Salt problems continue to plague residents along Lakeshore Drive

by Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

BRINSTON — Residents near Universal Terminals are wandering how they can keep salt in the shaker instead of in their backyard.

Allegations about Universal Terminal's open salt storage practises last month resurfaced at a meeting to amend the township's official plan here last Thursday.

"My car was polluted with salt, sitting in the carport," said Harold Feley and Paul Taillefer complained again that his view of the river was blocked.

"You can see the salt glistening on the grass in my backyard," said Glena Schailee. "I can't believe that would be healthy."

During the week of October 16, the Ministry of the Environment (MOE) received complaints. Bill Horner, clerk of Matilda Township, sent a letter to the ministry November 1st concerning the unloading procedures and coverage of the salt piles.

After inspections of the site by a MOE representative, district officer Gerry McKenna wrote back November 15th, "During the last unloading, it was noted that the ship did not have the proper equipment to minimize these emissions.

Throught the persistent efforts of Mr. Rick Eamon of this office, unloading was not allowed until proper equipment was installed."

McKenna claims that after the equipment was installed, there was no evidence of salt pollution.

In the passt, wrote McKenna, the ministry monitored atmospheric salt emissions by the use of a device called a moss bag, and tested the ground water by well water samples.

Neither test revealed contamination. But the environmental officer admits there has been a much more significant problem with five boat unloadings this fall.

"Residents complained that a boat was unloaded in a high wind, that salt piles were left uncovered for days, and that equipment was improperly used," said Horner.

The ministry is again considering the use of moss bags, and will monitor water runoff in a storage pond and a river adjacent to the site.

MOE has as in previous years told the ship's carriers to advise them of the ship's arrival at the dock, and has requested the carrier and the ships to discontinue unloading if there are salt emissions.

Also, the company has again been requested to cover the salt piles within a 24 hour period.

"Failure to comply with this recommendation will result in the matter being referred to the Investigations and Enforcement Branch," McKenna writes.

However, apparently this rule does not apply if the pile is being transferred from one spot to another.

McKenna also met with Mr. Ben Poirier of B & M Carriers, and Mr. Tom Kaneb, President of Universal Terminals, informing them that failure to comply with the recommendations could result in charges.

Shipping companies have also been advised to use proper equipment at the site or stop operations.

History repeats itself

The day after Matilda Council met last Thursday, a boat came in and Mr. Horner was kept busy until 7 p.m. with calls from resident. Apparently, the ship boom was not lowered correctly, and the salt was starting to blow again.

After the ministry was advised of the boat's arrival at 5 p.m., an officer was sent to the site to ensure the boom was lowered properly. Unloading continued until 11 p.m.

McKenna reports there was no off-site evidence of salt after the last unloading.

Having second thoughts

Simon Baker, far right, appears to have gone blank at the last minute as he awaits his turn to become an official Eager Beaver at a ceremony held last week. While Craig Leclaire receives his new scarf James Gordon, centre, recites the Beaver Law, Promise and Motto, the criteria needed to graduate from a Kit to an Eager Beaver. Despite Baker's fear all 11 of the Kits successfully made their pledges.

St. Lawrence Parks hands over building to village of Morrisburg

by Mike Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG — There are several old buildings in the village that are put together with more than just lathe and plaster.

An integral part of their construction today is their history.

A typical example is the old St. Lawrence Parks Commission building on Second Street.

Last June, the commission emptied out its offices and moved its staff to a central headquarters near Upper Canada Village.

since 1955, area residents referred to it as the 'parks building'.

But this was only a part of the center's heritage. During the construction of the Seaway, Ontario Hydro used the facility for its offices.

Since the St. Lawrence Parks Commission had taken it over in the mid-50s, it was understood, although not documented, that the building would eventually be turned over to the village.

For its part, Morrisburg would let the commission use the land without paying any rent.

Last Wednesday George Speal, chairman of the commission, officially sealed the gentlemn's agreement and handed over the keys to village reeve Bill Dillabough.

Dillabough assured Speal and the commission that the building would be used in good faith.

"I can promise you Mr. Speal that the building will be used for community-minded organizations, like Cubs, Scots, or perhaps even a

Night rampage results in charges

MORRISBURG — Three area men are facing a total of 24 charges following a one-night rampage across the area that included the burning of a residence in Williamsburg in October.

Charged are, Allen Lortie, 19, of Morrisburg, Shawn McMillan, 18, of Williamsburg and Jeffrey Cauvier also of Williamsburg.

The three men are scheduled to appear in provincial court-criminal division to face eight charges each ranging from mischief to mail theft.

According to police on October 15 vandals destroyed private and public property during a one night frenzy, which included stealing a concrete lawn ornament in Williamsburg and setting fire to a home.

Const. Morgan Hill said vandals randomly selected targets and had no apparent motives.

Damage caused that night is estimated to be several thousand dollars.

One Williamsburg business had its veranda damaged after a group of individuals removed three out of four support beams that evening.

"A mail box belonging to the S.D.&G. Board of Education was also damaged," said the OPP officer.

"But it didn't stop there," he added.

That same night two other mail boxes were stolen and a large picture window was smashed at a residence in Matilda Township.

"The poor guy was asleep when he heard a potted-plant smash through his window," said Const. Hill.

The three men also face a charge of mail theft following a break and enter crime at the Iroquois post office in which several personal letters were taken.

Series of vandalism incidents

Woman forced to take down display

by Mike Thompson
Leader Staff

INGLESIDE — Sylvia Demary, owner of a video rental shop here isn't waiting for the end of December to take down her Christmas display.

"No, I'm not waiting that long," she says.

Her colorful plywood Santa Claus and her "Merry Christmas" sign, complete with lights and prominently placed in the front of her business is coming down.

In the last two weeks, vandals have smashed her Christmas lights, thrown large rocks at her store's windows and tried to pull down her sign.

"So before they try to break our Father Christmas I'm going to take him down," she says with her English accent.

This is the third time Demary's business has been vandalized within two weeks.

"The first time it happened they tried to rip off some of the lights we placed around the (Merry Christmas) sign and smashed almost all the bulbs, so we thought we could stop it if we put the sign up a little higher," she says.

The plywood painted sign was about four feet from the ground and was secured to the store's facia.

But within a week vandals damaged the display, breaking lights and throwing stones.

"We expected some kind of damage, after all children are children, but we never thought it would be this bad," she said.

A third and final attempt was made by Demary to protect the display but again it proved in vain.

"You know it really bothers me that we have to take our display down. We tried to decorate the place with lights and Santa Claus for the children and a few bad kids go and ruin it all."

Demary is convinced the vandals are teenagers because they were able to reach the almost 6 foot high sign.

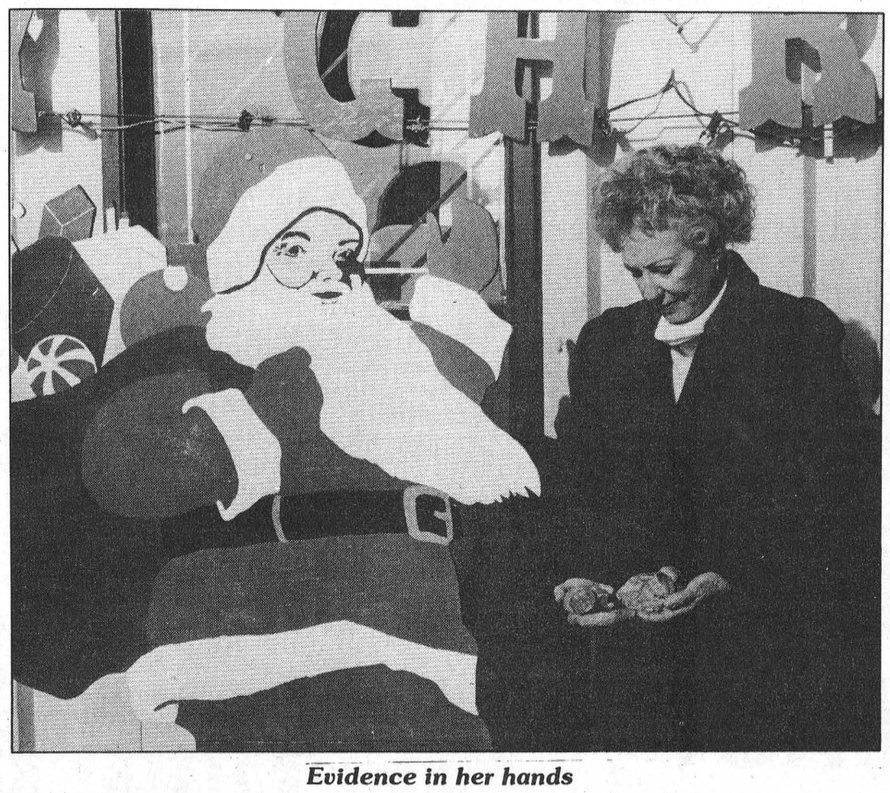
"And another thing is that the last time it happened I was working until about 9 o'clock and nothing was broken. Young children aren't out walking the streets that late."

