Mayor's Inaugural Address Asks Same Team Work Responsible For Past Progress

Achievements of town council last year were due to team work and harmony declared Mayor Raymond Periard at Tuesday night's inaugural meeting. He hoped that that trend would continue.

"Let us respect each other", he suggested, "and recognize the other's right to his opinions even though they differ from our own". Mayor Periard also asked members of council to observe more closely the rules and procedures during meetings.

"I look forward to this two-year term as one of progress and harmony", he concluded, "and I wish all members of council successful terms of office".

Chief item of business at this inaugural meeting was the selection of committees of council and the re-appointment of Dr. Bernard Villeneuve as council representative on the High School Board and of Dr. D. J. Dolan as Medical Officer of Health.

The clerk was instructed to advertise the vacancy for building inspector resulting from the recent death of Arthur Lauzon. His services were recalled and the clerk was instructed to send an expression of condolence to the family.

R. J. Graham appeared before council on behalf of the arena board and asked for an outline of the grants to be expected. Council approved a $1000 grant and informed Mr. Graham that the Finance Committee would meet soon to discuss possibility of a further grant.

The clerk informed council that he had checked the payments of grants to Glengarry Gardens back to 1953 and that they have been paid on a yearly basis and have been received by the arena board.

The 1964 council met briefly to close out accounts and Mayor Periard expressed appreciation to the outgoing members, Reeve Lloyd McHugh and Councillor Cyril Boisvenu for the fine service rendered the municipality. He also expressed thanks to Clerk-Treasurer Collin and his staff as well as to other employees of the Corporation.

The new council then took over and the mayor welcomed new councillors Lyall Costello and Paul E. Viau while expressing appreciation in the fact many of the former council were remaining in office.

The list of committees follows, the first-named being chairman and the mayor and Reeve Bruno Massie being members of all committees:

Welfare and Sanitation—Bruno Pigeon, Adrien Charlebois, Paul E. Viau.

Fire and Street Lighting—Sam Brunet, Bruno Pigeon, Paul E. Viau.

Industrial Promotion—J. P. Touchette, Sam Brunet, mayor and reeve.

Court of Revision—Brunet, Costello, Pigeon, Charlebois, Touchette.

Finance—Massie, Brunet, Costello and Touchette.

Park and Recreation — Periard, Massie, Viau.

Assessment — Massie, Charlebois, Viau, Pigeon and Costello.

Public Works—Periard, Brunet, Massie and Charlebois.

Area Planning and Development —Periard, Massie and Touchette, with three other citizens to be appointed. Councillors are to bring in suggested names to next meeting.

PUC Planning For Controlled Water Supply In '65

Ray Gammon was re-elected chairman of Alexandria's Public Utilities Commission at the 1965 inaugural meeting last week. There are no changes in personnel from last year other members being J. A. Sabourin, Bert Larocque, Adolphe Lauzon and Mayor Raymond Periard.

The Commission did a lot of work in 1964 but plenty remains to be done this year, the chairman remarked in his opening words. We will have to put in additional water mains to service the new industrial area, he suggested, and we hope to provide a controlled water supply for the town this year. This will entail a control dam at Loch Garry and open ditching between lake and town, he explained. The engineers are now preparing plans and estimates.

The new sub-station planned for the south end of town will probably not be needed for another three years, Mr. Gammon reported. There appears to be sufficient capacity for that period.

Committees were named with the chairman a member of both. They are:

Electrical—J. A. Sabourin, Mayor Periard.

Water—Bert Larocque, Adolphe Lauzon.

Former Kirk Hill Minister Dies

Rev. J. Maxwell Allen, a former minister at Kirk Hill United Church, died January 4th in Guelph, the result of a heart seizure.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rhoda Farris, two sons: Donald Allen at Windsor and John M. Allen at Guelph, one daughter Mrs. J. P. Lee (Isabel) at Rutney, Vermont and 10 grandchildren.

P. E. Rouette Board Chairman

Paul Emile Rouette was re-elected chairman of the Combined RC Separate Schools of Alexandria and Kenyon at the first meeting of the board held Tuesday night. Raymond Rochon was returned as secretary-treasurer.

At the annual meeting of the school section December 30th, Mr. Rouette had been re-elected a trustee with two other retiring trustees, Rene Valade and Lucien Poirier. Other members of the board are Frank McLeister, Rod O'Brien and Paul Roy, florist.

Only 13 ratepayers were present at the annual meeting.

For the first time this year, under provisions of a new education bill, the trustees will be paid for their services. They will receive $360 per year and will be penalized $10 for each meeting they fail to attend.

