A Genuine U.F.O.

Area farmer uncovers "What you may call it"

Carl Crump, who toils with the soil north of Chesterville, came up with one last week that has everyone scratching their heads. On Wednesday afternoon he phoned into this office to report that he had uncovered something on his farm, some distance from the buildings, that he considered to be a dug well.

The farmer was a bit excited as the farm equipment had been passing over the exact spot for a number of years, and if the Unidentified Farm Object really was a well their certainly has always been an element of danger.

The whole matter came about when Carl and a helper were removing some large stones from the field, following the fall plowing. In this one particular spot when one boulder was removed there was just another to take its place, and all the while the depression of the digging was getting ever deeper. Some delving with a shovel would just cause the ground to slide down through the rocks and disappear. And a closer investigation with the arm revealed that the water was just below the next series of stones.

A request to bring the camera along on Thursday afternoon was readily accepted. Before the sun had set on Wednesday evening Carl had carefully taken the hand shovel and dug a trench around the outside of the cache of coulders, reaveraling that it was some 11 feet across and almost perfectly round.

The well, U.F.O. or 'What You May Call It' is in a field some distance behind the barn and there are no indications that there ever was outbuildings, of any type, in that particular area. Mrs. Evelyn Crump, Carl's mother, spent over 60 years on that particular farm and she could not cast any light on the find.

The Record cameraman, with chief investigator in tow, arrived on the scene Thursday at noon and the investigation continued. The circle of rocks in the field measure 11 feet across, and when the shovel is shoved down through the crevices in the rocks you merely hit more rocks which definitely have a hollow sound indicating a cavity below. Further, to substantiate Carl's theory that it is a well, each probe with the shovel causes more loose ground to disappear down the cracks.

Nothing more has been brought to light since last week to clearly identify the Unidentified Farm Object, although Carl stated he was going to have a backhoe brought in to dig deeper to satisfy his curiosity. He was a bit reluctant to go deeper with the digging as the large boulders that were dug out would merely have to be totted away and the cavities filled in with ground which would have to be pushed into the depression.

No matter which course Carl now follows, whether he levels the hole over with ground or digs further to uncover the spot, that particular area in the field will be handled with a bit more concern when in the area with heavy equipment.

We were as interested as the next and any further efforts to identify the object will be passed on to our readers.

Part of the probe last week on the the farm of Carl Crump, north of Chesterville, where the farmer felt he had uncovered an old dug well, was an effort to shove the shovel handle down through the spaces between the boulders. This was easier to say than to do. The handle of the shovel, no matter how it was wiggled, would merely wedge on more rocks, and all the while the hollow sound below and the fact that the loose earth would just disappear down the hole. Carl is shown here substantiating his argument that below the surface boulders is a well. He could be right, we can't come up with a better theory. — Staff Photo.

Project '76 at Moose Creek . . .

Work on $90,000 Program to begin

Some weeks, or months ago, an energetic group of people in Moose Creek, members of the Recreation Centre, sat at a meeting and worked on a building and Improvement Program which they named 'Project '76.'

Needless to say things have fallen into place and the original plans have been reworked several times since their inception and now the expenditure appears to be settling in at about a project ot cost $90,000.00.

Probably a few words should be said about the location of the new building to be erected. When approaching Moose Creek, from the west along the paved road, from some distance away can be seen one of the church steeples protruding from the hollow where the community is situated. The last thing before you roll into town is a slight hill which gives an excellent view of the community. From the vantage point of the hill it almost seems like a Christmas card scene. When proceeding into town one has to be impressed with the main street, which has been recently rebuilt. Everything seems reasonably normal until you get to centre town where the recreation area is located. For a community the size of Moose Creek they surely must be proud of this area. Located in the vicinity is a well kept Community Hall and a couple of ball diamonds any town would gladly lay claim to. The parking and buildings on the grounds are both more than adequate. And if they could just convince the railway to move the tracks away from the backstop of diamond one, for fastball it would be tops.

About the only problem the trains cause is a delay in the game until the train passes by. Probably the trains passing are good for the concessions, at tournament time, as the slight break offers spectators a chance to dash to the lunch counter for a snack.

Moose Creek Recreation Centre obviously think the only way to stay ahead is to think ahead . . . and with 'Project '76! they are thinking ahead.

The current project dubbed Phase I includes — installation of flood lights on the ball diamond, trenching for underground wiring and general installation of a lighting plant; re-erecting the already existing rink house to a new location in the park and renovating and equipping the building into a lunch booth to serve the centre; tile draining and landscaping of the existing childrens' playground.

Undoubtedly the one feature that will use up the major portion of the bucks is erection of a building 40' x 80', which at one end will be basement and two storeys with a projection out the side measuring 60 by 80 feet.

The original estimate of expenditures came in at just over $40,000. Over the past few weeks, through a considerable amount of leg work seeking available grants, the overall expenditure has been boosted to $90,000.

The Project is under the guidance and sanction of the Roxborough Township Council who have been the guiding light along the way.

An application was made to the Local Initiatives Program for a

$1,300 pledged for Roatary Walkathon

Chesterville Rotary members were kept busy at their regular meeting Monday, October 20, working on Walkathon sheets.

Following a luncheon, the members met in the Bank of Nova Scotia and used the facilities there. A total of $1,300.00 in pledges was raised by supporters, who walked in unpleasant weather conditions.

The recent meeting boasted an attendance of 86.6 percent. Two Kemptville Rotarians, Chas. Rintoul and Rev. W. Schissler attended as make-ups. October's attendance should be near the top.

Bits & Pieces

From the Recorder and Times

We listened intently on Monday evening of this week while a party read a short story that had appeared last week in the Brockville Recorder and Times. The story, like several others that have appeared over the past year, was casting a few shadows on the integrity of the population of Chesterville. With Hallowe'en now over we would dearly like to compare some of the things that happened in that city with the way the people conducted themselves in Chesterville. The results would probably be interesting. People in Glass Houses Shouldn't throw stones . . . and surely there are some 'Glass Houses' in Brockville.

Sign of the times

Sign in bakery shop: "If our bread were any fresher, it would be downright insulting!"

Via Voyageur

Last winter the jaunts by bus to Montreal to take in the hockey matches proved very popular, as the bus was filled to capacity on all occasions. The excursions to the big city are about to start again with the first game coming up on Saturday, November 15th. The contact men are Bill Giles or Doug Moses. You're invited.

Postal Strike

Probably we're not suffering anymore from the postal strike than many others, but the situation is sure getting under our skin. Every half hour we turn the radio up at news time to hear if the silly thing is settled yet . . . so far we have had nothing but disappointment. The lack of daily mail, carrying news and money, the 110 miles we have to lug the paper each week to get some sort of delivery, not to mention our daily decreasing bank balance, have served to make us slightly disagreeable. Just a couple of notes — essential service employees should not have the right to strike, there has to be a better way and surely with only money matters to settle it will be over. Here's hoping.

Match the conditions

Unexpected weather changes are always in store for drivers during these fall months . . . rain, fog patches and in some areas even snow. Remember to cut your speed to match the conditions.

Hallowe'en was sensibly quiet

We really haven't delved too deep to see how Hallowe'en came off in town, but from our usually reliable people, who drop in at the shop apparently the pranks were in fun and the damage kept to a minimum. The only major thing reported was a broken window in one of the stores, which maybe isn't minimal to that particular party. To the young, and not so young, who were out last Friday evening, a 'pat on the back' for keeping it cool.'

Mrs. Hart Wins

Recently a draw was made for a log Cabin Quilt at the Nation View Public School with all proceeds going to the Nation Heritage Centre. The quilt, which was donated by the Inkerman U.C.W., was won by Mrs. Marion Hart, Chesterville.

Retired teacher tells own story

Dorothy Morgan of Ingleside said she once wanted to become a writer, but ended up spending 40 years teaching. She has realized her earlier ambition by writing a book about the experiences she packed into those years.

"Chalkdust in my Blood" is about Dorothy Morgan's over 40 years of sense, nonsense, tears and laughter spent with three retirements in eastern Ontario Schools and also about her struggle in acquiring and dispensing knowledge. The author's description of schools in Cornwall, Prescott, Ingleside and Russell is very charming. She is enjoying her final retirement now.

Dorothy Morgan was born in Russell County, and attended schools at Pana, Navan, Cornwall, Ottawa and Orillia. Her work has appeared in "Rapport," "Farmer's Magazine," and others under the pen name of Doris Morris. From her father, she learnt to laugh, even at herself and from her mother, love for reading and story-telling.

'Chalkdust in my Blood' traces Mrs. Morgan's life from her own school days until her third retirement.

It is written with such warmth and understanding and picks out happy moments and accepts without dwelling on the sad ones.

"Looking back, I see hard work excitement, elation, frustration, tears, laughter, hope and despair striving for precedence," said Mrs. Morgan.

Memories . . . I wish, in these affluent times, I could stage some of those Christmas concerts once more, the boys wearing kilts, with Bonny Dundee played as soft background music. But the day of such things is over.

Or when the depression hit with a bang. In 1930, or was it 1931 my salary dropped from $1,000 to 800 per year. When I resigned in 1934 to get married it was down to $675. per annum. My successor a young girl just our of Normal got $500. and considered herself lucky to get a school. Teachers were plentiful.

Teaching in one room schools was preferable to simply one class, said Mrs. Morgan.

"You feel so very close to your pupils," "and you knew the parents and often the family background."

Mrs. Morgan had retired once when she married and a second time when she thought her age demanded it. But after 18 months, she applied to teach retarded children. Her interviewers thought she was too old, but also thought the other applicant was too young.

The situation was solved when they hired both.

She was bewildered at first, "How do you teach retarded children?" she pondered. But time smoothed out problems.

She wrote the book with some encouragement from her former inspector.

"I wondered if anyone would be interested," said the former teacher.

But anyone who likes people will like this compassionate account of one woman's teaching career and her efforts to help her students.

Dorothy, who is an active member of the Osnabruck W.I. was urged by the Institute to write a one-act play which could be submitted in a competition sponsored by Federated Women's Insititute of Canada.

After considerable thought, she picked as her subject "The Witch of Plum Hollow". The play which takes place about 1850, is cast in a plainly furnished room — table, chairs, wood stove with tea-kettle boiling. On the side of the table there are a teapot, cups and saucers, cream and sugar, tea-caddy in old fashioned ware.

The characters in the award winning play are: Mother Barnes — The Witch of Plum Hollow. A small woman, attractive, middle aged with an expressive face. Jane Barnes — A girl of about ten. She wears old-fashioned clothing, as does her grandmother. She wears a sunbonnet which hides her face when callers are present. When speaking to her grandmother she pushes it back showing a vibrant young face. Callers-All dressed in old-fashioned costumes: the men dressed in heavy work shirts with heavy woolen trousers or bib overalls. The women wear old-fashioned costumes with hats or bonnets.

The one-act play which takes place in Ireland took Mrs. Morgan about two-weeks to write. "This is working on it only in my spare time", she claimed.

