New senior citizens units planned in Alexandria

Construction is expected to start this year on a new senior citizens apartment building for Alexandria.

Although a site has yet to be selected, the town and Ontario Ministry of Housing have agreed to build at least 25 geared-to-income units.

A survey initiated by the town showed that 65 persons were interested in living in senior citizens apartments, but ministry spokesman Adrian Gorizzan told council only 25 people are actually in need.

Councillor Yolande Viau, chairman of the youth and special projects commitee which will be supervising the project, said the town would like to have more than 25 units built and will emphasize this in future negotiations with the ministry.

The ministry will now send representatives to Alexandria to consider proposed locations for the building.

To date, the town has three possible building sites, St. Paul Street, consisting of part of the property of the former high school; the northeast corner of Bishop and Peel Streets; and next to the present apartment site on Lochiel Street West.

However, the town has not closed the door on anyone wishing to approach it with another appropriate site within the municipality.

"There may be some for sale that we have overlooked," Councillor Viau said.

The town will be required to purchase the property and the ministry will assume the cost of construction. Once completed the town will be required to pay seven per cent of the annual deficit.

Last fall the town advertised, inviting interested residents of neighboring townships to make application. Only one reply was received.

"No official contact on the subject other than that was ever made between Alexandria and Lochiel Township," said Lochiel Reeve Alex McDonald.

"I was present at the opening of the senior citizens apartment on Lochiel Street a few years ago," said the reeve, "and the possibility of our joining such a project was mentioned at that time, but it was only in passing and nothing official has been said since."

"I can't speak for all of Lochiel council," he said, "but I will certainly bring the question to members' attention. I personally would consider having Lochiel Township become part of such a project. If the feeling is mutual we will probably contact Alexandria council.

"First we would have to determine if there was any demand from Lochiel residents. I realize that the town advertised for applications but I think that if it were Lochiel Township council making the request, people would be more inclined to come forward."

Kenyon Township Reeve Albert Faubert could not be contacted for comment as he is attending the Ontario Good Roads Convention in Toronto.

Gadbois, Major cleared

Lawyers rule conflict out

Charlottenburgh Reeve Adrian Gadbois says the township solicitor has assured him that neither he nor Councillor Morgan Major have a conflict of interest in the Purcell subdivision case.

Gadbois also warned Abraco Developments to drop its accusations or be prepared to face a libel suit.

Abraco had suggested that Gadbois and Major should stay out of the Purcell subdivision issue because the men have interests in the area. Major lives in the subdivision and Gadbois owns 90 acres of land abutting the north end of the proposed development.

Gadbois contends that changes in the Purcell subdivision will not affect the value of his 90 acres and, therefore, he has no conflict.

The reeve told council last week that he sought the confirming legal opinion because "the people of Charlottenburgh have a right to know what is the truth and what isn't. There is no part in that (Conflict of Interest) act where there is conflict of interest on my part or Mr. Major's part."

Major said his own solicitor also indicated he had no conflict.

Both men told Abraco to prove their charges or stop making them.

"There are libel laws in this country," Major warned.

"These are tactics that are being used in the hope that many people will become confused," Gadbois said. He said he will not benefit financially from improvements in the Purcell subdivision and "if anybody wants to challenge me, the books are there, but there are libel laws."

A delegation of about 50 Purcell residents attended the meeting and reiterated their demand for a public meeting of all concerned parties.

Gadbois said he would support such a meeting and announced that the provincial government has given draft approval to the subdivision plan.

Draft approval means the municipality and developer can work out the details of the subdivision after meeting certain provincial conditions.

The major condition, demanded by the Ministry of the Environment, is for installation of a communal water system.

The province also calls for the developer to give five per cent of his land to the municipality for park purposes.

Gadbois said it is now up to the developer to come forward and indicate whether he will comply with the conditions.

Members of the delegation expressed concern about the cost of a new water system. Several claim their wells are good despite a recent health unit study which showed 20 polluted wells in the area.

In a brief, the homeowners suggest the residents share the existing good wells rather than install an expensive new system.

The proposed development is located in Glen Walter about two miles east of Cornwall along Highway 2.

Cathy's Bar-B-Q to open

The Alexandria Bar-B-Q is expected to open next week under new management.

Catherine Gauthier, who owns Cathy's Tavern in North Lancaster, recently purchased the Main Street restaurant which will continue to specialize in spare ribs and chicken.

She plans to continue her North Lancaster business which was established in 1963.

The Alexandria operation, to be known as Cathy's Bar-B-Q, will be open 24 hours a day and offer take-out service. No decision has been made on whether to provide delivery service.

A TOE TAPPER WITH A TWIST—Monday was Heritage Day throughout Canada. It's not yet an official holiday but that didn't stop some students at GDHS from celebrating the occasion. Three dancing groups toured the school performing dances from various ethnic origins. One group danced to the "Reel de Montreal," another performed the "Gay Gordons" and this group demonstrated the "Rumunsko Kolo" which originated in Rumania.

Grant of $213,34 announ

Canada Manpower has approved a $213,343 grant to a Glengarry group working with the mentally retarded.

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Denis Ethier said the grant will fund a project aimed at integrating the mentally handicapped into the full-time work force.

The scheme, which will employ 18 people, involves the creation of a farm training centre where the retarded will be taught all aspects of farming including vegetable, dairy, beef, hog and chicken farming.

The project is being coordinated by Ted Cooke while Joe O'Neill will act as farm manager.

O'Neill said Wayne MacDonell is being hired to search both the rural area and built-up areas for job contracts that retarded adults can handle. A trial run at contractual work proved successful last year, he said. Work teams did landscaping, fencing, painting, and helped with haying.

O'Neill said the group hopes the farm training program will open up new job possibilities for the retarded.

"When they learn to handle the machinery or cattle on the farm, it's quite possible they could take a full-time job."

He said the project is the most extensive experiment ever carried out in Canada.

About $20,000 of the federal grant has already been spent on the feasibility study which recommended the project.

Another aspect of the training centre will be to study the effects of trying to run a farm on less energy.

O'Neill said the work would be labor intensive with a view to cutting down on the cost of oil, gasoline and electricity.

The project group has been sponsored in the past by the Glengarry Inter Agency Inc., but will now incorp body.

The funding O'Neill said, al could apply for a future years.

Solar project gets $3,000

Research council backs museum

The National Research Council will contribute $3,000 towards a solar energy project at the Nor'Westers Museum, project spokesman Dr. George McKiel has announced.

"Dr. Philip Cockshutt of NRC will act as science officer and will assist in finalizing the design of the solar system," McKiel said.

"NRC is interested in an analysis of the present heat loss from this solid brick building, how this can be reduced by increasing thermal insulation and the effect of the solar system in fuel savings."

The museum experiment is one of three projects being undertaken by McKiel's team which is working under a contract from the Job Creation Branch of Canada Manpower.

The group has adopted the name GEARS, Glengarry Energy and Renewable Sources.

Gears has been functioning for some time and this week began training the team of four for its first task—installing a solar heating system in the museum at Williamstown.

The team members attended the recent solar workshop at John Abbott College along with other interested Glengarrians.

Work on the museum is scheduled to begin in March.

McKiel said Canada is still far behind other nations in solar research.

Inflation fighters

Charlottenburgh Township sent more politicians to the Ontario Good Roads Convention in Toronto this week than any other municipality in Glengarry County.

While the Town of Alexandria and Village of Maxville sent no one to the annual bash, Charlottenburgh authorized its entire five-member council to attend.

Lancaster Township also sent five people, two of whom are staff persons, while Lancaster Village sent two politicians and two staffers.

Lochiel Township sent three politicians and one staff person, while Kenyon Township sent four politicians.

The event, which has been dubbed the "Good Times" convention comes under annual criticism for the heavy partying that takes place. Road contractors and other enterprises take "hospitality" suites at the convention centre and free drinks abound. Last year, in an attempt to get more people into the lecture halls, convention organizers offered door prizes. Many delegates merely attended until the end of the draw and then left for more partying. Cost to Ontario taxpayers last year was about three quarters of a million dollars. Door prizes are being offered again this year.

Attending from Charlottenburgh are Reeve Adrian Gadbois, Deputy Reeve Ewen MacDonald and Councillors Morgan Major, Don Kannon and Bill Cooper.

Attending from Lancaster Township are Clerk-Treasurer Mike Samson, Roads Superintendent Charles Larocque, Reeve Paul Legros and Councillors Bernard McDonell and Roger Brazeau.

Lancaster Village sent Clerk-Treasurer Ian MacDonald, Roads Superintendent Jacques Lapierre and Councillors Ray Filion and Lloyd MacLaren.

Kenyon sent Reeve Albert Faubert, Deputy Reeve Hugh McIntyre and Councillors Fred Leroux and Malcolm Grant.

Attending from Lochiel are Roads Superintendent George Fulton and Councillors Ron MacDonell, Ken MacLennan and Maurice Jeaurond.

By-law to protect historic town mill

Two by-laws involving Alexandria's old mill were given approval at last week's meeting of town council. One established the old mill building as having "historical and architectural value" and a second by-law provides for a "Local Architectural Conservation Advisory Committee" (LACAC).

Designation of the building means United Co-operatives of Ontario cannot, without council's permission, make alterations to the building that would detract from its historical or architectural value.

If the owners wish to demolish the building they have to go through an appeal procedure that takes up to nine months.

If the municipality cannot talk the owner out of demolition plans during that period, the building

Housing agency expands

Alexandria's 35 units of rent-geared-to-income housing are now under the jurisdiction of the Cornwall and Area Housing Authority.

The new authority supersedes the Cornwall Housing Authority and takes over responsibility for public housing in Cornwall, Alexandria, Chesterville, Iroquois, Morrisburg and Winchester.

Alexandria has 20 senior citizen apartment units and 15 family units.

The new authority will control a total of 951 units within the United Counties.

Albert Martin of Cornwall is chairman of the Cornwall-based authority. Other members are Reginald Thomas, Milton Matheson, Marion Kinnear and Raymond Larkin, all of Cornwall.

Funding for ARC

ARC Industries in Alexandria has received a $14,790 Canada Works grant to make souvenirs.

The items are being made by the workshop's mentally retarded trainees and will be sold at county fairs, July 1 celebrations and carnivals.

The seven-month project involves three local people, project Manager Annette Vanstokkom from Alexandria, wood working instructor; Peggi Calder from Dunvegan; and ceramics instructor Neal Guindon from Maxville.

"Although Neal is classified as a ceramics instructor, this is presently not his job," Vanstokkom said. "The price of a kiln, all its accessories and clay was much higher than the project was budgeted for, so presently Neal is making candles and self-drying clay jewellery.

"Up to date the trainees under Peggi's instructions have been making children's wooden toys and games. They hope in the near future to extend this to souvenir items."

Lanthier settles contract

Lanthier's Bakery and Teamsters Local 647 have signed a two-year contract giving workers a 43-cent-an-hour increase now with another 42-cent hike coming in November.

The workers will also receive a holiday on the second Wednesday in February.

When a conciliation board failed to bring the two groups together, negotiations continued past the January 12 strike deadline, company spokesman Claude Lanthier explained.

The company and union reached agreement in February. The 85-cent raise will give the 45 workers a wage rate of between $5.20 and $6.20 an hour. The old contract expired last November.

OFF AND RUNNING—There wasn't any problem in deciding what position this group finished in a bed race in Glen Robertson Saturday, they were last. But they obviously enjoyed the whole experience. The race was part of Winter Carnival festivities being held throughout the week in Glen Robertson.

O'Neill critizes imported beef

National Farmers Union member Joe O'Neill has rapped the federal government for not aiding the domestic beef industry.

Speaking at a food conference at the University of Ottawa Friday, O'Neill said Canadian investors are involved in a company known as Deltec which exports beef from Third World countries into North America.

Canadian producers can't compete with the cheaper imported beef and the federal government refuses to test feeds that might cut Canadian production costs drastically, he said.

The Glen Robertson farmer's comments followed an address by Father Gonzalo Arroyo who was speaking at the conference with Susan George in conjunction with the Ten Days for World Development project organized by the major Canadian churches.

"In El Salvador, a Central American country with a population of 4.1 million people, 30 people own all agricultural land," Arroyo said.

The Jesuit priest is an agricultural economist who had to flee his native Chile when the military, backed by International Telephone and Telegraph, overthrew the democratically elected government of Salvadore Allende.

"El Salvador people have attempted to organize to overthrow the landowners but have always been defeated. The leaders are then shot without trial. Those shot in the last two years include some priests and religious (members of religious orders)."

Arroyo is now spending much of his time studying the world economy. Much of his address dealt with how agribusiness corporations fit into the total world economic system.

He said these corporations are always planning at a world level and have no national patriotism which was clearly exemplified by International Nickel Co. "There are about 1,000 big corporations in the world today. Analysts say that about 50 per cent of the world trade is controlled by these companies. By the year 2000 about 300 corporations will be able to control 80 per cent of the world trade which means that about 10,000 people will control the world economy."

Susan George, the author of "How the Other Half Dies," said that the corporations, including the banks, which supply the inputs for the farmers, are also the ones to whom the farmers sell their produce. This puts the farmer in a very tight economic squeeze. The banks then loan increasing amounts of money, taking mortgages on the land and eventually telling the farmers what and when to grow things.

"But what does all this mean to consumers?" she asked. "They cannot make us eat more calories so they make us eat money. They do this in two ways. First, by encouraging meat consumption where we eat 3,000 calories in meat which is 7,000 calories in grain. Second by stretching out the food chain. A company may offer 5,000 products under 100 different brand names using all kinds of unnecessary packaging. An example is Beatrice Foods which has 46 subsidiaries in Canada."

In Brazil, where the staple food was a soup made of locally grown black beans and rice, soyabeans are now being grown under contract with Cargill, a multinational American-based grain company which processes them in Brazil for export as animal feed.

The people applied pressure to get more food to eat so Cargill is now producing a soup from soya beans which the people can buy if they have the money. They don't have the money and cannot make the soup in their own homes.

"The United States has a law preventing Cargill from producing grain, itself, or contracting with farmers."

"Cargill was allowed to purchase National Grain Co. in Western Canada about four years ago and Usline Grain in London, Ontario two years ago. Two years ago the Canadian government removed feed grains from the sole jurisdiction of the Canadian Wheat Board placing it on the open market and allowed direct contracting with farmers. This allowed Cargill to contract and tie up a large portion of Canadian feed grains.

Feed grains in Eastern Ontario, whether it is western barley or U.S. corn, has probably passed through the elevators of Cargill.

O'Neill told the gathering that those who control the land and food in the Third World countries are the same companies found in Canada.

For example, one of the major meat packing companies in South America is Swift-Armour.

