MOE okays development of 100 residential units

by Lesley Cadham
News editor

Despite a projection by a Municipal Affairs official that development in Alexandria would be frozen for 1 1/2 years, the Ministry of the Environment (MOE) is recommending the town proceed with the development of 100 residential units.

In a Dec. 7 letter to town Clerk-Treasurer Leo Poirier, MOE official W. C. Stevens wrote, " . . . respecting water usage at the Consoltex and Carnation plants . . . it is estimated that operational changes at these plants will result in reduced water supply demands on the municipal waterworks, sufficient to allow 100 single family units (or equivalent) of new development, in addition to servicing commitments to existing approved development and infilling."

Mr. Stevens wrote that he would advise Municipal Affairs that MOE was prepared to "recommend favorably on the approval" of new development within the 100 unit limit. He recommended that the town prioritize the allocation of the units because there are currently more than 100 units proposed for development in town.

Three housing projects have already received some degree of approval from the town; Denis Ethier's approximately 130-unit subdivision in Alexandria's northeastern section, Dr. Frans Manouvrier's proposed development of 120 units and a small shopping plaza just west of Canadian Tire and the Non-Profit Housing Corporation project which will consist of about 59 units.

Also in the wings is Wallace Hope's housing project for northwestern Alexandria.

At the Dec. 29 town council meeting, council voted to allocate 30 units to the senior citizens apartments of the Non-Profit Housing project, 36 units to Dr. Manouvrier's development, 10 units to Hope Developments and 24 units to Mr. Ethier's housing project.

MOE expressed concerns about Alexandria's sewer and water capacities after the Ministry of Municipal Affairs circulated plans for Mr. Ethier's proposed subdivision. And at a meeting in October, MOE District Officer Gerald McKenna told town officials that realistically, there were just enough services to accommodate the town's current population.

Mr. McKenna suggested the town approach Consoltex, which at the time was using half of the town's dai-

Council ponders 'dry' clause for industries

Alexandria council is considering action that will prevent the town from accepting any more industries requiring water to carry out its normal daily functions.

An "ad hoc" committee of Alexandria town council, set up to consider the town's sewer and water situation and its impact on local industry, is looking at implementing a "dry" clause in all future agreements of sale for industrial land.

Future industries would be permitted to use water only for washroom facilities and janitorial services.

Lawyer Pierre Aubry is expected to formulate the agreement.

The committee met at a special session, Dec. 17, to discuss the issue but did finalize plans at the Dec. 29 council meeting. Council is expected to bring the matter up again at the Jan. 12 meeting.

During the Dec. 29 council meeting, Councillor Fern Seguin said he was not sure about working the clause to contain the word "consume," that perhaps, the word should be replaced by "require."

His suggestion gave rise to Councillor Archie McDougall who drily suggested Mr. Seguin should have attended the meeting to give his input as to the wording. The ad hoc committee was to include every member of council, but Reeve John Cormier and councillors Fern Seguin and Jim Baker did not attend the meeting.

Mr. Baker explained the meeting had been postponed three times, that he had been available to attend the meetings which had been cancelled, but was unable to make the final call.

Mr. Seguin wanted to know why the meeting had been postponed once when he was ill, and another two times because other council members could not attend, but when three council members were unavailable, the meeting went ahead.

He said, "I thought we had a gentleman's agreement that the meeting would not be held because not all members were present."

Mr. McDougall replied, "Someone owes me an apology. I did more than my share...No one felt more hurt at that meeting than I did."

"Why are you taking it so personally?" asked Mr. Baker, to which Mr. McDougall replied, "It is personal."

Mr. Cormier chimed in, "I guess we're not important. Everyone else can cancel, but we can't make it and the meeting goes ahead."

Mr. Seguin mused that possibly a "legal aspect" was involved in the scheduling of the meetings, that the first meeting to be scheduled should have gone ahead regardless of who could attend.

"I'm sorry, Archie, if I offended you," he said, adding, "Mr. Mayor (J. P. Touchette) I came to this meeting with good new year's resolutions, but I guess it's no use."

Glengarry's first baby

The new year started out on a high note for the Poirier family of Martintown. Wendy Poirier delivered little Jordan at 2:58 a.m. at the Hotel Dieu in Cornwall. The baby, which weighed in at 7 lbs., 7 ozs., became the first Glengarry County child born in 1988. It's believed Jordan was the first baby born in the entire United Counties area. It seems Jordan wanted to make sure he got the honor — he arrived three weeks prematurely. Despite the early birth, however, mom, baby and father Michael are all doing well.

Lochiel landowners suing town for $210,000 for cutting trees

A pre-trial hearing has been scheduled for Feb. 5 in the case of Lochiel landowners who are suing the Town of Alexandria for a total of $210,000 for cutting down trees on their properties.

Robert Lessard and Johanne Lessard, Roger E. Bellefeuille, Jocelyne Bellefeuille, Roger Sauvé and Rene Deguire launched the lawsuit in 1986. The Lessards and the Bellefeuilles own portions of Lot 37, Conc. 1; the Bellefeuilles purchased the property from Mr. Sauvé and Mr. Deguire.

A hearing has not been set for the Township of Lochiel, also being sued by the landowners.

According to a claim issued by Barrister and Solicitor Roger Bellefeuille, employees of the municipalities entered on the lot and without permission, cut down about 68 trees, "creating substantial damage to those lands."

The employees then cut the felled trees to firewood size and transported them to the "McNaughton farm." At the request of the plaintiffs, the work was stopped and the cut trees and firewood were returned, says the claim.

The trees ranged in side from 1 1/2 inches in diameter to 24 inches in diameter and included elm, ash, cedar, Manitoba maple and possibly other varieties.

In April, the plaintiffs offered to settle out of court for a total of $55,000, but the municipalities did not accept.

Both municipalities have put the matter into the hands of their insurance companies.

The hearing will take place at the Official Examiner's office in Cornwall, Feb. 5 at 10:30 a.m.

Lancaster family is homeless

The St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in Lancaster has come to the aid of a Lancaster family left homeless as a result of a New Year's Eve Blaze.

Daniel Rose's home, located at the corner of Thomas and Queen Street, was completely gutted. The fire is thought to have caused about $35,000 damage.

Clark McCuaig, a trustee and elder at the local church told The Glengarry News Monday, Mr. Rose and his family have accepted an offer to stay in the minister's vacant home until their home is repaired or until other living accommodation can be found.

Only the shell of the two-storey bungalow remains and nothing was salvaged from the blaze.

Mr. Rose, his wife Nicole, and two children, Daniel Jr., 2-1/2 years old, and Marcel, four months old, left earlier in the day to visit his parents, who also live in Lancaster.

The fire was discovered by Romeo Jodouin, a fireman with the Lancaster Fire Department. He was walking home from work at about 6 p.m. when he smelled smoke.

A few moments later, Mr. Jodouin saw Mr. Rose's home "burst in a ball of flames". He went to three homes to use the telephone to call the fire department before finally finding someone home.

It took firemen approximately 2-1/2 hours to extinguish the blaze. The report from the fire department is not yet complete and the cause of the fire has not yet been established.

Mr. Rose purchased the house a few weeks ago.

Daniel Rose's Lancaster home was completely gutted by a fire, New Year's Eve. Officials still aren't sure what caused the blaze and estimated damage at $35,000. It took about 2 1/2 hours for firemen to extinguish the flames.

Teenager struck by shotgun pellets in Kenyon Township

A holiday outing almost ended in tragedy on Tuesday, Dec. 29, when a 17-year-old teenager was struck by two shotgun pellets in Kenyon Township while hunting with friends.

The male, who cannot be identified under provisions in the Young Offenders Act, was treated and released from the Glengarry Memorial Hospital the same day.

According to Maxville OPP, the teenager and two friends were hunting partridge near Conc. 3 of Kenyon at approximately 1 p.m. when the mishap occurred.

One of the friends, an 18-year-old male, has been charged with Careless Hunting under the Game and Fish Act. His identity is also being withheld because it could serve to identify the victim.

He is scheduled to appear in Alexandria Provincial Court on Monday.

Lancaster council split 2-2 over Sinnott resignation

by Peter Conway
Senior Reporter

A Lancaster woman has circulated a petition throughout the village, hoping to dissuade a Lancaster Village councillor from resigning over a potential conflict of interest issue.

Anne McDonald, a resident for nine years, says she can't stop Ron Sinnott from resigning his seat, but hopes he changes his mind after the petition is presented at the next council meeting, tentatively set for tomorrow (Thurs.) at 1 p.m.

"I've circulated a petition in most of the businesses and I hope to see a favorable response when I pick it up Thursday morning," says Mrs. McDonald who is spearheading the campaign to keep Sinnott on council.

Mr. Sinnott submitted his resignation at the Dec. 15 council meeting because some councillors sited a possible conflict of interested. His wife, Virginia, had previously informed council she was applying for the vacant position of clerk-treasurer.

The position became vacant in early December when Francis T. Bird

The Glengarry Cross-Country Ski Club is probably considering finding a native who can do a snow dance to get some of that white stuff on the ground. The ski club hasn't had too much success so far this season, what with the weather changing so radically every few days. Though there have been a couple of good storms in the area since November, they have always been followed by a thaw, leaving the ground surface icy and not at all conducive to good skiing.

ly 800,000 gallon water consumption, to ask the company to cut down. Consoltex uses water to cool machinery in the plant.

In November, Consoltex agreed to cut daily water consumption from 400,000 to 370,000 immediately and to cut daily consumption to about 310,000 gallons by May.

Carnation, which used about 1.2 million gallons of water monthly, indicated it would be willing to look at cutting down.

In a letter further to Mr. Stevens' letter, Mr. McKenna wrote that the town should not construe MOE's approval for the development of 100 units as approval to proceed with all development. He also suggested the town pursue plans to expand the water filtration plant and make every effort to initiate water conservation schemes, particularly in the summer and encourage all major industries and commercial outlets to do the same.

"Similarly, the sewage system requires expansion as soon as possible," wrote Mr. McKenna.

The Public Utilities Commission is awaiting a reply from MOE as to whether it will provide funding for an over-$2 million project to expand the water filtration plant. The aim is to increase the amount of water which can be treated daily from 1.2 million gallons to 1.8 million gallons. In addition, J. L. Richards and Associates was contracted to study, over the winter, the short and long-term effects of the sewage treatment plant on the Delisle River, into which treated sewage flows. The firm will also evaluate, among other things, the operation while taking into consideration the town's future growth, new technology and the effects of both on the Delisle River.

Councillor Archie McDougall, at the Dec. 29 meeting, told council he felt certain aspects of the water dilemma had not surfaced. He asked council's permission to release to the press his findings about the history of the water problem, explaining he felt there was a highly negative attitude toward the entire situation.

He said, "I have written down, for your approval, not to take sides or condemn or be critical . . . I have washed out sections which could have been considered sensitive . . . I would like to see the statement released to the press, parliament, MOE, the government, to the public . . .

"I won't admit we have been sitting here doing nothing."

He wrote, "It is apparently not known by many that a report issued by the ministry (MOE) people in June 1978, recommended expansion of the waterworks (water filtration) plant. And that PUC officials agreed entirely and recommended that the town council make the request at once for financial help. And that an engineering firm made a complete study and proposal to carry out such a project . . . estimated cost was over a million dollars.

