Alexandrians evidently were voting for the status quo. It will be up to the elected to keep up our status.

Only Two New Faces On Council As Periard Elected Mayor, Massie Reeve

There were 25 candidates in Monday's voting in Alexandria but only two newcomers to the political scene were elected as incumbents were returned for almost every office.

Newcomers are Paul E. Viau and Lyall Costello who will fill vacancies as councillors.

Mayor Raymond Periard won election in his first try for that office and Councillor Bruno Massie moves up to the reeveship following his win over John G. Proulx.

Councillors re-elected are: Sam Brunet, Adrien Charlebois, Jean Paul Touchette and Bruno Pigeon.

All four members of the Public Utilities Commission were returned as were the three present members of the Public School board.

Mayor Periard polled a big 742 votes in his contest with Reeve Lloyd McHugh to lead in all three polls and pile up a plurality of 359 votes.

The 1125 ballots cast probably constituted a record vote in Alexandria and represented almost 86 per cent of the 1309 names on the voters list. The total was 52 votes higher than the 1073 ballots cast in the 1962 election.

In the contest for the reeveship, Bruno Massie emerged with a plurality of 85 over John G. Proulx who garnered 515 votes compared to the victor's 600.

Councillor Sam Brunet again headed the poll for councillors, where 11 were seeking the six seats. He won 603 votes and was followed by Jean Paul Touchette with 546. Others successful were Charlebois, 484; Viau, 432; Costello, 423 and Pigeon 415. Trailing were Louis Shepherd, Jean Clement, Ed Dupuis, Gilles Lefebvre and Rolland Cholette in that order.

PUC Chairman Ray Gammon headed that poll with a healthy 601 and was followed by J. A. Sabourin, with 566; Bert Larocque, 477 and Adolphe Lauzon, 440. Raymond Ouellette, with 427, trailed by only 13 votes and is reported seeking a recount.

Representing Alexandria on the new Alexandria-Lochiel Township Public School Area Board will be three present trustees—Lorne Hall, with 95 votes; Mrs. Zoe Grant, 82, and Douglas Baxter, 74. Albert Peterson trailed with 48.

The votes by polls are recorded below.

MAYOR PERIARD

REEVE MASSIE

Former Resident Died In Florida

The funeral Mass was chanted in Our Mother of Sorrows Church, Detroit, December 1st, for Ranald Lawrence Macdonald who died November 28th in Hallandale, Florida.

Mr. Macdonald, who worked in the Bank of Nova Scotia in Alexandria before enlisting with the CPR Engineers in World War I, had resided in Detroit since 1924. After working for the Detroit Edison Company for 37 years he retired to Hallandale, Florida, in 1958.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, Mary, son Ranald Lawrence and six grandchildren. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. George Tait of Detroit and a brother, Finlay Macdonald of Lancaster, California.

Among relatives from a distance attending the funeral were Miss Bess MacDonald, Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hunter, Chicago; Mrs. Rose Wisner, Los Angeles, Cal. and Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald of Mount Clemens, Mich.

Ouellette To Seek Recount Of Votes

Just 13 votes shy of a seat on the Public Utilities Commission, Raymond Ouellette informed Clerk-Treasurer Don O. Collin yesterday that he would ask for a judicial recount of the ballots.

Mr. Ouellette had been thought successful in early tabulating of unofficial returns, when he led Adolphe Lauzon by four votes. Corrected Lauzon figures for St. James' ward increased that vote by 17 votes to give him a 13-vote lead over Ouellette.

Mr. Ouellette has been instructed to make formal application for the recount to Judge Brennan in Cornwall.

Small Vote For Kenyon Trustees

Voting was light, Monday, in Kenyon Township where the only ballotting was for Township Public School trustees. Of 1224 school supporters, only some 300 turned out to vote.

Successful among the six candidates were Wilfred Vallance, Maxville, with 220 votes; George Marjerrison, Apple Hill, 184 and Malcolm N. Grant, Laggan, 164. Trailing were Mrs. Eleanor Bickerstaff, 152; R. D. MacLeod, 144 and A. N. Hart, 124.

Separate School Annual To Be Held December 30

Three trustees will be elected at the annual meeting of the Combined Roman Catholic Separate Schools of Alexandria and Kenyon, to be held in St. Joseph's School, here, December 30th at 8 p.m.

Nominations for trustees will be received at the meeting of ratepayers and will be voted on at the same meeting.

Retiring trustees are Paul E. Rouette, Rene Valade and Lucien Poirier. Remaining on the board for a second term are Paul Roy, florist, Frank McLeister and Rod O'Brien.

Long Wait For Election Verdict

It took four hours of ballot counting to provide the final verdict in Monday's elections here and a crowd of cold, impatient electors waited through much of that time in front of this office.

Successful candidates for councillors and PUC were in doubt until final returns were received from St. James' poll and these came in only at 10 o'clock, four hours after the polls closed. An hour earlier the tallies for mayor and reeve had come in unofficially for that poll and returns from St. George's ward were received about 9 p.m.

First returns were received at 8.15 from the centre ward, almost two hours before the final verdicts were known.

Unofficial tallies had shown Ouellette elected for the PUC and a possible tie for Public School trustee between Baxter and Peterson. These were later corrected when Returning Officer Don O. Collin had tabulated the returns from the three polls.

Jack MacDonald Green Valley, Dies

The sudden death occurred December 2nd, in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, of Jack Allan Alex MacDonald of Green Valley.

Aged 63, Mr. MacDonald was born in the First Kenyon, a son of Mrs. Ellie MacDonald, now of Green Valley.

To mourn he leaves his mother, his wife, the former Mary Donovan, two sons and three daughters: John of Lakefield, Ont.; Sandy, Margaret, Inez and Mavis, at home.

Four brothers and one sister also survive: John, Green Valley; Archie, of Galt; Allie in Winnipeg; Francis in British Columbia and Agatha, Mrs. Bill McPhail of St. Andrews.

The funeral Mass was chanted in St. Mary's Church, Green Valley, by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Breton. Rev. M. J. O'Brien officiated at the burial in St. Raphael's cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Bernard McDonell, Bill McPhail, Tom O'Connor and Peter McPherson.

Handsome Front For Proulx Store

What the well dressed men's wear shop is wearing this season is log cabin cedar finish, according to John Proulx whose Mill Square shop is now being dressed in eye-catching style. A steel-frame door completes the ensemble and indirect lighting will be installed to show off the window displays to best advantage.

