A family's loss

Alexandria Fire Department Deputy Chief Jim Graham surveys the scene at Lot 2, Conc. 7, Lochiel Township, where a fire completely destroyed the home of the Walter and Ursula Jungen family. There were no injuries reported. Staff photo — Joe Banks

Dalkeith family homeless after fire

The number 28 is not one the Walter Jungen family is likely to easily forget.

On March 28, 1980, Mr. Jungen, wife Ursula and children Thomas and Susie began a new life as Canadian farmers in Lochiel Township after journeying from their native Switzerland.

Last Thursday, April 28, exactly eight years and a month later, the dreams and promises the newcomers held came tumbling down in a ball of flames and smoke when fire destroyed their farmhouse at Lot 2, Conc. 8, about two miles northeast of Dalkeith.

Firefighters from the Alexandria Fire Department arrived at the scene at 11:15 a.m. to a fully engulfed home, and could only prevent the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. Within minutes, it was little more than a heap of burning debris. All contents were also lost.

Some 12 firefighters from the department were at the scene for almost two hours, keeping an eye on the burning rubble.

Mrs. Jungen said in a telephone interview Tuesday from the Howard Nobel home, where the family is staying temporarily, that she suspects the fire might have resulted from an electrical problem.

Before departing on a shopping trip at 10 a.m., she'd had trouble getting the dryer to work. After re-setting the breaker which had flipped off, and unsuccessfully trying to start the dryer again, she left the house.

"I thought I would call to get it fixed later," she said.

MacEwen Fuels fires latest salvo in local gas war

by Lesley Cadham,
News* editor

A Glengarry fuel distributor has reignited the gas price war in hopes of burning it out once and for all.

Allan MacEwen of the Maxville-based MacEwen Fuels said Tuesday that when the company delivered fuel to its five Glengarry dealers on Monday, it also suggested that the price of regular and unleaded gas be lowered by a substantial 4¢ a litre.

The dealers, Daniel's Gas Bar just outside of Alexandria, Yves Lamoureux Service Station, Fassifern General Store, C&D Auto Service in Green Valley and Mac's Mini-Mart in Lancaster, followed the suggestion and decreased the price of regular gas to almost 40¢ a litre.

By yesterday (Tuesday) morning, several other Alexandria and Lancaster area gas stations had dropped their prices.

Pierre Deschamps, manager of the Cango station in Alexandria said he called Cango headquarters to say that MacEwen had lowered its prices; Cango suggested Mr. Deschamps do likewise.

Gas at Cango was 40.2¢ a litre yesterday.

And Top Valu in Alexandria went from 44.1¢ Monday to 40.2¢ yesterday and R&D Lajoie (Esso) decreased slightly from 47.9¢ to 45.9¢ the same day.

R&D Lajoie owner Robert Lajoie said he had lowered his prices to remain competitive but said he didn't know whether he'd take the plunge to 40¢.

He added, "We don't move that fast. If we have to adjust, we'll adjust (prices) over four days."

And a quick check of the Lancaster area showed that Pro-stop dropped prices by almost 4¢ a litre yesterday. The owner said she'd received a call from the Pro-stop headquarters in the morning, instructing her to lower the price from 44.1¢ to 40.2¢ a litre.

But Petro-Canada and St. Pierre Shell Service Station, both in Lancaster, had not adjusted their prices as of yesterday afternoon.

Mr. MacEwen said his company had decided to chop 4¢ from the per litre cost of gas at once, instead of reducing the price by the customary two-tenths of a cent a day to "speed up the process."

He said he made the move because "one company is carrying on the price war down there (Alexandria) and they are supported by a refinery. So they don't care about the price as much as a company such as MacEwen does."

"It's not fair business. It's like we're being pushed around by the major oil companies," he said.

He also said he wasn't sure how much longer MacEwen Fuels could stand the war, stating that it threatened the stability of the small company.

"We were losing money long before the price hit 44.3¢." Though he wouldn't translate the loss into dollars, he did say that "it's a lot of money, not just for ourselves but for our dealers."

C&D Auto Service owner Cliff Massie, supplied by MacEwen, said his company is losing about 6¢ a litre. Though he says he's not sure what the outcome of MacEwen's tactics will be, he's going to continue selling at the lower price.

He also said he feels the gas war has confused consumers because they're never sure when to fill up to get the best deal.

"One day it's high and the next day it's low," he said of the price of gas, adding that business was good Monday, and that people just seem to know when the price has gone down.

Charlottenburgh councillors vote themselves 10% pay raise

Charlottenburgh residents will see a 4.71 per cent rise in municipal taxes this year, following council's approval of a combined and capital budget of $6,521,418 arrived at after deliberations held April 27.

Included in the budget is a pay rise of 10 per cent for councillors over a two-year period. Councillors Carol-Ann Ross, Edgar Prevost, and Larry Gordon will now receive pay of $5,723, up from their previous $5,191. Five per cent of the increase is retroactive to Jan. 1 of last year, whle the other five per cent was effective Jan. 1 of this year.

Reeve Morgan Major's remuneration will be $7,750, up from $7,030 and Deputy-Reeve Bob Roth, who was getting $5,938, will now earn $6,235.

Councillor Larry Gordon, who moved for the increases, said that Council had some "catching up" to do. Mr. Gordon was referring to the fact that there was no increase in councillors' salaries last year, even though their workload had increased "tremendously."

Chief Administrator Jay Currier told council that of the budget's total amount, some $1,110,995 would have to be raised in local taxes, while the province of Ontario would provide the rest.

Citizen banquet tickets selling slowly

Ticket sales for the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce Citizens Awards banquet tonight (Wednesday, May 4) are going slowly, but organizers are hoping many people will decide to buy at the door.

Chamber President Claude Poirier said Monday that "very few" tickets had been sold up to the end of last week.

"Last year we wanted it (the banquet) small and it went big. This year we want it big and it's going small," he said.

Gerard Roy earned the Citizen of the Year award, Gerard Lefebvre was named Businessperson of the Year and GDHS student Randy Picher was selected as Youth of the Year.

The banquet will be held at the Glengarry Sports Palace tonight. Cocktails will be at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Admission is $16 per person.

Bittersweet budgets adopted by school boards

by Janet Clermont
Staff writer

The bitter and the sweet of the SD&G public and separate school board budgets were unanimously approved last week.

Public board trustees approved a combined elementary and secondary school budget of $72 million Thursday night, which is $5 million more than last year. The county board is laying the blame for a 6.2 per cent overall hike in taxes at the feet of the provincial government.

The hike means the average ratepayer with property assessed at $4,500 will pay $38.50 more than the $625 paid in 1987.

The separate school board will spend 20.8 per cent more in 1988 that it did last year, after trustees approved a combined $48.7 million budget, April 26. Taxes will be raised to $32.65 on property assessed at $5,000.

Local taxes will bring in $1.7 million more for the Catholic board's elementary schools and $1.2 million for St. Joseph's, the board's only secondary school.

The separate board budget preamble states: "This budget reflects the new grant regulations and we are indeed happy to report that the emphasis we have placed on reducing class sizes at Grade 1 and 2 levels has financially been recognized by the government."

Provincial Treasurer Robert Nixon announced a 6.8 per cent increase in transfer payments to public school boards, last fall.

County board Chairman Joe Gunn said he was expecting a 6.8 per cent increase in provincial grants, or at least a 4.5 per cent raise to match inflation. However, the board received 3.6 per cent more for elementary and 1.2 per cent more for high schools.

"By cutting grants, the government is putting pressure on local tax payers," said Mr. Gunn during a press conference Tuesday.

Though the board is increasing levies by 6.2 per cent overall, the ratepayers of Lancaster and Lancaster Village could be hit the hardest.

Public board blames province for constraints

Levies going up

Lancaster Village levies will increase by 16.9 per cent, up $14,346 to $99,155. Lancaster Township will dish out an extra $87,704, or 15.6 per cent up to $646,642 in 1987.

The town of Alexandria's levies will go up 14.9 per cent to $495,087; Maxville is faced with a 10.4 per cent increase or $12,734 for a total of $134,552; the Township of Charlottenburgh will pay a total of $1,416,444 in 1988, up 11 per cent from $1,275,568 in 1987; Lochiel will pay a total of $386,059 this year, 11.6 per cent more than $345,819 in 1987.

The Township of Kenyon has the lowest increase of the municipalities in Glengarry.

Taxes will increase 4.8 per cent, or $17,559 more than the $376,055 paid in 1987.

County Board Administrator Ken Grant said the amount of taxes paid by the landowners could fluctuate.

"We (the board) don't set the mill rate, the municipalities do. They could take money from a reserve fund to lower the taxes."

Mr. Grant said the substantial increase in Glengarry could be attributed to a higher land assessment.

"If there have been new buildings or businesses set up, then this would explain the increase."

In its budget notes, the county board blamed the province for the tax increase. The preamble states: "The grant provided to the board in 1988 has been reduced from 56.26 per cent in 1987 to 52.61 per cent in 1988."

According to the budget, the board will get $1.3 million less from the province in 1988 than in 1987.

The board also has to bear the cost of textbooks for Grade 13 students in 1988; in the past students have had to pay.

Finance chairman Sandra Enns said the books will cost $200,000, however the province is only providing $55,000. The balance will be collected through the tax increase.

Questioning support

The budget notes stated: "We must go on record as seriously questioning the commitment and support of the Province of Ontario. The government has chosen through manupulation of the General Legislative Grants to reduce support of education, which reduction in support drastically impacts upon SD&G Counties."

The county board was originally faced with expenditures estimated at $31,168,536. In light of the 1988 budget, the amount will be reduced by $912,000 to provide an overall operating budget of $30,256,258 at the elementary level.

Director of Education Rosaire Leger said "the board

Time has almost caught up with all the Glengarrians who have not yet purchased their tickets to this year's citizens of the year banquet. The event will take place tonight (Wednesday) and I heartily encourage everyone to pre-set their VCRs (my, but they're popular nowadays) and grace the Glengarry Sports Palace to honor Gerard Roy, Gerard Lefebvre and Randy Picher. The sum of $16 will buy the opportunity to watch these people modestly glow among their peers.

Hard to believe, but even the hard-working Save the Train committee is going to take a break to enjoy some of summer's finer activities. The final meeting will take place tomorrow night (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at Alexandria town hall. And once again, VIA Rail's Tony Kyffin, this region's director of sales and marketing will be on hand to discuss some of VIA's new ideas. Naturally, the public is welcome.

A representative from Transport 2000 will also be present to answer questions.

If you're like us, you're looking back at April and thinking that it was a tragic month, weather-wise. But unbelievably, April's temperatures were normal overall; the high reached 18 C and the low dipped to a chilly -4.5 C. The first half of the month was above normal and the last half was quite frigid. Our weatherman, George Hambleton, doesn't really have to tell us that, we know how many extra blankets had to be pulled from the cedar chest during the last few weeks. Thankfully, only a trace of snow fell, but rainfall was more voluminous than usual at 90 mm.

Speaking of weather, Thursday's nasty bout didn't deter 210 citizens from trekking over to the Knights of Columbus blood donor clinic. Reports are that there were a lot more people than last year; 187 actually donated blood and 25 were deferred. The clinic was held at Ecole Perpetuel Secours.

The SD&G Highland Dancing Association has announced that Alexandrian Barbara Deschamps is the lucky winner of a "fan quilt." The draw took place April 23.

The Heart and Stroke Foundation is offering an exciting affair for the heart at Stedmans, Wednesday, May 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. And it's perfectly legal. Have your health checked at the blood pressure clinic in honor of Nurses Week. It's painless.

The foundation also suggests that people follow a few points to help maintain normal blood pressure: Have your blood pressure checked regularly, keep your weight within a normal range for your height and body build, don't smoke and try to cut down on the amount of salt you use. Also exercise regularly and make an effort to cope with stressful situations.

And if you suspect you may have high blood pressure, what easier way to find out than to drop by Stedmans on Wednesday for a blink-of-the-eye examination.

Top students

Two Glengarry District High School Grade 12 students participated recently in an accounting and keyboard competition in Cornwall against other SD&G students. Cheryl Leroux finished in first place in the senior keyboarding competition, while Wayne O'Connell finished in second place in the junior accounting competition.

Pay raise for councillors

Included in the budget is $5,000 which has been set aside to help Charlottenburgh participate in a Remedial Action plan, designed to begin clean-up of pollution in the St. Lawrence River. The township has expressed concerns recently over the possibility of PCBs and other toxins in the river.

Council also raised the fees for participation in some of the township's minor sports programs from $40 to $55, a move strongly disapproved of by Recreation Director Brent Daigle, who warned that participation in the programs will decrease as a result.

Breakdown of the total budget sees $472,760 going to general government, $207,157 for protection to persons and property, and the major share, $912,515 slated for transportation services.

Recreation and culture will receive $455,641 and planning and development, $283,923.

Last year's municipal tax increase in Charlottenburgh was 3.9 per cent.

Dalkeith family homeless

Walter Jungen was working out in the barn when the fire broke out. After noticing "black smoke" coming from the back of the house, he attempted to get in to use the phone. The inside, however, was already burning and full of smoke.

An old cedar house, it burned quickly once it reached the roof.

"It's hard to believe a house could burn that fast," Mrs. Jungen said.

"If it would have happened at night, I doubt if we would have got out alive."

Mrs. Jungen said the house was insured and, including contents, estimated the loss at between $150,000 and $160,000.

She said the family is planning to re-build a house, but in the meantime friends have loaned them some campers to keep on the site.

Donations are being accepted at Goulet's Store in Dalkeith and friends and neighbors have organized a committee to canvass locally. A benefit dance is also being planned.

Councillor voices support for pollution concerns

Charlottenburgh Township Councillor Carol-Ann Ross has voiced support for Deputy-Reeve Bob Roth's concerns about pollution in the St. Lawrence River.

"Bob's comments were made for the residents' safety," said Mrs. Ross, "not to delay the Purcell project in any way, as some people have been suggesting."

Deputy-Reeve Roth, at a previous meeting of council, had pointed out discrepancies in information from Ministry of the Environment (MOE) officials and other environmental groups regarding toxics in the St. Lawrence. Mr. Roth called for investigation into the possibility of obtaining a carbon filter for the water in-take pipe at the Purcell Sewage and Water Treatment Plant currently being constructed in Glen Walter.

Mrs. Ross said she backed Mr. Roth completely and felt that the township should take responsibility for contacting the MOE to demand that a carbon filter be installed.

"I feel very strongly that the problem has been created, not by Charlottenburgh, but by private industrial polluters. The filter should be paid for by the provincial government, and if there are health problems, then the province should be held responsible," said Mrs. Ross.

The deputy-reeve reiterated that he was definitely not trying to hold back the project which he said he has tried to "push", but said he felt it would be "irresponsible" for a government body to ignore that fact that toxics are present both in the water and the sediment.

Mr. Roth said he couldn't understand why there were "advisories out against eating contaminated fish from Lake St. Francis, but the province says it's all right to drink the water the fish swim in."

Reeve Morgan Major said he felt that council had enough information for a "hearty discussion" on the matter and instructed that a representative from the Cornwall office of the Ministry of the Environment be invited to a meeting to speak to councillors and explain results of MOE testings which downplay Charlottenburgh's concerns.

Gerry McKenna, district manager of the ministry's regional office has been asked to attend the next council meeting to answer questions on the quality of drinking water in the Purcell project area.

Last Chance Bonspiel

Maxville Curling Club's past-presidents gathered at the club to pay homage to the old building, which officially closed April 16. Most also took part in the Last Chance Bonspiel, an all-day and all-night curling bash which started at 2 p.m. April 15 and ended at midnight April 16. Past-presidents in the back row from the left are Bill Kippen, James Zeran, Ian D. MacLeod, Gordon Scott, Gary Smith, James Gamble, Gaston Lalonde, Rene Lalonde, Verna MacGregor, Beulah Quart and Dr. Don Gamble. In the front row are Catherine Kippen, Wayne Armstrong, Jean Campbell, Bruno Besner, Bill Metcalfe and Stuart McKay. The new club, to be built next to the old structure this summer, is expected to open in October.

Solvent-filled barrels face uncertain future

by Janet Clermont
Staff writer

The Ministry of Environment (MOE) is still making arrangements for the disposal of barrels of toxic solvent that were found buried behind the Consoltex plant in Alexandria.

Investigating Officer Ron Robertson said Tuesday, the 28 drums that were recovered are to be transported from the plant and will probably be burned. He was not certain when they would be removed from the site or where they would be transported to.

The barrels of toxic solvent were recovered in March by bulldozers, after being buried for about 15 years. The ministry was first called in March 25, by the textile processing plant when the first drum was discovered.

Mr. Robertson also said that charges against Consoltex may be laid. However, the Investigations and Enforcement Branch of MOE would neither confirm nor deny Mr. Robertson's statement.

Repeated attempts to contact Consoltex Plant Manager Yves Cheney were unsuccessful. The Consoltex office in Montreal was contacted and referred The Glengarry News back to the plant in Alexandria.

Mr. Robertson said the solvent was extracted from the barrels and placed in recovery drums, which are being stored in a trailor on site. The old barrels also remain at the plant and will be transported to a disposal site either in Quebec or Sarnia.

"A person who is qualified to handle these materials will transport them, but we don't know when just yet," he said.

A magnetometer survey was conducted by a special crew from the environmental office in Toronto, last month. Mr. Robertson said he is confident that all the barrels have been removed from the ground.

"The solvent has been safely stored and is not a potential danger for local residents."

