Hospital takes shape

WINCHESTER — In 1948, Winchester District Memorial Hospital was built to handle up to 8,000 emergency room patients per year. When the new acute care facility opens to the public in March 2009, WDMH will be able to handle 25,000 to 30,000 emergency room patients annually.

"It just goes to show the volume of patients that will come through these doors," said vice-president of capital development Phil Marleau on Fri., Oct. 24 standing inside the hospital's new main entrance as construction workers continued working around him. "It will be four to five times the current square footage, and (there will be) four to five times the volume of patients."

Marleau was leading local media representatives, as well as Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry MPP Jim Brownell, through the site.

"It's not a Taj Mahal," Brownell said. "You've used every single square inch. It's very functional."

Functionality and efficiency were key in the design process, as well as patient flow and patient comfort, Marleau explained, noting the operating rooms and surgical day care are linked for staffing purposes, as are the emergency room and intensive care unit.

"This build has been done using very strategic plans and approaches," said hospital CEO Trudy Reid.

The latest technology is also an important part of the expansion, Reid explained.

"The opportunities being used here are absolutely incredible in terms of equipment and technology," she said, noting that the new diagnostic imaging system at the hospital will be one of the biggest assets. "We're not going to be shipping patients off to Ottawa — we'll be shipping images to Ottawa. Geography has become a non-issue."

Marleau agreed that the technology is an important aspect of the redevelopment.

"I think (it's) going to be a showcase and really draw a lot of attention," he said.

Much of the equipment will be wireless, medications will be bedside and barcoded (matched with a barcode on the patient's hospital bracelet) to ensure proper dosage, and security cameras and video intercoms will keep the patients — and staff — safe.

"Not all of it will be in place when the unit opens, but we have the capacity and capability in the infrastructure for the future," Marleau said. "You get a lot of home grown, unique systems in hospitals. We're making a case here. We'll serve patients very well, explain it, and showcase it.

He noted that a lot of innovations are hard to quantify when applying for funding from the Ontario Ministry of Health.

"One of the amazing things here is the relationship we've built with the ministry (of health)," said Reid, noting that the area is being promoted as a well-organized, efficient community. "It took a lot of courage by the ministry, the board, and the community to say 'go for it,' and then later on to say we'll fund this to a higher level. This is a rare opportunity for a community hospital."

Brownell said that WDMH and its community has become a model for other communities in Ontario. "I can't wait to see the final product," he said.

Healthcare is only one aspect that went into planning the 90,000 square-foot expansion.

"We have to heat it, light it, and protect it from fire and disaster," Marleau said, standing in the "penthouse" — not a fancy hotel room but the 4,000-square-foot electrical room. He noted that a lot of thought was put into how it would be maintained in the future and they opted to install an elevator up to the electrical room to allow for future upgrades.

"A lot of planning happened with North Dundas Township," Marleau said, pointing out the storm water will collect in a catch basin and be redirected away from the municipal water system. Marleau also met with local fire chiefs to create emergency evacuation plans for each stage of the construction.

"It's been a great team effort," he said. "Hundreds if not thousands of hours of planning."

Marleau has been working on the project for the last eight years, and leads tours of the facility as if he's been there all his life.

"We brought this from concept into reality," he said, noting that he memorized the new floor plans looking at several phases of blueprints during the planning process. "It's really rewarding to see people's thoughts and efforts in the final product."

Innovations in the hospital include bay window seats that roll out into a bed for visiting family members, and multi-purpose rooms that will accommodate all patients' needs.

Partnerships with the University of Ottawa and Queen's University for educational programs, including a proposed two-year family residency program scheduled to begin in June 2009, will help the hospitalin the future.

"Winchester hospital has a culture of history, innovation, and courage," Reid said. "All the elements for success were here."

Board chair Peter Sorby agreed.

"This is the result of our strategic planning and long-term planning," he said. "We've been planning for a long time... and now you're starting to see the results."

There are between 110 and 130 workers on site each day, and Marleau said activity will not slow down as completion approaches, and will instead increase because of delivery and installation of finishings and equipment.

This week pavement will be installed at the main entrance. A new phone system has already been installed in the older section of the hospital to make the transition for staff simpler.

"This hospital is the second largest employer in the area," Reid pointed out, noting that the hospital will be an integral part of the area's future economic development. "When you're looking for a community to move to, you look at infrastructure and how it's connected to the outside world. This is a significant piece of community infrastructure."

And what will stand out in the new facility?

"I think what people will be surprised about is the level of service and technology," Reid said, noting that the hospital is marketing its services and trying to attract patients from a wider area, including the City of Ottawa.

"We need our populations to come to their community hospitals," Reid said. "We need to grow our population to get additional money (from the ministry) — but if people don't come, we won't get the money."

Information system enhances patient care

WINCHESTER — Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) is working with QuadraMed Corporation to provide a series of clinical information systems designed to support patients from arrival to discharge. The first phase of these systems will be in place when the new hospital opens early next year.

A dozen different systems will be integrated including: registration, radiology, emergency department information system, pharmacy, laboratory, scheduling, pharmacy, finance, an e-library, and an electronic health record.

QuadraMed is supplying WDMH with tools to automate the front-end of the healthcare process, resulting in streamlined patient access, scheduling and billing, as well as reduced patient identity errors. The new systems will enable the hospital to proactively manage, process, and securely store patient and business data.

"Once complete, the new systems will allow us to integrate the information flow across applications and among healthcare partners and patients," explained hospital CEO Trudy Reid. "This supports the co-ordination of patient care, ensuring high quality service, and maximum patient safety."

After thoroughly evaluating the market leaders, Reid said that QuadraMed was the only one that offered the flexibility and interoperability required to fully integrate future solutions.

"QuadraMed and its systems will play a key role in transforming care delivery in rural Ontario and will serve as a national model for other rural facilities across Canada," Reid said. "QuadraMed's innovative solutions will ensure that we can continue to provide the highest quality and most efficient care to the 90,000 people we serve."

According to Keith Hagen, QuadraMed's president and CEO, WDMH will allow QuadraMed an opportunity to display its latest solutions and help transform how healthcare services are provided in rural Ontario.

"Based on a new delivery and efficiency model, Winchester District Memorial Hospital will use the QuadraMed solutions to optimize health care delivery in the region," Hagen said. "Their willingness to work with QuadraMed makes it an ideal partnership, which will provide leading solutions for other rural hospitals in Canada."

Council notes from South Dundas

Funding feud

WILLIAMSBURG — The Township of South Dundas recently received $709,660 from the Investing in Ontario Act and CAO Steve McDonald presented South Dundas council with a list of potential projects at its regular meeting on Tues., Oct. 21.

Mayor Charles Barkley said he would like to see the money go toward the payment of the waste-water treatment plant.

"It would be one more bill paid for," he said. "It turned out to be more expensive from the time it was estimated to the time it was built. It's a great place to start and it would be one bill out of the road."

Councillor Steven Byvelds said that he had issues with Barkley's idea.

"I think we should spend the money on a project that we promised from the beginning — Ottawa Street and County Road 4. Let's get that road fixed," Byvelds said.

Barkley pointed out that the road is already on the 2009 budget list. Manager of public works Hugh Garlough added that his department can't work on roads now and council "won't be putting a shovel in the ground until next spring."

"With the economy as it is, it's highly unlikely we'll get anything next year," said councillor Del Jones. "The province gave the money from its surplus and now it projects a deficit. It would be prudent to go through the budget process before making a decision."

The rest of council agreed to wait until budget time to discuss the funding further since there is no specified time limit in which the money must be spent.

Public works progress

The public works department has almost all of its capital projects done. Garlough presented council with an update and only two projects remained — one of which was completed on Oct. 21, after Garlough had written his report.

"Hopefully by Nov. 1, I'll have all my capital projects done," he said. "Weather permitting of course."

The last project was the installation of double culverts on Lightning Street (which was set to be completed on Mon., Oct. 27).

Barkley asked Garlough if there is a policy to level driveway approaches after the township does roadwork.

