Four of five commit in North Dundas

Mayor, deputy-mayor, two councillors pledge to run for re-election in October

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – While nothing is yet official, four of five incumbent members of the Township of North Dundas' council have confirmed they will be seeking re-election.

When contacted by the Winchester Press, Mayor Eric Duncan, Deputy-Mayor Gerry Boyce, and councillors Al Armstrong and Tony Fraser each said they are intent on returning to the municipality's council table. (Councillor John Thompson could not be reached by press time.)

None, however, has filed the appropriate paperwork for the position they are seeking.

The nomination period opened Wed., Jan. 2 for those looking to fill one of five positions (mayor, deputy-mayor, and three councillors), while the window of opportunity closes Fri., Sept. 12. The 2014 municipal election is set for Mon., Oct. 27.

Running again

For Duncan, a second shot at the mayor's chair seemed likely all along, with the first-term mayor having committed to a number of projects not yet completed.

Namely, an ambitious 10-year roads plan was undertaken following Duncan's 2010 election as mayor and in the years since a number of North Dundas' deteriorating roadways have received attention, with millions invested to complete the work.

Boyce said it is the roadwork plan, among other things, that will have him vying for a return to the deputy-mayor's seat at the council table.

"I love the job," Boyce told the Press. "We're making some progress [on a number of projects], and it has been very fulfilling. I want to continue to promote development in North Dundas."

As well, the one-term council member said his work at the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, where he serves as a councillor alongside Duncan (who was elected warden in December 2013), is another reason for him to seek re-election. "I enjoy the experience at both the upper and lower tier governments," Boyce said.

Baby boy Buck greets 2014

WINCHESTER – While more than one baby took its first breath at Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) over the recent holiday, only one could lay claim to being the medical facility's official New Year's baby.

It was Jonathan Buck, weighing in at eight pounds, 12 ounces, and measuring 21 inches in length, whose arrival at 5:34 am on Wed., Jan. 1 secured him the title.

Karen and Ken Buck of Osgoode welcomed their new son just two hours after arriving at the hospital. Jonathan, who is the Bucks' fifth child, was originally due to arrive on Christmas Day, Karen said. He is the couple's second child to be born at WDMH.

Longtime community advocate enters race

by Sandy Casselman
Press staff

VERNON – Rather than sit on the sidelines, Kim Sheldrick has long been a doer in her community. It is with determination, now, that Sheldrick is throwing her hat into the mix that is municipal politics.

Sheldrick, along with her sons, Michael, 14, and Matthew Bates, 12, travelled to Ottawa City Hall on Thurs., Jan. 2, where she filed nomination papers for the seat of Osgoode Ward councillor.

"I've been thinking about it for years," she said. "I'm not just going to sit here. I will work, and if there is something I think needs to be changed, I will work toward that. I know I can do the job."

Her community involvement began more than 14 years ago, when Sheldrick, who was looking out the window of her Vernon home, said she asked herself, "Why am I sitting here saying someone should [beautify the streets of Vernon]? Why don't I go and do it?"

She responded by joining the Friends for a Greener Vernon group.

Since then, she has not been one to shy away from the time, energy, and commitment required to fundraise for a cause, organize an event, or captain a project. She has become an active member of numerous community and regional organizations, including the Vernon Community Association, the Osgoode Township Historical Society, the Vernon Women's Institute, the Metcalfe and District Lions Club, the Metcalfe Agricultural Society, and the Township of Osgoode Care Centre.

Driving difficulties

Recent winter weather conditions have been making local roadways treacherous for motorists. On Fri., Jan. 3, just north of Winchester on County Road 31, this Ford pickup truck left the highway and ended up on its side in a nearby ditch. All three occupants of the vehicle were treated for minor injuries. The cause of the single-vehicle accident was listed as adverse weather conditions, OPP said.

South Mountain man's death 'non-suspicious'

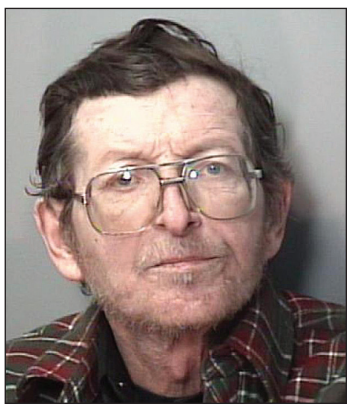
by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Ralph Dowdall's body, which lay undiscovered for at least 10 days, was found buried in the snow just steps from the front door of his Main Street home.

A neighbour is reported to have been the last to see Dowdall, 63, on Wed., Dec. 18, while a friend dropping off supplies at Dowdall's home reported him missing on Fri., Dec. 20, five days before Christmas.

Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry OPP immediately sought information from the public, but it was a police tracking dog that located his body on Mon., Dec. 30.

Dowdall, who was in poor health and relied on a walker for mobility, lived alone in a run-down one-time mechanic's shop in South Mountain's downtown core, near Byers Funeral Home.



The body of South Mountain resident Ralph Dowdall, 63, was found just steps from the front door of his home on Mon., Dec. 30.

According to the OPP, a post mortem conducted on the body has determined Dowdall's death to be non-suspicious in nature.

Police are saying little else regarding the search for Dowdall or what factors may have led to him being trapped outside his home.

Const. Peter Robertson said this case underscores the importance of checking in daily with elderly or disabled friends and relatives who live alone.

As well, OPP originally noted Dowdall's age as 69, but corrected it in a statement on Tues., Jan. 2.

Male charged with weapon offence

WINCHESTER – On Sun., Jan. 5, at approximately 3 am, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP officers responded to a report of gunshots heard on Spruit Road.

Further investigation identified a male who had discharged a firearm at several road signs in the area, causing damage to some. Fortunately, only property was affected.

Benjamin Horton, 18, was arrested and is charged with three counts of mischief, and unauthorized possession of a firearm.

Horton was released to appear in Morrisburg court on Tues., Feb. 4.

POLICE BLOTTER

Domestic investigation

CHESTERVILLE – On Sat., Jan. 4, at approximately 12:30 am, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic situation at a residence on Mill Street.

Further investigation indicated that a verbal altercation between a male and his common-law spouse resulted in the female being assaulted. The male was also bound by conditions from a previous incident.

The 33-year-old man was arrested and is charged with assault, and three counts of failing to comply with orders.

He was held in custody pending an appearance in Cornwall court.

Family dispute

WINCHESTER – On Fri., Jan. 3, at approximately 9:30 pm, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a family dispute at a residence on Main Street.

Further investigation indicated that an intoxicated male had assaulted and threatened a family member and acquaintance in the home. He also exposed himself inappropriately. The 40-year-old man was arrested and is charged with two counts of assault, two counts of uttering threats, two counts of failing to comply with conditions, breach of recognizance, and committing an indecent act.

He was held in custody pending an appearance in Cornwall court.

Causing mischief

WINCHESTER – On Tues., Dec. 31, at approximately 9 pm, OPP officers responded to a report of mischief on Main Street. The investigation revealed that a 40-year-old male (John Van Bridger of Winchester) damaged a residence that he was visiting.

The male was arrested and faces a charge of mischief under $5,000.

He is scheduled to appear Tues., Feb. 4 in Morrisburg court.

Assault charge

GLEN BECKER – On Mon., Dec. 30, at approximately 12:15 am, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic incident on Strader Road.

