Mrs. Allan Smirle Passed Away in Montreal Hospital

Morewood and the surrounding community suffered a distinct loss on Sunday, May 16th, when Deborah Dillabough, wife of Allan Smirle of Morewood passed away in the General hospital, Montreal, in her sixty-first year. She had been a life-long resident of Morewood where she was widely and affectionately known for her keen interest in all things pertaining to the welfare of the community. She had been a member of the Presbyterian Church, Ladies Aid Society and vice president of Morewood Red Cross Unit. She will be missed much in church work.

The wealth of flowers around her home during the summer months gave the greatest pleasure to many and which also had the unique distinction of drawing the attention of the Governor General, Lord Athlone and Princess Alice, when they took the opportunity of visiting followng the visit of inspection of the cheese factory at that place two years ago. The perrenial border surrounding three sides of the lawn was a work that anyone might have been proud of.

The funeral was held on Wednesday of last week from her residence to the Presbyterian church where the service was conducted by Rev. A.J. Sinclair at two o'clock with the church filled to capacity. Mr. Frank Casselman sang "The Old Rugged Cross" a favorite of the deceased. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful showing the esteem in which the late Mrs. Smirle had been held by those who knew her best. The pallbearers were Messrs. J.W. Marcellus, Earl Bilow, Harold Hillis, Albert Simpson, Roy Fetterly and Thos. E. Coulthart. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

THE "SEAFIRE": THE BRITISH NAVY'S NEW FIGHTER AIRCRAFT.

High speed fighters operating from British aircraft carriers, first came into the lime-light as the result of their fine work in protecting the great Russia Convoy from air attacns in August, 1942. The Royal Navy's new fighters —"Seafires"— proved their worth in the North Africa operations. Large numbers, operating from aircraft carriers, provided fighter protection for the convoys and escorting warships before the Allied occupation of the airfields was effected. The "Seafire"—as its name implies—is a Spitfire modified for the special conditions of working from an aircraft carrier—a development which will undoubtedly have a very important bearing on future naval operations.

Seeding Very Backward Throughout District

Spring seeding throughout this district has become quite a problem to say the least. On many farms not a bushel of seed has been put in the ground. Many hours of rain this week after three or four dry days caused much discouragment to those ready and waiting to get on the land. Some have hopes that the continued wet weather will take up shortly and cite instances of similar seasons when good crops were harvested after just as late a start. The usual grain crop when seeded late usually yields a crop of inferior grain. With a shifting of varieties of grain it is said that enough grain can be assured for next winter's feeding.

Those on high land such as Maple Ridge have been able to get their cats in and which are now above ground. Bert Fulton has a seven acre field of oats showing a four inch growth this week.

Lieut. J. A Morr's Made Officer Cameron Highlanders

In an exchange of air mail letters received within ten days of posting her own, Mrs. Jack Morris has received word from her husband Lieut. J.A. Morris, that he has been transferred from the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, overseas, as a permanent officer of the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa. Lieuts. Jake Casselman of Berwick, Carl Barrigar of Winchested and Fred Gardner of Cornwall have also been transferred to the Camerons of Ottawa.

Reception Held Last Week For Mr. & Mrs. Clifton Merkley

Thursday evening a week ago the Community Hall was the scene of a most pleasant reception to Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Merkley, by their friends and neighbours, following their recent marriage. More than 200 were present when Miss Opal Renwick, read an address expressing the feelings of all. As the reading was finished the curtains of the stage rolled back and revealed a studio couch, writing desk and an end table which were supplemented by a purse of money.

Following is the address:

Chesterville, May 18, 1943

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Merkley—

Dear Anna and "Tip"—We, your friends and neighbours, have assembled here to-night, to show the high esteem in which you are held by your community.

We have mingled in your company for many years in the varied walks of neighbourly and social intercourse, you have contributed abundantly.

Recollecting these pleasant years we could not allow this happy event in your life to pass, without expressing our feelings. We ask you to accept our sincere good wishes for a long, prosperous, wedded life. That heaven may be bountiful and that your sorrows and trials in life may be few are our heartiest wishes.

To testify the esteem in which you are held, we ask you to accept these gifts, not for their value alone, but as a token of our loyal friendship. May these adorn your home and may they always remind you of the delightful occasion which we celebrate to-night.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours—Mrs. D.A. Dillabough, Mrs. E.B. McMillan, Mr. Burnice Woods, Mr. Dwaine Munro, Mr. Ralph Barkley, Mr. Bert Servage, Mr. Calvin Dillabough.

Clifton replied expressing the thanks of Mrs. Merkley and himself for such beautiful and useful gifts and extending an invitation and desire to meet them in their new home.

The balance of the evening was enjoyably spent in dancing to the strains of Gordons Orchestra.

Victory Loan Well Over Chesterville and District

It is too bad that the great success of the Victory Loan in this district has been withheld so long. It is now revealed through the Counties headquarters that Chesterville and District exceeded their objective of $140,000 by 20.6 percent with a total of $168,850, which with an over the top subscription to every loan yet launched keeps the district well to the fore in all efforts of the war.

An effort was made to keep the public informed of the progress of the loan when a local artist painted a graphic scene of what Hitler might expect from the constant flow of munitions provided by the money of Canadians. No one seemed to have interest enough in showing the daily figures in the space provided to keep the public informed. The figures never did keep up to the subscriptions. The advertising value of the effort was somewhat lessened by the lack of prominence of the figures in the landscape.

Funeral Late A. A. MacLean Held At Finch Saturday

On Saturday, May 22, many friends paid their last respects to Mr. Alex A. MacLean who passed away on Tuesday in his 76th year. Mr. MacLean spent his life on the old homestead in the first concession of Finch until last October when failing health made it advisable to rent his farm and move to Finch village. Early in April he suffered a stroke passing peacefully away on May 18th.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, the former Margaret Campbell, three children, Stuart of the RCAF, Lethbridge, Alta., Vera of the local bank, and Adena of the CS, Ottawa.

