Fundraising drive starts for centre

Liz Edwards
Press Staff Reporter

WINCHESTER — Winchester is one step closer to a better and more efficient community centre.

A fundraising committee, made up of concerned residents and a representative of council, have gone to the community for help. The group set up a booth at the village's Dairyfest weekend Aug. 6 and 7 to sell tickets for a draw. Winners, for prizes such as cash, a television and mountain bicycles, will be announced at the Winchester Santa Claus Parade.

Proceeds go toward the first stage of renovations which will include installing accessible washrooms and an elevator for the disabled, upgrading the dressing room and adding ice rink storage to the centre, which was built 20 years ago for just under $182,000.

Last year planners estimated the changes would cost around $500,000 but the group hopes to raise $750,000 in a two-year period. Construction may begin as early as next year but the group has more planning to do.

"It's all going to depend on how well we're doing. We don't want to start something if there's actually no indication that we're going to be getting the money for it," says Bill Chedore, fundraising group chairman.

"We have a whole list of things but we're still fine-tuning how we want to put it into action. It's a big project and we're trying to make sure we're doing it right."

Local service groups, sports clubs and youth organizations will be asked to contribute money or host fundraising events for the project.

"We're trying to get the community involved...those people who actually use the centre, to take ownership of the project and become involved," says Chedore.

A daycare and a library are part of another later phase of the centre. The current library is cramped for space and there is no public daycare facility in the village. The plan is drawn out so certain elements can be dropped if the project becomes too expensive. Installing only the washrooms and elevator would cost around $300,000, planners estimated a year ago.

Committee members will also ask The Trillium Foundation, an organization that assists in making buildings assessible for the disabled, for renovation money.

The group has tried to get federal and provincial funding but with government budget cutbacks, decided to take the public fundraising route. However, committee members are still applying for grants.

"We're still hopeful. We think there's still some funding that we can get. We're still going after them," says Chedore.

Record celebrates 100 years

Elizabeth Moreau

CHESTERVILLE— Robert L. Harrop lived a life of firsts. He was the firststation master at the Chesterville train station and the first Noble Grand of the Chesterville's Oddfellows Lodge.

But the American-born Harrop's most lasting contribution to Chesterville is celebrating its 100th birthday.

Harrop founded and published the first edition of The Chesterville Record, the sister publication to the Winchester Press. Almost 100 years ago. Volume 1, Number 1, hit the unpaved streets of the village on December 12, 1894. Today's banner welcomes the first edition of Volume 100. Confused? Perhaps a bit of explaining is in order here.

As the Record enters its second century, it also enters its 101st year. And, in a perfect world, the paper published during the second week of December, 1994, should be Vol. 101, No. 1. Somewhere along the way — and it's difficult to pinpoint exactly when — the numbering of issues took a turn toward imperfection.

During the 1930s, No. 1 of a given volume of the Record appears in October. Over the past decade or so, it appears in August. Seems the Record "lost" an entire volume somewhere over the last 100 years, which we'll attribute to human error

Regardless of how you count it, nearly 5,200 issues of The Record and an entire century have come and gone since the stationmaster watched the first copies roll off the presses. And what a century it's been.

Reviewing the first 100 years of The Record provides not only a history of Chesterville, but a history of 20th century society. The paper has chronicled the life of the village against a backdrop of two world wars, 16 prime ministers, two queens, four kings, a trip to the moon, a scientific explosion, the fall of communism and the rise of the information superhighway.

But even in the context of these great changes, the events of the village and the people who lived here never seemed small on the pages of The Record

As a hundred years is celebrated, the paper is really celebrating a hundred years of the people and events that helped shape The Record, the characters and stories that have given rise to millions of words and thousands of pictures

Press and Record readers alike are welcome to join the celebrations at the Record office today, Wed. Aug. 17 from 2pm to 4pm and 7pm to 9pm.

Joe Rowan Park opens

Press Staff Reporter

METCALFE — Hotdogs and hamburgers were gobbled up, popcorn was munched, races were run, dunk tank volunteers were dunked in large numbers and specially decorated white and chocolate cakes were enjoyed as young and old gathered to celebrate the official opening of Joe Rowan Park in Metcalfe.

The festivities got under way on Sunday morning at 10am and continued until 5 pm under skies which threatened rain but delivered beautiful sunshine, for the most part.

The children were thrilled to see a certain purple dinosaur in attendance and quickly lined up for a big hug or to have their photo taken with him. Lenny the Lynx, the mascot of the Ottawa Lynx Baseball Club dropped in early in the afternoon and received a similar welcome.

While the youngsters were enjoying games and races or spending time with their favorite characters, some of the adults were trying their luck in the bingo tent.

The only mishap of the day came when the first bingo tent became a casualty of the rather strong winds and collapsed. One woman had to receive medical attention as a result of a small cut on her arm after the accident.

At 2 pm the audience, which had grown to more than 200 people, was invited to gather in front of the stage for the official opening ceremonies. Unfortunately Mayor Bouwers could not attend the event but Councillors Vera Mitchell and Doug Thompson were on hand to join the Rowan family for the happy moment.

MPP Norm Sterling who, in his political life, considered Joe to be one of his best friends, said, "I certainly always valued Joe's opinion on topics of a political nature. It is no secret to anyone that, where politics were concerned, the color of our stripes were totally opposite. Despite that, Joe always had his finger on the local 'pulse' and was more than willing to share that knowledge honestly. Joe always treated me very fairly in print and I could be sure, when I arrived at virtually any function in the township, there would be at least one friendly face that I knew. Joe was always around when I needed a friend.

I think that it is truly fitting that the park which is named in his memory is situated on land which was once part of a Rowan farm and I'm sure that Joe would be thrilled with such an honor."

Joe's widow, Lillian was asked to perform the ribbon cutting ceremony to officially open the park. She used a regular sized pair of scissors for the task but was joined by her youngest great- grandson, 3-year-old Darcy Wells, wielding a huge pair of shears fashioned out of cardboard to cut the ribbon.

Following the opening ceremonies, everyone was invited to enjoy some cake and mingle before delving back into the various activities planned for the rest of the day.

Feats of acrobatic skill add more flair to fair

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — The 102nd edition of the Mountain Township Agricultural Society Fair kicks off this Friday promising something for everyone.

"Everyday has scheduled events to entertain the whole family from Friday through Sunday evening. For an added attraction the fair board has decided to bring in the Antique Steam Show for (visitors) enjoyment. Come see what Grandpa used to use in his younger years," stated MTAS President, Roy Sherrer in his President's Message.

The three-day event, which runs Aug. 19-21 features the traditional livestock shows, harness racing, exhibits and midway along with the special attractions.

The Steam Show is set for Saturday and Sunday and special feature entertainment on Sunday afternoon will present Gennadii and Igor — acrobats from the Moscow Circus and Bishwambar Dass, a magician.

Mile High Parachutists will land at the fair Friday evening 5- 7pm, weather permitting.

Friday's events get under way with the Holstein Show and a local horse show at 11am. The Junior Fair is scheduled for 1pm.

Playhouse refurbishes

MORRISBURG — Upper Canada Playhouse patrons will be grateful from the bottom of their...well...bottoms.

For the comfort of their viewing audience, the Playhouse is on a mission to replace the auditorium's seats. For the price of $150, anyone is welcome to purchase a new model.

Though technically it will belong to the Playhouse, those who work there will express their gratitude by inscribing the donors name on a brass plaque and affixing it to the seat. For posterity, the donor will receive a certificate and a receipt to present to the tax collector.

The current seats, in their advanced years, were getting a little tough on the tush.

Fair

The always-popular Demolition Derby starts at 7pm at a cost of $5 for adults, $3 for ages 10-16 years, and free for children nine and under.

Saturday's agenda features a full slate of events.

A Children's Pet Show takes place at 10am and the Western Horse Show bolts into action at 10:30am. The Jersey and Ayrshire shows begin at 1pm as will harness racing with pari-mutual betting.

Jim Wick's and Westburg Union will perform at 1:30pm, 4:30pm and again at 9pm for the dance. The band performs once more on Sunday afternoon from 1-4pm.

Sunday begins with an interdenominational church service. The Heavy Horse Show kicks off at 10am while a beef show begins at 12 noon. A karate demonstration, the magician and the acrobat will perform Sunday afternoon.

Also on Sunday, the crowd-pleasing parade winds its way from Nationview Public School to the fairgrounds at noon. Decorated bicycles, teams of horses, floats and music will be part of the parade.

The midway runs all weekend while the Exhibit Hall — brimming with homemade goodies, flowers, vegetables, field crop exhibits and more opens Saturday morning. A poultry show and the antique steam show will be held both Saturday and Sunday.

uncomfortable, a couple of them are kind of like dangerous. No, dangerous is overstating it...but they've got a serious lump in them," says Melanie Willis, UCP general manager.

"They're not impossible yet but in another year they will be."

As far as seats go, the ones at the Playhouse have paid their dues. They're just plain old, so old Willis has no idea when they were new.

"That's a good question, they're older than I can imagine. They were with us when we did plays in the tent (in 1987) and at that point they were old. They're very, very old seats," she says.

So far about 40 people have come forward in the war against hemorrhoids, names of fame were included in the rows. Last year when the idea was still fresh in the mind of Artistic Director Marshall Button, CBC radio personality Peter Gzowski and Canadian actress Jackie Burroughs preserved their celebrity by each buying a seat after they performed in the theatre's production of Love Letters.

Other theatres have gone the same route to refurbish their holdings. The Playhouse got started with patrons in July when The Melville Boys started, placing a small sign in the lobby asking for help. In all 185 seats have to be replaced.

"We've made no formal appeal so far but we've had a growing list of supporters," says Griffith.

Correction

A story published in last week's Press stated the cost for commercial water in Winchester will be 45 cents per 1,000 cubic metre. The actual rate is 45 per cubic metre, after the first 20 cubic metres, rising to 60 cents in January. The Press apologizes for the error.

Owl program a hoot

MORRISBURG — Bird enthusiasts of all ages will enjoy this special presentation! The fascinating world of owls will be explored during "Owl Hoot", an informative program to be held on Wed., Aug. 17 at 7:30pm.

All visitors are asked to meet at the visitor interpretive centre at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary.

The guest presenter is Dr. Brian Hickey, a research biologist, who will introduce this night flyer before taking to the trails. A special slide presentation identifying several nocturnal sanctuary inhabitants will be presented in the visitor interpretive centre.

While on the guided owl search, Dr. Hickey will attempt to call owls and describe their habits and life cycle. Visitors can even try their voices at calling the night creatures!

Owl pellets may also be available for dissection which will show us some of the secrets of their existence.

Several species of owls can be found at the sanctuary. Visitors may catch a glimpse of the "Great Horned Owl" or "Screech Owl" - two of the most popular species "in our neck of the woods".

