Freak Wind Causes 10-Hour Blackout

-Press Staff Photo

So What?

The youngster perched on the giant insulator appears little concerned that a powerful steel tower had been destroyed.

When informed that energetic crew men had worked relentlessly through the night to restore power to the district; and that a wide segment of the area had been without electricity for a long period of time; and that the disaster might well have proved costly but for the efficiency of the company; and that the heavy insulator on which he was sitting had actually supported the great stress of heavy cables through many seasons; his only comment as he watched a plane approach the nearby airport was: "So what"?

A freak gale of wind swooped down over an area power line last Saturday evening; twisted a giant Hydro tower from its mooring; and left hundreds of square miles of the district in darkness for nearly ten hours.

Power from the high tension line feeds sub-stations that in turn service the district and the failure affected all of Osgoode Township, as well as part of Russell and Gloucester townships.

The 'heavy' line crosses Highway 31 at Green Acres and it was only a fraction of a mile further north, near Johnston's Corners that the tower toppled.

Men Work Through The Night

The trouble was soon spotted and immediately Hydro crews went into action to construct a temporary line and shortly after 3:00 a.m. service was resumed.

Although lack of power had to be rated as a major inconvenience, the efficiency of company workmen restored power before any damage resulted from 'dead' refrigerators, sump pumps, and other commodities relying on electricity for their operation.

Transporting Poles Creates Problem

Winchester area manager George Davidson said work crews experienced considerable delay in the transportation of poles from the stock yard on Woodroffe Avenue to the site.

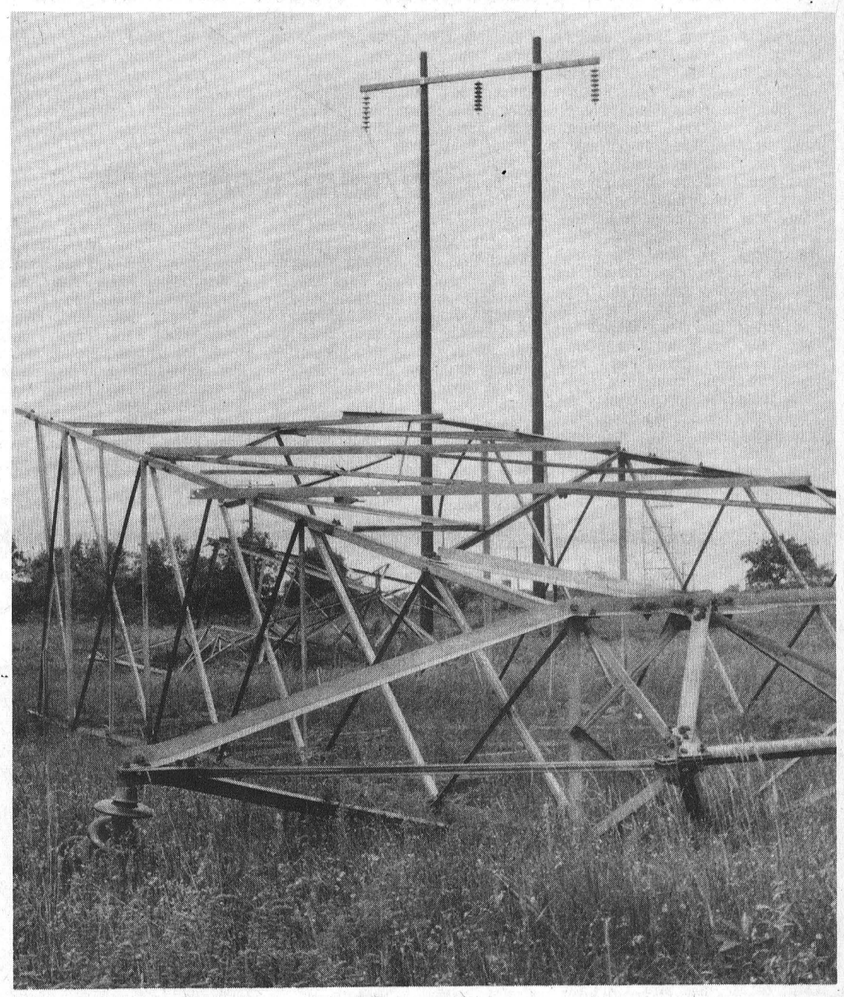
"First", said Mr. Davidson, "permission had to be obtained from the Highways Department to move the long load at night."

"It was quite a convoy", suggested the manager, "with numerous pieces of Hydro equipment accompanying the flotilla as well as a police escort".

It was a serious break but more serious damage might easily have resulted. When the tower toppled it fell across another rural line but fortunately the heavy wires were not severed.

Men and modern equipment soon cut away the damaged structure and two 65-foot wooden poles were erected as a temporary measure.

Hydro officials estimate the 'twister' cost the company between $20 and $30,000.



Temporary Poles

When the sun set last Saturday night a giant steel tower stood stately and erect as part of a long line carrying electricity to various parts of Eastern Ontario.

By sunrise the following day, the tower was a twisted mass of metal and where it once stood two 65-foot black poles were silhouetted against the clear sky.

Twenty-five efficient Hydro employees, toiling throughout the night, had completed the transformation.

Barbara Milne Crowned Dundas Dairy Princess

A lovely Mountain Township girl, Barbara Milne, was crowned 1971 Dundas Dairy Princess at Winchester Community Park last Friday night.

Three competent farmerettes competed for the coveted honour and making the final selection proved a difficult decision for the judges.

Miss Milne is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art. Milne and the other two contestants were Betty Spruit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spruit and June Pyper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pyper.

200 Enjoy Steaks

Because Winchester has no Fall Fair it is always necessary to prepare some special event in conjunction with the Dairy Princess competition, and those in charge were well pleased with the outcome.

Winchester Chamber of Commerce, the coordinating force, combined with the joint efforts of two local service clubs and the efficient Dundas Milk Committee programmed the presentation exceptionally well.

Centurians and Lion Members cooked the delicious steaks which were thoroughly enjoyed by well over 200 hungry people.

"Best I ever tasted", was the comment of Andy MacKenzie, the Liberal candidate in the forthcoming provincial election.

