Councillors plan regular visits

CHESTERVILLE – North Dundas councillors Roger Cole and Gail Parker will be available to the public in their home Chesterville ward on the third Thursday of each month. The two will be in Chesterville's municipal building from 7 to 9 p.m. to meet with citizens who have questions or concerns about municipal matters.

Inmates may help with storm cleanup

TORONTO – Selected inmates of provincial correctional facilities may be enlisted to help with the storm cleanup in eastern Ontario. Solicitor General Bob Runciman announced Friday he has asked correctional officials to prepare for requests for assistance from local and provincial cleanup authorities. Selected inmates would be screened before they are brought in to help clear debris and replant trees. Runciman noted supervised, low-risk inmates have been performing roadway cleanups for the past two years without incident.

Police probe B&Es

South Stormont – Provincial police are investigating break-ins at two homes in South Stormont. An Eamond Road home was broken into overnight Friday-Saturday, and stolen were a number of household items with a total value of $4,000. Const. D. Giroux is investigating. A County Road 12 home was broken into in Feb. 8, and the extent of the theft has not yet been assessed. Const. J. Moore investigates.

Widowed Support

CHESTERVILLE – The Widowed Support Group of Stormont and Dundas will meet Thursday, February 19 at St. Mary's Church Hall in Chesterville. Renewal of memberships and business will begin after lunch. Participants are asked to bring a sandwich and share in fellowship. The meeting begins at noon.

Loans available for entrepreneurs

CORNWALL – Young people who want to start their own businesses can apply for loans of up to $7,500 through a program sponsored by the Royal Bank and the Ontario Ministry of Economic Development, Trade and Tourism. To qualify, those interested in borrowing must attend a workshop conducted by the Cornwall Economic Development Self-Help Centre or be granted an exemption. For more information, contact the Self-Help Office at 1-888-CORNWAL or the Royal Bank at 1-800-267-3119.

Drivers needed

CHESTERVILLE – Chesterville's Meals on Wheels program is in search of new volunteer drivers. The task requires two hours a month of a person's time, delivering meals to local seniors. Anyone interested can call Eileen MacMillan at 448-2044 or Elke Brown at 448-3019.

Beware of rubber cheques, OPP warn

WINCHESTER – OPP are issuing a warning to local businesses after recent incidents of bad cheques being passed. Store owners should ensure cheques they accept are not post-dated, and to aid an investigation if necessary, record how the person's identity was verified, the date a cheque was accepted and the name of the employee who accepted it and what was gained by the cheque, either cash, merchandise or both. Information about cheque fraud can be obtained from local OPP detachments.

Snowmobile outing ends in tragedy near Berwick

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

BERWICK – A night-time ride on a snowmobile trail north of Berwick turned tragic Saturday night, claiming the life of a Chesterville-area man. John MacMillan, 26, was thrown from his machine after striking the guy wire of a hydro pole. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

The accident happened around 9:15 p.m. on a trail adjacent to Con. 6-7 just east of County Road 12, between Berwick and Crysler. MacMillan was driving one of two snowmobiles that were traveling westbound together on the trail. Ontario Provincial Police are still investigating.

Newington resident Jeff Waldroff was snowmobiling on the same trail on the night of the accident. He said MacMillan's 1988 Polaris had passed shortly before the accident "at quite a speed." But he said he did not know why it strayed from the trail and hit the wire.

Waldroff said when he came upon the scene, he did not know whether the victim was conscious or not. A volunteer firefighter, Waldroff left to summon an ambulance from a nearby residence. When he returned to the scene, he was able to tell the injuries were serious, he said.

MacMillan was a native of the Ingleside area, and had graduated from Rothwell-Osnabruck High School. He was most recently living with his girlfriend and six-month-old child in a rented house on County Road 43 between Chesterville and Finch.

Fran Laflamme, who was librarian at the school when MacMillan was a student about eight years ago, remembers him as a cheerful student who was always very obliging. Laflamme recalled one example from several years ago, when she heard MacMillan was going to the Glengarry Highland Games in Maxville. She asked him if he would pick up a bagpipe T-shirt for the developmentally-challenged daughter of a friend. Sure enough, he showed up at Laflamme's door with the shirt shortly after his return.

Laflamme said MacMillan was proud of his Scottish heritage, at one time trying to learn the bagpipes himself. His father and brother operate The Glengarrian, a Scottish pub in Cornwall.

Sadly, snowmobiling is a sport that claims dozens of lives each year in Ontario. The accident near Berwick Saturday night was one of three snowmobile-related fatalities in the province on the weekend, pushing the season total close to 30. Last year, 36 snowmobilers lost their lives in Ontario.

Twenty jobs available for local storm cleanup

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

CHESTERVILLE – Twenty people between the ages of 18 and 29 will be hired on six-month contracts for ice storm cleanup duties in eastern Ontario. The jobs, announced late Tuesday, are part of a federally-funded program in partnership with New Beginnings for Youth, an Ottawa-based charitable organization.

Resumes will be accepted until noon Friday at the Dundas Human Resource Centre, 17A Industrial Drive in Chesterville, and at Human Resources Development Canada, 111 Water Street, Cornwall. Those who apply must also provide the telephone numbers of two references.

The 35-hour-a-week jobs will pay a net weekly stipend of $200, and those who complete their six-month contract will qualify for bonuses up to $2,000. All who complete their contract will receive a $500 bonus, and those who have an existing student loan, are starting a business, going back to school or going to another job of at least 30 hours a week will receive a total bonus of $2,000.

Preference in hiring will be given to those who are currently searching for work, and previous experience with construction or forestry is an asset but not necessary.

Program co-ordinator Margaret Macdonald says people applying for the positions should be ready and able to work outdoors, and enthusiastic as well as safety-minded. All 20 successful applicants will receive first aid and CPR training, and four will receive chainsaw certification. Safety equipment will be provided and is mandatory. Macdonald says aside from a six-month contract job, successful candidates will gain experience as well. She said the work will begin in local sugarbushes.

The program is modeled after one started in Ottawa last month, and in fact some crews hired under that initiative are working at Sanders Maple Products west of Finch. While the 20 jobs announced Tuesday are for the Cornwall area, there is no strict boundaries, Macdonald said – crews will go where they are needed throughout SD&G.

The jobs are funded by HRDC's Youth Service Canada. New Beginnings for Youth is sponsoring the initiative, by seeking private sector partners to help with such costs as transportation and equipment.

Meanwhile, the Umbrella Group of eight Disaster Relief Committees in eastern Ontario is meeting this morning (Feb. 11) in Cornwall. Ministry of Municipal Affairs assistant deputy minister Elizabeth McLaren was expected to be at the meeting to provide further clarification on what will be covered.

Because there are both provincial and federal disaster relief guidelines at play, and a muncipally-based administration, the exact parameters of what will and won't be covered are still being hammered out.

But umbrella group chairman Andy Brown, of Lanark, told the Record Tuesday the situation wil hopefully be clearer after Wednesday's meeting.

Sweet on CHEO: Dance is a labor of love for Winchester resident

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

WINCHESTER – When Steven Barkley says thanks, he puts his money where his mouth is. And that's good news for the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, which for the ninth year will benefit from Barkley's extra special way of expressing his gratitude.

Barkley is hosting his annual Sweetheart Dance at Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners Saturday night from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., an annual Valentine tradition that comes straight from his heart. Barkley is 25, but he knows the children's hospital well.

"I had lots of surgery at CHEO, from the time I was a little fellow right up to the time I was 18," he says. Born with cerebral palsy, he needed surgery to lengthen his tendons, as well as physical therapy. "It was just like going to your second home. I know everyone there."

But Barkley wanted to repay the hospital for what it had done for him, and in 1990, the first Sweetheart Dance was held. "I wanted to return my debt, you might say, to repay it. So many people use the services, but don't put them back."

In its first eight years, Barkley's Sweetheart Dance has netted a total of $28,433 for the hospital, including $4,458 last year. How does one go about organizing such a successful event? It's not that hard, Barkley says. With an ear for music, it's really a labor of love. A DJ by trade and a follower of local country bands, he enlists a number acts to perform every year.

Sunderland aims to eliminate Fair Board's debt

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

CHESTERVILLE — Martin Sunderland is looking forward to his term as president of the Chesterville Fair Board.

Sunderland was elected to the position at the Fair Board's annual meeting held January 24.

He has served in various capacities on the board for the past six years, most recently as first vice-president.

"I'm looking forward to this year," he said. "We have a good group of directors. They have a great deal of experience in many areas and are hard workers. I am especially pleased that we have five junior directors. The teenagers are a group which you hope you can attract to the fair."

Sunderland said it is especially important for the Chesterville Fair to maintain its roots as an agricultural and rural fair.

"We can't be so obsessed with making money that we lose the agricultural flavor of the fair. Our agricultural displays have been well-received. They aren't a money maker but they have to be maintained. We want to be able to be a good agricultural fair with three days of good entertainment."

Planning for the 1998 Chesterville Fair is in its infancy at present, Sunderland said. The Chesterville Fair will be held the last weekend of August at the fair grounds.

"It's too early to tell what we are going to do this year. We've basically set up committees. We're looking at some alternatives. A few events last year were very successful. We're definitely hoping to have another rodeo if possible. The truck pull and the barn dance were two of our more successful events."

As with any community event, one of the biggest challenges facing organizers is keeping the ideas fresh.

"That is one of the things you tend to hear from people is that there is never anything new at the Chesterville Fair," he said. "We are trying to find events which people will identify with while at the same time keeping the ideas fresh."

At a time when many fairs are struggling to make up for the loss of subsidies from the federal government, Sunderland said the Chesterville Fair is very fortunate to have a strong base of community and business support."

Lions will again serve Shrove Tuesday pancakes

The Chesterville and District Lions Club will be holding their traditional Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper at the LaPrade Centre Tues., Feb. 24.