During the walk, participants should be prepared to encounter other nocturnal animals. Bats, flying squirrels, silk moths and luna moths are just a few which make the sanctuary their home.

The Parks of the St. Lawrence invites you to participate in this educational outing. Remember to bring your flashlight for better night vision.

Admission will be $2.35 per person; children 4 years of age and under are admitted free.

The Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary is located 14 km east of Morrisburg off Hwy. 2. Please call (613) 537-2024 for more information on sanctuary programs.

EOHU teaches coping with elderly relatives

Liz Edwards
Press Staff Reporter

CORNWALL — Being a caregiver takes more than effort, it can also be a strain, according to Heather Corbett, a public health nurse at the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

Many people suddenly have the responsibility of caring for an elderly relative and they feel they can't cope.

"They've just got the role and they don't really feel equipped. They don't feel they have enough knowledge," she says.

And there are a lot of people taking on the job. Across Canada, approximately 270,000 people are being cared for in the home. The majority of caregivers are women.

To help them cope in SD&G, Prescott and Russell Counties, the health unit is offering a program called Understanding Aging: Coping with Caring. The six two-hour sessions will run weekly starting Tues., Sept. 13 until Oct. 18, at the EOHU's office at 1000 Pitt St , Cornwall.

It will cover topics pertinent to caregivers such as family relationships, mental health, the aging process and community resources. The program was piloted in Lancaster last October.

Another course ran in Alexandria in the spring. Health units in each of the five counties will run the program.

"From the evaluations it seems it was quite successful, they found it very helpful," says Lynn MacGillivray, public health nurse at the Alexandria office.

The program provides caregivers with group support and instructors encourage the participants to keep up the network after the sessions are finished.

Community resources and family dynamics were two of the most popular concerns in the last two courses, says MacGillivray.

Caregivers may not know what services, such as home care and visiting nurses, may be available to assist them. Guest speakers also provided participants with advise on such issues as legal matters.

"We were really grateful to have all the expertise that we did," adds MacGillivray.

Anyone interested in the program can contact Corbett at 933-1375, extension 258.

Charity draw

WINCHESTER — Tickets are now available for the "Wheels for Stacy" benefit draw and organizers have arranged two benefit dances as well.

The draw offers a grand prize of $10,000 and 10 prizes of $500. The first five $500 prizes will be drawn at an early bird dance in the Chesterville Community Centre on Sat., Sept. 24. The second dance, scheduled for Sat., Nov. 5 will feature the grand prize and five additional $500 prize draws.

Stacy Paul is the young Winchester girl battling Spinal Muscular Atrophy. Kevin Mackler is heading the campaign to help her family purchase a van equipped with a hydraulic wheelchair lift.

Tickets, $100 each, are available from Mackler at 448-2523 or from Ron Gibson at 774-0736. Only 400 have been printed for the draw which is co- sponsored by the local Lions and Legion.

A trust fund has been established for the "Wheels for Stacy" benefit at the Bank of Nova Scotia in Chesterville and the Royal Bank in Winchester. Donations can be dropped off at those branches.

Greg Pietersma, the tinsmith at Upper Canada Village, shows visitors how he fashions buckets out of tin. The tinsmith was a indispensible tradesman in the 19th Century.

Tinsmith bustling in new store

Liz Edwards
Press Staff Reporter

MORRISBURG — The St. Lawrence River is picturesque through the windows of the tinsmith's shop at Upper Canada Village.

A visitor, looking over wooden shelves of tin cups, pots and other household wares, comments on the view to Village employee Greg Pietersma.

"People tell me it's nice. I don't look out the window. I'm far too busy," he says, soldering the seam of a 10-quart milk bucket — part of his role as the village's producer of such essential items as pots, pans and other cookware.

But he's not as busy as he would be if he were in the role for real. At the 1860s living history park, he only makes about three pails a day to show visitors how it's done. A real tinsmith, an essential craftsman in the mid-19th century, would probably make ten a day and still have orders for more.

He does, however, now have a store of his own. In a village of 400 residents as this one is supposed to be, he would need one. Not only did he manufacture cookware but he also sold cookstoves and he made stovepipes and eavestroughing that were becoming part of buildings in the 1860s.

Metal milk pails were popular as well. They were much cleaner than the wooden versions and with the growing cheese industry, farmers wanted clean milk. The ten-gallon pail Pietersma was making would have sold for around 65 cents.

Until this summer, other tinsmiths worked in the back of the Crysler store. Last summer village employees built a new 16-by-28-foot shop with more shelves and work area. It was officially opened June 5.

"There's a lot more light and a big factor is we have more space to display our wares," he says.

There is also more room for visitors to watch him as he cuts and fashions the sheets of tin into practical items. The building was built with a false front, a style slightly unusual for the village. Often associated with architecture in the west, it made buildings look larger and gave them a more prosperous look.

As he demonstrates his work, Pietersma makes a point of asking the visitors with teenaged boys if they would like to apprentice their son to him — not an uncommon practise where the son would earn money to take back home. They would work for 50 cents a day, minus four dollars a month if they board with him and his wife and 12 cents a day for a noontime meal at the tavern.

"When he's 16, send him down , I'll give him a trial," Pietersma tells one.

Pietersma was the assistant himself for five years. This year he's in charge. Every year the tinsmith is a popular stop in the village, attracting many tourists.

"Thousands of them, it would be hard to say how many," he says.

Playgroup daycare innovative

GREELY—The Greely co-operative playgroup have planned an innovative way to register your child for next year's daycare sessions.

On Sat., Aug. 27, playgroup registration takes place at the Greely Community Centre and at the same time, the organization hosts a back to school fun day, with activities for the kids and a number of distributors offering educational gifts and toys for the young and those old enough to return to class.

"It's better to do it all at once rather than spread it over several days," said the group's registrar, Kelly Livingston.

From 9am until 2pm, there will be a table set up for registering your children for the playgroup, in addition to games, face painting, a fish pond and plaster painting for the youngsters.

Also on hand are distributors from Aloette Cosmetics, Bright Minds, Children's Crafts and Toys, Child's Play, Discovery Toys, Jocus Toys, Kids Only, Lantana, Lifestyles, Mary Kay, Storyteller, That Plaster Place, Thriving Minds, Tupperware, Undercoverwear and many more.

Admission to the fun day is free. The cost of registering for the fall session of the playgroup is $15 for one child, and $10 for each additional child in the same family. There are 25 spaces a day available on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday

Open since 1986, the group is a co-operative, meaning you can't just drop children off and let someone else care for them. Parents must become involved in entertaining, playing with and caring for all the children.

"It's co-operative. The parents come in and are care-givers themselves. It's good to exchange experiences between the kids and adults," explained Livingston.

Fall session at the playgroup runs from Sept. 14 until the week before Christmas. For more information, call Kelly Livingston at 821-4845 or Colleen Walker at 821-2394.

Study funded to clean up water

by Greg Hewitt

MOREWOOD — Winchester Township has received a grant from the provincial government for a long-awaited study aimed at solving Morewood's well water and sewage problems.

The province announced late last month that it will fund a communal well and sewage study for the hamlet to the tune of $8,000 through its jobsOntario program.

No date has yet been set for the beginning of the study, which will determine the size and type of communal well system needed to cure the hamlet's water problems.

The $8,000 grant represents 70 per cent of the estimated $11,000 cost of the study. Ontario Clean Water Agency (OCWA) spokesman Ross Sanders said once the study is complete, the township may apply for up to 70 per cent of the cost of construction, plus another 15 per cent if criteria such as job creation and water efficiency are met.

The township has been fighting for progress on Morewood's water problems since the mid-1980s, when tests showed that 84 of the hamlet's 152 wells failed to meet water quality standards, 33 of which had unacceptable levels of bacterial contamination. Another 68 contained iron or other substances like sulphur, and all were classified as substandard because of water hardness.

The problems were thought to have been solved in October 1991, when the Ministry of Environment announced a funding program for the individual correction of wells.

But the program was put on the back burner by the province, which later decided that Morewood needed a communal well system.

Winchester Township Reeve Claude Cousineau said he was glad to hear the news of the study grant, but noted that Morewood's problem has been "studied to death instead of getting at it."

"We've learned to live with it, but it's a little frustrating sometimes."

He said the township has been waiting for word on progress since a communal system was recommended more than a year ago.

"I guess when (the province) is broke it's hard for them to come up with money for all these projects," he said.

Cousineau said the township is talking with its consultants, Oliver, Mangione, McCalla and Associates about a peat moss system like one in place at Marionville's school. He said the province is not keen on that type of system, but said they have been proven effective in 20 years of use in the U.S.

The township must also find an abundant and clean water source, likely north or west of the hamlet, he said.

"I think we can get a good water source nearby, so that will keep the cost down."

Winchester Township's study grant is part of $350 million the provincial government is releasing for the upgrade of water and sewage systems across the province.

Its goal, through the jobsOntario's Municipal Assistance Program, administered by the Ontario Clean Water Agency, is to create about 13,000 person-years of employment through construction and related industries across the province.

Folkfest doubles crowd

Liz Edwards
Press Staff Reporter

WINCHESTER — There was no dancing in the mud at Upper Canada Village last weekend.

Still it was a bit in spirit of Woodstock — people gathered in a field to listen to music.

Some people had Woodstock, some had the Folkfest at Upper Canada Village.

And it was about twice the number of people as last year. Officially tallies aren't in, but approximately 700 people sat in the sheep pasture Saturday evening to listen to bands including internationally acclaimed singers, sisters Kate and Anna McGarrigle.

The musical line-up and a year of experience were probably what helped draw crowds, says Kim MacLennan, village marketing director, adding some might have been deterred by the threat of a rainstorm.

"I guess it had to do with the calibre of the entertainment we had and that last year was the first Folkfest. Of course any kind of festival and special event such as that needs to build its own reputation, its own credibility and I think that's what we're succeeding in doing," she says.

There was an equal amount of entertainment during the day. Dressed as usual in the style of the 1860s, village entrepreters entertained with singing schools, musical concerts and a children's music workshop.

"It was wonderful I went in the afternoon and looked around. It was an eerie feeling actually because everywhere you went there were whispers of music," says MacLennan.

Ottawa band Odd One Out played outside the gate during the supper hour, putting a folk twist on everything from contemporary tunes to Scottish ballads.

The concert in the sheep pasture began at 7pm with the Dawnbreakers from Southwest Ontario followed by duo Gerry O'Neill and Gerry O'Kane from Eastern Ontario.

Newfoundland band Colcannon spun out a series of Irish ballads, threatening the audience to sing along with Cockles and Mussels or they'd give individual singing lessons.

The McGarrigles took the stage after 10pm playing for about an hour. Village intrepreter Jean Jeacle introduced them saying they had always wanted to get someone like the McGarrigles so they got the McGarrigles.

