New clerk for Lancaster

Ian MacDonald of Glen Nevis, has been appointed clerk of Lancaster Village.

Mr. MacDonald will become the clerk of the village at the new year, but he will begin his duties on Nov. 1 as an assistant to the incumbent clerk-treasurer Alfred Sloan, who will retire about the end of the year.

Mr. Sloan will supervise the preparation of the voters' lists and the municipal elections on Dec. 6.

Mr. MacDonald will become a full-time employee of the village, the first time the village has had the services of a full-time office staff.

John MacLaren and A. D. D. MacDonald of Lancaster Legion Branch 423 will be visiting Williamstown Public School, Lancaster Township Area School and Iona Academy to assist with school projects in regards to Remembrance Day.

This is a repeat performance of the work done last year when pupils found the discussions with the World War II veterans so helpful in their history assignments.

Ford dealership to expand here

Next spring should mark the expansion of MacEwen Ford Sales Ltd., following their recent purchase of approximately 10 acres of land immediately north of the Green Valley Pavilion on Highway 34.

The company has stated that it fully intends expanding its operation to the Alexandria area in order to better serve this region's customers.

There is no intention of reducing or changing the present Maxville operation in any way. Bill MacEwen feels that the Alexandria district has needed a more available Ford dealership for this part of the county and he hopes the planned expansion will accommodate this overdue need.

AWARDED DEGREE — Miss Deborah Ruth Chatreau, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Delbert R. Chatreau, of Dunvegan, Ontario, was awarded the B.A. degree in psychology at the Fall Convocation of Acadia University, Wolfville, Nova Scotia, held on Saturday, Oct. 16th. Liquor votes to be held Kenyon and Lochiel

A total of 16,654 voters have been listed for the upcoming municipal elections in December, according to figures released by the various clerks. This includes all residents 18 and over, in Glengarry.

Charlottenburgh has the largest number of voters—5,085 which is more than double that of Kenyon with 2359, Lochiel with 2525 or Alexandria with 2453. Lancaster Township has 3,141 while Lancaster Village has 359 and the Village of Maxville has 732.

In Kenyon and Lochiel Townships, there are elections to decide on the sale of spirits, wine and beer.

In Kenyon Township the "wets" have a manager, which entitles them to have a scrutineer at the polls. There are three separate questions to vote on as follows:

Are you in favor of the sale of beer and wine only under a dining room licence for consumption on licensed premises where food is available?

Are you in favor of the sale of spirits, beer and wine under a dining lounge license for consumption on licensed premises where food is available?

Are you in favor of the sale of spirits, beer and wine under an entertainment lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises?

Lochiel will be voting on two liquor questions. They are:

Are you in favor of the sale of spirits, beer and wine under a dining lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises where food is available?

Are you in favor of the sale of spirits, beer and wine under a lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises?

New drain approved

Kenyon has called for tenders for the Fred Leroux-Beaudette River drain. Drafted some time ago, the proposed drain had been opposed by the Raisin Region Conservation Authority on the grounds the flow would raise the waters of the Beaudette higher than was feasible.

However, a recent report filed by the Authority's consulting engineer states the amount of additional flow into the river is not sufficient to warrant a change in the plans of the original layout.

The drain will run from the Fred Leroux property in the Third of Kenyon to the Beaudette origins southeast of Apple Hill.

Poppy blitz on Sunday

A poppy blitz will be held Sunday afternoon in Alexandria by members of Alexandria Legion Branch. The canvass in connection with Remembrance Day will be held from 12 noon to 3 p.m.

The Remembrance service at the Glengarry War Memorial will be held on Sunday, Nov. 7th.

Sells business at Laggan

After 14 years in business at Laggan, Dan Theriault left Tuesday for Baddeck, Cape Breton, where he will take over a franchise for Bowes' Equipment covering Cape Breton Island.

His store and garage have been taken over by Doris Ladouceur of Alexandria.

Three members of the Theriault family are attending university in Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Theriault are accompanied to Cape Breton by their youngest son John.

Legion branches unite to discuss new laws

A meeting of interest to all area veterans will be held in the Alexandria Legion Hall on Wednesday, November 3rd at 8 p.m., to discuss the new legislation which has been approved to assist them.

Two well informed members of the Department of Veterans' Affairs will be in attendance to inform members of the new legislation and answer any questions. Also present will be Denis Ethier, MP for Glengarry-Prescott-Russell.

Ample literature pertinent to all benefits available will be distributed to those in attendance.

The Claude Nunney, V.C. Memorial Branch 544, Lancaster, in co-operation with Denis Ethier, M.P. is responsible for this meeting. Able assistance is being given by Branches 423 Alexandria, 472 Hawkesbury and 312 Apple Hill. This, in part, is the contribution of Glengarry and Prescott's legionnaires to the 'Operation Service' program instituted by Dominion Command, Royal Canadian Legion, to inform and assist veterans whether they are Legion members or not. This could be the most significant meeting held in recent years in this area and a large turn-out is anticipated by all branches involved.

Minor changes in train service here as we turn back clock

Daylight Saving Time bows out at midnight Saturday and you are reminded to turn back your timepieces one hour before you retire.

The return to Standard Time sees only minor alterations in the CNR train schedule at the Alexandria station. There are no changes of trains and time of arrival here will be virtually the same as is the case this week.

The new schedule, effective Sunday morning:

Westbound

10:36 a.m.—daily
6:26 p.m.—daily
10:31 p.m.—Friday & Sunday only
7:35 p.m.—Friday & Sunday only

The change of time will bring more noticeable changes in the CNR services out of Cornwall station. The bus service linking Cornwall to the Kingston turbo train stop is being discontinued and the service will revert to what it was before the April introduction of the dayliners and bus travel. Passengers travelling between Cornwall and Toronto will no longer have to change trains at Brockville.

As of Sunday, passengers from Toronto may take either a morning train which leaves there at 9:30 and arrives in Cornwall at 2:04 p.m. or an afternoon train which leaves Toronto at 4:50 and arrives here at 9:11 p.m.

From Cornwall, the first train leaves at 10:28 a.m. and arrives in Toronto at 3:10 p.m. The afternoon train leaves here at 5:53 and arrives in Toronto at 10:25 p.m.

The overnight trains now running in each direction will remain in service.

Eastbound

8:20 a.m.—daily, except Sunday
9:22 a.m.—Sunday only
2:56 p.m.—daily
7:25 p.m.—daily, except Friday and Sunday

Glengarry's population nearing 19,000 mark

Glengarry's population has increased by almost 500 over the past four years and in that span Alexandria has gained less than one hundred residents, according to the preliminary count of the 1976 census forwarded the News by Ed Lumley, MP Stormont-Dundas.

The revised figures show Glengarry's population now at 18,913, up 433 from the count of 18,480 recorded in 1971.

Charlottenburgh shows the healthiest gain with an increase of 383 to 5,585 in 1976. In that span Kenyon lost five residents, Lancaster Twp. gained 109, Lancaster Village dropped 84, Lochiel lost 68 and Maxville gained six.

Stormont has lost 926 residents over the five-year period and that apparently is accounted for by the 1625 reduction in the population of Cornwall City. Stormont now has a population of 60,376 of whom 45,491 reside in Cornwall.

Dundas shows an increase of 866 residents to a present county population of 18,323.

