Firefighter hospitalized as Dunbar house gutted

DUNBAR (Staff) - A Williamsburg firefighter sustained facial burns in a Sunday evening fire south of the village of Dunbar. A stone farm house was gutted which took 12 firefighters five hours to bring under control.

The residence had been occupied by Gabriel Martel who reportedly was in the process of moving to Chesterville on Saturday and Sunday.

A fire marshal on the scene Tuesday morning said the only stock in a nearby barn was a horse. No one was in the house when the fire broke out at 6:15pm. A neighbor alerted the fire department.

Williamsburg fire chief Lyal Kehoe said firefighter Andy Buter's face "was burned pretty bad."

Mr. Buter was hospitalized and was due to be released on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

"We don't know what caused the fire," said Mr. Kehoe.

The fire marshal's office is investigating the incident. The house is located north of Gerrylin Strawberry Farms on the Dunbar Road.

On Tuesday morning the fire was still smoldering at the back of the house.

Ruins remain

A Sunday evening blaze demolished the home of Gabriel Martel just south of Dunbar. A firefighter was seriously burned in the five-hour attempt to get the fire under control. Williamsburg fire department was called to the site by a neighbor since the house was unoccupied when the blaze broke out. Record Photo - Hanrahan

EO road projects funded by minister over weekend

CORNWALL (Staff) - Saying Eastern Ontario was going to get "its share of the pie, area municipalities were showered by provincial transport grants for $1.4 million last weekend.

In a swing through Eastern Ontario last weekend transport minister Ed Fulton provided funds to 33 municipalities. The largest grant - $250,000 - went to Cumberland Township.

In handing out the grants Mr. Fulton said "the days of neglect are over." In meetings with a series of local officials he referred to a pledge in last week's throne speech that Eastern Ontario would receive fair attention in future.

On Sunday Mr. Fulton met with United Counties council and announced $584,000 for road and transport-related projects in 13 municipalities in SD&G.

Kenyon Township received the largest grant with $100,000 allocated for roadwork.

Another major grant was $65,000 to Roxborough for the purchase of a snowplow.

Newsbriefs

Cookie delay

(Staff) - The cookies are indeed coming. The delivery of Girl Guide cookies in Chesterville has been postponed but they are expected to arrive Thurs., May 1. Guides will be selling them later that afternoon between 4 and 5pm.

Water

(Staff) - Chesterville may soon be able to award a contract to drill a test well site. At a meeting last week, council learned the Ontario Ministry of the Environment must approve its second tender before it chooses a company to drill on Bryan Kennedy's property.

Council had hoped to begin work earlier this year and this delay may cost it money. Roger Woeller of the Arnprior firm of Water and Earth Sciences said the heavy drilling machinery could damage crops on Dr. Kennedy's property.

Council would have to compensate Dr. Kennedy for any damage.

Old church

CORNWALL (Staff) - A member of Heritage Cornwall has suggested the old Dundela Church be designated an historic site. Dennis Cartner-Edwards said last week more funding for preservation and development may be available from the provincial government than the federal level. He added the church could be used as an interpretive centre for describing the MacIntosh apple story and the settlement of the area. The Seaway Valley Tourist Council will turn the information over to Matilda Township.

Donations

(Staff) - Recent advertising campaigns of The Record have, through the cooperation of local merchants, sponsored efforts by the Dundas branches of the Cancer Society and Easter Seals. A percentage of advertising revenue was donated to each charity. The Record has given a cheque for $95 to Olive Cass on behalf of the Cancer Society and $100 Jerry Vestervelt for the Easter Seal effort.

Trees down

(Staff) - Four trees in Chesterville will be cut down and removed, at a cost of $680 to the village. "Every year there seems to be a few," village foreman Jack Smith commented at last week's council meeting. Some of the trees' branches are hanging over Hydro wires.

Trade Fair

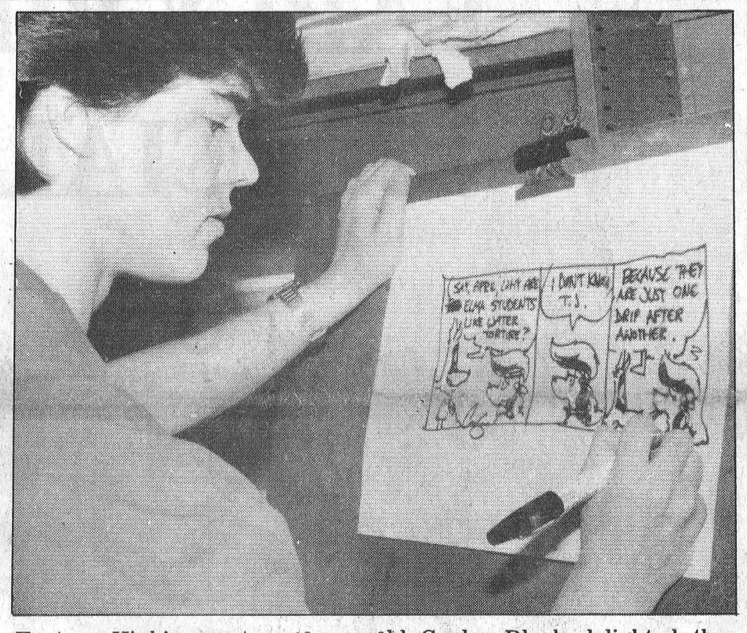
(Staff) - It's not too early to look ahead to the annual Chesterville Trade Fair, say organizers. A meeting to plan the event has been scheduled for May 7 at 7:30pm at the Nelson LaPrade Centre. The public is invited to attend.

Soccer

(Staff) - Final soccer registration for youngsters between the ages of six and 12 will take place at the playing field of North Dundas District High School Saturday May 3. Organizer Leo Streng has asked that parents attend the meeting. The session will last from 10 to 12 noon and the season will be organized at that time. Parents and kids will be able to ask questions. A rain date for the meeting is one week later, May 10.

Speaker

FINCH (Staff) - The Finch and District Lions Club has announced a recent winner in the Lions Club public speaking competition. Norma Wheeler has placed first at the A4 level at Almonte. Miss Wheeler, a Tagwi Secondary School student, will proceed to the next level at St. Catharines May 3. Participants there will come from all parts of Ontario. The local competition was sponsored by both Finch and Maxville Lions clubs.



Furtree High's creator, 19-year-Old Cuyler Black delighted the Special Enrichment Class (SPEC) at Elma Public last week. Cartoonist descends on Elma Public School

ELMA (Staff) - Jim Unger move over. Cuyler Black, the 19-year old cartoonist whose talented fingers and brain bring the characters of Furtree High to the pages of The Citizen every day, told youngsters here everyone has talent.

Mr. Black was invited to the Special Enrichment Classes (SPEC) under the direction of teacher Irene McLean and it seems the visit was a hit with every member of the Thursday class.

A resident of Manotick, Mr. Black draws a daily feature for the Citizen and earned his chance for fame by approaching the paper's editorial staff with a portfolio of his characters and cartoon strips. That was two years ago, at the tender age of 17. Since then he's developed the animals who attend grade 11 at Furtree High and get themselves into typical high school situations.

Asked by a member of the classes where he gets his ideas, Mr. Black said "I find it very difficult this year when I'm not in school." A graduate of South Carleton he has taken a year off to draw and plans to enter Queen's University in the fall.

"What will you be studying in university?" asked a student.

Arts and science, sociology, psychology, all those ologies," he laughed.

"I'll tell them give me all the ologies you've got."

The youngsters delighted in the morning's demonstration of laid-back humor and persuaded him to draw a personal cartoon for each one of them.

"TJ is me," Mr. Black told the students. "I can't really draw people."

