Robinson acquitted, 'surprised' crown considering appeal

Crown Attorney Guy Simard Thursday told The Glengarry News he was ''extremely surprised'' about the ''not guilty'' verdict delivered by the 12-member jury at 4:44 p.m. last Wednesday (Nov. 13). The jury deliberated for about 3¾ hours.

Robinson had been charged with the first-degree murder of Sheldon Larocque.

Simard, who would not divulge his reasons for contemplating the appeal, said it will be a couple of weeks before he knows whether the Attorney General's office will proceed.

The crown was seeking a conviction for second-degree murder, a lesser charge than the original of first-degree murder.

It was on Wednesday that Judge Jean Forget instructed the jury to consider the lesser charge of manslaughter, or a verdict of not guilty.

During a two-hour charge to jurors, Forget said that for a charge of second-degree murder to apply, the crown had to prove that Robinson did not knife Larocque in self-defence and that he intended to kill him or didn't care whether he killed him.

Forget said intent to kill was fundamental to the case, and advised members to consider Robinson's claim that he was acting against Larocque's sexual attack, the possibility that Robinson was provoked to stab Larocque, and that he was intoxicated when the event occurred.

He raised the fact that intoxication in itself is not a defence, however, jurors were asked to consider whether they believed Robinson was so drunk he was unable to form the intent to kill.

Citing samples of evidence heard throughout the 10-day trial, he advised the jury to remember the testimonies of several police officers regarding Robinson's state of intoxication, and the testimony of a forensic toxicologist who determined that the alcohol level in Robinson's blood could have been as high as 335 mgs. per 100 mls. of blood — more than four times the limit allowable for motor vehicle drivers — when he stabbed the victim.

He also asked the jury to consider that Robinson, though he claimed to be extremely intoxicated, remembered that he had left his bicycle at the bar and went back to pick it up just a few hours before Larocque's death.

And a defence of self-defence, a ''live issue'' in the case, must be considered, said Forget.

Self-defence is applicable when a person is assaulted without having provoked the attack, and uses force to repel the assault. The victim must believe there is no other way to stop the assault.

Forget said that if Robinson did not intend to kill Larocque, then the force used must be proportional to that of Larocque's; if he did intend to kill Larocque, then he must have believed that there was no other way to save himself from death or grievous bodily harm.

If the jury determined that Robinson used more force than Larocque, then a defence of self-defence would not be available, Forget said.

A person doesn't have time for calm deliberation in the face of an assault, Forget reminded jurors.

Forget also pointed out that witnesses perceive events differently from one another, and discrepancies within the testimonies of some witnesses should not mean a ruling out of any testimonies.

Provocation — in this case a sexual assault on Robinson by Larocque — so intense that it takes away a person's self control could reduce the charge to manslaughter, the jury was told. Members were also urged to remember that the ordinary level of temperment and self control may not have applied to Robinson because he was intoxicated.

Forget asked jurors to look into Robinson's mind at the moment he stabbed Larocque to assess what happened, taking into account his character, mental condition and intoxication.

Recession doubles need for Christmas aid

The Alexandria Lions Club is expecting to double the number of Christmas baskets they normally give out this year due to the effects of the recession on area families.

But project chairman Pierre Aubry is confident Alexandria residents will give despite the deepening recession.

''My impression is that a lot of people in the area who can afford to give will give a little more this year because it's part of the nature of the area,'' Aubry said.

''Neighbors help one another.''

The club has been involved in this project for more than 15 years. In the past three years they have delivered more than 100 baskets annually.

Lions Club members estimate about 150 baskets will be delivered in Alexandria alone because of many job losses in the past 18 months. The other 50 will be distributed outside the town.

''Canadian Tire money'' is being accepted at a box at the Candian Tire. The coupons will be used to purchase toys for children.

''Whatever we collect will determine how much we give,'' Aubry said.

Char-Lan vice-principal assaulted at game

By Andre Perrella
News* reporter

The Char-Lan Crusaders girl's basketball teams final home game Thursday, was marred when the school's vice-principal Carl Smith was attacked by a drunk and rowdy student.

The incident occurred at the basketball junior-senior basketball doubleheader at 3:30 p.m., Nov. 14.

Police said a student who was under the influence of alcohol was misbehaving. Smith asked him to leave the school, but the student reacted violently and assaulted Smith.

''I guess (Smith) ended up on the floor and was being tugged by his tie,'' said Staff Sgt. Jim McWade of the Ontario Provincial Police in Lancaster.

''During the course of the melee, (the student) kicked out two windows,'' he added.

A group of students separated the two and police were called to the scene.

He will appear in court in Alexandria tommorow, Nov. 21.

If convicted on all three charges, the cumulative maximum penalty he can receive is nine years. Assault carries a maximum of five years in jail, and the other two charges each carries a maximum of two years.

But McWade said a nine-year sentence is unlikely since all three charges arise from the same circumstances. He expects a much lighter sentence if Robertson is found guilty.

Incumbents blame 'anti-government' mood for changes

By Andre Perrella
News* reporter

Anger had a lot to do with why political war horses were trampled all over Glengarry during last week's municipal elections, says Kenyon councillor-elect and political scientist Blair Williams.

Except in Lancaster village and township where all of the council members were acclaimed, more than 55 per cent of all incumbents who sought re-election were kicked out.

And, except in Lancaster, more than 60 per cent of all town council's consist of new, fresh faces.

Williams, a professor who heads the political science graduate program at Concordia University in Montreal, said the message voters expressed in Glengarry is not unique to the county.

''I think there is a level of discontent right across the country with the quality of representatives people are getting,'' Williams said. ''And it's not the fault of any particular level of government.''

He said people tend to direct that anger by voting out incumbents. ''Incumbency is not as powerful as it used to be.''

Alexandria's incumbent Reeve John Cormier, who lost his seat to Bruno Massie, thinks he may have been a victim of this movement.

''It tells me people want to see change,'' he said shortly after the election results were announced. He said this is reinforced by the fact that only two incumbent council members were re-elected in Alexandria, Jacques Joly and Archie McDougall.

Incumbent Charolottenburgh Reeve Carol-Ann Ross, who was a councillor for three years before being elected to reeve in 1988, lost by a landslide to businessman Dave MacDonald.

''There is an anti-government movement across Ontario,'' said Ross, who received only 23 per cent of votes cast for reeve.

Ross said the candidates that won were saying what most people wanted to hear: no more taxes.

She said such a promise will be hard to keep.

''If you want to maintain present services, or even if you want to increase them, you can't lower taxes,'' she said.

People are no doubt fed up with paying taxes.

Municipal taxes went up from about 20 per cent in Kenyon over the past two years to as much as 64 per cent in Alexandria over the last five years.

Add to that increases in provincially and federally imposed taxes, especially the notorious federal Goods and Services Tax, and a revolt begins to brew against current leaders.

''People are wondering whether the quality of life has increased in proportion with their tax dollars,'' Williams said.

The recession doesn't help either.

''Maxville has been very stagnant in the past few years,'' said Maxville reeve-elect Jim MacEwen and businessman, and many people want to change that. So they changed their council.

But Williams said taxes and economic concerns are not the only reasons incumbents lost their seats. He said people want more influence over their council and by participating in political decision making they are doing that.

''There is a higher level of interest in getting involved, and in doing something political,'' he said.

If that can't be done, Williams said, then residents want some explanations as to how their tax dollars are being spent, especially when it comes to expensive projects such as roads maintenance.

''Our taxes have gone up... in the last few years and we got nothing,'' said Joseph Denis, a retired brewery worker who lives in Kenyon.

He voted for Williams, Owen Walker, Stewart Arkinstall, Donald Besner and Wilfred Vallance in Kenyon's election. None of them were incumbents, and all except Arkinstall won.

Denis was upset at the the previous council's tendency to make decisions without consulting residents. He wants more say in how his tax money is spent.

Recount in Alexandria?

Defeated by 30 votes, Harris requesting move to 'clear the air'

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

Harris, who lost the race for the final council seat to Roger Lemieux by just over 30 votes, said Monday that he has filed for a recount at the town municipal office.

He had originally believed recounts are automatic in a vote spread of 48 ballots or less. He has since learned a recount is automatic in races lost by 19 votes or less, but still plans to let his request stand.

Harris said he has been urged by a number of people to ask for a recount, because of possible irregularities in the ballotting process.

He is asking for the recount to ''clear the air'' and either confirm the rumors or dispel them altogether.

''I never even thought about it. It hadn't even occurred to me until I had people coming to the house and people knocking on the door and people phoning and meeting me on the street.''

''There's too many discrepancies,'' he said. ''Somebody did this wrong, somebody did that wrong, somebody shouldn't have been touching this and somebody shouldn't have been touching ballots.''

''I'm doing it more or less to clear the air. I'm pressured to do it and that's the main reason why I'm doing it.''

He added, he is not certain whether such complaints are valid or if they are just ''sour grapes'' on the part of some residents.

Clerk Leo Poirier confirmed that a request has been filed, but would not say who filed it. He said the request would have to be brought before council for a decision.

Council met last night (Tuesday) and the decision will be detailed in next week's issue of The News.

A leaky faucet can be very annoying, but it will really drive you crazy when you find out how expensive it is.

Christmas Tea and Bazaar held at St. Finnan's Cathedral Parish

The Annual Christmas Tea and Bazaar at St. Finnan's Cathedral, Alexandria was held on Sunday, Nov. 17, 1991 in the Alexander Hall from 2 to 4 p.m. It was a great success.

Raymond Charlebois was in charge of the sale of tickets on the beautiful Dalhia hand made quilt which was won by Jeanette Lemay of Alexandria. Rose Mary Jardin of Glen Nevis won the lovely floral arrangement which was the door prize. A plaid doll won by Jean Shago and the other doll went to Mrs. Mary Jane Macdonald.

The hall was beautifully decorated in keeping with the festive occasion. This was done by Bonnie MacDonald who has used her artistic touches to this occasion for some years now. Campbell MacDonald was in charge of the setting up and clean up. The many lovely booths were well-stocked with beautiful articles and home baking.

Fifteen individual tables were nicely decorated with red clothes and a Christmas decoration centred each table. It was most interesting to see so many of the young boys and girls assisting the serving of tea and coffee.

Clarification

Last week the News printed an article about telephone solicitors who are suspected of running a scam.

The purported scam should not be confused with the Cornwall Police Association's fundraising drive, which legitimately raises money for local charities and athletic groups.

Cornwall police officer Scott Hanton is involved with the campaign and said his fundraisers are not asking for credit card numbers, but are asking for personal cheques written out to the Cornwall Police Association.

He said no one should give their credit card numbers over the phone.

Charlottenburgh defers money decisions to incoming council

By Sue Harrington
News* correspondent

Two issues will await Charlottenburgh's new council when it takes charge on Dec. 1, following the outgoing council's decision to defer matters involving the commitment of expenditures.

Speaking at the last regular meeting of this council's three-year term, Bob Roth said it was obvious that the electors had little faith in their group.

"To put it bluntly, we're a lame duck council. The election has not indicated a monumental trust in us. The people have shown confidence in a new council — let them deal with this," said Councillor Roth.

One of the issues deferred involved the setting of 1992 rates for customers of Martintown Hydro. Lynne Anderson of Ontario Hydro appeared before council to ask for approval of a proposed 10.7 per cent increase, which would mean an expenditure of $74.85 for 1000 Kwh of residential power consumption. Anderson pointed out that this compares favorably with Ontario Hydro Rural, whose customers will be paying $89.50 for the same amount.

Ms. Anderson said that according to Ontario Hydro, the rate increase could be approved by the outgoing council, and that it was necessary for approval to be received by Nov. 30 in order for the new rate to take effect on Jan. 1. She also said that if the rates were not approved, the Martintown Hydro Commission would lose revenue for January, as it would be faced with a 12.5 per cent wholesale increase in purchasing its power from Ontario Hydro.

Ms. Anderson said the Martintown company was financially "very stable" at the moment, with healthy reserves.

Reeve Carol-Ann Ross commented, "That's one thing we can take credit for. Six years ago there were no reserves."

Councillor Don Kannon, the only member of council who will remain in office, asked, "What is the purpose of deferring this? With four new people coming in who have little knowledge of Martintown Hydro, we will just be punishing the users of the system."

But Mrs. Ross pointed out that the new council might choose to not pass the whole increase onto taxpayers,

Glengarry's largest, and state-of- the art dairy farm opens

By Andre Perrella
News reporter

Hundreds of parked cars stretched for a kilometre along the road leading to Glengarry's largest dairy farm, during Heidi Farms open house Saturday at Bainsville.

Owners Paul Oeggerli Sr., his wife Heidi, and their two sons Paul Jr. and Walter showed off their new 11,580 square meter free-stall dairy barn and milking parlor, located on the Second Concession of Lancaster at Wesley Road, to about 2,000 visitors.

Computers weigh the milk and electronic devices set barn temperatures by opening and closing ventilation panels, which can allow a complete air change in one minute.

Paul Sr. said the expansion was financed by the family. He wouldn't say how much was spent.

The farm now has about 150 cows which produce a total of 3,600 litres of class 1 and class 2 milk. Another 175 young stock will remain in the older barn which is about half the size of the new facility.

"We are able to double the size of the herd," Paul Sr. said.

His 25-year-old son Walter said there are no immediate plans to expand production because of his present quota which controls the amount of milk the farm can produce annually.

But he said the province's milk quota is likely to increase, which may provide him the opportunity to increase his quota.

"It's built for the future," he said. "If you have two kids and plan to have four, you build a house for five."

The expansion will make the farm more competitive in an increasingly competitive North American economy, according to Paul Sr.

"We have to be more competitive with Americans," he said. "We have to produce more quickly."

Dairy farmers are worried that if supply management in Canada is dismantled and trade barriers dropped, Canadian farmers will not be able to compete with larger American operations.

If such were to happen, Heidi farms will be on better footing.

Walter said their new farm will be able to handle a larger quota without hiring new workers or equipment. He, his brother and their father are the only full-time workers. Heidi Oeggerli works part time.

The barn is big enough to comfortably accommodate more cows, Walter said.

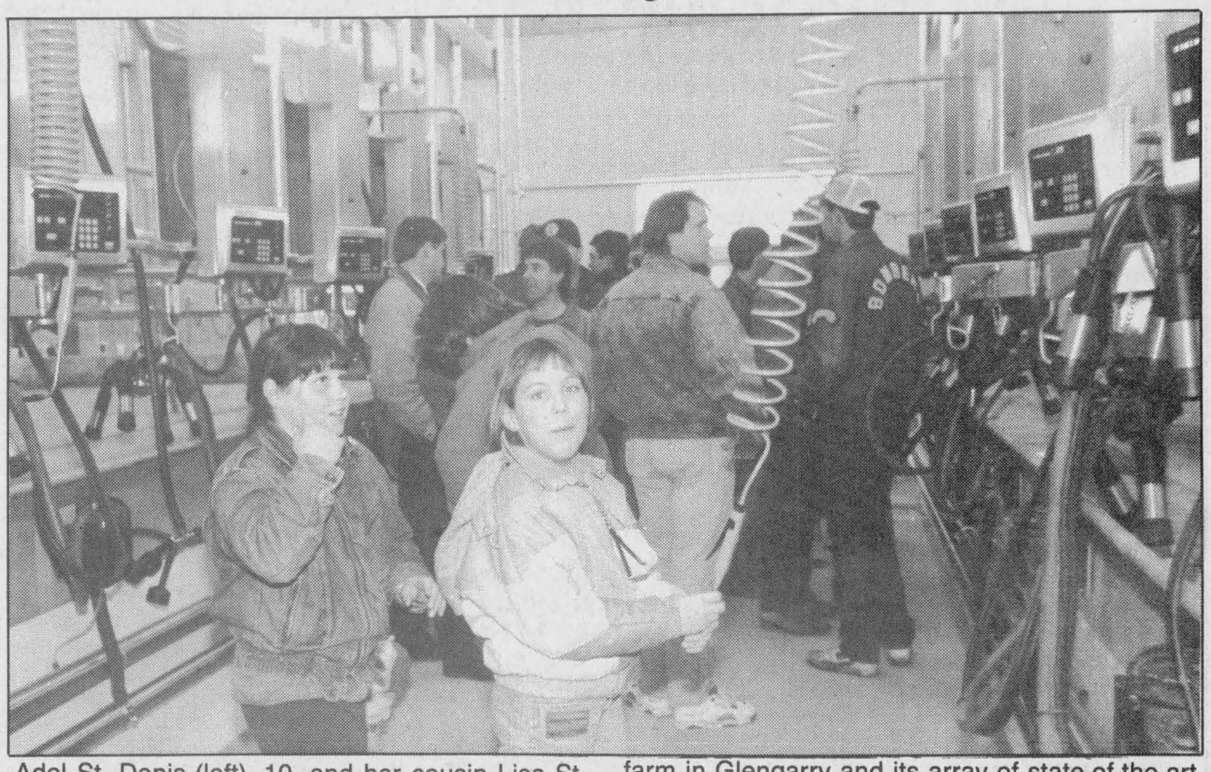
He added that they may have to purchase more feed which may be stored in bunker silos.

