Liberal president says riding can set example of co-operation

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—People in the riding of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East-Grenville should be vocal about their ability to work as a group and show harmony, newly acclaimed president of the liberal riding association Ralph Raina told a meeting of 25 here last Wednesday.

He said one thing that really bothers him is the divisiveness surfacing among the two major language groups today. He claimed he had talked to many French and English throughout the riding.

"They're tired of bickering and fighting. This riding could be an example to Ontario and the rest of Canada," he said.

But Raina doesn't think the language issue locally is as big an issue as in Thunder Bay. "What I do feel is there's a lot of silence here, and we're taking it. We should come up vocally and say that we can work as a group, show harmony and get along as we did before everyone told us we couldn't get along."

Born in Alberta to a Hungarian mother, and an Italian father, Raina lived a number of years in Quebec. For a few years, he attended a French school in Billingsbridge, before it became part of Ottawa.

"The school had two English and two French classrooms, and you never saw such a harmonious group of people in your life," he said.

"If we want to beat APEC (Alliance for the Preservation of English in Canada, this riding will be won if we work for it," said Raina. He warned it would take charity and willingness to travel to all parts of the community.

Earlier he had suggested holding meetings almost monthly in various parts of the large riding. The "moving meetings" would allow members throughout an opportunity to get acquainted, and perhaps help unify the riding.

Gerry Rosenquist, Morrisburg resident and ex-officio member who lost narrowly to Tory candidate Noble Villeneuve in the provincial election in 1987, said he expected an election either this fall or in the spring of 1991.

Rosenquist told reporters afterwards he didn't intend to run, but didn't rule it out entirely. He predicted that as in the last election, there would be a "wild card" in addition to the major party candidates, and the election could go any one of three ways.

In 1987, Morrisburg resident Gord McGregor ran as an Independent, gaining over 4,000 votes which would typically have gone to one or another of the majority parties.

Now, as provincial leader of the Confederation of Regions Party (COR), McGregor is expected to compete again.

"The Liberals would be making a big mistake if they don't take COR seriously. I do," said Rosenquist.

One factor in their favor is a bank balance of $8,922. "I think we have a little bit of a leg up on any election that comes along," he said.

The association moved that a maximum of $3,500 be spent for the seven delegates at the annual meeting in Windsor at the end of the month, to be divied up as the executive decides.

Executive chosen

Other executive members for 1988 were acclaimed as follow: Executive Vice-President - John McAllister of Iroquois, Leona McIntosh - Vice-President for Dundas County, Sharon Duprau - Vice-President for Stormont County, Sandy Popp - Vice-President for East Grenville.

Ken MacLennan was nominated for the position of Vice-President of Glengarry County. Since he was absent, and there were no other nominations, the executive committee is expected to appoint him at a later time.

Charles Sangster, reeve of Lancaster Township was elected treasurer, and Mike McInnis of Morrisburg was elected secretary. Peter Manley is the honorary president of the riding association.

Nominations for delegates to the annual provincial meeting are as follows: Bill Dillabough, Carson Payne, Daniel Brown, Sandy Popp, Ken Kirkby, Bud Payne, and Glen Bradbury.

Since the president of the youth riding association is automatically a member, and this association has been disbanded, the executive committee will appoint a youth member.

Riverside Heights Public School sold

MICHAEL THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG TWP.—The new owners of the Riverside Heights School hope the building will once again serve the community.

Last week, the 33-year-old building was purchased by Triple B, a local contracting company, for $82,500.

Ralph Buter, co-owner of Triple B, says he has no immediate plans for the building but would like to see it continue to serve local residents.

"Initially, it was built as a school, and I still think that we should find a similar use for it," he says.

"We're willing to talk to anyone with suggestions."

If an appropriate plan can not be found Buter says they could easily transform the building into a residence for possibly seniors.

A total of five tenders were submitted.

Louis Legault, manager of purchasing for the former owners, the S.D. and G. County Board of Education, says the bids ranged from $26,000 to $78,500.

The highest tender was submitted by Triple B, but there was some concern that it would not be enough to secure the deal.

"So, we felt it was only fair to ask the highest bidders to re-consider (increase) their initial submission," says Legault.

After some discussion with his partner, Ralph Luimes, Buter agreed and increased his bid an even $4,000.

"We certainly felt more comfortable with that," says Legault.

Recently, the building and its three-acre lot were appraised in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The school was built in 1957 with only three classrooms. In 1964, three other rooms were added as well as a teacher's lounge and a principle's office.

Williamsburg recycling plans delayed by misunderstanding

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—The Township of Williamsburg has encountered a hitch in their recycling plans.

According to Councillor Trevor Tolley, a misunderstanding may have arisen from the February 7 meeting of the four South Dundas municipalities on recycling.

At last Tuesday's council meeting, Reeve Johnny Whitteker read a letter from the Village of Iroquois to the effect that Iroquois and Morrisburg were entering a recycling agreement with Town Cartage Limited of Brockville and wished to get started as quickly as possible.

Since the townships of Matilda and Williamsburg were not joining the agreement with TCL, an association of municipalities to apply for recycling grants was no longer needed, the letter stated.

If the townships wished to order blue boxes, they should do so on their own. However, if in future the need for cooperation among municipalities should arise, Iroquois would be willing to participate, the letter continued.

"I said we wouldn't go with TCL, and a request for a recycling vehicle, but our request for blue boxes was to stand," said Tolley.

In addition, Whitteker had previously indicated the township was considering hiring a private local contractor to handle a joint garbage and recycling program.

Councillor Rowdy Gillard and Whitteker confirmed this was the township's position.

Tolley was concerned that some grants might be jeopardized, if the township now applied independently for blue boxes.

Earlier, the municipalities were told they could be sure of one third blue box funding from the Ministry of Environment, but were warned another third funding from Ontario Multi Material Incorporated was uncertain.

Councillors discussed the possibility of Matilda and Williamsburg jointly applying for blue boxes.

"There's a licensing requirement about recycling, and we'll have a ministry person here to show us the proper steps before going about applying for a blue box program," said Waddell.

The licensing procedure could take two to four months for approval. Whitteker says he is aiming for July 1 as a start-up date for a recycling program.

Stacey Weagant

Off to provincial public speaking contest

IROQUOIS—Congratulations are in order to Seaway High student Stacey Weagant, regional winner of the S.D. & G. "concours d'art oratoire" (public speaking contest for secondary students in the immersion program).

Stacey competed against candidates from North Dundas, St. Lawrence, Glengarry, Cornwall Collegiate Vocational School and General Vanier finishing in first place in the Intermediate division Wednesday, March 8, 1990 at St. Lawrence High School.

Stacey spoke eloquently for three to five minutes on a topic of recent interest, the French Revolution and the Bicentennial celebrations. She will be presenting the same topic in the provincial contest, organized by Canadian Parents for French in Toronto, April 21, 1990.

Stacey's teacher John McAllister says the objective of the program is to develope facility and ease in second language communication.

William Elliott appears in Ottawa for bail hearings

BROCKVILLE—William Elliott, the 25-year-old Williamsburg Township man charged with the first-degree murder of an infant, will appear in Brockville court this Friday to set a date for a preliminary hearing.

Elliott appeared in Brockville provincial court Friday to be remanded in custody until he could get a bail hearing before a Supreme Court judge tentatively set in Ottawa for today.

If bail is denied, Elliott will be remanded in custody until he is dealt with by the courts, and a preliminary hearing must be conducted as soon as possible.

However, if bail is granted, the preliminary hearing may be delayed.

Elliott was charged March 2 with the murder of an unregistered infant in Augusta Township sometime between March and September of 1987. He faces seven other charges of sexual abuse, including anal intercourse, sexual assault causing bodily harm and sexual touching.

He is to appear on these charges in Brockville court April 20.

Elliott is among four men and two youths charged with a total of 38 sexual assault charges involving 14 victims, including 11 minors.

No results have been reported from a police search of St. Theresa's Roman Catholic Cemetery, located four miles southeast of North Augusta on County Road 21.

A special team of five investigators have joined two officers from the Perth District 10 special investigations unit Friday, and are using electronic measuring devices near the site of a two-week search for evidence of "Baby Joshua."

"Triplets are relatively infrequent," says Dr. Bill Armstrong of Dundas Veterinary Services. Doug says the triplets, born a month and a half ago, each weighing about 120 pounds are doing well, and their mother "Bernside Poker" is also in good health. — C. Thompson photo

Osnabruck weighs facts before deciding on park management

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

OSNABRUCK CTR.—Caution would appear to be the byword Osnabruck Council will now take in regard to upcoming discussions with the St. Lawrence Parks Commission on managing Farran Park.

