Peterson says Bill 8 will stay

By Lesley Cadham
News editor

Just hours after local APEC (Association for the Preservation of English in Canada) members told Ontario Premier David Peterson they want Bill 8 repealed, Mr. Peterson announced that the bill's principles are sound and that it will not be withdrawn.

The premier met with APEC President Libby Lassner while in Cornwall on his Eastern Ontario fundraising tour last Thursday, to listen to the group's concerns. APEC wants the province to repeal Bill 8, the controversial French Language Act which would make it necessary for government agencies to offer services in French.

In an interview outside the Best Western Parkway Inn, the site of that evening's $100-a-plate Liberal fundraising dinner, Ms. Lassner said, "Premier Peterson was receptive to what we said. He was surprised by some facts about discriminating practices in SD&G. His office promises to delve into the issues." Ms. Lassner would not elaborate on the "discriminating practices" explaining that they relate to specific people and jobs.

She added, "Politicians have to listen to us. We're getting very strong here in Cornwall."

Stepping out of the banquet hall for a brief media conference, Premier Peterson stated that he was not denying that the law is "perfectly applied."

"I think you could probably find examples of indiscriminate or unwitting discrimination against francophones because they weren't in the right position at the right time. But I'm saying the principle is sound."

But APEC doesn't believe the number of francophones in Ontario warrant the "prohibitive" cost of implementing the French language services system and that the bill will not only create an artificial need for French in the province, but could mean Ontario will have to import francophone Quebecers to carry out jobs previously held by anglophone Ontarians.

Premier Peterson said, "No one is going to lose their job. That's been said very, very clearly. Imagine yourself in a community in Ontario — and there are many where the population is 60 per cent French and 40 per cent English — wouldn't you feel it would be fair to have access to both (languages)? We need reasonable people to build more understanding."

Earlier in the evening, about 150 APEC members carrying placards began demonstrating outside the inn.

Quiet until the arrival of Cornwall MPP John Cleary, supporters of the opposition to Bill 8, chanted "It's time to fight for English rights."

Increasingly emotional members told Mr. Cleary they wanted to see a referendum for the bill.

My color, red!

Very little could have outrun a pair of Alexandria-generated red suede addidas at a Liberal fundraising dinner in Cornwall last Thursday night, and Alexandria Mayor J.P. Touchette made sure Ontario Premier David Peterson had a pair to take home with him. Premier Peterson was in the city as part of his Eastern Ontario tour, attending a Liberal fundraising dinner. Other local officials supporting the dinner were Cornwall MPP John Cleary, SD&G Warden Stewart Hart, Stormont-Dundas MP Bob Kilger and Charlottenburgh Reeve Carol Ann Ross. No sympathy from premier Ontario Premier David Peterson offered little hope to SD&G municipalities in their quest for more road dollars.

He told reporters in response to a question, that it's the responsibility of the municipalities within the three United Counties to decide where provincial funding for roads will be spent.

The issue was raised in the last minutes of a short media conference at the Best Western Parkway Inn in Cornwall last Thursday, in response to the recent statement by Counties Engineer D.J. MacDonald that the counties came up about $30 million short in provincial roads funding.

"Lots of people would like, and I understand it, more money for roads, hospitals and a lot of other things, and there's a limited capacity to respond to all these things.

"Of course, it's the responsibility of the local government to make their own priorities of what they should spend and where they should spend it," said Premier Peterson.

When solicited for a reaction to the statement, counties roads Engineer D.J. MacDonald, shocked by the premier's words, said he felt Mr. Peterson's attitude was "scary."

"We have $36 million in construction to be done...We received $5,368,700 for the counties roads system from the province (this year).

"When normal operating costs use 80 per cent of your money, there is very little choice in what you do. You do bridges and chase shadows.

"We're easy targets. I would submit there would be an awful temptation to scalp a little more off social services and roads," he said, adding that if roads funding came in the form of unconditional grants, he'd "be in there with a hammer and claw fighting the old folks, and then watch the roads go."

Mr. MacDonald also said that the counties are awaiting the word on supplementary grants, which, if awarded by the province, would mean an increase of up to 8.9 per cent in funding to the counties over last year. If the supplementary funding does not materialize, however, it will mean a 3.9 per cent drop in funding.

Arena expected to lose $50,000 in '89

The Glengarry Sports Palace can't bank on reserve funds anymore because its savings have been bled dry, arena Chairman Mike Boisvenue said last week.

Just two weeks after a gloomy 1988 year end financial statement was released by auditors Touche Ross, reflecting a $53,000 deficit and reserves of only $30,000 — the chairman delivered a further blow to the three shareholding municipalities regarding this year's budget.

The budget had been approved by the sports palace board of directors last month.

The arena will lose about $50,000 again this year — if all goes well, was the news delivered to 50 per cent shareholder, Alexandria, by Mr. Boisvenue at the town council meeting April 18.

But if the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association stops running bingos and donating the revenues to the sports palace, or if unexpected expenses arise, the financial picture could get worse, he said.

Though the financial statement reflected $32,000 in accumulated revenue for the end of 1988, Mr. Boisvenue said the arena's bank account has been drained. The arena began 1988 with $86,000 in the bank.

According to arena manager Michel Depratto, contributing to the deficit were expenditures of about $8,000 for new banquet hall chairs; $5,000 in wages attributable partially to overtime, extra staff on maintenance and a $2,000 budgeting error last year; $4,000 in maintenance including unexpected repairs on machinery and the building; $3,000 more than was expected for sanitary supplies, and $5,000 for community hall supplies including bingo supplies for minor hockey's bingos. Minor hockey has since started to purchase their own supplies, said Mr. Depratto.

More bad news came in the form of Lochiel Township council's refusal to accept the 1989 budget as presented by the arena board of directors.

Alexandria Town council also tabled the budget for two weeks, asking that it go back to the board of directors to see whether projected spending can be decreased.

Lochiel Township owns 25 per cent of the arena and Lancaster Township, which approved the Sports Palace budget as it stood, owns the other 25 per cent.

And neither Lochiel nor Alexandria was willing to run headlong into purchasing a new $17,000 truck with a crew cab, to be utilized as a work and family vehicle by Mr. Depratto.

Mr. Depratto has been using cars purchased by the sports palace, as dual-purpose vehicles since 1979, part of an agreement struck between Mr. Depratto and the board by way of resolution. His salary increases, documented the board, were to be frozen at three per cent in 1979, '80 and '81. His own truck was leased to the arena for tasks requiring a large vehicle.

Recently, the board offered Mr. Depratto use of the new truck with the agreement that he would pay 20 per cent of the operating expenses.

But Lochiel Reeve Ron MacDonell said Tuesday, "There is no money around for a new truck at the moment...there's not a lot of money in the arena these days."

Alexandria discussed the possibility of purchasing a second-hand vehicle, to cut expenses. But some members said they believed that eliminating the $17,000 expense wouldn't reap substantial savings. A used truck may only last two years, and the arena would only be spreading out an in-

Parents killed in hit-and-run on 401

Lancaster OPP are continuing their investigation of a hit-and-run accident that claimed two lives early Saturday morning.

Ramon Mallari, 35, and Maria Mallari, 27, both of Mississauga, were killed when their vehicle, eastbound on Hwy. 401 east of Lancaster, was struck from behind and went out of control.

Ten-month-old James Mallari was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital with a fractured leg. Taken to Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario was three-year-old Veronica Mallari and Peregrina Mallari of Montreal was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital with a fractured ankle and lascerations.

The accident occurred at 4 a.m.

The suspect vehicle has been located, but police are continuing their search for the driver, says OPP.

Murderer given life sentence

Ile Bizard resident Leslie Kovack has been sentenced to life imprisonment after pleading guilty, Monday, to the second-degree murder of Bainsville resident Graham Nicholson.

The 47-year-old man, charged with Mr. Nicholson's murder last June, will not be eligible for parole for 14 years.

The trial, scheduled to take place in November 1989 in Cornwall, was moved to Perth when it became known that Mr. Kovack intended to plead guilty to second-degree murder.

"I'm satisfied," said Robert Nicholson, son of the murdered man. "Reasonably satisfied."

Robert Nicholson and neighbors discovered the body of the 59-year-old man in his home on May 28, 1988. He had received severe blows to the head.

Mr. Kovack was charged with first-degree murder on June 12, after being arrested in the home of Bette Nicholson, wife of the deceased. He had been dating the woman, who had ended the relationship prior to the murder.

According to his lawyer Patrick Rudden of Cornwall, Mr. Kovack testified that, under the effects of alcohol and drugs, he went to Mr. Nicholson's home in search of a reconciliation with Mrs. Nicholson.

Mr. Kovack told the court that he did not find her at the Nadeau's Point home. But he found Mr. Nicholson: The two argued and he murdered Mr. Nicholson with a hatchet, Mr. Rudden told The Glengarry News.

OPP investigates rash of break-ins

Lancaster OPP are continuing their investigations of a spate of break, entry and thefts over the last week. Between mid-Monday (April 17) morning and Wednesday afternoon eight area residences fell victim to thieves.

Two of the incidents involved the theft of firearms. On Wednesday at approximately 11 a.m. an RR2, Alexandria residence was broken into: A side door was forced open. Thieves made off with four rifles and jewelry valued at over $1,500.

Sometime between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday an RR1, Lancaster residence was victimized. Jewelry and an assortment of rifles and shotguns, valued at over $5,850, were taken.

The theft of jewelry was a common thread in several of the other break-ins. Jewelry and a video-cassette recorder were taken from a Conc. 3, Lancaster Township residence sometime late Monday morning. Thieves gained entry through a rear door.

Approximately $320 worth of jewelry was stolen from an RR3, Alexandria residence Wednesday. The rear door was again the access point.

An RR2, Green Valley home was also broken into Wednesday when thieves smashed a window in the front door. An assortment of jewelry, valued at $600, was heisted.

Also on Wednesday, an RR2, Williamstown residence was broken into when thieves forced open the rear door. Jewelry valued at over $600 was taken.

And $500 was stolen from an RR2, Williamstown residence sometime between 9:30 a.m and 2 p.m. the same day.

Prowlers break into school, homes, but steal nothing

Alexandria police say someone broke into Alexander School on St. Paul Street Friday night or early Saturday morning, but didn't steal or disturb anything. Entry was gained through a window on the east side of the building. Evidence of drinking in the school yard indicates the culprits may have been youths, say police.

Lancaster OPP report two break and entries in which nothing was stolen. On Wednesday, thieves broke into a Glen Robertson residence by forcing the front door open. A VCR had been moved from one spot in the house to another, but trespassers vacated the premises without taking anything.

On Tuesday morning, a Conc. 6, Lochiel Township residence was broken into, but nothing was stolen. Entry was gained when a side door was forced open.

It has been announced that the GDHS-ESRG concert band will participate in the 5th annual inspection of 379 Glengarry Air Cadets on May 7 at the Glengarry Sports Palace at 1:15 p.m. His Worship Mayor J.P. Touchette will be the Inspecting Officer.

Birthday Bash

The Catholic Women's League of St. Finnan's hosted a birthday party for residents of the Community Nursing Home who were celebrating birthdays in April. The bash took place on April 17 in the lounge of the home, which was all decked out in decorations especially for the event.

Several students from Alexander School took part. Under the direction of Maria McDougald and pianists Julie Sobol and Lucille Lafontaine, they performed the "Skye Boat Song." Other performers were highland dancer Kelley MacPherson, and singers Denis Sauve, Kevin Bellefeuille, Tony Nussbaumer, Donald McDougald, Shaun Joanette, Chantal Lalonde, Julie Pidgeon, Donald McDougald, Katie McDougald and Guy Robinson.

April birthday celebrants were Marie Anne Charlebois, 93; Florida Thauvette, 96; Marie Rose Poirier, 96; Donalda MacGillivary, 82 and Cecile Lalonde, 97. Each received a corsage and gift, and everyone got a share of the delicious birthday cake made by Isobel McDonald.

Happy birthday!

50th anniversary

Lucille and Theodore Desjardin of Alexandria celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on April 8.

Friends and relatives from as far away as Chapais, Que., Lake Worth and Orlando, Florida came to the Caledonia Community Centre to help celebrate the event.

A special mass was celebrated at Sacred Heart Church followed by a dinner.

Bread Blitz

Members of the area Club Richelieu were knocking on doors this weekend selling their wares of fresh baked bread.

About 35 local members of the service club visited area parishes and homes on Saturday and Sunday, offering specially-prepared bread at whatever price you were willing to pay to help support the group.

Rene Gauthier, one of the organizers, says that the club made a gross profit of about $2,500, and they're looking to net about $2,000.

The 20-year-old annual "Bread Blitz" was revived after it was cancelled last year. The funds raised will go towards Club Richelieu activities in the area.

A funny thing happened in our darkroom the other day... We attended the Citizen of the Year banquet last Wednesday and took plenty of photos, however two films were exposed to light when one of the developing mechanisms broke down. Photos of a jovial Bruce Myers, Youth of the Year, were on those films and we regret that he cannot see himself on page 3 with Bruno Lalonde and Roger Roy. These things unfortunately happen...

In last week's paper, the cutline for the photo of the grand opening of the Burger House on Main Street South in Alexandria failed to identify the name of the business. We apologize for any inconvenience caused by the omission.

Open house at funeral home

Rash of area break-ins

Glengarry fire departments kept busy as grass fires ignite throughout county

Grass fires, frequent in Glengarry during the last two weeks, are not only illegal in most of the county, but can mean whopping firefighting costs to the blaze-setter if the fire gets out of control.

But this has not discouraged people from burning grass: Local fire departments have been called to more than 28 grass fires in the past two weeks.

Alexandria, Williamstown, Lancaster, Martintown and Glen Walter prohibit outside burning of any sort, and this includes grass fires, while other municipalities in the area have some restrictions.

These regulations were set to limit the dangers of grass fires, a danger even more prevalent at this time of year, Chief Gene Picard of the Lancaster Joint Fire Department said yesterday (Tuesday).

"It's dangerous at any time," Chief Allan MacMillan of the Kenyon Township Fire Department said yesterday, adding that "it spreads fairly quickly now with the long grass."

Chief MacMillan cites the dry and windy conditions of the past couple of weeks as other causes of grass fires getting out of control.

But if people are going to attempt to clean up their properties with fire, local fire departments have some safety suggestions: keep the fire small to minimize the risk of spreading; have lots of people surrounding the fire to contain it; have water on hand, as well as some device to smother the flames. Brooms dipped in water are suggested, but blankets are discouraged because they are too cumbersome; don't burn when it's windy or dry; wait a few weeks until the grass has turned green and is moist and, contact your town office and ask about fire regulations.

But the best advice Chief Van Rankin of the Martintown portion of the Township of Charlottenburgh Fire Department offers is: "Don't Burn." He echoes the suggestions of most other area chiefs. "There's no foolproof method if you're going to have a grass fire."

Chief Picard agrees: "Don't burn. Don't start anything. It's just too easy for it to get out of control."

Neighbors to Walter and Christine Vallieres of Conc. 3, Lochiel Township, sweated it out as they tried to control a grass fire which for a while threatened to destroy the Vallieres' barn. The fire started on another property and required the firefighting services of Alexandria Fire Department. It is one of about 30 fires in the last two weeks.

Grass fire almost claims Lochiel barn

Saturday's strong wind caused a grass fire which started mid-way through the 3rd concession of Lochiel Township, to spread rapidly, almost claiming a barn about 1 km away.

Alexandria firefighters were called out to fight the grass fire at Lot 9, after resident Christine Vallieres noticed the flames approaching her home.

There was a hefty northwesterly wind and neighbors say the blaze managed to cross a small creek which flows through the concession.

Twelve firefighters responded to the call at 10:20 a.m. and remained on the scene for three hours.

But firefighters weren't the only ones laboring to keep the blaze under control. Friends and neighbors gathered with shovels and tried to contain flames that rushed toward the road. There was little concern that the fire would spread to the east or west, because the Vallieres property was surrounded by plowed land.

The Alexandria fire department has not confirmed how the fire started.

Cuts in road grants to hurt project: Ross

A reduction in grants from the Ontario government will mean that the Glendale roads project will suffer further delays, Reeve Carol-Ann Ross told Charlottenburgh council during a regular meeting held April 24.

Mrs. Ross announced the 1989 supplemental roads grant received from the Ministry of Transportation amounts to $75,000 for Glendale roads and $37,500 for the Kenyon/Charlottenburgh Boundary Road. The funding is substantially less than the $412,500 which was requested by council and, according to a news release from the municipality, "will result in a substantial decrease in work done."

Although the amount given for the Boundary Road project remains the same as last year, the 1989 allotment for Glendale is half of that received in 1988, and "well below that of 1987," according to the release. The township contributes 25 per cent of the funding to the project, with the province picking up the remaining 75 per cent.

"I just hope that the residents of Glendale realize that it isn't the township which is responsible for this," said Mrs. Ross. "I don't mind criticism when we are dealing with local dollars, but lots of people don't realize that the province is responsible for these cuts."

Councillor Bob Roth was exasperated with the way this year's grants were announced in a local daily newspaper.

"The press has been conned on this. It looks as though the government is giving all this money, when what it is actually doing is taking it away."

Mr. Roth said that the report of the announcement of the grants which was made in the Standard-Freeholder on April 22 included editorial opinion instead of hard news. Mr. Roth particularly objected to calling the grants "a bag full of goodies."

"The funding is only half of what was there last year. I see a pattern emerging, a pattern of announcing cuts and making them look like gifts," said Mr. Roth, who pointed out the same thing was happening with funding to the area's beaver control problem.

Mrs. Ross reiterated that in order for township roads to improve, the "ministry support would have to be forthcoming," and once again urged township residents to pressure the provincial government.

Blood donor clinic to run tomorrow in Alexandria

The goal of a blood donor clinic to be held tomorrow (Thursday, April 27) is 190 units and the Knights of Columbus and Glengarry Memorial Hospital Nurses hope you'll help them in their effort.

