Local Horsemen Show Well At Williamstown

The fall horse show of the Alexandria Horsemen's Association is being held Sunday on the Alexandria park when local officials expect more than 100 horsemen will be taking part.

Local horse enthusiasts showed well at Williamstown Fair last Saturday taking home some 30 ribbons.

Helen Charlebois won two line classes with mare and colt and John Clingen had two third-place finishes.

Mr. and Mrs. David Whitham of Centennial Farms, 4th Kenyon, had 14 entries and won 24 ribbons to earn top points of any group.

Optimist Club Plans

In order to raise funds for boys' work, the directors of the Charlottenburgh-Lancaster Optimist Club have decided to run a $500 bond draw on a quarterly basis.

The directors also agreed to sponsor a travelling Ontario Minor Hockey Association bantam team this winter and laid plans for the development of a recreation centre in Charlottenburgh Township. The latter would be the focal point for smaller centres in the surrounding area of the township and Lancaster.

President Don Kannon reports that the Optimist Club directors also discussed final plans for the organization's charter banquet which will be held Oct. 3 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Glen Walter.

Record Crowd At Williamstown Saturday Saw 'Best Ever' Fair In Long History

The sun smiled on Williamstown Fair Grounds, Saturday, as one of the largest crowds in the 158-year history of the fair witnessed what officials described as the "best ever" event in memory.

The attendance was unusually large and so were the entries in cattle classes, the light horse show, 4-H competitions, the show hall and other sections of the fair.

CBC sports announcer Gordon Atkinson of Montreal, officially opened the Fair early Saturday afternoon. In spite of changing times, he suggested, farm people remain the foundation and reason for being of much of the rest of the national community. Mr. Atkinson was introduced by Mac Edwards, a fair board vice-president, and his daughter Jennifer presented a corsage to Mrs. Atkinson. President of the board Clark McCuaig presented a large painting to the guest speaker as a memento.

Other speakers included Reeve Adrian Gadbois, Osie Villeneuve, MPP, Warden Alex McNaughton, Glengarry Dairy Princess Nancy Vallance of Maxville.

Duncan Grant, first vice-president of the sponsoring St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society, presented a certificate of merit to Clinton Murray of Martintown, a past president of the Society.

There were 155 entries in the big black and white show with placings spread among breeders from every section of the county. Grand champion was Charles Naylor's Cindy Rockman with Helga Rag Apple, owned by Gerard Smits, as runner-up.

Naylor entries won both the best uddered class and the breeder's herd class, Clark McCuaig the progeny of dam class, and in the special prize category Gerard Smits had the Naylor Trophy for the two best-uddered females. Denny Van Loon of Greenfield, had the cow with the highest total lifetime production. The cow with the highest composite breed class average was also shown by Van Loon.

In Ayrshire classes Alex Robertson, Martintown, showed the senior and grand champion cow, Springbrae Melody Two, as well as the grand champion bull Melody Acres Friendly. Reserve bull was shown by R. M. Roy, Bainsville and Neil Sangster had the reserve senior champion cow.

Robertson had the breeder's herd and best get of sire; Neil Sangster the progeny of dam; R. M. Roy the highest total lifetime production prize and the highest composite breed class average award.

Champion 4-H club showman was Kathy Munroe of Maxville who accepted the Alexandria Lions Club shield from Dairy Princess Nancy Vallance. Donald MacLeod of Dalkeith was runner-up.

In the calf competitions Donna Smits of Lancaster showed the top Holstein, with Harold Howes, Dalkeith, second. In Ayrshires, Charlene Blaney of Maxville, and Brenda Denovan, Dalkeith. Sammy McLeod, Martintown, trailed Eric Groves, Apple Hill, in top beef calf class.

The light horse show drew more than 100 entries from a wide area and was a major attraction of the Fair. The Ontario Government is making a documentary film for Eastern Ontario and the entire open jumping class was caught by the cameras.

Show hall classes were well filled and Robert McDonell, secretary-manager of the fair, reports the cheese show was the best outside Toronto's CNE in the opinion of the judges. It had 44 entries from almost all counties in Eastern Ontario.

A honey display by Lionel Levac of Green Valley was noteworthy. Reuben Ross of Lancaster had a display of model farm machinery and Russell B. Major of Williamstown a special display of which a particularly eye-catching feature was a collection of model insects, made from metal and many times life size.

Bainsville Women's Institute won the McArthur Trophy with a display on a Hallowe'en theme.

The outside of the show hall was painted this year for the first time in many years. New shelf space and screens provided considerably more room for displays and exhibits.

Maxville Native Honored At Texas Meeting

Joseph H. St. Louis, administrator of the Vincennes Manor Nursing Home, the largest proprietary nursing home in Illinois, was advanced to Fellowship Status in the American College of Hospital administrators on Sunday, Sept. 13, at a convocation ceremony held in the Houston, Texas, Astroworld Hotel.

The announcement was made by Arnold L. Swanson, MD, of London, Ontario, and president of the ACHA, a professional society comprised of more than 9,000 of the leading hospital and health-care administrative personnel in the United States and Canada. Dr. Swanson presided at the ACHA's 36th Annual Convocation.

The ceremony marked the opening of the College's annual meeting traditionally held in conjunction with the convention of the American Hospital Association.

Lab Technician For Hospital Here From England

Glengarry Memorial Hospital has a new chief laboratory technician and he comes from England where he has been a member of the British Armed Forces for the past nine years.

D. N. Fraser arrived Tuesday from England and he will be joined here later by his wife and two children.

Qualified technicians are in short supply in Canada, reports Hospital Administrator Jerry Adams and as a result the search was extended overseas through Canada Manpower. Mr. Fraser has been employed in laboratory work in the British services and comes well qualified for the post, reports Mr. Adams.

Another change in staff will see John D. McRae of St. Raphael's, retiring from the post of stores keeper he has held since the hospital was built. John Shago of Green Valley, will take over the post at year's end after taking a two-months course.

Mrs. L. Cuthbert Died Suddenly

A heart attack Sunday, on the eve of her removal to reside in Alexandria, brought death early Tuesday to Mrs. Leonard Cuthbert of Eigg Road. Mrs. Cuthbert died in Glengarry Memorial Hospital at the age of 61.

Born at Lochiel, Mrs. Cuthbert was the former Gertrude Morris, a daughter of the late John M. Morris and his wife, Catherine Caine. She attended the local school and Alexandria High School and following her marriage to Leonard Cuthbert came to reside on Eigg Road. She had since been active in St. Finnan's parish organizations. Mrs. Cuthbert had recently sold her farm and was in the process of moving to Alexandria when taken ill.

To mourn she leaves her daughter Dianne, at home, one brother Clifford Morris of Nakusp, BC, and three sisters. They are Miss Mary Morris, Alexandria; Oswald, Mrs. Hugh MacDonell, Dalkeith and Beatrice, Mrs. Norman Fletcher of Oakville.

The funeral was held this Thursday morning to St. Finnan's Cathedral and cemetery.

Receives M.Ed. Degree

Mrs. Hubert Kennedy, the former Pauline Decaire, recently received a Master's Degree in Education from the University of Ottawa. Mrs. Kennedy is a graduate of Iona Academy, Carleton University and a former teacher at Maxville High School and St. Lawrence High School in Cornwall. She is presently employed at Champlain High School, Ottawa.

