wings they decided to stay.

The "Precious Bane" is the gold of Milton's poem and we see the boy Gideon so consumed by greed that he is blind to all else. Jancis, the beautiful golden haired girl who loves him, is sacrificed to his ambition as he refuses to marry her but tells her to "hire out".

There is a vivid description of the "hiring fairs," when people looking for work carried the sign of his or her trade. Thus, the shepherd carried a crook, the cook a big wooden spoon, the teamster a whip, a dairymaid a milking stool, and a housemaid a broom or mop. The wages were a far cry from the present day, for Jancis had to work three years for a sum equal to about 60 dollars.

It is most interesting to read of the weavings. The women often did the carding and spinning, and then engaged a professional weaver, whose coming was a red letter day for he brought "the news."

A girl named Tinvyriah assumes importance in the story as she would fain wed Gideon, and Mrs. Sarn becoming ill, Tinvy comes to help Prue with the work. We find Gideon, resenting his mother's breakdown, as no longer able to work, she is a mere burden—so he connives with Tinvy to make the fox-glove tea stronger. (Fox-glove tea was used for many years by people in rural England, long before, as digitalis which it is, is now so widely used by the physician.. It being very poisonous and cummulative in the system, it caused the death of the mother. Poor Jancis who seemed born for tragedy drowns in Sarn Mere. Gideon begins to realize, he has lost much that is worthwhile, in his insane desire for gold, and consciense stricken, he too, loses his life in the dark and dreary pool.

Tivny, then, being left bereft of all her hopes, tries to have Prue "ducked" as a witch, from which fate she is saved by her "Dear Acquaintance," the weaver and so the story ends happiely for her.

Anyone liking old world English will find this book a delight. You will find the dragon fly known as "the ether's nild," the cowslip as the "paigle on the key to heaven", and a baby as a "little mommet".

I am sure you will feel with Mary Webb "That there is a permanence, a continuity in country life which makes the lapse of centuries of little moment".

VALOR

By William Shakespeare

In the reproofs of chance
Lies the true proof of man. The sea being smooth,
How many shallow bauble boats dare sail
Upon her patient breast, making their way
With those of nobler bulk?
But let the ruffian Boreas once enrage
The gentle Thetis, and anon, behold
The strong-ribb'd bark through liquid mountains cut,
Bounding between the two moist elements,
Like Perseus' horse: where then the saucy boat,
Whose weak untimber'd sides but even now
Co-rival'd greatness? either to harbor fled,
Or made a toast for Neptune. Even so
Doth valor's show, and valor's worth, divide
In storms of fortune.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! It's weather like this that makes mending and sewing pleasant. Put another stick of wood on the fire and make yourself comfortable with thimble, needle and thread. Yes, you may be glad that you are "hemmed in" during the snowy weather because a lot of patching can be done without your fussy aunt watching to see how well you are doing it! Actually if you have a sewing machine you can do the job in half the time since the first stitching can be zipped over—then fold the old part neatly under by hand. It's a better looking job done this way.

We cannot tell you much about darning or sewing tricks in our column—not as well as Granny could by showing you. So ask any Grandmother if you are doing the job right.

TAKE A TIP

Sewing Machine Problems

1. If lower thread breaks, it may be caused by: bobbin case not threaded correctly; lower tension too tight; or bobbin wound too full.

2. If upper thread breaks, it may be caused by: needle improperly set; machine not threaded correctly; upper tension too tight; or needle eye too small for the thread.

3. If machine makes loop stitches, it is probably caused by too loose tension, both upper and lower.

4. If stitches are not even, it may be caused by: too short a stitch; pulling the sewing; using too fine a needle with coarse thread.

5. If machine runs hard, it may be caused by running the machine while threaded without having material under presser foot. Remove bobbin case and turn disc wheel in wrong direction several revolutions and take out any bits of thread below bobbin.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. M. C. asks: Recipe for Old Fashioned Doughnuts:

Cut with doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees for 3 minutes or until brown. Turn once. Drain on absorbent paper. Mix remaining sugar and cinnamon. Shake warm doughnuts with mixture in bag. Makes 24.

Mr. T. C. asks: Exactly how much milk do you put with eggs to make French Toast?

Answer: Use 2/3 cup milk for each egg. Beat egg, add milk and pinch of salt. Dip bread slices (4) in mixture. Brown in bacon dripping, turning once. They are good with honey.

Wife (to husband): "I just overheard the best news about the house we're having built. One of the carpenters told another that the whole thing is being constructed with green lumber. Isn't that grand? Now we won't have to buy all that green paint."

Safety First

A couple of Scotsmen were walking along the road together and one was jingling something in his pocket. His pal asked, "Jock, you must have plenty of money in there."

"Oh, no," said Jock, "that's my wife's false teeth ... you see, there's too much eating between meals in our house."
