Cornwall Woman, Monkland Man Killed Though Traffic Picture Clean In Glengarry

A Cornwall woman was killed on the eve of Christmas and a resident of Monkland was a traffic victime last Friday.

On the Glengarry scene over the holidays the traffic picture was remarkably clean though there were several minor accidents during the heavy snow conditions at Christmas.

The OPP at Lancaster report only 11 minor accidents in the week between Christmas and New Year's day, none of which involved injuries. There were 27 warnings issued and 10 occurrences other than traffic were investigated. Seven charges were laid.

Friday's accident at Monkland brought death to Gordon James Truax, 57, who was struck and killed as he walked across Highway 43 in front of his home at 5.55 p.m.

Jean Gregoire, 53, of Maple Grove, Que., has been charged with dangerous driving in connection with the accident.

Mr. Truax, father of three, was a 31-year employee of Courtaulds (Canada) Limited in Cornwall.

He was crossing the highway to a diner when he was hit by a westbound car.

Mr. Truax, a compressor engineer, was declared dead by Coroner Dr. L. M. Emard of Cornwall.

A native of Monkland, Mr. Truax leaves his wife, the former Inez Grant of Monkland; two sons, Ivan and Jack; a daughter, Lottie, and four brothers, Emerson, Winston, Alfred and John.

A native of Martintown, Mrs. Austin Gadbois, 54, was killed Dec. 23rd when struck by a car on McConnell Ave., Cornwall, a short distance from Hotel Dieu where she was employed as a diet aide. Driver of the car was Gerald Carriere, also of Cornwall.

The former Lillian Towne, Mrs. Gadbois was born at Martintown and resided in the Apple Hill area before moving to Cornwall in 1954. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Towne.

She leaves her husband, Austin; two sons, Dalton and Michael of Cornwall; and one daughter, Mrs. Douglas Rankin (Betty) of Thessalon, Ont.

Also surviving is one brother, Cameron Towne, of Watertown, NY; and two sisters, Mrs. Edward Dupuis (Jean) of Alexandria; and Miss Mae Towne, of Cornwall. A brother Leonard predeceased her.

To Mark 94th Birthday Jan. 12

Mrs. Duncan W. MacLeod of Skye, will mark her 94th birthday next Thursday, Jan. 12th when she will receive the good wishes of many friends.

An Apple Hill resident, John Angus MacDonald, joined the 'Over 90 Club, on Dec. 28th, his 90th birthday.

Birthday celebrations were held at the home of his son, Ranald Joseph MacDonald, Alexandria and there was a large family gathering. Mr. MacDonald is in very good health. He likes to play cards and is particularly fond of Bingo, attending games in and around the district.

Two Injured In Car-Truck Crash

Two Cornwall youths were injured at 4.10 Wednesday afternoon when their sports car was in collision with a Menard Construction gravel truck, on Highway 34, one mile south of the Brown House.

Claude Lapierre, 18, driver, of the Austin convertible suffered a fractured knee and facial lacerations. Bernard Lefebvre, 19, suffered concussion and facial lacerations. They were conveyed to Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

According to the report of OPP Constable Hargreaves the Menard truck, driven by Leslie Burton, RR1 Alexandria, was proceeding north and making a turn onto a sideroad when struck by the southbound car.

Richelieu Carnival Taking Shape

The Richelieu Club reports a very encouraging response from townspeople with their ideas to promote the winter carnival. Since this is their centennial project club members are going all out to make it a memorable event.

Sports will play a major part in the day's celebrations. There will also be a carnival queen for which contest entries are to be in by Jan. 10th. Bonhomme Carnival will be present to preside at all the day's activities.

Town dignitaries and others will try rolling a barrel up Main Street and other events being organized are tug of war, see-saw contest, pie-eating contest. All contests will be open to area teams or individuals.

Lefebvre's Red & White store will serve a full course meal throughout the day absolutely free.

Two monster dances, one for the young and the other for the not so young, will close out the big carnival, set for Feb. 25th.

Former Teacher Died At 80

A former teacher who had been connected with education in area schools through most of her lifetime, Miss Florida Pilon of Glen Robertson, died Dec. 24th in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall. She was 80.

Miss Pilon was born at St. Marthe, Que., a daughter of Hilaire Pilon and his wife, Marie Dubeau. She taught in Glen Robertson and late at Ste. Anne de Prescott for 10 years before retiring to Glen Robertson in 1920. She had since served as secretary of several school boards, including SS 12 East Lochiel, SS 12B Lochiel and SS 12 Lancaster. She also served as secretary of the former Glen Robertson cheese factory for eight years.

One brother, Herve Pilon of Glen Robertson, survives.

The funeral was held Dec. 27th to St. Martin of Tours Church where Rev. Lucien Lussier, PP, was assisted at the solemn mass by Rev. Lionel Joyal. Interment will be in Glen Robertson in the spring.

Pallbearers were Francois and Paul Pilon, Armand, Paul and Maurice Lanthier, Paul De Ratier.

Among relatives present from a distance were Gabrielle Pilon, Ottawa; Maurice Pilon, Beaconsfield; Jeanne Boyer, Laval des Rapides; Jeanne Suprenant, East Hartford, Conn.; Robert Campeau and Rita De Ratier, Astoria, NY.

John J. McCormick Died Suddenly

The sudden death occurred early Tuesday, Dec. 27th, of John James McCormick of Montreal, who had spent Christmas at his home in the Sixth Kenyon. Mr. McCormick was en route back to Montreal, Monday evening, when he suffered a heavy stroke and died hours later in Glengarry Memorial Hospital. He was 39.