The meat exporting company, Deltec, which was recently formed, is made up of five major multinational corporations including Brazcan with whom Senator Mitchell Sharp has been strongly connected, O'Neill said.

Deltec's main aim is to export Third World beef into North America and Western Europe. Canada has been a net importer of beef since 1969, O'Neill said. Canadian producers cannot compete cost-wise with Brazil in the production of beef yet our federal government refuses to test feeds that if proven safe could cut Canadian production costs drastically, he charged.

"The Ontario farmers debt has increased by 250 million dollars during 1977 and now stands at approximately two billion dollars. Also of the 99,000 farmers who filed income tax for 1976, over 50,000 had off-farm earnings and of those having off-farm earnings, only 29 per cent of their net earnings were from their farming operations."

Had birthday party on 82nd date

A surprise concert in honor of the 82nd birthday of Mrs. Flora Ellen McDonell was held in the auditorium of St. Joseph's Villa on Sunday, February 12.

The wife of the late John Archie Finlay McDonell, she is a former resident of the Sixth of Kenyon.

The concert was organized by her grandchildren, Bernard, Liz, Ellen and Ann McDonell. It consisted of violin selections from Allan MacPhail, Jamie and Finlay McDonell, piano selections by Bernard McDonell, tap dancing by Ellen McDonell, Scottish and Irish songs by Howard, Billie, Beatrice, Ann and Maureen Morris and Mary Harrison. Mr. Cunningham brought the concert to a close with a few songs and words of thanks for the participants.

Attending from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Brian Masterson, Shirley Masterson, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McDonell and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Morris, all from Lasalle; Mr. and Mrs. Finlay McDonell, Ellen and Ann McDonell from Pointe-aux-Trembles; Mr. and Mrs. Francis McDonell, Jamie, Patrick and Timmy McDonell; Kevin Masterson, Sue Cullen, Mrs. Rae McLean, all from Ottawa; Howard Morris, Maureen and Ann Morris and Mary Harrison, all from Alexandria.

Citizens fear wrecker

A delegation appeared before Charlottenburgh Township Council last week to express fear that a wrecking yard may be established near their properties.

Spokesman Linda Prichard asked council not to grant a building permit to J. Korcsg who they say has already erected a residential dwelling on his Seventh Concession property and is planning to start a wrecking yard.

The residents expressed concern that a wrecking yard would create an eyesore as well as endanger wells if oil and gasoline were allowed to seep into the ground.

The group is also concerned that burning the cars prior to their being sent to the crusher, would create air pollution.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois said council would investigate the group's charge that a building has been erected without a permit.

By-law . . .

can be expropriated. Should the municipality decide not to expropriate, the owner may demolish the building after the nine-month waiting period.

The advisory committee will make recommendations to the town on possible designation of other buildings. Once a building is designated, the committee is consulted when an alteration or demolition is proposed.

Representing the town on the committee are Councillors Roddy MacDonald, Ray Jette and Lionel Leroux as well as Mayor Bruno Massie who is ex-officio on all committees.

Research . . .

ment in Canada this year amounts to $4 million, compared to the $1 billion needed to build a 1,000 megawatt nuclear power plant.

"Japan has two million solar hot water heaters operating while Israel has 200,000. Canada has a few hundred. Australian law now requires solar hot water systems for all new buildings in its northern territory.

"Prince Edward Island has commissioned Nick Nicholson to design a solar system for a 30-unit Charlottetown apartment complex."

McKiel congratulated the Glengarry Historical Society for its co-operation in the solar experiment at the museum.

"Glengarry is fortunate to have the progressive Glengarry Historical Society to not only remind us of our rich heritage but to point the way toward modern and future lifestyles."

R.J. McDonald dies in Windsor at 73

Well known in the North Lancaster area where he farmed for most of his lifetime, Ranald Joseph McDonald died in hospital in Windsor on Thursday, Feb. 9, following an illness of several months.

Born on February 20, 1905, he was the son of the late Dan Allan Angus McDonald and his wife, Mary Anne McDonald. He had moved to the Windsor area 12 years ago where he had resided with his sister. A quiet personality, he was known for his warm and kind personality and sense of humor.

He leaves to mourn, his brother, James of St. Andrew's and sister, Catherine, Mrs. Alex McDonell of Windsor.

The funeral held in St. Margaret's Church, Glen Nevis was attended by a large crowd of old friends and neighbors. Father Patrick Breton officiated at the mass and graveside service.

Pallbearers were Francis and Laurent Major, Jack McDonell, Lloyd McDonald, Norman McDonald and John McConnell.

WORKING ON BADGES

The Maxville Guides and their leaders thoroughly enjoyed the Ice Capades at the Cornwall Civic Centre. The usual stop on the way home for refreshments was omitted, as the group is saving its money towards a proposed camping weekend in May . . . an invitation has been received from the 2nd Picton Girl Guide Company which is under the direction of Mrs. Betsy Cole. This Monday and next Monday . . . Feb. 13 and 20, the Guides have an hour's ice time at the Arena . . . after school four until five, with Valerie Rolland and Wendy Evans overseeing the skaters' badges. Several Guides are working on their child care badges, and Tracy Warwick has earned her Land Girl Badge.

CLASS STARTING

Members of the Maxville Painting and Drawing Class, taught by Jan Funnekotter, are reminded that the first class of the new season will be on Monday, Feb. 27, at the Senior School at 1:30 p.m.

School has skating days

Some activities from the Maxville Public School . . . a meeting was held last week to discuss the French program for next year, and to explain the questionnaire that has been sent to parents of children in kindergarten and Grades 1, 2, and 3. The Scholastic Book Club had a very good response last time, and more orders have gone in now. Skating day was Feb. 17 and there was a hot lunch provided by the school committee. Other skating days will be Feb. 23, March 3, and March 10 . . . parents can come too on March 10. And remember that Nutrition Week will be celebrated on April 17 to 21, with a combined emphasis on nutrition and dental health. This is being organized by Joan Siwik, who would appreciate ideas and suggestions from anyone.

VEAL RAFFLE

Here's a different kind of raffle for your attention . . . the Maxville Cubs and Scouts will be selling tickets on one hundred pounds of veal. The draw will be made at the Senior School at 2 p.m. on the afternoon of April 1. Fifty cents a ticket . . . support a good cause, and maybe fill your gourmet cookware.

4-H PROJECT HAS BEGUN

The first meeting for this spring's 4-H Club "Focus on Living" was held at the Senior School on Monday afternoon, January 30. The leaders are Mrs. Jaggassar, Mrs. Van Loon, and Mrs. Vanderwielen. President is Kim Warwick, vice-pres., Jo Anne Jasiewicz, secretary, Lynn Michaud, treasurer, Barbara Ann Van Loon, and press secretary, Lee Ann Merkley. The club's name is the Maxville "Crafty Elves" and meetings will be held regularly every Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Senior School.

MANOR EUCHRE

The executive of the Maxville Manor Auxiliary put on this week's euchre on Wednesday night at the Manor. Ladies' winners were Mrs. Peter McInnes, Mrs. Ranald Campbell, and Mrs. MacKinnon. For the men, it was Moise Derouchie, Donald Kennedy and Herb O'Byrne. The door prize went to Mrs. Jenny Ranald. Next euchre will be on Wednesday, Feb. 22.

New sports director comes to Maxville

The very busy young man at the Maxville Arena is Larry Henderson, newly-appointed director of recreation. He comes to the position with a wide range of qualifications . . . in particular his diploma in Business Administration from Algonquin College, and also in Recreation Facilities Management.

Larry comes from Prescott where he was program coordinator for their recreation department and involved in a dozen physical and cultural programs for all age groups, including pool staff administration, man and environment study and development of a complete tennis program.

Volunteer activities were minor league ball coach, golf clinic, St. John Ambulance, and even decorating committee. His last position was assistant program supervisor for the city of Brockville.

The main activities at the rink this winter are skating and hockey . . . with a great crowd turning out for public skating on Tuesdays . . . 6 to 8, and Saturdays 7 to 9. Ice time is still available at various other hours, and bookings can now be made for the arena hall and the ice location for the summer months, tentatively after the first of April.

The arena has been designed so that once the ice surface is gone there will be two tennis courts in its place for the summer months. As a real community centre the arena can be the place where all kinds of summer activities can be organized . . . softball, cycling, soccer . . . if you have any suggestions or ideas about your favorite recreation . . . call Larry Henderson at 527-5659.

WI MEETING

The Women's Institute will be holding their regular meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 22 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Eva Kippen. The Institute is also hosting the February birthday party at the Maxville Manor on Tuesday, Feb. 28.

HOP WAS SUCCESS

The Valentine Hop sponsored by the Maxville and District Community Association was a great success . . . it provided its own music and had the biggest crowd yet. Plans are now underway for a St. Patrick's Day Bash, details later.

MRS. COLEMAN DIED AT 91

In Alexandria on February 10 died Mrs. Ann Maria (Granny) Coleman, formerly O'Neill, in her 92nd year.

She was born in Summerstown, the daughter of the late John O'Neill and Jeannette Bergeron, and was the last surviving member of her family.

Mrs. Coleman spent most of her life in Maxville and was a member of St. James Church.

She married Hugh Coleman on July 31, 1922 and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Minerva Pilon of Maxville, and by four grandchildren and five great grandchildren. One son, Bill, of Maxville, predeceased his mother.

The funeral was held in St. James Church on Monday, February 13.

The pallbearers were Harvey Scott, Dr. D. M. Gamble, Donald Stone, Alexander Lalonde, Dr. Roy Coleman and Donald Gamble Jr.

Interment will be in the parish cemetery in the spring.

ANGLICAN SERVICE

The congregation of St. Michael's Anglican Church will be gathering for Evensong and the annual vestry meeting at the Catherine St. home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Shields on Sunday, Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m.

HAD INVESTITURE

Parents and Cubs were the invited guests at the Maxville Scout Investiture held on Feb. 15. Three boys were advanced from Cubs to Scouts, and five were invested into the Scouts. Ken Birtch was invested as Troop Leader by Colin Marshall of Cornwall who was accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Marshall led the Scouts and Cubs in two action songs which were thoroughly enjoyed by all. Constable R. Drouin, accompanied by police dog Gunnar, gave an interesting and informative talk and demonstration. The evening ended around the "Camp Fire" followed by luncheon served by the Maxville Group Committee.

SKATE-A-THON PLEDGES WERE $2100

The Skate-A-Thon on Friday evening was a great success, with 85 skaters turning out, and about $2,100 pledged to the benefit of minor hockey. There were fewer adults skating this time . . . but a great many enthusiastic sisters. The highest card total was brought in by Stewart Bankley . . . $119, with Benedict Philips second with $106. Several cards carried between $91-$100, with the average a healthy $25. There were a few people with substantial pledges who had to work Friday night and were unable to skate . . . if these skaters will contact Dave Munro another hour's time can be arranged for them to skate. Up on the wall in the lobby of the rink now are the big sheets with each person's name, lap numbers, and amount pledged. The money is to be collected this week and handed in by Saturday . . . and your name will be checked off the list. The Minor Hockey Association would like to thank all who so generously supported this fund-raising event.

Moose Creek WI discuss agriculture at meeting

The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Blair with thirteen members in spite of the cold weather.

The president, Mrs. J. Boyle, presided for the opening exercises. It was decided not to send a delegate to Waterloo this year. The treasurer's report was given by Florence Gentles.

The members are to sell tickets on an "Easter Basket" dinner for eight which will be drawn on March 16.

Mrs. Blair welcomed the members highlighting her convenership, "Agriculture and Canadian Industries." She read a poem "A time to do More." Roll call was "Are you in favor of strikes?"

The discussion on agriculture led with the questions "What future does a farm child have?" "What annoys you most when shopping?" "What industry would you like to work in?" These questions got the members all talking.

A reading was given by Florence Gentles, "It's tough on old turkeys."

Current events reviewed the celebrities who passed away during the past year and local current events.

A reading by Mrs. Chester Valley was, "So you want to be a Farmer" and a reading by Mrs. E. McDermid was "Deep Water."

A contest conducted by Mrs. Blair "Canadian Manufactured articles sold in Toronto" was won by Mrs. W. Montcalm.

Contest by Mrs. E. McDermid "Places in Ontario" was won by Florence Gentles.

The door prize was won by Mrs. W. Montcalm. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Blair. A birthday cake for Mrs. Kay McKercher who was celebrating her birthday. Several members assisted.

WON MANY PRIZES

The Maxville Guides, Scouts and Cubs attended a Thinking Day service at St. James Church on Sunday morning. There were color parties from each group, and a member of each group served as altar boy. At the Crafts and Hobby Show in Cornwall last Saturday the Maxville Brownies won the Group Trophy, and the Guides won eleven prizes out of their fifteen individual entries. Laurie MacIntosh won the first prize trophy for the best individual Guide entry. These are all on display now in the window of the Maxville Public Library. Under the supervision of Mrs. Sharon John and several other mothers of young children these Guides have now passed their Child Care Badge . . . Amy Clark, Cindy Michaud, Penny Lalonde, Louise Lavigne and Lee Ann Merkley.

Jr. Glens finish fourth Seguin finishes first

by Brian Sherratt

The Alexandria Junior B Glens finished off the regular season in fine style Sunday when they downed the Rockland Nats on their home ice 14-3. However their Friday game here against Navan saw the Glens defeated 7-5.

Scott Grant scored four times and assisted on another for the Glens Sunday. Paul Seguin was his usual self with three goals and five assists. A performance that has placed him far above anyone else in the Glens division (North-East) scoring race. Paul finished the season with 95 points. His closest competitor, in the division, Don Adams of Vanier, had 69.

So far Paul Seguin is leading the entire Ottawa District Junior B Hockey League, (consisting of 22 teams) with his 95 points. However, Marshal Hogan of Smiths Falls has 89 points with three games left to play and Doug Byers of Cardinal also has 89 points with two games in hand.

Luc Poirier certainly made himself known Sunday earning a hat trick and assisting on two others. Who knows? Had Luc been moved to forward from defence earlier in the season the scoring race may well have been between him and Paul.

Leo Seguin popped in two that night and helped out on three others. Terry Grant and Danny Villeneuve each scored once to complete the 14 goals. Peter Wensink did the net minding.

The Friday contest against Navan was the usual high flying style of game that almost always happens when these two teams meet.

For some reason (probably known to the players) the fur flies when these two teams meet and they will be going up against each other starting tonight in Navan in the first game of the quarter finals.

Their Friday, Feb. 17 contest saw the visiting Navan squad go home winning 7-5 but it wasn't an easy victory by any means.

Navan suffered more than their share of injuries and Alexandria certainly received their share of penalties. Both Harvey Primeau and Scott Grant were given game misconducts and all with only two seconds left in the second period.