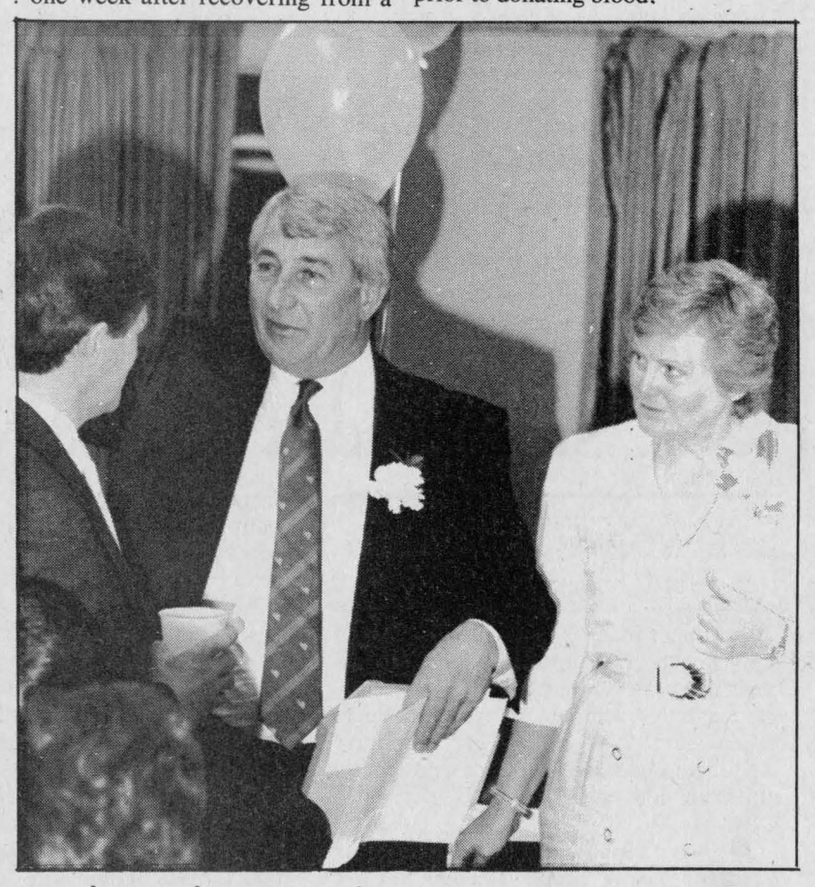
The clinic will take place at Ecole du Perpetuel Secours in Alexandria from 1:30-4:30 p.m. and from 6:30-8:30 p.m. and donors who have not donated blood for the last two years, are required to present identification cards. According to the Red Cross, some donors have recently been using other people's names.

And Mary Willans, area manager for The Canadian Red Cross Society Eastern Ontario Region of blood donor recruitment said last week that there are several facts of which Glengarry blood donors should be aware prior to offering the gift of life.

For example, she said, many potential donors are unaware that if they take certain medications prior to going to a blood donor clinic, if they are recovering from an illness, or have just had their ears pierced, their donation will probably be refused. Donors must wait:

. 24 hours after taking a pill containing codeine, and longer for more than one pill;
. one day after using marijuana;
. 48 hours after receiving a flu shot;
. 72 hours after using tetracylene (acne treatment);
. 72 hours after consuming pencillin in pill form and three weeks after a penicillin shot;
. three days after consuming diet pills;
. one week after recovering from a cold or the flu;
. three months after receiving innoculation against measles;
. six months after having ears pierced, being tatooed or undergoing acupuncture treatment;
. six months after recovering from mononucleosis;
. until novocaine for dental work has lost its effect; and
. until a tooth extraction has healed.

Mrs. Willans also recommends donors eat a good lunch or supper prior to donating blood.



Benevolent Glengarrians honored

Bruno Lalonde, Citizen of the year (left), Roger Roy, Businessperson of the year (right) and Youth of the Year Bruce Myers were honored at a banquet last Wednesday night (April 19) at the Glengarry Sports Palace. About 125 people attended the event. The benevolent citizens, chosen by the town of Alexandria and the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce, stopped to share a few words with friends before closing the evening. To the right of Mr. Roy is a friend Arlene Cain and to the left of Mr. Lalonde is Alexandrian Marlene Cholette.

Court report

A 27-year-old Martintown man was forced to pay $187 in restitution to a Summerstown area tavern after changing his plea to guilty last week.

John Lafave of Lot 8, Conc. 4, Charlottenburgh Township pleaded not guilty in January, but reversed his plea to guilty of wilful damage to the door of the Blue Anchor Tavern.

He has four months to pay the restitution.

Refused to give sample

A Cornwall man charged with refusing to provide a breath sample was fined $600 and prohibited from driving in Canada for one year.

Darcy Delorme, 31, was apprehended while driving in Charlottenburgh Township on April 15. Lancaster OPP Const. Roy McGrath detected an odor of alcohol and asked Mr. Delorme to accompany him to the police cruiser. Showing signs of impairment, Mr. Delorme was asked to blow into the breath tester.

According to the crown attorney, Mr. Delorme failed to provide a "proper breath sample" by not blowing hard enough to illuminate the test light. The accused also behaved obstinately toward the police officer.

Judge Reginald Levesque, in rendering the fine, told the man, "You were given the opportunity to comply, and you did not...you must be aware that the principles of sentencing (for refusing to provide a sample) are the same as in drinking and driving offences. This legislation is in place to investigate drinking drivers: If you refuse (to provide a sample) then the same result follows."

The judge also took into consideration that Mr. Delorme had an unrelated previous record and was obstinate when dealing with the officer.

He has two months to pay the fine.

R.I.D.E. netted fines

The OPP's R.I.D.E. program brought a few impaired drivers into court.

Michael Togneri, 46, of Martintown, pleaded guilty to impaired driving, was fined $500 and prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for one year.

Mr. Togneri was stopped by the R.I.D.E. unit in Charlottenburgh Township on March 18. A breathalyser test yielded a reading of 140 mg of alcohol in 100 ml of blood.

The accused has no prior record.

The R.I.D.E. unit also stopped Roger P. Cyr of Cornwall, who pleaded guilty to impaired driving.

Mr. Cyr's driver's licence has been suspended for one year and he was fined $500 for the offence.

Mr. Cyr was stopped in Charlottenburgh Township on March 24 and a subsequent breathalyser test netted a reading of 125 mg of alcohol in 100 ml of blood. He has no previous record.

Sydney Simpson, 46, of Cornwall, also pleaded guilty to impaired driving. He was fined $500 and is prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for one year.

Mr. Simpson was apprehended by a R.I.D.E. unit on March 17 in Charlottenburgh Township. The breathalyser yielded a reading of 145 mg to 100 ml of blood. Mr. Simpson has no previous record.

Obstructed justice

A Cornwall Township man found guilty of obstructing justice was fined $200.

Hector Giroux, who pleaded not guilty to the offence in July, reversed his plea last week.

Mr. Giroux was charged after he told police that another individual had been driving his vehicle in Charlottenburgh and Cornwall townships during two weeks in May, when he was in fact, not.

Mr. Giroux was found to have been driving his vehicle when it was involved in a one-vehicle accident on May 11. His driver's licence was under suspension at the time.

Mr. Giroux has a previous record. He has four months to pay the fine.

Alexandria woman injured

An Alexandria woman was hospitalized following a two-car collision on Bishop Street at the corner of Kenyon Street Monday morning.

Marlene Samson, 36, of Alexandria, driving a 1985 Pontiac coupe was northbound on Bishop Street when her vehicle collided in the intersection with an eastbound 1981 Pontiac sedan, driven by David Chaddock, 17, of Lancaster.

Ms. Samson was admitted to Glengarry Memorial Hospital with a possible concussion. Her 14-year-old daughter was treated and released.

Mr. Chaddock was charged with failure to yield at a stop sign.

Both vehicles sustained extensive damage.

Charlottenburgh briefs

A regular meeting of Charlottenburgh Township Council was held April 24 in Williamstown. The following were among the items dealt with by council.

Kannon opposes car, increase to CAO

Chief Administrative Officer, Merlin Dewing was given permanent employee status with the township, following a probationary period of eight months. However, a proposed four per cent increase for Mr. Dewing and the leasing of a 1989 car for his business use and for transportation to and from his residence, did not sit well with Councillor Don Kannon.

Mr. Kannon said he was "objecting very much to supplying an employee with a car to travel back and forth to work." Mr. Dewing resides in Cornwall.

The car, a 1989 Pontiac 6000, is to be leased from Roy's Garage at a cost of $442.80 per month over a four-year period, subject to OMB approval.

Councillor Bob Roth said that it would cost the township less to lease the car for Mr. Dewing than it would to pay him mileage on his own vehicle. Councillor Joan MacDonald was also in favor of supplying a car, saying it was "part of the CAO's employment package," when he was offered the job.

Mr. Kannon called for a recorded vote on the motion, which passed by a one vote margin. Councillors Roth, MacDonald, and Reeve Ross voted in its favor, with Councillor Kannon and Deputy Reeve Ewen MacDonald voting against leasing the vehicle.

Councillor Roth asked for a recorded vote on the proposed salary increase to Mr. Dewing. The motion carried, 4-1, with only Mr. Kannon dissenting.

Delegation proposal

A Glen Walter resident appeared before council with a proposal for the severance of part of his property, which would, in the long run, make it possible for him to tie into the Purcell Sewage and Water project.

Dave MacNaughton told council that at the moment he would need approximately 550' of sewers to link up with the project. If he could sever lots from the front of his property along Hwy. 2 and sell them, he would be able to use the proceeds to buy a lot adjacent to his house and reduce the sewer's footage to 200.

Council told Mr. MacNaughton that the Committee of Adjustment has no mandate at the present time to consider approval of lots with the 60' frontage suggested by Mr. MacNaughton. According to Clerk-Treasurer Marcel Lapierre, the township will have to create a new bylaw when the Purcell project is finished to deal with the size of the frontage required on serviced lots.

Mr. MacNaughton, in the meantime, was advised to apply for one lot with a regulation frontage and to apply for a minor variance for a second.

The beginning is always a good place to start

The importance of general recreation in a community cannot be overestimated. It keeps citizens healthy and happy, furthering their ability to contribute to the well-being of the community, it helps to attract commerce and industry and it keeps youngsters off the street and away from negative influences. A strong and vibrant, organized recreation program is as necessary as other basic municipal services.

Unfortunately, the town of Alexandria, for whatever reason, does not offer the variety or scale of recreational programs a town of its size should. Organized sports are the principle form of recreation, but beyond this, there is precious little to distract citizens and their children. Golf and curling facilities are excellent, but these are privately operated and not everyone can afford them.

It would be too simplistic to lay the blame at the feet of the current board members and demand better efforts; this is not a new problem, nor is it unique to Alexandria. It has always been related to a lack of money and/or community input. The board members apparently realize there are problems but to date, the solutions have been short in coming.

It seems to us the board must start at the beginning — with the most basic of programs aimed at the most basic of age groups — children. This is particularly true during the summer and after school, when both parents and their children can benefit from them. Affordability? That's easily solved by hiring a recreation programmer who would derive his/her wages directly from the modest user fees charged for the programs; they would be self-sustaining. In the cases where children's families cannot afford such programs, the town or certainly the service clubs, could subsidize their fees. From here, summer day camps could be based at Alexandria Park, a perfect location for such activities. Students from the high school could be hired to supervise the children (such wages can be subsidized through existing employment programs sponsored by the provincial and federal governments.)

Children, after all, are the most impressionable among the community's citizens, and are easy prey for negative forces at work — dope pushers, vandals and just plain troublemakers. Once their focus has been turned to fun, positive recreational activities, the town will have gone a long way in helping them avoid pressures later on.

Once the children's needs are met, the board can simply use the same programming structure, and substitute programs more suited to teenagers and adults. With the town's lake, the possibilities for wind-surfing, scuba-diving, canoeing and other courses are there. The scope of the programs is only limited to the ability of the programmer to dream them up.

Clearly, with the budget constraints squeezing the recreation departments yearly, there are ways out of the morass. The above only represents a small sampling of the possibilities, but they could be a beginning. And bearing in mind the lack of programs the town currently has in operation, the beginning would be a good place to start.

Provincial grant cuts not worth celebrating

Normally, Education Week is a time to celebrate the learning institutions we enjoy. Last week's unsettling news, however, that provincial capital grants to school boards in Eastern Ontario address only a fraction of the needs gives rise to more than passing concern.

One has only to count the number of portable classrooms in Glengarry County to get a slight feel for the pressing need for education dollars here. The sight of portables, once regarded as a sign of growth in the community, are a symbol of the declining ability or desire by the province to expand existing schools — and education standards.

It's no secret that the provincial commitment toward education has been declining yearly for the past five years. Local taxpayers, as we've noted before, have had to fill the budget gaps to maintain the status quo.

But what is more maddening is the continuing lack of commitment by the province at a time when it has gone through the most sustained economic boom in its history.

If the province is not willing to expand schools now, perhaps we can be forgiven for wondering if the familiar vision of portables around our schools will not be a permanent one. Even during Education Week, that prospect is hardly worth celebrating.

Life is very fragile on the pavement of the 401 highway

AFTER THOUGHTS
Joe Banks

"A ticket?"

The officer nodded his head slowly. "Yes sir. You weren't going all that much over the limit, but we're running a blitz on speeders in this area. I'd ask that you read this card while I confirm your speed."

There I was, parked at the side of the 401 in the eastbound lane outside of Napanee last Friday afternoon, the latest prey in an intense OPP speed net set up in the area. Up ahead and behind me along the shoulder, motorists walked around their cars, wringing their hands and shaking their heads. I hadn't seen so many police in one spot since I'd covered a hostage taking in Fort Erie, Ont.

I read the card, searching for answers in this unexpectedly large assault on 401 speeders. It was entitled 'Drive to Survive.'

"The Ontario Provincial Police are committed to reducing death and injury resulting from motor vehicle accidents," the card said. "The accident and fatality rate on the portion of Highway 401 on which you are now travelling has been particularly high. Speeding, failure to wear seat belts and drinking and driving have been identified as the most significant factors in an increase in the number of persons killed and injured in this area. Motorists on this section have a tendency to drive well in excess of the 100 km/h speed limit. A combination of education and enforcement are required to influence driver behavior. Thank you for taking the time to read this message. We hope our actions on this highway will enable you to have a safe trip."

Okay, I thought. I knew the OPP were cracking down on unsafe drivers. But on me, a fellow who has never before received a ticket, who stops at unmarked crossings to let people cross the street, who waves for other cars to proceed into traffic? Me? The guy who insists on everybody in the car buckling up, who changes lanes at ramps to let oncoming cars on, who . . .

"You were clocked at 114 in a 100 km/h zone. That's not a lot, and it won't cost you any points, but it is a $17 ticket. Sign here please."

The officer, a friendly chap just doing his job, issued one more warning before I left. "There's another one of these up ahead, so slow down."

Indeed, there were three speed trap "teams" — all spread out within a span of about 10 miles — along that stretch of the 401. An unmarked car, hidden behind an overpass abutment, clocked the cars and OPP officers flagged down the drivers. It was a coy method to condition drivers to ease up on the pedal, and it was intense. Cars were being pulled over, from what I could see, at a blinding pace.

I got past the last trap, cruising along at the correct 100 km/h, and noticed how my own "innocent" speeding had been abated. What the OPP had done on that stretch of the King's Highway was a minor annoyance, yes, but it had me glancing at my speedometer more often all the way home. And I was more attentive to the speed limits.

Why do they do it? Why, when kids are dealing dope to kids, when break-ins are occurring, when vandalism costs merchants money, why do they "pick on" drivers?

If you're asking that question, as I did myself for a brief time, the answer lay on another stretch of the 401, not far from here. And I'm certain the officers who investigated the death of the two parents killed in the hit-and-run accident near Lancaster, Saturday, could provide you with all the answers you need.

Compared to what they — and the family of the dead — went through, the minor annoyance of a $17 ticket dissolves into irrevelance. And suddenly it becomes a tragically ironic reminder that our lives on the highway are too fragile to be without the OPP — and their speed traps.

Faith in God will create the safe, stronghold we crave

LIFE WORTH LIVING
Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

"Stronger than the Rock of Gibraltar:" This slogan of an insurance company appeals to a basic drive in human nature. People crave that delicious state of well-being called security. However, even the most legitimate quest will prove disappointing, unless or until, a person finds security in God.

Parents often misunderstood their children. Young people frequently leave home because they misinterpret the views and efforts of their parents. Our idols have feet of clay. Friends drift apart. Loved ones pass away. Our investments count for nothing when we are lonely.

Nature, music, art and literature are all parts of God's garment. But there are times when they will not speak to us the word of comfort or inspiration that we desperately need, unless we are able to touch the very hem of God's garment.

The Psalmist wrote, "He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High, who abides in the shadow of the Almighty, will say to the Lord, 'My refuge and my fortress; my God, in whom I trust.' " (Psalm 91:1-2). You and I can come to the Psalmist's conclusion. Consider an illustration.

Our age has been devouring its natural resources at a terrible rate. Thoughtful observers have been increasingly worried about the fate of humanity. The best coal in Britain has been practically exhausted.

However, scientists discovered how to utilize atomic energy for light, heat and power, in the nick of time. In the nick of time? It seems to many of us that God kept back knowledge of the atom's potentiality

A scrum and a...

THAT'S LIFE
Lesley Cadham

It's not often the premier of Ontario pays a visit to the three united counties area, but I imagine his aim during an infrequent visit would be to make as strong an impact as possible in a terribly short time.

If that was his goal during last week's visit to Cornwall, his success was immeasurable.

About 20 journalists from the valley area and stretching, I believe, as far as Toronto, crowded into a small conference room in the Best Western Parkway Inn to patiently await a media session with Premier David Peterson.

According to our watches, he was already an hour late for our meeting, which we assumed was to start at 6 p.m., for that was the time we'd been asked to be there.

But the only activity at 6 p.m. involved about 150 APEC members demonstrating in front of the Best Western's main door. The premier was nowhere to be seen and about 45 minutes later, we learned that he'd entered the building through a back door.

Reports about when he'd drop in on us changed frequently and in the end, it seemed there was to be no media conference as such.

But somewhere, between his salad and the main course of the $100-a-plate Liberal fundraising dinner, Premier Peterson squeezed in about 10 minutes, if not less, to talk in the hallway to media types who had been milling about the paying guests waiting for something — anything — to happen.

The short, sweet conference was a disappointment — I can only speak for myself — as we rarely see the head of the province in our economically depressed — and rumored-to-be sometimes forgotten — eastern area.

But the disappointment didn't stop there. Seeking answers about the first minister's plans to help solve our many dilemmas, I tried to slice through the Bill 8 issue — on which other reporters were heavily dwelling — to talk to him about our problems in particular.

Sure, Bill 8 affects a number of people in this area, and considering the Liberal succession of Newfoundland and its potential in relation to the Meech Lake Accord, it was an important matter. But it wasn't the only one. There were other issues that were screaming for attention and waiting in the shadows for just such a visit.

Like our roads. They're in terrible shape and our counties roads superintendent recently said we need $29 million more than the $1 million we've been granted. I had to ask and the question spilled out while I tried to grasp the premier's arm while his press secretary attempted to pull him the other way, back into the banquet hall. It quickly developed into a game of tug-of-war and I won, momentarily at least, but long enough to reap what could perhaps be construed as an answer.