The new look should be completed this weekend.

Early Edition Christmas Week

The Christmas week edition of this paper will go to press on Tuesday, December 22nd and it will, as usual, carry the greetings of area business people, timed to reach readers before the holiday.

Those wishing to have greetings or other advertising in that issue should contact this office not later than next Friday. Correspondents are also asked to have budgets mailed early.

There will be no edition during the week between Christmas and New Year's.

To Be 90 On Sunday

Paul Lacombe of Glen Robertson, will have the good wishes of many friends on Sunday, December 13th, when he marks his 90th birthday.

Widely known as a violinist, Mr. Lacombe no longer plays but his love for Scottish old-time music remains. Since losing his eye-sight some five years ago, a member of his family informs us, the only newspaper which still provides interest is The Glengarry News which is read to him each week. Mr. Lacombe follows public affairs with interest as an avid radio listener.

Sunday's will be a double celebration. His daughter, Edythe, also has a birthday that day.

Lancaster Twp. Votes "Wet"

Lancaster Township voted in favor of the sale of beer and wine Monday in comparatively light voting. Both questions on the ballot received the needed 60 per cent favorable vote, but only by narrow margins.

On the question of sale of beer under a public house licence for consumption in licensed premises to which women are admitted the vote was: Yes—459; No—284. This was 13 votes over the required 60 per cent.

On question No. 2 — for sale of beer and wine only under a dining room licence for consumption with meals the vote was: Yes—469; No 282. The margin of success was 19 votes over the 60 per cent required.

Kenyon Township is now the only "dry" area in Glengarry.

Stores Open Late Starting Wednesday

Christmas shopping hours for Alexandria stores start next Wednesday when all places of business will remain open that afternoon.

Next Thursday and Saturday the minimum closing hour is 9 p.m. and Friday will have its usual 10 p.m. closing. During Christmas week stores will be open until 10 p.m. Monday through Wednesday with a 6 p.m. closing Christmas eve.

These are the minimum hours adopted through the Board of Trade and individual stores may remain open later if they so desire.

Kenyon Reassured On ARDA Project

Kenyon Township Council has received assurance from Queen's Park that any loss in tax revenue involved in purchase of Loch Garry area land for the ARDA project will be made good by the Ontario Government, Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP, informs us.

The ARDA group is now ready to begin purchase of any land in that area offered by present owners, according to Mr. Villeneuve. It will be used for reforestation, recreation and water and wildlife conservation.

Fred M. Lefebvre Died At 77

Widely known in north Glengarry where he resided most of his life, Ferdinand (Fred) M. Lefebvre of Vankleek Hill died Saturday, December 5th, at Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury. He was 77.

Born at St. Eugene, a son of David Lefebvre and his wife Celanie Deschamps, Mr. Lefebvre farmed at Glen Sandfield before moving to Dalkeith where he operated a garage and general store. Twenty-three years ago he moved to Vankleek Hill where he was widely known as a merchant until his retirement in January of this year.

To mourn he leaves his wife, the former Christina De Bellefeuille whom he married in 1909 at Glen Robertson. Four sons and two daughters also survive: Laurier and Lorenzo Lefebvre of Alexandria; Lomer of Russell and Ernest of Vankleek Hill; Germaine, Mrs. Napoleon Sauve of Vankleek Hill and Dolores, Mrs. Ramsey Archer of Montreal.

A brother, Fabien Lefebvre of Glen Sandfield, and one sister, Mrs. Jean B. Proulx, Glen Robertson, also survive.

The funeral was held Monday from the Noel Funeral Home in Hawkesbury to St. Gregory's Church and cemetery in Vankleek Hill.

Santa Claus In Area Saturday

Santa Claus comes to both Maxville and Lancaster on Saturday and next Thursday he will be taking up a seven-day abode in a special snuggery to be erected for him on the Mill Square here.

It's to be hoped the snuggery will be heated, for Santa will be spending his afternoons and evenings there, awaiting the visits of all kiddies who may wish to inform him of their most cherished desires in the way of Christmas gifts.

He will be here on invitation from the Board of Trade and officers of that group report the coupons for Miami are apparently being well received by shoppers. Merchants are reporting a brisk business and the deposit boxes are digesting a lot of coupons that will win for someone a trip to Florida for two.

Cousins Met On Boston Campus

Sophomores at Boston University and defencemen on the Terrier's senior hockey team, Brian Gilmour of Lancaster and Peter McLachlan of Newmarket, Ont., were unaware they were second cousins until sometime after they met at university a year ago.

They didn't know each other until both tried out for the freshman squad a year ago. As they became acquainted they discovered Pete's mother was a first cousin of Brian's father.

The pair helped Boston University to its first unbeaten freshman record in history. Currently they are two of the first four Varsity defencemen and doing a fine job of foiling enemy scorers as shown by their latest 10-1 victory over Dartmouth. The Terriers have a 4-0 record of wins going for them.

Brian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gilmour who came to Lancaster some eight years ago. During his years at Char-Lan High School he starred in football and basketball, while also showing prowess on the hockey blades.

His new-found cousin is a son of Mrs. Phyllis McLachlan of Newmarket who has common progenitors with Mr. Gilmour at Almonte.

Expect McMillan Family Soon

Residents of Avonmore are working on the assumption that the widow and six sons of Rev. Hector McMillan will arrive in the community before the weekend, although their arrival has not been officially confirmed.

Mrs. McMillan and the boys were scheduled to fly out of Leopoldville in the Congo Thursday for New York City. It is believed they will fly then to Montreal International Airport at Dorval.

In the meantime, plans are being made for Sunday's memorial service in memory of the missionary who was murdered by Congolese rebels November 24. Two of the boys were wounded when the rebels gunned down their father.

The memorial service will be held at St. James United Church.

It was also reported that the McMillan Memorial Fund is nearing the $1,000 mark. Contributions may be made at any area bank.

Richelieu Club Christmas Plans

The Richelieu Club of Alexandria will not distribute Christmas baskets this yuletide, it was decided at the regular club dinner meeting November 30th. Instead, a substantial amount was voted to supply shoes, boots, stockings and other such wear for underprivileged children.

Several committees were formed to take charge of investigating needs in such area centres as Glen Norman, Green Valley, North Lancaster, Glen Robertson and Alexandria.

Bernard Cardinal of Cornwall, and Bro. Charles Glaude cssv, of Cornwall Classical College were present to speak on the college's plans for expansion and drive for funds. President Rene Gauthier was in the chair.

