BAND AND DANCERS ENTERTAIN—One of the highlights of the Glengarry Pipe Band tour of Scotland was the visit to Dalkeith, where the troupe was warmly received as it was three years ago. The band and dancers are seen in action in the Jarnac Court at Dalkeith, with a portion of the crowd that witnessed the show. Later members of the band party attended a dinner and concert in their honor given by the town council. Last weekend signalled the return home of more than 300 Glengarrians who had enjoyed the overseas trip with the band.

Contract For Medical Centre At Lancaster Let To Cornwall Firm

Contract for the new Lan-Char Medical Centre to be built at Lancaster, has been let to Noel Couture of Cornwall. His was the lowest of five tenders submitted and construction will get underway in early November.

The contract was let at $63,721.

A meeting of the Lan-Char Medical Centre board last week opened the tenders and awarded the contract. At a subsequent meeting final plans were made for a canvass of area residents to raise the needed share capital.

Grants have been received from both Charlottenburgh and Lancaster Township councils and the Village of Lancaster is donating the site, on the former recreation grounds on Pine Street. Sewage, sidewalk and other facilities will also be provided by the village and application is being made for a grant under the Winter Works program.

Some $40,000 is to be collected in mortgage shares or donations and the campaign is off to a good start, reports A. D. D. MacDonald, publicity chairman for the drive. Shares at $100 are being sold with an interest rate of 8 per cent. These may be secured from canvassers or at the Bank of Montreal branch in Lancaster where a prospectus of the medical centre plan may also be examined.

Said Mr. MacDonald, "It's a local community-minded project, and a much needed one, so interest is continually mounting. We're hoping the donations will continue and that local people will buy shares," he said.

Mr. MacDonald described the new centre as an elaborate and well-equipped structure, housing a doctor's and dentist office, a clinic area suitable for blood clinics and X-ray clinics, and an immunization clinic.

Denovan were pictured recently in the Brantford Expositor, in their colorful flower garden which captured top honors in the annual garden contest of the Brantford Real Estate Association. They are former residents of the Dalkeith area.

Riding Liberals To Select Candidate No Convention Plans Yet For Conservatives

Canadian voters go to the polls on October 30th and even before Friday's dissolution of Parliament riding Liberals had set Wednesday, Sept. 20th, as the date for their nominating convention. The evening meeting will be held in the Community Hall at St. Isidore, at 8 o'clock, when prominent speakers will be on hand to address the meeting.

Riding Conservatives have not yet set a date, reports a local party official but officers were to have met Tuesday night at St. Isidore to discuss plans for a convention.

Hugh A. McDonald, president of the Glengarry NDP, reports no plans have yet been made to run a candidate in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell.

Four names are being mentioned in Liberal circles as potential candidates to take over from Viateur Ethier who has retired after 10 years and four elections. Some of them have been actively working among potential poll delegates for some time.

Denis Ethier of Dalkeith, brother of the incumbent MP, is definitely in the field and his is the only Glengarry name mentioned. Germain Tessier, Hawkesbury florist, has also been actively seeking the nomination and others reported interested are Philibert Proulx of Hawkesbury and Fernand Boucher of Rockland.

The long-awaited federal election was announced Friday for Monday, Oct. 30, less than an hour after Parliament forced an end to the strike of British Columbia dockers.

Parliament was dissolved in the late afternoon. Prime Minister Trudeau indicated a campaign based on the issue of Canada's unity and independence from the United States.

At a news conference, the prime minister said that "the challenge of this election is to ensure that Canadians continue to exhibit the self-confidence and the assurance which will permit Canada to pursue its own policies and demonstrate the advantages of its own value system.

He said the only guarantee of national survival is the harmony of the country's two linguistic communities and various ethnic cultures.

Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield responded that "in terms of economic management in particular, the Trudeau government's performance has been dismal.

"The Trudeau record will be a major campaign issue."

Mr. Stanfield promised both an expanding economy and "a new approach in the field of social assistance."

"A decent government must feel compassion and must offer adequate help where it is needed.

"But an aimless, ad hoc welfare state should not be a Canadian goal. The Trudeau government has drifted that way.

'(We will aim to stop that drift."

Four words could sum up the Conservative platform: "A job for Canadians."

Report On The Scottish Tour

With the Glengarry Pipe Band Concert Party On Tour — by Major Grant MacGillivray

I ended the first instalment at Dumferline, and will stay there just a bit longer, to say that, at the end of the concert, our host, from the Parks Dept., came over and pronounced the concert to be "Super", and he has since written, thanking us for our show and inviting us back. That, we like. Also I forgot to mention, in reporting on that Civic Reception in Glasgow, that the Lord Provost presented us with a large plaque of the Coat of Arms of the city of Glasgow, then Piper Norman MacLeod presented him with a set of cuff-links from the Mayor of Cornwall.

The next show was in Dundee, where the party was staying, in Camperdown Park. We were there three years ago, but they have improved the facilities since then, and again we had a fine day and a good crowd. After the show they served us tea, but were very apologetic when they found we were staying in Dundee, as they said they would have put on a full fledged dinner had they known. They thought we had to get in our bus and keep moving, so they get full marks for hospitality.

