Construction begins

CHESTERVILLE— Construction on Queen St. started Monday, and should be completed by the end of June. During construction, village residents going to the post office are asked to park on either King or Main St. This will make the contractors' work easier, and will ensure residents' safety.

Avonmore takes to Hill as post office fight heats up

Elizabeth Moreau
Record Staff

OTTAWA—About 70 Avonmore residents, some in their mothers' arms and others in wheelchairs, went on a "drive for dignity" Thursday to Parliament Hill in an eleventh-hour bid to save the local post office.

They presented Stormont-Dundas MP Bob Kilger with a petition containing over 800 names, and cheered several Liberal MPs who attended a rally. The citizens hope they can force Canada Post to reverse its decision to close the post office June 27.

"The Conservative members of Parliament seem bent on dismantling Canada," deputy Liberal leader Sheila Copps told the crowd. "Avonmore is the last straw. It's time to stop gutting small-town Canada."

The Avonmore contingent was one of several groups on the Hill to protest Canada Post's "Rural Conversion Plan," which will have closed most of the country's 5,521 rural post offices by 1996.

Liberal MP Francis LeBlanc said communities across Canada are working together to "turn back this wrong-headed policy."

LeBlanc represents the Nova Scotia riding of Cape Breton-Highlands-Canso where residents of Mabou are also facing a post office closure.

The crown corporation's policy seeks to privatize service through retail postal outlets (RPOs) or franchises. But no Avonmore business has expressed interest in operating an RPO. This means residents would have to travel 12 km to Finch to buy stamps.

"We're not talking about conversion here," Kilger said in an interview Friday. "We're talking about no service at all."

In the House of Commons Thursday, Kilger asked Harvie Andre, the Minister Responsible for Canada Post, to "back off and allow Avonmore to keep its post office open."

Andre said independent surveys have shown the policy has been effective. A Decima poll released last November found 90 per cent of people were satisfied with the changes in postal service.

"Obviously, the Minister does not want to talk about the many examples throughout rural Canada where no RPO can be provided to communities that no longer have a post office," said Kilger.

Murray Barkley, an Avonmore businessman who organized the bus trip to Ottawa, said the fight is not over. More protests are planned throughout June.

Barkley called Canada Post's policy "heavy-handed and ruthless." He said Avonmore residents wanted more input into the decision-making process. And, he added, the closure alienates rural Canadians from the rest of the country.

"At a time when federal institutions are so important, they are closing the only federal presence in town, and the only Canadian flag is being unceremoniously pulled down."

Canada Post has offered to install outdoor "superboxes," groups of mailboxes located not more than 180 metres from homes. But Roxborough Township Council last month passed a resolution banning the outdoor boxes. Residents are concerned about vandalism and littering.

Three-year-old Shawna Flanagan of Avonmore last week presented MP Bob Kilger with a children's petition to save the local post office.

Hazardous Waste Day Saturday

Elizabeth Moreau

MAPLE RIDGE—Most people have more toxic chemicals in their home than they might think.

Environmentalists agree that household cleaners under the kitchen sink, old prescription pills in the bathroom, and paint cans in the garage can all do damage if not disposed of properly.

This Saturday, Dundas County residents can safely dispose of any dangerous materials at the first- ever Hazardous Waste Collection Day.

Waste will be collected at the Matilda Township and Winchester Township garages from 8:00-11:30am, and at the Morrisburg PUC site from 1:00-4:30pm.

Disposal of dangerous goods in the area has been a problem, since landfill sites are supposed to refuse hazardous waste. Chemicals can seep into ground water, and aerosol containers can explode if run over by a bulldozer.

Dave Sloane, Winchester Township's landfill manager, hopes to see one car from each household in the township. He said trained volunteers will be on hand to unload and sort the materials.

Claire Theijsmeijer of the Dundas Environmental Awareness Group (DEAG) said most people have hundreds of chemicals in their homes. She said the materials should be left in the original containers so they can be easily identified and properly sorted.

Much of the collected materials will be safely disposed of by Laidlaw Waste Systems. Some chemicals will be taken to a secure landfill site, some will be neutralized, and others will be kept in storage until safe methods of disposal can be found.

Sloane said Laidlaw will sort the materials into different barrels. The disposal costs of $325 a barrel will be split betwen the municipalities and the Ministry of the Environment.

The individual municipalities will be responsible for the recycling of waste oils and vehicle batteries.

Some of the materials that will be accepted at the depots are: batteries, anti-freeze, oils, paint, stain, acids, pesticides, herbicides, aerosol cans (empty or full), ammunition, pharmaceuticals, household cleaners, propane cylinders and solvents.

Celebrating success

It's been a long time in coming, but the employees of Guildcrest Homes in Morewood were finally able to celebrate the completion of their first modular home last Thursday morning. The house, an energy-efficient R2000 model, was received by Frances and Lynn Taylor (on far left) of Taylor Homes Ltd. in Picton. In honour of their company's purchase, the couple was presented with a plaque by Guildcrest president David Poupore (far right) and vice-president Rob Patterson. Tours of the facility, which is geared to produce an average of two houses a week, were conducted following the plaque presentation and ribbon- cutting. Record photo - Todd

Council opposes closure of Registry Office

Elizabeth Moreau
Record Staff

CHESTERVILLE—Closure of land registry offices in Eastern Ontario will mean added costs and inconvenience for local residents, according to village Reeve Jim Cook.

"It's going to cost us money," Cook said in an interview Monday. "And we don't need anything that will cost us more, especially during a recession."

The closures, announced earlier this month by the Ministry of Consumer and Corporate Relations, are part of a consolidation which the province estimates will save $1 million annually.

"Some of the things we do in government are not cost-efficient," Cook said, "but the services should be provided."

At its regular meeting last Wednesday, village council passed a motion opposing the closures. Council will send letters and copies of the motion to the ministry and Premier Bob Rae.

"There seems to be a mind-set in the provincial government that bigger is better," Cook said of the consolidation. "That's not necessarily true."

The consolidation will affect 14 offices, including Morrisburg, Russell, Prescott, Alexandria and Almonte. Area lawyers will have to travel to the nearest major location in Cornwall.

The Canadian Bar Association estimates the additional cost to clients on each land transaction, mortgage, mortgage renewal or title search will be at least $100.

And many individuals will be inconvenienced, added Cook, since the land registry office is also a place where one can pay provincial taxes.

Cook hopes public opposition to the consolidation will be enough to stop it from happening. Noble Villeneuve, MPP for SDG & East Grenville, and local lawyers have already spoken out against the move.

"I'm very hopeful we can turn this thing around," Cook said.

Help CHEO help kids

CHESTERVILLE - Village residents will get their chance to help support the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario (CHEO) this weekend.

To help the annual CHEO Telethon meet its fund- raising goal, local volunteers will be setting up pledge tables in a number of local businesses this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In Chesterville the tables will be operating at Mike Dean's Super Food Store, Seaway Valley Pharmacy and Jumpin' Jacks. They will be open from 1-8pm on Thursday, 9am-9pm on Friday and 9am-5pm on Saturday.

Residents who open their pocketbooks at Mike Dean's will be amply rewarded with a free hot dog and a drink.

CHEO supporters will also be operating tables in Winchester at the IDA Drug Store, Fawcett's Jewellers and the Royal Bank and in Williamsburg at Canadian Tire and Whittaker's Parking Lot. A table will also be open to receive donations in Iroquois at the mall.

Additional funds will be raised for the hospital through a raffle for a gas barbecue donated by Mike Dean. Tickets will be on sale for three for a dollar this weekend at all donation tables.

The draw for the barbecue will be made at Mike Dean's Super Food Store at 4pm on Saturday.