Demary had called the police after the third incident and "they promised me they'd be patrolling my store during the night time."

But she says additional police protection isn't going to change her mind.

"I'm still taking it down. So far it has cost my husband and I almost $1,000 in repairs and decorations."

"You now it just breaks my heart to take him down but we can't take any more chances."



Evidence in her hands

Sylvia Demary, owner of Demary Video, looks at the rocks she found on the ground in front of her business near the Ingleside Shopping Centre last week. For the third time in two weeks, vandals have smashed her store's Christmas display and now she's decided to take Santa Claus down.

Up 4% over last year

Region bucks provincial trend, shows increase in tourist traffic

by Mike Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG — Tourism in the area is not only alive and well it's thriving.

For the fifth consecutive year, tourist traffic in the Seaway Valley is up.

Last week, the Seaway Valley Tourist Council released its preliminary figures for 1988 showing an overall increase of four per cent over last year.

"Some businesses reported increases and some reported decreases but overall I think we held our own," said Terri Lalonde, the SVTC manager.

Tourism in many parts of Ontario, including Ottawa show a slight decline this year.

"People are travelling more nowadays, there's more leisure time and I think that this area is one of their first considerations when they're thinking about vacationing."

Lalonde attributes part of the success to an improved product.

"I think people are realizing that we have a lot to offer them."

The SVTC monitors tourist traffic from Merrickville to the Quebec border and all along the St. Lawrence River.

Ironically some of the area's bread and butter attractions weren't as busy as they were in previous years but all reported an increase in revenue.

Attendance at Upper Canada Village in 1988 was down from last year with almost 244,000 people visiting the attractions compared to almost 248,000 in 1987.

However, the village did generate an additional $96,000 in revenue this year, with visitors spending about $1,006,000 in 1988 as opposed to just $910,000 in the previous year.

The same also applies to the Upper Canada Golf Course which had four per cent fewer golfers using the links but enjoyed a small but significant increase of three per cent in revenue compared to last year..

Campgrounds also managed to increase revenue this year by six per cent despite having five per cent fewer visitors.

In 1988 about 236,000 people camped at St. Lawrence Parks compared to last year when about 248,000 used the facilities.

The only area the commission showed any increase in traffic was the day-use at their parks.

Almost 243,000 people visited the parks, an increase of about two per cent over last year's 238,000.

The parks also managed to generate more than $261,000 in revenue, an increase of about 18 per cent over the previous year.

Pat Forrest, marketing manager for St. Lawrence Parks Commission, said the reason the attractions were able to increase revenue despite smaller crowds was due to the increased admision fees.

In 1987, adults paid $5.25 to visit the village and this year the cost rose to an even $6.00.

Green fees at the golf course increased seven per cent and now cost $14.

People using the campgrounds probably noticed a rise in their fees from $8.75 last year to $9.25 this year.

The same pallies to outdoor enthusiasts who paid an even $4.00 for a day pass as opposed to last year's $3.50.

Forrest said the increased fees were not at all responsible for the lower attendance.

"This summer we had unseasonably high temperatures and outdoor attractions traditionally suffer during hot spells," she said.

"Almost all of these figures can be directly attributed to the hot weather."

Another possible reason for the higher revenues could be the dramatic increase of overseas visitors who spend considerably more than their American friends.

According to the Ministry of Tourism, the number of overseas tourist increased by 14 per cent translating into almost a million-and-a-half people in 1988 while the number of American visits dropped by 3.2 per cent from last year representing under 20 million tourists.

Tourism is Canada's second largest industry creating almost 15,000 full and part-time jobs in the Seaway Valley. It also generates more than $240 million in revenue in the region.

BIA warns: stop or be charged

MORRISBURG — Wilf McAuley says there are too many local youths who aren't getting into the true spirit of Christmas.

After trying to dress the village up with some holiday decorations Thursday, the BIA project co-ordinator has realized that much of his work was in vain.

Last Friday morning McAuley had to pick up dozens of broken Christmas bulbs at the base of the two cedars in front of the municipal building which he and the village crew had carefully strung the previous day.

But McAuley says he's not going to stand for it again.

"I called the police and they promised they'll be keeping an eye out for anyone trying to steal or break anymore decorations," he says defiantly.

"And a message to anyone we catch, after I spoke to the BIA director lawyer Peter Remillard, anyone caught damaging decorations will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

McAuley is also appealing to parents to maybe address this situation with their children.

"All we're trying to do is make the village look a little better during the Christmas season and we don't need kids smashing our decorations at night."

"I'm also asking the residents of Morrisburg to help out. Anytime you think you see something or someone suspicious please call the police. After all this is your village too."

Inquest into industrial fatality

MORRISBURG — The Ministry of Labour and the Ontario Provincial Police Wednesday are looking into the industrial accident that claimed the life of Arthur Clark of Braeside, Ontario this summer.

Following the fatality on June 16, a coroner's inquiry was ordered, a standard practice into all industrial accidents.

Clark, a father of two, was killed when a fork truck he was using to unload palettes ran over him while laying sod at the new Hartford Retirement Home.

Investigating officer Constable Frank Wert says the inquest is designed to inviestigate the details of the accident and "to prevent it from happening again."

Dr. Graham Houze of Morrisburg is the coroner and he will have to ascertain just when, where and how the deceased came to his death.

A jury of five will make their recommendations following the inquest.

In Ontario a coroner's inquest is a public inquiry and therefore is open to the public.

The inquest is being held in the municipal building and starts at 10 a.m.

The Loalist

Motel still believes in old fashion hospitality

by Mike Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG — Who says the days of good old-fashion hospitality and service are gone.

Well, certainly not Robert and Ella Brownlee, a couple from Whitehead, Northern Ireland.

For many years, Robert Brownlee planned to return to South Dundas, the place where he grew up 30 years ago.

After landing in Toronto on September 9th, the couple rented a car and drove east to Morrisburg.

However, during the drive, the husband began complaining about some indigestion but disregarded it as butterflies in his stomach over the excitement.

It was now late, so they decided to book a room at the Loyalist Motel for the night and start looking for friends and family the following morning.

But the night wasn't over yet.

As the couple checked-in to the motel, Brownlee's stomach pains became so intense and so unbearable he collapsed.

Panic struck his wife and the desk attendant called for an ambulance.

Brownlee was rushed to the Winchester Memorial Hospital with what appeared to be a heart attack.

"He had all the symptoms," said Judy Sypes, an employee at the Loyalist for the past five years.

"He was pale, he couldn't breath and had pains in his chest."

After arriving at the hospital, Brownlee's condition was diagnosed as having a severe viral infection and he had to stay the night for more tests.

Loyalist manager Moe Jaffer remembers that night.

"She came in about 4 o'clock that night, she was very tired and very worried."

Jaffer said she talked to the staff for a few moments and then went to her room.

The following morning, Brownlee was released from hospital and ordered to stay in bed for a couple of days.

"I really felt sorry for them," said Sypes.

"They had come all this way to visit their friends and family and now he was forced to spend their holiday in the motel room."

In spite of the couple's plight, the staff tried to make the most out of a bad situation, often taking the wife shopping while others took care of her husband.

"He really never wanted anyone in the room because he was afraid one of us would catch the virus. But we still brought them clean towels and blankets everyday," Sypes recalled.

However, Brownlee's condition was not improving and they decided he should go to the Morrisburg clinic where he was prescribed some medication.

"The next mroning he felt slighty better and managed to walk downstairs for breakfast," said Jaffer.

"But he still didn't look very well. The entire time he was in the restaurant he looked pale, withdrawn and was constantly trembling," said Jaffer.

The next day the couple would have to travel back to Toronto to meet their flight.

"They weren't sure how they were going to get there. She couldn't drive in Canada because she was used to driving on the other side of the road I guess," Sypes said.