Bureau of Statistics preliminary counts follow:

	1971	1976
Glengarry	18,480	18,913
Alexandria	3,240	3,332
Char. Twp.	5,202	5,585
Kenyon Twp.	2,575	2,570
Lancaster Twp	2,945	3,054
Lancaster VL	617	533
Lochiel Twp	3,055	2,987
Maxville	846	852

Winners at fair

This year's Ottawa Winter Fair, Oct. 20th to 23rd, didn't see a large number of local competitors in its exhibits and competitions but those who did participate fared reasonably well.

In the Best Exhibit of Grain Corn competition, John Peters of Martintown, won a first place and repeated the performance for an additional first and third in the Open Class Cob Corn, with different varieties.

The highest points in the Small Feed Class were won by Donald McCrimmon, Dalkeith. The Shell Corn Class saw Mr. McCrimmon win another ribbon for second place.

Also placing in the Open Cob Corn competition were Keith MacMillan, Lochiel, with 4th place and Glen Slater, Lochiel, with a 5th place finish.

4-H competitors from the county in the Jr. Holstein Heifer Class were: Group "A"—Ewen MacDonald, Dalkeith; Group "B"—Sandra MacLeod, Dalkeith and John Van Sleeuwen, Williamstown; Group "C"—Ewen Hartrick, Dunvegan, Bonnie Smith, Lancaster and Barbara Ann Van Loon, Maxville.

The Senior Holstein Heifer Class gave a Group "A" placing to Henry Krol, Williamstown, and a Group "C" placing for Alma Smits, Lancaster.

The Junior Ayrshire Heifer Class had two local placings with Mary McCrimmon of Dalkeith, and Ian Vallance of Maxville, both gaining recognition in the "A" Group.

Placing in the Senior Ayrshire Heifer Class for Group "A" was Alex Cumming, Lancaster and Group "B" Ian Cumming, also of Lancaster.

In the Grand Champion Dairy Showman Class a third place out of 15 entries went to Ian Cumming and in a Group of three Jr. Holstein Class, Glengarry County placed 4th out of 14 entries.

In the Beef Class, Peggy Gowland, Dunvegan, placed 4th in "Any Other Beef Bred or Cross Breed" Class and an additional placing in the Beef Showman Class.

Murray Howes, Dalkeith, had one of his heifers win 1st place in the Holstein Jr. Yearling Class. The same heifer also won Reserve Jr. Champion.

Substation on Highway 34

A new Hydro substation on Highway 34 is designed to better service Green Valley and the area, as well as the build-up along the highway, reports D. L. Venutti, area manager at the Hydro office in Vankleek Hill. It will also relieve the load now being fed from Alexandria.

Hydro has purchased a plot on Highway 34 north of the 1st Kenyon road from Archie O'Connor. A start on construction will be made at once and the substation should be ready for service by mid-December.

The 44,000-volt line feeding Alexandria will be extended south via the West Boundary Road to the new substation. Mr. Venutti expects the new line should be completed in three weeks.

Hallowe'en observance Sunday night

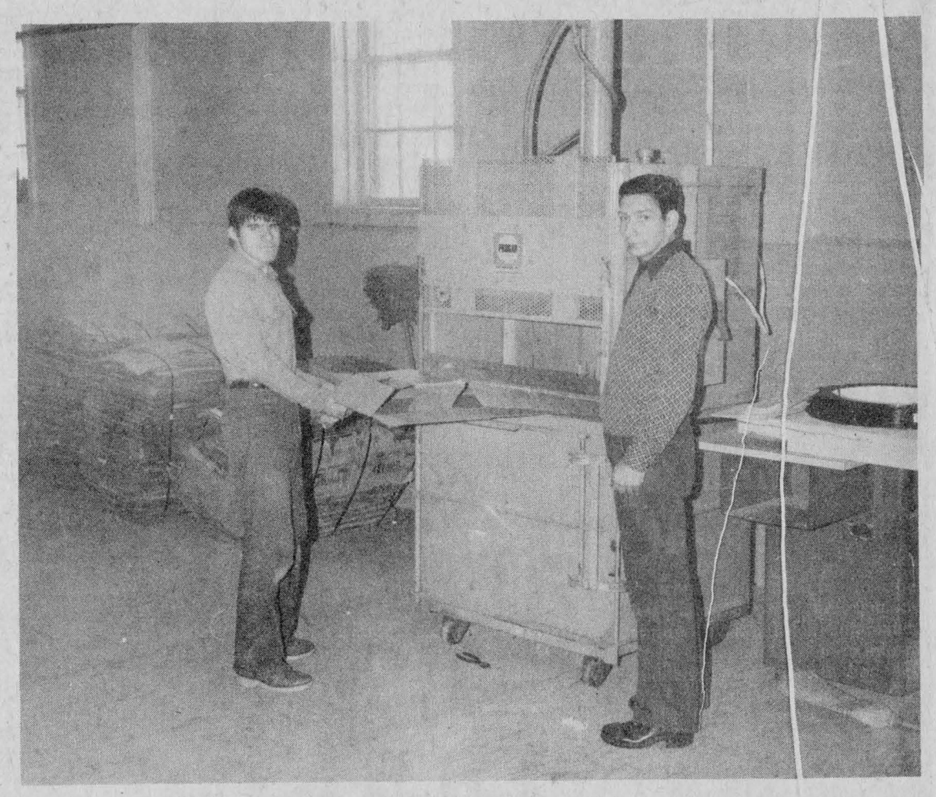
There will be no change in the date for Hallowe'en observance the Alexandria Town Council decided Tuesday night.

Council had been considering the possibility of having Hallowe'en changed to Saturday night within the town this year. It was felt that a closer control could be kept on possible vandalism on Saturday since more town employees would be available for surveillance.

"If we switch nights," said Mayor Bruno Massie, "we would probably end up with two nights of mischief making."

Councillor Bruno Lalonde also felt that it should be kept to one night as he said, "vandalism is often done by outsiders who come into town for the evening," and by keeping it on the official day, the problem would be reduced.

A resolution was also endorsed proclaiming the week of October 26th to November 6th as "Arthritis Week."



BRING YOUR PAPER—The Adult Rehabilitation Centre recently acquired a paper baler and is on the lookout for scrap paper from both industry and private homes. The paper is baled in two groups; corrugated, which will sell for $20 a ton, and fine paper or newsprint, which is worth $12 a ton. Plastic is another waste product ARC is more than anxious to obtain for baling as it is worth $400 a ton. It is ARC's intention to eventually have a large bin near the ARC Industries building (opposite the IGA) where individuals may deposit their scrap paper. Arrangements have already been made with the IGA for all its waste paper and corrugated cardboard. Preparing to add to their supply of bales are Brian Laflamme, left and Gerald Lavigne. —Staff photo

Gaels down Vanier to ensure first place

by Angus H. McDonell

The final three-minute whistle had sounded. Gaels, showing their best ground gaining momentum in almost two games, were nudging Vanier's 25-yard line. Here pilot Wayne Lee called a pass and run play that was a carbon copy of an Alouette Wade to Rodgers major. Lining up in pass formation, Johnny Charlebois cut to his right side open field unmolested. Wayne Lee backed a few steps, paused, then fired a perfect strike to Johnny "C" who jogged to the goal line, whirled around and holding the ball high backed into the end zone just like Johnny "R." This scoring play was a classic touchdown regardless of any league in Canadian football.

Scott Hay, as usual, added the convert making the final score, Gaels 16 Vikings 7. By virtue of this win, GDHS finish in first place and have home grounds for the SD&G school championship on November 12th.

Gaels' opponents in the final could well be CCVS. The Golden Raiders won their game 17—7 over St. Lawrence while the upset of this and many seasons was Char-Lan's scalping of Tagwi Warriors 40—6.

