Industrial shippers get 35¢ per cwt.

(Staff) - Indistrial milk shippers will be receiving an extra 35 cents a hundredweight for their product following Friday's announcement by the Canadian Dairy Commission that the target price for industrial milk has been raised from $12.94cwt. to $13.39.

The price increased is effective April 1, the beginning of the 1979-80 Dairy Year.

As a result of the increases, the support price for butter has risen from $1.32 a pound to $1.37 and the price of skim milk powder has gone from 78 to 81 cents per pound.

Translated into metric terms, the industrial milk target price has been increased from $29.37 per hectolitre to $30.17.

Accroding to an Ontario Milk Marketing Board official, the butterfat differential has also been increased, from 36.73 to 37.99 cents per hectolitre and the federal subisdy paid to producers will remain at $2.66 cwt.

However, at the beginning of the 1979-80 quota year - August 1 - the contingency levy on sleeve milk will be increased from 20 to 25 cents cwt. and the over quota levy will go up from $7.50 to $8cwt.

The national Cheese Import Quota will remain the same, at 45-million lbs. despite the request by the Ontario Milk Marketing Board that it be reduced further following last year's 5-million lb. drop.

The increase in the industrial milk target price is the second within the past 12 months with both coming since the start of 1979.

Price increases for class three milk (fluid creams, cottage cheese and yogurt) has gone up $1.03 from $25.73 to $26.40 effective April 1; class four milk (for ice creams mixes, confectionary products, puddings, soups and sterilized infant foods) also went up $1.03 from $25.03 to $26.06 April 1; the $1.03 increase for class 4A milk (specialty cheese) from $24.06 to $25.09 becomes effective April 15; milk in the 4B class (colby and brick cheese) will not increase until May 1 to give the industry time to adjust and no figures on the amount of the increase were available at press time; the same is true of class 5A milk (cheddar cheese), now at $23.35. Milk in classes 5 (butter, casein, milk powder, and evaporated milk) and class 6 (new food products) went up 80 cents from $23.03 to $23.83 April 1.

Fluid shippers will also get an increase for their product May 1.

Those shipping milk for table use will receive an extra 75 cents per hundredweight ($1.70 per hectolitre) to take the price of raw milk in Southern Ontario from $31.33 per hl to $33.03 and in Northern Ontario from $32.62 to $34.32.

This is a 5.4-per-cent increase and is equal to about two cents a quart. The price the farmer receives for a quart of milk

Finch Township sets $117,000 budget

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township council burned the midnight oil Monday night at its regular meeting saving the best business until the last - the budget.

This year the township will levy $117,000 for its own purposes, an increase of approximately $8,000 over the 1978 budget. In addition United Counties Council has set its 1979 rate at $61,790.27 for Finch Township. This is approximately $3,000 more than the 1978 rate, but until the school boards fix their 1979 rates these figures will not be translated into mills.

Drainage was the subject of discussion while tenders were scrutinized for three township drains.

Dietrich Brothers, Winchester, won the contract for the Shaver-Dunbar drain bidding at $6,826.40. Their figure was close to half the cost from the highest bidder, Menard Construction, Green Valley.

For the Carruthers and Farley branch of the Whistle Creek drain, Armstrong Equipment and Rentals, RR1 Winchester, won the contract. While they bid $11,934.40 for the work, Menard Construction bid the steepest estimate of $19,871.

The tender for the Earl McMillan drain went to Villeneuve and LaRoux, RR1 Maxville who costed the drain at $25,167.90 - a $13,000 difference to Menard Construction's estimates.

Council also accepted a tender submitted by A.L. Blair Construction Limited for crushed rock which will be loaded on township trucks for road purposes. However, because it was the only tender, it is subject to approval by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

In other business, fire chief J.G. Benoit recommended a reserve fund be established to purchase a centre-mounted fire truck with a pumping capacity of 650 gallons per minute. The truck is a basic requirement specified by the Fire Marshall's Office for departments belonging to the Mutual Aid Association. Crysler Fire Department owns a truck with a pumping capacity of 450 gallons per minute when most local fire departments have trucks with a capacity of 625 gallons per minute.

In his report to council Mr. Benoit said the department had answered 10 calls during 1978 and conducted 11 training sessions for a total of 238 hours.

Among the items he recommended acquiring to improve the departments efficiency he listed extinguishers, uniforms, ladders and two radios to complete a communication system. He also suggested dividing the costs of a projector and films for training with Morewood Fire Department. None of the new equipment is covered by government grants.

He also asked council to widen the parking lot on the west side of the fire station to ease the problem of parking.

Now that it is spring council is hearing about fence damage due to snow removal. Both Bill Chamberlain and Henry Arts whose properties border on north-south roads east of Crysler sought a solution to the problem from council.

Mr. Arts told council he was willing to sell some of his land to the township of it would widen the 66 foot road to 86 feet.

Mr. Chamberlain was willing to move his fence back 10 feet to avoid snow removal damage but was dissatisfied with Reeve Charles E. Johnstone's suggestion that he do the work himself.

"I feel I'm being trespassed on and kicked around....But because it's the government it's okay to damage someone else's property.

Council agreed to pay for the fence wire and reimburse Mr. Chamberlain for the land if the road were widened. However, without a ditch, Mr. Chamberlain said, the problem would continue.

He decided to wait for a decision from council before deciding to consult his lawyer.

Deputy-reeve Hank Zwirek expressed a need for a solution. "We just need one to take us to court" and more will follow suit.

Township, village reach sewer bill pact

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Winchester Township council has agreed to use the municipality's tax rolls as a means of collecting arrears from township residents who are hooked into Chesterville's sewage system.

Township council signed an agreement to this effect at Monday night's meeting at the request of the Chesterville council following a dispute between the village and two South St. residents over sewage payments.

The agreement only covers the trunk line on South St. east. The use of other village sewer lines by township residents will require separate pacts.

The agreement allows township residents to connect to the South St. line upon payment of a $50 connection fee. Landowners will be responsible for the connection from their lot line to their building and connections must be carried out under the supervision of a village offical.

They will pay the current base rate plus two-thirds of the base rate on a frontage basis in lieu of the original connection charge.

Monthly billings will be carried out by the village. The township will only use its rolls to collect arrears.

Other than the agreement with the village, council dealt with a mixed bag of minor items Monday night.

A resolution was passed to apply a one-third mill levy on agricultural land to the Dundas Federation of Agriculture.

The motion was passed at the request of federation representative Dan Harkin, who said each of the county's four township councils is being contacted by the federation for the 1979 levy. Winchester Township's levy will raise between $700 and $800.

Mr. Harkin explained how the federation uses its money telling council, "We're doing some pretty good work to support the farmer".

In the past year the federation has organized a hearing and presentation on the effect of agriculture in Dundas of a power generating station and Mr. Harkin said the organization will "continue our pressure to provide information from Ontario Hydro".

Council passed a resolution making it unlawful to discharge firearms in the sanitary landfill site and has forwarded the motion to the Winchester detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police for enforcement.

A tile drainage application for $15,000 was accepted on the condition of the availability of funds for 1979.

The township now has over $200,000 in requests, although it has not yet received any word from the Ministry of Agriculture and Food on its 1979 allocation.

Deputy-reeve Jim Sullivan was appointed to represent the township on courts of revision for the Johnston and Mullin drains in Mountain Township and courts of revision for the Steele and Quart drains, branches of the Henderson drain, will be held in the township office April 23.

Council was told its interim tax payment had yielded $117,839 to the end of March, allowing Winchester Township to pay $96,000 in levies to the separate and public school boards without having to borrow any money.

The township has also paid the first installment of its 1979 levy to the United Counties. The township's levy this year is $121,000, up $17,000 from 1978.

Village wants answers from MOE

(Staff) - Village council wants to know why Chesterville's name did not appear on the list of 115 municipalities included in a new federal-provincial agreement to provide funding for projects related to neighborhood preservation and water and sewage facilities.

The agreement, in effect for two years and known as the Community Services Contribution Program, was signed in late March and a preliminary list of municipalities eligible for funding from the two senior levels of government was released at that time.

Chesterville, which has been requesting provincial funds for the past two years to expand the village sewage treatment lagoon, was not included even though the provincial Ministry of Environment had a draft proposal for the 14-acre expansion of the sewage lagoon last October.

The preliminary engineering study was drawn up by J.L. Richards and showed that the lagoon could be expanded by another 14 acres at a total cost of $154,000. It was compiled at the urging of M.H. Toza, manager of special projects with the environment ministry's project coordination branch, one of the provincial officials who informed council two years ago that no new development can be allowed in Chesterville until the sewage lagoon is expanded.

According the clerk-treasurer Gary Thompson, Mr. Toza has had a copy of the draft proposal since last October.

Council is taking its case to MP Ed Lumley and MLA Ossie Villeneuve to see if it can be included in the agreement and village representatives will be attending a workshop in Ottawa April 19 at which provincial and environment and housing representatives will explain the new program.

Three area municipalities are included in the preliminary list of municipalities eligible for funding under the Community Services Contribution Program. They are Finch Village, Cornwall Township and the village of Morrisburg.

Total funding this year is $141.6-million, with the federal government providing $51.6-million. Ottawa will kick in $85.95-million next year.

Of the $90-million the province will be contributing this year, $83-million has been earmarked for environmental projects.

Tourist council gets 3 of 4 grants

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Three down and one to go.

Seaway Valley Tourist Council (SVTC) has persuaded three out of four councils which annually contribute 15 cents per capita grants to increase these grants by at least one-third.

Of the four only Prescott Town Council has agreed to give the tourist council its requested 25 cents per capita grants - a two-thirds increase. After Prescott town council heard the tourist council's presentation of its 1979 plans March 19 it was the first to approve the grant.

Following suit, the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry waived a decision to wait until meeting with Cornwall council to decide on its grant to the tourist council and approved a 20-cent per capita grant at its March 27 meeting. It is the largest of the four grants and may increase slightly this year due to population growth in the area.

In January United Counties Council had delayed its 1979 grant when two county councillors alleged that the tourists council was supporting private commercial establishments more than tourists attractions. As a result, the tourist council prepared and presented each council with its budget plans for the first time since it inception.

And Monday, Leeds-Grenville council approved a 20 cents per capita grant to the SVTC.

Cornwall city council, however, has deferred a decision until its budget meeting April 11 or 12. Next to the United Counties' its is the second largest grant. Last year it contributed $6,913 at the 15-cent per capita rate.

If the tourists council receives an increased grant from the City of Cornwall at 33per cent, the toal extra monies would be approximately $5,000.

Based on the 1978 provincial population concensus, grants would be:

-from Prescott, $1,215 - a 66 per cent increase from $729 in 1978.

-from United Counties, $10,721.80 - a 33 per cent increase from $7,775 in 1978.

-from Leeds-Grenville, $4,310 - a 33 per cent increase from $3,233 last year.

With the extra money the tourist council plans to hire a full-time manager with the aim of creating an economically self-sufficient organization.

Finance committee director Ed Katz proposed membership drives and fund-raising projects as part of a manger's duties to this end at the March 21 meeting in Cornwall. He suggested building up a reserve independent of public monies as a safeguard against grant delays.

Cancer campaign kick-off

The Chesterville chapter of the Canadian Cancer Society will be flowering during April, cancer month, with 50 residential volunteers canvassing Chesterville, Dunbar, Morewood and Elma. President of the local chapter, Dr. Gabriel Slowey, presents South St. volunteer Edythe Cameron with a daffodil bouquet, the flowers that will mark the spring campaign. Bouquets will be distributed to participating commercial businesses, churches and volunteers in an effort to raise this years $2,000 objective. Last year, the Chesterville chapter raised $1,958. Eastern District campaign chairman Terry Christopher (right) told 15 volunteers at the Thursday luncheon that the Dundas County objective is $13,000. Dundas campaign chairman Norman Bain (left) showed a film on the seven steps to health and Chesterville campaign manager Dennis Malloy (centre back) outlined the local campaign.

