Brandt slams government for 'slanted' trade reports

By Sybil Carello
News* correspondent

Provincial Tory Interim Leader, Andy Brandt, attacked the Liberal government's ''highly slanted reports'' condemning the free trade agreement at last week's annual Maxville and District Lions Club Farmers' Night.

He told the audience what he repeatedly called for in the Ontario legislature—for the government to publish objective, detailed studies about the impact of free trade agreement.

''Instead, what we have received to date is biased, one-sided studies that are purely meant to put forward only one narrow viewpoint'', the evening's guest speaker said.

He asked that a closer look be taken at the most recent report from the Ministry of Agriculture and food which claimed Ontario farmers stand to lose $95 million annually as a result of the free trade deal.

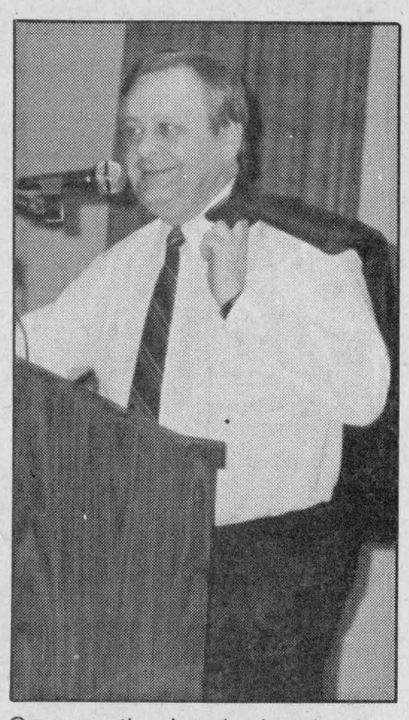
For instance, the $30 million of the $39 million loss in the grains and oilseeds sector is attributed to the ending of the two-price system, he explained. The remaining nine million was not specified to the committee.

He said the study neglects that support payments to replace the old two-price system are being discussed.

''The U.S. has support payments and so should we as long as the world wheat market remains flooded. If the Ontario government negotiates effectively with Ottawa, Ontario wheat growers will not see any of the projected loss.''

Of the $10 million estimated loss to the dairy and feather industry, Brandt said, on the day the deputy minister appeared before the finance committee presenting these fugures (Jan. 19) the Federal Agriculture Minister, John Wise, announced these products were going on Canada's import control list.

''The result'' said Brandt, ''no $10 million loss.''



Conservative Interim Leader Andy Brandt was the guest speaker at the Maxville and District Lions Club Farmer's Night, held in Maxville, Feb. 2. Mr. Brandt attacked the Liberal government's ''highly slanted reports'' and condemned the free trade deal.

The highest estimated loss, according to the report was some $65 million in fruits and vegetables - $15 million of this apportioned to the grape growing industry.

The International General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) panel has ruled that Ontario's wine pricing policies are unfair.

''The free trade agreement agrees to phase out discriminatory wine pricing over seven years'' said Brandt. ''GATT could legally demand almost immediate compliance.''

Additionally, according to a provision of GATT's ruling, countries are allowed to set import quotas on agricultural and fisheries products.

''This means if U.S. fruit and vegetable imports threaten to impact negatively on our industries, Canada maintains the right to establish import quotas.''

''As a result'' said Brandt, ''it is unfair and wrong to claim a loss of $50 million to the fruit and vegetable sector.''

An audience member asked whether the Americans were not more interested in our natural resources.

The provincial governments retain control of their energy resources, answered Brandt. The energy-producing provinces - Alberta, Saskatchewan, particularly Quebec, he said, ''are strongly in favor of a trade agreement because it will increase substantially the revenue going into those provinces.''

But, he added, ''we're not forced to sell anything we don't want to.''

''Certainly they (U.S.) are net importers of natural gas and oil. They would rather have a secure trading partner like Canada rather than Saudia Arabia - wouldn't you?''

Another question from the floor was aimed at the national defecit and the job market. How would free trade affect them?

There would be job gains in some industries, said Brandt,but conceded there would also be some job losses. As to the deficit, ''It really won't make a hill-of-beans difference if we (government) continue to spend as much as we're spending.''

He did add, however, that every study he's seen, agrees with one basic premise: consumer prices will go down.

To the question of GATT's role in the trade dispute settlement mechanism, (an independent body that would determine the outcome of trade problems) Brandt said, it will continue to ''have a role to play as it relates to certain chapters of the free

Milk price changes good news: OMMB

A Lancaster dairy farmer and Ontario Milk Marketing Board (OMMB) member feels that recent changes in milk price schedules is good news to producers of industrial milk.

Grant Cameron, OMMB board member for the counties of Glengarry, Stormont, Prescott and Russell, attended the Jan. 28 and 29 meeting of the OMMB, held in Toronto.

He reports that the price of industrial milk was to have increased by 58¢ a hectolitre, Feb. 1. The within-quota levy decreases by 41¢ a hectolitre, creating a new rate of $3.75 a hectolitre, retroactive to Aug. 1, 1987.

And effective immediately, market-sharing quotas are being increased by 1 1/2 per cent.

''It's quite good news. It means a considerable boost of income for producers of industrial milk,'' said Mr. Cameron last week.

He also warns farmers not to expect refunds on over-quota levies at the end of the year because milk supply is expected to coincide with demand.

Supreme Court ruling frustrates, angers local anti-abortionists

by Peter Conway,
Senior Reporter

The recent Supreme Court of Canada's decision to throw out this country's abortion law has left local anti-abortion advocates discouraged and disappointed, but they vow to continue their crusade against abortion.

Monsignor D. B. McDougald of St. Finnan's Cathedral says he doesn't ''feel very positive'' about the new ruling, which now means women anywhere in Canada may seek an abortion without obtaining prior permission from a hospital abortion committee.

The Supreme Court's decision struck down Section 251 of the Criminal Code, under which an accredited hospital committee had to find that a pregnancy put a woman's life or health in danger before abortion could be permitted.

''It has always been seen by Catholics that abortions be prohibited. We're dealing with life and when we fail to protect the unborn, we are to a large extent leaving ourselves open to the suggestion we are uncaring and unfeeling toward life,'' said Monsignor McDougald during a telephone interview, Friday.

''Until Parliament legislates in this matter, we virtually have abortions on demand. There is no prohibition whatsoever,'' he added.

Devastating blow for unborn child

Anne Marie Collard, a Green Valley resident and long-time anti-abortion crusader, says the new ruling is a devastating blow to the unborn children in this country.

''I don't agree with the decision and it's a very dark day for this country when we allow abortions on demand. The children are the future of this country and I am strongly opposed to the new law,'' Mrs. Collard says.

Mrs. Collard has been an active member in the Pro-Life Association in the past. Pro-Life is an anti-abortion group consisting of members from Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry counties.

A board member for two years, she was the association's recording secretary, but had to relinquish her duties last year because of other commitments.

Her concerns and beliefs against abortion remain strong and she says Pro-Life supporters must continue their protest against the new ruling.

''I don't think it's the majority of people in the country that are in favor of this new ruling. It's a loud and vocal group of people we're hearing that favor it. It's up to the pro-lifers to be just as loud in voicing their desires and opposition toward the Supreme Court,'' she says.

Anti-abortion groups fear the new ruling could result in the setting up of abortion clinics throughout the country.

No local services

Cornwall General Hospital is the only hospital in the United Counties which performs abortions. Glengarry Memorial Hospital Administrator Jerry Adams doesn't expect abortions to be available locally.

''Years ago the Ministry of Health asked hospitals if they were interested in offering abortion services and we declined to get involved because there wasn't a need. I don't see us doing abortions here in the future, but with this new ruling, this may change down the road. But it hasn't come up at our hospital yet,'' says Mr. Adams.

Dr. Ajay Varma, who has a private practice in Alexandria and also works out of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital, expressed disappointment with the court's new ruling, and says he would like to see abortion services remain in hospitals, rather than at clinics or doctors' offices.

''The new ruling opens up a way for abortions to be performed in clinics and offices without any control. I feel the services should remain in the hospitals because they (hospitals) have a certain standard to maintain,'' Dr. Varma says.

Law not defined

Marilyn Bergeron, who has been president of the Eastern Ontario Pro-Life Association for three years, says anti-abortionists may have reacted harshly toward the new ruling because the court has not properly defined its decision.

''I was very disappointed when I first heard the decision and tried to understand it. The court based its decision upon its original decision in 1969, which was not well-written at the time. It did not define the word ''health'' and did not give guidelines for therapeutic abortion committees and how they were to function. I still see hope because judges have made it clear that parliament has the right to protect the unborn child and set limits on abortions. I think we'll see a new law drafted in a few months which could be debated in the House of Commons.''

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria said, Tuesday, ''We have to respect the Supreme Court's decision . . . You cannot ban abor-

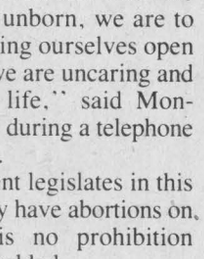
Saving the train costs MP Boudria, VIA official separate speeding tickets

They may be helping Glengarrians to save the train, but saving their own money, they aren't.

On the way to the Jan. 28 Save the Train committee meeting in Alexandria, Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria and VIA Rail official Tony Kyffin were each stopped by Maxville OPP and issued speeding tickets.

Both men, riding in separate vehicles, were nabbed at a ''speed trap'' on Hwy. 34 just north of Alexandria.

Mr. Boudria said he didn't feel too badly about his own ticket — the fine was about $18 — but felt ''uncomfortable'' that Mr. Kyffin had travelled all the way from Montreal to assist in saving the rail line and received a heavier fine.



Don Boudria

The men apparently compared notes just prior to the meeting.

The MP explained to The News that he'd been quite distracted during the drive from Ottawa, formulating his talk and trying to do the usual 15 things at the same time.

He wasn't in a rush, he said, and wasn't driving that fast.

Mr. Boudria claims he was driving about 95 km/hr. in an 80 km/hr. zone and says he doesn't think he lost any points for the infraction.

''I haven't had any tickets in 20 years. And I had to get one while I was trying to save the train. It's funnier than anything else. It proves that MPs are human,'' he said.

Daylight thieves steal video camera

The Alexandria Police Department is investigating a theft which occurred at Miron Electronics during store hours, sometime Friday or Saturday.

A thief walked off with a Quasar Cam-corder (video camera), valued at about $2,800. The camera had been on display at the Alexandria business.

The theft was reported to police at approximately 4 p.m., Saturday afternoon.

Const. Roger Levert is investigating.

Family of four homeless after fire destroys home

A Maxville family of four lost its home last Wednesday night (Feb. 3) when one of the oldest houses in the village was destroyed by fire.

About 40 firemen battled the inferno and some remained on the scene until 8 a.m. the following morning.

The Maxville Fire Department was called in about 9:20 p.m., after Ralph Williamson, while passing the house, noticed the fire. Homeowners Gerry and Barbara Leroux and teenage sons David and Chris were not home at the time.

According to Maxville Deputy Fire Chief Donald Sabourin, the homes surrounding the Main Street house, located across from Maxville United Church, are so close together there was some danger of the flames spreading to adjacent buildings. To prevent such a disaster, the Kenyon Fire Department from Apple Hill and the Moose Creek Fire Department were called in for support.

The Daughters of Isabella held its monthly meeting at the Knights of Columbus hall, Jan. 20; 29 members attended.

Regent Carmen Rochon opened the meeting with prayer, followed by the singing of O Canada. Edna Lalonde, convenor for the 300 Club draw explained that very few tickets are left for the draw to be held Feb. 17 at the Knights hall.

Clair Roy gave her report on the Christmas party — a big success — and she thanked all those who helped. Congratulations were in order and she was asked to coordinate the event again next year.

Financial Secretary Germain Boyer gave her report; membership fees are now due for 1988. A donation was given to the Cancer Lodge in Ottawa. The funds will be used to expand the facility.

Therese Whelan has asked the Daughters of Isabella to attend prayers at the Sacred Heart Church for six Saturdays beginning Feb. 27 at 2 p.m., during Lent.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 17.

Feb. 12 is National Stamp Collecting Day and what better way to commemorate the event than to spend a bit of time at the post office? The staff at the Alexandria office will give visitors a tour and stamp collections will be on hand for perusal. Mayor J. P. Our weather reporter, George Hambleton of North Lancaster delivered his weather synopsis for this month.

January's weather reminded me of a ping pong game, fluctuating from extremely cold temperatures to balmy, record-breaking highs. The lowest temperature was -30 C and the high was just over 11 C!

Only 25 cm (10'') of snow fell, with rainfall measuring 22 mm (.9'') and the average monthly temperature was 3 C, higher than normal.

Last January (1987) was cooler than usual with the highest temperature reaching a brisk 2 C and the low dipping to -33 C. About 77 cm of snow fell and there was no rain.

Sandra Ruttenberg of the ninth concession of Lancaster recently returned from a trip to Florida and delivered to me a new stress diet I am sure will thrill even the most avid of diet-haters. Breakfast consists of 1/2 grapefruit, one slice whole wheat bread and eight oz. of skim milk. Lunch is four oz. broiled chicken breast, one cup steamed zucchini, one Oreo cookie and one cup herb tea. A midafternoon snack can consist of the rest of the package of Oreo cookies, one quart rocky road ice cream and one jar of hot fudge. Dinner is two loaves garlic bread, one large pepperoni and mushroom pizza, a pitcher of beer, three candy bars and one entire frozen cheesecake eaten directly from the freezer.

And some interesting diet tips: If no one sees you eat it, it has no calories. If you drink a diet soda with a candy bar, they cancel each other out, and calories don't count if you eat with someone and you both eat the same amount. Mama, I'm home.

trade agreement and they will be specifically outlined.''

Negotiations, he explained, are essentially in place to lower tariffs. ''As these tariffs go down, the hope is that trade will improve and go up.''

Touching briefly on the worry that Canada's culture, sovereignty and social programs, will be traded away, none hs been negotiated. It's all there; intact!''

He referred to the federal government's recently implemented new day care program which is an add-on to existing social programs. This, he said, has come up since the advent of free-trade.

He said although he and Noble (Villeneuve, MPP for SD&G and East Grenville) did not agree on every aspect of the deal, they did agree on one thing: ''to do nothing is not good enough because the U.S. is going to do something.''

''There are some 200 or more protectionism trade bills before the U.S. congress, and if you think U.S. is going to stand idly by and watch its dollar collapse and continue on with a $180 billion deficit...then you don't know how tough they are on the other side of the border.''

He reminded the audience that when he served as Minister of Industry and Trade, he was determined to loosen Canada's trade dependency (88 per cent) with the American market, but couldn't do it.

By the time he left office, the figure had risen to 90 per cent. The U.S. remains Canada's largest trading partner, followed by Japan and Britain.

''What this trade deal does if it doesn't do anything else'' he concluded, ''is secure for us a bit of a special status to at least maintain our current level of exports.''

The natural trade routes, he added, are north-south, not east-west.

tions outright, but you can restrict them . . . parliament has a right to take account of the fetus, parliament has the right to say that after a certain time (age of fetus) there will be restrictions on abortion.''

Mr. Boudria added that the Liberal government has asked Prime Minister Brian Mulroney to form a committee to draft a new law on abortion; one which would respect the court's decision. Once a bill was drafted, the government would listen to Canadians and would hold public hearings to obtain the vast range of viewpoints.

Mr. Boudria says he has already received a lot of letters and phone calls from his constituents.

''I get letters saying, 'Mr. Boudria, I don't like the new law on abortions'. What they're really saying is, 'there is no law on abortions','' he says.

