REUNION REUNION REUNION

Reunion weekend will be a unique experience

Twenty-five years have passed since the first classes entered the halls of what had been named in 1967, Seaway District High School.

Returning to the scene of the years of schooling that prepared each of us to face whatever challenges life might toss into the path as we proceeded can be a time of mixed emotions and is for sure going to be a memorable step into the past. Sometimes remembering can be difficult while at other times it can be the most wonderful thing ever. It certainly is what you make it.

Seaway will definitely bring back memories for everyone who comes for the Reunion.

There is no doubt that each person who comes back will remember that "Seaway was, and still is a great place to be learning."

What is Seaway to you?

It may be a complex conglomeration of feelings, experiences and opportunities.Think about what Seaway is or has been to you, whenever during the last twenty-five years...

It is many things to many people, it is Working, Learning, Studying, Smiling, Laughing, Having Fun, Meeting People, Interacting with Peers and Teachers, Dating, Dancing, Sports and so much more.

Things that you recall, the events that collectively become more treasured as time passes will flash before your eyes in brief and fleeting moments of remembering.

In September 1967, after long debates and numerous arguments concerning location, Morrisburg High School and Iroquois High School combined to become Seaway District High School.

Located in Iroquois, the School population consisted of 40 teachers and 545 students.

When Seaway became a reality, it was important to remember that the former Iroquois High consisted of only the lower, north hall. Additions and expansion resulted in a much larger building.

Not long after, the closure of South Mountain High School brought even more students to Seaway, and the population swelled to 774 students in the mid 70s.

Over the years the faces of new students, teachers and staff appear in hallways, upper and lower as old and familiar faces disappear. It is the duty of each of us to "catch a moment in time and hold tight to the memories"...that is what makes life so great.

Do you recall when Seaway began? Staff memebrs like Mr. Foster, Mr. Francis, Mr. Gruich, Ms. Hamilton, Miss Harris (Now Mrs. McAllister) and Mrs. Organ (Mrs. Madden today), Mr. Madden, Mr. Morrell, Mr. Satcey and Mr. Whyte certainly must and they can share with all who attend the Reunion some tales from the past.Mr. Foster...do you recall when you had only 3 students in your Algebra Class????(Great pupil/teacher ratio, eh?)

Were you at Seaway when the school supported a Rugger Team, a Football Sqad, a Model Railway Club, a Weaving Club???

Were you ever a part of a Latin Class,a German lesson, or were any of the following subjects part of your timetable...Refridgeration, or Electronics?

Do you remember being a member of the Student Police or the School Safety Team?

Remember those Winter Carnivals , the trips to Quebec City, to Rome Italy, to New York City, to Egypt, to ski hills and to Stratford??? The bus rides, the overnighters and the friendships that were moulded during the former outings last far into the future.

Variety Nights have come and gone, Air Band Competitions grew and were popular over the years, as numerous took to the stage and found they did have talent.

The music that eminated from the various Seaway Bands was sweet to all ears and the talented folks who carried on with their music in later endeavours prove that their work at Seaway was worthwhile.

The 80's brought yet more changes to Seaway with the yard getting a face lift, the lockers were splashed with bright colours, the cafeteria gained a Coke machine and a juke box, while the Sports Hall of Fame was a novel idea that was welcome as the best in the athletic field can be recognized. The Semester System came to Seaway and the range of clothing that carries the Seaway logo allows students to show their spirit and support for their school.

Many will recall the horrified stares as the school colours were unveiled, and now in the 90s, the black, white and orange are popular and those who sport them hardly ever see duplication of them, unique for sure.

It is well understood that, "Life goes on, we must be prepared to move forward with the times, ready to seize each opportunity...as one door closes, another opens, we need but walk through."

There were those fun times that will remain a part of each student far into time. The events that saw some worthy charity helped brought satisfaction to many, the Jump Rope for Heart and the Blood Donor Clinic where a noteable, Dracula was ever prevalent spoke volumes about the students of Seaway.

Prom Night...a moment in time to be held tightly and when memories were made. That first formal attire and the steady who was such an important ingredient in the eve-

Hold on to the Memories of Days Gone By....

Reunion Committee welcomes you

It doesn't seem that long ago that some of us first walked through the fresh new facilities at Seaway District High School and tried to adjust to those "distinctive" school colours...orange and black.