Block parents organize

INGLESIDE (Staff) - In two weeks the universal red and white symbol for block parents will be displayed in over 150 windows and doors of houses throughout Ingleside and its rural routes.

At a meeting to organize the neighborhood child-protection association last Wednesday 164 persons volunteered to participate. Approximately 25 are from Ingleside's surrounding rural areas and five are from the trailer park west of the community.

Block parent co-ordinator Dorothy Thuillard was pleased with the response. Most of the participants volunteered as a result of a survey distributed in March through the elementary schools.

During the first two weeks in April volunteers will be screened by the Long Sault OPP, working in conjunction with the association. Elementary school children attending Rothwell Public School and Our Lady of Good Counsel will also be educated about the program by police.

Although the plan is active in larger urban centres, Mrs. Thuillard feels there is a need for block parents in Ingleside especially during the summer months when there is a large influx of tourists.

At last week's meeting Grace Latimer of the Cornwall Block Parents Association explained the program, which is designed to help children in distress - specifically those being molested, harassed, bullied or hurt. A film on child molesters was shown by a Long Sault OPP constable who also explained the role of a law enforcement agency in the program.

Inquiries concerning the program can be directed to Rothwell Public School.

MSQ price increase

equals 37.8 cents.

OMMB chairman Ken McKinnon said the price increase is smaller than on the board's economic indicator has justified but added that a further increase may be needed within a few months because of rapidly increasing input costs.

Because there is no government regulation controlling the consumer price for milk, the amount of the increase at retail outlets depends on the forces of competition.

"For this reason, we do not know what the final consumer price will be," Mr. McKinnon said.

Lumley prefers government role

(Staff) - Opposition MPs may have more freedom to speak out publicly but on the whole the advantages of being a government member far outweigh those of public exposure, Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley said Monday in response to a television news commentator's remarks that Mr. Lumley would relish the role of opposition MP.

Mr. Lumley was responding to comments made by Douglas Fisher on Friday night's Nightline program on CJOH-TV. Mr. Fisher, a highly respected member of the Parliamentary Press Gallery, and Montreal Star columnist W.A. Wilson were discussing the election campaign in their weekly analysis of the events on Parliament Hill when Mr. Fisher said certain government MPs, including Mr. Lumley and House Speaker James Jerome, would shine in opposition. He implied that towing the government line straitjackets Members of Parliament and denies them the freedom enjoyed by members of the opposition to say what they want about government policy.

In a telephone conversation Monday, Mr. Lumley said he had heard Mr. Fisher's remarks and agreed that opposition MPs have more freedom to speak out in public than government ministers, pariliamentary secretaries and "even back-benchers".

During the last parliament, Mr. Lumley served as parliamentary secretary to finance minister Jean Chretien and to Marcel Lessard, minister responsible for the Department of Regional Economic Expansion.

He added, however, that as a government MP he had the ear of the ministers responsible for making the decisions that affect both the country and his own riding and said government MPs have their own forum "known as the caucus, where we can be as critical as we want. I sometimes say the same things as members of the opposition, only I say them where the media can't hear me".

Mr. Lumley admits he has been hamstrung on some occasions by not being able to reap the full political benefit for his efforts in such things as the upcoming Eastern Ontario rural development agreement and the hybrid poplar general development agreement sub-agreement, but said the results of his efforts are far more rewarding to him and his constituents than headlines.

"What's more important is that as a member of the government, you're being listened to...You can affect decisions and that's something you'd never be able to do in opposition, so it (being a government member) has its compensations."

Peters optimistic about chances

CORNWALL (Staff) - Reform of the Election Act and support from the Cornwall provincial riding association have created an optimistic feeling around the campaign of the NDP's Brian Peters.

In an interview before his campaign headquarters, at 111 Amelia St. here, were officially opened last Friday, Mr. Peters said for the first time the party machine that has elected George Samis to two terms in the Ontario legislature will be put to work in his effort to unseat Liberal MP Ed Lumley.

Mr. Samis and his organization will be put to work in Cornwall and the surrounding township and the 47-year-old Air Canada DC8 pilot expects to recruit new workers in the outlying areas of the newly-expanded riding.

The NDP has not traditionally fared well in Stormont-Dundas and its candidate in 1974, James Freeman, was severely mauled by Mr. Lumley and PC Fern Guindon but Mr. Peters is confident that even if he doesn't win, he'll make a decent showing May 22.

One of the major reasons for this is the change in the Election Act, which will limit the spending of the two major parties and thus bring them closer to the amount the New Democrats will be spending.

Mr. Peters says he doesn't expect his war chest to approximate that of the Liberals, but said he expects to spend about $5,000 - 10 times more than he spent in his unsuccessful 1974 bid to crack the Tory stronghold of Heward Graftey's Brome-Mississquoi.

The riding association will be pitching in to support the national party's media campaign to avoid having the NDP snowed under during the last few days of the campaign.

Mr. Peters said the NDP usually does well during the middle stretches of the campaign but in the past has been inundated by Liberal and Conservative media blitzes in the final few frantic days before polling.

With spending restrictions placed on the Grits and Tories and the election spending rebate system for political parties now in operation, New Democrats will be better able to hold their own during the countdown to May 22, Mr. Peters predicted.

Although the party's main organization strength comes from the Cornwall provincial riding association, Mr. Peters said he expects to divide his campaign fairly equally between the major urban and rural areas.

He may not be able to crack the traditional voting patterns of the rural areas but will campaign here "for the long-term good of the NDP".

Asked if we would woo the union vote at Chesterville's Nestle (Canada) Ltd. plant, Mr. Peters said he would be contacting all union executives throughout the riding and would plant-gate across Stormont-Dundas. He said he may open a campaign office in the Chesterville-Winchester area during the final stages of the campaign, depending on the kind of support the party senses here.

Today (Wednesday) he and Cliff Pilkey, president of the Ontario Federation of Labor, are holding a conference association annual meeting at the Parkway Inn.

He expects immediate support in rural areas to come from members of the National Farmers Union but on the union question stressed that the NDP is the "people's party. We hope to have union and non-union people joining together".

He added that some non-unionists have told him they feel threatened by "big labor" and he hopes to be able to weld the two groups into an effective unit.

The NDP's campaign in Stormont-Dundas will be based on a "positive platform" of the alternative the party offers to the Liberals and Conservatives.

The two old-line parties "basically represent the same interests" and are supported by those who wish to "cover their bets and give financially to both parties", he said.

His major local issues will be unemployment and underemployment, both of which reflect the national scene and he will attack the Liberals on their record in government and the Conservatives on their economic policy, particularly their wish to dismantle Petro-Canada.

And leave behind tokens of love, love,
To the best mother, God ever made.

IN MEMORIAM

BROWN — In loving memory of a dear husband Kenneth who passed away March 31, 1978.
A heart of gold stopped beating,
Your young body at rest,
God broke my heart to prove to me
He only takes the best.
I hold my tears when I hear your name,
But the ache in my heart remains the same.
No one knows the sorrow I share,
When the family meets and you are not there.
I have my greatest treasure,
Your photo in a frame,
Your face is always with me,
As I whisper your name.
Tonight the stars are shining
Upon your silent lonely grave,
Where sleeps in dreamy slumber,
The one I loved but could not save.
I pray to God in Heaven
Take a message up above,
Tell him how I miss him,
And give him all my love.

Lovingly remembered, and until we meet again
Wife Donna

Former Newington girl chosen to exhibit by OCA

TORONTO (Special) - Linda Loewy Duvall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Duvall, Newington, has been selected by her school, the Ontario College of Art, to participate in Artventure, a program of organized exhibitions developed by the Royal Bank of Canada to recognize and encourage Ontario's most promising student artists.

The exhibition, "Experimental Works" opened Wed., March 21 in the Upper Banking Hall of the Royal Bank Plaza at Bay and Front Streets, Toronto. It continues through April 20 and is open to the public during business hours, Monday through Friday, 9:30am to 4:30pm.

Experimental art seeks to expand the conventional boundaries of art by exploring thoughts and concepts not generally considered in the realm of "fine art". Not bound by the traditional media of art, the students are encouraged to experiment with ideas and materials.

Ms. Duvall's work, "Piano for My Deaf Grandmother", features large brightly colored paper swirls which rise from tubes in varying designs as the "keyboard" is played.

Artventure provides Ontario's most talented young artists with two critical elements in their career development - significant exposure and meaningful credit for their work.

Directors and heads of selected independent art schools and art programs in universities and community colleges across Ontario recommend the best works of their students for inclusion in the exhibitions.

Three cash awards of $400, $200 and $100 are made at the close of each exhibition. Award selection is the responsibility of rotating panels of respected visual arts professionals - artists, art dealers, gallery directors and critics. These panels evaluate each exhibition on the basis of the merit of the work exhibited as well as an assessment of the student's potential.

Each of the changing monthly exhibitions features works in a different medium - painting, sculpture, printmaking or drawing, along with experimental work.

Students from the following schools are participating in the "Experimental Works" exhibition: University of Windsor; Fanshawe College, London; and York University, Art's Sake Inc., Ontario College of Art, New School of Art, all from Toronto.

Ms. Duvall is a graduate of Osnabruck District High School and received her B.A. from Carleton University and her B. Ed. from MacArthur College, Kingston. She is married to Dr. John Loewy, Toronto.

Lions aim at $2,000

(Special) - Some 1800 Easter Seal envelopes were mailed out March 15 to Finch and area residents as Finch and District Lions Club began its annual fund-raising drive.

Lloyd Allinotte, Easter Seal campaign chairman reports the club's objective this year is $2,000 and early receipts are encouraging.

Mr. Allinotte appealed to area residents to send in their Easter Seal donations as soon as possible.

The four-week campaign will run until Easter Sunday, April 15. The local club's campaign area includes Avonmore, Berwick, Crysler, Finch, Newington and Moose Creek and all rural routes in these areas.

Last year area residents contributed $1,777 towards an objective of $1,900.

Throughout Ontario 236 service clubs affiliated with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children will be aiming at a provincial objective of $3-million required to meet essential rehabilitation service for thousands of Ontario's physically handicapped children.

Chesterville woman wins acting award

(Staff) - Martha Tancock, Victoria St., Chesterville, was named best supporting actress for her role in Camelot Little Theatre's production of Artichoke at the Eastern Ontario Drama League Festival in Peterborough on the weekend.

Miss Tancock, a reporter with The Chesterville Record, played the part of Lily-Agnes, one of the central roles in Joanna Glass's comedy about a divided prairie family. She was presented with the CKWS radio-television award by adjudicator Ross Stuart of York University.

Earlier this year Miss Tancock was critically acclaimed for her characterization in Camelot's stage production in Ottawa.

Hospital sets $3.9-million budget

WINCHESTER (Staff) - The increase in the operational deficit of Winchester District Memorial Hospital to the end of February was considerably lower than in previous months, members of the hospital's board of governors were told at their meeting last Tuesday night.

At the end of February it stood at $78,691 compared with the Ministry of Health Liability established for WDMH for the 1978-79 fiscal year. At the end of January, the operational deficit was $75,076.

The hospital's 1979-80 budget shows an overall gross cost of $3,933,327 and a net overall Ministry of Health cost of $3,619,181, which, according to the board's finance and management committee, is in accordance with the budget amount originally established by the ministry.

The budget calls for a five-per-cent overall average salary increase for hospital staff and includes provision for continuation of the annual pay increment system.