Gale Real Estate has also been selling tickets to raise money for CHEO, offering chances to win a hot air balloon ride. The draw for the ride will take place at the Winchester village office on Thursday at 2pm.

On Saturday, Aug. 10 Greg's Quality Meats in Winchester will be the site of a barbecue in support of CHEO. Volunteers will be offering up meals of delicious quarter-pound hamburgers and drinks for just $1.50. Country music will be played for the entertainment of the crowd.

Crysler sewer and water system project facing funding difficulties

Brett Todd
Record Staff

CRYSLER - A financing problem with the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) has forced Finch Township to re-evaluate its funding of Crysler's $11 million sewer and water system.

According to Finch Township clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey, the OMB has said that the municipality's request for a debenture of $2,036,800 to pay its share of the project is too high.

Empey told The Record on Friday that the OMB has set a maximum debenture ceiling between $500,000 and $800,000, forcing the township to make up the difference of more than $1 million with pre- payments.

"We're way over capacity right now as far as that goes," he says. "The municipality is in good financial standing right now, but the OMB has limits and we have to come down to meet them."

That levy will only bring the new water and sewage lines up to the edge of each property. Owners will have to pay a separate fee for each individual hook-up, which was made mandatory by township council in a February bylaw.

Despite the financing difficulties, Empey says that he anticipates no difficulty in beginning construction on the lagoon system this autumn.

The sewer lines will carry waste to the 37 hecatre (91 acres) lagoon system to be dug northeast of Crysler.

The lagoons will consist of four cells with a total surface area of 17 hectares (42 acres). Sewage will initially be diverted into the first three ponds, where it will be treated with a primarily biological cleaning method.

The waste is then pumped into the fourth pond, where it undergoes the final cleaning process of aeration before being allowed to drain into the South Nation River.

Discharges into the river will be strictly controlled by the Ministry of the Environment (MOE), which allows effluent releases to be made once yearly. The discharge will be made each spring during the river's peak flow, ensuring that the treated sewage is properly dispersed.

Because the final design of the lagoon system has not been drawn up yet, the MOE has not been able to give its approval of the project. Their rubber-stamp is necessary before any work begins.

The sewer and water system is being installed because of local health unit tests that showed some septic tanks have been leaking into wells and some have been emptied directly into the South Nation. Communities downstream from Crysler have been complaining about river pollution.

The new system solves all these problems by connecting all buildings in the village with two new wells drilled several years ago east of Crysler.

No decision has been made concerning how to raise the money, although Empey said that the township is looking at having residents make pre-payments to bring down the amount to be debentured. He is currently studying the payment plan used by the village of Embrun to pay for their sewer system a few years ago.

"They (Embrun village council) worked out some kind of an arrangement with a bank, which lent money to the individual ratepayers to make their pre-payments," explained Empey.

Right now the township is waiting to receive its copy of a report being compiled by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs for the OMB. That report will detail the maximum amount that the township can debenture.

Owners of the 252 properties assessed in the village will each be hit with a levy of $7,475.

Newington UCW meets

NEWINGTON - Newington United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Waldroff with Mrs. Russell Cooper presiding over nineteen members and Mrs. Russell Presley conducting worship, using as her theme a Tribute to Mothers.

Secretary Fay Beckstead presented correspondence and business relating to this was dealt with, namely the June 11 meeting of Presbyterial at Lancaster, the attendance to which several members subscribed.

The usual monetary donations to two local children's camps were approved. It was announced that the sum of $550 was given to support the M&S work during 1991.

Lydia Pettit read a very interesting article on the commendable work of Mrs. Ben Wicks in support of impoverished areas of the world. Under her supervision 50,000 blankets were sent to Ethiopia and 15,000 tubes of eye ointment shipped to Haiti in 1980. She has also been able to arrange for a large amount of medical supplies to be sent to those countries since 1983, as well as used hospital equipment from some of our larger institutions.

Both she and her husband Ben, coming from an underprivileged area of England to Toronto in 1945 found an open field for their interests as he became a recognized full-time cartoonist on relief programs. His portrayal of human weaknesses won for him world-wide acclaim as they unassumingly pursue their sincere interest and support of relief organizations.

Upper Canada Village breaks records with opening weekend

MORRISBURG - The old credo that records are made to be broken is certainly one that the St. Lawrence Parks Commission subscribes in.

Many of the organization's premier attractions kicked off the 1991 season by drawing a record number of visitors through the turnstiles. The new season began on the traditional Victoria Day weekend, everything opening for business on Sun., May 19.

Commission chairman George Speal was very pleased with the turnout, noting that many were drawn to Upper Canada Village east of Morrisburg and Fort Henry in Kingston because of a number of new attractions.

"We wanted to introduce people to our new facilities, services and special events for 1991," explains Speal. "Families were very interested to see our many fun activities for children and plan to come back often throughout the year."

A total of 7,231 people visited Upper Canada Village on May 19 alone, a dramatic increase of 4,056 from last year when just 3,175 came out. Gabriele Thomas, the commission's public relations and promotions officer, was impressed with the turnout, calling it one of the best Victoria Day weekend celebrations in village history.

The picture upriver in Kingston was a similar one, 4,659 crowding into Fort Henry to take part in its opening-day celebrations. The increase there was also a substantial one, the 19th century fortification drawing 3,259 more than last year.

A number of prominent government officials helped the commission open the season at both Upper Canada Village and Fort Henry. Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville MPP Noble Villeneuve, the assistant to the provincial minister of tourism and recreation, Dan Waters and the minister of government services, Fred Wilson were among those on hand.

Aside from the high-profile attractions of Upper Canada Village and Fort Henry, the commission's parks, campgrounds and picnic areas also turned in a record-breaking opening weekend.

More than 5,000 day-use visitors were counted during the weekend while 842 campsites were booked.

Sunshine and cows draw crowds to Maxville Spring Fair

Elizabeth Moreau
Record Staff

MAXVILLE—The weather that left many Ontarians ducking for cover over the weekend kindly spared the 102nd annual Maxville Spring Fair, which was held under much sunshine from Friday to Sunday.

Kenyon Agricultural Society secretary Janice Blaney said although the weather could have been slightly better, the fair was a great success. The heavy rain didn't hit Maxville until late Sunday afternoon, when events were winding down.

"The last baseball and soccer games were played in the pouring rain," Blaney said, "but no one seemed to mind."

Blaney said the fair drew between 8,000 and 9,000 visitors, slightly more than last year. She wasn't surprised that Friday night's demolition derby drew the largest crowd; it usually does.

This year a garden tractor pull was held for the first time, and proved to be popular. Blaney said the event will be held again next year, and should be bigger than the first.

Turnout was also high for the many children's events held on Sunday. Kids enjoyed a magic show, and proud parents entered their babies in a contest.

"We didn't know there were so many babies around," Blaney laughed.

As in previous years, the cattle shows drew large crowds. The spring Holstein show was held on Friday, when about 190 exhibits were judged by Glen MacNeil of Godrich.

The junior Holstein champion was Leeland Ultimate Faith, a senior yearling shown by Greg Wilcon of Kingstead Farms in Lindsay. The grand champion, also shown by Kingstead Farms, was Rossland Astro Kat, a mature cow who also won the award for best udder.

Cher-Own Holsteins of Paris were named premier breeders, and Pamtom Holsteins of Hudson Falls, NY, were named premier exhibitors.

The Ayrshire and Jersey spring shows were held Saturday. In the Jersey show, Jim Livock from Oakville judged 23 exhibits from three farms. The show was dominated by C.W. Berry's North River Farm of Lachute, Que., and J.J. MacKenzie & Son Farm of Finch. MacKenzie was named both premier breeder and premier exhibitor.