"Unfortunately, funds were not available from the province at that time. A little later, the town was informed that 15 per cent of the capital costs could be made available. Taxpayers would have had to carry 85 per cent of more than one million dollars! On top of regular taxes! The council of the time said: 'No it is impossible'."

He also explained in the press release, that Alexandria had started seeking those funds again in 1986. And in February 1987, a report from Desjardins-Lascelles Engineering in Hawkesbury estimated the cost of expanding the water filtration plant at more than double the cost in 1978 — $2,122,200.

He concluded that the town was placing its trust in MOE to "really help us this time — almost 10 years to the day that they (MOE) first issued their recommendations."

Participants needed for heart event

Aerobic dance exercise can no longer be considered a passing fad; it's now an activity for many enthusiasts who have made it a part of their lifestyles, says certified instructor Chloe-Ann Baker-Pelletier.

The Glengarry chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation is again staging its Dance for Heart event, a nation-wide fund-raiser that promotes cardiovascular fitness through aerobic or dance exercise.

Mrs. Baker-Pelletier, who conducts classes locally, is the Glengarry coordinator for the Dance for Heart event and says it will likely be held in March in the Glengarry District High School-Ecole Secondaire Regionale Glengarry (GDHS-ESRG) gymnasium.

"Anyone involved in aerobics, including other instructors, are invited to participate, "says Mrs. Baker-Pelletier.

The event will last three hours and participants are encouraged to collect pledges.

The money will be used to support medical research to help reduce disability and premature death due to heart disease and stroke.

Each participant is eligible to win prizes.

Anyone wishing to register in the event can contact Mrs. Baker-Pelletier at 525-1418.

Employment expected to remain stable

The employment scene throughout the area isn't expected to improve significantly in 1988 but it likely won't be a year of job loss either, says the manager of the local Canada Manpower Centre.

Alexandria Interagency Administrator Eugene Legault, said the area is "not in a bad position" with respect to employment, but area firms are not expanding and creating new jobs.

He felt this is attributable to the lack of skilled labor here and to a smaller work pool, compared to other centres such as Cornwall.

In fact, many people seeking jobs here have had to take work in Cornwall said Mr. Legault, adding, "Cornwall has really picked up."

In Alexandria, he feels, prospective employers "still need an answer on the water and sewer" limitation.

As long as the town's growth is hindered by restrictions in infrastructure, he said, some companies looking for a community that's "a little more stable" haven't been seriously looking to locate here.

Mr. Legault said the annual seasonal employment slow-down in construction every year prompts "a rush" of applicants looking for unemployment benefits just before the Christmas holidays.

This is attributable, he said, to a tendency by employers to refrain from laying people off before Christmas.

The slow-down in the construction field has also likely caused some slow-downs in related businesses as well, he said.

The de-regulation of the shoe industry some years ago probably did more to affect the employment scene here than anything, he said. The shoe industries in Alexandria have been stable employers now, he said, after they settled into the adjustments that were required.

Passenger service assured by VIA

VIA has no intention of abandoning the Montreal-Ottawa passenger rail service, a VIA official recently wrote to the Town of Alexandria.

On Nov. 12, the Canadian Transport Commission released a notice stating that it had ''reconsidered the Canadian National Railway's and Canadian Pacific railway's applications for authority to discontinue the passenger-train services operating . . . which are now the shared responsibility of VIA Rail Canada Inc. (VIA Rail) and CN and CP.

Among those lines listed was the Montreal-Ottawa line.

It was further written, ''The said passenger-train services are uneconomic and are likely to continue to be uneconomic . . . and the committee has ordered that VIA Rail, CN and CP shall not discontinue the said passenger-train services for which they share responsibility.''

In the letter to the town, VIA Public Affairs Officer Marcel Bordeleau wrote, ''Please note that this order is renewed automatically every five years and is a legal requirement to ensure the continued operation of passenger rail services and that VIA has no intention or desire to abandon said services.''

Gas bars fighting for customers

Alexandria fuel prices lowest in five years, service station owners say

by Janet Clermont
Staff Writer

A war has broken out in Alexandria.

Six local service stations have been fiercely competing to obtain the lowest gas prices, and Alexandria has possibly become an oasis for car-owners tired of slowly increasing prices.

Prices have dropped dramatically over the past six weeks and currently rest at 35.5¢ per litre. When interviewed, Monday, service station owners said fuel prices are the lowest they have been in five years.

The gas war began Nov. 23, when Cango Service Station decreased its cost of gasoline by 2¢ per litre to match Top Valu Gas Mart's price. Shortly after, four other stations began dropping their prices, which now range from 35.5¢ to 39.9¢.

Of the nine gas stations in Alexandria, three have dropped their prices slightly, but refuse to go any lower than 41.5¢.

Jean-Paul Gareau, owner of Gareau's Sunoco said during the past month he has lost 45 per cent of his customers. His station is selling fuel at 42.9¢ per litre.

''I couldn't go down as low as the others because I would have lost too much money,'' he said.

Pierre Deschamps, manager of Cango, said although his gas is selling for 35.5¢, the increase in customers is helping the company break even. Mr. Deschamps hopes the ''war'' ends soon but said he will continue to compete with Top Valu Gas Mart.

Pierre Deschamps, manager of the Cango Service Station, is just one of six Alexandria businessmen fighting to obtain the lowest gas prices. The gas war began six weeks ago.

Top Valu owners, Henry and Joanne Ladouceur, said because their station is a self-serve they are entitled to sell gas at .2¢ less than other stations.

Claude Cuerrier, manager of the Shell station said he won't have anything to do with the gas war, even though Cango, with its lower prices, is just across the street.

''We are selling quality and will not cut our prices,'' he added.

Daniel Theoret, owner of Daniel's Gas Bar, just outside Alexandria said, although lowering prices means a sizeable cut in profits, he can not risk losing his customers by keeping prices high.

''We have been keeping really busy lately. A lot of people from Quebec are coming over to fill up, they can't believe how cheap it is here,'' he said.

Weather confounds drivers over weekend

Icy, slush-covered roads marred the holiday weekend for several travellers.

Robert Lanthier, 42, of RR2 Dalkeith, was driving north on Cty. Rd. 23 in Lochiel Township, Saturday, when he lost control of his 1981 Pontiac, which skidded into the ditch and rolled onto its roof.

Though the vehicle was severely damaged, the driver was not injured.

Marleen Poapst, 23, of the first concession of Charlottenburgh Township, was driving on Tyotown Rd., Friday, when her vehicle skidded on the ice, colliding with roadside mailboxes.

There was moderate damage to her 1981 Oldsmobile and she was not injured.

There were two motor vehicle accidents in the Maxville area during the holidays.

Larry MacDonald of Alexandria was driving east on Hwy. 43 when his vehicle collided with another vehicle driven by Brian Machell of Alexandria.

Damage to Mr. MacDonald's 1974 Dodge Sedan was estimated at $5,000, while the Machell vehicle sustained an estimated $3,000.

Joan MacDonald, a passenger in the MacDonald vehicle, was taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released.

Three vehicles westbound on Hwy. 417, west of Hwy. 34 consecutively struck a moose that had strolled onto the roadway killing the animal Christmas Eve.

Damage to a 1983 Renault coupe, driven by Laurent Goulard of Quebec City, was estimated at $1,000.

Damage to the 1986 Toyota coupe of St. Jerome resident Jacques Teriele was about $1,500 and damage to a 1981 Mercury sedan, driven by Mario Giroux of Montreal, was estimated at $1,000. No one in any of the vehicles was injured.

Jacques Gareau, 25, of 127 Derby St. East, was driving north on Dominion Street New Year's Day when he lost control and struck a building at 189 Dominion St.

Damage to the 1975 Chevrolet, owned by Yvon Gareau, of 34 Derby Street, was severe, while passenger Michel Robert, 22, of Alexandria was treated for minor injuries at Glengarry Memorial Hospital and released.

New damage assessment

Alexandria police and OPP will no longer release damage estimates in their reports.

The new policy took effect Jan. 1 and damage will be described as light, moderate and severe.

Dig deeper, Glengarry, for stamps and more

Price increases will force Glengarrians to dig a little deeper to pay for a number of goods and services in the New Year.

Canada Post recently announced its new postal rate structure, which came into effect Jan. 1. The price of a first-class stamp is up by 1¢ to 37¢.

There are also rate increases for oversize and standard letters to the U.S., as well as international letters. But significant change in the parcel rate structure means discounted commercial rates for meter users.

Consumers of beer, alcohol and cigarettes may find some increases hard to swallow. It will cost $1.15 more for a case of 24 beer. A 710-millilitre bottle of liquor will cost 38¢ more and a one-litre bottle of wine has increased in price by 15¢.

John McDermid, one of three partners who owns the Sports Bar and Grill in Alexandria says the increase in the price of beer shouldn't affect their business; he says he doesn't expect a sharp increase in the price charged to the customers.

''I don't think the new increase will hurt the business too much'', he says. ''The marginal increase at the retail level shouldn't be that significant to deter business.''

Smokers will have to dish out an extra 26¢ for a 200-cigarette carton.

On the flip side, good news for farmers is that the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency will pay farmers at least 1¢ more for Grade A large eggs this month.

The increase is attributed to higher feed costs.

Reports of child abuse up dramatically: CAS official

Reports of child abuse have increased dramatically in SD&G over the past two years, says a Children's Aid Society (CAS) official.

In 1985, 85 physical and 64 sexual abuse cases were reported. The following year, the number of reports increased; 108 reports of physical abuse and 111 reports of sexual abuse poured in. However, Jim Carriere, supervisor of CAS' child intake, doesn't believe the increase means more children are abused every year.

''The increase is a combination of greater awareness and a better understanding of what to do,'' Mr. Carriere said from his Cornwall office, Monday.

He said another reason reported cases are significantly higher is because society no longer labels CAS as ''baby snatchers.'' The main goal of the society is to ''protect and maintain the welfare of the children,'' he added.

Mr. Carriere also explained that it is not always necessary to remove the child from the home; CAS tries to bring the family together through counselling.

''The number of children we have in foster homes is very low. We are trying to bring the family together not tear them apart,'' he added.

More victims are also coming forward across the province. In 1984, 8,400 alleged cases were reported. The following year the figures jumped 27 per cent to 10,700.

Diane Cresswell, Ontario Association of Children's Aid Society communications manager, Friday said, community education and awareness prompted the increase.

''People are more prepared about abuse and know what to look for. During the past few years we have been going into schools and holding discussions. Also, victims of abuse programs help awareness and people often refer themselves,'' she said from her Toronto office.

Of the cases reported in Ontario, 50 per cent are physical, 48 are sexual and two per cent are emotional.

Lancaster Village petition aimed at keeping councillor resigned to take a similar job in Osnabruck Township.

Mrs. Sinnott, a part-time clerk in the village office applied to fill the position. Council's vote was split 2-2 in a vote to accept his resignation.

But Mr. Sinnott believes a conflict of interest doesn't exist because he wasn't a member of the selection committee that hired his wife.

''A councillor felt there was a conflict of interest, so I offered my resignation and it wasn't accepted because of the split vote. I'm not trying to cause any problems. I'll stay on if they vote the other way at the next meeting,'' Mr. Sinnott says.