Again, the staff offered assistance.

"One of the girls even offered to drive them to the airport but she (the wife) decided she would practise here in Morrisburg and then drive to Toronto," recalled Sypes.

Four days later, the Loyalist received a phone call from the couple telling them that they had made it home safely and that the husband was feeling better.

"You know you meet a lot of people in this business but you never expect to hear from them again, but when she called we were all relieved," said Jaffer.

One month later the couple sent a 'Thank You' card to the motel along with six hand-stitched tablecloths for the staff.

"Boy were we surprised then. We were happy just knowing that they were home safely and then we each got this lovely tablecloth," said Sypes.

Jaffer, who's been managing the Loyalist for the past two-and-a-half years, said he's extremely proud of his staff.

"In my years of business I've never seen anything like this. The couple were very nice people and the staff treated them with dignity and personalized service."

Receiving their All-Round Cords from District Commissioner Janice Buter, left, at a special ceremony last week were, front l-r, girl guides Laurel Brister and Lynn Serviss and back, Sherri Dolan, Tara Hill and Lisa Sayeau. The ceremony also included the presentation of Canada Cords to pathfinders Nicole Spencer and Marianne Grenkie along with the enrolement ceremony from Tender Foot to Guide for Saskia Jarvis, Oeifa MacGuire, Lisa Adlington, Shana Dawley and Alana Kaddie.

Universal Terminal property rezoning passed

by Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

BRINSTON — Despite numerous complaints of the practise of salt storage at Universal Terminals Limited, an Official Plan amendment to rezone lands owned by the company was passed quickly here last Thursday.

The meeting was attended by about 15 residents who live near the site, Matilda council members, township planner Peter Hanna and planner for Universal Terminals, Brent Barnes.

The amendment redesignates a portion of the company's property south of Lakeshore Drive from industrial to open space, to provide a buffer zone between the industrial area and a residential hamlet to the east.

The amendment also designates lands in Lot 8 north of the Drive, lands south of the Drive in Lots 7 and 8, and the newly designated open space as areas under site control.

A holding zone designation will remain on these lands until the amendment is passed by the Ministry of Housing, a process which may take two to three months.

The site control by-law, which the planner now has in draft form, will specify guidelines to the company that the municipality may enforce - road widenings, parking area, loading facilities, driveways, fences, lighting easements, size and location of walls, fences, trees and berms.

The by-law is general in nature, and is subject to input from the public and the township before a specific site plan is approved by both the township and the company.

Resident questions designation of industrial area

Paul Taillefer, who lives near the plant, believed that the house he purchased was in a residential hamlet area, but according to the Official Plan it is in an industrial area.

Peter Hanna admitted that the industrial zoning may have been an error in the original Official Plan, and that when the township updates its plan, a redesignation to residential hamlet may be made.

Taillefer was also concerned whether the company is still requesting two permanent structures for storing fertilizer on the dock, which he objects to because they would obstruct his view year round, whereas the salt piles block his view only part of the year.

Hanna explained the matter is still before council and will be dealt with at a public meeting to remove the Holding designation from the industrial land in Lot 8.

To minimize the impact on the residents' view, Universal Terminals requested the open space zoning of lands to the south-east, and also asked council to prohibit the placement of permanent structures to the west through special industrial zoning.

Mellan reminded the group that the lands in question are owned by Universal Terminals, and that a court case a few years ago granted the company the right to stockpile salt.

Another resident feared the company would buy land in front of his house now owned by Ontario Hydro, which would be subsequently rezoned for industrial purposes.

"All of Lot 8 is in the holding zone, and if a change is to take place, there will be plenty of notice of a public meeting," said Hanna.

After the site control by-law is in place, the township may enforce it if "development" according to the Planning Act occurs, that is if there are actual alterations to increase actual size and usability of the area.

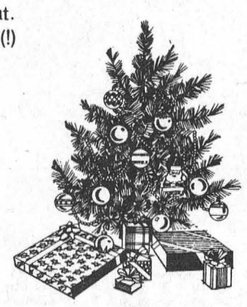
CHRISTMAS SAFETY TIPS

Brought To You By

BRISTER INSURANCE BROKERS LTD.

FIRE:

Christmas tree fires cause a number of tragedies each year. The following precautions are suggested:



- Cute the tree at an angle, well above the original cut.
- Select a tree that is green(!) and moist, that does not have falling needles.
- Use a secure base to avoid tipping.
- Ensure that the base of the tree is placed in a basin filled with water. Check this daily, and add more water as required. This practice will help to keep the tree "fresh".
- Use only CSA approved lighting. Avoid direct contact between the lamps and the tree.
- Keep all candles and flames from the tree. The use candles is a tradition at this holiday time: use them with care!
- Keep the tree away from all sources of heat (base heaters, fireplaces, etc.)
- Artificial trees should be made from fire resistant materials.
- Trees should be removed as soon as the holiday season is over. Remember — the risk of fire increases as the trees dry out!

Thank the school bus drivers

School bus drivers are not recognized often enough for the tremendous service they perform. It's a job that's a good deal more difficult than most members of the public realize. There's much more involved than simply driving the vehicle to and from the schools.

First of all, the passengers are children. Couple these kids' spontaneous enthusiasm with the normal hazards of the road, and you've got a job that would test the nerves of the most hardy of us.

It's a tremendous responsibility ferrying all these children every day, morning and evening. The hours are hardly enviable; ask anyone who has ever worked a split shift.

And how many of us, parents or others, take the time to personally thank the men and women who drive the school buses and carry our children to their appointed lessons?

More often than not, other drivers will complain about having to stop for a school bus, or ending up in a long line of traffic behind one.

And every day, and many times a day, drivers will break the law by passing a school bus while its red lights are flashing. If they could only realize how potentially dangerous this is.

Children boarding or disembarking will often, without thought, cross the highway, secure in the knowledge that the law protects them.

Unfortunately, there is no way to ensure that someone will not break the law, and as any school bus driver can tell you, that happens far too often. The schools are doing their best to educate the children on the dangers involved, but kids will be kids, and the responsibility devolves ultimately on each one of us.

The penalty, upon conviction, of breaking this law, is a fine and demerit points. That's not as much a deterrent as the realization that someone's child — perhaps your own — could be killed by your one thoughtless or impatient act.

So, during this Safe Driving Week, and all year long, give a special thought to those big yellow and chrome vehicles. And while you're about it, pass a word of thanks along to the drivers. They really deserve it.

Important role for libraries

Far from being outdated by the influx of electronic communications and home computers, and other marvels of the electronic age, the printed word continues to gain steadily in its importance and influence. Newspapers and magazines are enjoying circulation booms far in excess of pre-television times, despite the fact that some periodicals have ceased publication, and that subscription prices have been forced steadily upward by inflation of wages, postage and other costs.

One might logically suspect that patronage of public libraries would have been in sharp decline during the last few decades, but the hard fact of the matter is that just the opposite is the case; libraries are increasing in number, improving immensely in their quality and in facilities offered, and the number of young readers, too, is steadily increasing.

It was, of course, the invention of the printing press which released all mankind from the long darkness of the Middle Ages. The printed pages told of the vast interesting world beyond the confines of the country villages, and the poverty-stricken, vermin-infested cities of those times.

The Mechanics' Institutes, among the earliest organizations in this country to provide accessible reading materials, opened the doors of learning to people who could not afford to purchase their own books. Many years ago, there was a Mechanics' Institute in Morrisburg.

Today's public libraries not only make the wide selection of books on their shelves available for a tiny fee, they have gone even further, in establishing story hours, films and other attractions for children, often with the help of volunteers; many libraries, too, have films available for public viewing. There are soft cover books for loan to readers. In short, the libraries have now become active participants in the complete education of the population. In our area, the Tri-Counties Library and the Eastern Ontario Library have made immense contributions to the information and the learning freely available to every resident of the district.

Radio and television are certainly valuable lines of communication in our modern society, but the percentage of total time which these media devote to cultural and informative programming is not too impressive. Our public libraries have an important role to fill by making available those great works which have formed the basis of our language, our culture, our society. They are filling that role admirably.

How to keep Christmas

Last Sunday marked the opening of the season of Advent in most Christian churches. Traditionally, this has been a four-week time of preparation for the Feast of Christmas. Millions of people throughout the world will be preparing for this joyous day, and many of them with no thought or concern for its real meaning.

