A REALLY BIG

Puffball!

Dave Berry's front lawn at South Mountain grows more than grass. Last week the abundant growth of fresh green grass was given some added colour when about 30 puff balls sprang up from nowhere. The puffballs grew even better than the grass, with the smallest one about the size of a loaf of bread and the largest reaching a circumference of more than 66 inches.

One of the big ones, there were several this size, is shown in above picture being held by Press staff member "Bud" Raistrick. And this isn't trick photography—the puffball was that big.

Like a big sponge, the puffballs do not weigh very much but make up the difference in their unusually large size. Dave, owner of Berryholm Chicks, didn't say what he planned to do with the growth of puffballs.

Can't imagine it after inspecting them, but some people consider them a rare delicacy. So, if you are interested, maybe Dave still has a few on his front lawn, or closer to Winchester Eugene Belanger presented The Press with another puffball specimen Tuesday afternoon. It measured 48 inches in circumference.

So this must be the year for big puffballs, or something!

Township Agrees To Share Cost P. S. Addition

The regular meeting of the Council of the Township of Winchester was held last Monday with Reeve Gerald C. Holmes presiding. All Council members were present.

By-laws to construct the Empey and the Marion Municipal Drains were given first and second readings. The Court of Revision for these drains will be held on September 29.

A resolution was passed by which the township agreed to assume its share of the cost of construction of the new addition to the Winchester Public School.

The treasurer was authorized to petition the Department of Highways for the interim payment of the statutory grant on road expenditures for 1961, amounting to $43,190.96.

The following accounts were passed: Road Voucher No. 9, $5,666.61; Drains, $4,058.36; Schools, $4,200.00; Salaries, $665.00; Relief, $107.20; Morewood Police Village, $97.05; Dundas Plowmen's Association grant, $25.00; Miscellaneous, $20.10.

The next regular meeting will be held October 2nd at 7.30 p.m.

Junior Farmers Meet Here

The Club will make a box which will take care of the new blankets and equipment which will be used for the calves entered at Ottawa Winter Fair.

Members planned a masquerade party and it will be held in the Town Hall on Friday evening, October 13. Russell Junior Farmers will be special guests at the party.

It was also decided to hold an executive meeting at the home of Jack Palmer on September 22.

Following the business session members enjoyed pictures by Harold Lannin of his recent tour of Australia and other countries. He was thanked by Jean Allen. Members also participated in several games before closing the meeting.

Deanna Dawson Wins Legion Essay Contest

Deanna Dawson has been awarded the highest standing in the anual Grade 12 Legion Essay Contest. Award winners were announced this week by members of Winchester Legion Branch 108, sponsors of the contest. In second place was Maryke Leyenaar who won $20.00, and Beatrice Lewis received $10.00 for placing third. Miss Dawson, the winner, was awarded $30.00 for her prize winning essay

Topic this year was "Canada's Contribution to the United Nations."

Awards to the three students will be made at the annual Winchester High School Commencement Exercises which will be held later this year.

It was also revealed at the September meeting of the Legion Branch that Mary Link, Grade 13 student who plans to attend Carleton University this year, will receive the Legion $100.00 scholarship for high standing in Grade 13 science. The award is made annually by the Legion, and like the Essay contest, is an important part of the Legion's program to support education in the community.

Miss Link has also been awarded a $500.00 bursary and a special award from The Ottawa Citizen.

Plan Lavish Program For Fifth Trade Fair

Winchester's fifth Trade Fair which gets underway Wednesday night, September 27, and continues through Friday evening, September 29, will have a big triple bonus this year.

The extra bonus trio will be provided in the way of top entertainment, colourful exhibits and prizes including 15 cash awards which will be given away as door prizes each evening of the Fair.

In the way of entertainment this year the Trade Fair will feature Kathleen Stokes at the electric organ. Kathleen Stokes is particularly well known for the Happy Gang Days and is still very much in demand on Canadian TV, radio and personal appearances. In addition, the program entertainment will also include two bands, including the Winchester High School Band, a chorus of male voices, an all girls' choir from Ottawa, baritone John Mulleneau of Cornwall, and Carolyn Alford, of Kingston, formerly of Winchester. It all adds up to top flight entertainment.

In the way of exhibits this year they will be numerous and full of information as well as very colourful, according to the Trade Fair committee in charge. More than 500 feet of exhibit space has been sold, all that is available in the Community Centre. Sporting equipment, cameras, women's and men's wearing apparel, electric appliances, sporting goods, TV displays, pictures and other unique features will make up a part of the many fine displays.

For the expected record crowd of Fair goers there will again be plenty of prizes, both in valuable merchandise and cash. Each evening the Trade Fair, sponsored by Winchester Chamber of Commerce, will give away five cash door prizes.

Although plans have not yet been completed it is hoped that Hon. Fred M. Cass will officially open the Fair and that Frank Ryan of Radio Station CFRA will also be on hand. Frank has attended all Winchester Trade Fairs. Arrangements are also being made to import a master of ceremonies for the program each evening.

Admission price to the Fair is 50 cents. Children 12 and under will be admitted free. Tickets to the Fair are now on sale and they will also be available at the door.

Complete Major Repairs At CP Railway Crossing

Winchester's Highway 31 (St. Lawrence Street) crossing of the Canadian Pacific's main Toronto-Montreal line has long been termed "one of the roughest" in the area. Down through the years several attempts have been made to repair the crossing, and although some improvement was evident after each repair job, the crossing always returned to its usual "rough" status.

Last week CPR work crews moved in to make major repairs to this same crossing. To do this a temporary crossing immediately west of the present crossing had to be constructed. Work included the installation of new ties and excavation to a depth of at least five feet which was filled with stone.

A quicksand base and vapour from the old-type steam engines keeping the base at the crossing moist were two of the causes for the condition of this particular crossing.

CPR hopes that with this latest repair work the crossing will be much improved. Work crews and crane and a car using the temporary crossing are shown in above picture.

WHAT WAS IT ?

Big Blast Causes Scare

It wasn't a nuclear attack! It wasn't an earthquake! It wasn't thunder nor was it a gas explosion!

These were the thoughts running through the minds of Winchester citizens about six o'clock Monday evening just after the whole town had been rocked by a loud blast.

What was it? As far as this writer can determine, and most people now agree, it was a jet plane breaking the sound barrier. The plane, not visible to the naked eye, was probably several thousand feet directly above the village when it broke through the barrier. Loud blasts are characteristic when planes, travelling at more than 700 miles an hour usually crack this invisible barrier.

Just after the loud crack was heard the drone of the jet could be distinctly heard, but the plane could not be seen. Seconds after the blast was heard most Winchester people were on the street or their front lawns looking and listening.

Early the next mornig, about six o'clock, several residents including the writer were awakened by another but not so loud a blast. The noise was also heard in other areas and it is believed to have been an earth tremor.

So the blast Monday night, which rattled dishes, windows and doors, and sounded worse than it really was, could have also been an earth tremor, although breaking the sound barrier still seems more logical.

In any case it wasn't a bomb!

Hospital Auxiliary Kept Busy During Summer Months

One hundred people answered roll call at the first fall meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. M. W. Locke welcomed everyone and also thanked the members for their fine efforts at the Hospital Fair in June.