Other than that, the Oeggerli's are all ready for a more competitive dairy industry.

Glen Slater, agricultural representative with the Ontario Ministry of Agricultre, said production quotas are expected to rise, and bigger dairy farms are the wave of the future.

"People are going to be increasing their herd sizes," he said

But he's not sure whether farms will grow to the extent of the Oeggerli's.



Adel St. Denis (left), 10, and her cousin Lisa St. Denis, 11, are pictured playing near a teat sprayer Saturday afternoon at the Heidi Farms open house. About 2,000 people went to see the largest dairy farm in Glengarry and its array of state-of-the-art milking equipment.

Court report

The following are among items dealt with by Judge R. Masse in the Ontario Court of Justice in Alexandria on Thursday, Nov. 14.

Gearshift to blame

A sensible explanation about how he drove a car into a ditch while having a blood-alcohol level which exceeded the legal limit saved a Lancaster Township man from a possible jail sentence.

Judge R. Masse told the accused, 23-year-old Michael Enberg, that the policy of the court is to consider jail when an accident occurs as a result of impaired driving. However, Masse said he found Enberg's explanation about the mishap, sensible.

Defence lawyer Paul Syrduk explained that Enberg had been driving a friend's vehicle, on which the reverse gear is in the same position as first gear on Enberg's vehicle.

He had been trying to turn the car around and shifted into the gear he thought was reverse. The car went forward and slightly into the ditch. There was no damage to the vehicle.

OPP patrolling the south service road that night, May 13, arrested Enberg and breathalyser tests revealed 170 mgs. and 160 mgs. of alcohol in 100 mls. of blood, about twice the permittable level.

Masse concurred that shifting gears in a car is almost an automatic process. He said the fine would normally be about $600-800, however, it wouldn't be appropriate to impose a "crushing" fine on Enberg, a college student. Enberg is also prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for one year.

Enberg has no previous record.

Tuned in radio

An Alexandria man who did not comply with a demand for a breathalyser test was fined $400 and is prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for one year.

Marcel Lepage, 45, was charged on June 29 after he lost control of his vehicle, striking a parked car on Bishop Street in Alexandria.

Alexandria police detected the usual signs of alcohol impairment, however the accused did not blow adequately into the road-side screening device to determine whether he was alcohol-impaired, said Crown Attorney Marc Marcotte.

Lepage was trying to tune his radio when the accident occured, he said.

Judge R. Masse concurred that though police detected signs of alcohol impairment, there was no indication that the accident had been caused due to Lepage's consumption of alcohol.

Both vehicles sustained minimal damage.

Defence lawyer Paul Syrduk raised the point that immediately following the accident, Lepage went to the door of the car owner's home and informed him of the mishap.

Swore at police

A 36-year-old Alexandria man who swore at police officers when they asked him to leave a local bar was asked if he would treat them the same way if they were responding to a call for help from his house.

Michel Bourgon pleaded guilty to the Oct. 5 offence of causing a disturbance by using insulting language and was fined $100.

The court was told that on Oct. 5, he was asked by a waitress to leave the bar after he repeatedly swore at her. Bourgon also swore at Alexandria police officers who responded to a call from the bar. OPP intervened and the accused was talked into leaving the establishment.

Judge R. Masse told Bourgon that the police have a tough job and are there to protect him and everyone else. Masse said he wanted Bourgon to apolotize to the police officers.

"Robo-cop" nets fine

The court was told that Maurice Seguin, 36, swore at police officers who responded to a call from a local bar.

Seguin had caused a disturbance after a waitress had taken back a beer he had ordered but refused to pay for.

Judge R. Masse told Seguin that everything he had told another man involved in the same incident, applied to his own case.

Youth possessed drugs

The mother of a young offender found guilty of possessing hashish was told to check his pockets when he comes to her house for a visit.

The youth, who was arrested in Alexandria on Oct. 23 after police received information that a drug transaction was taking place, held drugs estimated in value at about $65. He was given a suspended sentence and is on probation for one year.

Crown Attorney Paul Syrduk said that the youth's involvement in the transaction gave it a commercial aspect — an aggravating factor in the case — however, it was a small amount that the youth possessed.

He agreed with the defence lawyer's suggestion of a suspended sentence and asked for probation.

Judge R. Masse asked the youth, "What can I do to convince you that drugs are no good?"

The youth responded that he knows drugs are no good.

Masse asked why he'd bought drugs if he was aware of the dangers. He added, "If someone told you to swallow rat poison, would you?"

The youth was ordered to abstain from non-prescription drugs and is prohibited from communicating with or contacting anyone known to him as having a criminal record. A breach of his probation, said Masse, could mean six months in jail.

He has no previous record.

Little change on school boards

By Greg Kielec
News editor

Glengarry residents will have one new representative on the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry public school board when its new term begins next month.

Don Munroe, who defeated incumbent Lusia Jasiewicz by close to 700 votes in last Tuesday's election, will represent the village of Maxville and Roxborough Township on the public board's English language section.

Munroe, a Maxville resident and director of operations at Maxville Manor, will be the only newcomer to represent Glengarry on the public board. One trustee was acclaimed and two others that were challenged won handily, extending their terms on the board.

Acclaimed to another term on council was Micheline Ouellette, who will represent Glengarry County and parts of Stormont and Dundas on the public board's French panel.

Defeating challengers to earn another term on the board were incumbents Art Buckland and Sam McLeod.

"I thought it would be closer than that. I guess I was pleasantly surprised by the amount of support I received," said 37-year-old Munroe.

He is not certain what gave him the edge over Jasciewicz, who has served on three-year term on the board, but expects "strategic campaigning", combined with the fact he is well-known in the area, gave him the win.

Munroe's main campaign platform was the need for better decision making, not just concerning finances, but all board operations.

He is not certain yet how and when he will pursue that issue. He first wants to familiarize himself with board members and Ministry of Education guidelines before tackling any major issues.

"I really don't know what to expect," he said.

McLeod, who was involved in one of the public board's two landslides in Glengarry County, was not certain what gave him such a decisive win over his challenger Ole Kiar of Creg Quay.

The 73-year-old Martintown resident soundly defeated Kiar 1,269 votes to 405 to earn the right to continue representing the area of Alexandria, Lancaster, and the townships of Lancaster, Kenyon and Lochiel.

McLeod, who has been on the public board since 1969, surmised his win came partly because he is so well known in the area and because board supporters are satisfied with the education their children are receiving.

He won't be pushing any new ideas or issues at the board table, saying the new trustees on the board will likely have their own priorities they will want members to consider.

He added, it should be "a rather exciting" term.

Incumbent Art Buckland, who defeated challenger Hanz Schulz by a tally of 1,231 votes to 335, also was hard pressed to explain why he netted such a large margin of votes last Tuesday.

Buckland, a 56-year-old Martintown resident, will represent Charlottenburgh Township on the board's English language section. He surmised that the controversy surrounding Charlottenburgh council may have helped him do well in the school board race.

He said he was "mildly confident" he would win a seat on the board.

In the upcoming term, he would like to see the board have a greater influence on Toronto, especially concerning the mandating of educating programs done routinely by the province without providing adequate funding.

He is not looking forward to further increases in school taxes, something which will likely occur if the province does not increase its education funding.

He also opposes the formation of any new school boards, an idea that has been promoted by the NDP provincial government. More school boards will mean more money wasted on bureaucracy and could mean poorer education because resources will be spread too thinly in smaller boards, he said.

Bourgeois scores upset victory over French panel chairman

By Greg Kielec

Nicole Bourgeois of RR1 Maxville, is taking her win in the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry separate school board elections as a "double victory."

Bourgeois, a University of Ottawa student and 37-year-old mother of three, defeated school incumbent Jean Marc Boisvenue by 100 votes last Tuesday.

She will represent separate school supporters on the French language panel of the board for the zone comprising the townships of Kenyon, Charlottenburgh, Roxborough and Cornwall Township.

Three other trustees positions for zones covering parts of Glengarry and eastern Stormont were acclaimed. Denis Sabourin, Bernard L. Besner and Ron Eamer were all acclaimed to three-year terms on the board.

Bourgeois regards her win as a "double victory" because she defeated a person who was not only an incumbent of seven and a half years, but also chairman of the school board.

"It's quite an upset," she said of her 947 to 858 vote victory over Boisvenue, a 43-year-old RR1 Williamstown resident and executive director of SD G Developmental Services.

"It's a challenge to dislodge someone who has been there for seven years. And I'm very very pleased with the support I received this time."

She added: "I thought it would be close. I wasn't expecting it to be 100 votes. I thought it would be closer than that."

She also believes she is better known now by ratepayers, especially in Alexandria, than she was when she ran three years ago.

She does not have any immediate plans as a new trustee. She first plans to familiarize herself with the province's education guidelines.

But she plans to stick by her campaign promises of working for a better administration and control of finances and believes there are luxuries the board can afford to do without.

"There is still a lot of work to be done."

And she will follow up on her province to give better representation to supporters through regular visits to each area she represents to address needs, she said.

Christmas coupons going out Friday

The Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce want Glengarry County residents to keep an eye on their mail boxes, beginning this Friday, Nov. 22.

That's when 8,000 booklets will be mailed out to every postal customer, containing 30 coupons and draw tickets from Alexandria businesses. Combined, they add up to big savings on everything from rustproofing to sales taxes, and draws for prizes like a $1,000 bill to a 21-inch color TV.

As well, each ticket deposited at the business indicated on it automatically becomes eligible for a $500 cash grand prize sponsored by the chamber to be drawn Dec. 21.

The key for consumers to take advantage of the booklet will be, simply, to use them, organizers say.

Each ticket/coupon has space for their name and phone number. After filling these out, they simply bring them into the store indicated on the coupon/ticket, use the discounts indicated, if any, and then have them deposited into the box each participating business will have.

All tickets, after each business draw, will be put into another container, and become eligible for the chamber's $500 draw.

News slogan for Centennial

"Sharing Your Future — Remembering Your Past."

That's the slogan The Glengarry News will be using throughout next year during its 100th birthday celebrations.

It's a refined version of an entry submitted by Luc Chenier of R.R. 1, Alexandria, who wins $100. The slogan will be incorporated into the newspaper's logo and will be used throughout 1992. We think it expresses our confidence in the future, and the need to remember our past.

The News centennial logo hasn't been selected yet, but an announcement is expected shortly. The winner will receive $250.

Commenting on the number and quality of entries of logos and slogans, News publisher Joe Banks was highly complimentary.

"It's obvious from the entries that people put a great deal of thought, talent and time into the work," he said. "It made it tough on the judges."

The News officially begins celebrating its centennial on Feb. 1, 1992, three days before Feb. 4 — the day in 1892 that the first Glengarry News rolled off the presses. A centennial banquet will be held at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Later in the year, a commemorative supplement devoted to the long history of The News will be published. A public birthday party and a curling bonspiel are also planned.

Charlottenburgh defers to incoming council preferring to use some of the reserves instead.

"Some people objected to a 1.7 per cent increase last year," she said.

"We've looked long and hard at this and feel it's in the best interests of the utilities. Costs are not going down, it's just postponing the increase until next year," Ms. Anderson replied, adding that she couldn't guarantee the proposed rates if they are not approved by Nov. 30.

Councillor Roth said that the new council could meet as a committee of the whole when it takes office on Dec. 1, instead of waiting until its Dec. 10 inaugural meeting.

In a recorded vote, requested by Don Kannon, the motion to defer was approved by Bob Roth, Joan MacDonald and Carol-Ann Ross. Ewen McDonald and Don Kannon were opposed.

Similarily, the motion to approve a staff report which would engage McNeely Engineering Consultants Ltd. at an upset limit of $15,000, to provide engineering services in the development of municipality-owned lands in the Glen Walter area, was also deferred.

Councillor Roth warned, "This is a major and controversial subject. Our decision would commit the new council to a path of action they might not wish to follow."

According to the staff report, the plan to hire a consultant to perform all the necessary design works and receive the necessary approvals from the various agencies in order to facilitate the construction of sewers and water mains, laterals, roads and drainage works, is necessary because there were no tenders received when the lands were offered for sale in October, 1991.

"It is presumed this is a result of the poor economy, especially in the housing market," continues the report. "The lands could again be offered for sale by tender in 1992 with pre-approved designs and plans in place, which is simply one less concern that perspective purchasers would have to take into account when tendering."

Chief Administrative Officer Merlin Dewing said that there was some urgency in approving the report in order that surveying work be done before the snow comes.

But Mr. Roth reiterated, "Voters don't have confidence in the way we spend money. I think we should leave the decision to the new council."

The motion to defer was passed unanimously.

The people opt for a tangible change

Change. In a word, that's what Glengarrians opted for in the 1991 municipal elections. Some communities opted for cautious alterations to their council's make-up, while others voted in a completely new council. But in practically all cases, the changes effected represent an impatience with the status quo, and a desire by ratepayers to see their representatives manage the municipalities with a big eye to responsible fiscal management.

In Alexandria, for instance, it is abundantly clear that the spiralling taxes and stagnating economy demanded new input, new approaches on council. An aggressive campaign based on council harmony by former mayor Bruno Massie, combined with a general disgruntlement with the status quo, saw John Cormier beaten by almost 250 votes. A similar margin resulted in the contest between Fern Seguin and Jacques Joly, in part at least because Massie/Joly were as closely associated as Cormier/Seguin. Voters were polarized by the alignments, and, tired of the much-publicized bickering and controversy on council, opted for the most radical change they could in the top county representative positions.

And the changes on council were dramatic, too, with four of six rookie councillors elected. The fact that the lone incumbent placed second last, and a former councillor squeaked in by 31 votes to pick up the final place, can surely be taken as a sign of voter disenchantment with the way town's been run for the last three years, perhaps beyond.

Elsewhere, the changes were just as dramatic. Maxville residents, for instance, voted in a completely new council. George Currier was ousted by Jim MacEwen, and the council seats changed completely. Again, the will to change — though not as radically as a mandate to Michael Cowley-Owen would have required — was in the air. The village's future was much on the minds of residents throughout the campaign. Apparently, the historic MacEwen family name, combined with business acumen of the new reeve, appealed to them.

What appealed to voters in Charlottenburgh? Again, the status quo was no longer suitable. A seemingly endless series of bitter issues surfaced in the township during the '88 to '91 term, and, perhaps unfairly, a large part of the blame for controversy surrounding them went to Carol-Ann Ross, the former reeve. The result was reflected in the poll numbers, which saw her beaten by challenger Dave MacDonald by a three to one ratio. While faring much better and proving more popular with voters, Joan MacDonald was edged out by competitor Leslie O'Shaughnessy in the race for the deputy reeve's chair. Again, the status quo was rejected.

In Kenyon, the election there was not so remarkable for what happened in the contest for reeve, as much as what had transpired in the campaign to elect the councillors. Blair Williams, a relative newcomer to the township, garnered the most number of votes of any candidate, a reflection of his personal popularity, his grass-roots approach to the issues and his experience as a political scientist. The fact that his "running mate," Owen Walker was elected, is proof that their campaign of council accountability and fiscal responsibility struck a chord with the electorate. Gwen Morris, who has always been personally popular, was obviously able to disassociate herself with the past mistakes of the council she sat with for the past three years.

Yet, the voter's choice to return Wilfred Vallance as reeve and Don Besner as deputy reeve after a three-year absence is a sign that they do not intend to totally reject the records of the past, at least the one prior to 1988. And Michel Lacelle's very respectable showing should be a strong indication that the voters will be watching very closely, and certainly through their chosen councillors, the progress of the leadership.

In Lochiel, where the drive for change was not as pronounced, the big upset was Maurice Montpetit's victory over Jean Lucien Larocque. A lack of interest in general in the election in the township, helped by the acclamation of the popular reeve, Ron MacDonell, and a low roster of council candidates, likely did not help Larocque's cause.

Overall, the changes made to each council by the voters is positive, in that it injects new blood into the councils where staleness had begun to set in, and personal biases had become entrenched. As far as the newcomers go, there is much to be said for wide-eyed enthusiasm, a desire to tackle problems in new and creative ways.

While they can expect to learn quickly that the huge majority of their actions and decisions are scrutinized, regulated or rejected by the province, they can also proceed into this term knowing that experience hasn't always served their communities well. And for the losers, remember this: as much as can be achieved outside of council, if you possess the will and energy, and simply losing an election shouldn't negate you from trying to influence municipal decisions.

It's called the will of the people, a will that was happily in evidence in Glengarry County on Nov. 12, 1991.

Election night teamwork comes through

After Thoughts

Joe Banks

More than one of you, we discovered Wednesday morning, were appreciative of the election coverage we were able to print in a deadline pinch last week.

And there was, relatively speaking, just as much interest in how we were able to manage it. Thanks for asking.

