Labour Leader Dowd Tells Rotary About Communism in Labour

"Labor must be a partner of industry and must co-operate with management for the greatest production and the best welfare of industry and the nation," said Norman Dowd, addressing the Chesterville Rotary Club last Monday evening. Mr. Dowd is the executive secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labour. "Unions now speak for a large section of the population of Canada, having a membership of nearly 2,000,000 and they must realize their place and influence in the affairs of the nation," he went on, "but they must not take advantage of that influence to gain selfish ends that are detrimental to the industrial life on which they depend."

The labour secretary pointed out that it is a recent thing to find management realizing that purchasing power is soley dependant on the ability of the labouring class to keep goods and services moving. As a result of this, management is becoming more willing to deal with labour through the unions.

Mr. P. S. Boyd was the acting chairman in the absence of the President, and he introduced the following guests: Messrs. Michael M. J. Curran, Mr. Beave, Earl Lewis, Harry Phillips, and Milton Phillips. Messrs. Geo. Barkley and Dr. Lloyd were greeted after a long absence.

After a directors' meeting was called for Friday evening and the correspondence read, the speaker was introduced by Matthew Flynn.

Referring to Communism in the labour movement, Mr. Dowd was of the opinion that there is only a small percentage of Communists in the unions today. The main reason that they seem to be in larger numbers than they really are is their willingness to take any office, no matter how small, if it shows promise of influence. Their allegiance is first and always absolute obedience. "As an executive of the labour movement in Canada," said Mr. Dowd, "let me say, that the labour movement will try to oust all the known members of the Communist party from the Canadian Unions, and try to keep our associations truly democratic."

The speaker was thanked on behalf of the club by H. Brown.

Catholic Women's League Holds Regular Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held Tuesday evening, March 11th, with the president, Mrs. Wm. McCloskey, in charge. A letter was read from the sanctuary boys thanking the league for their Soutanes and Surplices. Letters also from the Diocesan president appealing for a donation toward the Holy Fathers' Fund for relief of distress in Europe and from the Sacred Heart Programmes requesting a donation for organizing a membership. Group donations for each of the above will be forwarded from the league. Mrs. Thos. Moran was appointed Red Cross representative. The annual meeting will be held in April.

PRESENTATION MADE TO MOREWOOD COUPLE

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin on Friday, when neighbours gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nadeau back home again. Jack went overseas in October 1941, serving with the RCOC. Two years later he married the former Joan Campbell of Scotland. He returned to Canada in August 1945, and his wife came a few months later. He was employed in the city since that time until he could occupy his farm in Morewood. A very appropriate address was read by Archie Coulthart and two chairs and an electric lamp were presented to the young couple. Both Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau replied to the very warm welcome they had received.

Winchester Hospital Board Will Ask Tenders For Building

Decision to call for tenders for construction of the proposed Winchester memorial hospital to accommodate at least 30 bed patients, was reached at a meeting of the board of directors and doctors of the hospital area held in Winchester Tuesday night.

Tenders will be advertised for immediately upon the receipt and approval of the detailed report of the architect, Cecil Burgess, of Ottawa, who was at the meeting.

A letter from Health Minister Russell T. Kelly suggested that there might be a possibility of some provision being made to take care of chronic cases in the institution.

While the board was unanimous in wanting to have the two members of the provincial Cabinet advise them, they occurred in the opinion voiced by Ray C. Dillabough, of Chesterville, that the fund of nearly $100,000 donated by citizens of the district must be devoted to building a hospital which would care for the critically ill, and for those cases which would receive benefit by hospitalization, before consideration could be given to chronic cases.

Eric Casselman of Chesterville, said he could see no objection to adding extra beds for the chronically ill, if the Department of Health desired to pay for them, but with the money in hand it was the duty of the board to commence the building with the least possible delay. It was thought that a well should be dug at once and work on the grounds started.

Norman W. Beach presented the deed of the property to the board and also told the meeting that the Winchester 100 Club had given a roadway from their park property.

A sub-committee of members of the property committee, made up of Hart Melvin, chairman; Wallace Carkner, secretary, and Norman W. Beach, W. J. Leroy Boyd, Wilfred Porteous, W. C. Macdonald and Dr. Howard W. Justus, was named as a building committee to prepare the tenders for advertising, with the assistance of the architect.

Would Like To Know

The teacher was explaining to the class the meaning of the word "recuperate." "Now, Tommy," she said to a small boy, "when your father has worked hard all day, he is tired and worn out, isn't he?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Then, when night comes and his work is over for the day, what does he do?"

"That's what mother wants to know," Tommy explained quickly.

James Fleming Chosen New President Chesterville Legion

Chesterville Branch, No. 434 of the B.E.S.L., held its annual elections Tuesday night, and was addressed by Captain Allan Piper, of Ottawa. Capt. Piper is a veteran of World War II, having lost both his hands in action, and his demonstration of the use of artificial hands was most illuminating. He showed the skill that could be attained in the use of mechanical means if the necessity arose. The Captain stressed the need for the proper frame of mind for a disabled veteran, if he was to get the most benefit from the aids that science could offer him. With that end achieved, the veteran would have much less difficulty adapting himself to civilian life and making the future profitable for him.

The officers for the coming year were elected as follows: James Fleming, President; Milton Phillips, 1st Vice-Pres.; Clayton Fawcett, 2nd Vice-Pres.; George Crawford, 3rd Vice-Pres.; Jack Fulton, Treasurer; Don Campbell, Secretary; A. Johnson, Sergeant-at-Arms.

An Executive committee was appointed, with the following members, Bert Loucks, Wendall Harper, Lloyd Servage, Lyle Alford, Chas. Hart, Sidney Richmire, Staley Chambers, Lawrence Doering, Lyle Merkley and Melvin Harper.

