Bishop at St Finnan's to open diocesan Holy Year

The Holy Year of the diocese of Alexandria, was officially opened in St. Finnan's Cathedral, at the 7.30 mass, Saturday night, by Most Rev. Adolphe Proulx. The bishop was assisted at the mass by Rev. Raoul Poirier of Sacred Heart Parish and by Rev. Leo MacDonell, pastor.

Bishop Proulx explained the purpose of having a diocesan Holy Year beginning last Sunday, the first Sunday of Advent.

"The idea of having a Holy Year previous to the international Holy Year in 1975 is to stress importance of the local church and the need for the local church to live intensely the reconciliation theme of Holy Year," Bishop Proulx says.

He stressed the importance of the Holy Year at the local level to those who could not go to Rome on a pilgrimage.

Bishop Proulx said that the diocesan theme "Building the Community" was linked with the "Reconciliation" theme of Holy Year.

"The reconciliation theme of man and God is normally done through reconciliation with one's fellow men," he said.

Seven churches are designated as places for religious manifestations and pilgrimages during Holy Year:

St. Finnan's Cathedral in Alexandria; the churches of Nativity and St. Columban's in Cornwall; St. Raphael's and St. Mary's, Green Valley in Glengarry; and the churches of Ingleside and Crysler.

In addition to the seven designated churches, other churches and places of prayer may be designated for a certain day or week as a church of the Holy Year.

Hospital tenders inJanuary?

Final plans for the addition to Glengarry Memorial Hospital will be ready for approval by the Ontario Hospital Commission in a short time, reports Hospital Administrator Jerry Adams.

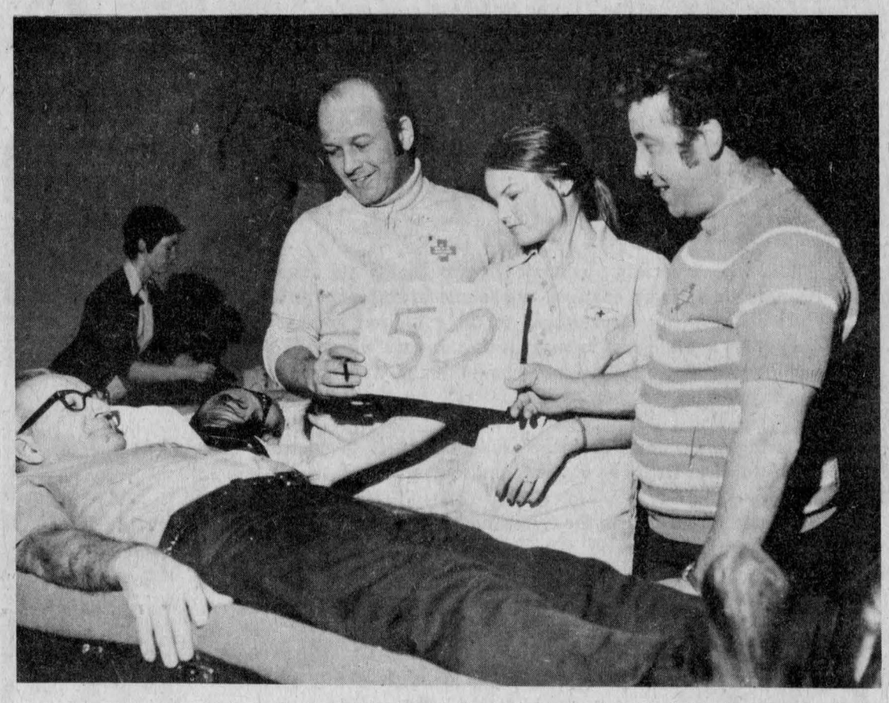
He expects tenders will be called in January or February preparatory to an early start on construction in the spring.

Elderly people found dead

Two elderly Alexandria residents living alone were found dead in their homes over the weekend. In both instances death was by natural causes.

Mrs. Seraphine Leroux, 80, who resided at 33 Victoria Street, was found dead in her bed at 11.15 Sunday night. Her son Marcel of St. Hubert, Que., became worried when he could not contact her and drove here to find she had died in her sleep.

Kenneth A. McCuaig, 70 of 26 Main Street, was found dead in his apartment at noon Monday, by Maurice Lalonde. His death followed by only five weeks the passing of his wife on October 24th.



WINNERS OF THE BLOOR DONOR PLAQUE FOR THE SECOND YEAR—Lying on the cot is Don MacIntosh, the 50th donor from Consolidated Textiles while the organizer of the drive at the plant, Len Joubert holds up the number signifying the largest number of donors from any of the town plants. Alongside him is Red Cross worker Karen Clifford and Andy Couture who helped organize the "Square C" drive.

Five injured in car accidents

A Laggan area farmer was seriously injured Sunday afternoon at his farm gate and there were two other traffic accidents involving injuries in the area over the weekend of Safe Driving Week.

A Laggan area farmer, John A. Robinson, 60, suffered painful injuries Sunday afternoon when his tractor was struck by a car. He is being treated in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, for a broken leg, fractured wrist and head cuts.

A son, Allan, 14, escaped with cuts and bruises.

According to reports of the accident, Robinson was hauling a wagon load of wood and was nearing his gate, a mile east of Laggan, when the wagon was struck by a westbound car driven by James M. Vallance, 19 of Maxville. Vallance suffered cuts and bruises and his car was damaged to the extent of $1500. The tractor suffered $500 damage.

Two accidents occurred within minutes Friday night at the Highway 34 intersection with the 9th Lancaster. Two occupants of one car suffered cuts and bruises and were treated at Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

According to the report of Constable R. W. Riddell, Real Lacombe, 44, of North Lancaster, was travelling south at 9.50 p.m. and stopped to turn into the 9th Lancaster road. His car was struck in the rear by a car driven by Jean L. Robert of Norwood, Ont. Robert and his passenger, James O'Brien, 29, of Lancaster, were injured and required hospital attention. Damage was $700 to the Lacombe car and $2000 to that of Robert.

Minutes earlier a less serious two-car crash just south of the same intersection involved cars driven by George Hope, Glen Robertson, and Bernard Thauvette, Alexandria. There were no injuries and damage was $400, to the Hope car, $600 to that of Thauvette.

Three Cornwall youths escaped with cuts and bruises at 9.45 p.m. Saturday when their car left the Maxville road and rolled. Claude Brunet, 17, the driver and passengers David Ballantyne and Greg. Bennett, both 15 of Cornwall, were cut and bruised. The car suffered $2500 damage.

Minor mishaps

Just four minor accidents over the weekend marred the opening of Safe Driving Week in Alexandria, reports Police Chief Sylvio Cleroux. No injuries were involved.

Dogs threatened by distemper

An outbreak of distemper, the killer dog disease, has already claimed 16 dogs and several more cases in Cornwall and area are being treated.

Two veterinary surgeons in Cornwall, report there is no need for panic as the "outbreak had not yet reached epidemic proportions."

Three years ago, a similar outbreak which was widespread, killed "dozens of dogs."

Distemper is characterized by catarrh, cough and loss of strength. The disease has high mortality rate.

The current outbreak, Dr. George McGowan, a veterinary surgeon said, was distributed over an area of 15 miles. He said the first case was found at Glen Walter in August. Three other cases have been reported there since then.

Manor marked anniversary

The auditorium of the Maxville Manor was filled to overflowing for the anniversary party last Wednesday afternoon. It was five years to the day since the first sod was turned, on a cold November day, in what was to become the community's biggest project.

Visitors, residents and staff were welcomed by administrator Allan Vallance and applauded heartily while corsages were pinned on the nine original residents of the Manor. Senior of these is Kenny Dodds who came in on the first day. The others are Miss Belle MacLennan, Miss Mary Chisholm, Mrs. Julia Lacroix, Miss Rose McKeage, Mrs. Mary MacCrimmon, Carl Robinson, Cecil Simms, and Donald MacLennan.

Mr. Vallance spoke briefly, expressing pleasure at the large gathering, and led in the singing of "Happy Birthday" to Clifford Higginson of Vankleek Hill who is 92. Reeve Hubert Quart brought congratulations on behalf of the village council.