It also includes provision for an extra week's vacation after five years of service and again after 15 years of service instead of the present system, which calls for an extra week's holidays at the end of 10 years of service.

The maximum vacation for anyone employed at WDMH is four weeks and because many of the staff classifications already receive the maximum holiday period, the change in holiday regulations will result in only 40 additional weeks of staff vacation, most of which will not require hiring extra staff.

Treatments help control recurrent disease

Article No. 6
Dr. P. Shepherd, M.D.
Clinical Assistant
Ontario Cancer Foundation
Ottawa Civic Hospital

As has been noted before, radiation and drug treatments can help to control recurrent disease from breast cancer.

Radiation therapy is especially useful for the relief of pain associated with bone lesions and can produce dramatic results.

It is also known that breast cancers may be sensitive to circulating hormones in the blood. Therefore hormonal manipulation has also been used to control recurrent lesions in the form of removal of the ovaries, the adrenal glands and by giving specific hormones by mouth.

These forms of treatment are supervised by a cancer specialist and decisions are made based on the individual patient and the pattern of her disease.

More recently attention has been drawn in the newspapers to a new drug - Tamoxifen - which appears to have a beneficial effect in controlling breast cancer in certain selected post-menopausal women. This drug is now in an investigation stage in this regard and is available in Ontario only at specific cancer clinics.

Specific anti-cancer drugs are also used to treat recurrent breast cancer, often after hormonal manipulation has proven unsuccessful.

These drugs have been shown to be useful in women with advanced breast cancer who should be encouraged to seek medically-proven treatment. In this regard it is appropriate to mention the drug "Laetrile"' which continues to be promoted as a possible cancer cure. Scientific testing has shown no evidence to support its use and the drug is not approved in the USA or Canada.

From what has been said in preceding articles, it should be emphasized that the most important factor determining the outcome of breast cancer is the stage at which it is diagnosed and initially treated.

This can only be influenced by early detection and regular breast self-examination is the best way to ensure this.

We strongly recommend that every woman should perform this simple examination monthly.

Tweedsmuir history at Dixon WI

DIXON'S CORNERS (Special) - The March 14th meeting of the Dixon Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Mildred Shaver at 1:30pm. Mrs. Ruth Alguire acting president, called the meeting to order, by welcoming all and the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect was repeated.

As this was the Tweedsmuir History meeting, all articles presented was for the book. An interesting study of the area was discussed, as most of the land dated back to the 1850's and the land was owned by the Church of England, where land grants were provided.

Minutes of the February meeting were given, and new correspondence read. Congratulation cards were received and best wishes for our 50th anniversary.

A telegram was sent to Stella Warner in Toronto on her 85th birthday, which was celebrated March 24.

The meeting was then turned over to the District Director Mrs. Joan Eamer, who gave her report on the recent director's meeting.

Theme from the district is "Mankind owes to the child, the best it has to give". The meeting adjourned to view the Tweedsmuir books.

Inside Ingleside

by Jean Jeacle

I cannot decide whether my daughter is the dirtiest child in town or the cleanest. A few minutes ago I collected the soiled clothing which had accumulated in the four days since I had last done the laundry, and there, along with the minimum number of garments necessary for the decency and decorum of my husband, my son and myself, I discovered seven blouses, four tee-shirts, three sweaters, two pairs of jeans, two pairs of corduroys, one pair of painter paints, two pairs of socks, four single socks and a pair of dancing shoes. All of these items had recently been worn by my younger child. (The shoes, of course, were not washable but they were there because her new method of cleaning her room is to pick up everything that is littered on the floor and toss it into the hamper.)

She changes more often than the worth of the dollar or the price of a postage stamp! If I were ever to lose her in a crowd I'd never be able to describe her because I know she would have changed her clothes during her absence.

Thanks to the kindness of neighbours and the healthiness of her summer-paycheck bank account she has quite an extensive wardrobe but she is quite right when she complains that she has nothing to wear. How could she have, when everything she owns is usually in the wash!

BITS & PIECES

- Karen Gallinger and Peter Fleming emoted with much emotion and walked away from the area drama festival with outstanding performance awards for their performances in the ODHS entry The Doctor's Duty.

- Maureen Fairthorne and Scott Stephenson received honorable mention for their skillful portrayals for a vengeance - seeking mother and a dilemma-facing doctor in the same production.

- Special congratulations should go to Mr. Marin and the ODHS backstage crews. The sets, costumes, properties and make-up greatly enhanced the effectiveness of the play.

- Osnabruck's Can-Am Bantams were loaded down with silverware this weekend. Saturday they claimed the B championship medallions at Stittsville and Sunday they skated away with the silver medals in the ODHMA Bantam C play-down finals at Water Street Arena in Cornwall.

- Hockey questionnaires pertaining to the proposed amalgamation with Cornwall Township should be sent in by this weekend. If you didn't receive one in the mail, you can pick up a copy at the Finch arena or the township recreation office in Osnabruck Centre.

- Present and prospective season ticket holders at Upper Canada Golf Club are invited to a meeting Saturday, April 14, 7pm at the Gondola D'Oro reception hall. The purpose of the gathering is to form an Upper Canada Golf Associaton. Further information can be obtained by phoning Ross Haskins 537-2337.

- Community good-byes were said last week to Ray and Marg Murphy who are going to reside in St. Thomas, Ontario. They have promised to be back for a visit in September. We wish them good luck and know that they will be happy as long as Ray finds a golf course and Marg finds a library.

- It will be show and tell time at this month's Lost Villages Historical Society meeting, Monday, April 9 at 8pm in the school library. Bring a favorite item or special treasure and share its story with us.

- Don't forget the Community Coffee Hour, 10am April 10 at St. Peter's Church Hall. Babysitters will be available.

- Fasions for men and women will be featured Wed., April 11, at St. Matthew's spring fashion show.

- The Jaycette taxi service will be discontinued as of Thurs., April 12. They expect to resume it in the autumn.

I notice that tulips are popping up in Johnson's backyard. Let's hope that soon we will be delighted by hosts of flowers welcoming spring on every street here "Inside Ingleside".

Fire budget approved

MOOSE CREEK (Staff) - Roxborough Township council approved its 1979 fire and recreation budget at a special meeting last Wednesday.

Avonmore and Monkland Area No. Two Fire Department will receive $13,845 - an increase of $1,170 over last year's budget of $12,675.

Moose Creek Area No. One Fire Department will get $15,374.08 - augmented by $4,664 over last year's $10,710 budget. The increase is due to rising operating expenses.

Included in these increases is a $500 supplement to the township's annual $2,500 grant to the fireman's association.

The third budget approved was $12,000 to the Roxborough Recreation Association - the same as last year's budget. The association comprises Avonmore, Moose Creek and Monkland recreation associations each of which will receive $1,500 towards rink operations, $1,500 for swimming programs and $1,000 for summer activities.

Williamsburg library opening this Saturday

WILLIAMSBURG (Staff) - The Williamsburg branch of the SD&G County Library will be officially opened at 2:30pm this Saturday.

The counties' newest library branch is in the former public school building which also houses the township offices and senior citizens' room.

The public is invited to the official opening and to inspect the premises and book stock afterward. Refreshements will be served. Attending the opening will be reeve John Whitteker, members of township council, library board chairman and members.

The library will be open to the public from 2-4pm and 7-9pm on Tuesdays and Thursdays and on Saturdays from 2-4pm. With the library open, the counties' Bookmobile will cease its visits to Williamsburg and book borrowed from the mobile unit can be returned to the library.

The bookmobile has been visiting the village since 1969 and its popularlity in Williamsburg was the major consideration leading to the opening of the new branch, according to library board chairman John Moss.

Dear Ann Landers

Dear Ann: I read with interest the Prayer for Secretaries and although it was humorous, it was realistic and believeable. May I add a few "pleas" concerning another hazard of the secretarial profession?

"Lord, help me to keep my hands off my married boss even though we are in close contact eight (or more) hours a day. May I be ever mindful of his loving wife who is home washing, ironing, scrubbing, cooking and planning his future.

"Also, When I arrive at the office fresh and smartly dressed, help me to remember that while I was grooming myself, she was preparing his breakfast and school lunches for him and their children.

"And finally, Lord, if the relationship between my boss and me begins to turn into something more than business, instill in me the courage to give two week's notice and seek employment elsewhere for the good of all concerned."

- Voice of Experience

Dear Voice: Let's hope your message reaches those who need to hear it. If my mail is any indication, their numbers are many.

Dear Ann Landers: This essay warmed my heart. It was written by a third-grader and appeared in the newsletter of the Saint Andrews Society of Washington, D.C. If it moves you as it moves me, will you print it?

- Your Friend

Dear Friend: It did and I will:

WHAT IS A GRANDMOTHER

A grandmother is a lady who has no little children of her own. She likes other people's. A grandfather is a man grandmother.

Grandmothers don't have to do anything except be there. They are old so they shouldn't play hard or run. It is enough if they drive us to the market and have a lot of dimes ready. When they take us for walks, they slow down past things like pretty leaves and caterpillars. They never say "hurry up."

Usually grandmothers are fat, but not too fat to tie your shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can take their teeth and gums out. Grandmothers don't have to be smart, only answer questions like, "Why isn't God married?" and "How come dogs chase cats?" When they read to us they don't skip, or mind if we ask for the same story over again.

Everybody should try to have a grandmother, especially if you don't have television, because they are the only grown-ups who have time.

Dear Ann Landers: What causes people to grind their teeth at night? When I wake up in the morning my jaws hurt and I often have a headache. I know you get a lot of letters every day, but I hope you will answer this one. My mother and her sisters grind their teeth at night, too.

- Aching Jaws

Dear A.J.: According to Dr. George Pollock, director of the Chicago Insitute for Psychoanalysis, people who grind their teeth at night may have either a neurological problem or an emotional problem. (It is called bruxism.)

If the grinding is so severe that it results in tired jaws in the morning, the grinder should see a physican about an evaluation.

If the cause is emotional, the grinder should seek professional help and learn why he is so anxious that he wants to chew somebody up - which is what he is attempting to do during his sleeping hours. Medication may help reduce or eliminate the problem.

How young is too young for a child to learn about sex? That's just one thing you'll find in Ann Landers' new booklet, "How, What, and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." For your copy send 50 cents along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Saturday afternoon fever

Ross and Lea Phillips proved Saturday afternoon that disco dancing isn't only for the younger generation as the Ingleside couple joined with 21 other registrants for a day-long dancing class at North Dundas District High School under the instruction of Mike Pearson (centre). Holding up the youthful end are Mike McKee of Winchester and Rhonda Wilson of Chesterville. The course was sponsored by the Continuing Education Department of St. Lawrence College.

Ingleside WMS sponsors contests

INGLESIDE (Special) - Mrs. Elburn Crites was hostess for the March meeting of St. Matthew's Presbyterian W.M.S. group, which was chaired by the president, Mrs. Frank Stewart and opened with a prayer for Lent. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. D.H. Gilmour, who chose for a basis to her theme "an elightening day", that portion of scripture recorded in Acts, Chapter two, verses 1 to 4, which tells of the day of Penetecost and the infilling of the Holy Spirit.

Minutes and correspondence were dealt with by Mrs. Crites. Mrs. Harold Shaver gave the financial statement in the absence of the treasurer. Roll call was answered by an item of interest from the glad tidings. The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Leila Grandaw. The president thanked the members for their prayers and good wishes while in hospital and convalescing home.

All present signed a birthday card to be forwarded to Mrs. Frank Shaver who has taken up residence at Nesbet Lodge, Toronto, recently due to declining health and advanced years. Mrs. Shaver will be greatly missed by the group, having served as pianist for many years and as a faithful and devoted member in mission endeavors, and work in the church congregation. The good wishes of her many friends and the church family go with her to her new residence.