New Equipment Places Local Theatre In Forefront

The complete installation of latest type projection and sound equipment has just been completed at the Chesterville Community Theatre. The new brilliancy of screen presentation, together with extreme clarity of sound reproduction, in all its frequencies, is readily appreciated.

Employing the new Royal Soundmaster sound equipment, the range of frequency response fully covers the range from 50 to 10,000 cycles. The amplifiing system makes use of the latest tube circuits developed during the war years. This, together with a novel speaker system, gives Chesterville theatre presentations second to none in the large cities.

Projectors of the latest design, using the new coated lenses, which are another development of the war years. Sharpness of the screen image and brilliancy is increased by their use. The greatest increase in screen illumination, however, is provided by the use of the new Peerless automatic electric arcs.

The electrical contracting was completed by Martins Sound Systems of Ottawa. We think the Community Theatre is to be congratulated on its new equipment.

Chesterville, Finch Midgets Battle to 4-4 Tie

A very interesting game of hockey was played on local ice last Monday night between Chesterville and Finch Midget Teams.

Chesterville started off the game with Junior Fyke scoring two goals in the first period with assists by J. Barkley and L. Reid. Finch came back in the second, with McGillvray scoring three goals in succession. Morris and Fyke netted one each and McLeod of Finch tied the score ending the game 4-4. The game was made up of two half-hour periods.

The only penalties of the game went to Morris and Coughlar, both of Chesterville.

Finch—Goal, Ellis Merkley; Def., Jack Helmer, Wesley MacLeod; Centre, Donald Rupert; R. Wing, Murray Doyle; L. Wing, Donald MacLeod; Subs—John Rupert, M. and K. McGillivray, Barry Brownlee, Arnold Presley, Rae MacLeod. Goal Umpire, Wm. Davies; Manager, G. Rupert; Morgan Doyle, Coach.

Chesterville — Goal, B. Liscumb; Defence, L. Reid, Junior Fyke, 2nd line, D. Coughlar, G. Liscumb; Centre Jackie Fyke; Wings, Paul, Morris; Subs—Bowman, J. Barkley, J. Moran, G. Fleming, Price, Durant and Hall.

Don Hutton refereed the game.

LEROY BOYD HOLDS LUCKY TICKET

With a large number at the St. Patrick's dance sponsored by the Rotary club in the Community Hall Monday evening, W. J. L. Boyd of Winchester, held the lucky number for the door prize of fifty dollars. Mr. Boyd was not present when the drawing was made and was delightfully surprised when he was advised by phone of his good luck.

FIRST IN SHOWMANSHIP

Word comes to us that Douglas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Smith of town, second year student of the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, won first prize in the Showmanship Class for Senior Cydesdale Mares at the College Royal. Douglas and another vet student, a girl, were the only veterinary students to make a first placing out of eighteen entries. Consequently Doug was asked to run in the election the following Monday as the Vet college representative on the College Royal executive and word just arrived he also won that.

Community Hall Auditorium Will Be Renovated

The committee of the Community Hall, Councillors John Turner and Matthew Flynn, met with H. C. Hummel, Building Inspector, Fire Chief S. Morris and Police Constable G. MacLean to inspect and recommend needed improvements to the Auditorium, with particular regard to improved fire and safety measures.

After determining the maximum capacity of the Auditorium as 420 for a seated audience, it was decided to recommend new "panic" hardware on all exits, change the dressing room doors to open out into the hall, rather than in, as at present, and to provide a suitable number of fire extinguishers at convenient points. On all other points the Auditorium conforms to the Public Hall by-laws.

It will be suggested that the Auditorium be completely redecorated. The Clerk's Office is undergoing some alterations at the present time, which will make a marked improvement.

Grantley Women's Assn Met At Shaver Home

The March meeting of the Grantley Women's Association was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. and Miss Bessie Shaver.

15 members attended and two visitors, Mrs. Albert Winters and her mother, Mrs. Robinson of Vernon, were welcomed. Several hymns were sung during the meeting with the president, Mrs. M. O. Robinson at the piano. The responsive reading of Psalm 99 was led by Mrs. James Hesson and prayer was offered by the pastor.

The woman of the bible study for March being Esther, Mr. Beach gave an interesting talk on the subject and Mr. Donald Gordon read the lesson story from the leaflet.

Mrs. Kittle gave a humorous reading from "The Green Years" by A. J. Cronin; Mrs. Glen MacMillan an extract by Frank Dufresne "Hunting in The Arctic". Miss Feader read 'My Mother's Flowers' and Mrs. Darling, 'A New Member'.

A contest arranged by Mrs. Donald Gordon caused much amusement. Each lady was called on to tabulate the contents of her purse in which everything from a marriage certificate to a lump of sugar was revealed. Mrs. Glen MacMillan with 22 items, was the winner.

Lunch was served and Mrs. Darling voiced the thanks of those present for a very pleasant afternoon.

Chamber of Commerce Says Plans Forming For New Bridge

The members of the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce met last Thursday evening at their monthly meeting to discuss the progress made by the committees for the various projects under consideration. Wm. Barker, reporting for the sign committee, told of submitting a design for a sign to be erected at the junction of Highways 43 and 31, and of receiving an estimate of $100 to $150 for one sign to be built and erected by the Perth Poster Co. During the following discussion it was decided to investigate further on the matter and have a report ready for the next meeting.

The bridge committee could report no immediate hope for a new bridge over the Nation, in Chesterville, but when highway construction gets back to normal, the Department of Highways have interesting plans for the river crossing here.

In the matter of industrial expansion, the industrial committee, under chairmanship of E. B. Lynch, will wait on the town council at their next meeting and discuss the prospects that Chesterville has to offer to new industries.

