THE NEWS in Brief

100 Club Father-Daughter Night

Winchester 100 Club members will entertain their daughters at to-night's (Thursday, Oct. 18th) regular meeting.

Chairman Bob Carkner has planned a very special program including a film presentation and all members are urged to attend accompanied by a daughter.

"If you haven't had the good fortune to have a daughter of your own." says Centurian Bob, "then by all means 'borrow one' for the evening'

Society Plans Fun-Games Day

Members of Winchester's 'Golden Years Society' are planning an afternoon of fun and games for Wednesday, November 7th and organizors, anticipating a large attendance, have planned a highly interesting program.

Members experiencing transportation problems are requested to call Jack Hatcher who suggests that more crokinole sets are needed for that afternoon.

Mr. Hatcher reports that to date no government grants have been received but he hopes favourable reports will be received soon.

Village Enforces Garbage By-Law

The Village of Winchester plans to rigidly enforce By-Law 73-10 concerning garbage pick-up.

Residents are urged to remember that no container should weigh over 40 pounds when filled and also that brush or wood must be tied in bundles not over three feet in length. Nails must be removed and no bundle should weigh over 40 pounds.

There are certain things that cannot be handled by the regular garbage detail and for this reason no one should set out such articles as bed springs, furniture, stones, bricks, cement, tires, eves-troughing, wire, animal or human waste.

Householders are asked to note that all garbage must be placed at the front lot line by 8:00 a.m. on garbage day.

Improve Winchester's Mail Service

Winchester Postmaster M. Galt advised the Press this week that, effective immediately, mail service for the area is being improved with the addition of a second dispatch.

In addition to the regular evening dispatch at 4:45 p.m. mail will also be leaving the Village office at 7:45 a.m. daily.

Register For Boating Course

Iroquois Power Squadron is conducting a variety of boating courses during the winter months designed to promote safer boating and those interested are requested to register to-night (Thursday, October 18th), at the Iroquois Legion Hall. The registration desk will open at 8:00.

The courses are being sponsored by the Canadian Power Squadrons and are fully covered by text books and necessary instructions.

Classes will be conducted by qualified instructors who are trained in the subjects and will be offering their time without charge.

Those interested in participation but unable to be present on registration night are requested to contact Lee McCurdy, Prescott; Al Newson, Cardinal; Keith Beaupre, Gerry Cornell, George Eddy, Iroquois; Doug McGillis, Morrisburg or Bob Geggie at Winchester.

Winchester By-Pass Enters Phase 1

The much-talked-about and long-awaited Winchester over-pass is finally becoming a reality.

The original by-pass plans, it will be remembered, did not include an over-pass at the railway crossing. Many months have passed since work on both North and South approaches ground to a halt as reams of red tape were untangled in an effort to encourage both Federal and Provincial governments to realize the importance of the construction of an over-pass on what was designed as a by-pass serving two extremely busy highways 31 and 43.

Early last spring there were indications the 'tape' had finally been unravelled and many expected to see heavy equipment moving in at that time. Political wheels turn very slowly, however, and it was not till late August that Grenville-Dundas M.P.P. Don Irvine issued a release stating that work would begin on September 4th.

Residents expressed bewilderment as the days continued to pass with no apparent action and those travelling the highways marvelled at the magnificent approaches to a non-existant by-pass.

This week the area is alive with activity as heavy equipment of all types moves onto the scene and already huge mounds of fill have begun to take shape. Literally mountains of such fill will be required before the two ends of the by-pass are finally linked together by the elevated overpass over the tracks.

The accompanying photo was taken on a chilly, windy Tuesday morning with the Village of Winchester clearly visible in the extreme background.

Winchester COC Plans Christmas Promotions

Fourteen members of Winchester Chamber of Commerce sat down to a luncheon meeting at the Country Kitchen last Thursday and high on the agenda were extensive pre-Christmas promotions.

President George Elliott presided at the enthusiastic gathering and Jack McIntosh submitted a comprehensive report of the recent, very successful, Trade Fair.

Although the balmy late-fall weather was not conclusive to Christmas planning the Christmas Parade and Santa's arrival were discussed at length and Joel Steele and George Callan were named to head a committee to plan and direct the big event.

It was learned that village council has agreed to decorate light poles for the festive season and members anticipated that all business places, as well as, private homes, will be colourfully decorated as is the custom.

Norm Dignard reported some progress on the proposed new signs to be erected at the various entrances to the village and members are hopeful when this project is completed the attractive signs will be illuminated and surrounded by flowers during the summer season.

Members were reminded the new village brochures are now available, and the attractive promotional material, when properly distributed, should prove a valuable asset to the thriving community.

Skating To-Morrow Night

Ice is in at the arena here in the village and Recreation and Community Centre Director Garry Murphy has announced that everyone is invited to enjoy public skating to-morrow (Friday, October 19th), in the afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00 and in the evening from 7:00 to 10:00.

Mr. Murphy also has indicated that the ice will be available for skating on Saturday night from 7:00 to 10:00; on Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 and also on Tuesday night from 7:00 to 8:30.

More To See In '73 At Ottawa Winter Fair

The 1973 edition of the Ottawa Winter Fair was off to a 'flying start' last night as fair-goers flocked to the Civic Centre attracted by the new slogan "MORE TO SEE IN 73".

Reports indicate they came away convinced the show was living up to its advance billing.

It was very evident there are more educational displays than ever before and the attractive displays of honey, maple syrup, cheese, apples, eggs, poultry, pork, beef and lamb drew rave notices.

Special entertainment including the Bavarian Dancers and Food in Salon A compliment the displays and exhibits and once again W.I. members are serving tea and cookies while another booth is offering delicious apple pie and cheese.

Musical Ride

The Musical ride, staged by the world-famous R.C.M.P. horsemen, is a feature attraction nightly and following each show, entertainment and refreshments, as well as dancing, is being offered in the Bavarian Lounge.

For those who seek excitement and thrills - Tom BIshop's 4-B Ranch will feature both the Saturday and Sunday matinees. This is the Championship Rodeo Show and Competition for 1973 and is open to local entries in all competitions with excellent prize money in all classes.

Cattle Shows

Although Guernsey Cattle were judged yesterday (Wednesday), the Holsteins are being exhibited to-day (Thursday) and Ayrshires will be the centre of attraction on Saturday.

On Friday judges will be faced with the difficult task of selecting winners from among the finest sheep in the Ottawa Valley.

Beef On Sunday

Sunday will see the return of competitive classes in beef with Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus breeds on display. The committee in charge of this division will endeavour to provide the judge, competitors and the public with actual show day weights, the ultra sonic measurements of loin eye and the fat covering of all animals. Judging will commence at 1:00 p.m.

Completing the livestock competitive classes will be the Barrow Show on Sunday at 4:00 p.m.

On display in the Cattle Castle will be representative animals from the Show Case Herd from the Central Experimental Farm and other prominent breeders in Eastern Ontario.

The Champion 4-H calves from Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec will be stabled in the Cattle Castle to-night (Thursday)

WINCHESTER TROUNCES IROQUOIS 13-0

Midgets Win Championship

The "Ault Foods" Midgets, who earlier in the year gave many of the league coaches the impression that they were to be just a so-so team proved them wrong last Thursday night, when they trounced Iroquois 13 - 0 in the fifth and final game to capture the league championship.

With a near capacity crowd in the stands (the largest of the year) braving the cool weather, the excitement and tension from both players and fans was something to witness.

Playing cautious ball in the first inning both teams went down in order 1,2,3.

However, the Winchester boys, hungry for a championship, didn't wait any longer than the second inning to fulfill their aim. With two men out and D. Hogaboam and B. Simpson on base B. Hanes stepped to the plate and unloaded a smashing triple to score both runners and put the team ahead 2 - 0.

In the third inning D. Hogaboam pitching a strong game retired the side 1,2,3 for the third inning in succession.

Holding a two run lead the Winchester team had no intentions of stopping in the bottom of the third. B. Eadie, L. McLean, D. Hogaboam, B. Simpson, G. Chamberlain and K. McRoberts all crossed the plate to put the game out of reach 8-0. The Iroquois boys, they just couldn't get going and were held to only two hits all night. By the seventh inning L. Reanney, B. Eadie, P. Morgan, G. Chamberlain and K. McRoberts had also crossed home plate to make the final score 13-0.

Highlights of the game was the high line drive that L. Reanney picked off at second base in the bottom of the second inning to prevent any rally the Iroquois squad might of started. B. Haines' triple which started the team off gave the club a big lift and B. Simpson who hit 3 for 4 also helped the club. D. Hogaboam who only had to face 24 batters, 3 more than the minimum number of 21, and as well allowed only two hits, speaks for the type of pitching the Winchester team had.

Throughout the series Winchester had superb pitching from both pitchers K. McRoberts and D. Hogaboam. This, along with heads-up ball and desire was what coaches, Arnold Hogaboam and Gary Murphy felt won the championship. The star for the losers would have to be S. Montpetit who pitched the last four games in the series and did an exceptional job.