The new Princess, who was crowned by last year's winner, Miss Debbie Blaine was also the recipient of the Royal Bank award which was presented by manager Al Inglis, and luggage from the Milk Committee.

Man Falls From Barn Roof

Fred Stoodley, a well known district farmer, is recovering in Winchester District Memorial Hospital from injuries suffered when he fell from the roof of his cousin's barn.

Mr. Stoodley who is seventy years of age, was helping his neighbour Aaron Stoodley paint the barn roof when the accident happened.

Although painfully injured apparently no bones were broken and Mr. Stoodley is wondering whether or not he should continue his 'good neighbour policy'.

The Press joins in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Area Youth Killed In Car Crash

A 21-year-old Winchester area youth, William Sherwood (Bill) Coons, died instantly when he lost control of his late model car on Highway 31 near Williamsburg last Saturday morning.

The young man, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Coons, of R.R. # 3, Inkerman, was alone in his late model automobile when the fatality occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Coons received word of their son's death while in Guelph to attend a family wedding.

The car was northbound when it left the road and plowed into a tree, and it took garage men several hours to free the body from the wreckage.

A former North Dundas District High School student he was working with his father in the operation of their farm. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Allison and Carolyn, both at home.

Funeral service at Vice and Craig Ltd. Funeral Home, Winchester, was conducted by Rev. D. L. Gordon, at 2:00 p.m. on Monday, August 16th with burial in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Danny Johnston, Raymond Barkley, Graham Link, Robert Smith, Ian Fawcett, and Hugh Fawcett.

So badly demolished was the Coons' car that a portion of the transmission came to rest on the highway and a passing motorist, James Donald Rattray of Blossom Park, struck the obstacle and, although his car was demolished he was not seriously injured.

Within the Fort's central courtyard, on Wednesdays and now for the first time on Saturdays at 7:30 p.m., the famed Fort Henry Guard is performing an eye and ear filling reenactment of Ontario's living heritage.

The Sunset Ceremonial combines martial music and a display of military drills spanning more than a century and a half of the Old Fort's history.

Although the entire program is a thrilling experience the latter part of the program recalls the preparations for night fall that were a part of military life in the outposts of the British Empire.

At this time the Guard mans the guns on the wall.

When all is ready the Evening Hymn is played, the East Battery

Seaway Community Services Form New Steering Committee

A new 'Steering Committee' was formed and representatives appointed at a recent joint meeting of the Seaway Community Services executive and various government and social agencies.

The meeting, at Morrisburg United Church, included both morning and afternoon sessions and the purpose was outlined by Mrs. Eric Steele in her opening remarks:

"To bring together all concerned agencies of the area for a comprehensive approach to the issue of community poverty and development, and for the co-operation of same under the direction of a full-time area worker or workers".

Thirty representatives of federal, provincial and municipal governments, and of departments of same, including the Ministerial Associations of Iroquois-South Mountain, Morrisburg-Williamsburg, and concerned citizens shared in the presentations made to this purpose by the S.C.S. Executive, Mr. Gui Voisin, Social Development Officer of the Secretary of State Department and related to the Opportunities for Youth programme of the federal government, and the Reverends John Hibbs, Garfield Bruce and Fr. Lloyd Cummings of the Ministerial Associations.

The morning session dealt largely with background history of the Seaway Community Services organization, particularly in relationship to the children's Summer Camp programme of the past and present seasons, and year-round self-help projects toward poverty areas within the surrounding communities. A resume of organizational support from religious, civic, and municipal governments over the four years was given, including a report on the recent assistance granted this work under the federal government's Opportunities for Youth programme, which allowed for the extension of the existing camp programme of the S.C.S. in the Dixon's Corners and Glen Becker areas this year and the hiring of high school youth as leader-counsellors this Summer.

Representatives of both provincial, federal and municipal governments, in the persons of Mr. Alex Gilbert (representing the Hon. Lucien Lamoureux, M.P.), Mr. Gordon Blair, M.P., Mr. Mahlon Zeron, Matilda Township Reeve, and Mr. Earl Baker, Morrisburg Council, as well as departmental representatives of National Health and Welfare, National Secretary of State, A.R.D.A., Public Health Units, Prov. Family Social Services, Prov. Social Services, Children's Aid Society, Department of Education, and other civic groups spoke to their particular interest and concern in the work of the S.C.S. and to the proposed "next step" plan to coordinate all agencies and resources for a long-range and comprehensive plan of personal enablement and community development within the poverty areas of the counties during the coming years.

The Morrisburg United Church Women provided an excellent luncheon to all in attendance during the noon-hour break, and were duly thanked by the gathering.

The afternoon session was chaired by Mrs. E. Steele on behalf of the S.C.S. Executive and Mr. Gui Voisin, on behalf of the other government and civic groups present. And after full discussion about the purpose of the meeting, it was unanimously agreed to form a Steering Committee of all agencies and groups present, to study the proposal for a full time worker(s) in the area, and in relationship to the S.C.S. organization, and to set forth a comprehensive long-range programme of personal enablement and community development within the poverty areas under concern. Representatives were so appointed to this Steering Committee, with the first meeting of same being called by the S.C.S. Executive for Thursday afternoon, August 26th, in the Morrisburg United Church hall at 1:30 p.m.

Prior to adjournment, Mrs. E. Steele thanked everyone for their attendance and excellent support of the purpose of the meeting. The S.C.S. Camp Programme, having just concluded in the Dixon's Corners area, is now in full-swing in the Glen Becker area until the end of August. A "head-start" programme of tutoring new public school children of the Dixon's Corners area is also being offered at present through to September.

Moon Shot?

Motorists approaching South Mountain from the east might be forgiven for suggesting the possibility of preparations under way for another trip to the moon.

At first glance it does resemble a space capsule with accompanying rocket structure.

It is in fact more giant feeders ready for erection at the Berry egg plant, and with some 45,000 laying hens gobbling up the feed, plenty of storage is a necessity.