A son of Dan McCormick and his wife, Isabel McLean of the Sixth Kenyon, Mr. McCormick had been employed at Montreal for the past 20 years. He had been with the circulation department of the Montreal Gazette for the past 14 years.

Mr. McCormick had never loosened the ties with his home county and through the years he had spent many of his weekends in Glengarry. He was a charter member of the Glengarry Golf & Country Club and had been active in the Glengarry Club of Montreal.

To mourn his tragically sudden death he leaves his parents, five brothers and two sisters. They are: Allan and Ronald, of Ottawa; Donald Angus, at home; Hugh of Montreal; Bernard and Betty, Mrs. John Chisholm, both of St. Andrews West; Inez, Mrs. John Kennedy of Ottawa.

The largely attended funeral was held Dec. 29th from the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home here to St. Catherine of Sienna Church and cemetery, Greenfield. Rev. H. J. Ouimet, PP, chanted the solemn mass, assisted by Rev. Elzear Danis.

The pallbearers were: Gerald Derry, John M. Kennedy, Angus H. McDonell, Guy Bougie, Donald McDonald and Rod MacDougall.

Prizes Awarded For Outdoor Lighting

Judging of outdoor decorations was held on the eve of Christmas and officials report the special lighting was at a peak this yuletide.

Top prize went to Marcel Lanthier, 95 Peel St., with Fernand Laflamme, Boundary Rd. and William St. in second spot and Gerald Charlebois, Victoria St. West, placing third.

Given honorable mention were the homes of Louis Shepherd, John G. Proulx, Dr. Bernard Villeneuve and Mrs. Phyllis Mosher.

Miss MacGillivray Died At Ottawa

On Tuesday, December 27th, friends and relatives paid their last respects to the memory of Clara Oswald Ross MacGillivray, who passed away following a lengthy illness at Ottawa Civic Hospital, on December 23rd. Rev. J. A. McGowan conducted the funeral service in Knox Presbyterian Church, Vankleek Hill, paying fitting tribute to her generous and loyal support of her church. She had been particularly interested in the Sunday School and the work of the Women's Missionary Society.

Born on February 5th, 1889, at lot 16, con. 5 Lochiel, she was the youngest and last surviving member of the family of Donald MacGillivray and his wife Elizabeth Ross. The greater part of her life was spent at home, although she taught school several years and also was employed in the Dominion Civil Service for a time. The last number of years she resided in Vankleek Hill, until, due to ill health, she spent the past year in Ottawa with her niece, Mrs. C. A. Beaton. She was of a kindly and hospitable nature and was a great favorite with children.

The pallbearers were William J. MacGillivray, and five nephews J. Grant MacMillan, D. Ross MacMillan, John D. MacMillan, E. Douglas MacMillan and Donald MacGillivray. Interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery in the spring.

The floral tributes as well as the many messages received attested to the esteem in which she was held in the community.

Tentative Program Of Centennial Events Outlined By Chairman Of Committee

Alexandria's centennial celebration will emphasize accomplishment, with stress placed on the advancement this country has made over the last 100 years and what it means to Alexandria, reports Lyall Costello, chairman of town council's centennial commitee.

A tentative program of events is supplied by Mr. Costello and it is subject to ratification by the centennial committee which will meet Jan. 17th.

Town Council, with the help of the many societies, will endeavor to see that every elementary school pupil has an opportunity to visit Expo '67 at Montreal. A survey will soon be taken in the schools to determine those children whose parents or friends are unable to take them personally to Expo so that arrangements can be made to accommodate them.

An Industrial Day is also planned on a date to be determined later. It will be a day when all industries will throw open their doors to show the public what they produce and methods of production. Certain clubs have expressed a willingness to help in this project, according to Councillor Costello.

Alexandria has been twinned with Dartmouth, NS, through arrangements with the Youth Centennial Committee at Ottawa made by John Libbos, Jr. This will enable exchange of 10 or 12 students between Dartmouth and Alexandria, the cost to be borne by the Ottawa committee.

The tentative program here:

Jan. 18 to 25—Religious Octave Services in all Alexandria churches. Time and procedure to be announced.

Jan. 21—Centennial Ball sponsored by the Daughters of Isabella in Green Valley Pavilion.

Feb. 18—Centennial Golf Club Dance sponsored by Glengarry Golf & Country Club in Alexander Hall, featuring draw for a trip to Bermuda for two.

Feb. 25—Winter Carnival sponsored by the Richelieu Club of Alexandria.

March 17—St. Patrick's Dance and car draw, sponsored by the Lions Club.

April — Centennial Sportsmen's Dinner in Alexander Hall, sponsored by the Lions Club.

May 7-9—Centennial Caravan at Alexandria Park. District school boards take note this will be an opportunity for every student to view the advancement of Canada from the ice age until the present day. Please make arrangements for their attendance with their parents or by bus. Admission, free.

June—Date to be announced. Outdoor Social sponsored by K of C. Expanded program.

June—Date to be announced. Old-Time Dance on Mill Square. Centennial costumes. Prizes for oldest citizens attending. Sponsor to be announced.

Sept. 1, 2, 3—Golf tournament at Glengarry Golf & Country Club for novice and accomplished golfers.

October—Harvest Dance and celebration. Sponsor and place to be announced later.

Nov. 11—Sponsor Canadian Legion Branch and Ladies' Auxiliary. Details later.

Dec. 1 to 4—Centennial Curling Bonspiel for novices and accomplished curlers. Societies and clubs to enter teams. Sponsor, Town of Alexandria.