Died At Sudbury

Cpl. Bernard Polnicky of the OPP, who served at Lancaster for two years before being transferred to Sudbury, died suddenly Tuesday night in that city.

A veteran of 25 years of service in the OPP, Cpl. Polnicky replaced Cpl. John Trudel at Lancaster. Mr. Trudel is now an inspector with the OPP at Ottawa.

Cpl. Polnicky also served at Hawkesbury.

Lancaster Area Fishermen See Little Benefit From Loans Plan

Skepticism and cynicism are the best words to describe local response to a provincial announcement Friday that loans would be made available to commercial fishermen in all parts of Ontario affected by a fishing ban due to mercury contamination.

"It's not going to do much good," said commercial fisherman Oscar Laframboise, 56, of South Lancaster, to a Standard-Freeholder reporter.

"We haven't drawn five cents yet in the four months since the ban and what they've given us — $83 in welfare payments every two weeks for a family of five — is hardily enough to live on."

"The last two years the fishing was so bad I haven't been able to pay my taxes, so if I got a loan I don't think I'd be able to pay it back," Mr. Laframboise explained.

The loans, provided jointly by the provincial and federal governments, are to be repaid when the fishermen receive compensation from the companies responsible for the mercury pollution, said a fisheries spokesman.

Upon hearing this, Mrs. Danny Bourdon, the wife of a South Lancaster commercial fisherman, said, "It's going to be darn hard to collect that money — you've got to find out who is responsible and prove it."

"A loan would help us immediately," said the mother of 10 children, "but we'd have to repay it and after paying it back what are we going to do. I mean what do we live on after we finish with the loan?"

"We had a decent living, built

Announce Hunting Season In Counties Minors Must Have Training Course

In announcing open seasons for hunters in the United Counties local officers of the Wildlife Service remind that any person who does not have proof of previous hunting experience must have an examination given by officials of the Dept. of Lands and Forests. Without that test such a person will be unable to buy a hunting licence.

Persons under 20 years of age who wish a hunting licence must complete a hunter-safety training course before writing the examination. Next course in Alexandria will be given by Ivan Ross in the first week of October.

In order to hunt migratory birds a federal hunting permit must also be bought. This permit is available at any post office for a fee of two dollars.

Hunting seasons in the United Counties SD&G and Prescott and Russell are as follows:

Ducks, rails, coots, gallinules, Wilson's snipe, geese, woodcock, ruffed grouse, squirrels, pheasants, Sept. 26 to Dec. 15.

Hungarian partridge, Sept. 26 to Nov. 21.

Rabbits, Sept. 26 to March 31, 1971.

Deer, Nov. 2 to Nov. 5.

Bag and possession limits:

Daily bag—5 ducks; 5 geese, rails, coots, gallinules 5; snipe 10; woodcock 8.

Possession: 10 ducks; 10 geese; rails, coots, gallinules 10; snipe 20; woodcock 16.

Seek Increased Participation In Drop-In Centre

Town Council's Youth Committee is out to foster more participation of youths in conduct of the Drop-In Centre. To that end youths will be encouraged to take part in the election of the new slate of officers and the new executive will be given greater powers through a revision of the rules and constitution.

Elections will be held Sept. 30th and in the meantime, Councillor Maurice Sauve, chairman of the Youth Committee, will receive nominations for the posts of President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and directors. Nominations are open to any Alexandria youth and they must be received by Sept. 25th.

Councillor Sauve will preside at the election meeting and he will be assisted by Mayor J. P. Touchette.

The Drop-In Centre has been most successful, according to Councillor Sauve, but some youths are not participating. It is hoped the provision of more autonomy to the young people in operating the Centre will make it more appreciated.

No New School In N. Stormont

A hard blow was dealt to the Tri-County Board of Education Tuesday night.

Superintendent of curriculum and planning M. O. Beauchemin reported he had been unofficially but reliably informed that the board's capital budget for 1970 would be just $2.6 million.

He said he had been told this by a department of education official by telephone.

The board decided to await official word by letter from the department and then send a delegation to Toronto to try for more funds.

The $2.6 million would pay only for the start of construction of a new secondary school in Cornwall. The figure leaves no provision for a start this year on a new composite school for Stormont County. The latter was to be built in the Monkland area.

The board wanted a package deal and once discussed rejecting anything less than such. "Two schools or nothing," as one trustee put it.

However, Mr. Beauchemin said the board had better act fast if it doesn't want to lose the money offered.

The board also wants to make additions to Osnabruck District High School and add a machine shop at North Dundas District High School.

These two projects have been offered to the board's advisory vocational committee.

Five Green Valley Students To Be Allowed To Attend High School Here

Five Green Valley students will be permitted to attend Glengarry District High School here, even though they reside in Charlottenburgh and should be going to Char-Lan High.

A delegation of 10 residents of Green Valley appeared before the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education Tuesday and won their point for the time being.

Mrs. Lorenzo Lefebvre led the group and inquired why some students in the SD and G school region, because of school boundaries, are required to travel on a bus for many miles, when another school is only 10 minutes away.

Delegation members stated that six buses go through Green Valley going to Alexandria and yet students from the west side of the street must walk three-quarters of a mile and catch a bus to Williamstown.

Only five students are involved in the situation, with all other students living on the east side of the street going to Alexandria.

Trustees Jean Guindon and Gerry Desjardin moved a motion that seemed to solve the problem on a short-term basis in that all secondary students living in Lot 1, Concession 9, be permitted to enroll at Glengarry District High School for the 1970-71 school term.

Further to the solution a study will be made of all school boundaries in the tri-county region, by the senior staff, for recommendation to the board.

The decision allows the five students involved to attend school in Alexandria starting Wednesday.

Until now the students had been rejected at Glengarry District High School and were remaining at home until the problem could be settled.

By-Law To Regulate Keeping Of Animals In Town Follows Request By Delegation

Town Council passed a by-law regulating the keeping of animals at Tuesday's meeting after a delegation of Sandfield St. residents approached council objecting to the erection of a horse stable in their neighborhood.

The by-law regulates conditions under which horses and other animals may be kept. The building must have a certain type of flooring, adequate drainage to a sewer line and there must be a sealed container for the storage of excrement. Flies and insects must be kept from the building to accord with provisions of the Health Act.

Town solicitor Paul Rouleau of Cornwall, was present at the meeting and he reported a municipality could not prohibit the keeping of horses and mules but it could regulate their housing and care. Framing of the new by-law followed.

Mayor Jean Paul Touchette was in the chair after a few weeks' absence and in opening the meeting he noted he was now part owner of Menard Construction Co. Ltd. of Green Valley. He had received legal advice that this would not interfere with his role as mayor and that he would declare his interest at any time business with the construction company was being discussed.

Council had received word from the Public Works Department, Ottawa, that the price of $10,500 for the old post office building would not be reduced. Members of council inspected the building yesterday and were enthusiastic for its use as police station, library and senior citizens rooms. It is expected they will vote to purchase it at next meeting.

Annoyance was expressed with the continued delay of the Ontario Water Resources Commission in approving alterations to the sewage lagoons. Mayor Touchette plans to contact the chairman of the OWRC in this regard.