Pension Plan Benefits, Contributions To Increase

Benefits and contributions under the Canada Pension Plan will increase in 1972, it was announced today jointly by National Health and Welfare Minister John Munro and National Revenue Minister Herb Gray. Mr. Munro's department is responsible for the administration of benefits under CPP, while National Revenue is responsible for the coverage and collection of contributions under the Plan.

The increases result from a two per cent rise in the Pension Index, the legal maximum. Pension Index changes reflect increases in the Consumer Price Index.

Mr. Gary said maximum annual pensionable earnings under the Canada Pension Plan will be $5,500 in 1972, up from $5,400 in 1971. Maximum yearly contributions by employers and employees will become $88.20 each, increased from $86.40. Self-employed persons will contribute a maximum of $176.40, compared to the 1971 figure of $172.80.

More than 300,000 retirement, survivors' and disability benefits will be increased in January 1972.

Benefits for orphans and the children of disabled contributors, and the flat-rate components of pensions to widows, disabled widowers and disabled contributors will increase to $27.60 monthly, from $27.06.

The maximum death benefit under the Canada Pension Plan, payable in a lump sum to the estate of a deceased contributor, will be $550 for deaths occurring in 1972. The 1971 maximum is $540.

Information on benefits and contributions in the province of Quebec will be announced today by the Quebec Pension Board which administers the Quebec Pension Plan and the provincial revenue department.

Mr. Munro added that the Guaranteed Income Supplement payable to lower income old age pensioners will also increase as a result of the rise in the Pension Index.

The maximum combined Old Age Security pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person or a married person whose spouse is not also a pensioner will increase in April, 1972, to $137.70 from $135.00, the maximum supplement portion becoming $57.70.

The maximum supplement combined with the pension, for a married person whose spouse is also a pensioner, will increase to $130.05 from its present $127.50. That is, each spouse will receive a total payment of $130.05, the supplement portion being $50.05. A married couple 65 or older can be eligible for a maximum combined monthly benefit of $260.10 a month compared with $255.00 at present.

Planning Election Strategy

Grenville-Dundas Liberal candidate Andy MacKenzie has become a familiar figure throughout the riding as he continues to meet more and more voters and outline the policies of his party.

Mr. MacKenzie says he is confident the long-time Tory stronghold can be won.

"The genuine interest of the people, and the friendly warmth with which I am greeted everywhere I go, is indeed encouraging", he said.

IN MEMORIAMS

HUMMEL — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. George Hummel (Annice), whom God called home on August 23, 1969.
We had a mother with a heart of gold,
Who was more to us than wealth untold;
Without farewells she fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep.
If she could have spoken before she died
These are the words she would have replied:
"This life for me has truly passed,
I loved you all to the very last.
Weep not for me but courage take,
And love one another for my sake."

Softball Tournament At Russell This Friday And Saturday

Fourteen teams are entered in the Annual Girls Softball Tournament scheduled to get under way Friday evening at Russell.

Sponsored by Russell Curling Club the tournament is rated one of the best in Eastern Ontario and has attracted teams from Manotick, Bells Corners, Morrisburg, Cornwall, Stittsville, Carlsbad Springs, Metcalfe, Iroquois, Chesterville, Osgoode, Wakefield, Brockville, Montreal and Cardinal.

Three games will be played Friday evening, two at 7:00 and one at 9:00. Play resumes early Saturday morning and will continue throughout the entire day with the final billed for 9:00 in the evening.

Delicious barbecued chicken will be prepared early Saturday evening and two refeshment booths will be in operation throughout the tournament.

With the ball season drawing to a close this is one of the last major attractions of the season.

Eliminate Winchester Juniors

'Coin-Wash', Winchester's entry in the junior fastball league ended a successful season last week when Williamsburg, behind the strong pitching arm of Roger Morrell, earned the right to advance into final play.

Winchester boys had compiled an enviable record of 12 wins, a tie and only 3 losses on the season's play but faltered in play-offs.

Williamsburg will now meet the winner of the Kemptville-Cardinal series.

The local team will wind up the season by participating in Williamsburg Junior and Intermediate tournament.

Trans Canada Hell Drivers Coming To Chesterville Fair

Suicidal, hair-raising and spine-tingling are among the terms that have been used to acclaim the performances presented by TRANS CANADA HELL DRIVERS and the producers promise this year's performance tops them all.

They'll be at Chesterville Fair on Wednesday, September 1st, when spectators will see precision driving in gleaming 1970 model automobiles, as well as, daring feats that push both man and machine to the very limits of endurance.

The personnel of the TRANS CANADA HELL DRIVERS is considered the elite of the stunting world, selected from motion picture stuntmen, race track daredevils and automotive test drivers.

It is interesting to discover that at no time is any driver protected by more than a standard seat belt and crash helmet.

Plan to see the show at Chesterville at 8:15 p.m., September 1st.

Metcalfe Jr. Girls Win Opener In All-Ontario Playdowns

Metcalfe Junior Girls will travel to Zethyr (25 miles north of Oshawa), next Sunday enjoying a one-game lead in the best-of-three All-Ontario Junior 'B' Softball play-downs.

In a Sunday game at Metcalfe, the local team staged a last-inning rally to edge Zephyr 5 to 4.

The local team dropped into the 'B' division when they were defeated by the powerful Oshawa squad.

Laurie Boyce was on the mound for the winners and most members of the team also play with the Metcalfe seniors in the St. Lawrence League. Personnel of the team follows: C; Sheila Armstrong. P; Laurie Boyce. 1st Cathy Vriend. 2nd, Ann Herbert; 3rd, Brenda Magladry. S.S., Monique Joubarne. C.F.; Marilyn McLean. R.F., Jeanne Clouthier. L.F., Susan Hamilton.

Manager of the team is Loraine Ford, and Delmer Armstrong looks after the coaching chores.

Fastest Time At Capital City

Capital City Speedway's 11th annual International race got under way under threatening skies but the rain stayed away long enough to run the complete program. In the time trials, Evans Mills Adrian Flath, posted the fastest time of 18.8 seconds on the half-mile oval followed by Watertown's Gary Reddick with 19.1 and Ottawa's Tom Boucher with 19.2; this fast time put Adrian on pole position with Gary Reddick beside him.