For efforts she won the Bernice Noblett Award and a cash prize of $75.00. This award is presented to the top play in the Eastern Ontario Competition, and the winning play is then entered in the Federated Women's Institute of Canada Competition. Plays from Institutes across Ontario will be submitted, and along with them will be "The Witches of Plum Hollow.

S.D.&G. Board encourages integration of 'learning disabled child' into classroom

Educational trends, like the weather, are constantly changing. It is of paramount importance that these changes occur so that the varying needs of our children are catered for. Of gross importance is the teaching we apply to the learning disabled and fortunately today there is an exceptional awareness of the needs of these children. The awareness is emphasised by the elementary teachers of the S.D.&G. County Board of Education who have chosen the topic "Focus on Special Education" for their Professional Day to be held this year on November 10th.

All elementary teachers, regardless of their speciality subject or grade level, will be attending. A considerable number of secondary teachers, supervisory staff and trustees have enrolled for attendance at the convention being held in the General Vanier Secondary School in Cornwall. The modern teacher of today realises there are no limits of subject or level — the prime need is to teach children not subjects.

Learning disabled children come from all walks of life; they can be the sons or daughters of the lawyer or the unemployed person, the doctor or the farm worker, the bus driver or the teacher, there is no class division in a childs' ability to learn. Learning disability is not the result of mental retardation, sensory deprivation, or cultural or teaching factors. It is because of a retardation disorder or delayed development in the learning process resulting from a psychological handicap caused by a possible cerebral disfunction and-or emotional or behavioural disturbances.

Public acceptance of this very fact would help to remove, at least partially, the stigma associated with learning disabilities. Today the Special Education Teacher is elevated to the levels of respectability and is acknowledged as a specialist in education — a far cry from the days when even teachers looked down on the teacher of the slow learning child. Unfortunately there are still a few fuddy-duddy teachers who find the learning disabled child a nuisance because they haven't bothered to try and understand that individual's needs.

In the past even educationists have decryed the need to spend money on these victims of life who, through no fault of their own, are different to the other children in their class at school. These children are destined to live a life of abnormality unless society makes extraordinary provision for them. Who will employ the person who couldn't master language arts or mathematics? All too often these people are thrown on life's "junk-heap" of unemployed and are scorned by the "superior" types as parasites of society. The learning disabled will often have the same desires to learn, the same emotions and even the same rights. There are many members in our society who need to be enlightened and they must be taught that all human beings have the same basic right to an equal opportunity. Possibly this type of person will be less in evidence in tomorrow's society or is this just wishful thinking?

The S.D.&G. County Board of

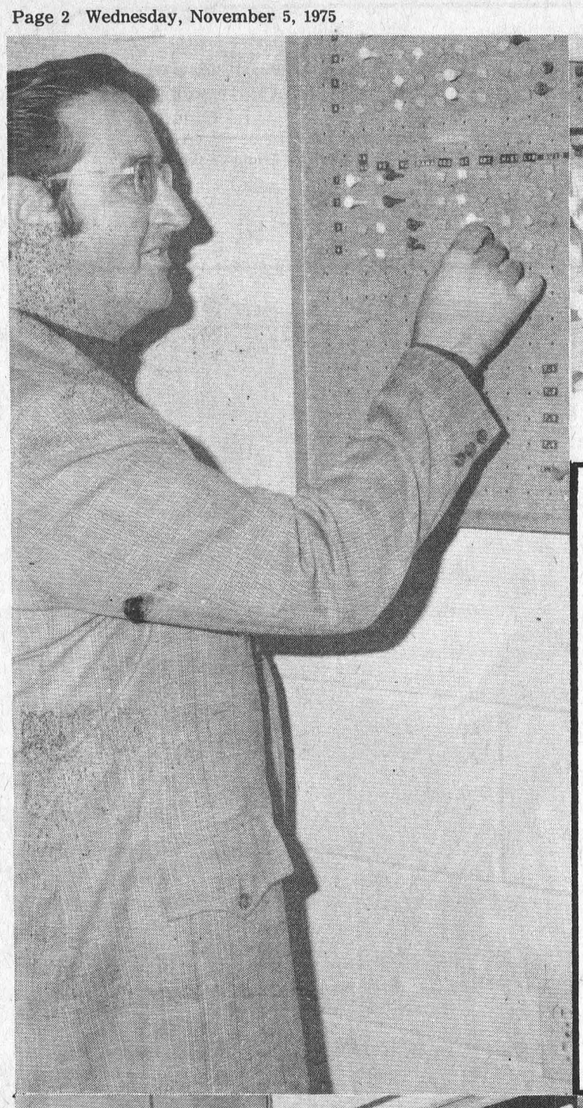
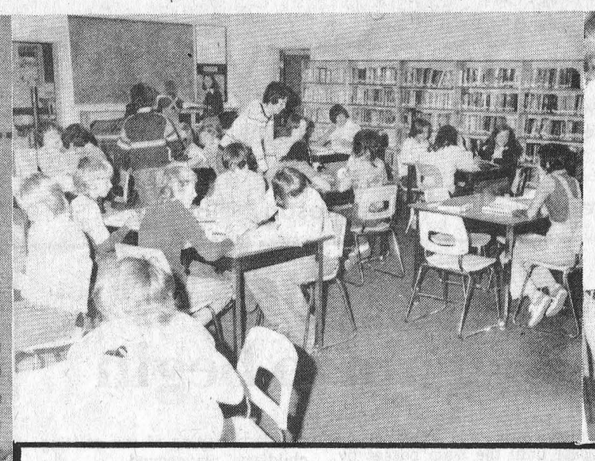
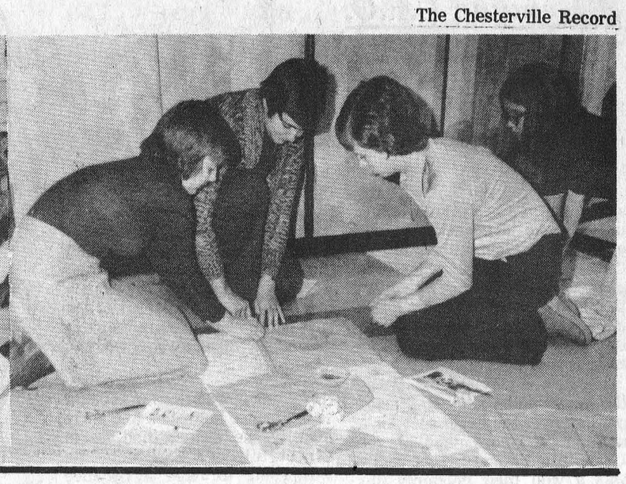
Damage is estimated between 75 and 100 thousand dollars at the Wincrest Farm owned and operated by Basil Dawley, Winchester. On Friday evening, October 31, Constable Vern Wilson noticed the fire while on a routine patrol and called the local fire department to the scene. High winds kept the house from being engulfed in the flames, which razed the barn. No cattle were kept in the building, but a pipeline milker, bulk milk tank, stable cleaner and hay elevator were some of the equipment lost in the blaze. The photo on the right shows a tractor partially buried in the aftermath. Cause of the fire is under investigation. — Staff Photo.







A day at Maple Ridge Senior

A few weeks ago we were invited to tour Maple Ridge Senior Elementary School with our camera to record a few moments of the learning process. During our brief stay, Principal, W. MacMillan, explained the curriculum at Maple Ridge, a fairly new Senior Elementary School at R.R. 3, Chesterville.

School staffs, both as individual teachers and as a collective body under the leadership of the principal, have the task of planning classroom programs specifically adapted to the children for whom they are responsible.

Curriculum planning is a process that must be widely shared. Working within the boundaries of provincially and locally established purposes and priorities, those most aware of the children's needs and the communities expectations — parents, teachers, principals, supervisory officials, as well as the children themselves — must all be involved in the planning process in appropriate ways. Local supervisory officials and principals have particular responsibility for providing leadership in planning, and for ensuring that specific objectives and the means used to achieve them are consistent with overall purposes and priorities.

The more communication and sharing take place, the more relevant will be the information available to the classroom teacher, who in the end must make the day-to-day decisions that guide the direction of learning.

To this end Mr. MacMillan and his staff together with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education strongly supported the formation of a school committee consisting of an equal number of parents, teachers and students.

The aims of the committee are:

(a) To encourage and develop more public participation in school planning and activities on an advisory basis.
(b) To expand some avenues of communication between the various sectors within the educational community and to facilitate endeavours to that end.
(c) To expand and maintain communications between the Board and the general public.

After our encounter with Education '75 at Maple Ridge, we asked some questions and found some answers at the three-year-old Senior Elementary School.

Gov't. will make Grant Payments and Tax Collections during mail strike

Arthur Meen, Minister of Revenue, announced today that the Ministry has set up procedures to minimize hardship the mail strike may cause people expecting Ministry of Revenue payments.

"We have over 272,000 pensioners expecting their gains cheques by the 15th of November", Mr. Meen said.

"We are also concerned that cheques are issued promptly to the 2,000 or so people who qualify each week for their first $1,000. instalment of the Home Buyer's Grant Sales Tax Rebate on the purchase of new cars amount to another 6,000 cheques a week, so a lot of people are depending on us to help them furnish their new home and, in many cases, meet their normal living expenses.

I have told my staff to do everything possible to insure this money gets to these people. Therefore, we have set up an alternative delivery service through Ministry of Revenue District Retail Sales Tax Office, Regional Assessment Offices and branches of the Province of Ontario Savings Office."

"Incidentally tax payments must still be filed on time and we have made arrangements for these remittances, as well as other ministry mail, to be left at any of our offices. I would appreciate co-operation from the media in passing on our plans to their listeners and readers".

Inquiries

Further inquiries regarding these procedures may be made at local retail sales tax district offices, regional assessment offices or any branch of the Prov. of Ontario Savings Office. Please consult your local telephone directory for the location of the nearest office.

Gains Payments

The Ministry insured that the October cheques to Gains Pensioners were delivered before the mail strike. We are currently finalizing plans for distribution of November cheques. Information concerning the distribution of these cheques will be released by Nov. 15.

Home Buyers' Grants application froms can be dropped off at any Ministry of Revenue office. When the grant has been approved, the Ministry will tell recipients by telephone where to pick up their cheques.

New Car Rebates

Application forms for Retail Sales Tax rebates on the purchase of new cars will be completed at the car dealership as usual. Arrangements will be made to have these forms delivered directly to the Ministry of Revenue. We are seeking the co-operation of dealers by arranging to return cheques to dealers for pickup by applicants. In those instances where the above arrangements are inconvenient, the Ministry will contact the applicant by telephone.

Tax Returns and Payments

Returns and payments for Retail Sales Tax, fuel taxes, co-operation's tax and succession duty may be delivered to any of the Ministry of Revenue offices, or any other Ontario Government office if no Revenue Office is in your municipality.