Chris Nichol did the Glens net minding and scoring came from Paul Seguin, as usual, with a hat trick and an assist. Luc Poirier was right in there with a goal and two assists and Harvey Primeau with a single goal.

As mentioned, the quarter finals start this evening at 8:15 p.m. in Navan. The quarter, semi and finals will all be a best-of-seven series.

Home games are Feb. 24, Feb. 28, March 3. Navan Feb. 26, March 1 and March 5.

WHAT A WAY TO GO OUT—Paul Seguin is in his last year of Junior B hockey and will be leaving the Glens organization at the end of the play-offs and what a way to go. Paul finished the regular season scoring race with 95 points leading his entire division with the nearest competition having only 69 points. Paul recorded 41 goals and 54 assists and gave many a fan a moment to remember as he raced up the ice in his free wheeling style. (Staff photo-Sherratt)

Jr. C win and lose

The Alexandria Junior C Glens didn't have the most impressive season this year but that will all be forgotten Wednesday when they visit Finch for the first game of the quarter finals.

After having lost 14 games in a row Alexandria broke their jinx Friday when they defeated fifth place Maxville on their home ice 3-2.

However the following Saturday saw them defeated at the Sports Palace 6-4 by fourth place Chesterville.

Scoring Saturday were Cameron McCormick with two, one unassisted, Tom McRae and John McLeod with one goal and an assist each and assists by Carter MacDonald and Lyle Ross.

They may have finished the season only one point out of the cellar but according to Coach Cameron McCormick, "They won't be the same team when it comes to the quarter finals. We have a line that is popping in the goals now," he said.

The line could well be called the "Mc" line as it consists of Tom McRae, Cameron McCormick and John McLeod. They were responsible for all of the Glens points Saturday night.

All eight teams will be involved in the play-offs that get underway this evening. The quarter and semi-finals are a best of five series with the finals going the best of seven.

Embrun vs Maxville; Char-Lan vs Osnabruck; Finch vs Alexandria and Chesterville vs Avonmore.

Team standings at the end of regular season play were Embrun with 40 points, Char-Lan 39, Finch 35, Chesterville 32, Maxville 30, Osnabruck 21, Alexandria 13 and Avonmore 12.

League scoring leaders were:

Char-Lan shut out Alexandria

Char-Lan Atoms travelling team defeated Alexandria 4-0 Saturday at the Sports Palace.

Roddie MacKenzie earned a hat trick and Blake Hambleton scored once.

Cross country ski club on the move

Cross country skiing has only just reached the half-way mark of the season and already the Glengarry Cross Country Ski Club executive is making plans to enlarge on its trail system for next winter.

"We are doing well with 180 members and six miles of groomed trails," said Club President Archie Roussin. "However we have started negotiating with landowners in the hopes of extending the trails to 25 miles by next winter." Included in the plans for next winter is a club cabin and trail shelters.

The club has organized a bus trip on Sunday, March 5, to "La Petite Rouge Centre" north of Montebello. Buses will leave from Rouleau school at 8 a.m. returning at 6 p.m. Further information is available from Pierre Brunet 525-2056.

Executive on the club this year are Archie Roussin, president, Albert O'Connel vice-president, Nicole Viau secretary, Gwen Joubert treasurer, Ronald Martin member-at-large.

Club Directors are Pierre Brunet, Marcel Leroux, John Stainer, J. P. Miron and Lorraine Laplante.

ADMHA Skate-a-thon brings in $6,000

It took the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association only one hour Saturday to realize $6,000.

The money was the result of a skate-a-thon held at the Sports Palace where one representative from each team skated 100 laps around the rink. Their efforts earned the money as their teammates had been out gathering pledges from people willing to sponsor the skaters.

The ADMHA has asked that all pledges be honored by March 4.

Border League action last week

In Intermediate B hockey action last week Alexandria defeated Lancaster 8-5 on Sunday. Dalhousie downed Glen Nevis 4-3 the same evening. Glen Nevis defeated Lochiel 6-4 Saturday and Dalhousie beat Glen Nevis 6-2.

In the Alexandria vs Lancaster competition on Sunday Andy Poirier popped in four goals and Robert Boisvenue scored two others for Alexandria. Jacques Lajoie and Claude Roy each recorded singles.

Scoring for Lancaster were Kerry McKay, Gord Laframboise, Mort Belmore with two each and Claude Bourck with one.

Dalhousie point-getters in their 4-3 victory over Glen Nevis were Raymond MacDonald, Mike Ruest, Wendal Lafave and Tom Ross.

Ewen McLeod, Rod McRae and Leighton MacDonell each scored once for Glen Nevis.

In the Glen Nevis 6-4 victory over Lochiel Saturday, winning points came from Claude Campeau, Finley McLeod, Rod McRae, Cameron McLeod, Don McRae and Leighton MacDonell.

Lochiel points came from Paul Poirier with two and singles from Don McLeod and Mike Kelly.

Dalhousie defeated Glen Nevis 6-2 Thursday with the winning points coming off the sticks of Ken MacDonald with four, Wendal Lavave, and Tom Ross with singles.

Leighton McDonell and Warren MacKinnon did the scoring for Glen Nevis.

MacPherson leads Glengarry Stars

by Carman MacMillan

On Saturday, February 18 the Glengarry Stars indoor soccer geam played one of their strongest games against one of the strongest teams in our division, the Cosmos "A". It was again a sloppy first half on the Stars part as the Cosmos came away with a 5 to 3 lead. Our defense was a little porous on a few goals but certainly came up big in the second half.

Our leader was again Ronnie MacPherson as he held our defense together throughout the game. Ronnie has been a standout in all the games he has played. He also comes up with a great offensive threat as he scores in every game he plays. When you put him in to play you don't have to worry; he will play the whole game without rest.

Our other leader today was Herbie Maley who always comes up with a great game. He also picks up a point every game as he came away with three today. He plays a hard checking game with a great two-way effort.

The second half again seems to be our strong point as we again won scoring six goals while Cosmos scored only two. It was a game of inches both ways as the ball was missing the net or the both goalies were again coming up with great saves. With the game played as fast as it is, the goalers are the most vulnerable as they have to take charge of a goal net 4' high and 16' long. That in itself is a hard job. During a good game a goaler will probably make close to 50 or more saves.

Our goal scorers today were Herbie Maley with three, Earl MacLennan and Ronnie MacPherson with two each while Norman Laliberte and Pierre Theoret had one each.

Our game next week will be played at Tech High School at 1 p.m. against St. Anthony's.

The only other league business is that no spectators can come and watch as the school has been closed to them. Only the players who are going to play can enter the school and the league wants them in only about 20 minutes before the game and to leave after they have showered and changed. This is only because the teams in Ottawa have abused the use of the school and are certainly making it hard for the league and the other players and people who come out for the enjoyment.

Our two players Mark Barlow and Gordon MacPherson who were ejected from the game against Nepean Royals were found not guilty by the discipline board on Thursday, Feb. 16.

Again the Royals indoor soccer tournament will be held on April 29-30 in Ottawa arenas. The Stars are hoping to hold an indoor tournament again this year with the hope of getting more teams.

Glengarry News Cup to be discussed

A meeting to discuss the Glengarry News Cup competition will be held at the Alexandria Sports Palace on Saturday, February 25 at 10 a.m.

All those interested in entering a team are asked to be on hand for a discussion of boundaries, team regulations and schedules.

Peewees defeat Cornwall

The Cornwall B Peewee travelling team visited Alexandria Sunday only to go home defeated 5-2.

Richard Caron scored twice for Alexandria and Luc Menard, Luc Paquin and Yves Poirier each scored singles.

Assists came from Leonard Seguin and Luc Sabourin.

Play-off race continues

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, ladies broomball action saw Sealtest down Glengarry Sports Shop 4-0. Marilyn Primeau netted two with Veronica and Joan Robinson recording one each. Joan assisted on two and Betty Lacombe assisted on one.

Hope's Auto Parts defeated Glen Robertson in the second game 1-0. Scoring the lone goal for Hope's Auto Parts was France Desforges, unassisted.

In the last game Starr Taxi and GTL played to a scoreless tie.

The play-off series will start next week between the top four teams. However the race for the top is so close that those involved in the series will not be determined until after the games are completed this evening.

Foursome competes in Lady Gilmore Bonspiel

The foursome of Kaye Hay, Joan Ryan, Fraser MacLeod and Peggy Hay represented the Alexandria Curling Club in the Lady Gilmore Bonspiel competition at Brockville on the weekend. They made it all the way to the semi-finals only to lose by one rock (9-8) in the last game.

Their first game of the series was played in Morrisburg on Friday where they were defeated by a team from Shawinigan Falls 7-4 placing them in the "B" division.

Their next game was played Saturday in Brockville where they defeated a Pembroke team 8-4 then went on to defeat a team from Baie d'Urfe 10-9 later that day.

Unfortunately they were defeated in the first game of the semi-finals 9-8 by a Drummondville team.

The "B" series was won by a team from Cowansville skipped by Warren Brown. Warren is the brother of Ken Brown of Alexandria.

The Inter-Hospital Bonspiel, involving 16 teams, was played in Cornwall Sunday.

Winner of the "E" division was the team of Jerry Adams, Arlene Adams, Estelle Brazeau and Marie Paule Ravary representing Glengarry Memorial.

One game high winners were Laurent Major, Claudette Larocque, Gaetan Ravary and Nicole Trudel.

Hospitals represented in the bonspiel were, Hotel Dieu, Cornwall General, St. Joseph's Villa, and Glengarry Memorial.

Alexandria Midgets still a-winning

Alexandria Midgets were led by three goals and one assist from Ron Allison and three goals from Mike Sullivan when they defeated Maxville 11-1 Feb. 15 at the Sports Palace. Paul Depratto also had a four-point night with one goal and three assists.

Mike Crack, the league-leading scorer, picked up three more points by scoring one goal and two assists. Ewen McCormick had one goal and three assists. Sandy Maclaren and Doug Brown each had single goals and Andre Cholette had one assist.

The lone Maxville goal was scored by Mike Cullerier from Mike Andre and Kerry Michaud.

Alexandria downed Long Sault 2-0 Saturday in tournament play there. Scoring were Andre Lortie and Mike Sullivan. Alain Giroux earned the shutout for Alexandria.

Bantams win two

Two more wins have been added to the outstanding record of the Alexandria Bantam travelling team. Saturday it visited Maxville and defeated the hosts 8-5 in Can-Am competition and on Thursday, Feb. 16, it defeated Cornwall in that city 8-2.

Scoring for Alexandria Saturday were Frankie Morris with a hat trick, Brent MacDougall with two and singles from Carey Cameron, Kieran McCormick and Kennedy MacDonald.

Maxville scoring came from H. Coleman, D. McQuaig, R. McRae and A. Paquette.

Scoring in the Bantam Glens Thursday victory over Cornwall were Billy Allison and Frankie Morris with two each, and singles from Wayne McSweyn, Darrell Hay, Kennedy MacDonald and Kieran McCormick.

Cornwall scoring was by Paul Carriere and Steve Seguin.

Agricultural life in Scandinavia studied by Bainsville WI

Sunny skies shining on brilliant, snow-covered fields was the setting for the February meeting of the Bainsville Women's Institute held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Robertson. Recent storms coupled with the flu bug kept several members at home but there were 14 members and two visitors to answer the roll call—"Name a symbol on a Label."

Canadian Industries and Agriculture was the theme for this meeting and this roll call was an appropriate one, bringing about some discussion on caution symbols on aerosol cans, garment care labels, dating on fresh food packages, etc. One label in particular drew interest—Sue Robertson mentioned having written to the Dr. Chas. A. Janeway Child Health Centre in St. John's Nfld. and having received a sheet of stickers showing a policeman with hand raised in a 'stop' signal. These are intended as danger signals for children and are to be put on household items. An excellent safety idea and one she intends to put into force with her children's assistance.

The motto "Hard Work is the Yeast that Raises the Dough" was commented upon by Pat Ager in a little story depicting the hard times of the depression years on a little farm. It left us all a little more than thankful for the strides taken in past years by industry and agriculture.

The business portion of the meeting clipped along at a fairly good pace as we heard a brief report on the recent summary day "Salute to Vegetables" given by Charlene Cusimano; Pat Ager advised that she and Sylvia Sangster would be leading the 4-H Club 'Focus on Living' with eight to 10 girls. Mrs. Ager further reported that a committee meeting had been held and plans are underway for a booth at the Williamstown Fair for the sale of handicraft, pantry, garden and white elephant items.

The meeting was then turned over to Janet Robertson who gave a brief informative talk on her recent trip to the Scandinavian countries, Denmark, Sweden and Norway. All in their tour were impressed with the happy, good-looking, well-dressed and well-educated people they met everywhere. This would appear to be an almost classless society with, seemingly, no poverty and no extreme wealth. A heavily taxed population pays for all social services, a complete educational program—right through university. The tourist finds shopping a wee bit difficult, however, since prices are so high. She spoke of lovely, clean cities with vine-covered and flower-decked apartments; of rich agricultural land, harvesting crops of oats, wheat and barley. Her photographs, postcards and graphic notes gave each of us sense of having left Glengarry for a little while to gaze into the depths of deep blue waters, awe struck by the snow-covered mountains. A truly great two hours on a winter's day!

Knox UCW plan events

Mrs. D. A. Fraser presided at the February meeting of Knox UCW, Lancaster, held in the church hall.

The meeting opened with a reading 'One Drop'.

Mrs. Cecil Shennett led the devotions with a scripture reading and hymn and gave a reading entitled "He's helping somewhere," telling how God is always helping those in need.

Eight members answered the roll call with a Bible verse containing the word 'love'. The roll call for March will be answered with a short Easter poem.

The secretary was asked to send a letter of thanks for a generous donation to the organ fund. A get-well card was signed for a member in hospital.

Plans were made to hold a card party February 23.

Members were asked to keep the following dates in mind: April 22 spring supper, May 12 and 13 spring rummage sale; September 9 fall supper and October 20 and 21 fall rummage sale. Dates of other projects will be decided at the regular meetings. Mrs. Fraser was asked to purchase needed kitchen supplies.

The financial report was given by Mrs. Ann MacLeod. The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Fraser.

PRAYER SERVICE

The World Day of Prayer services will be held in St. Andrew's United Church, Bainsville, on Friday, March 3 at 2 p.m. All area residents are invited to attend.

DANCE CLASSES

Jazz dance and fitness classes will be conducted locally every Wednesday evening from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. For registration and further information, contact the instructor, Sandra Ruest, 347-2166.

Wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to John Derouchie a patient in Cornwall General Hospital.

Sympathy is extended to the family of the late Wing Commander Frank Aldridge.