And while in church on a recent Sunday Mr. Boudria received a general notice from anti-abortionists who were encouraging others to lobby three of his offices from 1-3 p.m., Saturday (Feb. 13). He says he cannot be in three places at once and because of a prior commitment in Rockland that afternoon, he plans to appear at his Rockland office at about 3 p.m.

Mrs. Bergeron doesn't expect an abortion clinic to open in the future in the united counties.

''The Pro-Life sentiment is strong in the united counties and I hope it would be a deterrant for anyone to open a private clinic. The public reaction has been very strong against the court's decision,'' she says.

Mrs. Bergeron says the Pro-Life Association is encouraging people to write their MP and voice their opinion toward the protection of the unborn.

''We have to keep fighting for the unborn child and hopefully our support will continue to grow,'' she says.

Lancaster business wants sign removed

by Peter Conway,
Senior Reporter

A South Lancaster businesswoman is blaming an inadequate teaser sign for the flood of customers which has visited her establishment expecting to find a flea market.

Barbara McIntosh, who co-owns Rob McIntosh China and Warehouse Crystal Shop with husband, Rob, says she's fed up with providing directions to an antique shop, located about 2 km north of Lancaster and to a flea market 2 km southwest of Lancaster.

The sign bears two arrows pointing in opposite directions and that causes confusion, says Mrs. McIntosh.

The sign is located on Lancaster Township property near the entrance of the McIntoshes' business and was installed about four years ago by Ron McLaughlin, the owner of the antique shop and flea market.

Mr. McLaughlin has yet to comply with the McIntoshes recent request to remove the sign.

Mrs. McIntosh says their business is being mistaken for Mr. McLaughlin's business because the sign doesn't provide clear directions.

"I don't disapprove of free enterprise, but we spend a lot of time telling customers we don't operate a flea market," said Mrs. McIntosh in a telephone interview, Friday. "We've asked him several times to remove the sign and he won't comply."

The McIntoshes took further action by writing a letter to Lancaster Township council, Jan. 20, asking officials to have the sign removed.

But council was reluctant at the time to make a decision, opting to have the situation clarified by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications (MTC).

Mrs. McIntosh wrote a letter to MTC and received a reply, Jan. 25; the sign was contrary to highway regulations, wrote the ministry.

Contacted by The Glengarry News, Saturday, Mr. McLaughlin said the sign has helped his business and has attracted new customers since he established the flea market five years ago.

"I'm writing to the MTC for further clarification on the matter and I have no further comment at this time," he said.

Mr. McLaughlin, who attended the council meeting said the sign should remain where it is.

"I'm a taxpayer in this township and I would hope council could assist me in this situation," he said.

New executive at Chamber

The new executive of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce was elected at the organization's meeting last week. Poirier elected Chamber president

Alexandria merchant Claude Poirier took over as president of the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce at the organization's annual meeting, last week.

Past president Jacques Trottier turned the chair over to Mr. Poirier at the conclusion of the meeting, held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Alexandria, Thursday night.

Sheila Olson was elected vice-president, Gilles Paradis, treasurer, and Lindsay Cameron was elected secretary.

Voted to the board of directors were Pierre Miron, Oakley Bush, Reynald Theoret, Gail Abrames, Claude Poirier, Pierre Aubry, Allan Poulin, and Richard Vaillancourt.

The Chamber's financial report was presented and showed the organization had a net income of $2,349 after incurring expenses of $14,402 during the year. The Chamber netted $3,995 from membership dues, $3,542 from the Citizen of the Year dinner ticket sales, $6,496 from the 1987 trade show, $2,525 from the Christmas Shopping Spree and $193 in interest from term deposits, amounting to $16,751 in total revenue.

About 25 members of the Chamber attended the meeting and discussed a number of matters related to Chamber business.

This year, the Town of Alexandria will co-sponsor the Citizen of the Year banquet, President Trottier reported. This year, a Youth of the Year and a Businessperson of the Year will also be named.

Nominations for citizen awards

If you think you know a benevolent citizen, youth or businessperson who merits public recognition, it's time to get those nominations into the Town of Alexandria or Alexandria Chamber of Commerce.

Almost one year has passed since the title of "citizen of the year" was bestowed upon the reluctant Alexandrian Mamie MacMillan, in honor of countless hours of volunteer work. Miss MacMillan couldn't understand what all the fuss was about, but attempts to refuse the award were of no avail.

This year, three citizens will receive awards. Categories are "citizen of the year," "businessperson of the year" and "youth of the year." A person must be 12 to 21 years old to be eligible for the youth's award.

Nominations must be submitted by March 15 and all will be judged on their individual merits; the number of nominations received for each person will have no bearing on the judges' choice.

The awards will be presented at a dinner, to be held May 4 at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

The town and the chamber plans to approach service clubs and other community organizations for nominations. Both parties will share expenses equally.

Town won't lose money

Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette says the town will not lose $2,300 due to the closure of the Petroson plant which closed its doors last month.

The mayor disagreed with details reported in The News' Editor Lesley Cadham's column of Feb. 3 and explained that the town will only lose about one-third of $2,300. The remaining two-thirds would be charged back to the county and school boards.

The amount of $2,300 was confirmed to The News during an out-of-council discussion with Town Clerk-Treasurer Leo Poirier, Feb. 4.

In addition, the mayor reported that the town will not have to write off all of 1988 taxes; though they cannot be removed from the tax roll, they can be recouped through a new tenant, says the mayor.

He hopes the building will be leased within the next few months.

"How could anyone know when a person is going bankrupt?" he asked. "It's an impossibility to know. I'd read about it in the Gazette, about a proposal for bankruptcy, but Alexandria Iron Works (the local branch of Petroson) was not mentioned. What could I do? Even if a person were to dash there, there's nothing you could do about it."

Driver collides with snow plow

A Maxville man may have found it's better to be patient than to tangle with a snow plow.

Marcel Richard escaped without serious injuries after colliding with a Ministry of Transportation and Communications snow plow, Friday afternoon.

Thomas McDonald of Vankleek Hill, was driving his plow west on the ramp to Hwy. 417 at the Highland Road merge. Mr. Richard was following the plow in his 1978 Chrysler, attempted to pass, and his vehicle collided with the blade of the plow.

Damage to Mr. Richard's vehicle was moderate, while there was no apparent damage to the plow.

An RR5 Alexandria man's vehicle suffered moderate damage in a two-vehicle collision on Hwy. 43, Friday afternoon.

Yvon Trottier was driving west on Hwy. 43 in his 1986 Celica at about 3:45 p.m. when he attempted to turn into the Bonnie Glen parking lot.

Jean Pidgeon, of Cornwall, was following Mr. Trottier in his 1981 Dodge Aries when he collided with the Trottier vehicle.

Mr. Pidgeon's vehicle suffered light damage. No one was injured.

And an Avonmore man was driving west on Hwy. 43, 2.8 km west of Alexandria, Friday afternoon, when he drove off the road and struck a fence before coming to rest in a field.

Andrew McIntyre's 1985 Chrysler Reliant suffered severe damage, but he was not injured.

An Alexandria man driving west on Cty. Rd. 24, 110 metres east of Hwy. 34 Sunday afternoon lost control of his vehicle which struck a cement wall.

Elias Pavolounis, 44, lost control when he tried to stop his vehicle on the icy road.

Damage to his 1983 Chevrolet was severe and he suffered no injuries.

But a 12-year-old Apple Hill girl suffered minor injuries following a two-vehicle collision in Alexandria Saturday afternoon.

The child's mother, 41-year-old Janet Lalonde, was driving north on Main Street and stopped at the traffic lights at the intersection of Main and Lochiel streets.

Alexandria resident Normand Bellefeuille, 27, driving a 1977 Toyota, collided with the rear of Mrs. Lalonde's vehicle.

Mrs. Lalonde's daughter, Chantal, was taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital for minor injuries, treated and released.

Damage to both vehicles was light.

Dig deeper for garbage removal

South Lancaster residents will have to dig deeper into their pockets to pay for garbage collection this year, as the cost charge has increased 22 per cent, to $46 annually.

Lancaster Township council renewed its yearly contract with Char-Lan Sanitation of Green Valley, which will service about 142 South Lancaster residents.

Council delays request

by Peter Conway
Senior Reporter

Lancaster Township council has delayed a decision regarding a request for land severances by an Ottawa developer, who hopes to construct an $887,000 housing project.

At the Feb. 3 council meeting, Deputy-reeve Charles Sangster told Tom Swabey, a Cornwall solicitor representing Cornalex Associates Limited, that council would discuss his client's application at a future meeting.

The discussion was put on hold because Reeve Bernie McDonell was absent from the meeting due to illness.

Jean Clement, the principal shareholder of Cornalex Associates Limited, wants to sever into four parts, a 32-acre lot on the Lake St. Francis waterfront near Wood Creek.

Mr. Clement proposes to sever part of lots 6 and 7 of the first concession into four lots; three would each be 6.9 acres, while the fourth would measure 12 acres.

It is not yet known how many residential units would be constructed; the lots would be about 2,000 sq. ft.

Cornalex Associates Limited owns land in other Eastern Ontario municipalities and it has already developed property in Alexandria.

A construction date has not yet been determined.

Glengarrians elected

Thirteen Glengarrians were recently elected to the executive of the Liberal and Progressive Conservative associations for the federal riding of Glengarry-Prescott-Russell. New Democrats will elect their new executive at a Feb. 17 meeting in Vankleek Hill.

Hawkesbury lawyer Jean-Claude Gelinas was elected president of the Liberal Association, succeeding Past President Pierre Aubry of Alexandria, during its annual meeting, Jan. 20, at the St. Isidore de Prescott Arena.

Dalkeith's Ken MacLennan is vice-president for Glengarry, while seven people were elected directors to represent municipalities in the county.

The new directors are: Mary Ann Kampouris, Maxville; Gwen Morris, Kenyon; Maurice Montpetit, Lochiel; Jean-Paul Touchette, Alexandria; Louise Fletcher, Lancaster Township; Armand Chenier, Lancaster Village and Jacques Leduc of Charlottenburgh Township.

The Progressive Conservative Party held its annual meeting in Plantagenet, Jan. 20.

Hawkesbury businessman Robert Binmore was elected president, while Maxville resident Walter Blaney will represent Glengarry as one of three vice-presidents elected to the association.

Elected as directors are: Alexandria's Brian Proulx, Claude Lalonde and Marguerite Seger, and Bill Cooper of Charlottenburgh.

Lancaster Village briefs

The regular meeting of Lancaster Village council was held at the village office, Wednesday, Feb. 3. The following are items dealt with by council.

No more gas stations

The construction of additional gas stations will not be permitted in Lancaster Village unless the population increases, council decided at the Feb. 3 meeting.

Council has instructed County Planner Brian Weir to limit the number of garages and automobile service stations where gasoline is stored or kept for sale.

The motion was made after council received a letter from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs which stated that the provision allowing municipalities to limit the number of gas stations is now to be dealt with under the Planning Act. Council was instructed to amend its zoning bylaws if necessary.

Reeve Milton MacDonald said, "Considering the population of Lancaster, I think seven stations is sufficient."

Fire protection for Charlottenburgh

A Charlottenburgh resident has been granted protection from the Lancaster Village Fire Department.

Dan Flaro, owner of Cornwall Marine Ltd. (Dan's Place) sent a letter to council requesting fire protection; the village department is located within two miles of his business. Mr. Flaro stated firemen of the Williamstown Fire Department would take approximately 15 minutes to respond to a call. Williamstown is about 10 km from Dan's Place.

The Cornwall Marine Ltd. is situated on old Hwy. 2, south of Lancaster.

Resurfacing roads

Council has applied to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for an $18,000 grant to resurface and repair village roads.

Councillor Jacques Lapierre said, if the village receives the money, North Beech and Spruce Streets will be repaved. However, he said, he only expects the village to receive half of the requested amount.

Playground equipment purchased

About $4,000 in playground equipment has been purchased by the recreation department for the Smithsfield Hall park. A combination "monkey bars" and slide and a plumb pig were ordered, to be installed May 1.

Summer student grants

Council has applied for grants to hire two students for summer employment under the Involvement in Municipal Administration, Challenge 88 and Experience programs. If the village receives the grants, one student would be hired to work in the office and the other, in the recreation department.

A new dog catcher needed

Lancaster Village Council will soon advertise for a new dog catcher.

Reeve Milton MacDonald said, "There have been a few complaints of the occasional black lab running around."

The village has been without a dog catcher since Olaf Rumke resigned as dog catcher in September.

Councillor submits critical letter

Councillor Janet Abbey, in a letter to council, critized the media, in particular the Glengarry News, claiming she had been misquoted and contradicted in the Jan. 12 edition.

She was referring to a story on the potential resignation of Councillor Don Sinott. At a December council meeting, a vote calling for his resignation ended in a tie.

The letter also stated it was up to Reeve Milton MacDonald to decide whether Councillor Ron Sinnott resigns.

"The reeve should have voted to break the tie so it really rested on his decision."

Councillor Jennifer Charbonneau, said the Municipal Act states the only time a Reeve can vote to break a tie, is in county council.

Reeve MacDonald refused to comment.

"It's like beating a dead horse", he said.

Council says no to year-round tourism and Sunday shopping

by Janet Clermont,
Staff Writer

A request from a Lancaster Village merchant to designate the village as a year-round tourist region was put on the shelf during the Feb. 3 meeting of the village council.

Freshmart owner Bruce Maynard documented his appeal in a recent letter to council and if his request had been accepted, stores would have been able to remain open seven days a week. Lancaster is designated a tourist area from April 1 to Oct. 1 and is allowed to open for business on Sunday during those six months.

Reeve Milton MacDonald said, "since the tourist season is so close, we will leave things the way they are now."

Marg Millett, owner of the Big Dipper convenience store, said during the meeting that she is opposed to stores opening outside the tourist season.

"Small stores are at a disadvantage because after hours and Sundays are the busiest times. If Sunday shopping goes through, how will we survive?" questioned Mrs. Millett.

However, Mr. Maynard said in an interview, Friday, Sunday shopping is not the issue. He said he could open his store under present provincial legislation if he closed down a few aisles.

"The issue is whether or not the village is a year-round tourist area. It would be a good thing for the community. I think we should get Lancaster on the map as a tourist area, then worry about that other stuff later," he said.

Mr. Maynard said more people from Quebec are spending the weekends in Lancaster and the need for Sunday shopping has increased.

During the meeting Mrs. Millett submitted a letter which stated that the influx of tourists was due to the mild weather.

"It seems unlikely that these people have a continuing need to shop in Lancaster on Sundays immediately prior to travelling home."

Mrs. Millett's letter also appealed to council to delay a final decision on the issue, reasoning that the tourist season opens soon and the time would allow the people to observe the trends of other Ontario communities.

Reeve MacDonald said council will review the bylaw after the tourist season closes.

Editorials/Opinion

Free trade and farmers

This week, Feb. 9-15 is Eastern Ontario Farmers Week. And while some of us reflect on the importance of the agricultural industry here in Glengarry, one of the most serious issues facing farmers today — the impact of the free trade deal — will be on many other minds.

There have been arguments, sector-by-sector, for and against the deal and these have largely served to confuse farmers. Perhaps it's understandable, because there are both favorable and not-so-favorable predictions for producers in Glengarry.

For instance, the head of the agricultural economics department at the University of Guelph told a group of farmers in Winchester last November that the deal will have no major long-term effect on the Canadian agricultural industry. He said he was confident Canadian farmers will be able to beat U.S. farmers in many markets including pork, poultry and corn as tariff restrictions come down. He also said farmers in Eastern Ontario have the advantage of being close to large American cities and have lower shipping and feed costs.

On the other hand, farming organizations have pointed out that due to an increase in quota limits on U.S. imports of poultry and eggs, there could be some problems ahead for producers in these areas.