Farran Park at Ingleside, Morrison/Nairne (east of Morrisburg), and three other parks with the system were victims of closures announced by the Parks Commission. However, Chairman George Speal stated the Commission would be willing to work out a deal with municipalities, conservation authorities or private enterprise interested in taking over the effected parks.

A meeting between the parks commission committee and Osnabruck Council will be held next week to discuss facts and figures relating to the operation of Farran and Nairne Parks.

"We'll have to investigate all alternatives," said Depty-Reeve Carson Elliott at council Monday. He added a deal has already been struck between Edwardsburg officials and the commission for management of Grenville Park.

"We should get it on the road because time is running out. It's only a few short weeks before the parks open."

"We should go to the meeting with the idea we'll get it, and we'll have positive results, and not with an attitude to create conflict or we'll have conflict," said Councillor Jim Bancroft.

After council, Elliott told reporters it is important to get all the facts and figures before jumping into the proposal. "We don't want to put the municipalities in a position where we may lose $50,000 in a park operation yearly."

Figures at Farran Park during the last two years are a cause for second thought. In 1988, the park brought in revenue of $47,817 but with expenses of $89,700 ran into a deficit of $41,883. In 1989, the revenue was $30,671 with $84,900 in expenses and a resulting deficit of $34,229.

"If too costly, the parks won't be opened at all," Elliott admitted.

Yet a number of ratepayers have expressed hope the township will proceed with negotiations, and many senior citizens have indicated they would be willing to pay a user fee.

Elliott said the township would consider enlisting volunteer help, citing the example of the South Edwardsburg Recreation Association which offered time to help run Grenville Park.

A petition objecting to the closure of the five parks and demanding an inquiry into the operations of the commission has now collected over 2,274 names, and is to be presented to the Ontario Legislature April 6.

"I feel confident the petition will get through to Queen's Park the message these parks have a major economic impact on our area," said Elliott.

Commission figures show at least 27,000 people came to visit Nairne and Farran in 1988. Attendance throughout the parks system in 1988 was 1,062,940, exceeding the attendance figures of 243,018 at Upper Canada Village.

Elliott quoted material from the executive summary of the ADI Consultants' Report which he found ironic but encouraging. After listing many statistics and reasons throughout the report to support parks closures, consultants write, "Campground usage has declined between 1980 and 1986, but has experienced some increase in the past two years. Ontario's camping industry has been quite stable in the past decade, with gradual increases in use."

"This shows there's a positive side to this - that if the municipality takes it on they could incur a profit," Elliott concluded.

However, no decision will be made until after presentation of the petition in the Legislature and more facts are known.

Williamsburg okays sewage plan

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—At last, contractor Tom Burns has found a municipality which will allow him to dump private sewage into its facility.

Williamsburg Council gave their approval in principle to his proposal last Tuesday.

He related how he had approached other municipalities hoping to gain their approval, in order to obtain a license from the Ministry of the Environment, and was turned down in each instance.

Burns told council the material would be coming from Williamsburg and Matilda Township, not Prescott and Cardinal which are already serviced by other contractors.

Councillor Rowdy Gillard remarked how difficult and expensive it was these days to obtain the services of a contractor to perform this necessary function.

"The sewage systems must be dumped somewhere," said Reeve Johnny Whitteker.

He added the lagoon had more than enough capacity to handle the additional material.

Gillard said it was important for the township to know what contents were going into the lagoon. "The question is when it's being put in - how do you police it?" remarked Clerk Mike Waddell.

Councillor Dave Carkner warned that people would complain if there was a lot more odor.

"There's no smell off it now," said Gillard.

Waddell is to check into ministry regulations and prices per load the township should charge the contractor, and will let Burns know their final decision in about two weeks.

Save Parks blitzes area Sat., March 31

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission is closing five area parks which will have an adverse effect on the areas involved as well as the camping industry.

A committee of concerned citizens has been formed to "Help Save Our Parks" who are circulating a petition which reads as follows:

"We the undersigned strongly object to the closures of the following Provincial Parks in Eastern Ontario, namely Charlottenburg, Farran, Nairn-Morrison, Grenville, and Brown's Bay Parks. Furthermore, we the residents of Ontario, demand an immediate Public Provincial Inquiry into the overall operations of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission."

A "Help Save Our Parks" Blitz will take place March 31 in Cornwall, Long Sault, Ingleside, Morrisburg, Brockville and Mallorytown. Petitions will be available at the following locations:

Cornwall: East Court Mall; Brookdale Mall; Seaway Loeb IGA; Lalonde Camping; Graveley Trailers; and Osnabruck Repair.

Long Sault Plaza merchants; Ingleside Plaza merchants, Becker's and Ingleside Trailers; and Morrisburg Plaza merchants.

Brockville: 1000 Island Mall; Stewart Blvd. Mall; Jiggs Trailers/Eager Beavers Club; and Eager Beavers Club.

Mallorytown: Suddard's Auto.

The Hon. Noble Villeneuve, MPP for Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville, will personally sign the petition at 11 a.m. at the Seaway Loeb IGA location, Cornwall. A total of 2,274 names have already been collected as of March 22nd.

Please help save our parks.

Villeneuve defends Canada-U.S. trade deal

TORONTO—After complaining for over two years that changes in Canada-U.S. and international trade would seriously hurt Ontario food processors, the Ontario government's only actions to date have been the closure of the Food Processing and Farm Machinery Technology Centre in Chatham, higher taxes and more red tape for business and an advisory committee which first met in 1989, says Noble Villeneuve, P.C. Agriculture and Food critic.

Villeneuve was responding to comments made Tuesday (March 20) by Ault Foods Chairman Graham Freeman that Ault's -- Ontario's largest dairy processor (Silverwood, Sealtest, Lactantia), will have to close unless milk prices become more competitive.

Quoting Ontario's Food Industry Advisory Committee report Villeneuve explained that there are other issues besides raw product pricing: "You just have to look at the high-taxing and high-spending Ontario government which is contributing to higher interest rates across Canada."

"We have unprecedented levels of government interference, red tape, levies and taxes here in Ontario. Of course, I'm worried that many rural communities with numerous producers and food processors will be irreversibly hurt if the industry shuts down."

Special meeting to review regional waste study

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

SPENCERVILLE—The Grenville Dundas waste management study will be holding a special meeting May 3 in the Spencerville Town Hall.

The meeting is intended to review the progress of the three and a half year old study and will be attended by Ministry of Environment representatives, members of the steering and public liaison committees, and the press.

"We're now on the verge of identifying a landfill site," Consultant Paul Frigon stated in an interview.

A review is undertaken at this stage, to see if there has been sufficient public and government agency input, and correct decisions have been made.

If this is the case, the study will go on to completion. But if problems are found, they will be treated before the study reaches a costly environmental hearing.

"Problems have been turning up in other waste plans," he explained, citing the difficulties of Halton County which have occasioned Ontario Municipal Board hearing.

"In addition, the regional municipality of Ottawa-Carleton had to scrap the whole master plan and start over, after spending $1.5 million," he said.

At the May meeting, Frigon will prepare a report for presentation to the steering committee and environmental assessment officials. The presentation will be open for wide ranging discussion.

"I feel there won't be a real problem," said Frigon. "We've been following the process. This review will be to make sure the I's are dotted, and the T's crossed, so we can't be faulted on not following the process."

"If we find the decisions we've made don't stand up to environmental assessment, we might take a different track," he stated.

In this case, an outside consultant may be hired to look at the study, or ministry officials from both waste management and environmental assessment branches would treat the problem, in conjunction with the steering committee and the consultant.

Last Thursday, the steering committee discussed the definition of "locally significant agricultural enterprises," newly outlined by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Previously, the Foodlands Preservation Branch told consultants their criteria "special farm enterprises" had to be altered to "locally significant agricultural enterprises."

After OMAF accompanied by county agricultural representatives eliminated all the "locally significant farm enterprises" from consideration for landfill areas, only six small locations remained.

"If this is the case and we're reduced to a choice of six sites, no one site can take all the waste; therefore, we'll have to look at two sites," Frigon said.

"We're asking Agriculture and Food for more information on how they decided."

He stated the next stage of the study would involve more of the three R's (recycling, reduction and reuse), incorporating these into implementation of the plan.

"We're looking at February 1991 for completion of the study," he said.

Started in 1987, the study involves 13 municipalities in the counties of Grenville and Dundas and the City of Brockville.

Communities are looking for one or more landfill sites, and a waste handling system to service the area for 20-40 years, and 15-20 years for the City of Brockville.

Cablevision coming to Williamsburg area

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—Within the next 15 to 18 months, television viewers in the Williamsburg area may have a much wider choice of programs.