"I've never had drawing lessons and no one else in the family can draw."

The students supplied him with some new ideas. He told them "if I have any ideas in my head I'll have written down what April or TJ is going to say." He then draws the three blocks of the comic strip. But "the ideas take the most time."

He said he wishes he'd paid more attention in school art class. "I wasn't interested in art classes -- all I wanted to do was draw these animals all day."

"I don't know how long Furtree High will be around -- six months or 10 years -- I'd like it to be a long time."

Although he currently draws only for the Citizen he would like to have his comic strip appearing more widely and wants to become syndicated. "Animation is something I'd like to get into too," said Mr. Black.

At 19 with two years experience behind him he advised the children present to find out what they're good at. "Talent isn't a gift -- it's finding out what that talent is at an early age. A lot of people don't find it until they're 98."

In the past year he has met Lynn Johnson, the creator of For Better Or For Worse and Jim Unger who draws Herman.

"It's like some young hockey player sitting in the dressing room," he said. "I just can't believe it."

Solicitor general says EO to get boost

by Alvah Hanrahan
Record News Editor

Eastern Ontario tourism is a major priority of the Peterson government, Solicitor General Ken Keyes told members of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Liberal Association last Thursday.

Meeting at the Avonmore Community Centre local Liberals were told "in close cooperation with the private sector, our government intends to develop and put into place a long-term tourism strategy with priority being given to tailoring it to the needs of Eastern and Northern Ontario."

Mr. Keyes, member of the legislature for Kingston and the Islands, said he "was delighted by the emphasis on Eastern and Northern Ontario expressed in the Throne Speech."

In reviewing the major provisions of the recent speech from the Throne as they involved Eastern Ontario issues Mr. Keyes also noted agriculture was high on the list of priorities.

"Our government will offer enhanced financing and market support for Ontario farmers. We will develop additional assistance to farmers to improve the productivity of their soils and the health of their farm animals."

He added "we intend to double food exports to the countries of the Pacific Rim."

One of the first moves to be made to upgrade tourist amenities in Eastern Ontario will be the renovation of the Eastern Gateway Travel Centre in Lancaster.

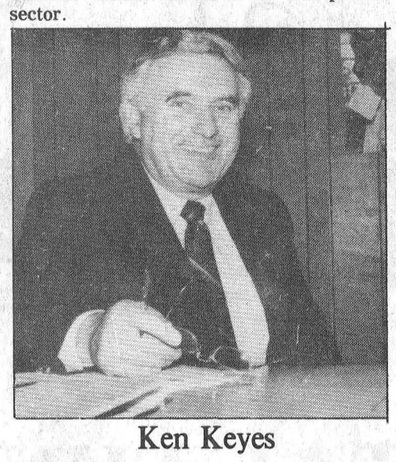
Speaking generally the Liberal government pledged to launch a strong marketing campaign to encourage tourism in the province. Hospitality training and an awareness campaign, improved road signs, travel information centres and rest stops will be highlighted.

This will be achieved, Mr. Keyes said, through the provision of additional funding directed at enhancing Eastern Ontario's tourist facilities.

"Tourism is untapped in Eastern Ontario," he added. "It takes the least out of the economy and returns the most to it."

Mr. Keyes said the St. Lawrence Parks Commission could not expect a direct gift to improve facilities. He said funding would be directed to that organization "in an open way as a guaranteed loan."

Mr. Keyes predicted an election later rather than sooner in the province. He told the audience there was no need to hold an election in the near future because at least two major PC leaders were resigning in the next few days. He declined to name them although reports in the media have for some time pointed to the departure of former education minister Dennis Timbrell to the private sector.



Ken Keyes

"By default we'll have the majority of numbers," he said.

"We're the only party in history going to get a majority by the members of the other party running away," said Mr. Keyes.

Mr. Keyes, who defeated former Tory environment minister Keith Norton in the 1985 provincial election, is a retired teacher and former mayor of Kingston. He is a native of Wolfe Island near Kingston.

The keynote address, part of the evening's agenda, was accompanied by an election of officers for the coming year.

Morrisburg's Dr. Gerry Rosenquist will be president of the riding association with Pierre Aubry as executive vice president. Representing the counties, Robert Lamb of Mountain is vice president for Dundas; Arlene Hart, Ingleside, Stormont; Ken MacLennan, Dalkeith, Glengarry county.

Darquise Piche of Ingleside was elected treasurer while Mike McInnis, Morrisburg is secretary. Youth representative is Bobby Jack Hart of Ingleside.

Dr. Rosenquist said the organization has about $6000 in the coffers and may hold a fundraising dinner in Cornwall next September. The association hopes to invite Premier David Peterson as guest speaker of the evening.

President Rosenquist said his organization, which had never been in debt, "may be able to out-Tory the Tories."

Building an election campaign is an important goal for the local riding association, said Dr. Rosenquist. "There's a real good chance we'll go Liberal next time and Cornwall's going to go Liberal."

School will stay for year

RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS (Staff) - The future of Riverside Public Heights Public School looks rosier than it did last week when parents feared the facility would be closed.

In order to prevent closure, at least for the time being, parents of the students at the school have agreed to accept triple-grading in the school.

Superintendent Ken MacLennan said "we have decided to put off a decision on the school's future at least until next fall."

Mr. MacLennan said last week the board would take a decision whether to place the school on a time line, indicative of when closure might be expected.

The board was considering closing the small school because the enrolment had dwindled over the years from 157 in 1969 to 91 this year.

Hatching the chicks has been a project of the Morewood Public kindergarten class for several years and three weeks of turning eggs and watching resulted in seven chicks this year. Teacher Elizabeth Locke-McIntosh said the children have been enchanted with the chicks since seeing the first beaks break through their shells Tuesday. But on Friday, the chicks were scheduled to depart. "We're sending them to a farm and they'll be Chicken McNuggets some day," she said. Record Photo - Johnston

Finances on even keel for Finch comunity centres

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township community centres may have resolved their bank account woes.

At a meeting Monday night with Ministry of Municipal Affairs representatives, the township's three community centre committees discussed how to comply with the directives of the Municipal Act.

Under the act, municipal recreation operations are not to maintain bank accounts beyond the control of the municipality's treasurer. But this had been the practice of the committees.

"There's nothing new in this, the legislation hasn't changed. It's always been the legislation," Jim Farrington, manager of the Minister of Municipal Affairs field services branch, told about 20 people gathered in the Berwick hall.

But a letter recently sent to all municipalities, signed jointly by the ministries of municipal affairs and tourism and recreation, threatened to withhold grants from municipalities not falling within provincial regulations.

A Ministry of Tourism and Recreation policy was quoted: "It is Ministry policy not to sanction or condone a clear contravention of the Municipal Act or any other provincial legislation.

"The Ministry would attempt to resolve any such matter by negotiation, but if such methods fail, an applicant would be refused a grant."

It was decided the committees would change the name of their bank accounts to include "the township of Finch". The township's clerk-treasurer would have signing authority on the organizations' cheques.

Each committee would remain separate. Marcel Masse, chairman of the Crysler organization, said the town's recreation committee was concerned only that money raised in Crysler be spent there.

Mr. Farrington said there was "no question" this would be done.

He advised that each committee retain a petty cash fund which could be replenished when needed for small purchases.

He said the ministries' action was prompted by situations elsewhere in Ontario. "There have been in the past a number of instances where municipalities have ended up in financial difficulty...and in most cases in our experience it's resulted from recreation activities."

He said a recreation committee is not a corporate body.

"It can't own property or capital equipment. It does not have the authority to have a bank account unless it is in the name of the municipality and in the control of the treasurer and this is where we sometimes run into problems," he said.