Members were asked to encourage children and youth participation in the poster and essay contests in connection with the International Year of the Child, sponsored by the W.M.S. (W.D.). Information pertaining to the contests will be placed on the church bulletin board and announced from the pulpit.

Mrs. Stewart paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Beulah Shaver whose death occurred recently following a lengthy illness and led in a service of remembrance. In her remarks the president stated that Mrs. Shver exemplified the many and beautiful characterisitics of a life surrended to God. She was a devoted and faithful life member of the Women's Missionary Society and maintained a keen interest in all phases of church work. As a token of respect and an expression of sympathy by the group a period of silence was observed and an In Memoriam certificate will be sent to the bereaved family.

Further plans were made for the group to host the spring rally in May for the Glengarry Presbyterial and will be finalized at the April meeting.

Due to the lengthy business session, the lesson for the study period was held over to a later meeting. Mrs. Fred Brassard thanked Mrs. Crites for entertaining the ladies in her new home. Refreshments were served and the meeting closed with prayer.

Ingleside Institute sees UK pictures

INGLESIDE (Special) - Ingleside W.I.'s March meeting was held in the library. Following the "Ode" and "Mary Stewart Collect", 14 members and two visitors answered the roll call by telling an Irish joke. Dorothy Schultz conducted an Irish contest.

In the absence of Edith Canough, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mary Trimble.

Muriel Dixon gave a summary on "Tips on Interior Decorating", a course given in Morrisburg by Mary Michels, Home Economist.

Margaret Leete, who attended the District Annual, informed members of the changes taking place in regulations.

"Crewel embroidery" was this branch's choice of Adult Training Schools. "Pants: Fitting and Sewing" was the short course chosen.

It was decided to send a donation to the cancer fund.

Muriel Dixon handed in 26 completed articles to the "Save the Children" from the branch and advised that more yarn is available to those wishing to knit.

Mary Trimble read the resolutions which will be discussed and voted on at the district Annual meeting in Long Sault.

Bea Williamson introduced Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gilmour who shared with members their pictures, and educational commentary, interspersed with anecdotes on England, Scotland and Wales.

In appreciation Margaret Lette on behalf of the W.I. presented them with a small gift.

The treasurer's report was given by Betty VandenBosch.

Evelyn Gillard reported having sent one get well card and one sympathy card for the month of February.

The worship service was conducted by Addie Campderros, Judy Buske, Betty VandenBosch and Susie Cass. Hymn 394 "Happy the Home when God is There" was sung followed by scripture reading by Mrs. Vanden Bosch from Deuternomy. Mrs. Buske read the meditation based on "A little child may lead them" ending with prayer. The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Susie Cass.

The theme of the study period was "Outreach". Miss Campderros read a story entitled, "Fortune's Children". These are children from Vietnam, Campbodia, Ecuador, and even Canada who have been adopted and given good Christian parents and homes.

She read how an African tribe changed their eating and living habits by donations from Christians in America. Miss Campderros also revealed how the money from the World Day of Prayer is set aside and used for special projects both at home and abroad. A film entitled "The Long Road" was shown.

Miss Campderros closed with Mizpah Benediction and lunch was served by the committee.

Bands from all parts of Eastern Ontario will be in Smiths Falls, Sunday, June 18, it has been announced by A.L. Lang, vice president of the Smiths Falls band committee. To date the Almonte Citizens' Band, Brockville Rifles' Band, Chesterville Citizens' Band, Kemptville Citizens' Band, Winchester Citizens' Band will take part. It is expected that the widely known Royal Canadian Horse Artillery Band, of Kingston, will be the guests of the Smiths Falls organization on that date.

April Fool was the theme of the Tuesday evening meeting of the Chesterville Rotary Club. Even the luncheon came in for its share of April Fool jokes, with the silverware set in reverse and the courses served in reserve order. The closing song was sung at the opening and the last number was the usual opening chorus of "Smile."

A Grand Easter Ball will be held in the Community Hall, Chesterville, Easter Monday, April 10, with Burton Heward and his modern 10-Piece orchestra in attendance. Admission 75 cents a couple and 40 cents single.

The Home Economics room at the High School is to be further enhanced with installation of Venetian blinds on the windows, it was decided by the High School Board at the April meeting held in the Bank of Montreal offices Tuesday evening. This type of blind is expensive but its life is far longer than any other type and it has a much better appearance.

Continued attacks outside of Parliament on Hon. Ian Mackenzie and the Department of National Defence in connection with the warding of armament contracts have brought from Hon. Chas. Dunning, Minister of Finance, a remarkable statement that is being interpreted as a veiled threat by the Government against the freedom of the press. Objecting to statements in a leading Liberal newspaper regarding the purchase of defence aircraft by Mr. MacKenzie's department, Mr. Dunning told the House of Commons he was 'wondering if it is not desirable that we make some rather strong measures in respect to such statements."

The declaration by the Conservative Leader that Canada should take a definite stand with the British Empire and the other democratic nations, and that in the event of war in Europe involving Great Britain, there could be no question of neutrality by this country, but that Canada's participation should be on a voluntary basis, seems to have met the insistent public demand for a clear-cut statement on the subject.

Workmen are rapidly completing the new office for the Police Officer of the Village, Mr. Tait, in the old firehall. A partition has been run up and an office has evolved with an entrance on Main street and a rear entrance into the jug. Convenient.

On Tuesday representatives of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Association met the condensery operators. The situation for evaporated milk has worsened somewhat and the manufactures fell that more price arranging is in order. Some of the plants are still carrying milk manufactured last August and are having extreme difficulty getting it out of the warehouses. The export business in Canada is stagnant because of the $1 difference in cased milk on the export market between Canadian and USA milk.

Thousands of Canadian servicemen, representing all branches of the armed forces, were introduced to Newfoundland and her people during the war of 1939-45. Therefore, when Newfoundland became Canada's tenth province, she was welcomed by many as a old friend. When finally accepted into Confederation the new province is entitled to seven members in the House of Parliament.

At the Community Theatre, Chesterville: "Blood and Sand" - The most powerful literary achievement of all time now becomes the never-to-be-forgotten screen triumph. The story traces the life of a bull-fighter from childhood to his days of fame and romance, then to despair and finally death in the bull ring. With Tyrone Power, Rita Hayworth and Linda Darnell.

A delegation from the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce was on hand at the council meeting to discuss the proposed Public Park with council. Counties Council is proposing to turn over the Reforestation plot to the municipality and it is hoped that arrangements can be made to combine the plot with the land at the waterside and make a real town park.

At Henderson's Furniture Store: Junior trikes for the little tot - $8.95; Tricycles no. 8 for the 1½ year old and up - $15.95; Tricycles no. 9 for the 3 year old and up - $16.95; Sidewalk Bikes for junior - $39.95; carriages color maroon - $38.95; rangettes all white - $67.00.

Chesterville Women's Institute members and their friends enjoyed an interesting meeting on Wednesday, March 25, when Mrs. H.K. Graham was the speaker for the evening. Her topic was an outline of the points judges look for in awarding prizes at a fall fair. It is hoped that the members will take a renewed interest in exhibiting some of the good products that are made in their kitchen.

Crumbs from Graham's loaf: A subterranean rumour has reached these shell-pink ears about the oft-mentioned post office building. It is street knowledge now we are not getting to get the thing this year after all. At least that is the story. Maybe the word of a new one by this July was just a trail balloon. The editor may know more about it but the 'flu bug seems to have curdled his gentle, loving nature these days, and we wouldn't dare enter his germ-laden department.

As a part of an all-out drive for milk supplies Kraft Foods Ltd. will introduce bulk milk collection to the cheese producing industry in Eastern Ontario. With that purpose, if offers producers 20 cents per hundred pounds bonus plus five cents per hundredweight reduction on hauling, with a five-year contract to take all milk.

At the Silver Star Store: Tomato Soup - two for 25c; Kam - 45c; Jello two for 19c; Burns Lard, two lbs. for 35c; Tulip Margarine, three lbs. for 85c; cabbage, per lb. 08c.

MP Jean Casselman's report: The Federal government will pay 75 per cent of local civil defence costs instead of the present 50 per cent. The long expected and difficult choice of Parliamentary secretaries will very likely be made after the Easter break and the Prime Minister promised to name a new Foreign Minister this week. Hon. Roland Michener and Hon. Davey Fulton, most often mentioned, are both popular and highly qualified. There is a general feeling that Roley Michener is perfectly fitted for the post.

At the Picadily in Williamsburg: "Wind Across the Everglades" - A drama in Technicolor starring Gypsy Rose Lee, Burl Ives and Christopher Plummer. "Party Girl" - a drama, starring Cyd Charisse, Robert Taylor and Lee J. Cobb.

It was twelve o'clock noon when we arrived in the French quarter. The sun shone like magic. It was seventy degrees F. The streets were alive with people. It was the Monday before Fat Tuesday. After Fat Tuesday, came Ash Wednesday and the beginning of the Lenten season.

'Twas the season to be merry before the religious rites began.

For, of course, Mardis Gras means "Fat Tuesday" - the last day before lent begins. And we had come to Mardi Gras, hoping all the way that the police strike would be over. Such was not the case and the parades had moved to outlying areas, but we were prepared to celebrate Mardis Gras in the French Quarter anyway.

The parades were smaller, mostly of a family nature, but there were a great number of people costumed in the traditional garb of fantasy. The city welcomes the thousands of visitors who come to enjoy the greatest free show on earth. But, New Orleanians really give Mardi Gras as one huge family party for themselves. Each person does his own thing. It is a time for freeing oneself of inhibitions.

It is an incredible time - very difficult to describe. It really must be experienced, being something different to each person who joins in the fun. There is a private, mysterious part of Carnival, shared only by the Mystick Krew of Comus and their guests. But for the other parts - the awesome masks - the satin covered horses - the dancing torches - the music - the community of so many diverse people, crowded together in fun- the nonsense and colors and music - the mad scrambling for beads and doubloons thrown from the balconies, as adults and children alike cry out "Throw me something, Mister" - all help make up the Carnival called Mardi Gras.

The costumes were superb and we were told to come again when there wasn't a police strike and we would receive an unbelievable treat. But we thoroughly enjoyed seeing Rexking of carnival and all the other maskers on Bourbon Street. All of this creative genius is paid for solely by the participants.

With mint julep drinks in hand we listened to pure jazz at the Maison Bourbon, where Pete Fountain, of Lawrence Welk Show fame, once played regularly. This establishment is dedicated to the preservation of jazz and the group playing called "The Last Straws" were certainly dedicated to the cause. It is a music that gets right into your heart and you can't help but respond.

Jazz funerals, we were told, are still given in New Orleans, though not as frequently as in the past, mostly for black jazz musicians. The Jazzman is accompanied from the church to the grave by a dignified band, playing soulful dirges to a slow and solemn drum beat. "Second liners" (people who follow a band to dance and clap to the music) follow behind quietly to pay their last respects.

Returning from the cemetery, where the Jazzman has been "freed", the mood is changed. The music of the band is lively and spirited and the "second liners" are in full swing.

The French market was superb - a community of shops inside a renovated warehouse in the old French Quarter. What a treat for the eyes! We had a ride in a surrey with a colored cabbie who proceeded to give us an excellent tour of the French quarter and the history of the old buildings, some of which date back to the 1700's. It was an excellent history lesson and the old plug knew exactly where to stop for his master to deliver each mini-history lesson. The ironwork was unbelievably exquisite.

