McDonell, Master of Ceremonies for the evening, holding the Vern deGeer Memorial trophy won by Dave Pickett of Regina as the top Canadian athlete with a Glengarry tie. At left is the famous Grey Cup which centred the head table. Grey Cup on display at dinner

The storied Grey Cup, emblematic of Canadian professional football supremacy, was on display at the head table, Monday night, as Glengarry's outstanding young athletes were honored at the annual Lions Club sportsmen's dinner.

It was a unique touch, thoughtfully provided by Bob Simpson and Coach George Brancato of the Ottawa Rough Riders, present holders of the Championship trophy. Coach Brancato was the guest speaker at Monday's dinner meeting in the auditorium of Glengarry District High School. Some 250 in attendance included members of the championship Glens hockey team and the GDHS senior football team.

Glengarry's top athlete of 1973, Brian Filion of Alexandria was awarded the Jim McCaffrey memorial trophy and Chairman Angus H. McDonell called the role of his involvement in a wide range of sports including hockey, football, basketball, soccer, track and field. The young athlete is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Filion, Alexandria.

Rod McRae of Glen Nevis, a tackle on the GDHS football team was top lineman of the year and winner of the Rev. Duncan MacDonald Memorial trophy. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris McRae, Glen Nevis.

A teammate, Barry MacDonald of Green Valley, was judged the top football player of the year and won the Rev. C. F. Gauthier trophy. The young fullback is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald, Green Valley.

Roch Lajoie, a defenceman with the Glens hockey champions, was winner of the Campbell MacGillivray Memorial trophy as top hockey player in Glengarry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aurele Lajoie, Alexandria.

Frank Boucher of Kemptville, one-time star of New York Rangers, was present to award the "Lady Byng" trophy carrying his name, to John Charlebois of Alexandria, judged the player in minor hockey here, best combining playing ability and gentlemanly conduct. John is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Charlebois, Alexandria.

The Vern deGeer Memorial trophy, awarded annually to the top Canadian athlete with Glengarry ties, was won for the second time by Dave Pickett of Regina. Star quarterback on the university of Saskatchewan football team last year, Dave will play with Calgary Stampeders in the CFL this year. The young football star, whose mother is the former Sheila Chisholm of Hillcrest, Locheil, was unable to be present to receive the trophy he also won in 1969 for sparking Saskatoon Hilltops to the Canadian junior football championship.

Ottawa Rough Riders, and the '67's hockey team were represented at the head table, as were Montreal Canadiens, by Larry Robinson, and the new Montreal Quebecois lacrosse team. Andy Shaw, of Ottawa, chairman of the CFL All-Star game in Ottawa, June 26, was present to promote the week of special events that will lead up to the big game and he presented complimentary tickets to three lucky draw winners.

"Little Willie " MacLeod of Skye, was at the head table to represent Glengarry soccer in its 50th anniversary year.

Canadian players have had their chances improved to get into CFL football since the World Football League made an appearance, the Rough Rider coach suggested in his interesting talk. CFL teams will probably be using one or two more Canadians Mr. Brancato felt, once the WFL has taken its share of the talent coming out of U. S. colleges.

Reviewing the Grey Cup season last year, Brancato recalled the sad start that saw Ottawa lose its first four games. Then Rick Cassatta heard of acupuncture, his hurts were relieved, and the team went on to win 10 of its next 11 games and the Grey Cup. Prospects are good for this year, the Ottawa coach felt and he invited his audience to take in some of the games at Lansdowne Park. Duncan Macdonell, chairman of the dinner committee, expressed thanks to Mr. Brancato for his interesting talk.

Bob Simpson had earlier spoken briefly and others who were heard were Earl Riley of the Quebecois lacrosse team, Larry Robinson of Canadiens, Brian Kilrea, coach of '67's, Andy Shaw, and Cornwall's Alf Lefebvre. Councillor Florence Villeneuve brought greetings from town council and Lion President Jacques Joly also welcomed all present.

Crafts show Maxville fair

June is Maxville Fair month, and this year it means Maxville Fair's mammoth Craft Show. On June 23rd, Family Day, will see a gathering of more than 30 crafts in Maxville's beautifully renovated Show Hall.

Rain, or shine, this is an event that should not be missed.

Besides the works of 20 Glengarry Craft members, there will be a number of displays by talented residents of the three counties.

Of particular interest to masculine visitors will be the display of the taxidermist's art and samples of the trappers' craft, featuring old and modern traps.

Best of all, the men who do these things will be right there to answer questions.

Home entered

Police are investigating entry of a private home during the day Sunday when some $25. in change was reportedly taken from the home of Gaetan Giroux, 57 Gauthier St.

Hit windows

Two instances of vandalism were reported to police on Sunday.

One pane of glass was broken by a rock thrown through a window in St. Margaret's Convent about midnight Sunday. Police report footprints suggest a boy was guilty.

Five panes of glass were reported broken by rocks that day at Perpetual Help school.

SWEEP project to employ 20

The Raisin River SWEEP (Students Working on Environmental Enhancement Program) project for 1974 is expected to begin the last week of June according to SWEEP Resources Manager Art Chalk.

Mr. Chalk said 20 students will be hired this summer for SWEEP in the Raisin River area and will start working in the last week of June on a variety of projects, SWEEP is a provincial government program funded by the ministry of natural resources.

"Right now I'm hoping we can do an eel survey at the water diversion into the Raisin River from the St. Lawrence at Long Sault," Mr. Chalk said.

Another project SWEEP would like to attempt is a property survey along the St. Lawrence River, Lake St. Francis and Lake St. Lawrence. Mr. Chalk said the survey would be conducted to ascertain what lands are public or private and what use is being made or could be made of these properties. SWEEP will also perform clean-up and conservation chores on lakes and rivers in the area.