The investigation revealed that a female and her 41-year-old common-law spouse were involved in a verbal altercation that resulted in the male assaulting the female.

He was arrested and faces charges of spousal assault, and failure to comply with a probation order.

He is scheduled to appear Tues., Jan. 21 in Cornwall court.

Impaired driving rate on downswing: OPP

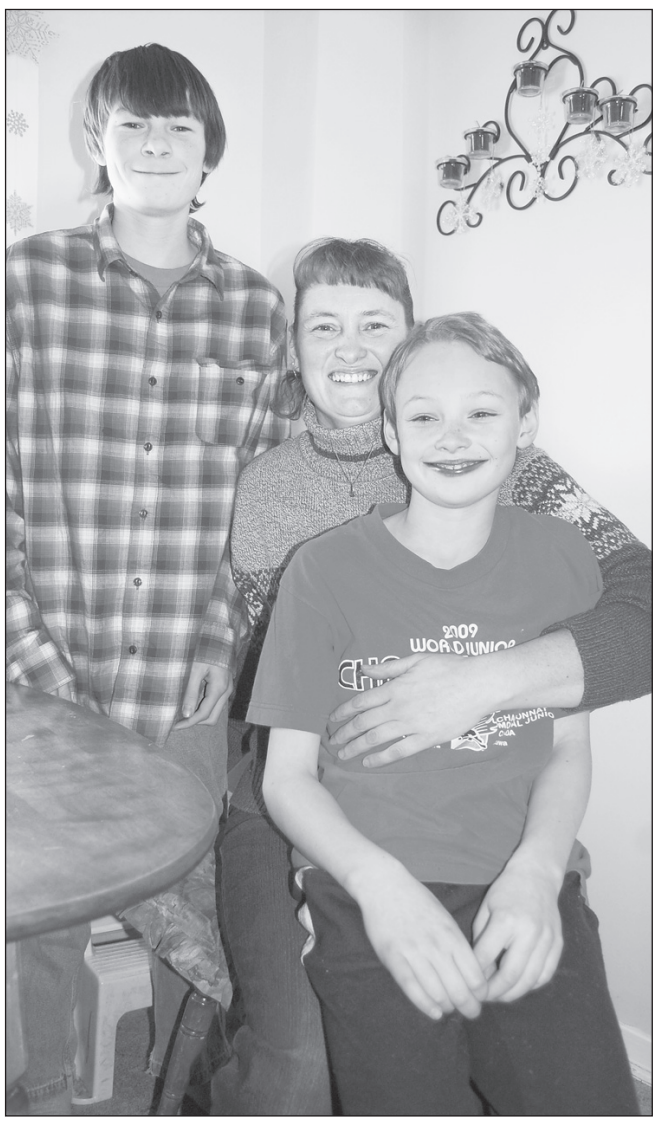
ORILLIA – An early thank you to Ontario drivers has paid off for the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP).

Significantly fewer impaired driving charges, along with warn range suspension totals, have been reported for the OPP's 2013 Festive Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere (RIDE) Campaign.

The initiative ran from Sat., Nov. 23 to Thurs., Jan. 2, and during that time the OPP laid 578 impaired driving charges, and issued 481 warn range suspensions provincewide.

In comparison, during the 2012 campaign, the OPP laid 693 impaired driving charges, and issued 625 warn range suspensions.

While the OPP is pleased to see the numbers significantly lower in both categories, officials said the 2013 charges still serve as a reminder that a small number of impaired drivers threatened the lives of other road users this holiday season.



On Thurs., Jan. 2, 14-year-old Michael Bates (standing) and his brother, Matthew, 12, accompanied their mother, Kim Sheldrick, to Ottawa City Hall, where Sheldrick filed nomination papers in her pursuit to become Osgoode Ward's next councillor.

Election

Fraser's reason is similar to that of the mayor and deputy-mayor, having committed to re-election in order to be part of the completion of projects underway.

"There are things we've been working on… Like the roads plan," he said. "We were slow with it in the beginning, but have been aggressive lately. I want to see it near completion, maybe not in the next term, but it will get done."

The one unexpected entrant would be Armstrong, who will be vying for a fifth term at North Dundas' council table. In 2010, Armstrong was uncommitted about his political future until near the end of the nomination period before finally throwing his hat back in the ring.

This time around he initially told the Press he didn't know what he'd be doing, before announcing a couple of hours later he would in fact be seeking re-election.

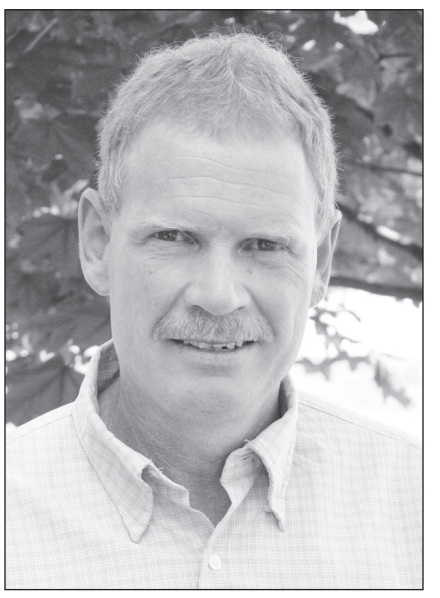
"I just thought about it, and I figure I enjoyed the way this council works together," Armstrong said. "The upcoming term will have a lot of challenges considering we are losing more provincial and federal funding each year, so budgets will be extremely difficult, and I feel that is one of my strengths."

As well, Armstrong said he wants to continue on as commissioner of the North Dundas Fire Department, where costly purchases are on the horizon and he does not want to leave the task to an untested replacement.

"There are some very large issues in the fire service that I wish to see to completion," he said. "The [fire] steering committee is working better than it ever has, and I'd like to continue that trend."

North Dundas Councillor Al Armstrong indicated he has unfinished work as commissioner of the fire department.

North Dundas Mayor Eric Duncan has indicated he will run for re-election.



South Dundas Mayor Steven Byvelds will decide whether to run later in the year.

South Dundas race

Deputy-Mayor Jim Locke was the first to file re-election papers in the Municipality of South Dundas, having done so on Fri., Jan. 3. Bill Ewing filed his intentions to run for council on Tues., Jan. 7

Councillor Evonne Delegarde also confirmed with the Press she plans to seek re-election, but may vie for a different electoral position, while Councillor Archie Mellan acknowledged he isn't yet ready to make an official announcement, but said there is a "very good chance" he will run again.

Both Mayor Steven Byvelds and Councillor Jim Graham have said they will not make a decision until the summer.

Sheldrick

"I'm happy doing that sort of stuff," she said. "It has given me the basic [knowledge], the contacts, [and] a lot of it has been working with Ottawa."

Now, she is taking her "go and do it" philosophy one step further. The leap from community volunteer to potential municipal politician is, she said, a natural one.

"People come to me when they want to see things done [because] I have a reputation for getting things done," Sheldrick said. "People are already bringing stuff to me."

Sheldrick said that while she works well with current Osgoode Ward Councillor Doug Thompson, she feels it is time for a change.

"He's been our councillor since amalgamation 13 years ago, and our mayor before that," she said.

If elected, Sheldrick said she intends to pursue the installment of a borough system, whereby wards would be entitled to more power.

"Our ward is made entirely of small communities, and these communities are unfortunately failing," she said. "We need to bring life back to our communities."