Williamsburg Council approved an agreement in principle with 01 Cablesystems Inc., allowing them to set up satellite dishes on town property. The agreement will be finalized if the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) gives the nod to the company's application.

The company doesn't anticipate any difficulty in receiving CRTC approval since there have been no requests for public meetings.

Manager of 01 Cablesystems Gary Carr wrote council requesting approval for a location on town property to be used as a site for satellite dishes.

The site must be easily accessed by the company, with no interference from electrical or microwave equipment. Fire halls or public works yards are often used for setting up the dishes.

"If successful with our application, we would like to proceed as soon as possible to begin providing our services," wrote Carr.

"People including the seniors have been asking when it will be coming in," said Reeve Johnny Whitteker.

"Morrisburg, Winchester, and Chesterville have this service. The CRTC approves smaller installations as time goes on, and the cable company is working down to smaller areas," said Clerk Mike Waddell.

"An engineer will be around to look at sites in the early spring," he added.

They made us "incredible"!

Just one year ago, The St. Lawrence Parks Commission announced in The Leader, and in other media, that it was doing everything possible to make not only its staff, but its visitors feel "incredible". Each Monday through the spring, the Commission was offering staff members a one-day training session developed by the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation.

The program, it was explained, "aimed at training people in virtually all lines of tourism, developing skills such as meeting the needs of visitors, handling potential problems, as well as a wide range of inter-personal techniques".

The course must be deemed a success, for its effects lasted a whole year. It made us "feel incredible" too, when we returned from a brief vacation to find that the SLPC had, without any previous notice or discussion, announced the closure of many of this area's favorite parks. Since the announcement, resentment has been heard from almost every corner of the province, as well as from other jurisdictions. It was a disappointing, perhaps a fatal blow to many small business operators in the district, who depend heavily on the summer visitors' trade for their very existence. It is a threat to all of Eastern Ontario.

Milk cost only one factor

OMMB Chairman John Core said last week that extensive damage to the relationship and trust between Ontario dairy farmers and milk processors may be an unfortunate result of media coverage of some comments made by Ault Foods Ltd. Chairman Graham Freeman.

Dairy farmers and dairy processing companies have the same main goal in the current round of GATT negotiations — to preserve Canada's successful milk supply management system. Core said he is concerned that message had been lost in recent coverage of Freeman's address to the House of Commons Agriculture Committee recently.

Core said "The focus on raw milk prices as the main competitive problem for the processors is simply wrong. Canadian raw milk prices are slightly higher, as are many other Canadian costs because of Canadian policies and programs", he said. Interest rates, exchange rates, health system costs, taxation and labor rates all affect processors' costs.

"Canadian companies face a completely different cost structure and milk costs are only one factor", Core said. These are the same factors which make on-farm costs higher for dairy farmers in Canada than the U.S., he added.

"Producers must continue to receive fair returns. Current milk prices reflect a fair return to efficient producers under our supply management program".

Freeman in his speech, said: "There are other costs though that we cannot control, and milk cost is only one of them. We must have access to competitive packaging material, energy costs, taxation treatment and environmental standards".

Extensive media coverage ignored Freeman's opening remarks supporting Canada's system, Core said.

Freeman stated: "Our position in GATT parallels that of other dairy processors across the country. We would like to strengthen Article XI in the agreement. We want to preserve the Milk Marketing Boards and preserve supply-managed sanctions. Supply management for us means stability and stability is one of the highest virtues for processors as well as producers in this country".

"I believe Freeman was trying to raise the spectre of the potential damage and cost to the Canadian economy, taxpayer and dairy industry of any failure to solve problems with the GATT," Core said. "Dairy producers are just as concerned about the same issues and the OMMB is working hard to ensure the system which has served Canadians so well will continue in the future".

Pictured on the front page of the March 26, 1980 issue of The Morrisburg Leader are Bill Jarvis and Danny Rice of the Morrisburg Hydro crew. The two had discovered a ballon which had been released in Hartford, Ohio as part of a school project. The balloon had been released March 20 and found March 21 for a 600 mile trip covered in just one day.

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education had a committee examining the feasibility of closing some schools under its jurisdiction. Included in the study was Stampville with an attendance drop from 160 in 1969 to 60 in 1979.

At the Dominion, oranges were $1.58 a dozen and Swift's breakfast bacon was $1.48 a 500g package.

It seemed to be a week for finding balloons. Also finding a balloon was Ed Hanson of Williamsburg, who had one drop in his backyard. This one was sent by a student living in Colton, New York. Eric Shortt of Williamsburg had found a balloon which also came from the Colton area.

The Morrisburg Lions and Winchester Hawks were tied at a game apiece in the final round for the Ottawa and District Junior B east division championship. The Lions had lost the series opener on home ice, 6-5, but then travelled to Winchester for a 10-3 victory.

The Morrisburg Golden Knights appeared to be about to take a final bow from further playoff action against the Massena Pioneers having lost three consecutive games.

The Morrisburg Atom A Lions claimed their league trophy when they defeated Cardinal in the final round of action. Members of the team included Mark Stewart, Daryl Morrell, Dennis Froats, Chris Salmon, Jason Smith, Greg Whitteker, Barry DeGray, Johnny Morrow, Dave Pilkington, Rick Barkley, Rob Whitteker, Mark Froats and Andy Cummins.

Charlie's Sport Shop had Nike high cut running shoes on sale for $25.95.

1970

Headlines in the March 27, 1970 issue of The Leader read New Club House at Upper Canada Course. This season complete facilities were to be available when the new golf clubhouse opened in May. In addition to golf and club rentals, men's and ladies' showers and change rooms and provision was being made for a modern dining lounge including bar service.

The auditorium at Seaway High was packed to capacity for the 1970 variety show. The program featured a bedtime dance routine called "The Syncopated Clock Thought at a Wedding" with Karen Fisher as the bride; Rosemary Laurin, maid of honour; Allen McCaslin, groom; Tom Morrow, father; John O'Brien, minister.

At Heinz' Food Market, five pound bags of white sugar were two for $1 and Westinghouse light bulbs were four for 79 cents.

Mrs. Ken Scott, captain of the First Morrisburg Company of the Girl Guides, received her Long Service Bar for 10 years as a guider at the annual meeting in Kemptville.

Floyd Fisher had a well-kept one-year-old brick bungalow in Morrisburg listed for sale for $21,000. The home included full basement, O.H.A. heating, two bedrooms, a four-piece bathroom, garage and T.V. tower.

Headlines in the March 25, 1960 issue of The Leader read First Medallion Home in Dundas. The new home design award created by the Star Weekly and awarded for the home plan suitable to most Canadians had been reproduced in Morrisburg. It was the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ing, located on Park Avenue. The house introduced the newest and most modern form of heating, electric heat. The house was a ranch style design with garage and included a kitchen designed for the utmost convenience. The kitchen featured a built-in electric wall oven, electric surface cooking element and exhaust fan.

Knox Presbyterian Church in Morrisburg was preparing to celebrate the 80th anniversary of its dedication which took place March 21, 1880.

Another member of the Laurin clan, slugged his way to fame, if not fortune this week, when Samuel Albert "Binky", five-year-old scion of this little publishing empire, met and promptly tangled with a skunk. Not having been thoroughly versed in the eccentricities of this little denizen, the Bink just rared back with his hockey stick and swung. Result - one very dead skunk.

The March 31st, 1950 issue of The Leader reported Bess Elizabeth Davies, wife of Rev. G. Oliver Davies, rector of St. James Anglican Church, Morrisburg, had died suddenly at her home. Rev. and Mrs. Davies had come to Morrisburg in 1938.

Yet another local resident missed on the cash prize at the weekly Foto-Nite at the Cameo Theatre. Because Gerald Adams of Williamsburg was not in attendance when his number was called, next week's jackpot was to be $70.

Easter was in the air and Savers Clothing Store had ladies' dresses on sale starting at $4.50 and children's print dresses for $1.69.

1940

Headlines in the March 29, 1940 issue of The Leader read Liberal Party Sweeps Country. Canada entrusted the conduct of its war effort to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his Liberal government in what amounted to a smashing vote of confidence at the polls. The Liberal Party, which appealed to the country in a general election on its seven month record of wartime administration, was swept back into power with a record following in the House of Commons. The defeat of Hon. Dr. Robert Manion, and his National Government was conceded early in the evening. Lieutenant-Colonel Arza Clair Casselman, K.C., of Prescott, chief Conservative whip in the last Parliament, who was first elected to the Federal House in 1921, when he gave up his seat to the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, was elected in Grenville-Dundas. Casselman defeated Dr. William John Taughter of Prescott by a majority of 1,605 votes.

