Tonight!
Dick Cavett hosts TV special

On of the major health problems of our time is venereal disease, which has now reached epidemic proportions in North America.

Young people, especially, are its chief victims in Western society, with millions being added to their ranks each year.

To help combat the spread of this scourge of the young, CBC TV is presenting in prime time, to reach as wide an audience as possible, the widely-acclaimed special program VD Blues, hosted by Dick Cavett. It was shown on public television in the U. S. last October.

It will be telecast on the CBC TV network Wednesday, Feb. 28 at 8 p.m. as a 90-minute special --the first hour featuring Dick Cavett and such performers are Severn Darden, James Coco and Arlo Guthrie, followed by a 30-minute discussion among young people and professional people in the CBC studio in Toronto.

"This is an entertainment show, not a documentary program," says Dick Cavett. "It is a show young folks would want to watch, not a program they'd be told to watch."

Scouters hold annual dinner dance

Boy Scout and Wolf Cub leaders of the St. Lawrence District met at St. Mark's Parish Centre in Prescott on Saturday evening for their annual dinner-dance. Frank Bates of Cardinal, District Coordinator, chaired the meeting. The invocation was given by the Rev. E. Earle Eaton, Chaplain of Chesterville. Remarks were given by Al Thom of Roebuck, District Commissioner. Speaker was John Pettifer of Brockville, St. Lawrence Regional Field Representative. Husbands of Cub leaders and wif of Cub leaders and wives of Scouters joined in the annual festivity. Dancing followed the dinner, music being furnished by the Northern Lights Dance Orchestra, comprising Scouters from Prescott and Brockville, under the direction of Jean Beauchamps. Bob Toohy was liaison. Leo Guyan favored with several numbers on his fiddle. A presentation was made to Ralph Van Allen of Iroquois, retiring District Chairman. Communities represented included Prescott, Cardinal, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Winchester, Chesterville, Kemptville, Spencerville, Roebuck and Johnstown. A door prize was furnished by Nestles of Canada.

Crippled Children's Talk Well Received

With a hundred percent attendance, the Iroquois Lions Club heard an excellent address presented by Mr. John Butler, representing the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, now in its fifty-first year. It was one of those addresses that was excellent for its clarity, information and appeal.

In 1973, for the Province of Ontario alone, the financial objective is $3,300,000.00 and the Easter Seal objective is included in this figure. Some 232 service clubs will help to realize this great objective. The Iroquois branch, which works in cooperation with Cardinal, usually turns over some $1500.00 annually.

Mr. Butler spoke of great inrodas that were being made in the fight against polio, rickets, tuberculosis, though the need for research remains vitally important. Included in Crippled Children's work is cystic fibrosis. But the children's care case load increases due to medical science being able to lengthen the child's life line, and because of the tragedies of birth associated with the new drug culture. Another terrible cause of the increase of Crippled Children's work is the ungarded child in your car when accidents occur (as for example a sudden stop). Accidents happen so easily, sometimes maiming for life your own little child. No one is immune to accidents, but many of them could be prevented.

An excellent new film on the work of Crippled Children was presented, but all of us will remember the fine address so ably presented by Mr. John Butler.

Lion Roland Johnston reported that plans were under way for a youth exchange during the summer for two local youths and another couple of youths from the Province of Quebec. Lion Les Craig reported good progress in the sale of tickets for the St. Patrick Day's Dance at the Civic Centre. Only a few tickets are left, at $3 a couple. The next meeting will be at the Legion on March 12th with guests from Morrisburg and possibly Ogdensburg.

Heart Fund Appeal Over Top

The sum of $436.00 was realized by youth of the village, on behalf of the Dundas County Chapter of the Ontario Heart Fund Appeal during the Sunday Blitz, Feb. 11th. A sincere "thank you" goes out to all Iroquois citizens (village and concessions), for the very generous support given again to the research work that is going on for the relief of cardio-vascular diseases. Citizens who were not "at home" during the blits can make a donation to the Heart Fund through any local bank. Again, Thank You!!

IT'S WORKING FOR YOU

Red Cross is working for you. Through Red Cross you offer kindness and generosity to people who need it --people you have never met and may never meet. More than a dozen services and programmes are offered to meet the needs of people at all levels in all parts of Canada and around the world as well. Help provided by the Society can vary from the unique and comprehensive National Blood programme to the temporary loan of sickroom supplies at the local level.