With the completion of plans for an increased membership, President H. Brown closed the meeting.

IS THERE A "STOP" SIGN JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Something is holding back that warm spell anticipated these couple of weeks to rid our streets and sideroads of the huge snow drifts left after the big storm. It may be good enough weather for maple syrup making, but a damper price of five or six dollars per gallon has made many feel they don't really care for syrup as much as they thought they did.

Northfield Station Child Drowns In Creek

Lorne Muir, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Muir, of Northfield Station, Sunday, drowned in a creek near his home. The boy's body was recovered by his parents who started a search for him a short time after he had been missing from in front of the home where he had been put out early in the morning to play. Noticing a hole in the ice, the parents had little difficulty in locating the body.

Dr. J. L. Pollock, of Avonmore, was called and after investigating announced an inquest was not necessary.

The boy is survived by his parents and a three-months-old baby sister.

The drowning was investigated by Provincial Constable Thomas Fortner of Cornwall.

LITTLE LAD DIES AFTER FALL

Deep sympathy is etxended to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moriarity in the death of their baby Brian, aged one year, which occurred Saturday last as the result of injuries from a fall. The funeral was held Monday morning from St. Mary's Church.

ALL MAPLE PRODUCTS OFF RATION BOARD ANNOUNCES

Under rationing regulations slnce March, 1943, all maple products have ben removed from the list f rationed ccmmdities, and consumers no longer need to surrender coupons when purchasing any of these items, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced last week.

Affected by the removal is maple syrup and maple sugar. Other maple ter, maple cream and maple wax have products products such as maple butbeen exempt from rationing for some time.

Board officials point out that the removal of maple products from preserves rationing will not cause any changes in the validating of sugar-preserves coupons.

However, industrial users will still be required to obtain permission in writing from the Sugar Administrator before acqulrlng or using any maple syrup or maple sugar in the manufacture of any food or other product.

FARM CAMPS WILL OPERATE AGAIN

The Ontario Farm Service Force will again be operating boys and girls farm service camps, particularly in the fruit and vegetable areas of the Province, during the year of 1947, it is announced by Alex Mac Laren,Director of the Force. Farm help conditions are still very acute throughout the Province, and there will be great ned again this year for the help of young men and women, and of high school boys and girls after the school closing dates, to help with the cultivation and harvesting of essential food crops.

Arrngements have been made for boys andl girls camps in several strategic areas, from which young men and women, as well as the high scool students, will go out to work on farms under the supervision of the field officers of of the Ontario Farm Service Force. The fisrt of these will be opening during the s cond wek of April, in the Niagara district, andt enrollmen of young men and women who are free to go into camps for farm work at that time is now going on. Mr. Mac Laren will be glad to have the applications of any such young people, so that there may be an ample supply of labour available to fill theese camps' requirements right from the start of the season. Other camps will be opened up as the season advances.

The office of the Ontario Farm Service Force is now located at 9 Richmond Street East, Toronto, and the telephone number is Adelaide 9461. Young men and women interested in going to a Farm Service Camp from the beginning of the season, or at later dates, are urgently requested to communicate with the Ontario Farm Service Force office at once.

No Cause For Alarm

It was in the West in the old days; the new editor of the little weekly was very young, shy and nervous. His speech to the Chamber of Commerce had flopped miserably, for the presence of bearded men with .45 pistols hanging at their sides had not helped his presense of mind.

He stumbled to a halt, finally, and sat down. Immediately, a group of his armed listeners rose and walked ominously toward the speaker's table.

A grizzled old cattleman came over and placed a reassuring hand upon the youth's trembling shoulder.

"Now, you jes' sit still, son," he said. "They ain't gonna hurt you—they's comin' fo' the program chairman."

Daffynitions

RIGHT OR WRONG

By
R. J. Deachman

The most interesting thing from the standpoint of a man who writes is the comment he receives from the people who do the reading. I am at times astonished by the brightness of their minds, the keenness of their perceptions. Take this for instance, it came from an Alberta farmer. It's so long since I first met him that I am not sure whether it was in MacLeod or Pincher Creek. It doesn't matter they are both nice places. He didn't live there, his home was further north. He was a strong Liberal in those days, still is I imagine, but not quite satisfied with things as they are:

"The most charming thing that has happened lately," he wrote, "is Mackenzie Kings' call to the party to return to the principles of true liberalism. Too many men in the party seem to think that to be a Liberal means to be liberal with other people's money. That is not liberalism—it is socialism.

"As I see it, the difference between liberalism and socialism is this: Scoialism aims to take care of every man from the cradle to the grave, without exposing him to the necessity of thinking for himself or planning his own life, just as we do with our cattle and our horses. Liberalism, on the other hand should aim to put every man in a position where he can make his own life, carve out his own career, provide for his needs by his own efforts.

"The difference in training will show in the product. Socialism will produce a race of beings meek, docile, submissive, ready to be led to the feast or to the slaughter. Liberalism will produce a race of men who will be masters of their own fate. Which will the young man of today choose as his way of life?

Does a party which once moves off the main trail ever return to it? Will it change its ways even when circumstances prove it wrong? I doubt it. Vested interests grow around a mistaken policy—rarely does a party return to a platform it has left. This country will probably reach very high levels of expenditures on social services—if present trends continue. There lies our problem for the next few years. Will we try to redistribute the national income or to increase it? Will we endeavor to build up the national estate so that the capacity to produce will grow with the years?

Recall to memory the farmers you knew in the old days before you left the farm. They were of two classes, the spenders, those who spent all they earned, sometimes more. Then there were those who, every year, invested part of their earnings into their farms. Machinery was kept in constant repair, the wet corner was drained, obstructions to cultivation, mainly stones in my day, were removed, the gravel ridge was covered with trees, the barn was painted. These farms grew in beauty, and in value from year to year. The people had better homes because they had better farms.

