HENRY'S Shorthand School Ottawa, Ont.

No School in Canada offers a better training, or ensures a more successful future. Henry's leads all others, and ranks among employers as "THE SCHOOL OF HIGHER EFFICIENCY"—a fact borne out by more than 600 pupils who have, since January, 1913, left other Ottawa schools to come to it.

Therefore, it is not surprising that business men, in advertising for stenographers, should specially say, "Graduates of Henry's School preferred."

Barn and Crop Burned

Monday evening the barn on Mr. John Fleming's farm about a half-mile east of the Ninth school was entirely destroyed by fire together with the season's crop as a result of a lantern exploding. The place is occupied by Tom Fleming, a son of the owner, who had just completed the night's chores. The lantern was supposed to be in good condition and no reason can be given for its explosion. No live stock was in the building at the time. About four years ago a barn on the same farm, then also owned by Mr. Fleming, was destroyed by fire.

Garden Grown Oats

A small sheaf of oats is occupying a prominent place in our window which has attracted a good deal of attention during the past couple of days. It was not grown by a farmer, but rather by one who is always interested in farming operations, Mr. J. C. Simser, of this place. The oats are of the Improved Mammoth Cluster variety and from apeparances a very heavy yielder.

Rocks Fall In Town Following Blasting

This morning, following heavy detonations from blasting operations in or near the village, a piece of rock weighing a pound and a half was picked from the bowling green, where it had embedded itself about five seconds after the explosion was heard. Billy Dixon and Tom Flynn were at the greens at the time when the rock ploughed in. The consequences may be imagined had a citizen been the target.

Chesterville Women's Institute Entertains Grandmothers

Granmothers' Day in the Women's Institute is an annual event, looked forward to by grandmothers and young. Wednesday afternoon, with its warm sunshine, was ideal for such a gathering, and the grandmothers of the community were entertained by the local branch.

The Library was prettily decorated with quantities of fall flowers and richly coloured vines. The tea table, looking very lovely centred with a silver basket filled with brilliant zinnas.

After the business routine of the Institute was disposed of, a programme of exceptional interest was enjoyed. Musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. W. N. Fulton, Mrs. Geo. Merkley and Mrs. Bronskill; and readings by Miss Harrison and Mrs. L. Marcellus.

Mrs. E. Merkley, in a very charming manner, related some of her girlhood experiences in Chesterville and spoke of attending church in the building now occupied by Mr. Geo. J. Hunt as a drug store.

Mrs. Levi Sorrell, one of the oldest ladies present, described a trip she had recently taken in an aeroplane.

Mrs. C. W. Casselman, Miss Harrison, Mrs. G. Hunt, Mrs. Chas. Graham and Mrs. G. Merkley were dressed in costumes which were fashionable twenty-five and fifty years ago.

Mrs. Geo. Beckstead, eighty-one years of age, a former resident of Chesterville but now of Oshawa, was present and received the prize given by Mrs. Hunt to the oldest grandmother.

Mrs. E. Merkley, who wore a dress and bonnet of fifty years ago was the winner of the prize donated by Mrs. O. D. Casselman for the best costume.

The prizes for the best stories told by a grandmother went to Mrs. Sorrell and Mrs. Merkley.

The committee, under the convenorship of Mrs. Geo. J. Hunt and Miss Harrison, served tea and the prizes were presented to the successful competitors.

Mrs. Tate, Mrs. Henry McMahon, Mrs. Ward Johnston and Mrs. Fairbrass acted as judges.

Fourteen Chesterville Entries

Nine boys and five girls are entered from Chesterville High School to compete in the Eastern Ontario Secondary Schools Association Meet to be held in Cornwall on Saturday afternoon. There are also nine competitors from Finch, and Winchester entries are expected. Chesterville athletes are, boys—A. Black, J. Fyke, R. Helmer, R. Hummel, R. Lynch, J. McAvoy, T. Maloley, A. Merkley and A. Tate.

In all, more than 200 entries from the various secondary schools throughout Eastern Ontario are expected. These will form an athletes' parade around the field at the beginning of the sports headed by the 38th Regimental Bugle Band of Ottawa. This band is conceded to be one of the finest bands in the Dominion and is composed of more than 100 pieces. There are many feature attractions, including the schoolboy champion athletes from the Glebe Collegiate.