CCVS defense, as it was here a week ago, was too tough for the Saints to get through. Glenn Dick again sparked the Raiders' offense. Unfortunately for this fine school gridiron star, Dick suffered an injured ankle in the final play of the game.

Char-Lan's Glenn Shoniker scaled the starry heights of 1976 school football by combining his quarterback skill with running-back power to score four majors for the Williamstown students as they almost wrecked Tagwi's play-off hopes.

At the end of the first quarter Char-Lan led 14—0. Shoniker lugged the mail twice and Randy Larocque converted both majors. Before half-time Larocque booted another convert on Shoniker's third td. This gave Char-Lan a comfortable 21—0 lead at the rest period.

In the third, Char-Lan's ground crew continued to pummel Tagwi. From the Warriors' 10, Bruce Dubois plowed through the Tagwi defence for Char-Lan's fourth td. Larocque was on convert target. Finally, Allan MacDonell, always a Tagwi scoring threat, posted a six that was not converted.

Shoniker, Dubois and Larocque added anti-climactic points in the final quarter defeathering the Warriors 40—6.

In the GDHS-Vanier game here, Scott Hay blasted Gaels' kickoff to the Viking end zone. A biting wind was blowing cross-field from west and Vanier's short punt promptly gave Gaels scoring position on which they lost no time capitalizing. Johnny Charlebois skirted Vanier's left side scoring six. Hay's convert was blocked and GDHS were in the lead 6—0 within two minutes.

Following the td kickoff, Vanier kept solid ball control for the remainder of the first quarter.

Within three minutes of changing ends, Vanier's Frank Johnston coupled a hefty boot with a tail wind and the visitors counted a single. Five minutes later Gaels were over centrefield to the Vanier 40. Johnny Charlebois moved the sticks after a fine left side end run. Bob Menard got to the 10. Lee sent Johnny "C" to the right but Vanier sniffed this one at the snap. Gaels lost ground and now it is third and 13. Despite the wind, Scott Hay split the cedars down the middle and Gaels had a half time lead of 9—1.

Early in the second half, Danny McPherson eased Gaels out of trouble with a canny punt for a big gain against the wind. On third and a long six, McPherson clasped a snap right on the numbers. He then ran to his right for a few yards and boomed the ball to Vikings' 35 and out of play.

Both defence lines held for a number of series until the 12-minute mark. Gaels were now in the shadow of their goal posts. Vanier gambles on the bundle with third and goal to go. Frank Spagnolo found an opening and it was all daylight as Gaels gave up six points. A two-point convert would tie the score. Vanier went for broke and failed. Third quarter over, Gaels 9, Vanier 7.

Early in the fourth quarter the GDHS two-point lead, and the game, was in jeopardy. First a penalty. A Charlebois to MacKinnon pass was good but lost on the next play for illegal motion. Another pass was almost picked off and then McPherson shanked a punt. A flag was thrown for no yards and Gaels were almost back to their scrimmage line.

Vanier's Guilbeault ran through Gaels' left flank almost all the way. The GDHS line stiffened for two thrusts and Vanier tried a field goal. The ball dropped just under the cross bar and was returned safely.

Gaels take over and gain slightly. Then Wayne Lee, with all the confidence of Sam Etcheverry in his heyday, heaved a pass to Johnny Charlebois at centrefield. Vanier's Kelly Cameron came up with a fine pass defence play knocking the ball away from waiting Johnny "C" who was ready to jet to the south end.

Gaels gained on the next exchange up to their 35. First down and Lee handed off to Charlebois who literally flew around the left end to their 50. Luc Poirier bulled his way for eight. Luc came right back with three more to move the yard-sticks. This was now the fired up Gaels of two games ago at Tagwi. Jacques Lajoie, Bob Menard and Luc Poirier were a wrecking crew as they can be. Three minutes to go and Gaels are deep in the Vanier end.

And now we are back to our opening paragraph. Wayne Lee to Johnny Charlebois for the classic major converted by Scott Hay that ensured Gaels first place and GDHS grounds for the SD&G school football championship, November 12th. Gaels have a bye this Friday and will then prepare for their two final games of 1976.

Glens won and lost in weekend games

One for four is the best the Alexandria Glens have been able to do so far this season with their win over Navan, 7 to 4 Friday night and then a complete turn around with Vanier on Sunday, when they lost 10 to 4.

The Friday victory was a well balanced hard-hitting game with an equal number of shots on goal, 36, by each team. This was only the Glens' third game this season but a victory at this time is felt to be important since the longer a team goes without winning the more zip it loses. This is the theory.

The theory, however, fell flat on its face Sunday night and so did the Glens when Vanier ran them off their feet 10 to 4.

The first period had the appearance of a well-balanced hockey game with an equal amount of end to end play and the second period gave the impression that the Glens would be able to take over the game in the last frame.

The final period was exactly that for the Glens, "final," with Vanier outplaying them and by far showing their superiority as an organized passing team.

Usually a lop-sided score such as this shows up in the shots on goal but this was not the case Sunday with Vanier being on the lower end of the score, 38 to 29.

Point getters for the Glens Friday were, Mike Beauclair with 3, Claude Roy, 2, Luc Poirier and Frank St. Pierre, 1 each.

Sunday night scoring was by Paul Seguin with 2, and Mike Beauclair and Claude Roy with 1 each.

The Glens' next home game is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 30th when Navan plays here.

Past services recognized

Dr. D. J. Dolan, now of Ottawa, was guest of honor and officially opened the Glengarry Hockey Club's first annual Old Timers' Tournament on Thursday evening.

"The main reason in asking Dr. Dolan to drop the puck for the official face-off is because of what he has done for hockey in the past," said Robert Leroux, president of the hockey club.

When the doctor was practising medicine in Alexandria, he attended almost every local hockey game and always carried that little black bag doctors were noted for at the time. So when players were injured or cut up, said Mr. Leroux, Dr. Dolan was always there to patch them up. "To the best of my knowledge he never charged them a cent and that was before any provincial medical plan," he added.

CHAMPION GOLFERS—Among winning golfers who received prizes and trophies at Saturday's closing dinner-dance of the Glengarry Golf and Country Club were these divot diggers. Winners of club championships in their divisions were, Michael Bellefeuille, Junior "A" trophy; Jean Vincent, men's "C"; Grant Crack, junior "B"; Linda Burwash, ladies' "C"; Rollande Theoret, ladies' "B"; Roma Amelotte, men's "B" and Helen Dunsmore, ladies' "A". (Rejean Theoret, men's "A" and Paul Lemieux, junior "C" are missing from photo.)

Trophies, prizes presented at golfers' awards night

The Glengarry Golf and Country Club held its 1976 awards night at the club house Saturday night, when more than 38 golfers received trophies and prizes.

President Roma Amelotte was in the chair and specially welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mutchler who had come all the way from St. Thomas to be present.

A feature was the presentation of pins to three new honorary members, Cecil Shennett, Mrs. Laurette Vachon and Angus H. McDonell. Their names are on a new plaque in the club that will list honorary members, golfers who are over the age of 70 and who have been active members for 10 years. Such members will no longer be obliged to pay fees.

Five members of the ladies' club who had broken 100 this year received pins—Germaine Lalonde, Cecile Sabourin, Rollande Theoret, Daisy Pelley and Linda Burwash. Rita Bergmame received a pin from the Association and a special trophy in recognition of the only hole-in-one scored this year.

There was a special word of recognition for Germaine Lalonde and Colombe Amelotte who had organized the event. More than 100 plates were served and others came in for dancing later.

