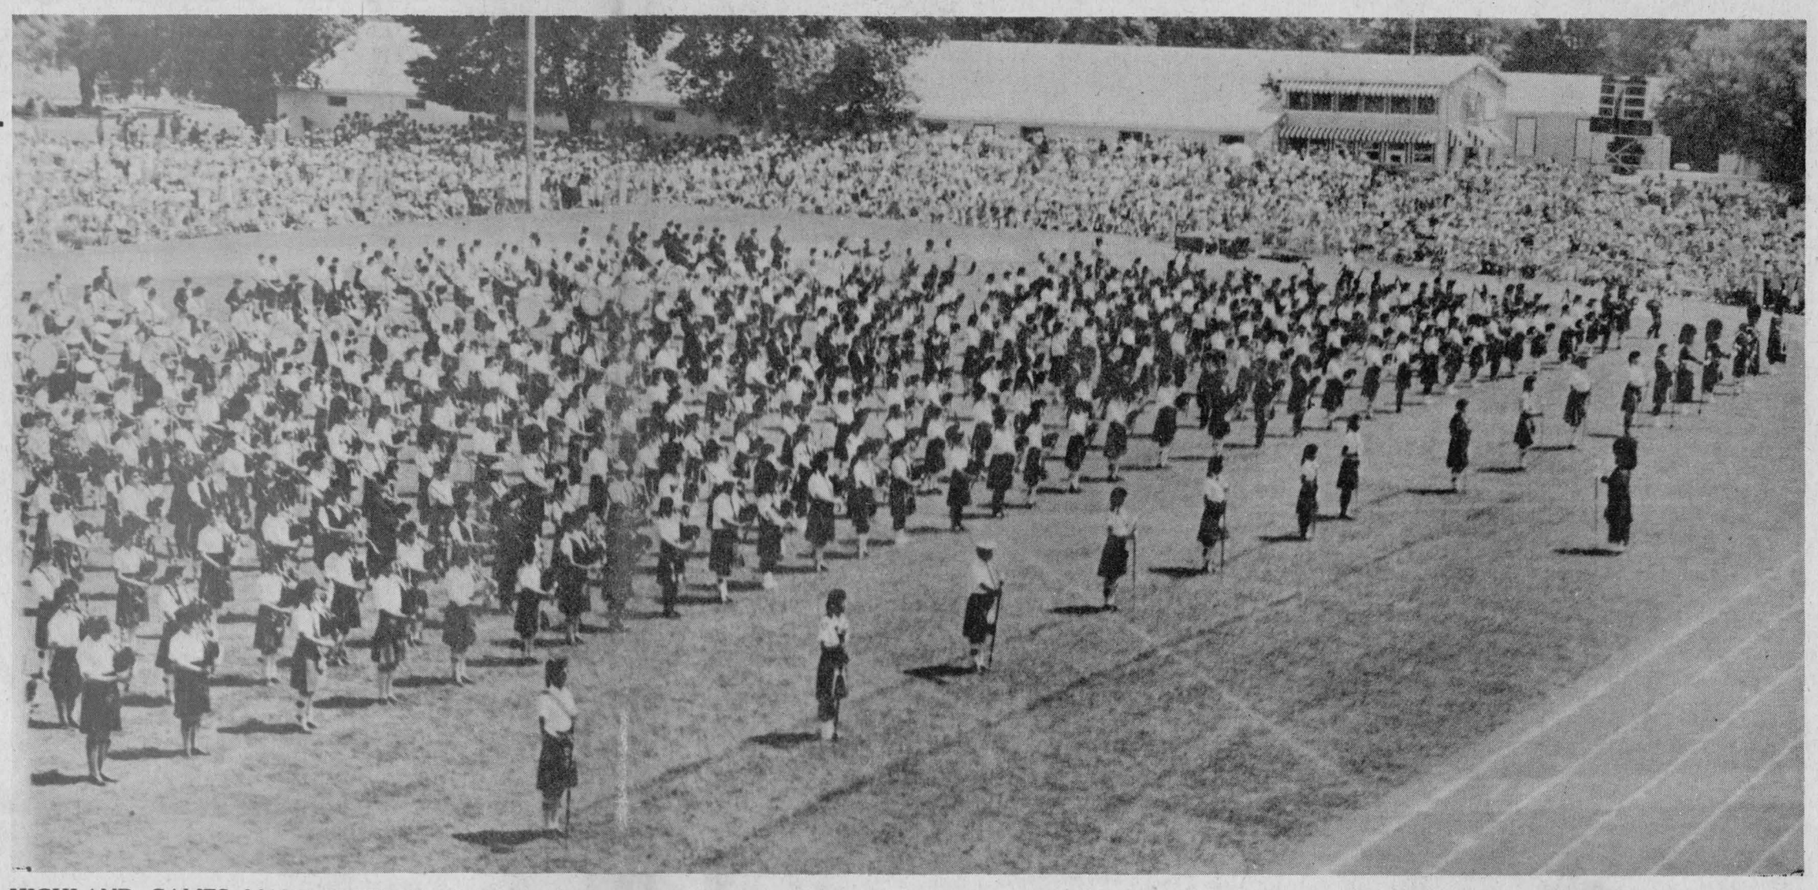
Eight hurt in crash on weekend

An Ottawa man is charged with disobeying a stop sign after a Saturday night accident at the intersection of Highway 43 and Highland Road in which eight people were injured.

The man was charged after a 9:30 p.m., August 1, accident in which his car collided with another driven by Marcel Gagnon of Rosemere, Quebec. The accused was proceeding south off of Highland Road when he collided with Mr. Gagnon, who was driving west on Highway 43.

The accused, according to Ontario Provincial Police at the Maxville office was minimally injured while a passenger in his car, Betty Morris, suffered minor injuries. Mr. Gagnon and two passengers in his car, Lise Campeau and Nicole Gagnon, suffered minor injuries while three other passengers, Sylvie and Francois Gagnon and Claude Campeau, suffered minimal injuries. The OPP indicate that minimal injuries are those not requiring hospital treatment and that minor injuries are those requiring hospital treatment but not a hospital stay.

All eight persons injured were taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital in Alexandria.



HIGHLAND GAMES MAKE HISTORY—With 44 pipe bands playing and competing in Maxville on Saturday, the Games had their largest collection of pipers and drummers ever. The City of Guelph Pipe Band took first in Grade One, which was an impressive achievement indeed. And no-one was more impressed than all the appreciative listeners. McDonell

Drive-in show using radios

Sky-Hi Drive-In located east of Alexandria on the Glen Robertson Road has become a trendsetter in the outdoor movie industry. Now folks can attend shows and simply tune into the movie's sound track by tuning their car radios; no more speaker attachments.

Renald Theoret, owner of the Sky-Hi, said he installed the new sound system because of high maintenance costs with the old system and because he can now accommodate 200 more vehicles. The drive-in could hold 300 cars and can now hold 500 vehicles.

The new system has been used with success by outdoor theatres in the Ottawa and Montreal area.

The change-over was completed last Tuesday and went into operation on Wednesday evening.

"The people liked it," Mr. Theoret said on Thursday evening.

Power supply is 20 watts but the owner said he will only have to send out 50 per cent of that to satisfy paying customers and prevent poachers from listening in.

"With this amount of power, the signal disappears by the time you are halfway back to the road," Mr. Theoret said.

Customers will now have to simply pay their admission, find a parking spot and tune into 840 on the AM band to catch the sound track of the movie. People who don't have radios in their autos can bring portable radios, even electric ones which can be plugged into outlets located on the grounds. There will also be radios to rent for those without.

For those people using car radios, the key should be turned to accessory, said Mr. Theoret. The small amount of power used will not effect the battery, he added.

Another advantage of the new system, said Mr. Theoret, is that the old speakers didn't have the best quality of sound and car speakers in most cases are better.

The theater has a special permit to operate at 840 on the AM dial for a six-month trial period.

Local people capture honors in Highland Games competitions

With 44 pipe bands playing and 43 of them competing at the Glengarry Highland Games in Maxville on Saturday, this year's Games had the biggest collection of bands in their 34-year history.

Judged best of the most senior class of pipe bands, the City of Guelph Pipe Band took first in Grade One. The Clan MacFarlane Band from St. Catharines was second in Grade One, the General Motors Band from Oshawa was third, the Toronto and District Pipe Band was fourth, the Macnish Distillery Band from St. Thomas was fifth and the Worcester Kilties from Worcester, Massachusetts was sixth.

The Vancouver Ladies Band from British Columbia was judged the best Grade Two band at the Games. The Niagara and District Pipe Band from Niagara Falls was second in Grade Two, the Western Reserve Pipe Band from Cleveland, Ohio, was third, the Denny and Dunipace Pipe Band from Rockville, Maryland, was fourth, the Parlin and District Pipe Band from New Jersey was fifth and the Dartmouth and District Pipe Band from Nova Scotia was sixth.

The winning band in Grade Three was the Midlothian Scottish Band from Mundelien, Illinois. Second place finisher in Grade Three was the Blackwatch Pipe Band from Montreal, third place went to the Town of Newmarket Pipe Band, fourth to the City of Oshawa Pipe Band, fifth to the Fredericton Society of St. Andrews Pipe Band and sixth went to the Fraser's Highlanders Pipe Band from Rome, New York.

The band judged to be the best in Grade Four was the Strathroy Legion Pipe Band. Second in Grade Four was the Kingsville Legion Pipe Band, third went to the Ogilvy Pipe Band from Ottawa, fourth to the Fraser Grade Four Pipe Band from Rome, New York, fifth to the Glengarry Pipe Band and sixth to the Rob Roy Pipe Band from Kingston.

The best drum corps in the various Grades were City of Guelph in Grade One, Niagara and District in Grade Two, Midlothian Scottish in Grade Three and Rob Roy in Grade Four.

The Best Professional Piper of the Day was Bill Livingstone, pipe major of the General Motors band, who to win that honor placed first in both Open Pibroch and Open Jig, second in Open March and fourth in Open Strathspey and Reel. Jim McGillivray, pipe major of the City of Guelph band, placed first in the Open March and the Open Strathspey and Reel and fifth in the Open Jig.

Best in Open Drumming was Dave Constant, best in Open Bass Drumming was Tom McGurk, best in Open Tenor Drumming was Kevin Shannon and best Drum Major was Warrant Officer Larry Fullerton, drum major of the 48th Highlanders of Canada in Toronto.

Tim Murphy, Shona Robertson and John Connolly were first, second and third in Grade One Drumming. Tammy Kippen, Frances Martin of the Glengarry Pipe Band and Maggie McIver were first, second and third in Grade Two Drumming and Moira Cleland, Bill Gowland of the Glengarry Pipe Band and Finlay McCallum placed first, second and third in Grade Three.

Two Glengarry Pipe Band drummers placed first in Grade Four "A" and Grade Four "B" drumming. Margaret St. John of the Glengarry Pipe Band, Lisa Parnell and Sean Allan placed first, second and third in the "A" group and Ewen MacMillan of the Glengarry Pipe Band, Cameron Wall, and Geordie Fowler were first, second and third in the "B" group.

Michael Grey, Brian Williamson and Andrew Hoag were first, second and third in the Grade One Amateur Pibroch and Callum MacDonald, Troy Guindon and John Sullivan were first, second and third in Grade Two Amateur Pibroch.

Andrew Payzant, Michael Grey and Fred Brookman were first, second and third in Amateur Jig "A" and John Cairns, Michael Green and Heather Roberts were first, second and third in Amateur Jig "B".

Mike Green, John Cairns and Michael Grey were first, second and third in Grade One Strathspey and Reel while Peter Lowrie, Barry Conway and Blair Robertson were first, second and third in Grade Two.

Heather Roberts, Brian Williamson and Michael Grey were first, second and third in Grade One March and in Grade Two March Ross Brown, Nancy MacDonald and Tym Barker came first, second and third.

In Grade Three "A" Piping Scott Lowe, Craig MacDonald and Tom Archambault placed first, second and third and in Grade Three "B" Andrew Rogers, Randy Egan and Andrew Buchan, of the Glengarry Pipe Band placed one, two and three.

In Grade Four "A" Piping, Steven Feldman, Jason Bullock and Craig Nisbet placed first, second and third while in Grade Four "B" Ross May, David Mills and Beth Bissailon took the one, two and three spots.