Gord McDonald will be serving up pancakes, syrup and sausages, and blintzes for those with more adventuresome tastebuds. Meals are $5 for adualts and $3 for 10 and under. Ice cream cookies and drinks are also included in the price.

Last year the Lions served over 300 dinners so plan to arrive early, McDonald advises.

Shrove Tuesday is a toned-down English version of Mardi Gras and in medieval times it was the last feast before the fasting of Lent. The word shrove derives from an old English word meaning to have one's confession heard.

Disaster committees meet

He said it is possible the local Disaster Relief Committees in eastern Ontario will have a major say in the process.

"It's going to take some negotiation to get common criteria. But from the Disaster Relief Committees' point of view, we're there to see that ice storm victims get relief, and not worry about red tape. We've requested that red tape not be a problem."

Brown said there is no estimate on when official claim forms will be available to eastern Ontario residents who wish to make claims. Preliminary damage estimate forms have been available at banks and municipal offices for more than a week, and are still available.

Fair president optimistic

"The fair costs around $70,000 to run," he said. "A lot of our budget is generated at the gate. We also have a very good network of business, corporate and community sponsors. We really don't have to rely too much on government subsidies."

A significant amount of revenue is generated by fundraising events such as the annual Lobster dinner in June and rental of storage space on the fair grounds.

With the creation of the Township of North Dundas, Sunderland said the fair board is unsure of what kind of reception it will receive when it approaches council for a grant.

"We're in uncharted waters here," he said. "North Dundas now has two fairs which may want grants, ours and South Mountain."

Sunderland said he expects the Fair Board to make a presentation to North Dundas council within the next few weeks.

As for his goals as president:

"I would like to be able to eliminate our debt," he said. "We did very well last year. I am hoping that once the debt is paid off, we can start putting money aside for improvements to the fair grounds."

"I'm also hoping for three days of good weather," he joked.

Dance is man's way of thanking CHEO for being there when he needed it

This year's bill includes Hi & Dri, a Winchester duo also known as Doug and Shirley Sinclair, with special guests Ron and Jamie McMunn of Carleton Place. Bruce McKinnon's Bordertowne, a popular country-rock band from Iroquois, will also be on stage. "Basically by having all that, we have entertainment for all ages. There's nothing that's left out, from 50s to rock and roll." Barkley adds he loves booking entertainment and organizing an event. "Seeing it all come together is neat."

The Sweetheart dance also features a midnight lunch, in the form of cold meats, buns and other goodies from Mr. Grocer in Morrisburg. Indeed, businesses and organizations throughout the county and even further abroad donate merchandise and cash evry year. Donated items become door prizes, and cash helps with the expenses or goes straight to CHEO.

"There's a whole ton of them and it surprised me this year, because I thought we'd get lots of "sorry, the money's not there" - but that's not the case," Barkley says as his mother Lorna rhymes off a long list of donors, from Nestle to Ottawa's Lone Star Cafe and Royal canadian Legion branches in Winchester and Boucks Hill to Matilda Township council. All in all, 41 businesses and organizations help make the Sweetheart Dance a sweet deal.

And each spring, Barkley gets to present the proceeds from the dance on live television during the annual CHEO Telethon on CJOH-TV, which is scheduled for May 30 and 31 this year.

The doors to the Sweetheart Dance open at 7:30 p.m. at Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners, and the event begins at 8 p.m. Tickets are $7 per person and are avilable at Stedman's in Winchester, Whittaker's Meats in Williamsburg, Mustard's Variety in Iroquois, the General Store in Dixons Corners or by calling Jerry Michalicka at 543-3343 or Steven Barkley at 774-3563.

"It should be a lot of fun," Barkley says in anticipation of the big event Saturday night. "Everyone looks forward to it," his mother adds.

Beware of gas pitch

TORONTO – The Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations is warning natural gas users to be cautious about advertising literature from natural gas brokers. The ministry says these brokers are mounting an aggressive marketing campaign by telephone, mail and door-to-door, and warns that by supplying account and other information consumers may be entering into a contract that may last 10 years. While these direct-purchase contracts may save the consumer money on their natural gas, they cannot save money on delivery and related costs, which amount to two-thirds of the average gas bill. Consumers are advised to compare prices with various gas marketers, including their regular utility. For more information, contact ministry's general inquiry unit at 1-800-268-1142.

SD recovery committee busy

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

WILLIAMSBURG — The Township of South Dundas is continuing to deal with the effects of the recent ice storm.

The Recovery Committee is chaired by councillor Robert (Rowdy) Gillard. It includes members of township staff, representatives of South Dundas Hydro Commission and the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

It has been meeting on a weekly basis to assess the infrastructure, financial and needs of people within the township in the wake of the ice storm.

Bill Shearing, the Emergency Preparedness coordinator for the Village of Morrisburg is a member of the committee.

"People are pretty well aware of the counties disaster relief committee and who they need to call if they require assistance," he said. "We're concerned with hazards created by the storm on property owned by the township, whether it is buildings or parks."

South Dundas's consulting engineers have checked the structural safety of buildings owned by the municipality and have found no problems, Shearing said.

The committee has been working with township staff to ensure anyone requiring building or demolition permits receive quick approval.

"We're trying to ensure people can re-adjust to life after the ice storm," he said. "Whether someone needs a demolition or building permit we are trying to expedite the process as quickly as possible. We are trying to help the people who had serious damage as a result of the ice storm."

Shearing said it was too early to affix a price tag to the damage sustained within the township as a result of the ice storm.

One other important aspect of the committee's work is to devise a suitable way of recognizing the efforts of the community during the state of the emergency.

"We are looking at ways to recognize the efforts of the volunteers and businesses," he said.

Counties receive road funding

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

CORNWALL — The United Counties of SD&G has received more than $2 million from the Ontario Ministry of Transportation to cover costs of maintenance of the 155 kilometres of highways which were transferred to the counties on Jan. 1.

"It's a nice gesture on their part and Noble Villeneuve had a great deal to do with it," said counties engineer Don McDonald. "Whether it is enough to cover the total costs of the maintenance, I don't really know. It would just be conjecture at this point to try and make a guess."

The cheque, totalling $2,064,085, is a supplementary unconditional grant from the Ministry of Transportation McDonald said. Noble Villeneuve, MPP for SD&G and East Grenville and Minister of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs along with Tony Clement, Minister of Transportation, made the presentation last Wednesday afternoon in Cornwall.

On Jan.1 responsibility for the maintenance of portions of Hwy. 31, Hwy. 43 and Hwy. 34 were transferred to various county governments across eastern Ontario, including SD&G, by the provincial government.

McDonald has yet to see information from the Ministry of Transportation on the condition of the roads.

Portions of what is now County Road 31 from Winchester Springs north to the boundary of Ottawa-Carleton were recently repaved. In addition, traffic lights were installed at the north and south intersections of County Road 31 and County Road 43 last fall.

"There are some southern sections of County Road 31 which will require work."

McDonald noted County Road 34 from Lancaster through to Alexandria is in fairly good condition with a significant amount of repaving and bridge work conducted within the past five years.

Late last year, a $305,000 infrastructure project was completed on County Road 43 near Chesterville as the bridge over the South Nation River was upgraded.

In spite of the recent projects, there are still significant areas of County Road 43 from Finch east to Alexandria which require work, MacDonald said.

In the Avonmore to Monkland area County Road 43 deteriorates severely in the spring forcing vehicles into the opposite traffic lane, McDonald said.

There still several areas of County Road 2 east of Cornwall which require work.

"There are a number of culverts which date back to 1921 that have to be replaced," he said. "We won't have a chance to take a look at them until the spring."

When County Road 2 was transferred to SD&G from the province, the counties received $5 million in unconditional grants. However, McDonald said the estimated cost to bring the roads up to provincial standards was about $3.5 million to $4 million higher.

At present, he does not have enough information available to make an estimate on the cost of upgrading the 155 kilometres of roads.

"In the spring we will be able to take a good look once we are supplied with the inventory data by the ministry," he said.

OPP brief council on ice storm, crime

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

WINCHESTER – Ontario Provincial Police paid a visit to North Dundas council last Monday, but it was a friendly visit. Const. Peter Valiquette stopped by to give council an overview of the ice storm from a police perspective, and an update on activity in the township in general.

The ice storm was taxing on OPP, Valiquette told council, as 300 extra personnel were brought into eastern Ontario from across the province, in shifts of 60 at a time. In the month of January, OPP received 219 calls for assistance in the township, which is double the usual number.

Calls included three trespassing complaints, one car theft, one drug incident, 12 break-ins, two car accidents, seven assaults, one sexual assault and ten thefts, three of them generators.

Also keeping police busy were 18 reports of suspicious people, four domestic assaults, four fires, 26 false alarms, most of them storm-related and five sudden deaths, none of them storm-related.

Valiquette also informed council that the OPP's civilian caretaker staff have been notified they will be laid off within the next year and replaced by contract workers. He also said a year-end report on crime statistics for the area should be ready soon, and said he would like to visit council on a monthly basis to share information about policing.

Thirty-three and counting...

If no one else mentions it, we will: the Canadian flag is celebrating a birthday this weekend. Our proud Maple Leaf turns 33 on Sunday. It was February 15, 1965 that Queen Elizabeth II made it official.

Two years ago, the federal government proclaimed February 15 as Flag Day, and there were no doubt visions of grand celebrations on that date from sea to sea each year, and quiet whispers that perhaps a statutory holiday could be instituted right when winter blues are at their peak.

But it seems Flag Day hasn't captured our imagination, at least here in eastern Ontario. There are no celebrations planned, and it's doubtful many people will fly the red and white Sunday in honor of our proud symbol.

Perhaps the day will pass without due notice, or perhaps the occasion will be marked by a 10-second blurb at the end of radio news reports. The chances of seeing people flowing proudly through the streets of our local villages with with Canadian flags in hand on Sunday is pretty slim.

