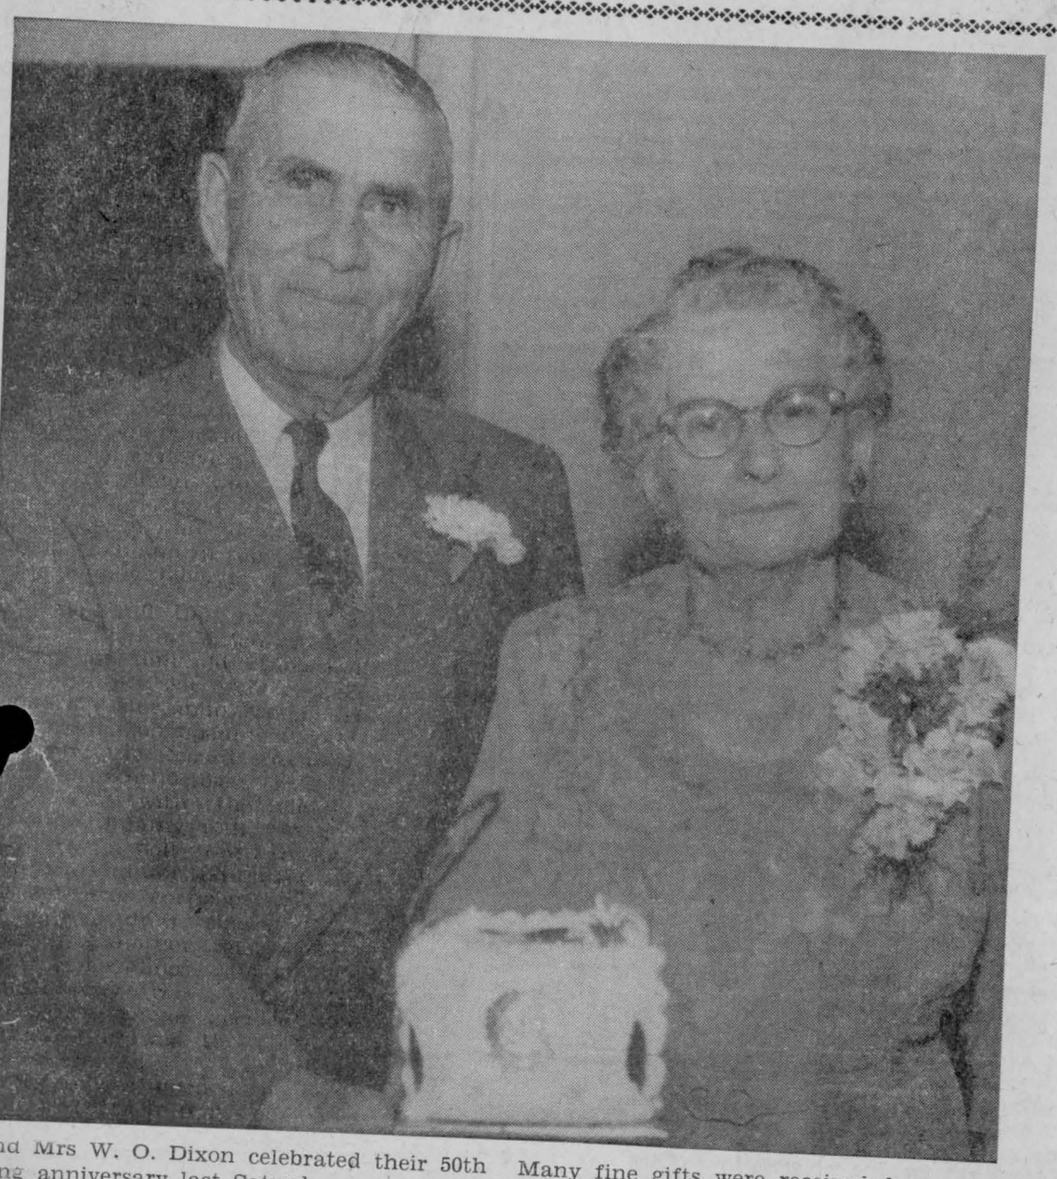
A HAPPY PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR TO ALL



Mr and Mrs W. O. Dixon celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Saturday and were at h[illegible] to a host of friends. Congratulations came f[illegible] far and near and included an illuminated sc[illegible]oll from the Provincial secretary, Mr Dunbar. Many fine gifts were received from the family on the happy occasion and the home on Main Street was gaily decorated for the occasion.—Record Photo.

Dixon golden wedding celebrated

Two highly esteemed residents of Chesterville, Mr and Mrs W. O. Dixon, celebrated their golden anniversary at their Main Street home on Saturday, December 27.