Following the reading and approval of the minutes, the treasurer's report was heard. Since June the treasury has received $1,723.92. Of this amount $1,204.72 was gained from the Hospital Fair. Expenses for the same period of time were $755.93. The total balance is now $9,840.63, which shows a very successful year.

Miss B. Legris, R.N., director of nursing, gave the report of activities for the month of August. In surgery there were 176 cases; laboratory tests, 1775; and X-rays, 1605.

John Davis, administrator, reported that the show case will definitely be ready for next month. Any articles to sell, which would be of interest to patients and visitors, are most gratefully received at any time. They will be displayed in the show case in the hospital.

The soft drink machine installed by the Auxiliary has proven to be very popular. It has shown a profit of $100.00 over a period of about two months.

Mr. Davis brought a request from the medical staff of the hospital. The Auxiliary was asked if they would consider buying a piece of equipment which is very important in heart cases and major surgery. This machine would cost $1800.00. Following the administrator's report, a discussion was held to consider the request, and it was decided to purchase the machine.

The tuck cart volunteers reported that the service is proving to be very worthwhile and that the patients look forward to it each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. Williamsburg members are looking after it this month; Morrisburg will handle it in October and Morewood in November.

At the October meeting a new slate of officers will begin their two-year term under the next president, Mrs. John Campbell, of Vernon.

The date of the fall regional meeting will be Wednesday, October 11. It will be held in Carleton Place. Delegates wishing to attend must notify the

Fractures Arm

While operating a hay baler last Saturday afternoon, Orvil Guy, of Winchester, had the misfortune to have his left arm fractured when he attempted to make an adjustment on the machine. He was taken to the Winchester District Hospital where Dr. W. M. Byers placed his arm in a cast.

Grocers Ready For Swing Early October

It's getting to be a habit. Friday night shopping is again making the rounds in Winchester, and this time there seems to be a better than average chance that the big change will take place early in October.

Dissatisfied with Saturday night shopping and the belief that many people, who would shop in Winchester, are going elsewhere on Friday nights, Winchester business places, spearheaded by the grocery stores, want to make the swing starting the first Friday in October.

A petition has been circulated among Winchester grocery stores and from what The Press can learn this petition has been signed by all business places. Following this up, grocery store operators appeared before Council Monday night to see what course should be taken to introduce the new hours. Asked if the present by-law could be rescinded, Council said that it could not because the by-law (badly outdated anyway) applied to all places of business.

However, Council did intimate that the passing of a new by-law was possible. However, before such action is taken another petition has been signed which includes practically all names of owners affected by such a change in store hours. It is understood that there are one or two business places who refused to sign because of personal reasons. However, failure to have these names on the list is not expected to halt further action.

In short, it now looks as though Friday night shopping in Winchester will start on October 6th. In the event that stores open Friday evening, they will close on Saturday evening at six o'clock, a reliable source told The Press this week.

Both petitions circulated in the town this week called for the opening of stores on Friday Friday night to nine o'clock and the closing of stores on Saturday evening at six o'clock.

In the past three years Friday night shopping has been a controversial subject among Winchester business men. At two previous meetings the vote in favour of Friday night shopping was narrowly defeated. From what The Press has learned this week it is apparent that some business places who were in favour of remaining open on Saturday evenings last year are now ready to give the Friday night opening a try.

Jean Casselman UN Delegate For Canada

Mrs. Jean Casselman, member of parliament for Grenville-Dundas, has been named a member of the Canadian Delegation to the United Nations General Assembly meeting, opening in New York next Tuesday, September 19. The announcement was made by Prime Minister Diefenbaker last week. Mrs. Casselman, because of her new and important appointment, will spend much of her time between now and Christmas at UN headquarters in New York City.

B of NS Names First Woman Bank Manager

The Bank of Nova Scotia announced this week that two female members of their staff became the first of their sex in Canadian banking history to be appointed branch managers.

One of the women is Miss Gladys A. Marcellus, formerly of Chesterville, who is the new manager at Bronson and Holmwood, Ottawa.

"Banking must keep moving with the times," said the bank's president, F. William Nicks, in his announcement. "These appointments reflect our endeavour to keep our approach in tune with the changing community. The frock coat and the bookkeeper's tall stand disappeared from branches long ago as our services and procedures were adapted to different trends and needs. In 1900 we had one woman member on our staff. To-day some 56 per cent. of our total staff are women.

"Many of our girls are secretaries, machine operators and tellers, but others are accountants and department heads. We will continue to appoint qualified women to senior posts as appropriate openings arise."

Miss Marcellus joined the bank in her birthplace, Chesterville, in 1942. When in high school she had planned to become a nurse and joined the bank to build up a reserve fund before going into training. She liked banking so much, however, that she decided to make it her career. In 1958 she was appointed accountant at Chesterville, the first woman to receive such an appointment in the bank in Canada.

First Class Display

Rose Ayrshire Wins Spencerville Fair Award

Law of Technicalities

From time to time we have suggested that a general housecleaning was needed in the structure of our Canadian laws. We have suggested this, primarily, because we feel that instead of justice being handed down a great injustice is being brought on the Canadian public in some of our courts to-day because of "legal technicalities" which are being overworked by so-called "smart" lawyers.

Perhaps the technicalities are there for the benefit of all of us, but we know, as do most people, that too many cases to-day look like a cut and dried affair before they ever get to court; that a defendant who has done wrong is let off with a small fine or a scolding by the presiding judge because there was not enough evidence to convict him. This sort of thing is especially true when dealing with some of our delinquent drivers. It is more or less a laugh to-day for a village, even a provincial police officer, to charge one of these delinquents and then try to have him convicted in court. In some instances the damage caused is often of a serious nature, yet the loopholes in our laws allow the defendant to gain his liberty because he has hired a good lawyer, and because there are certain technicalities which the defending lawyer can use to good advantage. And there are many good examples right in this district.

That is why we were particularly impressed with a letter to the editor of the Dutton Advance from an Ottawa subscriber. The letter holds some food for thought and it is well worth reading. Concerning a recent judgment in this Western Ontario town the letter states in part:

"I am going to exercise my rights as a Canadian citizen and freedom of speech — that the verdict into Glen (Pete) Sutton's death was about the greatest mockery of justice I have ever seen. What have the laws and the rights of our people come to when four upstanding adult men can come in with a verdict of excessive speed, and just a suspended driver's licence for the killing of a human being?

"If a person was to steal food because he was hungry, shoot a deer out of season, he would go to jail. But he is allowed to kill, and take a human life, while he is drinking and at the wheel of a car. This is nothing; he goes free, with suspended driver's licence and a scolding. In this case, I'm sure it's who you are that counts; the dead boy doesn't matter.

"I'm sure that many of the good folk in Dutton feel the same way as I do. What my home town of Dutton needs right now is a complete housecleaning, starting right at the top.

"I wonder whose son will be next if this kind of justice is allowed to continue."

The letter also referred to a similar case being tried in the Ottawa Valley where the writer was certain the same sort of justice would not be carried out.

Well, don't count on it. Apparently there is very little difference in the way some cases are handled regardless of what section of the province it is. Certainly, the way some cases are handled in the Ottawa Valley, yes, even in Winchester and district, there is a lot to be desired.