The Richelieu Club held its annual Christmas party Friday night in the Curling Club rooms.

HITTIN' COUSINS—This pair of Boston University defencemen are not exactly kissin' cousins but they did learn they were second-cousins a year ago last September when they were both incoming freshmen at Boston University. Brian Gilmour (left) of Lancaster, was unaware of the existence of Peter McLachlan (right) of Newmarket, Ont., until they met at Boston U and swapped stories. They have grandparents in common at Almonte. The boys were members of the University's first freshmen hockey team to go undefeated through a season last year. Now they are playing defence on the varsity team.

Highland Games Committee May Have Part In World Fair

The Glengarry Highland Games committee may be called on to organize some of the entertainment for Montreal's World Fair in 1967.

At Saturday's annual meeting much of the discussion concerned this possible eventuality as Games' officials reported on developments to date.

They have been approached by officers of various Scottish organizations in Montreal who are being asked to organize Caledonian events as part of the World Fair entertainment. Aware of the Games' experience of the men at Maxville, these societies have asked them to organize entertainment similar to the Glengarry Games to be staged on the Expo site.

"It would be our own effort," explains Games' Secretary John Jamieson, "and we would have the use of the 25,000 capacity grandstand being erected on the Fair site." Plans are very tentative as yet, but there is the suggestion of several pipe band tattoos being held through the summer of 1967 with bands being brought in from far points to compete. The Montreal societies would assist in staging the events.

Invaluable publicity would be earned for the Glengarry Games, it

Top Ayrshire Breeder, Former Warden John McLennan Paid Last Tribute

One of Glengarry's most prominent residents, John McLennan of Martintown was paid an impressive last tribute at his funeral, held Tuesday to St. Andrew's United Church in Martintown.

Aged 67, Mr. McLennan died Sunday in Cornwall General Hospital following a heart attack suffered Friday at his home.

Liberal candidate in Glengarry in 1957, reeve of Charlottenburgh from 1948 to 1955 when he served as Warden of United Counties Council, Mr. McLennan was one of Glengarry's top Ayrshire breeders and his Sunnydale Farm strain had high rating in Canadian Ayrshire circles.

Mr. McLennan had served as president of the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association and was a past president of the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities. A director of the Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company and of the Glengarry Liberal Association he had been active in many county organizations.

A board member of the Char-Lan High School and an elder of St. Andrew's United Church, Mr. McLennan was a celebrated soldier in the First World War.

A three-year veteran with the 24th Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, he was awarded the coveted Military Medal for bravery in action during the early days of the big allied push in 1918 which culminated in the November Armistice.

The late John McLennan was born in the Second Concession of Charlottenburgh, near Lancaster, a son of the late Donald McLennan and his wife, Susan McRae. After attending the local school he moved with his family to Edmonton where he attended high school.

Returning to Glengarry in 1914 to work as a farm laborer Mr. McLennan later became a successful farmer and breeder-owner of one of Glengarry's finest farms on the King's Road and a widely recognized Ayrshire herd. In 1962 he sold his farm and retired to a new home erected on part of the property he retained.

JOHN McLENNAN

Mr. McLennan leaves his wife, the former Jennie Robertson; a sister, Mrs. Linden Clark of Martintown, and one niece.

More than 500 friends, relatives and former colleagues filled St. Andrew's United Church for the funeral, Tuesday. The service was conducted by Rev. Douglas McKay.

The honorary pallbearers were D. S. McIntosh, Kenneth McDermid, John McMartin and Wilbur McArthur, who represented the session of St. Andrew's United Church; Cameron Kennedy, clerk-treasurer of the United Counties Council; Edward Sansom, of the Char-Lan High School board; Jack Harries and Archibald McIntyre, representing Glengarry Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company; and Douglas McKechnie, secretary of the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

Mr. McLennan had been a member of the organizations represented.

Active pallbearers were Alex Robertson, Leslie Robertson, Donald McIntyre, Gordon McGregor, Gordon McLean and Robert McRae.

Burial was in the North Branch cemetery, Martintown.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Lochiel's Early Days To Be Memorialized

The coming of the MacLeods to Glengarry and the early settlement of what is now Lochiel Township is to be memorialized by the erection of a cairn in the Kirk Hill area next summer. This is a happy thought, inspired by Glengarry Clan MacLeod, for Lochiel has so far fared badly in this business of historic plaques.

Glengarry has been well served by the Historic Sites Board, but the plaques have invariably been unveiled in the Williamstown, St. Raphael's and St. Elmo areas. Deservedly so, we hasten to add; but it is time the eastern townships had their pioneer era memorialized as well.

Until 1818 Lochiel was part of a Township of Lancaster that stretched back from Lake St. Francis for 18 concessions. But Glenelg, now Kirk Hill, had been settled more than two decades earlier by a party of 40 families from Scotland under the leadership of Captain Alexander McLeod of the family of Moale. The Glenelg party included McLeods, McGillivrays, McIntoshes, McCuaigs and McLennans, our files tell us. In 1796 other families came to the area from Glenelg. Lochiel got its name from the fact so many of the later settlers came from that celebrated seat of the Cameron Clan. Glenelg became known as Kirk Hill with the building of the first church there in 1820.

Clan MacLeod has selected a most suitable site. The cairn will be erected on land that has been MacLeod property for six generations and is still owned by a descendant of those pioneers.

The idea of a cairn, a heap of stones, is a fitting form for the memorial, too. The carn was widely used in the British Isles in early days to indicate a burial place or other noted landmark. This was the type of monument chosen by one Colonel Carmichael in 1840 to memorialize Glengarry's military role in the Rebellion of 1837-38. The Glengarry Cairn, on Squaw Island off the Lancaster shoreline, is believed to be the first such cairn erected in North America. More than a century later it still stands four-square to the winds off Lake St. Francis, a rugged testimony to the inventiveness and the industry of a breed of men who did not shirk work.

Tradition tells us that cairn was built in order to keep the soldiers occupied through a long winter of defence duty in a time when no defence was required of them. It was an ambitious effort, that cairn that spirals from a 60-foot base to a height of 60 feet. One can but imagine the labor involved in locating and hauling the required stone to Squaw Island, a half-mile off the Lancaster shore.

The MacLeod cairn at Kirk Hill will be much more modest in scope than that early Glengarry Cairn. It will be a similar heap of stone, though; built to endure and to recall another notable annal in the history of Glengarry. The residents of Lochiel will welcome this memorial to their pioneers.