If any of these dates conflict with events in neighboring centres, those interested are asked to contact Lyall Costello, centennial program chairman, Alexandria, before Jan. 17.

Executives of some clubs are chosen only after the beginning of the new year, Mr. Costello notes, so that some places and dates, and even nature of the events, may be changed.

D. A. Grant Died Christmas Day

A resident of the Glen Roy area in recent years, Donald Archie Grant died Christmas day in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, following two-months' illness. He was 83.

Mr. Grant was born at Alexandria and in his youth was noted for his skill in hockey and lacrosse on local teams. He was a son of Alexander Grant and his wife, Isabel MacDonald. Most of his adult life was spent in Montreal but in recent years he had resided at Glen Roy.

Mr. Grant married Josephine St. Jacques in 1908 in St. Finnan's Cathedral here. She predeceased him and he is survived by two sons and four daughters: Lawrence and Gerry Grant, Frances, Mrs. Howard MacCulloch and Lorraine, Mrs. Robert Painchaud, all of Montreal; Sybil, Mrs. Hugh Cameron and Ray, Mrs. Alex MacCulloch, of Glen Roy.

A brother, Alex Grant of Montreal, also survives.

The funeral was held Dec. 28th from Alexandria Funeral Home to St. Finnan's Cathedral where Msgr. D. A. Kerr chanted the requiem mass. Interment will be at St. Raphael's in the spring.

The pallbearers were Clifford MacCulloch, Frank Baron and four grandsons: Robert Cameron, Gerald McCarthy, Grant and Keith MacCulloch.

Relatives and friends were present from Montreal, Ottawa and area points.

Funeral Saturday

Mrs. Armand Leblanc of Glen Robertson, the former Irene Seguin, died Wednesday in Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 10.45 a.m. from the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church.

RECEIVED DEGREE—Mrs. Judith Anne McLeod recently received her registered nurse's degree from Ottawa Civic Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus E. MacMillan, Lochiel and is married to Duncan Melville McLeod of Dunvegan. Mrs. McLeod is on the staff of Ottawa Civic Hospital.

No Holiday Babies But Rates Are Up

Glengarry Memorial Hospital could report neither Christmas nor New Year's babies though two were expected to arrive with centennial year. They are still expected.

Hospital Administrator Eric Gale could report an increase in rates with the new year, which will be interim until the year's budget is approved by the Hospital Commission.

New daily rates are: ward, $32; semi-private $36.20; private $38. Of this $32, the ward rate, is met by the Commission for all those carrying hospital insurance.

Ronald McRae, Bainsville, High Producer In Grain Corn Competition

The corn crop is rapidly gaining favor in Eastern Ontario for both ensilage and grain production. While a limited acreage has always been produced for silage purposes, the gradual introduction of higher yielding, earlier maturing hybrid varieties is now permitting the use of this crop for grain production and resulting in a higher quality ensilage than possible heretofore.

The introduction of herbicides for the chemical control of weeds rather than repeated cultivation has also spurred interest in this crop. Corn will also respond to high applications of fertilizer with resulting yields of feed nutrients greater than for any other crop that can be produced in the area.

The Glengarry Crop Improvement Association, in co-operation with the Plant Food Council of Ontario, sponsored a Grain Corn Competition in 1966. The results have just been made available. Placings of the first ten competitors along with their yields per acre as follows: (All yields on a 15.5% moisture basis):

	yield, Bu./Ac.
Ronald McRae, Bainsville	128.5
Harry Wygergangs, RR 1 Lan.	127.5
John M. Petrie, Bainsville	120.8
Robert MacRae, Lancaster	116.2
Wm. J. Vander Byl, RR1 Alex.	101.8
Donald D. Ross, Martintown	100.1
Alex Robertson, Martintown	92.7
Alex D. MacLeod, RR1 Dalkeith	87.5
Henry Kinloch, Martintown	87.1
Walter Blaney, Maxville	73.3

If you consider the high yield in this competition, you will note that this amounts to 7,196 lbs. of high energy feed per acre. Corn is 80% digestible and highly palatable. This yield represents 5,756 lbs. of total digestible nutrients available for dairy, beef or swine rations on an acre basis. It would appear that with further improvements in varieties and greater use of present technical knowledge on fertility requirements, weed control methods and plant populations, grain corn yields of 150 to 200 bushels per acre may be possible in Glengarry County in the non-too-distant future. When you consider that the average crop of oats yields less than 1,700 lbs. per acre, containing less than 1,200 lbs. of total digestible nutrients for animal feeding, the sudden interest in the corn crop is not surprising!

Churches To Unite In Ecumenical Service

Congregations of St. Finnan's Cathedral Parish, the Church on the Hill and Sacred Heart Parish will hold an ecumenical service in St. Finnan's Cathedral t 7.30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 19th. Prayers for peace and unity will mark the week of Church Unity Octave being observed Jan. 18 to 25.

Choirs of the three churches will join to lead the singing of hymns of praise.

Plans for the service are being completed by Msgr. D. A. Kerr, Msgr. Cyrille Contant and Rev. Leonard S. Woolfrey.

Lucky Winners

On the receiving end, even before Christmas were Mrs. Harry Keyes of Ottawa, winner of a 1967 Chevrolet at the Lions Club Bingo in Ottawa, in early December, and Mrs. Josephat Theoret of Alexandria.

Mrs. Theoret was winner of the $1,000 prize in the Christmas draw of Alexandria Legion Branch.