Everybody wants more money, Premier Peterson answered. But it's up to the local municipalities to set their own priorities as to how to spend what they get, he said.

That wasn't my question. I had asked what we had to do to get more money. It was plain to see that the the provincial government doesn't see the poor condition of some of our roads as a concern.

I left the inn dissatisfied with the answer, but wiser.

For I'd also learned that Bill 8 will stand as is, 275 Grit supporters can find interesting and unique ways to fly the Liberal color; and when daily paper bigwigs yell "scrum" it really means "death to smaller reporters in our path."

Basically black

WORD SKETCH
Sybil Carello

The color black will be seen more often than in 40 years.

Jack Lenor Larson, New York-based, internationally-known fabric designer.

Well, Jack, it's about time someone recognized the fact that in the world of women's clothing fashions, pastels are mainly for Holly-Go-Lightly-types. Not for Garbo would-bes like us. Uh, uh! We have an undeniable, mysterious side, an unquenchable thirst for drama.

OK. So a few of us on occasion, have been spotted plopped in front of the TV overdosing on Doritos and Pepsis. But please Jack, recognize this self-abusive activity for what it really is: a protective facade. Inside — and I can't say this often enough — WHERE IT REALLY COUNTS, our true spirits wait, burning with a fierce desire to dazzle the world-at-large in a stunningly simple LITTLE BLACK DRESS.

Why Jack, at this very minute, within the confines of my largely-disorganized closet, hang several of these same LITTLE (and long) BLACK DRESSES. In wool, taffeta, crepe, cotton, suede, and striped velvet. Each trembles with excitement. Each is anxious to strut its stuff. Each has been TOO long denied. But whoa! Before we make a collective dash for our LITTLE BLACK DRESSES, I must caution against ONE thing: excessive bracelet accessorizing. By excessive, I mean anything over 45 bangles per arm. One thing most of us forget is that these silver bangles, though beautiful and gypsy-like, make one heck of a tinkling racket whenever small talk at social gatherings runs to wild gesticulating. And no one likes that.

It's no surprise that most women have had a long passionate love affair with this thing called the LITTLE BLACK DRESS. No surprise at all. Every fashion-savvy woman worth her weight in clothes knows that black — in practically every fabric — is elegant, classy, daring, sophisticated, sexy and fun.

But let's pursue this a little further. Classiness and all the rest aside, why is it that the female species is so obsessed with the color?

Committee forgets 'this is Kenyon Township, not an oil sheikdom'

To the editor:

A couple of years ago many people quite correctly realized that the Kenyon Township hall was a substandard workplace, and something had to be done. The old council (the current council was elected last November) formed a building committee, consisting primarily of Reeve Wilfred Vallance, the township clerk, and Walter Scott, an architect from Manotick, who was hired for the project.

After considerable research, including talking to many of the people involved and examining the documents at the township office, the Kenyon Concerned Citizens Committee has put together a short history of the project.

With the building committee's encouragement and council's continuing assent the architect designed a three-phase plan, consisting of (1) a new freestanding office building in back, (2) a renovated version of the existing hall, and (3) another building to be erected some time in the future. He based his potential space requirements on outside experts' opinions that the population of Kenyon Township would increase to 10,000 persons (330 per cent), by the year 2007. (This figure represents a midpoint between the experts' minimum and maximum growth projections; they range from a low of 5,726 inhabitants in 2007 to a high of 19,720.)

In his specifications the architect almost invariably called for the best and most expensive building materials (steel construction inside and out, for example), designing, in one person's words, a 'Cadillac' of a building. (Others have referred to it as a Mirabel.) A few examples — $19,590 for a link between the old hall and the new building; $250 for a shoe rack; $7,730 for a handicapped ramp, and so on. (We do not mean to imply that these costs are inflated; given the designs and materials, they are not.)

According to the report of a quantity surveyor hired this spring to estimate them, the total costs of Scott's designs are as follows: the new building, plus septic tank, well, parking, link and ramp — $277,136; renovation of the existing hall — $126,510, (with the possibility of up to 50 per cent heritage grant from the province); architect's fees — $60,000 (already paid) plus probably a few thousand more. Given that costs always seem to come in over estimate, and that certain fees such as permits, excavation, contingency and so on are not included, if Scott's design is used we are faced with a price tag somewhere in the neighborhood of $450,000, and possibly a good deal more.

To put this into perspective, we should note that the excellent renovation of the Lochiel Township hall cost $35,000, and the recent two-storey addition to the Alexandria town office, around $135,000.

How did this Kenyon version of the Olympic Stadium come about? To put it plainly, the building committee and much of the old council seem to have been asleep at the switch from the moment the architect began his work. (Why everything was immediately turned over to an architect, particularly one unfamiliar with the history and current needs of the area, is another question.) No one seems to have said "Wait a second. This is Kenyon Township, not an oil sheikdom. We can't afford this. Give us something cheaper." No one apparently noticed that the 330 per cent population growth projections seem absurd. The population of Kenyon Township has remained virtually unchanged for more than 20 years; how can anyone believe it will more than triple in the next 18?

Finlay McDonell and Gerald Trottier did try to call a halt at a council meeting on March 8, 1988, but were outvoted by the other members of the old council. In addition, there was no public consultation that might have utilized the professional expertise already living in the township. In fact, one township employee told us point blank that "It's up to the public to keep itself informed; it's not the job of the council." We don't agree.

That's the history. Now, hopefully, we can begin to look at the problem in a new way. The architect has now agreed that cheaper materials might possibly be used. Two tenders have gone out, one for the specifications of Scott's original plans, the second using those plans but less expensive materials. The township is not obligated to accept any of the replies, of course.

There is a third option, which our committee is exploring, using the ideas of local citizens. It involves extensively renovating the interior of the existing hall, turning the large and virtually empty attic into an upstairs floor. That would mean swallowing the architect's fees, but if feasible, might still be considerably cheaper than proceeding with the current plan. Redesign of the present township hall would yield space equivalent to a new building, and could well prove satisfactory for our needs.

Once the tender replies are received, the council intends to call a public meeting. At that time all the possibilities will be discussed, and our committee will present its recommendations. We urge the citizens of Kenyon Township to attend and make their feelings known. After all, it's our money that is being spent. If we don't watch where it's going we deserved to get soaked.

Respectfully submitted,
Kenyon Concerned Citizens Committee,

A safe stronghold in God

on behalf of the needs of the 20th century.

Moreover, the Psalmist's assurance has been experienced by countless individuals. I am reminded of William Dobbie, Governor of Malta, at a most critical juncture in the Second World War. From a military standpoint, the situation on the island in 1940 seemed hopeless.

Malta, with 2,700 persons to the square mile, was the most densely populated country in the world. Supplies had to be brought through seas controlled by the enemy. Every convoy that was destroyed renewed the threat of starvation. The defending forces appeared to be pathetically inadequate. There were only four out-of-date planes and 16 anti-aircraft guns.

When the situation seemed beyond repair, the governor issued this statement: "It may be that hard times lie ahead of us. But, however hard, I know that the courage and determination of all ranks will not falter, and that with God's help, we will maintain the security of this fortress. I therefore call upon all officers and ranks humbly to seek God's help, and then, in reliance upon him, to do their duty unflinchingly."

The tiny island of Malta held at bay the very worst that the enemy could hurl at it. Its inhabitants were collectively awarded the George Cross for "acts of gallantry." And the key to the free world's admiration was the Governor's faith. Not only was it apparently instinctive; it was definitely cultivated.

He said his prayers, morning and night. The Bible was a familiar sight on his desk. He was only absent from public worship when a most serious emergency required it. William Dobbie was a man's man, the king's man, and God's man too!

It seems to me that the "weakness" with many of us is practical rather than academic. If we work at our religion, we will likely find that our religion works for us. Whoever really looks for God, as Blais Pascal (1623-1662), French philosopher, theologian and mathematician, once said, has already found him. And found him a refuge and fortress for unfailing trust.

Glengarry Fiddlers Group caption misleading

To the editor:

Thank you for publishing the picture of the late Father John McPhail's Glengarry Fiddlers Group. The prime reason for submitting the picture (was it in July 1988?) was to pay tribute to his memory, and his efforts to perpetuate the Scottish traditional music. He was especially interested in keeping alive the oral music which he said bore area distinguishing marks, e.g. style, lilt, etc. — the intangible "something" which would be difficult if not impossible to transfer to a music score.

Including myself, some of us, by our own admission, could not play all of the hundreds of selections that this Christian gentleman had in his repertoire. In concert, he made very sure that the "sets" he selected contained tunes familiar to everyone in the group. He was a humble person.

Six members within the group including Rev. John McPhail are deceased, and the living members are actively engaged in helping to bring pleasure and happiness to all facets of society, rural organizational functions, church occasions, senior citizens residences, shut-in friends, etc. They are to be commended for their generosity in time and travel in order to furnish good music throughout Glengarry and district. Common sense should question a statement that they cannot play. Appearing in public with a violin in hand should surely mean that they are musicians, and that they qualify as entertainers. Unfortunately, words to the contrary once in print and scattered to the four winds are as difficult to retrieve as the proverbial bag of feathers in the wind.

For me, personally, being a patient in hospital, it was ill-timed.

It is reminiscent of a story about an elderly clergyman who had a reading problem and was constantly adjusting his spectacles. Reading about the Betrayal (Matthew 27:5): "and he, (Judas Iscariot) went away and hanged himself," a gentle breeze turned the pages while he did more adjusting of eyeglasses; he continued to read as follows: "Go and do thou likewise" (Luke 10:37). Things do quite often get out-of-context. A pity!

Edna MacMillan

Editor's note: Our apologies to you Mrs. MacMillan, and all of the musicians in the fiddlers' group. Your explanation, we hope, clears up any false impressions which may have been left.

40 years of Glengarry history highlighted dinner

By Angus H. McDonell

"The legacy of dedication and hard work in improving local agriculture left to us by the founders of the Kenyon Agriculture Society and the directors I knew after coming here 40 years ago, set the pattern that has made this historic centennial launching tonight a reality." These were the introductory remarks by guest speaker Jim Humphries, Glengarry's retired agriculture representative, before a capacity crowd last Saturday night at the dinner dance in the Angus Grey Hall, Maxville.

The theme of Jim Humphries' interesting address was his recollections, spiced here and there with humor, of the Maxville exhibition progress from a fall fair to the class "B" spring circuit and the restoration of the Glengarry Highland Games.

"There was great anticipation of the Games," recalled the speaker, "with the presence of Prime Minister King and the expected attendance, however, what impressed me was that two local teenagers were already rated Canadian champions in piping and highland dancing; Connie Kippen, the best lady piper, and Jean MacInnes, Canada's top dancer."

He continued, "Connie became Mrs. Walter Blaney, now secretary and first vice-president of the Highland Games, and Jean married Jim Campbell and is a past-president of the fair board."

A critical period in KAS history was reviewed by the speaker. A way back in 1948, still another fair was unsuccessful. Conflicting Eastern Ontario dates cut both exhibits and attendance. It was suggested that sights be raised to joining Lachute and Ormstown spring shows. There was negative opposition, reminisced the speaker, however he credited Doc Gamble with leading the forces for change, ably supported by Harold Blaney's plan for a three-day fair earning increased grants. Directors, including the ladies, contacted exhibitors who responded in numbers, enjoying Glengarry hospitality that prevailed. Success breeds success, and from 1949 onward, new records were recorded.

Among the notables contributing to this surge, the speaker remembers the important part played by CFRA Frank Ryan and Angus Grey in establishing the new hall. The Holstein show became among the best in Canada and the other cattle exhibits earned lofty ratings, that added prestige.

In conclusion, Jim Humphries expressed confidence in a younger generation to maintain the current success story for another 40 years, and he said he hoped to still play a part in this great work. The speaker received a standing ovation as he left the podium.

The special guests were piped to the head table by piper Bruce Blaney. They were Rev. Wallace MacKinnon who asked the blessing; Jim and Mrs. Humphries; KAS president Catherine Kippen and her husband Bill Kippen; second vice-president, Glenn McKay and Mrs. McKay; secretary Janice Blaney and husband Don Blaney; immediate past-president Dave and Mrs. Munro and master of ceremonies Walter Blaney.

The guest speaker was introduced by Glengarry Agriculture Representative Glen Smith and thanked by Glenn McKay.

Concluding the dinner program were presentations and congratulating messages. A plaque was awarded on behalf of the Government of Ontario by MPP Noble Villeneuve and by Reeve George Currier of Maxville Village council and Maxville citizens.

Chairman Blaney asked for a one minute of silence in memory of the deceased members who guided the KAS in the formative years.

Chairman Blaney conducted the program efficiently, thus adding class to the first centennial entertainment.

Toe-tapping Television

The MacCulloch Dancers will again be featured on CJOH-TV's local talent show, "Homegrown Cafe." The quintet of tap-dancers will appear on the show this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. From the left are Raymond Charbonneau, James Nichol, Blair Munro, Ryan Benton and Blaine Darling

Alexandria school evacuated due to gas leak

The 260 students at Elda Rouleau School in Alexandria were sent home at lunchtime Thursday, while employees of a Cornwall natural gas company combed the building looking for a possible gas leak.

Enercombustion of Cornwall, called to the scene after the school's caretaker detected the odor of natural gas in a hallway, found a leak in the heating and air-conditioning system on the roof. The problem had been solved by 3 p.m. that afternoon and students returned to school as usual on Friday morning, said Elda Rouleau Principal Lucien Gauthier, Friday.

The caretaker detected the leak at about 10:55 a.m. and students were sent outside immediately until Elda Rouleau could obtain approval from the Catholic School Board, to send the students home, said Mr. Gauthier.

Mr. Gauthier also explained that although the Enercombustion is farther away than Alexandria's local gas contractors, Enercombustion is the company with which the school board deals.

"If that company is out of town, we have to wait. If it is an emergency, we usually handle it the best way possible," he said.

Responding to a rumor that students were sent back into the school to eat their lunches, Mr. Gauthier said it was true, and that the inspector had told him it was safe. He also explained that he was unaware that the Alexandria Fire Department has the equipment to find natural gas leaks, and said that in the future, the department will be contacted.

Counties to meet

Questions about waste management, services for seniors and cooperative economic development of the region, will be mulled over by SD&G Counties' council and Cornwall council Friday afternoon (April 28).

Open to the public, the meeting of counties' council begins at 1:30 p.m. in the United Counties' building. Joint discussions with Cornwall City council are scheduled for 4 p.m.

Dairy princess visits Friday

Ontario's dairy princess, Donna Beggs will be in Glengarry this Friday.

Accompanied by Glengarry's own princess, Heather Pasco, she will tour the Kraft plant in Williamstown, and visit with the students at Williamstown Public School.

After lunch, they will be at the Alexandria IGA at 3:30 p.m. to meet with people from the area.

The visit will be topped off with a wine and cheese party at 8 p.m. at the Priest's Mill restaurant in Alexandria.

Miss Beggs, 17, lives on a jersey farm in North Gower in Carleton County.

Russell Gauley remembered by Cancer Society

The flapjacks will be flipping at the Vankleek Hill Cancer Society's annual Russell Gauley Pancake Day on Sunday (April 30).

The event, renamed in honor of the late Russell Gauley, an ardent worker for the society in the area for many years, will also consist of the presentation of a plaque to Mr. Gauley's widow.

The menu will feature pancakes, fresh maple syrup and sausages.

It all starts at 8 a.m. on Sunday, April 30 at the Vankleek Hill arena. Ticket information can be obtained by calling Len Pinkham at 674-5615.

Ombudsman here

The Ombudsman will be in Alexandria to hear complaints from the public regarding provincial departments, agencies and institutions on May 23.

The district officer will accept complainants from 2:30-3:30 p.m. in the boardroom of Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

For additional information, call (613) 234-6421. Collect calls are accepted.

Public school budget on the rise

by Pauline Ashton
News* Correspondent

SD&G County School board finance Chairman Roy Hastings told a school committee this week to be prepared for a whopping 20 per cent hike in the board's budget.

Trustee Hastings jumped the gun. Both the SD&G County School Board and the Roman Catholic School Board have scheduled meetings for next Tuesday (May 2), to unfold details of their 1989 budgets. The county board has a morning press conference and the separate board will go over budget figures at an evening meeting.

Mr. Hastings was out of town at press time and could not be reached.

He is reported to have warned the school committee that the board finance committee started with budget estimates 24 per cent higher than last year — and managed to whittle them down to a still double digit figure.

A county school official said the 1989 budget estimates would probably be 18 to 19 per cent higher than last year.

The official explained that the 20 per cent figure mentioned by Trustee Hastings was too high, because the finance committee had another meeting after the Hastings speech, where further cuts were likely.

No one at the board could either confirm or deny the rumor which came from Mr. Hastings' speech, that kindergarden and pre-kindergarden classes might be cut back.

Last year a total of $73,300,000 was budgeted by the county school board for school and administration costs.

Ontario granted $3 million less to the county board this year than last year.

The board official said it is clear the province is looking to the taxpayer to take up the slack.

So far nothing has been leaked about the separate school board budget.

Lancaster Trustee Bernard Besner, chairman of the separate board finance committee, could not be reached for comment.

At the separate school board meeting last week Chairman Ron Eamer said he didn't know when his board estimates would be ready.

He said that the province had not come through yet with all grants promised.

Later in the week a press conference for May 2, to reveal budget details was announced by the separate school board.

But indications are that the separate board will see a steep increase in its budget too, the county school board official reported.

"They are hurting just like us."

Arena expected to lose more money in 1989

evitable expense over a couple of years, they said.

Former board chairman, Mayor J.P. Touchette said "we'd need 10 magicians" to balance the budget so that the arena doesn't lose money this year, adding "We can't change the budget. We know we did the best we could."

During a discussion about cutting back, he told council that laying off workers would save the most money — but that wouldn't be his personal recommendation — and that the arena had already terminated the services of a janitor hired early this year. The janitor was hired in response to arena users' complaints that the arena was unclean.

Councillor Fern Seguin told council, "We should realize things are getting hard and things should be cut. Salaries could have been looked after more carefully.

"I've been in business in this town for 25 years, and in the bad years, you had to tighten your belt. Well, it was all right when the gravy train was around, but...a truck for the manager in the past maybe was justified, but in these hard times, maybe not anymore...this is the first time I've seen a budget, budgeted for a deficit."

Mayor Touchette replied, "We're now paying the shot for the communities...(the arena is) now operating like every other community in Ontario (at a deficit)."

