SCHOOL DAYS, SCHOOL DAYS

It was a million dollar tune

One million dollars is a lot of money. The high school teachers in the United Counties forfeited more than this amount in salaries over the last five weeks to achieve the right to bargain terms and conditions of employment as permitted by Ontario's Bill 100.

A press release from the teachers' federations expresses the regret that it took 25 school days of lost education to more than 9,000 students to achieve what they term "a fundamental right." They also regret the loss of their paychecks but report they are happy with the settlement.

The teachers voted 97% in favor of accepting the Board's last offer on Monday. 523 teachers voted, of whom only 12 voted to reject. It is less than two weeks since more than 83 per cent of these same teachers rejected a Board offer.

However, during that period of time, the Board changed its position and removed clause 23:06C. This in effect, gives the teachers full grievability and full negotiability of working conditions. The principle of grievability and negotiability of these conditions was the reason that the teachers felt they must strike, reports a spokesman for the federations.

A press release from the Tri-County Board states that members of this organization are also pleased with the settlement. The collective agreement signed by the Board and teacher employees covers the period from September 1, 1976 through August 31, 1978.

The Board encourages all students to return to school and asks parents to provide every encouragement and possible assistance to their children.

With the strike over, teachers returned to their classrooms on Tuesday in preparation for whatever students will return to classes.

Teachers are urging all students to return. The curriculum will be revised and the field trips and excursions which usually take place in June will be cancelled to give class time priority.

Students will have to work a little more diligently than they normally did at this time of year, and the usual exams might be cancelled so more time may be devoted to instruction, advises Mr. Gauthier, vice-principal of GDHS.

Credits will be granted in the usual procedure and no student will be penalized due to absence from school.

Students who are not returning to school for the remainder of the semester or for next September should advise the school of their decision so classes may be adjusted accordingly.

Committee drafts brief

A brief to be presented to the Tri-County Board of Education was drafted by the Glengarry District High School Committee following its meeting held on Thursday, May 5th.

The brief was in protest to the manner in which current teacher transfers have been made at the school and the insecurities which have resulted from these.

The Committee also decided to extend an invitation to the French Language Advisory Committee (FLAC) to meet with the school group at their earliest possible convenience.

More than 200 parents, teachers and students were in attendance at the meeting. Concern over the teacher strike and news of the transfer of six school teachers prompted the turnout.

Teachers to be transferred are Malcolm Fraser, Tina Cairncross, Joe O'Flaherty, Beverly Campbell, William Jones, Chris Bowan and Sister Louise Menard.

Questions from the audience centred around reasons for the transfers.

Principal P. T. Lloyd explained that now all subjects were offered in French at the Grade Nine level, registrations for subjects in this language caused an increase in demand for French-speaking teachers. Teachers having the least seignority in the subjects in the school are the first to be transferred.

Normally the school committee meetings are held in the library and less than five spectators are in the audience. However, when it was found there was insufficient space in this room for the crowd, the meeting was moved to the auditorium and Committee President Nancy MacKenzie had her hands full in answering questions and directing them to resource people present at the meeting in the persons of GDHS Principal Philip Lloyd and Area Superintendent Lorne Lawson.

Meetings normally adjourn at ten o'clock but the time was extended for questioning. However, it was 11:30 p.m. before the chair decided to call a halt and the committee adjourned to the library for decision making.

Enumeration now underway in area

Enumeration for the provincial election gets underway this week in the United Counties. Mac LaSalle of Chesterville is the returning officer for the area, and has prepared the kits ready for the 132 polls in the three counties.

Enumerators received their kits and instructions from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Legion Hall, Alexandria, on Sunday and their tabulation must be finished by Friday, May 11th.

Enumeration gets underway Monday morning and will continue until Fri., May 13. Special enumeration for voters missed during the first week, to look after name changes and for voters recently moved into the riding will be carried out by two enumerators in each county May 16—20. Revisions will be accepted from May 23—28.

Advance polling will be carried at two locations in each county on two days in the week prior to the election.

Advance polls will be held Sat., June 2nd and Mon., June 4th in the Chesterville Community Hall, Morrisburg Civic Centre, Avonmore and Ingleside fire stations, Alexandria arena and Lancaster parish hall.

Candidates have until 3 p.m. Thursday, May 26th to file their nomination pap.rs with Mr. Lasalle.

The Progressive Conservatives have 559 voting delegates, four from each poll plus the 31 executive members and to date Osie Villeneuve, veteran member of the Legislature appears to have no opposition. The meeting held in Finch on Wednesday is too late for our deadline so the report will be carried in next week's issue.

Bill Newman, Minister of Agriculture and Food was scheduled to be guest speaker at the nomination meeting and Carleton-Grenville MLA Don Irvine was to be one of the platform guests.

ARC receives grant for French translations

A grant of $15,173 has been received by the ARC Industries of Alexandria from the Canada Works Program. This is not for assistance to the shop as it now exists but for the hiring of five new people who will translate programs into French.

This will make 23 weeks of work for one project manager starting May 16th and four additional people who will work for 18 weeks beginning May 30th.

The Ontario Association for the Mentally Retarded will also put $2800 into the project to cover the cost of printing and documents which it hopes to recover later through sales of the books.

The booklets will cover three areas—dealing with food, normal life skills and a referrals policy and admission procedure.

The workers will observe the implementation of these projects at ARC, will record them and translate them into French.

Seven youth grants for county

Glengarry has the approval of $44,648 in Canada Youth Grants from the Federal Government, the Human Resources Centre in Alexandria was informed on Tuesday. These will provide 38 students with summer jobs in seven different projects.

Descriptions of the projects and persons who will be involved were unavailable at press time but names of the different resources are as follows:

Operation Caravane, Glen Roy, $9,968; employment for five people for 14 weeks.

Kenyon Presbyterian Church Summer Work Project, $6,784; employment for six people for eight weeks.

St. Raphael's Ruins Development, $8,544; employment for five people for 15 weeks.

Kenyon Parkarama, $7,120; employment for five people for 10 weeks.

Refurnishing Williamstown Fairgrounds, $4,984; employment for five people for seven weeks.

Animation Jeunesse Alexandria, $6,408; employment for five people for nine weeks.

Glengarry Drama Revival, Alexandria, $2,640; employment for three people for six weeks.

Country Road to Fitness, Alexandria, $4,608; employment for four people for eight weeks.

Escaped injury

Jean Cuillerier, 18, of the 3rd Kenyon escaped injury early Sunday when the truck he was driving collided with a fence post on Highway 43 just west of Alexandria.

Police report that the accident which occurred at 3:45 that morning, was the result of the driver falling asleep at the wheel, following which the truck went out of control and struck the steel fence surrounding the Fern Seguin oil depot.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $1,800 and damage to the fence was calculated at $20.

O'Neill choice of NDP convention

As compared to the 1975 NDP nominating convention, attendance was up by over 100 per cent Monday night in Finch when Joe O'Neill of Glen Robertson was given the nod as the SD&G candidate in the upcoming provincial election.

Approximately 45 people attended the meeting to see both Rene Benoit of South Mountain and Joe O'Neill vie for the honor of representing their chosen political party in SD&G, presently held by PC Osie Villeneuve.

Hugh McDonald, president of the party in SD&G, supervised the nomination and election. But prior to doing so he took the opportunity to do some politicking.

This riding is approximately 85 miles long and 25 miles wide, said Mr. McDonald and it will take considerable work to cover it properly.

It's mostly rural, he commented, and as such we sympathize with the "rotten deal" the farmers have been receiving from the present government.

This meeting and the increase in attendance is significant, he continued, I can remember when we had trouble getting 10 people to attend a meeting of this kind. "Now look at us. If this keeps up the least we will do on June 9th is become the province's official opposition."

When the time for nominations came, Emile Theoret Jr. moved that Joe O'Neill be a candidate and his motion was seconded by Mrs. Leo Massia. Vincent Primeau and Kenneth Benoit joined in nominating Rene Benoit.

Each candidate was given time to air his views and Mr. Benoit said that not only the farmers but the entire country are in bad shape and we need new people to give it hope and the NDP can provide just that.

Mr. O'Neill commented that he was sick and tired of what he is getting from Toronto. As a milk producer, he said, he is getting a bad deal and that after studying the policies of the NDP over the past winter he felt that it was the party for him and is convinced that it is the party that should be in power in Toronto.

Following his winning of the nomination Mr. O'Neill said that "This election was called because Mr. Davis was on an ego trip. The opinion polls showed that he would get a majority government if he called an election at this time. But he didn't give any thought to the 20 million dollar expense of such an election."

The farmers are getting a bad break, he said. They should at the very least be getting back their cost of production plus a reasonable profit. That doesn't mean the cost to the consumer should be increased. On the contrary.

If beef were used as an example, he continued, we would see that its sale (on the hoof) in 1973 was at approximately 70 cents compared to the present price of 35 cents. But this reduction in price has had virtually no effect on the price to the consumer.

The same principal applies to dairy farmers and the cost of their product to the end user. Every time they get an increase the dairies pass the added expense

Maxville Lions pledge $30,000

The favorable spring farm work weather has hampered progress of the canvass in aid of the Maxville and District Arena fund, however, campaign officials report that approximately two-thirds of this rural community involved has been covered. The response by the citizens to date is very encouraging and there is confidence that the ultimate financial goal will be attained although this will entail considerably more intensive work.

Chairman Garry Smith informed the News that the committee is now moving into phase two which involves contacting special names and organizations. This objective was given a healthy boost with last week's donation by the Maxville fire brigade of $5,000 and on Monday night a $30,000 pledge by the Maxville Lions Club.

Board Chairman Bill Campbell reports that architect Mac Thompson has received upwards of 20 applications for plans and specific specifications relative to the initial stage of the main building contract.

THEIR POSTER SAYS IT ALL—Now that the old Maxville arena has been officially closed and plans are well in the works for the construction of a new one in the fairgrounds area, funds for the project must be found somewhere. The Maxville Lions Club has pledged $30,000 towards the project and presented their pledge card on Monday night; front, Howard Merkley, left, and Bill Campbell, Chairman of the Building Committee; back row, left to right: Gordon Winter, Noble Villeneuve Club President, Bill MacEwen, Ralph Pomeroy, Garry Smith, Chairman of fund raising and Merton Casey.

Liberal nomination tonight

While we have not been informed of any opposition to incumbent Conservative Osie Villeneuve, the Liberal candidacy appears to be up for grabs with interest expressed from more than one area.