Seaway Folk School successful

Music, games, contests, dining, viewing of films were a few of the activities enjoyed at the Folk School held at St. Mary's School in Morrisburg over the week-end.

Sponsored by the Rural Learning Association, St. Lawrence College, Dept. of Continuing Education, and Seaway Community Services, — Seaway Services hosting the school, the affair was attended by social workers, clergy, church lay workers and interested citizens.

Conferences on Personal Development were conducted by Vic Morrow and Gary Ostler, respectively. Mrs. John Corbett conducted a conference on Community Cooperation. Vic Morrow and Kay LaPoint represented the Rural Learning Association. Tom Butkovitch, coordinator for continuing education at St. Lawrence College, represented that institution.

Seaway Services committee included Mrs. John Corbett, president; Mrs. Geraldine MacKinnon, secretary; Mrs. Reik Pepers, treasurer; Mrs. Bessie Cornut and Miss Candace MacKenzie.

Table grace at meals was offered by the Reverend E. Earle Eaton, public relations representative. Communications, political, religious, social and economic issues were some of the items discussed.

Dr. Abraham Maslow furnished resource material on emotions, safety, self-esteem and fulfilment; Prof. Powell, thoughts on adventuring in communications, ideas and judgements, sharing.

Evaluation indicated that those participating found the experience enjoyable, entertaining and rewarding. The folk school was the outgrowth of several months of planning on the part of Seaway Services.

O.D.H.S. NEWS

On Sept. 25th the first girls basketball game was played at Osnabruck against North Dundas. The seniors lost 78-27 to North Dundas. High point scorer in this game was Sonya Fickes. The juniors won their game 31-38. High point scorer: Susan Somerville.

The second game was played at St. Lawrence High School on Sept., 30th. Both seniors and juniors lost. The final score for the seniors was 32-20. High point scorer was Cathy Wert. The juniors final score was 26-24. High point scorer in this game was Bonnie Bruining.

The following game was hosted by Osnabruck against C.C.V.S. The final score for the seniors was 61-34 for C.C.V.S. The high point scorer for O.D.H.S. was Maureen Acres. The juniors ended with a score of 35-32 for C.C.V.S. Osnabruck's high point scorer was Debbie Dewie.

Osnabruck participated in a tournament held in Smiths Falls on Oct. 4th. The following three games were played: Osnabruck vs Smiths Falls — 16-61; O.D.H.S. high point scorer — Cathy Wert; Osnabruck vs Smiths Falls juniors — 17 to 30; O.D.H.S. high point scorer — Maureen Acres; Osnabruck vs Fellowes H.S. lost again with a final score of 18 to 34; O.D.H.S. high point scorers — Maureen Acres and Sonya Fickes.

Each year O.D.H.S. tries to raise money for activities that involve the student. Such activities might include comemncement, dances, fun fair, etc. This year as in other years we are selling chocolate bars. The objective of our campaign is to see 200 boxes. So far the campaign seems to be successful.

Monday, October 27th, four nervous students of O.D.H.S. — Bonnie Bosch, Danny Stewart, Stephen Dafoe, and Kevin Chaisson participated in the annual 'Reach for the Top' competition. They played against Osgoode and won by a final score of 295-180. On November 18th the second game will be played against Almonte or Grenville. That game will be televised.

Once again our school will be collecting for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The collection will last until Nov. 17th. Last year we collected $221 and hopefully this year we will reach the $500 mark. Last year not too many students collected, but this year we hope to have more participation.

A 'first' took place in the Rothwell-Osnabruck School library, Tues., Oct., 28th. Some teachers of Rothwell Public School held an autograph party for Mrs. Dorothy Morgan, a retired school teacher whose book "Chalkdust in my Blood" has recently been released. about 60 visitors, many from the community and students from the school dropped into the library for a chat and tea. Frances Donkers and Kim McDonald from Osnabruck were in charge of the tea table.

The dance was held on Friday Oct., 26th featuring "The Butlers" O.D.H.S. had a pretty good turnout.

Consumer and Corporate Affairs

New branch set up to deal with auto problems

Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Andre Ouellet today announced that a special unit has been set up in his department's Consumer Services Branch to deal with consumer problems relating to automobiles.

The function of this group will be to provide car owners with information about special goodwill adjustments provided by some automobile manufacturers and distributors provided by some automobile manufacturers and distributors.

During the past two months, the Minister has been in touch with senior officials of all companies manufacturing or distributing cars in Canada. He has asked them to provide documents describing such policies.

"I have been assured of their desire to cooperate," the Minister said, "and I count on their cooperation to help alleviate the concern of car owners, who feel that present secret adjustment programs are unfair."

Goodwill adjustments or "extended warranties", as they are sometimes referred to, have been allowed to car owners only on an individual basis.

The Minister also noted that information regarding extended car warranties had been brought to his attention by Mr. L.P. Edmunston, president of the Automobile Protection Association, an independent consumer group in Montreal, active in the automotive field. He thanked Mr. Edmunston for his initiative and energy in researching this subject of national consumer concern.

Hallowe'en party for Y.T.C.

Two dozen members and their friends from the Youth Temperance Council gathered at Eatonholm in Chesterville Wednesday evening of games, music and refreshments. Some beautiful and unique costumes were displayed, and a full evening's program of games, stunts and contests ensued.

Committee in charge included Robin, Ronald and Dawn Docksteader, Vicki and Susan Leguie, Colleen Martin, Cindy Watters, Glenda and Lyn Symes.

A feature of the evening was a large, beautiful birthday cake, with candles, in observance of the birthdays of Robin and Ronald Docksteader.

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton, provincial organizer of Y.T.C., was host.

Busy 'Bread Makers' hold two meetings

The 'Busy Bread Bakers' a 4-H Club held two meetings recently. At the first meeting the group participated in making several kinds of rolls which were tasted fresh from the oven. By the meeting end it was found the members had found the rolls so delicious that very few were left to be taken home.

Much discussion centred around the skit to be presented at achievement day, with plans finalized for the topic.

The fifth meeting was held on October 25th, when further discussion was held regarding achievement day.

Once more the group moved to the stove to prepare 'Hamburger Stacks', which are two hamburg patties with bread stuffing in the centre. On top of this is poured barbecue sauce. As at other meetings the end product proved delicious.

The next meeting was slated to be held at the home of Leona Moss.

Grace M. Hogaboam

A resident of 598 Main St. West, Winchester, Grace M. Hogaboam, died in the local hospital on Thursday, October 30th, 1975. She was 85.

Born at Morrisburg, Ontario, she was married in the same community to the late Frank Hogaboam, who died in 1948. She was the daughter of Silas Baker and his wife the former Ella Merkley.

Surviving relatives include — one son Arnold; two grandsons Bill and Danny. She was predeceased by one sister Belle Cooke.

Special honours were tendered Mrs. Hogaboam at the funeral services when Sheldon and Margaret Robinson sang "Home of the Soul".

Rev. M. Maxted officiated for the services which were held at Vice and Craig Ltd., Winchester, at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 1st. Interment was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Melvin Dawley, Jim Bowman, Ray Barkley, Byron Dawson, Bert Link and Eldon Turner.

A lovely fall wedding was witnessed on October 11, 4:00 p.m., at the Blessed Sacrament Church, Tollgate Road, Cornwall, when Marilyn Maloney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Maloney, Bonville, became the bride of Terry McMahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McMahon, Finch. The couple were honoured at a reception in the Finch Community Arena, before leaving on a Honeymoon trip to Vermont. Upon their return they will take up residence in Ottawa, Ont. — Photo by McMahon.

J. M. McGibbon

Following a short illness, J. Milton McGibbon, a retired freight agent who lived in Winchester, died in Winchester Hospital on Wednesday, October 29th, 1975. He was aged 87.

Mr. McGibbon was predeceased, in 1956, by his wife the former Mary Louise Kirkland. Born at Eganville, Ontario, Mr. McGibbon was the son of the late Johnston L. McGibbon and his wife the former Mary Warren.

He is survived by one sister Helen (Mrs. J. F. Walsh) of Toronto, and predeceased by one brother Harrison and sisters Ethel, Jean, Hope and Blanche (Mrs. C. G. Bassman).

Funeral services were held in the Winchester Wesleyan Church, where Mr. McGibbon was a member, at 2 p.m. on Friday, October 31. Rev. C. Jackson officiated. Interment was made in Hillcrest Cemetery, Smiths Falls.

Pallbearers were Laurie Summers, Murray Holmes, Allan Hutchison, Edgar Turner, Ron Freeland and Lorne Bell.

SUNSET

The days are getting shorter and one of the most dangerous times of day for driving is dusk, when sight distances are quite misleading. The Ontario Safety League reminds you to turn on those low-beam headlights at dusk . . . not parking lights. It's the law! Be safe — be seen!

BIRTHS

October 24, 1975 — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Theriault, Morrisburg, Ontario, A Daughter.

Mariners hold October meeting

The "Good Ship Faith" of the Mariners With Christ anchored in "Chesterville Harbor" at Eatonholm Tuesday evening for the October "Sailing".

First Mate Garnet Johnston was at the helm. Mrs. Milton Shay, purser, "logged the voyage". Captain E. Earle Eaton gave the Mariners' Report and charted the future course.

Nova Scotia report was given by Mrs. E. L. Vardy; New Jersey report by Capt. Eaton; Ontario report by First Mate Johnston.

Vocal solos were rendered by Wayne Reid of Kemptville, to his own accordion accompaniment. Jim Bray supplied accordion accompaniment for a Gospel song service. Scripture reading was by Mrs. Duart MacLean; prayer was offered by Albert Bray. Praises were given by Mrs. Burt Sharkey and Mrs. Milton Shay.

Speaker was Lt. Bryce Powers, S.A., of Kemptville.

Refreshments were served by a hospitality committee comprising Mrs. Duart MacLean, Mrs. Garnet Johnston, Mrs. Lorne Feeley, Mrs. Piebe DeJohn and Mrs. Shay.

An offering was received for the work of the Mariners, who have as their prime project the erection of Highway Gospel Signs.

When your physical condition is below normal, you need above-normal care in driving, states the Ontario Safety League. Emotional and-or physical upset in a driver is a threat to traffic safety. Remember that the same drugs that bring merciful relief from pain and tension, can also bring serious driver impairment.

The young farmer ... should he buy or rent

This is one of the many topics eighty-six young farmers will be considering on this year's Junior Farmer Livestock Management Tour from November 9 - 14. Gary Derks, R. R. 2, Chesterville; Peter Brugmans, R.R. 1, Chesterville; and Jack Hoogeveen, R.R. 2 Chesterville the delegates from Dundas.

The "farm visits" portion of the tour will be concentrated in the counties of Oxford, Wellington, and Waterloo. Here participants will have an opportunity to learn how beef, dairy, swine and sheep operators are managing their enterprises. Livestock husbandry, farm business agreements and stock selection will be the main topics covered during the week.

