Trapped woman killed by train

Trapped on the railway bridge at Lancaster while trying to save her dog, a Cornwall woman, Jenny Hilda Binette, 763 Glengarry Blvd. was fatally injured, Saturday, when struck by the CNR's Rapido. She was 27.

Mrs. Binette died shortly after reaching hospital in Cornwall.

Her death was the second in 10 days involving a train and a woman in this area. At Maxville, April 7th, Mrs. Alex McGillivray, 80, met death when struck by a train at the Main St. crossing.

According to the report of Lancaster OPP, Saturday's fatality occurred at 11:55 a.m. when Mrs. Binette ran onto the railway bridge after her dog. The Toronto-bound Rapido struck the woman and threw her against the bridge superstructure from where she plummetted into the Raisin River. Fishermen rescued her from the water and she was rushed from Dan's Place to hospital in Cornwall where death ensued.

Mrs. Binette had come to the area with her husband who was planning to fish, police report.

To mourn she leaves her husband, Maurice Binette and one daughter, Sandra Lynn. Also surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Devries, two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral was held Tuesday in Cornwall.

Alexandria women injured in accident

Two Alexandria women are still in hospital as the result of a car collision at the intersection of Highway 43 and Maxville side road on Saturday night.

Mrs. Gertrude McDonald was released from the Intensive Care Unit in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, on Tuesday but remains in hospital. She suffered two fractures of her right leg, a broken thumb, facial cuts and bruises.

Her sister, Mrs. Alexandra McHugh is in Glengarry Memorial Hospital with a cracked pelvis, numerous cuts to her legs and forehead and multiple bruises.

They were returning from a visit to Mrs. McDonald's husband, Gerald McDonald who was a patient in Hotel Dieu following surgery. They were both passengers in the rear seat of a car owned and driven by Chris McDonald of Ottawa, a son of the couple. He and his wife, Susan, who was also riding in the front seat were unharmed beyond bruises and a shaking-up.

Maxville OPP report that a car driven by Maurice Beckstead of Long Sault was travelling south on the Maxville road when it came into collision with another vehicle driven by Chris McDonald of Ottawa, which was heading east on Highway 43.

Also in the Beckstead car was Elburn Crites of Ingleside. Both Mr. Crites and Mr. Beckstead suffered minor injuries and were treated at the Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

Both cars were write-offs.

Maxville and area open blitz for arena

Plans were completed at a largely attended meeting of enthusiastic workers on Monday evening in the Maxville Community Hall to conduct a three-day canvass blitz seeking funds to build the proposed new Maxville and District arena complex. Residents of Maxville village, Roxborough and Kenyon Township will be called on this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The sum target to be raised in this canvass is $198,000. The overall cost of the complex is $781,000. This amount includes architect and building construction supervision, bank interest on short term loans. Also the arena and community hall furnishings.

The campaign has already begun with the Maxville Lions club confirming their pledge of $30,000. Canvassers in the crowd acclaimed this announcement and added further applause when Roxborough Reeve, George Crites, stated that his township will pledge $15,000 and he, personally, will add $1,000.

The anticipated tax base donations from the municipalities involved is $50,000.

Mac Thompson of Thompson and Associates Consulting Engineers, Cornwall, was the first speaker called on by chairman Bill Campbell. Assisted by a large-sized color sketch of the proposed building, Mr. Thompson outlined the construction plans in detail. A lengthy question period followed. Several workers sought a breakdown of different aspects of the arena, community hall and facilities. Mr. Thompson's explanations were thorough and easily understood especially in reference to advantages that have been realized from construction experience gained during the past few years.

Chairman Bill Campbell, who is also Board chairman, gave a chalk-talk breakdown of grants and expected donations showing how the total sum of $781,000 is expected to be achieved.

Frank Morgan, community complex superintendent, Winchester, gave an informative and interesting talk especially relative to what he considered the possibilities of the Maxville and District project. The basis of his discourse was revealing the services rendered to the Winchester area people and yearly revenue earned. He congratulated those who first outlined the type of building desired and Mac Thompson's completed plan from the data provided. Obviously a knowledgeable personality, Frank Morgan predicted that when completed, the complex would be a practical community centre in a every sense of the word. He told the workers this would be a building to be proud of and this was sufficient reason to ring door bells with enthusiasm and confidence.

Fund raising chairman, Garry Smith, described to workers the procedure of completing canvass cards. He stressed the need of accuracy to meet the demands of Wintario audit especially.

Canvass captain of Roxborough, Reeve George Crites, assured the meeting that his township would be thoroughly covered. He pointed out that our youth cannot be in two places at the one time. If they are provided with recreation facilities and capably supervised, they will not be a problem in the community or their home. He concluded his well received remarks that he was so sincere in what he had said that he was handing over his personal contribution of $1,000.

Walter Blaney, Kenyon Agriculture Society representative and Kenyon Township canvass captain, advised that he has already explored the donation possibilities of Kenyon and he was very pleased with the results. So much so that he challenged Roxborough and Maxville, individually, to top Kenyon's contribution.

Maxville's captain, Arnold Munro, is asking all citizens to show the same enthusiasm both in spirit and donations as they did in the Maxville Manor campaign of some 10 years ago. By doing so, and there is no reason to prevent a repetition, then we are on our way to complete success, he concluded.

The three captains all have several vice-captains. Prior to closing the meeting, chairman Bill Campbell thanked both Mac Thompson and Frank Morgan for their informative remarks that would be so helpful to all concerned. He also expressed to the Board's public relations and publicity director, Angus H. McDonell, appreciation and gratitude by area sport fans for his recent Glengarry News articles recalling the accomplishments of the Maxville Millionaires.

This was of great help in the success of closing the old rink

Teachers offer to resume mediation

High School teachers in the local federations voted to return to work within 24 hours notice from their Takeover Team at a meeting held in Cornwall on Monday, providing the Board agreed in writing to a process of voluntary binding arbitration.

Teacher members approved this resolution with a secret ballot of 463 to one.

They also voted overwhelmingly in favor of a resolution to submit all matters in dispute to voluntary binding arbitration.

The meeting was called, advised Peter Norman, chairman of the Provincial Takeover Team, to obtain member approval of a course to follow to settle the currernt dispute.

The suggestion was that both the Board and teacher federations invite Harvey Ladd, who has already acted as mediator in the dispute, to return for a further session of mediation. Following no more than 12 hours mediation he would write a report containing a solution of all unresolved items. This would be accepted plus the final offer of the Board under Section 64 (d) of Bill 100 on all "matters agreed upon" by the parties as an agreement.

All teachers were in favor of the move.

Teachers present were anxious that their side of the story be publicized and thought an ad should be placed in local newspapers to explain the teacher position.

Gordon Higgins, local teacher negotiator said several statements released by the Board were "misleading and half-truths." The issue of negotiability of working conditions was a smoke screen because the advertising claim was incomplete. It is not what they said, it is what they did not say. There is a guarantee, but only until June 30th, 1978."

Motion for a vote of confidence in the Takeover Team resulted in a prolonged standing ovation by the full body of teachers present.

The teachers object strongly to the clause offered by the Board regarding the staffing of schools because agreement has to be reached by March 31st or the Board then assumes responsibility for the remainder of the year.

This would give the Board an advantage in that they could delay agreements until the deadline was up and then have full power, the teachers felt.

Members were told they had to perform a minimum of five hours strike duty each.

Credits for subjects could be granted only by the teachers, in spite of private studies students might pursue, the group was reminded.

Board will not agree to arbitration

At a meeting of the SD&G County School Board on Tuesday, the Board was agreeable on one of the items proposed by the teachers—the suggestion to resume further mediation talks with a view to settlement.

But for the teachers' request for voluntary binding arbitration the Board will not agree. It further requests that the teachers agree to a secret vote on the Board's last proposal.

The Education Relations Commission has agreed to supervise this vote, providing the teachers are agreeable.

Two federal grants to county

Two grants under the Canada Works program have been allotted to Glengarry, reports Denis Ethier, MP. They are among six coming to Glengarry-Prescott-Russell.

A grant of $15,173 to the ARC Industries of Alexandria, is for "Materials and Methods for French-speaking mentally retarded in Ontario." ARC manager Allan Burn explains the grant is made in conjunction with the Ontario Association for the Mentally Retarded and will be used to translate instructional material into French for use in a pilot project with ARC workshop.

The second grant is to Salem Church, Summerstown, in the amount of $5,579. It will be used in enlarging and cleaning up the cemetery.

Injured in car accident

Michael Larocque, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Larocque of Alexandria remains in hospital in Valleyfield following a car accident Friday night just east of Ste. Justine.

He underwent surgery for severe internal injuries to the abdomen and is reported to be progressing favorably.

Passengers in the car, all teenagers, Michael Lavigne, Yves Belair of Alexandria and Gilles Poirier of the Brown House escaped without injury.

The car is reported to have gone out of control, hit a culvert and rolled over several times. The vehicle, a 1969 Pontiac is a complete loss.

Firemen run three times Tuesday to grass fires

Grass fires continue to plague Alexandria firemen and Chief Gerald Charlebois reports the brigade has been called out three times a day since Wednesday of last week.

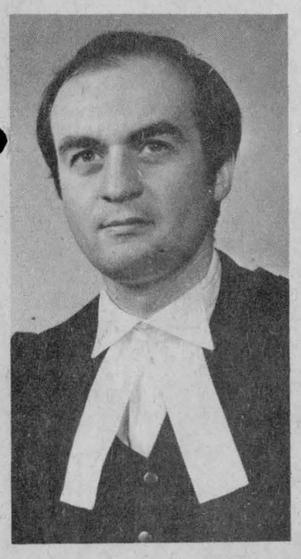
Tuesday's calls came within a two-hour period in the afternoon starting at 1:26 when the summons was to the Monastery of the Precious Blood.

A grass fire believed started by children threatened the monastery and spread south toward Ecole Rouleau school. At the monastery a shed and wooden fence were lost as well as a cedar hedge, trees and a wooden cross.

At 2:15 the call was to Glen Norman where the barn of Aldege Seguin was destroyed by a fire which started in grass behind the barn.

Origin of the blaze was not known.

The firemen were out again at 3:30 to the home of Mrs. Jardine on Front Street. A grass fire spread to a log fence and from there to the garage but firemen saved the building.



CALLED TO THE BAR—A. Lawrence Filion, BA (Hons.); LL.B.; has been called to the Bar of Ontario by the Law Society of Upper Canada, in convocation on March 25, 1977. Mr. Filion is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrien J. Filion of Alexandria, and is associated in the practice of law with the firm of Bergeron, Follon and Filion of Cornwall and Alexandria.

