Mrs. Peter Marcellus Dies Suddenly

The death was announced last week from Russell of Mrs. Peter Marcellus, whereon Tuesday while shopping in the C. F. McArthur store she was stricken with apoplexy. Medical aid was quickly summoned and everything possible done until three o'clock Wednesday morning when she passed away. The deceased lady was a sister of Mr. Roland Shaver of town and was fifty-five years of age.

Coming for Two Nights

Coming to the Music Hall for two nights commencing Mon. Apl., 26th, Mr. Lindsay E. Perrin presents Miss Arlie Marks and her associated players in two of the most recent New York successes. The opening play "The Brat" made a wonderful success in New York City, having an unprecedent run at the Fulton Theatre. It is the story of a chorus girl, brought into a New York night court, rescued from a prison sentence, made good and all ends happily. Special Scenery and Vaudeville different from the usual specialties will be featured with the Arlie Marks players.

Mrs. (Dr.) Lloyd in Mishap at Kingston

Mrs. Lloyd who with her little son has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morton at the Maples the old Sir Richard Cartright homestead, about a mile and a half from Kingston, received a bad shaking-up and many bruises and cuts as the result of being thrown from a democrat wagon when it was run into by an automobile on Friday last. In the evening when proceeding towards Kingston with five people in the rig an automobile without lights crashed into it head-on while going at a good clip. All the occupants of the rig were thrown out and sustained more or less injury. Mrs. Lloyd was taken to an hospital but has recovered sufficiently to leave. The little boy was badly shaken up and has not yet regained his usual vigor.

Mrs. W. N. Fulton Receives

Mrs. Wesley N. Fulton, formerly Miss Bessie H. Durant received on Thursday last, at her home on Albert St., for the first time since her marriage. The door was attended by little Miss Jean Fulton where the guests were graciously received by Mrs. A. E. Bolster Mrs. Fulton, wearing her wedding gown of beaded georgette crepe with corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas, was assisted in receiving, by her mother Mrs. Merrick Durant of Winchester and Mrs. E. Josephine Soule. The color scheme in the dining room was carried out in green and gold. The tea table was most artistically arranged, in the centre of which was a crystal basket containing golden daffodils; while on either side were crystal candlesticks, supporting amber hued candles. Mrs. Francis Shirkey and Mrs. Charles T. Fulton poured tea and Mrs. J. Howard Fulton cut the ices, while Miss Jean Casselman and Miss Annie Foster gracefully assisted in serving. Music was provided by Miss Neita Thurston.

Disagree on Price of Milk

A largely attended meeting of the Chesterville Live Stock Association and patrons of the Maple Leaf Condensed Milk Co. was held in the town hall Saturday afternoon, at which were representatives of the Condensery, in an endeavor to come to an arrangement of the price for milk for the summer months. There appears to be unusual conditions in the milk producing business at the present time, as there is in the manufacturing end of the business, where the disturbing influence of the high exchange rate and the great advance in the price of sugar has caused a considerable increase in the cost of manufacture. In the cities, Montreal, particularly, more milk is being received than the normal consumption calls for, and the dealers are only agreeing to accept the same volume of milk as they accepted in February. This may mean that when any shipper has reached that limit he would require to find another market for his surplus. It is stated that in Montreal this surplus will be accepted, separated and butter made from the cream and paid for as the market warrants.

For some time the price to Condensery patrons has been set by the Montreal price. With the reduction in price in Montreal the producers here were not satisfied to make a further agreement on that basis and asked a defferential of fifty cents over the prices paid at cheese factories. The Condensery offered a defferential of thirty-five cents, but this was not accepted by the Live Stock Association which had the matter in hand and a compromise was not effected. In the meantime the Condensery is dealing with its patrons individually on the basis of a forty cent defferential over the average price paid by any three cheese factories.

Mr. Edwin Kennedy, of Chesterville, came home to spend Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Kennedy.—Cornwall Standard.

The many friends of Harry McGillivary, of Aultsville, will be sorry to hear that he was seized with a severe attaek of appendicitis while on a visit at his grandfather's in Mountain. His uncle, Mr. Willie Barkley, accompanied him to Cornwall, where he has undergone an operation at the General Hospital, and at time of writing is doing nicely. His mother, who was with him after the operation has returned home to Aultsville.

