St. Raphael's Area Resident, Hugh King, 60 Killed In Sunday Crash On Highway 43

Hugh King, 60, of St. Raphael's, was fatally injured Sunday afternoon when the car in which he was a passenger skidded off Highway 43, some three miles west of Alexandria, and struck a culvert. The accident occurred in early afternoon during an all-day rain.

Injured in the accident were Richard Lapierre, driver of the late model car, Adrien MacDonald, also of Alexandria, and Ronald King, son of the victim, who was conveyed to Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, for treatment of knee injuries and a dislocated shoulder.

Lapierre and MacDonald are still in Glengarry Memorial Hospital where they were treated by Dr. Yvon Bourdeau. Lapierre had severe contusions to the head while MacDonald suffered fractures of the hip and shoulder.

Police said the car was proceeding west on Highway 43 when Lapierre lost control. It left the north side of the pavement and was a total wreck after striking a culvert. Dr. D. J. Dolan was called in his capacity as coroner.

Mr. King is survived by his wife, the former Loretta Dorie, and by two sons, and seven daughters. Sons are John King of Cornwall, and Ronald King of St. Raphael's; daughters are Mrs. Maurice Massia of Cornwall, Mrs. Larry MacDonald of Alexandria, Mrs. George Lapierre of Cornwall, Miss Eileen King of Cornwall, Mrs. Adrien Macdonald of Alexandria, Beverly and Sharon King of St. Raphael's.

He is also survived by two brothers and three sisters. They are Carson King of Martintown, Hiram King of Cornwall, Mrs. Dennis Montroy of Cornwall, Mrs. Hilda Pilon of Maxville, and Mrs. Vivien Beriault of Montreal.

The largely attended funeral was held Wednesday at 10 o'clock from the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home to St. Raphael's Church and cemetery. Rev. M. J. O'Brien, PP, chanted the funeral mass.

The pallbearers were: Larry MacDonald, George Lapierre, Maurice Massia, Alex Dorie, Ronald Montroy and Alex King.

GLENGARRY HISTORICAL NOTES

by HUGH MacMILLAN

Miles Macdonell, 1769-1828 was the second son of John Macdonell of Scotus, better known as "Spanish John". He was tagged with this name because he left the Scots College in Rome to join the Spanish army, while still in his early teens.

In 1773 he came to the Mohawk Valley with his family, and settled there with the other highlanders from Glengarry, Scotland, in Sir William Johnson's settlement. The American Revolution uprooted the family soon after their arrival and with other loyalists he came to Canada. He was one of the first settlers at St. Andrews West. and helped to found the Roman Catholic Church there. Two of his three sons became involved in the fur trade ,on opposing sides. John the eldest, was a North West Co. partner, and when he retired from the fur trade built a large and attractive house at Pointe Fortune, which is still standing.

The subject of this sketch Miles, was in 1811 appointed agent for Lord Selkirk in his attempt to settle highlanders from Scotland at Red River, now the city of Winnipeg. This philanthropic project of Lord Selkirk met with instant opposition from the North West Co. It appeared to them that Selkirk was attempting to cut off their established fur trade routes in the Red River area, and also their supply of pemmican. This food item, consisting of pounded, dried buffalo meat, with added tallow and berries, packed in 90 pound hide bags, was the mainstay of the canoemen. Sometimes flies and other odds and ends got mixed in with the main ingredients, which all helped to add to its unique flavor. In any case a few pounds of this, plus dried corn and a plentiful supply of "high wines" would keep a "Voyageur" paddling from dawn to dusk.

In short order the entire west became a battleground, with the NorWesters on one side and Selkirk with the Hudson Bay Co., of which he was a principal shareholder, on the other side. The Hudson Bay Co., established in 1670, claimed under their charter all lands draining into Hudson Bay. This took in a good part of the Canadian west and part of what is now the States. The NorWesters based in Montreal and Fort William had for over 30 years successfully disputed this monopoly.