On Thursday, the delegates will take part in the Inter-County Livestock Evaluation Competition at several farm locations in Wellington County, Friday morning the group will visit livestock marketing facilities in the Toronto area, including Canada Packers and the Ontario Public Stock Yards. That evening the group will attend the opening night Horse Show as guests of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

Chesterville Jets ...

Win opener, lose game two

Chesterville Junior Jets were many things to many people during last season. The local team sometimes caused reason for tempers to flare, the referees to take some verbal abuse but the team certainly drew fan support.

The Jets are back in business for 1975-76 and the current schedule is underway. Two games have gone by the wayside and the local team has a respectable split in the action.

The Jets played their first league game on Tuesday night, October 28th, against the Charlottenburg Rebels. From the first drop of the puck the Chesterville players were in high gear. They were on top of the puck, consistently making their own breaks and forcing the opposition into coughing up the puck in their own end. This aggressiveness resulted in six unanswered Jets goals before the Rebels tallied at the close of the second period.

Chesterville went on to score two more goals in the third period, to cap an impressive league opening game.

Nine new faces are wearing Jets sweaters for the current campaign, which should strengthen the team considerable.

Scoring the lone goals for the visitors was D. Jodoin.

Seventeen penalties were called in the game with Charlottenburg taking 10 to Chesterville's 7.

Final score — Chesterville 8, Rebels 1.

Cuda's 8, Jets 2

On Sunday evening, November 2nd, the Chesterville Jets played the Cornwall Township Cuda's in the Long Sault arena. Early in the first period it was evident that the Jets were disorganized. They were waiting for the opposition to bring the puck to them. And along with poor puck clearing in Chesterville's own end, skated to their first loss of the season.

In the second period the Jets seemed to come to life, carrying the puck to the Cuda's end, getting good scoring opportunities only to be stopped by excellent goaltending by the Township goal tender. Persistence paid off and the Jets tied the score at the end of the second period outshooting the opposition 17-1.

The third period saw the Jets fall back into their lack-lustre shell, waiting for the puck instead of going and getting it. This type of play resulted in seven goals for the Cuda's in the third period, even though they played shorthanded for much of the period.

Marksmen for Cornwall Township were — R. Witherspoon from H. Lalonde; R. Witherspoon from H. Lalonde; B. McPhail, unassisted; R. Wheeler from R. Brisanet; R. Wheeler from R. Lapointe; Wheeler on a penalty shot; K. MacGillivray from G. McPherson and M. MacDonell and Wheeler again, unassisted.

Scoring for Chesterville were — Dave Arnold from Carmen Carruthers and Doug Shay and Larry Gallinger from Larry Kelly.

The Sunday match was a rough tough affair with 28 penalties being called — 19 to Cornwall Township and 9 to Chesterville.

Final score — Buda's 8, Jets 2.

figure of $32,700.00, and the application is now approved. The next visit was with the officials of Wintario, the Committee came up with $12,000 in pledges and money in the bank, and the Wintario scheme giving 2 for every dollar raised will bring in another $24,000, although this particular grant has not yet received the stamp of approval.

As in all cases, due the fact that the project is under the Township Recreation Program the Committee will be eligible for a standard recreation grant. A quick summary of the grants brings the total to nearly $80,000, plus the $12,000 which has already been raised putting a zero deficit on township ratepayers.

The planners of 'Project '76' in the beginning were not sure all the hurdles could be cleared . . . they now appear to be safely into Phase One.

Will Moose Creek Recreation Centre be happy when the first phase is complete? Not on your life. They're already planning for Phase Two which will include a covered swimming pool using some of the facilities that are about to be built.

Who do you thank for such co-operation to get such a program underway? . . . spokesmen were appreciative of the co-operation from Roxborough Township Council, the LIP Program, the Wintario Scheme, Recreation Grants and all others that offered help, monetary or otherwise.

Work is slated to begin almost immediately on 'Project '76'.

Finch and District Lions Club are always aware of groups needing assistance of one kind or another. In this case they turn their untiring efforts towards aiding the Crysler Senior Citizen's Sunshine Club '74. The senior citizens purchased a building in Crysler and have renovated the entire inside, making an excellent meeting place. The outside is the next project under consideration by the group and the one hundred dollar donation by the Finch Lions will no doubt help out. Front row from the left, Mrs. Kenzie MacGillivary, Director; Kenzie MacGillivary, President, Senior Citizens Club, Mrs. Walter Beehler, Sec.-Treas. Back row from the left, Bill Thatcher, Dalton Ouderkirk, President Finch and District Lions; Barry Brownlee, Rick Lalonde. — Staff Photo.

Average Ontario family owns $29,800 of life insurance

The average family in Ontario now owns $29,800 of life insurance.

This compares to a national average of $28,200. Ontario's ownership of life insurance is second to that of Quebec with $31,000 per family.

Despite these figures, reports The Canadian Life Insurance Association, the majority of Canadian families remain underinsured in relation to their needs.

Riding a winner is the way to start any competition... and the way to finish it.

Sure, things like track conditions, snow consistency, temperature and the competition all play a part in any event. But the bottom line is simply you and your machine and a checkered flag somewhere out front. If you think you've got the winning riding technique, we've got the winning machine.
SRX340—440 for '76 — liquid cooled parallel twins that outdo even Yamaha's reputation for technological excellence. Prototypes of these machines were used by our own race team of Roy Wall and Larry Omans last season and they came out winning some pretty prestigious events like the Kawartha Cup and the North American International Event in Alberta
Roy and Larry punished the sleds over and over again and still they performed, providing optimal engine performance, power transmission and traction on a wide variety of track and snow conditions.

IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORIAM

GORE — In loving memory of Harry Gore, who passed away November 3, 1973.
I often sit and think of him,
When I am all alone.
For memory is the only friend,
That grief can call its own.
Like ivory on the withered oak,
When other things decay.
My love for him will still be given
And never fade away.
Wife, Verna

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Anna Mae Moran, who passed away November 5, 1970.
The world changes year by year,
And friends from day to day.
But never will the one we love,
From memory pass away.
Ever remembered by husband, Tom and family

IN MEMORIAM

STEEN — In loving memory of a dear mother, Essie Steen who passed away Nov. 5th, 1967.
In the book of life there are memories
Of the happy days we knew;
And recorded in love are the blessings
Of a wonderful mother like you.
Sadly missed and fondly remembered by Helen, Kathleen and Gill.

Hold Dinner Meeting in Hawkesbury get views of G. P. from England

The St. Lawrence Chapter for Registered Nursing Assistants held a dinner meeting on October 23, 1975 at the Normandie Hotel, Hawkesbury.

A cocktail hour was enjoyed and was followed by a delicious turkey supper.

Seated at the head table were — Ms. Gloria Baker, Secretary-treasurer; Miss Linda Collins, President; Dr. Guy Williams, Guest Speaker; Mrs. Zeta Godard, President and Miss Dorothy Allen, Past Secretary-treasurer.

The president, Miss Collins, thanked the forty members for coming and for such an enjoyable evening.

Miss Dorothy Allen introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Guy Williams, M.D., L.M.C.C. The doctor, originally from England, came to Canada in 1974 to the Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury. He gave a very interesting view of the General Practitioner in England as compared to Canada.

On behalf of the Chapter members, Mrs. Zeta Godard presented Dr. Williams with a gift of appreciation.

The next meeting will feature Christmas and will be held late in November.

Aztec Indians . . .

Ancient handcrafts demonstrated at Ingleside W.I. Oct. meeting

The ancient handicraft of the Aztec Indians of Mexico was demonstrated to the Ingleside Women's Institute by Mrs. Brenda Lee at the October meeting.

"Gods' Eyes" of different colours and sizes were formed from twigs and yarns to be used as mobiles, wall hangings, Christmas Tree decorations or front door ornaments instead of wreaths. Mrs. Lee also showed samples of decoupage, macrame and frame loom weaving and described craft shows which will be held in Morrisburg and Ottawa.

Mrs. Stuart Markell, Convener of Cultural Affairs, introduced and thanked the speaker and presented her with a gift.

Mrs. Gregor Williamson presided, assisted by Mrs. Ed Canough. The roll call was "What I Derive from Extension Courses."

Mrs. Rheal Meilleur reviewed the latest Canadian Consumer magazine and Mrs. Ray Dixon reported on Canadian Save the Children.

The branch will serve the noon luncheon at the 4-H Achievement Day in Osnabruck High School on Saturday, Dec. 6, and everyone is invited to the afternoon programme beginning at 1:15 p.m. "Let's Bake Bread." The Spring Club will be "A Touch of Stitchery."

Mrs. Harold Rowden will lay the Institute wreath at the Ingleside Cenotaph during the Remembrance Day Service.

Mrs. Ed Canough reported on the Riverside Heights Institute meeting at which Ingleside branch had been guests and said that the members were invited to a workshop by Mrs. Clarence Diamond of New Hamburg, a Director at Large for Canada, sponsored by the Cornwall Centre Women's Institute.

A Tweedsmuir History workshop will be held in Morrisburg Civic Centre.

Mrs. Canough reported that Mrs. Dorothy Morgan had been presented with first prize at the Ottawa Area Convention banquet in the Talisman Motel for her one-act play "The Witch of Plum Hollow." On Tues., Oct. 28, at 2 p.m., in Osnabruck School Library, Mrs. Morgan will autograph copies of her book "Chalk Dust in My Blood."

Mrs. Ray Dixon and Mrs. Rheal Meilleur convened refreshments.

Mrs. Harold Shaver and Mrs. Harold Rowden will convene the November meeting on Citizenship and World Affairs.

Midget Flyers split two games

Chesterville Midget Flyers continued their winning ways last Wednesday evening when they edged the Greely Eagles by a score of 2-1. Two quick goals late in the third period enabled the Flyers to earn the win. The two teams battled to a scoreless first period with both goalies coming up with big saves.

At 10:10, of the third, Dave Vanderyt stole the puck from Dale Reid and walked in alone to beat Bob Walker and put Greely ahead 1-0. Flyers evened things up at 7:23 when Dave Phifer beat the Greely goalie from close in, Dale Reid collected the assist. Just 27 seconds later Jeff Smith scored the game-winning goal, unassisted, with a hard shot from just inside the redline. Each team took five penalties in the game.

On Thursday the Flyers travelled to Russell and were beaten by a close score of 2-1. Russell scored two goals in the first period and held the Flyers off the scoresheet until late in the final period, when Pat Imrie deflected a shot in from in front of the net, assists went to Dave Phifer and Martin Schoones. Each team took three penalties in the game.

The absence of star centreman Kevin Blair was felt by the whole team as they just couldn't put anything together on this evening.

The Flyers will host Morrisburg this Wednesday evening at 9 p.m.

League play will get started on November 19th with Chesterville in Russell for their opening game.