Many years ago, Henry Van Dyke penned some observations about observing Christmas and "Keeping Christmas". Here is the message from this latter-day "Wise Man":

"It is a good thing to observe Christmas Day. The mere marking of times and seasons, when men agreed to stop work and make merry together, is a wise and a wholesome custom. It helps one to feel the supremacy of the common life over the individual life. It reminds a man to set his little watch now and then, by the great clock of humanity which runs on sun time.

But there is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day, and that is keeping Christmas.

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellowmen are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness — are you willing to do these things, even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and desires of little children; to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends love you, and to ask them whether you love them enough; to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open — are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death — and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nearly two thousand years ago is the image and brightness of Eternal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you can keep it for one day, why not always? But you can never keep it alone."

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles
by Bonnie McNairn

The Morrisburg Shopping Centre was to undergo a few changes in the new year, the greatest change being the expansion of the Bank of Nova Scotia which had purchased the property of Edie's House of Fashion. Johnny Thompson's Dominion Hardware was purchased by Edie Gratton who was moving her business next door to that location.

Efforts to organize a Kinsmen Club in Morrisburg were underway thanks to an all out effort by the supporting club in Cornwall. Kinsmen is basically an organization for young men, from every occupation and the only stipulation is that members must be between the ages of 21 and 40.

Robbie Simpson of Morrisburg and Angela Lazzari of Cornwall were preparing to compete in the juvenile dance category in the sectional skating competition in Cornwall. Winners in Cornwall earned the right to advance to the nationals.

Lions' Jim "Sudsy" Whelan was comfortably out front in the St. Lawrence Jr. B Hockey division scoring race with 29 points, followed by teammate Mark Beaupre with 24 points.

After more than 40 years of serving Morrisburg, Johnny Thompson was closing the doors of his commercial outlet in the Shopping Centre. His first business was located on main street in Morrisburg between Chas. Colquhoun's Grocery Store and the Beamish Store along the north side of the street. He had graduated to his commercial establishment after operating a news and magazine stand for a number of years. His first store opened in the heat of the days of Dr. Mahlon Locke, who was attracting thousands of people to the area seeking cures for various crippling diseases. The store offered records, record players and radios and a complete repair serivce. In 1957 Thompson's was one of the first commercial outlets to re-locate in the new Morrisburg Shopping Centre. A decision to expand into the hardware business resulted with him signing on with Dominion Hardware.

Headlines in the November 29th, 1968 issue of The Leader read Be Sure to Vote Monday. In Morrisburg Carlton F. McInnis and Gordon W. Thom (incumbent) were seeking the reeveship while Paul Barkley and Ed Jones were after the deputy-reeve position. Seven men were seeking three available council seats including John Allison, Earl Baker, James Robert Bright, William Dillabough, James Langabeer, Bertrum Tippins and Bruce Tuttle. Junior Casell, Lawrence Coligan and John Thompson were seeking hydro commission seats.

At the Dominion, prime rib roast was 88 cents a pound and a 10-pound bag of yellow onions was 48 cents.

In the first sentence of this kind in Ontario, Magistrate J.B. Hunter handed out an intermittent licence suspension to a person found guilty of impaired driving.

The November 28th, 1958 issue of The Leader reported that Carole Wingard was valedictorian at the Morrisburg High School commencement exercises. Honour graduation diplomas were presented to James A. Hummel, Eileen A. MacGregor and Kay Frances Salmon. Jamieson Memorial Scholarships were presented to Dick Tindal for coming first in Grade 11 and to Judy Ing for coming second. In grade 12 the recipients were Carol Wingard with a 91.3 average and Myran Beckstead was second.

Incumbent George E. Beavers, Gordon W. Thom and George E. S Smyth were all running for the position of reeve in the village of Morrisburg. Beavers was seeking his eighth term as reeve. Seeking positions as councillors were S. Leonard Belaire, Lawrence B. Coligan, J. Dain Connor, Harry B. Duvall, J. Arthur Edgerton, W.A. Wallace Guay, Lorne Laurie and Willard Steinburg.

The December 3rd, 1948 issue of The Leader reported that Oscar Couglar had been acclaimed reeve in Williamsburg township. George Hess and Frank Darling were running for deputy-reeve and Bernice Froats, Bernice Gallinger, Keith Schell and Donald Kyle for councillors.

At the north End Grocery on Station St. potatoes were 39 cents per 15 pound and laundry starch was seven cents a pound.

K.G. Lough had taken over the New Shell Oil Co. Station at the corner of Main and Lock Streets.

The Morrisburg Junior Hockey Club, to be known this year as the Cameos, was entered in the St. Lawrence League along with teams from Brockville, Prescott, Cardinal, Iroquois and Cornwall. Their sweaters were sponsored by Jas. Loucks of the Cameo Theatre.

The December 2nd, 1938 issue of The Leader reported that Fred Broder and George D. Howith were running for the position of reeve in the village of Morrisburg. Councillors J.E. Christensen, John Harback, Richard Morrash and James R. Reddick had been acclaimed as had J.H. Meikle and Alex Shannette as hydro commissioners. Having completed his term, Reeve Arthur Flynn was retiring from municipal politics and was not expected to return as long as he held the office of Counties' Solicitor. Mr. Flynn was long to be remembered as the reeve who purchased a diesel engine as a permanent supply of power for Morrisburg, rather than purchasing hydro. At the time the main source of power was the lower hydraulic plant with a generator having a capacity of only a little over half the required load with the result being that a great deal of the time, the little plant had to be shut down. A lot of people, however, were not in favor of purchasing the electric power supply, and Mr. Flynn, with the diesel engine his maor election issue, was elected by a large majority. He had been serving Morrisburg for six years.

Helen Becker, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.P. Becker was united in marriage to Garnet Weegar, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Weegar. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C.R. Cronmiller and the couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill of Bouck's Hill.

Re: FAMILY HOME PROGRAM

The Family Home Program has been in operation for the last year and a half. The Family Home Program is a division of the S.D.&G. Developmental Services Centre which is an umbrella agency offering services to developmentally handicapped persons. What is a Family Home? A family in the community who is willing to open their home to a developmentally handicapped adult (called homesharers) and share their every day life with this individual.

The family (called home providers) must be willing to include the adult in every possible aspect of their lives. Over the last year and a half, the staff has been quite busy. This program, at this time, consists of eight (8) families living in Cornwall area and within the Three (3) United Counties who are sharing their homes. To date, the (10) homesharers have been welcomed into these homes.

The program is doing well and is constantly growing. A new recruitment campaign has just been launched and will continue through until March 1989. If you are interested and feel you would like to be part of this unique program contact the Family Home Program at 937-3072 for more information and you could be a home provider.

Dear Sir:

Ontario's animal owners are threatened by a radical animal rights bill supported by Noble Villeneuve, M.P.P. for Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry and Al McLean, M.P.P. for Simcoe East.

N.D.P. Bill 129, "an act to regulate the care of animals kept for exhibition or entertainment," could cause extreme hardship for farmers in general, including pet owners, operators of fall fairs, and race tracks etc., an almost never ending list.

This is by far one of the worst pieces of legislation that I have ever laid my eyes on. It gives the provincial government dictatorial powers with no provisions for compensation, or any form of appeal short of our court system. There is nothing democratic about this bill that has now passed second reading and is being quietly slipped through parliament with no real opposition.

This bill is being sponsored by Mr. Ed. Philip, N.D.P., Etobicoke-Rexdale and the fanatic animal rights movement, Including the Toronto S.P.C.A. that was recently taken over by the extreme animal rights group known as ARC II. That fact alone, should cause any responsible Ontario citizen to have some second thoughts about supporting this radical bill.

Under the provision of this bill, any Ontario animal owner may be required to try and obtain a permit to keep their animal, which could be denied. Only "a circus or a pet shop," will be exempt from this legislation in its present form, and stiff penalties of up to $25,000 may be levied against offenders.

Only in communist Russia, you say, not so if this is any example of how our system works. Write, or phone your M.P.P. and demand that this bill be stopped before it's too late.

Let those so called legislators know that this is no longer the best kept secret in Queen's Park and you do not support it.

Sincerely,

Murray Killman, U.E.

Mutual Products not to close, says Wageman

by Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG — As rumours go, there is some truth and some untruth in a story that's been flying around town lately, and reached Matilda Council chambers last Thursday.

Victor Wagemans, co-owner of Primavit, a veal calf farm located east of Morrisburg, announced last Monday that the farm would be closing temporarily due to the unprofitability of veal calves.