In charge of presenting trophies and prizes were Club Captain Wayne Crack and ladies' captain Helen Dunsmore.

The Club Championship trophies for the men's division went to Rejean Theoret, Roma Amelotte and Jean Vincent in the three classes. Awards for the ladies went to Helen Dunsmore, Class A, Rollande Theoret, Class B and Linda Burwash, Class C. Junior winners were A—Michel Bellefeuille, B—Grant Crack and C—Paul Lemieux.

Handicap championship winners in the men's division were Ricky Duchesneau, Jean Vincent and Stan Mann with the ladies' winner Linda Burwash. Rollande Theoret was runner-up. Junior awards were to Michel Bellefeuille, Richard Cholette, and Julie Rouette.

Ken Parsons trophy winners for low gross were: men—Richard Lortie; ladies'—Helen Dunsmore and juniors—Michel Bellefeuille, with the low net honors going to Stan Mann, Nicole Vincent and Raymond Lefebvre.

Glengarry Open champions in the low gross division were Emile Hurtubise, Marc Bellefeuille and Suzanne Jardine; in the men's, junior and ladies' classes respectively. The low net honors were awarded to Gerry Derry, Bob Brunet and Nicole Vincent.

Alexandria Open winner for the low gross trophy was Ricky Duschesneau, with Emile Hurtubise taking the low net award.

The winning team in the Angus H. McDonell trophy competition was Richard Bellefeuille, Peter Shennett, Nicole Vincent and Alain Menard.

The Mary McNulty trophy went to Cecile Sabourin and an award of a C.L.G.A. pin was given to Rita Bergmame for her hole-in-one on the 7th green.

OVER THE EASY WAY—The Gaels didn't need this touchdown as it finally turned out since they were already ahead 9 to 7; but it must have taken the pressure off nevertheless. When Johnny Charlebois got this pass he was so far out in the open that he was able to make the T.D. in the classic pose of football victory.

Glengarry Old-Timers win own hockey tournament

The first annual Old-timers Hockey Tournament proved to be not only a financial success but a big boost to the organizers and home team as well when the locals walked off with the "A" series championship and all the marbles, Saturday night, at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

The Glengarry Hockey Club was expected to be a strong contender in the series but few, if any, of its players honestly believed they would win first place and top prize money of $250.

Robert Leroux, one of the tournament organizers, said they expect to clear approximately $2,000 from the weekend affair, all of which will be turned over to the Arena Management Committee.

Runner-up in the "A" series was Vanier, winning $150 in prize money. The "B" series winners, Melocheville, received $125 and the Ottawa Old Pros won $75.

With the exception of only a few games the winners were decided by only a one or two point difference.

Sixteen teams from Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec participated in the tournament which started Thursday, Oct. 21st, and finished Saturday evening Oct. 23rd.

Awards were also given for individual performances with the top point scorer honors of the "A" series going to Leo-Denis Payment, Alexandria, and the "B" series to Derek Holmes of Ottawa. Most valuable defenceman was Pat Presley, Beaconsfield, in the "A" series, and Roger Casgrain, Ottawa, for the "B" series. Most valuable goalie in the "A" series was Bob Leroux, Alexandria and Bob Pizzuto, Montreal, (Sportsmen's) in "B".

Part of the fund raising program was the raffle of a 133½-oz. bottle of cheer which was won by Mrs. Grace Purcell of Alexandria.

The Glengarry Hockey Club players are: Robert Leroux, Gerry Beauclair, Gaetan Giroux, Maurice Payment, Stanley Fraser, Raymond Legault, Andre Seguin, Guy Cholette, Gilles Lefebvre, Denis Martin, Roger Levert, Leo-Denis Payment, Jean Yves Jeaurond, Roger Menard, Glen Slater and Roger Richer.

Carnival announced

The dates have been set for the Lancaster Winter Carnival, announced Michel Bourdeau, head of the Lancaster Recreation Committee.

The event will start with the crowning of the queen on Jan. 13th and run through to the 23rd.

On schedule will be a wine and cheese party, teen dance, adult dance, broomball and hockey competitions. It will end with children's skate racing followed by a wiener roast.

In charge of all events will be Mario Bourdeau, tel. 347-2838.

Lochiel wins touch football

by Henry Dumouchel

Lochiel defeated Williamstown 8—1 in Glengarry Touch Football League action on Sunday, Oct. 24th, to win the league finals two games to nothing. It was a very successful season for Lochiel winning the league championship and the tournament as well. The team will now play against the winner of the Almonte league, in the first round of the Canadian playdowns.

Barry MacSweyn scored the lone touchdown for Lochiel and Theo Oetelaar and Jim Denovan each had a single.

Hubert McDonell kicked a single for the only Williamstown point. Its defence however, came up with five interceptions, two by Leighton McDonell and one each by Hubert McDonell, Ray MacDonald and Nick Tkachenko.

The Cathy's Tavern team travelled to Almonte last Saturday for an exhibition game in which it was defeated 15—14. It will be having a return match here next Saturday.

The annual awards night will be held at the Legion on Friday, Nov. 5th.

Hallowe'en supervision

Hallowe'en in Alexandria will be a well supervised affair if Chief Sylvio Cleroux institutes his proposed surveillance program for that evening's trick or treating.

Chief Cleroux has stated that not only will the police patrol within the town be tripled but the firemen will be assisting in the patrols as will town employees.

We also hope to have the cooperation of the local CB operators and their equipment, added Chief Cleroux.

"We have never had any real bad things happen on Hallowe'en," said the Chief, "but there isn't any harm in making sure that we have the best supervision available."

Guests of Mr. Ethier

The grade nine students of Iona Academy were the special guests of Denis Ethier MP on Parliament Hill last Friday, October 22nd.

Mr. Ethier and his secretary greeted the students on arrival at the Parliament Buildings. The first hour was spent in the House of Commons during the question period. Shortly after twelve noon, Mr. Ethier resumed the Speaker's chair for about an hour.

Following a tour of the Senate and the Peace Tower, the students were directed to Mr. Ethier's office in the Confederation Building; in here they were served a delicious lunch.

Mr. Ethier was most helpful in answering the students' questions about the functions of government; the problems facing a government; his occasional task as Speaker of the House.

The visit to Parliament, besides being very enjoyable, was also most informative to both the students and teachers who were present.

Had summer wedding

FRASER—McKAY

A lovely summer wedding took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Old Stone Kirk in Lancaster when Rev. Ross MacDonald officiated at the marriage vows of Keitha McKay and Douglas Fraser. Mrs. Ethel McKay was organist and Mrs. Barbara Mae Condie was soloist.

Keitha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith McKay of Lancaster and Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Fraser, also of Lancaster.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white nylon jersey with full flowing skirt and built-in train. A matching cap secured her waist length veil and she carried a circular bouquet of red roses.

Miss Marilyn McKay was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Jeannine Leroux and Miss Mary Fraser, sister of the groom. The bride's cousin, Miss Donna Prowse was flower girl. They wore dresses of blue floral print and carried colonial bouquets of blue flowers.

The best man was Peter Leroux and ushers were Gordon McKay, the bride's brother, and Alan Fraser.

The reception following the ceremony was held in Green Valley Pavilion after which the couple left for a trip to Quebec City and New Brunswick.

They are residing in Lancaster.

RICE—McDONALD

The marriage of Donna McDonald and Allan Rice took place in St. Mary's Church, Williamstown, on Saturday, July 31st. Rev. Bernard Cameron officiated at the ceremony; Mrs. Joan MacDonald was organist and Mrs. Cal Polite, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McDonald of Williamstown and the groom is the son of Mrs. Florence Rice and the late Mr. Rice of Cornwall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white silk jersey with train falling from the shoulder line. A white cap edged her veil which was edged in blue as was her floor length veil. Her bouquet was of blue and white mums intermingled with baby's breath.