Janette Abbey, one of the two councillors who voted in favor of accepting Mr. Sinnott's resignation, believes she voted in the proper fashion.

''It may not be a direct conflict of interesst, but it could lead to an adverse situation later on,'' she says.

Mrs. McDonald doesn't agree with Councillor Abbey or other councillors who feel there's a conflict of interest.

''As far as I'm concerned, we're losing a very good councillor if he resigns. I can't understand what the conflict of interest is. If something pertains to Virginia's job, all council has to do is make sure Ron has no say on the matter,'' she says.

Reeve Milton MacDonald expressed disappointment when learning of Mr. Sinnott's resignation.

''I'm quite disappointed and we're losing a valuable and experienced councillor. But I respect the opinions of councilllors and their decisions. If there was a conflict of interest that arose in a future situation, council would have accepted that he leave the council chamber udring a discussion,'' said Mr. MacDonald.

Should the vote remain deadlocked at the next meeting, Mr. MacDonald says council will likely seek legal advice from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs.

And Mr. Sinnott phoned the Ministry of Municipal Affairs, recently, and was told a conflict of interest did not exist.

Mrs. MacDonald says ''The drift of this petition is to stop him from resigning and to tell Ron it isn't necessary for him to resign. It's not just Ron. If it was the same situation with another councillor, I'd be doing the same,'' she says.

She says response to the petition has been encouraging.

''I carry the petition with me everywhere I go and I've talked to about 45 people. Only one person said he wouldn't sign it and two other people said Ron should resign from council.''

Council briefs

The regular meeting of Alexandria Town Council was held at the town hall, Tuesday, Dec. 29 at 7:30 p.m. A brief public meeting for the purpose of re-zoning property was also held just prior to the regular meeting. Councillor Larry Yaguchi was absent.

The following are items dealt with by council.

The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 12.

Committees reviewed — few changes

The Dec. 21 committee review, carried out by Mayor J. P. Touchette, Reeve John Cormier and Deputy Reeve Roger Lemieux netted few changes.

Councillor Fern Séguin has been appointed chairman of the council's environment committee, taking over from Deputy Reeve Lemieux, who will remain a committee member. Mr. Séguin will be council's representative on the joint waste management committee, will represent council on the Raisin Region Conservation Authority, and joins the public works committee.

Councillor Larry Yaguchi has been appointed to the Glengarry Sports Palace board, replacing Councillor Jean Larocque.

Deputy Reeve Lemieux will replace Councillor Séguin on the committee of youth and special events.

In addition, the town will advertise to recruit members for the Glengarry Memorial Hospital board, Glengarry Sports Palace board, the committee of adjustment and property standards committee.

Official plan amendment approved

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs has approved an official plan amendment to redesignate a Main Street property from residential to commercial.

Last summer, owners Michael and Ken Morris requested a redesignation for the property, which is immediately north of the ASP building at the south end of Alexandria. The Morrises plan to establish a parking lot on the site and may possibly use the property for expansion of the existing building.

Formax going ahead with re-circulation

Formax Plastics has advised the town that it still intends to re-circulate water to cut down on monthly consumption.

The company had agreed not to use more than 200,000 gallons of water each month, but was consuming 800,000 gallons monthly.

President Garnet Perry wrote that he had received price quotations for re-circulating systems and added ''My position to correct, within one year, any problems pertaining to water usage at my plant has not changed and I was rather annoyed when it was stated in The Glengarry News that I had reneged on my agreement.''

Municipality won't pay

The town of St. Telesphore has refused to pay the bill for a trip to Quebec by the Alexandria Fire Department's ''jaws of life.''

A few months ago, the Lancaster OPP called the fire department requesting the jaws of life to help extricate a person from a vehicle wreckage. The accident had actually taken place just across the border in Quebec, so the town sent the invoice to the nearest municipality — St. Telesphore.

Apparently, Alexandria Fire Chief Gerald Charlebois has suggested that council try to obtain payment from the Solicitor General.

Televise in both languages

A Cornwall resident recently wrote to the Town of Alexandria commending council for its letter to Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, which requested that the Winter Olympics be televised in French and English across the country.

Council passed a resolution documenting the request at the Dec. 9 meeting, writing, ''We feel Mr. Prime Minister, that this is a great disservice to the millions of francophones residing outside of Quebec . . . and urge you to do all in your power to have this unjustice rectified.''

Jeannine Séguin, in a letter to council, wrote, ''It gives me great pleasure and honor to congratulate you and the councillors for having taken the decision of sending a letter to the Honorable Brian Mulroney . . . It is a question of social justice and equity to recognize the two official languages of Canada, our great and beautiful country.

''You as a group, have proven that you are convinced of the importance of national unity and mutual respect.''

Land rezoned for seniors project

A public meeting was held, Dec. 29, to re-zone land owned by Denis Ethier from Residential Holding to R-4 multiple dwellings.

There were no objections to the re-zoning. The property is located just northwest of Florence Villa, on the east side of Bishop Street between Elgin and St. George streets. The Non-Profit Housing Corporation plans to purchase the property and use it to construct 30 senior citizens apartments.

Minor variance endorsed

Council has endorsed a St. George Street landowner's request for a minor variance to front and side yard requirements.

Paul Lalonde applied to change front yard requirements from 25 feet to 22.9 feet and side yard requirements from 15 feet to 14.2 feet.

The house was constructed many years ago and apparently, the owner at the time thought the measurements were in compliance with regulations. Recently, in trying to obtain a tax certificate, Mr. Lalonde discovered the land did not comply with the zoning bylaw.

The application will be considered by the committee of adjustment on Jan. 11.

Minor hockey to get plaques

Council agreed to donate 10 souvenir plaques of the town of Alexandria to the Alexandria District Minor Hockey Association.

Richard Sabourin, convenor of travelling teams, wrote, ''To a hockey team, receiving such a prize is the sign of love, warmth and friendliness from the people of Alexandria.''

Park the police cruiser

Council, during the traditional approval of accounts payable, discussed a bill to replace parts of the new police cruiser.

Some councillors were surprised that the cruiser was already in need of replacement parts; the town only took possession just over a year ago.

Councillor Fern Séguin, who was on the Alexandria police force some years ago, when officers patrolled on foot, suggested, ''Maybe we should buy those guys (officers) boots and have them park the cruiser in the yard.''

RIDE program keeps OPP busy over holidays

OPP officers from the Lancaster and Maxville detachments remained busy over the holiday season checking drivers under the RIDE program.

From Nov. 15 to Jan. 2, a total of 257 vehicles were checked within the Maxville OPP detachment's coverage area. One person was charged with impaired driving and two persons had their drivers licences suspended for 12 hours.

During the same period, Maxville OPP officers on regular patrol charged three people with impaired driving and issued six 12-hour suspensions.

Two persons were charged with having liquor in a place other than residence.

Some 130 vehicles were checked within Lancaster OPP's coverage area between New Year's Eve, Thursday, Dec. 31 and Saturday, Jan. 2.

Police issued three 12-hour suspensions in the same time frame. There were no charges laid.

Province should enforce own laws

By passing the responsibility for Sunday closing laws on to municipalities, the Ontario government has cleverly dodged an issue that had last year ensnared it in controversy. Unfortunately, its actions with respect to Boxing Day 1987 has left everybody else wondering exactly where it stands.

In essence, the province chose not to enforce its own law — the Retail Business Holidays Act — this past Boxing Day, based on an aspect of the law initially intended to allow Jewish merchants to open Sundays if they closed Saturdays.

As a result, small stores which closed the Saturday after Christmas could legally open — if they met the size restrictions — on Sunday, Dec. 27 for Boxing Day sales. But larger department stores opened as well after Attorney General Ian Scott said the act would not be enforced.

This followed last month's rationalization for passing on responsibility for Sunday closing laws to municipalities by Solicitor General Joan Smith. Then, she said municipalities are the best judges of the needs of local areas. She said factors affecting consumers and retailers in smaller centres are substantially different than those in big cities.

Clearly, the government is trying to extricate itself from a two-pronged fork. What better way to relieve itself of the heat generated by the church than to pass it on to municipalities? At the same time, the province can appease those who favor Sunday shopping by pointing to the Boxing Day exception as an example of its willingness to compromise.

David Peterson wants to please both sides at the same time, but he wants the municipalities to absorb the fall-out if that proves to be impossible.

The Retail Business Holidays Act requires most stores to close 60 days a year, including all Sundays. That's clear. The province has a responsibility to either enforce this regulation or change the law. As long as it continues to make half decisions, the churches, the retailers and the public will be caught in a continuing state of uncertainty and confusion that is very likely to worsen a matter already steeped in controversy.

We can still win — without violence

Canadian hockey teams have now won the last three major international tournaments — the world junior, Izvestia and Canada Cup — against the Soviet Union, the other game world superpower. It's an accomplishment that all Canadians — sports fans or not — can take pride in. But more than that, Canada's domination on the international hockey scene should dispell nagging myths about this nation's minor hockey system.

Not long ago, when Canada's success at international play was lacking, critics began to seriously question the structure and calibre of the country's minor hockey systems. Their cries for new directions took an all-time high following last year's disqualification of our entry from the world junior hockey championship game.

The team came home draped in disgrace. Critics called for major revisions to Canada's amateur hockey programs.

Minister of Fitness and Amateur Sport, Otto Jelinek, apparently responding to some of these pressures, introduced a multi-media campaign in September, aimed at reducing the level of violence in hockey and at promoting the concept of fair play in sport.

The campaign seems to suggest that there is something terribly wrong within the Canadian hockey system right now - something that wasn't wrong before. Jelinek himself states that Canada's national sport "has eroded to a level that has become unacceptable within the sport community and the general public."

Obviously, violence in hockey continues to be a problem and public education and awareness has to be part of the solution. But as well as targetting these messages at young amateurs wending their way through our minor hockey systems, there should be a parallel message to coaches who possess the "win-at-all-cost" mentality and the referees at all levels.

The rule book is there for all to see. As Red Storey once said, refs should "start calling the rule book the way it was written and let the talented people have the freedom to show their talents. People pay to see talent, not war." Wise words, indeed.

Still, with these hard-fought tournament wins, Canadian hockey players have shown doomsayers of the game, that they can play the game the way it was intended to be played - and win.

Free trade and all should make for unusually interesting year

RAMBLING REPORTER
Eugene Macdonald

As we embark on a new year it is the wish of your Rambling Reporter that this year of 1988 will bring a full measure of good living to each and every one of you.

Each dawning of a new year is a time for pausing to look back on the year just past and for assessing the prospects ahead in light of our successes or failures over the past 12 months.

We Canadians are envied by many peoples across the world for our high standard of living, our stable society and many other advantages we are apt to accept as our birthright. The last year was one of progress for our country on the whole though we did nothing to curtail public spending. That extravaganza sees us expanding our deficit at a greater rate even than our neighbors to the south who at least have the excuse of vast defence spending.

The year that lies ahead should be an unusually interesting one for Canadians who have at least three major innovations by the Ottawa government to digest. The free-trade agreement was signed last week by President Reagan and Prime Minister Mulroney but it still has to be approved by Parliament and the U.S. Congress. Its passage is still far from an accomplished fact and a large number of Canadians see it as a grave threat to the future of their country.