In the seventy-five lap race Adrian Flath jumped into an early lead and held it to the end. He had to fight off the challenges of Gary Reddick until a rear wheel bearing seized and caught fire causing him to retire to the pits. Next to challenge for the remainder of the race was Ottawa's Tom Boucher with Mike Shippee with Bob Martin and Wayne Fuller bumper to bumper behind him.

A new driver to Capital City, "no. 33", Glen Roux, came from the second last row to finish in Eighth position behind Richard Lappan in the X car and Chubby Leroux in the no. 88. Chubby was not driving his usual car as he had vibration problems with it.

The awards in the form of gold, silver, and bronze medallions were presented by the Molson's Breweries representative, Les Yates to the top three finishers.

In the other divisions the late model feature was taken by Paul Yendall while Skip Wesley won the hobby class and Rodger Spoor the figure 8.

EDITORIALS... the way we see it

Do You Know?

Presuming that many readers are not completely familiar with the duties of newsmen who staff weekly newspapers, we offer the following explanations as defined by the Georgia Press Association:

Publisher: Publishes.

Assistant to the Publisher: Helps the publisher publish.

General Manager: He manages the general. Some newspapers don't have a general; in which case, he manages the colonel.

Associate Editor: He associates with things. And, on occasion, with people.

The Managing Editor: He manages. He manages to do this and he manages to do that. Sometimes he manages to manage things quite well.

The Women's Editor: She edits all womenfolk who come to the newspaper office. She edits out all ladies who have unpleasant news, complaints, those who can't spell or who don't have all the facts correct. She edits in all the ladies who do.

The Amusement Editor: Goes about telling funny stories, playing practical jokes and keeps everyone amused.

Advertising Manager: Looks intelligent, talks a great deal and manages the advertising.

The Classified Manager: Tells people who ask a question: "Sorry . . . that's classified."

The Outdoor Editor: Works only outside: primarily because he doesn't like to bathe.

Sports Editor: Walks through the office calling out, "Hey Sport!"

Garden Editor: Specializes in cultivating turnips, radishes and onions. (Not to be confused with Farm Editor, who specializes in corn, beans and cotton).

The Make-up Editor: Checks everyone's make-up and informs anybody whose eyebrows are painted on crooked. Also spot checks mascara and lipstick.

Business Editor: Gives everybody the business.

Circulation Manager: Makes sure that everybody's blood is circulating properly and if not, prescribes a remedy.

Chief Photographer: Photographs the chief.

Now you know what all these people do and we certainly hope you won't ask any more of those stupid questions.

Office Rules In 1852

With conditions of employment very much a topic of conversation, a document headed "Office Practices" and dated 1852, found in a building recently demolished, makes interesting reading:

Godliness, Cleanliness and Punctuality are necessities of a good business.

This firm has reduced the hours of work, and the Clerical Staff will now only have to be present between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. on week-days.

Daily prayers will be held each morning in the Main Office. The Clerical staff will be present.

Clothing must be of a sober nature. The Clerical Staff will not disport themselves in raiment of bright colours, nor will they wear hose unless in good repair.

Overshoes and top coats may not be worn in the office, but neck scarves and headgear may be worn in inclement weather.

A stove is provided for the benefit of the Clerical Staff, coal and wood must be kept in the locker. It is recommended that each member of the Clerical Staff bring 4 pounds of coal each day, during the cold weather.

No member of the Clerical Staff may leave the room without permission from Mr. Rogers. The calls of nature are permitted, and Clerical Staff may use the garden below the second gate. This area must be kept in good order.

No talking is allowed during business hours.

The craving of tobacco, wines or spirits is a human weakness and, as such, is forbidden to all members of the Clerical Staff.

Now that the hours of business have been drastically reduced the partaking of food is allowed between 11:30 a.m. and noon, but work will not, on any account, cease.

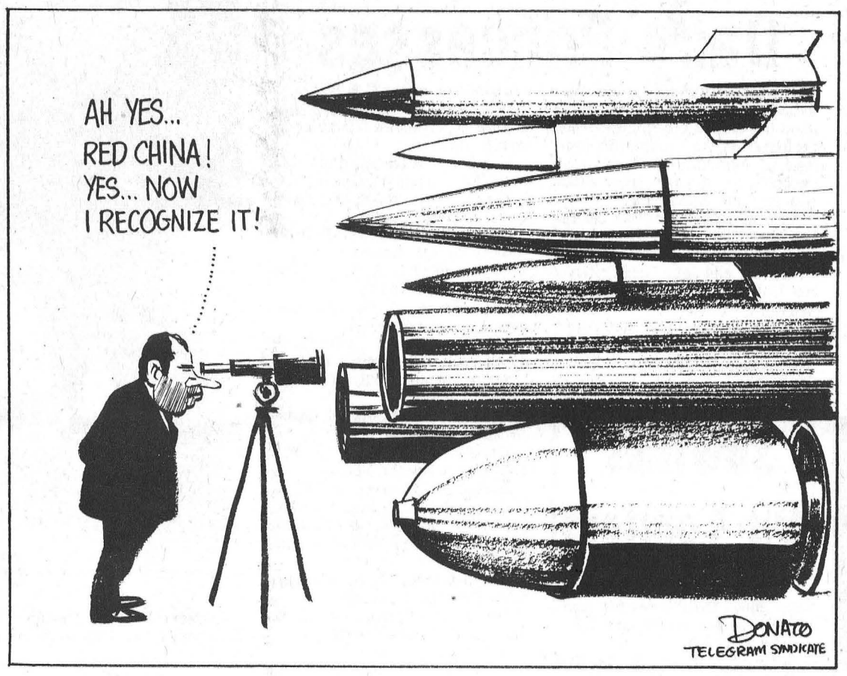
Members of the Clerical Staff will provide their own pens. A new sharpener is available, on application to Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Rogers will nominate a senior Clerk to be responsible for the cleanliness of the Main Office and the Private Office, and all Boys and Juniors will report to him 40 minutes before Prayers and will remain after closing hours for similar work. Brushes, Brooms, Scrubbers and Soap are provided by the owners.