The 1st Lancaster Scout group continue to be very active.

On February 4 Scouts and Venturers attended winter camp at Apple Hill.

All groups attended the Ice Capades at the Civic Complex on February 12.

Valentine parties were held for the Beavers on February 13 and the Cubs on February 14.

The nine entries submitted by the Beavers in the Hobby Show, February 18 all won ribbons.

On Saturday the Cubs and Venturers will be attending Polar Day at Apple Hill Campsite. On the same day the Beavers will attend Klondike day at Guindon Park in Cornwall.

The Cubs are preparing to enter the annual bowling contest at the Olympic Bowling Lanes, Cornwall, March 4.

All Beavers, Cubs, Scouts, Adventurers, Brownies and Girl Guides of the 1st Lancaster groups intending to take swimming lessons at the Municipal Pool beginning April first are requested to meet at the pool Sunday, March 12 at 4 p.m. for screening into the different classes. Proper bathing suits are a must and should be taken at this time.

Churches unite for day of prayer

Plans for the World Day of Prayer at Williamstown are now underway under the direction of Mrs. Helen Sloan representing St. Mary's Church and Mrs. Linda Kubelka representing St. Andrew's United.

The service will be held Friday evening, March 3 at 8:30 p.m. in St. Mary's Church.

The theme is Community Spirit in Modern Living and everyone is welcome to attend.

"Community Spirit in Modern Living" is the theme for the 1978 World Day of Prayer Service. Since this is the 60th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer in Canada, the service has been prepared by a group of Canadian women. People in 3,500 communities of Canada and in 170 countries around the world will be sharing in this inter-denominational service of prayer and fellowship. Men, women, and children of all faiths will be welcome.

QUEEN AND MINI QUEEN—Ecole Perpetuel Secours held the crowning of its winter carnival royalty Thursday. Chantal Valade, right, was chosen queen and Roxanne Lauzon was chosen mini-queen. Chantal is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Valade of Glen Robertson Road and Roxanne is the daughter of Mr. and S rs. Romeo Lauzon of Alexandria. (Staff photo-Sherratt)

Church report reveals all in good standing

The annual meeting of Knox United Church was held in the church hall with John McLaren presiding.

Mr. McLaren in his session report gave praise to the Sunday School children, who under the leadership of their teachers, have led the worship service on several occasions in the past year. It was noted with regret one of the blue spruce trees presented by the Boy Scouts in 1972 had been cut down by vandals.

Although since the retirement of Rev. and Mrs. Jack Skues, the church has been without the services of a regular pastor, the pulpit has had the services of Rev. James Hume from Lake Placid, N.Y. His inspiring stories to the children add much to the service of worship each week.

A report of the UCW was given by Mrs. D. A. Fraser. Although it is a small group great things are accomplished. Projects undertaken this past year include card parties, rummage sales, suppers, bake sales and an evening of fun, songs and skits.

During the year a sum of money was given to the church to assist with the purchase of a new organ, repairs to the church and replacement of windows broken by vandalism.

Fond farewells were made to three members who have left in the past year to live in other parts of the country.

Thanks were extended to all who have helped care for the needs of the church. The financial report was given by Mrs. John McLaren who noted all financial obligations had been met.

The choir report was given by Mrs. Norman Matheson and a report of the Sunday School was given by Mrs. Garry MacLeod who stated assistance was given at Sunday services when needed and at the UCW concert a booth was set up at the Williamstown Fair.

A bus had been hired in August to visit Park Safari in Hemmingford and although attendance was disappointing a good time was had by those who did attend.

PEOPLE on the MOVE

Cpl. Andre Duguay and wife Pierrette, daughter Arianne and son Micael who have been in Lahr, Germany for the past three and a half years are now back in Canada at St. Jean d'Iberville, Que. They visited at Green Valley with Pierrette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Priva Lortie and other area relatives.

Down Florida way, Angus H. and Bea McDonell hosted a party at their Vero Beach home recently for a "gathering of the clans". Their guests included from Alexandria: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McHugh, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald "Paddy" McDonald; from Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Pelley, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Derry; from Vankleek Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Willis; from Williamstown, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill; from Ingleside, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cuthbert; from Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Blinz.

Guy and Rejeanne Decoste returned from Florida recently. Accompanying them on the trip were Guy and Gaby Gerard, Chambly, Que. While there they met with Emile and Colette Viau, Gerard and Therese Theoret, Rene and Aline Menard. They also visited Steve and Marie O'Connor, Donat and Louise Lefebvre and Melvina Lefebvre.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McDonald, Dorion, Mrs. Bernard LaRose, Montreal; Mrs. Mary O'Halloran, St. Andrew, N.B., spent the weekend with Mrs. Vincent McDonald and Gavin while attending the wake and funeral of Miss Doris Belcher.

Mrs. Mary Campbell of Lansdowne and Mrs. Rollande Theoret spent the long weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Onesime Theoret of Coteau.

Bobby Fowler of Oshawa spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Archie O'Connor.

ROULEAU ROYALTY—Michele Menard of Alexandria, centre, was chosen Winter Carnival Queen of Ecole Rouleau Friday. A choice that was made from eight other girls. Dianne Trottier of Alexandria, right, received the honor of being chosen first princess and Claire Beaupre of Williamstown was chosen second princess.

Reflections in Guide week

Guides and Brownies in Alexandria are very fortunate; they enjoy the benefits of belonging to a concerned community.

The Royal Canadian Legion and Ecole du Perpetuel Secours provide the space for weekly meetings.

The Richelieu Club, Knights of Columbus and the Legion donate funds to assist in purchasing craft needs, record aids, badges, pins, gifts and trips.

Lanthier Bakery, Graham Creamery, CIP Foods and Metro Market provide them with buns, napkins, butter and hot chocolate for the annual 'Mother-Daughter' banquets; the Legion volunteers the kitchen facilities.

Church on the Hill, St. Finnan's and Sacre Coeur provide spiritual guidance in any denomination.

The citizens of Alexandria and vicinity give their support by buying our cookies and calendars.

The girls reciprocate by trying to grow into responsible adults by keeping the Law, the Promise and the Motto of the Guide Movement.

The old mill stream

Andre Menard is celebrating the second anniversary of his Jean Station by adding four new fitting rooms and a larger showroom . . . Ilma Legault is convalescing following a bout in hospital and expects to be back in the Alexandria Department Store by March 1 . . . Frank and Lilly Alteen have deserted their Town Deli for a couple of weeks to get a pre-summer tan in Fort Lauderdale. They will be concentrating on a new Italian menu for their restaurant on their return . . .

Eugene and Ann Bergeron are spending the week in Hallandale, Fla. Gene will be greeting you from behind the counter at Bergeron and Hope with a new tan but he did not comment whether it would be with or without the beard . . . Annette Desrosiers leaves this Saturday for a short vacation and convention in Toronto. She will be attending the Spring and Gift Show at the Coliseum for up-to-date ideas at the Desrosiers and Hope Jewellery Store . . . Stanley and Louise Braman are relaxing in Nassau this week. Son Doug is managing their Glen Norman Store Inc. while they are away from it all . . .

Laurent and Therese Major of North Lancaster claim you can visit Glengarrians all the way from here to Florida. They should know, they just returned from the sunny state where they called on many more in the various towns down there . . . The various ladies around the county are really concentrating on plans for their prayer day on March 3 . . . Jimmie Sauve is currently undergoing treatment in Hotel Dieu Cornwall. Took his fiddle with him to keep them both in tune . . .

The Knights of Columbus are warning folks to stoke up on their Geritol to be ready for the blood donor clinic coming up March 22 . . . Regional Government extending its icky fingers again as the local government housing units are now incorporated into Cornwall and Area . . . Alexandria Snowmobile Queen Helene Gravel and husband Gilbert have just returned, reluctantly, we understand, from Hawaii, the trip Helene earned by selling a landslide of tickets for the club . . .

Mrs. Dolphus Sauve was pleasantly surprised by her friends and neighbors on Derby Street last Saturday night when they gathered to celebrate her 84th birthday with a cake, gifts and congratulatory wishes. My birthday was on Sunday, explained the celebrant, but my friends knew I would not want to miss my Sunday night bingo, even for my own birthday party . . .

Bernie Castonguay or R.R. 5, Alexandria has just opened a small general store called "The Trading Post" on Highway 43. His long-time friend, Ronnie Prophet, suggested he move here where he might enjoy improved health and meet new friends. Bernie appreciates the help of his new friends in helping him get established . . .

Charlottenburgh Township has appointed Glengarry News Staffer Bob Roth as representative on the Raisin Region Conservation Authority. He replaces Buddy McNaughton in that position.

Daughters of Isabella receive invitations

The February meeting of the Daughters of Isabella was held at the KC Hall with a good attendance and Regent Annette Desrosiers in the chair.

Father Desrosiers, our chaplain, presided at mass for our members. He talked about the necessity of observing lent. He said that we should try to fast at least once a week, also to try and attend meetings regularly because a regent needs the strength and support of her members.

An invitation was received from Ottawa to attend the Confirming of Degrees at Notre Dame du Rosaire Circle that will be held shortly; also to Vankleek Hill for the centennial celebration of their church and also to participate in the St. Jean Baptiste Parade which is to be held June 25.

Door prize was won by Georgette Trottier.

Next meeting will be held March 15 at the KC Hall.

Alexandria girl named queen of Ecole Rouleau

Michele Menard of Alexandria was named Queen of Ecole Rouleau at the school's Winter Carnival activities Friday morning.

Seven other girls vied for the honor of being queen. Dianne Trottier was chosen first princess and Claire Beaupre was chosen second princess from the eight contestants.

Michele is the daughter of Jean Yves Menard of Alexandria and the late Jeannine Menard; Dianne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Trottier of Alexandria and Claire Beaupre is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Beaupre of Williamstown.

Other girls in the competition were:

Sylvie Lajoie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Lajoie of Green Valley; Ginette Ouimet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ouimet of Green Valley; Maria Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of North Lancaster; Lucie Dicaire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dicaire of Bainsville; Trudy Ladouceur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladouceur.

All candidates were judged on their performance in the following areas: Prepared speech, talent, spontaneous response to a question and poise.

The judges were Mrs. Kathleen Levert, attendance counsellor; Constable Gilles Ruest of the OPP; Monique Lalonde, religion consultant.

Former Carnival Queen '77, Francine Massie, was also on hand with her two princesses, Rachel Beauclair and Sylvie Ranger, to crown the newly elected queen.

Party held for former manager of Lakevue

On Wednesday afternoon, February 15, the Joint Tenants' Committee Association of Lakevue residence, 113 Lochiel St. West, Alexandria, held a Valentine and Farewell party.

George Laforge, manager of Ontario Housing Corporation of Prescott and Russell counties turns over his duties in this area to a new manager of Cornwall and Area Housing Authority. Regrets were expressed at his leaving as the unit apartments had been under his management for over two years. The presentation of a farewell gift was made to Mr. and Mrs. Laforge by the tenants.

The tenants, in return, were happy recipients of two beautiful silver trays from the guests. The trays will remain in our recreation room as a fond memory of our dedicated manager "George" who was also a good friend.

After the presentations a delicious buffet was served by the committee. Fun was had by all by playing cards and joining in a sing-song.

UCW presented life membership

(Mrs. Neil Blair)

The highlight of the Kirk Hill United Church Women's meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. K. MacPherson was the presentation of a Life Membership certificate in the United Church Women, United Church of Canada, to Mrs. W. J. MacGillivray. This was presented by Mrs. Campbell MacDonald on behalf of Mrs. Donald (Mae) MacLennan, a devoted and faithful member of Kirk Hill United Church for many years, now residing in Mountain, Ont.

Mrs. MacDonald in presenting this membership spoke of Mrs. MacGillivray's years of service in the Women's Missionary Society and United Church Women. Mrs. MacGillivray, though taken by surprise, spoke words of thanks for Mrs. MacLennan's thoughtfulness and thanked Mrs. MacDonald for her kind words.

The theme of the meeting was "Another Year is Dawning." Mrs. Alex D MacLeod, first vice-president presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Hugh MacPherson, who was in Ottawa where her husband was a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

The Worship Service was led by Mrs. Alex D. MacLeod and Mrs. John N. MacCrimmon. The meeting opened with a poem, "To leave the old with a Burst of Song." Mrs. MacLeod read "What makes a year new," and the Call of Christ. She opened with, "One way to acknowledge the New Year is to throw away the old calendar and put up a new one. But a new year is not made in a printing office."

There is no scarcity of new years but there is a scarcity of individuals who are moved with the deep necessity of themselves becoming better spiritually, so that life can become a new reality, but it only becomes new when we adjust ourselves to this God-given period of time for the improvement of our spiritual ideals. She closed with a poem by Bruce Catton.

Scripture lesson was from Ephesians 5. Mrs. MacLeod received the offering, dedication was by Mrs. MacCrimmon, who also led in prayer. Mrs. MacLeod closed the worship period with a prayer for redemption and daily renewal.

The Bible study from John 18 and 19, as laid out in the Conversations of Jesus drew forth many comments and serious thought. The roll call was answered by a Bible verse containing the word day. The allocation was discussed, as was the Day of Prayer to be held in St. Columba Church, Kirk Hill. Mrs. Keith MacMillan, knitting convener reported. Mrs. Campbell MacDonald was named Outreach Convener. Many cards of thanks were read re gifts and cookies recieved, including one from Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Hylton for their Christmas gift, as well as a message from the president Mrs. Hugh MacPherson containing best wishes for 1978. Subscriptions for Mandate were ordered.

Members were pleased to hear that an In-Memoriam Fund has been established. Mrs. MacCrimmon thanked Mrs. MacPherson for the use of her home. Mrs. MacPherson was pianist for the meeting. A delicious lunch was served.

To address ladies on prayer day

This Committee met at The Presbyterian Manse in Dalkeith Feb. 13 under the Convenership of Mrs. John Forbes. Present were Mrs. Alex MacLeod, Kirk Hill United Church; Mrs. Arnold MacRae, Glen Sandfield United Church; Mrs. Phyllis Noble, East Hawkesbury United Church; Mrs. Henrietta O'Neill and Mrs. Edwin McDonald, St. Alexander's Roman Catholic Church, Lochiel, and Mrs. Myrna Van Nooten, Glen Robertson Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Michael Gibbs, St. Paul's R.C. Church, Dalkeith and Mrs. Claire Rickerd, Glen Robertson, sent regrets for their absence but hoped to participate in the Day of Prayer Service.

Mrs. Forbes opened the meeting and the committee allocated the various sections to the several church groups who will take part in the service.

This year the World Day of Prayer service will be held in St. Columba Presbyterian Church, (East Church), Kirk Hill, on Friday, March 3 at 1:30 p.m.