Man burned by electricity

A 23-year-old Guelph man received electrical burns while working on Highway 401 near Lancaster last Friday morning.

William Pike, formerly of Newfoundland, suffered severe burns to his right hand when, according to Ontario Provincial Police at Lancaster, the boom on a truck upon which he placed his hand touched a Hydro line.

Mr. Pike was rushed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall, being taken part way to the hospital by OPP cruiser and later by ambulance. Mr. Pike, who had been working along Hwy. 401 for Nikrock Construction Company of Guelph, was taken from Cornwall to the Ottawa Civic Hospital where he was listed yesterday as being in a stable and satisfactory condition.

The accident is being investigated by Lancaster OPP and officials of the Construction Health and Safety Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Labor.

Penny Arcade big success, recreation group reports

A total of 80 children arrived almost simultaneously at the Glengarry Sports Palace last Wednesday waiting for the doors to open at the Penny Arcade.

A press release from the town Park and Recreation Department, which sponsored the event, said organizers were "happily surprised by the great turn-out."

Once inside, the children rushed to the different booths varying from apple bobbing to peanut pushing, from ring throwing to hockey scoring and from drinking from a baby bottle to gambling.

"Of course, the famous fortune teller, Madame Mystique, made her appearance and soon became a hit with the kids," the release notes. "The lemonade stand and lollipop sale were both appreciated by all.

David Guyquy from Camp Pioneer won the door prize, a cuddly teddy bear. The weather prevented the holding of the annual campouts on Tuesday, July 28, and Wednesday, July 29.

The campouts have been rescheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 5 and Thursday, Aug. 6.

Unlike the campouts of previous years, ours will be held here, at Island Park. There will be a junior and a senior campout, both starting at 4 p.m. and ending at 9 a.m. the next morning."

Tents will be provided, but the children will need a sleeping bag. As well, the campouts will include a hayride.

Permission slips are still available at the office.

On Tuesday, August 11, at 2 p.m. a special performance will be presented at the Park by the "Kids on the Block." This muppet-like presentation will discuss disabilities and what it's really like to be disabled. The show consisting of four dialogues is followed by a question period and then by a workshop.

The next special events are the trip to Belmont Park and the Olympics.

"We hope to see everyone's children at these special events as well as at the regular activities during the week," the release states.

Plan performance

Alexandria Public Library will present the Penguin Theatre of Ottawa production of "Scarecrow Girl" on Monday, August 10 at 7 p.m.

Written by Le Theatre des Confettis of Quebec City and translated by Maureen Labonte, "Scarecrow Girl" is the colorful story of two clown-like characters, Peony and Sam, who are drawn to one another because both of them have been rejected by their group of friends.

"Scarecrow Girl" deals penetratingly with the discrimination suffered by children with physical deformities and peculiarities. It also raises the question of prejudice, in general, as well as that of group acceptance and its importance in a child's world.

Peony and Sam are two wonderfully funny and touching characters who light up the stage with their larger-than-life antics. Whimsy and sadness blend delicately with laughter, songs and dance to make "Scarecrow Girl" a lively and yet moving play.

Written especially for children from seven to 12 years of age, this free Penguin Theatre presentation of "Scarecrow Girl" is sponsored by the Alexandria Public Library, Eastern Ontario Library System, Ontario Arts Council and "Outreach Ontario" a program of the Ministry of Culture and Recreation.

JOHN JAMIESON DECLARES GAMES OPEN AND BIDS THEM ADIEU—In a moving and animated speech John Jamieson declared the Glengarry Highland Games at Maxville open last Saturday. At the same time Mr. Jamieson was bidding a fond farewell to the job he had ably conducted for the last 25 years, that of Secretary of the Games. Mr. Jamieson credited his success as Games Secretary to the able assistance of his wife, Lila. Seen here (L to R) Mr. Jamieson bids the Highland Games crowd farewell as Angus Hoey McDonell, Mrs. Jamieson, "The General" Ken Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Arkinstall watch on.

AHS reunion this week

On Saturday evening August 8, Alexandria's population will swell by some 800 as former students of A.H.S. meet at the Sports Palace for the 7:15 banquet. A happy hour will precede the dinner.

'Flasher' charged

A Williamstown area man has been charged with public nudity after being caught July 16 and held for police by another local man.

Ontario Provincial Police at Lancaster indicate that in the last year or so there have been a number of complaints from the Williamstown area about a man who would run up to the doors of local residences, ringing the doorbell or knocking on the door and "flashing" the lady of the house.

According to police, the man charged with public nudity did that on July 16, but instead of the door being answered by the lady of the house, the man who apprehended the accused "flasher" came to the door.

Plan demonstration using sheep dogs

Alex McKinven, well known breeder and trainer of Border Collies will be demonstrating the skills of his dogs as part of the Sheep Show at the Williamstown Fair on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Mr. McKinven's demonstration, in addition to being entertaining, is also informative. Using sheep and/or geese he shows how the natural instinct of the Border Collie is to herd livestock, and how with proper instruction and training they can be useful and dependable in herding all kinds of livestock from ducks and geese to pigs and steers.

He is an experienced handler, and can work several dogs at a time.

GIVING THEM THE EYE—It's said that border collies can herd anything that can be herded and people at the Williamstown Fair this coming weekend will get a chance to see a team of border collies go through their paces. Mr. Alex McKinven of North Hatley, Quebec will have some of his dogs performing at the fair.

Conservation project stalled as contractor stops work

Work on the Raisin Region Conservation Authority's biggest endeavor, the Fly Creek Flood Alleviation Project, has ground to a halt.

Authority General Manager Jay Currier confirmed this week that work stopped after the contractor, Hugh M. Grant Ltd., went into receivership.

"The Authority is presently negotiating with the receivership company for the completion of the work," Mr. Currier said.

The entire project, including land acquisition, is estimated to cost about $5 million.

The original contract to Hugh M. Grant was for about $3.2 million. Approximately $1 million of the work remains uncompleted, Mr. Currier said.

The project, designed to alleviate flooding in the northeast corner of the City of Cornwall, includes creation of a 30-acre pond and pumping station and some channelization of Fly Creek.

Mr. Currier said the $500,000 pumping station, built by another firm, is completed.

The pond is not finished and a small amount of channelization work remains.

Round church gets repaired

One of two round churches in Canada is getting repaired.

Members of St. Andrew's United Church in Dalhousie Mills are putting a new roof on their architecturally unique church and have installed a stainless steel cross on the summit of the roof.

The Celtic cross was constructed and donated by Fritz Mueller of Ste. Justine. The roof was installed by local contractor, Theo Van Den Oetelaar.

In raising funds to pay for the roof work the congregation have launched a "pledge a shingle" drive where every parishioner is asked to donate so many shingles to the church at a certain price per shingle. Shingles can be pledged at $1, $2, or $5 each. In addition the UCW hosted a smorgasbord supper to help raise funds.

The local contractors have removed the old tin and installed asphalt shingles for a tendered price of $5,000.

The work was undertaken because the roof was leaking, said John MacLeod, a member of the building committee, pointing to damaged ceiling tiles.

The new roof is the third for the 140-year-old church.

Man fined for car offence

A young Green Valley man has been given a $403 fine, had his driver's licence suspended for a year, been put on one year's probation and been ordered to pay $25 restitution after having been convicted of driving dangerously in Alexandria last month.

Jerome Charbonneau, 21, was charged with dangerous driving and willful damage after being observed July 17 driving erratically around the parking lot behind the old armouries building on Main Street, where a concrete post was knocked down, driving across to the other side of Dominion Street where a lawn was ripped up and then racing off along Dominion.

Mr. Charbonneau was next reported seen driving at high speed south along Bishop Street. He was apprehended by police in Glen Robertson.

The willful damage against Mr. Charbonneau was dropped by the Crown after his dangerous driving conviction.

Airport circle

Plans to build a municipal airport to serve the Cornwall area have come full circle with city council voting to reconsider use of the Massena Airport in New York State.

Council voted 6-4 to set up a special committee to look into the Massena site, a move which has prompted Alderman Dick Aubry to resign as chairman of the main Airport Committee.

Sheep show has openings

Do you have a flock of commercial or purebred sheep, or are you the shepherd of an embryonic flock? Have you wondered how sheep are sheared or whether sheep dogs are really effective? Perhaps you are an experienced spinner or weaver, or wish you were. Is lamb a gourmet delicacy to you?

Whatever your interest in sheep the Second Annual Sheep Show at the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society Fair in Williamstown is the place to be on Sunday, August 9, 1981 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There are 10 classes open to commercial and purebred sheep from large or small flocks, which will be judged by Ian Dow of Metcalfe, Ontario. The include: rams (one year or older); ewes (one year or older); ram lambs (less than one year); pair of ewe lambs (less than one year); pen of market lambs; sire, dam and lambs; premier breeder; colored sheep—best fleece.

In addition young shepherds under 10 are invited to show their favorite member of the flock in the Junior Showmanship Class, and the whole family can work towards the Shepherd's Crook Award for the best pen display of animals from a flock.

In pioneer days every self-respecting farmer in the United Counties had a flock of sheep. Therefore the oldeset fair in Ontario would not be complete without a Sheep Show which shows the many facets of commercial sheep raising and wool production.

Visitors to the Sheep Show will also be entertained by a sheep shearing demonstration, a hand-spinning and weaving demonstration and a display of sheep dogs doing sheep work. Delicious charcoal-grilled marinated lamb will be available together with additional lamb recipes and information on sheep raising.

The Sheep Show is for everyone. Interested shepherds should contact Michael Schach, RR#1, Martintown, Ontario, 613-528-4282.

Because of the mail strike, entries will be accepted by phone. Entry fees are $1 per head.

Separate board eyeing schools

The separate school board has instructed its staff to study possible use of two of four rural elementary schools closed by the public board last month.

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Roman Catholic School board is eyeing John Sandfield Macdonald in Rosedale Terrace just north of the Cornwall City limits and Roxborough Public School in Moose Creek.

English section Superintendent Percy Beaudette said the Moose Creek school "is worth looking into because we have nothing north of St. Andrews between Finch and Alexandria."

John Sandfield Macdonald School could be used instead of adding portables to Sacred Heart School, Trustee Gerald Samson suggested.

The Glengarry News

ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1981

Controls needed over spraying

After sifting through the charges and counter-responses concerning aerial spraying in Glengarry, one central fact emerges—environmental controls over the exercise were practically non-existant.

Beekeepers, a berry grower and other concerned farmers have expressed outrage at the speed and lack of planning which went into the aerial attack on corn borers.

More than one person has suggested that the chemical companies did one heck of a selling job.

The sprays used are known to have a bad, even disastrous, effect on honey bees, yet there was little attempt to isolate and protect bee colonies.

"We found out about the spraying at the last minute and we cannot move bees in July. We are not equipped," one beekeeper commented.

A Ministry of the Environment spokesman confirmed that few preventative steps were taken.

He told The News he knew there would be some bee "kill" but that farmers did not know where all the hives were located, he himself did not have the time to walk all the fields and the beekeepers were not ready either.

And how did a commercial berry patch manage to get drenched in the poisonous chemical?

The question remains: Why were greater efforts not taken to locate these sensitive areas.

Why did the ministry not issue a press release outlining a) which areas were to be sprayed, b) what chemicals were being used, c) what side-effects could be expected from such chemicals (i.e. on bees), and d) calling people with sensitive properties to come forward?

Surely, before an area is sprayed, an inventory of the various uses should be compiled. The hit-and-miss approach taken—and apparently condoned by the government—is neither morally nor ecologically sound.

None of the government officials contacted appeared ready to assure us that such an occurrence would not take place again.

"The salesmen did a super job, simple as that. It may be good or it may be bad. I don't know enough about the borer. The farmers who sprayed are happy and somebody made a lot of money."

So stated one Ministry of the Environment spokesman. It may be good or it may be bad, but who cares? A strange attitude from the ministry which is supposed to be guarding our environment.

The farmers who sprayed cannot really be blamed for the subsequent side-effects. Like all of us, they were unfamiliar with the chemicals used and probably had no idea that such spraying could affect other people to the degree it has. But the government should have known. It issues the licences for aerial spraying.

Since the Ministry of the Environment must issue a permit authorizing the aerial spraying and since it is the ministry which is supposed to be knowledgeable about chemicals, the responsibility for this shoddy lack of protection must fall squarely on its shoulders.