It is the tradition of Mardis Gras that everyone wears a mask and you may have one painted on by street artists. And for those meeker souls a flower or butterfly or bee may simply adorn one cheek. When in Rome do as the Romans do, so we climbed on high stools in Jackson Square and revelled in the sun while one cheek was adorned with a birthday flower. We felt part of the passing scene and it was fun.

We wended our way back to the camp in anticipation of Fat Tuesday and breakfast at Brennan's at eight in the morning. Brennans is a New Orleans favorite and their breakfast dishes have become world famous.

It is the original Morphy House c 1795 and bought in 1805 to house the Banque de Louisiana - the first bank established after the Louisiana purchase. As soon as you enter you realize something special is going to happen. The egg dishes are gourmet delights, eggs Sardou (poached eggs, creamed spinach with hearts of artichokes and crowned with rich hollandaise sauce).

We were seated on the patio and it is stunning. I began the day with an eyeopener called Sazerac (Bourbon and Absinthe) followed by an egg omellette with Creole Sauce, a breakfast fit for a queen. My companions had equally exotic breakfasts.

Mardi Gras morning we devoted to Bourbon Street - its music and its costumes. What a carnival! Different from anything I had ever witnessed and I have travelled a bit.

As for the costumes - some were very imaginative, some gross, some indecent, some grotesque - all intent on scaring the evil spirits away. But all terribly well constructed. Aunt Jemima was gorgeous! So were the bar room belles, the madames, the clowns.

We witnessed the "Gay" parade - the only one the Mayor chose not to cancel giving his reason as "having cancelled enough already". Again the costumes were exquisite. It was their day and they were enjoying it to the hilt.

Lunch was at an open aire cafe on the shores of the Mississippi River...the sun burned our faces as we dallied. It did feel good. We returned to the French quarters and sat on the grass at the corner of Conti and Royal and watched the passing scene, as did six mounted police of the National Guard while State Troopers paraded in two's and four's. Peace reigned. The police were in a jovial, but ever watchful mood. A basically uncontrolled crowd was well controlled.

We will never forget the wonderful music produced by the steel bands, the guitarists and fiddlers on Jackson Square. En route back to the Camp we passed the above ground cemeteries. New Orleans is so close to sea level, that the ground is generally full of water near the surface. For this reason, graves are usually put above the ground in various styles of vaults. They have taken on the look of miniature cities, some even with individual fences around them.

Another custom in the old cemeteries was to decorate the graves with "everlasting" flowers - arrangements made with glass and beads on twisted wire. Many of these still adorned the headstones and vaults. Next week, we bid good-bye to New Orleans.

the editor's notebook

The New Democractic Party has in Brian Peters probably the strongest candidate the party has yet fielded in a federal election in Stormont-Dundas and for the first time the federal organization will be working closely with the machinery that has back-stopped the success of George Samis in provincial elections. But unfortunately for Mr. Peters, the riding's split personality will ultimately do him in. This is something he must know in his heart of hearts, despite the good fight he promises to put up between now and May 22.

Each of the facets of the riding's schizophrenic nature will work against the NDP and Mr. Peters: the rural-urban split demands that attention be paid to different sets of issues, that different styles of campaigning be adopted and that the party be strongly organized at the grass-root level. Mr. Peters is well versed in urban issues and certainly can campaign in the style demanded in heavily populated areas, but his knowledge of rural issues and the strength of the party outside Cornwall city and Township won't be enough to carry him into even a second-place finish.

Cornwall itself poses a challenge to the NDP contender. Although the city has a strong labor vote, it has never given its support to an NDP candidate in a federal election. The city's voters back the man and not necessarily the party, which explains how it can give its support to the NDP in a provincial election and the Liberals federally. George Samis is not elected because he is a member of the NDP, but because he is George Samis. Ed Lumley was not elected in 1974 so much because he was the Liberal candidate, but because of what he had achieved as mayor of the city. Nevertheless, as the next seven weeks unfold, Mr. Peters will add a welcome third dimension to the campaign and with his articulate manner will give the New Democrats new credibility on the federal scene in Stormont-Dundas.

Margaret (Kiss and Tell) Trudeau's decision not to personally promote her autobiography in Canada during the federal election campaign because she could harm the prime minister's re-election chances has to be one of the most hypocritical exercises in modern publishing history. The publiciation date of her trashy reminiscences was carefully timed to reap the benefits of election fever in this country. That it should actually coincide with the campaign was a windfall bonus both for her and her penny-dreadful publishers. It seems the woman will stop at nothing to keep her name in the limelight and those who are carrying the serialization of the book are just as guilty as Maggie T. in dragging Canadian politics through the mud. The best service Mrs. Trudeau could render her country would be to keep her mouth shut and her ghost writer's hands idle.

Food control inspector Ed Lanctot (extreme left) of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit wound up his four-week food services sanitation training program at Louis' Restaurant last Monday. Included in the course was a discussion on cleansers with Jeannine Gouthro of Crysler's Russell Hotel, Louis Pavlounis, proprietor of Louis', Francine Keryluk of the Commercial Hotel, Crysler, Al Kilby of Al's Lunch, Chesterville and Jim Cameron of Nestle (Canada) Ltd. - staff photo -

Food services course

Aiming at better service

(Staff) - Imagine an unbroken chain long enough to circle the globe six times and made up of links each of which is only 1-25,000th of an inch long and you'll have an idea of how prolifically the bacteria in your kitchen can reproduce under ideal conditions in a 24-period.

Fortunately, these ideal conditions rarely exist and Ed Lanctot, food control officer with the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, is determined to make conditions in the kitchens of SD&G's food service industry as inhospitable to the proliferation of bacteria as he possibly can.

Mr. Lanctot has just completed a four-week training course in food services preparation in Chesterville and last week has begun courses in Winchester and Morrisburg.

The aim of the course is to increase the awareness of those in the industry of the importance of the proper preparation and storage of food and of proper personal hygiene when around food.

The course in Chesterville was conducted at Louis' Restaurant and was attended by 21 food service employees from Louis' and Al's Lunch in Chesterville, the Russell and Commercial Hotels in Crysler, Berwick Hotel and DeeJay's Restaurant in Finch. It was taught for two hours each Monday and in addition Mr. Lanctot's instruction included audio-visual demonstrations.

Known as the National Sanitation Training Program, it was designed by the Canadian Restaurant and Food Service Association (CRFSA) in conjunction with the federal and provincial governments.

Mr. Lanctot explains that for the past three years Canadian chefs have been winning prizes in international competition and the Canadian restaurant industry is beginning to receive international recognition.

With this international acclaim goes the industry's desire to have its back-up people - those who assist in the preparation and who serve the food - better able to maintain these standards.

In addition, the industry wants to "reduce to zero per cent" its share of the 400,000 cases of food poisoning reported annually by Health and Welfare Canada. Mr. Lanctot says only about one-third of "food-borne illnesses" are contracted in restaurants but the industry is still blamed for the majority of food poisoning cases.

With this image consciousness in mind, the restaurant association has prepared questionaires for participants to fill in on the completion of the course. It marks them and sends lapel pins, wallet cards and wall certificates to those who pass.

The course is not mandatory for all restaurant and food preparation workers but Mr. Lanctot points out that it soon could be and adds that students in college restaurant and hotel courses complete the sanitation training program.

He personally supports making the course mandatory and tells his students that possession of a certificate "is in their own interests".

Most persons who have had no formal food preparation training have at least one or two bad habits "they picked up from their mothers or grandmothers" and one of Mr. Lanctot's duties is to "unteach" such popular misconceptions as the beliefs that cooking meat automatically renders it safe and that refrigeration kills bacteria. "It doesn't. It just forces them to put their fur coats on and wait for a better chance to get you."

He stresses to his students that 80 per cent of all food-borne illnesses are due to the direct method of transmission and occur during preparation. Anyone near food who coughs, sneezes or has an open cut stands a fair chance of passing on some sort of bacterial infection.

The course is divided into eight sections - microbiology and the food services employee; personal hygiene; causes and control of food-borne diseases; control and transmission of infectious diseases; housekeeping; cleaning and disinfecting procedures; customer service, and dining room santitation - and Mr. Lanctot hopes eventually to reach about 90 per cent of all food service employees in the United Counties.

Because of the high turnover rate in the food industry, the course will be on-going.

Right now he is concentrating on restaurants and hotels in the rural areas of SD&G and once this is completed, he will direct his attentions to eating establishments in Cornwall.

He describes the course now is general in nature and after the broad spectrum of the industry has been covered, he plans to teach specialized courses for employees in each segment of the food service business.

Old Age pensions going up

OTTAWA (Special) - Increases in the Old Age Security pension, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance, effective in April, have been announced by Health and Welfare Minister Monique Begin.

The new monthly total at the single rate for persons receiving both the basic Old Age Security pension and maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement will be $310.28.

For a married couple. both pensioners, the combination of the basic pension and maximum supplement will provide a monthly payment of $573.42.

The basic Old Age Security pension will rise in April to $170.39 from the present $167.21.

The Guaranteed Income Supplement is paid to pensioners whose income, apart from the Old Age Security pension, is limited. The amount of the supplement varies in relation to the amount of income.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner and is not receiving a Spouse's Allowance, will go up in April to $139.89 from its current $137.28. The maximum supplement for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $116.32 each from $114.15. Added to the basic pension, this will give each married pensioner $286.71 monthly, or a total of $573.42 for the couple.

The Spouse's Allowance is paid to persons between 60 and 65 years of age who are married to Old Age Security pensioners and meet residence requirements. Entitlement to a Spouse's Allowance, and amount paid, is based on yearly income.

The maximum Spouse's Allowance will increase to $286.71 from $281.36. The maximum Spouse's Allowance is made up of an amount equivalent to the basic Old Age Security pension and the maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement at the married rate.

Local firms CHIPped off block

(Staff) - Two United Counties firms have been informed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation that their insulation materials no longer meet the standards set for the federal government's Canadian Home Insulation Program (CHIP).

Because their products fail to meet CMHC standards, Canadian Comfort Insulation of Morrisburg and Rightway Cellulosic Insulation of Cornwall had their CMHC acceptance numbers revoked March 27 and materials supplied by the two firms after that date will no longer be eligible for CHIP rebates.

Crafts group plans 1-day show

CORNWALL (Special) - The annual meeting of Tri-County Crafts, held at the Parkway Inn here was well attended by both old and new members.

Eileen Crites, president, announced that Anne DeVent, who had been secretary-treasurer of the group for three years, and Lucille Faye, publicity, were stepping down from these positions. Mrs. Crites warmly thanked both of these ladies for their hard work and devotion to the interests of the group during their term of office.

Award winning drama

A young wife, Anna, played by Karen Gallinger, agonises through the death throes of her adulterous husband Tonaso, played by Peter Fleming (left) as a gentleman, played by Donald Hickey (right) looks on in Osnabruck District High School's (ODHS) production of Luigi Pirandello's pre-war melodrama, The Doctor's Duty. NDDHS News

by Steve Grubb and Ron Porteous

April has arrived with its showers and flowers, making some wish for winter and the occasional snow day.

School was highlighted last week by the staff-student challenge game in curling. There were a total of three games with the team totals adding up to determine the winner. The teachers swept all three games from the students.

In the first match-up, the team of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bowen, Mr. Trillo, and Mr. Plumb had a hard time beating our highly successful schoolboy's team by a narrow 3-1 margin.

The second matchup saw Madames McBain, Lapointe, Sharkey, and Perry beat the mixed school team 4-1.

The final game pitted Misters Craig, Taylor, Walters, and Green against Nancy Vandenbosch, Eileen Rose, Dean McIntosh, and Heather Loucks with the teachers winning 6-2. This win gave the teachers a 13-4 win and tied the series at four wins each.