First to contact us was Allan Burn of Glen Norman, 36-year-old manager of the Adult Rehabilitation Centre in Alexandria. Mr Burn came to this area in 1974 from Quebec Province. He is a graduate of Macdonald Agricultural College and has worked as manager of a large pig, beef cattle and horse operation in the Eastern Townships. He has taught woodworking at Knowlton Academy, Que., a Manpower Agricultural Course at Cowansville and also a small engines course at GDHS prior to his management job at ARC Industries.

ALLAN BURN

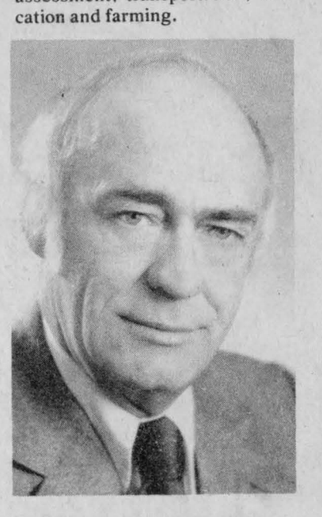
Active in local community work, Mr. Burn is bilingual and concerned with the current economic situation, the value of education and the increasing costs facing the farm community today.

JOHN WHITTEKER

Reeve of Lancaster Village for the past nine years, William Cumming announced this week that he would also be a contender for the Liberal nomination.

Born and brought up in the Third of Lancaster, he has been in municipal politics for the past 20 years. He is the proprietor of a milk and ice cream distributorship.

The 45-year-old former warden of the United Counties is a graduate of McMaster University in Hamilton. He says he finds the Davis administration to be too dictatorial in areas such as assessment, transportation, education and farming.



WILLIAM CUMMING

Mr. Cumming feels we must develop ways of keeping both large and small farming businesses viable. He is basically interested, he claims, in promotion of the small industry whether it be a type of farming, forestry, fishing, manufacturing or services.

While Mr. Cumming feels he can be a capable representative of the people he wishes to state that he will give full support to the candidate chosen at the nomination meeting.

John Whitteker, Reeve of Williamsburg Township for the past ten years, a former Warden of the United Counties and member of municipal council for the past 23 years, is also a candidate. He feels his experience and knowledge of the area will be a big asset in his bid for candidacy on Thursday night.

Mr. Whitteker farms 1,000 acres with 400 head of dairy cattle. He is naturally concerned with the farm problem in the area, he informed a News reporter, but feels the 60 per cent increase in the cost of education is the result of large regional school board administration which he blames on the Davis government.

The 50-year-old farmer is also highly critical of the road appropriation grants, restrictions on rural housing, farm severance regulations and requirements for such problems as rural septic tank systems.

Looking for local contracts

A donation of $500 from the Lions Club will be a big asset to ARC Industries, reports Allan Burn, superintendent of the Alexandria workshop. Proceeds from the Sportsmen's Dinner will also go towards the financing of the workshop.

The money is donated to the Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded who are sponsors of the local workshop.

While the government finances 80 per cent of the work shop cost, the additional 20 per cent has to be raised through workshop contracts or local donations.

At this time the workshop is low on contract work. It offers several services to the public such as minor furniture repairs, stripping furniture and refinishing if necessary, envelope stuffing, assembling parts, packing boxes or such work.

A contract from CIP Foods Limited which had been a big help in keeping the workshop self-supporting had to be withdrawn when a special processing was required to seal the boxes of instant breakfast which the trainees at ARC had been packaging. Machinery for this process was too expensive for the shop to acquire.

There are 18 trainees at the workshop.

Davis to visit riding

Premier Bill Davis wili be in Morrisburg on Friday, May 13th on a brief visit to this riding. Mr. Davis will be stopping for a luncheon in the Community Centre at noon while en route to Ottawa. The public may attend.

A. D. D. MacDonald, campaign manager for the Progressive Conservatives in Glengarry County, announces that any donations to the campaign should be made out to the SD&G Progressive Conservative Association or Candidates' Account to adhere to recent governmental party regulations.

Contributions handled in this manner assure the donor the money will be expended in his own riding.

Bill Gorrell, QC of Morrisburg, is overall executive manager of the campaign. Local committee rooms are at 123 Main St. South, Alexandria, Tel. 525-3758 and 3759.

Alexandrians using too much water

Residents of Alexandria use considerably more water each day than the quantity listed as the national average by the Ministry of the Environment. This is evidenced by a recent test of town water pipes. The water appears to be going into the homes and not into the ground through leaks in the system, as was suspected.

The national average for individual daily water consumption is 75 gallons per day. Alexandrians, on the other hand, use an average of 128 gallons per day per person.

Such a difference prompted the town's hiring of Heath Survey Consultants Canada Ltd. of London, Ontario, to test the town's water distribution system and report on the quantity and size of leaks as it was felt much of the water must be escaping through faulty systems.

The test, completed last week, found that no leaks were present in the main system and only 14 minor leaks were reported in service (residential) connections.

The present water filtration system supplies approximately 3,500 persons, including some homes bordering, but not within, the town limits.

Such a population should average 90 gallons per day per person, say Heath Survey Consultants, which is still considerably lower than the Alexandria average.

Town council has been considering the necessity of enlarging the filtration plant to meet the ever increasing demand being placed upon it.

It was hoped that the test for leaks within the system would account for the high consumption and that their repair would postpone any immediate enlargement of the filtration facilities.

However, the pipes appear to be in good shape and the demands upon the filtration plant have increased by nine per cent over each of the past two years.

If this trend continues the plant would be unable to supply the town's water requirements within the next two years, said PUC General Manager, Laurent Poirier.

The average daily water consumption for the town, industry included, is almost one million gallons.

The capacity of the filtration plant is 1.14 million gallons per day. But in the month of July a demand of 1.2 million gallons per day has been placed upon it.

This leaves us with the necessity of using our reserve of 340,000 gallons, said Laurent Poirier, and we can't replace the reserve before a weekend when the industries are shut down. The result is a possibly dangerous situation should a major fire break out while the reserve is depleted.

JUNIOR MONEY EARNERS—John MacPherson, left, treasurer of Glengarry Junior Farmers, presented a cheque to Bobby Young. Florence McCrimmon, right, J. F. president, also presented a cheque to Brent MacMeekin. The presentations were made at Laggan Public School last week as a reward for the effort both Bobby and Brent made in the Junior Farmers skate-a-thon.

along to the consumer.

"We have no choice but to do what they did in Quebec. And that is to boot the old parties out and get some new blood in the establishment."

George Samis, NDP, Cornwall was in attendance and commented on the increase in support at this meeting. This is the largest and best turnout I have seen at an NDP meeting in this riding, he said.

We are bit by bit getting more support, he noted; however, Joe is up against the problem of people voting by "blind tradition."

Joe is a viable candidate in a good party with a good leader, said Mr. Samis. "Joe is the sort of guy who will stand up for the people who put him in Toronto; the small man and the humble man."

The last election saw the people vote to cut down "the big blue machine," he commented. It gave them a minority government which is more democratic. It also improved attendance in the Legislature. "The Tories didn't like it and now they want to bring back their lost majority government."

We can keep the government honest with people like Joe, he continued, for Joe is a grass roots farmer who lives in the area and has farmed all his life. Not like some candidates who are parachuted into a riding and have no contact with the people of the area.

Mr. Samis said that a Liberal vote would be a lost vote in this election. "Stuart Smith is going one way in this election and that is down. Six leading Liberals aren't running again in this election. They must know what is coming."

"If the people of this area want Joe O'Neill to win the election they should start working at it tonight," said Mr. Samis. As soon as this meeting is finished you should go out and start knocking on doors. Regardless of the fact that it is 11 p.m. keep it up all night if you have to. And when someone is roused out of bed at two in the morning and they greet you at the door, say . . . "Hello! I'm canvassing for Osie Villeneuve."

Dogs attacking

Two large dogs have been killed in the North Lancaster area and another one mauled by roaming dogs.

The dogs which were killed were literally chewed to pieces and one of them belonging to Jack MacDonell was a large Collie and strong enough to put up a good fight.

The animal control officer in the area, Reg Julien, is concerned that cows may be attacked and is warning farmers through this media to be on the lookout. Such animals may be shot when trespassing on another's property, Mr. Julien advises.

Appointee will serve adult retarded

Glengarry County will have its own Adult Protective Services worker now that the Ministry of Community and Social Services has allocated a total of $20,000 for that purpose.

Glengarry Inter-Agency Group Inc. had previously requested such a service for the county and had agreed to act as sponsor for the project.

The news of such an individual being introduced to Glengarry came at Friday's meeting of the Inter-Agency.

The individual, as yet to be named, will work on behalf of retarded adults in this county. The job is now spread over the United Counties under the supervision of one worker, Rejean Cousineau.

The salary for the new position will range from $9,900 to $14,000 depending on qualifications and the appointee will be located in the Human Resources Centre offices in Alexandria.

Eastern Ontario Supervisor Cheryl O'Connor of A.P.S.W., will assist the Inter-Agency in the selection of a qualified individual for the position.

The Inter-Agency is only acting as sponsor for the project and has no financial interest in it. However supervision of the post will be carried out by Eugene Legault, Secretary-Treasurer of Inter-Agency and Co-ordinator of the Human Resources Centre.

Slides will be shown at service

Slides will be shown at the St. Andrew's United Church service at 11 a.m. in Williamstown on Sunday, May 15th. These were taken by David Cleary of Spencerville on an exchange trip of the 50th anniversary of the United Church of Canada.

Kirk Hill pulpit vacant

Rev. John Forbes, MA, Minister at St. Columba Presbyterian Church, and Interim Moderator of St. Paul's Church, Hawkesbury and Knox Church, Vankleek Hill, conducted worship there Sunday, May 1st, and officially declared the pulpit to be vacant. Rev. Kenneth MacLeod, B.D., has been called to his former charge in Merigomish, N.S.

Mr. Forbes announced that Rev. Harry Kuntz, STM, will be regular supply minister each Sunday at Knox and St. Paul's congregations. Mr. Kuntz is well known in the congregations having been supply minister during the previous vacancy in 1974-75. Mr. Kuntz is a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, formerly with St. Columba By-The-Lake Presbyterian Church in Pointe Claire, where he lives. For the past eight years he has been with the Ministry of Education of the Province of Quebec as Program Consultant in Religious Education to the Superior Council of Education. Recently he has been promoted to the position of Secretary to the Council, by Order In Council of the Quebec government. The congregations of St. Paul's and Knox churches are looking forward to welcoming Rev. and Mrs. Kuntz to their fellowship again, remembering the happy and fruitful ministry of Mr. Kuntz in the past.