We are all for justice, not injustice, in our courts. But, are we getting it?

Warning To Bicyclists

With the start of another school year last week bicycles have again made their appearance on Winchester streets in greater numbers. Bicycles provide an excellent means of transportation, offer good exercise for old and young alike, but they can also be a traffic nuisance if the rider does not obey the regulations set down by the Highways Traffic Act.

Not all bicycle drivers are traffic delinquents. There are a number of good drivers who at least make an attempt to abide by the rules. However, there are quite a few young people who either do not know that there are rules to follow or are simply ignoring them.

For instance, it is understandable that most young people are in a hurry, especially to return home. But speed is not essential if it is going to create a traffic problem. Although bicycle drivers do not have to take a driving test like motorists, there are still laws which must be followed. One of the great infractions is the driver who operates his bike without hands on the handle bars. Other infractions include, failure to give signals at corners or on slowing down, driving too fast in congested areas, cutting across lawns, darting out from behind parked vehicles and driving on sidewalks.

Fortunately this town does not have too many accidents involving bicycles. But accidents can happen if young bicyclists do not adhere to the rules. Parents can share part of the responsibility. A youngster under 10 years of age, in our opinion, should not be allowed to take his bicycle to school or to drive it on busy thoroughfares. These kids are simply too young to yet appreciate the rules of good bicycle driving. Certainly children of six and seven years who are allowed to drive a bicycle throughout the town are not only endangering their own lives but the lives of others, and parents, as responsible thinking citizens, should always be aware of this.

Showing off, as some young people like to do, should also be shunned. The driver who shows off in front of his friends is surely asking for trouble. And if he doesn't get it the first time it seems inevitable that his antics are an invitation to disaster.

One of the surest ways to assure better driving bicycylists is to make certain these young people have a sure knowledge of the rules of the road. As parents all of us can make certain that our sons and daughters are well informed of these rules before proceeding on busy streets.

One Nation

News that some 4,000 employees of a major manufacturing concern in Ontario are to be laid off for the month of September because of the drought in the western prairies points up again the fundamental interdependence of the various industries which make up the Canadian economy.

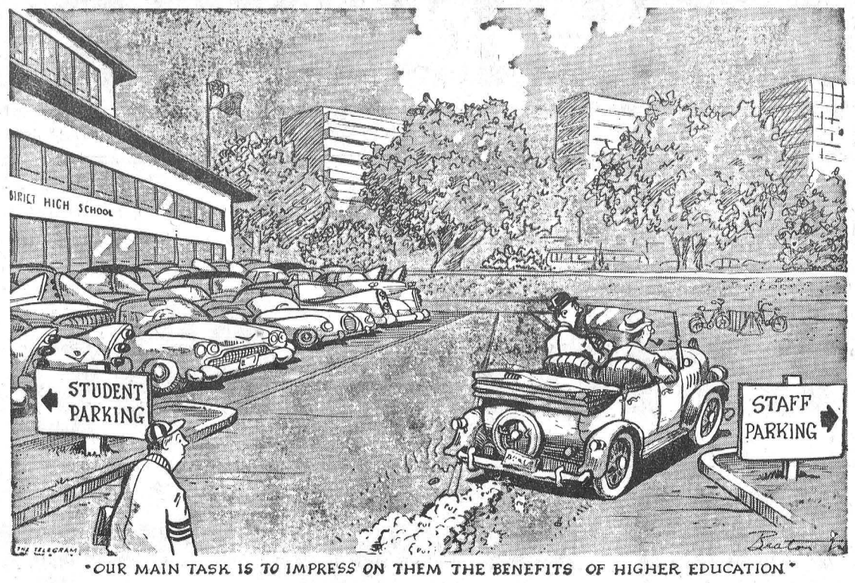
In recent years and in the wake of our growing population, the Canadian farmer has come to depend increasingly on manufacturing industry to take a substantial proportion of his produce for processing and domestic consumption. The half of industry's earnings which go in taxes have also furnished governments with much of the revenue out of which the farmer is "protected" by means of price supports and subsidized freight rates. In consequence, farming families have had a bigger stake than ever before in the well-being of manufacturing and that much more reason to support it through their purchases. Now, once again, it falls to many of the nation's farmers to experience a really bad year.

As important as agriculture is to the national economy, it does not occupy the place of prominence it did a relatively few years ago, and the degree of industrial expansion and diversification that has taken place since the last major crop failure a quarter of a century ago will undoubtedly help cushion the west against the worst effects of this year's blow. Even so, a bad year for the farmer spells trouble in one form or another for most of us. Manufacturers and retailers alike must expect sales to be down in the hardest hit areas, while consumers across the land will sooner or later pay more for foodstuffs.

And so it is that the fortunes of all of us are bound up each with the other—east with west, farmer with manufacturer, consumer with both. We are one nation and the misfortune of any one industry or region is the misfortune of all.

Editorial Note

Friday night shopping in Winchester—to be or not to be? Each year, it seems, the question comes up. Right now there is a strong move on foot to swing to Friday night, especially with the grocery stores. Municipal council has been approached concerning the rescinding of the present by-law or the making of a new one. The main thing is that all business places get together and do the same thing.



"OUR MAIN TASK IS TO IMPRESS ON THEM THE BENEFITS OF HIGHER EDUCATION."

Of Many Things

BY AMBROSE HILLS

A PRETTY GOOD SYSTEM

There's a small restaurant near the office which I frequently patronize, but today it was boarded up. I think I know why.

About five years ago an immigrant couple took it over and made it quite successful. They were at work before I reached my office in the morning (and I'm an early bird), and usually were still at it when I headed home at night. A friendly pair, they attracted a good many customers and the food was good enough to hold us.

In the summer, when I batch for two months, I made a habit of eating breakfast there. It was always good, served with a smile, and the couple made it clear they appreciated the business.

Not too long ago they sold the restaurant and opened a larger place in another part of the city, where they specialize in the dishes of their homeland. Their successor was a man who did not appear to have much experience in the business. He raised the prices, served less tasty food. One by one, the regular patrons started to look elsewhere. Finally, the restaurant was closed.

I am sorry the man's venture failed, but I realize that he practically guaranteed his own failure. No arbitrary power closed him down; the process was completely impersonal—the patrons simply stopped coming, either because of the higher prices or, more likely, the less attractive food.

I don't know what the man who failed thinks about all this. Perhaps he curses the economic system; perhaps he blames himself; perhaps he thinks lady luck had a finger in the pie. I hope, however, that he got the message—that he is just not a good restaurant man, and he ought to find another position in which he can serve someone satisfactorily.

In a planned economy, of course, the man would have been moved out of the restaurant by inspectors. They would have decided that he was a failure, and would have bluntly told him so. There are some people who believe in such planning, done by experts, and consider it the most efficient system. It seems to me, however, that inspectors might blunder. They might declare a man a failure because they didn't like the way he parted his hair. Our competitive system operates more justly, and with an impersonal efficiency that cannot be denied.

Our system gives men the right to fail or to succeed. To succeed, they must serve the public, not the arbitrary tastes of inspectors or efficiency experts. And after all, the public is the best judge of the service it desires.