The next two days were free, and the party moved to Edinburgh, and we braced ourselves for the show at Dalkeith, which was bound to be something special. They had a Civic Reception at 2.30, we did our show in the crowded town square at 3, then they served us tea. We thought that was it, but were told there would be a dinner and ceilidh at a nearby hotel at 7.30. Unfortunately, we hadn't known about this and some of our people had arranged to go to a soccer game, but the rest of us enjoyed the dinner, and the soccer fans arrived in time for the party, at which we were entertained by their and our singers and musicians. Dalkeith hospitality seems to have no limits when we get there, as they were just as kind three years ago. I'm almost afraid to meet any of the Denovan family now, as the Dalkeith paper stated that I presented our host, and the oldest lady present, with a can of maple syrup each. The presentations were made, but it was a purely Denovan affair. The family made the syrup, and Dancers-pianists Linda and Brenda lugged it all over Scotland, and made the presentations on the stage. (OK girls?)

Thursday was a day of rest and recuperation as Friday evening was the Big One, Princes St. Gardens, Edinburgh. Actually, we had bigger crowds at some other places, but it is considered quite an honor to perform in the Gardens, during the Edinburgh Festival. There were a lot of Glengarrians there, the facilities are excellent, and as

Antique Show Set For Next Weekend

The members of the Glengarry Historical Society are putting finishing touches to plans for the sixth annual Antiques Show and Sale, to be held in the Green Valley Pavilion, Friday, Sept. 15th. The show will open at noon and run to 10 p.m. and Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It will be open to the public at noon on Friday, Sept. 15th but Jean Paul Touchette, Mayor of Alexandria, will officially open it at 5.30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 15th. Mr. and Mrs. Touchette will be the guests of the Society at the buffet supper which follows at approximately 6 p.m.

Ten dealers from Ontario and Quebec, most of whom have participated in the Society's previous shows, are returning, bringing a variety of interesting antiques for sale. The Society's table of donated-for-sale collectables and curios, "Grandma's Cupboard", will again be staffed by members. The proceeds from this table, plus the small entrance fee, go to the Historical Society for the furtherance of the work in the historical field. Once again, the dried flowers of Mrs. Denis Morgan, and the beeswax candles of Mrs. Ferguson are expected to be a great attraction.

The Pavilion's owners are offering delicious buffet lunches Friday and Saturday, and a buffet supper Friday, at moderate prices.

Plans Alterations To Hotel Lounge

Extensive renovations are planned by Hubert Contant to his Ottawa Hotel. The present men only tavern, is to be discontinued, we understand, and that space will be incorporated in the present lounge.

Work is expected to get underway in a few weeks.

Had Charge Laggan Day Camp

Five high school students were in charge of the Laggan Day Camp for children during the summer. About 40 children were registered from four to 13 years of age.

The children took part in nature excursions, sports of all kinds, creative dancing and handicrafts. Classes were held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Supervisors were Dawn Campbell, Tracy Myers, Gail Epp, Luke Masson and Linda Denovan.

Summer Rainfall Was 17.29 Inches

Rain fell on 16 days for a total of 4.45 inches in August, reports George Hambleton, weather observer at Dalhousie Mills.

Since June 1st, 17.29 inches of rain have fallen and the past month had only four consecutive days without rain. There was a five-day rest from rain in July and a four-day dry spell in June. Over the three-months period of summer rain fell on 50 days.

The high temperature in August was 83° on the 25th and the low was 38° on the 4th. The high was 70° or better on 23 days and 80° or more on only six occasions. We had thunder on four days.

One year ago the high was 89° and the low 32°. This occurred on the 25th and frost damage was observed in many areas. The high reached 80° or over on 18 days and average temperature was normal. This compared to 3° below normal this past month. Rainfall a year ago was over the four inch mark, one inch over normal.

Some 2,000 Pupils Enrolled Tuesday

Total enrolment figures in Alexandria schools are incomplete due to the delay in opening the new French Senior School. It remains uncertain when the new Rouleau School will be ready for occupancy.

Glengarry District High School is around the thousand mark. The enrolment usually climbs until the end of September as college students dissatisfied with their courses often return for different subjects. Night courses are in the planning stage and will be held according to demand.

St. Joseph's School, with grades one, two and three as well as two special education classes, has about 285 pupils.

Perpetual Help School has 302 pupils in kindergarten to grade six. This is down over 100 from last year due to grades seven and eight being shifted to the new school.

Alexander School has some 300 pupils from kindergarten to grade eight, the same as last year.

Harmony Glen has an enrolment of 21 in the English and French rooms.

San May Get More Chronically Sick

The St. Lawrence Sanatorium may be getting an additional 50 beds to handle the overflow of residents from the second floor of the Cornwall General Hospital if Department of Health authorities give approval after a tour to be conducted this week.

L. Cameron Kennedy, administrator of the sanatorium, said the home for the chronically sick, located on the second floor of the General Hospital, was being phased out of operation by Dec. 31st.

To take up the slack from the hospital the sanitorium is hoping to receive approval to put in an additional 50 to 54 beds, but this is conditional upon a report by the Department of Health.

The sanitorium currently houses 72 chronically ill patients.

Commenting on the possible expansion, Mr. Kennedy said, "The counties own the building and when it was constructed there was a high tubercular rate. Since then TB has practically been wiped out and the building has not been put to too much use."

He said a nursing home was needed. "It is not really the counties function but we have the building and the space, so why not use it?"

No More Play For Soccer Championship

No champion of the Glengarry Soccer League will be declared this year and there will be no award of the Glengarry Cup.

Meeting here last night, league officials made that decision in view of the fact no referees are available.

