Red tide washes over Eastern Ontario

Stormont-Dundas

Bob Kilger returns riding to Liberals

CORNWALL — It was the reverse of 1984 when newcomer Norm Warner ousted Liberal MP and cabinet minister Ed Lumley in a surprise upset victory.

Monday night, the Liberals regained the riding of Stormont- Dundas. Bob Kilger, 44, swept past his nearest competitor Conservative Eric Cameron, 29, by more than 6,000 votes.

With 169 of 183 polls reported, Kilger led with 16,985 votes, followed by Cameron at 10,889, Steve Corrie (NDP) 4,732 and Confederation of Regions candidate Bob Noble with 4,427.

Most of Kilger's support came from the City of Cornwall. The former NHL referee who was campaigning in his first election, managed to win 21 out of 52 polls in Dundas County with one tie in Morrisburg.

Kilger said the free trade issue allowed the Liberals to make substantial gains in the traditionally-Conservative Dundas County area.

Cameron captured the remaining polls in the county, completely shutting out the NDP and Confederation of Regions candidates.

COR party supporters were disappointed with the results. They had hoped bilingualism, which was an issue at every all- candidates' debate, would translate into voter support.

During the 1987 provincial election, independent candidate Gord McGregor, who supported the one official language policy, placed third behind Conservative MPP Noble Villeneuve and Liberal challenger Gerry Rosenquist.

But Noble was only able to capture two polls, one in Ingleside and the other in Lunenburg.

Kilger's victories in Dundas came at polls in Hainsville, Matilda township, Stampville, Morewood, Chesterville (4), Morrisburg (2), Williamsburg Township (3), Iroquois (2), Finch (3) and Berwick (2).

All nine polls in Winchester village and township were won by Cameron, several by more than 100 votes.

Traditionally, riding support has been divided along rural and urban lines, with rural voters supporting the Conservative candidate and urban dwellers voting Liberal.

Kilger didn't have to wait long to find out which way the voters were swinging. He was declared the winner less than an hour after the polls closed at 8pm.

And he was a gracious victor, congratulating his opponents for running excellent campaigns.

Although Brian Mulroney has won a second majority government, eastern Ontario bucked the national trend, electing eight Liberal MPs. Several prominent Tory MPs including Communications Minister Flora Macdonald (Kingston and the Islands) and Jennifer Cossitt (Leeds-Grenville) went down to defeat at the hands of their Liberal opponents.

Kilger said his win was not a slap to Warner, who was the first Conservative to win the riding since 1958.

"Mr. Warner is a fine man, I have nothing against Mr. Warner," said Kilger. His victory, however, was a vindication of the Liberals' 1984 loss.

Kilger said one of his top priorities will be to fulfill a campaign promise to open a second constituency office in Dundas County.

In Ontario, the Conservatives caputured 46 of 99 seats. Overall the Conservatives claimed 169 seats to 82 for the Liberals and 44 for the NDP.

Carleton-Gloucester

PC McTeer falls victim to Bellemare

OSGOODE — Rideau and Osgoode Townships were caught in the undertow of a Liberal wave that swept across eastern Ontario in Monday's federal election, and will be represented in parliament by Eugene Bellemare.

Bellemare outdistanced PC candidate Maureen McTeer by nearly 7,000 votes to become the first MP to represent the new federal riding of Carleton-Gloucester. For only the third time since confederation, Rideau and Osgoode will be represented by a Liberal member of parliament.

Bellemare captured 30,842 votes in the riding, McTeer collected 23,918, the NDP's Robert Cottingham won 6,213 votes, Terese Ferri of the Christian Heritage Party had 2,725 votes and the Rhinoceros' candidate Peter Quinlan attracted 435 votes.

Although McTeer was the most popular candidate in Osgoode- Rideau, Bellemare surged to victory on the strength of his support in Gloucester where he has served as a city councillor for the past seven terms. McTeer collected 1,360 more votes than Bellemare in Rideau and Osgoode Townships, but the Liberal candidate won virtually all of the polls in the Gloucester portion of the new riding.

This was the first test of the new riding, which formerly saw the rural areas of Rideau and Osgoode attached to the municipality of Nepean. The new riding of Carleton-Gloucester came into effect last July and links the rural townships with the urban and suburban areas east and north of Osgoode.

Bellemare arrived at his victory celebration in the Chimo Inn near St. Laurent Boulevard at 10pm, amid a boisterous crowd of Liberal party workers. Carleton-Gloucester Liberal Association president John Antaki introduced the winning candidate to the crowd.

"We'll get what we deserve with Eugene Bellemare," Antaki told the campaign workers

Village residents urged to light up

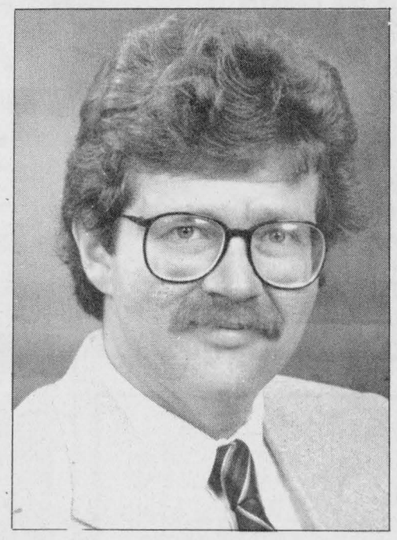
WINCHESTER — The Winchester Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring its second annual Christmas lighting contest.

Prizes of $100, $75 and $50 will be awarded to the top three decorated homes in the village by a panel of judges to be named later. The decorations must be in place by Dec. 14.

"We're basically trying to encourage everyone to decorate their homes," said this year's contest organizer Julia Fawcett. "The idea is to make it a fun thing, to make the town look nice."

Fawcett said there was a good response to last year's contest and many people travelled to the village to look at the display of lights.

"It used to be a big thing in Winchester but several years ago there was a hydro shortage so we had to cut it out," said Fawcett. "Now we're trying to recapture the spirit."



Arthur Carkner

Carkner demands recount

Johnson declared third councillor by slim four-vote margin

MAPLE RIDGE — Ormond resident Arthur Carkner will get one more chance, however slim, to pull out a municipal election victory in Winchester Township.

Carkner lost to Chesterville area dairy farmer Gordon Johnson for the last council seat by a heartbreaking four-vote margin on Nov. 14.

On Thursday, he decided to play out his last card — his last chance to get the remaining council seat — and formally requested a recount.

The recount will be held at the township office on Tues., Nov. 29, and the results should be available by noon.

"It's a kind of margin that can make you sit back and think," said 35-year-old Carkner, an employee with the Public Service Alliance in Ottawa.

"It is a small enough margin that quite a number of the people that supported me really urged me to ask for one (recount)," he said.

"It's a small enough number that a slip of the pen or something taken down wrong over the phone could make a difference."

With only a four-vote difference between himself and Johnson, their positions could easily be turned around in a recount, he said. He cited as an example, a recount in Ottawa in which an alderman was ahead by 13 votes at the end of the election, but after a recount, ended up behind by 13 votes.

Johnson said because it was such a close race, he wasn't surprised Carkner asked for a recount Thursday. And if a mistake was made, it is only fair Carkner get the council seat, he said. But Carkner may not necessarily be vindicated through Tuesday's recount. Another tallying of the votes could actually put him even further ahead, Johnson said.

He had hoped it wouldn't be a close race for council, but had no idea what kind of a race it would be until the polls started coming in election night.

With no polls to tell candidates how well they are doing during their campaigning, it is difficult to predict the results, Carkner said. "I really had no way of telling."

He's giving "fair notice" to all the candidates that a recount will be held, he said.

"Let's face it, recounts are not that common here," he said. "I hope it doesn't inconvenience anyone."

Patients' problems undetected, nurses told

WINCHESTER — Two disturbing points were made to nurses at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Friday.

Diane Hobbs, head of the nursing and hospital outreach program for the Addiction Research Foundation, was at WDMH during Addiction Awareness Week to discuss her unsettling findings.

First, said Hobbs, about 30 per cent of patients admitted to hospitals in Ontario have health problems related to drug or alcohol use — or both.

Secondly, only seven to 10 per cent are recognized as having a problem stemming from alcohol or drug abuse.

Hobbs told the nursing staff, one reason drugs or alcohol are not recognized as the cause of a patient's illness is the person is not given the opportunity to explore his own weakness.

"Those with a (drug or alcohol) problem often believe they can't do anything to cure their problem," said Hobbs.

Hobbs advised the nurses that it is their responsibility to make a greater effort in detecting alcohol or drug abuse as the cause of a patient's illness. The nurse should then connect the patient with the appropriate help, she added.

In her numerous years as a nurse, Hobbs said she became aware of the need patients have to discuss their problem.

"They were dying to talk to someone," she said.

Speaking in Winchester during the first year Dundas County has been included in the 10-year-old Addiction Awareness Week, Hobbs said she is trying to create more interest among hospital staff in attempting to assist those with drug or alcohol-related illnesses.

"I hope that my effort today will kindle someone's interest to look at patients' problems here. I hope the nurses will feel more comfortable in discussing drug problems with their patients," she said.

Hobbs admitted it is an "immense task" getting her message out to all hospitals.

"The whole process of educating hospital staff is onerous," she said. "It is extremely difficult to measure success."

Hobbs said nurses may be tongue-tied when first talking to a patient about his drug or alcohol problem.

She advised nurses to meet those who have recovered from an addiction, to offer them a better approach in dealing with patients still suffering from substance abuse.

"People don't recover like it is surgery," she said. "It takes a long-term commitment. You have to get the message across that people can change."

Hobbs said it is important that patients are informed about the help available to them.

For anyone in the Winchester area concerned about their own or someone else's alcohol or drug use, a phone call at 774-2739 to the Eastern Ontario Health Unit Assessment Referral Service is encouraged.

The Addiction Research Foundation also has a toll-free drug and alcohol information line at 1-800-387-2916 between 9am and 9pm.

Confidential service is offered through the service including more than 60 information audiotapes in English or French.

Hobbs' discussion Friday combined with a public display of pamphlets dealing with alcohol and drug abuse was the third portion of the Addiction Awareness Week effort in this area.

On Nov. 15, a seminar on employee assistance programs was presented in Morrisburg.

Peter Barkway, centre manager for the addiction research foundation, said the seminar was aimed at informing employers of the programs available to their employees who may have a drug or alcohol problem.

The first aspect of the program, said Barkway, is to set up a support group at the work site. He said clear guidelines should be set and be enforced consistently to create awareness of the program.

Employees should be informed of the help available to them in a quick and a confidential manner, added Barkway.

An information seminar for seniors was held at Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners Nov. 16 as the middle portion of the awareness blitz in Dundas County.

A film dealing with the proper use of prescribed drugs by seniors was shown.

Seniors were advised to be prepared with questions arising from any problems they may be experiencing from medication they use. They should be ready and willing to communicate with the doctor, Barkway said.

Barkway said seniors should tell their doctor if certain medication is not working. He said seniors should also inform their doctor of all medication they use, even something like eyedrops which they may not consider to be a drug.

Barkway described the information tour through this area as "a useful and enjoyable week.

No parking

WINCHESTER — The village's winter parking bylaw came into effect Nov. 1 and clerk Bill Appleby is hoping residents will co-operate.

The bylaw states parking on village streets is prohibited from midnight to 6am, Nov. 1 to April 30 inclusive.

"At 12:01 we're not going to start running around with tow trucks or anything like that," said Appleby. The village foreman, however, has reminder notices which he will place on cars parked illegally.

If an offender persists, Appleby said the village has the right to tow the vehicle away although the measure has never been required in the past.

"If there is a snowstorm it really creates problems for us," he said. "Instead of taking six hours to clear the streets it takes 10. Then people get upset because they can't get their car out in the morning."

Co-operation from residents will enable the village's road crew of five to operate much more efficiently said Appleby.

"If they are not hampered by vehicles on the road the citizens will benefit as well," he said.

Winchester honors its own

Gala emotional finale to centennial year

WINCHESTER — Saturday's gala ball was a chance for Winchester residents to salute those who made this year's centennial celebrations such a success.

Sponsored by the Winchester and District Chamber of Commerce, the approximately 200 in attendance came to thank centennial co-chairpersons Shirley Fawcett and Harry Keyes for their years of hard work which led to two successful weeks of celebration this summer.

Fawcett and Keyes received plaques from the chamber and village in recognition of their service.

Winchester reeve Larry Gray and Business Improvement Area president Joel Steele received surprise awards — Gray for his contributions to the planning of centennial and Steele for his commitment to the downtown revitalization project.