Fifty years ago on December 29, 1908, William O. Dixon, son of the late Mr and Mrs Jacob Dixon, of Chesterville, was married to Edith Maude Bogart, daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Walter Bogart, at the Bogart fa[illegible] by the late Rev A. E. Run[illegible] Mrs L. E. Bell (nee Jennie M[illegible], now of Edmonton, was bri[illegible]maid; Mr W. R. Fulton, now of Drumheller, was best man. Mrs Howard Fulton (nee Minnie Foster) played the wedding music.

Mr Dixon has been an outstanding personality in the Ottawa district and has resided in Chesterville for the past 55 years where he has been a prominent businessman and community leader. He has taken a very active part in promoting sports in the community. During the years 1920 and 1934 he coached the Chesterville hockey team to a number of championships in the Central Ottawa Valley League and later in the Rideau League. An ardent bowler, he helped form the Chesterville Lawn Bowling Club and had the honour of skipping a rink to win the Eastern Ontario Championship.

The village of Chesterville, as well as its activities, has received constant support through Mr Dixon's boundless energy. He is past president of the Chamber of Commerce and has served on the Board of Management of Trinity United Church as well as the municipal council. He was the organizer of a very successful Old Home Week.

Mrs Dixon has lived her entire life in Chesterville. She is an Elder, and very active member, of Trinity United Church, having served as president of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Women's Missionary Society. She is past president of the Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club, as well as the Women's Institute, and is a member of the Canadian Cancer Society.

The family of Mr and Mrs Dixon is Mrs Douglas (Rae) McGee, of Windsor, and Mr William H. (Joe) Dixon, of Niagara Falls, Ont. There are five grandchildren.

The house was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season and the anniversary activities. The combination of flowers and winter greens was most effective in giving a festive air to the anniversary celebrations. The dining room was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by gold tapers.

Those pouring tea were Mrs J. L. Dixon and Mrs G. Dixon, of Winchester; Mrs R. C. Dillabough, Morewood; Miss Edna McGee, Mrs John Bogart, Mrs Arnold Docksteader and Mrs E. B. Bugden, of Chesterville. Ladies who assisted with the serving were Mrs W. B. Rowe, Mrs Dalton Docksteader, Mrs C. Thompson, Mrs G. Barkley, Mrs J. Alguire and Mrs P. J. Gilroy.

Congratulations were received from numerous friends, relatives and government officials.

93RD BIRTHDAY

Congratulations to Mrs Herman Hummel who marks her 93rd birthday today, January 1. Enjoying fairly good health, she is quite active and still sews.

A. B. (Buck) Lawson

Arthur Byron (Buck- Lawson, aged 65, died suddenly in Ottawa General Hospital. He was a son of the late W. B. Lawson and his wife, Ada Rose.

Educated in Chesterville, he served in World War I. He resided in Ottawa and Chesterville.

He leaves to mourn one sister, Mrs Wm. Staples (Ruth), of Ottawa.

The funeral was held December 24 at the W. B. Rowe Funeral Home, Chesterville, conducted by Rev E. B. Bugden. Interment was in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Lyle Marcellus, Carl Markley, George Crawford and Stuart Allan.

Mrs Jean Casselman, M.P. guest at Guild Bazaar in new Church Hall

The Ladies' Guild of Holy Trinity Church, Chesterville, held a very successful bazaar in the new church hall. As this was the first event to take place in the new hall, the occasion was a memorable one in many ways and the hall was gay with fresh paint and colourful Christmas decorations.

The rector, Rev R. Strachan, was unable to attend as he is at present a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital; his place was taken by a good friend of Holy Trinity, Rev E. K. Lackey of Russell, who brought good wishes from the rector to all concerned.

Rev Mr Lackey introduced the guest speaker, Mrs Jean Casselman, M.P. for Grenville-Dundas, who expressed her pleasure at being invited to take part in such a happy occasion and then went on to declare the bazaar officially open. The president of the Ladies' Guild, Mrs Edna Droppo, thanked Mrs Casselman on behalf of the Guild and presented her with a small gift as a token of appreciation.

After this little ceremony, the room became a scene of great activity and the kitchen was kept very busy serving dainty teas to the guests.

There were three tables of Christmas fare, including a bake

'58 events reviewed at year's end

The first issue of the Record this year carried a picture and story of Ethan McElheran and his dog. The dog got into the ice down on the river in front of the Colin Shay property. Ethan risked his life to get the dog out of the freezing water.

Highlights like that would make quite a review, but thankfully most of the year's events did not involve so much risk.

Early in the year robbers broke into the bank at South Mountain and made off with a wad. In the process they terrorized the family of the manager and beat up an innocent passerby.

February of the old year finally brought the long delayed cold and snow. At one time school buses sat it out in the garage until the county and township roads could be cleared. In spite of the snow, a butterfly suddenly got a springlike feeling and Joyce Bugden found a lusty black Swallowtail ready to enjoy an early spring. We proved the matter with a picture of the butterfly hooked to Joyce's finger.