Socer league to start soon

The Glengarry League is holding its second meeting on Tuesday, May 10th and it will be known then how many teams are in the senior league for the upcoming season.

Also they will be discussing the referee situation for the upcoming season.

The League is to open on the weekend of May 21-22 which will probably put last season's finalists, Lochiel, against the champs, Pine Grove.

There was a poor turnout at the referee clinic. It looks like they are going to have few new ones this season.

Glasses and pledges needed

Gaels on the warpath

(Warren Everson)

It has been a year of mixed results in our school, and recently, two incidents may have ensured that it will be a sports year known only for its disappointments. After a glorious football season the remainder of our school teams have found success hard to come by.

While the teams that did play were doing their best, two teams that always represented our school well were cancelled. The boys' wrestling team, which usually produced a few winners every year, was cancelled due to lack of 'student interest.' Simply put, not enough boys wanted to wrestle to make it worth Coach Jeaurond's time.

Then the boys' volleyball, a team that last year won the invitational tournament, was also "retired" due to lack of interest and a coach. Although Miss Cairncross volunteered to coach, there were no clear plans laid and the boys quickly found other interests instead.

Recently, two serious complications arose. The first was the teachers' strike. Aside from the unknown damage it caused to the academic side of the school, it also had the effect of severely damaging the various athletic ambitions for this season.

Badminton was cancelled outright as soon as the strike began. This is a sport that the Gaels seldom dominate, but it always attracts a number of eager participants. Track and field, usually our most successful sport, is in obvious trouble. Mrs. Fraser, who is head of track and field in both our school and also SD&G says that some arrangement may be made for those students particularly dedicated to the sport, but she concedes that the hope of a proper team effort is gone. For the Gaels, this is a sad day indeed, since track and field is traditionally our largest and most victorious squad. Though the very best runners, jumpers and throwers may somehow be allowed to qualify for EOSSA, the average student, who competes for the pleasure of the sport and the physical fitness that the training ensures, will be disappointed this season.

Hopefully, the "No Sweat" competition, the daytime intermurals and the participation point system will be resumed with only an interruption in their schedules to mark the strike.

It is also assumed that the magazine drive that was postponed by the strike, will be organized, in order to provide the student contribution to the new tennis courts.

The second unfortunate blow to our sports program was the recent transfer announcement. Six transfers will be made before next semester, and among the teachers leaving are two of our sports stalwarts, Malcolm Fraser and Tina Cairncross.

Mr. Fraser has coached the boys' soccer for many years, usually with great success. In addition, the last two years he has taken on one of the boys' basketball teams and done his best there also.

Miss Cairncross, who has skillfully directed a powerful girls' volleyball team also has coached girls' basketball and helps out with track and field. The loss of these two dedicated teachers will be an additional problem for the athletes of next year.

The challenge is before the students. Only by showing interest, by demanding the opportunities to compete, and by finding the time to participate will they restore the sports program to its former vigor.

FIRST AT SEASON'S END—This team, known as "The Devils" of the Alexandria Mixed Bowling League, finished in first place at the end of this year's regular season play. Trophies were awarded at the annual banquet in the Green Valley Pavilion Saturday night. Left to right, Guillaume Decoste, Suzanne Seguin, Roselyn Rochon, Roxanne Menard and Michel Menard. Missing were Robert and Sylvie Boisvenue and Monique Viau.

Stars reach quarter finals in tournament

by Carman MacMillan

The Glengarry Stars took part in the Fifth Royals Indoor Tournament on the weekend only to be eliminated in the quarter finals by the Kickers, the semi-pro team from Montreal.

The Kickers eventually defeated the Ottawa Royals and wound up as tournament champs. The win was their third in a row in this annual tournament.

On Saturday, May 7th, the Stars played in a round-robin series against Dorval Falcons and the Spartan soccer club from Toronto. It was a three game day with eight series. The top two teams moved to the finals the following day with a couple of wild cards added.

Saturday we played our first game against Dorval United and won by a 1 to 0 score. The goal was scored by Jackie MacLean.

Our second game was against the Ottawa Falcons and again the boys came up big with Tom Lowe and Donald MacNaughton scoring a goal apiece to win by a 2 to 0 score.

Our third game was against the semi-pro team from Toronto known as the Toronto Spartans. The Stars had their hands full but Herbie Maley scored our first goal only to be scored on to make it 1 to 1. John MacPherson then scored our second goal. With 46 seconds left in the game the Spartans scored again. The game then ended in a 2 to 2 tie.

With our two wins and a tie it enabled us to finish first in our series with the Spartans second as they tied two, lost one and won one.

On Sunday, May 8th, we returned to Walkley Arena to play at 10 a.m. against Dorval United who were picked as a wild card.

The Stars really came on strong in this one as we scored four unanswered goals in five minutes of the game and then held on to win 4 to 1. Norman Laliberte stopped a penalty shot in the game as well.

Donald MacNaughton, Gerald Chenier, Tom Lowe and Herbie Maley, scored singles for the Stars.

This led up to the game against the Kickers. The boys went out but an early goal by the opposition proved to be the only goal of the game as the Stars failed to dent the twine. Kickers had excellent ball control and our chances came but few, only to have the ball deflect wide of the goal or over the cross bar.

The game ended 1—0. The Stars were out and the Kickers then went on. This team beat the Spartans and were going against the Maple Leafs or the Royals in the finals.

Local tournament this weekend

by Carman MacMillan

Saturday, May 14th, is the big day for the Glengarry Stars as they will be hosting their own indoor soccer tournament at the Glengarry Sports Palace. On the same evening above the Glengarry Sports Palace we are having our annual indoor dance with the music by the Cobblers.

So far we have five teams confirmed and are hoping to get three more to fill out an eight-team schedule.

The teams so far are Royals, South Ottawa Internationals, NDG, BNR and the Stars. If we need two teams to fill up the tournament we will have one. If any of the old indoor players or any new ones want to play, contact John MacPherson on Friday before 7 p.m.

The tournament will be held in the Glengarry Sports Palace and with an eight-team schedule it will start at 11 o'clock. The games will be 25 minutes or 30 minutes long. We would have four teams in each division. With two divisions we will have a total of 15 games.

Don't forget to come out and support your local team.

Soccer league being formed

by Rudi Payer

The soccer boom over the past few years at the minor level has resulted in the formation of a new senior soccer body.

The Cornwall and District Soccer Association was organized last winter when area soccer enthusiasts became concerned that players in the ballooning minor soccer program would have nowhere to go after graduating.

The CDSA expects to be operating a six to eight team senior loop in its initial season. It was given a measure of instant credibility when Char-Lan United of Williamstown and Cornwall City Soccer Club decided to pull out of the Ottawa District Soccer Association and join the new league. Cornwall United, last year's Seaway Soccer League champions, and Hellenic Stars, a new Cornwall entry, have also decided to come into the CDSA.

A Special General Meeting of the CDSA will be held on Sunday, May 15th, at the Anchor Motel in Cornwall, starting at 9:30 a.m. The deadline for accepting new teams has been set for this date. It is expected that some or all of the remaining teams from the old Seaway league (Avonmore, St. Raphael's, Ingleside, Dunvegan) will come into the fold.

To give players from local teams or players not affiliated with any club a chance to play soccer this summer, the CDSA has set up a "players' pool". These players are asked to contact Dave Brown, CDSA Director for Development, at 932-4086. They will be signed to CDSA contracts and reserved by the league. If enough players are available, the league will set up one or perhaps two new teams, providing them with coaches and management.

Following Sunday's special general meeting, a schedule will be drawn up and play will get underway the first week in June.

Tennis club elects slate

On Tuesday, May 3rd, the Alexandria Tennis Club held its first meeting of the year at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The first order of business was to nominate an executive slate for the upcoming year. They are President, Andre Depratto; Vice-President, Jean Marc Dubois; Treasurer, Andre Claude.

After the nominations were completed the topic changed to memberships. Last year was disappointing as not very many adults bothered to become members. Members have an advantage over non-members for court usage. More memberships mean more money to repair the courts and buy accessories. Fees are as follows: Children under 12—$1; 18 and under—$3; over 18—$10.

Family memberships are $15, this includes both parents and all children under 16. Something new will be added this year. Every Wednesday morning will be ladies morning from 9 till 12. Only women will be allowed on the courts. This might encourage the ladies to become active members of the club.

PEOPLE on the MOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Austin accompanied their son Bruce to Whitby where they spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Austin and family. On Sunday morning they attended the baptism of Aaron John, infant son of Jane and John Austin in St. Mark's United Church in Whitby.

Many priests of the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall are on their annual retreat at Ville St. Martin, Montreal. It began Monday, May 9th and will end at noon Friday, May 13th. Retreat master is Father Roger Brousseau CSV.

Mr. and Mrs. Anselm Pidgeon and daughters Karen and Bonnie of Prescott, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McDonald of Ottawa visited on the weekend with Mrs. Barbara McDonald and Gavin.

Floyd Hope of England, visited this week with his cousin, Wallace Hope and Mrs. Hope here. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hope.

Fred Pidgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thivierge and Miss Ann MacDonald of Vanier also called on Sunday.

Slides were gift to Society

At the May 5th meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society in Alexandria, members were taken on a trip to the past. Ellie Robert, Consultant to the Lakeshore School Board in Quebec presented a showing of slides of his sketches of implements and tools used by Canadian pioneers, a collection which had originally been prepared for use by the School Board.

A great variety of tools, often bearing quaint out-dated names was shown and illustrated how time-consuming many of the simplest operations were in days gone by. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Robert presented the full set of slides to the Society as a gift. Mr. Robert was introduced by Dr. George McKiel and thanked by G. E. Broomhall.

Representatives of the two local museums presented their 1977 budgets, but final total approval was postponed until the June meeting.

On Dr. Wilfred Johnston's suggestion the Society adopted a motion that Robert Kerr replace Dr. Johnston on the Alexandria Town Council's Old Mill committee. Dr. Johnston was thanked for all his work on the old mill committee since February 1976.

The Rev. John Forbes, convener of the "Glengarry Magazine" committee, urged all members to put on their thinking caps and compose articles of local interest for publication in the 1977 issue. Past issues are now collectors' items and only a limited number of the 1976 edition remain unsold.