Mr. Chalk said about 114 applications have been received to date to fill the required 20 positions for the Raisin River project. Students who apply to work with SWEEP must be 18 or over and either currently attending school or planning to continue their education. Mr. Chalk said students with financial difficulties are given preference over others.

The SWEEP project team is made up of two technicians, two foremen, one clerk, one supervisor and 14 laborers. They will have jurisdiction over the St. Lawrence River for all conservation projects this summer.

House damaged near Dalkeith

Loss was estimated at $10,000 when fire gutted the top floor of the home of Autor Karl, one mile south of Dalkeith, at 9:20 Friday morning.

Alexandria firemen were called and were able to contain the flames to the upstairs but the damage was heavy.

The house is reported owned by Lewis Fraser and it is reported there was no insurance on building or contents.

Firemen were also called out at 8:40 a.m. Sunday but had to contend only with a space heater at the home of Mrs. Mary McDonald, 246 Main St. South.

Retainer to town engineer doubled to $4,000 by council

A resolution authorizing an increase in the retainer salary of Town Engineer, G. E. Seguin from $2,000 to $4,000, was passed at Tuesday night's council meeting, to be effective July 1, 1974.

It was mentioned that at a closed, informal meeting held May 14th, Mr. Seguin had pointed out he has held the position of Town Engineer for eight years at the retainer fee of $2,000. He presented a list of what he estimated the costs could have been had he not been under a retainer: 1970—$2800; 1971-$2500; 1972—$4800., and 1973 at $6700.

Councillor Ranald MacDonald noted that the possibility of operating without an engineer for a trial period was also brought up at the May 14th meeting, to which Mayor Massie commented that the timing for this was bad as an engineer, available on call, is needed with the present construction of various town streets.

Mr. MacDonald stated that Mr. Seguin would be paid for supervision of the streets, over and above the retainer fee, anyway, and was not in favor of the increase.

Mr. Seguin presented a summary of past services performed solely under the retainer fee, without any extra charge to the town and stated his company was losing money at the present fee.

His request was for an increase to $4500. but he accepted council's resolution of increase to $4000. The motion was carried with exception of Councillor MacDonald.

The Ministry of Treasury and Economics advised in a letter that although 74 million dollars in capital grants was made available for municipalities, over 500 applications were reviewed exceeding 225 million dollars and regretted to inform council that the town's application for a grant to cover the fire hall, filtration plant and new arena projects, was not approved.

Parks and Recreation Chairman Jacques Joly, advised council that he would be travelling to Toronto this week and felt hopeful of obtaining some capital grant to cover repairs to the present arena.

A motion was passed authorizing the purchase of an ice-making machine attachment at an approximate cost of $3300.

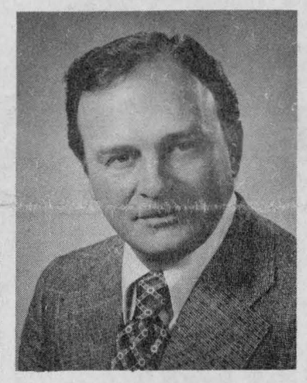
A letter from Herman Nyland, Secretary of the SD & G County Library Board, advised that the heating system in the old post office building, which houses the local library, is not satisfactory and requested something be done to rectify the situation during the summer months.

On cold days last winter, the temperature in the library did not reach 60 degrees, even though the thermostat was raised to 90, the letter said. The matter is to be investigated.

Rev. Lloyd Davies of the United Church of Canada, requested in a letter that town council intervene regarding the Lions Club's plans to hold a monster bingo on Sunday, the Lord's day, June 23rd.

Deputy Reeve, Jacques Joly who is also president of the local club advised that a reply, explaining fully the reasons for holding the bingo on that particular day, is being sent to Mr. Davies. Council will also reply by letter

Pelot chosen Conservative candidate



TWO UP AND ONE TO GO—Raymond Desrochers of Hammond will represent the NDP in the July 8th federal election in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell, and Bernard Pelot, reeve of Russell Township will be the Progressive Conservative candidate. The Liberals choose their standard bearer Monday night at St. Isidore and it will be no surprise if incumbent MP Denis Ethier of Dalkeith, is unopposed.

Bernard Pelot, reeve of Russell Township, will be the Progressive Conservative candidate for this riding in the July 8th election. He was the choice of the nominating convention held Monday night in St. Isidore.

Also nominated were Bruno Massie, mayor of Alexandria; J. L. Montreuil of Hawkesbury, candidate in the 1972 federal election, and Raymond Rock of Lancaster. All withdrew their nominations in favor of Mr. Pelot.

The fine leadership qualities of Robert Stanfield were extolled by Senator Rheal Belisle of Sudbury, guest speaker in the absence of Michael Meighen of Montreal. Mr. Meighen had been scheduled to speak but the convention date fell on the same night as his own nomination meeting in a Montreal riding.

Others who spoke were Osie Villeneuve, MPP Glengarry and Albert Belanger, MPP Prescott. Maurice Demers, president of the federal riding committee, chaired the meeting which was attended by more than 300 delegates and others.

A member of Russell Township council before assuming the reeve's post, Mr. Pelot, 45, ran as an independent in the 1972 federal election. A member of the RCMP for 20 years, he has been employed with the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development since 1967.

Ontario NDP leader coming

Stephen Lewis, Ontario leader of the National Democratic Party will be in the area next Wednesday to kick-off the campaign of Raymond Desrochers in this riding.

En route from Cornwall that afternoon to a Hawkesbury meeting Wednesday night, Mr. Lewis is scheduled to stop at the Alexandria headquarters. The hour of his arrival has not yet been set.

