Three area councils enter into a joint fire service

By Brenda-Jane Kerr
News reporter

The townships of Lancaster and Lochiel have committed to establishing a joint fire department with Lancaster Village.

The decision to establish the joint fire department, to be funded and operated by three municipalities was made at a special meeting Aug. 18.

The meeting involved members of the three councils and advisors from the office of the Fire Marshall in Kingston, where it was agreed the three parties would go ahead with a report submitted by the fire services advisors."We've talked about it in council and council is in favor of it," said Ron McDonell, reeve of Lochiel.

"I think it's a good idea," said Jeanette Abbey, councillor Lancaster Village.

"(It is good) as long as we have the common interest in mind," said Roger Menard, councillor Lancaster Village.

"If we do anything more than we're doing now, it's better," said Lancaster Township Reeve Charles Sangster.

The report suggests the three municipalities build stations in Dalkeith, North Lancaster and Glen Robertson.

Currently, fire service to the two municipalities and the village is provided by the town of Alexandria and Lancaster Village.

"We feel what we have is possible with dedication and hard work.", said fire services advisor Wayne McIsaac.

The report by the Fire Marshall's office was requested by the Lochiel Township in March to determine the feasibility of establishing its own fire department.

The Fire Marshall's office suggested Lochiel include the township and village of Lancaster because under joint management services, costs, and equipment can be shared.

Report recommends construction of fire stations in Dalkeith, North Lancaster and Glen Robertson

The suggested fire service system in the report would also bring more residents within the "ideal response distance" of 8 kms, said McIsaac, thereby reducing response time and reducing fire insurance premiums for residents.

A committee representing the three councils has been struck and an application for funding under the Canada-Ontario Infrastructure Works Program to finance construction of the fire stations will be submitted.

The first step is to arrange "finances and how the agreement is to be set up between the townships and the (village)," said McIsaac.

The plan is long term, exactly how long has not yet been established, but plans to construct the first two-bay station in Glen Robertson will be worked on starting in September.

The report calls for the Glen Robertson station to be equipped with a pumper, the typical fire engine that hoses connect to with water pumped from a holding tank, and a tanker which transports a large quantity of water.

Glen Robertson was chosen as the first station site in order to centralize service between the townships.

Cost estimates of $100,000 to $200,000 were given for the station.

The trucks could cost $250,000 each, said McIsaac. And each fire fighter's outfit costs $1,000, while a breathing apparatus costs $2,500.

"When you do it all at once, it's a lot of money," said Kirk Parson, fire services advisor.

"We're not recommending you do it all at once."

Parsons and McIsaac told the council the Fire Marshall's office will give the councils as much support as needed from sitting on management committees and helping set up bylaws to training staff.

"The entire office is here to help you and if you need us to walk you through every step, we will," said McIsaac.

A committee with two representatives from each council will meet on Sept. 14 to begin discussing the cost sharing, management and equipment.

Presently the only equipment among the three municipalities is at the Lancaster Village station, jointly operated by the village and the township.

The report calls for the construction of two more sub-stations equipped with a pumper and tanker each; one in North Lancaster and the other in Dalkeith.

At present, the Lancaster Village station provides service to the village and township of Lancaster, while fire service is provided to Lochiel Township by the town of Alexandria fire department.

Involving the Alexandria fire department in the plan has not yet been discussed.

Controversial Brown Shoe land rezoning approved by Alexandria

By Greg Kielec
News editor

Alexandria council has approved a controversial proposal to rezone a parcel of land in the town's industrial park to residential from industrial.

Council, in a recorded vote, approved the rezoning of a parcel of land on the southern edge of the town industrial park adjacent to the former Brown Shoe factory.

Only one person, Councillor John Hope, dissented.

The rezoning had been opposed by Town Planner Terry Hart, who wrote a memo to Mayor Jean Paul Touchette recently expressing his concerns about the plan.

Hart, in a memo to council July 27, said it is poor planning to have residential development in an industrial area.

And he questioned whether the municipality should be competing with established developers who have spent thousands of dollars obtaining subdivision approvals and providing necessary infrastructure.

"I have discussed this issue with most members of council at different times and I stand by my recommendation that this proposal is not good planning (because it reduces valuable industrial land), and that perhaps we should be planning to develop our lands west of this location, which are currently residential," he wrote in the memo.

The rezoning was also opposed by the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce and Jean A. Larocque of 121 St. George St. W.

Larocque objected to the use of industrial land for residential purposes and the town competing with private developers. He also noted that the area is a truck route and subject to heavy traffic.

Councillor John Hope said Monday he is surprised no other council members voted against the proposal.

"It said right in the report by Terry Hart that it was bad planning," Hope said, explaining why he chose to vote against the rezoning.

"I respect Terry Hart's opinion and that was one of the major reasons I opposed the whole project."

He believes council members voted for the proposal because the development and subsequent sale of the residential land will earn money for the town.

If the project does earn the town money, Hope would like to see the money placed in a special reserve fund.

Councillor Francine Richer, head of the council planning committee, was reluctant to talk about the issue. She suggested instead The News talk to council's finance committee members.

The rezoning of the land is still not a sure bet. If an objection is filed against the rezoning, an Ontario Municipal Board hearing will have to be held to decide the issue.

And the official plan amendment approved by council to allow the

Flyers drive in for a fly-in breakfast

Rain fails to dampen appetites of over 1,000 visitors

By Greg Kielec
News editor

It was supposed to be a fly-in breakfast, but with the inclement weather Sunday, it ended-up being a drive-in breakfast.

More than 1,000 people came out for the Alexandria Flying Club's annual fundraiser, but they weren't winging it.

"If we would have had a day like today, we would have had 250 airplanes," said Alexandria Flying Club President Doug Baxter yesterday.

"We didn't have any airplanes until 10 (minutes) after 1, and then one fella came in the Canadian Owners and Pilots Association plane from Arnprior."

Wet and foggy weather throughout the morning deterred the usual flying buffs who wing their way to the local airport to show off their craft.

But Doug Baxter, flying club president, is not complaining about the turnout

"We can't complain," Baxter said about Sunday's turnout.

"Considering the weather, we did well."

The flying club served 1,075 breakfasts over the six hours the event was on, despite the inclement weather.

"There was an awful lot. Some (people) said they couldn't believe how many we had. They came steady — a steady stream," Baxter said.

Sunday was one of the rare occasions that rain actually dampened the flying club's mega event which usually attracts 1,500 people or more.

"We've only been rained out three times in 20 years," Baxter said.

The inclement weather not only affected the turnout of planes, it also hurt the turnout of antique cars, another one of the fly-in breakfast's big draws.

Only a few antique cars were at the event. An antique car club from Cornwall was supposed to come out, but was stopped by the inclement weather.

Organizers won't know how much money they raised for the airport until all the expense figures come in. "About 1,000 is near the break even point," Baxter said.

The breakfasts were cooked and served by 35 volunteers, one who came 300 miles to help the fundraiser.

Those that didn't make the breakfast, or even those who were there, can still help out by buying surplus sausage left over from breakfast.

Anyone interested can call 525-1939.

OPP continue investigation of fatality

The accident which killed Marlene Sauve, 32, of Monkland, Aug. 15, is still under investigation and charges are pending.

"The case is by no means closed," Maxville OPP Sgt. Wayne Villeneuve told The News.

Sauve, the mother of four young children, was driving on Hwy. 43, two miles east of Apple Hill turnoff, when her car collided with a pickup truck driven by Marcel Sauve, 33, of Alexandria.

Sauve was seriously injured in the crash and he is still in Ottawa General Hospital. His injuries are not "life threatening" Villeneuve reported.

The two accident victims are not related.

Dangerous driving charge laid by police

By Pauline Ashton
News* correspondent

An Alexandria man has been charged with dangerous driving in connection with an accident which injured three people August 1.

Alexandria driver Nicko Charbonneau, 22, has been charged with dangerous driving in the accident near Hawkesbury which left a passenger in his car seriously injured in Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Hawkesbury OPP Sgt. Doug Goodhey said investigation is continuing and further charges are pending.

Charbonneau's Pontiac Firebird rolled off a curve into a culvert on County Rd. 4 east of Hawkesbury at midnight Aug. 14.

All three young men in the car are from Alexandria.

Passenger Marcel Carrier, 21, is still in Ottawa Civic Hospital in "serious condition" Sgt. Goodhey reported.

He was taken to Hawkesbury General after the accident, then transferred to Ottawa.

The other passenger Guy Cholette, 22, and driver Charbonneau, were both treated and released from Hawkesbury General Hospital after the accident.

Hawkesbury Fire Department was called out and the jaws of life had to be used to pry badly injured passenger Marcel Carrier, out of the wreck, Sgt. Goodhey reported.

Environmental commissioner tours Glengarry

But provincial representative avoids talking sites in area wetlands debate

By Brenda-Jane Kerr
News reporter

A provincial environmental commissioner toured Glengarry and area last week, to get a first-hand look at environmental issues facing the area.

But she was non-committal on whether people are justifiably concerned about provincial environmental land-use policy, specifically the use of wetlands.

Commissioner Eva Ligetti visited the area Aug. 16 and 17 with MPP Noble Villeneuve and Warden Charles Sangster to discuss local environmental issues.

She was given a tour of local recycling operations, wetland areas, conservation areas.

Eva Ligetti

"I am meeting with as many members of Parliament as I can to let people know our office is running," said Ligetti.

Operating out of the office of the Environmental Bill of Rights within the Ministry of Environment and Energy, the commissioner is responsible for reviewing the actions of 14 provincial ministries with regard to the environment.

Reviews of ministry actions relating to the environment can be initiated by the EBR office on the complaint of ratepayers associations, non-profit organizations, special interest groups, employees and any two Ontario residents.

"(The office) is something like a broker between the various interest groups," said Ligetti.

"It's her job if the public is saying something and the ministries are not listening to say 'hey'," and get recognition of public complaints, said MPP Noble Villeneuve.

The EBR office is also initiating a public registry that will provide the public with environmental proposals before decisions are made.

Instructions detailing how to participate in decisions, court actions, appeals and general information on the Environmental Bill of Rights is also provided on the registry.

Controversial land rezoning approved by town council zoning to be changed, still must be approved by the Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs.

Hart said Tuesday it may take as little as 90 days for the province to give its answer on the official plan change.

"We're not dealing with the (Ottawa) Palladium here."

He is not upset that council went against his recommendation.

"It's council's decision. They were my recommendations. It was information for their use."

"They've made their call and I have basically made mine."

He still stands behind his recommendation to leave the land zoned industrial, saying the policy that initially designated the land such is sound.

"I think it was pretty sound planning."

Industrial land is much more beneficial to municipalities because of the tax revenue it generates, Hart said. "It keeps the municipality going."

Residential land generates little if any extra revenue for municipalities because the tax income received is offset by services the town must provide, Hart said.

Commissioner tours Glengarry

The registry is accessible by home or office computer and modem or on local library equipment including at the Cornwall Public Library.

"Any new policy, acts or regulations that affect the environment will be available for public scrutiny," before being passed, said Ligetti.

Villeneuve told The News, Ligetti was unanimously chosen by three political parties from over 300 applicants for the job.

Ligetti operates at the deputy minister level, is non-politically aligned and reports directly to the Legislative Assembly.

During her tour of local wetland areas in Bainsville with Warden Charles Sangster, Ligetti offered little comment.

"It's very interesting to see what is being disputed. This is wetlands and this is not," said Ligetti.

"I don't have the scientific expertise to really say."

The designation of wetland areas by the province has been controversial because it can render a landowner's property useless, without compensation.

In some cases, land that has been or is to be designated is not even bonafide wetlands, according to people fighting the designation process.

The Ministry of Natural Resources, which is responsible for provincial wetlands policy, will not be governed by the complete Environmental Bill of Rights until April 1, 1995.

This means it may not be subject to public consultation or complaint for another year.

The Planning Act, through which wetlands policy is applied at the municipal level, is not subject to the complete bill of rights yet either, but will come under it on April 1, 1998.

Police board plots strategy for officer hearing

By Pauline Ashton
News* correspondent

A conciliation hearing is scheduled Thursday to discuss the status of part-time Police Constable Marc Carriere.

Carriere is paid at a fourth class constable level, after four years service on the force.

The police association wants Carriere covered for benefits and salary under the full-time collective agreement, recently negotiated with the Police Services Board.

The Police Services Board opposes paying full-time rates and benefits to part-timers.

The current agreement pays first class constables $23.15 an hour, the rate paid four full-time constables on the town force.

Carriere earns $17.98 an hour, the lowest contract category, with no fringe benefits.

Monday night Alexandria Police Services Board, which negotiates police contracts, went into closed session to discuss strategy for Thursday's conciliation hearing at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Chair Mayor J. P. Touchette said provincially appointed conciliation officer, James W. Kilgour, will referee the Thursday meeting between board members and the police association.

"Kilgour's job is to hear both sides of this dispute and try to get an agreement," Touchette explained.

"But if we can't agree the next step is an arbitration hearing."

Touchette said, "it could cost the price of a lawyer if we want to hire one to represent us at the conciliation hearing."

He said arbitration hearings cost $500, split between the two parties, plus legal fees.

A letter from the Ontario Police Association to Roger Levert, president of Alexandria Police Association, cites a Deseronto case, similar to the Carriere part-time problem.

The case went to arbitration where it was judged the part-time constable should have been hired under full- time salary and benefits schedules.

The letter continued, "your board may wish to fight this issue at great cost to the taxpayers as was done in Deseronto.

"The result will be the same . . . your association (should) take every legal means to have this constable recognized as a full-time first class constable."

The letter was tabled at the Police Services Board Monday night and discussed during the closed strategy session.

Alexandria Police force has a chief, four full-time constables, and two part-time constables including four-year veteran Carriere.

The second part-time constable was recently added to the force.

Town hotel hit with seven-day licence suspension

Owner calls for crack down by province on use of illegal I.D. cards by underage youths

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

The owner of the Atlantic Hotel in Alexandria, says something must be done to stop the underground industry of false identification card manufacturing.

The Atlantic faces a seven-day suspension, beginning Sept. 15 after a minor was caught drinking by an inspector from the Liquor License Board of Ontario in September, 1993.

Jamie MacDonald, one of the hotel owners, says the person caught drinking gained entrance to the hotel by using a false i.d. card, a practice which, he says, is widespread across Ontario.

"Anyone can get false identification for $15."

However, according to testimony of the waitress working that night, detailed in a copy of the decision, the underage drinker was never asked for identification.

The suspension is detailed in a copy of the LLBO decision dated July 21 sent to The News.

The board has also ordered that all management and staff become certified in the Server Intervention Program sponsored by the Addiction Research Foundation within 90 days of the decision date.

According to the text of the decision, the person caught drinking underage was two weeks short of her nineteenth birthday and seen by an LLBO inspector sipping from her boyfriends beer.

The inspector had come to the hotel in response to an anonymous telephone call from a person claiming underage drinking was taking place at the establishment.

He said he had not come across any infractions at visits prior, or after the incident in question.

MacDonald said yesterday that the incident detailed in the LLBO decision never happened.

"It's a complete aberration and it never happened," he said in a phone interview.

"The entire thing was brought on by the liquor inspector."

He said he will try to reach his MPP to see if something can be done about the fake identification problem.

Lawrence Filion, counsel for the licensee, according to the decision text, painted the incident as an isolated one stemming from an unusual set of circumstances.

He said the girl in question had not ordered a drink and was therefore not asked for identification.

She was not provided a glass to drink from, but was seen by the LLBO inspector taking three sips from a bottle on the counter.

Country jamboree draws big

Organizers pleased with festival, aim to do better next year

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

It was one major hoe-down at Alexandria's Island Park this past weekend.

More than 4,500 people turned out for the first of what is hoped to be an annual three-day country jamboree at the park.

The event had people tapping their toes and dancing to the music of quality country acts around from early Friday evening right until the bitter end Sunday night.

The jamboree also attracted about 100 weekend campers to the park to listen to music under the big tent.

> "Everybody enjoyed themselves. It was a friendly atmosphere – no accidents no incidents."
> "Instigator" of jamboree – Bruno Lalonde

The jamboree was the brainchild of Alexandria businessman Bruno Lalonde, who joking calls himself the "instigator" of the festival.

He said the first year of the event was a learning process. And he hopes it will be better next year.

"It was a living experience," Lalonde said. "There were a lot of places where we could improved."

"We had to go through it first to learn where the mistakes were," he said yesterday.

The weather could have been better, but otherwise, the event went "pretty well as expected."

"Everybody enjoyed themselves. It was a friendly atmosphere — no incidents, no accidents."

The final figures, to determine if the event was a financial success, have not yet been tallied

Organizers had hoped any profit made could be given to the town to make improvements to the park, but weren't expecting to make much money for the first year.

Lalonde is pretty certain he'll "take another crack at it" next year. "I'm not ready to quit yet."

He hopes to entice some of the local country talent to participate in the jamboree next year.

Ethanol co-operative taking a second look at possible plant sites

Seaway Valley Farmers' Energy Co-operative Inc. (SVFEC) is undertaking a review of its proposed eastern Ontario ethanol production facility, including the proposed site.

An initial economic re-evaluation has concluded there is a need for a further examination of site options for the 50 million litre per year ethanol plant.

"Economic viability must be the top priority for the development of the project and the long-term operation of the plant," said Bud Atkins, president, Seaway Valley Farmers' Energy Co-operative Inc.

"We must be able to compete in the market, domestic and foreign, and that means the cost-of-production must be below our revenue generating capabilities."