White—Marcellus

A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon April 7, at the Methodist Parsonage, Cornwall, when Margaret eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Marcellus was united in marriage to Mr. James White, the Rev. Mr. Cousins officiating. The bride, unattended, was attired in a pretty dress of Holland blue pailette silk, with hat to match. Following the ceremony the bridal couple drove to the home of the bride, where a dainty repast was partaken of. Only the intimate friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. White left later for St. Catharines and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a suit of navy blue serge and georgette blouse. Mr. and Mrs. White will reside on Third St. West.

Could only Stand so Much

In a crowded omnibus a stout woman vainly endeavored to get her fare out of the pocket of her cloak, which was tightly buttoned as a precaution against pickpockets.

After she had been working in vain for some minutes, a gentleman standing next to her said, "Please allow me to pay your fare".

The lady declined with some acerbity, and recommenced her attacks on the pocket.

After these had continued for some little time her fellow-passenger said, "You really must let me pay your fare; you have already undone my braces three times, and I cannot stand it any longer.

"So you think you are becoming near-sighted, do you?" said the optician".

"Yes, I do" replied the tired business man.

"What makes you think so?"

"Because I can't see a dollar go near as far as I used to".

Strongly Condemn Modes of Dress

The following resolution was passed at the annual meeting of the Ontario Provincial Society of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, in Hamilton.

"We, the members of the Ontario Provincial Society of the Presbyterian W.M.S. express our strong disapproval of the senseless, indecent and immodest modes of dress adopted by so many of our women, even among members of our churches and even in the house of God.

"We deplore the lack of modesty displayed in a most glaring way on the streets, and especially at evening entertainments, because of its pernicious effects believing that it lowers the standard of our womanhood, disgraces our sex, leads to gross immorality, and is a most serious menace to the health especially of our young girls.

We deplore the teaching of young children fancy dances in immodest dress, practically ballot dancing, on the plea of making them graceful, bringing them to the public stage, on behalf of charitable objects, and thus destroying all the sweet innocence of childhood.

We also view with serious apprehension the alarmingly rapid growth of cigarette smoking among the women of our country, particularly in fashionable circles, and would urge upon all our Christian women, especially the mothers to use all their power and influence to combat this great evil threatening the morale life of our country and set before their young people the fatal consequences of all these practices, and above all the great sin of bringing dishonor upon the name of Our Saviour Jesus Christ, who gave His life a sacrifice for us.

We would also urge a better and more strict censorship of moving pictures recognizing their great value for education and recreation when properly conducted but also their highly demoralizing effect when of an immoral character.

Flat Power Rates

The demand for uniform power and light rates throughout the Hydro system strikes at the very root principle on which the whole edifice has been erected—that of supplying these commodities at cost. A flat rate at each of the generating stations, based on the cost of development, is right enough. But once the point of generation is left, the distance the current has to be transmitted, the amount used, and the local conditions enter into the calculation, and naturally cause wide differences in costs. Yet if these factors are to be ignored, there is nothing to prevent demands for extensions which would cost ten times as much capital outlay as the revenue to be derived would justify. All business basis would then be gone, and additions to the system would be merely a matter of pull Under these conditions it would not be long until the Hydro would be involved in financial chaos, if not in bankruptcy.—Orillia Packet.

Put it on Backwards

(London Tit-Bits)

A prosperous farmer has gained the reputation of being the stingiest man in his town, and consequently is not a general favorite with his neighbors.

He owns an old horse which, to put it midly, is very thin. As if to make up for the lack of flesh on its body, however, the animal has a head many sizes too large. The other week he went to the expense of a new collar for the animal. A few minutes after the delivery he was back at the saddler's with the collar.

"Don't you know nothin'?" he blurted out. "You've made it to small! I can't get it over his head!"

"Over his head!" replied the saddler. "Man alive, it wasn't made to go over his head. Back him into it!"

He Read Too Far

——Good, absent minded, old Dr. Wilder was greatly dependent upon his practical wife. One morning Mrs. Wilder sent up an announcement after he had entered the pulpit with a footnote intended to be private.

"The Women's Missionary Society," he read aloud, "will meet Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock sharp. Your necktie is crooked; please straighten toward the right."