Ottawa referees are unable to act because rules of the Ontario Soccer Association insist on an eight-year suspension for any player striking a referee. The local league had already imposed a two-year suspension on Rondo MacSweyn for such an act and officers felt their decision should stand.

Emergency Office Open At Winchester To Serve Those With Crop Insurance

To provide prompt service for contract holders, the Crop Insuranance Commission of Ontario has established an emergency claims office in Winchester, Ontario. Adverse weather throughout the spring and summer months has resulted in a large number of claims. To date, nearly 2,000 insured have reported losses to the Commission.

Since it is now possible to assess the full extent of damage to crops, extra adjusters have been moved into Eastern Ontario to process claims. The work of the adjusters and the distribution of claim cheques are being coordinated at the emergency claims headquarters, located at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Winchester.

Early claims paid are averaging over $2,650 per farmer. Several larger farmers in Eastern Ontario have already received Crop Insurance cheques for over $10,000 each. In addition, insured farmers, like others in the designated area, may qualify for the $400 grant recently announced by the Federal Government.

Because of the high investment involved in growing the crop, some of the most severe losses are in corn. Of the total acreage grown in each county, 28% was insured in Carleton County, Dundas 20%, Glengarry 22%, Grenville 21%, Prescott 33%, Russell 66%, and Stormont 51%. It is expected that claims will be paid on a great deal of acreage this year.

Insured farmers who have not yet reported their losses are urged to do so immediately by contacting their agents or reporting directly to the emergency claims office at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Winchester; phone, 774-2313.

Marked Wedding Date At Dalkeith

Many friends, neighbors and relatives from Dalkeith and surrounding areas gathered in St. Paul's Hall to celebrate Stanley and Brenda Vogan's twenty-fifth year of happiness. Their six children, four boys and two girls, all attended.

The young people tastefully decorated the hall in pink, white and silver streamers. Mrs. Rod. D. K. MacLeod and Mrs. Donald MacGillivray donated beautiful flower arrangements. Mrs. John MacIntosh made and artfully decorated a three-layer cake topped with silver bells. It was admired by all. John MacIntosh,snapped pictures of the eventful occasion.

The Cousins Five entertained with their good music. Mr. Peter Berry and Hugh MacDonell looked after the guest book. Alexander MacLeod was the chairman. An interesting address was read by Mrs. Hugh MacPherson and a purse was presented to them by Mr. George Fulton on behalf of all.

Donald Angus MacLennan, Denis Ethier and Welsley Vogan all expressed heartfelt wishes to the honored couple and wished them many more happy years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vogan expressed their sincere thanks to all who attended and to all those who helped to organize the party. Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Reid accompanied them into the hall. Mrs. Fulton, with the neighbors, served a delicious lunch topped off by a piece of anniversary cake passed by Brenda and Stanley.

Store Business Changes Hands

Rheal Vaillancourt has sold his clothing store business and will retire from active business after a lengthy career in Glen Robertson and later in the "Stone Store" here.

The business now becomes Alexandria Discount Department Store and will feature clothing and shoes for the entire family. Mrs. Ilma Legault will be store manager.

Agreement Reached On Storm Sewer

Progress was made on plans for a storm sewer on Sandfield Street to drain the area of the new Rouleau School when town council held a special meeting Wednesday morning to discuss the subject.

The Counties Separate School Board has agreed to pay $20,000 of the estimated $50,000 cost and the town and Township of Lochiel will share the balance equally.

It is hoped to proceed with the new sewer as soon as necessary approval has been received from the Ontario Department of Transportation and Communication.

New Counties Clerk-Treasurer Has Had Nine Years Apprenticeship

A native of Martintown, where he still makes his home, Raymond J. Lapointe has had nine years service in the United Counties office at Cornwall where he took over as Administrator, Clerk-Treasurer on Sept. 1st.

He succeeds in that post L. Cameron Kennedy who has retired after long service.

Born at Martintown Oct. 25, 1935, Mr. Lapointe was educated at Martintown Public and Williamstown High Schools. His employment with the United Counties commenced Oct. 1, 1963 and he was appointed Deputy-Treasurer in June 1967 and Deputy Clerk-Treasurer in January 1970.

In 1967 the new Counties Clerk-Treasurer completed the training course for Municipal Clerks and Treasurers through Queen's University which entitled him to use the initials AMCT.

Married, and with five children, he is a charter member of the Char-Lan Optimist Club and chairman of the parish council of St. William's Church, Martintown. Mr. Lapointe's hobbies include gardening and active interest in area minor recreational programs.

STREET PAVING COMPLETED—Most of Alexandria's streets now boast a smooth asphalt surface following completion of this year's paving program. The paver was caught by the camera last week as the counties work crew laid the new surface on Dominion Street South, the Laporte Gardens subdivision. Before leaving the area the paver is also to provide a welcome new surface to the quarter-mile lane at the Glengarry Golf & Country Club.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Smooth Sailing In The Suburbs

The paver has been in town and streets in the new developments that knew only gravel now boast a slick smooth surface of asphalt. The transformation is probably most pronounced on Lochiel Street West, that long neglected road to the Island. Once narrow and pitted with potholes, it now invites smooth sailing off Main and residents of the area also are enjoying new water and sewer services long sought.

That's progress; but some residents of the older downtown section, driving over those fine streets in the new developments, may be excused for feeling they are being neglected. They were under the impression all side streets were to get a new surface this year but it seems the budget was unable to erase all the potholes and council in its wisdom settled in favor of those newer streets that were getting along on gravel.

