Second Nomination Called For December 12 As Only Three Candidates Decide to Stand; Reeve and One Councillor are Still Required

With but three candidates qualifying for Councillors in the Village of Chesterville, following Monday's nomination meeting, a second nomination has been called for Thursday, December 12th to fill the position of Reeve and one Councillor, and the election date, if necessary, set for Monday, December 30th.

Qualifying for seats on Council, were John L. M. Turner, Glenn E. Merkley, M. A. Flynn and J. A. Morris, but the latter resigned before the 9.00 p.m. deadline, Tuesday night.

None of the three nominees for Reeve qualified. They were P. S. Boyd, Wm. McCloskey and Chas. McMillan. R. J. Barrie, who was nominated for Councillor and then Reeve, was not eligible to qualify for Reeve as he did not resign the first nomination as required by the changes in the Municipal Act, but, however, he had stated he had no intention to run for either office.

The result is that none of the present Councillors have signified their intention of standing for office and the three who are elected by acclamation are new at the job.

Turner and Merkley were put forward for Council seats by the Chesterville Local of the National Dairy Workers Union.

At the end of the official time for nominations on Monday night, 8.00 p.m., the following had been named:

For Reeve—Chas. McMillan, by Leo Gallagher and R. G. Smith; Wm. McCloskey, by R. G. Smith and Leo Gallagher; P. S. Boyd, by J. A. Morris and Eric Casselman; R. J. Barrie, by Chas. McMillan and Wm. McCloskey.

For Councillors—Chas. McMillan, by R. G. Smith and Leo Gallagher; Wm. McCloskey, by Leo Gallagher and R. G. Smith; Sydney Morris, by R. G. Smith and Leo Gallagher; Glenn Merkley, by Mansel Brownlee and John Price; J. A. Morris, by E. Casselman and Haldane Durant; Geo. Gillard, by H. Durant and E. Casselman; R. J. Barrie, by J. A. Morris and E. Casselman; J. L. M. Turner by P. G. Hewitt and D. J. Simpson; Wilson Johnston, by J. L. M. Turner and R. Lynch; M. A. Flynn by J. F. Moriarty and Thos. LaPierre; P. S. Boyd, by Geo. Gillard and E. Casselman.

Mrs. T. Fleming Re-Elected President Crysler W. A.

Mrs. Thos. Fleming was re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's church at the annual meeting held at her home on Wednesday, November 27th.

Reports on the year's work were gratifying. All pledges were met in full leaving a balance of $4.58. Three bales were packed during the year: Spring bale, valued at $79.25; hospital bale at $4.50, and Christmas bale at $57.95. Five new members joined making a membership of 16.

Rev. Clarke acted as chairman and all officers were re-elected. Owing to the holiday season there will be no December meeting.

A very dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Fred Fleming, assisted by Mrs. W. Servage and Mrs. John Fleming at the close of the meeting.

IN KINGSTON HOSPITAL

Mrs. W. H. Lloyd is reported recovering nicely in a Kingston hospital where she was admitted after suffering a slight stroke last week, a few days after she and Dr. Lloyd and family moved to Kingston from Chesterville.

The Municipal Picture

Monday, December 9th, will see Municipal Elections in the Township and Village of Winchester. In the Township, the contest is for Reeve, with J. A. Bogart, Roy E. Annable and Ernest Summers, present reeve, contesting the Reeveship. Councillors and Deputy-Reeve were accorded acclamations following a very small attendance at Nominations. H. H. Nesbitt, as agent, filed Mr. Summers' qualification papers at the close of nominations; Mr. Annable qualified on Saturday forenoon following nominations, to assure a contest for Reeve, and Mr. Bogart filed his papers that evening.

In Winchester Village, Albert Turner was given an acclamation as Reeve with Reeve W. A. MacDonald withdrawing from municipal politics, but six candidates will contest the four council seats. They are, Melvin Dawley, John M. Fader, Earl A. Morgan, Chester E. Robinson, Arthur B. Summers, and W. F. Workman.