Very Fine Corn Crop

This week Mr. William Smith, who lives about two miles west of Chesterville, brought to the Record Office six ears of corn of particularly fine quality as samples of the four acres now standing on his farm. The seed used was obtained from one of the big growers as being specially adapted for an ensilage variety for this district, a mixture of dent and flint ripening at the same time. The cobs are well covered from top to bottom, each bearing sixteen rows of the grain. The seed was planted in spring ploughed sod on June 12th and the samples exhibited were picked just 103 days from that date. It is Mr. Smith's intention to not cut this corn for a few days in order to give other farmers, who might be interested, an opportunity to inspect the field.

Kippen---Reveler

A charming house wedding ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Cannamore, on Saturday afternoon, September 20th, when Miss Eva Reveler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Reveler, was united in marriage to Mr. Stanley Kippen, only son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Kippen, of Maxville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was unattended. Rev. R. E. Newman officiated and Mrs. Geo. A. MacGregor, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. Miss Winona Reveler, of Winchester, assisted with the music. During the signing of the register, a Highland piper entertained the guests on the lawn.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of ivory satin modelled on long lines with her bridal veil held in place by a tiarra of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, maiden hair fern and gypsophilia.

The rooms were attractively decorated with ferns, potted plants and cut flowers.

Following the ceremony a dainty luncheon and reception was held, the bride's table being adorned with pink and white flowers and lighted pink tapers.

A large number of guests from Ottawa, Toronto, Maxville, Lancaster, and Dalhousie were present.

Mr. Kippen and his bride left later on a motor trip to Detroit and other points, the bride wearing a travelling tweed dress of black and eggshell coat trimmed with fur and black velvet hat.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple, including a number of cheques.

Mrs. Jas. Barkley, Elma

On Saturday, September 13th, the death of Mrs. James Barkley took place at her late home, Elma. The deceased was in failing health for two years. She was a daughter of the late Mr. Isaiah Barkley and was born 46 years ago, lacking one day. She was married twenty-eight years ago to Mr. Barkley.

Mrs. Barkley was of a genial and quiet disposition and will be greatly missed in the family circle to which she was always unselfishly devoted. The respect in which she was held was shown by the large concourse of friends and neighbours which filled the church Monday afternoon for the funeral.

Rev. W. A. Morrison assisted by the Rev. Mr. Cronmiller, of Morrisburg, conducted the funeral service. Mr. Morrison preached an appropriate sermon, "Three Essentials of the Spiritual Life." During the service a united choir rendered sympathetically "Going Down the Valley."

The departed leaves to mourn her loss her husband, one son, Earl, and daughter, Gertrude, both at home; also three brothers, Michael Barkley, Canton, N. Y.; Ben and Edgar, of Williamsburg, to all of whom we extend sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

There were several beautiful floral offerings: wreath, husband and children; wreath, Hugh, Bruce, and Milton Barkley; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McCaslin; Sprays, Mrs. Oscar Beckstead, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Cougler.

The pall bearers were Messrs. A. N. Barkley, Charles Bouck, Melvin Dillabough, I. Whitteker, John Armstrong, and Bruce MacIntosh. Interment was made in the family plot at Maple Ridge.

A SECRET OF CONTENTMENT

The man who is careful not to store up trouble for future years is the man who leads the most contented life.

For example, if you are conscious of any strain when using your eyes, attend to them at once.

It may be easy to correct that strain now whereas, if not attended to will proba l grow worse and worse and cause serious trouble.

If you do not need glasses, we will tell you so. I: yo: do need them, you should get them at once and stop injuring your eyes by forcing them to do work under strain.

Bride-Elect Honoured

On Thursday afternoon, September 18, Mrs. Theresa Bayly, one of this month's brides, was tendered a prettily arranged miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Alex. Foley.

The house was daintily decorated with white streamers, bells, and autumn blooms.

When about forty-five guests had assembled, the bride-elect entered the room, amid showers of confetti, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Mrs. J. W. Casselman and, after being seated beneath the decorated arch, two little nephews of the bride, Alexander and Patrick M. Foley, on the sound of a gong conveyed a beautifully decorated basket laden with numerous gifts and placed them before the guest of honour.

An appropriate address was then read by Miss Nell Gillies, after which the bride fittingly and eloquently responded.

When the gifts were opened, a gracious acknowedgement was again given.

Refreshments were then served by the following hostesses, the Misses Gillies and McMahon, Mrs. T. McDonald, Mrs. T. Foley, and Mrs. A. Foley.

Girl To Model Premier

Premier G. Howard Ferguson has requested Helen Faimel, 12-year-old sculpturing genius, to model a bust of him, similar to the one she did of the late Sir Adam Beck.