A combined choir, under the direction of Mrs. R. D. MacLeod, will lead the praise on March 3 at St. Columba. The guest speaker will be Miss Kay MacCrimmon, teacher, of Montreal and McCrimmon.

On Monday of last week Robert Campbell, Murray Campbell and Mrs. Archie MacGillivray visited with Mr. and Mrs. Alex F. MacLeod, Willowdale.

Wallace MacMillan, Asquith, Sask., is visiting with his aunt, Mrs. Neil J. MacLeod and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Campbell, James, Cean and Robert, Peterborough, accompanied by Mrs. Mack D. Campbell, Welland, visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. MacLeod, Bonnie Brier on Saturday. Mrs. Campbell remained with the MacLeods for this week.

Wednesday evening the Recreation Association had a family skating party and bean supper which was enjoyed by old and young.

Another successful euchre was held on Thursday evening when cards were played at 16 tables. Winners were: Ladies, Mrs. Alex M. MacCuaig and Mrs. Charles MacCann; gents, Garfield Hall and F. Williams. Door prize, Arthur Franklin. Refreshments and social hour followed under convenership of Mrs. J. A. MacIntosh and Mrs. Donald MacSweyn.

Next euchre March 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex D. MacLeod, Kirk Hill, visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. MacCuaig.

Mrs. Esther McLean dies

The congregation of St. Columba Presbyterian Church and the community learned with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Wm. (Esther) MacLean, widow of the late Rev. Dr. Wm. MacLean, at one time the beloved minister at Kirk Hill.

Mrs. MacLean, always a fragile but active person, had been in a nursing home for some years and had been moved to St. Vincent's Hospital, Ottawa, some months ago when she fell and broke her hip. She died on Feb. 2 in Ottawa. The funeral was held Feb. 4.

At the worship service on Feb. 5 in St. Columba, Rev. John Forbes expressed the regret of the congregation at Mrs. MacLean's passing and spoke of the high regard in which Dr. and Mrs. MacLean were held among the people and community. He had sent a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Jean Oldfield, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. MacLean.

Home economist displays crafts at meet

Mrs. A. MacLeod, president, welcomed 18 members and three visitors at Lochiel Township Hall on February 9.

The roll call, "A useful craft taught by pioneers" made one think of the good old days.

The motto, "Work was just a lark, those days" was commented on by Mrs. A. MacRae.

A display of winter crafts showed some members make good use of their hands during these months.

Miss Michels, Home Economist, showed her fascinating crafts and gave an interesting talk about the origin of each. She was introduced by Mrs. K. MacMillan and thanked by Mrs. V. Crowley.

The beautiful cross-stitch top for the quilt for the August draw was on this display. Mrs. Crowley gave a most interesting talk on quilt making and displayed some lovely quilts.

Mrs. M. MacRae is to be the delegate to the officers' conference at Waterloo in May. Refreshments were served by Mrs. N. Blair and Mrs. D. Fraser.

The next meeting will be held in the Church on the Hill, March 16, which will be the St. Patrick's Tea.

The Glengarry connection

The best seller and film series, "Roots" brought to many an awareness of their ancestral lineage. The importance of family and its ties has long been emphasized by the former editor of this newspaper, Eugene Macdonald, and it is a tradition we intend to continue. This column will be devoted to Glengarrians and their kin now living beyond the county, involved in routines and news events which we feel will be of interest to our Glengarry family.

Calm controller guides pilot

Our story this week features Garry MacDonald, a nephew of Mrs. Margaret Shago of Alexandria and Mrs. Mary Smith of Greenfield. His father was the late Sam McDonald of the Fourth of Kenyon and his mother, Mrs. Bertha (Gatiens) MacDonald lives in Hamilton.

Garry was the air controller involved in the January 4 incident in Hamilton where the pilot died of a heart attack at the controls of an airplane and it was Garry's job to instruct the passenger into bringing the plane down.

Two Hamilton businessmen, Don Pratt and Paul Smith had chartered the single engine aircraft to fly them from Hamilton to Elliott Lake. About 20 minutes after the plane took off, the pilot, Peter Kerwan slumped over the controls panel. Pratt had had six hours flying experience 31 years ago but with the calm instructions of Air Controller MacDonald was able to guide the aircraft to a safe landing.

The 90-minute suspense drama covering the plight of the passengers in the air and their eventual safe landing following the radio instructions was widely featured in newspapers in the Hamilton and Toronto area.

From The Carleton Saga

Year of the deep snow

It started to snow heavily on Feb. 11, 1869—the day that Patrick Whelan was executed for the murder of the Hon. Thomas D'Arcy McGee. And it scarcely stopped snowing until long after St. Patrick's Day.

When it did, there was a deep covering, packed like an Arctic waste, over the Ottawa Valley. Roads were obliterated. Farms and communities were isolated, and cattle died lowing in the stalls.

This disaster went into many Canadian records as "The Year of the Deep Snow." In the history of the Ottawa Valley nothing has been recorded since to equal that long period of blizzard, cold, isolation, and suffering.

WEEKS OF ISOLATION

The thousands who watched Whelan die at 11 that morning started back for their homesteads on the Concession lines. But many of them did not make it and were forced to seek shelter for weeks with friends or relatives in Ottawa and Bell's Corners, Richmond and South March. Before noon a blizzard began to lash city and country as if intent on driving people indoors and keeping them there in punishment for their depraved curiosity in watching Whelan die at the last public hanging in Ottawa at the Nicholas Street jail.

At first it was only regarded as a bad storm but it continued daily with the winds piling the snow in immense drifts that obliterated all landmarks. It stopped the flow of supplies by the Bytown and Prescott Railway, and by the sleigh trains on the roads until normal routines of life were slowed down or stopped. Travellers found themselves marooned in snowbound villages, and food and fuel became perilously scarce.

The most authentic record of the "big snow" of 1869 as it affected Carleton County and Ottawa City is to be found in the diary of William Upton, whose farm was absorbed into the Uplands Airport and the Royal Hunt and Golf Club. Some years ago this writer had access to the Upton diary through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collins.

Upton's first entry about the long white siege of snow is on Feb. 11, 1869, the morning of Whelan's execution. Upton's chores that day included the cutting of meat and re-stocking the larder. Returning from this operation he noted that the thermometer registered two below zero and that a blizzard was blowing.

As the snow piled into drifts and packed, Upton commented on the obliteration of all landmarks. It became hazardous to venture further than along a white tunnel to the barn. Farm buildings huddled like grotesque mushrooms under a white mantle.

To accentuate the accumulating hardship, hay, straw and fuel became perilously scarce. There were no power plows to keep the roads open and no telephones to summon help. In that period of horse transport there developed a grave problem of supply in both urban and rural life.

20-FOOT DRIFTS

Upton next records that the government "ordered out the garrison troops at Ottawa to dig out trains of the Ottawa and Prescott Railway in the cuts where drifts were over 20 feet deep."

Hay and straw were running short and neighbors were using snowshoes to transport food in their sharing with each other. Towards the end of the long siege they were even cutting up fences for fuel.

A typical entry read:

"Friday, Feb. 26. Went with Ellen to water the cows in Wood's bush. On the way back all but one lay down as the path was so narrow and the snow so deep that the cows could not keep their balance on the elevated ridge. We got them all home except one which having fallen several times, when about half way home could get no farther so had to be left in a deep hole sheltered by the snow all round. We protected her with boards and a horse blanket and gave her hay for the night and water to drink. Went to E. Reynolds for a little hay for the horses. It snowed heavily all day."

The entries in the diary for March, 1869, indicate a determined group effort to break the clutch of the snow-bound days. On Sunday, March 14, a number of people actually got to Halpenny's school house, in the afternoon where Mr. Adams led in the first church service held in weeks.

But Upton records that "during the service a storm commenced from the west which, until sunset, was like a hurricane." While there was a thaw in the last week of March, the first of April saw a return of extremely cold weather. Upton, who meticulously recorded the temperatures each day, indicates the following readings:

April 2—18 above zero; April 3—8 above zero; April 6—zero with snow; April 9—zero; April 13—zero.

Even when travel did resume in a trickle of sleighs on the roads, it was fraught with peril to man and beast. Great "cow-holes" had formed in the highways and in the fields across which sleighs crawled. When a team and sleigh bogged into one of these they just disappeared and foundered like a schooner in the trough of a gale-lashed sea.

The rains finally came on April 19, and with the deluge the Rideau River went on a rampage that flooded the countryside. The river road was four feet under water. But all things come to an end. The spring sun warmed the fields, and the land emerged free, and the grass was green again with the forgiveness of Nature.

THE SUMMERLESS YEAR

"In that summerless year, that awful year of 1816, almost all the grain was frozen in the ground and what little was saved was harvested by men wearing overcoats as a protection against the cold." Thus records W. L. Smith in his "Pioneers of Old Ontario". The same writer tells of the suffering of the settlers in the following excerpts:

"Snow commenced falling in June, and the whole country was continuously covered by a wintry blanket. Practically nothing was gathered in the way of a crop. Everything rotted in the ground. There was no flour, there were no vegetables; people lived for twelve months on fish and meat—venison, porcupine, and ground-hog being varied with the thin meat of cattle, slaughtered because there was no vegetation to sustain them.

"Flour was seventy dollars per barrel at Quebec, potatoes were a penny a pound, and the country was full of stories of the horrors endured during the winter of a year's duration."

It was during that year that Ira Honeywell, the first settler of Nepean, made his epic journey to Prescott for flour which he shared with his nearest neighbors, Abram Dow and "Brad" Billings.

After that winter of horror, in the next year the land yielded a prolific harvest. This, aided by a considerable migration from Nova Scotia, which had escaped the weather scourge, restored new life to the settlers of Upper Canada.

The Nova Scotians brought sufficient potato seed not only for themselves but for their new neighbors who were destitute. "These potatoes had a blue point," so the Smith record goes, "and our Ontario people gave them the name of 'blue-noses'. From the potatoes the name passed to Nova Scotians themselves."

If that is the origin of the appellation "Blue Nose" then the people of Nova Scotia should be proud of it since it recalls a time when help from that part of Canada "saved sorely stricken Ontario."

Trudeau responds

Canadians will just have to adjust to being poorer than they used to be, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has told Charlottenburgh Township Reeve Adrian Gadbois.

Trudeau was replying to a motion from Charlottenburgh suggesting that federal funds could be better spent than they are now.

"In terms not of certain individuals and families but of our nation as a whole, we are spending more than we can afford," Trudeau writes.

He says "Canadians must adjust to the fact that, in relation to other countries, they are now a little poorer. To try to mask this reality by demanding higher incomes, prices and profits can only aggravate an already distressing problem.

"The only real solution is to strengthen the competitiveness of our economy by improving our productivity and by getting inflation under control. To this end, Canadians in general need to continue to work hard and to practise restraint."

Gadbois had suggested that the unemployment insurance plan be scrapped in favor of more government works project.

Trudeau said the government is committed to spending "well over $1 billion" in the next two years for job creation, "but the majority of jobs must, under our economic system, continue to come from the private sector as a result of private investment."

Many come to Dalkeith snow rally

Participation was no problem Feb. 12 when a snowmobile rally and slalom were held in Dalkeith with 79 drivers taking part in the day-long activities.

The top five winners of the rally were Marcel Laberge of St. Marthe, Danielle Lasalle of Dalkeith, Rene Lasalle of Dalkeith, Robert Seguin of Ste. Marthe and Marcel Charlebois of Ste. Justine.

Winners of the slalom were Pierre Wolfe of Hawkesbury and Laurier Brunet of Dalkeith.

The 32 trophies will be handed out at a dance in Dalkeith Saturday night.

Sportsmen get nicknames

by Angus H. McDonell

In a recent News issue that knowledgeable scribe, the miller of the Martintown Rumor Mill, Art Buckland, tossed a sport query our way in the interesting grist.

While writing, in part, about the ancient game of road shinny (hockey to you minors), author Arthur wondered if by chance a vital part of the game may have contributed to the nickname "Bun," a lifetime tagged by that NHL great, "Bun" Cook.

A sound question. Many, many athletes and sportsmen bear nicknames through life. Mostly all were given by schoolyard and playground chums. If not, then later as budding stars and pros, sport writers chopped the given names to fit both descriptive prose and column space. All to the glee of copy editors.

Musing over this matter of nicknames that are really trademarks of great players and contestants in every facet of sport we found it interesting to note the number of athletes and sportsmen in the Glens who have nicknames, or given names in short, identical to the legendary greats who are and were household names down through the years.

We trust that our findings and comparisons may result in some reader interest. As our Glen Falloch-Martintown teacher of history at St. Lawrence college motivated this effort, we will head the list with Arthur cut in half to "Art."

Most likely Arthur became "Art" as a result of Sheik's Island recreation with playmates like George (Blue Room Joe) MacDonald. That is before their families moved, like Noah and the Ark, ahead of the Seaway flood. And what more prestigious counterpart name in NHL history than "Art" Ross. One of the great pioneer defencemen in the era of seven-man hockey and finally with Boston Bruins. The inventor of the present hockey nets with the semi-curved, bevelled bars top and ice level that eliminated goal disputes because, now, bullet like puck shots rarely if ever bounce out.

Now let us move on to what started all this. Art's query about the bun in "Bun" Cook. We haven't a clue as to the origin of "Bun." But we do know Bunny was christened Fred Cook. And here in Alexandria we also had a "Bun." A great lacrosse player with the 1913 Ottawa Valley champions, Johnny "Bun" (Danny Kenneth) MacDonald. He was simply known as "Johnny Bun." As a result of wounds in World War One his left arm was amputated. He returned to refereee lacrosse and hockey for many years. By using a soft bristle hair brush to hold a pool cue he was quite a competitive player and commanded respect from billiard experts like George Duval and Ubald Rouleau. And then there was Ourtown's popular counterpart of still another Bun, Bunny (Renfrew-Rough Rider) Wadsworth. Remember "Bunny" (Dan McEachen) MacDonald a popular entertainer wherever sportsmen gathered.