A tender of the Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. Ltd. for purchase of debentures of $36,400 was accepted. Cost of local improvements on Kincardine St. West, the debentures are being sold at 98 cents on the dollar and will bear interest at 9 per cent.

Council voted a $25 donation to the Sudbury Area Disaster Fund.

Escaped Injury

Mrs. Gilles Robert and Miss Diane Dubeau of Robert's Beauty Salon escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when the Robert car left Highway 43 just east of Avonmore. The car rolled and ended up on its roof but the two occupants escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The car was a total loss.

Second Nurse In Local Office

Miss Vivien Belanger, PHN, has been posted to Alexandria by the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valleys Health Unit. She joins Miss Susan Hardie, PHN who has been in the local office for the past year.

Miss Hardie will cover Alexandria and a part of Lochiel while Miss Belanger will have Kenyon and a section of Lochiel in her charge. Lancaster and Charlottenburgh are handled from the Cornwall office.

Much of the work of the nurses is with the schools and follow-up visits to homes but they also handle child health problems, do health inspection work, conduct TB clinics and pre-natal classes as well as visiting new mothers.

The local office is at 4 Main St. in the St. Denis newsstand block and they can be reached by telephone, No. 525-3833 between 8.30 and 9.30 in the morning.

Gets Promotion

Formerly of Alexandria, Miss Odette Brunet of Verdun, Que., has been promoted to the post of Personnel Manager of the F. W. Woolworth Co. Ltd. store in Verdun and started her new duties last week.

A daughter of Mrs. Solyme Brunet of Verdun, she has been with the Company since leaving Alexandria eight years ago.

Silver Wedding Date Marked

The silver wedding date of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Laperle, Alexandria, was celebrated Saturday night when relatives and friends gathered in Alexander Hall to honor them.

Mrs. Laperle is the former Mary MacDonald of the 5th Kenyon, and they were married Sept. 1st 1945 in St. John Bosco Church, Cornwall.

Raymond Charlebois chaired a brief presentation period when Mrs. Sandy McGonnigal of Montreal, a sister of Mrs. Laperle, read a congratulatory address. Miss Kim Auld, a niece, made the presentation of a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Laperle, while Miss Yvette Seguin presented a sum of money on a silver platter to her uncle.

Both expressed warm appreciation of the kind thoughtfulness of their friends.

Fire Hall Start

Footings and foundations were poured this week for the new fire hall being built on Kenyon St. West. Jos. Theoret has the contract for foundation, and other contracts will be let this weekend reports Councillor Marcel Ranger who is in charge of construction.

Adds Travel Agency

Lucien Chenier is adding a travel agency service to his Alexandria Stationery store. His Alexandria Travel Agency is not yet accredited to any particular transportation company but he is now in a position to arrange trips and tours.

Howard Kelly Died In Home

A lifelong resident of Alexandria, Howard Kelly died of a heart attack Sunday evening while working in his basement workshop. He was found dead by his wife on her return from Cornwall where she had been visiting a son. He was 52.

Born here, Mr. Kelly was a son of the late Angus Kelly and his wife, Rosemary McMahon. He had been employed in a clerical capacity through most of his life and for 22 years had served on the staff of the local liquor store. In recent months he had been on the staff of Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Kelly had served many years on the Alexandria Fire Brigade and had been active in the firemen's social club and in St. Finnan's parish.

To mourn his sudden passing he leaves his wife, the former Bernadette Carriere, three sons and one daughter. They are: Cpl. Bernard Kelly of the RCMP, Ottawa; Terry Kelly of Cornwall; Michael, at home and Patricia, Mrs. Gerald Sauve of Alexandria.

One brother and five sisters also survive: John Kelly of Cornwall; Misses Mary Catherine, Violet and Frances of Montreal; Edwardine, Mrs. Donald McDonald of London, Ont.; Maureen, Mrs. Peter Nuburg of Toronto.

Msgr. D. A. Kerr offered the funeral mass Wednesday morning in St. Finnan's Cathedral in the presence of many relatives and friends. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

The pallbearers were Raymond Cuerrier, Henry J. Ladouceur, Jack Hendrie, Jack Reid, Arthur Duggan and Theodore Sauve.

NEW LIONS PREXY IN CHAIR—The members of Alexandria Lions Club resumed their twice-monthly dinner meetings Monday night with new president Paul Roy in the chair for his first complete meeting. It was a late one as a power interruption delayed start of the supper until 8 p.m. Several members of the new Finch Lions Club were guests. Past President Adrien Filion, right, congratulates the new president (or is he offering him sympathy) as new treasurer Jacques Joly looks on.

IT'S OUR OPINION

MacLeod Clansmen Note!

Glengarry Clan MacLeod has made good progress on its project to produce a record of all MacLeod families since the pioneer days of this county. Already in the hands of the special historical committee are the family trees of ten of the early settlers and several others are now being readied, reports J. K. MacLeod of Kirk Hill, chairman of the committee.

There are probably another ten family groups needed to make the record complete and the committee hesitates to proceed with final compilation of its book if some or all of these clan connections are available. We are happy to give space in this column to a request for the co-operation of MacLeod clansmen who may be able to supply the missing data.

The editor was shown some of the family records already prepared for publication and he can vouch for the fact the finished book will be of worthwhile historical significance. Listed under each of the original MacLeod pioneers are their children and their children's children right down to the present generation. Most of these records concern the families of early settlers in Lochiel and Kenyon and the committee is now seeking data on other MacLeod family groups that had their start in perhaps Lancaster or Charlottenburgh.

We are in a position to appreciate the worth of such a record for we are periodically being asked for information on family connections by descendants of early residents. Sometimes we can provide a lead or suggest someone to see, but too often time has erased all sources of information. Such family trees as Clan MacLeod is compiling could prove invaluable in tracing connections with pioneer Glengarry residents.

Among our visitors in August were a threesome from Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. McVean, senior, knew his father's forebears hailed from Glengarry but he hadn't been too interested in his connection with this county. Now his son was on the verge of fatherhood and the young couple had a new interest in learning something of his Glengarry heritage. We had a vague familiarity with the name McVean from our files but in the limited time we could make inquiries nothing pertinent was uncovered. If any of our readers are familiar with that name in Glengarry a century ago we will be happy to connect them with our Arizona visitors.

Just possibly that name McVean might turn up among the descendants of the pioneer MacLeods. If other present day residents made available such family trees to the Glengarry Historical Society they could prove invaluable in tracing a link with the pioneers for people now scattered right across the continent.

We heartily endorse this MacLeod Clan historical project and urge the co-operation of clansmen. More information may be secured from the chairman, J. K. MacLeod, RR1 Dalkeith, or members of the committee.

Last Chance For Stanfield

Rebellion rears its ugly head in the ranks of the Conservative Party but we have the reassurance of Robert Stanfield that he is firmly in the saddle and all is well.

He may still be in the saddle but the Tory leader is riding nowhere fast. He might be making progress if his Party dropped that Progressive label and provided a truly conservative haven for all those Canadians fed up to the teeth with Liberal Socialism.

Mr. Stanfield and the Party he leads will never regain national status as long as they play the same socialist line the Liberals have used so effectively to stay in power. The Tory leader does not project a convincing picture when he promises more welfare schemes such as the guaranteed income that promises to be Trudeau's next election bribe. Stanfield is ineffective in criticising the Benson White Paper on taxation when he suggests there must be some form of Capital Gains tax.