'Primavit' jointly owned by Victor and his brother Water, employs three workers and has an annual production of 1650 calves. Ever since Wagemans made his announcement last week, a tale has spread that Mutual Products Ltd. located in Morrisburg's east end, was closing.

Victor Wagemans is also president and manager of Mutual Products Ltd., but the company is owned by J.C. Winslow, a resident of the United States. Wagemans says that Mutual Products, a company of 22 employees which manufactures calf milk replacer will not be closing.

The troubles at 'Primavit' began when the cost of the major ingredient in calf feed, skim milk powder, went sky high last year due to world market prices.

"In the last few months we have sustained losses at Primavit, and we anticipate further losses for the next six months to a year, so we are temporarily closing the farm," Wageman explained.

the farm," Wageman explained.

"This has nothing to do with free trade. In fact, we've had free trade on veal products for quite a while in Canada."

Wagemans added that although veal producers are having hard times now, they are acquainted with difficult times from previous experience.

A research farm located on Lightning Road and connected with Mutual Products, which Wageman also operates, will not be closing. The farm employs five people and has an annual production of 2,000 calves.

"Since the farm is a research operation and not a money-making venture, it will not be closing," said Wagemans.

pre-school."

"Again I thank you for honoring the commitment made several years ago."

Following the brief ceremony Dillabough conceded that there were already a number of groups that were interested in using the facility for recreational and leisure activities.

"It's going to be used by the people of Morrisburg and I'm happy about that."

Economic report stresses tourism

MORRISBURG — South Dundas has a unique story to tell, and it should be packaged so that people who come here can understand it, according to a report from Totten, Sims Hubicki Associates presented here Tuesday morning.

A preliminary 50 to 60 page report by the consulting firm is now being studied by respresentatives of the four municipalities who make up the South Dundas Economic Commission - Iroquois, Morrisburg, and the Townships of Williamsburg and Matilda.

The report is a background study or inventory of the local area compared to regional conditions, with some strategies for industrial and economic development, and will cost $25,000 when completed.

Starting from the historical development of the area as one of the earliest Loyalist settlements and a farming community radically altered by the passage of the Seaway, initial recommendations were made for a development strategy.

In construction of the Seaway, Ontario Hydro purchased the strip along the river to prevent development in a flood prone area, and lands are still restricted by covenants which limit tourist or commercial growth.

"Economic development should recognize the importance of hamlets in the rural area, which should be strengthened to encourage future growth," said the consultant. But more industrial uses are not permitted in hamlet areas without an amendment to the official plan, and a major obstacle to development in rural areas are complicated planning procedures which scare away potential industries.

Much waterfront area is designated as hamlet, but could have small scale tourist or commercial uses if changes were made to the official plan.

One of the characteristics of the area is a relatively strong but concentrated industrial base with a declining rural sector. Nine firms employ one-third of the work force in the four municipalities.

Between 1981 and 1986, employment in accommodation and food services grew in South Dundas by almost 12 per cent, although tourist facilities are somewhat limited here. Tourism would be excellent for the area as it attracts money from outside the area, creates spin-off effects and improves the qulaity of life for the local people, which in turn attracts more business to the community.

The major potential for tourism lie in the area's unspoiled character and heritage attractions, its local heritage buildings, rustic atmosphere and undeveloped waterfront.

The present major facilities are Upper Canada Village with 600 seasonal employees, 115 full-time jobs, and the Golf Course, the Bird Sanctuary, Upper Canada Playhouse, Crysler Farm, Battlefield Park and Prehistoric World.

Iroquois Locks is a drawing card, but could be developed more. Also, there is a need for a year-round tourist attraction. More emphasis could be placed on heritage and historical sites, with a local museum set up with a history of the area as one of the first Loyalist settlements, and the subsequent flooding in 1958.

Perhaps a waterfront park with a museum could be set up with a "Lost Villages" theme which fascinates many people. More accommodation at the waterfront - a marina, and shopping and eating facilties could also be built.

'Lost Villages' Theme

Joan Fader, representing Iroquois, expanded on this point. "So many people ask what was here before the Seaway, and want to know where the old town was."

Glen Cunningham, representing Williamsburg Township stated there was a separation between the historic thinking of the government and the local people, and that it was difficult to get people to take an interest in historical things.

But the consultants thought the historical theme an important one to stress and that people could be educated to appreciate history. A video to be used in a tourist machine, portraying the villages at the turn of the century was suggested.

Even a waterfront amusement park or slide was briefly touched on but according to the consultant could be an unprofitable venture. "They tend to be expensive and are a spin-off effect of a major attraction rather than a drawing card to entice people to the community," he said. Other ideas in the report were "alternative" vacations, a major fair and or museum to draw out the agricultural heritage of South Dundas. Bus tours could be promoted, and boat tours set up. More marina facilities could be negotiated through Ontario Hydro.

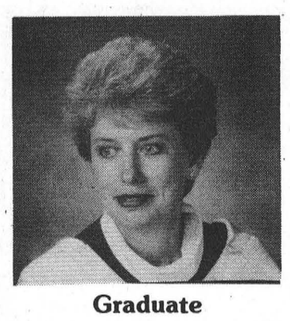
Accommodation a problem

Accommodation at present is limited with three motels adjacent to the Village, two hotel-motel facilities in Morrisburg and one motel in Iroquois. There are also a number of camping and trailer sites, two under the St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

However, there is no large accommodation facility except for Paddy's Inn, which is open only in the warm months.

The area could use a variety of small scale accommodations, such as bed and breakfast, country inns and working farm vacations.

Transportation in the region is excellent with access to Highway 401, Highway 2, the CNR, other major roads, and two international bridges to the United States at Prescott and Cornwall.



Graduate

Mrs. Foster Hanson (nee Kaye Salmon) graduated from Trent University with honors during the Fall Convocation. Many family members from the area attended the ceremony in Peterborough. Kaye's sister, Ellen from Allentown, P.A., as well as her grandson Ian were present to celebrate the happy occasion. 48c

What is The "Alliance?"

The Christian and Missionary Alliance is a missionary denomination committed to worldwide evangelism and discipleship. This is reflected in our commitment to plant churches around the world, to concentrate on evangelism and to train and send into service only those who are sound in faith, filled with the Spirit of God and have a passion for reaching those without Christ.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance is committed to good stewardship. In the use of missionary money, we practice economy consistent with efficiency.

The Alliance message is that the person of Jesus Christ is adequate to meet the needs of the whole man. He is exalted as:

- ☐ The living Word of God
- ☐ The supreme Revelation of divine love
- ☐ The sacrificial Lamb of God who alone provides salvation for mankind.
- ☐ The sufficient One for every need of body and soul; the only hope for a world of lost people.
- ☐ The Coming King

Our emphasis on the person of Jesus Christ grows out of an unswerving loyalty to the authority and inerrancy of Scripture. Our emphasis on holy living and the Holy Spirit's power for service grows out of the clear teaching in the New Testament epistles and the teaching of Jesus Christ Himself.

South Dundas Christmas exchange organizes drive

by Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG — The Christmas spirit has once again touched the residents of Morrisburg and the surrounding area.

"Many people like to give to the needy at Christmas time," said Robin Lane, an organizer of the South Dundas Christmas exchange, "and this year, an especially worthwhile project is underway in our own community."

"We're looking for cash donations for Christmas dinners, non-perishable items like canned goods, and gifts for the children," she added.

The cash which is to be sent to Christmas Exchange, c-o Rev. Allen Tysick, Brinston, Ontario, will be used to buy 10 pound bags of potatoes, hams and other makings for Christmas dinners.

Many organizations will be involved - Morrisburg and possibly Iroquois merchants will have bins in their stores the collect the items, and the Bank of Montreal in Williamsburg will have a box for non-perishable goods and toys.

Monday, December 19th is the deadline for hampers which are to filled in Matilda Hall Tuesday morning, and may be picked up Tuesday afternoon. Some baskets will be delivered to the recipients' homes.

A representative of the United Churches Social Services checks the applications to see that the baskets are going to those truly in need, and that there is no duplication.

A loosely formed group has been devoted to making Christmas baskets for several years, but will be working more closely together this year to avoid some inequities of past Christmas giving.

Mrs. Harry Pepers, a Morrisburg representative of the Catholic Women's League, is involved in organizing the exchange with Reverend Allen Tysick, of Brinston United Church.