I wish our governments would catch the spirit of that idea. If they ever do they will worry less about redistribution of the nations present income, more about the intrinsic value of the national estate. What we are putting back may be more important than what we are taking out. When we catch that idea the national income will rise, we will have the plant and equipment, it will increase our capacity to produce. It's time to stop talking of what we take out, we should ask ourselves the question: What do we put back? I wonder if my Alberta friend will reply to this —I think he would agree with me.

HOW WE RISE
By Josiah Gilbert Holland

Heaven is not gained at a single bound,
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round.

I count this thing to be grandly true,
That a noble deed is a step toward God....
Lifting the soul from the common sod
To a purer air and a broader view.

We rise by things that are 'neath our feet;
By what we have mastered of good and gain;
By the pride deposed and the passion slain,
And the vanquished ills that we hourly meet.

FOSSIL FISHES FOUND

Fossil fishes of the Devonian period, approximately 300 million years old were obtained from a new locality on Gaspe Bay, Quebec, discovered during the last summer by Dr. L. S. Russell of the Royal Ontario Museum. Preliminary studies, just completed, indicate that the specimens represent a curious armoured fish called Cephalaspis, previously known from the Old Red Sandstone of Scotland. The Cephalaspis had a broad, semi-circular head, rather like a horse's hoof in shape, from the back of which the flexible, scale-covered body projected. Fishes of this sort are considered very primitive, being distant relatives of the modern lamprey eel. Other fossils include a large, scorpion-like animal, about three feet in length. Plans are being made to return to Gaspe this summer in an endeavor to obtain a larger collection of these rare and important fossils.

So Tactful

A salesman was proposing to his best girl. "And sweetheart," he finished, "I'll lay my whole fortune at yourw feet."

"It isn't a very big fortune," she reminded him.

"I know, dear" he replied, "but it will look awfully big beside your little feet."

He got the girl.

Good Preference

Army Sergeant: "Have you any preference?"

Draftee: "Yes, sir."

Army Sergeant: "What would you like to be,"

Army Sergeant: "What would you like to be?"

Draftee: "An ex-service man with a pension."

How He Broke His Arm

The information-seeking Summer visitor was seated with a Yankee in a train. He used what he thought was typical New England country talk, to be more friendly-like:

"I say, stranger, ain't you broke your arm there?"

"Well, yes, I did."

"Had an accident, I reckon as how."

"Not exactly."

"Wall, then, how in tarnation did ye come to break it?"

"I did it trying to pat myself on the back."

"My land! On the back! Now, what in the name o' Goshen did ye want to pat yerself on the back fer?"

"Just for minding my own business."

● To save the lives of our Canadian fightingmen in action during the war, thousands of Canadian civilians gave their blood to the Red Cross. But in peace, too, Canadians die when a blood transfusion would save them. Whole blood and plasma are in short supply... in some parts of Canada there are no facilities at all for an emergency transfusion.

In order to save the lives of Canadian men, women and children, the Red Cross is establishing a Civilian Blood Transfusion Service. By a system of voluntary blood donations, the Red Cross will supply every hospital in Canada with whole blood and plasma. Any patient in need of a transfusion will receive one, free of charge.

Your help is needed to support this and other valuable Red Cross services. The Red Cross needs money... your money. Money to maintain Outpost Hospitals... to help correct the deformities of little crippled children... to maintain Red Cross Lodges, where next-of-kin of disabled veterans may visit their loved ones... to bring relief in time of disaster. All these things the Red Cross does... won't you help them keep up the good work?

Mrs. Farmiloe, 82 Legs Broken In Crash During Storm

Seven persons were injured when four automobiles and two trucks collided two miles east of Lisbon, N.Y., 20 miles west of Ogdensburg, in a blinding snow storm Saturday afternoon at 3.30.

Mrs. Fred Farmiloe, of Morewood, Ont., who was celebrating her 72nd birthday Saturday, had both legs broken and suffered a fractured nose. She was admitted to Hepburn Hospital, Ogdensburg, and her condition is reported to be "fairly good."

Mrs. J. S. Hitsman, of Winchester, received a cut on the forehead that required eight stitches, while Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merkley, of Chesterville, Mrs. T. O. Van Bridger and Douglas Hitsman of Winchester, received bruises to the head and body. Mrs. Roland Richard, of Madrid, N.Y., received cuts to the eye and mouth.

Mrs. Farmiloe, Mrs. Merkley, Mrs. Hitsman, all sisters, had attended the funeral of an uncle, Horace Crump, of Madrid. They were accompanied by Mr. Merkley and Mr. Hitsman, who was driving.

About 3.30 p.m. a freak storm started. Blinding snow, driven at near gale force, began to fall and the automobile was in collision with an automobile driven by Roland Richard of Lisbon, N.Y. Mr. Richard and a young child were uninjured in the crash, but Mrs. Richard received painful cuts.

Mr. Hitsman stopped an approaching truck when it seemed about to collide with the two badly smashed automobiles, the drivers blinded by the storm, crashed into the rear of the stalled trucks.

When Dr. Thompson notified State troopers of the accident he was given permission to have the cars and trucks moved from the road because they were "too busy to investigate". They said there had been 11 accidents in the district during the storm.

T. O. Van Bridger, of Winchester, was telephoned by Mn. Hitsman and he drove to Ogdensburg to bring the Canadian group home.