And now, we are celebrating Seaway's 25th Anniversary!!!!

The Seaway 25th Reunion Committee members have had a fun time putting together the REUNION WEEKEND program over the last many months and we are excited about seeing our former classmates and teachers. The response has been very good from people in the area and from as far away as British Columbia. Over 200 have registered for all the main events...the Wine and Cheese, the Dance and the Family Day and lots more have registered for one or more of the events. But there is room for more, so don't wait any longer, let us know that you too will be there.

Unique air head contestants, 1991

For those who haven't registered yet and would like to come to any or all the Weekend don't stay at home and miss out because you have not been able to contact us...just show up at any of the events and we will gladly register you for whatever you want to take part in. To those who have already registered, "THANKS"it has been most helpful in planning to have an idea of how many are coming, what events you are interested in, when you went to Seaway, etc.

We want to remind people that REUNION WEEKEND is OPEN to any members of the community, not just former students and staff, the more the merrier as they say.

We hope the events we have planned will appeal to a number of different audiences and participants.

The Friday Wine and Cheese will be a great opportunity to meet your old buddies and teachers over refreshments while sharing some old stories.

The Saturday Sports Day promises to be loads of fun for all who take part, whether playing golf, softball or volleyball.

Saturday Night's Variety Night, in the Gymnasium, will bring back some familiar voices from the past and warm things up for the Reunion Dance that will take place in the Morrisburg Arena with Eddy and the Stingrays.

Family Day is Sunday and the track at Seaway will come alive with children. This will afford each of us to introduce our families to old friends and also give a chance for the youngsters to have a good time with races, games, clowns, puppet shows and much more. The Lions Club will be providing a BBQ lunch or you may want to bring your own. In case of rain, the Sports and Fun days will be held indoors at the school.

Planning for the REUNION WEEKEND has given the Reunion Committee members a chance to get in touch with old friends and to make new ones. Chances like this do not come along very often.

Don't miss out on your opportunity, we hope to see you at the REUNION WEEKEND.

"Catch the Seaway 25th Reunion Spirit!"

Sherry Corden Fairweather,
Reunion Committee Chair.

Principal's message

This weekend's Seaway Reunion will be a wonderful opportunity for former students and staff as well as their families to meet and celebrate the school's first quarter century!

On behalf of the Seaway staff, present and past, it is my pleasure to welcome each and every one of you to a weekend that promises to be filled with fellowship and fun.

In 1967, when Principal A.J.Bray and his staff of 37 first opened Seaway's doors to students of South Dundas, Canada was celebrating its centennial and the Toronto Maple Leafs were winning the Stanley Cup!

Today, as Canadians consider their country's future and the Leafs dream of repeating their feat of '67, you will find Seaway to be a very different place from the school you attended. Today's school provides upgraded facilities and programs to ensure that tomorrow's graduates have the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes to compete successfully in the global economy of the 21st century.

One thing that has not changed however, is the school's friendly and caring atmosphere. As you stroll the hallways and greet old friends, I know that you will feel the special Seaway spirit that has always been a part of the school's character.

Whether you attended Seaway during the era of A.J. Bray, C.C. Hart, or P.T. Lloyd, please accept my best wishes for a memorable weekend. Your presence will ensure that during the weekend of June 5,6 and 7, Seaway will be a "Great Place To Be!"

Doug Murray,
Principal, Seaway, 1992.

25th Reunion at Seaway District High School

My, my, how time flies when we are having fun!

How could it be twenty-five years since the addition was put on the Iroquois High building in the "new" town, to accommodate students from Morrisburg and South Mountain Secondary Schools that were being relocated due to the closure of their facilities by the Board?

What about those patio lanterns Scott??

No matter, time waits for no one...and the former students and staff who return to the halls of Seaway to remember will forget the passage of time as they step into their past. Memories will flood back....

Blackboards now clean and bare will recall tales of learning and mischieviousness that linger still in every classroom.

Those locker lined halls could give away some treasured secrets if they could speak!

What about the gymnasium? Now there is a unique spot, where assemblies were held and hands could be held supposedly without the staff knowing! Why there were even stolen kisses in the darkened auditorium...so they say.

The sports events that had spirit high and enthusiasm at fever pitch will long live, vividly in memories.