The government, meanwhile, claims dairy producers will remain largely unaffected by the deal; while tariffs will be reduced on dairy products, importation of them is tightly controlled (many products are prohibited) the effect on producers will be minimal. And, as in the case of poultry, Canada has reserved the right to add those dairy products such as yoghurt and ice cream, not currently on the import control list to this list, consistent with GATT (General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs) obligations.

Who does a farmer listen to? Indeed, should he listen to anybody, and simply go about his business as before, unaffected by the debates raising dust around him?

Our advice is simply this: Listen to the people who have no partisan axe to grind, no ivory towers to preach from and let the element guide you that has always guided you and your forefathers — good old-fashioned common sense and healthy scepticism.

Ethical bankruptcy

When will it all end?

Just when we thought it was safe to start believing in the political process again, along comes a couple of more scandals brought to you by the federal government of Canada.

It is almost enough to make one forget about all that is right with the country, that unemployment country-wide is relatively low, the dollar is strong and people are still spending money and buying houses.

Unfortunately, in the eyes of many people, it is enough to make one forget about honest government, too.

In three years Prime Minister Brian Mulroney has taken the resignations of eight cabinet ministers. Most recently, he fired former cabinet minister Michel Côté, who misled government investigators last year about loans worth $246,000. And it has also been learned that energy minister Marcel Masse broke election spending laws in 1985 — but the elections minister decided not to lay charges.

Add to this an unrelenting list of patronage appointments, and it is obvious the government has compromised the public's trust.

Mulroney himself is coming under fire from the opposition, which alleges he may have broken his own conflict-of-interest rules by failing to declare $300,000 in funds he got from the Conservative party for redecorating 24 Sussex Drive two years ago.

Of course, the government has been in this position before, though if the PM hadn't fired Côté immediately after learning of his loans declaration, the scandal's repercussions could have been much worse. And it's true Brian Mulroney can't personally be held responsible for the actions or lack of them from his cabinet members; he has more than the average-sized caucus to handle.

But in the same way he cannot directly take credit for the continuing prosperity reaching across Canada, he at least has a share in what has transpired. It's hard to believe it would take more control and forethought to manage a few cabinet ministers with questionable ethics than an entire country in need of leadership.

Unfortunately, any tangible good the Mulroney government is delivering in its labors for the country is more than overshadowed by the prime minister's expended time and energy dealing with his cabinet ministers.

No-one, least of all the PM, knows when these plaguing scandals will end. It seems the only known these days is that the government just can't stay away from infamous controversy — and prevent the public from viewing it as ethically as bankruptcy.

Author tells of Murray's settlement in Glen Falloch

RAMBLING REPORTER
Eugene Macdonald

Two hundred years ago came the first settlers to Glengarry and it is probably the recent celebrations of that bicentennial that have prompted the writing of histories covering many of those pioneer families.

Your Rambling Reporter got into the spirit of the thing with his family history and he was pleasantly surprised, last week, to learn that Marland Murray of Martintown, had joined the ranks of writers, too.

His ambitious undertaking goes back to 1775, when his ancestors were among the first United Empire Loyalists to settle in Glengarry. And, ironically, the patch of forest William Murray and Christie McCallum settled on was later to be ceded to the St. Regis Indians, part of that two-mile wide strip the Crown provided to the Indians as compensation for the loss of their hunting grounds. The Indian Lands, stretching from the St. Lawrence to the Ottawa River, became a major worry to these pioneers, who had to wait until 1850 to get title to their lands.

"The Canadian Glen Falloch Murrays" is the title of Marland's work and probably a lot of Glengarrians will be hearing of this glen for the first time. It was called after the Scottish home of the Murrays and Glen Falloch will be found in the southwest corner of Glengarry. Travel west through Martintown and the first road south, the Kinloch Road, will soon speed you by Glen Falloch. Glengarry's undefended border with Stormont is only a stone's throw to the west.

Marland and his wife, Pearl, were in Scotland in 1986 and visited 700-year-old Blair Castle, the stronghold of the Murray Clan. There they were guests of Sir Iain Murray, 10th Duke of Atholl and chief of the clan. The book boasts a message of goodwill from him to his kinsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray travelled extensively while researching the book and Mr. Murray's extensive coverage of several family groups scattered across North America reflects his attention to detail. The Murrays predominate but many other surnames still familiar in the Martintown area include the MacLennans, McIntoshes, Clarks, Grants and McCallums. There is considerable detail concerning various persons and the author displays a high regard for those early pioneers who suffered so many vicissitudes while forging a better future for later generations.

Marland Murray was the third generation born at Murrayholm Farm and his son Campbell now operates the farm. Among the area's top Holstein breeders, Mr. Murray served as national president of the Holstein-Friesian Association in 1969 and he has been a breed judge in Great Britain, Europe, Africa, Australia and across Canada, the United States and Mexico.

A large, hard-cover book of some 300 pages, this history of the Murray family is available in area bookstores.

Naming names: Do the convicted have rights?

AFTER THOUGHTS
Joe Banks

We receive a lot of requests here at The News, ranging from the publication of club reports to the photo coverage of events. We're always happy to respond to them, but there is one request which, in all honesty, strikes anxiety in our hearts.

"I was in court the other day and I'd like to have my name left out of the paper."

What generally follows is a long and excruciating exchange of comments, bristling with anger, bordering on frustration, and finally a curt "goodbye" from both ends of the phone. And little is accomplished other than both parties feel they've registered their point adequately.

As long as The Glengarry News covers provincial court proceedings, we will likely always receive such requests, and probably always provide the reasons why we cannot make exceptions for one person and not others.

In recent years, however, there has been, I believe, more of these requests. The number of those requests has, it seems, risen in direct proportion to the government's movement toward a stiffening of sentences for drivers who drink and drive.

Today, a person found guilty of impaired driving is viewed as having committed a serious crime by the government and public's reckoning. To a certain extent, the media have to parallel that perception and publicize offenders the way others convicted under the Criminal Code, are.

Some weeks ago, I received a call from a man who was convicted of an impaired driving charge. He asked that we refrain from printing his name and case. He was a first-time offender and explained that he had an elderly mother who was in frail health — the publication of his name in a court story could endanger her life, he said.

Besides, he reasoned, why couldn't the newspaper exclude his name on request? Wasn't this a free country where people were entitled to privacy and the right for justice to be served with a minimum of embarrassment?

I was tempted to lecture the caller but I knew the judge probably did an adequate job of that. Instead, I went through the reasons behind our obligation to print his name, that have become so familiar to us.

They didn't wash with him and he still claimed his right to justice was somehow being compromised by the printing of his name and the crime for which he was found guilty.

As a final, exasperated attempt at resolution of this impasse, I put forward that the man lost his chance for privacy when he decided to endanger the public by getting behind the wheel of a 3,000-pound vehicle while intoxicated.

He still insisted he had a right to expect privileged protection from the courts. But the conversation ended soon after, both of us unmoving on our points.

But I later thought about his insistence on offender's "rights," a term we're hearing more often these days as the historic Charter cases grab the headlines. It seemed a contradictory term to me, and yet legislators and judges have shown they are not unconvinced that criminal offenders do not have rights to privacy in the courts.

The Young Offenders Act, passed two years ago, protects youngsters under the age of 18 from having their names publicized and it restricts maximum sentences for any crime to three years. In itself, the law is well-intentioned. But it has created a situation whereby those over 17, subject to normal law under the Criminal Code, are also protected when they involve young people in their criminal deeds.

There is a release valve of sorts where the Crown can petition the courts to have a young offender tried in adult courts if the crime is serious enough. And it has been used. But a judge recently ruled in Carleton Place that a school teacher found guilty of sexually abusing some of his students could not be identified by the media because that knowledge would serve to identify his victims.

That ruling infuriated local citizens, because they commonly knew who the man was, and felt he "deserved" the publicity. The ban on publication was eventually overturned, however, upon appeal and justice, the community felt, was eventually served.

But the case showed the public and us in the media how the Young Offenders Act provided a loophole for the adult protection from publicity. We saw the case as an example of how "offenders rights" could erode the rights of the public to know and the byproduct of providing deterrance.

The entire question of naming names may eventually be answered for us by the courts and Parliament. But until then, it's apparent the general public and certainly our readers, prefer to see the names of criminal offenders publicized.

Photogenics and Lochiel farmers

THAT'S LIFE
Lesley Cadham

Thank you, readers and others who felt strongly enough about the photograph at the top of this column to call and share your feelings with me. I took your comments into consideration, which is evidenced by the appearance of a new, probably worse photograph, above.

I've always felt somewhat contemptful toward people who can crawl out of bed in the morning looking photogenic and I've never been able to figure out what separates them from people who look like corpses or cartoon characters, on film. All I know is, I've never looked good in a photograph in my life (and some people may carry it even further).

When my boss first brought my picture in to show me, I begged him not to use it. "I look terrible," I protested. "The camera doesn't lie, Lesley," he said. I slumped into my chair helplessly. "Couldn't you do something to it? Tear it up, perhaps?" I appealed.

For the love of Glengarry

I love Glengarry and I have since the day I moved here, over 1 1/2 years ago. Despite the fact that I was brought up in a suburb of Montreal, I have always found wide open spaces and agricultural lands far more appealing than block upon block of concrete structures and backed-up traffic.

And used to be in Montreal, my friends and I would stroll down to a lakeside club and talk and perhaps have a drink to while away a quiet Thursday evening. At one time, it seemed Thursday evenings for the rest of my life would be spent doing just that. The thought of spending prime-time in a barn in the company of 30 or 40 Holsteins, 3 horses, 12 cats, two dogs and an assortment of rodents never entered my mind. Until recently, that is.

"So, how do you like Glengarry?" asked the dairy farmer.

"I've been in a barn before," I replied somewhat defensively, bending to scrape manure from the bottom of my boot.

"I didn't ask you whether you'd been in a barn. I asked you how you like Glengarry," came the answer.

"Oh. I love it," I replied, thankful I'd not been invited to spend the evening in a free-stall facility.

Cowsmopolitan

Speaking of Holsteins, another Lochiel farmer dropped into the office the other day to let us know about the newest rage in reading material for the agriculturally-minded fellow; Cowsmopolitan magazine, apparently a spoof of the women's Cosmopolitan. The Orlando Sentinel claims it gives new meaning to the phrase "udderly irreverent," and may be the perfect gift for the cow-lover who already has the cow creamer, cow posters, cow's head towel holders, cow jewellery and hundreds of tiny cow-like figurines spread throughout the house.

Considering this news, I now know what gift to bestow upon the dairy farmer, who through no real fault of his own, saw fit to have me spend not one, but three prime-time evenings scraping my footwear and cooing at farm animals.

Valentine's Day roots in martyrdom

WORD SKETCH
Sybil Carello

On February 14, 1,717 years ago, Bishop Valentine of Spoleto was martyred — in impolite words, persecuted and killed.

Since martyrdom just happens to be one of the prerequisites for sainthood, the deceased Bishop became Saint Valentine — patron saint of lovers. And the day — St. Valentine's Day — continues its celebrations as a lover's feast. (I agree, folks back then had a macabre sense of humor.)

Some also connect this ancient (pagan) practice with the old idea that birds began to mate on February 14. Who can say? Historians are split on this one.

In any event, out of all this death and destruction arose the curious habit of sending valentines — smarmy missives of love, often accompanied by 50-pound boxes of chocolate-covered maraschino cherries.

All in the name of love. Romantic love. Idealized love. Throughout the ages more ink has been spilled and more tears shed in frustrated attempts at defining and understanding this thing called love.

Cushioned between the covers of Bartlett's Familiar Quotations, one can read that love is: a frailty of the mind; a kiss; a mood; a proud and gentle thing; a sickness; like the measles (of course); a beginning; flower-like; full of showers; a girdle (24 hour?); heaven; indestructible; a dizziness; a landscape; a red, red, rose; divine; enchanted dawn; coldest of critics; the sweetest thing on earth; a flame; free as the air; the mellow glow of autumn (good one but still no cigar); nature's second sun; strong as death; the jewel that wins the world; the orbit of the soul; lord and slave of all; an illusion . . .

An illusion? Perhaps.

Anyone. Some last words on love?

"Love looks not with the eyes, but with the mind, and therefore is winged Cupid painted blind."

Thanks Willy. You've always had a way with words.

Letters

Thou shalt not kill

To the editor:

I am flabbergasted, disgusted and shocked at the Superior Court of Canada's decision on abortion.

I never thought for the life of me that such high intellectuals would condone and encourage people to commit murder. By handing down such a decision, this, in my book is exactly what they did.

The Mulroney government showed its true colors by snuffing it off to the provincial governmnets, instead of acting like a responsible strong body and amending the constitution to prohibit the killing of the innocent. And further, to add insult to injury, the Ontario provincial government will now use the taxpayers' money to help defray the cost of these atrocities.

There is no more justification for Morgentaler to kill the foetus than Hitler's massacre of millions of innocent people during the war.

I have nothing but high praise for Premier Vander Zalm and his B.C. government for standing up to be counted on this most serious subject; they sure have guts.

I therefore protest to both governments for their actions and refuse to have my taxes used to commit murder.

The U.S have the Fifth Amendment and Canada has the Fifth Commandment; "Thou shalt not kill."

Frank Periard, president
St. Lawrence Parish Pastoral Council, Curry Hill.

The shedding of innocent blood

To the editor:

A child is God's supreme gift to parents. For parents to slaughter this gift is the supreme insult to God.

The highest court in our land has given the mother of God's gift the sole right to either accept this supreme gift or destroy it. This right should fill us all with extreme fear and foreboding. Has it now arrived that the "abomination of desolation" now sits where it ought not?

Mr. Prime Minister, Members of Parliament, my fellow Canadians, well-founded should be our sorrow to see how such a noble creature as man, made according to the likeness and image of God, endowed with such divine qualities and gifted with the power of knowing, loving, seeing and enjoying God eternally, should allow himself to be degraded and defiled by such brutal and abominable passions as to shed the innocent blood of those who can do no harm to anyone. This should induce us all to weep over the ruin of so many souls who in any way have anything to do with abortion.

May God have mercy on us.

Cameron McCormick,
Alexandria.

Justice for the unborn child

To the editor:

Bravo Diane! You had the courage to write on behalf of the poor non-wanted children that heartless mothers get rid of by abortion.

Shame on those who passed the cruel law of abortion. Shame on those who asked for it. Shame on those who will have an innocent killed. This foetus, which is a living baby, didn't ask to be created. This little "heart" which beats, living by his mother's blood, will be pulled off his "nest" to be thrown to the garbage.

How many sterile couples wish these babies to be born so that they could adopt them and make them happy. Jesus has said "let the little children come to Me." Beware those who murder them, 'cause a foetus is a human being.

Aline Lalonde,
Alexandria

Prayer, the only answer

To the editor:

As a "Pro Life" member, I say to you Diane, "Bravo." We will win.

After reading Diane Roy's letter to the editor, "Shame on Canada!" she deserves applause. I agree with her and yes, prayer is the only solution. They won't win, we will win the battle. So many women are crying each day, to be able to have a child of their own, they'd pay the price to have one, while others believe only in destroying lives. What are people up to? Is it the end of the world? You don't break God's laws. God made men and women, and said go into the world and multiply, he didn't say go into the world and destroy. Let all join hands together and pray for a better future.

May God bless you.

Evelyne Secours,
RR2, Alexandria

CBC shall not be silenced

To the editor:

A recent letter from the National Citizens' Coalition (a more accurate name would be The National Corporations' Coalition) asked that the CBC be privatized. There is nothing they would like better than to silence the CBC.