Many a mother has escorted her pride and joy, young Joseph, to school for his first day. Invariably Joseph returns home plain "Joe." Hence in the annals of sport writing the use of Joseph is as rare as a giraffe in Alaska. There was baseball's famed "Shoeless Joe" Jackson. Rough Rider great punter "Joe" Tubman. NHL renowned centres, Quebec's "Joe" Malone and Leafs' Kid Line pivot, "Gentleman Joe" Primeau, to recall a few. In the Glens we have notable Joes, too. There was Munroe's Mill's "Joe" Corbett of track and field international medal level. Alexandria's World War One Veteran "Joe" Grant who made his mark in Northern Ontario ligh-heavyweight boxing. He was tagged, possibly by a North Bay writer, Joe "Kid" Grant. Ourtown's "Joe" Marcoux was a creditable hockey and lacrosse player. He was followed by a younger Joe. "Ti-Joe" (Petit) Lalonde who played out his career with Montreal Tramways of the Industrial League. And there was still another. Vankleek Hill-Alexandria "Joe" Matte. Joe became a star defenceman with Saskatoon prior to joining the NHL. Old Friend Vern DeGeer told us that as a young reporter in one of Joe Matte's first games, he (DeGeer) compared Joe's running break from a defense post to a pigeon on take-off. "Pigeon-Toe-Joe." Next day Coach "Newsy" Lalonde and Captain "Bill" Cook gave Vern a severe lecture about such disrespect for an Ottawa Valley home-brew. Henceforth the pride of "The Hill' was plain "Joe" Matte.

Sport scribes slice Robert in half to "Bob." As evidenced by CFL-Rider great pass receiver "Bob" Simpson. And we have hockey-golfer "Bob" Ramsbottom, goalie "Bob" Leroux and that thorough sportsman the late "Bob" Graham. Like Robert, Donald is halved, to "Don." As in NHLer "Don" Grosso and CBC's "Don" Chevrier. In the Glens there is "Don" (Sr. and Jr.) Gamble, college and minor-pro hockey "Don" Morris and another thorough sportsman, Dalkeith's "Don" MacLennan. Still another half. "Nick" for Nicholas. A one-time top Canadian athletic coach, "Nick" Baulf, we seem to recall had a Glengarry tie. A tie for certain is Renfrew-Maxville-Cornwall "Nick" (Sr. and Jr.) Haramis. And one more. "Ron" for Ronald. Football Hall of Fame "Ron" Stewart and "Ron" Lancaster, a future "shoo-in." We have caber champ "Ron" MacDonell and ardent golfer "Ronnie" Sandfield Macdonald.

The late Michael J. Rodden was a gifted sports writer and member of both Halls of Fame, hockey and football. He was always "Mike" Rodden. Our younger generation has Glens-Cornwall "Mike" Boisvenue, "Mike" Haramis, Maxville-Loyola-Laval Jr. hockey, and Ourtown's sports director, "Mike" Depratto.

We will conclude with a few Glengarry nickname oddities. In sport that is. From Maxville "Yip" Coleman, a Brockville-Kirkland Lake hockey star. Ditto Willie "Kootey" Carther, Maxville-Russell-Kirkland Lake. And John "Moose" Wensink, Cornwall Royals-Boston Bruins. "Moodey" Beckstead and "Deck" Creswell, Martintown. Williamstown's "Tab" Larocque and Lancaster's "Buster" McGillis all hockey greats in their own way.

Finally among the most unique sports tags was carried by one of the NHL all-time great wingers, with Glengarry next-of-kin, Sudbury's "Shorty" Green. Wilfred Green was by no means short in stature. A carbon copy in height and weight is "Shorty's" second cousin, Highland Games Caber Champ Lloyd Kennedy.

"Red" and "Shorty" Green's mother was nee Anne "Duncan Angus" MacDonald. Homestead at Lake Shore, east end Loch Garry Lake.

About the only time a sport reporter writes Anthony in full is with the prefix Saint. Then he, or she, obviously is seeking spiritual help in search of lost copy or possibly car keys. (Anna M. note, double the ante for film). Otherwise, again to the dismay of mothers, the name is "Tony." As headliners, past and present we have Rough Riders' Tony-"Golden Boy" Golab. "Tony", NHL-Hawks, Esposito. And Riders again, "Tony" Gabriel. Our Glens' counterparts "Tony" McMenamin and St. Raphael's gift to the hockey realm of Prescott-Brockville, "Tony" (Mervyn MacDonald.

There are occasional exceptions in the use of shortened athlete names. For instance it is not unusual to note Frank "King" Clancy. But George Herman Ruth was always clipped to "Babe" Ruth. Two NHL immortals had no labels. Frank Neighbor and Frank Boucher were just plain Frank. They were the exception.

Oddly nicknames resulting from physical stature are more numerous, pro rata, in the Glens than elsewhere. To more than balance out Canada's all-time all-great athlete, Lionel "Big Train" Connacher, we have world champion hammer thrower "Big" Rory MacLennan, champion caber toss, "Big" Alex McIsaac MacDonald and in later years with the caber, lacrosse stick and tug-of-war "Big" Jim Weir. In contrast is Greenfield's hockey, lacrosse, hunter and trapper "Little Alex" MacDonald. Oddly not so long ago he likely outweighed either "Big" Rory, "Big" Alex or "Big" Jim. Honestly bearing the "Little" tag is Glengarry veteran soccer star "Little Willie" MacLeod, Dunvegan-Skye, plus Alexandria's one-time fine hockey and lacrosse luminary—the late Alex "Little Archie" MacMillan.

Another Glen's nickname oddity, not found elsewhere, is the frequent ommission of the family name in general conversation. For instance, Alexandria's stalwart in hockey and lacrosse, George MacDonald, was known throughout his life as "Zic McIsaac." Greenfield's soccer half back, Sutherland MacDonald, was always "Suddie Scott." Apple Hill's Stephen and Dan MacDonald, brothers and robust athletes, rarely heard MacDonald. They were "Steve and Dan, Sam the widow."

More on counterpart tags. The immortal "Howie" Morenz, NHL and color guy "Howie" Meeker and Glens' pioneer peewee coach, "Howie" Morris. "Stan" Mikita and another great "Stan"—Fraser. (Trust by now you are fully recovered, Stan). "Toe" Blake and our one-time neighbor "Moe the Toe" Racine (Cornwall-Rough Riders). Also a great golfer, "Sandy" Sommerville pairing our budding athlete "Sandy" Maclaren.

A couple of Ovilas. Ovila Lalonde, in his youth, pronounced carrots, "Kowatt." Hence "Kowatt" Lalonde in Alexandria-Cornwall hockey. And where did another Alexandria-Cornwall hockey star, Ovila Taillefer, get the tag "Plouffe"? When you find that clue, tell us how Morlin Campbell picked up "Wimpy." Of course we know how "Donald Bahn" is known more as Bahn than MacMaster.

There is another couple of NHL immortals with weather tags. Fred "Cyclone" Taylor and Maurice "Rocket" Richard but Gaels had their "Sunshine" MacKinnon. There is "Sam the Rifle" Etchevery, "Bullet" Joe Simpson and what more authentic counterpart than our Glengarry Golf club's "Slapshot" John M. Kennedy. In the color line we have NHL "Red" Green and "Red" Storey vs Ourtown's "Red" McHugh. Baseball's great pitcher "Whitey" Ford, but we have a proud dad of his young hockey players, "Blackie" Lajoie.

Rheal Henrie dies in Florida in 61st year

A resident of Green Valley, Rheal Henrie died unexpectedly at Imperial Point Hospital in Fort Lauderdale, Florida on Saturday, February 4. He had been in failing health for the past couple of years.

Born in Cornwall, 60 years ago, he was the son of the late Alfred Henrie and his wife, Francine Seguin.

He had enlisted with the Mount Royal Fusiliers and had served as a sergeant overseas in World War II. He had worked in Cornwall and later in the Green Valley area and had always been active in community activities. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Royal Canadian Legion Branch 423, Alexandria; and the Financial Committee of St. Mary's Parish, Green Valley.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, the former Cecile Menard, sons Robert and Donald all of Green Valley and one daughter, Norma, Mrs. Edmour Lapierre of Lancaster.

He is also survived by two brothers and three sisters: Jean Paul, Cornwall; Guy, Greenfield Park, Que.; Lucille, Mrs. Adrien Seguin, Mrs. Carmelle Lefebvre and Mrs. Bernard Gatien all of Cornwall.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, February 9 at St. Mary's Church, Green Valley, where mass was concelebrated by Fathers Gerald Poirier, Gilles Deslauriers, Rejean Lebrun and Garry Ostler.

Pallbearers were six Past Grand Knights, Jean Lajoie, Gerald Trottier, Eldege Vaillancourt, Bruno Massie, Mike Gibbs and Gabe Aubry. Flagbearer was Leo Paquette.

Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Priests and political action

The familiar name of Ottawa's Archbishop Joseph-Aurele Plourde is in the news again. Many area Catholics will remember the archbishop from the days he spent as bishop of our area.

Plourde has generated quite a debate over his recent announcement that priests should not get involved in the upcoming federal election.

He has asked "the priests of this diocese, before election fever strikes the country, to abstain from any form of personal involvement in the election races". He argues that such political action might alienate certain members of the congregation.

The involvement of priests in election campaigns is not an unfamiliar occurrence in these parts. We have watched priests run for local as well as provincial offices. Father Rudy Villeneuve is a prime example. He has served faithfully on the public school board for many years and unsuccessfully contested a provincial election not so long ago as a Conservative candidate. We doubt very much that these political activities have harmed his reputation as a man genuinely concerned about the welfare of his parishioners.

In fact, it could be argued that political involvement for Villeneuve was simply a manifestation of his wanting to put the theory of helping people into practice. It just so happens that much of the hardship and suffering people endure can be eliminated or at least alleviated through political action.

Another politically active priest, Ottawa Alderman Rolf Hasenack, put it this way: "Philosophy is fine, but sooner or later you must get practical and that involves politics. Is the church's role philosophy only? I disagree."

Hasenack's point was that it is very difficult to involve yourself in the lives of your parishioners and at the same time ignore politics—it touches their lives too deeply.

Ironically, Plourde, despite his pronouncement, is one of the most active "politicians" in the area. His campaign for the establishment of a separate French-speaking school board is one of the most volatile political issues in the entire province. He, too, risks alienating some of his congregation by taking this political stance, but obviously feels the matter is important enough to warrant his involvement.

His "cause celebre" may not involve party politics, but it's politics just the same and the pitfalls he so solemnly warns his priests to avoid are no less distant from his own feet. With each comment and every letter to the editor, he risks tumbling into a controversy that could split his archdiocese as much, if not more, than any involvement in a federal election campaign.

Federal issues a no-no

Charlottenburgh Reeve Adrian Gadbois is undoubtedly one of the most outspoken municipal leaders in the Three United Counties. On several occasions he has been criticized for straying beyond the bounds of his jurisdiction.

At the recent meeting of the Rural Ontario Municipal Association, a narrow vote defeated a bid by Charlottenburgh to have the organization go on record as supporting a national referendum on capital punishment.

The motion was defeated chiefly on the argument that local politicians should not stick their noses into the business of other levels of government.

Gadbois comments frequently on provincial and federal matters using the argument that his constituents are affected by those powers. From a practical point of view, however, there is very little municipal councils can do to influence federal politics.

Under the British North America Act, the only levels of government that have constitutional powers are the federal and provincial levels. Municipal governments are creatures of the province. The legislature could legally abolish every municipal council in the province overnight, if it so desired.

Because local councils have no right to exist under the constitution, Ottawa is only interested in dealing with the provincial governments. We can appreciate Gadbois' argument about his constituents also being federal citizens, but we would suggest that concerns over federal matters should be channeled through the MP.

In the case of Queen's Park, there is room for municipal input because of the direct ties between those two levels. Just the same, it is important to recognize that municipal councils are elected primarily to deal with local matters. Too much time spent debating the virtues and vices of other levels of governments is not really all that productive.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

On the trail of the 65th

Waterloo, Que.
February 15, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

It is hoped that a detective story without murder, fraud or other crime may be sufficiently novel as to win space in your paper.

There is such a story of a Canadian Army unit that served throughout Europe WW2. This unit, the 65 Tank Transport Coy. RCASC was disbanded in Holland in 1945. Ex-members departed for Civvy Street in every part of Canada and contact between individuals was lost.

Twenty-eight years later, two former members met in Flin Flon, Man. and speculated on what had happened to their wartime friends. It was decided to try for some answers. It should be noted that a 28-year-old trail is a cold trail and difficult to follow. The first answer was a shock, a man remembered as a happy joking youth and unit favorite was found dying in an Edmonton hospital. A notice in the Legion Magazine produced eight replies, all from the area between Sydney, N.S. and Powell River, B.C. (a truly generous hunting preserve). The search became a chain reaction as the members when found, joined in the endeavor. After some progress had been made, the undertaking was organized by province with exchange of information. Leads were dredged up from memory, unit daily orders (source Ottawa Records), from old address books, phone books, old photos, etc.

Four and a half years of detective work has located 210 living ex-members and about 35 deceased out of a possible 700. The search continues.

Will anyone reading this, please check with your WW2 army acquaintances, if a 65th man be found, please advise him of a company reunion to be held at North Bay, Ontario, July 7-8-9, 1978. For reunion details and other important information, he should contact Maurice Rainsforth, P.O. Box 1071, Stirling, Ontario, 613-395-3052 (or the writer).

Please accept the thanks of the men of the 65th for this valuable space in your paper.

Sincerely,
L. L. Purdy,
Box 145, Waterloo, P.Q.

Whence comes inspiration? Sometimes from an association of ideas. Take for instance the manufacturer who concentrated on the two types of animals women do not like to run into, especially at night—the rapist and the skunk. So some thinker concocts a skunk-smelling concoction, bottles it for sale, the theory being that someone can carry it and spray the repellant if attacked by the human animal. Now, if one wanted to be really "safe than sorry", one could spray it on oneself before going for that stroll, couldn't one?

* * * * * *

Have you heard about Soupy? He is a poor bald duck down in Tampa, Florida, who was born minus his feathers. Someone out in Vancouver heard about his plight and crocheted him a blue and white jacket with a turtle neck sweater and cap to match and sent it to Soupy's owner. It was a nice gesture I thought. I do regret that the newspaper which carried the story did not send the address of the donor. After all, there are a lot of days I feel like a duck without feathers, and I really like turtleneck sweaters. Since my kids inform me what they would like to do with the hats I wear, someone else's choice for me might be an improvement.

That way, maybe Daughter Number Three might consent to sit with me at the hockey games. As it is, she prefers to keep her distance in case anyone might associate her with a mother who wears what she terms "such monstrosities".

Son Number Six feels the association is even more intolerable than that. He thinks I should be reported to a society for cruelty to children. Number Five Son is a bit more tolerant of his mother's quirk, having inherited a like penchant.

My suggestion that my tender offspring could save their money to buy me a really special hat didn't help much. They suggested a paper bag, pulled well down to the neck.

Never occurred to them that it should be a chauffeur's hat. Like most of us poor mothers could wear, with justification.

* * * * * *

Maintaining a link with one's forefathers has become fashionable, and the traditions are manifested in more ways than one.