To end the season there are many individuals, organizations and business firms deserving special thanks. The management and players want to thank Ault Foods for sponsoring them and giving 100 per cent support throughout the year. We can't forget the numerous volunteers such as umpires, car drivers, the people who donated entry fee money for tournaments, the press, the Lions Club in providing an excellent snack bar, the 100 Club for sponsoring our Midget Tournament and lastly the wonderful fans who followed the team all year and those extra persons who came out during the playoffs. A special thanks goes to Percy Douglas who was always around to pass the hat for a silver collection. From this writer's point of view we must congratulate Arnold Hogaboam for his time and interest in coaching and managing the boys for the greater part of the season by himself. A job well done Arnold!

Drainage Application Approved

Williamsburg township council, at last week's meeting, approved an application in the amount of $2,800 for tile drainage.

Following discussion it was also the decision of council that the reading of the Engineer's report for construction of the Toye Municipal Drain be held in the clerk's office on Thursday, October 18th.

The date for Court of Revision was set for 8:00 p.m. on the same date.

Fred Henderson was present at the meeting and requested an extension of the Barkley Creek drain system and this request was approved.

The road superintendent was instructed to purchase all available properties in connection with the widening of the second concession road east of the Crysler Park overpass.

Council Decides To Renovate Present Offices

Reeve Walter Shadbolt, following Monday night's meeting of the village council, announced that plans will proceed on the proposed renovation program at the Town Hall.

Following construction of the new Post Office there had been some suggestions that the village might be able to purchase the old Post Office building for municipal offices, but such a move is apparently not possible.

It was understood at that time the former Post Office building on St. Lawrence Street might be declared a 'surplus' structure by the Department, and under such circumstances the village might have been able to secure ownership at a very reasonable cost.

It has since been learned that the building is not to be placed in the 'surplus' class and consequently purchase by the village would not be financially feasible.

Mr. Shadbolt, aware of the inadequacy of present office facilities, is confident the present building can be transformed into modern administrative offices and at the same time the hall renovated in an effort to offer more suitable accommodations for judges and lawyers who must use it for Divisional Court purposes.

It is understood plans will be studied very soon and work begin during the winter months. It was suggested that possibly a L.I.P. grant might be available to help finance the project. However the deadline for applications for such a grant has passed and one councillor expressed some doubt that help could be expected from this program.

Contracts Awarded

Tenders for both snow removal and the oil contract were opened at Monday night's meeting and the snow removal contract was awarded to Redmond Sand and Gravel while Hugh Eadie received the oil contract.

The clerk read a letter from the town solicitors, J.L. Richards Associates, informing the council that an application had been forwarded to have the well at Highway 31 hooked into the system.

The clerk also read a letter from the Ontario Department of Transportation and Communications concerning a request for resurfacing of that portion of the Highways that passes through the centre of the village. The letter stated clearly that no financial assistance is available at this time.

It was also reported that conditions at the area dump are not up to the standard required by the Ministry but it is understood continued efforts are being made to improve this situation.

Change Meeting Times

St. Paul's W.M.S. members met in the Sunday School hall last week when the meeting opened with the singing of Hymn 553 and the reading of Psalm 46 in unison.

It was agreed to hold afternoon meetings during the fall and winter months at 2:30 on the second Monday of each month.

Mrs. Ledgerwood submitted the financial report and also read a letter from Miss Gardner, a former member of the society.

Mrs. McKercher reported on a Presbyterial meeting she and Mrs. Robinson had recently attended at Morrisburg and an invitation was received from Iroquois W.M.S. to attend their Thankoffering on October 28th.

Roll Call was answered with a verse of Scripture containing the word 'Work'. Letters were read from Miss Eleanor Knott, a Missionary serving in India and also from Mr. and Mrs. John Hall who are presently in Vietnam.

The devotions were taken by members of the executive and the Scripture was from the 14th Chapter of John.

An interesting question and answer period was conducted by Mrs. McKercher and Mrs. Ledgerwood and the meeting closed with a prayer.

Love Knows No Barriers

Last week Linda Hampson, 22 of Braithwaite, England and Franco Brogi, 27 of Sabudia, Italy were married and so romantic was their love story that they are now honeymooning in the Bahamas with prize money won in a contest run by two London (England) newspapers seeking "the most romantic love story".

It all began seven years ago when Linda was only 15 and not enjoying an educational cruise. Bored by the entire outing she wrote a note, tucked it into a pickle bottle and tossed it overboard.

The bottle drifted ashore between Rome and Naples where it was found by an old fisherman who gave it to his young friend, Franco Brogi.

The two became pen-pals and three years later Linda holidayed in Italy and when the two met for the first time 'Cupid' was right there. "Something clicked the minute we saw each other", said Linda and Franco agreed it was love at first sight.

Mrs. F. M. Cass Re-elected Hospital Auxiliary President

Mrs. F.M. Cass was re-elected for a second term as president of Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary at the recent annual meeting which was held at the hospital.

Nine groups answered roll call and reports indicated another very successful year.

The tremendous growth of the auxiliary unit was emphasized by the reading of minutes from the First Annual Meeting in 1948 and it was noted that the 50-cent membership rate remains the same to this day. It was also very interesting to hear the 25-year old report of donations to the hospital which included many cabbages which were made into sauerkraut by auxiliary members.

The present wool and knitting convenor reported 46 knitters had used over 50 pounds of wool in the past year.

Mrs. Chester Robinson presided for election and installation of officers and other members of the new slate include 1st. Vice President. Mrs. Linton Macartney. Ramsayville; Secretary, Mrs. Fred Hill, Morrisburg; Treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Summers. Winchester. Both Mrs. Cass and Mrs. Macartney will be attending the Annual Convention at Toronto later this month.

It was noted that the Williamsburg group will be in charge of the tuck cart during the month of November and members were urged to make a sincere attempt to replenish the supply of magazines with hopefully a more up-to-date vintage.

Prior to adjournment Mr. Stel selected the winning ticket to complete the recent raffle for a knitted afghan and the winner was Miss Marion Casselman of Chesterville.

PICTURE: A very successful banquet was enjoyed recently when auxiliary members honoured the teen-age volunteers and their mothers. The delicious meal was prepared and served by the dietary staff of the hospital and the girls who gave so willingly of their time and talent are shown in accompanying photo.

MARCELLUS—In loving memory of a dear Grandson, Michael G. Marcellus, who was accidentally killed October 19, 1968.
Thoughts wander as daylight fades
To the land of long ago,
And memory paints the scenes of old
In the gold of the twilight glow.
We seem to see in soft, dim light
A face we love the best,
Sweeter vision as the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far-off west.
—Sadly missed and always remembered by Grandma Marcellus 25p

IN MEMORIAMS

BROWN—In memory of a dear father, Wm. C. Brown, who died October 18, 1970.
We never understood
At least until we had grown
The fullness of a father's love
The joys and care he had shown.
We did not see the simple things
He did from day to day
We simply took for granted
His wonderful loving ways.
But as we grew our wisdom grew
Until the moment when
We knew how much his love had meant
How wonderful he had been.
So with warm and loving thoughts
We would simply like to say
Our father will always be remembered.
Today and every day.
—Witze, Anna and family. 25c

MCDIARMID—In loving memory of a dear brother-in-law and uncle, Clarence McDiarmid who was killed accidently Oct. 18, 1972.
Gone are the days we used to share
But in our hearts you are always there
The gates of memory will never close
We miss you more than anyone knows.
—Ever remembered by the Park Families 25p

WEAVER—In sad and loving memory of a dear little daughter and sister, Allannah, who departed this life so suddenly on October 19, 1971.
There are earthly buds transplanted
For our coming watch and wait
In the upper garden growing
Just within the pearly gate.
Though our hearts break with sorrow
And the grief is hard to bear
We shall meet some bright morning
In the upper garden there.
—Ever remembered by Mom, Alice, and little sisters Daphne, Shannon and Shelley. 25p

MARCELLUS—In loving memory of our dear son, Michael Gordon Albert who was killed in a car accident October 19, 1968.
As we look upon your picture
Sweet memories we recall
Of a face so full of sunshine
A smile for one and all.
Though your smile has gone forever,
And your hand we cannot touch
We shall never lose sweet memories
Of the one we loved so much.

Please God take a message to him in heaven above. Tell him how much we miss him. And give him all our love.
—Truly missed and lovingly remembered Mom and Dad. 25c

Cards of Thanks

MARCELLUS—In loving memory of our dear brother Mike who was killed in a car accident Oct. 19, 1968.
We all loved you for your thoughtfulness
Your kind and loving ways
We loved you for the things you did.
Without a thought of praise.
It is not strange that the one we need
And the one we loved the best
Is the one that God needed too
And took him home to rest.
—Sadly missed by brothers and sisters: Diane, Eric, Veronica, Nathen, Mary Jane, Lynne, Albert and Cheryl. 25c

Still Blooming

Frosty nights that nipped most area foliage failed to dampen the spirits of the rugged blooms that beautifully decorate the home of Sparling Summers here in town.