"We are honoring a few people in particular and many people in general for all the work they did for Winchester's centennial," said Chamber of Commerce president Rosalind Drewery. "The centennial made us proud to live in Winchester."

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry MPP Noble Villeneuve said he didn't think a small community like Winchester could put on such a successful event but everything went off without a hitch and he found it "a joy" to attend the celebrations.

"The spark plugs, Harry and Shirley, made things happen not just in 1988 but starting in 1984," he said. "People seemed to think getting Winchester on the map would be difficult. It's always been on the map but because of people like Harry and Shirley it's even more on the map."

Villeneuve said many people don't appreciate the amenities enjoyed by residents of small towns in rural Ontario.

"We enjoy a high quality of life and people who came here during centennial celebrations came because they knew someone, they used to live here or they have family here. Family is the basic structure of Canada as we know it," he said.

Gray said the first indication of the future success of centennial was the selling out of the village's history book.

"The completion of the streetscape project seemed to complete all the preparations that had to be done for centennial," said Gray. "Even the heavy windstorm that did so much damage to our village didn't deter us."

Gray said the centennial committee worked for three years prior to the event and established tremendous pride amongst residents.

Fawcett accepted her award with tears in her eyes, saying 1988 has been the busiest and most exciting year of her life.

"We had the co-operation of so many people over the three or four years we were planning," she said. "Harry was always a gentleman even though we didn't see eye to eye on everything. We realized we couldn't always get our own way but we always came to some mutual understanding."

Fawcett also thanked Keyes' wife Helene, who never complained about the amount of time he spent working on centennial and Gray, who had lots of enthusiasm for the project.

"We became Harry, Larry and Moe," she said. "The pride and enthusiasm of centennial hasn't let up."

Keyes has spent his lifetime in Winchester and said the centennial celebrations and ball were a highlight of his years in the village.

"I still can't drive up the Main Street of Winchester and believe I'm in the old town," he said.

Keyes said during the long years of preparation he knew when the time came, people in Winchester would work hard to make the centennial a success and that's exactly what happened.

Bellemare elected assembled in the hotel conference room.

Bellemare said he owed his success to a good team of volunteers who helped raise funds for the campaign, posted signs from one corner of the riding to another, and travelled throughout the riding with him in a door-to-door sweep of sprawling Carleton-Gloucester.

"What an army. Without your work, I could not have done it. It was hard work, and sometimes I felt I was running against the establishment," Bellemare said, alluding to McTeer's strong PC campaign team.

"Tomorrow, I start working and campaigning for my second election," he said, "and I plan to be unbeatable for two reasons — hard work and my team of workers."

Bellemare mentioned the Liberals made history in Manotick by opening the first Liberal campaign office its residents have ever seen.

"I want to say what a pleasure it was to be in Manotick. They're super people," Bellemare told the audience. "I think I met two Conservatives the whole time I was there," he joked.

Though PC supporters outnumbered Liberal voters in this area, Bellemare did win some of the local polling battles. He won more votes than McTeer at two polls on Long Island in Manotick and he won four more polls in Osgoode Township.

The Carleton-Gloucester returning office said official results of the election will not be released until Thurs., Nov. 24, though some unofficial figures were available at press time.

Voter turnout was characterized as high overall with some areas experiencing a turnout of more than 80 per cent of the registered vote. The Carleton-Gloucester turnout was estimated at between 75 and 80 per cent.

Alternative School holds commencement exercises

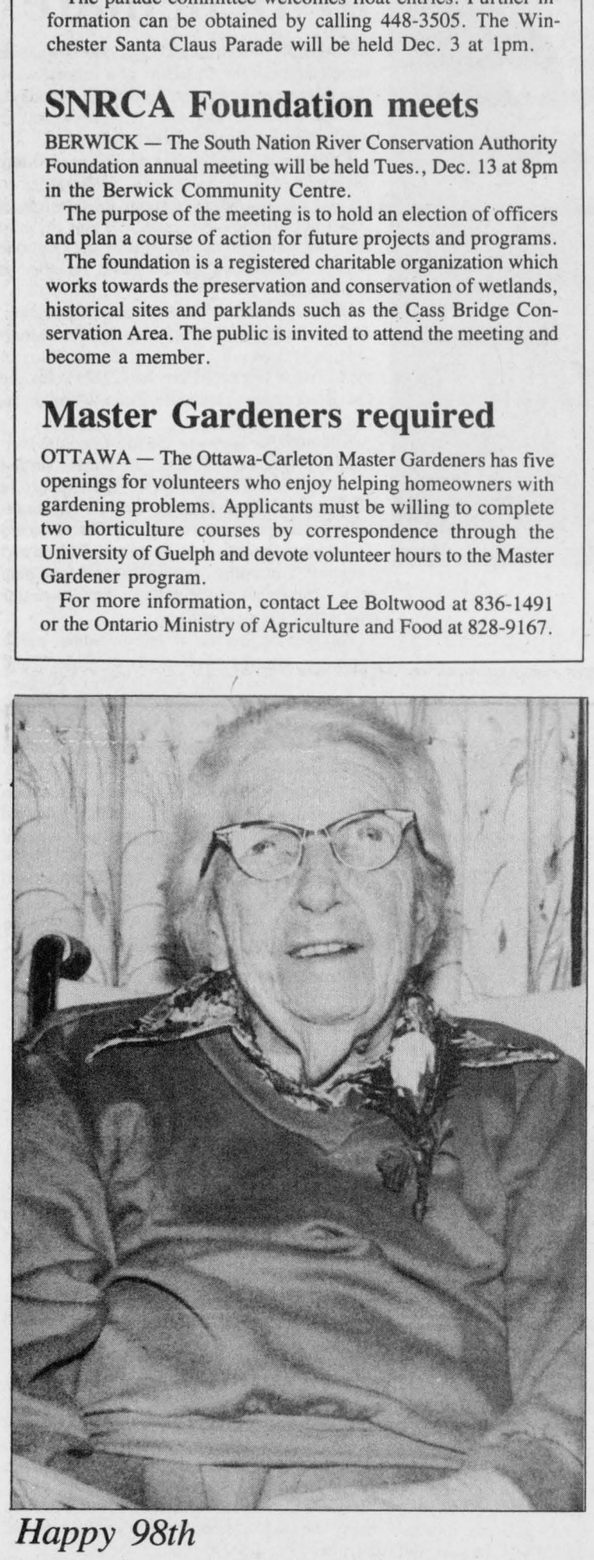
CORNWALL — The T.R. Leger Alternative School will honor 75 graduates at a commencement exercise on Nov. 26. This brings to over 400 the number of students who have graduated from the SD&G Alternative School since its inception.

Since 1978, alternative education has grown tremendously throughout the three counties. The development of programs in English and French has flourished over the past decade.

Over the years, students have benefitted from an expanding curriculum in alternative education including literacy/numeracy, English as a second language, academic programs, co-operative education and business office technology.

Other specialized programs include education-health care and connections, a program designed for women. Many students have appreciated the opportunity of furthering their education through government-sponsored programs such as job entry/re-entry and Futures.

T.R. Leger, past director of the SD&G County Board of Education, did much to encourage the development of alternative education. In June, it was the decision of the trustees to rename the school in his honor. Leger will be the featured speaker at this year's graduation ceremony. It will be held at 8pm on Sat., Nov. 26 at Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School. The public is welcome to attend.



Happy 98th

Alice Hamilton turned 98 on Monday and friends dropped by the Dundas Manor to help her celebrate. Asked what she thought of all the fuss that was being made over her, Alice replied: "It's foolish."

Kilger wins riding by 6,000 plurality

CORNWALL—Local voters said no to free trade.

Liberal candidate Bob Kilger soundly defeated his nearest rival Conservative Eric Cameron, by 6,000 votes.

But most of his votes came from the City of Cornwall. The staunchly Conservative Dundas County remained true to form.

All nine polls in Winchester village and township went to Cameron with a large majority.

Kilger won polls in Hainsville, Matilda Township, Stampville, Iroquois, Chesterville, Morewood, Williamsburg Township and Morrisburg.

His supporters cheered Kilger in English and French when he arrived at his campaign headquarters shortly after 9pm. CTV predicted Kilger would win the riding less than an hour after the polls closed at 8pm.

"For the Liberals the last four years have been long years," he said. "We will make sure the next four years are some of the best representation for Stormont-Dundas.

"We will make sure whatever shall arise for Stormont-Dundas, such as free trade or whatever, the benefits will be maximized for us."

Kilger said the first thing he planned to do Tuesday morning was to meet as many of his supporters as possible to thank them for their support and hard work during the campaign.

"I am very satisfied that from the outset we had a strong game plan and I was confident we could return this riding to the Liberal fold," said Kilger, referring to an upset victory by Conservative Norm Warner over incumbent MP Ed Lumley in 1984.

"When we began our campaign 50 days ago it seemed like a long time and we could get everything done," he said. "I wish I could have done more each day. But I'm proud of my conduct during the campaign and I will work diligently to make sure whoever made promises to employees that free trade will benefit Stormont- Dundas, lives up to expectations."

Kilger said his job now as a member of the official opposition, is to look out for and protect the textile and agriculture industries in the riding.

"We need to monitor the impact free trade will have on agriculture, the agri-food industry," he said. "If free trade works I want to see it work for Stormont-Dundas."

Kilger said from the beginning free trade was the biggest issue facing voters during the election and it allowed him to make gains in rural Dundas.

"Supply management is very important to our farmers," he said. "These negotiations which will take place over the next five years are critical to their livelihood. I intend to work closely with the agriculture industry and make myself readily available to agriculture people to make sure their voice is heard in Ottawa, not Ottawa's voice in Stormont-Dundas."

Kilger said he did not know what part Confederation of Regions candidate Bob Noble played in the final outcome.

"Bilingualism is a delicate issue at anytime," he said. "I think particularly in Cornwall and area we are fortunate to have two cultures and we have worked, lived and played together."

Kilger said he stands behind Bill C-72, the federal government's bill to strengthen the official languages act.

"I think it is a good piece of legislation," he said. "I will make myself available to people denied jobs on the basis of language instead of merit. Some jobs needs bilingual staff but many jobs in the federal service do not require bilingualism."

Kilger said he wants to make sure implementation of Bill C-72 is fair to all constituents and both languages are well served and protected.

He congratulated his opponents in the race, saying each conducted a good campaign. Kilger said he is also proud of Liberal leader John Turner and proud to be part of his campaign.

"There is not any one individual who demonstrated more courage in this campaign than John Turner," he said.

Although he has not made any plans to hire staff, Kilger said he is committed to opening a constituency office in Dundas County to better serve the needs of residents, and that will be his top priority.

Warner analyzes Tory defeat

CORNWALL — Norm Warner watched Monday night as his four-year term as MP for Stormont-Dundas turned into a statistical blip as Liberal Bob Kilger returned the riding to its traditional red hue.

Speaking from McDonell's Inn in the city's north end, where a small group of Tory supporters watched glumly as poll returns were posted showing Kilger was on his way to recapturing the riding lost by Ed Lumley in the 1984 Tory sweep, Warner boiled the reason for PC hopeful Eric Cameron's loss to the essence of fear of the free trade agreement.

The party had a "lot of difficulty overcoming the undue concerns" raised by the Liberal and New Democrats over the trade issue, Warner said.

It will take a while to analyze poll by poll results, but Warner said Monday night that concern over jobs and senior citizens' worries over their pensions and medicare were obstacles that the 29-year-old Tory hopeful was unable to hurdle.

"We were able to overcome this in other parts of the country and the truth did win out," the one-term MP said of the majority government the Conservatives under Brian Mulroney built nationally.

While he refused to elaborate, Warner said the opposition parties had indulged in "scare tactics" to increase concern over the impact of the trade pact in Stormont-Dundas.

He conceded that the Conservatives could also have been hurt by a stay-at-home protest vote, which, coupled with Confederation of Regions candidate Bob Noble's 5,000 votes contributed to Cameron's loss.

Asked if he thought he could have held the seat he wrested away from Lumley by 4,000 votes four years ago, Warner, who announced in May that he would not seek re-election, would only say, "Eric is a very good candidate. This is his first time as a candidate and it may have hurt him that he has been out of the riding. But he's still young. He's only 29 and he has an outstanding future ahead of him."

Warner added, "It's a lot easier on yourself to retire when you see some other people stopped dead in their tracks. I've enjoyed my term as MP."

New Career Day format a hit

MAPLE RIDGE — If you were looking for a career, North Dundas District High School was the place to be on Wednesday.