SVFEC is proposing a 50-million litre ethanol production facility for eastern Ontario, utilizing up to 5 million bushels of Ontario corn in a dry-milling process.

The potential plant location had been announced for Maitland, but the initial results of an economic review has resulted in the expansion of site options to four - two in Maitland, one in Prescott and one in Cornwall.

"All aspects of the project have come under review in order that Seaway can produce and sell ethanol in the most cost effective manner. We are very pleased with the progress of the project," said Atkins.

"Shareholders expect a professional business approach for the development of the ethanol production facility and that means keeping up with the current market conditions and keeping costs downs."

While the project's costs, including location are under review, SVFEC is active in the ethanol market to secure long-term customers for product from the plant and is considering changes to the financial base for the $45 million facility.

"In the near future, shareholders will be asked to consider changes to the organization's bylaws to allow Seaway to introduce new innovative financing for the project," said Atkins.

"The project is on a solid financial base and we believe shareholders will support the necessary changes in our organization to allow for the best return on their investments."

SVFEC has joined with other members of the Canadian Renewable Fuels Association in calling for a long-term commitment from the federal government through the establishment of a National Ethanol Policy and a guarantee of 10 years for the present 8.5¢ excise tax exemption on low-level ethanol blends.

"The Liberal Party heralded a strong position in support of ethanol during the 1993 election campaign and farmer shareholders of Seaway expect the government to live up to that commitment," said Atkins.

"Party platforms and election promises should not be hollow. It's a matter of principle and trust."

New procedural bylaw to keep Alexandria council members in check

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

There will be no more Bob Rae bashing, or for that matter, any other member of provincial or federal government at the Alexandria, thanks to a new procedural bylaw passed by council.

The prohibition is just one of a number of rules and restrictions that council members must abide by in the new bylaw.

The byalw, revised by a committee headed by Councillor Francine Richer, is designed to institute more control over meetings and make them more efficient and easier for new members to understand and follow.

Richer had been pushing for a revampment of the council procedural bylaw since election to council nearly three years ago after run-ins with veteran council members over council procedure and being left out of key decisions.

Alexandria council members will be operating on a bit of a tighter leash, thanks to the new procedural bylaw.

The bylaw tries to bring more decorum to council, delegating responsibility to the chair to control debate, allowing only one council member to speak at once, as chosen by thechair.

It also dictates when a council member can speak and for how long, and when or if a council member can receive a second opportunity to speak on a motion.

According to the preamble of the bylaw, the new legislation will allow sufficient discussion so all aspects of an issue so that all aspects can be discussed adequately.

It also will avoid irrelevant or unnecessarily lengthy discussion, which can make it difficult to discharge the business of the municipality.

It helps ensure a more consistent approach to the handling of municipal business, making it easier for new members of council to understand how their municipality operates and allowing them to participate more effectively.

The new procedural bylaw was a special project of Councillor Francine Richer, who made it one of two government projects she had to complete for a municipal councillor course she enrolled in.

Richer estimates about 18 non-paid meetings were held over an 18 month span to draw up the new 18 page document to replace the meagre two-page existing bylaw.

"We had just a few pages. Policies, they were all over the place," Richer said in an interview last week.

One change Richer points out in the new bylaw is the way council members are selected for committee work, a controversial issue with new council members after the 1991 election.

The formation of council committees normally has been left to the top three members of council — the mayor, reeve and deputy reeve.

New council members had complained that the process relegated them to fringe committees, shutting them out major decision-making.

The three top council members sit on the two most powerful committees in terms of influence wielded and money spent: Finance and Environment.

Under the new procedural bylaw, how council members are selected for committee work will not be based on politics. Instead, council members will be selected for committees based on their interests and experience.

The new procedural, while it aims to make council more efficient in responsible, it does not set restrictions on when council members can go behind doors to discuss issues.

The procedural bylaw states only that council can go behind closed doors "when it appears any matter may be more conveniently considered in Committee of the Whole.

It is genersal accepted practice in municipal government to hold committee of whole, or in camera sessions, for legal issues, personel matters or land acquisitions.

Richer said she did not address the issue in the procedural bylaw because it is already covered in provincial government guidelines for municipalities.

She said it is up to the province to enforce those guidelines if it wants municipalities to abide by them — "and it better be soon."

She added, the document can be revised and updated in the future if it is felt there is a need.

Industrial rezoning doesn't make sense

The Town of Alexandria council has made a foolish and short-sighted planning decision in moving to switch the zoning from industrial to residential on land in the middle of Alexandria's industrial park along Macdonald Boulevard.

It also smells of all-too-familiar backroom politics and secret real estate wheeling and dealing.

Fortunately, others have noted the above and spoke out with alarm bells sounding against this concept which originated with town Mayor J.P. Touchette.

The town's Zoning Administrator Terry Hart for one said that this represented simple bad planning. In a confidential report leaked to this newspaper, Hart frankly stated that "residential development should not occur in an industrial area; the uses are incompatible."

A degree in civic planning isn't necessary to understand what he is saying. Even the most basic municipal plans do not incorporate residential and industrial uses under any circumstances, for the reasons Hart spelled out.

You would think council learned that, after hearing existing Macdonald Blvd. residents further north and east on that street complain some time ago about the summertime dust and noise emanating from the factories across the road.

And when councillors see the checkerboard uses for property along Main Street north, with residences intermingled with stores and the headaches commercial property owners now have who can't sell their properties, do they not see the importance of planning with common sense today?

And what about the Main Street south shopping centre? The lack of planning there is evident every day with traffic snarls and near-accidents a common occurence.

Fortunately, the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce board of directors is opposing the re-zoning, mainly on the grounds that it does not want to see the reduction of the town's reserve of industrial land. Their objections mean the re-zoning application goes to the Ontario Municipal Board which will likely lead to a hearing.

The chamber is right to question whether the town is, with this move, giving up on the industrial park. This re-zoning represents the thin edge of the wedge, opening the door to the possibility of re-zoning other sections of the park when the mayor or anybody else has the whim to do so.

So if this is such a bad idea, why did council agree to proceed with the re-zoning as proposed by the mayor?

Money, they say. The town needs the revenue generated by housing taxation.

This is the kind of quick-fix, band-aid style mentality that has led to such ingenious planning decisions like establishing a daycare centre across the road from a recycling plant and beside a transforming station, also coincidentally, adjacent to the industrial park.

The town can raise the same money, as we've pointed out countless times in the past, by simply cutting in half council members' own salaries and remuneration, including the mayor's substantial $25,000 a year. That would save about $45,000 a year.

It can also help established developers who have spent thousands of dollars obtaining subdivision approvals and building the required infrastructure. This need be no more complicated than by simply choosing not to compete against them through the re-zoning of this industrial land to residential.

And finally councillors can get off their collective behinds and begin to help re-build the Main Street commercial section, which is a third empty. There's revenue in business taxes too.

The amount of money it will spend on this re-zoning would have been a significant addition to a re-building fund for sidewalks, benches and anything else that might assist the BIA or the chamber in getting Main Street back on its feet.

These are the priorities council needs to expend its energies on now. There is no good to be served in its current mistaken mission which will surely come back to haunt them in November.

The two faces of Washington

Faces N' Places

by Joe Banks

A stone's throw north from Alexandria, Virginia, skirting the fabled Potomac River in the country of the United States of America, there is a place called Washington D.C., otherwise commonly known as the capital of the most powerful nation on earth.

It has also become the nation's metaphor, it's two-sided face, representative of all that is right, and wrong, with the country.

We arrived on a 95 degree day, typical August weather in Virginia, as the lone Canucks in a contingent of 30 American community newspaper publishers and editors, students all of the American Press Institute's weekly newspaper program. We are quickly identified by our persistent "eh" punctuating the end of a statement. It is proof of what the southerners proclaim is our citizenship of the Great White North, Bob McKenzie without the back bacon.

We and the yankees from Ohio, Maine and Massachusetts, are mesmorized in turn with the southerners' drawl and the charactertistic "y'all". We trade guffaws.

Wherever we were from and whoever we were, though, it was evident we all shared a keen desire to know more about each other, being curious newspaper folk and all.

Over breakfast one morning, Chris Smith, publisher of the biweekly Thomaston Times from Georgia (circulation 6,500), proffered an apology and hoped we wouldn't be insulted "when I say this, but I see y'all as Americans, not Canadians."

"Y'all just seem like yankees to me."

To which we could do little more than laugh over the cornflakes and bluebuerry pancakes, and confirm, by the way, that we saw ourselves as Canadians indeed.

Further differences emerged over late-night conversations, not just between the Canadians and Americans, but between northerners and southerners. The American Civil War threatened to be re-fought between Smith from Georgia and Amy Duncan, an Altoona, Iowa general manager who couldn't fathom why the Georgia state capital building continued to fly the "stars and bars" Confederate flag when it was a symbol of racism to so many blacks in the south.

"It's to honor OUR war dead," Smith insisted with a bite.

And it was clear from their conversation that there were national unity tensions in the U.S. still lingering almost 130 years after the end of that nation-defining conflict.

Still, it was fun to play the teacher to fellow publishers whose collective knowledge of Canadian political affairs was limited to the division between Quebec and Canada. Maybe that's enough.

"Do you expect to see Quebec secede from the union?" a curious Art Hall of the Cape May County Herald asked during a session break.

Using those words with the southern drawl, it was as if he'd read the question from a movie script scene out of "Gone With the Wind." And imagine trying to tell him that a separatist was poised to be elected in Quebec as premier by a province whose citizens the polls say don't want to separate. Or describing our federal system that is led by a native of that province, and whose Opposition leader, also a Quebecker, is devoted to the break-up of Canada.

We were met with little more than blank stares and a few slowly shaking heads. Reaction was identical following a description of our tax structure, health care and our looming debt crisis.

Against our differences, though, we all wanted to know about Washington, D.C. and witness the machinations of power we have all read and heard about. To that end, Roger Tremblay from Presque Isle, Maine arranged with his senator a final-night tour of the Capitol building for us. We'd been told the Senate would be debating Clinton's health care bill, of which we were all familiar.

The ride into D.C. was fascinating. We crossed the Potomac via the Theodore Roosevelt Monument Bridge which hooked us up to Constitution Avenue, passing Arlington Cemetery, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, the Washington Monument, all skirting the National Mall, a long green park that invited strollers to sample the Smithsonian Institute, a description of which would take up another two or three columns at least.

Ten, as we approached the Capitol, our driver veered off downtown and around the other side of this tourist mecca, the housing projects and the residential sections of Washington. Here we could see once-beautiful Victorian-style apartments that had fallen into extreme disrepair. There were heavy-mesh cages over store windows, and burned out apartments with residents living below. Garbage littered the street and middle-aged men and women stared sullenly out at us. All were blacks.

The division between poverty and privilege, black and white, was stark and shocking for all of us. Most of us came from small towns and rural communities where racial disparity didn't exist or wasn't as obvious.

Indeed, minutes and a mile or two later, we were in the Capitol building, surrounded by priceless works of art, marbled floors and gabled columns painted with gold. Ushered through an intimidating series of security stations and check-in depots, we entered a small door that opened out into the ornate Senate chamber viewer's gallery where we could see various Senators like Bob Dole and Ted Kennedy come and go as their vote was registered. I was struck by the advanced age of many of them, a few into their 80s and 90s.

Watching the proceedings, some of us were mildly frustrated because we'd been seated facing the opposite wall of the podium, where all of the voting was taking place. Spotting a seat not 20 feet away where we could see the proceedings better, I began to move and was quickly blocked by a stone-faced plain-clothes agent with a medallion on his lapel and a wire in his ear.

"This isn't musical chairs. Back to your seat."

I moved back to my seat.

A tour guide apologized later for the agent's abruptness, explaining that many of the staff had been working 19 hours straight through the crime bill filibuster. But the embarrassment wasn't over yet.

Later, a couple of us were caught reading tourist brochures in the viewer's gallery in the House of Representatives and reprimanded for breeching that piece of protocol. All the while, a senator down on the House floor was burying himself in the New York Times.

"Yes, Joe, you are in the land of the free," reminded the publisher from Sun City, Phoenix. I was surprised at his cynicism, but given the feast and famine tour we'd had of this astonishing sprawling icon to American civilization, it somehow fit.

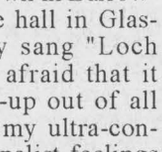
Not that we as Canadians have any lessons to impart on America. We have warts of our own we aren't removing. We have inner city violence and the social problems are mounting here too.

But the prices Canadians have paid, we discovered, may be worth the investment if it can prevent the kind of awesome disparity our van guide ensured we witnessed in the beautiful and ugly Washington D.C.

Gaelic lives

Highland Paths

by Ken McKenna



Some of us spend a lot of time worrying that Gaelic will disappear from the face of the Earth. It is tragic when any thing of beauty becomes extinct, but it happens just the same. But anyone who was lucky enough to hear Scotland's Runrig on channel 57 the other night would have had cause to rejoice about the future of the language. Runrig, (the name refers to an old method of land cultivation), has been around for many years, first as a mostly Gaelic group, then as a rock group, and now as a blend of traditional and modern -- the songs, that is. The arrangements and instrumentals are pure up-to-date rock. I never thought that I would enjoy that kind of music -- I've tried to avoid it all my life -- but these people are something else. I sat entranced and with a lump in my throat while the Gaelic-speaking members of the group sang old and new Gaelic songs to a driving beat while about a thousand young Scots clapped hands and jumped up and down in Barrowlands huge dance hall in Glasgow. When they sang "Loch Lomond" I was afraid that it might be jazzed-up out of all recognition. But my ultra-conservative traditionalist feelings were put on hold and I must admit that I have never heard a more beautiful version of this best-known of all Scottish songs. (One legend has it that "Loch Lomond" tells the story of two Highland soldiers imprisoned in Carlisle after Culloden. One is sentenced to be hanged, the other to be released for lack of evidence. The condemned man says that although he will not be able to take the highway home, he will get there before his friend, because he will take the "low road" -- the way of the spirit). To hear it sung with great feeling and strength, with a Gaelic verse "O my darling, oh my beautiful one" weaving in and out of the English words was unforgettable. But the gem of the evening, in my opinion, was the modern Gaelic song "Alba" -- "Scotland." To hear a crowd of young Glaswegians, few if any Gaelic-speakers, belting out the words and repeating "Alba, Alba, Alba" over and over again would melt a heart of stone. I hope that this video, made in 1988, is available. I could hear it again and again. Among other beauties was the emigration song "America," inspired by the dance that Boswell and Johnson witnessed over two hundred years ago on the Isle of Skye. There they were saddened to see a new dance, called "America," which showed the frenzy for emigration which was even then sweeping the Highlands. The dancers left the floor one by one, until nobody remained. It was a portent of what would happen to the Highland way of life. When they sang "An Ubhal is Airde," "The Highest Apple," the crowd once again seemed to know all the Gaelic words of this touching song, and joined in with enormous enthusiasm. Runrig and their Gaelic music seems to touch the hearts of the young people. Gaelic will never die as long as it is presented in this exciting, vibrant way.

Runrig will be appearing in Montreal in October. I will give more information about their concert when I get it.

When we first started talking about Gaelic and the beauty of Highland songs here in Glengarry many years ago, we were met with a lot of enthusiasm that resulted in the formation of The Glengarry Gaelic Choir, the Gaelic classes at GDHS, and the Highland Heritage courses. But, sad to say, there were some who had a negative approach. They thought that all Gaelic songs were sad and dreary, and, although many could remember Gaelic spoken at home, they thought that it was too difficult to learn. Those myths have now been put to rest. The choir sings lively and amusing songs, and those attending the Gaelic classes can carry on a simple conservation after only a few lessons. At Feis-Glengarry and the Glenelg Pageant on the weekend of Aug. 26-27, we will hear Gaelic sung and spoken, with joy and happiness. Gaelic is alive and well in Glengarry. Gome and help us celebrate it!

Real Estate association believes wetlands issue "swamping" property owners' rights

To the editor:

I have been reading with interest Brenda-Jane Kerr's reports concerning the Wetlands: "Sweeping new regulations have county landowners up in arms, and municipal councillors looking for a way out." (August 3, 1994).

As a member of the Cornwall & District Real Estate Board, the Ontario Real Estate Association (OREA), and the Canadian Real Estate Association (CREA), I would like to take this opportunity to raise awareness among the readers of The Glengarry News: In addition to listing and selling real estate, we are also the watch dogs of Private Property Rights!

Since the wetlands issue came to life in the Federal Green Plan several years ago, federal and provincial bureaucrats have been developing regulations. These regulations differ from one jurisdiction to another. As a result there is uncertainty as to the definition of what constitutes environmentally-sensitive land and what can or cannot be done with it. Also, no compensation arrangements are in place for owners of such land.

To further complicate matters, Ontario has a wetlands policy which is far broader than the national model. As well as freezing development on wetlands, our province wants to restrict development on adjacent land. Municipalities have been instructed to mark designated wetland areas in their official plans to ensure they won't be developed. The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources has been sending people, some of them students, onto private property without the owners' permission, to "evaluate" the land.

Following these instructions would enable municipalities to designate thousands of acres of private land as wetlands without compensation for the owners.

"There can be no question that every effort must be made by governments, corporations, small businesses and private citizens to conserve and protect those elements that will help to restore and maintain the balance of nature.

"However, the arbitrary action of governments to designate private property as environmentally sensitive without proper criteria, without advising the owners and without compensating them for lost use and value is unacceptable," says Patricia Verge, CREA President.