Sheldrick pointed to the lack of city programs at local community centres as one of the items requiring change.

"We need to keep the kids' activities in our small communities. Kids can't drive. They need something local," she said.

Sheldrick's children, who stay busy participating in Scouts, soccer, and various volunteer projects, are both on board with their mother's decision to run in the fall election.

"They are right there with me," she said. "Michael wants to be head of my sign committee. We went through the city documents together."

Michael and Matthew have both been to City Hall numerous times as their mom has conducted business there through her volunteer activities, and they have also visited Queen's Park in Toronto, when Sheldrick was working for Nepean-Carleton MPP Lisa MacLeod.

During her time with MacLeod, Sheldrick said she "gained a lot of experience [and] met a lot of people. [MacLeod] is absolutely terrific."

While she said her work with the local politician was fun, it was also hectic and required long hours. However, Sheldrick still managed to see her children on and off the school bus each day, and volunteered in her sons' school and the surrounding community.

When asked how she manages to do so much, Sheldrick said, "My social time is my volunteer time [and] I couldn't do what I do without my Mom."

Sheldrick said her mother, Lorena, and father, Ted, also residents of Osgoode Ward, have always been very supportive parents, allowing her to make her own mistakes and accomplishments.

Other candidates

While current Osgoode Ward Councillor Doug Thompson has yet to declare his intentions for the upcoming election, Sheldrick is not alone in her bid for the seat.

Bruce Faulkner, a truck driver who lives on Mitch Owens Road, and Justin Campbell, a web developer and Carleton University student from Greely, have also added their names to the ballot.

Ottawa's next council is to be elected during the Mon., Oct. 27 municipal election.

Baby

Jonathan has three brothers (William, 6, Philip, 5, and James, 3), and one sister (Emily, 2). Karen said the children are excited and happy to have a new brother.

When asked how things have changed since the birth of their first baby, Karen suggested things have gotten easier. However, Ken said he thinks it is more likely "we just get better at it."

WDMH saw two babies born on New Year's Eve (Tues., Dec. 31), and another two on the first day of 2014, with three boys and one girl in total this holiday season.

Flu season begins with return of H1N1, still time to get immunized, says EOHU

WINCHESTER – The beginning of flu season in Canada has been marked by the return of the H1N1 virus in various regions of the country.

Although there is low local sporadic flu activity in the Eastern Ontario Health Unit (EOHU) area, experts predict that more cases will appear as students return to the classroom.

Unlike the typical flu strains, H1N1, which caused a global pandemic during the 2009-2010 flu season, tends to infect children under five years of age, and adults born after 1957, particularly those with weak immune systems and chronic medical conditions.

"It is important for everyone, but especially for children under five years old, and those born after 1957 to get vaccinated," Dr. Paul Roumeliotis, the EOHU's medical officer of health, said. "This year's flu shot is a good match against H1N1."

For those who have not yet done so, Roumeliotis said it is not too late to get immunized. Persons who have previously been sick with H1N1 or who were immunized against it in 2009 may still have some protection, but are still encouraged to get this year's flu shot.

The flu shot is available through health care providers, some local pharmacies, or by appointment at one of the EOHU's offices. Besides protecting themselves, people who get the shot also reduce the risk of infecting their loved ones, as well as vulnerable people around them.

Besides getting immunized, one of the best ways to reduce the spread of the virus, and to protect vulnerable members of the public is to stay home when sick. Do not visit relatives in residences, long-term care facilities, and hospitals if sick.

To help reduce the spread of flu, people are advised to wash their hands with soap and water or an alcohol-based hand sanitizer, and cough or sneeze into their elbow.

For more information, visit the health unit's website (www.eohu.ca) or call 613-933-1375.

Give the gift of life... next clinic on Jan. 30

WINCHESTER – Every donation of blood counts, as it takes five units for someone undergoing heart surgery, eight units per week for leukemia patients during treatment, and as much as 50 units for the victim of a car accident.

Canadian Blood Services will be in Winchester Thurs., Jan. 30 for a donor clinic from 2 to 8 pm in the Winchester Public School gymnasium.

The national, not-for-profit charitable organization manages the blood supply in all provinces and territories outside Quebec, and oversees the country's One-Match Stem Cell and Marrow Network. Although it is a non-governmental association, provincial and territorial ministers of health do provide operational funding, and the federal government, through Health Canada, is responsible for regulating the blood system.

South Branch project back on track after winter hiatus

by Sandy Casselman
Press staff

BRINSTON – Construction activity at the South Branch Wind Farm near Brinston came to a standstill over the holiday season.

The 10-turbine project belonging to EDP Renewables hit the pause button late last month, as construction workers travelled far and wide to return home for a two-week-long vacation with their families, Ken Little, site manager, told the Winchester Press.

Work was scheduled to resume Mon., Jan. 6, he added, with the attachment of blades to the hubs of each of the 99.5-metre-tall towers.

With all 10 towers still awaiting the addition of blades, Little said it was too difficult to predict when the project would be up and running, as it is a lengthy process. In theory, he said workers could potentially complete the blade attachment on one turbine per day. However, the crew has access to only one crane with the height necessary to do the job, which means additional time is needed to co-ordinate the relocation of the large piece of equipment from one tower location to another.

Once the blades have been attached to the towers, the turbines are to undergo both mechanical and electrical testing before the project goes online.

Although Little said he could not accurately predict when power production would officially begin, he did say all turbines needed to be complete before the company would receive the green light to join the provincial energy grid.

Poilievre promotes Canada-EU trade benefits to local farmers

OTTAWA – Pierre Poilievre, minister of state for democratic reform, met Mon., Jan. 6 with a group of local farmers, where he highlighted how Ontario agricultural producers are expected to profit from the Canada-European Union Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA).

"This historic agreement is Canada's most comprehensive and ambitious ever, and is a big win for Canada's agricultural and agri-food industries," Poilievre, who also serves as Nepean-Carleton MP, said. "Eastern Ontario producers, workers, and families will benefit greatly from the preferential access this agreement provides Canadian produce and products to Europe, one of the most important markets in the world."

The deal is to open new markets for raw ingredients, as well as new markets for the food processing, and beverage industry. Ontario's multi-faceted agriculture and agri-food sector is one of the largest and most competitive food clusters in the world. The agriculture, agri-food, and beverage sector contributed $15 billion to the province's GDP in 2012, and employed some 212,500 Ontarians. Of these, more than a third work in the manufacturing end of the industry.

M.P. Pierre Poilievre, minister of state for democratic reform

When the Canada-EU trade agreement is fully implemented, more than 95 per cent of EU agricultural tariffs will be eliminated, including those levied on processed agricultural products and beverages.

The trade agreement is not expected to affect Canada's supply management system. The system, along with its three key pillars – production control, import controls, and price controls – is to remain intact, and the vast majority of supply-managed products will be exempt from increases in market access.

Ontario is the largest food-and-beverage processing jurisdiction in Canada, and among the three largest in North America. Its researchers, employees, and innovators have built a reputation for sustainable sources of agricultural raw materials, state-of-the-art automated food-processing methods, and world-class food safety standards.

The EU is already Ontario's second largest export destination, and trading partner. It is also the world's largest integrated economy, with more than 500 million consumers and a GDP of $17 trillion. CETA is expected to create an opportunity for increased sales that will benefit hard-working farmers through more jobs, higher wages, and greater long-term prosperity.