Awards and congratulations that were accepted and given here are numerous. As the shine from the hardwood reflects on the walls and ceiling, so too do the momentous milestones that moulded the lives of all of us who passed through here on our way to bigger things.

Down through the years, students and staff alike, came and went, but the traditions continued.

Through 25 years of learning, teaching and growing; everyone who passed through the doorways into Seaway contributed to the way things were accomplished and to the future of everyone they came into contact with, until they passed out again.

We all touch and affect one another and perhaps without knowing it absorb as we mature. Seaway holds special memories for each who studied here.

This weekend, those will be resurrected, memories of the time spent here at Seaway. There will also be new ones made. Meeting people not seen during the time since the class of 19..graduated will certainly bring tears to eyes and as the "Footprints to YOUR past" are delicately imprinted what a pile of memories will be assembled to share once more down the road of life.

Whether that mid section has taken on an all too familiar look, that spreading out one: whether the hair line has receded, or the clothes have become much more sedate...what the , everyone has a familiar look and will be recognized. Years of separation will be filled with stories and recollections from the past will come bursting forth.

Certainly a highlight of everyone's life, a Reunion can be a time for tears, both of joy and of sorrow, for the time wasted and spent on worthless endeavours, of dreams now lost in time and of achievements, successes and failures over the years since graduation exercises gave the sought after freedom to young adults who knew exactly what they were seeking in life.

Questions like, "Where have you been? How is the family? What ever happened to ...?" and the like will all be answered.

This, a Silver Reunion, after 25 years in existance, Seaway holds the key to many lives and as they are unlocked throughout the weekend, as friends are revisited and those who have all but been forgotten come face to face with us yet again, we will relive our years spent here in glorious hilarity. Remember, it is always the fun things we recall, the jokes played, the great times spent just talking, the smiles, the frolicking, the pranks and the amusement that gave such pleasure.

Seeing once more the teachers who we now realize shaped us and tried to guide us in the right direction, those whose task it was to drum some knowledge into us before we struck off in the wide world outside of Seaway is a rare opportunity for most.

Speaking with a teacher who is now considered an equal can be a situation that brings everything full circle.

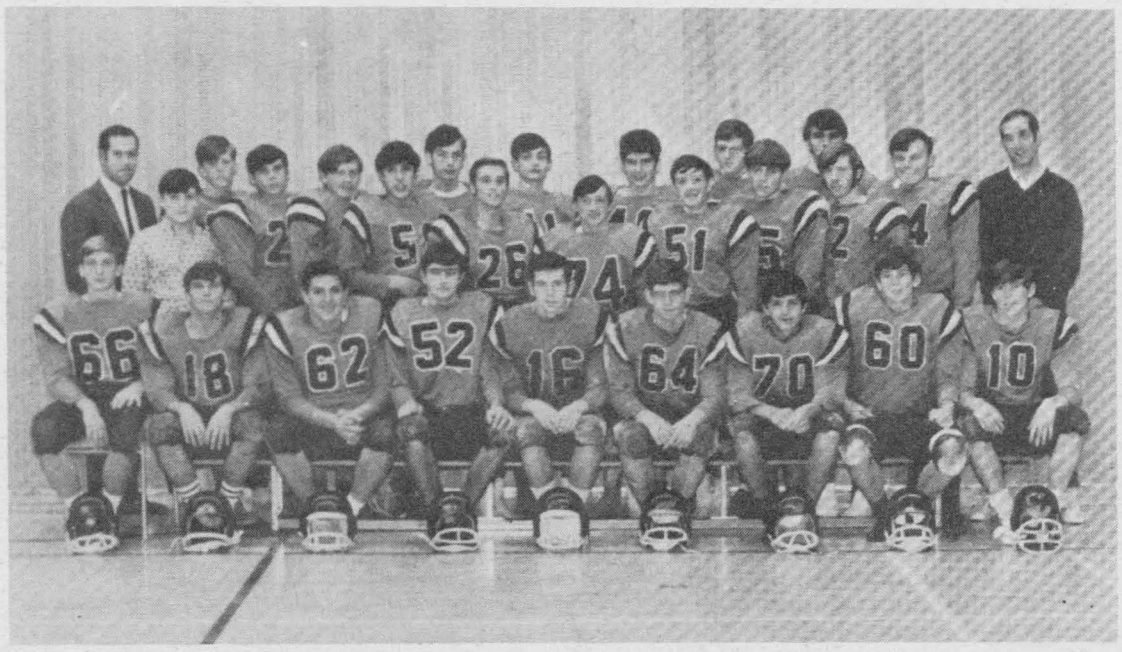
"any make, any model, any year"