ARDA grant for woodwork firm

An Eastern Ontario woodworking firm has been awarded a $6,300 ARDA grant which will enable it to modernize and expand its line of products.

A. A. Lamb Company of Alexandria, now does general woodworking and millwork such as fabrication of cabinets and windows. New equipment, including a wood tapping machine and design saw and sharpener, will help in the production of brush handles, craft supplies and stereo component enclosures.

The Lamb plant is in the Glen Norman area.

Promoted with police force

Ian MacKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacKinnon, 4th Kenyon, this week has been promoted in rank to Staff-Sergeant of the Ottawa Police Department by Chief Leo Seguin.

Staff-Sergeant MacKinnon is married to the former Yolande Lauzon of Alexandria. They have four children, Ian Gregory, Danielle, Brian and Barry.

Committee to plan constitution

The preparation of a constitution and by-laws is now in the works for the Glengarry Inter-Agency Group Inc. following the establishment of a committee for this purpose.

Members of the Inter-Agency executive were appointed for this purpose at Friday's monthly meeting at the Church on the Hill. However, they reserved the right to add to their numbers for the purpose of preparing a draft.

As only 12 members were in attendance at the meeting members felt that it was not the time to appoint individuals to work on such a committee.

Joan Cho-Sic stated that it may help if members other than the executive were to work on this committee. "We need some new blood," she stated, "and possibly volunteers would be the best solution."

"Don't you have any faith in your executive?" was the response she received from Sylvio Cleroux.

"That's not the point," said Joan Cho-Sic. She felt new blood would be to the advantage of the committee.

A draft will be circulated prior to its approval by members of the Inter-Agency.

Call tenders for sewage contract

Tenders are called this week for the improvements to Alexandria's sewage lagoons. Local officials see an early start on the work which has been in the discussion stage for more than ten years.

The tenders call for new pumps and modification to the pumping station, addition of a fourth lagoon and aeration of all four.

Tenders are to be in by May 4th.

Maxville man recreation director

Don Gamble of Maxville is the new recreation director of Ottawa and he was recently featured in a Journal story. He is the 42-year-old son of Dr. D. M. and Mrs. Gamble of Maxville.

In his new post Gamble runs a small empire consisting of 13 community centres, 42 community schools, eight indoor swimming pools, eight beaches, 59 wading pools, 106 playgrounds, eight arenas, 74 outdoor rinks, a football field, six soccer fields and other facilities.

The city also maintains 36 baseball and 67 softball diamonds, 27 tennis courts, the Mooney's Bay sports complex, a fitness trail, golf course and a drop-in centre.

Gamble argues that the high cost of municipal recreation can be reduced if private developers can be drawn into the field. A skating arena may cost as much as $200,000 a year to operate, he explains, but half the amount is interest on the capital borrowed to build the arena.

"If an arena were built by a private developer and rented to the city for, say, $75,000 a year, think of the saving to the taxpayer." But, can developers be enticed into building arenas? Gamble believes it possible.

OLD TIMERS VISIT OLD TIMERS—Members of the one-time famous Maxville Millionaires hockey club, together with other parade participants, visited the Manor Saturday morning. Each parade entry made a point of passing by the Manor. The event was organized to mark the end of an era, the closing of the old Maxville arena. Later that evening the arena held its last ever hockey game between the Maxville Flames and the Maxville Old Timers . . . a younger group than those being transported by the Clydesdales. —Staff photo

The house of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Aldege Seguin, is seen in the background. Luckily neighbors were able to remove a 16-tire tractor-trailer unit which was parked alongside the building when the fire broke out. —Staff photo

Inter-Agency plans workshops in area

The Ministry of Community and Social Services has granted the Glengarry Inter-Agency Inc. $2.500 as working capital for its many projects. One of these will be to conduct a workshop of all parties interested in the restoration of the old mill.

One of the reasons we would like to become involved in the mill restoration, said Agency Secretary-Treasurer Eugene Legault, is to create employment in the area through its restoration.

Allan Vallance, Past Chairman of the Agency, felt that involving the group in such a project would be to spread themselves a little thin.

The Inter-Agency has sent a letter to the Ministry of Community and Social Services listing what the $2,500 grant would primarily be used for.

FIRE REPORTS

Four fires in two days have kept the Glen Sandfield area people on the move. One on Sunday at the home of Ian MacLachlan when his small grass fire got away from him. The other on Sunday afternoon started on the Mulder farm This second fire was far more extensive, jumping the fence and onto the adjacent farm of Joe Valiere and was finally halted at a log fence bordering a plowed field on the border line of the Van Nooten farm. Fire fighters had their work cut out for them containing this one.

Monday afternoon still another fire started by a bit of paper being burned in the bottom of a drum on Stanley Fraser's farm. His father, John Fraser, turned his back for a minute, and suddenly the whole area was in flames. When the neighbors arrived to help the shed was ablaze and the fire was licking at the hen house, and the home. The wooden barn close by was untouched, but a beautiful juniper evergreen tree was burned.

The neighbors formed a bucket brigade to keep the flames from spreading to the buildings and saved the house by beating the fire out with shovels, plywood or what ever came to hand. Mr. Fraser was a might shaken up, but is fine otherwise.

The firemen were prompt and efficient and soon had the burning building soaked and the smoldering eliminated.

Speaking afterwards, the Fire Chief, Gerald Charlebois, stated that their main problem in many cases is finding the location of the trouble. "If people would only give the name of the former owners of the property," he said, "in all probability it is well known and would save time."

He also has stickers for everyone who wants them with the number of the fire department. These can be stuck on the telephone to be handy when needed. Also when calling give your name and "a clear location" direction to the department, to enable them to give you better service when called.

Later Monday afternoon another grass fire was reported south west of the village at Real Seguin's other farm. It was burning along the road and had caught in the split rail fence near the Don O'Neil place. Area residents got that one put out with everybody rallying round to help. They thought that a lit cigaret tossed out of a car window may have started it.

STORMONT, DUNDAS & GLENGARRY COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

NOTICE TO OUR STUDENTS AND OUR COMMUNITY ON THE PRESENT SECONDARY TEACHERS STRIKE

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education deeply regrets the inconvenience that is being caused throughout our community as a result of the secondary school teachers strike.

The Board has been doing and will continue to do everything in its power to make available to students, any form of assistance possible. Schools are open for study purposes, and volunteers are beginning to assist students. Students may pick up course outlines for any course they are following.

All students should follow their local media for individual school arrangements.

In spite of the efforts made by this Board we must sill appeal to every member of our community to work with us and to assist us in any way possible.

The most important aspect in the student's present predicament is individual study. We encourage students to work together and to work on their own in this regard. We are willing and ready to help, but in this very difficult and trying time everyone must do his fair share.

TO OUR SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHERS

We are now entering the third week of a very difficult, very trying situation for all concerned.

The Board understands the teacher's right to strike. We will continue to do everything possible for the student. We also assure you that we will continue to negotiate. We have made, what we consider to be a very fair offer, on what seems to be the major issue in dispute.

There seems to be doubt among those concerned as to exactly what this offer is. Therefore, for your information we are providing here our offer exactly as it was submitted in writing to the Teacher's Negotiating Team, on April 9, 1977.

We believe this offer goes a long way toward meeting your request. Let there be no doubt that this offer is in writing and is open to our teachers to accept.

PRINTED BELOW IS THE STORMONT, DUNDAS AND GLENGARRY COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION' S LATEST PROPOSAL

The following is a proposal by the Board's Negotiating Team in efforts to resolve the current labor dispute between the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education and its Secondary School Teachers.

Article 23:04

a] Recommendations resulting from reviews conducted in accordance with Article 23:03 [b] and [c] will be presented to the Board no later than October 31st in any school year.

b] The Board will make known its decision to the Staffing Allocation Review Committee no later than November 15 in any school year.

c] Decisions of the Board, in accordance with Article 23:04 [b] concerning grievances related to the application of the Letters of Commitment, may be appealed to a tribunal.

d] i] The tribunal will consist of—

1] one Federation appointee
2] one Board appointee
3] a Chairman selected from the community at large, who is mutually acceptable to both parties.

ii] In the event the parties cannot agree upon a Chairman, the Education Relations Commission will make the appointment of the Chairman who shall be selected from the community at large.

Article 23:05

The appeal tribunal shall render a binding decision by December 15 in any school year concerning grievances related to the application of the Letters of Commitment.

Article 23:06

a] No modification will be made to the Letters of Commitment for the term specified in the Letters of Commitment unless mutually agreed upon by both parties.

b] Any renewal of the Letters of Commitment beyond the term specified in the Letters of Commitment will be negotiated by both parties.

Old Timers end busy season with a win

There is only one good way to end a hockey season and that is to go out winners. The Alexandria Old Timers did exactly that last weekend when they won the "A" series trophy at a Masson, Que., tournament.

On Saturday, they took on a team from the Hull School Commission and defeated them by the somewhat lopsided score of 6 to 2. Scoring for Alexandria were Roger Menard and Leo Denis Payment each with a pair and singles from Roger Menard and Denis Martin.

This game placed them in the "A" series race and they let it be known that they would be the team to beat when they won their next game against Aylmer 6 to 2.

Alexandria point getters in this win were Denis Martin with two and singles from Roger Menard, Glen Slater, Leo Denis Payment and Stanley Fraser.

The host team of Masson were the next to fall to Alexandria. However they managed to do it with a little more opposition, the final tally, 4 to 3.

Stanley Fraser scored twice for Alexandria. Maurice Payment and Glen Slater each recorded single goals.

The final and trophy winning game of the tournament saw Alexandria show their stuff when they defeated a Buckingham team 5 to 3.

Gilles Lefebvre made two of their points with the remainder coming off the sticks of Roger Menard, Jean Yves Jeaurond, and Leo Denis Payment who was voted the MVP of the tournament.

This series marked the end of the season for the Alexandria Old Timers and one heck of a season it was with a game schedule that compares to the NHL.

They played 74 games this season which included five tournaments. The "A" trophy was won in three of them.

Their first win was in their own Old Timers tournament in Alexandria. Then a week before they were to go to Britain they won a Hawkesbury tournament.

Their British trip proved quite successful as they won all four of their contests. It could be included in their trophy case.

They did, however, have some disastrous games. The worst of these must have been the time they hosted the Montreal Old Pros and lost 18 to 6.

