Glengarry girls to dance on Ceilidh show

Glengarry dancers will be featured on the Ceilidh program from Halifax in the near future. Nine of the area's top dancers will be seen performing "Grant's Fancy", a combination dance designed by Mrs. Rae MacCulloch, St. Raphael's, in which four girls do a step-dance as five others simultaneously are highland dancing.

Date of the airing has not yet been set but there will be advance notice for television viewers in Glengarry, we are assured. A half-hour weekly show featuring Scottish music, song and dance, Ceilidh is telecast from Halifax on Saturday nights at 10:30, or following completion of the Hockey Night in Canada program.

Mrs. MacCulloch heard last week from CBC officials in Halifax that the Glengarry dancers would definitely make an appearance on the show. They will be flown to Halifax for three days of rehearsals and taping, probably during school break week in March reports Major Grant MacGillivray who handles public relations for the MacCulloch dancers.

Major MacGillivray reports a CBC team from Halifax has been in Montreal and other cities auditioning talent for the Ceilidh show. He was contacted and Mrs. MacCulloch went to Montreal a month ago with two highland and one step-dancer for an audition. They demonstrated "Grant's Fancy" and the CBC men were impressed though they told Mrs. MacCulloch the show's budget would not permit use of more than one or two dancers.

So enthused were they with the combination dance and others designed by Mrs. MacCulloch they have decided to "go for the whole bundle" and fly the nine girls and Mrs. MacCulloch to Halifax. Now she and the nine girls selected are busy with rehearsals. The dance is being adapted for the smaller space of the TV stage.

The nine girls chosen are from some 15 of the top dancers among some 300 taught by Mrs. MacCulloch. They are pictured above.

Majorettes to present show

"Twirl-O-Rama" is coming to Alexandria. On Sunday, March 9th, a baton-twirling extravaganza will be staged at GDHS Cafetorium. Mrs. Joan Earle, the show's director, has had many years of experience producing shows first in Toronto, and later in Cornwall. This is her first in Alexandria, and it promises to be an exciting display of talent starring the Alexandria Lions Majorettes.

For some of the members of the group a special competition portion of the program is planned, with trophies to all winners and runners-up. Guest judges will preside, and judging will be based on the overall performance and entertainment value of the individual routines. A few weeks ago, a preliminary competition was held during the classes and there are now five finalists in each of the Intermediate and Senior groups.

All of the other students will be taking part in the colorful, well-costumed entertainment part of the evening. A special solo will be performed by the instructor, Mrs. Earle, with lighted batons.

Admission is $1.00 per person. Showtime is 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from the majorettes, and at Barbara's store.

Record surplus of $127,000 was reviewed by Glengarry Farmers' Mutual at 80th annual

A record profit on the year's operations was reviewed at the annual meeting of the Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. held Saturday at the head office here.

President Sam J. McLeod of Martintown, reviewed a year that closed with a surplus on company operations of $127,284. That compared with a net gain of $2,787 in 1973, a year that knew record high loss claims of $236,084.

The net losses in 1974 were at a more manageable $58,549, only half the drain in the previous year, and as a result surplus on operations reached a new high.

The financial position of the Mutual at January 1st, 1975, showed assets nearing the million dollar mark at $966,377, an increase in one year of some $160,000. The company's surplus was at a healthy $703,892 and investment income was $10,000 higher than a year earlier, at $53,048. Policies in force at year end were valued at $80,747,000. That represented a dollar value of more than $14 million increase in 1974.

There were a lot of claims in 1974, notes a Company official, but we were lucky. Most were modest claims for lightning damage to stock or buildings and there were no major losses of homes or barns, as was the case a year earlier.

As of January 1st, the Mutual has taken over the complete wind insurance under a new re-insurance set-up similar to the fire re-insurance agreement under which the Company assumes losses up to 75 per cent of the earned premium income. The balance is recoverable from the Company's re-insurance plan.

Previously all wind insurance had been re-insured 100 per cent, with the insuring company being paid a commission.

Three directors whose terms of office expired were re-elected for a further term. They are John K. MacLeod, Lochiel; R. Alex McNaughton, Lancaster Township, and C. B. Proudfoot, Caledonia Township.

Sesel Wert of Avonmore, was elected president at the directors' meeting that followed the annual. C. B. Proudfoot was elected vice-president and Arch. J. McDonald is re-appointed secretary-treasurer.

Won holiday trip to Hawaii

Miss Diane Deguire, 33 St. Paul St., was the lucky winner of the holiday in Hawaii for two. Her ticket, No. 3724, was drawn by Theo Dandurand of Vankleek Hill, skip of the winning rink in the Curling Club bonspiel, following play Saturday night.

The draw was sponsored by the Curling Club.

AT GLEN ROBERTSON CARNIVAL—"Get my crown on straight, it was dearly earned" seems to be the thought of Carnival Queen Christianne Lacombe, as she was crowned by last year's queen, Debbie Oetelaar, last Saturday night. At left is first princess, Cecile Brabant and at right, second princess Marie Renaud. Girls merit the crown by sale of tickets and Miss Lacombe outsold all previous carnival contestants.

Opening of expanded hospital to be held on 10th anniversary

Glengarry Memorial Hospital was officially opened 10 years ago, on May 12, 1965, and that date has been chosen by the hospital board for the official opening of the expanded hospital.

Expansion is already 90 per cent complete reports a hospital spokesman and there will be no trouble in meeting the deadline of May 12th for the official opening. It is expected the new facilities will be in use by late April.

Premier William Davis has been invited to open the enlarged hospital but to date there has been no reply. Whether or not he comes for the occasion it is expected several top men from the Hospitals Branch, Toronto, will be in attendance.

A decision on who will preside at the opening ceremonies will not be made until Premier Davis notifies the board of his intentions.

A former resident of Alexandria, Jean Guy Massia, 25, of Cornwall, was fatally injured while employed by an electrical firm at Belleville, Friday.

Massia had been employed only six weeks with the Belleville electrical firm and had been residing in Cornwall at the time of his death. He was the husband of Nicole Bellefeuille of Alexandria, who survives with two young children, Chantal and Ghislain.

Also mourning his loss are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Massia of Montreal; two brothers and two sisters. They are: Norman Massia of Montreal; Antoine Jr. and Elise, Mrs. Andre Goulet of Chomedy; Claudette, Mrs. Leo Paul Seguin of Cornwall.

Parallel French-language course at GDHS wanted by French Advisory Committee

The SD&G county board of education's French language advisory committee (FLAC) will be recommending to the board that a feasibility study be made on the possibility of setting up a parallel French-language administration at Glengarry District High School in Alexandria.

FLAC members arrived at the decision Wednesday night of last week at their regular meeting at board offices in Cornwall.

By a vote of 4-3, FLAC will recommend to the board that the study be made but only after current registration in the high school is finished. The study should then be implemented some time after April 1.

Gerald E. Desjardins said the study would reveal what committee members and the board already know: the number of French-speaking students at the high school, the number of those registered in French-language courses, etc.

Mr. Desjardins fought for his own motion which would have had a full-time principal at Glengarry high responsible only for French-speaking students. But he later withdrew his motion.

Trustee Albert Morin insisted that the committee had the right, under Bill 141, of requesting the necessary teaching personnel and materials if an adequate number of French-speaking students can be found.

"Parents and teachers seem to be willing to settle for very little," he said.

In reply to Mr. Desjardins' suggestion, Mr. Morin said that he did not think Alexandria "was ready" for the introduction of a French wing in the high school.

Pierre Landry said the committee should support and act upon the rights provided for in Ontario's Education Act and decide at a later date how best to introduce a French-oriented administration at GDHS.

As to the number of known students who would register for French-taught courses, no one seemed sure, but Jean-Paul Scott, board superintendent, did say that since provincial funding is already available for such programs, FLAC should take advantage of them immediately.

Mr. Scott said he did not see the necessity of submitting a study to the board for examination.

Nonetheless, Marcel Masse's motion for a feasibility study was accepted.

Committee members did not say when the study might be made available to the board.

Fraternite reports on its activities

The senior citizens of the Church on the Hill and the Fraternite Group were royally entertained by Sylvester McDonald and his Clansmen in Alexander Hall in January.

A costume party was held for Mardi Gras. Music provided by Father Leo MacDonell, Messrs. Roussin and Beriault and Mrs. Poirier. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Arcade Trottier, Mrs. Yvonne Carriere and Mrs. Albert Laporte. Winner of the door prize was E. Dumouchel of Valleyfield.