Chosen To Take Part In Centennial Tattoo

W.A.S.T. Gail Aulenback stationed at HMCS Shearwater, NS, has been chosen as one of 12 Wrens across the country to represent Canada in the Canadian Armed Forces Military Tattoo for the Centennial. Gail is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorain Aulenback, Alexndria.

Goodyear Feed Mill At Green Valley Most Serious Of Four Fire Calls

The fire siren sounded several times last week for purposes of testing but there were no actual fires here during the holiday period.

The brigade was called out for four outbreaks, two of them prior to Christmas and the other two on Tuesday of this week. Most serious were the December fires which involved destruction of the Goodyear Feed plant at Green Valley and serious burns in the second blaze to an Alexandria businessman, Elie Chenier.

Mr. Chenier is still a patient in Glengarry Memorial Hospital where he was rushed Friday, Dec. 23rd, after suffering second and third degree burns to face, hands and thighs. Injured when a propane gas torch exploded in his shop. Mr. Chenier is expected to be able to leave hospital next week.

Firemen were called to the Chenier shop at 9.15 a.m. and controlled the blaze without trouble, though there was some smoke and water damage.

Alexander Dumond, owner of the Goodyear Feed plant at Green Valley could not say yesterday what are his plans concerning the feed mill destroyed in the early hours of Thursday, Dec. 22nd. Mr. Dumond had purchased the business earlier in the year from Jos. Vaillancourt who established it in 1935.

Fire brigades from Alexandria, Lancaster and Williamstown fought the blaze and succeeded in preventing its spread to an adjacent dwelling which housed seven people.

Origin of the fire was undetermined and Mr. Dumond could give no estimate of the heavy loss.

The first of Tuesday's two alarms called the local brigade to Maria Goretti Academy where an exhaust fan over the kitchen stove had caught fire. Summoned from the nearby Retreat House, Rev. Paul Lapierre had the 7.50 a.m. blaze under control when firemen reached the scene. There was some smoke damage.

Joseph Bedard of Green Valley, lost some 3,000 bales of hay, a pressure system and chickens in a 3 p.m. fire which destroyed his barn. Neighbors succeeded in removing 10 head of cattle.

Alexandria and Lancaster brigades responded but the fire was beyond control when they reached the scene.

Old-Time Dance At Williamstown Enjoyed

Charlottenburgh's centennial committee ushered in Canada's birthday year with an old-time ball which featured costumes and dances of an earlier era. More than 300 attended, a majority in old-time dress, and they came from as far as Montreal and Osnabruck West.

Winners of costume prizes were: Mrs. Ivan MacDonald, Cornwall; Bob James of Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, Martintown, best couple.

So successful was the event the committee is considering another one possibly St. Patrick's Day.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

Happy Centennial Year

It's still 1966 as we pen this opening editorial for the first issue of a new year and so it might be permissable to glance back over our 75th year before looking ahead to Canada's centennial.

Here at the News office it must be counted a good year if only because of the fact we survived a fire. Those artisans of a century or more ago had been thorough in their building and our wall withstood the flames, with help from effective firefighters.

That was almost a year ago and the scars are only now in process of removal. We have known frustration due to delay in settling insurance claims and in securing the services of a building contractor; but overriding this was the knowledge that things might have been much worse. We were able to continue uninterrupted publishing of our paper and we still have our files with their invaluable record of the Glengarry scene since 1892, and much of our earlier history.

This was a year of slow but steady progress for our paper as it reached and passed the four thousand mark in paid circulation. We have inched ahead through 1966 and if the new year holds any threat for us it is one common to every thinking man in business—the fear that mismanagement in government will prove unable to contain the inflationary spiral.

Runaway inflation would be equally catastrophic for every Canadian and we can but hope that somehow our bumbling bureaucrats and palsied politicians will find a way to keep the national economy buoyant through this year of Confederation's centennial.

This was a satisfactory year for us and perhaps that is how the average Glengarry dairyman would describe it. The weatherman was more considerate, the milk flow was more sustained than in recent summers of near drought and there is plenty of winter feed in mow and silo. Most of us may still be pursuing the dream of riches, but at least we caught up a bit on our debts, or laid away a little, in this year that is edging into the past even as we write.

The days and months ahead, adding up to the year of Confederation's centennial, are certain to be something special. Much planning has gone into preparation for 1967 at every level of government and in almost every Canadian community. The centennial calendar promises a variety of events on the local scene right through the year. The focus of our reading, our radio listening, our viewing on television, will be on our country's past, present and future; and we will have a world's fair almost on our doorsteps to be visited at will; to bring us a new appreciation of man and his world.

This year of 1967 promises much that will be out of the ordinary and one of the most delightful side-effects of Expo must be the attraction it will have for ex-Glengarrians at large. We can look forward to a full-scale return of our prodigal sons and daughters this summer and the mere prospect of their migration should be enough to ensure this will be a happy new year in Glengarry.

It is our wish for Glengarrians at home and abroad that this centennial year bring them an abundance of good days and the very minimum of ill fortune.

Know a Happy New Year.

Big Brother Must Be Guarded Against

Much of our holiday week was spent reading a piece of fiction which has a thought-provoking theme. 'Atlas Shrugged' is a projection into some future day when the politicians and bureaucrats have taken complete control of the United States and every other major nation.

Their misguided directives and double-dealing have brought industry to its knees, the economy is crumbling and mass unemployment has brought a restive people to rioting in the streets. Ayn Rand takes more than one thousand pages to develop her imaginative account of the horror that may eventuate if ever the bureaucrats and massive central government, with the help of misguided social scientists, worm their way into complete control of the citizenry, stifling all individual freedom in reaching their goal of a socialist autocracy.