Thieves were busy last winter and they turned their attention to the R. A. Beamish store here. No arrests were made.

In March elections, John G. Diefenbaker really put the skids under the Liberals and in a sweeping mandate, took over the reins of government. Col. A. C. Casselman was returned as Grenville-Dundas representative for the eleventh time but by early May the colonel was dead and the seat was vacant. That same month saw the appointment of F. M. Cass, MLA for the riding, as Minister of Highways for Ontario.

May also saw the passing of a good friend of Chesterville and the Record when Mrs B. W. Campbell met her untimely death after a long illness.

Early in June the long awaited diversion and rebuilding of Highway No. 43 began to shape up west of the village. The new route finally bypassed the double railway crossings and travellers heaved thankful sighs.

One of the pleasantest chores of the summer was going over to Victoria street and chatting with Mr James Johnstone on his 100th birthday, July 4, and having that remarkable man pose for the Record camera.

The first of July saw the culmination of four years work on the St. Lawrence river. Ontario Hydro and New York Power had completed the massive power dam and all was ready to let in the rushing waters to fill the great new Lake St. Lawrence. Everything went as scheduled and even though some daily reporters saw queer animals swimming in the flood waters, hydro's assurances of everything being under control proved exactly right.

Mid July found the Tory blood in the riding flaming for battle at the expected by-election. They gathered together a big convention in Spencerville and chose Mrs Jean Casselman as standard bearer; the lady nudged out Wm. Gorrell of Morrisburg by three votes.

The Liberals took fire at about the same time and they cooked up a real potlatch, also at Spencerville. When the smoke had cleared, Mark Salmon, Prescott businessman, had the convention vote and Mrs Lillian Allison was runner-up.

A disastrous fire at Colquhoun destroyed the home of George Wright with all its contents and a flaming home was pictured in that issue of the Record.

September 29th found Grenville-Dundas sticking to its sturdy Conservative pattern. Mrs Jean Casselman whipped into the vacancy caused by her husband's death and dealt a resounding thump in the teeth to the unhappy Liberals.

In the Fall the big International Plowing Match brought nearly a hundred thousand people to Crysler. There also Prime Minister John Diefenbaker appeared on opening day as photos in the Record preserved.

The week of October 23rd had a sad note with the sudden death of Johnny Ball. He was killed by a bolt of lightning while working for the Park Commission near Morrisburg.

The year drew slowly to a close with another tragedy making the headlines. Mrs Gladys MacGillivray was burned to death in a tragic accident at Crysler. She was the postmistress there.

Fulton Bros. opened the new addition to their IGA Foodliner and became one of the finest and largest stores of its type in Eastern Ontario. And with Christmas gladness coming close, the community was saddened to learn of the passing of an esteemed citizen and merchant, George Gillard.

Soil and Crop Improvement Assoc. holds annual need for tile drainage outlined by guest speaker

Attendance at the annual meeting of the Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association held recently was increased by over 100% over previous years indicating a new and encouraging interest in this important organization. As was emphasized by the program of speakers, the organization is devoted to the better soils and crops which are the basis of a prosperous agriculture.

First speaker of the afternoon was Frank Parish, head of the division of agricultural engineering at Kemptville Agricultural School. Mr Parish presented facts and figures revealing the need for and the value of tile drainage. The cost of installation of the tile under average conditions can be repaid by extra yield in a period of five years, whereas a properly cared for tile system will last for 100 years. He urged township councils to pass the necessary by-laws enabling farmers to borrow money at a low interest rate for tile installation.

Another highlight of the program was the panel on pasture management chaired by Grenville agricultural representative C. C. Tennant. Panel members were Hugh Blaine, Mountain; Gerald Adams, Williamsburg, and George Suffel, Inkerman.

J. W. MacRae, Ontario Department of Agriculture fieldman, presented the results of the seed drill survey conducted last Spring. Of the seed samples removed directly from seed drills in Dundas County, it was revealed that only 39% were No. 1 grade and that 42% of the samples were in the rejected class. In some cases many thousands of weed seeds were being sowed with grain and forage seedings.

The following officers were elected for 1959:

Past president, Clarence Wallace, Iroquois; president, Harry Williams, Mountain; 1st vice-president, Douglas Durant, Chesterville; 2nd vice-president, Edwin McIntosh, Williamsburg; 3rd vice-president, Douglas Irvine, Brinston; district director, George Suffel, Inkerman; secretary-treasurer, E. K. Pearson, Morrisburg; auditor, Harold McMenomy, Inkerman.

Williamsburg Township: Edwin McIntosh, Gerald Adams, Bernard Brunt, all of Williamsburg; Mason Robinson, Chesterville.