"We don't have a policy, but we've had enough complaints that we just do it after the roadwork is complete," said Garlough.

Water and sewer rates rise

South Dundas council will call public meetings in the near future to discuss the township's water and sewer rates.

Council plans to eliminate Morrisburg's "special area rate" in January 2009. Morrisburg's rates are currently higher than Iroquois, but in 2009 council would like to see both village's residents paying the same charge.

McDonald told council they have the option to charge a fixed rate for the next five years, which would be implemented on Jan. 1, 2009.

"The charge is only there to pay the capital; once it's paid council at that time can get rid of it," said McDonald. "Once the capital is paid, I would hope the charge would go."

MPAC impact hits waterfront

Township property values up by 35%, waterfront takes the brunt

by Sarah Kelford
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — The value of property in the Township of South Dundas has increased by an average of 34.72 per cent since 2005, according to the Municipal Property Assessment Corporation (MPAC).

Randy McDonald, MPAC municipal relations representative for SD&G, Cornwall, and Precott-Russell, presented South Dundas council with the new assessment process at its regular meeting on Tues., Oct. 21.

McDonald explained that a number of legislative changes in the assessment process forced MPAC to make some changes to its notices.

"Most people have a good idea about what they think their house is worth," said McDonald. "We are confident that our values are accurate from Jan. 1, 2008 statistics."

According to McDonald, South Dundas properties have all increased, with waterfront properties almost doubling.

"Waterfront properties are going up significantly," said McDonald, adding that the 2005 value was averaged at $293,758 and the current 2008 average is estimated at $418,695 — a 42.53 per cent increase.

Single family detached properties increased 24.87 per cent, averaging at $162,103 this year (up from $129,816 in 2005). Freehold townhouses or rowhouses increased 24.46 per cent since 2005, with the average value being $95,079 (up from $76,395). Semi-detached residential properties have increased 32.53 per cent, from an estimated 2005 value of $106,846 to the 2008 value of $141,603.

McDonald also noted that South Dundas had a 1.5 per cent property growth during the 2008 tax year.

"A 1.5 per cent growth in 2008 is pretty strong, especially compared to other municipalities," said McDonald.

MPAC has implemented a four-year phase-in process for property value, so by the next assessment in 2012, the property will be worth the full current value assessment (CVA). Each year leading up to the next assessment will see a 25 per cent increase to meet the CVA by 2012.

McDonald explained that if the property's CVA is $40,000, then each year (2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012) the property's value will increase by $10,000.

McDonald also highlighted the online enhancements of AboutMyProperty, a section of www.mpac.ca, where residents can view up to 100 comparable properties, access property reports, and request help.

Another change is the Request for Reconsideration (RfR) process. Previously, property owners would have the entire year to file a RfR, but now MPAC has implemented a deadline of March 31 of the taxation year. If a RfR is not filed, the owner can not appeal.

"The onus is now on MPAC," said Mayor Charles Barkley about the RfR changes. "It's one step in the right direction. It used to be that the property owner would have to prove you (MPAC) wrong, but now it's up to MPAC to prove you (the property owner) right."

McDonald also noted that it is important for residents to read the information insert provided with the assessment notice because it highlights the changes to the assessments and notices.

"The new mission statement for MPAC is to serve Ontario property taxpayers together with provincial and municipal stakeholders through accurate and timely property assessments and a commitment to service excellence," said McDonald.

Every municipality in Ontario is a member of MPAC, a not-for-profit corporation whose main responsibility is to provide its customers (property owners, tenants, municipalities, and government and business stakeholders) with consistent and accurate property assessments. MPAC administers a uniform, province-wide property assessment system based on current value assessment in accordance with the provisions of the Assessment Act.

MPAC is responsible for the assessment of nearly 4.7 million properties in the province.

Editor's Note: McDonald presented to North Dundas council last night (Oct. 28). Watch for those numbers in next week's Press.

Food for your soul

Jean Albert's brings southern flavour to Canada

by Sarah Kelford
Press staff

HALLVILLE — "I developed the recipes with a grandmother's standard. It's not fancy, it's going to look like your momma made it," said LeRoy Walden, co-owner of Jean Albert's.

When LeRoy and Jennifer Walden met at a concert in Toronto in 2001, neither of them knew that seven years later they would be married, with two children, running a restaurant in Jennifer's hometown of Hallville.

"I was sick of everything tasting the same at restaurants," said LeRoy. "I said, 'Let's give the people some real food.' This isn't frozen — it's the real deal."

LeRoy was raised in Detroit, MI, and learned how to cook from his grandmother who was raised in Florida. Those southern-state recipes inspired the Waldens to open "Canada's first authentic soul food restaurant."

"It's American style soul food from the old confederate states," explained Jennifer. "You are getting homemade, original food."

Jennifer noted that the pantry consists mostly of ingredients since the dishes are made from scratch.

"I have been cooking for almost 30 years," said LeRoy. "And I'm 30."

LeRoy said he got started in the kitchen at an early age chopping collard greens and popping peas. He added that he took home economics in high school, and though he originally took the class to spend time with girls, he ended up being one of the better students.

Jennifer said that when they first started dating, LeRoy would cook for her and it was always "so good."

"We asked each other 'why do we keep talking about what we want to do?'," said Jennifer. "We decided to just do it."

The Waldens wanted to keep the restaurant very community and family-oriented and friendly, so Jean Albert comes from the combination of Jennifer's grandmother's name and LeRoy's grandfather's name.

"The names sounded good together," Jennifer added. "There is a lot of love and a lot of soul in our food."

Even though the restaurant has only been open four months, the Waldens already have regular customers.

One of Jean Albert's regulars is Jim Allen from Hallville, who said he recommends the restaurant to friends because "it's good food in a good atmosphere."

Allen said he enjoys the fish the most, but has tried almost everything on the menu.

A unique concept on the menu is $1 breakfast, where customers can build their own meal with every item priced at $1.

"You make your own breakfast," said Jennifer, explaining that customers can have eggs, bacon, toast, and pancakes for $4.

While Jennifer said she would recommend the chicken and ribs to customers, LeRoy suggests that customers "try everything — keep coming back. Six days of the week, I will cook for you. My house is your house, as long as you wipe your feet at the door."

Jean Albert's is featured in the November issue of Ottawa Magazine. Jean Albert's is open Tuesday to Friday 8 am until 8 pm; Saturday and Sunday 9 am until 8 pm; and is closed on Mondays.

Snacks for students

Parents and staff of Nationview Public School in South Mountain accepted a cheque from the Healthy Eating for Better Learning Foundation. The grant is used to provide snacks for students throughout the day. Nourishing the students at Nationview allows them to come to the learning table well fed and ready to learn. Pictured are: parent co-ordinator Marion Clarke (left), student nutrition program co-ordinator Devorah Belinslay, and teachers Leeann Chamberlain and Charlene Gilmer.

Climate talk

The South Mountain Library held an open house celebrating Ontario Library Week on Thurs., Oct. 23, and Adriana Hoogenboom (left) made a presentation on climate change and what people can do about it in their own homes and communities. "Everyone came away with a new, stronger resolve to make a difference," said Friends of the South Mountain Library chair Liz Earl. Hoogenboom grew up in Mountain, graduated from North Dundas District High School and Laurentian University, and now works as a biologist with South Nation Conservation. She attended the UN Conference on Climate Change in Bali last year and trained this year with Al Gore and David Suzuki in Montreal. The evening was organized by the Friends of the South Mountain Library and SD&G County Library Board.

Happy birthday, Winchester!

North Dundas Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose (left), Mayor Alvin Runnalls, Elizabeth Barton of the Dundas County Players, and Keith Sherriffs joined in the cake-cutting ceremony to commemorate the 120th anniversary of the incorporation of Winchester on Sun., Oct. 26. The cake was shared with those in attendance of the matinée performance of the Dundas County Players' Cabar-EH! The village of Winchester was incorporated as a municipality in 1888, and Sherriffs approached the Township of North Dundas about having an event to mark the occasion. The North Dundas History Stewards (the Municipal Heritage Committee of North Dundas), helped to plan the event and the township purchased the cake from Indulge!, a Winchester baker. The stewards would like to thank Keith Sherrifs, the Dundas County Players, and the Township of North Dundas.