Both the junior and grand champion Jerseys were shown by North River Farm. North River S.J. Babe, who placed first in the calf class, was named junior champion. North River L.C. Jane, who placed first in the five-year-old class, was named grand champion, and also won the award for best udder.

The Ayrshire show featured 42 exhibits from seven farms. Donald and Ken Rose of Mountain were named premier breeders and showed the grand champion, six-year-old Rosayre Desdemona. She also won the award for best udder.

Neil Kittle of Winchester was named premier exhibitor, after showing the junior champion, Forever Schooner Deidre, who placed first in the senior yearling class.

Stamp of disapproval

So Canada Post thinks those of us in rural Canada are uneconomical. We're inefficient. Not cost effective. We're an ink blot on the crown corporation's bottom line. Inconvenient. Inefficient. In short, a royal pain in the butt.

Canada Post's answer? Close post offices. Keep post offices open only where they are are guaranteed to make a profit. In outlying areas and new housing developments, the rocket scientists who run the corporation have substituted their "super boxes" (their terminology, not ours) and Retail Postal Outlets (RPOs) as substitutes for the traditional post office.

Many rural residents, including the good citizens of Avonmore, have deemed these to be unacceptable substitutes and are hopping mad at the high-handed measures and attitudes adopted by postal officials in announcing the closure of post offices in many rural communities.

In Avonmore's case, Canada Post officials have announced that the village's post office will close June 27 and are willing only to discuss the substitution of super boxes, RPOs or franchise outlets. That the Avonmore Post Officie will close June 27 is a certainty. Keeping it open past the June date is "not an option", according to Canada Post representative Nick Dinelle.

Avonmore residents have responded by protesting the decision at the township council level, at a public meeting with postal officials and, last Thursday, on Parliament Hill. (They must have seemed an oddity on the Hill. Imagine: a group protesting something other than social conditions in a Third World country. Boggles the mind, eh?)

Township council has done its part by banning super boxes from Roxborough Township, although the legality of this move would probably be short-lived in any court should the decision be challenged.

Village and area residents have promised to keep up their end of the protest, but it seems the fight will be a valiant though futile one given the size of Avonmore in comparison with the might, majesty, dominion and power of a crown corporation.

What is needed is for rural Canada to stand up and tell the Tory bottom-liners in Ottawa that we are fed up at being treated like second-class citizens and are not to be viewed simply as inefficient consumers of the postal service.

Our tax dollars were evey bit as good as urban dwellers' when they were being used to subsidize the legendary inefficiency of the post office. It's not our fault that a succession of weak-kneed federal governments allowed the post office to become a monument to ineptitude the likes of which not even a Bulgarian Marxist in his wildest flights of central-planning fancy could have erected. We dutifully sent our tax dollars to Ottawa even at a time when those who received their mail at post offices were required to rent their postal boxes while those on rural routes and in urban areas had their mail delivered free of charge to their door (or gate).

Now, once again, we are being forced to subsidize postal and federal government inefficiency through the closure of our post offices. We didn't create the problem, but we are being forced, against our will, to be part of the solution.

If the post office won't listen, then perhaps it's time time to take the message to Tory MPs. Write to any and all of them to express your unhappiness. (Even better, glue them to a brick, remembering of course, that mail to Parliament Hill addresses need not carry postage). Include the local Tory federal riding association on your hit list and, where possible, get hold of MPs' FAX numbers and start clogging their lines with your protests.

If all these measures fail, then accept Canada Post's edict with good grace but promise yourself never to vote Tory again.

Public resentment

The Editor:

The Rae government's abolition of the Oath to the Queen taken by Ontario Police Officers and Commissioners has properly aroused wide public resentment. The foolishness of this move has been compounded by arrogance: Beverly Morley, the Premier's Appointment Secretary, informs the League that "this isn't an issue outside Toronto", an assertion certain to be rejected around the province.

The abolition of the oath is wrong for a variety of reasons: first, it is insulting to Her Majesty the Queen, whose service, dedication and stable influence are widely respected and admired by most Canadians. Second, by taking this step allegedly in the name of making police forces more accessible to our ethnic communities, Mr. Rae insults their loyalty to the Crown. Many immigrants and new Canadians have come to this land precisely because of the freedom and prosperity we enjoy here under our parliamentary monarchy.

In addition, the premier has succumbed to the 'cafeteria' Canadianism' of Susan Eng and those of her ilk. This is the dangerous position that suggests Canadians have the right to opt out of any part of the country which happens not to appeal to them. Such an attitude can only further contribute to the disunity of our land. Further Mr. Rae shows gross insensitivity by adding the monarchy —one of the few unifying forces in a divided Canada —to the already emotional debates about the constitution.

We need to take immediate action to condemn Mr. Rae's republican initiative. Ontarians who would like background information and a petition form which they can circulate to friends and neighbors urging the reversal of this wrong, insulting decision should write the Monarchist League of Canada at P.O. Box 1057, Oakville, Ont., L6J 5E9. Let's send the premier a message he won't forget, whether we live close to or far from Toronto!

Yours faithfully,
John Aimers,
Dominion Chairman

Garbage arriving in an envelope

Brett Todd
Record Staff

My wastebasket is always full of garbage.

That's probably not a big surprise to anyone, since most people have some kind of a daily experience with trash. However, mine is different than most. Hence the reason for the following explanation.

Every day, without fail, one of the two handy waste receptacles by my feet is filled with hastily-read and hastily-discarded meaningless mail. Meaningless, you ask? Well, since the advent of the fabled fax machine, little news of earthshaking importance arrives on my desk by way of Canada Post's pony express-like service anymore.

Because of this, the daily rip-read-recycle routine has become very boring. If not for the chance that one would discard something important, the tendency to throw the whole lot away without opening any of it would be overpowering.

But, because one does not want to take any unnecessary risks, one opens every envelope, peruses every letter. Most of it seems to come from government ministries, each one of which has a public relations person who wants the citizens of Chesterville to know every last detail about gardening trends in Goose Bay, labour relations in Don Mills (whatever happened to Cheaplaffs, anyways?), Inuit living conditions in Povungnituk, etc., etc., etc.

However, while such information is not important to either the staff of The Chesterville Record or its readers, it is important to somebody out there somewhere. None of it is junk mail - garbage, until I decided it is and it hits my wastebasket.

Usually, that is.

After the death of Meech Lake and the ghostly rise of Quebecois separation from the still-warm corpse, a lot of letters have crossed my desk that would have to be classified as garbage by anyone, anywhere. From across the country, and sometimes from across the backyard fence, come numerous examples of what one has to describe as hate literature.

The latest such missive arrived on Monday in the form of an unsigned letter bearing a Brighton, Ont. postmark. In a style that has become all-too typical of late, the cowardly anonymous author raved for eight single-spaced pages about the threat posed to Canada by The French.

According to the writer, this French horde is on the verge of destroying Canada as we know it, overthrowing the English majority and forging a new, unilingual nation of citizens who will kneel at the sight of the fleur-de-lis.

Fascinating stuff, to be sure, but are the illiterate ravings of a few fringe-dwelling political hacks worth worrying about? After all, aren't such half-baked diatribes more deserving of laughter than anger?

At one point, maybe last summer, when emotions were still running high, I might have shrugged it off as an unfortunate but necessary part of the Meech Lake aftermath. Not any longer. Everything seems to be picking up speed as we descend downhill and if we don't apply the brake soon it will be too late to stop.

Last summer, at least, Canada's French-speaking citizens were at least still considered as people, as individuals. Now they are not. They are merely a faceless mass, without personality, without humanity.

In the late 19th century, a similar process of dehumanization began in Europe, pamphlets and newsletters alerting the average citizen of the dangers posed by "World Jewry". By the close of the First World War, such racist opinions had become widespread, finding fervent believers throughout the continent.