Continued Success through the next 25 years

any make - any model - any year



Through the long hours of pain, joy and bruises
He pulls his body through that timeless void known by few.
He is known as the person that lives in the gym
Though this does not bother him.
For he knows his own limits of determination and power
Even though he knows the light of day grows dim
He shall always feel that great revelation knowing
There is left only that one more hour.
The coach is there feeling that good feeling when he sees
Himself reflected in that young gymnast.
When his gymnast is competing he feels the relief of success
When that one crucial trick is over and done at last.
And then there is always that day
When the gymnast will say, "My hands are a torn and bloody mess"
And all the coach can say is, "Get up and do the rest"
For a gymnast knows no other comfort than competing and Knowing he has done his best.

Hup - hup - hup!

For the first time in its history, Seaway fielded a Jr. Football squad. Mr. Phillips and Mr. Stevens stuck with the inexperienced team, who never gave up no matter the odds. Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow kept these guys from booting the pig skin. The year was 1970. How many can you identify?

success, to be worthwhile to those who attend and the crew who did the hard work to carry it through, the people who were a part of the last 25 years have to come and spend time in and around Seaway to make it truly a success.

Those who come "home" to Seaway will be glad they did!

While there will be a time to wonder where the time has gone, what actual achievements have been made during the last 25 years for each of us, there will also be a time to be glad that the chance to pass through Seaway High School was afforded us as we strove to mature grow and learn as much as possible in such a short few years.

Somewhere there lies an answer
Opaqued, perhaps, by mud stirred careless feet.
The search is joined by the entire human race
Following in the track of generations

The blind wonder through the light of the night
They conceal an answer in their hand
At the river of sight you can understand

The search continues
Some can't touch, they just visualize
There's more to a picture than meets the eye.

The cold wind whips down the alley at dawn
Alone lies a child wrapped in morning news
One can't conceive the pleasure of his smile.

Classroom Blues

I enter the room, there's no one here.
But all the pupils soon appear.
The teacher's coming, the test is near.
All the worries come with fear.

There's lots of noise and rising clatter
Plus a persistant amount of chatter.
The desperate teacher cries "Please be Quiet!"
For she fears there may be a riot.

The anticipated test, we now receive.
Silence Falls - there's no reprieve.
Eyes wander, searching for clues.
That's just part of the classroom blues!

I am a poet.
A poet is a vulnerable person,
For in his poems he stands naked
To all who overhear his words.
Every emotion, every thought, every fragile feeling is exposed.
But in the poet's expose,
is the need for understanding —
The need for someone to say,
"Yes, I feel that way sometimes, too.
How did you know?"
Thus in my poems is a search for myself ...
The search for my ever-evasive inner self that hides under masks of unreality.
Search for me and understand me and try to help me understand myself.
I am a poet.

Reunion Weekend

ning, the colours we wore, the flowers and the special activities that stay in the cavities of the mind.

There will be those who return for this Reunion who will remember when the students had to write "provincials" in every class, when 9 credits were necessary in grade 13 for entry to University....

The fun that grew from Hawaiian Day, Greaser Day, Baby Day and the learning and creativity demonstrated on Renaissance Day, all will allow each to pause and recall happy memories that are a part of their very being.

It is impossible to trace exactly the history of Seaway, the highs are so numerous and the achievements so varied. While every high deserves to be recognized, we found the task just too much for the time frame. Thus, we grabbed a few and will include them. Hopefully each person reading this effort will catch a glimpse of what made Seaway special to them.

In 1974, for instance, the Seaway Boys' Softball team won the "A" division; in 1987, the Seaway Science Quiz team were the SD and G winners. In that same year, '87, Linda Thom, Olympic Gold Medalist in Shooting came to Seaway to present the winner in the Trap Shoot with his trophy...recall Rodger Van Adrichem??