In a broomball game last Friday, the teachers were able to wear down the student's enthusiasm enough to let their experience come into play by scoring three goals on the last shift, shattering a 2-2 tie. This marks the third consecutive game that the teachers have won. The first game counted for the challenge series with the rest being merely for fun. The idea behind these games is to build up and strengthen relationships between the two separate sides. This practice will continue with another curling game this week.

The next challenge game will take place this week in volleyball. This is a crucial game with the winners taking the lead. This is one place where the strength of the students should do them more good than harm.

With the midterm reports only a couple weeks away, students must once again apply concentration to studies in attempts to satisfy both parents and teachers.

Broomball final to deciding game

(Staff) - Aqua Fun Pools has pushed Duff Powerline and the best-of-five Chesterville and District Men's Broomball League championship series to the limit.

The season boils down to one last hurrah for both teams when they faceoff at 10pm tonight (Wednesday) at the local arena.

Aqua Fun, fourth place finishers in the four team circuit, pushed the final series to the limit Monday night by earning a split in a scheduled double-header.

Pennant-winning Duff won the series opener but Aqua Fun rebounded with a 2-1 victory last Monday.

Duff won Monday night's opener 2-0 but couldn't salt away the championship in the second game as Aqua Fun stormed back with a 3-1 decision.

A pair of second period goals lifted Aqua Fun to the lead in Monday's second game.

Bill Moran broke a 1-1 deadlock at 1:27 of the period and Dave Holmes notched the clincher with 2:20 left in the frame.

Richard Suffel had given Aqua the lead early in the game but Dale Armstrong had tied it up.

In the evening's first game, Shawn Chambers staked Duff to a first period lead and Frank Heerkens go tthe second goal late in the second stanza.

Larry Gallinger drew an assist on both goals.

Last Monday, Bill Steele scored with 8:03 to play to snap a 1-1 draw and tie the series at a win apiece. Larry Gallinger had scored for Duff in the first period and Lyn Whitteker replied in the second period for Aqua.

Finch Township back in contention for EOJCHL title

THE CHESTERVILLE RECORD SPORTS

WILLIAMTOWN (Staff) - Hold on hockey fans the EOJCHL championship series is far from being decided.

Finch Township 76s Monday night turned themselves around and the eight-point final set by downing Char-Lan 5-4 to pull the series to 4-2 in favor of the Rebels.

The win put the tri-colored gang back in the running for the crown after many people had almost written them off after dropping 4-3 and 11-1 decisions last week.

The series goes again Thursday (tommorrow) night back in Williamstown at 8pm. Then the action switches back to Finch for the remainder of the season with the ice coming out of the Charlottenburg Arena this weekend. Game five goes at 8pm Saturday at Finch with following playing dates not yet decided.

Finch Township coach Leonard O'Donohue was still silent after the victory and could barely force a smile of pleasure as he commented it was a new series.

Char-Lan Rebels repeated the above scene 11 times Saturday night as they hammered Finch Township 11-1 to move into a 4-0 point lead in their eight-point EOJCHL final series. Char-Lan won the series opener by a 4-3 count last Thursday. Above, Finch Township goaltender

Jim Hume has the look of digust as yet another shot eluded him and on the right linesman Carman McMillan does his familiar retrieve the puck from the back of the net trick.

- staff photos -

For O'Donohue a lot of water had crossed under the bridge since Saturday night's thumping at home.

To start it off goalie Jim Hume had stated he was packing his gear for the balance of the campaign and midget affiliate Norm Ouellette would be left to shoulder the chores of blocking the Char-Lan shots.

Only seconds before the game Monday Hume ran into the arena with gear in hand. His confinement to the end of the township bench, however, was only brief with Ouellette being beaten 32 seconds after the opening faceoff by Kenton Spink on the first shot of the game.

From there on it was downhill for Hume who returned to his regular season heroic ways as his mates put together their best game of the series.

A team meeting following Saturday's pasting helped resolve all the on-ice mix-ups as the 76s played their defensive style for most of the game.

Finch Township fell behind quickly but their spirit kept them going as they hustled back to claim a 2-1 first period lead.

They ran the margin to 4-2 with a pair of quick goals in the middle frame but Char-Lan cut the score to 4-3 going into the final frame. They added the equalizer in the final stanza as Finch's "Mr. Hustle" Eddie Gove fired the eventual winner with 4:19 to play.

Gove, the team's on-ice leader, was in gear for the game and the Rebels were made well aware of that early.

Gove sprinted past the Char-Lan defence midway through the first frame to beat Marleau with a shorthanded goal to tie the score.

Less than two minutes later, sophomore Jeff Derue broke down the right side to find the range on a powerplay after the 76s had stolen the puck again from the Char-Lan defence.

After Lloyd Fourney knotted the score easily in the second period, another of Finch's not so frequent scorers, Roger Vanier, rose to the occasion. He tipped in a shot from the slot that was directed to him by a Rebel defender. It was also Vanier's first shift on the ice.

Fifty-six seconds later, the 76s padded their lead. Bill DeWit stepped over the Char-Lan blueline and was hit but the puck kept rolling forward as Steve McRae outraced another defender to fire a low drive past Marleau.

Kevin Fontaine got the Rebels back in the contest late in the period when Gove was off serving an additional minor infraction for leaving the penalty box to soon.

Char-Lan lifted their goalie in favor of an extra attacker in the final minute and the move almost backfired as DeWit stole the puck and raced towards the cage but had his shot hustled and go wide.

Rebels came back down the ice and jammed the puck past Hume with one second left to play but referee Alex McDougall ruled the play had been whistled down before the puck entered the net.

Char-Lan coach Wendall Lafave called the 76s "opportunists" and his first comment on the game was "it's a different series now".

And how true as the 76s gobbled up Char-Lan defensive mistakes and capitalized.

He did comment on the hustle of Gove and the netminding of Hume. "Jim played really well for a guy who wasn't supposed to even be around" he noted.

He figures "the law of averages" caught up to his Rebels because they unloaded Saturday. Coming off a big game like that, said Lafave, has two effects - overconfidence and hard to score.

O'Donohue and most his charges were only sorry they had a poor following for the game. They have something to prove to their supporters as they promised en masse for the brighter side of the coin to shine when they take to the ice at home.

76s re-assess position after second loss

FINCH (Staff) - Did the Finch Township 76s peak too early?

Team officials from the top down to the bottom and most of the team members were asking themselves this question after absorbing an 11-1 thrashing at the hands of the Char-Lan Rebels in front of a large home town following Saturday. The defeat left the 76s trailing 4-0 in the eight-point EOJCHL final series.

Char-Lan coach Wendall Lafave was saying "I told you we played well in Finch" and Finch Township coach Leonard O'Donohue was left muttering "that was a disgrace".

The 76s replayed the game in their minds in the dressing room following the game, leaving out the horror parts which was most of the contest, in order to regroup their attack.

The finding was obvious to everyone without being told - a little more hustle on the ice.

Coach O'Donohue analyzed the loss as being unable to hold them (Char-Lan) in their own end for any great period of time. And, he noted, when they did break out of their own end they hit the Finch Township blueline with two-on-one and three-on-one breaks throughout most of the game.

Some players were commenting on how hard it was for them to mentally prepare for the Rebels after beating out Chesterville and Maxville - both close rivals over the years.

Even with the two game lead in the series, Char-Lan's coach Lafave is not looking for a sweep saying "it's not over yet".

His team plays a game by the period and he commented "we were lucky to be ahead 2-1 after the first period. It's the first period we've lost in quite a while".

Lafave's pre-series statement on how well his boys liked to play in Finch came true with the double-figure effort. On that, he noted "we beat Finch 8-2 here last game and we took Osnabruck 9-4 here in the last game of our playoff series with them".

Saturday's game was much faster than the series opener but the tri-colored gang were still left trailing by the hustling Rebels.

Char-Lan struck at the 20 second mark of the game and twice they scored three times in two minute spans to run up the lopsided margin.

Finch Township was slow to take to the attack, playing almost half of the opening frame before they managed a shot on Ricky Marleau. The only close in drive at him in the first period went in with all the other coming from outside the blueline.

Mike O'Donohue spoiled the shutout at 7:51 after Char-Lan had moved on top 2-1 when he blasted home a rebound off a Rick McGillis shot.

The second period slowed to a near crawl with Char-Lan unloading for three quick goals to pull ahead 5-1 and take control of the game.

They struck quickly again in the final stanza to prompt coach O'Donohue to pull starting goalie Jim Hume in favor of midget affiliate Norm Oullette. He was tagged for the last five goals with Hume sitting in the stands in his civies.

Raymond Bourdon was the top gunner for Char-Lan with four goals as Kenton Spink and Mitch MacDonald each scored twice. MacDonald also had two assists.

Marc Seguin counted a goal and three assists as Dale Lafave and Lloyd Fourney, before he was ejected in the second period for being the third man in on a fight, got single goals.

Seguin's hat trick effort leads Rebels in 4-3 sleeper

WILLIAMSTOWN (Staff) - This year's Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League championship series got off to a yawning start here last Thursday night.

Host and slightly favored Char-Lan Rebels squeaked out a 4-3 victory in the eight-point final opener over Finch Township 76s as both teams performed well below their potential.

Both teams approached the game with a double deck of caution and neither tossed any freebies on the table to arouse excitment. In fact, referee Carman McMillan and linesman Frank St. Pierre and Andre Claude could have easily been arrested for disturbing the peace at times.

Finch Township coach Leonard O'Donohue was almost dumb-founded at the conclusion of the game. "We're a better hockey club than that" he noted.

Both teams tossed their game plans out the window almost immediately after the opening faceoff. Finch Township had hoped to bump and check and the Rebels wanted to skate.

The only real excitement was generated in the final minute of the game and then it was too late to have fans buzzing with conversation.

With Char-Lan up 4-3 and Finch Township goalie Jim Hume on the bench and 29 seconds to play, the Rebels were called for intentional offside and the faceoff taken back in their zone to the left of Ricky Marleau.

O'Donohue sent on Eddie Gove to win draw from Marc Seguin, the offensive star of the game for Char-Lan, but defenceman Harvey Primeau cleared the puck to the neutral zone where the final buzzer sounded.

Both teams played a conservative first frame, finishing with a scoreless tie.

Char-Lan coach Wendall Lafave commented that a goal would open the play up and it did slightly but momentarily as the Rebels charged quickly when play resumed.

Char-Lan went on top 2-0 before the three minute mark of the middle frame and they stretched it to 3-0 near the midway point. Finch got a late charge going and narrowed the count to 3-2 before the stanza ended.

Seguin led the Rebels with a hat trick as Kent Spink got their first goal. Finch Township got single markers from Gove, Bill DeWit and Rick McGillis.

O'Donohue first reaction in a post-game comment was "number seven" in reference to Marc Seguin. "We didn't hit him enough. We let him skate" he quipped.

Both teams spent much of the first two frames shorthanded with McMillan calling everything he saw.

One Char-Lan penalty almost cost Finch Township the lead in the first period. Seguin stepped out of the sin bin with over five minutes to play and he was just in time to scoop up a clearing pass and go in alone on Hume. Hume made the stop as Rick McGillis tripped up the Rebel forward from behind.

Gove was turned aside by Marleau in the first minute of the second frame after he slipped the puck between Harvey Primeau's feet and walked in alone.

Just over a minute later, Spink pumped a shot past Hume to start their forward gears.

Just 68 seconds after, Seguin got his first goal by going around the net untouched and tucking the puck in the corner by the post.

Four minutes later, he was left alone in the slot to fire a shot between Hume's legs for a 3-0 margin.