Lochiel's refusal to pay for the truck brought to the forum another question. Mr. Boisvenue queried council, "What will happen when the air conditioner breaks down and we have to spend $5,000. Are we going to tell people we can't rent the hall because the councils can't get together and agree? What about the Zamboni?"

The constitution of the arena states that the three shareholding municipalities have a responsibility to share in expenses incurred by factors such as deficits, capital expenditures and taxes. They also have the prerogative of approving or slashing the budget, and send representatives from the municipalities to sit on the board.

A meeting between the three councils has been tentatively scheduled for May 3.

Sound principle of Bill 8 to stay: Premier

And later, when asked whether he believed the government had a "selling job" to do for Bill 8, Mr. Peterson replied, "You know, it's fair enough to blame the government for every single problem that exists in society. That's everybody's tendency when something goes wrong (to say) it's our fault, but we have to accept the responsibility.

"Maybe it's time for the people...to pander this type of stuff, maybe for people of all levels of institutional leadership to stand up and say 'this is not the type of country we believe in' . . .it seems to me what distinguishes our country from other countries and makes us different and unique and special from other countries, is we do respect minority languages."

And in a speech to 275 Liberal supporters, the premier said he'd seen some of the pressures on equality and opportunity for everyone, in Cornwall, and found it "enormously disturbing."

"I regret the tensions that are developing in this country...that we are organizing against each other."

And for the second time that evening, Mr. Peterson reminded his audiences about Confederation and the British North America Act.

"Everybody said, 'You raise your kid in your religion and I'll raise mine in mine. And I'll educate my kid the way I want to and you educate your kid the way you want. You can speak your language and I'll speak my language.' I believe that deal set in place the foundations for one of the most tolerant, just and decent countries in the world," he said, yielding to a thunderous applause.

"If we let the bigots take over and if we let the extremists articulate the Canadian values, I think, my friends, five years, 10 years, 20 years from now, we won't like the kind of Canada that will have developed."

WILLIAMSTOWN

Sue Harrington

Monday is traditionally ''leftovers'' day, and this week's Williamstown news is offering a menu made up of the pickings of last week's feast. In other words, there are more contest winners to announce this week — some brand new and some which were inadvertently left out of last week's hot pot.

First of all, Tiffany Stones of Char-Lan was the winner of the French as a Second Language Contest, held April 21 at Tagwi. Tiffany defeated 19 other competitors from high schools throughout SD&G in the event, which was open to students studying OAC French. The competition consisted of both written and oral tests, a listening test, and a 15-minute interview.

In addition to Tiffany, Carrie Gordon and Jenny Beamer both represented Char-Lan.

Tiffany, who was born in Somerset, of Yorkshire stock, spent last summer working in Quebec City where she had a chance to put to use the teachings of Char-Lan's French Dept. Head, Phil Goulet.

Congratulations, Tiffany, for bringing yet another honor to our school and our community!

And now for the leftovers. Missing from last week's list of Williamstown Public's winners at the United Counties Science Fair were Sarah McDonald, Mike Hall and Tim Hodgson, all of whom were awarded cash prizes for their wall displays.

Last week's column overflowed the banks of Raisin River Country, I'm afraid, and as a result, the report of recent doings at the Glengarry Community Club was washed away. I've retrieved the news submitted to me by Ethel Clark, and give it to you now.

Winners at the club's monthly euchre held April 10, were Onagh Ross, Diane Giroux, Dorothy Croll, Bill Johnston, Simon Fraser and Louis Thomas.

Onagh Ross was a two-time door prize winner, which leaves me wondering. Did she leave and come back again?

Alice Portant, Dorothy Croll, Violet Lauzon, Alex McDermid and Beatrice Fontaine ''shared the wealth.''

Dorothy Roy was the birthday celebrant at the group's April party, held on the 22nd. Jacqueline Taillon made the birthday cake for the event.

Card winners were Jacqueline Taillon, Edna Edmunds, John King and Bill Edmunds. Alice Portant won both the door prize and the raffle.

The many ex-students and friends of the late Barbara Barton, long-time kindergarten teacher at Williamstown Public, will be interested to learn that a framed photo and plaque have been donated to the school in her memory, and will hang in the kindergarten room, now located in Char-Lan High School.

Another parking lot alert goes out for tonight if you are lucky enough to receive this paper on Wednesday. Williamstown Public is presenting its annual gymnastics/dance show at 7 p.m. in the Char-Lan High School gym, while at precisely the same instant, parents of Char-Lan students will be rushing to the school's cafetorium to pick up their children's report cards and try to find the reasons ''why'' during their interviews with teachers.

Some interesting information has come to light on the age of the McRae house, recently purchased by the Fieldings. Donald Shaw says, in a letter from Kamloops, that he recalls the late Mac McRae telling him that the McRae house, the Shaw's former home on Hwy. 2, and Alan Sullivan's house in the village, were built by the same builder in three consecutive years. Mr. Shaw says he believes the McRae house was built in 1844, the Shaw-Ferguson house in 1845 and the Sullivan (McLennan) house in 1846. He also believes the house on the South Branch, which belonged to the late Duncan Grant, was built by the same builder as the other three.

Apparently the McRae house was re-bricked and the windows changed, but prior to this it closely resembled the other houses.

Mr. Shaw sent news of his family, now all living in the west. Rosalind and husband, Don McVicar are in Edmonton, along with their four children, Adam, Geoffrey, Erica and new baby Allan. Living just across the street from Rosalind is Linda Petrachuk, formerly of Martintown!

Hedley, his wife Lorraine, and daughter Rebecca, live in Calgary, where Hedley apparently meets all sorts of Char-Lan friends in his business, working with British American Oil and Mining.

Siobhan and Gill, whom I mentioned in this column recently, are both living and working in Vancouver, while Jocelyn is in Kamloops.

I was delighted to receive news of the Shaw family and invite any other former Williamstown and area families to write and let me know how you're doing. Who knows? Maybe there are enough of you in foreign parts to start a Williamstown Emigrés Club!

Speaking of families, I attended the SD&G Historical Society's meeting, Thursday in Cornwall, to hear about the John Sandfield Macdonald family, which, as I'm sure you're all aware, had its Glengarry roots just a few miles away from Williamstown.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Bruce Hodgins, who has a book about John Sandfield to his credit, explained how he felt that Ontario's first premier had not been given the public recognition which was his due. Dr. Hodgins said that at Queen's Park in Toronto one of the buildings is called after Sir John A. instead of John Sandfield.

So John Cleary, if you're reading this, see what you can do as the provincial representative for Charlottenburgh Township, to have the building officially known as the Sandfield Macdonald Building, in honor of a famous Charlottenburgh son. Please.

Williamstown artist, Esther Bryan, was busy this week preparing for an exhibition of her watercolors which opened yesterday at the Cornwall Regional Art Gallery on the Pitt St. Mall. Called ''Moments in Time,'' the exhibition will be on display at the gallery until May 20, with the official opening reception slated for Thursday, April 27.

Drop into the gallery and see what Esther has been doing since her last exhibit two years ago.

Sympathy is extended to Donald and Jack MacDonell of the South Branch Road on the passing of their mother, Theresa, which occurred in Cornwall on Friday.

Want a worker to help you rake your lawn, clean your basement, do an odd job or two? The Char-Lan Prom Committee is holding ''Work Days'' again this year in an effort to raise money for its big dance of the year. Students will be available for hire this Saturday (April 29), and next (May 6), and may be booked by calling the school at 347-2441, Tara McArthur at 931-1913 or Jim Cooke at 347-7383.

Congratulations to Rosemary Amell and Steven Nidd whose wedding took place on Friday at St. Mary's. I'm told it was a busy weekend for Eva Amell, and that it is just the first of several she will be having this year!

Stop! Don't throw out those books, toys, knick-knacks or antiques. Don't give away your scarves and sweaters to your younger/slimmer sister. Save them for a few weeks for the flea market which will be held at St. Mary's Centre on May 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Money from the sale will be donated to the Canadian Missions. More information on the event will follow.

Maurice Lagroix topped the bridge club scoreboard for the second consecutive week, this time with partner Garnet MacDougall. Audrey Blair and Dawson Pratt were second, and ending up in a tie for third were Margaret Kennedy and Albert MacDonald, and John and Isobel Quail.

Martintown swimmers in fine form last week

MARTINTOWN

Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

Congratulations off the top to newlyweds Joan (Lafave) and Robert Noseworthy, who were united in matrimony this past Saturday here in Martintown. I must apologize to the Lafave and Noseworthy families as an advertisement should have appeared in the classified section of last week's Glengarry News, but did not. The ad was received in the mail too late to be inserted in last week's paper.

Congratulations go out also to former Martintown resident Shawn McPhail and his new wife Maureen (Tingle) who married this past Saturday in Hamilton. Attending the wedding were Shawn's brothers Murray and his wife June from the east coast, Gerry and his wife Sharon from Cornwall, and Herbie of Ottawa. Also attending were Myles and Joanne Amelotte; Lornie and Jean McIntyre, Art and Gwen Benton, Don, Carol-Ann, Sonia, Tanya and Ryan Ross, Carey McPhail, Kelly McPhail, Michael and Terina McPhail.

On Sunday the group from this area stopped in on Scott Benton who is managing a Movieola Cafe in Stoney Creek. The group was treated to a beautiful Sunday brunch compliments of Scott. From all reports a good time was had by all.

Open House

Tonight Wednesday, April 26 is the annual Education Week Open House at Martintown Public School from 7:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. There will be demonstrations, music and drama in the gym and parents will have the opportunity to visit the classrooms. A lunch will be served by the school committee following the performances in the gym. Everyone is welcome. Don't forget about the upcoming book fairs at Martintown Public School. The Scholastic Great Canadian Book Fair is on this week April 25, 26 and 27 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. and tonight at open house from 7:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. Then on May 2, 3 and 4 it's the Great Owl Book Fair from 9 to 3 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend these book fairs and proceeds are used to upgrade the school library.

Farewell

St. Andrew's United Church bade farewell to Dr. Jim and Jane Algire and family who are relocating to Kemptville. Art Buckland read a nice address and Jamie Thompson presented a gift on behalf of the choir and congregation. The Algires will be moving this week, and I know I echo the wishes of the community when I wish you all the best in your new endeavors.

Sea Lions

Martintown members of the Cornwall Lion Swim team really held their own and then some. Clayton Delaney who competed at a meet in Carleton Place came away with four firsts and one second. Clayton came first in the 500 m back stroke; 50 m breast stroke; 100 m breast stroke; and first in Individual Medley. He also won a second in freestyle. Congratulations Clayton!

Corina MacRae has also been spending lots of time in the water lately. On April 2 she competed in a meet in Nepean. Corina came second in the 400 m freestyle for 10 year olds and under (she's eight); second in the 200 m freestyle for 10 year olds and under; third in the 100 m freestyle.

On April 15 and 16 Corina was in Perth at the Maple Fest Meet. She let her presence be felt at this one, capturing six firsts and three seconds. Corina's firsts were in the 25 m freestyle; 50 m butterfly; 50 m backstroke; 50 m freestyle; 200 m freestyle; 100 m individual medley. The three seconds were in the 25 m butterfly; 25 m breaststroke and 25 m backstroke. Congratulations Corina. Believe me, all of Glengarry is very proud of you, not to mention the City of Cornwall.

Martintown Cloggers

The Martintown Cloggers made up of Blaine Darling, Raymond Charbonneau, Ryan Benton, Blair Munro and James Nichol will be back on this week's April 30 edition of CJOH's Homegrown Cafe at 6:30 p.m. The boys are part of the MacCulloch School of Dancing and have won earlier on this program. Go get 'em guys!

Stickers put to use

For a number of area residents last Saturday Martintown Fire Department phone stickers were put to use. The department handled six alarms for fires from 1:30 a.m. until mid-Saturday afternoon. The rash of calls disrupted the firemen's planned phone sticker drive, so if you have not yet received your phone sticker, rest assured it will be delivered shortly.

The department would like to remind residents that residents can be charged all costs incurred when the department has to respond to a grass fire, etc. Please use common sense.

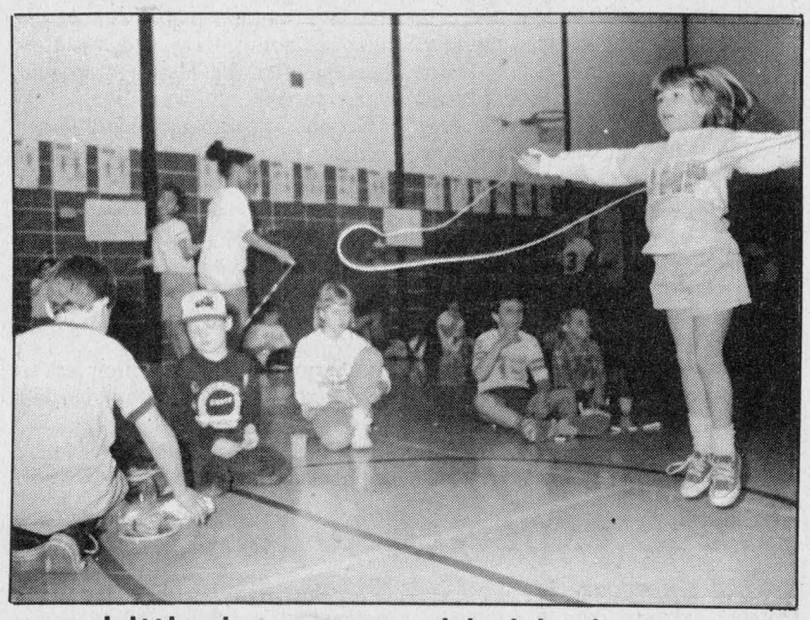
Important notice

Lots of good things going on in our community as our new recreation committee is going full speed ahead with your suggestions. T-Ball and baseball registration for ages 6 to 8 and ages 9 to 12 is taking place now until May 1. Cost is $5 per child and children can be registered by calling Ruth at 528-4374 after 3 p.m. or Sharon at 528-4375 after 6 p.m. When you register your children, please let the organizers know if you would be available to give them a helping hand. It would be greatly appreciated. Games will take place at the Martintown Fire Department Ball Park every Wednesday night starting June 7.

Is there anyone who is interested in starting a Girl Guides, Boy Scouts, Brownies, Cub pack, etc.? If so please give Mary a call at 528-4352 and let her know.

The recreation committee would also like to remind everyone that the general monthly meetings are held every second Monday of the month. Input and help is always appreciated. Please attend.

Hey folks our community centre is alive and well. For any get-togethers you have coming up contact Don Thomson Jr. at 528-4200 to book your events.



Little jumpers with big hearts

Stephanie Vallance jumped rope, Monday, while her classmates provided a cheering section. Stephanie was one of 91 students from Martintown Public School who participated in the Jump Rope for Heart, a jump-a-thon for the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation. The school joined 30 other area schools who have held jump-a-thons this year for the foundation. As of last week, Martintown students had raised $865 in early pledges.

Ladies and Masons

Ladies donned party dresses for a rare opportunity to join The Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons Eastern District worshipful brothers, when the district held its Ladies' Night in Williamstown, Saturday. It was also an auspicious occasion for Worshipful Brother Andrew Harkness, who recently retired after 11 years as secretary to the Lancaster Lodge. Mr. Harkness received a commemorative plaque and flowers were bestowed upon his wife, Esther. About 250 people attended the event, held at Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre.

In the Auld Lang Syne columns last week, local university students were mentioned. Sixty years ago Catherine MacLeod, now Mrs. Archie Munro headed the list of those attending Queen's. Mrs. Munro taught in our local high school for many years and Mr. and Mrs. Munro continue to live at the Munro century homestead.

Duncan Hoople, now deceased, taught here for his first year and then in Kenora and London.

Lawrence Franklin was a professional member of the army and retired as a Colonel in Ottawa. He died about 10 years ago.

Keith MacDougall was with CIL for his entire professional career and retired here where his widow Dorcas continues to live in the family home.

Hilton MacEwen was with the Bell Telephone Co. until his death in Montreal in 1961.

Fifty years ago John W. McEwen was a student at OAC. After air force duties during the war, Mr. McEwen farmed the home farm on the southeast corner of Maxville until his death several years ago. His wife, Gwen, lives in the family home with her sister, Alice Ferguson. Son Murray and his wife, Donna, also live on the farm.

Competition judged by Dan Seguin

GDHS NOTEBOOK
Bruce Myers

Last Friday night's annual airband dance drew not only an impressive crowd, but some local celebrities as well. CJOH sportscaster and Glengarry graduate Dan Seguin, and Glengarry Pipe Major Colin MacLelland, were among the well-known faces judging the event.

After the gruelling competition was over, the Rocky Horror Picture Show came out on top, Chris de Burgh and their version of "Patricia the Stripper" managed to take second and Guns n' Roses "Welcome to the Jungle" placed third.

Lord's Prayer is back

The Lord's Prayer is back on the P.A. system of GDHS.

After a brief absence due to the Ontario Supreme Court's ruling that it is unconstitutional to force students to listen to the teachings of one particular religion in the school environment, it is again part of the morning exercises.

To keep in line with the court's judgement, the prayer will be recited four days out of five. On the fifth day, a non-religious saying will be read. This schedule fairly accurately follows the Christian and non-Christian proportions of the student body.

Girls' volleyball

Last Thursday, the midget girls volleyball team swept a tournament in Vankleek Hill. They twice defeated Hawkesbury DHS 15-4, and they came back from a 9-1 deficit in their first game to knock off their VCI hosts 17-15 and 15-9. It was the team's last outing for the year.

Gold from Waterloo

The Gaels gymnastics team participated at the Ontario Federation of Secondary School Athletic Associations (OFSAA) provincial competition held at Conestoga College in Waterloo. The team fared exceptionally well. Suzanne Glaude brought back a gold medal in level three vaulting, silver on the floor exercise and the bronze at the beam. Cynthia Wilson also did us proud, by ranking sixth out of 48 on the level two beam.

50/50 winner

Congratulations to Heather McFarlane who pocketed $131 in last week's 50/50 draw.

Off to the Maritimes

The senior band leaves today (Wednesday) for a week-long tour of high schools in the eastern part of the country.

The annual exchange this year will take them to Quebec City, Que. and Fredericton and Edmunston, New Brunswick.

They'll be making performances throughout the trip, and I think we can count on them having a pretty good time . . .

Reaching for the top

Glengarry's "Reach for the Top" team squared off against a motley crew of teachers in a not-so-serious exhibition game on Monday.

The event served to kick off Education Week at GDHS, and students got out of class to watch the antics. In the end, youth quite didn't manage to beat out experience; the teachers won, 70-67.

Pop!

Popcorn lovers at school can get their fill every lunch hour.