The influx of new families to town is causing overcrowded conditions in all local schools. There was discussion on the problem but no definite decisions were taken.

The trustees learned repairs are now underway at the Alexander School where some $600 damage was done in an accident over the holidays. A Lanthier truck slipped its brakes and rolled into the school, damaging wall and one window.

Lions Give $5,000 To Help Hospital

The sixth 300-club car draw of Alexandria Lions Club is being held at Green Valley Pavilion, Saturday night, and a feature of the evening will be the presentation by President John Proulx of a cheque for $5,000 to the Glengarry Memorial Hospital board.

This will be the first payment on a $15,000 pledge made last year.

Arrangements for the presentation were made at Monday's dinner meeting when the report of the club's crippled children's committee was presented by Lion John D. Grant, committee treasurer.

The committee report on 1964 activities showed total expenses of $2,187.89 and proceeds from the area drive for funds at only $1302.30. More than $1,000 of the expenditures had been met by funds from the Ontario Society for Crippled Children and the committee had also borrowed $150 from the club treasury to meet outlays which included $705.48 for special boots and braces; $356.80 for transportation of crippled children for treatment; $1061.75 for orthodontal work, a wheel chair and summer camp costs.

Mr. Grant pointed out that while fund donations in the area are falling far short of meeting committee expenditures there are compensations in the progress being made among handicapped children.

Two of them are walking for the first time, he reports.

Mr. Grant made the report in the absence of Harold Nyman, chairman of the crippled children's committee.

SAYING MASS IN JERUSALEM—A nephew of Mrs. R. J. McCallum, Alexandria, Flight Lieut. Rev. Allan McDonald is seen above saying Mass in the Chapel of "Dominus Flevit" (The Lord Wept), in Jerusalem during a tour of the Holy Land in October. Father Allan is serving with the Canadian contingent of the United Nations Emergency Force in the Gaza Strip, Egypt, and he writes most interestingly of his trip to his aunts in Montreal. One of his tour party was LAC Carl Hudd of Cornwall. Flt.-Lieut. McDonald is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Allan McDonald of Montreal, both former Glengarrians.

Former School Inspector Here New Deputy Minister Of Education

A one-time Inspector of Public Schools in Glengarry, Dr. Z. S. Phimister has been named deputy minister of education, a new post in Ontario.

Education Minister Davis has bypassed top officials of his department in his search for a deputy minister, naming an outsider, Dr. Phimister, director of education for the city of Toronto, to the job.

Mr. Davis sprung his surprise at a press conference yesterday during which he announced that Dr. F. S. Rivers, 62, is stepping down as chief director of education after more than 30 years' service with the department.

The title of chief director of education was changed to deputy minister last week. Mr. Davis announced a shake-up of his department at that time, but waited until yesterday to disclose who would fill what job.

Dr. Phimister, 60, leaves a $25,000-a-year post with the city of Toronto to take over the re-organized department. His government salary has not yet been disclosed, however the most highly paid civil servants earn only about $22,000.

Dr. Phimister resided in Alexandria in 1937-38 while serving as IPS for the county.

Promoted With Bell

Ambrose McDonald of Glen Roy, employed at Ottawa with the Bell Telephone Co., on Monday assumed new duties as office manager at Pembroke. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. McDonald.

Golfers Out On January 10

A smattering of snow fell last night, but Glengarry's winter has so far been so snowless that local golf addicts were out on the Alexandria course Sunday, knocking out golf balls. It was cool enough as to demand a heavy sweater or jacket, we hear; but the grass was bare and the sun was shining.

They report it was fun and more than a little unusual to be playing golf on January 10th do Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mutchler, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Macdonald, who were joined by D. R. McDonald, Lancaster, and Franklin McIntosh, Cornwall.

Silver Date In Religious Life

Twenty-five years of religious and missionary life were recognized when Rev. Brother Donat Leblanc was honored at a silver jubilee gathering at Glen Robertson Saturday evening. A son of the late Antoine Leblanc of Glen Robertson, Brother Donat is a member of the Oblate Order and serves in the Northwest diocese of Grouard in Alberta.

His brother, Rev. Leo Leblanc, who had recently arrived home on leave from Nigeria, chanted an Anniversary Mass at 9 p.m. in St. Martin of Tours Church. Most Rev. Aurele Plourde, Auxiliary Bishop of Alexandria, preached the sermon. Among members of the clergy present were the pastor, Rev. Aime Leduc, Rev. Henri Lauzon of Montreal, a cousin, and Rev. Brother Ethier, a fellow missionary in the diocese of Grouard.