The little girl's bust of Sir Adam was exhibited at the Department of Education Building, Toronto, where it impressed Ontario's Premier so much that he sent the girl a photograph of himself stating he would be pleased to have it serve as a model.

News and Information For the Busy Farmer

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

In the County of Glengarry livestock are reported to be in good condition "on account of the splendid pasture which we have had all summer."

At a recent field day held near Cobden, with over fifty young people present, a sheep club was organized with Irving Dean, president, and Gordon McMillan, secretary-treasurer. Government instruction will be availabe for members in the care of sheep they have taken under the club policy.

Due to dry weather and blossom rot the tomato crop in Prince Edward County will be much smaller than previously estimated. Wentworth is another county where lack of rain has been serious, and in consequence all fruits and vegetables as well as grain and root crops are below average.

After -harvest cultivation appears to be more general than usual in Middlesex County, reports the representative. The early completion of harvesting has allowed ample time for attention to this work while the weed menace is also stimulating this effect in weed control.

Electrification of Ontario farms by the Provincial Hydro Commission proceeds apace, judging by the latest monthly report, which announces that the year's construction programme has almost completed. For 1930 it was planned to build 1434 miles of primary lines to serve more than 3500 rural customers. So far 1432 miles have been constructed and during July 682 applications for rural service were received. These will necessitate another 183 miles of line. The cost of the 1930 construction program is estimated at $3,250,000.

Weekly Crop Report.

Pastures are very dry in most dairy sections and dairymen are finding it necessary to supplement with green feed and grain, according to reports from a number of representatives. Harvesting operations are practically completed. Lack of moisture is holding up the sowing of fall wheat in some sections while in others increased acreages sown to this crop are reported.

A Market for Cheese.

A good demand is reported for Canadian cheese in the British West Indies but development of cheese exports for that market depends on the packing of a cheese suited to the market. They demand a small 25-pound cheese of the "Daisy" type, about 12 inches in diameter, and the cheese should not be more than one month old when shipped. Some exporters have been splitting the regular size 80–85 pound cheese into three or four sections, covering the cut surface with paraffin or ironing a cap cloth on. When exposed to the West Indian climate these "split" cheese become a soft, loose mass, quite unattractive and hard to handle. The "Daisy" type made fairly firm and covered with a good rind is much better suited to the market and its sale can be substantially increased in preparing it for this particular market. Quality counts in cheese as it does in other farm and dairy products.

New Cold Storage Plant.

The official opening of the new precooling and cold storage plant of the Norfolk Fruit Growers' Association at Simcoe took place on Friday evening September 12th, with a banquet at which the speakers included Mr. J. B. Fairbairn, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Dr. J. B. Reynolds, President Emeritus, O. A. C.; Mr. G. E. McIntosh, Dominion Fruit Commissioner; Mr. P. W. Hodgetts, Director Ontario Fruit Branch, and other officials. Optimism prevailed with regard to the future of the apple-growing industry in Ontario, and plans were unfolded by several speakers for securing wider markets for the crop. The superiority of the Ontario-grown apple over the orange was stressed and the general need for educating our own people to use home-grown produce of all kinds was urged. The new Norfolk plant is expected to save thousands of dollars for growers in that district. The crop in Norfolk this year will 50,000 barrels, according to preliminary surveys.

Harvesting Onions.

As the onion tops wilt and turn yellow they give signs of maturity. While the weather is hot and dry they should be piled up and laid on the ground in rows. A day or two later they will be ready for storing in some place that is cool, if possible. but most certainly dry. It is advisable to sort well before storing, throwing out all soft and diseased specimens, and putting those with thick necks and tops that are not entirely shrivelled up in a place by themselves for early use. These will not keep as long nor as well as the others.

Favours Summer Fallow Contests.

While admitting that ploughing competitions accomplish much good, R. H. Clemons, agricultural representative for the County of Wellington, believes that summar fallowing competitions would be more to the point. Midsummer ploughing after taking off a crop of hay, after-harvest cultivation and summer fallowing are three methods of weed control that are giving satisfactory results in Wellington. Mr. Clemons is of the opinion that the best method is ploughing in July immediately after taking off a crop of hay. This has the advantage of allowing the farmer a crop for that season. The crop tends to dry out the soil thoroughly and has a greater tendency to check sow thistle roots than when ploughing is done later. With regard to summer fallowing competitions, Mr. Clemons said: "It would be a more practical scheme of encouraging good cultivation than the present system."