Sturdy and strong, and pointed to the heavens, the cairn is an ideal form of tribute to those who came before us to turn a wilderness into the Canada we have inherited. Would a Colonel Carmichael today command men disciplined enough, industrious enough and motivated by the esprit de corps it must have demanded to raise that mound of stone on Squaw Island way back in 1840?

Those men were simple souls. Sometimes it seems we have become much too complicated, and lazy, and soft. If a cairn can point up the sorry decadence, we should have more cairns.

Crime And Punishment

The death penalty for capital murder has been abolished to all intents and purposes through the action of the federal cabinet in commuting all recent sentences of death to life imprisonment. Again last week the cabinet so acted in the case of Georges Marcotte, found guilty of murdering two Montreal policemen. There is speculation that the House of Commons will be asked to vote for complete abolition of the death penalty.

"What do you think of doing away with the death penalty?" we were asked by News readers debating the issue. They were against its complete abolition and we were inclined to agree with them, though we have reservations on the subject.

We were thinking of the Wilbur Coffin case in the Gaspé and of other reports we have read where the death penalty has been meted out and later evidence has proven the accused to have been innocent. A judicial inquiry in Quebec has found that Coffin was not a victim of justice, that he was indeed guilty of the murder for which he was hanged. But there are those who remain convinced that he was used as a scapegoat by over-zealous Quebec prosecutors.

Better that a hundred guilty go free than that one innocent man be a victim of justice, we agree; but again we have reservations. We would not want the 'Santa Claus' slayer of those two policemen to escape the death penalty he so ruthlessly meted out. The man who stood over a wounded constable and practically cut him in two with a spray of bullets from a tommy gun, then kicked the lifeless body before walking to his escape car, does not deserve the mercy he refused his victims. A commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment leaves the possibilities of his murdering prison guards or fellow convicts, of his escape and the murder of other innocents, of his eventual release on account of good conduct.

Quebec's Attorney-General Claude Wagner charged Friday that commutation of Marcotte's sentence constitutes "an open season on policemen". He is ready to prosecute Marcotte again for the slaying of the second victim but he is not prepared to waste the $25,000 cost of prosecution if the result is to be a second denial of the death penalty by the federal cabinet or by Commons' legislation. The death penalty must remain as a deterrent against murder, he argues; "the only people ready for its abolition are the criminals, they will laugh at justice."

These are the two sides of the coin that keep us doing mental flip-ups on this question of abolition of the death penalty. We see the need for a deterrent against homicide. We think law enforcement is losing ground to the criminal element because of a too-lenient judiciary, misuse of bail bond legislation which frees the criminal so he can rob more banks to raise a defence fund, a too-lenient approach to juvenile delinquents who trade on their youth. Not one of the lesser problems of law enforcement is the pressure from political contacts as pointed up by the case of Louis Rivard, a suspected dope peddler who had friends in high places in the Pearson government.

Should the death penalty be abolished? We are of two minds but we incline to its retention as a deterrent to capital murder. This is a subject all thinking people should be debating in their own minds.

The result of your thinking we would appreciate having in the form of a letter to the editor. Yours might prove to be the judgment the editor needs to clarify his own thinking.

Fine Fare For The Worlds' Fair

Maxville and Glengarry will be really on the map and our Highland Games will benefit from worldwide publicity if plans now being discussed become a reality in 1967. Games' officials at Maxville have been asked to organize Caledonian Games' entertainment for the World Fair at Montreal and there is the possibility of both publicity and profit should the deal go through.

It is going to take a heap of entertainment to keep the crowds coming to the Fair, it seems; and the Scottish societies in Montreal have been asked to organize Caledonian events. They in turn have sought the know-how and organizing abilities of the Glengarry Games committee. Details have yet to be worked out but it is possible the men of Maxville will be staging a series of band competitions at the Fair site through the summer of 1967.

There is no thought of cancelling our own Glengarry Games that year in favor of the events at Montreal. Centennial summer should see at lot of former residents coming back to Glengarry and the Games at Maxville should be but one of many events taking place in the county in 1967.

The Weeklies Say

BREAK FOR SEALS

Fisheries Minister Robichaud told the Commons this week of new regulations which require that no seal shall be skinned before it is dead . . . Deeds of thoughtless cruelty are not forgiven, but they have to be known to be dealt with. Publicity has brought a better day to the ice floes of the seal.
—Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune

BITTER AND SWEET

Serving as a councillor or school trustee, irrespective of where duty lies, municipality, town or village is not always a bed of roses. Ratepayers can be cantankerous at times. Demands may be reasonable or unreasonable, sincere or petty. But it's all in the run of the mill.
—Melita (Man.) New Era

CALL FOR LEADERSHIP

It is going to take something more than just a hundred years to make Canada a nation. Someone with the courage of his convictions has got to stand up and tell this country what it needs and then be willing to fight for what he believes is right.
—Stanstead (Que.) Journal

AGAINST HOLIDAY

This newspaper cannot agree with the present decision of the federal government to make Remembrance Day a legal holiday from coast to coast . . . if Remembrance Day becomes a national deer hunting day, the occasion for marking will have increasingly less significance.
—Napanee, Ont.) Post-Express

TIME FOR DECISION

Any person or party involving the House of Commons in prolonged debate about the committee recommendation for a Canadian flag should be ostracized politically . . . The committee, both majority and minority, should be praised for their labors, and their recommendation made effective at once.
—Cochrane (Ont.) Northland Post

THRIVING COMMUNITY

Humboldt is booming, and it is so booming because of the energy of its residents and their faith in the future as evidenced by their investments in new buildings; and also thanks to a businesslike civic administration which . . . is aware of the necessity for progress to meet the demands of tomorrow.

ADVICE TO FARMERS

This isn't the usual line of free advice to our friends on the farm. That often has to do with more efficient farm management, better crop rotation, tree farming and such. This treatise deals, rather, with the farmer's physical well-being in a year when he has met with more than the usual quota of bad breaks.

The cows are in the stable and a long winter lies ahead. We suggest to our friends from the concessions that they could enjoy a much shorter winter and restore tattered nerves by taking up the roarin' game, curling. There are ice sheets within easy reach of all at Alexandria, Lancaster, Maxville and Vankleek Hill and the members of all these clubs have the latch on the door for newcomers to the sport.