Two nephews served the Mass, Aurele Leblanc and Gilles Poirier. In attendance on Bishop Plourde were Roch Leblanc and Gilles Poirier. Rev. Lionel Bourque of Alexandria, was soloist.

Some 250 were present at the supper which followed. A niece, Miss Mariette Leblanc of Alexandria, read an address and a gift was presented by his two youngest nephews, Jean-Pierre Poirier and Gaetan Campeau. Gerard Roy was master of ceremonies and Viateur Ethier, MP, also spoke briefly. In acknowledging the gift and good wishes, Brother Donat eloquently thanked friends and relatives who had gathered from far and near to honor him.

She was employed at Montreal with the Bell Telephone Co. prior to her marriage to Mr. Ross, president of Ross Bros., a wholesale jewelry manufacturing firm. Mrs. Ross had been serving as vice-president of the firm at the time of her death.

An accomplished figure skater, she had been a member of the Silver Blades Club in Montreal and had given several exhibitions on the blades at local carnivals. Mrs. Ross was also interested in swimming and had been connected with that sport in the YWCA. Through the years she had visited frequently at her home here and many friends learned with regret of her death.

To mourn she leaves her husband, her parents, one sister, Lucille, Mrs. Leopold Lalonde of Alexandria; and one brother, Aime Lalonde of Kingston.

Glengarry Has Some Of Ontario's Rural Slum, Globe Writer Reports

Glengarry's economy takes a verbal beating in a story on "Ontario's Rural Slum" appearing earlier this week in The Globe and Mail, Toronto. A staff reporter, Barbara Moon, has been looking over areas of Eastern Ontario which have been designated a "rural research region" under ARDA.

Her travels took her into Glengarry and her description of abandoned farms and scrub cedar lots in the Loch Garry area is anything but flattering. Neither are her statistics on Glengarry as a whole.

Miss Moon quotes from an index to the economic health of Ontario counties and districts prepared by the Department of Geography of the University of Toronto, these statistics:

Glengarry ranks 53rd out of 53 in per capita disposable income ($860 a year; the provincial average is $1,640.)

53rd in homes in need of major repair.

52nd (behind Manitoulin) in average family income; industrialization; percentage of wage earners making more than $600 a year and, importantly, the number of adults in their prime working years;

50th in percentage of population with a university education;

And so on: 50th, 49th, 45th, 50th, 50th, 50th.

Miss Moon's report continues:

"Out of a total of 1,649 farms in Glengarry, 1,281 gross less than $5,000, a year and 151 gross less than $150. In just five years 238 farms have ceased operating, and others are up for sale.

"It seemed like a good place to see what it's like to be forced off the land."

In her Glengarry tour, Miss Moon reports being shown one or two farms that gross more than $25,000, and a number that gross at least $10,000. She talked with one farmer "who made enough last year to go to Florida". But she also saw two miles of road (presumably in the Loch Garry area) with only one set of buildings on it.

"Bad land will, beyond doubt, force at least 7,000 Eastern Ontario families out of farming in the next 15 years" the Toronto writer concludes. "Probably another 3,000 families can stay on the land only if they can be helped to farm more intelligently, or found some supplementary income".

She does see some hope in programs such as ARDA.

Bishops, Clergy And Laity Joined In First Concelebration Of The Mass

St. Finnan's Cathedral was packed Wednesday afternoon for an historic occasion when 11 members of the diocesan clergy participated with His Excellency Bishop Brodeur in a Concelebration of the Mass. The highlight came at the Communion when, as a perfect sign of unity, bishop and priests shared the consecrated host and drank from the same chalice.

The Mass was in the vernacular and, because it was a diocesan ceremony, was bilingual. For the first time in St. Finnan's a member of the laity, Dr. Bernard Villeneuve of Alexandria, read the Epistle. It was read in English and Rev. Henri Bougie read the Gospel in French. The new liturgy was used and hymns were in English and French. The choir of St. Maria Goretti Academy was assisted by three soloists, Revs. Rheal Gagnon, Lionel Bourque and Paul Lapierre.

His Excellency Most Rev. J. Aurele Plourde, DD, Auxiliary Bishop of Alexandria, delivered the sermon.

Bishop Brodeur was celebrant of the Mass and the concelebrants were: Rev. Henri Bougie, Rev. Irenee Gauthier, Msgr. R. J. MacDonald, Msgr. D. A. Kerr, Rev. Francis Lefebvre, Rev. John D. McPhail, Rev. Alcime Poirier, Rev. Aime Leduc, Rev. D. B. McDougald, Rev. Leon Seymour and Rev. Romeo Major.