The winning Curling team that won the Junior Men's Pepsi "Zone" and the Pepsi "Regional" and made it all the way to the Pepsi "Provincials" where they placed fourth; the numerous teams who won Championships in S.D. and G. competition. The Girls Midget Volleyball squad from 1990 and the Curling team that in '87 won and took part in the EOSSA playdowns. In 1975, the curlers won the Schoolboy Championship of the Ottawa area and did fine at Orillia and St. Catherines. Four members of the team won the Steinberg trophy as well.

Christian Fellowship and Newspaper Clubs existed for a time.

Students' Councils have done admirable jobs over the years and the students who served as valedictorians for their graduating classes will be recalled this weekend as familiar faces from the past are picked out across a crowded room and while hesitation and perhaps a tad bit of confusion (that is ...isn't it???) may halt the process for a moment, the reuniting of classmates not seen for years will be memorable.

The Yearbook staff each year provides a momento of the year in retrospect and a valuable keepsake for all. Leafing through the pages of these brings back thoughts of yesteryear and we can all relive for a brief time, our youth.

If no other lesson is retained from our high school years, there is one that should be;"Success and happiness are attainable qualities, and that success is a journey, not a destiny."

Those who travel from the 1967 school year will recall the time when the school building was not entirely ready when the school year began and the students were gathered by class on the football field and were checked in and then sent home again.

The motto of Seaway says PER ARDUA AD ASTRA which loosely translated (Latin is a dead language afterall) means, "through hard work, you can reach your goal" stands today as it did 25 years ago, strong and firm like the learning that takes place at Seaway. As you, join in the Reunion Weekend fun and reminisce about when you were among the Seaway family, enjoy and recall those people and those events that shine brightly in your past and future.

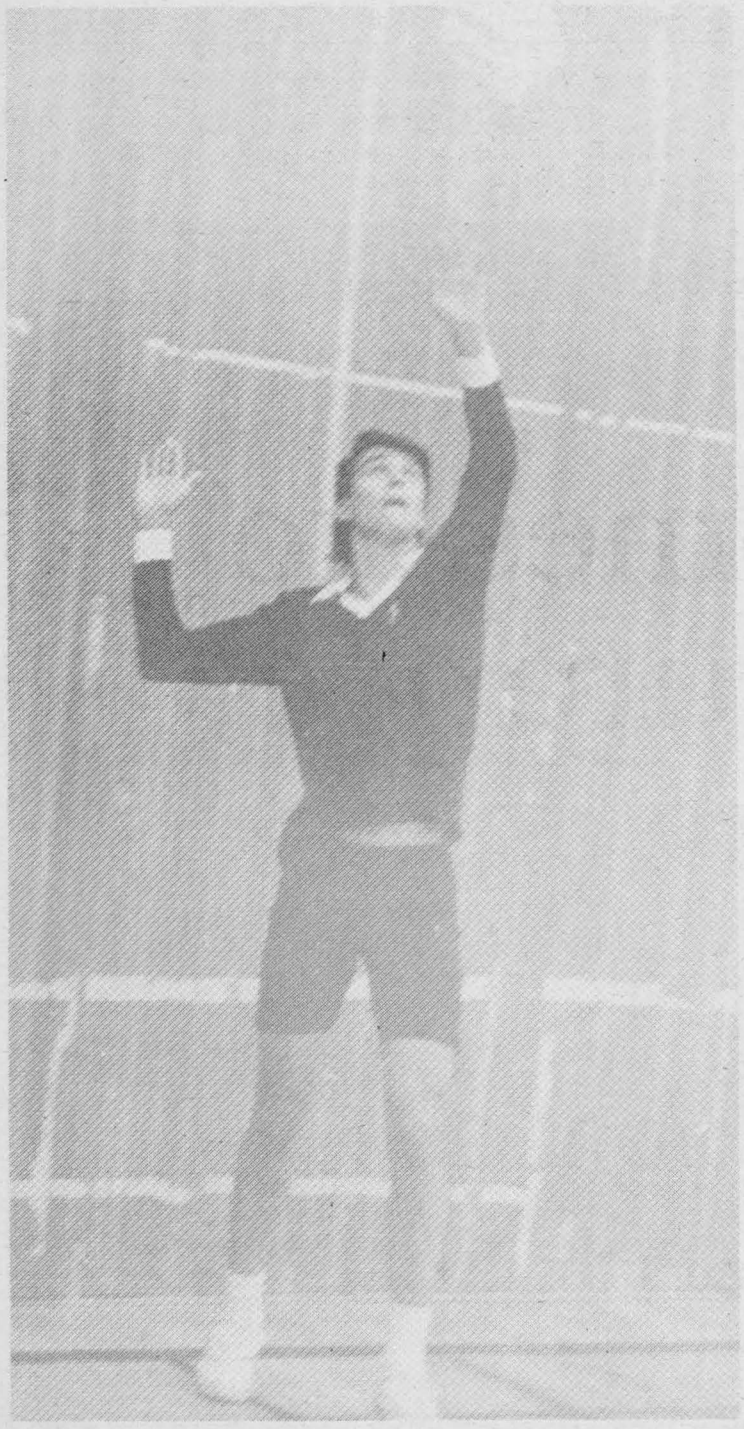
Welcome back Seaway grads from your friends at the Royal Bank
Have a great weekend!