The bride was assisted by her sister Cheryl as maid of honor and bridesmaids Jean McDonell and Kim Carey. They wore floor length gowns of blue with large white hats and carried colonial bouquets of blue and white mums.

Junior bridesmaids were the groom's nieces, Cynthia Underhill and Andrea Miller who wore floor length gowns of white and carried baskets of blue and white flowers.

The best man was Bert Gauthier and the ushers were the bride's brother, Kerry McDonald and Paul Parisien.

The reception following the ceremony was held in St. Mary's Parish Hall, Williamstown.

For their wedding trip to the East Coast, the bride donned a green skirt suit with brown accessories.

Arrives to learn brother died

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kaufmann of Landis, Sask., arrived here Thursday to spend the winter at her home here.

Their arrival had tragic overtones as Mr. Kaufmann learned that a brother, Edward Kaufmann 63, had died of a heart attack the same day he left for Glengarry. Mr. and Mrs. Kaufmann left Monday morning and his brother succumbed to a heart attack that evening at his home in Wilkie, Sask.

The funeral had been held Thursday morning in Saskatchewan before Phil knew his brother had died.

A decimal out

We had good news for dairymen last week but through no fault of ours the amount of additional quota was out a very important decimal point.

That four billion pound increase in the Market Share Quota we reported should more correctly have read four million hundredweights. The total MSQ now will be 99 million hundredweights.

Now is the time to use our Christmas Lay-a-way

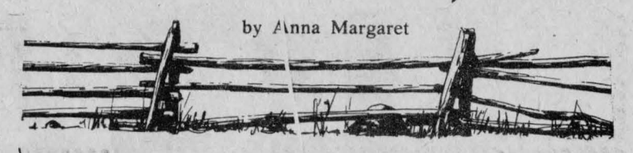
'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret



"Paint the bottom cellar step white." This used to be one of the items of advice distributed in a pamphlet designed for safety around the home.

I've got news for these distributors. If you hit it from the top it doesn't make any difference what color it is!

Discovered this a few weeks back. The hard way. The way I learn most things. Should have known better than to stretch beyond my reach to hang a coat on the pegs lining the top of the cellar-way. I knew that when I went head-over-kettle and landed kersplatch on the basement floor. The floor was very hard. I disintegrated like Humpty Dumpty when he had his great fall and it took several days for all the king's horses and all the king's men at Glengarry Memorial Hospital to put me together again.

As usual, I didn't get nearly enough sympathy. I really like sympathy. But without casts or crutches or fancy bandages to parade I couldn't jerk a tear out of anybody, and as luck would have it, my most impressive-looking bruises were on parts of my anatomy I could not readily display without being arrested. Such is my sad lot.

The family were all very understanding as they discussed me. Within earshot.

"If mother's going to take up sky-diving she really should start out with a few lessons first."

"Do you suppose all those high dives at the Olympics got to her?"

"You know, I think we're going to have to make her wear a parachute."

Oh well, an Evil Kneivel or Ken Carter I am not.

The people around the hospital are always nice, I find. Nursing Instructor Miss Goddard had a nice batch of student nurses out from the college in Cornwall and had assigned Mrs. Bhatnagara to my problem. A lovely young personality who had come to this country from Czechoslovakia, she had just become a Canadian citizen the Friday previous, she told me, and was elated. "It really was an exciting day in my life," she said, beaming, and I couldn't help reflecting how we take this great privilege for granted.

"Coming from Central Europe you probably speak several languages," I prompted. She does. Czech, German, French, English, Russian and Hindu.

Some day we are going to learn the European secret of mastering tongues. We are making no headway with two.

While recovering I also ran into another great personality a few doors down the hall—Miss Hannah Chisholm. While she let slip she had graduated as a nurse herself well over 50 years ago, she didn't specify what year. It was, however, a long time ago, but folks like her never grow "old." Their minds are like encyclopedias which can be tapped on almost any subject.

"Did you read about the cure for Dutch elm disease?" she asked. I hadn't.

"Well now, it was in the July 10th issue of the "Saturday Review." Simple as that. I cringed. I can't remember the magazine where I read an article, let alone the date of the issue.

"If you like, I'll look it up for you," she volunteered. I just love people who offer to do things for me. There aren't enough of them around!

In no time she had produced the article. Since so many of us are concerned about this disease which has voraciously wiped out rows of the majestic old trees adorning our countryside, I took notes.

The new remedy is a chemical developed by DuPont named "lignasan."

According to a U.S. Department of Agriculture plant pathologist, Dutch elm disease can probably be arrested with lignasan if the chemical is used before 10 per cent of an infected tree's leaves are affected.

Dutch elm disease is transmitted along closely planted elm rows where the spores of the fungus are easily transmitted through root systems or carried by bark beetles which are the major victor of the fungus. Multiplying inside the tree, the fungus chokes off the circulation of water to the crown, killing the tree.

Until DuPont's recent development of lignasan the best hope for saving elms has been "sanitation"—prompt pruning of infected branches and destruction of diseased trees.

Lignasan is injected through small holes bored in the tree trunk just above ground level. In solution, the chemical can also be absorbed in the tree roots. Once inside the tree, lignasan attacks the fungus as nothing ever has before.

The final stamp of approval for the chemical must come from the Environmental Protection Agency before it will be available for public use.

ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1976

SECOND SECTION

Tougher for hostage-takers

Prisoners who seize hostages in provincial jails will risk staying in prison for life, the Ontario Government has announced. Any concessions they obtain by force will not be considered binding, adds Hon. John Smith, minister of correctional services.

That seems like a move in the right direction. The maximum penalty for kidnapping is life imprisonment. In our eyes holding people as hostages is to all intents and purposes kidnapping. When the crime is committed by a person or persons already sentenced to a jail term there can be few extenuating circumstances and the maximum penalty should be imposed.

In this crazy format of law enforcement something has to be done to protect the lives of penitentiary guards. They walk a tightrope in an era of permissiveness that appears to favor the convicted and leave the prison guard open to all kinds of coercion by the prisoners he is hired to restrain. Any time a group of prisoners feel they are ill-treated these days, the thing to do is grab a few hostages from among the guards and threaten their extermination unless their conditions are met. That is hard on the morale of guards, especially when authority bows to these threats and thus encourages the practise.

The Ontario innovation could serve a useful purpose and it might well be applied to anyone who takes hostages, including those politically-oriented partisans who hijack plane loads of innocent people to prove their own point. They don't deserve to be again on the loose.

And there might be consideration given to extending a sterner face of the law to the leaders of labor unions who habitually use we the people as hostages in their zeal to retain positions of power. We are thinking now of the postal unions, the railway brotherhoods and many other militants in the labor movement who use the people as pawns in their drive for more concessions.

These labor leaders are only a wall removed from penitentiary inmates who take hostages in order to win their demands. We the people might be more free if all who use us as pawns were removed from our society.

Is Big Brother moving in?

Will they soon be shutting off unpaid water and power services by remote control? It may become possible in a computerized community such as Edmonton could soon become.

It is all a bit mind-boggling to the editor of The Humboldt Sask. Journal. He writes:

An Edmonton electronics firm has been given a $480,000 contract to transform two neighborhoods in the city into what is considered to be Canada's first computerized community.

It involves the assembly and installation of 2,000 devices, each the size of a pocket calculator, which automatically will read utility meters, connect and shut off the services and even call the police if an intruder breaks into a home.