In Chesterville, only three qualified as Councillors following Friday night's nominations, so a second meeting will be called for next Thursday night to fill the vacancy for Reeve and one Councillor. If an election is necessary, it will be held on Monday, December 30th.

Local Branch Names Carl G. Merkley to Head Legion Rink Committee

Appointment of a committee to handle the management of the Legion Memorial Rink and the possibility of securing club rooms to accommodate the growing membership, were two of the main items of business for the Chesterville Branch 434, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., meeting in the Public Library Monday evening.

Carl G. Merkley was named chairman of the important rink committee, which consists of 12 members: Leonard Moran, Staley Chambers, Jas. G. Fleming, E. Johnstone, Dr. H. G. Barton, Hubert McCloskey, Geo. Crawford, Sydney Richmyre, D. C. Campbell, W. C. Fulton, Jack MacMillan and Leonard Moriarty. This committee will meet Monday evening to prepare for the winter's programme. It was announced work was about completed at the rink and flooding was expected to start by Thursday.

Freeman L. Beckstead was given authority to organize a Town League Hockey group with teams from Chesterville and district the schedule to be drawn up following issuing of the C.O.V. playing dates.

While hockey is to be encouraged, especially among the younger boys, the committee will make certain of a good share of nights for skating.

Envisaging the possibility of the Branch using temporary quarters for possibly another two years before permanent club rooms can be completed at the Legion Memorial Rink, Chas. Hart, S. Richmyre and Frank Perrault were named a committee to investigate the possibility of renting suitable rooms.

The secretary was authorized to send a letter of appreciation to Chas. McMillan for his valuable assistance in the rebuilding of the rink, and also to thank Winchester Rink Company and two brewery companies for their cash donations.

Applications for membership were received from four more veterans: Garnet Cass, Geo. Hummel, L. Moriarty and Glenn McGregor, who will be inducted at the next meeting, to be held on Tuesday, December 17.

Vote Not Necessary on Library Changeover; Plan Revise Allocation of Assessed Cost Proposed Church Street Drainage Sewer

The question of submitting a bylaw to the electors at the municipal elections for establishment of a Public Library Board in Chesterville to replace the present Library Association, was rescinded at Council meeting Tuesday night, and will be left for the new Council to decide. The decision was made after a careful study of the Libraries Act which stated the submission for approval of electors was not necessary when a resolution for the change-over was received from the Library Association as was the case in Chesterville.

In the bylaw being prepared in accordance with the Libraries Act, the maximum fee that can be levied is 50 cents per capita, but Council may raise this to a maximum of $1.25 per capita. When the question was first acted upon, it was understood the fee could be set up to $1.25 by the bylaw.

Council was somewhat handicapped in its work Tuesday night as this was the night on which candidates for municipal office had to qualify by nine o'clock, and business was not completed until well after 11.00 o'clock.

Sewer Report Studied

Council studied the Engineer's Report on the proposed Church St. Drainage Sewer which is estimated to cost $5600, and returned it to the Engineer requesting him to make a change in the assessments, whereby the municipality would be responsible for the cost of the sewer from the Mary Street entrance to the outlet on the Nation below the dam.

It was argued that the sewer from the point where it enters Mary Street from Church Street, provides a trunk sewer for the rest of the village south of the river when connecting links may be completed, and the property holders on Church street should not be expected to pay for this outlet, which consists of about 1,000 feet of 20-inch tile.

Donation to Rotary Playground

In response to the request of a deputation from The Rotary Club of Chesterville, a grant of $100 was made for the maintenance and management of the Children's Playground operated by the club. The club last year requested Council to take over the project as a municipal playground, but Council decided not to and instead made a $100 grant.