Atlas, in Greek mythology, was doomed to carry the weight of the world on his shoulders and the author of this novel places the dedicated leaders of industry, the men of drive, reason and ambition, in the role of responsibility for the well-being of society. They are the last hope against the do-gooders who would level the standard of living to the lowest common denominator, the bureaucrats with their lust for power in a planned, socialist state, the petty politicians who think only of re-election.

It cannot happen here, you will say, and yet government is steadily encroaching on our personal liberties in the interest of what the bureaucrats claim are necessary steps to improved administration of the national economy. And we are slow to protest.

It might happen here if we continue to permit government to inhibit our personal freedoms. A news report from Washington tells of plans for a national data centre. Such a data bank would include in its electronic memory all the government's various information on citizens — tax records, loan applications, public health records, national security investigations, police files and social security information.

There is protest that such a plan lacks safeguards against "big-brother" use of the data; that it could become a personal dossier bank with life and death power over every American.

In Canada we are already merely numbers to the government bureaucracy. Unless we fight this steady drift to centralized control we could become but ciphers.

Let's Have A Holiday From Strikes

Strikes and the threat of more strikes dominated the national news through 1966, even outplaying in the headlines the Munsinger affair. Most of those tie-ups involved government employees in one category or another and Parliament was embroiled in many settlements, to no ultimate good. A too-generous award to the Longshoremen set the stage for other outrageous demands and Labor unrest which threatened runaway inflation.

There is every indication that the Labor picture will be similar in 1967. As the year ended another group of workers at Dorval's airport were out on the picket lines, 20,000 railwaymen had rejected a settlement of their wage dispute that would have given them a 24 per cent pay increase, and 11,000 postal workers were again threatening strike action.

Too much use was made of the strike weapon in 1966 and several pay awards made to avoid strikes were overly generous. The economic interest of the country suffered as a consequence and the economy may be hurt even more in 1967 unless a new pattern in Labor-management relations emerges. There is little hope of that until the federal government stiffens its attitude to Labor and at least rules out the element of blackmail so obvious in the timing of many strikes involving public services.

The strike threat should be outlawed, at least where public services are involved. These groups, including Longshoremen, railway workers and postal unions, proved the most irresponsible in 1966 and there is little doubt but that they were trading on the politicians' fear of the Labor vote when making their inordinate demands. When postal workers threatened even to ignore a Parliamentary return-to-work order they were pointing up the image of a spineless Commons so widely held today.

Unless politicians of all parties stiffen their stand against irresponsible union demands we are doomed to know another year of continuous crisis in labor relations. All the planning that has gone into the approach of our centennial year will have been for naught. In its 100th birthday year Canada will know little of the spirit of joyful celebration if there is a worsening of the threat of inflation.

It is natural for trade unionists to want higher incomes but it is not good for the economy when they insist on more than their share at the expense of other sectors of society. The end, some day, must be a bankrupt Canadian economy if our services are costing more than productivity and trade can carry.

It will be tragic if that day of crisis comes in this year when we are dwelling on the giant strides our country has made over the last century and looking forward to another hundred years of progress.

The worst catastrophe in years, so far as Glengarry is concerned, occurred on the CPR line at St. Polycarpe Junction on Wednesday evening last, when the Chicago to Montreal express dashed into the rear end of the Cornwall to Montreal local train killing six and injuring four. No less than five of the dead and two of the injured were Glengarrians. The killed were Alex J. Grant and Lewis Grant of Lancaster; Newton Dumoulin, William Abrams and J. Kennedy of Williamstown and Conductor Wm. Hinton of Cornwall. The injured were J. J. McCulloch of Glen Brook; Michael Malloy of Smiths Falls, bridge and building expert of the CPR, express messenger Lavalle of Cornwall, and D. C. St. Amour of North Lancaster. — Franklin McIntosh and Alex. McDonell of Queen's, and Walter Crewson and M. Markson of McGill, are at their respective homes for the holidays. — Felix Daprato is receiving the congratulations of our citizens on his well merited promotion, he having recently been appointed superintendent of the Munro and McIntosh Carriage Co.

FIFTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—

Friday, December 29, 1911

Aime Huot, Alex. Cameron and Hugh A. Gauthier, all of Ottawa University, are enjoying the holidays at their homes here. — J. D. Cameron, Mack's Corners, the first of the week tapped several maple trees on his farm and made excellent syrup. — John G. Graham of Apple Hill, but lately of Cobalt, met a tragic end on Thursday, December 21, when employed as a deck hand by the Crown Reserve Mine. He fell down a five hundred foot shaft of the Silver Leaf Mine, and was instantly killed. Mr. Graham came to Canada when but a young boy and began work with the late Mr. Hugh McIntyre in the 3rd Kenyon.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO—

Friday, January 1, 1897

As we go to press we learn that a burglar who was attempting to enter the store of A. Leclair, North Lancaster, on Wednesday night, was shot by the clerk, who was sleeping on the premises. The man who was a stranger, is in a serious condition. — On Monday, Alex Charlebois received a telegram from Butte, Mont., announcing the sad news of the death at Homestake, Mont., of his eldest son, John, who left here some seven years ago. No particulars were given other than the fact that deceased had been killed by a train. — A daring burglary was perpetrated on Tuesday night when the store of Messrs. Pilon Bros. was entered and upwards of $200 worth of goods taken. Judging from the loot which included 25 overcoats, a team must have been used to carry the plunder away.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

"Chairman's Report concerning Glengarry Milk Committee and resignation":

When the OMMB took over Nov. 1, 1965, fluid milk quotas were frozen; reason, to allow the industrial shippers an opportunity to enter the fluid market. This policy gave way to an interim quota policy April 6 to May 24, 1966. From May until the present time another new policy has come into effect.