Sold store at Glen; buys Cornwall motel

Gaston Lortie of Glen Robertson, has sold his general store at Glen Robertson, and will go into the motel business at Cornwall where he has purchased the Heritage Motel on Vincent Massey Drive.

Rene Theoret has sold his farms in the Glen Robertson area and will take over the Lortie store business this weekend. Mr. Lortie takes over the motel business as of June 16th.

The Lorties have been in business in Glen Robertson since 1941, when Alban Lortie started in the general store business. His son Gaston took over in 1955 for a further 20 year stint.

Raise for fluid milk shippers

Fluid milk shippers in the area currently shipping to Montreal have been granted an increase of $1.33 per cwt, announced Gerard Massie, president of the syndicate. The increase is for Grade One milk only, retroactive to May 16th. This brings the price up to $10.36 for 3.4 milk. The price differential will be .09 per point.

The price for Classes Two, Three and Four milk is under negotiation and when the price is settled it will be retroactive from April 1st.

According to the 1974-75 dairy policy all milk produced over and above the Class One quota up to 105% will be eligible for subsidy at $2.30 per cwt. Formerly the subsidy was extended to 111%.

Two youths crash victims

Alain Gosselin, 17, of Longueuil, Que., and Michel Piche, 15 of Rosemount Que. were killed in a car accident near Lancaster early Saturday morning.

Crowded docket

Judge J. M. Fitzpatrick faced a docket of more than 100 cases in court here Monday.

OFY projects are numerous and varied

Several federal grants have been obtained for summer employment for youth throughout the county.

"Information Glengarry" will be a research project undertaken by Paule Gauthier, Michele Lauzon, Cathy MacKinnon, Dominique Filion, Carole Lefebvre and Rita D'Aoust. This team will try to gather information on all the services provided to the citizens of our county. After thoroughly studying all angles, for example social, recreational, educational services, a directory will be published and distributed to families, schools and libraries of the area. An office, located at 7 Main St., will be open Monday to Thursday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Friday 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. from May 27 to August 30 to receive or hand out information concerning this endeavour. A grant of $8,100 will cover this project.

A group of young folk will also be in charge of a project in North Lancaster. Danielle Sauve, Maurice Menard, Yvon Ranger, Therese Quenneville and Diane Sauve will operate a type of day care center and supervise playground activities for children.

In Green Valley, four girls will work with a grant of $3,500,—Helene Menard, Linda Seguin, Gisele Roy and Rachele Lefebvre. They will supervise playground activities for area children, aged three to 12 and teach crafts.

A grant of $12,240 will be for leadership for children in the Alexandria area. Working as supervisors in this area will be Robert Boisvenue, Barry MacDonald, Kevin Pelley, Michel Vaillancourt, Michel Lefebvre, Gerald Cholette, Sylvie Cleroux and Joanne Rozon. Most of these young people donated their time throughout the past winter as leaders of the boys' club where children from nine to 13 were engaged in recreational activities.

At Laggan, five jobs will be provided for Historical Research and Recording with $3,500. The students will be compiling resource material applicable to local history—in an attempt to catalogue the past culture of the area. They will be interviewing the older generation, recording tapes of their early experiences and trying to assemble much of the history already recorded into a file which will be available to teachers and historians. On this assignment will be Helen MacDonald, Connie Howes, Sandra Kennedy, Wendy MacSweyn and Scott Campbell.

Three Summerstown girls will conduct a nature study day camp for children ages five to 12. Shelley and Sharon Baker and Michelle Clark have $2,500 for their work.

In Glen Robertson four students will receive $3,540 to organize activities for the young and old.

A grant of $7,420 has been received by a Dunvegan group for work at the Museum site. Under the direction of Steve Merritt, Nelson Montgomery and Russell Morrison will be Debbie MacInnes, Jennifer and Terry Franklin, Shelley McPhee, Dana Wardrop, Gisele Hart, Lucien Ladouceur and Frank Lalonde. Their program will include a great deal of manual labour,—a slab house dismantled in the Fourth of Kenyon will be transferred and rebuilt for use as a library; a log house near the MacLeod cairn at Dalkeith will be dismantled and moved to the site for audio visual presentations; a small cheese factory which has been donated will be put into working order; a split rail fence will be built around the perimeter and old farm equipment will be painted and restored. Martintown rumor mill

(by Art Buckland)

A new world record may have been set in Martintown east. Don Ross's young lady sow had a first litter of octuplets, all girls; perhaps a female chauvinist sow. His other sow, one week later, had a first litter of octuplets also, but this time they were all boys. Obviously a more intelligent mother.

Local young musicians are busy practising for the Booth Recital on June 26.

A plaque honoring Mr. Clifford McDermid, a former veteran farmer on the Island, was dedicated in St. Andrews Martintown last Sunday. Mr. McDermid, who died July 6, 1972, left much money to the church.

A resident of South Branch and Boundary Road about 50 years ago, Roy Beaupre is almost fully recovered from a broken kneecap resulting from too much "cutting the rug" at 85.

Mother's day has come and gone, but remember that's just the official one. Remember Mother with a wild flower bouquet today.

The election race is on with Welfare Dave, Banana Bob, and Swinger Pierre; or is it Family Man Pierre?

The June 2 horse Show in Williamstown is an event to take in. Jim Freeman, local carnival operator now on the political merry-go-round, will be there. June 16 the Fair board is sponsoring a Western Horse Show and Aug. 10 and 11, of course, the oldest fair in Ontario.

While Granny Cain was telling me to tell you all to expect weather, warmer and dryer for June, I overheard one of the top backhoe operators say that Clarence is probably the #1 shovel operator around.

Tonight, Friday May 31st, at the Bonnie Glen, dance to Sylvester's music sponsored by the MacCulloch dancers.