Bogged down

While winter weather has been evident throughout the region, with freezing rain having blanketed the ground, followed by snow and other forces of nature, some local bodies of water have yet to freeze. Members of the Nation Valley Snowmobile Association found out the hard way recently when one of the club's groomers broke through the Morewood Bog. Numerous attempts were made to remove the machine with a backhoe, another groomer, and a chipping unit with a large hydraulic winch, but each proved fruitless. Eventually, 15 volunteers chain sawed a 25-foot-wide pathway to make room for a high hoe to rescue the stranded groomer.

Election highlights 2014

In Dundas County, a new year has arrived, as has a new sense of optimism about what 2014 may have in store for the region.

But the new calendar cycle also comes with its challenges, with municipal politicians focusing on the necessary task at hand, but also watching over their shoulders for the approaching election, which comes to a head in October.

The campaign officially launched last week with the beginning of the candidate filing period, but nothing has come to pass to date in the Township of North Dundas.

Of the municipality's current five-member council, however, at least four of those individuals elected in 2010 have indicated they would be seeking another term this time around.

Mayor Eric Duncan will be balancing responsibilities at the head of North Dundas' council table, serving as the youngest-ever warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, and positioning himself to win a second mandate as the township's top politician.

Councillor Al Armstrong has said he will be vying for a fifth term at the council table, while first time Councillor Tony Fraser will also be filing for re-election.

Deputy-Mayor Gerry Boyce has also indicated he will run again, while it is not known what Councillor John Thompson will do, but it is likely he will be throwing his hat back into the ring.

In the Municipality of South Dundas, already Deputy-Mayor Jim Locke has filed his papers for a second term, while Councillor Evonne Delegarde has confirmed she'll run again, but has not made it official. Perennial election also-ran Bill Ewing has also filed nomination papers.

What of Mayor Steven Byvelds and councillors Jim Graham and Archie Mellan? Neither has confirmed or denied their intentions, with only Byvelds acknowledging he'll make a decision by summer.

Last, but not least, of course is the City of Ottawa's Osgoode Ward where three candidates have already filed to challenge incumbent Doug Thompson, who has been with the city since amalgamation in 2001 and served the former Osgoode Township for many years. Thompson has indicated he has yet to decide on his political future, even hinting at a possible retirement.

No matter who comes forward to serve in their given municipality's political sphere, what remains important is that current council members stay true to the mountainous work that first needs to be done. Passing the buck because it is an election year is not an option.

North Dundas has financial pressures coming down the pipe as the level of provincial and federal funding received by the township continues to drop. Ambitious planning to rehabilitate the existing roads system in the municipality may find itself on hiatus as council members take aim at other big-ticket needs, including rehabilitation of the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester.

In South Dundas, it appears old issues die hard as wind turbines near Brinston will soon be operational, the planned Lakeshore Drive grain terminal may receive approval, and Williamsburg is still without a library location, some time after a stunning reversal of decision by the counties library board. But municipal politicians in the south are not immune to the budget challenges faced by colleagues north of them, and will be tasked with attempting to do more with less.

Osgoode Ward's challenge remains the same – trying to fight its way to the top of the heap as urban wards dominate much, if not all, of council's discussion.

With that, here's to a year of scrutiny, not just from the local media, of the candidates coming forward, and here's to a year of crucial decision making by elected officials.

This week in 1954, "Athelstone," one of Winchester's "oldest and most picturesque residential landmarks" made the front-page, as it was scheduled to change hands in the coming month. Originally a public school, the building was deeded to Allan C. Shaver in 1891.

Remember when…

1934

Members of the 1934 executive of the Winchester 100 Club were announced this week. They included Harry L. Flora as president, Will Rowat as first vice, John McCormick and J.D. Stewart as second vices, Eldon Fennell as secretary-treasurer, and Les Dixon, E.J. Spinks, Walter Moffat, Alex Duncan, Ken Ault, and Jim Gray as directors.

1944

Lieut. J.C. Barrigar was featured in this week's front-page news as he had taken on active service in Algiers, Africa. The article indicated that the former reserve officer of the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Highlanders first battalion had transferred to another unit several months prior.

1954

This week's front page offered several wedding anniversary announcements for couples hitting their 30th, 35th, 40th, and 50th milestones, as well as for a couple who had recently married. The golden anniversary couple's photo was featured on the front page with news of their Winchester Springs celebration. George and Viola (nee Henderson) Kirkwood, both originally from Matilda Township, were married on Dec. 23, 1903.

1964

W.P. Henophy, owner of Canadian Tire in Williamsburg, took out a half-page advertisement in this week's Press. Henophy was selling Winter Express snow tires at half the price on all popular sizes, with cost ranging from $9.44 to $12.99.

1974

The front-page of this week's paper featured a photo of an egg resting against the front of a Press desk rotary telephone: "Arthur Beaudoin of Brinston treats his hens well and in return the birds try to do a little extra for their master."

1984

This week, readers learned Winchester firefighters had asked for a raise, the first in 10 years. Many of the firefighters were giving up a fair amount of pay at their regular jobs when they left to fight fires, and they had not requested a raise since 1974.

1994

The New Year's baby featured on the front page this week's weighed roughly one pound, was covered in feathers, and was "the first" for Winchester Township resident Keith Wagner. "'It's the start of something exciting,'" Wagner said, "[as he] celebrated the arrival of 1994 watching his first generation of emu chicks come into the world."

2004

Crystal Cantin, Lindsay Fawcett, Tracy Jones, April Murphy, and Kaylee VanHaren were the five contestants vying for the title of Carnival Queen at the 29th annual Matilda Carnival this week. Despite the lack of snow, the show was to continue.

Coal: Separating myth and dilemma

The Editor:

Liberal government propaganda has told you the Green Energy Act was implemented because we needed to close the province's five coal fired generators, which are major pollutants causing global warming and health issues.

Party officials refer to the 2005 DSS Management Consultants confidential report to the provincial energy ministry.

In fact, the most important finding in this report states that closing the coal plants would have extremely small effects on Ontario air quality. Why? Because the coal plant emissions were miniscule to start. Most air pollution comes from fuel consuming cars. Fireplaces and wood stoves pollute more than the five plants. No bans on any of these.

This same report did not recommend pursuing wind and solar. It looked at available pollution control methods, which would have resulted in even less emissions. By retrofitting the coal plants, the province would have already saved $2 billion on installing new transmission lines to the grid. If the province sticks to its green energy targets, it will cost 73 times more than modernizing the coal plants and greenhouse gases will not decrease.

They are actually expected to increase because of the fossil fuel backups required for the undependable intermittent supply of "green." These figures are in the Fraser Institute report that came out April 2013.

No pot of gold at the end of the rainbow

From the Other Side

by Jeff Morris

As a 16-year-old, I was completely caught up in the spirit and the passion of the Winter Olympics. Having spent so much time as a kid in Tupper Lake, N.Y., the Winter Olympics in Lake Placid was literally in my own backyard.

There are so many memories from those games. Who could ever forget the "Miracle on Ice," when the U.S. hockey team stunned the world and won gold? I was lucky enough to go to a couple of games in that tournament, but there is one in particular that stands out. It was a game between the U.S. and Norway. It was not really much of a game. The Americans skated to an easy 5-1 win.