The 76s got on the board at 8:38 when defenceman Gary Forsyth held the puck in the Char-Lan end. He threw the puck to Gove in the slot and he spun around defenceman Primeau to beat Marleau on the ice.

Two minutes later Kevin Fontaine was off for swinging his stick at Hume when lanky Bill DeWit got the tri-colored gang back in the contest by teaming up with Jim Lawson.

With 4:29 played in the final period, Char-Lan got the goal they wanted from Seguin when he circled the net and jammed it in against the post after Hume had blocked Primeau's shot from the point and was left out of position.

However, the 76s got that back at 10:34 when Rick McGillis batted in a Mike O'Donohue shot.

Both teams were sluggish as time ticked with layoffs from the bumping showing.

Countymen lead D.B. Const.

Newington bounces Avonmore

FINCH (Staff) - Defending champion David Brown Construction and Avonmore Aces will be facing elimination when the North Stormont Intermediate Men's Hockey League playoffs resume here tonight (Wednesday).

Both best-of-seven semi-final series stand at 3-2 going into tonight's double-header. Stormont Countymen are leading the Ingleside construction team and Newington last week registered three straight victories to move ahead of Avonmore.

Avonmore and Newington play the 8pm game tonight and Stormont meets D.B. Construction in the 9:30pm game. If seven games are required the schedule will be reversed Friday with D.B. Construction and Stormont playing the early game and the Aces meeting the Flyers in the nightcap.

If only one game is required it will be played at 8pm. The best-of-seven final series will start at 8pm Sunday.

Pennant-winning Newington rebounded from 3-2 and 6-4 defeats that started that series. They won 5-1 last Wednesday, 4-3 Friday and 3-1 Sunday.

In the other series, Stormont took a stranglehold on the series after splitting the first two games by winning 7-2 last Wednesday and 3-2 Friday. They bowed 7-4 Sunday.

Newington regained their winning ways last Wednesday with Kim St. Pierre leading the attack with a goal and two assists.

Other goals were scored by Lynn McIntyre, Don Simpson and Bruce Wells.

Wayne Sproule counted the only Avonmore goal in the first half to tie the score.

Friday night, Avomore got late goals from Sproule and Bruce Henderson to close the score to 4-3 and make the defeat respectable. Don Blaney had counted the first goal.

Don Simpson paced the Flyers with two goals as Brad Shaver and David Tait got single goals.

Henry Jansen's powerplay goal late in the first period snapped 1-1 deadlock in Sunday game as the Flyers took the lead in the series. Don Simpson scored with 1:24 to play in the game to secure the win.

Grant Simpson had notched the first Newington goal after Larry Jackson had given Avonmore an early lead.

Keith McGregor, a thorn in Ingleside's side in the first two games, delivered again last Wednesday with two goals and as many assists to pace the Countymen to their 7-2 win.

Doug Cheney also scored twice and Ossie Shaver, Clarence Adams and John Gove got single goals for the winners.

Ed Gove and Ron Brown replied for D.B. Construction.

Friday night, Countymen moved into a 3-1 series lead with a 3-2 victory on the strength of a late offensive surge.

MacGregor, Cheney and Gove scored for the winners as son, Eddie Gove, notched both goals in a losing effort.

Five second half goals lifted Ingleside to a 7-4 win Sunday and another shot at reaching the final series.

Dale Swerdfeger paced the riverfront boys with two goals as singletons were counted by Roger Swerdfeger, Dan Beaudette, Cecil Prieur, Dwayne Crawford and Clayton Ouderkirk.

Stormont got two goals from Clarence Adams and one each from MacGregor and Barry Brownlee.

Close but not quite for Erik

Chesterville oldtimers were inches away several times Saturday as they bowed into in two straight games at the tournament which they hosted. Smiths Falls beat the locals 6-2 in the first period and Kemptville was awarded the victory after playing to a 3-3 against Chesterville in the second round. Chesterville dominated that game and could have easily doubled the score on their opposition if luck would have been with them. Above, Chesterville's Erik Thompson gets in close on Kemptville goalie Dick Sculthorpe. Thompson hit the post on the play.

Midget Flyers fall short in gold medal game

BEACHBURG (Staff) - Chesterville Midget Flyers were simply outclassed, according to coach Bert Beckstead, as they settled for the silver medal at the ODMHA Midget C Tournament of Champions here Saturday.

The host Muskrat team claimed the gold medallions with a 6-2 win over the Flyers as Metcalfe settled for the bronze and Winchester the black.

Muskrat popped three quick goals late in the first period of the championship match and they ran the count to 4-0 in the middle stanza.

Marque Laflamme finally got the Flyers on the scoreboard with 5:32 to play after their opposition had moved on top 5-0. With 3:47 to play, Terry Barkley got Chesterville's second goal.

Winchester beat the locals 5-1 in the opening game of the day with Steven Jones counting the lone Chesterville marker.

Metcalfe fell 5-1 to Chesterville in the second game of the four team event.

In the contest, Chesterville led 3-1 and 4-1 at the period changes.

Laflamme, who counted two goals, shot the Flyers into the lead and after the Mustangs tied the score Chesterville captain Curtis McMillan blinked the light twice 35 second apart.

Glen Shay counted the fourth Chesterville goal and Laflamme closed out the scoring in the final frame.

Kenny Shay, Garry Beckstead, McMillan and Laflamme each collected two assists.

Sunday, Chesterville was the consolation round finalist at the annual Stittsville tournament.

Aylmer dropped the Flyers 3-1 in the first game as Laflamme scored the Chesterville goal in the second period after they had dropped behind 2-0 after one period of play.

Flyers were ready for the second game as they hammered Orleans 8-2 with Garry Beckstead scoring a hat trick to pace the attack.

Laflamme, McMillan, Barkley, David Byers and Mike Beckstead scored single goals as the Flyers led 3-0 and 5-2 at the period changes.

Chesterville simply ran out of steam with fatigue taking its toll in the final game as they were blanked 3-0 by Ottawa Centre.

Garry Beckstead received an MVP award during the game against Orleans and goalie Eddie Witteveen was the recipient of a similar award for his outstanding play in keeping the score down in the final game.

Elliott scoring paces Maroon to lead in final

(Staff) - John "Rogie" Elliott continued his terrorizing acts in the Chesterville Town Hockey League last week.

The speedy winger for Maroon potted six goals in two games to lead his team into the league finals and into a 1-0 game lead in the best-of-five final set.

Elliott, the circuit's top sniper during the regular campaign, turned in a solo scoring performance in the deciding contest of their best-of-three series against Black last Tuesday.

Maroon lost the series opener but forced the set to a deciding game.

In the final game, Elliott scored four times in the 9-2 romp over Black. Dave Carkner helped the cause with a hat trick and Charles McMillan also scored twice for the winners.

Black could manage only single goals from John Douma and Phil Groves.

The following night, Wednesday, the blonde-haired sharpshooter was back at it again with Green being the target of his assault.

Elliott scored twice as Maroon got past Green 3-2. Doug Merkley got the other goal as Maroon fell behind 1-0 and took the lead with a pair of quick goals. They moved on top 3-1 before Green added their second goal.

Tom Kirkwood, the kingpin in Green's attack in beating out pennant-winning Red in the semi-finals, scored once as did Barry Holmes in a losing effort.

The second game of the final was played last night (Tuesday) and game three will go tonight (Wednesday) at 9pm. A fourth game, if required is set for 8pm Thursday and a fifth at 8pm next Tuesday.

Fourth straight Gill Cup for Lions

Morrisburg finishes off Winchester in six games

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Roster changes, injuries and now the Winchester Hawks have joined the list of unsuccessfuls in claiming the Gill Cup from the Morrisburg Lions.

Lions last Wednesday night became the first team ever to win the ODJBHL St. Lawrence division trophy for the fourth time and they accomplished the feat in successive years. It also marked the ninth time John Rice has been associated with winning the Cup as a team owner, coach, manager or player.

Morrisburg claimed the Gill Cup on the strength of their 7-5 victory but only after Winchester had pushed the best-of-seven series to a sixth game with a 9-3 trouncing the previous night.

Winchester won the series opener 10-2 but the Lions roared back with a 7-5 and a pair of 5-3 wins to take a stanglehold on the set.

For the past two seasons, Prescott Saints were finalists against Morrisburg and Metcalfe provided the opposition four years ago.

Now the Lions look to the Smiths Falls Settlers of the Rideau-St. Lawrence division for opposition. Morrisburg is in search of their third ODHA Junior B Championship in four years and second straight.

Enthusiastic Winchester Hawk followers were down because of the championship setback but they were optimistic in looking ahead. Their Hawks this year made the finals for the first time ever and a steady improvement has been made during recent campaigns.

They will look to a strong nucleus on which to start again next year with forwards Brad Sullivan, Dale Sullivan, Lorne Cook and Brian Moran and defenceman Mike Armstrong and Gary McMillan being lost to the age ruling.

Division statistician Lynne O'Brien presented the Gill Cup to Morrisburg captain Robbie Reynolds.

In Tuesday's fifth game in Winchester, Winchester took charge of the contest late in the second period as they stretched a 4-3 score to 6-3 after they had a 4-1 margin dwindle.

Mike Moran paced the Hawks' attack with a hat trick and Dave Sullivan chipped in with a pair of goals.

Rudy Grisel, Lorne Cook and Barry Casselman, Winchester's hottest line in the regular season, snapped out of playoff scoring slump with a goal from each of the trio. Brad Sullivan counted the other goal.

Bob McNairn, Dave Tait and Scott Corden replied for Morrisburg.

Winchester received 11 minors and a major as the Lions had nine minors and a major.

Wednesday night, Morrisburg scored a pair of quick powerplay goals late in the first period to erase a 2-0 Winchester lead.

They moved ahead quickly in the middle stanza and maintained a 5-3 advantage after 40 minutes of play.

Casselman and Marty Little had given Winchester the lead but it was equalled by goals from McNairn and Reynolds.

Gary Jarvis put the Lions in front 3-2 and Mark Payment and Tait scored later in the frame after Dave Sullivan had tied the score at 3-3.

Mark Beaupre lifted the Morrisburg lead to 6-3 at 2:18 of the third period as Winchester kept applying offensive pressure but with no success. Dan Lee made it 6-4 at 5:46 and Brad Sullivan narrowed the margin to one with 3:41 left to play.

Morrisburg finally clinched the victory when Bob McNairn after two unsuccessful attempts got the puck past Rudy Grisel into the open cage with seven seconds remaining.

Of the 16 minors called in the game, nine went to the Lions.

DFL remains totally senior

CARDINAL (Staff) - Dundas Fastball League will function again this summer with four and possibly five entries, it was learned at a league organizational meeting here Monday night.

Williamsburg Pioneers, Cardinal Pats, Brockville Commercial Stars and Maynard Roadrunners are definite entries for the coming season. League officials expect a definite answer either way later this week on a possible entry from Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Domville Aces, one of the most feared team in the area for a number of years, will not operate this season and their players will be told to first consider joining with neighboring Maynard prior to joining with other league entries.

Ogdensburg representatives told the league they had an abundance of players but were lacking a pitcher. The league "granted unlimited use of players as long as they are from their (Ogdensburg) own city league" according the the secretary-treasurer Lynne O'Brien.

Talk a few weeks back had Kemptville interested in joining the circuit as an intermediate team but they decided not to enter because of problems that would be encountered when seeking entry into tournaments.

The league also changed its name back to the Dundas Fastball League and decided to keep the games at nine regular innings.

In a discipline change, any player, coach or manager ejected from a game will automatically be suspended for his team's next game.

The league hopes to get the regular season start Fri., May 11. The league will have a 24 game regular schedule with four teams operating and 30 games with five teams.

