Manor administrator is planning retirement

BY VELMA FRANKLIN

The ninth annual meeting of the Maxville Manor was held in the auditorium on Tuesday, Feb. 15th, with Hubert A. Quart presiding as Chairman of the Corporation, assisted by Mrs. Verna MacGregor, secretary. The minutes of the previous annual meeting were read and a detailed and satisfactory financial statement was presented by Kevin Box, of MacKillican and Associates.

Appointments to the Board of Management are as follows: Re-appointed, Erwin Shields and Mrs. Martine McDonald, and Hugh McIntyre from the Counties Council. New appointments are Gordon Winter and Leslie Clark. On the slate of Directors for 1977 are . . . Kenyon Township Council, Frederick Leroux; Roxborough Township Council, George Crites; Village of Maxville Council, Hubert Quart and Garry Smith; Kenyon Presbyterian Church, Malcolm Grant; Maxville United Church, Gordon Winter; Maxville Lions Club, Gilles Aube; Kenyon Agricultural Society, Leslie Clark; St. Michael and All Angels Church, Erwin Shields; St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Donald Cumming; St. James Roman Catholic Church, Mrs. Martine McDonald; Old Time Fiddlers, Beverley MacQueen.

Nursing Director Mrs. Margaret Mutch read the medical report prepared by Dr. Theo Jaggassar. There had been 60 hospital admissions during the year, which was five less than last year. 38 new residents were admitted, and five were discharged. 16 died at the Manor and 12 in hospital. There are presently 89 residents on extended care. The cost of drugs and supplies per resident had gone up by $6.43 over the year before, to a total of $43.74. There was a total of 53,644 resident days, of which 31,221 were extended care. Routine flu immunization shots continue to be given, unless the resident objects. Medical tests are mandatory for all staff working in the kitchen. The adjuvant program under Mrs. Kowalski and Mrs. Campbell was a great benefit to the residents, as was the arts and crafts work of Mrs. Hilda MacLean. The kitchen and housekeeping standards were excellent and the assistance of the Auxiliary highly appreciated.

Mrs. Hilda MacLean reported a very busy year in Crafts, with 36 in the program. The year's sales had been $2,700, an average of $230 a month, of which 40% goes to the resident, about 40% for supplies, and the balance into a fund for discretionary use. This year, aluminum awnings to shade the west side of the crafts room. Under the sponsorship of St. Lawrence College 65 residents were taking part in an active crafts program with four teachers . . . Kay Fjarlie and Wilma MacGregor ceramics; Grace McEwen, needlework, and Mary Sutherland, sewing. A very successful sale had been held in December.

Mrs. Kowalski reported from the Adjuvants' department, a year featuring more activity and participation in their program. General exercises, crossword puzzles, and discussions, with a view to stimulating mental activity. The new whirlpool bath was of enormous help, and they also used films, and a baking venture. Librarian Mrs. Alma Umphreys reported the circulation of 5,855 books, 36 requests, and 60 talking books. There were French books on the shelves, but only two readers using them. She greatly appreciated the assistance of Mrs. Ron Clay and Mrs. Nicole Dewar through the year. Many magazines and paperbacks had been donated and more were needed.

Mrs. Lorna Winter reported a busy year for the Auxiliary, about half of whose 177 members were actively involved with the Manor.

A plot of ground for a garden had been worked up west of the building, with one resident enjoying it particularly. The supplies in the Tuck Shop had been expanded to include toilet articles and sundries. Donations this year were the whirlpool bath, a hospital bed, and a kitchen stove. The Auxiliary was delighted when the residents themselves organized a Christmas 'Thank You' party for them. Activities included the euchres, the Big-Sister, Big-Brother, Baking, Mother's Day tea, and the Father's Day wine and cheese,

New chairman of health unit

Alex McDonald, Reeve of Lochiel was appointed Chairman of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit at a meeting held last week in L'Orignal.

The Unit comprises the Counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott, Russell and the City of Cornwall.

Mr. McDonald was the representative on the board from the United Counties.

Dr. Bourdeau terminating practice here

Dr. Yvon Bourdeau will be giving up his practice in Alexandria, beginning next month.

The doctor has accepted a position in Sacred Heart Hospital in Hull as casualty officer. He will be commuting daily from Alexandria.

"It will be shift work," states Dr. Bourdeau, "but at least when my shift is done I will know my work is complete for the day and I will be able to spend some time with my family."

Dr. A. M. Nanji of St. Isidore will be coming to Alexandria and will be occupying the office location vacated by Dr. Bourdeau.

Alexandria library to open most afternoons

The move of the Alexandria library to its new quarters in the Sports Palace and the drastically increased book stock have caused an upsurge in circulation. In October circulation was 1,850, or 25% higher than the year before; November showed an increase of 70% to 1,769; and in December, despite the generally miserable weather, circulation at 1,117 was still 15% higher than the year before.

This increased use of the library has made it advisable to increase the hours during which the library is open. The board of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Library has approved the following hours: Monday, as before 6:30 to 9:00 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:00 p.m.; Saturday 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. with the regular story telling periods by Mrs. Helene Lanctot. These hours are to take effect on Tuesday March 1.

The later start and later end of the afternoon hours will allow students to make use of the library's reference and request facilities immediately after school closes.

Board chairman Carlton McInnis expressed the feelings of the board when he said: "It is heartening to see such a favorable response to the efforts of board and staff to improve library service in Alexandria and we hope that the growth trend will continue, so further expansion of service will be needed."

A cross-indexed catalogue of the permanent French Canadiana collection in Alexandria will be installed before long and a continuing program of exhibits is scheduled.

Dark ruins

People passing through St. Raphael's the past few weeks have found the ruins in darkness. The bulbs from the floodlights have been stolen and are awaiting replacement by the Township of Charlottenburgh. The bulbs are valued at about $125.

New worker for county

The work and research done by Glengarry Inter-Agency Incorporated is beginning to produce results, it was learned at the February meeting held in Alexandria.

One adult protective service worker will be assigned to the county under the sponsorship of Inter-Agency. While the expenses for the support of the worker will be funded by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, Inter-Agency will be responsible for the formation of a community board to assume the responsibility of the supervision.

The new government trend to take people out of institutions and put them back into the community puts an additional responsibility on the municipality, explains Inter-Agency Chairman Allan Burn. There are services available for these retarded people but they must be implemented.

This new worker will work with the moderate or mildly retarded, the ones that can at some point become self-sufficient in the community. He will help them find homes and advise them of services available.

A special family service counsellor is required to work with severely retarded and will counsel couples who have these people in their homes.

Must have age of majority cards

A newly established group, the Cornwall and District Hospitality Association, has taken action to prevent being fined under the Liquor Control Act.

The Association which covers most bars and hotels within a 20 mile radius of Cornwall including Alexandria and Ingleside will serve young patrons only with an age of majority card.

For convenience of those involved, the Association is having provincial government officials come to Cornwall for three days around the first of March to issue cards.

Normally it takes about three weeks to obtain the cards by mail. These will be issued on the spot in Cornwall and will cost $2 provided the person has a birth, baptismal certificate or passport to prove his age.

The fine is much steeper for the bar serving the drinks to a minor than for the purchaser. For the establishment serving minors the fine is $2,000 and possible loss of licence. The minor is fined $20.

Glen Robertson carnival closes on weekend

The Glen Robertson winter carnival gets into high gear this Saturday with a climax of the week's sports activities and a bed race from the top of the hill to the feed mill.

During the week, events such as broomball, and volley ball were held in the village and this Saturday will see the winners decided.

The bed race is scheduled for 1 p.m. and has five teams entered.

Winner of the $500 draw was Bruno Pigeon of Alexandria and $100 was won by Gerard Legault of Glen Robertson. A case of oil was won by Mathieu Charlebois of McCrimmon.