Winchester Township: Angus Smith, Eric Casselman and Graham Durant, Chesterville; Edwin Forward, Winchester.

Matilda Township: Rae Seeley and Gordon Cooper, Iroquois; Doug Irvine, Brinston; Pat McGinn, Dixon's Corners.

Mountain Township: Gordon Simzer, Hubert Riddell and Hugh Blaine, Mountain; Malcolm Graham, South Mountain.

SPEARMAN FAWCETT

Spearman Fawcett passed away Tuesday, December 23, at his home, Maple Ridge, in his 74th year.

He was born in Winchester Township on May 5, 1885, the son of the late James Fawcett and his wife, Emma Weegar. He married the former Maggie Hess in 1909.

A private funeral service was held at the residence on Friday, December 26, with Rev E. B. Bugden officiating. Rev Joseph N. Patterson, nephew of the deceased, and Mrs Patterson sang "In Heaven." There were many beautiful floral tributes.

He leaves to mourn besides his wife one son, Cpl. Edwin Fawcett, stationed at RCAF Station, Debert, N.S.; four sisters, Mrs Army Patterson (Myrtle), Brockville; Mrs Irvin Blackwell (Florence), Smiths Falls; Mrs Min Ritchie, Ottawa, and Mrs Andrew Prevett (Nellie), Winchester; one brother, Fred Fawcett, Chesterville.

Mrs Betty Dowling dead former Chesterville resident

The community was saddened Monday to hear of the sudden passing on Saturday of a young woman, Mrs Donald Dowling, the former Betty Bolster. Mrs Dowling lived in Ottawa but was born and educated in the village. Her death came as a great shock to a multitude of friends here and in the city.

Mrs Dowling was the daughter of the late A. E. "Fred" Bolster and Mrs Bolster. She was born here in Chesterville in 1915, and educated here and in Ottawa Normal School. She taught public school here and in Ottawa for several years and at the time of her death was teaching in the city.

In 1951 Betty Bolster became Mrs Donald Dowling, her husband being a native of Ottawa. He was a member of the permanent RCAF and at one time they were stationed at Mimico in Toronto area. There Mrs Dowling's mother, Mrs Bolster, who resided with her, became ill and her health demanded she be cared for at a convalescent home at Newmarket where she still remains.

The young couple returned to Ottawa on a new posting a couple of years ago. They decided to buy their own home and Mrs Dowling started to teach again.

Details are scarce of the final illness, but it is understood death came with almost no warning, other than a slight indisposition last Saturday afternoon. It is presumed a heart attack was the cause of death.

Surviving besides her husband and mother are one older brother, Lancelot, of Brockville, and a nephew, Robert, Chesterville.

Funeral services were held at a funeral home chapel in Ottawa Wednesday of this week. Interment took place in Pinecrest Cemetery, Ottawa.

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

New Year, 1959

It would be simple to end the past year and begin another with a plain "Happy New Year."

It would be simple if one only had to turn away from the events and happenings of the past year, and have them dismissed out of mind.

It would be simple if the fact the world was round also made it lovingly united.

It would be simple if Heaven was earth and we all were little angels.

There does not seem to be much that is simple and easy to understand any more. The past year has muddled the human race more and taught it more than any other year since the leaves fell in Eden.

The Russians, making the most of their colossal ignorance and backwardness, flipped the rocket into space and turned the world into a race of skywatchers. The mighty brains at Cape Canaveral generated a sky traveller with a tape recorder in its guts; it receives and transmits on signal. The Christmas message of President Eisenhower, therefore, came from the highest transmitter this side of the moon.

Technical progress has steamed ahead so fast in Canada we have outrun the skills of a few thousand aircraft workers on the Arrow program. The Arrow is an airplane but must be operated by a man's brain; men's brains are not needed now to guide h-bombs and a computer-directed rocket takes over the brain work and unemployment appears.

Little wars have threatened in the past year. Big bombs have cooled the threats. Democratic countries have watched in frustration as communist ideologies continued their remorseless sweep through Asia and the East.

Unions have made a wad of news in 1958. Probably Jimmy Hoffa and his Teamsters have had the lion's share of editorializing, what with their patent gangster methods. Canada also had a bellyful of outside unionism during the rail strike. The directions that emanated from Cleveland did very little for the firemen and certainly left Jack Canuck with a glint in his eye.

Chesterville and district had a good year, although it is doubtful we will find many takers for that sentiment among the farm population.

The weather has been a fickle mistress all season but the final result was plain. Nearly every barn was bulging with hay and grain and cattle were fat and sleek when it came time to stable them.

Dundas county was the first in the province to get a brucellosis-free listing for export sale of cattle and Eastern Ontario this year was host to the great International Plowing Match at Crysler.