Of Mr. MacLean's family which originally numbered ten members, three survive—Mrs. Ernest Farlinger, Morrisburg, Miss Janet C. at home and Rev. James A. MacLean of Dutton, Ontario.

Interment was made in Finch cemetery.

Forecast Gallon Cut In Gasoline Ration

The Toronto Telegram says that the value of gasoline ration coupons in Canada may soon be reduced from three to two gallons, "according to advices from responsible sources in Ottawa and Toronto."

The story said: "It is known that Oil Controller George R. Cottrelle is at present in Washington conferring with Harold Ickes, United States oil administrator, and it is believed the outcome will be an agreement on the part of Mr. Cottrelle to make a further cut in the amount of gasoline allowed a Canadian motorist."

The Telegram said the reports of a pending reduction could not be confirmed at Ottawa.

WE HAVE NO POTATOES TODAY

The announcement that the whole province of Ontario is short of potatoes and will continue to be short until the new crops are ready for distribution will not have a tendency to create cheer among the people. Just when the new crop will be available is a matter of conjecture as in many districts the spuds have not even been planted. Seed potatoes do not thrive in wet ground. In normal times new Ontario potatoes come on the market about the middle of July and although somewhat small at that time are never sweeter or more welcome. This year's crop in mid-July will probably reach the proportion of marbles with a diamond price list attached. Potatoes form a staple in the menu of the average family and suggested substitutes do not seem to fill the want of the hitherto lightly regarded "murphy", or by any other endearing name you wish to apply to it. During the present near famine the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has set up what is termed a 'Potatoe Bank' which decides on all cars of potatoes shipped in Canada with a view to equitable distribution. It is pointed out that all potatoes are required to be shipped to the bank, accompanied by their bills of lading. When they arrive, the officials in charge decide to whom the potatoes must go. They can divert them to any other area for any other purpose they deem necessary. They must go from the local bank to the original consignee, or if the board has other uses for them they may be sent to other people. There was a joyful story came from Saskatchewan recently in which the farmers of that province had decided to come to the rescue of their compatriots and would garner and ship a large number of carloads of old stock potatoes to Ontario. It now transpires that this large store was largely imaginary and those in authority were emphatic in declaring that any carloads of spuds shipped out of Saskatchewan would never get past Winnipeg.

PENSIONED TEACHERS MAY AGAIN TEACH

The Urban School Trustees' Association having in view the shortage of teachers is urging that, for the duration of the war, superannuated teachers be allowed to teach six months a year without loss of pension. It also recommends that the Education Department take steps to include Vocational guidance in the course of study during teaching hours. In respect to the increase in juvenile delinquency it is suggested that correctional schools similar to the former establishments at Bowmanville and Galt be reopened. The opinion is expressed that the Provincial Government should give immediate consideration to plans whereby at least 50 per cent of the gross costs of education be borne by forms of taxation other than real estate. It is strongly urged that the opening of schools be delayed where local boards so desire to free pupils for harvest and canning work. The Association commends the Department for including the St. John's Ambulance Association's course in the defence training course, and again urges the minister of Education to reconsider his recent decision and continue summer courses for teachers.

"BEEF RINGS" THE WAY OUT

It is not such a far cry to the days when Ontario farmers had their "meat rings" which were adopted as a co-operative plan to secure a supply of fresh beef particularly in the summer and busy warm harvest months. Recent regimentation regulations were destined to press heavily on the farmers this year and fearing perhaps that the burden might become too heavy the Prices Board has graciously decided to relax one of its slaughtering regulations and as a result farmers who have been accustomed to having an occasional animal slaughtered for them as a source of meat supply for their own farm may resume the practice. It has previously been prohibited under the conditions governing the slaughter of livestock for any person not having a slaughtering permit. Many farmers, however, in the past have followed the practice of having their animals killed at an abattoir and of taking the meat home for consumption on the owner's farm or the farms of his neighbours, and the above restrictions have been lifted so far as this class of business is concerned. The new ruling permits the holder of a slaughtering permit to slaughter live stock for the account of any non-permit-holding bone fide farmer who resides on his own farm provided that the farmer gives the slaughterer an undertaking that the live stock to be slaughtered is the farmer's own live stock and that the meat obtained from the slaughtering of such live stock will be consumed on the farmer's own farm premises or will be sold to other farmers for consumption on their own farm premises.

CHANGE OF CROPS MAY BE NECESSARY

"Ain't Nature Grand!" is an expression frequently made facetious use of. This year, however, farmers are finding it necessary to adapt themselves to the vagaries of the weather and the old routine has gone by the board. A few farmers have been able to get their seeding done but the large percentage have been unable to do so. It is said that plans are being made by many agriculturists to switch from oats and barley, early spring grains, to buckwheat, soybeans, field beans and corn in the hope they can get a crop from the latter. The damage done by recent rains is general throughout Western Ontario.

"NEVER MIND"

Sometimes when nothing goes just right
And worry reigns supreme,
When heartache fills the eyes with tears,
And all things useless seem,
There's just one thing can drive away
Those tears that scald and blind,—
Someone to slip an arm around,
And whisper, "Never mind."

No one has ever told us why
Those words such comfort bring;
Nor why that whisper makes our cares
Depart on hurried wing.
Yet troubles say a quick 'Good-day';
We leave them far behind,
When someone slips an arm around,
And whispers "Never mind."

HOW TO MEET THE DOG

Few dogs go out of their way to cause trouble but the prime instinct of any dog is to protect his master or his master's property.