Stay alert, stay safe

By now, most children have picked out their costumes and are ready to go trick-or-treating. Haunted houses aren't the only worry on Halloween night — there are plenty potential dangers that can easily be avoided.

Try a make-up kit (there are a number of non-toxic varities available) instead of a mask. Masks make it hard for children to see what's around them, including cars.

Make costumes in light-coloured material, and use strips of reflective tape so that drivers can better see the costumed kids, and be sure costumes fit properly to prevent trips and falls.

A parent should escort children under 10 while trick-or-treating. By the age of 10, some children are ready to go trick-or-treating with a group of friends.

If children are out on All Hallows Eve without an adult, make sure they go in a group of at least three people. Give them a flashlight and discuss what route they are going to follow. Tell them to call you or check in at home if they plan to go anywhere not on the route, and tell them not to eat anything until they get home.

Remember: "If in doubt, throw it out." Any questionable candy should be eliminated from the stock pile.

Trick-or-treaters should stick to houses on one side of the street and not criss-cross in front of traffic. Likewise, motorists should be extra cautious and prepared to avoid Halloween hazards.

Because Halloween is on a Friday night this year, be aware of the fact that the little monsters (and likely the not-so-little monsters) will be out past their bed time. When the trick-or-treaters begin to dwindle, take the time to put jack-o'-lanterns away so they aren't stolen or smashed on the road by Halloween hooligans. Leave lights on later that ususal to deter pranksters from your property, and be sure to report any suspicious behaviour to the police.

M.D.

Halloween is a holiday with lots of creepy wildlife associated with it, but are these animals really so scary?

Bats: Blood sucking vampire bats are real, but they mostly feed on chickens and cows and only live in Latin America. Most North American bats are insect eaters.

Spiders: With their eight legs and multiple eyes, spiders are creatures right out of nightmares — but even though they might look scary, they are actually extremely beneficial and eat all sorts of insects.

Toads: Toads are not just a key ingredient in witches' brew, they are important environmental indicators — they are usually the first species to die in polluted areas. Lots of toads is a good sign that your neighborhood is fairly unpolluted.

Snakes: The slithering body, forked tongue, and lidless eyes of a snake strike fear in many people, but most snake species are completely harmless and their natural reaction is to get away from people.

Remember when...

1978

Winchester council arranged for five auxiliary police and three OPP officers to patrol on Halloween night and keep the hooligans under control. The officers patrolled from 6 pm and called it a night (or very early morning) after everything was calm.

1988

A surprise snowstorm dumped over 20 centimetres of snow on Winchester and the surrounding communities. The storm also knocked out power and damaged some crops. The forecast originally called for rain, but changed quickly when a low pressure system brought cold, northern air to the area.

1998

The Country Christmas Parade of Lights committee started planning the second annual evening parade. The first year brought in 20,000 spectators and the committee hoped to make it even bigger. The route changed and would start in the old Ontario Hydro yard and end on Dawley Drive. The committee asked Winchester residents to allow out-of-towners to park in their driveways in an attempt to fix the parking and traffic issues that arose the previous year.

Happy Halloween! Cory Kerkhof performed a delicate operation on Brendan Flowers in one of the rooms at the Winchester United Church haunted house in 1998. The haunted house was organized by members of the church's youth group and attracted 250 people that year.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Long term planning for a long term future

The Editor:

How can we stretch our retirement dollars, or protect them, when times are tough and we can expect to live longer?

Well, the good news is that thanks to healthier lifestyles, improvements in healthcare, and alternative medicines and therapies, people are living longer. And a longer retirement gives us prospects of fulfilling long-held projects, promises, and dreams.

However, a longer retirement may come with drawbacks. In later years, we may no longer be able to take care of ourselves. What then? We could turn to our families and put the burden of care on them. Would that be a good idea? What if they are far away, or if they have very busy lives? In any case, if we prize our independence, would we want to be dependent on family members?

The alternative is to have others take care of us, which means having extra funds to pay for their help, and that could in turn put an unexpected strain on our budget and finances. For example, if we chose to stay at home and pay for care at home, such daily services as shopping, cooking, and cleaning cost in today's dollars between $20 and $40 per hour. Add in weekly services, such as lawn care and, in the winter, snow removal, as well as specialized care not covered by health insurance, and our bills could jump very quickly.

What is the solution? Here are some key questions to ask:

Does my family history indicate I may need long-term care?;

Can I expect to live to age 85 and beyond? And will my financial resources stretch that far, if I need to pay for long-term care?;

Do I want to avoid being a burden on my family?;

Do I want to remain independent and stay in my own home as long as possible?;

If I need to go into a nursing home, do I want to be sure I get the best possible care?;

Will the government pay for the best possible care?

If your answers to the above questions are mostly 'yes,' and you are doubtful about the last one, it's time to learn more about long-term care insurance (LTCI). LTCI provides a living benefit — a daily or monthly payout to help cover the costs of having help to take care of yourself when you are no longer able to do so on your own.

LTCI protects your hard-earned income and savings, helps you to preserve your independence, and frees you from being a burden on your family.

There's no time like the present to do yourself a favour and find out how LTCI can stretch your retirement dollars.

The long haul

SHEPHERD TALK

by Rev. Bud McKibbon

MOUNTAIN — The economy affects everyone. Even if you are not an investor, you purchase goods and services. The economy of a nation is very important — it affects just about every segment of our society.

In the investment market, you will hear advice like, "buy low and sell high." In the mutual fund market you are probably hearing comments like, "yeah, sure I know, but hey, you're in for the long haul right?"

Words of reassurance from the financial market gurus mean little because we all know that things can always get worse. I'd like to point out that we all hope that we are in for the long haul. I'm talking about life. I could make an attempt at a pep talk about economic past histories, disasters, wars, and rumours about wars but we know that stuff happens and that economies do recover.

The Bible tells us that where your treasure is, there too you will find your heart. It means that the things we value, we love. Since we have just finished Thanksgiving celebrations, I expect that the things we're thankful for are still fresh in our minds. Things like families and friends. We are blessed with freedom, food to eat, clean water, a roof over our heads, education, good health, and opportunities to pursue.

Most of us can be thankful for employment and even if we don't have a job at this moment, we expect that it will come. Many of us are blessed with someone who loves us, a husband or wife, a girlfriend or boyfriend. But I want to tell you that for all of us, we are all loved by God.

Saint Paul wrote in his letter to the Romans, "Who shall separate us from the Love of Christ? Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword? ... No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord (Romans 8:35-39)."

Economic markets can be uncertain. Investing in eternal life is not. The choice is ours. If we're in it for the long haul why not decide now with your heart to accept Jesus Christ into your life? It's a good deal. I'm tempted to say you're buying low and getting to sell high eternity.

This is truly an important decision because life is fragile. Why not approach a minister and ask them to elaborate upon this passage from the Bible? I know they would be happy to.

Nothing in all creation will be able to separate you from the love of God when you walk with Jesus.

Rural caregivers offered support program

OSGOODE — Rideau Community Support Services and Osgoode Home Support are launching a Rural Caregiver Support Program, to be available for caregivers in Rideau and Osgoode wards.

The program offers support to people who attend to the needs of a dependent senior or disabled adult at home.

The program includes a monthly information series, respite care, support groups, and counselling services.

"The information series is to help caregivers in their various roles, whether it be organizing and obtaining help in the home, learning about resources available, or how to plan for the future," said program co-ordinator for Rideau Community Support Services Isabel Macrae.

Macrae noted that respite is available for caregivers as well. Sometimes, in order for a caregiver to get out — whether to attend a meeting, or just simply for a break — someone must come in the home to look after their loved one. Respite care gives the caregiver a break at a reasonable cost.

"Once in awhile a crisis does occur within a family," she continued. "Where does the caregiver turn for help or resources? The Rural Caregiver Support Program can help by counselling, providing information, and support."