If nothing else, and as a result of this game, they hold the record for filling the Alexandria Sports Palace. They did such a good job of advertising the event and provided such a good evening of hockey entertainment that there wasn't anything but standing room to be had.

LAST MOMENTS FOR MAXVILLE ARENA—The Old Timers had played their game and the doors of the Jubilee rink at Maxville were about to be closed for the last time, Saturday night, when our camera caught this group of former greats. Stars entered in tournament

by Carman MacMillan

The Florida weather was great. It was between 80 and 95° all of the two weeks we were there. Meanwhile, the Glengarry Stars (on the home front) were playing their first and last cup game. The boys with a depleted squad took on the South Ottawa Internationals and were defeated in the first game of the cup round. The score was 12 to eight.

The boys only had eight players at the game and both teams lost a player due to rough play. One player was sick, Allan Byers was on crutches due to an ankle injury, Doug Howes was taking the soccer referee's course in Ottawa and the other six players were in Florida.

The boys put on a valiant effort but came away on the losing end. Goal scorers were John MacPherson, 5, Herbie Maley, 2 and Earl MacLennan, 1.

The Stars are now entered in the Royals Indoor Soccer Tournament on May 7th and 8th and then are sponsoring their own tournament in the new Glengarry Sports Palace on the weekend of May 14th and 15th. They are having a dance above the rink in the new hall from 9 to 1 with music by the Cobblers.

Any team wishing to enter must be registered in its own league or with the Ottawa or Montreal leagues and the players or player may only play for one club.

The final day for registration is the 20th of April. There is a $40 entry fee with a guarantee of three games.

Contact John MacPherson as soon as possible at 874-2754 or RR3, Dalkeith.

Don't be late.

To replace Citizen Shield

Maxville will have a "Citizen Shield" to place in its Sports Hall of Fame after all.

Attempts to retrieve the historic old plaque won four times by the Maxville Millionaires have been fruitless but an offer to replace it was sent to Angus H. McDonell who had written to the Ottawa Citizen in an attempt to trace it.

A letter from Ben Babelowsky of the Citizen not only offers to replace the Shield but also offers a donation of $100 to add to the fund-raising campaign.

Luckily there are pictures of the Shield around that still record the winners on each of the little name plates so an exact duplicate can be made.

Organize lacrosse at Williamstown

Registrations for minor lacrosse will take place in Char-Lan Auditorium with a view to forming minor leagues.

Due to a grant last year, the unit is fully equipped with pads and lacrosse sticks.

Registration will take place on Friday, April 29th and Friday, May 13th from 5—9 p.m. and April 30th and May 14th from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Boys may range in age from seven to 18 as of January 1, 1977.

The executive is hoping to have local leagues with Lancaster Township and Cornwall Township.

Bob Sheets is president of the executive and directors are Vern Soloway, Shane Grant, Mike MacMillan and Kevin Ceaser.

Volunteer coaches will also be sought as registration warrants.

SCORING CHAMP—Glenn Cookson of St. Catharines had 25 goals and 18 assists to win the scoring championship of the Lions Midget Hockey League in St. Kitts. He was also named Most Valuable Player as his team won the pennant. Glenn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cookson of St. Catharines and a grandson of Innis MacDonald, Maxville Manor.

Alexandria wins five straight fight for second place close

The Alexandria team is guaranteed a slot in the Glengarry News Cup finals scheduled for Friday, April 22nd. However their opponents were to be decided last night (Wednesday).

Apple Hill was to have played Williamstown. If Apple Hill won they will be facing Alexandria. But if they lost, either Williamstown or Glen Nevis will be the opposition. Which one of these two is decided by a goals average and it all depends on how well Williamstown did on the score board last night.

Alexandria has won all five of their games. However, both Lancaster and Lochiel have lost three of the five which has eliminated them from any possibility of winning the old trophy.

Games during the past week were Tuesday, April 12th, when Lancaster went down to Glen Nevis 13 to 1 in Williamstown.

Making the single point for Lancaster was Bert MacDonald. Scoring for Glen Nevis was Wendall Lafave with a hat trick; Kenny MacDonald, Jacques Cusick and Raymond Poirier each with a pair and singles from Tom Ross, Hubert McDonell, Andre Poirier and Ewen McLeod.

The following Wednesday, Williamstown won on their home ice 5 to 4 over Lochiel.

Point getters for Williamstown were Claude Bourck, Roger Deschamp, Andre Tessier, Mike Wolf and Rick Ray. Lochiel made its four goals with a pair from Greg MacCulloch and singles from Paul Poirier and Ralph MacSweyn.

On Thursday, April 14th, Apple Hill kept open their hopes for a slot in the play-offs when they defeated Glen Nevis 4 to 1 in Alexandria.

Mike Prieur made it two for Apple Hill and singles were registered by Sandy MacDonell and Pierre Guindon. The single Glen Nevis point came off the stick of Wendall Lafave.

Then on Friday, Glen Nevis improved their chances for the finals when they won over Williamstown 8 to 3.

Bob Cuerrier was the big Glen Nevis goal getter that evening when he put four past the Williamstown net minder. Tom Ross made it two more and singles came from Ken MacDonald and Jacques Cusick.

Williamstown made their three goals with a pair from Mike Wolfe and a single from Earl McBean.

That same evening, in Alexandria, the Town defeated Lochiel 5 to 3. A pair of points were recorded by both Roch Lajoie and Claude Roy for Alexandria and a single by Paul Seguin.

Lochiel's trio came as a pair from Paul Poirier and a single from Lee Taillefer.

Apple Hill went on to defeat Lancaster 7 to 1 later that Friday evening at the Sports Palace.

Lancaster's single was made by Kenny MacKay and the Apple Hill goals were registered: a pair each from Pierre Guindon and Brian Wensink, singles by Richard MacDonell, Luc Guindon and Alex MacDonell.

Saturday's play in the Char-Lan arena had Lancaster over Lochiel 7 to 2.

Point getters for Lancaster were Bert MacDonald and Glen Bethune each with a pair. Singles came from George MacDonald, Brian Fisher and Ian MacKay.

Howard Cameron and Greg MacCulloch each scored single points for Lochiel.

Williamstown and Alexandria gave the crowd a good game Saturday at the Sports Palace when the visitors were able to hold the home town boys to a one point advantage of 8 to 7.

Gilles Lauzon made a hat trick for Alexandria and singles were scored by Norman Laliberte, Paul Seguin, Rod Shepherd, Frank St. Pierre and Roch Lajoie.

Williamstown registered a hat trick off the stick of Andy Tessier and a pair of points from Nick Wolf. Singles were scored by Claude Bourck and Rick Roy.

Monday night was the last game within the time slot of this issue and it was a win for Alexandria over Lancaster by the one-sided score of 14 to 2.

Unfortunately there wasn't much competition as Lancaster had already been eliminated from any possibility of making the finals.

A hat trick was registered by Alexandria's Roch Lajoie and a pair came from Wayne Cameron. Singles were scored by Frank St. Pierre, Claude Roy, Yvon Desautels, Cameron McCormick, Ewen McCormick, Wally MacDonell, Gilles Lauzon, John Charlebois and Glen MacDonell.

If readers were at last night's game between Apple Hill and Williamstown at the Sports Palace, then they already know who is in the final playdown. If not we will have it next week together with results from the first three finals' GAMES.

Finals will be a best of seven series in the Glengarry Sports Palace on Friday, April 22nd at 8 p.m.; Saturday, April 23rd at 8 p.m.; Monday, April 25th at 9 p.m.; and Wednesday, April 27th at 8 p.m. Additional games will be played, if needed, on Friday, April 29th at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 30th at 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 1st at 1:30 p.m.

Golf club opens season on weekend

Some golfing enthusiasts have already been out on the Glengarry course fairways but the season will officially open this weekend when the clubhouse will be open for business.

It will be one of the earliest openings in the club's history.

Workmen have been busy with the spring clean-up over the past ten days and much of the debris consisted of tree branches. Many dead and dying elms were cut down through the winter.

Greens' Chairman Emile Hurtubise reports most of the greens came through the winter well but No. 9 green suffered considerable winterkill and may not be playable for a few weeks. Temporary tees will be used this weekend.

Vince Barker will again be in charge of the clubhouse and he has been supervising considerable alterations to the main floor. The changes were called for by the Ontario Liquor Control Board before a permit is granted the club.

A. Massie died suddenly

A lifetime resident of Alexandria and the area, Arcadius Massie died Sunday, April 17 in Glengarry Memorial Hospital. His death at 87 followed a heart attack suffered earlier that morning.

Member of a prominent local family Mr. Massie was a son of Ferdinand Massie and his wife, Marie Louise Belair. A successful farmer in the McCormick Road area, he came to reside here some 25 years ago. Active in Sacred Heart parish, he was among the founders of the Caisse Populaire in that parish.

Twice married, to Ada Clement and following her death to Ida Sabourin, he leaves to mourn, his wife, two sons and four daughters. They are: Georges and Gerard Massie of Alexandria; Mrs. Conrad Levert (Lucille); Mrs. Germaine Levert; Mrs. Bruno Levert (Marie-Anne), all of Alexandria; Mrs. Gerard Brunet (Noella) of St. Raphael's.

Two brothers and six sisters also survive: Ovila and Elie Massie, Alexandria; Mrs. Lucinda Valade, Sister Joseph Avila, Sister Aime Lantel, Mrs. Victor Marceau, all of Montreal; Mrs. Amedee Belanger of Chatham; Sister Helena Massie of Windsor. There are 32 grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the Aime Marcoux Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church and cemetery.

Six grandsons acted as pallbearers, Robert, Jean-Paul and Jean-Guy Levert, Maurice and Claude Brunet, Jean-Pierre Massie.

In Ontario bridge play

Roger and Maurice Lemieux, Alexandria, will be members of an area team which qualified to play in the Ontario Bridge championships at Toronto over the May holiday weekend. Winners of the Ontario event go on to the Canadian finals of the World Bridge Olympiad.

Playing with the Lemieux boys will be Garry Hartle, Cornwall, and Dave Thurber, Prescott.

Play started at the local level a month ago and unit representation was decided in play at Cornwall.

Couple celebrate golden wedding

On Saturday, April 9th, the family, brothers and sisters of Carlyle and Martha Watt (nee McLennan) gathered at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hall, South Lancaster, to celebrate the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. A supper was enjoyed by 32 members of the family. Gifts were presented by their grandchildren, their family and their brothers and sisters.