At conference

Jim Vallance of Maxville, represented Glengarry 4-H leaders at the annual Provincial 4-H Leaders' Conference held at Toronto on Feb. 11 and 12.

Participation made best carnival ever in Alexandria

"Participation was our keynote this year," reports Gaetan Giroux, chairman of the Alexandria Richelieu Carnival, "and as such, it was a tremendous success. We never had so many people involved in all the events."

The broomball tournament at the Sports Palace for the school children drew about 600 children. There were eight games played with teams from Alexander, Laggan and Rouleau Schools but Rouleau won both the boys' and girls' trophies.

At the high school level there were volleyball and basketball games for both the girls and the boys.

For the skidoo rally which was a really cold Sunday there were about 50 machines registered. This was looked after by the Alexandria Snowmobile Club.

There was a smaller turnout than other years for the bean supper but the wine cellar was a booming success.

The first dance didn't draw a big crowd but this was balanced off by the extra large crowd at the second dance.

There were 784 tickets to the Old-Timers' Hockey Game so this was a very gratifying night.

Attendance was also down at the night of the carnival queen contest but there was still a good crowd as the hall had been bulging with spectators some years.

"Any place we had a fall-off in attendance we will look for causes, and see that they are rectified next year," Mr. Giroux states. "We do not yet have an overall statement but profit-wise we feel it has been a success as well."

Snow removal costs up here

The cost of living is finding its way into every phase of life and snow removal in Alexandria is no exception. During the period from mid-November to the end of January last season it cost $23,400 to clear this municipality of winter's precipitation.

The same period this year has cost the town $32,400. That's a 38.4 per cent increase in snow removal costs even though snow fall is down this year.

Three escaped serious injury

Three people suffered minor injuries early Saturday morning when the car in which they were travelling went out of control striking a snow bank and a fence south of Martintown.

Those injured were the driver of the car, Arlene Lauzon of Martintown, and two passengers, Cameron King of the 3rd Charlottenburgh and Jean Gendron of Summerstown Station.

All were transported to Hotel Dieu in Cornwall where they were treated for minor injuires and later released.

Hans Hager of Martintown, suffered minor injuries in another accident that same evening, when the car in which he was driving came into collision with another vehicle driven by James Pratt, also of Martintown.

OPP Lancaster report that the accident occurred north of Martintown when Mr. Hager failed to stop at an intersection and collided with the car driven by Mr. Pratt.

Damages to the Pratt vehicle were estimated at $1,400 while the Hager car suffered damages estimated at $1,000.

Several aspects of dairying discussed

Approximately 185 people attended the Dairy Day Program at the Bonnie Glen last Tuesday, Feb. 15th, to hear speakers on various subjects of dairy production. The meeting was sponsored by the County Milk Committee and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

The day began with registration at 9:30 a.m. and continued with an audio-visual presentation of calf rearing programs and facilities.

Harold Clapp, a Dairy Cattle Specialist from Brighton, gave a talk on high moisture corn for dairy cows. How to make silage, how to feed it, and the advantages and disadvantages of such a program.

He said, "The dairy cow is a versatile creature. She will eat many different feeds and make use of them efficiently. Further she is not too fussy about the form in which she gets these feeds."

"Obviously, we can put up hay crop as dry hay or hay silage. We also have the choice of pasturing, green chopping, barn feeding or drylot. The cow gives us a lot of leeway in making management decisions."

"So it is, too, with corn grain. Cows like high-moisture corn and produce as well on it as they do on dry corn. Thus, if you have a silo available, you want to take a serious look at corn grain silage or ear corn silage.

"High moisture corn should be harvested and stored when the kernel moisture is about 28 per cent. The same is true for ensiling ear corn. The presence of the cob will increase the moisture in the case of ear corn above 28 per cent moisture.

"Too high a moisture content may mean a lower intake of dry matter and in some cases a less palatable product. It is more desirable to err on the high side," said Mr. Clapp.

"In ear corn, the nutritive value of the cob is approximately 11 per cent of the value of the kernel. The ratio of cob to kernel is 20 per cent of the ear dry matter. The fibre content is quite high in the cob. Approximately 36 per cent.

This fibre is excellent quality and extremely important to the cow. It not only slows up digestion but plays an important part in maintaining normal butter tests."

Later that morning Jim Humphries gave a practical demonstration of the importance of record keeping systems. He had on hand several systems now in

Russian midgets impressive in defeat over local boys

The Russian Midgets took on a team of midgets from the United Counties on Sunday night in Cornwall and skated off with a convincing 20—7 victory in front of 3,000 fans.

Like the hockey game here during the carnival week between the Old Pros and the locals, it was more of an exhibition than a game.

The Russian team is being groomed for the Red Army Team in the future and as such are a powerful group of representatives. They are mostly big fellows, skate well, play position to perfection and pass with precision. They are an impressive team to watch.

The logical group to contend with them would have been the Cornwall Midget A Club but they had already been committed to a tournament in Sorel by the time it was learned the Russians were available. (By the way, Cornwall won the tournament in Sorel on Sunday.)

A quick pick-up team was chosen from the area B Midgets and Sunday night was the first time they played a game together. It was also the first time either of the coaches had directed the team as all the boys play for other coaches. For the first two periods the combinations did not show well as the Russians led by 16—2 at the end of the second period.

In the third period the locals either started getting it together or the Russian team eased up as the home-town boys outscored their guests 5—4 to wind up 20—7.

Goals for the Cornwall Area team were scored by Scott Corden with two and Leo Lafortune with one. Both boys are from Morrisburg. Harold Earle and Sheldon Coughlin from Cornwall Township scored one each and Kevin Fontaine, and Lee Sheets of Cornwall also added singles. Cordon was named most valuable player of the home team and was presented with a gold watch as was Sergei Zhdanov of the Russian team who scored four.

In the line-up from the county were Goalie, Peter Wensink, Maxville; Forward Kenton Spink, Char-Lan and Defencemen Scott Hay and Carter MacDonald of Alexandria.

Bill Dillabough, Ottawa District Hockey Association president had put up the necessary $4,000 to bring the Russian team to the area. Mr. Dillabough has aspirations to hold the Wrigley Tournament, (the Canadian Midget Tournament) in Cornwall in the future.

NFU members hear talk on world hunger

Katherine McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Joe O'Neill and Mr. and Mrs. Emile Theoret Jr. of Glengarry, drove to Ottawa to hear Frances Moore Lappe, author of 'Diet for a Small Planet' speak about world hunger in conjunction with Canada Food Week which is supported by the National Farmers' Union, Local 326.

She said that there were six "myths" which keep us locked into a misunderstanding of the problem of world hunger. These myths are: myth one, "People are hungry because of scarcity—both of food and agricultural land. Myth two, a hungry world simply cannot afford the luxury of justice for the small farmer. Myth three, we are faced with a sad trade-off. Population pressure means we must now use marginal land even at the risk of irreparable erosion. Myth four, hunger is a contest between the rich world and the poor world. Myth five, an underdeveloped country's best hope for development is to export those crops in which it has a natural advantage and use the earnings to import food and industrial goods. Myth six, hunger should be overcome by re-distributing food.

Mrs. Lappe gave some examples to back up her statements. In the early 1970's in the worst years of famine, there was enough grain alone to provide everyone with 3,000 calories a day. The natives are being pushed off the best lands and forced to farm marginal land to feed their families. The rich land is owned by a handful of elites who grow luxury crops to export. An example of this is in Simaloa, Mexico, where farmers can make 20 times more growing tomatoes for Americans than corn for Mexicans. Another example is in Columbia where landholders shift from wheat to carnations that bring 80 times greater return per acre. Mrs. Lappe said "The obstacle is that people do not control the productive resources."