Keep in mind the bake and handicraft sale and tea on May 10th. During the evening the "Mother of the Year" will be chosen. It is planned to organize a trip to Ottawa later.

There is a supply of lawn chairs available in the workshop. More willing hands are needed to plan and build a float for the Park Opening.

A general meeting will be held in the hall at 2 p.m. on Sunday, March 2nd. It is open to non-members as well and includes everyone beyond the age of 55.

Joins Ottawa police force

Rolland Lalonde has quit his work with the Alexandria Public Utilities Commission and Monday started new duties on the Ottawa Police Force. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Lalonde.

Mr. Lalonde had served as clerk and utility man on the PUC and it was expected his replacement would be named at a meeting of that body Wednesday night.

Rolland was also the capable secretary of Alexandria Lions Club.

Sells rest home

Jean Paul Touchette has sold the rest home at Glen Robertson to M. D. Fouhy who resides in that area. Mr. Fouhy plans to re-open almost immediately the 20-bed home formerly operated by Mrs. Eudore Leroux.

Long planned aeration sewage lagoons expected this year

Aeration of Alexandria's sewage lagoons, in the planning stage for several years, will probably be proceeded with this year, town council was told at last week's meeting.

Representatives of the Ontario ministry of the environment will be here in a couple of months to measure the contents of the lagoon, according to Laurent Poirier, manager of the PUC. We are taking tests of the raw and effluent lagoons every two weeks, reports Mr. Poirier, and forwarding them to Toronto.

The lagoons have been overloaded for some time and present plans call for aerating them rather than enlarging the lagoons.

Council was berated by Lionel Leroux, president of Glengarry Motor Sales for improper procedure in the calling of tenders for a new vehicle and its purchase. Council had accepted a bid from MacEwen Motor Sales of Maxville, that did not meet requirements set out in the tender, the local dealer declared.

Mr. Leroux said he submitted a bid for $6,885 for a three-quarter ton heavy-duty truck, with all options requested in the bid by the town. Heavy-duty shocks and suspension were included in his bid.

But council accepted a bid from MacEwen Motor Sales which did not have the requirements asked for by the town. The MacEwen bid was for $6,685.

"That's $200 less," said Mr. Leroux, "but without the options asked for by the town in the first place."

Tenders were considered at a special meeting of council and Mr. Leroux later checked the tenders. He told council the MacEwen bid did not specify all the options; council had asked one thing and accepted something else. He was told MacEwen's had tendered on a package deal and had promised all the options would be included.

A new agreement will be drawn up between the town and the Alexandria Snowmobile Club covering the new refreshment stand on the park erected by the club. Council feels it should remain the property of the town. The club would be responsible for upkeep and services during the winter months while the town would carry these costs during the summer when the building would be used by the Parks & Recreation committee.

Council agreed to provide office space over a 90-day trial period for the make-work project Outreach. If the program is adjudged a success the lease will be extended for as long as the project remains in Alexandria.

June Aubin is the reigning Queen of Carnival '75. Last weekend certainly was a memorable one. I hope you participated in some part of it. Whoopee!

Friday night a crowd filled the public school gym for the carnival '75 pageant. Our three judges, Osie Villeneuve (MLA), Reeve Adrian Gadbois and James Hollingsworth (St. Lawrence College Professor) judged our five lovely contestants on their promenade, their display of talent, and their impromptu speech. On the basis of the quality of their performances in the above categories, June Aubin (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Aubin) was crowned Queen by our carnival '74 queen, Iris MacDonald. Monique Lapointe (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lapointe) and Brenda Morris (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Morris) were declared princesses.

Suzanne Lalonde (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lalonde) and Carol Lapensee (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lapensee) were also entered. June was sponsored by St. Williams, Brenda by the Women's Institute, Monique by Char-Lan Optimists, Carol by Martintown Horticulture and Suzanne by St. William's Youth.

A very lovely and talented group of contestants. Each girl received jewellery and a pen set. The queen received a bouquet of red roses, a beautiful transistor radio, and a gift certificate (East Court Mall). The princesses received corsages and a transistor radio. Carol Ann Ross who worked very hard on the carnival organization, and particularly with the queen contestants, was presented with a bouquet by Andrea Buckland as appreciation for her efforts. Osie Villeneuve and Reeve Gadbois officially opened the carnival weekend.

The Brigadoons put on an excellent concert featuring, of course, that wonderful accordionist Robbie Taylor and the melodic voices of Bob Birney and Brian MacDonald. Add to all that our own MacCulloch Martintown Dancers with Rae's daughter Deborah leading the dancing, and the result was an unforgettable evening. Overheard while the judges were locked in the grade three classroom attempting to reach a decision, was the following comment from one of the contestant's mothers: "Oh my, this waiting for the decision is nerve wracking—I don't know which is worse, waiting for the judges or having a baby". One wiseacre commented— "Well that could be, but I hope the judges don't take as long."

After the pageant an informal reception was held at Don and Carol Ross' recently renovated home. Maurice Gilmore and Garry McLeod joined the Brigadoons with violins for some lively music, singing, and country dancing. The whole evening was a great one, even the parts I don't remember, so they said. Who were those two characters that Reeve Gadbois wanted to take west with him to Toronto to show the Good Roads Convention how Glengarrians enjoy life at party time?

Saturday the parade was held. George Hope of Glen Robertson, and Lloyd Howes of Dalkeith, stole the show with their finely decked out teams of horses. Ahh, those horses—what fond memories for old timers. Women's Institute won first prize with a Maple Sugar Camp theme. Public School was second and Ray Howes and the Separate School tied in third place. The Fire department led the way and I brought up the rear pulling balloon people Andrea, Trudy, Jimmy and Aden Buckland in a wagon.

Onagh Ross judged the snow sculptures for us. The winner was Trevor MacDonald.

Winners in the park events: The world championship in the pulpwood toss has gone north—to Apple Hill. Harvey St. Denis is the new world champ with a throw of 22 feet, 9½ inches. Our own Henry Kinloch, (the former world record holder, was second and Stewart Evans third.

Log Saw: Women—first place tie, Leola Aubin and Carol Riley; Bernice and Joyce Fourney; Gisele Dicaire and Elizabeth MacRae.

Men, first—Henry Kinloch and Stewart Evans; Gerry Dicaire and Ray Ramsay; Don Christie and Bill Ingram.

The oldest gentleman was Alex Lagroix, (I felt like the oldest on Sunday morning) and the eldest lady was Mrs. Frank Blackadder.

The Presbyterian ladies served a fine hot meal for the hungry souls. Puck shooting, egg tossing and nail hammering were other park events.

Saturday night we rolled up the sidewalks and put Martintown to sleep as we all headed for yon Bonnie Glen. An estimated 700 lumberjacks and lumberjanes danced to the music of our favorite lumberjack orchestra, Sylvester and the Clansmen.

Percy Keir and Shirley Hamilton won the best costume prize. A grand evening. They came from Martintown, Montreal, Belleville, Dundas and all over to our Lumberjack's Ball.

For those of you who were not up and at church on Sunday, I went twice, so perhaps damnation is not yours yet. St. William's hosted the ecumenical service and the 25-voice folk choir is just a delight to hear. People of all three churches came together for the all-community service.

A most rewarding weekend for the organizers; mainly, Don and Carol Ann Ross. Thank you to all who participated.

Isabel and Irwin Cain celebrated their 36th year since tying the knot of matrimony, on February 22nd.

The really big news is that Rae MacCulloch and her dancers will be appearing on national television on the show Ceilidh from Halifax. Congratulations Rae —that's wonderful news. I was asking Rae if there was any chance of her forsaking Glengarry for greener fields. She told me that she would never leave Glengarry for "there's just no place like Glengarry and no people like those you find in Glengarry."

Martintown Mac says that surely the Christian church must move ahead in open brotherhood and love.

Family Service Bureau has role in treatment of alcoholism

Do you ever wonder where you can find help with alcoholism? The Cornwall Family Service Bureau offers an intensive service in this area.

Alcoholism is increasing at every level of our society. Countless surveys have indicated that alcohol far outranks other drugs as a cause of crime and social problems. Family Service Bureau has evidence that alcohol can cause suffering to even the strongest family unit. It may even destroy families who might have stayed together, despite other difficulties had there not been the additional problem of alcoholism.