I had a single ticket, behind the net. I was kind of surprised when Tom Campbell, a teacher at South Grenville District High School and my minor hockey coach from my first year in Pee Wee, showed up to sit in the same row. There was one empty seat between us.

Then, I could not believe it. Who should show up to take that spot? None other than sports icon "Rock n' Rollen [Stewart], the Rainbow Man."

If you watched any sporting event in the 1970s or 1980s, you may remember Stewart. He was the guy at every major sporting event who somehow would get on camera and go absolutely berserk, wearing a rainbow-coloured wig, wearing a tie-dyed t-shirt that read, "Jesus Saves," and holding up a placard with "John 3:16" painted on it in large, black letters.

I looked over at Campbell as my face broke out in a huge grin. He kind of smiled and shook his head a bit, thanking Jesus that I wasn't in any of his classes that term.

After the end of the first period, I built up my nerve.

"H-h-h-hi," stumbled out of my mouth.

Stewart, the most famous person I had ever had the chance to sit with at a sporting event in my life, flashed a big smile at me and said "hello."

"I'm Rollen," he said. "Rock n' Rollen Stewart."

As nervous as I was, I asked him what his shtick was all about. He told me he had a makeshift ministry that spread the word of Christ through a simple, yet brilliant medium – he had figured out how to create social media long before there was a social media.

"I raise money through my ministry, and then I use that money to get to the next major sporting event," Stewart said. "I have a network of people helping me who, in every city, make sure that I have access to a ticket that will get me on camera. At football games, you will see me behind the goalposts, because I will be visible during extra points and field goals. Here, at a hockey game, being behind the net is perfect. This is how I spread the word of Christ."

Stewart, a crazy sports fan with a rainbow wig, who once was a down-and-out alcoholic who recovered and turned his life around, had done something that my grandfather, Jack Morris, who had a music ministry, or his best friend, the venerable Rev. Fred Payne, could never get me to do. I went home that night, found my still mint condition New Testament that The Gideons had passed out to our Grade 5 class, and I looked up John 3:16.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

As the years went on, I smiled when I saw Stewart on television going crazy, and holding up signs. He was in the crowd at every major sporting event. He was even in the crowd at the wedding of Prince Charles and Princess Diana.

Unfortunately, to use a sports cliché, Rollen's wheels came flyin' off at turn three of his life. According to his ex-wife, he allegedly put his hands around her throat when she got in the way of his sign at the 1986 World Series. At the 1991 Masters, he blew an air horn when Jack Nicklaus was putting. He then detonated a stink bomb, one of four he set off that year.

Soon, he would be broke, homeless, and living in his car.

In 1992, Stewart locked himself in a hotel room at the airport Hyatt in Los Angeles. Reportedly convinced that the rapture was mere days away, he made threats to shoot down planes landing and taking off at the airport. He held a hotel maid hostage. When the SWAT team broke in after an eight-hour standoff, they seized a handgun and 47 rounds of live ammunition.

Stewart is now in the Mule Creek Prison in Ione, Calif., serving out three life sentences. Every year he comes up for parole, and every year he is denied.

It has been reported that Stewart has penned many letters from prison over the years, looking for a successor. But even though John 3:16 signs still pop up at events, the new purveyors of the message want nothing to do with Stewart.

The Olympics are about triumph and heroes. It is a global stage where legends are made.

It is sad that some legends are created for all the wrong reasons.

So what is happening to our coal?

The mines have not shut down. Canada is now shipping $6 billion of coal to China every year, and it is going up. Eight million metric tonnes of U.S. coal per year is now flowing through the Surrey, BC docks for the Chinese coal fired generators that are starting up every week, and this is only one port.

China is now burning North American coal without any pollution controls as part of 80 per cent of their electricity needs. Half of the world's consumption of coal occurs in China at five billion tonnes in 2010, up from two billion tonnes in 2000.

Air pollution is so bad in China that school children are kept indoors and adults venture outside with masks. The smog is reminiscent of Britain during the industrial revolution, but on a massive scale.

On Dec. 30, 2013, world carbon dioxide levels were measured at 400 parts per million, way above the 350 that is the critical number to prevent ice melt.

The closure of our clean emitting coal plants to prevent global warming has backfired. Electricity rates have skyrocketed causing an exit of hundreds of thousands of jobs from Ontario.

According to the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, for every dollar a farmer makes per year on his wind turbine lease, $40 is lost in costs to remaining Ontario residents.

It has not reduced local emissions, but has increased world emissions via the Chinese and Indian industrial revolution based on uncontrolled coal power. Would it not make more sense to keep coal here and use it responsibly?

Instead, the province is loading it on rail cars and ships, and transporting it half way across the world consuming even more fossil fuels. Multinational corporate lobbying of the McGuinty government has cost us billions in unnecessary debt, increased our cost of living and soon our taxes, cost thousands of workers their jobs, and increased world emissions of greenhouse gases.

McGuinty left the country for a teaching job at Harvard, and we have to ask ourselves "who has really benefitted from the Green Energy Act?" Because it is not the people of Ontario.

Drop games to Wolves, Islanders

Hawks face new challenges in 2014

WINCHESTER – Anyone connected to or fans of the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks organization realized that starting 2014 would be a daunting task.

Struggling to recover following the sudden and shocking death of head coach Tom Kirkwood, the Hawks had not practiced since Dec. 11 or played a game since the Akwesasne Wolves defeated them 4-0 on Dec. 14. So, a quick start to the new year wasn't to be expected.

Following a moment of silence in memory of coach Kirkwood and a brief statement read by assistant coach Robyn Sadler, those same Wolves skated to a 4-1 victory over the Hawks last Friday (Jan. 3) at the Joel Steele Community Centre. Saturday afternoon at the Rideau St. Lawrence Conference Showcase on Cornwall Island the top-ranked Gananoque Islanders (21-8-1-2) thumped Winchester 6-2.

"We were sluggish after such a long lay off," remarked Hawks GM Craig "JB" Smith. "It was the first time back on the ice for the team and the players are still upset over Tom's passing."

Smith along with longtime assistants Lenard McLean and Sadler are coaching the Hawks by committee.

"We will have a good practice this week. Get things back in order, get a win this weekend and turn things around," he said.

Post season approaching

Winchester (15-10-02) has slid into the fourth and final playoff spot behind the Casselman Vikings (26-1-2-0) who have collected 54 points, the Char-Lan Rebels (16-8-13) who stand second with 36 and the vastly improved Akwesasne Wolves (16-12-1-0) who are one point ahead of the Hawks at 33. The Alexandria Glens (13-13-4-1) are just one back of Winchester with 31 points.

"The standings are tight so we have to concentrate on making the playoffs," said Smith.

This weekend the Hawks will face more Rideau Division opposition when they host the Brockville Tikis (13-16-3-1) Friday (Jan. 10) at 8:15 pm and travel to Gananoque for a rematch with the Islanders Sunday (Jan. 12) evening.

Smith said that he doesn't expect to make any drastic changes at Friday's (Jan. 10) trade deadline.

"We have a couple of irons in the fire: but, we will see," he said.

The GM explained that the team's executive will meet following the season and plan a tribute to their late coach that will take place on opening night in September. The group will also chart a course on assembling a coaching staff for 2014-2015.

Wolves 4 – Hawks 1

Period one of Friday's 4-1 loss to Akwesasne was scoreless. A dazzling end-to-end second period rush by Winchester rookie Shawn Simms that finished with a blast to the top corner of Cam Turcotte's net proved to be the Hawks' lone scoring play.