A change in plans for heating the Fire Hall had to be made when Gordon Lannin, with whom the Fire Commissioners had negotiated the supplying of steam from the heating system in his garage next door to the Fire Hall, decided his equipment was not capable of the added load, especially since he planned on heating another apartment in his building. P. Smith offered to install a hot air furnace removed from Trinity United Church which would heat the Fire Hall, hose tower and Scout Hall and the deal was for $60, installation to be started immediately.

History of Counties

Acting-Reeve P. S. Boyd announced a copy of the book, The History of the United Counties, by J. G. Harkness, K.C., Cornwall, had been received from the Hon. George H. Challies for presentation to the Chesterville Library.

Boxing Day, December 26th, was declared a holiday in Chesterville, by resolution of Council.

Council ordered that yale locks be placed on the kitchen doors at the Community Hall after it was reported entrance had been made and padlocks on some of the cupboards smashed. A yale lock will also be placed on the Fire Hall door and several keys cut for the use of the Fire Chief and others who must use the Hall.

STARTLING EXAMPLES OF SOIL EROSION

Anyone who has taken the trouble to watch a heavy rain brush or roll the surface soil down a slope may have been reminded of a giant planing mill shaving the rough surface off a plank. Slowly and surely the surface is removed.

In soil erosion measurements by the Field Husbandry Division at the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa, says Dr. P. O. Ripley, Dominion Field Husbandman, it was somewhat startling to learn in 1945 that in the four months, June to October, 15 inches of rainfall shaved 31.0 tons of soil per acre from the surface of a field of corn planted and cultivated up and down a 10 percent slope. On June 17, 1946, 45 tons of soil per acre were washed off the same plot by 3 inches of rain in exactly one hour. On an adjoining plot which was summerfallowed, the runoff at the same time was 72.5 tons of soil.

During the 1945 growing season with 15.03 inches of rainfall and 1946 with 19.78 inches of rainfall the total soil runoff on a summerfallowed plot cultivated up and down the slope, unmanured, has amounted to 132 tons per acre. On corn cultivated up and down the slope 126 tons were lost.

Manuring the soil made it more absorbent and porous and the runoff on a manured summerfallow plot was only 114 tons during the same period while a manured corn plot lost only 100 tons of soil.

Planting the corn on the contour reduced the runoff still more to only 34 tons of soil per acre. With a cover crop of alfalfa only one-quarter of a ton of soil was lost.

These rather startling figures tell a very simple story, says Dr. Ripley. Tremendous losses of soil can occur if improper methods of soil and crop management are used in sloping ground. The loss can be reduced to an almost negligible amount if proper crops and methods are used. Don't let the rain shave off the surface soil, he advises. It is valuable.

THE CONFLICT WITH COSTS

It is rather strange that our own Industrial Relations Committee and organized labor in the United States starting with somewhat different points of view, have arrived at approximately the same conclusions.

The findings of the committee were to the effect that higher wages and higher prices are inextricably associated. It also found that the whole structure of price control hinged on labor's actions. If this committee has implied that labor has been ill informed and not too wisely led, it is scarcely more than American labor leaders have themselves implied.

In the United States this process of soul-searching has been given an impetus by the sudden withdrawal of OPA regulations. The familiar law of supply and demand has had an opportunity to take hold again. The way prices followed wage increases upward pointed sharply an unpleasant lesson.

Labor saw its wage gains disappearing almost before they were fully achieved. It was faced with a new decision: either new wage demands, such as had already sent prices skyrocketing, or the more thoughtful course of making the best of what it had and devoting its energies to fighting these upward price curves, so that its gains might remain of value.

It was not management or even industrial relations committees that stressed this choice most pointedly. It was labor itself, in the person of Kermit Eby, director of C.I.O. education and research. He made the case to labor itself through the official organ of the CIO. Mr. Eby said, with unaccustomed frankness, inflationary trends are "more swift and effective",—as a wage-cutting device —"than any machinery we have yet discovered for raising wages."

In other words, labor leaders in the United States are realizing and publicly stating just what Canada's Industrial Relations Committee has said—that inflation can offset most effectively an apparent wage gain so that the net result is loss both to the public and to organized labor itself.