The New Increased Weekly Wages are as hereunder detailed:

Junior Boys (to 11 years)	.15
Boys (to 14 years)	.25
Junior Clerks	1.05
Senior Clerks (after 15 years with the owners)	2.50

The owners recognize the generosity of the new Labour Laws but expect a great rise in output of work to compensate for these near Utopian conditions.



BILL SMILEY COLUMN

Tenting On The Cold, Damp Ground

I don't know how you've fared, but so far it's been a rotten summer in these parts. Instead of the "sunny with scattered showers", it has been, day after day, "rainy with scattered sunshine".

Usually, by now, municipal councils are begging citizens to go easy with their lawn sprinklers, or flatly threatening householders with a fine if they use them at all.

Brown, burned-crisp lawns are common by mid-August. Not at our place this year. We haven't used our sprinkler since the first week in July and the lawn is alarmingly verdant and growing like weeds, which of course a good portion of ours is.

Not much one can do about it. But my heart goes out to the poor devils who are tenting.

Tenting is great fun under ideal conditions. It's about as close as we can come to really getting back to nature. There's the pleasure of finding that choice campsite with a mere 30-degree list, the solid satisfaction of getting the tent up on the fourth try, the adventure of exploring a new camp and its adjacent waters.

There's the long day of puttering about in the sun, fishing, swimming, gathering firewood, relaxing. For the men and children, that is. There's the long day of puttering about with dishes, cooking meals, fooling with balky gas stoves, and administering first aid to sundry scrapes, cuts and bites, for the lady. Few women like tenting.

But even for them there are joyful aspects. When the last pot has had its black bottom cleaned with sand, when the last child has been tucked away, milady can perch her weary tailbone on a stump or a stone by the campfire, look into the blue-red-orange flames, and dream of the glorious day when this ghastly trip is over and she'll be back in her castle, with a proper stove, refrigerator and automatic washer. She sits there, counting on her fingers, with a dazed smile.

When the campfire is dying, Mom has her supreme moment of the day. She can crawl into her dampish flannellette pyjamas, crawl into the huddle of blankets on the camp cot which is tilted toward her head, and shudder for hours with a combination of cold and fear of the things that go bump in the night. What tops it all is that about 3 a.m. she discovers that she has to go to the bathroom. It's purely psychological, of course.

But it's quite an ordeal. The flashlight doesn't work, and the little house with the facilities is 80 yards away, across ground that is crawling with snakes and spiders, with a bear behind every tree. This is where she gets her revenge. Whining and whimpering, she rouses her spouse from a deep, sweet slumber and issues an ultimatum: either he gets up and goes with her, holding her hand all the way, or she starts packing and they head for home right now. This is known in some circles as wedded bliss. But nothing could be better calculated to put another nail in the coffin of their marriage.

I've portrayed so far only the good side of tenting, when the weather is fine. But put yourself in the boots of the miserable male who has rented a tent for his two-weeks-with, takes the wife and three kids, and gets one half-sunny day, the rest cold or raining.

On the third day the guaranteed water-proof tent begins to leak. The firewood doesn't even smoulder. The kids are going hairy with boredom. There isn't a piece of dry clothing to be had. The wife has stopped speaking entirely. The tent is full of ants who are smart enough to get in out of the rain.

What to do? If he packs and goes home, it is obvious that the sky will clear and there'll be a heat wave. If he insists they stick it out, he will earn the undying hatred of his wife and the sullen contempt of his kids.

Give me the tenting life any day: the sizzle of frying bacon, the scent of wood smoke, the clean, cool air for sleeping, the murmuring talk by the campfire.

But don't give me tenting on the cold, damp ground, as Stephen Foster didn't put it. I'd rather spend my holidays in jail.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thursday, August 12, 1971

Dear Sir:

I am a stranger to you since I am a visitor to this part of Ontario. I have just read the 'Editorial' in today's paper and it impressed me so much I felt I must write and express my appreciation.

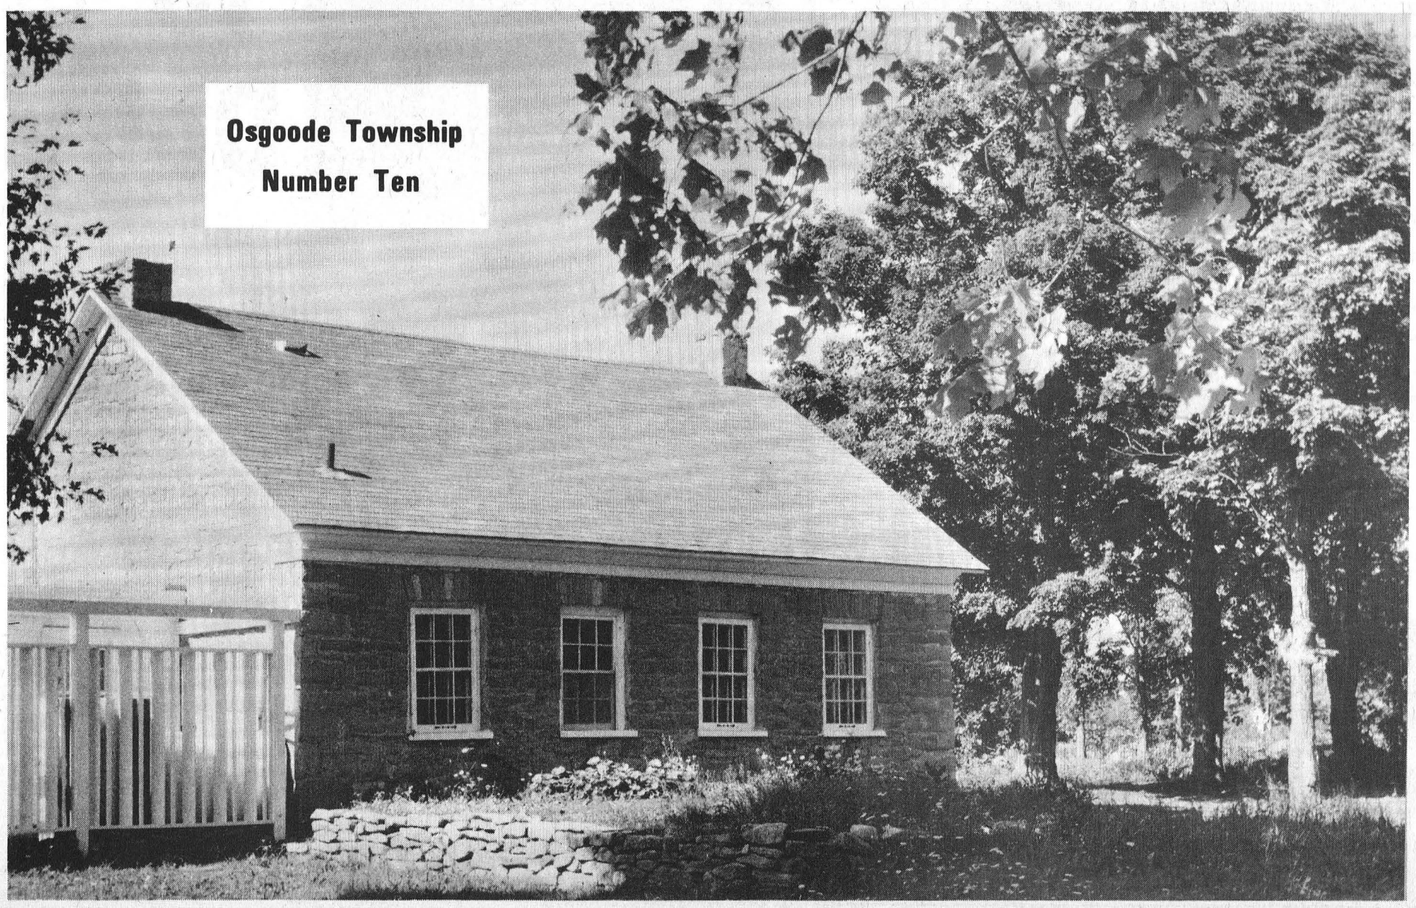
The Editorial I am referring to was headed "MOM AND DAD HAVE NEEDS TOO".