He might make millions of friends for his Party if he offered an alternative to give-away government, if he projected a truly conservative image and offered less bureaucracy, not more; a limit to taxation, not the endless search for more revenue that characterizes successive Liberal regimes.

There is a crying need for a federal Conservative Party that will offer an alternative to the galloping socialism Trudeau and Benson promise. There could be a future for Stanfield in Ottawa if he quit playing the give-away game and offered to restore individual initiative.

If Mr. Stanfield is not prepared to head a truly conservative party he might as well retire now. He is but leading a Progressive Conservative Socialist melange to oblivion.

Will The Farmers Have Their Way?

It is taxpaying time in Ontario municipalities and this is the year farmers in this province are being urged to withhold their education taxes. Ontario farm leaders are campaigning to compel the government to remove the burden of education costs from real property and the degree of success they attain undoubtedly will depend on the solidity of the support given by farmers across the province.

In some counties the campaign appears to be well organized and news reports tell of municipalities in which farmers have gone in large numbers to pay only that part of their tax bills that is levied for municipal purposes. We have no idea how much support the movement will receive in Glengarry though both the Federation of Agriculture and the Farmers Union favor the tax protest.

Such strike action by farmers may seem out of character but it comes after years of protest which have got them nowhere with the government of Premier Robarts. The ever-increasing costs of education have been bearing especially hard on farm property and there are many non-farmers who agree it is unfair that average farm holdings should be paying as much as twice the education levy an urban home owner has to meet. There is urban agreement, too, that property should be freed of the escalating costs of education and this tax protest will have the sympathy of many non-farmers. Dozens of municipal councils across the province have passed resolutions endorsing removal of school taxes from real property.

The Robarts Government imposed this new concept of area school boards on rural Ontario. Control of educational spending has been removed from the local scene and costs continue to spiral under a system where high-priced regional administrators run the show with the blessing of the department of education. Not only farmers eking out a living in face of escalating living costs resent the $30,000 salary scale regional school administrators are being paid. Living in comparative luxury such well-paid educationists may lose all conception of the burden school costs impose on the average property-owner. The almost limitless spending of these regional boards suggests just that and their improvidence undoubtedly has triggered the current tax protest.

Queen's Park dreamed up this expensive educational system and it seems only fair that the provincial government should finance it out of revenue. Forced to find the money to pay extravagant salaries and high capital costs, Toronto might be expected to more effectively curb the spending proclivities of these regional boards.

Not only farmers have been slow to protest the burden of school costs and if they are now talking strike they have justification in the unfair load of education taxes being imposed on them. That could become much more burdensome under the new system of province-wide assessment now being introduced and farmers may be protecting their holdings from future confiscation by forcing government action now.

They have seen in the recent postal settlement how government will give way even to its own unionized employees. Only demands forcibly presented under the threat of strike action seem capable of gaining the ear of authority and so farmers feel called upon to use the strike threat to redress an injustice.

Farmers are individualists and it is conceivable the majority will hesitate to join this crusade for tax reform. If the movement is widely supported, though, it should prove a real headache for a Robarts Government that apparently was planning to call a general election this fall. Even a party too long entrenched in office and facing disorganized opposition might hesitate to go to the people at a time when rural Ontario is demonstrating so much resentment.

Friday, Sept. 16, 1910

Roderick McDonell, of the Rutland Division, NYC, Alburg, Vermont, spent a few days at his old home, Bridge End.—"The Buggy from Glengarry", donated by Munro & McIntosh, in connection with St. Finnan's Parish Picnic, was won by J. O. Simpson. — On Saturday, at the Casselman Fair, "Honest Joe", the well known racing horse owned by J. B. Sauve of this town, won first place easily. — There are 130 pupils on the Alexandria High School roll, the highest ever; 47 pupils attending Public School, while 465 are in attendance at the Convent and Alexander School.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO—

Friday, Sept. 21, 1900

Roderick McDonald, cheesemaker at St. Raphael's, wheeled to Dalkeith on Saturday evening. — Miss Maggie Aird of Athol, returned home from visiting friends on the Pacific Coast and again has charge of the Athol school. — At a congregational meeting held in Dunvegan Church the lot north of the church was selected as a suitable site for the Manse. — The Clan MacDonald held a successful gathering in Ottawa, Wednesday, at which Angus McDonald of Alexandria, was elected Chieftain. Among Glengarrians present were C. A. McDonald, A. A. McDonald, Apple Hill; J. J. McDonald, Glen Nevis; A. R. and H. R. McDonald, St. Raphael's; A. J. McDonald, F. McDonell, A. B. McDonell, Greenfield and Angus McDonald of Alexandria. — Sandy Kennedy of Mellon, Wis., but well known in this town, left for Boston, Mass., on Tuesday, where he will spend a few days before leaving for the Paris Exposition. — On Wednesday, the gable and wall of the new stone Presbyterian Church being erected at Vankleek Hill, gave way. Rev. John MacLeod, pastor, who was watching the operations, was killed while four of the workmen were fatally injured.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

With Canadians spending more than $1,000,000 a day for aid to under-developed parts of the world, (especially French-speaking areas) it seems to us the residents of the Whitehorse Indian Village would be wise to approach the CIDA for a grant of several of those millions.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

CONSERVATION IS IMPORTANT

Taber, Alberta

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

We received the Aug. 27th edition of the Glengarry News yesterday, Sept. 7th. Isn't "Pony Express" wonderful?

I couldn't resist writing this letter and may I add, I am writing as a citizen of Canada.

In Mr. Baxter's reply to Mr. Marshall, would Doug have been less irked if Mr. Marshall had been a full time resident of Glengarry?

Industry is the life blood of any community, but conservation is important too.

The exploration of oil in Alberta was a great thing, but when you see wildlife brought out of rivers and lakes covered in oil, contaminated water, dead fish, etc., that word exploration changes to exploitation.

I'm sure that Doug is doing everything possible in this problem they have. But I am wondering where did "Graham Creamery" dispose of the waste before they obtained this disposal site?

Edna Peterson.

ROAD SIGNS NEEDED

Cornwall, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

This letter may be registered as an open complaint concerning the lack of adequate directional signs on country roads surrounding Alexandria, particularly in Charlottenburgh.

The roads in the country constitute a dangerous obstacle race for any stranger travelling in the area. You may argue that very little traffic frequents these roads, and

Impoverishing The Many

(The Montreal Gazette)

The Liberals, in all probability, will campaign in the next election on the platform of a guaranteed minimum income. They have already taken long steps in that direction. The White Paper on tax reform contains elements of it. So does the White Paper on unemployment insurance. So, in all likelihood, will the White Paper on welfare.

All that needs doing is to bundle these elements into a package for presentation to the voters. If the Liberals don't do it, other parties will. The elimination of poverty is politically hot, if only because it has now been made to appear to be within easy reach.

But is it? Estimates of the cost of guaranteed minimum incomes which would put all Canadians over the poverty line, as defined by the Economic Council, run in excess of $3 billion annually. That means the transfer through government of $3 billion of purchasing power from the incomes of Canadians in the middle and upper brackets to those in the lower brackets.