Grading Vegetables.

One of the greatest factors in the marketing of farm products and particularly garden vegetables, is assured quality. The public demand for a uniform, graded, sound, mature product in standard attractive containers is becoming yearly more apparent and such products are given preference on the market and command the highest prices. Grades have already been established for potatoes, onions, turnips and celery ,and requests are now being made for grades of other kinds of vegetables, particularly cabbage and cauliflower. To meet this demand recommended grades for these products were introduced providing an opportunity to growers and distributors to try out the grades before introducing them as regulations. The provisional cabbage grades which have been re-introduced for this year are No. 1 and No. 2; and for cauliflower, Numbers 1, 2, and 3.

Long Live the Dutch

Hanging is too good for the man who invented the term "Dumb Dutchman." No one who has the slightest leaning toward dumbness could have done what some Dutch householders are recently given credit for—penny-in-the-slot doorbells which ring only after a coin has been deposited.

According to Popular Mechanics Magazine, this invention is now being operated in the land of the Dutch. If the caller is milady's hubby or a welcome visitor the coin necessary to ring the bell generally goes back to the pocket from which it came. If, on the other hand, the caller be one interested in a new refrigerator, a vacuum cleaner, a sun-porch, a wall brush, or a pair of shoe laces—well, he pays for his experience.

If tide's out, tide's bound to come back, you know. And, as the sailors say, it's pretty generally at low tide that you find things worth picking up.

A New Definition.

A brief recently filed in the Florida Supreme Court contained a new definition of the word "logical," given by a negro witness.

"Did you know the defendant, Pearson?" the witness was asked.

"I had a logical acquaintance with him," the negro replied.

"What do you mean by logical acquaintance?"

"Well," the witness replied, "we both belong to the same lodge."

Fnneral of Late Mrs. Mary Allen

On September 15th there passed away one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Chesterville in the person of Mrs. Mary Allen. Born in Limerick 82 years ago, she was one of a family of sixteen children of the late Michael and Catharine McMahon. Like many of such noble families, she was gifted with enviable qualities of mind and heart, patience, sound judgment, wit and good humour, which made her character loveable and replete with integrity which only too few can claim. More than half a century ago she married the late Patrick Allen, of her native district, who passed away fifteen years ago. A number of children blessed their marriage, three of whom survive—Mrs. Mary Hughes, and Thos. Allen, of Chesterville, and Mrs. (Dr.) Gormley, of Crysler.

Until two years ago the deceased enjoyed her normal, active, robust health despite her advanced age, when ather suddenly a slight stroke impaired the system, from which she never completely recovered. During the last seven months she was confined to bed where she received the greatest care thereby enabling the fatal malady to ebb her life away with the least possible suffering and anxiety.

The late Mrs. Allen was a staunch adherent of St. Mary's church, where she always took a pride in doing many charitable activities in aid of the needy and the advancement of good citizenship. Besides her three children, there survive two brothers: Thomas and Daniel, of Chicago; and three sisters: Mrs. James Shannon, Buffalo; Mrs. Wm. Marquette, Chicago, and Mrs. Michael E. Curran, Chesterville.

Many spiritual and floral tributes, also letters of condolence were received in testimony of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the community and remote district. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to St. Mary's church on Wednesday the 17th inst., where Reqieum High Mass was chanted by the Fr. Staley, after which interment took place in the family plot in the Lower cemetery. The pall bearers were her nephew, Patrick McMahon, Cannamore; Michael M. Curran, Finch; Bernard Coyne, and John Manley, respectively, of Chesterville.

The following Spiritual Offerings were received:

Mrs. Ellen Gormley and the Misses Gormley (2 masses), Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Curran, Miss Eileen Allen, Mr. and Mrs. James Shannon, Buffalo (2 masses); Mr and Mrs. Michael M. Curran, Mrs. B. IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Alvin McIntosh, who departed this life on October 1, 1927.

Just when her days seemed brightest,
Just when her hopes seemed best,
God called her from amongst us
To her eternal rest

Onward she is sleep so free from all pain,
Oh wake her not, Sweet Spirit, to suffer again.
She slumbers so soundly, oh, let her sleep on;
Her sickness is ended, her troubles are gone.
Just think how she suffered and moaned with pain
Till God, in his mercy, sent down an angel from above
Who whispered a message of love.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain.
To have, to love, and then, to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of my heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Inserted by husband.