Again we would quote from Mr. Eby's article. "Success in forcing prices down," he says, "cannot possibly break the wage scale in existing contracts. What we gain will be a real gain. It is not so sure however, that widespread wage increases can be won at this time. If won, they are likely to be promptly reflected in further price rises. Any stimulus to higher prices will be eagerly seized upon and multiplied by the speculative operators who now occupy the driver's seat. This is one of the facts of inflation that labor should reckon with in its fight to protect its standard of living."

Along with this is the recent address of Walter Reuther, stormy petrel of the automotive unions, urging a policy of greater production.

If labor thinks so, it is thinking in its own interest and in the interests of the public as a whole. For this thinking is based on unassailable truth. There is no sound way to higher wages and a more generous life for all that does not involve the cooperation of capital, labor and management. To provide new employment, capital must be interested in wider and more competent undertakings. Management must look for new technical skills and more economic methods. Labor must use these advantages to increase production. This is the only road to higher wages that is not blocked by the specter of rising costs.

BRITAIN'S NEW GEARLESS CAR: SPECIAL MODEL FOR OVERSEAS

A revolutionary new car, which has already attracted considerable attention overseas, was shown in London recently for the first time. This is the six-cylinder "Black Prince", a luxury car which is claimed to provide for the first time in the civilian motoring history a form of transmission which eliminates both gear lever and clutch pedal. To start the vehicle the driver merely releases the brake and presses the accelerator. To stop it, he only has to remove the pressure from the accelerator and apply the brake. With the elimination of the clutch pedal and gear lever, the number of main controls is reduced from five to three—steering wheel, accelerator pedal and brake pedal. There is a fourth control—a small switch with "forward" and "reverse" positions but this is operated only when the car is standing still. The "Black Prince" has a coachwork wholly of aluminum, built in a single unit, shielding not only the passenger accommodation but also the engine and radiator block.

HUMORESQUE

They say you're gone
And in my heart
I know they tell me true.
I know it's so--
I saw you go
And wept good-bye to you.

I threw away
The notes you wrote,
Your pictures face the wall.
I've turned my heart
From you apart,
It's over, finished all.

And yet I can't
Convince my heart
That you and I are through:
When 'phone bells ring
(Poor silly thing!)
I always think it's you!

—Carl H. Claudy, Jr.

CEREALS FOR PEP

Such cereals as oatmeal are essential to breakfast on cold mornings, say the nutritionists. An authority in the Department of National Health and Welfare points out that such dishes are not only appetizing, but provide warmth and energy, while supplying important minerals and the B Vitamins. So much better if the cereal can be served hot, on winter days.

"MY WEEK"

By R. J. Deachman

Some time ago H. E. Rice of the Huntsville Forester, one of the many bright country editors of the Province of Ontario, put out a story in which he suggested that we should have the same policy at home as abroad, that is all parties should unite on a common purpose, while the der old party system walked out of the window.

To this I replied that criticism was worth retaining, we should develop it rather than repress it and that elimination of criticism might be the death of good government.

Now Mr. Rice comes back with these words:

"We are not persuaded that the values of criticism, as we know it in the House of Commons, are such as to justify the many weaknesses of our party system. We place a party in power because it has a majority of followers in the House pledged to support its platform. Any member adhering to such a party, who dares to criticise the leadership, or breaks from the policies laid down by caucus vote, is obstracised, and usually read out of the party parliamentary group. In other words, for him, criticism is fatal."

I want to get this matter clear. So long as Brother Rice and I continue the fight there will be nothing done about it, so in a spirit of conciliation I offered to go 50-50 with Mr. Rice. My contention is that if all parties were abolished how could they be prevented from being born again. Men, with common views would group together in order to carry out their purpose so that all Mr. Rice's effort would be lost.