Far too often the alcoholic has been treated in isolation. Frequently and erroneously it has been assumed that the alcoholic was the only family member affected by the drinking and that if his/her drinking was controlled all family problems would be resolved. In a family, where there is an alcoholic, however, all members grow resentful and hostile, thus damaging interpersonal relationships. Normal family roles are distorted. A mother may ally the children with her against an alcoholic father, or the children may refuse to give respect and obedience to one or both parents. The children may quarrel with one another or react with anti social behaviour in the community. It may be seen that the unmet needs of the non drinking family members are often as great or greater than that of the alcoholic. If the non drinking members can be counselled for their own conflicts, changes can be wrought in them. Frequently when the alcoholic realizes that his, or her, problem is of concern to the total family unit their drinking can become controlled. The family unit may regain its former stability. Without appropriate help for and from all family members, however, the sobriety achieved may be far from "contented."

Family Service Bureau uses different methods in counselling, depending on the basic personalities of each family member and the degree of disturbance. Certain families may be helped more adequately through regular individual counselling sessions; other families may respond better counselled as a whole family unit, either in an office or in their own home. Just as there is not one cause of alcoholism there is no single treatment effective for everyone. The most successful treatment for an alcoholic, who is still a member of a family, however, does seem to be the treatment of the whole family.

If a problem drinker can also be counselled while still employed drinking can be controlled. Contrary to popular belief surveys have indicated that over 50% of the alcoholics in Ontario are employed. Rehabilitation rates amongst employed alcoholics are much higher than amongst those who wait until they lose their jobs before seeking help.

In the last few years, Family Service Bureau has intensified its efforts in the counselling of employed problem drinkers; of the alcoholics seeking services from Family Service Bureau in 1974, 69% were employed.

Employers and Unions recognize the value of counselling, therefore, many referrals come from these sources. Often, however, a worker will refer himself or herself because he or she has been suspended from a job. Family Service Bureau will consult with the alcoholics, employer and union, with his or her permission; often the mutual co-operation will result in improved job performance and the retention of the employment.

During the treatment process Family Service Bureau may, when necessary, avail itself of other community services including Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon, Addiction Research Foundation, clergy, medical and psychiatric facilities as each may have their own special role to play at various stages of the counselling program.

With appropriate and shared therapy for all family members and the co-operation of employers more effective and lasting help is being provided for the problem drinker and the family.

This service is available to the residents of Cornwall and United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. The Ministry of Health recognizes the services of this Agency and has made a grant available to the Agency. The Executive Director, Miss Margaret Conliffe and Miss June Caillier, social worker, have specialized courses sponsored by the Addiction Research Foundation.

The annual meeting for the Cornwall Family Service Bureau, will be held on Monday, March 10, at eight o'clock, at Knox United Church.

Picnic Grove had 83 at meeting

The February meeting of the Picnic Grove Chapter of the Women's Institute was held on February 11th in the church hall of the Presbyterian church in South Lancaster. The meeting was a rather special one and everyone was invited to come for the charge of one dollar. Eighty-three people were present and several Institute chapters were represented.

Mrs. Muriel MacLachlan had very kindly consented to show the slides of her trip to Australia which took place in October. Mrs. MacLachlan went to Australia as a representative of the 14th Triennial Conference of The ACWW which took place in Perth.

Mrs. Innes MacGregor led in the singing of the Inter Faith Service hymn, "Come Sing a Song of Joy". She was accompanied by Miss Susan MacLachlan on the piano.

Mrs. MacLachlan showed beautiful slides of her trip which included pictures taken in Fiji, Hawaii and New Zealand. The talk that she gave as she showed her slides was excellent.

Inez McDonell and Brenda McDonell were present with their accordians and played several lively Scottish selections.

A very good lunch was served to complete a most enjoyable evening.

SCHOOL CARNIVAL

All this week the hundred pupils of Ecole St. Bernard in Maxville, have been enjoying a gay and lively Carnival. Under the direction of their principal, Sister Mariette Grenier and her staff of six, the children, who range from kindergarten to grade six, have been busy in an imaginative variety of activities in a gaily decorated school.

Monday morning they were divided into two teams, Red and Blue, for the week-long points competition and each given a fat wool Bonhomme Carnaval emblem made by the pupils in grade six. Carnival Royalty was chosen in the afternoon, the judges for this were from the school PTA, Laurent Souligny, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bray, Mrs. Francoise Bray, Donald Besner, Mrs. Lorraine Bonneville and school librarian Jacqueline Racine.

From grades 5 and 6 the King and Queen had to answer a question, chosen here were David Deveau and Joanne Racine; in 3 and 4 the Prince and Princess had to recite a poem, Mario Besner and Lyne Leblanc; in kindergarten, 1 and 2, the Duke and the Duchess did a creative dance, Gilbert Bray and Guylaine Souligny. The winners were interviewed and their emotions recorded by the two pupils from grades 5 and 6 who had been appointed journalists for the week.

Tuesday was Color Day, with everybody wearing as much red or blue as possible, and all busy outside in the afternoon doing their snow sculptures. These were judged by the teachers and the favorite subject was animals. Wednesday morning Father Scott celebrated a special mass at an altar decorated with red and blue, on the theme of joy and happiness. The afternoon saw everybody in groups of four designing and painting bright posters for the Carnival, the winner here was David Deveau with Pierre Paquette, Francine Vanderwielen and Germain St. Pierre.

Thursday morning everybody arrived wearing a hat made at home, first prize in kindergarten and one went to Donald Bisaillon who had a valentine theme; 2 and 3 to Gilbert Bray sporting a picnic design; 4 and 5 to Jacques Delorme for a topper covered with buttons; 5 and 6 to Francine Lalonde with carnival activities. In the afternoon was the Tug-of-War.

Friday morning there was a special liberty chosen by the pupils themselves, they could chew gum undisturbed all morning long. Sisters would not say a word. In the afternoon the whole school went to the community rink for broomball games, even the kindergarten, then wound up a happy week with a popcorn party at the school, all the mothers coming in for a treat and to help make the popcorn.

Earl Boyle died

A native of Alexandria who had resided here and in Cornwall throughout his life, Earl Boyle died early Sunday. His death at age 65 came in his sleep.

The only child of the late John Boyle and his wife, Annie McPhee, Earl attended the local schools and Ottawa University before returning to reside here. A devout Catholic, he had been in ill health for many years but had been able to be up and about.

The funeral was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Morris Funeral Home to St. Finnan's Cathedral and vault. Rev. Leo MacDonell offered the mass in the presence of many friends.

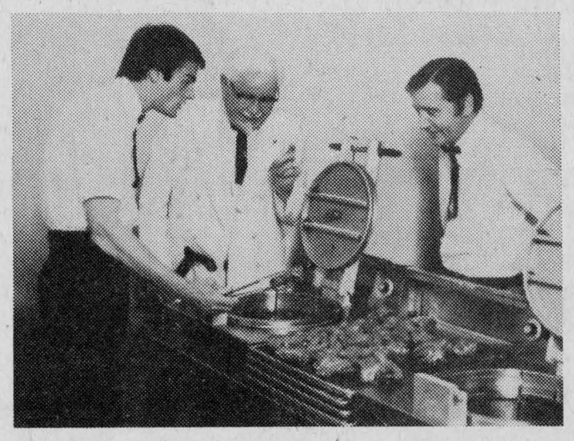
How the Colonel and his boys cook chicken finger lickin' good.



Some say the secret is in the seasoning, some say it's the special way of cooking. Some even go as far to say it is the magic of the Colonel himself.

But one thing is for certain, Kentucky Fried Chicken is, by all accounts, the tastiest chicken in all the land.

How is this so? Well, forgetting the secret recipe for a moment, let's look into the cooking.

First, there's pure vegetable oil. Then, in goes the chicken (already specially prepared in the Colonel's secret recipe of eleven different herbs and spices).

Clamp goes the lid of the cooker. The heat is at just the right temperature. And at exactly the right minute, not a fraction of a second earlier or later, out comes the Colonel's Kentucky Fried Chicken sealed full of flavour.

It's succulent and as tender as can be. One bite will tell you that what we say is true.

And you'll get lots of bites, because the Colonel believes in serving a hearty meal for your money.

And another thing, you never get stale or warmed over chicken. Kentucky Fried Chicken is cooked to be ready when you are.

The Colonel insists on it.