Free of mud and dust, our suburbanites now must be thoroughly enjoying their new streets while residents of Gernish, Catherine and others east of Main continue to put up with patching that is sadly impermanent. They can but hope next year's budget will include provision for their streets.

Better Late Than Next Spring

Prime Minister Trudeau has finally decided on an election date and Canadian voters will be going to the polls on Monday, October 30th. The decision on a fall election apparently was a difficult one to make, for the Liberal Government has waited until the last possible moment. Any later date would have faced the threat of snow in many of the more northerly ridings.

Conditions are far from ideal for seeking re-election, it seems. But they could be expected to be even worse next spring when unemployment will be at a peak and the voters probably will be worn out by winter and in a mood to take out their troubles on the party in power.

Faced with a deadline for dissolving Parliament, Mr. Trudeau and his party strategists could have found little comfort in the results of the provincial election in British Columbia. Premier W. C. Bennett's Social Credit sway was finally dissolved, but by a concerted swing to the New Democratic Party. Provincial Liberals did no better than hold what they already had, five seats; though that was probably preferable to the two ridings that went Conservative.

How the people vote provincially has little bearing on the results of a federal general election, it has been shown, though. It is quite possible British Columbia voters will hedge their bets on October 30th by swinging to one of the older parties. Having opted for an untried NDP government provincially, they well may decide for the solidity of a Stanfield at Ottawa.

Public opinion polls suggest the Trudeau personality is still upstaging the staid Conservative leader. Stanfield has given no evidence that he can ignite the heather as Diefenbaker once did and unless he can make a dent in Quebec's Liberal strength it is doubtful the rest of the country will provide support enough to sweep the Conservatives to power. A swing in thirty seats would be enough to do it, though, and the long delay in calling an election suggests the Trudeau Liberals will be entering the fray in a worried frame of mind.

The Trudeau charisma may work again in the nation despite the many administrative weaknesses that have dogged his leadership. A Liberal majority in face of today's economic conditions would probably doom the Conservatives to extinction as a force in federal politics. That would leave the Canadian voter even less a choice than he has in a day when the Tories lack the faith to drop that "Progressive" label.

If Mr. Stanfield is not to be given an opportunity to show what he can do as government leader perhaps we would be smart to settle for a minority government.

Here in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell we will be electing a new representative. Viateur Ethier is bowing out after ten years and the field is wide open. Our county will play only a minority part in the decision-making but it is to be hoped the older parties will come up with standard-bearers who will merit our serious consideration before we go to the polls.

Voters Should Have To Register

The Ontario Government has moved to synchronize all municipal and school board voting across the province. Where councils once could be elected for from one to three-year terms, all in future will be limited to the same two years of service decreed for trustees and all municipal elections will be held simultaneously.

That is probably a progressive move, one calculated to save on the cost of conducting a vote for school board members in a municipality that is enjoying an off-year from local elections. Councils and trustees will all be elected at the same polls right across Ontario every two years.

Perhaps not so obviously progressive is the new legislation giving the municipal franchise to every eligible resident over the age of 18. As Columnist M.E.D. in the Prescott Journal observes, "the net results will probably be, for Prescott, doubling of the potential vote and halving the percentage of those who exercised their voting privilege". He suggests the Legislature might be more concerned about increasing the choice of candidates. He continues:

"Nor is that observation entirely facetious in character. From our point of view, it seems that since the government has so generously given the right to vote to those with little or no stake in our town, we should be more selective than ever in electing our administrators.

And to be more selective, we should have a better selection, especially from the professional and management fields. Where else can business judgment and experience be found? And surely some of these should feel some sense of obligation to the community? Surely membership in a golf club, service club or lodge doesn't totally discharge this indebtedness?

"That prompts another thought on enumeration and elections. The provincial or regional people are going to do the enumerating in September, at so much per name, no doubt. Then, it is quite possible that it may be done all over again in October, for the federal elections, also at so much per name.

Across the border it seems they have the simpler way by transplanting the responsibility where it belongs and requiring would-be electors to register. Then it becomes nobody's fault but their own if they are omitted from the eligibility list.

Assessment Problems

Regarding the reassessment of properties across Ontario and what impact it will have on municipal taxes., The Huron Expositor points out that claims that increased assessments will be offset by reduced tax rates are being greeted with some skepticism.

The Seaforth editor feels there is no doubt some changes in assessment procedures were necessary. There were variations from municipality to municipality but in the case of most towns and cities steps to correct these imbalances already had been taken when the province preemptorarily stepped in and took over.

Regardless of the outcome of the reassessment the increased costs of this government action are apparent in the army of assessment people that has been created across the province, in the additional enumeration and census that has been necessary and in the loss in time and money suffered by ratepayers and municipalities through continually changing procedures and the inconveniences which centralizing has created.

Municipal taxes are based on assessment and if the assessment is increased substantially then it follows taxes will rise unless the tax rates are changed.

Tax rates are the responsibility of each municipality and councils would be less than human if they resisted the opportunity to increase their revenues even if at the same time they reduce rates.

The results in areas where reassessment is a fact have been so confused and created so many out-cries that the government postponed implementation until the reassessment program was completed. These cries probably are nothing compared to what can be expected when the job is completed and the new assessments go into effect.