Board chairman Keith Franklin praised the staff of the Manor, and especially thanked Allan Vallance for his years of untiring work on behalf of the Manor.

Dr. Theo Jaggassar expressed his appreciation of the co-operation he receives in Manor work, and he reminded his audience of the work of the late Dr. George V. McDonald of Apple Hill on opening day—recognizing the enormous community effort involved in establishing such a residence for senior citizens.

Lunch was served while Hugh Stewart and Donald MacDougall provided violin and piano music.

OPP changes

Sergt. Harold Buttle, detachment commander of the OPP at Lancaster, is now acting traffic sergeant at district headquarters, Long Sault. In his absence, Cpl. R. C. Dulmage is acting detachment commander at Lancaster.

Recent additions to the Lancaster detachment are Constables Paul Labelle and Rick Huiser both transferred from Toronto.

Radish crop is late one

The gardening season and the time for local fresh vegetables seems long past, but Nov. 23, 1973 will be memorable for Fred Charlebois of Martintown, who lives near the centre of the village.

On that date he was displaying a bunch of freshly dug radishes, the largest about the size of a quarter, and all looking good, especially considering the time of year.

Tops in trade

A native of Martintown, Elmer S. Bethune, a journeyman mechanic with Cummins Diesel Power Ltd. of Calgary, has been named top Cummins diesel technician in Canada.

Mr. Bethune recently achieved highest standing in the nationwide proficiency examinations conducted annually by the National Society of Cummins Diesel Technicians.

Before joining Cummins in 1964, he was employed as an airframe mechanic in the RCAF and later with CP Air. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bethune of Martintown.

More power to substations

A power interruption during Thursday night was effected in Alexandria by the Public Utilities Commission while transformers at both substations were having their voltage stepped up. There have been problems with low voltage and the PUC decided on the move while a special Ontario Hydro crew was in the area to effect the change.

The power interruption was at 1 a.m. Friday and lasted only 10 minutes in the south end of town. There were complications at the north end substation when an insulator broke, prolonging the cutoff of power for three hours.

Frosty nights but little snow in November

The weather for November was slightly cooler than normal with a high of 56° on the 12th with 50° or better recorded on five days. The low was 12° on the 19th and frost occurred on 24 nights. Freezing rain was noted once and snow on eight occasions for a total of two inches. Total rainfall and snowfall was about average. Fog occured on two days, notes George Hambleton, weather observer at Dalhousie Mills.

One year ago the monthly average was 3° cooler than November '73 with —5° and —4° recorded and with the daytime high only 47°. Ten inches of snow and one inch more than normal rainfall also was noted last November.

Cases settled

Two assault cases due to be tried in court here Monday were settled when all charges were withdrawn at the request of the lawyers.

The cases involved Mayor Bruno Massie and Wallace Hope of Alexandria; Lochiel Reeve Gerard Massie and George Hope of Glen Robertson.

Santa coming

At the invitation of the K. of C, Santa Claus will make an official visit to Town on Sunday afternoon. The parade will start at 1 p.m. and he will be handing out goodies at Sacred Heart Hall until four o'clock. He will then visit the hospital and on Monday will call at Harmony Glen and the Alexandria kindergarten rooms.

349 pints for the blood bank

With results almost identical to last year's, the Red Cross blood donor clinic on Friday swelled the blood bank by 349 pints. That was exactly two pints more than the 1972 take.

A total of 384 donors responded with 35 being rejected for various reasons. Of the 349 pints obtained, 77 represented student donors from the three Glengarry high schools.

Among veteran donors again giving blood were Fire Chief Gerald Charlebois, his 52nd donation, Hugh D. MacCuaig gave his 40th pint and Rev. Lloyd Davies his 32nd.

Employees of Consolidated Textile had a splendid turnout with 50 of their 200 employees giving blood. The local plant won for the second straight year the plaque awarded for the largest contributing industry.

Red Cross clinic officials expressed themselves as very well satisfied with the splendid response as did officers of Glengarry Red Cross. Clinic committee chairman P. T. Lloyd had special praise for the fine turnout of Consolidated Textile employees.

While the Red Cross people are quite happy with the Glengarry response they would prefer to have two clinics a year rather than one big one. Two clinics with 200 donors each would be preferable to one with 400 donors, they feel; the need for blood is heaviest in the summer.

As a result of their request the Glengarry Red Cross is considering the change to two clinics a year. One would be held in Alexandria and the other might alternate between Maxville, Lancaster, Williamstown and other centres, it is thought.

To renovate Iona Academy

The S D and G Roman Catholic separate school board met for the first time Tuesday in the board's new administration building at 1104 First St. E., Cornwall.

At this special meeting the board considered proposals for renovation of the recently purchased Iona Academy. The board's 1974 capital expenditure forecast filed with the ministry of education includes $75,000 for this work.

Although the work can not begin until approval of the ministry of education is received, the board hopes it will get underway during the Christmas vacation period.

The work will include installation of an adequate fire alarm system, and building improvements required by the department of health.

Cornwall to have big Coast Guard training school

The federal government will begin construction next spring of a $20 million transportation training institute in Cornwall.

Lucien Lamoureux, MP Stormont-Dundas, said Friday the department of transport has selected Cornwall as the focal point for the training of transportation managers, air traffic controllers, electronic technicians and radio operators for the transport department and meteorological technicians for the department of environment.

When completed in three years, the institute will have a faculty of 200 and a student population of 600. The complex will include a student residence.

"It's the biggest thing that's happened to Cornwall in two decades," Mr. Lamoureux said in reference to the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway which began in the early 1950s.

"It's enough to seriously alter the face of this city."

Location of the institute remains unknown.

Mr. Lamoureux said the federal department of public works was negotiating for a number of sites along the waterfront within the limits of the city. He indicated the canal lands was still a possibility.

Design of the institute has not been completed, but Mr. Lamoureux said a feature would be a weather dome for the training of meteorologists.

The Cornwall facility will in some instances also provide more specialized training programs for officer cadets from the Coast Guard College at Sydney, NS.

The Glengarry School of Piping and Drumming held its annual competition on Saturday evening, Nov. 24th, in the Community hall, Maxville. The Hugh D. Munro trophy was presented by Mrs. Murdena Scott to Miss Debra MacMillan of Finch, winner of the highest number of points in drumming.

The executive of the school have established a scholarship fund from which they awarded two prizes of 12 lessons each to the junior piper and drummer showing the most potential. The prize for drumming will be known as the John D. MacLeod Scholarship in memory of the founder and first president of the school. This prize was awarded to Rory MacDonald of Martintown. The piping prize will be known as the Ian MacKenzie Scholarship in memory of Pipe Major John MacKenzie's son who accidentally lost his life in June of this year. Winner of this prize was Billie Allison of Alexandria.

Following the competition the annual meeting was conducted by Athol Campbell, vice-chairman, in the absence of Allan Vallance. A favorable financial report was presented and approved. Mrs. Francis MacMillan reported on the year's activities, where-in she mentioned the summer school for drumming which was taught at Maxville, Laggan, Alexandria and Williamstown by four pupils of the school under Pipe Major MacKenzie's supervision. Some 60 pupils took advantage of the free lessons and several have continued on at the Glengarry school. Highlight of the year was the trip to the Scottish World Festival in Toronto in August when the school executive chartered a bus and financed the transportation and accommodation of all members of the Glengarry Pipe Band. They were well rewarded for their efforts when the band placed first in the Grade 4 class.

She also noted that we now have 73 pupils enrolled at the school.

Mrs. Charlotte Kennedy gave the report of the nominating committee. The officers for 1974: Retiring chairman, Allan Vallance; chairman, Athol Campbell; vice chairman, Mrs. Francis MacMillan; sec.-treas., Mrs. Sybil MacPhee; directors, Mrs. Charlotte Kennedy, Mrs. Connie Blaney, William Ainslie, Peter MacInnes.

Lunch was served by the school executive and a social hour enjoyed.