And so do all the Colonel's boys. You see, they've all been to the "Colonel's School of Chicken Knowledge" to learn the Colonel's special ways.

That's why, when you take home Kentucky Fried Chicken from any one of the 450 stores across Canada, you'll agree . . . it's finger lickin' good!

Travelling team coach has big burden . . .

Back a few years, Howard Morris and Omer Poirier who were heavily involved in minor hockey at the time, tried to promote the idea of all-star travelling teams. Like all new ideas, it took a few years for this set-up to become an accepted part of the minor structure.

The fact that money has become more plentiful was probably a big factor in the decision to formulate this type of team. It is the usual arrangement in all the neighboring towns as well as our own.

The rising cost of operation of these teams, for transportation and road expenses is borne by the coach and manager. Assistance from minor hockey and parents is minimal compared to the burden that the coach is saddled with. It is surprising to see so many qualified men volunteering for these duties, knowing what it entails.

The task of player selection at the start of the season is also the coach's responsibility. With the aid of the manager and sometimes advice of other coaches the necessary cuts are made at try outs until the roster is complete. The number of hours the coach spends with his team are not counted, but the better part of every weekend during the entire season is taken up.

It is not surprising that parents should resent the travelling incurred by these teams. Most realize this can not be avoided, but feel the out-of-town jaunts should be restricted to weekends.

The all-star or travelling team is a must in the minor hockey program. The boys benefit by this system in many ways.

The teams play exhibition games and tournaments and are matched against opponents of equal calibre. The more talented players have an opportunity to display their skills and perfect their play. The remainder of the boys, including beginners, are given an opportunity to play in the house league. Here, the emphasis is on recreation rather than winning.

Occasionally, players of all-star calibre for some reason or other play in the house league. This disrupts the balance of the league. Naturally these players will control the play and the lack of opposition will slow down their progress. Meanwhile, the less talented player, the one that requires the most help, cannot follow the pace and some give up hockey. Let's co-operate and put fun back in the game for these youngsters.

Minor Hockey dance at Bonnie Glen Friday night. Support this worthwhile organization.

A.D.M.H.A. referees . . .

Thirty-seven boys and two girls are registered in our minor hockey system and now referee house league and all-star games. Of these, 13 are qualified as Level One (green crest) with O.D.M.H.A. (Ottawa and District Minor Hockey Assoc.) and eight are qualified as Level Two (blue crest) with O.D.M.H.A., one, Carman MacMillan, is an O.D.H.A. crested referee.

Upon the recommendation and under the supervision of Carman MacMillan, three boys, Claude Roy, Robert Lajoie and Michel Arsenault are presently working regularly in the Jr. "B" city league in Cornwall. You may see them as linesmen in our Glens' games soon!

Two weeks ago Carman, Claude, Robert and Michel worked as referees and linesmen in the "AA", "A" and "B" Bantam tournament in Cornwall. This weekend they will be refereeing the Maxville Bantam tournament. These fellows are doing extremely well and could attend the Bruce Hood NHL Hockey Referee School this coming summer.

Short slants . . .

The Industrial League playoffs continue on Sunday with both series tied. Pizzeria won their match against Yamaha and Dalkeith took Cornwall Sunday afternoon.

The Peewee travelling team had a dismal weekend. They were on the short end of the score on three occasions, losses to St. Isidore, 5 to 3; Ile Perrot 3 to 1 and 5 to 0 to Cornwall "A" at Rigaud.

Jean-Yves Jeaurond, wrestling coach at GDHS was pleased with the efforts of his wrestling team in Smiths Falls last weekend. He was particularly happy with the showing of 16-year-old Ronald Leblanc. Ronnie is a fine athlete who starred as a linesman on the senior football team the past two seasons. He plays broomball with the Glen Robertson Jr. team, and is a good softball player. Good luck in your match in London on Saturday, Ron!

Wrestling, a sport unlike televised professional wrestling, requires strength, agility, co-ordination, mental alertness and good sportsmanship. One may take pride in defeating an opponent with body and mind, but he must also be courageous enough to accept defeat when it comes.

Winner of the EOSSA Volleyball in which our GDHS team competed last Thursday, was the Kingston entry. On the Kingston team were Heather and Jennifer MacDonell, twin sisters of GDHS grad Valerie MacDonell of Green Valley, and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacDonell of Kingston. They will be competing for the Ontario Championship in Guelph.

Girls' broomball play-offs start

Ladies' broomball playoffs got underway Wed., Feb. 19th.

In the "A" and "B" series, best 2 out of 3 semi-finals, Green Valley won over Dalhousie 3 to 0. Suzanne Seguin, Elaine Ouellette and Yvette Blanchette did the scoring.

In the other semi-final game, Sealtest blanked Hope's 6 to 0. The scoring was taken care of by the Robinson girls, Joan getting 4 and Marilyn 2.

In the Consolation a best 3 out of 5 series, Lanthier's scored a 1 to 0 victory over Martintown, Sharon McKinnon getting the goal.

Second games of the playoffs were to be played last night (Wednesday).

THE BEST IN THE EAST—This GDHS Volleyball team defeated all the competitors in the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry District to earn the right to compete in the EOSSA Finals in Kingston last week. Pictured with their SD&G cup is their instructor, Miss Tina Cairncross and the team from l to r are: Alice Cadieux, Linda MacLeod, Betty Lacombe, Ruth MacLennan, Diane Brown, Mary Morris, Louyse Poirier, Wendy MacSweyn, Colleen McCormick, Lynn Gallant, Louise Laferriere, Florette Blanchette.

Rain brings end to activities snowmobilers

The snowmobile season came to a premature end with the rain and high temperatures of the last two weeks.

Marc Lalonde, president of the Alexandria Snowmobile Club, reports the season over, though club members may get in a lot more sport if snow in quantity falls. The restaurant on the park is still open, he noted.

Temperatures in the 40's over the weekend were followed by a heavy thunder storm Monday night. The rain turned to snow overnight but the clouds cleared before noon and the mild temperature continues.

Mr. Lalonde describes the snowmobile season as short but most enjoyable.

Lady curlers won Centre honors

A rink of ladies from Alexandria Curling Club won Centre honors in the Ladies' Curling Association playdowns at Lancaster on Sunday. Skipped by Mrs. Jeannette Graham the rink will continue play on Saturday in Vankleek Hill when it will compete against six representatives of other Centres in the area.

The winning rink was made up of Karen McDonald, Mrs. Hugh A. McDonald, Mrs. Duncan A. Macdonell and Mrs. Graham, skip. They defeated a Hawkesbury rink skipped by Mrs. Mae Price to win Centre honors.

Gaels on the Warpath

by Ellen McRae

A number of Glengarry District students competed at the EOSSA level last week, and although only one made it to the OFSSA Championships coming up in London next Saturday, everyone benefited from the experience. Ronald Leblanc placed 2nd in the 168 lb. wrestling competition at Smiths Falls on Saturday, thereby qualifying for the OFSSA meet. At the same competition Roger Dubeau and Paul Gauthier placed 3rd in the 194 lb. and 90 lb. competitions, respectively.

The Senior Girls Volleyball team travelled to Kingston on Thursday to compete in the EOSSA Championships, and although they were defeated in their first game by Smiths Falls, they played some excellent volleyball. The four-team tournament was finally won by Kingston, after a day of close competition. Congratulations to both teams for extra effort needed for going so far and good luck to Ronald!

On Thursday at La Citadelle, the Midget Boys' Basketball team pulled off a big win when they sneaked by their opponents by a 43-42 score. It was come-from-behind victory, with the attack led by Emile Lefebvre, scoring 13 pts., and Stephen Keyes, with 12. Francois St. Pierre played an outstanding defensive game. The Junior boys were defeated in their match by a 57-47 score. Robert Menard scored 20 points for the Gaels.

Sister died

Mrs. Chris McRae and Mrs. Archie McRae of Glen Nevis, were in Waterdown, Ont., on Tuesday where they attended the funeral of their sister, Sister Martha Schwebuis of the Order of Notre Dame.

Glens will host Metcalfe here Friday in play-off opener

by Gary Shepherd

Last weekend saw Ray Poirier's Glens finish the regular schedule with double wins over the lowly Winchester Hawks.

At the Community Centre on Friday night the locals handed the visiting Hawks a 3-1 setback.