"I guess the bottom line is, the municipality is the one that is responsible for all those activities as long as it is a committee or boards of the municipality that are operating."

Local scouts to plant 9000 trees in area

(Staff) - The next two weeks will see boy scouts from all over St. Lawrence District on the trail planting trees. Working with the Trees for Canada program the scouts, beavers, cubs and venturers will be canvassing their home communities for pledges. Each boy will be planting about 40 trees.

On May 3 400 boys, leaders and parents will assemble at the district scout property north of Winchester Springs and plant some 9,000 trees. Assisting the local scout organization in planning this project is the ministry of natural resources, Cornwall office and the South Nation Conservation Authority.

The money raised through this project is split four ways with the local scout group keeping 40 per cent. This money is used to off-set the operating costs for the group. 30 per cent goes to the district to cover training costs for leaders and other operating expenditures including development of the district properties.

Fifteen per cent goes to the provincial head office and is used to help support training.

Smoking ban is recommended

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - The North Dundas District high school committee has recommended that smoking be banned inside the school.

If approved by the SD&G County Board of Education, the prohibition would affect only staff who are now allowed to smoke in the staff room.

Students would continue to have use of a designated area outside one of the entrances to the school.

The question of smoking was on the committee's agenda Thursday night, in response to a letter earlier this year from the Ontario Medical Association.

The association has recommended that all provincial school boards prohibit smoking. Although some boards went along with the ban, the SD&G board referred the suggestion in January to local schools for comment.

Winchester trustee Graham Casselman said the question is on the board's agenda for its May meeting. At that time, the board could decide to institute a board-wide policy or let each school decide its own course.

He said a General Vanier teacher is lobbying for a board-wide policy. In a public letter, he said the teacher is arguing it is unfair to make him impose a ruling on fellow teachers.

Mr. Casselman said there is now "great pressure" in the school system to ban smoking.

Dirk Seelemann, chairman of the high school committee, said the existence of a smoking area could encourage the creation of "hard core smokers".

"Smoking, like alcohol, is an environmental, image-type problem and that goes far beyond the school boundaries," he said.

"It is a very, very touchy situation, and I think that a lot of people point to the smoking area as the root of smoking problems within the adolescent community and I don't think that's the source.

"We don't promote but at least we offer a site for them to continue the habit and likely if the area was shut down, we would be part of a small force that would discourage smoking."

But North Dundas principal Don McGahan said a ban on smoking on the school premises wouldn't be safe.

If an urban school were to prohibit smoking, he said, smokers would only have to cross the street. But North Dundas students would have to cross Highway 43 -- a dangerous situation, he said.

"Look at both aspects of it. I don't think anybody would encourage smoking but I think you have to look at some of the possible outcomes if you ban smoking from the school."

Student Rhonda McIntosh said smokers are already using the washroom. "I go into the washroom in between periods and it's just clouded with smoke," she said.

If the smoking area were removed, she said more students would smoke in the washrooms.

As a nonsmoker, she said she has no need to go near the smoking area. Consequently, grade 9 students shouldn't feel pressured to take up the habit by having to pass the smoking area.

Any student found smoking outside the designated area is suspended from school for three days.

Although parents generally agree with the punishment, vice-principal Harry Craig said they think it should be fair. If their child is caught smoking in the washroom, he said, everyone else also smoking should receive the same penalty.

Teacher Kristin Whitney said some parents don't chastise their children if they've been suspended for smoking. She said the parents think, if the teachers can smoke, so can you.

A complete ban would end that argument, she said.

Of 653 North Dundas students who replied to a recent survey, 22 per cent, or 144, smoke.

Smoking is heaviest among grade 12 students, who comprise 30 per cent of the smokers. Nineteen per cent were found in grade 9, 21 per cent in grade 10, 22 per cent in grade 11 and 7 per cent in grade 13.

The issue of smoking was discussed at Tagwi Secondary School earlier this year.

After discussions with the high school committee, staff and students, it was recommended that students continue to be permitted to smoke outside in a designated smoking area.

Staff may smoke in the staff room or subject work areas.

Endorsement of SADD chapter at North Dundas may counter parental opposition

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - The North Dundas District High School committee has endorsed the organization of a Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) chapter at the school.

The endorsement at a committee meeting of parents, students, teachers and trustees last Thursday night was in part a move to counter opposition SADD has run into.

"I didn't expect to be up against such strong parental disapproval, it just never occurred to me," SADD staff advisor Kristin Whitney told the audience of about 20 adults and students.

She said some parents feel she is interfering with their right to supervise their own children. But some teenagers, she said, don't trust their parents enough to tell them they do drink.

She said SADD does not condone illegal, underage drinking. But she said the fact that teenagers do drink and drive must be recognized, and SADD encourages both students and adults to accept responsibility for their actions.

Yet a major tool of the fight against impaired driving, the contract for life, has met with resistance from parents.

Under the contract, both the teenager and the parent agree to request a drive home if she-he or the person who drove to the event is impaired.

"It's an agreement. It's not meant to be abused," she said. "It's just simply accepting the fact that they drink and if they drink, you don't want them to drive."

A student attending the meeting said her parents were reluctant to sign the contract when she first presented it to them. Her parents blamed her friends and told her to "stop hanging around" with them.

But after some discussion, she said they agree that drinking was part of teenage life and signed the contract.

Addiction

Don Stephen, head of North Dundas' guidance department, said he had noticed an attitude among some parents that alcohol is okay, as long as their children aren't taking drugs.

"Yet drinking or drugs, it's the same disease. It's called addiction," he said.

Student Rhonda McIntosh, co-president of the chapter, said she has heard of parents who are concerned only that their own teenagers don't drink and drive. She said they don't realize their children may be on the road sober but the driver approaching them is drunk.

Noting that all but one member of the student delegation were female, trustee Sarsfield O'Connor asked whether male students had the same interest in the organization.

Miss McIntosh said any male students thought it might damage their "cool" reputation. "A lot of the guys have an image to keep up," she said.

Ms. Whitney said many male students were interested, but kept their support a secret.

"And they're scared to death their parents are going to do something foolish. They (the parents) do drink and drive and they won't sign the contract," she said.

She said the organization has also received some positive reaction, especially from students, since its formation last December.

The initiative to fight impaired driving will rest with the students during the summer, when more teenagers are on the road and the accident rate involving all drivers jumps.

The chapter has ordered t-shirts and buttons to publicize SADD's aims. Students will try to continue a designated driver system, in which one member of a group will not drink to be able to drive the others home.

"Other than that, keep our fingers crossed," Ms. Whitney said.

She said the organization is having an impact on the community. She has attended social functions where parents have left early to pick up teenagers at parties and take them home.

"The changes are obvious already," she said.

NDDHS students win honors and trophies during 1986 academic year

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - More North Dundas students won awards in the month of April than all the other schools in SD&G combined.

Don Stevens, guidance counsellor at NDDHS, said on Monday Education Week, held from April 28 to May 2, seemed an appropriate time to compile the honors into one lengthy list.

Throughout the entire 1985-86 academic year numerous honors have been garnered by ND students.

In April Robert Wu scored in the top two per cent in Canada in mathematics in the Fermat Contest, held by the University of Waterloo. Robert, a grade 11 student, was first in the SD&G schools and second in the Ottawa Valley-St. Lawrence zone. He had the highest score in this zone.

Also in the field of mathematics the University of Waterloo's Pascal Contest featured in third place the grade 9 team from ND composed of Ethan Hogg, Pam Giles and Scott Helmer. These students were in the top 25 per cent across Canada.