Chesterville village watched another addition go up on the Nestlé plant to process further the cocoa product, Quik. This year also saw the end of the fixed assessment to the big plant; next year its total tax worth enters the municipal books as a considerable boost.

All in all, it has been a good year.

"A Very Happy New Year To All!"

She's a gemologist

Lena Willis handles rare gems, thousands of pounds of them, in an ordinary working day. She spends it fitting tiaras on royalty and hanging diamond pendants on ambassadors' wives.

Miss Willis is director of an exclusive jewellery shop in London, England, and one of the few women to possess a diploma in gemology. She copes with insurance valuation and probate on the stones and tests their authenticity.

"Synthetic stones are so well made nowadays," says Miss Willis, "it becomes increasingly difficult to detect the true from the false. We have to use special instruments for the job."

Miss Willis is the first woman to become director of Hancock Jewellery Company, which in its century of existence has served every crowned head of Europe and still draws much of its clientele from royal ranks and from aristocracy.

The first and only jewellers to make the Victoria Cross since its inception in 1856, the firm specializes in Edwardian and Victorian jewellery and in antique silver.

Occasionally Miss Willis travels long distances to discuss transactions of silver plate which has been handed down through the ages.

"It seems very sad when these historic families have to part with things their forbears used."

At 46 Miss Willis has grey hair, blue eyes and a gentle manner. She first became interested in precious stones in her teens, when she worked as a secretary in a jewellery store.

"My mind kept wandering to the merchandise and when I was offered a chance to learn the artistic side, I was happy to do so."

She recalls the gold rush of 1931 as one of the highlights of her career.

"It was the busiest time of my life. In response to the exchequer's appeal to people to sell their gold to replenish the government's reserves, they actually queued up with hoards of it outside the shop. I spent weeks testing and pricing it."

Miss Willis, who has held her present job since 1945, became a director in 1950. Apart from artistic ability and judgment, a good knowledge of mathematics is necessary, too, she says.

"I have my eyes tested regularly. Accuracy of vision and unbiased judgment are "musts" in this profession, as it is possible for a one-carat diamond to vary by £180 with only eye judgment and maybe an ordinary magnifying lens to support one's knowledge."

Finch C.G.I.T. groups hold vesper service

A joint vesper service was held in Chalmer's United Church, Finch, Sunday evening when the C.G.I.T. groups from St. Luke's Presbyterian Church and Chalmer's United Church participated in the annual Christmas vesper service.

The service was conducted by Miss Ruby Cameron. Anthems sung by the C.G.I.T. choir included the Huron carol, "Lo, How a Rose" and "Christians Awake." Marlene MacLean was organist.

The four-part scripture lesson of the birth of Christ, the visit of the Wise Men, the flight into Egypt and the boyhood visit to the temple was taken by Lois Hutt, Brenda McDermid, Audrey Casselman and Norma MacLean.

Heather Simmons told the story of the shepherd who did not go to Bethlehem to see an infant Christ after the visit of the angels to the shepherds because he had to stay to look after the sheep entrusted to his care. The boy, injured in protecting his charges from wild animals, recovers to find he has been given shelter in the same stable that houses the Christ Child and is permitted to hold the baby in his arms.

The candle lighting service was conducted by Miss Ann Henry, assisted by Gail Hanna and Freda MacLean.

The offering was received by Sharon Montgomery and Sharon Rutley.

The white gifts were received by Joan Casselman, Sharlene Henderson, Sandra Price and Linda MacLeod and dedicated by Ruby Cameron.

The service concluded with the recessional hymn "Silent Night" and the benediction was pronounced by Rev James Hamilton.

The C.G.I.T. groups are under the leadership of Mrs Tom Rutley, of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, and Mrs James Hamilton and Mrs Floyd Dingwall, of the United Church.

SMART CHILD

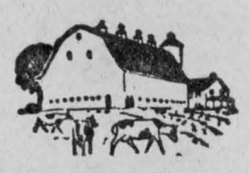
Ateam making a survey in Jefferson County, Colo., was surprised to turn up a child who earned more than $10,000 a year.

A recheck produced the facts: The "child" is a 43-year-old bachelor who works as a federal government engineer and lives with his parents, both in their 70s.

The father had filled in the questionnaire. He listed his son under the "children" heading and mentioned his income, but not his age.

Many Canadian farmers draw substantial revenues annually from their woodlots.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS



By Lillian Allison

This year I'm trying to figure out the best way to spend the Christmas holiday season. I'd like to invite all my friends, go visiting, watch the good TV programs, read, write thank-you notes, sleep and do absolutely no work. So far I haven't managed the part about doing no work and I seem to be having trouble too cramming the other items into the few days known as the Christmas holiday. But I'm trying.

Last week I saw two particularly enjoyable TV shows. Now I suppose there are people who would say that anyone who could sit through three hours of ballet in two days must be slightly cracked. And I could be for I sat through the same ballet twice in two days.