The 2008 information series takes place at the Greely Firehall on:

Nov. 4 — "Dealing with Guilt as a Caregiver" presented by Lise Tessier of the Seniors' Health and Caregivers' Support, OPH;

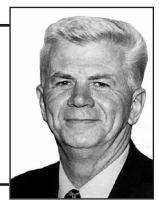
Dec. 2 — "Help - How and Where do I Get It?" presented by Sylvia Murphy-Plouffe, case manager for Community Care Access Centre.

There is no charge to attend any of these information sessions, but RSVP by noon on the Monday prior to the event, as a light lunch will be served.

If you need support in your home while attending these sessions, in-home respite care is available. For more information or to make reservations contact Osgoode Home Support, 613-821-1101, hsp@osgoodehomesupport.ca or the Rideau Community Support Services at 613-692-4697 or info@rideauseniors.ca.

Osgoode Ward assessments up 20%

In and around
Osgoode Ward
by councillor Doug Thompson



METCALFE — The Municipal Property Assessment Corporation (MPAC) has mailed out the 2008 property assessment notices. The 2006 Ontario Ombudsman's Report, which was highly critical of the reassessment procedures, prompted the Liberal government to suspend the process for three years. When residents receive the notices this week, it will be the first time since 2005 that all properties in the province have been reassessed.

In my opinion, very little has changed. The philosophy of the real estate values of your neighbourhood affecting your property taxes is, unfortunately, still in place. On average, assessments of residential properties in Osgoode Ward have increased by 19.96 per cent, the third highest increase of all 23 city wards. It seems Osgoode Ward is a great place to live and this is reflected in the higher values of new and existing houses. This assessment value will be in place for the next four years.

Read the assessment notices carefully. Our office is planning a meeting in November to discuss the assessments and the 2009 city budget.

From Superman to super author

Alvin Schwartz's latest publication released three months early

by Sarah Kelford
Press staff

CHESTERVILLE — "If I start to add up the amount of work I have been able to produce since the creation of the computer compared to the typewriter — I've more than quadrupled my production," said Chesterville resident and former Superman comics writer Alvin Schwartz.

Schwartz, who will be 92 in November, was approached last year by a German publisher to release and distribute his third book An Unlikely Prophet re-named Tulpa. It was released three months ahead of schedule.

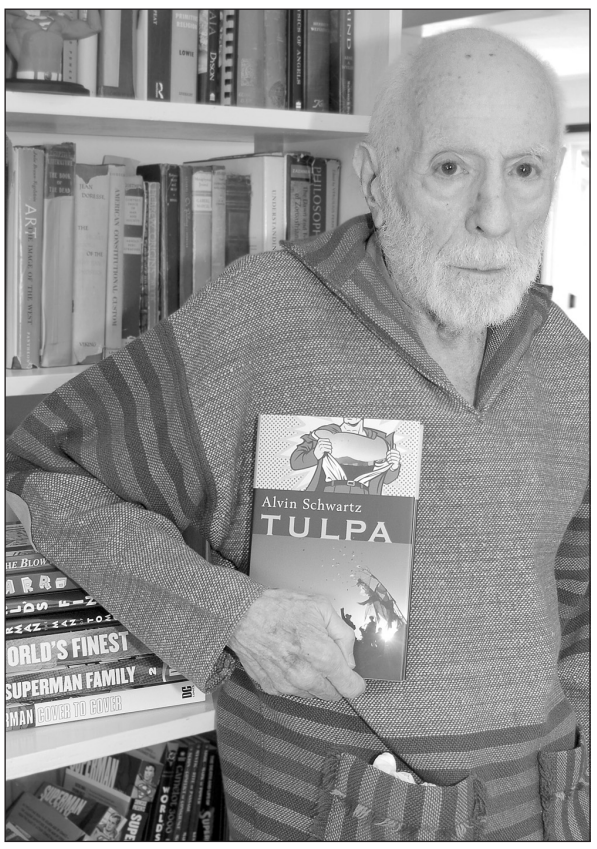
"I guess they really wanted to read it," he joked.

Two of his books — the metaphysical autobiography, An Unlikely Prophet and its sequel, A Gathering of Selves — have been published in a number of languages, including English, French, Spanish, and now German, and have also been picked up by a movie producer to be made into independent films.

Schwartz said that even though he has all these projects on the go, he still continues to write, and even has another four books waiting to be published.

"I'm beginning to find out that old age is a constant painful progressive thing," Schwartz said on Thurs., Oct. 23 when he invited the Press into his Chesterville home, where he lives with his wife Catherine. "It's a constant war. I'm working and putting out so much so I don't have to focus on this body evolvage."

Although he said he has been writing since his uncle gave him a typewriter at the age of six, Schwartz's professional writing career really took off in the 1940s while working in New York City writing the Superman comics. Schwartz felt that the comic strip's concept needed to change.



Alvin Schwartz turns 92 in November and recently received copies of his book An Unlikely Prophet, which was published in German as Tulpa — three months ahead of schedule. Schwartz wrote the Superman comic strips during the 1940s and '50s, and moved to Chesterville in the 1990s with his wife Catherine to settle down and be close to their family. Press Photo—Kelford

"I took over as chief writer in 1944 and made radical changes," he said. "I was the one who had him flying."

In 1948, Schwartz published The Blow Top, which was considered, by critics at the time, to be the source of the beat movement.

"Everything you work on produces something else," he said.

Schwartz began comic strip writing in 1939 for Fairy Tale Parade and in 1942 wrote his first Batman story. He moved to Superman in 1944, worked on the strip until 1958, and was the writer who introduced Bizarro World.

Schwartz recently finished The Shattering Presence after working on it for 25 years.

"The theme of the book is religion without religion," he explained. "One important character is trying to understand that you don't learn religion, you become religious by dropping religion."

Schwartz explained that The Shattering Presence is a long book, and he tried to cut it down, but feels that "it has to be allowed to run its full course."

"It is a 700,000-word book," he said. "No one is going to publish it unless I have something to go with it. If I handle this right, I'll be able to get this off just fine — it will just take a little more time."

Another book in pre-publication, The Consuming Impulse, is a true story about a corner store riot. Schwartz said he enjoys telling stories and reminiscing about the "golden ages," but said he's "trying to keep up with a waning memory."

Schwartz explained that most agents are looking for new writers who are just starting out.

"I once took a stand against agents, but it didn't get me anywhere," he said, adding that his agent lives in Hollywood, CA but he would rather find someone further away from the film industry and is looking for representation in New York.

Schwartz maintains an online presence with his semi-regular column "After the Golden Ages" (www.worldfamouscomics.com/alvin), which consists of stories, thoughts, and memories.

To purchase any of Schwartz's books visit www.amazon.com.

Williamsburg artist featured at the abbey

WILLIAMSBURG — Williamsburg artist Anne Barkley will showcase her new paintings in an exhibit — Anne Barkley: Solo — at The Abbey for the Arts.

Her exhibition promises to explore the complexity of simple abstract shapes and beautiful colours while engaging and challenging the imagination of the viewer.

Anne Barkley: Solo is the first in a series of exhibitions slated at the Abbey for the Arts during the upcoming season. The show opens Oct. 30 and runs to Nov. 12, 2008.

Barkley's paintings portray the pleasure of the physical and the emotional intensity required to get to that place where the thinking process stops and intuition can have free rein.

The Abbey for the Arts is located in Glen Nevis (North Lancaster), Ont. For more information visit www.theabbey.ca or call 613-347-1602.

Surviving the 'Nazi bullies'

Holocaust survivor moves students with graphic presentation

by Sarah Kelford
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — "I'm not here because of me. I am not a victim — I was victimized. The victims are dead," said Dr. Eva Olssen to a gymnasium full of students and members of the community.

Olssen was at North Dundas District High School on Monday (Oct. 27) to talk about bullying, hatred, and surviving the Holocaust.

"Hate murdered my family. Hate murdered millions of people. Hate is a bad word and we have to change it to 'I don't like'," she said.