FARM HOUSE PLANS

Five thousand blue prints and about 30,000 offset printed sheets of building plans and details were mailed direct to 4,000 applicants by the Architect's Office, Central Exerimental Farm, Ottawa, during the financial year ended March 31, 1946. The demand for farm house plans and for live stock, poultry and service buildings is large and increasing. The plans and information sheets are designed particularly for small farms and are available for general distribution. During the year, the Architect's Office prepared plans, specifications and sketches for several large agricultural and technical buildings during the year.

Nation Valley

Mrs. C. S. Munro has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Philip Merkley of Chesterville, the latter being very ill.

Mr. Donald Rae visited his aunt, Mrs. Jno. Miller and Mr. Millar of Inkerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Forward entertained a few friends to a taffy pull, the other evening.

Mrs. Jno. Allison of Maple Ridge, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allison.

Mrs. Thos. Johnston, who is undergoing treatments in Bracebridge, Muskoka, spent March 7th (her birthday), very pleasantly. Mrs. Wiggins her landlady surprised her with a nice party including a birthday cake and many lovely gifts were sent up from relatives and her many friends down here. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Steele were among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Flood and baby Carol of Cornwall visited the former's aunt, Mrs. Edgar Summers and family over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carkner of Froatburn visited Mr. and Mrs. Clare Carkner at the week-end.

Mrs. Alex Summers spent a few days in Winchester east last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merkley visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gray and Marion in Ottawa recently.

The Valley has been well represented at the hockey matches this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Whittaker of Williamsburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Merkley last week.

We read where the robins had returned and we heard the crows so we were under the impression spring was just around the corner. Usually at this time the snow is gone and the water in the Nation is getting back to normal and the residents along the river starting to forget the inconvenience of the high water. We are hoping the great depth of snow goes off gradually and the ice goes out without a jam or the 1938 spring flood which was the highest in 75 years, will have to take 2nd place should we get a warm wind and rain.

This would all be over usually before the event of the season, namely, Mr. George C. Merkley's birthday. This is one time and place you go on your own invitation and receive a glorious welcome. On Thursday last, about thirty-five relatives and friends gathered at the home to help Mr. Merkley celebrate his 77th birthday. He is staying young and feeling fine and gets such real enjoyment from the annual event of getting together for a chat, music, euchre and crokinole. This year Mn. and Mrs. Albert Bowman captured first prize.

A delicious lunch was served, consisting of ice cream, cake, sandwiches and coffee and candy, including the usual birthday cake, which is getting top heavy as each year adds another candle. Plenty of good wishes and a happy birthday were extended to Mr. Merkley and received the same hearty invitation to return next year. Mrs. Harry Holmes and Mrs. Lloyd Merkley helped serve.

We know there are plenty of news items throughout the vicinity. Please phone them in to be added to the Valley news.

YOUR TEETH NEED CARE

It has been said that teeth are like wives. Neglect them and you are headed for trouble.

That's worth remembering, for tooth health has its effect on the entire body. A decayed tooth if neglected may lead to chronic, serious or even fatal illness.

Authorities say that candy, sugar, cakes, pastry (the refined carbohydrate foods) seem to be the greatest sources of food decay. Such foods should be used in strict moderation. On the other hand uncooked foods such as green vegetables, raw fruits and dairy products, are good for the teeth. They are rich in mineral elements. Meat, eggs and whole wheat products also are needed.

After diet comes exercise. Teeth need exercise to be healthy. Vigorous chewing does the trick.

Cleanliness is most important, too. So, remember—

Teeth should be brushed after every meal.

Use a small toothbrush with well-separated bristle tufts.

Dental floss or cotton thread drawn between teeth helps to remove food particles.

Upper teeth should be brushed downward, lower teeth upward.

Brush vigorously top surface of back teeth.

Mouth should be washed out with clean water.

Periodic examinations by a dentist are essential—twice a year at least.

Mrs. Minerva Mackey Observes 82nd Birthday

Mrs. Minerva Mackey, one of the oldest residents of the Crysler district, celebrated her 82nd birthday on Sunday in Winchester at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Empey.

She knits the finest articles in wool and pieces many beautiful quilts. Mrs. Mackey enjoys good health and is very active for a woman of her age.

She is the mother of nine children, seven of whom are living. She is the former, Minerva Wert, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Wert, and was born in the vicinity of Crysler. Her husband was the late Jacob Mackey, who died in 1911.

She has five daughters, Mrs. Robert Weaver, Waddington, N.Y.; Mrs. David Campaigne, Braser Falls; Mrs. Hattie Thompson, Massena; Mrs. Morris Merkley, Cornwall; and Mrs. Jacob Empey. Two sons, Milton, Calf, California; and Cecil, Pittsfield, Mass.

TOBACCO'S SLAVE REVOLTS
Minneapolis Star Journal

If only cigarette smokers who think they want to swear off would do so quietly and keep their reactions to themselves! But not a chance. Sooner or later one will corner you, smirk and ask: "Noticed anything different about me lately?"

You probably are delighted that he isn't blowing smoke in your face. Still, you sense what is coming and try to escape it by answering: "No, can't say that I have."

He smirks again and announces: Haven't had a smoke in three days. Decided to quit and the way to quit is just to quit. Don't think about it anymore. I eat like a horse. Never felt better. Go to sleep like a baby. Jump nerves nearly cured. Used to smoke two packs a day.

"I could keep on without cigarettes forever. But the wife keeps crabbing. Says 'Fagoshsakes either settle down or start smoking.' Maybe I'll have to start smoking a few just to please her."

DIVINE SPARK

By Masefield

God dropped a spark down into everyone,
And if we find and fan it to a blaze,
It'll spring up and glow, like the sun
And light the wandering out of stoney ways.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to take this opportunity to thank our friends and neighbours for their many acts of kindness and deep sympathy, in the death of our little son.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moriarity.