Hilo Herne netted the Wolves first goal and Stevie Ray Adams took over cracking the last three of his team's tallies.

Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks defenceman Bryden van Kessel (left) rushed the puck out of his zone during last Friday's (Jan. 3) St. Lawrence Division game against the Akwesasne Wolves. Hawks Brandon Pantaleo "A" was shadowed by Wolves' Hilo Herne and Hawks Josh Stubbings "C" was watched by Christian Leger as the play unfolded. Stevie Ray Adams scored three times in the Wolves 4-1 win.

Press Photo – Van Bridger

Akwesasne carried a 2-1 lead into the final frame and iced the win on Adams' final two markers.

Goaltender Nathan Bowness started for the Hawks, but left the game early in period two after suffering a lower body injury. Brandon Lowry played the final 36:31 and suffered the loss.

Turcotte blocked 39 of the 40 shots the Hawks fired at him.

Islanders 6 – Hawks 2

"We were really short staffed and playing on that big ice didn't help us," said the GM.

"I was happy with Lowry [goaltender]. He played well and made some big saves for us. In general there were positives. But also some negatives," added Smith.

Gananoque scored twice in each period and held leads of 2-0, and 4-2 after 40 minutes.

Early second-period goals by Chris Rossi (PPG Brandon Pantaleo, Josh Stubbings at 1:22) and Alex St. Marseille (Wyatt Coghill, van Kessel at 4:35) pulled Winchester into a brief 2-2 tie.

The Islanders outshot the Hawks 48-28. Winchester drew two and Gananoque six minor penalties.

In memory

Jenkins shuts down Panthers 3-0, Rockets claim two of three

CHESTERVILLE – Two wins, one a 3-0 shutout over the second-place Embrun Panthers, netted the North Dundas Rockets four of a possible six points and moved them within two points of catching the seventh place Vankleek Hill Cougars.

North Dundas kicked off its three-game National Capital Junior Hockey League weekend schedule waxing the perennially powerful Panthers (15-4-2) 3-0 on Embrun ice last Friday (Jan. 3). Saturday (Jan. 4), they welcomed the Rockland Nationals (10-12-2) to Chesterville and doubled them 4-2. The Rockets three-game winning string was snapped Sunday (Jan. 5) in Gatineau where the ninth-place Junior Olympiques (6-14-0) ripped them 8-1.

This week (Sat., Jan. 11), the Rockets will try to re-ignite their winning ways when they host the third-place St. Isidore Eagles (12-8-3) at the Chesterville Arena. Game time is 7:50 pm.

"Things are coming together nicely and everyone is playing well," Rockets coach Gary "Woody" Klein-Swormink told the Winchester Press on Monday (Jan. 6).

"Three game weekends are rare and the third was a tough game after a long Christmas layoff and proved to be a bit much on the big ice at the Guertin (Robert Guertin Arena in Gatineau) Sunday afternoon," he explained.

More help

The Rockets recently added a couple of former Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks. Mitchell Haid a 6', 200 pound defenceman from Stouffville and forward Kyle MacDonald, 6'2", 220 pounds, from Thessalon are now wearing North Dundas colours. Haid has one assist in his first three games while MacDonald has been sidelined by a two-game suspension and illness.

Rockets 3 – Panthers 0

Matt Jenkins was perfect through 60 minutes holding the number-two ranked Embrun Panthers scoreless in the Rockets 3-0 win.

Winchester's Dayton Kelly put a Dustin Tinkler pass into the Panthers' cage with 9:52 left in the opening stanza and that marker would hold up as the GWG.

The score remained 1-0 until late in the final frame when Tinkler fired a Ryan Byers feed in behind Emburn's Jonathan Cameron opening up a 2-0 lead with 4:41 on the clock.

North Dundas' leading scorer, Kyle Adams, locked up the decision hitting the empty net 33 seconds before the final buzzer.

Rockets 4 – Nationals 2

Jenkins was back between the pipes and Adams was back on the score sheet the next night in Chesterville helping their squad double the Rockland Nationals 4-2.

A Tyler Ward PPG put the Nationals out in front 1-0 at 14:50 of period one. North Dundas responded with 7:06 left in the session with an Adam Polgar tally. Adams and Will Fawcett engineered the play.

Brandon Mullin connected for a 2-1 lead after taking a pass from Fawcett and Adrian Lee at 16:02 of period two. Just over a minute later, Adams cranked out a PPG after Polgar and former Winchester Hawk Mitchell Haid created the opening.

Another Rockland power play closed the gap to 3-2 with 5:15 left in the second. Allan Kingan's shot eluded Jenkins grasp.

Adams cashed his second goal of the game and 14th of the season with 4:12 left in the game to make it a 4-2 final.

Bradley blanks Annable's Blues, Country Girls win 3-0

WINCHESTER – Sonja Bradley registered her third shutout of the Winchester District Ladies Hockey League season backing the Country Girls in a 2-0 decision over Annable's Jewellery Blues.

Bradley's perfect performance was recorded in the opening game of Sunday (Jan. 5) morning's triple bill at the Joel Steele Community Centre.

Player of the game Isabelle Dagenais used an opportunity created by Lindsay Cave to ring up what would be the GWG goal at 19:49 of the first half. Lynda Kemp then added the insurance marker 6:21 before the intermission completing a play engineered by Jessica Hendrikx and Kelly Morrell.

The win improved the Country Girls first place record to 6-2-4, while the loss knocked the Blues fifth-place mark to 4-6-2.

Country Girl goalie Sonja Bradley registered her third shutout of the WDLHL season blanking the Annable's Jewellery Blues 2-0 Sunday (Jan. 5) morning.

Kristie Wade, with the support of her defensive crew, gave up one goal helping KC's Lawn Maintenance crew squeak out a 2-1 Winchester District Ladies Hockey League victory over the WS Trucking Company in the 10 am game Sunday (Jan. 5) morning. The decision gave KC's a share of second place with Andy's Foodland Reds at 13 points.

Reds 5 – Pinks 2

Tabitha Derue was a shoe-in for player of the game honours as she bagged four of the five goals the number-two ranked Andy's Foodland Reds (5-4-3) netted in their 5-2 victory over the fourth-place Cooper Physio Pinks (2-3-7).

Derue cracked her first two shots scoring from Marilyn Wade and Amy Murphy at 16:49 of the first half. Stacey Murphy and Leigh Ann Dearing set up her second 6:18 before the intermission. Derue scored again at 16:08 of the second session completing a play involving Dearing. Trisha Leduc scored from Annette Downey with 3:53 left in the game opening up a 4-2 lead and Derue fired a Jennifer Wilson relay into the empty Pink cage 24 seconds before the final buzzer sounded.

Tory Feyko (Stephanie Borden at 7:48) counted the Pinks first half goal and Pyper Weiss (Feyko and Dawn Montgomery) connected for the second with 4:41 left in the game.

Jenna James was the winning 'tender in the 9 am contest.

KC's 2 – WS Trucking 1

The WS Trucking Company (2-5-5) gained a 1-0 lead on KC's Lawn Maintenance when Andrea Francis fired a Vania Boulet feed into Kristie Wade's net at 13:21 of the first half of the 10 am game.