Olssen also pointed out that bystanders are not innocent.

"Children who feel good about themselves will never be a bully," she said. "You must have respect for other people. It's OK to be different. It's OK to look different. It's not OK to be indifferent. To label somebody because they are a different religion, colour, orientation is bad. It shows people how ignorant we are. Not stupid — ignorant. Give yourself a chance to know someone different. You'll be a better person for it."

She told the audience that when the Second World War began she thought it would be over shortly, but it took six years. Her family was taken from their Hungarian home and told they were being shipped by train to work at a brick factory in Germany. They were taken to Auschwitz, a concentration camp.

Once off the train, after "four days of hell," Olssen was standing at the front of the camp holding her neice's hand and another prisoner whispered to her to let go of the child.

"Auschwitz was a killing factory and if I had not let go of her hand, I would not be here today," she said, explaining that mothers and children were sent to the gas chamber first during the "selection process."

Olssen is 84 years old and after two books and one audio story about her experience in concentration camps like Auschwitz and Bergen-Belsen, as well as slave labour camps throughout Germany, she feels the most important message to send people is to never bully, to stand up for one another, and to never hate.

"Children are never born racist. Racism is a learned attitude," she said.

Olssen spoke about the week before liberation when the Nazis ordered "zero supply," which meant no water, no food. She remembered that she was sick with a fever and before the war, her mother would put a wet cloth on her head to cool her down. Since there was no water available, Olssen said she urinated on the cloth, in desperation.

"I couldn't die there. Who wins if I die — the Nazi bullies," she said about her feelings at the time. "They stripped us of everything — of family, human rights, human dignity. The one thing they couldn't strip me of was what's inside me — the will to live."

Olssen told the audience that even when times seem the toughest, never give up because tomorrow will be a better day, and there is always someone in a worse spot.

"The future lies in your hands," she said. "What example will you leave behind for the next generation? Don't be a bystander. Be one that can make a difference in someone else's life — like Oskar Schindler did. He stood up and saved 1,100 lives."

Olssen told the audience about the importance of mutual respect and "if you want to live in peace, treat everyone as brothers and sisters — (members) of the human family."

"It was really awesome," said T.R. Leger student Sam Picard of Olssen's presentation. "A lot more people need to see it because we don't hear enough about it. It's life changing."

Olssen's most recent book is Remembering Forever: A Journey of Darkness and Light, which is the story of the first time she returned to Europe since the Holocaust — last autumn. She was accompanied by a videographer and the documentary is being released in early November.

"I speak to elementary schools and colleges, too, not just high schools," said Olssen after her presentation. "I talk about hate and how it spreads. Everyone needs to be informed."

If anyone is interested in ordering copies of Olssen's books or CD, contact NDDHS teacher Scott Reaney by Nov. 5 at scott.reaney@ucdsb.on.ca or 613-448-2328, extension 4842.

After her presentation, Holocaust survivor Dr. Eva Olssen was approached by many students and community members thanking her and telling her their own stories. Marissa Liscumbe (above), a Grade 7 student from Maple Ridge Senior Public School, thanked Olssen after her presentation.

Students zero in on impaired driving

by Taviah Smith
OSAID executive member

MAPLE RIDGE — Some students at North Dundas District High School proudly wore 'Zs' and capes, while others wore blood and bandages on Tues., Oct. 21.

Why? They were celebrating National Students Against Impaired and Distracted Driving Day.

The OSAID (Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving) chapter and drama students at the school organized many activities promoting safer driving.

The school population was invited to dress up as a "Zero Hero," showing that they have zero tolerance for impaired driving.

At lunch time, students participated in a donut-eating contest where they wore four-necked t-shirts, and some students wore impaired vision goggles.

In the gymnasium, people could tour the "OSAID Museum," where drama students had various scenes set up involving impaired driving — a cell phone call while driving or having to taking keys away from a drunk driver.

Adrienne Wallace from the Eastern Ontario Health Unit and Suzanne Grizels the school nurse had an informative display for students to view.

Remember: friends don't let friends drive impaired!

Show off your spooky spirit

MAPLE RIDGE — Indoor soccer intramurals got started last Monday and will continue for the next few weeks. Get to the gym at lunch and play or cheer on your team because it is going to be an exciting event!

Grade 12 students are starting to feel the pressure. Last Wednesday (Oct. 22), students interested in applying to university went to St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Russell to see presentations from Ontario universities. College-bound students also attended similar presentations made by Ontario colleges at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall on Thursday (Oct. 23).

The last spirit day was Friday and it was "monochromatic day." Everyone that dressed all in one colour received 10 points for their house. Provost had the most participants and Sierra Pemberton won best dressed.

It's almost Halloween and that means there will be another dance at North Dundas District High School. The dance is tomorrow (Thurs., Oct. 30) and students are strongly encouraged to wear costumes. As usual, points will be awarded to students that attend the dance. The cost will be $5 per person and students are reminded to bring their student card. Drinks, trick-or-treat bags, and glow sticks will be available to buy at the dance.

This Friday is Halloween and it will also be a spirit day, so anyone who wears a costume to school will help their house.

Creepy Creek Camp ready to scare visitors

The Creepy Creek Camp scarefest at Paul Allan's property on Van Camp Road opened last Friday (Oct. 24) and will run nightly until Sat., Nov. 1.

In this staring contest, it was Ghoul — 1, Ryan Gruich of Chesterville — 0. Gruich visited Creepy Creek Camp on Sun., Oct. 26. The local frightfest will be scaring visitors until Nov. 1.

by Matthew Barbour

MOUNTAIN — "It was great; I'm ready to go through again," said Sharon Toonders of Williamsburg on Sun., Oct. 26, as she exited from the Haunt Walk at "Creepy Creek Camp" on Van Camp Road. "It stacks up very well with the other major Halloween attractions."

There was no grumbling about the new $5 admission price.

"It was certainly worth it," said Rob Farmer of Morrisburg. "And well worth the trip."

Until now, Haunt Walk creator Paul Allan had only been asking for donations to help keep his frightfest going. While he doesn't expect Creepy Creek Camp to become a big money-maker, he said he wants to continue building a bigger and better attraction.

Even with donations from sponsors and the admission fees, he doubts he will break even this year. In each of the past few years, he said he has had to shell out between $500 and $1,000 from his own pocket to keep things fresh and interesting and to provide a few new surprises each season.

But Allan is a man with a mission.

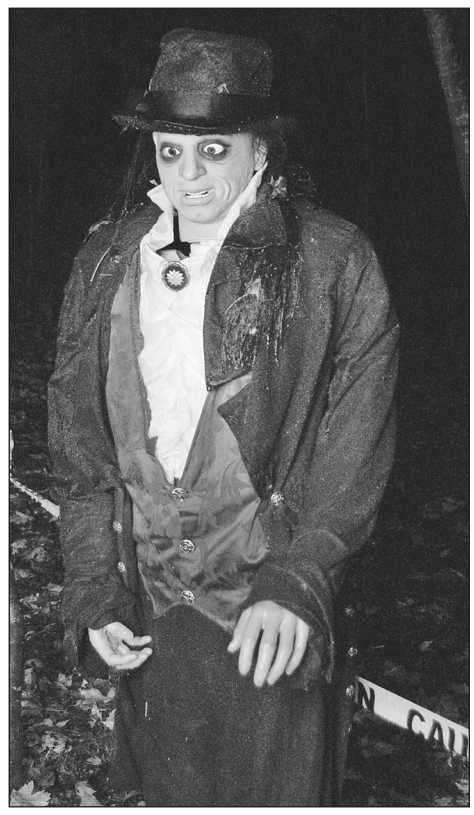
"Life is too short to be serious all the time — we need to have a sense of adventure," he said.

He admitted there is a lot of fun in it for him, too.

"I love hearing the screams," he said, smiling mischievously. "The giggles and laughter are rewarding as well."

Allan has been up to his Halloween antics for the last 10 years or so. What started as an ambitious lawn arrangement turned into a frightening visit for trick-or-treaters, and is now an almost 30-minute experience.