But why is that? Isn't it a good idea to boost national pride whenever we can? Pandemonium is not necessary, but a little pride would be nice to see, wouldn't it? Why won't Flag Day fly? Our American neighbors don't hesitate to mark their historic days, in fact, Feb. 12 is Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 16 President's Day and Feb. 22 Washington's Birthday. Okay, they're not all holidays, but at least they made the calendar.

Maybe our idea of flag day hasn't caught because it got off on the wrong foot when announced two years ago by the Liberal government. Remember when the prime minister felt it necessary to throttle a protestor? It wasn't exactly a banner start for this new observance.

Or maybe it was the frighteningly-close result of the October, 1995 referendum that spawned Flag Day, or at least made it a going concern at the time for both the government and the governed.

It's hard to blame the ice storm for the way Flag Day will likely pass with little notice this year; maybe it's the fact that because Olympic Games are underway in Japan, we'll be seeing enough maple leaves on television and in newspapers to satisfy our patriotic needs for the time being.

Really, though, Flag Day is a good idea, and it's something we should all do something to recognize. There's no reason that with a little effort, we can't perpetuate the idea of Flag Day from year to year.

So if you have one, fly it on Sunday. And if you don't have one or can't get one, at least make a note of its 33rd birthday.

An extra dimension to history

By Robin Morris
Extra! Extra! editor

Now Gentle Reader, before we go too far, I want to tell you something that you may find surprising. I am not an outdoorsy type of guy. Not for me great windswept vistas, purple mountains' majesty or wildernesses to be conquered. I'd rather see it through the eyes of National Geographic.

So why, you ask was I trudging around Orford Provincial Park in Quebec's Eastern Townships on snowshoes for most of Saturday and all day Sunday?.

It's a bit complex but the simple answer is that I was hired as an extra for a television series on the War of 1812 being done for the History Channel. (It's one of those new specialty channels up at the nosebleed end of the dial for those of you who haven't yet received your new multi-channel cable TV preview.)

Now why would an otherwise sane, middle aged guy be tempted to put a pair of lacrosse sticks on his feet and go climbing over hill and dale harnessed to a freight sledge? I can assure you it wasn't for the pay. And it wasn't for the novelty, this being the third film in which I've been an extra. No. It's because I belong to a military re-enactment organization that is dedicated to depicting the life and times of the ordinary Canadian and British soldier of the late 18th and early 19th centuries. We're a group of hobbyists who have a love of Canadian history and enjoying putting on living history demonstrations for just about whoever will have us. History of the living variety, we believe, is a bit like a sugar coated pill. Before you know it you've swallowed the medicine and it wasn't half as bad as you might have thought. We're also keeping alive a heritage that just about everyone, particularly the Canadian museum system, would like to see put to sleep. We're anachronistic in our patriotism and our attention to historic detail. And by living the history, we have gained an appreciation of what those men had to go through to build this country.

We make our own carefully researched uniforms, purchase the arms and accoutrements of a soldier of the period, learn the drill and generally behave in a military fashion (when the public is looking). And as a result we are in some demand as "special skills extras", as opposed to the dolts who answer at the "cattle calls", from film companies doing period pieces since we can show up in complete uniform, bring our own firearms (and before you anti-gun nuts have a conniption, they're muzzle-loading flintlocks, not AK47s) and perform complex drill manouevres with a minimum of direction. Have you seen Gettysburg? It was filmed with re-enactors doing all the battle scenes. Last of the Mohicans? Ditto. The PBS series Liberty? Re-enactors. In the rarefied world of movies, we come pretty cheap and because we know our stuff we can cut production hours in half.

Which brings me back to last weekend.

Who could get excited about re-enacting the march of the 104th Regiment of Foot from Fredericton, NB, to Kingston during the winter of 1813?

Umm, that would be us.

Now before you turn the page, let me tell you very briefly about this particular episode in Canadian history. The 104th, although technically a British regiment, was made up mostly of native New Brunswickers and they achieved a first in British military annals. Roughly 500 of them marched the 700 miles during the coldest winter on record - temperatures through the early part of the march were in the -30F range - mostly through a trackless wilderness to provide reinforcements for the badly outnumbered garrisons strung across Upper Canada in the early days of the War of 1812. This feat, in which the regiment lost not a single man despite the severity of the temperatures and the depth of the snow, is chronicled in a recently published book, Merry Hearts Make Light Days, the journal of John Le Couteur, at the time a 19-year-old lieutenant who was experiencing his first Canadian winter as an officer in the 104th.

His troops could only march about 15 miles a day and since most of their route took them through the wilderness, they had to build their own camps at the end of each day's march, scooping out circles in the deep snow with their snowshoes and in these placing rough teepee-like structures from coniferous trees they had felled and limbed, the evergreen boughs being used as thatch for the walls of the huts. Le Couteur shared his men's hardships and recounted how they were forced to subsist on a diet of salt pork, partially heated over fires gingerly kindled in their evergreen wigwams. They had to drag their supplies and their weapons on toboggans and freight sledges, making an already arduous journey even more back breaking.

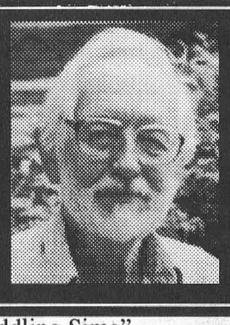
And I can vouch for that. Although the afternoons this past weekend were sunny and pleasant, it was bloody cold standing outside for an hour before sunrise so the cinematographer could get just the right dawn light for the start of the march. And we weren't dressed in down-filled Goretex jackets. Nosirreebob. We were in general issue War of 1812 wool coats that go down to the ankle, over a woolen regimental coatee and woolen trousers. All topped off with hats that look like a piece of black stove piping. Oh yeah, and leather boots that sank down through the snow and into the slush that covered the ice of the frozen-over lake where we did much of the first day's shooting.

We were harnessed to the toboggans and sleighs like so many malamutes as we mushed up and down the mountainside at Orford, marching endlessly for the camera and director Brian McKenna. We slipped and fell, we slid, we toppled over sideways, frontwards and backwards. And mostly we froze our butts off. And after nine and half hours of filming Saturday we were back at it before 7 a.m. Sunday for about five miles of snowshoeing and camp building over the same cursed terrain.

All for Canadian history and the glory of the regiment.

Cross Roads

By Clarence Cross



One of the things I regret in my life is the lack of musical training. It wasn't my mother's fault. I remember her recounting how she would play her piano while she was pregnant with me. It was a common belief that the unborn child could thus acquire a musical talent.

Our family was not a musical one. My mother had been given a piano by her foster parents. They lived first at Morrisburg, then in New York State, and finally in Los Angeles. After her foster mother died, the piano was shipped back to Canada. My mother had married a neighbor, Ingram Cross, who lived on the farm now owned by Carl Smith. Her piano, an attractive upright model, of polished oak, sat in our front parlor, but was rarely touched. Visitors, who tried it, said it needed tuning, my father, who had no interest in music, probably contributed to this neglect.

But we had a wind-up gramophone. It had a head with a steel needle which required frequent replacing. We owned a small selection of 78 rpm records: Caruso singing "O Solo Mio"; Harry Lander singing Scottish songs like "Roamin in the Gloamin"; a favorite of mine, "It's nice to get up in the morning, but it's nicer to lie in bed", and on the other side "It's three o'clock in the morning, we've danced the whole night through"; and some comedy narrations featuring an Uncle Josh, for example "Uncle Josh at the Dentist".

When we boys played the gramophone, we sometimes place a little dancing man on the centre spindle. This wooden figure had jointed legs and arms, something like the figures we see on a current TV ad for back pain. It amused us to no end.

We didn't buy a radio until they were fairly common. Ours was a mantel one, made by DeForest-Crossley. This would have been in the early 30s, and there wasn't much we could get, that interested us. I don't remember that we had an aerial. I was a keen fan of the Toronto Maple Leafs, but we couldn't pick up Foster Hewitt's Saturday night broadcast "Hockey Night in Canada" on our set. But Ken Wood, a former neighbor, who now lived in town on Mill Street, often invited my father and me to come and listen to the game on his big floor model. The reception wasn't great, but it was worth walking a mile to hear it.

It used to be a status symbol to have a piano or a parlor organ, even if it was rarely played. But for some families it was a central part of their lives. Wesley Barkley's family in Nation Valley was one such. His daughters, Luella Nesbitt and Helen Cross, have told me how after dinner, there would be a race to the piano in the front room of their log house to see who would get to play. Then there would often be a sing-song. Music ran in the family. Wesley's father was known as "Fiddling Sime".

Whenever there was a need in the Nation Valley school, perhaps for the Christmas concert, the Barkleys would carefully load their precious piano on a sleigh, take it across the river to the school, and bring it home again afterwards. Helen has treasured that piano ever since, and has taken it with her to her various homes. Her grandson, Troy Cross, a promising musician, learned to play on that instrument.

My aunt, Nora Cross, married Milton Fetterly, a member of another musical family. Milton played a variety of instruments, and appears beside his double bass in old pictures of a local orchestra. Their large house on King Street had a music room, and an assortment of musical instruments. Their children, Neilus and Lera, used to go to Ottawa by train every Saturday for their music lessons. Later, Neilus, while posted by the Bank of Montreal in London, used to join in practice sessions with the Lombardos, Guy and his siblings. At one time Neilus had his own orchestra, called Fetterly's Five Aces.

In many families, the girls, in particular, were encouraged to take lessons. There were several women who gave lessons in this area. One that is well remembered was a Sister at the convent in Chesterville.

Winnie (Ball) Johnston told me that she had taken piano lessons from the time she was 10. Her teacher, a Miss Greer, came down from Oxford Mills to Winchester Springs every week for two days and taught various pupils on Robert Ball's Heintzman piano. Winnie got her lessons for free for the use of the piano.