I would like to point out this is three different quota policies in less than eight months. You could say the quota committee of the OMMB is inexperienced; not so, these men have the experience and a full knowledge of the problems that can arise from the improper

BYE, BYE COLORED LIGHTS

Another hectic holiday time passes into memory and though it was a joy and a delight the late hours and the heavy meals were more than a bit wearing. Some exercise on the curling lanes and more bedtime have their attractions.

The end of the yuletide season will see the colored lights of Christmas going out all over town and they'll be missed. A lot of our citizenry went to a lot of pains in warming the winter darkness and they rate our thanks.

We're left with the thought the Canadian winter might seem shorter if those colored lights were left outdoors right into March. How about Hydro offering a rebate to those customers who are willing to leave their lights out (and on)? Or would over-familiarity breed contempt?

Anyhow, we hate to see them go.

THINGS WE'D LIKE TO SEE

Santa Claus treated your Rambling Reporter most generously this Christmas but there were several items it probably was beyond his control to come up with.

We're not holding it against him, mind you, but this new year ahead might prove more enjoyable and satisfying, not only for us, if——The Conservative party had a rebirth under a new leader.

—drivers everywhere learned a new sense of responsibility at the wheel and cut the toll of death and injury.

—Prime Minister Pearson decided to follow Honest John into retirement.

—More of our merchants and other businessmen decided to put new life into Alexandria's Board of Trade.

—Winter would decide to loosen its grip early this year in view of an early Easter in March.

—Town council would decide to cut its loss on an open air rink that still provides no ice and make a deal for Glengarry Gardens.

—Government would develop guts enough to strike back at its strike-prone servants.

There are lots of other things we'd like to see in '67, including a hole-in-one by yours truly on that short but tricky seventh green at the golf course.

The editor suggests something that would make him happy—lots and lots of short, sharp letters to the editor to help make this paper more readable through its 75th birthday year.

We can dream, can't we?

NOT THE SAME GRAHAMS

The editor sent greetings before Christmas to readers on foreign strands. Included in that group were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Graham in Edinburgh, Scotland and Alexandria's own Mrs. R. J. Graham dropped in to ask us who they might be. Friends had been kidding her as to her early departure for the Old Country.

Darned if we could identify them for her, but we've found out since and the story proved interesting enough to pass on to our readers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Graham of Edinburgh are dyed-in-the-wool Scots who have never been in Glengarry but who enjoy reading The Glengarry News, reports Vernon Crowley of "White Heather Farm", Lochiel. He sends them a yearly subscription and he tells us the friendship developed during the years of World War II when a son of the Grahams was in Canada under the Air Training Plan. The youth visited the Crowleys then and a friendship between the families has grown through visits in the interim.

The Crowley farm in Lochiel is called White Heather because the Edinburgh Grahams sent them sprigs of white heather which they have been trying to grow on Glengarry soil. So far the heather hasn't caught, but the experiment is continuing.

Interesting it is to contemplate the possibility that one day Scotland's heather might replace good Glengarry grass. Even more difficult for your Rambling Reporter to credit is that people who've never lived in Glengarry look forward to reading the news of Glengarry.

We salute the Grahams of Edinburgh, Scotland, for the fact they find us readable. May their taste in literature never flag. Our appreciation, too, to the Crowleys whose taste in Christmas giving was shared by some 300 other Glengarrians this Christmas.

It's nice to feel wanted.

If married pensioners have a combined income of less than $1440 a year, not including their Old Age Security pensions, each may qualify for a supplement at a reduced rate.

Application Forms:

An application form and a booklet containing details of the guaranteed income supplement will be mailed to all Old Age Security pensioners during February. They will be asked to read the booklet carefully and fill in the application form at once. Married pensioners are asked that each fill in an application form and mail the two in the same envelope. Income does not include war service pensions, gifts from relatives and money from a number of other sources. A list of items not considered as income is shown on the application form and in the information booklet. Pensioners may receive help in preparing applications by contacting the Old Age Security, Canada Pension Plan or Income Tax offices. Addresses are available in the booklet.

Payment Dates:

At least two months are required to deal with applications. Some pensioners will receive their supplementary payments combined with their Old Age Security pension cheques in March. Others will receive their combined payments in April. Pensioners entitled to a supplement as of January 1967 will have their payments back-dated to January.

ISSUED BY THE HON. ALLAN J. MacEACHEN, MINISTER,

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL HEALTH AND WELFARE

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

Ourtown held the dubious honor of having no rink facilities during the Christmas holidays. Hence no hockey. As King Winter took over with a howling snowstorm as Santa headed North, we were almost hemmed in completely. So having failed to travel the sports trail by either snow shoes or dog team we will throw another white birch in the fireplace and look back in retrospect with mixed holiday feelings.

Ours is not a Christmas where the delightful chatter and patter of little feet prevails. However, there are compensations that help to balance life's scales.

One of these is our association with this noted weekly paper that has done so much to bring us in contact with so many new and old friends who always remember us at this time of year.

One of our first greetings was posted from the Philippines by Sister Mary Margaret (Gauthier) while in the opposite direction there was word from possibly Scotland's next Kenneth MacKellar, our friend Kenneth Ross who thrilled the pre-Games concert in Maxville last July.