The Meech Lake Accord is another Mulroney move that is disquieting for many, as are tax reform provisions that appear aimed at still victimizing the middle class. The electorate may find some satisfaction in the knowledge that Members of Parliament face a general election this year.

It is an election year on the municipal scene, too and it is to be hoped that prospect will have a beneficial effect around the council board in Alexandria.

Our town faces the serious problem of a questionable municipal water supply at a time when water pollution and the "greenhouse effect" pose a threat being felt right across this hemisphere. Town council appears to be divided on this issue as on many others. Recent warnings from government environment officers concerning our limited supply of water and the need for conservation appear to be taken too lightly by mayor and council. We could be facing a threat this year even worse than the warning provided last summer when our swim program in the lake had to be curtailed.

Given a council at loggerheads, perhaps our town fathers should seek the ideas of representative citizens on a committee that could study all aspects of our water and sewage problems.

A new year is always a challenge and it is our hope that all Glengarrians will meet that challenge with good heart. May you stride into a 1988 that will bring you a full measure of personal happiness.

A happy and prosperous new year to all!

New Year's Eve and the search for the great Canadian identity

AFTERTHOUGHTS
Joe Banks

The prospect of spending New Year's Eve in front of the television did not particularly excite the man, nor did it especially depress him. The commentator with the blow-dried haircut and the diamond cufflinks on Entertainment Tonight did say the best place to watch 1988 roll in at Time's Square was from the comfort of your living room. The man rationalized his plight and settled down in front of the glowing tube.

As he watched the always-young Dick Clark filling time during his "New Year's Rockin' Eve" show, which started at 9 p.m., an idea seized him. Maybe it was the thought of watching that stupid ball descend one more time, of watching glitzy entertainers pretend they were enjoying themselves; he didn't know. Whatever it was, he decided to do the unthinkable — watch how Canadians ring in the new year on TV.

After all, he thought to himself while thumbing the pages of the dog-eared TV guide, he loved this country of Canada. He wanted to support the CBC, the Bluenose 2 and even the Loonie if worse came to worse. He didn't want Canadian culture swallowed up by Dallas, Dynasty, Rambo — or Dick Clark for that matter. Just like Mel Hurtig and Pierre Burton said; we must preserve The Canadian identity.

He checked under the listings titled by times. His eyes scanned frantically, seeking the local CBC stations program. Could there be no New Year's Eve Canadian programming? Surely, there must be . . . it's gotta be against the law . . .

Finally his eyes rested under the 11 p.m. heading. Both CBC stations were featuring, as their New Year's Eve entertainment, a movie. He read the listing with incredulous curiosity.

It said: "Movie: 'Top Hat', starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers . . ." — a classic musical, as it turned out, a classic made in, no less, the U.S. of A.

Before the man threw down the guide in contempt he caught sight of a footnote at the end of the movie's description. It said, "Note: The movie will be interrupted for 10 minutes to bring you live coverage of New Year's Eve ceremonies from Parliament Hill in Ottawa."

The man did not watch Top Hat. He switched the remote and grudgingly watched Dick Clark's New Yeara's Rockin' Eve. At 10 minutes to midnight, he switched back to CBC. CTV was carrying an American feed at Times Square and the Hamilton independent had news. He had no choice.

There they were, Wayne Rostad and some other lady he didn't recognize, circulating through a crowd of people asking questions like "Where are you from?" and "Are you looking forward to the New Year?" and "Are you keeping warm?" One fellow held aloft a wine skin to indicate his warmth was generated from inhaled liquid.

"There are thousands of people here on Parliament Hill," Wayne proclaimed, lest anyone not believe him.

As the countdown approached, a crowd huddled around Wayne and the lady the man did not recognize, all chanted those famous numbers together. "Four, three, two, one . . ."

Everyone yelled happy new year, but the microphone seemed only to pick up those people closest to the hosts. The camera immediately switched to shots of fireworks bursting over the Peace Tower. Just seconds after that a CBC announcer broke in . . .

"We now return you to our regularly scheduled program, Top Hat, starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers . . ."

The man did not watch Top Hat. Instead, he switched it back to Dick Clark, now whooping it up under the neon-lit '1988' over Times Square. On another station, Englebert Humperdink gyrated in front of a hoarse crowd in a hotel in New York. He was surrounded by show girls, glittering with gold sequins. The balloons rose and popped. The stars of Dynasty danced in character, as if they really were those people on the show.

"There we go," he grunted to the cat sprawled across his lap. "That's what we Canadians are all about and that's what those Americans are all about. Ironic, eh?"

The cat said nothing. And the man, too tired to think anymore, fell asleep in front of the dancing girls, Dick and Times Square.

Predictions for 1988

THAT'S LIFE
Lesley Cadham

Our beloved Joanne Stevenson is leaving us again.

Joanne, who has devoted about five years to writing for The Glengarry News, resigned just before Christmas to go on to new horizons.

Joanne reported news from Charlottenburgh, Lancaster Village and Lancaster Township councils and counties council and more recently, took a stab at bringing us the news from the Bainsville-Curry Hill area.

Contrary to popular belief, Joanne did not resign last spring, she was merely on a sabbatical, taking precious time to write a book she hopes to one day publish. After a short period, she returned to once again cover two councils and help out with a variety of other stories.

This time, we fear her resignation is permanent. We wish her all the best and a Pulitzer Prize thrown in for good measure.

With only two days to put out our newspaper this week, things got so hectic I barely had time to formulate an idea for this column. I already knew I'd say goodbye to Joanne, but the rest was a toss-up between "Alexandria's sewer and water services: a true story," or "How I plan to get through the rest of the (ugh) winter."

When the publisher came into my office to tell me there would, again, be no room to publish predictions made by Ottawa psychic Keith Atkinson, I knew there was nothing left to consider.

Predictions for 1988

According to Keith, a long-standing mystery in the area could be solved in 1988. He did not elaborate on this prediction, but I momentarily pondered whether the "mystery" could be the hit-and-run driver who killed a Dunvegan boy in 1983.

Also in the future could be a major accident, which could take place on Hwy. 417 east of Highland Road before spring. As a result the road would be closed for several hours.

A fire could occur in an Alexandria store which sells or stores large amounts of paint, in late spring or early summer. At first it may appear to be arson, but could be traced to old electrical wiring. This fire could be prevented if electrical repairs are made now, warned Keith.

A few other tidbits included a surprise win for someone running for office in the area. (Fern Seguin in the mayor's chair?) Also, a warning to farmers; a very wet, late summer and fall will affect the harvest. Last but not least, residents should not get their hopes up for something coming into the area which would be good for the economy. Delays and opposition will prevent it and the change in local government policy will be the deciding factor.

Incidentally, Keith had predicted I would report on what this area would consider a major disaster before the end of 1987. On New Year's Eve, I waited just a touch apprehensively until the clock struck 12, but thankfully, only peace and celebrations reverberated through Glengarry County.

Television and toys

WORD SKETCH
Sybil Carello

Except for those occasions when I'm called upon to play surrogate, my description is generally that of a non-practising mother. Nevertheless, within this narrow but nurturing parameter, I've noticed one similarity among the little people in my life.

The more toys they have the less they appreciate them.

This is particularly true of children who must perform exacting contortions getting in and out of their toy-crammed bedrooms.

You may laugh, but this is no exaggeration. I've peered into many kiddie bedrooms of the 80's and have actually ventured into the heart of some of them. With a hundred stuffed and unstuffed toys in the background and a hundred more in the foreground they all bear striking resemblances to colorful circus booths (a good place to visit but try living there for any length of time.) Obscured beneath the thick scattering of playthings, is the customary bed, chest of drawers, and an offspring or two.

I shake my head and think, how does this happen? As a kid, I did not lead a toyless existence. Nor was my room so empty it supported an echo. I had my share of favorite things, but never, ever did it reach the epidemic proportions of today.

"She played with each new Christmas toy for a few minutes then it was back to the television set," a friend recently said about the ambivalence of her four-year-old.

Television, I thought. Back to the scene of the crime.

Already, my three-year-old step-granddaughter — no slouch in the toy department — is well-versed in the catchy hype. Once during a four day visit, she called to me: "Come . . . see princapowa . . . princapowa . . ." This I learned was Angella, Princess of Power, a Mattel wonder. Standing 14 centimetres high, Angella is a plastic winged woman warrior. She comes equipped with a skirt, a comb and a book (no warrior woman would dare leave home without them).

Later I learn that Protect Yourself, the Quebec consumer magazine has given Angella a bad rating. She's pretty, they admit, but her wings break almost immediately, and her skirt doesn't fasten properly. Worse, Princess of Power promotes war values.

All of this I explain to Rebecca, and she listens quietly until I'm finished. Then her large baby eyes light up with mesmerizing lights. They seem to wield a power all of their own.

"Princapowa . . . princapowa . . . my princapowa . . ." she says.

Something inside of me melts, and I think, I've got to get her this doll.

This human drama suggests one reason why children's rooms fill up with so many toys.

Closer fire department responds more quickly

To the editor;

In the interest of the ratepayers of the Township of Kenyon, I wish to set the record straight.

I was elected to represent everyone within this municipality.

My primary concerns are roads and drainage as well as any other issues pertaining to the operation of sound and equitable Council and Township business and this also includes fire protection. This, I believe to be my mandate.

We have in Apple Hill a fire department that is very capable and efficient, but the fact remains that the closer the fire department is to a call the faster the response time and it is on that basis and that basis alone that I have taken this position.

I did not bring this matter to the press; the press questioned me and I expressed my opinion openly.

The same allegation as to my place of residence was once made at a Council meeting while debating this particular issue. My answer remains the same. If my home was built anywhere else within this township, my stand would remain the same.

At this point, permit me to quote Paragraph 13, Page 26 of the Fire Marshal's survey. It is recommended that fire protection districts defining boundaries be established to allocate fire protection coverage from each fire station to ensure the fastest response possible.

This I tried to accomplish. I do not regard expressing the concerns of taxpayers, affected by the changes brought about by the new fire protection boundaries, as criticism and ridiculous. But I firmly believe I tried to apply the recommendation set forth by the survey.

My family and I wish the residents of Kenyon Township as well as all the readers of the Glengarry News, a safe, prosperous and Happy New Year.

Resident claims roads departments inadequate

This is a complaint against the people who are paid to see that roads are passable, especially when they are a sheet of ice. Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, they should have been sanded, especially at stop signs & intersections where people have been killed this year. I think the insurance companies should use their power and connections to force these people we vote into office to see that our roads are safe, after all they are the losers. School buses and truck owners should also go after these people, as they are negligent in their duties to the car owner who pays a lot in taxes and licences to use these roads.

The average farmer doesn't make a complaint as he is afraid his taxes will be raised; this is untrue.

When you make a complaint as an individual they ignore you 100 percent, so we should all get together and see that they sand the roads. They don't give much for our taxes, so the least they can do is sand the roads. One day a school bus is going to tip over in a ditch; what will their excuse be?