Hate literature rose immediately after the war, a document which came to be known as The Protocols of the Elders of Zion arousing strong feelings when it first emerged in 1920. Although its legitimacy was eventually disproven, the treatise's description of a Jewish conspiracy aiming for world domination continued to be believed for many years by certain people and organizations.

The Protocols seemed to inspire the publication of other similar works, and soon anti-semitic pamphlets became a common sight on newsstands in cities such as Vienna, Munich and Berlin. Jews were no longer people, they were a collective, forming a massive and invisible conspiracy which was corrupting all aspects of European society.

This "Jewish problem" became a primary issue for political parties before too long and soon the de- humanization process was complete. The end result of this process, which culminated in Germany with the implementation of the Final Solution, is too well-known for me to go over again here.

While I am certainly not trying to say that anyone in English Canada with a grievance over Quebec is a candidate for Nazi party membership, one would have to be a fool not to notice the similarities between Germany in the 1920s and Canada in the 1990s. Both nations were and are, faced with constitutional crises, economic recessions and searches for national identities needing answers.

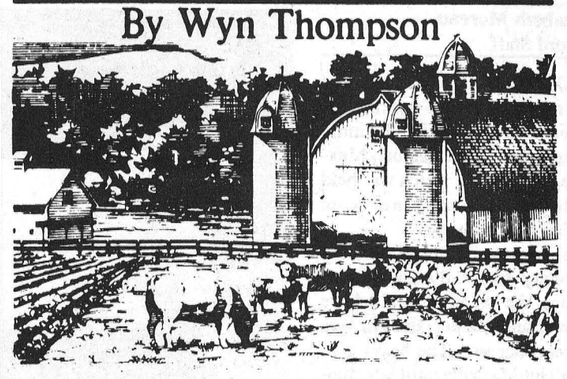
As it seems to be human nature to find someone to blame, scapegoats are sought out. As history has shown us, any sort of minority is always a good choice to target.

Although the chance of bloodshed in Canada over the latest constitutional crisis is still a slim one, no-one should take the opinion that it could not happen. Just because this is Canada, the boring nation of sober second thought, does not ensure an environment free of hate.

Hate is international, and if we are not careful, it could find an agreeable home here.

The Farmer's Wife

By Wyn Thompson



We have birds on our windowsill. For many years I have fed the birds and written about them; mostly in relation to my own bailiwick.

These birds of ours are resort residents for they are co-owners of our property. They are not pelicans or puffins; they are not exotic visitors from mighty mountains or arrid deserts...nothing so glamorous as that. But they are honest-to- goodness birds, home-loving birds, not at all ashamed of being known as common ones.

As well as many tourist birds, there are several species which nest within sight of my dining room window. This window attracts a large number of insects which in turn attract the birds, which hop about on the windowsill and help themselves.

The sparrows, of course, are year-round residents, but of the spring arrivals the robins always arrive first. There is something about robins that no other birds quite have. Is it the calm and confident way they hop across the lawn advising everyone to "Cheer-up, Cheer-up."

At any rate, I look forward to their return each spring.

Then the redwing blackbirds arrive to join the numerous other blackbirds already in place. They squabble and fight and attempt to rout the grosbeaks.

"Blackbirds are a nuisance," I tell the Farmer, "they should be equipped with leather jackets and bicycle chains, and not try to pose as respectable citizens."

Then come the starlings, the kildeer, the phoebes, the wrens and finally one morning the Farmer announces, "The swallows are back," a sure sign of spring as far as he is concerned.

The swallows do love my windowsill. They gorge themselves on insects within four feet of where we are eating and then sit preening their glossy, blue-black wings. The mother swallow is sitting now and I see little of her.

A little after the swallows arrived two male hummingbirds appeared on the scene. They were all wonderfully attired in their almost irridescent feather coats, and they spent some time establishing territorial rights at our sugar and water daisy feeder hanging outside my kitchen window.

A week later, two little females attired in drabber costumes joined them. Next, I will see what appears to be tiny bumblebees regularly calling at the sweet-water feeder. Upon closer scrutiny, I will find they are the progeny of my hummingbirds. They will excite our lives with their aerial acrobatics and minor skirmishes all summer long.

The kingbirds have returned while the woodpeckers are enjoying the suet bags I still have in place for them. Very soon, as the weather grows warmer, I will have to remove them.

The yellow goldfinch in their wonderfully cheery attire stay close to their feeder, as do the purple finch, although not in such great numbers.

I am more than lucky with birds. For one thing, I never use any noxious spray against the insects outside my door. I am amused by friends who come occasionally, and who have never learnt to live with insects as country folk have.

They beat as madly at a harmless moth or fly as they do at a wasp. They are only too willing to hark to the TV advertisements and urge me to buy protection from fancied dangers. This is not to say that I don't get a bit weary of mosquitoes, and yet more mosquitoes.

It soon will be the time of the wild roses. We will not need to bend down to catch their fragrance, for the air will be full of it. As the air along the Rideau Canal in Ottawa during the tulip festival was full of the fragrance of tulips and flowering trees! A friend and her daughter-in- law and I, having appointments in the city, packed a lunch and ate it amid the gloriously-hued tulip beds on a wonderful May day.

A few days ago we had a couple of good showers, a mere forerunner of the two-day rains which the farmers look forward to after the crops are in the ground. Already the barley is well up and thirsty and the tiny shoots of corn will soon need much heat and moisture, as well.

Now at Hill House the lilacs reach the roof. My friend Mary said, "You will soon have to pick the lilacs from the roof." But, they mark the passing of time for, fifteen years ago when we came here we planted a few weak, stunted switches, watered them, fed them lavishly, and now they are a picture outside our bedroom window.

Likewise, the Farmer's little apple tree planted in honour of Ontario's bicentennial. It was once the size of a ruler, yet now spreads a pinky-white glow over a little corner of the lawn.

In fact, Eastern Ontario has dazzled everyone with bloom all throughout the month of May. And I ask myself, is this the same countryside that only a few months ago was swept by bitter winds?

Or did I only imagine the stinging snow and glittering icicles? Changing seasons are a wonderful mystery. Time has folded winter away; soon June will arrive and summer will make May just a memory.

This week the full flowering moon floats above the horizon, serene and eternal. Its light casts shadows delicate as filigree. The rich nighttime is beautifully scented with lilacs.

When I go out at dusk for a last walk around the yard I caution Lady not to bark so she won't disturb the magic of this May night. A countrywoman can stand a long time in the May moonlight, lost in the wonder of this special season.

Looking forward to September studies

Brett Todd
Record Staff

INGLESIDE - Although most of his students probably wouldn't say the same, Rothwell-Osnabruck School vice-principal Doug Anderson is looking forward to getting back to school this fall.

Not that Anderson has anything against summer vacations, but the 25-year veteran of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry School Board is anxious to take over as school principal. He will be replacing the departing Doug Murray, who leaves for Seaway District High School in Iroquois this September.

Anderson comes with an impressive resume, having been principal of Riverside Heights Public School in Morrisburg for three years, Martintown Public School for six years and Monkland Public School for three years.

With the appointment, Anderson becomes the first elementary school administrator in the local school system to take over a secondary school. Rothwell-Osnabruck is the only school in the united counties with elementary and secondary students in the same building.

The school serves a population of 335 elementary students between Junior Kindergarten and Grade 8 and 235 secondary pupils from Grade 9 through Grade 12 OAC.

In the past, the vice-principal was in charge of the elementary side of the school, but that will change starting next year.

"We used to have the principal take charge of the secondary school and the vice-principal run the elementary school," explained Anderson. "Now the new vice-principal and myself will run everything together with each of us assuming responsibility in different areas."