On the Tuesday night previous to Christmas the National Ballet Co. of Winnipeg performed "The Nutcracker." I knew the story and much of the music was familiar so I was anxious to see how it was done. The show was delightful. The parts of the little boy and girl were danced by grownups dressed like children. The dancing dolls were adults too. Even the mice were full-grown people. We were left to figure out the story ourselves as they danced it which wasn't too difficult.

The ballet provided ninety minutes of pure enjoyment. It is difficult to believe that the human body can be trained to do the things that a ballet dancer does with such ease and perfection. I loved every minute of it.

"I wonder what the script for a ballet looks like?" I said as someone was interviewing the choreographer. "Are there written directions for every secene and every movement? Would 'The Nutcracker' be the same regardless of who was directing it?" All I could do was to wonder.

Later that evening we were invited to watch "The Nutcracker" on Channel 7 as performed by a New York ballet group on Christmas night. This would be an opportunity to find out if a ballet was always the same. That is I could find out if our Christmas guests went home in time. They did. At 9.30 I was in front of the screen to watch "The Nutcracker" for the second time.

A lady with a big book began to tell us the story. Then Clara, the little girl in the ballet, appeared. She was really a little girl. There were dozens of children. Naturally they couldn't dance as well as the grownups so there was more pantomoming.

A crazy-looking owl on a grandfather clock flapped its wings and rolled its eyes. An old gentlefan did magic tricks. In some places it seemed more like a Hallowe'en show than a Christmas ballet.

The New York production was good, of course. The ninety minutes seemed very short. But their "Nutcracker" didn't reach the high, artistic plane that our Canadian production had done. If there'd been a Canadian flag I'd have probably been waving it throughout the show to prove that our ballet was better.

I did find out what I wanted to know. There seems to be no cut-and-dried way of presenting a ballet. The only thing that was the same in the two presentations was the music and good, old Tchaikovsky would turn in his grave if they changed that.

I've found time for a little reading during the season too. One item in a current Canadian magazine was very thought-provoking. It is called "Are Our Sunday Schools Failing Our Children?" The author, an Anglican minister, is quite sure they are. It is an article everyone interested in church or Sunday School work should read. In fact, it could be discussed at a teachers' meeting. "Going Steady" is another current article that all parents of teenagers could read with profit.

On Christmas eve I went along with more than twenty CGIT girls and their leaders to sing carols at Winchester Hospital. A made-to-order Christmas eve couldn't have been more perfect. The frosty air, the crunchy snow, the clear starlit sky and the full moon were ideal. Then to add to the scenery was the twinkle of myriads of coloured lights all along the way. It was good to sing to those who had to spend Christmas in hospital. I hope we brought them a little happiness.

Yes, the holiday season has been a very pleasant one. I've managed to have some of our friends visit us and I'm trying to crowd in some more. We are looking forward to some visiting too. In fact if I don't end this column right now we shall be late for our first supper.

I hope you have had a very happy holiday and that 1959 will bring you the best of everything.

Plan 12-month survey of farm accidents

The Ontario Department of Agriculture, appalled by the yearly loss of life, property damage and man hours due to farm accidents, has decided to conduct a 12-month survey of farm accidents, starting March 1, 1959, and ending February 28, 1960. This decision was made after several organizations, including the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, had made presentations to the department.

It is hoped that, through publicity given the campaign by newspapers, radio and TV, farmers, their families and helpers will become accident prevention conscious.

At a meeting of directors of the County Federation of Agriculture held recently on request of E. K. Pearson, Dundas County agricultural representative, it was decided that the Federation, assisted by other farm organizations, would conduct the survey.

The following committee was elected to meet with the Federation executive as soon as possible in January to plan the survey: County chairman, Harold McMenomy; Winchester township chairman, Angus Smith; Mountain, Byron Martin; Matilda, Allan Farlinger; Williamsburg, Edwin McIntosh; secretary, E. K. Pearson.

The committee will be responsible for obtaining canvassers to cover the county to report every farm accident which results in a loss of two man hours at least or $25 property damage.

Mr Pearson will contact the Women's Institutes of the county to ask their assistance and, if the members of this organization agree to help, the canvass will be a real success.

Enjoy Sunday School supper and party at Finch

The annual Sunday School Christmas party of Chalmer's United Church, Finch, was well attended by children and parents. The party was preceded by a pot luck supper.