IN MEMORIAM
In dear and loving memory of our loving daughter and sister, Martha Ada, who departed this life March 17, 1928.
We often think of you, sweet one,
Throughout the silent night;
We never shall forget you dear,
We will some day unite.
Father, Mother, Brothers and Sister, Mrs. Ross Nurse.

IN MEMORIAM
BARKLEY—In loving memory of my dear mother, who passed away on March 25th, 1945.
Time speeds on, 2 years have passed,
Since death, its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light,
We miss that light and ever will,
Her vacant place there's none to fill,
Down here we mourn, but not in vain
For up in heaven we'll meet again.

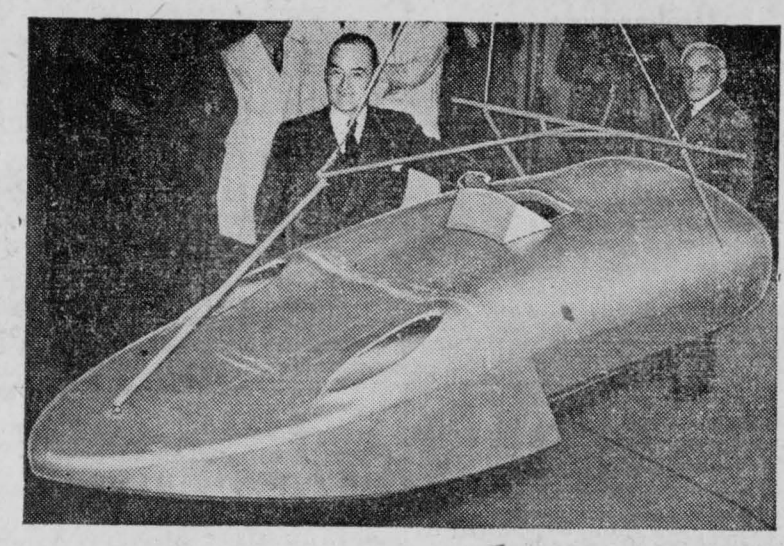
Lesson One

The mistress entered the kitchen and threw up her hands in horror.

"My goodness, Jane!" she cried. "What a kitchen! Every pot and dish is dirty. The table is a perfect litter. It will take you all night to clear things up. What have you been doing?"

It's not so much what I've been doing, ma'am," replied Jane, "but your daughter has just been showing me how they boil a potato at her cookery school."



WORLD'S WATER SPEED RECORD BID WITH JET BOAT

Sir Malcolm Campbell, Britain's water speed ace hopes soon to make an attempt on his own world water speed record of 141.74 miles p.m. in a re-designed "Bluebird."

This new jet-propelled boat is powered by a de-Haviland Goblin 11 gas turbine engine. An exact scale model of his motor-boat is being used in wind tunnel tests at the Fairey Aviation Company's works in Middlesex, near London. The "bluebird" with its 5,000 h.p. jet engine is nearing completion at Portsmouth and it is expected to reach 170 miles per hour.

MORE PIGS PER LITTER
Experimental Farms News

In any discussion of cost of hog production, the questions of cost of feed, cost of breeding stock, cost of equipment, overhead, and other items must be considered. There is another point of equal importance which is sometimes overlooked and that is the question of the average number of pigs raised per litter, says J. G. Stothart, Division of Animal Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. As the yearly cost of maintaining the sow has to be charged to the litter or litters she raises, and it takes almost as much feed, the main item of expense, for a sow to raise and wean only five pigs as it would if she weaned ten or a dozen, it is obvious that the number over which this cost is spread is particularly important.

There are several factors which influence the number of pigs weaned per litter. Most of them have to do with experience and attention to the many small details of breeding, feeding, management and sanitation. From a breeding or inheritance point of view the sow is mainly responsible for litter size. The boar's influence is later apparent on the thrift and type of the pigs, but it is the sow and her care which influence the number born and weaned.

Care and feeding before and during pregnancy is of the utmost importance to the number, health and vigor of the litter. The sow needs good feed, minerals and exercise. Iodine in the form of iodized salt is essential in defficient areas if hairlessness is to be prevented.

A warm farrowing pen, its freedom from draughts, its guard rail to prevent the sow crushing the very young pigs, and its cleanliness, are also important.

Anaemic, the cause of considerable loss of suckling pigs, is the result of an iron deficiency in the sow's milk and can be remedied in several ways. One of the simplest is to feed each little pig an amount of "reduced iron" equal in size to a tablet of about a quarter inch in diameter when about three, ten and twenty days old.

If after the foregoing details are followed the sow raises a small litter of runty pigs the best place for her is the pork barrel. However, there are not many strains that fail to produce when given the chance and if profit is expected attention to the small item is essential.

WORK WELL PLANNED IS WORK HALF DONE

By planning work well, much non-essential work may be avoided and essential work with the poultry flock may be cut in half.

Plan on having brooder pens and laying pens large enough to house flocks of sufficient size to be handled economically. Have the pens in a convenient location as it is necessary to visit them several times each day. Where buildings are scattered or located a considerable distance from the main buildings, plan on using them as summer range houses. Much travelling between buildings and opening and closing of doors will be avoided if the above plan is followed.

By having bins or barrels of feed placed conveniently about the poultry buildings one can easily cut in half the time required to feed the birds.

Plan on carrying water to the flock by pipe line, hose line or by barrel or tank on skids or wheels. (Always use covers on barrels or tanks). Any of these methods of carrying water to the flock will cut the work by more than half and will do so without giving the attendant the aches and pains produced by the pail or bucket method. Moreover the birds are more likely to have an abundant supply of clean water.

After cleaning houses plan on spraying or painting the floors, walls, nests and perches, etc., with equal parts used motor oil, coal oil and creosote. This not only acts as a disinfectant, a control of mites and helps to preserve wood and metal parts of buildings and equipment but will reduce the next cleaning operation by almost half. A light coat of coarse sand makes for easier cleaning of dropping boards and floors.