There was a lot of music in Chesterville in the old days. I remember various orchestra groups, a Citizens Band which played at hockey games, Jack Morris playing the piano accompaniment for silent movies, the men's quartet and concerts in Hamilton's Hall.

Despite my mother's wishes, I never showed any musical talent. I got mouth organs and Jews' harps as presents, but to no avail. I envied my friends, Hubert Lloyd and Jim Marcellus, for their singing ability. Gradually, I developed a liking for music. At college I sat in on a musical appreciation course, and took the Seashore Tests, which measured your ear for tone, pitch and rhythm. I tested below average, but continued to appreciate music. Later I amassed a considerable collection of classical records. While home on holidays one summer, I took piano lessons from Mrs. Percy (Martha) Gilroy, but was never able to follow up on it, because of lack of a piano in my moving about. But now I appreciate my radio, and applaud the music programs in our schools, like the band at Maple Ridge Senior Public School.

Snowarama on track to helping kids with physical disabilities

CHESTERVILLE – It was a gorgeous day for a snowmobile ride, and the trails were in top shape. But the riders who took part in Chesterville Rotary's Snowarama event Sunday weren't the only beneficiaries of a great day on the snow. The event raised more than $6,400 for the Easter Seal Society, money that will in turn benefit local children with physical disabilities.

Two dozen snowmobiles made the 90-km trek to Hallville and back, their drivers and passengers pledged by the public. Despite fewer participants this year, the $6,400 topped last year's figure. And in four years, Snowarama has generated more than $20,000 for the Easter Seal Society.

Chesterville Rotary Easter Seal chairman Craig Campbell explains that money raised through Snowarama goes into the Easter Seal Fund, which is used throughout the year to provide local assistance to the disabled, for such items as travel costs, wheelchairs, braces and wheelchair ramps.

Special guests at this year's Snowarama were Hallville's Chelsea Lariviere, this year's Easter Seal Tammy, and Winchester's Scott McLellan, who served as Timmy in 1996. Last year's Tammy, Kayleigh Boyd, was unable to attend but was there in spirit.

Chelsea and Scott are examples of local children with physical disabilities who have benefited from Easter Seals. And they were both thrilled to take a short but exciting snowmobile ride Sunday.

"When you see the faces on these two it makes it all worthwhile," said Chesterville Rotary's Betty Vanden Bosch Sunday. Vanden Bosch said it was at first thought the event might have to be cancelled because of ice storm damage on the trails, but the Nation Valley Snowmobile Association, a partner in Snowarama, hit the trails with chainsaws and a bulldozer to make the event possible.

After the ride, Chelsea and Scott shared notes about their visits to Camp Merrywood, an Easter Seal facility near Perth. Both kids were sponsored by Rotary, which this year will make the final instalment of a $10,000 pledge to the camp.

Vanden Bosch says there are many volunteers who helped make the event a success, including about a dozen Rotarians and others, who performed such duties as cooking the post-ride chili that participants enjoyed upon their return to the Nelson LaPrade Centre, home base for Snowarama.

Included in the money raised through this year's Snowarama event was a $1,200 corporate donation from the Toronto Dominion Bank.

Chesterville branch manager Eldon Moss said the bank is pleased to be a part of Snowarama, noting this year is the third it has made a donation.

Moss, who also collected pledges and hit the trail during this year's Snowarama, added the bank is looking forward to continuing its relationship with Chesterville Rotary and the Easter Seal Society.

Tammy and Timmy, also known as Chelsea Lariviere and Scott McLellan, pose on a snowmobile at Snowarama Sunday. Standing behind them are NVSA members Ray and Lise Godard, Chesterville Rotary Easter Seal chairman Craig Campbell and Rotarian Betty Vanden Bosch.

Chelsea Lariviere is all smiles as TD Bank manager Eldon Moss presents a $1,200 corporate donation to Rotary's Snowarama.

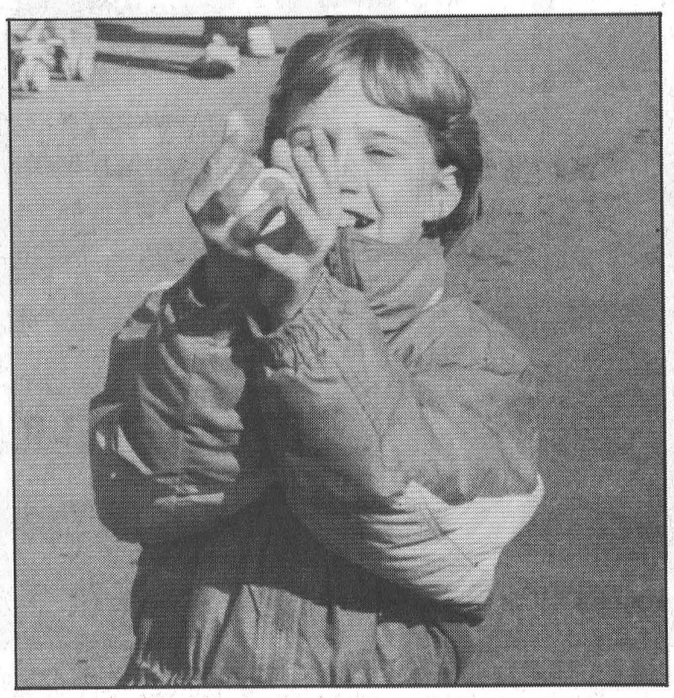
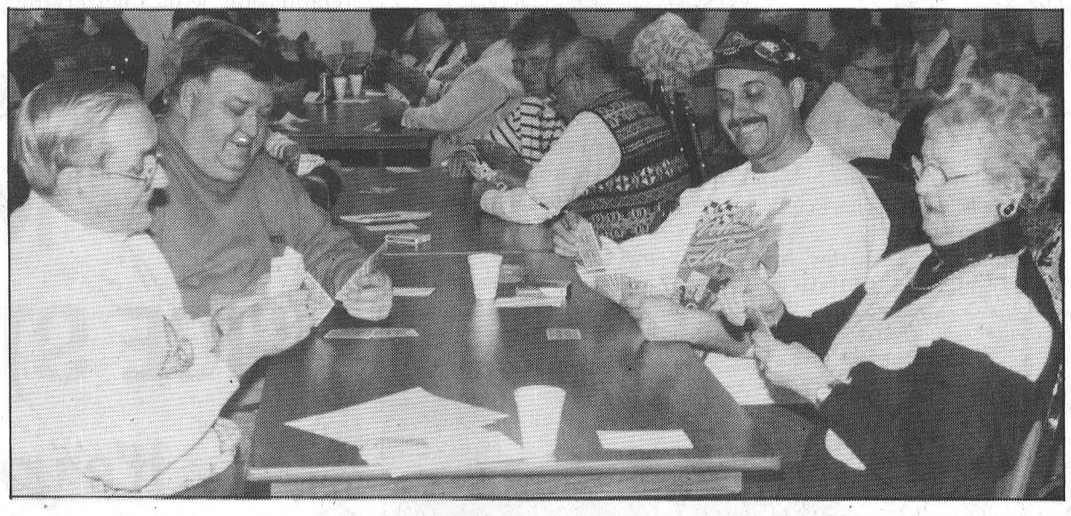
Crysler thaws out on weekend

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor





Crysler and area residents shook off the winter blues this weekend with their annual Winter Carnival. Above, Priscilla Coutier makes an egg-cellent catch in the egg-throwing contest Sunday. Her and partner Annie Arcand won the junior division, and Priscilla also won the Carnival's 50/50 draw, taking home $1,004. Above right, the God Squad, piloted by Denise Bourdeau and powered by Fr. Claude Thibault, Paul Larocque and Raymond Bourdeau, was tops in the bed races Sunday afternoon. And to the right (right to left), Marcel Gareau, Andre St. Pierre, Daniel St. Piere and Prudence Bourgeois took part in the Pinochle tournament Sunday.

CRYSLER – Just six kilometres east of Crysler, a series of hydro towers remain crumpled and twisted, a prominent reminder of last month's ice storm. But residents of the community had a chance to forget about the storm on the weekend and instead celebrate winter.

Crysler's Winter Carnival unfolded Feb. 4-8 with a variety of winter blues-breakers, from live entertainment to fine food, from outdoor fun to darts, pool and card tournaments, all under perfect late winter weather.

Carnival organizer Pierre Thibault said participation may have been down over last year, citing the ongoing effects of the ice storm. But the event was a success, he said, noting such events as the amateur talent night Friday, which was followed by karaoke with "Elvesto." People had a blast, Thibault said. Full buses left Crysler for trips to Cosmic Adventure and Vorlage ski hill Saturday, and the Saturday night show with the Tammy McRae Band was a real party.

More than 200 attended the Sunday morning breakfast, which was staffed by the Seaway Valley Devils girls' broomball team, which is off to the provincial championships next weekend.

The bed races are a popular tradition at the Crysler Winter Carnival, and this year's races were a real crowd pleaser on a cold but sunny Sunday afternoon. Two by two, the teams roared down the street in a series of heats, and more than one driver got a bumpy ride as steering was often a difficult task. But in the end, it was the God Squad, anchored by Fr. Claude Thibault, powered by Raymond Bourdeau and Paul Larocque and driven by Denise Bourdeau, that won the "A' final after their silver bicycle-style vehicle streaked down the course as if guided by some other force. The Crysler Fire Department earned second place honors.

The egg-tossing contest Sunday afternoon was a gooey activity for some participants, but a crowd pleaser nonetheless. The eggs were flying at the hands of pairs of contestants in three age categories, those who made a mess stepping aside and those who caught the flying eggs moving further apart for the next round. In the youngest division, Priscilla Cloutier and partner Annie Arcand proved to have the best egg-tossing skills, while Marc Andre Lebrun and Eric Roy made it through the middle age category without breaking any shells.