The curling season is almost ideally suited for farm folk who have a bit more time on their hands through the winter months. Out on the prairies, 'tis said, every farmer who doesn't go South to be warm keeps warm on the curling lanes. Quite a few area farmers fit in their chores to the curling schedule but there's room for a lot more.

A suggestion for the farm wife who is wondering what to give John for Christmas. Sign him on at the closest curling rink — then you'll get out more often, too.

Trouble with some people who drink too much is that they refuse to sit tight.

BETTER THAN CARDS

Christmas cards are already coming in, even from as far away as Japan; and they're warming.

We don't want to appear unappreciative when we suggest a curtailment of card sending this Christmas, but we like the idea of an Alexandria couple who will donate to the Rev. Hector McMillan fund rather than send the customary quota of cards.

Your Rambling Reporter has decided to do likewise and he recommends the idea to others. He realizes it's a bit late in the season. A lot of Christmas cards have already been bought; and no doubt some are already en route, in line with the urgings of the Post Office Department to "mail early".

But perhaps local card sending could be curtailed and those savings turned over to the fund.

Most of us will admit, if only to ourselves, that it's silly to be sending cards to friends we expect to see over the yuletide. Our greetings can be more warmly given in a personal way but we keep on sending cards because we may be

CHRISTMAS CARDS

Choosing cards is easy,
No distress at all,
But choosing just how many
Drives me up the wall.

Pare it to the marrow,
Prune it to the bone,
Our list is like a jungle
Lush and overgrown.

Pare it without pity,
Prune it with a will,
Our list is like a snowball
Speeding down a hill.

Those who missed us last year,
Frank, the Stewarts, Dot,
Perhaps they went to Europe —
Maybe they forgot.

Missed us two years running:
Bill, the Blacks, Miss Hood,
We'll send them cards regardless —
Frances says we should.

Folks we never hear from
Likely don't exist
Except upon the pages
Of our Christmas list.

Don't forget we're adding
Peter, Fred, Marie . . .
Our list is like a tele-
Phone directory.

All my labor's wasted —
What's the use of life
With all my brave deletions

SYMBOL OF CHRISTMAS

There is a legend that comes down to us from the early days of Christianity in England. One of those helping to spread Christianity among the Druids was a monk named Wilfred. One day, surrounded by a group of his converts, he struck down a huge oak tree, which in the Druid religion, was an object of worship.

As the tree fell to earth, it split into four pieces, and from its centre there grew a young fir tree pointing a green spire toward the sky. The crowd gazed in amazement.

Wilfred let his axe drop and turned to speak. "This little tree shall be your Holy Tree tonight. It is the wood of Peace, for your houses are built of the fir. It is the sign of an endless life for its leaves are evergreen. See how it points towards the heavens.

And to this day, the fir tree is one of our loveliest symbols of Christmas.

AFTERNOON WMS

The December afternoon meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held at the Manse. The president, Mrs. W. S. McLean, opened the meeting with a Christmas poem.

Miss Bella MacLeod had charge of the devotional part. She gave an inspiring Christmas message. Reading from Luke Chapter 2, verses 8-20. She based her remarks, on the angels' message, "Fear not for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people". She concluded with a challenging Christmas story "Why the chimes rang".

Mrs. I. MacIver rendered the beautiful solo "Glory to God", accompanied by Mrs. O'Hara at the piano.

Mrs. MacLean read a suitable Christmas story entitled "Gifts from the Wise Men".

Mrs. Rod McRae, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting followed by the roll call with 21 members responding. Vacancies in Presbyterial were discussed. The president asked all secretaries to bring a full report of the year 1964 to the January meeting.

The treasurer Mrs. W. A. MacEwen gave a gratifying report.

Offerings were received and dedicated. Social hour followed.

DECEMBER MEETING UCW

Mrs. McKillican took her meditation from Matthew 2nd chapter, the topic being, "His Christmas gift wrapped in flesh. She closed with prayer and the singing of another hymn. The treasurer gave a report of the givings to date, which was very encouraging.

This being the Christmas meeting Mrs. W. Wilkinson took charge and two verses of Hymn 58 "It came upon a midnight clear", were sung, then Mrs. Wilkinson gave a talk which showed us something of the world into which Christ was born in comparison with the world of 1964. She also reviewed a chapter from our study book, God and His Purpose—entitled, "God speaks for Himself".

Mrs. J. W. Hall closed with prayer.

expecting ditto from them. These friends are probably stuck with the same expectation and so the cards are purchased and mailed and opened and discarded; to put it in a nice way.

We appreciate the thought; but almost everyone has come to realize that this practice of sending Christmas cards is now way out of hand. The idea is getting around that the money involved might better be devoted to some worthwhile charitable cause.

And what more timely this Christmas than the Rev. Hector McMillan fund?

Donations may be made at any bank in the area, we hear. If we don't hear from you this Christmas, we trust the McMillan family fund will.

Very Successful Season Reviewed At Golf Club Trophy Night Dinner

A very successful season was reviewed for some 200 members of the Glengarry Golf and Country Club at the trophy night dinner and dance held in Alexander Hall, Saturday night.

In a brief review of 1964 operations President Lloyd McHugh pointed out that greens fees had reached a new high in this first year of permanent greens; club membership fees had more than doubled and some 30 more shares had been purchased to bring those issued over the 300 mark.

He had warm praise for the work of the grounds staff under Conrad Lajoie and for the work of Pro Ben Kerr and house manager Alex DaPrato. The clubrooms had been expanded this year, he noted, and the grounds had been much improved.

Club Treasurer Ronald Macdonald reported all outstanding bills had been paid and Louis Shepherd, chairman of the car draw committee, reported a successful sale of tickets.

Later in the evening the draw for the 1965 Plymouth was held. The lucky winner was Henri Lalonde of Plantagenet.

Mrs. Herman Parsons, president of the ladies' group, reviewed their activities briefly and the presentation of trophies and prizes was in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mutchler, captains of the men and ladies. They went to:

Men's champion—D. R. McDonald, Lancaster.

Men's handicap champion—Ronald Martin.

Junior champion—Jimmy Nyman.

Ringer competition—Hugh D. MacCuaig.

Lady champion—Mrs. Denise Lemieux.

Lady's ringer champion—Mrs. Lemieux.

Angus H. McDonell trophy—Ronald Martin, Maurice Lemieux, Mrs. Hugh D. MacCuaig and Michael Amelotte.