After Frances Moore Lappe's talk, there was a question period during which Joe O'Neill brought the question of imports closer to home by relating the fact that the Canadian government has allowed 46 million lbs. of cheese to be imported into Canada during 1976 while Canadian dairy farmers had to cut their production. During 1976, Canada lost 7,000 dairy farmers and approximately 30,000 dairy cows. The imported cheese is subsidized 25c per lb. by the European Common Market Countries, it enters Canada at approximately 86c per lb. average and is sold at an average price of $2.30 per lb. This indicates that consumers do not benefit from cheap imports.

J. MacGillivray died Detroit

4-H club organizes

by Rosie Van Loon

The 4-H Farm and Home Safety club held their enrollment night on Wednesday, February 16, 1977. The leaders are Jim Vallance, Manson Barton and Harold Morphy, and the Junior leader is Janice Hartrick.

They started the meeting off by talking about the subjects we'd be covering and projects we'd have to hand in. Later Mr. Morphy showed a film called "Safety of Four Seasons." It was a very good film for Safety.

We chose the second Monday of every month to hold our meetings.

We elected our officers who are: President, Casey Vandeburg; Vice-President, Doug Howes; Secretary, Joan Lothian and News reporter, Rosie Van Loon. After this was done the meeting was adjourned.

There were 20 members at this meeting. I think we could have many more if people would understand it's not only for just your safety but for ours as well. There is still time to join this club. Just call the Ministry of Agricultural Office 525-1046. The next meeting is March 14. Then you can say "Hey, 4-H is fun."

The Maxville "Meals on Wheels" volunteers make their rounds twice a week from Maxville to Dunvegan to Greenfield . . . last Thursday they lost the sign for the vehicle somewhere along the route. Would the people who live along these roads please keep an eye out for a red and white plastic card, about twelve by twenty inches, with "Meals on Wheels" on it, and please return it to Mrs. Joan Siwik or the Maxville Manor.

The Lions' lucky winner this week was Bill Kippen. Don't forget to be getting all those costumes ready for their big Carnival coming up March 4th.

Mrs. Iver D. MacIver has returned home after enjoying a few weeks holiday in Florida.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Elliott have taken up residence in the home on Catherine St. formerly owned by Mrs. Mayme Blaney.

Recent visitors with Rev. and Mrs. Iver D. MacIver were Rev. David C. Robertson of Kenora, and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. E.G.B. Foote of Ottawa.

The service this Sunday, Feb. 27th, at St. Michael's Anglican Church will be Holy Eucharist at 9:00 a.m.

The usual full house of farm families turned out on Thursday night for the annual John Deere show. Very good films on agricultural topics . . . pet farming, pig raising . . . and all kinds of innovations in machinery, and a tour through the new distributing centre in Grimsby. A very nice doory prize of a 23-piece socket wrench set was won by Mrs. Mary-Ann McRae of Dunvegan. John Deere vests went to Garry Fournier and Henry Brunet.

BROWNIES SHOWED WELL

Local Brownies did very well at the Annual Hobby and Crafts Show in Cornwall last week. They got three firsts in the competitions . . . Valerie Stewart, Toymaker; Marina Rolland, Sewing, and Vivian Franklin, Nature. And three seconds . . . Tracy Lee Buchanan, Collection; Janet Baxter, Nature; and Ouida Loeffelholz, Toymaking and Weaving. Their Group Entry of a woven wool lampshade also got a second prize. With thirds were Sonia Montgomery, Jewellery; Tracey Cope, Toymaker; Susan Andrews, Recycling; and Christmas Wreath; Ouida Loeffelholz, Crocheting. Awards of Merit went to Janet Baxter for Knitting and Leatherwork; Leslie Cope, Sewing; Marina Rolland, Woodworking Model; and Sonia Montgomery, Leatherwork.

and the Christmas Buffet dinner. There was a bus trip to see the tulips in Ottawa in May. Altogether the Auxiliary spent $6,000 on behalf of the residents . . . and had some left.

VITAL STATISTICS

Administrator Allan Vallance gave a brief address with many vital statistics of the Manor. Of the 150 residents 91 are women whose average age is 83, and 59 are men, whose average age is 78. The oldest is Mrs. Dewar . . . 100 . . . and the youngest is 41, with 88 being over 80 years of age. 67 of these are from Glengarry, 35 from Stormont, 40 from Dundas, and 20 from Prescott. The Manor is the district's major employer, with a staff of 154 . . . 60 full-time, the rest part-time including students. 56 of these are from Maxville, 39 from Kenyon, and 33 from Roxborough. The respective salary totals are . . . $277,000; $205,000, and $158,000. The per diem was just under 18 dollars, up $1.50 from last year. The grocery bill was $97,000 and laundry $14,600. The cost of operations had gone from $210,000 in 1969 to $656,000 in 1973 (the new wing) to $961,000 in 1976. Salaries from $142,000 to $418,000 to a present $721,000 . . . an input which has enormous effect on the local economy.

$1,000,000 BRACKET

In accordance with the Manor's mandatory retirement at age 65, Mr. Vallance announced that he would be retiring August 31st of this year, and was giving his last report . . . to many of the original 400 people who had, ten years ago, guided the enormous community effort that got the Manor built. Revenue now is over one million dollars, and the building is insured for two and a half million. The most important factor remains the staff . . . who care about people, and make the residents feel truly "at home."

WAITING LIST

There was a short message of congratulations from Kenyon Reeve Albert Faubert who inquired about the waiting list at the Manor. This is presently quite small, although the Manor is full . . . in common with residences everywhere. With more old people staying at home, and more coming into residence who are not well . . . all over the country what were originally intended as residences are turning more and more into nursing homes.

DAY OF PRAYER

The World Day of Prayer Service will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this year . . . on Friday, March 4th, at 8:00 p.m. All the village congregations are invited to attend.

E. Willard died Maxville

Died at Edmonton

A former postmaster at Landis, Sask., Donald Duncan MacMillan died Dec. 12th at Edmonton. He was aged 98.

Mr. MacMillan was born at Laggan, eldest son of Duncan James MacMillan who occupied the farm now owned by Ralph MacSweyn. In 1897, the family moved to Union Point, Manitoba, where they farmed until moving to Adanac, Sask., in 1907.

Following completion of his homesteading duties, Mr. MacMillan moved to Edmonton and engaged in real estate for some years. In 1915, he moved to Landis, Sask., where he was in the lumber and garage business and had the Ford agency. Later he was appointed postmaster, a position he held until his retirement.

He was a past master of Landis Masonic Lodge and was well and favorably known, as was attested by the large attendance at the funeral.

Surviving are his wife, Evelyn of Landis, two sons, Duncan James of North Battleford, Sask., and Dr. Donald MacMillan of Edmonton. One sister, Miss Catherine Jane MacMillan of Edmonton, also survives as do one brother, D. N. Neil MacMillan of Nanaimo, B.C., and four grandchildren.

He was predeceased by two brothers, James E. and John A. MacMillan, as well as by four sisters, Jane Ann, Mrs. John D. MacLeod of Kirk Hill; Tena, Mrs. Geo. McLean of Sarles, N.D.; Bessie, Mrs. Walter Stevenson of Morris, Man., and Laura of Edmonton.

Drainage budget

First and second reading of a by-law on the South La Grasse Municipal Drain was heard at the February meeting of Lochiel Township Council.

A by-law was also drafted for the Koggel-Sauer Municipal Drain.

The court of revision for these two drains will be held on March 8th.

Lochiel has a heavy budget in municipal drainage for 1977, reports Clerk Elmer McNaughton, with $1,500,000 in drains that will be started and others that are in the process of completion.

N. Lancaster has lead in broomball finals

North Lancaster Roadrunners and Glengarry Hotel made it to finals as they both swept their semi-final series three games to zero.