Rather than be satisfied with the combination of the secondary and the elementary administration, Anderson would like to see teachers work with both groups of students as well.

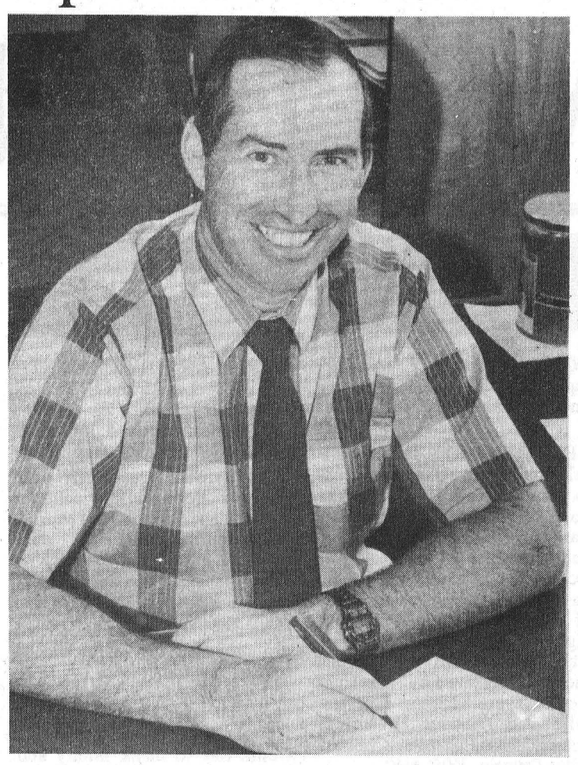
He says that he has heard "a lot of interest" from teachers who are thinking about teaching grades they have not experienced.

"So far, we've had some secondary teachers ask about teaching the elementary grades and some elementary teachers ask about trying the secondary ones," says Anderson.

He hopes that the intermingling of the teachers will eliminate the "panel-bashing" that exists between secondary and elementary teachers. Although that problem is not a serious one at Rothwell-Osnabruck, some teachers still have a tendency to berate their colleagues in the other grade levels.

Another option Anderson is looking at is moving secondary and elementary classrooms closer together. He hopes that will eliminate some of the trepidation experienced by the younger students when they graduate into secondary school.

This idea may not be one greeted with open arms by parents, he admits, many having mentioned their concerns about the bad influence that the older students could have on the younger ones.



Rothwell-Osnabruck School vice-principal Doug Anderson will be taking over as principal of his school this fall and he couldn't be happier about the additional workload.

Ontario Hydro on the look-out for hazardous heating systems

CORNWALL - Ontario Hydro is sending out a warning to people who are currently heating their homes with the Flex-Heat brand ceiling-mounted heating system.

Earlier this year an advisory was sent out to residents, alerting them to a manufacturing defect in the system. The flaw is responsible for a fire hazard that has turned out to be even more serious than first imagined.

So far, Ontario Hydro has already inspected about 400 homes with the Flex-Heat system, but the utility is still worried about the many more that have not yet been examined.

Evidence gathered from the 400 inspections already done has proven the Flex-Heat system will eventually stop working without warning and become a fire hazard.

In about 15 of the homes inspected parts of the systems had caused sparking that charred adjacent material, and another 25 per cent of the ones checked had already been replaced after they had stopped working.

Ontario Hydro electrical safety inspectors will be visiting all identified Flex-Heat residences to speak to the owners about the product. They will also make recommendations about the safe disconnection of the systems.

Hydro estimates that there are approximately 900 Flex-Heat systems in the province, up from the 600 originally thought. Many of the additional units are in use in the L'Orignal and Hawkesbury areas.

Only the Flex-Heat ceiling-mounted system is affected by this warning.

Marking academic achievement

Although Ann McNab's high school years are now behind her, the first-year University of Waterloo science student is still being honoured for her achievements at North Dundas District High School. Last week she was presented with a plaque signed by Prime Minister Brian Mulroney that celebrated her winning of a prestigious Canada Scholarship Certificate last year. On hand to celebrate with McNab was her mother, Eileen (far left), Al Gowanlock, head of the NDDHS science department (far right) and Bill Sherwood, head of the math department. Record photo - Todd

IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORIAM

COOPER - In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Wade Cooper, who passed away May 28, 1988.

"We miss you in so many ways",
We miss the things you used to say,
And when old times we do recall,
It's then we miss you most of all.

Forever remembered by mother Shirley, and Don, sister Tammy and brother Gary and family

IN MEMORIAM

NUGENT - In loving memory of a dearly beloved husband, father and grandfather Robert, who passed away May 28, 1990.

God saw you getting tired,
And a cure was not to be,
So He put his arms around you,
And whispered, "Come to me".
With tearful eyes we watched you,
And saw you pass away,
Although we loved you dearly,
We could not make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands at rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.

Always remembered, wife, Frances, children and grandchildren

Record Sports

Unbeaten Selects remain league's best lob ball team

WINCHESTER - The Chesterville Selects remain unbeaten after three weeks of action in the Winchester and District Lob Ball League.

The perfect 5-0 record puts the Selects on top of the league with 10 points. Shonroy shares the lead in the points race.

Last week the Selects added two wins to their perfect record by posting a 26-22 victory over Legion 108 on Tuesday, May 21. On Wednesday night, the club mounted a 14-8 win against Inkerman.

Thirteen runs in the second inning enabling the Selects to take their fourth win of the season. However, Legion 108 did make a game of it in the sixth by tying the game at 20. The deadlock didn't last for long. Chesterville racked up six runs for the cameback.

The Legion squad managed to bring home the first run of the game. Sam Gibson tripled to hit Mark Armstrong in for the lead, but was left stranded on the base.

Chesterville had no problems taking the edge before the end of the first inning. Neil Beckstead, Pat Imrie, Sean Boulerice and Shawn Chambers circled the bases to take a 4-1 lead. Don Imrie connected with the ball for a double, but was unable to make it any further.

Second inning home runs from Greg Beckstead and Pat Imrie help the Selects' winning cause. All but one Select circled the bases at least twice, with Beckstead collecting three runs in the 13 point inning.

In the third inning, the Legion struckback knocking in six runners. Only one run was scored in the fourth. The Legion squad narrowed the gap by nine to make it 17-8.

Both club's racked up three more runs during the fifth inning. Shawn Beckstead, Shawn Chambers and Don Imrie all made the trip home for the Selects.

A superb inning by the Legion tied the game at 20 runs apiece midway through the sixth. However, Chesterville took back their commanding lead before the end of the inning.

Greg Beckstead hit in his second home run of the game to clear the loaded bases for the Selects. Chambers, Don Imrie and Neil Beckstead all touched home on Greg's hit. Boulerice and Shawn Beckstead also made it home safely during the sixth.

The Legion managed only two more runs during the top of the seventh, therefore handing Chesterville the 26-22 victory.

Chesterville 14 - Inkerman 8

The Chesterville Selects' score wasn't as high, but it was just as effective as their last encounter.

Game five ended with a 14-8 decision in favor of Chesterville while Inkerman was on the losing end.

Chesterville collected six runs during the first inning while Inkerman run in four. Greg Beckstead, Pat Imrie, Sean Boulerice, Shawn Beckstead and Dale Beckstead all rounded the bases for the Selects' lead.

Greg Beckstead was the only man to circle the bases in the second inning to give Chesterville a 7-4 lead after two. But Inkerman got th lead back in the third.

The Selects finally got the ball moving during the top of the fifth. Don Imrie homered, knocking in Shawn Beckstead and Dale Beckstead for a 10-5 lead.