Sugar and Spice

By Bill Smiley

Backache? Feel listless? Nerves frayed? Why don't you do as I did. Get away from it all by entering the teaching profession, and revel in those long, golden summer holidays.

* * * *

A year ago, I had one week off between the end of summer school and the beginning of the teaching year. We spent the week winding up our affairs in one town and moving to another. I had two days vacation — Sunday and Labor Day.

* * * *

This year, however, due to superior planning, and the uncanny timing of my wife, things are different. I had one day off—Labor Day—and I spent half of that mowing the lawn, the other half writing a column.

* * * *

I don't like to think I have a personal diet who is determined that a holiday would be bad for me. I prefer to put it down to sheer fate, bad management, or some kind of psychological block I have developed, which steers me away, relentlessly, from any thing that looks like a vacation.

* * * *

It all started on the last day of summer school. White and shaken from a brutal Latin examination, I tottered back to my room to find the whole family waiting for me, aflame with excitement, for various reasons.

* * * *

The kids were all agog because they figured they could con me into taking them to the Exhibition. My wife was all a-twitter because she had just made a deal, out of thin air, to move to a different house, which she'd had her eye on for some time.

* * * *

Right there, I almost broke down and wept. But, with that simple heroism that is the hallmark of the modern husband and father, without bitterness, with no recriminations, I pulled myself together. I waved a wistfull mental farewell to my week of fishing, golfing and bumming. I grinned a ghastly grin. I agreed that it certainly was a coincidence that the Ex was on, and that it certainly was lucky that we had a week in which to move to the new house (with the big rent).

* * * *

It all seemed sort of predordained, and I didn't struggle. Just cried a little, inside. The kids took me for a horrible ride, financially, and on a number of horrible rides, physically, at the midway. Every time it happens I swear a deep and desperate oath that I'll never do it again. But I'm a sucker for midway rides. It's a hangover from childhood, when I never had enough money for more than one thrilling trip on the Ferris wheel.

* * * *

At any rate, we tried them all. That is, all the rides that scare the liver out of you, from the Wild Mouse to the Giant Rotor. My wife, brave little woman, was a good sport as usual. She stood on the ground, alternately chewing her fingers and covering her eyes in horror, as we hurtled through space. But she did have the decency to help me stagger from one of these monstrosities to the next, and she did tell me I was white as a sheet, and to stop being such a dam' old fool.

* * * *

That was a fitting introduction to the week that followed, my holiday week. When we got home, we moved. As far as I'm concerned, moving and nightmares are in the same category. They're unreal, undesirable, and deeply disturbing. The only difference is in the temperature of the sweat they produce. With nightmares, it's a cold sweat.

* * * *

It was the usual performance. My wife throwing out valuables, and the kids and I lugging them back in. Hundreds of cartons jammed with everything from toilet paper to toe rubbers, and nobody knowing what was in which. Furniture that had gone in easily through doorways but resolutely refused to come out through them.

* * * *

And just to add a little spice to this move, a mother cat rubbing our legs for food when we were carrying refrigerators, three kittens climbing out of their box and and a crazy pup dashing wildly between the legs of the movers as they gingerly toted the hi fi.

* * * *

The only thing that preserved my sanity was the fortuitous recurrence of an old ailment in the general area of my back. This prevented me from lifting anything heavier than a cushion, but did not interfere with my natural ability to give cool, clear directions. It also proved something I'd suspected for a long time—that the Old Girl was a lot stronger than she looks.

* * * *

As a fitting climax to the moving, it started to rain just as we were going to move the piano, and the mover had an open truck. My, it was exciting! You should have seen them put their backs into it—the two moving men and the two neighbours I had recruited. There was a great flurry of tarpaulins, grunting and bad language but they moved that piano in jig time, I can tell you. It was all I could do to stay out of their way as I showed them where to put it.

* * * *

Ah, well, we got settled in after a fashion — the four cats, the dog, and the four of us. There's a buffet and a china cabinet out in the garage, and I think a whole suitcase full of my socks and underwear went off to the dump, but that's all in the game.

* * * *

I'm not really bitter about it and already I'm making plans for my week's holiday next year. But I had to assert some will power to keep from punching right in the nose some of my students on the first day of school who greeted me with a cheery "Had a nice holiday, sir?"

WHO WERE THE FIRST MEDICAL MEN IN BRITISH COLUMBIA?

The first medical men of note in the Pacific province were Archibald Menzies, William F. Tolmie and John S. Helmcken. Menzies was a graduate of Edinburgh and served as naturalist with Captain Vancouver in 1791. Tolmie arrived in 1833 as surgeon in the Hudson's Bay Company. It was he who discovered coal on the Pacific coast. Helmcken (1825-1920) was the most notable of the three. At one time he described himself as "the leading practitioner from San Francisco to the North Pole; and from Asia to the Red River of the north." This was accurate enough as he was the only practitioner within those limits at the time. He was a delegate from the province to Ottawa in 1870 to support terms of federation. His house in Victoria is preserved as a museum.

The Seventh Column

Winchester's first Kindergarten class is now a week old and if all the youngsters are like the blonde-haired lad who represents our household—they like it! However, at the temporary classroom in the Legion Hall there are a few minor troubles. Chief one, from what this writer can gather, is a suitable method of patrolling this busy corner when the youngsters are discharged each day at 11.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m. As yet, no safety patrol has been appointed to look after this corner and, it seems to us, there may be some difficulty here. Because the Kindergarten class is located about a quarter of a mile from the main school building, there may be some problem in allowing a regular school patrol to look after this corner without interfering with the regular work of the safety patrol at the Clarence-St. Lawrence corner where close to 300 students are guided daily. Until such time as a solution has been found, it is important that Winchester's police department look after this detail. It's a short but very important task and local police are not so busy that a few minutes cannot be arranged in their schedule to perform this important duty. Already this week one five-year-old has raced across the street, after leaving the Legion Hall, into the path of an approaching vehicle. Luckily no damage was caused. On this particular day there was no policing or no patrol. These kids are too young to be on their own until they gain more experience. In the meantime, it is up to the School Board and/or the town to protect them.

All this warm weather (at time of writing it is close to 90 degrees in the breeze) in September. Most of us would have appreciated a few of these summer days in July and August when we were crying for warm, dry weather. One good thing about it, the farmers have the combines working overtime and in most instances the crops are abundant if not top quality, and with the poor crops in the West farm prices in this area should be better than average this year.

With the Berlin crisis very much in the grim limelight of international affairs and the threats by Russians concerning an nuclear war, most of us are giving just a little more thought to fallout shelters and chances of survival. This week The Press received a couple of very informative booklets from Civil Defence Headquarters and after we have had a chance to digest their contents we hope to run a weekly roundup on what to do in time of nuclear attack. In the event of such an attack the nation's capital could become a target and because we are only 30 miles from Ottawa the danger here would be from fallout. We hope and pray that we will never be confronted with such a war but, if we are, it is just as well to have some knowledge of what to do. That is why these books have been published and the reason why we hope to relate to our readers pertinent questions and answers concerning this type of war and if survival is possible.

And on the subject of nuclear war we were particularly interested in an appropriate little gem which we picked up in the Glengarry News last week. It read: "What we need is a summit conference on the level" How true!