The new outdoor education committee is selling fresh, popped-on-the-spot kernels to help raise mony for the Athletic Association. The physical education department is currently renting the popping machine, but if sales go well, it may become a permanent feature of the cafeteria.

874-2076

We welcome a new parishioner into our midst. Michael Belair was baptized last Sunday by Father Denis Lefebvre. Proud parents are Kathleen and Arlyss Belair. Patricia Theoret was born at Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall on April 11. Michelle and Robert Theoret are the happy parents.

On the same day it was the third birthday of their first child, Melissa. I guess April 11 will always be a lively day in the Theoret household in the coming years. Congratulations to these two families.

Get well wishes go out to Debbie (Lacombe) Lefebvre who recently underwent surgery.

* * *

Our deepest sympathy goes to Eugene Theoret on the recent death of his brother Jean-Marie. To mourn his loss are also two other brothers Donatien and Leo.

Belated and happy birthday wishes to Mark Van Den Oetelaar who celebrated last Tuesday (April 18), to Richard Theoret last Sunday (April 23), to Pascal Paquette last Monday (April 24). The best to Gérard Legault this coming Friday (April 28), to Johanne Lanthier and Wilfrid Brunet this coming Sunday (April 30).

A big welcome to Suzan Braun who moved in the Glen recently!

* * *

Therese Seguin and daughter Manon motored down to Daytona Beach, Fla. accompanied by Therese's sister, Françoise and son Bernard. They relaxed and did some sightseeing for three weeks. While there they did a few extra miles and visited the magnificent Cypress Gardens.

Words to live by

Live to build people up, not to tear them down.

Contentment is not found in having everything, but in being satisfied with everything we have.

Don't look for faults — look for remedies.

Kindness is the oil that takes the friction out of life.

Herbert Giles Wheeler

Herbert Giles Wheeler died in Vancouver General Hospital on Tuesday, April 18, 1989. He was 76.

Born in Richmond, Que., on March 11, 1913, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler. He retired in 1978 from American Motors as Marketing Manager with over 40 years service in Montreal, Calgary and Vancouver. During the Second World War he was on loan to the RCAF Air Observer Training School in St. John, Que.

Surviving are his wife, the former Dorothy Lacombe, daughter of the late Paul Lacombe and his wife the late Mary Ann McKinnon of Glen Robertson; two daughters and two sons, Marilynn Wright, Ottawa, Dr. Bruce Wheeler (Debbie), Calgary, Janice Biddiscombe, Coquitlam, and Dr. Michael Wheeler (Camilla), Boston, Mass; seven grandchildren, Meredith, Marissa and Alistair Wright, Ottawa; Lindsay and David Wheeler, Calgary; Kimberley and Erin Biddiscombe, Coquitlam; a sister, Mrs. Lloyd Fuller (Thelma) of Richmond, and a brother Ellsworth (Helen) of Montreal; also two brothers-in-law, Douglas Lacombe, Moncton, N.B. and John Lacombe, Dorval, Que. He was predeceased on March 4, 1989 by a brother-in-law, Paul Louis Lacombe of Glen Robertson.

The body rested at the Burquitlam Funeral Home, 625 North Road, Coquitlam, until Thursday when it was transferred to All Saints Church for prayers and visitation at 6:30 pm followed at 11 a.m. Friday, April 21, by Mass of Christian Burial celebrated by Rev. Father Desmond McGoldrick, Pastor.

We Would Like to Thank Everyone Who Came to Celebrate Our Anniversary and Made That Special Day a Success!

Local mineral may have aided British forces

A number of Glengarry's amateur historians found out Thursday how a mineral once abundant in Glengarry may have helped win a war on the other side of the world.

Dr. Robert Nicolls, a director of the Ontario Historical Society and retired chemistry professor, addressed last week's meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society at the Church on the Hill.

Dr. Nicolls explained to the group how potash was an important, and sometimes the only, cash crop of Upper Canadian settlers in the century following the Loyalists' arrival to the area in 1780. Potash (or Potassium Carbonate, as it is scientifically known) was the settlers' source of soap, but Canadian potash was much sought after by European nations, for use in making gunpowder and glass during the years of the Crimean War.

He also explained the back-breaking work that was involved in the processing of potash extracted from hardwood trees. Back in the 18th and 19th centuries, it was women who performed the laborious task.

The final product, a high quality potash, brought in about $100 to $200 in cash for three barrels. It took about 70 cords of wood to produce one barrel of potash.

In the 1850s, potash was one of the three top Canadian exports. The Crimean War was probably won by gunpowder made from high-quality Canadian potash, claimed Dr. Nicolls.

The next meeting of the society will feature Paul Fortier of Parks Canada, a past-president of the Grenville Historical Society and Parks Canada specialist in restoration of early Upper Canadian buildings. The meeting will be on May 4 at 8 p.m. at the Church on the Hill.

Sister of Holy Cross celebrates 60th anniversary

Sister Therese Lafontaine, founder of Musica School in Cornwall, has been teaching music for almost 60 years. She believes she will have to give up teaching within the next year or two due to ill health.

'Singing is like praying twice': sister expresses devotion with song

By Lesley Cadham
News* editor

Seating herself at the desk in her bright office, she says that she recently went knocking at St. Peter's door. But the door wasn't open to to her. Not yet. There were still things to do here, in this world.

Like making sure that Musica, a school she'd given life and nurtured, would continue to provide a haven where students young and old could learn the glory of music.

Sister Therese Lafontaine, a Sister of the Holy Cross whose name is likely familiar to Glengarry music students growing up in the 50s, says the time has come to put the almost 40-year-old school into someone else's capable hands.

But as with all other tasks Sister Therese has faced in her 76 years of life, she has put her trust in God, that her school will not fall flat.

She estimates she will only be able to teach at Musica for another year or two, due to ill health. But she will have devoted more than five decades of her life to education in music; specifically the piano.

And music is particularly important to Sister Therese.

But schools today don't place enough emphasis on musical education, she says. And sports are taking over.

"Today, children have too many activities. Sports are spoiling the arts. When they're (people) 30 years old, they won't be able to play hockey, but they will be able to play the piano. If you want to have a country that's happy, make them sing."

Glengarrians who studied at Iona Academy during the 30s or early-to-mid-40s may remember Sister Therese, as may students of St. Margaret's in Alexandria in the early 50s and of Mary Vale in Glen Nevis around the same time.

From the right-hand drawer of her desk, she pulls a worn, purse-sized black book which contains the names of all her students, including those of Glengarry. Listed among those who studied in Alexandria are Mike Barbara, Guy Cholette, Cecile Lanthier and Suzanne Viau and in Glen Nevis, Estelle Besner, Fernand Carrier and Anne MacDonald.

This lady, whose face does not reflect her years, came to Glengarry for the first time to teach at Iona Academy in the early 30s. Though her vocation did not allow her to remain there permanently, she returned twice more during the next 15 years, teaching there a total of nine years. Her final return to the hamlet of St. Raphael's occurred at the end of the Second World War.

In 1950, she began what turned out to be a two-year teaching stint in Alexandria. And once a week, she shared her knowledge of music with students in Lancaster and Glen Nevis.

It was in 1952, while Father James A. Wylie presided over St. Margaret of Scotland Church, that Sister Therese was asked to teach solely in Glen Nevis. She stayed there one year.

Her vocation also took her to Renfrew several times, to Pentanguishene, Montreal and the small Quebec municipality of Brownsburg.

In 1958, after completing three years of formal studies in music in one year at the Royal Conservatory of Music, Sister Therese threw open the doors of Musica School.

On St. Felix Street, in cramped quarters, she took on the task of teaching piano and singing.

"In order to teach theory, I had to sit on the edge of the sink in the kitchen. They knew I needed a bigger place, so I moved to the high school (Holy Cross Secondary School).

"And I had too many pupils. I couldn't handle it. I put in an SOS, so they gave me a vocal teacher," she says.

The vocal teacher was Sister Francoise Gagnon, who is still teaching vocals at Musica, but also plans to retire in the near future.

Sister Therese's proximity to Curry Hill brought her to St. Lawrence Church in that area about 2 1/2 years ago.

If ill health had not overtaken Sister Therese, she'd still be leading the congregation in Sunday hymns, she says. But in her current state, the weekly travelling would have been too much.

Recently, the parish honored the Sister of the Holy Cross with a 60th anniversary celebration. They wouldn't let it slide by, even though she insisted, that as a nun, it's traditional to celebrate two years after the fact, because a nun actually is in training for two years.

On her piano are the decorative plates bestowed on her by the congregation, and plaques from Bishop Eugene LaRocque, Ontario Premier David Peterson, federal Liberal Party Leader John Turner, MP Don Boudria and MPP Noble Villeneuve.

Her birthplace was Shawinigan Falls, Que. and as a young girl she studied with the Ursulines in Stanstead. At 14, years old, she became ill and moved to Massachusetts with her parents.

"God wanted me to be a Sister of the Holy Cross," she declares, certain that there was a reason why her family moved to a home located right behind the Holy Cross convent. At age 16, she entered the convent and has never looked back.

Alexandria minor hockey awards presented Sunday

The Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association held its annual year-end awards presentations at the Glengarry Sports Palace on Sunday.

Pierre Cuerrier walked away with the President's Trophy, awarded to the player in the association with the best academic mark. Playing in the midget house league, Cuerrier attained an 87.5 per cent average at Ecole Secondaire Regionale Glengarry (ESRG).

Travelling team awards

Most valuable, most gentlemanly and most improved player trophies were presented to deserving members on each travelling team. Trophy winners for the Knights Of Columbus Novice Glens were Jason Poirier (most valuable), Sylvain Campeau (most gentlemanly) and Eric Leroux (most improved).

Copping silverware for the Caisse Populaire atoms were Jean-Joel Trottier (most valuable), Mark Laferriere (most gentlemanly) and Scott Nielsen (most improved).

Normand Jeaurond was selected most valuable player for the Lalonde General Store Pee Wee Glens. Liam Kemp was most gentlemanly, while Sylvain Lavigne was most improved winner.

Luc Sabourin (most valuable), Patrick Sauve (most gentlemanly) and Brad MacDonald (most improved) were Sultan Drugs bantams trophy recipients.

Luc Francoeur and Serge Bellefeuille shared MVP honors for Hope Auto Parts Midget Glens. Joel Seguin was most gentlemanly and Andrew Sauve was selected most improved.

Midget goalie Richard Chevrier was selected most valuable goaltender in the ADMHA travelling league system.

Luc Sabourin was selected travelling team top defenceman. Sabourin skated for the bantam club.

The most promising referee was Marc Massia.

House league winners

Five awards were made for the novice house league division. Ghislain Valade was selected novice house league most valuable player while Roch Gauthier was most valuable goaltender. Most gentlemanly player was Eric Poitras. Nicholas Vaillancourt was most improved. Cindy Laferriere was selected best defenceman in novice house league.

Pascal Decoeur was most valuable player in the atom house league. Dean MacGillivray (most improved) and Pascal Ouimet (most gentlemanly) were other award winners.

Marc Seguin was midget division MVP with Brad Rickerd capturing the most gentlemanly player silverware. Marc Ouimet was most improved player in the midget house league

Glengarry Gaels, Char-Lan Crusaders unbeaten as soccer season kicks off

The streak is still alive.

Glengarry Gaels senior girls soccer team, the defending EOSSA champions and undefeated the last three years in regular season and post-season play, opened their 1989 campaign with a pair of shutout wins in Cornwall Thursday.

Goaltender Jocelyne Roman recorded back-to-back shutouts in wins over Cornwall Collegiate Golden Raiders (2-0) and La Citadelle Patriotes (1-0).

In Gaels season opener against Raiders — played on a soggy turf at St. Lawrence High School — Laura Van Loon took advantage of a misplayed ball deep in the Cornwall zone and hoisted a boot from 20 yards out high to the right corner of the net, giving Glengarry an early second half 1-0 lead.

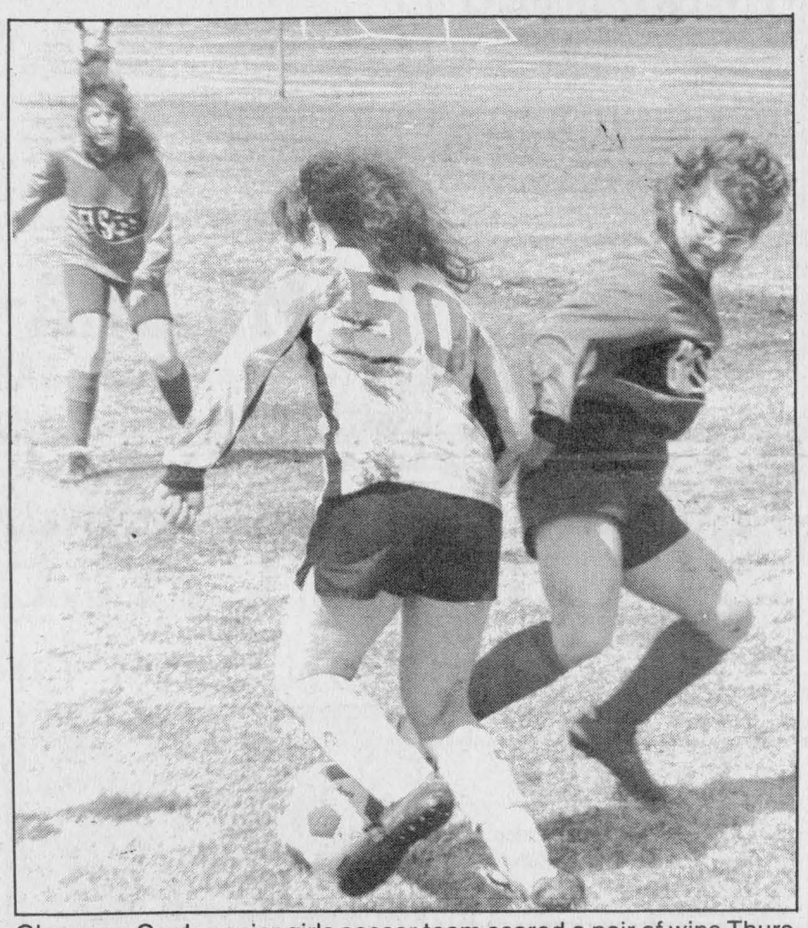
Raiders had a golden opportunity to tie the contest minutes later when one of their forwards was hauled down on a breakaway, but the penalty shot attempt sailed high over the Glengarry goal.

Therese Marion scored a Gaels' insurance marker later in the period.

Laura Van Loon's early first half goal was the difference in Gaels' win over Patriotes. Roman and the rest of the defensive unit did the rest, shutting down Patriotes offence for the remainder of the contest.

Gaels went undefeated in 10 regular season and playoff games last season, en route to their third straight EOSSA crown.

In junior play, Grade nine student Lisa MacDonald — in her first high school soccer contest — was flawless between the pipes as Glengarry blanked La Citadelle Patriotes three-nil.



Glengarry Gaels senior girls soccer team scored a pair of wins Thursday as SD&G regular season play got underway. Gaels haven't lost a game in three years and are the defending EOSSA champs.

Kelly Lavigeur, Allison Graham and Kathy Van Loon handled the offence for Gaels, who built up a 2-0 first half advantage.

Glengarry hosted Tagwi Warriors and General Vanier Vikings as regular season play continued yesterday (Tuesday).

Gaels will next be in action Tuesday (May 2) when they travel to St. Joseph's High School in Cornwall for games against St. Joseph's Panthers and Char-Lan Crusaders.

Crusaders unbeaten

Meanwhile in Williamstown Thursday, senior Crusaders claimed three out of a possible four points beating Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers 4-1 and playing Seaway Spartans to a hard-fought 0-0 draw.

Lisa Chafee sparked Char-Lan in their win over Lancers, scoring twice. Cynthia Laframboise and Maria Payer each scored once for Crusaders, who led 1-0 at the half.

Cheryl Proctor (Char-Lan) and Lisa Van Hoof (Seaway) recorded dual shutouts in Crusaders' second game.

Crusaders' best opportunity to win the game came with one minute remaining, but forward Ann Racine's point blank shot has stopped by Van Hoof.

Char-Lan travelled to North Dundas High School in Chesterville Tuesday, (April 25) for games against host Devils and Cornwall Golden Raiders.

They'll play again next Tuesday at St. Joseph's, against Glengarry Gaels and St. Lawrence Saints.

The top four teams in both the senior and junior divisions will qualify for post-season action. Semi-finals are scheduled for Tuesday, May 16 with finals to be played Friday, May 19.

The Eastern Ontario Secondary Schools Association (EOSSA) championships will be held in Pembroke.

Glengarry course expanding in June

by Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

Grant Crack flashes a wide-eyed grin when he's asked to describe his favorite hole of the nine new ones he designed at the Glengarry Golf and Country Club.

"Well, from the tee-off you drive 200 yards to a dog leg, then you hit right for another 150 yards to an elevated green across the Delisle River," says Crack — the construction superintendent at the course — of the par four, 406-yard, number 11. "The green is surrounded by trees and a sandtrap.

"It will be the toughest hole and is probably the best hole. It certainly will be the most interesting and the most talked about.

"But the entire course will be interesting. It's going to be very challenging. The new holes are longer and tougher," says Crack, hired by the club shortly after the board of directors — at their annual year-end meeting in 1985 — voted to expand the course from nine to 18 holes.

Area golfers will be able to take their first swings at the menacing "back nine" — sprawling over 120 acres to the north and west of the clubhouse — in early June.

"The way it stands now, the addition will be ready for play on June 3 (a Saturday)," says Lester Atkinson, elected as Glengarry Golf and Country Club president at the club's annual shareholders meeting in early March. "We're planning on a members' tournament on the new nine that day, with a dinner and dance afterward to break it in."

The existing nine-hole course opened its 29th season over the weekend.

"Everything is constructed on the new nine holes," explained Crack during a sneak preview tour of the new course last week. "There are just touch-ups and little things left to do, like the bunker renovations and the adding of a few more sandtraps. But basically, the course was completed last fall."

A graduate of the golf course technician program at Seneca College in King City, north of Toronto, Crack began working on the expansion project in the spring of 1986. Three years later he says he's pleased with the finished product.

"All in all, I'm happy with the course," he said. "There are a few changes from what we originally planned, but the layout is basically the same.

"It's going to be a challenging course and also a very pretty course. There's a 60-foot drop from the highest point of elevation to the lowest on the new portion. That's quite a drop. It's a good looking course."

During the construction phase, Crack was in charge of a team of

Gaels' Suzanne Glaude first provincial gold medal winner

by Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

For Suzanne Glaude, the hardest part was the wait.

The 15-year old North Lancaster resident had just performed a stellar vault that earned her a 9.30 score at the provincial high school gymnastics championships in Waterloo last weekend. She sat atop the leader board, but two vaulters remained.