When we moved to Canada 21 years ago, what appealed to us the most — by far — was the CBC. The American media, almost entirely controlled by the corporations, is keeping the American people in the dark in the critical areas of defence policy, and Central American policy, just to name two. The media there depend on the massive advertising handed out by the military and the multinationals, and there is a line over which they will not go.

How refreshing it is in Canada that the CBC does not have these restraints and can report independently of multinational interference or government interference. In spite of the strong efforts of the present Tory government to gag or dismantle the CBC, it remains the best independent voice in Canada. It will be a sad day in Canada if the CBC becomes a robot for big business. Next to go would be the fine independent newspapers such as The Glengarry News.

Fred Cappuccino,
Maxville.

Officials must listen to nurses' concerns

To the editor:

In regard to the Alberta nurses strike, it is my opinion that if hospital administrators, hospital boards of directors, legislators and the government would listen to the nurses' concerns, expressed over the past few years, nurses would not have to take such a drastic move to draw attention to the problems that exist in the health care profession today. Many changes to the workplace can be implemented readily and if we felt someone really listened when problems are addressed, and truly cared to improve working conditions, changes could be implemented at all levels to maintain a high standard of patient care. The withdrawal of nursing services during a strike would then, not likely occur.

Caterpillar spotted Jan. 25 on front yard

MARTINTOWN
Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

Yes, Virginia there was a Martintown news column submitted for last week's edition of The News; somehow it was lost in the shuffle. I regret any inconvenience this caused local organizations. Gone also with it were the names of the winners in the Martintown Goodtimers euchre, plus this past week's busy schedule of Martintown Public School, and a whole lot of other good stuff. While I'm at it I would also like to apologize to the Heart and Stroke Foundation for the previous week's column. I ran your story of the blood pressure clinic as my lead, and it was edited in the name of space. Finally to my friend Christy, I know the great Scots name is Robbie Burns not Bobby as appeared in The News. This piece passes through a lot of hands before it reaches yours. Rest assured with a name like MacDonald I'm well aware of that.

Caterpillar sighted

Is it a sure sign of spring or just an oddity? Mrs. Sterling Braman of Chapel Road reported that she saw a caterpillar on Jan. 25 in her front yard. Is it any wonder with all the crazy weather as of late? Mr. and Mrs. Braman recently visited with their son Fred and his family who reside in Lachine, Quebec.

On target

Thank you for surpassing the $1,500 target set in the Robbie Pratt Trust Fund. Robbie presently is being fitted for his custom-made wheelchair and I'm waiting to hear the final cost from the re-hab centre in Ottawa. The provincial government is funding 75 per cent of the cost and we will make up the balance, which should be in the $1,500 range. When I receive the final figures I will report the breakdown. Hopefully I'll have all the details soon.

Get well soon

Get well wishes go out this week to Stuart Buchan, who underwent surgery last week in Ottawa. Things went well and I hear he is on the road to recovery. Hope to see you out and about real soon.

MPS: A real busy place

Martintown Public School is a whirlwind of activities these days. Last week the grades 5-8 students spent two days in the Gatineaus at Ecole des Neiges. Activities included skating on a 22-mile lake, tubing down a slide, participating in winter projects, and going to a dance. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Barton and Mr. Atchison.

This past Monday, the grades 1-8 students travelled to Ottawa to take part in Winterlude. Then on Tuesday, it was back on the bus and off to Ottawa once again for the grades 7 and 8 class. They attended a Beethoven Concert at the National Arts Centre.

The next in a series of euchres sponsored by St. William's Parish will take place on Sunday, Feb. 21 at 8 p.m. Admission is $1.25 for a good time, good lunch, and good prizes. Everyone is welcome. The next regular bingo at the Martintown Community Centre will take place on Monday (Feb. 15) at 8 p.m. Everyone is welcome. There are lots of good banquet dates available; for more info, please call 528-4801 or 931-2069.

Don't forget!

This Sunday is Valentine's Day, so get out and buy a special something for that someone special.

Aquarians are entitled to be called sweethearts

GLEN NORMAN
Mary Lacelle
525-1372, 525-4998

For all relatives and friends who read this column, I am pleased to tell you that my mom is home from the hospital, and feeling much better.

During the past week several of the Davidson-Moore residents were down with the flu, including Muriel Moore.

* * *

We are sorry to hear that Donat Ouimet is in hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

* * *

Mary and André Lacelle had a nice visit from Louise Long on Sunday afternoon.

* * *

Visiting with Lionel and Marcella Dorie on Sunday were Lionel and Jacqueline King and their son Rene, of Ottawa.

Sweethearts of February

February, being heart month, entitles all Aquarians to be called "sweethearts" regardless of whether they were born on February 14 or not. Happy belated birthday to Gilles Poirier and best wishes to Donald Willard, Karen MacDonell and Mark Rickerd, all on Feb. 8; Josée Secours yesterday (Tues.); Ovila Sauvé, tomorrow (Thurs.); Joyce Castonguay on Saturday and Isidore Secours on Feb. 15. Today (Wed.) is my birthday. I haven't caught up to my sister Maggie yet but I have caught up to Jack Benny and hopefully will stay there as many years as he did.

Happy February anniversaries go to Dick and Doris Sauvé, Raoul and Adeline Cholette, Arthur and Georgette Willard, and Archie and Madeleine Willard.

Fred Christie of Monkland lent me a book called 'The Ontario Readers' first published in 1909 when it sold for the grand price of 6¢. There is a lovely little verse by Whittier, that relates very closely to the belief of the anti-abortion group, Pro-Life.

A dreay place would be this earth
Were there no little people in it,
The song of life would lose its mirth
Were there no children to begin it.

* * *

We are sorry to hear of the death of Noella Brunet, mother of Claire Lajoie and stepmother of Wayne Brunet.

May every life be filled with love on Valentine's Day and throughout the year.

* * *

I would personally like to thank The Glengarry News for publishing the wedding edition. These pictures make treasured souvenirs and are especially gratifying to genealogy researchers like myself.

Thank you, Maurice Seguin, for good mail delivery service.

Obituaries

Ray Almon Wert

Funeral services for Ray Almon Wert were held at the Brownlee Funeral Home in Finch, on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 26. Mr. Wert, who was in his 90th year, passed away in the Cornwall General Hospital on Jan. 23.

Born in Avonmore, he was the son of the late Allan Wert and his wife, the former Lydia Countryman. Mr. Wert spent most of his life in the Avonmore community. By trade he was a cheesemaker and he owned and operated his own factory for many years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Elva Montgomery, whom he married in 1959. He was predeceased by one brother, Frank.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. John Wiseman, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Avonmore, and Rev. Dr. Donald N. MacMillan.

Pallbearers were Douglas MacMillan, Earl Canham, Clarence Boyd, Arnold Mills, Jack Helmer and Leonard Helmer.

Spring interment will be in the family plot in Paul's Hill Cemetery, Avonmore.

John D. MacLean

A resident of the sixth Kenyon before moving to Alexandria, John D. MacLean died Feb. 3 in the Community Nursing Home here. He was 85.

Mr. MacLean was a son of Dan MacLean and his wife, Catherine Ann Kennedy of the sixth of Kenyon. He married Isabella Lacombe who survives with two sons and four daughters. They are: Donald Alex MacLean of Greely; Jack Maclean of Calgary; Christena, Mrs. Hubert Chisholm of St. Andrews West; Helen Ann, Mrs. Jack Blair of Winnipeg; Betty May, Mrs. Larry Romard of Ottawa and Hughena, Mrs. Bernard Sabourin of Greely.

Thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive, as do two sisters and one brother: Mrs. Isabell MacCormick of St. Andrews West; Mrs. Kay McDonald of Cornwall and Alex John MacLean of Markstay, Ont.

His two sons and four sons-in-law acted as pallbearers at the fuenral held Feb. 6 in St. Finnan's Cathedral. Interment will be in Greenfield in the spring.

Donald Angus Fletcher

Less than a month following the death of a brother, Gillivary H. Fletcher of Saginaw, Mich., Donald Angus Fletcher died Dec. 30 in St. Mary's Hospital, London, Ont. He was in his 93rd year.

Born at Greenfield and raised on the Fletcher farm at Dunvegan, Mr. Fletcher served in both the first and second world wars. A one-time member of the Air Force pipe band, he had been with the Glengarry pipe band in 1926, the London Police Band and the Masonic Kilwinning Lodge No. 64 London Pipe Band.

A son of Duncan Fletcher and Catherine MacGillivray he was the husband of Lena M. MacLeod who predeceased him in 1977. One daughter and three sons survive: Mrs. Harold Rolston (Donna) of Komoka; William D. Fletcher, Neil C. Fletcher and Harold E. Fletcher, all of London, Ont.

Six grandchildren also survive as do four brothers and one sister: Duncan of Toronto; John M. of Saginaw, Mich.; Roderick of Novi, Mich.; Norman of Oakville, and Mrs. Grace R. Hague of Royal Oak, Mich.

An accomplished piper and violin player, Donald always enjoyed coming to the Highland Games where he participated in the violin concert and in other events of the weekend.

The funeral service was held Jan. 2 at the Needham Funeral Home in London. Rev. Tudor Jones officiated and interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Gardens. A Masonic service was held in the funeral home and Duncan Bradley of Bowmanville played the pipes.

The pallbearers were: Warner Fletcher, Ron Fletcher, Jim Fletcher, Harold Rolston, Mark and Trevor Rolston.

John McDougall

Johnny McDougall died at St. Luc's Hospital, Montreal, January 2. He was born in Montreal and spent most of his lifetime in the Dorval area.

He is survived by his wife Lucille (Cardinal) one son Brian and one daughter Carole, Mrs. Michel Fournier and three grandchildren at Lake Forest, Que. John spent close to 20 years in the Dorval Police Department. Then he joined the firm of Dresser Pressure Tool Co. Branch in Dorval. In failing health the past few years, he had been on sick leave.

Johnny was the son of the late Donald Archie McDougall and Flora Christie (the Banker) McDonell. His stepmother was the former Kathleen Bathurst.

Johnny was the youngest of the first family. He is survived by Donald Alex McDougall, Kelowna, B.C.; Margaret, Mrs. Donald E. MacCulloch, Glen Roy; Leonard McDougall, Beaconsfield, Que.; Ronnie of Verdun and Peter of Maxville, Ont.

Mrs. John A. McDougall (Catherine) of Williamstown is an aunt.

A private funeral was held January 14 from Cardinal Funeral Home, Dorval, to his parish, Presentation of the Blessed Virgin, Dorval, followed by cremation.

Mrs. Margaret Poirier

A daughter of the late James McDonell, (Jimmy Quaker Ban) of Alexandria, Mrs. Louis Poirier of Brockville died Feb. 7 at Brockville Lodge. She was aged 80.

The daughter of James McDonell and his wife, Sarah MacCosham she was predeceased by her husband. Two sisters survive: Mrs. Gertrude Christina Lea and Sister Catherine Francis of the Religious Hospitallers of St. Joseph, both of Cornwall.

The funeral was held Feb. 9 from the Morris Funeral Home to St. Finnan's Cathedral where Msgr. D. B. McDougald officiated. Spring interment will be in St. Finnan's cemetery.

Mrs. Anne Marshall

A native of England who had resided in the Green Valley area prior to moving to Maxville Manor, Mrs. James Marshall died Feb. 7 at the Manor. She was aged 79.

She was born at Bishop Auckland, England, the daughter of Joseph Kelly and Mary Ellen Wishart. Her husband predeceased her and she leaves three daughters: Barbara, Mrs. James Good of St. Hubert, Que.; Catherine, Mrs. John Bryan of Laval, Que. and Deborah of L'Orignal. Five grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

The funeral was held Tuesday in the Morris Funeral Home where Rev. Pat MacDonald conducted the service. Spring interment will be in the United Church cemetery.

Amable Saucier

A former resident of Dalhousie Mills, Amable Saucier of Dorion, Que., died January 30. He was aged 74.

Mr. Saucier was a son of the late Joseph Saucier and his wife, Albertine Rozon.

He is survived by a sister, Thérèse Robertson of Dorion and two brothers: Donat of Alexandria and William of Rigaud.

A memorial service will be held at Dorion, Que.

Midwifery is an alternative

If you've been thinking about calling a midwife to help in the delivery of your children, you may be interested in finding out more about this age-old practice.

The Cornwall and District Chapter of the Midwifery Task Force will be holding an information session, Feb. 11 from 7-9 p.m. at 728 Marlborough Street in Cornwall.

Topics will include dealing with childbirth methods, the concept of midwifery as an alternative and the legal aspects of the practice. Midwifery is now in the throes of being legalized in Canada.

The task force also offers pre-natal classes.

New musical director

The Glengarry Pipe Band recently welcomed its new musical director Colin MacLellan of Maxville and has also elected a new executive.

Mr. MacLellan takes over from the retiring Pipe Major J.T. MacKenzie and will teach piping in the local high schools.

The new pipe band executives are: Past-president Walter Blaney, President Gwen Arkinstall, Vice President Ernie MacMillan, Secretary Pat Campbell, Treasurer Howard Pollock, Quarter Master Ross Graham and Band Manager David MacPherson.

Belated happy birthday to Gracia Lortie (Séguin) on Feb. 7. She is a teacher of Grade 7 students in Ste. Marie's school in Green Valley. Also to Emilie Turcotte (André) and Jean Léger, who both celebrate Feb. 15.

Get well wishes go to Adrienne Saucier of Green Valley, who is hospitalized at Glengarry Memorial Hospital, from the members of La Vie Montante.

Knights of Columbus

The Knights of Columbus #9435, held its meeting, Feb. 1.

Emile Viau presided and 20 members were present. A guest speaker versed members on tax planning.

Don't forget the communion breakfast to be held Sunday, March 13 in the Knights of Columbus hall in Alexandria.

The 400 club of Green Valley is holding a draw. Tickets are on sale now and you may call Lucien Bériault at 347-2930.

UCFO news

L'union Culturelle Franco-Ontarien (UCFO) held its meeting, Feb. 3. Mass was celebrated at 7:30, followed by the meeting which was attended by 23 members. Madeleine Germain of Cornwall was the invited guest and spoke about failures in life. Yvette Glaude, regional president, accompanied her. Mrs. Germain was presented with a handmade woven frame. A delicious lunch was served. The door prize went to Jacqueline Leger, a St. Valentine box of chocolates.

The public speaking course will end Feb. 17. Another course on stress will start March 9 at Ste. Marie's Parish in Green Valley, starting at 7:30 p.m. till 10 o'clock. The cost will be $20 and for more information call Denise Lortie at 525-1728.

The students of Glengarry District High School, along with Father Poirier, celebrated mass last Sunday at 11 a.m. What a pleasure for our teenagers to grow up with the love of God.

* * *

Gilles Touzin, director of "La Caravane" in Glen Roy will be in Green Valley on the weekend to talk about the work they do with handicapped persons.

Father Gerald Poirier of Green Valley, hosted the animators of his zone in a day of study last Wednesday (Feb. 3). Every year they meet at a different presbytery, so this year was Father Gerald's turn. They also enjoyed a nice dinner at the convent.

Aline and Bruno Lalonde just returned from a two-week trip to Acapulco. While there, they attended the Fiesta and Corrida shows. They also made a trip to visit the Aca-Tiki, a glass-bottomed boat. She said it was very impressive. Also they went across a plantation of bananas, pineapples and cocoanuts. She said the weather was unbelievable. Acapulco is not to be missed; the prices are good but she said she likes our style of living, in Canada, better.

Good luck Joahanne Cléroux (Beaupré) in your new position at ABS.

* * *

Also back from a two-week vacation in Acapulco are Richard and Ginette Viau, and Denis and Carole Lefebvre of Green Valley.