Lions Club President John Proulx presented the Lions trophy to Lloyd McHugh.

Following the presentation of trophies, dancing was enjoyed to the music of Maurice Gauthier's orchestra. Club members were present from Montreal, Ottawa, Cornwall, Lancaster, St. Clet and other points.

Mr. Latreille is survived by his wife, Lucie Gratton.

He also leaves three brothers, Albert and Armand of Cornwall, and Rene of Montreal; and six sisters, Mrs. Clarence Kuhn (Germaine), Mrs. Melvin Kuhn (Irene), Mrs. William Dennison (Aurore), Mrs. Yvon Quinsilac (Lucille), Mrs. Rolland Gratton (Alice) and Mrs. Wilfred Oliver (Anita), all of Cornwall.

The funeral was held this morning to Nativity Church and cemetery in Cornwall.

St Lawrence Hoopsters Here Friday

The Pointe Claire rink, skipped by Mrs. J. Spurway, won the day, with the team from the Town of Mount Royal skipped by Mrs. M. Morrison coming second. Mrs. R. J. Graham's rink from Alexandria won the consolation prize.

Mrs. F. Schneider Died At Montreal

The death of Mrs. Mary Ann Schneider occurred Tuesday evening, Nov. 24th, at the Mayfair Hospital, Montreal, following a lengthy illness.

The former Mary Ann Kelly, Mrs. Schneider was born in the 5th Concession of Lancaster, the daughter of John Kelly and his wife, Catherine MacDonald.

Mrs. Schneider, who spent all of her adult life in St. Michael of the Archangel's parish, was married in that church in 1916 to Frank Schneider of Hudson Heights, Que. He peredeceased her in September 1963.

Active in the many parish organizations, she will live in the memory of a large circle of friends no less for her keen wit and ungent ent humor than for her liberal hospitality and genuine neighborliness.

Left to mourn the passing of a devoted mother are one son, Duncan, and three daughters: Mrs. Michael Williams (Kathryn), Mrs. Reginald Carter (Frances) and Mrs. Daniel Downey (Patricia).

She is also survived by her sister Miss Helen Kelly, Montreal and 17 grandchildren.

The funeral was held from St. Michael's Church where the Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Thomas Miller. The Libera and graveside prayers were conducted by Rev. Leo MacDonell in St. Margaret of Scotland Church, Glen Nevis, where burial took place.

The many messages of sympathy, Mass offerings and floral tributes received were testimony of the esteem in which Mrs. Schneider was held.

Dan McGillivray Died In BC

The death occurred on December 2, 1964, at the home of his son in North Surrey, British Columbia of Donald (Dan) McGillivray, a resident of Vancouver for over 50 years.

Another sister, Mrs. Tena Smiley, passed away in San Francisco, California, about two months ago.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. S. Clark on December 4th from the Chapel of Chimes, Harron Bros. Ltd., to Forest Lawn Memorial Cemetery. Pall bearers were six old friends who had worked with the deceased for many years.

was felt, and the meeting much favored local participation as long as the 1967 Glengarry gathering was not affected. Officials are to contact the Pipers' Society with a view to further discussing plans.

W. R. MacEwen, president, presided at the well-attended meeting in the Community Hall. Another successful Games was reviewed. Band expenses were very high this year and there had been considerable improvement of the grounds nevertheless a surplus was shown on the books.

Leslie Clark of Dunvegan, was elected president and Angus H. McDonell, Alexandria, was returned as chairman. Reeve Hugh Smith of Maxville, is vice-president. Both John Jamieson, secretary, and Mrs. Rod MacLennan, treasurer, were re-elected.

Christmas Party For Blind People

The blind people of Glengarry County with their escorts were guests of the Glengarry County Advisory Committee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind at a Christmas Dinner and entertainment held at the Cafeteria at the Alexandria High School on December 2nd. The party was made possible through the generosity of the Richelieu Club of Alexandria and the Lions Club of Alexandria.

In the absence of Romeo Rouleau, Chairman of the Committee, Rene Gauthier, President of the Richelieu Club and member of the CNIB Board acted as Master of Ceremonies. Rev. L. S. Woolfrey asked the blessing after which a delicious turkey dinner was served by Mrs. Tobin and her staff.

The dinner was followed by an excellent program. Mrs. H. Theoret of Dalhousie Station sang delightfully accompanying herself on the guitar; Mrs. Clarence MacMillan played Scottish tunes on the violin accompanied by Ruth Anna MacPherson; Bernie Hutt of Bainsville, played jigs and hornpipes on the violin; Richard Lapierre entertained with step-dancing; Miss Alma Brault sang in French accompanied by George Patrick who also played a piano solo. Pierre Rouette led a sing-song in French and Angus D. McDonald regaled the gathering with a few tunes on the bagpipes. The program was arranged by Angus R. MacDonell and Romeo Rouleau.

At the close of the party each blind person was presented with a gift on behalf of the Glengarry County Advisory Committee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Avonmore Minister Marks Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson were honored last week at a surprise party in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church hall, Avonmore, by members of their congregations in Avonmore, Gravel Hill and Monkland on the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary.

The high esteem in which Rev. and Mrs. Wilson are held was reflected in the largely attended social evening which was planned by members of the combined Sessions of the three churches.

Completely taken by surprise, the Wilsons were escorted into the chruch hall and to the platform to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride", played by Mrs. Neil Bush.

Herbert Hill, representative elder, read an address, which, in addition to expressing congratulations and best wishes, expressed the congregation's love and appreciation for Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's dedicated ministry, now in its third year in the local charge.

On behalf of the congregation Clifford MacRae made a presentation of a purse of money. Mrs. E. M. Miller pinned a beautiful corsage on Mrs. Wilson's dress and Ford Warner presented a boutonniere to the reverend gentleman.

Rev. Mr. Wilson thanked one and all for the expression of good wishes and for the kind thoughts which prompted members of the congregations to remember Mrs. Wilson and himself on attaining this milestone in their married life.

The large gathering joined in the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

E. M. Miller was chairman of a very fine program.

Greetings were brought by the following clergymen who were present: Rev. J. A. McGowan, Vankleek Hill, Moderator of the Presbytery of Glengarry; Rev. Dr. William MacLean, Kirk Hill; and Rev. Dr. W. L. MacLellan, Cornwall. The chairman read greetings from Rev. Iver D. MacIver, Maxville, and Mr. Raymond Glen, student minister of Knox Church, Moose Creek.