At the University of Waterloo's Cayley Contest at the grade 10 level the team was first in SD&G schools and 5th of 27 schools in the Ottawa Valley-St. Lawrence zone. The team was composed of Andrew Gruich, Michael Bouck, Leslie Durant, Richard Stewart, Craig Smith, Laura Snyder and Donald Bowman.

In the area of French the SD&G Core French Competition was won by North Dundas in first place overall. Anne-Marie Stephen was 1st; Dina Pavlounis 4th; Lisa Graafland 9th.

The Oddfellows'-Rebekahs' Annual Public Speaking Contest for SD&G was won by Chris Lortie in first place and Jill Durant in 2nd. Both will receive an all expense-paid ten day trip to the United Nations in New York City this summer.

SD&G Science Fair winners from NDDHS were Bertie DeBruijn and Chris Lortie. Bertie, a grade 9 student, won the IBM award for best science or math project and an all expense-paid trip to Calgary for the Canadian Science Fair. Grade 10 student Chris Lortie won a silver medal and a prize for best in Human Biology.

Qualified to take part in the All Ontario Gymnastics meet in Waterloo are Jenny Sommerhalder, Janet Matthew, Michelle Helmer, Marcie McClatchie, Carol Graham, Shelley MacDonald and Sherrie MacDonald.

In history, the SD&G Canada Quiz champs are the undefeated NDDHS students Steve Molloy, Julie Lamb, John Buckley, Hugh Craig and Neil Stanley at the senior level.

Also undefeated were the junior champions Pam Carkner, Pam Giles, Leslie Durant, Scott Helmer and Kevin Bell.

In the novice division of SD&G Business Typing Tammy Coleman placed 1st. Julia Toonen was 2nd and 3rd in the electronic division. The OBEA accounting contest featured junior trophy winner Rosalie Coons. Rosalie was first in the competition and will compete in an all-Ontario contest later. Lindsay Rodger was 3rd. In the senior division Chris Lynch and Julie Lamb were 4th.

An SD&G computer science programing contest saw another ND team in first place: Robert Wu, Clinton Young, Paul Spencer and Rick Rodney. The team placed 5th in Ontario at the all-Ontario contest.

In art Heather Wilson was the recipient of a return trip for two via Pacific Western Airlines including a three-day pass to Expo '86 in Vancouver. Heather won a Canada-wide poster design contest.

There have been other honors bestowed on ND students since Education Week last year. In May, 1985, Darren Loucks won the Winchester Emblem Contest. A team consisting of John Wu, Richard Fox, Donald Carkner, Angus Craig and Sven Seeleman placed in the top 20 per cent of 5,068 top physics students in the province.

The grade 12 mathematics team place first in SD&G and 1st in the Ottawa Valley-St. Lawrence zone.

In June of last year several scholarships were won by ND students: Anita Bakker, Trent $700; Brock $500; Donald Carkner Waterloo $660; Ken Carscadden, Carleton $150; Marilyn Craig Waterloo $4000, Queen's $2,730, Carleton $1,000; Diane Fournier Waterloo $100; Diane Holmes Western $500, Waterloo $100; Laura Hunter Queen's $2,730, Toronto $1500 for four years; Martha Hutchinson Houghton College $800; Irene Jansen Carleton $700, Western $750; Michael Matthew Brock $500, Waterloo $100; Sven Seeleman Waterloo $660.

In the field of art the OSSTF District 21 Illustration Contest saw two ND students in top place in SD&G. Susanna Gordon was 1st while Lisa Proulx placed 2nd.

The Russell Township Art Contest held in October 1985 brought two winners to the school. Lisa Cholowski was 1st and Maria Gordon was 2nd.

Wendy Hoople was 1st for area schools and 2nd in county schools in the Canadian Legion Remembrance Day Poster Contest.

Julie VanWylick was 1st in the SD&G County Board of Education Christmas Card Contest.

Recently in March, 1986, the school took 1st place overall in the SD&G Late French Immersion Public Speaking Contest. Pam Giles was 2nd in the Anglophone category; Kelly Billings was 3rd in the Anglophone category; Nicole VanWylick was 3rd in the Francophone category; Natalie Burns had honorable mention.

Royal revels

Prince Dauntless (Michael Dagenais) talks with the fair Princess Winifred (Louise Lalonde) in the Rotel Players' production of Once Upon A Mattress. A musical spoof of Hans Christian Anderson's "Princess and the Pea", the play helps to support fundraising for ROTEL, a project to provide accommodation for out of town families of patients in Ottawa hospitals.

Several car accidents in area

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Police report a quiet week, with the exception of three area accidents.

On Friday, an accident on County Road 13 caused more than $5,000 damage to two vehicles.

At about 4:15pm, Susan Hanson-Johnstone, 32, of RR1, Winchester was eastbound on the county road. Rejean Genier, 36, of Berwick was following.

The Hanson-Johnstone vehicle slowed and signalled to turn left when the Genier car attempted to pass.

Damage to the Hanson-Johnstone vehicle is estimated at $1,500. The Genier car, a 1980 Lincoln, sustained an estimated $4,000 damage.

No charges were laid. Constable Bill Holmes of the Winchester OPP detachment investigated.

Early Saturday morning, a single car accident north of the CPR crossing in Winchester Township caused about $1,000 damage.

At 7am, Mike Armstrong, 28, of Winchester was northbound on the township road when he lost control of his car. His vehicle crossed the road and struck guard rails on the west side.

The accident wasn't reported until later that morning and he was charged with failure to report an accident. Constable Garry Imbeau investigated.

On Sunday, an Embrun man pulled into a private driveway and pulled Bell Telephone lines down with him, making repairs of about $4,000 necessary.

The incident, involving Leo Clement, 34, of RR1, Embrun and a tandem truck owned by Embrun Co-op, was investigated by Constable Bob Bruce of the Winchester detachment. No charges were laid.

The Long Sault OPP detachment reports laying five liquor licence charges involving open liquor in a non-residence, four impaired charges and four 12-hour suspensions this week.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM

LISCUMB — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Irene Liscumb who passed away May 1, 1970.

Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain.
To have to hold, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
Time may wipe out many things,
But this it wipes out never,
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.

Lovingly remembered, Liscumb family

DANGER OF WRONG PRICING

Since human nature is predictable, there is a better than ever chance that you'll put the wrong selling price on your home if you arrive at it yourself.

Yoy may price it far above its fair market value because of sentimental attachment, expenditures you have made, or by heeding a well-meaning friend's advice. A home remaining on the market for months due to over-pricing, frequently becomes a "White Elephant". It eventually sells for a much lower figure than it would have brought originally - had it been priced realistically.

On the other hand, you might under-price it because of unfamiliarity with the local market. This would be financial folly. Your safest bet is to list your home with a Realtor who will help you price it correctly from the start and sell it for the best profit.

Christine's Cuisine

By Christine Must

Are you in the mood for a gourmet dinner, some wine and candlelight? Here's the perfect recipe for just such an occasion. It's so easy that you'll be surprised at how succulent it tastes. Sirloin steak instead of veal can also be used. So all you cooks out there, become gourmet chefs and try this delicious entree.

MEDAILLONS OF VEAL WITH MUSHROOMS
(Serves 4)

1¾ pounds of veal, taken from the loin and cut in 2" squares
3 tablespoons butter
½ pound of mushrooms
2 dry shallots, chopped
1 tablespoon of chopped parsley
½ cup dry white win, such Macon Village salt
fresh ground pepper
3 tablespoons sour cream

Melt the butter in a frying pan placed over high heat until it starts to foam. Add the veal medaillons and saute them for 2 minutes on each side. Season with salt, pepper and add the shallots. Sprinkle the meat with the parsley and transfer it to a hot platter. Put the mushrooms in the pan, season to taste and cook them 4 to 5 minutes. Pour the wine over the mushrooms and reduce it by two-thirds. Stir in the sour cream and return the veal to the pan; reheat the meat for a few seconds and transfer the medaillons of veal with mushrooms to a service platter. Garnish with lemon wedges.