Our faithful sports columnist, Angus H. McDonell, in a note from his Florida habitat speaks with pride of his new "great-grand-nephew" up St. Catharine's way. This is the son of Sheldon who is the son of Angus's sister Anna and the late Duncan MacDonell. Sheldon and wife Sally have reached back into the late 1700s to borrow the name of their baby's great-great-grand-uncle David Cameron. They have reversed the sequence to Cameron David but the tie remains. And someday just for sentimental reasons, we suspect the wee laddie's parents will be taking him down to walk the fields of "Glen Falloch" near Martintown where once trod the footsteps of his namesake.

* * * * * *

Thanks to the readers who phoned to tell me the "Year of the Deep Snow" was 1869 or thereabouts. Most were going by someone's year of birth—a father's or grandfather's. But J. Daniel Macdonald brought me in "The Carleton Saga" which he had on loan from Denny Van Loon. It has a chapter describing the year which we will carry in the News when we have space.

Perspective

by Bob Roth

The new "radicals"

I can remember attending a rally at York University about 10 years ago at which a group of so-called "radicals" were denouncing North America's exploitation of underdeveloped nations. (We used to call them "underdeveloped" nations, but now we refer to them as "developing" nations because it's much easier on the conscience).

In those days, to question our privileged position in the world and suggest that we were making a killing at the expense of underdeveloped countries, was not a popular position to take. In fact, you ran the very great risk of being labelled a communist. (Kinder souls would merely denounce you as a dupe of the communists.)

This week a newsletter arrived in the office mail which brought back memories of those bygone university days. From cover to cover, the eight-page tabloid, delivered as devastating an indictment of exploitation and corporate power as I had ever heard echo from the lecture halls of yore.

Who would be so bold, I asked myself? After a brief search I discovered that not one, but five organizations, were responsible for the document—the Anglican, Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian and United Churches of Canada.

The newsletter was part of a campaign entitled, "Ten Days for World Development", which the combined church group was undertaking to draw attention to world poverty and, more significantly, to the reasons for that poverty.

Much of the crusade is based on research done by Susan George and documented in her book, "How the Other Half Dies: The Real Reasons for World Hunger," published by Penguin Books.

In her book, George outlines how multinational corporations engaged in the food business, "agribusiness", are a major cause of world poverty. In a nutshell, she argues that the large companies which control most of the land holdings in poorer countries, orient food production for export trade instead of providing food for domestic need.

Foreign aid programs, more often than not, are also geared in such a way as to ensure more benefits for the aiding nation than for the country supposedly being helped.

The newsletter also backs up its claims by noting the work of British journalist Patrick Marnham. In "Nomads of the Sahel", for example, Marnham documents how starvation in that area of Africa in 1973 and 1974 was the result of development programs created by the Sahel governments in conjunction with foreign aid agencies and agribusiness.

Under a "roll back the desert" scheme, massive stretches of land were brought under intensive cultivation. The nomads, consequently, starved because they were pushed off their grazing lands by cash crops.

George, supporting Marnham's position, notes that as late as 1967, the Sahelian country of Mali was producing 80,000 tons of food crops. Today, the nation produces only 15,000 tons as vast areas of land are now used to grow cotton and nuts for export.

In their campaign, the churches are making no bones about what they feel is the major cause of poverty in the Third World—corporate power and concentrated ownership of land.

How times change. Ten years ago, espousing such a proposition publicly would have bought you your own RCMP file. Today, even the churches are calling for a new economic order. The newsletter proclaims:

"Being Christian also means not being afraid of being radical in the true sense of probing to the root and heart of things. After all, the Christian faith taken seriously would turn us all inside out and the world upside down. Marxism or any new leftism is tame in comparison."

Wants world peace

Box 94, Stanstead, Que.
February 14, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

More than 2,000 years ago Aristotle said that the size of a community is the range of a man's voice. The local community, village or block, illustrated by this idea is still a very important one in creating feelings of belonging and as a core for our cultural identity. But with space satellite TV and global telecommunications we now have, even by Aristotle's definition, a global community.

The human family, an ancient religious concept, is now politically and technologically possible. However the nation-state framework of previous centuries still constricts and restrains us from finding global solutions to problems of security and the terrible gap between outrageous poverty and sufficiency. Translate the figure of 15% who suffer hunger in the world to one's local community to appreciate the extent of deprivation. Defending the nation-state had led to world military expenditures of $1 billion per day—and no guarantee of security. With world inflation and the rise of economic nationalism it can be argued that we are actually in a pre-war posture and with the historical lesson of previous arms races we have the possibility of the final nuclear holocaust—the war that will indeed end all wars . . . and everything else.

We need, as Pope John called it in "Pacem in Terris," a world-wide public authority for issues of world-wide concern.

But we must accept that no one political philosophy or religion has the total answer. We are a mosaic of cultures—but we all share our finite planet.

However concern for the global family must be balanced with concern for the local entity where, even in areas of affluence, people are living lives of quiet desperation with no community co-operative sense of supportive help.

To many the idea of global citizenship and co-operative living is strange and un-realistic but to the few who are concerned I would like to ask them through your columns, to write for more information to: Global Citizens, R.R. 1, Puslinch, Ontario, N0B 2J0 or Box 94, Stanstead, Quebec J0B 3E0.

Yours sincerely,
Duncan Graham,
President.

Pay your own way

RR2, Dalkeith, Ont.
Feb. 17, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

I just finished reading the part of "The Old Rail Fence" about "buying the round." I agree entirely about the expense of buying for six or eight people.

What happens in the case of one couple who, on their own, might buy one or two mixed drinks or beers and then perhaps switch to straight soft drinks. I myself have two mixed drinks and then coke. This is easy when we're alone but when in a group it's hard to convince the current host that I've had enough and want to quit. My husband whose stomach gets upset after three beers wants to quit but may end up putting down five or six.

We like to go to a night spot to listen to the music, have a few drinks and then home. But sometimes it ends up a long expensive night with the visit to the local restaurant still to come. Life the next week is pinching the penny until some money comes in. That's a discouraging excursion and we may not go out for another month for fear it happens again.

Yours truly,
"A couple who like to pay their own"

Glengarry 4-H clubs will have week for enrollment

The Glengarry 4-H agricultural program for 1978 will begin with a new innovation this year. Rather than having an enrolment night, or day, there will be an "Enrolment Week." This means that members will be able to bring (or mail) their completed forms in to the Agricultural Office, or they may drop in and complete a form, during the week of February 27 to March 3. All 1977 4-H Club members will receive enrolment forms in the mail and the 4-H leaders will also have a supply.

The enrolment week will provide the opportunity for young people between the ages of 12 and 19 years, as of January 1, 1978, who live on farms or in rural communities, to register in the 4-H Club or Clubs of their choice.

The Glengarry program allows pre 4-H members, 11 years of age as of January 1, 1978, to participate in the county program. While these members participate in the club meetings and club events they are not eligible for regional or provincial awards.

4-H is a tremendous learning experience for our rural youth. It provides training in agriculture, assists in gaining self-confidence, develops leadership qualities and the ability to work with others as well as having fun while learning these things. As well as having monthly meetings, family picnics, achievement days and an awards night banquet, the members are eligible to be selected for 4-H trips, exchanges and activities outside our county.

Organization meetings for each club will be held during the mid-winter school break between March 17 and 27. Members will be advised as to the dates and times of the individual organization meetings as soon as enrolment is over and we know what clubs will be offered.

If you are interested in joining the 4-H agricultural program and require more information, contact Gaetan Paquette, the 4-H Co-ordinator or Mrs. Catherine Stewart, the 4-H Secretary, at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food Office in Alexandria.

We are striving to make the 1978 4-H year the best ever and for this we need "YOU". Join 4-H and "Learn to do by Doing".

Thousands of dairy farmers who send their milk to cheese factories received last season about five cent per hour for their labor, reported H. S. Marjerison of Apple Hill, at the annual convention of the Ontario Cheese Producers, held at Peterborough. —Buckingham curlers turned back an Alexandria bid for the Quebec Challenge Cup, Saturday, defeating rinks skipped by Dr. Cheney and R. H. Cowan by a 43-15 count.—Mrs. Damase Legault of Alexandria, was the lucky winner of a Philco radio in a Montreal draw last week.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 17, 1928

Miss Marion Urquhart was the winner of the High School oratorical contest, which was held on Wednesday evening. — The Camp-Fisher dam at Athol, built last year by William F. Campbell and Andrew Fisher, has proved a prolific and profitable source for ice harvests. It is hoped it will also serve to generate electric energy sufficient for the power and lighting needs of both these gentlemen.—The many friends of Cattanach McLennan, Lancaster, will regret to learn that he met with a severe accident on Monday. While carrying a bag of feed into the granary he slipped and broke his leg.—Alexandria curlers won the District Medal, Saturday, in competition with players from the Governor-General's Club, Ottawa. The team of R. R. Macdonald, Dr. D. A. McMaster, Dr. R. J. McCallum and Dr. J. T. Hope, skip, won their game here, 14-7, while G. A. Bradley, T. J. Gormley, Dr. H. L. Cheney and D. A. Macdonald, skip, journeyed to Ottawa and won 15-11. During play in Ottawa, the curlers met both Lord and Lady Willingdon, and after the game were escorted through Rideau Hall.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Friday, February 22, 1918

About noon on Monday, fire visited Maxville, the old post office block, corner Main and Mechanic Streets, being destroyed. The blaze started in the harness shop of J. Pilon, spread to the post office and Metcalfe's music store.—The good news has been received that Nursing Sister Edith MacGillivray has arrived safely in France.—Smallpox now exists in the Township of Lochiel, and the council has ordered the vaccination of all residents.—A Montreal firm has representatives engaged in placing an up-to-date electric light plant in the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. J. Macdonald, 1st Lochiel. D. D. MacLeod, McCrimmon, is installing a complete electric plant (Edison) in his house and barns.—On Friday evening last, fire destroyed the dwelling of A St. Onge at Glen Roy.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, February 21, 1913

The passing away of Allan J. Macdonald, on Thursday last, severs another link with the pioneer days. Born at St. Raphael's, 83 years ago, Mr. Macdonald came to Alexandria sixty years ago, following the carriage-making business before becoming proprietor of the old St. Lawrence Hall. In 1883, he built the Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Mill Square.—A real estate deal of some importance went through this week, when John Simpson disposed of his farm, 3rd Kenyon, to the Messrs. Levac, now owners of the adjoining property, for the sum of $6,000.—D. E. McRae, local representative of the Department of Agriculture, has taken possession of the neat little residence on Main Street South, recently vacated by Rev. J. W. Dulin.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, February 27, 1903

A meeting of the directors of the Glengarry Agricultural Association, was held at Williamstown, Friday, when a petition was presented, signed by 115 members of the society, urging that the exhibition be held at Alexandria every year instead of alternately. A deputation from the Front also waited upon the directors with a scheme for renovating the Williamstown buildings, and it was decided a special meeting would be held in Alexandria on June 10, at which members would vote on the proposals.—Kennedy Bros. of the steam laundry, have just installed a plant for the generation of gas for the burners used in their extensive and up-to-date plant.

NOTICE

TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh intends to pass at the Council meeting on March 7th, 1978 the following proposed by-law No. 7-78.

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH BY-LAW NO. 7-78

A BY-LAW TO STOP UP AND CLOSE A PORTION OF THE UNOPENED ROAD ALLOWANCE ON PARTS 2, 5 AND 8, PLAN 14R-993, ALSO KNOWN AS W 1/2 LOT 13, CONCESSION 1, IN THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH AND THE COUNTY OF GLENGARRY, AND TO AUTHORIZE THE CONVEYANCE THEREOF TO THE ABUTTING OWNERS.

The Council of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh enacts as follows:

1. The portion of the unopened road allowance described as:

   All and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Charlottenburgh, in the County of Glengarry, Province of Ontario, being composed of parts 2, 5 and 8, Plan 14R-993, also known as W1/2 Lot 13, Con. 1, south side of River, the said tract being described in Schedule "A" attached hereto on the sketch plan signed by L. E. Ross, O.L.S. dated July 11th, 1977, is hereby stopped and closed as a public highway.

2. The soil and freehold of the said stopped up road allowance designated as Part 2 on Reference Plan 14R-993 shall be sold to the owners of Parts 1 and 3 of Reference Plan 14R-993 for the sum of $1.00.

3. The soil and freehold of the said stopped up road allowance designated as Part 5 on Reference Plan 14R-993 shall be sold to the owners of Parts 4 and 6 of Reference Plan 14R-993 for the sum of $1.00.

4. The soil and freehold of the said stopped up road allowance designated as Part 8 on Reference Plan 14R-993 for the sum of $1.00.

The Reeve and Clerk of the Township of Charlottenburgh are authorized to execute and deliver under the seal of the Township a conveyance thereof to the said owner.

Martintown Rumor Mill

Art Buckland—528-4261

The other day Professor Ted Smith, a computer scientist at our local college, asked the computer the following question: Will Quebec become a separate state or will she remain within Canada? The computer replied, "Silly, she already is." (Strange how many of my students saw no ambiguity here.)

Professor Smith fainted and was immediately given a sabbatical, even though it was only Tuesday.

I decided to see what went wrong and after swallowing several Cobol and Fortran language pills, my system was go. Kneeling in front of this electronic wizard, I asked why he had given such an ambiguous answer. No sooner had I spoken the question mark, when control panels lit up and the computer responded.

You must remember that computers can only base their answers on information received.

"What are your sources, sir?" I queried.

"Queen Elizabeth II and Emperor Charles DeGaulle, Rene Levesque and Pierre Trudeau, Jean Paul Parizeau and Johnny Chretien, Anita Bryant and Pierre Berton."

"Interesting," said I, "but these are all individuals with one-sided views. Do you not use any scholarly research or information from books?"

The computer responded, "I have been fed pertinent information from MacLeans, The White Nigger in America, Bilingualism Today—French Tomorrow, Penthouse and Midnight. And let me tell you I am suffering from bilingual ingestion.

In addition, reality has been computerized in several symbolical and allegorical manners. For instance, Levesque's sincerity can be measured by the amount of smoke he blows.

"But," I interjected just as the computer's fourth red light went on, "will your proposal of Quebec as 'either . . . or' have any effect on people living just to the west of Quebec?"

"Oh definitely, that area will be affected in many ways. The population will increase as the English move west to more stable government. In fact starting in 1979, they will begin moving themselves and their houses into Ontario. The result will be more highland dancing, more scotch consumption and finally Gaelic will emerge as a new minority language force."

"I still don't have a clear answer yet."

"That's your fault for not asking the right question. Now if you were to ask what will happen when Quebec goes down the drain trying to achieve a language supremity against economic and political realities, then the latest information states that Quebec is and will be a separate state, as will several other former provinces, all ruled by President Carter, waiting in the sewer to catch us as we go down the drain, B&B—bilingual and broke, unilingual and unreal. We have sold them everything including our water, so what's left?"