In the final games of the semi-finals last Thursday, North Lancaster looked like first place finishers in the league as they overpowered their opposition Lochiel 3 to 0.

Leroy Robinson, Phil Dumouchel and Bruno Lalonde did the scoring for the North. Gerry Laferriere just seemed to cover the whole net as he registered his 20th shutout of the year.

The other game was a much closer contest, with both teams having great scoring opportunities while both goaltenders were even to the task most of the game.

Glengarry Hotel drew first blood as rookie Daniel Lalonde beat goalie Maurice Deguire with a high rising shot from just outside the face-off circle to the left of the Trottier goal.

However Trottier fought right back as Gerry Deguire popped in a quick shot on a pass from Gilles Lauzon.

With only 3:48 remaining in regulation time Gilles Decoeur added what proved out to be the winning goal of the game. With only one minute remaining in the game Trottier pulled their goalie but they couldn't penetrate the Glengarry defence. Final score Glengarry 2, Trottier Bros. 1.

Monday night the scene was set for the finals, third place Glengarry vs first place North Lancaster Roadrunners.

The crowd of over 200 were noisy, favoring Glengarry Hotel. The players were nervous. The usual joking and laughter was not to be heard. The players were thinking of the game hoping that they could win, afraid of making any mistakes, but at the drop of the ball everything was forgotten.

North Lancaster came out strong forcing the play to Glengarry. The Roadrunners were fired up, but so was Glengarry goaltender Alex Duperron as he turned shot after shot away during the first period as North Lancaster had control of the game.

Frustration started to mount, and the play got rougher. There was no love lost out on the ice as 14 penalties were assessed, 7 a side. Glengarry however, got a costly penalty at 9:32.

While having the odd man advantage Jean Paul Claude let go a hard shot that Alex Duperron stopped but could not control and Guy Bellefeuille tapped in the rebound.

Glengarry opened up after that goal, forcing the play to the Roadrunners. However they wre Roadrunners. However they were up against the top goalie in the league, Gerry Laferriere, who turned any scoring attempt away, and chalked up his 21st shutout of the season.

Next game Thursday, Feb. 24th at 8 p.m., followed on Monday, Feb. 28th at 8 p.m.

Glens eliminate Metcalfe start play-offs this weekend

Last Friday, Joe Kelly took his Glens to Metcalfe for an all important game against the Jets. It was a do or die game for both clubs with the fourth and final play-off spot at stake. Kelly's charges responded with an all-out performance and downed the hometown Jets 11—6.

From the starting face-off, the Glens took control of the game and were never seriously threatened by the Jets.

John Charlebois and Yvan Desautels were the Glens big guns each netting a hat trick. Paul Seguin added two goals while singles were scored by Frank St. Pierre, Wayne Cameron and Luc Poirier. Poirier also added three assists.

Friday the locals travel to Vanier for the first game of the semi-final series against the 72s. On Saturday Feb. 26th the Vanier club is here for the second game. Coach Kelly feels his club is ready for the Vanier series and is predicting an upset. Game time on Saturday at the Sports Palace is 8 o'clock.

News Cup ready for competition

The Glengarry News Cup is boasting a shiny new replating this year, all ready to go up for competition. Donated in 1948 by The Glengarry News Editor Eugene Macdonald to raise money for the arena at the end of the season, its fingering over the past 29 years was beginning to show.

Lancaster has had the greatest share of the holding over the years. Its name appears upon the trophy ten times.

At this time, the current leagues must finish their play to allow ice time for the series, but Alexandria Recreation Director Mike Depratto would like any teams showing interest to get in touch with him so plans can be formulated and ice time scheduled.

Ladies' team trophy winner

The Glengarry ladies' broomball team added the A division trophy to their achievements at the Ottawa Broomball Tournament held February 3rd to 15th.

A goal by Marilyn Primeau gave them their first 1—0 victory over Wakefield.

Their second game against Ottawa was won on singles by Marilyn Primeau and Joan Robinson, with no score for Ottawa.

The third game was a real fight against R. A. Gatineau but Joan Robinson and Margie Laferriere came through to down the opponents 2—1.

The fourth game against Renac Roofing went into nine minutes overtime with Louise Laferriere getting the winning goal.

Industrial loop looks to play-offs

MacEwen added a little more insurance to their first place slot in Sunday's Industrial Hockey action at the Sports Palace when they defeated Lancaster 8 to 1.

Scoring were almost every member of the MacEwen team with no one player making more than a single goal. Point getters were Wayne Mitchell, Peter Filion, Bob Cuerrier, Kenny MacDonald, Rodney Shepherd, Raymond Poirier, Billy Gebbie and Wendell Lafave.

The single Lancaster point was made by Alan Laframboise.

In the second game Sunday Yamaha defeated Lochiel 7 to 3 with a hat trick coming from Yamaha's Andre Poirier, a pair from Jimmy Maville and singles by Roch Lajoie and Cameron MacLeod. Scoring for Lochiel were Paul Poirier, Greg MacCulloch and Roch Duchesne.

This Sunday will be the last game of the regular season with the semi-finals beginning the following week, March 6th at 1 p.m.

Top scorers for MacEwen are Bob Cuerrier, Ken McDonald, Wendell Lafave, Raymond MacDonald, Rodney Shepherd and Raymond Poirier. Yamaha's top six are Andre Poirier, Jacques Cusick, Roch Lajoie, Ewen McLeod, Jim Maville and Gerry Beauclair. Lochiel's best are represented by Garrett McGillis, Bruce McGillivray, Jim Denovan, Mike Kelly, Howard Cameron and Ken McLeod. The top six for Lancaster are Allan Laframboise, Brian Fisher, Peter Leroux, Fred Ashley, Wayne McDonald and Gary MacPherson.

Stars tie Maple Leafs

by Carman MacMillan

On Saturday, February 19th, the Glengarry Stars played the Maple Leaf Oldtimers in what proved to be a very exciting game. The Stars in their first encounter with the Oldtimers came away with a convincing 16 to 5 victory. This game was not so easy as the Oldtimers picked up a couple of new players which certainly made the difference.

The Stars in this game were outplayed, out-manoeuvered and out-classed as all we did was run after the ball when the ball wasn't even there. The Oldtimers went ahead early only to have the Stars even the game up a few minutes later. The Oldtimers then got two quick goals and then with a few minutes left in the first half we were able to tie the game up.

The second half, again the Oldtimers took the play, scoring first. The Stars had to come back on the attack in hope of tying the game. With a few minutes left in the game John MacPherson took a perfect pass from Andre Chenier to put the Stars one up.

That didn't last long as we were called for a high ball and a very slow reaction on the Stars' part allowed the Oldtimers the tying goal. The game finally ended in a 6—6 tie.

This game certainly showed that the Stars have much stiffer competition. The teams have certainly picked up since the first half of the schedule. The games from now on are going to prove very interesting.

If the Stars intend to again win the championship they are going to have to get all their players out from now on. It is pretty hard to win when we are short on our two good defencemen. We hope in the future the boys will take every game more seriously and have a better attitude.

Our goal scorers this week were John MacPherson 2, Herbie Maley 1, Andre Chenier 1, Earl MacLennan 1, and Gerald Chenier 1.

Our game this week is at Canterbury High School against the Ottawa Blue Hawks at 11 a.m. on Saturday, February 26th.

This is the standings of the three divisions up to February 12th.

This week's photos are Earl MacLennan and Andre Chenier.

Earl and Andre are both experienced to the indoor team as they were on the championship team of last season. Earl plays for Glen Sandfield in Glengarry and the Stars in the Ottawa League.

Earl MacLennan

Andre Chenier

Andre also plays for the Stars in both Glengarry and the Ottawa League. He also played for the High School senior soccer team which plays in the spring in Smiths Falls.