The recent performance was irresponsible. A repeat performance would border on the criminal.

Racial arrogance revealed

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau's much-heralded North-South summit conference is a good start at tackling some of the inequities of this imperfect world.

Unfortunately, its civilized and diplomatic discussions about monetary policies and development assistance missed the point. What the esteemed gentlemen should have discussed—should, in fact, be exploding with rage about—is the prevalent attitude of the rich, industrialized, mainly white, northern nations that those who are poor, unsophisticated, uneducated, or who have skins of another color—in other words, the southern nations—are not really human.

The racial arrogance is most clearly revealed in corporate marketing policies.

By now, most people have heard about Nestles, boycotted for allegedly treating the teeming billions of the Third World as a bottomless pit of potential purchasers of baby formula. By its vigorous promotion of bottle feeding, in areas where there is no pure water to mix with the formula, the critics charge, Nestle contributes to millions of unnecessary infant deaths.

But Nestle sins pale beside those of some others.

Tobacco too rich in tars and nicotines and other carcinogens to be sold in North America is still being grown. But it is being sold in Africa, Asia, and the Middle East, where there are no restrictive regulations to protect the populace.

Pesticides that have been outlawed in Canada and the United States are actively promoted for sale in Latin America. Only now is the evidence showing up that, of 550 million pounds of pesticides exported by the U.S. in just one year, 70 per cent could not have been legally used within the U.S. itself. A study found that the blood of people in Guatemala and Nicaragua contained 30 times more DDT than the U.S. average.

Worse yet, a company specializing in the disposal of toxic industrial wastes, Nedlog Technology Group Incorporated, admitted that it had approached the governments of Sierra Leone, Chile, and half a dozen other impoverished countries, with a $25 million offer, to dump in those countries the poisons that are too dangerous to keep in North America.

As yet, there are no laws in the U.S. or Canada to prevent such actions.

The inference is clear—the people of the Third World don't matter as much as we do. We deserve protection. They are simply a market, a means of making a profit.

An uneasy question remains. Do we matter either? Or, freed from government intervention, would the profit-makers see us too as just a market for the products?

From under the Williamstown Bridge

by Helen Sloan

The Williamstown Fair promises to be bigger and better than ever this year. Along with the usual events there will be bed races, a hilarious and challenging race of fun. The street will have to be blocked off for this event which could be quite a feat considering all the traffic there will be. I believe there are seven beds from different communities involved, so it should be very interesting.

There is something for everyone at the fair. The hard workers and promoters behind this 173-year-old tradition have seen to this quite effectively.

We, here, in the Glengarry News readership are fortunate to have so many things to do in the summer months. There are various church socials, the Highland Games and St. Raphael's Galarama, to name but a few. These are great means of socializing with our friends and neighbors near and far.

Someone told me a while back a great way to save when taking the children to such functions. Allot to them beforehand a specific amount of money to be spent at their own discretion. It is understood that when they run out, that's it. It really does work! In fact their whole idea of spending changes and they usually come home with a handful of change to put in their piggy banks. It surely beats the steady hours of "gimme, gimme, can I have?"

I was telling this to my neighbor and she said it reminded her of her daughter before she was out earning her own money. Every time they went to town the daughter needed something new. She had an insatiable appetite for new clothes. However, the mother recalls going to town with her after she had received her first cheque. She didn't spend a cent. She proved to be quite thrifty.

We, in Canada, spend a great deal of words complaining about the weather. It is too hot or too humid. I was talking last week to a reporter visiting from Saudi Arabia. She remarked how this struck her as odd since in her country summer temperatures range from 90 to 120°F. At 120° you do not have to go to work. She said that no one ever complains about the heat. It's just taken for granted and you dress appropriately to protect yourself from the sun and drink lots of liquids. Most buildings are air conditioned but everyone goes about their business disregarding the weather. She herself is now very accustomed to it and believes the most difficult thing for her would be to endure a Canadian winter.

This will be my last column. Anna Margaret will again entertain us with "Across the Rail Fence." It has been a real privilege and quite often, lots of fun, substituting in her absence.

I think the nicest part of writing is talking with people about their ideas and opinions of things. People make it all happen and there are so many various kinds of people and trains of thought which make for an interesting and versatile world.

So from the bypass at Williamstown (the new bridge is not yet completed), so long and stay always on the sunny side of the street.

Interest rates claim victim

It wasn't the only cause, but it was a major one.

One of the town's most progressive and innovative shops, Mr. Mann's, is closing as a direct result of our government's high interest rate policy.

Past editorials have lamented the harmful effect such rates have on small businesses. Now, we are no longer talking about theory. A victim has been claimed right here in Alexandria.

The pattern was predictable. Small merchants, particularly clothing shops, rely on borrowed funds to replenish stock. A small merchant—unless he has been in business for many years and accumulated a reservoir of capital—cannot afford to come up with $20,000 or $30,000 every Fall to bring in the latest line of wearing apparel.

As interest rates rise, the merchant's rate also rises automatically. He has two choices—both of which lead to oblivion. He can absorb the increased carrying charges, take a profit cut and go out of business quickly, or he can pass the carrying charges along to his customers, price himself out of the market, watch his trade diminish and go out of business slowly.

Such are the options under Liberal economic policy.

The federal department of consumer and corporate affairs has admitted that bankruptcies are up dramatically. Canadian farm bankruptcies, for example, are up to 136 for the first six months of 1981 compared to 109 during the first six months of 1980.

In Ontario alone, farm bankruptcies are up 43 per cent over last year.

If the government's high interest rate policy were achieving the desired end, then one might have some sympathy for it. But the evidence is mounting to show that the high rates are not slowing the economy the way they were intended to.

Statistics Canada reports that capital investment in plants and equipment is not only continuing to increase over last year, but is even higher than the level predicted only four months ago.

Total capital investment in 1981 now is expected to reach $79.3 billion, up 21.2 per cent from 1980 and 3.6 per cent from the $76 billion predicted in late March.

In other words, industry is borrowing and expanding despite high interest rates.

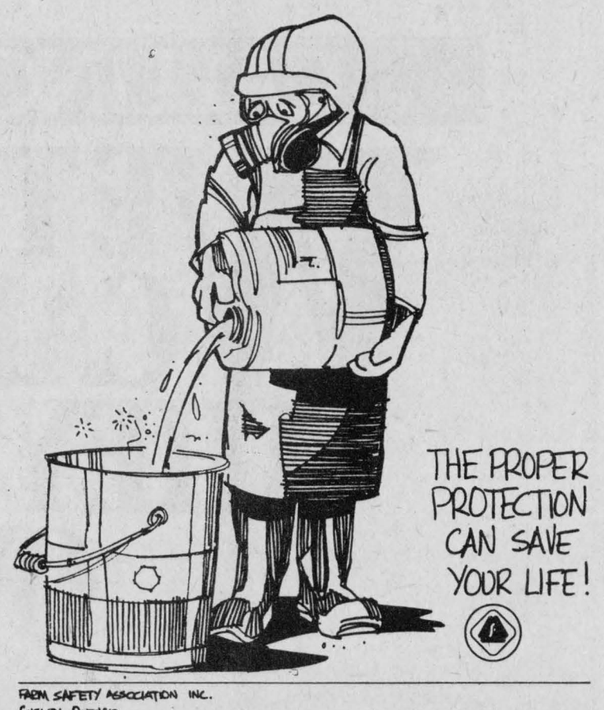
Why?

Because most people feel the government has lost control and the economic situation will only get worse as time goes on. Better to borrow at 21 per cent than 25 per cent.

As a result, the inflation rate climbs as the carrying charges for this borrowed money is passed on to the consumer.

Perhaps it's time for us all to stop griping and do something. Maybe we need a national campaign to take people to Ottawa to protest this devastating economic policy. Editorials, letters to the editor, petitions—nothing seems to make a dent on the government. Maybe a couple of hundred thousand people perched on Parliament Hill would let the government know we are concerned.

We just shouldn't go on taking it.



Museums get aid

The province has new measures designed to help local museums in hundreds of communities across the province to improve themselves.

"In the last generation," said Culture and Recreation Minister Reuben Baetz, who is responsible for the provincial government's heritage policies and programs, "there has been an absolute explosion in the number of local museums in Ontario.

"Today, there are 230 such museums. Many are ambitious to improve their collections and upgrade their conservation and education efforts."

The community museum policy concentrates on helping community museums to better conserve their valuable artifacts and to upgrade facilities, programs and staff training.

The policy's key elements are increased assistance from the ministry's museum advisory service, a revised community museums grants formula, and a commitment to minimum standards for community museums receiving provincial support.

During the last five years, the ministry of culture and recreation has invested nearly $9 million in community museums. In 1980, grants totalling $1.8 million were distributed to community museums. This year, the grants level will reach $2 million.

Mr. Baetz pointed out that under the new policy, the provincial government will not take total responsibility for museum support.

"The policy is designed to assist and complement local initiatives. In the past, the government and my ministry have often been the sole supporter of some community museums. That will no longer be the case. We will be looking to the communities to take some of the responsibility, whether through volunteer time or financial commitments. Under this policy, the province will be supporting those museums which are supported by their own communities."

Mr. Baetz pointed out that his ministry's museum advisory service has expanded its support by helping museum curators and staff in three main areas.

It is sponsoring seminars for board members and management committees that are responsible for setting policy and for the financial well-being of museums. It is preparing technical publications on museum-related subjects and making conservation supplies available to museums that are able to conserve their collections.

Also, in partnership with the National Museums of Canada, the ministry is equipping and staffing a mobile conservation laboratory which will travel to community museums and art galleries to help with the conservation of collections.

Former resident passed away

Hermile Ouellette passed away at Laurier Manor, Vanier, Ont., on Friday, July 24 at the age of 83.

He was born in Lochiel, a son of the late Emile Ouellette and his wife the late Cecile Sabourin.

He married Gertrude Labelle and they farmed for most of their life on McCormick Road. After retiring, they moved to Alexandria where he resided until failing health forced him to enter Laurier Manor.

He was predeceased by his wife, the former Gertrude Labelle and is survived by two sons and two daughters. They are, Raymond of Green Valley; Bruno of Gatineau; Mrs. Eucher Ruthier, Marie-Paule of Hull and Mrs. Herve Leroux, Francoise of Rockland.

Two brothers and three sisters also survive, Eugene and Alexander of Alexandria; Mrs. Alexina Caron and Sister Rosinna Ouellette of Windsor; Sister Jeanne Cecile of Orleans and Sister Louise Marguerite and Ms. Germaine Ouellette, both of Ottawa.

His funeral was held at Sacred Heart Church on Monday, July 27. Rev. Roger Desrosiers officiated, assisted by Rev. Gerald Poirier and Rev. Lionel Joyal.

Pallbearers were Marc, Pierre and Gerald Ouellette and Yvon, Francois and Michel Leroux.

Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Died at 83 in Alexandria

James McDougald, a life-long resident of Green Valley died on Wednesday, July 15 at the Glengarry Memorial Hospital in his 83rd year.

He was born on the family farm in the 8th of Lancaster a son of the late John James McDougald and his wife the late Catherine MacGillis.

Although Jim never married, he was a father as well as a brother to his younger brothers and sisters for their father died when the family was fairly young and Jim left school early to work on the farm. He farmed until 1975 when he retired, sold the farm and moved to Green Valley. He always enjoyed very good health until suffering a heart attack about two months prior to his death.

He was predeceased by his parents, his two brothers and three sisters namely: Donald, Alex, Catherine, Flora and Harriet. His sister Sarah, Mrs. John D. McDonald of Green Valley is the only survivor of the family.

His funeral was held on Saturday, July 18 at St. Raphael's. Rev. Gary Ostler officiated, assisted by Rev. Gerald Poirier, paster of St. Mary's, Green Valley.

Honorary pallbearers were Jim Dorsey, Stuart Fullard, Roger Constant, John M. Kennedy, James H. McDonald and Sandy McRae.

Active pallbearers were Dannie McCosham, Steve McCosham, Rene Goulet, Ronnie Lajoie, Archie O'Connor and George Lunan.

Burial was in the family plot in St. Raphael's cemetery.