The singers don't tour so the Upper Canada Village concert got a considerably rare treat. One of the sisters lives nearby in Alexandria, which might have been part of the attraction, says MacLennan.

"I think they were interested, one, because of the unique setting and two, because they were so close to home and they have a very close following here," she explains.

Festival of folk music

Help community's heart

In the long and varied history of Winchester, this community has earned a name for itself by meeting challenges head-on, while supplying the creativity and the people-power necessary to ensure that even the most difficult task is completed.

Now a new challenge has arisen on the horizon and another group of public -spirited individuals is banding together to "get the job done" on an ambitious project which will need the involvement and support of every sector of our society.

The upgrading of the Winchester Community Centre, whose aging infrastructure lacks proper facilities and is not accessible for a significant portion of our community, is the focus of this concerted community endeavor.

Although the need for the facility's renovations has been talked about for more than a decade, an organized effort was initiated several years ago when representatives from council and the community formed an ad hoc feasibility study committee.

A report produced in August 1993 and commissioned by the Village of Winchester, recommended a number of renovations to the centre. Among the most pressing projects detailed were:

- a new entrance with elevator access to the second floor for persons with disabilities or mobility difficulties.
- new washrooms for second floor complete with handicapped-sized facilities.
- installation of handicapped washroom on first floor.
- new dressing room with segregated washroom and shower facilities.
- functional alterations to the men's washroom and decor and lighting improvements to the women's washroom.
- new high- efficiency gas heating system.
- expanded bar facilities, enlarged and improved kitchen, new coatroom and new equipment storage room.

The group is confident that through governments, service organizations, school groups, sporting groups, seniors and youth organizations, business community and the general public that the accessibility and improvement project will be made a reality.

The first fundraising drive was launched recently at Dairyfest. While displaying plans for the renovations, committee members began selling tickets on a prize draw due to be made in December.

Hopefully, these initial efforts and any future ones will be met with the heartfelt support the group has anticipated. The centre's important role in everyday life makes the genuine need for upgrading vital to its continued operation as the heart of our community.

Reading between the lions

by Robin Morris
Cartoon Critic

Can you believe it? With the tragedy of Rwanda playing itself out on the news every night and the threat that Bosnia might again get that certain mass media cachet that will see Dan Rather dressed in combat gear, there's a movement afoot in the U.S. to warn parents of preschoolers and "sensitive older children" about Disney's new animated feature The Lion King.

Seems a Harvard psychologist with too few patients has been trying to drum up a little business for herself by writing in the Boston Globe that the film is sexist, racist, homophobic, violent and perhaps even a threat to democracy. Carolyn Newberger has carved a following for herself out of the Evian set by claiming that the film - hey, let's face it, it's just a cartoon - attacks the shibboleths of the Politically Correct Movement and may cause harm to the baby if viewed by pregnant women.

We took the young lads to see the movie a week ago, folding ourselves into the fiendishly uncomfortable seats at the Parkdale Cinema like 11x17-inch sheets of paper crammed into a Number 10 envelope. We'd been warned about the scene in which the lion king, Mufasa, dies and were prepared for a good old-fashioned Bambi-style flood from the tear ducts and had the Kleenex at the ready.

Granted, it was touching, but nothing as heart- rending as Bambi's big-eyed grief and that querulous "Mother? after a Bill Saiff III clone offed the doe with a full metal jacket three-ought-three slug. And come to think of it, why is that nobody has dragged that other Disney tear-jerker, Old Yeller, into the debate? Now that death scene, with a young Kurt Russell hanging onto his suddenly-gone-west pet is one you're sure to remember. It's been about 35 years since I saw Old Yeller for the first and only time but Carolyn Newberger doesn't seem to care about the tragedy of a boy and his dog. So much for equality of the sexes.

In her Boston Globe article, the good psychologist writes, (and if you've seen the movie you'll realize just what an uneducated clot on the public thought process she really is) "the good-for-nothing hyenas are urban blacks; the arch villain's gestures are effeminate, and he speaks in supposed gay cliches."

Get on the program Doc. Although Whoopi Goldberg does the voice of one of the hyenas, these outcasts of the animal kingdom don't represent dispossessed urban blacks. In the memorable scene in which they proclaim the usurping villain, Uncle Scar, as king they are transformed into goose- stepping Nazis and the eerily lit cavern in which they live suddenly provides the backdrop for a Nuremberg-style torchlight parade with Scar as a Hitlerian villain.

Switch off Hard Copy and read your history Doc.

I suppose this Newberger of the New Sensitivity would try to ban the Warner Brothers classic in which Bugs and Elmer Fudd play hobs with Wagner's Flight of the Valkyries, in which they change high operatic tragedy into high farce with their rendition of the "Don't Shoot the Rabbit" on the grounds that it was anti- German. Similarly, this PC witch-hunter would probably try to ban the Daffy Duck version of Jack and the Beanstalk as being demonstrably belittling of the pituitarily challenged.

But let's get back to the villain. Jeremy Irons does the voice of Scar, architect of Mufasa's death, and is transcendant in his villainy. In a film dripping with cloying Disney goodness, Irons is the voice of unctuous evil, cursed by being the second son in a system of government based on primogeniture. He oozes insincerity and false humility as the Uriah Heep of the savannah, doing for the young heir apparent, the mewling Simba, Prideland's Prince of Wails, what Richard III did for the Princes in the Tower.

It is Irons more than anyone who saves the film from dipping into typical Disney bathos and if the film picks up any Oscars, he deserves the, ahem, lion's share of the credit.

And Carolyn, I wasn't wondering about his sexual orientation as much as I was wondering why Disney always uses British accents for its villains. Hasn't the company gone beyond such farcical interpretations of history as Swamp Fox, the Scarecrow of Romney Marsh and those homicidal thugs who used to hang Loyalists from the Liberty Tree? Guess not. The young lads and I could handle the violence. After all, this was about lions and the veldt and all. But I did have a bit of a problem with the Lion King himself and his mate. While Mufasa went out every day to be king, his wife, June Cleaver-Mufasa, stayed home being, well, Mrs. King. But then, the lion is the king of the beasts and I remembered Bert Lahr from the Wizard of Oz in which he sang while awaiting an audience with the Great Oz that he wanted to be "King of the forest, not prince, not duke, not queen". That seemed to put everything in perspective.

So listen Carolyn. It seems you have a lot of time on your hands so when the Lion King comes out on video, let's say we get together and the young lads and I will explain some of the finer points of animated film to you. And maybe you could work me through that Old Yeller thing.

McDermot masters life's force for spiritual experiences

Healing hands

Catherine McDermot offers Reiki services as a tranquil healing alternative.

By Debbie Ng

RUSSELL — Universal life force...These words define Reiki and the underlying theme Catherine McDermot lives and works by.

For the last couple of months, McDermot has been offering Reiki services and classes out of her Russell home. Everything is set up in her living room.

It's not your typical family room where a loud and disruptive television set is running and newspapers are scattered. Instead, it was clean and peaceful. There is a certain tranquility in the air.

She places her hands on a client's head, arms, stomach and feet. Throughout the session she asks questions. McDermot stresses that every person's experience with Reiki is different, but the overall result is positive, enlightening and comforting.

The concept is generally new to the area's residents but is catching on quickly.

Reiki comes from a Japanese term, Rei meaning "universal" and Kei meaning "the life force".

Reiki (pronounced ray-key) is a laying on of hands healing technique that has been around for thousands of years. It is thought to have originated as a Tibetan Buddhist practice that was rediscovered in the late 1800s by Dr. Kikao Usui, a Japanese Buddhist.

Reiki is also defined as spiritually guided life force energy. As a facilitator of positive energy, McDermot specializes in release work. Prior to becoming a Reiki master, she went through almost a year of intensive training and classes before being certified as a Reiki master.

MASTERING REIKI

"I knew I wanted to be a Reiki master," McDermot explains, "I very much wanted to teach because I wanted to take it with me and teach it to other people."

While McDermot was learning Reiki, she always felt very comfortable with it. "As a child, I knew I was different. I saw many things differently and I felt very comfortable with this ability."

McDermot also says she possesses the ability to foretell the future. This unique ability enabled her to grasp the Reiki philosophy faster than others would.

She reveals, "For a while, I became very uncomfortable with my ability but after becoming in touch with it years later, everything (Reiki lessons) came in quickly."

Reiki can be learned by anyone who is willing to open their minds. Reiki works from several degrees, beginning with Levels 1 and 2 right up to Reiki master.

Individuals receive Reiki through attunements in which pure energy is channelled from the master to the student.

McDermot says that "the energy is very positive." She explains that it is a one way channelling, "When working with Reiki, energy is channelled one-way so it comes in through the Rei and goes into the Kei."

HEALING PROCESS

Those who come to McDermot go for many different reasons. Some seek spiritual healing and others just want to receive Reiki as a form of relaxation.

"I help people get in touch with their emotions," she says, "I work from respect and I always respect the people who come to me for help."

McDermot does not believe in advising individuals upon their next visit but believes that individuals "know" when they are due back for more healing. It is their decision and there is no force involved.

"I always try and bring their experience into a positive light because I can't make it positive or negative, they do it themselves".

Besides giving Reiki, McDermot also provides lessons. As a certified Reiki master, she offers different sessions to those interested in learning Reiki.

Each session takes about two days and is a progressive process. Students receive attunements as well as lessons pertaining to the different hand positions, symbols and philosophy that Reiki encompasses.

McDermot currently works out of her home in Russell. She was given an opportunity to work in a clinic specializing in holistic healing but turned it down and chose instead to work in a more comfortable environment.

Working from home also decreases the hassles of transporting delicate equipment such as crystals and rocks.

She says, "Working at home allows me to keep a better focus. I always keep my working area physically cleaned and I also clean it out after every client."

Reiki is only part of McDermot's talents, she is also a grief facilitator, labor coach and healing facilitator on all levels as well.

But family comes first in McDermot's life. A loving mother of three boys, she says that the most important job is being a mother.

For anyone interested in Reiki treatments or lessons, they can contact Catherine McDermot at 445-0722.

Tentative dates for Level 2 Reiki classes have been set for August 20-21 and September 17-18 for Level 1 classes.

A freewill offering will be taken. To help celebrate the International Year of the Family, this money will be passed on to the Winchester Food Bank, Lazarus House or Naomi House.

Many long years ago, when I was a teenager, we bought a record of Scottish Gaelic mouth music. Mouth music was used in the 16th century when bagpipes were forbidden in Scotland and someone would sing for the dances or reels. Anyway, back to the record.

Being young and foolish, I memorized the songs although not having the Gaelic (we were Lowland Scots), I never knew what I was singing.