Miles, one of the heroes of this affair, had the thankless job of trying to settle hundreds of dispossessed highlanders in a virtual wilderness, of which they knew nothing, while an undeclared fur trade war raged around them. I am sure there were times when he wished he had stayed in Glengarry, where so many of his NorWester opponents came from, including his brother John.

It would be interesting to learn where some of the descendants of the "Spanish John" Macdonells are and what documents they might have that would throw more light on this interesting chapter of Canadian history. The brassbound walnut writing case and money chest, illustrated here, belonged to Miles Macdonell and has his brass name plate on the lid. This chest which travelled many times by canoe over the fur trade routes will go on display next year in the North West Co. museum at Williamstown.

The late Mary Donovan, a McDonald from Glengarry, was responsible for saving this valuable artifact. She also saved some of the papers which were in the chest. On her death it was turned over to her nephew, A. D. D. "Buster"

Council Meeting To Discuss Purchase Of Arena

Town Council will hold a special meeting tonight to discuss possible purchase of Glengarry Gardens as a community centre.

The special meeting was decided on at Tuesday's regular meeting when a large delegation from the the Alexandria Minor Hockey Association waited on Council to make known its views. Spokesman for the group, President Andrew McNulty, reported he had heard the Gardens' directors have had five responses to ther advertisement asking for tenders for sale or lease of the arena.

Mr. McNulty reported two of the offers have been to purchase and three are for rental. The delegation made clear its conviction that if the town is not to lose this valuable recreation facility council must lose no time in deciding to act.

A member of the Gardens' directorate confirms the fact offers have been received and states that the board will meet next week to consider them.

Another delegation to council requested a responsible person be assigned as traffic guard for school children at the corner of Main and Lochiel Streets. Council is advertising for same.

He was educated in Winnipeg Separate Schools and graduated from Manitoba Law School in 1922. He was appointed County Judge in Manitoba in 1943.

Pontifical Mass was offered in St. Mary's Cathedral with Archbishop G. B. Flahiff, CSB, concelebrating with seven priests.

Judge MacDonnell was a prefect of the Third Order of St. Francis and a member of the Archiepiscopal Advisory Board to the Archdiocese of Winnipeg.

Department of Education approval as well as that of the Ontario Fire Marshal was given earlier for the half-million dollar structure. Contract signing and start of construction were somewhat delayed; however, recent approval by the OMB has allowed the work to proceed.

The school board has entered into an agreement with Cornwall Contractor J .R. Couture to have the extension built for a contract price of $498,000. Designers of the project are the Cornwall firm of Sorensen, Thompson, Laframboise & Mallette, Architect and Engineers.

Signing of contract documents took the contractor and board chairman Alex Gordon about an hour and a half as both had to put their signatures on each page of more than 80 drawings and 350 specification sheets.

Mr. Couture has moved his work crew onto the site. Excavation has already begun and concrete footings are due to be poured shortly.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Adieu To A Fine Summer

The weathermen crossed us up badly after predicting ideal summer weather throughout the Labor Day weekend. Saturday's clouds and cool breezes were not what holidayers had been led to expect and Sunday's all day rain was anything but welcome to farmers with crops yet unharvested.

This last long weekend of the summer must have been disappointing to a lot of holidayers who had fought their way through congested city traffic for a last fling in the sun. They missed out and they lacked the consoling memories of the perfect summer week that preceded this dismal ending.

Last week in Glengarry was undoubtedly the week that was reminiscent of the summers we knew and enjoyed in our youth. Morning coolness giving way to a blazing afternoon sun; and in the warm but balmy nights a full moon was shining down to delight young lovers and evoke a vague restlessness in those still too young for hand holding. Even oldsters basked in that glow before belatedly heading for bed.

This was the type of summer that has been too infrequent in recent years and proves all too short. If there remains a complaining farmer he is harping this year not on drought but on a too bountiful hay crop and a lack of storage for his corn.

There will be reason for thanksgiving come the next holiday weekend, especially if this summer weather lingers on into October.

