Open House Displays

During last week's Open House at Iroquois Public School each classroom had an opportunity to show their wares and the displays made by the students were exceptionally well done. Many parents and friends of the students visited the school and expressed pleasure at the fine work achieved. See other photos Page 11

"The Way" play coming next week

On Tuesday and Wednesday, April 24 and 25, "The Way", a new religious drama, will be presented in the Iroquois United Church, at 8 p.m. both evenings. This is a play about the beginnings of the early Church, and features a cast of two dozen teenagers drawn from the surrounding area.

Danny Tucker plays the role of Saul of Tarsus, while Dale Marcell plays Simon Peter. The role of Caiaphas is again taken by Michael Saver, who is supported by Wayne Marston as Ananias, and John Mellon as Hezekiah. These three are the priests of Jerusalem. Kevin Keyes and Katy Organ of Morrisburg play the parts of King Herod Agrippa and his wife Kypros. Edward Rooney has a double role to play, first as Stephen the Christian, and then as Blastus, the steward in Herod's Court.

The Christian Church was faced with some severe struggles, as it took its first feeble steps into reality, but it had the seeds of victory within it. That is what "The Way" is all about.

Anglican-United holy week exchange

Within the context of dialogue about Church Union, the local congregations of St. John's Anglican Church and Iroquois United Church of Canada will exchange attendance at the Maudy Evening Service of the Lord's Supper and Good Friday's Watch at the Cross. This is the third year that the two congregations have met in Holy Week.

The Rev. Allan Rogers will preach at the Maudy Thursday Evening Service of Tenebrae and a Memorial of the Last Supper, to be held at 8 p.m. April 19 at Iroquois United Church.

On Good Friday, Rev. Brian Gee will guest preach at St. John's at 8 p.m. through any person who is seeking a place of Christian worship in Holy Week is welcome at either service, primarily the two congregations are exchanging within the context of current Church Union dialogue.

Open House at Iroquois Public School was big success

The week of April 9th to April 13th was declared Education Week across Ontario.

The staff at Iroquois Public School responded by inviting all the parents in the community to an Open House.

The Open House was held on April 11th from 7:30 to 8:30 in the evening.

The parents were free to meet the teachers and see the many attractive displays of the children's work.

The displays included creative writing, spelling, math, art, microscopic study and other subject areas in the learning program.

At 8:30, the parents assembled in the gymnasium and were treated to a slide presentation by the Principal, Jim Shaw.

The slides were taken of the children when they were involved in classroom activities. Other slides showed students who had participated in educational field trips arranged by the school.

Mrs. Plumadore's class had visited a farm. Mrs. Burrell's and Mrs. Merkley's class had visited the sugar bush. Mr. Dolan's room had visited Upper Canada Village and worked with the craftsmen for a day.

At the end of the evening, the parents of students in Mrs. Styles' room were asked to stay behind and the proposed student exchange between Bell's Corners Public School and Iroquois Public School was explained.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by students, staff and parents.

Shower bride

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held at the home of Mrs. Marshall Davidson in honour of Miss Patricia Asselin, whose approaching marriage is in the near future. Games were played, prizes given and an address book presented to the bride-to-be. Lunch was served and the bride thanked everyone for an enjoyable evening.

Interesting thank-offering meeting United ladies

The April meeting of Iroquois United Church Women took the form of Easter Thankoffering. Mrs. Wm. Moffatt presented a worship service on the theme of love. She effectively used poetry to convey the message of the measure of God's love as shown to us through the gift of His Son, Jesus Christ. The opening poem was "The Love of God Flows Out to Me". She read from the scriptures John, chapter 3, verses 1 to 17 wherein we find "God so loved the world...". The meditation was entitled the "Redeemed Society", redeemed not through the joy of life but through the cross. Hymns used were "Crown Him with Many Crowns" and Come, Holy Spirit, Come". In closing the devotions she read the poem "The Debt of Love".

Taking the chair for the business period was president Irene Haldane, assisted by secretary Marion Pyette. Coming events brought to our attention were Morrisburg U.C.W. Thankoffering May 1; Seaway Valley Presbyterial at Long Sault May 9; Glen-Stor-Dun birthday party, tentatively May 15; Lions Charter Night May 12.

Joan Gee introduced Mrs. Welwood Adam who addressed the gathering on stewardship. Mrs. Adam is Presbyterial officer of Stewardship and Vocations. She reminded her audience of the requirements of a steward, not that she be brilliant, not that she need be illustrious, only that she be faithful. How many of us are truly faithful in our stewardship?

Mrs. W. J. Armstrong given surprise party

Members of Knox Church gave a surprise party for Mrs. W.J. Armstrong, on the occasion of her birthday, Sat. April 14th at the home of Mrs. Kay Perry, Church Street. A small group of members shared an evening of bridge, fellowship and luncheon. "Taken by surprise', the honoured guest was presented with a beautiful floral plant by her pastor, the Rev. John Hibbs, on behalf of the group. A table, decored in bright colours and centred with a special birthday cake, greeted all for the social time. Mrs. Armstrong thanked her host, and all who took part in the occasion, being wished "many happy returns" in years to come.

On Friday evening, April 13th, Mrs. Armstrong was also surprised at the "Home Bridge Group" meeting held at Mrs. B. Saver's home on Elizabeth Drive. Three tables of bridge were enjoyed, followed by a surprise birthday cake, presented by the hostess of behalf of the group.

The Post adds its best wishes to Mrs. Armstrong on this happy occasion of her recent birthday.

Hard-line unemployment

Recent newspaper reports indicate that a hard line is being taken against those who have been bilking the unemployment insurance funds for years.

And some members of parliament say that the treatment these people are getting is not warranted. There may be the odd case of a U. I. officer overstepping his obligations and these will be gradually weeded out.

But what of the thousands of people who have apparently taken thousands of dollars illegally from the Canadian public. If a man went into a service station, or bank, or grocery store and robbed it, he would find himself in jail. Yet the theft of unemployment insurance funds leaves us to believe that many people have double standards.

It is all right to steal from the people on the one hand, but not on the other. But the people who have been putting up that U.I. money have been getting fed up with supporting people not entitled to support.