I say they should be ousted out of office. You as a newspaper can help by contacting the roads minister of Ontario which gives money for the roads; but the money is used for equipment and not for road safety. I have been told that a secretary-treasurer has her road paved to her house. Our government should be alerted to the things that are happening but they are too busy, it seems. He should read the news of young people getting killed and of cars and trucks sliding off the roads causing much damage and injuring themselves as well as passengers. Can we not take these people to court for not keeping the roads sanded in winter and repaired in summer. Pot holes and rocks stick up out of the middle of the road and hills should be cut off and levelled. Help us get some action on our roads in winter and save many lives.

Thanks

Student felt welcomed at GDHS

To the editor:

I should like to comment on the letter from an anonymous "concerned parent," entitled "Parent feels children are tormented."

I came to this community 11 years ago as the daughter of British immigrants. I went to a French Catholic elementary school. Even though I was an English Protestant, I was accepted by all the other students and by the staff. I am now in Grade 11 at GDHS and I have found that this community has been extremely welcoming to "outsiders" and residents have been interested in the different cultural backgrounds of "newcomers."

In my opinion, the writer's suggestion that teenagers of this community are unkind and even vicious is outrageous. I think that the writer must have encountered a small minority group and I do not think that the teenage population of Glengarry should be blamed for the possible actions of a few people.

Bill 51 will die without support

To the editor:

I am writing to share with you my concern about cigarette smoking and what it has done and continues to do to the citizens of our country. We simply cannot dodge the truth any longer; smoking causes diseases that maim and kill. The statistics are clear: 32,000 fellow-Canadians die each year from diseases that trace their origin to cigarette smoking. There is no longer any doubt. Just ask any doctor. They have seen plenty of hard evidence in the autopsy room where the end-stage of tobacco-related disease is so tragically displayed. With few exceptions, doctors have the message and have given up smoking. But that is not enough.

Now the Canadian Medical Association is mobilizing its membership of 48,000 doctors from Victoria to St. John's to take a firm stand against cigarette smoking, the greatest single preventable hazard to the health of our nation.

I am one of Canada's 48,000 doctors and I have seen enough, more than enough. I can list numbers of friends, colleagues, to say nothing of patients, who have died from tobacco-related diseases.

Bill C-51 will not stop people from smoking but it will take a bold step towards discouraging it by banning advertising and promotion, providing package warnings of the magnitude of the risk and revealing the quantity of toxic substances.

May I appeal to you as the editor of one of Canada's foremost newspapers to take a stand in favor of Bill C-51? You are probably aware that many newspapers are already supporting C-51 editorially.

If we care at all about the health of our nation, this is a step we must take. The tobacco industry has mounted a powerful and persuasive lobby; unless the general public, including health professionals, rallies forces that will stand firmly in support of Bill C-51, it will die an ignoble death and the scourge of tobacco-related disease will go on.

May I appeal to you to take such action through your newspaper as you see fit?

Moose on loose

Motorists are cautioned to watch for moose on the road south of the village. At least two have been sighted and it is reported that up to five moose are wintering in the bush nearby.

The recent deaths of three gentlemen have brought sadness to many who knew them professionally or personally. While they were not residents of the village, we extend sympathy to their widows and families.

Dr. John Rae of Moose Creek, a medical doctor, died in hospital after a lingering illness. Dr. W. M. Stevenson, a dentist in Avonmore for many years, recently died in a Cornwall hospital after serving two or three generations of patients. Last week, the Rev. Dr. W. L. MacLellan of Morrisburg, formerly of Cornwall, died. He had been a highly respected Presbyterian minister for many years.

And best wishes are extended to Karen and her husband Brian of Dunvegan on the birth of a daughter. This is the first grandchild for Gretta MacInnis, but not for Melba and Arthur Campbell.

Two Maxville natives whose paths diverged over the last several years have renewed their friendship and more recently have married. Congratulations are extended to Lois McPhee, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred McMillan and to "Red" John McEwen, son of the late Rev. John McEwen, missionary to Brazil and of his first wife.

Nancy and Walter Brady and Tricia and Phillip, spent a few days over Christmas with her parents in Lanark.

The Christmas Eve service in Maxville United Church drew quite a crowd. Rev. Gary Van Bruchem of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church assisted Rev. Frank Bailey. The junior and senior choirs were under the direction of Ken Johns with Doug Munroe presiding at the organ.

Walter Spuehler and his two sons produced stirring pieces on their Swiss Alpine horns. Mr. Bailey expressed the thanks of all in attendance to those who were responsible for the special music.

A social hour followed in the church hall.

The judging was done by two judges from outside the community.

WANT TO APPEAL YOUR ASSESSMENT?

You still have time to appeal your 1987 assessment if you feel your home or business property has been improperly assessed. Your assessment is important because the amount of property tax you will pay in 1988 depends on it. The assessed value of your property is multiplied by the municipal and school mill rates to determine your property taxes.

Notices of Property Valuation were mailed to property owners and tenants whose assessments have changed since last year. Open house information sessions were held in your area to give you the opportunity to ask questions and correct any errors.

The Assessment Roll was delivered to your municipality on December 22, 1987 and will be used to calculate the taxes you will pay in 1988. You can review the Roll at your municipal office during regular business hours. If you believe your property has been improperly assessed and you have not yet registered an appeal, you still have until January 12, 1988 to mail or deliver your appeal to the Assessment Review Board. And remember, even if you did not receive a Notice of Property Valuation, you still have the right to appeal.

Appeal deadline — January 12, 1988

The Assessment Review Board is an independent tribunal under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Ministry of the Attorney General. It is intended to provide you with an additional opportunity to have your assessment reviewed if, in your opinion, it is not fair and equitable with the assessment of similar properties in your area. The Review Board is more informal and relaxed than a regular court of law. You may present your own case, retain a lawyer, or ask a relative or friend to speak as your agent.

To help you in filing your appeal, Notice of Appeal forms are available from the Assessment Review Board, your Regional Assessment Office, or your municipal office. You can also use the reverse side of a Notice of Property Valuation, or write a letter giving the property address and roll number along with your reasons for appealing. Appeals should be forwarded to the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board at the address shown below.

In those parts of Ontario designated for French Language Services, you can appear before a bilingual (English/French) Appeal Board. Please check the space provided on your appeal form if you wish to use this service.

Engagements blessed, baptism performed at Christmas Eve service

GREEN VALLEY
Evelyne Secours
525-1350

The ''Louveteaux'' of Green Valley recently visited the Alexandria Community Nursing Home. They presented each patient with a gift of their own creation. It seems that the patients were so grateful they were cuddling the children. One of the animators told me it was a real joy to be there. That's what you call caring for others at Christmas.

Welcome, new neighbors Bob Conavan, wife Nancy and daughter Cindy, who bought Hewlett's place in the ninth concession of Lancaster. We will have many newcomers by next summer evidenced by the many lots currently being surveyed.

* * *

Congratulations to Suzanne Vaillancourt (Quesnel) of Green Valley who was named vice-regent of the Daughters of Isabella at the last meeting, replacing Carole Lavigne. Good luck, Suzanne.

So sorry to hear of the departure of our mailperson, Mrs. Debbie Lajoie, who gave us such good service during the last six years. We will miss you Debbie; to your RR2 Alexandria friends, you were No. 1.

Christmas Eve

Ste. Marie Church was overcrowded for the 8 p.m. mass on Christmas Eve. The mass supposedly for children, was packed with adults. There was lots of excitement that night. Baby Justin Viau was baptized and after the mass, Sylvie Séguin and Michel Legault had their engagement blessed. Sylvie is the daughter of Maurice and Suzanne Séguin of Alexandria and Michel is the son of Raymond and Jeanine Legault of Green Valley. The children's choir was directed by Lorraine Beriault and the organ was played by Manon Vachon (Charbonneau).

The midnight mass was also celebrated by Father Poirier and the choir was under the direction of Deanne Poirier. Mrs. Noëlla Crevier was at the organ. Four other engagements were also blessed: Linda Crevier and Alain Théorêt — Linda is the daughter of Laurent and Noëlla Crevier of Lancaster formerly of Green Valley, Alain is the son of André and Fleurette Théorêt of North Lancaster; Martin Crevier and Thérèse Lebrun — Martin also is the son of Laurent and Noëlla Crevier, Thérèse is the daughter of Henri and Liliane Lebrun of Green Valley; Danielle Poirier and Michele DiGiovani — Danielle is the daughter of Deanne and Gabrielle ''Gaby'' Poirier of Green Valley; Shirley Deschamps and Richard Leroux — Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vital Deschamps of Alexandria, formerly of Green Valley and Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Leroux of Alexandria.

On Dec. 27, Sunday of ''La Sainte Famille'' there were three christenings. Adrienne La Bonté, daughter of Bob and Liliane Labonté of London, formerly of Green Valley; Andrée Anne Lefevre, daughter of René and Paulette ''Lortie'' Lefevre of Green Valley; Anne Yvette, daughter of Murray and Céline ''Bourbonnais'' MacDonald of London. Céline is formerly of Green Valley. What a celebration! We wish you all the best of luck.

Visitors at the home of Paul-Emile and Hortense Charbonneau and family during the holidays were Alban and Marie Paule Lauzon of Chomedy and children Marc and Lucie Lauzon, Marc Lefevre, Noël and Jeanine Lauzon, Robert and France Chartrand and baby Maggie of Chambly, Maurice Lauzon, Bruno and Violaine Lauzon and family, Rachel and Gérald Legros, Laurent and Viviane Lefevre and Nancy Lapierre. Gilberte Lavigne of Hull was also visiting and attended the ceremony of her granddaughter Sylvie Séguin at mass.

My New Year's resolution is to try to keep the Green Valley column filled with news but I need your help! I depend on you to phone me before Sunday every week. Thank you.

A belated happy birthday to Kristopher Hehn who turned three years old on Dec. 27.

Committee back to work

APPLE HILL
Nancy Marleau
527-3293

Hi! Happy 1988! I hope everyone has enjoyed their holidays as much as we have. It was a very quiet (as quiet as five kids in the house can be) and restful holiday for us. Now everyone is eagerly back to school and work.

First I have some old news to get out of the way. On Dec. 23, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ingram celebrated their 50th anniversary. Imagine — 50 years! Congratulations. I also have a birthday that I haven't mentioned. Mrs. Sylvette Leroux had a birthday on Dec. 20. I'm really sorry I didn't get this one in The News earlier.

Also, on the evening of Dec. 20, the villagers were treated to some fine carolling by the Youth Group, led by Brenda Gordon and Marilyn Guindon. This is the first year that we have caught them on their way by. It was really very pleasant and my children enjoyed it immensely. A very nice gesture indeed.

The Apple Hill Recreation committee is also back to work after the holidays. There is to be a meeting on Sunday, Jan. 10 at 7:30, at the fire hall. They will be discussing the carnival and the rink so they'd really like to see a good turnout.

Mr. and Mrs. Serge André had their son Denis home for the holidays. Denis is attending Sault Ste. Marie College where he is studying to be a forestry technician. Hope you had an enjoyable holiday. I also found out Jeanne André celebrated her birthday on Dec. 20. Mr. André tells me you are 29 . . . again. Happy birthday.

It should also be mentioned Mr. and Mrs. André opened their minimarket for a few hours on Christmas Day and New Year's Day. This was a kind gesture on their part and I'm sure there were a few people who appreciated this.