School trips are being planned for June. Both Martintown schools are going to Ottawa Valley Farm Zoo and the Public school to Africa to see the big game animals—Africa in Canada, that is, at Hemmingford, Que.

Plans for an old time Strawberry Social in Martintown are progressing. Keep June 28 open.

Oh this wet weather! Irwin Cain has solved it though; he's now taking his manure out to the back 40 by barge.

I wish to announce a contest for all readers. The subject is Country Living. To the person who has the best comments on country living in prose or verse, short or long, will go a prize worth $20. Please include name, address, age with your entry. School children, farmers and grannies, everybody, join in. Send your entries to A. Buckland, R. R. 2, Martintown. Contest closes June 28.

The Martintown Family Fun Fair is coming July 27-28.

Martintown Mac overheard Reverend Ed. talking to some children: "Remember children, God has given us all the possibility of improving things for everybody."

McCrimmon WI had meeting

The McCrimmon Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Roy Barton on May 16th. Mrs. Lynus MacPherson, President, welcomed 32 members and six visitors. The minutes were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Philip Lloyd, while the Treasurer's report was given by Miss Margaret MacRae, in the absence of Mrs. Archie MacRae, treasurer.

The Motto, "The best preparation for good work tomorrow is to do good work today," was commented on by Mrs. Angus MacDonald. The Roll Call was "How to stop a salesman."

"Modern Homecrafts", a display of eight articles to be entered at the Williamstown Fair, held August 8, 9 and 10, with Mrs. Keith MacMillan in charge. The 4-H Achievement Day is to be held on June 8th in Glengarry District High School, at 1.15 p.m. It is open to anyone.

The highlight was the interesting and concise report given by Mrs. P. Lloyd, delegate to the Officers Conference held at Waterloo, Ont. Resolutions and Adult Education were stressed. There will be a Nutrition Workshop in the Fall.

The 4-H display was very well done and a credit to the teachers in charge. The Crevier bus leaves for Rawdon, Que. from Alexandria at 8:30 a.m., on June 3rd.

After delicious refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. K. MacMillan, Mrs. R. Barton and Mrs. D. Fraser, a pleasant afternoon came to a close.

Mrs. R. Barton gave several prizes. She was thanked by Mrs. J. P. MacLeod. The next meeting will be held at McCrimmon Hall, June 20th.

UNIT II OF U.C.W. MET

The May meeting of Unit 2 was held at the home of Mrs. Mark Price on Tuesday, May 7th, at 8:00 p.m. Twenty members and 1 visitor were present. Mrs. Archie Campbell presided and announced the theme for the evening's meeting as: "Dedication to Mission". She read a brief item.

A note of thanks from Montreal City Mission for the recent shipment of clothing was read. The Observer report was given by Mrs. Gerald Blair. Mrs. Gordon Winter read a poem entitled "Are all the Children in". Mrs. Eileen McEwen read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. Donald McEwen followed with thoughts on "Rescue Service" -- that the church has become absorbed in the glories of past achievements and has made evangelism a specialized activity instead of the very life of the church.

The offering was received by Mrs. Price and dedicated by Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Charles Blaney led in prayer. Mrs. Campbell then introduced the Study Book, dividing the members into two groups for an interesting discussion. The visitation record showed that 19 visits had been made in April. Mrs. Campbell announced that the next meeting would be on June 4th with Group 1 in charge.

Mrs. Willis, Treasurer, mentioned a bequest from Mrs. Clements and suggested that we might be thinking of suggestions as to how this money might be used, possibly something in Mrs. Clement's name.

Mrs. Willis read a letter from Mrs. McDermid written from London, England, where she is spending a few weeks' vacation. Mrs. Campbell thanked Mrs. Price for having the meeting in her home. Lunch was served by members of Group 4.

Ministry seeks data on tagged yellow pickerel caught

Anglers who catch yellow pickerel - one of Ontario's sport fish - that have been tagged are asked to forward fish tags and details of catch to the office of the ministry of natural resources.

For the first time this year, the ministry has initiated a new program to tag pickerel to help determine and compile data on movements, rate of growth and abundance of pickerel.

"This is the first time we have tagged pickerel in this area," an official of the ministry explained. "Depending on the success of the program, it will be continued next year."

Last month officials of the ministry set an eight-foot net in the Raisin River for four days to catch yellow pickerel. The catch, the official said, was most successful" and netted 460 yellow pickerel.

"I must make it clear that no harm is done in this type of netting," the official said.

He said tiny yellow tags with ministry's name and serial number imprinted on it were inserted in front of the dorsal fin.

The tags, he said are long lasting and cannot be destroyed by fish.

"We like anglers to return the tags to us with full details like its length, weight, the location where it was caught and the date it was caught," he said.

He said they would also like samples of scales, which help them to determine age of fish, and possibly sex of the fish caught.

The yellow pickerel season opened last week and will continue until March 31 next year.

The season for pickerel is only closed for six weeks every year.

"The data we are collecting will give us an overall picture of pickerel movements and rate of growth," the official said. "It will also tell us what years were good for the pickerel."

The taggings were done from April 21 to 24. The biggest pickerel caught during the tagging exercise measured 29 1/2 inches.

SOCCER NEWS

by Paule Gauthier

The soccer season is once more on its way for the summer. The Glengarry Stars first league game was played May 22nd, when Lusitania defeated the Stars 1 to 0.

The first round of the highland games Tournament was played last weekend at Ottawa. All went well for the Stars in their first game when they defeated the Metcalfe Lions 2 to 0 on goals scored by J. T. Hay, and Hugh MacGillivray.

The second game was not as successful, the results being a tie game with Gatineau on a goal scored by Tom Lowe.