It took a staff of very dedicated people who were able to keep their eyes open in the early hours of Wednesday morning, a fast and efficient printing crew in Smiths Falls, and a couple of speedy relay drivers to get the facts and figures out to you in timely fashion.

It was a good thing. As we unfolded all the surrounding media on a bleary-eyed Wednesday, including the Citizen and the Freeholder, we noticed we were the only newspaper to carry poll results and reports from municipalities outside of Charlottenburgh and Alexandria. Even the radio station — which was strike-bound at the time — failed to get the total results until well after The News hit the streets.

It all started with a question from bookkeeper Barbara McCormick and typesetter Lucy Theoret some weeks back — are we going to carry poll-by-poll results of the election on the Wednesday? Up to that point, we'd assumed we would be lucky to get early returns in, enough to write a rough story. But the question got us wondering — was it possible to get everything?

The first step was to check with our printers, Performance Printing in Smiths Falls, to see if we could hold back a few pages to squeeze in the election results. We established that if we were going to make our 2 a.m. press slot early Wednesday morning, we would have to send the made-up election pages to the printers by 12:30. And that meant running the back section to the printers first, and as many first-section pages as possible. We planned to have the final made-up pages brought to Winchester by our second driver, Len Jaeck, where he would be — and successfully was — met by the first driver, George Hambleton, who relayed those pages on to Smiths Falls.

Prior to all this, however, it took our network of correspondents to report the results. We dispatched Pauline Ashton to Maxville, Lesley Cadham to Kenyon Township, staff writer Andre Perella to Lochiel and Sue Harrington reported on Charlottenburgh. Editor Greg Kielec, was the conduit into which all the story-related information flowed, got the Alexandria results, and put it all together to draft a story accompanying the result charts.

Modern technology helped greatly. Results from Maxville and Lochiel were faxed in first, allowing Barb to verify the figures and Lucy to get started on typesetting them. To help her further, she had cleverly, a week previous, set up charts and the parameters to accept results into her computer. It was then a matter of entering numbers, with ad representative Helene Quesnel helping to speed the process by reading off the results to Lucy as she typeset them.

As those were being typeset, processed and pasted on the pages where gaps had been left, the correspondents phoned in quotes from the winners and losers. We hastily proofread the story, checked the figures again, ran it out, pasted it up and completed the last page at 12:35 a.m. — about 10 minutes later than we'd hoped.

Gil Sauve in the darkroom photographed the pages and the driver was on his way. Exhausted, we sauntered out of the office, tired but worried that we'd missed our press slot.

As it turned out, all of the printer's other newspaper clients were in the same boat as us, so we were able to be slipped on the press by an accommodating crew. The papers were back to the office, with our trusty mail crew waiting, at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday morning. The final paper left the office at about 9:45 a.m. — a scant nine hours and 45 minutes after the polls closed.

It was a classic example of teamwork at its best, a crew of about 50 people who directly and indirectly pushed toward a common goal — getting you the much-anticipated election results first, and early.

It was a long way from the days when the results were posted on huge blackboards on the front of The News facade.

Still, it is still a source of pride around here, and apparently, from what we've heard, much appreciated by you.

The good guys finally win one

News to me

Greg Kielec

They fought the law and the law won.

The provincial government, in a poorly thought out move, refused last month to back down from its decision to close registry offices in the area. What it received was a boot back to reality from Ottawa District Court Judge Hector Soubliere.

Morrisburg lawyer Doug Grenkie, who fought the case in court, and Alexandria lawyer Pierre Aubry, who was Grenkie's sidekick of sorts in the campaign to keep the Alexandria and Morrisburg offices open have every right to be pleased.

They fought the government and the government lost. The government tried to skirt the law, and, as is the case in most good guy versus bad guy television movies — the law won.

And Soubliere, like the tough, no-nonsense judge depicted on the aforementioned television movies, didn't pull any punches either.

"Only by resorting to a convoluted logic can the government justify its position," he said in his Oct. 29 ruling on the planned closures of registry offices in Alexandria, Morrisburg, Prescott and Russell.

And convoluted the government's logic was. In fact, it was so out to lunch, that it is easy to believe that the party does not have one member east of Ottawa and quite possibly no one who has ever set foot, or least set out to learn about these three distinct, separate counties.

The government tried to argue that Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and possibly even East Grenville was one geographic area. It appropriately named the area a county.

But if SDG and East Grenville is a county, what are those little bodies that make up the area — subcounties?

"The historical analysis demonstrates Dundas was always a county for Registry Act purposes and had its own registry office. The amendment in 1972 does not change that. It would have to be more express," Soubliere said in his ruling.

There was Grenkie's interpretation of the law. There was Aubry's interpretation of the law. The province's interpretation — well, convoluted is probably too kind a word.

But as irrational as it was, the government's logic in the planned closure of the offices, it seems that clearer heads have prevailed on the government side.

The offices in Alexandria, Morrisburg, Prescott and Russell will remain open. The government will retain a little dignity and respect. And local residents will continue to have access to a service provided here for more than one hundred years.

And area residents can take pride in knowing the one or two of their own fought the government — and with the law, they won.

Insert vote, then wait for result

Remember those great little bubble gum machines that took our nickels and gave back microscopic toys in little plastic containers?

You never knew what you'd get when you put your money in. Sometimes your prize turned out to be a tiny ballerina in a pink lace tutu and sometimes it was a thumbnail-sized GI-Joe.

Occasionally, to our despair, what appeared behind the little trap door was an empty package. We'd paid for nothing. But we continued to take our chances.

There was a striking resemblance between this year's municipal elections and those little vending machines. We voted and waited to see what we'd get.

But could we have expected any bigger surprises than the ones we got? I doubt it. Like our five-cent treats, some surprises were pleasant and others were anything but.

The results are going to make for a fascinating three years.

There appears to be some real shakers and movers on local councils, but like those plastic containers, we'll have to wait until the lid comes off to see what's really inside.

In Alexandria, the two men who have often competed for the mayor's seat will sit side by side as mayor and reeve. This is a must-see.

In Kenyon Township, Blair Williams earned — and I'm not using that term loosely — the highest number of votes of any successful councillor. I probabl don't have to tell you that Williams was active in the Save the Train committee and the impromptu Kenyon Ratepayers Association of 1988-89. He doesn't seem to let sleeping dogs lie.

Owen Walker actively campaigned with Williams and drew in the third most votes, with incumbent councillor Gwen Morris tucked neatly in between. I think they'll make a good

Tradition continues

In the Glens

Angus McDonell

As we approach St. Andrew's birthdate, Nov. 20, we do not recall so many entertainments from the traditional St. Andrew's Ball to various concerts that prevailed this year.

The recent "Glengarry 91" concert in Ottawa, really a Glengarry transplant that got the St. Andrew's spirit under way was an outstanding success and greatly deserved as the sponsors, the Glengarry Club of Ottawa in their final National Arts Centre entertainment was far from being a profit maker financially due to the heavy rental fee. But the club didn't throw in the towel as heritage tradition overcomes setbacks. Well done old friends.

The Ottawa Club "Glengarry 91" concert was followed last Saturday night at the Bonnie Glen featuring the Barra MacNeils of Cape Breton. The Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society were hosts. When you combine the best of Cape Breton Celtic music with the violin skills of Glengarrians both on stage and dance floor, a super evening of entertainment is assured and that was the report received by this writer on Sunday.

The oldest tradition in Glengarry is celebrating St. Andrew's Ball. And that is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 30, at the Bonnie Glen opening with a social hour at six p.m. followed by dinner at seven and pipers will lead the grand march and the dancers on the floor at nine. The sponsors are the Glengarry Pipe Band Association.

Following train travel to Montreal by the building of the Canada Atlantic Railway followed by the Grand Trunk, CNR and now Via, it is occasionally noted in The Glengarry News items of Auld Lang Syne where a few Scottish couples attended St. Andrew's Ball in the staid Windsor Hotel, Montreal.

After the Armouries were built here in 1913, the first St. Andrew's Ball was held in 1914, then suspended during World War One and resumed in 1919.

During the next 10 years a St. Andrew's Ball in the Armouries was the social highlight of the year here in the Glens. The '30's depression years and World War Two caused the demise of the Armouries and St. Andrew's Ball.

To those of us who have lived and enjoyed those eras the forthcoming St. Andrew's Ball by our Pipe Band is "history repeating itself."

And finally this Friday night, Nov. 22, the Glengarry Highland Society is staging a St. Andrew's concert in the Laggan School auditorium featuring the Glengarry Gaelic Choir and several well known entertainers from the Glens.

In comparison to the foregoing St. Andrew's celebrations reviewed, this concert may be fewer in numbers, however, they carry an equal respective share of prestige thus assuring an evening of traditional class entertainment.

The opening number will be Gaelic singing by the choir as they bring back the tradition of a Fulling Bee similar to my grandmother telling of a quilting bee gathering of concession older ladies.

There will be Gaelic solos by guest Joanne McKenna Meik from Toronto. And this will not be the singing of Gaelic solos for the first time in Laggan although admittedly not by professional voices. We refer to Duncan MacSweyn of "Cotton Beaver," grandfather of the current MacSweyns. And there was also another popular Gaelic singer Charlie Stewart, Fiske's Corners blacksmith and father of Alexandria's Mrs. Barbara McDonald.

Among other singing will be by Maxville-Alexandria school children directed by Mrs. Hugh McDougall. Also, the veterans Milton MacDonald and Brian McDonell, and a couple of skits have been added. Violin playing by the Strathspey and Reel group, and here again we add that, along with Duncan MacSweyn and Charlie Stewart in their prime, there was a violinist from McCrimmon, Donald R. (Angus Ranald) MacDonald, a talented artist of the era. Add the MacCulloch and Kemp dancers, the Seanachies (Gaelic for Scottish story tellers) and conclude by the crowd joining the choir in singing the ancient rendition of Ho Ro Ma Nighean Donn Bhoideach.

Letters

Canadians are just that — Canadians

To the Editor:

Frankly, I am getting fed up with the blatant show of political correctness of the Parti Quebecois. They are determined to show Canada and the rest of the world that they are not only distinct, but will kick and scream like little children if they aren't seen as being better. It's funny that you don't see their Acadian counterparts on the East Coast and Eastern Ontario getting distinct treatment. As a matter of fact, most are mad as hell that francophone Quebecers are getting the attention that they are.

The last federal election was literally bought through Quebec by Brian Mulroney, who displaced many crown corporations into Quebec in order to achieve his goal because the rest of Canada wouldn't support his Free Trade platform. Ultimately the Meech Lake fiasco's press overshadowed free trade, making the public's attention shift. I think we are being manipulated again, shifting our attention from a failing economy to the distinct clause in the constitution (politicians at their best).

Many years ago, Parizeau and his cohorts would have been tried, and possibly hanged for treason for exactly what they are doing now, trying to separate Quebec from the rest of Canada in the name of francophone cultural integrity.

The Parti Quebecois' childishness is obvious to anyone who reads the papers, or watches the news. The Meech Lake ordeal showed their greed for power and total disregard for anyone not politically correct to their cause. They wanted everything given to them but wouldn't compromise one bit to keep peace in the rest of Canada. And I am sure that no matter what they get through federal bills and laws, they will want more, and Canadians being complacent as they are, will give it to them willingly.

We have a national unity committee in the works which has open forums to hear what we Canadians think, but, like Brian Mulroney's senate it is stacked in a way that they think like he does (political correctness again). Two representatives from Quebec left the room when a speakers' thoughts opposed theirs (childishness again).

I do understand the need to preserve a culture as valuable as the francophones, but I question the reasoning behind the government's approach, and its distinctness because Canada is a melting pot of a vast array of cultures, and no one being any more distinct than the other. Quebecois would be whining like babies if, let's say, the Italians, Scots, Jews, etc., wanted distinct cultural acknowledgement.

As I myself am of mixed heritage, half Scotch, half French, the benefits are immeasurable. But I am compelled to write this letter out of total disgust of the media's and government's attention to just one culture.

Canadians, as a whole, should be likened to (ORE) ore, a natural resource in great abundance of which richness and benefits can be extracted. But why should Quebecois be treated as if they were the gold of the melting pot and the rest of us Canadians being the sludge.

A friend of mine summed up in one statement the way we all should be thinking, Quebecois included, and bear in mind he is of French descent and I quote, "I am neither a French Canadian or an English Canadian — JUST CANADIAN."

Daycare centre worthy of praise

To the editor:

In response to Sheila Boyle's letter concerning the new Glengarry Childcare Centre, I also have a child attending the centre and have nothing but praise for the facility and the staff. I would highly recommend it to anyone wishing to place their child in daycare.

The location may not be "perfect", but what location is? The R.A.R.E. plant was relocated diagonally across the street from the centre after the site was chosen for the new childcare centre. Ms. Boyle writes that the recycling plant is "insulting to the eye". Is it? And even if some people find it to be so, who cares? What does one expect from a facility that recyles refuse. How does that affect the welfare of the children? The centre has a large, fenced-in back yard with paved bike paths and playground facilities for the children. This should alleviate any traffic concerns. As for the plant being bee infested, and probably rat infested, these are just assumptions. Rats are usually found where there is food waste and to my knowledge there is none at R.A.R.E.

Ms. Boyle is right about one thing, the center will be an eternal drain on the taxpayers because parents will look to alternatives for their children if they judge the Glengarry Childcare Centre by her letter. May I suggest that prospective parents visit the centre before passing judgement.

I feel that we are fortunate to have both the R.A.R.E. plant and the childcare centre and congratulate all those who worked so hard to make both a reality.

Committee thanks for help

To the editor:

On behalf of the Laggan Book Committee, I would like to thank The Glengarry News for publishing the schoolhouse pictures for our group, which is looking for information to compile an historical booklet for Laggan's 25th anniversary, which will be celebrated in a few years.

I hope that they were of interest to your readers and perhaps brought to mind a few fond memories of days gone by.

I am very proud of the great group of volunteers who have come forward to help in this project, also the community support has been overwhelming.

We are still gathering information and if you have anything to contribute please contact Marion MacMaster at 525-4560 or myself.

Our success is dependent on the interest and support of the people that make up our school community. By working together we can keep our history alive for future generations.

Thanks again,
Joan MacGillivray

Thanks: candidate

To the editor:

I read "After Thoughts" dated Nov. 13 entitled "Election venom is finally over."

I am picking up on the last lines "and for the voters sake, the best and cleanest candidate will have won." Well I didn't win the election by count but I have won in quite a few different ways.

(1) I have met nice people, new people, interesting people, lonely people, who I will probably go back and visit. These people I would not have met otherwise;

(2) I am very happy with the choice people made. A lot of young and good people for council;

(3) The experience was great and as the saying goes "If you don't try, you will never know."

Sincerely,
Edna Lillian Lalonde

team. Morris has something the other two do not — firm roots here in Glengarry.

Williams and Walker feel the success in their first bid for council was due to an activity I sure didn't see here in my own townshipL They visited people's homes to discuss concerns and issues.

They didn't merely knock on doors and shake hands: They met with ratepayers at pre-arranged "coffee parties" and talked with anywhere from 15-30 ratepayers at a time.

Their tactics obviously had an impact.

Here at home, I was not convinced by anyone to give them my vote. There were seven candidates and I got three flyers in the mail.

Only one candidate came to my door and he was so anxious to share his plans for the township's future with me that in the few short moments it took me to get to the door, he'd left his calling card and sped away in his truck.

I'm not the only constituent who found candidates were scarce.

Before it's too late, clip out their advertisements and profiles and have another look at them before the next election. See if they've measured up to their word.

And incidentally, in case you're interested, regular council meetings — which are not advertised as a rule — are open to anyone. You don't have to call to say you're coming unless you want to speak at the meeting.

See you there.

Police alarmed by wave of car burglaries

Stereos, speakers, money and other items were stolen from about 10 unlocked cars in the past two weeks, and police believe they are connected to similar occurrences in nearby Cornwall Township.

"We haven't had any (car burglaries) and all of a sudden we have a bunch all over the place," said Staff Sgt. Jim McWade of the Ontario Provincial Police's Lancaster detachment.

He said the OPP detachment in Long Sault received several reports of car burglaries before such incidents began occurring in Charlottenburgh.

"It appears the individual or individuals involved have moved out of the Long Sault OPP area and into the Lancaster OPP area," McWade said.

The last two incidents occurred in Williamstown Friday, Nov. 15. Other incidents occured in Bayview Estates, the Glendale Subdivision, and on Gilmore Road.

McWade said there probably are many more cars that were burglarized, but not reported.

Smuggler caught

Ontario Provincial Police officers of the Lancaster detachment helped the Montreal police department in stopping a van carrying stolen cigarettes.

The incident occurred Monday, Nov. 18, at around 3 p.m. A van was leaving Quebec entering Ontario on Highway 401 when the OPP was reached by the Montreal Urban Community Police.

David Hill, 45, of Laval, Que., was charged with possession of stolen property.