Wade couldn't be beaten after that and held on for the win. Stephanie Scott (Holly Klein-Swormink and Heather McDiarmid) tied it with 8:53 left in the game and player of the game McDiarmid converted a pass provided by Klein-Swormink and Kaitlyn Hay into the GWG 5:25 before the final buzzer.

Cashelle Baldwin suffered the one-goal setback.

Carr registers seventh shutout

Bantam 'B' Demons blank Panthers 3-0

KEMPTVILLE – North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons goaltender Bayden Carr hung up his seventh zero of the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season whitewashing the host Kemptville Panthers 3-0.

Sunday's (Jan. 5) shutout victory at the North Grenville Municipal Centre was the seventh perfect performance for Carr in 18 West Division games and helped improve his team's second-place record to 13-5-0.

Cameron Reid's unassisted marker with 9:32 left in the first period proved to be the GWG. Travis McInnis opened up a 2-0 lead burying a feed from Jacob Robinson and Caleb Jaquemet with 5:14 left in the session. Jack Messervey, using a relay sent to him by Kyle DeJong and Avery Holmes, made it 3-0 4:46 before the period ended.

The second and third stanzas were scoreless.

Bears 4 – Demons 3

The Demons opened 2014 in Smiths Falls the day before (Sat., Jan. 4) where they dropped a 4-3 decision to the first-place Bears (17-2-2).

North Dundas held a 2-0 lead after a period and carried a 2-1 advantage into the final frame, but was outscored 3-1 and dropped a one-goal (4-3) decision.

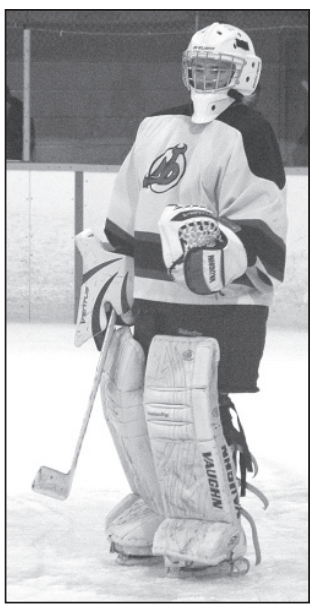
Robinson (PPG Reid, van Kessel at 6:08) netted the third North Dundas goal in the final frame.



Chesterville's Bayden Carr turned in his seventh perfect result backing the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons in a 3-0 decision over the Panthers in Kemptville on Sunday (Jan. 5).

Meet the HAWKS

Nathan Bowness
No. 45
Goaltender

Nathan Bowness is new to the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks this season. The 18-year-old netminder is from Ottawa and forms the Hawks' goaltending tandem with another rookie, Brandon Lowry. Bowness has appeared in 15 games in his first Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League campaign. He has played 819.25 minutes compiling an 8-4-0-1 record, a GAA of 4.25 and a save percentage of 0.869. JED Express of South Mountain sponsors his No. 45 jersey.

Atom House 'B' Demons shoot down Aeros 3-1

WINCHESTER – Spencer Billings converted one of three plays created by Josh Dagenais into the GWG in the North Dundas Atom House "B" Demons 3-1 victory over the Athens Aeros.

Noah Tessier used a pass provided by Dagenais to hand his team a 1-0 lead with 4:52 left in the opening stanza of last week's (Fri., Jan. 3) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game at the Joel Steele Community Centre.

Billings combined with Dagenais and increased his team's lead to 2-0 at 12:44 of the final frame. The Aeros cut their deficit to 2-1 netting their lone goal at 8:41 of the same session.

Kieran MacQueen-Ladouceur then locked up the win burying a pass sent his way by Dagenais with 4:54 left on the clock.

The win improved the Demons sixth-place record to 4-9-4.

North Dundas drew 16 penalties for 59 minutes while Rockland was whistled for 48 minutes on 16 infractions.

Gatineau 8 – Rockets 1

Jacob Luimes and Brent Simms set up Harry Wyss for the lone North Dundas goal in the third period in Gatineau.

The Olympiques led 2-0 after a period and were up 6-0 after 40 minutes.

Coach Klein-Swormink felt the 8-1 score was not really indicative of the play.

"Although Gatineau is a much improved club and they played well, it was one of those games that every team goes through from time to time," he said. "We were able to pressure them at times which would result in bad bounces that went their way. We couldn't get a bounce and they capitalized on theirs."

Klein-Swormink noted that his rookie 'tender Jason Buma made some great saves but was left alone too many times.

The coach summed up by saying, "The team put in a strong effort all weekend".

Metcalfe Jets' Hicks hot, shuts out Clarence 4-0

METCALFE – Connor Hicks registered his first Eastern Ontario Hockey League shutout backing the Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets to their 12th win of the 2013-2014 Metro/Valley Conference campaign.

Hicks was unbeatable facing 35 shots in last week's (Fri., Jan. 3) 4-0 decision over the Clarence Beavers at the Larry Robinson Arena.

The Beavers, ranked number two in the Metro Division standings with a record of 18-11-0-0 and 36 points, were outshot 40-35 by the fifth-place Jets (12-18-0-0) who broke up a scoreless encounter cashing a pair of second-period markers and finishing up pumping in another pair of pucks in the final frame.

Geoff Hiebert finished a play set up by Elias Rizk and Andrew Leung scoring what would be the GWG 4:01 into period two. Jordan Malette buried a pass from Sean Bakker with 12:31 on the clock and Metcalfe had a 2-0 lead with 20 minutes to play.

Matt Borkowski and Junau St-Germain set up Malette for a 3-0 lead 5:33 into the third. Simon Martel increased the difference to 4-0 cracking a PPG after taking a pass from Malette two seconds before the final buzzer.

Hicks improved his personal numbers to 6-7-0-0, dropped his GAA to 2.90 and his save percentage to 0.918 posting his first shutout.

This week, Metcalfe will host the Ottawa Canadians (17-7-1-1) Friday (Jan. 10) at 8:15 pm. Sunday (Jan. 12), they will tangle with the Beavers on their pond in Clarence Creek.

Dundas County Lions win pool at tourney

KINGSTON – A third-period goal by the Ice Wolves Gold snapped a 3-3 tie and knocked the Dundas County No. 2 Lions out of contention at the 2014 Kingston Midget Girls Invitational Hockey Tournament.

The Wolves rang up their 4-3 victory with 4:31 left in Sunday's (Jan. 5) game in the Limestone City. The winners had led the contest 2-0 after a period and 3-1 after two sessions.

Gilmour cut the Dundas deficit to 3-2 on an unassisted play at 9:18 of the third period. Emma Barkley then used a pass provided by Janis Hall to knot the count 3-3 with 8:33 to play in the game.

Dundas opened the tournament beating the OGHA No. 1 Midgets 3-1 last Friday (Jan. 3).

Brynn Gilmour (Mackenzie Barkley, Emma Barkley) tied the score 1-1 with 6:13 left in period two. Emma Barkley used a pass sent to her by Peyton Bradford to register the GWG 2:49 before the period ended. The Barkleys (Emma and Mackenzie) set up the final goal for Bradford who cashed it for a 3-1 final 1:47 before the final buzzer.

The Cornwall Black Typhoons played the Lions to a 2-2 draw at noon on Saturday (Jan. 4). Dundas needed third-period markers by Taylor Casselman (Emma Barkley, Swindells at 5:16) and Melissa Stevens (Hall at 2:46) to earn their point.