Mrs. W. J. Allison, Chesterville

On Tuesday, April 6th, 1920, after a lengthy illness Mrs. W. J. Allison was called to higher service. The funeral conducted by Rev. J. B. Hicks, B.A., was held Thursday at 1.30 at her late residence, King street, where the large attendance of sorrowing friends and the numerous floral tributes indicated the high esteem in which deceased was held. Mrs. Allison, a daughter of John Helmer of Maple Ridge, sprang from United Empire Loyalists and by her manifest piety, her widely dispensed cheeriness and constant endeavor, exhibited her forefathers' traits of character to a marked degree. With her devoted husband William John Allison, who predeceased her some seventeen years, a fine homestead was slowly but surely won from the primeval forest on Maple Ridge. There a splendid monument was reared in the careful and prayerful training given the children which blessed their union. Of their twelve children eight survive—Alexander of Russell, Ethel, wife of Grant Gray; Bertha, wife of S. R. Fulton; David of Sanders, Soule and Casselman Co., Edith at home, John W. on the homestead, Ella, wife of Enos Merkley, and Ruby, wife of Bert Fulton. Mrs. Allison is also survived by one brother Josiah Helmer of Maple Ridge.

"And the spirit shall return unto God who gave it".

For the Brightening of Chesterville

Have you any ihtentions of carrying out any pre-arranged plan for the brightening of that portion of the streets of Chesterville along your property? By individual effort when the spring clean-up and planting time comes a change could be wrought in the appearance of our streets that would make every citizen proud of them and give pleasure to strangers who pass along them. It does not require a great deal of effort to effect a decided improvement in appearance, the will to do is the great necessity. Weeds and disfiguring accumulations can be removed from in front of your premises, which in itself will make the surroundings more attractive. Every growing flower means a banished weed, and if we had a growing flower for every weed along our streets can you picture to yourself what the result would be? For growing flowers may be substituted a well kept piece of grass or the planting of a shrub with just as pleasing results.

What different places along our streets would you like the Horticultural Society to take in hand? We would like to know if you have given such a matter any thought at all and would be pleased if you would express your ideas in a short communication to The Record on the subject.

If we receive three or four such expressions of ideas we would like to publish them. The writer's names will not be published unless it is desired by the writer, but all communications must be signed by the writer.

Farm Help

Information has been received by the Salvation Army Immigration Department Montreal, that a number of married men, who desire to secure positions on farms, will arrive in Canada from Great Britain with the opening of the St. Lawrence river to navigation this season. These people are of a splendid type, men who have served their country during the great war, and who are now coming to Canada to find a home on the land, with a view of learning Canadian methods and eventually securing farms for themselves and their children. Farmers who desire married help and have accommodation for a man with family should communicate with the Salvation Army at Montreal with a view of securing this very desirable class of help. We also understand that there will be a few single men in the party. During the month of June or July the Salvation Army will probably bring a number of Orphan children of school age to Ontario for adoption.

The many friends of Mr. David Dunbar, of Newington, Warden of the United Counties, will regret to hear that he went to Montreal, last week to undergo an operation. Mr. Dunbar has not been enjoying the best of health of late, and it is the earnest wish of all that he will return home fully recovered.

Dodge Bros.' Motor Cars

Touring and Roadster $2050 F.O.B. Brockville

As long as they build motor cars they will be the best motor cars Dodge Brothers can build.

As long as the name is attached to their motor car, Dodge Brothers may be depended upon to safeguard and protect it.

The name has come to suggest integrity—integrity in the car, and integrity in manufacturing and business methods of the men who buiid it.

The first thought that follows, wherever it is seen, is the thought of a car that is reliable.

They call up a picture of a particular kind of a motor car.

Or, to be exact, a particular kind of motor car workmanship, which people have come to associate with the name Dodge Brothers.

It has grown because the users of these cars have given Dodge Brothers a good name as careful conscientious manufacturers.

The result is that wherever these two words—Dodge Brothers—are seen, they stand as a symbol of exceptional motor car value.