OPP Staff Sgt. Jim McWade said the van contained about 10 cases of Export "A" Lights. A case contains about 10,000 cigarettes.

He said the van was headed for Toronto.

McWade said the cases seized were a small part of a larger heist. A tractor trailor containing 1,000 cases of cigarettes was stolen two weeks ago in Montreal.

Teenager hurt

One girl was hurt when a car skidded off a road around 1 a.m. Thursday.

Louise Martel, 15, of Cornwall, was injured when the car her mother Jeannette, 44, was driving went out of control on Highway 2.

Police said Martel was driving a 1983 Datsun west on Highway 2 near Ray Road when a cat crossed the road at what is known as "Dead-Man's Curve."

The driver tried to avoid the cat, but lost control of the car and crashed into guard rails.

Her daughter sustained minor injuries and was transported to the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall.

Man hurt

One man was hurt when his truck skidded and slammed into a tree Wednesday.

Ernest Bernique, 42, of Lancaster was driving a 1991 Ford Pick-up west on River Road about two kilometres east of County Road 27 at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 13.

He suffered minimal injuries and was not hospitalized.

The truck was moderately damaged.

Pump stolen

He reported to the Maxville detacment of the Ontario Provincial Police on Monday, Nov. 11, that his building was broken into sometime between Oct. 28 and Remembrance Day.

The rear window was broken and a $4,000 industrial water pump was stolen.

Police have no suspects.

Police briefs

Boat, motor stolen

A $22,000 boat and motor were stolen last weekend.

Police said the 1986 Panther and its 225 horse-power Mercruiser motor, on a single axle trailor in Bayview Estates, were stolen sometime between Saturday, Nov. 16, and Monday, Nov. 18.

Police are investigating.

House broken-into

A Dalkeith house was broken into and about $1,000 worth of goods was stolen two weeks ago.

Roderick Ewing, 36, reported to the Ontario Provincial Police in Maxville that his RR1 Dalkeith weekend home was broken into sometime between Nov. 3 and Nov. 8.

The back door was kicked in and a video cassette recorder, a microwave oven and an antique shotgun were stolen.

Police have no suspects.

Hit and run

Police are looking for the driver of a pick-up who failed to stop after becoming involved in an accident Nov. 16.

Robert Menard, 41, of RR3 Alexandria, was following a pick-up truck that stopped abruptly. Menard rear-ended the truck, which left immediately after.

Menard was driving a 1989 Pontiac Sunbird north on Highway 34 near County Road 25 at around 1:30 a.m. when the incident occurred.

No one was injured. The Pontiac was moderately damaged.

Police are looking for a grey pick-up truck. They have no other details about the vehicle.

Car-deer collisions

Randy Allen, 27, of Grimsby, Ont., was driving a 1987 Ford Tempo east on County Road 18 near County Road 27 at around 9:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 15, when a deer came out of the south ditch and struck the car's right side.

Allen wasn't injured. The car was lightly damaged.

The deer was killed and its remains were collected by The Ministry of Natural Resources.

Michael Aylward, 52, of Summerstown, was driving a 1977 Lincoln south on Highway 34 near County Road 25 at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 13, when he hit a deer crossing the road, damaging the front of his vehicle.

William Gordon Leach, of RR1 Winchester, was driving a 1990 Volkswagen east on County Road 15 in Moose Creek 5:15 p.m. Friday, Nov. 15, when he saw several deer crossing the road.

One deer hit the left side of the car, leaving a dent, and then ran into the nearby woods. No animals were killed.

Men charged

A Maxville man and an RR5 Alexandria man were charged in connection with two separate car accidents.

Edward Barr was driving a 1990 Dodge north on Main Street in Maxville Monday, Nov. 18, at around 8 a.m., when he veered into the southbound lane and hit a 1987 Chevrolet, driven by Michael St. Louis of RR5 Alexandria.

No one was injured, but both vehicles were extensively damaged. Barr was charged with not sharing the road.

Two hours later, Bruno Berndt of RR5 Alexandria was driving a 1980 Plymouth south on Vallance Road near County Road 20 when he tried to cross Highway 43 and was struck by a 1985 Ford truck driven Timothy Legue of Cornwall, which was eastbound.

No one was injured. The Plymouth was totalled and the truck was severely damaged.

Berndt was charged with failing to yield to traffic.

Boys steal beer

Two youths and two adult males were charged with stealing a beer cooler and a pair of running shoes from the Glengarry Sports Palace Saturday.

Four males entered a dressing room at the arena sometime between 10 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.

Brian Massia, 18, of Lochiel Street East in Alexandria, John Boisvert, 18, of 51 Main St. S., and two young offenders were charged with theft under $1,000.

The adults will appear in court in Alexandria tomorrow, Nov. 21. The youth's court appearances are set for a later date.

If convicted, all four can face a maximum sentence of two years.

Cow missing

A cow was reported stolen last week.

Richard Lacombe, 55, reported to the Ontario Provincial Police's Maxville detachment that an $800 shorthorn beef cow is believed to have been stolen from his RR5 Alexandria lot in Kenyon sometime between Nov. 8 and the next day.

"The guy is missing a cow, unless it wandered around somewhere and he can't find it" said OPP Sgt. Gerry Brunet of the Ontario Provincial Police's Maxville detachment.

Winter parking

From Nov. 15 to April 15 the next calendar year, there will be no parking on streets in Alexandria between 1 a.m. and 8 a.m.

Violators can be fined up to $35 if their vehicles are obstructing snow removal.

WHO ARE WE?
Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International was founded in 1952 by Demos Shakarian to reach men for Jesus. One year later, God gave him a vision of the people of every continent, revealing that the ministry of the Fellowship would result in people everywhere being brought to Jesus and linked in loving community. That vision is becoming a reality through the Fellowship's ministries, now touching 107 nations and transcending denominational, racial and cultural barriers.
In Canada, there are 223 chapters that meet weekly or monthly at Breakfast Meetings, Luncheons, and Banquets, along with 28 Conventions and Rallies, which attract thousands of people.
One of the purposes of these meetings is to hear the powerful testimonies of men whose lives have been dramatically touched by God.
Please join us and find out why our members are called "The Happiest People on Earth".

Election results sees new faces on council

Williamstown
Sue Harrington
347-2279

No sun, No mun, No fun, No vember! Apologies to the author of that famous poem which has been included in every school project Mrs. Kinnear has had to mark for the past decade at least!

But not to worry. At least there is news! Read on.

* * *

Now I know this is supposed to be a social news column, but where is the fine line drawn between this sort of news and political gab? Especially when everybody's talking about it? Not here in my column — not today, at least.

As you are no doubt aware, we in Charlottenburgh have a brand new, (well, nearly-new) council. Reeve Dave MacDonald, Deputy Reeve Leslie O'Shaughnessy, and Councillors George Shoniker, Frank Prevost and Don Kannon. Congratulations to you all!

Congratulations, too, to our outgoing council: Ewen McDonald and Bob Roth who have retired; and Carol-Ann Ross and Joan MacDonald whose losses at the polls have meant great gains for their families!

I have attended every regular council meeting except one during the past five years, and believe me, readers, the number of hours that these two ladies have put into the running of the township has been incredible!

* * *

At the last ''old'' council meeting held last night, Joan MacDonald thanked everyone for the experience she had had as councillor. ''I feel as though I should add another degree after my name after this — I don't know what — maybe M.C. for Municipal Councillor!''

Joan also urged that everyone should be involved in something like this at one time, to sit on a committee, or be part of the decision making process. ''It really has been interesting,'' she reflected.

Bob Roth also had some parting words. ''It's been an exciting experience, even though we've been through a lot. I would like to thank the voters for the support they gave me during my three terms of office . . . There really is some merit in losing an election. It gives you a chance to realize that the people are supreme!''

Carol-Ann Ross expressed her thanks to council members MacDonald and Roth for their help ''above and beyond'' during the past term. She also thanked the staff and said she thought comments made about them during the election were most ''unfair.''

''I hope the new council will make the decisions to choose very wisely before cutting staff,'' said Mrs. Ross.

* * *

Of the newly elected council, only Frank Prevost was in attendance at last evening's meeting, doing his homework for Dec. 10's inaugural meeting. Where were our other representatives? Good excuses will be accepted and printed here, if you let me know. Although not elected, Gerald Lussier also attended the council meeting, as he has often in the past.

* * *

Can it be a sign of things to come? Don Kannon asked at the meeting what had to be done to reverse some of the road name changes passed by council. Don was particularly bothered that Cashion's Road had been re-named.

Merlin Dewing replied that the the names could be changed by bylaw, and that some already were, before the discussion of changes was brought to an end by council itself in June, 1990.

* * *

Newly-elected councillor George Shoniker said he attributed his township-wide success at the polls to his ''great campaign team,'' led by Ian MacLean. George's campaign got off to an early start and covered the whole territory.

* * *

Congratulations too, to our school board representatives: Art Buckland for the Public-English and Nicole Bourgeois, French Separate.

* * *

Nicole's opponent in the election, Jean-Marc Boisvenue, and family are residents of Williamstown, living in the Ouellette house on the Glen Road, beside Kraft, or, as many of you would remember it in its prestone days, Leo Major's old place.

My apologies to the Boisvenues for not welcoming them sooner to our area . . . I think the Williamstown Welcome Wagon has become stuck in the mud, somewhere between here and, maybe, Kentucky!

* * *

Although not an election promise, I pledge that next week's column will round up as many newcomers to the area as I can find and give them a great welcome. Even if they've been in the area for more than a year, like the Boisvenues, what does it matter? We all know that to be considered other than ''new'' in Williamstown one must have had family here for the past 200 years!

* * *

And now on to the happenings of the season. The Williamstown Volunteer Fire Dept.'s Christmas Dance will be held at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre on Friday, Nov. 29, beginning at 9 p.m. There will be live music by Bob Burnie and Gary McDonald who go under the name of EXIT (appropriate for a fireman's dance, don't you think?)

There will also be door prizes, spot dances, and a lunch, and all for a very moderate admission charge. Proceeds from the dance go to help pay transportation costs for a certain gentleman from the North Pole. Try to support this dance, for the children's sakes.

This Monday, Nov. 25, the Green Thumbs Horticultural Society will host its ''Festive Wine and Cheese Evening,'' beginning at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Centre in Williamstown. There will be a Christmas gift exchange of a horticultural or homemade gift, with a value of $3. The Member Activity will be to make a Christmas tree decoration from natural materials. And for a third unprecedented season — ribbon will be permitted!

Picnic Grove 4-H got off to a late start this season, but club press reporter Kristen McDonell assures me it is now going full-swing. Leaders are Ursula Vogel and Linda Vogel and the club meets on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

This Saturday, Nov. 23, is your lucky day. On that day, you may hire a student from Char-Lan High School to help you with whatever work needs doing around your place. The school's Prom Committee is trying to raise funds, and students will be dispatched to your place to help you with outside work like leaf raking or snow shovelling, or even putting up your Christmas lights.

To book your helpers, please phone either Lori Gareau at 347-3863, or Lisa Chafee at 347-3650.

Congratulations to the team of Amy Ward, Marvin Sparey, Mike Hurtubise and Bill Stafford for winning the opening bonspiel held recently at the Lancaster and District Curling Club.

The special service held at St. Mary's on Sunday was very nice, indeed. The church was filled to capacity to see the unveiling of the plaques in memory of Fathers Barrett and McCarthy.

I'm told the plaques were beautifully hand-crafted out of 200 year old pine that came from a local house, and that Raymond D'Aoust was the artisan who made them.

I've also learned that the untimely death of the young Father Barrett was caused by tuberculosis.

There's always something to be learned in Williamstown, and all of it is not necessarily new!

Noreen Richer sent along a big thank you for the generous donations brought to the bake and craft sale for the Cystic Fibrosis last Saturday at the Brookdale Mall. The bake sale alone brought in $1,556.55. Contributions came in from Cornwall, Martintown, St. Andrews, Bonville and Ingleside.

The draw for the 250 lbs. of beef or equivalent was won by Wendy Shelps of Cornwall, who chose the equivalent which was $450. The winner of the quilt was Anistacia Beaudet of Bonville. The total amount raised including the raffles, after expenses were deducted was $2,597.

Noreen sends along a special thanks to you ladies of Martintown, as she knows you all had baking to do for the Martintown Community Centre as well, on the same day, and she and the rest of her committee really appreciated your donations.

The Martintown Community Centre was a hub of activity last Saturday when 29 tables were just covered with beautiful crafts and goodies. And from the Good-Timers, Charlotte Sansom sends along a major thanks to the community for the response of donations of baked goods. It was greatly appreciated.

This has been a busy week at Martintown Public School with Monday, Nov. 11 marked out by Remembrance Day service. It was well-attended by parents, grandparents and members of the community, most of whom remained afterwards and enjoyed a light lunch that was prepared by volunteer parents.

Roles have been assigned for the Christmas play and students are learning their songs and their lines.

Junior and senior volleyball teams have been formed to represent Martintown public in the upcoming tournaments to be held on Wed., Nov. 27. The junior team will play at Roxmore and the senior will play at Maxville.

Students are honing their skills at chess during the lunch hour in preparation for the chess tournament on Sat., Dec. 7 at Gladstone Public School in Cornwall.

The spaghetti lunch was delicious on Friday as was the macaroni and cheese lunch, the previous week. Students are really enjoying these new lunches, and congratulations go out to the ladies of the school committee for preparing these great meals.

Report cards were sent home Tuesday and parent-teacher interviews are scheduled for 3:30 to 7 p.m. Thurs., Nov. 21 and 9 to 3 p.m. on Fri., Nov. 22. Therefore, there will be no school on Friday. Please remember the deadline for the St. Albert's Cheese is Mon., Nov. 25.

Letters were sent home Friday to inform parents of the food drive, organized by the student council.

"R-2000 construction includes air-tight vapour seals around windows and electrical outlets."
Oliver Drerup, R-2000 Spokesperson.
What to look for when buying a new home.
For the past 10 years I've studied building techniques to discover how to build a better home. A home that would meet the needs of today's energy and comfort conscious home buyers. What I learned was that one home — the R-2000 home — is your best choice. Why? Well, there are a lot of reasons. Here are just a few.
Superior Construction
• greater attention to detail prevents excess air leakage.
• continuous operating ventilation system offers superior indoor air quality all year round.
More Comfort
• reduces cold spots and drafts, with even temperature from attic to basement.
Lower Heating Costs
• the R-2000 home saves you money because it is more energy efficient than a conventionally built home.
Individually Inspected
• every R-2000 home is inspected and awarded a certificate if it meets R-2000 standards.

GMHA engaged in a busy fall program

Money raising ventures, Christmas plans among active agenda

Members of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital Auxiliary are well immersed in a busy fall program. September and October activities include Youth and Seniors in hospital and community, money raising ventures and Christmas plans.

Thirty-two Teenage Volunteers are involved in a weekly rotation of help and hospital experience. Ten of them attended the Teen Volunteer Conference at the Rehabilitation Centre in Ottawa on Sept. 22 with their leader Monique Spooner.

On Monday, Oct. 21 ten "Nursing Home" guests (average age of 87) celebrated their October birthdays at a party hosted by the auxiliary and convened by Mary Harker.

Songs by Frank Hamilton, accompanied by Harriet MacKinnon, fiddle music by Gerald MacGillis and Pat Hauser and the rollicking accordian music of Bill Bernacki spanned the years and experiences shared by these "turn of the century celebrants."

Auxiliary members are encouraged to learn and grow through attendance at HAAO Conference. To that end, five members participated in the Region 9 Fall Conference held in Ottawa on Oct. 21.

President Sandra Lawson, vice presidents Jo Ann Trottier and Anne McKenna, and Chris MacPhail P.R. attended the provincial conference in Toronto Nov. 11-14.

On Nov. 14, at 2 p.m., the Pastoral Care Group held an Ecumenical Service in the hospital lounge. Weekly visitation and R.C. distribution of the Eucharist continues on a weekly basis.

The annual "Jingle Bell Gift and Bake Sale" will be held on Saturday, Nov. 23 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the hospital lobby. A "50/50 Loonie Draw" will be held. Tickets for the draw are available at the Tuck Shop.

Donations of canned goods and other non-perishable grocery items may be sent to school with your child. These items will go to the Agape Centre in Cornwall. Please do not send items packaged in glass jars, for obvious safety reasons. The food drive will continue until the Christmas concert, Wed., Dec. 18.

Biance Portner reports to me that the 4-H members were on an excursion to the Cooper Marsh. Most of the members had been to the Cooper Marsh before but this time they went inside the new educational-visitor centre, and they were greeted by Kathleen Kelso. Kathleen is the manager of the visitor's centre.

She told them about some of the animals and birds, which were common around the marsh. She also advised them they would have to be quiet when in the marsh, to not disturb the wildlife.

Out on their walk, they saw a few mallard ducks from the blind (set up on the boardwalk). They also went up the look-out tower, that overlooks the marsh. Then back at the education centre they were shown a film about marshes and wetlands, to help them understand why the marsh is so valuable.