When you stop to think about it for a minute there's about one chance in a million of Miss Canada winning the Miss America title. We watched the pageantry on TV Saturday night and certainly it is, primarily, an American show all the way. It's hard to conceive how the judges could pick an outsider for the title when everything points to the American girl, etc. Certainly Connie Gail Feller was a fine representative for Miss Canada and, we thought, that she was good enough to at least have placed in the top ten. However, the judges thought otherwise and, indeed, the eventual choice of Miss America did not seem to be the most popular one. The girl, Miss North Carolina, we believe, was attractive and no doubt deserved the award. It was also interesting to listen to Sandy Morrison of CFRA broadcast direct from the convention Hall at Atlantic City. As early as Friday Sandy had intimated that Miss North Carolina would win. If the trend had been set this early the actual picking of the winner was not nearly so climatical as some commentators at the show would have had their audience believe.

Henry Morgan, panelist on "I've Got A Secret" insists that unless a woman can read a guy like a book he'll never make her best fella list. And by the way, did you hear about the bald-headed beatnik, he has no hair so wears a long face. And Jack Herbert defines a bookie as a fellow who makes his living off bet bugs.

As reported elsewhere in this issue, Mrs. Jean Casselman, Grenville-Dundas Member of Parliament, has been named a member of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly meeting opening in New York on September 19. Congratulations, Jean!

Meditations

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Psalm 119:9—"Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way?"

Hitler is reportedly dead, but not forgotten. There was a method in his madness, and some good sense too. He knew what he was doing when he organized his "Hitler Youth." He knew that he who has the youth has the future of a country. He was aware of the truth, "As a man thinks so is he." China is following his example. They are convinced that indoctrination is more successful than coercion, and more powerful than trained armies.

Indoctrination is an odious word to many. It carries the stigma of brain-washing. It apparently imprisons free men and puts them into the straitjacket of prejudiced ideas. Against indoctrination, and in rebellion to it, the idea of free and uninhibited development was embraced. Youth, it was argued, must be free to develop as they feel they want to; they must choose the course their life is to take. Indoctrination deprives youth of this freedom.

This is superficial reasoning. It fails to take account of sin. It ignores completely Scripture's commentary on life, verified by experience every day. The present rate of increase in crime and juvenile delinquency verifies Scripture's teaching, "A child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame."—Proverbs 29:15.

The Communists are fully aware of the great value of indoctrination. They do not hesitate for one moment to indoctrinate their youth in the tenets of Communism. The results are self evident. As communists they build thus for the future.

The Bible has much to say about indoctrination. It says, for example, "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he willl not depart from it."—Proverbs 22:6). The apostle Paul writes to Titus, "But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine!" Scripture abounds with such commands to indoctrinate, which means that we must teach doctrines and instruct in sound principles.

American youth has been described as having "barnyard morals." This description is apparently correct, and the cause of it lies in the failure of American parents and schools to indoctrinate in sound Biblical doctrines and principles. Strange that in this important matter we are so blind and deaf. The child that is not formed and guided in its thinking by sound Biblical doctrines and principles, will form its own, after its own sinful heart. No man lives without doctrines. How important then that parents and schools indoctrinate children in the way they should go.

So important is indoctrination that the Bible declares, "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word."—Psalm 119:9.

Matilda Council Calls Tenders For New Bridge

Reeve Mahlon Zeron presided at the September session of Matilda Township Council, held in Brinston Community Hall last Thursday night. All members of Council were present in addition to Clerk-Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Locke.

At the meeting the clerk was authorized to call for tenders for the construction of the Hanes Bridge, and also to authorize L. P. Stidwill to examine and report on the James Wynn Award ditch.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

Material and work on roads, $16,254.93; Cleaning and mowing Cemetery south of Dixon's Corners, $22.00; Matilda Township School Area, part of 1961 levy, $6,000.00; Township Memorial Wreath, $9.50; Welfare, $263.54; Municipal World, supplies, $14.57; Grant to South Mountain Fair Committee, $25.00; Grant to Dundas County Plowmen's Association, $50.00; Salaries, $375.00; Telephone, $3.35; Fox Hides, $16.00.

W. H. S. NEWS

(By Joan Wylie)

Beatrice Lewis and Elzeon Raistrick were elected Head Girl and Head Boy for the 1961-62 term on the Winchester High School Student Council. Voting took place on Monday afternoon by the Middle and Upper School students under the chairmanship of Principal J. H. Willard. Short campaign speeches by the candidates for the various offices preceded the voting.

Others elected were Bob MacPherson as secretary-treasurer, and Joan Wylie, press reporter.

Besides the four elected, others nominated were: Head Boy, Allan Fawcett and Richard Holmes; Head Girl, Mavis Duncan and Elaine Holmes; Sec'y.-treasurer, Judy Poapst and Melvin Vice; Reporter, Judy Raistrick.

Completing the Student Council are the following Form representatives: Grade 13, Richard Holmes; Grade 12, Judy Raistrick; Grade 11A, Edsell Byers; Grade 11B, Ann Gallaher; Grade 10A, Doug. Curtis; Grade 10B, Sandra Johnston; Grade 9A, Bryan McIntosh; Grade 9B, Kathryn Summers.

The teacher representative for the first term is J. K. Davies. It is expected the members of the Student Council will meet this week to plan activities for the coming term.

Jack Sutton Joins Staff Winchester Press

Newest member of The Winchester Press staff is Jack Sutton. Born in Ottawa, Jack is 33 years old, and comes to The Press with 18 years' experience in the printing and newspaper business. An excellent compositor and make-up man, Jack is also a good linotype operator and can turn his hand to practically any printing job at The Press. He joined The Press staff on July 1st and since that time he has moved his family to Morewood where he will reside. Eventually he hopes to buy or build a new home in Winchester.

He is married to the former Dorothy Fraser of Ottawa and they have seven children. Before joining the Press staff Jack worked with the Ottawa Citizen, Pembroke Standard and Kingston Whig-Standard. He started his printing career with Lowe-Martin at Ottawa.

Morewood residents should take note that Jack will accept subscriptions and all types of advertising and job printing at his residence in that district.

Department Offers Box Loom Weaving Course At Iroquois

A basic course in Box Loom Weaving will be held in the Carman-Forward House on Carman Road south in Iroquois beginning September 18th at 10 a.m. It will last two weeks, Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 4.30 p.m.

This well constructed stone house, reputed to have been built before 1820 by Peter Carman, still stands on its original site as a reminder of the many fine houses which were demolished for the seaway. Retained by Ontario Hydro in the hope that the community could make use of it, it lay abandoned for three years and was barely saved from demolition a few months ago. Now undergoing a slow process of careful restoration, the house will shortly be ready for its first community use as a weaving school. Many of the original features of the house remain intact under the alterations done by the family to make the house more comfortable.

The weaving school will be held in the old kitchen wing with its stone sink set in a window sill, a six foot cooking fireplace buried beneath wood and plaster, and the old bake oven which is so large that it protrudes beyond the outside wall.