47 Majority for Premier Drury on First Division

The first division in the Farmer-Labor legislature occurred last night when the Government had a Majority of 47 votes. The division came in connection with the bill fathered by Hon. W. R. Rollo to reduce property qualifications for municipal office, and was on an amendment moved by Charles McCrea, of Sudbury, to give the bill a six months' hoist. The "Yeas" were 23 in number, and the "Nays" 70. L. W. Oke, U. F. O. member for East Lambton, was the only Government supporter who voted in favor of the amendment and against the bill. John Joynt, North Huron, was the only Conservative to oppose the amendment. Five Liberals, J. A. Calder, of North Oxford, J. M. Govenlock, of Centre Huron, R. R. Hall, of Parry Sound, F. Rennie, of South Bruce, and W. J. Bragg, of West Durham, voted for the amendment.

On a second division, on the bill itself, the Government gained the vote of Brigadier-General Hogarth, Conservative, of Port Arthur. All other members voted as before, giving the Government a majority of 49.

In the preceeding debate Hon. G. H. Ferguson sounded a note of caution.

"This measure strikes seriously at the root of the municipal foundation," he declared. "It is a matter on which the Government might well go slow. Why should the bill not stand over until next year? Is there any one who particularly wants to be a mayor or a reeve next year?"

"The Government are not very clear in their own minds as to what they want to do", was the opinion of Hon. G. S. Henry.

L. W. Oke, farmer member for East Lambton, opposed the bill, which, he declared, would discourage thrift. "The man who does not pay taxes should not want a voice in the disposal of the taxes", he argued.

Hon. Thomas Crawford made a reference to "gentlemen who live by their chin-music, and are too lazy to work for a living". He warned the House against the encroachments of "extreme socialism".

Will Protect Sheep

Some rather drastic action must be taken against the increasing destruction of sheep by prowling dogs, according to discussion at the agricultural committee of the Ontario legislature on Tuesday. The revenue from dog taxes in most townships, according to members, is away below the value of the sheep killed. Last year more sheep were killed than in any previous year.

J. M. McLeod, of Stormont, introduced the question to the committee. In this township the value of sheep killed was $2,200, while the dog tax revenue was $954. To get the benefit of the dog taxes to the townships in which the sheep are killed, Hon. Manning Doherty suggested that the law be changed permit dog tax money to be paid into the county treasury and the damages for sheep killed be paid out of that. The idea was favourably received and Mr. Doherty promised to bring an amendment before the committee at a later meeting.

Some strange incidents came to light. One member told of a farmer having sheep killed by his own dog and yet collected damages. It was suggested that all dogs be tagged. Hon. Geo. Henry thought this should be left optional with municipalities.

Good Roads are Money-Makers

(From the Montreal Star.)

Money expended in bettering the roads of the province is money well expended. The enormous value of improved roadways is recognized by countries everywhere.

According to Honorable Walter Mitchell, Provincial Treasurer, twenty-two million dollars have been spent by the Legislature since 1905, in improving old roads and opening up new ones. A most generous amount also has been set aside for work during the current year.

As a result of this better roads movement the values of farms, which the good roads skirt, have been enormously increased in value, "While", declared Mr. Mitchell, "the excellent roads resulted in tourists last summer leaving five million dollars in this province".

It is estimated that during the past ten years over two thousand, five hundred miles of highways in Quebec have been macadamized or gravelled. The policy was pursued by the Legislature of aiding municipalities financially to acquire model roads. Some six hundred municipalities took up the offer of assistance.

As there are eleven hundred rural bodies in this province, it is evident that considerable work has yet to be done before the full value of this State assistance is fully realized and taken advantage of.

Quebec is renowed for its scenic beauty, but much of it is inaccessible because of poor roads.

It has become patent to countries everywhere that there is no better advertisement than good facilities for tourist traffic. Oral commendation spreads rapidly and is invaluable.

There is no better inducement, moreover, than splendid roads to induce people to take up farm life.

Spraying

(Experimental Farms Note)

If the fruit grower, vegetable grower, or flower grower does not spray nowadays, he is almost certain to have inferior products in his orchard, small fruit plantation and garden. There are so many injurious insects and diseases which affect a large proportion of the plants he grows that if they are uncontrolled there will either be no crop left or else the value of the crop will be very much reduced.

There are few of these insects and diseases which cannot be well controlled by using some of the remedies which have been discovered during the past twenty-five or thirty years and which have been well tested by many experiments.

Spraying must, however, be thoroughly done if good results are to be obtained. Materials are expensive, and the cost of labour is high, and money will be wasted if the work is improperly done or not done at the right time.