Rabbits plus

Mr. Winter of Maxville said in his last report, that they have lots of muskrats, but Mr. Winter, we have lots of rabbits. They have eaten all my shrubs, and so far, we've caught only one. Mothballs are supposed to keep them away and I'm prepared for the next batch! Be careful, though; mothballs are dangerous to small children who may think they are peppermints.

Daughters of Isabella members, don't forget the next meeting to be held Feb. 17 at the Knights of Columbus hall in Alexandria. A draw will also take place.

Expectant women or new mothers interested in breastfeeding are welcome to attend the monthly meeting of Ligue La Leche, next Tuesday (Feb. 16) at 8 p.m. The group will meet at Paulette Lefebvre's home in Green Valley. For more information, contact her at 525-2870, or France Desjardins at 528-4462.

* * *

Congratulations to Rachel Lortie of Green Valley , daughter of Gilles and Denise Lortie, who came in third place in a French literary essay contest. The subject was "Freedom". Bravo Rachel!

* * *

Belated birthday wishes to Manon Charbonneau (Vachon) on Christmas day. Gee! You're lucky Manon; from friends in Green Valley, we wish you the best of birthdays.

Peter Degen just arrived from Germany for a two-week vacation with his parents, Adolf and Ingrid Degen and family. Welcome home, Peter; there is no place like home for Christmas. Peter will be going back on Jan. 6 to further his studies. We wish you the best for 1988.

Condolences are extended to Isabel MacLean and family. John MacLean passed away, Feb. 3. John lived most of his life on the "little sixth" until his retirement from farming, at which time he moved to Alexandria.

Sincere sympathy to the family of Kenneth Urquhart; he died Feb. 3, at the age of 48.

* * *

Belated birthday greetings to Joanne Seguin who had an 11th birthday on Jan. 11. Hope you had a good one, Joanne.

Bowling

The DRA is holding a bowling night on Feb. 27, at the Alexandria Bowling Lanes. To reserve your spot on the alley, please phone Lynda Heinsma at 524-2299.

* * *

Sorry to hear Peggi Calder is still "under the weather." Here's hoping you're feeling better soon, Peggi. All the kids on your bus run miss you!

* * *

Birthday congratulations to Mrs. Joanna MacLean of Peter Street in Maxville. She will be 90 years old on Feb. 22. Joanna has friends in the Dunvegan area, being a former Dunveganite, and you will have the opportunity to relay your best wishes on Feb. 21, from 1:30-4:30 p.m. at her home. But best wishes only, please.

Local poet

While others were out skiing Saturday afternoon, Gary Geddes was in Ottawa taking part in Winterlyric, a poetry reading, along with other noted Ottawa Valley poets. But skiers, take heart. You can hear Prof. Geddes on radio Q101 on Sundays at 11 p.m. since all of the Winterlyric poets were taped.

Blue ribbon entries

Would you like to increase your likelihood of winning at fairs? One way might be to attend the Kenyon Agricultural Society workshop, Sat., Feb. 13 from 10:15 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Maxville Sports Complex. The $3 fee covers a morning session on foods, a hot lunch, an afternoon session on handicrafts, coffee throughout the day and door prizes. What a deal!

Father Theoret is back in the pulpit after absence

APPLE HILL
Nancy Marleau
527-3293

It was with great pleasure that we welcomed Father Theoret back to celebrate mass for us on the weekend. It has been three months since he has been with us and we pray he will keep well. While he was away we had many priests fill in for us, including Bishop Eugene LaRocque for two weekends, and for this we are most grateful. We thank them fondly and will remember them warmly in our prayers.

At the last euchre at St. Anthony's, there were 19 tables. It must have been quite a night because Mrs. Gloria Rolland had high score of 98 points! Ladies winners were Gloria Rolland, Catherine MacRae and Irene Losey. Mens winners were Sandy McRae, Dan MacRae and Cecil MacRae. A lot of MacRaes here!

The 50/50 draw winners were Florence Harkins, Gordie Van Putten, Leo Seguin, Johnnie MacMaster, Rita Seguin, Elsie Bourbonnais and Muriel McMillan. The door prize was won by Leo Seguin and the dinner-for-two at Mr. Poppins was won by Father S. Theoret.

I missed a birthday last week and I don't know how it happened. Little Mimi Leroux was a big three on Feb. 3. I hope you had a very happy day, Mimi!

* * *

The canvassers for the Heart and Stroke Foundation will be going around in the village soon.

At the senior citizens euchre on Jan. 26, there were 16 1/2 tables. Ladies winners were Rita Seguin, Gladys Barton and Isobel McPherson.

Mens winners were Clifford Pilon, Corrie Van Loon and Norman McLeod. The 50/50 draw winners were Angela McDonell, Gloria Rolland, Albert McDonald, Gladys Barton, Evangeline Campeau, Eileen Johnson and Omer Campeau. The door prize was won by Dan McRae.

Well, our carnival is this weekend and everyone is invited out to make it the best ever. The men's sponge puck tournament will be going on all day Saturday. Don't forget our Valentine's Dance, Saturday night. On Sunday, beginning at noon we have a lot to offer. Hayrides, bed races, games for kids, nail driving, log sawing, bale toss, kids hockey games, hot dogs or chili, coffee and hot chocolate.

Joan P. MacDonald is elected secretary-treasurer of St. Lawrence ag society

WILLIAMSTOWN
Sue Harrington
347-2279

A new era in the life of Joan P. MacDonald began Saturday night when she accepted the challenge as secretary-treasurer of the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society. Joan, who says she knows, "a lot of illustrious people have gone before in this position," has been active in the fair for many years. The former Dairy Princess contest organizer, judge, Highland Dancing competition worker, and general all around fair helper, acknowledges that her new position will be "a lot of responsibility" but says that she will do her "utmost" to continue the success of the Williamstown Fair.

And successful it was last year! Fair Board President Garnet MacDougall in his remarks to those attending the Society's annual dinner attributed this success to last season's good weather, good attendance, and the "hard work of the executive."

The dinner, held at St. Mary's Centre, was attended by some 51 members and guests.

Greetings were sent by MP Norman Warner and MPP John Cleary, while Reeve Morgan Major delivered his in person.

Outgoing Secretary-Treasurer John R. MacDonell was presented with a book in recognition of his two years of service to the board, while Ruth Mowat, whom he succeeded in the position, was given a silver tray for her 14 years of dedication to the Fair Board.

The 1988 Executive, in addition to President Garnet MacDougall, includes Randy Ross as first vice-president, Garry O'Connell as second vice and Ladies Division President, Amy Ward.

Honorary Directors include Wilfred MacNaughton, Francis Chretien, Oliver McGee and Ruth Mowat.

Directors are: Brian Greer, Garnet MacDougall, Randy Ross, Garry O'Connell, Amy Ward, Tony Vogel, Oakley Bush, Duncan McArthur, Ron Eamer, Doug Sova, John McIntosh and Ray Howes.

Associate Directors will be: Robert McDonell, Robina Scott, Al Ward, Mac Edwards, George Runions, Jay Woollven, Carolyn Laing, Tim MacDougall, Norma Peachy, George Alguire, Fred Klazinga, Larry Gordon, Marc Carriere, Clarence Robertson and John R. MacDonell.

Fair dates this year will be Aug. 5, 6 and 7, which, incidentally, do not collide with Vankleek Hill's, for the first time in many a moon.

Brush with catcher

I didn't expect to carry on about dogs any longer, but did you hear about Daisy's brush with the dog catcher? Animal control services have certainly improved recently and only Alex's rushing out of the store with, "Hey, that's my dog," managed to preserve Williamstown's four-corners fixture!

John Johston, who is a director of the Ontario Heritage Foundation, called to say that the reason the Bethune-Thompson House was being advertised, was that it "has to be" because it is a public building. So there. The board is trying to find a viable use for the building.

Activity at the Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum also continues, behind the scenes, during the winter months. Ceiling fans have recently been installed upstairs thanks to a Heritage Project grant from the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture.

And speaking of Heritage Week, the museum is sponsoring a poster contest which is open to students at Williamstown Public School. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winning entries.

Congratulations to Williamstown Public's Broomball teams, who distinguished themselves during recent tournament play in Maxville. The Junior Girls won the "A" crown, while their male counterparts brought home the "B." Goalgetters included Katharine MacLachlan, Shelley MacGillivary, Garry Benson, Josh Thomson, Marty McDonell and Shawn Fields.

Thanks to coaches Cheryl Lariviere and Sheila MacGillivary for leading the teams to victory. Also, special mention goes to young Sarah MacGillivary, who, while only in Grade 3, managed four shut-outs. Well done!

Coming events

Coming events read thicker and faster than a Sunday Times this week. To organize you and me too, I think I'll give you a chronological rundown.

Today (Feb. 10) the Glengarry Community Club Pot Luck lunch will begin at noon at the arena. There will also be a balloon launching at Williamstown Public School to mark the beginning of the 25th anniversary celebrations at the school. And at 7:30 p.m. the Recreation Master Plan Study public meeting will take place at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre. Tomorrow (Feb. 11) Rebels face a make-up game against Alexandria at the arena. Face-off is 8:15 p.m. "McDonald's Family Night." On Saturday (Feb. 13) at 7:45 p.m., it's "Coke Night" at the Rebels game against Gananoque. There are lots of prizes to be won. A community pancake breakfast will be held at St. Mary's centre Sunday (Feb. 14) at 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. At 8 p.m. at St. Mary's centre the Ladies Guild will hold its open euchre. And Monday (Feb. 15) Char-Lan High School will kick off its carnival pageant at 8 p.m. Don't miss the crowning of Miss Frost-Bite '88. On Feb. 18, the Friendly Neighbors soup luncheon can be enjoyed at noon at St. Mary's Centre. Creative Accents classes begin a new term. Phone 347-3404 for info. The Ladies Guild will visit the Villa for February's birthday party at 7 p.m.

Get well wishes to John Quail and Maymie Stewart, both of whom are hospitalized at the present time.

Birthday boys this week include Allan Alguire, Justin King, Jean-Norman Giroux, Bucky Ross and Dean Fraser. Have a great day!

We are proud to announce a newly-formed seniors club which has been appropriately named the Brown House Circle. The first get-together was attended by 42 people who braved a very cold but sunny afternoon last Wednesday (Feb. 3). Activities included a luncheon, entertainment by Rene Roy and Ted Sonne, and euchre and dart games. Winners of the euchre were as follows: Ladies first, Anne McDonald; second, Mae Levert; third, Mary McLeod; Men's first, Leo Clouthier; second, Bruce Sova and third, John Fraser. The two winners at darts were John Zsar and Gordon Ayers, taking frist and second prizes respectively. The Brown House Circle committee is made up of President Betty McDonald, Secretary Anna Margaret MacDonald, Treasurer Ambrose MacDonell, Vice-President Bertha Fraser, and directors Julie Lafleur, Vera Levert, Alex Chisholm, Angela Bourgeois, Rene Roy, Estelle Brazeau, and Beatrice MacDonald. The next meeting will take place March 2.

This week is white cane week. The week is devoted to informing the public about the unique needs and abilities of the blind and visually impaired. This year it introduces the slogan "Come see with me."

The Lancaster council 8715 of the Knights of Columbus will be having their monthly communion breakfast Feb. 21 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's Hall. The Knights hold these breakfasts on the third Sunday of the month to raise funds for needs within the community and surruounding areas. Members of this council would appreciate your kind support. Also coming up on Feb. 13 is their annual Valentine's dance so dig out your dancin' shoes and let's boogie on down.

Winter carnival

The parish centre will be holding a meeting on Monday (Feb. 15) at 7:30 p.m. in the upper room of the church. No doubt, they will be discussing the upcoming winter carnival to be held Feb. 26, 27 and 28. Carnival queen contestants are being sought, who are in grades 9 through 13. Eight ladies are needed and applications must be turned in to Father Tom Villeneuve no later than Feb. 14. The pageant will take place Feb. 26.

Saturday, various outdoor activities will be held from 1-4 p.m. with a teen and adult dance to follow at 8 p.m. A canteen will be open during all events and free hot chocolate will be available.

Sunday's schedule will include Walt Disney movies for the kids, from 2-4 p.m., followed by a bean supper in the parish centre. Weather permitting, we would like to see snow sculpturing done at individual homes.

Work will be judged on Sunday morning. Names must be sent in to Leo Clothier or Carl Rines before Feb. 25. Good luck and have a go in the snow.

The St. Columban's Joy of the Lord Prayer Group will be sponsoring a Growth in the Spirit seminar on the following dates in the parish centre: Feb. 22, 29 and March 7, 14 and 21 at 7:30 p.m. All are most welcome to attend.

* * *

Ed and Judy Allinott were in Cornwall, recently, where they attended the Bantam hockey tournament in which their son Travis took part.

Afterward, they visited with family and friends in Green Valley.

Angus and Margaret MacDonell departed Kingston for a few days to come down and visit family and had the opportunity to attend the Burns Night-MacCulloch Dancers celebrations, held in Maxville.

* * *

Get well wishes go out to Kay Blair currently in Hotel Dieu Hospital, Patrick Mulcahy in Cornwall General Hospital and Steve Nemes in Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

Although you're now under the weather, we'd like to see you up and around soon.

Hector André had an unfortunate incident last Saturday evening (Jan. 30) which I witnessed on my way to mass. Fire trucks were present and one fireman was perched on the roof, inspecting the chimney. To avoid an unpleasant incident such as this, I advise you to have your chimneys cleaned at least once a year. We offer our help, Hector, if there is anything we can do or if you are in need of anything.

From England

On an upbeat note, I would like to welcome Kathleen and Ken Mitchel and their family to our community. The Mitchels have bought our farm on Hwy. 34. They own a gas bar and store on old Hwy. 2 in Summerstown and have only been Canadians since May, 1987. Their birthplace is London, England.

Carnival fun

The MacCrimmons enjoyed themselves during the Dunvegan Winter Carnival festivities, Saturday. Harold, left, kept a close watch on daughter Sarah, skiing, while Rod seemed to have the most fun while being pulled in a sleigh by his mother, Janet.

VIA won't change schedule often

VIA Rail isn't likely to change train schedules as often as it has been doing in past years, the passenger train company's liaison representative said at a meeting of the Alexandria Save the Train committee.

Tony Kyffin, regional director for marketing and sales for VIA, told about 16 members of the committee at the Thursday, Jan. 28 meeting that it wasn't likely VIA would change scheduling along the Ottawa-Montreal corridor as frequently as in the past.

Committee spokesperson Julie Sobol noted that Mr. Kyffin "assured us (the committee) that they probably wouldn't be doing this anymore," Mrs. Sobol said. "He said he would be in touch with us before any changes were made."

Several people present at the meeting questioned the inconsistent scheduling of VIA, which makes it difficult for commuters and other users of the train.

Other concerns stemmed from the inability of lower-income people to use the train, to VIA's lack of aggressive advertising to attract riders.

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria also attended the meeting and was concerned with egress from the train.

He noted that when trains stop at small stations, usually only one door remains open out of several cars, creating hazardous situations.

The committee also discussed, and were generally pleased with, work completed on the Alexandria train station, which is undergoing roof repairs and renovations; a $32,000 project.

Grant announced

Don Boudria, Member of Parliament for Glengarry-Prescott-Russell announced Jan. 18 that a $40,820 grant has been awarded to "Le Centre des Jeunes" under the Job Development Program.

The grant will allow the creation of three positions for 156 work weeks.

Mr. Boudria said: "I hope that the Minister responsible for Employment will increase the amounts allotted under this program, so that other worthwhile projects in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell can receive similar grants."

Fire

Neighbor Helen Baker began to remove articles from her home when the fire reached its peak.