Now here's where the 50-50 comes in. The two old parties are coming together. The differences between Liberal and Conservative are no longer clearly marked. If a man from Mars came along and studied the situation for a few years he would have difficulty in distinguishing which was which, in time the dividing line is likely to disappear.

Under these conditions much time is wasted. The House spends time going back over past history, living on the ancient grudge which once existed and never dies. Join the two old parties in wedded bliss and let Mr. Coldwell take the others—he will have his hands full which will be good for him. Mr. Rice will then have what he wants, less talk and more action—and this is important — I shall have the pleasure of writing about it, telling the funny things which are certain to happen.

If I am right in this contention union is inevitable. The narrower the dividing line becomes the easier it will be to cross. It may take time to bring it about but it will come. There will be substantial gains in such a move, not the least of which will be a better House of Commons.

Mr. Rice and I are upon open ground, we are trying to find a better way of doing things. It is a subject which ought to be discussed especially by weekly papers. The nation wants a more efficient House of Commons. It wants one that does more work in less time, one iu which the casual visitor can decide, at a glance, the side to which he belongs. It's so hard to decide to which party a man belongs when he can't see with the naked eye the difference between the two.

P.S.—What are we going to do about the Senate—the Senators will be angry if we forget about them.

Mrs. William Steele Marks 86th Birthday

Mrs. William Steele, oldest resident of Winchester township, residing one mile west of Winchester, quietly celebrated her 98th birthday on Thursday, November 28th, at her home with members of her family. She was the recipient of many gifts and messages of congratulation from relatives in the district.

Mrs. Steele is in fairly good health and still likes to conduct her own household duties, assisted by her daughter, Miss Emma Steele, who lives with her. She has long been known throughout the district as one who knits the finest lace and woollen articles, and despite the loss of one eye several years ago, now being unable to read, she still knits with her former skill.

Mrs. Steele has for many years been a member of the Winchester United Church and of the WMS, having been active in all the affairs of her church and community.

She is the former Miss Agnes McKane, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKane and was born in the vicinity of Vankleek Hill, Ont. She married William John Steele 69 years ago. He died in 1922.

Her four daughters, Mrs. Karl Helmer, Winchester; Mrs. Frederick Barlow, Morrisburg; Mrs. Bertha Parker, of Ottawa, and Emma, at home, were present for the birthday occasion. Her son, Ernest, of Winchester township; a grandson, Ernest Helmer of Ottawa, and three great grandchildren also attended. Two sons, Thomas and William Steele, both of Ottawa, sent messages of congratulation. She has 20 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

A Vital Call To Egg Producers

Britain demands more fall eggs, says Dr. F. N. Marcellus, formerly of Morewood, Head of the Department of Poultry, Ontario Agricultural College.

Mr. J. A. Peacock, Director of Egg Supplies for the British Ministry of Food, on his recent visit to Canada regarding the egg contracts emphasized that a larger proportion of our eggs must be supplied in the Fall season from fresh receipts if further contracts beyond 1948 are to be negotiated. This means higher Fall production by Canada's poultry flocks, otherwise a large part of the present export demand will disappear and the Industry will be faced with a twenty-five to thirty percent cut in our present poultry population.

This presents a distinct challenge to the Poultry Industry which the producers can meet just as they have met others. During the war years production reached to an un-thought-of level in answer to a challenge for more eggs for Britain. This new challenge is not one for further increase in producing population but by a reorganized program to move our present production program forward a month to six weeks earlier. Immediate action is necessary if the initial part of the challenge is to be met in 1947. We must show some improvement in Fall egg supply next year or otherwise the Industry may not be so fortunate as to get a contract with Great Britain for 1949. If the Industry wants a renewal of the contract it must be prepared to meet the other party's demands.

The problem is not as great, perhaps, as it may at first appear. It simply means that if each purchaser of chicks will take delivery four to six weeks earlier than in the past, sufficient pullets would be fully developed, ready to start laying early in September to supply the 1,000,000 cases called for and possibly an additional 500,000 as well. This idea of earlier chicks is not new, as more and more people have been getting their chicks earlier each year, from April or May to March, February or even January.