Forty speakers from a wide range of career areas were at the school from 1:30 to 3:30pm for its third annual career days.

A total of 740 students listened to speakers on careers ranging from the food industry to social services and from fashion to truck driving.

Although it was the third time the event was held at the school, it was the first time it was held all in one day.

NDDHS guidance counsellor Fran Kelly said she was extremely pleased with how the new format worked for the speakers and the students.

"I think it went very well," she said. "Certainly I think we'll keep this format for coming years."

Previously, sessions were held on various careers throughout one week and students signed up for the sessions they were most interested in.

This year, students were able to choose their favorites of 40 different career options and were given a computer printout telling them the location and the time of each of their sessions.

Oliver Bartsch, assistant chef de partie at Le Cafe at the National Arts Centre, Ottawa, said the career day is a great way to show students the career options available to them.

Listening to speakers who have actually done well in the career of their choice, gives them "the edge" to show that they can succeed in the work world if they give it a shot, Bartsch said.

"It's just good for the students to learn about different careers," said the prize-winning chef, himself a former NDDHS student.

Kelly said the school tried especially hard to bring in former NDDHS students to talk about their careers, to show how well students from the school have done after graduation.

The staff at NDDHS thinks the school is "pretty terrific," and by bringing in graduates who are doing well at various careers, they are showing that the school's graduates can compete and do well in the work world.

Kelly doubts any students will have made firm career decisions after listening to their three, 30-minute sessions, but at least the afternoon may get them looking a little more toward the future, she said.

"Hopefully, it will get them started to think."

One of the goals of the day was teaching students how to analyze various career options open to them, she said. Students interested in a career should first find out various specifics, such as the duties he or she would have to perform, what type of training is needed and what the job pays.

Students seemed pleased with the way the afternoon went and Kelly was also pleased with the speakers, who went out of their way to ensure their presentations were top-notch.

One of the speakers, a truck driver, brought his rig to give students a real taste of the profession and another speaker, a fashion designer, brought in a $3,000 sequined top and had a student from each session model it, she said.

COR candidate dejected

CORNWALL If English language rights crusader Bob Noble had a second chance, he would likely do things much differently.

Placing a dismal fourth in the federal election polls for Stormont-Dundas Monday night, Noble had reason to look back at his past month's campaign and wonder what went wrong.

A dejected Noble, arriving at what was intended to be a celebration for him at Murphy's Inn on Second Street West in Cornwall, put on a good front as he smiled and shook hands with a small crowd of supporters, but by no means was he in the mood to celebrate.

He told reporters waiting for him at the party that he had hoped to do "a lot better" than his fourth place finish at the polls.

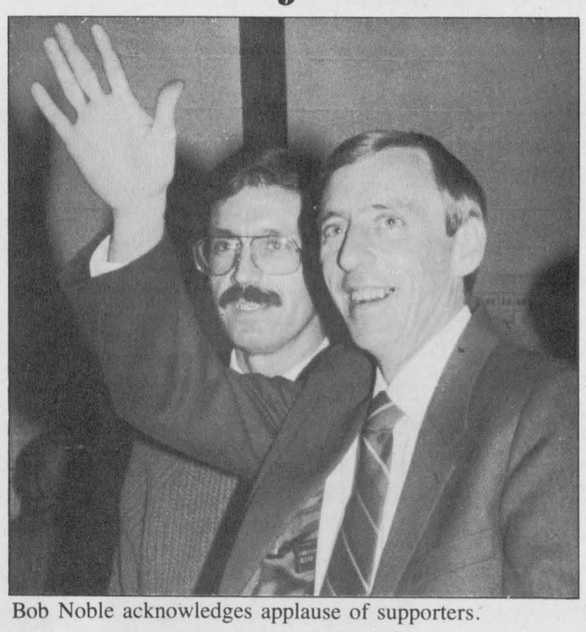
"I was really hoping to place second," he said. "I was really hoping for 10,00 votes."

He felt he had the support in the riding to double the amount of votes won by former justice of peace Gordon MacGregor on a anti-bilingualism platform in last year's provincial election.

But the support wasn't there.

"I'm really disappointed in the numbers," he said. "I really can't believe what happened tonight."

Noble trailed by a few hundred votes behind NDP candidate Steve Corrie consistently throughout the most of the night. And in Dundas County, where it was believed he would do especially well, he netted a substantially smaller portion of the votes than originally anticipated.



Bob Noble acknowledges applause of supporters.

Noble was elected candidate for the newly formed COR party in early October. the 39-year-old vice president of the Alliance for the Preservation of English in Canada called the formation of COR a new political era in Stormont-Dundas and the rest of Canada.

But the euphoric feeling he had in early October, when he won the COR nomination, was nowhere to be found Monday night.

With the passing of the provincial bilingualism bill, Bill 8 and the federal Bill C-72, he expected more people would become disenchanted with three traditional political parties.

But he said: "Obviously they're very happy in becoming a French nation."

Engagement

PROPERTY ASSESSMENT

and your 1989 Municipal and School Taxes

Regional Assessment Offices located throughout Ontario are responsible for assessing all real property for the purposes of municipal and school taxation.

Assessment Rolls are prepared and delivered to municipalities which use them to set mill rates and calculate property tax bills. The amount of property tax you will pay on your home or business in 1989 is determined by multiplying the assessed value of your property by the mill rate.

If you want to learn more about your property assessment, the Regional Assessment Office invites you to attend its Open House Session.

Open House Sessions

Open Houses are held in every municipality at convenient times and locations to provide you with the opportunity to discuss your assessment with the staff of the Regional Office.

An assessor will be pleased to explain the basis of your property assessment and is authorized to amend any inaccurate information prior to the delivery of the Assessment Roll to your municipality.

If you have any questions, but are unable to attend the Open House, please contact your Regional Assessment Office at the address or telephone number shown below.

Notice of Property Valuation

Property owners and tenants will receive a Notice of Property Valuation only if information relating to their property assessment was changed during the past year, if the assessment was appealed last year, or if there has been a general reassessment in the municipality. If you receive a Notice of Property Valuation, it may reflect changes you have requested in your school support designation, in the amount of your assessed value, or other recorded information on last year's Notice.

Appeal Procedure

If, after attending your local Open House, you are still dissatisfied with your assessment, you have the right to appeal it to the Assessment Review Board. This Board is responsible for determining whether the assessment under appeal is fair and equitable with the assessments of similar properties in the vicinity. The Assessment Review Board is more informal and relaxed than a regular court of law.

Appeal Deadline

The final date for appealing your assessment is January 10, 1989.

If you wish to appeal your assessment, you can use the form provided on the back of your Notice of Property Valuation, write a letter, or use a Notice of Appeal Form. You need to include your property address, roll number, and the reason for the appeal. Your appeal must be filed on or before January 10, 1989.

To assist you, Notice of Appeal forms and the address of the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board are available at Open Houses, your Regional Assessment Office, or your municipal office.

Stormont-Dundas Conservative candidate Eric Cameron conceded defeat Monday night to his Liberal opponent Bob Kilger. Cameron won a majority of polls in Dundas County but Kilger was the clear winner in Cornwall. Kilger succeeds Tory MP Norm Warner, who decided not to seek re-election for personal reasons. Cameron is pictured with his wife, Mary Burke.

Riding bucks national trend

Cameron unable to sell free trade to Stormont-Dundas

CORNWALL — Free trade and bilingualism were the double barrels used to blast Eric Cameron's hopes of holding Stormont-Dundas for the Conservatives in Monday's federal election.

Bob Kilger grabbed the seat back for the Liberals after the four-year hold MP Norm Warner exerted on the riding after upsetting Ed Lumley and Monday night Cameron, a 29-year-old Cornwall businessman making his first foray into federal politics, said in a brief speech to a clutch of supporters that the riding had reverted to its true colors.

Conservative leader Brian Mulroney's coattails were not broad enough to carry Cameron, as they apparently did for Warner in 1984, as Kilger grabbed polls throughout the riding, handily defeating Cameron 19,425 to 12,237. New Democrat Steve Corrie ran a poor third with 5,363 votes and the Confederation of Regions' Bob Noble, who may have hoped to play the spoiler, finished at the bottom of the heap with 5,089 votes.

Speaking to reporters after his speech to supporters, Cameron conceded that Stormont-Dundas is a Liberal riding that "Warner picked off" in '84 and given the strength of the opposition locally to free trade and the anti-bilingualism vote, Tories couldn't maintain their grip.

Cameron said the party had tracked more voters than turned out for the Conservatives Monday and admitted some of the missing votes could have been a stay-at-home protest by anti-bilingualism Tories who couldn't bring themselves to support COR.

A close analysis of the poll by poll voting would be required before this trend could be identified, he said.

The 5,000 votes Noble's COR candidacy picked up Monday was "definitely a protest" being sent to Mulroney and most of them were cast by disaffected Tories, he said.

"I know many of them personally. I'm very disappointed they left the party for COR and didn't have enough time to bring them back."

Cameron said he couldn't win for losing on the delicate issue of bilingualism, he couldn't allow himself to be drawn into a one-issue campaign with Noble, especially with the Liberals and New Democrats hammering away at him on free trade.

Asked why Stormont-Dundas bucked the national trend on free trade, he said it appeared to him that several area industries, including agriculture and pulp and paper, had been identified as losers under the deal, which is scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1.

While most employers endorsed the plan, which will see the gradual removal of tariffs on the 20 per cent of goods that are now dutiable between Canada and the U.S.A, workers and farmers remained concerned for their livelihoods, he said.

He didn't agree that senior citizens might have voted against the deal because of the perceived threat to their pensions and health care.

"They've been around a long time and from talking to many of them I could see that they've been thinking a lot about it and they took the scare tactics of the other leaders with a grain of salt."

Cameron did not rule out the possibility of seeking another grab at the brass ring but the task he wants to set for himself over the next four years is to rebuild the party's strength, especially among young voters.

The party has only 900 card carrying members among the riding's 58,000 voters and even this figure was "bumped up" by memberships sold by the three candidates vying for the Conservative nomination.

He said he was not particularly despondent, nor even surprised, by Monday's outcome.

"I took a chance in a historically Liberal riding and I knew from the start that we had an uphill fight."

Another factor that may have hurt his chances Monday is the time he has spent out of the riding. His family is well known in Cornwall but his years away at school and as Warner's executive assistant may have come back to hurt him.

For now, he will content himself with rebuilding the shattered party organization and concentrating on his family-owned businesses. He is president of two firms, one of which owns an Ottawa restaurant and the other of which is a property management firm.

Mountain Musings

The first annual arts and crafts show in Inkerman, held last Saturday, was a great success. Over 400 people attended the show which displayed some beautiful and unusual items. Lynn Edwards, the organizer, said she was given great help by the Inkerman and Hallville RAs and The Inkerman General Store which allowed washroom privileges (the old hall where the show was held, lacks certain amenities). Next year, it is hoped to hold the show at the Inkerman Public School.

If you missed this craft show, there is another one coming up. The Mountain and District Lions Club is again sponsoring an Arts and Crafts Show and Sale in the Agricultural Hall in South Mountain. This will be on Dec. 2, 3 and 4. This is a real quality show and well worth a visit.

I've heard of disciplined animals but I have now seen it in action. Ken Carlson of Inkerman Station has four horses and last week these horses decided to go for a run. They crossed a field, cantered rapidly down an access road, turned right onto the concession road and finally wheeled right again back into their own driveway. They only stopped running when they were neatly back in the field where they had started, and calmly went back to their breakfasts.

NDP Stormont-Dundas candidate, Steve Corrie, thanks his campaign workers and supporters following his disappointing finish Monday night. Press Photo—Day

NDP's Corrie finishes a poor third

CORNWALL — The party connection, the strategy, the campaign, all played a large role in the weak finish of NDP candidate Steve Corrie in the Stormont-Dundas race.

It was an uphill battle from start to finish for Corrie, who just managed to squeak past Confederation of Regions candidate Bob Noble for third spot.

The tally with 169 of 183 polls reported Tuesday morning gave Corrie 4,732 votes to Noble's 4,427, well behind the 16,985 votes garnered by the Liberal victor Bob Kilger and second-place finisher, Conservative Eric Cameron with 10,889.

The fight to be this riding's member of parliament started early for Corrie, a civil servant who had to seek permission to run in the Nov. 21 federal election.

Corrie said the late notice of his candidacy left him with a poorly organized, undermanned campaign.

However, Linda Warren, one of Corrie's campaign workers, was claiming the 30 or so volunteers were able to run an efficient campaign for the NDP candidate.