Now I have quite a few birthdays to mention for January '88. There are the Lacroix twins — Colleen and Darlene who were 19 on Jan. 3. Also on the third Rob Lea turned 19 as well. Donnie MacCulloch ''celebrated'' his birthday on Jan. 2. My brother Paul's is on Jan. 9. And special birthday wishes to our beautiful daughter, Rachel. Her birthday is on Friday, Jan. 8 and she will be 6 years old. Happy birthday, Rachel.

Williamstown theatre lovers join search for baby Glengarry

WILLIAMSTOWN
Sue Harrington
347-2279

While the rest of the world greeted the New Year with noise-makers and streamers, a group of Williamstown theatre lovers sat back in splendor and drank in the latest in party drama, ''The Search for Baby Glengarry.''

Formed as an alternative to doing ''the same old thing'' each and every New Year's Eve, the play group featured an all male cast, much to the delight of the predominantly female audience.

The brain-child of the multi-talented David Stones, the play included some pretty zany characters who were searching in vain for Baby Glengarry '88 so that the aging Baby Glengarry '87 might take his leave before midnight arrived and turned him into a ?

Local references and place-names gave the play a distinctly Williamstown flavor, as did the cast, almost all big-name actors on the Glengarry scene.

The Honorable Oliver Blacker played the role of the emcee, whose ''ororations'' were continually being interrupted by desperate search for Baby Glengarry.

Gertrude Glengarry, gorgeous in yellow chiffon with ''pamplemousses ripe and daisy fresh,'' was portrayed by Jay Woollven. Her husband, Ceecil Glengarry, attired as every good Glengarrian should be, in kilt and accessories befitting a Highlander, was played by Mac Edwards. Both gave sensitive and convincing performances as the distraught parents of the missing Baby G.

Flung Dung McDougall, played by Sir Garnet, seemed to be constantly in the wrong place at the wrong time, begging all the while to be allowed to do his ''commercial.''

Officer Stormont Glengarry, called in to search for the missing babe, appeared to be more worried about his mutilated boots than his missing person, but what the heck — it was New Year's Eve. As the man in blue, Rob French gave a strong performance, leaving the audience with no doubts about his previous (acting) experience.

Hugh Cook, the supulchral undertaker who had come to measure the aging Glengarry '87 (David Sontes) for his ''box,'' was marvellously solemn in both figure and voice.

When all appeared lost, the Rev. Allis Forgiven appeared on the scene, wheeling in the missing Baby Glengarry. Rev. Clifford Evans played the part of the minister as though it had been made for him, while Dave Moore, as Baby Glengarry, stole the show with his superb costume.

To celebrate the happy ending, the three singing telegram girls appeared on the scene. Tony Djurin, Ron Kubelka, and Brian Greer, sang and danced their way through a brilliant comedy routine which had the audience in stitches.

Indeed, if there is a criticism to be made, it would have to be that the cast was not always prepared for the laughter of the audience and a few of the lines were missed in the uproar.

Technical assistants were John Hamilton with the sound effects and cameraman David Leeds who preserved the whole thing on video for posterity. And Arthur the dog, without whose help some of the scenes would have lost their punch!

Well done, men of Williamstown (and area)! Ladies, next year is yours!

I put out the call and you answered. Thanks to those who phoned with news of their holiday guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Mark Gordon of Rockville, Md., U.S.A. were Christmas guests at Sharon MacLeod's in Martintown. While home in Canada for the first time in a while, they visited Mrs. Gordon's (Sheila's) parents, Antoine and Mildred Fourney, and her sister, Thelma Dupuis of Williamstown.

Kent Fitzhugh, now working in Toronto, was home for the holidays to visit his parents, Arlene and Robbie McLachlan, and his sister, Erin.

Daphne MacDonald had another houseful this Christmas. Daphne said it was ''one of the nicest'' Christmases, as visitors Audrey and John McCardle and Andrea and Danny came from Toronto; Sharon and Kevin from Mississauga; Howard and Lenore Wilkinson, Doug and Sandra from Scarborough; William Hraynyk from Oshawa and Iris Lefebvre from Watertown.

Angus Russell came from Massena; Mary and Stirling Russell from Buffalo; Lillian and Lloyd MacDonald from St. Raphael's; Lynne MacDonald from Scarborough; Reg and Iris Gervais from Pembroke; Greer and Larry Thornbury and Sean from Woodville.

In addition, Alex and Betty MacDonald and family and Milton and Joyce and family and Coleman and Joan spent Christmas with their mother.

Margaret Cameron and John Carley of Pte. Claire, and Gladys MacDonald of Ottawa, visited with Nettie and Emily MacDonald during the holiday season.

Edith Major spent an interesting holiday in Montreal recently. Instead of sitting in or going shopping as most of us do when we go visiting, Edith attended the special Christmas show at the Dow Planetarium and enjoyed it immensely.

She also visited the Botanical Gardens where one greenhouse had a special display for Christmas. ''It was out of this world,'' said Edith, who strongly recommends both places to area residents.

Those of you in the theatre mood after attending the above-mentioned play or reading about it, might be interested in seeing what the Ottawa Little Theatre Group can do with ''Amadeus,'' which it is presenting Wed., Jan. 13. Joan MacDonald called to say that she has a few tickets available for the performance and the bus which will take you directly there from Williamstown. The tickets are $13.50 each and this includes bus fare. For more info call Joan at 347-2217.

Congratulations to Bruce McDonell and Randy Larocque who coached our Char-Lan atom and midget hockey teams to recent ''A'' championships in Williamstown and Alexandria (atoms) and Prescott (midgets).

Char-Lan's big money raiser, the Skate-a-thon, is slated for Jan. 16 at the arena. Hockey players take note. This year's prize for top pledge-getter is a bike or its cash equivalent. This will be in the neighborhood of $200 or possibly more, so get working. There are lots of other prizes to be won as well.

* * *

The Glengarry Community Club will hold its monthly open euchre on Jan. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Charlottenburgh Arena. There will be a lunch and prizes and you are all most welcome to attend.

* * *

Strange birds have been seen over Williamstown skies recently. Some small, pure black types, a little larger than a sparrow were spotted at Isobel Quail's on the Glen Road a while back and she is curious as to what they are. Can you help?

Many holiday gatherings

NORTH LANCASTER

347-3553

The family of Hector and Cecile Laferriere gathered in Lemieux, Ont., for their Christmas reunion on Sunday, Dec. 27. Daughters Ginette and Francine organized the event at the town's parish hall. Along with Hector and Cecile were their nine children with spouses: André and Jeannine Laferriere of Coteau Landing, Que.; Denis and Joan Laferriere of Alexandria; Victor and Claire Cholette of St. Isidore; Pierre and Ginette Racine of Casselman; Rolland and Francine Paquette of Casselman; Gerald and Margaret Laferriere of Alexandria; Hervé and Carole Laferriere of Cornwall; Sylvie Laferriere of Montreal and Michel of North Lancaster. Eighteen grandchildren highlighted the party and joining the reunion were Mr. Laferriere's sister, Hilda Blondeau, his two brothers René and Rolland and nephew Normand Laferriere with his family, all of Montreal.

Timmins visitors

Denis and Denise Vaillancourt formerly of North Lancaster were in our vicinity for a few days last week with three of their sons, Claude, Daniel and Patrice while their eldest boy Marc stayed in Timmins for music engagements. Denis is superintendent with the French Catholic School Board in Timmins and drove down to visit his mom, Germaine Vaillancourt of Alexandria (also a former long-time North Lancastrian) and his brothers Richard of Glen Norman and Pierre of Alexandria. Congratulations are also in order to Denis and Denise for their 20th wedding anniversary on Dec. 26. Your area friends, relatives and once upon a time neighbors wish you many, many years of happiness as you read these lines in The Glengarry News upon your return to Timmins.

Back from Haiti

Pierre and Susan David with children Vivian and Alex have returned in time for the New Year after spending two weeks in balmy Haiti. They spent the holiday with Susan's sister Wendy and husband Graham Lowe who is presently employed in Haiti with the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA).

* * *

On New Year's Eve, Dr. Stewart and Marion Polson of RR1 North Lancaster hosted a friendly get-together to reminisce about 1987 and to welcome '88. Enjoying the entertaining evening were: Jack and Betty Cole from Creg Quay; George and Evelyn Findlay from RR2 Williamstown; Hugh and Bridget Grice from Glen Roy; Jack and Marjorie Seale of Hamilton's Island; Bill Reay from Bainsville and Don and Diane Roy of North Lancaster. We discovered that evening that uncle Stewart possessed numerous talents, that of being a fine ukelele player, an accomplished sing-song leader and a great pastry chef.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Cecile Campeau and family and to Ronald Legroulx of North Lancaster on the passing of their father and grandfather, Philippe Legroulx on Jan. 1 at the age of 87.

* * *

It was omitted in last week's column that on Dec. 24, Léonide Rozon of our village won a generous basket of cheer raffled by Casselman's Nursing Home. Léonide has been very lucky in the past year at buying tickets from various organizations.

* * *

At home for a few days for New Year's with Germain and Marina Gareau were children: Lucie and Glen Forcier with baby Mélanie, of Ottawa, Sylvain of Toronto, Vincent of North Lancaster and Stéphane from Ottawa. Grandmother Emilie Paquette of Alexandria joined them for their reunion.

Visiting over the weekend with Carmen Roy were her brother Robert and his wife Françoise Gareau of Ville Lasalle, Que., and her sister Thérèse and husband René Valade of Alexandria.

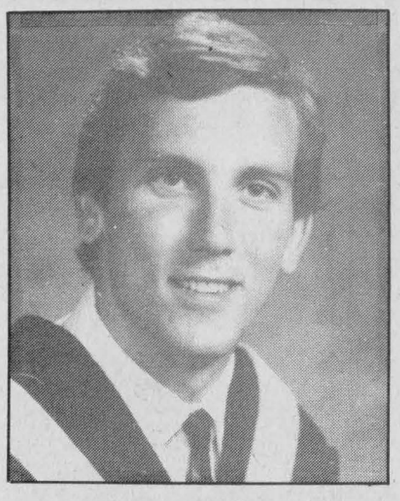
A very happy birthday on Jan. 8 to Alex David who will be three years old and to Dominique Roy who becomes 14. Belated greetings to Arthur Craig who celebrated his birthday on Dec. 31. Thought we had forgotten you Art?

* * *

In answer to the many who asked, "How was the holiday goose?", I must admit that it graced our Christmas table to perfection and that it was deliciously appreciated by our family and guests. Thanks to Donald and Sheila Campbell for raising such a fine bird and for their many recipes from which we undoubtedly chose the right one.



Master of Science

John Kenneth MacQueen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. MacQueen of Ottawa, was awarded a Master of Science degree Geology at the Carleton University fall convocation, Nov. 22. Ken, who has also earned, with honors, a Bachelor of Science degree, is employed by Noramco Explorations in Vancouver. He is a project and research geologist in the field of gold exploration.

Visiting with the Lacelle family are Jackie and Christopher Taylor of Gloucester.

After spending three weeks in the Hearst area at the home of Wayne and Anita Brunet and boys, Larry Lacelle and nephew Bob Brunet are back home with us.