MOM
There's a family who misses you dearly
In a home where you used to be;
There's a family who wanted to keep you,
But God willed it not to be.
You left many happy memories
And a sorrow too great to be told;
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.

In Memoriam

BAKER – In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Marjorie, who passed away January 4, 2013.
What would we give
Her hand to clasp
Her patient face to see.
To hear her voice
To see her smile
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day
We'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife.
And clasp each other's hand once more
In Heaven that happy life.
– Forever in our hearts

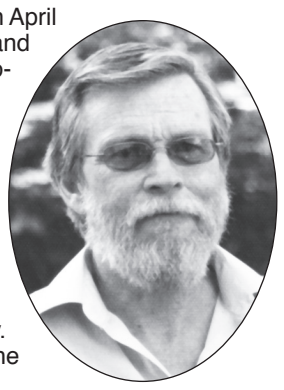
Steve Sayeau

Steve "Tub" Sayeau, a resident of Morrisburg for the past 35 years, passed away peacefully on Wed., Dec. 25, 2013 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital.



Stephen Mark Sayeau was born April 10, 1950, to his parents, Arthur and Margaret "Peg" Sayeau (nee Poland). He was born and raised on County Road 2 west of Iroquois. His older siblings include Pat, Jim, and Emma Jean.

After Stephen was born, he was quickly nicknamed "Tubby" by his sister, Emma Jean. Big brother Jim would read to her "Tubby & Lulu Cartoons," so she naturally named him baby Tubby. This nickname stuck with him for the rest of his days.

Steve attended the one room school at SS #4 Matilda. The kids walked to school along County Road 2 before Highway 401 was completed, and would hang on to the guard rails when the transports went by. He attended Iroquois High School until 1967. Living on the river involved a lot of swimming in the summer and skating in the winter.

Steve married Lorna Sullivan on Sept. 23, 1967. Their first born, Sandra Lynn, arrived in 1968. He worked at Caldwell Linen Mill for a short time, and also began an apprenticeship as a mechanic. He then attended St. Lawrence College in Cornwall and graduated in 1973 as an electronic technologist. His first job was with the Canadian Coast Guard at the Ottawa Airport.

In 1973, Steve and Lorna welcomed into the world Mark Lee, and in 1976, Lisa Jean arrived. In 1978, the family moved from Kemptville back to Morrisburg, and Steve began his journey with the Canadian Coast Guard, at the Prescott Base, repairing and maintaining communication and navigation equipment. It was very important to Steve that Lorna didn't have to work, that she was able to stay home and be a full-time Mom. He worked very hard to make this happen.

He became a grandfather in 1990, with the arrival of Jeffery Robert Stephen, and then in 1999, with Cristiano Anthony. Next came the girls, Danica Jolie in 2006, and Thalia Hope in 2009. Last, but not least, Benjamin Mark was born in 2011.

Steve's career with the Coast Guard lasted 30 years. He retired in 2003. He was well respected in his field, and made many friends throughout the years. He and his co-workers were a tight-knit group. He had a passion for reading and was always up-to-date on politics and current events. He was quick to jump on the World Wide Web in its infancy — this fed his love of reading and music, and his thirst for knowledge. Steve loved his music. Among his favourites were the Rolling Stones, Fleetwood Mac, Willie Nelson, and Waylon Jennings. He often quoted the Stones telling friends and family, "You can't always get what you want," all in good fun, of course. He loved his NASCAR Sundays. He had some pretty interesting NASCAR gatherings and vacations with friends over the years. He loved living close to the St. Lawrence River most of his life. A lot of time was spent at the Steward farm, and on various boats over the years. He made many friends on both sides of the river. He was a lover of animals. He had a few canine "best friends" over the years. A consistent pastime of his was feeding the birds and the squirrels in the backyard.

In his retirement, Steve put the finishing touches on his beloved garage. It was made complete with heat, a fridge, TV, computer, table and chairs, and his scale model car garage. He enjoyed family, friends, and neighbours stopping by to visit in his garage.

One of the traits that defined Steve the most was his sense of humour. He was able to find a laugh in just about any situation right up until the end. In the hospital, he continually amazed the doctors and nurses with his one-liners. He was honest, sometimes to a fault! He was very intelligent, and a conversationalist. Steve was a kind-hearted and generous man. He accepted people into his circle and his home as long as he received the same respect that he gave. He is survived by his wife, Lorna, his children Sandy (Anthony) Vogrig of Winchester, Mark (Tara) Sayeau of Chesterville, and Lisa (Mark) Casselman of Williamsburg; his siblings, Pat (Shirley) Sayeau of Cardinal, Jim (Louise) Sayeau of Cardinal, and Emma Jean Sawatzky of Wiarton; and his brother-in-law, Lee Sullivan of Ottawa. He will be fondly remembered by his grandchildren, Jeff Winters, Cristiano Vogrig, Danica and Thalia Casselman, and Benjamin Sayeau. He is also survived by nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Sun., Dec. 29 from 7 to 9 pm, and Mon., Dec. 30 from 12 pm until the time of the funeral service at 1 pm, which was conducted by Father Anthony. Spring interment of cremated remains will be at Spruce Haven Cemetery in Brinston.

Donations to Dundas County Hospice or Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be gratefully acknowledged by the family.

Enid Dalrymple

Enid Dalrymple (nee Grimmon), formerly of Williamsburg, passed away on Sat., Jan. 4, 2014, at the Dundas Manor Nursing Home in Winchester, in her 100th year.

She was the beloved wife of the late John A. Dalrymple (former vice-principal at Kemptville College). She was the loving mother of John (Barbara) of Kemptville and Jim (Donnalene) of Brighton. Enid will be fondly remembered by grandchildren Kevin Dalrymple (Val) of Johnstown, Kim Blauer (Jason) of Stittsville, Karen Dalrymple of Stittsville, Kristen Dalrymple of Toronto, and great-grandchildren Andy, Warren, Abigail, and Emma. She was predeceased by her infant daughter, Jane, her brother, Jim Grimmon, and her sisters, Freda Huff and Miriam Colliver. She is also survived by nieces and nephews.

There will be no visitation or funeral service. A graveside service will be held at Mount Pleasant Cemetery in Morrisburg in the spring. Donations to Dundas Manor would be gratefully acknowledged by the family.

The arrangements were entrusted to the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg.

Online condolences may be made at www.marsdenmclaughlin.com.

The family would like to extend their sincere appreciation to the staff of Dundas Manor for the excellent care they provided to Enid.

Card of Thanks

The Sayeau family would like to thank family and friends for all of the support during Steve's (Tub's) illness, before and after his passing. Thank you to everyone for the flowers, food, donations, phone calls, visits, e-mails, Facebook messages, text messages and online condolences. Thank you to Dr. Abbud and the nursing staff at WDMH for the wonderful care Steve received during his stay in the hospital and for the kindness and compassion shown to our entire family. Thank you to everyone who helped with the tasks of everyday life while we were spending as much time at the hospital as possible. Thank you to Father Anthony, Sandra Barkley-Probst and Kirsten Weller for the beautiful service honouring Steve. Thank you to David Lapier for going above and beyond the call of duty. Our communities are so blessed to have you. It was amazing to see so many friends, co-workers and extended family from past and present and near and far come out to say goodbye to Steve and support our family. It was a nice reminder of how well-liked and respected he was by so many over the years. We will miss him dearly.