AFTER THE BATTLE

Night closed around the conqueror's way,
And lightnings showed the distant hill,
Where those who lost that dreadful day
Stood few and faint, but fearless still.
The soldier's hope, the patriot's zeal,
For ever dimmed, for ever crost
Oh! who shall say what heroes feel,
When all but life and honour's lost?
The last sad hour of freedom's dream
And valour's task moved slowly by,
While mute they watched till morning's beam
Should rise and give them light to die.
There's yet a world where souls are free,
Where tyrants taint not Nature's bliss:
If death that world's bright opening be,
Oh! who would live a slave in this?

Is The Canadian $ Too High

There's a lot of talk these days about the harm that will be done to Canada's international competitiveness because of wage costs which are increasing much faster here than in the U.S. The fact is, though, that our competitiveness has already been seriously eroded in the past few years to a point where some observers feel that a devaluation of the C$ — from its current level of around US97.5c — is something that policymakers will have to seriously consider.

Since 1970 when the C$ floated up and away from its fixed par value of US92.5c, Canada has sunk into heavy deficit on trade in end products. As Robert Crozier, senior economist at the Conference Board in Canada sees it, "Recovery from the world recession seems unlikely to offset the effects of other adverse factors which are now impinging or are about to impinge on Canada's current account."

Hanging Is Murder Too

It would be a naive politician who, today, can approach the issue of the abolition of capital punishment without some trepidation. But, sooner or later it must be faced and our leaders must give us some guidance.

Police chiefs, law enforcement associations, municipal politicians and private citizens are demanding the return of the noose or some other form of execution for murder. Whether it be for the murder of policemen and prison guards, premeditated murder, murder by insane persons or simple crimes of passion, there seems to be a vocal and substantial section of society that believes capital punishment is the only suitable way of dealing with murder.

The reams of statistics, the endless studies by competent authorities and the clear pronouncements by many church leaders that hanging is no deterrent for murderers and merely brutalizes society seems to have little effect on people who are engulfed in revulsion when they hear of a particularly senseless or brutal crime inflicted on some innocent child.

All society is afflicted with horror at such crimes. The perpetrators must be dealt with but to eradicate them is simply an act of social revenge. Our laws could be toughened up sufficiently to ensure that no convicted murderer would be released until it is certain he will not repeat the act.

But death, by whatever means and let us be clear there is no "humane" way of execution, is morally indefensible. Forgiveness, compassion, rehabilitation are part of the moral fibre of our society at its best, and these instincts must not be blunted in the first waves of emotion.

Those who suggest that capital punishment is a deterrent must be prepared to return to public executions and put them in prime family hour TV viewing. That would no doubt be the fastest way to ensure this barbaric method of punishment is forever eliminated.

The irrevocable act of hanging on the part of society . . . all of us . . . precludes any chance to study and remedy the causes of these crimes. It strikes at the very sanctity of human life that our Judeao-Christian heritage so cherishes.

Surely we can find more humane, effective and just ways of seeing that threats to our life and liberty are dealt with, than by hanging people.

Consider Fall planting of trees and shrubs

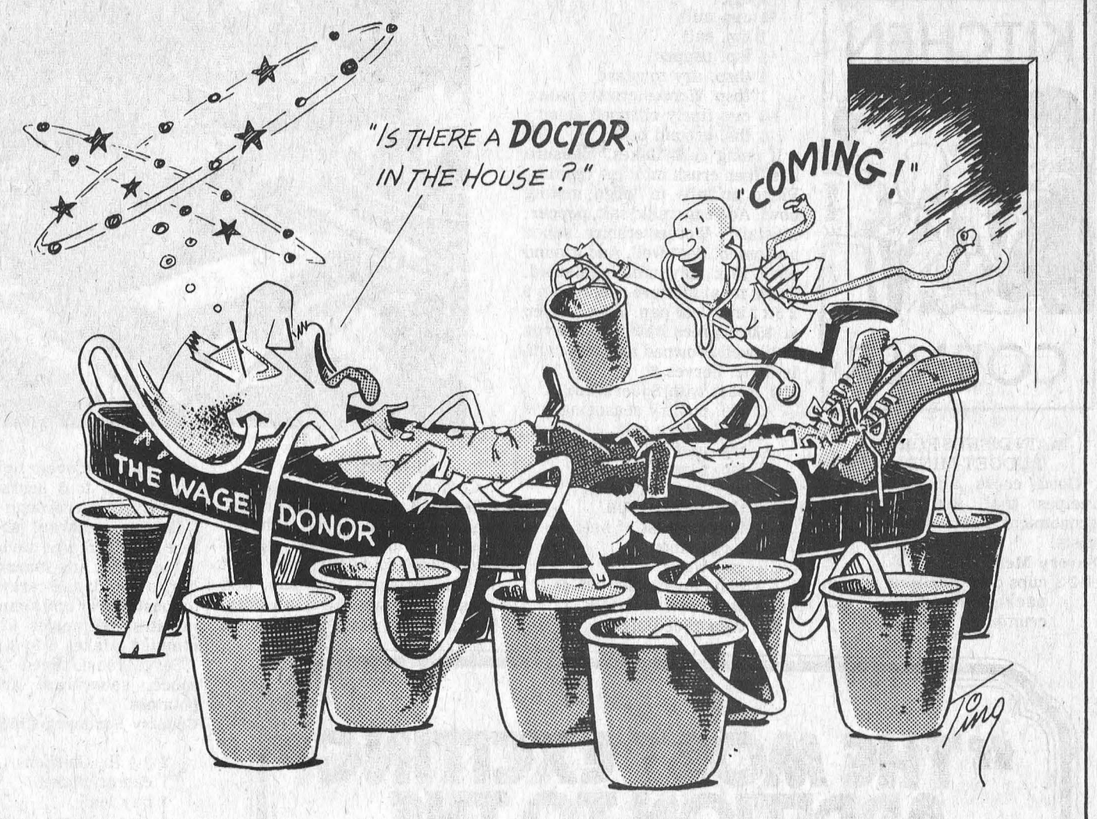
Consider planting trees and shrubs this fall and give them a headstart on spring, suggests D. B. McNeill, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food horticulturist.

"Planting of evergreens, trees and shrubs can be as successful in the fall as in spring," he says. "However, it is necessary to avoid planting them in windswept locations."

The prime time to transplant trees and shrubs is late October, just after the leaves have dropped, and before freezeup. After choosing a fairly sheltered location, proceed with the planting just as you would in the spring. Dig a good-sized hole where there is good topsoil and supply the planted tree or shrub with plenty of water.

Some exceptions to fall planting are willows, birches, poplars and silver maples. Check with your local nursery or consult your gardening book for a complete list of trees and shrubs not recommended for fall planting.

"A good supply of plants will likely be available now at your garden center," says Mr. McNeill. "By buying at this time of year you will avoid the spring rush and benefit from the extra time the nursery people have to advise you bout your purchases."



Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a message to all women in search of a man — object matrimony.

Most couples who are in love talk about how many babies they are going to have, what kind of house they want and where they'd like to vacation. They don't get to the vital issues until AFTER marriage. Then they discover that one is at the North Pole and the other is at the South Pole.

If you want to find out if you and your beloved have a chance for a good life together, ask the following questions. If you don't like the answers, don't fool yourself into thinking he'll change later. He won't.

1. How does he handle problems and pressure? Does he go to pieces? Blame others when things go wrong? Or remain calm and search for the best solution?
2. How does he feel about women? Does he believe they are inferior to men and can't possibly make important decisions?
3. How does he feel about housework? Does he think it is below his dignity?
4. How does he feel about children? Do they annoy him or does he enjoy them? What part does he feel a father should play in the rearing of children? Does he believe it's strictly the mother's job?
5. Is he stingy when it comes to spending money on you but somewhat extravagant with himself?
6. How does he feel about his job? Is he content to keep doing the same thing for the rest of his life? (If so, you can be sure he'll complain later that he never got a break.)
7. What is your social life like? Do you find yourself spending all your spare time with his family and friends and very little with yours?
8. Does he ask you which film you'd like to see and then somehow you end up seeing the one he prefers?
9. How does he handle the car when he's in a bad mood? Does he drive like a crazy man when he's ticked off? (This is a real symptom of immaturity.)
10. Does he become irritated if you are late but expect you to be understanding when he is late?
11. How does he feel about birth control? Does he think the entire burden should be on the woman? If, for example, you are unable to take the Pill, would he be willing to accept the responsibility to protect you from an unwanted pregnancy?
12. Has he ever slapped or punched you and later said he was sorry — and then done it again?
13. Does he treat his own mother and yours with respect?
14. How is his sense of humor? Can he laugh at himself or does he see something funny only at the expense of others?
15. How is his credit? Is he inclined to buy things on impulse, then have trouble paying his bills?
16. Is he truthful, or have you caught him in little lies which he has tried to wriggle out of?
17. Do you really enjoy his company — even when you are sitting silently?
18. Have you thought about what he'll be like in 25 years?

Do you honestly want to live with him till death do you part? Sign Me — Sorry Now I Never Asked.

Dear Never: Thank you for allowing millions to learn from your experience. Those questions are superb guidelines to the true character of a man.

How much do you know about pot, L.S.D., cocaine, speed, meth, uppers and downers, glue and heroin? Are all these drugs dangerous? Get Ann Landers's new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs." BOOK REPORT

FREE AS AIR
by Elisabeth Kyle

This is one of Elisabeth Kyle's most absorbing novels, set in her native Scotland, in the atmosphere of pre 1914 Glasgow and the Clyde. Whether or not the reader knows the area. Miss Kyle gives it almost tangible reality-and its undertow of emotional discontent engulfs the reader in the new life of Isabel Casburn.

CONSUMER GUIDELINES

The bathroom is one of the most hazardous areas in the home. Many bathroom accidents are linked to bathtub and shower stalls. These two structures account for more than 180,000 injuries like falls, burns, electrocutions, and drownings every year.

MAIN DISHES FOR THE BUDGET-MINDED

Good cooks always cherish recipes that are tasty and economical today with high food costs.

Savory Meat Loaf

2-2-3 cups corn flakes or 2-3 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 tbsp. dry mustard
1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1-3 cup finely chopped onion
1½ lbs. ground beef

If using corn flakes, measure first then crush into fine crumbs. Place crumbs in large mixing bowl. Add egg, milk, salt, pepper, mustard. Worcestershire sauce and onion. Beat well. Add ground beef. Mix only until combined. Press meat mixture evenly into 9 x 5 x 3 inch loaf pan. Bake in oven at 350 degrees about 1 hour or until well browned and thoroughly done. Serves 8.

Pot Roast with Sauerkraut

2 tsp. poultry seasoning
½ tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. paprika
¼ tsp. pepper
1 bay leaf, crumbled
3 tbsp. cooking oil
4 lb. pot roast of beef
1 large onion
½ cup water
1 can sauerkraut, (28 oz.)
½ tsp. caraway seeds
1½ cups diced apples,

boiled potatoes

Combine poultry seasoning, celery salt, paprika, pepper, bay leaf and one tablespoon of the oil. Rub all over roast. Heat remaining two tablespoons of oil in a large heavy saucepan. Add roast and brown well on all sides. Discard fat if desired. Add onion and water. Cover tightly and simmer 2½ to 3 hours, turning once part way through cooking.