No segregation planned at new North Stormont school

Ecole Secondaire Tagwi Secondary School near Avonmore will not have a pavilion or wing for its French-language students, a meeting at Avonmore was told Monday night.

Principal-designate Gilles Metivier and SD and G county board of education director Rosaire Leger also told a meeting of concerned parents that:

—While there can't be any guarantee the school will remain bilingual, it will stay that way for at least five years, the limit of the boards projections.

—Teachers at North Stormont and Maxville District High Schools, the two schools to close next year, will be offered positions at Tagwi Secondary School.

—A vice-principal for the school will be selected at the next meeting of the board.

—Under certain circumstances parents could send their child to another school.

—The replacement of Lorne Lawson as superintendent by Ken MacLennan and Jean-Paul Scott was part of the boards reorganization announced last autumn.

The two administrators made these comments during a question and answer period.

High on the list of questions was whether there would be a French section to the school—one of the demands of French-speaking parents at Crysler.

"In my mind I have no intentions of segregating the students, Mr. Metivier replied. "I believe you have to humanize school and to properly humanize it you con't go around segregating.

Mr. Leger added Tagwi secondary school will be a bilingual school "which is nothing new for the SD and G board".

He stated the last concern expressed by parents should be the structure of the school.

"The key is to get persons together and no doubt there will

Birthday marked at UCW tea

There were several special features of the fall tea held by the UCW at Kirk Hill.

The ladies gave special honor to one of the oldest people in the area, by presenting a decorated birthday cake to Mrs. Donald MacLeod of Cornwall. She was the former Marion MacMaster of Laggan and was visiting her old home, where her nephew, Donald E. MacMaster and his family now live. She celebrated her 93rd birthday on Nov. 12th.

Her grandniece, Mrs. Sandra MacMaster, carried in the cake while the entire gathering sang happy birthday. Mrs. MacLeod although taken by surprise thanked the group and blew out the candles. Mrs. MacLeod, better known as Marion, is a frequent visitor to the community.

The ladies had decorated the hall with an Armistice Day theme, flags surrounded by poppies graced each table. Decorations were by Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald and Mrs. Lloyd MacLeod, tea conveners. Mrs. A. E. MacPherson, president, opened the tea and welcomed all present.

There was a large attendance and by mid-afternoon many of the guests made purchases from the well laden bake table, where Mrs. Hugh MacPherson and Mrs. Morlin Campbell presided.

Mrs. Campbell MacDonald and Mrs. W. J. MacGillivray organized the sewing table while the knitting was quickly sold, with Mrs. Keith MacMillan as head lady.

Mrs. John N. MacCrimmon and the Messengers had a special booth. Mrs. J. P. MacLeod was cashier. Grace was said in unison and a salad tea was served by the UCW members and teenagers of the congregation. There were numerous friends present from a wide area, some from Cassburn, Alfred, Cornwall, Trenton, Montreal and Ottawa.

Bainsville WI had meeting

The November meeting of the Bainsville WI was held at St. Andrew's Hall, Second Concession, at 12.30 with a pot luck luncheon and members were invited to bring friends.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Simmons, president, opened the meeting. Topic was Family and Consumers Affairs. The motto, Children are like wet cement, whatever falls on them makes an impression—was answered by Mrs. Simmons. Roll call, "One way you were disciplined as a child" was answered by 29 members and guests.

Mrs. M. Robinson showed a film on Four Families, by Dr. Mead. This was very interesting as it compared the family from four different countries, Canada, France, India and Japan. This was a comparison of family life in these four countries.

Reports were given on the area convention by Mrs. Upton and Miss A. Robinson. There was a minute of silence for Mrs. J. J. McBain, a former member.

Summary day for Baked in a Pie will be Nov. 29th at Green Valley. Christmas meeting will be Dec. 8th at Mrs. Kerr's home at 2 p.m.

Kirk Hill UCW met

Kirk Hill United Church Women held their meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. A. K. MacPherson, who opened the meeting with a prayer for peace.

Eighteen members and one guest answered the roll call, "Freedom we enjoy". Mrs. Campbell MacDonald and Mrs. Morlin Campbell had charge of the worship which followed the theme, "Price for Freedom". Mrs. Campbell opened with a quotation from the hymn book of the United and Anglican churches. Mrs. MacDonald led in the scripture reading. Mrs. Campbell led in a prayer and gave a talk on theme. She spoke of memorial services and the laying of wreaths and asked the question, "Is it enough just to remember our heroes, are we bearing the price of peace?" We let others die for us, are we willing to die for others?

The offering was received by Mrs. MacDonald and dedicated by Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Stanley Vogan read the minutes and Mrs. Lynus MacPherson reported on finances. Over $300 was realized at the bazaar and tea.

The correspondence included a letter and picture from their sponsored Korean child, Chou Chin Ho and included a photo taken at camp which the UCW helped her attend. She reported making good progress in school and taking part in athletic meets. She spoke of the need for a new bicycle and at once a motion was made to look into getting her one. Mrs. Lynus MacPherson to look into the matter.

Mrs. Clarence MacMillan reported on cards and calls made to shut-ins. Mrs. A. K. MacPherson, Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald on behalf of herself and Mrs. Lloyd MacLeod thanked all who had a part in making the bazaar nd tea so successful. Donations were made to the Retarded Children's Fund, Sunday Pix and the M&S, United Church of Canada.

The packing of cookies and gifts for the shut-ins will be held at the December meeting on Dec. 12th at 1 p.m.

For the study on India, Mrs. Campbell MacDonald gave a talk on culture in India dealing with music, religion, radio, journalism and art. She said "India art is colored by Indian history and tradition, beautiful paintings predict joy and they glow like jewels even after 200 years

While lunch was being served the recordings of several of the new hymnal selections were enjoyed.

MANOR AUXILIARY HAD ACTIVE YEAR

The 5th annual meeting of the Maxville Manor Auxiliary was recently held in the auditorium of the Manor. During the past year there has been an average attendance of ten members at the general meetings. There are 220 paid up members, thanks to the membership convener, Grace Doth. Staffing of the tuck shop has been well-organized by conveners Joanna MacLean and Catherine McRae. Knitting conveners Clara Viau and Donalda Doth reported a good year with excellent sales but asked for more knitters.

Treasurer Mary Vallance presented a favorable financial report. Total receipts for the year were over $12,000, which indicates an impressive outlay of time and energy. The major expenditures for the year included the purchase of a Coke machine, a payment on the large floor polisher, sanitizing equipment for the Manor, the provision of mirrors for the rooms of the residents, and the purchase of three original paintings. These hang in the west wing, and are dedicated to the memory of C. B. McDermid, Loretta MacDonald, and George Eppstadt.

Fancy work convener Jessie MacIntosh did a great deal of work on her own and netted a profit of over $50 for the Auxiliary. The Auxiliary did not have a booth at the staff social, but assisted with baking for the sale. During the year two members attended the curling party, and one member attended the convention in Toronto from Sept. 16-19th.. Part of her expenses were paid by the Auxiliary.

A bus-load of residents, auxiliary, and staff from the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge were entertained at the Manor by the Auxiliary and the Manor group enjoyed a return visit to the Lodge.

Officers for 1974: President, to be appointed later; vice-pres., Grace McDermid; secretary, Doris Blaney; treas., Mary Vallance; membership, Grace Doth; tuck shop purchaser, Stella Fitzgerald; convener for tuck shop, Joanna MacLean, Catherine McRae; fancy work, Grace Doth.

Solid team effort earns Glens two wins on weekend

(by Gary Shepherd)

Last weekend Ken McDonald's Jr. "B" squad had two games on tap, playing at home on Friday against the Cardinal Broncos and away on Sunday in Metcalfe against the Jets.

On Friday the Broncos provided very little opposition as the locals skated to an easy 12-3 win before 460 partisan fans.

Alexandria built up a 4-0 lead in the first period and from then on were never seriously threatened enroute to the victory. Tom Ross, Brian Reasbeck and Rod Shepherd each had two goals while Brian Filion, J. T. Hay, Cameron McLeod, Steven McDonell, Ralph Humphries and Claude Roy added singles.