On Sunday afternoon an open house was held at the church hall when many friends, neighbors and relatives gathered to extend best wishes.

A presentation was made to Carlyle and Martha by the session of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church for their many years of faithful service.

Messages of congratulations were received from the Prime Minister, the Governor General, the Premier of Ontario and Osie Villeneuve, MPP.

Mr. and Mrs. Watt were married at the home of the bride, on March 9th, 1927 with Rev. Dr. Whitlans of Georgetown, Que., officiating, assisted by Rev. Montieth of Lancaster.

Also present were Mrs. Watt's sisters, Misses Mary Jane and Catherine Ann McLennan of Lancaster and her brother, Cattanach McLennan of Bainsville; also two sisters of Mr. Watt, Miss Martha Watt of Hamilton and Margaret, Mrs. Bob Douglas of Hamilton. Two other brothers were unable to be present, Bill Watt of Toronto and Donald Watt of California.

CWL met at nursing home on April 14th

The St. Finnan's Council of the Catholic Women's League held their monthly meeting at the Community Nursing Home on April 14th with Mrs. Lorne Lawson presiding. The Bible reading was given by Mrs. Don MacPhee. Mrs. Rachel Conway stated that Mary Matthews, head of the Catholic Women's League of Canada had been appointed by the Pope to both the Council for the Laity and the Committee for the Family.

A panel discussion on Family Life followed with Mrs. Don MacPhee, Mrs. Anne Bergeron and Mrs. Rachel Conway participating. Mrs. MacPhee spoke on the problems created by equal opportunities for women in a two-wage-earner family. She stressed the necessity for compromise and advocated marriage council courses for young people contemplating marriage in order to avoid the selfish negative attitudes of many of today's couples. Mrs. Anne Bergeron discussed the problems of the working mother in today's society. Inflation has made two incomes necessary but with proper planning and the stress of "togetherness" as a Christian family unit was very necessary. Parents must be selective in activities and creative in planning outings, etc.

Mrs. Rachel Conway related her experiences in a one-parent family, raising five children alone. A happy family life coupled with true christian philosophy solved many problems.

Cans of coins collected for peace and development during Lent are being sent to Mrs. Marion McDonald who will forward the money to the diocesan convenor.

The Priest's Mass will be held at St. Joseph's Villa, Cornwall, on May 5th at 7:30 p.m. with Father Leo MacDonell officiating.

Mrs. Jack Reid has graciously made all the roses for sale on Mother's Day. It was suggested that the Brownies be in charge of selling the roses.

The new slate of officers for 1977-78 is as follows: President, Mrs. Ranald MacDonald; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Sandra MacDonald; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Inez McPherson; Secretary, Mrs. Sandra MacDonald; Treasurer, Mrs. Marion McDonald.

The annual CWL dinner is being scheduled for early in June and a Bake Sale will be held in May.

The role of women in the church was discussed and it was suggested that women volunteer as lectors at the parish masses.

It was moved by Mrs. Theresa Lemieux and seconded by Mrs. Inez McPherson that the CWL and the parish Youth Group take charge of the panda booth at the Lions' Club celebration of Canada Day, July 1st.

A letter from Miss Alice McGillis, diocesan convenor of communications, concerning the growing threat of pornography in our media was read by Mrs. I. MacPherson.

Mrs. Cameron McCormick asked for volunteers to assist the nursing home patients in writing letters to relatives. She also thanked the CWL for the weekly bingos sponsored by them at the Nursing Home.

Group advised on parenting

Parents give up their right to affection and devotion that goes with parenting when they fail to take the time to listen and try to understand the trials experienced by the adolescent of today, claims Mike Evans, councillor and resident supervisor at St. Lawrence College and Ottawa University.

Mr. Evans, who holds degrees in philosophy, theology, education and psychology addressed the St. Raphael's CWL at their membership dinner at the Sports Palace in Alexandria on April 13th.

The adolescent is in conflict with a mechanized world in which he must find a place for himself in an age replete with many absurdities where consumers lend their energies to the pursuit of things rather than a search for serenity and brotherhood.

Parents should turn off their larnyx and turn on their ears, advised the speaker.

To be discontent with things as they are is not wrong; the modern teenager today is not the ironic character of the comic strip. His conversation with his fellow students is often concerned with justice, economic stability, life and death, the role of the government. He wants justice tempered with mercy and equality followed by humanity and does not deserve to be shot down.

Students see one of their basic human rights—the right to work jeopardized by machines and picture themselves as slaves of an environment. They feel they must seek a culture that depends on a reasonable standard of values in a future that would be civilized, with a love of beauty and elegance.

In order to cope with their adolescent's attempt to reach for the recognition and evidence he counts in this society, a lot of homework has to be done by parents.

Mr. Evans was introduced by Mrs. Cuthbert MacDonald and thanked by Mrs. Cuthbert MacDonald.

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

If you wish to see the valleys, climb to the mountain top;
If you desire to see the mountain top, rise into the cloud;
But if you seek to understand the cloud, close your eyes and think.
—Kahlil Gibran

Here in the United Counties we are currently under a cloud never before experienced in this area as our school strike goes into its third week. At time of writing there is no forecast of sun.

We are experiencing a period of growth that started back in '68-'69 when our school boards amalgamated and the growing pains are upon us. These affect more than 9,000 students, all their parents, 553 teachers and their families, the administration, trustees, maintenance men, bus drivers,—the list grows and grows. Has any one "happening" in this area ever affected so many people adversely as this teacher strike?

Students expecting to go on to college are shattered. The junior grades will be facing a lack of foundation for their future years.

Parents wring their hands as they watch their children hang around the house, watching late movies and sleeping-in half the day, picking up lazy habits that will be difficult to cope with for weeks to come.

So whose fault is it? What caused it all? And will any good come of it?

Communication! It all boils down to just this. In our overgrown school system we have got to learn how to sit down and talk to each other.

More than one school principal has said "No matter how this issue is resolved, our pupil-teacher relationship will never be the same."

During the past two weeks in this school controversy, I have attended large meetings, small meetings, meetings with the school board, meetings with the teacher federations, meetings with trustees and ratepayers, meetings with school committees, and observed a meeting of the entire area teaching staff as it met with its federation leaders.

It's been an enlightening experience although sad. It's a painful process to watch people one knows and respects lined up in two camps, each side convinced it is right, in a modern war.

The meetings have been serious as those involved attempt in vain to seek solutions.

I've watched our trustees, shot down mercilessly at public meetings as they tried to explain facets of the administration they could not possibly be expected to know. Some of the charges thrown at them were impolite, rude and downright disgraceful.

We have elected these trustees to represent us. Or maybe we didn't. Maybe they are there because no one was interested in opposing them. One seat on the board was vacant when elections were over last December because no one had offered his name for candidacy.

In retrospect, how many of us got together to decide on a member of the community we thought might qualify as a good representative? How many offered to get behind him (or her) to help run a campaign, to encourage him on to victory? Mea culpa, mea culpa.

These men are there to spend our money, and the budget we have allotted them is well up in the millions. They feel they have an obligation to the taxpayer to keep a control that will not raise taxes beyond ability to pay. They are firmly convinced their stand is just and their burden is heavy.

One person used a comparative to explain the role of the trustees. "They are something akin to a jury in a courtroom." A jury may know much less than a judge or lawyers about the law but this is the representation selected from the public; the average citizen chosen to have a say in the workings of our democracy.

Prominent in the board process is the administration, the highly qualified experts who make decisions about the whole system. Their role is unfamiliar to most parents and they have come under heavy fire in this controversy.

And then we have our teachers. It has been a shocking experience to see them on the picket line, some of them young and unfamiliar faces but mostly members of the teaching profession who have given us honorable and dedicated service for years and years. They are humiliated and frustrated beyond description as they must man the picket lines whether or not their vote was to strike. When you belong to a union you share the bad and the good.

I got an unexpected view of the teachers' side of it at their mass meeting in Cornwall on Monday, and afterwards in conversation with some of them. The ones I spoke to were bitter, frustrated and angry, but still determined their stand is necessary.

"It isn't any one specific factor. It is a whole build-up of little things over the years that has grown to the point where it must be checked."

"Ask the administrators to come and talk to us and the students. If they want to save money we can point out a lot of better ways to save. It isn't fancy "things" we need around a school, it is teachers who have time to work with the students."

'I've never done anything in my life I detested as much as this picketing. But if it means I'm going to get a better deal for the kids I teach, then I'm going to do a lot of marching."

Strange, I thought. Most of the parents I've spoken to have said, "Don't the teachers have any dedication to their profession any more?"

The frustration point the teachers seemed to emphasize was that they don't get their opinions across to the board. They won't in this process. The board and teachers are communicating through negotiators and not with each other.

It "ain't" like the old days when the board and teachers all sat down together to agree or disagree.

So, to the teachers who are striking I would say: "Write a letter." In it, place your venom, your expression of frustration, your disappointment, your despair and address it to the board chairman. Then tear up your letter. Repeat the process until you have come up with a sensible, well-thought-out assessment of your particular position with some genuine ideas for improvement and mail this one. And send me a carbon copy!

People who have expressed the opinion teachers are being manipulated by their take-over team as I have heard many suggest, should have been at their Monday meeting in Cornwall and witnessed the thunderous standing ovation given the negotiators by the audience present, almost 500 teachers.

The board has repeatedly said the teachers have given no evidence of mistrust. But if they have grounds for dissatisfaction, and they may well have, it is high time they produced some straight-forward examples of their position to the board and to the public.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Grass fires can prove expensive

Alexandria firemen have been called out of town to several grass fires in recent days and these calls must constitute a considerable charge on the property-owners involved. We are left wondering if there might be residents of town and area still ignorant of the fact they could be letting themselves in for a bill of several hundred dollars should the grass fire they started get out of control.

Area municipal councils now protect themselves against the high costs of fire protection by holding responsible all those who start a grass or rubbish fire which later requires the services of a fire brigade to control. All costs for fire services are assessed against the person who started the blaze.

The costs of such fire services are increasing steadily as area brigades become equipped with more sophisticated tools.

A grass fire is easy to start but often becomes difficult to control, especially if there is a wind of any consequence. A number of area residents have learned this to their dismay.

Guards along the border?

Living in close proximity to Quebec, Glengarry drivers pay little thought to the border as they travel frequently back and forth. That casual approach could alter drastically if Quebec ever separates and there are indications of change even at this stage of the separatiste evolution.