Msgr. Cyrille Contant was Master of Ceremonies and was assisted by Rev. Rejean Lebrun.

A rite that goes back to the early days of the Christian Church, the era of the apostles, the concelebration of the Mass was abolished in time. The rite was restored by Vatican Council 2. To an extent it favors greater participation of both priests and laity and participation of both priests and laity and emphasizes the unity between bishop and priests.

The occasion of yesterday's concelebration was the monthly day of recollection of the diocesan clergy at the retreat house.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

Night Courses Proving Popular

Night courses in our High School might profitably have been held in prior years judging from the response to those first classes in adult education which got underway last week. More than two hundred were on hand to register for courses in eight subjects and there are undoubtedly others who planned to attend but who were prevented by circumstances from doing so.

The interest in Conversational French which necessitated two classes for this subject seems to indicate that Glengarrians need no convincing of the value of being able to speak Canada's two basic languages. It also emphasizes the fact that the French courses taught in our English schools have not been adequate to the needs or wants of many students.

Why not a class in Conversational English, suggests an editorial in The Halifax Chronicle-Herald. Many people whose native tongue is English, could do a much better job with their own language, reflects the Halifax editor.

"Almost everybody is in grammatical danger here. Newspaper writers are vulnerable because their mistake is printed for a few hundred thousand readers to see.

"It is jarring to hear a fourth year university student make a grade seven error in English, an impeccably dressed panelist on a national TV program commit a sin in grammar, or to find a leading executive lapsing into faulty speech patterns.

"To be natural is desirable for writer and speaker, and it can become a natural thing to speak correctly — allowing for occasional slips. Drill and good conversation can be of great benefit in the search for better speech.

"Classes in Conversational English could be interesting and educative; they would help shyness and hesitancy, develop good talkers — and be fun."

Undoubtedly such a course would be popular, too, with the many foreign-born who now reside among us and who may want to improve their English.

And while we are on the subject of adult education, how about a course in penmanship for those who have gone through our primary schools in recent decades without adequate instruction in handwriting. The world of business today knows junior executives whose writing remains juvenile and who must envy the penmanship of older generations. A course in calligraphy might also prove useful another year.

Memo To Merchants

Business was down slightly in some local stores this past yuletide in comparison with the volume a year ago, we hear. Merchants blame the unchristmaslike weather and another factor may have been the drop in area farm income because of lower milk cheques.

Perhaps the basic reason in some instances is that the merchant is doing a poor selling job. He has to yell to sell and he may not be doing enough yelling in the most telling place, the advertising columns of his local newspaper.

Alexandria stores turned over an estimated four million dollars in sales last year. A lot of those sales were made to newcomers to town and area who may not be aware that you are in business. These strangers in our midst subscribed to the local paper as one of their first actions on arrival. They want to be informed on the local scene and one of the things they want to learn is where they can most profitably do their shopping.

If your name was missing from our advertising columns you may have lost potential new customers.

The month of December brought us 90 new subscribers, entirely unsolicited. Our press run last week was 4,100 and at week's end we had no papers left in the shop for sale. That means an estimated 12,000 people read last week's issue and were not invited to shop at your store, if your advertisement was missing.

We don't like to see business going out of town and that's why we memo to local merchants:

If you deplore '64
And want to revive in '65
—Advertise.

His Type Of Leader Is Needed Now

Monday, January 11th, was the 150th anniversary of the birth of Sir John A. Macdonald, architect of Canadian Confederation, and the anniversary was marked at Kingston by a glittering formal dinner. Leading Canadian political figures gathered for the occasion in that city where the young John A. came with his parents from Scotland in 1820, when he was five years old.

Throughout most of his life, Sir John A. Macdonald had lived in Kingston, attending school, practicing law and representing its citizens in the legislature and then in the Parliament of Canada. 'It was to Kingston he returned for the last time in 1891, to lie in state in the City Hall prior to his burial in nearby Cataraqui Cemetery.

Monday's dinner honoring the memory of Sir John A. was attended by prominent political figures and there must have been among the Conservatives present many who see the need for another leader of his stature if their party is to retain its national status. Since the death of Sir John A. Macdonald the party he founded has seen Liberal governments elected to office at Ottawa for 47 of the 68 years.

The Conservative Party has only once held a majority of Quebec seats since 1887, in 1958. Recent events in Parliament would indicate that there is a very definite split and that many of the party's Quebec members will become Independents.