I think it expresses the parents point of view perfectly and I am taking it home so my own children can read it. It expresses my feelings far better than I could do it myself.

Maybe seeing it in an editorial will impress them and a little bit of the message will sink in.

It is the best editorial I have read to date. My thanks to you and the members of your staff.

Yours sincerely
Mrs. J. Welch
Toronto, Ontario.



The Seventh Column

Sometimes everyday commodities seem of little value simply because they're always there. Knowledge that the well has gone dry suddenly creates an uncontrollable urge to secure a drink of water, and last Saturday night residents over hundreds of square miles of our district found themselves in just such a situation. There was plenty of water in the wells but what was lacking was the POWER to lift it. Our computerized society little realizes just how much it relies on electricity till, like a bolt from the blue, it isn't there any more. The 10-hour period of darkness no doubt was a tremendous hardship to some, but we have to admit we rather enjoyed it. It wasn't all that difficult to find a substitute for water to dampen a parched palate, and a quiet evening unpunctuated by glaring commercials was rather like an injection from the "fountain of youth."

With teachers and students all anticipating (or fearing) the rapid approach of another school term, we thought it might be interesting to look at some figures. Many readers once served on school boards and are familiar with education costs. Even they may get a surprise when they contemplate the following reports. The figures have recently been released by the Carleton Board of Education and possibly you should have a glass of cold water within reach before proceeding further. The figures are for a 6-month period ending June 30; include both elementary and secondary schools; and the total expenditure for those months was $16,939,501. The cost for Administration, $298,505, and for Instruction, $10,278,170.

By chance we came across this "Short Course In Human Relations." We plan to study it well and apply daily the lesson learned. Respectfully we pass it on to readers: The six most important words: "I admit I made a mistake"; the five most important words: "You did a good job"; the four most important words: "What is your opinion?"; the three most important words: "If you please"; the two most important words: "Thank you"; the most important word: "We"; the least important word: "I".

Ever wonder about the duties of an efficiency expert? The following definition crossed our desk this week: An efficiency expert is a man who knows less about your business than you do and gets paid more for telling you how to run it than you could possibly make out of it even if you ran it right instead of the way he told you. Any questions?

Rain called a sudden halt to Williamsburg's giant fastball tournament last Saturday and latest reports indicate the unbeaten teams will return in two weeks time to declare a winner. Meanwhile, sports fans, if you want to see some real "curves" we suggest you attend the tournament at Russell this weekend. And if you hadn't already guessed, in this one the athletes are all girls.

So you think hippies have no problems! Consider, if you will, the two hippie college students returning, somewhat stoned, from a party. As one fumbled around in a futile attempt to unlock the door, the other pointed out, "Like man, you can't open the door with that, it's a cigarette." "Hell," moaned the other, "I've smoked my key."

If you have a dear friend whose age appears to have removed him from the mainstream of life, may we suggest you find time to pay a visit. It may be only to say "Hello" but the rewarding smile is sure to make the rest of your week more productive. An acquaintance, who watches the world whirl past his dimming eyes, penned the following, and we think it well deserves prominent space:

BEATITUDES FOR FRIENDS OF THE AGED
(his own caption)

Blessed are they who understand
My faltering step and palsied hand.
Blessed are they who know that my ears to-day
Must strain to catch the things they say.

Blessed are they who seem to know
That my eyes are dim and my wits are slow.
Blessed are they who looked away
When the coffee spilled on the cloth to-day.

Blessed are they who stopped to chat
With a cheery smile for a little while.
Blessed are they who never say
You've told that story twice to-day.

Blessed are they who make it known
That I'm loved, respected and not alone.
Blessed are they who know the way
To bring back memories of yesterday.

Blessed are they who know I'm at a loss
To find the strength to carry my cross.
Blessed are they who ease the days
On my journey home in loving ways.

Down On The Farm

first hand experience for city youths

To date fifty (50) Ottawa youths have experienced farm life first hand through the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food's Urban-Rural Exchange program.