To keep working for you, Red Cross needs your support --it needs your blood, your time and your money.

. . . If Canadians don't answer pleas for blood --blood will not be available when it is needed.

. . . volunteer workers who will freely give their time to carry out programmes are badly needed --over 90% of all Red Cross work is handled by volunteers.

. . . and Red Cross needs your money to continue to help.

This is a lot to ask, but all three are essential to the work of the Society. Red Cross can only do what you will give it the resources -- blood, manpower, money -- to do. Support your local Red Cross...It's working for you.

During March, your local Red Cross Branch will be conducting a fund-raising drive. When the volunteer canvasser calls on you, be generous with your donation.

THE WASTED BILLIONS

The United States has just announced that it has spent more than $26 billion on the manned space programme in the past 15 years, and that it plans to spend a further $7 billion during the coming five years. Add to this the billions spent on manned space programmes and space research by other great powers such as the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Japan and China in recent years.

Then add to these figures annual costs of new weapons systems and defense generally. Although it is a rough estimate, military experts now believe that the annual total has passed $250 billion and will soon reach $300 billion.

Nobody pretends that either research into the universe through which our planet hurtles, or national defense are not valid expenditures -- given the conditions of human society today. What can be questioned, however, are the astronomical amounts.

Take the fairly conservative figure of $250 billion a year for defense on a world-wide basis. That is almost five times the annual gross national product of India, where about 560,000,000 people live.

Because of poor rains, India is short of food and is planning to pay between $4 million and $5 million to import grain. Annual costs for weapons and defense would pay for these shipments 50,000 times!

The world's priorities are out of line with reality. Most of the world's nations no longer need nuclear weapons. They need more food, better housing, a higher quality of life. And the mysteries of the universe are far less important than cleaning up our polluted air and water. Much still needs to be done on our troubled earth during this troubled century. Let us begin by diverting urgently needed funds from the weapons industry into more useful, more lasting endeavours.

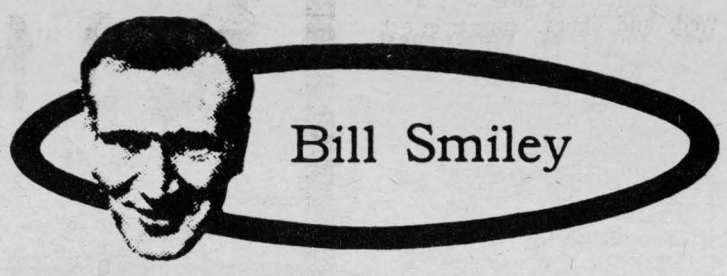
HERE'S A MAN WORTH A SALUTE

by Bill Smiley



There are still a few of the old breed left, thank goodness. And one of them is my friend Ab Cordingley.

Received a letter from him this week, and, as with everything he says and writes, it was right to the point. He doesn't waste any words. The letter ends thus, "Hope U R OK."

He told me bluntly that he still reads this column and "Sometimes think U R OK, sometimes off base." He never had any hesitation in telling me what was wrong with my line of thought. To my face.

I remember the last time we went trout fishing together. I was to pick him up at 5.30 a.m. or some such hour, and have breakfast with him. I arrived at a quarter to six and he gave me hell. Then he forced me, a coffee-and-toast man, to shovel down a huge breakfast of bacon and eggs, enough for a logger, which he had ready.

We had a good day. I got thirteen speckles and a brown and he filled his creel. The only untoward incident in the morning's fishing was when he stepped into a boghole, fell flat on his face and hit his head on a rotten stump.

"Dam' good thing I had my hat on," he quipped, looking ruefully at his cigar, which had been mashed in the fall. Of course, he was just a spring chicken then, at the height of his faculties. He was only 80 years old.

We knocked off for lunch. I was glad. I was pooped. I pulled out my two meagre sandwiches, and Ab hauled out a lunch that would stagger a truck driver. He forced apples and bananas and great hunks of cheese on me until it was coming out my ears.

I thought, "I'll fix the old devil." I'd brought two beers along. I knew he was teetotal. It was a hot day, and the beer was the colour and temperature of you-know-what. Offered him one. He was not only a teetotaller but a gentleman. He took it, drank down the gaseous horror, and said calmly, "Haven't had a beer in 20-30 years."

A couple of years later, we became across-the-street neighbours. One evening a few months later, about 10 p.m., there was a banging on our kitchen door. It was Ab.