Unfortunately, I have the sort of mind which retains trivia and I can think of nothing more trivial than knowing Scottish mouth music — it's very difficult to casually bring it into conversation. However, over the years I fascinated (?) my kids with this ability and about 10 years ago was coerced into singing it at church as part of a St. Andrew's Day service. I had to explain then that I had no idea what the words meant.

A few weeks back I went to the Maxville Highland Games Tattoo. And guess what? The Gaelic Choir sang my song. No, I still don't know what the words are, but I'm making progress. It's called "The Goatherder's Song". Maybe after all this time, since I'm prepared, I should get some goats.

RV caravan drops anchor in Metcalfe

METCALFE — Metcalfe's fairgrounds was a busier 'hive of activity' than usual this weekend as members of the local chapter of the Family Motor Coach Association hosted a caravan weekend.

Members of the association all own self-contained motor home units and those in attendance brought along units of virtually every size, model and description. One of the most unique was a 1969 model powered by Corvair, the famous or infamous, as the case may be, power plants which moved Chevrolet's Corvair car.

Attention grabber

Dean Hay of Ottawa is the proud owner of this 1969 Corvair-powered motor home. The unit was certainly an attention grabber at a motor-coach gathering in Metcalfe last weekend.

Osgoode Township Councillor Lloyd Cranston, himself an avid RVer, acted as wagonmaster for the event. "We have more than 50 units in here for the weekend." he said. "We hope to make this an annual thing and at this time everything is pointing in that direction."

There were units from all over the local scene as well as several Americans from northern New York State. Organizers made a real effort to entertain these folks and encourage them to come to the next gathering. There was a display of motorcycles and an antique car show on Saturday morning and the Metcalfe Farmers' Market enjoyed steady business, said Cranston.

Organizers made arrangements with market officials to ensure that there would be fair exchange offered on American money. Breakfast was taken care of by the Township of Osgoode Care Centre Auxiliary and Saturday lunch was handled by the Joe Rowan Park fundraising group.

"It would appear that we got almost everything right and we can only wait and hope for bigger and better things next year." added Cranston.

Sox grab three titles

Sports '94

WINCHESTER—It took six games but the Winchester Black Sox prevailed and are the 1994 South Dundas Major "B" Little League champions.

The Major "B" championship marked the beginning of a very impressive week for Winchester Sox teams because here Saturday both the Winchester Minor/Major "A" White Sox and Minor/Major "B" Black Sox captured their South Dundas Little League titles.

The Major "B" Sox began the quest for the silverware at the league play-off tournament and finished it up here at home last Thursday evening by beating the Brinston (Matilda) Reds 14-4.

Josh VanNoy got the start and the early lead and Shawn Smail, up from the Minor/Major Sox, finished the pitching chores in the final game of the season.

Williamsburg, Matilda, Winchester Black Sox and Winchester White Sox finished in a close race for the final top four spots in the regular season.

The Black Sox opened the play-off tournament by beating Morrisburg 12-5 and Williamsburg 19-4. Matilda beat them 7-5 but the Sox bounced right back and thumped another Sox squad 20-1 to set up another game against Brinston (Matilda). This time Winchester came out 12-5 winners.

That 12-5 decision forced last Thursday's game in the double-knockout series, a game they won 14-4.

TWO TITLES

Here on Saturday (Aug. 13) Winchester teams swept the South Dundas Minor/Major championships.

The Minor/Major "A" White Sox doubled Morrisburg 10-5 in their championship game. They defeated Matilda 7-5 and Williamsburg 12-6 in the first two rounds to qualify for the title match.

The same day the Bill Brannen guided the Black Sox to Minor/Major "B" championship.

Winchester dropped the Winchester White Sox 9-5, posted back-to-back wins over the Grey Sox (8-5 and 7-0) and went on to blank the Matilda Reds 9-0 in the championship game.

More details will appear in next week's issue of the Press.

Major "B" champs

Winchester Black Sox posted a 14-4 victory over Matilda here last week to win the 1994 South Dundas Major "B" Little League championship. I got it!

The Matilda Reds infield had a little bit of the old... "I got it, no you take it," routine going on this pop up, but the first baseman managed to squeeze the ball and make the out. The Winchester Black Sox won the Major "B" game 14-4 to become the 1994 champions.

Purple poised for trophy

CHESTERVILLE—They are perfect after two play off games and poised to take the C/WBHL's "A" Pool championship.

Deep Purple finished the regular season with a record of 12-1-1 and have defeated the Pink Ladies 2-1 and the Orange Crushers 4-1 in their first two post-season tests.

They have one more roadblock to overcome; the second-place Green Hornets. The Hornets were 9-3-2 over the regular season and have three points on a win and a 2-2 tie with the Pink Ladies. A victory in the third and final round robin match this week and the Hornets would take the "A" title.

That championship match will be played tomorrow night (Aug. 18) at

The "A" Pool scores were Deep Purple 4 - Orange Crushers 1 and Green Hornets 2 - Pink Ladies 2.

The "B" Pool picture isn't as well defined. This week Fraser's Flyers defeated the Grasshoppers 3-1 and the Aqua Sooners tied the Kookaberries 2-2 which left the standings tight with the Kookaberries and Sooners tied with three points and the Flyers right there with two which leaves only the Grasshoppers out of the race.

In this week's final games the Sooners meet the Flyers and the Berries tangle with the Grasshoppers.

"A" POOL

Three first-period goals by scoring champ Deanna Corbett-White staked Deep Purple to an early lead they would never relinquish.

Corbett-White scored her first goal on a feed from Kim Merkley at 14:11. Her next marker came on an unassisted breakaway at 5:26 and her third made it 3-0 at the 3:54 mark.

Debbie Shaver's unassisted marker at 13:42 ruined Jackie Boulanger's shutout and cut the Orange Crushers' deficit to 3-1. But Purple struck again in period three when Lefebvre scored from Kim Merkley with 8:42 left to make it a 4-1 final.

A pair of third-period goals gave the Pink Ladies a come-from-behind, last second tie with the Green Hornets.

Hornets took the lead at 5:06 of period one when captain Kathryn Houze scored from Catie Clapp. Clapp then made it a 2-0 contest scoring from Houze and Kim McDonald at 13:31 of period two.

The Pink Ladies cracked Diane Shane's goose egg at 5:42 of the final frame when Heather Graham got them on the boards with help from Kim Moran and Cathy Little.

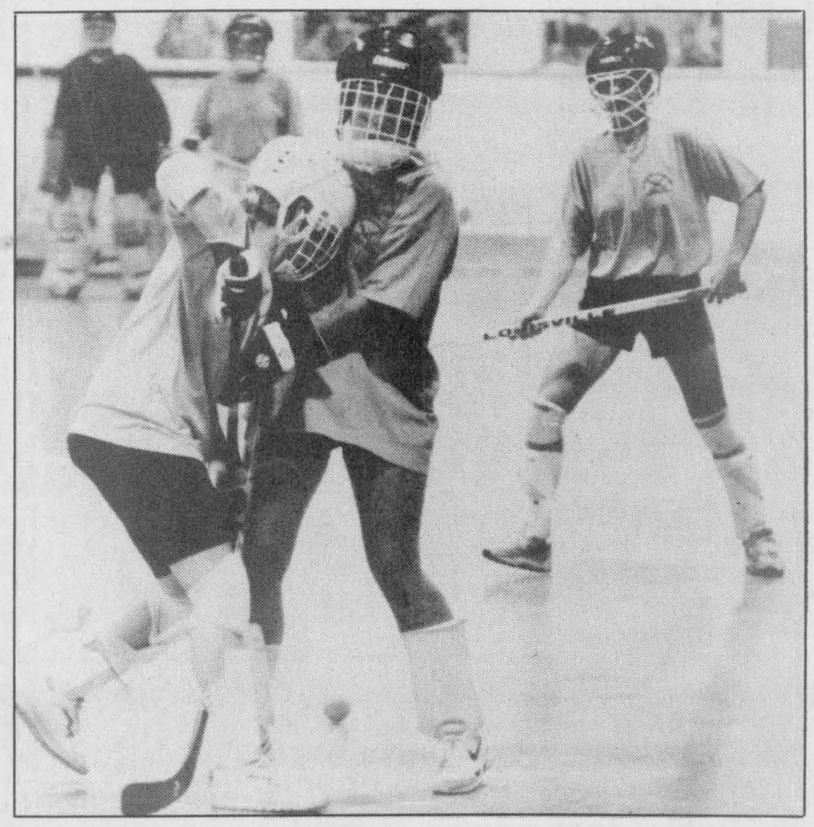
Ellen Thompson came through with the dramatic tying goal with just one second left to play finishing off a play started for her by Valerie Shaver and Lori Marriner.

"B" POOL

Roseanna Boersma was the hero as the Kookaberries battled the Aqua Sooners to a 2-2 draw.

Boersma scored the tying goal on a play started by Linda Klein-Sworminк and Martine Thurler with just 1:38 left on the clock.

Rebecca Kennedy had cut the Sooners' lead to 2-1 when she scored from Boersma and Monique Carr at 11:38 of period two.



A member of Deep Purple and an Orange Crusher met head on at centre floor in a C/WLBHL playoff contest last week. Deanna Corbett-White scored three times in Purple's 4-1 victory.

The Sooners grabbed the early lead on a pair of first-period goals by Sandra Beggs. Rhonda Winter and Carrie Barkley drew assists on both goals which came at 14:29 and 7:21.

Roxanne Backes (Sooners) and Connie Lannin were the opposing goalies.

Flyers' captain Amy Fraser snapped in a pair of goals leading her team to a 3-1 win over the Grasshoppers.

All three goals came in period one as Fraser scored at 12:20 from Charlene Johnston and Jill Lecuyer. Marie Shelp made it 2-0 connecting from Coreen Skuce and Joanne Fawcett at 8:30 and Fraser increased the lead to 3-0 with assistance provided by Vicki Cinnamon at the 1:24 mark.

Joanne Bourbonnais lost her shutout at 4:38 of the final frame when Marilyn Collins beat her on a shot engineered by Leslie McMillan.

Williamsburg wins semi-final series

WILLIAMSBURG—Undefeated Williamsburg extended their perfect record two games into the playoff season.

The South Dundas Major "A" Little League pennant- winners romped to a 14-0-0 regular season and have since bounced fourth ranked Morrisburg (4-10-0) out of the picture posting 17-6 and 14-6 victories.

Williamsburg is now waiting for the winner of the Osnabruck Center (10-6-0) and Winchester White Sox (5-7-1) series.

Winchester won the opener 3-2. The winner will meet Williamsburg in a best of five championship final.

The series opened last Tuesday with Williamsburg posting a 17-6 victory. Bobby Paradise, Matt Collins, James Morrell and Brad Casselman combined for the win allowing six runs on six hits and 10 walks. They fanned 10 Morrisburg batters.