Although at press time strong winds from the North accompanied by fast-moving black clouds appeared to be heralding the approach of winter. the blooms still defiantly reached for the occasional ray of sunshine apparently determined to continue their battle against the elements.

Adult Hockey Proposed For Winchester

Winchester will have a new exciting hockey program this coming season with the formation of a 4-team league of players who no longer qualify for the minor hockey program.

Billed as 'Adult Hockey' it will bring together many talented young players including former Junior 'Stars'; some who played for area Intermediate clubs and others who 'just played hockey a few years ago.

It is understood that since most players will come from the area's work force no 'body contact' will be allowed thus assuring a fast, clean brand of hockey with little or no chance of injury.

An organizational meeting at the arena on Monday night was well attended and so enthusiastically was the proposal accepted that 35 players have already registered. The maximum number will be 56 and those interested are advised to register as soon as possible.

The next two Thursdays, October 18th and Oct. 25th, and also Tuesday, October 23rd have been booked for initial work-outs when players will have an opportunity to get back 'in shape' before the league opens. Ice time on Thursdays will be from 10:30 till 11:30 and on Tuesday from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m.

It is hoped the first league game will be played on November 1st. According to Recreation and Community Centre Director Garry Murphy teams will be selected by a draft system with representatives from all four teams.

Those wishing to participate are requested to call Mr. Murphy at 774-2006 without delay.

It's Bowling Time Again

Another sign that winter is rapidly approaching is the arrival of the first bowling report from Sutton's Lanes here in Winchester.

The first group to get under way has apparently been the Happy Gang and initial results show Judy Stewart rolling the high cross with 586 and Judy Fisher registering the best single, 247.

Besides the two Judy's three players scored over the 500 mark in their first outing: Muriel Levere, 562; Irene Ouimet, 539 and Gloria Nelson, 505.

Embrun Panthers On Winning Streak

Embrun 'Panthers', again this season competing in the Ottawa and District Intermediate "A" Hockey League, have started the season off with two wins - one on home ice over Killaloe and the second at Shawville.

The powerful Intermediate squad has added familiar area names to this season's roster and early scoring reports shown Barry Graham (formerly with Ottawa 67's), as well as Ken Kelly and Bob Woods, both former Metcalfe Jets, appearing in the statistics column.

Teams competing in the league include: Embrun, Shawville, Killaloe, and Wendover.

Al D. Davis is league president; Albert Bourdeau, vice president and the man handling secretarial chores along with statistics and publicity is Roger Roy of Embrun.

Panther 'Home Games' from now till January 1974 as follows: Sunday, October 21, Wendover at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.; Friday, October 26, Shawville at Embrun at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday, November 4, Killaloe at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.; Sunday, November 11, Wendover at Embrun at 7:00 p.m.; Sunday, November 18, Shawville at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.; Friday, November 23, Killaloe at Embrun at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday, December 2, Wendover at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.; Friday, December 7, Shawville at Embrun at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday, December 16, Killaloe at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.; Sunday, December 23, Wendover at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.; Sunday, December 30, Shawville at Embrun at 2:00 p.m.

AND HORSES

Again this year heavy horses from Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec will be a feature attraction and Friday evening's show will include the interesting and attractive six-horse hitch classes.

One of the greater attractions over the years in the Ottawa Winter Fair has always been the light horse show and this year is no exception with entries from the Ottawa Valley, Western Quebec, other points in Ontario and as far west as Alberta and also entries from the United States.

It is expected members of the Canadian Equestrian Team will be riding in the open jumping classes each evening with the Rothmans Grand Prix $2,000 at stake.

Before the final curtain drops on this year's fair some lucky ticket holder will be declared winner of the beautiful Conn organ. The instrument was purchased from Fawcett Organ and Piano Studios at Winchester and tickets will be on sale throughout the entire five-day program.

Organizers guarantee educational events and plenty of fun both day and night and assure all that no one should go away hungry since delicious refreshments will be available at all times.

Bus Tour Profitable For Metcalfe C. C.

A recent bus trip to Washington, D.C., organized by the Recreational Association and directed by Mrs. Albert McKeown, resulted in a net profit of $400.70 for the Community Centre at Metcalfe.

Reporting on the eventful 4-day excursion Mrs. McKeown told the Press that possibly because this was the first such venture the bus was not filled but so enjoyable was the sight-seeing tour that many have already requested immediate plans for other such ventures.

Suggestions included a winter trip to Florida; a return to Washington in blossom time and also an Easter time trip to New York.

Following is Mrs. McKeown's colourful description of the exciting tour: "Friday morning (Oct. 5th) our bus left Ottawa early in the morning and although it was raining when we left the sun soon broke through the overcast and bathed the countryside in all its beautiful fall colours. Arriving at Washington we immediately noted the cleanliness of the big city and by nightfall the lights reflecting from the huge buildings seemed to be extending a friendly welcome to all visitors."

"On Saturday morning we toured the White House and words simply cannot describe the beauty of this historic structure. During the day we also visited the Smithsonian Institute and the space centre." "A sight-seeing bus tour included visits to Washington Monument, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial and also the Ford Theatre where President Lincoln was assasinated. Of special interest was the house across the street where Mr. Lincoln died and here the furniture remains just as it was on that fateful night."

"Everyone was thrilled when we visited Arlington Cemetery where graves are all marked with the same type of marble slab and the long lines of monuments form straight lines when viewed in any direction."

"We also visited the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Curtis Lee Mansion and the Wax Museum."

"It was a trip we'll never forget and with requests being received almost daily there seems little doubt other such tours will be arranged in the future."

Area Man Dies Suddenly

Metcalfe and area residents were saddened to learn of the sudden death of Herbert H. Coulson on Monday, October 15th.

A long-time village resident he had always displayed a keen interest in all community activities.

Besides his wife, the former Fernande Daoust he is also survived by one son, Paul.

Funeral service at Hulse and Playfair Central Chapel was conducted at 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday.

We're Not Physically Fit

Situation More Prominent In Women

A recently completed fitness research project has provided evidence in support of the theory that the fitness level of Canadians is lower than that of people in countries where comparable studies were made.

Announcing the results of a project carried out at the University of Saskatchewan, Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde stressed that the findings have major implications on the health of Canadians.

Results of tests on Saskatoon residents indicate that while the fitness level for both sexes is low, the situation appears more critical for women. Forty-seven percent of the women scored in the low-fair category, as compared to 40 per cent of the men. The lowest fitness rating of all those tested was for women ranging in age from 20 to 29 years, with 54 per cent scoring in the low-fair category.

The project was directed by Dr. Don Bailey, and was carried out with the assistance of a grant from the Department of National Health and Welfare. It involved 1,544 persons representing a broad cross-section of the Saskatchewan community. It included 845 females and 699 males, ranging in age from 15 to 69 years.

Project results were compared with Scandinavian norms and American Heart Association cardio-respiratory fitness classifications of 1972.

Results also confirmed that those who are inactive or sedentary scored lower in cardio-respiratory fitness than those who indicated they are physically active.

Quarterback Club Resumes At Metcalfe

Area football fans will be pleased to note that the weekly quarterback club at Metcalfe will be re-activated next Monday night (October 22nd).

Because Ottawa Rough Riders were on the road for two consecutive weekends the Monday night activities at the curling club were cancelled during that period.

However, with two victories to report and game films to show highlights of both contests, it is anticipated the club room at the curling rink will be jammed for the next session.

Organizers report they expect to have Gerry Campbell, Gerry Organ and Doug Collins on hand and with the Riders already eyeing another Gray Cup this could prove one of the most interesting meetings of the season. See you there!

Let The World Know

It has long been agreed that there are three sure-fire ways of moving valuable information from one place to another - - telephone, telegraph and tell a woman. But if a worthwhile project is being planned there is yet another, and much more valuable means, of letting the world know about it. And of course we mean through the pages of your weekly newspaper.

Most organizations are well aware of the untold value resulting from the use of this easily available source, and consequently they reap the harvests of success. Unfortunately, however, too few take the time to submit comprehensive reports following the big event.

Community organizations should remember that, although the 'weekly' is happy to help with promotion, it is also very eager to have news stories concerning the activities themselves. It has been said, and all too often, that "a reporter should have been in attendance". But it must be common knowledge to most readers of weekly newspapers that it is not financially possible to employ a sufficiently large staff to have all such events 'covered'.

The thousands who almost religiously study every printed line in their favourite weeklies are pleased that most organizations make use of the valuable source to promote activities. But those same people all too often search vainly for some post-event reports.

The opinion here is that most organizations, be it church group, service club, or any other community-minded association, overlook one very important step when setting up committees. We refer, of course, to the publicity committee, since such a committee, carefully selected and efficiently directed, can not only assure the success of most projects but also spread the good word to an anxiously waiting world.

After all when plans are being drafted steps are always taken to let the people know. But remember, following the final curtain the same interested public is looking for reports. So, why not let the world know?

Still No Teeth In It

Government-sponsored denticare schemes have sprung up in the past few years so quickly that one has the impression no Canadian politician can stand the sight of a child with crooked teeth, says Basil Jackson in The Financial Post.