They found it all a very interesting experience. Then it was time to be picked up and head home. It was a good outing.

Marion West, Irene and Leslie's daughter, now living in Chilliwack, B.C. follows the Glen News of Martintown, with great interest. She says to say hello and sends along encouragement to me to keep up the good work.

* * *

I was very glad to see Irene and Leslie West, Mrs. Aubin and May Thompson in the Cornwall Square last Friday. They had come into Cornwall through Glengarry Outreach Services. Seniors please call Lydia Glover at 931-1211 if you would like this service and she will try to fit you in, no matter what day it is. Monday is set aside for Martintown use, but if you need to go into Alexandria, or wherever to shop or doctor appointments or whatever, on another day maybe they would have room for you too; and they will come and get you. So give Lydia a call, if you want to go, go, go, and she will see what she can do.

Jo Van Loon is still floating around on Cloud 9 as they have just celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary on Nov. 18. All her brothers and sisters, her mother and father and Cory's brothers and sisters (that live close) were able to attend Mass Sunday morning. When Johanna and Cory were married 35 years ago, it was in a double wedding with Jo's sister Corrie. So all that singing and dancing coming from the North Branch was from their home, where everyone was celebrating. Congratulations and best wishes to all.

Another piece of good news from the Van Loon household was to hear that their daughter Judy is out of hospital and well enough to be back at her studies, at Lakehead University, after her car accident.

In our household, daughter Valerie Groleau enjoyed the weekend with her sister Catherine and brother Allan in Toronto. Weather was great and they were able to get a leisurely walk in, on the Boardwalk in the Beaches, as well as a dinner out on Saturday night. Does it sound like I'm jealous, well I am.

But Rene and I got to curl in the Cash Bonspiel on Saturday in Cornwall as we finally got our ice back after two breakdowns this season. We had a great time.

Bet you didn't think we'd PUBLISH this, eh Joe?

Lancaster
Janice Montreuil

Mark Saturday, Dec. 7 on your calendars now. That's the day of Lancaster's 33rd annual Santa Claus Parade. It will step off at 1 p.m. from South Beech Street (behind the Legion) and proceed along Main Street to Smithsfield Hall where Santa will hear the kiddies special wishes and give them candy.

Local school age children are reminded that they may enter and march in the parade and that each one gets a prize as well as having a chance at other bigger prizes. Why not recycle those Halloween costumes? Floats are always welcome so if you or your group wish to enter one, come on along. Pre-registration would be appreciated.

The parade is sponsored again this year by the Lancaster Service Council which is made up of volunteers from six area groups — Lancaster District Chamber of Commerce, Lancaster Legion, Lancaster Fire Department, Lancaster Recreation Department, Lancaster Optimists and the Knights of Columbus. If you are a member of any of these groups, why not get involved?

Iona hosted a volleyball tournament for senior girls this past Monday. Nine other schools were involved. Next Monday the senior boys will host a tournament involving nine others schools.

As small playground equipment (like balls, etc.) have a tendency to disappear, (I think they eat them) Iona Principal Ron McAllister is starting a drive to collect Canadian Tire money to help replace the equipment.

A big thank you to the Lancaster Optimist Club, the CPTA and the Williamstown Arena for their co-operation in paying for the use of the Williamstown arena to let Grades Senior Kindergarten to Grade 2 participate in a 10-week, learn-to-skate program. Tell her again why it's "ok" that daddy's not paying his family support.

A lot of fathers* in Ontario who are supposed to be paying family support, aren't. And it's time we got mad about it. Because they're hurting their kids – our kids – and they're hurting you and me.

It's not "ok" that over 80,000 kids are going without more than $400 million in support payments.

It's not "ok" that three-quarters of all family support isn't being paid the way it should be.

It's not "ok" that over $140 million of our tax dollars have gone to families who were forced to turn to social assistance because their support payments were not being made.

The Ontario Government's new Family Support Plan will introduce automatic wage deduction of support payments, and specify to whom and when they apply.

Because children shouldn't have to be told that daddy's not paying family support.

Please send me more information about automatic wage deduction in the new Family Support Plan Act.

Trudy Flemming attended the christening of her granddaughter in Montreal. The baby was baptized at the Naval Base Donnacona. It was a very special occasion as the water for the ceremonyy came from the Bay of Fundy. The baby was piped aboard in naval tradition as is the custom for a special person.

The parents, Cathy and Philippe and godparents Sylvie and Real were dressed in navy uniforms. Rev. Father McIntee, naval chaplain, performed the beautiful ceremony.

The honored guest was given the names — Emelie Catherine and wore the christening robe of five generations of the Flemming clan.

A reception was held in the wardroom for about 60 guests.

The Green Valley Optimist hockey club participated last Saturday in the annual Kinsmen of Glengarry Hockey Tournament. They lost their first game 5-3 to the Alexandria Richelieu Club, lost their second game 5-3 to the Maxville Lions Club but rallied to win their last game 7-3 against the Lancaster Optimist Club.

A total of 14 club members participated and for the first time won their new "Hartford Whaler" green hockey jerseys sponsored by local merchants.

I still haven't found anyone to take over writing my column. I will keep writing the column until Christmas but I'm afraid that will be the last one, for as I said before, I just don't have the time to write a quality column that Green Vallians deserve. Please call me at 525-3303 or 525-2020.

HEART AND STROKE FOUNDATION OF ONTARIO

The Heart Facts

What is a heart attack?

A heart attack is caused when rough deposits of fat, cellular debris and calcium builds up on the inside wall of the blood vessels. Blood clots attach themselves to the built-up material and restricts the blood/oxygen flow to the heart resulting in the damage of a part of the heart muscle.

For more information, contact your local chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario.

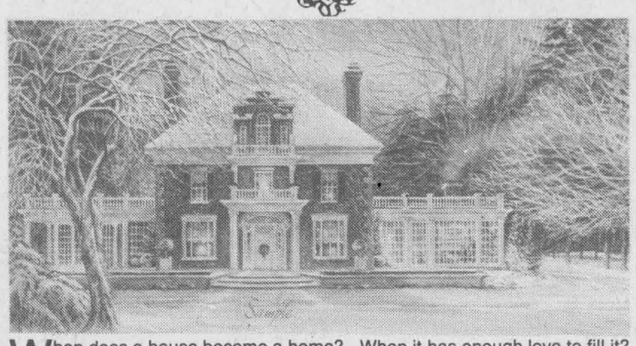
WINTER RETREAT
by Trisha Romance

Professional Picture Framers Association



When does a house become a home?...When it has enough love to fill it? Maybe when it has enough stories and memories to pass on to the next generation...when it has a history. Maybe a house becomes a home when the guest book is filled!

A home is truly the reflection of all its past owners. I would like to dedicate this painting to all those over the last 160 years who have given this house its character and whose love has made it a "home"... I present this "Winter Retreat" with great love and the joining of kindred spirits.

Thursday marked the end of an era at Char-Lan.

Seniors Catherine Hodgins, Karen Arnott, Julie MacDonald, Cheryl Proctor and Sharon Huizinga, who have helped bring a string of awards and championships to the Williamstown school (see table) played their last ever game at home.

The official reason for congregating at Char-Lan's gym last Thursday was the SDG ''A'' final between the Crusaders and the Seaway Spartans, but the truth be known this was in essence a chance for the school to salute and thank a group of players that have brought a lot to Char-Lan.

One is tempted to say it was also a chance to say goodbye but that seems a little silly considering that the girls aren't actually leaving the school quite yet. There's still the small matter of graduating from high school.

Nevertheless, there was a certain finality to Thursday's festivities, a fact that wasn't lost on the players themselves.

''The five of us have been together since midget and we're all best friends. It's kind of sad to think that we'll all be going different ways,'' said MacDonald.

''I don't know if it's really hit us yet.''

Before the game Char-Lan principal Brian Gilmour, who has never met a ceremony he didn't like, presented certificates to the five graduating players as well as coach Irv Francis, who is also leaving Char-Lan. (Ironically, he is headed to Seaway after this semester.)

A nice touch was a tribute to reserves Glenda Lauzon, Kelly Hodgins and Leslie Grant, who have been all too easy to overlook playing in the shadows of the senior starters.

Around the walls of the gym were blue and yellow painted posters singing the praises of the Char-Lan players or simply urging the Crusaders to ''Kick butt.'' (Who said you can't get a good education anymore?)

The game was almost incidental, especially when Char-Lan streaked to an early 16-0 lead on the way to a 67-26 win.

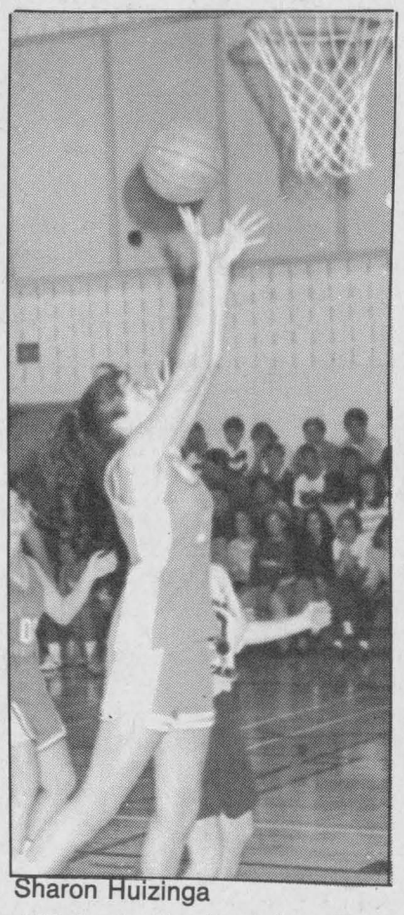
By the second quarter everyone had pretty well lost interest. The only suspense that remained was whether the students in the stands, who had decided to entertain themselves by singing rock 'n' roll tunes, would remember all the words to ''Born to be Wild.''

Meanwhile, Char-Lan continued to put the game away. A 43-12 lead at the half, 59-18 at three-quarter time.

With the game out of reach, it was time for an encore. Francis put his five starters on the floor so that they could end their home-court careers in style; together and as champions.

''There's been a lot of sentiment and emotion around this game and that's why I put Karen, Sharon and Catherine on at the end of the game. There's no way that those players were going to finish their (high school) careers on the bench,'' said Francis.

So what comes next?



Sharon Huizinga

Well, for the immediate future there's EOSSAA in Elgin this weekend, and then maybe the provincials a week later. Then it'll be time to hang up numbers 10, 11, 13, 44 and 00 for good.

As Cheryl Proctor said after the game: ''We just can't believe it's all over.''

A half-decade of Char-Lan excellence

1987

•September: Five new students begin classes at Char-Lan District High School as Grade 9's. The arrival of Catherine Hodgins and Cheryl Proctor from Williamstown Public, Karen Arnott and Sharon Huizinga from Martintown and Julie MacDonald from St.Andrews serves as the introduction to one of the most exciting and successful chapters in the history of the school.

•November: The Char-Lan midget club, which includes Julie MacDonald, Catherine Hodgins, Sharon Huizinga and Cheryl Proctor wins SDG championship. The Crusaders, coached by Irv Francis, win the title with a 15- 10 win over Rothwell-Osnabruck. The juniors, led by rookie Karen Arnott, lose in the SDG final.

•Nov. 18: Sharon Huizinga scores 16 points and Catherine Hodgins adds another 10 as the junior Crusaders record a come-from-behind 48-45 win over St.Joseph's to win the SDG title. Guard Julie MacDonald also receives special mention for her stellar play at guard. The win caps a perfect 12-0 season for the junior team.

•Nov. 18: Karen Arnott nets 19 as the seniors defeat General Vanier 68-57 to win the SDG ''A'' title. The senior Crusaders also go 12-0 through league play, the first time Char-Lan has ever produced two undefeated teams in the same season.

•Nov. 23: At the EOSSAA championships in Vankleek Hill, the senior Crusaders come up short against host VCI in the final, losing 64-55. The juniors participated at the junior EOSSAA in Kemptville, and split their two games to end up at 13-1 for the year.

•September: The year it all comes together. The quintet are united as Huizinga, Proctor, MacDonald and Hodgins move up to join Arnott on the senior squad, which is coached by Irv Francis.

•Sept. 20: With Karen Arnott out of the lineup due to injury, the Crusaders lose 42-31 to Cornwall Collegiate. The game represents the last time the senior team has lost in SDG play.

•Oct. 23: Char-Lan gets its revenge on the Raiders with a victory over CCVS. Karen Arnott gets 30 points in the win, the Crusaders' seventh straight since the season-opening loss.

•Nov. 17: The Crusaders win their second straight senior tri-county title with an easy 65-39 victory over GVSS in the SDG final. Karen Arnott leads Char-Lan scorers with 21 points, followed by Sharon Huizinga with 10 and Julie MacDonald with eight. A week later Char-Lan hosts EOSSAA but again is beaten by nemesis Vankleek Hill in the final.

•Sept. 15: Char-Lan begins what would be the team's best year to date with a 52-43 win over St.Lawrence in the final of a pre-season tournament.

•Oct. 3: Karen Arnott scores 40 points in a 64-46 win over Cornwall Collegiate. The team's SDG win streak hits 15 games.

•Oct. 30: It's now 20 in a row as the Crusaders dump Rothwell-Osnabruck 63-26. Karen Arnott and Catherine Hodgins are top scorers in the game.

•Nov. 6: Three players hit for double figures as the Crusaders wrap up a 10-0 season with a 75-50 win over, again, CCVS. Top scorers are Karen Arnott (30), Sharon Huizinga (19) and Cheryl Proctor (14).

•Nov. 19: Crusaders make it a hat trick in SDG finals against General Vanier with a 58-44 win over the Vikings. Char-Lan is led by K.A. with 20, S.H. with 14 and C.P. and J.M. with eight each.

•Nov. 24: No one, not even VCI, can stop the Crusaders this time around at EOSSAA. Char-Lan finally beats the Rebels at the regional championships, with a 49-46 squeaker in the semi-final. The final is an anticlimax as Char-Lan wins 52-31 over Rideau. The Crusaders finish fifth at the provincial championships a week later in Peterborough.

•Sept. 18: The Crusaders' five seniors begin their farewell tour with a 58-17 romp over General Vanier. Karen Arnott, who scored 33 points in the win, has the eyes of CJOH on her as the Ottawa television station takes some footage for a high school athlete of the week feature.

•Oct. 22: Despite being without Sharon Huizinga, having Cheryl Proctor foul out and Catherine Hodgins being at less than 100 per cent because of illness, the Crusaders beat La Citadelle 57-46. Karen Arnott, herself suffering from a bruised elbow, nets 40 points in the win.

•Oct. 30: The Glengarry News announces that Char-Lan has lost to itself. Have the league's other teams packed it in and conceded victory to the girls from Williamstown? Are the Crusaders reduced to playing amongst themselves in search of a competitive game of hoops? Nope, just a typographical error. The headline ''Char-Lan stops C-L'' should have read ''Char-Lan stops S-L'' as in St.Lawrence. The Crusaders win 58-37 over the Saints for their 30th consecutive SDG victory

•Nov. 8: Sharon Huizinga has a career game as the Crusaders wrap up another 10-0 campaign. Huizinga nets 37 as fellow Twin Tower Karen Arnott sits out

•Nov. 14: Sharon, Karen, Cheryl, Catherine and Julie play their last ever game in Williamstown as Crusaders. Char-Lan wins another SDG title, its fourth straight at the senior level, as they coast past Seaway 67-26. Arnott scores 27, Proctor nets 12, Huizinga nine, MacDonald eight and Hodgins six in the win. As a team on the senior level, the quintet turn in a 35-1 record in three years of SDG play. Arnott goes undefeated in four years of senior play, having missed Char-Lan's only loss in that time because of an injury.

•(Almost) final tally: Over five years the five girls have produced or been a part of: six SDG titles, 24 out of a possible 25 championship medals (only Arnott's '87 junior team missed out on a tri-county title), one (so far) EOSSAA title, four undefeated seasons and an active 35- game winning streak.

Stars shine against SDG Nomads

The Glengarry Stars are the only 2-0 team after two weeks of Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League play after the Stars pounded on the SDG Nomads to the tune of a 10-2 victory.

Darryll Hay scored a hat trick for the Stars while Victor Denobriga and Robert Meth added two each.

Singles went to Rob Starkauskas, Wade McNaughton and Randy Gebbie.

For the Nomads, who may soon decide to move on after being outscored 16-3 in their first two games, it was Robin Basara and Frank Hakvoort.

The only other undefeated team after two weeks is Rudi Payer Sports who picked up a tie against Cornwall F.I.S.T. to go along with a win in week one.

Greg Deschamps scored with less than a minute remaining to give Payer the tie. Ben Pye was the only other Payer player to beat F.I.S.T. goalie Tim Snyder, who was outstanding.