During the sixth, Pat Imrie, Garry Beckstead, Boulerice and Shawn Beckstead added a run each to Chesterville's commanding lead. Inkerman scored twice in the inning and held Chesterville scoreless in the seventh, but were unable to close the gap adding just one more during its final at-bat.

Vice Taplen edge out the Morewood Senators, 6-4

WINCHESTER - Two runs made the difference in a match up between the Morewood Senators and Vice Taplen on Thursday.

A 6-4 score in Taplen's favor gave the Senators their second defeat of their season.

Taplen's Dwayne Fawcett brought himself in with a round-tripper to get things started in the second. Rob Sanders ran the lead up to 2-0 midway through the inning, when Bruce Angus connected for a double to send him home.

Sanders homered in the fourth, while Angus and Don Fawcett rounded the bases on a double struck by Dolen to give Taplen a 5-0 lead.

The Senators brought home their first run of the game in the fourth when Kent McMillan circled the bases.

Fawcett hit a three-bagger to send Dale Simms home from first base for Taplen's only run of the fifth, and final score of the encounter.

Morewood knocked in half of their four run tally during the bottom of the fifth, Troy Helmer and Greg Stickle crossing home plate, while Paul Allen and McMillan were left stranded on third and second base.

The Senators' Chris Eamen connected for a triple to enable Eddy Leger to touch the plate for the last run of the game.

Zrymiak, Foley qualify for Ontario championships

BROCKVILLE - North Dundas District High School sent one dozen athletes here to Grenville Christian College and the 1991 East Regional Track and Field Championships.

Of that number two have made the grade and will carry their school colors to the pinnacle of competition –this week's (Friday and Saturday) All Ontario (OFSSAA) Championships in Sudbury.

Sprinter Laura Zrymiak and hurdle specialist Tonia Foley proved to be among the best athletes in their events in the eastern portion of Ontario and will now face the best high school competitors in the entire province.

Zrymiak, a third year competitor and first year Junior, finished in an impressive time of 12.76 seconds and qualified second in the junior girls 100m sprint.

Tonia Foley, a Midget-aged runner, will be making her second trip to OFSSAA. She timed 12.80 seconds and was third in the 80m sprint hurdles.

A third member of the Devils' Track Team, Junior runner Jamie Kennedy missed a chance to run at the All-Ontarios by 7/100 of a second.

Kennedy ran a 42.40 seconds in the timed sections of the 300m hurdles. He was fourth in his section, unfortunately someone in another section was timed 7/100 of a second faster. Only the top four competitors in each event go on to OFSSAA.

Devils' coach Hugh Conlin said he was, "Very pleased", with the way the Regionals unfolded this year.

"We had two qualify for OFSSAA, Laura (Zrymiak) and Tonia (Foley) and Jamie (Kennedy) just missed. And I would guess to qualify two and almost three from a school our size would be normal," he explained.

Conlin continued, "I think they both have a good chance to do well in Sudbury."

"Laura was fifth in the Ontario 100m final last year. And she looks to be fully recovered from that hamstring injury. She is running with more confidence each week."

"Tonia also is running faster each week. It is her second year at the All-Ontarios and I would think her goal would be to make the final this year."

North Dundas Devils taking part in last Friday's East Regionals were Laura Zrymiak, Tonia Foley, Jamie Kennedy, Rebecca Kennedy, Jayme O'Reilly, Mike Andre, Darren Hutt, Tina Pepin, Sean Salter, Megan Filion and the Midget girls 4x100m relay team of Tonia Foley, Rebecca Kennedy, Michelle Casselman and Carolyn Smirle.

That NDDHS relay team finished ninth fastest in a time of 56.23 seconds.

Senior Jayme O'Reilly made the final of the 200m sprint and wound up eighth in 25.8 seconds.

McInnis mounts Flyers win

CHESTERVILLE - Camille McInnis scored three goals and assisted on two others to lead Fraser's Flyers to a 5-1 victory over the Melon Balls last Thursday in Winchester-Chesterville Ladies Ball Hockey League action.

After giving up the first goal of the contest, the victorious Flyers bounced back with six goals of their own, although some felt the true tally was six.

The Flyers' Noreen Skuce thought she scored with just seconds left in the first period, but, confusion in front of the net led the referee to disallow the apparent goal.

Before the controversial play, a 1-0 lead was taken by the Melon Balls when Tara Berry fired the ball past Flyers' goaltender Elaine TePlate. Lise Van Kessel and Cristie Bryan made sure Berry received the ball.

After the disappointing call on the Flyers, the team collected themselves to mount the tying marker. Just 4:03 into the second session, McInnis nailed the tying goal with help from Patti Hall and Pam Kirkwood.

McInnis snapped the 1-1 tie when she scored what proved to be the winning goal with just 17 seconds remaining in the second. Catie Clapp and Amy Fraser made the goal possible.

Fraser started things off in the final period by completing a play that was set up for her by McInnis and Skuce at 11:29.

It took 38 seconds for the Flyers trio to score again, giving the team a 4-1 lead. Skuce scored by flicking in a pass from McInnis and Fraser.

McInnis completed the games scoring list went she wrapped up her hat-trick performance with 3:57 remaining on the clock. Clapp and Skuce assisted on the play against Melon Balls' goalie Debbie Stoate.

Flamingos 3 - Bruisers 0

Heather Crummy played perfectly between the Pink Flamingos' pipes while the league's top scorer Linda Hamelin scored twice to blank Erwin's Bruisers 3-0.

The win enabled the squad to strengthen their hold on lone possession of first place in the four team circuit.

Hamelin demolished the scoreless tie with 3:55 left in the first period when she completed the play that was set up for her by Kelly Durant.

It didn't take long for Hamelin to added to the Flamingos lead. With just six seconds remaining before the first intermission she created the 2-0 lead with assistance from Martina Thurler.

Both squads were held scoreless during the second frame.

Lori Marriner ran into scoring territory with a pass from Rhonda MacIntosh. Marriner outplayed Bruisers' goaltender Debbie Stoate to mark the 3-0 win at 13:16 remaining in the contest.

Fishy fellows

Nation River Anglers' weekend derby makes a big splash

CHESTERVILLE - About forty people took to the waters last weekend for the Nation River Anglers Annual Walleye and Pike Derby.

"The derby was probably one of our best," said club president Steve Dillabough.

Nearly 50 fish were weighed in during the weekend event.

Jack Lannin hooked a 5lbs 5.75oz pike to claim first prize in the men's pike category. Adrean VanBreugel was second with a 5lbs 5.5oz fish.

Barb VanBreugel reeled in the largest pike in the ladies division. Her catch weighed in at 4lbs, 0.5oz ahead of Charlene Gibault's 3lbs, 11.5oz pike.

In the men's pickerel class, John Heuff hooked the largest fish, which tipped the scales at 8lbs, 10oz. Troy McMillan placed second with a fish weighing in at 6lbs, 0.75oz.

Barb Reddick was the only women in the derby to reel in a pickerel. The fish was 5lbs, 12oz.

Matias Espinoza was the top junior competitor at the derby. He caught a 6lbs, 14oz fish. Derek Shaver's 5lbs, 9.25oz catch awarded him the second place prize, while Jamie Van Breugel came in third with a fish weighing at 5lbs, 9oz.

The mens hidden-weight winner was Steven Dillabough, who perfectly guessed the weight of 3lbs, 10oz.

Barb Van Breugel was the closest to the women's weight of 4lbs, 0.5oz. Her guess was 4lbs even.

The junior hidden-weight winner was Joann Germain with a guess one ounce lighter than the the actual 2lbs, 11oz weight.

Dillabough said that the rain on Sunday didn't deter people from participating, and "all in all it was an excellent derby."