"We managed with that," she said, commenting on the small force working for free, making signs, scheduling events and trying to garner support.

Corrie said he could have used at least four times the amount of volunteers.

But the 43-year-old air traffic control instructor admitted he would likely have still finished third even with a larger campaign. However, he added it would have been a much stronger third-place finish.

The main factor in his unsuccessful run for MP, Corrie said, was strategic planning.

Corrie said his initial approach was to reach as many voters as possible by going door-to-door. He quickly realized, with the municipal elections taking place at the same time, voters were becoming quite confused, so he switched to mainstreeting.

He said it was more effective getting out to as many public events as possible.

"We had him everywhere," said Warren. "A lot of community events, wherever the people were — blood donor clinics, bowling with the seniors, all the rural post offices."

Early in the campaign, talking to employees at small businesses convinced Corrie the free trade agreement was going to dominate the issues in his riding as well as across the country.

It was his job to sell the anti-free trade sentiment. Corrie said he chose to use logic rather than the fear tactics that he acknowledged NDP leader Ed Broadbent relied on throughout his campaign.

"My personal preference is explanation and rationale," he said. "The campaign didn't allow time for enough explanation. I wanted to take the issue piece by piece by piece. I didn't get the opportunity to show what I knew about the agreement, why I have fears."

Kilger was able to win, according to Corrie, because voters opposed to free trade flocked to the Liberals, feeling the party had a better chance to defeat Cameron than the NDP.

Corrie said the Stormont-Dundas vote supported the Liberals rather than the politically-inexperienced Kilger, a 44-year-old former NHL referee new to the political arena.

"I'm not saying he can't become a good MP," said Corrie. "That could happen. He had a good campaign."

Corrie said he is satisfied on a personal level with his campaign performance. "I can look myself in the mirror and say 'you tried'."

However, Corrie admitted being an NDP candidate was a liability.

"Given the results, what could you do. You could be briliant and still lose. People are seduced by polls," he said, commenting on the steady drop in NDP popularity registered during the campaign.

On a national level, Corrie agreed that most Canadians based their vote for the Conservatives on trust rather than on any comprehension they might have of the free trade deal.

"I still think at the end (of the campaign), the majority did not understand the deal," he said. "It is the most involved decision Canadians have faced in some time. Canadians have reason to ask what the Conservative majority really means."

Corrie said he is aware of the mistakes in his campaign and said next time he would look before he leaped into a campaign.

Candlemaking demonstrated

by Jean Boland

METCALFE — The November meeting of the Metcalfe WI was held at the home of Bessie Quinn with the president Eileen Galloway presiding.

The roll call "repeat a little ditty" was well responded to by 10 members.

The secretary, Irene Wallace, read the correspondence, an invitation from Vernon to attend its meeting Nov. 15.

Remembrance Day service was held at the Metcalfe Anglican Church at 10am Nov. 11.

Betty Crerar won the hostess gift at the 4-H banquet.

A detailed account of the WI convention was given by the delegate, Mrs. Galloway. Four of our members attended the four-day event.

All were reminded of our next meeting, Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Gerald Morris, on Thurs., Dec. 15 at 7pm, and roll call members give donations towards oranges for Winchester hospital and the Care Centre. The conveners for this meeting are presidents and vice-presidents.

The meeting was then turned over to Peggy Scharf who introduced our speaker Betty Crerar, who gave us a very informative demonstration on candlemaking. Each of us made a candle.

After adjournment, Mrs. Quinn served a delicious lunch. Mrs. Galloway thanked the hostess and Mrs. Crerar for everything.

WI views historical display

by Jean Casselman

Williamsburg Women's Institute meeting was held in St. Peter's Lutheran Church Hall, due to some renovations at the municipal building. Eleven members and six visitors attended.

An interesting display consisted of volume four of the Tweedsmuir History Book, some early post cards, photos and fashions from the past.

The motto was, "the only value of time is its use."

Leslie Waddell entertained with three piano selections. The guest speaker for the meeting was Rev. Ross Thomson, who talked on the motto, the value and use of time from creation to infinity. Program convener was Mrs. Ralph Casselman.

Mrs. Clair Algire reported on the Ottawa Area Convention that she attended.

The Christmas meeting will be held at Park Drive Villa, when all residents are invited and will be entertained.

Losses put Hawks 5 points off pace

WINCHESTER — They defeated the Rideau Division-leading Brockville Tikis 6-4 in Brockville last Wednesday but since then the Winchester Hawks have suffered two losses and have fallen five points off the pace in the race for the St. Lawrence Division's fourth and final playoff spot.

Friday night in Alexandria, the Hawks closed the gap to 4-3 on the Division-leading Glens but wound up losing 8-3.

Here at home Sunday, a third-period charge got Winchester to within a goal but again they came up short, losing 6-5 to the Morrisburg Lions.

It's a month before the Christmas break and already the Hawks are five points behind the fourth-ranked Lions, five points out of that final playoff berth.

Alexandria, defending St. Lawrence and Rideau Division champions, lead with 21 points, Char-Lan Rebels have 20, Kemptville 73's 18 and Morrisburg 15 points.

Last Wednesday's win in Brockville sparked optimism in the Hawks' ranks, but thoughts of a six-point weekend and sole possession of fourth place vanished late Sunday afternoon.

Despite the urgency of the situation Hawks' head coach Bill Murphy remains on course with his team plan.

"You can quote me on this. By January we will be in third place. We are gearing for third by January. I think we have a better team than two or three in this division," Murphy explained.

The coach continued, "We have some guys back from injury now, but they aren't in shape yet, of course. We have four guys still hurt (Derek Austin, Chris Holland, Scott Barkley and Kirk Barkley) so things are shaping up."

"We have a couple of personality things to straighten up and we also have to make some cuts (have 21 skaters signed now) so we have some fine tuning to do," he said.

Murphy said the club came up with a good effort defeating the first-place Brockville Tikis 6-4 in Brockville last Wednesday night but added that was not the lineup his club would win with.

Winchester unveiled goalie Brent Shawdick in the win and the former Ottawa (Jr. A) Senator didn't disappoint his new team.

Friday night in Alexandria, the Hawks had battled back to within a goal (4-3) midway in period two but were beaten 8-3 by the Glens before it was over.

The Hawks gave up five powerplay and one short-handed goals to the hungry Glens.

"The refereeing was very questionable, the penalties killed us. We are a young team and we panic killing a string of penalties. Our fastest guys kill the penalties and end up burning themselves out," Murphy explained.

Murphy was quick to say Alexandria did deserve the win. "They have a lot of talent, they are an older more experienced club than we are. But they are solid and talent-wise I would say the best team in both (St. Lawrence and Rideau) Divisions."

Here Sunday afternoon Morrisburg used three powerplay goals to edge the Hawks 6-5.

"We should've had a 5-0 lead on them (Lions) in the first period but didn't and penalties killed us."

Assistant Hawks' captain Chris Williams and his mates ripped up the Lions defence in the first period but that frame was tied 0-0 after 20 minutes. Williams was on a tear and had three great chances but just couldn't buy a goal. Missed scoring chances and a stationary defence (Hawks stood around in their zone and weren't much help to goalie Marc Juneau who made several saves only to have the second chance go in) led to Morrisburg's one- goal win.

Lions led 3-2 after two periods (two powerplay goals) and got the winner from Randy Jodoin, who skated untouched through the Hawks' goal area to knock in a loose puck, with 11:55 left to play in the game.

Veteran Johnny Morrow led the Lions with two goals and three assists. Randy Mullin hit for two as did Randy Jodoin. Kevin Eamon posted the well-deserved victory, stopping 36 shots.

The Hawks received single goals from Jason Doucette, Doug Reid, Dolton Henry, Dan Vajcovec and Don Larocque. Doucette, Reid, Larocque, Steve Regan, Shawn Young and Blaine Lutz all earned assists.

Winchester lost Derek Austin through a third-period shoulder injury. Chad Brownlee and Lions' Andy Lee got the gate for a second-period fight.

WIN AND LOSE

Winchester broke up a scoreless game, taking a 4-3 second-period lead on the Rideau Division-leading Tikis last Wednesday night in Brockville as they churned out a 6-4 win.

Brent Shawdick replaced Dave Monsour on the Hawks' roster and registered the win.

A well-rounded offence produced goals by Doug Reid, Corey McQuillen, Jason Doucette, Steve Regan, Chad Brownlee and Dan Vajcovec. Doucette (2), Regan (2), Shawn Young, Brownlee, McQuillen, Reid, Francois Villeneuve and Blaine Lutz all picked up assists.

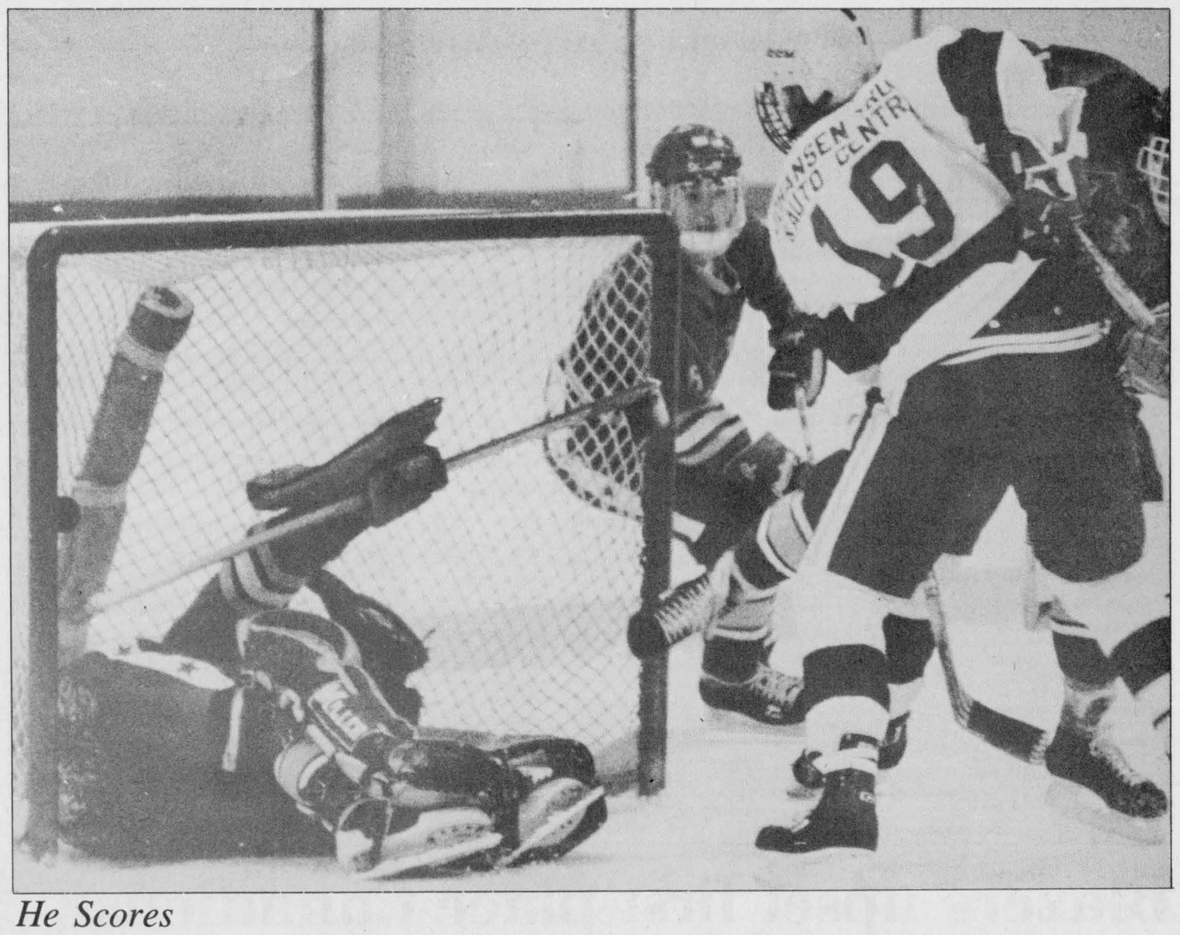
Friday in Alexandria the Glens led the Hawks 4-1 after a period and 5-3 after two before taking it by an 8-3 count.

Scott Barnes (2), Mike Sauve (2), Stephane Nadeau, Stephane Lacelle, Paul Gauthier and captain Glen Campbell scored for the red hot Glens. Don Ryan was the winning goaler.

Blaine Lutz, Shawn Young and Dan Vajcovec netted the Hawks' goals. Lutz, Derek Austin and Derek Duchesne drew the assists.