Danny Trottier scored both Cornwall goals.

In the other game, the Ingleside Strikers won their first game since February of 1990 when they defeated the U2's 3-1.

Ironically, Ingleside's last victory before Monday also came at the expense of the U2's. Last year the Strikers were 0-13-1.

* * *

In Cornwall Indoor Soccer action, Kirk Hill moved into first place in the women's division by beating previously undefeated Jovana's 5-3. Kelly Morris scored twice for Kirk Hill with singles going to Wendy Hay, Carolyn Cameron and Brenda Golden.

Glengarry's other team in the ladies' division, M and H Hearts, lost 2-1 to Bergeron U-16 as Heather Campbell had the only Hearts tally.

In men's play, Rudi's Sport defeated Glengarry Power 6-4. For Rudi's it was Greg Deschamps with four goals and Pieter Bosschers and Bruce Tessier with one each.

Peewee Glens win Cornwall tourney

The Alexandria atom and peewee travelling minor hockey teams took part in tournaments over the weekend, and both clubs reached the finals of their respective tourneys.

The peewees were winners of a competition in Cornwall, while the atoms were runners-up in the Pembroke Regional Silver Stick Tournament.

Peewees take Cornwall title

The Glens avenged an earlier loss to North Glen-Stor in the tournament by beating the Braves 3-2 in the final.

Marc Laferriere, Scott Nielsen and Jason Poirier scored to give Alexandria a 3-0 lead with 11:29 left in the third and then the Glens had to hold on as Jamie Rolland scored two power play goals to narrow the gap to a single goal with 6:56 remaining.

Alexandria had another nail-biter to reach the final when they beat Char-Lan 4-3 in overtime in the semi-final. Chancey Lajoie bagged the OT winner for the Glens.

Other Alexandria scorers were Jason Poirier with two and Marc Laferriere.

In the round-robin portion of the tourney, the Glens defeated Prince Edward County 3-2 (Chancey Lajoie with all three goals) and Cornwall 4-3 (Jason Poirier with three goals, Pascal Decoeur with one).

Their only loss was a 4-2 decision dropped to NGS. Jason Poirier and Marc Laferriere scored for Alexandria.

The Glens didn't waste any time celebrating their tournament win as they were scheduled to play Clarence Creek at home on Sunday evening.

Alexandria won 5-1 with goals going to Frank Lortie, Chancey Lajoie (two each) and Marc Laferriere.

Atoms lose in final

Alexandria reached the final by defeating Napanee 1-0 in the semis. Gyslain Valade was the lone goal scorer.

In preliminary games, Alexandria defeated Kanata 5-0 (Eric Leroux with a hat trick, Gregory Lalonde and Michel Quesnel) and Petawawa 9-0 (Timothy Van Overbeek-3, Kurt MacSweyn, Jamie Ladouceur, Gregory Lalonde, Gyslain Valade, Cameron Lajoie and Nicholas Prieur).

In their third preliminary game the Glens lost 4-2 to host Pembroke. Timothy Van Overbeek and Gregory Lalonde scored for Alexandria.

Novices win

The Knights of Colombus Novice Glens were in league action on Sunday and claimed a 4-2 victory over Cornwall on home ice.

Juniors win a title of their own

The Char-Lan junior girls victory over Rothwell-Osnabruck on Thursday to claim the SDG ''A'' basketball crown was pretty typical of the team's entire season; top-notch performance without a lot of fanfare.

The huge crowd that had turned out to watch the seniors in action in their league final had headed for home by the time the juniors tipped off. The pep band had packed away their instruments and the banners on the walls bore the names of Karen, Cathy and Julie, not Angela, Vicky and Tania.

None of that mattered in the end however as the junior Crusaders shot the lights out in the first quarter, building an early 20-6 lead en route to a 46- 22 win.

Katherine MacLachlan was the top gunner for Char-Lan with 18 points, followed by 11 for Vicky Peacey and nine for Cathy Pilon.

For R-O coach Bob Thompson, who saw half of his team's losses this year come at the hands of the Crusaders, it was too much to take.

''They didn't miss a shot in the first quarter,'' said Thompson, shaking his head. ''We were out of it before we even started.''

The Lancers three previous losses to the Crusaders were much closer affairs, but Thompson said Char-Lan had a key edge over his team.

''They're all big and strong and they can all shoot well,'' he said, putting it in a nutshell. ''I'm not too upset with my team for losing to them. I think (Char-Lan) will win at EOSSAA.''

While the senior counterparts have made winning championships a routine affair, this was the first time around for most of the junior players.

''I feel amazing,'' said forward Angela Smith, one of the team's key players throughout the season. ''I was really nervous but watching the seniors play put us in a winning mood.

When asked what makes this Char-Lan team so good, Smith responds with a big-we, little-me approach.

''We win because of teamwork. We always play as a team and not as individuals. There isn't just one person who can score, everyone can.''

The juniors will take part in the Eastern Ontario championships this Friday.

Hunt for first is on as Alexandria wins games against leaders

A week ago the Alexandria Glens were one game over .500 and six points behind Morrisburg and Winchester, the first place teams in the St.Lawrence Division.

Today the Glens are within two points of both clubs after back-to-back wins aginst the Hawks and Lions.

Winchester does have one game in hand while Morrisburg has two. The two clubs will go head to head this Friday.

The Glens have served notice that they want to make the divisional race a three-team affair.

"All summer long and in the preseason everybody has been saying that Winchester and Morriburg would be the teams to beat, and I still think that's true," said Glens coach Kirk Anderson.

"I think people will have to add Alexandria to that list, now."

Glens dump Hawks

It was a very different Alexandria team that travelled to Winchester on Friday than the one which hosted the Hawks two weeks ago.

For one thing goaltender Yves Leger played in his first game with the Glens after spending some time with the CJHL's Hawkesbury Hawks.

Leger was outstanding in stopping 49 of 51 shots in the Glens' 6-2 victory.

The game also marked the return of defenseman Jason Boyer, also from Hawkesbury. Boyer had a solid game defensively and chipped in offensively with two assists.

The third new face was centreman Alan Fitzgerald who scored once and assisted on two other goals and played well on a line with Andrew Sauve and Pascal Joanette.

Of course the guys who have been around all year long weren't exactly dragging their feet either.

Together it added up to the team's best all-round effort this year.

"Yeah, I'd say so," said Anderson afterwards. "The games we've been losing like last week against Char-Lan (a 7-6 loss) and Westport (a 5-2 setback) the players were waiting until the last 10 minutes to try and win the game.

"Tonight I don't think there was any period that really stood out, they were pretty solid all game long."

Winchester coach Peter DeRooy conceded that Alexandria was the better team on this night.

"We had 51 shots (compared to 31 for Alexandria) but I think they pretty well dominated," said DeRooy.

"They played very well and they were obviously well prepared. As far as we're concerned, we just didn't put the puck in the net. (The Glens) were the better team."

DeRooy said goaltending might have been the difference in the end.

"We've added a new goalie, a new defenseman and a new forward; you figure it out," he said.

Anderson added that he had a good idea that the late additions would be coming eventually, although he admits he was getting a little edgy about exactly when they'd arrive.

"We've pretty much got our team now," he said.

"I'm confident about the position we're in. We're building a good foundation and I think we can only improve. Sometimes when you're in first the bottom can fall out pretty quick."

Morrisburg rally falls short

For two periods on Sunday, it appeared that Alexandria was going to hand the Morrisburg Lions its worst defeat of the season.

In the end, a 6-0 laugher became a 6-5 nail-biter as the Glens had to hold off a Morrisburg charge until the very end.

The Lions ended the game on the power play and after pulling goalie Jeff Hopkins had six skaters to Alexandria's four in an effort to get the equalizer.

The only question more baffling than how could the Glens almost blow a six- goal lead is how could Morrisburg, who entered the game with a 10-2 record, have been behind 6-0 in the first place?

The answer agreed upon by both Morrisburg coach Doug Casselman and Alexandria bench boss Kirk Anderson is refereeing.

"Officiating like that is absolutely unbelievable," said Casselman. "When all you do is look cross-eyed at someone and you get a penalty it just kills a hockey game."

Referee Dave Leger called thirty minor penalties overall, 17 of them to Alexandria, leading to seven power play goals by the two clubs.

"I could understand if there was a lot of high-sticking going on but these two teams usually play pretty good hockey," said the Lions' coach.

"Alexandria got nailed (with penalties) in the third just like we did in the second."

The Lions had eight minors called against them in the middle stanza, leading to three power play markers by the Glens.

On the other hand, Alexandria was whistled for seven infractions in the third, and Morrisburg responded with three extra-man tallies of their own to force their way back into the game.

Anderson agreed that the referee had a lot to do with the closer than expected finish, but he didn't remove all the blame away from his skaters either.

"It looked like a Chinese fire drill out there," remarked Anderson about his team's running around in the third period. The Glens were outshot 26-13 in the final twenty minutes of play.

It was a completely different game in the first two periods as the Glens outshot the Lions 43-34 in amassing the 6-0 lead.

Alan Fitzgerald scored twice for the Glens with singles going to Serge Bellefeuille, Marc Sauve, Stephane Nadeau and Benoit Frappier.

The newcomer Fitzgerald, who played for Alexandria last year in the playoffs, has made a quick assessment of the Glens.

"We've got a strong nucleus from last year and this is a good bunch of guys. I think we'll be tough to beat," he said.

Fitzgerald has scored four goals in three games so far with Alexandria, but easily could have had twice that total with the number of chances he's created for himself with his speed.

"These are my first three games in two-and-a-half months so I'm a little rusty but it'll come.

"We've got a good line with a good bump-and-grind winger in Andrew Sauve and a good centreman in Pascal (Joanette). We've got three guys who can skate, pass and shoot."

Glenformation: A clarification on a note from last week. Luc Francoeur says his studies in Ottawa make it impossible for him to join the team full time but has offered to help the team out during the Christmas holidays if the Glens run into injury difficulties...Welcome to the Glens: Goalie Yves Leger faced 111 shots in his first two games with Alexandria...The Glens host Brockville on Friday.

Decoste earns first point of year

Decoste Welding picked up its first point of the year in Alexandria and District Industrial Hockey League play in Maxville on Saturday when they fought to a 7-7 tie with Glengarry Windows and Doors.

Kelly Taylor and Sylvain Levert netted a pair of goals each for Decoste. The other two markers were provided by Guy Boyer and Steven Stewart. Guy Poirier had two assists.

For Glengarry W and D, who had scored the apparent game winner with 1:10 left on the clock only to have Decoste reply with Doiron's goal, Maurice Leduc led the offense with two goals and an assist.

Meanwhile, in other games, Brown House and Dick's Paving Stone continued their close battle for first place in the league standings.

Brown House maintained their one point lead at the top as both teams won their games on Saturday.

Brown House got a pair of goals from Gaetan Dupuis as the league leaders held on for a 4-3 win over Alexandria Legion.

Dupuis' second of the game with 8:03 left in the third period gave Brown House a 4-1 lead. A couple of late Legion goals was too little, too late.

Richard Picard and Andre Seguin had the other Brown House tallies. Seguin figured in all four Brown House goals by assisting on the other three tallies.

Dick's Paving, on the other hand, had little trouble with Ernie's Cement, getting hat tricks from Bugs Sauve and Mark Titley in a 9-3 victory.

Warriors lose in semi-final

The Tagwi junior boys volleyball team has seen their season come to an end, but not before the Warriors turned in a good showing at the Eastern Ontario Championships last Wednesday at North Grenville.

Tagwi qualified for the semifinal before losing to Sharbot Lake, the eventual EOSSAA champions 8-15, 15-7 and 15-12.

Earlier in the tournament the Warriors split a couple of matches, beating Athens 15-11, 10-15 and 15-13 and losing in consecutive sets to Embrun 15-7 and 15-7.

Isles come back to beat "undisciplined" Rebels

Char-Lan's Danik Roy fires a shot wide of Gananoque goalie Paul MacDonald in second period action on Saturday night. The Rebels blew a 4-1 lead to the Islanders and lost 6-5 in OT.

The Rebs blew a 4-1 lead after one period and eventually lost the game 6-5 in overtime.

Coach Randy Larocque said the early lead and the resulting complacency were the main factors which led to the team's collapse.

"We were like the provincial government out there... we had our own giveaway program," said Larocque.

The coach was visibly frustrated with the number of penalties his team took, particularly in the second period when the Islanders used their power play to climb back into the game.

"There was just no discipline at all. I think it's a case of this team (Char-Lan) just thinking it's better than it actually is.

"They got too comfortable with the lead and they started taking selfish penalties."

Char-Lan gave the early impression that this was going to be an easy two points when they scored twice in the first 2:22 of the game. Shane McDonell and Danik Roy scored to give the Rebels an early 2-0 cushion.

The Islanders cut the lead in half two minutes later and had a golden opportunity to bury Char-Lan when they received a nine-minute power play after a string of penalties were assessed to Reb Dan Brisson after he had mugged a Gananoque player.

But Gananoque could only manage five shots and one or two good scoring opportunities as the Char-Lan penalty-killers did an outstanding job in short- circuiting the Islander power play.

Dan Desjardins was particularly outstanding during the prolonged shorthanded stretch, as he blocked at least three shots over the course of the nine minutes.

After the penalty was finally over, Desjardins and Bobby Bowles scored to make it 4-1 Rebels.

Then the aforementioned penalty problems set in, and the Isles used the power play to take a 5-4 lead on four unanswered goals in the middle frame. The visiting team then played tight-fisted hockey the rest of the way, and the Rebs weren't able to score again until there was less than four minutes left in the third period when Pat Carriere tied the game.

The teams then played out the string to force overtime, where the Islanders only needed 23 seconds to score the winner.

Losing a big lead is bad enough but losing to a team like Gananoque is particularly painful.

For the first eight games of the season (all losses), the Gananoque team was the sorriest bunch of Islanders since Gilligan, the Skipper and company went on a three-hour tour.

The win over Char-Lan was Gananoque's second in a row however, and Islanders manager Dave Truesdell said he expects better things from his team in the near future.

"We had a lot of young players to start the year but I think we're starting to turn the corner now," he said.

"I expect the team to be challenging Brockville (for first in the Rideau) by Christmas."

The team's December schedule, with nine games slated, will be an important stretch for the team, said Truesdell.

Meanwhile, the Rebels have their sights set on catching fourth-place Kemptville, and Saturday's loss (the Rebs do get a point for losing in OT) leaves them three points behind the 73's with two games in hand.

Rebel Yells: St.Hubert game stars were forward Dan Desjardins (a goal, top-notch penalty killing) and defenseman Derek Duchesne (three assists). Take your pick as to which was offensive and which was defensive star... Kevin Duchesne still has not returned to the Rebels line-up as he continues to recuperate from a knee injury... The Rebs have a very rare weekend off with no games slated until Wednesday, Nov. 27 in Brockville.

Columbia tops Mario's

Columbia notched a pair of wins last week to move ahead of Mario's in the Char-Lan minor broomball standings.

This year the league is operating with only one level with an all-inclusive age category involving both boys and girls.

On Sunday, Columbia defeated Mario's 8-6 on the strength of a three-goal performance by Gary Benson. Corey Valade and Chris Hope added two goals each for the winners.

For Mario's, Paul Seguin scored a hat trick while Sylvain Sabourin scored twice. Bryan Parker had the other goal and added three assists.

On Tuesday Columbia won 5-2 as Gary Benson (3) and Corey Valade (2) scored all the goals for the winning team. Martin Bourdeau and Denis Pilon picked up assists.

For Mario's, Shawn Fields scored both goals, with assists going to Paul Seguin and Joanne Legault.

Columbia now has a record of 5-3-2 compared to 3-5-2 for Mario's.

Leclair is flying high for Aviation

Cornwall Aviation's Charles Leclair scored four goals last week as his team split a pair of Char-Lan minor hockey atom division house league games last week.

Leclair had a hat trick on Sunday as Aviation defeated the Glengarry Kinsmen, whose only goal came from Scott MacKenzie, 3-1.

On Saturday, Leclair again took care of the Aviation offense but this time it wasn't enough as the team lost 2-1 to McCuaig Plumbing. Chris Malyon scored twice for the winners.

On Sunday, McCuaig tied Munro Fertilizer 3-3. McCuaig scorers were Chris Malyon, Stephen Lefebvre and Darryl Major. For Munro it was Sylvain Matte with two and Jason Varrin with one.

In the other atom game played over the weekend, the Kinsmen defeated Munro 2-1. Kirk MacMillan and Jordan Flaro scored for Kinsmen while Sylvain Matte replied for Munro.

House league peewee

On Saturday in peewee play, Kalrim Cycle and Sports tied 2-2 with Longevity. Geoffrey McLean and Ian Main scored for Kalrim while Trevor Atchison and Daniel Gillespie had the Longevity goals.

Meanwhile, the RCAFA girls team, which is playing Char-Lan's house league teams in a unique arrangement, defeated MacDonald Groceries 4-2. Rachel Denner scored twice for RCAFA with singles going to Deanna Tarbell and Heather Cook.