Gaels on the warpath

(by Warren Everson)

Last week was a disappointing one for our athletes as three more winter teams met defeat and were finally eliminated from further competition. Girls' volley ball ended on a losing note as both juniors and seniors failed to qualify for EOSSA tournaments. The girls travelled to Cornwall last Friday for the SD&G finals, which also serve as Eastern Ontario qualifiers, and there they were both defeated by powerful teams from La Citadelle.

Then, on Saturday, the senior girls made a long journey to Ottawa to attend an invitational tournament there. Unfortunately, they met no greater success there and returned, loaded not with glory, but with Chinese food. This enjoyable but unsuccessful episode marks the end of the girls' volley ball season and though the girls did not win they represented our school well and deserve credit.

Also defeated over the weekend were the midget boys' basketball players. In an invitational tournament held here, Saturday, the boys lost two games to General Vanier and Char-Lan respectively, and were consequently eliminated. CCVS went on to win the trophy with St. Lawrence coming second. It was in all an excellent tournament, convened by Mr. Moore of GDHS and except for the disappointing loss to our team, a success.

With these teams out of the running, it is left to girls' gymnastics to secure us a winter victory, which under Mrs. Fraser's guidance, they may well do. After their competitions, things will be fairly quiet until track and field training begins.

Girls' rink won honors

A girls' rink representing Glengarry District High School won area honors at Lancaster Curling Club Sunday.

The team of Elaine Aubry, skip, Claire Aubry, Diane Larocque and Sherry Macdonell goes to Smith Falls on March 20th for further play.

The Alexandria foursome beat a Char-Lan foursome and then met Vankleek Hill in a game decided on an extra end by a 10-9 score.

Annual vestry meeting held at Lancaster

The annual Vestry meeting of St. John's Church, Glengarry Park, Lancaster, was held in the church hall on January 24th, the Rector, the Rev. C. C. Watson presiding. Continued steady growth in the number of communicant members was reported, making it possible for the congregation to assume a larger portion of the cost of priestly services and apportionment in 1977. The Treasurer reported all 1976 bills had been paid and that donations to the Primate's World Relief and Development Fund in 1976 were the highest ever recorded by this congregation.

The Vestry approved a modest grant to assist with the reconstruction costs of the new Diocesan Social Service Centre located in St. Alban's Church, Ottawa.

Officers for 1977 will be as follows: Rector's Warden, George Osborne, Bainsville; People's Warden, Fred Wade, Riviere Beaudette; Vestry Clerk, The Lord Chatfield, Williamstown; Treasurer, Robert Kerr, Alexandria; Lay Member of Synod, Mrs. Joan Johnston, Martintown; Envelope Secretary, Mrs. Diane Osborne, Bainsville; Parish Central Committee members, A. D. Malcomson, Alexandria, and Mrs. Mary Barkway, Martintown; Cemetery Committee, The Rector and Wardens plus Dr. Wilfred Johnston, Martintown; Auditors, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Malcomson, Alexandria.

Mr. Osborne has held the office of rector's warden for the past 50 years. This is probably a record for the diocese.

Fund for accident victim

A fund in aid of Hank Plooy, a Lancaster farmer who had been injured in a farm machinery accident last fall has netted a good sum for the unfortunate victim, reports John Peters of Lancaster.

A total of $1,947 was donated by 140 area residents and this will be presented to Mr. Plooy who is currently in an Ottawa hospital with severe paralysis.

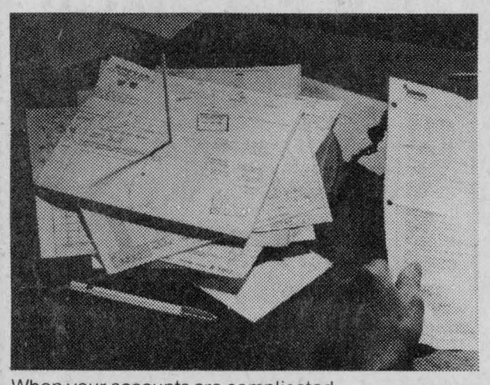
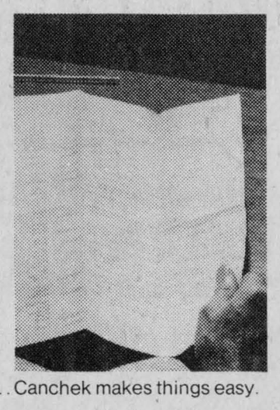
HOW CANCHEK TAKES THE HOURS OUT OF BOOKKEEPING.

By Lindsay W. Barfoot, Agrologist, Bank of Montreal.



When your accounts are complicated



...Canchek makes things easy.

Over the next month or two, about 80,000 farmers in the province of Ontario will be doing their income tax.

Some will hand the problem to an accountant.

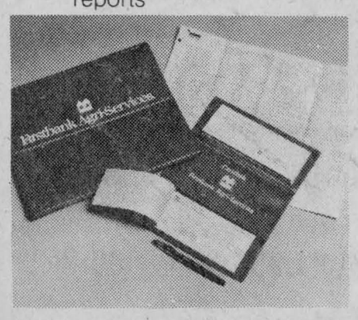
Others will spend a lot of valuable time trying to match income to outgo.

That's why I recommend Canchek. It gives you a complete record of your farm finances. Computerized. Accurate.

A time-saver for you. And your accountant.

Simple financial record keeping.

The Canchek system provides you with:
- monthly and year-to-date farm income and expense reports
- monthly cash flow reports
- monthly loan account reports
- a preliminary tax management report



Farming is like any other business. Good financial control can lead to a smoother and more profitable operation.

Canchek is fast and easy.

You just include it in your regular banking routine. It's as easy as writing a cheque.

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

A few weeks ago I asked if someone would please write to me to define "a Glengarrian."

A teacher at Iona Academy, Ron Lajoie, of the Seventh of Lancaster, who is married to Susan MacKinnon from the Fourth of Kenyon (you have to be Glengarrian to understand that kind of geography) asked his Gr. Six pupils to make some definitions. They were allowed to ask their parents for inspiration.

I hope you will enjoy their descriptions as much as I did. They follow:

Who is a Glengarrian?
—someone who loves a little bit of country
—someone who has visited Dalhousie
—a Canadian who made Glengarry his home
—someone who reads the Glengarry News
—someone who has a heart as big as a hand shake
—someone who thinks Glengarry
—someone who is proud of his link with Glengarry
—someone who is concerned about what happens here
—someone who has this idea that a good drink is four fingers in the bottom of a washtub
—someone who knows what goes on here
—someone who knows what a rough gravel road is —someone who enjoys short summers and long winters
—someone who knows about farming
—someone who can spell Glengarrian corectly
—someone who can tell you about the Highland Games
—someone who thinks our diocese is still Alexandria
—someone who enjoys house parties
—someone who left and took some of Glengarry with him
—someone who has time to smell the roses
—someone who respects others
—someone who likes mosquitoes (otherwise, they would move)
—someone who is an outdoor person
—someone who likes Scottish music
—someone who knows the difference between a kilt and a skirt
—he's a resident of Glengarry even if he is far away
—someone who is hospitable
—someone who moved here and liked it
—someone who moved out and still liked it
—someone with a genuine sense of humor

The Winchester Midgets won their B trophy in Long Sault the hard way on Saturday. In three overtime games. In their first game they lost to Alexandria in overtime, which put them in the B class. In their second game they downed Potsdam in overtime. But the clincher came when they played Maxville in the trophy game and went into sudden death overtime without goalies. The score had to come from inside the blueline and the game went eight and a half minutes with empty nets! Talk about tough rugged scrambling at centre ice in between time, it made for some mighty exciting viewing.