Musical and vocal numbers were contributed by "The Three Fathers", Allen McIntyre, John Miller and Burns McIntyre; Miss Felicitas Munzel; Misses Lee and Brenda McIntyre, Miss Mavis MacRae; Arthur Phillips, Miss Helen Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelis Heemskerk, Dean McIntyre and Miss Melanie McIntyre.

Rev. Mr. Wilson contributed to the program as he sang an interesting little Irish ditty which caused great merriment for all those present.

After the singing of "Blest Be the Tie" Rev. Mr. Wilson pronounced the Benediction.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilson were called upon to cut a beautifully decorated wedding cake. Later the ladies of the congregation served a sumptuous lunch. A social hour came at the end of a very enjoyable evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilson, both natives of Newtownards, Northern Ireland, were married in the Stevenson College Chapel of the Irish Presbyterian Mission in the city of Ahmedabad, now the capital of Gujarat State in Western India. Mrs. Wilson's maiden name was Miss Mary Dunlop.

The ceremony on Nov. 27, 1934, was performed by Rev. Dr. George Wilson, later Moderator of the United Church of Northern India.

Best man was Rev. Dr. John H. Davey, later Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. Mrs. Wilson's attendant was Miss Betty Hunter of Northern Ireland, now Mrs. Cecil Watson.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilson, after 16 years' service on the mission field in Central India, came to Canada in February 1949, having held pastorates in Lloydminister, Alberta; Beaverton, Port Elgin, Morriston and Shakespeare, Ontario.

They were inducted into the local charge on September 28, 1962.

They have one daughter, Miss Elna Wilson, an elementary school teacher in Hamilton and one son, Kenneth Wilson, a student at the University of Toronto. A son, James, died accidentally in 1957.

PICNIC GROVE

WCTU MET

Mrs. J. U. Tanner, president, presided over the well attended meeting of Picnic Grove Women's Christian Temperance Union, at her home on Thursday. The singing of a hymn, and prayer by the president was followed by scripture reading from Isaiah, chapter II, and a meditation stressing the importance and significance of the Hand of Christ in all things.

Mrs. John Fortier sang very beautifully "A Christmas Hymn", with Mrs. W. McWhinnie as accompanist. The roll call was answered with Temperance items, one of which told of the prohibitions and restrictions on liquor sale in India, and the remark was made that "India should be sending us Missionaries". The visit of Ontario WCTU field secretary, Mrs. R. H. McKelvy to the public schools was favorably reported. The Temperance study course was again carried on in the local school and plans were made to have posters made by the pupils in the new year.

The campaign to repeal local option in Lancaster Township was discussed and financial and other assistance to prevent its repeal were given by this union. One new member was received and three members who were unable to be present were remembered with cards. Mrs. Tanner read a brief, thoughtful article on the Power of God and our need to trust in Him at all times. She closed the meeting with prayer. All present enjoyed a social time over the delicious lunch served by the hostess.

EDUCATION FOR ALL

Not too many years from now, many of us hope a university education will be available to every student who has the academic qualifications for entrance. And the same policy would apply to those with aptitudes for technological training. So for the future . . . we can expect more and more to be done to keep our young people at school until they are 20, 21 or older. —Dauphin (Man.) Herald and Press

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Elmer (Montreal Star) Ferguson tossed an old bone of contention with argumentative wrapping on the sport trail last weekend. "Fergie", a dean of Canadian sport writers, asked, "Is the hockey assist mightier than the goal?"

This came about when the wire story told that Norm Ullman, due to assists, headed Bobby Hull who is on a goal-scoring spree during his early season Hurricane Hazel playing.

Scribe Ferguson said that perhaps this will open the way, unhappily, to some further argument as to the relative merits of goals and assists, an argument which, he predicted, will never be satisfactorily settled.

Undoubtedly this is true. However, so long as players like Bobby Hull and Norm Ullman are competing for the scoring championship we think the chances are slim of player agitation for a change in the present point system.

When Hull was told that Ullman inched ahead in the point race Bobby remarked, "Why, that's fine. He's a nice guy. Good luck to him."

Bobby Hull, in his play and by such a sportsmanlike remark about a keen competitor, is typical of the NHL greats. That is mainly the reason why the goal and assist value debate doesn't expand due to jealous heat.

When Joe Malone, yes even wavy-haired, slower skating Odie Cleghorn were setting up Dider Pitre and Joé Hall with the original Flying Frenchmen, there was no point bickering.

Pembroke's Frank Nighbor at center ice with Ottawa Senators slid record making feathery scoring passes to "Cy" Denneny and "Punch" Broadbent. "Punch" told us one time of how he and "Cy" would kid the poke-check artist Nighbor that they carried him by their deft shots. Gentleman Joe Primeau made the first "Kid Line" in the NHL famous by his precision passes to Leafs' Charlie Conacher and "Busher" Jackson. Vying for the same honors would be Frank Boucher with Rangers' sharp-shooting Bill Cook and his brother Bun. (This was one case where too many cooks didn't spoil the soup).

Many other noted combinations may be recalled that were splendid exemplary team players, especially to our minor hockey troop. Here in the Glens we have potential, so much so that minor hockey leaders hope to organize a league of Lancaster, Alexandria, St. Isidore and Maxville to play in the Community rink, Maxville. This is an admirable sport movement.