After the supper, a program was held, with William Johnstone, superintendent, acting as chairman. The program was as follows:

Recitations, Kenneth Hutt, Donald Simmons, Betty Ann Smith, Marjorie Winters, Garry Hough, Beverley Tracey, Gail Simmons, Doris MacLean and Hughie Price; electric guitar selection, Douglas Graham; accordian and electric guitar duet, Elaine Graham and Douglas Graham; violin and accordian duet, Gloria and Elaine Graham; song, Marjorie and Carol Winters and Donna Hehir; song, primary class; solo, Heather Simmons; recitation, Billie MacLean; dialogue, Mrs Simmons' class; song, Lois and Geneva MacLean; acrostic of Christmas, Mrs Casselman's class; flannelgraph, depicting the birth and childhood of Jesus in 12 scenes, by Rev James Hamilton and Mrs Hamilton.

After the program, Santa Claus arrived to the delight of the children, and distributed gifts from the gayly decorated Christmas tree.

Plan wild goose management area for Memorial Park

The Ontario-St. Lawrence Development Commission recognizes the special opportunity existing in the large area of farm land immediately east of Crysler Memorial Park to set up a goose management area. The requirements of such an area are waters sufficiently large to afford protection, which is now available in the seaway lake, as well as a protected shore area and fields on which geese can feed.

The immediate shore area could be used to feed grain to a decoy flock and the fields in the background could provide crops in which geese will feed, especially high protein legumes, buckwheat and grain.

Once free-flying geese are established in the area, it would be hoped that wild birds would be attracted and a management area such as this might afford scope for a flock of many thousands of geese during the migration season. Once the area is set up, it will be possible to stimulate this development by young geese captured in the refuges of the United States during the spring. These birds could be wing clipped and released and fed in the management area and as their feathers grow in they would become free-flying and in autumn would join wild flocks.

It is expected that they would return in the second season, bringing with them additional geese which would build up into a substantial show. For such a management area, up to 1,000 acres, largely open fields with a water frontage, would be necessary. The area east of Crysler Memorial Park seems to give promise for such a development and if this development should conflict with other planned uses, it is hoped that a conference with the agencies involved would result in a suitable compromise.

There seems no doubt that both water fowl hunting as well as a public show place for water fowl could be provided on the lands under the control of the Parks Commission.

The Commission recently acquired ten young Canada geese which will be wintered in Crysler Memorial Park. The number will be increased in the spring of 1959 and will form the nucleus of what could be, in years to come, Eastern Ontario's largest public show place for water fowl.

The use of firearms in provincial parks is prohibited.

The Ontario-St. Lawrence Development Commission, in co-operation with the Division of Fish and Wild Life of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, have formulated plans for extensive development and propagation of not only game birds but also fish life in the St. Lawrence Parks area and the inauguration of a Canada Goose Sanctuary and securing of these Canada geese is the first step in definite progressive planning.

OBSERVANT

Advertising executive Earl Littman, of Houston, Tex., pondered the ways of women and those of his wife in particular.

Littman had a wedding anniversary coming up. An office huddle produced what appeared to be a brilliant idea.

Littman posted a billboard at an intersection near his home where Mrs Littman just couldn't miss it. "Happy tenth to Natalie from Earl," it read in huge letters.

Then he steered her out of the house and down the road and waited . . . and waited.

She never saw it.

EASY TO MAKE AND EASY TO DIGEST

I AM THINKING OF CUSTARDS, of course. Perhaps you have someone in your family on a diet of easily digested foods. In that case you will be making alotof custards, so here are a few variations:

Soft Custard

Pour this over sliced bananas or fruit whip or use it to make a trifle.

2 cups milk
4 egg yolks
4 tbsps. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. vanilla

Heat milk in double boiler. Mix eggs, sugar and salt; add hot milk slowly. If you add the hot milk too quickly you may cook the eggs in lumps. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick enough to coat a silver spoon. Cool and add flavaur.

If the water in the bottom part of the double boiler is boiling too vigorously the custard may curdle or if it is cooked too long it may curdle. Also use very fresh milk to prevent curdling. However, if your custard does curdle cool quickly by placing dish in pan of cold water and beat briskly with a rotary beater.

Floating Island

Make soft custard; pour into serving dish. Top with meringue dropped by spoonsful onto the custard.

To make the meringue beat the white of one egg until stiff; add 1½ tbsps. sugar gradually. Flavour with a few drops of vanilla. Chill well before serving.

Orange Cream Custard

2 egg yolks
1-3 cup sugar
3 tbsps. cornstarch
1 tsp. grated orange peel
⅛ tsp. salt
1 cup orange juice
1 cup milk

Mix all together thoroughly. Cook in double boiler, stirring frequently until it coats a silver spoon. Chill. Pour over 1½ cups orange sections. If desired, cover with uncooked meringue.

Rice Custard Pudding

½ cup rice
2 eggs
½ cup white sugar
2 cups milk
Salt
⅛ tsp. nutmeg
½ cup raisins

Cook rice in double boiler with 1 cup water and ¼ tsp. salt. Rice should be washed thoroughly before cooking and rinsed in cold water after cooking to remove excess starch. If you use instant rice follow directions on the package.