"I was sitting on the mat after the last gymnast had vaulted and they announced that I had won," recounted Glaude. "I was so relieved. I was really proud."

In capturing first-place in the vault — Glaude had earlier claimed second-place in intermediate floor exercise and third on the beam routine — the Grade 10 student became the first ever Glengarry Gaels gymnast to win gold at the provincial level.

"It's a remarkable achievement for a Glengarry gymnast," said her coach, Jacqueline Fraser. "Winning a gold, silver and bronze medal at one meet is an outstanding achievement.

"Some girls will let the pressure of the situation get to them, and the stress becomes distress. With Suzanne, you could see the adrenalin flowing when the pressure was on, and she came through."

Glaude says she was able to deal with the pressure of competing against the cream of the crop in Ontario high school gymnastics. "There's definitely a lot of pressure because you want to do your best, but you don't know what will happen during the 30 seconds that you're doing the particular routine. You just have to try to block the pressure out."

She added that her trip to the provincial championships in Chatham a year ago, where she took second place on the beam event in her first year in competitive gymnastics, was an invaluable experience that better prepared her for this year's meet.

"Last year I had no idea what to expect there," Glaude said. "I had heard about it but I didn't realize how tough the competition would be. By going last year it helped me to realize what it would take to win this year and I was able to make the adjustments in my routine."

She credits much of her success to her coach.

"Mrs. Fraser encourages us to do our best and she really knows what it takes to win that medal, because she has so much experience in coaching.

"But she not only teaches us the routines. She teaches us manners and how to work together as a team."

Glaude — who's also proficient in judo, earning a trip to the nationals in New Brunswick last summer (Glaude, her father Gilles and brother Roger all have brown belts in the sport) — will compete in the senior gymnastics division next year. She harbors no illusions that she'll be able to top this year's performance. She says she still has plenty to learn.

"I want to improve on every apparatus," she said. "I'd like to continue to improve in gymnastics and stay involved in it in the future, maybe at the university level."

"It's something for her to shoot for," said Fraser. "There are opportunities for her. She's always willing to learn new things and to try to improve her routines. But the thing about Suzanne is, in a lot of ways she's self-taught.

"A few years ago, when her sisters were on the team, they'd ask if Suzanne could come out to the practice and she would do walkovers on the beam like there was nothing to it. You could see then, that she was very talented."

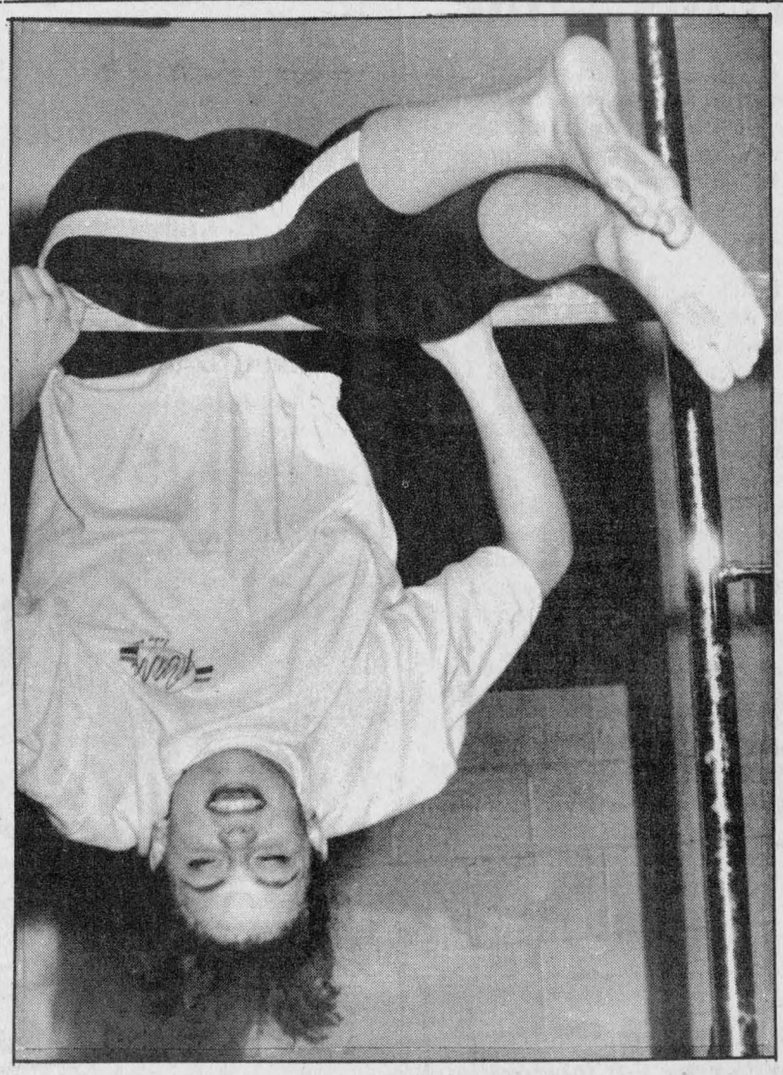
Fraser says Glaude's all-around strength is the key to her success in the sport.

"She's a very powerful athlete and she has a lot of power in her legs. She's just an all-around athlete."

Glaude was the top junior girl at the tri-county track and field meet in Cornwall last spring. But she won't have the opportunity to defend her title this year, having instead opted to play soccer.

"This year the soccer and track and field are at the same time, so I had to choose one," she said. "I picked soccer because you feel like you're part of a team.

"That's the one thing I'm disappointed about, not being in track and field, but I had my one year of it so I can't complain."



Suzanne Glaude, practising on the uneven bars, was all smiles after winning three medals at the provincial gymnastics championships in Waterloo last week.

Gaels team up to win badminton title

Marc Seguin and Julien Boisvenue lost their first game 15-11 but rallied to win the next two, 15-4 and 15-4, in becoming the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry junior boys (doubles) badminton champs in Cornwall Wednesday (April 12).

Seguin and Tardif — representing Glengarry Gaels — beat a team from La Citadelle in the final.

Marc Hurtubise and Lucie Tardif were Gaels' top team at the tri-county senior badminton meet Wednesday, April 19. Hurtubise and Tardif advanced to the semi-final round before being ousted from the tournament.

Team coach Bernard Lafrance was pleased with his team's showings at the competition, the first time Gaels have sent a team.

"We're very proud of the kids," said Lafrance. "Hopefully we'll have more students come out and try out for the team next year and we'll do even better."

Gaels sent 12 students to the tournaments, with six juniors and six seniors competing.

"But we didn't have any girls on our junior team and just two on the senior team," said Lafrance, a phys-ed and special education teacher in his first year at Ecole Secondaire Regionale Glengarry. "That's something we're going to have to work on for next year. We need the girls on the team just as much as the boys.

"It's a good start, though. We did really well for our first year."

Char-Lan results

Karen Arnott — competing in the junior division — lost the ladies' single finals to Denise Roy from St. Lawrence High School.

The seniors mixed doubles team of Scott Arnott and Nancy MacLachlan, were ousted from further play after a semi-final loss to a team from La Citadelle.

Skaters pass tests

The Alexandria Figure Skating Club took part recently in a test day held in Hawkesbury on April 15, 1989.

Passing their tests in the Preliminary Dances were: Anik Hagen and Lynne Deguire in the Dutch; Tanya Macdonald, Lucy DeAngelis, Kimberly McIntyre, Marie Josée Larocque, Mélanie Titley, Andrée Anne Major, Marie Eve Dubois and Donna Flaro, in the Canasta.

In the Junior Bronze Dances, Lynne Titley passed the Willow, while Trina Boisvenue passed the Ten Fox. In the Junior Silver Dances, Cara Lynne Lefebvre and Lisa Poirier passed the Rocker.

We would also like to mention that Josée Titley passed her European in the Senior Bronze Dances, last March at the Test Day held in Alexandria.

Also, this past Sunday, on April 23, the club participated in a test day held in Valleyfield, Quebec. Stephanie Fraser passed her Rocker in the Junior Silver Dances, while Josée Titley passed her Freestyle in the Junior Bronze Category.

Congratulations! Keep up the good work, girls.

The Alexandria Figure Skating Club will be holding its annual meeting on May 24, at 8 p.m., at the Glengarry Sports Palace (arena). Everyone is welcome to attend. The club would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a happy summer holiday. See you all in the fall.

Wins gold

His totals were down, but the performance Maxville's John Baxter turned in at the Australian National Powerlifting Championships in Brisbane was good enough to win him the gold medal for the super heavyweight (275 lbs. and over) category.

Baxter took top spot with a lift of 606 lbs. in the squat event, a bench press of 319 lbs. and a deadlift of 551 lbs. for a cumulative score of 1476 lbs. The three-time defending Canadian powerlifting champion for his weight class had lifted a total of 1503 lbs. recently, the third straight time his scores had improved, after setting a world record in Ottawa last April.

Baxter's trainer, Luc Leblanc of Alexandria, was team coach at the competition, heading a three-man Canadian delegation. Ottawa's Kevin McTavish set two Canadian records in the 165-lb. class, squatting 418 lbs. and benching 236 lbs., en route to a gold medal in his category.

Mississauga's Mike Bentley copped the silver medal in the 165-lb. class.

Golf course expanding

anywhere from eight to 12 in number, working on the expansion project as well as the maintenance of the existing course. He says the hours the crew put in during the summer months were long and hard.

"The average work day from April until the end of September lasted anywhere from 10 to 12 hours, seven days a week. They were extra-long days.

"It was a lot of hard work and we were a little behind schedule, but I think we did the job right."

The nine-hole addition was originally expected to be completed and playable during the 1988 season.

"The course was basically completed last year and a lot of the areas probably could have been played, but they weren't in sequence. You really couldn't move from one hole to the next without a 300-yard walk or so," explained Crack, who will soon be moving on to his next challenge: A position as golf course construction supervisor with a major company in Fredericton, New Brunswick.

Les Atkinson, a Nova Scotia native and Glengarry resident for 15 years — the last four in Glen Roy — says he's excited about the year that lies ahead.

"I think it's going to be a great challenge. I was trying to decide whether I'd do some consulting or do some volunteer-type work. This (being elected president) just came along at the right time for me," said the retired former Canadian National employee, who has done consulting in the areas of management, marketing and financial planning, dealing mainly with the railroad business.

He does admit he'll have to hone his golf skills this spring.

"I was a shareholder and playing member for 12 years, but I haven't really golfed much here for the last three years," said Atkinson. "I thought I'd golf everyday once I retired, but I've been so busy doing other things I haven't had the chance.

"I actually enjoyed golfing more when I was working than I do now since I retired, because it's such a great way to get out of the office. I could leave everything behind me when I was out on the course. It was just me and that little ball.

"Golf can be one of the more frustrating sports that there is because you're playing against yourself. But I enjoy the game. I've hacked at it since the 50s and although I'm not that good at it, I still like to play."

He says his impressions of the Glengarry Golf and Country Club course have changed over the years.

"Originally my feeling about it was that it is a nine-hole course that looked so damn easy, and it looked very small. But it's very deceptive. It's a very tough course to score well on.

"And what I've seen of the new nine holes, it looks like it's going to be a very challenging course, with all the water that's there."

With the expansion, Atkinson says, the course has come into the golfing big time.

"The course is no longer just a little quiet country club. The directors recognize this — and we have a very good slate of directors, I'm very pleased with them — that the course will have to be run like a business.

"The course is maturing and the people are maturing with it. I think it has a good chance for success."

Atkinson says the club has set a target of attracting 10,000 to 12,000 green fees players this year. The number of green fees players in recent years has hovered in the 5,000-6,000 range.

"We believe we are extremely competitive with other golf courses in Eastern Ontario," says Atkinson. "In terms of the quality of the course that we expect to offer and the prices that we are charging, I believe we'll have one of the best golfing bargains in the area. Visitors will be able to golf here economically.

"There's a spin-off effect, as well. The people who'll be coming to Alexandria won't be coming here just to golf. They'll be spending money in other areas. It's beneficial to the whole region. That's a fair number of people to be here in a period of 150 days."

The club currently has about 230 members, but they're looking for more and have, until the end of May, waived initiation fees for prospective members.

"With the expansion to 18 holes and basically the doubling of our expenses, the club has to have more members," Atkinson said. "With this program, we're hoping to attract 60 or 70 more members and push us over the 300 mark."

Other changes in store for the 1989 season include the opening of a driving range in mid-June, and the addition of power golf carts. They were expected to arrive over the weekend.

The club is currently negotiating with a golf pro who would provide lessons and club repairs.

"These are the types of things we believe are required to be able to market the course successfully, both to the members and the green fees players," said Atkinson, adding that more tournaments have been scheduled this year.

Peewees ousted from Provincials

The Cornwall Peewee Girls All-Star Hockey Team dropped a 3-2 decision to Park Hill in their third game at the provincial playdowns last weekend in Mississauga, and were ousted from the tournament.

A win in their third of three round-robin games would have guaranteed them a spot in the championship final.

Cornwall split their first two games, rebounding from a 3-2 loss to Stoney Creek, with a 5-1 win over Scarborough.

Katherine MacLachlan of Williamstown scored twice to lead Cornwall to the victory. MacLachlan scored one of the Cornwall goals in the loss to Stoney Creek.

Cornwall was presented with the Norther's Award, given to the team best exemplifying sportsmanship. Twenty-eight teams participated in the competition.

Heritage course to open Saturday

by Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

The Hurtubise family are putting the finishing touches on their Heritage Golf and Country Club 18-hole course and clubhouse. The course will open this weekend, while the complete 18-hole course is expected to open in early June. Danielle Hurtubise was hard at work painting the course sign recently.

''Have you seen this yet?'' asks Paul Hurtubise, pointing across his cluttered desk at the Heritage Golf and Country Club to a recent issue of Macleans magazine — the one with Jack Nicklaus blasting out of a sand-trap splashed on the cover — which is semi-immersed in a sea of paperwork.

''It's all about golf. They say it's the fastest-growing game in the world. It says there are 300 courses being built each year. Well, we're one of them.''

The paperwork, says the brother of Mike and son of Emile — the three of whom pooled their resources four years ago and are now just weeks away from having their dream of building an 18-hole golf course realized — is simply a matter of politics.

''We haven't really had any serious problems building the course,'' says Hurtubise, ''but there's a lot of politics and paperwork involved; that can be the most time-consuming of anything. You have to please everyone, and get the proper permits and financing.''

Politics aside — Hurtubise expects the club's dining lounge and liquor licenses will arrive in a couple of weeks — the complete 18 hole course, located on Hwy. 2, 2 km west of South Lancaster, will be opening in early June. The ''front nine'' will be playable this weekend.

''Everything is bang on schedule,'' proclaimed Hurtubise Sunday. ''We're aiming on opening the ''back nine'' the first week of June, but it will depend on the weather. The grass is all there, so right now it's just a matter of watching it grow for the next month or so and adding the finishing touches.

''We've taken our time with it, to make it more custom-made. Recently, though, we've been working our butts off to get it done.''

The front portion of the fledgling public course, that will be seeking members as well as green fees players, actually opened ahead of schedule, in July of last year.

''We wanted to show people that we were alive and kicking so we opened up the front nine and it went well,''says Hurtubise. ''We were operating out of a tent and two portable toilets, but we still had lineups on weekends.''

Hurtubise, a competent golfer, but one who readily admits he has never been bitten by the ''bug,'' says the idea of constructing a golf course mainly belonged to his father Emile — former publisher of The Glengarry News and former groundskeeper at the Glengarry Golf and Country Club — and Mike, who recently left his job at GTL to work full time at the course.

''Dad's been a golfer since he was young, and the two of them just had a dream. They were able to get it off the ground,'' recalls Hurtubise, who joined his family in their efforts four years ago. ''The first step was to buy the land. We purchased it at a reasonable rate because a lot of it was marsh land. We then had to pour a lot of money into tile drainage.''

The property was bought in late 1985, and was cleared and tile drained in 1986. The course was designed in 1987.

''Mike took care of the original design and dad was the grounds keeper,'' explains Hurtubise. ''We owned all our heavy equipment and we've been able to build the vast majority of the course ourselves. Mike has even built the tables and chairs for the clubhouse. Our motto around here is, 'our labor is cheap.''

Despite being able to keep it in the family, he estimates that between the three, they've poured over $250,000 into the project.

''Now I know why you don't see too many individuals starting things up like this,'' says Hurtubise, a county board school principal and teacher for the developmentally-challenged, who helped out on a part-time basis during the course's construction and is in charge of administration and budget. ''If we were a big company, it would be different. But it has been tough.

''The course itself isn't a problem. Keeping the grass green is the least of our problems. It's the four years of trying to get it going that's the tough part. It's long hours during the winter months, too. But once we're set up and established it will, hopefully, be less time-consuming. We're just hoping the people come by. Last year they did.''

Hurtubise says the success of the course could depend on their ability to cash in on the lucrative west Quebec market.

''We're banking on the fact that people in Quebec are starving for golf courses. What we've got going for us is that we're very visible being located out here on the highway, with all the traffic that goes by here during the summer months.

''We'll be getting cottagers and people from west Quebec to do their golfing here. That's where we figured most of the people would come from and that's where most of our membership is from.''

The club currently has 30 members; Hurtubise is hoping at least another 20 join before the end of the summer. He's hoping green fees users will provide the bulk of the revenue, with 15,000 to 20,000 people expected.

''I think that's a realistic target, because the course will cater to all types of golfers,'' says Hurtubise. ''It's like a lot of the new courses, in that the fairways are narrow and fairly challenging. It's fairly flat with some rolling hills, but it has a lot of trees and some water, so it should be a very interesting course for the golfers.''

He says the course was designed to be centrally located near the clubhouse, adjacent to which the starting and finishing holes are located. It includes an outdoor patio and pro shop, but virtually the entire course is visible from the facility.

Hurtubise notes the triumvirate — who act as the club's board of directors; ''There's never a tie decision,'' he says — haven't left out the possibility of future expansion.

''There's room for another nine holes here,'' said Hurtubise, pointing out that the existing 18 holes sit on just over 100 acres of the 200 acres they purchased. ''We're not quite sure whether we'll construct another nine holes or build a reception hall later this year. We'll wait and see where the demand is.''

Ernie and Denise (Lajoie) Gallant are pleased to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, JoAnn Gail to Nino Bruno, son of Rocco Nicola and Jeannine (Jean) Marcantonio. The wedding will take place on Saturday, April 29, 1989 at St. Anthony's Church, Ottawa, Ontario.