Co-operatives agree to energy venture

United Co-operatives of Ontario (UCO) has announced it will commit $1 million to be paid over the next four years to CO-ENERCO—a national energy co-operative.

UCO's Chief Executive Officer Julian Smith says it is the first time Canadian co-operatives and credit unions have pooled their resources resulting in a major impact on the energy industry.

Over 20 of these co-operatives have promised $75 million as seed money for the project with another $25 million expected to be committed over the next three years. The federal government has agreed to match co-op seed investments up to $100 million.

Mr. Smith says UCO and the other co-operatives organized the project to increase Canadian ownership and control of the energy sector; to provide an investment opportunity for individual members of co-ops and credit unions; to secure a supply of petroleum products for co-operative organizations which are already extensively involved in petroleum marketing and in the manufacture of petroleum-based products such as fertilizers; to be involved in the search for and development of alternate sources of energy.

Mr. Smith, who is a member of CO-ENERCO's interim board of directors says the venture will be controlled by the co-operative movement.

"The influence of individual members on the project will be through their co-operative organizations which might be one of the primary shareholders," he said.

UCO, a farm supply and marketing co-operative provides a complete line of farm inputs, including feed, seed, fertilizer, petroleum and hardware, through Co-op outlets across the province. UCO also markets livestock, grain and poultry. It is owned by 48,200 individual members and 48 member co-operatives representing an additional 40,000 members.

Town constable compensated

Constable Raymond Legroulx, of the Alexandria Police Department, has received $11,690 from the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board of Ontario for injuries he incurred in July, 1979.

Constable Legroulx was injured on the job when he attempted to stop a young man from kicking a garbage can in front of the Alexandria Hotel.

Constable Legroulx, seated in his patrol car, had asked the man to stop when the man threw himself at the constable, seizing him by the throat and hitting him in the face through the open window.

When Constable Legroulx tried to open the door of his patrol car, the man closed the door on the constable's right hand, breaking his finger. Constable Legroulx's leg was also caught in the door and his kneecap was broken.

Constable Legroulx finally managed to get out of his patrol car, and with the use of only one leg, managed to subdue his aggressor.

The constable has had to take several breaks from work due to the seriousness of his injuries.

According to the Criminal Injuries Board every resident of Ontario who has been injured after trying to stop a criminal act or who has been injured while trying to arrest an individual is eligible for compensation.

Tractor Rodeo coming up

Twenty of Ontario's best tractor operators will be squaring off against each other at the Provincial Tractor Rodeo Final, to be held on August 8, 1981, at the Trent University Campus in Peterborough in conjunction with Ontario Junior Farmers' Summer Games.

To qualify as finalists, the competitors have scored consistently high in many county level competitions as well as eight regional competitions held across Ontario during June and July.

The competitions are sponsored by the Ontario Junior Farmers' Association, John Deere Limited and the Farm Safety Association, primarily to increase skill and safety in the operation of farm equipment.

The competitions are divided into three parts.

First, all competitors must complete a written safety examination, followed by a practical driving manoeuvre with a tractor and wagon through a prescribed course.

Finally, contestants are required to demonstrate their skill in mounting and demounting a piece of three point hitch equipment. All the driving manoeuvres are judged on, skill, safety and time.

Rodeo contestants will be competing for the Championship Trophy as well as other prizes, including a power farm equipment washer, chain saw and tool set.

GRADUATE—Claire Poirier received her Bachelor in Science and Nursing at the Spring Convocation which was held at the National Arts Centre in Ottawa on June 6, 1981. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Poirier of Bainsville and is presently employed at the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Trapping course offered

Once again the Cornwall District Ministry of Natural Resources will be offering the Fur Harvest, Fur Management and Conservation Course.

This course is aimed at and will give preference to the novice trapper. A miximum of 30 candidates can be accepted for the course and selection will be on a first come basis.

The course is aimed at achieving the following three basic objectives:

1. Promote humane trapping.
2. Teach novice trappers: trapping efficiency and methods.
3. Instruct trappers in modern fur management practices.

The course will be held at St. Lawrence College Cornwall Campus beginning September 2.

The course will run for nine consecutive weeks, each Wednesday evening from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. A tuition fee of $75 will be charged.

Upon successfully completing the course each student will receive a certificate which is required by law for all first time trappers in order to obtain a resident trapper's licence.

All candidates wishing to attend this course should contact: The Ministry of Natural Resources, Cornwall District Office, The Fish & Wildlife Section, 113 Amelia Street, P.O. Box 1749, Cornwall, Ontario, K6H 5V7, (613) 933-1774.

Applications should be in no later than August 7, 1981.

Mrs. Elsie MacCrimmon has returned home after spending a month out west where she visited with her son John, at Grande Prairie, Alta., her brother Stanley Pollard and family at Salmon Arm, BC, and her sister, Beth Frith and her family.

Visiting with Noel and Annie Ladouceur and Lucien, on the weekend from Middlebury, Vermont, were Moses and Margaret Cameron and their son Michael Cameron, and Caroline Costello, Bill and Doris De Voide, and Barbara Bushy. Other callers from Alexandria were Joey and Helen Van De Ligt, Roger and Anne Ladouceur, Jamie, Michael and Patsy; John and Sue Cullen and baby John of Glen Robertson, and Yvon and Barbara Ladouceur and Gabriel of Green Valley also visited with them.

Visiting with John and Marion Loewen on the weekend were Murdie Clark of Kemptville, and Edwin and Marianne Collin, David and Michael of Greely. Stopping in on Sunday to visit his father was John Loewen of Lunenburg, and also Steve Thomas.

Marion Loewen visited with her mother, Mrs. Minna Hampel and her uncle Reinhold Scheuneman, of the Miramichi Lodge in Pembroke. She also visited her aunt, Miss Emma Hampel, and uncle, Pat Hampel while in Pembroke.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Chisholm for a few days was Catherine Ververs of Rochester, NY.

Mrs. Bella MacIntosh has her sister Mrs. Jessie MacGillivray of Cornwall spending a few days with her. They plan to take in the Games.

Horse Club meets

The July meeting for the Stormont 4-H Horse Club was held at the farm of Frank Dupuis. A total of 17 members were in attendance.

Members were asked to judge a class of horses and a class of hay. This was in preparation for judging day which was held on July 22 at Williamstown.

Then, everyone went inside and the business part of the meeting commenced with the 4-H pledge. Beverly Eamer was president for this meeting. A major topic was the float for the Holstein Centennial parade at Newington Fairgrounds. Afterwards, a snack was served.

The next meeting will be held at the farm of Frank Dupuis on August 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Died at 54 in Michigan

Kenneth M. Hanley of West Bloomfield, Michigan, died on July 14 in Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn, Mich., after a lengthy illness. He was 54.

Kenneth was born in Glen Robertson and was educated in Glen Robertson Public School and Alexandria High School before joining the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1942. During World War II he served in the Canadian Army Tank Corp 1944-45. In 1948 he joined the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway in Montreal. Later, he served in various capacities in Chatham, Ont., and Grand Rapids, Mich. In 1969 he was transferred to the Company's Head Office in Detroit as Assistant Regional Sales manager.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lillian Hamill, his three sons Ross and Jamie at home and Lorne of Birmingham, Mich., and one daughter Mrs. Virginia Wilson of Grand Rapids, Mich.

His mother, Mrs. Grace Hanley-Stewart and a brother Robinson of Winchester, Ont., also survive. He was predeceased by another brother Urquhart in July 1977.

He was buried at Pine Lake Cemetery, West Bloomfield, on Friday, July 17.

In Memoriam

MacCRIMMON, Donald A.—who passed away August 7, 1977.
Sadly missed along life's way,
Quietly remembered every day;
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just all his days,
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Ever remembered by Nancy and David Baird. 31-1p

MacCRIMMON—In loving memory of a dear brother D. A. MacCrimmon (Donald Archibald) who passed away accidentally in Glengarry Memorial Hospital 4 years ago August 7, 1977.
We did not see him die,
We weren't allowed in his room;
He didn't deserve what he went through.
If all the world was mine to give,
I'd give it, yes and more,
To see his happy face come smiling through the door.
Had you received special care,
you should have lived a few more years.
The joys that he missed on life's highway,
May he find in God's garden.
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
—Always remembered and sadly missed by Jessie. 31-1p

MacCRIMMON, Donald Archibald—Died August 7, 1977 in Glengarry Memorial Hospital accidentally.
Beautiful memories are wonderful things,
They last till the longest day.
They never wear out, they never get lost,
And can never be taken away.
Your thoughtful ways and your ready smile,
Are memories that always stay.
—Always remembered by Stewart and Elsie Urquhart. 31-1p

DEWAR—In fond and loving memory of a dear brother, Roderick F. Dewar, who passed away August 20, 1979.
We cannot read God's purpose,
But there will come a day
When God will make us understand,
Why he was called away.
—D. F. Dewar family. 31-1p

THANK you to St. Jude for two favors obtained. C. L. 31-1p

NOVENA—O Holy Saint Jude, apostle and martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, the faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg you to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I propose to make your name known and cause your name to be invoked. Three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys, three Glorias. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Publication must be promised. This Novena has never been known to fail. Publication promised. H. J. 31-1p

Medical team checks St. Regis Indians for fluoride poisoning

An American medical team is at St. Regis Village on the St. Regis Mohawk Reserve carrying out a range of tests on reserve residents, testing for the effects of fluoride and other pollutants.

In recent years there has been great concern among reserve residents about fluoride pollution drifting from the Reynold's Metal Company aluminum smelter about 12 kilometres upriver on the New York State side of the St. Lawrence River.

So this summer, working under a $1.6 million Canadian government grant, 16 doctors and support staff from Mount Sinai School of Medicine in the city of New York are putting anxious St. Regis residents through four-hour physical examinations that include everything from routine urinalysis to tests on hair and fingernail samples.

The medical team, as well as seeking evidence of fluoride poisoning, is testing for traces of mirex, mercury and polychlorinated biphenals (PCBs), discharged into the St. Lawrence and its tributaries from factories and farm fields.

The team has turned the St. Regis Village school, emptied now of its students for the summer, into a field hospital jammed with equipment and personnel.

According to Dr. William Nicholson, associate director of the study, about 75 adults and 20 teenagers came in to be tested each day during the first series of testing earlier this month. Testing is due to resume for a week in August.

The tests given include blood tests, fat biopsies on subjects who eat lots of fish caught in the St. Lawrence, thorough general check-ups, oral and dental examinations, chest x-rays and nerve function studies.

High exposure to fluoride was recognized as a hazard of life on the 2,300 resident reserve as long as 10 years ago, when heavy staining on the teeth of local cattle became apparent.

A Cornell University consultant diagnosed the disease as fluorosis caused by contamination of the cattle's forage with fluorides.

NEWS FROM MAXVILLE

by Velma Franklin

GAMES VISITORS

Games weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Osie F. Villeneuve were their sons Ronald of Dalhousie, NB and F. B. Villeneuve of Ottawa.

Walter Smillie of Sarnia was in town over the weekend visiting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Colbran and family of Stittsville spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Urquhart.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Franklin and family were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turvolgye and Stephen of Beaconsfield, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Reid of Ottawa, and cousins Ila and Byron Gordon of Pendleton. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Franklin also enjoyed a short holiday at Christie's Lake, Perth, with Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin.

Weekend visitors with Rev. and Mrs. E. N. McColl were Mrs. Jessie Lucas of Glen Robertson, Mrs. Neil McColl and Mrs. Evelyn Gordon of Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brunton, Miss Hazel Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Purdy, all of Carleton Place.

The annual Pre-Games concert continues to gain in popularity—a record crowd again turned out Friday night to enjoy a preview, with additional attractions, of the next day's events. Games chairman Angus H. McDonell welcomed everyone, and thoughtfully expressed the committee's thanks to Divine Providence for ideal weather conditions. Brooke McNabb, well-known TV personality and MC for the evening, introduced the bands as they wheeled onto the infield, led by Pipe-Majors J. T. MacKenzie and John Beasley. These were the Frasers of Montreal, the Canadian Legion and Optimists of Cornwall, the Port Hope pipe band, the Cameron Highlanders, the Ottawa Police band, the Ogilvy band of Ottawa, and the Canadian Forces Vimy Military Band. Tunes in their medleys included "Earl of Mansfield," "When the Battle is O'er" and "The Green Hills." A long line of Highland dancers in their colorful plaids went through their paces to the tunes "Orange and Blue Strathspey" and "The Barren Rocks." The bands retired and the 48 members of the Scottish Country Dancers came out to form a St. Andrew's cross on the infield. Their performances are wonderfully graceful, all the men in kilts and the ladies in summer gowns with shoulder sashes, sometimes stepping with slow and measured pace, then picking up speed for a reel. The finale "Lord of the Dance" brought prolonged applause from the packed grandstand.