Consoltex hired Sanexen, a Montreal environmental cleanup consultant firm, to advise on containment and disposal.

The solvent was used by Consoltex about 15 years ago as a scouring agent to remove chemicals from fabrics. The solvent, a combination of xylene, a degreaser and ethyl benzine and methylene chloride, both cleaning solvents, is no longer used by the firm.

Consoltex plants also operate out of Quebec in Cowansville, Drummondville and Montmagny. The Alexandria plant has been in operation since 1965.

Committee formed to examine pool plans

Over 25 individuals from Alexandria and other communities in Glengarry came together last Wednesday night to look into building a seasonal swimming pool in Alexandria's Island Park.

Those present elected a steering committee executive and smaller subcommittees which would examine other aspects of such a proposal.

The committee's first task, members agreed, is to examine an offshore swimming pool proposal which the town is considering. It would be constructed in the lake, 36 feet from shore and would consist of a vinyl pool supported by access docks. Proposed by a London, Ont. company, it's stated cost would be $118,500.

Glen Norman women Jocelyn Brunet and Suzanne Carriere organized the meeting which drew, among others, local car dealership owner Roger Roy, lawyer Pierre Aubry and accountant Gilles Paradis.

Copies of the offshore swimming pool proposal were distributed to those present. Some people suggested it should be rejected outright.

"I wouldn't take my kids there," Chloe Ann Pelletier said. "It's the same as they've got there now."

The group ruled out, for the time being at least, building an indoor pool that would cost $500,000 or more. Discussion centered around construction of an in-ground pool somewhere in the Alexandria park.

Mrs. Brunet was elected by the group to head the committee as president, Suzanne Carriere was elected vice president, Gilles Paradis, treasurer and Michel Ferland was elected secretary.

Directors representing the municipalities in Glengarry include Gisele Miron from Charlottenburgh, Alain Lamarche from Lochiel, Roger Roy from Lancaster Township, Pierre Aubry from Alexandria and Andre Lefebvre from Kenyon.

A committee to examine the feasibility of other projects will consist of Anne Tuppert, Chloe Anne Pelletier, Stan Fraser, Gilles Cadieux, Marc Sauve and Raymond Lefebvre.

The group decided to come up with a "slogan contest" to help promote the construction of a pool in the town. It agreed to offer a $50 prize to the author of the best slogan. An ad with details appears on page 9 of this week's News.

Entries can be dropped of at The News, Stedmans or Caisse Populaire or they can be mailed to Box 500, Alexandria K0C 1A0.

Corporate donations were pledged by Roy's, ABS and The Glengarry News totalling $300 and cash was collected from those present.

The funds will act as seed money to organize a mailing campaign to get the project off the ground.

Court report

The following are cases dealt with by Judge Reginald Levesque in Alexandria Provincial Court, April 28.

Fined for impaired

Two men received fines totalling $900 after pleading guilty to impaired driving, while another man was fined $500 for failing to comply to a breathalyzer test.

Elzear Andre Binet, 47, of Cornwall, was fined $300 and prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for a period of one year.

Mr. Binet was arrested by Lancaster OPP, April 23 during a RIDE program check on Hwy. 2 near Gray's Creek. After the offender's vehicle was pulled over, police detected the smell of an alcoholic beverage on the man's breath.

He was taken to the Long Sault OPP detachment for a breathalyzer test, which revealed readings of 110 mg of alcohol in 100 ml of blood.

Mr. Binet was given 90 days to pay the fine and he has no previous record.

Jeffery Grant McNeil, 28, of Ottawa, was fined $600 and prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for one year.

Mr. McNeil was arrested by Lancaster OPP last Nov. 14, after police were notified an individual was being threatened by the accused at the Curry Hill Texaco.

When police arrived, the offender had to go to a nearby farmhouse which was owned by the man who was earlier threatened.

The police then arrived and saw Mr. McNeil driving his vehicle in the field, trying to get back on the laneway.

Police detected the smell of an alcoholic beverage on Mr. McNeil's breath. He was heavily intoxicated at the time of his arrest.

The offender was taken to the Lancaster OPP detachment for a breathalyzer test and his readings were 205 mg and 190 mg in 100 ml of blood.

He was given 90 days to pay the fine.

A Hull, Que., man was fined $500 after he pleaded guilty to failing to comply with a breathalyzer test.

Richard Bernier, 32, had pleaded not guilty to the charge at an earlier court appearance, but changed his plea to guilty before Judge Reginald Levesque, Thursday.

Mr. Bernier was arrested by Maxville OPP last Nov. 29 after he was involved in a single-vehicle accident on Hwy. 417, about one km east of Hwy. 34.

Police detected the smell of an alcoholic beverage on the man's breath and he was asked to take a roadside breathalyzer test.

Mr. Bernier, on three occasions, failed to give sufficient breath tests and was subsequently charged with failing to comply to a breathalyzer test.

Judge Reginald Levesque could not suspend the man's license since it was suspended because of a previous driving offence.

The offender was given four months to pay the fine.

Back in court for sentencing

A Dalkeith man will be back in court for sentencing on May 26 after pleading guilty to assault.

Patrick Wolf, 35, had his sentence postponed to a later date after Judge Reginald Levesque ordered a pre-sentence report.

Mr. Wolf was arrested by Lancaster OPP April 24. After he arrived home at 5 a.m., Mr. Wolf's wife had packed his clothes. He had consumed alcohol and was involved in a fight earlier in the evening.

With his wife fearing for her safety, she grabbed a broom and Mr. Wolf was unsuccessful in taking it away from her. During the struggle, the woman suffered bruises on various parts of her body.

He then threatened her and chased her outside in a field near their house, but was unable to catch her.

Nurses' Week to be marked

Glengarrians can show their support for these benevolent citizens during Nurses' Week, May 8-14.

On May 10 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., a bake sale will be held at Glengarry Memorial Hospital. A blood pressure clinic will be set up at Stedmans on May 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., a dinner and dance will be held at the Knights of Columbus hall on May 13 and Alexandria's Island Park will be the scene of a Family Fun Day, May 14.

Boy hurt in hit and run

A North Lancaster boy sustained minor injuries after being struck by a hit and run driver near Glen Norman, Sunday morning.

Jamie Moffat, 9, of Lot 23, Conc. 8, was hit from the rear while riding his bicycle on the shoulder of Cty. Rd. 25 at about 10 a.m. He was taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital, treated and released.

Lancaster OPP have not yet identified the vehicle or driver but charges are pending.

Green Valley prepares

Local residents can look forward to an even better Green Valley Days this year thanks to several new contests and events which will take place May 23 to 28.

Some of the new contests include: Best dressed clown, best air band and a kite flying competition.

The events will be held at Menard Farm Supply in Green Valley on May 28 at 1:30 p.m. Anyone wishing to sign up can contact Nathalie Gareau at 525-2704.

Also on May 28, Green Valley Bar-B-Q will be selling a meal of a hot-dog and beverage for $1.

The committee organizing Green Valley Days is to meet on Thursday to discuss other events.

Train timetable changes

If you're a regular user of VIA Rail, you may already have noticed that the timetable has once again changed.

Effective Sunday (May 1), train 31 departs Montreal at 7:45 a.m., Alexandria at 8:50 a.m. and arrives in Ottawa at 9:55 a.m.; about five minutes earlier all around. Train 35 leaves Montreal at 3:55 p.m., Alexandria at 5:08 p.m. and arrives in Ottawa at 6:18 p.m.

Changes to the Ottawa-Montreal run affect train 32, which will now leave Ottawa at 9:10 a.m., Alexandria at 10:15 a.m. and arrive in Montreal at 11:32 a.m. Train 36 will depart Ottawa at 5:05 p.m., Alexandria at 6:07 p.m. and reach Montreal at 7:14 p.m. These changes mean those trains are running about five minutes earlier than previously scheduled.

Corrections

On the front page of the April 17 issue of The Glengarry News, in an article headlined "Garbage volumes in SD&G doubled in two years," the amount of waste collected was erroneously reported. The garbage volume did not double, however the amount spent on waste disposal did. The amount of waste collected within the 12 municipalities during 1986 was 15,700 tonnes. The Glengarry News apologizes for any confusion this error may have caused.

A story printed in last week's News concerning the election of Murray Howes of Dalkeith, who was elected second vice-president of Holstein Canada, excluded some information.

The grand champion at the cattle show where the association's convention was held was Lilac Brae Marlin Matillda owned by Cliff and Ollie Narfason of Brandon, Manitoba.

She was bred by Stanley MacLeod of Dunvegan. She later sold through the Calgary convention sale for $24,000 to the Peters family in Randolph, Manitoba.

Lancaster Township

The regular meeting of Lancaster Township council was held at the township office in North Lancaster, Wednesday, April 20. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

$77,200 grant for culverts

Council received a $77,200 grant from the Ministry of Transportation for the construction of township culverts. In addition, the township will kick in approximately $23,000.

Council originally applied for a $130,000 grant in February.

Clerk Treasurer Mike Samson said council was not yet decided which culverts will be replaced. However, members are planning to tour the area within the next few weeks to decide which culverts are in most need of repair.

Mr. Samson estimates construction will begin in late summer or early fall.

Resident seeks assistance

A Lancaster resident planning to finance the construction of a road 2,000 ft. east of Westley's Point made a "plea" to council to persuade an "uncooperative" neighbor to give up his right-of-way.

Dr. Jean Leboeuf, along with his lawyer Gordon Gauthier of Cornwall asked council to speak to the neighbor.

Mr. Gauthier said for his client to build a road up to municipal standards (66 ft. wide), the neighbor adjacent to his property on Lot 22 must donate 33 ft. of his property.

Mr. Gauthier said, "this road will benefit everyone".

About 30 summer residents would have access to the road. The existing road, 33 ft. wide, was described by Mr. Gauthier as "an alley-way".

Once the new road is completed, Mr. Leboeuf would deed the roadway to the township. The township would then be responsible for maintaining the road.

The total cost of the project is estimated at $100,000. Mr. Leboeuf was hoping to begin construction this year.

Mr. Gauthier claims that it costs $20,000 per year to upgrade the existing road.

"The new road would solve everyone's problem and we are looking to council for assistance," he said.

Council plans to visit the neighbor within the next few weeks.

Donation to Cancer Society

Council will donate $4,700 to the Cancer Society over the next four years; payments of $1,175 will be sent every year, it was decided.

Council's donation was spurred by a letter from McNeely Engineering in Ottawa, asking for funds to set up additional lodging for cancer patients who travel to Ottawa for treatment.

The letter stated that a number of people from Glengarry County travel to the city. McNeely Engineering is expected to seek donations from all municipalities in Glengarry.

Bus service criticized

A Cornwall man recently sent a letter to council complaining of the local bus service.

Chris Wilson stated in his letter, tabled during the meeting, that Lancaster's bus service was "pitiful and inadequate."

Mr. Wilson said he had been travelling home from Bainsville during the Easter weekend and was told to catch a bus at Real's Truck Stop. He claims the bus went speeding by and did not pick him up.

Position filled

Council agreed to hire Suzanne Palmer to fill the position of part-time secretary for the township office.

A total of 38 people applied for the job.

Public, separate board levies going up

will continue to maintain efficient and quality education."

A total of $800,000 was taken from the board's reserve fund to offset the taxes.

The Catholic School Board placed $600,000 from an $800,000 surplus in 1987, into a reserve fund and used the balance of $200,000 to offset this year's tax increase.

The overall increase to municipalities separate school board is 4.9 per cent; Lancaster Village and Lancaster Township will be hit the hardest.

The Village of Lancaster will be paying 20 per cent more in 1988. Last year, the village paid $45,926 in separate school taxes, hiked to $55,293 this year.

Lancaster will pay an additional $66,382, or 16 per cent for a total of $476,796.

The board's Assistant Business Administrator Gordon Greffe stressed that the increase of taxes for the municipalities does not reflect what the average homeowner will pay.

"The board bills the municipalities as a whole. The burden of the increase will be placed on new taxpayers," he said.

The tax increase is determined through residential and commercial land assessment.

The Township of Kenyon will pay 14 per cent more in separate school taxes this year, or $253,115; Lochiel Township is facing a six per cent increase, or an additional $18,266 for a total of $290,410 in taxes this year; Charlottenburgh will pay $50,830, or seven per cent more this year up to $715,419; the Town of Alexandria is faced with a five per cent increase to $751,275, $143,257 more than last year. Maxville's levies will increase by four per cent, up $914 to $22,532.

Editorials/Opinion

Citizens should expect answers on unearthed barrells

Since 28 barrels of toxic cleaning solvent were unearthed behind Consoltex March 25, a score of unanswered questions have emerged, some of which have been answered. But those which have implications for the future of chemical dumping and corporate responsibility in Alexandria remain as mysteriously unanswered as the reasons for the chemical burial itself.

Consoltex company officials have avoided making comment on the unearthing of the drums, casting doubts on their willingness to take responsibility for this most serious problem.

Almost six weeks after they were dug up, the barrels of solvent — hidden in the ground behind the plant for 15 years — remain behind the plant sitting in a tractor-trailer awaiting, presumably, transportation out. Consoltex has in the meantime said nothing, allowing the Ministry of Environment to explain what information it has been able to gather. The MOE has stressed there is no potential danger to local residents, but the solvent has been described as ''extremely volatile'' by that agency, and capable of evaporating quickly into the atmosphere.

And while the MOE went to great pains to defuse the toxic unearthing, the seriousness of the situation was illustrated by its own actions. It brought in special crews from Toronto and Kingston to search for evidence of other buried metals and to investigate contamination of areas of stored ground water in the soil.

Now, the barrels must be removed, but how? Where will they be taken and how will they get there? What route will the truck take out of Alexandria? Will it pass residential sections of the town and the rest of Glengarry? And, perhaps most importantly, why were the drums buried in the first place?

Some may view these as unnecessary questions, but when it comes to toxic chemicals, every citizen in this community and elsewhere subject to the potential dangers, has cause to demand answers. They are quite justified in expecting protection and adequate assurances such irresponsible dumping will never happen again.

Consoltex has been a good corporate citizen in the community. It provides a significant number of jobs to local residents and injects, through wages, dollars into the local economy.

But this doesn't exclude it from extending that citizenship to the responsibility of keeping the community at large alert or at least aware of potential hazards it has created now or in the past.

Wise use of resource best way to practise conservation

The infamous ''animal rights'' debate has reared its ugly head once again, this time in Montreal where opposing sides of the fur-trapping debate vied for media attention Saturday at the Canadian International Fur Fair.

It is a never-ending source of incredulity to see citizens taking up pickets for the cause of animals humans use as a natural resource. And even if their hearts may be in the right place, their quest for the recognition of animal rights and fight for the prevention of cruelty to wild animals are aimed at the wrong people for the wrong reasons.

The object of the protestors' wrath is the trappers, the people who make their living catching fur-bearing animals to skin and tan and sell to people who can sell them to be used for coats, hats, wraps or even expensive car seat covers.

There are of course hundreds of people who pursue trapping as both a means of making a living and as part of a traditional livelihood. They, like farmers, do not question why a market for their product exists. They merely fill a need or a demand when it is there. If the demand for furs is low, they would cut back their activity or give it up all together.

The after-trap industry itself does likewise. As long as fur is in demand, it will seek out suppliers including trappers. It's the way the free enterprise system works.

Instead of aiming their protests at the people and the industry who only seek to derive income and profits from one of Canada's oldest and richest industries, these people should ensure that conservation is being practised — that is, the wise use of the resource — through government legislation. In this way, they will help make sure no one, trappers or anyone else who wishes to use the animals, will jeopardize the resource for the sake of future generations.

The anti-trapping faction need not put away its pickets and slogans. It should merely redirect them where it will do the most good, and stop harassing responsible people trying to make a living.

NEWS ITEM: ALEXANDRIA AND THE FOUR TOWNSHIPS HAVE BEEN APPROACHED FOR SWIMMING POOL $## SUPPORT..

Pool committee's creations shows keen community spirit

AFTER THOUGHTS

Joe Banks

Public spirit is alive and well and living in Glengarry.

And it was in ample evidence at the Glengarry Sports Palace last Wednesday night, when about 25 curious citizens gathered in the expansive hall to talk about a swimming pool, in particular, one that could be built in Alexandria.

Most of them came to listen. By the time the evening ended, virtually everybody in the room committed themselves to participating in some aspect of bringing a swimming pool to central Glengarry. No-one balked at volunteering. In fact, every name that was proposed to head the slate of officers — even without the usual pre-meeting lobbying — was accepted and approved by the group.

I was part of the gathering and though I began to listen with the hardened ''objectivity'' of a newspaper reporter, I couldn't help but get carried along in the enthusiasm these citizens had for this project. I found myself making suggestions and taking part in the general discussion.

And I found their energy infectious because the meeting had taken on a realistic dimension. Often, citizens' committees are long on ideas and short on information. They tend to leap before they look — and get a lot of people frustrated in the process.

This group reasoned — quite correctly — to form a steering committee. It didn't commit itself to ''fighting'' for a swimming pool, but it was formed to do what it could to determine whether a need for one existed. Everyone who had gathered in the hall had a feeling the surrounding municipalities needed a swimming pool. But they know some very real and substantial hurdles lie in the way.

And so the steering committee, with a couple of sub-committees made up from other people in the audience, reasoned it would examine an ''off-shore'' swimming pool concept being considered by Alexandria town council. It would review the literature before it and make recommendations to the others, and send its comments to council.