A leaflet telling how to approach and handle dogs has been released by the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations. The leaflet was prepared by a noted dog fancier. The rules he makes should be valuable to such businesses as dairies, bakeries, laundries and gas companies.

Here are the rules: Always let a dog know you are approaching by not being too quiet; growls and barks are a challenge, accept them as such and show no alarm; sudden or unexpected moves are likely to be misunderstood by a dog; speak to strange dogs in a confident, friendly voice, not sharply, or scoldingly; always allow a dog to approach and let his nose aid him in forming his impressions: a dog should not be touched unless you have met him often enough to establish a friendship; a dog should be given the impression that your visit is perfectly proper.

W. B. McLean Dies Unexpectedly In Winnipeg

Moosomin was deeply sorry to hear of the sudden death in Winnipeg, Wednesday morning, May 5th of W.B. McLean, for some 30 years one of Moosomin's most popular residents. Not quite two years ago Moosomin regretfully bade farewell to Mr. and Mrs. McLean as they left to live in Winnipeg and at that time Moosomin hoped to see them often in the years to come. But Mr. McLean was not spared to enjoy his leisure very long, death calling suddenly Wednesday morning in St. Boniface Hospital, where he had been taken only an hour or so before. His death followed after the fatal stroke seized him.

W.B., as he was known to a host of good friends, was born in Brigden Ontario, but came to Emerson as a boy. After taking his schooling there and Winnipeg, Mr. McLean joined the CPR and served that company faithfully for over 40 years before retiring in June 1941. He served at various points in Manitoba and as travelling passenger agent out of Saskatoon and Brandon when he came to Moosomin as CPR agent.

W.B. was a man of fine Christian ideals, a great friends and a worthy citizen. His cheery smile, his unfailing good nature and his interest in his fellows made him popular with everyone. The CPR benefited greatly by Mr. McLean's friendly courteous service. The United church counted the late agent as a valued member, serving as he did on the Board of Stewards, then for some time as an Elder and for twelve years as Sec. Treas. of the Sunday school. Moosomin Board of Trade could always count on help and inspiration from Mr. McLean and that body held a farewell banquet in honor of W.B. when he retired.

He held offices in the Canadian Club, Golf, Tennis and curling clubs.

Surviving are Mrs. McLean, a sister, Mrs. Wilson of England and two brothers at Emerson.

The funeral service was held Friday afternoon in the Thomson Chapel, Winnipeg, with Rev. Dr. W. Grant of Crescent-Ft. Rouge United, officiating, and Rev. C.H. Whitmore, formerly of Moosomin giving the sermon. Mrs. Edwards sang "The City Four Square." The casket was covered with many beautiful sprays and wreaths of flowers and after the service the remains were taken to Emerson on the CPR for burial. The Masonic Lodge and United church had charge of the final rites and burial, for Mr. McLean was a prominent mason for many years being a member of both the Masonic Order and the Orient Chapter—Moosomin Spectator.

(Mr. McLean visited in this district often as Mrs. McLean was formerly Edna MacGregor, daughter of Mrs D. MacGregor.)

A judge was pointing out that a witness is not necessarily to be regarded as truthful because he alters a statement made previously.

"For instance," he said, "when I entered this court today I could have sworn I had my watch in my pocket. But then I remembered I had left it in the bathroom at home."

When the judge got home that night his wife said: "Why all this bother about your watch—sending four or five men for it?"

"Good heavens," said the judge, "what did you do?"

"I gave it to the first one who came. He knew just where it was."

MEAT RATIONING AS IT AFFECTS FARMERS

Farmers may slaughter their livestock for their own consumption—but must turn in to the Local Ration Board at the end of each month, 1 coupon for each two pounds of their own slaughtered meat consumed on their own premises. Farmers need in no case surrender more than half the number of each month's valid coupons for such home slaughtered meat.

The remaining half of farmers' meat coupons may be used for ordinary retail purchases of meat, on the basis of coupon values as shown on the chart above.

Farmers may supply meat from their own slaughterings to other farmers for consumption on their own farm premises. Local farmer "Beef Rings" are also permitted. Farmers providing meat to other farmers, or "Beef Rings", must collect meat coupons on the basis of 1 coupon for each two pounds of meat, gross weight. Self-addressed and stamped envelopes for mailing in coupons can be secured at your Local Ration Board.

CONSUMER MEAT IN LOCKERS

Before June 30th all consumers (including farmers) who store meat in lockers must declare in writing to the nearest Branch of the Ration Administration, the quantity of rationed meat they have in storage over and above eight pounds per person in the household. Declarations must be accompanied by sufficient coupons from the ration books of the locker holder and his household, to cover the quantity of declared stored meat at the rate of 1 coupon for each two pounds of any meat in the above groups.

The number of coupons to be detached by the locker user need not exceed more than 50% of the total meat coupons in the possession of himself and his household. Locker users may retain for retail purchasing one of each similarly numbered pair of coupons.

NOTICE TO THE MEAT TRADE

Retailers of meat must collect coupons for any rationed meats sold on or after May 27th. They need not turn in coupons to their suppliers for meat purchased up until June 10th. This arrangement is made to enable them to build up stocks. A Special Food Bulletin giving complete details of meat rationing is being mailed to all food stores.

War Summary

THURSDAY, MAY 27TH, 1943

Taken by itself an isolated raid such as that in which 2,000 tons of bombs were spilled on Dortmund would not have a great deal of significance beyond its immediate effect on the city's war industry. Followed, as it was within 48 hours, by an equally heavy assault on Dusseldorf the situation takes an ominous turn for Germany in the light of Mr. Churchill's suggestion that it might be a good idea to give the bomber command a chance to prove that it could knock the Reich out of the war, for even if nights are getting shorter the R.A.F.'s new technique does not require more than an hour to obliterate a good sized city.