WI met at Lancaster

The May meeting of St. Lawrence Branch WI was held at the home of Mrs. Alex Lalonde, Lancaster. Twelve members were present. Miss Bessie Cumming reported for the Curator. She spoke on Rev. John Bethune, and, also on the first Officers' Conference held in Guelph in 1948. This eventually became an annual affair.

Mrs. Harold Graham, for Home Economics and Cultural Affairs, read an article entitled "Shoes." Mrs. J. B. White, for Agriculture and Canadian Industries, read an article on Shipping Cattle to Haiti. Mrs. Walsh conducted an auction sale of goods which was very successful.

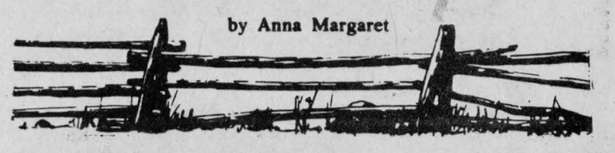
'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret



There are stories we hear about irresponsible youth and sometimes I wonder if we counteract sufficiently with the stories of the very responsible youth who contribute in such large measure to our communities.

Among the unsung heroines (and now I hear the field also contains heroes) are the candy-stripers who volunteer their services to our hospitals. Their work is sincere, dedicated and a big saving in lieu of paid help.

While other kids are sitting home watching TV or playing sports of all sorts, on evenings and weekends we have those lovely young people who donate their time for the comfort of others.

It is a great boost for the morale of the patients to see these fresh young faces coming around with their smiles in the evenings, at a time when a cheerful face is just what is needed to accompany the refreshments and services they render. This is not to say that nurses are not friendly and cheerful; but when one is ill, every new smile that comes around is a help.

* * * * *

A long time ago I spent a couple of years attempting to teach in a small country school. Looking back I think the pupils taught me more than I taught them and maybe that was a fair exchange. We got along well together.

Comparing the situation then and now how great was the difference in the teacher-parent relationships. After-school hikes across the fields to observe nature first hand,—the plum trees in blossom, the wild grapes, patches of daisies, clusters of sumac and butternut trees gave me a fair knowledge of everyone's property. (That was back in the days before our newly-acquired lot-holders put up the no-trespassing signs.)

These hikes eventually brought me into contact with the farmers at work, where I usually interrupted their land-working operations for a chat. I knew what they were sowing, the kind of crops they were harvesting, the names of their horses, dogs and cats. All the ground hog burrows as well, which I more than once stepped into unawares.

I called in at the homes, exchanged pickle recipes with the mothers, sat down at their kitchen tables, drank tea and ate their doughnuts while we talked about everything in general. Without TV we were not too aware of world news but really knew a lot about each other. It was a good warm relationship.

How well do parents and teachers know each other today? Certainly not in that kind of setting. It just isn't possible. Some of us have children in one, two or three schools, if we consider primary, junior and high school.

I can recall having children in Lancaster Township Public School, Green Valley kindergarten, Iona Academy and GDHS at the same time. With all of them in a school with different regulations and languages it was a vicious circle to try to keep up with the curriculum and who taught what.

Even if one has a few children in "one" high school, students take different subjects, have several different teachers and there seems little time for parents and instructors to get acquainted.

Parents' night is a help but can also add up to a nightmare for both parents and teachers who keep trying to sort each other out and size each other up.

And so, to many of us parents, our teachers have become a group we don't even try to get to know better. Does one invite the teacher to supper some evening. Chances are it would just be another ordeal for a teacher who has his or her own family to get home to.

But the teachers have spoken—forcefully perhaps but nevertheless—"We have problems and we want to be heard." Wow! Have we become aware of our teachers.

The SD&G Board of Education has declared it feels teachers to be an essential service. The scales have fallen from the eyes of the most of us and we too have become aware of dependency on this group of professionals.

If we go back to the old values of our forefathers we will be reminded of their priorities. A church and a school preceded just about any other service in the community, long before police forces, firemen, hospitals and the like were even considered.

Times change, but values should remain. And from time to time we should take a good look at the old time values, merely to reassess their importance in our society.

This teacher strike has given many of us time to reconsider a great many issues. At our school committee meeting last week at GDHS we decided teachers were an essential service. As an essential service they do not have the right to strike.

But this is not the reason I feel we should declare teaching an essential service. Heaven forbid!

The reason, pure and simple, is because teachers deserve to be recognized for the important contribution they make to our community. And don't tell me their paycheck covers their service. Perhaps for some, as in all walks of life.

But count me among the folk who still consider the majority of these professional people honorable and dedicated members of our society whose objective is still to inspire our children to seek and accomplish greater things.

But it can't be a one-way street. If we will effectively improve our current situation, somehow we are going to have to work on restoring the old-time relationships between teachers and parents in the community. And yes, also with the school board!

IT'S OUR OPINION

The Glengarry News

ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1977

SECOND SECTION

Committee is first step

A steering committee has been formed to explore the possibilities of restoring the old grist mill and perhaps transforming the town square into a pedestrian mall. That is a distinct step forward in which the Glengarry Historical Society has been the primary push and that group is well represented on the committee with members of town council.

We trust councillors will tie in with any progress on this project another suggestion we have been promoting over the years, development of our waterfront.

What we had in mind was an ornamental frontage along the eastern end of our lake, stretching from the Mill Square to the park entrance at Derby street. There could be a concrete apron along the shoreline with sidewalk and roadway. Decorative lighting could be reflected from the lake waters and there might be benches at intervals for use of those more inclined to sit than stroll.

The cost of such a project should not be prohibitive. One stretch already has a roadway and the only buildings to be moved are an old barn or two. Perhaps the heaviest costs would be entailed in providing a cap over the dam waters to connect the roadway with Ottawa street. That might be a necessity if the Mill Square was to be closed to traffic.

That roadway would open up to use for needed offstreet parking a considerable area in easy access to the Main Street business section.

"What this town needs is a centrepiece," the president of the Historical Society suggested at that recent meeting. The mill and the mall would provide just that while offstreet parking would fill a real need.

How increases are set at Ottawa

If wages in the public sector appear to be over-generous when compared with the private sector perhaps the method used in working out public service wage hikes in Ottawa is at fault. Perhaps you can wade through bureaucratic jargon to comprehend this explanation by the parliamentary secretary to Finance Minister Macdonald.

Said MP Bob Kaplan in answer to questioning in the House:

Certainly I assure the hon. member that the government is well aware that on the part of the public there is considerable concern that wage settlements within the public service should not be a signal to the private sector to increase settlements. They should not increase settlements or set a lead in the rate of wage settlements. However, wage settlements within the public service should be comparable. Certainly public servants should not be made the scapegoat in the battle against inflation. We have no intention of doing that. However, we feel that there are a number of elements in the private sector which have regarded public service settlements as taking a lead. That is not the intention or the policy of the government. On the contrary, we feel that public servants are entitled to comparable wages for comparable work, but settlements within the public sector ought not to set the pace for settlement within the private sector.

To comply with the anti-inflation program, the permissable increase in total compensation for a group for any guideline year is the sum of the following items: first, the basic protection factor, which is a percentage increase, represents the maximum that a group may obtain during the AIB program. This total compensation percentage increase varies from year to year. In the first program year, it is set at eight per cent; in the second year it is set at six per cent maximum; in the third year it is set at four per cent maximum.

Second, the national productivity factor, which is added to the basic protection factor, is equated to an estimated annual increase in the Canadian productivity which is set at two per cent for each year of the program.

Third, the experience adjustment factor results from the previous collective agreement for a group. Movements in the total compensation for that group should compare to the movements in the consumer price index for the same period of time, that is, the length of the previous agreement. The maximum value of the experience adjustment factor is set at two per cent for each year of the program and, in its calculation, may result in a plus or minus two per cent depending on the extent to which the consumer price index has increased compared to total compensation.

Disaster not inevitable

To set the stage for disaster, start with a couple of thousand people. Put them in a hall or theatre. Yell "fire". And watch the panic develop.

It almost never fails. In general, more people are killed by crowding the exits than from fire itself. There have been cases of deaths even though no one received so much as a minor burn.

Humans, you see, have an uncanny ability to inflict more damage on themselves by attempting to avoid disaster than they would normally suffer if the disaster simply ran its course.

And that brings us to economics, a subject with close ties to panic and disaster. More and more Canadians are convinced that the economy is going down the drain. So more and more Canadians, attempting to avert disaster, are panicking, ensuring something unpleasant will take place.

A few months ago, Canada's unemployed exceeded 900,000 for the first time in longer than anyone seems to remember. Figuring that high unemployment signals depression, the country panicked. Retail sales have fallen sharply. Travel is down. Everyone is busy saving rather than spending, hoping to have a nest-egg if their jobs go, too.

In fact, disaster is not inevitable, writes Jim Smith columnist for the Canadian Federation of Independent Business. More unemployment than the government seems willing to admit exists because of generous unemployment insurance and welfare.

There is real unemployment, too; but it is concentrated in certain age groups and regions. However, as the Canadian Federation of Independent Business points out, unemployment is a temporary problem. Canada has the fastest growing labor force in the Western World right now (which explains the unduly high unemployment among the under-25-year-old Canadians). In only a few years, however, growth of the labor force will come to an abrupt slowdown and there will be serious shortages of labor. Our priorities must be in the development of people with skills to meet the coming demand for their labor.

So, although we do have unemployment problems that are not capable of being easily solved in the very short run, there is certainly no reason to panic. Workers with a job in a stable industry now have no reason to lose sleep about security.

There's no reason to be concerned, that is, unless we talk Canada into a recession. Investors in the stock market suffer big losses because they react as a pack, stampeding at the least sign of danger. They "psych" themselves into a bad market. And consumers can psych us all into a recession.

Saving a bit is good; it provides investment capital. Saving too much is bad; it puts Canadians out of work. The rational approach to today's economy is to carry on normal spending habits. If we're not careful, we could find ourselves trapped in the panic, running from the economic fire.

While the iron is hot

(The Prescott Journal)

The pros and cons of Premier William Davis calling an election in Ontario on June 9 were well bandied about on the weekend, and will probably continue to be one of the main issues in the ensuing campaign. As things are shaping up at present, it could be the only issue. Premier Davis would do well now to stop trying to find or invent a logical explanation for calling a June 9 election and just concentrate on what he and his Conservative government plan to do in this province after June 9.

Premier Davis called this election for two reasons. First, his Conservative party is riding the most favorable crest of popularity it has experienced in five years. Second, the NDP and Liberals are lower in the popularity poll than they have ever been.