With or without a liking for the Liberals, even a Conservative or NDP'er can see merit in cracking down on these offenders. That's what government is all about. Protecting the rights of individuals, but not at the expense of others.

Cost of living has increased and so will increase the thinking of the mass populace away from being too soft hearted and soft-headed. Every member of parliament had better believe that.

It's possible that the Canadian public is on the verge of a new thinking era...one in which a harder line will be taken on many things in this country. And with it may even come more participation by citizens in their own communities.

And then again, we could be having a pipe dream!

What Next Mr. Premier?

Premier Bill Davis and his dollar boys have really hit the jackpot this time. With ever-increasing spending putting them in the red the last few years they've come up with the easy way of picking up the money by increasing the sales tax.

Now that took a lot of thought!

And, of course, we the taxpayer pick up the tab for our "expanding" economy. Nowhere are to be found statements on the government cutting down its own frills in Toronto and other places it controls. But we are headed for a balanced budget. The word "budget" seems to have been lost in the shuffle.

When you budget to spend a certain amount of money and it runs out ... that ends the buying spree for most of us. But in Toronto you just increase the sales tax and keep on going.

And that bit about giving back money to the municipalities...wow! We wonder how much of that money will be lost between one pocket and the other.

Time, gentlemen, please!

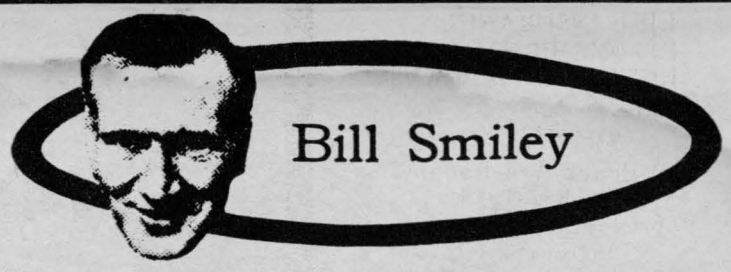
I AINE SHURE
WHAT THEY MEEN
by Bill Smiley



English is going down the drain, going to the dogs, or going up in smoke these days. Take your pick. Maybe that first sentence is what's wrong with the language. There are so many idioms in it that nobody can speak or write the real thing any more.

University professors have expressed their indignation publicly. A couple of them recently announced that students who expect to graduate in one of the professions can't write one sentence without falling all over their syntax. I agree with them.

But if they think they have troubles, they should try teaching English in high school. There has been such a marked and rapid decrease in the standards of written and spoken English that teachers of the subject can be found almost any day in the staff john, weeping into the washbasin.

This winter, a teacher in a city school decided to prove something she already knew. She drew up a list of forty words, most of them of one syllable, and tested several classes. Nobody could spell all forty. Many of the kids couldn't spell ten of the words.

Her experiment and her subsequent indignation were airily dismissed by a public school principal, who said something like, "Oh, we don't worry much about spelling any more. They'll learn to spell when they need to." Hogwash.

What employer of anything but brute strength wants a semi-literate lout fouling up his invoices, order forms and everything he can get his hands on?

What printer, for example, will hire a kid who can't even spell "etaoin shrdlu" and doesn't even know what it means?

I do a fair bit of gnashing and wailing myself when I'm marking upper school papers and have to sort out something like, "The women nu were she was going, as she when they're everyday." The thought it there, but there is something lacking when it comes to felicity of spelling.

Everybody blames everybody else for the sad state of English, but, as usual, you have to read it in this column to get at the truth.

Let us establish the a priori fact that the high school English teacher is faultless. And, some would add, that a fortiori, the high school English teacher is useless. So be it.

Now for the real culprits. They are not the elementary school teachers, much as we would love to blame them. They are victims, too.

First, English had been derogated and eroded for the past couple of decades until it is now down somewhere in the area of brushing your teeth and saying your prayers.

Remember, you older and wiser people who went to school longer ago than you care to proclaim? You had spelling and grammar and composition and reading and writing and orals. This was English.

Maybe you didn't learn much about sex or conversational French or how to copy a "project" out of the encyclopedia, but you sure as hell had English belted into you.

Maybe you weren't given much chance to "express yourself", but by the time you were, you had some tools with which to do it.

Nowadays English is practically crowded off the curriculum by such esoteric subjects as social behaviour, getting along with the group, finding your place in society, and the ubiquitous and often useless "project".

Kids, one teacher told me, shouldn't have to learn to spell words that are not in their own vocabulary. Now, I ask you. How else do they acquire a vocabulary?

But, I repeat, it's not the teachers of our little treasures who are at fault. It's the tinkerers, the dabblers in education. They are rarely found in a classroom. They are more often haring after some "new approach" in education that has been tried and found wanting by the Americans or the Armenians or the Aztecs" [illegible]

Thus, out went grammar and spelling drill. The kids are supposed to learn these basic skills, not through their eyes and ears, but in some mysterious way: possibly through their skin.

Daily drill is deadening to the spirit, so off with its head. Let the kids be creative, write poetry:

"I saw the moon ovary the cloweds
it was sooper."

Bicycles can be hazard if not in good shape

It has been found that one of the greatest hazards to safe cycling in Dundas County is that the bicycles are not in safe operating condition.

Throughout our schools, we convey the thought of becoming an expert, or a professional while riding a bicycle. Just as a professional in any sport would not think of participating in his profession before checking his equipment, the children are taught to examine their bicycles before riding them.

Many parents mistakenly purchase a bicycle with the idea that their child will grow into the bicycle. Although this may seem like a good idea at the time, stop and think of the possible consequences. The size of the bicycle affects your child's ability to reach and use the steering, pedalling and braking controls. If the bicycle's size hinders any of these controls, the result could be an accident causing serious injury or even death. Your child should be able to reach the ground confortably with the ball of his foot when he is sitting upright.

The mechanical condition of most bicycles leave an awful lot to be desired. In a recent bicycle roadeo held in our area, three bicycles were found to have no brakes whatsoever. The method of stopping employed by these youngsters was dragging their feet, possibly with the hope that nothing would get in their way.

The following is a check list to assist you when examining your child's bike.