Earlier in the week, RCAFA beat Longevity 3-2 as Heather Cook scored twice and Dominique Laroche once. Joel Plamondon had both Longevity tallies.

Finally, Martin Bombardier recorded a shutout as Kalrim beat MacDonald 5-0. Geoffrey McLean and Alain Lapierre had two goals each for Kalrim. Ian Main had the other goal.

Bantam-midget results

In other action Monday Malyon beat Mac's Marina 5-1 as Paul St-Denis and Greg MacDonald scored twice each.

Travelling team results

The peewees competed in a tournament in Cornwall over the weekend, and the team recorded three victories in four games.

The Rebels defeated Rockland 5-1, as Eric Matte (2), Kevin O'Farrell, Jamie Lemire and Tim Corput scored. Char-Lan also beat Cumberland, by a score of 1- 0, as Stephane Loyer scored the only goal.

The Rebs' third win was a 5-2 triumph over Prescott. Scorers were Kent McDonell, Chris Roy, Stephane Loyer, Jamie Lemire and Darryl Knight.

Char-Lan lost 4-3 to Alexandria in overtime as Brent Lauzon, with two, and Kent McDonell provided the offense.

The atom Rebels didn't score in two games last week but still managed a tie. The atoms tied Embrun 0-0 as Tim McCuaig got a shutout but lost 2-0 to South Stormont.

The novices won both their contests as Graham Charbonneau had five goals in two games.

Charbonneau had three in a 4-2 over St.Isidore (Blake Roy had the other goal) and scored twice, as did Jonah Leroux, in a 4-1 victory over Embrun.

Finally, in midget play, Char-Lan defeated Cornwall 5-3 as Hamish MacDonell scored twice.

Oh brother! Seguins help sink Kinsmen

Brothers Leonard and Leo Seguin combined for five goals as Champions remained undefeated in the Kinsmen Border League with a 7-4 win over Kinsmen on Sunday.

Leonard scored three times while Leo had a pair of tallies. Other Champions players to light the lamp were Charlie Titley and Tom Pasco.

Ron MacDonald provided three-fourths of the Kinsmen attack by notching a hat trick while a single by Randy McDonell rounded out the scoring.

The victory allows Champions to open up a seven-point lead over Kinsmen for first spot in the league standings. Champs is the only club with an above .500 record.

In the other Sunday game, Tri-County Windows doubled Dalhousie 8-4 as Mike Lapensee scored four times. Gerry Blanchette scored twice.

"New team" now in second

Titley has a new sponsor and a new place in the Ladies Sponge Puck League standings.

The team, now backed by MacMillan Insurance, went past Tapis Richard into second place by beating Tapis 3-0 last Wednesday night.

Shirley Hay, Annie St-Denis and Lisa Poirier scored the goals for MacMillan, who improves their league record to 5-2-1. The win puts them one point ahead of Tapis, who drop to 5-3.

M & D 1 LC Electric 0

LC Electric is the other league team with a new sponsor, but unlike MacMillan, couldn't muster a win in first game under a different name.

That's hardly surprising however because the team, formerly known as Maxville, hasn't won a game all year long.

LC lost 1-0 to M & D Sports as Julie Seguin's second period goal was the only offense of the game.

The rest of the game was a goaltending duel between M & D's Sylvette Decoste, who records the shutout, and LC's Joy Blanchard.

M & D improves to 3-5 while LC is now 0-8.

Art Benton 6 SunLife 3

In a league where shutouts are as common as rain in November, Art Benton's 6-3 win over SunLife qualifies as a veritable shootout.

The ice must have been tilted towards the west end of the arena because that's where all the scoring took place.

Art Benton built a 4-0 lead after one period thanks to two goals by Ginette Lalonde and one each by Sue Delage and Barb Benton.

SunLife came to life in the second, reducing Benton's lead to one goal as Jeannine Lalonde scored twice and Sylvie Menard once.

Benton, who remain in first place with the win, iced the game with third period goals by Donna MacGregor and Marie Bellemare.

Cottage loss tightens race

Rob Waldorf collected a hat trick to lead Maxville Farm Machinery to a 4-2 victory over Bar Cottage on Sunday in SD& No-contact Broomball League action.

Marc Sauve had a goal and two assists to help the Maxville cause. Richard Fontaine had two assists.

Gilbert Pilon notched both tallies for Bar Cottage.

The loss was only the second of the year for Bar Cottage, and combined with a win by Fontaine Construction, tightens the race for first place in the East Divison.

Fontaine 7 Glen. Insulation 1

Fontaine won for the fourth time this year, against only one loss and three ties, as they overwhelmed Glengarry Insulation 7-1.

Rick Filion and Ray Fontaine with two goals and an assist each and Ray Lepine with a goal and three assists led the offensive charge for Fontaine.

Other goal scorers were Ray Filion and Barry Benton.

BMR 3 King's 1

BMR broke into the win column after going winless in their first seven games with a 3-1 win over King's Whitewashing.

Mario Quenneville's tally with 4 minutes left in the first turned out to be the game-winning goal for BMR, who now move ahead of Ingleside Lanes, the only remaining winless team, into fourth place in the West.

Monkland 9 Ingleside 0

The Monkland Kings, in first place in the West, wasted little time or effort against Ingleside Lanes, scoring three times in the first and on five occasions in the third en route to a 9-0 win.

Steve Harps had three goals and three assists for Monkland while Greg Cooper chipped in with two tallies.

Other King marksmen were Don Massia, Ray Beaulieu, Sandy McLeod and Ray Robinson. Keith Presley made the Monkland crease Heartbreak Hotel for Ingleside shooters by recording the shutout.

Besner 2 Crites 0

Sasha Grant and Maurice Seguin scored in the first period and Besner's defense and goaltending did the rest in shutting down the Crites offense the rest of the way.

Minor bantam Rapids bring halt to skid

The Seaway Valley Miller's Funeral Home Minor Bantam AA Rapids ended a four game losing streak with a 10-2 win over Nepean on Sunday in Maxville in ODHA action.

Kelsey Lemire led the Rapids attack with three goals. Other Seaway scorers were Troy Brownell (2), Joel Menard, Scott Leslie, Andre Carriere, Ewan Thompson and Peter Dittburner.

On Sunday, the Rapids lost 2-1 to Gatineau as Marc Dupuis scored the only Seaway goal.

On Tuesday (Nov. 12) the Rapids edged Hull 4-3 as Matthew Gray notched a pair. Eric Landry and Matthew Poulin had the other Rapids tallies.

Seaway is now 5-8-3.

Sauve named president

Alexandria realtor Maurice Sauve has been elected as the president of the Ontario Marathon Canoe Racing Association. He presided over his first planning meeting over the weekend in Lindsay, Ont.

During his term, Sauve hopes to make the coming year the best ever in the province and says he hopes to significantly increase the number of paddlers.

He is hoping for a boom in interest throughout the province similar to the one which occured in this area, where a number of local competitors have gained prominence in the sport of late.

Sauve, who has been involved with the sport for 17 years, will see two major competitions going on in the province in the coming year.

The Ontario Championships will be held in Lakefield, just east of Peterborough and the Canadian Championships are in Ottawa in 1992.

Villa residents advised on legal matters

Just for Seniors

Hello everyone! Here we are once again, ready and willing to share our news with the community. We think it's a wonderful way to let the public know how everyone is in our homes.

* * *

The month of October went by very quickly and we know the reason why. We kept ourselves in the fast lane, keeping up with the rest of the work. During this month, we had a visit from our Judicial Court Representative who informed us well on matters of wills and testaments and power of attorney. Also in the same week, our seniors received their flu shot from the Health Unit nurses who so graciously came to the premises. We had visits from our electoral candidates who answered any questions that concerned the seniors.

* * *

One special occasion that deserves a mention was the farewell party that was hosted by the residents for Mrs. Madeleine Chartrand-Laflamme.

Mrs. Laflamme has opted for an early retirement and the folks wanted to send her off in style. Meeting and nomination of two representatives later, they presented her with their token of love. It was a very touching and emotional affair and it was done with absolute tenderness and pride.

As she came into the room a presentation bouquet of roses and ivy was presented to her by Mrs. Rosa Beriault on behalf of the Palace; a plaque, with expressions of gratitude, was presented by Donat Saucier, representing the Villa.

Our friend Duncan MacDonald proposed the toast to her good health and happy retirement. Duncan spoke from the heart when he thanked her for her kindness and devotion towards one and all. A decorated cake bidding her "Good Luck" was rolled in and the party began. Menfolk had a dance with her, as a matter of fact, so did the womanfolk. Many a tear had to fall but their good wishes were delivered nonetheless. We shall miss her as our director but she will be missed more as our friend and counsellor. She promised to visit often. God bless you, madame!

* * *

Something else that is new in our houses is the arrival of Mlle. Lucie Seguin. Lucie is a final year student in Social Work — Gerontology at La Cité in Cornwall and has chosen our workplace to do her fieldwork stage. Lucie's objectives are in many forms but one very strong point on her part is one on one counselling with the residents. She observes their day to day routine and is accumulating valued information in order to assess in what area there is a demand for improvement to a better quality of life. We're very proud to have her with us and she brings with her new ideas and techniques that we hope to incorporate in our daily living. Welcome, Lucie and good luck!

* * *

Birthdays for the month of October were plentiful. Mrs. Marie Julien, Mrs. Margaret Mulcahy, Mrs. Ursula Kolada, Mrs. Marjorie MacGillis, Gregory MacDonell, Leopold Ranger, Duncan MacDonald. We celebrated their birthdays in style on Halloween Day with a costume party. We had a blast of a time as usual, with folks dressed as pirates, kitten, guisha girl, princesses, and baby Huey. Some just wore crazy hats. We had two visitors drop in on us and the plot thickened as we all tried to figure out the persons inside the mask. They were two live wires and just brought the party to full life. Our musicians, Pat Howses and Roger Hamelin just kept them in step. They even tried dancing the twist . . . Special thanks to the two unknown masqueraders and double thanks to Pat and Roger.

* * *

Our sympathy goes to the family and friends of Anna Maija Kahilahti who died on Oct. 10, 1991. Anna lived with us at the Palace and she is sadly missed. Anna has a daughter Twila who lives in Alexandria. Anna was one of those rare gems who appreciated everything and everyone around her. She was born in Finland and spoke five languages fluently. She was heard a few times singing "You are my sunshine" which made us all smile. Thank you, Anna, for your heritage. Having you share our lives, we learned about another country which we wouldn't have known had you not come to our place.

* * *

A little humor in parting as they say: "Laughter does matter" — The census-taker asked the woman her age. "Well I was 18 when I married and my husband was 30. Now he's 60 — twice as old as he was then. That makes me 36!

Taken from the L.D.M. collection by Marjorie Mann.

There are new parents in the area. Brenda and Scott MacMillan are proud parents of a baby boy born on Nov. 16.

* * *

We have also had some people in hospital and all our best wishes for complete recoveries; William D. MacLeod is home from Alexandria hospital, Denise DeGraaf, Breadalbane is home from Hawkesbury and Dr. A. Lanthier is a patient in Hawkesbury.

* * *

Sympathy is extended to Olive Fraser and her family on the death of William, which occurred in Cornwall on Nov. 12.

* * *

On Nov. 9 the Lucien Binette Pool Tournament was held at a local restaurant. Sixteen players took part and the "A" winner was Alain Girard with runner-up Michel Duval. "B" winner was Roland Leroux with runner-up Ginette Binette. Trophies were presented.

* * *

The Laggan Moooos 4 Milk had Glengarry Dairy Princess Angela Vogel, as guest at their meeting at Laggan school. The members prepared whole wheat pancakes for refreshments.

The final meeting of the "Fantastic Financial Freaks" was held at the home of their leader Lynda Heinsma with Kendra Allen as guest speaker. Kendra is a bank employee in Ottawa, so she spoke on banking services. Ian MacNaughton thanked the speaker and presented her with a gift.

Achievement activities will be held for these 4-H clubs at GDHS on Nov. 28 at 7 p.m.

The Glengarry 4-H group participating in the "Hays Classic" at the Royal last weekend included Christie Howes, and Joey Cline, Martintown, Kris MacLeod, Ian Fraser, McCrimmon, Amy MacEwen, Maxville, Wes MacGillivray, Breadalbane. Co-operation in the group was good with the older members helping the younger ones.

Kirk Hill UCW met in the church hall on Nov. 5. Vivien Campbell, Karen MacLeod, Enid MacNaughton, Rhonda MacLeod and Lillian Crooks conducted the worship service. The guest speakers were Lillian and Murray Howes, who showed slides and told of their trips to Japan, Spain and Portugal. It was very interesting and informative. Lunch and a business session followed.

Culligan Water Conditioning

THE FUTURE CALLS FOR CULLIGAN

1440 Tenth St. E. 932-8044

In a perfect world, ordinary tap water would be just water and nothing but. Unfortunately, water goes through many changes before reaching your home. It may have started as rain, picking up air pollutants as it fell. Water seeping into the ground can dissolve organic and inorganic substances and carry them into wells and reservoirs. Industrial by-products may be discharged or leach into rivers and lakes. All of these contaminants can eventually get into tap water in many ways. For example, rainwater washes natural organic substances, insecticides, fertilizers and other chemicals into urban water supplies. Industrial by-products such as acids, caustics, hydrocarbons, PCB's and solvents are released into the air, then brought to earth by rain. Increasing amounts of industrial waste,sewage and garbage make it difficult to keep pollutants out of municipal water supplies.

Water softening systems do make a big difference to your domestic life. It softens and conditions the water, making it more economical, efficient and pleasant for everyday use. Regardless of where your water supply comes from, it is virtually never entirely soft or pure without softening services.

CULLIGAN sells, rents and services more water conditioners than any other company in the world and treat water seriously. CULLIGAN in Cornwall offers a wide range of products encompassing automatic water softeners, electronic water conditioner, iron filters, purification systems, taste and odor control, drinking water systems such as reverse osmosis systems, water dispensers and distillers, water coolers, bottled drinking water and a salt delivery service.

We highly recommend CULLIGAN WATER CONDITIONING who have it all: products and service you can trust with a reputation built on service.

THE FRESH ONES IN CORNWALL

10 Montreal Rd. 938-6798
1916 Pitt 932-1170
812 Pitt 936-1602

To be successful in the very competitive donut shop field, one must implement certain factors to ensure the company's existance. Some factors that we look for in such a business include a varied selection of donuts to favour everyone's tastes and they must have been baked fresh that day. From 7 to 9 a.m. seems to be one of the busiest times for donut and coffee shops, so fast service from the staff is essential in order for the customer to maintain his or her busy schedule. Finally, the coffee, which is often labelled as the oil that makes the Canadian brain run smoothly, should always be just brewed and served piping hot. LE VILLAGE DONUTS has catered to these requirements, and is the ideal place for you to meet your friends and for fast take-out while on the go.

LE VILLAGE DONUTS is locally owned by RICK BRAZEAU who took over the business 4 years ago.

GROWING WITH YOU AND YOURS

321 Second St. W., Cornwall 932-7350
Long Sault 534-8381

Credit unions have emerged in Canada as unique financial institutions offering similar services to the banks, but with a personal touch. Each and every member is a shareholder and profits are used to offer members the best possible terms, interest rates and service charges each individual credit union can manage. Credit unions can respond to your financial needs faster because decisions are not made in some distant head office, but at a local level.

HOWARD SMITH (CORNWALL) CREDIT UNION LTD. offer such services as Chequing and Savings Accounts, Personal Loans, Term Deposits, Payroll Deductions, Money Orders, Traveller's Cheques, RRSP's and ABM automated banking machine.

It's easy to join! Membership is open to anyone living in, or working in Morrisburg, Cornwall and Long Sault area serving a 50 km radius.

These offices are managed by DENIS EMPRINGHAM, manager and DOUG MacMILLAN, assistant manager. HOWARD SMITH (CORNWALL) CREDIT UNION LTD. has built an excellent reputation since opening as people see them as a financial centre with a difference. Credit unions are basically self-help organizations. They are a way for a group of individuals to pool their savings and their investment needs in a way that the saver gets good return on their money and the borrowers benefit from competitive rates. Each shareholder benefits from the best possible interest rates, terms and service charges each credit union can manage.

When dealing with a credit union, there is a significant element of local control. We feel that this local control as well as personalized service will always be the difference between credit unions and banks. By having a locally centered financial institution competing with a centrally located organization, the consumer is better served. When dealing with them, you are going to get a more humane service rather than being swallowed up by a large financial institution. The financial services along with "old fashioned" personalized attention is why HOWARD SMITH (CORNWALL) CREDIT UNION warrants a top recommendation from us to our readers.

BOURK'S Ignition Ltd.