Boy scouts and girl guides had "thinking day" this week, on Tuesday. Maybe we should all have a thinking day since so many days pass that we don't think at all. Can you imagine what might be accomplished if we all decided that for just one day we would all think up something really productive, something that would improve just our own community?

* * * * * *

Is third time lucky? Allan McKay hopes so. Twice now he has had the jackpot number for Wintario. Well almost. The numbers on his ticket all matched perfectly except the last digit. And that last number is really important.

* * * * * *

Last week a star was born. Well, perhaps we should say born anew. Born to our community.

Everyone who went to see Glen Productions "My Fair Lady" in Cornwall was absolutely delighted with Joan MacDonald who played the part of the leading lady, Eliza Doolittle.

Many of us who heard Joan sing knew how accomplished she was in that line, but never did we dream we had such a talented actress in our midst.

Joan, the lovely wife of Lancaster car dealer Don MacDonald, was of course a professional, having had her own TV show and performed as the "Champagne Lady" on the Lawrence Welk Show to mention a few of her hits before she came to live here. But never since she came to this area, had she ever been involved in any production where our local people could see her embellish a musical show.

I remember asking her one time why she never entered any of the local theatrical productions and she replied "Well, I've been away from it for quite a while, and once one starts, it is hard to stop."

I realize now what she meant. After seeing her charm so many people, her beautiful personality will be in constant demand, I'm sure.

It may be asking a lot of Don and daughter Debbie to have to part with her through all the rehearsing necessary for such shows, but the public would certainly appreciate their co-operation if they share her lovely talents for the utter enjoyment of the rest of us.

SECOND SECTION

Oh God! Oh Montreal!

A Montreal bereft of many of the head offices of large corporations will be a city going downhill. Once lost they can never be regained and Canada's metropolis will be badly hurt if it loses these highly paid executives in any great numbers.

There were announcements last week by two of Canada's largest corporations that some of their personnel would be moving out of Montreal. Both Bell Canada and the CNR denied they had any plans for a complete shift of head offices from the city but if and when such a decision is reached the Quebec government may be the last to know.

Business cannot prosper in a climate of uncertainty, the Levesque government has been warned in recent weeks. If the Quebec government is not realistic in its language policies, company headquarters will move out of Montreal, Bell Canada president Jean de Grandpre has reminded politicians. De Grandpre told the Montreal Chambre de Commerce that English is the international language of finance and a head office unable to work in English cannot remain in the province.

"A lack of realism in language policy affecting head offices would result in the loss of thousands of the highest-paid jobs in Montreal and that would have repercussions on hundreds of thousands of other jobs," he declared.

A mass exodus of head offices could develop even though the corporations themselves might prefer to remain in Montreal. Fed up with a climate of anti-English ill will and worried over the falling value of their homes, senior executives could pressure their companies into such a move. If only to retain valued personnel some of Canada's largest corporations may find themselves forced to get out of Quebec if there is no easing of the francization program Leveque's Pequistes are now embarked upon.

That would be a body blow to a Montreal that is already on the receiving end of many post-Olympics punches. We in Glengarry have a right to be concerned in what happens to Montreal for we are in the city's orbit and the economy of our county is closely bound up with the prosperity of that city.

That has been the case since pioneer days when the housewives of Ville Marie used to await the late-winter arrival of the Glengarry sleighs loaded down with meat and other provisions the young city found itself in short supply. Its corollary today, perhaps, is the fluid milk being shipped daily to Montreal dairies. There are Glengarry dairymen who have been shipping milk to Montreal for generations and it is in their interest that the metropolis remain a going concern and that their business dealings not be interrupted at the provincial level.

Vitally concerned we should be in what becomes of a Montreal that supplies the job opportunities for so many of our young people. Anything that threatens the economic health of that city is a menace to Glengarrians. Whether we like it or not we are involved.

"LOOSEN GRADUALLY? OR ONE BIG SWOOSH... AN' THEN RUN FOR COVER?"

Man is like a caterpillar?

Man is like a caterpillar crawling across an oriental carpet. At any one moment he will respond to the red or blue coloring, to the white, yellow or green. He may have a preference for any one of the many colors involved, but from his prone vantage point each will be merely a part of a whole fabric which he cannot comprehend.

But a caterpillar will eventually experience metamorphosis. It will become a butterfly, and in this transformation it can then look back at the carpet over which it crawled and see its total magnificent design.

In a sense all mankind is a great oriental carpet to which we all belong no matter what our race, creed or national origin. But the real design of life is the combination of literally thousands of occupations which serve the total pattern of living. Some of us labor with our hands, some teach, some are artists, while others may offer professional services. A man's religion, race or nationality have little bearing on his qualifications for his chosen work. His work transcends and encompasses all other groupings.

Why then do we damage the design of life by false prejudice? Like the caterpillar, the acceptance and practice of brotherhood is the metamorphosis of man.

Boom to bust

The forces dominating Canada in 1977 actually date back to 1939 with war in Europe and Asia, writes Jim Smith for the Canadian Federation of Independent Business. Domestic life ground to a halt; the men went overseas, the women into munitions factories. Few couples had the inclination or opportunity to raise families.

The war ended. Suddenly, men and women were free to do things that come naturally to couples. They married. They had children. They tried to cram six lost years into a handful of months. And the post-war baby boom was born.

The baby boom rolled through the next few decades like a tidal wave. Public schools, secondary schools, universities, housing, and the labor market fought consecutive losing battles against the new demands on their facilities.

Even with government programs like LIP and OFY to soften the blow, it wasn't easy being a member of that baby boom. For society at large, however, it was a prosperous period; the population boom was tailor-made for a growth-oriented consumer society. The post-war babies simultaneously created demand for goods and services and supplied the labor to produce those goods and services.

Somewhere, we lost sight of reality. We forgot the baby boom was an artificial demographic situation, even though the post-boom slump is already working its way through the economy leaving the education system with painful excess capacity. Soon we will need to come to grips with changes in the labor market.

By 1985, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business reports, the current labor surplus will be only a memory. Production lines and other technologies built around plentiful, cheap labor will become obsolete. Import quotas and tariff barriers, which exist only to protect domestic jobs, will gradually be eliminated as labor surpluses become a memory. Television sets, bicycles and shoes will become import items, generally produced in Pacific Rim countries like Taiwan.

Our spectacular growth rate of the past two decades has resulted, in large part, from even faster growth in the labor supply. Now it seems we will need to learn to live with slower growth, changing our emphasis from quantity to quality. By channeling all our resources, including manpower, into their most efficient uses and paring waste, we can avoid a reduced standard of living when our growth rate slows. Mass manufacturing is not an efficient technology for Canada.

So our current fascinations with continued high-level growth and mass manufacturing ignore the facts. We are as poorly prepared for the post-boom slump as we were for the post-war boom. In short, we seem intent on turning our boom into a bust.

New sartorial trend?

(The Lampasas, Texas, Record)

Harry Truman popularized the morning walk and draw poker. Dwight Eisenhower played golf behind the White House. John Kennedy raised the status of touch football. Lyndon Johnson liked to ride horses, and take his friends deer hunting on his beloved Central Texas ranch. Richard Nixon liked to bowl and Gerald Ford has made a big hit with ski buffs.

Maybe it's too soon to look for President Carter's off-duty trademark, but we can note that he likes hunting and fishing—and to carry his own luggage.

What intrigues us most, however, is that the new occupant of the White House is given to wearing jeans and boots whenever he can avoid the necessity of wearing something more formal.

This could give an unusual stamp to the Carter presidency, and even portend a sartorial breakthrough for the American male. If Mr. Carter manages to overturn the rule that business has to be conducted in coat-and-tie, he may be a shoo-in for reelection thanks to the solid support of liberated males who detest wearing their shirt collar buttoned and a tie to anything except church, weddings and funerals.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

RECREATION GROUP FORMED

Morrisburg, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

An association to help develop and promote the Recreational outlook in the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry has been formed.