- Lubrication - Front hub, head bearing, coaster brake and crank bearings need good multi-purpose grease. Chain and pedals need good light machine oil.
- Steering - Keep handlebars straight, tight and at the right height. Keep handlebar nuts tight. Make sure that the handle grips are snug.
- Wheels - Check for bent or missing spokes. Keep axle nuts tight.
- Tires - Check for cuts and bruises. Keep tire pressure up. Don't drive with bald tires. You'll have poor traction, slow stopping when you apply the brakes. Tire pressure guide: 1¼" tires, 50-65 lbs.; 1 3/8" tires, 40-60 lbs.; 1½" tires, 35-55 lbs.; 1 3/4 tires, 30-50 lbs.
- Brakes - Keep them properly adjusted.
- Chain - Should be cleaned and oiled regularly. Check for weak links. Keep proper tension, about 3/4" up and down movement is correct.
- Bell - the law requires that you have a bell or horn in good working order.
- Lights - If you are driving after dark, or at any time when due to insufficient light or unfavourable atmospheric conditions, persons and vehicles on the highway are not clearly discernible at a distance of 500 feet or less, you must have a white or amber light on the front of your bicycle, and a red reflector or light on the rear. You must also have red reflecting material at least 10" long, 1" wide on the back fender and white reflective material at least 10" long, 1" wide on the front forks.

It is kind of funny that people will spend a great deal of money on gadgets to enhance the look of a bike while these same people will not spend thirty-nine cents for reflective tape and a bell which are required by law; funny but tragic.

It would be tragic to have a child lose his or her life because he or she lacked thirty-nine cents of tape on their bicycle.

As a parent, you have a moral and legal obligation to ensure the safety of your child. Take time now to inspect your children's bicycles, who knows, it may even save their life.

WATER SUPPLY — Surplus water from some Ducks Unlimited projects is utilized to keep downstream creek channels alive. By use of lengths of plastic or metal pipes, water is siphoned over the earth-fill dam and into the creek channel which may meander for a mile or more. Such creeks, which normally dry up by mid-summer continue to provide valuable water for nesting habitat and other uses.

Announce Settlement

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers announce settlement of a new two year labour agreement for Seaway workers. The new pact provides for wage increases of $0.32 an hour (7.4% of the average wage) effective Jan. 1st 1973 and a further increase of 7%, effective Jan. 1st, 1974. Adjusted shift differential premiums and improved annual leave entitlement are also provided for in the new agreement.

The new contract will replace the previous agreement which expired on Dec. 31st, 1972. It was negotiated during meetings between Authority and Union representatives in Jan. and Feb. and it was ratified by Seaway workers earlier this week. The new Agreement will expire on Dec. 31st, 1974.

MASKED RAIDER — The raccoon has earned itself a very shady reputation in duck marshes. Clever and adaptable, this animal has become a major predator of duck nests in many areas. Largely a night hunter, the raccoon is an expert climber and good swimmer. Favored haunts are the vicinity of wet areas such as lakes, rivers, marshes and swamps. A fully grown adult will weigh 15 lbs. or more. In Canada the raccoon ranges from British Columbia east-ward into the Maritimes.

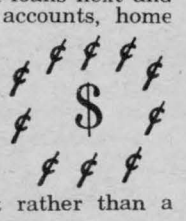
DOLLARS & GOOD SENSE

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to Avco Financial Services

There's no doubt about it. We live in a credit society.

In the U.S., consumer credit now stands at more than $140 billion, compared with about $6 billion in 1945. In Canada, the total is over $12 billion.

Automobile loans account for some 30% of this debt, with personal loans next and then charge accounts, home repair loans, etc.



Credit has become necessary to today's life style, and many regard it as a right rather than a privilege.

Is credit spending too high? Should curbs be put on credit spending? No, say the experts. In fact, a further expansion of credit is regarded as the best course.

The Canadian Bankers Assoc. says that credit expansion has generally helped speed up the prosperity of the business system and has improved the standard of living. It adds that potential future growth of consumer credit should not be viewed with alarm and should not be curbed.

In the U.S., the National Commission of Consumer Finance agrees that credit should be made more available.

As the use of consumer credit increases, it's up to all of us to learn how to use credit wisely so that it can continue to serve us well.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875 London, Ontario.

In last week's column I worte about some of the highlights of the recent Speech from the Throne, particularly those dealing with environmental and pollution control measures.

This week I would like to cover some of the other matters which were touched upon in the Throne Speech and for which legislation will be introduced during the current Session.

Of particular interest to me, of course, is the re-affirmation of the Government's belief that local government is in the best position to determine its own priorities and that it is up to the people at the local level to decide what kind of a Municipality they wish to have. As I have repeatedly said, the primary purpose of the restructuring of local government is to enable more effective planning at the local level. Public participation in this process is essential and I welcome, as I am sure the people of Grenville-Dundas will welcome, the intention to transfer greater authority and responsibility for local matters to the Municipalities.

As the Throne Speech indicated it is the intention of the Government to proceed with the regional development plans for the areas east and west of Metro. As my readers probably know proposals for these two general areas have been published sometime ago and the Government is still waiting suggestions from the Municipalities affected before any legislation is drafted. As far as the remainder of the Province is concerned, there are no present plans for introducing further regional Government programs beyond those which have already been announced.

I mentioned, very briefly, in last week's column that the Government intends to initiate some procedures involving land use controls to prevent our first-class farmland from the incursions of urban developers. This is a matter undoubtedly of great concern to farmers and one which will be of continuing interest to them. I would point out that one of the very basic principles that this Government holds dear is that the public should be increasingly and completely involved in the Governmental process. This means that there will not be extensive controls placed on the use of farmland, except with the fullest participation of those people who are directly affected. The farmers of Grenville-Dundas need have no fear that some sort of control will be imposed without their knowledge from Queen's Park.

Also of interest to our farm community will be the introduction of new legislation relating to the use of pesticides, but this again will involve a high degree of co-operation between the vendors and the users.

Livestock growers will be interested in the Livestock Medicine's Act which is to be introduced during the coming Session. This measure like the land use control legislation may arouse some fears in farmers as of the use of drugs available for this purpose, but I think it is necessary to adopt a "wait and see" attitude until the legislation is available, at which time there will be ample opportunity for examining all of the pros and cons.