"Call the fire brigade, Smiley. The dam' house is on fire." He had his pants pulled on over his flannel pyjamas, and was in his bare feet. Had been going to bed.

"That gravel is hell on the feet," he observed, while I reached for the phone. The road between us was paved in gravel. Try running across it in your bare feet, at 82.

I got the fire brigade, and told them it was Ab Cordingley's house, and hung up. In a small town, you don't give addresses, you just say whose house it is. Unfortunately, the fire brigade went to Ab's old house and dithered about for ten minutes before someone remembered he'd moved.

Unaware of this, we two hustled across the street and started carrying out of the house such valuables as potted plants, old pictures worth about seventy-five cents on the open market.

We'd been doing this for about five minutes when Ab stopped at the bottom of the stairs and yelled up, "Dammit, Annie, I told you to get down here." The flames were roaring in the roof by now. I realized with horror that his wife, who had bad legs and trouble walking, was still up there.

Then the fire brigade arrived, and soon confusion became chaos. We got his wife over to our house and into a hot cup of tea. Ab nipped around like a twelve-year-old, telling people what to carry out and driving kids back from the flames. I got our kids out of bed, so that they could watch something they'd remember all their lives — a fine old house going up in a glorious pyre of blaze and smoke. There's something heart-wrenching and at the same time thrilling in such a sight.

Many people of 82 would have been utterly daunted by such a set-back. Not Ab. He'd have been more disturbed if the Tories had lost a by-election.

Quite a guy. He's 93 or 94 now, and still has a mind that would make many fifteen-year-olds look senile. He's a walking encyclopedia. He doesn't pretend to be an intellectual, but has read thousands of books and can still recite poetry he learned in public school.

He's everything you're not supposed to be these days. He's prejudiced. He's 100 per cent opposed to Grits, booze and laziness. He believes in hard work, making money, and leaving something worthwhile

The Branch recently had several snowmobile people from Cardinal pay them a visit and they enjoyed a fine evening, as well as supporting the 50-50 Draw entensively. Ed Quinn, a retired Security Guard from White Horse, Yukon and now a Spencerville resident was also a recent guest.

All members are happy to see that George Reddick, Ken Kirkby, Mac Anderson and Albert English are recovering from recent illnesses which caused them to become hospitalized. Nice to see you all home and hope your health improves rapidly.

However, we regret to say that Art McInnis is a patient at Brockville General Hospital.

Lets remember all these people and pay them a cheerful visit.

Mrs. Sam (Phyllis) Leckie is in hospital at Kingston and best wishes for a quick recovery goes out to her.

The last general meeting of the Branch was held Thursday, Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. with President Ed Hitchinson serving as chairman. The next general meeting will be on Thursday, March 15 at 8 p.m. At this meeting, your executive has several pieces of important business to discuss and transact. Mark this date down on your schedule of events and plan to attend. Your services and opinions are most welcome

There was a good turnout for the February meeting, and several members are now taking a keen interest in the business and activities of the Branch. So why do you not contribute your share? Lets fill the hall March 15th.

If any Legionnaire is interested to serve in the office of Branch Secretary, contact the President or any member of the executive. The minutes of the last business meeting were presented by Ken Easter, the First Vice President.

Second Vice President H.L. "Chum" Roberts announces that Seaway District High School's Annual Public Speaking Contest, sponsored jointly by the Iroquois Lions Club and Branch 370, will take place at the High School on Thursday, March 1st at 7:30 p.m. The Lions Club and the Branch in conjunction with the English Department of Seaway District, hope a good turnout of parents and citizens will be in attendance and lend support to the young contestants.

Both organizations are offering prizes to the successful candidates and the winners will advance to the Legion sponsored Zone competition in Kemptville, along with the elimentary school representatives, on Sunday, March 4th.

Branch Treasurer Fred T. Lloyd gave an excellent financial report of the year 1972 at the February meeting. Any member who wishes an explanation of the financial report may receive such information at the March meeting.

The treasurer was authorized to make a public release of the report to the local news media. Correspondence from the Iroquois Cub and Scout Committee, the Iroquois Minor Hockey Association, several letters of thanks as well as notices of the Zone Rally in Cardinal and the Brockville Convention and the Provincial Convention in Sault Ste. Marie were read to the members.

The Branch approved a $200 donation to the Iroquois Minor Hockey Association.