Telling Us Something

Scotia-Glenville (NY) Journal

Animals may not be able to tell man in so many words what they think of his lifestyle, but they manage to get the message across. Like the gorilla which escaped from the San Diego Zoo.

In the past when an animal gained his freedom in this manner he usually led his captors on a merry chase, savoring to the last instant his freedom. Not this time. Within 15 minutes the gorilla was found back at her cage "scared to death," according to her keeper.

Man may not have reached the point where he is willing to trade modern existence with all its problems for the security of a cell, but if the gorilla has reached that stage, can man be far behind?

VISIBLE REWARD

(Windsor Star)

Farmers have a satisfaction which most urban dwellers do not know. They can watch their own products grow from seedlings to the ripened harvest. In this South-western Ontario the season for doing so is longer than in most parts of Canada ranging from the early vegetables to the late corn and soybeans.

A bane of most industrial jobs is that a worker may see only a small part of the production operation. He also sees this repetitively, hour after hour, day after day and year after year. That applies not only to assembly line workers.

Farmers have reasons for discontent and disappointment. But they also have this satisfaction of watching their efforts ripen into wonderful maturity, be it a fine tomato or a lovely ear of corn.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Enclosed find renewal subscription to your paper.

We enjoy the editorials and the many other features including keeping us informed of those who are near and dear to us.

The making of grandfather, grandmother and granddaughter clocks is still providing me with an interesting and rewarding hobby.

I have a lady customer in Newfoundland who wants me to airmail her a grandmother clock and if that is not possible, take it over to her in our station wagon. This would indeed be a thrilling experience.

She says we may not meet Joey (he is in the dog house as far as the PC are concerned). She goes on to say that like most politicians you can't please everyone, he did some things wrong and as far as she was concerned he did a lot of things right too when you consider the progress Newfoundland has made the last 20 years.

I intend to get her a clock to Newfoundland somehow and sealed in the bottom will be a copy of our Glengarry News.

Sincerely A. W. Campbell

Away Out Of Balance

(The Wingham Advance-Times)

The unemployment problem in Canada is far more serious than most of us realize. Lack of work is a serious situation at any time, and the consequent lack of income usually spells economic disaster for any nation thus afflicted.

The plain facts are, however, that there is not a shortage of work in Canada at present. Employers all over the land are screaming about the dire shortage of good help—despite the fact that nearly 600,000 people are drawing unemployment insurance. Another vast horde are living off the rest of us while the government doles out money for make-work projects, only a portion of which are of any real value.

Where, then, does the discrepancy lie?

Last week we offered an unemployed pressman from Guelph $100 a week as a starting salary until his ability could be measured. He said he couldn't afford to take work at a figure of that kind. Another young, able and single man we know took his first job last fall. He worked three months, was laid off and luxuriated in front of the TV with successive cases of beer all winter. He didn't try to find work because he was drawing $83 every week for doing nothing.

Is it really hard to understand why unemployment figures are high?

SEXY, TOO

Permanent car licence plates will be in use in Ontario next year and for the small added fee of 25 bucks the Minister of Transportation and Communications is giving you the opportunity of choosing your own set of plates. All you have to do is select the three letters and three numbers you fancy, send along your cheque, and if that combination hasn't already been requested by someone else you'll be able to sport that licence for years to come.

Mind you there are limitations. So honorable is the Honorable Gordon Carton, minister in charge, he has had his underlings roam through the dictionary and list any three-letter word they think might not be in good taste. The letters G, I and Q will not used either; don't ask us why.

Such innocent words as bed, bum, bet, will be out and it seems the minister has closed all doors to anything suggestive by requiring three numerals on the plate.

He must have been reading up on one case in Britain, where drivers have for years been permitted to choose their own plate combinations. Over there motorists can be a bit snobbish by getting No. 1 of any series of letters. The British try to guard against anything suggestive, but licence issuers must have been dismayed when they heard of a beautiful blonde driving down a London street in a handsome open car. Her licence was SXY2.

Women drivers in Ontario won't be able to emulate her, but given the inventive genius of the Canadian smart-Alex somebody is going to come up with a set of plates that will make Mr. Carton's false teeth rattle—if he wears plates himself.

The birth rate may be going down but it's also true that the present generation of females far outstrips all others.

GOING TO THE DOGS

This capitalist society in which we live is preferable to a socialist state but the system has its weaknesses, two of which were pointed up in a recent news story out of Florida.

Eighty-one stray dogs have inherited some $14 million from the estate of their late spinster mistress. They now live in an antiseptic clinic on a 180-acre ranch and the courts have decided the bequest will stay in effect until the last dog is dead, or for a maximum of 20 years.

There were 150 stray dogs in the pack when the oil heiress died in 1968, leaving her $4.5 million estate to them. Her will was contested by relatives who were not mentioned in it and in the interim 69 of the dogs have died. The remaining 81 have been tattooed to prove membership in the original pack and the animals are separated by sex so as to prevent propagation.

There oughtta be a law against that, we're thinking. What good is all that money if the dogs can't enjoy a bit of loving. But we'll leave that for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

LION TALES

(by Lyall Costello)

The production of any newspaper is like the production of a play or a show. The actors in the show receive all the praise for its success because they are the ones seen by the audience. In reality its success also depends on the stage-hands, promoters, set designers, the background music producers and anyone who works behind the scenes.