Seniors meet

INGLESIDE (Special) - The April meeting of Ingleside Senior Citizens' Club No. 283 had a different format from the usual one. It was held in St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church Hall as usual but at 7:30pm. Members of Long Sault Club and Ingleside WI were invited and there were over 100 present.

The meeting was opened by the singing of O Canada, followed by God Save the Queen, in celebration of her 60th birthday which was being held in England that day.

The importance of the meeting was the fact that Dr. Garth Taylor, opthalmologist, Cornwall was guest speaker. He was introduced by his neighbor, Walter Bailey.

Dr. Taylor is one of a group of doctors who belong to ORBIS, an organization of volunteers who have a plane fitted with the most modern and efficient equipment for eye surgery and treatment of any in the world. Although other organizations to help the blind have travelling vans and ships fully equipped for their work, ORBIS felt that a plane could get right inside a country enabling them to contact its doctors, governments and to study the greatest needs there. They use local doctors and nurses and teach them how to operate and handle all diseases of the eyes so they can carry on the ground work themselves. Even divided places like Cyprus and enemy countries forget their differences when this plane lands and works among their blind, thus being ambassadors of good-will among nations.

WI meeting

MOOSE CREEK (Special) - The March meeting of the Moose Creek WI was held in the Sunshine Room with good attendance.

President Donalda McKay opened the meeting with the Ode, Collect and the Lord's Prayer. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Vivan Valley and the correspondence was read and dealt with. A donation to the Avonmore Fair will be made asking that it be for a special in the domestic part. It was agreed that the WI buy a carpet sweeper and a mirror for use at the Sunshine Room. Vivan Valley and Myrtle McDermid will purchase them.

A report on the District Directors' meeting was given by Violet McDiarmid. The draw on the Easter basket was drawn on March 27 and the winner was Paulette Tessier, Moose Creek, manager at the License Bureau.

A varied program by convenors Violet and Myrtle was presented.

Summer '86 may be good season for student job seekers

Municipal job market remains constant, number of student vacancies up at Canada Employment Centre

(Staff) - With resumes in hand, high school and post-secondary students will soon be hitting the road in search of the elusive summer goal -- a job.

And despite high unemployment and government restraint, they have hopes of being successful.

Traditional local sources of summer employment, municipalities and the South Nation River Conservation Authority, are hiring about as many students as they did last year.

And there are indications the private sector is also looking for summer help.

Mark Miron, co-ordinator of the Canada Employment Centre for students in Cornwall, said the office has already received notice of about 100 jobs for students. students.

"It's good for this time of the year," he said Monday.

The number of employers searching for workers through the centre has also increased slightly.

Last year, the centre placed 1,336 students, an achievement Mr. Miron hopes to at least match.

About 2,300 students applied for work through the centre in 1985. "A good number found jobs on their own, through their contacts," he said.

The majority of the current vacancies are for university students, but he said some of the part-time jobs open to high school students could develop into full-time summer positions.

The centre will be contacting high schools outside Cornwall in May to encourage students to register and inform them of the programs available.

He said no new youth employment initiatives have been announced, but previous federal and provincial programs will continue.

A federal program, Challenge 86, has proved popular among employers once again. "We have received quite a few applications and we know there will be many approved in our area," he said.

Under the program, private sector employers are eligible for subsidies of up to 50 per cent on a maximum hourly wage of $3 if they hire students.

The maximum amount of subsidizable wage increases to $4 for municipalities, non-profit organizations and educational institutions.

A provincial program, Experience 86, offers a wage subsidy for students acquiring specific job experience.

Another provincial initiative, the Ontario Youth Employment Program, offers a $1.25 wage subsidy for some work.

But Mr. Miron said the bulk of the centre's work involves matching private sector employers with qualified student workers, ranging "from engineers to laborers to odd jobs."

Students wishing to register at the centre or employers seeking student labor should contact student centre supervisor Ann Demers at 933-4300 or visit the office at 461 Pitt Street.

The South Nation River Conservation Authority has received $14,698 and will hire at least seven high school or post secondary students.

"It'll definitely be seven, maybe eight or nine, depending on how we work it out," Kim Eaton, the authority's director of operations, said Monday.

The students may be involved with erosion control, including planting grass, spreading topsoil and some brush cutting, and maintenance of conservation areas.

Ms. Eaton will also approach municipalities to see if they're interested in a community creek clean-up program, which would involve local residents and student labor.

She said the program was tried last year in Metcalfe, with limited success.

"We found that we could do a fairly good job and people just continued to litter."

An important part of the program, she said, would be making the community aware of the pollution. "You get a better long-term result."

The authority may also hire a graphic artist to collect drawings of the authority's work for brochures.

Winchester Township has applied for government funding to hire several students to run recreation programs for children in the mornings.

In the afternoons, the students would update the township's fire map and do maintenance chores around the community centre.

The Finch Ladies Recreation committee has recently received approval to hire three students to run a day camp for children in the village.

The committee also hired three students last summer.

The village of Chesterville has also received approval to hire two students to co-ordinate two of the following programs: acquatics, summer or day camp.

The village is hoping a total of five positions will be approved.

Last year, Chesterville hired several students to help with its summer recreation program.

Finch Township is waiting to receive information on available programs. Two years ago, it hired some students but no one was employed last year.

Tourism pledge a plus for area

The tourists probably won't venture into the confines of Chesterville too often but last weeks throne speech pledge to allocate more funds and attention to Eastern Ontario tourism is a plus for the region.

Premier David Peterson's assertion that in future this neck of the woods will "get its fair share of the pie" sounds promising.

We've got to work at attracting the tourists, though, and government money alone cannot do the job.

In attempting to lure motorists off the main highways into the small communities where fine facilities exist far more creativity and aggressive marketing techniques are required.

The Chesterville fair board, for instance, makes a concerted effort every August to draw Ottawa area residents to the site of a rural fall fair through radio advertising. This represents a local effort which does not require a huge financial outlay.

Local people have to work in tandem with the public sector in bringing tourist dollars to the area. This section of the province does not lack for attractions, historic sites and interesting events.

We should also remember to be polite to strangers asking road directions and send them on their way with a smile and a good feeling about the small communities in the Seaway Valley.

Liberal use of tradition

This appears to be the worst of times for provincial Progressive Conservative parties. While former Ontario star Dennis Timbrell prepares to defect to the private sector there are rumors of other leavetakings among the big guns on the PC front benches.

On the electoral front the voters of Prince Edward Island have installed as their premier a previously unknown Liberal, Joe Ghiz. Like their Ontario colleagues the PEI Liberals seem to have been revitalized in recent months.

A Toronto by-election win for the Liberal candidate Christine Hart also indicated the direction of the prevailing winds and Liberals are riding high in their euphoria these days.

In New Brunswick Tory Richard Hatfield is hanging onto power by his fingernails and Saskatchewan's Grant Devine is busy holding the NDP at bay. An NDP government took over from the PCs in the Yukon and the Liberals are back in power in Quebec.

When Prime Minister Brian Mulroney assumed office provincial regimes were almost solidly Tory. That picture has changed dramatically in the past year.

A tradition seems to be developing in Canada for offsetting strong central governments with provincial governments of the opposite party. Former prime minister Trudeau reigned through dismal fortunes provincially for the Liberals.

The same forces seem to be at work now but in the opposite direction.