Roch Lajoie, Brian Filion and Cameron McLeod all had singles for Alexandria, while John Kleinswormink got the lone Hawks marker. A total of 36 minutes in penalties was handed out by Referee Aime Leblanc with Glens picking up 24 of these. Glens outshot the Hawks 61-24 in the contest.

In Winchester on Sunday night "Flyin" Brian Reasbeck scored four goals as the "Big Green Machine" blasted the hometown Hawks 10-3. Roch Lajoie added two more goals and singles went to Brian Filion, Ken Blair, Paul Seguin and Tom Ross. Hawks marksmen were Doug Crowder, Glen Taylor and Peter Brackenbury.

Referee R. St. Pierre handed out 66 minutes in penalties with our locals accounting for 28 of these. Glens outshot the Hawks 42-36 in the contest.

Last weekend saw the Glens playing without the services of four regulars. Mike McCormick is sitting out a league suspension for spearing and will not likely return to action until the third game of the Metcalfe series. Ralph Humphries, Robert Lajoie and Claude Roy also missed action last weekend, however it is expected they will return for the series opener against the Jets.

The series opens this Friday at the Community Centre. Game time is 8:30.

Valleyfield rink won bonspiel

A Valleyfield rink skipped by Theo Dandurand survived an extra-end semi-final match, Saturday, to go on and win first place honors in the men's bonspiel at Alexandria Curling Club. He beat a Brownsburg rink skipped by S. Hall in the final.

In the consolation series the Vankleek Hill rink skipped by Justin Burwash took the measure of the Ray Cruise rink from Brownsburg.

The week-long bonspiel attracted many outside entries and the plate glass skips witnessed much fine curling reports Stan Fraser, bonspiel chairman. He declared the spiel a big success.

The four winning rinks were made up of:

Valleyfield—Jim McKenna, J. P. Durancereau, Cecilien Rodrigue, Theo Dandurand, skip.

Brownsburg—K. Boyd, Ron Tilsley, Doug Boyd, S. Hall, skip.

Vankleek Hill—D. Stevens, P. Matte, B. Mode, Justin Burwash, skip.

Brownsburg—Del Dougherty, Reg Stansfield, George McDonald, Ray Cruise, skip.

Large print books were in especial demand, and the magna bars sold at the Tuck Shop were very popular. The many donations of paperbacks and magazines were appreciated.

The Auxiliary Report was given by Mrs. Doris Blaney, on behalf of the 218 members, 48 of whom staffed the Tuck Shop. Among the items provided for the Manor this year were drapes, a wall cleaner, vacuum, etc. Striving for a closer relationship with the residents, the auxiliary had sponsored a Mothers' Day tea in May, and a buffet dinner for them in November. There were individual corsages and carol singing at Christmas, and the Big Sister, Big Brother project. The auxiliary had helped sponsor the new "Meals on Wheels" project, and is presently providing 95% of the volunteers who man the undertaking.

Administrator Allan Vallance gave some very interesting statistics on the overall work at the Manor. There are presently 148 residents, 51 being admitted through the year, of whom 90 are women averaging 83 years of age, and 58 men, averaging 75. Oldest resident is Mrs. Mary MacCrimmon, 101 in February. Eighty of the residents come from Glengarry, 22 from Stormont, and 17 from Prescott. There are 148 employees at the Manor, of whom 60 are full-time, 48 from the village of Maxville, 41 from Kenyon, 43 from Roxborough. Salaries for these groups respectively were $177,000, 150,000, and 126,000. Total salaries are just over half a million dollars, a very substantial contribution to the local economy indeed. The grocery bill for the year was $80,500, and laundry cost $16,000. For comparison the payroll in 1969 was $134,000, and in 1973 (with the new wing open) $410,000. Mr. Vallance expressed his appreciation to the dedicated staff, who stage the lawn social every year and thus raise over $1,000, and to the auxiliary, and all the local organizations who put on the monthly birthday parties:

Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP, expressed his continuing pride and satisfaction in the affairs of the Manor. In contrast to the great majority of homes for the aged which operate on an official and formal municipal basis, this one is unique in the enormous community involvement and support it has alwasy had. He also pointed out that it was very fortunate the community had exerted itself and established the Manor when it did, such an undertaking would be absolutely impossible in the face of today's inflation. The meeting adjourned on this pleasant note, and the assembly enjoyed a lunch prepared by the Manor staff.

Scouts, cubs, guides, brownies held joint banquet here

"Today when the world around us seems to be so mixed up and crying for direction, boys in the scouting movement have some very definite principles and guidelines to follow, John Plumadore of Cornwall, District Commissioner of Boy Scouts for this area, told a joint supper meeting of Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies and their parents on Thursday, February 20th in the K of C Hall.

"Scouting doesn't claim to be the cure-all for every problem, but we see it at work every time a boy grows into a resourceful imaginative adult", he continued.

"There are five section programs in scouting", he explained, Beavers, age five to seven; Cubs, eight to 12; Scouts, 11 to 13; Venturers, 14 to 16 and Rovers, 17 to 23. Each boy makes a promise and law before he is invested into the movement."

Ken Taylor of Martintown, president of the District Council of Scouts presented the Alexandria Council with its official charter. It was accepted by Mrs. Karen Decaire, Chairman of the Scout and Cub Parent Committee.

Now in its third year, the Alexandria group comprises 20 Cubs who meet on Tuesday nights with Cubmaster Chris Boles and assistants Claude Lanthier and Mike MacDonald. The Scouts number 14 and are under the direction of Cubmaster Jim Ogilvie and assistant Brian Sherrat.

Mrs. Jeannine Legault, Mrs. Claude Vaillancourt and Mrs. Ann Moore are in charge of 27 Brownies who meet at Ecole Perpetuel and there are 11 guides under the leadership of Mrs. Linda Killoran, and Mrs. Adele Collin.

Mrs. Terence Wheeler, District Girl Guide Commissioner presented Louise Collin with her All Around Cord, the second highest honor it is possible to get in guiding. Louise earned 16 badges for the award; Emergency Helper, First Aid, Home Nurse, Interpreter, Cook, Hostess, Baker, Seamstress, Birdwatcher, Backyard Camper, Swimmer, Firefighter, Toymaker, Creative Craft, Postal and Collector. She also earned several emblems: Challenge, Little House, Woodlore, Laurel Wreath, Be Prepared and Religion and Life. The highest honor obtainable in Guides is the Canada Cord so Louise is now determined to start working for this.

Scoutmaster Jim Ogilvie presented Andre Claude and Pierre Decaire with awards for top achievement in the troop.

Mayor Massie expressed appreciation for the leadership given by those present and encouraged the young people to continue in the movement.

Mrs. Decaire also introduced the members of the committee: Mrs. Lorraine Cameron, secretary, Mrs. Monique Seguin, Treasurer, and members, Mrs. Claire Lanthier, Mrs. Rita Cameron, Mrs. Marielle Carriere, Donat Whissel, Bruce Abrames, Mrs. Louis Bray and Mrs. Guy Poliquin.

Outreach is a Canada Manpower-aided program which seeks to fulfill the same functions as the full-fledged offices of Manpower, but in smaller communities which normally can't handle full-time officers.

"The Outreach program will be of benefit to all residents of Glengarry county who need retraining or some help in finding employment," Chief Cleroux said.

He said the full brief on the project has yet to be submitted to Ottawa, but added a ministry official had indicated the local project would be accepted.

Day of Prayer service set March 7th

Mrs. Rolland Valade will be the theme speaker at the World Day of Prayer service to be held at Sacred Heart Church, Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Florence Villeneuve and Mrs. Bert Laflamme will be the two principal leaders for the service of worship to which all people are invited.

A choir rehearsal will be held at Sacred Heart Parish, Thursday, February 27, at 8 p.m. Anyone wishing to sing from Sacred Heart, St. Finnan's Cathedral or Alexandria United is welcome.

The Women's Ecumenical Prayer Fellowship in Egypt chose this year's theme: Become Perfectly One, which is both the command of Our Lord and His prayer for His disciples. The prayer of Jesus invites us to a deeper quality of life, experienced in perfect love and perfect unity in the Spirit.

The World Day of Prayer has been celebrated in Canada for 57 years. It is an awesome feeling to be a part of a celebration spanning more than 160 countries.

Talks on vocations feature at meeting diocesan CWL

Members and directors of the Alexandria Diocesan Council of the Catholic Women's League at the meeting at St. Francis de Sales Feb. 18th enjoyed a most inspiring explanation of the call by God to a vocation.