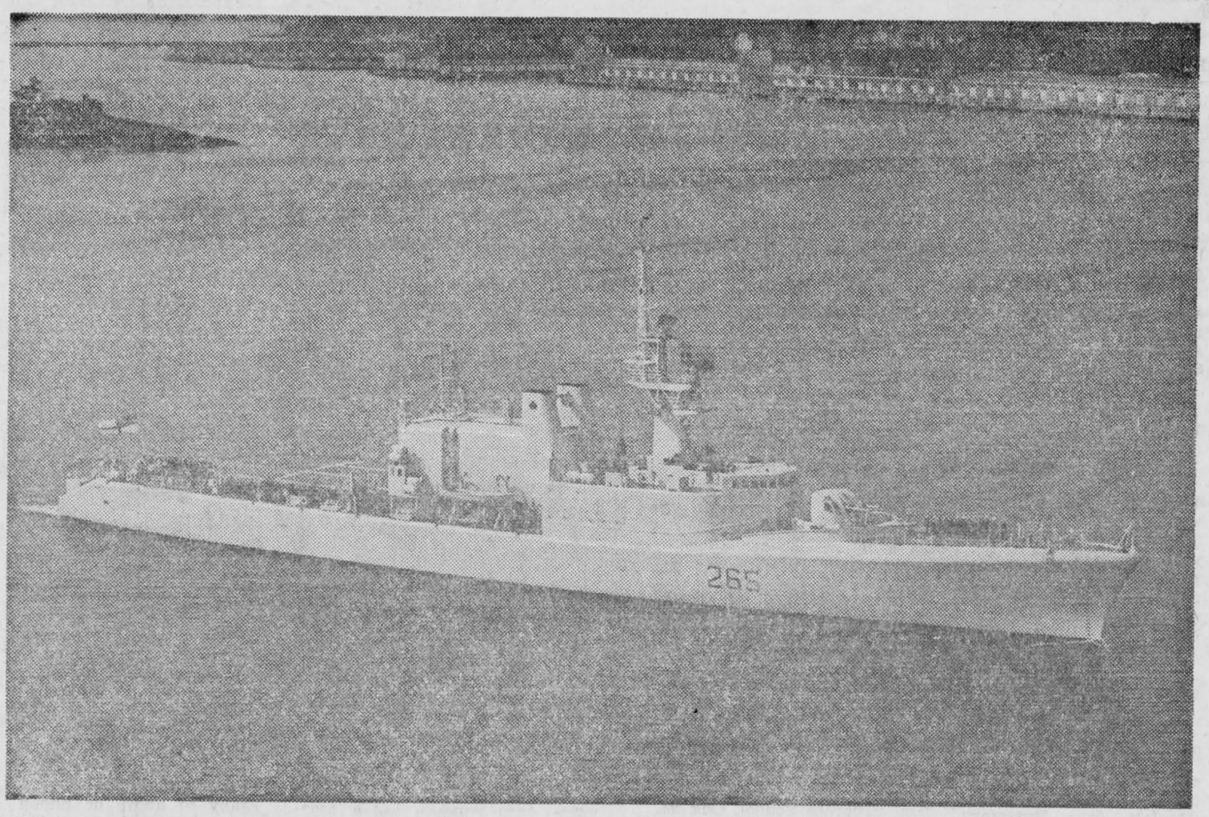
We trust that especially the youngsters with promise will show appreciation of this organization leadership and coaching by referring to a team mate or opponent who is scoring more points, as Bobby Hull said, "Why, that's fine. He's a nice guy. Good luck to him."

Having begun this stint by recalling the old stalwarts of the NHL may not be interesting to younger readers however with their pardon we will gallop along the same trail.

Last week in Ottawa whom should we meet in Sammy (Belle Claire) Koffman's sportsmen's den but "Punch" Broadbent. We hadn't seen the cogenial NHL veteran, Broadbent, for some time and he belies having had a few bouts with the medicos.

Harry Broadbent, as he was christened but rarely addressed, still has that ruddy complexion and wears the knitted bar-striped ties to blend with his fine toggery.

The younger fry present, including this writer, were unaware that "Punch" played with Ottawa Senators when they won the then National Hockey Association in 1914-15. An old photo was taken down from the wall and sure enough, there was ruddy, chubby-faced Broadbent, just before he enlisted in World War One, a mere teenager.



JOINING THE FLEET—The destroyer escort Annapolis, complete with facilities to operate a nine-ton anti-submarine helicopter and fitted with Canadian variable depth sonar, will be commissioned in the Royal Canadian Navy at Halifax Shipyards, Ltd., on Dec. 19. Named after the river which winds through Nova Scotia's fertile Annapolis Valley, the ship is the 20th anti-submarine warship to join the fleet from a Canadian shipyard.

Among the group were Cosy Dolan, Jack Darragh, Art Ross, Frank "Shag" Shaughnessy, Alf Smith, Coach; Clint Benedict, goal (he once coached Maxville Blue Devils) and Eddie Gerard.

Following Armistice Punch Broadbent rejoined Senators to flank Frank Nighbor and Cy Denneny for many years. Later Frank Finnegan, out of Shawville, was a comer so Ottawa sold the popular Broadbent to Maroons. From the Montreal club he finished with the defunct NY Americans. The tab "Punch" and sometimes "Elbows" was apt, as Harry had a prominent midriff and ask any of the old veterans about his right elbow any time they tried a sprint along the starboard wing.

Another NHL veteran in the weekend limelight was the former Montreal Maroon, Jimmy (Ft. William) Ward and his son Pete. Jimmy as a rookie was Punch Broadbent's relief on right wing.

Jimmy Ward and his family were close friends of the Wm. (H. W. Alexandria) MacDonells; thus sort of an adopted Glengarrian.

Pete Ward, now 25, plays with Chicago White Sox and although he has spent 20 years in Portland, Oregon, Pete admits that he retains with pride his Canadian citizenship. Pete Ward has been Canada's successor to George (Huntsville, Ont.) Selkirk of the old Yankees. There have been few father-son combinations in the big time, however, the Wards belong near the top.

HITHER AND YON

A noted Canadian businessman and sportsman, Leo Bishop, died recently in Victoria, BC. The Bishops have Glengarry ties via the late Father Bishop . . . Leo was widely known in the flour mill mercantile field at Battleford, Sask. . . . In 1935 he led his Battleford Millers without subsidy from the CAHA and strictly on his own, to Japan . . . as a reward the Japs presented Leo with a Cloisonne Trophy, quite unique, and he in turn gave this trophy to the Hockey Hall of Fame . . . sympathy to Hub (Regina) Bishop and family members.

Memo to Ottawa and Kirkland Lake Glens' sport followers — Labatts (not to be confused with Bud Mutchler's Carnation Milk) announce that Mr. G. LaGrave is president of Montreal Ind. Rec. Assoc. . . . That Mr. LaGrave is none other than "Gerry" who became a noted hockey referee in the NOHA and Kirkland Lake following a fine athletic career in Ottawa.

While the better half was a baby sitter and the writer attended the Highland Games annual meeting in Maxville we by-passed our Golf Club presentation night . . . It was pleasant to hear that the festive board was heavily laden and expertly served while Maurice Gauthier's dance band completed a delightful soiree . . . what better way to end the social season until Hogmanay and Bonne Année . . . Lyall Costello and his Holy Name able assistants served a spaghetti supper Sunday evening a la Montreal's FDR-Decarie Blvd's posh eatery . . . the next, most likely, will be either haggis on Robbie Burns night or Irish stew come March 17.