Other Morrisburg churches represented are Lakeshore United, the Anglican Church by Reverend David Crawley, the Presbyterian Church by Reverend Bruce Kemp, and St. Lawrence Evangelical Lutheran Church by pastor Christine Mussar.

Reverend Terry Pitt of the Evangelical Church in Morrisburg is to approach his congregation about joining the exchange. Williamsburg United Church will be represented by Reverend Ted Power, and Iroquois churches have been asked to play a role.

The Iroquois Lions Club, represented by Mr. Harry Gilmer, the Morrisburg Lions Club, and Beaver Dental Products Limited are participating in the project.

The students of Seaway High will also be adding the items they have collected from their food drive.

A meeting to organize the final details of the exchange will be held next Wednesday at 12:30 p.m., Mrs. Harry Peper's home, 60 Kyle Drive.

Ramona the brave shown at library

IROQUOIS — The Iroquois Public Library presents RAMONA THE BRAVE, with Erewhon Theatre Company, at the Civic Centre, Dundas St. & Elizabeth Dr., on Friday, December 2nd at 7 p.m. Admission is Series Pass, or $2.00 at the door.

This hilarious play is based on Beverly Cleary's popular "Ramona" series, and includes excerpts from "Ramona the Pest", "Beezus and Ramona", "Ramona Quimby, Age 8", "Ramona Forever" and "Ramona the Brave". The characters and settings of these books are popular with young readers because they so closely mirror modern life in Ontario. Erewhon's adaptation of this series makes their favourite characters larger than life, and features the most relevant of Ramona's heartwarming adventures.

The husband and wife duo of Santo Cervello and Kathryn Popham began ten years ago in Vancouver where the two met while pursuing careers in theatre. In 1979, in Toronto, they established Erewhon Theatre-which has since grown to three companies of two people each, in addition to Kathry and Santo. Erewhon recently branched out into television production, and their 13-part series "Br'er Rabbit Stories" is now playing on broadcast television in Singapore, London (Ontario) and Windsor.

Everyone is invited to the show, which is sponsored by your public library, the Ontario Library Service - Rideau, the Ontario Arts Council, and Outreach Ontario, a programme of the Ministry of Culture and Communications.

And a one and a two . . .

Conductor Mike Nowickyj leads the Seaway District High School band at a Christmas Concert last week at Morrisburg Public School. As part of their tour the band will be performing on December 7 at 7:30 p.m. at Seaway District High School with the money collected going to the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital.

OPP report

IROQUOIS — A local woman suffered minor injuries Friday when her car was struck by another vehicle along Highway 2 just east of the Iroquois Shopping Centre.

Mary Bury of Morrisburg was travelling east on the highway when another vehicle, driven by James Murphy of RR 1 Brinston left a private driveway and collided on her driver's side.

Both vehicles sustained moderate damage.

IROQUOIS — An Ingleside couple were injured in a motor vehicle accident Friday after their car was rear-ended by another on Highway 2, east of Iroquois.

Police say Basil Hollister and his wife Beatrice suffered minimal injuries when their vehicle stopped to enter the Brinston Road junction along the highway and collided with a pick-up truck driven by Donald Merkley of RR 1, Iroquois.

They were treated and released at the Winchester Memorial Hospital.

MORRISBURG — Police are investigating a weekend break and enter crime that occurred at St. Mary's School.

According to the police nothing was apparently stolen but vandals ransacked the school, spraying paint all over class rooms and disconnecting televisions and computers.

"So far the investigation has led us to believe that the culprits are not children but teenagers," said Const. Morgan Hill of the local OPP detachment.

Sunday evening the school's custodian was called in to clean the mess.

No damage estimate was available.

Willow basketry a satisfying hobby, and price is right

by Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

GLEN BECKER — A demonstration of an unusual craft was held here Saturday, as several area women gathered at Glow Cameron's home to learn the art of willow basketry.

Glow originally learned the art of basket weaving from a native woman at the Strathcona fair in Alberta, and recently took a course in Ottawa where she learned a variety of basket weaving techniques.

"I love to do things with materials that are free," said Glow. And with willow shoots to be had for the asking from a farmer's field, or the roadside, the price of materials is right!

Equipment can be purchased on a shoestring budget - all that is required is wax shoe or upholstery thread, a utility knife, and gloves to protect the hands while working with the shoots.

Baskets made by North Americans

Research shows that North American Indians have made baskets for centuries, perhaps as long as 10,000 years in the American Southwest. Europeans also brought this craft over to the New World.

In the nineteenth century in North America, utility baskets were commonly hand-made by part-time workers, but by 1900, gradually gave way to the factory-made variety, and other containers like paper bags.

However, a revival in handcrafts towards the end of the nineteenth century brought about a renewal of the craft as an art form, and basket-making, furniture making with hand tools, and quilting became fashionable.

During the Depression, willow or "stick" furniture was popular, and today is undergoing a revival.

Willow is a hard wood which comes in a variety of red, yellow and green hues which when woven together form a characteristic ruddy colour. Different ages of the plant are suitable for a variety of wares - six to eight month old shoots for baskets, and two to four year old shoots for making hoop backed chairs.

"Buff" willow baskets are made of a special kind of willow grown in England, then boiled to bleach it. The shoots may be purchased through a local supplier, since they are not native to Canada.

Other plants free for the taking can be used in decorative ware - grape vines make a sturdy basket. Dogwood, a ruddy colored plant, can be used in making the God's eye, a brace woven around the hoops of the willow basket.

Cool season best for cutting

Willow shoots should be cut from fall to spring, when there is little sap in the wood. Once cut, they will be fresh for use if kept moist in a dark cool place.

Baskets are easy to make and can be done while watching television. After some practise, a small basket can be made in two to three hours, and a larger one in four to five hours.

Two freshly cut willow sticks are bent into hoops and tied with strong thread to form the base of the basket. Secondly, spliced willow is woven around the hoops to form a brace, or God's eye.

Then four to five ribs are cut which are woven through the God's eyes to form a frame. Weaving the basket with quarter inch wide willow shoots is the easiest part of basket making.

Willow baskets turn out to be as individual as their maker, and are very versatile. They can be used to carry fruit and produce, and are strong enough to hold potatoes.

Glow's baskets are on sale in the Morrisburg Arts and Crafts shop during the summer, the Cornwall Gallery, and privately. She will be offering another basket-making workshop before Christmas.

If anyone is interested, telephone 543-3963.

Basket-weaving workshop

Joanne Van Moorsel of Williamsburg Township is shown here with a "buttocks" basket which is about one-third completed. After two hoops are joined to form a frame, and a decorative joint called a God's eye is added, one-quarter inch willow is woven under and over the hoops until the frame is filled.

Lions learn by their mistakes, forced to win in overtime

PRESCOTT — The Morrisburg Junior B Lions 4-3 overtime win against the Prescott Falcons here Friday night may not have had coach Kevin Casselman jumping for joy but it certainly had the fans on the edge of their seats.

The Lions were totally in command of the situation in the first and second periods, leading 1-0 after one and 3-0 heading into the final when the Falcons, taking advantage of some defensive mistakes, began to make a move.

They hit at 10:52 of the third to narrow the gap to two goals and at 18:30 they struck again to move to within one of the tie.

That came 11 seconds later from the stick of Brian Roberts and suddenly, what had looked like a Lions' win, became anybody's game.

But the Lions weren't about to be robbed of their victory and early in the overtime stanza, John Morrow slipped a pass across the front of the Prescott net, which was directed home by Sean Baker for the win.

The Lions opened the scoring at 8:06 of the first period on a goal from the rookie line of Ernie Beckstead, Greg Wells and Jason Smith, the latter two providing the assists.

Early in the second period it was Wells and Smith again providing the help, this time to team captain Sean Baker and the Lions were holding a 2-0 edge.

Randy Mullin finished off second period scoring at 14:23 with Johnny Morrow providing the assist.

The Lions were shutout in third period action by goaltender Dan Armstrong while the Falcons came back for the tie.

Carl Dietschweiler put the Falcons on the board at 10:02 and at 18:30 Bill Syrros cut the Lions' advantage to one.

With 1:19 to be played in the game, Kevin Anderson beat Lions' goaltender Andy Cummins to tie it 3-3 and force the overtime.

The Lions handled nine minor penalties and the Falcons eight. Rod Lemieux received a five-minute high sticking major and a misconduct and Falcons Paul Girard received a five-minute high sticking major at 13:58 of the third period.