The early sprayings are, as a rule, the most important, and those who contemplate spraying as all should who have orchards or gardens, should get everything in readiness to begin at the right time as delay may mean much loss. Spray calendars are issued by the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, in which several sprayings are recommended to be applied at certain stages in the development of the leaves, flowers and fruit. In the case of fruit trees the spray should be applied so that every leaf, bud and fruit will, if possible, receive some of the material, not only on one part of it but as nearly all over as possible. Every leaf, flower and bud or young fruit missed means a possible starting point for disease or insect pests. In the case of vegetables promptness in the application of a good spray is just as important as with fruits. One does not need to be convinced of the value of promptness in using poison in controlling the Colorado potato beetle as the results of the spray are immediately apparent in the death of the "bugs", but more faith is required when dealing with diseases and insects which are not so readily seen but which do much harm, and usually the grower is well rewarded for such faith.

The formulae for the mixtures and solutions recommended should be followed as closely as possible. If a man knows the chemical composition of the materials he uses, and has made a study of spraying, he may alter them slightly to meet certain circumstances, but if he knows little about them he should follow closely the instructions given on the Spray Calendar. He should, also, spray as nearly as possible at the time suggested A delay of a few days may mean practically the loss of the mixture or solution used as there might be no return for the labour and expense. Write to either the Dominion or Provincial Departments of Agriculture for a Spray Calendar.

New Succession Duties

The proposed new succession duties to be levied by the Drury Government promise to be of drastic nature. From information given out it would seem as though the succession duties in the future are to be much heavier than those levied in Great Britain. It is expected that the new schedule will produce twice as much revenue as is now received from this source. The object obviously is to relieve the general tax payer.

On bequests to parents, grandparents, wives, husbands, children or children-in-law, the proposed Ontario law levies one per cent. where the estate is valued at between $25,000 and $50,000. Above $75,000 the rate is increased from 2 to 2½ per cent, and keeps rising until the old maximum of ten per cent. on all estates of more than a million dollars is reached.

The old rate of duty on estates going to brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, grand-aunts, grand-uncles, cousins, nephews and nieces was 5 per cent. on sums under $50,000. The rate proposed is 7 per cent., increasing to a maximum of 25 per cent. as against 12½ under the existing law.

The most striking increase proposed is on bequests to distant relatives and persons other than relatives. The rates on small sums is raised from 6 per cent. to 10 per cent., and the maximum is raised from 20 per cent. to 60 per cent., which rate is to become operative on sums exceeding $800,000.

The new duties appear to have been carefully thought out. They penalize heavily distant relatives and those who are not akin. They also take a larger toll of big bequests to the immediate family. Small estates, no matter to whom they go, get off lightly, as they should.

"What became of that young man who was paying so much attention to you?"

"I don't know. I let him walk to the grocery-store one afternoon with me, and after he saw how much we had to pay for things to eat, he just quit coming to see me".

Your Child's Future

WHAT ?

Educational endowment policies. The main object of these policies is to provide a fund for the Education of children on arriving at adult ages.

The usual form of children's Endowment has been found to possess one great disadvantage, namely, that in the event of the parent, or it is often impossible to continne the payment of premiums, and the policy is thus allowed to lapse.

The present plan completely overcomes this objection by providing that in the event of the death of the parent or guardian before the policy matures, no further premiums will be required, but the policy will become automatically paid up, and the sum assured will nevertheless be payable in full if the child survives the Endowment term.

Should the child die during the Endowment period, all premiums will be returned.

Further particulars will be furnished on request. Mail a card to-day.

Claims that Deer Jumped into Sleigh

It was a sad story of elasticity in the law that Andrew Gray, M.P.P. for Leeds, told the Fish and Game Committee of the Legislature last week. He was putting up a plea for the settler being allowed to kill deer. He referred to the terrible impudence of these animals in some of the rear parts. "Why down our way a deer jumped into the back of a man's sleigh", and then came the real complaint; "and because he had the audacity to kill it, they fined him $20." Then Mr. Gray sat down.

The committee laughed, but there was no action. The acrobatic deer may yet have the desired effect of changing the law.

Magistrate; "Did I understand you to say that the parties used high words?"

Police Witness; "Their voices were pitched rather high, sir, but the words used were extremely low".