John Moore, Bill Henderson, Shawn Hitsman, Brad Casselman, Trent Byvelds and Parker Locke each supplied a pair of runs for the winners. Scott Barkley, Bob Paradise, Nick Hall, Jason Denio and James Morrell accounted for the others.

Adam Bessell (2), Robert Annable, Mike McCann, Mike Kirkwood and Danny Postma scored Morrisburg's runs.

Williamsburg wrapped the series up with a 14-6 decision last Friday.

Brad Casselman, Jason Denio, James Morrell, Nick Hall, Matt Collins and Bobby Paradise combined for the win and allowed six runs on 14 hits and eight walks. The pitching staff also recorded seven strikeouts.

Bill Henderson paced the Williamsburg attack scoring three times. Nick Hall, Shawn Hitsman, Brad Casselman and Scott Barkley each touched home twice. John Moore, Trent Byvelds and Jason Denio also made the circuit.

Robert Annable, Adam Bessell and Adam Legue each had a pair of runs for Morrisburg.

United suffers 2-1 loss

CORNWALL—North Dundas United Old Timers suffered another costly 2-1 loss as they make a run for the Cornwall District Soccer League-Second Division play offs.

Eighth-place Cornwall City IV nipped North Dundas 2-1 here at Optimist Park last Thursday. It was their second win of the season. The loss dropped United's record to 6-7-1 and left them three points out of the fourth and final play-off berth with just two games left to play.

"It's frustrating to lose this late in the season. We needed that game and the one we lost 2- 1 (to Rudi's Sports) last week to get into the play-offs. It doesn't look good now. We would have to win our last two and hope Corwnall (City III) lose all of theirs," explained Earl McBean.

McBean, who potted United's lone goal late in the game, said what is particulary tough to accept is the fact the Old Timers have defeated the first, second and third place teams before losing 2-1 to two teams below them in the standings.

"But when you put it all into prespective, our ages in relation to the young teams we are playing it is just great to be in contention for the play offs."

Gary Streng, coach of the Winchester Sonics and a late season addition to the United, noted that North Dundas played well defensively but offensively one goal isn't going to win many soccer games.

This week completes the regular season for the United. They play two games at home hosting Char- Lan U2 and the Seaway Spartans.

Prior to those matches North Dundas (6-7-1) with 13 points trailed Osnabruck Cosmos (18 pts.), Char-Lan U2 (17), Vankleek Hill Fury (17) and Cornwall City III (16).

Three teams; Rudi's Sports, Seaway Spartans and City IV were four points back of United.

Avonmore Pacers snap Sonics' win string

MAPLE RIDGE—A tie against one of the Cornwall Soccer Division's top teams, Cornwall City I here last Tuesday preceeded the first loss in six games for the Winchester Sonics.

It was a frustrating match according to coach Gary Streng and keeper Dave VanBruinessen.

"We had a goal disallowed on a bad call. We would have been up 3-1 on City I had it counted. Instead they get the call and come back and tie us 2-2 on a very late goal," explained Streng.

Last Thursday night Winchester took on the Avonmore Pacers in Cornwall and suffered a 4-1 defeat, their first loss in six games.

Streng gave Avonmore full marks for the win saying, "They (Pacers) had all of their players, some play in the Ottawa First Division for the Cornwall Blazers. They were all there and they deserved to win. They had a good team out and played very well."

The Sonics had previously defeated the Pacers by 8-nil and 3-1 counts.

Following last week's action Winchester was sporting a third-place record of 5-4-2. They stood five points back of Char-Lan I and City I and tied with Avonmore for the fourth and final play-off berth.

This week Winchester wraps up their regular season hosting City I at NDDHS and playing La Maison in Cornwall.

Fabian Adams and Brendan Shane kicked in the Sonics goals in their 2-2 tie with City I, a game Dave VanBruiessen felt his team should have won.

"Boy, we didn't get one call our way. The ref missed so much it was frustrating, we should have won it 3-1 but he disallowed a goal," VanBruinessen commented.

Coach Gary Streng backed up his keeper's comments.

"Trent Antille scored on a long shot that dropped in behind their goalie. We would have had a 3-1 lead and it was disallowed. We had a man offside on the play but the ball wasn't intended for him. He wasn't involved in the play. Antille's shot was right to the center of the net, not to the offside man. So, if the ball isn't intented to that player it (goal) should stand. But the ref and linesman thought the other one made the call and waved the goal off."

Streng says he knows it sounds like sour grapes but added that was just one of several bounces that went the other way.

"I know what it sounds like but it is so frustrating. It's hard to beat the other team and the officials."

Cochrane girls excel

RUSSELL—Twelve-year-old Jennifer Cochrane was one of a select few to have participated in the recently completed Eastern Ontario Skaters' Training Seminar.

The Russell resident was chosen for this provincially funded and administrated program through an evaluation process that started last November. Hundreds of skaters were evaluated but Eastern Ontario chose only 20 to participate in their week-long seminar.

Paul Martini was the master coach at this seminar whose focus was to provide an introduction to competitive training to identified skaters.

This seminar completes a strong skating season for Jennifer who was awarded the Juvenile Ladies Trophy from the Minto Skating Club in recognition of her performance at Sectionals.

Jennifer's sister, Sarah Cochrane competed at the "Summerskate "94 Figure Skating Competition", held at the Minto Skating Centre recently and earned the gold medal in the Pre-Novice "B" category.

Sarah also competed at the inter-club level and won the gold medal at the Interclub Sectionals as well as the Interclub Divisionals. She also had a sixth-place finish at the All-Ontario Interclub championships.

Osgoode semis set

OSGOODE—Round one is over and the 1994 best of three semi-final round is about to begin.

Once again the Osgoode Deuces have claimed the Osgoode Fastball League's regular season championship finishing with 30 points.

The Kars Aces were 10 back at 20. Third place went to the Augermen with 17 points. The Rockets came in fourth with 15 and the young McVey Insurance squad finished fifth with 12 points.

Round one of the play offs pitted the Rockets and McVey against each other while the Deuces, Aces and Augermen all drew byes.

The Rockets earned the right to move on to semi- final action by beating McVey in two games 11-4 and 7-3.

In spite of Pete Johnston's two-run homer, which gave McVey a 3-2 lead, the Rockets prevailed in a 7-3 win as they broke open a 3-3 sixth-inning tie to win.

Winchester's Mike Moran tossed the victory while Kyle Jamieson took the loss.

SEMI-FINALS

The pennant-winning and defending champion Deuces will go against the Rockets in the "A" series while Kars Aces and Augermen will meet in the "B" semi-final.

Both best of threes opened on Aug. 16. Game two is set for tomorrow, Aug. 18.

Classic washed out

CORNWALL—Sunday showers left the Cornwall Motor Speedway track unraceable and forced the postponement of the "Coca-Cola Classic" program.

The show, including a 75-lap modified feature and the "Canadian Tire 5-Star Shootout", has been rescheduled for Sun., Aug. 28 at 7:00pm.

The "5-Star Shootout" is a five-lap bonus race, offering $1,000 to the winner, among the feature winners of the five previous events during Cornwall Speedway's 25th Anniversary season.

The seventh and final event is the "Canadian Tire 200" set for Sun., Sept. 4. This lucrative Labour Day weekend blockbuster is the opening race of the 358 modified division championship trial. Winners will receive nearly $14,000 in cash and contingency awards from the $40,000 purse.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

STUART McLEAN EULOGIZES MAYNARD AND WINCHESTER

We are well aware of the fact that the mix-up caused by the rescheduling of CBC's Morningside program meant that many people who tuned to the station missed Stuart McLean's touching story of Maynard Helmer and the love of the people of Winchester, who took him into their hearts and remembered him by constructing a bandstand in the main corner park in his memory. McLean is not just an extraordinary gifted storyteller but he has the knack of empathy as his tale of the love of a small town for a special person weaves a story that captures even the smallest detail that so vividly describes Maynard's life. It is difficult to believe that McLean had never met Maynard but has painted a picture that rekindles many memories for those of us who were his friends and hold his memory forever in our hearts.

Unfortunately McLean is in Australia and will not return till early September so it may be illegal to provide a tape of the broadcast because of copyright laws without his permission. However, may we suggest that until we can get the details straightened out that will allow us to let you hear this touching story, you might wish to read Stuart McLean's best selling book Welcome Home available at the Corner Book Store, in which he describes his visits to seven small towns situated across Canada. He goes right to the heart of the community through interviews with the people who live there. Having read the book once I am now re-reading it as there are so many incidents that must be re-read in order to digest and enjoy his every word and the memories rekindled.

LET'S FIX UP THE BANDSTAND

Citizens of Winchester were hurt and disgusted at the vandalism that has destroyed the bandstand situated on the main corner park and dedicated to the memory of Maynard Helmer and now Paul Reinhart, thanks to two beautiful brass plaques donated by Audry Robertson. The bandstand was a beautiful, much used addition to the main corner of our town. The focal point of many of our special events now lacks the appearance once pointed to with pride. The BIA, through the cooperation of the town, have installed a high- powered light which illuminates the once dark park but only emphasizes the bleak appearance of the bandstand as it now appears. We are sure that friends of Maynard and Paul would wish to see the stand restored but it would be a wasted effort to replace the railings with wooden spokes that could be kicked out. We are proposing replacement with metal railings. As you might realize this is costly so we are asking for help in raising the $2,000 needed to do the job. Cheques payable to "Friends of Maynard and Paul Fund" can be left at Fawcett's Jewellry, Stedmans or the CountryBoy, or mailed to Frank Morgan, Box 475, Winchester, Ont. Should you wish a copy of the tape of Stuart McLean's broadcast, leave your name when making your contribution and we will assure you a copy as soon as they become available. Thanks for your help, we do appreciate it.

Lasers rally

Down 2-1 to Osgoode at the half the Winchester Lasers rallied and pulled off an exciting 3-2 Pee Wee Soccer League victory at Maple Ridge last Thursday. Adam Carr netted Winchester's first goal while Ben MacPherson, moved up to the forward line late in the game, scored twice in the final 10 minutes to give the Lasers (4-3-1) the win.

Link claims silver, bronze

KINGSTON—Winchester's Murray Link put the wraps on a hectic track season here over the weekend earning silver and bronze medals at the 1994 Ontario Summer Games.

Running his first ever 5000m Link, 17, finished second in 15:51. Against stiff competition, aged 22 and under he clocked a 4:01 in the 1500m.

"I didn't like the 5000m. It was my first and it was too long. I just didn't like it," he explained.

"The 1500m wasn't fast. The first lap was incredibly slow. But I'm satisfied, I'm running about where I should be."

The NDDHS student and member of the Ottawa Lions track team has been on the circuit all summer competing in regional, provincial and national competitions.

"It's been busy. I'm going to take a couple of weeks off. Work on my flexiblity before building up some distance for cross-country."