The devices are call transponders and are to be mounted on walls next to power panels in the homes. They will be connected to water, electricity and natural gas meters and the telephone line.

A silent telephone call, probably after midnight, will connect a computer to the transponder and provide the city and the private utility firm offices with meter readings without the expense of sending meter readers on door-to-door routes.

In addition a transponder contains four controls. One will allow the telephone company to shut off and reconnect its service, as may become necessary from time to time and place to place. A second one will be offered to cable television companies to enable them to tune customers in or out automatically. There also are connections for alarm systems against fire and intruders.

There are two more controls which have not been assigned a use so far. Eventually, homeowners may be able to chose their own uses for these controls.

However, there could be the possibility that some government will want to make its own use of one or both, and that is where the mind-boggling comes into the picture.

For big governments, with big powers, would like nothing more than to be "big brothers" to everybody. In fact, they are well on their way now to substantial control of everyone's life, lot and pocketbook.

It could well be that George Orwell's 1984 is on the brink of becoming a reality in parts of Edmonton, several years in advance of the blueprint. Big Brother could be watching, and soon.

Governments waste energy too!

Ontario's Minister of Energy has proclaimed Energy Conservation Week, which will be observed next week. In a letter in this issue he suggests ways in which the people might reduce the energy bill by more than a billion dollars. Better driving habits, more careful consumption practises and properly insulated homes are instanced by the minister and it is in the public interest that we the people become concerned over the energy drain and practise conservation of our resources.

Thinking people will realize the need for saving energy in all its forms and no doubt will respond to the minister's appeal. They may be left wondering, though, why government does not practise what it preaches. Ontario Hydro will spend thirty per cent more in the coming year and there are many more fields of government in which examples of conservation could be provided us.

One of these is paper, an item bureaucrats use in quantity in their zeal to have five copies of everything. In our dealings with governments we have to use extra paper and every mail brings a welter of government paper almost all of which is consigned to the wastepaper basket. Even the consigning uses up energy—ours.

The lack of conservation in government gets a going-over in an editorial in the Wingham Advance-Times that reads:

Officials in Ottawa are on a cost-saving spree. Civil servants are being urged to take a bus instead of a taxi. Every second fluorescent tube is being removed from the ceiling fixtures in government buildings and the office people are being asked to write on both sides of the paper.

Now if they want to save paper we could offer a few suggestions. First off, the census department could ask their computers to separate the addresses to which those mountains of government paper are mailed each day. Thus they could mail English versions to English-speaking people and French versions to those who understand that language. Right away tons upon tons of wasted paper would be saved, not to mention the cost of printing in two languages.

Another method would be to type the copies of cabinet ministers' speeches with single instead of triple spacing and on both sides of the sheet instead of one side—and then send out a questionnaire asking newspaper publishers whether or not they ever read the speeches anyway.

They could, too, try mailing out those one-and two-sheet news releases in business size envelopes instead of in heavy 9x12 kraft envelopes which cost four times as much as the smaller ones.

We have never actually weighed the mail we get from governments in a week, but a fair guess would be nothing less than 15 pounds—about five per cent of which is of any potential value. A single mail pick-up a few weeks ago brought us no less than seven big envelopes from the Anti-Inflation Board, and not one of them contained any information which would be of interest to readers in this area.

Savings, yes. We're all for it—but empty gestures, phooey!

So you want to be a farmer

(The Winchester Press)

There was a time when a man was either a farmer, or he wasn't. Times have changed and, for some unknown reason, being considered a farmer is now something of a prestige symbol. So, thanks to one of those new-fangled agriculturalists, we submit the formula for that 'other type' of farmer.

1. A wide brimmed hat, one pair of tight pants and $20 boots from a discount store. 2. At least two head of livestock, preferably cattle, one male and one female. 3. A new air-conditioned pick-up with automatic transmission, power steering and trailer hitch. 4. Gun rack for the rear window of the pick-up big enough to hold a walking stick and a rope. 5. Two dogs to ride in the bed of the pick-up. 6. A $40 horse and $300 saddle. 7. A gooseneck trailer small enough to park in front of a cafe. 8. A little place to keep the cows on land too poor to grow crops. 9. A spool of barbed wire, three cedar posts and a bale of prairie hay to haul around in the truck all day. 10. Credit at the Credit Union. 11. Credit at the bank. 12. Credit from your father-in-law. 13. A rubber cushion to sit on four hours at the auction ring every Thursday. 14. A good pocket knife suitable for whittling to pass away the time at the auction ring. 15. A good wife who won't get upset when you walk across the living room carpet with manure on your boots. 16. A good wife with a full time job.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

RE MULTIPLE RACE TRACK

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

In your comments published on Oct. 21st, entitled "No Future in Tourism," you quoted me as to have said "what we need now are entrepreneurs to move in with some good ideas." Those words were not uttered by me, in fact I never use the word entrepreneurs. However, I do recall the chairman asking me whether I expect the government to build the track and I answered "no"; then the chairman interjected whether it would be outside private entrepreneurs and I answered that I would like to see the local people, farmers and business, form a company of shareholders and with investments purchase the land (300 acres) and with Government loans build the race track.

I further explained that the track would hold sulkie, horseback, chuckwagon, Russian troika, chariot, and boat races and in the winter sulkie, sled and skidoo races. The grandstand would face the lake to make this all possible.

This multiple race track would be owned and operated by local people and provide hundreds of much needed jobs for the locality, and would further create a local market for the farmers in selling, feed, boarding and raising horses and even entering the various races creating local talent.

P.S. Trudeau and Marchand made sure that the airport was not to be built in Vaudreuil-Soulanges because the benefits will cross over to Ontario. If anything meaningful.

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER
by Ed.

If it stops the advertising of wedding receptions, the Liquor License Board may find itself restricting marriage rather than controlling booze.

YE SHALL NOT ADVERTISE

Advertising revenue is what keeps a newspaper solvent and so it must seem out of character for us to be caught suggesting people should think twice before advertising in this paper.

Actually, we think it's a bit crazy, too, but it's triggered by Ontario's crazy liquor laws which threaten to embarrass some of our advertisers.

One of the provisions of the liquor control act that we weren't aware of ordains that there must be no advertising of dances, receptions, anniversaries, and such events for which a special occasion liquor permit has been obtained. The exception is a fund-raising event sponsored by a service club, municipality or church group for charitable or recreational purposes.

Our Coming Events columns have been carrying ads for countless wedding receptions and other such events and many of those ads have carried the word "refreshments." Now we're learning not only is it a 'no, no' to use that come-on in an ad. There can't even be an ad if liquor is involved, we're told by Noel Vaillancourt of Cornwall, liquor licence inspector for this area.

Your newspaper can continue to run those ads, he advises, but it may prove an embarrassment for those sponsoring the events, if at the last moment the liquor licence board cancels their liquor permits. That has happened in other parts of the province, according to Mr. Vaillancourt.

There is the implied warning that almost any week he may get orders from Toronto to check up on all current applicants for special permits. Those that have been advertising would have their permits cancelled, he says, and that would not only be embarrassing to the sponsors, it could leave a lot of people disappointed when they find it's a dry party.

The way he tells it this is common practise right across the province, except for the area east of Kingston. Officialdom has been easy on us in this neck of the province, probably because of our propinquity to Quebec and New York State where liquor laws are more liberal. Now it has been decided to crack down and we get the impression all facets of the liquor control act are to be more firmly enforced in this area.