Allied air forces based in Africa are continuing to point up Churchill's warning to Italy to get out of the war quickly and avoid wrath to come. Around 400 planes were turned loose on the "soft underbelly," it was reported yesterday, in attacks which ranged from the Aegean to Sardinia. Messina, the Sicilian ferry terminal only a few miles from the Italian mainland was the chief target of what was described as a terrific hammering of the island bases. The trminal was not in very usable shape at the end of the attack.

Japanese resistance on Attu is reported to be crumbling as the American forces hammer at the enemy's second main position. Ground forces are heavily supported from the air, heavy and medium bombers and fighters maintaining violent assaults. All this seems to be an indication that the weather has improved and if it stays reasonably good, it is expected the operations will be over very quickly.

One Kitsoo K. Haan, a Korean, to whom a committee of the United States House of Representatives has apologizd for not taking notice when he warned it of the attack on Pearl Harbor months before it occurred, now has stated that the Japanese will offer a separate peace to China, not later than September. Predicating the acceptance of the offer, he says, the enemy is already far ahead with plans for the invasion of the United States and has appointed officers for the invading army. For its army of occupation, he said, the enemy was preparing 10,000 American citizens of Japanese ancestry.

Although they have had some successes in their Ichang drive the Japanese are by no means having it their own way. Yesterday Chungking reported that Chinese troops had recaptured an important strategic point in that sector and killed 600 of the enemy in the process. Chinese casualties are heavy, too, but they captured big supplies of arms and equipment which will be useful immediately against the Japs.

The expected spring offensive in Russia has still failed to develop but there was fierce fighting at several points on the long line yesterday in which the Red Army more than held its own. The sharpest engagement was on the Kuban River near Novorossisk. Here the Germans attacked with a force of 1,600 men but were thrown back with heavy losses. There were other local battles on the lower Don and Donets Rivers. A Russian military expert expressed the opinion that the enemy had not been able to recover fully from the winter campaign but there were signs he was preparing extensively for attacks this summer.

NO RESTRICTIONS ON BABY CARRIAGES

In addition to issuing an order designed to devert flannelette into use for infants' and children's garments, the Prices Board is doing its utmost to assure babies an adequate supply of vehicles in which to take the air. Production of baby carriages was up by 60 percent last year over the output for 1941, but production is being maintained at the 1942 level and no restrictions have been placed on the quantities to be manufactured.

The New Life

By JESSIE ETHEL SHERWIN

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

Bertha Druse purposely put herself in the way of meeting John Barker whenever occasion encouraged. She passed the time of day quite casually to all appearances, but always managed to detain him long enough to ask him a question in which lay her vivid interest:

"What do you hear from Allan?"

At the first Mr. Barker had answered with a scowl and a carping tirade against the boy who had run away from home and had made all sixes and sevens of his destiny. Some spark of humane interest in the old man, however, became revivified when he learned indirectly that Allan had gone abroad a volunteer for Uncle Sam. Then with some pride he told Bertha that he had received a two-line letter from Allan. He even showed it to Bertha: "Dear Old Dad: I have cut out drinking. It's all fighting now." And such a glad, rapturous sparkle came to the eyes of the longing girl, and such a glorious flush to her fair, fresh face that Mr. Barker exclaimed:

"Hello! what's this? Surely you haven't any hankering after that young scapegrace!"

"But aren't you glad that Allan has—has reformed? Oh! dear Mr. Barker, if he only comes back to the world and its old sweet ways!"

"Poetry! Sentiment!" scoffed Mr. Barker. "I haven't much faith in the boy," but Bertha fancied there was a false note to his avowed disbelief.

"He's coming home, Allan is," announced Mr. Barker one day in the armistice year. "He thinks next month," and he put out his hand to steady Bertha, for she acted as though she was about to faint. She recovered herself, however, but her lips moved tremulously as though in a mute prayer of gladness and hope.

Allan Barker had made a record for himself at the front. Not only that, but he had picked up a small fortune. He was one of a group which had surprised a party of looters among the enemy who had slaughtered half of the inhabitants of a little town and had burned down every house in sight. There had been a sanguinary fight. After it was all over Allan showed to his commanding officer a little sack filled with gold and jewels, which he had wrested from one of the foe.

"Well," observed this official, "you had better turn it in."

"To what department?" inquired Allan.

"To your own personal safekeeping," came the reply. "Its ownership cannot be traced, it is fair jetsam, we've got too much heavy fighting ahead to bother with trifles. Call it a trophy of the conflict and take it home as a souvenir."

"You bet I'll make good use of it," declared Allan reverently, and he did. And when he appeared at his native town a few months after that, surely returned warrior never vaunted such interesting mementoes of his experience abroad! For when he left the train, just at dusk, four neat-appearing, happy-faced children, ranging from four to twelve years, accompanied him.

"Allan Barker and family," was the way he registered the strange group, and the hotel landlord stared, and his motherly wife took charge of the little ones as though they were her own, when she learned that they were all that was left of a Belgian peasant family.

"I've simply adopted the four. That's my share. [illegible] forlorn orphan refugees. I'm lucky having quite a snug sum to care for them," advised Allan proudly.

"Oh, isn't it just like you, Allan Barker, and no one else!" enthused the sympathetic lady. "You were always good and grand at heart, for all your wild ways."

"I wonder if dad will echo that sentiment?" said Allan. "I'm on the lookout for a mother for those little ones, and I think I know where to go to find her. Then there's a home needed. I'm going to report to dad and find out how he feels about it."

"Well, you've come back, I see," was the greeting Allan received as he stood before his father for the first time in five years.

"The bad penny returned—yes, dad!" laughed Allan. "See here, you know you're not sorry, for all that scowling face you're putting on. Come, father, shake hands and say so. I've come to stay, if you'll let me, with my four little ones."

"Your what!"