Brent Shawdick stopped 32 of the Glens' 40 shots.

Hawks host the Char-Lan Rebels this Friday night in their lone game on Grey Cup weekend. Game time is 8:15pm.



He Scores

Hawks' Derek Austin (No. 19) watches as a puck, fired by linemate Jason Doucette, disappears behind the (left) goalpost during the second period of Sunday's Winchester- Morrisburg Junior B contest. Lions' Kevin Eamon couldn't stop the shot but emerged from the contest with a 6-5 win.

Underdog Senior Devils scare Lady Raiders in showdown

CORNWALL — It was almost the re-enactment of the classic David and Goliath story here at CCVS last Thursday.

The underdog North Dundas Devils (two wins, six losses) facing the undefeated (eight wins, no losses) CCVS Lady Raiders in a sudden-death Senior girls basketball showdown.

North Dundas was without all-star Rose Rombough who led the Devils with a 15-point average. They were given a snowball's chance in Hallville of defeating the powerful Raiders.

Well, the story didn't end with David knocking off Goliath.

North Dundas led CCVS 24-18 at the half but faded and lost a close 47-40 decision.

North Dundas had absorbed two 30-point beatings in regular- season play so coming close did count for the Devils and their coach Deanna Corbett.

"It was the best game of the year for the girls. They played really well, everything we had worked on all season finally came together — every single player did very well," Corbett explained.

Corbett said her girls attacked CCVS' full-court press with two attackers on the deep man and used Stacey Berry to put the ball into play from the sidelines with a deep pass to Connie Armstrong.

"We missed Rose (Rombough), her absence was definitely a factor, but I'm really happy with the way our team played," she said.

CCVS went on to play the seven-and-two St. Lawrence Saints in the 1988 SD&G AA senior girls final this week. St. Lawrence ousted the La Citadelle Patriotes 52-42 in its semi-final last week.

In Junior AA playoff action last Thursday, North Dundas also lost to CCVS Lady Raiders, dropping a 23-18 decision.

During the regular season North Dundas and CCVS split identical 30-29 decisions but the Raiders took the semi-final and advanced to the SD&G Junior AA final.

Debbie Fling led the juniors with a nine-point effort. Shealyn Summers dropped in eight while Melody MacGillivary and Monika Bhatnagar led the CCVS attack with six points each.

North Dundas' Juniors finished the regular season earlier last week with a disappointing loss to the Gaels in Glengarry. Their final mark was three wins and five losses.

Coach Gerry Jean felt the three wins were a bonus but because the team had developed so much during the season, would have liked them to wind up with a 500 mark of four and four. The coach said his team was smart on the court but didn't have any background in the sport to draw on and lack of experience cost them.

In the Seniors' final game of the 1988 campaign Stacey Berry topped the Devils' offence with 17 points. Connie Armstrong netted 11, Vicki Gryspeerdt hooped four and graduate Jenny Lamb dropped in six in her final game as a Devil.

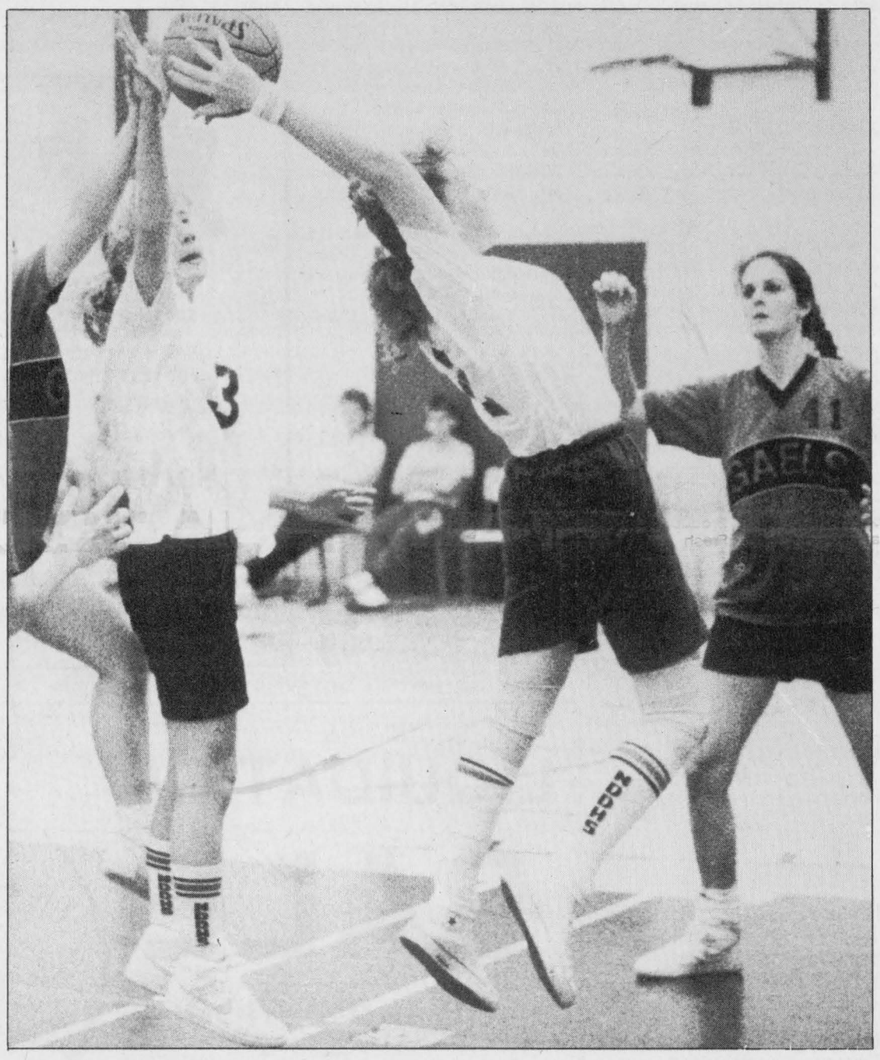
Jennifer Armstrong and Leslie Rutherford led CCVS to its 47-40 victory with 13 points each.

CCVS coach Chuck Stewart said, "They (North Dundas) got very good coaching."

But added, his team didn't seem to want the game very badly in the first half.

Senior Devils' coach Deanna Corbett summed up, "I'm really pleased. It was a good, positive way to end the season. I think the girls felt good about the game and the way they played."

Corbett noted she is losing Heather Crummy, Jenny Lamb and Megan Furuness through graduation but feels the North Dundas Devils have a good nucleus for their 1989 squad.



Good Grab

Shealyn Summers went over backwards to pull down this pass. Summers and the North Dundas Junior Devils lost a semi-final game 23-18 to CCVS last week. The Senior Devils were also eliminated 47-40 by the Lady Raiders.

Cochrane advances in zone playdowns

OTTAWA — Bryan Cochrane and his Russell-based McVey Insurance Service rink of Bill Gamble, Dave Stanley and Ken Sullivan have earned a berth in the Labatt Tankard Zone One playdowns which will get under way early in the new year.

The Russell foursome won the B side of the Zone One playoffs here at the Red Anderson Memorial Bonspiel over the weekend and now will not have to play their way out of their own club. This will allow Russell Curling Club to put a second team in the Zone One playdowns, and gives them a bye to the quarter finals of the Zone One competition.

Cochrane and his crew had to curl seven games over the weekend (one Friday, three Saturday and three more Sunday) to qualify as B side winners. They lost to Rideau's Don Wiggins Saturday and went to the B side where they won five straight, including a 7-6 decision over A-side loser Lloyd Emerson Sunday night.

Cochrane will take his rink back to finish the Anderson 'spiel where they will have to beat A-side winner Rick Bachand twice to meet the Zone Two champs for the bonspiel championship.

Cochrane is relieved to make the quarter-finals of the Tankard because he and Bill Gamble have always had a difficult time staying in the Anderson event past day two on Saturday. "We laughed about how badly we've done here before and are happy to qualify. Six wins will put us in the Provincials, six hard games but that's how close we are now."

Cochrane feels the abundance of ice time has helped sharpen his game. "We needed the ice time. We are getting hammered (one win and three losses) in the Labatt League because we play every 10 days or so and can't stay sharp."

The Russell rink is busy now and is also taking part in the Master's Bonspiel at the OCC this week and started it off with an 8-7 victory over Geo. Findlay Monday night.

The McVey foursome must qualify for the money round but if they advance to that level, they automatically pocket $1,000 and could take home as much as $4,000 as champions.

Mustangs double Bantam 'B's

WINCHESTER — Metcalfe Mustangs scored a pair of second-period goals here on Nov. 14 and held on for a 2-1 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Bantam B victory over the North Dundas (Sports Unlimited) Demons.

Kent Young's unassisted goal at 4:44 of the first period put the Demons up 1-0 but the Mustangs tied and won the game, scoring twice in period two.

Brent Bishop knotted the score, connecting on a Lane La Chance pass with 13:16 left in the sandwich session.

Adam MacDonald then made it a 2-1 contest scoring on a play started by La Chance and Marty O'Brien at 4:52 of period two.

Neither team could manage another goal in the final period.

Brad Pringle and Jason Wagner shared North Dundas' goaltending chores.

Chris Cram and Steve Alexander formed Metcalfe's goaltending duo.

MacGregor rink captures Biccum silverware

WINCHESTER — Estella MacGregor skipped her rink of Leanne Munro, Laurie MacMartin and Shirley Carruthers to two convincing victories and the championship in the 1988 Biccum Ladies Bonspiel here at the Winchester Curling Club Saturday.

MacGregor downed Pat Wagner's foursome 9-5 in the morning draw earning 14-1/2 points. She then completed the title win with a 14-3 decision over Norma Wylie. That second victory added 16 points to her final total of 30-1/2 points.

The championship skip edged daughter Janet LaPierre in the final standings. LaPierre, curling with Shirley Lake, Maureen Urquhart and Judith Edy finished with 28-1/2 points. LaPierre edged Norma Wylie 8-7 (14 points) in the morning draw and then won another one point decision in the second round, edging Phyllis MacIntosh 9-8 (14-1/2 pts.).

Linda DeSerres also wound up with 28-1/2 points. Her team of Reta Savage, Betty Holmes and Lynda Thompson defeated MacIntosh 10-6 (15 points) and Pat Wagner 9-8 (13-1/2 pts.).

Pat Wagner, Donnalynne Clement, Jo Anne Rutley and Janice Rose finished with 13-1/2 points.

Phyllis MacIntosh, Lynn Levere, Faye Coons and Heather Earl earned 13 points.

Win Biccum Bonspiel

Morrisburg Green snags seventh flag football title

MORRISBURG — Morrisburg Public School ran enough down-and- out patterns here last Tuesday to pull in yet another Dundas County Elementary Schools Senior Flag Football championship.

The 1988 victory marks the seventh time in 12 years the riverfront Green Team has run away with the championship silverware.

The champs were again coached by Gary O'Neill who founded and convened in its inaugural year in 1977. O'Neill was in charge of the event again this time around and had to contend with a three- way tie for first place. His Morrisburg squad, Nationview Public and Maple Ridge all completed the slate with records of three wins and a loss.

But the host Green Team emerged from the five-school round robin competition with the title due to a better points for and against ratio.

Morrisburg completed the day with a ^{S} 81 (94 points scored, 13 allowed). Nationview was second with a ^{S} 49 (78 points scored, 29 against) and Maple Ridge placed third with a ^{S} 24 (58 scored and 34 against).

Morrisburg's key victory was an early morning 53-1 romp over St. Cecilia. The champs then blanked Maple Ridge 19-0 before suffering a 12-8 setback at the hands of the Nationview Reds. They bounced back and finished the day with a 14-0 win over Stampville's Stampeders.

Nationview's Reds thumped St. Cecilia Saints 38-0, Stampville 21-7, Morrisburg Green Team 12-8 but lost to Maple Ridge's Golden Tide 14-7.

Third-ranked Maple Ridge Golden Tide opened the day running up a 20-1 win over Stampville in game one. They then doubled Nationview 14-7 and swept passed St. Cecilia 24-7. Morrisburg stemmed the Golden Tide 19-0.

Stampville Stampeders salvaged fourth place, posting a 20-0 victory against St. Cecilia Saints. The Saints finished last with a record of zero and four. They were outscored 135-8 in those four losses.

Pee Wee 'A' Demons need win

WINCHESTER — North Dundas (Ault Foods) Demons are looking for a victory to boost their spirits following two Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Pee Wee A losses and an exhibition setback.