Bolstered by corporate donations totalling $300 to act as seed money from Roy's Garage, Alexandria Builders Supplies and The Glengarry News, the committee reasoned that it would begin a mailing campaign to attract more comments and more people who could get behind the cause. Others at the meeting threw in cash, confident they were donating to a solid project.

A flurry of promotional ideas was thrown out, from badges to a slogan contest. That last one got the nod from all present, while others were put on hold until the committee focussed its direction on the tasks at hand.

The actions agreed on and the subsequent follow-up meetings were made without a formal constitution, without a set of criteria to work under or a stated purpose of intent. All the participants had in common was a dream, not an unrealistic one of an indoor pool, but simply a modest summertime facility that could be used all summer long, uninterrupted by pollution alerts, rashes or earaches.

Many local citizens may well be questioning the wisdom of installing a swimming pool at a time when the town needs some very basic and expensive improvements to its infrastructure. And they could be well justified in their concerns.

But in today's world, recreational facilities have become a very basic element of a community's make-up. Without them, it becomes a less attractive place to live, young people become bored and turn their off-school hours to roaming the streets, passing time with petty vandalism or worse. Adults need the facilities to offset the stress they encounter in the everyday world. Exercise through swimming, most health experts agree, is the best way of doing that.

Clearly, a great case can be built for proponents of the project. All of the best reasons to construct a pool, however, won't be enough to pay for it. Doubtless, the committee will need municipal and provincial support, as well as cash from the population in Glengarry. It will be imperative for them to dovetail their efforts with the standing committees of the local municipal councils. A common front and a common goal is the only way they will move forward.

For now, though, for a newspaper publisher growing weary of watching people stretch palms in search of government hand-outs, it was more than refreshing to see a group whip itself up into action without the spur of government, local or otherwise. They were motivated by a desire to do something tangible, as opposed to standing by and criticizing others who do not. Communities need these kinds of people to grow into the best of places.

Whatever happens to this fledgling group and its early plans, whether or not Glengarrians can agree that a pool is both desirable and necessary, their example is proof that here, public spirit stretches beyond the desire to have, to the desire to do.

The love of Christ is the very power of our lives

LIFE WORTH LIVING

Rev. Norman K. Loney

Through our union with Christ in the sacraments of Baptism and Confirmation and also through our sharing in the Body and Blood of the Lord, we are partners with Christ in making real and present the loving relationship between the Father and the Son.

''I shall not call you servants anymore, because a servant does not know his father's business; I call you friends because I have made known to you everything I have learned from my Father.'' The invitation received to participate in the mission of Christ is not our own doing, nor because of our worth. ''You did not choose me, no, I chose you; and I commissioned you to go forth and to bear fruit, fruit that will last.''

Love has surprises. And perhaps the greatest one is the feeling of our powerlessness in the presence of love. John indicates in the second reading of the Sixth Sunday of Easter that love comes from God. It is not something we can produce ourselves. The love of Christ is not only the model of our Christian lives but the very power of our lives.

Another great surprise of love is that Christ is for all human beings. This all-embracing inclusivity asked by Christian love is no doubt the greatest challenge of our Christian living. If this seems like a frightening demand, we should say in all confidence with Peter, ''The truth I have now come to realize is that God does not have any favorites.'' If we have been shown favor, the true response is to return the favor. ''Everyone who loves is begotten by God and knows God.''

Move over Columbus I discovered zuccini

THAT'S LIFE

Lesley Cadham

It's absolutely mindboggling how many fascinating discoveries one can stumble upon while on vacation.

Yes. I'll bet no one noticed I was missing, but it's true. I was on vacation last week. The rainiest, muddiest and gloomiest week of the entire year. A record-breaking week for rainfall. My vacation.

I discovered that yes, it's got to be better in the Bahamas. It would probably have been better anywhere in the world last week. By Friday, I could have been convinced that Botswana was a tropical paradise, awaiting my arrival. And by Saturday, I was considering going next door to my landlord's house to ask whether we should bail out. The Raisin River was starting to look a little high.

But while the weather did everything but bathe Glengarry in sunshine, all was not lost. My second discovery — a real find — is that people will eat just about anything as long as it's smothered in tempura batter or sickeningly rich sauces.

I tip my hat to whoever invented ingenious ways to make intelligent North Americans eat zucchini. By itself, the vegetable (frequently visually mistaken for cucumber by less-knowledgeable shoppers) tastes like cardboard. If that. So, someone, somewhere, sometime, invented zucchini sticks. And while the zucchini still tastes like cardboard, the deep-fried batter and the oodles of sour cream into which you absolutely must dip the lot, tastes heavenly.

I also found out that children's toys come in virtually thousands of shapes and sizes, labelled with many different brand names and at a vast range of prices. Enter the novice toy-seeker, soon to become the frenzied and possibly hysterical patient of one of the area's psychiatric wards. Okay. So maybe it's not that bad. But it's close.

''I'd like a toy for a child,'' I hopefully asked the saleswoman. She looked at me like I'd asked her to donate a kidney and then asked ''What kind of toy?''

''A doll?'' I replied hesitantly.

''A doll,'' she echoed. ''Would you like one that talks, walks, crawls, weeps, wets, kisses or tells stories? Do you wnat a baby doll, an older doll or a teenage doll? Do you prefer bendable arms and legs?

''How about blond, brunette or redhead? Curly or straight hair? Long or short? Brown or blue-eyed? Do you want to spend $10 or $110?''

''Excuse me while I make a phone call,'' I said, slinking off to call someone who knows something about these matters, because I sure didn't. Things had certainly changed since I was a tot.

My final lesson came when I reached the pay phone where I was instructed to insert $2 for a one-minute telephone call. I cleaned out my pockets and deposited almost every coin I had with me and when I heard the phone pick up on the other end I said, ''Let me speak to my friend and make it fast because I only have one minute.''

Click. Not quick enough. I give up.

In-camera show biz

WORD SKETCH

Sybil Carello

Earlier this year, Municipal Affairs Minister John Eakins, announced that his staff would look into whether bylaws are needed that ''clearly specify what kind of business is discussed behind closed doors.''

His corner of government feels too much important municipal business in Ontario is being conducted behind closed doors. Their message was clear: ''We like open meetings.''

Having often found myself during the last 3 years on the outside trying to look in, I must say I too, have developed a unique fondness for them. Open meetings often result in immediate feedback which in turn usually has an impact on the decision making process.

Presently, municipal councils, boards and commissions retain the right to call in-camera sessions as the spirit moves them. Sometimes, as was mentioned in last week's Eye on Alexandria column, unveiled threats to hold secret meetings are bandied about like so much weighty ammunition. But in Alexandria's case threatening to hold a secret meeting to dicuss town parking is really stretching the bounds of credibility.

I've also been on the receiving end of this type of warning or, call it what it is, power wielding. It seems to be a knee-jerk reaction more commonly known as press paranoia. Those afflicted should know that running for cover behind a closed door provides only short-term relief.

A complete cure could be effected by retiring from politics altogether.

Presently, no written policy exists on the regulation of in-camera meetings, but it's generally understood that they be held expressly for those matters dealing with a legal, personnel, contract or real estate nature.

As Kenyon Township council — to name but one — recently demonstrated, this isn't always the case. In a departure from last year's procedure, they went in-camera to review, and one assumes, to discuss their 1987 financial statement.

Questioning this course of action, I was told there was no specific reason for the secrecy. It was simply a decision of council. Period.

Municipal financial statements — in their entirety — are routinely published in this weekly. Kenyon's, reflecting a $130,000 deficit (a result of an ''over-run on the roads budget'') was no exception. The only thing missing of course, was the cross chit-chat. The show. Which reminds me. Politicians are like entertainers in one way: they're only as good as their last show.

The implementation of tough, new rules would force municipal councils to do more of their (show) business in public. An appropriate stage, considering it was the public that put them there in the first place.

Figures reported in story much too high

To the editor:

I was surprised to read the article 'Garbage volumes in SD&G doubled in two years' on April 27, 1988. I have carefully checked the consultant's draft report and can find no reference to the figures printed in The Glengarry News. In 1986 it is estimated that Stormont and Glengarry generated approximately 15,700 tonnes of solid waste. The figures for 1985 and 1987 can be inferred to be about the same.

Although this is considerably less than the amounts which you published, it should still be recognized that 15,700 tonnes per year is equivalent to about 5 million cubic feet (or to a four-acre field 30 feet deep.)

It is important to keep our garbage problem in perspective. At our current rate of garbage generation we will have filled all the existing landfill sites in our area by 1994. On the other hand a major processing system such as that touted in recent meidia items by WTI of Montreal will require at least 10 times this amount of waste, and can only be practical with the 'importation' of garbage from outside the region.

Thank you for taking the time to attend the public meeting on April 21. I hope we can be of assistance to you and the people of Stormont-Glengarry in keeping the facts straight on this potentially emotional issue.

Don't turn the world into a battlefield over identity

To the editor:

Why is everyone so concerned and so obsessed about being recognized and identified as ''francophones'' and ''anglophones''? We live together in this country, in this town and our main concern should be to make this world a better place to be; not turning it into a battlefield every chance we get.

Getting a notice from the school board stressing the importance of supporting the right trustee on the Municipal Enumeration Notice, i.e., if you are a ''francophone,'' vote for a ''francophone'' trustee . . . really upset me. What about the ''anglophone'' trustee who could do a better job?

In addition to this, it does not really matter where my children go to school. I just want to be able to choose or my children to choose where they should go in order to get the best education available, according to my belief, not the board of education's or any political or prejudiced group or individuals.

Why is it becaue I am a so-called ''francophone'' (my mother's tongue is French, I was born in Quebec) my children have to go to a French school? Why do they have to be subjected to this man-made linguistic barrier, i.e., a French board for the French, an English board for the English?

Why not concentrate our efforts, us, supposedly grown-ups, to really educate our children, to teach them to read, to write, to teach them the real values in life so that they become somebody? Somebody we could be proud of, somebody that will make a difference in this world not by fighting but by taking advantage of what is available to him or her and make the best out of it.

Nobody asked Terry Fox if he was ''francophone'' or ''anglophone'' before they considered him a hero. What about all the other ones who made a difference in this world? Fière d'être bilingue.

Sincerely,
Estelle Mercier,
Alexandria

Reader seeks information

To the editor:

Re: Request for Historical Data on the Glengarry War Memorial.

A recent search reveals the need to compile historical data of the Glengarry War Memorial built during the early 1920s in Alexandria.

This is unique to all cenotaphs across the country because it bears inscriptions in Gaelic, French and English. The two fine plaques list names of Glengarrians who paid the supreme sacrifice during the two world wars.

Any information concerning various factors, i.e. date of construction, name of builder, or architect, and photographs of personnel would be appreciated.

Please forward information to the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 423 in Alexandria, or contact Duncan G. MacDonell at 525-4014.

Beware of forthcoming blackouts

To the editor:

It is a fallacy to expect politicians to plan the electric power system. Like all government enterprise, the ultimate reward is runaway cost, and political expediency.

Premier Bourassa of Quebec has announced the ''massive'' new project in the Baie James area and the transmission system to carry the power to the cities of Quebec and the U.S.A. The stated cost is put at 7.5 billion dollars.

A closer look at this ''massive'' project reveals that in fact the three plants will have a total output of about 2.5 gigawatts, less than 10 per cent of the present Quebec installed capacity of 27.5 gigawatts. In addition, most of this power is already contracted to the U.S.A., leaving practically nothing for the necessary load growth of the Quebec consumers.

One remembers that at minus 30 degrees last winter, there was less than one gigawatt of spare capacity in all of eastern Canada. As we pointed out at that time, even at a very nominal load growth of 2.5 per cent per annum, the Quebec requirements alone will require an additional generating capability of roughly five gigawatts, plus that required to fulfill the contracts to the U.S.A. by 1995.

The recent major failure and outage of the system also underlines the vulnerability of the distribution system, much of which will require rebuilding and expansion to accept the power being generated and transmitted. This will doubtless require an amount of money approaching the 7.5 billion dollars already announced.

Thus not only is the amount of electrical expansion woefully inadequate, but there has been no mention of the dollars needed for rebuilding and expanding the distribution networks of the major centres. Quebecers are in for a rude shock in their electrical bills in the next few years and Ontarians are also in for a rude shock if they believe that there will be spare capacity in Quebec to see them through the rebuilding of their ageing nuclear plants.

All of this in addition to the obvious forthcoming power shortages for all concerned.

Drinking water should be priority

To the editor:

I recently took note of the article concerning the off-shore swimming pool. Although I agree that children as well as adults should have a safe place to swim, I think that a safe source of drinking water and a future source of drinking water is more of a priority.

Instead of using our tax dollars on a pool or for chemicals such as chlorine to conceal the ''problem,'' it would be more beneficial to everyone concerned if we could find a solution to our pollution problem.

The benefits would be significant. Not only would it result in a clean swimming area and a good source of drinking water for the future citizens of this town, but it would also result in attracting tourists and their dollars. They would surely appreciate a safe place to swim, too.

Heart foundation extends thanks

To the editor:

On behalf of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario, I would like to thank The Glengarry News and its correspondents for the coverage during February, campaign month. Much work by volunteers and the generosity of people in Glengarry have made the year an enormous success!

Although money is still coming in, the total now is over $38,000 with $26,00 of that coming from the residential campaign.

Since your paper is read throughout the whole of Glengarry, we know that your publicity and coverage contributes greatly to a successful event. Thank you.

Don't give in to pollution threat

To the editor:

On reading about the group of people anxious to build a pool in Alexandria, I wondered why no one seems to question first and foremost, what can be done to clean up the lake so that it would be fit for swimming.

Surely with such a beautiful park and lake setting, it would be the ideal solution. It would also mean that we are not giving in to the threat of pollution.

Birds don't stand a chance against cats

To the editor:

Today I saw a little bird devoured by a cat. I watched this incident with a sick, helpless feeling, knowing that I could do nothing.

Cats are popular as domestic pets but they are predatory animals. The little birds were eating peacefully in the back yard, when this cat pounced from out of nowhere. The little bird didn't have a chance.

Could owners of cats keep closer surveillance of their pets, please?

Domaine Maria Goretti

About 250 people attended an open house held at Domaine Maria Goretti, April 10. The event was in celebration of the 21-room expansion of the Alexandria retirement home. Only three rooms are still available. There to join in the festivities were, from the left, Father Roger Desrosiers, Domaine Maria Goretti owners Richard and Diane Chenier and Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette. Father D. B. McDougald, not shown, also attended.

Glengarry students fared extremely well at the annual United Counties Science Fair held April 10.

The competition brought together students from all over the United Counties area.

Rebecca Kastack of Char-Lan was a big winner at the fair, bringing home a total of three awards for her project entitled "The Science of Finance."

Rebecca won the IBM National Computer Technology Award for the Best in Computer Technology division, the Transport Canada Training Institute Trophy for Best in Math or Computer Science and the IBM Plaque for the Best Computer in the intermediate division.

Rachel Kastack of Char-Lan was presented with two awards for her project entitled "Acid Reign."

Rachel won the Suncor Award for Overall Excellence and a Silver Award.

Jason Flaro and Nicolas Parise of St. Joseph's, won the Bergeron Electric Trophy for Excellence in the Atom Division. Their project was entitled "Energy Electricity".

The Ontario Institute of Agrologists Award for Excellence in Agricultural Science was presented to Christopher Wood of St. Andrews for his project entitled "Does Soil Affect Plant Growth?" Christopher also received a bronze medal.

Elda-Rouleau students, Isabel Seguin and Frances Paquette, received the SD&G Women Teacher's Association Trophy for Excellence in an Experimental Project. Their project was entitled "Comparaison de son Produits per..." The two also won a gold medal.

Deana MacDonald of St. Andrews claimed a silver medal for her project on heart disease.

Maxville Junior student Marc Legault won a bronze medal for his project entitled "The Three Different Norths."

Brian Jones of Maxville Junior received an Honorable Mention for his project on Kitchen Chemistry. Bronwen Geddes, of Maxville Senior School and Donna Chisola also received an Honorable Mention for projects on the Process of Dreaming and Ruinants.

Wall display awards were presented to the following Maxville Public School students: Eden Siwik, Krista Glen, Natalie Cole, Jason Quesnel, Jeffery McKercher, Nicholas Bourbonnais, Jason Nixon and Aaron Prebble.

Tagwi Secondary School students won the Senior Science Quiz contest. Students on the team were Robyn McDonell, David Badilotti, Claude Theoret and Richard VanWylick.

The Junior Science Quiz contest was won by a team of six members from Maxville Senior Public School. They are: Anona Siwik, Arran McPherson, Venessa Rae, Sandy Gondermann, Bronwen Geddes and Lianne Paquette.

Manor to mark health day

Maxville Manor joins health care organizations across Canada in celebrating 'Canada Health Day' on May 12th.

This annual event is co-sponsored by the Canadian Hospital Association and the Canada Public Health Association. Canada Health Day is celebrated each year on May 12th to commemorate Florence Nightingale's birthday.

This year's theme, "Health for All, All for Health" was chosen in recognition of the efforts of the World Health Organization in promoting health for all.

Maxville Manor invites the public to this event from 2 to 4 p.m.

Displays will include issues for healthy body and mind: Assistive devices for seniors, healthy nutrition tips, self-breast examination, proper back care and mental health, as well as the following clinics: blood pressure clinic — have your blood pressure checked; foot care — have your feet assessed for problem areas, first come, first served basis; shoe clinic — Walkwell shoes; hearing aid clinic — professional hearing services — have your hearing aid checked and try the infra-red wireless TV hearing device.