Optimists elect new slate

NORTH LANCASTER
Diane Roy
347-3553

At the North Lancaster Optimist Club election meeting held last Wednesday, April 19, the following Optimist members will hold responsible executive duties for the 1989-90 term.

Congratulations and successful enterprise to Jean C. Major who becomes president in the fall, to actual president Maurice Desautels becoming past president and to the two elected vice-presidents, Guy Bergeron and André Leroux.

Directors for two years are Réjean Paquette, Bruce Chisholm and Jean-Paul Claude while Bernard Besner, Pierre Bourbonnais and Claude Leroux remain directors for one more year. Assuming the heavy secretarial task is Jean-Luc Desautels.

We wish the above executive and all North Lancaster Optimist members another fruitful year in their devoted endeavors for the fulfillment of our community youth.

Education Week

Ecole Ste. Thérèse is in the middle of its numerous activities for Education Week.

On Monday, a book fair was on all day for students, teachers, parents and friends of the community while in the afternoon, presentations on nutrition were given by parent Beverly Poirier. The school population was delighted to hear on Tuesday morning (yesterday) the ESRG-GDHS student band perform under the skillful direction of Pierre Vaillancourt. Also yesterday, different classes exposed individual collections brought in by some students and a presentation on oil painting was given by UCFO member Stella Legros.

I hear today is crafts and story-telling time for pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students with parent animators Lise Brisebois Bériault and Francine MacDonald. More presentations are to be given this week by parents and local residents on farm security, arts, crafts, needlework and chocolate making. Additional details and results of the education days' activities will appear in next week's issue. A very profitable week to all!

Concert tour

Remember last fall's citrus drive organized by ESRG-GDHS senior and jazz band students? Well, hard work and determination is paying off as today (April 26) 48 youths of the music program directed by teacher Pierre Vaillancourt of Alexandria are heading for a five-day musical tour in several towns and cities of New Brunswick and in charming old Quebec City. Our eastern neighbors are sure to enjoy Glengarry's band concerts.

From the North Lancaster locality, the following students will be profiting from the enriching experience: Julie Carrière, Dominique Roy, Lynn McCuaig, Luanne MacDonald and Paul Shipton. To all band members, their directors and chaperons, a most enjoyable trip!

Get well wishes

Warm thoughts for a speedy recovery are extended to Martha McRae of RR1, North Lancaster who was recently hospitalized in Alexandria. Neighbors and Glen Nevis parishioners are wishing you well and are hoping to see you back soon.

Valuable novice

Congratulations to nine-year-old Ghislain Valade, son of Ronald and Francine Valade of RR1 North Lancaster who was named most valuable player on the "Raiders" novice hockey team and of the four Novice home teams in Alexandria. Ghislain received both awards at ADMHA banquet at the Sports Palace last Sunday, April 23.

Happy birthday

Pleasant surprises to handsome Jocelyn Major who is four years old today, April 26, and much happiness to Richard Quenneville also celebrating today. Friendly greetings to Gisèle Sauvé Besner on April 28 and to Bernard Larocque and Germain Sauvé next Monday, May 1.

Just a thought: "Spring is an experience of immortality" they say, but with our recent cold spell one starts to wonder if now only two seasons will appear: summer and winter.

Last week Wesley and Ruth Craig of Ancaster were down for their spring visit at the home of their son and daughter-in-law Arthur and Beverly Craig of our village. Both Wesley and Ruth have many friends in the Ottawa Valley and it is always a pleasure to see them in our vicinity.

No one called to give me the answers for the 1880 math exam, although Daniel MacDonald did call in regard to the issue, and we had a nice chat. Thelma I'm sure you're disappointed also, but don't fret; I'm certain your answer is as good as any and you can consider yourself right until proven wrong.

I regret that no one called to give me news from NSEW so I'll make my request again this week and add the folks from NW, SE and anywhere in between who belong to my district.

* * *

It would have seemed that an eagle had landed by the excitement of my daughter over a large bird she saw fly past the window from ground take-off. The next day it was back and identified by two male members of the family as a hawk. A carcass in the nearby field is due to the great big fellow's dropping by.

* * *

Michael Lacelle, Steve and Scott Ward and two friends Brian and Chris of Montreal, drove down to Vermont to camp out in pitched tents at Ricard's Creek, over the weekend. They could have frozen just as easily down here but it wouldn't have been as much fun or as challenging to their big sturdy six-foot plus frames.

* * *

Each year about this time everywhere you go you hear people talking about trading their vehicles. Spring fever has hit them; actually your own car will run much better once you find out the cost of a new one.

* * *

Mary and Andre Lacelle visited with Emile and Georgina Socque on Saturday night and with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bergeron on Sunday evening. Sunday evening while my husband and I were visiting Mr. Lacelle at Chateau Gardens, I saw Mr. Tupling, a former resident of the Davidson-Moore Lodge, and Ovila Cuillerier of this area.

A few tips from the Garden Guide for the month of April:
Rake and fertilize lawns.
Plan shrubs, trees and hedges.
Remove mulch from roses a little at a time and prune.
Plant peas, radishes and onions.

There are a few birthdays coming up this week. Best wishes to Real Vallée, Robert Andrews and John Hehn.

* * *

When you come from a big family it is quite easy to get dates mixed up. It was my brother Alcide and his wife Connie's 24th anniversary on April 24. My sister Jean and her husband Hubert will celebrate their 28 years on April 29.

No-sweat exercise has therapeutic benefit

Once or twice a week, two Glengarry women suffering from multiple sclerosis mount the steps to a local fitness centre for an hour of muscle-toning and relaxation.

To these two customers of Slender You, the new wave of gain-without-pain exercise provides a release from the day-to-day limitations of MS.

Though Alexandria's Slender You figure salon is billed as a weight loss clinic, its exercise program has a therapeutic benefit for people with either muscular disorders or stress problems.

The salon is based on one-hour sessions that co-owner Edna Lalonde says are the equivalent of 7 1/2 hour workouts on the floor.

Ideally, she says, the sessions are broken down into 10-minute workouts on six support tables and each table mimics a floor exercise, but is more efficient. Ten minutes on the sit-up table, for example, is comparable to 90 floor sit-ups.

The tables support the whole body while the user is exercising. As the user moves, the table adjusts itself to support him. This minimizes his effort and means he is not tired after a workout.

Irma MacMillan of Dalkeith has multiple sclerosis. The right side of her body is weak, so she can't exercise much and has trouble walking.

But she has been going to Slender You about once a week since September and says, "When I leave here, I feel better. Oh, I still have to sit down after grocery shopping, but I feel better."

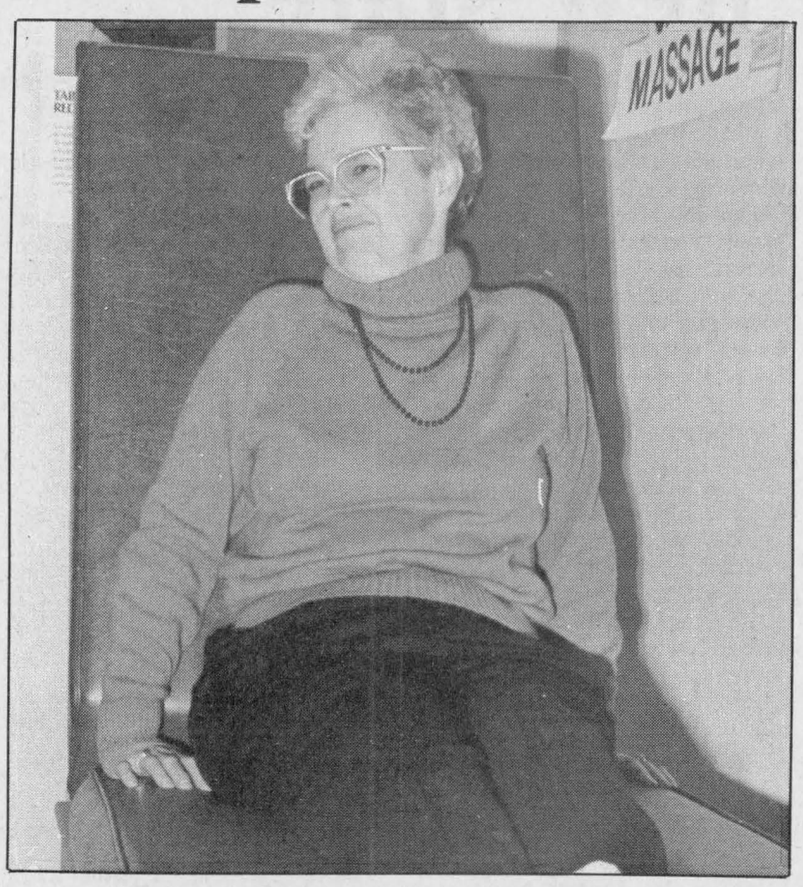
She says the exercise tones her muscles and, coupled with her relaxation on the tables, makes her stronger.

This relaxation is cultured by a staff at Slender You which accommodates the physical limitations of Mrs. MacMillan and another customer, who is also afflicted with MS and asks to remain anonymous.

Mrs. MacMillan says, "The girls are very good. They help me up and off tables...as long as handicapped people can walk up three steps (to the salon), they don't have to feel it isn't for them, if they want to come."

The exercise program can also relieve stress-related problems, says Mrs. Lalonde, who adds, many of the 25 to 30 people who frequent the salon daily come to relax. Businesspeople are among those who participate several times a week.

There is no membership fee to join Slender You. Participants pay per session.



Irma MacMillan uses the sit-up table.

New course cures babysitting blues

In another two months, school will be out and adolescent girls will be seeking positions in one of the most common jobs for their age group: Babysitting.

Hosting a nine-hour Red Cross babysitting course in Maxville is Nicole Bourgeois.

"It's a task that is getting more and more difficult. First of all, they are asked to babysit longer hours at an early (age)...and they are given more responsibility too. We used to, in the past, just leave the kids to babysit after supper. But now, they're being asked to make supper too, and clean up.

"Let's face it, kids are more advanced now...an advanced mentality.... They are more difficult to handle. I don't feel today's kids would listen to a babysitter as they used to in the past. They would argue with them," says Mrs. Bourgeois.

She calls the course a "must for kids who are going to be babysitting this summer."

Through speakers, practical exercises and exams, teachings will revolve around nutrition, the rights and responsibilities of a babysitter, the babysitter/child relationship, security of the child, first-aid and handling emergency situations.

The course will be taught at St. Bernard School in Maxville, beginning May 1, from 6-7 p.m. A fee will be charged to cover course expenses.

While the course will be conducted in French, an English version may also be offered if there is enough interest.

To register, call 527-3486 after 6 p.m. All registration must be made in advance and is on a first come, first served basis.

Commemorative parade planned

With the increasing interest shown in the upcoming plans to hold the Battle of the Atlantic ceremonies at the 544 Royal Legion Branch in Lancaster, Sunday, April 29, organizer Denis Nacreto has been overwhelmed by telephone requests to have a parade on the wharf in South Lancaster for the wreath ceremony.

Original plans called for a parade as mentioned in last week's article in this paper but at the time of writing the Sea Cadet Band in Cornwall was unavailable. However it appears they can be on hand for the Battle of Atlantic ceremonies.

Comrade Nacreto plans to have the many veterans bused within a short distance of the shoreline where the commemorative wreaths from veteran organizations will be laid to rest in the flowing waters of the St. Lawrence River.

Many members of sister branches of the Royal Canadian Legion from nearby Quebec and Eastern Ontario are expected to have representatives in attendance.

The order of service will be as follows: 15:30 hrs. — Parade leaves Legion Hall by transportation; 15:40 hrs. — Parade will form up at the Impala Motel; 15:45 hrs. — Parade will move off; 16:00 hrs. — Service at wharf should be completed.

The parade will return to Branch 544 Hall by designated transportation.

Upon arriving at the Legion Hall in Lancaster the candlelight service will commence to remember the ships and their crews who were lost at sea.

A buffet dinner and dance will finalize the solemn occasion.

Art contest to help kids save the train

A local art contest for children to draw attention to the plight of VIA Rail has been organized by the Alexandria Save the Train Committee.

Paul Theberge of the committee said this week the contest is intended for elementary school students, from grades 1 to 8.

"They can do drawings, water color or crayon or anything they want," Mr. Theberge said.

The theme of the contest is "Trains: Past, Present and Future."

Basically it's anything to do with trains or rail travel in Canada," Mr. Theberge said.

All of the Alexandria schools are involved in the project, as well as some in Green Valley, Maxville and St. Raphael's.

VIA Rail has offered a grand prize for the winner; four tickets to any location in the eastern corridor (Quebec City to Windsor).

"We're hoping to try and round up other little prizes so that we can spread it out and have a prize for each grade level."

Deadline for submissions is May 5.

The Save the Train Committee is hoping the contest will contribute to their efforts of trying to raise the profile of train travel in Canada.

"The idea is to...keep it (train travel) in the public eye," Mr. Theberge said. "Also it's important that kids see the train as a means of transportation. We're trying to make it an issue for young people as well."

"Student of the Week" last week was Kristen McDonell, age 7 in Grade 2. She is the daughter of Hubert and Susan McDonell of Williamstown. Kristen has two brothers and one sister.

This week's "Student of the Week" is Joanne Van Overbeek, age 12, in Grade 7. Daughter of Peter and Claudette of St. Raphael's, Joanne has one brother and one sister.

Kevin Lyndon, school superintendent, was a visitor at Iona for two days last week.

This week is Education Week and Iona has a few special plans. All students are participating in a program called Reading Partners. Older students are partnered with younger students. Every day they will get together with their partners and read to each other. Also science teacher for the grade 7 and 8 classes, Monique Menard, has had her students set up a science display in the school gym. It is open during the day all week.

* * *

This week is also Teacher Appreciation Week, a time for parents to let the teachers know their efforts are appreciated. So parents — don't forget to send in your notes to the teachers.

I would like to welcome Kristin Mary Elizabeth MacDonald to our community. Kristin arrived last Thursday to the surprise of her mom and dad, Margaret and Gary MacDonald. Although four weeks early she tipped the scales at 6 lbs. 1 oz. and is doing just great. New mom Margaret is feeling fine too. Congratulations to the both of you.

Theresa Dorsey received the distressing news on Thursday that her brother, Sterling Eves, had been the victim of a brutal assault the previous night at his home near Belleville. Someone entered his house, tied him up, beat him severely and left with his truck and his money. He is still in a coma in hospital. It was a sad homecoming for Theresa and Jim who have just returned from Florida where they spent the winter.

Nine Glengarrians to be honored

A total of 258 volunteers — including nine Glengarrians will today (Wednesday) receive Volunteer Service Awards from the Ontario Ministries of Citizenship and Culture and Communications at a special ceremony.

The event is being held at the Skyline Hotel in Ottawa, and is one of 20 such events being held throughout the province to recognize the contributions of more than 3,000 Ontario volunteers.

Winners will receive trillium-shaped bronze, silver and gold-tone lapel pins and personalized certificates which acknowledge respectively five, 10 and 15 or more years of service contributed to volunteer organizations.

Receiving an award for seven years of work with Scouts Canada was Patrick McIntee of Glen Robertson; Francine Richer and Pauline Valade of Alexandria will receive recognition for their 16 combined years of work with Centre Culturel Les trois p'tits points . . .; Glengarry Historical Society members Marjory A. Crowley of Alexandria, William W. H. Dean and Lyall Hargrave of Williamstown and Wilfred Johnston, Joan Johnston and Onagh Ross of Martintown, will all receive awards in all three categories.

Foundation is looking for a corporate logo

The Eastern Valley Heritage Foundation is searching for a corporate logo which will be used on letterheads, envelopes, hats and pins put out by the organization.

They are looking for a design that will symbolize the group's mandate of preservation and restoration of heritage buildings, and conservation of wetlands.

The foundation's jurisdiction spans from Hwy. 21 at the St. Lawrence River, north to the Rideau Valley Conservation Authority charge and the Ottawa River, east to the Quebec border and south to the St. Lawrence.

All submissions should be 6" in size, in black and white and reproduceable.

Prizes will be awarded to entrants, and all promotional items bearing the chosen logo will be given to the winner during the first year.

Entries should be sent to the Eastern Valley Heritage Foundation, Box 70, Brinston, Ont. K0E 1C0. The contest ends May 12.

Audio tapes to provide drug info

Parents and teenagers across Ontario can now listen to young persons talk about drug and alcohol abuse through a special telephone information line.

The toll-free and confidential Drug and Alcohol Information Line has been created by the Addiction Research Foundation (ARF), and offers more than 60 audio tapes with information about drugs and alcohol based on ARF research.

The tapes offer "straight talk" to teenagers and parents who have to face the reality of drug and alcohol abuse.

Each of the tapes offers frank advice from youth who have had experience in dealing with drugs and alcohol and the pressures that accompany them.

"We asked kids to tell us in their own words how they deal with peer pressure to try drugs, and what they see as alternatives to drugs," said Larry Hersfield, director of ARF's Prevention and Health Promotion Programs, in a recent press release.

The line operates from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., seven days a week. Callers can also confidentially ask for information on treatment facilities in the area. To use the service, dial toll-free 1-800-387-2916.

MacDONALD — We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors at the time of our mother's death, Mrs. Hugh R. (Lopie) MacDonald. We are grateful for your many acts of kindness and condolence. We wish to thank Dr. Roman, Miss Proulx, and the staff at the Community Nursing Home, also the staff at the Glengarry Memorial Hospital and for the Good Pastoral Care she received — we thank Father B. Cameron, Msgr. D. B. McDougald and all her previous pastors; the Sisters of St. Raphael's and Alexandria area. Thank you to St. Raphael's choir and the Strathspey and Reel Society. Thank you to the ladies who served the luncheon. May God bless you.
—The MacDonald family. 17-1p

LAVIGNE — I would like to thank all my friends and relatives for visits, gifts and cards while I was a patient at G.M.H. in Alexandria. Special thanks to Dr. Roman, nurses and staff for excellent care I received.
—Romuald Lavigne. 17-1p

BRAZEAU — The family of the late Collin Brazeau wishes to express sincere thanks and appreciation to friends, relatives and neighbors for flowers, masses, messages of sympathy, visits, food donated and donations to the Canadian Cancer Fund. To all of you — sincere thanks.
—The Brazeau family. 17-1p

BIGELOW — I would like to thank relatives, friends and neighbors for their support, sympathy and kindness in the loss of my beloved wife, Mildred. A special thank you to the Glengarry Memorial and Ottawa General Hospitals and the Morris Funeral Home.
—Alex Bigelow and family. 17-1p

VALLIERES — We would like to thank the Alexandria Fire Department, all our friends and neighbors who assisted in controlling the grass fire which nearly engulfed our home on Saturday, April 22, 1986. Thank you again.