We expect the big blue machine to steamroller back into power, but we hope the results of the voting are not as overwhelming as they were back in 1970 when they all but annihilated the opposition parties. This allowed for the fat-cat attitude and an almost arrogant disregard for the public, a combination which almost spelled disaster for the Tories in 1975. A government that is too strong is more dangerous than a government that is too weak.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

SUPPORT THE BOARD

Avonmore, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

As a parent and taxpayer I feel it is time for people like myself to speak up regarding the teachers strike.

We are paying the salaries of these teachers out of our pockets. How many of us have jobs with conditions such as the following:

(1) $20,000 a year
(2) day work only
(3) every weekend off
(4) 13 statutory holidays with pay
(5) 10 days Christmas leave with pay
(6) 10 days winter break with pay
(7) 2 months summer holidays with pay
(8) 14 days for teachers development (?) with pay

Sure! maybe they do have to take courses to upgrade themselves; but doesn't nearly everyone if he wants to keep up to date with conditions?

The teachers certainly have plenty of paid time plus to do this. But ask yourself, "How many actually use their time this way?"

Perhaps there is overcrowding in some of the classes, but surely this could have been remedied without the extreme measure which the teachers took.

They say they rejected the work to rule policy, because it hurt the student. Do they really believe their strike isn't hurting the student?

I doubt that the enormous number of unemployed people in the three United Counties will be very eager to give in to the demands of such an elite group as our high school teachers feel themselves to be. If only we could

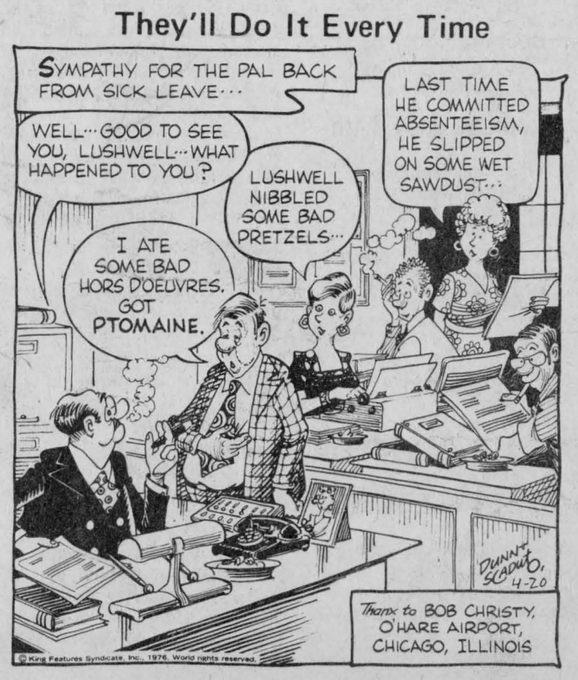
They'll Do It Every Time



WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

by Ed.

May has a sound of uncertainty. And its weather is changeable, too.

WE MISS THE SIREN

The siren isn't sounding anymore and count us among those who miss it. Not because it was a welcome sound; it spelled trouble for someone, somewhere, and that harsh wailing summons grated on the eardrums and on the nerve ends.

It was a sound one hated to wake to out of a deep sleep and yet we don't like the thought we're not to be awakened by the fire siren ever again. We don't like the idea a house in the next block might be hit by fire and we could be totally unaware of the emergency.

Our firemen are now equipped with pagers that keep them always in touch through the wonders of electronics. Beep! beep! goes the pager in a fireman's pocket and he gets word he's wanted at the fire station, pronto. Chief Gerald Charlebois declares the system is working well and the firemen are particularly happy because it has done away with the tailgating that saw a long queue of cars racing dangerously after the fire truck and sometimes impeding the fire fighters at the scene.

We weren't often in that caravan of cars and we can sympathize with the firemen in their desire to be rid of tailgating. But we do miss the siren's soundings and we imagine some of the firemen will also come to mourn its silence in time. That wail stirred the adrenalin and was much more likely to get the firefighter hotfooting it than will today's beep beep.

We'll have to allow this new system of pagers a thorough testing and if it proves as forward a step as the fire chief argues it is, perhaps town council will be well advised to spell out circumstances in which the siren will in future sound. If it is to be used for extraordinary emergencies, that is. Otherwise, its use sporadically could leave we the people panicky when there's no reason for such.

If we're no longer to be alerted by the siren why don't we also outlaw fires.

TWO TYPES OF HOCKEY

Canada may still produce the best hockey players on this earth but that's open to argument depending on what brand of hockey pleases the eye.

This observer of the world hockey scene is left in something of a quandary. Looking back on last year's Canada Cup series he can still thrill to the display of fine hockey furnished by Team Canada. At times our Canadian pros were in a class by themselves, but that doesn't detract from the excellent brand of hockey to which we were treated by the Czechs, the Russians and the Swedes. Their skating is as good or better than our best and the top European teams are way ahead in conditioning, passing and team play generally. Perhaps discipline and training are the factors that produce such fluid passing and unselfish teamwork.

Our Canadian entries haven't got that, and that is understandable in an all-star national team. But even the NHL's best, the Canadiens, are woefully deficient in the kind of team work so well exemplified by the Russians.

A steady diet of their passing game might begin to pall on a fandom that has been brought up on a hitting game. But we'd like to see it tried on this side of the ocean. Anything would be better than the resort to violence and intimidation that failed so dismally in Vienna last week.

"The ugly Canadians" is how our nation is known across Northern Europe and it is our hockey teams that have labelled us with the appellation. Ironical it is that Canada's armed forces earned a proud name for our country and its citizenry because of their bravery and good conduct through two wars. And that has BENDER—In loving memory of our Ronnie and Doris (Cameron) Bender who passed away accidentally May 15, 1976.

In a little country graveyard,
Where the breezes gently blow,
Lie the graves of our loved ones
Who we lost a year ago.
Though their voices are gone forever,
Their visits we miss so much,
We will always have memories
Of the ones we loved so much.
—Sadly missed by Mom and Dad Harold and Margaret, brother and sisters Dwayne, Connie and Carolyn. 19-1p

BENDER—In fond remembrance of Ronnie and Doris (Cameron) Bender who both departed from this land accidentally on May 15, 1976.
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our mind,
For the days we do not think of you,
Are very hard to find.
If all this world were ours to give
We'd give it, yes and more,
To see the faces of Ron and Doris Come smiling through the door.
—Always remembered by sister Marlene, Larry, Lyle and Kelly Feek. 19-1p

"Pick and shovel, mill work, these are jobs with poor working conditions. But these teachers, they have it made. They only work, if you can still call it that, three or four hours a day. They should try my job for a while."

"Tell me," said the reporter, what does one of your hard-working days consist of?"

"Well now," stated the man as he quaffed another draft and adjusted his cap, "first thing is we must be there before 8 o'clock to punch in. Then we head for the smoke room to shoot the breeze with the boys. After the whistle blows and the strawboss, old rubber tongue, comes through, we head for our lockers to change into our work duds. After dressing in our coveralls we saunter down to the office to pick up our work orders for the day. We figure out what tools we might need for the job, go over to the tool crib if we need any special tools and then phone for a truck to get us to the job. Sometimes we have to wait around because the truck is not available, so that means a smoke and a few quick hands of euchre.

"We usually get to the site in time for a preliminary look at the problem. That's about the time things shut down for a break, so back to our shop for a coffee and a few rounds of euchre. After break we go and look the job over again and get started. Now if we need some material we have to send someone down to material stores to get it. If we're in an office then we concentrate on girl watching but most times we bring out the cards. Just as we're set to give 'er all get out, the bell rings to signal clean up time. This is quite a busy time, as everyone wants to be first in the line-up by the punch clock to wait for noon hour. If we can manage to play our cards right, then we've eaten our lunch and the whole noon hour can be spent playing euchre.

"The afternoons are pretty well the same." "Do you mind telling me when you work sir?" asked the reporter. "Oh, I'm not working anymore. I'm a union recreational animator for this district. Boy, do those teachers have it made."

"What on earth is a recreational animator?" queried the reporter. "You don't know? I teach workers how to play euchre so that they will be prepared for leisure and retirement days. I'd like to stay and talk with you more, but it's break-time. Come along. Care for a hand of cribbage? It breaks up my euchre day. Boy, those teachers have it soft."

regarding the tall dark handsome mysterious stranger. Three men, all from Stormont, wrote to deny that 'twas they, four men, from Glengarry, wrote to admit 'twas they and seven ladies 3-2-1 from Glengarry, Stormont and Dundas respectively, wrote to ask for the mysterious stranger's phone number.

MEDIOCRITY IN OFFICE

Montreal, Que.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

The recent observations in your paper, concerning the local teachers' strike, must, with thinking citizens aided by their own direct observation of the conduct of the present native Glengarrians in public affairs, generate critical reflections. The same reflections and observations are relevant whether one considers federal, provincial or municipal affairs or public bodies such as school boards, hospital boards or others.

The thrust in the qualifications required for many appointments or elections to office seems to be a certain comfortable level of mediocrity in the candidate. There are no academic standards to be met similar to those requirements for teachers or other professionals. Anyone will do; and in conformity with the local idea of fairness, the ultimate choice often turns out to be a caricature of capacity. The population will elect or appoint candidates distinguished only by their nonqualifications and unsuitability for any public office. In practice, it seems that the more unsuitable or unqualified a candidate may be, the more likely he is to be successful and repeatedly named. When such officials appear in any quantity on a public body, it is devastated. The public looks on with mild concern, but is likely to be reassured by banalities in the press and soft words of encouragement. When will public office require qualifications other than residence, citizenship or rate paying and other similar qualifications that have no meaning?

Qualifications should be more than having earned a few dollars, or having inherited a few, or because the "old man" held a similar position with an equal disqualification, or having been guilty of some basically unsocial conduct friends and neighbors decide to show the offender that nothing is held against him by electing or appointing him to some public position. Professions have rigid standards and constantly attempts are made to improve them. The intelligence quotient is basic, but let it not be applied to candidates for public positions who may be in a position to do more damage than any careless professional. There is no doubt that most of them "mean well" (a popular local expression meaning they don't do well); their intentions and often their efforts are honorable and abundant. But what is the remedy for limited brain power and limited training? Why should so many Glengarrians have contempt or mistrust for ability and instruction?