WHOSE CUSTOMERS RETURN FOR MORE GOOD SERVICE

447 - 11 St. W. 932-1194

Today's cars are loaded with high tech components never dreamed of by the average motorist 15 years ago. Electronics and computerization have virtually taken over ignition, fuel delivery, carburetion, transmission, emission or climate control, and in some luxury models, the suspension and brakes.

Complex auto systems such as these require specialized training and sophisticated service equipment. BOURK'S IGNITION LTD. has expert technicians with equipment such as a computerized engine analyzer which performs a multitude of tests. With the proper equipment and trained mechanics, this firm can provide what motorists have always looked for; that's servicing done quickly and accurately.

While there are many reasons a car won't start, in most cases the problem can be found in either the electrical system or in the fuel system. Black exhaust smoke is often due to the faulty carburetor choke that is sticking shut and not allowing enough air into the carburetor. The carburetor is designed to improve starting by providing a richer fuel mixture. The key to starting your vehicle is by having the strongest spark possible jumping the spark plug gap, but the factors of engine timing, good battery, cables, plugs and other auto electric parts as well as correct oil viscosity all help the starting process.

BOURK'S IGNITION LTD. are specialists in carburetion, auto air condition sales and service, propane conversions, batteries, ignition, generators, starters, windshield wipes and speedometers. They carry a complete line of A.C. DELCO parts and a large selection of tools, hoses, belts, test equipment and service equipment.

The business today is under the personal direction of Dunrobin resident TOM BOURK, President, with KEITH LEBARRON Vice-President and DICK FISHER, Secretary. BOURK'S IGNITION LTD. opened in Cornwall on April 21, 1986 and is managed by KEITH JONES.

BOURK'S IGNITION LTD. has built a reputation for providing competent services to help keep the car and truck in good running order.

Ziebart CAR IMPROVEMENT SPECIALISTS

A BUSINESS BUILT ON SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

513 - 1st St. E. 938-3306

Today's downsized cars have unibody construction, meaning they don't have a frame. But what they do have are over 3,000 spot welds on components like doors, hoods, trunk lids, quarter panels and floor pans that need protection from corrosion. Depending on the make and model, virtually every mass-produced vehicle will be spot welded between 3,000 to 5,000 times, resulting in a break-down in the rust-inhibiting capabilities of even galvanized and zinc-treated steel.

Rust protection contributes to your vehicle's safety, good looks and resale value. It's a small investment with high returns. In reality it's a benefit you can't afford to be without, especially with today's high vehicle costs.

The first international ZIEBART dealer opened in 1965 in Windsor, Ontario and was the foundation for development of the ZIEBART franchise network in Canada. Today, there are many locations throughout Canada.

The ZIEBART location in Cornwall has served residents of this area since opening in June 1990 and is owned and operated by GERALD LABELLE.

Many of the services provided by ZIEBART are designed to increase the appearance and longevity of your vehicle. ZIEBART's "paint protection" is a scientifically engineered coating that resists the effects of the sun, salt, calcium chloride and industrial fall out. They also provide "rust protection" and ZIEBART's "rust eliminator" which takes the scaling rust on older cars and bonds it to the good metal, thereby stabilizing the rust process and stopping further oxidization. Their "sound deadener" is a durable,sound deadening undercoating with extensive decibal reduction and anti-abrasion properties. An upholstery and carpet protection service as well as window tinting is available for the interior of your vehicle.

Besides the above listed services, you can also obtain a complete line of accessories for cars, trucks and vans encompassing body side mouldings, running boards, splash guards, sunroofs, door and wheelwell edge guards, pick-up box liners, bug & stone deflectors for trucks, auto alarms and interior deep cleaning and shampoo.

Consumers are very sophisticated these days. They are no longer rushing to become the first on the block with the latest model car.

But, as cars age, the need to maintain them properly takes on added importance. For example, many vehicles have already outlived rust-through coverage provided by factory warranties.

As you should be able to tell, ZIEBART CAR IMPROVEMENT SPECIALISTS offer a most comprehensive protection service against the elements and especially our harsh Canadian winters.

Armstrong Floor Fashion Center — Styrotile Sales Ltd.

YOUR FLOOR'S BEST FRIEND

400 Second St. W (at Cumberland) 932-8545

Probably the single most important factor that deserves attention when looking at carpeting is not the price, the style or the color, but its durability. A substantial expense like carpeting should not be taken lightly, so it is essential that you set time aside to educate yourself.

A carpet buyer should realize that not every room in the house should utilize the same carpet style. Stairs, for instance, are subjected to abnormal wear due to the curvature so a low pile with dense carpet would be best. Bathrooms would benefit from a loose lay carpet (not attached) so it can be removed and allowed to dry in the case of flooding. Traffice flow is likely the most predominant factor that will determine choice of carpeting.

The aforementioned facts and many others like these are what you should expect to hear from a reputable carpeting store. The staff at STYROTILE SALES do realize the benefits of referrals and repeat trade, so ample time is taken with each prospective customer that visits their store.

STYROTILE SALES has been respected as a no-gimmick flooring specialist since 1950 and is owned and operated by BRIAN MacMILLAN. STYROTILE SALES LTD. are your authorized ARMSTRONG FLOOR FASHION CENTRE, and have a free SHOP-AT-HOME SERVICE.

When selecting window coverings for your home, office or business, where do you begin? Do you need to direct sunlight, filter it or block it out? This is where the functional part begins. Blinds - what is available?

Mini Venetians have been here a long time but, oh how they have changed! They have slimmed down and come in a rainbow selection of colors. Neutrals are essential if you plan on using them throughout for protection from the sun. Try mixing colors in different patterns for a "fun" look. These are great for splashy kitchens, baths, children's rooms and dens.

The fabric choices are endless. Do yourself a favor and see the exciting samples available. Windows can be fun to decorate. You can install any of these products yourself; however, taking advantage of their own trained crew is often a worthwhile investment.

STYROTILE SALES should be your only choice for custom made blinds, draperies, or carpeting at home and business.

Each year when hotter weather arrives, just about everyone starts to think about swimming and usually about that time, it is nearly impossible to have a pool installed in time. Now is the time to arrange for a spring installation.

Don't wait until the last minute.

Once you have decided that you really want a swimming pool, it isn't difficult to find the many reasons for taking the plunge. However, youshould carefully consider your reasons and decision for your choice of selected contractor.

This business maintains their head office in Plantgenet, Ontario and was founded in 1971 under the guidance of PIERRE LALANDE. The location in Cornwall is managed by BOB GAMELIN. They feature VOGUE inground and above ground swimming pools, patio furniture, spas and accessories.

Thousands of Canadian families have turned their backyards into home leisure and fitness centres with economical, spas and pools. Above ground pools are less expensive than their inground counterparts, can be made equally attractive and are just as functional.

Many above ground pools come in "kits", which can be asembled by two or three people over a weekend using tools commonly found around the house.

Buyers should be sure their kits contain complete instructions and should review them with the staff at LALANDE POOLS before taking the kit home. For less "handy" homeowners, they provide installation at a modest additional cost. Once constructed, a pool will become the centre of family and social activity, recreation and exercise.

A FREE fully computerized water analysis test can be found at this company which is, "a popular choice by reputation". We are pleased to review and recommend the services of this specialized swimming pool centre to our readers.

Ingleside LUMBER

THE SMART BUILDERS FIRST CHOICE

Dickinson Dr., Ingleside 537-2433

Many home improvements don't take a big budget or a great deal of time, but they do require skill and that's where you come in! Look for do-it-yourself projects around your home to enhance its livability and its value at the same time.

However much you enjoy your home, there are no doubt many ways in which it can be improved; many of these improvements can be done by you, if you are the handy type. Today's do-it-yourself emporiums offer a wealth of materials and products to help you do everything from changing a light fixture to adding a room.

Not all projects have to be ambitious; here are some suggestions on small improvements that can make a big difference. Many homes are cursed with extremely small bedrooms. If you would like to have a more spacious look, tear down a wall! Nonbearing walls can be removed without problems and can make the difference between two small, nondescript rooms and a spacious master bedroom or den. A new fence or deck will add appeal and value to your home.

The company was established in 1955 and is now capably directed by JOHN HORIL who has operated the business since February 1983.

They feature LUMBER, DOORS, ROOFING, FLOORING, INSULATION, TOOLS & HARDWARE, PANELLING, WALLBOARDS, WINDOWS, QUALITY PAINTS and many more items too numerous to mention.

You don't have to build a solar home to have a house that is energy-efficient. There are a variety of building products on the market today that can make your home less expensive to heat and cool. As an energy-conscious homeowner, you're likely to have already invested in insulation and storm doors. But, you may not realize that windows can be the single largest cause of energy loss in the Canadian home!

If your windows are, indeed, the culprit you should consider replacing them with new thermally efficient solid vinyl windows.

When you are contemplating your needs concerning lumber, paints, doors, replacement windows, lighting, etc. for your home, cottage or chalet, visit INGLESIDE LUMBER first and see how they too can fit into your plans.

Deaths

DASHNEY, Anthony — Infant son of Donald and Joananne Dashney; died November 8, 1991 in Ottawa General Hospital. 47-1p

In Memoriam

MacRAE, (nee Gagnier) — In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Lucille, who passed away Nov. 15, 1989.
There is a bridge of memories,
That keeps you very close to us,
It's called a bridge of love.
As time goes by without you
And days turn into years,
They hold a million memories
And a thousand silent tears.
To us you were very special
What more is there to say,
Except to wish with all our hearts,
That you were here today.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered, Mom, sisters and brothers. 47-1p

ST. LOUIS — In loving memory of a dear father, Albert, who passed away November 24, 1989.
God looked upon his garden
And found an empty space
And then he looked down upon the earth
And saw your tired face.
He put his arm around you and lifted you to rest,
God's garden must be beautiful,
For he only takes the best.
He saw the road was getting rough
And the hills were hard to climb,
He closed your weary eyes, and whispered, "Peace be thine."
It broke our hearts to lose you, Dad
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
To God's garden, your new home.
—Sadly missed by son, Adrien. 47-1p

MONTGOMERY — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Nelson who passed away Nov. 18, 1978.
The years are quickly passing,
Though still we can't forget,
For in the hearts that love him,
His memory lingers yet.
—Always remembered, Roger, Mabel, and family. 47-1p

BELANGER — In loving memory of a dear father and mother Moise who passed away 11 years ago November 23, 1980, and Angelina who passed away on November 21, 1989, two years ago.
We realize each passing day,
How wonderful you were.
The greatness of dear parents love
Is a gift beyond compare.
We just can't put into words
How much you really meant,
For the patient, kind and loving heart
That made our home content.
So when God called you home
To a place of eternal rest
You left us memories
Of a dear father and mother
Who were the best.
—Always loved and remembered by son Claude, Ella, Andre, Gilles and Alain. 47-1p

LEGER — In loving memory of my dear parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leger, sisters Irene and Blanche, brothers Leo, Jean Paul, Laurent and husband Eldege Viau.
Someone remembers, someone cares
Your names are whispered in our prayers.
—Ever remembered by daughter, sister and wife Rita S. Viau-Decoste. 47-1p

NOBLE — I want to thank the people who encouraged me to run for council, those who signed my nomination paper, my volunteer drivers and especially all 529 voters who wanted to give me a chance to be a "new-voice-on-council." I enjoyed listening to everyone to whom I spoke during my campaign-by-telephone. Our discussions covered high taxes, property assessment, ditch maintenance, idling vehicles, stray dogs and most important to a strong wish to arrange pick-up in Lochiel of recyclable materials by RARE in Alexandria. Perhaps Mr. Hagen will now carry out this plan.
—Phyllis Noble. 47-1p

The turnout for the election was excellent with 540 out of a possible 726 voters marking their ballots to give a percentage of 74 per cent. These numbers nclude the near 145 residents at the Manor, many of whom are unable to vote.

We wish to congratulate the members of our new council. Jim MacEwen represents the third generation of the MacEwen family to serve the village as reeve. His grandfather, William A. was reeve from 1949-57 and his father William R. in 1969-70. Bruce McDonald and Bill Shields are second generation members of community workers. Ruth MacQueen is the daughter of Dalkeith News correspondent Jean and the late Ken MacLennan, a Lochiel politician and Ewen MacDonald, a relatively new village resident impressed the electorate sufficiently to receive sufficient votes for fourth place. To all members of council we offer our support and endorsement.

A thank you is extended to all the candidates who were unsuccessful. They all campaigned well and had the interests of the village at heart. Special thanks go to Allen Douglas who had served as councillor for six years and who was the only incumbent councillor standing for re-election.

To the other retiring members of council we must also express sincere appreciation. George Currier has been a member for 17 years, six as councillor and 11 as reeve. Mr. Currier has served us with sincerity and dedication and we assure him that his efforts are appreciated. At the same time we must remember Mrs. Currier, Annette, who has been a friendly and gracious hostess at the side of her husband over the years.

Verna MacGregor's involvement with the affairs of this municipality goes back many years. First she assisted her late husband, Clarence, who was the village clerk from 1956-63 and upon his death she took over the clerk's duties and served for several years. Mrs. MacGregor was assistant administrator at the Manor from its beginning in 1968 until her retirement in 1983 and then served for nine years on council. While still involved in community affairs in several ways, we express our appreciation to Mrs. MacGregor for all that she has done in the past for us.

Dale Munro has been a councillor for six years, he has worked hard and we can look forward to his help for many years to come. Shonna Ducross, a one-time councillor, has retired from municipal politics, for a time at least.

Voters here helped to bring in two new local school trustees. Nicole Bourgeois has become the new representative on the French panel of the SD&G Separate School Board and Don Munroe is new to the SD&G County Board of Education. We wish them the very best as they assume these very important positions of leadership in education circles.

Earl MacLennan joined a group of friends from the Laggan area to do some deer hunting. In total, the group shot three nice bucks. So Earl is not only smiling with friendliness these days but also with pride and satisfaction.

The beautiful Sunday prior to Remembrance Day saw a very impressive ceremony at the War Veterans' Memorial on Mechanic Street West. It was sponsored by the local club whose president this year is Grace Doth. Vincent Jasiewicz served as chairman. Monsignor Rejean Lebrun and the Rev. Gary Van Bruchem participated in the service. Reeve George Currier spoke briefly. Joe Rolland read In Flanders Fields and a bugler and pipers provided appropriate pieces.

Many beautiful wreaths were laid at the base of the monument by representatives of local organizations and politicians. Anne (Mrs. Phillip) Michaud at 89 years of age was the mother-of-the-year and placed her wreath along with the others. The Brownies and Cubs were in attendance and they along with the others assembled, paraded to the Sports Complex where club members served light refreshments.

In three weeks, this correspondent will have completed the series on family homes and plans to start a new series for the final weeks of Centennial Year. This will be a "Remember when" series and will include events and conditions in the village in the olden days. Your correspondent will appreciate contributions for this series from all those who well remember. An example might be: Remember when the village streets were lined with parked cars every Saturday night?

Historic Maxville

The inviting, white clapboard house with its ancient white pine trees standing in Maxville's southern fringe and overlooking the village has been home to McEwens for many, many years. The land on which it stands has been McEwen property since around 1825.

John McEwen from Perthshire, Scotland, moved there by way of Martintown after emigrating in 1819. His son, born in 1823, John, married Janet McDougall, a member of another pioneer family, in 1848. Their first child, John, lived at home for a time but then moved to Nevada. Three other sons in the family of 11 had John as a second name.

The youngest was Alexander J., born in 1864, who married Rachael Watson, born in 1878 in Scotland. She trained as a nurse in Syracuse and came to the village from Winchester to practise her profession. Here she met "A.J."

Mr. McEwen had a sawmill and sash and door factory, served on village council for many years and farmed. The south-east quadrant of the village has been built on the farm. Mr. McEwen's early death came in 1928.

Mrs. McEwen was in charge of the local telephone office here for several years and was an active community worker for more years. She died at the age of 103.

A sister of A.J.'s, Miss Netta lived in the home all her life. She was the Presbyterian church organist for 50 years and gave piano lessons to many young people after she had studied music herself in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McEwen had three children. Their son was appropriately named John Watson and their two daughters are Agnes (Mrs. D. Archie) Campbell and Catherine (Mrs. Bev) McKay.

After his service in the RCAF and studies at the Ontario Agricultural College, John came home to farm and to serve his community as his forefathers had done. He was a village councillor, an active member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, a Mason, secretary-treasurer of the Cemetery Board and in his youth, a member of the Maxville Millionaires Hockey Team. John married Gwen Fraser, daughter of A. A. Fraser and Jessie McLennan of Apple Hill. Their two sons are Fraser of Peterborough and Murray, living on the farm.

This lovely home still stands in its beautiful setting as a memorial to the McEwen families that have lived in it. John died suddenlyy in 1981 and now his wife Gwen and her sister, Alice Ferguson, live there. Both are retired teachers from the local Public School.

Murray and his wife, the former Donna Scott, live in what might be considered the hired man's house, now enlarged and renovated. Their daughter, Kate, is the first member of the sixth generation to have lived on the farm.