CREA's federal affairs committee is establishing an environmental land use policy watch to identify issues as they arise around the country. This committee is interested in receiving detailed reports in writing of any provincial or municipal government action to freeze development of environmentally sensitive land without consulting the owner or paying just compensation.

Yours sincerely,
Mavis Fletcher,
Vice-President of the Cornwall & District
Real Estate Board.

Sad legacy being left in this generation's wake

To the editor:

A stagnant cesspool of dead motionless brown water with the constant buzzing of an over- population of ravenous mosquitoes, hovering over a dank mass of lifeless vegetation rotting in the hot sun. Where is this horrid place? Guess what! It's right here in Glengarry, but probably you can find it just about anywhere these days and it won't take long to get there.

Are rivers and creeks as we knew them a thing of the past? I believe they are and the reason that is so is because most of them are clogged like a plugged up drain and nobody seems to notice or care. I happened upon by chance, a culvert where the water should have run through, but instead of a drainage tunnel there was only an embankment of dirt bulldozed into a mound with a road running over it. The water on both sides spread into a putrid foul-smelling quagmire and the only remnants of aquatic life visible were a few frogs turned belly- up. Now hard to believe as it may seem, this was in a "provincial park"!

I will remain puzzled and distressed for the rest of my days to realize that we are paying environmentalists by the battalions and they cannot even get together on the main issue which is obviously "Why do our rivers not flow"?

Is there not a bylaw preventing people on their farms from just throwing down dirt into any streambed and damming it up wherever it's convenient to drive their tractors into the field on the other side? Why all the fuss about the wetlands, and all that taxpayers chatter about how the waterfowl need a place to nest, and not a word said about the stagnation of our rivers and creeks? Birds can come and go but a living stream and the life it supports can't go anywhere else and will die when the waters cease to flow as nature intended.

The Scout River crosses the road between Greenfield and Dunvegan. I pass by there almost every day and every time I pass I look to see if there is a ripple or a trickle and of course there never is. It's like looking at a dead body hoping to see movement, but after you watch for a certain while you know that it is gone forever and will never move again. What a sad legacy our generation has left in its wake! We should be ashamed!

Wife gives her husband's side of story

To the editor:

In a recent edition of The Glengarry News there was an article written about my husband terrorizing the family of Linda Garneau. This story made great headlines but there is always two sides to a story. The other side which Pauline Ashton did not write about. Norman was told by his lawyers to accept a deal worked out by the Senior Prosecutor, that he would only get six months jail and would be out in three months. If he tried to fight even one charge he would get a maximum to two years. He decided not to fight and take the six months. The judge overruled the decision after he pleaded guilty and he may get the two years sentence anyway.

On March 4/94, my house and everything in it burned. The Glengarry News was there once again taking pictures and trying to get a story. She arrived ten minutes after I got to the house. I took offense to someone questioning me on what we were going to do and where we were going to live. On Aug. 15/94 I still don't know what we are going to do or where we are going to live. Where is your compassion!

On April 13, 19, 20, Linda Garneau decided to take it upon herself to complain and sign statements that my husband was driving a vehicle. The police stopped Norman April 22/94 because she had phoned to the Maxville OPP. He was just trying to run a farming operation and live in Maxville. If Mrs. Garneau didn't live in our house, he could have walked to and from the farm. Who is terrorizing who now? Mrs. Garneau also signed a letter stating that Norman terrorized and exposed himself to her children. He didn't plead guilty and was not found guilty of it. Anyone who knows him would know that he would never condone anyone who would mentally or physically hurt any child.

The judge also stated that he is depressed. How would you feel if your house burned and the police and fire marshall's investigations took months? Our milk quota had to be sold to satisfy some creditors. That in itself was heartbreaking to him. He loved to get up at 5 a.m. seven days a week to milk cows. How many farmers could actually confess that?

How would you feel if you had a tenant who wouldn't get out? If she is so terrorized by Norman, please leave. My three children need a place to live. I told the judge that I didn't have the means to support my three children. I was told to go to social services and apply for assistance.

The taxpayers are willing to keep him in jail and his family on welfare. What a screwed up system!

Thank God for Thursday's court docket because The News would not have had three separate front page stories. Freedom of the press -- what a great tool! Too bad many of the really sleazy stories of Glengarry never make the front page!

Sandra Bankley,
RR5, Alexandria.

Alexandria in quiet cycle

For the past week Alexandria has been experiencing a "quiet cycle" with very little crime, Police Chief Paul Deveau reported.

Deveau told a Police Services Board meeting Monday, "we've had a busy summer but we caught the break-in gang which was causing so much trouble."

Deveau said one gang member got 14 months and another 18 months. "We should be safe for a while," he joked.

Stolen vehicles

Tracking two stolen vehicles kept Maxville OPP busy last week, Sgt. Wayne Villeneuve reported.

An 1986 one-ton truck complete with a flat bed trailer was pinched from Maxville Farm Machine yard, and recovered with minor damages in a ditch near Monkland, Aug. 19.

On Aug. 21 a 1990 Chev 4x4 truck was stolen from a driveway at lot 17, Conc. 1, Lochiel Township. The truck has not been recovered.

School vandalism

Vandalism to Martintown Public School continues, Lancaster OPP Sgt. Andy VanderWoude told The News.

"The school has suffered ongoing vandalism all summer" VanderWoude explained.

"Every time shrubs or flowers are planted, someone pulls them up. Kids have been reported drinking beer on the school roof and some windows have been damaged."

Tools stolen

A tool box of mechanic tools valued at $2,000 was stolen from a shed at a home at RR1, Williamstown, Aug. 19.

A red Honda generator valued at $2,000 was snatched off a trailer parked in a driveway of a home on Nine Mile Road, Charlottenburgh, Aug. 19, or early on the morning of Aug. 20.

Police actually found a three-wheel bike abandoned on Purcel Road Aug. 21. Sgt. VanderWoude says police are still looking for the owner.

"You wouldn't think the owner of a three-wheel bike would be hard to find," St. VanderWoude said, "but we are still trying to locate the owner."

$500 stolen

Sometime during Aug. 17 to 19, a JVC stereo receiver and a Samsung Camera valued at $500 were stolen from a home near Martintown.

Biggest theft was reported by Heritage Golf Club, when their $4,000 golf ball retriever was stolen Aug. 20 or 21.

The retriever fits behind a tractor and picks up golf balls strewn around the driving range at the club.

"Only another golf club or driving range would be interested in this kind of a contraption," Sgt. VanderWoude joked.

Five rifles were stolen from a home at Lot 17, Conc. 9, Lancaster. Value of the guns has not been established.

A rusty red Honda car with Quebec plates was spotted in the neighborhood at the time of the robbery, Sgt. VanderWoude said.

Help sought to catch vandals

Crime Stoppers needs the public's help in stopping vandalism at Martintown Public School.

Throughout the week, but mostly on weekends, youths are climbing on the roof of the school.

They are also setting fires near the doors and on the roof of the school and damaging anything that has been renovated.

As well, beer bottles and other debris have been found around the school.

Anyone with any information on this or any other crime is eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

Contractors hired for Purcell water and sewage works

Charlottenburgh Township's Purcell Water and Sewage System will be soon heading westward along Hwy. #2, following a decision taken Monday evening in open council to have Ray Lepage Construction do the work at a cost of $200,000.

The construction company is presently working on the extension of the system to Purcell Road.

The second extension will see water services running as far west as Farlinger's Point, where a subdivision of 18 residential lots has received draft approval.

Developer Jim MacEwen, who is at the stage of entering a subdivider's agreement with the municipality, will pay in excess of 50 per cent of the cost to bring the water to Farlinger Estates.

Deputy- Reeve Leslie O'Shaughnessy told The Glengarry News the rest of the money for the extension is expected to come from the Canada/Ontario Infrastructure Grant program.

"This is a win- win situation for us," said O'Shaughnessy.

"What we are doing in essence is selling our own water supply. We can offer services to anyone living along the line."

Council also passed a resolution in open council to enter into negotiations with the principals of the Cornwall Golf and Country Club, regarding water services for the club.

Discussion regarding this proposal was held during an in camera session.

"At this stage we're just talking," said township Administrator- Clerk Marcel Lapierre.

If the golf club were to become serviced, it would be charged multiple units; a household charge being one unit.

The extension of the Purcell system will mean that those residents already on it will not see their unit charges raised. Users are presently paying $775 per unit per annum.

Ministry announces grants for Eastern Ontario travel group

The Eastern Ontario Travel Association will be able to support its regional tourism promotions thanks to grants totalling $145,000 from the Ontario Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Recreation.

Minister Anne Swarbrick announced July 27 the association will receive $110,000 to promote eastern Ontario as an exciting tourism destination and $35,000 to cover operating expenses.

"The Eastern Ontario Travel Association provides a very important service for tourism operators," Minister Swarbrick said. "It promotes the best of what they have to offer, whether it be Winterlude or the world's largest tulip festival in Ottawa, whitewater rafting or kayaking in the Ottawa Valley, historical attractions in Lanark County or the charm of the Thousand Islands."

"Tourism is one of the fastest growing industries in the world, but Ontario has been losing its market share," Minister Swarbrick added. "That's why we are putting into action many elements of the Tourism Sectoral Strategy recommended by members of Ontario's tourism industry. The strategy's goal is to create 100,000 new jobs, attract 15 million more tourists and generate $6 billion more in visitor spending in the province over the next six years. The success of attracting visitors depends to a large extent on how our tourism product is marketed on a regional basis. This is why we continue to support the efforts of our travel associations."

The Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Recreation this year is providing $1,516,000 to Ontario's ten travel associations, under the Ontario Travel Association Program. The associations are mandated to undertake regional marketing to reflect the unique character of the tourism industry within their respective areas.

Merchants urged to give fair exchange

Give it to the customer or donnez y ca!

The U.S. Exchange Rate that is! Area merchants and tourism influencers must ensure that a fair rate of exchange is being offered to our visitors by their staff today more than ever.

Funding for marketing to attract U.S. visitors is being reduced by both the province of Ontario and Tourism Canada. The few dollars that are being spent must promote the fact that our guests are treated fairly and receiving a fair rate of exchange.

Additionally, there is a lot of competition for the U.S. tourist dollars. Tourists will go where they are treated fairly and where they receive value for their dollar.

If U.S. guests are provided with a fair rate of exchange they tell four or five family members, neighbors or friends, but if they are not, then they tend to tell ten or twice as many people about the lack of fair treatment.

The Economic Development Department of SD&G is sending out free U.S. dollar convertors to be used. Merchants are requested to please call their own banks at least once a week to be advised of the recommended rate of U.S. exchange to offer our guests.

Members of the Seaway Valley Tourist Association will automatically receive a more detailed exchange wheel to be displayed and used.

Neil Williamson, director of tourism and economic development for SD&G mentioned "the other day I was in a local motel and restaurant asking 'what rate of exchange do you offer?' to be proudly advised that it was 15 per cent. This is not acceptable and certainly not fair."

Williamson said "if we are telling our guests that if they come to Seaway Valley their dollars will go farther or that their dollar is worth $1.30 plus then we must provide that exchange as any good business person will tell you."

Extensive advertising in cooperation with the Eastern Ontario Travel Association has been directed to the U.S. resident who is a member of their local AAA.

To date over 1,200 inquiries have been received from families wishing to come to Seaway Valley for their vacation from that campaign.

Additionally SD&G Discovery Guides, produced by the Economic Development Department, have been forwarded to many of the AAA's in the eastern and northern portions of the U.S. to promote the Seaway Valley.

"We have lots of special events, reasonable accommodations and attractions to offer; but this is not enough if we do not offer customer service and value for their dollar." Williamson urged.

Tourist operators and merchants are requested to call the Economic Development Department at 774-1234 if they wish to receive a U.S. Dollar Convertor.

Hospitality sells dollars and jobs

It is most important that visitors receive warm and friendly treatment while they are in SD&G.

Rural and small town destinations are gaining popularity throughout North America as travellers wish to get away from the big city environment and share a friendly, safe, rural and cultural experience.

There is a long list of special events used to promote travel to SD&G, but residents have to continue to warmly welcome our guests.

Overall the public does an excellent job and receives positive comments from visitors.

Visitors mean jobs, revenue, tourism investment, employment and tax dollars. The expression that we all benefit from tourism is true!

1. Ask if you can help when a stranger appears lost or hesitant.
2. Take time to give accurate and specific directions.
3. Speak slowly and distinctly (but don't shout) when assisting a visitor.
4. Walk with them a block, to point out the way.
5. If they are a photo fan, offer to take a snapshot with their camera. Many tourists appreciate the courtesy.
6. Be enthusiastic and well-informed about your local sightseeing attractions.

Building activity up in Charlottenburgh

Development Officer Dwane Crawford predicts that the estimated value of building in the township will hit six or seven million dollars for 1994 if activity continues the way it has been recently.

Not since 1991, has there been such a boom in the construction industry in the township.

Also, several subdivisions which have been in the works for Charlottenburgh over the past few years, now proceeding.

Council gave preliminary approval Monday for Phase II of Sandywoods Estates on the South Branch Road; final approval for Summerhill Subdivision on County Rd. 27 near Hwy. #2; and final approval for Fairway Estates Subdivision (Phase 2).

Back to school for line dancing

Glen Walter
by Ron Holla
931-2658

Signs are already visible on some area roads that summer is nearing an end. Leaves on some trees are changing and the price of sweet corn at roadside stands has been dropping in price as more produce makes it to market.

Out in my garden, the potato plants are dying off, turning yellow and brown. Just a few more weeks before we can bite into those Red Pontiacs.

Line Dancing

Another sure sign of fall's arrival is the beginning of line dancing classes. Precious Blood Elementary School will be the site again this year for line dancing classes scheduled to start Sept. 14 at 7 p.m.

Giselle Lemay, line dancing instructor, said that line dancing is for young and old, emphasizing this strongly after this reporter had stated that he had seen only older people performing line dancing at the Williamstown Fair.

"My youngest student is seven years old," Lemay said. "Anyone can try this kind of dancing."

People interested in further information about the classes are asked to call Lemay at 931-3190.

Marty's Walking Companion

Marty McElligott, owner of Marty's Convenience in Glen Walter, is still looking for walking partners for daily walks to the Glen Walter Regional Park and back. But in the meantime, he is making do walking with a bear.

"It's not a real bear, of course," Marty said. "We just call him that because he looks like one."

The "bear" Marty is referring to is his purebred Akita dog. According to Marty, Bear has been his faithful walking partner all summer.

"I guess it is difficult to get together with people to go walking this summer. Everyone seems to have different schedules."

Marty said he will try again in the fall to form a walking team, but in the meantime will continue walking with his four- legged partner.

"The exercise is really doing me good," he said.

Museum gala tonight

Williamstown
by Sue Harrington
347-2279

Wait! Don't just glance at this and put it aside for future reading. A hideous mistake was made in this column last week - the Wine and Cheese at the Nor'Westers and Loyalist museum is TONIGHT, Aug. 24, not next week as I had indicated.

My apologies to everyone affected by this error,especially those hard working members of the museum committee.

Please, readers, do me a huge favor and come out for this fund-raising event tonight, between 6 and 9 p.m. In addition to the conviviality which the evening promises, Clarence Fiske and the late Dr.Wilfrid Johnston will be honored for their work with the museum throughout the years. If the crowd is sparse I might just be distraught enough to jump into the Nor'Westers canoe and paddle off into the sunset...

Of course, there is always a reason for a mistake such as this. If it was in fact my error, blame it on the burning barn/shed/cabin at the back of the Bethune-Thompson house last Tuesday.

When fire engines turn down the lane leading to one of Ontario's oldest houses, one does tend to feel a bit of alarm and the necessity to stop what one is doing and chase the reels.Fortunately our local firemen contained the blaze to the barn and our local historic treasure was unharmed.

The barn which burned was owned by Dr.McLean and was the last of four - the other three buildings having met a similar fate some ten years ago. The barn was built in1910.

And just in case you're wondering, no damage was done to the carriage shed belonging to the Bethune-Thompson House.

Organized card parties are scarce during the summer,but the Glengarry Community Club continues to hold its monthly open euchres.

Winners at this month's euchre included Florence Harkness, Dorothy Croll, Reta Heath, Tony Wetering, Bill MacMillan and Albert Daoust.

Theresa Bourdeau, Shirley Lizote, Rena Major,Clarice MacPherson, Ileen Latreille and Betsy Robinson were the winners of 50/50 prizes, while Myrtle MacMillan bagged the door prize.

The club's next open euchre takes place Sept. 12 at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre,at 1:30 p.m.

On Sept. 26, a Gala Card Party will be held at the Recreation Centre: both euchre and bridge will be played.This event,which is sponsored by the Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum, will be held in the afternoon. Dessert and coffee will be served.

Card enthusiasts are urged to start arranging foursomes for this special day.

Welcome to Williamstown is extended to Dr. Marike Dussault, a new veterinarian of small and large animals,who has joined Brian MacNaughton and staff of the Williamstown Veterinary Services on the fourth Concession.

Look out, owners of florist shops! Local flower designers have discovered the secrets of arranging those bouquets which look truly professional. Yes, thanks to the generosity of Dorothy Croll, about 20 members of the Green Thumb Horticultural Society have learned the art of creating the ideal arrangement for every occasion.

Dorothy has been teaching small groups of students,both male and female throughout the summer.And one of these students thinks she should be recognized for her efforts.

"Dorothy has been such a driving force behind the Green Thumbs and the Williamstown Fair, says my informer. "She has given so much to the members and is trying to ensure that flower arranging doesn't die out."

The informer says that the session with Dorothy was "really superb," and that she has done 10 arrangements since learning the secrets of the trade.