In addition to these matters, the Speech from the Throne covers a wide variety of other topics, such as increased benefits under The Workmen's Compensation Act, increased assistance to Family Service Agencies, further substantial commitment to the delivery of health services at a reasonable cost consistent with the highest possible standards. The various subjects are too numerous to mention but I will be dealing with the important ones as Legislation arrives in the House during the coming weeks.

Hunting on the farm safely and legally

Give me a country boy and I'll give you someone who knows how to handle a gun.

That may have been true back when a .22 slung on the wall from stout nails was as much a part of the farm kitchen and country life as the big wood-burner, pantries, crank telephones, wash basins, hand pumps and cisterns.

Today, most farm guns are off the wall because it doesn't go with arborite counters and modern decor. But it's still around and the feeling persists that just to live in the country is to know about guns even though the farmer may be a commuter.

Take that, the fact that the groundhog season is coming up and the belief held by many that you don't need a licence to discharge a firearm on your own property if you're under 16, and you may have some sorry fathers and wounded sons.

First, proper handling of guns: throughout the Eastern Region the Ministry of Natural Resources has qualified instructors who give Hunter Safety Training classes, especially before hunting season begins. To receive this qualified, thorough training in the handling of all guns, enquire about an instructor through your local Natural Resources office. Try to arrange a group for the instruction. There will be a nominal fee for the course.

Here are some other considerations: under the Game and Fish Act, a farmer or his family may use a firearm (not including had guns) to hunt on his own lands for any animal or bird except caribou, moose or deer and fur bearing animals, unless these fur bearers are predators. This is subject to certain regulations and open seasons for various species. For instance, this does not take into account the fact that you need a migratory bird permit to hunt migratory birds any place in Canada. A farmer hunting ducks on his own property would still need a migratory bird licence. A person on his own property may shoot fur-bearing animals who are not predators, but he must first have a farmer's trapping permit obtainable from his local conservation officer.

Now, about age. Under the Criminal Code a person under 16 cannot possess or use firearms, even if hunting on his own property. Also, if you give, hand over or in anyway transfer firearms (or ammunition) to someone under 16, you are guilty of an offence under Criminal Code Section 87. There is an exception here. A 15 year old can obtain a hunting licence and carry a firearm providing he has written parental permission, successfully completed the Hunter Safety Training Course, passed the Hunter Safety examination and has obtained from the Ontario Provincial Police a permit under Form FA-303. Also, under Game and Fish Act regulations, any pellet or air rifle is considered a firearm. Therefore, a farmer who takes his 14 year old son out with even an air rifle to teach him to shoot is actually committing an offense. The father is legally responsible for the son's actions. Someone under 15 cannot legally use a firearm even on his own property.

In the Nine Eastern Counties last year, more than 2,000 persons were given Hunter Safety examinations at various centres, an increase of about 300 over 1971. Those examined also fared better than the year before - the examination success rate rose from 87.4 per cent to 89.3 per cent over 1971 figures. Also, 54 of the active instructors conducted 87 hunter safety training courses. There were 1,765 graduates who, whether or not they actually bought a hunting licence and got into the country, knew for sure how to handle all the common types of rifles and shotguns.

Regulations, forms, procedures Not like the old days when a barefoot boy could get the family rifle down off the wall and go with his father back the lane to clean up some groundhogs in the grain field. Maybe so. But between then and now, we may have lost an old-fashioned attitude of seriousness about firearms and maybe many fathers, who don't use guns regularly like their grandfathers, aren't the experts they think they are whether they live "down on the farm" or not.

Anyway, is it worth the risk?

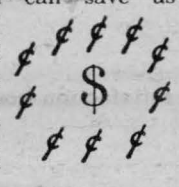
DOLLARS & GOOD SENSE

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to Avco Financial Services

What do you want when you drive into your neighborhood service station—loving care lavished over your car, glasses, toys or other premiums, or simply gasoline at the best possible price?

More and more of us are choosing the latter these days, and a whole new concept in gasoline marketing has been spawned. Its the unbranded self-service station.

You often can save as much as 9 or 10 cents a gallon by pumping the gasoline yourself. It's clean and easy. Anyone can do it.



Major oil companies, in an effort to keep their old customers, are now offering self-service islands at many of their full service stations. Their prices are still generally higher than those of the unbranded station.

To combat this oil companies have formed subsidiaries to open their own self-service operations.

That's fine for most of us, but what about the full service operator? He's been forced to beef up his service and often include such things as fast food and milk sales.

While the battle for customers increases, the average driver can only win. At a full service station the service should be a lot better, otherwise you know where you can go to cut your automobile operating costs significantly. The self-service station is part of a new wave of discount retailing, where all the frills and extras have been dropped in favor of lower prices. Check it out.

Subject of New Curriculum Guideline

The native peoples of Canada will be the subject of a new curriculum guideline for Ontario school students, it was announced last week. The announcement was contained in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Legislature.

Education Minister Thomas Wells said the aim of the course will be twofold, to strengthen the native child's self-image of himself and his people and to create a better understanding and appreciation

Constituents deeply concerned with many matters

WALTER BAKER, M.P.

The results of the questionnaire, to date, indicate certain different trends. It indicates that the Constituency is deeply concerned about the way the Trudeau Government is dealing with inflation and there is an over-whelming consensus for temporary price and wage control.

The results with respect to the question of unemployment indicated a need for action by the government.

The questionnaire reveals a deep-seated concern about the bilingualism program in the public service and its effect on the merit. But, on the other hand, one might argue from the results that the constituency generally agrees with the public service staff association's view that the policies expressed in the guidelines of the Treasury Board on Dec. 14/72 may point the way to improvement if faithfully followed. There might be some attention given to language training facilities, according to the poll. The answers also bear out the deeply felt concern that has been expressed by many people with regard to the importance of language training at an early age and the emphasis that ought to be placed on language training in the school system in the area.

There has been an over-whelming agreement with the point of view that often is expressed that there ought to be representatives of the municipal system on the National Capital Commission and a consensus that local government such as the Township of Nepean and other municipalities ought not to be abolished if a National Capital governing body was established at some other time.

There seems to be some general satisfaction from the riding with regard to the status of women in the world of work and an indication that there is a slight margin of opinion in favour of publicly operated day care centres. The opinion is that there is not sufficient day care centres at this time.