Double Trouble When Passing A School Bus

Millions of school children boarded their yellow school buses across the land Tuesday morning and for the next ten months they will be mobile twice each school day. The kiddies alight from these buses each day, too, and therein lies a hazard which the Ontario government is trying to minimize by an amendment to the Highways Traffic Act which became effective September 1st.

When you see a school bus with red lights flashing—STOP; no matter in which direction you are travelling unless on a divided thruway.

In the past Ontario motorists overtaking a school bus from the rear have had to stop when the bus was halted, with its lights flashing, in the progress of taking on, or letting off, children. Now traffic in both directions must stop when meeting the buses with their lights flashing. You must stay stopped as long as those red lights are flashing.

Some motorists may resent what they consider an unnecessary impediment to their rapid progress. But we have known fatalities when youngsters debarked from a bus to run into the path of an oncoming car. Most Glengarry drivers have, or know, children who ride the buses and they will be quick to endorse this attempt to ensure their safe arrival home.

If there are drivers callous enough to disregard this new law they might consider the consequences. Fines of up to $50 for a first offence rise to $100 for a second; $200 for a third. There is also a penalty of four demerit points for each offence.

It's Our Money They're Playing With

Railroad operations may be back to normal again by the time this issue goes to press. The non-operators may by then have decided to permit the operators to operate the trains.

At time of writing over the weekend the strike situation was still fluid and though a few trains were running there were many members of the non-operating unions in a mood to flout Parliament's orders and let the rails rust.

This was a serious situation that carried the threat of utter chaos to society as we know it. Parliament is the voice of the people, the framer of our laws, the court of last resort, and it had been called into special session specifically to avert a national disaster. To get the trains running it had debated for three days and finally passed a back-to-work order that guaranteed a minimum 18 cents an hour increase for the railroad workers. There was provision for compulsory arbitration that promised even more for the non-operators in the final contract, but union leaders in several areas of the country found their followers recalcitrant, insistent on continuing the strike and ignoring Parliament's back-to-work ordinance.

Where do we go from here? If a union's leadership has not the power to bargain for its members and have its decisions obeyed the future of collective bargaining is dim indeed. If the highest power in the land, our federal government, proves powerless to end a strike, what is in store for Canada in the field of labor relations but anarchy and economic chaos?

Our country is now on an inflationary spiral that threatens a depression worse than we knew in the hungry '30s. We have been drifting inexorably toward the brink through these ten years of petty party politicking when the ship of state has sadly lacked a qualified pilot.

Authoritative leadership Parliament has not had from any party. If the railway unions show a disquieting contempt for this back-to-work order from Ottawa our representatives in the Commons must be aware this lack of respect is shared by many more Canadians. Minority governments of recent years reflect the distrust which members of all parties have earned by their obvious jockeying for public favor at the expense of sound administration.

If organized labor seems intent on feathering its own nest at the expense of the country as a whole, it has as an example the Members of Parliament who voted themselves a whopping $18,000 indemnity, much of it tax free. If striking railwaymen see as pious platitude the government's argument that their demands would prove inflationary, they probably have gained this point of view from the free-spending proclivities of successive administrations at Ottawa.

Deficit spending by government is undoubtedly the key inflationary factor. Until Ottawa evidences real concern for the economic health of the country the Commons is left in a poor position to demand thrift from any segment of society.

Last week's performance at Ottawa was disappointingly on the level of what we have come to expect from our elected. The Pearson formula for ending the strike was pure pablum which the government must have known would need sugaring and which was fodder for the Diefenbaker diatribe. The sweetening was added on a high diplomatic tone when the unions indicated they wouldn't stomach it; and only after the Opposition parties had been given license to play politics with a national crisis that should have had the united voice of the Commons.

This, expectedly, was lacking and Parliament's approach to the strike must be faulted even though the union members' reaction cannot be condoned.

Canada desperately needs new leadership in its political parties and a better breed of men for them to lead. The opportunists we now have in Parliament and the Senate but reflect the dog-eat-dog attitude of each of us in our selfish push for personal gain.