—William D. Mitchell. 17-1p

In Memoriam

ROBINSON — In loving memory of a dear husband John and son Gerald.
They are gone but not forgotten
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of them are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Many think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.
—Always remembered by Lily and family. 17-1p

MacGREGOR — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother Wilma who passed away April 28, 1985.
Beautiful memories are wonderful things,
They last till the longest day,
They never wear out, they never get lost,
And can never be given away.
To some you may be forgotten,
To others, a part of the past,
But to us who loved and lost you,
Your memory will always last.
—Always remembered by Cameron and the family. 17-1p

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Mabel MacLeod who passed away April 29, 1988.
Beautiful memories are wonderful things,
They last till the longest day.
They never wear out, they never get lost
And can never be given away.
—Ever remembered by Donna, Randy, A.D., Gail, Matthew and Michael. 17-1p

BLAIR — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Nellie Blair, who passed away April 27, 1987.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by daughter Thelma, sons Orval and Stewart and their families. 17-1p

In Memoriam

MacMILLAN — In loving memory of a dear mother Annie who passed away April 29, 1987.
Just a memory, fond and true,
To show we still remember you,
Though two years have passed away,
Still we miss you day by day.
—Always remembered by the family. 17-1p

MacLEOD — In loving memory of our dear sister Mabel J. who passed away April 29, 1988.
Without farewell you fell asleep
Leaving just a loving memory
We shall always keep.
—Annie M. and Christena, Dalkeith. 17-1p

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear cousin Margaret A. who passed away April 27, 1988.
None knew her but to love her.
None named her but in praise.
—Always remembered by the MacLennan family. 17-1p

MacMILLAN — In loving memory of our sister Annie C. who passed away April 29, 1987 and brother-in-law Angus E., who passed away March 12, 1986.
There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.
—Janet and Margaret. 17-1p

SALE OF LAND
BY PUBLIC TENDER
Municipal Tax Sales Act, 1984
The Corporation of the Township of Lancaster

Take notice that tenders are invited for the purchase of the land(s) described below and will be received until 3:00 p.m. local time on May 17th, 1989 at North Lancaster, Ontario K0C 1Z0.

The tenders will then be opened in public on the same day at 3:30 p.m. in the township hall.

DESCRIPTION OF LAND(S)
part of Lot 7, Conc. 9 in the Township of Lancaster, County of Glengarry and containing approximately 4.37 acres. Minimum tender amount $4,147.35.
N.B. It is to be noted that this property has no road frontage, public or otherwise, and that the municipality cannot guarantee access. This property is located approximately 950 feet away from the nearest public road.

Tenders must be submitted in the prescribed form and must be accompanied by a deposit in the form of a money order or of a bank draft of cheque certified by a bank, trust company or Province of Ontario Savings Office payable to the municipality (or board) and representing at least 20 per cent of the tender amount.

The municipality makes no representation regarding the title to or any other matters relating to the land to be sold. Responsibility for ascertaining these matters rests with the potential purchasers.

This sale is governed by the Municipal Tax Sales Act, 1984, being chapter 48 of the Statutes of Ontario 1984 and the Municipal Tax Sales Rules made under that Act. The successful purchaser will be required to pay the amount tendered plus accumulated taxes and the relevant land transfer tax.

LANCASTER
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

Another week has gone by and here we are again, folks. The outside work is out of question these days, so the concentration is on the inside work — painting, fixing up and mostly planning! It's amazing how quickly time can go by when you just sit and look around and plan what you would like to do next. Hubby and I are both on the low cholesterol diet and so this takes our mind off food!

Christian Womens Club will be holding a dinner meeting at the Holiday Inn, Cornwall on Friday, May 12 at 6 p.m. An excellent evening is planned. John Towndrow from Parks Canada will give tips on landscaping; Duncan Phillips, Centennial Choir singer and member of Glen Productions will be guest soloist and the speaker will be Paul Stephens, general manager, Holiday Inn, Pointe Claire — hobby farmer and foster parent. Ladies, bring your husband along or invite a friend or two. Tickets will be sold in advance only. Reservations and information may be obtained by calling Lorraine at 931-2987 or Maureen Tesky at 347-3323.

Mrs. Lloyd McRae hosted the April annual meeting of the Bainsville Women's Institute. During the short regular monthly meeting there were several announcements. Next month's meeting planned for May 3 has been changed to May 10 at Mrs. Fred Ager's home at 7:30 p.m. The next day (May 11) will be the Glengarry district annual at Kirk Hill. The annual meeting began with 1988-89 reports given by the secretary, treasurer, public relations officer and program co-ordinator.

Mrs. Helen Chisholm chaired the meeting for the election of officers. Mrs. Agnes Petrie read the nominations committee report. The following officers were elected: Past President — Mrs. Mac Robertson; President — Mrs. Eric Urquhart; First Vice-President — Mrs. Alan MacKenzie; Second Vice-President — Mrs. Brian Main; Secretary — Mrs. Liette Butrym; Treasurer — Mrs. Donald Hallberg; District Director — Mrs. Mac Robertson; Alternate — Mrs. Eric Urquhart; P.R.O. — Mrs. Mac Robertson; Curator — Mrs. Fred Ager; Branch Directors — Mrs. Lloyd McRae, Mrs. Fred Davis, Mrs. David Stevenson and Mrs. Oliver Legroulx; Resolutions Convener — Mrs. Harold Fourney; Auditors — Mrs. Ron Davies and Mrs. Robert MacRae. Program Co-ordinator — Mrs. Eric Urquhart. Card Co-ordinator — Mrs. Robert McDonald. Nomination Committee — Mrs. Archie Robertson, Mrs. Mac Robertson and Mrs. David Stevenson. There are four conveners of standing committees and these are: Agriculture and Canadian Industries — Mrs. John Peters; Citizenship, Legislation and International Affairs — Mrs. William Mitchell; Education and Cultural Activities — Mrs. Henry Hore; Family and Consumer Affairs — Mrs. Archie Robertson.

Delegates were decided for the district annual. During the social time, some of the members brought hobbies, arts and crafts that they accomplished during the winter months. Any ladies in the community interested in learning more about the WI organization, please call Sue Robertson at 347-2935.

Getting to the root of it

A special tree-planting took place at the Church-on-the-Hill in Alexandria on Sunday, April 16, in conujunction with the church's ongoing 125th anniversary celebrations. Rev. Ian McAvoy, grandson of Rev. Dr. D.M. MacLeod, helped to dig the hole for the tree, planted in memory of his grandfather, who served as minister of the church from 1924-42. The tree was donated by Mrs. Chris MacGillvary of Alexandria, on behalf of the committee. Assisting in the planting are, from left, Fay McAvoy, Rev. Bert McAvoy, Mrs. Mary McAvoy, Rev. Ian McAvoy, Violet Kemp and Marian MacLeod.

Society hosts auxiliaries

DUNVEGAN
Marion Loewen
527-2284

Yesterday I took down the bird feeders except one, and that one remained because I had just enough sunflower seed to fill it. The birds aren't coming today. I hadn't filled them for a couple of days so the grosbeaks gave up, because there were none around this morning, and not even the chickadees. The starlings and blackbirds are still here though. However, there are still a few goldfinches around and they are really getting to have a golden glow. Oh yes, and I have mourning doves coming to pick up the bits and pieces still on the ground. So, in spite of the weather, I have to predict that spring will eventually arrive.

Kenyon Presbyterian Church

''From sometimes to always'' will be the title of Rev. Lloyd Smith's sermon in Kenyon Church on Sunday, April 30. His message to the Sunday school scholars will be the cross ''Rex.''

The choir will sing the well known hymn by Hattie Buell, ''A Child of the King.'' A welcome is extended to all.

Women's Missionary Society

On Sunday night many members from the auxiliaries of the Glengarry Presbytery were guests of the Women's Missionary Society of Knox Presbyterian Church, Vankleek Hill to attend their special service celebrating the seventh anniversary of the Women's Missionary Society, Western Division. Attending from the Skye auxiliary were Mrs. Norman M. MacLeod (Isabel), Mrs. Lloyd Nixon, Mrs. Stanford MacCrimmon, Mrs. Wesley Chisholm, and Mrs. Jerry Heinsma. From Kenyon auxiliary, those attending were Mrs. Rodger Hartrick, Mrs. Malcolm Grant, Mrs. George McRae, Mrs. Dan MacRae, Mrs. D. J. Hartrick, Margaret MacLeod, Marion Loewen, Joanna MacLean, Mary Fraser, Jean Clark and Hilda Campbell.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Lois Klempa of Montreal spoke on the special role played by women who followed Jesus at the time of his death and resurrection, under the title ''Who will roll away the stone.'' Special music was brought be Linda Carmichael, and was enjoyed by all. Communion service was received by the large attendance, and after service a fellowship hour with a short program was enjoyed by all who stayed. The refreshments with hot tea and coffee were appreciated, preparing everyone for the cold night wind on their way home, ending a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Marion Loewen accompanied Marianne MacDonald of Vankleek Hill to Montreal where they attended the Synodical meeting of the WMS of Quebec and Eastern Ontario, held at the Town of Mount Royal Presbyterian Church. While there they stayed with Miss Martha MacLeod, formerly of Laggan.

* * *

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Daniel J. MacNeil (Kathleen) of the Skye area who passed away last week, and also to the relatives of Mabel MacLeod of the Manor, who also passed away this week. Mabel is the last of a family of nine and was also a former resident of Skye.

Local Brownies to participate in hobby show

GREEN VALLEY
Helene Quesnel
525-3303

Melanie Campeau who is in Grade 2 at Ste. Marie's school was among those who had their first communion on April 23.

* * *

Congratulations to Gary and Margaret MacDonald upon the birth of their first child, a daughter, Kristin. Kristin was born on Thursday, April 20 in Hawkesbury. Mother, father and baby are all doing fine.

Brownies

Our Green Valley Brownie pack is taking part in the Highland District Hobby Show to be held on Sunday (April 30) at Elda Rouleau School in Alexandria. The hobby show begins at 1:30 p.m. and runs to 4 p.m. and is open to the public.

Local packs such as Brownies, Pathfinders and Guides have contributed to this exhibition which promotes the importance of guiding.

Green Valley actors will be strutting their talents this weekend at a play to be held at ESRG, April 28, 29 and 30.

The group "Les Vols aux Vents" is putting on a play called "Avec le Temps" and local talent includes Jeanine Legault, Luc Deschamps and Nathalie Ranger (music teacher at Ste. Marie's). The play is produced by Liette Valade who teaches at Ste. Marie's school.

Le Choeur du Fleuve invites everyone to its annual concert on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30 at 8 p.m. in Aultsville Hall at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall.

Singers in the concert include Lucien and Lorraine Beriault, Robert Lemieux and Lise LaRocque, all from Green Valley.

Remember this week is Secretary Week and Wednesday (today) is Secretary's Day.

Don't forget your all-important secretary, whether he/she is an employee, your wife, your child or even your husband; if he/she is your secretary they deserve some kind of recognition.

And if you do your own secretarial work for your business then treat yourself!

Education Week

Education Week in Ontario is April 23-29. This year's theme is "Partners in Success" which underlines the importance of education in Ontario as being a shared responsibility.

Here are the activities planned at Ste. Marie's for Education Week. Children who will begin school in September will visit the school on Wednesday. A forestry program entitled "A Forest for Tomorrow" will be presented to Grades 6, 7 and 8. Father Romeo Major, parish priest of Christ-Roi in Cornwall will speak to all students about missionary work.

Dr. Ghyslaine Marleau will speak to Grade 8 students about AIDS. The talk will be followed by a question period. And students from Grades 3 and 5 will go on a fishing excursion.

* * *

Happy birthday to André Lefebvre who will be 15 on Thursday (April 27). Also to Derek St. John who was 10 on Saturday (April 22) and to Jacqueline Leger on Sunday (April 30).

Happy 20th anniversary to Richard and Noëlla Leger who celebrated on April 19.

Optimist Club

The Optimist Club held elections for a new executive for 1989-90 last week with results as follows: President Rejean Menard; secretary, Yvon Menard; vice-presidents Glen St. John and Lucien Beriault; directors, two years, Donald Menard, Marc Brunet and Marc Delorme; directors, one year, André Seguin, Bernard Brunet and Norman Menard.

The new executive begin their role on Oct. 1 when the Optimists begin a new year.

Don't forget to buy your tickets for the Roger Constant roast to be held May 21 at 8 p.m.

The club is sponsoring a car wash on May 20 at Canadian Tire to aid the Grade 7 class to raise funds for their year-end trip.

Aerobic classes are being held on Friday nights at the school gym. Contact Julie Glaude, 347-2392 for further information.

Judo classes begin in Green Valley on May 6 and will be held Saturday mornings at 10:30. Registration will be held at Ste. Thérèse School in North Lancaster on April 29 at 9 a.m.

Jump for Heart

Grades 5, 6 and 7 at Ste. Marie's participated in the Jump for Heart skip-a-thon on Friday (April 21) at the school. The event was two hours long and students raised over $400 for the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Grade 4 students will have their turn to skip this Friday (April 28) which will bring in further funds for this worthy cause.

Very good work students!

Green Valley Days

On Tuesday, April 25 a meeting for Green Valley Days was held at the Green Valley B-B-Q. Members, along with the Optimist Club of Green Valley, discussed the festivities planned for this year's event to be held Saturday, May 27. Green Valley Days celebrates its sixth anniversary and organizers say the celebrations will be better than ever.

Anyone in the Green Valley district is welcome to join by calling Hortense Charbonneau at 525-1750 or Colette Viau at 525-2992.

McCrimmon WI holds annual election meeting

GLEN SANDFIELD
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Lochiel Township Hall was the site recently of the McCrimmon WI annual meeting which opened with the Mary Stewart Collect and the Ode.

President Bertha Fraser welcomed the group and the minutes were read by the secretary Estelle Brazeau. There was no correspondence. Roll call was sing or say (or pay 25¢) and fees for 1989. The motto — "When the day is done, be done with it" — was addressed very nicely by Anna May Barton, who read a most appropriate poem.

It was decided that the birthday party at Maxville Manor will be held in July instead of August. The date is yet to be decided. The annual family night and variety concert will take place on the third Thursday of August at Laggan School on August 17 at 8 p.m. This year's quilt was on display and is a multi-colored butterfly pattern on white background. The members appliqued the squares and Marguerite McGillis and Leonora MacMillan assembled them. The concensus was that it is the prettiest one yet as each new one seems to be at the time. It is banded in bright blue and is a double bed size. It will be on display in Alexandria in the near future. Helen MacLeod agreed to look after getting the tickets.

Betty McDonald gave her program co-ordinator's report, and McCrimmon seems to really have had an exciting year of good speakers and programs, interesting mottos and roll calls, and good attendance at meetings. Bertha Fraser gave the president's report, in which she complimented the members on their willingness to participate when asked, and for all their help in the past year.

Next month's meeting will be in Lochiel Hall, and the members are asked to bring the oldest book they own. The Tweedsmuir Books will be on hand for the group to peruse and admire. Mrs. McDonald had requested that the presidents of the 80s bring a short biography and a picture for the book and those that have been received will be entered in a special presidents' book. The chair was vacated and Mrs. W. R. MacLeod presided over the election of the new slate of officers and conveners whose names follow:

President — Mrs. John Fraser, Vice-President — Mrs. G. McGillis, Secretary — Mrs. Roger Brazeau, Treasurer — Mrs. A. D. MacLeod, District Director — Mrs. C. Chapman, Alternative District Director — Mrs. K. MacMillan, Public Relations — Mrs. C. Chapman, Directors — Mrs. W. M. MacLeod, Mrs. Ruth Paige, Mrs. E. Clingen; Curator — Mrs. Cameron McDonald; Auditors — Mrs. D. Fraser, Mrs. M. McRae; Program Committee — Mrs. L. MacPherson, Mrs. C. Chapman, Mrs. L. Calvank; Lunch Conveners — Mrs. Campbell MacDonald, Miss Marion Urquhart, Mrs. M. McCaskill, Nomination Committee — Mrs. H. A. MacDonald, Mrs. M. McCaskill, Mrs. Roy Barton; Agriculture and Canadian Industries — Miss Marion Urquhart; Citizenship and World Affairs — Mrs. E. MacLennan, Education and Cultural Activities — Mrs. J. Campbell, Family and Consumer Affairs — Mrs. S. M. MacCrimmon; Resolutions — Mrs. E. Clingen and Program Co-ordinator — Mrs. Cameron McDonald.

The group has decided that they will enter the Williamstown Fair and some members have already volunteered to take on some of the categories. Nan Campbell had literature on display, concerning waste management and recycling and a very different Wheel Chart, on which you dial what cleaning agent you need for a chore and there is listed a harmless alternative solution to protect the environment. She had written to the U.S. for it. The afternoon closed with light refreshments.

I recently had the occasion to see a lawyer and went to the Legal Aid Clinic. It is a service available to people who need legal help, and if they can't help with your particular problem, they will tell you where you can find help. It is a free service, wonderful for seniors, and their office in Alexandria is where the old IGA store used to be — now the new courthouse building. It is on the parking lot side, in the court offices, and someone is available for consultation every Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. There is no appointment necessary. Be aware of this useful service; they are there to help you in any legal matter that concerns you. Your income and assets must be below a certain level. Call for information at 932-2703.

Full house at card party

There were 15 tables in play recently at Glen Sandfield for the euchre party. Winners were as follows: Ladies' high — Kathleen Connors, ladies' low — Anna MacMaster; Gents' high — Howard Cunning, men's low — Romeo Brunet. Estelle Brazeau won the door prize and Jean Elliot the raffle.

Canada Post Corporation

Keeping our commitment in rural Canada

One of the most important parts of our commitment to rural Canadians is making postal products and services more accessible.

To help us do this, we draw on the resources and the expertise of local business. Where practical, we are approaching business people in communities across the country and offering them the opportunity to provide you with postal products and services. As a result, you can now buy postal products or services in more locations at convenient hours, often including evenings and weekends.

Real benefits for everyone

More outlets. The objective is to increase the number of rural locations where you can access postal products or services from 5,000 to 7,000.

More convenience. Retail postal outlets are conveniently located in businesses close to other services in communities across Canada. Longer business hours give you even more accessibility to postal products.

More business for local merchants.
Local merchants are being given an opportunity to provide postal products or services. This strengthens their business through increased customer traffic, and maintains the business base of the community.

More efficient service. With local merchants retailing postal products and services, Canada Post Corporation is able to concentrate on reliable pick-up, processing and delivery of mail to Canadians.

Canada Post Corporation is delivering on its promise.
We're in rural Canada to stay.