Well Dorothy, no use sending you bouquets! Will a big thank you do?

School may be still out for summer, but there is no rest for school history hunters, Brenda Lauzon and Verna Warden.These two ladies, who were responsible for collecting so much interesting information for the Williamstown Public School Anniversary in the spring, are still looking for more.

It seems that the Glen School (Glen Donald) has been generating some interest from officials from Upper Canada Village who are looking for a schoolhouse from that era to recreate for the village.

Brenda needs your help with some clues about the school. For instance, when was the washroom added on the back? Where did the wood for the school come from? The paint? Any information at all pertaining to this school would help. If you can,please call Brenda at 931-1190.

St. Mary's Youth Choir has not been idle over the summer either. In fact the group went "on tour" earlier this month to visit Finch and the parishioners of Father O'Brien. The group sang at the mass and later provided some old fashioned favorites for some of the seniors who were said to be moved to tears by the performance.

A pool party and Bar-B-Q was later held for the group at the home of Rick Paradis, where some pretty fancy pool-jumping moves were learned!

Nick MacD-Wolochatiuk has been having quite the adventures, mostly of a vertical kind, since starting upon his free-lance writing career a few months back.

Nick has been the principal writer and photographer in the last few issues of Hometown, a weekly supplement of the Standard-Freeholder. We wish him continued success - i.e. lots of assignments!

Among their lengthy lists of accomplishments,chalk up another one each for the resumes of David Anderson and D.J.McDonald: modeling!

Yes in a private salon viewing held at the Williamstown Library a couple of weeks back, the pair sported layer upon layer of clothing worm by soldiers in the mid-nineteenth century. Each item of dress was explained to them and their private audience, by an historian from Fort Wellington in Prescott.

From multi-purpose shirts (used as day shirt,night shirt and underwear), leather neck guards, and frock coats, to shakos, cartridge boxes, canteens, and rifles, our local mannequins stood stalwart during the drapings.

So splendid did they look that one proposed a parade down the main street of the village. The audience thought they should knock on doors, pretending it was Hallowe'en. In the end they settled for taking the historian a on an historic tour of Williamstown.

By now you will have figured out just who made up the private audience. What a pity more of you didn't attend! Information oozed, inferences were made and laughs were frequent.

I'm not going to tell you the funny things: in the words of that immortal somebody or other, "you should have been there."

* * *

In case you are wondering, after reading a feature in a local daily, whether or not Alex MacDonald still works at Kraft, the answer from the man himself is a wistful NO!

"I wish I did," says Alex. "then I could get a pension."

Congratulations to Sandra Murray and Hugh Charles Macdonell, on the announcement of their forthcoming marriage, which will take place Oct. 1st in Glen Walter.

Horticulture society holds annual flower show

Martintown
by Lillian Rouleau

The Martintown and District Horticulture Society held its annual flower show Thursday, Aug. 18, in the community centre. Doors opened to the public for viewing exhibits by 18 members and some 15 juniors, and the awards presentation followed at 8 p.m.

Special guest was District #1 director, Thelma Woosey from Vankleek Hill, who brought information concerning the district annual meeting coming up in September.

She was followed by secretary Vicky Pollock with updates on current local activities of the horticulture society. President Onagh Ross then made the awards presentation to the following:

Lawn judges were Lorna and Ernest Spiller; Village Lawns, Onagh Ross, first; Charlotte Sansom, second; Country lawns, Colleen Kennedy, first; Marie Seguin, second; Farm lawns, Alison Murray, first; Sylvia Thomson, second; Mailbox, Sylvia Thomson; Flower bed or borders, Sylvia Thomson, first; Alison Murray, second.

Window/Veranda box, Sylvia Thomson, first; Onagh Ross, second; Hanging basket, Marie Seguin, first; Onagh Ross, second.

Rose collection (four varieties) Sylvia Thomson, first; Tray of vegetables, Alison Murray, first; Monique Quenneville, second. Arrangement of dried flowers or grain, Sylvia Thomson, first; Monique Quenneville, second.

Impatiens bed, Sylvia Thomson, first; Marie Seguin, second; Best Coleus by a Man, John Peters; Most Pts. for arrangements, Sylvia Thomson; Spring flower beds, Marion Scoffield, first; John Peters, second; Onagh Ross, third; Premium, Sylvia Thomson, first; Mina Carter, second.

Most Pts. overall, Onagh Ross, first; Sylvia Thomson, second.

Sylvia Thomson had actually accumulated the most points, but as she was last year's winner, and this prize can be awarded to the same person only every fourth year, the runnerup was Onagh Ross, who received the award.

The awards for the Junior Horticulture Society were presented by leader Karen Kinloch. She thanked her young members for their interest in gardening, and helper Monique Quenneville. The judge for gardens was Eugene Kyer.

The youths had entries for the following: carrots, gourds, cherry tomatoes, cucumbers, icicle radishes, miniature pumpkins, onions, beets, peppers, cleomes, snapdragons, salvias, marigolds, pansies, spider asters, cosmos, zinnias, coleos, flowering tobacco, verbenas, and miniature roses.

Tiny tots: Anna Kinloch, first; Kirstin Hooker, Brad Sloan, tied second; Junior Juniors: Brittany Sloan, first; Emma Kinloch and Timothy Rouleau, second; Tom Hooker, third; Senior Juniors: Emily Sloan, first; Louise Quenneville, second; Robbie Kinloch and Devon Murray, third; Seniors: Leeanne Quenneville, first; Scott Kinloch and Sarah Kinloch, second.

The award trophy for the gardener with the most points went to Leeanne Quenneville.

Members who are interested in the outing to the Cooper Marsh (Sept. 10) are asked to inform Pearl Murray before Sept. 2 (Tel. 528- 4967).

Annual meeting

The annual meeting for District #1, will be held Sept. 17, at the Institute of Operating Engineers of Ontario in Morrisburg (Hwy. 2).

Baseball tourney a hit

Glen Robertson
by Colette Sauvé
874-2076

The Denise Lacombe second annual baseball tournament on Aug. 14 at the Glengarry Sports Palace proved to be a hit again this year.

Two teams from Green Valley, two from the Glen and four from Alexandria made up the mixed teams for eight to 12 years old.

Winners for the A division were Gisele Sauve's team from the Glen and the B went to the Alain Borris team of Green Valley. Parents and kids had a grand time.

Coach for Alain Borris team in Green Valley, M.S.P. Julien Borris, M.V.P. Dominic Poirier; Denise Lacombe coached Alexandria League, MSP Robert Decoste, MVP Daniel Lacombe; Lilliane Diotte coached Glen Robertson, MSP Manon Bourdon, MVP Shaun Sutton; Lyle Stewart, coach, Alexandria League, MSP Julien Rozon, MVP Stephane Dubeau; Gisele Sauve, coach, Glen Robertson, MSP Judy Wylie, MVP Melissa McDonald; Rick Nelson, coach Alexandria League, MSP Landon Shepherd, MVP Jason McDonald; Remi Sauve, coach, Green Valley, MSP Christian Decoste, MVP Jean Francois Menard; Mike Charbonneau, coach, Alexandria League, MSP Pascale Lalonde, MVP Maurice Bellefeuille.

Last Friday, a game wsa played between the parents and the kids and the winners were the youngsters.

Denise Lacombe who is a coach and tournament organizer, along with assistant Rosaire Decoste each received a gift as a token of appreciation from the parents and kids.

Congratulations, Denise and keep on with the good work!

Western Line Dancing

Western line dancing will be starting in September at Glen Robertson Social Centre. You must pre-register with Aline at 874-2081 before Sept. 1.

Organizer Pina Stante was very pleased with the turnout at the barbecue at Loeb in Alexandria on Aug. 13.

Three hundred and eight dollars was raised and will be used to upgrade the library at Laurier-Carriere School.

Pina would like to thank everyone who supported the project and a special thank you to all the helpers -- Lisa O'Neil, the great cook, Chantal Seguin, Vicky Hardy, Paul Hurtubise, Micheline Lajoie, Joanne Vachon and Diane Pepin.

Charlottenburgh Township

Council Briefs

The only regular council meeting for the month of August took place Aug. 15 in Williamstown. The meeting was chaired by Deputy- Reve Les O'Shaughnessy in the absence of Reeve Dave MacDonald who was in Toronto on personal business. The following are among those discussed by council.

Next meeting Glen Walter

The next regular meeting of council will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Glen Walter on Tuesday, Sept. 13, instead of at the township hall in Williamstown.

The reason for the change is that a public meeting concerning the proposed amendment to Charlottenburgh's Official Plan (Waterfront Area) is taking place at the K of C that night. For convenience, council decided its regular meeting would follow at the same location.

Fall cleanup date set

Sept. 17 will be the day for Charlottenburgh residents to dispose of household hazardous waste and heavy items.

On that Saturday, township residents (as well as those from Lancaster Village) will be able to dispose of poisons, bleach, pesticides, paints, oil, turpentine, gasoline, batteries, etc. by dropping them off at the Glen Walter Fire Station between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon.

As well, on Sept. 17, residents with private registered vehicles will have free access to the township's landfill site.

Insurance renewed

Council renewed its comprehensive municipal insurance package with Rozon/Cowan Insurance for 1994/95, at a premium of $59,426, which is "slightly higher" than last year, according to Administrator- Clerk Marcel Lapierre.

Lapierre says the increase reflects "market pressures" on the liability component of the package.

"The pressures have resulted from extremely large settlements awarded by the courts, and municipalities being found jointly liable in matters that historically have not included municipalities," Lapierre noted in a staff report.

Ruins transfer soon

The transfer of ownership of the St. Raphael's Ruins from the township to the Friends of St. Raphael's Ruins Inc. will be completed shortly, said Lapierre.

At that time the Ruins will be removed from Charlottenburgh's liability insurance coverage.

"Avondbloem" designated

The township has passed a bylaw to designate "Avondbloem," the home of George and Evelyn van Beek, as being of historical value and interest.

The house, located near Williamstown, was built in the early 1820's and was originally the home of the Hon. John McGillivray, a wintering partner in the North West Company.

Charlottenburgh's Local Architectural Advisory Committee (LACAC) recommended the designation, "primarily on the grounds of its historical associations with the Nor'Wester, John McGillivray and his direct descendants."

Pager problems

Problems are still arising with the paging system used by the township's fire departments, but the system is operating "80 per cent better than a year ago," says Marcel Lapierre.

According to Councillor George Shoniker, part of the problem is the system and part is the pager operators.

"Some of them won't do what they're told," said Shoniker, chair of Charlottenburgh's Fire Committee.

"You can have the best system you want, but if you're down in a valley, you're not likely going to get it."

Glen Walter Fire Chief Rheal Valade will be cataloguing the concerns, noting the locations of the pagers when the difficulties are encountered.

Fishing expedition comes up empty

Maxville
by Gordon Winter
527-2888

How would you enjoya fishing expedition to Lancaster Wharf with an excellent lunch and refreshments on a beautiful August day? That is what nine residents of the Manor experienced last week and they thoroughly enjoyed their outing. It was organized by Dina Murray, activities coordinator, Donald Sabourin drove the van, volunteer Martin O'Brien went along and he was assisted by two junior volunteers, Ryan Burtenshaw and Charlie Sabourin.

The residents who went and who returned a bit embarrassed because their fish pails were empty were Harold Merkley, Dan Routhier, Henry den Otter, Alex McMillan, George McCullough, Homer MacLeod, Duncan Bethune, Hilliard Presley and Elmer Turney.

Your correspondent didn't enquire why there were no ladies on the fishing expedition. However four enjoyed another outing the sameday to Dunvegan for the delicious chicken barbecue held on the lawn of Kenyon Presbyterian Church there. Those who attended were Bella (Mrs. Donald Hughie) MacIntosh, Flora Anne MacGillivray, Florence Bradley and Evelyn Willis. They reported that they had an excellent meal and Mrs. MacIntosh was so pleased that so many supported this annual venture of her church.

Sylvia and Allen Douglas have returned from an excellent, five-week camping tour of the Maritimes. While travelling around the Gaspe, they called on Marlene and Harris Annett, they crossed through New Brunswick, spent a week in P.E.I., two weeks in Newfoundland and while in Cape Breton, stopped at Rita MacNeil's tea room.

A photograph of a couple who plan to be married on Oct. 1 appeared in last week's Glengarry News and perhaps some readers did not realize that there were Maxville connections. The groom- to- be is Hugh MacDonell who resides on Spring Street in the village and his bride-to- be is Sandra, daughter of Winston and Sharon Murray of R.R. 1, Cornwall. Winston lived here as a young fellow and his stepmother is Jean Murray who lives on Catherine St. West.

The McLellan home on Peter S' has changed hands. The family has moved to Dunvegan and the new residents are Janice Pasco- Provost and Bruce Dubeau. A warm welcome is extended to the couple.

Old- timers will identify the home easier as that of the late Hilda and Clarence MacPhail.

Winners in last week's Lions Club Calendar draw were O. Robitaille, Cornwall, Andre Cuerrier, Dyer, Margaret Michaud, Maxville, Mary Flanagan, Avonmore, Gerald and Paulette Dore, Casselman, and Pierre Guindon, St. Andrews West.

This may prove to be a helpful hint for some gardeners. The plastic hanging baskets deteriorate with age and as we have learned, should be replaced before it is too late. We had two fall last week on the same day when a piece let go from a wire holding it. With a season's growth increasing the weight, apparently the old plastic could not stand the stress.

Last Wednesday, eight car loads of Horticultural Society members enjoyed the annual garden tour. The first stop was at Shirley and Bob Humble's, thenit was over to the Taits' home on the 5th Con. Roxborough, then to the Vander Wielen farm on the Dyer road, followed by a stop at the home of Christine and Gerald Jans at Sandringham. The morning's final stop was at the farm home of Shirley and roger Villeneuve where a picnic lunch was enjoyed.

In the afternoon, members of the group had the opportunity to view the results of the gardening skills of Scott Robertson, Valeries and Bob Besner, Beverly and Donald Gormley, Margaret and Angus MacRae and Lynn and Andy Snikeris.

The organizers of the tour wish to thank all those who afforded the Society members the opportunities to visit their homes.

Don't forget that the Diners' Club meets this Thursday at the Manor with a T'ai- Chi demonstration at 11 a.m. and the dinner at 12:30. Also, reserve Sept.8 for an Open House at the Seniors' Day Centre at the Manor.

Another local weekly newspaper detailed the merits of the red wriggler earthworm as composters. Your correspondent dislikes taking a negative attitude towards this method of composting, but after trying it out for over a year, he is of the opinion that this method is not practical.

First of all, the article reported that a couple would require a pound of worms to eat a pound of organic waste per week. This may be true as far as the worms are concerned but our household of two certainly produces much more than a pound of organic, kitchen wastes.

Secondly, there is the problem of separating the worms from the compost periodically. It is time consuming task. The article referred to shredded paper as bedding. The worms don't regard it as bedding - - they eat it.

To indicate a rapid rate of reproduction, the article stated that no young worms came from one egg. Eggs are produced in a capsule and there may be 20 eggs in the capsule but nowhere in nature does an egg produce more than one young except in the case of identical twins.

Perhaps readers will be interested in knowing that earthworms are also hermaphrodites. Each one is both male and female but mating is required between two when eggs from each are fertilized, eventually by the other.

The annual Memorial Service of the Maxville Cemetery will be held this year in St. Michael's and All Angels Anglican Church at 2:30 p.m. on Sept. 4. On this day, it is customary for friends and relatives to place flowers on the graves of their loved ones.

All householders are advised that there will be an environmental cleanup of household hazardous wastes on Sept. 17 from 9 a.m.- 3 p.m. Our village is one of the local sponsoring municipalities which is paying to have these wastes collected at the Kenyon Township Garage south of Greenfield. After you take them there there will be no charge and while the list of materials that you may bring is very long, it includes paints, solvents, car batteries and other batteries, waste oil, insecticides and herbicides, aerosol containers, strong cleaners, old propane tanks and pool chemicals. You are invited to phone the village office at 527- 2705 for additional details.

A reader phoned with a question regarding the feeding of hummingbirds. The question was "When do you stop feeding them?" You don't stop feeding them until they leave for the south themselves. The trip is a long and tiring one and these little birds require all the stored energy they can acquire before leaving here. The shortening days and the cooler weather are their indicator for migration.

This reader has a small feeder for the hummingbirds and has much success in attracting them. This means that the birds are being provided with a fresh sugar solution often. My feeder is a large one, the solution must become stale and I don't have many use it.

If you are observing some of the birds close- up, you may notice that they look somewhat ragged. August is the month for moulting and while birds lose their feathers gradually during their moult, some can be noticed looking different these days. Our chickadees are an example.

The swallows are behaving differently now. They are no longer hovering around their meeting places and are beginning to flock. I guess it makes sense to make friends before starting the flight south together!

One hundred years ago, A. I Smillie received a large send- off, before he left for California. The Centennial book tells us that Smillie brothers had a store where our Home Hardware store now stands andin another place that Alex Smillie had moved to the village from St. Elmo when the railway had gone through. I am guessing that A. I. was a brother of John and that he continued operating the store and was followed by his son, Walter.

J. P. McDougall operatedthe Maxville Roller Mill which was at the west end of Catherine St. and which produced flour andrelated products. There is a photograph of it in the 1903 paper I have.

Sixty years ago, Mrs. Hughes bought a home in town and this commenced a long association with this family. Daughter Hattie is a Manor resident and the younger daughter is Ethel (Mrs. Howard) Coleman of Valleyfield. Son Archie was active in the village with the Borden Co.first and later as the first Manor administrator. Another son, Harry was well known and Jake was the father of Ray Hughes and his two brothers but died at an early age.