All we aspire to is a bigger slice of the money pie, the devil take the hindmost. The politician preserves his place in power by offering ever more give-aways by government. The labor leader must make his annual demands for more take-home pay or lose his place of preference. The manufacturer has to show a profit or default to his debtors and be swallowed up by his competitors. In a buoyant economy such as we now know demand for goods and services is outstripping supply in many instances and so prices keep rising, encouraged by inordinate wage increases and unchecked government spending.

The consumer is caught in the squeeze, especially those on fixed incomes, and if the cost of living continues to spiral there can be only one outcome. All of us are living on credit and a widespread call-in of all those promisory notes could plunge the country into a depression worse than we knew in the dirty '30's.

Inspired leadership is needed at Ottawa if we are to escape the deluge. An increase in taxes is not the answer. The dollars the tax gatherers leave us are already being stretched to keep up with rising living costs. There must be some government control of wage increases and Parliament should set an example in thrift by reducing the flood of unproductive money it keeps pouring into an economy already too well primed by government spending.

It's our money they are playing with when Parliament pays off to get the trains running again. Whatever the final settlement of this and every other strike, the consumer will pay—and that is you and us.

If we are to avert depression there must be restraint on the part of each of us in our demands for the more affluent life. Ottawa must set the example but there is no evidence yet that our elected are capable of, or interested in, maintaining a sound dollar.

The Glengarry News,

In the Brodie news items of last week's Glengarry News the Birthday-Farewell Party held in the home of W. C. Jamieson for 1st Lieutenant Ralph McKelvy was erroneously said to have taken place "on Sunday evening". It was in fact held on Friday evening, Aug. 26.

COULD BE COLD, LATER

The editor's been writing about the fine summer we had and here's your Rambling Reporter full of foreboding concerning the cold winter that lies ahead. He's not in the habit of doing long-range or any kind of forecasting but last week brought evidence from the vegetable world which he feels impelled to pass on to his readers in case they've a heating problem.

That somewhat erotic twining of two carrots dangling in the office window can only have one significance, your RR believes. Carrots know no sex life, as far as he knows, so that suggestive embrace must represent a huddling to keep warm.

Ergo, if members of the vegetable world are already feeling the cold we humans must be in for it, too.

A Siamese cucumber was another oddity brought in last week. While these are fairly common, it just might be another indication that in the vegetable world they're readying for a lot of frosty Fridays.

Confucius would probably say that there are just as many freaks in the vegetable world as in the animal—that's us he's pointing at.

But from the evidence already in we'd suggest if you're thinking of wintering down South maybe you'd better book early.

COLORLESS FOOTBALL IN COLOR

Saw our first football game in color Monday, courtesy of Claude Lemay at his TV and Radio shop, and found it a lot easier to follow the play due to the contrast in uniforms color brought out.

Our introduction to color would have been much more enjoyable if our favorite Rough Riders hadn't been so colorless on offence. Russ Jackson was off color and he wasn't rolling out. Hamilton's offence was rushing for more first downs, but it wasn't up to par either and for a time it seemed the game was going to end in another hockey score with no touchdowns, as has been the case in several NFL games this season.

The strong wind undoubtedly was a factor in spoiling the passing game of both clubs but the fact remains that in Eastern Canadian football defensive squads are now dominant. As a result most of the games are dull. There will have to be some rule changes to open up the game and probably the only solution is a move to four downs rather than the present three.

Fans are going to start staying away in droves if all they are served up are two bucks and a kick. Your Rambling Reporter once was an avid squinter at the squawk box whenever a game was telecast, but this year most have been so dull he's getting choosy. The game they play in Western Canada is much more exciting to watch and he looks forward to the interlocking games much more than to the feeble football furnished by the Big Four. Montreal is showing a bit of muscle but any game involving Toronto in recent years has been anything but a spectacle.

Seen in color, we must admit, the game and the half-time show are a big improvement over black and white. If they can improve the offensive play we'll probably be found rambling toward the nearest color set each time football is the fare.

EVERY WEDNESDAY?

A timely story, perhaps more than a little apocryphal, is told by Winnie Nute in her column in the Renfrew Advance:

The entire personnel had been summoned to listen to a most important announcement by the manager. "For some time now," he said, "there has been a rumor circulating. It is true. On the first of next month, the whole plant will change over to full automation."