Kent and Marilyn MacSweyn chose quite fittingly a cut of the Chateau de Mercy in Metz, France, mentioning "This is really a pretty swish place to work." Father M. J. "Mike" O'Brien carded from Ireland and we are wondering if this beloved pastor of St. Raphael's brought back a donkey and cart. Also from Ireland, greetings from the Morrisons via their Irish kinfolk Tom (Syracuse) and Mrs. Fahey.

The MacDonalds and MacDonells, kin of both sides, messaged from Southern California, Detroit (Zwers) and the smoky hills of Beaver, Pa. (Hughie Williams). The Bishops and MacMillans from the Prairies and Dr. Isabella K. A. Macdonald heading the West Coast.

D. W. MacNaughton of the Schenley Awards committee sent greetings while Vern DeGeer remembered our 'Apple Club' in a unique manner by having an Alouette Dining Room (CPR) menu also signed by Dannie Gallivan and "Toe" Blake.

Dinny Dinsmore, one of the original Montreal (NHL) Maroons, Hank O'Day, Joe McMenamin, Chas (O.K.) McPhee, Ernie (CFRA) and Agnes Calcutt also said hello from the sports trail and this is the way (Red) O'Quinn mailed greetings. "My hat is off to young Burns McPherson and I am pleased to see that he did so well with Don Loney at St. Francois-Xavier. You have every justification in being proud of him and we hope that he goes on to be a tremendous star in the "Blue Nose" Conference in the years to come."

While working hither and yon we had some pleasant meetings such as a brief but interesting chat with Ralph MacSweyn during his pre-Christmas visit. Ralph is having another good year with the Johnstown Jets. Bill (Bonnie Brier) MacLeod was recalling his first NHL game in the old Mount Royal arena when Canadiens had that great team of Vezina, Hall, Laviolette, Pitre and "Newsy" Lalonde. Mrs. MacLeod was equally at home in the discussion mentioning Frank Nighbor and his poke check wizardry in Dey's (Ottawa) rink.

Alex "Little Archie" McMillan was another in fine reminiscent mood and Alex invariably comes up with something about Jim McCaffrey and Pat Lynch. With another veteran, Frank McCormick, we switched from sport to the MacLeod cairn on the Dalkeith Road that displays, besides history, a fine piece of stone craftmanship.

There was, too, the usual Hot Stove gathering at the Legion where various topics were taken apart. Although we were missing Norm Byrne, Jack Biggers, and Jim Dolan, among the group present were visitors Donnie McDonald, Bill Hamilton, Charlie Foster, Arthur Maclaren, John Kennedy and John James McCormick (How little we know of the future.)

When completing our Cornwall chores; we experienced that great Christmas tie between father or grandfather and son.

Nephew Rory McCormick (Lord Glengarry), with his Hollywood blue eyes sparkling, greeted us thus. "Uncle Angus, I'll play the piano for you including My Bonnie Lassie, if you will take me for my Christmas tree. It's picked out and paid for." There was no time lost in that deal and soon we had the tree in the MacDonald livingroom ready to be decorated. (As we said in the outset, Divine Providence has a way to balance life's scales).

The attendance at midnight Mass, we thought, topped other years and among the many St. Finnans' visitors it was pleasing to have with us members from the Church on the Hill.

The old gent with the flowing beard was generous to this writer as he left us, among several gifts, one of Stuart McCormick's fine paintings, "The Dunvegan Road", to team up with another of Stuarts' masterpieces — "The Old Coach Road." Baby Michael (Vancouver) Low, assisted by his grandmother, Mrs. Alex Maclaren, completed our dinner with a delicious Christmas cake.

By this time the snow storm had relented and plows were working overtime. We were sitting alone, country style, in the kitchen never for a moment realizing that our spirits were about to plummet.

The door chime sounded and Bertha greeted two old friends: John James McCormick and his brother Hugh. John's car had bucked the drifts but as so often happens the next one is a real road block.

Tow help was summoned and the Kennedy boys (Lloyd and John) responded. John James slipped on his galoshes to return to his car, but this was not to be.

That once sturdy physique, racked of late by an arthritic condition, crumpled at our feet and that always pleasant, pearly smile vanished forever. As midnight was ending the holiday, despite the great efforts of Dr. Bourdeau and his nurses, John James McCormick died in Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

John James McCormick, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCormick, Sixth Kenyon, belonged in the top bracket of business, sport, family and social life. In his daily work with the circulation force of the Montreal Gazette he was a friend of all from the boy on the route to his top superiors.

John James was an ardent follower of sport and this year when he was unable to attend the Grey Cup game in Vancouver, he made certain his old friends Mr. and Mrs. Andy Caron used his tickets. John thought it to be a must to drive from Montreal to the Glens when his brothers, Donald Angus, Allan Ambrose, Hugh, Bernard and Ronnie, would be playing a crucial game of football with Greenfield. John was a shareholder of the Glengarry Golf Club and although his play was limited there were no bounds to his social efforts.

In this sphere he was distinguished as a natty dresser, always well groomed. Two of his lifetime pals, John M. Kennedy and Guy Bougie, summed this trait aptly when they remarked: "There was a flair of the late Tommy Gorman in John as he always travelled first class."

John James used a selected dialect and no person ever heard him utter an unkind or ungentlemanly word.

John James McCormick will be greatly missed in and out of the Glens by his legion of friends. May the sod rest lightly upon him.