"We presume the fire started in a woodstove insert into the fireplace. When we first got on the scene, that's where we could see the flames," said Mr. Sabourin.

A damage estimate is not yet available. The Leroux family is staying with Mr. Leroux's parents near Monkland.

The Leroux's home was the long-time residence of three generations of the McEwen family; Mr. and Mrs. P. F. McEwen (Peter Black John,) Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McEwen (Ernie Peter) and their daughter, Miss Edna.

Bad luck runs in threes; third home in a week burns

MAXVILLE
Gordon Winter
527-2888

It came in three's. A Maxville family, Gerry and Barbara Leroux, David and Chris, lost their home and contents by fire last Wednesday evening. This was the third house fire in the community in about one week.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John McBain of Battleford, Sask., visited Mr. McBain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy McBain at Maxville Manor, and other relatives, recently. John's mother is currently experiencing poor health.

Joan and Richard Burton have returned from a Florida vacation.

Ruby MacGregor, proprietor of Ruby's Country Store, was in Toronto, Brantford and Paris recently. This was a combined business and family visting trip.

Maxville lost a good friend with the death of Kenny Urquhart last week. We extend sympathy to his sister and brothers, and thank Grace and Ovila Doth for being such good neighbors.

The cardinal population has increased by one female. Leonard Hill is the lucky fellow who has been able to attract the three birds to his back yard feeders.

A mourning dove made its first appearance at our feeder on Groundhog Day. It is one bird that appreciates cracked corn, spread on the ground or low table.

Terry Conners, with exams over, visited her sister Cathy, a student at Ryerson College, last week. Then, last Friday, the entire family attended David's graduation from the University of Guelph. We extend best wishes to David for his future and congratulations for his academic achievements.

* * *

June and Herb Lovesey from Ompah were in town last Monday. Many friends were pleased to have them back for the day but the prime reason for the visit was Mrs. Lovesey's attendance at a meeting of the Seniors' Outreach Service Committee at the Manor. She is the co-ordinator for the Home Support Program in North Frontenac and shared her experience and dedication with the members of the Manor committee. Mrs. Lovesey's program in the north half of Frontenac County flourishes and it is planned that the one in our area may be as effective for our seniors in Roxborough, Kenyon and Maxville.

Lorna Winter visited Bill and Colleen Blair and Ian in Windsor last weekend.

One day last week, Mrs. O. F. Villeneuve visited in Ottawa with former Maxville residents Anna Usher and Jean Paul, better known as the Tracey Twins.

Two families formerly of Maxville were mentioned in other publications last week. The Harrison Wrights, who used to live on the Sixth Concession of Kenyon experienced a good deed when Mr. Wright suffered a weak spell. The family was written up in Brown's Beat in the Ottawa Citizen.

Then Ivan and Jeanie Coleman, Peter, Scott and Christopher from Wilmot, P.E.I., were named in an article in Maclean's magazine, entitled Profits of Enthusiasm. Ivan was an Olympic torch bearer and involved his whole family in his part of the run. He is the son of Edythe and John Coleman.

Manor euchre

It is official. The Manor euchres are starting again on March 2. This means that the competition for the Euchre King and Queen will be starting over again, with last year's royalty only a record to remember. So if it is possible to play any more, get practising, euchre players and others who wish to become players.

* * *

The Christian Education Committee of Maxville United Church sponsored a most successful social evening in the church hall on Jan. 30. A pot luck supper preceded an evening of games, which varied from the old favorite, crokinole, to new ones, such as Pictionary which became a favorite. About 30 people enjoyed this evening of fellowship.

* * *

Forty years ago Carmen Rowe, now living in Ingleside bought the Robert McKay farm. The farm is now owned by Dora and Werner Bill who had a lovely, large brick home moved westward across the fields to where it now sits, to become their new home.

Pancake supper

The men of Maxville United Church are sponsoring a pancake supper on Tuesday (Feb. 16) in the church hall from 5-7:30 p.m.

* * *

The last three winners of the Lions Club 50-50 draw were Eileen Scott, Keith Jack and Evelyn Towers of Ottawa. The prizes ranged from $87-$90.

* * *

The Maxville Lions Club sponsored the January birthday party at Maxville Manor, Jan. 28. Residents were treated to some great entertainment by Bruce Golden and the Singing Farmers. Those celebrating were presented with gifts by several members of the Lions Club. The emcee for the evening was Bill Wright who led the club members in a special birthday song to our residents. A lovely lunch topped off with cake and juice was served. Thanks to all members of the Lions Club for a great party!

Exhibitors' workshop

The Ladies' Division of the Kenyon Agricultural Society is sponsoring an exhibitors' workshop on Saturday (Feb. 13) at the Maxville Sports Complex from 10:15 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The objective of this workshop is to instruct those in attendance on how to prepare their exhibits more effectively.

In the morning, the subject will be foods and in the afternoon, it will be crafts.

The registration fee is $3 and it will include a hot lunch and coffee. Door prizes will also be awarded.

Prospective exhibitors are especially encouraged to attend this workshop, but regular ones are also very welcome.

Baking at the Manor

Maxville Manor has a very active baking group made up of ladies and gentlemen! The ladies bake on Mondays and the men take over on Wednesdays. Both groups provide us with many delicious goodies that everyone enjoys on Fridays at our coffee shop. Many volunteers are involved to assist with choice of recipe, measurement of ingredients and to lead the group. We would like to pay tribute to these volunteers:

Myrtle McDermid and Vivian Valley of Moose Creek; Agnes Campbell, Audrey McIntosh, Ruth McIntosh, Dolly McConnell and Alice Richer of Maxville; and Jean MacMillan, Darleen MacMillan, Alice Ferguson, Donalda MacRae and Chris Ruzzi of Avonmore.

These ladies usually come to bake with our lady residents once a month.

We would like to pay special tribute to two volunteers who have accepted the challenge of baking with the men on a weekly basis: Jim and Betty Gamble. Although this is a group that is serious about baking the members seem to laugh a lot at the same time!

Gordon Church annual meeting to be held

ST. ELMO
W MacKinnon
527-2348

We express our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Leroux and family of Maxville in the loss of their home by fire on Wednesday evening last week. The fire departments of Maxville, Moose Creek and Apple Hill are to be commended for their successful effort in preventing the fire from spreading to nearby homes. Our thanks to all the volunteer firemen for their good work.

* * *

The annual meeting of the Congregation of Gordon Church, St. Elmo, will be held on Friday (Feb. 12) at 8 p.m. at Maxville Manor.

On a recent weekend Cameron MacGregor of St. Elmo west, had with him his son, Douglas, daughters Betty Tabram and Joan Wilson and Joan's husband, Bob, all of Ottawa.

* * *

Elsie McKinnon of St. Elmo east, was in Toronto for a few days last week for a visit with her brother, Lloyd Campbell and sister-in-law Mary Campbell. While in Toronto, she attended the wedding of her nephew John, son of Lloyd and Mary Campbell.

Cadets needed

Glengarry may soon be home to a second air cadet squadron.

Organizers in the Lancaster-Bainsville area are hoping there's enough interest to attract at least 50 members to form a new squadron.

"We want to give the boys and girls an opportunity to learn about flying and aviation. It will be a learning experience for the cadets, who may want to have a career in the Air Force later, "says Bob Hollister, a co-organizer of the new squadron.

Glengarry's only air cadet squadron at present is the Royal Canadian Air Cadets No. 379 Glengarry Mustangs Squadron, which meets weekly at GDHS-ESRG for training sessions.

"If there's enough interest within the next few weeks, the squadron should take off in the spring," said Denis Nacreto, secretary-treasurer at the Claude Nunney Memorial Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion in Lancaster.

"We need at least 50 members for the Department of National Defence to grant us a charter and issue uniforms. If we don't get the required number of members by spring, we'll keep working on membership and try to be ready by next fall," he added.

Mr. Nacreto says the Lancaster Legion will sponsor the squadron; it would provide financial aid and help in the construction of offices in the building's basement. Mr. Nacreto says a federal grant may be obtained to help offset costs.

About 20 youngsters, age 13 to 17, have already registered. Further information can be obtained by contacting Barry Franklin at 938-5463 or Bob Hollister at 933-4327.

The executive of the newly formed Brown House Circle held its first monthly meeting in St. Raphael's, last Wednesday (Feb. 3). In the front row from the left are Anna Margaret MacDonald, secretary; Betty MacDonald, president; Ambrose MacDonell, treasurer and Bertha Fraser, director. In the rear are directors Alex Chisholm, Beatrice MacDonald, Julie Lafleur, Rene Roy and Angela Bourgeois. Missing from the photo are Directors Vera Levert and Estelle Brazeau.

Codolences are extended to the family of John D. McLean, who passed away last week. He was formerly a resident of the Sixth Concession of Kenyon. Condolences also go to the family of the late Hugh Allan (Danny Alex) McDonald of Detroit, formerly of Greenfield. He was a brother of the late Flora McDonald and the late Jane McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Dallas, village residents, have moved to Cornwall. They will be missed in the community.

* * *

It must have been a bad week for falls! Flora McDonald and Ann Hall are supporting foot casts and Kathy Wensink, an arm cast. All are wished speedy recoveries.

* * *

An enjoyable party was held on Saturday night for David Wensink and Jackie Lafave, who will be married on February 26. Congratulations.

Lancaster residents can choose Valentine's Day dances

LANCASTER
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

Well, hello again. If you are feeling especially loving toward your better half this weekend, you could go to two dances, both being held Saturday (Feb. 13) in Lancaster. The Lancaster Legion Branch 544 is holding theirs in the new hall and most proceeds go toward a Cornwall palliative care unit; the Knights of Columbus No. 8715-Lancaster dance is at St. Joseph Hall and as usual, proceeds are used to help out in the area. Both events are for good causes and begin at 9 p.m.

* * *

February is Heart and Stroke Month and Georgina Mitchell called to give the names of persons canvassing in the Curry Hill-Bainsville area. They are: Earl MacGregor, Sonny Petrie, Flo Sangster, Pierrette Gauthier, Anne MacLean, Heidi Oeggerli, Janette Abbey, Janet Robertson, Charles MacDonald, Robert Glaude, Don Prowse, Lorna Everson, Rosemary Danaher and John Allan Mitchell. Their help is appreciated by the Heart and Stroke Foundation so why don't we show our thanks by giving generously and welcoming these folk when they come to call.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Women President Annabelle MacNaughton called to remind members of their 8 p.m. meeting on Feb. 17 in the South Lancaster church hall. Your correspondent will attend and give a tole and decorative painting demonstration.

* * *

Michel Bourdeau of the Knights of Columbus No. 8715-Lancaster asked me to remind everyone of the Communion Breakfast being held on Sunday, Feb. 21 beginning at 8:30 a.m.

* * *

Sheila Lafave of the Lancaster Public School called to say, although no rash is showing there are definite signs of Olympic Fever in the school. Grades 1-8 are involved in learning programs concerning the Olympics. A Winter Games Day with an Olympic theme will be held on Feb. 18 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the public is invited to attend. Teams representing countries from the Olympic games have been formed and each team is busy designing an original mascot. The Royal Bank has supplied ribbons and crests to all the students and a representative from the bank will be in attendance to present the prizes the day of the games. The students are busy in other areas also. At a broomball tournament held in Maxville Feb. 2 and 3, the senior girls were the "A" champs; the senior boys were the "B" champs; the junior boys were the "A" champs and the junior girls were the "A" finalists. The students were also involved in a reading program entitled, 'Partners in Excellence'.

Sponsors are obtained from the public for the amount of books read by each student and profits go to purchasing encyclopedias for the school.

Eric Urquhart of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 544-Lancaster called to let members know that the Branch will be hosting Roxborough branch in the afternoon of Feb. 27.

He also mentioned that Branch 544 has recently given generous donations to the Char-Lan Rebels Hockey team, Sea Cadets and Charlottenburgh Minor Hockey.

Cathy Fisher called to say that Lancaster Junior Curlers have started a new year of curling at the Lancaster Curling Club. Winners on Jan. 30 were the team skipped by Bernie Dirven and members John Fisher and James Noonan. Other winners were the team skipped by Keitha Fisher and members Wendy Woolven; Nicky Dirven and Jared Roencliff.

* * *

Jean Jodouin called to report on the Sixth annual South Lancaster Fish and Game Club Bonspiel, held Jan. 30 at the Lancaster Curling Club. "A" winners were the team skipped by Manson Cameron and members Marg Reasbeck, Kendra MacIntosh and Eileen Pruner. "B" winners were the team skipped by Don Snyder and members Bob Blanchard, Marilyn O'Connor and George Johann. "A" runners-up were the team skipped by Ernie Fox and members Larry Lebrun, Eric Reasbeck and John Pruner. "B" runners-up were the team skipped by Ian MacIntosh and members Brenda Gilmore, Len Roberts and John Reasbeck. Prizes were also awarded to third place "A" and "B" runners-up. A supper was enjoyed by all after this event.

WI news

Joyce Lalonde wrote to report that the St. Lawrence WI met in Knox United Church hall for its February meeting. Beatrice Labelle won for the best handmade valentine. Helen Chisholm commented on the motto 'Love your neighbor'. Reports were given on various items read by members. Donations by the group were made to Mount Carmel House and for a special prize for the next Williamstown Fair. Congratulations were extended to Dorothy Sharpe who has been accepted as a member of the ladies division of the Williamstown Fair Board. Joyce Lalonde won the special prize donated by Henrietta Wettering. The next meeting will be held April 4 at noon in Knox church hall. This will be a pot luck dinner.

UCW news

Joyce Lalonde also wrote to report on the February meeting of the Knox UCW. World Day of Prayer service is to be held Friday, March 4 at 8 p.m. in the St. Lawrence Parish Church in Curry Hill. The theme is 'Open Doors'. A visit to Chateau Gardens is planned for Saturday (Feb. 13) at 1 p.m. at which time Valentine cards made under the direction of Diana Wakeley will be delivered. A soup supper is to be held Ash Wednesday, Feb. 17 at 6 p.m. A church service will follow at 7:30 p.m. Donations were to be sent to Camp Kagama and Rideau Hill, both operated by the United Church in Canada. A special meeting is to be held today (Wed.) at 8 p.m. to plan for Holy Week Monday service, March 28, when the moderator of the United Church of Canada, Dr. Anne Squire, will be guest speaker.

Jolly 50's

The Lancaster Jolly 50's Club recently held its meeting in Smithsfield Hall. Next open euchre will be Monday (Feb. 15) and the birthday euchre is Tuesday (Feb. 16). A guest speaker will attend the March 8 meeting with an address on 'Aging and sensory problems'. A constitution revision regarding membership states membership fees will only be accepted at regular meetings and the member must be in attendance. The club meets every Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. in Smithsfield Hall and all are welcome.

A belated birthday wish to Louella Montroy of South Lancaster. She celebrated on Feb. 6.

Shelley Bray called with the Lancaster Dart League results for the week of Feb. 3. High mens single and high mens finish were both won by Bob Donohoe. High ladies single was taken by Helen Terrance and high ladies finish starred Olive McCreary.

Bill Blackadder announced that the Lancaster Legion Darts League won in competition in Hawkesbury recently and will now move on to the next round.

Marina will be open as usual

Gray's Creek Marina will be open as usual this year following a change in management.

The Raisin Region Conservation Authority has terminated its operating agreement with Gray's Creek Marina Reg'd. The 1988 operations will be undertaken by Authority staff.

At the January meeting, the Authority's Board of Directors reviewed several different options for the management of the marina and decided once again to take over the operation of this facility. The 100 slip marina will be open from May 14th until Oct. 15th and provide such services as gas, oil, fishing tackle, bait, and other sundry items. Supervision will be provided on a 24-hour basis from May 30th to Oct. 1st.