Saturday, Brockville Warriors led the Demons by 2-0 and 3-0 period scores en route to a 5-1 UCMHL victory. Brendan Bumbaco finally put the Demons on the board, scoring his team's only goal with 7:02 left in the game. Ryan Buske and Phillip Brisebois drew assists on the marker. Mark Millward scored three times for the winners.

Last Tuesday in Prescott, Ault Foods dropped a heart-breaking 2-1 decision to the South Grenville Generals.

Generals' captain J.J. Dishaw scored both goals. He gave them a 1-0 first-period lead and made it 2-0 in the second frame.

Phillip Brisebois cut the final difference to 2-1 scoring on a play started by Danny McLeod and Ryan Buske with 4:50 left.

In exhibition play last Thursday, the Demons dropped a 4-2 decision to the Cornwall Royals of the Lower St. Lawrence Pee Wee A League.

The game was deadlocked 1-1 after a period but the Royals led 3-1 after two periods.

Ryan Buske and Wally Cinnamon found net for North Dundas. Phillip Brisebois and Jason Fawcett earned assists for the Demons.

Cornwall Royals tie Raiders at three

CORNWALL — A pair of third-period goals lifted the Cornwall Seaway Valley Royals from a 3-1 deficit and into a 3-3 tie with the Nepean Raiders here in an OD-MHA AA Midget game last Wednesday.

Nepean took a 1-0 lead in the first period on a shot which deflected in off a player stationed in front of the Cornwall net but the Royals pulled even at 1-1 with 3:02 left in the first period, when Jason Warner scored from Winchester's Scot Bell and Craig Villeneuve.

Nepean marked a pair of unanswered goals in the second period and were holding that 3-1 lead with just 5:28 left in the game. Jason Warner pulled the Royals to within a goal, scoring a breakaway goal at 5:38.

Ten seconds later Finch's Dave Lavergne got free in the Raiders' zone and drilled a slapshot on net. Andrew McEwen, parked at the side of the net, put the drive into Nepean's cage to tie it up at three.

This week the Royals are taking on the Ottawa West Golden Knights and hosting the Gatineau Ambassadors.

ATOM ROYALS

Former North Dundas Demons' goalie Seumas Gordon turned in a winning effort in the Cornwall Seaway Valley Royals' net last week as his club edged the Ottawa Vallet Titans 4-3 in an ODMHA AA Atom contest.

The Royals had won three straight at that point.

Troy Brownell (2), Ryan Anderson and Martin Boisvenue netted the Seaway goals.

Royals cool off Demons

KEMPTVILLE — The Kemptville Royals outscored the North Dundas Demons 3-1 here Monday night, cooling off the visitors who were coming off a big 9-1 win over Ogdensburg on Saturday.

Jamie Kennedy netted the lone North Dundas goal here Monday, scoring from Corrie VanDelst and Troy McNaughton with 2:37 left in period two.

Tsarouhas led Kemptville to their 3-1 win scoring twice. O'Reilly added the other.

Saturday in New York, North Dundas rammed in nine goals in a 9- 1 victory over Ogdensburg.

Matt Giles lost his shutout at 7:09 of the second period.

North Dundas led 3-0 after a period and 7-1 after two frames.

All 11 Demons hit the score sheet. Defenceman Jeff Hyndman blasted in three goals. Jamie Kennedy and Troy McNaughton each snapped in a pair. Mike Singh and Trevor Barkley hit for single goals.

Peter Decooman (2), Aron Sherrer, Singh, Craig Smith, Jason Ouellette, McNaughton, Kevin Williams and Cory VanDelst all picked up assists.

Blazers upset first-place Canadiens

WINCHESTER — Wally Vandekemp scored three third-period goals as the CountryBoy Blazers dealt the Country Kitchen Canadiens its first loss of the seven-week-old Winchester Town Hockey League season.

CountryBoy led the league-leaders 2-0 after two periods and were up 4-0 before Darrell Shelp and the Canadiens stormed back to make it an exciting 5-4 finish.

In last Tuesday's other contest, fourth-ranked Tri-County Windows' Raiders got three goals from Andy "Zam" Wattie en route to a 6-3 decision over the Aqua Fun Flyers.

Country Kitchen still enjoys a healthy lead atop the standings with 11 of a possible 14 points. CountryBoy has seven, Aqua Fun six and the Raiders four.

CountryBoy's Peter Marriner broke open a scoreless contest scoring twice in the second period. He hit from Barry Meeks at 14:46 of the second period and beat Kevin Baldwin again at 13:06 scoring on the same shift and completing a play started by linemates Doug Duncan and Wally Vandekemp.

Wally Vandekemp, a converted defenceman now playing left wing, then snapped in three straight goals to enlarge the Blazers' lead to 3-0 at 18:47, 4-0 at 17:35 and 5-1 at the 14:38 mark. Pete Marriner and Doug Duncan drew assists on Vandekemp's first two markers and his third was an unassisted effort.

Darrell Shelp sparked his team's comeback scoring twice. He also set up a deflected goal by Eric Winters. Canadiens' captain John Ralko scored the other goal on a solo end-to-end rush. Karl McRoberts and Barry Scott earned assists. Shelp's final goal came with 5:47 left in the game and cut the final difference to 5-4.

THREE FOR ZAM

Tri-County Windows' Raiders got three goals from Andy "Zam" Wattie in its second win of the season.

Goalie Steve Guy surrendered one goal a period en route to the win. His team gave him period leads of 2-1 and 4-2 to work with.

Wattie opened the game scoring, from Al McLean and Tom Kirkwood at 16:04 of the first period. He then made it 3-1 scoring at 6:10 of period two finishing a play set up for him by McLean and Don Crowder. His final goal came at 7:11 of the final period. Al McLean carried the puck into the Flyers' zone on a two-on-one break. The McLean pass to Wattie ended up in the top of Yvon Bourdeaux' net and made it a 6-3 final.

Wattie led the winners with three goals. Al McLean set up all three. Tom Kirkwood added a goal and one assist. Dave Coleman netted a single goal. Brent Theede (2), Don Crowder and Mike Armstrong all earned assists.

Brian Condon, Doug Last and Dave Kerr replied for the Flyers. Rick Cowell (2), Doug Coleman and Kerr all drew assists.

Copeland, Holmes pace Demons

METCALFE — Tylor Copeland and Craig Holmes each netted two goals and assisted on another, pacing the North Dundas (Lannin's Home Care) Demons to a 6-3 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Senior Novice victory over the Metcalfe Mustangs here Saturday.

In a return match played Monday in Winchester, the Mustangs rallied from a 3-1 deficit and tied the Demons 3-3.

North Dundas grabbed a 3-0 first-period lead in Saturday on goals by Craig Holmes who scored from Mike Flowers and Sean Williams at 14:26, Andrew Bradley who scored from Tylor Copeland at 7:14 and Sean Williams who hit from Craig Holmes at 3:03.

The teams traded three goals apiece in the second frame and that 6-3 difference held through a scoreless third period.

Copeland scored on Sam Ault passes at 12:32 and 8:52 and Craig Holmes netted number six on a relay fed him by Mike Flowers at 3:53.

Matt Bishop, Kevin Grimes and Martin Hicks replied for Metcalfe. Craig Stanley collected two assists.

Darryl Burns and Robbie Desormeaux tended the Demons' net.

In Winchester Monday night, the Demons again scored three first-period goals as they led 3-1 after one.

Metcalfe tied it up on third-period goals by Kevin Grimes and Chris Robertson. Robertson's second goal tied it up with an unassisted goal at 7:08 of the final frame.

Tylor Copeland nailed two of North Dundas' goals. Craig Holmes fired in the other. Andrew Bradley set up two and Sam Ault one goal.

Harper applauds passing plays

WINCHESTER — Tony Holmes hit for four goals and captain Dave Harper bagged three as the North Dundas (Nestle Ltd.) Demons strafed the Athens Flyers 13-1 here in an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Midget B contest Sunday.

Both of North Dundas' top shooters also picked up an assist for five and four-point games.

Bill Zrymiak lost his shutout when Athens scored a powerplay goal with 1:59 left in the second period.

Coach Bernie Harper said his three forward units used some super passing plays to score goals, and defenceman Willy O'Connor seems to have returned to form and turned in a strong game.

"We still tend to take some needless penalties. We should know better," the coach explained.

He also feels his forwards must utilize the points more in the offensive end and capitalize on the hard-shooting Chad Benoit and Tim Holmes.

North Dundas led Athens 4-0 after a period scoring four times in two minutes and 10 seconds. They were up 9-1 after two periods and 13-1 at the buzzer.

In addition to the Tony Holmes and Dave Harper totals, the Demons got a goal and three assists from Chris Holmes. Troy Helmer, Daryl Dion and Todd Halpenny each had a goal and two helpers. Scott Francis and Andrew Henderson picked up a goal and one assist each.

SCHNEIDERS

The reason J.M. Schneider's customers always had such confidence in Schneiders wieners was because they never had to guess what went into making them. He used only the finest quality cuts of beef and pork – no meat by-products, and smoked them over natural hardwood fires. And as in J.M.'s day, if you compare a few labels, you'll never find the phrase "May contain" on any package of Schneiders Wieners. Maybe that's why, after ninety-six years, people still keep coming back for more. With all Schneiders products, you can still taste the difference quality makes.

Winchester senior still swinging

by Jim Day
Press Staff Reporter

WINCHESTER — Howard Willard does his best to downplay his age.

Sitting in the gymnasium of Winchester Public School, the former village high school principal, from 1943 to 1963, tries to deflect attention from the fact he is an 80-year-old badminton player.

"Don't mention my age or people will pick up the birdie for me all the time," he said.

However, the amiable sportsman born in Morrisburg and now living in Winchester with his wife, Gertrude, looks like he could well be in his 60s rather than his 80s.

Howard Willard proudly displays a clock he received from the Winchester and District Badminton Club for his 20 years of excellent service.

Art Fawcett, who has played badminton with and against Willard for the past six years, agreed the former math teacher should be happy to acknowledge his age.

"It's amazing," said Fawcett. "A person is only as young as he wants to be. You have to think young and be young. He is a prime example of that type of thing. He's a fighter all the way through."

Brian Steele, who has taken on the responsibility of running the village's badminton club this year, following Willard's recent resignation of the post after 20 years service, also marvels at the condition of this senior sportsman.

"He's probably the most agile person I've seen for his age," said Steele. "He's done extremely well keeping in shape."

And the cordial badminton veteran can still play a competitive game or two.

"He's slowing down a bit," Fawcett admitted. But, he added quickly, "on his good nights, he will give you a challenge."

Willard said he loves the game for a number of reasons, including the competition.

"I always compete. I always play to win but I don't do it antagonistically," said Willard, who estimated he won 75 per cent of his games last year.

"I enjoy the whole game, the whole system. I enjoy a good return shot that fools everybody."

Willard described the sport as a very polite game, something conducive to his character. On any given night, it is not uncommon for Willard to make sure everyone is getting his share of playing time on the two courts, shared by about 20 players on Wednesday and Friday nights.

"We don't have any great fights like you would in hockey," he joked. "It's a gentleman's game. You very seldom have any disputes."

But, he added, even when the members are playing for fun the "competition is real keen."

Badminton is a very heady game explained Willard, and there's a lot of activity.

Although he said it is not his job to tell other members how to play, he does occasionally pass along his own techniques and strategies.

"It's the kind of game where you don't go towards an object," he explained, describing his own trademark, making his opponents move all around the court to return his shots. "You hit towards the open places."

Asked to assess his own ability, Willard would only say he really doesn't know what he looks like when he plays.

Willard pointed out there is much more to this game than just playing it.

"The sociability is one thing, the friendships with the young people."