A great surge of comment swept through the crowd. The manager held up his hand for silence and continued, "Not a single person will be laid off. Wages will continue as before. Bonuses will be as usual; holidays with pay, sick benefits and pension schemes will go on. Every employee will be expected to appear for work on Wednesday of each week. Wednesday only."

There was a choked hush. Then, breaking the silence, came a plaintive voice from the back of the crowd: "What? Every Wednesday?"

MINISTER INDUCTED

Members and adherents of the two congregations of the United Church, Maxville and Moose Creek and neighboring friends assembled in the Maxville United Church on Friday evening, September 2, for the purpose of inducting into the pastoral charge of the two churches the Rev. W. E. Henderson a former minister of Central Butte, Saskatchewan, who with Mrs. Henderson and their two children, have come to make their home in Maxville for the ensuing years.

Rev. J. C. Kellogg of Cornwall, presided for the meeting and gave the opening devotional exercises.

Melvin MacEwen narrated the steps taken since the departure of the former minister, Rev. Donald C. Munro, to the present time. Rev. Mr. Kellogg then asked the minister-elect the usual questions and after satisfactory answers were received, Mr. Henderson was duly inducted to become pastor of the two congregations. Rev. Joseph Lynn of Hawkesbury then presented much food for thought in his address to minister and people.

This plan will do everything to get your youngster a college degree except pass his exams for him

You can't guarantee that a youngster now in high school will get his college degree. But you can guarantee that he will get the chance to try.

That's the essence of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme — a comprehensive savings-loan plan that enables you to spread the cost of a university education over periods up to nine years.

You start payments when your boy or girl is still in high school and make the final payment a year after graduation. From the first deposit, the special life insurance feature guarantees that his or her education costs will be covered.

Your low monthly payments include interest charges totalling a small fraction of what you would pay on any straight loan programme.

This is a flexible programme . . . adaptable to individual education costs and payable over a varying number of years.

If you have a youngster in the first two or three years of high school now is the time to start. Drop into your neighbourhood branch of the Bank of Montreal and let us fit the plan to your needs.

Then convince your youngster the rest is up to him!

PS: If you need help financing a student already in university — or planning to register this year — talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances. Or, if your youngster qualifies for a loan under the Canada Student Loans Plan, send him to see the B of M.

Greenfield Meets Lochiel Friday In Final Game Of Greenspon Play

The Old Timers played on September 3rd, the West side of Highway 34 against the East side. West side won 5-1. Donald Alex MacLean scored 3 for West side and Rene Trottier and R. D. MacLeod one each. Freddie Quesnel scored the only goal for East side. This game drew the biggest crowd of the season. The West side's secret weapon was unable to play due to a broken toe.

In the game at Greenfield Monday night, Greenfield beat Glen Sandfield 3-1 in the Greenspon cup series. Allan O'Brien scored 2 for Greenfield, Donald Alex MacLean scored 1. Raymond Quesnel got the one for Glen Sandfield.

Last night Lochiel beat McCrimmon 1-0. The game was called after 10 minutes of play due to a McCrimmon player disputing the referee's decision. The final game of this series is Friday night at Lochiel when they play Greenfield.

Intermediates: On September 1st McCrimmon and Dunvegan played to a 1-1 tie. Billy Shields scored for Dunvegan on a penalty shot and Melville MacLeod tied it up. McCrimmon captured the cup in the final game.

Juniors: Lochiel Junior Soccer team took the cup Monday night, edging out Glen Sandfield in three straight games. Monday night's exciting game ended 4-1 and scoring for Lochiel were 'PeeWee' Poirier 2; J. T. Hay 1; Emile Theoret 1. This is the end of Junior Soccer for another successful year. The Lochiel line-up this year was: Coach, Real Fournier; Goalie, Jerome Poirier; Alex MacDonald, Ronnie Fournier, Morris McCormick, Emile Theoret, Gerard Kennedy, Michael Massie, Hubert Massia, Ewen Massia, J. T. Hay, Murray McGillis, Tommy Lowe, Peewee Poirier and John G. Duval.