The donation is to be earmarked for the I.M.H.A. to sponsor an eight-team Atom Hockey Tournament in Cardinal on Saturday, March 31st, starting at 8 a.m. and will feature the championship game at 6:30 p.m.

The Local Minor Hockey Association have been invited to over 20 tournaments this season throughout the district. In return, the local group must also host courtesy tournaments in the various divisions. The first venture in this regard is the March 31st Atom Tournament which the Branch is financially supporting. This tournament in turn will also be supported by admissions to the many games during the day. The public is invited to attend and support this initial effort by the Iroquois Minor Hockey Association.

Royal Canadian Legion Branch 370 presents a $200 donation to the Iroquois Minor Hockey Association to sponsor a Minor Hockey Tournament in Cardinal on March 31st.

The details of the tournament are in charge of the I.M.H.A. and the Legion Sports Committee.

Sgt. at arms Louis Bailey, on behalf of Branch 370, was presented with a new Tri Service Flag for the Colour Party by Admiral D.L. Hanington of HMCS Iroquois. The Admiral is director general of procurement for the armed forces. Also assisting in the presentation was Major Craig Carpenter.

The flag is a symbol of the three services, Navy, Army and Air Force. The flag is now on display at the Branch along with the U.S.A. flag donated to the Legion by Ed Murray of Ogdensburg, N.Y.

You need hardly be reminded that livestock farming is a highly competitive business . . . that to succeed today, production costs have to be controlled today, in every way possible.

Feed costs, labour, time . . . these are all costs of production that you can probably reduce even more. If your herd or flock is large now, and likely to expand further, start calculating the production savings made possible by bulk feeds handling.

A Future For Fly Casting

Not all the obsessed people in this world are under medical supervision. Apparently, there is still a large group wandering about dressed in hip waders with wicker baskets, nets and funny hats.

They all claim to be trout fishermen, but not even regular anglers can understand the language they speak. Words like "split shot sinkers", Black Gnats", "Silver Doctors" "Mickey Finns"....

All are armed with fishing rods, but there is doubt in many quarters if fish is what they are really after, so great is their fascination with stunts such as dropping a feathered hook 32½ feet upstream, 12 inches northeast of a sunken log on a spot the size of a large freckle.

So far, eastern Ontario has been relatively safe from these obviously mad, if harmless, people who traditionally conduct their bizarre rituals in Scotland, New Brunswick, Norther Quebec and other parts of Ontario. But the future is uncertain.

Five creeks back in rugged, picturesque Lanard County were surveyed intensively last summer and will be developed as trout streams by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and the Mississippi Valley Conservation Authority. To begin the program, one stream will be improved and stocked this spring. All show good signs of offering fly fishermen a stiff challenge amid picture postcard scenery.

The study carried out by two Natural Resources summer students and two Mississippi Valley Conservation Authority students, all with biology training and a two week course in stream surveying, covered physical, chemical and biological features.

Pools below riffles or small rapids, overhanging trees, shrub cover and stream bank vegetation were mapped. At points all along the streams water oxygen and acidity tests were administered. The biological survey determined what aquatic life now exists there and where present fish have located.

Other feautres, such as pollution, were noted. One quarter mile stretch of a creek may have to be cleaned because saw dust from a saw mill located upstream, had been dumped years ago, into the water.

An intensive survey was absolutely necessary because trout are particularly fussy about where they live. They like their water chilled to a cool 68 degrees Fahrenheit with a respectable current over a sand or gravel bottom with quiet, shaded pools located at intervals. Shade from vegetation along the bank is important as well as protection from submerged rocks, logs or tangles of timber.

They're worth the trouble. The speckled beauties rise readily to a wet or dry fly and when they hit, the person on the other end of the line knows it.