Link says the highlight of his summer had to be his bronze at the Junior Nationals, "third at the Nationals, that was definitely the highlight."

Women's hockey registration

WINCHESTER—Year one was such a success the Winchester and District Women's Hockey League is growing.

Founding president Marty Little reports that the circuit's first season was so well received it looks as if two teams will be added for the 1994- 95 season, which will get underway near the end of September.

Registration is slated for the Winchester and District Community Center on Mon., Aug. 22 at 7:00pm and again on Mon., Aug. 29 at 7:00pm.

Anyone unable to make these two sessions is urged to call Marty Little at 774-2131 and leave a message.

The president also asks anyone who still has their team sweater from last year to return it at registration or an addition $20 will be charged.

"With expansion to six teams we are probably looking at two hours on Sunday mornings (9- 11:00am) and one hour on Monday nights (8-9:00pm)."

Little says that with two more teams comes the need for more coaches and two more goalies.

"We need coaches, referees and goalies. Anyone interested in playing nets should tell us at registration. Goalies might be able to play for free," he explained.

This year a player's draft will take place with the returning players being selected first and the new players second.

Little says the first two or three ice times will be practices so the new players can get used to their skates and learn some of the rules and regulations.

"It's going to be another good year so get out and register."

Selects score 64, win two

WINCHESTER—The defending Winchester Lob Ball League champion Chesterville Selects are on a roll. They have scored 64 runs in their last two outings and improved to 7-4-0, good enough for a first-place tie with the Hallville Trojans.

Last Wednesday the Selects pounded the Morewood Vikings 44-9 and Monday night tripped up the Hansma Old Boys 20-1.

In the other games played those evenings the Shoneroy Splinters nipped the Mountain Bootleggers 21-18 and Taplen 23-19 and moved into fourth place at 5-2-0.

Chesterville lead-off man Neil "Smiley" Beckstead paced his team to their 44-9 win over Morewood scoring six runs. His attack included a grand slam homer in a 19-run fifth inning.

Mark Shay and Garry Beckstead also homered for the winners. Donnie Imrie, Greg Beckstead and Mark Shay supplied five runs while Garry Beckstead and Brent Vandenbosch crossed the plate four times. Five batters scored three runs each.

Gerald Eby, Chris McKibbon, John Stewart and Brian Como accounted for seven of the Vikings nine runs.

Monday night Garth Hansma's first-inning run was all of the offence the Old Boys could manage in a 20-1 loss to Chesterville.

Garry Beckstead pounded out a pair of "dingers" while Bob Broderick cracked a two-run shot. Sean Boulerice was top run producer with five. "Smiley" Beckstead and Mike Hoogeveen each scored three times.

TWO FOR SPLINTERS

Shoneroy put some pop back in their attack posting 21-18 (Bootleggers) and 23-19 (Taplen Construction) wins in their last two outings.

Neil Bartholomew led the winners against Taplen in Monday's contest scoring five runs. "Spark" also hit a solo homer. Mark Levere, Darrell Shelp and Leo Vanderlaan supplied three runs each.

Mike Casselman enjoyed a big night at the plate for Taplen cranking out a "Grand Salami" in the sixth inning and a two-run shot in the seventh. He also scored five times.

Taplen sent eight men to the plate in the seventh, scored four times but came up four runs short.

Last Wednesday Sam Gibson drilled a first-inning "Grand Salami" and Mountain Bootleggers led the Splinters 10-2 after two innings but came up short losing 21-18.

Chuck Verhoeven, Wally Vandekemp, Pete Schoones and "Spark" Bartholomew snapped the ball out of the park for the winners. Verhoeven touched home five times as Shoneroy scored 10 times in the seventh to put out the victory.

Marcellus leads Flyers to finals

CHESTERVILLE—Scoring ace Todd Marcellus figured in on four goals leading the upstart Flyers to a 7-3 C/WMBHL semi-final victory over Jug's Jokers here last Wednesday.

Fifth-place Frog's Flyers eliminated the first- place Jokers with the win sweeping into the finals on the strength of 6-4 and 7-3 victories. In the sudden death round they ousted Jumpin' Jacks Flashes 4-3 and are undefeated in post-season play, not bad for a team that got off to a 0-5-0 start and finished up at 5-7-1.

The Flyers now await the winner of the "B" semi- final between the Legion 108 Blues and DPT Red Wings. The Blues knotted that series winning game two 2-1.

The finalist will meet in a best of three to decide the 1994 champion.

In spite of the fact Todd Marcellus contributed two goals and two assists to the 7-3 win in game two, the Flyers got goals from four other shooters. It was also their suffocating checking style that supported the victory.

Goalie Pat Brugmans, subbing for regular Dennis Desormeaux who is out of action due to illness, didn't have to handle more than a half dozen chances in the first two periods and wasn't beaten until the final 16:23 of the game when the Jokers scored all three goals.

Willy O'Connor banged in short shots at 16:23 and 6:24 while Tony Holmes connected at 15:33 of period three but 5-2 was as close as the Jokers ever got.

Jeff Holmes at 11:38, Todd Marcellus at 5:27 and Clint Holmes, on a beautiful bit of stick handling 0:41 before the buzzer scored to give the Flyers a 3-0 lead after a period.

Jason Kennedy snuck a five-foot riser in under Don Marcellus' arm at 8:34 of period two and opened up a 4-0 lead. His unassisted marker would prove to be the winner. Jeff Holmes hit from Marcellus and Jason Kennedy at 2:06 and it was 5-0 after two periods.

O'Connor and Holmes clicked at 16:23 and 15:33 to make a 5-2 game of it but Jeff Hyndman blew a long slap shot in over Marcellus' shoulder at the 10:41 mark and gave the Flyers a 6-2 cushion.

O'Connor closed the gap to 6-3 lifting a little backhander into the twine at 6:24 but once again the Flyers responded as Marcellus connected for a 7-3 lead 4:08 before the end of the match.

Mike "Frog" Desormeaux (3), Marcellus (2), Jason Kennedy (2), Jamie Kennedy and Jeff Hyndman all drew assists for the winners.

Jerrold Boulanger (2), Clayton Bowman, Dereck Holmes, Chris Holmes and Pete VanKessel set up the Joker goals.

BLUES 2 - WINGS 1

Jamie Whitteker's unassisted long-range slap shot at 12:41 of the third period snapped a 1-1 tie and gave the Legion 108 Blues a 2-1 victory and a new life in the "B" semi-final's second match.

The Red Wings opened with a 6-5 win in OT but couldn't solve Blues' goalie Carl Andre any more than once in game two losing 2-1.

Period one was scoreless and the Blues were first to score with 2:00 left in the second when Robbie Raistrick cracked the ice by finishing off a play started by Gene McInnis and Ray Sherrer.

Ken "Hound" Byers finished off a two-on-one with Dave Harper and tied the count at 1-1 at 18:06 of period three but the Wings gave up the tying goal at 12:41.

During the final 1:34 of play the Wings pulled goalie Brad Pringle and pressed for the tying goal. In spite of several close calls they couldn't punch the ball over the goal line.

Reaney shoots 46, leads ladies' field

WILLIAMSBURG—Pat Reaney fired a 46 and led the Cedar Glen Ladies' Night "A" class field here last week.

Debbie Blaine rounded out the winners list with a low net 38.5.

In "B" class, Elaine McIntosh beat out the rest of the field with a 48. Diane Lapier won low net prize with a 32.

Shirley Munro's 50 gave her low gross in "C" class with Carolyn Clement's 31.5 giving her low net.

Cindy Hill topped "D" class with a 60, while Corienne Wilson's 38 was good enough for low net.

Last Thursday Kirk Barkley found himself at the top of the Men's Night "A" class leader board with a 36. Rick Barkley was one shot back at 37. Low net went to Bill Mullin for his 32.5. Don McMillan's 33.5 earned him second low net honors.

Wayde Roles finished well ahead of the rest of the "B" class field with a low gross score of 34. Todd Findlay was next best with a 40 on back holes. First low net went to Shaler Hill (30.5) while Merle Reaney was next at 33.

There was a battle for top spot in "C" class with Ernie Fawcett and Glen Vasey carding 44s. Fawcett eventually won on back holes. Paul Lacombe won first low net for his 30.5, with Maurice Villeneuve's 31 giving him second low net.

In "D" class, Mike Erickson claimed low gross with a 48. Second low gross went to Ron Gibson for his 49. Andy Hamel won first low net with a 31.5, while George Michels' 33 gave him second low net prize.

Closest to the pin prizes went to Curtis McMillan and Gary Burns, while Mike Casselman had the longest drive of the night.

Boivin, Hull like pension decision

PRESCOTT — "Everything worked out good."

That's how Prescott's hockey hall of famer Leo Boivin views the recent ruling by the Supreme Court of Canada ordering the National Hockey League to return an estimated $40-50 million in surplus pension funds to more than 800 former players who played in the league from 1957-1982.

Boivin, a former member of the Inkerman Rockets, played for close to 20 years in the National Hockey League with Toronto, Boston, Detroit, Pittsburgh and Minnesota. He also coached the St. Louis Blues and was a scout for St. Louis and Hartford.

The Supreme Court of Canada upheld the rulings of two lower courts that had earlier sided in favor of the players.

The case stemmed from the fact that in 1982 and 1985 the National Hockey League used most of a $26.6 million surplus from the pension fund to top up the benefits for newer players.

"It's nice to see that (the case) is over," Boivin says. "For the older fellows every little bit counts."

When he first broke into the National Hockey League in 1951 with the Toronto Maple Leafs, Boivin says his pension contributions were $900 a year. The team provided no contributions.

"(That pension) would have been worth about $90 a month today and you can't buy too much with that," he says.

Although uncertain about the amount of the increase of his pension, Boivin says he is glad that the former players are now getting their just rewards.

Bobby Hull, spokesman for North Channel Nautical Village in Johnstown, was one of a group of former players including Gordie Howe, Andy Bathgate, Eddie Shack, Allan Stanley and Leo Reise that initiated the law suit against the NHL in 1990.

Hull said in the past a couple of attempts were made by groups of NHL alumni to seek answers from the league about the pension. However, the players were in Hull's view, a little too sympathetic to the plight of the owners and too diplomatic.

"They weren't taking any steps to step on anyone's toes," he says.

In 1990, the current group met in a hotel in Toronto and formulated a direct plan of action. Many of hockey's legends were in attendance and afterwards "things really started to forge ahead," Hull recalls.

The fact that the current group was united in its position and determined to battle it out in court against the National Hockey League, helped attract many reluctant former players to the cause.

"We had a real solid group," he recounts.

The case generated a lot of interest and support throughout Canada and United States and donations from NHL alumni and corporations flooded in for the players legal fees.