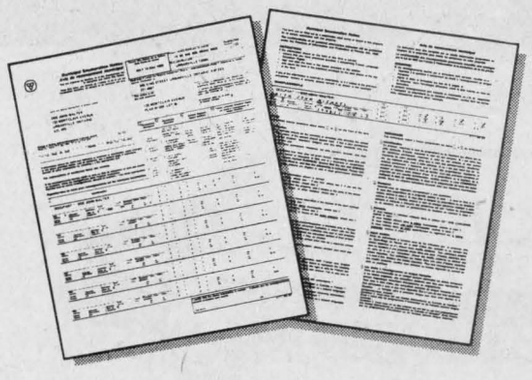
Don't be missing on May 12th!

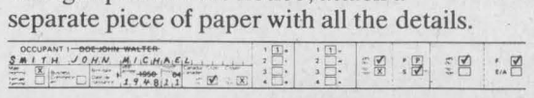
May 12th is the date by which the Municipal Enumeration Notice mailed to your household must be completed and returned.

Five easy steps to complete your notice

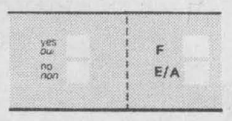
Step 1. Just look at the front of the notice and check the information shown . . . that's all you have to do. The explanations on the back are to give you further details if you need them.



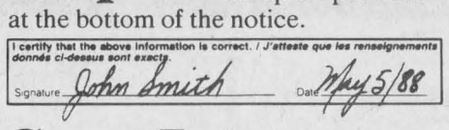
Step 2. If any of the information shown about occupants is incorrect, simply cross it out and write in the correction. Add information about new occupants, including children. If you don't have enough space on the notice, attach a separate piece of paper with all the details.



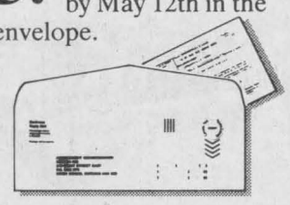
Step 3. Complete section 5 about French-language education rights . . . it's new for this enumeration. In areas of the province where school boards operate both English and French schools, English-and French-language school trustees will be elected.
If you have French-language education rights, you will be able to vote for French-language school trustees.



Step 4. Sign your name in the space provided at the bottom of the notice.



Step 5. Return the notice by May 12th in the postage paid envelope.



The information you give will be used by your municipal and provincial governments to:
- prepare the voters list for local government elections to be held on November 14, 1988
- direct your school taxes (as a tenant you can do this since part of your rent is for taxes)
- identify English-language and French-language electors for school board trustees
- select prospective jurors
- prepare the Ontario population report
- update assessment records on ownership and tenancies
- help municipal and school board planning

The information will be used for these purposes only and the confidentiality of all personal information will be protected under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, 1987.

You are required by law to complete and return this notice.

NEED HELP? If the information on the back of the notice doesn't answer your questions, call toll free 1-800-263-1988 or contact the Regional Assessment Office shown on your notice.

Charlottenburgh briefs

The regular meeting of Charlottenburgh Township council was held at the township hall in Williamstown on April 12. The following items were dealt with by council.

Budget postponed

Charlottenburgh's budget, which was to have been considered on April 13, has been postponed until April 27 at 10 a.m.

According to Jay Currier, the township's chief administrative officer, the delay was necessary because of staff illness.

CPR crossing closure

McNeely Engineering will carry out consulting and engineering requirements which will accompany an application to the National Transporation Agency of Canada (NTAC) for funds to close the CPR rail crossing located near Lot 24 on the Charlottenburgh/Kenyon Boundary Road.

In a communication to council, Cheif Administrative Officer Jay Currier said that the NTAC requires that complete information regarding construction costs, engineering design, and other fees be submitted along with an application to close a rail crossing.

Reconstruction of a new section of boundary road, between Lots 24 and 27, is expected to be initiated in 1988.

Day of mourning

Council unanimously agreed to proclaim April 28 a Day of Mourning for victims of workplace accident and disease. The decision was taken following a visit to council by Fred Hansen of the Cornwall and District Labour Council.

Charlottenburgh will mark the occasion by lowering the flag at the cenotaph in Williamstown.

No grant for Zamboni

Jay Currier told council he had heard ''verbally'' that Charlottenburgh's request for funding towards the purchase of a new Zamboni for the arena had not been successul.

Councillor Carol-Ann Ross expressed surprise at the news, saying she had heard ''chances were very good'' that a grant would be received.

Council resolved to ask the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation its reasons for refusing to provide funding.

Seeks donation

Phil McNeely, on behalf of the Canadian Cancer Society, appeared before council to solicit funds for the Alta Vista and Maurice J. Grimes Lodges in Ottawa.

The lodges, which provide ''homes away from home'' for cancer outpatients living beyond a 25-mile radius of the clinic facilities, need $1.5 million to complete.

Mr. McNeely showed council a video about the lodges and the work of the Ottawa Regional Cancer Clinic, before requesting a donation of 30¢ per township resident every year for four years.

Council decided to refer the request to its Apr. 27 budget meeting for consideration.

Good Glendale Roads

Councillor Larry Gordon said that he had taken a recent tour through Glendale and was pleased at the work which has been done to date on the subdivision's roads. ''People are quite happy about their roads,'' said Mr. Gordon.

Improvements to Glendale's roads and drains began in 1987 as part of a $500,000 five year plan to improve drainage problems in the area.

Fergus missionary couple spreading word of Africa

by Pauline Ashton,
News* correspondent

Barrie and Janet McFadzean, a farmer-missionary couple from Fergus, have been jaunting around Glengarry the past week spreading the word to church groups about the wonders of working in Africa.

They've spent the past three years in Zambia under a joint plan with the United Churches of Zambia and Canada.

Barrie, an agricultural grad and 37-year farmer on his own 400 acres, taught livestock skills at a farm college run by the Zambia church in a grasslands area far from the capital of Lusaka.

His wife Janet, retired from working with the VON in Fergus, found herself in wide demand teaching basic homemaking, nutrition, childcare, sewing and cooking to rural Zambian women and helping out with immunization programs.

They told their story to groups in Maxville, Lancaster, Apple Hill and Hawkesbury after being invited by Apple Hill minister Rev. Catherine Van Bruchem, co-ordinator for mission interpretation in the Seaway Presbytery.

''Farmers in Glengarry are fascinated with the methods of farming in Zambia,'' Mr. McFadzean told The Glengarry News.

Mrs. McFadzean said young people ''want to know how we got to Africa so I tell them the true story about how we were in Toronto one day and decided to offer our services to the United Church. We had a son willing to run the farm and feed business for us in Fergus — and we wanted a change.''

The couple found Zambia in the midst of tremendous agricultural change, attempting to swing a very small farming economy into larger production for export. Change is difficult in a country where farmers have small five-acre plots and are used to growing only enough to feed their families.

Centre gets $36,500 grant

Two grants have been approved under Section 38 Job Creation Program of Employment and Immigration Canada for Alexandria and Rockland.

The ''Centre Culturel Les Trois P'tits Points'' of Alexandria for its part will benefit in the amount of $36,584.20 and will create three jobs for 84 work-weeks.

This project will serve to enhance the activities of the centre.

''Le Centre Culturel La Ste-Famille'' of Rockland will be receiving $59,457 and will create four jobs for a total of 108 work-weeks. The project will consist of repairs and improvements to the cultural centre.

About 250 people gathered at the Royal Canadian Legion in Lancaster Thursday night to view the latest spring and summer fashions available at Terry's Dress Shoppe in Lancaster. The show featured evening wear, casual wear, swim suits, short sets, office wear and formal wear for the wedding party. The proceeds from the show will be donated to the Legion. Josee Marleau, was one of the nine ladies who modelled Terry's fashions.

Knox against gay ordination

LANCASTER
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

Dear readers, your correspondent goofed and put in the wrong date for the Lancaster and District Chamber of Commerce annual meeting. The correct date is Monday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m., upstairs at the Lancaster Legion. My apologies to those hard-working souls who might have shown up; it shows your dedication.

Speaking of the Chamber of Commerce, the lucky winner of the grand prize drawn last Friday was Norma Lapierre of Williamstown. Congratulations to all the other people who won secondary prizes. You helped make this community event such a success!

The following is a transcription of a press release sent by Knox United Church in Lancaster. ''Knox United Church in Lancaster held a congregational meeting on Sunday, April 24, at which time they resolved, as other United Churches in the area have, to petition the 32nd General Council against the ordination/commissioning of homosexuals. Knox Church petitioned the United Church of Canada to affirm the belief that the appropriate and desirable expression of our sexuality is through faithfulness within heterosexual marriage and chastity outside of marriage; that homosexual behavior is not God's desire for mankind. Therefore, people with homosexual orientation seek ways of healing and change with the aid of supportive ministry from the Church and until such healing and change is complete, such homosexuals not be ordained in the United Church of Canada. Petitions from churches in this area will find their way to the General Council through Seaway Valley Presbytery and the Montreal/Ottawa Conference.''

Just a reminder to all members of Branch 544 of the Royal Canadian Legion in Lancaster of the meeting to be held May 10 at 7:30 p.m. This is to elect new officers for 1988 and your support is needed.

Congratulations to Adelaide Fullard of Green Valley, prize winner at the recent Glengarry Arts and Crafts Association show held at the Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum in Williamstown. A big vote of thanks also to all the patrons who attended — your support is appreciated.

Lancaster Village Reeve Milton MacDonald would like to remind all of you that Pitch-In week is this week and all citizens are encouraged to take advantage if the weather is nice; clean up, paint up and pitch out!

Get your tickets early to the Ceilidh sponsored by the Glengarry Highland Society, to be held at Lancaster Legion on Saturday, May 21. The Toronto Gaelic Society Choir will perform along with many other local groups. Sounds like a great night.

Sheila Lafave of Lancaster Public School sent word that on April 12 the Grade 8s enjoyed 'Orientation Day' at Glengarry District High School where they were introduced to next year's teachers and courses. Parents and staff were proud of the students on Friday, April 15 when Mr. Nowickyj's senior band entertained 240 people at the appreciation evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Chafee. The many compliments paid to the band members will be incentive for more hours of practice.

The four Grade 6 students who travelled to Roxmore Public School for French Scrabble put in a good day and placed second after playing six games. ''Felicitations'' to Ann McCuaig, Karen Rutherford, Vicky Peacey and Sarah Harris.

An open house was enjoyed by many parents on the morning of April 21. The Kindergarten students took us on a trip to the moon while both the junior and senior bands sent toes a-tappin' and fingers snappin'. It was a pleasant surprise for everyone to hear Amy McCormick play a solo number from the Sound of Music on her silver flute. That same afternoon, students from grades 5 to 8 enjoyed a presentation by Ron Dale of Fort Wellington, Prescott, who vividly described life in the British Army in the 18th century. Student 'troops' were drilled in strategy, learning how to present arms, 'fire' and the use of bayonets. Mr. Dale also clearly described harsh 'barracks' life; rations included one lb. of meat and one lb. of bread per day. Sure makes everyone appreciate what they have today.

Glengarry Playhouse has plotted a murder drama to be witnessed May 6 and 8 at 8 p.m. at Glengarry District High School. Information is available from Mary Densley at 525-4164.

June Pecore of the Char-Lan Alley Cats Bowling League called with results for the week of April 21. Mens high single was taken by Archie Robertson and the ladies high single was won by Ina Davies. The week of April 28 starred Lawrence Hutt in the mens high single while the ladies high single featured Joyce Lalonde. The last place Leopards were the playoff winners followed by Lynx, Tigers, Panthers, Cougars, Jaguars, Lions and Pumas. The winners in the 50/50 draw during playoffs were Ted Lalonde, Rene Amelotte and Florence Bennett. The bowling banquet will be held on Saturday, May 14 at 6 p.m. at the Lancaster Legion.

Shelley Bray of the Lancaster Legion Darts League called with results from the April 20 Fun Night. The A division winners were Bernie Laliberte and Carol Blackadder and the B division winners were Al Terrance and Rose Newman. The new slate of officers for next season is President Bill Blackadder, Secretary-Treasurer Marilyn O'Connor and Statistician Shelley Bray.

Monday, April 18 — Career presentations involving people from the community and area; Sheila Olson — florist; Father Gary Ostler on vocations; Denise Levert, cosmetology; Bruce Marr, pilot and Jean Paul Touchette, mayor of Alexandria on Municipal Government.

On Tuesday, April 19, Values, Influences and Peers Program Graduation. The graduates were the members of the Grade 6 class. Const. Gilles Ruest, OPP Lancaster, and Mrs. Hilda McDougall gave the course which was sponsored by the Alexandria Knights of Columbus. Each student was presented with a cap, the crest of which was designed by Kim Kennedy. Msgr. D. B. McDougald presented them on behalf of the Knights of Columbus. Many parents were present for this program.

On Wednesday, April 20 was the science fair. Grades 5 to 8 students demonstrated and explained their science fair projects to members of the younger classes and to the public who attended.

On Thursday, April 21, Donald MacPhee brought in a beehive to use in his presentation. He brought the classes through the steps of a bee's life and the particular roles of bees in the hive. Samples of honey, clothing and equipment added interest to the presentation.

On Friday, April 22, a school mass was celebrated by Msgr. D. B. McDougald at St. Finnan's Cathedral at 9 a.m. with the children's choir in attendance. Coffee and donuts were served to the parents and children in the auditorium following the mass followed by the public speaking competition for the finalists in each of the primary, junior and intermediate divisions. The contest was sponsored by St. Finnan's Catholic Women's League. Trophy winners were Jennifer LaPlante whose topic was "abortion," Jason Libbos who spoke about the sacraments, and Cindy Picken spoke on "The first Easter."

Joanne Brunet was the winner of the special category.

UCW held spring meet

A home provider from the family home program of the SD&G Developmental Services Centre was the guest speaker at the Alexandria-Cornwall Diocesan Council Catholic Women's League spring meeting.

Mrs. Debbie St. John de Wit explained there are many people who are developmentally handicapped who would benefit from living in a home setting instead of an institution.

There are many couples and individuals capable of providing the kind of warmth and support which such an individual would require. Those home sharers need to be matched with the home providers in order to develop their work skills, self-care skills and basic academics.

Mrs. St. John de Wit explained some of the conditions that must be considered before a placement is made and the financial arrangements provided by the government for the care of a developmental handicapped person. The speaker pointed out that the attitude of the community has a bearing on the success of the Family Home Program.

Mrs. Kay Dubreuil, Diocesan President, reported on some of the concerns expressed at a recent meeting of the Ontario Provincial Council; the number of test tube babies being born and the abortion problem. The president advised the meeting that our Diocesan Convention will be held on Sunday, May 29 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Among the guests will be Bishop Eugene LaRocque, Mrs. Lauretta Casciato, Second Vice-President of the Ontario Provincial C.W.L. Council and Mrs. Cindy Martin-Hrycak who will be the guest speaker at the banquet.

The St. Francis de Sales Council will host the convention. Reverend Norman Loney, Diocesan Spiritual Director pointed out that Marian Year Celebrations will be held in our Diocese on May 13 at Ingleside; on May 22 in Alexandria; on June 12 at Cornwall Civic Complex; and on July 16 at St. Raphael's. He also urged members to continue to write letters to MPP's opposing Sunday shopping and also opposing such legislation being conrolled by municipalities instead of the Provincial Government.

A variety of interesting projects were reported as members worked for God and Canada. Financial donations were made to parish and community needs, the missions and the Third World; celebrations for First Communion, confirmation and baptisms were arranged; programs for the youth of the parish as well as entertainment for the shut-ins in hospitals and institutions were carried out and emphasis was given to liturgical programs for the spiritual enrichment of members across the diocese.

Correction

In a story which appeared on page 8 of the April 20 issue of The Glengarry News, headlined "Glengarrians to get volunteer service awards," it was written that recipient Bob Campbell, was from Williamstown.

Mr. Campbell is in fact an Ottawa resident.

The News regrets any confusion this may have caused.

Green Valley, Mother's Days on horizon

GREEN VALLEY
Evelyne Secours
525-1350

As I told you last week, watch for this column! Did you know that those who are sponsoring the Green Valley Days are giving away a trip-for-two to Wonderland and pocket money? It sounds good! Just stop at any business in Green Valley during the week of May 23-28 to try your luck. This is their way of saying ''thank you'' for your patronage and encouragement. For more details read next week. There is a lot more coming up.

Visiting

Lionel and Marie Rose Levac of the Brown House just came back from Florida and now are visiting with Carole and Raymond Aubin in Ste. Foy, Que.

Best wishes to Gerry Pilon and Réjeanne St. Louis who were married April 23.

Congratulations to the happy couple after nine long years of waiting. It's a baby boy born to Carole (Aubin) and Raymond Levac, April 23, and weighing 6 lbs. 12 ozs. at St. Sacrament Hospital in St. Foy, Que. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Levac of Green Valley (Brown House) and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Aubin of Alexandria. Bravo! We are so glad!

Green Valley residents are proud, not only of honor students but also of winners in sports. Congratulations to Rachel Denner, Stephane Dicaire, Kevin Quesnel and Joel Trottier for winning the titles of Most Valuable Players on their teams. These trophies were given at the ADMHA banquet on Sunday! Hurrah!