But the streams are not the only new trout areas being opened. Little Green Lake in Lanark's Darling Township has been treated to dispose of its small population of undesirable fish species in preparation for restocking with brook trout this spring. Also, a regulation is now being processed to pro-

TAX TIPS

Q. I have heard a great deal in recent months about tax reform and how I may be affected by it. Is there any one area which will concern everyone?
A. Changes which have been made in the allowable personal exemptions will affect all of us when we file 1972 income tax returns in the early part of 1973
Q. In what way have the personal exemptions been changed for the taxpayer who is single and has no dependants. What personal exemption will he be allowed?
A. The personal exemption allowed to a single or unmarried taxpayer without dependants has been increased as of January 1, '72 from $1,000 to $1,500.
Q. What personal exemptions will a taxpayer be entitled to for the year 1972 if he is a married man who supported his wife during the year?
A. Every taxpayer is entitled to a basic exemption of $1,500 regardless of his marital status. Where a married man supported his wife and her income for the year was not more than $250, the taxpayer would be allowed an additional personal exemption of $1,350. In this case, of course, the married taxpayer's total personal exemptions would amount to $2,850.
Q. What is the situation if a wife had income greater than $250? How would the husband then determine his married exemption?
A. If the wife's income for the year is greater than $250, the husband would calculate his married exemption by subtracting the amount of her income from $1,600. For example, if the wife's income for the year was $900, the husband would be allowed a married exemption of $700. If the wife's income was over $1,600, she may not be claimed as a dependant by her husband.
Q. I understand that elderly taxpayers are allowed an additional personal exemption if they meet certain age requirements. How does this operate or how were the requirements changed in the year 1972?
A. There has been a basic change in what we generally call the age exemption. In 1971, for example, if a taxpayer was at least 70 years of age at any time in that year, he was entitled to an exemption of $500. Beginning with the year 1972, if a taxpayer was at least 65 years of age in the taxation year, he is allowed, in addition to any other personal exemptions he might claim, an age examption of $1,000.
Q. Please explain what exemptions are allowed for dependent children in my tax return of 1972?
A. The basic rules regarding the amount of the personal exemptions for dependent children remain as they were in the past. In other words, if a child is under 16 years of age at the end of the year, the person who claims the child as a dependant will be allowed an exemption of $300 for that child. On the other hand, if a wholly dependent child was 16 years of age or over at the end of a taxation year, the allowable personal exemption for such a child would be $550.

Cancer Society planning forum

"Cancer Can Be Beaten". This is the theme of the Canadian Cancer Society. It can be beaten largely by the education of people. This knowledge would lead to prevention or to early detection and treatment.

With this in mind, the Dundas Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society is planning a Forum at North Dundas District High School on March 12th. The object is to save lives.

A panel of three cancer specialists from Ottawa will be present to discuss cancer prevention and answer questions from the audience. Three outstanding new films will be shown. Brochures on all phases of cancer will be distributed. Coffee will be served. Admission is free.

Five hundred people from the Cancer Society Branches in Russell, North Stormont, Morrisburg, Iroquois, Winchester and Chesterville are expected to attend. This programme is of interest to everyone especially women and teenage girls. The life that is saved as a result of the Forum might be yours.

World Day of Prayer Service 1973

Following the theme, "Alert In Our Time", the churches of this village will meet on Friday, March ? to share a service of prayer for our world's situations. Around the world on that day, people of the Christian faith will be meeting to pray for a common cause. The service this year has been prepared by a group of New Zealand women.

The time is 7:30 in the evening, thus giving our children, our youth and the men an opportunity to share in the prayer service. Junior choirs from the four churches will combine to provide special music. Theme speaker will be Rev. Brian Gee. Hostess church Iroquois United welcomes you to her doors and urges you to join your village neighbours and your global neighbours in praying for the world in our time.

"The hand that cherishes the flame of the Spirit is one with the hand that releases it."

News & Views

by Leo DeBellefeuille

25 years ago, the RCAF Flyers defeated Switzerland 3-0 to win the Olympic hockey championship at St. Moritz. Some members of that great club were Ted Hibberd, Pat Guzzo, Frank Boucher, Herbert Brooks, Andy Galpin, Frank Dunster, Frank Gorman, Reg Schroeter and Ab Renaud.

Barbara Ann Scott won the Olympic women's figure skating championship the same year, 1948.

Pete Laframboise, the former Ottawa 67's forward, is now playing with the California Golden Seals of the N.H.L.

Just prior to the forthcoming NHL playoffs, several stars of the game have been receiving serious injuries. The most recent casualties are Mickey Redmond, Ron Stackhouse and Nick Libbet of the Wings; Bruce MacGregor and Vic Hadfield of the Rangers; Brian Glennie, Paul Henderson and Joe Lundrigan of the Leafs. Lets hope the list does not grow higher. If it does, it will remove from the spectacle many of players that the fans wish to see perform in hockey's big showdown.