The Haunt Walk opened for the season on Fri., Oct. 24, and will be scaring visitors until Nov. 1 from 5:30 to 9:30 pm nightly. Creepy Creek Camp is located on Van Camp Road near Development Road. Visit www.creepycreekcamp.ca for all the scary details.



Are they just mannequins, or real monsters waiting to snatch unsuspecting passersby? You won't know until it's too late.

4-H UPDATE

Apple club bakes

by Kyleigh Jampen

MOUNTAIN — The 4-H apple club's third meeting took place on Thurs., Oct. 9 at the Mountain Community Hall. Members started the meeting with discussions about what they would do for the meeting, which was make a homemade apple pie.

Members were instructed to wait for everyone to catch up once a certain stage in pie making was reached. The leaders gave tips, such as rolling out the dough and cutting the apples. After everyone was finished, members cleaned up the work area and showed off their pies.

Then members continued with regular business. President Cassy Mueller called the meeting to order with the 4-H pledge and secretary Patricia Thompson read the minutes. Everyone was asked what they were going to do with their apple pies: cook them for Thanksgiving or freeze them for a later date. Then Mueller closed the meeting.

The fourth meeting of the apple club took place on Thurs., Oct. 23 at the Mountain Community Hall. The meeting started with leader Carolyn Lillico discussing the projects to be made by each group. The recipes were then handed out.

The focus of the meeting was to see how different preparation techniques can affect the same recipe. For example, members made two apple crisps, one was cooked in the microwave and one was baked in the oven. Everyone sampled the items made that meeting.

Mueller then called the meeting to order with members reciting the 4-H pledge. The minutes from the third meeting were read by Thompson and Lillico asked everyone which version of the recipes they liked best.

She questioned the members about the pies they made and asked if there was anything they would change the next time they made a pie. The meeting was adjourned by Mueller.

Atom "B" Demons take Mega Tournament title

Outscore opposition 22-2 to claim sole "A" Division championship for NDMHA

CHESTERVILLE — Two-goal efforts by Dillon Clemen and Zach Poirier pushed the North Dundas Atom Demons to an 8-1 triumph over the Nepean Red Raiders in the "A" final of the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association's 2008 Rep "B" Mega Tournament.

The Demons Atom championship was the only "A" Division silverware any of the host North Dundas teams were able to capture in the two-day (Oct. 25 and 26) competition. This year's tournament featured over 390 players on 29 teams who played 45 games in the Winchester and Chesterville Arenas.

The North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons qualified for their "A" final but were buried 6-1 by the Barry's Bay Valley Storm. The Major "B" Midget Demons also were undefeated prior to their divisional "A" showdown only to lose 2-1 to the Arnprior Packers. North Dundas did claim the Bantam "B" Division title edging the Kemptville Panthers 2-1. The Minor Midget Demons defeated West Ottawa 4-1 in their "C" final on Sunday.

Dominate Demons

Coach Tom Mellean had his Atom "B" Demons firing on all cylinders as they faced the Mega competition Saturday in Chesterville. The Demons dominated all three games and outscored the opposition 22-2 on their way to the "A" championship.

North Dundas blanked the Ottawa Sting 5-0 in their opening game, knocked off the Nepean White Raiders 9-1 in game two before blasting the Nepean Red Raiders 8-1 in the title match.

Clemen pegged his two markers while Poirier and Owen Guy snapped in single shots as the Demons gained a 4-0 first-period lead on the Red Raiders. Tyson Sherrer, Poirier and Evan Durant netted second-period goals as the gap widened to 7-1. Kyle Ross completed the attack scoring his team's final goal with 2:13 left on the clock.

Mackenzie Johnston (2), Jacob Downey (2), Ross (2), Logan Holmes, Brayden Cochrane, Spencer Kelly, Guy, Durant, and Poirier all earned assists. Cory Ross was the winning goaltender.

Barry's Bay blasts Demons 6-1

Valley Storm too strong, blows North Dundas away in "A" final

WINCHESTER — The storm was too strong for the North Dundas Demons to weather. The Barry's Bay Pee Wee "B" Valley Storm blew into Winchester and blasted the North Dundas Demons 6-1 in the "A" final to finish the 2008 North Dundas Minor Hockey Association "B" Rep Mega Tournament as undefeated champions.

Shawn Simms was the only North Dundas sniper to put a puck behind Storm 'tender Danny McGrath in Saturday evening's "A" final. Simms finally fooled McGrath on a power play 3:36 before the final buzzer.

The Valley Storm whitewashed the Kanata Blazers 6-0 in their first game and then battled North Dundas to a scoreless draw in game two. McGrath and Matthew Ledrew posted matching shutouts.

North Dundas opened the event after Saturday morning's official face-off — involving NDMHA president Marianne Simms and tournament director Dawna Whitehead — skating to a 3-1 victory over the South Stormont Selects.

Chesley Romans gave the Demons a 1-0 lead scoring from Dayton Kelly and Mitchell Melenhorst with 9:22 left in the first period. Dakota Boulanger tied it up 1-1 finishing a play started by Kelly and Patrick Gibson at 6:26 of period two. Mason Durant netted a feed from Kelly and Dylan Marshall with 30 seconds left in the same frame to make it a 3-1 final. Period three was scoreless.

The Osgoode Richmond Senators blanked the Embrun Panthers 10-0 in the "B" final. Liam Hanna and Connor Higgins each scored three times for the winners. The South Stormont Selects took "C" honours shutting out the Kanata Blazers 3-0. Matt Lapierre posted the zero.

Major Demons edged in "A" final, Minor Midgets take Mega "C" title

WINCHESTER — Taylor Collins scored with 11.06 seconds left in the second period and the Arnprior Midget "B" Packers held on and defeated the North Dundas Demons 2-1 in the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association's 2008 Rep "B" Mega Tournament "A" Division championship game.

North Dundas opened Sunday evening's (Oct. 26) title match when Kyle Sobering converted a pass provided by Mike Cross and Chris Embury into a 1-0 lead at 8:23 of period one.

Arnprior tied it up 1-1 when Tyler Virgin scored with 6:51 left in the same frame. Collins then netted the winner late in the second.

North Dundas whitewashed the South Dundas Lions 3-0 in their first match before trimming the South Stormont Selects 3-1 in game two. The Packers battled South Dundas to a 4-4 draw in round two. Arnprior opened with a 3-1 decision over the Char-Lan Rebels.

Paced by Steven Kuipers two-goal effort the South Stormont defeated Char-Lan 3-1 in the "B" showdown. The Athens Aeros outlasted South Dundas 3-2 in the "C" title match.

WINCHESTER — Brandon Cousineau and Ryan Switzer engineered the play and got the puck to Josh Freake who fired into the mesh with 2:43 left in the game.

Freake's tally broke up a tight 1-1 encounter and gave the North Dundas Bantam Demons a 2-1 decision over the Kemptville Panthers in the "B" final of Saturday's (Oct. 25) North Dundas Minor Hockey Association Rep "B" Mega Tournament.

Kemptville led 1-0 after a period but the Demons knotted the count 1-1 with 5:15 left in period two. Mitchell Kirkwood pulled the trigger on the play after taking a pass from Colton Stitt and Paul Gibson. That set the stage for Freake to pop in the game winner in the final frame.

The Hawkesbury Hawks blanked the St. Isidore Eagles 3-0 in the "A" final and Embrun Panthers edged the Ottawa West Golden Knights 4-3 in the "C" final.

North Dundas tamed the Embrun Panthers 7-1 in their first encounter but were shut out 1-0 by Hawkesbury in game two.

Winchester drops into second-place

Hawks lose 11-6 to Westport Jr. "B" Rideaus

WINCHESTER — It was a rare road win in Westport and a Sunday afternoon meltdown for the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks who split their weekend home-and-home series with their Rideau Division rivals.