Again this weekend the Lions have only one game and that's in Morrisburg Friday night when the Winchester Hawks come to town for an 8:30 p.m. match.

Hold three point lead in standings

Hills take firm grasp on first

MORRISBURG — A 5-3 victory over Veinotte's boosted the Hills winning streak to three games in Town League Hockey here Thursday night, allowing them to take a firm grasp on first place.

Hills have now moved ahead of second place Hummels by three points at 11 and eight respectively while the Flyers and Veinotte's are tied with five.

Thursday night action also saw Hummels produce a 6-4 victory over the Flyers.

Hills 5 - Veinottes 3

To keep their streak alive Hills had to come back from a 3-2 first period deficit. With Archie Mellan filling in for Jack Bjergso between the pipes, they shut down Veinotte's in the second (and final) period while they hit for three counters for the 5-3 win.

Tom Hodgson opened Veinotte's scoring less than a minute into the first period and four minutes later Gary Jarvis increased their advantage to 2-0.

Hills got one back from Calvin Elliott at 10:06 and at 14:07 Bill Lawlor evened it.

A Veinotte's goal from Hodgson with 1:31 left in the frame set the stage for the Hills come back.

At 8:20 of the second Sam Moss tied the game and at 12:48 Jim Whelan struck for what turned out to be the winner.

With 2:50 showing on the clock Barry Elliott provided the insurance tally and Hills hung on for the 5-3 win.

Hummels 6 - Flyers 4

Hummels was well on the road to victory in the first period of their game against the Flyers with a 4-0 first period lead but second period action created some doubt.

The Flyers turned it on in the second for four consecutive tallies and a 4-4 tie as the game headed into the final five minutes of play.

With 4:05 showing on the clock Bob Deleavey beat Jeff Fowler, who was filling in for David Black, for the winning goal and with 1:41 to go Allen Black added the insurance.

Scoring for Hummels in the first frame were Donald Black, Bob Deleavey and Allen McNairn with a pair.

Second period action saw Randy Casselman start it off for the Flyers, followed by two tallies from Blake Berry and a single from Gary Hess.

Atom C Lions run out of steam

MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg Atom C Reds ran out of steam in the second and third periods of an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game here Saturday giving up a 6-3 loss to the Metcalfe Twos.

The Reds kept pace with Metcalfe in the first period, the two playing to a 3-3 tie but Metcalfe pulled ahead in the second, with two unanswered tallies, and finished it off with a single in the third.

Brad Stevenson opened Metcalfe's scoring less than a minute into the game but the Reds came charging back with one from Chris Wilson unassisted.

At 9:10 of the first frame, Paul O'Brien gave the Reds a one goal advantage but then it was back in Metcalfe's Court for two in a row.

Mike Pilkington got the first one at 10:02 and a little over a minute later Ryan Thompson put Metcalfe ahead.

A goal from Jason Bailey with 1:18 left in the frame carried the two teams into the second with the score tied 3-3.

After that it was Metcalfe all the way, Cary Bekkers and Jaren Nixon counting in the second and Bekkers adding his second in the third period.

On home ice Monday night the Twos were dealt a 6-2 loss by the Metcalfe Twos, Mike Pilkington leading the Metcalfe effort with a three-goal performance.

Metcalfe built a 3-1 first period lead and increased it to 4-1 in the second.

Backing Pilkington were Eddie Waddell, Cory Bekkers and Jared Nixon.

Chris Markell and Rob Russell supplied the Twos' goals.

Morrow prevents Brockville shutout

MORRISBURG — A goal from Jeremy Morrow early in the first period of an Upper Canada Minor Hockey league midget A game here Tuesday night put the Lions on the scoreboard and prevented Brockville goaltender Steve Norton from registering a shutout.

The Lions were unable to handle the Brockville contingent, trailing 4-1 after the first period and 6-2 heading into the third as they headed for the 7-1 loss.

Brockville was first on the scoreboard at 1:16 of the first period and Morrow's goal, assisted by Derek VanBeilen at 1:52, evened it.

But from then on Brockville took charge.

John Dykes and Wade Mooney led the Brockville effort with two goals each and Steve Druize, Mike Sargent and Jody Klimschuck had singles.

Brockville was assessed 12 minor penalties and the Lions handled 13. Brockville counted three power play goals.

Peewee B

Force tie in third

MORRISBURG — A pair of third period goals did the talking in a Peewee B hockey game here Sunday night as Athens came back to force the Morrisburg Lions to settle for a 2-2 tie.

The Lions had led throughout much of the game with a goal from Chris Hallam, assisted by Ben Comfort early in the first period.

Midway into the third Shawn Hagerman struck for Athens and a minute late he was supported by a goal from teammate Hugh Patterson for a 2-1 Athens lead.

Sheldon Tryon scored for Morrisburg, forcing the 2-2 tie.

Bantam Cs putting it together, win four out of last six games

MORRISBURG — Coming off a tournament B championship in Kemptville last weekend the Morrisburg Bantam C Lions added a pair of wins and one loss to their record in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League play this week.

At the Kemptville tournament last weekend, the boys opened against Nepean with a 4-0 loss but then righted themselves in game two with a 4-2 victory over South Grenville.

"They played very lazy against Nepean," said coach Donnie Lewis. "But in game two they were out to play hockey."

The Lions counted twice in the opening frame and then added a pair in the second while South Grenville was good for a goal against Jason Armstrong in each of the second and third periods.

Scoring for the Lions were Ken Sayeau, with two, Chris Hanes and Chris MacDonald.

For the championship they met head on with Kemptville, and said Lewis, we knew we weren't going to get any breaks.

Came out charging

"The boys came out charging, you could tell they wanted this game."

The Lions carried a 3-1 lead into the second period and were ahead 4-2 as they headed into the final and the 5-2 win.

Ken Sayeau led the scoring with two goals and Fred Devaul, Chris MacDonald and Chris Hanes added singles.

Answering for Kemptville were Jason Mourato and Mike Dacre.