This Box Loom Weaving course, co-sponsored by the Community Programmes Branch of the Ontario Department of Education, is only a beginning and it is hoped it will stimulate interest and activity in crafts in this area. For the first year it will bring together 12 to 15 persons interested in Box Loom weaving. Members of this class will be trained for the purpose of creating a pool of weavers from which demonstrators will be selected to take part in craft demonstrations in the area. Also, during the fall and winter these weavers will attend workshops and seminars and will be available to teach Box Loom weaving in their respective communities.

The course will be taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Locke, 192 Connaught Ave., Willowdale. At present, Mrs. Locke is demonstrating spinning and weaving techiques at Upper Canada Village. She is a member of the Ontario Hand Weavers and Spinners, The Toronto Spinners and Weavers, and the Canadian Handicraft Guild. Mrs. Locke became interested in weaving in 1946 and attended a course sponsored by the Women's Art Association, Toronto.

Took Courses

She took Box Loom weaving and lace techniques at courses sponsored by the Community Programmes Branch, Department of Education, and has attended the Annual Guelph Workshops in 1956 and 1957. She has also studied under Berta Frey, Fletcher Farms, Vermont, and Rie Donker Bannister, of Queenston. As well as giving private lessons, Mrs. Locke has taught courses at Mooredale House, Rosedale, Oshawa, and the Annual Guelph Workshop in 1959.

The tuition fee is $18.00. This will cover the full course and any seminars and workshops which may follow during the winter. Materials will cost about $3.00 Should more than 15 applications be received a careful selection will be made by a special committee.

Each pupil should have a well constructed box loom with ratchets on both front and back rollers. Such a loom may be purchased for $22.50.

For further information and application forms contact Louis P. Poirier, district representative, Community Programmes Branch, Department of Education, Suite 4, 1581 Bank Street, Ottawa 1, Ontario. Telephone RE 3-6801; or Miss Audrey Spencer, Supervisor of Crafts, Upper Canada Village, Morrisburg, Telephone Morrisburg KI 3-2911 after 7 p.m. The Iroquois number is OL 2-4655.

WATCH THEM GROW

Is your boy beginning to take an active interest in farming? Most boys do as they grow up. Encourage him! Now would be a good time to help him start his own bank account.

Introduce him to your Royal Bank Manager and let him handle his own financial affairs. He'll be happier with his own projects to work out—his own bank account to build. And you'll enjoy watching them grow together.

Ask for a copy of our booklet "Financial Training for Your Son and Daughter". It provides a practical pattern of financial training for any parent with growing children, shows you how to encourage them to stand on their own feet in financial matters. It is free, at your nearest Royal Bank branch.

United Evening Auxiliary Enjoys Smorgasbord Supper Meeting

A bountiful smorgasbord supper was greatly enjoyed on Tuesday evening in the United Church S. S. rooms by the Evening Auxiliary members. Guests included Mrs. Wellwood Adam of Williamsburg, life members and associate members.

Mrs. Adam was guest speaker and was introduced by Mrs. H. G. Barton. Mrs. Adam was a private missionary worker on the waterfront at Liverpool, England. She told how she was denied being a missionary as she had first thought she would like to be, and then how she finally took on this work right at home. She related many wonderful experiences she has had in this work.

Mrs. H. G. Barton, Mrs. Alvin Davidson, Mrs. O. Guy and Mrs. Wm. McRoberts convened the worship service, the theme being "The Day of Beginning Again." Mrs. R. Earl read a hymn from the July Missionary Monthly, and poems were read by Mrs. R. Holmes and Miss Lilla Hughes.

Invitations were accepted to attend meetings at Colquhoun on September 13 and at Spencerville October 10. Mrs. Mac Carkner closed the business meeting with a prayer for Miss Mabel Brandon, missionarry prayer partner.

Mrs. Lorne Isaac voiced the thanks of the Auxiliary to Mrs. Adam and the committee in charge for the inspiring evening. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Vernon Sr. Mission Circle Meets

The regular meeting of the Vernon Baptist Senior Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Peter MacMartin last Wednesday with 14 present.

The president opened the meeting with a "Quiet Hour" meditation and a hymn. The devotional was given by Mrs. Howard who also led in prayer for the missionaries and their work. Roll call was answered by a verse with the word "Harvest."

There were several discussions re an open meeting, the White Cross work, and the study program. The topic was given by Miss Lillian Donaldson on "The Challenge of Missions," which gave much food for thought in the personal letters she had received from some of the missionaries, showing her close contact with the missionary cause and the knowledge of the seriousness of our times.

Mrs. MacMartin closed the meeting with prayer. Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour.

Weddings . . .

COWAN—LAVERY

Rev. Frederick Payne united in marriage Miss Lurlene Leona Lavery and. James Keith Cowan amid a setting of colourful gladioli standards in St. John's Anglican Church, Prescott, recently.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leo Lavery, Prescott, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cowan, Pleasant Valley. Robert Watson was organist. The best man was Orval Cowan, and the ushers were Perry Lavery and Sammy Cowan

The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Livings, of Cardinal, wore a rust peau de soie gown with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow and white shasta mums.

For her honeymoon, Mrs. Cowan wore a seafoam green ensemble with bone accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan will reside at Brockville.

OBITUARY

Carol Ann Dowser

Carol Ann Dowser, dearly beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dowser of Garson, Ontario, died as the result of an accident at Garson recently.

Carol Ann would have celebrated her fourth birthday on the following day.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dowser of Metcalfe, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Stanley of Greely.

The body rested at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dowser, Metcalfe. Funeral service was conducted in Holy Trinity Church, Metcalfe, with Rev. R. McConnell officiating. Interment followed in Greely Cemetery.

Mrs. John Patterson

The last surviving member of her family, Mrs. John Patterson, of Dalmeny, died in Winchester Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Born and educated at Metcalfe, she was a daughter of the late Frank Woods and Sarah Davidson.

Mrs. Patterson was a member of Reid's Mills United Church and a former member of the W. M. S.

Surviving are three sons, Carman of Metcalfe, Osborne and Nelson of Osgoode, R. R. 4, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The body rested at her late residence where funeral service was conducted on Sunday last at 2.30 p.m. Rev. K. Robinson officiated, assisted by Rev. H. D. Kingston of Metcalfe and Rev. D. L. Gordon of Morewood. Interment followed in Reid's Mills Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Bryson Patterson, Bob Patterson, Ernest Patterson and Bill Woods.

New Beauty Salon

Of special interest to the fairer sex is Winchester's newest Beauty Salon. Owned by Linda Ross and appropriately named "Linda's Beauty Spot," the new salon is located at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. C. Ross, on Victoria Street. It is both modern and spacious with up-to-date equipment. The decor of the salon is both colourful and attractive and Miss Ross will offer her patrons everything from manicure to permanents. She is a recent graduate of the Ottawa Hair Dressing School and also gained experience by working at a well known Beauty Salon in Ottawa before opening her own place of business in Winchester. A part of the attractive Salon is shown in the above picture.—Photo by Daykin.

"It allows digestive juices to circulate freely for faster and more complete digestion of the entire ration".

Feed Beet Pulp with Pasture —
Start feeding 4 to 6 lbs. a day at milking time. Notice how it improves condition and milk production.

Instead of Corn Silage —
One pound of Dried Beet Pulp will take the place of 5 lbs. corn silage.