Party Leader John G. Diefenbaker apparently has no thought of retiring and there seems no faction in the divided Tory ranks capable of forcing him out, even in face of his inept leadership which has alienated Quebec. The decline of the Conservative Party as a national entity may signal the end of the two-party system in Canadian politics. One is left wondering what political force will rise to replace it and what the effect will be on a national unity already threatened.

To our desk last weekend came a brochure from the Centennial Commission, "Prelude To Confederation", and its reading provided a new insight into the events leading to our nationhood. The booming Maritime Provinces of the 1860's demanded building of the Intercolonial Railway as the price of their joining the Province of Canada in a new national entity. When plans for such a railway were stalled the Maritimes decided they must form a common front and revived the idea of Maritime Union. A conference for this purpose was planned and the Province of Canada asked permission to be represented at this meeting in Charlottetown, September 1st, 1864.

The Great Coalition of George Brown's Grits with John A. Macdonald's Tories was formed for the express purpose of furthering federation. The brochure recalls the interprovincial visit of some one hundred Canadians, journalists and political figures, to Saint John and Halifax. Their fraternization paved the way for the Canadian delegation to Charlottetown and Halifax where Macdonald, Cartier and other Fathers of Confederation convinced their Maritime confreres that a larger federation of all British North American Provinces would be preferable to a smaller union of the Maritime Provinces.

The Confederation drama was played against the background of the Civil War and the threat which the United States represented was a compelling factor toward union. The brochure recalls the Union Act of 1841 which joined Lower Canada (now Quebec) with Canada West in a new Province of Canada. Economic conditions in the various provinces a century ago are touched on and one is given a picture of the setting from which the Canadian confederacy emerged.

"Prelude to Confederation" left us with a rekindled respect for the statesmen of that era, men of the stripe of Macdonald, Brown and Cartier, who were big enough to put local issues and personal differences aside to work for a dream of national unity.

These men loom as giants in comparison with the politicians at Ottawa today, whose pettiness threatens to make a mockery of any centennial celebration of what was accomplished in 1867. This booklet should be required reading for Members of the Commons who wasted a year squabbling over a flag.

The dedicated leadership of a Sir John A. Macdonald was never so wanting as in this year when his 150th birthday is being marked. He fought for and achieved national unity. Today even the party he led is sadly divided.

A sad accident occurred at Dunvegan, Tuesday of last week when Robert D. Urquhart, 36 of Skye, was instantly killed and Hugh McIntosh seriously injured. The men were working in a gravel pit when a large quantity of gravel fell on them. — The 8-month old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rochon was burned to death when fire destroyed the double tenement on Bishop Street south, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Rochon and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph St. John. — One of Alexandria's most prominent citizens died Wednesday evening in the person of John Simpson, county registrar. He was 77. — John McMartin of Cornwall, was nominated Liberal candidate in the new riding of Glengarry-Stormont at a meeting held here Monday.

SIXTY YEARS AGO—

John Ban McMillan, formerly of 29-5th Lochiel and the 3rd Kenyon, was killed at Wahnapatae, Ont., on Monday, when he was struck by a railroad engine. He was 74 years of age. — A. J. McDonald announces the re-opening of the Grand Union Hotel which has been thoroughly renovated since the fire. — A. and R. Campbell of Baltic's Corners, sawed 80 cords of wood in a day for J. J. McDonald, Fassifern. How is that for a record? — The Winnipeg Free Press carries a report of the activities of J. D. McArthur, railway contractor, who hails from Lancaster. Mr. McArthur's outfit has returned from the scene of construction on the CNR Edmonton line and has been sent into the lumber woods for the winter. — D. A. Chisholm, Fisk's Corner is preparing to leave for the West in the Spring. — Sandy Campbell of Baltic's left for South Woods last week in company with T. Campbell and D. McLeod who were visiting friends here on New Year's. — Miss Emma Campbell, Breadalbane, left on Monday for Montreal, where she is to take a course in music. — J. J. Urquhart and family of Maxville, leave shortly for New Liskeard where they will reside.

The Weeklies Say

WIVES PLEASE NOTE

Mrs. Fanny Berridge of Grimsby, England, has been married for 77 years. Here is her advice on how to achieve wedded bliss: "Let his word be final. Remember, he is a man and is more likely to be right than you." We sympathize with any husband who dares to read this advice aloud to his wife.