Drain sauerkraut shortly before meat is ready, saving ½ cup of the liquid. Add sauerkraut, the ½ cup liquid, and caraway seeds to roast. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add apples. Cook for 10 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Serve roast sliced thin, with sauce, sauerkraut and boiled potatoes.

Country Scalloped Chicken

2 3½ lb. Chickens
1 carrot, sliced
1 bay leaf
1 small onion, chopped
salt and pepper
Water
1 cup cubed celery
1 cup bread crumbs
1 tbsp. minced parsley
¼ cup green peppers diced
6 mushrooms, quartered
2 tsp. salt
4 eggs, beaten
1 cup chicken stock
1 can mushroom soup
1 cup milk
1 envelope instant chicken broth

Cook chickens with carrot, bay leaf, onion, salt and pepper in water until tender. Cut chicken in large pieces; alternate layers of chicken, celery, crumbs, parsley and sauteed onion, pepper and mushrooms in greased casserole. Top with bread crumbs sprinkled with broth mix. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour and 30 minutes. Serves 8.

Rheumatoid Arthritis . . .

Research has substantially increased knowledge

"Recent arthritis research has substantially increased our knowledge of rheumatoid arthritis, one of the most common and most severe types of arthritis," according to Dr. Hugh Smythe, Chairman of The Arthritis Society's Medical and Scientific Committee. "There are two reasons why this is important: one because it is so prevalent and, secondly, because it can be the most disabling and deceptive form of arthritis. In terms of cost ot the economy it far exceeds the waste of the big killers," he says.

Rheumatoid arthritis, more common among women than men, affects the whole body, not just the joints. It may leave the patient bedridden, or confined to a wheelchair; unable to walk, unable to write, unable to comb her hair or feed herself. And she may suffer intense, severe pain. "No matter what the type, arthritis tends to run a different course in each of its victims," Dr. Smythe points out.

Fortunatley, today there is help and there is hope. The Arthritis Society spearheads the attack on arthritis. It encourages governments, hospitals and the health professions to play their part in the conquest of arthritis. "We are now on the threshold of the best arthritis control program in the western world," Dr. Smythe continues. "And, despite the absence of a cure, substantial advances have been made and there is effective treatment."

Research and professional education supported by the Society for 1975-76 totals $1,750,000 the research program includes a network of Rheumatic Disease Units; Associateships; Fellowships and research grants.

The Arthritis Society's grants are made to help research workers acquire the technicians, equipment and supplies necessary for the prosecution of effective arthritis research. The recipients derive no pecuniary benefits whatsoever from their grants, Dr. Smythe stresses.

"Arthritis research has produced understanding of this disease beyond the most optimistic forecasts of 10 to 20 years ago," says Dr. Smythe. "We shall count on continued financial support to help conquer arthritis — anybody's illness. It is better to prevent disability than to correct it."

Plant bulbs now

In Ontario, fall is the season when garden enthusiasts plant bulbs to ensure a colorful spring garden.

"Many retail outlets carry a wide variety of spring-flowering bulbs," says Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food horticulturist, J. K. Hughes. "Tulips, daffodils, crocus and narcissus are perhaps the most common types, and they come in many colors and shades."

The horticulturist recommends that bulbs be planted as soon as possible. This gives them time to establish a root system before freeze-up. If you are late in planting your bulbs, cover the soil with a layer of straw or grass clippings to prevent excessive frost damage.

The soil should be well worked and porous to ensure good root development. Most bulbs can be planted at a depth of about two and one-half times their height.

"It's a good idea," says Mr. Hughes, "to allow at least a month after the blooms fade before cutting off about one-half of the leaves. This is because they are needed to replenish energy in the bulbs."

The rewards of your labor will be very evident and welcome next spring, when your garden comes alive with color after the long months of winter.

Branch Officers attend meeting

Robert Coleman, Mrs. Lillian Allison and Mrs. Gay Benoit, members of the Executive of the Dundas County Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society, attended the Annual Meeting of the three Eastern Ontario Regions, which was held at Brockville on Saturday.

Branch Officers also attended from Winchester, Iroquois, Crysler, Berwick, Avonmore, Newington and Ingleside.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Marcia Gillissie, Ottawa visited a few days recently with Addie and Madge Campderros, Chesterville.

Following Distance

Most drivers know the rule for judging what is a safe distance to follow another car in traffic — "Allow one car length for every 10 m.p.h. of speed." But, the Ontario Safety League emphasizes that this rule specifies the minimum safe following distance, under perfect conditions. In bad driving conditions, such as rain or ice, the distance allowance should be doubled. A "bad condition" calling for extra stopping distance from the car ahead, arises whenever you yourself are being followed too closely by another vehicle. If an emergency occurs ahead, you have to worry about the stopping capability of your own car and also the car behind.

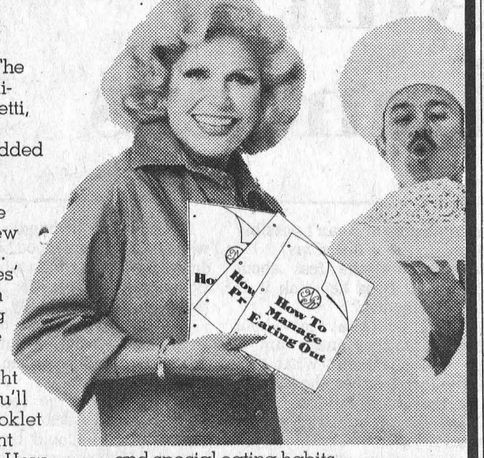
"THE MOST EXCITING ADDITION TO THE WEIGHT WATCHERS PROGRAM SINCE SPAGHETTI!"

Jean Nidetch
Weight Watchers Founder



"Three years ago, The Weight Watchers Organization introduced spaghetti, potatoes and bananas to its food program which added variety and helped fight eating boredom.

"Today we've made another addition—the new Personal Action Plan.... simple-to-follow 'modules' that can help you regain control over those eating habits that caused those pounds to pile up.

"Regularly at Weight Watchers® meetings, you'll receive a 'module,' a booklet that deals with a different eating problem such as: How to avoid temptation. How to tell when you're really hungry. How to control impulse food shopping. How to manage eating at home, and more.

"You can adapt these ideas to your own lifestyle and special eating habits.

"A new modular plan of action. An exciting, yet dignified group atmosphere. A wide variety of foods. A tested program.

"Join us now, when we've got so much more to help you reach your goal!"

Ingleside Senior Citizens hold October meeting

The October monthly meeting of Ingleside Sr. Citizens was chaired by Eileen Rutley, 1st Vice President, in the absence of Pres. Mary Trimble. Sixty-eight members answered the roll call, several new members being added to our list. We were pleased to have Mrs. Ault an honorary member residing in Rexdale. Mrs. Ault is well in her nineties, but is very alert and interested in our work.

The various reports and minutes of the Sept., meeting were read and approved. Art Ostrander gave his usual fine financial report, stated some extra dishes had been purchased by the buying committee and he would buy the extra card tables needed before the Bazaar.

Several members wished more information regarding Star memberships, Elmer Wiley explained it very fully. A motion by Allie McMillan, seconded by Matilda Brisbois and carried, to the effect that the yearly expiry date for Star membership be Dec., 31, of each year, dues to be paid on or before that date. This will enable the convenor Thorold Rutley to keep a more accurate set of books.

A letter from David Thompson regarding the new low rental housing unit for Ingleside, and requesting two delegates be appointed to attend next council meeting regarding this matter was discussed. It was moved by Bernice Ezard and seconded by Lola Lambert that Art Ostrander and Helen McMillan attend the meeting as representatives from club 283.

A letter from U.S.C.O. regarding our refund of $13.00 for the unattended banquet at the convention was refused. John MacDonald presented our club with a gavel for the president.

Dorothy Morgan was congratulated on her new book titled "Chalk Dust in my Blood". We are highly honored to have an author in our St. Citizens Club.

We were all very sorry to learn Audrey Ostrander in confined to hospital, cards and flowers were sent with our wishes for a speedy recovery. Harold Brassard is also back in hospital and Naomi Stata has returned to her home after a lengthy stay in Winchester. We wish you all better health and hopefully we will see you at our November meeting.

The acting president Eileen Rutley most capably filled her office, she read a few very interesting articles and jokes. The meeting was then turned over to Helen McMillan, Bazaar convenor. She stressed most strongly that we need a great deal of help to make this affair go over as well as last year. We need hard work, food, plants, nearly new articles, and lots of members selling tickets, for our rug and quilt.

The Bazaar will be held on Nov. 17, from 2 to 5 p.m. Convenors are — Tea tables, Tamara Valenlinories; Fancy work, Helen McMillan; Plants, Allie McMillan and Inez Wiley; Food, Laura Wells; Nearly New, Bernice Ezard; Quilt Tickets, Gladys Colquhoun; Bring and Buy, Bea Huggins; Hand Painted Picture Tickets, Audrey Ostrander; Treasurer, Art Ostrander.

All members are expected to support all the tables with their donations, as money must be raised if we are to have more trips.

Our sincere thanks to Elmer Wiley for the excellent job he did in making all the posters for our Bazaar.

The next meeting will be the Bazaar on Nov. 17, all taking part in the work must be at the Presbyterian Hall by 1 p.m.

Moose Creek Women's Institue tours Canadiana Pottery, Ingleside

The October meeting for the ladies of the Moose Creek W. I. was Agriculture and Canadian Industries.

The convenors for the day were Mrs. Gerald Emburg and Miss Violet MacDiarmid who organized a guided tour of the Canadiana Pottery Ltd., at Ingleside, Ont., and several other craft shops in the town.

Later on at noon all gathered at the Villa Nova for a dinner at a table reserved for twelve.

A short meeting was held while seated around the table, headed by the President, Mrs. Emery Brunet assisted by the secretary Miss Florence Gentles.

A full report on the Area Convention was given by Mrs. Mary A. Ross who was the delegate.

The Roll Call was, "What did you like about the trip today?"

This was a most enjoyable day for all. Several ladies plan to attend the Workshop at Blessed Sacrement Hall October 24th.

The November meeting will be under the direction of Mrs. E. Brunet and Mrs. James Boyle on "Citizenship and World Affairs."

Orientation and Introduction Night featured at U.C. Jaycettes meeting

The October meeting of the Upper Canada Jaycettes was presented as 'Orientation and Introduction Night'. The chairman, Marg Mavor, gave a brief resume and presented slides taken of previous projects. Dawn DeBoer gave the history of the Jaycee and Jaycettes Units. Ed Alinott spoke on the aims and purposes of Jaycees.

The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Conliff, of the Family Service Bureau, in Cornwall. Her talk dealt with family counselling and marriage problems. The talk proved most interesting and helpful.

Another meeting of the group was held on October 29th and at this time new members, Peggy Poapst, Kathy Crites and Jennifer O'Connor, were inducted. Presentations were made to the Ingleside Girl Guides and the Second Ingleside Cub Pak, who had assisted with the booth at the 18th Birthday Celebrations.