The Saturday night fish fry was again a popular attraction. Although the meal has been free of charge in the past, Dillabough said he expects the club will charge $1.00 each for adults during their next derby, which will be held on June 29 and 30.

Golfer Munro still on top

Winchester golfer Lee Anne Munro continued to dominate the Ladies' Night leader board firing a 42 enroute to a low gross "A" Class victory May 15.

Chesterville's Anne Cook stroked a 49 (retro) and took the "B" Class prize. Muriel Whitteker toured the nine hole lay-out in 50 and emerged with the best "C" Class score.

Pat Monast, Chesterville, posted a 55 and took the low gross prize in "D" Class.

Low net winners on the evening were Brenda Waddell in "A" Class (33 retro), Janet Hillis in "B" Class with a 32, Marie Beckstead in "C" Class with a 30.5 and Janet Thompson with a 29 in "D" Class.

Tammy Mullin pounded out the longest drive while Nadine Harper (58) and Lee Moore (65) had the hidden scores.

Johanna Rutley was deemed the evening's most honest golfer.

Ed Ryan continued to swing a hot club and stroked his way to an "A" Class low gross win with a 38.

Lloyd Guy of Winchester carded a 39 and won the "B" Class prize on backholes.

Hans Hutten (32.5) topped the "C" flight and Chris Casselman (48) won in "D" Class.

Gary Hart (33.5) had the low net score in "A" Class. Barry Casselman (32) won in "B". Steven Barkley took the "C" prize and Bruce Kerr the "D" Class award.

Nevill Vincent ripped off the longest drive on No. One.

Vikings overpower Blue Jays

WINCHESTER - After forfeiting two games the Morewood Vikings came out strong to triple the Blue Jays run total last Wednesday.

The Vikings evened their win-loss column by posting the 18-6 victory in game four.

The Jays got off to a quick start in the opening period. Matt Krisjanis, John Patterson, Barry Redmond and Chris Gibson circled the bases to give the squad a 4-0 lead after the first inning.

Morewood struck back in the second by running up a 6-4 lead. Making the trip home safely was Dan McMahon, Jeff Vanderveen, Chris McKibben, John Brown, Brian Como and Gerold Eby. Vanderveen connected for the first home run of the game.

Defence was the key for the next one and a half innings and no runs were score.

Como homered and became the first Viking to touch home plate during the fourth. Eby, McMahon and Cousineau ran in behind Como to give the Vikings a 10-4 hold over the Jays. Jeff Armstrong and Brown were left stranded on second and first base.

The Jays were unable to connect during the top of the fifth, but the Vikings scored six times to increase the gap to make it 16-4.

Vanderveen struck it big to bring home Eby, McMahon and himself before Armstong connected for the second homer of the inning, knocking Cousineau in. A base hit by Jeff Stewart allowed McKibben to circle the bases.

Kevin Gowdy and Ben Henry added runs for the Jays in the sixth. But Vikings' defense took over and three Jays were stranded at the end of the inning.

Morewood got the two runs back later in the bottom of the sixth when Como and Eby crossed home plate to give the Vikings a 18-6 lead.

Chesterville's Marcellus wins big

Local hockey greats honored at banquet

WINCHESTER - Sophomore Todd Marcellus carted off an arm-load of trophies here on Friday, May 17 as the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks completed their 1990-91 EOJBHL season with their annual awards banquet.

The Chesterville native won the Hawks' scoring title with a total of 51 goals and 37 assists. The first round draft pick of the Kanata Valley Lasers was also named Winchester's Most Valuable Player during the regular season and MVP during the playoffs.

But player awards weren't all of the announcements made during the post-dinner speeches.

Hawks' President Brian Williams and his executive announced the retirement of head coach Bill Dickson who leaves the team after one season.

Dickson's replacement is a man well known to Eastern Ontario Junior "B" hockey fans, Chesterville's Peter DeRooy.

DeRooy guided the Alexandria Glens to the St. Lawrence Division championship in three of his four years and can also boast of a pair of appearences in the EOJBHL's championship series in those four years. He was also named "Coach of the Year" twice while with the Glens.

DeRooy felt after four years it was time for a change and cited the 45-50 minute drive from his home in Chesterville to Alexandria (made two or three times a week) as the major factor in his decision.

The Hawks also announced that assistant coach Dennis Casselman, Williamsburg, will return in that same capacity for a second year.

But another new face was also introduced.

Veteran General Manager Bill Wammes, who returned to the Metcalfe Jets (after a stint with the Vanier Voyageurs) this past winter, is now Winchester's full time G.M.

Wammes, know as an avid player recruiter, replaces the now-retired Claude Brisebois.

MORE AWARDS

This year's awards evening had a special guest in attendance.

Winchester's own, and former Hawks' defenceman, Terry Carkner of the NHL's Philadelphia Flyers presented the Terry Carkner - Best Defenceman trophy to three-year man Jeff Egan.

Egan also accepted the Peter Brackenbury Memorial trophy for his sportsmanship.

The Hawks' lone graduate, Dean Wilson, was also a double recipient taking both the Coaches Award and Most Improved Player trophy.

Doug Armstrong was cited for his combination of leadership, sportsmanship and ability and received the Jack Dawson Memorial trophy because of those traits.

Scot Bell skated his way to the St. Lawrence Division's "Rookie of the Year" earlier in the year and marked the second straight year a Winchester player had earned that award after Todd Marcellus took it in '89-90.

Friday evening Bell was named co-winner of the Hawks' "Rookie of the Year" sharing it with defenceman Chris Soper.

Veteran forward-defenceman Chris Williams, for his contributions to the team both on and off the ice, was presented the '90-91 President's Award.

When it came to the top pointer-getter in this year's edition of "Three Stars" selection Todd Marcellus was No. One. Scot Bell finished second, Jeff Egan third and Chris Williams fourth.

Extinguishers can't put out Houndinis' fire

CHESTERVILLE - Paul Bjerso kept the Houndinis cage clean to post a 4-0 shut-out against the league's cellar team, Fire's Extinguishers, last Wednesday.

In further Chesterville-Winchester Men's Ball Hockey League action, the Red Wings racked up seven goals to mount a 7-2 win over Barkley's Blues. And Jug's Jokers claimed a 3-1 win over the Green Machine, to remain in a second place tie with the Wings.

Houndinis 4 - Extinguishers 0

A slow start led to a perfect ending for the Houndinis. The league's number one squad collected their third win of the season by defeating the winless Fire's Extinguishers.

After a scoreless opening frame, Ken Byers scored the first marker of the encounter to give his squad a 1-0 lead with 4:26 left in the second. He completed a play that was set up for him by Keith McGrisken and Clayton Armstrong.

Houndinis' Gary Klein-Sworming added to his team's lead thanks to passing assistance from Bryan Helmer and Bill Irvin with 11:17 showing in the final period.

The victorious squad took a 3-0 advantage when Rodney Casselman fired the ball past Extinguishers' goaltender Bill Zrymiak at 8:04. Byers and McGrisken made the goal possible.

With 2:17 remaining in the contest the Houndinis completed their scoring game. Klein-Sworming slapped in the team's fourth goal with help from the Byers brothers, Kevin and Ken.

Houndinis' goalie Paul Bjerso received his second shut out of the season.

Red Wings 7 - Blues 2

Red Wings' Kevin Boyce couldn't be stopped by Barkley's Blues. He scored three goals and helped out on two others to lead his team to a 7-2 win.

An unassisted goal by Boyce put the Wings on the scoreboard at 3:56 of the first period.

The Blues' came right back with a goal of their own to even the score before the first intermission. Don Imrie drove home Terry Barkley's rebound at the 2:17 mark.

While the Blues were held scoreless during the second session, the Wings accumulated two quick goals on Blues' goaltender Denis Desormeaux.