The third game against Prescott was an important one for Glengarry. In order for them to qualify for the semi-final round, a win was a must. Unfortunately the Stars had one chance to tie the game 1-1 but missed the penalty kick.

The qualifiers for the semi final round to be played June 21st are Lusitania - Centenials - Falcons and Prescott.

Even though the Stars did not come out as winners, Alan Lowe as goal tender played well. Greg MacCulloch, Robert Campbell and Norman Laliberte, as rookies played well for their first league action.

League play resumes on Saturday the 1st of June as the Stars are entered in the Ontario cup to be played in Ottawa.

The next league game will be played at Mooneys Bay on June 5th against the Royals who finished first last year.

The first home game will be on July 1st at the opening of the new soccer field at the Alexandria Park.

Due to the poor conditions of the Lochiel field, the Glengarry League will be late starting this year.

The teams in the Senior league in Glengarry are Pine Grove, GlenSandfield, Greenfield, Lochiel and Glengarry Stars.

Alexandria has a new entry under Gerald Simpson who is also coaching CharLan and the Ottawa second division.

Sod turning signals start arena

Charlottenburgh township will have its new arena at Williamstown this fall.

A sod turning ceremony was held Monday afternoon when Reeve Adrian Gadbois shared the duties with Arena Committee Chairman Don Kannon and Clerk-Treasurer Reg Gagne. Gaetan Menard of the Cornwall contracting firm was in charge of details.

The site is on land contributed by Dr. A. J. McLean of Cornwall, immediately west of the public school and directly across the street from Char-Lan High School. The township acquired the site only recently, when an earlier site which had been under consideration was shown unsuitable by soil tests. The township also has purchased a smaller lot to have access to the building area.

The cost of the building, including ice plant, will be $338,750. The size is 100 by 240 feet, with an ice surface of 85 by 200 feet, four dressing rooms, canteen and office.

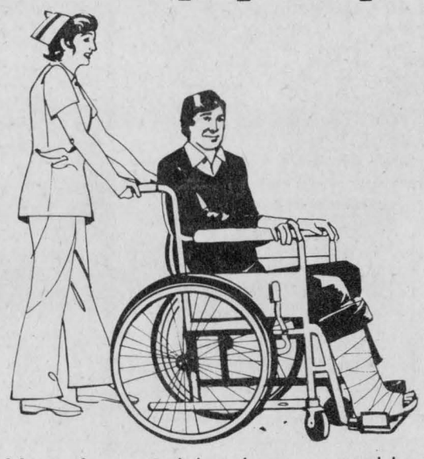
Your family's health is your most important possession.

This is what Ontario is doing to help you protect it.



Most of us get sick or have an accident at one time or another. And left to our own resources, serious illness could often cripple us financially.

So the government here in Ontario has developed a plan to provide health care for everybody, any time it's needed.

That plan is called Ontario Health Insurance Plan — OHIP. (The "H" stands for "Health," not "Hospital.") The Plan is administered by your Ontario government for us, the people of the province, who pay into it regularly so we can benefit when we need it.

How does the Ontario Health Insurance Plan work? Like this:

First, you apply for coverage — on a "Group" basis where you work, or you can pick up an application form at any bank, hospital, or OHIP district office.

Next, you'll pay modest premiums to cover yourself and your family towards the time when health care is needed.

People on welfare, students, and others whose incomes fall below a certain level, are eligible for assistance in paying their OHIP premiums. No one is excluded for lack of money, but you must apply for such premium assistance.

Benefits include: physicians' services • standard ward hospital accommodation • X-rays • laboratory tests • drugs required in hospital • operating and delivery rooms • radiotherapy • chiropractic, osteopathic, and chiropodist services • eye examinations • occupational therapy • physiotherapy • speech therapy • nursing and medical care in nursing homes and homes for the aged • Home Care service • ambulance • certain dental surgery. Payments may cover costs entirely or only in part, depending on the nature of the claim.

But remember: Membership in the Ontario Health Insurance Plan is not automatic — you have to apply for it. And be sure to carry your identification card or OHIP number at all times.

If you would like more information, visit any OHIP district office. Or write to:

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

A new and more readable look

Our front page has something of a new look this week, you may have noticed; a cleaner, more attractive appearance, we think you will find it.

Our new CompuWriter is being used for the first time and it has a new type face we think you will find easier to read and more to your liking. As the operators become more adept in its use the new machine will set more and more of the type for each issue until the CompuWriter is handling with ease almost the entire typesetting demands of this newspaper.

A phototypesetting machine operated from a typewriter-like keyboard, the CompuWriter is a product of this age of electronics and it boasts several fully automated features. A single key stroke, for instance, permits the operator to instantly change from one type face to the other. Each line of type is justified automatically, permitting speed of operation not possible in more conventional methods of typesetting.

We at the News are excited over this latest acquisition in phototypesetting equipment. It promises easier, faster production of the printed word and, with other improvements planned, a more readable, attractive newspaper to serve Glengarry and Glengarrians.

You are invited to drop in and see this sophisticated typesetting machine put through its paces.

Pensioned after six years

From now until election day, July 8th, a lot of political candidates may be working up an ulcer worrying over their fate on that day of reckoning with the voters. But some may not be worrying as much as others.

Probably a majority of the Parliamentary incumbents seeking re-election have already served in the Commons for six years and thus have qualified for a generous government pension payable for the rest of their lives. They will have some measure of consolation should they meet defeat this time. That pension will prove a buffer until, and even after, their party has further rewarded them with some soft sit, perhaps even a seat in the Senate.

The "Class of '68" must be particularly thankful that this election is not being held earlier than July. There are those cynical enough concerning the political scene as to suspect NDP leader David Lewis was constrained by fellow Commoners to play ball with the Trudeau Liberals long enough for those first elected in the 1968 campaign to become eligible for Parliament's pension.