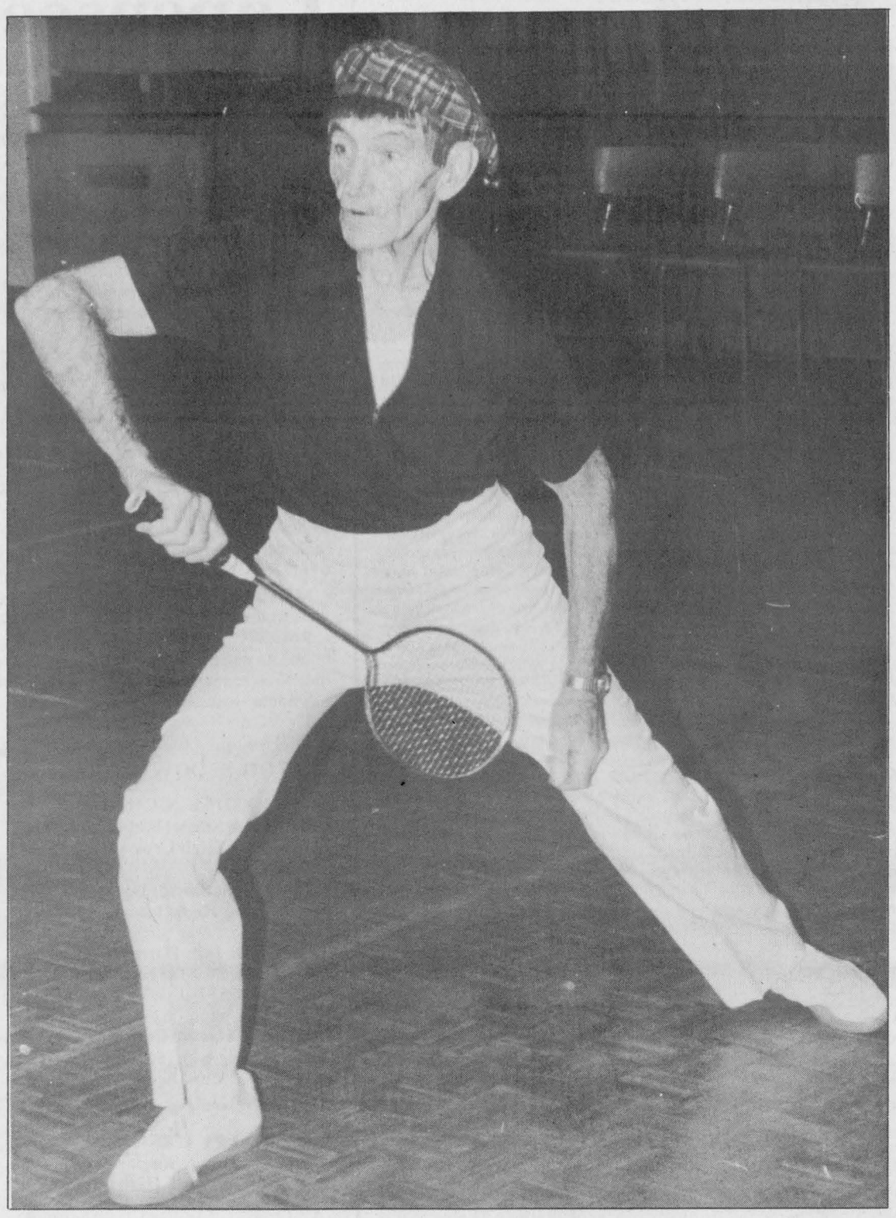
Deciding this year to end his 20-year-reign as president of the badminton club which he founded, one of three he has helped to start, Willard does not know how much longer he will be able to play the game.

"Until the day I go to heaven," he joked. But pressed to give an estimate on when his playing days will finally conclude, Willard said it is a question he can't answer.

"I live one day at a time," he said.

Willard said when it comes time to put his racket away for good, he will treat the loss of the activity like any other he has enjoyed during his life.

"Once in a while, you wish you could still do certain things," he confessed.



The former principal of Winchester High School shows his good form in returning a shot during a match at the village's public school recently.

Metcalfe Novices win pair

METCALFE — Melissa Lauder scored seven times and Melissa Heeley drew five assists leading Metcalfe Novice Bs to a 13-4 victory over Hull in National Capital Region Ringette League action recently.

The Novices also collected two points when Rockland Petite Cs failed to show here for a game on Saturday.

Metcalfe's Novice Cs will hit the ice in Cumberland this Friday night as they take on the host team in a 7pm contest.

Metcalfe surged into a 9-0 lead at the half scoring four goals in the first five minutes and firing in five more in the final five minutes of the session. Hull finally got on track in the second half as both teams hit for four goals, which made for a more exciting half of ringette.

Amanda Lawrence earned another victory working the Metcalfe nets.

Melissa Lauder led the winners with seven goals. Melissa Heeley assisted on five. Chelsea Miller also played a key role in the game's outcome, netting three goals and assisting on four others. Jessica Lawrence aded two goals and Sherri Brind'Amour rounded out the scoring with one goal. Melissa Lauder drew assists on two goals.

Frankly speaking

by Frank Morgan

OVER 200 TURN OUT TO SAY THANK YOU

Hats off to president Rosalind Drewery and her dedicated workers from the Chamber of Commerce who were responsible for the first-class evening at the community centre on Saturday night, when over 200 turned out to say a big thanks to a few citizens who had contributed such a great effort on our behalf during the past centennial year. The guests of honor were chairpersons Harry Keyes and Shirley Fawcett, who were co-organizers of the main events. But presentations were also made to our hard-working reeve whom everyone felt had gone all out to leave no stone unturned so that this, our centennial year, could be one to be remembered for years to come. A justly-deserving, but surprised, Joel Steele was also called to the podium and presented with a certificate of thanks for his many hours of dedicated hard work in organizing and effecting the downtown rejuvenation program. One only has to remember what our downtown looked like a couple of years ago, to appreciate the improvement and Joel's leadership in seeing that the job was done. The entire evening was a fitting climax to a year to be proud of and it took many of those who were present on Saturday night to add the final touches, as they had throughout the year because, as you looked around the hall, you realized that it was not just the persons who were justly honored who had contributed, but a joint effort by all. Thanks again to everyone.

SANTA IS COMING, YES IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN

We realize that everyone will be glued to the tube this weekend when Canada celebrates its annual sports classic, but did you realize that in only another week, the Old Gentleman will be making his annual visit to Winchester. The Santa Claus parade will be held next Sat., Dec. 3 and will leave the Hydro yard area at 1pm for the annual journey through the downtown streets. Many Christmas lights and decorations are already in place and here at the arena, we begin our Christmas parties this weekend with Winchester Cheese hosting the first of the many planned. Next weekend it's the Hospital's big night, followed by Winchester Hydro on the 10th with Ault Foods finishing things off on Dec. 17. Both Hydro and Ault Foods will also be holding family skating parties on the 4th and 11th and we expect that Old Santa will be the guest of honor at both. All persons or businesses who are planning to have a float or an entry in next Saturday's parade are asked to please contact John Adams at 774-2515 or Phil Snyder at 774-2290 so that they will be able to make the proper plans no later than Nov. 30.

HAWKS AT HOME AGAINST CHAR-LAN THIS FRIDAY

After a big win last Wednesday night in Brockville, things turned around for the team in Alexandria on Friday night, when they lost to the Glens. On Sunday afternoon, it was another win at the hands of the Morrisburg Lions in a close encounter, with only one goal separating the teams. This Friday night, we return to our usual Friday game with the Char-Lan Raiders supplying the opposition. This will be the only game this weekend for the Hawks, as the league takes a rest until after the Grey Cup.

Lapensee shuts out Knights 5-0

Dunbar Panthers stay on top by blanking Prescott Road

WINCHESTER — Daryl Lapensee kicked out everything the Newington Knights could fire at him here Sunday night, backstopping the Toyes Hill Roadrunners to a 5-0 victory.

The win was an important one, moving them into sole possession of top spot in the Winchester and District Broomball League's B Pool with nine points. Prescott Road Knights also have nine points but hold fourth place in the A Pool, thanks to one more victory than the 'Hill.

In Sunday's other encounters, front-running Dunbar Panthers remained one point ahead of the Morewood Vikings atop the A Pool rankings by blanking Prescott Road 6-0.

Morewood kept pace doubling the Ormond Cloverdales 4-2.

Russell's Magnum Force maintained its winning ways clobbering the Winchester Raiders 9-1.

Dunbar leads with 17 points, Morewood has 16, Russell 15 and Prescott Road nine points. The B Pool standings show Toyes Hill with nine, Ormond with seven, Winchester with three and Newington with two points.

Richard Suffel slammed in what would prove to be the winning goal when he scored unassisted at 22:31 of the first half. Perry Dewan and Paul Melenhorst enlarged Toyes Hill's lead to 3-0 by half time. Newington was unable to shatter Daryl Lapansee's goose egg as the Roadrunners roared on to a 5-0 decision.

Perry Dewan led the winners with two goals and one assist. Richard Suffel and Paul Melenhorst each had a goal and one assist. Richard Brady fired in the other goal. Brian Melenhorst and Ted Bongers earned assists.

Dunbar Panthers' Terry Colligan rang up the evening's other shutout as his team won for the eighth time in nine starts. Laurie Blanchard led the charge, scoring three times in Dunbar's 6-0 win over Prescott Road.

Blanchard hit for all three goals in the first half as his team rolled up a 4-0 half-time lead. Craig Cullen opned the game scoring from Ray Lepine at 24:25 and then Blanchard took over with three straight goals.

Pierre Lafrance and Larry Gallinger connected for second-half goals. Lepine (2), Gary Gallinger and Craig Cullen earned assists.

VIKES BY TWO

Morewood Vikings doubled Ormond Cloverdales 4-2 as they remained one point behind Dunbar.

Dan McMahon scored at 24:32 finishing a play started by Jeff Vanderveen to give the Vikes a 1-0 lead. Guy Marion made it 2-0 scoring from Brian Como at 11:16. John Velthuis hit from Ian Linton with 44 seconds left to make it a 2-1 game at the half.

Guy Marion then made it 3-1 Vikes scoring from Vince Cousineau at 18:18 of period two. Dan McMahon's unassisted marker at 6:29 pushed Morewood into a 4-1 lead.

Bill Robinson scored from Bill (Dr.) Livingston with 2:45 left in the game to make it a 4-2 final.

NO CONTEST

It was no contest as Russell's Magnum Force drubbed the Winchester Raiders 9-1.

Bruce Young scored from Ron VanKoppen at 11:45 of the first half, cutting the difference to 2-1 and ensuring John Rystephanuk wouldn't register another shutout.

Russell led 7-1 at the half. Mike Bols netted three first-half goals and assisted on another. Dave Bols also scored three times. Frank Bols fired in one goal and assisted on two others. Paul Bols had a goal and one assist. John Corvenelli scored the other goal. Steve Bekkers (3), Lucien Proulx (2) and Jim Feeley all picked up assists.

Harvex wins three games

WINCHESTER — Harvex Huslers skated to two oldtimer hockey victories here Sunday morning, blanking the Winchester Old Hawks 5-0 and edging the Cardinal Bulldogs 6-5.

Friday night in Cardinal the Huslers tied up the Bulldogs in a 7-1 victory. Kevin Baldwin missed the shutout by one while Phil Lyall, Dick Christie, Bob Peddle, Pete McKay and Don Marcellus keyed the attack.

Baldwin posted the shutout Sunday morning, blanking Winchester 5-0. Bob Peddle scored twice in the win while Phil Lyall, Dick Christie and Earl McBean notched singles.

The Huslers remained on the ice and took on the Cardinal Bulldogs. Phil Lyall's goal in the dying minutes pulled out the win. The Huslers had led 4-0 but tired and had to come back for the win. Pete McKay led the Harvex scorers with three goals. Bob Peddle, Don Marcellus and Phil Lyall netted the others.

This coming weekend the Huslers are involved in the Cornwall Oldtimers' tournament playing games on both Saturday and Sunday.

Smail ties it

FINCH — Winchester 40 Pounders snatched a tie from the jaws of defeat here Sunday, battling the Crysler Oldtimers to a 3- 3 saw-off.

Kevin Smail scored the tying goal with just 30 seconds left to play in the game after the 40 Pounders had lifted goalie Al Fishburn for a sixth attacker. Ken McClatchie scored the other two goals for the Al Crump-sponsored 40 Pounders.

Team captain, self-styled scoring leader and great helmsman Dave Barnhart, missed the contest, but the team persevered and discovered what it was like to play with the puck.

Glen Ross, Bob Dawson, Bill Hogaboam, Bill Dellaire and Bert Hill rounded out the 40 Pounder team effort.

HEADACHES

Headaches are one of man's most common ailments. No headache should be taken lightly. It is a warning of some deep-seated disturbance.

There are many types of headaches, arising from many causes including nerve irritation, serious pathological disorders, eye strain, sinus, migraine, or tension. Headaches may occur in any part of the head. They may be localized or general, and may vary widely in frequency, intensity and duration.

Never ignore a headache. Pain is a warning! It is a sign of trouble. Some headaches do have simple explanations, such as those following an evening of overindulgence in food or drink. This type usually passes within a few hours. Any other headache, particularly if chronic or recurring is a warning signal which will send any careful person straight to his doctor of chiropractic.

Research reveals that a common cause of many migraine, nerve irritation, tension and even sinus headaches can be traced to the area of the cervical vertebrae (spinal bones of the neck). ''Displacement'' of one or more of these vertebrae may compress and irritate the cervical nerves.