Rev. Charles MacDonald, diocesan director, introduced the participants, His Excellency Most Reverend Eugene LaRocque, bishop of Alexandria and Sister Margaret Scanlan, CSC Diocesan co-ordinator of Religious Education.

His Excellency in his usual tranquil, unassuming manner explained that God calls each one of us to a vocation; the basic call is Baptism. God calls in mysterious ways from among our people, e.g. to the priesthood, the sisterhood, choosing some who will go back to serve the people.

Bishop LaRocque cited three main influences in the call to a religious vocation, the first being family influences and very often that of grandparents. The second, the example of a devoted priest or a Sister who is alive with enthusiasm for his, her vocation. The bishop noted here that youths are alert to discern honesty and sincerity while on the other hand, they are prompt to spot hypocrisy.

The third influence was that of peer groups, the "corner gang". His Excellency favored the benefits of a good Catholic Secondary High School where youth have the support of their peer groups.

The bishop ended on an encouraging note saying, "It takes Faith to encourage vocations, the Faith that God has not abandoned His Church and that we have gone through the worst of the Spiritual depression."

Sr. Margaret Scanlon in a charming, slightly humorous, unsophisticated manner revealed to the listeners that a Sister commits herself in the service of God's Church and despite changes in customs the commitment remains stable but the latter has to be revived from time to time.

When asked what attracted her to the religious she replied the main reason was the influence of teachers who were examples of cheerfulness, impartiality and concern for others.

In closing Sr. Scanlon noted great satisfaction in living out from day to day the call "Come Follow Me", and in working in a field committed to religious education.

Mrs. Hilda Fox expressed gratitude for the inspiring talks.

Before the business meeting Mrs. Dan Casey welcomed all on behalf of the hostess council.

Mrs. Jas. A. McDonald, diocesan president, called on the conveners for brief reports.

Mrs. A. Gaudet, Church Life asked members to report on the implementation of recommendations set forth at the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Eileen Anderson, Organization, told members to begin filing their annual reports.

Miss Alice MacGillis, Communications, reported that the "Church Today" program shown Sundays on CJOH at 8 a.m. was well worth viewing.

Mrs. Alfred Quinn, Resolutions, asked members to send in supportive information re the resolutions to be approved at annual.

Miss Edna Lawson, Cultural Life reported that additional funds for Cultural Life programs are approved by the Ontario Legislature.

Mrs. Beverley Kennedy on Peace and Development asked members to bring their project money to the April meeting.

Mrs. Bart Gillis, Convener of Christian Family Life, has the sympathy of all in the sudden passing of her brother.

Refreshments were served by the hostess council.

W. St. Denis died at 65

A respected resident of Alexandria for almost 50 years, Wilfrid St. Denis died Sunday in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall. His death at 65 came following a long illness.

Mr. St. Denis was born at Greenfield, a son of the late Napoleon St. Denis and his wife, Josephine Piche. He worked on farms and road construction through most of his life.

To mourn he leaves his wife, the former Aurore Lobb, three sons and one daughter: Romeo, Raymond and Euclide St. Denis, Alexandria; Fernande, Mrs. Romeo Piche, Green Valley.

They are: Mrs. Albert Depratto, Mrs. Romeo Bellefeuille and Mrs. Raymond Legroulx, Alexandria; Mrs. Joseph Cholette, Dalhousie Station; Mrs. Aldan Lefebvre, Cornwall, and Mrs. Armand Lalonde, Vankleek Hill.

The funeral was held at 11 a.m. Wednesday to Sacred Heart Church where Rev. Denis Vaillancourt was assisted at the mass by Rev. Evariste Martin of Cornwall, a nephew.

Snowmobile and soil study

Do snowmobiles hurt agricultural crops?

Many farmers and naturalists complain that they do, but there is scant evidence to prove or disprove their contentions.

Alain Pesant a soil scientist at Agriculture Canada's research at Lennoxville, Quebec is experimenting to see if claims of snowmobile damage are well-founded.

Using sites there and at the department's La Pocatiere experimental farm, Mr. Pesant set up a cultivated plot, a sheltered plot with no snow cover and a control plot.

A snowmobile was driven over the cultivated site 150 times per week throughout the winter.

Temperature readings were taken several times a week at various depths in the soil.

Mr. Pesant discovered that packed snow, such as that caused by snowmobiles, loses its insulating properties.

"The soil under the compressed snow was freezing to the same depth as the sheltered soil that had no snow covering," he says.

On the basis of 10 readings taken during the 1972-73 winter, he found that the average thermal conductivity of the compressed snow was two-and-a-half times that of snow left on its own in the control plant.

"We also found that the soil froze more deeply under the center of the snowmobile track," Mr. Pesant adds.

Although his experiment indicates that snowmobiles do change the thermal properties of snow and soil, Mr. Pesant wants to make further studies to determine their effect on crops.

More research is needed before he can reach any definite conclusions about the effects of snowmobiles on plant life, he emphasizes.

Weather conditions must be conducive to his research before it can be continued. For two winters (71-'72 and '73-74) flora was destroyed by alternating frosts and thaws.

"Because the weather was destroying the plants, I could not determine how they were affected by snowmobile traffic," he explains.

"If conditions are favorable in the 1974-'75 winter, we should be able to get more decisive results."

Lean tender "Budget" Beef or Canada Grade "A" Red Ribbon Beef

ALEXANDRIA IGA

WHAT IS 'BUDGET' BEEF?

IGA's 'Budget' Beef is government inspected, Canada Grade 'C', and is selected from youthful beef carcasses.

WHY 'BUDGET' BEEF?

* to provide consumers with the opportunity to reduce their weekly food spending.
* to assist the Canadian beef producer to market a type of beef which can be produced more economically.

GUARANTEED TENDER!

'Budget' Beef is mechanically tenderized at a central processing plant by a Ross tenderizing machine containing 518 tiny needle-like knives which invisibly sever the connective tissue of the meat. This machine adds nothing to the meat, takes nothing away, causes no change in taste, texture or colour. No chemicals or other additives are used.

PRICED 20c - 40c LB. LOWER!

Because Canada Grade 'C' cattle is fed on grass and/or silage at considerably reduced costs to the primary beef producer, 'Budget' Beef can be marketed more economically than Grade 'A' Beef.

No advantage in selling

Town council will consider the matter thoroughly before deciding whether or not to sell a parcel of land in the industrial park for a housing development. And that is as it should be. Thorough consideration should be given all matters coming before council before decisions are made.

If the town had a proper plan for development there would be no decision to make. That area on the western outskirts of Alexandria had been designated industrial by a previous council and if it had been zoned such in a town plan there would be no easy way to switch to residential. Such a town plan we should have had long ago to prevent the helter skelter growth that has taken place in recent years.

There seems little or no advantage to be gained by selling for other purposes that 50-acre tract that is intended to be an incentive in luring new industry here. It seems particularly untimely for council to be considering getting rid of its industrial park at a time when the Ontario Government is trying to win friends in Eastern Ontario by offering local governments assistance in financing just such municipal industrial parks. At that meeting in Belleville, of cabinet ministers and people, Hon. Claude Bennett suggested such help would be forthcoming. We doubt the sincerity of such pre-election promises but the fact that it was made suggests other municipalities put value in having such a lure for new industry.

The only advantage to be gained by selling the industrial park for a housing development would be by way of an increase in assessment and taxes. There are other sites more suitable for housing, but that is not as true of industrial locations withing the town limits.

Let's keep what we have in attractions for new industry, even though the Queen's Park plan for our area discourages hope of industrial progress for our town.

Where errors are taken in stride

Some landowners in Lancaster Township may have felt that they had been ill-treated by the federal government when politics dictated a switch of the new international airport from the Quebec-Ontario border region to St. Scholastique, in the Lachute area. There may be some sighs of relief now, that this area has not been subjected to the trials and tribulations landowners in the Mirabel airport section have known.

Transport Minister Jean Marchand admitted last week that the government had expropriated 80,000 acres at Mirabel and is now ready to resell a large part of the land it acquired. Departmental sources suggest 30,000 acres would be a reasonable estimate of the amount of land required for the airport.

That boils down to the probability some 500 farms in the St. Scholastique area were needlessly expropriated by the impersonal, heavy hand of government. All those people had their lives disrupted as the result of poor planning and stupidity in the Ottawa bureaucracy and there are demands now heard that the government pay compensation for losses suffered by those forced to abandon their farms "to satisfy the stupid whims of some idiot bureaucrat".