In the Ontario Legislature, last week, Albert Roy, Liberal MPP for Ottawa East complained of a move by Quebec officials to force commercial vehicles travelling into that province to buy a share of their gas in Quebec. It seems revenue officials in Quebec are considering a blockade of commercial vehicles because many drivers going from Ontario to Quebec, and Quebec drivers travelling into Ontario and back, tend to buy gasoline on the Ontario side where frequently it is cheaper.

Ottawa's board of education suspended field trips to the Quebec side when told gasoline must be purchased in Quebec or a 19-cent-a-gallon levy be paid for all mileage inside that province.

Responding to Mr. Roy's complaint at Queen's Park, Revenue Minister Margaret Scrivener said she had talked with Quebec's Finance Minister about the threat. She believes the problem will be "satisfactorily resolved very shortly."

The prospect of inspectors manning border points between our two provinces is one that will not appeal to Glengarry residents.

How we get ripped off!

One news release out of Ottawa was enough to set the average Canadian right back on his heels.

Though a tax-paying, law-abiding citizen of this country can never enjoy the privilege, there is a thing called "diplomatic immunity." In simple English this means that the person who belongs to or works for a foreign embassy in Ottawa can break all sorts of Canadian laws and get away with it—not once or twice, but two or three times a day.

How's this for an example? In 1975 the Ugandan embassy was granted diplomatic immunity in no less than 611 instances, most of them traffic violations. These infringements of the law were committed by only five persons, which makes an average of better than 122 for each man during the year or one every third day.

Immunity was granted to all embassies 4,788 times in that year—something over 13 violations every day including Sundays and holidays. After Uganda, Nigeria was the next big offender, followed by the Soviets, Gabon, Tunisia and France.

So far the Canadian government offers no solution other than to "try to persuade foreign governments to make their representatives in Canada abide by Canadian laws." It doesn't take a great deal of imagination to picture Idi Amin admonishing his boys to be good little guys as long as they're working in Ottawa.

It would be interesting to know how long a Canadian could get away with a traffic violation every third day in Moscow. Or how long the gendarmes would look the other way with Canadians snarling up traffic in Paris.

More important, however, is that a Canadian who happens to be one of the victims of this impudent disregard of our laws, has no recourse. If a Canadian fender has been crumpled by a Ugandan vehicle, the hometown driver can go whistle for the money to pay the damages.

The only reason given for the whole situation is that Canada doesn't want to take any legal action for fear of retaliation abroad. Boy, that's real guts, suggests the editor of The Wingham Advance-Times.

The children's hour

To understand Canada today—and, Lord knows, we could all benefit from more understanding—it's important to have the proper historical perspective, suggests Jim Smith writing for The Canadian Federation of Independent Business. Canada, you see, wasn't founded with the intent that, one day, she would become a great, independent nation. The early Europeans came to pillage our furs and fish.

Timber and minerals have more significance than furs and fish today. But we are still a colony. Granted, we're an above-average colony because of our rich resource deposits. But we're a colony nonetheless. Colonialism, after all, isn't simply a condition where one country politically dominates another. Colonialism is, primarily, a state of mind.

Colonies can be identified by certain features. A colony, for instance, exports basic resources and imports manufactured goods. Domestically-produced goods, in fact, are considered inferior to imports. The education system of a colony is geared to training of bankers, bureaucrats, accountants, or salesmen—rather than skilled production tradesmen. And a substantial portion of the nation's Gross National Product is created through trade.

Canada is a living example of that definition. Our resources are stripped away to be processed abroad. Our branch plants do little more than stamp out metal parts and assemble. And the 25% of our G.N.P. created by trade stresses our colonial status.

Being a colony is remarkably easy. There's no pressure to maintain advanced technology or to fight for markets. There's none of the fuss of manufacturing. And there's a constant flow of money. The trouble is that nothing of substance results. The income comes from selling of non-renewable natural wealth. And what happens—as the petroleum situation has already demonstrated—when our resources run out? Government steps in to sell off our remaining resources like coal. Then our water. Ultimately, we'll be reduced to selling our air.

The killing game

(The Dutton Advance)

Well, the sick mind of some California manufacturer is at it again. The newest game headed for the arcades and fun houses is called "Death Race."

The object of this new electronic coin-in-slot game is to drive a simulated vehicle so as to "kill" as many pedestrians as possible in a 60-second period.

If you should be so skilled as to hit 21 or more in the alotted time, you are classified as an "expert driver." Other terms used for lesser "kills" are Bone Cracker and Skeleton Chaser.

According to the manufacturer the idea of the game is to poke fun at our driving ability, saying that "none of us drive all that well." We wonder how this might influence one slightly unbalanced mind.

Let's say that after spending some time in an arcade this person went to his-her car and zoomed down busy streets knocking down and killing pedestrians by the dozen.

Although this is only speculation, and might never happen, if it did we wonder how this manufacturer and the designers of the games would feel.

Probably not all that bad, as the game is one of the hottest selling items in the U.S., and by the time it happens they will have made their little fortune.

Money in pocket can sure cure a lot of ills.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

ADEQUATE NURSING CARE

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Our attention has been drawn to the letter from the area resident in your last week's edition, about the increase in the number of patients in all departments of our Glengarry Memorial Hospital in the last year, in spite of the nursing staff having been reduced by 13. We have heard rumors that the nurses are unhappy, not because they are over-worked, but because they cannot uphold their former standard of efficiency and fulfill what their profession expects of them, under such trying circumstances. No matter how highly they are paid, they have only one pair of hands and their day is only so many hours long. Those on the regular full-time nursing staff realize this, and feel it keenly.

It is impossible for those at a distance, and in higher authority to realize the needs of each community and district. They cannot run a hospital by remote control. This is our hospital and it is up to us to remedy the situation. The physical needs of the sick, especially the chronically ill and elderly patients, require continuity of care and many duties far beyond the bare necessities. A nurse dropping into a room occasionally to smooth a pillow, or to smile and express concern and sympathy is part of the care. At any time, one of us or someone dear to us may be hospitalized. Our comfort, assurance, well-being and possibly our very lives may depend on adequate nursing care.

May I suggest that our Hospital Board, who, after all, represents us, approach the nurses and find out what may be done to make

RAMBLING REPORTER

Education Week is being marked this week—very sadly in these parts.

SO MANY SERIES!

"Tickets for a lottery in Ireland are being circulated in this town," the News reported all of 70 years ago. That's even before we were born, but soon after we reached manhood it became a habit to look forward to each Irish Hospitals Sweepstake draw as a means of getting rich quick.

We never did, through the Irish or any other draw, and over the years we can recall only two or three fair-sized wins by people who had a Glengarry connection. But everybody bought Irish hospital sweepstake tickets a few decades ago; but everybody didn't win.

They're still selling the odd Irish sweeps ticket in town but the market must have dropped drastically since all these million-dollar Canadian and provincial lotteries entered the picture. We've little sympathy for those foreign draws. If Irish hospitals aren't equipped in silver and gold it's not because Canada didn't help furnish the millions that should have made Ireland a healthier place than its northern parts are depicted daily on TV.

Don't know what the odds were on the Irish Sweeps but surely they were better than Wintario or Loto Quebec offer. So many series!

Today's lotteries might be called Sweeps, too. Some people put their last dollar into them.

IT'S HOW YOU WON THE GAME

Toronto's Maple Leafs surprised their fans by taking the first two games of the quarter-final series against Philadelphia Flyers who were expected to breeze past the Leafs. And they won those openers right on the Flyers' home ice.

They almost made it three in a row Friday in Maple Leaf Gardens when Philadelphia tied the game with seconds to go, and then won in overtime.

The Leafs may have lost that home opener because they couldn't play the type of kitty-bar-the-door hockey on their own ice that won them the first two games in Philly. If they served up that dreary brand of hockey for their own fans they'd soon empty Maple Leaf Gardens for good.

Those wins in Flyer-town were planned by the Leaf brass who wanted some early scoring by their team and then a strictly defensive stand by Toronto right through to the final bell. The Leaf forwards broke up most plays at centre ice and if a Flyer puck-carrier broke through to the defence the puck was iced and iced again.

It was defensive hockey at its most unexciting and Philadelphia's faithful fans had very little to cheer. In fact they must have left both games in foul humor and feeling cheated at such dull fare for their money.

We were pulling for Leafs and we enjoyed their victories over a team we have little love for. But not the way they won. That was more a game of shinny than hockey and there oughtta be a law against continual icing of the puck as the Leafs were practising it. It spoiled the spectacle and left the Leafs looking cheap.

Professional hockey is a sport, no doubt, and a winning attitude is to be desired. But pro hockey should also be entertaining if it is to survive. And the people primarily to be entertained should be the home fans who have forked out a small ransom to support their team all through the season. Without them, Philadelphia, or any other city, would soon be out of the big leagues.

Maple Leafs could win another game on Flyer ice using those same grindingly defensive tactics that spoiled the first two games as spectacles. We'd rather see them lose.

"Where's the rink, Dad?"

"I don't know son, but I think we should head this way." This was our first trip to the magnificent new Cornwall Civic Complex. We were in the enormous building, but we had to search for the rink.

The idea of making us park seven blocks from the arena necessitating a brisk walk to the rink was a good one. At first when I saw all the cars coming from the arena I thought that things were as they used to be; that is the wives were driving their beloved husbands to the game and then going home to return at the end of the game to bring their revered household heads back to their domiciles. Anyway, who would dare park where canal boats plied deep water formerly?

I headed for what appeared to be an entrance, but it turned out to be Morty's door.

"Just wait here children, I will investigate." What a view—what luxurious decor—what service—and all the name brands, Cutty Sark, Chivas, Glen Fiddich.

Finally, (I am sure they were thinking) I emerged. Our next idea was to look for Ed Lumley standing at the door to his arena welcoming everyone in. Once we followed the other crowd (not the one heading to Morty's) we were taken to our seats by Ed's checkered coated helpers.

What a spectacle we beheld! Everything tingled of a feverish pitch: organ playing, compressed air horns, buzzers, referee bombs, fights, and in between, hockey. When hockey was played the Cornwall Royals were superior.

As soon as a period ended the arena emptied. Are modern hockey fan bladders so small, I wondered? Then, realization dawned; ushers are so efficient here that no one can sneak a smoke—they have all gone into the lobby for a taste of that obnoxious, unhealthy, expensive, polluting, socially undesireable weed. 'Twas not until the second period when many seats were never refilled that I realized something greater than cigarets or washroom lineups was detaining these loyal, royal supporters; aahh, a bar in the lower catacombs of the new arena. Wonderful.