"Let me tell you a story," and Allan did. It involved the heroic resolve of a down-and-outer reformed, new-born courage, the impulse of bravery, the final determination of a worthy soul to indeed redeem the wasted past and provide for the broken lives of four little homeless waifs. And at its end John Barker broke down and buried his face in his hands and cried like a little child.

"Yes, it's home for all of you," he said. "Home! What won't it seem after these lonely years! And you must find a mother for them, Allan."

"I've planned to arrange that," observed Allan, glancing at his watch as casually as though bent on some trivial errand. "I'll see Bertha and let you know what she says," and the news he brought back an hour later convinced John Barker that the future was to be a golden one for all concerned.

Salvage Day, June 2nd

The Salvage Committee have arranged for a real clean up from every householder, store and garage of this village. We ask everyone to have all their salvage ready when the truck calls at your door on Wednesday afternoon, June 2nd.

SALVAGE PRIORITY LIST

FATS and BONES to produce vital glycerine for explosives and other materials for war industries. Canada needs and must have 35,000,000 lbs. of rendered fats.

All TIRES and TUBES of which 10,000 tons are urgently needed.

SCRAP METAL of all kinds.

RAGS of all kinds.

PAPER and BOXES of all kinds.

We ask everyone to make a copy of the above list so that none will be wasted and every ounce turned over to your Salvage Committee.

You know everyone hates war and we all hate the bloodshed, the sorrow, the tears, the pain, the hardship. We all hate to see young men march away to our war, and we all hate to see the destruction of towns and cities. In fact we all hate the whole dirty hellish business of war and therefore you and I at home can do something to help bring victory and peace sooner, by collecting every ounce of salvage for your Salvage Committee.

Remember,—He that relaxes helps th Axis.

Chesterville and District Salvage Committee. B.J. Allen, Pres.

Veterans Guard Is Doing Grand Job

Many Canadians misunderstand and underestimate the role the Veteran's Guard is playing in this war. When we think of them, we think of jobs for old men. That is a mistake. These veterans are not old. Their spirit towards their duty as citizens and soldiers could well be the envy of the younger generation in this war. See them on the march, and you will be struck by their steady, tireless pace. Watch them handle their weapons, and you will see why the Canadian Army was truly "the terror of the enemy" in the last war.

On the coasts and overseas the Veterans are occupying front line positions. They take almost exactly the same curriculum of training as their younger brothers-in-arms, receiving instruction in the use of all infantry weapons and following a regular schedule of physical training. They are schooled in defence tactics, and serve in the Defence system of the Canadian Army in the United Kingdom in the eternal vigilance exercised against potential German raids, both air and land.

Not spectacular, but most effective, is the protection of vital vunlerable points in Canada—the Veterans Guard is constantly on the alert and the prowling saboteur has found them an unbeatable enemy. Men who learned vigilance at sentry-posts in the trenches of 1914-1918, where laxness meant death for the slacker as well as for his comrades, haven't forgotten "how".

They guard prisoners-of-war, where military knowledge must blend with astute police work. They must think faster than the cleverest prisoner. They must forestall trickery and cleverly concealed plans for escape.

Here again, the "old soldier" has the edge on his younger contemporaries, for some of these men of the Veterans Guard were prisoners themselves prisoners during the last war, and are familiar with escape techniques. Preparations for escape are usually caught so quickly that they are not even classed attempts. Only a very small fraction of attempts ever succeed in passing the wire. And only one prisoner of war has succeeded in getting clear away.

BRITISH TRAWLER SINKS ITALIAN SUBMARINE OFF NORTH AFRICA

During operations off North Africa the British Trawler, H.M.S. "Lord Nuffield" (skipper st. D.S. Mair, R. N.R.) detected an Italian submarine—later identified as the "Emo"—and went in to the attack. About to drop depth charges, the crew saw the submarine's periscope breaking surface a few yards away. The "Emo" which mounted heavier gun armament and had a higher speed than the Lord Nuffield, crash-dived but was forced to the surface. The British trawler opened fire with every gun she could bring to bear, scoring a succession of quick hits on the conning tower and causing a number of casualties among the Italian crew. There was panic aboard the submarine. The ammunition party deserted their posts, firing ceased and many of the crew hurled themselves into the sea. Later the submarine sank by the head and survivors were picked up by the Lord Nuffield. The trawler's casualty list was only one man slightly wounded.

SLAUGHTERING ORDER HAS NOW BEEN RELAXED

Farmers who have been accustomed to having an occasional animal slaughtered for them at abattoirs or other licensed slaughter-houses as a source of meat supply for their own households may continue to do so, according to an announcement of the Foods Administration. This action was previously prohibted in the conditions governing the slaughtering of live stock for any person who is not the holder of a permit.

ANNUALS PROVIDE PASTURE HIGH IN PROTEIN (Experimental Farm News)

Shortage of high protein feeds and concentrates compels the farmer to grow crops that will meet his own requirements. Legume hay of good quality and pastures properly managed will offset this shortage. But, in the event that perennial grass and legume pastures are not adequate for the livestock carried this year it is necessary to resort to annuals. If grazed and kept in the young growing stage these will provide abundance of feed high in protein, says F. S. Noswosad, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Spring rye seeded at 2 bushels per acre will give the earliest pasture. It is ready to be grazed in about 4 weeks from the date of seeding. Oats seeded alone at 3 bushels are more productive than spring rye and may be grazed in 5 weeks after seeding.

While oats seeded alone are most commonly used for pasture, it is more desirable to seed them in a mixture with other crops. A mixture of 2 bushels of oats and 1 bushel of spring or fall rye, or 2 bushels of oats and 20 pounds of Sudan grass will give excellent pasturage early in the summer. The last mentioned mixture should not be seeded as early as oats alone, because Sudan grass makes its best growth when the soil is warm or when the conditions are suitable for corn.