Nikil's mean midget serve, 1991

Mr. Stacey instructs the class -
"We'll have the homework on the blackboard, page one-hundred, number two.
Are there any volunteers then? ...O.K. Bev, how'bout you?"
He protests -
"But Mr. Stacey, I don't get this, it's so impossible to do!"
Wayne comments -
"That's cause you're on the wrong page, twit!"
Bev remarks -
"Shut-up Wayne, I never asked you."
Then Mr. Stacey catches Michael with some blackballs and bubble gum.
Yet he doesn't get excited for Porky needs weight on his tum.
Nevertheless -
"Look Michael J. Christensen, put that candy out of sight, or you'll be sitting here in math class til the stars come out tonight!"
Then somebody whispers -
"Oh Chris, oh Chris, whatever did you eat that created such an odor, so far from being sweet?"
Mr. Stacey steps in -
"Now cut it out," says Mr. Stacey, with a twinkle in his eye.
So this means back to work again, which causes the odd sigh.
This is where I come in -
"Excuse me Mr. Stacey, but may the windows please be closed?
My coat is in my locker and it feels like ten below!"
Mr. Stacey asks a favour -
"David, close the windows please, I believe there's a stool somewhere.
And if you ever grow some more, you won't need the aid of a chair!"
Of course David resents this remark and refuses to close the windows

And then Barry, the class clock-watcher exclaims -
"Hey look," Barry shouts aloud as he points up to the time,
"The period's nearly over but in seconds, there are nine!"
Mr. Stacey keeps us seated'til the time is overdone.
Then dismissing us he steps aside so he won't be overrun.

Theatre faces from 1982. Buzzin' in.

The Battle of Morning
Morning came today,
with a soft, wet sound.
With a sky coloured
as ancient parchment.
I smelled of dampness,
diesel fuel, and wet lilacs.

For such an unworthy morning.
The sun had not bothered to bring her radiant face.

But still;
it gave me comfort
to know that this morning,
alone,
had defeated darkness.

Minor niners then

One of these 9D students from Mrs. Decker's class of 198? has made a name for himself on the ice. Blades of Steel was waiting for his big break in this photo, but did not waste time once he began to roar. A vital player on the Jr. B Lions squad, he was a main man this past year.

Memories

Well, here we are years later
High school is long behind us
Our body has filled out a little..
Our faces have a few more lines
And our hair, what is left...
Is definitely not the same colour it once was.
But the ads tell us now that we've come a long way,
That we are in better shape now.
I agree! I mean just look at us,
We can balance a kid on both hips,
And do the housework at the same time.
We know how to relax more now.
When we were teens, we used to run trying to get the grass mowed.
Now we mow a couple of rows, and sit down to let our breath and colour come back
We've stepped up in the world, too..
Years ago, we had high performance cars,
Now we have high performance mortgages
And we are more money conscious now,
Why remember when the Twiggy look was in,
And there were inches to spare in our clothes?
Well, now we make sure we get our money's worth,
And fill out every inch!
And we are nicer to ourselves now,
Remember when we went to a party, we only took one day off.
Now we take two, maybe three days off to recover.
We are more popular now than ever before.
Remember when you were crowned Queen of Hearts...
When it was over, no one called on your services again.
But when you became a parent, you're in demand every minute.
You know it's fun to think back about our youth,
But sad to know we can never relive that time-or can we?
I think we can, for many of us attending our High School Reunion,
We will take a walk through the past and remember
That first kiss that was stolen at the back of the classroom
Or cheering our high school teams to victory.
Yes, we definitely can relive through our memories,
And that is something we have now that we didn't have then.
Let's always hang on to them, for with out them,
We wouldn't have anything to tell our kids "They had better not do!!!"