On Sunday, in Metcalfe, the Glens scored five unanswered goals in the third period to hand the Jets an 8-3 defeat.

Alexandria took a 3-0 first period lead only to have Metcalfe come back in the second to tie it up. Alexandria scorers were Claude Roy and Kenny Blair with two each, singles were added by Cameron McLeod, Rod Shepherd, Brian Reasbeck, and J. T. Hay. Mike Rail, Larry Shields and Marty Kelly were the Metcalfe marksmen.

This weekend the Glens have three games scheduled. Metcalfe is in Alexandria on Friday for an 8.30 p.m. contest, while the locals travel to Cardinal on Saturday and Embrun on Sunday.

Team management is very pleased with the fine goaltending it is receiving from Robert Lajoie and Dennis Delaney.

The attendants were sisters of the bride, Helen Ann as maid of honor and Joan and Jean as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of orange and blue plaid crepe with brown velvet vests. They carried nosegays of orange and blue carnations. Their headpieces were of matching flowers on brown velvet ribbons.

Best man was Rolland Lalonde and ushers were Bruce MacDonell and Peter Graham.

After a reception at MacDonell's Inn, the couple left on a honeymoon trip to the Bahamas, dressed in identical pant suits.

They will reside at Glen Roy.

Board to suggest ways to improve French education

A series of 11 recommendations will be presented by the SD&G county board of education to the ministry of education, outlining recommendations to improve the quality of French instruction in the province.

The board recently appointed a committee to study the 21-page report and act on behalf of the board after detailed study of the report's contents.

This report will be presented to the minister's committee on the teaching of French to English speaking pupils in Ontario. The committee is inviting briefs from all sources.

Before going into the recommendations, the report states the present French programs lead to misconceptions and there is a real need for some "realistic and attainable goals."

To attain these goals it is suggested that:

—A statement of aims and objectives be made concerning the present 20-minute and 40-minute programs and the current needs and interest in bilingualism.

—The role of the school be clarified in view of increasing demands for functional bilingualism in a school system incapable of achieving the goal.

—That parents, businesses, teachers' federations, school committees and boards of education be involved in setting up both the aims and objectives and the definition of the school and its role.

—The feasibility and implications of extended French programs be explored.

—The possibility of French immersion centres be studied.

—The disparity between educational aspirations and limited financial resources be considered at a time when greater demands are being made on schools.

—Inadequacies of teaching conditions, particularly at the elementary level, be explored, room accommodation, teacher-pupil ratio and teaching load.

—Bursaries and educational leaves of absence be provided so English-speaking teachers can become qualified teachers of French.

—Ontario teachers certified to teach in schools attended by French-speaking students be permitted to teach in a regular or intensive program until the supply of French teachers meets the demand.

—Bilingual secondary schools be given their true status.

—Adequate audio-visual teaching materials for French program be developed and circulated through the lists of existing material adapted to grade levels.

SOUGHT INFORMATION

J. J. Comtois, superintendent of schools responsible for French-language instruction, told the board the recommendations were made after letters were sent to local businessmen seeking information on the use of French.

He stated areas of concern once the letters were analyzed. When the recommendations are accepted these concerns would vanish, the report says.

The first concern was the fact current aims and objectives as set forth in ministry guidelines did not take into account nor did they reflect the status of French in a new Canadian and Ontario society.

"French has been essentially an academic subject," the report states. "The opportunity for English-speaking students to develop and maintain ability to receive instruction in both languages and to accept employment where both languages are desirable, has been a one-way avenue, open only to those of French-speaking origin."

The second concern was English-French bilingualism.

The report states there is a lack of firm commitment on the part of the ministry of education to support the ideal of English-French bilingualism.

The report points out "bilingual" secondary schools have been in existence in the United Counties since 1950, yet nowhere in ministry record does the term bilingual appear.

"Nor is it stated that bilingualism is a desirable goal for French instruction in the schools in Ontario," it adds.

"The ministry, together with this board, must contribute to making eastern Ontario an area embodying to the utmost the ideal of bilingual-bicultural Canadian scene."

The third concern was the role of the school.

"Schools in this area are in a more serious dilemma—to provide more meaningful French programs and acquiesce to the wishes of parents and educators for extended and new services in many areas of the regular program," the report stated.

Opposing Views

But this is compounded by opposing views and attitudes on the part of researchers and the public and by the freedom of choice offered to students.

It is pointed out some parents currently support the French immersion program at the kindergarten level while others oppose it. In addition, the brief points out the concern of unilingual English teachers fearing for their positions.

The fourth concern was the disparity between educational aspirations and the limited resources to obtain the aspirations.

"There has been a great deal of misunderstanding on the part of parents, educators and local boards as to the origin and disposition of funds thought to be for the encouragement of French programs," the report states.

"This grey area has been the cause of conflicts and controversy in establishing priorities as to programs and money allocations to school budgets."

It says French has not been given its rightful status and there is no doubt the present situation of students dropping out of French programs can be corrected if the ministry really means what it says.

The fifth and final concern centred around teacher qualification and certification.

The brief points out there is no provision being made to obtain more French-speaking teachers for the system and suggests bursaries to the teachers to get them more interested in teaching French.

The brief will be submitted within the next 10 days.

Pump plant for empty EDO

One of the five Canadian divisions of Crane Canada Ltd. will locate in the EDO building in Charlottenburgh Township, just east of Cornwall.

The division, known as Southern-Deming, will employ 37 persons within one year.

The Crane company is one of the largest manufacturers of domestic, commercial municipal and industrial pumps in North America. Officials expect the plant will be in operation about Jan. 1st.

Crane Canada Ltd. is a subsidiary of the U.S. parent company Crane Co. Canada operations are managed from a Montreal head office.

M. D. Collier, general manager of the Southern-Deming division, said the company had long range plans for expansion. The local division will rent the EDO building.

Mr. Collier said the company chose this area "because much of our personnel is bilingual, because the building was available because of the transportation facilities and because we were impressed with the training facilities of St. Lawrence College."

The local company will supply an almost strictly Canadian market. The EDO building had been vacant for three years.

Ayrshire men visited area

A large group of the leading Ayrshire dairymen from the United Kingdom visited Cornwall recently, after touring a large part of Eastern Ontario to see several Ayrshire herds.

In this area they called at the Donald Rose farm near Mountain and the McIntyre herd near Finch, on Friday, and the Simmons' herd, near Finch, the Thomas Curran farm near Martintown, the McNaughton Cumming farm at Lancaster, and planned to continue to call at several Quebec points on Saturday.

While in Cornwall the group, nearly 50 people, were guests of R. R. Simmons and family at the Torch Room. Unfortunately Mr. Simmons, president of the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders Association, was ill and could not be present, so the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Emerson Kincaid.

The members of the group, many from Ayrshire in Scotland, the original home of the Ayrshire breed, expressed themselves as favorably impressed by the cattle they saw in this district as well as at the Royal Winter Fair, which they had visited earlier in the week.

ON TOUR OF LOCAL SCHOOLS—Members of the SD and G Separate School Board have been visiting the area schools under its jurisdiction. Inspecting Rouleau School here were Sarsfield O'Connor, Trustee and Chairman of the External Relations Committee; Father Raoul Poirier of Sacred Heart Parish; Charles Lamarche, Chief Executive Officer of the Board and Claude Brunet, Principal of Rouleau School.

be some getting together between the two groups, Mr. Leger said. "I think that is to the good."

Another parents suggested Tagwi could be another St. Lawrence High School "and become another French school. When they yell loud enough is there any guarantee it will stay bilingual?

Mr. Leger replied it would not be fair to compare Tagwi with SLHS.

"It isn't fair because Cornwall is different in that it has a high concentration of persons of French origin in that area and we had to give them a school by the law," he said. "But here a French school would not be viable because you don't have the numbers.

Of total enrolment of about 1,000, estimates predict 325 students will be French speaking.

Pressed for assurance it would remain bilingual at all times, Mr. Leger pointed out the board could only project five years in the future and population patterns could change.