You would not realize that the home of Marilyn Guindon and Brenda Gordon once housed a store. Peter Tracey operated the store and sold candy and school supplies when we were young. Fifty years ago Dr. Don Gamble bought the property and had his veterinary office inthe store part of the building.

Forty years ago Helen, Mrs. John D. MacLeod, now Mrs. Malcolm Grant became the Home Economics teacher in Glengarry District High School.

Annual fun day Sunday

North Lancaster

Last week, while giving names of the winners for a number of prizes at the Glen Nevis social one person was left out and that was Mr. Olaf Rumke who received an oil painting done and donated by Muriel Moore of the Davidson Moore Lodge in Glen Nevis.

Speaking of the lodge, Muriel Moore informed me of a few visitors during the past week: Mrs. Gerda Wenger and her grandchildren Venessa and Alexander of Glen Robertson and Derek Weatherston also of Glen Robertson; Eleanor Bisson and friend from Orleans and Al Davidson of Cumberland (niece and brother of Muriel Moore).

Mrs. Moore is a member of the Glen Nevis Echoes (senior club) who meet on the second Thursday of each month at the lodge. The next meeting will be on Sept. 8 and Diane Legault, the guest speaker will talk on the subject "lifeline". New members are welcome.

If you or your kids were playing baseball or soccer during the summer months, we hope to see you at the annual fun day this Sunday, Aug. 28.

Organizers of baseball and soccer have joined their efforts and will be celebrating the end of summer with a day of fun, food and sports.

The first baseball game begins around 9 a.m. and there will be three divisions, A, B and C.

During the lunch break, hot dogs will be supplied, free of charge, by the Optimist Club.

Drinks will also be available at a very low cost.

The young kids will play around 12:30 followed by a game where 10 to 15-year olds meet the ladies. The men will then resume for the finals in the afternoon.

Corn on the cob will be served around 3 p.m. to hold your appetite until supper where sandwiches, pickles and desserts will be available.

On the soccer side, I am told they begin at 1:30 p.m. All Lancaster Township soccer players are invited and parents are reminded to bring either sandwiches or desserts. Drinks will be sold and Kool Aid will be free.

There will be relay races and a meeting of the co-ed division against the moms. Come to play, come to cheer or just eat, drink and socialize.

Store to specialize in local produce

Business Beat

By Joe Banks, 525-2020

A brand new 3,100-square-foot store is nearing completion behind the Canadian Tire in Alexandria that will specialize in selling locally-grown produce.

Just Farms Produce, named after the successful Alexandria-area produce farming operation owned by Alex and Mark Just, is expected to open this Friday or Monday, Aug. 29, depending on when the finishing touches to the new building are done. The grand opening is planned for Sept. 3.

The business, which will also be selling Montreal bagels and other specialty breads from that city, is jointly owned and operated by the Justs and Mike and Nancy Connah, Kenyon Township residents and veterans of the produce and bakery industry.

Mike is the former produce manager of the Alexandria Loeb and also managed stores in Ottawa for 20 years. Nancy ran the Loeb bakery for over three years. Alex and Mark have been operating Just Farms since 1982.

Mark's wife Jo-Anne will also be involved in cake decorating.

What will set Just Farms Produce apart will be its emphasis on locally-grown vegetables. In addition to supplying themselves from the Just Farms operation, Mike says "we have contacted a lot of local growers to supply us" with a variety of produce.

In addition, the store will feature a small dairy section and will be bringing in a line of all-natural foods, said Alex.

Just Farms Produce will also boast a "wholesale division" which will allow them to sell produce to large customers like restaurants, nursing homes and caterers.

"Basically anybody who wants to buy from us can buy from us," says Alex.

In addition to offering all-natural foods like wholewheat pastas and soya-based cheeses, the store will carry a line of pre-prepared dinners, dressings and sauces from the Candlestick Restaurant's Jim Gillissie.

The store itself will be an open-air market in the spring and summer thanks to three sliding five-foot glass panelled doors at the front of the building. Also in the spring, the store will be offering bedding plants and garden supplies, said Mike.

Alex said that he will no longer be selling produce at the farm, but emphasized the same low prices will remain in effect.

"We will be competitive with everyone in town on pricing," said Mike.

Alex said the partners hope the store will help keep people shopping in town rather than travelling to Cornwall to buy.

BIA budgets $5,000 for park

The Alexandria Business Improvement Association (BIA) has allocated $5,000 to help improve the Island Park facilities after a lengthy discussion of whether to promote camping there.

Board member Reynald Theoret at its July 26 meeting noted that it seemed the board had spent very little of its $15,000 budget and felt that $10,000 should be diverted to upgrading the park for camping, particularly for a night watchman to decrease vandalism.

Member Gail Belair-Abrames questioned whether the BIA could justify spending this amount of money on the park when the recent questionnaire indicated there were many other priorities to be handled first. Karen Davison-Wood said she felt camping at the park was a politically hot potato and should not be a priority, especially when there has been no study to indicate that camping would enhance the park's facilities.

While the BIA budget had included park beautification as an item, Davison-Wood argued that beautification and camping were not the same thing.

A vote to allocate $5,000 to the park to establish camping facilities subject to the town's approval was narrowly defeated by four votes to three, with Bruno Lalonde, Reynald Theoret and John Hope supporting the measure and Belair-Abrames, Lindsay Cameron, Daniel Suprenant and Davison-Wood opposing.

A second vote to allocate $5,000 for the park's beautification was held, with all but Belair-Abrames supporting the measure. Davison-Wood supported the motion on the understanding that the funds were to be used for "beautification" and not in any way for the establishment of camping.

Spring rally of Presbyterial held

By Joyce Ferguson, Publicity officer

The 80th Spring Rally of the Glengarry Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society, met on Thursday, June 9 in St Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore.

President Shelagh MacDougall opened with prayer and welcomed everyone. Irene MacIntyre, president of St. Andrew's WMS, welcomed the meeting to Avonmore.

Lorna MacGregor, Wilma MacMillan and Maryanne Kampouris, Moose Creek WMS, conducted the Worship Service which reflected the theme for the day — "Serve with Joy."

Lorna MacGregor gave a most impressive report on council, which was held in Knox College, Toronto, May 27-30. Marianne MacDonald, Vankleek Hill, also reported on her visit to council and brought greetings.

Reports on 1994 Synodical, held in April, in Montreal, were given by Annie MacRae, Cornwall, Annabelle Hartrick, Dunvegan, and Irene McIntyre, Avonmore. Shelagh MacDougall, president, asked us to keep the following dates in mind regarding coming events.

(1) The Fall Rally is planned for Sept. 13 at 8 p.m. in Finch.

(2) There is to be a Fall Retreat at La Monasterie, in Aylmer, Quebec, on Sept. 23-25. Theme of the Retreat is "Our Hope in Christ's Mission."

(3) Synodical annual meeting, to be held in Glengarry Presbyterial in 1995.

Vera MacEwen, vice-president of Synodical, brought greetings on behalf of Gloria Purcell, president. Ann Milne brought greetings as area educational consultant. Rev. Jeff Smith, minister of St. Andrew's welcomed the meeting to Avonmore and brought greetings from Presbytery. Everyone enjoyed the food and fellowship during a delicious noon luncheon, served by the ladies of St. Andrew's.

The afternoon session began with a hymn sing, led by Vera MacEwen, accompanied by Lorna MacGregor, pianist for the day. Alice Ferguson and Joyce Ferguson, Maxville WMS, conducted the Memorial Service.

Catherine MacRae, Dunvegan WMS, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Frank Bailey, a retired minister,, living in Maxville. In keeping with the study on the Caribbean, Mr. Bailey spoke to the group on his homeland — the Barbados. Rev. Bailey left us with a message of hope in receiving God's grace — "Sanctify the word of God in your hearts and emphasize your faith in God." A beautiful musical selection, "God's Way" by Rev. Frank, and his wife Felicia Bailey, was much appreciated by all. The Baileys were thanked by Vera MacEwen, and on behalf of the meeting, were presented with a gift as a token of our appreciation.

On behalf of the meeting, Peg Ferguson, Lancaster, expressed thanks to everyone who participated to make this day a joyful one.

Catherine MacRae extended an invitation for the 1995 Spring Rally to be held in Kenyon Church, Dunvegan, and Shelagh MacDougall closed the meeting with prayer.

1994 ...It's our year

Ninety-nine and getting stronger

Ninety-nine years ago 32 disgruntled farmers from backwoods Lochiel got together in the township hall to form Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

The only way these men could guard against the ever-present threat of losing barns, animals, homes and livelihood in a fire, was to band together on their own to form a mutual protection society.

Glengarry Farmers Mutual started with just 50 farmers pledging $1,330 in premiums, and most of them only paid 10 per cent of their premium notices, hoping they would not be called on soon to ante up the balance for a fire claim!

As it happened there were no claims for the first three years, allowing the fledgling company which was run out of the kitchen of Secretary-Treasurer Valentine Chisholm's home, to gather up a war chest for future claims.

Chisholm gave the company a great start. He served as the secretary-treasurer and driving force for a record 54 years, until his retirement in 1949.

Today the company insures not only fire but theft, vandalism, wind, and boasts a new labor replacement policy for farmers injured in accidents,

The company collects $2 million in premiums each year, insuring property valued at $560,000 million. Some 35 per cent of their coverage now is on non-farm homes and businesses.

The company is owned by its policyholders and run by a nine-man board of directors elected for three year terms at annual meetings.

Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company Office

It operates out of a spanking new office built in Alexandria four years ago, with a staff of five, plus three agents and five brokers who sell coverage mainly in Glengarry, Stormont, and Prescott-Russell areas.

"We toyed with taking on car insurance a few years ago," Manager Brian Fisher explained. "But the success of this company is based on the fact that we pay attention to our knitting, fire and casualty insurance, the business we know best and do best."

Fisher, who is just the third secretary-treasurer manager of the company in 99 years, points to a long history of company support for community activities.

"We like to keep our giving in the area by supporting local teams and charities," he said.

Glengarry Farmers donates $1,000 yearly to three local secondary schools, replacing the $100 Ontario scholarships abandoned by the Ontario government.

The company sponsored golf tournament for Heart and Stroke, a curling bonspiel to raise money for the Cancer Society, prizes for events at the Highland Games, local fairs and for disabled athletes.

Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance spreads the risk of its business throughout a Farm Mutual Reinsurance Plan which is owned by 60 farm mutual insurance companies across Canada. The plan provides a financial cushion when disaster strikes one section of the country.

Glengarry Farmers hired a loss prevention officer who visits policy holders to advise on fire hazards around houses, barns and business. Woodstove fires used to be one of the company's biggest headaches. But losses are down from $3 million in claims from woodstove related fires from 1984 to '90, to just $1/2 million in the last three years.

Biggest liability claims still come from road accidents to farm machinery, and fire and wind account for the largest property damage claims.

The Battle of Glengarry

Kathy Van Loon of Glengarry tries to get the ball under control as Paul Owen of Char-Lan moves in. The players were taking part in Saturday's Glengarry News Centennial Challenge, an exhibition game which features present and former students from the county's two high schools. Char-Lan won the game 3-1. See inside for full story.

Agnes Condie was a varsity star at Queen's University

(The following is the fifth and final installment in our series of features on the 1994 Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame inductees. The Hall of Fame induction dinner will be held in Alexandria on Aug. 31)

The calling card for many Hall of Fame calibre athletes is their expert proficiency and success in one particular sport.

For others, the claim to fame is adeptness at several sporting activities.

Agnes Condie-McArthur, on the other hand, fulfilled both criteria and accordingly, she will be inducted into the Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame next Wednesday night.

Agnes (Aggie) Condie was born in Bainsville in 1898. Her reputation as an all-round athlete began at Williamstown High School, from which she graduated in 1916.

Condie participated in such varied sports as basketball and the needle race while attending WHS, and excelled at all her athletic endeavors.

While girls and women of later generations would be scorned for their involvement in athletics, women's sports were surprisingly popular in the early 20th century.

For example, many people believe women's ice hockey to be a fairly recent innovation. In actual fact, women have been playing hockey for almost as long as the sport has existed.

Women's hockey was a varsity sport at the time Condie attended university, and she played left wing for the Queen's team.

Condie also played field hockey and basketball while at Queen's and she helped the Kingston school win championships in both sports.

Queen's won the field hockey crown in both 1917-18 and in 1918-19 and the basketball title in 1919-20. She was also captain and president of the field hockey team in 1919-20.

Condie graduated from Queen's in 1920 (along with fellow WHS alums Beryl Mowat, Edith Sangster and Margaret Cattanach) and the school yearbook from that year contains the following comments about Bainsville's great all-round athlete:

"Agnes is essentially an outdoor girl, interested in sports. She played on the Queen's Junior Basketball team and on the year championship team in 1920, and was the strong left wing on the ice-hockey team. But especially in ground (field) hockey did Agnes excel... Not only was Agnes known in the field of sport, but also on Y.W. (Young Women's) executives. As treasurer and convener of extension work, Agnes ably displayed her Scotch trustworthiness. Also her naturalness and straightforwardness won her many firm friends..."

Now aged 96 and living in Cornwall, Condie-McArthur is expected to attend next week's induction dinner.

The Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame will welcome Agnes Condie-McArthur as a member on Aug. 31.

At the head of the class again

Jake at Work proves to be a handful for Marc's Canteen in final

With students set to return to classes, let's use a school analogy to describe the current title run of Alexandria Men's Ball Hockey League club Marc's Canteen.

With three consecutive championships to its credit (four if you count one title when the team was still known as Roy's Express), Marc's Canteen has consistently been at the head of the class in recent years.

More often than not, Marc's has breezed through all tests and homework assignments before acing the final exam.

But not this year.

Marc's was able to get through the classes without too many difficulties, but the final exam - prepared by Jacques Massie and his Jake at Work crew members - was a killer.

The Canteen was finally able to pull off a pass in four games, but this was a skin-of-the-teeth job all the way.

For one thing, Marc's did not sweep the final series, as has been the case the previous three years. Jake forced a fourth game in the best-of-five affair with a 6-2 win in Game Three on Tuesday.

But this series was much closer than a three games to one margin would indicate. All three of Marc's wins in the series were one-goal nail-biters, including Wednesday's championship-clinching 2-1 victory in Game Four.

Kennedy MacDonald set up Leonard Seguin for Canteen's first goal and scored the game-winner on the power-play early in the third period. Stephane Landriault accounted for the only Jake at Work goal.

Jake's only win in the series came on Tuesday as Blake Hambleton scored twice assisted on two other goals.

Luc Francoeur, Serge Bellefeuille, Norm Decoste and Roch Sabourin each scored once. Sabourin also had two assists.

Jean Lauzon and Leo Seguin scored for Marc's.

Farley rallies to even "B" series

After falling behind 2-0 in the best-of-five consolation final, Farley Windows forced a fifth and deciding game with a pair of victories last week.

The series was decided last night at the Billy Gebbie Arena.

In Game Three on Tuesday, Farley cruised to a 7-3 win as Mario Dumont scored three goals.

Albert Derouchie, Randy Cousineau, Ray Robinson and Richard Deschamps each scored once. Stephane Lavigne, Roger Carriere and Alain Boisvenue replied for Auto Glass.

Farley edged Auto Glass 3-2 in Game Four on Wednesday as Mario Dumont scored twice and Pete Sarault netted the eventual game-winner.

Steve Poirier accounted for both Auto Glass goals.

Alexandria teams win GSL titles

By Wendi Lawson and J.L. Lefebvre
Sports reporters

Alexandria A Beckers and Alexandria B M and D Sports were the winners at the Glengarry Soccer League sprite-junior championship day in Lochiel on Aug. 13.

Alexandria A won the sprite boys' title with a 2-1 win over Alexandria C Shepherd Motors in the final.

Matthew Lalonde and Francois Lavigne scored for the A's while Tim Owens replied for the C's.

Meanwhile, Alexandria B took the junior girls' crown by downing Laggan 3-1.

Both Alexandria B and Laggan used shutout victories to advance to the championship game.

The B's edged Alexandria C Legion Branch 423 1-0 on a goal by Leanne Duval while Laggan blanked Lancaster Township 3-0 on goals by Loni MacSweyn, Stephanie Marriott and Emily Nickerson.

In preliminary junior division games, it was Alexandria B 4 Lancaster Township 0, Alexandria C 2 Alexandria A Royal Bank 0, Laggan 1 Alexandria A 0 and Alexandria C 2 Lancaster Township 1.

In the sprite boys' semifinals, Alexandria C defeated Glen Sandfield 4-2 while Alexandria A shut out Alexandria B Marleau Garage 4-0.

Patrick Decoste had three goals in the C's win while Tim Owens had a single. Jason Van den Oetelaar and Michel Diotte tallied for Glen Sandfield.

In Alexandria A's win, Cameron Nixon netted a pair of goals while Mickie Oetelaar and Matthew Lalonde each scored once.

Here are the rest of the results in the sprite playoff tournament:

Alexandria C 2 Laggan 0, Glen Sandfield 3 Lancaster Township 2, Alexandria A 3 Glen Robertson 0, Alexandria B 6 Greenfield 5 (penalty shots).

Alexandria C 3 Lancaster Township 1, Glen Sandfield 2 Laggan 0, Alexandria A 1 Alexandria B 0, Greenfield 11 Glen Robertson 0.

Greenfield and Glen Nevis to meet again

Stop us if you've heard this one before...