The following people are members of the Iroquois Recreation Committee: Reeve L.C. Davis, Councillor Helen Smith, Chairman Lorraine Patterson, Bonnie Adair, Jim Brennan, Ron Graham and Bill Cherry. Well at last we have been successful to some degree in having arrangements made for a public meeting to investigate the possibilities of re-organizing the Iroquois Brownies and Girl Guides (see ad in today's Post) With the assistance of Mrs. Leona McIntosh, we got the ball rolling. On Feb. 12th, the following letter was received from Mrs. Kathleen Purvis, Division Commissioner:

"Dear Mrs. McIntosh:

Your phone call was one of the most welcome surprises I've had for a long time! I do hope all your personal efforts and those of any other former or prospective Guiders are rewarded. It certainly would be wonderful to have Iroquois active again, for I understand there is a long history of successful Guiding there and it seemed a shame that this should all lapse, especially for the sake of the girls themselves.

The Guiders to whom I mailed notices re the Fall meeting in Cardinal were people whose cancellations dated in the '70's because I didn't expect to interest anyone who had stopped before then. I hoped they would spread the word around, and I know Shirley Kirkby did try.

There were twenty letters to Iroquois but no response except from her; so you can imagine how encouraging your news was. By the way, looking at the record cards, I notice there are several Iroquois' Women who should be receiving ten-year long service recognition. In regard to a meeting, which is an excellent idea, I will reserve a date and hope that within about ten days from today (Feb. 12) you can inform me.

With all good wishes in your endeavours,

Yours sincerely

Mrs. Kathleen D. Purvis"

Well, here we are. Tonight is the time; let's hope all mothers, members of the mother's groups, former leaders, senior students and all interested citizens will make a strong effort to attend this vital meeting this evening (WeD. Feb. 28) to get the Brownies and Girl Guides off and organized. The girls of Iroquois are depending on everyone to co-operate. Don't let them down, because someday we will either be proud or regret our actions, if this project and effort is not successful. Hope to see you there!

Two fine sports are leaving our community: Diane and Ed Orlicky. We are sure that many of you are sorry to see them leave, for both have done wonders with our young people during the past years. Diane as a teacher and Ed worked in the promotion of minor ball as well as a standout worker with the Iroquois Lions Club. This charming and gentle, friendly couple are moving to Norwich, Ont. The very best of everything to you both. We are sorry to see you go and both of you will be sadly missed in the village.

The Ontario Municipal Recreation Association's Annual Conference for 1973 will be held May 2 to 5th at the Holiday Inn, Chatham Ont. The theme for this year's conference will be "Fitness for the Future", as it relates to Mental, Emotional Fitness, fitness for senior citizens, community fitness, organizational fitness, leadership, physical fitness, therapedic fitness, creative play, youth fitness and fitness for you and me.

Just as it is important for those employed in the field of "leisure services" to take additional training and learn new methods, philosophies and ideas. It is even more important that the volunteer, the recreation committee, learn these new things and continually upgrade themselves by attending workshops, training sessions and conferences.

Let's hope a delegation from Iroquois will see fit to attend this year's conference and lay plans locally for "Fitness for the Future".

The day is not too far off in the NHL when players from the West Division will rule the roost and dominate the individual scoring race.

Bobby Clarke in his 4th year with Philadelphia Flyers and not Bobby Hull, is one player from the West who will be at the top of the list.

Clarke, a member of Team Canada, has developed into a leader and very much underrated both on and off the ice. The Flyers organization were intelligent enough to recognize his talents as a leader and named Bobby the team captain. Clarke is even more amazing in that he is a diabetic. His play has also inspired Rick McLeish. At the time of writing, Bob is only 10 points back of the great Phis Esposito. At present his 56 assists gives him a record for a western player. Keep a close eye on the NHL's West Division because Clarke, Mikita, MacLeish, Dennis Hull, Pit Martin, Jim Pappin and others are now the super doopers of the NHL and more from the weaker division are now coming into their own. Yes, very soon the West will dominate the scoring derby in hockey's big top!

Remember. If you play sports, be a good one and keep your eye on the game!