That is about $1 billion more than the transfer out of corporate and personal savings and income proposed in the White Paper on tax reform. If the transfer of $2 billion through tax reform has the depressing effect on growth that its critics anticipate, the transfer of $3 billion will have a correspondingly more depressing effect.

What has yet to be recognized in government is that the first condition for eliminating poverty is sustained real growth in the economy. Without it none of the measures that follow can succeed. Of what use is a program of slum clearance if the funds aren't available for it? Of what use are retraining programs for the chronically unemployed if there is no employment for their new skills?

Real growth needs to be fueled by massive and continuing infusions of capital. If that capital is taxed away, growth is slowed. That's the direction to impoverishing the many, not enriching the few.

RAMBLING REPORTER

BEARDING A LION

That familiar expression "bearding the lion in his den" took on a new dimension when this lion's third son landed home from a three-week camping trip which had also been a holiday from the razor.

What a face! We darn near cried when our eyes took in that unsightly mess of weird beard covering the skin we loved tc touch. Our ears still burn with the announcement that he means to make with all that scraggly hair for a while. "I'm going to give it a try", says this computer analyst all of a sudden turned pseudo scientist.

What's to do about it? Tell him he looks like the devil and he puts on a satanic grin. He's too big to be forcibly shaved, he's free, white and 21; so about all that's left is the hope he'll one day soon take a good look at himself in the mirror and have the grace to laugh it off.

We've rejected the hope some doll he admires might talk him out of it. This generation of girls apparently is just as nuts as the boys for we find them encouraging the boy friends to make with the facial flea beds and the girlie hairdos.

One is left wondering how this hairy generation justifies the new look with their outlook. They reject religion and yet these boys apparently want to look like the saints of old; the establishment is the enemy yet they wear their hair and beards to resemble the Fathers of Confederation. If they fancy themselves another Einstein someone should remind them he came up with his theory of relativity in spite of his looks.

O.K., so it's a fad or even a flag of rebellion. It'll pass; time will take care of it, you say. So all we have to do is be patient, we frustrated parents who grew up with the stupid idea we should be proud of our kids, zealous that they put their best foot forward, make a good impression.

Look dad, don't worry it! The World Series will be coming up soon and those commercials on blue blades will be reminding the kids to "Look Sharp". Surely he'll get the message.

Fifty years ago, minding one's children did not mean obeying them.

TEE HEE!

Walt Telfer comes up with this chuckle in his column in the Humboldt, Sask. Journal:

Three elderly ladies went into a restaurant for tea.

"I'll have a cup of strong tea, with cream and sugar," said one.

"I'll have a cup of weak tea and lemon," said the second.

"I'll have tea, too, but make sure the cup is clean," ordered the third.

In a few minutes the waiter was back. "Okay," he grumbled, "who gets the clean cup?"

An Oklahoma weekly comes up with the thought:
Everyone has an anatomy but it looks better on a girl.

HOW EDITORS GET RICH

Ever wonder why weekly newspaper editors are so wealthy? Well, wonder no more. Here's the secret.

Consider the newly born child. The attending physician picks up $50 or more for the delivery and the hospital gets its share. The editor gives the youngster a great send-off by publishing his name in the birth column and picks up $0 for the effort. Later the child is christened and the minister is rewarded with a fiver at least and the editor receives $00 for reporting the event.

The child grows and gets married. The minister picks up a good slice of change and a stuffed tummy. The editor gets heartburn from the groom's overdue account and $000 for publishing a flowery account of the wedding.

In the course of time this person dies. The doctor's bill is paid for by the government and the minister cashes in again with a fat cheque for handling the funeral. The editor publishes a full obituary, including tributes, and he gets $0,000.

Now you know how editors get rich.

And a Rambling Reporter leaves you with the thought:

Those who travel at too fast a pace on street and highway are hurrying the footsteps of Father Time.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

Mrs. Rod. MacDonald has returned home from Detroit and Toronto. While in Detroit she and her sister, Mrs. D. B. MacDonald of Toronto, attended the MacDonald-Sweeney wedding.

A recent caller with Mr. and Mrs. Keith C. Franklin was Mrs. Jeanne Rainford of Kirkland Lake.

A great many residents of Maxville and area attended the Williamstown Fair, taking advantage of an outing in perfect fall weather.

Mrs. Hazel Young of Glendale, California, is spending a few days visiting her cousin Mrs. Mark Price and Mr. Price, and also Mrs. E. A. McEwen and Mrs. L. J. McNaughton.

Maxville's new drug store has opened for business, right beside the post office. Clerk in charge is Mrs. Margaret MacRae, and at least for the present the hours are one p.m. to six p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. A pharmacist will be on hand during those hours.

Christena MacDonald is in Toronto for two weeks visiting friends.

Miss Marion MacIntosh of Cornwall was a guest of Mrs. Joanne MacLean over the weekend.

Herbert Casey of Norwood, Massachusetts, spent a week visiting his cousin Mrs. Wilfred McEwen.

WI MEETS NEXT WEEK

The Maxville Women's Institute will hold their next meeting on Friday, September 25th, at 2 p.m. in the Maxville Community Hall. Members will please note, the meeting is in the Maxville Community Hall, not at Mrs. Stanley Kippen's home.

The afternoon's speaker will be Miss Bella MacLeod who recently attended the Winnipeg, Manitoba Triennial Convention. Miss MacLeod came back from this convention with a wealth of interesting news, so we may look forward to a most rewarding and informative address.

The roll call for this month is "Read an item from Home and Country or pay a fine of ten cents".

YOUNG AT HEARTS NAME OFFICER SLATE

The Young at Heart Club got off to a fine start on Thursday, September 10th, when they met in the Maxville Community Hall.

The evening started with several games being played simultaneously, as new arrivals filled the tables. Crokinole and chinese checkers proved as popular as the usual card games.

A necessary break in the fun was made in order that officers be voted upon. This put George Matsell in as president, Mrs. Phil Guindon as vice-president, Mrs. Rod. McRae as treasurer. Mrs. Wm. McIntosh is program convener and Mrs. Howard McEwen, welcome convener. R. McRae is maintenance convener and, in absentia, Mrs. James McCartney was named refreshment convener. Mrs. George Matsell is secretary.

The conveners will each choose at least two other members for their committees so that duties should not prove too onerous for any one person.

Annual dues were voted in at fifty cents a year, with ten cents a regular meeting for refreshments.

Mr. Matsell announced that the next two meetings will be held on a Wednesday, that will be September 16th and the 23rd, in the Maxville Community Hall, at 7.30 p.m.

Club business being concluded 21 members paid in their annual dues.

The evening concluded with group games, Mrs. Rod. McRae officiating in the absence of Mrs. Wm. McIntosh.

AUXILIARY MET

The Afternoon Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Maxville, met at the home of Mrs. James Cummings and Miss Bella MacLeod on Tuesday, Sept. 8th, at 2.00 p.m.

Mrs. R. F. MacRae was leader of the meeting and opened with a short prayer. The devotional part of the meeting was given by Mrs. W. S. McLean who read an article on "Always Pray". This was followed by prayer by Mrs. Harold Cameron. Mrs. MacRae had several readings from the Blue Book telling the meaning of the various parts of the work such as Adult Groups, Glad Tidings, Friendship and Service and Supply. A short reading on Flora House in Winnipeg and Tyndale House in Montreal. Those taking part were Mrs. MacRae, Mrs. MacIver, Mrs. J. Cummings, Mrs. O'Hara, Mrs. D. G. McNaughton. Mrs. MacRae closed her part of the meeting by reading a story of the author of "Abide with me" and we had it as a closing hymn.