For the first time in many years, Morrisburg Collegiate Institute was publishing a yearbook. The name of the book was changed from the old "MCI Opener to "The Saga".

Members of the engine room crew of the Canadian lighthouse tender Grenville were preparing the vessell for navigation. In 1939, Captain Murray Barry had piloted his craft to Brockville on April 9, breaking ice along the eastern waterfront in order to permit the entry, a few days later, of the coal-carrying steamer Coalfax.

It was reported in the March 28, 1930 issue of The Leader that the Federal Premier had announced that the right of developing power on the St. Lawrence River had been conceded to the Provinces. The announcement aroused a great deal of interest locally. Now that hydro power development on the local stretch of the St. Lawrence had been assured it was considered to be up to the representatives of the people of municipalities within this district to rise to the occasion without further delay. Several schemes had been proposed for the development including the Ogden Island double stage scheme, the Crysler Island double stage scheme and a single stage scheme. In both double stage schemes the town of Iroquois would be seriously affected. Under the single stage scheme, Iroquois would be seriously affected and Morrisburg partially affected. Cornwall would receive the maximum development from the single scheme.

Dr. Archie Shannette had returned home after spending a year practising medicine in the lumber camps of Northern Ontario.

First reading was given a bill in the Legislature which proposed to increase cabinent minister salaries from $8 - $10,000 and Premier Ferguson's salary from $12 to $14,000.

The March 12, 1920 issue of The Leader reported that beginning April 1, the following prices would prevail with local barbers: haircut 35 cents; shave 15 cents; beard trim 15 cents; shampoo 25 cents; hair singe 15 cents; hair tonic 10 cents.

A petition signed by a large percentage of the light and power users of Morrisburg was to be presented to local council. The endorsers were asking for continuous electric service.

Dear Editor, and all:

Now is the time to get MAD. The new term for democracy is "Say what you want but do as your told." The G.S.T. is a blatant tax grab. Rather than make the government more efficient they make us pay, pay, pay.

Did you know: G.S.T. in England (called V.A.T.) is 15 percent on everything, G.S.T. in Ireland (called V.A.T.) is 25 percent on everything. G.S.T. is being charged to charities on all money collected. When Canada follows so closely in the tracks of England, are they going to try to tell us it will stay at 7 percent here?

The middle class is being eliminated. Our next generation of children, and maybe this generation, will not buy houses. The rich, now holding and building revenue and rental property will prosper again. The government wants to keep us broke because it is the low income earners that pay all the taxes. Have YOU got 7 percent more of your wage to give away? Seven percent next year maybe 15 percent the year after. The only way to stop a snowball is to not make it or allow it to be made to start with. We are bowing under the pressure of everyone in our back pockets now. Our arrogant government is already hiring a new secret service of tax collectors before it is law.

We can still change this. Even if the mission seems hopeless. We have one hope left. To sway our MPs to vote a no confidence vote against their own party. To vote with the people. We the people have to exert this pressure on our own MPs. We have to stand up and be counted. It is time to protest this atrocity by action not apathy.

We want to form a public demonstration across Canada. This is our war. A nationwide, exact same time protest.

We are asking for volunteers in each community in Canada to head their demonstrations. We will picket the city halls and town offices across this great country all at the same time.

A housewife, a businessperson and student, it doesn't matter.

Just get MAD and do it!!!!

Write to me now and help coordinate this public outcry. It won't be a big job. Just get the word out to your people. This has to be done soon. Please, please do it now. The time is short. Write today: Mrs. Debbie Dunn, 4802A-51 Avenue, Red Deer, Alberta, T4N 4H3. Phone (403) 346-1240 or Fax (403) 346-2545.

Make yourself the person who made the difference.

Yours truly,
Debbie Dunn

Dear Editor — Thought it was time to inform you and your readers of the genealogical happenings in the area. Also to warn people of unethical or unauthorized groups who may be trying to sell purportedly authentic books on the genealogy of your family, or your friends' families, which may not be authentic at all. At least one group has been trying to sell a "Casselman Book". May I suggest you consider only the purchase of a properly authorized book. As genealogist for the Casselman

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ancestral Society, I know that there have been no letters sent out advertising a Casselman Book.

During 1989, I became President of the St. Lawrence Branch of The United Empire Loyalist Association of Canada. St. Lawrence Branch covers the 1,200 square miles of the 3 United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. At the moment we are planning our 1990 meetings, which will begin April 29th with our first meeting in Newington. Our banquet will be held in Morrisburg on September 22nd.

Two days before Christmas 1988, I published "The Descendants of Peter Ira McIntosh", and four days before Christmas 1989, published "Whitteker - Whitteker Family of Dundas County". Miss Iva Whittaker of Williamsburg and Ottawa was my co-author on these books. July 1989 published Volume 1 of the Casselman Series, titled "Descendants of John W. Casselman" - with co-author Clarence Cross. Each book takes about a year's research and, of course, as soon as its printed, you either find a mistake, or there are more children born, or someone dies. But you have to stop sometime gathering information and print the book, or you will never get it done.

At the moment, I'm working with 3 other researchers on at least 12 family books of the area - volume 2 of the Casselmans; Garlough; Froats; Durant; Barkley; Swerdfeger; Weagant; Locke; Marcellus; Col. Henry Merkley U.E.L.; Michael Merkley U.E.L. With co-author Klaas Vander Baaren, we have other books already published besides Whitteker, McIntosh and Casselman. We have Chritian Barkley U.E.L.; Mathias Barkley; Van Allen Family; Gillard Family, Dillabough and Gormley family.

In 1987 my husband and I went to Germany for the Casselman Reunion, travelling to Adelshofen to see where our family lived until they left in 1709 for America. After our 17 day trip I printed a book titled "Germany Here We Come" - which tells all about our trip and about the places we have seen in Germany.

If anyone is interested in any of these books all they have to do is come and see them at my home 3 Augusta Street in Morrisburg. August 11th we have a genealogy day planned for the Morrisburg Civic Centre. If you are interested in digging into your roots and want information, you should plan to attend. Four researchers bring most of their books for people to go through for information, and they all try to answer questions and give suggestions if needed.

Yours in genealogy,
Lynne (O'Brien) Cook, U.E.

Dear Sir:

Your recent supplement "Wedding Bells" dealt with many of the areas that need to be considered in planning a wedding, with one serious omission. There was no mention of the need of preparing for the ceremony and the marriage itself. I know that weddings do not need to take place in a church, but as a pastor also know that most couples still want the ceremony to take place in one of the places of worship.

With a desire to be responsible, most churches now require a time of meaningful preparation for any couples who wish to be married in the church. Those who have this wish should be aware of this, and should contact their pastor well in advance. In the end, the level of understanding and commitment that is reflected in the ceremony is far more important than many of the other items that are a part of the wedding.

I would hope that any future supplement you might prepare will include some reference to this need.

Sincerely,
Harry H. Brown

Fox wanders through Morrisburg

Spring break for local wildlife

MORRISBURG—Should residents be alarmed to find a wild mink or a fox wandering in their backyard?

Not at all says John Downey, a conservation officer with the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Recently, a variety of animal species have surfaced in the area.

Last week, Ron Dillabough was travelling along the Church Road Saturday night and accidently ran over a small creature.

It was rather dark at the time and initially he thought it might have been a common groundhog.

The following day he returned to the scene to see if he could find it.

He was surprised to discover that his "victim" was a beautiful wild mink.

But this member of the weasel family was not the only critter making guest appearances lately.

Last Monday night, some Morrisburg residents were startled by the sight of a small fox wandering through their backyards.

However, Downey considers the two incidents as merely "true signs of spring".

"We normally see an increase in wildlife activity this time of year, so it's really not that surprising," he says.

He says minks are somewhat rare, but not uncommon to the area.

"Their population fluctuates upon the availability of their prey - the muskrat. They're an aquatic mammal and naturally very curious," says Downey.

He adds that minks prefer to live along shorelines and small creeks.

"With the sudden break-up of ice, they too begin to roam more freely."

Downey says another rare species, the otter, has also been sighted this year.

As for the fox, Downey says people should be very cautious.

"Like the skunk, rabies are almost always present in the fox population."

"But that doesn't necessarily mean the one spotted in the village is diseased. It's quite possible he was just looking for something to eat," he says.

Downey explains that there are basically two stages to rabies.

"The most commonly-known level is the one with the foaming mouth and agressive behaviour. A good indication of this stage is if the animal is trying to eat or chew non-food items," he says.

"This is relatively a later stage of the disease followed shortly by the final stage, when the animal wanders off to find a place to die."

Downey says his department and the Ministry of Agriculture have taken serious steps in reducing the incidents of rabies through the vaccine drop program last year.

Still, he advises people to stay away from over-friendly wildlife.