Dates to remember

The walk for life will take place in Cornwall, May 10 from 10-11 a.m. Mother's Day, May 8, will also be the day of the $10,000 draw at Ste. Marie's 11 a.m. mass. La Vie Montante will depart for a trip to Cap de la Madeleine, May 11 and the Daughters of Isabella will hold its bazaar and bingo at the Sacred Heart parish May 14 from 1-9 p.m. On May 29, there will be the opportunity to meet Cardinal Leger at the Nativity Hall in Cornwall.

Holy communion

Gwen Tuppert, Roch Lavigne and Simon N. Menard received the Bread of Life for the first time April 24 in Ste. Marie's Parish, Green Valley. Congratulations!

Julie Secours, granddaughter of Evelyne and Isidore Secours, was among those who went to Washington last week with the band and choir. Julie enjoyed it very much.

Congratulations

Hard work and heart helped the girls achieve their goal for the Girl Guides of Green Valley. Winning the ''all round cord'' were Roxanne Lefebvre, Mélanie Legault and Sarah Harris. Bravo!

Belated happy birthday to Alan MacLennan, April 27.

Rick Ladouceur of Green Valley, son of Adrien and Bea Ladouceur, was recently hired by the Ottawa District Hockey Association, as its development co-ordinator. Rick, after 12 years of hard work, you deserve this position! Green Valley is proud of you. Keep it up.

Volunteers

Congratulations to Carole Larocque formerly of Green Valley who will be honored for her five years of organizing cultural activities for local French-language schools through Le Centre Culturel Les Trois P'tits Points. Carole owns and operates La Boite à Jouet in Alexandria. Good work Carole, keep it up!

Best wishes to Shirley Deschamps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vital Deschamps formerly of Green Valley, and to Richard Leroux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Leroux. The couple was wed Saturday (April 30).

Mother's Day

This year let's show extra appreciation for the one who brought us into the light of day, with a ''love'' known only by a ''mother.''

Mother

Caring more tenderly, sharing more generously, understanding more clearly, loving more dearly. That's all part of being a mother.

Happy Mother's Day to all mothers!

I made a couple of errors in last week's column which I must correct and in so doing I have to take Marianne Bauer's average down a few pegs. Her mom called to say that her average was 80.8 per cent and not 88.8 as I had reported. And I owe an apology to Lisa Lacelle for stating that her 77 per cent average did not quite make the honor roll. Actually, a 75 per cent average puts students on the honor roll, but only those with an average of 80 per cent or more are announced in the newspaper.

We have a young Glen Norman celebrity who has made the news not once but twice. Jason Libbos, son of Brian and Morag, received the MVP award in the house league atom division. However, his talent is not restricted to sports for he also came first in the primary class for public speaking. Jason is a student at Alexander School. Congratulations on both counts Jason!

If there are any youngsters who would like a chance to defend the trophy won last year by the Glen Norman soccer team, please call Brian Libbos at 525-3829 or register on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon, and from 1-4 p.m. at Giroux Sports or Shepherd Motors in Alexandria. To be a peewee you must be 11-13 years old and sprites are for boys age 10 and under. We are hoping for a good turnout so, mom and dad, be sure to get your sons signed up.

My uncle Hughie Willard was going through my Sears and Roebuck catalogue of 1908 and was amazed that a lovely old top buggy sold for as low as $43.95, when his father paid $65 for one not so fancy in 1910. My catalogue is from Chicago, Ill., which I'm sure would account for the lower prices.

Glengarry Agriculture

Precipitation arrives, but spring work backed up

GLENGARRY FARM REPORT

by Glen J. Smith
Agricultural Representative,
Glengarry County

The cold, dreary weather throughout most of April has continued into May. The weather for April was colder and drier than normal and soil moisture levels have been lower due to less than normal snowfall and practically no spring run-off. Precipitation was gratefully received this past week, although it did delay spring work. Hopefully the weather will clear and warm up as the weatherman has promised and we can get on with it.

A small amount of spring cereals were planted the week of April 18 but the majority of crop land in the county has yet to be touched.

Fertilizers and weed control programs should be decided upon and materials ordered. Machinery should be checked and put in good working condition. This may be the type of spring where the number of good days for field work will be limited so we must take advantage of the time when it's available. Delays or breakdowns could prove to be very costly.

Have you checked your alfalfa fields for winterkill? Lack of snow cover and icing in February has taken its toll on our alfalfa fields in the county. Winter injury is spotty throughout the area and winterkill appears to be more severe in the south end of the county.

You should be walking your hay fields now to check for damage. If you suspect that your alfalfa stands have been reduced to less than 50 per cent, nitrogen should be applied to encourage growth of the grass component of the field. This will increase yields and protein content. Some of the heavier soils have not yet warmed up sufficiently and spring growth may not yet have started. Check closely for new growth on the crowns before making a decision on the extent of winterkill.

Most corn producers have made their decision on a weed control program. I have noticed many plowed fields taking on a touch of green — quack grass. If you are planting corn into a field that was sod, a split application of atrazine is the best method to control quack. A fall application of two pounds of active atrazine, followed with a post-emerge application of two pounds active atrazine and three-quarters to one gallon of regular corn oil is the best method of control.

If you are planting corn into a sod field or into an existing corn field with a heavy quack infestation and didn't apply atrazine in the fall, you can still apply a split application this spring. Work the field once with a cultivator or disc to level off the field, apply two pounds of active atrazine, work in and plant the crop. After the corn and quack grass have emerged apply two pounds active atrazine with three-quarters to one gallon regular corn oil (caution should be used where colder than normal weather is expected at time of second application). This split application will give you much better quack grass control than one application of a high rate of atrazine post-emerge.

Atrazine resistant broadleaves continue to be a problem in our corn fields. If you had this problem last year in your corn crop you can expect to have it again. If you have not had atrazine broadleaves, inspect your corn fields early in order that a control program can be put in place if necessary. There are a number of herbicides available to control atrazine resistant broadleaves. These are outlined in the Guide to Weed Control publication 75.

Farmers are now receiving an Interim Payment Declaration Form for the 1988 Ontario Farm Tax Rebate Program. By signing this form and returning it immediately you will receive 50 per cent of last year's rebate. The second payment, which will be made in the fall, will be based on 100 per cent of the 1988 taxes on all eligible farmland and outbuildings owned by you at the time of application less the interim payment you received. Please note that you must sign this form and return it in order to receive payment.

The deadline for the Ontario Family Farm Interest Rate Reduction Program is quickly approaching. Applications must be received in Toronto by May 18 accompanied by all the corresponding documentation. Applications filed late will not be accepted.

At this time of year a number of farmers are looking for part-time help to pick stones or help with the cropping. If you need part-time help you may wish to call the Agricultural Employment Services in Vankleek Hill at 678-2134 or the Glengarry Human Resources Centre at 525-1533.

A new UCW venture on the way

GLEN SANDFIELD
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

The following column was intended to be published last week.

The Glen Sandfield UCW held their April meeting recently in the church.

The theme of the day was "Faith."

The president, Lorna Chapman welcomed the group, and opened the devotional period with Jon Gilbert's poem, Have Faith, all Things are Possible; followed by the prayer of the 13th day, by Rev. Wm. Barkley. They all enjoyed singing an old favorite hymn, My Faith Looks up to Thee accompanied on the organ by Bessie MacLennan. Margo MacRae read the Scripture taken from Ephesians, Chapter 6. Elizabeth MacLennan's reading Faith in the Future, was selected from the Sunny Side Up by A. Barkman.

Ida-Lee Vonk's book 36 Devotions for Women's Groups supplied the meditation, called, "Making Decisions." Readers were: Janet MacMillan, Nan Campbell, Christina MacLachlan, Margo MacRae, Marjorie McCaskill, Bessie MacLennan and Lorna Chapman. The hymn, Oh for a Faith That will not Shrink was followed by the poem On Wings of Prayer by Helen S. Rice and the devotions closed with prayer. The business portion opened with the members purpose followed by the minutes of the last meeting — read by Christina MacLachlan. Margo MacRae read an encouraging financial report.

Reminder — the fall salad tea and bake sale will be on Sept. 17th. Members have been commissioned to scout around stores for suitable silk flowers for the sanctuary. When all data is in, there will be new arrangements made up by the ladies.

The Mandate magazines were given out. Just a reminder that the UCW sponsored euchre parties are being held at Glen Sandfield Hall every two weeks and they've been moderately successful. The benediction was repeated to close the meeting.

A word of thanks

We just have to take a moment to thank you kind people for your wonderful response to our collections of bread clips, can rings, Campbell soup labels and UPC symbols.

Keep them coming folks, it's an easy way to give a lot of help to others in need.

A wrong date appeared in coming events. The Glen Sandfield fall salad tea and bake sale is to be held on Saturday, Sept. 17th, not the 18th as stated. Sorry.

A "rainy theme" afternoon

Wanda Hay and Nan Campbell attended the April Christian Women's Club meeting in Lachute.

They enjoyed the 'Walkin' in the Rain' fashion show by Boutique Malaket of Lachute. Rev. Joseph Calverly of Lakefield, Que. entertained with a 'Rainbow of Beautiful Notes', piano medley executed with much verve. He is a multi-talented musician and they thoroughly enjoyed his "Rainbow."

An "Umbrella of Thoughts" was the speaker's presentation. Mini-Jane Johnson, the guest speaker, is a popular Youth and Women's Conference speaker from Kansas City, Mo. She was a dynamic lady.

39'ers enjoy pot luck lunch

The 39'ers April meeting always begins with a simply "super" pot luck lunch, and this year is no exception.

There was a wonderful variety of taste sensations, to equal any smorgasbord, anywhere. Ever notice how large the plate seems, at the start, and after one teaspoonful of everything, somehow, you run out of space? Well there were a few "like"complaints. A meal fit for a king (or queen), by any standards. The men were in charge of the kitchen.

Rev. Pat and Colin MacDonald led the singing and sang several delightful musical selections: their voices blend very well with her guitar accompaniment and each others. They really have become great favorites with any of the people they have encountered, and the 39'ers, in particular, are always glad to have them, at anytime. (The two little ones are a big hit too!)

At the brief business meeting, it was suggested that May 5 be a work day, from 10:30 to on in the afternoon. Bring a lunch. Fair items should be brought to the next meeting. Margaret McCormick asked for more quilters to come out.

Three birthdays were celebrated; lucky cup prizes went to Rev. Colin MacDonald, Katie MacDonald and Bessie Clingen. Rev. Pat MacDonald's mother was one of the four guests. A July float was discussed for the parade. Next month is Men's Fashion Showtime. Cards and quilting followed.

Successful Wednesday card party

The Wednesday evening euchre party at Glen Sandfield Hall was well attended. There were 12 tables in play.

Prizes went to Cecile Lortie, ladies high and to Pauline Rousseau, ladies low. Gents high was won by Clifford MacDonald, low by Jack Kerr. Draw Rita Proulx. The door prize went to Nina Seguin.

Next euchre party will be May 4, a Wednesday.

Please let me put in another word to all readers; in case you missed it, the bookmobile service may be discontinued. Only we can keep it running by demonstrating how much we value this great service.

Take a few minutes and write to the address below, and tell them how you feel. We can do it. We just have to stick together and let our voices be heard. Do write, please, to the SD&G County Library, 150 Edward St., Cornwall, Ont. K6H 1J1, and state your views.

Folks love nostalgia

The Centenary Choral Group of Montreal, to which Lorna Chapman belongs, was invited to St. Matthew Presbyterian Church's 125th anniversary dinner in Montreal and presented their "Nostalgia Songs" program afterwards which was very well received.

Newcomers welcome

A hearty Glengarry welcome to Mr. and Mrs. J. Alexandrovitch, formerly of Montreal, now of Glen Sandfield. They rented the east apartment of the duplex at the corner. It's good to see your lights.

Get well wishes go out to our neighbor and friend, Mrs. Rose Seguin, who was in hospital for surgery a while back. She seems to be coming along very nicely. Keep up the good work!

Greenfield soccer season is here

GREENFIELD
Mary Couture
527-2421

Soccer registration for Greenfield teams will be held at George MacDermid's home on Saturday (May 7). Anyone playing for minor teams is reminded to sign up. Any girls born in 1978, 1979, or 1980 are reminded to sign up for the junior team.

A Greenfield Recreation meeting was held on Sunday (May 1) in the township hall. The new executive consists of Chairman Phil Lewis; Secretary Fern Wensink; Riekus Wensink, Donnie Raymond, Lyndon Lewis, Ernest Davidson and Adrien St. Denis on the field committee for soccer; Annette Smith, Russell Raymond and George MacDermid on the dance and banquet committee; Annette Smith, representative for MRC; and George MacDermid, representative for the league.

Pioneer museum to open doors soon

DUNVEGAN

Mary MacCaskill
527-2855

The Glengarry Pioneer Museum in Dunvegan will be opening its season on Victoria Day weekend, May 21-23.

All displays are changed each year and this year something new will be added. A pioneer garden is to be planted on site. The parcel of land that the museum encompasses has not been cultivated for 100 years, so the museum members have their work cut out for them.

The pioneer garden will have plantings of herbs and other plants which would have been grown by the settlers of the area.

The museum has a photocopier and for anyone interested in starting their own historical garden there are lists of plants, recipes and early cooking methods. According to Velma Franklin, curator of the museum, there is "an enormous amount of reference material available."

Besides historical garden information, the museum has tour maps of Ontario historical sites available on request.

The museum will be open every weekend. Teachers and others interested in arranging tours during the week may call 527-5533.

All I want for Mother's Day besides a tour of the Pioneer Museum is breakfast in bed and one yellow rosebush (preferably a climber) and no demands on my time for the day. To mothers, grandmothers and great grandmothers: Have a happy day!

We are having weather that the rice farmers simply love! Every cloud has a silver lining! A wet field will keep the garlic seekers away — and if you believe all that I have some Ontario swampland you might be interested in.

McKenna wins competition

Sine and Jo-Anne McKenna, daughters of Kenneth and Anne McKenna of Kintail Farm, Dalkeith, attended Mod Ontario, April 22 and 23, in Toronto. Over 100 entrants competed in 28 categories, including Gaelic singing, story telling and instrumental.

Sine won the first prize in the singing of a traditional song in Gaelic, the Cuach Loch Bhraoin trophy, and the Isle of Harris trophy for Gaelic learners. There were 12 contestants, mostly native Gaelic speakers, in the category.

Sine and Jo-Anne won the Mod Ontario trophy for senior duets, a category that Milton MacDonald, president of the Glengarry Highland Society, was prevented from participating in because of illness.

On Saturday night, May 21, in the Legion Hall, Lancaster, the Glengarry Highland Society will present a Ceilidh featuring members of Mod Ontario from Toronto, the Toronto Gaelic Choir, Milton MacDonald and singers from Glengarry, the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society and the MacCulloch Dancers.

Tickets are available from members of the Glengarry Highland Society and are limited.

United Church confirmations held Sunday

Confirmation of twelve young people was held at the Easter Sunday Divine Services at the United Church on the Hill in Alexandria, when Rev. Pat MacDonald, minister, administered the sacrament at the 9:30 a.m. service.

Those entering into the sacrament were Ray and Tena Upton, Kristi Smith, Jamie Smith, Sandra Cameron, Debbie Johnson, Ricky and Robbi Latreille, Lusanna MacCuaig, Sandra MacCuaig, Dawn and Claudette MacNeil. Nine of the 12 young people conducted the whole service and led in the special hymn anthems. Each was presented with a Holy Biblem the boys with a rose boutionnere while the girls each received a long-stemmed rose.

Following the impressive service the ladies of the congregation served a delicious repast. A social hour followed and all the young people were warmly welcomed into the church and heartily congratulated.

Special awards

Two employees of Brown Shoe of Canada were presented with watches last week in honor of 25 years service with the company. Alexandria Plant Manager Bill Yates, far left, presented a watch to Frank Masselis, while Publicist Denis Cordick presented a watch to Vern Worrell, far right.

Communion for children

The following is a list of the children who attend St. Joseph's School in Alexandria who will be receiving their First Holy Communion as a group at St. Finnan's Cathedral on Sunday, May 15 at the 11 a.m. high mass. These children's parents are parishioners of St. Finnan's.

They include: Louise Chenier, Chris Connolly, Shawn Connolly, Pieter Funnekotter, Jamie Ladouceur, Cameron Lajoie, Rory Levert, Katie Libbos, Joey MacCulloch, Trevor MacDonald and Angela Vander Byl.

Cindy Laferriere will be making her first communion at St. Raphael's, Shawna Doyle at St. Anthony's in Apple Hill.

Jeffrey and Lisa St. Denis will be making their First Holy Communion at St. Catherine of Sienna in Greenfield.

My apologies to Steve and Sue Devlin and family for missing beautiful daughter Kimberly Anne's first birthday. I know you had a great day. Happy birthday Kimberly! Edna Berry celebrated her birthday on Sunday. She is 81 years old. Hope you had a special day. And what a surprise to find out it was also Rosemarie Major's birthday on Sunday. The four men in her life took her out for supper so she didn't have to cook. I'm sure that was very enjoyable. Happy birthday Rosemarie! Ella Vaillancourt from Dorval celebrated her birthday on Monday (May 2). Happy birthday from Apple Hill!

A little message to Paul Lacelle about running out of gas. Don't you know that's the oldest excuse in the book, Paul? (The man who sold you the gas has probably used it himself a few times.)

The St. Anthony-St. Michael Youth Group will be heading to Maxville Manor on May 15. Those senior citizens are in for a great treat, just having these young people in to spend some of their time with them. Have fun, all of you!