Brigadoons and Rae MacCulloch's dancers will be appearing on channel 8 tv this Saturday or Sunday. Phone Rae (347-2619) for details.

Church in Martintown is sponsoring a dance this Friday at yon Bonnie Glen. Brigadoons will be playing all your favorite Scottish-Irish music. 'Twill be a grand evening, try to be there.

Newlywed Dean Hawn has an interesting pre-wedding tale to tell. During a session of horsing around he slipped and broke his leg—the night before the knot-tying ceremony.

The Scout movement, one of the most worthwhile organizations of all time, is active this week, "Thinking Day" being the core of the activities. More of us could take examples from this organization, founded by Baden Powell.

Martintown Mac says, "Happy St. David's day to all Welshmen on March first."

Auction meeting

The February meeting of the Zion United Church Women, Apple Hill, was held at the home of Mrs. Lillian Marjerrison, with 12 members present.

Mrs. Thelma Bender led the worship and program, both based on the theme "Love." A short business meeting followed and then a "Penny Auction" with many delectable Valentine treats, turned out to be very successful.

A delicious lunch was supplied by Mrs. Joy Scott while all enjoyed a friendly chat.

In lieu of our regular March meeting all are invited to attend the "Women's World Day of Prayer" to be held in St. Anthony's Church, Apple Hill, on the afternoon of Friday, March 3, 1978.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Heather Taylor.

Laggan School News

by Kenny Partington

WINTER ACTIVITIES

During the winter weeks the pupils at Laggan have been participating in several indoor and outdoor sporting activities.

In basketball there are five boys' teams and three girls' teams made up of pupils from grade seven and eight. So far, in the boys' division, team A is winning (captain Gary Myers) and in the girls' division, team B is winning (captain Sheilagh White).

There are also three boys' hockey teams with students from grades five and six. The leading team is team C (captain David MacPherson).

The girls' ringette championship has come to the finals. Team C (captain Kathy Howes) and team D (captain Kirsty MacLeod) are going to play a three-game play-off to decide the winners.

P.A. DAYS AND SNOW DAYS

This year the School Board permits its schools to substitute up to two P.A. days for regular teaching days when stormy weather causes us to miss too many school days. With seven days missed already, our teachers made us attend school on January 31 and are planning on having us come on March 3—days which were originally scheduled as holidays for us on our school calendar.

REPORT CARDS

With unit tests and exams already underway, pupils are starting to think about their next report card and trying to improve their standing. March 10 is the day when we bring home the good news.

100 KM CLUB

Four students have completed their 100 km run and have received their crests. They are: Gerald Theoret, Raymond Robinson and Davy Pidgeon from grade eight and Brent Morrin from grade four.

Officers elected

Two breeders from Eastern Ontario were elected to the executive of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada for the 1978 term.

Howard Dodge of Cardinal is now president of the Association and Allison Fawcett of Winchester is a director of the Extension Service Committee.

Mr. Fawcett was also confirmed judge of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

They took office at the annual meeting of the association which was held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto on February 9.

NOTICE

TO ALL APPLE HILL HYDRO CUSTOMERS

As a result of the better than expected operations of Ontario Hydro in 1977, The Apple Hill Hydro System will be receiving an anti-inflation discount of bulk power purchased from Ontario Hydro during 1978.

While the exact amount of this discount is not known a current estimate which we believe to be realistic indicates that we are able to defer a rate increase for 1978. Without the above anti-inflation discount it would have been necessary to increase rates in 1978 by approximately 6.2%.

Cards of thanks

CLAY—An open letter to my friends and neighbors: I am taking this way of saying Thank You for all the many cards (over 50) and letters, the flowers and arrangements, your good wishes and prayers for my well being. Starting with our family Dr. Jaggassar who lost no time in putting me in touch with Dr. Anderson, and then Dr. Randlett, I have had every possible care. The nursing staff at the Cornwall General cannot be beaten for TLC. Another thank you goes to Jenny Colucci, the special ostomy nurse who was so encouraging. It is impossible to mention you all by name, so I shall say thank you to two groups . . . the Horticultural Society, and the "Honorable Company of Merry Maxville Painters" and our teacher. Hope to see you soon.
—Caroline Clay. 8-1p

ROSS—My sincere thanks to friends, relatives and neighbors for visits, gifts, cards and flowers while a patient in General Hospital, 2nd North, Cornwall. Special thanks to Dr. Randlett, Dr. Gaetan, nurses and staff. Your kindness will always be remembered.
—Mrs. Marguerite Ross. 8-1p

WYLIE—The family of the late Msgr. James A. Wylie wish to express a sincere thank you to friends, relatives, and neighbors for their spiritual and floral offerings, messages of sympathy and the many acts of kindnesses received at the time of his death. To Bishop LaRocque and members of the clergy, the priests of the Glengarry Deanery, Bishop Smith, Fr. Bernard Cameron, Sr. Kathryn Cameron and the choir, St. Finnan's CWL, the Morris Funeral Home, the 4th Degree Knights of Columbus, the Precious Blood Sisters for the loving care they gave Msgr. while he was their chaplain. To all of you, we shall be forever grateful.
—Harry, Stephen, Rita, Margaret, nieces and nephews. 8-1p

Ladouceur - Cunning — We would like to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were able to attend our mixed party and for making it such a memorable occasion.
—Roger and Ann. 8-1p

McDONALD—The family of the late Ranald McDonald of Windsor, formerly of North Lancaster, express their sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their spiritual and floral offerings, messages of sympathy and acts of kindness, visits and attendance at the funeral. 8-1p

LADOUCEUR—We would like to thank everyone who was able to join with us in the celebration of our wedding. Also special thanks to the Lanthiers and both our parents.
—Roger and Ann. 8-1p

FRASER—My sincere thanks to relatives, neighbors and friends for their visits, cards and gifts when I was a patient at Hotel Dieu and the MacDonell Memorial Hospital in Cornwall. I am especially grateful to the medical staff, nurses and orderlies in these hospitals for their excellent services, and to the Rev. Jim Thompson for his helpful visits.
—John A. Fraser. 8-1p

TITLEY—I would like to thank everyone who supported me for the Glen Robertson Carnival.
—Sylvie Titley. 8-1p

SCOTT—I want to thank all who sent cards, gifts, phone calls and all who visited me and brought my wife to see me. Special thanks to Dr. Varma, Dr. Roman, nurses and staff, while I was a patient in Glengarry Memorial Hospital.
—James H. Scott. 8-1p

MacMILLAN—Sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for visits, cards and phone calls while I was a patient in the Glengarry Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Nadeau and all the nurses and staff for the good care I received.
—John D. MacMillan,
R.R. 3, Dalkeith, Ont. 8-1p

PILON—Our very most sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, floral tributes, mass cards and memorial donations during the loss of a dear mother and grandmother, Ann Maria (Granny) Coleman. Special thanks to Dr. Jaggassar, Rev. Father Theoret, Mrs. Marion Haramis and Mrs. Ethel Stone. Thanks also to the staff of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital.
—Minerva Pilon and family. 8-1p

McDONELL—I would like to thank all those who organized, participated and attended the concert given in honor of my birthday.
—Flora E. McDonell,
Cornwall. 8-1c

In Memoriam

MacLEAN—In loving memory of my dear father Duncan MacLean who passed away Feb. 24, 1974.
I do not forget, nor do I intend,
I'll think of you to the very end,
Forgotten by some, you may be,
In my memory you will ever be.
—Always remembered by your daughter Mildred, son-in-law Stan and family. 8-1c

MASSIA—In loving memory of a dear son Jean Guy who died accidentally Feb. 21, 1975.
Three years have passed already
But it seems just like yesterday
When you left us son
A dark cloud was slowly passing over us
We did not see it
But it hurt so very much to lose a son like you.
—Sadly missed by Dad,
Montreal. 8-1p

JEAUROND—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Aurel Jeaurond, who passed away Feb. 24, 1970.
Resting where no shadows fall,
In perfect peace he waits us all,
Deep in our hearts, your memory is kept,
We smile with the world, but never forget.
—Always remembered by wife Claudette and children,
Green Valley. 8-1p

CAMPEAU—In loving memory of a dear son, Brian, who passed away so suddenly March 1, 1976.
In a quiet country graveyard,
Where the gentle breezes blow,
Lies one we loved so dearly
And lost two years ago.
Without farewells you fell asleep,
Leaving memories for us to keep.
—Ever remembered and sadly missed by Mom and Dad,
Apple Hill. 8-1p

Cutback on entries to colleges

Enrolment at the Ontario Teacher Education College will be limited to 450 this September, Education Minister Thomas Wells announced last week.

This is a decrease of almost 50 per cent over last year. Mr. Wells said that the new limit recognizes the declining demand for teachers in Ontario.

This June 810 new teachers will graduate from the College's Toronto and Hamilton campuses. The Ministry has been reducing enrolment at the College by about 25 per cent a year over the last three years.

Mr. Wells said that enrolment at the Toronto campus will be limited to 300 and at Hamilton to 150. In addition to the basic teacher education program, the 450 candidates accepted will also have the opportunity to obtain additional qualifications in areas where there is a demand for teachers, such as teaching French and English as a second language, special education, and multiculturalism.

The Minister said that those seeking enrolment at the College will not be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis. In order that the most suitable candidates may be selected, those seeking enrolment will be interviewed by a committee composed of College staff, Ontario Teachers' Federation representatives, principals, and active teachers. A written test will also be required.

Mr. Wells said the College will become more involved in the professional development and retraining of on-the-job teachers, enabling them to upgrade their teaching qualifications.

The GDHS Newsline

by Susan McLaughlin

GDHS held its annual Carnival Day on Friday, February 10. The activities were all held at the Sports Palace, and consisted of a game of ringette between Grade 13 girls and teachers, a hockey game between Grade 13 boys and teachers, and public skating for everybody. The students won both the ringette game and the hockey game.

ENJOYED MILITARY BAND

The Central Band of the Canadian Armed Forces staged a musical concert at GDHS on Wednesday, February 15. The two opening pieces of music, the themes from the motion pictures "Rocky" and "Star Wars" captured the interest of the audience immediately. Following that, various members of the band performed solos, for which they all received a standing ovation. The three solos were done with a saxaphone, xylophone and drums. The band then played a wide variety of themes from popular television shows. Near the end of the show, the announcer sang his version of "I Did it My Way," and followed with his imitation of Shirley Temple singing "On the Good Ship Lollipop" which inspired a great deal of laughter.

GIRLS PLAYING VOLLEYBALL

GDHS hosted a girls' volleyball tournament on Thursday, February 16. The three teams that participated were from GDHS, St. Lawrence High School and North Dundas High School.

The junior girls played exceptionally well, winning all their games. Against St. Lawrence, GDHS won with scores of 15-5 and 15-0. In their games against North Dundas, they won with scores of 15-1 and 15-2. One of the best junior players of the tournament was Patty Everson, who came up with some really great serves!

Unfortunately, the senior girls didn't play quite as well as expected. The team's coach, Tina Cairncross, feels that it was due to the illness of quite a few players. In their games against St. Lawrrence, the seniors lost both games, the scores being 15-13 and 15-3.

Their luck improved when they defeated North Dundas in both games, with scores of 15-0 and 15-8. The results of this tournament enable both the junior and senior girls to participate in the play-offs.

The girls' volleyball team had an exhibition game at VCI on Friday, February 17. The seniors won the best two out of three games, the scores being 9-15, 15-12, and 15-4.

CELEBRATING "HERITAGE"

Heritage Day at GDHS, held on February 20, turned out to be a great success. At lunchtime, some grade 10 girls provided entertainment in the cafetorium by performing a variety of dances which represent various ethnic groups of Canada. The groups that were represented were French Canadians, Scottish, and Ukranians.

Heritage Day consisted of many other events also. On February 15, each student in the school filled out a questionnaire concerning the ethnic background of their grandparents. A wide choice of displays have been put up around the school, and these were also done by some Grade 10 girls. A number of films were also shown in the cafetorium at lunchtime.

Senior citizens receive grants

Ed Lumley, Member of Parliament for Stormont-Dundas and Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Finance, today announced that the Minister of National Health and Welfare, the Honorable Monique Begin, has approved two New Horizons grants, one of $9,877 to the Glen-Stor-Dun Auxiliary and another in the amount of $6,380 to the Regroupement des Clubs de l'Age d'Or de Cornwall.

New Horizons grants are made available for retired citizens groups to create projects of their choice which benefit themselves and others in their community.

The first grant is to assist the auxiliary of the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge in organizing both outdoor activities for the summer months while the winter days will be occupied by crafts and ceramics. Also planned by the auxiliary is the planting of trees and flowers as well as maintaining a greenhouse in order to beautify the surroundings thus encouraging greater participation in an outdoor program.

The second grant will be used to assist the Regroupment des Clubs de l'Age d'or de Cornwall in organizing olympic style games for senior citizens in the area. Included in their program will be a variety of activities, a marathon, a bowling tournament, a competition of early-Canadian fashion as well as a stage presentation featuring Ti-Jean Carrigan and Les Freres Migneault.

Mr. Lumley said that "The Glen-Stor-Dun Auxiliary and the Clubs de l'Age d'Or de Cornwall should be congratulated for their initiative and their desire to provide activities for senior citizens in the area. It is indeed heartening to see such programs organized in which enthusiastic senior citizens can participate."

Last year eight applications were approved under this program and since the inception of the New Horizons program in 1973, senior citizens groups in Stormont-Dundas have benefitted from almost $300,000 in grants.

Federation elects its slate

About 70 members of the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture met in Green Valley last week to elect their 1978 directors.

Vernon McConell and Stuart Buchan were elected from Charlottenburgh Township, Laurent St. Denis and Wilfrid Leger from Lancaster Township, William McGillis and Marion Myers from Lochiel Township, and Donald Besner and Weldon McIntosh from Kenyon Township.

The group agreed to send members to the Ontario Federation of Agriculture food conference in Ottawa scheduled for tonight.

The federation will put forward the position that a boost in the agricultural industry would stimulate the entire economy, because many products—from jam bottle labels to heavy machinery—are dependent on the agricultural sector.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dennis Wilkinson, community relations officer for Hydro's eastern division, who spoke on Hydro's exansion plans into the mid-1980s in Eastern Ontario.

He said latest statistics show a slight decline in the rising consumption of power each year which could mean expansion will not have to take place as rapidly as anticipated.

He showed slides of Hydro plants in Lennox, Addington, Pickering and Nanticoke and pointed out that a great deal of land is needed for such plants.

He said a proposed new power site along the St. Lawrence will likely be chosen between Morrisburg and Kingston.