Glen Nevis and Greenfield will fight it out for the Glengarry Soccer League men's division championship, starting tonight in Greenfield.

The same two teams met in last year's final - Greenfield won three games to one - but there are several key differences this time around.

For one thing, Greenfield is hurting, both literally and figuratively.

Standout defender Phil Lewis is on the limp, and it is uncertain how much or how well he will be able to play in the finals.

Also, forward Robert Wensink - who was essentially the difference between the two clubs last year - is still on the suspended list and would only be eligible to return for a fifth game, assuming the series goes that far.

Another major change is the site of the series. The Marauders will continue to play their home games at good old Mosquito Park, but Glen Nevis has elected to play in Lochiel instead of North Lancaster.

Glen Nevis was 0-2 at home in last year's final, and the general feeling among Glen Nevis players is that the team is not well suited for North Lancaster's cozy dimensions.

Finally, the Marauders have a new man between the pipes this time around.

While Alex Munro and Johnny Charlebois split net duties in the 1993 final, David Wensink will be guarding the Marauders' net this year.

Greenfield ousts Pine Grove

One of the reasons that Greenfield can't be taken lightly in its bid to repeat as champions is the effective manner in which the Marauders have dealt with adversity.

After losing leading scorer Robert Wensink partway through the season, other players stepped up and assumed the offensive load.

Those players were very much in evidence as Greenfield eliminated Pine Grove two games to none in the semifinals.

The Marauders won Game One 6-1 as Jeff MacLean and Rodney MacKillican each scored twice and Benny Phillips and William Keurentjes added singles.

Innes Fraser scored for Pine Grove.

Greenfield wrapped up the series with a 2-1 win in Game Two as Jeff MacLean and Benny Phillips each scored once. Steven MacIntosh replied for Pine Grove.

Glen Nevis had a little trickier path to the finals, but they also pulled off a semifinal sweep.

Brendan MacDonald scored twice to help Glen Nevis overcome a 2-0 deficit and beat the Stars 4-2 in Game Two on Monday.

Glen Campbell scored the game-winner with about five minutes left in the game while Sheldon McDougall also scored for Glen Nevis.

Darrell Hay and Alain Decoste scored for the Stars.

Glen Nevis' 2-1 win in Game One was also a come-from-behind effort as Bobby Bowles and Chris McBean scored in the second half to overcome a Jeff Lowe goal.

Kirk Hill tops Glengarry

By Wendi Lawson
Sports reporter

Kirk Hill defeated Glengarry 3-1 to capture the Challenge Cup in Glengarry Soccer League old-timers' division action on Aug. 11.

Millan MacPherson, Mark McDougall and Billy McBean scored for Kirk Hill. Hugh MacMaster scored the lone goal for Glengarry.

On Aug. 8, Kirk Hill beat Glen Nevis 3-2. Gordon MacPherson, Millan MacPherson and Marc McCormick each scored once. Luc Poirier and Mike Cooney found the back of the net for Glen Nevis.

Meanwhile, Glengarry dumped Dunvegan 7-3. Al MacDonell led Glengarry with four goals. Denis Carr had two and Dan Zoppas had one. Jim Graham, Bill Shields and Don Kannon replied for Dunvegan.

Sports nuggets

Kemp completes Dream season

Liam Kemp is the winner of the 1994 Atlantic Hotel-Glengarry News GSL Dream Team contest.

Kemp, a member of the Pine Grove men's team, finished the season with a total of 187 points, two better than runner-up Tania McClements. Heather Campbell, Glen Campbell and Todd McDonell finished in a three-way tie for third place with 183 points.

Jamie MacDonald won the expert panel with 177 points, three more than partner Richard Willard.

For the record, the members of Kemp's winning team were Bonnie (Laggan) MacLeod, Colleen Poirier, Wendi Lawson, Rachel Denner, Alyson Graham, Cynthia Wilson, Katharine MacLachlan, Glen Campbell, Glen McMillan, Scott McIntosh, Brian Cameron, Alain Decoste, Campbell MacLeod and Jeff MacLean.

Kingston team to take on all-stars

A first-division women's soccer team from Kingston will be in Lochiel this Saturday at 2 p.m. to take on a team of Glengarry Soccer League women's division selects.

The composition of the GSL team was uncertain at press time, but players from each of the division's seven teams have been asked to take part.

Meanwhile, three Kingston players - Erin, Leslie and Kristin Lawlor - have a Glengarry connection. Their grandmother is Bessie MacLennan of Glen Sandfield.

Blazer-Glens move into second place

The Cornwall Blazer-Glens have used a four-game winning streak to climb into second place in the boys' under-19 division of the Ottawa-Carleton Soccer League.

The team's victories have included decisions over Smiths Falls (5-1), Kanata (11-3), Gloucester (10-1) and Prescott (2-0 by default).

Garry Benson - the league's top scorer - has led the way during the winning streak, netting a total of 11 goals.

Steven St.Denis and Jason Poirier have each scored four times, Eric Dagg and Shawn Montroy have scored twice while Daniel Steiche, Brennan Cameron and Eric Lavigne had single goals.

The Blazer-Glens are now 8-2-1 on the season.

Rebels hit the links on Sunday

The Char-Lan Jr. B Rebels hockey club will be holding a golf day at the Heritage course in South Lancaster this Sunday.

Past and present players as well as club officials and supporters are invited to attend. For more information, contact Barry Gordon at 347-7408, John Chafee at 347-3650 or Randy Larocque at 347-3806.

Junior club champions crowned

Joel Michaud and Marie-Andree Ouimet are the junior champions at the Glengarry Golf and Country Club.

Michaud shot a 79 to win the boys' title while Ouimet fired an 84 to take the girls' championship. In the low net category, Marc-Andre Miron (-9) and Beth Baxter (-2) were the winners.

Other winners were Denis Levert (boys' "A" class), Sylvain Campeau (boys' "B" class), David Leblanc (boys' "C" class), Lynn Wallace (girls' "B" class) and Tania Hurtubise (girls' "C" class).

Nothing was lackin' for Laggan this time

Defending champions steamrolled in opener

Dunvegan players and fans were hoping that Game One of the Glengarry Soccer League women's division final would be the first step towards a successful title defence.

Instead, what they got was Blue Monday.

Whether it's due to a desire to avenge the humiliation of last year's sweep at the hands of Dunvegan or simply a case of being better prepared than this time 12 months ago, Laggan has come storming out of the gate for the 1994 final.

Laggan jumped out to a 5-0 first-half lead en route to a 6-1 win in the first game of a best-of-five rematch of last year's championship series.

Dunvegan was without two key players for the game - Rachel Denner and Linda Carriere - but the absence of two forwards can't explain what took place in Lochiel on Monday.

Dunvegan looked lifeless while Laggan looked like a team that is desperate to recapture the championship trophy.

Bonnie MacLeod scored the first two goals of the game and then completed her hat trick just before half-time after Wendi Lawson and Tracy MacMillan had scored to extend Laggan's lead.

Carol MacLeod scored early in the first half to make it 6-0 Laggan before Dunvegan finally got on the scoreboard.

On a night that was capital-U ugly for the Big Blue, it's appropriate that the team's only goal was anything but a masterpiece as Alyson Graham's corner kick rolled inches over the line after bouncing off a Laggan defender.

It was that kind of night for the defending champs.

Bees frustrated again

While Dunvegan looked like rookies on Monday, the team played the role of cool defending champs to perfection last Friday.

Already up 1-0 in the best-of-three semifinal series against Alexandria "B", Dunvegan overcame deficits of 2-0 and 3-2 to take a 5-3 win and eliminate the Bees.

Rachel Denner scored her second hat trick of the series for Dunvegan while Alyson Graham contributed a pair of goals.

Katharine MacLachlan - with two goals - and Julie MacDonald scored for the Bees.

In Game One, Denner's three goals led Dunvegan to a 4-1 win.

Lyne Trottier also scored for the winners while Kelly Lavigueur replied for Alexandria.

Meanwhile, Laggan knocked out Glen Sandfield with consecutive shutout wins.

Bonnie MacLeod had three goals and Wendi Lawson had a pair as Laggan won Game One 7-0. Carol MacLeod and Sue Stewart chipped in with singles.

Laggan wrapped up the series with a 2-0 win on Friday as Bonnie MacLeod and Carol MacLeod each scored once.

Express routs all-stars

League champions Seaway Express defeated the Alexandria Women's Ball Hockey League all-stars 6-0 on Monday to bring the curtain down on the 1994 season.

Gino Lalonde, Carole Blais, Debbie Nadon, Krista Casselman, Donna MacGregor and Joanne Tessier each scored once for the Express, which won its third consecutive league title by sweeping Bob's Hotel earlier this month.

Last Thursday, the "B" consolation final came to an end as Maxville won the fifth and deciding game over Tapis Richard Ranger Carpet 2-1 in five overtime periods.

Carol McDonald scored her second goal of the game to seal Maxville's win. Rachel Denner scored for Tapis.

Denner was the only scorer as Tapis won Game Four 1-0 to force a fifth game. Maxville won Game Three 1-0 on a Carol McDonald goal.

Char-Lan retains Challenge Trophy

Benson scores two goals as Crusaders top Glengarry in annual grudge match

The Glengarry News Centennial Challenge Trophy will reside in South Glengarry for at least one more year.

The Char-Lan Crusaders retained the trophy - which goes to the winner of an annual soccer grudge match between current and former players from the county's two high schools - with a 3-1 victory over the Glengarry Gaels at Alexandria's Glengarry Sports Palace field on Saturday.

Saturday's game was the third annual edition of the Centennial Challenge, and Char-Lan now leads the series 2-1.

Garry Benson led the Crusaders in this year's game, scoring late in the first half and early in the second half to give Char-Lan a 2-0 lead.

Ben Pregent scored on a penalty shot a few minutes later to put the Crusaders three goals ahead.

The rest of the story was the goaltending of Terry O'Farrell, who was playing in his first soccer game since the 1992 boys' high school season.

O'Farrell kept the Gaels off the scoreboard until the last minute of play when Bonnie MacLeod scored to spoil the Char-Lan keeper's shutout bid.

Challenge notes: The most valuable players for Saturday's game were Benson and Michelle Owen for the Crusaders and MacLeod and Daniel Steiche for the Gaels...Saturday's game featured a pair of Centennial Challenge firsts, including the first father-daughter tandem (the Crusaders' Paul and Michelle Owen) and the first husband-and-wife combo (Glengarry's Glen and Ann McMillan)...Call it a 1-1 draw in the personal battle between coaches Rudi Payer (Char-Lan) and Gerry Simpson). Payer emerged victorious over his North Glengarry rival on Saturday, but Simpson wins out in the crystal-ball gazing department. Simpson correctly predicted Brazil's win at this summer's World Cup tournament. Payer's pick was Germany.

Sprite champions

Laggan clinches peewee title with shutout victory

Andrew MacDonald and Kurt MacSweyn scored as Laggan claimed the Glengarry Soccer League's peewee division title with a 2-0 win over Glen Sandfield on Monday.

Laggan wins the four-point series 4-2.

The series win was a comeback effort for Laggan as Glen Sandfield won the opening game 3-2.

Steven Fanning, Joel Bourgault and Jordan MacKinnon scored for Glen Sandfield while Andrew MacDonald and Matthew Campbell had the Laggan goals.

Laggan won Game Two 2-1 as Daniel Laferriere and Bruce Libbos each scored once. Kevin Libbos scored for Glen Sandfield.

In the semifinal series, Glen Sandfield ousted Glen Robertson five points to one while Laggan swept Alexandria 4-0.

Laggan reaches bantam final

The Laggan bantams had a quick and easy route to the finals, dispatching Greenfield in the semifinals with a pair of shutout wins.

Laggan won Game One 6-0 as Craig Calvank had a deuce and Jason Poll, Ian Robertson, Jason Nixon and Hamish Cunning added singles.

In Game Two, Dean MacGillivray scored twice as Laggan won 4-0.

Ian Robertson and Jason Nixon had solo markers.

Laggan will play either Alexandria and Char-Lan in the finals.

The semifinal series between those two clubs was tied at two points apiece after Alexandria took a 4-1 win on Friday.

Mike Libbos scored twice for the winners while single goals were added by Greg Lalonde and Jason Poirier. Kevin O'Farrell had both Char-Lan goals.

Char-Lan won Game One 1-0 on a Steven Alguire goal.

Lochiel leads juvenile final

Lochiel is one win away from clinching the juvenile boys' division title after winning Game One of the best-of-three final 2-0 over Alexandria.

Scott McPherson had both goals for Lochiel.

Lochiel advanced to the championship series with a 5-1 win over Kenyon in a sudden-death semifinal game.

Hamish Cunning scored twice while single goals went to Scott McPherson, Jason Libbos and Eric Hagen.

Chad McRae scored for Kenyon.

The soccer finals... so what else is new?

It's been lonely at the top for Laggan, Glen Nevis, Dunvegan and Greenfield

By J.L. Lefebvre
Sports editor

Whoever coined the expression "The more things change, the more they stay the same," might have had the Glengarry Soccer League in mind.

After 105 regular-season and eight playoff games, both the men and women's divisions are exactly where they were 12 months ago - with Dunvegan and Laggan fighting it out for the women's title and Glen Nevis and Greenfield battling for the men's crown.

The finals appearances continue a long period of dominance by this quartet of senior teams.

Laggan and Glen Nevis are both making their fifth consecutive finals appearances and have won the GSL championship three times in the past four years.

No matter who emerges as the winner in the next week or so, Glen Nevis and Greenfield will have combined to win eight of the last 10 men's titles. Dunvegan and Laggan will have won a similar number of women's championships.

Quick now, who are the only other teams to have gone all the way in the past decade? If you said the Glen Sandfield women in 1988, the Alexandria "A" women in 1985, the Alexandria men in 1989 and the Glengarry Stars (men) in 1988, you are absolutely correct.

Since that time, it's been lonely at the top for the frontrunners.

Alexandria "B" has combined with Laggan and Dunvegan to form the "Big Three" in regular season play in the women's division, but despite three finals appearances and five consecutive trips to the post-season, the Bees have yet to sip champagne from the big trophy.

Greenfield - the last women's team outside the Big Three to make a finals appearance - isn't even around anymore. Glen Sandfield has been respectable in recent years, but the Green Machine has failed to make the next big step into the league elite.

And how long will it be before Alexandria "A", Maxville or Glen Nevis can rise up to championship calibre?

It's the same story in the men's division.

The Stars are the men's answer to the Bees - a good-looking team on paper that just hasn't been able to put it all together. The Drillers simply don't score enough to keep up with the division powerhouses while Pine Grove has been set back by a series of defections and injuries in the past few years.

Meanwhile, Glen Sandfield and McCrimmon continue the long and difficult climb towards respectability.

Laggan and Lancaster Township claim GSL division championships

Laggan wrapped up the Glengarry Soccer League's bantam girls' division title on Saturday with a 3-0 win over Glen Sandfield Gold.

Laggan sweeps the four-point championship series 4-0.

Tammy MacSweyn, Elizabeth MacIntosh and Jessica MacLeod each scored once for Laggan.

In the series opener, Tammy MacSweyn scored and Elysa Keyes recorded the shutout in a 1-0 Laggan win.

Both Laggan and Glen Sandfield Gold reached the final with 2-1 victories in the third games of semifinal series.

Tammy MacSweyn and Jessica MacLeod scored as Laggan eliminated defending champions Glen Sandfield Green. Chantal Duchesne accounted for the only Green goal.

Meanwhile, Anik Seguin and Gwen Tuppert scored as Gold edged Char-Lan 2-1 in Game Three to take the series five points to one.

Kara MacDonald scored the lone Char-Lan goal.

Lancaster Township sweeps

Lancaster Township also claimed a GSL title in a two-game sweep last week, clinching the intermediate division final 4-0 over Glen Sandfield.

Lancaster wrapped up the series with a 3-1 victory last Thursday as Mandy Duval netted a pair of goals and Tiffany Smith added a single.

Kyla Burwash scored for Glen Sandfield.

In Game One, Krissi MacDonald accounted for the game's only goal as Lancaster won 1-0.

In the semifinals, Lancaster knocked off Laggan four points to two while Glen Sandfield swept Glen Robertson in two straight games.

South surprises Dunvegan

Strange things can happen in a one-game, winner-takes-all playoff game. Just ask the Dunvegan juvenile girls.

Dunvegan was a heavy favorite to knock off Glengarry South in a sudden-death semifinal game and meet Lochiel in the final, but Janna Palmer's hat trick led the South to a 4-2 upset win.

Sophie Levert also scored for the South while Erin Graham and Shari McIntosh replied with single goals for Dunvegan.

The best-of-three final between South and Lochiel got under way last night.

Moulding and M&D Sports advance to softball semifinals

Tapis Richard Ranger Carpet will face Alexandria Moulding while Champions Roadhouse take on M and D Sports when the Alexandria Men's Softball League semifinals get under way tomorrow.

Tapis and Champions - who had first-round byes - learned the identity of their semifinal opponents as the best-of-three opening round wrapped up on Monday night at Island Park.

Moulding squeaked past Caisse Populaire 14-13 to take the series two games to one.

The winning run was scored in the bottom of the seventh inning when Richard Picard walked with the bases loaded.

Andre Seguin hit a three-run homer for the winners and Richard Hamelin also drove in three runs.

Mike Seguin and Alain Borris each had a homer and four RBIs for Caisse Pop.

Meanwhile, M and D eliminated BMR-Menard Lumber with a 15-14 victory in the third and deciding game.