Certainly every ethical dentist wants to see children - and adults - in good dental health, and the Canadian Dental Association (CDA) and most of the provincial dental associations have for years been badgering governments to provide the funds for denticare.

"But in some places denticare has become a political football," says Dr. David K. Peters, CDA president. "We sometimes wonder if our goals will be won."

Risk Of Falls

With cool weather now upon us, and ice and snow just around the corner, the "fall" season is with us in more ways than one. The slippery conditions fostered by cold weather, snow and ice increases the risk of on-farm injuries caused by falls, says Don Brown of the Farm Safety Association.

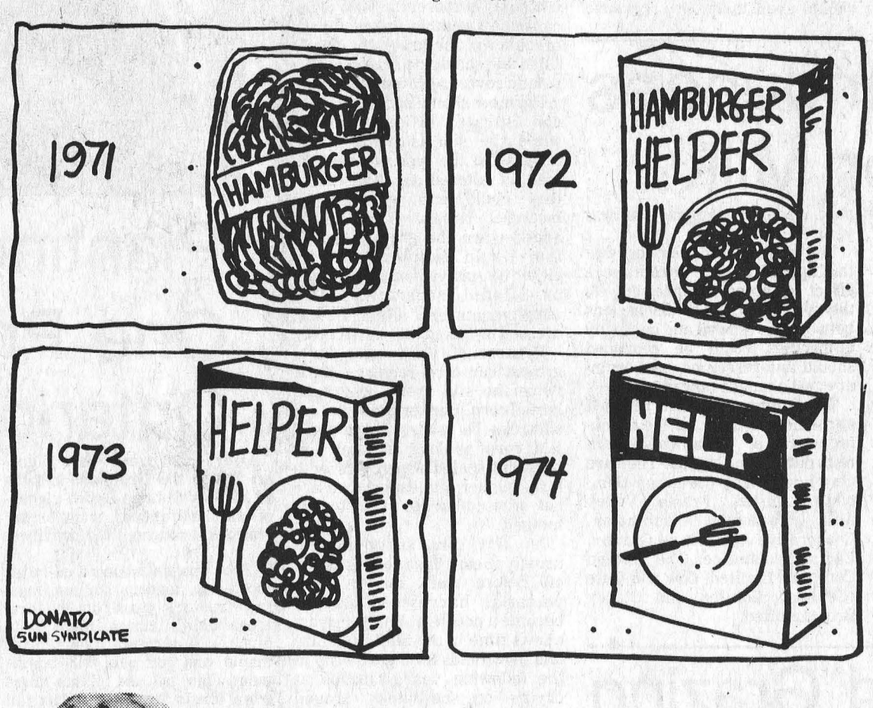
Surprisingly, falls are a cause of one-third of all farm injuries in the United States and are a serious threat to life and limb at any time of year. A high proportion of such accidents can be prevented with a little extra care and caution.

Alertness is the best weapon against accidental falls. Illness, undue haste, fatigue, emotional upset, effects of alcohol or drugs, all make a fall more likely. Avoid potentially hazardous chores when any of these conditions prevail.

Falls occur most frequently in cluttered working quarters, on slippery surfaces caused by ice, snow, mud, water, or oil slicks, and where flooring is broken and on rickety ladder. To lessen the chances of falling under these conditions, keep all stairs well-lighted and in good repair, do not carry a vision-blocking load, schedule regular clean-ups of work areas, and always set ladders on a firm footing. A good rule of thumb for ladders is to place the base of the ladder one foot out from a building, for every four feet of height.

Materials and tools should always be well-secured and within easy reach. Wear shoes with nonskid soles and heels and don't work in high places when the weather is windy or stormy. Be careful if running machinery, particularly outdoors in the winter, so that an accidental slip does not throw you into the moving parts.

Towed machinery and drawbars should never carry riders.



Bill Smiley writes IT'S TOUGH TO BE MIDDLE CLASS

My daughter Kim and her husband are having a tough time these days. He's starting a post-graduate course at university, and she's well into an under-graduate course in advanced pregnancy.

But that's not what's tough. Those things are normal, exciting, and even joyful.

It's the eternal problem for students, and for most of the rest of us, of money, scarcity of.

At first, I was inclined to scoff. "Ah! You kids!. You don't know what it's like to be hard up. You get all those grants and loans. Why, when your mother and I...blah blah blah."

Not that they're going to starve. They do get just enough to get by. But when you're young and impatient and have been spoiled in a middle-class home with most of the amenities, you get a little sick of "getting by."

You'd like to buy an occasional roast, instead of trying to think of another method of making a delicious hamburg dish. In fact, at today's prices, you can't even afford hamburg too often.

You'd like to go to a show once in a while, or have a party, or have the clothes to go to someone else's party. But there just isn't anything in the budget for these fairly simple pleasures.

You'd like to have a car, like most normal people, and be able to drive into the country or visit friends, or go home for a weekend and have some decent food from the old folks' groaning board. Can't afford it.

You'd like to have colour TV, or even black and white, but there are no funds. You'd like some new, warm winter clothes, but you have to make do with last year's five-year-old shabby duffle-coat, and last year's leaking boots.

If you're pregnant, you'd like to start making a nest, fixing up a home. But on the rent you can afford, you wind up in a crumby flat where you share the bathroom and the stove doesn't work and the decorating is in puke colour and the thermometer never goes higher than 65.

It can all be pretty depressing unless you have plenty of physical and mental fortitude.

There's love, of course, to fall back on. But from what I've seen in my day, love flourishes a lot better when there's some bread on the table and some bread in your wallet.

My wife and I went through the whole bit, but I can't help feeling more pity for today's young couples than I ever felt for us.

First of all, we were products of the depression, and didn't expect much. When we did get a little windfall, we counted our blessings and promptly went out and spent them.

I remember the time one of my uncles dies intestate. By the time the estate had been cut up among the numerous nieces and nephews, we got something like $102.50. It was manna from heaven.

We went straight out and bought a radio, a case of beer, a bunch of stuff at the delicatessen, and had a party. To heck with tomorrow or next week.

But I must admit that life was a lot simpler then, and a great deal cheaper. We had a child, and we got more pleasure out of him than we would have from colour TV, a penthouse apartment, and a Cadillac.

We had a furnished flat in one of the grimmer sections of the city. Shared the bathroom. Furniture was Salvation Army specials. But my wife redecorated the place, and it had two entrances and a backyard with real trees and grass. It cost $15 a week. Furnished.

Today you can scarcely rent one room for that. We had a total income of about $130 a month. That covered rent, food, clothes, transportation. About once a month we'd have a real blowout. Baby-sitter (75 cents); movies (75 cents each); half a dozen cokes (36 cents) and a bag of peanuts (15 cents). Wow! That's living.

We weren't bored, or desperate. We talked, read, studied, listened to the radio, gloated over our child.

Holidays, I worked in the post office or in a factory, to pick up a few extra bucks. Smokes were roll-your-owns.

It wasn't bad, but I used to get mightly sick of never having a dollar that didn't have a slot waiting to gulp it.

I've never been sorry that my plans for post-graduate work and three or four more years of poverty went up in flames and I was tossed by accident into the hurly-burly of the newspaper business.

Today's students work hard at dull summer jobs, save every nickel, get grants, but have to scrape on the edge of poverty and shabbiness. I pity them.

The Sign Of The Fish

by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

The first age of Christianity was an age of repression and persecution. Christians needed secret code words and symbols by means of which to communicate with one another.

One that could be innocently traced on the ground with a stick, as people passed by, was the fish. It was adopted because the Greek word for fish, "ichthus", was an acronym for Greek words meaning, "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Savior." It was adopted because of the significant role of fishing in the Gospels.

For instance, Mark reports that, at the beginning of his public ministry, Jesus walked along the beach of the Lake of Galilee, near the city of Capernaum. He was recruiting that day. He saw two fish merchants, Peter and Andrew. He said to them, "Follow me and I will make you become fishers of men."

Three years later, Jesus confirmed his resurrection by a number of appearances. One of these is reported in the closing chapter of John's Gospel. The Master was the kind of guide described by H.V. Morton in a book about his travels in Palestine.

He came upon two men fishing off the shores of the Lake of Galilee. The one man waded out from the shore and was casting a bell net into the water. Time after time the net came up empty. While he was waiting for another cast, his colleague shouted to him from the beach to fling to the left since, in the clear water, he could see a shoal of fish moving swiftly that way. The man did so and drew up a net full.

It is a pity that more churches are not comprised of better fishermen nowadays. Robert McAfee Brown has pointed out that many an individual says in effect. "I joined the church in the last town in which we lived. The first thing they did was put me on the bowling team and my wife in the kitchen. Now I am going to settle down and be a comfortable pagan."

Jesus calls men and women for vital discipleship. Do we merely shuffle their secular or social activities? Is there anything distinctive about the commitment expected of them? Have we caught the vision of Jesus who wants the Church to be a model for the community and a miniature of the potential of humanity? What has happened to the sign of the fish?