Mrs. McLean took the business portion of the meeting.

A social half hour was spent which was much enjoyed and the hostesses were Mrs. J. Cummings and Miss Bella MacLeod.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENROLMENT AT SAME LEVEL

Maxville Public School welcomed its students back last week, with an enrolment of 387, just about the same as last year. Keeping the number up are the Riceville pupils who will be coming to Maxville for another year at least.

There are 14 teachers on the staff including the principal, Mrs. Alice Ferguson. Miss McDonald is the permanent French teacher, as this subject is being taught in all grades now. She replaces Mrs. Williams. Miss Branch replaces Mrs. MacLeod in Grades 2 and 3. Mrs. Helen Hunter comes several times a week for music and Mrs. Wilfrred Vallance continues as librarian.

There are 46 in the kindergarten, considerably up from last year.

In spite of considerable controversy the alternate full day system is being continued, but this apparently has not deterred any parents from sending their children in.

All necessary equipment for the gymnasium has arrived and basketball boards are presently being installed. As yet there is no physical education instructor, but appeals have been made to the school board and some assistance is expected.

LETTERS

that the few cars that do, keep their speeds to a minimum. This is definitely false!

With all the land that is being purchased by Montrealers, etc., the traffic has noticeably increased in the last few years. Knowing that there are no speed traps on these roads, the city strangers, as well as the local residents, literally "roar" along.

One pathetic example of little or no road direction can be found on the Chapel Road near Munroe's Mills. Here an old bridge is (slowly) being replaced. The bridge spans the Beaudette River and lies at the bottom of a long hill. The gravel road here is good and it is straight, which naturally tempts a driver to "step-on-it." The local residents are well aware of the construction, but what of the stranger who, while exploring the rural areas, leans on the accelerator a bit too much, dips over that hill, to find a bridge missing? Not until he slides to a stop a few feet from the construction, will he see the small, poorly printed sign that tells him, "Bridge Out". Consider this situation at night! There are no flares, no pre-warnings a mile or so back. The Beaudette is not a large river there, but, nevertheless, it isn't the ideal place for a car.

Another example can be found just north of MacMillan's Cheese Factory off the King's Road. This little corner is locally known as "The Crooked Bridge". There is no bridge anymore, but it certainly is crooked.

Four roads meet—but do not meet directly—which creates a dead-end on two of the roads. There are no curve signs—no 'slow' signs, no checkerboard signs. There are old rut-scars in the ditches, broken fence posts, bent wire, and notched trees testifying to those who did not make the curves successfully.

I saw first hand evidence of just how dangerous these roads can be to the unknowing stranger. A few weeks ago a car rally chose these roads for their contest. One of the cars thoughtfully drove ahead and warned the residents. It was to be held at about eight in the evening. We watched the cars drive by, heard them slide to a stop at the unmarked dead-end down the road and wondered how many would finish the race without mishaps.

Later we drove back to Cornwall, going south, through the stone and earth detour around the missing bridge, and on toward the 'Crooked Bridge'.

There, deep in the muddy ditch, up against another broken fence post, we found a tiny sports car. Its two passengers were knee-deep, digging to free their car.

We stopped, another resident came along and offered his aid, and finally they were back in the race. No one was hurt, that time! However, a road that unexpectedly terminates in a farmer's field is a road to avoid.

Several other examples could be cited. It is a sorry state that any visitor to these areas must forego a country drive because of treacherous roads. Perhaps when a driver and his passengers are seriously injured, or involved in a fatal accident, something will be done. Do we have to wait until then?

our own home, raised our children and never had to rely on anyone until now," she emphasized.

"I don't know if my husband would accept a loan or not and the people who are responsible for the loans aren't going to give us enough," Mrs. Bourdon said.

As for the value of a loan to provide retraining for the bread-winner, Mrs. Bourdon said, "People hire young people who can work maybe 20 to 30 years, not old fishermen."

"I don't know what we're going to do unless they clean up the river," she concluded.

Densil Mitchell of Mac's Marina at Lancaster, queried: "What about the marina operators and owners?"

When asked if the mercury contamination had affected his business he replied cynically, "No. It hasn't affected us at all.

"We used to rent 30 or 40 boats on a weekend and now we're lucky if we rent five."

Initiated last spring for 40 commercial fishermen in the Lake St. Clair-Detroit River area, the loans equal approximately 70 percent of the value of their 1969 catch.

About $300,000 in loans has been distributed to the fishermen originally eligible under the plan, a spokesman said.

But Oscar Laframboise says, "Those fellows were much bigger fishermen, they used nets while we use hook and line—so we'd draw very little money.

"They stopped us from fishing so I think the government should give us compensation, a steady salary from now until I receive the old age pension."

(by Angus H. McDonell)

The Glengarry - Prescott high school football league this year has gone in for expansion like some of the major sport circuits. HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

Follow Your Toddler and Learn

If one of the great pediatricians found it useful to know the workings of a child's mind, surely a mother would find it worthwhile, says the Council on Family Health.

Dr. Bela Schick was past his 90th year when he died in 1967. During his life he developed the famous immunity test which helped in the conquest of that dread children's disease, diphtheria. He learned the value of playing with children to win their confidence. And he told other doctors, "To be a good pediatrician it helps to be a little childish yourself."

So be a little childish yourself, advises the Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by members of the drug industry to promote home safety and family health. Take part of a day to follow your toddler through the house.

Notice how a youngster loves to explore, to touch, to test — and perhaps to taste — everything new to him. You may find that following in his footsteps will show you many things that may be harmful to him — especially commonplace things you use every day.

Follow him to the bedroom. Have pins, hairpins and cosmetics been put away where he cannot get at them? Are medicines forgotten on the night table? Remember to put them in their proper storage place, out of his reach.

In the bathroom you may notice that your toddler is a climber. The possibility of his climbing up to explore the contents of the medicine cabinet should remind you to move potentially toxic things to a storage area which he cannot reach.

In the kitchen, if he makes a bee line for the stove, you may compliment yourself for having turned all pot handles toward the back. Your little explorer may open the door to the cabinet under the sink. This should remind you to store potentially harmful household chemicals such as bleaches, polishes, lye and kerosene base liquids, and powders on the high shelves of a cabinet, or in a closet that a child cannot get into.

One day of following your toddler, Mom, and home may be safer for your whole family.

VAN DER ZWEEP—MACPHEE

St. Finnan's Cathedral was the beautiful setting for the marriage of Madeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ed. Macphee of Alexandria, to Johannes, son of Ti. van der Zweep and the late Mrs. van der Zweep of Morrisburg, Ont. The marriage was performed at eight o'clock, Saturday evening, Sept. 5th by Monsignor D. A. Kerr. Servers at the mass were Gordon McDonald and Kenneth Morris, cousins of the bride. Howard Morris was soloist and he was accompanied by Paul E. Viau at the cathedral organ.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white swiss lace and silk organza floor-length gown. The full-length sleeves and high-necked bodice were of silk organza with appliques of lace. The train was also of organza and lace appliques, bordered by a wide edging of lace. Her tulle illusion veil was topped by a lace and white flower arrangement and her bouquet was a cascade of yellow roses and cimbidium orchids.