"When I visit schools I always tell the children that it's important to enjoy nature, but please don't try to take an animal home with you. They're wild and should remain there."

BUSINESS IS GREAT IN FLORIDA

Adversity to Success for Dundas County couple

More than a few years ago, a youngish man by the name of Vernon Speers was operating a school bus service to the Seaway District High School at Iroquois, while a few miles further north, another entrepreneur by the name of James Thompson, also operating a school bus service, was ambitious to expand his operation. To this end, he purchased the already successful Speers operation, and the business known as Thompson Bus Lines has continued the expansion ever since.

In the meantime, Mr. Speers, casting about for new opportunities, was attracted to the beautiful orange groves in sunny Florida, and invested in a successful operation in the Dade City area, where a sunny and "juicy" future seemed assured.But as the poet observed, "the best-laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglay", and the Speers plans and hopes went very far aglay, indeed. In the early 1980s, the "frost line", that invisible marker which limits the successful production of tender fruits and vegetables, moved south, and in succeeding years continued the southward movement, so that what had previously been the choicest citrus-producing land in the state became a virtual wasteland, with the orange and other citrus trees, as well as other tender vegetation, totally destroyed by the frosts.

While many fruit operators gave up in despair, or were forced by debts and demanding creditors to move out, the Speers family sought other sources of revenue, and decided to turn their sunny acres, which could no longer grow oranges, into some other rewarding line of endeavour. Thus was born the Citrus Hills Recreation Vehicle Park, which is today one of the most comfortable, successful and happy locations in the entire state, a warm home for people from many Canadian provinces and several of the United States.

Vernon Speers and his wife Lola have created a desirable location, and provided every imaginable facility, to serve tired Canadian "snowbirds", and retired folk who want a quiet life, without the cares of snow-removal, grass-clipping, and other onerous chores connected with large home maintenance. The Speers can furnish the basic unit mobile home, the site to accommodate it, optional auxiliary units for a larger establishment, and complete service connections as required.

The complex also has a large community hall, completely equipped, and suitable for meetings, entertainments and games. The spacious common grounds afford accommodation for outdoor entertainment as well. Regular features include shuffleboard, horseshoes, crafts, exercise classes, bingo, bunco, euchre, bowling, and a regular coffee hour. There are endless pot-luck suppers, and great music nights every Wednesday and Saturday. The site is just a very short drive from great shopping areas, churches, and from many of Florida's most famous points of interest.

It is all in all, a happy community which this former area couple has created, and the friendly hospotality of the neighbourhood is legendary. On a recent trip to the Sunshine State with Dundas Tours, we were privileged to partake of this hospitality, when the entire coach-load of visitors enjoyed a fabulous lunch of cookies, coffee and strawberry shortcake with mounds of whipped cream. The entire operation of Citrus Hills R.V. Village is a tribute to the persistence and perseverance of this Ontario couple who refused to be beaten by adverse conditions. Instead, they have rolled up their sleeves, and with determination and hard work, have changed that adversity to success, and the future looks ever brighter for their establishment.

YOUR 1989 INCOME TAX RETURN

PEOPLE WITH QUESTIONS

WHERE CAN I GO FOR HELP WITH MY TAX RETURN?
At tax time, many people have questions about how to complete their return and what information slips to include. The first place to look for answers is the General Tax Guide that comes with your return. It gives you step-by-step instructions, and helpful tax tips. But if you still have questions, Revenue Canada offers a variety of services to help you.

WHAT KIND OF SERVICES ARE AVAILABLE?
Revenue Canada offers phone enquiry services with extended hours during the peak tax return weeks. Check the back pages in your General Guide for numbers and hours in your region. For people who require special assistance, there's a program in which volunteers, trained by Revenue Canada personnel, help those who can't leave their home. There's a special toll-free number listed in the General Guide for people with hearing disabilities, using a Telephone Device for the Deaf, and there are audio and large print guides for those who require them.

WHAT GUIDES DO I NEED?
Revenue Canada produces a variety of special guides for people with different income situations. There's an employment expenses guide, a guide for pensions and one for new Canadians, to name a few. Check the list in your General Guide. If there's one you need, contact your District Taxation Office or call the special "request for forms" number listed there.

WHY SHOULD I FILL OUT THE GREEN FORM?
The proposed Goods & Services Tax, now before Parliament, has two main objectives: to make Canada more competitive and to improve the fairness of the tax system for all Canadians. The plan includes a new credit to offset part or all of the tax for lower or modest income households. To find out if you qualify, fill out the green form that comes with your 1989 tax package. Even if you don't have to pay income tax, it's important that you send in the green form. If you qualify for the Goods & Services Tax Credit, you could receive credit cheques every three months, starting this December 1990.

WHAT IF I HAVE QUESTIONS?
Check your General Tax Guide. It has most of the answers you'll need. If you still have questions, contact your local District Taxation Office by phone or in person, and talk to the people at Revenue Canada Taxation. They're People with Answers.

VILLAGE OF MORRISBURG

RECYCLING

Open Letter to Residents of the Village of Morrisburg

Dear Residents:

The Village of Morrisburg will begin recycling in mid-April 1990. All households in the Village will be receiving a Blue Box within the next week or two. The Blue Box will make it easy for you and your family to participate in this important community program. Recycling will help to reduce the volume of waste which goes to the landfill site and will help to improve our environment.

Please put the following items in your Blue Box:
- Newspapers
- Food and Beverage Cans
- Glass Bottles and Jars
- Plastic Soft Drink Bottles

Please do not put magazines, telephone books, catalogues, envelopes or other fine paper products in your Blue Box. Newspapers should be tied in bundles. Cardboard, brush, and appliances should NOT BE PUT OUT WITH YOUR REGULAR GARBAGE. Special pick-ups for these items will be announced later.

The Blue Box will be picked up by Towne Cartage (TCL) using a special recycling truck. The Village of Morrisburg and Iroquois and the City of Brockville will share the vehicle. The materials are then taken to the recycling centre in Brockville. Village staff will continue to pick up regular garbage.

Blue Box collection will be carried out on the same day as regular garbage pick-up, which will be One Day Per Week. The weekly collection day and the start-up for the program will be announced next week.

Funding for the recycling program will come from the Ontario Ministry of the Environment and Ontario Multi-Cultural Recycling Incorporated (OMMRI) in addition to local taxes.

Thank you in advance for your co-operation.

Guest Speaker

J. DUNCAN EDMONDS

Williamsburg Seniors heading for Finger Lakes

On Tuesday, fifty-six members and four visitors attended the March meeting. Following a noon dinner, "O Canada" was sung with Hilda Garlough playing the accompaniment.

Names were taken for a 3-day trip to the Finger Lakes in July, and correspondence included "thank you" notes from the James family and from Mrs. Locke.

The president asked for the quilting stands to be returned, because they are needed now.

Mrs. Lou Pitts was in charge of the program, a reading "My Hands" was given by Margaret Barkley and "Murphy's Law" was read by Harold Pemberton.

Clifton and Betty Barkley entertained musically with the electric organ and guitar playing and singing everyones' favourties, Irish me melodies, popular tunes and gospel music.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing cards.

County Road 18 to see many improvements made in 1990

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—Travelling along County Road 18 should be considerably smoother in the near future, after $375,000 of improvements are made this year.

"We're pleased at this unanimous decision of county council's road committee," Reeve Johnny Whitteker told a meeting of Williamsburg council last Tuesday. "It represents half the amount of money to be spent in construction this year."

"This year's work will include grading, gravel, and blacktopping from Church Road to Colquhoun Church past Prost Lumber," said County Engineer Don McDonald.

The expenditure represents the first part of an over-all five-year plan for the counties. Next year, no improvements are planned for County Road 18; however, $250,000 of expenditures is scheduled in each of the two following years, and the road should be completed in 1993.

By the end of 1993, County Road 18 should be blacktopped from Church Road to the Osnabruck Boundary.

A resident attending the meeting inquired whether any money would be spent on County Road 41, a gravel service road north of Highway 401.

Whitteker said that no funds would be spent at this time, adding "County Road 18 is the most travelled road and needs it."

McDonald says the counties have an over-all future plan to blacktop all county gravel roads as funds become available, but didn't promise dates.

Other roads due for major improvements this year include County Road 21 (north and east of Alexandria) and County Road 44 (the Headline Road in Cornwall Township).

Exchange student from France visits Ingleside Seniors Club

INGLESIDE—President Amy Pollock welcomed one new member among the 53 attending the regular monthly meeting of Senior Citizens Club 283, Ingleside, on March 19th.

The National Anthem was sung to open the meeting followed by birthday greetings to all celebrating in March. Lena McLaren led the members in singing a medley of Irish songs including such old favourites as "My Wild Irish Rose", "Rosey O'Grady", and "Peggy O'Neil".