Asked about teachers positions at North Stormont and Maxville High Schools, two high schools closing next year, Mr. Leger assured the parents the teachers would not be without positions.

"These teachers will be our first priority. Our commitment is that these people are not without jobs and even if they say nothing they will be posted to Tagwi, Mr. Leger said.

As for a vice-principal, he said only one would be employed due to the size of the school. Selection of the vice-principal will be made at the next meeting of the board.

Parents also sought assurance they could send their children to the high school of their choice.

"If individuals are having difficulties we the administrators will certainly look into it and try to correct it, Mr. Leger stated. "We would look into the circumstances surrounding the problem."

He said all the board administrators are doing all they can to make the transition for the student easier. Besides being drawn from Maxville and North Stormont high schools, students will also be coming from North Dundas and the city high schools.

Mr. Leger also assured the parents that the superintendent who had been working on the school, Lorne Lawson, would continue to do so until the school was operational.

But he pointed out the new board structure called for Mr. MacLennan and Mr. Scott to be the superintendents.

"We have to come together as a system and one way of doing that is by pairing the superintendents using the most of their talents. We have paired them off into elementary and secondary resource persons, Mr. Leger stated.

He concluded by pointing out there will be some rotation of duty among the superintendents in an effort to make them more aware of the system as a whole.

SPORTS
in the GLENS
by ANGUS H. McDONELL

By the time this issue of the News hits Rue Principal what we have to say could be Grey Cup hash warmed over so the serving will be light.

The results as predicted by the odds makers were right on the button if Keeling was in there for Riders but Cassata still made the four point spread good and that should silence his detractors especially the Lansdowne Boo Birds at least until next August. But by the same token a break or two instead of a fumble or two and Edmonton could have won it all.

We wrote recently that we thought Riders were a throwback in ability and spirit to the old McCaffrey days and Captain Moe (Cornwall) Racine confirmed this analysis when he said "we had no super stars just a bunch of good guys playing good football and having a lot of fun doing it."

A couple of years ago when coach Jack Gotta was having his team moulding problems we were asked if this could be interference by former coach Frank Clair. We passed on the question to a knowledgeable Ottawa sport official and he replied. "No that is just football gossip. Frank has enough managing problems of his own. Jack Gotta claims he wants to build his kind of team and coach his way".

Just two years later Gotta accomplished his ambition. Thirty two or more guys all on an equal basis. They blocked like freight trains and tackled like grizzlies. He put the foot back in football both in punting and placement kicking. He had faith in a young QB trying desperately to prove he is of CFL calibre, Rick Cassata. Then as back up, or starter as it turned out to be, a veteran and discard out of Calgary, Jerry Keeling. Frank Clair and owner David Loeb didn't shell out any 100 grand for one U.S. name player but they did make it financially possible for Gotta to bring back home Jim Foley and Tom Pullen from Als, also Ron Woodward. Mark Kosmos, a Ticat expendible and an unhappy Jim Evenson from BC Lions.

Then in deep gloom after losing four straight, neither Gotta nor his players gave up, just dug in to prove they had what it takes to make champions.

Jack Gotta did more than that. He is a player's coach as Soupy Campbell said. Gotta didn't rule with any semblance of the army command. He respected his players and they reacted accordingly. They had the freedom of the old days and Gotta was hailed as one of the most popular ever CFL coaches with the news media. Then after any period of relaxation it was strictly football in the dressing room and on the field. This is what pro and amateur sport should be.

Hail the champs, a throwback to the Rollicking Yankees of Ruth and Gehrig. The St. Louis Cardinals Gas House gang of Pepper Martin, Dizzy and Paul (me and Paul) Dean. And the Penticton V's of World Hockey fame starring the Warwick brothers and a Chute a Blondeau Conway. Remember that glorious day, was it in Austria, when the V's won it all and Montreal's Andy O'Brien asked Captain Warwick how it felt to be champs. Expecting a diplomatic semi sport-political answer O'Brien was rocked to hear in a booming reply, "Bring in the beer."

Wasn't it pleasing to see and hear Dave Pickett on CBC TV and radio during the college bowl game and especially as radio guest analyst of the Grey Cup half time show. Dave as you will recall, has a Glen's tie, his mother being the former Sheila Chisholm of Lochiel. Dave was the first winner of the Lions Vern DeGeer Memorial trophy. Last week he was chosen Canada's outstanding college football player as QB of University of Saskatchewan. He was awarded the Hec Creighton trophy. Dave is on Calgary's negotiation list and will report to the Stampeders next training camp. Best wishes, Dave from your legion of friends in and far beyond the Glens.

We enjoyed the college bowl played in the worst possible football weather. Sportsmen like Jim Baker, R. D. Chisholm, Burns McPherson, Sheldon (St. Catharines) MacDonell and a host more grads from the "Caper Country" must have relished St. Mary's knocking off Old McGill.

Looking to the future we feel certain there is college football potential here in the Glens. McGill could have used a high school freshman kicker named Cleary Morris. St. Mary's had a big kicking edge as their Clarke was good on a single, 62 yards, and two in three field goals at 37 and 38 yards. All in the Morris range. Put a bit more beef on Barry MacDonald, he scored 54 points for Gaels this year, and some more experience and he is another among a few more from the Glens that shouldn't have any fear in reporting to a college camp ere too long. Remember fellows, guys like Dave Pickett and Burns McPherson did it the hard way and you can, too. Dedication and hard work in class and on the field.

Glengarry delegates at OFA convention in Oshawa

Many farmers from the region assisted at the annual convention of OFA in Oshawa, Nov. 26, 27 and 28. Farmers from all parts of the province were present at this convention. Some 50 resolutions presented by farmers were discussed during the three days.

The farmer's problems were discussed fully and delegates tried to come out with good and adequate solutions.

Hon. John Turner, federal minister of finance, was present all day Monday.

Tuesday, many provincial legislators assisted at the convention and Tuesday night at the banquet the Hon. Bill Stewart, provincial minister of agriculture, delivered an interesting speech.

Gordon Hill, a farmer from Huron County, has been re-elected as president of OFA for a fourth consecutive term.

Frank Wall, a fruit producer from the Niagara Peninsula, was re-elected as 1st vice-president and Keith Mathie, a milk producer from Brockville, was elected as 2nd vice-president.

The farmers from the East were well represented by their delegates and directors.

Present from Glengarry were Edgar Fourney, Lancaster; Fred Leroux, Apple Hill; Donald Thomson and George Kinloch, Martintown.

Zone Optimists Summerstown

The way an Optimist club can fill the needs of a community, especially the needs of the younger generation, was outlined to members of Zone 10 clubs at the zone meeting in the Glendale Hotel, Summerstown, on Sunday.

Raymond Lapointe, president of the host club, Charlottenburgh-Lancaster, welcomed representatives from clubs in a wide area. Senior officers of the Optimist movement were present as the chief speakers.

Several aspects of running a club were discussed. The need for leadership in the club and community and building of new clubs was discussed by governor-elect Muneo Kawasoe, of Scarborough.

Membership and the effort a club should make to seek new members and keep the established ones was discussed by past lieutenant governor Bill Haight. The district oratorical contest, an aspect of Optimist club activity, was discussed by past lieutenant-governor Bob Houlihan.

Ontario District Governor Jack Mahoney of Windsor, discussed many aspects of Optimist Club work. A highlight of the occasion was presentation of a Friend of Youth Award to the Charlottenburgh-Lancaster Club, in appreciation of its service to the young people of the area.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois extended greetings from the municipality to the visitors and congratulated the club on its three years of progress.

of its location on the seaway and its proximity to Ottawa and Montreal where resource people from top government levels and from all branches of the transportation industry are available.

"The fact Cornwall is a bilingual community was also extremely helpful," he said. The institute will offer language courses for middle and senior managers in the department.

Mr. Lamoureux said negotiations to bring the institute to Cornwall began "about six months ago when Jean Marchand (transport minister) handed me a little note saying the department was looking for a site and asking me what I thought of Cornwall."