At the last euchre at St. Anthony's, there were 20 tables. Ladies winners were Kathleen Theoret, Marie O'Brien and Beatrice Fontaine. Mens winners were Clair Marktell, Jacques Colburne and Joe O'Keefe. The door prize was won by Fern Theoret with the dinner-for-two going to Albert McDonald. The 50/50 draw winners were Elise Bourbonnais, Ellen McLeod, J. R. MacPherson, Patricia Quail, Eileen Laperriere, Carl Alguire, Marie O'Brien, Gertrude Lapierre and Clifford St. John.

Poapst, Jodoin share MVP award at Rebels' banquet

by Peter Conway,
Sports editor

This season has been one of mixed emotions for Char-Lan Rebels' sniper Kevin Poapst.

After winning the St. Lawrence Division scoring title with 109 points, the third-year winger went down with a late-season injury and could only watch from the stands as his teammates were swept by the Alexandria Glens in the divisional final.

Though he missed most of the playoffs, Poapst walked off with two trophies and took part of a third during the Rebels' awards banquet at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, Friday night.

Poapst shared the regular-season most valuable player honor with Mike Jodoin.

Jodoin, a linemate of Poapst, summed up his right winger's performance this season.

"It was an honor for me to play on the same line with Kevin Poapst," said Jodoin. "He's a great hockey player and I'm very happy to have had the opportunity to play with him. I want to thank him for the outstanding season he had." Other trophies presented to Poapst were the Ken MacDonald Sr. Trophy for overall proficiency and one for top scorer.

The most valuable player in post-season play was Roddie McKenzie, while Jamie Latreille was selected the top rookie on the club.

The trophy for a player which exemplifies sportsmanship was presented to co-winners Chris Villeneuve and Larry Frappier, while Captain Kevin Renwick was the recipient of silverware for effectiveness and dedication.

Herbie Seguin, who along with Mike Jodoin is the club's over-aged graduating players, was chosen top defenceman, while Darin Menard and Daryl Menard shared the most-improved player award.

The Char-Lan Junior B Rebels wrapped up their season with an awards banquet at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, Friday night. A number of trophies were presented to players for their regular season and playoff performances. Standing in the back row, from the left are Scott Pickup, Kevin Buchan, Larry Frappier, Mike Jodoin, Jamie Latreille, Darin Menard and Herbie Seguin. Sitting in the front row are Roddie McKenzie, Chris Villeneuve, Kevin Renwick, Daryl Menard and Kevin Poapst.

Jodoin was also presented with a special award for scoring the most game-winning goals during the season, while goaltenders Kevin Buchan and Scott Pickup provided the Rebels with the best goals-against record during the regular season.

Though disappointed with their quick exit in the St. Lawrence Division final, Manager John Chafee told the audience the club still enjoyed a successful season.

"We had a great bunch of guys on the club and I think everyone had a lot of fun playing for the Rebels this year. We had a fine year and I would like to congratulate our neighbors in Alexandria for their fine season. If not for a few injuries, well, maybe it would have been us playing Renfrew instead in the final," said Chafee.

Rebels' Coach Dave Hanson, finishing his second campaign behind the bench, praised his players for their work and effort throughout the year.

"It certainly was a pleasure for me to coach these young men. They worked hard for me all year and I have no complaints whatsoever," he said.

The Rebels captured first place this season in the St. Lawrence Division, and although some players may be leaving the club to attend post-secondary education next fall, Chafee is confident the Rebels can ice a competitive squad for the 1988-89 campaign.

"I think we'll have a lot of the players from this year's team back next year and we have some good midgets coming up from the Char-Lan Minor Hockey Association. We should have a competitive team next season," said Chafee.

Bruins deserving winners

No matter what happens to the Boston Bruins on their merry way to a Stanley Cup semi-final series with their next opponent, defeating the Montreal Canadiens to win the Adams Division crown is the next best thing to winning Lord Stanley's mug.

At least if you're a loyal Boston Bruins fan. And, there are plenty of them around.

You don't have to tell a Bruins' supporter that last week's ousting of the Habs snapped a 45-year streak of dominance by Les Canadiens over the Beantown crew in post-season play.

An enormous amount of credit must be given to Coach Terry O'Reilly and the Bruins after they bounced back to win four straight after losing the opener.

Uncharacteristically, the Bruins played with a lot of poise and discipline in the series. Except for a couple of minor skirmishes, it wasn't the traditional Big Bad Bruins style of brawling that was evident, particularly when these two clubs meet.

Canadiens mourners will point the finger towards injured sniper Stephane Richer for their offensive woes.

Richer, who is primed to become Montreal's next superstar in the Guy Lafleur mould, may have added more offensive punch to the Habs' lineup, but he wasn't available for duty.

And that's all there is to it. Richer wasn't around and it was up to the rest of the players to pick up the slack. They obviously didn't and there's no crying about it.

Montreal's quick exit boils down to Boston's near-flawless performances in their four victories. The Bruins worked hard for their wins and the work of goaler Rejean Lemelin was a deciding factor.

And Bruins' coach Terry O'Reilly clearly outcoached Habs' coach Jean Perron behind the bench. O'Reilly, you should know, isn't from the modern-day mould of coaches who spend a lot of their time talking about theories and preaching technical jargon.

It is safe to say the players respect O'Reilly. But the real trick is getting your players to give a maximum effort each shift.

One gets the feeling the Bruins would go through a brick wall for their coach. Somehow, I don't think all of the Canadiens would do the same for Jean Perron.

Though Bruins' supporters are basking in glory after finally conquering the Mighty Habs, I only hope Montreal supporters face reality.

Montreal is still a fine hockey club, but Boston deserves full marks for winning the series and advancing to the next round.

For years, Boston has been the brunt of jokes in the spring for being early golfers out on the links.

I only hope Montreal supporters realize their club wasn't quite good enough to beat Boston. Well, at least this time around. And for knowledgeable hockey fans, that's all that really matters.

Montreal has a long and proud history of winning. Habs' fans have become accustomed to watching their club parade around the ice with the Stanley Cup during the spring.

Boston may not win the Stanley Cup, but they deserve to be where they are — whether Montreal fans like it or not.

Third period comeback lifts Renfrew in sweep over Alexandria Jr. B Glens

by Peter Conway,
Sports editor

Alexandria Junior B Glens' uphill battle against the Renfrew Timberwolves in their Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League championship series came to an end on home ice, last Wednesday night.

Despite being swept by Valley Division champion Renfrew in the best-of-seven series, the Glens and their management weren't shedding any tears.

For the Glens, it has been a season of accomplishments which included winning the St. Lawrence and Rideau Divisional championships before finally bowing, 8-6, in Game 4, to a superior and talented Renfrew club.

During the second period in Wednesday's entertaining contest, it looked as if the Glens would force a fifth game in the series, holding a 6-3 advantage after 40 minutes.

But the Glens couldn't hold off a determined Renfrew squad in the opening moments of the third period.

The Timberwolves dashed any hopes of a fifth game as they stormed the Glens' net, scoring four straight goals to grab a 7-6 lead, a lead they wouldn't relinquish.

"We had a good year and the boys gave it everything they had. We gave it our best shot tonight, but Renfrew has a good club and deserve credit for coming back in the third period," said Glens' Coach Peter DeRooy.

Though the club was missing key personnel due to injuries, DeRooy wouldn't use the shortage as a crutch.

"We played well enough to win three of the four games and we were missing Kelly Cooke and Ross Kraft on the blueline which hurt us. But injuries are part of the game and those are the breaks. Char-Lan played the playoffs without their top scorer Kevin Poapst. There's no point crying sour grapes over the injuries," he says.

After falling behind 2-1 to the visitors after 20 minutes, the Glens offence got on track in the middle stanza, thanks to a rash of Renfrew penalties.

The Glens took control of the period, scoring four powerplay goals to grab a 6-2 lead.

Momentum, however, swayed in favor of Renfrew in the dying moments of the period, setting the stage for the third-period comeback.

Broomball awards presented

The SD&G No-Contact Broomball league closed the door on another successful season with its awards banquet at the Maxville and District Sports Complex, Saturday night.

League President Richard Massia handed out silverware to players and coaches in the men's and women's divisions. The largest crowd in the history of the league's annual banquet attended the affair, which consisted of a dinner and dance.

The regular season champions in the men's division were Marc's Canteen and Cornwall Oxygen, while Farley Windows won the pennant in the women's division.

The top sniper among the men was Ray Lepine with 57 points in the regular season, while the women's top scorer was Naomi McKenzie with 18 points.

Guy Quesnel, with an 0.53 average and Monique Quenneville with an 0.33 average were chosen the top goaltenders in their respective leagues.

Chosen the most sportsmanlike teams were the Glengarry Angels and Trottier Ford while the coaches-of-the-year were Marc Leblanc and Yves Leduc.

Team awards were presented to the most valuable and most sportsmanlike players and the best defenceman.

The most valuable players in the men's and women's leagues were Mario Quenneville, Armand Lapensee, Noel Lalonde, John Lauzon, Ray Filion, Gregg Cooper, John Prieur, Michel Decoeur, Rejean Duperron, Bruno Lalonde, Rheal Lapensee, Guy Quesnel, Shirley Van Loon and Therese Piche, while Naomi McKenzie and Monique Quenneville shared the award and Kathy Wensink and Julie Montpetit were co-winners on their respective teams.

The best defencemen this season were Bill MacLean, Jack Minor, Henry Pynenburg, Aurele Sauvé, Doug Villeneuve, Dan Massia, Ricky MacLeod, Richard Delorme, Denis Lauzon, Martin Van Den Oetelaar, Steve Bingley, Richard Hamelin, Linda Van Den Oetelaar, Rachelle Guindon, Debbie Robinson and Lolly Cuerrier.

Selected as the most sportsmanlike players were Lionel Quenneville, Gerry Seguin, Keith Wells, Raymond Piette, Rick Lalonde, Steve Nuttal, Darryl Dumouchel, Marc Hurtubise, Andre Lauzon, J. P. Ranger, Roch Seguin, Gaston Menard, Jackie Bray, Anne Guay, Wendy Hay and Micheline Larocque.

Referees, coaches needed

The Glengarry Soccer League is holding a Referee and Coach Examination next Wednesday (May 11) at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

The examination, which will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m., is only open to Glengarry Soccer League referees and coaches.

The objective of the examination is to improve the laws of the game and to secure more referees for the league.

The cost is $5 per person and further information can be obtained by contacting the league secretary at 525-2316 or through an area representative.

Giroux attends camp

Williamstowner Travis Giroux's bid to earn a position on the under-17 Ottawa District Hockey Association team was foiled when he was cut during a training session last weekend.

Giroux was one of 45 players at the Esso Talent Identification Hockey Camp at the Sandy Hill Arena.

Nine players were selected to represent the Ottawa District Hockey Association at the Regional Camp in Kitchener in June.

One goaler, three defencemen and five forwards were selected from the camp, which consisted of on-ice sessions Saturday and Sunday.

The co-ordinator of the camp was Green Valley native Rick Ladouceur, Development Co-ordinator for the Ottawa District Hockey Association.

Junior Glens staging awards night

Alexandria Junior B Glens hockey club wrap up their 1987-88 season with their awards banquet at the Alexandria Legion, Saturday night.

Glens' management and players on this year's Rideau-St. Lawrence Division championship club would like to invite all former Glens and their wives to the banquet to help celebrate the team's 20th anniversary.

A dance begins at 8 p.m. and team awards will be presented at about 10 p.m. Following the dance, a lunch will be served.

Registration being held

The Township of Charlottenburgh Recreation Department will be holding its registration for summer sports on Saturday at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre.

Interested persons can register for roller skating, tennis, swimming and tennis lessons and minor soccer.

Registration is from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Further information can be obtained by phoning 347-2411.

Happy hockey fan

Blair McMillan's wish to attend a National Hockey League game came true recently when he was the lucky winner in the "Dare to Dream" contest at Laggan Public School. Blair, a pre-kindergarten student, was given two playoff tickets to the recent Montreal-Boston game at the Montreal Forum by his teacher Colleen Shepherd. The tickets were given to Mrs. Shepherd by Lochiel resident Carman MacMillan. Blair took his father, Wayne, to the game.

Renfrew beat Glens

"The turning point came when we were assessed a penalty and we were given another one after a stick measurement proved it was illegal. We were two men short and they made it 6-3 near the end of the period," said DeRooy.

Renfrew owned the opening moments of the third period and tenacious forechecking left the Glens running around in their own end.

A four-goal scoring spree gave the Timberwolves a 7-6 advantage. The Glens pressed for the equalizer, but were unable to solve the stellar goaltending of Leon Switzer. Switzer allowed only one goal after replacing starter Alain Shank in the middle stanza with the Timberwolves trailing 5-2.

"The third-period lapse really hurt us, but I'm still happy with the season we had. I feel bad for guys like Leonard and Toots (Daniel Brunet) because it's their last year of junior hockey. They gave it all they had in the series," said DeRooy.

"At the start of the season, I was optimistic, but I never thought we would make it right to the final. I'll agree with Daniel (Brunet) that we went this far because the guys had heart. We had some talent on the club, but we played with a lot more heart," he said.

Glens' Notes

Nothing is official yet, but expect DeRooy to be back behind the Glens' bench next season. DeRooy and management will likely discuss plans for next season in the near future.

"If management wants me back next year to coach, I'll come back," says DeRoov.

DeRooy believes the Glens will have a strong nucleus next season.

"Right now it's hard to say who's coming back. I still think we'll have a good nucleus of talent back. We have some good midgets coming up next season like Marc Sauve, Luc Francoeur and Alex Maclaren, just to name a couple."

With Daniel Brunet graduating, the goaltending duties appear to be wide open.

"I'm not sure what Pierre (Cholette) and Claude (Gallant) are doing next year. I will have to sit down and talk to both of them to see what their plans are," he says.

Atoms lose

The Seaway AAA Minor Atoms hockey club skated to a 4-4 draw against the Ottawa Valley Selects at Smiths Falls, Saturday afternoon.

Alexandria's Martin Boisvenue scored once and added an assist for Seaway, while Ryan MacDonald collected a pair of assists.

Playing on home ice Sunday afternoon, Seaway dropped an 8-1 decision at the hands of the Ottawa Capitals.

Baxter wins

John Baxter of Maxville won first place in the super heavy weight class at the World Cup Powerlifting for the Blind, Saturday.

The event, held in Ottawa, attracted 41 lifters from Canada, the U.S., Great Britain, Australia and Tasmania.

Mr. Baxter walked away with first prize after he lifted 584 pounds in the squat, setting a new record. He also benchpressed 286 pounds and deadlifted 551 pounds in the master's division.

Several members from Pattyn's Gym were on hand to work as scorekeepers, announcers, spotters and loaders. Those who helped at the event were Rodger Chapman, Andre Cholette and Luc Leblanc.

Glen Roy youngsters enjoy diving despite low recognition of the sport

by Peter Conway,
Sports editor

Diving is considered a low-profile sport in this country. It doesn't attract the hype and media attention such as hockey, football or baseball.

Though some of the sport's rising stars toil in obscurity, it hasn't discouraged two Glen Roy youths from showing a keen interest in diving.

Perry and Elaine Calfacacos have been members of the Pointe Claire, Que., Diving Club for almost two years. Both became involved in the sport for the "fun of it."

But for Perry, 11, and Elaine, nine, there is also a serious side to the sport — countless hours of training and commuting to the Pointe Claire Aquatic Club six days a week.

"It's my second year in diving and I really like the sport. I want to keep diving for a long time and work my way to the Olympics some day," says Perry, a Grade 5 student at Williamstown Public School.

Elaine, a Grade 4 student at the school, says her long-term goal is to dive for Canada in a future Olympics, but if she doesn't achieve her goal, she'll continue to have fun in the sport.

"It's a fun sport and I would like to continue diving for a long time," she says.

And the children's parents, Dino and Patricia, have provided them with encouragement and moral support from the beginning.

"Diving is an amazing sport. When you see them standing up alone on the board, it keeps your heart pumping. It's rewarding when you see the kids perform well and win medals at competitions," says Mr. Calfacacos.

He says Elaine's involvement in the sport was an accident at first, but her enthusiasm has grown since her inaugural diving lessons two years ago.

"It just happened by accident that Elaine got involved in diving. She was doing back flips in the pool at home. She went to the Pointe Claire Aquatic Club for one-hour lessons.

"Don Webb, coach of Canada's national diving team and his assistant Elizabeth Jack, saw Elaine diving and approached her to join a team at the club."

Though Perry enjoys swimming, diving has provided him with more of a challenge, his mother says.

"He was taking swimming lessons in between the diving sessions, but didn't take the swimming too seriously," says Mrs. Calfacacos.

While Perry and Elaine don't mind training six days a week, their commitment to the sport does have its drawbacks.

"They both don't have much time to spend with their friends. It's difficult for the kids to leave school each day at 3 p.m. and travel to Pointe Claire. Most of their homework is done in the car. But they both enjoy diving so much, the travelling doesn't both them too much," says Mrs. Calfacacos.

"We train a lot, but it is the only way to get better. With all of the training, I get to see my friends at the pool," says Elaine.

Both Perry and Elaine are A level divers. Perry competes against 12 and 13-year-olds, while Elaine dives against 10 and 11-year-olds.

Both have enjoyed success in a short period of time in the sport. Perry has qualified for his second consecutive appearance at the nationals, which will be held May 23 in Toronto and he'll be joined by Elaine, making her debut at the event.