M and D pushed across two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to win the contest.

Marc-Andre Prieur had two home runs and four RBIs to lead M and D while Robert Quesnel had one longball.

Michel Menard had a homer and four RBIs for BMR.

Scoring came easily for both teams throughout the series as BMR won Game One 18-15 and M and D took Game Two 24-14.

In Game One, BMR got a homer and six RBIs from Michel Menard and a homer and four RBIs from Michel Gauthier. M and D had six homers including two by Marc-Andre Prieur and one each from Robert Quesnel, Michel Cuerrier, Bob Humenick and Yves Vachon.

M and D was swinging for the fences again in Game Two, hitting four longballs in a lopsided win.

Michel Cuerrier, Bob Humenick, Yves Vachon and Kevin Rooney all went deep for the winners. Rooney drove in eight runs on the evening.

Michel Menard homered for BMR.

Moulding's semifinal series win was also a comeback effort as Caisse Pop won Game One 14-11.

Robert Decoste drove in three runs for the Caisse while Paul Hurtubise had two RBIs. Vincent Rines drove in four runs for Moulding.

Moulding bounced back for a 13-11 win in Game Two. Marc Hurtubise and Andre Seguin each hit a homer for Moulding.

Robert Decoste - with two homers and five RBIs - and Paul Hurtubise - with a three-run blast - accounted for eight of the 11 Caisse runs.

Women's softball playoffs under way

The Alexandria Women's Softball League playoffs were scheduled to begin last night with a pair of semifinal games.

Regular-season champions Caisse Populaire is squaring off against Roy's Pontiac-Buick-Cadillac in one best-of-three series while BMR-Menard Lumber is taking Hawkesbury Chimney Sweeps in the other.

The winners will meet in a best-of-five championship series.

Meanwhile, the bottom three clubs in the league - M and D Sports, Champions Roadhouse and Tapis Richard Ranger Carpet - will begin the consolation playoffs with a round-robin tournament.

In the final game of the regular season - played last Tuesday at Alexandria Island Park - Roy's blasted M and D 12-4 as Connie Smith drove in three runs for the winners.

Cards Of Thanks

HOWES -- Doug and Connie wish to sincerely thank their family, friends and neighbors for their attendance at their recent wedding reception. Your kind wishes and beautiful gifts are deeply appreciated and will always be remembered. 34-1c

FRASER -- No words can express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for your kindness and support after the death of our son Kenzie Neil. Thank you for the floral arrangements, food brought to our home, sympathy cards and phone calls. A very special thank you to Rev. Allister Rose, the Munro & Morris Funeral Home and the Hawkesbury General Hospital. Your generosity and comforting words will always be remembered.
-- Neil, Joyce and family. 34-1p

McRAE-CRAIG -- Our sincere thanks to our family, friends and neighbors for organizing and attending our mixed party held on July 16th. Your kind efforts and best wishes are greatly appreciated and will be remembered always.
-- Sincerely, Kim and Rodney. 34-1p

THANK YOU to everyone who participated in the 200th anniversary celebration of Lochiel's Scottish settlement, July 22-24, from the Glengarry Clan MacLeod Society. You helped make it an event to remember. Special thanks to the performers in the Ceilidh program, the Glengarry Gaelic Choir and the Laggan Junior Choir and to members of the church choir, Pipe-Major MacKenzie and the Glengarry Pipe Band, and to the bands -- The Brigadoons, Celtica and Strings Attached -- for their renditions of the three songs composed especially for this occasion. Thank you also to those who donated items to the Silent Auction, and to our corporate sponsors: the Atlantic Hotel, Glengarry Fire Insurance, Glengarry Golf Club, Giant Tiger, Kelly's Bar, Marielle's Confectionary, Motard's Advertising Products, and Rob MacIntosh China. And thank you, Julia and Helen for judging the Tartan Teddy Contest. Many thanks -- Moran taing. 34-1c

CAMPBELL -- The family of the late Mrs. Melba Campbell wishes to express sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness at the time of her death; for visits, telephone calls, cards and letters and the donations to the several charities. A special thank you to Rev. Gordon Fresque, of Fort Coulounge, Mrs. Eileen Campbell, organist, the pallbearers, and the Morris and Munro Funeral Home. We also wish to acknowledge the exemplary care and kindness extended to her by the nursing staff at Maxville Manor during the years that she was a resident there.
– Sybil MacPhee and family.
34-1p

McCASKILL -- A sincere thank you to our friends, relatives and neighbors for making our 40th anniversary a landmark occasion for us to remember. Special thanks to Rev. Martin, John McKay, daughters Mary and Nancy. The 40th anniversary plaque presented by Maurice Montpetit on behalf of the Township of Lochiel will be a lasting tribute to the fact that we are proud that Glengarry is our home. Thanks to Sherron Terriah, Duncan MacDonald, Gerald MacGillis and Brian MacDonell and to all the "behind the scenes" organizers. Your tokens of remembrance, flowers, gifts and cards are deeply cherished. God bless each of you.
– Allan and Muriel McCaskill. 34-1p

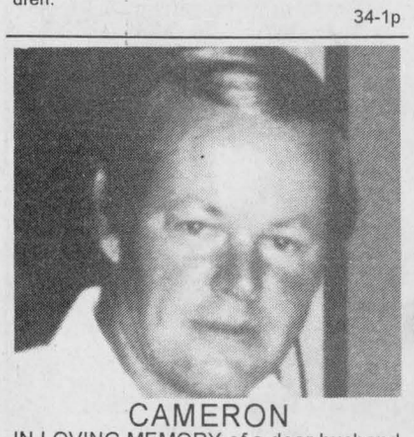
NEWTON -- Jeff and Evelyn and big brother Jonathan are thrilled to announce the arrival of Chirstopher Ray, Sunday, August 14, 1994, weighing 10 lbs. 2 ozs. at Hawkesbury General. Fourth grandchild for Ray and Pauline Newton of Vankleek Hill and seventh grandchild for Dorothy MacMillan of Laggan.

In Memoriam

GUINDON-JANSSEN, Johanna (Ann) -- In loving memory of a dear mother and oma who passed away on August 29, 1992.
Memories can bring happiness
When together we recall
Special moments shared as family
So treasured by us all.
Memories can bring sadness
With pain and sorrow too,
As we long for things to be the same
As when they were shared with you.
But the joys we shared together,
Are the memories we hold dear,
And the love and happiness you gave us,
Keep you forever near.
-- Sadly missed by your children and grandchildren.
34-1p



CAMERON
IN LOVING MEMORY of a dear husband, Billy, who accidentally died August 28, 1992.
No farewell was spoken, No time to say goodbye
You were gone before we knew it, And we'll always wonder why.
Our hearts still ache with sadness, secret tears still flow
What it meant to lose you,no one will ever know.
And if roses grow in heaven,please pick a bunch for us
Place them in our loved one's arms
And tell him they're from us
Sadly missed and always remembered, your wife Cheryle and sons Dean and Todd. 34-1p

In Memoriam

CAMERON -- In loving memory of my dearest son Billy who passed away on August 28, 1992.
Deep in our hearts
Your memory is kept,
To love and cherish
And never forget.
-- Lovingly remembered, Mom.
34-1p

CAMERON -- In loving memory of my dear and wonderful father Billy, who passed away accidently two years ago on August 28, 1992.
There's nothing so treasured
And nothing so rare,
As the love that a father
And daughter can share.
Through joy and laughter,
Through sorrow and tears,
They develop a closeness
That grows through the years.
This love that they share,
Doesn't needto be spoken,
It's a wonderful bond
That can never be broken.
They say time heals everything,
But we know this isn't so,
Because it hurts as much today,
As it did two years ago.
--All my love always, your only daughter, Lori.

O'CONNOR -- In loving and cherished memory of my dearest mother -- Mae, August 28,1991, father, Dan, June 9, 1972, sister Margaret, December 3, 1980.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart;
Time may wipe out certain things,
But this it wipes out never
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
-- Sadly missed and sweetly remembered by Calvin and Cecilia Lloyd and family and Kathleen Hamelin. 34-1p

PATTON -- In loving memory of a dear sister and aunt, Doreen, who passed away August 23, 1993.
-- Sadly missed and always remembered, Frances and family. 34-1p

LEROUX -- In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Lionel Leroux who passed away four years ago on August 23, 1990.
The month of August comes with regret,
It brings back memories we can't forget,
We watched you suffer, we heard you sigh,
And all we could do was stand by.
All through this time we suffered too,
For you never deserved what you went through,
Although we smile and seem carefree,
Nobody misses you more than we.
-- Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Winnie and children, Jeffrey and Karen, Tracey and grandchildren, Amanda, Shawn, Tiffany, and Brandyn. 34-1p

PLANNING ACT 1983
NOTICE OF THE PASSING OF ZONING BYLAW

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria passed bylaw No. Z35-94 on the 16th day of August 1994, under Section 34 of the Planning Act.
AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect of the bylaw by filing with the Clerk of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria not later than the 22nd day of September, 1994, a notice of appeal setting out the objections to the bylaw and the reasons in support of the objections.
THE PURPOSE of this bylaw is to amend comprehensive zoning bylaw No. 2046 by rezoning the vacant lands described as the easterly 150.0 feet more or less of Part 1, Plan 14R-3989 and Parts 5 and 6 Plan 14R-3989 in the Town of Alexandria, from Restricted Industrial M1, to Residential Second Density R2. The amendment will permit the existing vacant land to house a semi-detached development. The key map showing the location of the lands to which the bylaw applies, is attached. The complete bylaw is available for complete inspection in the Town Office during regular office hours.

Dated at the Town of Alexandria this 24th day of August 1994

Subject property being the easterly 150.0 feet more or less of Part 1, Plan 14R-3989 and Parts 5 and 6, Plan 14R-3989, in the Town of Alexandria.

THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH
CLASS ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT
FINNEY BRIDGE

The Township of Charlottenburgh is planning to proceed with the replacement of the Finney Bridge under Schedule B in accordance with the Class Environmental Assessment for Municipal road Projects. Studies indicate that the existing bridge is sub-standard with respect to geometry and structural adequacy. The proposed new bridge is a steel arch structure located approximately 100 metres upstream of the existing site.The estimated total project cost is $650,000.00. An application has been submitted for funding under the Canada/Ontario Infrastructure Program. Construction is scheduled for completion in 1995.
The Environmental Study Report (ESR) entitled "Update Report for Hydrology, Alternatives and Environmental Impact Study" has been completed and by this Notice is being placed in the public record for review.Subject to comments received as a result of this notice and the receipt of necessary approvals, the Township of Charlottenburgh intends to proceed with the construction of the project.
The ESR is available for review at:

The Township of Charlottenburgh
19687 William Street, P.O. Box 40
Williamstown, Ontario K0C 2J0
Monday - Friday: 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
Telephone: (613) 347-2444

Interested persons may provide written comment to the Township Administrator Clerk, within 30 calendar days from the date of this notice. If concerns regarding this project cannot be resolved in discussion with the Municipality, a person may request that the Minister of Environment and Energy "bump-up" this project to an individual environmental assessment. "Bump-up" requests must be received by the Minister at the address below within 30 calendar days of this Notice. A copy of the "bump-up" request shall be sent to the Township Administrator-Clerk. If there is no "bump-up" request received by September 19, 1994, the Finney Bridge Crossing will proceed to construction as outlined in the ESR.

Obituaries

Robert James McDonell

Robert J. McDonell passed away suddenly at his home in Ottawa, July 21, 1994.

He was the only child of the late John Kennedy McDonell and his wife Rosalie McDonell. He was born July 17, 1924 in Dearborn, Michigan. After his mother's death in 1934, he was raised by his great-aunt and great-uncle John Archie and Ella Kennedy, and his cousin Florence Kennedy. He was educated at Iona Academy.

He was a correspondent and later staffer of the Ottawa Farm Journal and Ottawa Journal from 1941 to 1954. From 1955 to 1959, he worked on the Seaway project at Cornwall and from 1959 to 1965 worked for the Public Affairs department of Ontario Hydro at the corporation's Toronto headquarters.

Joining the federal civil service in 1966, he worked as writer, editor and public affairs officer with various departments until his retirement from the Department of Regional Industrial Expansion in 1989.

Actively involved in community life in Glengarry and Ottawa, he was involved in the organization of the first Glengarry Highland Games, was a member of the St. Raphael's parish building committee, was active in the setting up of Mt. Carmel House at St. Raphael's and in the preservation of the St. Raphael's ruins. A former manager of the Glengarry Pipe Band, he was an active member and officer of Glengarry clubs in Ottawa and Toronto.

At the time of his death he was involved in several organizations helping the poor in Ottawa. He was president of the Our Lady of Fatima conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, director of the Britannia Woods Community Food Pantry, and a board member of West End Community Ventures and the West End Interfaith council.

In 1989, he was elected one of 16 Life Members of the National Press Club of Canada.

Robert is mourned by his wife of 40 years, Catherine (LaBine) McDonell; a daughter, Rosalie; four sons -- Jamie, John (Helen), Bryan (Clare), and Paul; and by three grandchildren -- Noah, Elizabeth and Alexandra.

A funeral mass was celebrated at St. Raphael's, July 25, by Monsignor Donald Bernard McDougald and the Reverend Bernard Cameron and Rory MacDonald. Pallbearers were Bruce Sova, Ewen McDonald (Farmer), Donald Cameron, Donald Alec MacMillan, Anthony LaBine and Bernard MacCulloch.

Frank Forcier

Frank Forcier died peacefully August 16, 1994 after a long battle with cancer. He was 60 years old.

Mr. Forcier moved from Montreal to North Lancaster in 1976.

He is survived by loving companion Claire Dupere and by children, Glenn (Lucie), Carolyn (Kevin), Fran (Terry), Darren (Diane), Wayne (Veronica) and Sharon.

Funeral services were conducted by Fr. R. Cameron at St. Wilibrord's Church in Verdun on August 19. Cremation followed.

Elaine (Lajoie) Lalonde

Elaine (Lajoie) Lalonde of RR1 Summerstown, died peacefully July 31, 1994 at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall. She was 58 years of age.

Born in Green Valley, Mrs. Lalonde was a daughter of the late Dan Lajoie and Aldea Poirier.

Mrs. Lalonde is survived by her husband, Claude Jr. Lalonde, her daughter Linda (Mrs. Donald Bourdon) and her son Gary (husband of Kathy Henderson). She is also survived by four grandchildren: Stephanie, Brandon and Cody Bourdon, and Lauren Lalonde, her sister Lucette (Mrs. Fernand Campeau) Dalhousie Sta., Que., her brothers Rene (husband of Claire, Aurele (husband of Rejeanne), and Jean (husband of Micheline), all of Alexandria, Hubert (husband of Shirley) of Dollard-des-Ormeaux, Que; also two sisters-in-law, Veronica, Alexandria, and Lucille Lajoie, Prebble, N.Y.

She was predeceased by three brothers: Rolland, Conrad and Roger.

She will also be missed by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's Church, Lancaster on August 3. Rev. Gerald Poirier officiated. Interment will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery at a later date.

Pallbearers were four godchildren, Robert Lajoie, Andre Campeau, Jack Lalonde and Danny Lalonde.

John Joseph Shago

John Joseph Shago died at Glengarry Memorial Hospital on July 31, 1994. He was 61.

A resident of Green Valley, John was a son of the late John Alex Shago and the late Margaret MacDonald.

Born in Glen Roy, in his early career John was employed during the building of the St. Lawrence International Seaway. He spent a number of years as an employee at Menard Construction in Green Valley. Later he was an agent with Metropolitan Life Insurance and a staff member at Glengarry Memorial Hospital. For the last 23 years he worked at Roy's Garage in Green Valley.

John was always interested in sports and was involved in a number of them. He played lacrosse for the Alexandria Maroons and the Green Valley Rockets - the team winning the Junior Championship in 1955. He was also a member of the Green Valley Rockets hockey game in the Border League Championship winners in 1948. At one time, John was a member of the Alexandria Curling Club and the Alexandria Lions Club. He was also a faithful member of St. Finnan's Parish.

Left to mourn his passing are his wife Louise (MacDonald), two sons and three daughters. They are: Jeffrey Shago (Kathy MacDonald) of Green Valley and John Gerard (friend Tanya Black) of Ottawa; Jean L. Shago of Green Valley, Janice McInnis (Jim) of Etobicoke and Joan Shago of Maxville. Also mourning the loss of a loving grandfather are eight grandchildren.

Surviving is a brother Donald (his wife Lorraine MacDonald) of North Bay, and sisters Helen (Mrs. Larry MacDonald) of St. Raphael's, Mary (Mrs. Milton MacDonald) of Lancaster and Jean Shago of Alexandria. John's godmother, Mary (MacDonald) Smith of R.R. #4, Alexandria, also mourns his loss.

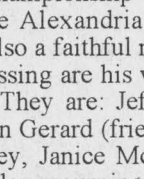
Mass of Christian burial was held at 2 p.m. at St. Finnan's Cathedral on August 3. Rev. Bernard Cameron officiated assisted by Deacon Donald Shago, brother of the deceased. Interment was in St. Finnan's cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were: Roger Roy, D. J. MacDonald, Hubert Carriere, Hugh Kennedy, Bruce Sova, Donnie Cameron.

Active bearers were 6 newphews: Brian, Murray, Barry, Brendan, Marvin MacDonald and Ian Shago.

Area woman joins order

St. Raphael's
Cathie MacDonald
525-1174



Ladies of St. Raphael's Parish gathered in the parish hall on Saturday afternoon to honor Julie Lamarche who has joined the religious order known as "Regnum Christi."