MC McNabb asked the traditional question—"Where are you from?" and was answered with roars of Glengarry! Ottawa! Cornwall! the USA! and of course Scotland.

Glengarry's famous musical family came next—the Morrises, with five brothers and three sisters doing thoroughly professional arrangements of "Westering Home" a medley from Brigadoon, and the Beggarman, and finally "Annie Laurie." The stage was then taken by eight violinists from the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society, with three sets from their new record album just recently released. As always "Big John McNeil" was the tune that had every toe in the audience tapping.

The star of the show came next—Catherine McKinnon of Cape Breton, a petite lady with a powerful, husky voice, singing happily about "my part of the country" — "Farewell to Nova Scotia" the haunting "Eriskay Love Lilt" and the rollicking "Thorn in my Shoe," and a lovely old Cape Breton lullaby.

The Glengarry Pipe Band marched in again, to the welcome only accorded native sons, and did stirring arrangements of "The Burning of St. Raphael's" and "Shenandoah" with Sharon MacDonell accompanying at the organ. Robin Upton and Garry Matthews, long-time favorite singers and old friends, came on with jokes and laughter—Robin with a lively "Donald! Where's Yer Trousers?" and Garry with "Take me Back" and "Let's Have a Ceilidh." The infield became a whirling mass of color as the Rae MacCulloch dancers did the "Swords of Glengarry." Then for the first time the step dancers were able to go through their paces competently on the heavy turf—each one dancing to the fiddlers' tunes on her own small portable platform. In a brilliant finale each dancer produced a small flag from her sleeve—the Scottish lions and the Maple Leaf.

Then came a solo band performance by the 32 members of the Canadian Forces Vimy Military Band, very smart in black and gold and their instruments glittering in the floodlights. They had several rousing medleys, a trumpet special and some great drumming which the audience obviously enjoyed. Catherine McKinnon came out again, informal and friendly, and sang the popular "Mull of Kintyre" then a beautiful old children's song—"Sitting on your Mammy's Knee," and wound up with "Nova Scotia" and all the audience joining in. She started off the grand finale with "Amazing Grace" and all the bands, dancers and fiddlers drawn up in formation on the infield. The Vimy Band played "Nightfall in Camp" and "The Last Post," as the floodlit flag was slowly lowered, and several thousand people stood for "O Canada" and "Star-Spangled Banner."

MAXVILLE BIBLE SCHOOL GETS UNDERWAY NEXT WEEK

The Vacation Bible School will soon be getting underway at the Maxville United Church. This starts on Monday, August 10, and finishes on Friday the 14, with an Open House that evening at 8 p.m. All community children between the ages of four and 14 are welcome to attend this program—1:30 to 4 p.m. each day—of singing, Bible stories, crafts and games.

Out-of-town dancers claim top awards

Dancers from Ottawa, Delta, BC, and Winnipeg, made away with the top awards at the Glengarry Highland Games last Saturday.

Jennifer Paterson of Ottawa won the Molson Trophy for the best dancer, 17 years of age or older, Suzanne Crix of Delta, BC, won the Barton Trophy for the best dancer, 16 and under, Myrna MacMillan of Ottawa and Kim Kerr of Winnipeg shared the MacDougall Trophy for those 13 and under and Jillian Currie of Winnipeg took the MacGregor Trophy for those 10 and under.

Lorna Cameron, Miss Keily and Miss Nuttall came first, second and third in Highland Fling, 16 and under. Miss Cameron, Mary Ann Kuntz and Miss Nuttall placed one, two and three in the Sailor's Hornpipe, 16 and under.

In the 13 and under group: Anne Marie Tallon, Myrna MacMillan and Kim Kerr placed one, two and three in the Irish Jig; Myrna and Heather MacMillan and Leslie Nichol took first, second and third in the Sailor's Hornpipe; Kim Kerr, Karen Schick and Myrna MacMillan lined up one, two, three in the Highland Fling results; Myrna MacMillan, Kim Kerr and Tara Lee Guindon were first, second and third; and in the Seann Triubhas Kim Kerr, Leslie Nichol and Tara Lee Guindon came off in the one, two and three spots.

In the 10 and under group: Jeannette Tikhane, Jillian Currie and Jennifer Varns came first, second and third in the Irish Jig; Jillian Currie, Alison Tanner and Keri-Lynne Carson filled the one, two and three spots in the Sailor's Hornpipe; Jillian Currie, Jennifer Varns and Jeannette Tikhane placed first, second and third in the Highland Fling; Alison Tanner, Jillian Currie and Jeannette Tikhane were one, two and three in the sword dance; and Jillian Currie, Jennifer Varns and Tanya Turner were first, second and third in the Seann Triubhas.

Maxville man found drowned

Lab tests are being conducted into the road-side death of a Maxville man.

Quebec Provincial Police says Ron Chisholm, 46, was found at dawn Friday lying face-down in a municipal drain near St. Clet.

An autopsy revealed that Mr. Chisholm died by drowning.

Police said Mr. Chisholm's pick-up truck was found about 1,000 feet from the body.

Bank receives threat

The Bank of Nova Scotia in Alexandria was evacuated for a half hour last Wednesday while town police searched the building following a bomb threat.

No device was found.

The threat was phoned in about 1:55 p.m. by a man who spoke English without an accent, a teller reported.

Third Fair race pays tribute to Tom Longboat

by Bob Nicholls

Lou Marsh, a turn of the century sports writer, reported that Tom Longboat ran seven miles (of a 14-mile run) in 34:20 while preparing for the 1908 Olympic Marathon. Significantly none of the more than 100 runners who will run this year's Fair Race (seven miles) will approach Tom Longboat's time for the same distance.

Nearly 75 years later we find that Tom Longboat's records are still competitive today. He set nine world records as an amateur. For example, he ran five miles in 24.33:14 and 10 miles in 50:30—good times even by today's standards.

The third Annual Great Raisin River Foot Race will be held Sunday, August 9 at 10 a.m., in conjunction with the Williamstown Fair. The awarding of the Tom Longboat Trophy, donated by Harry I. Price of Toronto, will once again pay tribute to one of Canada's greatest distance runners.

The 11.4 km course is both scenic and challenging. It has fast become one of the most popular foot races in Eastern Ontario. This year contingents of runners will be entering from such places as Toronto, Ottawa and Ogdensburg.

Of special interest this year will be the presence of the Longboat Runners Club of Toronto which will be donating a trophy to the top female runner. They are attending because the race is the only one in the province to honor the legendary Tom Longboat.

By far the largest contingent of runners will be from the host club—Seaway Valley Runners. The Great Raisin River Foot Race has now become the most important event on the club's yearly calendar.

Hawkesbury runners plan half marathon

A group of Hawkesbury runners have organized a half marathon for Sunday, August 23. The 13-mile run will be called "La Foulee."

The race is scheduled three weeks prior to the Montreal Marathon, because race organizers hope to attract serious runners preparing for the Montreal race.

The marathon will start at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday morning. Registration for the event will take place from 7-8 a.m. at the Hawkesbury Sports Complex and will cost $7. Pre-registration will take place from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, August 1 at the complex. People may also register by phoning (632-8959) or (632-8250). The race field has been limited to 150 competitors.

Prior to the start of the race a "popular mile" run will be held to get less advanced runners involved, said a race organizer.

The honorary president for the event will be Marcel Jobin, an Olympic Games competitor in walking races and he will be accompanied by Claude Lafreniere, one of Quebec's top marathon runners.

Hawaii beats England

Glengarry Stars who participated in the Royal Hawaiian World Soccer Crown this spring defeated the 1971 version of the Stars who toured England, 3-1, on Sunday afternoon at the Island Park field in Alexandria.

John MacPherson provided the Hawaiian punch with two goals and Pierre Theoret netted a third goal. With ten minutes remaining Team England's Barry MacSweyn came out of nowhere to break the Hawaiian's shutout on a breakaway.

In reviewing the game, soccer experts on the sidelines felt the Hawaiians were more acclimatized to the heat as a result of their recent tour and the England team may have eaten too much haggis on the day previous at the Maxville Highland Games.

Both teams attended a luau at the home of Kathleen and Tom Lowe following the match.

Hunters drawn for moose hunt

A controlled moose hunt, limited to 2,305 Ontario resident hunters, will be held in the Hearst-Kapuskasing and Chapleau areas of Northern Ontario this fall.

The participants of this hunt were chosen from 8,500 applicants in a computerized draw held on May 6 by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Licence validation stickers were mailed on May 12 to those selected. The hunt will be limited to 1,200 sportsmen in Wildlife Management Unit 23 (Hearst-Kapuskasing) and 1,105 in Unit 31 (Chapleau).

Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope said this was in accordance with controlled hunting practice, "to relieve pressure on the moose herd in that part of the province."

Mr. Pope said that ministry staff in Northern Ontario are optimistic about the success of the program.

"Since it began two years ago, the reduction of hunters in Unit 23 achieved our targeted annual kill of 110 animals, less than half of 1978's harvest," the minister added.

He said hunters were extremely pleased with the less crowded conditions.

An aerial survey of moose last winter in Unit 23 showed the herd there had increased by about 16 per cent since controlled hunts began.

Duchesneau wins

Rick Duchesneau of Vankleek Hill won the Alexandria Open in a playoff with Rick Greer of Cornwall after both golfers finished the 18-hole tourney with rounds of 74 on Sunday at the Glengarry Golf course.

Duchesneau took the tournament title on the second hole of the playoff when he birdied out. He was presented a set of Wilson Staff irons for his victory. Greer was recognized as the "A" low gross winner.

Mike Bellefeuille won the "B" class low gross with a sparkling 75 while Bernard Lalonde took the "C" class low gross prize with a score of 87. Dougal MacGillivray won the "D" class low gross with a 90.

The tournament which had more than $1000 worth of prizes donated by Alexandria merchants, businessmen and the town itself attracted a field of 87 players.

The second round of the club championship will be held on Sunday with Rick Duchesneau holding a slim one-stroke lead over three other club members, Cameron Ward, Syd Burwash and Rejean Theoret.

Char-Lan player invited to camp

A Williamstown midget-aged hockey player has been invited to attend the Hockey Ontario Leadership Program which will be held during the third week of August at Queen's University in Kingston.

Neil Sandilands, 16, of Williamstown, was among 12 hockey players selected to attend the camp from the Ottawa District Hockey Association. A press release from the Hockey Ontario Development Committee reports that 32 applications were reviewed for the district.

A total of 68 players from across the province have been selected to attend this elite program camp.

From the total number of midget players attending the camp, four forwards, three defencemen and one goalie will be invited to remain on the university campus for the national camp—another week of instruction at the expense of CAHA and Hockey Ontario.

There will be five other similar camps held throughout Canada in order to select the top midget-aged players in the country. Thirty-four players will be selected for the national camp with each region or province allotted a certain number of positions, said Dick Courdick, development co-ordinator for Hockey Ontario.

Neil played defence for the Char-Lan Rebels in the Eastern Ontario Jr. "B" Hockey League last year and was drafted this year by the Brockville Braves of the Central Junior Hockey League.

Neil confirmed that he would be attending the camp.

The only other player selected from the area was Allister Brown, 15, of South Branch Road in Cornwall who played centre for the Cornwall "A" Midgets last season.

Dalton Gadbois, vice-president of development for the ODHA and chairman of the selection committee, emphasized that selection of candidates was based on character assessment as well as hockey ability. He said the candidates applying for the camp were judged on the basis of leadership, scholastic and hockey achievements.

Neil said he was not quite sure what the camp would consist of but an information release from Hockey Ontario said the program will be 72 hours of on and off ice sessions.

The participants will be lectured on topics such as physiology, nutrition, psychology, junior hockey, professional hockey and player agents.

It is hoped that the program will serve as a training pool for future international hockey players for service on national and Olympic teams.

During the same time period a camp will be held for junior-aged players.