As their diving season winds down, the summer months will be just as hectic for Perry and Elaine. Perry plays in the Char-Lan Minor Soccer Association and is a tennis buff, while Elaine turns her attention to gymnastics.

Glen Roy's Perry and Elaine Calfacacos have been diving at the Pointe Claire Diving Club for two years. Both enjoy the sport and they have both qualified for the national championships to be held in Toronto later this month.

Though diving doesn't receive recognition through the media as other sports, Mr. Calfacacos says there's a large following of parents at the Pointe Claire Aquatic Club during training sessions and at competitions throughout the season.

"Even though it may not get the recognition like other sports, a lot of parents attend the sessions. A lot of parents who watch their kids swim even watch the divers practise because it's an exciting sport."

The Calfacacos have two other daughters, Stacy, 14, and Christine, 6.

The St. Martin of Tours parish bazaar held last Saturday was a great success, due partly to good attendance and a nice variety of merchandise.

Cake draw winners were Claire Boucher and Juliette Robertson. The watch was won by Denise Lavigne and Berthe Larocque won the 50-50 draw by guessing how many beans were in the jar. Our pastor, Father Denis Vaillancourt is the owner of a brand new barbecue as he was the one who pulled his own ticket much to his surprise.

Friends and neighbors in the Glen are wishing a speedy recovery to Lilian MacDonald, who is hospitalized at Hotel Dieu in Cornwall.

Diane and John Seymour of Kingston and Susan, Doug, Erin and Andrea Kelly from Ottawa were the weekend guests of Angus and Annette Lyman.

Mrs. Doris Bertrand of Ottawa spent the weekend with Emile and Rita Hurtubise.

Denise and Jacques Peradeau and grandson Shaun visited Bill and Juliette Robertson last Saturday.

Card party

Winners of the card party held at the social centre on April 26 were Cécile Lortie, Lionel Ouimet, Cecile Cadieux, Lucille Levert, Adelard Sauvé and Jeanne Mance Legault. The skunk prize went to Perle Poirier and the door prize to Germaine Leblanc. Draw winners were Adrienne Menard, Lucille Poirier and Lucille Henri. The birthday of the month was Rolland Poirier and the special draw of a cake for Mother's Day was won by Lilly Rozon.

Benefit concert

A benefit concert by Sister Gisèle Pilon and her group will be held in our parish hall on Saturday, May 14, at 9 p.m. Proceeds will go to the parish in Dalkeith. For further information or tickets, please give me a call.

Raymond and Murielle Lavallée flew down to Daytona Beach, Fla., in early April for a week of sun and hockey. Raymond was playing for the Cornwall Braves. They were entered in the Beach Party Classic hockey tournament in Daytona Beach for ages 35 and over. The Braves won the B trophy, winning four straight games and outscoring their opponents 33-8.

The final game was won, 4-3, against a team from Welland, Ont., the winning goal coming with 2:04 remaining in regulation time.

Optimist Club

At a mixed supper held at Green Valley Bar-B-Q restaurant Sunday night, the Optimist Club of Glen Robertson was honored by the presence of International Vice-President Paul Labelle and his wife Pierrette. Paul addressed a very attentive gathering of over 25 members accompanied by their spouses. The topic was integrity, growth and service; this year's theme. It was a very enjoyable evening and one of the best meetings held so far this year. This clearly showed the main goal and that people believe in this organization, which is helping our youth.

Long-time friends Margaret (Burrows) and Charlie Wright of Howick, Que. visited Paul Lacombe on Thursday. They were going to the Priest's Mill for a repast on the occasion of their 43rd wedding anniversary.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lefebvre, who were married on April 23.

Evelyn Ward and her daughter Veronica of Kirkland, Que. spent a day with her parents, Ruth and Donnie MacGillivray.

Burton Crooks has returned from a trip through the Far East, Australia and New Zealand.

Elma Godin of Campbellford visited her parents Thelma and Allan MacLeod over the weekend.

Travelling with Elma was my grandson Scott Weese of Trenton who spent the weekend with us.

Sympathy is extended to the family of the late Mabel MacLeod. Although she lived in Alexandria for a few years, she spent many years at Kirk Hill.

On Sunday, Teresa Hay and Karl attended church at St. Raphael's where Leann Vachon received First Communion. Following the church service, Elaine and Gordie hosted a reception at their home in Green Valley.

Laurabell and David Henry of Carleton Place visited Shirley, Lorne and baby MacDonald.

On Thursday the home of Ursula and Walter Jungen on the Irvine Road was destroyed by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Jungen, Thomas and Susi are living temporarily with neighbors Phyllis, Howard and Brenda Noble. A committee of friends and neighbors have organized a local canvass and outside donations will be received at Goulet's Store in Dalkeith. A benefit dance is also being planned.

Employment Opportunity

The Public Liaison Committee for the Stormont Glengarry Waste Management Master Plan is looking for part-time help to assist it in its public awareness program and other duties. The individual will be responsible for:

- Organizing and attending PLC meetings and workshops on waste management
- Taking minutes, setting up meetings, typing and providing secretarial support to the PLC
- Undertaking work with the media and the public as directed by the PLC
- Writing PLC reports, conducting research and supplying information to the public
- Liaising with the Plan's consultants to ensure that they are properly advised of PLC progress
- Such other duties as may be assigned.

The successful applicant will be a self-starter, able to provide up to 20 hours of service a week, and will work out of their own home. A car is essential, and good communication and public speaking skills are necessary. Bilingual candidates and those with a background in environmental issues will be given preference.

Salary is negotiable. Deadline for applications is May 20, 1988. Please send resumes to:

Michael Cowley-Owen, Co-Chair, Public Liaison Committee, PO Box 514, 3 Mechanic St. East, Maxville, Ont. K0C 1T0.

Brownies and Guides leaders urgently needed for Maxville

MAXVILLE
Gordon Winter
527-2888

Mrs. O. F. Villeneuve enjoyed visits from her three sons and other family members during the last few days. Ronald and Lyn were home from Dalhousie, N.B., F.B. and daughter Stephanie from Kanata and Brian and daughter Lisa from Toronto.

Visting with Velma Franklin and family of St. Elmo for two weeks were daughter Jennifer Hancharuk and grandchildren Carla and Keith of Sioux Lookout, Northern Ontario.

We welcome to the village the new manager of our local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Louis Lair. Mr. Lair has been a member of the staff of the St. Isidore branch and he and his family are residents of Orleans. They plan to move to Maxville this summer.

Bonnie Cappuccino is presently in India attending to the affairs of Child Haven International. This organization has homes for destitute children in that country.

Sympathy is extended to Ray McNichol and his family in the death of his father, Arthur, of Lanark.

Try to attend the Mother's Day Tea at Maxville Manor on May 7 from 2-4 p.m. Your attendance will add support to the work of the Auxiliary and provide an opportunity to visit residents and view a display of work of local artists.

90th birthday

Her many friends extend congratulations and very best wishes to Florence McNaughton on the occasion of her 90th birthday. Mrs. McNaughton lives by the adage, ''keep going!'' and enjoys remarkable health and vitality. She was once the principal of Maxville Public School and her teaching career covered more than forty years. In between, she was a homemaker at Notfield farm and the wife of the late Leonard. She now resides on Peter Street with her sister, Margaret McEwen.

Sheila and Arnold Munro are the grandparents of another baby boy, the son of Janice and Ronald of Alexandria. Best wishes to all concerned.

John T. MacKenzie is back home after spending the winter months in Florida.

A team of students at Tagwi Secondary School has won the Zone 2 championship of the School Reach competition. The team goes on to the provincial finals to be held in London in May. We extend congratulations to the team members and to their teacher, Dan Maloney, a former staff member of Maxville Senior School, and wish them the very best for the finals later on.

We are especially proud to see that two team members are from Maxville: Dale Smith, son of Evelyn and Gary and Stuart Pollock, son of Elaine and Howard.

A volunteer recognition night was held at the Manor last week when residents took the opportunity to thank volunteers for their services during the year. Expressing their feelings with sincerity and genuine appreciation were residents Ronald Macdonald, Zella McKillican, Arthur Campbell, Bill Johnson, Alma Martin, Elsie Arnold, Tony Poulin and Neil D. MacLeod. Each covered two or more activities, regularly held at the Manor, that are assisted by volunteers.

Five-year pins were presented by Bill Johnson, president of the Residents' Council and assisted by Sue MacDonald, activities coordinator to Verna MacGregor, Margaret MacRae, Audrey MacIntosh and Kay Fjarlie.

Mrs. MacDonald spoke on the Home Services program planned by the Manor Board for seniors living in the townships of Kenyon and Roxborough and the villages in them. The services will include transportation, van facilities, meals-on-wheels, telephone assurance and friendly visiting.

Delicious refreshments were served in the front lounge to the large crowd that had assembled for this annual event.

There is no definite word of new owners for our grocery store but we all remain hopeful. As we all experience inconvenience from not having a store, it is a good time to reconsider grocery shopping habits. If every Maxville and vicinity resident would pledge to shop locally for a few months, a store would surely prosper. Let us forget the specials elsewhere and be more civic-minded.

Not dying

An editorial in another paper pointed out that Maxville is dying. Maxville will not die and can be revitalized if every citizen vows to support local businesses and services 100 per cent. Let us consider what we are doing individually to maintain the fine reputation of our village.

A reader has related an interesting occurrence in the goat world. A nanny gave birth to twins this spring and then 10 days later had identical twin kids. The outcome was successful but the reason behind it remains a mystery.

Dr. R. T. O'Hara became our veterinarian 80 years ago but did not practise as a dentist as indicated in the Auld Lang Syne column. His wife was Olive Munro, daughter and sister of medical doctors. His son Howard and wife Joan reside in the family home. Dr. O'Hara died on Feb. 16, 1936.

Seventy years ago, Mrs. Peter Boisvenue received a Military Medal awarded to her son Louis. Both Louis and a brother Elie were killed in the First Great War, six months apart.

It was Ontario vs Quebec in some armwrestling matches at Maxville Senior School, Wednesday. Grade 8 Maxville Senior School student Nicky Latreille, on the left at the back, wrestles with Maxime Lamirande, a Grade 9 student from Pavillon Camille Lajoie of Alma, Que. In the forefront, left Chad Boutin, a Grade 9 student also of Alma, shows his strength to Maxville Grade 7 student Nigel Pelletier. The Quebec students were in Maxville, all last week as part of a cultural exchange.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Boisvenue lived to good ages in their home at the north end of the village and we have a very long line of descendants.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Urquhart lived in the present Vander Woude home, Mechanic St. W., and announced the engagement of their daughter Catherine to Donald John Kippen. The Kippen home is still occupied by Linden.

A Mother's Day brunch is being provided by the members of St. Michael and All Angels Anglican Church at the Maxville Sports Complex on May 8 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. An ''all you can eat'' buffet is planned and a warm welcome is extended to all who wish to attend.

The newsletter from Maxville Public School indicates that there were some big winners in the recent Science Fair, that the Cascade Theatre presented a show at the senior school for all the students, that the Canada Quiz team won two out of three games, that Bridget Glen participated in the Lions Club Public Speaking Contest, that there will be a Book Fair from May 9-13 and that the Grade 6 students will be visiting the court house, the police station and the hospital on May 12.

The ladies' committee of the fair board is once again sponsoring an amateur contest on Sunday, May 29 in the Sports Complex Hall, starting at 1:30 p.m. There are classes for individuals and groups of all ages with good prizes of money offered. Contact people are Oris Beaudette at 527-5485, Linda Fraser at 527-2572 and Catherine Kippen at 527-5225.

Registration for Maxville Minor Softball is this evening, (Wednesday) from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the Sports Complex. The fee for each child is $10 with $5 added for late registration. For more information, Richard Scott may be contacted at 527-2418.

Hobby show

The First Maxville Brownies have once again enjoyed a successful showing at the Girl Guide Highland District Hobby Show. Their unit entry entitled ''Captain Toadstool and the Brownies'' placed third in the group category.

The following Brownies received individual awards: Kathleen Jack, first for liquid embroidery; Krista Glen, first for holiday decoration and third for her shell collection; M. Lalonde, second in photography; Michelle Filliol, second for her collage and Serena MacRae, third for a papier maché globe. These girls also received participant ribbons for other entries, as did Kelli Munro and Rebecca Williamson.

Brownies and Guides have been a valuable source of enrichment for our girls. We need, for the fall, two new leaders for Guides and one for Brownies. Potential leaders are asked to lend their support and keep these important community programs alive. They are invited to call Kathie Colquhoun at 527-5248.

Manor euchre

On April 21, the usual good crowd enjoyed an evening of euchre, followed by the customary delicious lunch at the Manor. Jean Smith from Vankleek Hill had the top ladies' score followed by Ina Sproule of Monkland and Diane Giroux of Green Valley.

Henry Struthers had his second top win of the new season with Clare Markell, Northfield and John McMaster of Laggan, followed.

Mr. Markell also won the door prize and 50-50 prize winners were Dave Valley of Moose Creek, Sarah Presley of Finch, Ranald MacPherson and Margaret Cadieux from Alexandria, Hormidas St. John, twice, Margaret Michaud, Herbie O'Byrne, Ethel MacKinnon and Roderick MacLennan.

The next euchre will be held this Thursday evening with the same good time assured.

Young-at-Heart euchre

It was Alexandria's Adelard Sauvé's night at this euchre of the senior citizens club when he had top score for the men and had two 50-50 draw wins. Ann Michaud also equalled him in the draw. Other draw winners were Martin O'Brien of Monkland, Rita Deschamps of Dunvegan, Muriel MacMillan from Finch, Fraser MacMillan of Moose Creek, George Jackson from Monkland, Nellie MacMaster from Finch and Hormidas St. John. The door prize was won by Ethel MacKinnon.

Chester Valley of Moose Creek had the next to best score for the men, with Ranald MacPherson of Alexandria winning third prize.

Ina Sproule of Monkland had her second consecutive win in Maxville with Hattie Struthers of Lunenburg winning once again as did Ann Michaud.

Williamstown, get your feet in gear for walkathon

WILLIAMSTOWN
Sue Harrington
347-2279

Have you heard about the walkathon coming up soon in Williamstown? On Saturday, May 14, beginning at 8 a.m., you have the opportunity of stretching your legs and having a scenic tour of the village as well.

Organized by members of the St. Mary's tennis court committee, the hard-working group which is raising funds to renovate the outdoor courts at St. Mary's this summer, the walkathon is for everyone. If you are fit as a fiddle, or wish you were, you might choose to do the ''longer'' walk, a distance of 11.7 km which will take you to the Glen and Summerstown roads in a roundabout sort of way. If you are usually a little less active, then the shorter route around the village is for you. And if you are accustomed to sitting at your window peeking out as the world walks by, you can do just that and still help out by sponsoring one of your more fleet-footed friends in the walkathon.

Registration sheets for the event are available at Alex MacDonald's store or at the back of St. Mary's Church. Rain date (just in case) is May 15 at 1 p.m.

Winners of the draw at the dance sponsored by the Tennis Committee on April 22, were from far and near. The first prize of $500 went to Paul Blanchard and Bob Campbell, both of Cornwall. The second prize, a pair of tennis shoes, was won by Eileen Latreille, while Chris Emard won a new tennis racquet. Nettie MacDonald was the lucky winner of a dozen new tennis balls.

The committee says it is grateful for the support shown by the community to date.

If you were puzzled over The Sound of Music photo on the front page of The News last week, let me set you straight. The girl in the background on the bed was actually Tiffany Stones, not Jenny Beamer, as stated, though to tell you the truth, the mystery lady didn't really look like either one of them!

Apologies on behalf of The News to you both.

Before leaving the von Trapps, Catherine Gourlay was telling me something interesting about them the other day. Apparently when Catherine and her husband were living in Edmonton shortly after the war, they attended a concert where the famous family was performing. ''Although,'' says Catherine, ''they certainly weren't famous then.''

At least now we know for sure that they really did climb that mountain!

Things have settled down at Char-Lan and it's on with other things. A new students' council has been elected, by acclamation, for next year. It includes Matthew Eamer as president; Graham Greer, Senior vice-president; Jenny Beamer, junior vice-president; secretary, Karen Runions and treasurer, Brenda Teel. Congratulations to all.

Congratulations too, to Dalton and Lana Amell, on the birth of their first child, a son, Travis, who was born on Thursday in Cornwall. A new fan for the Rebels and a new grandson for Eva Amell and Mr. and Mrs. John MacGillivary.

Char-Lan Minor Hockey Awards night will take place on Friday, May 13, beginning at 5:30 p.m. at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre. Following refreshments, the presentation of awards will take place at 7 p.m.

A box will be available for your donation of UPC codes from Kraft products, in an attempt to raise some money for minor hockey.

There will also be for sale, at special discount prices, all remaining Rebels T-shirts, sweatshirts, bags, etc. which minor hockey has in stock.

Sympathy is extended to the Lefebvre family on the death of Ruth's brother, Hugh Christie, of Martintown, and also to the Bougie families on the death of Miss Marie Bougie, formerly of Fraserfield.

An open house will be held tonight at Williamstown Public School and will feature a book fair, a gymnastics display, and visits to the classrooms.

Winning science fair projects from the senior grades will also be on display for you to see. Among Williamstown's scientists of the future are grand champion winners Kirk McDonell and Steven Proctor with ''paper airplanes.'' Kirk and Steven were first prize winners in Grade 7. Second in Grade 7 were Cathy Pilon with ''dentures,'' who tied with Aayeshah Alam whose project was on ''water.'' Third in Grade 7 was Angela Smith.