Sudan grass alone at 30 pounds per acre or corn drilled in may be used to good advantage for late summer pasture.

Rape seeded at 4 to 5 pounds per acre broadcast or in drills at 2 to 3 pounds will provide excellent pasture late in the fall for sheep, hogs or beef cattle.

Further information on supplementary pastures is given in Special Wartime Leaflet No. 20 entitled "The Use of Annual Forages" issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

SOME SALMON PACK MAY BE RELEASED

In view of the expectation that part of the 1943 pack of Pacific coast salmon will be released for sale in Canada, the Prices Board has adopted an order setting maximum prices of this fish in tins, including prices to be paid fishermen, canners' prices, wholesale and retail mark-ups. Last year's pack went almost entirely to overseas markets.

MEATLESS TUESDAYS SAVE TONS OF MEAT

It is estimated that throughout the year the meatless Tuesdays now in force in Canadian restaurants, hotels and other public eating-places will save approximately 20,000,000 pounds of meat, much of it for essential consumption overseas. Even one of these "meatless Tuesdays" conserves enough meat to stock a large British battleship at sea for five months or an army division for a month.

BOARD MEMBER

Mary McCallum Sutherland is the most recent addition to the Board of Governors of the CBC. She represents British Columbia. Born in Manitoba, Mrs. Sutherland has devoted the greater part of her life to social, political and economic problems. In 1920 she was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, in Winnipeg, and in 1936 became a member of the Dominion Council of Health. With her family she has resided in Revelstoke since 1938, where her keen enthusiasm and never tiring effort is a power in the district.

A little girl was overheard talking to her doll, whose arm had come off, exposing the sawdust stuffing: "You dear, good obedient dolly! I knew I had told you to chew your food fine, but I didn't think you would chew it so fine as that."

Office Boy—"Please, sir, can I have the afternoon off? My grandmother is dead."

Employer—"Why, this is the third grandmother that's died since you've been here."

Boy—"Yes, sir; I know, sir; but I can't help it, grandfather will keep on marrying again."

The story is told of an old peasant woman in Buckinghamshire, England, who, praising her favourite curate to the rector exclaimed: "Ah, sir! Mr. Drone is quite an angel in sheep's clothing."

Girl Friends—"How did you happen to become a chiropodist?"

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Freedom's Fires Must Be Fed Our COAL!

CANADIANS must dig and deliver coal that we may sail convoys, power vital war plants, keep our railroads rolling, preserve the nation's health!

The coal mining industry—miners and management alike—have done wonders to provide coal, but they need help. More workers must be provided, or we falter—possibly fail—in this grim hour. Nature has been generous but we must help ourselves. Our mines are rich, but undermanned. By Proclamation, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has declared that labour supply for coal mines ranks as a national emergency. Further, in order to provide manpower for coal, the Governor in Council has issued an Order in Council aimed at swelling the flow of coal from mine to firepot.

This Order is of vital interest to everyone in Canada. Every Canadian should read and study its provisions, to see whether it demands any action on his part:

1 EVERY EMPLOYER, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, must advise his employees of these Regulations, and he must assist in discovering whether any of his employees have had previous experience as coal mine workers.

2 EVERY EMPLOYEE, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, who has had previous experience as a coal mine worker, must report that fact to his employer not later than Tuesday, May 25th, 1943.

3 A "COAL MINE WORKER" FOR THESE PURPOSES is anyone who, since January 1st, 1935, has worked under provincial certificate or license in or around a coal mine, or who, since the same date, has been employed for a total of at least 24 months in the production of coal (except at office work).

4 EVERY EMPLOYER, NOT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, must report in writing to a Selective Service Officer not later than Tuesday, June 1st, 1943, full details on any of his employees who are ex-coal mine workers.

5 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS ARE AUTHORIZED to require ex-coal mine workers to report for interview and to accept work at a coal mine.

6 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS MAY REQUIRE any man in any employment, if subject to Mobilization Regulations but rejected for Military Training, and certain others excused from Military Training, to accept employment at a coal mine.

7 NO COAL MINE OPERATOR may terminate the services of any coal mine worker without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.

8 NO COAL MINE WORKER may leave employment at a coal mine without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.

9 EVERY EX-COAL MINE WORKER, returning to the industry under these Regulations, will be paid wages at the established rate for the job at which he is placed; and the Government will pay wages of 40 cents an hour, 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week, to any ex-coal mine worker required to leave his present employment under these provisions, but not placed immediately at coal mining.

10 A BOARD ALLOWANCE of not more than $7.50 a week may be paid an ex-coal mine worker now returning to a coal mine, if required to live away from the residence of his dependents.

11 PRESENT AND FUTURE COAL MINE WORKERS will be granted postponement from Military Training to February 1st, 1944, by virtue of their occupation; and no coal mine worker will be accepted for voluntary enlistment in the Armed Forces of Canada, prior to February 1st, 1944, except under permit to enlist from a Selective Service Officer.

12 NO EMPLOYER IN CANADA, EXCEPT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, may solicit for employment or hire any ex-coal mine worker.

13 REGARDLESS OF ANY DOMINION OR PROVINCIAL LAW, male persons at least 16 years old may be employed as coal mine workers, and female persons at least 18 years old may be employed as surface coal mine workers.

14 WAR EMERGENCY TRAINING CLASSES will be available for training men as coal mine workers.

Such is the substance of the new regulations. Full details may be had at any Employment and Selective Service Office. If these provisions require action on your part, you are urged in the national interest to act immediately. Severe penalties are provided for non-compliance, but the Government relies on the co-operation of the citizens of Canada to make prosecution unnecessary by prompt action as required. This is a grave emergency. Assist if you can.