EXPANSIVE IDEAS

One is inclined to doubt that Premier Bennett is any more serious in his bid to take over the Yukon and the Northwest Territories than the efforts by Yellowknife citizens a few years ago to readmit the prairie provinces into the Northwest Territories. It is dreamed that the takeover by BC would bring about an immediate flood of prosperity, but no one has explained how or why.—Yellowknife (NWT) News of the North.

SURCHARGES HURT

How long will they last? That is the basic question on the British surcharges on imports which will affect about one-third of Canadian exports to Britain . . . It will be harder for Canada, and every other nation selling products in these categories, to find business in Britain.

—Campbellton (NB) Tribune

DECISION BAFFLES

The cabinet's reasons for rejecting the sentence of the courts and granting a commutation (in the Lloyd Meeker case) are still obscure. If the cabinet plans to go on commuting death sentences . . . it should place its moral convictions before Parliament, which is the fit arbiter of such issues.

RAMBLING REPORTER

by Ed.

A woman looks at a secret two ways. Either it's not worth keeping or it's too good to keep.

COLOR IN THE COUNTRY

Before he gets too far from Christmas your Rambling Reporter wants to make an observation on the outdoor lights. They brighten up a town no end, give an air of warmth and community spirit. But they are even more warming and welcome when seen on a farm home in the dark of night.

And a lot of country homes are sporting the decorative lights now.

He took the St. Clet short route from Montreal one night after Christmas and it was a blaze of color. Almost every roadside home boasted some degree of outdoor decoration. The trip was made shorter by those friendly beacons ahead and he was left wondering why some brain in Ontario Hydro or Hydro Quebec doesn't think up some scheme for keeping that outdoor lighting year round.

Then they'd be selling more power; and we'd have lighted highways, up to a point.

Those country lights were a reminder that we've come a long way since the lamp lighting days when a man named Adam Beck dreamed up Hydro.

OVER-EXPOSED

The editor is still working on that New Year's resolution to keep his desk clean, but so much trash lands on it with every mail he's gonna need a larger wastebasket.

Ottawa's Department of Agriculture is about the worst offender among the many departments of government which apparently spend most of their time and money stuffing Her Majesty's mails with uninformative information for the weekly press. The Public Relations staff of that department seems bent on plowing the editor under.

Defence Minister Hellyer is reportedly making some progress on unifying the Services and probably a bunch of his PR men have been turned over to the World's Fair organization. The three Services must be represented in Expo publicity because we're getting three copies of every release of the Expo Digest.

One comes addressed to the Publisher, another to the Editor and a third to the Woman's Editor. They come often and they are notable for their lack of news interest. With more than two years to go yet before the World's Fair opens we're wondering if Expo will run out of words, or find itself short of money to meet all these salaries and costs of paper. It's in the red ink already.

Governments may piously affirm their intentions to cut costs. The weekly newspaperman will remain a doubting Thomas as long as the flood of stupid publicity releases keeps rolling in with every mail.

Expo is already over-exposed.

Now that the festivities are over and the Alexandria area is looking forward to a happy and prosperous 1965, I hope we won't forget those friends and acquaintances for whom the New Year has not started out so well.

I'm thinking in particular of "shut-ins" — people who can't get around easily and are therefore confined to the house. Day after day can get terribly monotonous for them (tragically so if they're alone) and yet it's so easy to break that monotony and cheer them up a bit! A simple telephone call — even if you don't have anything special to say — can mean a great deal.

We sometimes forget people when we don't see them around as usual. But if the reason they're not around is that they're ill and confined to the house, then this is precisely the time we should be remembering them. So let's not forget! — Let's make that simple call, and often!

ABOUT TIME

On the morning of her fourth birthday, a miss named Nancy came into the house after playing in the yard. "Mommy," she asked, "did I get a phone call this morning?"

"No, dear," her mother said, a little surprised but equal to the occasion, "were you expecting a call?"

"Well," said Nancy, "I'm four years old now, so it's about time someone called me."

Would someone special like to hear from you? Someone special who's far away? Birthday or not, Long Distance calls go over big with friends — and they're pleasant for you, too!

THEN WHAT HAPPENED?

This little story, reported by a telephone company in Florida, is too good not to pass along to telephone users up here. It certainly points out the importance of calling the right number!

A chap, belatedly realizing he would be detained at his office, hurriedly dialed his wife, dialed wrong and, when a woman answered, blurted out that he'd be late getting home. Before she could set him straight, her own husband, who had overheard, grabbed the phone and said, "Okay, Buddy, no hurry at all, take your time . . ." Yiiii!