Lacrosse Notes

The two Alexandria and District Minor Lacrosse teams, the PeeWees (12 and under) and Midgets (13 to 16) have shown tremendous improvement in the few short weeks of practise. Unfortunately they got organized too late to get into any of the local leagues so must depend on exhibition games.

The PeeWees played their 4th game August 31 and lost 11-7 to Henry Tracey's Cornwall all-star team at Glengarry Gardens. Rock Lajoie was the big gun for our boys with 5 goals while Blair MacDonald and Greg MacCulloch each got one. Mike Costello again did a tremendous job in goal. The stick handling and team work of these youngsters who have had such a brief training period, is something to see.

The other players in the line up are: Raymond O'Connell, J. T. Hay, Robert Lajoie, Michael McCormick, Burns Cameron, Bobby and Marc Laframboise, Robert Poirier, Bobby Graham, Luc Roy, Rodney Shepherd and Barrie MacDonald.

The Midgets played their first game in Long Sault August 28th and hosted the latter here in Glengarry Gardens September 1st. On our local squad were Archie, Charlie, Glen and Keith McPherson, Andy McNulty, Charlie and Danny O'Brien, Jimmy and Gary MacDonald, Lynden Cameron, Lee Taillefer, Peter Filion, George Sabourin, Kenny Dextras, Bruce McCuaig and Michael Ravary.

In the Long Sault game the hosts came out on top, 7-5. Charlie O'Brien scored a hat trick for Alexandria and singles were scored by Danny O'Brien and Bruce McCuaig.

The Alexandria game on Thursday night ended in a 6-6 tie. Pairs were scored by Gary MacDonald and Charie O'Brien with Jim MacDonald and Danny O'Brien one each.

Both teams play this Saturday night in the Glengarry Gardens. The Alexandria PeeWees host St. Andrew's at 7.30 p.m. and the St. Regis Midgets meet the local teenagers at 8.30 p.m. We would appreciate your attendance.

Historical Notes . . .

Macdonald of South Lancaster. He put it for safe keeping with Msgr. Ewen Macdonald, VGMC, who in turn is putting it on display in the North West Co. museum. A. D. D. Macdonald has in his possession an oil painting of "Spanish John", father of John and Miles. There is a possibility that this may go on display in the museum.

The late Father S. J. Morrice based two historical articles, written in 1929, on the letters kept in this chest. Unfortunately many of them have disappeared, and the writer is currently seeking to recover them. These letters would tell much of the story concerning the troubles of the Selkirk settlers, and the part played by Glengarrians in the North West Co. Copies of such documentary material should go in the fur trade reference library to be set up in the museum.

Miles, before joining Lord Selkirk, had been a Lieutenant and later Captain in the Royal Canadian Volunteers from 1796 to 1802. Shortly after his 1811 appointment as Selkirk's agent he was made the first Governor of Assiniboia by the Hudson Bay Co. During one of his many disputes with the Nor-Westers they arrested him in 1815 and shipped him by canoe to Montreal where he was imprisoned. After his release he returned to Red River with Selkirk in 1817. He retired to live on his farm near St. Andrews and died in 1828 at his brother's home in Pointe Fortune.

COLBRAN—URQUHART

Ina Mary Urquhart, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Urquhart and Manford James Colbran, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Colbran, pledged their marriage vows at two o'clock, Saturday, August 6, 1966 in the Gordon Church St. Elmo, in a pretty setting of palms and tall standards of large white mums, white gladioli and deep pink carnations. Rev. Iver D. MacIver, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Maxville and Gordon Church, performed the wedding ceremony.

For the occasion the pretty bride entered the church with her father who gave her away. She was dressed in a floor-length wedding gown of white peau de soie with Sonesta and Alencon lace made with a natural waistline, Bateau neckline, and long lily-point sleeves. Her straight-line skirt was appliqued with Alencon lace in the front from where her long chapel train was attached. The back of her train was in deep folds and was appliqued in Alencon lace matching her dress. Her head dress was a spray of wedding bells and pearls holding her four-tiered shoulder scalloped veil of silk illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses.