The government may well decide to pay millions in compensation but it is safe to say no members of the Ottawa bureaucracy will be even censured for a poor job of planning and administration. In the public service such mistakes on the grand scale are commonplace and no heads will roll.

Still going strong in 80th year

The 80th annual meeting of the Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, held here, last Saturday, heard a review of another successful year. Financially, it was the most progressive year in the Mutual's history as a relatively low loss total contributed to a record $127,284 gain in revenue for the twelve-month period.

That's a healthy profit and the satisfaction of the Mutual's officers must have been more marked because of the comparison with 1973 operations. That year, inordinately heavy loss claims were almost $100,000 higher than last year's and the Mutual managed a profit of only $2,787. Directors must have been pleased with the rebound to a profit on last year's operations almost $125,000 greater than that in 1973.

Investments are now approaching the million dollar mark and this provides a cushion of annual income now above the $50,000 level. That is a comforting buffer against a bad loss year, as was proven in 1973 operations.

A decade ago we reported the Company's assets were nearing the $400,000 mark; today those assets are only a few thousand below the million dollar mark. Policies in force ten years ago were worth some 25 millions of dollars; risks now are over the 80 million dollar mark. That's progress.

The Glengarry Mutual is a success story from the farm front that we have been following through grim days of a decade of depression and the easier post-war years. That handful of Glengarry farmers who pioneered the Mutual in 1895 and carried it through its fledgling years would be pleasantly surprised to learn of its solid financial condition today. They would be appreciative, as well, we think, of those who carried on with that same spirit of co-operation to attain the success evidenced at this 80th annual.

No future in tourism

The same dreary picture of an Eastern Ontario destined to find an uncertain future in attracting and serving tourists was replayed by eight members of the provincial cabinet at that meeting of minds in Belleville a fortnight ago.

"Bennett springs tourist plums on area", an Ottawa daily trumpetted in its headline. But the plums may look no more attractive than prunes once the upcoming provincial election is over and Eastern Ontario has resigned itself to its role of dormitory and tourist haven. There was the promise of help in establishing municipal industrial parks, though Mr. Bennett stopped short of promising new industries to this area. He only hinted of such, while offering a "major marina complex on the St. Lawrence, possibly near Upper Canada Village.

"We are also looking at four sites in Eastern Ontario where we can establish a major tourist centre", the Minister of Industry and Tourism said. That should be sufficient to maintain support for the Davis machine right across this neck of Ontario, at least until after the votes are counted. If not, there are those other plums touched on at the Belleville meeting—a multi-million development of an Ottawa River Parkway from the Quebec border to Mattawa, with a "timber town" in the Pembroke area thrown in.

These and the 10,000-acre industrial park near Prescott, previously proclaimed, are all election bait, of course, and should be accepted as merely part of the political game yet to be officially announced by Premier Davis.

The dismaying aspect of these "plums" offered Eastern Ontario at Belleville is that all have to do with tourist attractions. They but confirm what Queen's Park will not openly admit, that the planners in government have assigned most of Eastern Ontario a future tied to farming and the tourist trade. Our secondary role is to serve as a dormitory for those who will labor in the few industries permitted to come to this section of the province.

It's not a promising future.

(The Wingham Advance-Times)

Have you ever heard of BYM's? Those initials have been commonly applied in the United States to the Bright Young Men with whom highly placed executives and politicians surround themselves, supposedly to bring efficiency into the affairs of corporations and governments. The BYM's reached their ultimate place in society when they usurped most of the power of the American cabinet and a considerable part of the authority of the president of the United States himself. Their names were Ehrlichman, Haldeman, Dean—you know them well.

In a recent article, William C. Heine, editor of the London Free Press, says that our own prime minister, Mr. Trudeau, has surrounded himself with a staff of more than 100 bright young men who advise him on everything from finance to public reaction of minimum wage laws. Mr. Heine's deepest concern is for the status of cabinet ministers whose advice may be over-ridden or made redundant by the expert opinions of the BYM's. He points out that even though the cabinet minister, who first must be elected to parliament by his voters, may lack the expert knowledge of the paid prime minister's employee, it is the minister on whom the PM should rely.

In our opinion there is a great danger inherent in the presence of these powerful advisers, and that is the influence wielded by men who are not responsible to the electors. Anyone who has read the details of the Watergate hearings must realize that the unforgivable crime was not the "bugging" of a political party's secret meetings—it was the disclosure that a nation's business was being conducted by a ruthless and dishonest group of hirelings who had only one ambition—to retain their high posts and secure the re-election of the man who guaranteed their employment.

If Watergate taught no other lesson, it did make clear the message that in a democratic system of government it is the people who hold the power—not any single man or his group of experts. If Mr. Trudeau failed to profit by that lesson, he is less intelligent than we have always believed him to be.

A FINE ROAD!

The editor,
The Glengarry News

Your columns have carried many items regarding the South Branch road. Please allow me to make this comment.

I have travelled many hundreds of thousands of miles over the roads of Canada and United States and can report that the road in question ranks as the very best of all that I have been over. This is based on natural beauty, quiet country, scenery, and pioneer setting. If Ralph Connor were alive I feel that he would have enjoyed it. It is quite a contrast with the near-by Highway 401.

SEEKS FOLKLORE

The editor,
The Glengarry News

I'm presently doing some research into the sayings and folklore of Eastern Ontario and the Ottawa Valley. This part of rural culture is dying and I'm interested in recording what people know before such things are forgotten. Sayings include such items as: 'no need to burn the barn to kill the flies' or 'There's many a slip between the cup and the lip'.

Folklore areas I'm interested in include weather, crops, deaths, births and any other areas that readers may have knowledge in. The above are only examples to indicate some areas worth looking at. I'm sure your readers can be of service.

Legalize gambling on pro sports and it will be the referees who'll be on the spot, no matter how they call the play.

LEGALIZED GAMBLING A THREAT TO SOCIETY

The threat at the box-office posed by a worsening recession is only one of the problems that clouds the future of professional sport in the U.S. Most of the big leagues may survive even a depression but would they be able to live with legalized gambling that permitted government-sponsored betting on team sports?

A special federal gambling panel is holding hearings in Washington on the subject and last week the panel heard forceful arguments from the leaders of the senior pro leagues in several sports.

Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner warned legalized gambling would ruin that sport and bring players under constant suspicion for every mistake. Baseball's Bowie Kuhn echoed those predictions in declaring opposition. Clarence Campbell, commissioner of the National Hockey League and Basketball Czar Walter Kennedy were unable to appear in person but both submitted briefs opposing legalized gambling.

According to Rozelle, district attorneys' offices would be flooded with calls from losing bettors after every game charging that the game had been fixed or that a player had been bribed. Accompanying the pervasive climate of suspicion would be a serious erosion of the public confidence on which our sport is built, continued Rozelle. "We have enough problems of addiction in our society now without introducing another lure such as legalized gambling", he added.

How true that is. One is left wondering what impels Congress to even consider such a further assault on society. Off-track betting has been legalized and the argument for that move was that it would counter organized crime's illegal betting operations.

It doesn't appear to have had that effect and the move to gambling on team sports probably is motivated by mere empire-building in the Washington bureaucracy. Illegal betting on the horses continues to flourish and it would be only a matter of time before organized crime moved massively into the team sport field if legal betting was adopted.

Canadian sports fans can expect the same pressures for legal gambling if the U.S. so moves. We have already liberalized the laws so as to allow government operated lotteries and organized crime has been working behind the scenes for wide-open gambling, even to the casinos that make Las Vegas the gambling capital of the U.S.

Public opinion should stand firm against further liberalizing of Ontario's gambling laws and perhaps Queen's Park should be pressured to have second thoughts on its plans for a provincial lottery. A news report on the weekend suggests the lottery is not intended so much to raise revenues as to pay off political friends.

Former Ontario Labor Minister Fern Guindon is to be one of eight directors on the newly created Ontario Lottery Corporation. If the others know as little concerning lotteries one wonders what they will contribute in order to earn $105 a day, plus expenses. There is no limit on how many days the Corporation will be meeting in a year and so the overhead, with pay for directors and staff, should require the proceeds of several lotteries just to break even.

Perhaps we'd be better to do away even with these government lotteries lest they open the way for wide-open gambling and crime-operated casinos. We the people could still get our thrill by buying Irish Sweepstakes' tickets.