Town tennis club will hold tourney

The Alexandria Tennis Club will be holding its first major singles tournament of the season on Friday and Saturday. The tournament, the "Sauve Real Estate Alexandria Tennis Open" will be an annual event.

Categories for the competition include mens, ladies, boys and girls under the age of 13 years. There will be an entry fee of $2 for adults and $1 for youths. Registration deadline is set for 6 p.m. on Thursday.

Players may register by calling Maurice Sauve at 525-2940 or dropping in at 39 Main Street North.

Trophies will be awarded for the champions of both the "A" and "B" division, as well as to the finalists.

Twenty men players have already signed up for the tourney, reports organizer Maurice Sauve. Mr. Sauve added that he hopes anyone else who swings a racket shall sign up for a little friendly competition.

Two other tournaments will be held by the club before the conclusion of the season.

Harrington reigns supreme in Maxville heavy events

Dave Harrington of Old Chelsea, Quebec, lived up to his billing as Canada's top Scottish heavy events competitor in Maxville on Saturday.

Harrington, who recently came fourth in the world championships held in Melbourne, Australia, came first in all seven events to win the grand championship with the maximum number of points, 49.

The events tabulated for the championship included the stone throw, caber toss, 56-pound distance throw, 28-pound distance throw, 56-pound height toss, 22-pound hammer throw and 16-pound hammer throw.

In only one other event entered by Harrington did he not manage a first-place finish. John Lundstrum of Southern Ontario won first place in the sheaf toss- an event not counted toward the grand championship. Harrington placed second.

Wayne Thompson of Antigonish, N.S. came second in total points with 26; Mike Mulligan of Boston Mass., third with 21 points; John Lundstrum, fourth with 19 points; George Chiappa of Ottawa, fifth with 12 points; Joe Burke of Ottawa and John MacDonald of Syracuse, N.Y. tied for sixth spot with eight points apiece.

In the caber toss event, Harrington extended his reign as title holder of the event to six consecutive years.

A 22-foot caber was initially used in the event but no one in the field of competitors managed to register a good throw. After one foot of the caber was cut off, Harrington completed a successful toss to win the event.

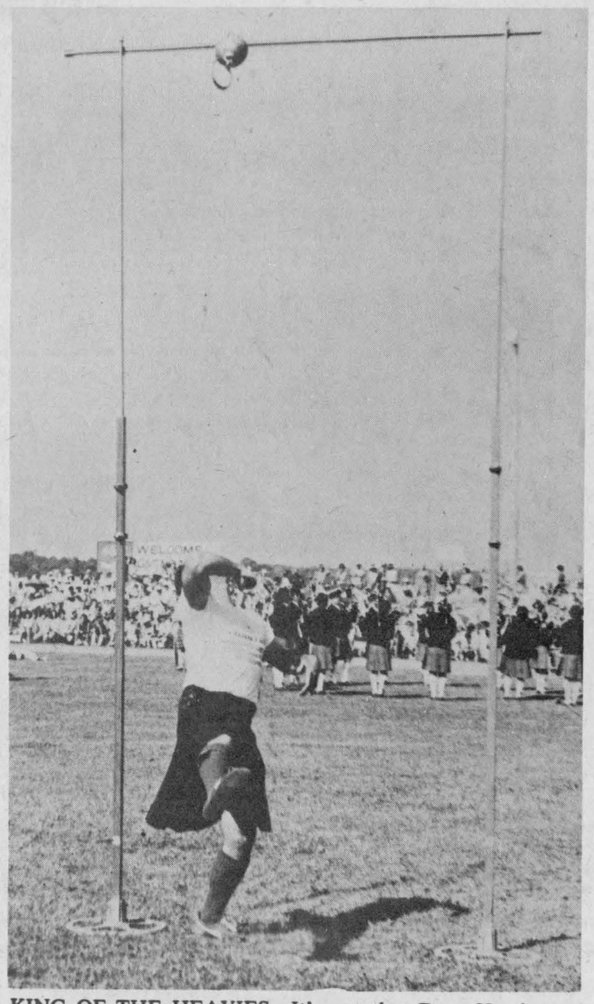
John MacDonald placed second in the event with a toss of the 20-foot caber and John Lundstrum placed third.

In the track and field events, Linda Vanderwielen of Maxville took the top female athlete and Kerry Munro won the top male award. Both were junior-aged competitors.

For Linda it was her second Highland Games award for top female athlete, having won the trophy last year. She won first place ribbons in the following junior events: 100-metre, 200-metre, 400-metre, 800 metre open, long jump and high jump.

Kerry ran to three first-place finishes in the 100-metre, 200-metre and 400-metre events and also won a third-place finish in the triple jump.

Complete results of the heavy events and track and field events will be carried in next week's edition of The Glengarry News.



KING OF THE HEAVIES—It's not that Dave Harrington doesn't carry around a lot of weight on his frame—all of it muscle—but the heavies that he is king of are not people but events. At this year's Glengarry Highland Games in Maxville, as at last year's Games and as at a great number of Highland games around the world, Mr. Harrington swept the heavy events—the various weight tosses, the stone and caber tosses and the hammer throw.

Staff Photo—Jamie McDonell

'B&B' boys lose out in 'A' final

Stittsville "CDS Rentals" defeated Alexandria "B&B" Market in the "A" final of the Alexandria Bantam Fastball Tournament on Sunday evening with two key runs in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The two pitchers, Rob Rattlay of Stittsville and Guy Quesnel of Alexandria, were recognized for their superb efforts in the final and presented MVP awards.

In the "B" final Cornwall defeated Hawkesbury 14-1 to win the consolation hardware.

Alexandria reached the finals by virtue of a preliminary round win over Cornwall and a semi-final victory over Queenswood by identical 8-7 scores.

Stittsville's march to victory included a 10-6 decision over Hawkesbury in the preliminary game which took 10 innings to decide and they then went on to demolish Orleans 14-1 to earn a berth in the "A" finals.

Last week will decide playoff picture

Heading into the last week of play in the Glengarry Soccer League Men's Senior Division, little has been decided as far as final standings are concerned.

Glen Sandfield, Greenfield and the Glengarry Stars are tied for first place with 20 points but Glen Sandfield hold one game in hand. Meanwhile, Pine Grove and Glen Nevis are battling for a final playoff spot with both clubs having 15 points, but Glen Nevis holding one game in hand. The two teams were to meet in a crucial contest on Tuesday evening at the Island Park.

Pine Grove resurfaced with two crucial wins over Lochiel and a much-improved Dunvegan squad to stay in contention during the week's play.

MONDAY, AUGUST 3
DUNVEGAN 4,
ALEXANDRIA 3

Eddie DeWitt, a powerful centre forward for the Pioneers, drove in two goals to lead Dunvegan to their fourth win of the season.

Keith Massia and Findlay MacDonell counted the two other Dunvegan goals. John Wood scored twice for the Drillers and Ken Barton added a single.

Pioneers held a 2-1 half-time lead.

FRIDAY, JULY 31
PINE GROVE 3, LOCHIEL 1

Pine Grove won their second game of the week with a big three-goal first half. Roy MacMaster, Kennedy MacDonald and Stanton MacDonald scored for the Grove.

Glen Hay counted Lochiel's goal.

THURSDAY, JULY 30
GREENFIELD 2,
GLEN NEVIS 1

John Morris finished off a picture play by heading the ball into the net with less than five minutes remaining to give Greenfield their 10th win of the season.

On the winning goal Frank Morris crossed a ball from the right wing which Donnie Morris headed back to John, who in turn hit the net. Up to that point the clubs were even in play with both teams missing good scoring opportunities.

Greenfield opened the scoring with a goal by Donnie Morris but Ewen McLeod came back to tie the game five minutes later when he knocked in a rebound.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29
STARS 3, GLEN
SANDFIELD 2

Danny O'Connor scored off a corner kick late in the game to give the Stars a victory over Glen Sandfield.

Gordon MacPherson and Pierre Theoret exchanged goals in the first half giving a 1-1 tie at the half. Tom Lowe put the Stars ahead in the second half but Gary Myers tied the match to set the stage for O'Connor's winner.

TUESDAY, JULY 28
PINE GROVE 2, DUNVEGAN 1

Dale Munro scored a late goal to win the game for Pine Grove.

The clubs were tied 1-1 at the half with Eddie DeWitt scoring for Dunvegan and Dale Munro for Pine Grove.

FOCUS

by Anne McRae

Louder!

After a long weekend of sunshine, music and celebrations, we all need a little time to get back into our regular routines. I thought I'd take the slow approach, by reading a couple of newspapers, sipping some lemonade and enjoying a sunny Monday.

Alas, reading newspapers these days is a dangerous thing to do; the shock is bad for the heart.

What shocked me so badly was a report on Postmaster General Andre Ouellet's comments about businessmen and the mail strike.

Mr. Ouellet said to reporters in Montreal Thursday night, "I can't accept that businessmen have to rely on the Post Office to make a living. If they do, they better find other ways".

Indeed.

What Mr. Ouellet is saying is: Don't count on your government.

It's not a message that inspires hope, is it?

Businessmen across Canada were inflamed by Mr. Ouellet's remarks, says John Bullock, president of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business. In a telegram to Prime Minister Trudeau (who is out of the country) Mr. Bullock suggests that Mr. Ouellet should be removed from his post saying that, "Thousands of businesses in Canada are being irreparably damaged by yet another mail strike and your minister, in effect, says let them eat cake."

In a press release issued by the Prime Minister's office last week, it was reported that only a "handful" of complaints have been received about the strike. A few phone calls and some telegrams have come in, but "nothing of consequence". Maybe the prime minister's office doesn't realize that letters of complaint (much less expensive than phone calls and telegrams) can't get through. The astounding conclusion is then drawn that people obviously "aren't very upset" about the strike.

Well now, maybe we had better let the powers that be know that we are indeed "upset". Contrary to Mr. Ouellet's remarks, businesses are being adversely affected—most notably, any business that depends almost exclusively on mail orders. Already three large magazines that I know of have suspended publication. No doubt they could borrow to stay alive, but with interest rates at 21.75% caution is advisable. Besides, banks may be sympathetic but they're cautious too.

The most significant effect of the postal strike on small businesses is that money simply isn't coming in. Mr. Ouellet may find this hard to believe, but most people pay by mail. And most businesses depend on that cash flow to keep things on an even keel. Unlike the federal government small businesses aren't immortal; and unlike the federal government, a small business cannot run while accumulating a larger and larger deficit.

The two parties involved in this dispute are negotiating right now. Mr. Ouellet's remarks don't help. If he doesn't think the postal service should be relied upon, maybe he should get out of the business. Those of us who can more realistically appraise the value of an efficient mail service could no doubt do a better job.

You know, there are ways of registering your protests. Contact your local MP and let him/her know how you feel. Let your politicians know that mail service is essential. And do it loudly so as to remove any doubts from their minds.

And if you don't want to do that, then you can just sit back and take it. Perhaps you think protests won't make any difference. I think they will. But they'll have to be loud, in order to penetrate the rarified atmosphere on Parliament Hill.

BEAUPRE—PICHIE

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Beaupré of R.R.2 Williamstown announce the engagement of their daughter, Lyse to Clarence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pichie of Cornwall. The marriage will take place at St. Raphael's Church on August 15 at 4 p.m.

Museum now displaying David Thompson map

The Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum has announced that its copy of the map of the North West Territory of the Province of Canada, surveyed and charted by David Thompson, is now mounted and on display in the museum at Williamstown.

The map is a gift from the Beaver Club of Glengarry, in memory of Ian McMartin, first chairman of the museum committee.

Last week, members of the museum committee prepared a seven-foot by 11-foot wooden panel upon which, John Barton, a friend of the museums, mounted the map on Saturday.

The museum's map is a direct photographic copy of the original map which this year was hung in the foyer of the Archives of Ontario Building in Toronto.

Other historic maps in the museum's collection include a copy of the original loyalist plan for settlement surveyed and drawn by Patrick McNiff and presented to Sir John Johnson November 1, 1786, one of the few surviving editions of "The Map of the Counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell, Canada West, 1862," surveyed by O. W. Gray and published by D. P. Putnam, and a large mural map of the voyageurs routes across Canada.