Grace Grant introduced Karine Bar, a Rotary Exchange Student from the Dijon area in France, who is being sponsored by the Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary Club.

Karine enchanted her audience with a bright, cheerful account of living in a strange country, declaring she had truly enjoyed a Canadian winter. She has made numerous friends while attending Rothwell-Osnabruck School and answered many questions comparing the educational systems of France and Canada.

Lena McLaren thanked Karine and assured her that she made a fine ambassador for her country.

The meeting adjourned for a pot luck lunch after an "Irish Blessing" offered by the President.

Door prizes were won by Pixie Charles and Vi Melrose.

The Show Goes On!

Last Saturday the Morrisburg Skating Arena was living proof to the belief there's no business like show business.

The annual Figure Skating Show was a sold-out success again this year, with over 500 spectators crowding the arena to watch the talented antics of some 100 Morrisburg and area youngsters on ice.

This year's show featured celebrated musical movies, with stars of all ages and sizes bent on providing the ultimate in entertainment.

Dressed to the hilt in show biz glitter, troupes of chorus girls, strawberry shortcakes, batman, muppets, cats and their counterparts "The Great American Tales" and other delightful creatures crept, skated, danced or slid across the ice.

Marilyn Munroe (Trisha Elliott) won the hearts anew in her role as devestating enchantress, and the Lady in Pink (Allison Scott) captivated the crowd with graceful spirals.

Guest skater Eric Degray of Morrisburg thrilled the audience with his flawless depiction of a "Cocoon" and the crowd roared when certain well-known citizens came to join the antics in furry disguise.

Dazzling with glitter and excitement, the annual extravaganza proved itself to be once again a charming finale to this year's figure skating season.

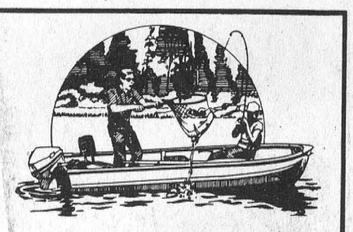
HUNTING & FISHING

By Rex Weegar



Moose Licences Now Available

Ontario Resident Moose Licences are now available at most of the regular outlets across the province.

The new Minister of Natural Resources, Lyn McLeod has held meetings with the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters in an effort to establish a system whereby groups of hunters in a camp can apply for adult moose tags.

In the past some hunting camps or groups have had several bull and cow tags when other groups have had none. It may be too late this year for group or camp applications but lets hope that a system can be worked out for the future.

Watch local papers and hunting magazines for news of a group tag application for this fall's moose hunt.

Decoys Lure Hunters

Conservation Officers across Ontario last fall were using life-sized decoys of moose and deer as a tool to catch poachers and other illegal hunters.

Officers at the Brockville District used a buck deer decoy to trap hunters shooting at night, shooting from a vehicle, or shooting from across a roadway. And just to complete the picture for a judge, the wardens used a video camera to record the infractions, identify the hunters and record the vehicle and license plate on tape.

These decoy animals are legal to be used in enforcing the game laws of Ontario. A typical fine for nigt hunting or "jack-lighting" is $1,000.00 with forfeiture of gun and vehicle and a two-to-five year hunting privilege suspension.

Per Dogs Kill Deer

It is hard to imagine that the pet dog sleeping on the porch all day could be a killer.

Often pets "pack" with two or three other untied animals to hunt and kill during the night.

Owners swear that the dog "never leaves the place". It is very important that pet dogs be tied up in late winter and early spring because the female deer or does are heavy with fawn. Often dogs catch and kill female deer who are weakened by a winter's stress.

Sometimes after being chased by a dog or wolf they lie down exhausted to catch pneumonia and die days later. Other times because of the long run the fawns are aborted and lost or born too early. It is good conservation for rural dog owners to keep their animals tied up overnight this time of year.

Conservation Officers have the right to shoot dogs caught chasing or bothering deer at any time of the year except during the open hunting season where dogs are permitted.

Bears Under Pressure

Japan has requested that all bears worldwide be protected under the "Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species".

Many Asian people use the internal organs of bears, usually the gall bladder, for medicinal purposes. A purified gall bladder can be worth thousands of dollars to those who practice folk medicine.

There are about 7,500 black bears in Ontario and hunters harvest some 7,000 per year. A few bears have been discovered dead with internal parts missing.

We should act now to protect this valuable natural resource.

New St. Lawrence Bass Season

New regulations for both smallmouth and largemouth bass have moved the season opening back to June 30 (the last Saturday).

Often the bass spawn late due to water levels and temperature, and the male fish remains in the area of the nest to protect the eggs and fry from being eaten by the other fish.

Early seasons result in anglers catching the protective males and the small bass being lost to predators before becoming large enough to fend for themselves.

Many anglers fish for bass before the season opens and catch-and-release the male or female bass when they are on the nest. (Both fish are very protective and will strike any lure or bait near the nest area).

This practice of catching and releasing bass before the season opens is very harmful and should not be done. Often the released fish will die from loss of blood or the stress and strain of being landed. Other times it disrupts the spawning process and the eggs do not hatch or there is no male to protect the nest and the hatchlings.

Sea Lamprey Threat

The dreaded parasitic sea lamprey that sucks the blood and body fluids out of all species of fish in the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes has been on the increase.

The eel-like fish is controlled by a special chemical poison and the cost for the chemical has increased greatly in recent years. There was not enough money to fund effective lamprey control.

Our fishing was beginning to suffer and would have been seriously reduced if something was not done quickly.

Under pressure from anglers on both sides of the Great Lakes, the governments of Canada and United States have agreed to greatly increase the funding for sea lamprey control. This recent injection of money into the program has saved the valuable sport fish population in the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario. The war is not over but a very important battle for funding has been won.

Remember The Fishing Licence

An Ontario resident between the ages of 18 and 65 must have a fishing licence to angle in the province.

This will cost $11.50 for the year 1990 and must be carried by the sportsman while fishing. Also be sure to sign the licence when purchased.

The licence is not transferable, so do not lend or give yours to anyone else. A resident of Canada but not Ontario, is required to purchase a Canadian (Ontario) licence for a $23.00 fee before fishing.

Except when ice fishing in certain waters an angler may fish with only one line at a time.

Legion Bowling

INGLESIDE—The second place Two Ballers continued to gain on the first place Holy Rollers, thanks to an incredible 900 triple by Dennis Baker in Legion mixed bowling action here Thursday night.

Only three points now separate the two teams following the Two-Ballers blow-out of the third place Slow Pokes.

Baker's cross of 900 (350-314-236) was assisted by teammate Linda Stata's triple of 638 (234-220-184) which fueled the Two Ballers to a 4-0 victory over the Pokes.

Answering for the Slow Pokes was Frank Marriner with a 589 triple.

The top place Holy Rollers continue to struggle and suffered their fourth consecutive loss by a 3-1 score against the All Saints this week.

Leading the Saints was Karen Holmden with an impressive cross of 671 (204-252-215), while Paul Lacombe answered with a 610 triple for the Saints.

The victory keeps the Saints in fifth place, while the Rollers watch as their league lead dwindles even further.

The third and final match pitted the fourth place Gum Shoes against the sixth place Pin Heads.

Bill Dillabough rolled a 659 triple (165-236-258) to lead the Shoes to a 4-0 victory.

Carmen Massie answered with a 567 cross for the Pin Heads.

Morrisburg Novice Reds ousted by Kemptville

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Senior Novice Lions learned the harsh reality of short championship series - tie games can be deadly.

The Lions lost the east division championship Sunday after pulling out a 2-2 tie against Kemptville.

It was the second tie of the four-point series, but Kemptville won Saturday's game at home by a 5-4 margin.

The win and two ties gave Kemptville the championship and the opportunity to play Brockville in the over-all district series.

The Morrisburg series featured tight defensive play, and Sunday's game was no exception.

Kemptville grabbed an early lead in the first period and scored two unanswered goals.

The first tally was marked by left winger Jeremy Stewart and assisted by defenceman Nevin Patterson at the 17:20 mark.

Two minutes later, Kemptville scored its second goal after forward Paul Coleman beat Lions goaltender Brandon Cassell with only 35 seconds left in the period.

The only action in the second period came in the form of a minor penalty to Kemptville's Nevin Patterson for hooking.

The Lions started the third period rather slowly as defenceman Chris Barkley was sent to the penalty box for tripping at the 14:35 mark.

About a minute later, Kemptville's Richard Aldham was also called for tripping.

Eventually, the Lions came back, and with little more than five minutes left in the game they scored their first goal.