Brian Besner was top scorer for Maxville's senior team with 10. Blaney had 5, Kinnear 4, Leonard, MacGregor and McDermid, 2 each.

Char-Lan Girls Won Over St. Lawrence High

Penny McDonell walked away with top honors by scoring 12 of the 24 points in the overwhelming victory of Char-Lan over St. Lawrence High School in Cornwall. The second exhibition game won by the Char-Lan Seniors makes their prospects in the Glengarry-Prescott loop look very bright.

St. Lawrence, although keen, were unable to follow the agile, spirited Char-Lan team. Bernadette Lalonde repeatedly assisted and developed on drives leaving the St. Lawrence guards blinking in wonder. The St. Lawrence girls struggled to the bitter end but only in the fourth quarter were they able to make a small mark on the score board. The evening was complete when a delicious lunch was served by the hostessing team.

She had been active in the Red Cross and in the affairs of Glen Nevis parish until her removal to Ottawa and subsequently to the Toronto area.

Thomas Villeneuve, in the presence of a large number of neighbors, friends and relatives.

Rev. Stuart MacMillan was in the Sanctuary. Sisters from the Macdonell Memorial, and Hotel Dieu hospitals, were in attendance.

Mr. Macdonell was the only son of the late John and Margery Macdonell of the Apple Hill area. He was of a quiet, kindly nature with a keen sense of humor which endeared him to all who knew him.

VICTOR 101 SUPER

the 1965 Victor

It's gracefully wider and elegantly longer. That's how the 1965 Victor 101 gets its brilliant new styling. And lots more is new besides. A new roominess that comes from the new curved glass side windows . . . an extra 4 inches of shoulder room that takes the squeeze out of three-abreast seating. There's new luggage space in the bigger trunk. New year 'round driving comfort in Victor's new heating and ventilation system. New efficiency in self-adjusting brakes. New durability in extra rustproofing and weathersealing. New extra power too. On the other hand, some things haven't changed. Like Victor's pocket-saving gas economy and delightfully easy handling. They're permanent Vauxhall features. But only first-hand experience could ever tell you all the new Victor 101 has to offer. So don't delay! See and test drive the 1965 Victor 101.

Here are three important reasons why it will pay you to renovate and redecorate your home now!

1 SKILLED MEN ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! Although more and more building is being done each winter, exterior construction does slow down during the cold weather. As a result, home improvement contractors and skilled craftsmen seek out the smaller interior jobs that they are unable to handle during the summer. You benefit—with skilled workmanship by experienced tradesmen when it's most convenient to you!

2 DISCOUNTS AND LOANS ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! To create incentives that will balance their sales and keep their staff employed throughout the year, building supply dealers run winter sales. These special discounts help you renovate and redecorate at the lowest possible cost. You'll find your bank a good place to visit, too—for low-interest Home Improvement Loans under the National Housing Act: up to $4,000.00, with up to ten years to repay!

3 MATERIALS ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! When building slows down, materials become more readily available. Result: irritating delays in completing your job because of late delivery of supplies are eliminated!

There's no doubt about it. Winter is the very best time to spruce up your home (and your place of business)—quickly, efficiently, inexpensively!

For advice and assistance call your National Employment Office

Everyone benefits when winter work is increased. DO IT NOW!

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Returning to the sport trails, following the Yuletide break, our first port of call was Glengarry Gardens.

In the interim the Gardens had opened. Seeking promotional help and leadership in this direction a deal had been made with Bill Gallant of CJSS, Cornwall. Bill is a brother of "Hoppy" Gallant, a well known sportsminded citizen and craftsman of Ourtown. Bill will be assisted by his brother.

Late Saturday afternoon the writer dropped into the Gardens' office. We had an interesting and informative chat with president, Wilfred Menard, and manager, R. J. Graham.

Wilfred Menard was, as usual, quite dapper with fur cap, looking the bank executive type. Bob Graham, also, quite dapper in his work attire, and have you ever seen Bob when he couldn't muster a smile?

We thought it to be an ironic situation. Neither of these two widely known and highly respected businessmen and sportsmen have grass roots in Alexandria. Wilfred Menard hails from down Green Valley way, while Bob Graham came to town from north of the county many years ago. Both have grandchildren to augment their homes. Yet on a Saturday at the dinner hour, when they should rightfully be reading or lounging around their living room, they were both fulfilling their duties at the Gardens. With no investment dividends to be concerned about, their attendance then is a fine example of loyalty to a community where they have enjoyed a considerable measure of success.