Instead of Grains —
Substitute Beet Pulp pound for pound for Oats, Barley, Bran, Corn and other grains.

Dairy Calves —
Start when calves are 4 months old with ½ lb. daily and graduallly increase to 2 lbs. at a year old, along with a regular hay and grain ration.

Beef Cattle —
By aiding in the digestion of other feeds, Beet Pulp helps bring the animals to market weight and condition quickly and economically.

ORDER BEET PULP NOW
All Beet Pulp is made in a month or two in the fall and must be stored the rest of the year. It is always lower in price now than later in the season.

We are booking orders now for delivery in October. Prices are only slightly up from last year. With the higher grain prices, Beet Pulp looks like good value.

Give us a call.

SHUR-GAIN WARBLERID
A cattle feed supplement that controls warble grubs.

Directions —
Replace an equal quantity of regular feed with Shur-Gain Warblerid Cattle Supplement "A"—at the rate of 1 lb. of Warblerid Supplement for each 400 lbs. of live body weight.
Feed Warblerid for a period of 7 days between September 15th and December 15th. This is usually the time after warble fly activity has stopped and before warbles appear in the animals back.

Caution —
Do not treat milking cows where milk is used for human consumption, or within 60 days of slaughter.

Ask for Warblerid folder.

It takes more than muscle power to carry a financial load!

Of course, muscle power is needed to keep your farm operating so you'll have money to carry your financial load of day-to-day expenses.

Who's going to supply the muscle power if you are sick or have an accident?

CIA'S Accident and Sickness insurance could keep the money coming in for a while so you could hire "muscle power" to keep your farm operating.

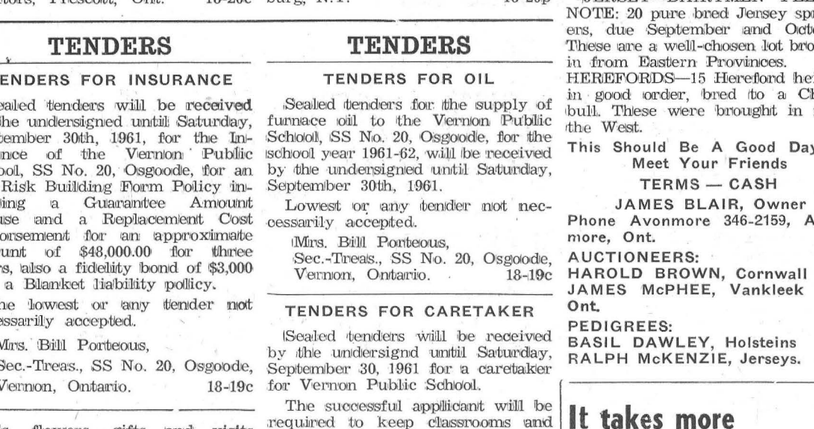
"Your Satisfaction is our Target"



That's right! A Patz Barn Cleaner definitely costs less to own. Costs less because it's BUILT STRONGER . . . HAS FEWER PARTS TO WEAR . . . IS DESIGNED FOR RUGGED DAILY USE . . . AND . . . IS EASIER TO SERVICE.

Patz Barn Cleaners are the original, pitless, endless chain type for easy tension-free 90 degree right or left-hand turns — and any degree of elevation required.

Tough Patz Barn Cleaner Chain has no troublesome pins to rust, lock, bend or shear. Flites are welded to individual links for longer problem-free life. Smooth rolling action of this single-piece "Hook-n-eye" link around gutter corners and drive sprocket reduces wear and power requirements. As a result, you get added years of dependable, more economical use. What's more — servicing is extra easy since Patz Barn Cleaner Links can be added or removed in a jiffy without tools. Trouble-free corner wheel installation is quick — engineered to completely eliminate removal problems.

In fact — all Patz Barn Cleaner parts — power unit, speed reducer, return corner — are made for extra-easy installation. Yes — a Patz Barn Cleaner does cost less per year to own. Just check any man that owns a Patz — he'll tell you the same.

DEAF HEAR AGAIN WITH NEW CORDLESS ELECTRONIC CAPSULE

CHICAGO (Special) — A wonderful tiny new hearing aid utilizing the latest in electronic research—that can correct hearing loss without cords, wires or plastic tubes was announced by S. F. Posen, noted acoustical authority.

Posen stated, "This remarkable new hearing aid slips in and out of the ear as easily as snapping your fingers. It provides higher fidelity hearing at natural ear-level that can help many sufferers from mild hearing loss."

Posen also announced that a thrilling new, fully illustrated book reveals all the exciting facts about this revolutionary new way to hear clearly again. "It is 'must' reading for everyone with a hearing problem," he added.

To acquaint readers of this newspaper with full details, the book will be sent free in a plain wrapper on request. No obligation. Write today to: Dept. 2-537, Beltone Hearing Aid Co., 156 Lombard Avenue, Winnipeg 2, Manitoba.

TIPS On How . . .
MICRO-MIXING Pays-Off For You

Some modern feed ingredients are so powerful that a quantity no larger than a match-stick is all it takes for a whole ton of chow. This represents a production problem. If your mixing wasn't done exactly right, one bird might down the whole flock's portion in a single peck. Thanks to Purina's Micro-Mixing process, this can't happen. This amazing process blends tiny, precise amounts of ingredients into every thimbleful of Purina Chows. You can be sure that every bird and animal you feed the Purina Way will get its necessary share of each ingredient in the ration . . . helping you avoid waste, and increasing your farm's efficiency.

Micro-Mixing provides a safety factor, too. Some modern feed ingredients, which produce amazing results when fed in the right amounts, are no longer efficient when over-fed.

Feed Micro-Mixed Purina Chows and you'll be sure you're feeding your birds and animals enough of the things they need — but not too much!

Phone us, or come in, and let us help you solve your feeding problems the Purina Way. I'm sure we can help you prove to yourself that Purina Feeding costs less.

Williamsburg District News

Williamsburg

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Montgomery, of Gananoque, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Aden Casselman.

Miss Gail and Shawn Kenney of Ottawa were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell and Sandra, of Ottawa, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Casselman and Barry.

Mrs. Gordon Woods and Mrs. A. C. Blackwell were among those attending the Convention of United Lutheran Church Women this week in Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Geo. M. Smith, of Watertown, N. Y., returned to her home after spending a week with her sisters, Mrs. John M. Jackson of Kemptville and Mrs. John Erratt of town.

Mrs. John A. Erratt returned to her home on Labour Day after spending a few days with her sisters, Mrs. John M. Jackson, Kemptville, and Mrs. Geo. M. Smith, Watertown.

Callers at the home of Mrs. John A. Erratt recently were Mrs. L. Simser of Hallville, Miss Lorna Simser of Hoasic School, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Erratt and Brian, of Riverside Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fulton of Hulbert, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Wells, Sharon and Carson, of Colquhoun, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elliott and Douglas, of Smiths Falls.

Mrs. Alice Casselman visited Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Eaman, of Lunenburg, for a few days last week.

Mrs. Florence Heatherington has returned to her home in Vancouver after spending the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Glen McIntosh, and Mr. McIntosh, of Williamsburg.