David Thompson, an experienced surveyor and astronomer, was hired by the North West Trading Company in 1797 to survey and explore the area of the 49th parallel and note the positions of the fur trading posts, and determine which ones fell in the area now owned by the new United States of America. To this end, he travelled over 50,000 miles, in canoe, on horseback, and on foot.

He also used information gathered from the preceding journeys of Phillip Turnor, Alexander MacKenzie and John Stewart.

His accuracy in charting the regions he travelled has earned him the title "The Greatest Land Geographer of North America."

The map was hung in Fort William in 1814. It clearly showed the discoveries and possessions of the North West Trading Company, and the position of its 74 posts.

It was also, incidentally, the first map ever charted of Western North America.

It is an illustration of how the explorations and discoveries of the Nor'Westers laid the foundation for a British dominion which stretched from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

David Thompson continued his career of surveying after he left the North West Company upon completion of the map. For 11 years he worked on the British American Boundary Survey employed by both governments as the American government had not been able to locate anyone else with the necessary qualifications.

He then moved his family to Williamstown where he had a private surveying and engineering office.

In the latter years of his life, he suffered many setbacks. His efforts to set his five sons up in business all eventually failed and he paid off the debts they had incurred. He had loaned a large sum of money to the Presbyterian church in Williamstown which was never repaid.

In the 1840's he began to go blind, and the British government, inexplicably refused his application for a pension. He died penniless in Longueuil in 1857 in the company of Charlotte Small, his Metis wife of 58 years.

Room shortage is feared at SLC

An increase of about 400 students in the enrollment of the St. Lawrence College Cornwall Campus could cause a number of those students to be wandering the streets of Cornwall searching for places to lay their heads.

The college indicates that its 144-bedroom residence has been filled for weeks and that the waiting list for the residence was shut off when it reached 100.

The college will, however, be compiling a list of available housing in Cornwall by August 1. Students may then contact landlords about renting accommodations.

The college is looking for almost every type of accommodation, including rooms or room and board. Some students wil want to get together and rent an apartment.

While the college charges $440 per semester for residence rooms, off-campus rental prices are set by individual landlords.

People with accommodations to rent can register with the college by calling residence master Eric Harps at the college residence office during regular business hours.

Local colt does well in Toronto

A yearling colt bred in Glengarry county placed second in his line class at the prestigious Amberwood Breeders Show in Toronto on July 6.

The colt, named Valke, was bred by Mr. and Mrs. R. Rothgeb at their Hopewell Farm, located in the Seventh Concession of Lancaster.

Valke is an Anglo-Trakehner; that is, his sire is the imported West German Trakehner stallion Kenner, and his mother the Canadian Thoroughbred mare Valarctic. Valke is owned by Mrs. Lis Steacie of Kingston.

Help for children is now available

Is your child's development giving you cause for concern? Do you perhaps feel he is not walking, talking or maturing at a "normal" rate? Is your child experiencing problems with his school work? Has your child been diagnosed developmentally handicapped or mentally retarded? If you have answered yes to any of these questions, you may find it worthwhile to contact the Developmental Services Program office located at Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

This bilingual, free service, which began in September 1978, serves Glengarry County and is staffed by two trained counsellors: Cathy MacDonald and Maurice Fontaine. They may be reached weekdays at 525-2222 or 528-4442. Visits in the home are arranged to determine the situation and develop a working plan to assist the child. Referrals to the Developmental Services Program are accepted from parents, interested individuals, schools, agencies and professionals.

Machinery cannot think —It does only what it's "told"

by United Co-operatives of Ontario

Tractors are real killers: Approximately 40 per cent of all farm fatalities in Ontario can be directly or indirectly linked to tractor operation. Over 70 per cent of all machinery deaths result from tractor accident.

Two in every three farm machinery accidents studied occurred as a result of the operator failing to completely shut off the machine bedore performing any inspection or other work on the unit—or else from operating the equipment without the proper shielding in place.

Safety surveys indicate that combines rank fourth in the total number of disabling injuries. About four in 10 combine accidents happened while the machine was harvesting; one-third while the machine was stopped and not running; one in five involved a stationary but running combine. Two-thirds of these accidents happened in the field, with the remainder occurring in driveways, machine sheds, lots and on roads.

Here's some of the typical machinery accident cases: Recognize any of your own faults?

Tractor operator struck by flying debris from pull-type rotary mower.

Caught in unguarded chain and sprocket while unloading bales into elevator.

Servicing hay baler and caught finger in unguarded gear.

Unplugging forage harvester blower discharge when hand slipped and struck unguarded rotor knife.

Unguarded post-driver plunger caught finger.

Stepped over or stood next to an unguarded PTO shaft: The lucky ones caught their clothing and were stripped. The not so lucky, were mutilated or strangled by the rotating shaft.

Pulled on V-belt to help start stalled conveyor and fingers were caught in the pulley.

Caught hand in snapping roll while attempting to remove stalks with machine running.

Operator struck by turning straw chopper blades while investigating reason for stoppage of straw discharge for a combine.

Caught finger between auger and hopper side while attempting to unclog conveyor.

Caught in guarded belt and pulley while lubricating running machine.

Caught leg in chain and sprocket as a result of operator attempting to stand on a shield not intended to serve as a platform.

Caught in machine because operator failed to make certain that everyone was clear before starting.

Picked up mower cutter-bar and failed to keep finger clear of knife.

Stepped on moving ear corn elevator to reclaim hand-fork and leg got caught in conveyor chain.

Remember!

Farm machinery accidents can be reduced through the use of the protective guards properly installed on the equipment.

Farm machinery accidents can be reduced by making certain that everyone is clear of the machine.

The Highway Traffic Act in Ontario specifies that a person must be 16 years of age in order to drive farm equipment on the highway. No driver's license is required as long as the operator is 16 years of age. Farm equipment operators under the age of 16 are allowed to drive directly across the road, not along the roadway.

Every tractor should carry a first-aid kit in a dustproof container. This allows you to promptly care for minor wounds and reduce the risk of infection. Emergency first-aid provisions can lessen injury severity—even save a life.

Farm machinery accidents can be reduced by your own attitude:

Being in a hurry, adverse weather conditions, operating long hours, excessive noise and distractons are all negative factors.

Other negative factors are illness, poor vision, slow reflexes, alcohol, inexperience, ignorance of safety rules or a negative attitude toward safety.

Knowledge, skill and common sense are your weapons in the war against farm machinery accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ames, Cindy, Tracy, Christina and David of Lorraine, Que., are spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. Betty Brown.

Mrs. Mary Margaret Kennedy, Cornwall, is up for a few days with the Claude MacNeil's.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Roy MacMillan were Doreen and George Carriere, David and Sandra, of Keswick, Ont., and Norman and Beth MacIntyre of Ottawa. Presently vacationing with her are Ransom and Shirley Nixon of Ottawa.

Real and Rose Seguin and Mario accompanied Maurice and Marie Claire Seguin to St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal recently; Marcial and Rita Seguin made up the rest of the party. Last Sunday, they spent the day at Upper Canada Village.

Kelly, Sean and Marty Chapman have returned home to St. Hubert after five days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman. Lynn Mulvaney visited them for the weekend, returning to Montreal Monday evening.

A while ago, we met Mrs. Claire Brabant of L'Orignal as a charming Tupperware representative. That party was at the home of Mrs. Arnold MacRae. We heard today that Mrs. Brabant has recently passed away, and her friends here wish to offer their sincere sympathy to her family.

MacDONALD—BOUGIE

Rev. Ross and Nancy MacDonald of Martintown are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter Ruth Anne to Pierre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bougie of RR1 Martintown. The wedding will take place at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, South Lancaster, on August 8 at 5 p.m.

Lovely wedding at St. Mary's Church

CARRIERE—DESAUTELS

A beautiful spring wedding took place at Ste. Mary's Church, Green Valley, on Saturday, April 25, when Guylaine Desautels was given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Desautels of RR#2, Green Valley, to Claude Carriere, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis Carriere of RR#2, Green Valley.

Rev. Gerald Poirier officiated. Soloist was Mrs. Diana Poirier, accompanied by Mrs. Noella Crevier at the organ.

The bride wore a white chiffon gown with lace and embroidered flowers on the neckline and on the full length sleeves. She carried a white fan with an orchid surrounded by small lilac mums, white stephanotis and memphis.

Sylvie Desautels, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; Lise Carriere, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Julie Charette, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The attendants wore lilac lace full length gowns. The flower girl wore a white chiffon full length dress with lilac trim.

Ronald Carriere, brother of the groom was best man; Yvan Desautels, brother of the bride was usher and Dominic Desautels, brother of the bride was ring bearer.

Following the reception at the Sports Palace in Alexandria the couple left for a boat cruise in the Bahamas and Miami.

Guests attending the ceremony came from Ottawa, Hull, Rockland, Quebec City, Chateauguay, Waterloo and surrounding area.

The couple are now residing in Ottawa.

Park News

Many of the activities planned for the first two weeks of July were very successful, thanks to a great turnout of enthusiastic kids. The girls' teams, however, have suffered from a lack of players. Remember, we depend on both the girls and the boys' to participate in order to make the summer months worthwhile.

On Wednesday, July 8, twenty boys and girls left the park at 12 for a bike hike, our destination being the airfield. The balmy weather and the enthusiastic group made this special event an enjoyable one for all.

The next special event of the summer was held on Wednesday, July 15. Thirty boys and girls boarded a bus heading for Disco Wheels and McDonald's in Cornwall. After a few spills and bruised knees, the kids as well as the leaders got the hang of roller skating and later, our supper at McDonald's satisfied our hearty appetites. It turned out to be quite a memorable day for everyone.

This week, our special event is a penny arcade at the Sports Palace on Wednesday, July 22 from 1 to 4. The famous fortune teller, Madame Mystique, will be revealing future happenings. There will also be different booths and a door prize. So kids, don't forget your pennies.

As usual, the weekly schedule includes games such as T-ball, soccer, softball, ball hockey, basketball and volleyball. On rainy days, the kids may come to the arena where in-door activities will be held. On Friday, July 24, a tennis tournament has been planned and on July 28 and 29, our annual campouts will be held. Permission forms for these special events can be picked up at the park office. Remember, if you have any further questions, please drop in and see us or don't hesitate to call (525-4016).

The success of these activities and special events depends on the participation of the children.

Martintown Rumor Mill

By Art Buckland

It seemed late, yet the sun was just breaking the blue horizon; thus was far too early for the good woman to serve me my freshly squeezed morning orange juice, and yet. I turned on CBC radio, but with the technicians on strike the time is not broadcast; soothing, uninterrupted music is the fare. Suddenly, I sat up, knocking the dog and cat off the bed and frightening the wife who was reading aloud to me.

The 11 o'clock rooster had just crowed. I checked and yes, it was the 11th hour, but why, with the sun just now risen? A binocular scan from the widow's walk atop our cupola solved the enigma of the time change. The Donald and Sylvia Thomson farm in Glen Falloch east, had erected a skyscraping blue silo which blocked out our early morn sun.

I rose in panic. Good lord! How will I ever get a day's work done, rising a whole hour later than customary. We have made the adjustment, however, by going to bed later and moving the clocks back.

FALLING DOLLAR

Is our dollar still too high in comparison with Uncle Sam? Canada is, after all only one-tenth their population, one-tenth their market and almost resourceless after selling off our trees, water and raw energy. Mr. Bouey and the government seem to agree, and are moving to hold the economy at a ten-cent dollar.

POST OFFICE

There has been no public outcry, according to Ottawa's post office spokesmen. Why should there be? Every inside postie deserves 17 not 16 weeks maternity leave of absence, increased holidays, a higher than North American average salary for unskilled labor, even higher than college and university graduates, a coffee break every 50 minutes and most of all government mismanagement.

Here is a letter written by a 10-year-old from Glengarry and shown to me by David Ingram who is travelling trans Canada collecting postal revolt complaints:

"I don't like the postal strike. I am not getting my magazines. I can't write to my grandmother. I can't send a birthday card to my great aunt and that makes her very sad."

SOCIAL CALENDAR

This weekend is always reserved for the St. Lawrence Valley's Williamstown Fair. The first fair was held in 1812, just as Napoleon was approaching Moscow, remember? President Robert MacDonell, secretary Ruth Mowat and the hard-working directors, have organized a great family program for August 7 to 9.