Peter Degen has returned to Germany after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Degen.

* * *

Over the holidays Ed and Sandra Ruttenberg were pleased to have the company of their son, Officer Cadet John of Kingston, son Marc of Ottawa and friend Cindy Smiley of Toronto.

Marc Ruttenberg and Cindy Smiley visited with friends Daniel and Lise Théoret in Cornwall.

A Happy New Year to everyone in the 379 Glengarry Mustang Squadron

Thanks to the airlines, which were in full service over the holidays, Matty Matechuk was able to visit his parents in Saskatchewan. He had not seen them in six months.

The Ruttenberg family recently had a phone call from daughter Arlene who is in Israel. She was happy to report that the atmosphere was peaceful, as it should be at Christmastime.

Isidore and Evelyne Secours were kept busy visiting with family and friends as well as welcoming family and friends to their home. Among their many visitors were son Guy and wife Rosanne from Whelan.

* * *

Peter Janssens, a pilot who is very much at home at heights, found himself in a sorry mess recently. He propped a ladder against the house and climbed to the roof top. He wasn't playing St. Nick or anything like that; he merely had a job to do. The odds were fully against him that day, as was a strong wind. To make a long story short, the ladder was not there to take him down when he finished his work, nor were his wife or sons at home. So he waited and waited, and then realizing that when a woman goes shopping, it can take forever, he daringly manouvered his legs and arms around this and that to safety on the ground below.

Visiting with Bruno and Violaine Lauzon, Sunday, were niece Carol-Ann, her husband Dr. Andrew Armour and children Iain and Kevin of Halifax. Also visiting was nephew Marc Lacroix of Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Janssens had a few neighbors in on Sunday afternoon for a lovely get-together.

Visiting with the Claude Gauthier family were Joanne and Tristan Selvey of Smiths Falls, Gary Gauthier of Germany, Bob and Linda Gauthier and children Stephen and Melanie of Brockville, and Christine Gauthier of Vancouver.

Peter Janssens is on a two-week course in Savannah, Georgia.

Tristan Selvey, who will be three years old Jan. 9, celebrated his birthday at grandma's with his aunts, uncles and cousins.

Correspondent wishes everyone a prosperous Year of the Dragon

LANCASTER
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

A prosperous 1988 — the year of the dragon — to all of you. The year was ushered in with a bang at the Lancaster Legion. What fun! Carm Aube's big band sound and Beverley Poirier's home cookin' made for an evening to be remembered. Legion President Eric Newman presented awards to Past President Walter Pilkington and appreciation plaques to hard working members Jack McGrath and Bill Barton. Other industrious members helped out throughout the evening to make sure everything ran like clockwork.

Another event taking place that night was the Decoeur family reunion. Louise and Laurent Decoeur and their family, along with his 12 brothers and sisters and parents — a combined total of 61 immediate family members — kicked up their heels at Glen Walter.

* * *

Emile Saucier of the Knights of Columbus No. 8715, Lancaster, called with the results of the $1,000 draw held Dec. 18 during the wine and cheese party at St. Joseph's Hall in Lancaster. The winner was Ann Lalonde of Cornwall. It should also be mentioned that with the capable organization of Jane Smits, 18 Christmas baskets were delivered to needy families in our area on Dec. 22 by Oscar Menard, Emile Saucier and Roger Coffey.

Emile and Noella Saucier celebrated with their family at home during the holidays.

Pat St. Pierre underwent surgery over the holidays and is now recuperating at home. Get well soon!

Janette and Harry Abbey had their family home for Christmas: Frank and Ann-marie of Aurora, Dianne and Andy of Hamilton and Sharon and Kevin of Toronto.

Shelley Bray called with the results of the Legion Dart League for the week of Dec. 23. High Men's single went to B. Donohoe, high Ladies single to Christine Lowe, high Men's finish to Bob Donohoe, high Ladies finish, a three-way tie to Yvette Brodeur, Lorraine de Wolfe and Betsey Robinson. During their fun night, Manson Cameron played Santa Claus.

Char-Lan Timex Atoms captured the A title during the Alexandria atom tourney Saturday, at the Glengarry Sports Palace. Char-Lan nipped Cumberland 2-1 in an exciting A final. Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette presented the championship plaque to Char-Lan's Jason McCuaig, Mathew Gray and Jason Flaro. Standing at the left is tournament co-ordinator Jacques Trottier, while at the far right is Bill Gebbie, president of the Alexandria Minor Hockey Association.

Char-Lan Atoms win tourney

Things have turned around for Char-Lan Timex Rebel Atoms. From a slow start in league play, the Williamstown team waltzed off with no less than three tournament championships in recent weeks. First the squad won the "B" trophy at the North-Glen-Stor tournament, then delighted home-town fans by winning the "A" at the Char-Lan tourney on Monday, and then, to crown it all, captured similar honors in Alexandria, Saturday.

In an exciting opener at the Char-Lan tournament, the Rebels squeaked by the Alexandria Glens, 1-0 on an early goal by Matthew Gray. Nico Parisee held the Glens at bay for the rest of the game and posted his first of two shut-outs for the day.

Jason Flaro, with a hat-trick, led the Timex Rebels to a 4-2 victory over Vankleek Hill in the second round. Jason Corput also scored for Char-Lan.

Scott Giroux came up with the big goal which won it for Char-Lan when he scored near the end of the second period in the final game against Orleans. Once again Nicholas Parisee had flawless goaltending as the Rebels shut out the Ottawa area team, 1-0.

En route to the "A" Championship in Alexandria, the Timex Rebel Atoms doubled Casselman, 4-2, in the tournament opener. Jason Flaro scored twice for the Rebels, with Matthew Gray and Jason Corput adding singles.

Char-Lan next took on the Alexandria Glens, defeating them 3-1 as big Matty Gray picked up two goals and Tommy Cooper, the other.

The final and deciding game against Cumberland was claimed by Char-Lan, 2-1. Once again Matthew Gray had a goal, while Scott Giroux scored the other.

By Sunday evening the Atoms had still not run out of steam, edging Cornwall 4-3 in a Lower St. Lawrence league game. Jason Flaro, Jason Corput, Scott Giroux and Matthew Gray all scored for Char-Lan.

Midgets

Not to be shown up by their younger brothers, the Char-Lan Timex Rebel Midgets kept it all in the family, by capturing the "A" championship at the East Grenville Tournament held in Prescott, Dec. 29.

Jeff McDonell, Wesley Jurchuk, Trevor Bowles and Marc Beaudet all scored for the Rebels as they blanked Westport 4-0 in their opening game.

Trevor Bowles had a pair of goals and Blake McDonell and Chris McBean singles, as Char-Lan knocked off Metcalfe, 4-1 in the second round.

It was easy sailing in the final as Athens fell to the Rebels, 6-1. Blake McDonell scored twice for the Williamstown boys, with Trevor Bowles, Kevin Welcher, Jason Welcher and Wesley Jurchuk all notching singles.

Sunday evening in Cornwall, Char-Lan and the Midget Royals played to a 3-3 draw. Trevor Bowles, Wesley Jurchuk and Blake McDonell had the Char-Lan goals.

Bantams

While it might be smooth sailing for the atoms and midgets, the Timex Rebel Bantams, formerly the pride of the Char-Lan fleet, have run into troubled waters. Sunday the squad suffered a humiliating 9-2 defeat at the hands of the Cornwall Royals.

Peewee

The Char-Lan Timex Rebel Pewees split their games last week, winning 2-1 over South Stormont and bowing 5-2 to Cornwall.

Novice

Despite playing well in league action, the Claude Nunney Legion Novice team was ousted from the Char-Lan novice tournament in two games flat.

Spartans stretch streak

The Char-Lan U2's and the Seaway Spartans played to a 1-1 draw in a Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League game, Monday night.

Lawrence Cayer scored the goal for the Spartans and Victor Pizarro tallied a single for the Char-Lan team.

The Spartans have stretched their undefeated title to six games.

The Lancaster Rovers moved out of the basement and up a notch in the standings after nipping the Cornwall Strikers 2-1.

Henk Kuchlein fired the lone goal for the Strikers, who were knocked into last place in the standings.

The Glengarry Stars and Char-Lan United played an exhibition game that ended in a 2-2 tie.

Rebels split two games

by Janet Clermont
Staff Writer

The Char-Lan Rebels split a pair of games over the weekend and remain in second place in the St. Lawrence League standings.

The Rebels topped the Morrisburg Lions 8-4 Sunday afternoon and lost 6-3 to Prescott on home ice, Saturday.

Kevin Poapst scored a hat trick, leading the Rebels to victory. Singles were added by Chris Villeneuve, Kevin Renwick, Roddy McKenzie, Mike Jodoin and Larry Delgreco.

Rod Lemieux fired a pair for the Lions, while Mike Lamarche and Bob Jackhart tallied singles.

"We played very well compared to the last time when we were knocked out of the Boxing Day Tournament", said Rebel's manager, John Chafee.

Prescott defeated the Rebels 6-3 at the Charlottenburg Recreation Centre, Saturday night.

The Rebels tallied the first goal, followed by three consecutive goals from Prescott in the first stanza. Both teams scored a pair of goals in the second, leaving Prescott with a 5-3 advantage.

"We had a strong second period but fell short in the third. We out-shot them 18-8", said Mr. Chafee.

Jeff Boyce led the scoring attack for the Prescott team with four goals, while Mike Garswood and Tim Dedekker tallied singles.

Chris Villeneuve added a pair for the Rebels, while Kevin Poapst chipped in with a single.

"We made a couple of line changes and the defence played well", said Chafee.

The Rebels will host the Brockville Tikis, Saturday night.

Hamelin scores

Eric Hamelin fired a pair of goals leading the Alexandria Peewee Glens to a 6-1 victory over Finch at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Sunday.

Single markers were Liam Kemp, Marc Boisvenue, Steven Poirier and Jamie Nelson. Picking up assists for the Alexandria squad were Michel Jeaurond, Eric Paquette, Normand Jeaurond and Liam Kemp.

Chris Munro, assisted by Richard Hutt, scored the lone goal for Finch.

No cup for Helen

Now that we've stuffed ourselves with turkey, stuffing and chugged a few mugs of ale during Christmas, it's time we made some resolutions for the New Year.

Since Montreal no longer has a Canadian Football League club, maybe the city's electronic journalists will try to be more supportive of the loop. It was sickening to hear them say, during a sportscast, "There was only one game in the CFL tonight, but does anyone really care who played?"

Montreal Canadiens sparkplug Claude Lemieux promises he won't continue his Bill Barber act in the New Year. Officials should be getting wiser to Claude's dives and won't assess penalties to opposing players every time he falls.

Ottawa Citizen sports columnist Earl McRae says he won't make as many enemies in 1988 as he did in the past year.

Junior B hockey fan Jerome Poirier promises not to bark at referees in the New Year. Well, he'll give it some effort.

Alexandria town council members promise to get along at meetings in 1988. Maybe we had better keep our fingers crossed.

Alexandria Glens defenceman Todd McDonell promises to stay healthy in the New Year. It has to be frustrating for a player on the mend to watch the club enjoy on-ice success.

Ewen MacDonald (Priest's Mill) resolves he won't tease all the Irishmen in Glengarry in 1988. There aren't that many of us to tease.