At 13:47 Boyce scored with assistance from Bernard Grady and Barry Allison. It took 45 seconds for Dale Serviss to mark the 3-1 advantage with help from Ben Henry and Allison.

Wings' Bob Van Delst was the first to hit the mesh in the final frame. He scored on a pass from Boyce with 1:58 played in the period.

The Wings took a 5-1 lead when Boyce tallied his hat-trick performacne at 8:52. Scot Bell made the assist.

Bell went on to score two goals of his own to end the Wings scoring spree. His first came on a pass from Van Delst with 5:46 remaining in the game. The Blues split up Bell's markers by scoring their second goal of the contest, at 5:04. Barry Smith connected on a pass from Barkley to outplay Don Marcellus moves in the Wings cage.

The scoring list was completed when Bell worked in a feed from Boyce and Grady wiith 1:34 showing on the clock.

Jug's Jokers 3 - Green Machine 1

A last second goal by the Green Machine destroyed what would have been a shut out game for Jug's Jokes' goaltender Marty Baldwin last Wednesday night.

With time running out, Gene McInnes beat the final buzzer to score a goal for the Machine team. However, Scott Barkley's set up was not enought to over take the Jokers.

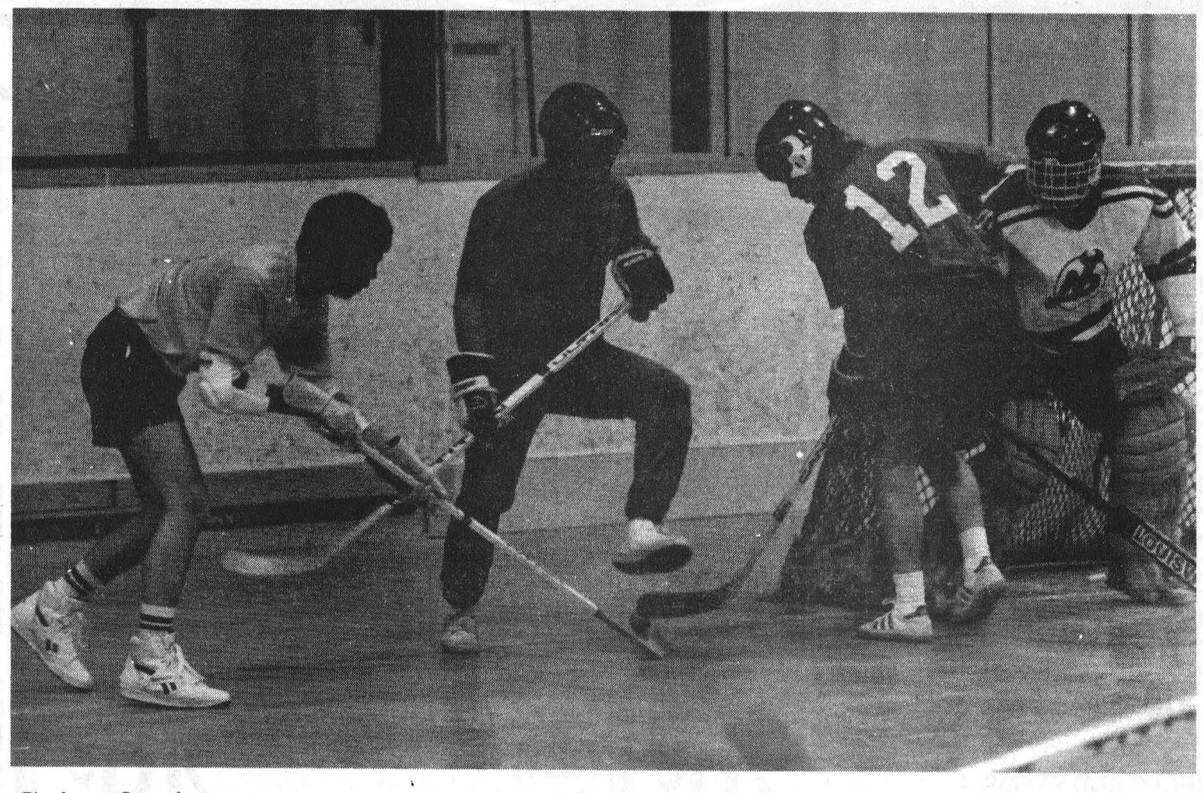
The Jokers offensive line tallied a 3-0 lead before their opponents scored.

An unassisted goal by Todd Marcellus granted the Jokers a slight edge at 8:28 of the opening period.

With just 39 seconds played in the period two, Jerrold Boulanger added to the lead by slapping in a pass from Junior Hamelin.

The Machine's goaltender Brad Pringle and his defensive line allowed the Jokers' Sean O'-Connor to score the final goal on his net with one second remaining before the second intermission. Boulanger and Hamelin assisted on the play.

With the shut out close at hand for Baldwin, the Machine came in for their only goal of the night.



Going for it

Green Machine's Dave Lannin and Gene McInnes help protect goaltender Brad Pringle during their encounter against Jug's Jokers last Wednesday night. The Jokers took the games two points with a 3-1 victory over the Machine squad.

OUR PHYSIOLOGICAL NEED FOR FOOD...Con't.

We shouldn't try to fight our eating instinct. Try exercising regularly instead of fighting that instinct. When we are physically active our body and mind —instinct and reason —are not at cross-purposes. Our body's instinctive desire for food does not subvert the rational desire or decision to lose weight. We eat as much as our appestat demands, but we burn off enough calories to match our appestat's requests.

Just as our body strives to maintain a constant level of body sugar, it also appears to have a preferred level of body fat, which is best illustrated by the setpoint theory.

The setpoint theory is one of the most plausible ideas scientists have come up with to explain why some people struggle with obesity. According to this theory our body has a control system, probably, in the hypothalmus inside our brain dictating how much body fat it wants to carry. Some people have a high setpoint and others have a low one, no matter how hard we strive to look like someone else, chances are our setpoint will win out in the end. Our body weight will tend toward what is good for us.

A number of experiments have been conducted to determine the accuracy of this theory. In one study, prisoners were encouraged to eat enormous amounts of food for two hundred days in an effort to increase their weight by 25 per cent. Even after the new weight was achieved, the men found they could keep it on only by overeating an average of two thousand extra calories a day. Their bodies found a way of getting rid of those extra calories.

After the period of deliberate food increase, the men were allowed to eat whatever they felt like. Most lost weight and voluntarily ate only half of their normal caloric intake until they had returned to within a few pounds of their original weight.

The opposite experiment, dieting and starving ourselves to get below the setpoint is a familiar story. Typically, we are constantly hungry and once we come off the diet there is a craving for more food than usual until the old weight is once again achieved. The ceaseless hunger is not relieved by just one indulgence. It is only when a certain percentage of body fat is regained that the hunger goes away.

So, dieting DOES NOT lower the setpoint. In fact, each time we reduce our fat below our natural setpoint via dieting, our body makes internal adjustments to resist further change by reducing our resting metabolism rate. Severe restriction of calories can reduce our resting metabolism rate by as much as 45 per cent. This reduction becomes even more significant if we repeatedly fad diet. Each bout of dieting compounds the problems. So, it follows, that increasing our physical activity is the simplest and MOST EFFECTIVE means of breaking the obesity\stress\obesity syndrome of bad dieting.

My Silent Achiever this week is the very beautiful, multi-talented Weight Director of a local gym. This gorgeous blonde placed third in her division at the Eastern Ontario Bodybuild- Championships this past weekend in Ottawa. Her very creative posing routine dazzled the audience and she looked better than ever. CONGRATULATIONS! Your hard work and dedication inspires us, Fay!

We are so very lucky to be able to do it for ourselves.