Migraine headaches are particularly distressing. It has been determined that these are usually caused by irritation of the upper cervical nerves which affect the cranial nerve fibres surrounding blood vessels and results in the throbbing, excruciating pain associated with migraine. This later becomes a steady, dull pain in the ''temple'' area. Reflex action may bring about stomach pains, nausea, vomiting, fast heart beat and other internal organ upsets.

When you seek chiropractic care for your headaches, your doctor will discover the underlying cause of your pain. She/he will then develop a treatment program especially suited for your condition.

You can avoid serious complications in the future by heeding that headache warning today!

This Athens Flyers forward wound his way through the North Dundas defence and fired a low wrist shot into the corner of Terry Wagner's net during an UCMHL Atom B contest here Friday night. Athens took the match by a 5-1 count. Here Monday night, the powerful Brockville Warriors trimmed the North Dundas Atom A Demons 9-0. Press Photo—Van Bridger

Atom C scorers pocket hat tricks

WINCHESTER — Shawn Nielson and Mike Francis took turns scoring winning goals for the North Dundas Atom C Demons in recent Upper Canada Minor Hockey League contests.

Nielson hit for the winner in an exciting 2-1 victory over South Grenville in the Demons' home opener on Nov. 12.

Francis was the shooter who decided the issue in a 4-3 win over Russell.

The twin wins followed an opening 8-2 loss to the Morrisburg Atom C Lions.

Jason Bailey and Chris Wilson led the Lions, scoring three goals each. Shawn Nielson and Mike Francis replied for the Demons. Mike Francis set up the Nielson goal while Nielson and Dave Hilson assisted on the Francis' goal.

Thanks to the timely goals of Nielson and Francis and the solid goaltending of Demons' Daryl Beck and Miles Hanscomb, North Dundas was able to win their next two contests.

The South Grenville game was scoreless until 11:40 in the third period when D. Sloan put the Generals up 1-0. Phillip Carkner's unassisted goal tied it up at 1-1. Shawn Nielson then came through with the winning goal, scoring from Dave Hilson and Mike Francis with 1:20 left to play in the game.

In Russell the Demons got three goals from Brian Heuff in the first period en route to the 4-3 win.

Heuff's first goal was unassisted, the second was set up by Craig Smith and Wesley Fulton and the third came from Stephanie Matte and Robbie Armstrong.

Russell rallied with a three-goal second period tying it up on goals by Derek Tranquille, Vincent Gravel and Jason Vedder.

Pee Wees edge Vikes

CHESTERVILLE — Craig Beckstead scored a pair of goals, including the winner with two seconds left on the clock, leading the North Dundas Co-op Pee Wee C Demons to an exciting 3-2 exhibition win over the Alta Vista Vikings here on Sunday.

The game was even at a goal after a period but the Vikings led 2-1 after two frames.

North Dundas pulled even and won it, scoring twice in the final one minute-and-a-half. Craig Beckstead gave North Dundas a 1-0 lead scoring from Tyler Johansen and Shawn Merkley at 12:16 of the first period. Matthew Robinson then tied it up 1-1 when he scored from Johansen and Shawn Merkley with 1:29 left to play.

Craig Beckstead then won it, firing in a Johansen (third assist of the game) with just two seconds to play. Robbie Dowell and Clint Hedge shared the goaltending duties.

In Upper Canada Minor Hockey League action the Demons battled South Grenville to a 1-1 tie here last Friday night and lost 5-3 to Metcalfe on Nov. 11.

South Grenville took a 1-0 lead when Jason Collins scored with 6:28 left in the contest. Matthew Robinson tied it up for the Demons, finishing off a play started by Dave Sears and Shawn Merkley with 2:23 showing on the clock.

Jason Pratt and Jeff Hay each netted themselves two goals, leading the Metcalfe Mustangs to a 5-3 victory here on Nov. 11.

Pat Hall scored the other Metcalfe marker. Hall connected from Hay with 4:08 left in the game to give his team the win.

The game was even at a goal after a period and tied 3-3 after two sessions. Grant Williams scored all three North Dundas goals. Dave Sears drew three assists. Shawn Merkley helped out with one.

Metcalfe Petite A's take silver medal

NEPEAN — The Metcalfe Petite A ringette squad played its way right to the gold medal match here during the first annual Nepean Ringette Tournament on the weekend.

Dollard des Ormeaux took the gold medal defeating Metcalfe 8-5 in the championship match. Metcalfe earned the silver medal and Nepean captured the bronze.

Metcalfe won two of its three round robin games to qualify for Sunday's final game. Dollard des Ormeaux won all three of its round robin games. Nepean had a win and two losses in the first round while Pierrefonds didn't win a game. Nepean defeated Pierrefonds in the bronze-medal match.

Metcalfe dropped its opening game 7-3 to the eventual champs, Dollard des Ormeaux, Friday at the Merivale Arena. Stephanie Cooper scored twice for Metcalfe while Carrie Mondoux scored the other. Becky Service earned two assists while Marisa Jordon, Anna Soubliere and Kandie Perron collected one each.

Saturday, Metcalfe blanked the host Nepean 4-0 in the morning and thenm trimmed Pierrefonds 8-3 to earn a berth in the championship match.

Kim Nesbitt was unbeatable in the Metcalfe cage in the 4-0 victory over Nepean. Marisa Jordon scored two of the goals while Stephanie Cooper and Carrie Mondoux snapped in single markers. Anna Soubliere, Stephanie Cooper and Carrie Mondoux all picked up assists.

In the 8-3 decision over Pierrefonds, Soubliere led the way scoring three times. Jennifer Prescott had two while Stephanie Cooper and Becky Service picked up a goal and one assist each. Carrie Mondoux accounted for the other goal and Marisa Jordan collected an assist.

In the championship match, Metcalfe trailed Dollard des Ormeaux 2-0 at the half and were down 3-0 in the final stanza before Stephanie Cooper coverted a Becky Service pass into her team's first goal at 11:57.

Metcalfe got to within a goal (3-2) at the 10:48 mark when Service connected on a pass fed her by Jenny Miller and Carrie Mondoux.

Dollard went up 4-2 with 9:08 left but Metcalfe battled back to tie it up 4-4. Soubliere made it 4-3 scoring from Kandie Perron at 8:27 and Stephanie Cooper tied it with her second goal of the game at 7:29. Becky Service set up the goal.

Dollard pumped in four more goals, scoring its final two with 1:35 and 28 seconds, to take the championship with an 8-5 score.

Metcalfe netted its fifth and final goal when Stephanie Cooper scored her third of the game with just 2:08 left to play in the game. Erin Lachance and Becky Service set up that goal. The scoring play closed the gap to 6-5 but Metcalfe just couldn't close it any further.

This weekend the Petite As will take part in the Cumberland tournament. They take on Smiths Falls Thursday (Nov. 24) at the Cumberland Arena before playing two games on Saturday (Nov. 26) in Navan against Orleans and Cumberland. The finals will be played on Sunday (Nov. 27).

Metcalfe Petite C team didn't play last week but have games slated for Nov. 21 and Nov. 28.

Bruins gain ground with two wins

METCALFE — The fourth-ranked Wichers' Construction Bruins have started to make up some ground on the rest of the Metcalfe Town Hockey League.

The Bruins, cellar-dwellers for most of the campaign, claimed back-to-back victories in their latest two outings and have moved to within a point of third-place Bradley Computax Canadiens and to within four of the front-running Morris Equipment Leafs.

On Nov. 13 the Bruins knocked off the first-place Morris Leafs 8-3 and last Sunday outscored the Bradley Canadiens 5-3.

Sunday Mike's Restaurant Hawks and the Morris Leafs battled to a 5-5 tie. On Nov. 13 the Hawks suffered a 7-3 setback at the hands of the Canadiens.

The current ratings show the Leafs on top with 12 points, the Hawks second with 11, the Canadiens third with nine and the Bruins fourth with eight.

Sunday the Canadiens roared into a 3-1 lead on the Bruins and still led 3-2 after two, before losing 5-3. Neil Quinn's goal from Doug Hicks and Barry Rivers at 12:01 of the third period proved to be the winner.

Carson McVey led the winners with two goals and one assist. Kevin Downey had a goal and two helpers. Willis Stevens and Neil Quinn snapped in single goals. Barry Rivers (2) and Doug Hicks earned assists. Roger Kargus was the winning goalie.

Rob McVey and Jeff Stanley each popped in a goal and drew an assist for the Canadiens. Blake Morrison scored the other goal. Paul Nooyen, Bruce Kerfoot, Brian Wynn and Mike Roqueburne collected assists.

In Sunday's other match-up Mike's Hawks earned a 5-5 tie with the Morris Leafs when Dan Morris scored an unassisted shorthanded goal with 2:33 left on the clock.

Leafs led 2-0 after a period and 5-2 after two periods.

Dan Rausch led the Hawks with two goals and one assist. Dan Morris, John Melenhorst and Tyrone Franey hit for single goals. Mike Gebara and Franey picked up assists. Bill Jamieson tended nets.

Mike Stanley keyed the Leafs' attack with a two-goal, two- assist effort. Dave Vanderydt snapped in a goal and earned three assists. Leo Campbell tallied a goal and two helpers. Sean Franey potted the other marker. Jeff Crerar set up two goals. Roy McCooeye guarded the Leafs' goal.

Marriner scores six for Lions

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Kyle Marriner continued his torrid scoring pace here Monday night, scoring six goals and assisting on two others, leading the Lions Club to a 12-6 victory over the MTFD Smokies.

In the other Mountain Township Floor Hockey League encounter, Winchester Print made a big impression, rolling over SM Electric 10-3.

The Print and Lions Club remained undefeated with three wins and a tie each and top the league standings with seven points each. SM Electric has two points and the Smokies are still searching for their first point.

Jeff Berube was top gun for Winchester Print in their 10-3 decision over SM Electric, notching four goals and helping out on a fifth. He scored three of the four goals in the first period as the Print rumbled into a 6-0 lead. His fourth sealed the victory at 17:58 of the final frame.

Shane Nichol added two goals and one assist while Andrew Torrance and Scott Clark fired in two each. Melanie Godard earned an assist.

Kelly Weedmark, Rebecca Comfort and Ben Comfort replied with SM goals. Chris Stewart and Leslie Weagant collected an assist each.

Lions Club and MTFD Smokies fought to a 2-2 first-period draw but the Lions Club broke the game wide open, roaring into a 9-4 lead in the middle session. The Smokies couldn't recover and wound up losing 12-6.

Kyle Marriner paced the Lions' attack netting one goal in the first period, four in the second and another in the final frame. He also drew two assists for an eight-point game.

Scott Beggs had a goal and three assists while Jamie Roderick and Janet Adams each picked up a goal and one assist. Jeff Weedmark, Bryan Petersen and Nathan Kiar each netted a goal.

Mike Staekler was the Smokies' top shooter firing in three goals. Jason McSheffrey hit for two and Daryl Stewart added a goal and one assist. Tyler Patterson (2) and Cheryl Crowder collected the assists.

Two goals for Walker

WINCHESTER — Trevor Walker netted two of his team's three goals here on Nov. 12 leading the North Dundas (LaPrade Photo) Demons to a 3-0 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Intermediate Novice League victory over the Russell Warriors.

Kevin McLeod was perfect between the pipes stopping Russell's offence cold.

Trevor Walker provided McLeod with plenty of support, scoring a pair of second-period goals. Morgan Dillabaough provided both assists setting up the goals at 12:55 and 6:00 of the second period.

Robbie Graham made it a 3-0 final clicking on an unassisted play with 7:07 left in the game.

Last Wednesday in Chesterville, the LaPrade Photo Demons were blanked 1-0 by the North Dundas No. One Demons in another UCMHL contest.

Wesley Ross' unassisted goal with 3:50 left in the game provided the No. One Demons with their victory.

'Reach For The Stars'

NEPEAN — Female students will be encouraged to investigate careers in mathematics, science and technology at the fourth annual "Reach For The Stars" conference. This year's program is being held at the National Museum of Natural Sciences, at the corner of Metcalfe and McLeod Streets. It begins at 9:15am on both Mon., Nov. 28 and Mon., Dec. 5.

The conference is designed for students in Grades 7-9. Although the primary focus is to encourage girls to pursue careers in mathematics, science and technology and to create an awareness of career fields in non-traditional career areas, the conference is open to both male and female students.

Each student will participate in two workshops. The workshops include Cindy Day and "Nowcasting", forensic science, zapped on electricity, digital logic design, women in the geologic world, females in flying machines to name but a few.