Ewen McLeod says he'll continue to do his power skating sessions in the New Year.

Maurice Sauvé and Bob Rickerd promise they won't hook opposing players on the ice in 1988.

Alexandria Councillor Larry Yaguchi says he'll take up golf next summer and will practise his slapshot on the golf course. Oh, sorry Larry. Make that your golf swing.

Pierre Aubry has promised his wife they won't move into a new home for at least 10 years. Pierre still hasn't recovered from moving a couple of weeks ago.

Gerry Simpson says he won't consume as many Rolaids in the second half schedule of the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League. I hear Mac's Milk is expecting a new shipment of them any day now.

Alexandria Glens defenceman Denis Levac says he'll be more aggressive on the blueline in the New Year. It's a shame to see a player his size not hitting opposing forwards.

Gaston Trottier resolves not to shoot pucks toward teammates in old timer's hockey in 1988. And he plans to keep the puck in the rink.

News Publisher Joe Banks promises he won't eat as much popcorn Tuesday nights at the Sports Bar and Grill. At times, there isn't enough for other people at the table.

Char-Lan Rebels Manager John Chafee promises he won't get too upset when his Montreal Canadiens lose to Adams Division rival Boston Bruins.

Alexandria Glens Coach Peter DeRooy promises to compete against Assistant Coach Ron Ferguson in the shootout segment during practices in the New Year.

And finally, Helen Hope, the Toronto Maple Leafs biggest booster, promises to throw a huge bash for her beloved Leafs if they win the Stanley Cup.

I'd like to wish everyone in the sporting field a safe and Happy New Year.

Glens win

by Janet Clermont
Staff Writer

The Alexandria Glens cling to the top spot in the St. Lawrence Division standings after defeating the Winchester Hawks 8-4 at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Sunday.

The Glens are two points ahead of the Char-Lan Rebels in the division standings.

The Glens jumped ahead 5-0 in the first period. The Hawks tallied the lone goal in the second stanza and kept pace in the third as both teams scored three goals, ending the contest with an 8-4 decision for the Glens.

Coach Peter DeRooy was pleased with his team's effort.

"We had a strong first and third period but had a bit of a lapse in the third", he added.

Mike Sauve and Leonard Seguin fired a pair of goals each for the Glens, while Andre Meth, Marc sauve and Mathew Berthiaume tallied singles.

Mario Halle and Don LaRoche scored two goals for the Winchester team.

Coach DeRooy said he is preparing the Glens for the playoffs and hopes to improve the team's weak spots.

"But if we have a second half like we did the first, I will be a happy man."

Glens notes: Coach DeRooy has signed three defencemen. The new members are Craig Barton-Hill, Mario Gauthier and Jamie Carbonette.

The Glens entertain the Metro Division's Navan Grads Friday night

Andrew McCormick (7) struggles for the puck during a game against the Winchester Hawks at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Sunday night. The Alexandria Glens went on to beat the Hawks 8-4.

Eric Dube scored a hat trick for the Clarence team while Eric Roy, Mario Ethier, Robbie Young and François Dupuis added singles.

The Glens defeated Canterbury 4-2 in the B semi-finals.

Normand Decoste led the Glens with a pair of goals. Single markers were Marc Seguin and Stephane Roman.

Defenceman Scott Graham was chosen MVP of the game.

Michael Godar and Marc Desjardins scored a pair of goals for the Canterbury team.

Casselman nipped the Glens 3-2 in the opening game of the tournament.

Dennis MacDonaid and Normand Decoste tallied singles for the Glens. Assists went to Stephane Roman and Stephane Pilon.

I hope everyone had a happy and festive holiday during the past few weeks with all the visitors and activities that took place in each of our homes.

I would like to thank the CWL for the lovely Christmas party it threw for the Youth Choir and the Knights of the Altar on Dec. 13. The goodies were especially appreciated and very tasty.

* * *

The annual Christmas general meeting of the Iona Academy CPTA was held in the gym on Dec. 16 with the guest speaker being Ms. Greer Knox of Ottawa who spoke on Educating the Underachiever.

Her talk was quite enlightening to me as well as the many who were present.

Little children were not nestled in beds and fast asleep when Santa appeared at the 8 p.m. children's and senior's Christmas Eve mass at St. Raphael's.

Santa was very honored to be part of the procession where he brought in the three gifts of peace, charity and faith to be placed at the crib in front of the altar. The children's excitement and surprise could be heard in ripples as he came down the aisle and then knelt to offer up a small prayer.

Also present for Christmas Eve mass held at 10 p.m. was our seminarian Rory MacDonald, son of June and Angus MacDonald of St. Raphael's. Rory took part in the mass as minister of the eucharist much to the pleasure of the parishioners. Good luck and much success in your future studies Rory.

Many thanks to the people who put on our New Year's Eve party at the parish centre last Thursday evening. Some 75 tickets were sold approximately, and a joyous and happy time was had by all. We were entertained by the talents of Mrs. Sharon Cameron on keyboard, and Jacques Gougeon and Rene Roy on guitars. Recorded music was also played between performances. Thanks to Carl Rines, Marcella Dorie, and Alex Chisholm for the past four years spent on the parish centre committee. Our newly elected members are: Chairman, Leo Clouthier, secretary, Hector Levert and treasurer, Gary McDonald. Good luck in the next term of service.

My sincere thanks on behalf of Father Tom Villeneuve to all who helped make our Christmas a participated event. Thanks to the senior choir, folk group, knights of the altar, ministers of the eucharist, lectors, ushers, sacristans and to all who shared our liturgy by their presence. Thanks to Carl, Helen, Mary and Celia who decorated, Thérèse for the banners, and to all who gave food and/or money to help out six needy families. Thanks also for the offerings for flowers for Christmas and Easter.

Also on behalf of Father Tom, I would like to thank those who gave cards and/or Christmas gifts. Heartfelt thanks to one and all for a blessed Christmas and may the New Year bring us all health and happiness in the days to come.

A celebration for all the babies baptized in 1987 will take place Sun., Jan. 10 at 2 p.m. in the upper room of the church. Hope you will be able to join us for this special event.

Cards of Thanks

MacINTOSH — We wish to express our most sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement in the loss of a loving husband, father, grandfather and brother, John. A special thank you to Dr. Roman and the Glengarry Memorial Hospital staff for the care he received while a patient. Our thanks is also extended to the Munro Funeral Home and pallbearers, Rev. Karen Hincke, the St. Columba organist and choir, and the Ladies Aid for providing lunch. Your kindness and caring has brought much comfort to us all.
—Janice MacIntosh and family. 1-1p

ST. LOUIS — The family of the late Yvonne St. Louis wish to express sincere thanks to friends, relatives and neighbors for cards of sympathy, mass cards and flowers at the time of our loss. Special thanks to Dr. Jaggassar, nurses and staff at Hotel Dieu Hospital and Glengarry Memorial Hospital, Munro Funeral Home and Father Denis Lefebvre.
—The children. 1-1p

In Memoriam

McCASKILL, Jessie Allana Mae — November 6, 1970-January 4, 1972.
We do not forget you, nor do we intend
We think of you often, and will to the end;
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.
A little lamb too sweet and pure
Upon this earth to roam,
God's angel came and safely,
Took our dear child home.
—Mom and Dad. 1-1p

MacLEAN — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Ambrose, who died accidently January 6, 1979.
—Always remembered by wife Anne and family,
Bainsville. 1-1p

ST. LOUIS — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away Jan. 10, 1971.
At early morn when all was still,
God gave His great command
In silent peace he passed away,
Into the better land.
—Always remembered by David and family. 1-1p

LAJOIE
In loving memory of Conrad, dear husband and father who passed away Jan. 2, 1972.
If I could make a wish tonight and know it would come true
I would wish that I could phone to heaven and ask to speak to Dad.
For there is so much I'd like to tell you about the aches that are in my heart and oh how much we need and miss you.
Why don't you go to your father and tell him you love him before it's too late.
Sadly missed by daughter Colette, wife, children & grandchildren

MARTINTOWN
Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

Hopefully weather doesn't run in 100 year patterns; if so we're in big trouble! The year 1788 was known as the Hungry Year as famine hit the area. The crop failures and the saw fly ruined what the weather did not. Then in 1888 the worst recorded windstorms hit the Martintown area, killing several people and causing wide-spread destruction to houses, barns, smokestacks and trees. Let us hope that this will not be the case in 1988.

Home for the holidays

Several Martintown families entertained relatives and friends from far and wide over the holidays. Bernadette Lalonde visited with her mother June. Bernadette is a doctor with her practice in Seattle, Washington. From the Atlantic coast (Hughie (Bill) and Colleen along with their family visited with relatives and friends. Visiting from their beautiful log home high in the Rockies in Nakusp, B.C. were Lois and Ray Cunningham. Allan and Brenda Lalonde of Kitchener, spent the holiday in our area. We hope everyone enjoyed their visit home.

Your correspondent was in London, Ontario, for the Christmas holiday with son Wally Jr. and had an enjoyable time for four or five days. The journey from Cornwall to London by Via Rail service was comfortable and relaxing and the train arrived on time at the London station. At Kingston the coaches were filled with Queen's University students, lecturers and professors. The students had difficulty navigating the aisles as they were burdened with luggage back and front and both sides.

Son Wally Jr. is with me at St. Elmo this week as he is working on a project for MacLaren Engineers, London, with Kraft Foods Ltd. Ingleside, Ontario, and commuting to work.

The many friends of the Rev. Dr. W. Lloyd MacLellan of Morrisburg were greatly shocked at the news of his death on Tuesday, Dec. 29. Dr. MacLellan has been well known and highly esteemed in Glengarry, having been the minister of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Cornwall, from 1955 to 1974. During those years and later Dr. MacLellan preached (on occasions) in the pulpits of the churches of Glengarry.

The funeral service for Dr. MacLellan was held in St. John's Church, Cornwall, on Saturday Jan. 2 at 2 p.m. and was conducted by the minister of St. John's Church, Rev. Fred H. Rennie, assisted by Dr. Donald N. MacMillan of Avonmore and the Rev. Bruce Kemp of Knox Presbyterian Church, Morrisburg. Following cremation, burial will take place in Bethel Presbyterian Cemetery, Scotsburn, Nova Scotia.

DRA curling bonspiel to be held Jan. 16

For all those folks on your list who you forgot at Christmas, you have tomorrow to redeem yourself. "Little Christmas" gives us a second chance to be thoughtful. It's also the day our tree comes down along with the other decorations and for a while the house looks mighty bare.

January has little to recommend it. This is the month of stale dated cheques and broken resolutions; a stop gap between New Year's and Valentine's Day. You can have January!

A reminder — Jui Jitsu starts again Wed., Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Don't forget the DRA curling bonspiel, Jan. 16 at the Maxville Curling Club. After the all-day bonspiel, there will be a roast beef supper at 7:30 p.m. followed by the annual meeting and distribution of the day's prizes. You don't have to know how to curl to enjoy the day so call any of the following ladies if you would like to be on a team or attend the supper. It's $9 per person. Reservations must be made by Sat., Jan. 9. Please phone Linda Wightman, 525-1412, Dona Addison, 527-5472 or Lynda Heinsma, 524-2299.