The Jaycettes sponsored a successful Hallowe'en Dance at the Villa Nova on October 25th.

The members discussed future projects, which included the inter-unit visit which will be held on November 12th. The 'Visit' will include guests from Kingston, Prescott, Smiths Falls and Brockville. The special guest speaker will be Don Stevens, Guidance Councillor of Rothwell Public School and Osnabruck District High School.

Plans were completed for the Jaycee and Jaycettes Christmas Party to be held on December 7th.

Re: Parent-Teacher Interviews

Wednesday, November 12

7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Dear Parent:

All North Dundas students will require their November Progress Reports on Friday, November 7.

The purpose of these reports is to provide both the student and the parent with an indication of how well the student is doing in his various courses.

In order to give parents the opportunity of discussing the progress of their son or daughter with individual teachers, Parent-Teacher Interviews have been scheduled for Wednesday, November 12 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

I sincerely hope that all parents will be able to attend as these interviews not only provide both parent and teacher with many insights which will enable them to help the student who is having difficulty but they also provide a great deal of positive reinforcement for the student who is doing well.

Yours truly,
D. W. McGahan,
Principal

N. D. D. H. S. NEWS

Once again it's time to see what is going on at North Dundas.

Our school is very sports minded but this doesn't mean our clubs and groups are not very busy. The Photography Club is raising money by selling school charms and key chains.

Since coloured pictures and student cards have arrived the yearbook members are extremely active.

Our school sent a "Reach For The Top" team to represent North Dundas at Cornwall. The team coached by Carl Ward, consisting of Bernd Jakel, Jeff Hunter, Megan Justus, John Maxwell and Laura Holmes, lost to Vanleek Hill with a score of 285-245. The team deserves hearty congratulations.

T-shirts are being sold with the high school crest and specialized events on them such as basketball or student council.

Our soccer teams travelled to Glengarry Wednesday. Although the Seniors lost, the Juniors had a 1-0 victory. This puts them in first place in their league. Their coach is Mr. Van de Kamp.

The girls basketball teams have definitely been busy. Tuesday they travelled to Seaway where the Juniors lost 50-22 and the Seniors won 42-33.

Thursday at North Dundas the Juniors gave C.C.V.S. a good fight but lost. Excitement was at a maximum peak all during the Senior game. After many trials and tribulations the North Dundas Team came out on top. The score was 35-32.

As we close the doors on this week's news remember there's always next week to look forward to.

Linda and Laura Holmes

John P. Cahill

John (Jack) Patrick Cahill, who was a life-long resident of the Greely area, where he farmed for many years, died in the Ottawa Civic Hospital on Wednesday, October 29th, 1975. He was 79.

Mary E. Carter, whom he married at Corkery, Ontario in 1933, mourns the loss of her husband.

Born at Greely, Ontario, he was the son of the late Patrick Cahill and his wife the former Esther Fanning.

Other surviving relatives include — two daughters, Mrs. Ross Stacey (Mary Esther) of New Lowell, Ontario and Mrs. John Lawther (Ann Leona) of Greely; one son, Tom of R. R. 6, Ottawa. Mr. Cahill was predeceased by one son Patrick and two sisters, Mrs. William Stackpole and Miss Annie Cahill.

The deceased received his education in South Gloucester schools and also served for a number of years on the school board in that area. He was a member of the Holy Name Society and also an adherent to Our Lady of the Visitation Church, South Gloucester.

Funeral services were held at the Church at 10 a.m. on Saturday, November 1. Father Victor Chateauvert officiated. Interment was made in the Parish Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Louis Ladouceur, Pat Ryan, George Nevins, Manford Wallace, Herb Johnson and Bob Randall.

Russell Swerdfeger

A retired farmer from the Morewood, Ontario, area, Russell Harvey Swerdfeger, died in Winchester Hospital on Thursday, October 30th, 1975. He was in his 82nd year.

Born at Russell, Ontario, he was the son of the late William Swerdfeger and his wife the former Mary Biccum. The former Alice Victoria Coulthart, whom he married at Morewood in 1926, mourns the loss of her husband.

Other surviving relatives besides his wife include — one son Arnold of Ottawa; a grandchild Mary Ann Swerdfeger; five brothers, Allen, Milton, Rowat, Harold and Carman; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Dyer and (Eva) Mrs. James MacMillan. He was predeceased by one brother Arthur.

Having received his education in Morewood, he was also a member of the United Church in that community.

Rev. L. M. Ferguson officiated for the funeral services which were held at 2 p.m. in the Morewood United Church on Saturday, November 1. Interment was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Gerald Carruthers, J. R. Craik, Douglas Hunter, Malcolm MacGregor, Bill Dillabough and Hector Carruthers Jr.

Herman Oosterholt

Herman Oosterholt, a fifteen year old student of R.R. 2 Greely, died accidentally on October 23, 1975.

Born September 26, 1960 in Ottawa, he was the son of Gerard Oosterholt and his wife the former Petrouella Vanden Berg.

His parents, one brother, Mark, and two sisters Cathy and Margurite mourn his passing.

Father Victor Chateauvert conducted the funeral service in Our Lady Of The Visitation Church on October 27, at 10 a.m.

Pallbearers were Eric Vanden Berg, Brien Vanden Berg, Jerry Oosterholt, Henry Oosterholt, Adrien Oosterholt, Jerry Oosterholt.

Interment followed in Our Lady Of The Visitation Parish Cemetery.

A TIME OF PEACEFUL REMEMBRANCE

Democracy. Freedom. The Canadian experience and spirit is founded on these words. In times of peril our servicemen have defended this spirit with dedication and courage. Many have given their lives to preserve it. Today, young men from our community are continuing to uphold tradition. Our hearts and thoughts are with them, and with all those men before them.

Remembrance Day is a time for quiet reflection. A time to honour our servicemen of past and present. And, as we rekindle the memory of what they have given to their country and to each of us, we also prayerfully work and hope for peace. Across the land there will be parades and speeches of commemoration. It's our way to proudly and reverently give thanks.

As I See It

By Mike Rowden

Mooses or Meeses

When it comes to sports . . . trout fishing is what might be called the grand passion of my life. I don't know of any other fish that requires so much attention to detail, if you hope to catch one.

Not the pond-stocked trout, but those that have to be searched out in remote streams. In the process of catching those elusive beauties, I have at times gotten into the darndest places and experienced some odd side adventures.

One such time was in an area about twenty miles in from a place called South River, on the west side of Algonquin Park. I'd been in there before, by myself, and got some nice trout out of one or two of the lakes. Finally I convinced an old buddy of mine to take a trip to the place with me and try for some big ones.

He didn't need too much convincing and one fine weekend in mid-summer, away we went. To call the pot-holed, rutted track into the top end of the South River, a road, would be paying it a high compliment. At first glance it would seem to be waiting for someone to come along and plant corn in it. The day we went in there, it seemed to take hours to bump our way along, until we finally came to the first lake.

We tried our luck for a while and having no success moved on a bit further to another lake, where we had no better good fortune. Disgusted, I climbed back into the old truck, Ben owned, and when he came back, I suggested we forget the lakes and try the river. To get to it, we had take a side trail, barely the width of the truck, with ten-foot tag adlers and willows lining the sides of the trail.

We were poking along the sandy track and had just made a turn in the trail, when we saw this big animal standing right in the middle of the road.

Ben hit the brakes and skidded to a stop.

"My Gawd," he screeched, "look at that damned camel."

"You nut," I told him, "that's no camel, that's a moose, and a big one at that."

"You're right", he said. "I was startled for a minute and didn't realize what I was saying. He sure is a big un".

The moose just stood there and looked at us and we in turn looked at him . . . for how long I don't know, until Ben began to get a little impatient.

"If he don't move, we'll never get to the river", he griped. "Maybe I can scare him off by blowing the horn at him."

I wouldn't if I were you, I told him. Seems to me there were a couple of tourists a few years ago who ran across a bull Moose in here. They blew their horn to scare him, but instead he put them up a tree and left their car looking like a freight train had hit it. Coast up a little closer and see what he does.

This we did, getting to within maybe thirty-odd feet before the animal turned and moved off down the trail ahead of us. We speeded up to about fifteen miles an hour and the Moose stayed well ahead of us. Kicking up spurts of sand every time its big hoofs touched the ground. Just ahead was a wooden bridge . . . just timbers laid across the stringers and with no railings on either side. And suddenly the Moose found himself on the middle of the bridge, where he came to a sudden stop. Probably didn't like the hollow feel of the wooden structure, perhaps the beast never had been on the bridge.

In any case, for a few moments it just stood there, then it looked over one side and turned its head to look over the other — guaging the distance from the bridge to the water below. At the far end of the bridge were two posts, with a heavy logging chain across, to discourage further travel. Meanwhile we had stopped some fifteen or twenty feet from the end of the bridge and were sitting waiting to see what the big animal would do. It didn't leave us too long in doubt — the beast stomped its front feet once or twice, gave a snort and after turning around, lowered its head and charged straight for us in the truck.

Figuring the beast had intentions of ramming us, we could only watch what was happening, having no time to get out and climb a tree. The pair of us scrunched down as far in the seats as we could and peered over the edge of the dashboard. In retrospect a silly thing to do, but still interested in the moose's actions. He seemed to be coming at us like a freight train and then just as suddenly, when no more than a few feet from the front of the truck, he swerved, covering the hood and the windshield with sand. And calmly trotted into the bush at the side of the road. We just sat there and looked at one another, relieved.

"Phew! that was close," was Ben's comment, "I thought we'd had it, for sure."

"Me too," I echoed, "I wonder where he went. I think I'll go and have a look."

"You go ahead," from Ben, "I'll stay here, I've seen enough of moose, or at least that one. If you're smart you'll do the same thing."

Well, I never figured I was too smart, but always curious, so I carefully climbed out and after quietly moving into the bush for a short distance, I heard a snort and there stood the moose, quietly munching some twigs. Evidently quite satisfied with his efforts to get out of an unpleasant situation and with no injury.

Ben and I didn't have a bellyful of twigs, but we sure as hell felt the same way.

Deceptive business practices hurt everyone.

This is what Ontario is doing to protect you.

The Province of Ontario wants you to get your money's worth when you buy. Expensive items such as cars and homes require a lot of thought, so the Government of Ontario has prepared some simple booklets that tell you what to watch out for when you buy, explaining the do's and don'ts about:

"Buying a Car"
"Buying Real Estate"
"Buying a Condominium"
"Getting a Mortgage"

You can also get a booklet called "Balance in the Marketplace — The Consumer's Guide to the Business Practices Act."

If you would like a copy of any of these booklets, or if you wish to report an unfair business practice, write now to:

We have a new law in Ontario called the Business Practices Act. Its purpose is to prevent unfair business practices in sales to the public. Here's what the law does:

- it prohibits false, misleading or deceptive tactics in the sale of products and services.
- it prohibits too high prices, unfair contracts and high-pressure sales methods.
- helps people get their money back if a seller has taken unfair advantage of them.