Mr. Lamoureux stressed the institute would bring a number of high-salaried employees to the city.

"Such an all-embracing training and development institute will help stimulate economic growth in the area," he said.

Charlottenburgh to encourage tree planting

A special project to encourage the planting of trees, especially by small lot owners, has been organized by Charlottenburgh township council.

Realizing that many people with varying small acreages of land could use trees to advantage. Reeve Adrian adbois has approached the Ontario ministry of natural resources and organized some assistance and encouragement to people who want trees.

Applications are available at the township offices at Williamstown and interested people can apply for trees and the township plans to "take it from there." A wide variety of small trees both evergreens and hardwoods, is available. Even oak and walnut trees can be had.

These trees have been available for some time, but relatively few people realized this and actually took advantage of the supply. The trees are about 10 inches high and the ministry wants to encourage planting of lots of two acres or more.

Because the township is prepared to promote tree planting, the township plans to pay for a "reasonable number" of the trees, and will arrange to have them brought to the township garage at Williamstown. Many areas of land in the township could stand planting as some areas are no longer used for farm crops.

Study shows weeds are useful in combatting pollution

Weeds maintain water quality as a strong buffer against pollution, a Kingston biologist of the provincial ministry of environment told the environmental control committee at Cornwall last week.

Glen Owen and fellow-biologist Mrs. Ivy Wile of Toronto conducted a field study of the St. Lawrence Seaway during the summer and fall from Morrisburg to Lancaster. Information was also gathered by aerial photography and a documentation is being prepared for the ministry of natural resources.

A report with recommendations on weed control is expected to be released by the ministry by February, at the latest.

"As biologically-active organisms, weeds destroy wastes and leave the water clear." Mr. Owen said. "Lake St. Francis is the clearest because upstream water flows into it from the Cornwall Hydro Power Dam as opposed to turbid waters with lack of new water inflow."

However, Mr. Owen noted that Lake St. Francis was a "weedy lake" where weed productivity is prolific.

"In 1975, Cornwall industrial and sewage wastes will have phosphate removal and this should be significant as phosphorus and nitrogen are the nutrients governing weed growth," he said.

Mr. Owen emphasized that the remedy to the seaway problems was not getting rid of the weeds but improving conditions restricting use of small boats and recreation such as as angling.

Cropping weeds with a harvester has to be done annually, Mr. Owen said. It never kills an established weed submerged in more than five feet of water," he said. "And it costs about $70 to crop one acre of weeds even without operating costs."

The 30 square miles of seaway from Cornwall to Lancaster is not all weed beds, Mr. Owen said. But he said 80 per cent of the distance would be comprised of 15,000 acres of weeds. ot ylsuoo ssel ed plnow ,,Il, cut a two-foot wide passageway close to shore for small boats."

He said tons of fertilizer could be reaped from one acre of weeds. It could provide soil conditioner for light soils in need of organic matter, but only possible financial returns, he surmised.

The ministry of natural resources requested Ontario Hydro to clear dead eels and fish that are caught in jungles of woods after going through dam turbines.

"A hydro staff is supposed to be looking after that pollution problem," said Mr. Owen.

"Herbicides are a form of weed control increasing in importance, but its potential depends on possible effect relative to fisheries and water quality.

"The basis of the study is to see if future action with the weeds is warranted," he stressed.

ing staff at six high schools—will become effective Jan. 1 unless the board expedites contract negotiations.

A spokesman said the teachers wanted an end to a "master-slave" relationship.

William Goldie, a field representative with the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, and Herve Casault, a provincial executive member of the Association des Enseignants Franco-Ontariens, submitted the resignations to the board's business administrator.

Mr. Goldie told a news conference after the resignations were turned in that an additional 12 teachers had offered their resignations to the OSSTF but because of certain circumstances the OSSTF did not submit them to the board.

"The resignations were turned in to force an agreement worthy of the 20th century instead of the 18th century and bring salaries up to 1973 standards," he said.

Mr. Goldie stated the dispute centres around money and the board's attitude.

He said some teachers are being paid at the 1971 level while all the other teachers were being paid on last year's contract with no increase for experience as agreed to in the last contract.

"We have had several meetings with the board negotiator to discuss our demands for very very small increases," Mr. Goldie stated. "These increases do not even match the cost of living."

But he refused to disclose what the teachers' salary demands were.

"The die has been cast. The resignations are in and they'll be effective at the end of December." Mr. Goldie said. "If the board doesn't start to negotiate until after the Christmas holidays it may be very difficult to get the teachers back."

He added this will force the board to start negotiating quickly—one of the teachers' main demands. Tentative negotiations are expected to be resumed Dec. 17th.

IT'S OUR OPINION

No Nation Has Given More

Sore beset by Watergate, the Agnew resignation, foreign exchange problems, strikes and now the fuel and energy crises, the American people can console themselves with the knowledge that, they are not totally without friends and admirers. Editorial comment in the Prescott Journal evidences that fact, as does an editorial in the Potsdam, NY, Courier & Freeman based on a telecast by Toronto's Gordon Sinclair.

Uncle Sam is a handy whipping boy for us Canadians (and practically every other nation in the world), notes the Prescott editor. "What we don't stop to think about is that the United States is its brother's keeper in this world. No nation in history has done more to aid underdeveloped nations or to pour aid into disaster areas in other countries than the United States and the American people. There is barely a nation in the world that has not been helped by the United States. But when the shoe is on the other foot, how do we react? We don't. We sit back and wait for the giant to bleed to death. Over the past five years we can recall scores of disasters in the United States such as floods, fires, hurricanes and cyclones. And yet we cannot remember one Canadian, British, German, Japanese, Russian or South American dollar ever being sent to help these victims . . . the same victims who give generously of their tax dollars to help these nations in time of disaster and famine. Guess we're lucky the Americans are tolerant and have a good sense of humor . . ."

In the same vein is the Potsdam editorial forwarded us by a sympathetic Montreal reader. The editor feels Sinclair's words may help restore everyone's faith in America. The Canadian commentator's remarks are quoted in part:

This Canadian thinks it is time to speak up for the Americans as the most generous and possibly the least appreciated people on all the earth.

Germany, Japan and, to a lesser extent, Britain and Italy were lifted out of the debris of war by the Americans who poured in billions of dollars and forgave other billions in debts. None of these countries is today paying even the interest on its remaining debts to the United States.

When the franc was in danger of collapsing in 1956, it was the Americans who propped it up, and their reward was to be insulted and swindled on the streets of Paris.

I was there. I saw it.

When distant cities are hit by earthquakes, it is the United States that hurries in to help. This spring, 59 American communities (were) flattened by tornadoes. Nobody helped.

The Marshall Plan and the Truman Policy pumped billions upon billion of dollars into discouraged countries. Now newspaper in those countries are writing about the decadent, warmongering Americans.

You talk about American technocracy, and you find men on the moon—not once but several times—and safely home again.

You talk about scandals, and the Americans put theirs right in the store window for everybody to look at.

When the railways of France, Germany and India were breaking down through age, it was the Americans who rebuilt them. When the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central went broke, nobody loaned them an old caboose. Both are still broke.

I can name you 5,000 times when the Americans raced to the help of other people in trouble. Can you name me even one time when someone else raced to the Americans in trouble?

Our neighbors have faced it alone, and I'm one Canadian who is damned tired of hearing them kicked around, Mr. Sinclair said in conclusion.

Most Canadians, we think, share his admiration for the American people though they may have their reservations concerning some government officials in Washington, leaders in big business, the labor unions and the rackets. Good neighbors we would remain, even though we reserve the neighborly right of differing in opinion at times.

Save Gas - Shop At Home

There will be no rationing of gasoline or fuel oil in Canada to meet the energy crisis but Canadians are being asked to voluntarily restrict their use of the various forms of energy. We are being asked to drive at 50 miles per hour, to form car pools and to restrict driving to essential trips in order to reduce gasoline consumption. Christmas tree and outdoor lighting should be restricted to the immediate holiday period and we are asked to reduce home and industrial heating temperatures by five to seven degrees.