EXPRESSIONS '89

A myriad of memories, of teachers, classes, looks.
A kaleidoscope of faces
arranged within this book.
The way we let others see that inner core of self.
Trapped within these pages,
a diary left behind.
Individuality, personality,
expressions of ourselves.
Our faces tell the story
of soon forgotten times.
Favourite sayings, collages of words,
what was said and when.
All expressions of some type that we used to say back then.
A pathway etched in history.
For you and all to see.
A momento for the future.

Joyous Love

No joyous love predominates as mine,
For he who strolls the earth without a grief,
Unmindless of my love for him I think,
Though years pass by, the time is short and brief;
Acceptably, no love can grow in time,
While he knows not of love for him at heart,
But I do hope the man will see so soon
Desired closeness, bait no man will part;
The heart beats quick, and sweat secretes from glands,
While looking hopefully for cherished time,
And living here, I abnegate these lands
To harmonize and sing a song in rhyme;
We never had the chance to see the lights,
Pellagra had the time to dance in tights.

Curling Champs

Sid and the boys put Seaway on the curling maps of the province as they rocked their way to victory after victory. The Lane Brothers, a Johnston and a Morrell made up the clan on the ice surface. Winning All Ontario was the crowning touch as it were, great stuff for memories!!

MINOR NINERS

A typical picture
Of worried grade niners
Who, from their first day,
Are labelled as minors.

They walk down the halls
And memorize places
There's all these new rules
And tons of new faces.

Some niners give up
And wail in dismay,
When their locker insists
On hiding away.

When thoroughly questioned,
They hunt for their list
Of excuses why
The last class got missed.

And in the future,
Some time from today,
They'll look back to now
In a fond sort of way.

For they'll own companies
And have their own firms
But some will make a living
By eating live worms.

It's little things
That make it fun
And I'm kind of sad
That it's almost done.

-Elke Watts

In the barn

I stole noiselessly into the barn
Where she was patiently waiting.
I didn't know if it was right
But there was no time for debating.
She stood quietly in the corner
As I moved steadily closer.
I knew she had much experience
But I undoubtedly was older.
She turned her head and looked towards me,
Affection present in her eyes.
I felt my heart leap with delight
At her beauty, endless as the skies.
My hands were becoming cold with sweat,
It seemed like they were made of snow.
Before long my knees were shaking,
If they rattled, I can't say I know.
She shivered as leaves do in the wind
When I touched her with my cold hand.
Her body was warm and pleasant
Like the sun which shines down on the land.
She spoke not a word through all this time.
Still, we could relate rather well.
I whispered sweet words in her ear.
Her whole trust was in me, I could tell.
I heard something rustle up above,
My father appeared from the mow.
I moved quickly away from her,
And let him finish milking the cow.

The puck stops here

On March 15th, 1976, Seaway held their annual hockey tourney, in Morrisburg. The company team of Row and Row Welding succeeded in maintaining their trophy winning position. In the girls division, the swift team, the Iroquois Indians claimed their second victory.

PEER PRESSURE

I am wholesome, innocent,
I have few friends.
I now drink,
I have more friends.
I now take drugs,
I have many friends.
I am constantly taking drugs and alcohol,
I have no friends,
I have no life.
If only I could be wholesome and innocent,
I could start over,
I could live.

- Ted Casselman

THE END OF AN ERA

We stand beyond the walls of the building in which we were once contained,
Reflecting on the past.
Having thoughts drilled into our heads.
Questions.
"What minerals are mined in Ontario?"
"Name the three pillars of French society."
"What does Kimball say about this ...?"
"Where were you Period 4 yesterday morning?"
The good times!
Playing cards in the pit.
Having a smoke at noon.
Playing basketball, volleyball, badminton, ringette ...
Friday night; time to party.
We stand here looking at the walls of the building which once contained us.
Looking back.
Reminiscing.
High school is over.
The end of an era.