It is possibly true that a January chick may cost slightly more to rear than a May bird with respect to feed, fuel and housing. It is also true that winter-hatched birds develop into better birds than those of late hatches; the pullets lay from one to three dozen more eggs in their first year; mortality in the growing birds will not be over half that common in late May and June-hatched birds. There is also a premium of at least six cents a dozen on all eggs supplied from September first to January thirty-first under the present contract.

There is not a case of a further increase in population. That is not wanted as the present critical food situation will not support a larger population. It is simply a case of everyone possible starting their chicks earlier, so that, allowing six months to grow, the pullets will be ready to lay next September.

It is important to check the brooding pens and equipment to make sure they are adequate in every way for the job. Then secure a supply of fuel and feed a month before they will be needed. If you have not yet done so, make arrangements for your chicks so you can get them started a month earlier than last year. Do so at once. Remember, one February-hatched pullet, properly reared will more than equal three hatched in June receiving equal care in filling the Fall contract for eggs.

This challenge can be met as effectively as those in the past. Continuity of supply will help maintain continuity of demand. The poultry producers of Canada cannot afford to loose the outlet for eggs provided by the present British contract and their renewal. It is of vital importance to every producer of eggs in Canada, so let's prove the job can be done.

ELECTION CARDS

To The Electors of the Township of Winchester

Being a candidate for the Reeveship of the Township of Winchester for 1947, I hereby desire to acquaint you with my stand in regard to the pending changes in our present High School districts.

I am definitely opposed to any changes which will deprive your children of the present High School facilities.

I believe, that while the proposed changes might be beneficial in some parts of the province in the three United Counties, owing to climatic conditions, especially in winter, they would be decidedly unsatisfactory.

I also believe that the cost and upkeep of proposed buses and roads necessary to accommodate such buses would be prohibitive.

I believe that our present rate of taxation is too high and as we have spent thousands of dollars in our High Schools in recent years, and as the debenture debt is still unpaid, it would make our school rates prohibitive.

If elected I will do everything in my power to maintain our present High Schools as they are.

Yours respectively,

John A. Bogart.

To The Electors of The Township of Winchester

Having served you for a number of years as Councillor, Deputy-Reeve and one year as Reeve, I respectfully solicit your vote and influence for the office of Reeve for 1947. I have always worked for the best interest of the people of our Township. I have been on several important committees at Counties' Council and have attended all sessions in the past year, and have tried to look after your interests to the best of my ability.

While there is considerable talk on Greater High School Areas, there has nothing yet been asked for from the counties council by the Government. The School law says no High School has to enter into the plan unless their own board passes a resolution asking to do so. However, I am against this new plan and if returned to office and should there be a vote at Counties' Council, I will vote against changing our present School plan. Thanking you for past favors; I am,

Your obedient Servant,

Ernest R. Summers.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbours who, by their personal calls, letters, cards, and fruit, made my stay in Cornwall General hospital more pleasant.

"Chemurgy" Will Be Farm Forum Topic Monday Night

Chemurgy is a fancy word that was invented in 1933 to designate the science of converting farm products to industrial use. It seemed to promise great things in the depression years of the thirties as wheat surpluses got ever bigger and markets for all kinds of farm products fell off.

Actually the practice of chemurgy is quite old. Our pioneer ancestors knew many chemurgic tricks. They made woollen yarn and homespun cloth from sheep's wool. They made cider vinegar from apples, soap from household fats and leather from cowhide. But it wasn't until the 1930's that the "chemurgists" got organized and chemurgic research was seriously undertaken.

During the war years farmers were working overtime producing food and they had no worries about markets. But now that the war is over and markets may again become uncertain farmers are asking themselves "What about Chemurgy?" This topic will be discussed in National Farm Radio Forum on Monday, December 9.