While Winchester was beating the Rideaus 7-5 on Friday and losing 11-6 on Sunday the Char-Lan Rebels collected six points in their three weekend encounters and knocked the Hawks (8-3-1-0) out of top spot in the St. Lawrence Division standings. The number-two Hawks now have 17 points and a game in hand on the Rebels (9-3-0-1), who have collected 19 points.

Winchester coach Darren Stitt explained that the Hawks started slow in Westport but turned things around and played a solid game to get the 7-5 win.

"Sunday we just didn't show up," he said. "It was good to go into Westport and get the win — apparently the team's first in at least three years. But there wasn't much effort on Sunday."

Moment of silence

A moment of silence was held prior to the opening face off Sunday afternoon as the Hawks marked the sudden passing of the club's past president John Douma. Douma, 55, who had also served on the team executive, passed away suddenly on Fri., Oct. 24 leaving behind a wife and five children.

Winchester general manager Craig "JB" Smith said the former president's passing was a shock to the entire community.

"Some of this year's players didn't know John," noted Smith. "He wasn't involved with us (Hawks) this year. But John had done a lot for the hockey club and the community over the years — he will be missed."

This weekend

Halloween night (Oct. 31) the Hawks will host the Gananoque Islanders at 8:15 pm. Sunday (Nov. 2) they will travel to Athens to challenge the Rideau Division-leading Athens Aeros (6-0-1-2) in a 7:30 pm tilt.

Rideaus 11 - Hawks 6

Westport carried a 4-3 lead into the second period of Sunday's rematch in Winchester and iced their win firing in four goals and taking an 8-4 lead after 40 minutes.

"The boys forgot about playing defence," commented Smith. "Westport is a good hockey club, so a split isn't that bad. I think we have a good squad. We can score goals but we can't forget about playing defence."

Coach Stitt agreed.

"It all starts in your own end," he said. "If you don't take care of it then it is going to be a long night."

Al "Flash" Gordon pegged a pair of first period goals (4 and 5) for the Hawks. Peck (8 - PPG) snapped in a single. Peck (9) supplied the second-period marker. Ben Collins (14) and Parker Davies (5) clicked for third-period tallies. Gordon (3), Collins (3), Peck (2), Adam Schofield, Benoit Parent, Andrew Baker and Derek Miles all picked up assists.

Winchester starter Devon Armitage gave up six goals in 24:56 of work while Michael Hitesman surrendered five in the final 35:04.

Dan Mandel (3), Andrew Thorne (2), Scott Johnstone, Prett Perkins, Thomas Franzon, Nick Held, Adam Donaldson and Luke Hudson rang up the Westport goals. Josh Stickland was the winning 'tender.

Hawks 7 - Rideaus 5

Winchester and the hometown Rideaus were deadlocked 2-2 after 20 minutes of Friday's encounter. The Hawks were up 4-3 after two periods and rolled on to a rare victory in Westport.

Collins led the Hawks to their 7-5 win cracking in three goals to take his total to 13. Parker Davies (4), Bobby Little (3), Cory "Pocket Ski" Giczewski (6 - SHG) and "Flash" Gordon (3 - PPG) also dented the twine. Davies (2), Parent, Baker and Collins also earned helper points. Hitesman stopped 27 of 32 Westport stops picking up the win.

Nick Held (2), Adam Donaldson, Dan Mandel and Perkins counted the Westport goals.

Prowling for funds

The Osgoode Township High School leadership class along with teacher Russ Catt (second from right), Osgoode Ward councillor Doug Thompson (far right), and Percy the Panther presented Norma Lamont, vice-president of community development with the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario Foundation, with a cheque for $3,000 on Thurs., Oct. 16. "It's amazing that a school of this size can raise $3,000," Lamont said. The money was raised during the school annual Panther Prowl; top fundraiser Chris Singhal raised $1,300 of the total. A total of 84 students participated in this year's prowl, which was organized by the leadership class.

Defeat Panthers, Rangers, Aeros

Pee Wee "B" House Demons register three UCMHL wins

KEMPTVILLE — Jarrett Greer cracked in a pair of first-period goals and helped the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" House Demons open up a 3-0 lead on the home town Kemptville Panthers.

North Dundas led the Panthers 3-0 after a period and were enjoying a 6-2 lead after two stanzas of Sunday's (Oct. 26) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League contest.

Ryan Gruich counted the first North Dundas goal scoring at 12:50 of period one. Greer nailed in the next two markers. Beau Baldwin, Jarret Cutler and Patrick Lebrun counted the second-period goals. Tori Corkery supplied the final goal with 8:58 left in the game.

Brandon Dudley (2), Lebrun (2), Braden Findlay, Greer, Gruich, Matthew Laflamme and Devon Byers drew assists.

Demons 6 - Rangers 3

Kyle Greer was the scoring ace in the Demons' 6-3 decision over the South Grenville Rangers in Chesterville on Oct. 22. Greer cracked in three goals, one in each period, leading his team to the win.

Brett Bartholomew, Findlay and Byers each snapped in a single shot. Lebrun (2), Laflamme (2), Byers (2), Dudley, Corkery, Gruich, Spencer Carruthers and goaltender Will Zandbelt all earned helper points. The game was tied 2-2 after one and North Dundas led 4-2 after two.

Demons 4 - Athens 2

Four different North Dundas shooters hit the target in a 4-2 verdict against the host Athens Aeros on Oct. 19.

Lebrun and Baldwin were the marksmen in the opening period while Findlay and Bartholomew cashed in third-period goals. Lebrun (2), Byers, Gruich and Findlay provided the passes.

Nickolas Carruthers and Will Zandbelt shared the North Dundas goaltending chores.

Cousineau cans a deuce, Demons ruin Rangers

WINCHESTER — It was a two-goal night for Brandon Cousineau as the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons rode to a 4-1 victory over the South Grenville Rangers.

The Demons improved their Upper Canada Minor Hockey League regular-season record to 2-0-1 with the Oct. 22 home-ice win.

Cousineau gave the Demons a 1-0 lead when he cashed in a feed from Ryan Byers and Josh Freake at 14:12 of the first period.

Mitchell Kirkwood handed his mates a 2-0 lead scoring on a break away with 5:05 left in period two. Paul Gibson and Ryan Switzer set that play in motion.

South Grenville broke up Ryan Romans shut-out bid when Desmond Martin scored with 2:65 left in period two. North Dundas answered quickly as Freake buried a pass from Byers with 6.2 seconds left in the same frame.

Cousineau connected for his second goal of the night after taking a pass from Freake 6:08 before the final buzzer.

Rodney shuts down Panthers

WINCHESTER — Goaltender Shane Rodney and his defensive crew played a solid game against the Kemptville Atom "B" House Panthers and were rewarded with a 5-0 victory.

Drew Cotnam, who netted a pair of goals, opened Friday's (Oct. 24) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League contest firing a feed from Jack VanKessel into the Panthers cage in the opening stanza. Cotnam's marker would prove to be the winner in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game.

Jack Messervey made it 2-0 scoring from Tristan MacGregor and Jacob Robinson followed by finishing a play started by Joey Benoit and Lauren Cook to make it 3-0 after two periods.

North Dundas drove the final difference to 5-0 in the final frame. VanKessel (unassisted) and Cotnam (assisted by MacGregor) counted the final two tallies for the home team.

Metcalfe Jets stretch win string to three games

METCALFE — Shane James cashed in a pass fed to him by Simon Johns and Eric Laplante late in the second period as the host Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets shocked the Ottawa Junior Canadians 5-3.

Sunday afternoon's (Oct. 26) victory over the third-place Canadians extended the Jets' winning streak to three games and moved them out of the Metro Division basement and into fourth place ahead of the Gatineau Mustangs (2-10-1-0) who have five points. The Jets (4-6-0-0) have earned eight points and hold three games in hand on the Mustangs.

Friday night (Oct. 24) the Jets welcomed the Valley Division's sixth-place Perth Blue Wings (2-9-2-1) to the Larry Robinson Arena and doubled them 4-2. Metcalfe kicked off their winning ways hammering Gatineau 9-4 on Oct. 19.