Mrs. Edwin McDonald, Detroit, was matron of honor. Miss Janet Gill and Mrs. Graham Gill, both of Cornwall, were bridesmaids and Frances McDonald of Detroit, niece of the bride, was flower girl. They wore identically styled A-line floor-length gowns in crystal sheer crepe over taffeta, the matron of honor and flower girl in shades of turquoise blue and the bridesmaids in shades of orange. All wore matching flower arrangements in their hair and carried sprays of asters and shasta daisies in fall colors.

Bernard van der Zweep, brother of the groom was best man. The ushers were John James Macphee of Ottawa, Graham Gill of Cornwall and Ted. van der Zweep and Dave Gillmor of Morrisburg.

Besides the large number of friends and relatives from the surrounding vicinity were guests from Detroit, Toronto, Hespeler, Ottawa, Campbell's Bay, Montreal, London, Edmonton, Deseronto, Orono, Connecticut and New Jersey.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Alexander Hall, after which the happy couple left for a honeymoon in the Maritime Provinces. The bride travelled in a forest green pant suit with gold terrylene blouse and brown accessories.

Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the Legion Hall, Alexandria. The hostess was Miss Janet Gill, assisted by her sister-in-law Mrs. Graham Gill. She was also entertained at a dinner in the "Torch Room", Cornwall, by her co-workers the nurses on 4th floor north at Hotel Dieu hospital.

They will reside at Ingleside, Ont.

DANGEROUS TALK

If a society is to remain free it must do so within a system of law. If democracy is to work, then all men must obey the law. If they disagree with it, then the way to change the law must be by parliamentary process, not by blaring defiance and demanding immunity from the process of law.

A report from your Glengarry Agricultural Office

by J. Y. Humphries

The Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology this year will hold its Autumn Showcase on Sunday, September 20, from 11.00 a.m. to 6.00 p.m. The reason for holding this event on a Sunday is to give all urban and rural families an opportunity to attend.

The Agricultural Engineering Division will offer displays of small engines, an automatic tractor, ornamental welding (ceramics), and demonstrations on the use of TV in the classroom and mole installation of plastic tile.

In addition to open house at the barns with special displays of various calf stalls and ration formulation, the Animal Production Division will offer demonstrations in mastitis control and various feeding systems.

The Soils and Field Crops Divisions will offer plot tours with special emphasis on weed control of annual grasses. Also featured, will be demonstrations in "prop" corn.

The role of the computer in agriculture will be demonstrated by the Farm Management Division. This will give farmers an opportunity to relate the benefits of the computer to their own particular operations.

A demonstration of a poultry cage layer set up and the incubating and hatching of baby chicks will be on display.

Open house at the Regional Veterinary Laboratory will have "Maggie the Magnetized Cow" as an added feature.

The Home Economics Division will hold open house, featuring credit, time payments, and good family budgeting. Also included, will be a presentation on the educational opportunities at KCAT.

Special exhibits will be on display in the Agronomy Building. These will include the role of pesticides in today's agriculture, new government regulations regarding the building code, and films on pesticides; pork, its production, processing and grading. Also, at this location, farmers may have their own samples of corn tested for moisture content and their own 6 ounce samples of milk tested for butterfat on the new Foss Milko-Tester.

This year's showcase is designed to be a family day with displays and discussions for all ages.

A bachelor is a fellow who never finds out how many faults he has.

The Weeklies Say

DOLLAR CONFIDENCE

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the free dollar decision is that it indicates outside confidence in Canada's economy. The last decade was a particularly arduous one for Canadian finance ministers when practically nobody showed any confidence in our economic approach. For the first time in years, Canada can hold its head up with pride that at least foreign governments think our economy is on a solid platform. —Vernon (BC) News

Strong opinions voiced responsibly never hurt anyone. And never will. —Campbell River (BC) Upper Islander.

Special Service At Apple Hill

Anniversary services of Zion United Church, Apple Hill, will be held on Sunday, September 20th. Morning service will be taken by Rev. Henderson of Maxville and evening service by Rev. MacDonald of Martintown.

Mrs. Donald Colbourne was hostess at the regular meeting of UCW. Mrs. Steward Crawford presided.

Home can be beautiful was the theme of the devotional period led by Mrs. John Munro with Rev. John Wheeler leading in prayer.

Mrs. Earl Bender, in charge of the program, told members of a recent trip to Pittsburgh.

Six members attended Summer School at St. Anne de Bellevue on visitors day.

Three visitors were welcomed to the meeting, Mrs. P. G. Vaidya, the new doctor's wife, Mrs. Donald MacIntosh and Miss May MacMillan.

Mrs. Colbourne gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Sid Squires read the minutes. It was decided one boy from Apple Hill would be assisted in taking a holiday at Camp Kagama.

The roll call was answered by 17 members with a mystery package for the bazaar.

Mrs. Earl Bender will be convener for the anniversary supper, Sept. 22, Mrs. Harold Colbran, Mrs. Cameron MacLeod and Mrs. Squires. Rev. Wheeler closed with prayer.

Mark 25th Date At Sandringham

Friends and relatives gathered Saturday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Alderic Bray of Sandringham, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Bray is the former Estelle Boisvenue of Maxville.

The evening was spent in cards and games, while some just had a good old visit with ones they hadn't seen for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray were called to the front and a nicely worded address was read by the president of the Social Club, Norman Prebble. A card table and chairs were presented by Laurent Thauvette and Linton Fraser on behalf of the Social Club.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bray replied thanking the club for the nice evening and gift. A nicely decorated table was set for the couple, centred with a wedding cake presented by the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray have ten children and two grandchildren, all of whom were able to be present at the gathering. Their children are Mrs. Roger DeGuire (Carole) Mrs. Camille DeGuire (Elaine) Bernard, Claire, Michael, Guy, Richard, Dale, Ann and Gilles.

MAXVILLE

UCW UNIT II MET

The September meeting of Unit II, Maxville UCW was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Kippen on Sept. 1st at 8 p.m. with Mrs. C. B. McDermid in the chair.

Mrs. Elmer McDermid conducted the bible lesson from Psalm 103, commenting that "a beautiful harvest is not bins full of grain but food supply to a nation of needy people". She read "A Farmer's Confession of Faith" and closed with prayer. Mrs. Harold Willis led in the meeting's prayer. The secretary's report was read and approved as 25 members answered the roll. The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Clarence McPhail, Mrs. C. B. McDermid and all members.

The next meeting will be Oct. 6 with Mrs. Hector Runions and Group IV in charge.

Mrs. Stanley Kippen was thanked for the use of her very comfortable home and given credit for the planning of this meeting chaired by Mrs. C. B. McDermid.

Mrs. Howard McEwen gave a resumee on the late Dr. Sidney Gilchrist, 42 years a missionary doctor, finally in Angola in which she read a letter from Angolan refugees which they wrote to be carried back to Canada by Dr. Gilchrist on his final departure and retirement. She stated that future supply requests to Angola should be sent in 10-20 lb. bundles to Dr. Wm. Milligan, formerly of Cornwall. He is the new missionary there and certain requests from supply secretary, Mrs. Leona Eamer, were read and discussed.