For the "Class of '68", some 50 members of the last Commons, that magic day will be June 25th. If Prime Minister Trudeau had dissolved Parliament prior to April 26th, or to put it another way, if the NDP had washed their hands of the Liberal Government a few weeks earlier, we would have been going to the polls in spring and those 50 Members would have had to win another election in order to become eligible for that lifetime pension. Now, they are home free—whether or not their contribution to the conduct of the nation's business has earned them public esteem, they are in for perpetual clover.

Put out to pasture after six years of hard labor in our behalf at Ottawa, the ex-Parliamentarian collects an annual $3,780 for the rest of his years on this mortal coil. He may have been happy to retire on that attainment but if he runs again and wins in July he'll be qualifying for higher pension payments, up to a maximum of $13,500 a year.

In these inflationary times that is scarcely adequate compensation for a veteran Parliamentarian who has played a prominent part in Commons' deliberations. There are those, on the other hand, who are collecting that bounty after years of non-service to the nation. The taxpayer may justifiably be critical of such unearned compensation out of public funds, just as he may resent lifetime pensions being paid after a mere six years during which the Parliamentarian was also treated to a tax free allowance and other perks.

This is another instance wherein Parliament was too free with the taxpayers' dollars. That same profligacy has fed inflation and we may find some satisfaction in reflecting that these pensioners of Parliament have been robbing their own future by cheapening the dollar.

Energy and lives could be saved

Why is the Ontario Government thinking in terms of seat belts for every occupant of a car when a much more effective safety measure would be the enforcement of a lower speed limit? This was the question posed to us by an area driver who brought in a clipping covering a news report from Washington.

The U.S. transportation department has estimated that more than 4,700 lives have been saved since the energy crisis began. That was the gist of the report that also noted the number of persons killed on United States highways was down for the sixth consecutive month in April.

That reduction in traffic fatalities is ascribed to a lowering of the speed limit to 55 or 60 miles per hour in the various states as a measure to save fuel. And our area driver had records of tests made on his own car by qualified technicians to show a substantial increase in miles per gallon resulting from a reduction in speed. He has been limiting himself to 55 miles per hour for several months and he has facts and figures to prove he is using less gas.

A law making the wearing of seat belts mandatory can not be enforced and it constitutes another encroachment on our freedoms of choice, he avers. Some people don't use seat belts because they are afraid they may get trapped in their burning cars.

On the other hand a more sensible speed limit could be enforced if the authorities showed they meant business. That was demonstrated in the United States last winter, he points out.

Not only did it save an estimated 4,700 lives and untold gallonage of gas, our driver friend argues; the traffic accidents that did occur were less serious at lower speeds and so injuries were of a more minor nature. Millions of dollars also must have been saved in property damage to the vehicles involved.

If the Ontario Government is seriously concerned with saving energy, it should be reducing the speed limit on our roads, a proven remedy, our reader suggests. It has also been demonstrated this will reduce the death toll in traffic so the Ministry could dump such cosmetic campaigns as mandatory seat belts that have no hope of accomplishing anything constructive.

Are you serious about saving energy and lives, Premier Davis?

Strangled by bureaucracy

Our interest will be centred on the federal election over the next few weeks but perhaps we are overlooking the real source of power, suggests an editorial in the St. Mary's Journal-Argus. The ever-burgeoning bureaucratic octopus must soon reach the stage where half the population will be working to pay the other half. Perhaps we have reached that stage.

The stranglehold of the public service mandarins in Ottawa, who remain in office and perpetuate their kind and thinking as new recruits are added, while our elected representatives come and go, is becoming apparent even to the less observant citizen. It is these mandarins who formulate policy at all levels and, more, become convinced that they know a lot more about running the country than do our elected politicians.

On down the line, we observe similar trends in new Regional set-ups. Jobs once filled by elected representatives at little or no salary are taken over by "experts" who confuse and muddle every issue to the point where that valuable commodity of most elected representatives, plain commonsense, hasn't a chance to cope, thus feeding the bureaucratic octopus.

"The growth of bureaucracy in this country, in our opinion, is a matter which should be of equal concern to the present oil crisis, welfare problems and so forth. Do we, by fair means or foul, give the country back to the people or do we remain so bewildered by the jungle of red-tape created by those who are supposedly "servants" that we drown eventually in a sea of heavy taxation."

The pendulum swings

The Ridgetown Dominion

The Ontario ministry of education has decided after a year of choose-your-own education, that it would be a good idea after all if all secondary school students learn how to read and write and know something about Canadian History.

Education Minister Thomas Wells has announced that starting in September the 27 credits a student needs for graduation must include four in English studies and two in Canadian studies.

As of the present time the only restriction on a student is that he select at least three credits from each area of study; communications, social and environmental studies, pure and applied sciences, and arts. It has been easy for students to avoid the difficult subjects. History, and English are not easy subjects so they have been avoided by too many students.

The unfortunate thing is of course, that while the pendulum swung so far away from subjects requiring a little discipline a generation of students was graduated believing, for the Department of Education told them so, that merchandising, shorthand and drafting were equal to English in fostering an ability to express oneself.

Cars that run on waste!

(The Ridgetown Dominion)

Pig manure may hold the answer to the energy crisis. That, at any rate, is the view of Winnipeg's Fred Hamilton, interviewed in IMPETUS, the magazine of The Financial Post. Vice-president of the recently-formed Biomass Energy Institute, Hamilton says "biomass pellets," produced from hog manure, straw and other farm "garbage," yields methane gas.