The inspector points out that the application form for a special liquor licence contains a question, "Is this event to be advertised?" or some such wording. Applicants have answered "No," to this question in the past, and have gone ahead and advertised the event. The liquor board hasn't bothered checking up, but the implication is that there will be a closer surveillance from now on.

As Mr. Vaillancourt explains it, government policy ordains that no person shall profit from the sale

Max Keeping was telling me several interesting stories last week at the Ottawa Winter Fair as we sat sipping and listening to Brigadoon music in the Civic Centre. Max says that he is very excited about being Master of Ceremonies for Glengarry '76. He is, however, worried about a replacement on his Friday night newscast. He has Pierre Trudeau lined up to do the program. In fact Max said many people are working hard to make Trudeau a better prime minister—of Japan. Max has been secretly practising his singing just for this Friday night.

Walter Stewart, president of The Glengarry Club of Ottawa, a man who spends his summers relaxing on the banks of the St. Lawrence and his winters wrestling snowbanks in Ottawa or travelling to money banks, has been rehearsing his brief succinct, opening remarks. So far, with much effort and with his natural talent for brevity and conciseness, President Walter has managed to contain his opening address to two hours. And then there are his closing remarks. All this information I have gleaned from the family dog Scotty, as he was burying a steakbone in the foothills of parliament hill. Now Scotty has been known to tell fibs. The whole thing is part of living in the political capital of Canada. Walter stated that the Glengarry Club's recent dance in the beautiful Nepean Complex was a success.

Ewen, the Highland Chef, phoned to say that he has no more concert tickets left, at his Hub restaurant.

Last week at the White Heather concert in Blessed Sacrament Church Hall, Tollgate Road, a full house listened to the excellent music of stars Tom and Jack Alexander. The Alexander brothers were impressed with the Glengarry '76 talent lineup. "I'd love to see this show," said Jack "but I'll be in Glasgow. However, here's a buck on it."

Turn on your TV at 9 a.m. Thursday, channel 8, for an interview with Peter Emerson and Bill Luxton and our own talented dance teacher from Martintown east, Rae MacCulloch.

Rob Taylor—there's no better button accordionist anywhere—will be interviewed on "Artistic Licence" from Ottawa F-M radio (CKCU) this week.

How can one sing praise enough for all the help Glengarry '76 has been given by media people? Jim Kidd, Eugene Macdonald, Bill LaSalle, Eva Howard, et al.

Happy birthday to Aunt Marge, a fine person and a fine nurse.

This Saturday afternoon the Martintown United Church Women are holding a tea and bazaar at St. Andrew's United Church in Martintown. If you have never seen our church, this experience alone would be pleasant. These lovely ladies will have delicious home baked goodies on display also.

Fred Booth would be interested in hearing from anyone who would like to take music lessons. (932-4479)

A dream come true this Friday night as the lights go out in Glengarry and we all head for the National Arts Centre to be part of the whole show Glengarry '76. A cast of 60 performers will be putting on a display of the kind never seen before at the Arts Centre, beyond even the travelling shows from the old country, good though they are. The finale alone is worth the admission price. Be proud to say you were there when area talent performed on the best stage in Canada: When the MacCulloch dancers performed original dances fit for a king; when Brigadoons delighted the hearts of young and old with their Scottish accordion music and many ballads; when the Glengarry Pipe Band filled the opera house with the haunting skirl of the pipes; when the fiddlers played their tunes with that special Glengarry touch. What a memorable evening 'twill be!

Martintown Mac says that our performers deserve the biggest crowd we can squeeze into the opera house in Ottawa this Friday. If you haven't bought your tickets yet, there are still good seats left. And a bus will leave the A&P parking lot (Eighth and Sydney) at 7 p.m. Another bus will leave Alexandria for Maxville at 7 p.m. sharp. Even if you don't have advance tickets, phone me for reservations at the box office in Ottawa.

URGES ENERGY SAVING

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

This year, the people of Ontario will spend an estimated $7.5 billion on all forms of energy. In short, we've been spending about $900 annually for every man, woman and child in the Province on energy. Up to 20 per cent of that could be saved through properly maintained vehicles, better driving habits, more careful consumption practices and properly insulated homes. Through conservation we could reduce the rate of growth of overall energy costs dramatically.

The Ontario Government has proclaimed the first week of November Energy Conservation Week in order to increase public awareness of the need to conserve energy. An increased public awareness should stimulate people to take steps to reduce their energy bills this winter.

We hope that the savings that can be made will ultimately add up to a billion dollar reduction in the Province's overall energy bill by 1980.

I would like to invite your readers to write to you and share their own reasons on how energy conservation can be achieved in everyday situations.

I hope that during Energy Conservation Week you will publish some of the best ideas your readers have on energy conservation for personal and community benefit.

Ontario Minister of Energy of liquor. Exceptions are properly licensed business places and charitable organizations sponsoring a fund-raising event. All others are taboo, and so this stricture against advertising an event is restricted to weddings and other such parties that are private in nature.

It might be a laudable policy if that same government wasn't raking in millions of dollars from the sale of liquor and beer. Under the present set-up they're nothing but a bunch of hypocrites.

Whether we like it or not, you've been warned not to give us an ad if you've applied for a liquor permit. It's against the law.

Named to school committee at Williamstown last week

Approximately 40 parents and teachers met in the Williamstown Public school, Tuesday evening, October 19, to investigate the possibility of forming a School Committee. On the basis of a very capable presentation by John Beveridge, executive assistant to the Director of Education, regarding the function and organization of a School Committee and an apparent interest on the part of those gathered, a decision was made to establish such a committee in the school. Accordingly, the following parents volunteered to work on the committee: Mrs. Pat Baker, Mrs. Sue Brkich, Don Kannon, Mrs. Lillian Toczyski and Mrs. Mary Gareau (alternate).

Teacher representatives will be: Mrs. Barbara Condie, Mrs. Cathy McIntyre, Mrs. Cathy Kinloch and Robert Nicholls. Mr. Grant the principal, will sit on the committee as an ex-officio member.

Student representatives will be: Kin Chaffee (Gr. 8), Michael MacDougall (Gr. 8), Janis Pasco (Gr. 7) and Scott Avery (Gr. 7).

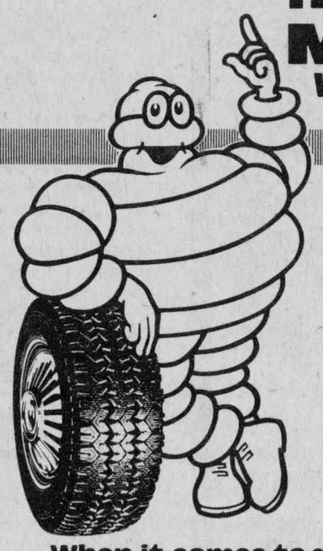
Don't compromise on quality... insist on MICHELIN WINTER RADIALS



MICHELIN produces only one standard of winter radial...THE VERY BEST. It's this high standard, backed by years of experience that has earned Michelin the reputation for being THE WINTER RADIAL.
More and more people are insisting on MICHELIN to get them through the worst that winter can dish out because they know Michelin won't let them down when the going gets rough. Through slush, mud, deep snow, slippery curves and open dry pavement, every Michelin snow tire is built to deliver total all-round performance. Michelin winter radials will keep you safely and surely on the move. Michelin insists on it...so why not insist on MICHELIN.

When it comes to quality... MICHELIN makes no compromises!
Isn't that the kind of tire you want?

Introducing the Kawasaki SnoJet rumor.