Members were reminded of the Seaway Valley Presbyterial Executive meeting in our church, Sept. 14. In the absence of the stamp secretary, Mrs. Howard McEwen reported that 9 lbs. of used stamps had been conveyed to the Leprosy mission thus far in 1970. The goal set for stamp sales in 1970 is $7500, required to build and equip a surgery unit of a hospital in East Central India. Greetings were extended to all members in a letter from Mrs. Harold Blaney as she pays a visit to London, England.

The new study packet was introduced very capably by Mrs. Stanley Kippen. It is called youth adult packet on the Americans, a study of church and foreign policy with our neighbors of the Carribean and Latin America. Mrs. Kippen made an intensive review of statistics that affect our relations and aims toward these countries.

Mrs. C. B. McDermid continued the meeting with an amusing but thoughtful poem from "The Friendship Book 1970" by Francis Gay. On Aug. 18th, six members of our society attended visitors day of the school for women at Macdonald College. Miss Hattie Hughes gave a complete report of Dr. Forsyth's talk on the theme "It's a big responsibility to be human in God's world today". He spoke on "A clamorous world and chewed-up people".

She commented on his view of the expectations of the church 1970 — a symbol of "peace" not regimented but turned on, — a social partner, a community-minded spirit with the future a primary concern. A political activist with the realization that it must be involved by intention or default.

Mrs. Gordon Munro collaborated her report of the school with one of Mrs. Archie Campbell who was unable to attend as she spoke or a talk given by Mrs. John Coleman entitled "self-examination and also, a talk and question period involving Dr. Christopher of the evening session.

The ladies were served a lovely lunch by Mrs. Kippen and her group as they made plans for catering, program-wise to the September birthday party at Maxville Manor.

Home Care Program To Be Launched In Area By Health Unit

A comprehensive home care program will soon be available to the 135,000 residents within the area served by the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valleys Health Unit.

Dr. R. V. Peters, district medical officer of health, said that the local health agency began to study implementation following approval in principle of the plan Aug. 18 by the Ontario department of health.

"We aim to start Oct. 1, depending on the availability of personnel and we anticipate admissions will begin Jan. 1, 1971," said Dr. Peters.

Financing of the home care plan, which will be under the administrative control of the local health unit, will be provided entirely by the special health services division, Ontario department of health.

Objective of the program is to release hospital beds by early discharge of selected patients who can continue and complete their treatment program at home; and by admitting patients to the home care program for treatment in lieu of admission to hospital.

Hospitals which are expected to benefit from the program are Cornwall General, Hotel Dieu, Glengarry Memorial, Winchester Memorial, Macdonell, the Smith Clinic in Hawkesbury and the General Hospital of Hawkesbury and district.

Health department officials stress that the decision to place any particular patient in the program of home care is based upon a consensus view of the staff of the program and the attending physician that such a move is in the best interest of the patient.

An additional objective of the program is to encourage families to take a greater responsibility for the health care of their members.

Staff required for the program here will be a medical director on a part-time personnel: a nurse administrator, a nurse co-ordinator and a clerk-stenographer.

Services provided by the home care program can be considered under two headings: direct and ancillary.

Direct services include visiting nurses and homemakers; physiotherapy and occupational therapy; and speech therapy.

Ancillary services would be drugs, dressings and medical supplies; diagnostic and laboratory services; hospital and sick room equipment; and transportation.

Admission to the home care program is made at the request of the patient's physician and is normally limited to 30 days.

The St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valley home care program will be only the second one in the province operated by a board of health.

Most others are run by the Victorian Order of Nurses or independent corporate entities; but the provincial government has adopted a policy of assigning this responsibility to the official health agency in each area.

The program may have a special appeal to residents of rural areas who must travel long distances to receive out-patient treatment at a hospital or don't want to go long distances to a hospital and remain away from home if they can be treated at home.

Dr. Peters hopes that 100 patients will be admitted to the home care program by the end of March. He noted that an advisory committee will be selected within the next month.

Projected budget for the first six months is $45,067. The entire sum will be paid by the provincial department of health.

The health unit covers the counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell.

Presentation Made By Kirk Hill Choir

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacPherson were hosts to the Kirk Hill United Church choir for their July practice. Members and visitors made up a company of some 25 people and following practice all enpoyed a Gospel Hymn Sing session.

A special feature of the evening, was the presentation of a beautiful leader-bound family Bible, (King James version) including Concordance, maps, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence MacMillan were the recipients, and the gift was in tribute to them for their services in connection with the work of the choir over a period of years at Kirk Hill United.

Refreshments were served and the hostess provided a beautifully decorated birthday cake, complete with candles, the date being a birthday anniversary of the organist. Following a tradition, the organist was asked to "wish a wish" before blowing out the candles; she took opportunity to voice appreciation for the many kindnesses and commended the members of choir for their devotion to duty, finally expressing the wish that "we maintain the happy associations we have enjoyed over the past few years, in this Service of Praise."

Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson and their sons were thanked for their kindness and hospitality by a member of choir.

Hydro Wage Settlement Will Add To Power Cost

The tentative settlement reached last Saturday by Ontario Hydro and the Ontario Hydro employees' Union on the terms of a new contract is "both fair to our employees and recognizes current economic conditions and our responsibilities to our customers," Mr. D. L. Venutti, Vankleek Hill Area Manager, said today.

The settlement, which is still subject to ratification by the Commission and the Union's 11,500 members, provides for an average wage increase of 13.9 per cent over two years.

It ended more than nine months of bargaining, including 3½ months of mediation by the Ontario Department of Labor and a general work slowdown by Union Employees which started August 27.

George Gathercole, Chairman of Ontario Hydro, in commenting on the settlement said that while the varying wage increases provided for are comparable to current settlements in industry, "there is no doubt that they will add significantly to our costs of providing power." Cost to the Commission will be almost $18 million.

The new contract runs from April 1, 1970 to March 31, 1972. For trades personnel and most other employees, the 1970 wage incraese will be 8.5 per cent, and the 1971 increase 7.25 per cent including a 1.25 per cent prepayment of the escalator clause, which is based on the cost of living.

Weekly salaried clerical staff will get a 6.5 per cent increase this year, and an additional 6.25 per cent in 1971, including the 1.25 per cent prepayment of the escalator clause.

Among other contract terms are a vacation pay bonus for long-service employees and, starting April 1, 1971, 100 per cent payment of premiums for the health plan.

News from Here and There . . .

after you know it all that counts," was commented on by Mrs. Dan MacRae.

The roll call was answered by 20 members and three visitors, naming "A famous Canadian I would like to meet".

After the business part of the meeting, Mrs. Charles MacLean was in charge of the topic Citizenship and Education. She said that Citizenship to be understood and valued must be taught at an early age in Public schools; it is surely as necessary for native Canadians to know the oath of allegiance, the etiquette of the flag, the significance of our national holidays as it is for new Canadians when they take out their citizenship papers.

Our members are invited to the Moose Creek WI branch meeting Thursday evening, the 11th.

Plans were made for the September meeting to be on the 24th at the home of Misses Bertha and Olive Ferguson, Dunvegan.

At the close a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.