The impressive three-way play was capped off by Thomas Casselman and assisted by Joel Adams and Brad Boivin.

Needing the win, the Lions desperately battled back and scored their second goal as Boivin hit the mark with only 43 seconds remaining.

The Lions season came to an abrupt end with the buzzer and their second tie of the series.

Last Thursday night, the two teams played to a 1-1 draw in Morrisburg.

Morrisburg Public takes county title with Darling floor hockey performance

SOUTH MOUNTAIN—To say the least, it was the end to a long dry-spell here Wednesday afternoon when the Morrisburg Public School boys floor hockey team claimed the County championship.

Led by a three-goal performance from Robbie Darling, Morrisburg worked their way to the championship with a 5-4 win over Winchester.

Backing Darling were Chris Krug and Chris VanBeilen with single goals.

Answering the Eastern division championship for the Winchester team were Ryan Swerdfeger, with two, Derrick Gates and Arnold Jesse.

Morrisburg had not won the championship since 1980 although they had made it to the championship final on three occasions.

Morrisburg qualified for the Wednesday's County final when they won the west division championship prior to March break. Their performance at the west tournament resulted in a 4-0 record for which they produced 26 goals and gave up only six.

The championship win leaves them with a perfect 5-0 season.

Members of the team were Hugh Porter, Jim Armstrong, Chris Markell, Patrick Vaughan, Jason Harper, Chris VanBeilen, Chris Krug, Robbie Darling, Jonathan MacGregor, Jonathan Wilson, Kevin Haystead, John Noon, Jim Donaldson, Damien Whitteker and Mike Deparois.

They were coached by Gary O'Neill.

First place

Runners-Up

Taking second place honors in the tournament were, from left, Bobby Jack Hart, Gail Robinson (captain), Sharon Wereley and Gary Hart.

Cameron crew out-throws Hart team in Legion mixed dart tournament

MORRISBURG—The Legion's annual mixed dart tournament here hit another bull's eye in the excitement department Saturday.

The championship match featured two talented players from the area, Russell Cameron and Bobby Jack Hart.

Elsie and Vanessa Guindon and Randy LeClair rounded-out the Cameron team and quickly grabbed the first game in the two-out-of-three championship.

Hart's team, consisting of his brother Gary, Sharon Wereley and captain Gail Robinson, quickly bounced back to take the second game.

The final match went down to the wire with Cameron's team needing only 8 (a double 4) to win.

It was Cameron's turn to step up to the line.

His first two throws narrowly missed the target and forced him to re-adjust by taking several steps to his right.

His third and final dart hit the mark and won the tournament.

"I had to move over, the other two (darts) were blocking me out," he said after the victory.

For their efforts, the Cameron crew walked away with $380, while Hart's team took $180 home for their impressive outing.

During the prize presentation, Cameron thanked the Legion for hosting "such a great tournament" and dedicated the win to his long-time friend Lyndon Casselman.

A total of $920 was given out in prizes with 23 teams competing.

Taking third place was Bob Kitts' team followed by Gary Bradford's foursome in fourth.

Rounding out the top six was Mike St. Pierre's crew in fifth position and finally Lyle Beckstead's team took sixth.

A number of individual awards were also handed out, including Ladies' high score won by Kathy Johnson with 140 and Lyle Beckstead took the Men's high score in a five-man playoff.

Two 180 scores were also recorded with prizes presented to Gary Hart and Kim Grey.

Hill's win Town league championship

Blacks turn lights out on Flyers

MORRISBURG—The Hill's team were on the right side of a pair of 4-2 games against the Flyers in the town league championship.

Led by a two-goal outing by Donald Black Monday night, Hill's swept the two-out-of-three series.

The Flyers were the first to hit the scoreboard when Ian Hooles beat David Black at the 18:23 mark of the first period.

Tom Hodgson and Rob Reynolds assisted on the goal.

Halfway through the frame, Hill's bounced back with a goal by Allan McNairn with help from Jim Whelan and Donald Black.

Hill's scored two unanswered tallies in the second period. Donald Black scored his first of the night at 8:39 with assists going to Calvin Elliott and Jim Whelan.

Almost eight minutes later Hill's grabbed a 3-1 lead when Dale Baldwin beat Flyers' goaltender Pat Brugmans.

Lloyd Wells and Calvin Elliott got the assists.

The Flyers fought back early in the third period to score their second goal after Mike Stewart netted the marker with help from Tom Hodgson and Jim Thom.

But it was a case of too little too late as Hill's added some insurance with Donald Black's second goal of the night.

Hill's Robert Jordan and the Flyer's Dave Cassell were both ejected from the game for roughing in the second period.

Thursday night's game was penalty free, but the 4-2 score was the same.

It is the second consecutive championship for the Hill's squad.

Hot Peewee C's win eastern division

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Peewee C Lions obviously have no intention of slowing down their impressive pace.

Fresh from a come-from-behind tournament victory two weeks ago, the Lions shutout Metcalfe Sunday to win the eastern division.

Led by a two-goal performance by assistant captain and stellar goaltending by Mike Adlington, the Lions soundly defeated the visiting team 5-0 to take the four-point series.

The Lions now face Athens for the divisional title. Sunday's game was marked by aggressive play but no penalties.

The game's first goal came in the second period when Morrisburg's B.J. MacPherson beat Metcalfe's goalie Darren MacDonald at the 16:32 mark.

Mike Easter and Paul O'Brien assisted on the play.

Easter answered again just three minutes later to score his first of two goals with only 32 seconds left in the period.

Captain Tony Francis and defenceman Chris Lee were the helpers.

The Lions continued to control the game in the third period and grabbed a 3-0 lead on an unassisted goal by defenceman Ken Hamilton.

The team's fourth goal at the 17:32 mark was scored by Chris Wilson with the help of Kristian Bygott and Tony Francis.

The fifth and final goal was scored by Mike Easter and assisted by Paul O'Brien.

Sunday's win along with a 4-1 victory on Friday gives the Lions the series.

The team lost their one game in Metcalfe.

Takes ROMEKS

Angels soar in league championship

SOUTH GRENVILLE—Charlie's Angels won the ROMEKS League Championship Monday night in a style that can only be described as grace under pressure.

Not only did the Morrisburg Ladies' hockey team win the title on the road, they also did it without the help of one of their key players.

Krista Casselman, one of the team's leading scorers did not play the final after undergoing surgery for her appendix.

Still, the girls managed to beat the odds and more importantly, South Grenville 1-0.

The game featured spectacular goaltending by Morrisburg's Kelly Tryon, who recorded her third consecutive shutout.

The season-winning goal was scored in the first period by Valerie Robinson and assisted by Jamie Notman and Kim McGinnis at the 7:15 mark.

The Angels needed only two games to win the championship.

Thursday night, the results were pretty much the same as the Angels shutout South Grenville 3-0.

Led by a two-goal performance by captain Camille McGinnis the Morrisburg team rolled on.

The Angels' three goals were all scored in the final period.

McGinnis scored her first of back-to-back markers at the 8:55 mark in the third period and was assisted by Michelle Ault and Amando Mabo.

McGinnis' second goal of the night was a solo effort just five minutes later.

Her sister, Kim McGinnis also got into the act to score the third and final tally with Camille and Valerie Robinson helping out.

Again, Kelly Tryon provided the team's defensive back-bone between the pipes.

It's the first championship for the Angels since they entered the league eight years ago.

The victory was exceptionally sweet for Camille and Krista Casselman, who have been on the team for the last seven years.

"They're just a great group of ladies, and I'm very proud of them," says coach Don Mabo.

Last weekend, Mabo took the team to Ottawa to watch the Ladies World Championship series.

"I really think that helped us out. The girls were pumped-up and psychologically ready to play hard," he says.

Mabo would also like to thank the team's manager Doug Tupper and assistant coach Gary McGinnis for their support over the season.

"They've played an important part in all of this," he says.

Seaway News

By Cindy Laurin

IROQUOIS—Well, how is everybody this week. I hope that everyone lived through their progress reports and were not killed when their parents finally got a look at them. Not to worry though, you've got a month to improve on those marks. Let's all be busy little bees and make Mommy and Daddy proud.

A fundraiser for the prom has been introduced, all grade 12 and 13 students are selling "Pay What You Pull Tickets", so everyone buy lots and lots of tickets so you can win the $100 grand prize.

This coming Friday, the corpuscle cup will be returning to Seaway (hopefully) for the 2nd blood donor clinic of this year. Everyone over 17 had better give so we can win that cup. And this time, no passing out, O.K. MacAdoo?