The answers to the foreign ownership questions show a strong feeling in Grenville-Carleton with respect to the foreign ownership of our industries. There is a strongly held concern and a belief that the Federal Government ought to take positive steps to lessen industries in Canada owned and operated by foreign interests.

The capital punishment matter was dealt with by way of a request for letters and telephone calls so that the matter could be discussed with the Member and that invitation has brought a tremendous response and a number of excellent suggestions. Many people have stated that it really doesn't make any difference what position one might take on the issue because it is unlikely that any Government would fail to exercise the royal perrogative of mercy.

The majority of those who have expressed an opinion in favour of retaining capital punishment also said that if they could be assured that less emphasis would be placed on the rehabilitation of the prisoner and more emphasis on the protectionof society by way of life sentences without parole or with parole only being granted after a thorough review after 25 years had been served, their attitude toward capital punishment would be different.

It is clear from the calls that there is a deep-seated concern in the way in which the parole system and temporary absence system from penitentiaries is being administered. There is a significant evidence in letters and in telephone calls and the use of Bible quotations to support both sides of the case and the opinion for or against capital punishment in the constituency as evidenced by those who have called, has shown an almost equal division.

The letters contained ideas and suggestions for further questionnaires and points of view on issues not covered by the questionnaire all of which have been very helpful to the Member. There were slightly in excess of 37,000 questionnaires sent out on a householder basis and the returns amounted to over 8,500 which is considered to be rather heavy.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

There has been no decrease in the number of registered unemployed clients (which in no way reflects the unemployment rate) in the Prescott Canada Manpower Centre area. With the termination of the Ontario Seasonal Tree Cutting Program and the resultant lay off of about 150 workers in this area, which covers all of Grenville county and half of Dundas county, the number of males has risen 50 to 566. The number of females registered has decreased by 51.

The majority of the occupational categories have shown a decrease with the exception of construction, material handling and students. Although the students are not yet available for work, they are being registered. Students account for 62 of the 998 registered for employment.

All manufacturing industries in the area are experiencing above average demand and are continuing to increase staff gradually. Several firms are behind in production and are desperately in need of well motivated workers.

The number of construction projects being planned for the spring and summer months continues to increase. It is expected that the majority of those now seeking work will have a number of construction projects available to them in the near future. The total construction projects planned are well above those of last year and the prospects for 1973 appear to be bright.

Although only 62 students have registered to date, between 500-700 students are expected to register within the next several months. A Student Placement Officer is now contacting all employers in an effort to place students going on to Post Secondary education as well as those now in the Post Secondary institutions. It is expected that the majority of the hirings will be from the various businesses in the area but the Ontario and Federal Student Programs are expected to have a heavy impact in this area.

Yours truly,
T.D. Glynn,
Manager
Canada Manpower Centre,
Prescott.

One cannot serve both God and Mammon (money). God is everlasting; money is a passing thing. There is only one choice if we are Christ's true women.

Mrs. Adam then turned to the parable of the talents, especially the one-talent servant. Our ability is the measure of our responsibility. One may ask, "What can I do?" and be prevented from using the talent possessed because of self-doubt, fear of failure, fear of being laughed at. "By your actions are you known"

As to our stewardship of time God has giveneach just so many days and it is very important how they be lived, one by one. We must one day give account of how we used our days. A Christian is accountable to the Lord. These matters of stewardship are tremendously personal - they are between each of us and our Lord. Mrs. Adam gave to each one present a paper on which was printed this thought: I am only one; but still I am one. I cannot do everything, but still I can do something. And because I cannot do everything, I will not refuse to do the something that I can do!

Refreshments prepared by the committee in chare, Shirley Moffatt, Kay Morgatroyd and Marge Shaver were served and a period of fellowship shared.

Restrict Seaway

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority and the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. jointly announced recently that agreement has been reached on further temporary speed restrictions for vessels transiting certain areas within the Montreal to Lake Ontario section of the Seaway.

These temporary restrictions will become necessary due to the rising water levels in Lake Ontario and the Upper St. Lawrence river. The water levels are being monitored closely and are now approaching the point where shoreline and property damage could result from normal vessel speeds.

Good program has been planned

THE CORNWALL & DISTRICT CLINIC - May 7th to 11th, 1973. Starting Date: Monday, May 7th, 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Place: St. Paul's United Church - 1st & Sydney Sts. Fee: $5.00 (A refund of $3.00 to those attending all five sessions)

The Five Day Stop Smoking Plan - sponsored by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. Co-ordinator - George Brewer. Co-Sponsors - Canadian Cancer Soc., 4 2nd St. E., Cornwall; St. Lawrence T.B. & Health, Box 1521, Cornwall; Heart Foundation, 708 Sandfield Cr., Cornwall.

The Five Day Stop Smoking Plan is a series of five consecutive group sessions held for one and a half hours each evening - five evenings in a row.

These sessions include:

1. filmed lectures by a psychologist-minister on the psychological and physiological aspects of the smoking habit;
2. supporting films on smoking and its effect on health;
3. demonstrations of ways helpful, in changing a harmful habit;
4. exchange of experiences by participants as they strive to overcome the smoking habit under the 5-Day Plan by developing healthful habits.

A personal control program that reaches into every minute of the individual's waking life, which is aided by a special booklet entitled "Your 5-Day Plan" has hints and help about: how to relax; how to avoid familiar hang-ups; when to exercise and how to breathe; what to eat and drink and even what to think about when the going gets tough.

A questionnaire sent to those participating in the first 5-Day Stop Smoking Plan showed 50% of those reporting had not smoked since October 1972.

A nominal fee of $5.00 for membership is the only cost ($3.00 is refunded to those participants who attend all five sessions, so the cost can be only $2.00). This is so because the folks who do the work for this plan do it for free --they are volunteers, who serve the community and they want to help you too. Register now by calling any following numbers or on May 7th, 8 - 8:30 p.m. The phone numbers are: 932-1283, 932-4999 and 933-5447.

Notes from "Seaway"

Friday, April 13th, thirty-seven senior Seaway students left for a four day French immersion in Quebec City.