Previous slip lessees will be contacted in the near future in order to provide them with an opportunity to reserve their spaces for the 1988 boating season.

The Raisin Region Conservation Authority will once again provide marina services to the public.

Ball club's fun day well attended

NORTH LANCASTER
Diane Roy
347-3553

A Fun Day, held Saturday (Feb. 6), was organized at Ecole Ste-Thérèse by the girls baseball team of Glen Nevis. Outdoor games, relays and tug of war saw friendly competition and lots of laughs. A clown (Brian Scofield) was busy painting faces and creating creatures out of balloons, to the delight of the children. The arrival of Bonhomme Carnival was a surprise to all. Co-ordinators of the event, Kathy MacDonald Smith, Theresa O'Shea, Peter McLeod, Rob Lancaster, Findlay McLeod, Randy McDonell, Leighton McDonell and Ian McDonell (to name a few) are thankful to Jean-Pierre Bourdeau, principal of the school for the use of the gym and to all volunteers and participants for making a cold February day seem not so cold. Based on the success of this trial run, it is hoped that next year the Fun Day will be expanded.

Coming winter carnival

Our Optimist Club, and Ste.-Thérèse school staff and students are hoping for winter to stay on, as they are preparing for carnival days to be held from Feb. 18-21. Activity details will appear in next week's issue.

On Sunday (Feb. 14) St. Margaret of Scotland parish families of the fourth and fifth concessions welcome all area card players to their euchre party starting at 8 p.m. at Ste.-Thérèse school in North Lancaster.

Get well wishes are extended to our Township Reeve Bernie McDonell, who underwent surgery over a week ago and who is now convalescing at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall.

A speedy recovery also to Linda Campeau who recently suffered a foot injury on icy grounds.

Berthe Sauvé enjoyed her first airplane ride in a direct flight from Mirabel to the Dominican Republic, from where she returned last week. Mrs. Sauvé spent eight days visiting the island along with her sister Mrs. Claire Leduc and her two nieces from Ile Perrot, Que.

* * *

André and Fleurette Théorêt, accompanied by Cornwall friends, enjoyed a Winterlude weekend in Ottawa. While the men skated on the Rideau Canal, the ladies did a lot of walking and admiring of the original ice sculptures.

Several birthdays

How special to have a birthday in this month of the heart! Many happy returns to Denis Vaillancourt of Timmins, as we welcome him into his 40s on Feb. 9.

Carol Maloney of Glen Nevis called to say her grandson, Adam Hosie of Lancaster, would be one year old today (Wed.). Birthday happiness to the following close valentines: Betty Glaude on Friday (Feb. 12), Gisèle Giroux Besner and son Jean-François Besner on Monday (Feb. 15) and Ryan Macaulay who turns nine years old next Monday (Feb. 22).

Encounter the outdoors

A 4-H meeting was held Monday evening (Feb. 8) at Lancaster Public School to present the season's 4-H project: Encounter the outdoors. Some highlights of the program will involve making a fire and outdoor cooking, camping tips, nature photography and many other nature related activities. Interested youths age 12-21 are welcome to join the 4-H group project and the sessions will start within the next few weeks. You may contact Susan David at 347-7182 or Sue Robertson at 347-2935.

Say it

On this Valentine's weekend, show your loved ones you care by a thoughtful gesture or by a simple, "I love you." Happy St. Valentine's to all!

Glens split pair still tied for top

Seguin scores six against Brockville

By Janet Clermont
Staff Writer

The Alexandria Junior B Glens split two games last week, losing 7-3 to Cardinal-Spencerville at the Glengarry Sorts Palace, Friday and defeating Brockville, 14-4, on the road Wednesday night.

The Broncos snapped the Glens four-game winning streak. Alexandria is still fighting for first place with the Char-Lan Rebels in the St. Lawrence Hockey League standings.

The Broncos took an early 2-0 lead in the first frame, then fired three consecutive goals in the second stanza to jump ahead of the Glens, 5-1. The Glens kept pace with the visitors in the final period, with both teams scoring two goals.

Glens Coach Peter DeRooy said his squad may have been overconfident going into Friday's game.

"Wednesday's game had an affect on the boys. They were doing a lot of individual work and not playing together as a team."

Brent Murray fired a hat trick to spark the Broncos win. Kevin Hart chipped in with a pair, while Denis Pyke and Darrin Wilson added singles.

Scoring for the Glens were John Dullaghan, Andy Meth and Andrew McCormick.

The Glens swept past the Brockville Tikis with Leonard Seguin firing six goals, leading the Glens to victory. Seguin broke a Junior B record, scoring three goals in the first 31 seconds of the contest.

The Glens jumped ahead in the first period with a 9-3 advantage. The Tikis didn't score in the second stanza, while the Glens fired a pair.

Andy Meth and Glen Campbell scored a pair of goals each for the Glens. Single markers went to Luc Decoeur, Lyle Schell, Ron Collier and Denis Levac. Andy McCormick chipped in with five assists, while John Dullaghan and Leonard Seguin had three each. Glen Campbell and Mike Sauvé picked up one assist each.

Single markers for the Tikis went to Fabian Calley, Warren Moore, Bert Hoyman and Todd Brayton.

"We were hoping for a closer game, but it is always nice to win by that margin," said DeRooy.

Glens notes: Alexandria travels to play the Char-Lan Rebels at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, Thursday, at 8:15 p.m.

The Glens host the Winchester Hawks Sunday, at 7:15 p.m.

Defenceman Greg Barton-Hill was suspended for one game after fighting during Wednesday's contest.

Mario Gauthier is still out of the lineup after injuring his leg in the previous weekend's game against Char-Lan.

Eric Danis should be playing again within a few weeks. Danis injured his shoulder during a game against Morrisburg, Jan. 22.

Senior boys A champs

McLeod scores twice to spark Glen Nevis

Johnny McLeod fired a pair of goals to lift Glen Nevis to a 4-3 victory over Laggan in a Border Hockey League game at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Sunday.

Darryl Hay scored the game opener for Glen Nevis in the first period which ended in a 1-0 advantage. Both teams kept pace in the second stanza, each scoring three consecutive goals.

John MacSweyn tallied a single for Glen Nevis, while Steve Stewart picked up three assists. Morris McCormick and Randy McDonell chipped in with one assist each.

Scoring singles for Laggan were Marty MacDonald, Dwayne Spink and Eddy Dewitt. Assists went to Scott Campbell and Norman Sauvé.

The following game left Lancaster and St. Raphael's in a 5-5 draw.

St. Raphael's came on strong in the first stanza scoring four goals while Lancaster fired two. Lancaster added another pair in the second period and one in the final. Frank St. Pierre fired St. Raphael's last goal in the second stanza.

Carter MacDonald chipped in with a pair for St. Raphael's, while Luc Sabourin tallied a single. Assists went to Al Giroux, Carter MacDonald, Frank St. Pierre, Stephane Landriault and Luc Sabourin.

Dan Briere fired a hat trick for the Lancaster team, while Brian Ward and Tim McDougall tallied singles. Glen McKay, Mike Lapensee and Brian Ward picked up assists.

And Laggan ousted Lancaster 11-4 at the Glengarry Sports Palce, Thursday night.

Keith Rigby led in scoring for Laggan with three goals. Double markers were Scott Campbell, Dwayne Spink, and Donnie MacDonell. Gordon Howes and Eddy Dewitt tallied singles.

Glen McKay fired a pair for the Lancaster team while Brian Ward and Glen McLennan added singles. Assists went to Dan Briere, Donald Wightman and Glen McLennan.

Carter MacDonald fired a hat trick, lifting St. Raphael's to a 7-4 victory over Maxville.

Junior girls B champs

FROM THE SIDELINES

Peter Conway

Call it "Dud" Bowl

Say anything you want about the Super Bowl but it still should be call the "Dud" Bowl.

Every year I look forward to sitting in my Archie Bunker chair, sipping a couple of beers and watching the greatest sports spectacle. But so much for America's greatest sports spectacle.

Well, it's hyped up to be an enormous extravaganza and the winning team has the distinction of being "World Champions."

It's too bad millions of people are disappointed each year because the Super Bowl never materializes into what is expected.

I have watched every Super Bowl and as much as I enjoy football, I'll take the Grey Cup over the American championship any day.

People rip the Canadian Football League apart, but the majority of Grey Cups in recent years have produced an entertaining package. The same can't be said about the Super Bowl. Nearly every Super Bowl played has been lopsided and the outcome decided in the first half.

Last year it was the New York Giants who mauled Denver and the same happened this year as Washington humiliated the Broncos.

The Super Bowl is usually a huge disappointment because the media builds it up so much and the fans expect an exciting and entertaining contest.

Does there really have to be a two-week break between the conference championships and the Super Bowl? There's no reason why the Super Bowl can't be played the following week after its finalists have been determined.

Although the Canadian Football League has its financial woes, this year's Grey Cup was a treat for fans. The contest was a nail-biter and the outcome was in limbo until the dying seconds.

The Grey Cup may not have the half-time pageantry or pre-game hype like the Super Bowl, but I'll take our national gridiron championship from a fan's viewpoint any day.

A lot of people laugh at the CFL and its product, but I'll take the Grey Cup over its American counterpart.

The Super Bowl has become nothing more than a two-week party for the teams and their fans. The festive atmosphere usually spills on to the field and one of the teams suffer.

Unfortunately for Denver fans the past two years, the Super Bowl has been a nightmare. But Denver fans aren't that badly off.

The hype and hoopla start all over next January and they'll still be setting high expectations for their team once again.

Hill too big?

I'm not much of a skier, but I do know what my capabilities are on the slopes. And that's not saying much.

I wish I could say the same about Pierre Aubry. Pierre is a friend and a great guy. He can ski circles around me.

Pierre, however, is presently on the injury-reserve list. It seems he recently went skiing, or should I say, tried to conquer Mont Rigaud.

I'm told Mont Rigaud is a small hill compared to other ski resorts in the Eastern Townships or the New England area in the U.S.

Well, I guess Mont Rigaud is bigger than Pierre thinks it is. He was having a great time during one of his runs down the hill and was teasing some friends he had left behind.

A few moments later, the friends swooshed past as Pierre, for some inexplicable reason, wiped out and suffered a knee injury in the process.

I had planned to ski at least once this winter in Rigaud, but after hearing of Pierre's experience, I've concluded it's too big a hill for me.

I think I'll stick to hockey, Pierre. It's a lot safer.

Atoms beat Cornwall

The Alexandria Caisse Populaire Atoms downed Stan's Royals 4-1 in Lower St. Lawrence Minor Hockey League action at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Sunday.

Alexandria scored the game opener in the first ten minutes of the contest. The squad outscored the Royals once again in the second period, which ended in a 3-1 advantage. Alexandria upped the score by one goal in the third.

Eric Decoste led in scoring for Alexandria with a pair of goals and one assist, followed by Alain Borris with a single and one assist. Joel Trottier also chipped in with a goal.

Eric Fontaine fired the lone goal for the Cornwall team with Evan Thompson assisting.

Rebels edge Kemptville, share top

by Janet Clermont
Staff Writer

The Char-Lan Rebels slipped past the Kemptville 73's 8-7 in overtime in St. Lawrence League hockey action, Sunday night.

Kevin Poapst scored the winning goal to keep the Rebels tied for first place with the Alexandria Junior B Glens in the league standings.

Rebel's Manager John Chafee said he was satisfied with the performance of his club.

"It was a fast, clean hockey game. There were only 15 penalties between the two teams, which is not bad for Junior B," he said.

Both squads kept pace in the first period, which ended in a 3-3 draw.

The Rebels fired four goals in the second stanza, taking a 7-6 lead over Kemptville after 40 minutes. The 73's tied the contest with eight minutes remaining, sending the game into overtime. Kevin Poapst was the hero, scoring on a breakaway with 18 seconds left in the overtime session, to give the Rebels the victory.

Mike Jodoin led the scoring attack with five goals for the Rebels. Herbie Seguin tallied a single while, Poapst picked up four assists.

Derick Byrd fired four goals for Kemptville, while Barry Murray, Ron Sloan and Jamie Ogilvie added singles.

Chafee said the Kemptville team had improved tremendously since the clubs met Jan. 17. The Rebels won that contest 5-1.

"It was a tougher game than we expected. They added some new players which seems to have made them a better team," he added.

Rebels Notes

"The Rebels tangle the Alexandria Glens at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

"Fans should turn out for this game since it is our last one with Alexandria before the playoffs and the race for first place is very tight."

The Rebels host Gananoque Saturday at 7:15 p.m.

Thursday's game is McDonalds Restaurant Night. A draw for free dinners will be held. Saturday night is Coke-a-cola night.

Heading up ice

The Alexandria Minor Hockey Girls squeezed past the Cornwall Novice team 1-0 during an exhibition game at the Bob Turner Arena in Cornwall, Jan. 29. Rachel Denner scored the winning goal unassisted for the Alexandria team. Cindy Laferriere recorded the shutout between the pipes.

Ottawa ousts Midgets

The Alexandria Midget Glens won two games and lost one at the Lions Club Tournament in Kemptville, on the weekend.

The Glens dumped Richmond, 12-3, in the opening game. Marc Sauvé led the scoring attack with four goals and two assists. Ken Robinson, Luc Francoeur and Stephane Nadeau chipped in with a pair each, while Daniel Levert and Pascal Joanette tallied singles. Martin Levert picked up two assists.

The Glens squeezed past Char-Lan, 4-3, in the following game.

Marc Sauvé led in scoring once again with a pair of goals. Stephane Landriault and Stephane Nadeau tallied singles.

East Ottawa ousted the Glens in the final game with a 9-4 score.

Single markers were Ken Robinson, André Sauvé, Marc Sauvé and Paul Vincent.

Marc Sauvé was named MVP of the three games.

Duval best defenceman

A Glengarrian was named most valuable defenceman after his team, the Cornwall Travelways, won the Cornwall Invitational Bantam AA Tournament, over the weekend.

Luc Duval, of Glen Robertson, along with six other Glengarrians participated in the tournament. The local members of the Cornwall team are Christian Bellefeuille, Dan Desjardins, Travis Giroux, Patrick Ravary, Patrick Carriere and Stephan Roman.

Senior girls B champs

The senior girls broomball team from Laggan Public School won the B championship at a tournament in Maxville, last week. Standing in the back row from the left are Coach Peter Steiche, Dawna MacDougall, Tracy Hambleton, Bonnie MacMillan, Carol MacLeod and Alison MacGillivray. Kneeling in the front row are Carolyn McIntosh, Nancy MacLeod, Brenda Noble, Brenda Taylor and Susi Jungen. Absent from the photo is Shirley MacLeod.

Paul's win

by Bruce Howells

Paul's downed Art Benton, 2-0, in a ladies sponge puck game, Feb. 3.

Sharon Jasper and Cathy Lunan fired a goal for Paul's with seven minutes left in the second period for a 1-0 lead. Three minutes later, Sylvie Menard slipped home Sharon Jasper's shot from the point, to up the score 2-0.

Mary-Ann Laframboise earned the shutout.

Tapis Richard and GTL played to a 3-3 draw in the following game.

Lori Trottier scored a hat trick for GTL forcing Tapis Richard to reply three times to maintain a one-point lead in the battle for first place in the league standings. Wendy Hay and Donna Clark picked up assists for GTL.

Louise St. Pierre set up Cathy Depratto for the first two Tapis Richard goals, then fired home Elaine Oetelaar's shot with less than four minutes left in the contest.

Gareau's Sunoco slipped past Torque with a 2-1 victory.