Two criticisms: the colorful program includes all the important information which an ardent hockey fan requires, except the won-loss record for the pugilists. A second criticism is the lack of strategically placed television sets for the instant playback of goals. Live hockey requires active, intense observation and really demonstrates how passive and lazy our senses become through television communication. Mr. Villeneuve in his very convincing letter to the editor on behalf of Capitol Theatre salvation makes the same point. Live entertainment can never be equalled for total value by plastic and electronic entertainment.

Throughout the game I kept thinking of past Cornwall teams: The Chevies with Neil Burke, Gerry Devaney, Donny Batten, Bob Bingley, The Payettes and Aggie Kukolorvitz; the Falcons, the Cougars. Senior teams have a consistency of performance which comes with the extra maturity. Ahh, but those were great days.

I left the rink wondering what the final score was (eleven fights tends to distract one) and wondering why Orval Tessier, the Royals' coach, isn't earning a fortune in the acting field.

Why did I get four identical mailings from the Ottawa National Arts Centre in French?

Elizabeth Murray, from Glen Falloch west, a recent nursing graduate of St. Lawrence College, Brockville, will also be graduating from eligible single status soon. All farming operations at the Murray ranch have slowed down in preparation for the big wedding. The whole area is invited to yon Bonnie Glen to join this happy occasion of the marriage of this good looking young lady, daughter of Doug and Mary Murray, Friday, April 22, is the date, that she becomes Mrs. Anthony Drovwer.

Farmer Cain invites people to drop by and see his new pig barn renovation. Since his wife Isabel is relaxing in Toronto after completing the renovations, thirsty men, good cooks and dishwashers are extended a special invitation.

their lot more tolerable, even aside from having a staff large enough to handle the situation. They are highly trained and many have nursed for many years. It is repugnant to them not to be able to uphold their high standard of professionalism because of lack of time.

The fact that our hospital is growing, proves that it is doing a valuable service in our community and district. Those of us who remember the days when we had to go far afield to the cities for even the simplest tests appreciate what has been done and value what we have now.

Our hospital is one of the best equipped in Eastern Ontario and has maintained a high reputation. People may say "All hospitals have these difficulties now; all hospitals are alike." Our reply to that would be that there is money for many other things less important than health and welfare. Glengarry is in so many ways exceptional; its people closely knit and known all over for their helpfulness to one another. Let us make our hospital exceptional, also, in that it departs from the general pattern and cares about its patients. We must not lose our best nurses to other hospitals that have overcome their difficulties. How about it?

CHURCH NEEDS HELP

Goderich, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Many of us know that in the early years of settlement a substantial number of Scots settled in Soulanges County, just across Glengarry's eastern line. Here in Cotes St. George, St. Andrew and St. Patrick were the same names as in Lancaster and Lochiel—MacDonalds and MacCuaigs, Dewars and McKays, McArthurs and Cattanachs, MacLennans and MacGillivrays, McDougalls, Morrisons and Campbells.

The Roman Catholics among them went to St. Raphael's and later to Glen Nevis as well as to St. Polycarpe and The Cedars parishes.

The Presbyterians among them built a log church at Cote St. George in 1832, though they had been meeting in homes before that. The log church burned in 1866 and the congregation built a fine little stone church. In 1925 this Presbyterian congregation became part of the United Church of Canada and up till now the dwindling group of Scots, just across our border have managed to keep their fine little stone church open and in repair, and the grass cut in the cemetery where so many of our ancestors lie.

Now there are few Scots in Cote St. George—perhaps three families are left on the spot to sustain this church, maintain it and look to its future.

On April 20th, 1977, a meeting is to be held in this church to decide what can be done to preserve not only the building but what it stood for in the area. Obviously help is needed and right now.

If you wish to help in any way, get in touch with John H. McKay, 147 McLeod St., Ottawa, K2P O26.

Sincerely,
Ewan Ross.

Firemen out to grass fires

Grass firers are the main source of alarms for the Alexandria Fire Department at this time of year and the past week saw the firemen respond to six such incidents.

Tuesday, April 12th, it was a grass fire at the home of Paul Marquis, 6th Concession, Lancaster. Others were: April 15th at George Bellefeuille's, Guaytown; Saturday, April 16th, R. T. Stalby, RR 1, Glen Robertson, and Robert Colbourne, Dornie; Sunday, April 17th, Hubert Girard, Glen Robertson, and Joseph Valliere, RR 1, Glen Robertson.

All were grass fires and no damage was reported in any of the incidents.

Funeral held to Kirk Hill

Kirk Hill and the surrounding communities were shocked by the sudden death of Donald Thomas MacDonald of Kirk Hill and Oakville, on Saturday, April 9th.

Born in 1921, Donald was the second son of the late Donald Lorne MacDonald and Mary Netta MacLeod. He was also predeceased by his stepmother, Annie Mabel Lothian, in July of last year. Left to mourn his loss are one sister, Margaret, Mrs. Charles Anderson of Winchester, and three brothers, Kenneth and Campbell of Kirk Hill, and Sidney of Huntsville.

After completing his education in the local schools, and the Ottawa Normal School, he taught at Pine Grove and the Ridge, until joining the Air Force, in which he served until the end of the war. He then attended the University of Toronto and the Ontario College of Education, where he realized that his future was in teaching in the Commercial Department. This he did, at Picton, Lindsay, and in the Toronto area, latterly at Lorne Park Secondary School in Mississauga, where he established a business practice office for his students. In most of the schools, he was also the director of drama.

Although a teacher by profession, he always maintained his appreciation of agriculture, especially fine animals and, as well, made a hobby of photography.

Although he taught in other districts for many years, his heart was in Glengarry and he spent his holiday weekends and summers at his home here. Of a generous and fun-loving personality, he was the "life" of many gatherings and will be greatly missed by his family, his nieces and nephews, and a host of friends of all ages. He was interested in the history of his ancestors and of the area, and had plans to compile a book of stories and anecdotes of former years, a collection of which he had already begun.

The funeral was held from Hillcrest Funeral Home, Vankleek Hill, to Kirk Hill United Church, where he was a faithful member of church and choir. The service was conducted by Rev. Lloyd Hylton, with a combined choir from his church and St. Columba Presbyterian.

The pallbearers wree six nephews: Wayne and Donald Anderson, Murray and Robert MacDonald, Lorne and Ian MacDonald.

The largely attended funeral, the many beautiful floral tributes and donations to various organizations were evidence of the great sorrow at his passing.

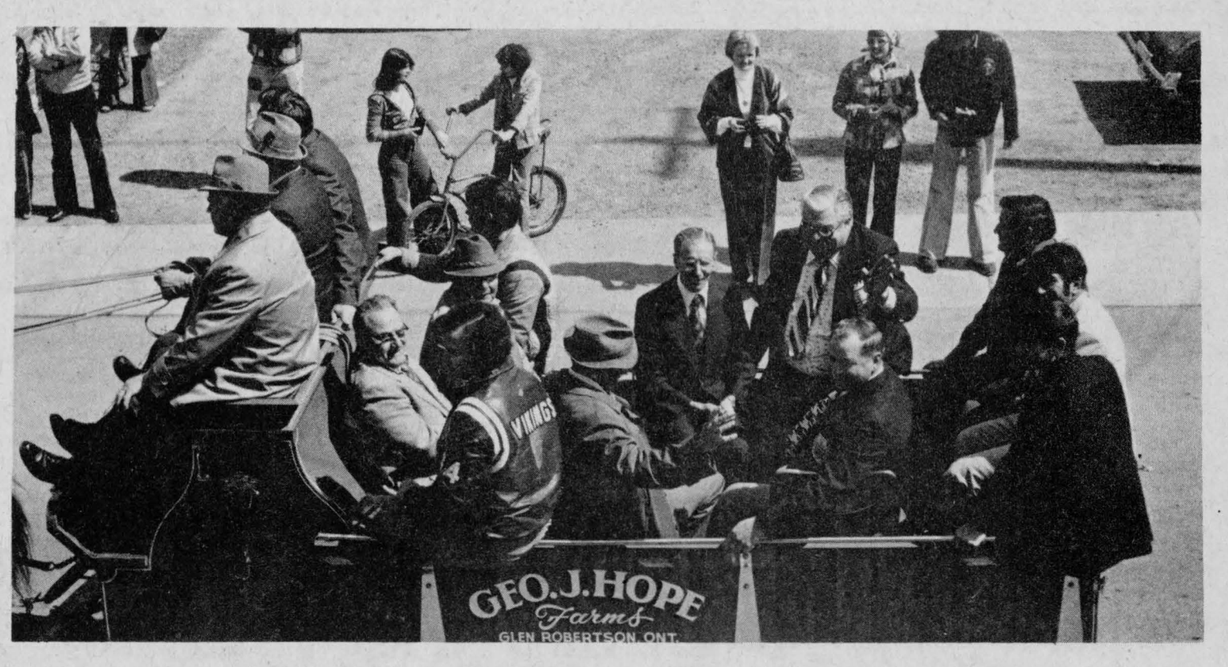
THIRD SECTION — ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1977



Fine parade feature arena closing day

It was said here in last issue that with the weatherman's co-operation last Saturday would be a mini Highland Games' day in Maxville when the Millionaires would be honored and the Jubilee rink officially closed. That is exactly what happened.

It was a sunny day. The cool morning breeze became summer-like with the warmth of the mounting enthusiasm as the crowds gathered to witness the parade and cheer their heroes of yesteryear. The parade route was from the fall-in point, Greenfield road, South end of Maxville, proceed north on Main to Mechanic, west on Mechanic to the Manor and retrace back to the community hall and disperse. Those streets in particular and many homes were flag decked indicating a similar spirit that prevails on a Highland Games' weekend.

Heading the parade were the traditional OPP escort and the pipe band. The brownies, cubs, girls guides, scouts, figure skaters and decorated bicycles were in tow. Minor hockey, broomball and 4-H clubs followed. Among the attractively decorated floats were the Agricole Francais and that of the Trottier family with their well known musicians and dancers.

The IGA Alexandria trio received a lot of acclaim all along the route. Promoter Marc Lalonde was riding an 1890 high wheel bike and dressed in matching fashion. His son Richard was driving a Model T Ford and steering clear of all traffic in safety was Ranald MacDonald driving the toy roadster with the lawnmower motor.