Erin Fitzhugh's ''Solar Energy'' earned her top spot in Grade 8, while the teams of Benjamin Pye and Jason Robertson with ''dams'' and Adam Guest and Jeff Robertson with ''color'' were second. Laurie Legault was third with ''carbon dioxide.''

In Grade 6, Sarah Harrington's ''Thalassemia'' was first, with Marty McDonell and Steven Gareau's ''electromagnets'' and Scott Giroux's ''stars'' tying for second place. Joanne Dyck was third with ''crystals.''

On Monday (May 9) the Glengarry Community Club will hold an open euchre at 8 p.m. at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre. There will be good cash prizes and lunch will be served, and best of all, you are all welcome!

Cornwallites Kay Barlow and Alma MacGregor dominated the Bridge Club scene this week with a first place finish. Hubert McDonell and Maurice Lagroix were second, while Susan Clark and Charlie Abrams were third.

Bruno Major and son Mark did some pretty smooth sailing on the weekend to win the 10 km Goulbourn Township Canoe Race with a time of 1:04 (one hour and four minutes).

In the solo race immediately following the tandem, Bruno and Mark proved their win was no fluke — Bruno was first with a 1:10 paddle, while finishing second was Mark, just 50 seconds behind his dad.

Congratulations to you both!

A reminder of that-always-very-good St. Mary's Ladies Guild spring tea and bake sale which is taking place this Saturday at St. Mary's hall, from 2 to 4 p.m. Once again, you are all most welcome to attend.

Dorothy Croll spoke on the rules and regulations of showing blooms at flower shows at the April meeting of the Green Thumbs Horiticultural Society held recently at St. Mary's hall.

Dorothy told members to check the Judging Standards Manual available from the Ministry of Agriculture before showing and also stressed the importance of using fresh blooms which are free from disease and insects.

Elizabeth Chatfield thanked Dorothy for all her advice and assured her that henceforth Williamstown Flower Shows would be strict adherents to the rules and regs — no African violets in baskets would be shown!

Allen Lumis, who recently attended an orchid show in Ottawa, spoke about it and brought along some of his orchids to show the Green Thumbs.

The 40 members and three guests were served refreshments by Anna May Wightman, Shannon Wightman, Elsa Hoare and Tibby McRae.

Get well wishes go out to Michael Giroux who is presently in the hospital.

Results of the open euchre held last week saw Dorothy Roy, Yvonne Leblanc, Eva Collette and Emily MacDonald (skunk) as ladies winners. Henry Struthers, Fern Theoret and Austin Abrams won for the men, with Hector Leblanc claiming the skunk.

Specials were picked up by Luella Montroy, Hattie Struthers, Hendrika Wetering, Edmour Seguin, Theresa Welcher and Donald MacGregor.

John Warden won the door prize, while the basket of fruit donated by Alice Portant was won by Dorothy Roy.

Annual meeting held

Guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Glengarry Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario will be Mrs. Noella Leclair, the first Canadian to successfully receive a heart transplant after being placed on the artificial Jarvik 770 heart by Dr. W. Keon.

Mrs. Leclair will show a tape of certain sections of her newsworthy surgery and will also tell her very unique story in both English and French. This will be followed by a question-and-answer period.

The meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 25, 1988 at 7:30 p.m. at the Alexander Hall. Everyone is welcome. A special invitation is extended to all those individuals who have volunteered their time with the Foundation as well as to those who have experienced heart disease themselves or with family members and friends. Refreshments will be served.

In Memoriam

CAMPBELL — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away a year ago Mother's Day, May 10, 1987.
Silent thoughts of time together
Hold memories that will last forever.
Silent thoughts, a tender prayer,
Knowing that you're in God's care.
—Always remembered by son, Stanley, Mildred and family,
Ottawa. 18-1p

GARREAU — In loving memory of a dear brother Luc, who passed away on May 1st, 1985.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
—Always remembered by sister Gisele, Jean, Melanie, Melissa and Stephanie. 18-1p

GARREAU — In loving memory of a dear son Luc, who passed away May 1st, 1985.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just in all his days,
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Always remembered by Mom and Dad. 18-1p

PUBLIC MEETING

CONCERNING THE UPDATING AND AMENDMENT OF THE TOWN OF ALEXANDRIA'S ZONING BY-LAW No. 1065 AS AMENDED

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria will hold a Public Meeting on Tuesday, June 7, 1988 at 7:30 p.m. at the Municipal Building to consider amendments to its Zoning By-law which would have the effect of updating the document.

In addition to updating the Zoning By-law, the By-law will be amended to implement the policies of the Official Plan as they affect the annexed lands which are located to the east, west and north of the former Town boundaries. The updating of the By-law involves a thorough review of the existing document. Changes to almost every section are proposed.

An open house will be held prior to the Public Meeting (from 3:00 — 6:00 p.m.) in the Council chambers. The planning consultant and municipal staff will be available to meet the public and answer questions.

ANY PERSON may attend the Public Meeting and make a written or verbal representation either in support of, or in opposition to, the proposed Official Plan Amendment.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed amendment is available at the Clerk's office during regular business hours.

Dated at Alexandria this 4th day of May, 1988.

Village youths are quickly becoming sports figures

NORTH LANCASTER
347-3553

We are proud to count in several youths in our tiny community who are distinguishing themselves in the world of sports. Two more young villagers have recently won awards, this time in bowling and hockey.

Bantam bowling champion

Ten-year-old Anik Samson, daughter of Rosaire and Micheline Samson, was declared best bowler of the year in the Bantam division of Alexandria April 23. In the semi-finals for the Cornwall region, she won again, beating her own average on Sunday (May 1) in Cornwall. She will now compete in the Eastern Ontario finals to be held in Toronto on June 10, 11 and 12. It will be her thrill of a lifetime as she will also spend a day at Wonderland. Her parents and sister Marie-Josée are delighted to accompany her for this exciting weekend. Congratulations to Anik, who will receive two awards at a bowling trophy night on May 14 in Alexandria.

Sportsman

Congratulations to Eric Decoste, 11-year-old son of André and Solange, who won the Most Sportsman-Like Player trophy at the ADMHA banquet held April 24 at the Sports Palace. In addition to being last week's sports personality in The Glengarry News, Eric, a fine player with the Caisse Populaire Atoms, won a week of free lessons at the Huron Hockey School in Cornwall. Good show Eric!

Judo excursion

Last Sunday, the North Lancaster Junior Judo class with instructor Gilles Glaude went to meet some 50 students at the Cornwall Judo Club. Black belt Claude Bourdeau of Cornwall showed them new tricks and techniques to be applied in future competitions. The group of boys and girls enjoyed this informative outing sponsored by the North Lancaster Optimist Club as well as the delicious Dairy Queen treats on their return bus trip.

Sunny break

This deserves to make headlines! The endless April showers really served their purpose this year. My glorious tulips are finally blooming into dazzling colors and are lifting their heads happily toward the welcome sun. The grass is standing tall and becomes an emerald carpet as the lawnmowers and garden tractors are buzzing an almost forgotten song, the soil is drying beautifully and awaits the promised crop from impatient farmers and gardeners, and a family of new birds has settled into the birdhouse atop our clothesline post. Even our battered humors are responding smilingly to the seasonable temperatures.

The only eyesore in our rejuvenated village is the Canadian flag hanging raggedly over the township hall, but I'm sure the situation will soon be remedied and once again a new red and white silk emblem will proudly wave in the warm May breeze.

May anniversaries

In this first week of May, happy wedding anniversary wishes go out to the following couples: Roger and Aline Claude on May 3, Ronald and Lise Legroulx on May 6, Normand and Micheline Vaillancourt on May 8 and to my brother Robert and wife Hélène Lacombe of Embrun for their special first on May 9.

Birthday happiness to 17-year-old Kevin Craig today (May 4) and to Louise Lefebvre now of Alexandria, also this Wednesday. Best wishes to a popular businessman Wilfrid Major on Saturday (May 7) and to a charming sister-in-law, Lise Lacombe of La Prairie, Que.

A few thoughts worth repeating on this Mother's Day: "God could not be everywhere at once and consequently He created mothers." "There is only one pretty child in the world and every mother has her."

Baguss-MacDonald

Gabrielle Baguss and Thomas MacDonald were married in St. Lawrence O'Toole Church in Spencerville, Ont. on April 16. Gabrielle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baguss Sr. of Spencerville and Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacDonald of Alexandria.

Award winner

Roger St. Denis, son of Clarence and Marie St. Denis of RR4, Alexandria, won a gold medal in the culinary arts competition held in Ottawa, March 3. Roger attended Glengarry District High School before he graduated from Algonquin College and received his Center-Provincial Seal in Cooking. He worked at the Priest's Mill for four years before accepting a position at the Westin Hotel in Ottawa.

Martintowners to hold yard sale to aid research into Cystic Fibrosis

MARTINTOWN
Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

There will be a yard sale in aid of cystic fibrosis research on May 29 at the home of Noreen and Rene Richer, just north of Martintown. If you have any articles you wish to donate they would be more than welcome. Articles can be dropped off at the Richer home or in Cornwall at Sam's Garage at 645 Cumberland Street, or pick-up can be arranged by phoning 528-4419. Cystic fibrosis is a common hereditary condition marked by a deficiency of pancreatic enzymes and by respiratory problems. Please donate to this worthwhile event!

Winners

Here are the winners for the Martintown Goodtimers April euchre. In ladies play; first — Jessie Renwick, Vankleek Hill; second — Dorina Theoret, Alexandria and third — Gladys Barton, Vankleek Hill. In mens action; first — Henry Struthers, Harrison's Corners; second — Mac O'Byrne, Maxville and third — Herbie O'Byrne, Maxville. The door prize went to Charlotte Sansom of Martintown. Special prizes went to Margaret Cadieux of Greenfield; Hattie Struthers of Harrison's Corners and Charlotte Sansom of Martintown. The next euchre will be held on Thursday, May 12 at 8 p.m. at the Martintown Community Centre.

Music festival

The week of May 9-13 is the Kinsmen music festival at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall. Many students in grades 1-6 will compete. We wish them the best of luck; remember win, lose, or draw we're still proud of you. Be happy to have represented Martintown Public School!

Typo!

There was a spelling mistake in last week's headline, it should have read Anna Goudie, not Anne; however with today's technology these things happen.

Speaking of typing, on May 11, 1932, one Martintown resident showed the world a thing or two. Miss Hattie Ramsay, now Benton, won the world's championship marathon typing contest. She typed 36,000 words correctly in 11 hours. Her peak was 82 correct words per minute. Ten words were deducted from the total for every mistake.

I doubt there are few people today, even with modern equipment, who could match that feat.

May 21 is quickly approaching! Don't miss the event of the year in Martintown. Get your tickets now! Phone 528-4423 or 528-4635!

When Mark Twain left the Mississippi riverboats he became a reporter in Carson City, Nevada. From there he wrote an old friend that Carson City was a den of booze, wild women and gambling. Certainly no place for a good Presbyterian; so no longer am I one.

Fashion designer

Lisa Bankley-Lax recently graduated from Lasalle College as a fashion designer in haute couture. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bankley of Baltics Corners and a graduate of Glengarry District High School.

She is married to Martin Lax, owner of Tootsie's and is expecting her first child in August.

Auld Lang Syne

NINETY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 29, 1898

•Acting on the suggestion of the Minister of Education, Lieut. Geo. Hearnden has started a class in physical exercises and squad drill in connection with the Alexandria Public School. Some twenty-six boys took part in the first exercises, Monday, in the hall over the showroom of the Alexandria Carriage Works.

•Mrs. (Dr.) Munro of Maxville, was in town, Tuesday, the guest of her son, J. Howard Munro of the High School.

•This week Hodgson Bros. disposed of their entire stock of general merchandise to Kennedy & Kedy of Hemmingford, Que., who will do business at the Good Luck store. Messrs. Hodgson will continue to operate the boot and shoe factory.

•This week George J. Harrison and Angus J. McDonald leave for Coteau Landing, Que., where it is their intention to open a flour and feed store.

•Progressive farmers of the Laggan area are always among the first to finish spring work. K. A. McLeod, 1-8th Con., finished seeding on Monday, April 25.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
Friday, May 1, 1908

•At the regular monthly meeting of the Glengarry Farmers' Insurance Co., Saturday, A. A. McKinnon of Eigg, was appointed agent of the company, succeeding the late Alex McNeil of Glen Sandfield.

•Messrs. Doyle Bros., who for some time occupied the stone store owned by A. Markson, have removed their stock of general merchandise to Smiths Falls.

•A representative of the National Fire Escape Co., of Prescott, was in town, Wednesday, and succeeded in placing his escapes in the Commercial and Grand Union Hotels. He expects to place escapes on the schools and convent at a later date.

•Allie McDonell, son of Lancaster's general postmaster, is to be congratulated on the ending of his brilliant career at Queen's University, Kingston, whence he comes with the title of MA.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, May 3, 1918

•Mrs. Wm. Lebeau received official notification, Wednesday, that her husband, Sapper Wm. Lebeau, had been killed in action on April 13. Spr. Lebeau went overseas with the 154th, later being drafted to a Labor Battalion. Pte. J. Renwick Matheson, son of the late Rev. J. Matheson, now of Cornwall, was killed in action according to recent casualty lists. Another Glengarry boy to give his life during the recent heavy fighting is Pte. Mal. J. McCallum, son of Duncan McCallum of Williamstown.

•Recommendations for exemptions from departmental examinations made by the AHS as a result of Easter exams, have all been accepted. The feat of John Grant McLeod in covering in less than three months the whole year's work in Middle School, is especially creditable. Other successful candidates are: Normal Entrance, Elmira McDonell; Lower School, Edmund Courville, Alex F. McDonald and Cassie Smith.

•Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McRae have taken possession of the residence on Elgin Street lately vacated by Dr. J. C. Gormley.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 27, 1928

•George Terry, for the past four years manager of the Dominion Stores Branch here, left for Montreal on Wednesday to assume new duties in that city. His successor is J. A. Poirier of Ottawa.

•April 28, is the 25th anniversary of the big fire which visited Alexandria, destroying the carriage shop of the late D. D. McMillan, the Presbyterian manse, a portion of the houses of J. J. McIntosh and E. H. Tiffany, and several barns.

•The barber shop in the King George Hotel block, Maxville, occupied by Dan Fisher, has been rented by Laurie St. John, late of the Windsor Hotel, Ottawa.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 29, 1938

•Maxville and district did honor to their Millionaires, winners of the Citizen Shield, Friday night, when 800 fans gathered in Ferguson's Hall. Suits of clothes were presented to each of the boys.

•The second Variety Show in Alexander Hall, featured three short plays directed by Stuart McCormick, "A Quiet Game" was played by Mary Jane McLeod, Florence Gormley, Winston Moyle and Cossie MacDonald. "Smoke Screen" was interpreted by Edith McLeister, Don Fraser and Early Bradley. There were many laughs in "Counted Out," played by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McArthur and Jack Berry.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 30, 1948

•The Stotland Dress Co. of Montreal, manufacturers of ladies' and children's dresses and blouses, is moving one of its plants to Alexandria and will occupy one floor of George Barbara's Glove Works building.

•A sufficient number of contracts have now been signed to warrant forming of a sub-unit in Lochiel of the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeding Association. Service will start in 10 days.

•The local Bell Telephone staff entertained Wednesday at the home of Miss Bertha McDonald to honor Miss Alma Beauchamp, who has resigned her post.

•Prior to their departure for Dunvegan, Mr. and Mrs. John D. MacLeod were honored in Toronto by a farewell gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Catton.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, May 1, 1958

•The MacNaughton Apiary in the 4th Con. Charlottenburgh has been sold by Mrs. Bryce MacNaughton to Ronald Armstrong of Selby, Ont.

•Raymond Ouellette has left the Brabant apartment and is occupying the new home he built on the Boundary Road.

•Vincent Cameron who has been in the Ottawa office of Massey-Ferguson has received a transfer to the Toronto office where he will be assistant credit manager.

•Mr. and Mrs. Alex Birnie leave Thursday to reside in Montreal. Their home on Centre St. has been purchased by Mrs. Roy Mosher of Lancaster, NB, who will occupy it after alterations.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, May 2, 1968

•An early morning fire Tuesday at Moose Creek took the lives of an elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. Currie Blair, 80 and 76 respectively and their son Harold aged 40. Their two-storey frame home was completely gutted.

•Seventy-one purebred Holstein cattle and a team of Percheron mares were lost Sunday afternoon when the barn of John Archie MacLennan at Baltic's Corners was destroyed by fire.

•Town council gives first readings to a bylaw for the purchase of 50 acres of land north of the Square C plant for use as an industrial park.

•Alexandria's newest furniture store opened last Thursday night. Maurice Lalonde, proprietor, reports he is satisfied with the fine turnout for the three opening days.

•The council of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry is making plans for a travelling library to serve the area.

TEN YEARS AGO
Wednesday, May 3, 1978

•Ronald McCabe, presently vice-principal at Char-Lan District High School, will assume the principalship of that school effective Sept. 1, 1978.

•The degree of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa, will be conferred on the Reverend Wallace MacKinnon, BA, St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, Ingleside. Rev. MacKinnon is a native of St. Elmo, Glengarry County.

•W. Hubert Morris of Brampton was called to the bar on April 13 at the O'Keefe Centre in Toronto.

•Dalhousie defeated Apple Hill in The Glengarry News cup final that saw the series go all the way to seven games before a winner was decided.