Sat. morning, while on our bus tour, we saw the Montmouncy Falls, the Island of Orleans, the Citadel, the Plains of Abraham and the restoration of old Quebec. Also we saw the largest ship made in Canada. On Sun. night, some students went to the Coliseum to see the Quebec Ramparts playing host to the Cornwall Royals. Mon. morning, on our way home, we visited the aquarium.

Special thanks to our chaperones Mr. McAllister, Mr. Turpin and Mr. Stewart, our bus driver.

CURRICULUM

of the native people by non-Indian students.

The guideline, to be developed first for the primary and junior divisions (ages 6 to 11), will centre on the history, culture and achievements of the native people. To be called People of Native Ancestry, the guideline will allow teachers to develop courses in the area of social studies which not only cover the nation-wide aspects of the subject, but also be flexible enough to allow for the sutdy of matters of local interest throughout Ontario. It will later be expanded for senior public and secondary school students.

Mr. Wells said that it is hoped that the document, which is now under development, will be ready for introduction next spring.

ADELAIDE DANIELS SAYS

LET'S GET STARTED

Well let's get started — now! Put down that piece of cake you're eating. Now means this very minute and your diet will continue every minute of every day, weekend, holiday or workday, until you get to your Ideal-Weight.

There can be no tomorrow in dieting. How many times have you said to yourself; "I'll start my diet tomorrow," and what happened?

The right diet should be designed to work for you, whether you are eating at home or in somebody else's home; it should work equally well in your kitchen or your relative's kitchen. The meal plan should follow you to restaurants, luncheons, delicatessens or discotheques. It should work while you're on the job or going to school. It should go with you to weddings and funerals, parties and religious festivals — and on holidays!

And right from the start there is one word you should stop using: "try". All too many overweight people have tried, tried and tried again. So forget the word try and substitute "do"! Anyone who has ever been on a diet knows the difference between the two.

Also remember the only time you get into trouble on a diet is when you cheat a second time. And the only way you can avoid cheating a second time is by not cheating a first time. A simple concept but very true. It is much more difficult to stop after the first peanut than before.

It is essential that your diet be nutritionally sound as well as adjustable to your social, business and home needs. Since you will be learning new and sensible eating habits, some may feel strange at first. Parts of certain diet requirements may even seem to give you too much to eat. Parts will seem just right for you.

You will also find that some of the food items permitted are both familiar and delightful. At times you will feel quite full; other times only partially satisfied but never will you be dissatisfied.

And if you do become hungry occasionally, remember your motivation!

Also, every detail counts . . . nothing is unimportant. For example, sampling is not allowed — no matter how small the taste. When a meal plan permits half a grapefruit, that doesn't include the maraschino cherry.

So on your mark, get set and go . . . you can be slim, you just need the right motivation.

Your questions are invited.

Handicapped Man Active In Retirement

In 1970, Mr. William J. Flynn of Carleton Place laid down his tools at the Findlay Stove Company and began his retirement. This culminated forty-one years of working for Bill who has always been self dependent - in spite of the loss of a leg back in 1928.

Since retiring to his small farm-type home which he shares with his sister, Bill has become an ardent gardener and also enjoys puttering about the house.

In 1971 his artificial leg needed replacement. After finding that he was not eligible for government assistance, he requested and was provided with this necessary appliance by the March of Dimes Ability Fund.

Here in Ontario, the Ability Fund believes that all handicapped adults have the right to basic necessities which most of us have come to expect. They maintain that people like Bill Flynn, who have worked hard all their life and have brought our country to its present affluence, should not have to sell their home which took over 40 years of effort to obtain, especially when income is restricted to a pension.

In defence of faithful fido

(In reply to last week's poem taken from editorial of the Brockville Recorder and Times)

Dear Sir:
I know you don't encourage poetry, but I do feel the efforts of Mr. Arthurs in Monday's edition demands a reply. As a dog lover, I'm biased but I hope you'll agree I have a point.

Walking the streets of our city
I oft meet a man and his dog
I know he's found love and not pity
To a fellow like you that seems odd.
He may be a frisky young puppy
A poodle or maybe a hound.
Show me a friend who's more faithful,
A pal just like he, can't be found.
Should he steal the meat for your dinner
Well, who really cares about that.
He's well worth the price of a tee-bone
No sir, I don't talk thru my hat.
Should he leave his calling card often
Upon your green lawn, it's a shame.
Just think, and let your heart soften,
My pal is not really to blame.
He can't do his job thru the keyhole;
One doesn't expect that, I'm sure;
He is worth all the trouble he's causing

It happens to rich and to poor.
He'll stand by in rain or in sunshine

In joy or in sorrow, it's true;
And I'd give my soul to be like him,

Loyalty's found in but few.
Now, if I had the choice of a mink coat

Diamonds or wealth, I declare,
I'd still like a pretty white

poodle
Nothing on earth can compare.

Morrisburg grade eight student representative Nancy Bilmer is presenting Doug Grenkie, Morrisburg Cancer Campaign Chairman, with a cheque for one hundred dollars, donated by the grade eight class to the local unit in honour of Elsie Brais, late of the Village.

Mr. Grenkie is seen presenting special plaque to the students for the donation, in memory of Mrs. Brais.

The grade eight class are former winners of the Ottawa Journal Cup of Milk Fund, however, this year the project was not carried on by the Ottawa paper and the students decided to donate their efforts to other causes - cancer being one.

The grade eighters raised money by selling french fries and freshie at a floor hockey tournament; by selling pizza and freshie at a White Elephant Sale; by having a Cake Baking Contest, a penny toss, a grade eight Hall of Fame and a Giant Candy Cane raffle.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Mr. Kirkby:

In 1960, the Morrisburg Girls' Softball Club was formed and has been in existence ever since. The girls were part of the St. Lawrence Girls Softball League from 1961 until it folded in 1972. Exhibition games were played in 1972.

This year we would like to get into a league. South Mountain, Brinston, Hulbert and Iroquois were in a league last year. Possibly our team would be allowed to enter. But we don't know who the league executive is.

Maybe somebody from the executive will see this letter in your paper and contact us. Our girls are 14 to 23 years of age and are just out for the fun of it.

Thank you, Mr. Kirkby for your co-operation and here's hoping that these girls won't be disappointed.