The industrial use of farm products may run along three main lines:

1. New uses for surplus or low-quality products e.g. alcohol from wheat.

2. Industrial crops to supply existing or new needs e.g. soybeans and sunflowers for vegetable oils.

3. Profitable uses for farm by-products and wastes e.g. cardboard from straw.

Of these three the second seems to be on the soundest basis. Tobacco, sugar beets, soybeans are all industrial crops that have proved their worth. Others that show promise are sunflowers, fibre flax, and the starch crops—corn, wheat, potatoes.

As far as "surplus" and "waste" products are concerned there are some serious handicaps. Surpluses are irregular and hence an unreliable source of raw material for industry. Besides if everybody in the world had enough to eat there would be no surpluses. Waste products are usually expensive raw materials for manufacture because of collection and transportation costs. However some farm by-products are valuable in industry. For example casein is used for plastics. Whey is used in the manufacture of penicillin.

Chemurgy does not now seem to be the fairy godmother it seemed in depression years. Nevertheless both agriculture and industry will most certainly be the richer for some chemurgic developments.

GOD'S PLENTY

The Popular Report for 1946 of the British and Foreign Bible Society 146 Queen Victoria St., London, EC4, England, by the Rev. John A. Patten, M.C., M.A., Literary Superintendent.

There is something very comforting about the title of the Popular Report in a time of dearth in many lands, and famine in others.

As usual, the keynote of the Report is indicated in the Preface. It tells the story of the way in which the British and Foreign Bible Society has distributed the Book of God's Plenty to a needy world during the past twelve months.

The titles of the chapters indicate the scope and variety of the Society's many activities throughout the world: "The Book of God's Plenty", "God's Plenty in Translations", "The Sower of Plenty", "Getting Going on the Continent", "The First Year In India", "The Curtain Rises In China", "Unity In South America", "In the Commonwealth", "The Hayward's Heath Conference", "God's Plenty in Gifts".

Naturally there is much to report about re-starting the work in many lands in Europe, whilst the other Continents are not neglected as the theme unfolds. It is interesting to find that the work in China has been resumed; that there is unity in operation between the American Bible Society and the British and Foreign Bible Society in South America, and that in the Empire Commonwealth the British and Foreign Bible Society continues to operate through its Auxiliaries, over that vast area of the world's surface.

There is an interesting account of the formation of the Council of United Bible Societies. Within this Council each Society will be self-governing, and make collections within its own territory. The main object of this federation is to develop a sense of unity in the one great purpose for which all Bible Societies exist, namely the wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment.

Gifts to the Society during the past year have shown a large increase, but the programme needed for replenishment of the printed Word throughout the world will require even greater generosity and more sacrificial giving than Christian people have yet been called on to manifest.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! A comment made by a friend from the Old Country about our scones will long be remembered. She said: "This is just as good as cake. In fact, I would never miss cake if I had breads like this." It is evident that even English people are changing their tastes since these quick breads were made with less sugar and no butter compared to old-time recipes.

Tea biscuits, muffins, scones, coffee cakes and quick loaf breads use a small amount of sugar and shortening. Of course, some butter will disappear when freshly baked biscuits and scones are served, but as these take the place of both bread and cake, there should be a noticeble saving. We should save now for the festive goodies.

FRUIT SCONES

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 4 level tsps. baking powder, ½ tsp. salt, 2 tbsps. sugar, 4 tbsps. lard, ½ cup currants or raisins, 1 egg (beaten), 2|3 cup milk.

Preheat oven to 450 degs. F. Combine flour, baking powder, salt and sugar and sift together. Cut in lard with pastry blender or use two knives with scissor-like motion, until the mixture is the consistency of fine meal. Add fruit. Beat egg, and add to milk, reserving a little of the egg (about 1 tsp.) in bottom of bowl for glazing top of scones. Pour combined egg and milk mixture into dry ingredients, stirring with a fork until a soft dough is formed. Divide dough in two equal portions and roll on floured bake board until one-half inch thick and six inches in diameter. Place each portion on greased cookie sheet and score in quarters with sharp knife. Brush with glaze made by combining the reserved 1 tsp. of egg and 1 tsp. of milk. Bake in electric oven 450 degs. for 15 mins.