Initiated by Recreation Director Douglas Moses of Morrisburg, the South Eastern Ontario Arena and Recreation Association (SEOARA pronounced sierra) has been meeting informally for the past year. Now however, it seems necessary to start making it known to all municipalities in the SD&G region. Although formed primarily for the benefit of Recreation Directors and Arena personnel, SEOARA has been approached by many municipalities who do not employ these full-time people and by enlisting them in its membership will enable the organization to be in contact regularly with the volunteers who make up Municipal Recreation Committees. The volunteer worker is of great concern to SEOARA as we can benefit them but also their experience has some advantage to us.

The newly formed organization holds regular monthly meetings which include guests from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, and frequent visits from Wintario Project officers who acquaint us with the criteria governing this very important revenue source. This representation has left its impact on the United Counties area this year, by just looking at the amount of revenue and equipment granted to various groups.

SEOARA also holds workshops for its members for their own development on topics they feel will be of benefit to them. Projected goals for the future

They'll Do It Every Time

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER
by Ed.

If you didn't get a holiday Monday, remember there weren't too many holidays in your heritage.

HOCKEY LOOKS BETTER

Don't look now, but they've been cleaning up the violence in the NHL while our back was turned. Saw a couple of games last week and though Canadiens were up against two of the more rugged teams in the NHL both games were pleasantly free of the mayhem we had come to expect in pro hockey.

Boston was offering the opposition in the midweek game at the Forum and we got a jolt toward game's end when it dawned on us that both teams had been playing the puck rather than the man. Penalties had been almost nil and it was difficult to credit a Boston team, down 8—3 with minutes to go, not being resentful enough to leave a few aches and bruises as calling cards.

Same thing Saturday when the usually pugnacious Philadelphia Flyers were at the Forum. The Canadiens again walked away with a win and while there were one or two threats of fisticuffs the Flyers on the whole were acting like little gentlemen and the game was delightfully clean.

We haven't been seeing much of Hockey Night in Canada lately and were not aware Clarence Campbell and his cohorts had instituted a clean-up of the violence that was spoiling the game of hockey.

Whomever's responsible, it's a big step forward toward reviving a game that was on the skids. Now if they can weed out some of the teams that will never measure up, hockey again may become the spectacle it once was.

Even our own John Wensink was playing the puck; and playing it well.

SING, YOU SINNERS!

We've been wasting needed beauty sleep over recent weeks sitting up too late to watch the Peter Gzowski 90-Minutes Live show. We say "wasting" because too often as we yawn our way to bed we find ourself wishing we'd been smart enough to miss the show in favor of that needed beauty sleep.

It's a type of show we favor and Peter is fairly competent as an MC. It's the show's producers who are probably responsible for its format and our principal beef is the almost nightly appearance of one of this new breed of singers who do so little to honor the profession.

How sick is the world of entertainment when it has room for every jeany-baby, male or female, who dreams of waxing a gold platter? That millionth record spells comfort and achievement but why are so many being encouraged to dream of it when they can't even sing?

In recent nights the Gzowski show has featured one of these so-called singers every night and we've had to sit through as many as three mouthings of meaningless verbiage which represents today's songs. Seems all who sing now must write their own songs and not too many have a way with lyrics. It also seems the singing is secondary to strumming a guitar or accompanying oneself on the piano or push and pull. Today's singers have to look sexy and as a result they invariably come with an untidy mess of hair and a weird beard if they're male. The boys' shirts are unbuttoned down to the navel and the girls do likewise to show more than a hint of cleavage. How unwholesome can they get?

There are no Bing Crosbys in today's hit parade, no Perry Comos. Where they once sang of moonglow and stardust, today's would-be singers mumble tales of murder and incest and shacking up that are definitely not romantic.

Today's breed of singers is definitely not entertaining Peter, so why clutter up your 90 Minutes Live with the species. Maybe, though, it's better if you continue to feature them. Then we can amble off to bed.

Martintown Rumor Mill

Art Buckland—528-4261

Last week I was honored to have been invited to Char-Lan High School to help judge in the Frostbite '77 Carnival Queen Pageant. What talent confronted us. Six young ladies of high level B&B (I know what you're thinking Martha, but it was not bum and hurrmph, but beauty and brains.)

We older sods can have confidence in a future society composed of such individuals. Everyone on the judge's panel agreed. The other judges were Linda Brisson, from Glen Walter, a former area pageant winner herself, now working in physiotherapy at MacDonell Memorial; Morgan Major, employed at Snetsinger Hardware. Morgan is a busy elected official on Charlottenburgh council and he had to break away from a 7-hour meeting on salaries and budget to attend the pageant; Jeannine McCabe, and John Chafee operator of a sporting goods store in downtown Williamstown completed the judge's panel.

Frostbite Queen was Cathy Laplante, daughter of Don and Marg Laplante living in the suburbs of Grant's Corners on Street Road. Cathy's talent was a scintillating, perfectly performed Sailor's Hornpipe. Kathy Aubin, daughter of Leo and Leona in Martintown, was a princess. Kathy dramatically recited two of Ophelia's speeches from Shakespeare's Hamlet. One could sense that this was actually Ophelia on stage, so well done was her talent. Sandra Sandilands, daughter of Earl and Louise of Williamstown, was the other princess. Sandra's talent was a dramatization of the poem "Casey at the Bat." Other talented contestants were Tammy Grant, Miss MacLean and Miss Binette.

Maureen Ward and Susan Marlin did a superb job as co-chairmen. In addition, the crowd was treated to renditions by the Char-Lan band and songs by the school choir (even after the front of their old piano fell off at the beginning of their first song. Anyone care to donate another piano to Char-Lan?) Students, be proud.

Josee Van Rooi of Glen Falloch, a college graduate in nursing, writes home with a picture of her new car and to say that all is well in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Another Glen Falloch west nurse, Elizabeth Murray (St. Lawrence College, Brockville) is doing what I recommend for all young people—that is, marriage.

Another area wedding is in store for the Aubins on Church road south of Martintown. I just can't remember which one of Ray and Leola's lovely seven daughters it is.

Fred Booth tells me that the following music students of his school achieved honors on their recent Conservatory examinations: Gilles Aubin, Susan Decaire, Greer MacDonald, Debbie Taylor and Lena Bergeron. Fred's only failure was me. He still shudders when he thinks of the time he spent trying to teach me to sing so that I might audition for the Glen or at least prevent shower water from curdling. He did say that I had one positive voice quality though, and that was volume.

All Irishmen, those who wish they were, and all lovers of traditional song and dance, will be pleased to hear of the Irish concert to be held in our new magnificent theatre at St. Lawrence College (Aultsville Hall). The date is Tuesday, March 15th, at 8 p.m. Brigadoons, violinist Wilf Gillis and MacCulloch dancers of television fame and other talented local performers will be appearing.

"Big Bird" comes to Cornwall on Saturday, March 20th, at one p.m., in the brand new College theatre. The St. Lawrence College Players (a group of students) will be presenting a children's variety show featuring Rumplestiltskin.

Two events to keep in mind. Last week's St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society's annual meeting served up the usual mixture of good food, good booze and fine people. Oliver McGee is the new president. Ruth Mowat, that dynamic Secretary-Treasurer carries on in that position, fortunately for the fair board.

Incidentally, Ruth tells me that she still has some copies of her delightful history of the fair board (All's Fair). Phone 347-2312 for copies. While it deals with the Williamstown Fair Board, it is of interest to all people interested in country living.