Win Championship

North Dundas Junior Soccer Team defeated Glengarry District High School Juniors to become the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry representatives at the Eastern Ontario Soccer Finals. In the first game against the Frontenac County Team, the N.D.D.H.S. unit won by a 1-0 score. Lanark was next to take defeat from the local squad by 2-0. The last game against the undefeated Grenville Juniors, proved to be the game of the season. Outstanding team work kept an early 1-0 lead in tact giving the Eastern Ontario Championship to North Dundas. Goals were scored by Gary Lee, Kevin Mackler, Brent Thompson and Danny Clement. Receiver, Neil Kittle and his defensive half-line led by Anjum Nppal contributed to the overall success of the team, which operated as a unit during the entire tournament. Front row from the left, Lyle Servage, Anjum Nppal, Neil Kittle, Garry Lee, Lorne Cook, Billy Trillo. Back row from the left, John Van de Kamp, Coach; Kevin Mackler, Danny Clement, Ron McMahon, Brent Thompson, Barry Merkley, Greg Casselman, Roger Patterson, Larry Curran, Manager. — Staff Photo.

Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary . . .

Rev. C. Massey guest speaker

Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary Club met in regular Wednesday session on October 29th. President Ross Walker had the pleasant duty of inducting Harvey Fickes as an Honourary member.

The guest speaker, Rev. Charlie Massey, of Morrisburg, was introduced by club member Cliff Allan. Mr. Massey, acting in the double role as clergyman and policeman-chaplain, had an interesting story to tell the members.

The speaker pointed out that in the police role, the chaplain works in two areas: with personal problems of police officers and directly in police work.

Massey spoke of the first area, by touching on the chaplains work with the frustrations and stresses built up by police officers, personal problems, transfer adjustments and personality conflicts.

He said that as a police officer the trained clergyman works effectively with juveniles, in counselling in domestic quarrels, assisting in accidents, notifying next of kin and with the sick personnel.

The Reverend presented an excellent case for police chaplains and urged the Club to press their elected representatives into establishing chaplaincies as part of the police team.

Mel Waldroff thanked the speaker for the excellent talk.

Education, in its wisdom, is encouraging the integration of the learning disabled child into the "normal" classroom for at least some of the time. It is now acknowledged that even the learning disabled can often sing as lustily as the other children or perform in athletic events or art as they do. Children learn from, and are stimulated by, one another and it is important the learning disabled child be allowed to rub shoulders with normality since social and group behaviour is a necessary part of the learning process.

Hopefully this Professional Development Day will upgrade the thinking of any teacher in need of enlightenment and the effects will filter through to society at large so that the learning disabled may have a better deal in life. Unless we all play our parts and the total resources of the school system and the community are aimed to meet the individual needs of each child, then children with learning disabilities can have no hope. It is the joint responsibility of the home, the school and society to educate the child so that it is equipped to play its part in tomorrow's society.

DIED

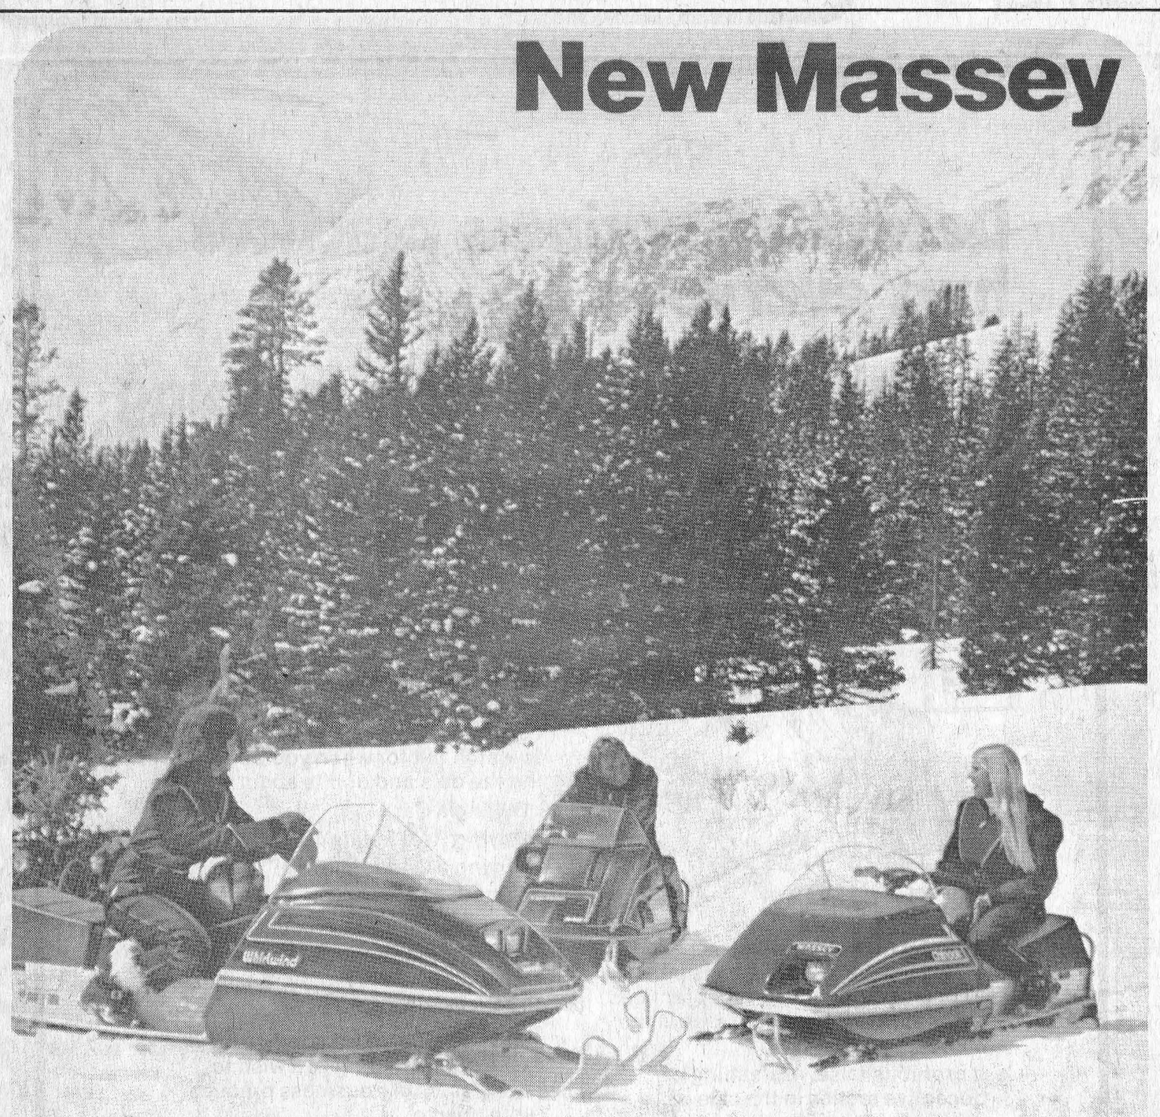
New Massey snowmobiles:

excitement engineering by the sled full.



Take a look at three great new Massey snowmobiles for 1976, and you'll know what we mean by excitement engineering.

These Masseys are loaded with innovative new ideas that will add to your snowmobiling excitement this year—in terms of performance, handling, dependability and comfort. As for styling, the sleek, racy design gives you the first clue that these machines can really move out.

There's CYCLONE, the big performance cross-country competitor... CHINOOK, the economical compact...and WHIRLWIND, the exciting all-around sports machine with an unbelievable ride.

Each new Massey snowmobile has an aluminum alloy tunnel. It eliminates rust and corrosion problems while contributing to the superior power-to-weight ratio offered by all the new Masseys.

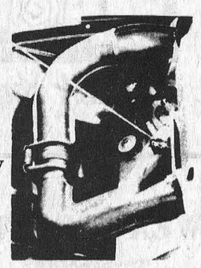
Then there's the patented Para-Rail® suspension on the Whirlwind. One of the exciting developments in snowmobiles, the Para-Rail settles the argument between bogie and slide by providing the best of both. You get the ride and performance of a slide and the marginal snow versatility of a bogie.

Rail-mounted wheels act as a single unit, working with a double-acting rear shock to give you a ride that's comfortable as well as extremely stable. And a unique "torque transfer system" puts sled weight to the rear for extra track contact during acceleration, then moves the weight forward for better handling and a smooth ride at higher speeds.

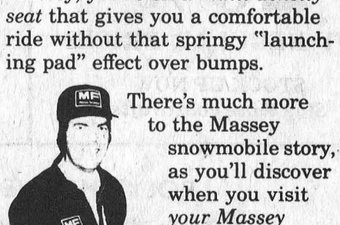
(In fact, Massey offers three different suspensions matched to our three new snowmobiles: bogie for the compact Chinook, slide for the Cyclone, Para-Rail for Whirlwind.)

Another significant innovation is the Brooten liquid-cooled engine in Massey Cyclone models. This proven engine is a performance power plant, with both two-cylinder and three-cylinder models offering a Mikuni slide carburetor for each cylinder. Engine coolant is cooled by snow in a tunnel-mounted heat exchanger that has proved very effective in maintaining temperatures even under competitive conditions.

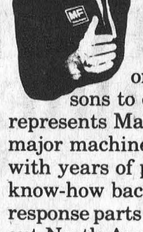
All Massey snowmobiles offer a great new torque-sensing clutch system that delivers an outstanding percentage of horsepower to the track, without "flat spots" and without the banging noises often associated with snowmobile clutches.



A tuned exhaust system (Donaldson) on all three machines helps you get the most from every drop of fuel, thanks to a scavenging effect that creates extra torque and higher rpm's. Quiet, too!



And when you sit down on a Massey, you're on a multi-density seat that gives you a comfortable ride without that springy "launching pad" effect over bumps.



There's much more to the Massey snowmobile story, as you'll discover when you visit your Massey dealer. In fact, your dealer is one of your best reasons to choose Massey. He represents Massey-Ferguson, a major machinery manufacturer, with years of parts and service know-how backed by 19 quick-response parts warehouses throughout North America. Massey-Ferguson also offers complete financing, available through your dealer, if you want it.

When you look at excitement engineering, and what's behind it, you'll go Massey this year. Sure as the wind blows.

The new winds called Massey:

WHIRLWIND
All-around sports sled offering great combination of responsiveness, speed, stability and comfort. Features Para-Rail® suspension and new Cuyuna axial fan engine in 340 or 440 models.

CYCLONE
For the snowmobiler who wants a little bit more. Big performance cross-country competitor; Can Am styling; liquid-cooled engine in 2-cylinder or 3-cylinder models.

CHINOOK
Compact, economical sled for the active snowmobiling family. Twin cylinder 294 cc Cuyuna axial fan engine offers plenty of "go."