Appreciates Honey From Local Red Cross

Ward 1, Paigmore hospital,
Inverness,
Scotland.
17 March, 1943

The Secretary,
Canadian Red Cross,
Chesterville, Ontario.

Dear Sir: I have been requested by a few fellow Canadians, at present patients in this ward, to write you a letter of appreciation. Thanks for the gift of a large tin of honey recently issued to us, and I take great pleasure in doing so and adding my own thanks as well.

At any time such a gift is particularly acceptable, but a great deal more so when men are on a hospital diet, that is not very appetising.

It makes one proud to be a Canadian to see the wonderful work your organization is carrying on in this country. Although this hospital is a long way from your headquarters, it is not forgotten.

All nightshirts, pyjamas, dressing-gowns, etc. bear the CRC label. Each week . cigarettes, chocolate, chewing gum and writing paper, when available, are distributed to us by a representative.

Indeed, from my personal observations I can emphatically state that the Canadian Red Cross is a most efficient and generous organization and that it stands very high in the estimation, not only of the men of the forces, but the greater body of the civilian population.

Yours faithfully,
Sgt. D.M. Fraser,
18 Cov., Cdn. Forestry Corp.

"LIVE AND HELP LIVE"

"Live and let live!" was the call of the Old
The call of the world when the world was cold
The call of men when they pulled apart
The call of the race with a chill on the heart.

But "Live and Help live!" is the cry of the New
The cry of the world with a dream shining thru
The cry of the Brother World rising to birth
The cry of the Christ for a Comrade-like earth.

KNOWLEDGE PAYS DRESS DIVIDENDS

That modern rayons drape and hang just as well as silk, are perfect for afternoon-into-evening dresses.

That in hot weather in town thin dark fabrics look cooler and smarter than bright colors, but that nothing looks quite as cool and charming as pale grey.

That on the beach, or in strong sunlight anywhere, plain clear colors are smarter and more effective than prints.

That for work in offices or indoors prints are good because they show creases less.

That white accessories will make your whole wardrobe hang together; that plain white shoes are less trouble to clean than white-and-coloured ones: that white handbags are useless unless they are 'spongeable.'

That tailored styles are smarter than frilly ones for printed silks and rayons.

That frocks buttoning all the way down the front will be the joy of your life.

That the popular pastel shades depend on spotless freshness for their charm, must be dipped frequently in gentle fine-fabric "suds that are safe for anything safe in water alone."

That pleats are apt to be troublesome, gored or flared skirts more practical.

That stockingless feet are more comfortable in fabric shoes.

That very short gloves look charm-in very short sleeves.

That wide-brimmed hats are becoming, save you from eyestrain and are popular with the men.

MORE BARBED WIRE TO BE MANUFACTURED

Because of greater concentration upon cattle-raising in Canada this year, permission has been granted by the Prices Board for the manufacture of more than 86,000 additional reels of barbed wire in 1943, most of it to be used in this country.

FLOWERS IN THE VICTORY GARDEN

The Victory Garden is primarily important because it will soon supply nutritive vegetables. Additionally, there are the benefits of an interesting hobby and good exercise. But the importance of gardening for good mental hygiene and home front morale is commonly overlooked. Busy men and women are finding in their gardens the relaxation necessary to health and efficiency.

It is good mental hygiene also, when planting your Victory Garden, to put in a row or two of flowers. Life's satisfactions in wartime are few and far between at best.

Among the quick-growing annuals which can be sown at the same time as vegetable crops and given the same treatment as to soil are the modern marigolds. This is an American marigold, not the Mary-gold of Shakespeare, which was the calendula, still called the "pot-marigold." Spanish soldiers who followed Columbus to the New World took seeds of the flower we now call marigold home to Europe, where they probably became confused with the calendulas and acquired the same name.

For centuries the marigolds of gardens were divided into the French, chiefly a small-flowered, rather dwarf type, and the African, chiefly tall-growing and large flowered. Neither originated in France or Africa, in spite of the names.

Plant breeders in recent years have worked marvels in developing new types. They have also bred varities from which the characteristic marigold odor, unpleasant to some, has been eliminated.

Marigold seeds are rather large and soft. While the plants are quite hardy the seeds are apt to rot in cold, damp soil. The tall varieties should be given plenty of room. Sow them in rows, like vegetables, or plant them in a flower border surrounding the garden. They will not only decorate the garden but also produce abundant cut flowers.

HE FOUND OUT
Calgary Herald

The strong man on a visit to the foothills rode out on horse-back to challenge a farmer whose great strength had gained him a reputation. He entered the farmyard, tied up his horse, and approached the farmer.

"Hey," he said, "I've heard a lot about you and I've come a long way to see which is the better man."

Without answering, the farmer seized the intruder, hurled him bodily into the road, and returned to his work.

When the loser had recovered his breath, the farmer growled. "Have you anything more to say to me?"

"No", was the reply, "but perhaps you'll be good enough to throw me my horse."

There goes your letter to your boy...

IN IT, you put the home-spun bits of chit-chat you know he wants to hear . . . and in it you also put your heart. You mailed it with a prayer that it might find him safe and well.

Look—it's already on the way . . . speeding as fast as railway wheels can carry it.

Those singing wheels carry more—much more—than letters. They carry food for your pantry, coal for your furnace. They roll tirelessly that you may live in comfort. They race across the great stretches of this Dominion with the men and materials of war, so that all of us may live in freedom.

Twenty-four hours a day our railway wheels are rolling, driven by an army of over 150,000 workers serving two major fronts . . . the home front and the fighting front.

"Keep 'em rolling" is their watchword, whether it's food or fuel, tanks or troops.

Or just your letter to your boy . . .