Julie Montpetit and Corky Robinson fired home passes from Debbie Robinson to clinch the victory.

Angels squeeze win in broomball

The Glengarry Angels squeezed past Tremblay Ford 3-2 in overtime during an SD&G No-Contact Broomball League game, Sunday.

Tremblay Pole Line jumped into an early lead, firing one goal in the first stanza. The Angels replied with two markers in the second period. Charlie Bray scored a goal for Tremblay Pole Line in the remaining two minutes, sending the contest into overtime.

Richard Leroux fired the winning goal for the Angels. Rejean Paquette and John Prieur rounded out the scoring for the winners. Assists were picked up by Gilles Massie, and Richard Quesnel.

Romeo Lacombe replied for Tremblay Pole Line, while Daniel Bourgois picked up two assists.

Guindon Tire slipped past Cashway with a 2-1 victory.

Dale Jarvo fired a pair in the first period for Guindon Tire. Roger Marsolais and Barry Benson assisted.

Cashway's Gilles Gregoire replied in the third stanza to narrow the loss. Noel Lalonde picked up the assist.

Marc's Canteen downed Sabourin Construction, 4-1, in the following game.

Roger Carriere opened the contest with two goals in the first stanza, lifting Marc's Canteen to an early 2-0 lead. The winners added another goal in the second period. Both teams tallied a single within the last six minutes of the game.

Also scoring for Marc's Canteen were Bob Quesnel and Gerry Carriere.

Robert Massie, assisted by Richard Delorme, scored the lone goal

Deaths

BETHUNE, Annie Clara — On Friday, Dec. 4th, 1987, at Grandview Lodge, Thunder Bay, age 101, widow of Sam Bethune, formerly of Ste. Anne de Prescott. Survived by son Don Bethune, London, Ontario. Predeceased by parents, Allan and Kate MacMillan, McCormick Rd., five brothers and four sisters, Angus Neil, Dan, Edith, Jay, Arthur, Gordon, Florrie and Grace. Funeral service was held at the Jenkens Funeral Home, Thunder Bay. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery, Thunder Bay. 6-1p

Cards of Thanks

DUBEAU — We wish to express our most sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, friends and neighbors for flowers, cards of sympathy, visits to the funeral parlor, masses and food sent to our homes during our recent bereavement in the loss of a loving mother and grandmother, Thérèse. Special thanks to everyone at Glengarry Memorial Hospital, Dr. G. Marleau, Munro and Morris Funeral Home, pallbearers, Rev. R. Desrosiers, organist and choir. Your caring and kindness will always be remembered.
—The family. 6-1p

McGILLIS — I would like to thank all the people who came to see me while I was in hospital; also those people who called to find out about my condition. A special thank you to my family members who showed so much interest and mercy. Thank you to doctors and nurses for their care. All this was very much appreciated.
—Gerald McGillis. 6-1p

SAUVÉ — We wish to thank everyone who attended our 25th wedding anniversary celebration held at the Bonnie Glen on Saturday, February 6, 1988. Special thanks to our children for organizing such a memorable evening. Once again, "thanks to all."
—Dick and Doris Sauvé,
Alexandria. 6-1c

FRASER — Ariane and I wish to express our very special thanks to Dr. Marleau and the Glengarry Memorial Hospital staff for their wonderful care. Also thank you to all who sent nice cards, flowers and gifts. A very special thank you to my wonderful mother for all the help while I was in the hospital.
—Sincerely, Denise. 6-1p

In Memoriam

PERIARD — In loving memory of a dearly beloved mother, mother-in-law and grandmother, Ella, who died so suddenly on Feb. 7, 1977.
No need for words except to say,
Still loved and missed in every way.
—Always remembered, Edna, Ernest, Jacqueline and Paulette Major. 6-1p

MENNIE — In loving memory of Sara (Feb. 12, 1984) and Ivan (December 1, 1970).
We cannot bring the old days back
When we were all together,
But memories of those happy days
Will live with us forever.
—Always remembered by the family. 6-1p

Johnny MacLean, soccer pioneer

by Angus H. McDonell

Despite severely cold weather, a large and representative crowd of relatives and friends attended the funeral of still another of the thinning line of old sportsmen ''Johnny Dan'' MacLean, last Saturday at St. Finnan's.

Johnny MacLean was a Greenfield pioneer pillar when the Glengarry Football Association (now soccer) was founded in 1924. He gave many years in the prime of his life, to furthering the interests of the game. After retiring, he continued to work for his fellow citizens by serving on Kenyon council, climbing from councillor to reeve.

Some 64 years ago when football clubs were being organized by Dunvegan's Alex Grant, who formed the Glengarry Association (now rated among the oldest in Canada along with the NHL, and Canadian football leagues) Greenfield was rated as merely an expansion club to complete the west division with Maxville and Dunvegan.

Greenfield was enthusiastically directed by two great sportsmen, Father Gauthier and Frank Lavogeur. They assembled a football team of average talent, a rollicking crew playing for enjoyment and friendly fraternizing with their opponents.

Johnny MacLean was among those pioneer players along with Johnny MacKinnon, Robbie and Augustine MacMillan, Allan (Archie John), Archie ''B.'', ''Suddie Scot,'' Allan H. W., all MacDonalds or MacDonells, plus Jack Brown and Dan MacCuaig, to mention a few in passing.

Among the many pleasant recollections of those long-gone evenings, we recall Danny Flaro slicing a dozen oranges at half time to quench the players thirst. Following a game, Donald Kippen played the pipes in front of Henry Villeneuve's store and then Mrs. Villeneuve beckoned the players to her dining table which was laden with sandwiches and pop. However, an alternative drink could be had by walking to the nearby dusky shadows of Donald Cuthbert's blacksmith shop where the popular character, ''Philias,'' would hand you, fresh from Dalhousie that afternoon, a cold Molson for half a buck.

Laggan's Gregor MacMaster refereed most of the games and about the only time he whistled a free kick was after the inevitable hand foul and rarely because of rough play; we all enjoyed playing for the fun in the game. Only a few of us remain; Maxville's Benny Villeneuve and Dunvegan-Skye's ''Little Willie'' MacLeod, who is quite chipper. But we regretted to learn that Laggan's Hall of Famer Willie MacNeil is not enjoying the best of health, however, Harry Franklin is like Old Man River; he just keeps rolling along.

Johnny MacLean, after retiring as a player in that golden era, continued to give much of his time coaching his home eleven. He was among those with Father Bernard Cameron, installing floodlights for the playing field. John was then a referee for quite some time.

Johnny MacLean then turned his talents to another form; municipal politics, which was even more taxing. His sage judgment of progressive matters that would better the township, resulted in his gradual move up the ladder from councillor to reeve. Those were the days of neither unemployment insurance nor welfare, but Johnny MacLean blended compassion with close scrutiny of taxpayers' dollars that earned him the respect and gratitude of his fellow citizens. What more need be added?

We will not say ''farewell,'' Johnny, just ''s'long,'' because some day we will all be together up there in the Valhalla of Sportsmen.

Claude Nunney wins

Char-Lan Claude Nunney Legion Novices tied one and won two this week against North-Glen-Stor in Lower St. Lawrence League action.

In the first of the several make-up games, it was Char-Lan 4, NGS, 1. Kent McDonell had two goals for Char-Lan, while Kevin O'Farrell and Tim Corput added one each.

Goalies Luc Lapierre and Gerry Goulet shared the shutout as Char-Lan blanked NGS 4-0. Tim Corput had a hat trick for Char-Lan, while Darryl Knight scored once.

In Sunday's 2-2 draw between the two teams, Kent McDonell scored twice for Char-Lan.

Peewees

Strong goaltending from Patrick Loyer helped Char-Lan Peewee Rebels to a 5-1 victory over North-Glen-Stor. Jamie Cooper scored twice for the Rebels, with Brian Deschamps, Richard Bazinet and David McDonald scoring singles.

The Char-Lan squad went on to drop Alexandria later in the week, by a score of 6-3. David McDonald and Richard Bazinet each had a pair of goals, with Dan Blacker and Jamie Cooper rounding out the scoring.

Bantams

In its only game of the week, the Char-Lan Rebel Bantams dropped North-Glen-Stor, 3-2, in a Lower St. Lawrence league match. Bob Bowles, Denis St. Jean and Robert Curran had the Char-Lan goals. Joshua Harrington played a solid game in the nets for the Rebels.

Auld Lang Syne

NINETY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 4, 1898

•Rev. D. R. Macdonald, who since his ordination to the priesthood, now nearly six years ago, has been assistant parish priest here, has been promoted by His Lordship Bishop Macdonell, to the charge of the parish of Crysler.

•At Saturday's meeting of village council, a number of residents were reported as having taken electric light, and it was decided that within a short time electric light will be given in the morning as well as at night.

•A disastrous fire occurred at Glen Robertson on Thursday night last, when the Dominion Hotel there, with contents, was burned to the ground. The six children who were in the house had barely time to escape with their night clothes.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 7, 1908

•Glengarry, on Saturday and Sunday, experienced the most violent snowstorm in many years. It started about three o'clock Saturday morning and raged for twenty-four hours, a stiff northeast gale drifting snow over tops of fences, blocking the roads and paralyzing railway trains.

•A. D. MacGillivray has added several fine roadsters to his string of horses. A pair of blacks has been purchased specially for hearse use.

•John Dan McDonald and Jos. Laferriere returned to their Glen Robertson homes this week, from Vankleek Hill, where they went some months ago to work in the lumber camps of J. R. McLaren and Co.

•On Wednesday morning about seven o'clock, the dwelling house of Dan D. McMillan, 37-4th Lochiel, Fassifern, was totally destroyed by fire.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 8, 1918

•Commencing on Wednesday next, the electric lights will be turned off nightly at 11 o'clock, excepting Saturday nights. This step was made imperative owing to the shortage of fuel.

•At the 23rd annual meeting of the Glengarry Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. held here on Tuesday, Wm. Irvine of Dalkeith, and W. J. McGregor of North Lancaster, the retiring directors, were re-appointed. Wm. Irvine was named president to succeed D. D. Macdonell.

•Trooper Donald McDougall, son of Mrs. J. J. McDougall, Green Valley, who has been in training at Winnipeg for several months, spent Wednesday at his home while en route overseas with the Strathcona Horse.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 3, 1928

•Announcement was made by the Graham Creamery Co. of Alexandria, of their intention to introduce pasteurized milk, cream and buttermilk for sale in town.

•Miss Rita Cameron left on Tuesday for Montreal, where she enters the General Hospital as nurse-in-training.

•At a meeting of Lochiel farmers, Wednesday, it was evident that those present favored the installation, at Lochiel, of an improved fanning machine to clean all cereals such as oats, barley, wheat, hay seed and clover seed. A committee, composed of P. Chisholm, J. W. MacRae, H. McCormick, Laughlin McDonald, John McLeod and R. J. MacLeod, was named to canvass and report later.

•Miss Nora McRae, who for some months filled the position of stenographer for Donald A. Macdonald, barrister, left on Saturday, to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McRae, in Ottawa.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 4, 1938

•Miss Kate McMillan (Deacon) of Laggan, today is celebrating her 100th birthday.

•J. W. MacRae of Lochiel, was re-elected president of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, at the annual meeting held in Toronto, Tuesday. Robert McKay of Maxville, was re-elected a director of the Ontario Field Crop and Seed Growers' Association.

•Jean Trottier, 6th Kenyon, has purchased the fruit and grocery store of I. Lariviere, Main Street, and will take possession February 15. Mr. Lariviere is returning to Foleyet, Ont.

•Miss Eileen McIntry of Apple Hill, left Wednesday to train as a nurse in Cornwall General Hospital.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 6, 1948

•Mrs. Albra Hebert, 61, of Lancaster, died in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, on Sunday, from injuries received January 18 when she was struck by a light truck as she walked on Highway 2. Her daughter, Rita, was not seriously injured.

•Mac MacRae of Williamstown, was elected president of the Glengarry Hog Producers' Association, at the annual meeting held last Thursday.

•Ernest Viau and his brother, Zepherin, of RR2 Alexandria, jumped to safety before their stalled car was struck by a speeding train at Lancaster, Tuesday.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, February 6, 1958

•Peter Bonneville, Lancaster area farmer, suffered heavy loss by fire Saturday night in the destruction of his barn with 21 milk cows.

•Bernard Lajoie of Green Valley, had a brush with death on the Seaway power project at Cornwall yesterday, when a cable on a hoist broke, a 500-lb. piece of metal dropped onto the cab of the truck, just grazing Lajoie who was standing beside the cab.

•E. H. Tourangeau has been appointed postmaster at St. Raphael's succeeding Miss Margaret Barry.

•Cattle owners of the United Counties favor a Brucellosis Control Area by at least 90 per cent. In Glengarry some 95 per cent are petitioning for the area.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, February 8, 1968

•Six were injured Saturday when a car rammed into the rear of an overturned 10-ton truck at the southern entrance of Alexandria. Driver of the truck, John Windsor, 23 and a passenger, Garfield Patterson, 24, both of Montreal, were treated at the Glengarry Memorial. Patterson was later transferred to Montreal. Driver of the car Edgar Valade, 29, Glendon McDonald, 23, Leo Valade, 23, all of St. Raphael's and Denise Campeau, 17, of Alexandria, were treated at the local hospital.

•Town council expressed its unanimous objection to the proposed formation of a United Counties school board.

•Arnold McRae, Lochiel, is the new chairman of the Glengarry Milk Marketing Board. Douglas Murray is vice-chairman and Bruce Sova, secretary-treasurer.

•Two full days of activities are planned for the Carnival in Alexandria. The Richelieu Club report encouraging response from townspeople with their ideas and support.

•Glengarry Pipe Band committee are considering a tour of Scotland in 1969.

TEN YEARS AGO
Wednesday, February 8, 1978

•Ginette Poirier will reign as queen over the Alexandria Winter Carnival. Johanne Parent and Louise Secours were chosen first and second princesses respectively.

•Monsignor James A. Wylie, well-known throughout the Diocese of Alexandria-Cornwall where he served as priest for more than half a century, died unexpectedly Saturday.

•The Glengarry Gardens (Maxville and District Community Centre) opened its doors to the public Friday afternoon, less than a year after the old Jubilee Arena closed.

•Cst. Ted Van Overbeek graduated from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Academy in Regina, Sask., on Jan. 23. He will be posted to Whitehorse Detachment in Newfoundland.

People can assist police in preventing crime

Crime prevention may not appeal to some people, but police are always looking for assistance to thwart criminals.

Constable Jim Stewart of the Maxville OPP, charged a 17-year-old youth for unlawfully entering a house in the Maxville area, Friday night.

A possible crime was prevented after a witness, who saw the youth enter the home, contacted Maxville OPP.

Phoning the police is always a good idea when someone wants to get involved in crime prevention, say OPP.

Surprisingly, many people hesitate to make the call out of fear of getting involved, or of being identified.

In some cases, people aren't sure who to phone if they witness a crime; but police can deal with the problem, or advise you of who can.

OPP remind everyone, they need to know as much as possible when they're dealing with actual or suspected criminal activity.

If a person provides information by telephone, he should leave his name and telephone number, in case more information is needed at a later date. The person's name will remain anonymous.

Given these prices, we're predicting a heat wave in February.

Winter doesn't have to be cold. Because Vermont Castings is making it easier than ever to own one of America's finest woodstoves. For instance, buy any in-stock Vigilant and get $150 off. Purchase any Resolute, Defiant, or Fireplace Insert and receive $100. Or get a $75 discount if you buy a Defiant Encore, the Intrepids, the Mariner or the Explorer.* But hurry. This is a limited time offer. Miss it, and it'll be months before things heat up like this again. All discounts in Canadian dollars.