The Farmer's Wife

by Wyn Thompson

April, that most precocious of months, almost did me in. Just back from the sun-drenched south, I basked in the seventy degree weather of Eastern Ontario.

Then, wham, I was hit with gale-like winds blowing south, fresh off the Arctic ice-flows. Well, I shivered and shook, piled on more clothes, took cold remedies, then succumbed with little grace, to a spring cold. Why is it worse than a winter cold?

I don't know but, amid complaints of the gross injustice of spring colds overtaking a body, I survived. I am well now. The family is glad for I am not a silent, uncomplaining sufferer. If I am miserable I see no reason why every one else should not be.

Now I look forward to what poet John Milton described as "bounteous May." And isn't it the truth. It is a month that has everything. The weather is so lovely that groundhogs come out of their holes to taste it.

Old folks, who had planned to die, change their minds, and take up settin' in the sunshine. A lot of people began life on what, a midwife who served a little rural area once told me, was the most propitious month of all to be born. "A May child," she said, "always gets the best start." Of course, that was before the days of modern health care institutes and balanced baby foods.

I thought about May children I had read about and recalled, of course, a great favorite of mine, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle of Sherlock Holmes fame; the American president Harry S. Truman; Queen Victoria; and of course, Bob Hope.

Everybody knows there's magic in May. Farmers and gardeners who can't wait another minute for reliably-warm weather hurry to get their crops in the ground - and, it happens, they usually do well.

Sometimes a late frost nips them. Sometimes the still-cold ground is inhospitable to seeds, and the germination rate is not as it should be. But any farmer will tell you, "By and large, plants will stand the chilled earth better that the drought that sometimes visits them in July and August.

Children in Eastern Ontario will tell you that May 24 is the day to go swimming, no matter what the weather. It is a tradition, an inalienable right, and parents can note an unseasonable drop in temperature and caution of the dangers of pneumonia if they like. But the twenty-fourth day of May calls for a token swim, if no more.

Some people believe that the month was named for Maia, the Roman goddess of spring and growth. Some believe that the celebrations originated with the worship of trees by the ancient Druids. No matter, it's a month to love and enjoy and celebrate in whatever spirit moves you.

May, too, is the month for honoring mothers. Research tells me that Anna Jarvis campaigned for such a yearly observance as early as 1907. She told a public meeting in Philadelphia that a day should be set aside to "honour the best mother that ever lived - your Mother." She was successfuly in her lobbying.

I remember when one couldn't go to church unless one had a flower to wear - red ones if your mother lived, white ones if she had died. The carnation was the flower so honored. However, carnations were in short supply in the little village where I grew up, but we joyfully joined the observance by wearing whatever red flower was at hand, geraniums usually, and tried to avoid the suggestions of our mothers that the best honor we could do them was to clean up our rooms and do the dishes without complaining.

Now I know there are excellent mothers, good mothers, mediocre mothers, poor mothers, and downright bad mothers. But as a mother myself, I'm all in favor of a day in which to be extolled (however inaccurately), and gifted. For one thing, it makes you think about the distinction of parenting.

I look over my two and their five, and I am glad that I have the triumps and troubles of being the mother and the grandmother of the lot. As with most of you, I felt inadequate to the task, often bored and exasperated with it, but above and beyond that, glad to have had them to love and to do for.

There are some pretty sickeningly saccharine descriptions of 'Mother o' Mine,' her virtue, her purity, her unselfishness, and there are some visious comments, as well.

There are some very poor mothers, we are told, harshly rule their families these young characters crippling molds, disrupt riages, and commit strange in the name of love. In spit- this, most children, bless th are willing to forgive and do best they can to understand a to love.

"Why not?" an author I an reading asks in her recent book. "You need a mother, even if she is a poor thing."

So we celebrate Mother's Day, pausing all over the land and thinking a little about this relationship - and striving, for the most part, to be better mothers and better children, glad for the bond, the never-aloneness that exists for those of us who are lucky in our mothers.

May begins to wind down with Victoria Day, now celebrated, of course, on the Monday. It now stands for a nice, long holiday weekend. This year it will have a different twist for a daughter-in-law and myself. We are planning and working toward our first Lawn and Garden Sale which is to be a three-day event including Victoria Day.

We have long threatened to hold such an event and, were more or less forced into it this year by the threat of loss of credability, if we didn't get at and do it. Our immediate requirement is good weather!

Chesterville's Past

06 From the Record, Thurs., May 3, 1906

Dr. Malloch had a narrow escape from instant death on Thursday night last. He was driving home from Inkerman and had reached the CPR crossing at Suffel's when the midnight express came along.

He stopped his horse some feet from the track but the powerful headlight of the oncoming train frightened the animal and it jumped into the ditch, throwing the doctor out of the buggy.

Being free now the horse started to cross the track when it was struck by the engine, literally stripped of the harness and hurled into a field near by, where it was found dead.

The buggy was also damaged but the doctor escaped injury.

The secretary of the bowling club, Mr. George Reaburn, this week received from Mr. FE. Price, formerly manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, two pins in the form of a bronze medallion with the figure of a bowler about to deliver his bowl raised on them.

These pins we understand are intended as club challenge pins for doubles, to be held by the winners as long as they remain undefeated. Mr. Price has designated the president, Mr. WG. (Daddy) Reaburn and the vice-president, Dr. CH.Doering, as the first pair to defend their prizes.

On Sunday, April 18th Scout Douglas McGee enclosed a note in a bottle and dropped it from the bridge here into the swollen waters of the Nation and was this week advised by Mr. Edgar Lalonde of Fournier, that while on the river in a boat on Friday evening April 23rd he was attracted by the bottle and secured it, the journey having been made in a little better than five days. Fournier is about ten miles from the Ottawa river where the Nation joins it.

Morewood: The change in time on the railways in cities and towns takes place next Sunday and many have been wondering what the people of Morewood and vicinity will do. Chesterville and Winchester will probably change.

The organization meeting of the Chesterville Calf Club, which was held on Wednesday evening April 24th in the Chesterville High School, was very well attended.

Chesterville Larder Lake Gold Mining Company Limited, Kearns Ont., today reported a net loss of $139,038 for the year 1945, compared with a deficit of $105,066 for 1944.

66 From the Record, Thurs., April 28, 1966

Monday night about 8.15, a display in the sky to the southeast set up a chain reaction. Some viewers were sure they had sighted a flying saucer; others felt the UFO might be a plane in trouble and still others came to closer to the truth with the idea the display was a falling star.

A raging fire Saturday just after 1pm destroyed the garages and machine shop of Sullivan Bros. south of town. Of unknown origin, the fire fed on the garage contents and stores with considerable fury. Chesterville volunteers did a good job of containing the blaze and protecting the nearby house and barns. The loss is estimated at over $15,000 with only a small amount of insurance.

Word has been received now that government approval is at hand to proceed with engineering plans on Chesterville dam.

Reader supports bike plan for area

The Editor:

I was greatly disappointed to see in your article entitled "Publicity may kill controversial bike path plan," that the objections of a few people were killing an excellent idea that would benefit the entire area.

Anyone who has seen what the Ottawa bike paths have done for that city, can only wonder at the narrow-minded outlook of some people on this issue. A lot of small communities in Stormont County have stagnant, if not declining economies. Yet, most North American economic forecasters predict that the largest growth industry in the latter part of this century will be in the service component: tourism, recreation, etc.

This is an idea that could really benefit the United Counties, yet I fear that the lack of publicity will ensure a speedy and quiet burial.

I'm positive more proponents might come forward if the idea was given more media coverage, and if people knew where to send in their comments for an otherwise excellent idea.