Rhubarb, the Old-Time Favorite Is In Season Now

Hello Homemakers! Our chilly Spring weather has retarded rhubarb growth, so perhaps you haven't used your sugar dividend yet! The extra pound of sugar for use with rhubarb is secured with Blue Coupon No. 1, (Spare B) in Ration Book No. 2, which expires May 31st. Along with the amount you can save out of your weekly ration, this extra pound of sugar will help you to serve the family its favourite rhubarb dishes for quite a while. After June first, of course, "canning" sugar will be available to those who sent in their applications.

Rhubarb is grand for pies and desserts as well as preserves. Do plant one or two roots if you have the space—it's a hardy perennial and easy to grow. It's not only convenient and economical to have your rhubarb and other garden products right at your kitchen door but a time saver as well. You don't need to spend time searching for different foods to get variety into your menus—just learn to serve the foods you have at hand in different ways. Good wartime psychology, too! Of course, you know that freshly picked fruits and vegetables have finer flavour and are richer in vitamins.

RECIPES

Rhubarb Dessert

4 cups cut rhubarb, ½ cup sugar OR ¼ cup sugar and ¼ cup honey.

Wash and cut rhubarb into inch length. Place in upper part of double boiler, cover and cook with sugar. Do not stir.

Rhubarb Shortcake

2 cups flour, ½ tsp. soda, 1 cup thick sour milk, 1 tsp. salt, 2 tbs. shortening.

Cut shortening into measured flour, soda and salt. Add liquid gradually mixing with a fork to a soft dough. Owing to the difference in sour milk, it is not always possible to determine the exact amount of liquid. Turn dough on lightly floured board and pat out. Cut into circles and bake in electric oven at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Split and serve with thick rhubarb sauce between and on top.

Sauce: 6 cups of cut washed rhubarb in saucepan placed on electric element turned Low for 5 minutes, then to High, and add about 2-3 cup of sugar. Cook only a few minutes, stirring frequently.

Rhubarb Tarts

2 cups thick rhubarb sauce, 2 eggs separated, 1 tsp. grated orange rind, ¼ cup fine sugar.

Combine the rhubarb sauce, egg yolks and orange peel. Cook in top of double boiler, stirring constantly, until thickened. Pour into tart shells. Beat the egg whites until stiff and add sugar gradually, beating until mixture stands in peaks. Place a spoonful in each tart and bake in electric oven (350 degrees) about 12 to 15 minutes or until delicately browned. Makes 8 tarts of fairly large size.

To Can Rhubarb

Wash and trim slender stalks. Do not remove skin. Cut into ¾ inch pieces. Use one cup of sugar to each quart jar (or ½ cup to a pint). Put a thin layer of sugar in the bottom of jar, then alternate layers of rhubarb and sugar with a layer of sugar on top. Pack very tightly, using a wooden spoon or masher. Partially seal and process in boiler, gently boiling on electric element 25 minutes.

To Can Rhubarb Sauce

Add enough water to rhubarb to prevent burning. Cook until soft. Add ¾ cup sugar to 1 quart rhubarb. Fill sterilized jars. Seal tightly.

TAKE A TIP

1. To prevent rhubarb pies from boiling over, use strips of wet cheesecloth or butter-wrapping cut in 2-inch width. Press the one edge to rim of pie and let other side fall over fluted pie crust. Overlap ends well.
2. Other variations of rhubarb desserts: Upside-down Cake, Rhubarb Betty, Rhubarb Steamed Pudding, Deep Rhubarb Pie, Rhubarb Sponge.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. C.N. asks: My sealers are not air tight although I have used new rubber and metal rings. They leak when turned upside down.

Answer: Testing sealers by filling them with water is not always a true test. If your fruit has kept in these jars before and they are not chipped or cracked, we believe they should be satisfactory if you use new rings. Some jars are off level and it has been suggested that two rubber rings might help. It is important to use force to seal the jars.

Moving From City To Life In The Country

Bride Broder in Globe and Mail

In most discussions dealing with city people leaving town for life in more open spaces, the rather vague term, "going to the country", is generally used. This at once conjures upa vision of life on a farm. We have in fancy, used this vague term more than once and apologize. What we nearly always have meant when advising a trek from city streets to country lanes, has been removal to some village where life has long been settled. where a civic personality has developed, and—very important—where soundly-built houses, surrounded by garden space set out with fruit trees and bushes are obtainable, either by rent or by purchase.

Too often when people leave the city on a natural impulse to get into freer air where larger areas of sky are to be found they don't look carefully enough into such mundane things as water supply, drainage, the state of the eavestroughing and of doorsills and window sills. Foundations are also something that will bear looking into, and the quality of the ground about the house should be tested too, along with an examination of fruit bushes and trees to determine how much work would be necessary to bring them into full bearing.

Not that the prospective village dweller need ask for perfection, especially in the matter of the condition of the fruit-bearing ingredients of the garden. But it is well to find out before adventuring into untried territory, whether or not the soil is naturally good, or whether it began life rather poor and has been nourished into proper richness. The same with fruit trees and bushes—they may have been neglected and may require a good deal of attention. None of this, however, should daunt the man or woman who thinks seriously of exchanging what is often the uncreative life in a city, for what may be the creative and abundant life of a smaller community.

It is well to study the shops in a village and their contents and then to decide that we shall buy everything we can in those shops, encouraging them by our patronage to improve when improvement is desirable. Such patronage, as we have often pointed out, does no harm to city trade. A substantial, thriving community, paving its own way and largely self-supporting, is the surest guarantee of the prosperity of the city.

THANKS ROTARY FOR SMOKES

In a letter dated April 25th, Pte Francis Moran writes P. J. Gilroy, Rotary Secretary, thanking him for cigarettes forwarded by the club, which were received in good order. He also mentions the blood donors, who are giving of their blood in Chesterville and says "That's an important part of the war today." There are many things which interest him overseas and mentions the blackouts, the crooked little roads, the underground trains and the mild winter weather.