I would venture to say that there would be little likelihood of a teachers' strike if the school board generally had a fraction of the qualifications of the teachers whose functions they pretend to direct. The remedy is elusive and I can't give the answer, but every member of the population should seek it with diligence. Those presently in office, if they have a job too difficult for them, should resign. But how often does this happen? All modesty is lost with some insignificant appointment and the helpless incumbent too often expends his energies in defence of his conduct and not in the solution of the problems.

This letter is not meant to be disruptive nor unfairly critical, but is only an attempt to generate local criticism and in some cases a philosophic as well as a practical approach to immediate dilemmas in public affairs.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, May 3rd, 1907

The building fund of the new French Church to be shortly erected in Alexandria, is growing apace. A Glengarry boy, John McMartin, of Cornwall, has subscribed the magnificent sum of $10,000.—A railway accident at the local crossing resulted in the death of John St. John, Main Street South, on Friday morning of last week. Mr. St. John was returning from a trip to the 4th Kenyon that morning and had given a ride to Madame Campeau, who was walking to town. A freight train had just passed the crossing when the St. John buggy reached the rails and was struck by the eastbound passenger train. The occupants were hurled more than fifty feet, Mr. St. John receiving critical injuries that resulted in his death the same day. Madame Campeau is expected to recover.—J. B. Mulhern has installed pianos, within the past few days, in the residences of Nap. Proulx, H. Maville, O. Layland, A. J. McDonald, Dalhousie Station.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
Friday, May 7th, 1897

At the regular council meeting for the month of May the tramp nuisance was taken up and it was decided that all tramps found within the town be made to break a quantity of stone for their keep. —The Reeve was authorized to close a bargain with Messrs. Miller & Campbell for 60 feet frontage of their lot next to A. Lalonde's shop for $400 or to offer $600 for the whole lot. This will be site of the fire station.—Along the Military Road, between Alexandria and the Brown House, Sandfield Corners, a number of farmers are removing the old cedar fences and replacing them with wire fences.

been badly besmirched by the violence Canadian hockey teams have used as a weapon in world play.

Alan Eagleson be damned! Let's call a halt to participation in world hockey play until we have re-learned the game. Until we have removed the butt-ending, the spearing, boarding and fighting, our hockey teams will disgrace the nation every time they take part in international hockey.

Until we remove the violence from our hockey there can be no possibility of declaring a true world champion team. The game we play in North America bears little resemblance to the hockey Europeans enjoy.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

"All hail the Moose"—John Wensink. Another great chapter in the annals of Glengarry's lengthy and illustrious sport history was recorded for posterity in the Montreal Forum, Saturday night. Using a hockey stick instead of a pen this feat was authored by Boston Bruins' "rookie" winger, the farm boy from Maxville-Dominionville, John Wensink.

That Boston lost the game 7—3, and possibly the series, has no bearing on John Wensink's achievement. The real significance of the game and series, to all Glengarrians, is the fact that a graduate of our minor hockey system was playing, and in a creditable way, in the 1976-77 National Hockey League Stanley Cup final.

Thus John Wensink hit the ultimate ambition of every Canadian minor hockey player. Some day to play in the NHL and a Stanley Cup series. That dream became a reality to the "Moose" on Saturday night.

Many News readers, especially Glengarrians in Western Canada, will be wondering why John Wensink was tagged "The Moose." After all John is no "Ching" Johnson of the old NY Rangers or a Moose Heffernan. However, pound for pound, John is as rugged as any of the bruisers in the NHL. In his Major Junior "A" apprenticeship with Cornwall Royals, Coach Orval Tessier used Wensink consistently as the team's policeman. During a Cornwall at home game a young Royal was vigorously bounced around by a visiting opponent. This prompted a leather lunged fan to bellow, "Tessier, put the Moose on." This became the fans' battle cry all the way to the Memorial Cup championship.

John Wensink is shouldering a formidable task while endeavoring to follow in the footsteps of his two Glengarry predecessors in the top bracket of professional hockey. The first to play in what is now the National Hockey League was Ranald "Ran" MacDonald, from down Williamstown way, who patrolled a wing with the Portland Rosebuds in the Pacific Coast Hockey League. In those pioneer days there were two sections vieing for the Stanley Cup. Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto here in the East and the Pacific Coast League centred around Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and Portland. Ran MacDonald, the famed "Cyclone" Taylor once told us, was a hard-checking forward and a prolific scorer.

The second native son, Williamstown's Dr. J. A. "Paddy" Sullivan, was a skilled playmaker and scorer with and against many of the NHL greats. When the Pittsburg Yellow Jackets moved into the first notable NHL expansion as the Pirates, Paddy Sullivan was in his University of Pittsburg graduation year so obviously he was forced to wait a year. Incidentally, Odie Cleghorn, a brother of the battling Sprague Cleghorn, was Pittsburg's coach and he was the first mentor to use three forward lines in the NHL. Ample evidence that Glengarrians MacDonald and Sullivan rated among the greats of the NHL in any era.

Possibly it is asking too much of John Wensink to be another Ran MacDonald or Paddy Sullivan. However, we all know that John Wensink will always give his best effort. He has been doing so since he laced on his first pair of skates. To have skated from an ice patch on the Wensink farm all the way to Boston Gardens, the Montreal Forum and play with the Bruins against possibly the greatest hockey machine of all time, the current Canadiens, in quest of the legendary Stanley Cup is an athletic achievement that must not be taken lightly. Hence, this writer anticipates that the sport fans in the Indian Lands, in a few weeks, will hold a reception and testimonial sportsman's dinner honoring John Wensink that will top all testimonial dinners since Ralph Connor settled in Winnipeg after bidding adieu to St. Elmo.

HITHER AND YON

Each year while we watch the historic Kentucky Derby we remember a venerable, sightless, elderly lady in St. Joseph's Villa, Cornwall,—Miss Isabell MacDonald. "Aunt Bell," as she is affectionately known, was a former resident of St. Raphael's. Via radio a stout fan of that once great Canadian horse Northern Dancer. Well, Aunt Bell, this year's winner, Seattle Slew is a fine runner; however, we don't think he will prove superior to your one time favorite Northern Dancer.

From our retirement observation post we were delighted with the success of the Glengarry News Cup play-offs. Large crowds throughout confirm two factors. Interesting play and money at the box office. You can't succeed without this combination. On that basis we think the organizing of a Glengarry hockey loop come next season would be a popular and profitable venture. With the completion of the Maxville and District arena by that time coupled with Alexandria and Williamstown rinks the county would be well covered and scores of fans supporting their respective area teams. The success of any league depends on leadership. Should such a proposed league materialize an ironclad constitution is a must. A budding legal advisor like Larry Filion could well be an ideal guiding commissioner. A worthwhile honorarium should not be a financial burden.

Memo to Maurice Lemieux . . . your suggestion of a lacrosse Hall of Fame is ideal . . . but the Old Mill, Mill Square, would entail prohibitive costs . . . bide your time, Maurice, a Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame is in the offing . . . one that will embody every phase of athletics beginning with our distinguished pioneers and right down the line.

Duncan Macdonell tells us that this year's guest speaker at the Lions Club Sportsmen's Dinner and Awards Night will be Brian MacFarlane of Hockey Night In Canada . . . to excel over last year's dinner will be no easy effort . . . be assured chairman Dunc and his colleagues will go one better.

Finally, don't forget that gallant rural athletic organization at Laggan and their fund raising Guy Lombardo dance in Maxville, June 2nd . . . tickets still available . . . more details of their worthy achievements and objectives shortly.

St. Lawrence parks open on weekend

All the recreational facilities of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission are seeing a last minute flurry of activity in preparation for opening day, May 15.

Upper Canada Village, just east of Morrisburg, offers visitors a view of pioneer life in early Eastern Ontario. This living museum comprises some thirty-five buildings and their contents which have been painstakingly restored. Crafts and demonstrations, from spinning and weaving to blacksmithing and cheesemaking, bring history alive for thousands of tourists every year.

Old Fort Henry, in Kingston, recalls the same early 1800's period as the Village. The Fort Henry Guard performs precision drills with authentic uniforms and equipment of 1867 as part of a daily routine. In addition, a spectacular Retreat Ceremony takes place during July and August on Wednesday and Saturday evenings. The Fife, and Drum Corps brings a lively air to the old stone Fort, transporting spectators back to a colorful and exciting period of Canadian history.

The Parks Commission is opening its 14 major campgrounds, from the Bay of Quinte to the Quebec border, for camping enthusiasts from across the country. More than 2,500 tent and trailer sites are available on over 7,000 acres of Commission lands along the St. Lawrence River. These modern campgrounds offer a variety of riverside tranquility and recreation, with supervised sandy beaches for swimming and boating. Lush picnic areas, Nature Trails and riding facilities are conveniently nearby.

Most parks will be open to the public on Friday, May 13 to take advantage of the fine Spring weather for an early weekend of camping.

Upper Canada Village ~ the gentle authentic rhythms of our riverside beginnings.

Upper Canada Village invites you back to life along the river where Canada began, where Loyalists first tilled the soil, milled their grain, and the air was filled with the clang and clamour of the blacksmith's hammer, the clatter of the stagecoach, the shuttle of the loom, the sweet smell of fresh-baked bread, the scent of hand-dipped candles cooling in the summer kitchen. Just as it was, so it is again, and open mid-May to mid-October. Be sure to visit the beautiful St. Lawrence Parks and historic Old Fort Henry. Former Avonmore resident died Relatives, neighbors and friends throughout the district were saddened by the death of Arnold Edward Angus Bethune, 41 Frost Avenue, Long Sault, who passed away on Saturday, April 30th, in the Kingston General Hospital. Seriously ill for the past three months, Mr. Bethune, an employee of the Township of Cornwall, was well known as an employee at the Long Sault arena and shared his enthusiasm for sports with young and old alike.

Born in Avonmore, 45 years ago last August 3rd, Mr. Bethune was the oldest in the family of the late Allie Bethune and Mrs. Bethune, the former Bertha MacIntosh. He was educated at the Fourth Concession of Roxborough Public School and the Avonmore High School.

A former employee of Domtar Fine Papers Ltd. and TCF of Canada Ltd., Mr. Bethune in more recent years had been a faithful employee of the Township of Cornwall.

He was a member of Avonmore Lodge, LOL, No. 3217.

On Dec. 4, 1954, Mr. Bethune married Lois Dawn Ray, who predeceased her husband on Dec. 8, 1974.