These young people from all parts of the City have had the opportunity of being part of an area farm family for a week. All of these young people have found this experience very rewarding as they found out what farming really is all about. If milk goes up a couple of cents a quart now it won't seem so bad now, as they have an idea of the work that goes into producing milk. Likewise for other agricultural products. These Urbanites now have a much greater insight into and an appreciation of the complexities of a modern farming operation. The host families that have taken part so far have found the City youths very adaptable to their new environment. The farm families almost without exception have found that they too benefit from having these enthusiastic Urban youths visiting them.

These new found friendships have also paved the way for many visits of rural youths to visit City families to experience the trials and pleasures of City living.

Unfortunately, the supply of host families for August is far short of what the local co-ordinator was hoping for. If you are on a farm and have young people between the ages of 12 and 15, and would like to give an opportunity for an Ottawa youth to experience life down on the farm, please contact your local department of Agriculture and Food or Rod Gilmer, Ottawa Area Co-ordinator, Urban-Rural Exchange, 26 Thorncliffe Place, Ottawa 6, Ontario. K2H 6L2, Telephone 828-9167.

ARDA Grants For Relocation Of Rural Families

Under the terms of the 1970-1975 Federal-Provincial Agreement funds are available to assist rural families to move to areas where employment is available, or to a new farm or retirement home.

This program is designed to supplement the mobility grants provided by the Federal Department of Manpower and Immigration and other agencies. The funds may be used only when the family has inadequate financial resources to move and is unable to obtain sufficient assistance from other sources.

Families elegible for this assistance would include those who wish to retire and move, farmers who wish to sell their present farms and continue farming in another area, and those who wish to move to other employment or take retraining.

The funds may be used for moving of families and household effects to a new location, moving of chattels to a new farm location, purchase of a retirement home or purchase of a new farm

Those who qualify for this grant must be in need of financial assistance to complete the planned adjustment. The amount of the grant shall be calculated on the basis of that amount of funds which are in shortage when the total available financial resources are compared with the total amount needed to complete a reasonable and feasible adjustment plan. The grant will not exceed $2,500.00.

Those people interested in this program should contact the ARDA Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, Box 2004, Kemptville, Ontario.

Sawflies On Conifers

Plantation owners should carefully check their trees for small larvae feeding on the needles of spruce and pine.

Several species of Sawflies will appear soon or have already appeared and are eating on the lush growth of pines and spruce in Eastern Ontario, often causing branch or even tree mortality in the case of heavy infestation. The larvae or "worms" come in varying shades of yellow and green and have a stripped or spotted pattern on their body. Some feed in groups or colonies, a few feed singly, Look closely for bare spots on the small branches, then look again for the actual larva as they blend easily with the colour of the needles and may be difficult to see at first glance.

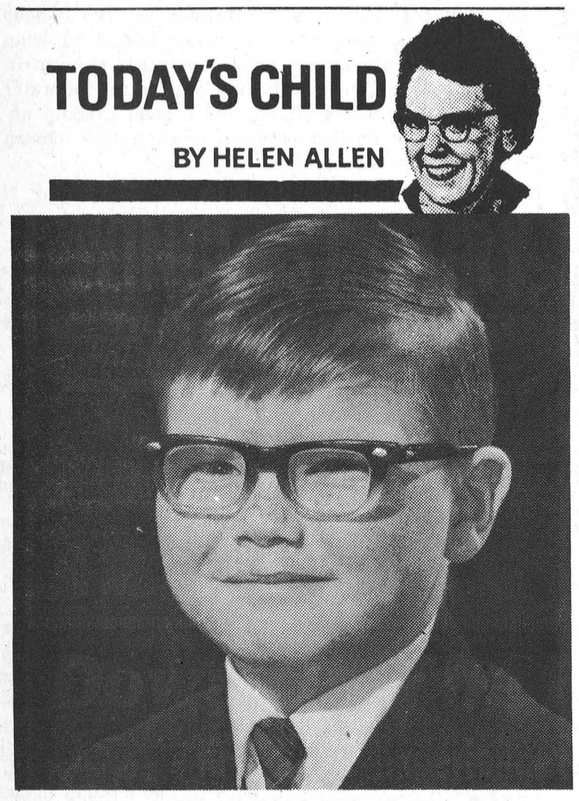
Presently, THE YELLOW-HEADED SPRUCE SAWFLY has hatched and is feeding on many spruce species, mainly white spruce. The larva is striped and is about one inch long when fully grown and when disturbed they raise their heads in a very characteristic manner. It can be readily controlled with Malathion mixed at the rate of 2 teaspoons to 1 gallon of water and applied with a hand or pack sprayer. Usually there is only one hatch per year.

Another, THE RED-HEADED PINE SAWFLY but more serious insect will be hatching soon on our 2 needle pine species - Red, Jack, Scotch, and Mugho. The mature larva has a black spotted yellow body and is about 1 inch long. They feed in dense colonies or clusters completely consuming the needles and moving on to an adjacent branch. A similar spray mix of Malathion in water will effectively control this insect.

Large plantation owners should make regular inspections of their areas and if a serious infestation exists contact their local office of the Department of Lands & Forests for further information on control measures for Sawflies in conifer stands.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN



"Enjoys Sports and Camping"

You'd certainly think Perry was Irish; but this eight-year-old with the engaging freckles is French-Canadian in descent. He is a short, sturdy lad with light-brown hair, blue eyes, and fair skin. His glasses are for astigmatism. French is his first language, but he understands English.

Perry is expected to have minor surgery soon, but his health is excellent. He is not a particularly good student, though his teacher feels he can handle regular classroom work if he gets a great deal of help and encouragement.

A happy boy, Perry is almost never without a smile. He is likeable and agreeable and loves attention from adults. Perry enjoys all sports and loves camping. He likes working with tools and playing with trucks and cars. Western music and Western movies are his favorites.

Perry needs parents who can combine love with consistent discipline and who are not demanding in their academic expectations. To inquire about adopting Perry, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Education Too Big To Finance With Municipal Property Taxes

"Education today is simply too big a business to be financed by municipal property taxes", Opposition Leader Robert Nixon told an enthusiastic audience at Parry Sound last week.

Mr. Nixon said education is now the provincial government's costliest concern and getting more so every day to the extent that at the present time 41 cents of every dollar spent is used for education.