In turn, the gas could be used to heat homes, office buildings and, possibly, to power automobiles. At 62, says IMPETUS, Hamilton is an unlikely prairie prophet, but together with Ernie Robertson, the Institute's executive director, he forms a team, that, after initial neglect, is now being widely sought by various levels of government. And, according to Hamilton, if the Institute succeeds in winning large scale federal funding for further biomass experiments, the energy crisis may soon be a thing of the past.

Not that this is anything new. The Indians have been using cow dung for heating purposes for hundreds of years. That is one reason the cow is sacred in India, it provides food and heat.

Wives of racing drivers must have to adjust to the idea their husbands are intent on another lap.

RE-CYCLING BAGS

At least one local grocery store is taking back the paper bags its customers have used to carry groceries home. In face of the threatened shortage of all types of paper this makes good sense and we imagine that that store's customers are quick to co-operate.

Not only are they ensuring that store will be able to supply bags with their next order of groceries. They are cutting down on waste and in the long run there could be a slight saving on their grocery bill if the merchant's overhead is reduced.

Most of today's groceries that are not expertly packaged by nature, come wrapped in cellophane or other form of packaging. The paper bag from which they are emptied may be a bit rumpled but often it is unblemished and it seems a shame to throw it in the garbage.

The many who are co-operating in the CARP program by returning their newspapers for re-cycling, evidence the interest so many of us have in preserving our natural resources and reducing wasteful practices. There should be more ways to express that interest.

Cycling can help reduce the waist and it's also true that re-cycling will reduce the waste.

NOW'S THE TIME TO TELL 'EM!

Inflation will be the major issue in the federal election, it's said; and it would be surprising if any other issue loomed as serious a threat at this time. Not only is the cheapening dollar affecting the price of everything one buys; it is wiping out life savings of the people as represented in pensions, insurance policies and almost every other form of asset.

Runaway inflation is swelling government tax revenues to record heights and, ironically enough, it is the spending of all this unprecedented wealth by governments that keeps worsening the inflationary spiral and devaluing the assets of the individual. No Canadian Government has ever been so rich in tax revenues as has the Trudeau regime and it is safe to say no federal Government has been so quick to raise its spending goals.

The budget of Finance Minister Turner proposed a 22 per cent increase in government spending and that would not have been the final bill. During the course of the year supplementary estimates would have swelled Ottawa spending by hundreds of millions more. That has been the pattern of successive Liberal budgets and there has been a complete absence of worry as to the affect of all this spending on inflation.

Such massive wastage of the taxpayers' money as we have seen in DREE grants, LIP, OFY and other programs is only excelled by the deficit spending to meet the two billion dollar increase in Unemployment Insurance fund give-awavs. Understandably the rate of unemployment will remain artificially high as long as Ottawa is willing to pay a half million people to remain idle.

The cost of all this extravagant spending on the individual taxpayer is serious enough but he is suffering even more from the effect of all this public spending on the inflationary spiral. It is a fact that the cost of government is rising faster than any of the other costs we have to pay and yet no one in government even suggests the most obvious move to contain inflation, cut-backs in government spending.

The more of our savings the government takes in taxes to support its extravagances, the less remains to be put away for the future. So who needs savings when the government will provide a generous pension for old age? That pension will purchase less and less, incidentally, as the government spends more and more. Those on pension today are

Glengarry native has largest film library in Canada

He owns the largest film library in Canada and was recently featured in an article in the Canadian Magazine under the heading "He'll rent you a sunset for $5. a foot."

The article failed to mention, though, that John J. (Jack) Chisholm was born in Dunvegan, in 1899, and attended school east of McCrimmon before graduating from Vankleek Hill Collegiate in 1916. His parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Roderick (Rory) Chisholm, moved to Vankleek Hill from the McCrimmon area.

Chisholm has spent years gathering his wide assortment of film footage and he has lived an active and eventful life, according to the magazine article.

It all started in the most unlikely sort of way. In the early 1920's, after Chisholm had received his bachelor of science degree from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, a large Hollywood dairy firm offered him a job as a chemist.

Once in Hollywood he found to his regret that dairy chemists earned peanuts—and that he had to get up at 2 o'clock in the morning. So, since he had always been a good rider, he got a job as a stunt man in western movies. Often he earned more for one stunt than he had in one week as a dairy chemist.

He went on to become a bit player, a script writer and an assistant director. After a dozen years in Hollywood he returned to Canada as a production manager to make feature films for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

He made two and then Metro cancelled its Canadian operation when the Second World War began. Chisholm moved to Associated Screen News, where he produced scores of documentaries and newsreels.

Associated folded in 1955 and Chisholm, out of a job and with nothing to do, formed his own enterprise, Jack Chisholm Film Productions Ltd., and began making what are called "industrials". These are films made for business organizations. A company might want a movie to encourage safety in its manufacturing plant, say, or to promote its products.

Chisholm became very successful in a field where many failed. And all along he made a point of never throwing film away. The "outs"—sequences not used in a production—might come in handy, he reckoned. And on location he would photograph anything he saw that could some day be useful. At logging camps and mining sites he filmed wild animals, clouds, flowers, forests; in cities he shot skylines, traffic, buildings.

Although he collected this material for his own use, he frequently gave it away to other film-makers who had a need for it.

That was a common practice in the days when there were just a handful of Canadian film-makers around, and they all knew who among them had what kind of film on hand. It was a nice, easygoing arrangement...for a while, until TV started getting into the act.

In the early 1960's, live television began to give way to more and more film. Rather suddenly, it seemed, frantic producers were starting to phone all around to get a quick shot of this or that for a show going on the air. Every filmmaker in Canada was being besieged, and the courtesy of free supply was usually expected. It was getting to be a nuisance.