J.P. Leguerrier,
Chesterville.

Is a winning logo

The Editor:

A few months ago the 1988 anniversary celebration committee decided to hold a logo competition with the winning logo to represent our village. The judges were picked and the deadline for entry set. Suddenly council stepped in and seemingly took over, saying they should have the final decision on which would be the winning design.

Sitting down with pen and ink in hand I designed to logos which I felt would be quite competitive. About a week after the deadline I received a cheque in the mail for $100 with no explanation. I found out that one of my logos had been picked by council, and that the $100.00 cheque was 1st prize.

In my joy of realizing my logo would represent Chesterville for years to come on envelopes, stationary etc. I quickly phoned

SDG humane society president says more funds needed

CORNWALL (Staff) - The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry branch of the Ontario Humane Society is in dire need of funds, president John Wilson said last week.

"All Glengarry, Stormont and Dundas Society members and supporters should write or telephone their member of the legislature to ask that sufficient government funding be provided for animal protection," he said.

Inspectors and agents all across Ontario have had to be discharged because of the society's mounting deficit in this area. Humane inspectors are needed to protect animals that are exploited or abused in industry, research, hunting, in homes, on farms, and in pet stores, he added.

The Ontario Humane Society is a charitable organization with 30 branches across Ontario. It operates 23 animal shelters.

The society is dependent on donations and fund raising activites by its members to support its work. As well, the society has been vested with the authority to enforce Criminal Code provisions pertaining to the neglect of animals. But it has not been given the financial resources to do so, said Mr. Wilson.

In 1982 the government commissioned an extensive survey of the society by Price Waterhouse Associates. That survey recommended the society's annual operating grant be increased to $500,000 over five years to meet the cost of improved service.

In 1984 the grant was increased from $85,000 to $125,000 and in 1985 reduced to $85,000. The society's deficit last year was $300,000 Wilson said.

While the police do an excellent job enforcing the laws that protect people, Humane Society inspectors know animals and how to deal with them in every situation. They've taken courses in animal husbandry and they know the laws protecting animals, he added.

"As a taxpayer, I know the society can do the job more economically than the government. The equipment and know-how is already in place."

"The SD&G branch has several licensed agents who have, in the recent past been able to call inspectors from other areas to help with more serious cases. Surely the animals deserve this much protection."

"We urge all who are as concerned as we are to contact local MLA Luc Guindon either at his constituency office 345 Montreal Road, or MLA Noble Villeneuve, Moose Creek, or write to either at Queen's Park, Toronto, and ask to have the issue of adequate funds for the Ontario Humane Society Protection Service raised in the legislature," said the local Humane Society branch president.

North Dundas News

By Lisa Graafland

Although there's only seven weeks of school left, the social and academic activities continue to roll along at high speed. Assemblies, competitions and trips have filled the past week and will continue in the weeks to follow as the story continues.

Tuesday, April 22 brought forth the opportunity for the students of ND to hear the SADD committee's guest speaker, Wendy Crawford, a quadraplegic due to an accident in which her car was hit from behind by a drunk driver Wendy, who is working for the Attorney-General's office giving lectures across the province, told the audience what she has been doing since her accident and what she plans to do in the future. A question and answer period took place so students could ask questions about her accident, her future, and her feelings toward drunk drivers, SADD and drunk driving laws. The assembly evoked interest from CCVS for whom Ms. Whitney has planned assemblies for May 2 to aid the school in setting up their own chapter of SADD.

Competitions this week dealt with the business side of things. Chris Lynch and Marnie Lamb participated in the Senior Accounting Competition in which they placed 4th and 5th respectively.

In the junior competition Rosalie Coons placed first and Lindsey Rodger placed third. North Dundas was also successful at a typing competition held at Tagwi with Tammy Coleman placing first in the Novice Category and Julia Toonen third in the senior category as well as second in the Electronic Competition. Congratulations to all!

The month of May will bring about a couple of trips. Mr. Harper's Grade 13 French students will travel to Quebec City for a weekend a la francaise while Mr. Shane's Marketing Club will head for Expo '86 to spend a week full of cultural experiences.

Miscellaneous activities include the Corpuscle Cup Challenge on May 2 at Seaway, a track meet which was also held at Seaway and resulted in 3rd, 4th and 5th place finishes for the senior girls and a 5th and 6th place finish for the senior boys, and a conference at St. Lawrence College for Grade 10 girls interested in Affirmative Action for Women.

Finally, I must remind the seniors that the time has come to ask that special someone to prom. Ticket sales start May 1.

Playhouse theatre fundraiser for May 4

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Tickets to a fundraising dinner for the Upper Canada Playhouse May 4 are still available.

The $25-a-plate dinner at the Parkway Inn, Cornwall will begin at 7pm and feature entertainment by singer Margaret Merkley and organist Sharon Adams. Cocktails will be served at 6pm.

Money raised at the dinner will help finance repairs to the tent theatre on Upper Canada Road west of Upper Canada Village.

The theatre's board of directors estimates the tent will need $30,000 in repairs this season, its third.

Playhouse general manager Lois Rosenquist said ticket-buyers will qualify for a draw, of which first prize is a week-end for two at Ottawa's Chateau Laurier Hotel.

The lucky couple will also win a breakfast at The Creperie, supper at the Fish Market and a boat tour of the Rideau Canal.

The draw will be held on the theatre's opening night, June 28.

The season kicks off then with a production of the Bernard Slade comedy "Same Time, Next Year", which runs until July 19.

From July 22 to Aug. 9, a British music hall-type production, "Have Some Madiera, M'Dear", will be presented.

The season ends with a two and a half week run of "Salt-Water Moon", by Canadian playwright David French.

Tickets to the fundraising dinner can be obtained by calling 543-3298. Mrs. Rosenquist noted ticket orders through the mail postmarked by Sunday are eligible for the draw.

Dundas off stride at Seaway

IROQUOIS (Staff) - An early season relay meet resulted in a skimpy North Dundas District High School track team but they managed to pull off five sixth and above placing standings.

North Dundas' team consisted of 22 members in which they collected one third in Senior girls 1600m medley with a time of 5:03:29, one fourth in the Senior girls 4x100 with a time of 0:56:80, two fifths in Senior boys 1600m medley with time of 4:06:15 and Senior girls 4x200 with a time of 2:03:03 plus a sixth in the Senior boys 2000m medley with a time of 5:30:00.

The meet is an annual event called the David Stevens Memorial Relays held at Seaway District in which NDDHS did not participate in last year.

Coach of the team, Hugh Conlin felt he would like the team to participate in the meet to get in shape for other meets.

"We have about 20 coming out to practises now," said Conlin, "But we are getting more each day."

"For the team we had I think we did well at the meet,"

Conlin has some ideas on who will be successful this year, Grant Groves, Norine Milne and Kerri-Lynn Thompson, all NDDHS track and field team veterans.

This coming Tuesday North Dundas is having an interschool meet in which the top two in every event will be participating in the SD&G meet.

Gartree to host national meet

LUNENBURG (Staff) - Gartree Park will host the Canadian National Motocross Challenge, the first time the event has been staged in eastern Ontario.

An expected 200 to 300 drivers are expected to converge at the Lunenburg trace Aug. 9 and 10.

John Milnes, owner of the park says Lunenburg is an "idealic spot," for the race. Because most riders come from Ontario and Quebec, he says, holding the race at Lunenburg, "smack-dab in the middle," will probably attract the maximum number of competitors.

He predicts the 44th annual Canadian National Seniors and Veterans Motocross Challenge, "Will be the biggest ever of it's kind."

Organizers plan to kick off the two-day competition with a parade previous to the competetition.