There has been a number of visitors to the United Church Manse in Williamsburg recently. From the West came Miss E. Olsen from Turner Valley in the Foothills by Calgary; Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Hunt, of Calgary, and Rev. and Mrs. Roy Taylor from Edmonton. Mr. Taylor has worked extensively amongst the Indians in Northern Alberta and speaks Cree very fluently and is well liked by the Cree Indians; Miss M. Pineo came from Pointe Claire in Quebec for several days, and later came Miss M. Warrilow from London, Eng. Next week the Rev. Wellwood Adam and his wife look forward to welcoming his Scottish cousin from Annan, Scotland.

Mrs. W. Adam To Visit Trinidad

Mrs. Wellwood Adam leaves from Uplands on September 25 for a six weeks' trip to Trinidad and British Guiana, West Indies. It is a purely personal and private visit to her many negro and West Indian friends in both places, for she was much loved and respected by the coloured people living in Britain, and by the students from both the Indies and West and Central Africa. She was concerned for their welfare, and worked against the great colour prejudice to be found in Britain, and was a fond favourite of the negro children.

Mrs. Adam hopes, however, to spare time to visit parts of Trinidad in which the United Church of Canada works in conjunction with the American Presbyterian Church. There are four families waiting to welcome her in British Guiana, and she intends to travel the 310 miles by sea from Trinidad on one of Booker's sugar boats. This, she says, promises to be quite an experience as she will probably be the only white woman travelling that way!

Winchester Springs

Mr. and Mrs. Darcy Hess and children, of Kitchener, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Coons recently.

Mr. Dwight Morrow, of Ottawa, spent the week-end at the Bailey home.

Able Seaman Dennis Coleman of Halifax had supper with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coons.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bailey, John and Charles, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ball and family at Chesterville.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham McPherson and Mr. and Mrs. Egerton Barkley and Brian, of Elma, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cunningham.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore McIntosh and baby, of Toronto, is spending a few days at the former's parental home.

Rev. Hawkes Host To YP Group

The Presbyterian Young People's Group of Winchester Springs met at the home of Rev. Mr. Hawkes in Morrisburg recently.

The meeting opened with a prayer by Rev. Mr. Hawkes and Scripture was read by Stephen Kirkwood. During the study period the members discussed and corrected homework on the question, "What is God?"

During the business section of the meeting members planned a new date for the weiner roast which was rained out. Resignations were accepted from both the president and secretary. Because of this, members decided to have a new election of officers to take place at the next meeting.

Arlene Nesbitt and Ruth Walker entertained members with games and quiz contests. The meeting adjourned with a prayer by Rev. Hawkes.

Members enjoyed a delicious lunch which was prepared by the hostess and served by the refreshment committee. The president, Charles Pollock, accepted an invitation to have the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Easton.

United Church W.M.S. Meeting

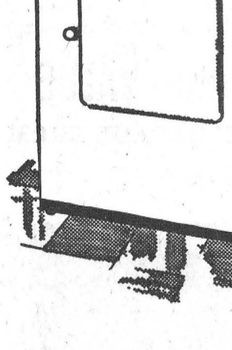
The September meeting of the United Church W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Barkley with 25 in attendance. The president presided for the opening exercises.

Notes of thanks will be sent to Mrs. Shaver and Mrs. Nettie Barkley for their donations. All articles for the bale had been donated. It was decided to accept the invitation from Colquhoun to attend their meeting. A note of thanks is to be sent to Spencerville Auxiliary and it was hoped that some members would attend their 75th anniversary.

Mrs. Adam read a letter from Miss Jean Somerville and again thanked the society for their help.

Owing to the Anniversary Supper the next meeting will be held on Thursday, October 5th, in the school room, and films will be shown. Mrs. Erratt and her committee presented the topic entitled "It Pays To Pray," and conducted an interesting program.

The meeting closed with the Benediction, and lunch was served.



Mrs. L. Meyers Dies

The many friends of Mrs. Lila Meyers were sorry to hear of her death which occurred at her home in Toronto recently at the age of 89.

She was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Silas Merkley, Williamsburg, where she spent her early life, later moving to Chesterville and Toronto.

She is survived by four sons and two daughters. Sympathy is extended to her many relatives and friends.

100 Enrol At Public School

Like many other schools, Williamsburg Public School is packed to capacity this year. First day enrolment stood at 100 pupils, a record for the three-room school which was completely renovated last year. A third room was also added to the school which has three staff members. Mrs. Hilda McMillan is the principal.

BELL LINES

by E. G. Thompson your telephone manager

Helen Davidson of our Winchester office, represents the operators who serve you each time you ask for a number from "Information", want assistance or place a long distance call. She can do so most promptly and best if you remember to "Call by Number" if you know the number, and if not to note it in your Blue Book for future calls; ask for charges when placing the call, if you need them, for they are not available after the call is completed; and give your telephone number when the operator asks for it.

Now, here's an entertainment treat for the whole family; On October 2, 9.30 to 11.00 p.m., the Trans-Canada Telephone program — an all-Canadian production by CBC-TV of Tyrone Guthrie's 1961 Stratford Festival presentation of "The Pirates of Penzance," Gilbert and Sullivan's gay comic opera about Major General Stanley's beautiful daughters and their adventures with the pirates. The show, which will have the original Stratford cast, has been skillfully adapted for television by CBC-TV. This will be the first of several shows that will be presented during the coming season by the Trans-Canada Telephone System of which The Bell Telephone Company of Canada is a member. So make a note of the time and date; you don't want to miss this excellent show.

This is, of course, Mrs. M. J. Chamberlain, who was appointed Chief Operator in Winchester earlier this year. She replaced Miss Alice Rice who was transferred to Ottawa. Mrs. Chamberlain supervises the staff who handle calls for Winchester, Chesterville and Finch.

Mountain Cubs Win Eastern Ontario Softball Championship

One of the most successful women's softball teams ever to come out of Eastern Ontario is the smooth working Mountain Cubs. Not only have the Mountain girls won the Ing trophy in the St. Lawrence Intermediate Girls Softball League, they have also won the Lyle Coughler trophy for Dundas County and the O'Malley trophy for Eastern Ontario. The girls won the Eastern Ontario championship after beating out highly rated teams from Cornwall and Brockville. Other teams in their own league were Winchester, Morrisburg, Chesterville and Kemptville. They are now preparing to meet a team of Ottawa Seniors. Front, from left with trophy, are Donna Marcell and Edna Dixon. Second row from left, Carol Brian, Willa Ellis, Marilyn Hyndman, Gail Christie, Sharron Bryan, June Blaine; Third row, from left, Lyle Coughler, manager; Barbara Dixon, Judy Coughler, Helen Hyndman, Lynda Marcell, Elaine Richardson and Jerry Stobo, coach.—Photo by Daykin.

secretary, Mrs. Arthur Thom, of Williamsburg, by the end of September.

All auxiliary units are asked to conduct their membership drives during September and October.

Following the business part of the meeting Dr. Howard Justus, of Chesterville, entertained the group by showing slides of his trip to Hawaii. He accompanied the pictures with a vivid description of the numerous places of interest as well as very interesting historical background and dates. Dr. Justus, besides his medical ability, is becoming very adept with his 35-mm. camera.

At the close of the meeting the Morewood Unit conducted a very successful tea and bake sale.