Her three attendants, Mrs. Douglas Britton, Mrs. Harvey Leroy and Miss Donna Fraser, were identical in floor-length gowns of deep rose-petal pink peau de soie.

Mr. Douglas Britton was best man. The ushers were Ross Urquhart, the bride's brother, and Mr. Ross MacIntosh, the groom's nephew. The wedding dinner and reception were in the Torch Room of the Flamingo Motel in Cornwall.

For their wedding trip to the Laurentians Mrs. Colbran wore a two-piece suit of beige brocade with dark brown accessories, a matching floral hat and a corsage of bronze and yellow mums. They will reside in Ottawa where both are members of the Ottawa City teaching staff.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at two showers, one by the staff of the W. E. Gowling Public School in Ottawa and one by the relatives, neighbors and friends at St. Elmo and Maxville.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

This will be a brief Labor Day weekend trip resume from hither Glens to yon Lake Couchiching, Ontario's noted vacation play land including a pleasant stay with the Uphill Gilmours and the windup in Hamilton's Civic Stadium where the Ti-Cats and Roughies played a carbon copy defensive game before a record crowd of 29,003. Ottawa maintained its schedule record of not winning in Hamilton since 1961. Then back home.

As our usual co-pilot was wheeling along the Great Northern from Spokane to Chicago we had a fine replacement companion in that encyclopedia of Glengarry relative to the whereabouts of present and former residents—John Myles Kennedy.

At the crack of dawn on Saturday we headed out on 43 at a better than average clip as we felt sure Don (Maxville-OPP) Fosberg hadn't as yet saddled his black and white bronco.

Beginning in Chesterville with a reference that it was here former neighbor William Faubert had spent a successful life and that hotel on the corner is Adolph Lauzon's new business enterprise; I was amazed at the number of other towns that have or did have citizens from the Glens.

We could reel off a lengthy list of KAS grads as we slowed down in Kemptville, then in Smiths Falls I nodded to the Bank of Nova Scotia where Wallie Morris spent some time and John M. countered with a directive at the Royal Bank on Main Street in Perth where Dunc "The Farmer" McDonald also sojourned before his move to Pembroke.

Picking up No. 7 at Perth, where we had breakfast, the sun broke through a cloudy bank and this Rideau Lakes area looked more than a little attractive as there was a noticeable autumn tint to some trees. We were soon at Madoc where John informed me that Ron Smith and his wife nee Theresa MacKinnon of Alexandria, reside. Ron some years ago was employed at Graham Creamery.

Like the railway engineers who were returning to the throttle we had running orders to stop at Marmora. Here one of Glengarry's all time great football players puts a tiger in your tank—Hugh (Maxville) Christie.

In rapid fire Hugh inquired about many old friends from Father Gauthier to Greenfield's "Little Alex" McDonald on through Maxville to Moose Creek's Gerald Emberg and Maurice Villeneuve.

Then Hugh and John reminisced of their Kirkland Lake days, recalling among many anecdotes of Bill Durnan and the Allan Cup champion Blue Devils.

We by-passed Peterboro not forgetting Walter (Maxville) Smillie who was the new arena manager some years ago and the MacGillis hotel owners who have Glengarry relatives.

After a sandwich break in Lindsay we drove leisurely into the picturesque Lake Couchiching resort land and Orillia the home of the one-time famed lacrosse Terriers.

Alex Gilmour, farm editor and broadcaster of CFOR, had just recorded his Sunday stint and it was then on to the Gilmour farm home at Uphill.

The Gilmours have quite a Glengarry background. The late Mrs. Andy Gilmour (Anna) was a daughter of William (Third Kenyon) Kennedy. There are four William or Bill Kennedys in succession so that makes William Sr. the great grandfather of Austin Kennedy's son Billie.