A congregation is, ideally, an ecumenical outpost. It promotes the kind of unity in mind and heart that permits and actually rejoices in diversity.

A congregation is, ideally, a school. Its teacher is the world's supreme teacher. He expects it to have the best equipment, books, and continuing programs in order that all age groups may grow in the knowledge of God and in ways of bringing the Christian conscience to bear on decision-making bodies shaping the future of the locality.

A congregation is, ideally, a family in which helpfulness and reconciliation are obvious. Each individual offers some talent, gift, skill or experience for the fulfillment of its mission. Its members are loyal to its worship and customs. They cherish its memories and rejoice that they can plan for the needs of those who will come after them.

A congregation is, ideally, orientated in a global direction. Phillips Brooks, the eminent American preacher, was once asked what he would do if he became the minister of a run-down church. He thought for a minute and said, "I would gather whatever people I could get together. I would preach the best sermon I could on 'Missions'. Then I would take up an offering for work overseas."

A congregation is the individual writ large, just as the Church Universal is people. If we have been toiling with little or no success, if we are discouraged, maybe our ideals need mending. At any rate, there is only One who can tell us where to cast our nets and fill us with the joy of discovery. But first we must obey his words. "Follow me!"

The Seventh Column

Sometimes readers send in clippings they have saved from ancient copies of the Winchester Press. Clippings that reveal unusual weather conditions of some long-forgotten era. Maybe sometime in the years that are to come this paragraph will be clipped and forwarded and if so, then some reader, possibly yet unborn, will be able to note that the fall of '73, (and in particular the first two weeks of the month of October) were beautiful beyond description. With sunny daytime temperatures in the high 70's and brilliant moon-lit nights in the 40's making it almost possible to completely forget the soaring cost of living, the corruption at many government levels, the ravages of war in other parts of the world - - and even the startling fact all those pretty girls you went to school with, (only yesterday it seems) are now grandmothers.

This week we 'doff' the old fedora to our midget softball team. Last Thursday night, before one of the largest crowds of the entire season, the home-town boys literally bombed their opponents to win the league title. Hopes had dimmed earlier in the week when Iroquois led the best-of-five series two games to one and had an opportunity to wrap it all up on their home park. Arnold and Gary [that's coaches Hogoboam and Murphy], however had other plans. Inspired by a bus-load of dedicated fans the team downed Iroquois to force a fifth, and deciding, game right here at home. With victory now in sight the local lads rode rough-shod over the river-front boys much to the delight of the faithful supporters who sat through the entire game despite chilling autumn temperatures and fog patches that sometimes almost hid the outfielders. Congratulations boys -- now away with the softball gear -- time to tape the sticks and polish the blades.

The tireless efforts of our area correspondents are always greatly appreciated and it is sometimes very difficult to make suggestions without sounding critical - and critical we most definitely are not. However, because of the benefits derived by both the correspondent and the news editor, we urge that all news items, personals, etc. submitted for publication be typed (or written) on only one side of the page. Sometimes important material goes unnoticed because it is written on the back of a sheet and, as a result, the news editor and the correspondent both bear the brunt of severe criticism. Please, write on one side only - type the message if a typewriter is available - and if being written use a pen and write very clearly. Such co-operation will be greatly appreciated by all concerned.

The September issue of Carleton Educational Bulletin tells of the farewell party last summer honouring retiring Osgoode Township High School teacher Jack Twiname. Those who all too often abuse sick-leave privileges [and this includes not only teachers but the entire work force of the nation] should note that Mr. Twiname, over a period of 40 years in his chosen profession, missed only 3½ days through illness.

When was the last time you took the time to meander through Winchester? Oh, we don't mean simply following the ribbon of bumpy asphalt identified on road maps as Highways 31 and 43! What we really mean is when was the last time you walked leisurely through some of the beautiful new sections of the village? If you haven't done so recently then be assured there's a treat in store for you. The village is expanding rapidly and in all areas viewed by this writer the new ultra-modern homes are a credit to the community. But growth has to be noticed on other fronts as well. For example, very quietly yet extremely efficiently, the enterprise directed by Bill Collins has been greatly enlarged; and in another corner of town a foundation is rapidly taking shape on the site of the town's old rink, meaning, of course, that the village's major industry, Ault Foods Ltd., is also stretching out. And we're convinced if the ageing legs hadn't began to tire, other sectors of the village might have revealed startling signs of progress as well.

The Porteous boys over at Vernon used to become quite incensed when someone referred to their favourite town as "the only cemetery in the area with street lights". Whoever coined that 'nasty' remark most assuredly passed through the village at night since otherwise he would have found a thriving business community. Yes, the addition of the newest enterprise, George Petric Automobiles, is most definitely a great asset to the friendly community. But one has to also consider that slipping through town in a fast moving automobile gives one little time to note such busy establishments as Porteous M & M; L.J. Cameron Farm Equipment; Dowser's Barber Shop; Loughleed's Snack Bar and Gift Shop; Sheldrick's Garage; Dominion Garage; Wyatt's Upholstering; not to mention others who carry on business at other centres but make their homes in the strictly rural environment. Both 'Big' Bill and 'Little' Roy suggest that the 'nasty' slogan be erased from the records, and because both are ardent football fans and know the concentration of activity at certain parts of the playing field, they suggest their home town slogan be changed to read 'Coffin Corner'.

KCAT AGRONOMIST SUGGESTS

Ground High Moisture Corn Winter Feed Needs Answer

Livestock feeders who grow their own corn should take a long look at ground high moisture corn, suggests Carl Moore, agronomist at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

"Ground HM corn, either ear or shelled, stores better than whole kernel HM corn, because it is less subject to spoilage," says Moore. It can be stored in a concrete or concrete stave silo, as long as the silo surface and doors are sealed with plastic and there are no holes in the wall. Older silos should be reinforced with extra metal hoops before they are filled. Moore warns. Properly reinforced, these older silos provide an excellent, economical storage area for ground kernel or ear HMcorn.

For efficient harvesting of ground HM corn, one of the newer forage harvesters, equipped with a re-cutter screen or a mixer-grinder, can be used to grind ears at the silo. Farmers feeding hogs should shell their corn, because hogs cannot utilize the cobs, and remember that hogs require a finer grind than cattle.

Three to four days of good picking conditions should provide enough corn to fill a 12-foot by 35-foot silo. The corn should be ensiled at from 28 per cent to 35 per cent kernel moisture. If there is a delay of more than two days, caused by weather or machinery breakdown, the top of the partly filled silo should be sealed with a plastic cover to prevent spoilage.

Farmers should not add protein concentrates or supplements while the silo is being filled, because, if the type of livestock feed is altered in mid-season, they could end up with an incorrect ration. If they are added when the grain silage is fed, liquid supplements can either be sprayed onto the silage or offered separately. Dry supplements can either be top dressed or mixed into the silage.

Because of its greater bulk, ground ear corn requires about twice the silo space of ground kernel corn. Bunker or horizontal silos can be used to store grain HM corn as long as they are properly sealed. Operators with little bunker silo experience are not advised to use this storage method.

An HM corn silage system usually means that corn is taken off before stalk rot or other potential harvest headaches become a problem. Early harvest allows time in the fall to fertilize and plow fields for a good crop in the following year. Lineups at dryers or snowbanks around cribs, are both avoided, and concentrated, palatable feed is available for year-round feeding.

Agric. Minister Announces Price Increase For Milk

Ontario dairy farmers who produce milk for table use are to receive an additional $1.23 per hundredweight for their milk, effective October 1. This follows an agreement between Canada and Ontario as announced today by Federal Agriculture Minister, Eugene Whelan.

In addition to the increase to producers, the agreement provides for a roll-back of one cent per quart to the consumer from current prices, immediately. A consumer price increase of approximately 3 cents per quart had been planned for October 1.

The action on fluid milk prices was made possible by a Federal consumer subsidy of five cents per quart.

From the consumer standpoint it means that the price increase of 3 cents per quart planned for October 1 will be avoided and there will be a one cent reduction in price to the consumer. It is our understanding that the price reduction will be in effect during the week of October 15. The other cent is being used to stabilize the prices over the next year.

Provision in the agreement has been made for a re-opening of discussions on prices if circumstances warrant it.

The $1.23 increase per hundredweight raises the farm price for raw milk in Southern Ontario from $7.90 to $9.13 per hundredweight, and in Northern Ontario from $8.47 to $9.70 per hundredweight.

contain and roll back instantized skim milk powder prices to the consumer.

"The price of instantized skim milk powder in Canada will be reduced by at least 17 cents per pound effective Monday, October 15, from the level that was in effect on October 3, 1973 the Minister said.

The action on instantized skim milk powder prices was made possible by a federal consumer subsidy of 20 cents per pound. One pound of the powder will make four quarts of milk, thus the rollback is 4¼ cents per quart.

The three-cent difference between the subsidy and the rollback will be used by the companies to cover, at least in part, cost increases for the next year.