We asked the president about their present plans. "Well", replied Wilfred, "we appreciated the drive and determination of Jean-Paul Touchette to re-open the Gardens, and we co-operated". "Bob, here", Wilfred continued, "will tell you of our promotion plan."

Bob Graham very concisely told us they were eager to have someone with promotional experience who would draft and schedule a practical sports program for the Gardens. Hence the deal that brought in Bill Gallant from CJSS. It was admitted that the lateness of the season is a handicap to the Gardens and the Gallant brothers.

A further handicap, we learned, is the method or system of the grant being paid by Alexandria. We were told that the 1963-64 amount promised the Gardens had not been paid as of January 9, 1965. It appears there is no definite date or deadline, hence one year overlaps into the next. We understand from a member of last council that this money had been voted.

Such a formula is less than businesslike. Furthermore, it creates sort of a discrimination. For instance, why should a neighboring township or townships pay while Alexandria lags behind? This information as to operations, we have been told, is authentic, and obviously does not create a pleasant co-operative atmosphere. However, may we suggest that the past is all water under the bridge. Alexandria has promised a larger grant in lieu of not buying the Gardens, at least until a later date. We trust amounts and time of remittance will be agreed upon, thus the Gardens will know exactly how and where they stand at the beginning, end, or any given time of the year. The Gardens, like Argos and their new coach, Bob Shaw, have only one way to go and that is up.

Getting back to promotion. Already minor hockey appears to have received a shot in the arm with especially more coaches offering their time. There was never any lack of enthusiasm among the youngsters.

Intermediate hockey could well be on the way back. Last Saturday night Glengarry All Stars defeated the strong Cornwall Junior Club 7-5 before a fairly large crowd.

This Sunday afternoon Long Sault plays Alexandria here. The Long Sault hockey league has arranged their schedule admitting and permitting Alexandria to play in the loop for the balance of the season. This is one of the finest sport gestures your agent has seen in many a season. St. Regis will be here on a future Sunday but not with lacrosse sticks. Who knows but that this hockey set-up for the immediate future could bring us back to the lacrosse days of Williamstown, St. Regis, St. Andrew's and Long Sault.

HITHER AND YON

Those remarks by Ted Lindsay of refusing to pay the NHL fines, Clarence Campbell's Kangaroo Court, etc., brought to mind the occasion when an overzealous local policeman brought an OTA offender before Ourtown's Magistrate, the late E. J. Dever. The Cadi, being a kindly soul, assessed a minimum fine . . . a la Ted Lindsay, the offender said, "You'll never get it Mr. Dever" . . . Minor hockey holding an important meeting in the "Hub" this Friday evening . . . All boosters should be on hand . . . Lancaster, Williamstown, St. Raphael's and Glen Robertson keenly interested in the minors and the Gardens . . . Last season a qualified instructor-coach, Gilles Joanette, Glen Robertson, had to be bypassed locally due to lack of funds . . . this season, the same capable Gilles travels to St. Isadore and is paid triple his asking of last year . . . who is kidding whom?

A local minor hockey coach benched a player for what was considered a breach of discipline. Like the teacher in school, the coach is boss as it should be.

Memo to Tom (Syracuse) Fahey . . . thanks for clippings . . . your Syracuse Stars gave the visiting Russian hockey team fine opposition before yielding . . . we thought your Syracuse football team held the edge in the Sugar Bowl game, however, its the points on the scoreboard that count, not opinions.

Keith McMillan, an interested curling fan at the Tournament of Champions in Maple Leaf Gardens last week . . . Keith saw the Richardsons and Gervais at their best, and chatted with highly rated skip Cameron (PEI) . . . Incidentally, Hec Gervais and his Edmonton rink won $5,000 in merchandise as winners.

That fine display of trophies you see in the Ottawa Hotel show case window (Main Street) will be awarded at the annual Rod and Gun Club presentation night to be held early in February . . . more anon . . .

Nice to know that old No. 70, Bob Simpson, is back in Ottawa . . . Gordon (Ottawa Journal) Lomer tells in his "Below the Hill" column of Bob's return . . . Gord quoted Bob as saying he tried to go too far too fast on too little, but will start all over again.

8—In Memoriam

LACOMBE—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Norman Lacombe, who passed away so suddenly January 8th, 1961.
Four sad and lonely years have passed
Since our great sorrow fell.
The shock that we received that day
No one can ever tell.
God gave us strength to meet it
And courage to bear the blow.
It's lonely here without you,
We miss you more each day,
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.
You bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said "goodbye"
You were gone before we realized
And only God knows why.
—Ever remembered by wife and children, Mrs. Norman Lacombe