Just a reminder, the Drama class will be performing "Alls Well That Ends as You Like It" for the senior students of Seaway on April 11, 1990. Though there are a few embarrassing scenes in it (for the actors I mean!) the play is a spoof of Shakespeare plays with characters such as Testiculo and a score of others including an extremely hilarious nurse, Dracula, played by Cory Coons. Rehearsals are coming along and hopefully, we'll be ready for the big day. If we're not, we'll perform anyway!

Well that's it for this week. See you next time!

Baby sitting course more than just child's play

MORRISBURG—There just never seems to be enough babysitters, but thanks to a recently held nine-week babysitting course, an additional 18 trained sitters are now available in the district.

Sponsored by the Knox Presbyterian Church Youth Group and organized by Joanne Notman, the nine week course was taught at the Church by Elva Rutters from Chesterville.

The course is set up by the Canada Safety Council and includes a wide range of topics for the aspiring sitter.

During the course, the students are trained to handle emergencies through instruction by police officers, firemen and St. John's Ambulance attendants.

The course teaches the rights and responsibilities of the child, parent and the babysitters.

It also covers child development and behavioural problems, caring for the child and nutrition, safety of children and basic first aid, handling emergencies, and game and play activities.

To finalize the course the students had to write a lengthy exam and obtain 80 percent to receive their certificate.

Although the course is not easy, the students which ranged from ages 11 to 14 years, handled it very well, and according to Notman the group achieved the highest marks of any that Mrs. Rutters had taught. In fact, one student achieved 98 percent.

Those receiving their certificates Thursday night were Jennifer Adams, Sandy Bierworth, Kelly Casselman, Lanie Dowell, Johnathon MacGregor, Arita Mayhew, Lezley McIntosh, Hugh Porter, Jessica Sager, Scott Barkley, Stephanie Cassell, Amy Cooper, Sarah MacDonald, Sara Martel, Joanne Mayhew, Jaime Notman, Shawn Rutters and Greta Wemerman.

Mrs. Rutters said she expected another course will be held in Morrisburg, but she is hoping it will be stretched to 10 weeks.

"Most of you need more experience, but you've got the basics," she said to her graduates. "More experience will make you more comfortable."

"I know my standards are high, but human life is valuable."

Your graduating class.

New owners of local campground promise something for everyone

WILLIAMSBURG TWP.—A local family is busy this spring making their dream come true - to own and operate a campground.

Brian and Jayne Cox and their three sons will be breathing new life into the Upper Canada Campground this year.

"We really enjoy the outdoors and meeting new people," explains Brian.

However, he does admit there is somewhat of a more selfish motive as well.

"It's something we've always wanted to do. Camping is really the most affordable type of accommodation for families on holidays," he says.

The family has wasted little time improving the 65-acre facility. Already, they plan to install a 2,000 foot playground and expand the on-site store for this season.

Last week, the Coxes erected their new sign and replaced some fencing.

"Basically what we're trying to accomplish is to provide families with a total recreational holiday package, complete with various activities and special events," says Cox.

Included in the special events will be regular theme weekends, which will feature local tourist attractions, and other fun topics.

"One might be the Prehistoric World weekend, another cartoon character weekend, or a Tubie weekend," explains Cox.

Campers will be encouraged to visit the areas as well as participate in programs on-site.

"We plan to hire a fulltime recreation director."

Cox says the campground will also offer activities proven popular in the past.

"We're going to try to re-stock the pond again, and this year will probably use rainbow trout."

Cox realizes that the campground's big selling point is its 300 x 200 foot pond. Campers can take advantage of the water through a host of activities, including fishing, canoeing and paddle-boating.

He says their aim is to attract a target market of families on a one or two week vacation.

"We want to make sure there is plenty for them to do. People like to relax on their vacation, but they don't want to be bored, so you have to offer them a variety of things to do," Cox explains.

Two months ago, the St. Lawrence Parks Commission announced that it would not re-open five parks this year because of poor attendance.

Cox perceives this decision to be favorable for his operation, but only for a short time.

"Initially, we expect a modest increase, but as for the long-term, I really think its going to be bad for business, in a general sense."

"You see, the problem is that we're both servicing the camping market but selling different products. The park closures will eventually lead to less tourists and obviously fewer customers to the area."

Cox says he and his family are willing to wait and see the results of the commission decision.

"I've spoken to a number of people, those in camping, as well as with the Ministry of Tourism, and apparently, you should only expect to see the fruits of your labour after your first three years, and that's fine with us."

As for the park closures, Cox says he can understand the commission's point.

"As I understand, some of those parks have been in trouble for more than three years, so as a business decision, I can understand where they're coming from."

But for now, the Coxes are busy concentrating their effort on establishing their own business.

"It should be an interesting year. Hopefully, things will work out all right, and we're always willing to listen and take advice."

Already, the family has shown enterprise and willingness to learn about the business, and they hope that formula develops into success.

The Cox Clan

Jayne Cox and her three boys have been keeping themselves and dad, Brian, rather busy now that they have taken over ownership of Upper Canada Campground. The family has made some major renovations and hope to attract other families on a one-to-two week vacation.

Police Report

WILLIAMSBURG TWP.—A 12-gauge shotgun and two chain saws were stolen from a machine shed on the 7th concession road this weekend.

Police say thieves broke into the building sometime between Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

In addition, the felons also made-off with two AM-FM cassette stereos, a 12-volt battery and numerous Snap-on tools.

Morrisburg OPP Constable Brent Mattice is investigating the crime.

WILLIAMSBURG TWP.—A Toronto woman escaped serious injury after her car was demolished in a spectacular single-vehicle accident Sunday.

Suzanne Hamilton was west-bound on Highway 401 and entered the north shoulder, about three kilometers east of Highway 31.

Police believe Hamilton over-corrected and sent her 1990 Pontiac Firefly across both lanes and into the median.

Apparently, the vehicle rolled over and skidded across both lanes again. The car finally came to rest on its roof in the north ditch.

Surprisingly, Hamilton was not injured, but the car was completely destroyed.

OPP Constable Morgan Hill says this is indicative of the types of accidents along Highway 401.

"Over 75 percent of all our fatal accidents are the result of a single-vehicle accident in which the driver over-corrects."

Cardiac victims' families experience massive distress

"On the night of November 16, 1981, as we lay in bed watching Monday Night Football, Marsh turned to me and said, 'Don't get scared, but I think I'm having a heart attack.' That moment was the last of my old life, a life in which I had thought we would live and triumph over everything and every situation forever. It was also the first moment of my new life, a life that included being a cardiac spouse."

That is the way Rhoda Levin begins her book "Heartmates: A Survival Guide for the Cardiac Spouse". When Mrs. Levin's husband suffered a heart attack, she felt completely unprepared, despite her experience as a clinical social worker and psychotherapist. Like most spouses of heart patients, she had no way of predicting the way in which her life, and the lives of all the members of her family, would change.

What she has learned since that fateful day in 1981 is that the families of heart patients experience massive, long-term, often unacknowledged distress, that can be so severe as to put them at physical risk, along with the actual cardiac patient.

Fortunately, her husband and family recovered, and Mrs. Levin drew upon her professional experiences to found Heartmates®, the first hospital-affiliated program specifically designed to meet the needs of the cardiac spouse and family, as well as the cardiac patient.

Under the auspices of Heartmates®, Mrs. Levin has authored her book and has recently produced a series of video tapes (five for cardiac families and one for health professionals) that is being used in hospitals across the U.S. and Canada as a patient (and family) counselling tool. An agreement with Laval-based Nordic Laboratories Inc. is making the book and a complimentary set of the six-part video series available to Canadian hospitals and clinics this year as a public service.

In her book and video tapes, Mrs. Levin offers guidance for help in dealing with the hospital and medical staff, with feelings, the family and marital intimacy. She includes suggestions for diet and how to cope with lifestyle changes, and provides brief case examples from the experiences of other cardiac spouses. Finally, she interweaves, with wonderful delicacy, the story of her own experience with her husband's heart disease, showing by personal example, thoughts and feelings that would otherwise be impossible to describe.

Mrs. Levin, a regular lecturer at cardiac support meetings, says there are four things that cardiac spouses and families need to know:

* they are vulnerable themselves because of the high degree of stress they are experiencing;
* they are not alone;
* their feelings are a normal reaction to the uncontrollable events they have just gone through;
* they need permission to grieve their losses so they can recover.

"The challenge of the cardiac crisis is facing the reality of your situation, letting go of what is lost, and developing new ways to live that enhance the quality of your life," she added.

It is Rhoda Levin's ultimate belief that recovery is possible, but it is not easy. Her book and video tapes will serve as an indispensible guide to anyone trying to put their own life in order after facing heart disease in a spouse or close family member.

Her book, published by Distican, is available for $5.95 at book stores across Canada.

The series of five video tapes can be viewed at most hospitals across the country.