Mix eggs, sugar, salt, milk and nutmeg. Mix raisins with rice. Mix three-quarters of custard mixture with rice and put in greased baking dish. Pour rest of mixture on top. Set dish in pan of hot water and bake in 350 degree oven till firm.

Burnt Sugar Custard

Make a soft custard. Pour into individual custard cups. Chill thoroughly. Set custard cups in a pan and surround with ice cubes. Sprinkle brown sugar on custards. Place under broiler for about three minutes or until sugar is brown and bubbly.

The purpose of the ice is to prevent the custard from curdling by keeping it cool while the top browns.

Candlelight service sponsored by 3 M's Group

A candlelight carol service, sponsored by the 3 M's Group, Chalmer's United Church, Finch, was held in the church Sunday evening. The church was decorated with candles, two Christmas trees and a star in the choir loft.

The service opened with the processional hymn, the members carrying candles. The anthem by the choir was entitled "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day." Passages of Scripture were read by Mrs Harold Smith, Mrs Lynden Hough and Myles Nephew.

An accordian and violin duet, "Silent Night," was played by Rev James Hamilton and Mrs Hamilton; solo, "O Holy Night," by Miss Eileen Runions. The quartette, Miss Eileen Runions, Mrs Lynden Hough, Rev James Hamilton and Milton Millross, sang "From the Eastern Mountain."

The meditation was delivered by Rev James Hamilton. Several Christmas carols were sung during the service, which closed with the recessional hymn, "Silent Night, Holy Night." Mrs Dolton Henry was organist.

SERVAGE — In loving memory of Bertha Carr Servage, so suddenly called away, December 24, 1957.

Sunset and evening star
And one clear call for her
And may there be
No moaning of the bar
When she put out to sea.
For though from out
Her borne of time and place
The flood may bear her far
I hope she saw her Pilot face to face
When she had crossed the bar.

Mr, Mrs C. E. Holmes 50 years married

Honoured by relatives and friends, Mr and Mrs Clarence E. Holmes, of Winchester, quietly marked their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday last.

Prior to the anniversary, a family dinner was held in the Chester Room of Hotel Winchester, attended by their 10 children, their wives and husbands. The gift of an electric blanket was made to the couple and a bouquet of cut flowers to Mrs Holmes.

Among the many messages of congratulations received were a letter from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, a scroll from the Province of Ontario signed by the Hon. George H. Dunbar, provincial secretary, and personal letters of congratulations from Hon. Fred M. Cass, Minister of Highways, and from Mrs Jean Casselman, MP for Grenville-Dundas.

Mr and Mrs Holmes were married at the home of the bride, near Chesterville, by the late Rev A. E. Reynolds, and the only other attendant at the wedding, her bridesmaid, who is still living with her sister, Mrs John Darling, of Chesterville. She was the former Hannah May Merkley, daughter of the late Philip Merkley and his wife, Agnes Clancy.

Mr Holmes is the son of the late Thomas W. Holmes and his wife, Adelia Howes. They are 70 and 72 years of age, respectively.

After their marriage they farmed for 10 years on a rented farm in the Summers community, and then purchased their present farm where they still live. The farm is one of the best in the community and good pure bred stock is raised and sold.

They are both members of Winchester Wesleyan Methodist Church. Mr Holmes is an active leader in the work of his congregation and a member of the official board. Mrs Holmes has always taken an active part in the work of the W.M.S.

Their four daughters, Mrs Lorne Bell (Lulu), Mrs Eric Rawson (Mary), Cornwall; Mrs Keith Fawcett (Marguerite), and Mrs Ronald Timmins (Murla), both of Inkerman, and the six sons, Thomas, Gerald, Lloyd, Woodrow, Keith and Murray, were at the dinner.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD

The annual meeting of St. Mary's Separate School board was held in the school on December 26. A fair number of ratepayers was present.

The secretary-treasurer, Eric MacMillan, gave the financial report for 1958. After hearing various reports, there was much discussion as to finding ways and means of enlarging the school as the present building is too small for the increasing enrollment.

Members of the board retiring this year were Ed Brady and Paul Monast.

The board elected for 1959 is as follows: Rev Father J. J. Collins, Melvin Baker, Richard Casselman, Francis Lynch, Francis Moriarty and Fred McMahon.

At the close of the meeting a special vote of thanks was given to Ed Brady for his untiring efforts and interest shown as board chairman.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank, most sincerely, my many friends for their kind thoughtfulness to me during my recent illness. Their messages, flowers, cards and visits were so welcome and brightened the days for me while in hospital. Also thanks to Dr Barton and the nursing staff of Memorial Hospital, Rev Mr Fry, the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the ladies of Canadian Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs Frank Merkley.