Dustless And Flyless

No one who lived for forty years, and who has taken a motor trip recently through villages and countryside, can have failed to notice the growing disposition of rural and semi-rural people to beautify their homes. Often a plain and inexpensive dwelling appeals to the eye by reason of the abundance of flowers about it and the tasteful use of paint. Farmhouses are no longer the drab and uninviting things they were in many cases a few decades ago. Rural Canada has taken on the beauty of both natural colour and art. And this is a stimulating change. It signifies an awakening of sentiment amid the sterner emotions of farm life.

The automobile has done a great deal to bring this about. With improved highways, and the enormously increased use of them, the isolation of rural districts has gone. Urban and rural life now have more in common. Bleakness has yielded to a manifest interest in the purely decorative. City people find a growing charm in all that the open country now has to offer to the eye. In one sense this is a mark of advancing civilization, in that is suggests rising refinement.

The main country roads have become dustless and our cities have become relatively flyless. Not long ago the rural highways were avoided by pleasure seekers because of the stifling dust, and flies were a plague in city homes. Both were regarded as unavoidable, yet modern engineering skill has disposed of one and modern sanitation is getting rid of the other. Of course, the substitution of motor vehicles for horse-drawn, with the disappearance of stables in cities and towns, has had much to do with the stamping out of the fly scourge. Increasing comfort stands out in happy contrast with the conditions of the past.

The Production of Clean Milk

Farmers, like others who offer articles for sale, wish to turn out the best product that they can, whether it be cattle, grain or milk, for they recognize that the better the article the better the price it commands. The quality of milk is of more importance than the quality of any other farm product. To the consumer, milk of high quality,—that is to say, milk which is clean and wholesome,—is worth far more than milk that is carelessly produced and handled. When the public has greater confidence in the wholesomeness of the general milk supply the nation will consume much more liquid milk, with the result that the producer will receive more money for his products. Any farmer who wants to produce clean milk can do so, for it is a question almost entirely of methods and but little of equipment.

Three things are required—healthy herds, cleanly methods, and keeping the milk cold until marketed.

A Lincoln Story.

Abraham Lincoln married a Tod, and was onced asked why his wife's people did not spell their name with two "d's," Todd, which would be more aristocratic.

"Well," he answered, "God spells his name with one 'd,' and I guess what's good enough for God is good enough for us."

A fellow took a very dilapidated car to a garage for repair.

"How much did you pay for this bus?" asked the mechanic.

"As a matter of fact," replied the owner, "a friend gave it to me for nothing."

The garage man shook his head.

"You've been swindled," he said.

This year's School Fair was not up to the average and the School Fair staff hopes that teachers and parents will see that the children take more interest in the fair for 1931.

The eagle eye of the floor-walker came to rest on a young man in earnest conversation with one of the girl shop-assistants. After he had gone, the floor-walker went over to the girl's counter.

"I noticed that your last customer did not buy anything," he said, "but he seemed very pleased. What did he want to see?"

"Me at 8 o'clock," returned the girl.

Soil Fertility

The most important problem of the farmer to-day is the maintenance of the soil on his farm at a maximum of fertility. Field husbandry experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture find that the most effective and at the same time the most economical way to maintain fertility in the soil is through the practice of an adequate sytem of crop rotation. This involves no additional expense to the farmer in the majority of cases and not only improves the fertility of the soil, but also enables more economic use of labour the year round, extends the variety of farm production and assists in weed control.

Farmers throughout Canada are urged to visit the nearest Dominion Experimental Farm or Station, wher they will see crop rotation at work. They are also urged to communicate with the Department for the latest literature dealing with the practical and scientific aspects of crop rotation, which is available to them without charge through the Publications Branch of the Department at Ottawa.

Storing Apples

It is always cheaper to buy apples by the box, hamper, or barrel than it is to buy by the small basket or individual specimen. The reason most people refrain from such purchases is because of the difficulty anticipated in keeping the fruit.

If kept in a cool damp place the fall and winter varieties of apples will maintain their fine qualites unimpaired for long periods of time. Experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have given considerable time to this phase of the apple marketing problem and express the view that the average householder should have little or no difficulty in maintaining an adequate supply of the king of fruits throughout the year.

When an apple is picked from the tree it is still alive and to be kept in good condition it has to be stored under healthy conditions. When left in the kitchen or stored near a furnace apples will shrivel and dry up, losing much of their fine flavour and quality. The simple expedient of placing them in a cool damp place insures satisfaction over a long period of time.