Home stand

The Arnprior Packers (6-7-0-0) will provide the opposition in Metcalfe on Friday night (Oct. 31). The Halloween tilt will get underway at 8:15 pm. Sunday afternoon (Nov. 2) the Gatineau Mustangs will be in Metcalfe for a 2:15 matinee.

Jets 5 - Canadians 3

Metcalfe goaltender Chris Scrivens registered his second consecutive victory in Sunday's 5-3 decision over the Ottawa Jr. Canadians.

Scrivens made 40 saves on 43 Ottawa shots as his mates put the win away scoring three unanswered goals in the second period.

Mikael Morin (10) tied it up 1-1 scoring on a pass provided by Metcalfe captain Kory Churchill with 36 seconds left in period one.

Churchill (5) made it 2-1 with help from Laplante and Brett Varrin at 8:24 of the second stanza. Brett Holmes (5) increased the Jets lead to 3-1 scoring from Morin and Derek Nooyen at 11:39. James (2) then cracked in a relay from Johns and Laplante at 17:23 to send the Jets into the final frame with a 4-1 lead.

A power play goal by Laplante (4) 3:57 into the third period increased the Metcalfe lead to 5-1. Morin and Zach Coakeley engineered the play.

Goals by Nick Gianetto and Andrew Dillworth cut Ottawa's final deficit to 5-3.

Ottawa converted one of seven man advantages into a goal. The Jets hit one for five.

Jets 4 - Blue Wings 2

Scrivens faced 39 shots and stopped 32 of them backing the Jets in Friday's 4-2 win over the Perth Blue Wings.

Churchill (4) and James (1 - PPG) netted first-period goals to put the Jets up 2-1 after a period.

Nicholas Straccini (3 - PPG) put his team up 3-2 after 40 minutes.

Johns (1) pumped in an empty-net tally at 18:54 of the final frame to secure Metcalfe's 4-2 win.

Morin (2), Holmes (2), Churchill, Scrivens and James all drew assists.

Metcalfe cashed in two goals on six power plays. The Blue Wings used the powerplay to register both of their markers.

Have a great week!

Lending library

The Township of North Dundas skate and helmet lending library is now open. Community development programmer Meaghan Elder explained that both the Winchester and Chesterville arenas will have a mix of hockey and figure skates in most sizes, as well as helmets, for residents to borrow to go skating at the rink. The program functions just like a library. The equipment has to be signed out by a Township staff member and returned at the end of the public skate. Partners for this new program are the Township recreation department, the House of Lazarus, Winchester Home Hardware, the Community In Action Fund, and the Think First program. Elder also noted that donations of gently used or new helmets and skates, or monetary donations, would be appreciated to help sustain and expand the lending program. If you would like to make a donation stop by the Township office. For more information, contact Elder at 613-774-2105, extension 236 or email melder@northdundas.com. Public skating hours are posted on the township web site (www.northdundas.com).

"Toast" Armstrong burns Rockets for three, Flyers snag first victory

WINCHESTER — Travis "Toast" Armstrong cracked in three goals and powered the Winchester Flyers to their first Winchester Town Hockey League victory, a 9-3 decision over the Inkerman Rockets.

Backed by the sound goaltending of Chris Currie the Flyers (1-2-1) built up a 4-1 lead in the first half of the Tuesday night (Oct. 21) game against the number-two ranked Rockets (2-2-0).

Justin Morozuk got the ball rolling ringing up the Flyers first goal at 23:25. He was followed to the Rockets net by Armstrong at 13:26, Chris "Edgar" Hart at 5:19 and Scott Reaney who dented twine 46 seconds before the intermission.

Troy McNaughton netted the lone Rocket goal finishing a play started by Jordan Barkley and Jeff Pashak.

Reaney (at 21:36), Josh "Champ" McLean (at 18:38), Armstrong (at 12:48). Morozuk (at 9:23) and Armstrong (at 3:54) all cashed in markers against Inkerman 'tender Chad Kennedy in the second session.

Robyn Sadler kept his four-game scoring string intact ringing up his 13th and 14th goals in the final 5:19 of the contest. Aron Sherrer and Barkley collected the assists.

Spencer Dawson (3), Trevor Gilmer (3), Kelly "Rubber" Beckstead (2), McLean (2), Matt VanDelst, Reaney and Morozuk earned helpers for the Flyers.

Howlers 6 - Monsters 2

John Guy collected four points leading Heuff's Howlers to their second straight win, a 6-2 verdict against Morozuk's Monsters in the opening half of the Tuesday night double dip.

The score was tied 1-1 at the half and the Monsters led 2-1 at 26:34 of the second session on Darrel Moore's second marker of the game. But from that point on it was all Howlers who crammed in five unanswered shots.

Sheldon Myers and Ryan Thompson each potted a pair for the winners. Thompson's second goal was of the penalty shot variety recorded 2:15 before the final buzzer. Guy, Jamie McIntosh and Barrett Brundige snapped in the singles. Justin Heuff (3), Guy (3), Travis Rowe, Ryan Thompson and Will McLean picked up the assists. Jesse Whyte was the winning 'tender.

Moore fired in both Monster markers. Rob Thurler, Brad Nixon and Phil Carkner provided the passes. Colin Ion suffered the loss.

In Memoriam

ACRES – In loving memory of Brenda, who passed away November 4, 2006.
We hold you tightly within our hearts,
And there you will remain.
Life has gone on without you,
But it will never be the same.
Your strength, courage, spirit and love will remain with us forever.
– Dwayne and Barbara
33

CLARK – In memory of my dear mother, Bessie, who passed away October 27, 2007.
Your golden heart stopped beating
Two busy hands at rest;
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.
They say that memories are golden
And while that may be very true;
We never wanted memories
We only wanted you.
If hearts could build a stairway
And heartaches make a lane;
We would walk a path to Heaven
And bring you home again.
Our family chains are broken
And nothing is the same;
But as God calls us one-by-one
The chain will link again.
– Lovingly remembered by Joan and Michael; Barbara, Lynden, Autumn and Lachlyn 33

In Memoriam

ALLEN – In loving memory of Don, who passed suddenly on November 3, 2005.
You will always be in our hearts and thoughts.
– Your Family
33

STANLEY – In memory of Wilmott, who passed away November 2, 2002. The greatest dad that ever lived.
– We love you,
– Marj, Lois and Wilton, Lorna and Ron, Maybelle and families
33

RUDOWSKI – In loving memory of a dear son, Kevin.
Eight years have passed since you left. You are missed so much, and will never be forgotten.
– Much love, Mom

In Appreciation

VOGEL – The family of the late Christel Vogel wishes to express our heartfelt thanks for prayers, floral tributes, memorial donations and messages of sympathy on our recent loss.

To our relatives, friends and neighbours, words cannot express our appreciation for your support and friendship, not only at this time, but also over the past four years since Mom became ill.

Our sincere gratitude to all the staff at Bayshore Nursing and Para-Med for their daily visits. Special thanks to Bayshore nurses Sherry McMahon and Lori Ladouceur and Para-Med PSW Sharyn Manley. Your wonderful care allowed Mom to have her wish to stay at home.

Thanks also to the many good people at the North Stormont Senior Support Centre in Finch and the helpful staff at the Seaway Pharmacy in Chesterville.

To Nicolle Braseau and everyone from CCAC, your help and kindness will always be appreciated.

The comfort and care given by Dr. Racine and his staff and all the wonderful people at the Winchester Hospital over the years has been exceptional. Thank you.

To Dave MacDougall (Brownlee Funeral Home), thank you for guiding and helping us, so thoughtfully, through this very difficult time. Special thanks to Grace Forsyth for her wonderful reading and expression of Friendship. Much appreciation also to pallbearers Jack Forsyth, Carl Nugent, Winston Dingwall, Jamie Nugent, Harvey Vogel and Randy Nugent. Thanks go to Durant's Flowers for their fine floral work and to the ladies from Chalmers UCW for preparing a delicious lunch. Last but not least, our deepest gratitude to Rev. Your words brought us more comfort and peace than we can ever express.