In the adult category, Stephane Lavigne and Sean Leach battled Martine Provost and Madeleine Burrelle in a match that ended with partners standing about 40 feet apart. The ground, not to mention the contestants, were covered with yolk as the distance seemed too great for the successful flight of a delicate egg. After several attempts, Provost and Burrelle were awarded first place after Burrelle was able to hold onto the egg despite it breaking in her hand.

The tug-of-war was also a fun-filled spectacle, with Pricille Lebrun, Eric Roy, Marc Andre Lebrun, Melanie Dodier and Christian Arcand composing a winning team, as well as Michel Provost, Ed Cloutier, Bob Briere, Shawna Bedard and Francine Lafrance. Card tournament winners were Daniel St. Pierre and Ange-Aime Dion.

Winner of the 50/50 draw was Priscilla Cloutier, who took home a whopping $1,004 after her ticket was drawn. In other draws, Mike Sayer of Ottawa won a weekend at the Albert & Suite Hotel and Kelly Fike will be enjoying a night at the Corel Centre with tickets for a Senators hockey game.

Arts and crafts winners were Kassandra Bedard and Erika Landry, and nail driving winners were Eric Roy and Raymond Bourdeau.

Thibault thanks the numerous sponsors who made the carnival a success, as well as the Carnival Committee and other volunteers. He adds special thanks Larocque Bus Lines and its drivers.

A story with heart: Surgery was the right decision for Ingleside's Olive MacMillan

Editor's note: February is Heart & Stroke Month, and reader Olive MacMillan of Ingleside has written to us about her own experience with heart disease.

I am so grateful to our knowledgeable doctors, nurses and staff here and at the Ottawa Heart Institute. At the age of 81 years, on May 24, 1994, I had a triple bypass and a heart valve replaced.

I had lived at Winchester on a dairy farm all my married life, and worked in the civil service in Ottawa, retiring in 1977 and enjoying good health, moved to Ingleside, to be close to my family and to where I was raised as a young girl, at Wales.

On August 13, 1991, I suffered a very bad heart attack and was hospitalized for 15 days. I managed with medication until January, 1994, when after all the tests at the Heart Institute, I was told I had less than a year to live, with faulty and clogged arteries.

But I had no hesitation with the decision to book the surgery. I had made my mind up right that day in the doctor's office – I had nothing to lose at my age! I had lived a good life, and had everything to gain by feeling better. On May 24, 1994, Dr. Henry and his staff did a triple bypass and replaced the tissue valve. I was in intensive care for nine days.

On June 1, 1994, I was moved out of intensive care and had real food from a tray. On June 2, I walked three doors down the hall, and on June 10 I was allowed to come home. I couldn't believe how the leaves on the trees and everything else looked so green since I had last seen them.

Olive MacMillan

I had a few setbacks, like pneumonia, but slowly I gained strength and each day walked further and grew stronger – they really stress walking and exercising. I will always remember an hour before my surgery, the doctors and nurses asked me if I wanted to change my mind. I could get out of bed, get dressed and go home. My daughter was hoping I would get out of bed and run down the hall, but was shocked when I said I've never been more ready for the moment I had waited so many months for. That was really tough, the waiting time.

I had homecare for a short time after the surgery, but there were so many people out there that needed it more than I did.

My hobbies are gardening, crafts, crocheting, sewing and quilting. I have just finished an afghan and I am now working on a quilt. Due to the ice storm, I lost two weeks of quilting time. I have two children, eight grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

I feel very lucky to live independently in my own home, drive my car, enjoy fellowship with seniors, shopping, visiting friends and family.

Legion News Branch 434

The general meeting for February will be held on Mon., Feb. 16 at 8 p.m. There will be approximately 15 new members sworn in and the members of the last executive will be awarded their past office medal. There will also be other awards presented to Legion members.

The new committee is working very hard to bring new ideas and entertainment into the branch. To make it a success, we need the full cooperation of the membership. This was evident on Saturday night with the poor attendance at the dance.

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 14 there will be a euchre tournament at the Legion Hall starting at 12 noon sharp. For more information contact Richard at 984-0459.

On Sat., Feb. 21 the Ladies Auxiliary bingo will be held with the normal game prizes. The progressive jackpot is $540 in 52 numbers or the consolation prize $150. Come out and try your luck.

On Saturday evening, Feb. 21 The Part Time Cowboys will be playing at the Legion. This band has played in several Legions and the reports are that they are very good. The fiddle player is excellent and can really make the fiddle sing. So for a night of entertainment and dancing, you won't want to miss this night. Come out and bring a friend.

There are still articles of clothing and bedding at the Legion Hall that belong to someone who used the hall during the ice storm. If you do not pick up what you left behind by the end of the month it will be turned over to the church to sell or do whatever.

The following is a copy of a letter received by the Legion last week:

Dear President Vern:

Just a small thanks to you and your comrades at Branch 434 on the outstanding generosity shown during the ice storm disaster to the residence of Chesterville and surrounding area.

The commitment displayed by your volunteer members during the crisis is a true testimony to your organization. The allegiance displayed by each and everyone of your members was above and beyond the call of duty.

Through their hard work, long hours and personal sacrifices, the Chesterville Legion deserves to hold their heads high in self-esteem. They certainly made all of us in Chesterville and surrounding area proud and thankful to have such a dedicated organization and a wonderful group of volunteers.

The cooperation displayed by them was overwhelming and their attitude most gratifying. Never did we witness animosity or resistance but rather their cheerful smiles.

The friendly atmosphere around the Legion Hall will be our most lasting memories.

As we look back on the effects of the ice storm and how amazing the people of Chesterville pulled together during the time of crisis, we can only say that the roll the Chesterville Legion played was a major component of the community focus.

Again on behalf of Gail and myself, I can only repeat how proud we are of your organization and the wonderful cooperation we received.

Your organization made our job so much easier and for that we are forever grateful.

Ice Storm

What a terrible way,
as the ice quickly laid,
upon the branches of the trees.

To start our new year,
we shed a tear,
because the power went off.

We lighted candles,
crowded 'round the fireplace,
and ate our supper cold.

Then the army men came,
the hydro men went out,
to help us with the ice storm of '98.

Now it is over,
and we think back and say,
aren't we lucky it didn't happen today!

Parent companions

CORNWALL – The Eastern Ontario Health Unit is organizing a program to match experienced parents with those who are just starting out with families of their own. The Parent Companion program is designed to allow volunteer parents to share advice, support and friendship will be mutually beneficial. Training and travel compensation are provided to volunteer parents. Anyone interested in learning more about the program can attend an information session on Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 1000 Pitt Street in Cornwall at 7 p.m. Information can also be obtained by calling the Health Line at 1-800-267-0852.

Thank You

To Almighty God, for keeping me in His hands over the past nine months of illness.

To Dr. S. Chande, Dr. J. Burke, Dr. Howes, C. Dingwall and all nursing staff of 2nd floor who all took such good care of me during the three separate admissions to Winchester Hospital.

To a special roommate Marjorie, who gave me such encouragement. Special thank you to friends and relatives who visited me in hospital and at home, for cards, flowers, gifts, prayers, and encouragement for warm meals dropped off and moral support when it seemed needed most.

To pastor Roger & Denise for their many visits, prayers, and encouragement. To my church family who supported me in prayer, who laughed with me and cried with me and shared my pain.

Last but not least, thank you to my husband and family who supported me and cared for me over the long months. To the grandchildren who had to stay away at times - Nanny loves you very much.

It is said, that God can't be everywhere and so he created.... but God is everywhere, I saw Him in everyone of you who reached to me with such kindness, whether it was just stopping for a chat, bringing me homemade goodies, accompanying me through chemo or taking me for lunch - Whatever the kindness, I will never forget you all. Words cannot express my deep gratitude to all of you, who took it upon yourselves to share my illness.

From the bottom of my heart, thank you.

Luella Dingwall.

Obituaries

Irene Patenaude

Irene Patenaude, of the Primrose Apartments in Morewood, died February 3, 1998 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. She was 77.

Mrs. Patenaude, a housewife, formerly of RR 2 Winchester, was born May 16, 1920 in Chesterville, daughter of the late Arsene Gauthier and Delvina Briere. She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Chesterville.

Mrs. Patenaude was dear mother of Hector (Marie-Claire) of RR 2 Chesterville, Fernand of Morewood, Richard (Deborah) of RR 2 Winchester and Rita (Adrian Day) of Hamilton.

She was dear sister of Florence (Andre) Bedard of Oka, Que., and will be remembered fondly by her 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Patenaude is predeceased by her husband, "Armand" Antoine Patenaude and sisters Alice Cayer and Rose Moss.

Funeral services were held February 6 at St. Mary's Church and were officiated by Fr. Stan Alanen. Spring interment will be at St. Mary's Parish Cemetery.

Pallbearers were grandsons Philip, Jacques, Paul, Andre and Roger Patenaude and Leo Lalonde.

Felix Lamoureux

Felix Lamoureux, of Crysler Residence, died February 4, 1998 at the Ottawa General Hospital. He was 80.

Mr. Lamoureux, a farmer, formerly of Winchester, was born December 12, 1917 in Mountain Township, son of the late Eli Lamoureux and Millie St. Pierre.

He was dear brother of Ada Rombough of Finch, Margaret LaPierre of Sudbury, Alice Lewis of Mountain and Wilfred (Pierrette) of Winchester, and will be fondly remembered by his many nieces and nephews.

Mr. Lamoureux is predeceased by four brothers and two sisters.

Funeral mass was celebrated February 7 at St. Therese D'Avila Church in Marionville and was conducted by Rev. Kevin Beach. Spring interment of ashes will be at the Marionville Parish Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Andrew Lamoureux, Perry Lamoureux, Ron Lewis, Arnold Lewis, Brian Rombough and Morris Korevaar. Honorary pallbearers were Mort Stobo and Carl Docksteader.

Sarsfield Patrick O'Connor

Sarsfield Patrick O'Connor, of Morewood, died suddenly February 6, 1998 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. He was 68.