Friday: horse show, exhibits, evening free fun for all—tug-of-war, nail hammering (ladies and men), low sawing, bale toss; Saturday: horse, cattle, Dairy Princess show, mid-day feast served by the Martintown Women's Institute; Sunday: horse, sheep, goat, Jersey show, foot, bed race, and plenty more the whole weekend.

August 22, Janice Fourney and Robert Nixon are getting married. (Reception at yon Bonnie Glen). The good-looking Janice is the daughter of Mildred and Antoine Fourney of the Third, and sister of Thelma Dupuis, new mother of a boy last week.

Bob Piteau tells me that everyone will have "a h . . . of a time" at Cornwall's cornfest on August 20 to 23.

Chairman enjoyed tenure

"It cured my shyness," says retiring St. Lawrence College Board of Governors' Chairman, Joan Wills, of her eight years on the board.

Reviewing the personal growth she has experienced, Miss Wills referred to travel, public speaking and the opportunity to learn more about the college system as the highlights of her tenure.

"I would recommend to others that they let their names stand for appointment to St. Lawrence's board of governors," Miss Wills said. "I found it an excellent experience, a real way to contribute to our community."

Since she joined the board in 1973, Miss Wills has witnessed a growth in the complexity of the college's operations, characterized unfortunately by longer meetings.

"There is so much material to review for each meeting now" she observed, remembering at least one meeting that lasted well past midnight.

Help in wading through administrative and academic matters placed before the board at each meeting is provided by the college's president W. W. (Bill) Cruden, who serves as ex-officio member.

Executive summaries of reports, verbal presentations by faculty and administrative staff and carefully prepared agendas containing all supporting information make the board's job easier.

Miss Wills sees the board's relationship with the college's administration in a highly positive light.

"The president and all of the college's staff give us the information we need to function effectively," she said, citing in particular the annual board workshop.

The weekend session, held in early October each year, is the occasion for the board to explore major upcoming issues and to set the guiding principles used by St. Lawrence's staff and faculty in setting the year's administrative and academic goals.

During her eight years on the board and certainly through her year and a half as chairman, Miss Wills has made a real point to attend as many convocation ceremonies at the three campuses as she can. "I've missed very few," she said. "They are a real highlight for me, because, after all, those students receiving their diplomas and certificates are what the college is all about."

During her chairmanship Miss Wills had the opportunity to visit both Jamaica and Newfoundland to study two different approaches to community college education.

"In Jamaica, besides learning about technical and business training, I gained an appreciation of the frustrations foreign students often must feel when they come to Canada for their education," she said.

"Fresh from the tropics and planning to return, they must wonder at the relevance of studying frost tolerances of bridges, if they enroll in a Canadian civil technology program, for example!"

"All in all, my eight years were a very positive experience," Miss Wills said. "I have come to have the greatest respect for what the community colleges are trying to do."

Miss Wills, Reg. N., B.Sc., P.H.N., is the director of nursing for the Leeds, Grenville and Lanark District Health Unit in Brockville. She will be on leave from her job to pursue a masters degree in nursing, starting in the Fall of 1981.

Roundup®. It can be one of your most versatile tools.

Wherever you use it, Roundup® herbicide by Monsanto controls tough emerged weeds – right down to the roots – so they can't grow back. Yet Roundup has no carryover. And it won't wash or leach out of treated areas to injure crops or other desirable vegetation.

Reach for Roundup as an in-crop spot treatment for tough weeds like milkweed. Use it in orchards. Or for pasture renovation to clean quackgrass infestations out of forage crops. Use it after harvest to control quackgrass for easier tillage the following spring. And don't forget general farmyard cleanup around fencerows, headlands and buildings. In all kinds of places nothing works like Roundup.

Ayrshire Club celebrates 50th anniversary

by Lois Linttell

The Glengarry Ayrshire Club celebrated its 50th anniversary by holding a picnic at the farm of J. Carlyle Watt, Lancaster, Ontario on Saturday, July 11, 1981. The ladies of the club provided and served lunch. A brochure was handed out as a souvenir of the day and is available from the club executive.

The picturesque setting of Maple Crest Farm made it an ideal location for the 1981 festivities as it was at this same location in 1931 that a field day was held during the highly successful first year.

Chairman for the program was Donald J. McMaster, President of the Glengarry-Prescott Ayrshire Club (the Glengarry and Vankleek Hill Clubs amalgamated in January 1977 to form the Glengarry-Prescott Club). With the sun beaming overhead and the 200 in attendance comfortably seated under the Maple Crest shade trees the program began with the sound of bagpipes performed by three members of the Glengarry Pipe Band. Glen Smith, Agricultural Representative of Glengarry County, in the absence of Osie Villeneuve MPP Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, presented to J. Carlyle Watt a framed certificate on behalf of the Province of Ontario signed by William Davis to honor Mr. Watt for his outstanding contribution to the Ayrshire breed in Glengarry and in being one of the original founders of the club. Darryl McLeod entertained everyone with his violin aptly accompanied by his mother on the piano. Lyle McLaughlin had the opportunity to introduce the guest speaker the Honorable Ed Lumley, Minister of Trade for the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce in Ottawa. Mr. Lumley regaled everyone, with the trade business, in particular agricultural trade with other countries; of his trips abroad, and of receiving visiting ministers who are all extremely interested in Canada's agricultural products. He strongly impressed upon everyone that Canada is one of four countries in the world that can produce more food than it consumes. Having a summer residence at Lancaster puts him in the heart of Glengarry and he readily agreed Maple Crest Farm was indeed the most picturesque in the county. John Fourney thanked Mr. Lumley for attending, after which a 4-H Calf Show was held.

4-H members from both Glengarry and Prescott counties showed in conformation and showmanship classes ably judged by Roy Simmons, Finch. Top three, in the conformation class were Barbara Crawford, Marsha Bates and Jeff Newton; in the showmanship class Reigh Kilbride, Barbara Crawford and Marsha Bates. Ribbons were handed out by Miss Heather McRae, 1980-81 Glengarry Dairy Princess.

Miss McRae also had the pleasant task of presenting a bouquet of red roses to Martha Watt and a plaque with a tartan sash for Carlyle Watt, as a memento from Glengarry for the dedication and achievements over the years. Don MacGillivray then thanked the hosts.

Other speakers of the day were John McCaig, Secretary Manager of the Ayrshire Association of Canada; Ayrshire breeder Wyman McKechnie; past Glengarry Agricultural Representative John Dalrymple; Clark McCuaig, present president of the Glengarry Holstein Club; and Archie Roy, Ayrshire breeder from Howick, Que. John Fourney thanked all the speakers and everyone associated with the successful proceedings of the day.

The day of camaraderie and congratulations ended with three door prizes; the lucky numbers drawn belonged to John Bruce, Joyce Cumming and Stanley Kier.

Payment announced

The Ontario Agriculture and Food Ministry has announced a new $7 million, 1980 Beef Cattle Assistance Program for Stocker Cattle.

"High interest rates and increased operating costs have put many beef stocker feeders in a loss position, as have the negative margins between the per-pound price of cattle they bought as calves and the per-pound price when they were sold to beef producers last year," the minister, Lorne Henderson, said.

Eligible farmers will be paid $20 per head for qualified stocker cattle sold in 1980.

To qualify, Mr. Henderson said a farmer must have been an Ontario resident, bought the cattle as calves, fed them in Ontario for at least 150 days and sold them for finishing purposes in 1980. He must have sold at least 10 cattle to qualify for the grant and each beef stocker must weigh at least 600 lbs., live, when sold.

Application forms for the program will be available at Agricultural representative's offices in mid-August and must be submitted before November 30, 1981.

Farm injuries rise significantly in 1980

The Farm Safety Association has released a 10-year summary Ontario Agricultural Lost-Time Injuries (LTI):

Year	LTI	Year	LTI
1971	1,807	1976	1,936
1972	1,637	1977	2,078
1973	1,851	1978	2,314
1974	2,131	1979	2,200
1975	1,987	1980	2,650

10 year average = 2,059

—Thw Workmen's Compensation Board paid out $8,765,000 in benefits to injured agricultural workers in 1980.

—During 1980, 24,435 agricultural employers in Ontario reported hiring labor to the Workmen's Compensation Board.

—The average cost of an agricultural lost-time injury in 1980 was, $3,307 (approx.)

—Less than one per cent of the total number of agricultural employers in Ontario during 1980, accounted for 24 per cent of all agricultural lost-time injuries.

—In a poll including 277 farm related fatalities over a six-year period, 140 of the fatalities were tractor related, 93 of the deaths were caused by tractor rollovers.

—The month of August traditionally has more farm injuries than any other month, usually accounting for 20 to 25 per cent of all reported lost-time injuries.

—The tobacco, landscape-nursery and fruit and vegetable commodity groups accounted for 52 per cent of all agricultural lost-time injuries in Ontario during 1980.

—Strains and sprains, cuts and bruises accounted for ⅔ of the lost-time injuries in 1980.

—¼ of all the reported farm injuries in 1980 were equipment related.

—44 per cent of all agricultural lost-time injuries in 1980 happened to workers that were 25 years of age or less.

Agricultural News

by Jean-Denis Methot,
Ass't Agricultural Rep.,
Glengarry County

The Glengarry 4-H Agricultural Clubs are now in their last month of activities for this year.

The 4-H Open House Canada Exchange was successful as well as an extremely busy time for those involved. A word of thanks to the parents of our 4-H delegates for their time and efforts in entertaining the 4-H members from Alberta.

Also, a special thanks to the family of Robert MacRae, Lancaster, for entertaining the group at their cottage and to the family of Corey Van Loon, Martintown, for organizing a pig roast and farewell get-together at their farm.

Other activities included a tour of the Experimental Farm and Parliament Buildings in Ottawa, a day at Upper Canada Village and a trip to Montreal. The second part of the exchange will start on August 10 when our Glengarry delegates leave for the Flagstaff District in Alberta. One of the activities planned for our delegates is a trip to Banff. They will be returning on August 20 and we hope their trip will be successful as well as educational.

The Regional 4-H Conference was held this year from July 15 to 18 at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology. Delegates from Prescott, Russell, Leeds, Carleton and Glengarry Counties participated. The members from Glengarry were Tracy Van Loon, Audrey MacDonald, Stephanie Eamer, Kim McRae, Warren MacIntosh, Robert Carriere and William Lang.

The Conference Theme was "Me-You-Us." The different exercises gave members an opportunity to build self-confidence, improve communication skills and become more co-operative and knowledgeable when working with groups.

The guest speakers were Dr. George Fisher, Director of Veterinary Services in Kemptville, Harold Murphy, Farm Safety Consultant, and Rachelle Halpenny, a disabled international athlete and Canadian consultant for disabled persons who spoke as part of the Year of the Disabled.

Eastern Breeders Incorporated is planning a one-day competition for three 4-H members from each county in Eastern Ontario on August 12. Among other activities will be a session on Heifer Raising and Sire Selection, Cow Culling, a quiz on dairy genetics, cattle classification and a banquet will end the day. The three delegates representing Glengarry County will be Ewen MacDonald, William Lang and Corey Van Loon.

We are pleased to announce that the winners of our Judging Day competition are Sharon MacRae in the Senior Division and Sharon MacMillan in the Junior Division. Sharon MacRae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacRae of Lancaster and Sharon MacMillan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. MacMillan of Dalkeith. Congratulations to these girls as well as the other 4-H members who participated in the competition.

Many 4-H members have asked for a trip to a football game. Arrangements could be made to attend a game on September 4 at Lansdowne Park, at 8 p.m. to see the Ottawa Rough Riders and the BC Lions. We must know who wants to attend in order to obtain tickets. If you want to attend, please call us by Friday, August 7, at the latest.

The 30th Junior Farmer Soil and Crop Management Tour was held from Monday, July 27 to Friday, July 31, 1981. The Glengarry County delegate was Rae MacDonald from Dalkeith. They visited the Counties of Dufferin, North and South Simcoe, Grey and Bruce. Facilities from the University of Guelph as well as United Breeders Incorporated were visited.

Silage gas fatal

Silage gas can be fatal says the Canada Safety Council. Silos should not be entered for at least two weeks after filling and they should be properly ventilated before entering. If you have to enter the silo before the two-week period is up, wear a self-contained breathing apparatus and always use a life rope. Never enter a silo during the danger period without another person present.