The agreement provides that this agreed price will remain in effect for a year, subject only to the provision that discussions between the federal and company authorities could be reopened should unforeseen or extraordinary cost changes take place.

The companies which reached agreement include all the manufacturers of instantized skim milk powder in Canada. They are Gay Lea Foods, Carnation Company Limited, Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association, Cooperative Agricole de Granby, Lactantia Limitee, The Borden Company Limited, Cow and Gate (Canada) Limited and Stacey Bros. Limited.

Eight Companies Agree On Skim Milk Price

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan announced today that agreement has been reached with eight companies in Canada to

Simulated Grazing Is Disastrous To Winter Wheat

Prospects for a lush top growth of winter wheat are good this fall and farmers may be concerned that these rapidly-growing fields are highly susceptible to winterkill.

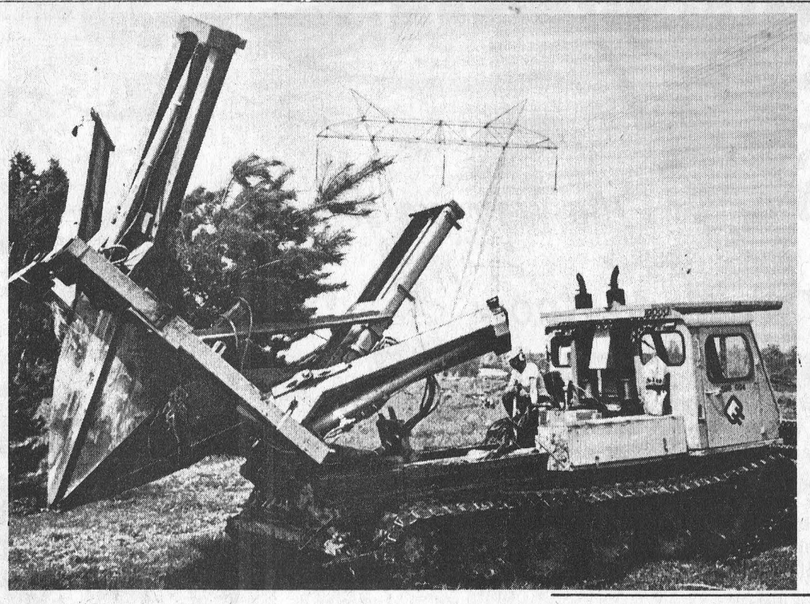
They needn't worry, according to Dr. C.S. Baldwin, head of the soils section at the Ridgetown College of Agricultural Technology. Field trials conducted in 1971-72 proved that concern about winterkill is unwarranted no matter how tall the crop, and that clipping it invites disaster.

The fall of 1971 was a year with exceptionally good growing conditions for winter wheat. By mid-November, many fields were showing excess top growth, some stands 18 inches high. For their experiment, the soils section chose one area near Tilbury, Ontario, where the wheat was about 15 inches high with some spots measuring 23 inches.

To simulate grazing conditions, researchers used a sickle bar mower to clip some of the stands to a three-inch stubble. By mid-December, the clipped areas appeared extremely healthy with a regrowth of about two inches which had occurred in the two weeks after clipping. The check plots of unclipped wheat had turned brown and matted considerably.

But by mid-April, another side of the story began to appear, reports Dr. Baldwin. All areas that had been clipped to the 3-inch stubble were by this time almost totally witnerkilled. The unclipped check plots showed virtually 100 percent survival and eventually went on to yield 48 bushels per acre.

Dr. Baldwin theorizes that it may have been the clipping that produced such complete winterkilling. "It's possible that the regrowth so depleted the root reserves that the plants were easy prey to winterkilling." Whatever the reason, the field trials showed stands should not be grazed or clipped, no matter how lush the growth appears.



Oxfam-Canada Offers Help

Oxfam-Canada will send $130.690 in emergency relief and development aid grants to five African nations and the two-year old Asian nation of Bangladesh. Out of this total, $68,000 has been earmarked for projects in the drought-stricken Sahelian zone of Africa where between 6 and 13 million people faced starvation earlier this year.

All of the funds involved were contributed by individual Canadians through private donations, Miles for Millions walks and other fund-raising events.

This latest series of grants was approved by Oxfam-Canada's Projects Advisory Committee on September 13. The committee is a group of distinguished experts in several fields who donate their time and expertise to Oxfam.

Grants are announced periodically through the year as money becomes available to fund them.

Planting Trees One Phase Of Ontario Hydro

Over 4,500 trees were planted during the first nine months of 1973 on Ontario Hydro rights-of-way and around transformer stations throughout the province.

Tree spades mounted on large front-end loaders or on muskeg tractors plant up to forty trees daily, among them white birch, Austrian pine, hard maple and red oak. The equipment digs up and plants trees from ten to twenty-five feet tall and up to six inches in girth at the base weighing as much as two tons.

After a planter sets the tree in a hole it has predug, forestry crews tamp the earth, then water, fertilize, and guy the tree, pruning it if necessary.

Most trees to date have been transplanted from other sites but during construction of new lines many will be relocated within natural habitats if their original position is jeopardized.

Tree planting is part of Hydro's continuing program to meet the public's desire to have utilities blend with surroundings.

Glengarry Old - Time Fiddlers Play Finale

The last of the seasons's concert and dance evenings was sponsored by the Glengarry Old-Time Fiddlers in the Maxville Community Hall last Saturday. This featured the NorthAmerican Fiddling Champion Rudy Meeks and his Mariposa Show Band from Orillia. Ron Clare was the entertaining M.C., keeping the audience laughing with a good store of jokes and patter.

The program opened with five senior MacCulloch dancers, accompanied by Pipe Major John MacKenzie then the hosts, the Glengarry Fiddlers, eight of them, with President Bev. MacQueen at the piano, and Ian D. MacLeod drums. Bill Vipond, the popular baritone from Summerstown came on to sing two great favorites with local audiences -- "These Are My. Mountains" and "Hey For the Tartan". He was accompanied by Cathy and Dorothy Fraser, and Ron Clare accordion. The guest of honour, Rudy Meeks, accompanied by his band, gave a virtuoso display of fiddling with "Flowers of Edinburgh", "Angus Campbell" and "High Level Hornpipe". With him is Don Williamson, drums, K. Ross, electric organ, Ken Holland guitar, and Rudy Meed's son Ken, second guitar. This was followed by a medley of "Arkansas Traveller", a "Londonderry Hornpipe" and another "Medley in the Key of A". These were played at amazing speed, with deceptively little motion, and wonderful smoothness -- a demonstration of championship style.

The Fiddlers came out again -- Ray Couture, Fred Leroux and Mr. Leroux, Donnie MacLeod, Cyril and Duncan MacDonald, Rene Trottier, Hugh Allan MacMillan, Cliff Britton, and Malcolm Dewar, with Elmer MacDonald guitar, Bev MacQueen piano, and the Fraser girls accordions. They were greeted with resounding applause and calls for encore. "MacLean's Farewell to Oban" and by special request "Sandy MacIntyre's March". Something new and different was a fine step-dance by the Trottier sisters Lori and Kelli, very attractive in their red and white blouse and overall outfits. They were accompanied by fiddler Ray Couture.

Bill Vipond came out again with a sad, lonely, ballad "Nobody's Child", the familiar "Scotland the Brave" and another novelty "The Ghost of Bras D'Or". Rudy Meeks delighted the audience with a wonderful "Rippling Waters Jig" then changed pace completely to a slow and haunting waltz "The Fiddlers' Love". "Riding the Fiddle" was a characteristic display of incredible speed.

There was a medley by a group of the MacCulloch dancers -- the Irish Jig, the Sailor's Hornpipe, and a Highland dance. These dancers are from the two hundred pupils Mrs. MacCulloch teaches in the district. Then came a novelty performance -- the Old Time Fiddlers playing with Pipe Major MacKenzie in a familiar march then an effective duet of "Amazing Grace", which brought the concert to an impressive finale.

New 'Jet' Coach Demands Action

Metcalfe 'Jets' have a new coach this season and as accompanying photo ably demonstrates. he demands an all-out effort by all aspiring players. Ken Quail of Vernon is replacing Jim Duhart who asked to be relieved of his duties citing as his reason a desire to spend more time with his family. Ken is well known throughout the entire district and starred on many Junior and Senior teams including both Ottawa and Hull clubs.

The new coach reports he is well satisfied with initial workouts and although several cuts have already been made he says he still has over thirty talented athletes to select from.

Team practices are being held at Embrun till such time as ice becomes available at Metcalfe and it is understood the plant there will not be turned on till later this month.

The St. Lawrence Junior 'B' schedule opens on November 2nd.

Metcalfe Jets, St. Lawrence Junior 'B' Champions, and Embrun 72's will meet twice this weekend in exhibition games and both teams appear stronger than last season as they prepare for the league opening in a week's time.

Both games will be played at Embrun since ice is not yet available at the new Metcalfe arena.

The first game is scheduled for 8:30 on Friday night and the second, also at 8:30 will be played on Sunday night.