Midgets finalists at Edwardsburg

Iroquois Midgets entered Spencerville's Tournament on Feb. 24 and amde their way into the "A" finals only to lose a real squeaker to Brockville. The final was won by a 4-3 count, the winning goal coming with only seconds remaining on the clock. Iroquois gained a berth in the final on the strenghth of their 4-1 win over Prescott and a 1-0 victory over Edwardsburg. Bill Mullin turned in an outstanding performance, collecting 6 of the 8 goals scored by Iroquois for the day. Brian Moran, a bantam, picked up the other 2 Iroquois markers. The Midgets with the help of bantams B. Moran and S. Montpetit, played some of their best hockey this year and can be proud of their achievement in Spencerville.

The B series was won by Cardinal with a 3-2 win over Kemptville.

Iroquois Midgets were eliminated from ODHA playdowns in a hard fought 2 game series with Cardinal. The first, played last Monday, ended in a 2-2 tie. On Thursday, the 2 teams met again, with Cardinal taking a 2-1 victory. Don Adams scored twice in the first game while Bill Mullin was the lone Iroquois marksman in the second.

The Bantams were eliminated from further League Play by Kemptville who took the series 2 games to none. Cardinal ousted our Bantams in the ODHA 2-game total point series by a 6 goal spread.

Iroquois Tykes defeated Kemptville by a 6-1 count. Andy Lee scored 3 times while Darrin Hall added 2. The 6th goal came off Jeff Kirker's stick.

The Novice "B" team suffered a 7-0 defeat at the hands of a tough Chesterville squad, then bounced back one hour later to take a 1-0 win from Morrisburg. Wally Dicks scored the lone Iroquois goal.

Iroquois Novice "A" team came out flying and never let up from start to finish. Their hard work and fine passing netted them 3 goals for a 3-0 win over Morrisburg. Brian Froats played an exceptional game in goal while Tim Patterson and Kevin McEwen led the team to their 3 goals.

In League playoffs, Iroquois and Morrisburg atoms are deadlocked at one game apiece. After being downed 4-1 in Morrisburg on Tuesday, the Morrisburg Atoms came back to hand Iroquois a 2-0 loss on Saturday. Morrisburg checked Iroquois very closely and thus kept our boys off the scoresheet for the first time since November.

A 6-1 victory over Cardinal on Wednesday coupled with their 4-0 win on Sunday, gave the Atoms a 10-1 edge in points in ODHA playoffs. The team advanced against Athens and played their first game on Sun. in Athens. The boys lost by a 2-1 count and will meet Athens again on Thursday in Cardinal.

On behalf of Iroquois Minor Hockey Association, I would like to thank Styles and McIntosh for their contribution of a new set of sweaters and socks to our Pee Wee team. Also a great big thanks goes to the Iroquois Legion who have agreed to sponsor our first tournament for the Atom Division to take place in March. This type of public interest in greatly appreciated.

Brownies and Guides

At the present time, thirty-two girls have registered from the Iroquois Public School, St. Cecilia's and St. Mary's Schools, to become Guides and Brownies. If any other girls wish to enroll, it would be desirable if their mothers would give their names to Mrs. Leona MacIntosh or Mr. Leo De Bellefeuille.

It would be appreciated if the mothers of the girls already enrolled would attend tonight's meeting at the Iroquois Civic Centre scheduled for 8 p.m.

OPP Report

Of all the ways which snowmobilers find to get themselves into trouble, travel on unsafe ice is the easiest to avoid.

Any snowmobiler who ventures out on the unknown ice of a lake or river is taking a gamble. He can be sure that there are weak spots in the ice-covered surface but the big gamble is - where?

Reports from the vacation areas indicate extremely hazardous ice conditions on many lakes and rivers due to early snowfalls and repeated thaws. Insulating snow-cover prevents ice freezing to sufficient depth for safe snowmobile travel, and mild weather creates slush and increased water currents that weaken the existing ice. Don't gamble your life on an inviting expanse of ice-covered lake or river without expert advice. Check with local people as to the conditions of the ice. In any event, IF IN DOUBT - STAY OFF!

Will represent Iroquois

behind, like a first-rate hospital.

But there's something endearing about his prejudices. They are right out in the open. I'll bet he believes in capital punishment, God, and heaven. I'll take him away ahead of your smarmy liberals any day.

And he has a sense of humour. He used to winter in Texas and took great delight in telling the proud Texans that their mighty state could be dropped into one of our Canadian lakes and not even cause a ripple.

It seems to me that one winter he took some empty bottles to Texas, told the natives the bottles were full of Bruce Peninsula air, and suggested it was worth at least one dollar a bottle for its purity.

Good health, Ab, and long live.