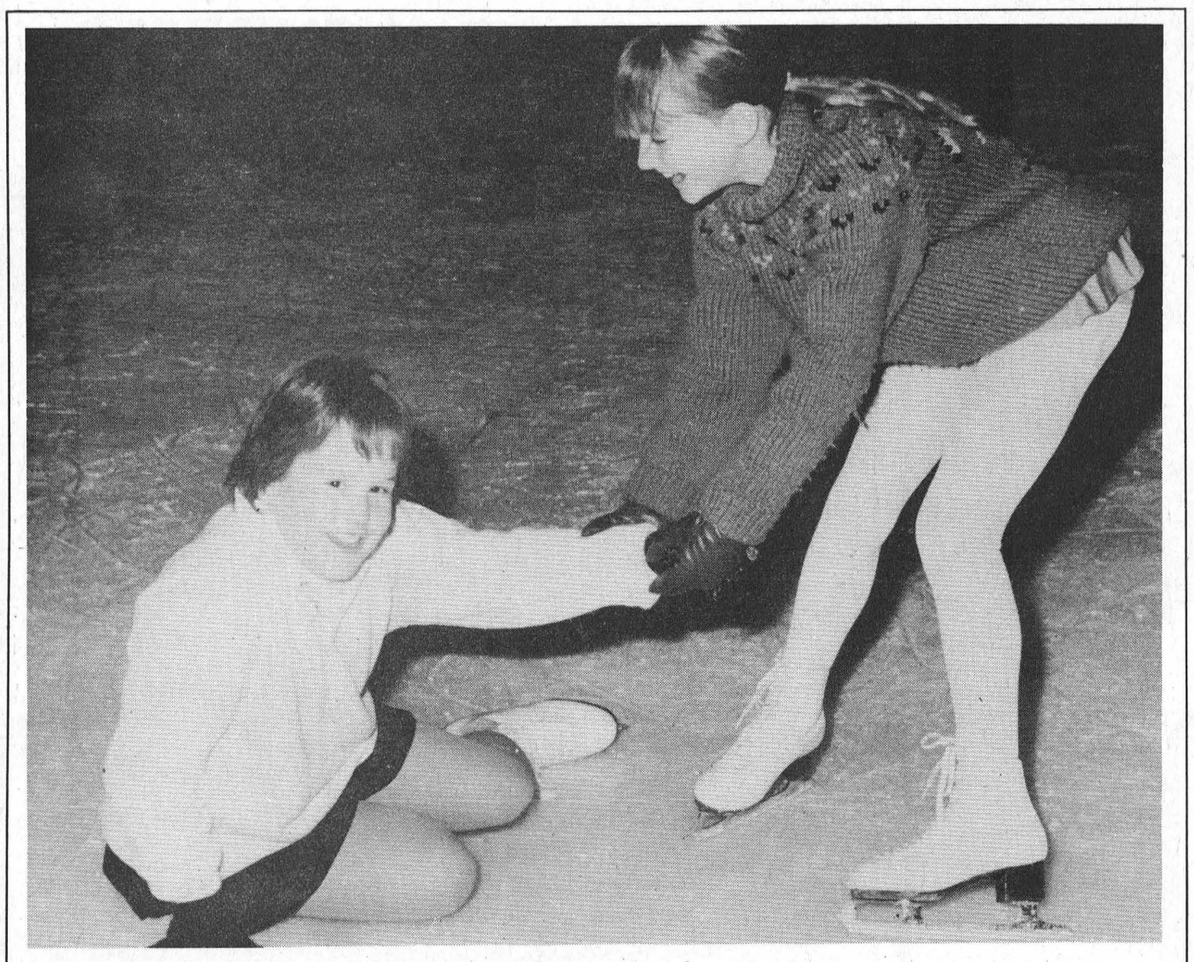
Start week with win

In league play, the Lions started the week with a 4-1 win over the Kemptville IIs but then fell victim to the Kemptville Is, 5-4. They finished it off on home ice Monday night with a 2-0 win over South Grenville, Jason Armstrong between the pipes for the shutout.

Against the Kemptville IIs the Lions led 2-0 after the first on goals by Chris Hanes and Dean Swerdfeger. Hanes hit again in the second and Sayeau finished it off late in the third for the 4-1 victory.

Saturday at Kemptville, Sayeau had two goals in the losing effort and Darrick Casselman and Fred Devaul added singles.

At Morrisburg Monday night Sayeau scored both goals against South Grenville.



A helping hand

There are a lot of ups and downs in the career of a figure skater as Tanya Green can probably attest to after a spill Tuesday. But the downs aren't so bad with friends like Tina Charlebois around to help with the lift back up.

Angels on top in two

MORRISBURG — Led by two goals from Camille McInnis and a shutout performance from goaltender Linda Magee, Charlie's Angels senior girls hockey team defeated the Embrun Panthers 3-0 in ROMEKS league action here Thursday night.

The Angels scored a goal a period enroute to the win, beginning with McInnis' first of two at 5:58 of the first.

She struck against at 9:52 of the second, both goals unassisted, and Valerie Robinson finished it with 4:42 left in the third.

Friday night at Chesterville the Angels handed the North Dundas Lady Demons a 6-1 loss, the Demons getting their lone goal late in the second period.

The Angels led 2-0 after the first frame and 4-1 heading into the final.

A good team effort highlighted the match with Kathryn Houze scoring twice and Kim McInnis, Tanya Mabo, Camille McInnis and Valerie Robinson adding singles.

Peewee Cs pack it in MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg Peewee C Lions were unable to overcome a 2-0 first period lead built by the Metcalfe Ones in Upper Canada Minor Hockey league action here Monday night.

The Lions did get one back early in the second period from Eric Massie with Blake Armstrong assisting but that was to be the only time they would beat Metcalfe goaltender Arron Sproule.

Metcalfe received their first period goals from Zedric Nezman and Mike Ion enroute to the 2-1 victory.

Curling Chatter

MORRISBURG — Twelve rinks competed in the Founder's Bonspiel at the Morrisburg Curling Club Saturday and when it was all over a Cornwall rink skipped by Keith MacGregor walked away with the top prize money.

Open to men's rinks from throughout the district the Founder's is one of our biggest bonspiels going back to the early days of the club.

Other members of the winning rink were Shawn Gannon, Steve Poitois and Dennis Thibeault.

Second place went to the Winchester rink of Glen Vasey, Ron Rutley, Brent Copeland and Doug Vasey.

Morrisburg curlers hung in with third and fourth sports going to Brooke Leightizer and Sid Morrell respectively.

Playing for Leightizer were Don O'Brien, Steve Wilson and Phil Thompson and for Morrell the members were Mike Hogan, Tom Tindal and Henry Swank.

The top four rinks all received money.

Coming up this Sunday is a junior curlers invitational bonspiel with 12 rinks from the area entered. Action should continue through most of the day.

The second annual Turkey Bonspiel sponsored by Mr. Grocer is scheduled for Dec. 10th. The draw is full and we are very pleased.

In fact the draw was full within a few days of it being posted showing just how popular the bonspiel was last year.

On December 11th three Little Rock rinks will be heading to Smiths Falls for the annual Santa Bonspiel there.

That's it for now, except for a reminder that the club is holding a New Year's eve party this year. Tickets are available at the snack bar.

It's time to do something constructive about affordable housing.

There is only one way to create affordable housing in this province—through constructive action.

The Ministry of Housing is taking constructive action through various programs, including our latest initiative, HOMES NOW.

This is the largest single non-profit housing initiative undertaken by the province.

HOMES NOW will provide the resources for non-profit corporations and cooperatives to develop appropriate housing for their communities.

This housing will be created through new construction, and through the purchase or lease of existing buildings.

For local organizations, including churches, service clubs and other associations who wish to form non-profit corporations, HOMES NOW provides grants for incorporation, and loans to help finance housing proposals.

Community action, in concert with the Ministry of Housing, will help meet the housing needs of Ontarians. Today and tomorrow.

All we need now is the involvement of your group.

Scouts visit Gettysburg National Park

MORRISBURG — During our recent Thanksgiving weekend over seventy Scouts (age 11-14), and leaders visited the Gettysburg National Historic Park in Pennsylvania. Troops represented were from 2nd Prescott, 7th Prescott, Morrisburg, Winchester, Kemptville, Iroquois and Chesterville.

This was a continuation of a bi-annual exchange with the Western District Scout Council of Boy Scouts of America that began more than 10 years ago.

The group left Canada on October 7th and returned on Monday, October the 10th.

While in Pennsylvania they were hosted by and camped with their American counterparts.

While there, one of the objectives was to hike about 15 miles along the Gettysburg Historic Trail. In addition they were taken into Gettysburg to tour the various museums and to learn first hand, in great detail, about the history of the American Civil War, and in particular, the Battle of Gettysburg which took place 125 years ago.

Part of the Aim of Boy Scouts is to provide the adults of the future opportunities for their social development. This type of adventure does just that.

The Scouts got the chance to meet and get to know their "peers" in the Americna movement. Quite often on these types of get-togethers lasting friendships develop, and this weekend was no exception.

Next May, the same American Scouts and leaders will be paying a return visit, as the St. Lawrence District Scout Council hosts them in a weekend camp.

Providing leadership in organizing the trip were district commissioner Jack Tennant, Morrisburg Scouter Bill Sheldrick and form District commissioner Allan Thom.

IN MEMORIAM

HUTT — In loving memory of my darling dad, and Grandfather (Grant), who passed away April 12, 1979 and my darling mom and grandmother Eunice who passed away Dec. 3, 1985.
Those precious years we spent with you,
No one can take away.
The love and memories you left behind
Are with us everyday.
Unseen by others, you are by our side
For we loved you to dearly, for death to divide.
Unspoken words, no outward show,
But deep inside we love and miss you so.
- Dearly loved and sadly missed by your daughter Lorna, son-in-law Charlie, grandsons - Randy and Chris Chesbro and granddaughter-in-law Carole Chesbro.
48c

GILLESPIE — In loving memory of a dear friend, Gladys, who passed away December 2nd, 1987.
Somewhere beyond the sunset,
Where happiness never dies,
You dwell in God's beautiful garden.
Amidst the blue of the skies.
And to us, who will always love you,
Your passing brought much pain
We will cherish you memory forever,
Until we meet again.
— Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Gertie Yates.
48pd

GILLESPIE — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Gladys, who passed away December 2, 1987.
Quickly and suddenly came his call
Her sudden death shocked us all
Dearer to memory than words can tell
The loss of a mother we loved so well.
— Sadly missed and always remembered by daughter Eileen, Eugene and family.
48pd

It was His will,
Within our hearts
You liveth still.
— Ever remembered by Lou and family.

ALLISON — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Malcolm who passed away December 3, 1986.