Bus tours of the United Counties may be organized for visitors uninterested in the race themselves.

The National race returns to Ontario after two years in Albert and New Brunswick.

Although the national competition will be the highlight of the parks season other events have been scheduled.

On Sun. May 25 at Gartree the first competition of the season will be the Burmah-Castrol Coca-Cola Provincial Team Challenge in which Ontario challenges Quebec riders. The event will have an expected 200 competitors.

On Sept. 7 the Quebec Championship round will be held and on Oct. 5 the park is hosting it's last event of the season called the hare scramble.

Town, Industrial honor top players

(Staff) - Winchester and District Industrial Men's Hockey league and Chesterville Men's Town League Hockey honored their best at an awards ceremony held on Saturday at the Chesterville Community Hall.

The night was also designated Dave Arnold Appreciation Night in which they handed out their hockey trophies and then presented Chesterville's former recreation director with two plaques.

Chesterville Town League trophies were handed out first. Blake Henderson received the top goalie award with a 1.33 average. Henderson played for the championship team, Red Army. Terry Kittner was the league top scorer.

Accepting the Industrial Hockey league season trophy was Nestle's Greg Beckstead and the championship trophy was accepted by Hydro's Keith McRoberts.

Jim Hume was the league's top goaltender with a 2:35 average per game. Pat Kelly was the league's top scorer defeating Jim Whelan by one point collected in the final match.

Red Army was Town League's regular season winners and the playoff winners. They went undefeated in the regular season.

Recreation director gets warm send-off

(Staff) - Members of the Chesterville Men's Town League Hockey and the Winchester and District Industrial Hockey league shared the spotlight at an awards banquet held Saturday. Dave Arnold, Chesterville's former recreation director, was guest of honor.

Arnold worked for the village for the past six years and contributed to many successful projects.

They are the summer student work programs, a new swimming pool changeroom building, winter carnival, the tennis courts and also before leaving sparked interests in building a new community center for the village. Arnold also played a major role in introducing new sports in the area and keeping the old ones going such as ball hockey, minor ball, minor hockey, town league and industrial league.

After the presentations of the hockey awards were handed out Doug Fry presented two plaques to Arnold for his hard work and dedication.

Arnold said in his speech he would miss Chesterville. He left his job in Chesterville for the same position only in Markham. Arnold said, "I came from Toronto last night and I saw the lights on at the tennis courts and no one was playing on them," he said, "It took all I had not to steer my truck in and turn off the lights."

A man is only as good as the people around him," said Arnold, "And the pool staff and the arena and park staff really helped out. With all the groups and their efforts it's been most gratifying to work here."

"In my six years of working in Chesterville I took part in a lot of exciting projects," said Arnold, "And I want to thank everyone for letting me be a part of it. It will always be something that's special to me and it's something I'm going to always remember."

New soccer league getting off ground

(Staff) - Joining a mixed soccer league is becoming a reality for Chesterville youths with an already large number registered but there's still room for more.

A final registration for children interested in playing soccer in a league consisting of teams from Russell, Metcalfe and Winchester for ages 6-12 will be held May 3.

There have been already 70 of age children joined and another 15 of under-age kids.

Organizer of the Chesterville association, Leo Streng, was hoping for 70 to join but now is getting a bigger response than expected.

"I'll take as many as possible on," said Streng, "But not as many as Winchester has. They have 200 in theirs. But they have a lot of younger ones. I don't want to run a babysitting service."

But Streng has allowed younger ones to join. "I'll try and have something for them also."

Streng was attending a meeting to decide the nights that the teams would play and then discuss it with the parents but thus far he felt it would probably be Mondays for home games and Wednesdays for away games.

"I don't want to have too many away games," said Streng, "It will turn the parents off of it."

The home games will be played on North Dundas' soccer field and for now Streng thought he would practise the kids cross-field with portable nets so everyone will be able to practise at the same time.

"We are getting a good head start," said Streng. "We are about two weeks ahead of Winchester."

The last registration date is on Saturday from 10am-12 noon at North Dundas on the field which parents of the players should attend for a meeting. Rain date is Saturday, May 10, same time. Anyone interested in signing up is welcome to come.

Awards banquet winds up Jr. C Flyers' 'unbelievable' year

Brad Droppo (left) and Greg Van Dellan (right) received a shared award for the regular season's top goalies of the league as Bob Youmelle, president (centre) presents the award. Droppo also received the team's Rookie of the Year award.

(Staff) - An awards banquet was held on Saturday night at the Chesterville Legion Hall to honor the two-time Eastern Ontario Junior "C" Champions, the Chesterville Flyers.

Over 100 attended the banquet in which trophies were handed out to the team members for individual efforts.

Also decorating the head table were the regular season and the championship trophies.

The Flyers placed first in the league, just one point ahead of Embrun. The club defeated Embrun in a best-of-seven final series 4-2 to earn the championship trophy.

In an after supper speech, Flyers coach Mike Armstrong credited his players for their enthusiasm and hard work.

"To win two years in a row in any sport is unbelievable," said Armstrong. "For the amount of young players we had, it didn't seem to matter what happened last year. The other guys seemed to rub off on them.

"The pressure never got to these gentlemen."

Following Armstrong's speech awards were given out to individuals on the team...

Brad Droppo and Greg Van Dellan shared the Best Goalie award for the regular season while the coaches award went to Mark Guy.

Terry Barkley was the recipient of the Most Valuable Player award plus the Top Scorer award, Vince Cousineau won the Top Defence award and Todd Findlay, picked up the Improved Player award. Jerrold Boulanger collected the MVP of the Playoffs award and Brad Droppo was designated Rookie of the Year.

John Guy presented Mike Armstrong with a plaque for all his efforts with the team and praised the coach's method of teaching by demonstration rather than talk. Rene Boulanger also got up to thank the executive, "Without them", he said "there would be no team."

Geertsma elected head of Trap and Skeet Club

STAFF (Special) - The Winchester Springs Trap and Skeet Club held its annual election on April 22 and elected a new executive to serve for the 1986-87 shooting season. The newly elected officers are President Jake Geertsma, Vice-President Willard Holtz, Secretary Nick Gruich, and Treasurer Lawrence Holmes.

The club members unanimously passed a motion to affiliate the club with the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters. This affiliation will automatically provide the club with extensive liability insurance, the amount of the coverage increasing as the club membership increases. In addition, each individual club member will receive one million dollars of personal liability insurance from the OFAH which will cover any shooting or boating accident.

The annual club membership fee had to be raised from $5 to $20 to cover the extra cost of OFAH affiliation, but this rate will be lower for members under 18, senior citizens, and an economical family rate is available as well. Nineteen members have joined the club to date.

Also approved at the meeting was a more formal approach to the shooting activities. All future shooting events, whether practice or competition will require the presence of a range officer before shooting is permitted. In addition to the range officer, an adjudicator will be appointed to all future competitions to settle any dispute between the contestant and the scorekeeper.

While the club is basically for trap and skeet shooters, a 100 yard target range, complete with bench rest is available to members to sight in their rifles prior to the hunting season.

In addition to the existing shooting facilities offered to members, the club is considering the possibility of expanding into more shooting activities such as metallic silhouette shooting, air rifle competitions, a handgun range, muzzleloading and a multi-station archery range. Further expansion will depend on demand and support from Dundas county residents.

Events Chairman Steve Barkley has established the summer shooting schedule to include the first and third Tuesday of each month from May to August, commencing at 7pm. Steve is also working on a calendar of competitive events that will be open to club members and members of the public that can show evidence of adequate personal liability insurance.

Jerrold Boulanger (right) accepted an award for MVP of the playoffs from executive member Peter VanKessel.