The same holds true of your weekly newspaper, The Glengarry News, and the more association I have with the people who physically produce the "News" the more appreciative I am of their efforts. I have occasion to be present when they are trying to correct copy, proof read, improve spacing and change the make-up of the paper to make it more interesting. So I think it only fitting that I introduce you to those "behind the scenes" people. First we meet Mrs. Mervyn (Anna Margaret) MacDonald of Green Valley whose husband works for Carnation. Her duties are numerous, answering the phone, getting the news; social news, proof-reading and photographing. Her hobby, which has turned into a part-time business, is photography. Anna Margaret is a family woman and her christian outlook is directed towards her family which consists of Tony (of Prescott); Jim, Blair (member of Cornwall Royals, last year's Memorial Cup winner); Barry, Carter, Kennedy, Judy (Mrs. Edward Allinotte), Elaine and a niece Valerie who has lived many years with them and whom they consider as one of the family.

Next is Helen, Mrs. John McBain of Lancaster, born Helen Goodfellow, is a daughter of the late George Goodfellow, well-known drover of the area. Her duties are looking after accounts and all-around helper in the office and proof-reading. Her husband John, was deputy-reeve of Lancaster Township and is now employed by the county as welfare inspector. They have one daughter Kathy at home.

Emile Hurtubise is the linotype operator and is the man responsible for all the rattles and creaking on the main floor. Emile is an ardent golfer. Having worked in Ottawa for the Ottawa Citizen at night, he spent a good part of the daylight hours playing the courses there. He also purchased a farm on the Glen Road with race track facilities and keeps a few horses. His favorite is "Sumac".

Emile is married to Rita St. Laurent of Campbellton, NB. They have two boys, Paul of Ottawa and Mickey of Oshawa. They also have a daughter Lynne at home.

Our next is an all-around pressman, an employee of many years standing (and a few sitting down), Gil Sauve. He is married to Laurette Massia and lives in Alexandria. He is the father of four children, Vivian and Robert attending the Glengarry District High School and Nicole and Claude in Grades 6 and 3 in elementary school. Gil is a community-minded person and is very active in fraternal circles and belongs to the Knights of Columbus.

Phil Howells of Lancaster has our next billing. He has travelled all across Canada to learn the printing trade. He is married to Janet Ovans, a home-town girl from Huntingdon, Que. Janet worked for "The Gleaner" the Huntingdon newspaper. They have two daughters, Penny and Shelley and Phil's hobby is "Newfie" jokes.

Last but not least is Roger Quesnel of Alexandria married to Suzanne Laflamme. They have one daughter, Sylvie. Roger's hobby is horse-back riding and he looks like Napoleon sitting up on top of press in his engineer's seat.

GUESS WHO?

A native of town and built very round,
When he talks to the boys, he makes a great noise,
He makes many jokes and drinks many cokes,
He is a mason by trade and many bricks he has laid,
He loves to hear news but drinks little booze,
If you can't guess his name think of the "ball-base" game.

to argue mayhap.

That estate of 4.5 million has increased in value to $18 million in just four years and surely there should be a law somewhere in the books to prevent unused capital from piling up at such rate. It takes money to make money, we've learned in the school of hard knocks. But if there weren't so many loopholes in the tax laws, favoring the rich, most of that legacy would have been siphoned off by the revenue department as are our hard-earned dollars.

There should be some limit to how much capital can earn and there ought to be some way for government to step in and sequester an estate that has been so obviously willed by an unsound mind.

And while we're looking for flaws in this capitalist system let's take a peak at the annual losses of Canadian National Railways. They're caused by the millions of dollars being shelled out each year in interest on bonds that would have been worthless had not the federal government stepped in and guaranteed them way back when the CNR was formed out of bankrupt lines. Over nearly a century several generations have been clipping coupons at the expense of the taxpayers of Canada. Surely there should be a limit or must we keep on paying to eternity.

This report out of Florida confirms our suspicions that capitalism, as we know it now, is going to the dogs. Up here in Canada socialist government is steadily taking over, but sad to say it is retaining all the worst features of capitalism, like unlimited interest.

Completion Of Senior Soccer Finals Still Uncertain At Press Time

by Angus H. McDonell

By the time this issue of the News hits Rue Principal and the Glens the Glengarry Soccer League finals will have taken one of two routes. As we write this uncalled for situation and the soccer finals are at the crossroads.

The McCrimmon-Stars best in five series for the soccer championship of Glengarry was halted during Tuesday of last week's game with the score tied 2-2 and six minutes left to play. The reason: Referee Dieter Jaskulski was grounded by a punch in the face by McCrimmon's Rondo MacSweyn who disliked the official's order that he was out of the game for rough play.

Following this unfinished game the Ottawa officials, referee and linesmen, advised secretary Ron Allison that they would not return.

At a league meeting last Thursday night Rondo MacSweyn was suspended for two years and ordered to post a $500 bond before returning to play.

The washed out game was rescheduled for tonight (Thursday) as officials in Ottawa were contacted and, we understand, would return to complete the series which would mean one game if the Stars won, as they lead 2-1, however a fifth and final game would be necessary should McCrimmon tie the series at 2-2.

Later the officials reversed their intentions of returning here to complete the finals.

Now the league and both clubs are at the crossroads. If the officiating problem cannot be solved at a meeting called for Wednesday (last night) then there will be no more games as the road becomes a 1972 dead end. However, should an agreement be reached the other road leads to the finals.