Plan on using a deep litter in the laying pens. It not only reduces the supply of litter needed annually but more than cuts in half the labour expended on litter management.

By spending a few minutes patching holes in wire netting over windows, on partitions and under perches, one may save hours trying to catch birds which escape through such holes. Better still, replace all light weight wire netting with a heavier wire or slats and reduce to a minimum the work of repairing. The extra cost of such wire would be more than offset by the prevention of loss of birds by enemies.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson and family of Cornwall were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Richardson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brownell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Warner and family, Northfield Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnot Helmer of Aultsville spent Sunday with Curtis Millross and Floyd.

Miss Helen Bush spent over the week-end at her home in Lunenburg.

Mr. Angus Bilmore of Strathmore, is spending some time at the home of Mertin Collins.

Miss Thelma Froats spent the week-end with her parents, Dunbar.

Grantley

After long months of suffering, Mrs. Maurice Shay passed to her reward on Sunday in a Cornwall hospital. A fine woman, of pleasing personality, and a splendid neighbour, she will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Our deepest sympathy goes out to her son and daughters in their great loss.

The Robinson families visited on Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Link and little son at Cass Bridge.

While trying to clear their lane of snow, Saturday, Jim Shay's team, in charge of the hired man, ran away with the sleigh and scraper filled with snow. Claude Carr caught the runaways and no damage was reported. On Sunday a snow plough and several young men of the community cleared the lane of snow.

The boundary is piled so high with snow it's just another Niagara gorge without the falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Darling and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Darling visited in Apple Hill on Sunday.

Mr .and Mrs. Ken Nugent of Berwick, spent an evening recently with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Carr and family.

Mr. Raymond, Apple Hill, is installing a milking machine for Reg. Darling this week.

Mr. Lorne Taylor of Dunbar, was calling on former neighbours one day last week.

Clever

"I hope you enjoyed your game with the major," said the hostess to one of her guests. "He's very clever at cards, isn't he?"

"He certainly is," replied the guest. "He started by telling my fortune, and now he's counting it."

A branch bank, wherever you find it, is likely to be an important hub in the business life of the community.

The manager of your nearby branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia has reason to believe that his bank is more than that. Over and above its routine function as a clearing house for the daily transactions of householders, farmers and business men, creative banking has an intimate knowledge of and a personal interest in the welfare of its neighbours.

The Bank of Nova Scotia manager would appreciate an opportunity to tell you more about creative banking and what it does.

Let's Get This Sugar Straight

Recent notices in the Press have set Canadian housewives in a tizzy over the amount of sugar each person is entitled to. These notices read "Canad receives 71 pounds of sugar per capita".

The words 'per capita' bogged everyone down. Housewives stormed the shops demanding their right, letters poured in asking where the rest of their sugar had gone, as they only received 41 pounds for each citizen—that 7 pounds covers the amount covered by personal coupons, also sugar used in hospitals, asylums, jails, institutions, colleges, boarding schools, manufacture of soft drinks and candy, bake shops, hotels, restaurants, snack bars, lumber camps, police outposts, Indian schools as well as the far Northern parts of Canada where rationing is impossible because a year and often 2 years' supplies are taken in by steamer in the summer over rivers and lakes that are ice bound eight months of the year.

In places like that it is impossible to ration it by coupon, but all these have their sugar allotments as well as the housewife serving her individual families from sugar rations by coupon.

Now some more good news comes along. On Wednesday, March 12th, the Hon. D. C. Abbott gives a new picture of the sugar situation, here is what he says.

"The sugar committee of the International Emergency Food Council of which Canada is a member, has recently completed its review for 1947 and the total available supply of sugar shows an encouraging improvement over 1946 but still falls considerably short of meeting current world requirements.

On the most optimistic assumption relating to crop out-turns the 1947 allocation to Canada (which for statistical purposes includes our domestic beet sugar production) will provide us with 93 pounds of raw sugar per capita which is equal to 87 pounds of refined sugar . . .

In other words, we can expect an improvement in 1947 of not less than 12 per cent and probably not more than 20 percent in comparison with 1946. But even this improved rate of supply will be at least 20 to 25 percent below what I might call the unrestricted and unrationed demand. It will, therefore, be obvious that we cannot anticipate the elimination of sugar-rationing for at least another twelve months."

Industrial users, such as candy and soft drink manufacturers, bakers, hotels, and all eating places, biscuit and cereal manufacturers, jam and confectionary makers, as well as all institutions will get their increased quota according to the family ration supply.

This is the story of sugar for 1947. In families of four or five, this increase will be a big help, in smaller groups it will certainly tend to give that little extra help between skimping and having enough to do with.

Believe It, If You Like

A Deaf Judge was hearing a case in which both plaintiff and defendant were also deaf.

The plaintiff said: "This man ought to be made to pay his rent."

The judge, not hearing the statement, said cautiously to the defendant: "And what have you got to say?"

"Well," said the defendant, "I grind my corn by night."

Finally, the judge said: "I have considered the action with great care and have come to the conclusion that both brothers are equally liable to support their mother."

HOW TO GET 25% MORE ASPARAGUS

Practical experiments have found that over-cutting asparagus quickly reduces yields. While the fertility of the soil and general cultural practices are important in obtaining high yields of asparagus, the length of the cutting season must be taken into consideration. A 10-year experiment at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Agassiz, B.C., has shown that 25 percent more asparagus can be obtained if the cutting period is stopped after eight weeks rather than allowed to continue for 12 weeks. During the first three years plants will yield more if they are cut for 12 weeks but after that, excessive cutting weakens the plants enormously. In the 10 years of the experiment the plots cut for eight weeks averaged 6,050 lbs per acre while those cut for 12 weeks produced only an average of 5,000 lbs per acre per year. In the final five years of the experiment, the eight-week plots produced 10,145 pounds per acre more than the 12-week plots—over five tons in five years.