Mrs. Arnold Barkley hosts White Church

The White Church U. C. W. met at the home of Mrs. Arnold Barkley on Wed. night April 11th. Mrs. Barkley was in charge of the program and in keeping of the Lenten season presented a reading dealing with Jesus announcing his death. As one listened again to the old story of how Jesus accepted his coming death so early in his life and so early in his career, the reading brought forth a counter part in his life which meant much to him.

Born under humble conditions, he knew that the shepherds had heard the angels sing. Born in a stable with oxen, yet he was told about a bright shinning star that lead the wise men to the stable. At the time of His baptism he heard a voice say "This is my beloved Son", hear Ye Him. When hungry in the desert, he knew that angels had ministered unto Him. Then He knew that God was a part of His life and would enable Him to bring good out of it, and God did. When he was laid in the tomb, an angel rolled the stone away and announced his resurection. So in faith He could calmly go forth to duty. Oh: if only we had the faith in God that gave us eyes to see what God has done and will do.

An interesting reading was given by Lynda Barkley entitled "The Quilting Bee". This was so true to life a few generations ago and brought back memories that will never be forgotten by a few of us who had the privilege to take part in them.

The community then was like one big family - interested in each other, friendly and happy to help anyone who needed help but alas, times have changed and the love and fellowship seems to have gone never to return.

The usual business was dealt with. Minutes of last meeting was read and approved. A "Thank You" note from Mrs. Florence Thompson was read. We are pleased to report that Mrs. Thompson is home from hospital much improved in health. We were also happy to welcome Mrs. Stohler who has just returned from Florida. Plans are completed for catering for a wedding in the near future. The make-believe-tea project is progressing favourably and hope to have a good report at our next meeting. The offering was taken and the closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and social half hour made us richer in the things worthwhile by having met together.

Attempt to organize lacrosse league here

An attempt is being made at this time to re-organize minor lacross and establish a league in the area.

Under the direction of the Morrisburg Recreation Committee, a minor association has been formed in that village involving several former players and interested people of the game. Plans have already been made for registration to take place late in May.

Letters have also been sent to villages in Cornwall Twp., Long Sault, as well as in Iroquois, where the Town Council was approached to seek their approval of having a minor system in the village. Although nothing definite was decided by the Council, it was the suggestion of Reeve Lloyd Davis to set up a group of interested people to form the basis for a minor association. A questionnaire will be given to boys in the local elementary schools to have an idea of the number of boys who may be involved in such a program.

Several people of Iroquois have already shown their enthusiasm for developing Canada's National Sport in the village.

It is hoped that anyone interested in minor sports such as hockey or interested people who know nothing of the game but wish to aid in the teaching and coaching of lacrosse will volunteer their help. If however, you are knowledgable of the game, you are certainly more than welcome as this would be a great asset to the village association and players.

Also, please note that if lacrosse is established in the village, it will definitely not interfere with the highly successful programs such as minor softball and swimming. To all those who are interested, please contact Mr. John McAllister or Mr. Allan Hare of Iroquois as well as Delbert Jones at Seaway District H. S.

Since lacrosse has been played in previous years in the old town it would be very interesting if some "old" or "not so old" team pictures could be found.

We measure the effectiveness of a leader, not in terms of the leadership he exercises, but in terms of the leadership he evokes; not in terms of his power over others, but in terms of the power he releases in others; not in terms of the goals he sets up and the direction he gives, but in terms of goals and plans of action persons work out for themselves with his help; not in terms alone of products and projects complete, but in terms of growth in competence, sense of responsibility and in personal satisfaction amoung many participants.

This is a definition of leadership. Do you, as a volunteer, live up to this definition?

The renewal of the Brownies and Girl Guides in Iroquois is another great move in the direction of recreation in our village. Girl Guiding began in 1909 in Great Britain. And here again this wonderful movement is on the go ahead in Iroquois and help is always needed to permit this program to succeed. Examine your time table and if you could find some spare time to assist this project, why don't you call and offer your services to Mrs. Marylyn Byers. Lets take a look at this organization. It develops a close relationship between mother and daughter. A girl needs help, love and understanding, as well as guidance. The Girl Guide organization is a youth organization. It has a program for girls between the ages of seven and twenty-one. Service clubs or other organizations should help sponsor a Brownie Pack or a Girl Guide Company. They could accept the responsibility of finding leaders either from their ranks or the community. They could offer the movement financial help to attend training sessions, assist the leaders with the program by offering to teach and test the various interest badges, support them when they undertake a specific project, encourage the girls to work on learning about their community. 1973 is going to be a very exciting year in the history of Canadian Guiding. Why not start to study the Guide program and hopefully, approach it in a manner more acceptable to the to the girls. If you or your or girls. If you or your organization would do just that, what a wonderful feeling you would have in knowing that you had a share in the development of these young girls. The girls of today are the women of tomorrow! Will you consider assisting the Iroquois Brownies and Guides? Several Iroquois teen-agers are patiently waiting for someone to come forward and serve as the Girl Guide Leader. What a pity! No adult interest in these young gals.

To this group, I offer you good luck in your endeavours. A prime example of good will and cooperation was demonstrated when Rev. Brian Gee offered the use of the United Church Hall for the Brownie Pack to hold their meetings. This location was selected due to conflicting activity at the Civic Centre.

On the casualty list: it is good to see that young Greg McDonell has the cast removed from the leg he broke playing minor hockey this winter. However, we regret to learn of Ross Ferguson's injury, as he broke his thumb playing broomball. Perhaps everyone should wear hockey gloves when playing this sport.

This corner offers three cheers to Miss Ann Summers for her splendid showing in the recent Miss Eastern Ontario Pageant at Perth. Ann was selected fourth runner-up. As one would read the March 28th publication of The Iroquois Post, it would make you think. Think of the value and publicity the young people of this village are bringing home. This recognition cannot be wieghed by dollars and cents. Money cannot buy this type of publicity. For example, as you look at the Iroquois Post of that particular week, you would realize the following accomplishments by our young citizens:

Over forty local children were in the Morrisburg cast of "A Little Bit of Ireland". This skating revue received coverage in several newspapers in Eastern Ontario, in addition to displaying their talents before a packed audience.