Mr. O'Connor, retired marketing manager for the eastern region of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, served as a Separate School Board trustee in the area for many years. He was known for his involvement in the Eastern Ontario Pleasure Driving Society, showing his restored horse-drawn carriage at fairs and events throughout the district.

He was born September 11, 1929 in Brosna, Co. Kerry, Ireland, son of the late Dr. Michael Joseph O'Connor and Joan O'Connor. He was a science graduate of the Cork Branch of the National University of Ireland, and was a member of Russell Roman Catholic Church and St. Mary's Catholic Church in Chesterville.

Mr. O'Connor is survived by his wife, Sheila Marie O'Connor, sons Timothy Michael O'Connor and John Patrick O'Connor (Christine), granddaughters Erin and Reilly, brothers Eamon and John and sisters Maureen, Grace and Carmel.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, February 11 at St. Mary's Church in Chesterville and will be officiated by Rev. Fr. J. Appelman. Interment will be in St. Andrews West.

Pallbearers are Dr. Gabriel Slowey, Dick Casselman, Dick Dumochelle, William VanGurp, Kevin Vollrath and Steven Droppo.

Ellis Albert Fickes

Ellis Albert Fickes, of RR 2 Newington, died January 30, 1998 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital following a short illness. He was 82.

Mr. Fickes, a farmer, was born January 15, 1916 in Ottawa, son of the late Albert Ira Fickes and Annie Louise (Brydges). He was educated at the Avonmore High School and was a member of the United Church.

Mr. Fickes is survived by daughters Elizabeth Bennett (Ken) of Long Sault and Wanda Rombough (Brent) of Apple Hill, sons Clair Fickes (Peggy) of Newington and Kelvin Fickes (Lorraine) of Finch and 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held February 3 at the Brownlee Funeral Home in Finch and were officiated by Rev. Bob Matheson. Cremation followed.

Pallbearers were Morris Watson, Chris Bennett, Craig Bennett, Tony Bennett, Dean Bennett and Gregory Fickes.

Rita Elizabeth Woods

Rita Elizabeth Woods, of RR 1 Lunenburg, died February 2, 1998 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital following a three-year illness. She was 74.

Mrs. Woods, a housewife, formerly of Cornwall, was born July 6, 1923 in Cornwall, daughter of the late Rueben Whitford and Louise Malyon.

She was educated at Central Public School in Cornwall and was a member of the United Church in Ingleside.

Mrs. Woods is survived by daughter Janie (Mrs. Glen Cryderman) of Ingleside, sons Michael Woods (Cathy) of Martintown and Eric Woods (Cindy) of Lunenburg, sister Elizabeth (Betty) Whitford of Cornwall and grandsons Darrin Cryderman, Micky and Joey Woods, Justin, Leighton, Jordon and Ryan Woods and great-grandsons Brennan Cryderman and Dylan and Blake Woods.

She is predeceased by her husband, Walter Woods.

Funeral services were held Feb. 5 at the Brownlee Funeral Home in Ingleside and were officiated by Rev. Robert Matheson.

Spring interment will be at Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

The family was honored to have her as a mother, mother-in-law, grandma and great-grandma.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
COTNAM - In loving memory of our husband and father, Andy, who passed away February 13, 1995.
Your end came fast and sudden,
No time to say goodbye.
You were gone before we realized,
And only God knows why.
The things we feel so deeply,
Are the hardest things to say,
But we, your family, love you,
In a very special way.
They say memories are golden,
Well maybe this is true,
But we never wanted memories,
We only wanted you.
Sadly missed by

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
GROVES - In loving memory of a dear father, Keith, who passed away February 14, 1983.
Time may change so many things.
One thing that lasts forever.
The memory of those happy days.
When we were all together.
Always remembered
son Allan

IN MEMORIAM
GROVES - In loving memory of a dear father, Keith, who passed away February 14, 1983.
Our hearts still ache
As we think of you
Gone is the joy
That we one knew
But we thank our Lord
For you're in His care
Waiting for us
To join you there.
Always remembered
Junior & Sheila
27

IN MEMORIAM
MERKLEY - In loving memory of a dear mother and wife, Frances, who passed away February 7, 1987.
We seem to see in the soft dim light
A face we love the best;
Recalling her as the sun's last rays
Go down in the far-off west.
We miss her more as time goes on,
We can never close our hearts;
And the lamp of our love still burns.

IN MEMORIAM
FAWCETT - In loving memory of a dear mother, Nellie, who passed away February 9, 1979.
Mother, you are not forgotten;
Though on earth you are no more;
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
Always remembered,
Love your children

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank the ambulance attendance for their quick response in the middle of the ice storm; staff at the emergency dept.; Dr. Adamson, Dr. Slowey, and Dr. Schnurr for their concern and care. To all the nurses and staff on 1st east, 2nd and 3rd floors for their wonderful care. To Father Stan for his visits and prayers in hospital and at home. To everyone who visited, for cards, gifts and best wishes. A very special thanks to our family who are always there for us. A very special thank you to Garry and Terri for taking us into their home during the ice storm. To Mike Dean for keeping our meat from spoiling and to anyone who helped us in anyway during Gerry's stay in hospital and at home. We will never forget your kindness. Thanks again one and all.

This Week

R.C. Heagle plays league-leading Finch to 2-2 draw.

Please see page 15.

Seaway Valley Devils vye for provincial broomball title again

FINCH – The Seaway Valley Devils are up to their old tricks again. The local girls' broomball team is once again heading to the provincial championships in Barrie this weekend, where they will compete against three other teams, all vying for a trip to the nationals.

The team, centred in North Stormont, will be seeking its eighth straight title in the tournament's juvenile division. And if they win, they will make their fifth trip to the national championships in April. And coach Chris Yelle says she is optimistic about the teams chances this year.

"I'm confident in the team this year, very confident that they'll do well," she says. The team is strong both offensively and defensively, and for the first time has had the benefit of playing together as a team all season. The 17 team members, aged 15 to 18, belong to different house league teams such as Finch, Berwick and Crysler. But together they also played in the Ladies League in Winchester, which Yelle says has helped them gel as a team.

Most of the players are from North Stormont, but a couple hail from Russell and other areas.

The Seaway Valley Devils lost valuable practice time during last month's ice storm, but are now making up for it. They've been practicing three to four nights a week since the ice returned to the Finch Arena. "We're really hitting it hard. We'll do the best we can," Yelle says.

In Barrie, the Seaway Valley Devils will represent Eastern Ontario in the juvenile division, competing against two teams from Central-West and one from Central-East. To qualify for the championships, the tea attended tryouts in Maxville in October then applied for the provincials, which use a double-knockout format, meaning teams that lose twice are out.

Yelle says the team has always had good sponsorship from the community, and she's looking forward to the same level of support this year. The team members have also been busy raising funds in the community. They worked at the Santa Claus breakfast in Berwick in December, as well as the breakfast held at the Crysler Winter Carnival Sunday. They also hold events such as euchre tournaments.

Express lock up fourth as Eagles drop three straight

FINCH - The North Stormont Express managed to pick up only one of a possible four points last week but they still locked up fourth place in the EOJCHL as the St. Isidore Eagles lost all three of their games, a home-and-home series to the Russell Thunder after a 6-3 loss to the Rockland Nationals last Wednesday night.

The Express have 25 points with three games remaining in their schedule. The Eagles are five points back with only two games left and could conceivably end the season in sixth if the Vankleek Hill Cougars win their three remaining games.

The Cougars are four points back with a game in hand.

The Express's one point came in a 6-5 overtime shoot-out loss to the Long Sault Vipers Saturday night at the Cornwall Township Arena. Last Thursday they dropped a 7-4 decision to the first-place Casselman Stars on their own ice. St. Isidore stumbled 9-4 in Russell Friday night and were humbled 3-0 by the Thunder on their own ice Sunday.

Long Sault scored on all five of their chances in the shoot-out while North Stormont scored on four of their five chances in the OT loss.

Last Thursday night the Express stayed even with the Stars through the first period but Casselman started to pull away in the second and led 6-4 going into the third.

Stephane Perth and Martin Levesque each scored twice for Casselman, which has first place in the seven-team league all but sewn up.

Captain Julien Benoit and Eric Bourgeois each scored twice for the Express, who held a brief 3-2 lead in the first, before Perth got his second goal of the period to end the frame with the teams tied at three.

Casselman captain J.R. Rainville opened the scoring 2:42 into the game and Benoit got the first of his pair five minutes later to knot it at one. Perth made it 2-1 at 5:13 but Benoit got his second, unassisted, 14 seconds later and Bourgeois made it 3-2, from Alf Philippen and Mike Reimer, less than a minute later.

Perth got his second, unassisted, with 2:23 to play in the period.

The Stars went up 4-3 1:41 into the second when Matthieu Boulerice scored from Martin Levesque but Bourgeois continued the game of tit-for-tat eight seconds later when he scored from Mike Kilroy.

That was it for North Stormont as Casselman came back with two more in the second, by Ghyslain Ranger and Levesque.

Levesque got the only goal of the third period, scoring from Boulerice and Luc Chartrand with 1:44 left.

The Express had a golden opportunity to narrow the gap in the first half of the third period as Casselman took four minors in the first 9:25 of the period. The Express powerplay couldn't find the trigger however, even though Casselman played two of the first nine minutes of the period short two men.

Casselman outshot North Stormont 33-29.

Express Checkout

The Express are still making up games postponed by the ice storm. Tonight they play the Cougars in Vankleek Hill and then host Vankleek Hill Thursday night.

Vipers win two of three, inch ahead of Cougars

LONG SAULT - The Vipers won two of their three games last week, inching two points ahead of the Vankleek Hill Cougars in the race to avoid last place in the EOJCHL.