Unusual roll call Martintown WI

The February meeting of the Martintown Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. John Peters. Thirty-three members named industries that used to be in Martintown as the roll call. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Ruth Alderson and her mother, Mrs. Ada Rudge both from Dunvegan, Elizabeth Murray, Karen Runions, daughter of Beverley and George; and Aden Buckland, son of Jan and Art.

Members were asked to vote for their preference in the senior project, the short courses and the Food Forum. Eight members are willing to work on quilt blocks which will be sent to the Erland Lee Home for sale this summer. The branch has decided to submit two names for Federated Representative and alternate. Thursday, Feb. 24th has been set aside to tie quilts for Cansave.

This will be in the Presbyterian Church Hall at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Alex Lagroix told the meeting about a new industry that is taking over the old cheese factory in Apple Hill. Run by John McDonald, the Railtech iron works is moving up from Montreal and will be making bolts for the CNR.

A contest on flowers and vegetables was held by Mrs. Jim Conboy. Winners being Mrs. William Johnston and Mrs. Fjola Lambert.

Mrs. Finlay McIntosh thanked Mrs. Peters for the use of her home, and the hostesses Mrs. Ken Emond, Mrs. Elmer Edmonds, Mrs. Leslie West and Mrs. Peters for the lovely lunch.

Next meeting March 17th at the home of Mrs. Rupert Dupuis at 1:30 p.m.

Martintown WMS had meet

The February meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Martintown, was held in the church on Tuesday, February 8th. The President, Mrs. Ian Kennedy, opened the meeting and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lloyd MacGregor. Mrs. Stuart Blackadder gave the treasurer's report. A letter from an associate member, Mrs. Bertha Smith of Alexandria was read. The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Colin Campbell. Mrs. Dan Ferguson accepted contributions to the supply fund. Nineteen members answered the roll call with a verse containing the word 'love.'

Miss Emily MacInnes conducted the program. Its theme was 'love and selflessness spreading universal warmth.' Mrs. Andrew MacLean read first Corinthians, Chapter 13. Meditations by Mrs. Alpin MacGregor, Mrs. Dan Ferguson, Mrs. Ray Markell, Mrs. Duncan Christie and Miss Mae Munro supported the theme. Personal experiences related by Miss MacInnes pointed out that our actions create feelings of warmth or frustration in others. Ideas from the study book, "Justice not Charity" were discussed in an interview by Mrs. Stuart Blackadder and Mrs. Harvey McMillan.

Neighborly News From Round the County

Glen Sandfield

Mrs. Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Mr. and Mrs. Sam MacCracken have just returned from a visit to Europe. They flew over to Zurick, Switzerland, to spend a week with friends. Then on to Lyon for a few days with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bonneton and family. The highlight of their day stay in Paris was the opportunity to go through the Paris Opera House, which really isn't open to the public ordinarily, but as Mrs. MacCracken once sang there, they were delighted to let them roam around the magnificent old building.

Mrs. Roy MacMillan invited the United Church ladies and some of her neighbors over this week for a lovely buffet luncheon. There were 20 guests.

For all interested in singing in the choir for the World Day of Prayer Service at Glen Sandfield, there will be a choir practice at 8 o'clock and regular practice at 7:30. Everyone welcome.

UCW DISCUSS COMING PROJECTS

The first meeting of the new year was held last Wednesday afternoon, when the Glen Sandfield United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. A. MacMillan. There were 15 ladies present. Mrs. G. MacRae commenced with a meditation, "The New Year." Mrs. A. MacRae took "Love" as the theme for her devotional period and her short meditation covered many ways in every day life, and in our dealings with others, in which we can show concern and kindness and understanding in love. Cards for Mary MacKenzie, Edith MacNeil and Wendy Chapman were filled in by all the ladies present. Human nature can be strange, was the tongue in cheek title to the poem Mrs. G. MacRae read next. Scripture readings by Mrs. C. MacDonald were taken from John 15, 11. Mrs. W. MacLennan read the second commandment. Mrs. A. MacRae read an article called 'Late in Importance' and her phrase "Your neighbor is the one in need" brought home to us our duty to our fellow beings. Mrs. C. Chapman led in the singing.

The business portion opened with the reading of the members' purpose by all. Mrs. A. MacLennan gave the treasurer's report. Our president, Mrs. A. MacRae, had a thank you note for us from the Thompsons, for our Christmas gifts. She also went on to give the highlights of her executive meeting the day before in Williamstown. The World Day of Prayer is to be held on March 4th, at Glen Sandfield United. The program was discussed and the music was left to Mrs. MacLennan and Mrs. Chapman. The hymns are let to the individual groups this year. Lunch committee is Mrs. R. MacLachlan, Mrs. R. MacMillan and Mrs. L. MacLennan. The theme is "Love in Action." Plans to get estimates for the redecorating of the church are to be left to the executive. Other suggestions for projects for the coming year were the acquisition of a foster child, and Mrs. Chapman is to look into the specific needs of the milk fund for underprivileged children, more suggestions were a monthly news letter or copy of church bulletins for members who have moved away, but are still interested in their church here might be mailed out, or perhaps annual reports, to let people know that out of sight isn't really out of mind. Some of these could go to the Manor as well. "Phone pals" were delegated to inform members of happenings or remind others of meeting dates or special doings. Another bale is to be gathered and forwarded to Sandy Lake, but this time we will concentrate mostly on knitted goods, socks, mittens, scarves and hats. These things are so necessary for children in the cold weather months, and the things they seem to lose most often. Warm hand knitted sweaters are to be included and home member knitters for this project would be paid for the wool used. The more the merrier ladies. Call Mrs. Chapman or Mrs. A. MacRae if interested. We may even go so far as to buy some at the other bazaars if we don't have enough for a good large bale when the time comes.

Mrs. MacMillan was thanked for having us, then all adjourned to the dining room, where the table was spread with the most delicious baking, and Mrs. H. Kronwald had charge of the bake sale table. A lovely lunch was served and a social hour followed.

Will be when God has called us too,
You are always in our thoughts,
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot touch your hand,
We know you are always by our side.
Some things in life we cannot buy
A gift that's rare and true
A gift of a wonderful husband and Dad
Like the one we had in you.
There's a corner in our heart
That's set aside for you,
As long as life and memories last
We will remember you.

Completed farm management course

To assist Ontario farmers by improving managerial skills, the development of sound economic farm units, a continued production of adequate supplies of high quality food and to communicate effectively. This was the purpose behind a five-week course in which 20 local farmers received diplomas Friday afternoon in Dalkeith.

The objectives of the course were that graduates improve their farm operation, expand or revise their operations so as to increase production and financial return.

The course was open to anyone wishing to improve their knowledge of farming skills.

Sam McLeod of Martintown, was the course leader with additional instruction coming from Campbell Murray of Martintown, and Lloyd McRae of Bainsville.

The course covered five main topics: Soils and Crops Management, Livestock Management, Farm Machinery Management, Farm Business Management and Mathematics.

Each main topic had several sub-topics and the instructor with the greatest knowledge on each individual subject took over the class on each occasion.

Ron McRae on grain corn council

The Ontario Grain Corn Council recently appointed Ronald McRae of Bainsville, to serve as one of its members for 1977 to represent grain corn producers.

This is the second year Mr. McRae has been appointed to the Council on which he serves with five other members representing various parts of the province.

The Ontario Grain Corn Council speaks for corn producers on matters of provincial and federal policy which affect the industry. It produces a monthly market letter outlining prospects for supply, prices and competition, and also has an active market development program.

In announcing the appointment, Agriculture and Food Minister William Newman, said the Ontario corn industry "has grown tremendously in the last few years. Corn is now Ontario's largest and most significant crop. It is a cornerstone of our livestock economy and vital to many segments of our food industry, including corn starch and cereal manufacturing, and may become important as a sweetener in the future."