Prices of gasoline and heating oil are to advance four or five cents a gallon and the increased costs of fuel may encourage people to reduce their use for the sake of economy.

At the speed rate of 50 miles per hour there is a significant increase of miles per gallon of gas and that is not the only saving. Safety officials maintain that 500 lives might be shaved from the traffic toll in a year if Canadians were travelling at the reduced speed.

A lot of mileage must be considered essential driving in this mobile age but the present energy crisis has brought an awareness of the mad pace at which North Americans on both sides of the border have been using up their natural resources. Even before the Arab oil kings reduced exports, the United States faced a serious shortage of fuel oil and gasoline. Restrictions in that country are to be much more stringent than we will know and Washington is preparing plans to cope with a problem that may require an entirely new concept of the role of the automobile in everyday living. The swing is to smaller cars that travel farther on a gallon of gasoline and the big automakers are even now switching much of their production to the compacts.

If voluntary restrictions on driving don't get results here in Canada the Government may find itself forced to legislate some type of rationing. Drivers should be thinking in terms of essential trips only and the local economy would enjoy a definite boost if those weekly trips to the city shopping centres were discontinued in the interest of saving fuel. Consideration of the costs of travel might even suggest savings on these shopping sprees are a myth.

In the Christmas shopping period ahead a lot of gas might be saved if local shoppers sought gift suggestions in the local stores before heading out for the shopping centres. They'd be saving not only fuel but a lot of wear and tear on the nerves that goes with departmental store shopping.

Twice The Price In Two Years

Fuel oil that cost 18 cents a gallon two short years ago is now costing double that price following Saturday's five-cent boost permitted the oil companies by the Energy Board at Ottawa. Furnace oil cost 23 cents a gallon just a year ago and the householder can be excused for wondering if inceases in cost of 36 per cent over 12 months are justified by the fact fuel oil threatens to be in short supply in this part of Canada later this winter.

Some of that boost in price might be accounted for by the fact the companies will be paying more for what imported fuel they can secure in world markets. But at 36 cents a gallon we get the conviction the oil companies are using the threat of shortages to squeeze millions more in profits out of the Canadian consumers. There comes the suspicion, too, that most of this talk of a fuel shortage may be manufactured out of thin air to put us in a mood to accept sky-high prices that cannot be justified.

Those fuel oil price increases are adding to the inflationary pressure and they are also swelling the federal treasury at a time when Ottawa is wallowing in more cheap dollars than it knows what to do with. Millions of dollars more a day are pouring into Ottawa in the form of that export tax on oil to the United States and at least a substantial amount of that money might well have been used to cushion the added cost of imported oil on the world markets. If Alberta oil was not needed by the United States, cheaper fuel might be available to keep Eastern Canada warm. Those millions in added export tax should also go to help finance a pipe line extension to Montreal and the Maritimes.

Instead, the federal government will probably dream up another give-away of tax dollars to further prepare the climate for another general election.

For a government so hipped on public spending on the grand scale the federal treasury has never been so flooded with tax revenues. Inflation that bears so heavily on the tax-paying consumer is a shot-in-the-arm for a revenue department that has been raking in extra billions each year as the cost of living kept rising. As wages increase to meet those added living costs, taxpayers find themselves in higher tax brackets and paying more and more in other hidden sales and excise taxes that swell the revenue department coffers. The capital gains tax and other provisions of Benson's tax reforms are also adding to Ottawa's take but there are no compensating reductions in tax rates. Instead the Trudeau Government goes merrily on its way dreaming up more welfare benefits and otherwise adding to the inflationary pressures, as witness this latest increase in the price of fuel oil and gasoline.

Winter Nap

(The Smiths Falls Record-News)

In the summer of 1972, after years of aimlessly watching the massive growth in popularity of this winter sport, the Government appointed a select committee of the Legislature to investigate and make recommendations on the use of the whole range of motorized snow vehicles and all-terrain vehicles.

Last summer, the 11-man committee produced an interim report, concentrating on snowmobiles. This in itself may have indicated awareness of the need for urgent action to deal with the problems of snow vehicles but, if it was supposed to convey this message to the Government it failed.

What happened is sadly familiar. The Government evidently decided that the report of the committee would take the heat off. The public would feel that the matter was at last in hand and would stop insisting on legislative controls. So the latest word is that some time next year —maybe—action can be expected that will put snowmobiles in their place.

Wherever that place might be, it is certainly not on the highways of the province, where an alarming number of snowmobile fatalities have occurred. The committee had advocated a phased program to get almost all snowmobiles off the roads in a couple of years, allowing only right-angle crossings.

The Government, to whom nothing in the whole area of snowmobiling has been "rapidly apparent", shows no sign of readiness to match the interim report with interim legislation. Is it waiting for the word on dune buggies? Will it be able to shrug off this winter's toll of death and injury as something unrelated to its own sluggishness?

ROBBED OF A NIGHT'S SLEEP

The PUC gave us an inkling last Thursday night of what it would be like to be without heat in our house—and we didn't like it. Power was turned off in our section of town for three hours and in that time room temperatures had dropped to an uncomfortable 60. It was even chilly under the covers.

That blackout came as a surprise and as a result we didn't get a wink of sleep all through that long, cold night. Next time maybe the PUC will have the grace to give warning.

Just about to hit the hay were we, shortly before 1 a.m. when the lights flicked off. With them went TV set and furnace and it was the latter that worried us as we looked outside and saw streets and store lights blazing on the corner. That suggested localized trouble so we felt our way downstairs and headed for the cellar by candlelight.

A change of fuses brought no result and that being the limit of our electrical know-how we go on the phone to our favorite furnace man. It was while we were explaining our trouble to him that we noticed the night lights were off at the bank. That meant the trouble wasn't exclusively ours and after apologizing for waking him up we learned that lights would be off for about 15 minutes while the PUC stepped up power to our section of town.

A relieved Rambling Reporter went back to bed and that's when the unwelcome thought struck; did we put back the right fuse, did we return the master switch to on? We wouldn't know until the power was restored so we settled back to wait until the bank lights came on again. And we waited, keeping sleep away by frequent glances at a still dark bank. Those long minutes stretched into hours and it wasn't until 4.10 a.m. that the lighted bank sent us back to the cellar to close the circuit breaker. The furnace roared to life, the lights were on again and it was back to bed, though not to sleep.

We'd done such a good job of staying awake earlier, we couldn't get to sleep and so the night was a total loss.

We've picked up that lost sleep but next time the power's to be turned off we hope there'll be prior notice. Then we can get to bed before the blackout and we'll know enough not to fool with the fuses.

Maybe we should be sure of enough heat for ourselves before we take in Chile people.

ROUGH ON QUARTERBACKS

The Canadian brand of football is finished for this year and the Grey Cup game provided an entertaining brand of ball under field and weather conditions that were exceptionally good.

We enjoyed the game but it might have been even more exciting had Edmonton been left with a healthy quarterback. Ottawa deserved the victory if only for its stonewall defence; but it would have been a cleaner win if that defensive squad had not been so prone to rough up the Edmonton quarterbacks.

They racked up Wilkinson early, and his ribs were broken by a bit of late piling on after the play was dead. They reopened the arm of Edmonton's second signal caller, badly gashed in an earlier game. Wilkie finished the game in pain but those injuries had crippled the Westerners' comeback attempt. It could have been a thrilling finish had he been healthy.

We were pulling for Ottawa but their win would have pleased more had they not been playing up to their name Rough Riders. Their only possible excuse might be that every other team in the CFL was also out to get the opposing quarterback. Never have we seen a season when so many teams had so many signal callers out of action with serious injuries and this something that has been growing noticeably more common in the CFL in recent years.

Other key players are also being sidelined by injuries as more piling on is being allowed by the referees but team owners should be taking steps to protect their signal callers, at least. These are invariably the highest paid talent and their absence through injury can hurt the box office too.

The punter, usually a one-shot talent, is jealously guarded from contact and yet the team leader is fair game to be battered down after he has let the ball go on a pass. That doesn't make sense.