The larger amounts from those plots cut for only eight weeks were produced earlier in the season than the smaller quantity cut from the 12-week plots. There was no difference in size of stalks cut early in the season but as the season progressed the 12-week plots produced smaller stalks.

It has been found that young beds can be quickly spoiled by cutting the second year after seeding. If one-year-old plants are set out, a light cutting of about four weeks' duration may be taken off during the second year although it is possibly better to wait until the third year when the beds may then be cut for eight weeks. If this procedure is followed and ample quantities of manure and fertilizer are used, high production over many years may be expected.

The Password

After the shipwreck a sailor was washed up on a lonely tropical island.

Thinking himself the sole survivor and full of dread that this might be the abode of cannibals, he went exploring. Presently he saw smoke ascending from a clump of shrubs. Just as he was preparing to bolt, he heard a voice say:

"Why the h— did you play that d— card?"

Thank Heaven—they're Christians! he exclaimed joyfully.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Faced with the problem of getting home after five o'clock from a meeting, or the office, many homemakers have been asking us for easy-to-prepare foods. Dishes which save precious moments and yet are nourishing at the same time are often based on partially-prepared products such as condensed soups, canned meats and the spaghetti or macaroni pieces. Budgeting will make you conscious of the advantage of using many commercially-packaged foods in combination with other home-grown items. In these few recipes we offer today there is good flavour—and note the variety.

CREAMED EGGS

4 hard-cooked eggs, ½ cup milk, 4 slices toast, 1 can condensed mushroom soup, 1 tbsp. chopped parsley.

Cut hard-cooked eggs in slices or chop. Heat mushroom soup in top part of double boiler. Add milk and eggs. When hot add chopped parsley. Pour over toast. Yield: 4 servings.

QUICK FISH CASSEROLE

1½ cups flaked cooked fish, 1 cup canned peas, or diced cooked celery, 1 bag potato chips, 1 can cream of mushroom soup.

Put fish, potato chips and peas in layers in greased casserole dish, reserving enough potato chips for top. Dilute mushroom soup with milk according to directions on can. Pour over fish and vegetables in casserole. Top with remaining potato chips. Bake in electric oven (350 degs.) from 20 to 30 mins. or until heated thoroughly. Yield: 4 servings.

MEAT CUBES IN TOMATO SAUCE

Inch cubes of canned meat, 1 small onion chopped, ½ tsp. salt, dash pepper, dash sage, 1|3 cup quick-cooking oats, 2 tbsps. dripping, 1 can condensed tomato soup, ½ cup water, ¼ tsp. chili powder.

Combine cubed beef, onion, seasonings and oats. Brown in skillet then place in greased casserole. Combine tomato soup, water and chili powder. Pour over meat; cover and bake in electric oven at 350 degs. for 20 mins. Yield. 4 servings.

TOMATO CHEESE SUPPER DISH

4 cups hot cooked rice, cooked spaghetti or diced cooked potatoes, 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 cup grated cheese.

Pile rice, spaghetti or cooked potatoes on hot serving plates. (If left-over potatoes are used, heat in top part of double boiler.) Heat condensed tomato soup. Pour over mounds of rice, spaghetti or potatoes. Sprinkle grated cheese on top. Garnish with parsley or cress. Yield: 4 servings.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

Mrs. G. A. says: I make dumplings with tomato juice and like them because they are light and look attractive.

Miss S. T. says: A piece of cinnamon added to waffle batter gives a spicy tang.

Mrs. C. D. says: Small meat balls can be made by forming the meat into a long roll, then cutting it into one-inch pieces.

Mr. A. J. says: I borrowed my wife's nail polish and painted the house key on my key ring, and hers too. Needless to say, it saves much time and trouble searching for this elusive key.

Life History of St. Patrick Given At Berwick Institute

St. Patrcik was remembered by Mrs. John Bogart at Berwick on Thursday night when a lengthy paper was given on "The Life of St. Patrick". The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Henry, when 14 members and three visitors answered the roll call with "a social habit, good or bad."

Mrs. Walter Ouderkirk, Mrs. Walter Smirl, Mrs. Edwin Pollock, Mrs. Wendall Henry and Mrs. John Bogart were elected a committee to make arrangements for an Easter dance.

Acknowledgements were received from the Adelaire Hoodless Fund and Chinese Relief Fund and for donations sent the Stormont Ward of St. Lawrence Sanatorium, as well as a plant sent.

Mrs. Edwin Pollock and Mrs. Alex Rutley were appointed leaders to attend leadership classes at Newington on March 20th and 21.

Mrs. Robert Stark read letters of thanks from Mrs. Will Stark and Mrs. George Smith for flowers received. Mrs. Lewis Hutt, Sr., moved a vote of thanks to the committee in charge of the anniversary celebration for the well-arranged and enjoyable evening spent despite the bad weather. Mary Rutley read Mrs. Rutley's paper on "Publicity." More names were added to the bazaar committee.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem. A social half hour was spent, lunch being served.

"By the jade Budda of Temple Shan Chi, honoured friend of my heart," said the Chinese business1 man, "I have leant a tricky mandarin in Canton street 2,000 Mexican trade dollars, and he has not given me a receipt. What shall I do?"

"Write sternly and demand the payment of the 4,000 silver pieces," suggested his friend.

"But, most careless listener, it was only 2,000 pieces."

"I know—but he will indignantly tell you so. That will serve as your receipt."