Morrisburg claws S. Falls in overtime

MORRISBURG (Staff) - A four goal explosion in overtime lifted the Morrisburg Lions to an 8-4 decision over the Smiths Falls Settlers in the opening game of their ODJBHL best-of-seven semi-final series Sunday.

The game was forced into a 10-minute overtime session when the regulation 60 minute game finished in a 4-4 draw.

It didn't take long for the Lions to establish themselves in the extra frame as Bob McNairn lifted the over 800 fans to their feet at the 31 second mark to snap the deadlock.

Little Jeff Cassell, who forced the overtime with a powerplay goal at 18:13 of the third period, ran the score to 6-4 at 4:43. Mark Beaupre made it 7-4 at 5:44 and captain Robbie Reynolds finished off the surge at 8:27 with a powerplay effort.

After a scoreless first period, the Settlers, winners of the Rideau St.-Lawrence division, charged ahead 3-0 in the middle stanza on goals from Steve McKenny, Dave Ferris and Tom Henderson.

St. Lawrence division scoring champ Jim Whelan looked after lead midway through the final frame when he dented the twine twice in 59 seconds. The second goal was on a powerplay.

At 14:22 Scott Corden equalled the score at 3-3.

Dan Forler fired Smiths Falls back into the lead at 16:43 of the final period but Cassell sent the game into overtime.

Referees were kept loose in the game calling 32 minor penalties with 20 going to Smiths Falls.

Game two of the series was played in Smiths Falls last night (Tuesday) and the third contest will be there again Friday at 8:15pm. It shifts back to Morrisburg at 2:30pm Sunday for the fourth game. All remaining home dates for Smiths Falls will be played at Kempville because the ice is being removed there.

Russell, Osgoode capture oldtimer hockey honors

(Staff) - Chesterville Oldtimers' hockey team may have been losers on the ice but off their blades they were true champs with all the results tabulated from their first and successful hockey tournament here Saturday.

Russell turned in three lopsided victories to claim the tournament's grand championship and Osgoode came out on top in the eight-team event's consolation round.

Matilda Township was rocked 10-1 in the A final by the speedy Russell roster and Osgoode belted Kemptville 7-2 in the B division final.

Players on four of the eight teams went home with some type of souvenir.

Russell and Matilda dominated when it came time to present the three individual awards. Russell's Gaye Ford was the top scorer with seven goals and 11 assists for 18 points and Roy McCooeye was the best goalie, allowing three goals in three games.

Bob Powers of Matilda Township was chosen the tournament's best defenceman. All three players were presented with Molson sports bags.

Matilda hit the scoreboard first with Alton Cassidy blinking the red light at 3:08. Then the gates opened as Russell took charge with 11 straight goals, leading 4-1 and 5-1 at the period changes.

Carl Knuth was the top sniper for the victors with a hat trick as Gaye Ford, Rick Garbet and Ed Blais each connected for a pair of goals. Gib Labelle scored once.

The consolation final was much the same with Kemptville scoring first and Osgoode coming back strong to post the win.

Marcel Magnan got both Kemptville goals, the first shorthanded and the second to reduce an Osgoode lead to 3-2 late in the second period.

Laurie Lee and Gary Cuctain each fired two goals for Osgoode as Bernie Driscol, Adrian Brooks, and Larry Dumelie contributed with single goals.

Nestle gift packages were presented to the most valuable player on each team in the two championship games. Winners were Gaye Ford of Russell, Bob Powers of Matilda, Larry Dumelie of Osgoode and Marcel Magnan of Kemptville.

Russell easily advanced to the final by thumping Kemptville 12-1 and Smiths Falls 9-1. Matilda qualified for the deciding game by nipping Chalk River 2-1 and beating North Gower 4-1.

Smiths Falls handled the host Chesterville squad 6-2 in their opening round match-up. Lester Holmes counted both goals for the locals.

Chesterville proved much tougher in their second game of the day when they met Kemptville. The game ended in a 3-3 tie with Kemptville awarded the win by virtue of scoring the game's first goal.

The locals dominated the game and could have easily claimed an early victory but luck was not theirs around the Kemptville cage.

Marcel Magnan got the first of his three goals midway through the first period. With 5:37 to play in the frame, Mike Fyke tied the score and Rick Cormer sent Chesterville into the lead three minutes later.

Magnan knotted the score in the opening minute of the middle stanza and Bob Youmelle sent Chesterville back into the lead with 1:31 left in the period.

Magnan got a powerplay goal to tie the score with 4:38 left in the game.

Local clubs grumbling over lack of volunteers

(Staff) - Only time will answer what the future holds for the Chesterville Figure Skating Club.

Alan Dixon recently moved to the past-president position of the local club and he wonders what is really in store for the club because poor attendance at its last two annual general meetings.

Last year only a dozen people attended the meeting and last week's general session attracted only "four people and three of those were on the executive".

The club is now without a president and a secretary because Gail Parks, who held the post, is planning to teach next season and she can not serve the club two-fold because of regulations against "conflict of interest".

That leaves Carol Barkley as treasurer, membership chairman Shirley Coons and general director Coby Grisel.

Mr. Dixon termed the annual general meeting as "a real lack of entusiasm". Over 150 small flyers announcing the meeting had been distributed to parents of club members over a week in advance.

He also noted that technically the club's hands were bound tight because it has not had a quorum for the past two annual general meetings. But, he commented the few people that do attend these organizational meetings have to keep plodding along to keep the club operational.

"It's not just the skating club" he said, "same holds true for other local groups".

In conversation earlier Thursday, Chesterville and District Minor Hockey Association president Harry Craig confirmed he would not be seeking a second term of office and it was getting to the serious point where people would not volunteer their help.

Minor hockey meetings have also been rather poorly attended and it took some time for an executive slate to even be filled.

Mr. Dixon commented "people don't want to be named to an official post and in a small club like ours, it's not a heavy duty".

The figure skating club had 72 members this past season and minor hockey over 130. Both clubs need assistance - not the kind that stands back and offers criticism but the kind that takes on a chore and sees it through to the end with a community-minded effort and not one for individual prestige.

Chesterville not interested in SD&G minor hockey league

(Staff) - Chesterville has been included as a possible member of a proposed Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Minor Hockey League.

Chesterville and District Minor Hockey Association president Harry Craig and Bernie Harper recently attended an information meeting on the proposed league which is being spearheaded by officials from the Char-Lan Minor Hockey Association in Williamstown.

Exerpts from a letter received from Char-Lan MHA president Dwayne McRae by Mr. Craig say "with our school boards, the county government and numerous other organizations established on this basis, it would seem natural to move in this direction. At present the association with District One and Two participate in three different leagues. In each case there has been movement away from the centre of the three counties. These arrangements have led to various problems; distances, differences of rules, attitudes, etc.

In the proposed league, all the associations would be from "around home" and this familiarity should make for a friendlier, better organized league. Established relationships with teams outside the proposed league could still be maintained, on an exhibition and tournament basis."

"Associations anticipated in taking part are: Alexandria, Maxville, Char-Lan, Cornwall Township, Osnabruck, Cornwall, Winchester, Chesterville, Morrisburg, Iroquois and - although outside SD&G - Cardinal."

"One organizational possibility might be a two division league divided on an East and West basis with or without an interlocking schedule. Following the regular schedule, playoffs could be held to decide East and West Division champs. Division winners would then meet to declare the overall Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Champions."

Mr. Craig's response to the letter and reaction from attending the meeting in Eamer's Corners was one of non-committal.

"I don't think we're ready for it this year" he commented in saying the CDMHA was decreasing in membership. He suggested the tri-county league may be a good idea but only some divisions have enough boys for more than one team and he wondered what would happen to the B team.

The A clubs may be competitive in their respective divisions but the CDMHA would have to locate a league in which its B teams could participate. In the past season, Chesterville pulled its B teams out of the Upper St. Lawrence Minor Hockey League and had them play in the Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League.

Mr. Craig thought the proposal was good but noted the new format may just end up to be "an SG league."

Contacted Friday afternoon about the proposed new tri-county league, Mr. McRae was not optimistic of any Dundas team joining because Chesterville was the only Dundas association represented at the recent meeting. All of the Stormont and Glengarry associations were in attendance.

The Stormont and Glengarry teams have been playing in the Can-Am league which initially started off with Massena as the lone American-based team. Now, says, Mr. McRae, Potsdam is included and the divisions have as many as 11 and as few as seven teams.

"The bantam division has 11 teams and it's like playing exhibition games because you meet another team only twice in a 20-game season" he noted.

Mr. McRae foresees a Stormont and Glengarry league formed next year if the Dundas associations are not interested. He predicts there will be two separate divisions - Canadian and American - with no travelling across the border unless the eventual division winners challenge each other. He does not even hope for an interlocking schedule.

Crysler ousts Berwick

FINCH (Staff) - A quick goal by Carmen Pilon was all Crysler needed to oust Berwick and advance to the finals of the North Stormont Ladies' Broomball League.

Pilon got the goal just 10 seconds after the opening faceoff Monday night as Crysler won the deciding game of the best-of-three semi-final set 1-0. Anna Patenaude turned in the shutout.

Crysler and Newington will start their best-of-five final series at 8pm Monday at Finch.

In Monday's other game, Ingleside pasted Avonmore 4-0 in the league's consolation playoff round. Patsy Wylie and Gloria Waldroff each scored twice for the winners.

They led 1-0 and 3-0 at the period changes as Muriel Stewart guarded the cage for the shutout.

Questionnaires to be returned by Sat.

Cornwall, Osnabruck townships considering minor hockey merger

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - Minor hockey parents in Cornwall and Osnabruck townships are being asked to consider a merger of the minor hockey associations in the two municipalities.

A questionnaire and letter signed by Osnabruck Township Minor Hockey Association president Randy Cleary and Jim Criag, president of the Cornwall Township Minor Hockey Association, were sent out recently asking for public response.

The questionnaire, which asks three questions, are to be returned by no later than this coming Sat., April 7 to the Long Sault or Finch areas or to the township offices of the two municipalities.

The questionnaire asks: are you in favor of the proposed amalgamation of Cornwall and Osnabruck Township minor hockey associations; do you wish further information and if so are you willing to attend a public meeting and indicate in which areas (executive, coach or referee) you are willing to help the new amalgamated organization.

The letter addressed to minor hockey parents from the two associations states a three-fold reason for amalgamation - to react to a reduced number of registrations in both townships, to make better utilization of ice time and to better meet the needs of more minor hockey players.

The joining of the associations would call for the formation of one association under a new name with adults from both townships required to shoulder the executive, coaching and refereeing chores. It also calls for play at the Centennial Arena in Long Sault.

The executives of the two associations first met to consider the feasibility of a merger in February and they have the blessings of their respective township recreation committees.

The next step for both association executives is to take a hard look at the questionnaire responses and then decide whether or not to call a public meeting.

Osnabruck Bantams win silver medallions

INGLESIDE (Staff) - Osnabruck Township bantams, coached by Tom Moore, added two more titles to their credit on the weekend.

The bantams claimed the consolation round title at the annual Stittsville tournament Saturday and they won the silver medal at the ODMHA Bantam C Playdown Championship Tournament at Cornwall's Water Street Arena Sunday.

Osnabruck eliminated Stittsville and Metcalfe to qualify for that three team round-robin event.

Athens was the eventual winner as they blasted Osnabruck 8-3 and also got past Muskrat. Osnabruck Township won the silver medal with a 4-3 won over Muskrat.

Saturday, Osnabruck bowed to Arnprior before they beat Muskrat and Ottawa 79s for the consolation crown.

This year Osnabruck won three A titles and two B crowns.

They finished their regular season in the Can-Am league in third place ahead of seven other entries and they are currently playing in their semi-finals.