Football is a rough and tough sport and we wouldn't want to see the referees throwing too many handkerchiefs to slow down the action. As it is, some of their decisions look questionable and can have a bearing on the final score.

Good quarterbacks are in short supply, though, and it would seem in the best interests of the sport that the field leader should get more protection from the rules than a mere punter. That ain't the way it is and we're wondering why?

ENERGY

IF WE EACH SAVE A LITTLE, WE'LL ALL SAVE A LOT.

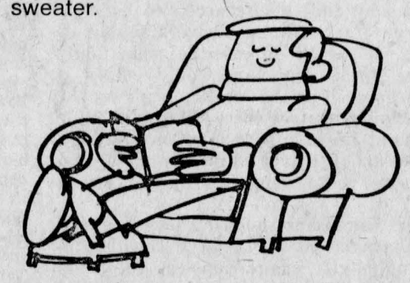
With supplies of crude oil in Eastern Canada barely sufficient to meet demand, real shortages of gasoline and heating oil could occur here in Ontario if we can't maintain our imports. Alternate, more dependable forms of energy are being developed, but that will take time. What is important today is that each one of us makes the best possible use of existing energy supplies.
Little ways in which you can save energy may seem insignificant, but in fact they are not. For example, it has been estimated that if each person in Ontario saved just a penny's worth of energy each day, we'd save enough energy in a week to heat up to 2,500 homes for an entire year.
Nobody has the right to waste any form of power. The time has come for every person to do everything possible to ensure the wisest use of energy.
Good energy habits learned now, especially by our young people, will help bring us through this winter, and pay off even more in years to come. Let's get to work.

47 ways you can conserve energy. A program for voluntary action!

1-7 Your heating system.
Clean forced-air filters once a month ☐ Bleed air from hot water radiators, fix leaks ☐ Empty the flue clean-out ☐ Have the system checked by an expert ☐ Insulate ducts and pipes in areas that don't need heat ☐ Don't use metallic paint on radiators ☐ A gravity air system with a single return works best with interior doors open.

8-13 Keep the heat in!
Insulation, especially in attics, pays off in the long run ☐ Fit storm windows, weather-strip outside doors ☐ Keep fireplace damper closed ☐ Use range hood ventilators only when necessary ☐ If you sleep with the window open, close the door ☐ Close drapes at night.

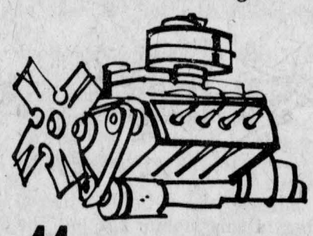
14-17 Use your thermostat.
Each degree you lower the thermostat cuts fuel consumption about 3% ☐ It's possible to save by turning the thermostat down at night ☐ If you use a humidifier, you'll stay comfortable with less heat ☐ If there's a Shivery Sam in the family, ask him to wear a sweater.



18-22 Hot water.
Insulate exposed hot water pipes ☐ If your water heater has a dial, try setting it lower ☐ A dripping tap wastes up to 175 gallons of hot water a month ☐ Don't use dishwashers till they're full ☐ Generally, a shower uses less hot water than a bath.

23-32 Around the house.
Are the door seals on your oven, refrigerator and freezer good? ☐ Don't use the oven if a toaster or fry-pan will do the job ☐ If you buy an electric heater, make sure it has a thermostat ☐ Use lower wattage bulbs if you can ☐ Use Christmas lights from 6 pm till bedtime ☐ Use pots that cover stove elements ☐ Thaw frozen food before cooking ☐ Defrost freezers regularly ☐ A pressure cooker saves energy as well as time ☐ Don't use the dryer till it's full.

33-39 On the road.
A well-maintained car is an economical car ☐ Check tires and alignment ☐ Prolonged idling wastes gas ☐ Can you use the bus? Or ride with someone else? ☐ Does your size of car really fit your needs?
☐ Over 50 mph, economy decreases
☐ Jack-rabbit starts waste gas



40-44 Around the farm.
A well-tuned tractor burns 10% less fuel ☐ Underground or pressurized storage tanks reduce vapourization loss ☐ Reduce tractor wheel slip and you save fuel ☐ Prolonged idling of engines wastes gas ☐ Can you turn yard lights off earlier?

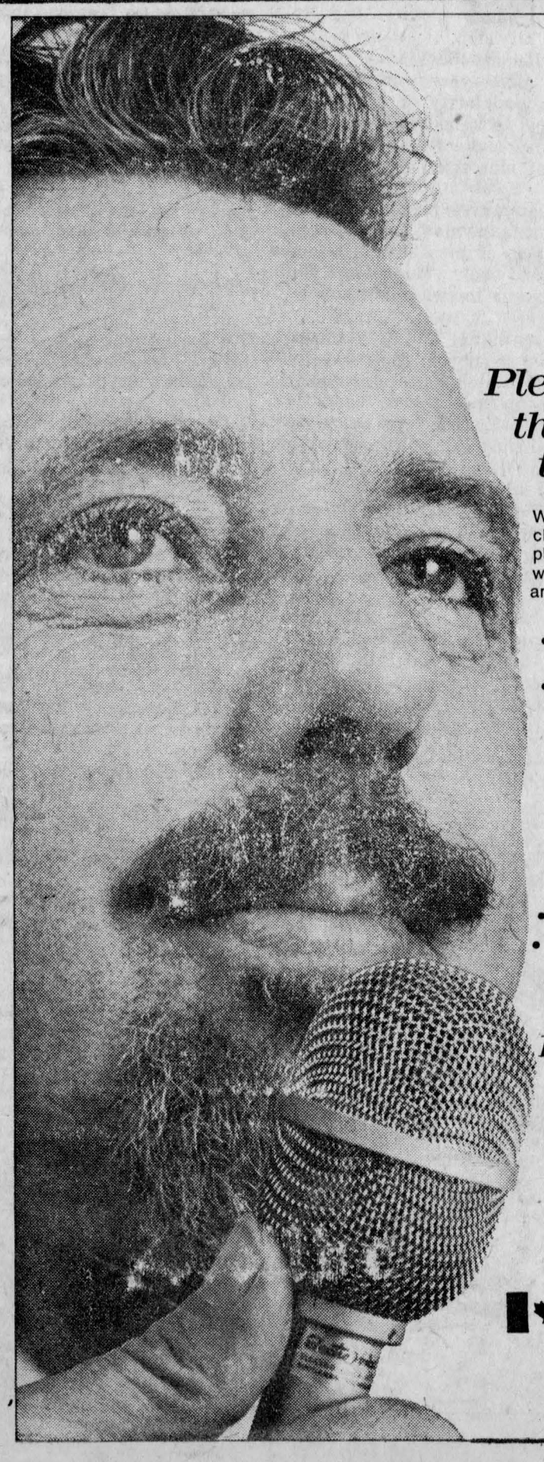
45-47 At work.
Can the thermostat be turned down? ☐ Can you turn off any lights? ☐ Has your company got an Energy Conservation Suggestion Scheme?

We're taking our own advice.
All Ministries and Agencies of the Ontario Government are doing their bit to conserve energy. Lighting and heating levels are being reduced in government buildings; a new emphasis is being given to economical operation of vehicles; Ontario Hydro and the Ministry of Education are encouraging consumers and schoolchildren to learn good habits in the use of energy. And that's just a beginning!

Save this check list...and save energ

Ontario will play its part in resolving the Canadian energy situation. Carrying out these suggestions will help achieve the national energy conservation goals.

Government of Ontario



Please, this season, take care.

We know you took great care choosing your gifts and cards, so please, don't let your efforts be wasted, take that care a little further and make sure you:

- address cards and parcels correctly. Remember apt. numbers.
- remember to put your own address and postal code on everything. (This way your friends will be able to add your code to their Christmas list.)
- use the "speed labels" your Post Office has sent you. They'll help speed sorting. Just bundle your mail together by destination.
- remember to make sure you have enough postage.
- remember to wrap parcels safely.
- remember to send all out-of-town mail by Dec. 13th; in-town mail by Dec. 17th.

Remember, take care.