There were various fire trucks including the Shriners from Cornwall. Modern cars and some of considerable vintage. George Hope and his four-horse hitch had to share the applause with the wagon load of VIP's. Finally, completing the more than half-mile of entries, was the second pipe band and the Cleland four-horse hitch from Brownsburg. "Here come the Millionaires" was the signal for enthusiastic and prolonged cheers from the upwards of 2,000 fans lining the sidewalks and verandah perches.

The elderly at the Manor were not forgotten. They, too, smiled and waved greetings from the Manor lawns as the parade circled on the parking lot and returned to the community centre.

The Millionaires and guests were then piped the short block to the old rink. The traditional red carpet was rolled out on the ice and the Millionaires with their guests lined up single file facing a large crowd of fans. They were loud in their acclaim as MC Angus H. McDonell announced the introductions injecting here and there a significant quip of past hockey achievements.

The Maxville Lions Club served an appetizing brunch during the noon hour. The afternoon was all too short to replay the highlights of the Millionaire seven-year era that led from an exhibition game with Greenfield all the way to the Eastern Canada final with Peterborough in mid-April 1940. However, the reminiscing of those days and nights before World War Two and general reunion made this a memorable day for those one time greats of Ottawa and the Valleys in intermediate hockey.

They reconvened at th... George Hotel and spent the happy hour in traditional fashion. The program architect of this occasion, Larry Baker, set up a series of group pictures that sparked still more fond memories. A stack of the "letters from home" (Glengarry News last issue) were distributed for souvenirs. At each plate was a program souvenir showing the Jubilee rink on front, the 1939-40 group picture of the Millionaires inside and on the back the 1940 tribute in poetry to the Millionaires by Angus L. J. MacDonell, Apple Hill.

Reeve Hubert Quart and members of Maxville Council were hosts at the reception and dinner. Pipe-Majors Dave Danskin and John MacKenzie piped in the head table guests. They were, in addition to Reeve Quart, who extended greetings, Osie Villeneuve, Clark Hoople, Walter Smillie, Sam MacCallum, Mel Scott, Francis Guindon, Cornwall councillor, Reeves Albert Faubert and George Crites of Kenyon and Roxborough respectively.

Coach Clark Hoople in fine articulate form gave an interesting resume of his coaching years and Millionaire players both on and off the ice. Sam MacCallum told of how pleasant it was to come back home and once again mingle with such great men and loyal fans. Mel Scott reviewed some of his referee experiences especially in Maxville and sellout crowds. Osie Villeneuve was in his usual fine form recalling the founding years of the Millionaires. Bill Campbell and Garry Smith briefly outlined the fund-raising campaign for the new arena that takes place this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Francis Guindon recalled some of his younger days in Maxville. MC Angus H. McDonell announced that he was successful in arranging with the promotion manager of the Ottawa Citizen, Ben Babelowsky, to have a new Citizen Shield replace the original that cannot be located. He also thanked and congratulated Larry Baker for his excellent organization effort. George Currier thanked Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McDonald and staff for the delicious meal served and the traditional hospitality atmosphere that prevailed.

The final of the dinner program, with lights turned low, all stood at attention while Pipe-Major John MacKenzie played Amazing Grace, a lament, a tribute to the late Chas. Usher and other departed athletes and sportsmen of Maxville and area.

Prior to the closing of the rink, Moose Creek and Dyer Road played to a 4—4 tie. In the final game, Maxville Oldtimers defeated Maxville Flames 6—3. The Millionaires then grouped at centre ice flanked by both the Flames and Old Timer players. Reeve Hubert Quart then declared the Maxville Jubilee rink officially closed. The players had one last skate around the rink led by Nick Haramis holding high the winning Trophy. As the players headed for their dressing room the Millionaires were the last to walk to the exit gate. Then the pipe band circled in the south west corner where the Millionaires always trouped to their dressing room The band played that stirring ... Pibroch of Donald D...

Miss Gretta Campbell died

Relatives and friends were grieved to learn of the sudden death of Miss Gretta Campbell of Moose Creek, who had been a lifetime resident of the area. She died on March 16th in the Cornwall General Hospital where she had been a patient but for a few hours having suffered a heart seizure.

Miss Campbell was born at Moose Creek on July 13, 1902, a daughter of the late Daniel Campbell and his wife, the former Agnes Campbell. She had resided in the old home until the sudden death of her brother, Aird Campbell, less than one year ago. She then came to reside with her brother, Lynden Campbell, in Moose Creek.

The body rested in the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, where the funeral was held in the Chapel of the Funeral Home on Friday, March 18, conducted by Rev. (Dr.) Iver D. MacIver of the Presbyterian Church, Maxville. He was assisted by Mr. Larry Welch, Student Minister of the Presbyterian Church, Moose Creek.

Miss Campbell is survived by one brother, Lynden Campbell of Moose Creek, and his wife, Mrs. Aileen Campbell; one niece, Mrs. Brian Jackson (Heather) of Finch and one grandniece, Kimberly Jackson. She was predeceased by her brother, Aird Campbell on May 29, 1976.

Pallbearers were Lester Lavigne, Fraser MacMillan, Campbell MacPherson, Norman Prebble, Beverly Robertson and Stanley McKay.

Alexandria show 'Something Special'

A large crowd were witness Sunday to a unique presentation by the Alexandria Lions Majorettes at their third annual show, entitled: "Something Special" held at Glengarry District High School. And special it was!

The evening began with a Magic Toyshop scene. The Fairy Princess, Jackie Trottier, came to life and led the ballerinas through their dance. Then the Little Clowns scared away the dolls, with Rachel Beauclair in command. Four Toy Soldiers marched on, with Suzanne Lalonde as Head Soldier.

The sound of tambourines gave excitement to the gypsy dance by Francoise Beauclair and six of the Intermediate one students.

Dianne Trottier and seven Intermediate four girls looked very elegant in their long skirts as they gave their interpretation of the popular song: "Hello Dolly."

"School Days" gave the Senior students an opportunity to show their flair for comedy. The stern looking teacher, played by Jacqueline Dubeau, helped make the number believable. Then each of the girls did an individual twirling routine which completed the first half of the show.

To open the second half, Joanne Lalonde acted as the preacher for a touching wedding scene by six Intermediate one students.

Ribbon Twirling was next and proved to be a colorful addition to the routine by six other seniors.

The song, "Put a Little Love in your Heart" provided the background for a graceful twin twirling routine by the six remaining Seniors.

"Someone Special" was the introduction for the featured soloist of the evening, Miss Joann Gallant. Joann has been assistant teacher for the past four years, and her smooth, mature performance was a highlight of the show.

The last group number was a march routine by the twenty Seniors, dressed in their colorful parade uniforms.

Mrs. Joan Earle, the director and choreographer of the show, did not appear in her usual solo, but her talent as an instructor was clearly evident throughout the evening. Many hours of dedicated effort was required to execute such a show.

Following the finale by the entire cast, Mrs. Earle thanked the backstage group who assisted: Warren Everson, for his lighting, Jack Earle, for music, Cathy Woods, curtains, and Wendy Woods, as cast co-ordinator.

And 11 grandchildren.

Joint Easter services at Martintown

A combined choir of 15 voices from St. Andrew's United Church in Martintown and Williamstown, led a special service of Easter Communion on April 10. Rev. Edwin McDonald conducted the service in Martintown.

Highlight of the service was Holy Communion served by the Elders of both congregations. A very large number of people attending enjoyed the beautiful Easter anthem "Christ Arose." Children of both churches attended Sunday School in the Church Hall.

On Good Friday, St. Andrew's United Church, Martintown, was host again to a joint service with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Martintown, and St. Andrew's United Church, Williamstown. Rev. Ross MacDonald chose as his theme "The Cause of the Cross" and Rev. Edwin McDonald's sermon was titled "The Meaning of the Cross." The choir sang two anthems "Lord as to Thy Dear Cross We Flee" and "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" The Church was decorated for both services with Easter flowers placed in the sanctuary by Martintown and District Horticultural Society, the UCW, and local church members.

Another recent event from the congregation of St. Andrew's United Church Martintown, was the participation of two members Allan McGregor and Cathy Thomson, in a Drama Conference at Woodgreen United Church, Toronto. This workshop was held during the week of March 20th. The UCW sponsored the delegates to this youth leadership experience. On Sunday, March 27, Cathy Thomson led the Sunday School in an hour of drama exercises.

The UCW has planned a fashion show "Spring into Summer" for Saturday, May 7, at 2 p.m., in Martintown Public School. Fashions will be presented from Phyllis' Fashions, St. Andrew's West. A dessert tea, prizes, entertainment and bake sale will complete this event.

WMS met at Martintown

The Easter Thankoffering meeting of the WMS of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Martintown, was held at the home of Mrs. Harvey McMillan on Tuesday, April 12. The President, Mrs. Ian Kennedy, presided and opened the meeting with an Easter poem. The worship service on the theme "The Strife is O'er" was arranged by Mrs. Kenneth McDonald. Several members were readers. The roll call was answered by a verse containing the word 'risen' and Mrs. Ray Markell dedicated the offering.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Frank Stewart of Ingleside, was introduced by Mrs. Alpin MacGregor and Mrs. William Johnston expressed to her the appreciation of the group. Mrs. Stewart brought a fine Easter message. She discussed those most nearly concerned with the Crucifixion, the decisions they made and wondered as to the results had they decided differently. They came to a crossroad as we all do many times. Mrs. Stewart asked, "What would be the headlines should this event happen today?"

The minutes were read by Mrs. Lloyd MacGregor. Mrs. Alpin MacGregor and Miss Emily MacInnes are delegates to the Synodical in Brockville. An invitation to attend the Easter meeting at St. Columba, Kirk Hill, on April 17 was read.

Moose Creek

The Easter Thankoffering Service of The UCW of Knox United Church, Moose Creek, was held recently in the home of Mrs. Gordon McKercher.

The President, Mrs. Chester Valley, opened the service with an Easter inspirational and prayer. Mrs. Menzies McRae and Mrs. Duane Fusee conducted a devotional service on the theme "My peace I leave with you."

Mrs. Valley welcomed the guest speaker, Mrs. Paul Grassie of Maxville who gave an inspiring message on "The Faithfulness of the Women at the Crucifixion."

Appreciation of all present was expressed by Mrs. Norma Benton to Mrs. Grassie for her impressive message.

The Missionary Study in dialogue form on an interview with Dr. Robert McClure was given by Mrs. Norma Benton and Mrs. Gordon McKercher.

During the business period tentative plans for the year's projects including Outreach were discussed.

When a loved one's name is spoken.
So much in life is missing,
And searching seems in vain,
If only we could clasp his hand,
And bring him home again.