One day a phone call came in to Chisholm's office from New York. Columbia Pictures on the line. (Lord, thought Chisholm, they're bugging us even from New York now.) He took the call:

"Yes?"

"We heard about all that mining footage you have and we'd like to know whether you can supply us with some."

"Well, I don't know."

"Three dollars a foot all right?"

"What?"

"We'll pay you $3 a foot. Is that okay?"

"Well, yeah, all right."

That was awfully nice. Wouldn't it be nice if everyone paid for it? Chisholm took a look at all the film cans stacked around and thought: by gosh, that's money all stacked up—or it could be! And so the new enterprise was launched.

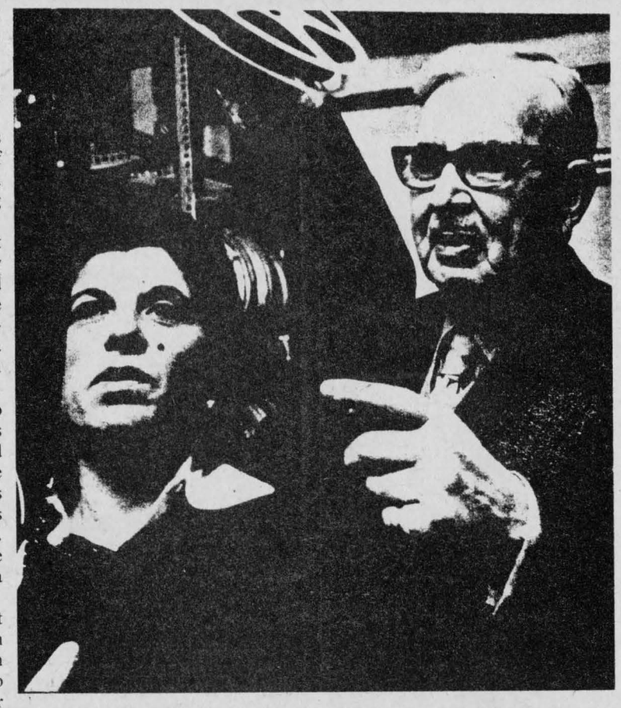
Chisholm has a keen sense of what's useful and what's going to be useful. He will buy in bulk from film companies that want to liquidate. He considers film from any and every source. People come to hime with movies they have shot on African safaris. If they include good wildlife scenes he'll probably buy them. Others have come to him with old film discovered in attics and barns. Often it is the family-picnic sort of thing of the 1920's, but if it's in focus and steady and a good example of the clothing of the period, he will perhaps pay $50 or so for a 100-foot reel.

He keeps abreast of the news, and when he learns of an interesting old building that's to be torn down, he gets film footage of it first. Skylines of cities in Canada and other parts of the world are continually updated. But old skylines are never thrown away. Some day a producer doing a documentary will need Winnipeg as it looked 20 years ago.

Chisholm views his library as more than just a business. "There'll be a record of what went on and what things were like. A hundred, two hundred years from now, this will be important. We have Alcock and Brown taking off from Newfoundland in 1919 on their trans-Atlantic plane flight—eight years before Lindbergh did it solo. We have Premier Kosygin being attacked in Ottawa." Understandably Chisholm feels he's contributing to Canada's future by helping to preserve its present and its past.

Tucked away in a modest little building on a tiny dead-end street in Toronto, the Chisholm film library contains more than five million feet of film from all over the world and from every decade of the 20th century. Now 74, Jack Chisholm started the library as a sideline to his film production business 11 years ago. Now he's Mr. Stock Shot of Canada, according to the story in Canadian Magazine.

A sister, Mrs. Christy Chisholm Cook, also resides in Toronto.



Film-maker Jack Chisholm went from collecting, to loaning, to renting film out, but it's Mary Di Tursi who keeps 5 million feet of it in order.

learning that bitter lesson.

Inflation has to be the major issue and in the next few weeks the voter should be making it clear to candidates of all parties that he demands a new approach to government, one that de-emphasizes statism and government bureaucracy in favor of reduced spending, lower taxes and a balanced budget.

If we don't tell them at election time, the politicians will never get the message of how fed up we are with bad government.

Restore your ride to new-car stability, better steering, cornering and handling

Would you believe faulty or worn shock absorbers cause irregular tire wear and lead to other mechanical irregularities that shorten tire life? They can also affect steering and stability, and thereby constitute a safety hazard. New shocks can restore your ride to new car stability. They're a small investment in better steering, cornering and handling, and safety, too. Specially priced this week for the do-it-yourself mechanic, or expertly installed for you for a few dollars more. It's another of Uniroyal's Mileage-Booster Services. Phone for an appointment.

Ayrshire has new record

Elm Brae Commander's Belle (Ex) owned by D. J. MacMaster, Laggan, has been awarded a Gold Seal Certificate by the Ayrshire Breeders Association of Canada for lifetime production in excess of 100,000 lbs. of milk.

Belle is the first Ayrshire cow in Canada to exceed 100,000 lbs. in her first five lactations. Her closest rival was her paternal great grandmother, another Glengarry-bred cow, Glengarry Betty Ann, who produced 98,522 lbs. in five lactations.

Belle first freshened at two years and five months, to produce 17,807 lbs. in her first lactation. She had subsequent records of 22,266 lbs. as a 3-year-old, 23,768 lbs. as a 4-year-old, 20,348 lbs. as a 5-year-old and last freshened on her seventh birthday to produce to date over 16,000 lbs.

Belle is one of a high producing group of daughters of Elm Brae Geraldine's Commander, a home bred son of Selwood Betty's Commander who unfortunately was disposed of before his breeding potential was recognized.

Belle's son is presently being used in the herd and in addition she has four daughters, only one of which is of milking age and who is presently completing an excellent record in her first lactation.