Now that the National Hockey League has lost the case it will have to pick up the legal costs for the former players estimated by Hull to be in the neighborhood of close to $1 million.

"That money is going to go back in full to those who want it," he says.

Now that the case is all but settled, the alumni are going to turn their attention to many of their colleagues who have fallen upon hard times but are too proud to ask for help.

"There are a lot of guys who are having a tough time but pride won't let them come forward," he says. "We're going to help them out in every possible way we can."

Hull says the group will be holding benefit fundraisers for that cause.

Russell Junior C Lions names Johnston coach

RUSSELL—"We will not be blown-out of the rink this year."

This confident statement comes from Jerry Johnston, the new head coach of the Russell Junior "C" Lions. And if his team plays the way he expects them to, the statement could come true.

But Johnston, who has been involved in hockey for the past 20 years, has a big job ahead of him following last year's disastrous last-place EOJCHL season.

Last winter Johnston scouted for the Vanier Junior "B" Voyageurs and has worked as marketing manager for the Gloucester Rangers.

Johnston brings extensive hockey knowledge and a love of the game to Russell and through his own marketing company knows the importance of promoting the Lions Hockey Club and, "putting the fun back in the rink."

The new coach also knows he must prove to Russell that the team is worth the support of the business community and to that end must make the team respectable. He adds that the Lions must have the support of the village or it won't last.

As far as coaching style Johnston admits he is a big Don Cherry fan, "I love old-fashioned hockey. I want a big, rugged team who aren't afraid to go into the corners. I don't want to play with a bunch of clowns."

Johnston also describes himself as flamboyant, outspoken and someone who loves to yell. "I want excitement on the bench. I am going to take this team and make it a winner."

In regard to a coaching philosophy he says you should play the game because you love it.

Russell kids are also important to Johnston and he stresses that local kids will make the team before city kids, if they prove they can play the game.

"You have to give me 100 per cent all of the time or you won't play. It's that simple."

Club sets tee-off time for charity tournament

GREELY — Don't put the golf clubs away just yet. The Greely Lions Club would like to invite you to take part in its 6th annual charity tournament.

The fun get-together is set for Thurs., Sept. 1 at Manderley Golf Course. The golf portion of the day will begin with a 'shotgun' start at 9am. Registration fee is $75 per entrant and earlybirds, those registering before Aug. 20, will have their names placed in a draw for a set of three metal woods from Swing-Sync. This prize is a donation from Iso Vibe Inc.

Lion Al Bezanson told the Press, "We have become renowned for our golf tournaments. People look forward to a great day on the course followed by a great steak dinner."

He added, "After dinner virtually everyone has a chance to go to our now famous gift table where every gift is a significant one. I would also like to point out that we are always on the lookout for more corporate sponsorship. Our corporate sponsors come on board for a fee of $350. They are recognized with a fine plaque at the dinner and their involvement is, of course, invaluable."

Bezanson said the real big winners as a result of the tournament, are the Juvenile Diabetes Association and several other Lions charities. On average, the tourney turns over between $8,000 and $9,000 to the charitable organizations.

"Ideally," he explained, "we would like to see 144 golfers for the event. With the shotgun start that would put two foursomes at each tee. We have started with as many as 160 and that worked well because we could put extra foursomes at some par 5 holes.

He concluded, "By saying that the ideal number is 144 I am not saying we can't have more. We'll take all of the golfers we can get and they can all be sure they will have a great time."

Summerfest

KENMORE — Although it was a little cooler than it had been for the past few weeks, the community turned out in sizable numbers to make Kenmore's Summerfest a success.

Games were arranged to entertain the young folk and, throughout the early part of the afternoon, it was difficult to ignore the delicious aromas emanating from a large drum-type barbecue where pork was being prepared for a 3pm meal.

Games of chance, a street dance and, for the card players, an evening euchre party, all combined to make the day a memorable one.

Farm update

International delegation tours area farms

Dianne Fetterly
Agricultural editor

CHESTERVILLE — An international delegation toured area farms recently as part of the Biennial Session of the International Committee for Animal Recording (ICAR) conference held in Ottawa July 31 - Aug. 6.

Approximately 95 people from 37 countries around the world visited six area farms as well as Eastern Breeders Inc. in Kemptville for a close-up look at Canada's dairy industry.

According to trip organizer Doug MacKechnie, a dairy cattle improvement specialist with the International Livestock Management School, most of the participants are extension workers in their native countries,while about 15 are farmers.

The first leg of the trip took the group from the Radisson Hotel in Ottawa where they are attending the conference, to the Ayrshire farm of Roy and Don Simmons near Finch.

Simmons' Memory Lane Farm is about 300 acres (250 tillable) with 55-65 milking Ayrshire cows. Current 305-day production is 7632 kg milk, 305 kg fat, 262 kg protein. BCA is 218-211-227.

The herd is fed dry hay, large bale haylage, and corn silage. The grain mix is prepared on the farm and only the mineral and protein supplement are purchased.

Roy Simmons suggests that the family farm which has been able to survive through many past crises will remain solid for the future. He says he feels the environmentally friendly, sustainable dairy farm has a good future.

The tour moved on to Sunnylodge Farms Inc. just west of Chesterville village. Carl and Muriel Smith, along with their son Mark operate the 400-acre farm with the help of a cropsman and the part-time help of other son Craig, attending college.

The Smiths have 160 head of Holsteins with 75 milking. The current 305-day production is 9550 kg milk, 381 kg fat and 322 kg protein. The BCA is 202-218-215. The herd classification includes: six excellent, 28 very good, 28 good plus and two good.

Muriel and Carl Smith chat with a visitor from Ireland during a recent tour of their farm. The tour was part of an ICAR conference held in Ottawa. Press Photo — Fetterly

The herd is pastured during the summer, and the other seven months it is fed corn silage, high moisture corn, soybean meal and hay.

Sunnylodge has received two Master Breeder Shields and the Smiths say they would like to breed an All-Canadian animal.

Henry Zwarts and Sons' Jersey operation near Mountain was the next stop on the tour. The 635-acre farm is operated by Henry, his two sons Marienes and Bob and two additional hired employees.

The Zwarts have about 400 Jerseys and milk about 200. Current 305-day production is 4818 kg milk, 240 kg fat, 191 kg protein. BCA is 162-148-169.

Milking cows are fed free choice haylage-corn silage. An 18 per cent dairy ration is fed in the milking parlor.

The Zwarts goal is to improve production and to maintain or improve type.

AFTERNOON SESSION

A tour of Riverdown Holsteins operated by the Eastman family and John and Karen Velthuis was also on the day's agenda.

The 325-acre Metcalfe-area farm has about 65 cows and 75 heifers and calves. Production is 10,500 kg milk, 400 kg fat, 350 kg protein. BCA is 225-231-236. The herd classification includes: 20 VG, 38 GP, 3 G and 9 N/C.

The animals are fed a TMR including, haylage, high moisture corn, roasted soybeans, meat and bone meal, minerals and vitamins.

The family says it hopes to remain viable and profitable in the dairy industry; remain in the top few per cent of the breed for production; improve type and market more embryos.

The group also made a stop at Mitchell's Donevelyn Farms Ltd., also in the Metcalfe area. The farm features 1050 acres and 120 Holstein cows. Production is 8,500 kg milk.

The cattle are fed haylage, high moisture corn and heat processed soybeans — one group TMR.

The Mitchells say their goal is to expand to over 200 cows and 1,500 acres in the future. They also hope to increase volume of grains handled at their elevator.

The Versteeg's Rusland Farms Inc. near Russell was the last farm stop on the tour. John and Bea Versteeg operate their 450-acre farm with 65-70 milking Holstein cows. The herd BCA is 192-207-193 and herd classification includes: 12 VG, 42 GP, 15 G, 11 N/C.

The herd is fed haylage, corn silage, dry hay, high moisture corn and a grain mix including roasted soybeans and barley.

The Versteeg's goals include increasing capital and labor efficiency, and increasing milk shipped.

EBI VISITED

The group also toured Eastern Breeders Inc., whose objective is to provide its clients with semen from genetically superior dairy and beef sires; to offer insemination service; and to make available other livestock improvement services such as embryo transfer and corrective animal mating.

Agri notes

New exhibit

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Visitors to the 102nd annual Mountain Township Agricultural Society Fair are invited to take in a new and improved agricultural exhibit.

A number of Dundas County commodity groups from dairy to rabbits have joined forces to present their exhibits under one tent during the three-day fair.

Spearheaded by the Dundas Federation of Agriculture, the exhibits' aim is to reach more consumers.

Plot tour planned

WINCHESTER — Once again, Eastern Crop Doctor is hosting Demo Days at their test plot on Hwy. 43 four miles west of Winchester.

Today, Wed., Aug. 17, the public is invited to tour the site from 10am-12noon, 1-3pm and again from 7-9pm.

Thursday (Aug. 18) agri-business dealers are invited for a plot tour from 1-3pm.

Visitors will get a look at Crop Doctors fertilizer, corn variety, soybean variety, herbicide and waste utilization trials as well as alternate crops.

Spectators invited to Cutting Classic

IROQUOIS — The Eastern Canada Cutting Classic will be held on Aug. 20-21 at Siebenfeld Equestrian Centre, Iroquois.

This Cutting Horse Show is an inter-provincial tournament between the Ontario and Quebec Cutting Horse Associations, and is the 11th year that Siebenfeld Q.H. Farm has hosted the event.

The show commences at 10am (rain or shine) each day; spectators are welcome (there is no admission). Those wishing to attend are advised to bring lawn chairs. Refreshments will be available on the grounds.

Cutting pits a horse against a cow in a battle of wills. Cutting horses must possess cow sense — the ability to out think and out manoeuver a cow. Horse and rider must move quietly into a herd of cattle, cut one animal from the herd, drive it to the centre of the arena and hold it away from the herd. The rider must keep that one cow from returning to the rest of the herd. The cutting horse must match moves with the cow, anticipating every manoeuver. Judges score the horse on its ability to keep the cow from returning to the herd, cow sense, attentiveness and courage. The sport derives from the need of ranchers to separate cattle in a working situation to brand them, doctor them or ship them.

Bursting with sunshine

Irwin Prunner of RR2, Mountain found some unusual sunflowers in his garden this year. Prunner, who lives with his wife Orma on Hwy. 43 four miles west of Winchester, says two of his sunflowers branched out like trees. One of the sunflowers had 28 blooms while the other had 27.

4-Hers practice judging

by Cindy Cheslock

METCALFE — The Metcalfe 4-H Beef Club held a meeting on Aug. 2, at the home of Erin James.

The club learned how to judge horses, thanks to the Adams family who brought their two quarter horses to the James' farm. Members also judged a class of market steers and identified some weeds and seeds in preparation of Judging Night which was well attended on Aug. 10 at Richmond.