Left to mourn his passing are his mother, Mrs. Bertha Bethune, Avonmore; two daughters, Mrs. Mario Vien (Patricia), Cornwall and Miss Lori Bethune, Long Sault; two sons, Lee and David Bethune, also of Long Sault; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Aikman (Norma), Morrisburg, and Mrs. Larry Seguin (Jean), Toronto, one brother, Irwin Bethune, of Cornwall, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The body rested at the McArthur Bros. and MacNeil Ltd. Funeral Home, Cornwall, where many called to pay their respects and to extend sympathy to members of the sorrowing family.

The funeral service was held in the Chapel on Tuesday afternoon, May 3rd, conducted by Rev. Peter Durrett, rector of the Long Sault Anglican Church.

Soloist was Mrs. E. M. Miller, Cornwall, who sang "Will the Circle be Unbroken?"

Pallbearers were Stirling Lang, William Rae, George Gowsell, Jack Crawford, John Bies and Herb Flaro.

Interment was made in the family plot at Paul's Hill Cemetery, Avonmore.

At the graveside, brethren of the Loyal Orange Order, under the leadership of Lyman Crawford, county master, conducted a memorial service.

Relatives and friends attended from Toronto, Ottawa, Morrisburg, Williamsburg, Long Sault, Avonmore and surrounding communities.

In additon to the many beautiful floral tributes that surrounded the casket, many friends made memorial gifts to the Canadian Cancer Society.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Each week I look forward to reading the Glengarry News for many reasons. Uppermost of these is to keep abreast of the activities in the area. While I am not as yet a resident of Glengarry, I intend to be in the near future.

I often wonder if Glengarrians fully appreciate what they have going for them. I have been a regular visitor to the area for some 45 years; the countryside is impressively beautiful, particularly where an older home sits among the cedar and pine tree covered hills. It is a shame, however, to see the concessions strewn with beer bottles and other garbage, also the seemingly uncontrolled expansion of mobile homes. If this is not constrained, beautiful Glengarry will eventually look like upper New York State. Those of your readers who have not visited that area lately should make it a point to do so, perhaps this would encourage a stronger representation to local administrations to establish proper building and zoning by-laws before it is too late.

On page 16 of the March 31st issue of "The News" in the article on "Land Use Discussions" Glengarry Local 323 of the NFU and Mrs. O'Neill have pretty well called it as it is. Unless some constraint is exercised, Glengarry will become a typical example of land rape. Land prices have indeed soared beyond its true productive value. Farms are vitally needed now and will be critically needed in the future; it is criminal to see the land going to the speculators who will keep the price high and out of reach of most people who have farming ambitions. A means to keep them on the farm must be formulated. Increased subsidies, exempted taxes—better improvement loans —whatever, my plea to Glengarrians is to put a stop to the destruction of productive land and keep the area rural above all else.

One last comment. I am interested in doing something to restore and preserve some of the local graveyards, I would be willing to contribute time and material (within my budget) to do this; perhaps some of your readers would comment on this. I hesitate to start this on my own without prior permission from some authority; however, whom do I contact?

I have seen gravestones in fields, totally uncared for and although I would dearly love to clear out the brush around them and repair where required, I feel that I may be intruding. Considerable Canadian history is buried in the area and it is unfortunate that not only lack of care will eventually destroy these records, but those buried surely deserved better remembrance.

WHY NOT GERMAN?

Lancaster, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Further to Concerned Canadian's letter:

I wonder what gives Mr. Spicer the idea that the French-speaking people are a down-trodden race. The opportunities are here for anyone who has ambition to take advantage of them. To my way of thinking the races in Ontario are neck and neck, with, perhaps, the French people leading. Why do they wish to make people feel sorry for them? Just an act for anyone who is silly enough to believe it.

How about everyone forgetting about English and French and make our official language German. Fair enough—no one could feel slighted then. It wouldn't be any harder than the metric system to learn. Some of us can still remember when it was taught in the High schools.

A not-taking-sides Canadian

P.S. For those to whom it means so much they can always fill in the vacancies in Quebec left by Anglophones.

Glen Sandfield

Mrs. Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Sincere sympathy to the Lewis Fraser family and to the rest of the relatives in their recent bereavement in the passing of Roddy MacKenzie at Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge, Cornwall. Miss Alice Fraser officiated at the funeral which was held Saturday at Kirk Hill United Church. He was laid to rest at Kirk Hill.

UCW DISCUSS SINCLAIR CHALLENGE

The United Church Women of Glen Sandfield met Wednesday, May 4th, for an evening meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. MacLennan. There were 12 ladies present. Our president, Mrs. A. MacRae, opened with a prayer reading called "Make me aware of people." The theme taken from the readings and meditation was "Mother's Day." Reading were Mrs. A. MacMillan, Mrs. G. MacRae, Mrs. D. MacDougall, Mrs. S. Nixon, and Mrs. C. MacDonald. Hymn 330, Love Divine, was sung, with Mrs. A. MacLennan at the piano.

A poem in the form of a "Mother's prayer," asked "Why am I so anxious?" read by the president. Mandate magazines had come and were passed around to all. January's issue had a letter written by Gordon Sinclair asking for responses from readers. Well he got some very emphatic letters. We read them and gave our own comments on his January article. I don't believe we have ever had so lively a discussion, and so eagerly joined in by everyone. We may not like Mr. Sinclair's views, but he does make one think. He speaks right up and takes a Christian to task, and makes each one state their beliefs and why. We may not agree with his words, but as one man once said, I'd defend his right to say them. One finds it hard to sleep with a thorn in your side, and he is a thorn, and so has his place in society. It was a most interesting debate and time flew.

The business portion opened with the repeating of the members' purpose, followed by the treasurer's report, given by treasurer, Mrs. A. MacLennan.

Mrs. A. MacRae told us of the upcoming event July 15, 16 and 17th, which is to be held this year in Lennoxville at Bishop's University. More details to follow.

She read a letter from Rev. Burgess in Angola concerning things required for a bale. Plans are in the formative stage for this. The July visit is to be a Manor visit.

A suggestion that the hall in Glen Sandfield be used for the showing of a film strip on the work of the St. John Ambulance Corps instead of the regular August meeting met with everyone's approval.

The June meeting is to be held in the evening at the home of Mrs. Lloyd MacLennan and is to feature slides of the missionary work on the Ivory Coast by Sister Menard. A report of the manse committee meeting was given by Mrs. S. Nixon and Mrs. A. MacMillan.

Members felt this was one of the most thought-provoking meetings we had ever attended.

HELPING HAND—The Alexandria Lions, represented by Lorne Lawson, left, donated $500 to the Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded last week at Harmony Glen School. Receiving the donation is Association President Marius Pynenburg, centre, and Second Vice-President Zoe Grant. The Lions have also promised that any funds raised from their annual Sports Awards Banquet on June 13th will also be donated to the same association. —Staff photo

Selling cookies

16,800 boxes of Girl Guide cookies are being sold and delivered in the Cornwall area this week. It is the Annual Girl Guide cookies sale, co-ordinated by Mrs. Miriam Wheeler.

Cost of a box of cookies is 75c and cost of a carton of twelve is $9. Much of the profit of the cookies sales directly benefits the girls' unit and is used to buy materials, supplies and badges. Other uses of the money are maintaining and equipping campsites as well as providing training clinics, workshops and conferences.

Past experience has proven that the cookies are very popular with youngsters, freeze well and are excellent to take along on a summer outing.

Ontario will help employers pay the salaries of youth hired for the summer months.
Here's how the program works.
If you operate a business or farm and create a new position for the summer, the Ontario Youth Employment Program will give you a grant of $1 per hour toward the wages of an unemployed youth you hire for the job.
As a matter of fact, grants are available for up to six new positions per business or farm for each operational site, and you may hire any unemployed youth between the ages of 15 and 24 who lives in Ontario and is eligible to work here.
The program will be in effect from May 30th to September 16th, 1977, but the full 16 week commitment is not required.
Employer application forms for the Ontario Youth Employment Program are available through your local Canada Manpower Centres and, because grant funds are limited, should be submitted as soon as possible.

Big saving effected in streets program

Alexandria has been saved a total of $97,769 in road construction and engineering costs over the last four years, according to a report presented to council's Public Works committee by Town Engineer Ghislain E. Seguin. The saving has been effected by Town Roads Superintendent Jean-Guy Levert who has had charge of the work without using the services of outside contractors.

Mr. Seguin's report notes in part:

"Since 1973 and up to the present, the Town reconstructed a few streets every year and carried out the work properly by providing a proper granular base and constructing concrete curbs and replacing sidewalks. During the years 1973, 1974, 1975 and 1976 the actual road construction cost amounted to $265,787.00, and the Town paid $18,540.00 in engineering fees. During those four years all streets were constructed by Town Superintendent Jean-Guy Levert, and in our opinion, the Town of Alexandria has saved approximately $66,448 in construction cost within those four years.

"In those four years, if detailed plans and specifications had been prepared by us and if public tenders had been called and work had been executed by an outside contractor, construction cost would have amounted to approximately $332,235. Engineering cost at 15% would have cost $48,835 compared to $18,514 that was actually paid to us. We feel that the Town of Alexandria has saved $31,321 in engineering fees over these four years."

In a review of street reconstruction in town since 1966, the town engineer recalls that in that year the construction of Bishop, Victoria West, Harrison, Sinclair, Elgin, St. George and Kincardine was completed at a construction cost of $232,507. In 1972 a major resurfacing program was carried out and all remaining gravel roads in Alexandria were paved and the worst streets were resurfaced. No roads were excavated that year, nor curbs or sidewalks constructed.

Then followed the four-year program under Roads Superintendent Jean-Guy Levert which cost $265,787 and in which a big saving was effected, in the opinion of Mr. Seguin.

by Jane Wightman

Yellow and white daisies were everywhere and red tulips enhanced their daintiness and beauty in the tea room of Alexander Hall, Saturday, April 30, when the Glengarry Memorial Hospital Auxiliary sponsored the Country Garden Tea.

And a country garden it certainly was! For massive gingham flowers and butterflies designed by Mrs. Ernie Gallant graced the walls around and about hanging greenery plants.

Yellow mums adorned the stage. From a central chandelier of the tea room was suspended a large arrangement of artificial nasturtiums and spring flowers. White and gold cloths covered individual tea tables centred with a vase of spring flowers.

Mrs. Howard Armstrong, tea convener, received a very large attendance of guests at the door with President Mrs. Bert Laflamme and Mrs. Archie MacRae. The tea was officially opened by President Laflamme.