Guy's Sno Jet
139 Kenyon St. Tel. 525-3429

They say Kawasaki bought SnoJet.
They say Kawasaki plans to build sleds better than sleds were ever built before.
They say the new Kawasaki SnoJet is years ahead of its time.
Rumors, rumors, rumors.
And all of them are true.

Whom does Kawasaki think they are?

Why should Kawasaki be able to make a better snowmobile?

Because Kawasaki is the company that can't let well enough alone.
We improved motorcycles. We improved ships. And helicopters. And jets.
Snowmobiles were just a matter of time.

Why SnoJet?

We didn't want to improve a good sled.
We wanted to improve a great sled.
So we looked at all of them.
Abused them. Tore them apart. Ran the dickens out of them.
And finally decided on SnoJet.

How do you make a great sled better?

We kept the best SnoJet features just like they were.
(They had an aircraft-type aluminum frame, for example, that was the best in the industry. Still is.)
Then we re-styled the whole shape. Made it lower, sassier, cleaner.
Put adjustable handlebars on it.
Invented a swell new headlight that you aim like a car light.
Improved the suspension, the track, the brake, the throttle, the cowl hinge and the exhaust system.
We did 61 things to make SnoJet look sharper and ride sweeter.
Then we named it. Kawasaki SnoJet.

What about dealers?

When we first got interested in sleds we went out and met hundreds of dealers, all over the USA and Canada.
Found out a lot of them were big on tractors, but small on sleds.
And a lot of them didn't know much about snow gear.
So we selected the best of the lot.
Yes, the best.
You'll know it as soon as you walk into a Kawasaki SnoJet dealership. Anywhere.

What now?

Kawasaki is in the sled business.
We're going to stay in the sled business.
We're going to fix some of the things that have always been wrong with sleds
And a lot of them didn't know much about snow gear.
We're going to invent some of the things that have always been missing in sleds.
Rumors?
No.
Promises.

Kawasaki SnoJet
lets the good times roll

Maxville Manor auxiliary plans Christmas boutique

The members of the Maxville Manor Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting on October 18, beginning with the half-hour sing-song which has become very popular with the residents. Miss Gladys Roulston is presently Treasurer of the General Fund and the Tuck Shop. Mrs. Dorcas MacDougall is busy organizing the annual fall membership campaign; more details about this will be announced soon. Mrs. Stella Fitzgerald is gathering items for the Auxiliary scrapbook, and welcomes any contributions. Mrs. Charlotte Kennedy is in charge of the Big Brother-Big Sister program, and would like some more volunteers to the Big Brothers.

Mrs. Dorcas MacDougall was the delegate to the annual Conference on Homes for the Aged held in Toronto . . . 700 people attended this meeting. She brought back a comprehensive report of the sessions and a great deal of useful information. There are presently 176 homes for the aged in Ontario with 137 registered auxiliary groups. There was some discussion of volunteer identification by means of distinctive jackets, pins, etc.; the involvement of the volunteer's entire family in auxiliary work, and the practicality of month by month commitment (short term) as opposed to the longer yearly term.

Administrator Allan Vallance addressed the meeting, mentioning that the whirlpool bath donated by the auxiliary last spring is in constant use. The auxiliary also used its funds to buy a second hospital bed for the Manor, and just lately a small stove for the kitchenette which is beside the auditorium and used for most visiting groups. This kitchen is also used, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Vallance, and her volunteers, for the residents' baking project which is just getting underway again.

Various ideas were presented about the best use of the showcase in the lobby, and it will probably be used for the display of articles for sale . . . jewelery, magazines, and small gift items. The Christmas Boutique which was so helpful last year is going to be held again around December 1st . . . this is a one-day sale of cards, wrapping, and small gifts. Saturday, Nov. 6th is the date for the annual Buffet Dinner at the Manor. Anyone wishing to help please call 527-2888. An afghan is going to be raffled off—this was knit by Mrs. Mary MacCartney before she moved away, with wool purchased by the Auxiliary . . . anybody who would like to have a go at winning it can get a ticket from Mrs. Grace Doth.

Great American scientist, Glengarry-born, honored

A Glengarry-born scholar, Prof. Hugh J. McDonald has recently been conferred with the Faculty Member of the Year Award from Loyola University in Chicago. It is one of many he has received throughout the years.

Professor McDonald is chairman of the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics at the Stritch School of Medicine of Loyola University for the past 28 years. He was honored for creative scholarship and teaching, and generous service to Loyola University and his profession.

Hugh is a son of the late Rod John Angus McDonald, Fourth of Lancaster and his wife, Annie McDonald. He is a brother of John J. and Ranald McDonald who still reside in the Fourth. He attended elementary school at SS#16, Lancaster, and graduated from high school in Maryvale Abbey, Glen Nevis.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree, summa cum laude, from McGill University, Montreal, and then received his Doctor of Science degree from Carnegie-Mellon University, Pittsburg, in 1939.

Since that time, as a scholar, administrator, and teacher, he has sought to apply the findings of quantitative science to problems in biology and medicine.

During World War II he was a thermo physicist for Columbia University's Manhattan Project where scientists built the atomic bombs that ended the war.

"They never really explained the whole project to us, just particular problems we were to solve," he is quoted in an article in the June 18th issue of "Stethoscope," a publication of the Loyola University Medical Centre.

In those days, recalls Dr. McDonald, "We used to call biochemists 'the rate and urine boys' because of their research. Now nearly every department relies on us. When a good research problem is thought up in other departments, it usually has a lot of biochemistry.

"In the future, I think medical students are going to need a much greater chemistry background before they even enter medical school," Dr. McDonald speculates.

Loyola is one of the few schools in the U.S. approved to teach and research clinical chemistry. This is the science devoted to the investigation, interpretation and application of data on human disease and health problems.

Dr. McDonald himself is well known for his research on diabetes, atherosclerosis, carbohydrate metabolism and lipoproteins.

He is the author of more than 180 publications, including three monographs and holds two patents. He has received numerous research grants.

DR. McDONALD

Long active in professional organizations, he has been the President of the American Association of Clinical Chemists, and the founder or administrative officer of other scientific societies.

While at Loyola University, Prof. McDonald has served as Chairman of Biochemistry, coordinator of Graduate Studies at Loyola's Stritch School of Medicine, and, most recently, as Director of the National Institutes of Health Training Program in Clinical Chemistry.

MacLean's magazine, July 27th, 1963, listed Dr. McDonald as one of the great Canadians whose talent contributed to the enrichment of the U.S.

He is listed in the Vol. 22 publication of "Who's Who in America," 1962-63 and on page 1143 of the "World Who's Who in Science," a publication which goes back to antiquity and includes such scientists as Galileo.

A page from "Profiles in Loyola Medicine," Vol. 5, 1966 describes the lighter side of his activities as follows:

Despite a deep absorption in his profession, Dr. McDonald finds time to pursue some rather unusual hobbies. Just as some people collect stamps, (he used to do that too) he collects data on activities in pseudoscience—the people who live on the fringes of the scientific field, the charlatans in counselling, psychology, medical quacks, numerologists, astrologists, and more recently, ESP.

'It is amazing how people with no competency in the field at all can be accepted by the public as authorities and guides to behaviour,' said Dr. McDonald.

Another collection of Dr. McDonald's is information on diploma mills. He can name and document the places in America, China, Cuba, Italy, Brazil, all over the world where a quick diploma can be had for a fee. His article, "The Doctorate in America" treats some of the more blatant misuses of awarding degrees."

However, he claims his great loves are teaching and research-ing—"the best of all worlds," he says.

"I've been able to do all this, and get paid for it too."