The favored Dunvegan intermediates who led the league all season were defeated by Glen Sandfield in the final game for the championship in Maxville on Wednesday of last week by a score of 2-1.

It was a tie ball game at half time as John Wensink opened the scoring with a goal for Dunvegan only to have Glen Sandfield's Gordie MacPherson come through with the equalizer.

In the second half Gordie MacPherson donned the hero's cap as he scored his second goal and the one that won the championship for Glen Sandfield.

In the minor finals, Laggan "A" won the peewee crown and Glen Sandfield the sprites championship.

Twilight Golf Loop Had Closing

Gilles Houde's Canaries emerged the winning team in the men's twilight league at the Glengarry Golf & Country Club last Thursday and were presented with the Glen Motel trophy. Members of the winning combo with Mr. Houde were Emile Hurtubise, Maurice Lemieux, Lucien Chenier, Adrien Filion and Dr. Harry Abbey.

Their 48½ points were just enough to give them victory in a close finish that saw five teams grouped within five points of the leaders.

Other winners of prizes over the season's play in the twilight league were:

Best gross—Al Dunsmore. 38.
Runner-up—Ron Martin, 39.
First net—Rejean Theoret, 24.
Runner-up—Lucien Chenier, 26.

Winner of the Wallace Hope trophy for Most Valuable Player to his team: Norman Laperle, with 14.25 points. runner-up, Rejean Theoret, 14 points.

Following presentation of the prizes by the league convener, Ronald Macdonald, he was presented with a handsome souvenir plaque in appreciation of his work in fostering the twilight league through the last seven years. The presentation was made by Gilles Houde who will take over as convener next year.

A corn roast followed, with the ladies participating.

Laggan Girls Win 8th Championship

Domination of the girls' soccer league continued on Monday night as the powerful Laggan entry clinched top honors for the eighth consecutive season.

Finishing first in the five team loop, Laggan eliminated Dunvegan two games to one in semi-final play and advanced to the finals against an Alexandria squad who had eliminated Glen Sandfield in straight games to earn their berth in the finals.

The finals provided plenty of exciting action as Alexandria (relative newcomers to the girls' league) attempted to bring to an end one of the longest reigns of supremacy known to any division of the Glengarry Soccer League.

Laggan got off to a fast two-game lead in the best of five series as Lynn MacMillan, Patti Campbell and Joanne Charlebois booted goals to give them the opener 3-1 (Jean Touchette scoring for Alexandria) and Marilyn Robinson and Joanne Charlebois combined to score goals in a 2-1 second game victory.

Facing elimination in the third game Alexandria fought back from a one goal deficit to win 2-1 on goals by Jean Touchette and Colleen McCormick. (Joanne Charlebois scoring for Laggan.)

However, Laggan were not to be denied in Monday night's game as Patti Campbell scored to give her team the victory and the championship.

Char-Lan Bantams Are Champions

Char-Lan defeated Alexandria with a score of 4-3 in the final game of the Bantam Division of the Glengarry District Boys Soccer League in Alexandria, Saturday, August 26th.

The play-off series consisted of five closely fought games with both teams tied in number of points prior to the final game.

Don Thomson led the scoring for Char-Lan with two goals while Bobby Periard and Ian Sandilands each scored singles.

Jackie Touchette, Randy McDonell and Norman Laliberte tallied for the losing cause.

Char-Lan coach Don Blackadder was rewarded for his valuable assistance during the season by being tossed fully clothed into a swimming pool at one of the players' home during a victory celebration after the game.

Has Eye On Pro Refereeing

Carman MacMillan was among 50 hockey referees from all across Canada who attended the NHL referee school in Etobicoke last week.

The school, under the direction of Scotty Morrison and Frank Udvari as well as other top NHL referees, qualifies its trainees to referee any amateur hockey in the Dominion of Canada with an eye to the future in professional ranks.

Carman also attended the Vern Buffey Referee School in Catona, NY, earlier this summer where he took a refresher course and plans to attend the WHA camp in September.

The biggest treat of the Toronto School was being able to watch the referees in action who will be officiating at the Russia-Canada series. He also attended Team Canada inter-squad game there on Saturday night.

Ivan Back In Uniform

Alexandria's Ivan MacMillan returned to action with Toronto Argonauts at Montreal, Monday, and his educated kicking foot played an important part in that team's first victory of the season. Ivan earned 12 points in Argos' 43-21 win over Alouettes.

Report On . . .

your correspondent, Mr. MacKenzie, said, last week, the lads and lassies did us proud. It must have given Pipe-Major David Danskin a feeling of satisfaction to parade this fine band in his home city, with his parents and parents-in-law beaming in the front row. I don't think they missed a show, after that, either. There is a huge, white, cement area in front of the stage, used for outdoor dances and the band used this to full advantage.

Sunday was a busy day. In the afternoon, we gave our show in Falkirk, in a lovely park, following short shows by a French folk-dance group, and a Lithuanian choir, and once again, warm, sunny weather, and a crowd of 1,400 people.

I remember telling the crowd that, after the other two shows, I didn't know if we were to represent Canadian or Scottish culture, so we settled for Scottish culture with a Canadian accent. After the show, we were taken to Dunblane, for dinner followed by a ceilidh. During this party, our band and dancers did a half-hour performance, and other entertainers also did their stuff. As I said, this was a busy day, as there was quite a bit of travelling.