"In absolute terms", he said, "the current budget calls for an expenditure of $1.55 billion - which is ten times higher than a decade ago.

The Opposition Leader emphasized that Ontario now had Canada's largest, costliest, best-staffed, most experimental and most innovative educational system.

"Unfortunately", he went on, "it is not the most efficient, nor the most effective, it is wasteful".

Mr. Nixon suggested the system is administratively top-heavy; remote from the people who pay for it; sometimes extravagant; occasionally grandiose; and too often not teaching the right things.

WOULD TAKE 80% OF BURDEN OFF LAND OWNER

Mr. Nixon said his government would, within its first term in office, transfer 80% of education costs away from land assessment.

He outlined a 15-point program of educational reform which he said would be implemented if his party is elected.

School Construction Grants To Increase Says Minister

The Ontario Department of Education will pay more toward the cost of school construction, Minister of Educaton Robert Welch announced last week.

Mr. Welch said his Department's capital grant plan for school construction has been revised to allow for the increases in construction costs since the plan's introduction in 1967. The tables used to calculate the expenditure eligible for grant have been increased the equivalent of about four per cent a year.

Mr. Welch said the revisions, coupled with a higher Department grant on debenture debt charges, will particularly assist those boards in fast growing areas in providing vital school facilities at a minimal cost to their taxpayers.

Mr. Welch stressed that boards will not be allowed to increase the maximum expenditure for school building but that a larger portion of this maximum cost will be eligible for grant.

The Minister stated that the changes will apply to the boards' 1971 construction programs. Under the revisions, the Department will pay grants averaging in excess of 90 per cent of nine tenths of the construction costs.

The basic plan covers new elementary and secondary school construction and renovations to existing buildings. Secondary school portable facilities will now be eligible for grants.

Mr. Welch said that the plan will be adjusted annually to keep pace with rising construction costs. The Minister stated the Department will continue to require school boards to provide long-term justification for all new school construction. At the same time the Department will continue to examine all school building plans to insure that maximum economy is attained.

Long Arm of the Foremost

Ontario Hydro's first "Foremost" makes life easier for linemen. The 29-ton, double-track vehicle lifts crews 75 feet in the air in insulated buckets, so they can work on live 230,000-volt lines without climbing towers. With this equipment much muscle work and fatigue is avoided, and senior linemen can work aloft with the younger members of the crew.

Motorists aren't likely to meet the Foremost on the highway — it's not a practical move for the 41-foot giant. While its plentiful track area rests lightly on a roadway's pavement (four pounds per square inch), at its maximum 12 miles an hour it indents the surface. So it rides from job to job on a companion 21-ton float.

Built in Calgary, the Foremost was originally designed to work in muskeg on the Alberta oil fields. Hydro added the insulated boom and buckets for line retensioning and other transmission applications. Ontario Hydro Photo.

"CYCLONE" TAYLOR

Visitor At Upper Canada Village

One of hockey's great immortals and the oldest living professional hockey player, Fredrick Wellington, "Cyclone" Taylor, recently visited Upper Canada Village and other interesting locations in the St. Lawrence Parks.

While "Cyclone" was reluctant to talk about his personal fame and contribution to hockey he reminisced about those early days and the many changes in sport which have occurred over the years.

Born at Tara, Ontario, he played his first hockey in Listowel and when about twenty years of age moved to Portage La Prarie, to play in the Manitoba Senior Amateur League.

In 1905, 1906 and 1907 he played in the International Professional League in the United States which was the fore-runner of Professional Hockey and at that time there were no ice markings whatever.

In December, 1907, Canadian Hockey promotors started teams in Ottawa, Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, and these four teams were the real beginning of Pro Hockey in Canada.

In Ottawa "Cyclone" became one of the famous "Silver Seven" and stayed two years.

Mr. Taylor, who vividly recalls an occasion on March 17th, 1910 when he skated backwards the length of the ice to score a goal, is shown above centre, chatting with G. W. Arthurs, Public Relations Officer and Dr. J. A. Phillips, Commissioner.

Watching You From Above

Drivers who defy speed limits should keep in mind that 'someone up there is watching' and it might well be an Ontario Provincial Police Officer.

"No, I wouldn't like to be pulled over," says Constable J. Wilde of the Ontario Provincial Police, "but if you're speeding what do you expect?"

Wilde, who has been flying with the O.P.P. Air Patrol for the past five years, considers aircraft surveillance one of the best and safest methods of bringing the speeding public to heel.

"Persons doing 30 mph over the speed limit are not unusual," says Wilde, "and I've stopped them doing 125 mph.

In a recent four-hour patrol, on a week-day, Wilde stopped 36 speeders. At least four of these were doing close to or over 90 mph. "This was in the high accident area of Highway Number 11 around Orillia."

Wilde feels the Air Patrol approach is the fairest to the speeder. "We clock an offender over 3/4 of a mile, sometimes over a mile and a quarter. For instance I'll time him in the first quarter mile, let him run for the next quarter, time him again, and so on until I have at least three readings. We take the lowest reading and charge him with that."

At Wilde's instructions, an O.P.P. officer stationed on the ground in the area under surveillance, will wave the speeder over and charge him. Wilde sits directly behind the pilot so both men see the same thing, thus eliminating confusion. Two stop-watches, fastened to a clip board, are used to time suspects. In order to get in touch with the man on the ground, Wilde activates his head set and radio with a foot pedal.

If he's timing you, Wilde waits till your grille touches the T-mark on the highway before he starts his stop-watch. When your grille reaches the next T-mark he stops the watch and records your time. For instance, if it took you 18 seconds to travel the quarter mile between two T-marks you'd be doing 50 mph.

Wilde simple ticks off your time on a printed chart.

"The driver's attitude is an important factor in determining the outcome in any driving situation," says Wilde and from his six years' O.P.P. experience, five with the air patrol, he feels many drivers are unaware or oblivious of the unnecessary risks they take on the road.

The Air Patrol was set up in 1965 and was the first such patrol of its kind in Canada. There are currently, six O.P.P. aircraft flying out of Toronto, London, Hamilton, Belleville, Ottawa and Sudbury and, in addition to traffic patrol, these airplanes are used for search and rescue operations.