Mrs. Joanne McLean, Maxville, was the winner of the Country Garden quilt drawn by Ranald MacDonald, chairman of the hospital board. Mrs. Callum MacGillivray, Alexandria, won the door prize, the tea table floral centrepiece, drawn by Dr. Laszlo Roman.

The tea room was convened by Mrs. Arcade Trottier assisted by Mrs. Aurele Lajoie, Mrs. Exile Trottier, Mrs. Laurea Decoste, Mrs. Artel Poirier, Mrs. Ranald MacDonald, Mrs. George Dumouchel, Mrs. Rene Roy and Mrs. Jean Yves Jeaurond. Oldest fair plans 1977 exhibition

The Board of Directors of the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society which sponsors the Williamstown Fair have been meeting regularly to plan this year's exhibition, to be held August 5th, 6th and 7th.

Plans are underway for renovations on the grounds and to give fences, etc., a fresh coat of paint. New benches are being made for relaxing on the grounds.

The prize list has been revised and over $10,000 will be offered this year for competitions.

The entertainment committee, headed by Hugh Blair, has a few surprises in store for visitors. This year we will feature a "Bed Race" on Sunday, Aug. 7th. This event is sponsored by the Char-Lan Junior Farmers, and should prove very exciting, as well as a wealth of laughs. Trophies will be given the winners. Along with this event, we are planning the mutt show, baby contest, goat show, children's parade, mini-olympics and bike rodeo, Saturday night dance, antique car display and Highland dancing competition. The midway is under contract for this year and the horse show, 4-H show, and cattle competition is organized. A large machinery display is expected.

Gary Silver, young Montreal magician, will perform again this year on both days, along with Jim Nixon of Vankleek Hill, organist. Sylvester MacDonald's County Clansmen will provide music for the big Saturday evening dance. It is hoped that on Sunday, we will bring you a tug-o-war, and the baseball tournament. Sunday also features the Arts and Crafts show and sale.

The Show Hall this year, as in the past, will present fine competition in the arts of sewing, cooking, gardening, crafts, cheesemaking, etc. The lady directors have been busy preparing a new prize list. Macrame classes have been expanded because of the popularity of this craft; and batik, string art and decoupage classes are added. There has been more emphasis placed on the older, finer arts including "drawn work." A complete new class of "lace-making" tatting and bobbin lace has been added. This year will feature a Senior Citizens Special Class, and Novice (beginners in the last year) classes in knitting, crocheting, embroidery, quilting and sewing, in the hopes that everyone can compete in the craft of his or her choice.

A photography and art competition will be held again this year, and will be displayed at the Nor'Westers Museum, near the fair grounds. The art class has been enlarged to accommodate the various mediums and interests of the exhibitors.

New agricultural features to be held on Sunday, Aug. 7th are the poultry and rabbit shows. The poultry show will include exotic birds.

The society will also sponsor an English horse show on June 4th and 5th, and an all Arabian horse show on June 12th. This is the first all Arabian show to be held in this area.

St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society President this year is Oliver McGee, Glen Walter and Secretary is Ruth D. Mowat, Williamstown.

PROMISING VOCALISTS — Maria Payer, right, and Heather Pasco, left, sang "Bedtime" at a concert held in Williamstown Public School for Education Week.

Had daffodil tea and meet

The April meeting of the St. Andrew's United Church Women's Group, Bainsville, met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd McRae, in the form of a daffodil tea. Seventeen members and five visitors were present. We were honored by having Lloyd MacDonald, Education Minister for the Eastern District of the Cancer Society, speak to us. He informed us that the organization was formed 39 years ago, at the request of the Canadian Medical Society, in order to train people to go to a doctor in time for help. Mr. MacDonald is now a retired school teacher and would be pleased to go to groups with his message. There was a question and answer period and great stress was placed on the dangers of smoking.

A short business meeting was conducted. Cards were signed and sent to our sick and shut-ins. A social half hour was spent over a delicious cup of tea.

Cadillac 75 Years of Automotive Excellence

When the Cadillac Motor Car Division produced its first 1977 model automobile, a light blue Coupe de Ville, on August 10, 1976, it triggered the beginning of yet another historic milestone in its world-renowned career — its 75th anniversary year.

The Cadillac Automobile Company began operations in Detroit late in 1902, under the guidance of founder Henry M. Leland, a machinist and tool designer dedicated to quality manufacturing. Named for the French explorer who first settled Detroit, only three Cadillac automobiles were produced during the fledgling year.

The following years brought great emphasis on interchangeability of parts and a manufacturing concept known as mass production. Cadillac built 2,500 of its 1903 single cylinder "Model A" cars. Each was rated at a staggering, by turn-of-the-century standards, five horsepower. These early Cadillacs tipped the scales at 1,100 pounds and sold for $750.

It was 1909 when Cadillac became part of a young and growing General Motors Corporation.

In the 75 years since that first Cadillac was hand assembled in a small Detroit factory, the name Cadillac has become synonymous with excellence.

Cadillac has been responsible for many automotive "firsts" during its history. Some of the more prominent are: first to achieve interchangeability through standardization of parts, awarded Dewar Trophy (1908); first to offer closed bodies as standard equipment (1910); first to equip cars with electric starting, lighting, ignition, for which Cadillac was again awarded the Dewar Trophy;first and only car to win this award twice (1912); first to use V-type, 8-cylinder engine in a production-built car (1914); first to use safety glass as standard equipment (1928); first to provide power steering as standard equipment (1954); first automatically releasing parking brake (1960); first cornering light (1962); first fully-automatic year-round air conditioning and heating system (1964); and, first to introduce a front bumper-grille assembly which retracts as a single unit upon impact (1973).

The many faces of Cadillac have changed considerably over the years, and Mr. Leland wouldn't recognize the facility if he were to visit it today.

Cadillac has always been located within the city limits of Detroit, and is the oldest automobile manufacturer within the motor city.

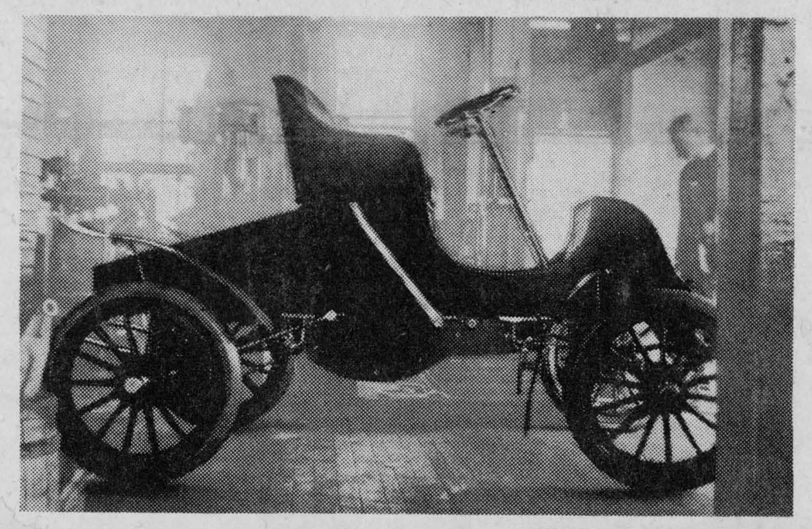
The main plant on Clark Avenue, encompasses 106 acres with 62 buildings providing more than five million square feet of floor space. More than 4,000 machines and 15 miles of conveyor systems assist the modern Cadillac craftsmen and women in the production of just over 70 cars per hour on two separate assembly lines, two shifts each day. At this rate, what took Mr. Leland and his first craftsmen one year to assemble is now completed in less than three minutes.

What might impress Mr. Leland most is the fact that Cadillac employs almost 11,000 people at the Detroit facilities, utilizing the most sophisticated techniques in design, engineering, manufacturing, computer technology, and industrial engineering to ensure the quality of craftsmanship and accuracy which Mr. Leland began in 1902.

Cadillac achieved a production milestone in early February, 1977, when the six millionth Cadillac rolled off the line. The milestone car was a Georgian Silver Seville destined for California where this model accounts for a third of all Cadillac sales. It took 47 years, from 1902 to 1949, to produce the first million Cadillacs yet only 3½ years to build the latest million.

While facilities, operations and people have changed in Cadillac's 75 years, the concepts of precision and quality have never been compromised.

1977 COUPE de VILLE



1902 MODEL "A" ROADSTER

The Cadillac tradition began with the Model "A" Roadster. The first Cadillac to be built, shown above, was completed on October 20, 1902. This automobile, with a 76 inch wheelbase, was powered by a one cylinder, 10 horsepower engine at speeds from five to 25 miles per hour. Compare it to the 1977 Cadillac Coupe de Ville which is powered by a 425 cubic inch displacement (seven litre) V-8 engine combined with a Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission and with a wheelbase of 121.5 inches.

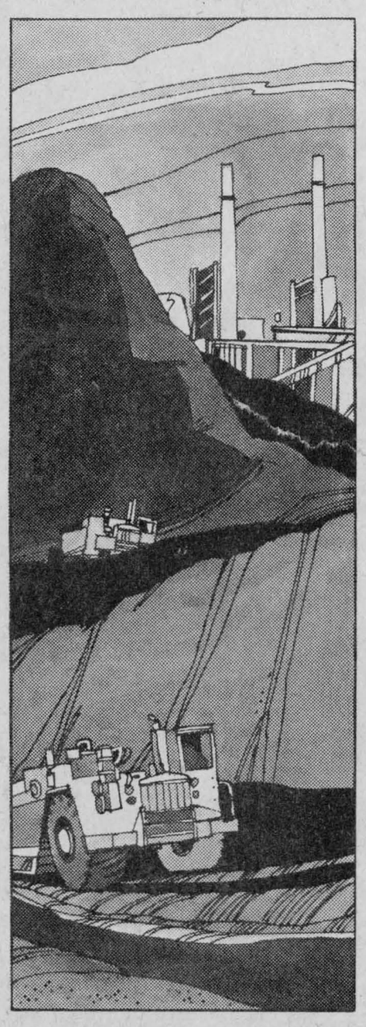
Save electricity, save natural resources.



About a third of Ontario's electricity is generated by burning fossil fuels... coal, oil, natural gas. The price of all these natural resources is increasing rapidly. The price of coal, for example, has tripled over the last five years. Higher fuel costs inevitably show up in the price you pay for electricity.

Save electricity, and you'll save money. You'll also be helping to conserve dwindling natural resources for other important uses... transportation, agriculture, chemicals.