In a make-up game last Tuesday night they dumped the Cougars 7-5 in Vankleek Hill, avenging a loss the Saturday before to Vankleek Hill. They followed that up Saturday night with their second straight victory when Chris Proulx scored in a shoot-out to edge the North Stormont Express 6-5. The Vipers weren't so fortuante in Rockland Sunday night as they were blanked 8-0 by the Nationals.

The Cougars took a 7-3 pasting at the hands of the Casselman Stars Sunday afternoon after defeating the Rockland Nationals 8-3 on home ice Saturday night.

The Vipers will face the Cougars this Saturday night in Vankleek Hill in a make-up of their Jan. 17 game, which was postponed due to the ice storm. Sixth place could very well be riding on this, the last game of the regular season. The Cougars hold two games in hand over the Vipers and play back to back games against the North Stormont Express, on Wednesday and Thursday nights, before travelling to Long Sault Saturday night.

Vipers 7 - Cougars 5

Myles McPhail scored twice to lead the Vipers to their win last Tuesday night as the Vipers extracted a measure of revenge for their Jan. 31 loss to Vankleek Hill.

Long Sault led 3-2 after one and 5-4 after two. Proulx got the winner, from Chris Roy and Jason Leduc, with 13:48 to go and McPhail got the insurance goal, his second of the night, unassisted, near the midway mark of the third.

The Cougars took a 2-0 lead early in the first, getting goals from Martin Cormier and Ian Lalonde, but the Vipers came back with three before the period was over to take the lead for good.

Scott scored with 12:08 left in the period from Proulx and McPhail evened it on the powerplay with 7:27 to go, from Mike Belmore and Jamie Laframboise. Roy got the go-ahead goal with 56 seconds left in the period. Scott had the assist.

Scoring for Long Sault in the second were Adam Vachon, from Leduc and David Leblanc, and Belmore from Leblanc, on the powerplay. Carl Cadieux and Lalonde, with the Cougars' second powerplay goal of the game, scored for Vankleek Hill in the second.

Vipers 6 - Express 5

Roy figured in all five of Long Sault's regulation-time goals - scoring three - and Proulx got the winner on the Vipers' fifth straight goal in the shoot-out after the teams played through five minutes of overtime still tied at five Saturday night.

North Stormont led 2-1 after one as Rob Desormeaux got the first of his pair on the game, from Julien Benoit and J.F. Gagne, and Alf Philippen scored his first goal as a member of the Express while North Stormont's Eric Bourgeois was sitting out a hooking call. Roy got the first of his three 1:41 into the game from Scott and Proulx.

The teams traded goals in the first minute of the second, North Stormont going up by two at the 23-second mark when Desormeaux scored from Mike Kilroy and goaltender Jason Bright, and Long Sault coming back with one 18 seconds later off the stick of Roy, with the assists going to Proulx and Scott.

Philippen got his second of the game less than a minute later, from Bourgeois and Brian McEachern. Roy replied with his second at 5:55, from Proulx and Scott.

Roy got his third of the game, from Proulx and Charlebois, 7:42 into the third to tie it at four and Scott put Long Sault ahead 5-4 when he scored 30 seconds later from Roy and Proulx. Kilroy forced the overtime when scored from James Rolland with 8:11 left to play in the game.

Scoring for Long Sault in overtime were Scott and Jason Cholette, each with a pair, and Proulx. Scoring for North Stormont, who were missing their leading scorer, Mike Reimer, as well as Pat Albert and Ryan Swerdfeger, were Benoit, Philippen, Kilroy and Bourgeois.

Avonmore wins first, Berwick deadlocks series

FINCH - The Chesterville Canucks and Avonmore Aces split their NSIHL semifinal playoff games on the weekend, Chesterville winning 6-1 Friday night and Avonmore rebounding with an 8-7 victory Sunday night. Chesterville now leads the eight-point series 4-2.

In the weekend's other game., Berwick evened its series with Long Sault with an 8-4 win Friday night. Each team now has three points.

Canucks vs. Aces

Terry Barkley and Al McNairn each scored twice to lead the Canucks to their win Friday night. Kris Young and Chris VanBridger chipped in with singles as the teams did all their scoring in the second half.

Replying for Avonmore was Chris Lefebvre from Harold McBride.

Earning assists for the Canucks were Kent Young with two, Bob Deleevey, VanBridger, Derek Holmes and Jeff Moore.

Ed Dewitt and Frank Sinfield each scored three goals to lead the Aces to their first win of the series Sunday night.

The Canucks led 5-2 coming out of the first half on two goals each by Deleevey and John Morrow and a single by Hummell. Dewitt got both Aces goals in the first half.

They started their comeback at 17:13 of the second with Sinfield getting his first . Eric Lamothe scored for Avonmore at 16:28 and Sinfield got his second at 14:11 to tie it at five. Kris Young put Chesterville back out in front at 13:33 but Dewitt got his third at 7:56 and Dewitt go the winner with 5:17 left. Derek Holmes got Chesterville's seventh goal with three seconds remaining in the game.

Berwick 8 - Long Sault 4

The Dawgs took a 5-4 lead after one and pumped in three unanswered three second-half goals to even their series.

Scoring for Berwick in the first half were Steve Tait, Chad Brownlee, John Grady, Jeff McLean and Chris Leroux. Getting goals for Grumpy's were Andrew Barrie, Andrew MacEwan, Ken Konick and Craig Villeneuve.

Mike Grady got Berwick's sixth goal at 15:11 and Kevin Villeneuve fired a pair, at 8:29 and 6:57, to round out the scoring.

Hawks rebound against Rideaus after 73's end streak

KEMPTVILLE — The Winchester Hawks' seven-game unbeaten streak came to an end here Sunday night with a 6-3 loss at the hands of the Kemptville 73's.

The 73's scored three unanswered goals in the second period to erase a 2-1 deficit.

Ryan Nichol and Tylor Copeland scored for Winchester in the opening period, while Troy Patterson found the net for Kemptville.

Two goals by Dave Weagle and a single from Steve Saunders put the 73's firmly in control.

Russ Beckett and Greg Pilon scored in period three for Kemptville, while Craig Holmes replied for the Hawks.

On Saturday night in Westport, the Hawks overcame an early 3-0 deficit to rally past the Rideaus 10-7, thanks to a four-goal, three-assist effort from Winchester's Tylor Copeland.

The Rideau Division leaders came out flying, building up a 3-0 lead in the game's first two minutes on goals by Robert Coon, Aaron Lewis and Jeff Severson.

Not to be outdone, the Hawks special teams put on an impressive display. In a span of 2:40, the Hawks struck for goals by Chris Bailey on the powerplay, Shane Stroughair and Copeland with a short-handed effort to tie the game at three.

Westport opened up a 5-3 lead later in the period on goals by Martin Hawkins and Paul Lemay.

Chad Barnhart's goal with 2:30 remaining closed out a wild first period with the Hawks trailing 5-4.

An unassisted goal by Steve Sled midway through the second period temporarily restored Westport's two-goal advantage.

Goals by Copeland and affiliate Ian Ethier 55 seconds apart tied the game at 6-6 and chased Westport goalie Dave McCarthy from the cage.

Early in the third period, Copeland completed his four-goal effort, striking at the 1:07 and 3:57 marks to put the Hawks ahead 8-6.

Lewis added his second for Westport just past the midway point to narrow Winchester's lead to 8-7.

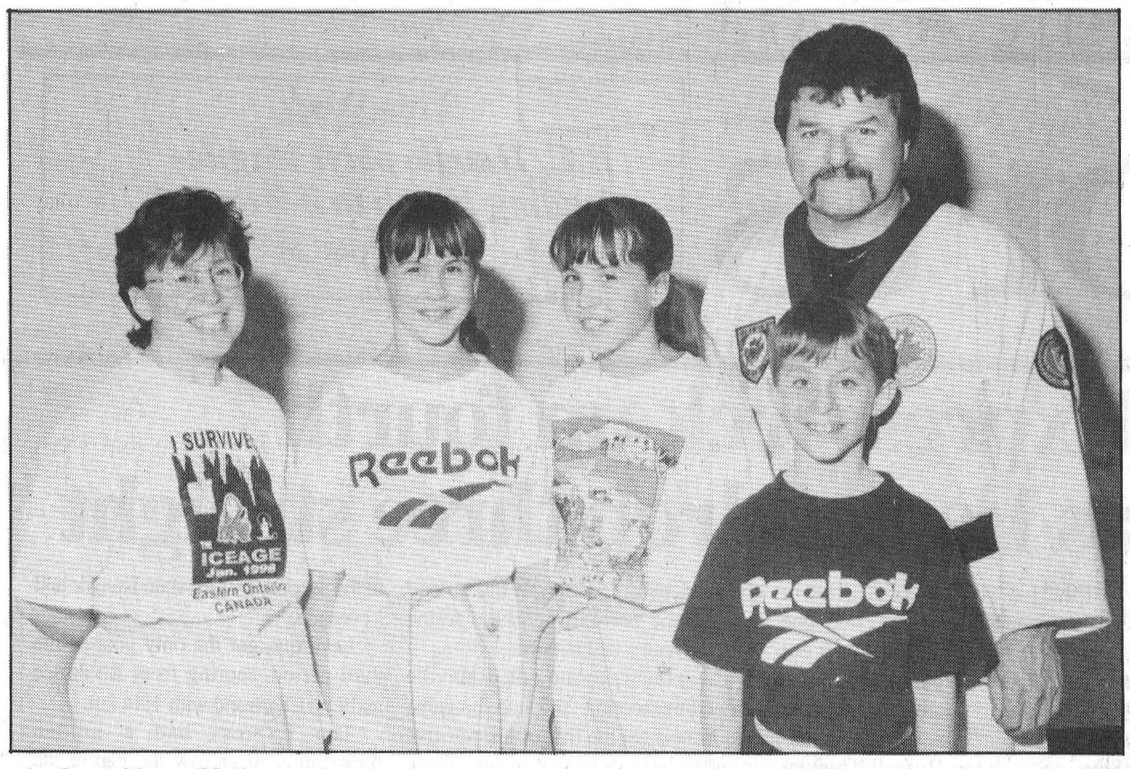
Goals by Nichol and Ethier in the final four minutes wrapped up the win for the Hawks.