William moved on from his birthplace, Donald John Kennedy farm, 6th Kenyon, many many years ago to the Uphill area, the headquarters of the Longford Lumber Company.

William Kennedy, like so many men from Glengarry, became a skilled craftsman with the broadaxe. The pine and hemlock of the township were cut first and then the hardwood. In the meantime his daughter, Anna Kennedy married Andy Gilmour another noted lumberman.

When the timber had been cut the Gilmours established their home in the two-storey farm home style building that housed the offices of the Longford Lumber company.

An American syndicate leased the former timber limits to establish hunting and fishing lodges while the Gilmours took over 1,000 acres and are still farming, beef cattle and sheep, but on a reduced scale due to the boys not being as young as yesteryear plus the recent loss of their $25,000 barn by fire.

This is a typical Glengarry home. Only moments after our arrival you could hear the tea kettle singing and Mrs. (Ida Gilmour) Cowan, a spry gal of better than four score, served a pot of tea with home made tea-biscuits and cheese. The initial conversation covered relatives in Glengarry many only known to the Gilmours by name.

As a result this writer finally got part of our family tree straightened away. The Kennedy pioneer home was the present Donald John Kennedy farm, 6th Kenyon. Dr. Kennedy, the Boston patent medicine specialist, heads the family. Besides the already mentioned William Kennedy and his brothers who exchanged the broad-axe for the present Third Kenyon farm, the Kennedy girls mothered the following families: Dan MacLeans, Joe Routhiers, Archie McMillans (my maternal grandfather), Archie McDougalls, Alex Donald MacDonald (Daniel D. A. and Sister St. Claire, etc.) and John (The Sawyer) MacDonald.

Andy Gilmour and his wife Anna Kennedy retained the family names, another Glengarry characteristic as you find on the homestead today another Bill, Lloyd, Ross and Alex.

We left this old home brimming with hospitality early Monday and bought gas in Brechin (south of Orillia) the village home of Mrs. Andy (Johnnie Allan) Cameron and Mrs. Murray (Johnnie Malcalm) McDonald. The next nearby brief stop was a hello and capsule chat of Kirkland Lake pre-strike days with Dick Mangan and Frank Barbour, next of kin to Len (Cochrane) Barbour and his wife Jessie (Schoolmaster) MacDonald.

Picking up 400 at Barrie, John M. reminded me that Francis (D. A. 4th Kenyon) MacDonald settled here as Separate School Inspector of the district.

As you whirl on to Toronto and the Niagara fruit lands there is just no end to the mentioning of former Glengarrians. So we will close out with this typical home spun yarn we were told at the Orillia Golf Club Saturday evening.

Host Alex Gilmour introduced us to his friends as being from Glengarry. One member told us he once was on a Montreal-Toronto night train and while shaving in the morning approaching Toronto he overheard a male passenger, obviously carrying a hangover, ask another passenger where was his home town? "Apple Hill, Glengarry", was the reply. "Then loan me your cork screw".

CO-OP MAN-U-PHOS + MANURE BALANCED FERTILIZER

adds up to SAVINGS FOR You
Man-u-phos reinforces manure with Phosphorus and acts as a stable disinfectant. Apply at the rate of 2 to 2½ pounds per cow per day, sprinkled in the gutter; or if desired, add 50 pounds of Man-u-phos per ton of manure before the manure is spread on fields.
Co-op Man-u-phos added to manure not only adds phosphate, thereby saving an extra application but it holds the nitrogen in manure from being lost to the air.
Remember, manure itself is low in phosphate and consequently is not a balanced fertilizer. Therefore, for "goodness sake" use Co-op Man-u-phos with manure.

Vacant Plant Razed

A spectacular fire Thursday evening of last week destroyed a three-storey frame building on the Boundary Road, just east of Alexandria. The plant had formerly been used as a hennery by Solomon Sabourin but had recently been sold to Eldege Vaillancourt of Alexandria.

The building was not in use and origin of the blaze has not been established.

The brigade was called out shortly after 6 p.m. but the fire had gained such a foothold the firemen had to content themselves with protecting nearby buildings.