Note: A little chopped mixed peel may be substituted for some of the currants or raisins in the above recipe.

DUTCH APPLE CAKE

Topping

¾ cup thinly sliced apples, 3 tbsps. brown sugar, ½ tsp. cinnamon, ⅛ tsp. nutmeg, 1½ tbsps. melted shortening or butter.

Dough

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2½ tsps. baking powder, ½ tsp. salt, 3 tbsps. granulated sugar, 3 tbsps. lard, 1 egg, well-beaten, 1|3 cup milk.

Preheat oven to 425 degs. Grease thoroughly a deep eight-inch layer cake tin.

Topping

Prepare and measure ingredients for topping. Pare, core and slice apples (one large or 2 small apples should be sufficient). Melt shortening or butter and reserve one teaspoon. (Butter gives better flavor for this.) Mix sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg with remaining shortening.

Dough

Make dough as follows; Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add sugar. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives scissor-fashion until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Combine beaten egg and milk and pour into dry ingredients, blending in gently with fork until dough is formed. Gently pat dough in a greased pan. Brush top with the reserved teaspoon of melted butter. Arrange slices of apple in rows on top. Sprinkle sugar and spice mixture over top, spreading evenly. Place in electric oven (425 degs.) and bake 10 mins. Reduce temperature to 375 degrees and continue to bake for 20 to 30 mins. longer or until apples are tender and top is lightly browned. To serve cut in pie-shaped pieces. Use as hot sweetbread or as dessert with a fruit or custard sauce. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. R. T. asks for recipe to substitute for shortbreads.

Answer:

Christmas Cherries

½ cup shortening, ¼ cup granulated sugar, 1 egg yolk, ½ tsp. vanilla, 1 tbsp. grated orange rind, 1½ tsps. grated lemon rind, 1 tbsp. lemon juice, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 egg white (slightly beaten), 15 candied cherries, ½ cup chopped nuts.

Cream shortening in electric mixer, add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add egg yolk, vanilla, orange, lemon juice and rind. Add flour, mix well. Chill in electric refrigerator. Roll into small balls ½ inch in diameter, roll in egg white, then in chopped nuts. Place on greased baking sheet, place half a cherry on each cookie. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 mins. Yield: 30 cookies.

Mrs. J. G. asks for tasty cake recipe made with water.

Answer:

Jelly Roll

2 eggs (separated), 2 tbsps. cold water, ½ cup white sugar, ¾ cup sifted cake flour, ½ tsp. salt, 1 tsp. baking powder, ¼ tsp. vanilla, ¼ tsp. lemon flavoring.

Beat the egg yolks until light and lemon colored; add the cold water and beat again. Gradually beat in the sugar; beat until very light. Sift the dry ingredients four times; fold into the egg mixture; add the flavorings. Fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites. Pour into a shallow pan 9" x 13", which has been lined with waxed paper. Bake in electric oven at 400 degs. for 13 mins. Turn out on a towel which has been lightly dusted with flour; cut off the edges and remove the paper. Roll up and cool slightly. Unroll the jelly roll; spread with jelly or lemon filling; roll up again. Yield: 12 slices.

Miss M. G. asks for a recipe for pudding sauce using egg yolks instead of cornstarch.

Answer:

Old-Fashioned Pudding Sauce

½ cup sugar, 2 tbsps. flour, ⅛ tsp. salt, 1 cup hot water, 1 tbsp. mild-flavoured fat, 1 egg yolk, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Combine sugar, flour, salt and water. Bring to boiling point. Stir in fat. Add to beaten egg yolk, return to heat and cook, stirring for 2 minutes. Add vanilla.