Founded by the Mexican priest Marcial Marciel, the order is both apostolic and contemplative and has branches on almost every continent.

The priests of the order are known as Legionaires and have set up their first location in Canada at Summerstown on the former "Cariboo Cameron" property.

The women of the order are known as The Consecrated Laity and like the priests, take the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience but are not known as "nuns" or "sisters" as are many comparative religious orders. The order intends to extend the female section into Canada in the near future.

The eldest daughter of Jacques and Bernice, Julie learned of the movement at a retreat at St. Francis Xavier University which she attended last year.

She became interested and spent her summer vacation in discernment at a retreat at the house of formation for the order in Rhode Island.

After spending a brief vacation with her parents and six brothers and sisters, the lovely young lady returned to Rhode Island on Monday where she will spend the next two weeks in formation.

St. Raphael's parishioners wish her every blessing and good fortune.

Super Sunday brings curtain down on minor soccer season

The Char-Lan Minor Soccer association crowned champions in all seven divisions at Super Sunday in Williamstown on Aug. 14.

Close scores were the order of the day as five games were decided by either one or two goals. Two games were decided by a tie-breaker.

Bantam division

Kent McDonell's second goal of the game in sudden-death overtime gave Nysten Renovation a 3-2 win over Char-Lan Grey in the bantam championship game.

Chad McIntosh also scored for the winners while Lee Klazinga and Jason Varrin connected for Grey.

In the semifinals (played Aug. 11), Nysten blanked Rudi Payer Sport 4-0 while Grey edged Char-Lan Purple 2-1.

Peewee division

Drew Thomson and Katie Cumming scored to lead Jack Delaney's to a 2-0 victory over Mac's Marina in the peewee final.

In the semis, JD's slipped by Emard Lumber 4-3 while Mac's downed MacEwen Fuels 3-1.

Mosquito division

Coca-Cola claimed the peewee division title with a 1-0 win over Source Wood.

Ryan Major scored the only goal of the game.

Coke had advanced to the final by beating Rudi's 3-1 in the semifinals. Source Wood edged Glenspring Farms 3-2 in the other semifinal.

Atom girls' division

Shootout goals by Kristie Hlusko and Venetia Bancroft gave Lancaster Optimist Purple a 3-1 win over L.O. Maroon in the atom girls' division championship game.

Regulation time had ended in a 1-1 tie as Tessa Esdale had scored for Purple and Katrina Payer had replied for Maroon.

In the semifinal round, Purple beat Orange 4-0 while Maroon doubled Yellow 4-2.

Atom boys' division

Rory Sandilands' three goals were the difference as Lancaster Optimist Grey defeated L.O. Blue 5-2 in the atom boys' final.

William deWit and Steven Lucas also scored for the winners while Blue got goals from Kurtis Thomson and Bradley Flipsen.

Grey earned a berth in the finals by beating Green 4-1 on Aug. 11. Meanwhile, Blue edged MacEwen Fuels 5-4 in sudden-death overtime.

Tyke divisions

Oxley Insurance and Char-Lan won tyke division championships with shutout wins on Super Sunday.

Oxley took the regular tyke title with a 4-0 win over Rudi Payer Sport while Char-Lan won the junior tyke crown by edging Rudi's 1-0.

In the tyke semifinals, Oxley outscored Munro Agromart 6-3 while Rudi's shaded Lancaster Optimist 1-0.

The junior tyke semifinal games saw Char-Lan down MacDougall Homes 2-1 and Rudi's breeze by Emard Lumber 5-1.

Outgoing prez, top players honored at awards ceremony

The most valuable players, the top defenders and outgoing president Henry Flipsen were honored at the Char-Lan Minor Soccer award presentations at the conclusion of Super Sunday.

Flipsen received the Hall of Fame Award for outstanding contributions to Char-Lan Minor Soccer.

It was a good day all around for the Flipsen family as Henry's son Bradley was named the MVP of the atom boys' division. Melanie Sommers was the atom girls' MVP.

Other most valuable player awards went to Ryan Major and Vanessa Van Sleeuwen (mosquito division), Philip Hadzocos, Chris McIntyre and Karine Veillette (peewee division) and Derek Wereley and Shonna Atchison (bantam division).

Best defender honors went to Alain Lalonde and Emmaly McCorkell (atom divisions), Kyle Fraser and Kaylee Fraser (mosquito division), Derek Wagar and Allisson Currier (peewee division) and Jason Groleau and Karen MacGregor (bantam division).

Sports hall induction is Aug. 31

The Glengarry Sports Hall of Fame will officially induct five new members at the 1994 induction dinner next Wednesday night at the Billy Gebbie Arena in Alexandria.

This year's inductees include Ronnie MacLachlan, Colin Chisholm, Blair MacDonald, Agnes Condie-McArthur and the 1926 Kirk Hill soccer team.

The guest speaker at this year's dinner will be Canadian Football League commissioner Larry Smith. Tickets for the evening are available at various businesses in Glengarry or from Hall of Fame board members.

Reaping their just rewards

Caring for Life

By Dr. George McKiel

Phlebitis - Are you at Risk?

Phle means vein, and if you want a Royal disease this phlebitis is it. King George V died of phlebitis, it's an inflamation of a vein, usually in the leg. Dentists, or sales ladies spending long hours standing but not moving around very much, or hospital patients who are inactive, people who are overweight, pregnant moms are vulnerable, women who have been taking oral contraceptives, people with varicose veins* are all high risk candidates for phlebitis.

*Varicose veins, especially in the legs, occurs when the veins lose their elasticity, becoming stretched and flabby. The accumulated blood creates a punched-out area in the vein and fluid is forced out into the surrounding area. This happens mostly with veins close to the surface as the deeper ones are not as vulnerable, surrounding skeletal muscles prevent overstretching.

Varicosity should be treated kindly by using compress-stockings, taking frequent periods of rest with elevation of the legs. If severe your Dr may inject a chemical to collapse the vein or get a surgeon to strip the vein portion that is varicosed.

Roly Wensley, a retired McGill professor, has recently been diagnosed for phlebitis and this fits the pattern for he lives a sedentary life, reading and sitting a great deal, not walking regularly and being somewhat on the heavy side.

Phlebitis is basically inflamed veins and can be detected by your examining nurse or Dr when you are supine (lying down). By squeezing the calf muscle (technically called the gastrocnemius muscle) toward the front of your leg and pushing it against the tibia or shin bone. By sharply flexing the foot, the examiner may also elicit tenderness if phlebitis is present. The medics call this a positive Homan's sign. You will also get phlebitis pain behind the knee when the ankle is flexed with the knee also slightly bent.

Like most illnesses, phlebitis is easier to avoid than to have to cope with its pain and discomfort. And the best advice is to keep in mind that veins, though they return the blood to the heart, are unable to assist the recirculation like the arteries whose thicker muscular walls squeeze the blood along. This means you should raise your legs whenever the opportunity presents itself, if sitting behind a desk put your feet up atop the desk occasionally (the mark of an informed executive!). Another avoidance ploy is to move around for a lot of sitting, or worse, standing still, is bad. If the inflamation has reached the painful stage try a heat pad for 15 mins for that soothes and aids circulation. It's likely that aspirin, or ibuprofen, will reduce the pain, perhaps the inflamation.

Phlebitis will probably cure itself within the week especially if you follow the above avoidance tips. However, you should make sure that deep veins are not affected. Should you get a fever it's advisable to check with your Dr immediately. A really serious complication with phlebitis is is the potential for developing a blod clot in the inflamed vein. The clot could then break free, travel to the lungs and be fatal. The Dr can diagnose such a clot when he suspects it, with ultrasound and bring it under control with a blood thinner such as Coumadin or Warfarin. These blood thinners do not dissolve the clot but they do preclude new clots from forming. The body will eventually absorb the clot.

Glengarry farmers should watch for armyworms

By Gilles Quesnel,
Soil and crop advisor, SD&G

Glengarry farmers and gardeners should be on the lookout for armyworms.

Armyworms are brown or dark green caterpillars with five stripes running the length of their back. These caterpillars eat oats, corn, barley, quack grass, orchard grass, foxtail, timothy, wheat and brome grass in that order of preference. Alfalfa, clovers and beans are usually not eaten with the exception of new seedings under cereals in heavily infested fields.

Armyworms usually appear in crops between the first and third week of July. However, this year in eastern Ontario we seem to have more localized armyworm infestations than usual indicating that growers should check their fields for early signs of damage.

The adult armyworm moths deposit their eggs on grasses and small grains. Therefore when checking for armyworms, cereal fields and grassy corn fields including fields where the grasses were killed late post emerged or edges of fields next to grassy fence rows should be the first fields to check for infestations.

The first sign of damage will be a few gouges in the edges of the leaves. In severe cases leaves may be completely eaten. In cereals, especially oats, the seeds may be clipped or stripped from the head. The best time to look for the caterpillars is in the evening or early morning when they are up on the plants feeding.

Once an armyworm infestation has been found the following should be determined: the extent of the infestation — whether it is only the edge of the field, spots in the field or the entire field; the number of caterpillars per square foot, (30 square cm) checking under clumps of grass or clods of soil; the average size of the caterpillar; crop maturity and amount of damage.

If the crop foliage is heavily notched and five or six caterpillars of less than 1.5 inches long are present per square foot, an insecticide should be applied to prevent further crop damage.

Annual McCrimmon WI social really packed them in again

Glen Sandfield
by Lorna Chapman
874-2408

There will be no worship services at Glen Sandfield United and East Hawkesbury United churches on Sunday, Aug. 28. On Sunday, Sept. 4 service in East Hawkesbury will be at the regular time of 11:15 a.m. and at 8 p.m. Glen Sandfield will be having a hymn-sing. Everyone is most welcome to attend and join in singing their favorite hymns, and listening to the special music by the choir and guest soloist Brian McDonnell.

* * *

McCrimmon WI members presented their annual social evening at Laggan school on Aug. 18 to a well-filled hall.

The unexpectedly-large crowd was most enthusiastic in their responses to the performers.

The varied program was ably "M.C'd" by secretary Betty McDonald, who led the program smoothly and ably that evening.

There were dancers, always great favorites and this year several of the McCulloch dancers entertained for the first time for McCrimmon WI.

Roseanne Kerr and Meghan MacPherson sang, accompanied by Pat Kerr on the flute in a most sweet and haunting rendition of Come By the Hills, and the Rankin favorite I'll Tell my Ma, sung without accompaniment.

It is nice to hear two clear, true melodic young voices that blend so well together, as did these two singers.

Violinists are always in demand in this area and this evening featured four of the best known fiddlers hereabouts.

Announced as "Local Violinists", D. J. McPhee, Duncan McDonald, Ian MacLeod and for the last half with Gerald McGillis played tunes that kept their audience's toes tapping.

McGillis had been to Cornwall earlier on to sing with the Glengarry Gaelic Choir which was performing at the bandshell.

We will have another area fiddler on whom we can call in Kenton McBean, a young lad who is really interested in continuing his playing.

He played a number for the delighted audience and received a well deserved hearty round of applause.

Nancy Campbell and Lorna Chapman provided the comedy relief spot with their rendition of There's a Hole in the Bucket which they lip synched to a tape. Never have they played to a more appreciative audience than the one that was present that night.

Even the old beaten up 'barn' corn broom got its share of laughter, and the MC didn't recognize Nancy Campbell in her get-up at first, and she had announced the skit.

It was all real fun for the performers as well as the crowd, who really did seem to enjoy it.

At the end of the concert there is always a draw for the hand made McCrimmon WI quilt and this year it was won by Marjorie MacDougall of Dalkeith.

The draw prizes are well worth the winning and this time the door prizes included many donations from interested business owners.

Each year they kindly give something for prizes, and their sponsorship is most welcome and appreciated by the WI branch.

This year they were extra generous and really deserve a hearty 'thank you' from the branch as well as the lucky winners.

There was a well-filled lunch table for refreshments at the close of the evening's entertainment, and the large crowd took advantage of the delicious and varied items offered for their pleasure.

The WI members are most generous when asked to bake and I believe people expect a fabulous light meal each year and they were certainly not disappointed this year either.

Congratulations to Christina and Ron MacLachlan on the event of their 50th wedding anniversary. Bud and Lorna Chapman also are celebrating their 50th anniversary this August. Sometimes we just wonder where the time has gone.

In passing, may I mention that this is also another anniversary year? In April, 20 years ago I began reporting for Glen Sandfield. Eugene Macdonald was around then and Anna Margaret McDonald was my editor at that time. I had taken over from Mary MacKenzie who had written the column for years.

Tickets for the Saturday night pageant at Laggan school are still available and they are free. However, if you have tickets and cannot use them please pass them along to someone who can come. They are limited and if you are interested please call 874-2861.

The time is 8 p.m. The school will be the scene of the historical depiction of the landing of the Scot immigrants from Glenelg 200 years ago.

It will be presented in English and Gaelic and the cast will include members of the Gaelic class, the Glengarry Gaelic choir, Trish Hamilton's children's group and the Bicentennial Committee and the Laggan Junior Children's choir.

It is a fine way to make history come alive for this generation. Some members of the audience were moved to tears during the presentation at the dress rehearsal. Don't miss it.

VOLUNTEER OF THE WEEK

Gerald Bourbonnais, this week's volunteer, plays an important role at Shalom House. He is their maintenance man, repairing whatever needs fixing.

"When you're a jack of all trades," he says, "you can work at most anything."

Gerald became involved with Shalom House through a friend who worked there. His friend needed a bit of help one day and Gerald offered to give a hand.That was almost four years ago; he's been helping ever since.

Gerald lives in Summerstown ,having moved there from Cornwall five years ago. He married his wife, Rose, in 1958 and they have two sons and four daughters: Peter, Andre, Gacinthe,Louise, Danielle and Elianne. Gerald and Rose also have six grandchildren, all of whom live near Ottawa.

Before he retired, Gerald worked for Trans Northern Pipeline. Over the thirty-six years that he was with the company, he rose from being a labourer to being supervisor of a crew.

Gerald is always ready to use his skills to help his friends and neighbours, be it with a bit of carpentry or welding. He enjoys reading,especially about things of a mechanical nature.

Area women place well in Trillium Circuit

Dalkeith
by Jean MacLennan
874-2385

Thanks to Joyce who did this column for three weeks while I travelled, this year to the East. We visited all four Maritime provinces as well as stops in Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine on the way and Quebec City on the way home. Now I have travelled from coast to coast in 13 months.

* * *

Ian and Amy Crooks visited with their aunts, Elizabeth and Leanne in Toronto, and uncle Laird Crooks and family in Brantford.

Ian and I had a few days visit from my sister Margaret and husband Mic McNiece, Bramalea. They also visited other friends and cousins.

* * *

Congratulations to Evelyn and Jeff Newton on the birth of a baby boy, Christopher Ray on Sunday, Aug. 14, a brother for Jonathan.

* * *

Best wishes to Nathalie, daughter of Omer and Therese L'Ecuyer, and Luc, son of Marcel and Beatrice Jeaurond who were married on Aug. 19 at St. Paul's Church, Dalkeith.

* * *

Visiting with Florrie and Donnie MacLennan were her sister Pat, and Roger Harvey, Belleville and their daughter Heather, Rob and Sarah Chapman, London. Sarah was flower girl at the wedding on Saturday of Lorie MacDonell and Charles Barton of Vankleek Hill. Best wishes also to Lorie and Charles.

Rodney Nixon, Laggan is spending a month with friends in Kitchener, B.C.

Sarah Dalby, Glen Sandfield, has been showing on the Trillium Circuit this summer and now is in fourth place in Eastern Ontario. Recently she was champion at Westar Farms, Ottawa, in the Junior Hunter division with her horse "Make It So."

At the Vankleek Hill Fair she won all three classes — speed and Handiness, Fault and Out and Hit and Hurry, in the Advanced Jumper Classic with "Make It So" again.

Her brother, Stephen Dalby, aged 6, won the prize for the youngest competitor at the Vankleek Hill Fair. He was able to borrow his sister's horse.

Also at the Vankleek Hill Fair, Samantha Kornfeld, Breadalbane placed third over all in her novice division. She has a new horse "Buster Brown" so she was real pleased with their result.

Congratulations to all three of you.

Dalkeith Library completed a very successful summer reading program "Book Banquet." A total of 22 children read 392 books. In the Book Nibbler category seven children had 53 books read to them.

The winner in the Nibbler Group was Yolanda Clatworthy with the runner-up Bryce Fraser.

In grades 1-3 winners were Melanie Hamilton with runner-up Mark Howes.

Grades 4-5 winner was Stephanie Marriott and runner-up Rachel MacGillivray.

Winner in the Grade 6 and up category was Beverley MacDougall with Scott MacFadden-Willard runner-up.

Those who received certificates were: Olivier Roy, James Clatworthy, Malcolm Marriott, Leah Hardy, Alexandra Hargreaves, Shona Fraser, Samantha Marriott, Zachary Arthurs, Meghan Hargreaves, Bridget Trepanier, Lindsey Howes, Amy Crooks, Ian Crooks, Jennifer Hamilton, Katie-Jo MacFadden-Willard, Shannon Hardy, Pascal Quesnel, Renée Seguin, Nathasha Brodie, Colleen Cleary, Erin Jamieson.

The library re-opens Tuesday, Aug. 30.

Memorial Sunday will be held at Kirk Hill United Church this Sunday, Aug. 28 at 11 a.m. with Mr. Malcolm Robertson, Bainsville taking the service. Note the change in time for this week.