LETTERS

Chairman Geo. McLaughlin said the freeze was taken off quotas because of a shortage of milk in the Ottawa market. This is a joke; the Ottawa Valley was full of industrial shippers who could have qualified to ship milk to Ottawa. Orville Guy, vice pres. of marketing board, could have qualified.

However it was during the second or interm quota policy from April 6 to May 24 that privileges were granted some fluid producers in Ontario, not only allowing these privileged individuals to secure a second quota, but also to put a price tag on quotas.

During the period when the OMMB was being set up it was pointed out very clearly by the Ontario Ministers of Agriculture, Hon. W. A. Stewart and Deputy Minister E. Biggs that they did not believe in placing a price tag on quotas, and considered quotas a privilege, not an asset; and rightly so, because the quota was built with government protection.

The OMMB decision allowed quotas to be sold thus placing a price tag to quotas, this is contrary to what a milk marketing plan was intended to accomplish.

Secondly if you read the introduction to the Hennessy report, you will find the OMMB was supposed to get rid of all privileges and discriminations. Any fluid milk shipper who was allowed to purchase or have a second quota allotted to him during this period, April 6 to May 24, 1966, was very definitely privileged.

When the Glengarry Milk Committee complained about what had taken place concerning transfer of a second quota at the local level, an OMMB member told a meeting at Alexandria, that this was a mistake and must have slipped through. Later, when Glengarry board decided to resign if this quota was not taken away, I have a letter from Mr. McLaughlin, chairman, dated August 5th, indicating that over one hundred transfers had taken place. At Alexandria, Dec. 8, 1966, the same Mr. McLaughlin said over two hundred and fifty. Maybe some day we will know the truth.

Also at Alexandria Dec. 8, 1966, Mr. McLaughlin declared the reason these transfers were made was because, this was the policy in effect at that time, and we had no other choice. What McLaughlin did not tell was that he, Geo. McLaughlin and a few members of the board, made "this policy, April 6 to May 24, 1966, and changed policy because of pressure from the Glengarry Committee chairman. The policy did not state that you could or could not sell a fluid quota, only the members of the OMMB, and privileged friends had this information as to the right to sell. Why should some individuals know more about what is taking place than a County Committee chairman.

Again at Alexandria the OMMB chairman said he hoped the day would never come when he would not be big enough to change his mind. However the Glengarry Milk Committee was lost simply because his mind could not be changed.

When at Alexandria Chairman of OMMB promised writer he would make public all transfers of quotas and also the conditions, this would make very interesting reading, and I am sure there will be some red faces in high places. It would be enlightening to find out how many members of the OMMB or friends were privileged by their own policy. However it is possible transfer of quotas and second quotas will not be made public. Inmaterial it points out very clearly OMMB policies have not been toward equality of opportunity and Minister of Agri. Stewart should take a look at same.

Why wasn't every milk shipper in Ontario informed if the policy allowed buying quotas, or any change in policy? Why do the milk producers of Ontario who finance the OMMB have to wait for a year to find out what salaries members of the board received? Does any other business operate in this manner? Why did Mr. McLaughlin dig into the Cornwall market looking for dirt when he has a front yard of his own to clean up.

If the OMMB was operated as honestly as the Cornwall fluid market in the last twelve years the Glengarry Committee would never have resigned.

The meeting at Alexandria was the most unfair meeting I have ever attended. The past chairman of the Glengarry Milk Committee spoke first, then presented twelve questions in writing to Mr. McLaughlin requesting answers; not one having anything to do with quotas (contrary to report in Standard Freeholder), then invited questions from the floor. This was followed by the chairman of the Marketing Board, Geo. McLaughlin, who spoke, then answered questions presented to him in writing (but not to the satisfaction of every one assembled, again an erroneous report to the Standard Freeholder) because no one was given the right to express themselves.

Mr. McLaughlin was allowed to criticize the former chairman of the Local Committee, but in return the resigned chairman of local committee nor anyone else was allowed to question or criticize Mr. McLaughlin. In other words the Chairman of Marketing Board was given complete protection from the chairman of the meeting, until he slipped away without going through the customary procedure of asking the chairman's permission. All this in the name of democracy.

What has happened in Glengarry County in the last six months, once again points out very clearly why farmers, especially dairy farmers in Ontario have problems that are difficult to solve. We lack enough men with backbone who will stand up and fight for what is right. Farm organizations especially milk organizations over the past twenty years have been loaded with men who have been willing to go along with the powers that be even when they knew they were wrong, this not only has been detrimental to the industry but also caused our ministers of agriculture many embarrassing situations. The writer fought this for 12 years, hoped with the Marketing Board it would end, only to find it once more in our County of Glengarry. The men who resigned and stayed resigned; to them I say "congratulations". Ont. organizations can stand a lot more men of your calibre. When we have enough individuals with your intestinal fortitude, then agriculture will go places.

I wish the new committee success and sincerely hope they realize their first duty is to the people who elected them, not to the OMMB.

Thanking you, Mr. editor, for allowing me to use your valuable paper to inform Glengarry milk producers what really took place with the Glengarry Milk Committee and meeting to elect a new board.

Glengarry Milk Committee

A shortage of phosphorus reduces milk production. Too much Calcium in relation to the Phosphorus has the same effect. That is why Co-operative Research has developed new CO-OP Cattle Mineral A. This formula contains Calcium and Phosphorus in equal proportions . . . the same ratio found in milk itself . . . to assure you of maximum milk production. CO-OP Cattle Mineral A also contains salt, iron, iodine and important trace elements, plus vitamins A and D.