Cardinal Pats Champions

Now Best In All Ontario

(BY Lynn O'Brien)

Cardinal Pats is the best senior 'B' team in all of Ontario. On the beautiful Thanksgiving weekend, they defeated North Bay in 2 games to take the Senior 'B' championship, a big trophy, a pennant and crests, before a large hometown crowd.

Pats mowed down Belleville, Oshawa, Toronto and Waterloo before meeting the only team to go as far - North Bay. In 1970 Pats won the Intermediate A, and last year North Bay won the Senior B.

Saturday night, Pats scored 7 runs in one inning to boost them to an 8-2 win. Ted Hoy was the winning pitcher with 6 hits, 2 walks, 12 strike outs. Murray Moore took the loss with 9 hits, 1 error, 2 walks and 6 strike outs. In the 3rd, Pats 7 runs crossed the plate on 5 hits, 1 error, and 2 walks. Larry Patterson homered in the 8th inning. North Bay scored once in the 4th & once in the 5th.

Sunday afternoon, Big Doug Casselman hurled a 2 hitter, 1 error, struck out 10 to shutout North Bay 3-0 for the final game. Murray Moore took the loss with a 9 hitter, 3 walks and 3 strike outs. In the third inning, Owen Shortt doubled up center and gained third on a wild pitch. Ed St. Louis singled to right to drive Shortt in with the first run. In the 8th, with 1 out, Gerry Morrell bunted safely, Tom Hare hit a texas league double to right field, with Mike Skakum doubling to left center to drive Morrell and Hare in for 2 more runs. North Bay had only 4 base runners this game, on 2 singles, 1 error and a fielders choice.

Children's Pollution Primer Released

Elementary school principals across the country have placed advance orders for some 1,300,000 copies of a colourful new children's primer on environmental quality produced by Environment Canada.

The 32-page cartoon story has been developed especially for grades 4,5 and 6 through actual classroom testing. Involvement with the various projects in the booklet enables children to acquire a good basic understanding of environmental problems.

Advance orders for the booklet and four new environmental posters will be filled this week, which is National Environment Week. The annual observation was created two years ago by a Private Member's Bill.

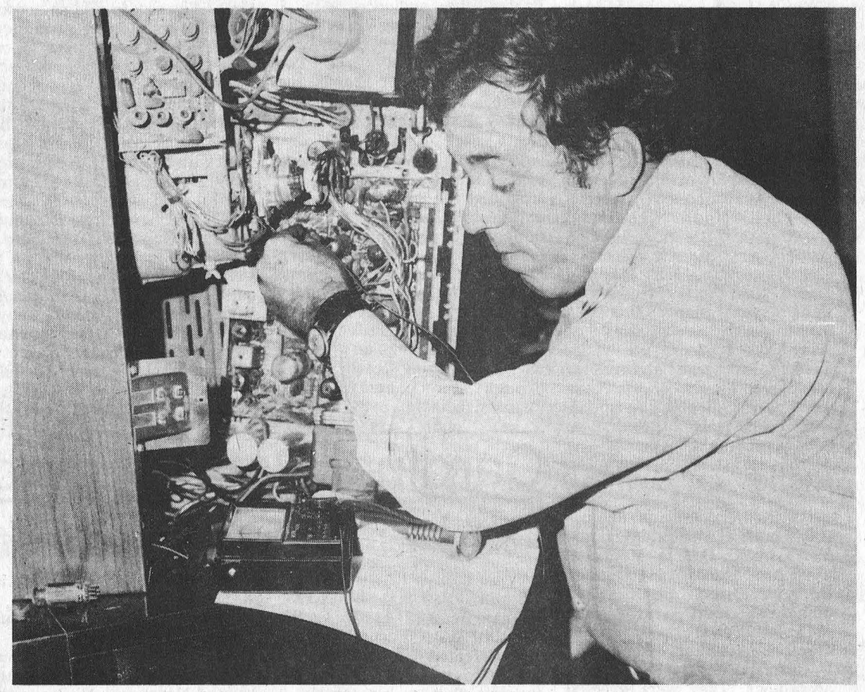
Metcalfe Electronics In Old Village Landmark

Frank Drake. a 35-year old former Newfoundland resident. operates a modern and efficient electrical appliance. radio and television repair shop on Metcalfe's main corner.

Frank is a newcomer to the district but the shop itself dates back to the turn of the century when it was erected as a combined general store and residence.

Operated for many years by the Simpson family the business later was taken over by H.D. Craig who in turn sold out to W.J. Palmer.

The sturdy brick building has. however. stood vacant for many years and residents of the village were pleased when the new owner erected partitions and made it possible. not only for the opening of the repair shop. but also allowed space for the legal office of Kenneth J. Naftel.



Mr. Drake. who was born and educated at Fortune Bay, Newfoundland. moved to Hamilton in 1955 and following five years with the R.C.A.F. he directed his talents to his chosen profession.

After receiving his diploma he opened a shop at Ottawa.

Married and the father of a 10-year old daughter and 6-year old son. he was eager to make his home in a rural community and, fortunately for area residents, chose Metcalfe.

He. his wife. Lorraine. along with Jane and Frank are in the process of moving into the home adjacent to his place of business and a glance at his growing pile of "job dockets" indicates his business is expanding.

Mr. Drake is shown in accompanying photo testing the complicated wiring system of a set he hopes to have back in the hands of the owner before nightfall.

The jovial 'Islander' says he finds people in the district extremely friendly and anticipates a rapid growth of his young enterprise.

In the other photo workmen are pictured during construction of the building on what appears to be a late fall afternoon many, many years ago. None of those shown are still alive but many older residents will remember at least some of the familiar faces.

Pleasant Valley Couple Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James Cowan of Pleasant Valley were pleasantly surprised when their family staged a very special gathering honouring them on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary.

The Orange Hall, beautifully decorated with gold and white streamers and bells, was the setting, and the table was centred with an anniversary cake, yellow potted mums and gold and white candles.

Guests of honour were seated in two decorated chairs and their elest son. Sam, acted as Master of Ceremonies for an interesting program which included a sing song and also music by the Cowan grandchildren who were accompanied by Mrs. Sam Cowan.

Herbert Wallace showed several interesting pictures and the guest of honour delighted all with selections on the mouth organ.

Following the program the honoured couple were presented with a pole lamp, mirror, smoker's stand and bed-lamps from immediate family members and the grandchildren presented a toaster and also an anniversary book.

Herbert Wallace spoke briefly offering congratulations on behalf of all present while Roy Keck and Mansel Wallace presented the happy couple with a rocking chair, a gift from the community.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cowan expressed their sincere thanks and a buffet lunch brought the evening to a close.

Mrs. Cowan was the former Elsie Wallace of Ventnor, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wallace. Mr. Cowan's parents were Mr. and Mrs. James Cowan.

The couple were married in 1923 and have resided since that time on the Cowan homestead in Pleasant Valley.

They are the proud parents of eight children: Sam, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Johnnie Beckstead (Golda), Strader's Hill; Mrs. Arnott Conley (Muriel), Brockville; Mrs. Allan Rupert (Doris), Roebuck; Keith, Brockville; Yvonne, Strader's Hill; Mrs. Ted Hunter (Eileen), Domville and Orval, at home. They are equally proud of their 18 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Congratulatory messages were received from the Hon. Rolland Michener, Governor-General of Canada; Hon. Robert Stanfield, Leader of the Opposition and Leeds M.P. Tom Cossit.

Canada Savings Bonds - making money while saving

In these days when practically everyone is worried about the high cost of practically everything, women who work with money say Canada Savings Bonds are a useful tool for every income bracket.

And no matter what income bracket you're in, payroll or bank deductions make buying Canada Savings Bonds easy.

"They're a good investment for people wanting to put away money for future investment. They are also gool collateral. And it's guaranteed money. You can cash them any time," according to Mrs. Cobie Stimming, a Royal Bank branch manager in Scarborough, Ontario.

"They're also a good savings plan for people who don't have a steady pattern of saving. We find people don't spend the money they have in bonds as easily as they do when it's in the bank and they can just write a cheque."

She says she often recommends them to women who want to save for a specific goal.

"People come in and say, 'I want to achieve a goal. I want to save $500 a year.' And you can say exactly how much they will have to have deducted each pay day."

You can buy them through the payroll savings plan where you work but if that isn't available to you, you can achieve the same effect with a deduction made from your bank account at the first of every month. All you have to do is make sure the money is there, and the bank will look after the deductions for you.

There are charts available that will show you precisely what your payments will be for any given amount, and tell you exactly what your return will be.

Jean Morrison, a sales representative with A.E. Ames & Co. Ltd. in Toronto, notes that Canada Savings Bonds are not just for people with a small amount of money to invest.

"Most portfolios have Canada Savings Bonds in them -- because they're not only the safest investment in Canada today, but one of the most liquid. You can cash them in at their full face value at any time.

"This is a privilege. Almost all other government or corporation bonds have a fixed maturity date and it is only at maturity that a holder received full face value.

"If you want to sell ahead of that time, you've got to find a buyer and negotiate a price. And the price depends on what the bond market is at the time."