If you're wondering why the snow is raining down this February, just figure how many carnival queens we've got reigning. The weatherman's got the carnival spirit, we'd guess.

Avonmore fair board reviews good year; elects officers

At their annual meeting which this year took the form of a dinner meeting in the Avonmore Fire Hall recently, members of the Roxborough Agricultural Society, which annually sponsors the Avonmore Fair, took a good hard look at the place the Fair takes in the life of the community. It was their unanimous decision that the Fair must stay as an integral part of the community's life.

John McIntyre, Society president, in reviewing the activities of the past year spoke of several innovations that had been introduced into the Fair's program. For example, he said the Society had decided a year ago to bring in a top-name entertainer for a concert on the first night of the two-day fair. George Hamilton IV, of Grand Old Opry fame, was the Society's choice. His show, which included an excellent backup group of entertainers, was staged in the new Tagwi Secondary School auditorium. While the Society suffered a financial loss, much had actually been added to the Fair.

In the area of general improvements for the accommodation of exhibitors, a new cattle shelter was erected at considerable expense.

While receipts failed to quite match the expenditures in 1974, the members, in hearing the report of Secretary-Treasurer Allen McIntyre, were unanimous that if the Fair is to move ahead it must be prepared to invest. Mr. McIntyre presented an excellent comprehensive financial statement and he was congratulated on its quality.

Under new business, the dates for the 1975 edition of Avonmore Fair were set for Friday and Saturday, August 22nd and 23rd.

It was decided that for the second year the Society will sponsor the Jersey Parish Show. Such a popular feature as the 4-H Achievement Day for the three Calf Clubs in the Township of Roxborough will again be held in conjunction with the other livestock shows on the second day of the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Grant, active supporters of the Fair over the years, were appointed to attend the provincial meeting of agricultural societies in Toronto on Feb. 19th and 20th.

The Society will sponsor a commercial cheese exhibit and a hay exhibit. There is a possibility that a field crop competition will be a part of this year's show.

A new slate of officers was introduced and approved, as follows: Honorary members, Edward Lumley, O. F. Villeneuve, George Samis, Dale Miller, Fred Barkley, Charles E. Blair, V. F. Silmser, Stanley Wert, Erna Eamon, Grant Tinkess, Clifford MacRae and Fern Miller.

General Manager and Grounds Superintendent, Glenn McIntyre; President, John McIntyre; Vice-President, Murray Blair; Second Vice, Earl Canham; Recording Secretary, Mrs. John McIntyre; and Treasurer, Allen McIntyre.

Campbell, Earl Canham, George Crites, Donald Cumming, Emery Dingwall, Calvin Grant, Ralph MacKenzie, Clifford MacRae, J. L. Directors (Ladies), Mrs. Glenn McIntyre, Mrs. Allen McIntyre, Mrs. Calvin Grant, Mrs. D. D. Cameron, Mrs. John McIntyre, Mrs. Emery Dingwall, Mrs. John Blair and Mrs. Gordon Ross.

Committees were set forth, as follows, Gate and Tickets, Allen McIntyre and Barry Stewart; Grounds and Buildings, Glenn McIntyre, Jack Bush, Murray Blair; Entertainment, George Crites, Murray Blair, Irene McIntyre, Grace Grant and Karen McIntyre; Advertising and Special Prizes, Donald Cumming, W. Representative of Ontario milk shippers to the Montreal fluid market reports on Quebec scene

The Quebec Milk Federation has been pressuring the Quebec Government and that province's Marketing Board to recognize indexing of prices in the fluid milk market, notes Gerard Massie, Alexandria local representative of Ontario fluid milk shippers to the Montreal market. This has been done by means of a series of meetings and demonstrations held across the province.

The Bourassa Government has listened very attentively, observes Mr. Massie, and it has granted an amount of from $22 to $23 millions to be distributed to Quebec producers of milk, beef, etc. For example, an amount of some $3 million is to be distributed in the Valleyfield region, excluding Ontario milk shippers on the Montreal market.

Some 2,000 were present at a public hearing in Montreal, Jan. 22nd, when the Federation pressured the Quebec Marketing Board to recognize its formula of cost of production figures. Those attending were roughly half producers, half consumers, and Mr. Massie notes the consumers present defended the milk producers and urged the Marketing Board members to investigate the middle man and the multi-plants, including those selling equipment to farmers. If the Quebec Marketing Board could not recognize the needs of producers and consumers its members should resign and let the Bourassa Government take over the responsibility.

Lorne Hurd and Elphege Lefebvre of the Ontario Marketing Board were present at that hearing, Mr. Massie notes, when the Federation demanded a new formula price for Class 1 milk at $13.39 per hundred.

On Feb. 13th, the Quebec Marketing Board announced that, as of March 1st, 1975, the price of milk in Quebec Province would be raised from $11.13 to $12.21 for 3.4 per cent butterfat. That was a raise of $1.08 and three cents additional per quart of milk.

That same day, Mr. Massie relates, he was called to attend a meeting in St. Remi where every president of the St. Jean de Valleyfield Region was present. The president, Regent Gregoire explained that the Quebec Marketing Board accepted our formula in principle, except for the labor cost of the producer himself. That had been established at four dollars and some cents per hour but the Board saw fit to cut this in half.

At that meeting Board members of the Region decided to agree to the $1.08 raise, but energetically disagreed with the Marketing Board's estimate of the labor cost for the farmer. Telegrams were to be sent to the Premier, Agriculture Minister Toupin and all Members of the Assembly advising them of our dissatisfaction. The media were also to be made aware of the fact producers of milk, beef, eggs and pork, etc., were doing so at below cost.

Mr. Massie also notes that on the day of that Public Hearing, Jan. 22nd, the Dairy Farmers of Canada were having their convention in the Chateau Champlain. There Agriculture Minister Whelan also agreed to a form of indexing prices to the farmer to ensure him of better returns on his investment, etc. Mr. Whelan also noted that a government study on industrial milk production in Ontario and Quebec showed that it costs producers with cows averaging 6,000 to 8,000 pounds nearly twice as much to produce milk as farmers whose cows average 8,000 to 11,000 pounds.

It is essential, Mr. Massie concludes, to choose the right formula in order to come up with a true and reasonable price for milk if we want the dairy farmer to remain in business and make it more attractive for the young farmer to enter the industry. This applies not only to milk but to every line of agricultural production.

Holstein association takes stand on Brucellosis disease

The Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada has taken a stand regarding the brucellosis disease in Canada. The positions include increased compensation rates to those herd owners losing animals as a result of the brucellosis testing and slaughter plan operated by Health of Animals Branch, Agriculture Canada, and an eventual removal of brucella vaccines from the market. The motion gained the approval of the Annual Meeting of Members on February 12, 1975 in Toronto.

In a lengthy and sometimes heated debate, the membership heard Dr. Kenneth Wells, Veterinary Director General for Canada, state that the incidence of positive reactors to brucellosis is on the increase but is not a significant proportion of the national cattle population. He said "The question is, do farmers wish to live with brucellosis in a controlled state or be rid of it completely. Brucellosis vaccination masks the disease in those animals carrying the brucella and as long as we vaccinate, we will never be completely rid of brucellosis."

One resolution approved called for compensation levels on slaughtered animals to be raised to pay the full costs for purchase of replacement animals having the equal quality and pedigree. Presently compensation is $450 for a top grade milking A+ purebred animal plus the $200 value for beef slaughter. This represents a fair market value. The resolution placed a maximum $5,000 per animal limit on compensation.

Another resolution stated that the Health of Animals should step up their testing programs to incorporate those animals en route to or at sales barns, community auctions, etc. slaughter houses and shows. It was the consensus of many Holstein breeders and Dr. Wells alike that the movement of cattle is the single biggest problem in identifying and slaughtering those animals carrying brucellosis.

A third related motion called on the Health of Animals to step up their testing programs in all areas where brucellosis becomes a significant factor. This is in fact already being done in Carleton County, Ontario.

The final step to be taken should be the removal of brucellosis vaccine from the market. But the breeders were emphatic that this final step should not be implemented by Agriculture Canada until the previously mentioned steps were in full effect to the satisfaction of both Holstein breeders and Health of Animals. Some breeders said that members should not be denied the right to vaccinate if they wished, and one stated that a lifetime of work could stand in jeopardy if he could not vaccinate. However, most felt that Canada should be rid of brucellosis completely.