The Atom "A" Hockey club winning the Ottawa District Hockey Association Class "E" Championship.

Michael Styles judged the top orator in Dundas County.

Scott Payne winning the M. N. Hutchison award for a Canadian history essay in the county.

Miss Ann Summers selected fourth runner-up at Eastern Ontario Beauty Pageant.

The Novice "A" hockey team winning the "B" championship at the Winchester tournament.

Each and every week it would appear that an individual or group from Iroquois' younger generation is bringing this community outstanding publicity. In addition to the awards, these people receive from their performances, at these various competitions, they should receive some local citation from their community for all the good they do for the village.

Robert McGee, a very active community worker and his lovely family are picking up stakes and moving to Simcoe. Bob, since his arrival in Iroquois, has been a hard working member of the Iroquois Lions Club and a former Scout leader. This community will miss Bob and his family and all the efforts that they have contributed towards making Iroquois a better place to live. We wish the McGee family a happy farewell because we will miss you ever so much. Good Luck and thankyou for your past service!

In most localities in East ern Ontario, registrations for minor softball, baseball, soccer, lacrosse, tennis, etc. will be in full swing by April 16th. However the Iroquois Village Recreation Committee has not made any announcements concerning their summer program. Why?

It is hard to understand why baseball, soccer, lacrosse, and tennis associations are not established here.

It is our feeling that the Recreation Committee should call an open public meeting to discuss these possibilities.

Further, what about the intermediate ball for this summer. In the past, Iroquois had a very good ladies' team and a top men's team. What is the score for this summer?

If anyone has any information on these sports, please give us a call. Lynn O'Brien of Morrisburg called in recently regarding ladies softball. Apparently, she has a Ladies Intermediate club but cannot find a league in this area in which to enter for the 1973 season. If anyone has knowledge of a league that would accept the Morrisburg nine give Lynn a dangle at 543-2045. Yes, every ball season the same old problem - lack of teams and leagues. It is time for the softball and fastball fraternity in this district "got on the ball" and established smooth operating organizations to eliminate this annual headache!

Cornwall has formed a Minor Softball Association for 1973. A Dundas County Minor Softball or Fastball Association is urgently needed for both girls and boys. How about it?

Barry Graham, formerly of Cornwall Royals, Morrisburg Juniors and Ottawa 67's is reported to be a member of the Fort Wayne hockey club.

Remember, if you play sports be a good one and keep your eye on the game.

CAN DO IT

BY TOM TREMFIX

Question: My basement has a faint musty odour, even though I have a dehumidifier in it. Would painting my basement floor help? If so, what kind of paint should I use?

Answer: Yes, painting will definitely help, provided you use a paint that's specially made for concrete. The paint is called Colortread. It's a rubber-base finish that effectively protects and decorates concrete floors. And it dries in about two hours to a tough, high-gloss, easy-to-clean finish. What's more, should you decide to tile the floor later on, you can do so without having to remove the Colortread paint. Meanwhile, your floor will look great, and you'll get rid of annoying "concrete dusting" as well as musty odours.

EASY TO USE

You don't need any primer or sealer, but you should make sure your floor is clean and dry. The fastest way to apply the paint is with a mohair roller or brush.

One coat of Colortread will cover solid in one hour and dry in two hours. Apply a second coat if the concrete is very porous. That way, you'll get the longest wear. One Imperial gallon of Colortread will cover approximately 400 sq ft.

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and relatives for the floral tributes, memorial gifts, expressions of sympathy and acts of kindness during our recent bereavement in the loss of a dearly loved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Annie Couglar of Inkerman. 44-1c
The Couglar Family.

I would like to express my deepest appreciation to our friends and neighbours who remembered Ann in their prayers and sent her cards and letters while she was in hospital in Florida. Ann is now recovering in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. 1-nc
Edward Casentree

I wish to express my sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbours for a beautiful plant, rose bowl and flowers, also treats, cards, letters and visits while I was a patient in Winchester Hospital. Special thanks to Rev. Hibbs Rev. Rogers and Dr. Forbes, also all the nursing staff on 2nd floor. 44-1-p
Gladys Johnson

I would like to take this time to thank all my friends, neighbours and relatives for all the cards and enquiries made while I was a patient in Winchester Hospital. I would also like to thank them for helping out in any way at home. Thank you to the Caldwell Bowling League and Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 370 for the flowers and Legion Branch 370 for the basket of fruit.
Special thanks to Drs. Marston and Barton and nursing staff on 1st floor. 44-1-p
Doreen Bailey

I would like to say "Thanks" to all who sent cards, flowers and enquired about me while I was in Winchester and Kingston Hospitals.
Special thanks to the Legion for cigarettes and basket of fruit.
Thanks Again. 44-1p
David Keeler

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my friends and neighbours for cards, flowers and visits while I was a patient in the Winchester Hospital.
Special thanks to Dr. Forbes, Rev. Stewart and nurses on the 1st floor. These acts will long be remembered. Thank you again. 44-1-c
Arthur John Cutler

I would like to thank my friends and relatives for their gifts, cards and visits while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital.
Special thanks to Rev. Brian Gee, Dr. Dwain Justus and Dr. Marston; also all the staff on the Cronic Ward.

Doesn't that give you a unique experience? The freedom of spirit, the originality, the creativity?

Fortunately, I am able to shake this off, along with war and famine, death and taxes. It has it's moments.

The other day, I threw this old chestnut at a class, and asked them to correct the grammar: "Forty cows were seen, sitting on the verandah."

There was total silence. It seemed OK to them. Then a pretty Grade 11 girl flung up her hand and flashed all her teeth. "I got it, Mr. Smiley!"

"Yes, Bonny," I winced. Carefully she enunciated: "I seen forty cows sitting on the verandah."

IN MEMORIAM

WALKER - In loving memory of our dear friends who departed from this life - Harry Walker on Dec. 3/71 and Olive Walker Apr. 20/72.

We watched you suffer, we heard you sigh
But all we could do was just stand by.
For when the time came we suffered too
For you never deserved what you went through.
God took your hand and we had to part
He eased your pain but broke our heart.
Although we smile and seem carefree,
Nobody misses you more than we.
Sadly missed and always remembered by Arlie and Muriel English, David and Joanne. 44-1-p