The Red Man Tries the Pipes

Sandy has a broad grin on his face as he watches brother Redman take a fling at the bagpipes which he has loaned him for a moment to try his luck. The Indian is all intent on his unaccustomed task and since it is only a photograph and not a sound picture you can contemplate the scene without misgivings. Photograph was taken during the recent Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival held at Banff, Alberta.

ASTHMA

Asthma means a panting, there is shortness of breath sometimes to the point of extreme distress. Asthma and hay fever are two similar conditions. When it is the nose that is affected we call it hay fever, and when the bronchial tubes are involved we say it is asthma.

The condition is frequently due to the sufferer's being hypersensitive to some protein. Proteins are substances such as the white of egg, they form a large percentage of meat and other animal substances and are also present in the pollens of grasses and flowers, in the dandruff emanations from animals and also in dust. Bacteria or germs contain proteins.

For reasons which we do not understand, some persons become hypersensitive to one or more kinds of protein. The protein may be breathed in the form of pollen or dust. It may be eaten in food, or it may be present in bacteria which are living in the body.

This explains why some subjects of asthma have an attack as they approach a horse; these individuals are hypersensitive to the emanations from the horse. Another subject has an attack if he uses a feather pillow or sleeps on a horse-hair mattress, and another still, if he eats an egg. The reason is the same in all these cases, a hypersensitive condition to some particular protein.

The treatment of these cases in order to prevent further attacks depends upon finding out first of all whether or not they are hypersensitive to some protein. If a certain protein is found, then it may be possible for the subject to avoid that protein. If eggs are responsible they can be eliminated from the diet and, in the course of time, the hypersensitive condition generally disappears.

It is possibe to desensitize the subject for the responsible protein in certain instances. This is done for those suffering from hayfever when, by means of the necessary tests for hypersensitiveness, the pollen responsible has been found.

There is also the group of cases made up chiefly of older persons in which the condition is not due to any hypersensitiveness to proteins. Such cases are frequently associated with heart and kidney disease.

The sufferer from hay-fever or asthma should have his physician determine whether or not his condition is due to his being sypersensitive to some protein and if so he may hope for relief either through avoiding the responsible protein or by having himself desensitized.

Canada's Market For Canada's Wheat

Enormous Growth in Use of Prepared Whole Wheat Foods.

That Canada is finding one growing market within her own borders for Western wheat surpluses is revealed by statistics compiled over the past few years and released this week by the Canadian Shredded Wheat Company Ltd. The figures, which are in the nature of a market research, are a wide spread survey of the use of whole wheat foods in Canadian homes and show an enormously increased popularity for wheaten articles of diet compared to five years ago. This is particularly true of prepared whole wheat foods. Since (in the case of the Canadian Shredded Wheat Company's product at least) the sole source of supply is Western whole wheat grain, the consumption of crop surpluses in this form has been very considerable.

"In round figures you can take it that nearly two million families are today including whole wheat foods in their daily diet," said an official of the Shredded Wheat Company in an interview. "Our researches, while not of course covering every home in Canada, tend to show that hundreds of thousands of these homes are using today at least one ounce more of prepared whole wheat in the shape of Shredded Wheat Biscuits, per head of the family, than was the case five years ago. Thus Canada is finding a market for about 2,000,000 pounds more Canadian wheat weekly from this source alone."

We attribute the growing popularity of whole wheat prepared foods to a growing interest in dietetics on the part of Canadian housewives. Both the medical fraternity and the whole wheat food manufacturers have for years been urging, and rightly urging, the essential food value and the economy of wheat in articles of diet. The combined propaganda is beginning to take effect and, as a result, Canada's surplus of wheat is being reduced at a time when reduction is badly needed.

Papa Was Astonished.

Soon after the arrival of his first baby, his wife went upstairs one evening and found him standing by the side of the crib, gazing earnestly. She was touched by the sight, and tears filled her eyes.

Her arms stole softly around his neck as she rubbed her cheek caressingly against his shoulder. He started slightly at the touch.

"Darling," he murmured dreamily, "it is incomprehensible to me how they get up such a crib as that for 98 cents."

"Did your little boy enjoy the party?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"I think so," sighed the little boy's mother. "He wasn't hungry till half-past five the next afternoon!"

In its general application, it requires that the motorist responsible for damage to person or property of others MUST PAY either personally or through insurance OR BE BARRED FROM THE ROAD.

The sensible thing to do is to carry Automobile Liability and Property Damage Insurance. It is better to have this insurance and not need it, than to need it and not have it.