On Monday evening, the band and dancers were back at the Gardens, to share a concert with the Regimental Band of the 1st Queen's Dragoon Guards. Our people did three ten-minute appearances, both band and dancers using the dance area, as the brass band had the stage, but it worked out very well, and once again they did us proud.

When our people marched off, the Dragoon Guards played "The Maple Leaf" especially for us, followed by a salute from the Bandmaster in our direction, a very gracious gesture.

Monday evening, we went to Musselburgh for a concert, but found that the people there had very little notice and all they had for us was a park and PA system. Carmel and her accordion doubled as a piano and accompanied the singers, and the dancers did some of their dances on the grass, but we cut the show to an hour, and it was getting dark then anyway. The people there were very sorry about the short notice they had as they would have liked to have given us a meal.

Next day, Tuesday afternoon, 12th and last show. This was at Dunbar, and there was quite a large crowd. After our show there was a paratroop drop by three soldiers, which was something new for us to see. They did a long "free fall" before opening their parachutes, and all landed in an area of about 40 feet, which speaks well for their training.

And that was the end of our concert tour, as such. We then had two whole days with nothing to do. Although we were there for 20 days, we had given 12 concerts in 16 days, which, with all the travelling involved, was a reasonably busy program. Except for the two occasions during the first week, we were blessed with very fine, sunny weather. We were also blessed with a maximum of harmony within the group. The thought of taking a party of 45 on a three-week foreign tour of this kind is calculated to give those in charge more grey hairs, but I think they will agree with me that we couldn't have had a more co-operative party.

The band played 28 tunes, but mostly in sets of three or four without stopping, and Pipe-Major Danskin can well be proud of his people's efforts. Also, the full band played for all the dancing, except the step dance.

The dances were all designed by Mrs. MacCulloch, and are done only by her pupils. The Glengarry dancers had to move pretty fast with costume changes between some appearances, as they wore their kilts for Highland dancing, and their striking new red and white outfits for the step dance. Besides this, the Denovan girls wore dresses of Maple Leaf tartan for their specialty number, Brenda at the piano and Linda doing a brand new solo dance and doing it very well. Carmel was a big hit everywhere, and she not only did her own accordion solos, but accompanied the step-dancing, and when there was no piano supplied, accompanied the singers. Speaking of singers, ours (Garry and Robin) were extremely popular, as they did their solo numbers in quite different styles, but were able to harmonize perfectly in duets, and included a Canadian song in each appearance. All in all, we who were more or less behind the scene, think our performers did extremely well.

Appleton, Prescott, became the bride of Anthony Lawrence (Tony) MacDonald, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald, Green Valley, Ontario. Reverend Lloyd B. Martin officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Father Arthur J. Appleton, cousin of the bride. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Vincent, organist of St. Paul's.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of imported organza over taffeta, with a front panel of silk hand-embroidery. The high neckline, French pouffe sleeves, empire waist and short chapel train were accented with eyelet embroidery and full ribbon trim. Her short bouffant veil was of sheer illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath from which fell an heirloom ivory fan.

Miss Ann Cipra, Prescott, as maid of honor, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of mauve chiffon with full sleeves and a bodice overlay of white lace. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations, purple, mauve and white mums and deep purple velvet ribbons.

James MacDonald, Green Valley was best man for his brother, and the single usher was Blair MacDonald, Green Valley, also brother of the groom.

Aid Agreement For Farmers

Farmers in this area of the province are eligible for the following aid through programs set up under the Federal and Provincial Government due to severe weather conditions this summer.

There are four major aspects of the program:

1) LOANS:
The provincial and federal governments will guarantee loans for farmers short of operating capital. These loans will be appraised by a regional committee made up of a farmer, banker and government representative upon application of any farmer having suffered major crop damage, then either accepted or rejected. Once granted by this committee, the farmer will negotiate the loan at his local bank. Repayment will cover a maximum of six years at prime interest rates. Farmers obtaining these loans must agree to take out crop insurance while the loan is outstanding. Applications will be available from the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food in the near future.

2) TRANSPORTATION SUBSIDY
Farmers purchasing hay, corn, silage or forage substitutes will be eligible for transportation grants as follows:

—⅔ cost of transporting hay to a maximum of $4 per ton for 80 miles or less and an additional 3c/ton mile over 80 miles effective July 1.

—⅔ cost of transporting roughage substitutes i.e. No. 2 feed screenings, uncleaned screenings, pelleted refuse screenings, etc., effective August 24.

3) SUBSIDY ON CATTLE FEEDS
There will be a cash subsidy to help farmers buy feeds. $2/ton will be paid on ALL feed grain purchases (normal and additional). These will be granted after the winter feeding period on application by the individual.

4) CASH GRANTS
Cash grants of $400 will be available to eligible commercial farmers. A minimum acreage or livestock number will probably be used in determining eligibilty.

Autumn Showcase At Kemptville College

The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food announces the 1972 annual Autumn Showcase to be held at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology on Sunday, September 17th.

This year's "Open House" program will operate between the hours of 11.00 a.m. and 5.00 p.m. Included will be guided farm tours on wagons, exhibits and live demonstrations to provide visitors with an opportunity to see agricultural research as well as learn about educational opportunities in agriculture and home economics.

The program is designed to appeal to urban and rural families of all age levels. The dairy herd, cheese manufacturing, poultry in cages and maple sugar making, are some of the items which will appeal to children.

Last year over 3000 visitors came from town and country to see Autumn Showcase at Kemptville College.