On Friday night at home, the Hawks bounced Morrisburg 8-4.

Copeland had a hat-trick and one assist for the Hawks.

This weekend, Winchester closes out the regular season with games against Alexandria at home on Friday night at 8:15 p.m. and on Saturday night in Williamstown against Char-Lan at 7:45 p.m.

The Hawks have a three-point lead on the Rebels in the race for second place in the St. Lawrence Division.



A family affair

Atom B Demons win 7-2

CORNWALL - The North Dundas Atom B Demons scored three goals in each of the first and second periods as they overpowered Cornwall 7-2 in a UCMHL regular season game here Sunday.

Dale Dellaire led the ND attack with two goals and an assist.

Brian Cummings gave ND a 1-0 lead when he scored unassisted at 9:21. Cornwall's Ryan Campeau drew the home team even at 5:45 but ND counted twice within the next two minutes to take a 3-1 lead into the second. Scoring for the Demons were Darrel Moore at 4:47 from Justin Van't Foort and Dellaire with the first of his two, at 3:29 from Travis Armstrong and Adam Guy.

It was all ND in the second as the Demons popped in three to lead 6-1 going into the third.

Armstrong made it 4-1 from Dellaire and Guy at 7:10, Blain Moran made it 5-1 at 1:01 from Ben Baker and Cummings and Dellaire got his second of the game with six seconds remaining in the period from Armstrong.

Van't Foort scored unassisted with 4:13 to go in the game.

Cornwall got their second goal with five seconds left on the clock when Campeau scored unassisted.

Novice Demons dump NGS 6-1

The flu bug that laid the ND Senior Novice Demons low during the North American Silver Stick Championships on the last weekend of January continued to dog the team last week, forcing the postponement of a regular-scheduled league game against Morrisburg Tues., Feb. 3 but the Demons got their legs back under them Thursday night in Maxville, dumping NGS 6-1 to maintain their two-point lead over Cornwall for first place in the UCMHL east division.

The Demons hold two games in hand over Cornwall with a record of 18-1-0 and going into Tuesday night's game against Cornwall – 16-3-2 – had five games left in the regular schedule. They play third-place Morrisburg twice and fifth-place NGS and last-place Kemptville once each.

Colin Moran paved the way for the Demons' win over NGS with three goals and an assist. Trent Scott had a goal and four assists and captain James Kirkwood had a goal and three assists.

The Demons led 2-1 after one and turned up the heat in the second with four unanswered goals - three by Moran and one by Matt Simms..

Kirkwood and Scott scored in the first for ND and David Boar replied unassisted for NGS.

Jr. B playoff picture still not in sharp focus

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

WINCHESTER — It's going to be a hectic week in the Rideau-St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey League.

With the regular season set to conclude Sunday night, the playoff picture in both the St. Lawrence and Rideau Divisions is still to be determined.

The Winchester Hawks still have an outside chance at taking first place in the St. Lawrence Division. The Hawks trail the Alexandria Glens by one point.

The Glens are in Prescott Wednesday night to face the South Grenville Rangers in a game rescheduled from the ice storm.

Rideau-St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey League president John Shorey said there is a strong possibility that all 19 games cancelled by the ice storm will not be re-scheduled.

At the moment, the league is on course to have 15 of the games rescheduled, Shorey said.

"There may be some cases where a team will not get its full schedule in," he said. "Obviously it is a situation where ice time is limited. In that case we will determine the final standings on a winning percentage basis. There will be no defaults of games."

While first place may be a long shot for the Hawks, Winchester definitely can solidify its hold on second and home ice advantage in the first round of the playoffs this weekend.

The Hawks will meet Alexandria at home Friday night and will travel to Williamstown Saturday night.

A league meeting will be held Thursday night in Morrisburg to determine the playoff schedule, Shorey said. The St. Lawrence Division's First and Second All-Star teams will be selected as will the All-Rookie Team. Team representatives will also vote on the MVP and best defenseman awards.

"We should have a very exciting and competitive playoffs in both divisions," he said. "Everyone has a realistic shot at winning it all this season. The teams have been very competitive."

WE'LL GIVE YOU OUR BEST SHOT!

Kings win 36th Annual Belleville Shrine Club

The Rideau St. Lawrence Kings Minor Peewee team won five straight games to win the 36th Annual Belleville Shrine Club AA Minor Peewee Tournament Jan. 24 to 26.

Bryn Johnston and Joey Huddleston of Smiths Fall, along with Brockville's Erik Crooke, were named most valuable player, most valuable goalie and most valuable defenceman, respectively, for the high flying Kings.

Johnston fired six goals and five assists while linemate Robbie Waddell of Morrisburg fired seven goals and three assists. Bryan Knapp of Athens had a goal and five assists to round out the scoring with his hot linemates.

Huddleston was hot between the pipes allowing only four goals in three games while leading his team to victories in games one, three and five. Morrisburg's Matt Dillabough stood tall allowing only three goals in two games as he picked up well deserved wins between the pipes in games two and four.

Brockville defenceman Erik Crooke hammered oncoming opponents and broke up several rushes to be named the top defenceman.

The Kings notched a pair of goals in both the second and third periods to beat Wexford Mustangs 5-1 in game one. Morrisburg's Shawn Workman, Brockville's Phillip Kerneghan, Lyle Drew and Crooke had a near perfect game on defence moving the puck well from their own end. Brockville's Neil Baker added a pair of assists while playing his rugged style of play.

Kemptville's Matt Ward notched the winner with help from linemates Baker and Chris Thompson from North Dundas in a 3-1 win over the Whitby Wildcats in game two.

Kemptville forward-defenceman Matt Bruneau had three big assists and Johnston the natural hat trick to sink Toronto 4-1 in game three as the Kings finished the first round undefeated. Bruneau joined teammates Colin Bowie of North Dundas and Kemptville's Jeff Coleman on the injured list after the game because of a bad shoulder.

Waddell's two goals and two assists powered the Kings to a 4-2 semi-final win in game four over the Brampton Maroons. In the other semi-final Wexford was upsetting division one first place North Toronto 3-1 to set up the final between both division two teams.

Wexford's captain opened the scoring on a breakaway in the first minute of the final game to startle the Kings. The same player raced down the ice unmolested moments later only to be stoned on a big save by Huddleston. Wexford carried the play to the Kings as the teams were tied at 2-2 after two periods.

Thompson scored his biggest goal of the year from Baker and Ward with just over a minute into the third period for the winning goal followed by an insurance marker shortly after as Waddell scored from Johnston and Workman to seal the tournament championship.

Pee wees win 3 of 4

The Pee Wee Level I Demons are off to a good start in 1998 having dropped only one game in four after the Christmas break and the ice storm delay.

In the first game in the second half of the hockey calendar the Demons played the Gananoque Islanders in a 5-5 draw Jan. 28. Scoring singles for the Demons were Fady Mahfouz, Derek Vingerhoeds and Chris Kelly while Tim Gilmer scored twice. Single assists for the night were Josh McLean, Nathan Thompson, Tim Gilmer, Michael Zubatuk, while Derek Vingerhoeds and Kyle Stewart each had a pair. Goalies Sylvester and Currie turned back 22 shots with three of the five goals scored on Gananoque power plays.

The next game, Feb. 1 with the flu bug well entrenched in the team, the Demons went down to a 2-1 defeat against the Alexandria Glens. The only goal scored by the Demons was by Terry Morrow, unassisted. The Demons goalies, Currie and Sylvester turned away 28 of 30 shots by the Glens.

On Feb. 6, back up to full strength, the Demons blasted the South Stormont Selects with 40 shots, scoring 10 goals. The Selects countered with only two on 20 shots on net, one a power play goal. Scoring twice each were Josh McLean, Tim Gilmer - one a short handed goal - Nik Paas, Matt Baker - one a powerplay goal - and singles by Trenton McBain and Fady Mahfouz. Assists were added in the match by Josh McLean (3), Justin Morozuk (5), Nathan Thompson (1), Fady Mahfouz (1), Nik Paas (2) and Matt Baker (1).

The latest match, Feb. 8 against NGS, the Demons continued their winning ways by defeating them 7-2 and outshooting them 37-26 in a rough and tumble match with 35 minutes in penalties and a game misconduct handed out by the stripes. Nik Paas scored twice, one a power play, other goals were by Justin Morozuk, Trenton McBain, Chris Kelly, Terry Morrow and Derek Vingerhoeds. Assists for the day were Josh McLean (3), Nathan Thompson (1), Fady Mahfouz (1) and Tim Gilmer (2). The Demons record to date is 10-2-5 with 88 goals for, 39 against and cumulative points of 25 out of a possible 34.

Heagle holds Finch to 2-2 draw in FWBL

FINCH - Wendy Shaver got her second goal of the game at 20:35 of the second to pull Finch into a 2-2 tie with R.C. Heagle in Finch Women's Broomball Leagueu play here Monday night.

In Monday night's other game, Crysler moved past the Seaway Hawks 2-1 in overtime and into sole possession of third place.

Heagle 2 - Finch 2

Dara Ferguson, from Sandi Marcellus and Deana Ferguson,and Kim Beehler, from Glenda Helmer and Kim McCormick, got Heagle's goals. Shaver got her first at 15:19 of the first from Barb Canham and scored her second on the powerplay, from Canham and Cindy Brown, at 20:35 of the second.

Crysler 2 - Hawks 1

Goaltender Sylvie Laurin scored on a powerplay at 2:09 of overtime to give Crysler its second win of the season,

Roxanne Yelle scored, Crysler's first goal unassisted and Kim Norman scored unassisted for the Hawks. The Hawks picked up a point for the overtime loss and are within one of Crysler.