Like Cobie Stimming, Jean Morrison recommends the purchase of Canada Savings Bonds to many of her customers as a good, solid, profitable investment.

"And if you don't buy them outright," she advises, "then take advantage of the payroll savings plan where you work.

"The payroll savings plan was started as a way of getting people to save their money. The government is, in essence, paying you to save, and using your money at the same time to help finance Canada's growth and development.

"But even more important, once people start to buy Canada Savings Bonds, they continue. It's a good thing."

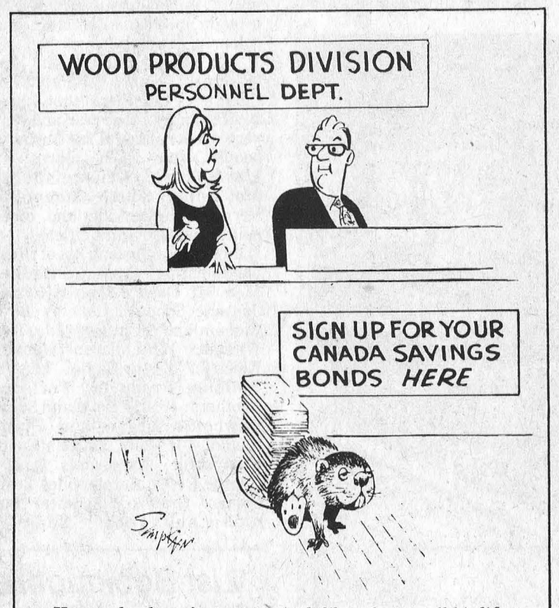
The 1973-74 issue may be purchased until Nov. 15 at full face value without paying accrued interest and offer an average annual yield of 7.54 per cent when held to maturity. The term of the new bonds is 12 years.

Interest rates for the annual coupons will be 7 per cent for the first year; 7.5 per cent for each of the next six years; 7.75 per cent for each of the next three years; and 8 per cent for the final two years.

The new issue also provides for three extra interest certificates during the life of the 12-year bond. If any investor holds his $100 bond and its first six regular coupons uncashed until Nov. 1, 1979, he or she will be able to collect the first extra interest certificate of $9.25 on that date.

Similarly, if the $100 bond and the six remaining coupons are held uncashed until Nov. 1, 1985, a second compound interest certificate will become payable for $9.75.

However, if you hold the bond until maturity without cashing any of the regular annual interest coupons or compound interest certificates, a final compound interest certificate will become payable for $29.25. This bring the total proceeds at maturity of a $100 bond to $239.50.



He says he doesn't want to work like a beaver all his life.

NORTH DUNDAS NEWS

(By Bettly Dunlop and Janine Ennis)

After the Thanksgiving weekend, North Dundas has resumed to a week of hustle and bustle. The great and indestructable team staff has emerged from the "depths". The teachers have organized their football team which is quote "undefeated... unbeatable".. There is also rumour that 'Destruction' is their game. So beware senior football team, 'cause here they come! Our senior football team may need a few pointers as they have run into a streak of bad luck and foul play. But it's the fine effort and attitude of the guys that seems to cover up for this period of 'best battles'. Honourable mention to the well fought game at Brockville Collegiate. Thursday, October 11 was their chance to show who is 'tops' in the game at T.I.S.S. Senior girls basketball team is doing very well. They put forth great effort and enthusiasm at a home game against T.I.S.S. Although T.I.S.S. won by a narrow margin 29-26, our girls made the victory a real challenge to the finish. Senior girls are in third place in the first half of the league. We're very proud of our junior girls basketball team. In their home game they defeated T.I.S.S. junior 30-29. It was a very close game but once the girls began they never looked back! The junior girls basketball team is in first place in the league. Congratulations girls, for a fine effort!

The first publishing of the school newspaper, the Dialogue was distributed last week. It is a very basic communication by which students are capable of realizing what has actually taken place in the sports scene, the student council as well as in the student body. It will contain regular columns, editorials, surveys and humourous clips.

Club news and events have been in full 'swing' this past week. The Photography Club is now in its first session of duties. Each member has a two to three week practice session. This is to enable members to get accustomed to the proper usage in handling the camera as well as taking pictures. Practice will enable student photographers to be of beneficial service to any club wishing pictures to be taken. The Society Helpers sponsored a Candy Sale Thursday, October 11. Proceeds from this sale went to our school orphan Wong Wai Ming. Special thanks was extended to the Society Helpers and to the student body's support.

Thursday, October 11 seemed to be a busy day for activities. A very beneficial and interesting day was provided by Student Services. It was called University Day, a rather suited title as the entire morning was spent at Seaway High School for those level four students who were interested in obtaining details about each of the Ontario universities. It was a well spent day and hopefully cleared up many minor questions concerning these topics. In the next few weeks, student council services will begin their Fund Raising Campaign. It will be the sale of rich, dark, succulent chocolate bars. There will be more information about this, in future N.D.D.H.S. news. Try to be patient folks, as the bar order will be here in due time.

So this completes this last week of activities. All went well, and until next week, N.D.D.H.S. spirit, participation and events will not be overlooked by the news scouts.

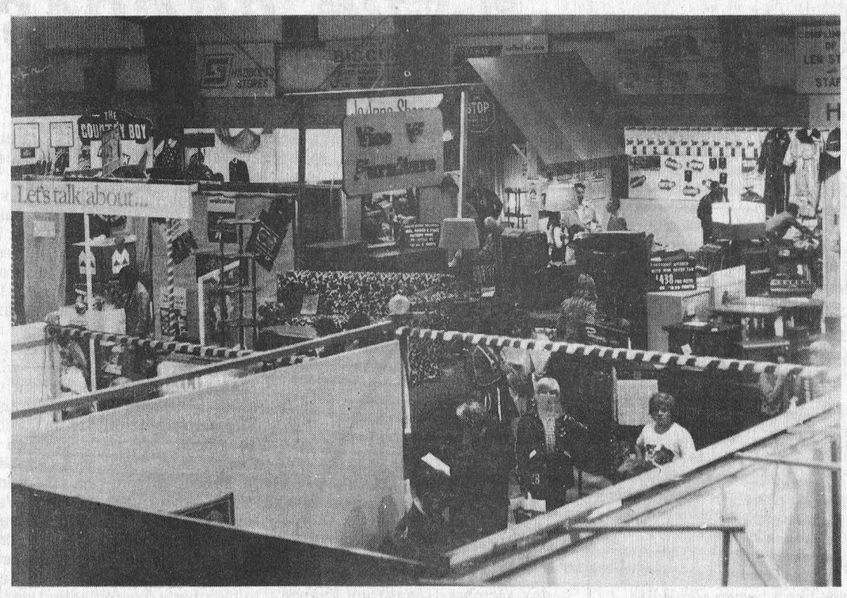
Exhibitors Pleased With Trade Fair Response

Business firms participating in Winchester's recent Trade Fair all reported being exceptionally well pleased with well-planned project. The Chamber of Commerce, the organizing group, also expressed pleasure that so many out-of-town firms had brought in such interesting and colourful presentations.



"We like to think", said one extremely happy Chamber of Commerce member, "that this is a community trade fair and it is very encouraging to see business people from such places as Morrisburg, Williamsburg, Mountain, South Mountain, Vernon, Chesterville and other neighbouring communities."

Morrisburg Ministerial Association Meets

"The Theology of Jonathan Edwards" was the subject of a scholarly paper read before the "Morrisburg and District" Ministerial Association at their monthly meeting on Monday morning.

The Reverend Mansell Atkinson was host, at the Wesleyan parsonage in Inkerman and the paper was given by the Reverend George Tattrie, Ph.D., of Chesterville, minister of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church in Chesterville and Morewood Presbyterian Church.

Devotions were conducted by the host, who also extended hospitality by serving delicious refreshments.

The meeting was chaired by the Reverend E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, program convener. The Reverend Welwood Adam of Morrisburg, secretary, read the minutes. Discussion of the topic was shared by the Reverend T.H. Boyd, C.M.A. Jackson and K.B. Joyce.

The ministers will meet on the first Monday in November at the Anglican rectory in Winchester as guests of the Reverend John Tyrrell.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

French Canadian in descent, Tony is five years old. He was born prematurely and though he has not had any of the health problems sometimes associated with prematurity, his physical and mental development are behind the average.

Tony is small for his age but active and sturdy. He is attending a special school for children who are below average and is showing much progress. His chief lag is in speech which is not clear — it seems he is always in too much of a hurry to form the words properly. However, he understands everything other people say.

Tony really wants to learn and has a good memory, as well as great determination. He will continue to need special education.

Lively, mischievous, lovable Tony welcomes attention but doesn't demand it. He can entertain himself for long periods and he also enjoys having company. He loves to be cuddled.

Tony needs loving parents who will enjoy his sunny personality and offer him encouragement and stimulation without making unrealistic academic demands on him. The Children's Aid Society seeking his adoption says: "We feel he will definitely be a rewarding child for the appropriate family."

To inquire about adopting Tony, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.