Sisters at Monastery attended P.E.I. study

Eight Sisters from the Monastery of the Precious Blood, Alexandria, have recently returned from a two week study session with their Sisters of the Precious Blood Monastery in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. The study session was conducted by the Superior General and her Assistants from London, Ontario.

A General Chapter of this Congregation was held in Alexandria in 1969. At that time elected representatives from their thirteen monasteries across Canada met to discuss matters pertaining to the Congregation as a whole. In August 1976, a similar General Chapter was held in London, Ontario. One of the fruits of the 1976 General Chapter was the formulation of a renewed expression of the ideals of Contemplative life as lived in this Congregation today. It also generated an invigorating awareness of their vocation in the Church and a deeper understanding of the original inspirations and aims of their Congregation.

Another idea brought forth at the 1976 General Chapter was that of inter-community meetings within their Congregation. They now realize that the benefits of occasional well planned inter-community meetings justify the exception regarding the enclosure in this matter. It is good for all the Sisters to have the common experience of growth and re-creation. Sharing the Eucharistic Liturgy and the Divine Office with other communities in the Congregation brings inspiration. In this way all the Sisters benefit, and more of the Sisters' potential is brought to life.

The Sisters of the Precious Blood have dedicated their lives to participate in the continuing mission of Jesus through His Church by a ministry of prayer. This ministry is exercised within contemplative community life, arising from a heart centred on Jesus. It is through union of mind, heart and will with Jesus Christ that they have redemptive power for others. It is a vocation to love and the complete self-giving to which love leads.

It is the daily prayer of the Sisters that many young girls from our district will be inspired to embrace this beautiful vocation and in this way participate in God's reconciling and saving action among men.

All are welcome to visit the Monastery at any time.

STORMONT, DUNDAS & GLENGARRY COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

There are now 55 teaching days left in the school year. The Board wants to save these days for our students. Does the Federation want the same? We have modified our position. Why won't the Federation do the same?

The teachers told the Board that they were willing to "consider any proposal that includes some method of guaranteeing the negotiability and grievability of working conditions." The Board made an offer that included these demands and the teachers refused to accept it.

OUR TEACHERS REQUESTED "GRIEVABILITY"
THE BOARD OFFERED THE FOLLOWING—effective to 1979:

a] Decisions of the Board—concerning grievances related to the application of the Letters of Commitment, may be appealed to a Tribunal.
b] The Tribunal will consist of: i] One Federation appointee ii] One Board appointee iii] A Chairman, selected from the community at large, who is mutually acceptable to both parties.
c] The Appeal Tribunal shall render a BINDING decision by December 15, in any school year, concerning grievances related to the application of the Letters of Commitment.

THE ABOVE ASSURES NOT ONLY GRIEVABILITY, BUT ALSO ALLOWS FOR THE TEACHERS TO HAVE A BINDING DECISION RENDERED BY A THIRD PARTY.

WHAT MORE DOES THE FEDERATION WANT?

OUR TEACHERS REQUESTED "NEGOTIABILITY"
THE BOARD OFFERED THE FOLLOWING—effective to 1979:
"Any renewal of the Letters of Commitment beyond the term specified in the Letters of Commitment WILL BE NEGOTIATED by both parties"
THIS CLAUSE ASSURES NEGOTIABILITY.
WHAT MORE DOES THE FEDERATION WANT?

The teachers wanted GRIEVABILITY and NEGOTIABILITY
The Board has offered the teachers GRIEVABILITY and NEGOTIABILITY
WHAT WILL THE FEDERATIONS REPRESENTING TEACHERS OF STORMONT, DUNDAS AND GLENGARRY DEMAND NEXT?

AUDITORS' REPORT
TOWNSHIP OF KENYON

The members of council, inhabitants and ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Kenyon:

We have examined the 1976 financial statements of the Corporation of the Township of Kenyon, which are listed on the attached index. In this connection, we made a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Kenyon as at 31 December 1976, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

New group will form to aid artists

An association is being formed which should provide an excellent opportunity for all serious, creative artists in Eastern Ontario to realize their greatest potential.

The association will take the form of an annual jury exhibition and sale. Activities will also include: art weekends, exchanges of local art shows, newsletters with local art information, annual dinner, etc.

Jury shows can be a tremendous influence on upgrading the quality of an artist's work, and can be as beneficial to the artist who works alone, as to those who belong to an art group.

The proposed jury will be chosen from qualified artists from completely outside the community involved, i.e. Lancaster, Alexandria, Maxville, Chesterville, Winchester, Kemptville, Prescott, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Ingleside, Long Sault and the Cornwall area.

Entries will be accepted in a wide variety of mediums, such as oil, water color, acrylic, batik, collage, pastel, ink or sculptures.

This is an opportunity not to be overlooked by any serious, creative artist.

Robert Eadie, 3317 Ross Avenue, Cornwall, and Rudy Payment, 412 Fifth Street, Cornwall, are the leading spirits behind this organization, and are only too willing to answer any questions that may occur to interested parties.

Jury shows also give would be purchasers of art work an opportunity to buy with confidence, knowing that all entries are selected, top quality merchandise.

A COUNTRY GARDEN—is the theme for this year's annual Spring Tea, put on by the Glengarry Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. Convener, Mrs. Howard Armstrong is discussing final plans with Mrs. Donald Yule, Mrs. Arcade Trottier and Mrs. Hugh Morton, some of her committee members. Let's make a date to meet in the "garden" for a cup of tea at the Alexander Hall on Saturday, April 30th, between 2 and 4:30 p.m. See you there.

Local diocese twinned with Africa

The Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall has become a "twin" with the Diocese of Kigoma in Tanzania, Africa.

This is to develop a missionary mentality in the diocese here for the mutual development of the faith in the two areas, explains Bishop Eugene LaRocque in the diocesan bulletin.

The bishop will attempt to twin each parish with one of the parishes in that diocese and suggests an exchange of correspondence, photos, mutual spiritual projects on as many levels as possible.

The African diocese has 14 parishes, 157 outstations and is looked after by 32 White Fathers and seven African, five European brothers, 50 sisters of whom 30 are European and 20 African. There are five major seminarians and 88 junior seminarians.

WMS hears of work among Indians at Kirk Hill meet

Members of the Women's Missionary Societies of several Glengarry churches and others met in St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Kirk Hill, on Sunday evening, April 17th, for the Easter Thankoffering service sponsored by the local group.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Mabel Powers, recently appointed Director of the Indian Kenora Fellowship Centre under the care of the Board of World Missions of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. Mrs. Powers was formerly Director of the Anishinabe Fellowship House in Winnipeg. She is at present a student for the ministry of the Church at Presbyterian College, Montreal.

In a stimulating address Mrs. Powers spoke of the work she and the Mission Board were trying to do for the Indian people in the West, and of the terrible conditions under which our first Canadians live or rather exist. In spite of the dedicated work of the church in the past the lot of our Indian brothers and sisters was worse today in some ways than in their original state. Mrs. Powers called the women of the WMS to renewed prayer, interest and support for the church's mission to the Canadian Indian.

Mrs. J. Forbes opened the service by welcoming all present and led in the Invocation prayer. Scripture lessons were read by Mrs. A. McRae and Mrs. W. D. MacLeod. The Responsive prayer for the mission of the Church was led by Mrs. D. MacMillan. Mrs. Rae MacGillivray introduced the guest speaker. Miss Nancy MacGillivray sang a lovely solo "The Glory of the Spring," and the choir anthem was "In Christ there is No East or West." Mrs. R. D. MacLeod presided at the organ. Greeters were Mrs. J. K. MacLeod and Mrs. Evans MacGillivray while Miss Margaret McRae and Mrs. C. Fraser acted as ushers for the offering.

After the service a good time of fellowship and visiting was enjoyed by all present. Refreshments were convened by Mrs. Archie MacGillivray and Mrs. Bill MacGillivray.

Agriculture discussed at WI meeting in Bainsville

Peals of laughter—the roof raising type—could be heard as 21 members of Bainsville Women's Institute and two guests met for the regular monthly meeting in April. Spring hats which would have been the envy of many an Easter Parader on 5th Ave., New York, were being modeled and such a display of ribbons, flowers, eggs, eggshells, chickens—even a big balloon and a furry rabbit (toy that is)! After the roll call when each member paid her annual dues and the reading of the motto by Mrs. Harold Fourney, 'I'm still learning,' the President called for a vote on the hats to fall into three categories; comical, most original and best liked. These were conducted by secret ballot and the winners of these masterpieces were: Janet MacCuaig, for the funniest, Mary Thompson, for the most original and Charlene Cusimano, for the one most greatly admired. A real fun way to start a spring meeting!

The District Director reminded that the Glengarry District meeting will be held in South Lancaster on the 12 of May. Mrs. Ager read the Resolution which will be put forward by the Martintown membership and on which delegates will be required to vote—that a statutory holiday to be known as Heritage Day be included in our calendar year. Mrs. Upton informed the meeting that plans were underway to hire a bus for Glengarry women to attend the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario rally to be held in Pembroke in June.

A monthly newsletter, 'Business Review' and dealing with the economic situations in our country and others is being made available, free of charge, to the members each month. Mrs. Urquhart said that this will be on a trial basis and should the membership decide this to be worthwhile reading, we will continue to receive this mailing.

Our special guest, Miss Heather MacRae, was presented with an engraved silver charm in recognition of her attainment of Provincial Honors as a 4-H member. Heather thanked the Institute for making 4-H Club available to girls in the area and for supplying them with leaders.

Mrs. Ager announced that the Williamstown Fair will be held on August 5th, 6th and 7th and it was agreed that we would once again donate a prize for this event. This year the prize will be for a sewn blouse or top made by a 4-Her.

In an excellent presentation on Agriculture, Mrs. Lloyd McRae's topic was 'Voice of the Land'—as from the land all things grow, so must an understanding of that land and its people.

The general meeting ended at this time and Mrs. Ager turned over the chair to Mrs. Upton who conducted the nomination and election of officers. They are:

Past President—Mrs. Thos. Upton; President—Mrs. Fred Ager; Vice-President—Mrs. J. M. Petrie; Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Archie Robertson; Public Relations Officer—Mrs. Eric Urquhart; District Director—Mrs. Robert MacRae; Alternate District Director—Mrs. Carol Simmons; Branch Directors— Mrs. Adrien Leroux, Mrs. Lloyd McRae, Mrs. Harold Fourney, Tweedsmuir History Curator—Mrs. Harold Fourney; Sick Committee—Mrs. J.