A skit titled "Health Breeding" was presented by the following 4-H members: Cindy Cheslock, Heather Cheslock, Erin James, Ashley James, Kelly Lewis, Jeff Lewis and Carrie Moffatt, at the Kars Recreations Centre on Aug. 4. They placed second. Congratulations!

A car wash and bake sale was held at the firehall in Metcalfe on Sun., Aug. 7. Over $120 was raised and the 4-H members would like to thank all the people who stopped to get their cars washed

The next 4-H Metcalfe Crop Club meeting will be held at Krista Patterson's on Aug. 16 at 7pm.

Judging Club looks at rabbits

by Korrine Hutt

WINCHESTER — The fifth meeting of the Dundas Judging Club was held Mon., Aug. 8 at Moir's Rabbitry.

Owner/Operator Mickie Moir reviewed with the club what to look for when judging meat rabbits such as: width of loin, well- covered hipbone, good flyback, and thickness in the hind quarters. As well, she discussed some diseases in rabbits which would disqualify them from competition.

The club was then split in half. One group judged a class of California meat rabbits, while Mrs. Moir gave the others a tour of her operation. After both groups had a chance to judge the class, Mrs. Moir gave the official placings and reasons and answered any questions the club had.

On behalf of the judging club, secretary Donald Fisher thanked Mrs. Moir for having us and presented her with a small gift.

The club then finished off with the business part of the meeting. Phyllis and Mary reminded us of our individual projects and asked any members who had not already let them know what they would be doing, to do so. Curt Porteous and Donald Fisher were chosen to represent the judging club at the awards night which will be held Nov. 25. The two will give a short speech, song or skit on what the club is about.

The next and final meeting will be held Mon., Aug. 22 at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs Boardroom at 7:30pm. Parents and friends are invited to attend. Hope to see you there.

Mouthy Mustangs finish up

by Leslie Weagant

IROQUOIS — On Aug. 8 at 7:30pm, the Mouthy Mustangs horse 4-H club had their last meeting at Seibenfeld Equestrian Centre.

The club talked about what they should put in a first-aid kit and how to tell if a horse is lame by trotting it to see if it limps.

They also discussed diseases in a horse.

Achievement Day is Fri., Aug. 19 at 9pm at the South Mountain Fair.

DFA submits paper on OFA restructuring

WINCHESTER — The Ontario Federation of Agriculture bylaw review committee, looking into the restructuring of Ontario Federation of Agriculture as a result of stable funding, was in Kemptville Thurs., Aug. 4. A brief was presented to chairman Alvin Runnalls and his committee by the Dundas Federation of Agriculture.

Some of the points raised included: reduced board size; limits to the number of terms executive members may serve; limit the size of the executive; improvement of movement of resources between OFA and counties; availability of specialized staff to counties; and clearer roles for executive, board and staff.

Bill Weaver, first vice-president of the OFA will be speaking about environmental issues at the DFA regional meeting Wed., Sept. 7. Elections will be held that evening for two directors as well as delegates for the OFA convention in November.

A fair shake

Chesterville Fair Board President Tony Wouters, left, accepts a $600 cheque from Graham Duke of the Dundas Junior Farmers recently. The money was raised through a dance at Winchester's Dairyfest celebrations, and will go toward general fair expenses.

In Memoriam

WHITTEKER — In loving memory of a wonderful son, James Paul, who entered eternal rest on Aug. 19, 1974.
There is a bridge of memories
From here to Heaven above,
That keeps him very close to us
It's called the bridge of love.
As time goes on without him
And days turn into years
They hold a million memories
And a thousand silent tears.
To us he was very special
What more is there to say,
Except to wish with all our hearts
That Jim was here today.
— In deepest remembrance, Dad, Mom, Isla, Garry, Mary and families 20

VAN ALLEN — In loving memory of a dear mother, mother-in-law, grandmother, and great grandmother who passed away Aug. 23, 1993.
Oh what we would give to see you again.
— Love Lyle, Eleanor and family
20

In Memoriam

VAN ALLEN — Goldie, in loving memory of a dear wife who passed away Aug. 23, 1993.
I miss you so much Goldie.
— Love Arnold
20

LAFLAMME — In memory of my dear and loving brother, Adrien, who left us on Aug. 18, 1993.
One year ago today,
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands at rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
His smiling face and loving ways,
A pleasure to recall.
He had a kind word for each
and died beloved by all.
— Love, Sylvia and family

The Corporation of the Township of Osgoode

LARGE APPLIANCES WILL NO LONGER BE COLLECTED AFTER SEPTEMBER 2, 1994
After September 2, 1994, large appliances such as stoves, refrigerators, freezers, washers, dryers, dishwashers, hot water tanks, air conditioning units and dehumidifiers will no longer be collected with the regular waste pickup.

WHY?
1) The Ontario Ministry of the Environment and Energy prohibits the releasing of ozone-depleting chemicals (CFCs) into the environment and prohibits the disposal of appliances containing CFCs in landfills. The Ministry regulation prevents the Township of Osgoode from collecting fridges, freezers, air conditioning units and dehumidifiers.
2) Large appliances take up a lot of space in the landfill site and in many cases are thrown out while they are still of some use. By holding residents accountable for these large appliances we hope that more of these appliances will be reused or recycled.

This is a chance for you to help Ontario achieve the set waste reduction goals as set out by the 3R's Regulations.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF AN OLD APPLIANCE AFTER SEPTEMBER 2, 1994
Offer the appliance to a friend or neighbor or use the appliance in a cottage.
When buying a new appliance, ask the company to take the old appliance away or offer it to a used appliance store.
Offer the appliance to a charitable or non-profit organization:
Salvation Army 241-1538
Ottawa Neighborhood Services 728-3737
Ottawa Recycling Appliance Co. 731-1417
Some companies offer an appliance collection service for a fee:
Laidlaw Waste Systems 745-6166
Osgoode Recycling Centre 821-3224

Thank You

The Hallville Recreation Association wishes to thank everyone who came out to support our Chicken Barbecue Dinner and Dance. A good time was had by all. The proceeds will go to our paving fund for the rink surface which will be completed this fall with the new boards.

A big "thank you" to Sue and Cindy of Amber's Cafe for the use of their place and helping make this event possible.

We hope to make this an annual event, so a big "thank you" goes out to everyone for their support. We hope to see you all again next year. Thanks to all the businesses that gave us door prizes and donations and to the people who lent us their picnic tables.

—Hallville Recreation Association

Heartfelt Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for all the love, kindness and consideration that has been extended to our family during the recent loss of our son, Steven. Whilst the passing of a cherished son and brother has left a hole in our lives, we have seen a part of it filled by friends who have so graciously reached down to lift us up. The flowers were beautiful, the abundance of food much appreciated and the donations to the Lung Association were most generous. The tremendous care and support shown to our family by all in the community has helped us during this sad time. Hard days have been made easier, heavy days made light, and long, slow days have moved more quickly as a result of friends who have been so generous in the sharing of their love. For this we shall be ever grateful. We, the beneficiaries of such an outpouring of love, wish now in return to extend ours to all who we are so privileged to call our friends. Thank you.

—Eddie, Jenny, Shaun, Michael and Brian Pilkington

METCALFE — The first officially declared entry into the Osgoode Township mayoralty race has made her intentions known.

Former 12-year council veteran Mary Cooper, who has been on a sort of hiatus since the 1988 elections, has announced her candidacy.

"I sort of retired from council," she says, "but I have been involved in quite a number of township related activities since."

Involved in the renovations to the township hall, she also served as chairperson of the township library board, the constuction of the Greely Community Centre and sat on the executive of the township's non-profit housing board during the building of units in both Metcalfe and Greely.

She currently is on the executive of the Rideau Valley Conservation Authority.

Cooper went on to explain that she had been approached by several people on different occasions concerning the possibility of re- entering the political arena.

She said, "I think I am more interested in the mayoralty now that we won't have such heavy involvement at the regional level. It was a very involved commitment. I felt it kept the mayor very busy with things not always related specifically to township business."

SVTA holds AGM tonight

WINCHESTER—The first annual general meeting of the Seaway Valley Tourism Association will be held Aug. 17 at the Operating Engineers Training Institute of Ontario, just east of Morrisburg.

"We are very excited with the agenda for this meeting," stated Gina Pine, tourism manager for the association. "We have some significant business to discuss with our membership, including our new constitution, marketing activities and elections for the new board."

The meeting, entitled "Challenges and Changes", is not designed to be all work, however. "We have arranged for some dynamic presentations," enthused Pine. "Michel Gauthier, a well-respected Ottawa tourism consultant and general manager of the Tulip Festival, will be speaking about cross- packaging and marketing festivals, attractions and operators."

Bob Clark, president and co-founder of Kingston- based St. Lawrence Cruise Lines, will be speaking about how to effect change, and the Moose Creek- based group, Funny Farm, will be providing a humorous workshop on "Stress in the Workplace".

Pine encourages everyone to attend saying, "We have designed a meeting format for all members and non-members alike. Tourism is everyone's business and we want to make sure that anyone who has an interest in tourism has the opportunity to attend this session and network with others with similar interests."

The meeting starts at 4pm, Wed., Aug. 17 and wraps up with a wine and cheese and networking opportunity. Over 400 invitations have been sent out to operators across the United Counties and Cornwall.

Admission is $10. Anyone interested in attending can contact Seaway Valley Tourism in Winchester at 774-1236.

Opportunity for Young Canadians

TORONTO — Canadians from ages 18 to 25 who are looking for adventure and who have an interest in global development are invited to apply to participate on a Youth Challenge International project in Costa Rica in Central America, Guyana in South America, or Solomon Islands in the South Pacific.

Youth Challenge International is a non-profit organization whose mission is to encourage young peoples active, responsible, and continuing participation in issues of local and global development.

Young people from around the world will work on a variety of community development, health, and research projects for ten weeks next spring and summer.

No experience is necessary to participate; just a willingness to work hard and an interest in global develoment.

"Participating on a YCI project provides young Canadians with the chance to earn valuable experience, to gain new skills, to learn about a different culture, and to meet other young people from around the world", says Greg Smith, the communication director at YCI.

The deadline for applications for the projects next spring and summer is October 7. To receive an application and more information about Youth Challenge International contact the Youth Challenge International office at 1-800-979-INFO from anywhere in Ontario.

SCHNEIDERS

There's a lot of truth in Schneiders slogan, "Taste the difference quality makes." If you compare a few labels, you'll never find the phrase "May Contain" on any Schneiders meat package.
Schneiders still make their products the same way J.M. did back at the turn of the century...using fresh meat, smoked to perfection over hardwood fires.
And to make sure you're getting more value, Schneiders trim their meat a special way...so that you get more meat and less fat.
People still keep coming back for more...you can still taste the difference quality makes.
